Frenchmen Again Warned to Evacuate Coast

LONDON, Sept. 23 (CP)—The BBC urged Frenchmen again tonight to evacuate French coastal areas because a United Nations' offensive aimed at the "annihilation of Hitlerite Germany" is being prepared and will be launched without warning, the announcer said.

"No one will be warned in advance of the date of attack or the point at which it will take place," the French-language broadcast said, "but when the moment comes to call for the cooperation of the French people as a whole we will keep our promise to let you know in time."

The BBC announced emphasized that a series of such warnings had been given to the French in the last six months in order "to prevent as far as humanly possible the useless shedding of French blood."

"In the course of our military operations," the message said, "it is necessary, and today it is more necessary than ever to envisage the possibility of landings by British and Allied troops on French soil, of operations by our navy in French territorial waters, and attacks by the R.A.F. on military objectives in occupied France."

An offensive of the United Nations is being prepared. On the day when we can be assured of attaining our goal which is nothing less than total annihilation of Hitlerite Germany this offensive will be launched.

The message concluded by telling the French: "By following our advice you will contribute to the success of present and future operations which form the prelude of full-scale action which has been so long awaited."

Man Held for Hatched Murder of Parents

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 23 (AP)—Acting Chief of Police Andrew Aylward said tonight he had ordered Robert Nash, 27-year-old electrician, held for the hatched murder of his parents and he would seek a warrant tomorrow.

55 Enemy Aliens Rounded Up in U.S.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 23 (AP)—Roundup of 55 enemy aliens here for violation of the presidential proclamations and United States Registration Act governing aliens and also for possession of a large amount of contraband was announced today by F. A. Soucy, special agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

U.S. Anti-Inflation Bill Passes, but Farm Bloc Forces Amendment to Make Bill Unacceptable to FDR

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 (AP)—The House of Representatives passed the Anti-Inflation Bill tonight, 294 to 98, after a victory. The farm bloc had forced the adoption of an amendment providing higher parity prices for farm products—and so made the measure unacceptable to President Roosevelt.

BRITISH DELIVER ARMORED BLOW IN DESERT RAID

30 Axis Aircraft on Ground, Troops and Transport Hit

SMASH DUMPS

By STEPHEN BARBER Associated Press Staff Writer

CAIRO, Sept. 23 (AP)—British armored raiders sped undetected across trackless desert 10 days ago and struck telling blows at Axis bases and communications all the way to Bengasi, 500 miles west of the Egyptian front, the Middle East command announced tonight.

On the same night that a seaborne commando expedition and parachute commando landed at Tobruk and British warships bombed the Axis Libyan coast farther east the British raiders swooped on Bengasi and Barce, on the West side of the Cyrenaican hump.

They destroyed and damaged more than 30 Axis aircraft on the ground and inflicted heavy casualties on enemy troops and transport, while supporting planes of the British and American commands shot down several German aircraft which tried to attack the raiders.

That was the night of Sept. 13-14. Two nights later mobile raiders descended on Gialo Oasis, deep in the desert 235 miles South of Bengasi, occupied it and fought a battle of several days during which "considerable casualties were caused to the enemy garrison."

Ammunition dumps at Gialo were destroyed by British cannon which the raiders dragged across the desert. Italian accounts said the British forces withdrew from Gialo after six days of fighting and then only when an Axis motorized column came up.

It was the most spectacular combined assault yet undertaken in three years of rapidly changing fortunes on North African battlefields. British authorities said the raiders have returned to their bases, but they did not mention the starting point or the routes taken.

The radio at Lyon, France, suggested that the raiders operated from Kufra Oasis, 250 miles South of Gialo, which the fighting French occupied in 1941.

Even from Kufra, however, the raiding patrols would have had to travel some 500 miles to reach all their objectives, roving over the waterless wastes at night and making their own tracks, since all known desert trails converge upon Axis occupied oases.

Allied heavy, medium and light bombers took up the work of destruction where the desert raiders left off. Today's communiqué listed a successful attack Tuesday on Bengasi in which two vessels were set afire in the port and Monday night raids on enemy landing grounds in the El Daba area which caused a large fire and explosion.

Last night British and American bombers team in a heavy attack on Bengasi harbor.

Believe Meat Houses Bootlegging Beef

WINNIPEG, Sept. 23 (CP)—George R. Cormack, Regional Foods Officer of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, said today he had reason to believe certain wholesale meat houses are hiding and bootlegging beef in an effort to defeat price ceiling regulations.

"If such a condition exists and sufficient evidence is secured, drastic action will be taken," Mr. Cormack said.

Standard of Living Must Be Reduced

VANCOUVER, Sept. 23 (CP)—Revenue Minister Gibson today warned that Canadians "must face the fact that during wartime our standard of living must be reduced."

Croatian, Rumanian Chiefs Received by Hitler

BERLIN, Sept. 23 (AP)—Dr. Ante Pavelic, Croatian Chief of State, and Mihai Antonescu, Acting Premier of Rumania, were received by Hitler at his East Front Headquarters today. The purpose of the conferences was not disclosed. The German News Agency Trans-Ocean said, however, that they were concerned "with the totalitarian war against Bolshevism."

Gun Production Climbs

OTTAWA, Sept. 23 (CP)—Canada now is producing in one month more than three times as many naval and field guns and small arms as it turned out in all of 1941, the Munitions and Supply Department announced tonight.

During August, said a Departmental statement, three Canadian plants each started production on a new type of ordnance—a new type of 4-inch naval gun, a large anti-aircraft gun barrel, and the Browning tank-type gun.

It added: "There now are 12 types of guns, 16 types of carriage or mountings, and 30 types of small arms being produced in Canada. In addition to the foregoing new types these include the 25-pounder artillery gun, carriage, and trailer, two types of tank guns and mountings, two types of anti-tank guns and carriage, Bofors anti-aircraft guns and mountings, 3 7-inch anti-aircraft gun and equipment, 4-inch naval gun, 12-pounder naval gun, 2-pounder naval gun, naval mountings, and small arms of various types."

Still seeking to swing this district more solidly into the fight to fill wartime metal requirements, the Nelson Board of Trade and the Chamber of Mines of Eastern British Columbia have telegraphed George C. Bateman, Metals Controller, and W. K. Ewing, M.P., for Kootenay West, urging that Kootenay producers should be paid at the new world price for silver set by the United States treasury at Sept. 1.

This new price could well make the difference between a financially successful operation and one which was financially impossible. It would stimulate production of base metals, since silver in this district is usually associated with lead and zinc.

The new price is 44.75 cents at New York. In Canadian funds this means 49.22 cents. The Canadian price, which is pegged and under control of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, is 35 cents. This represented what was considered the world price for silver when it was pegged at this level, for when it was pegged the U. S. was dealing in other than domestic silver on the 35-cent basis.

McALLISTER READY TO OPEN

The Board of Trade and Chamber of Mines action followed inquiries made by George F. Allen, Nelson, who planned to open the shipping to the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company at Trail. The operation would represent much more than silver production, for McAllister ore is highly siliceous and the Consolidated needs siliceous ore as a flux in the treatment of base metals vital to the war effort.

But the Consolidated was only able to reply that "We have not yet learned what extent, if any, the increased New York price of silver will benefit Canadian producers." Directly it applies in Canada, Canadian shippers will get the benefit.

In a circular dealing with silver the Consolidated states: "Our ore schedules provide that we will pay for silver on the New York price for foreign silver, converted into Canadian exchange."

"However, there now appears to be some doubt as to whether the Canadian Government will permit producers to benefit from the increased price of 44.75 cents New York, since Sept. 1, 1942, and, consequently we are compelled to modify our schedules to read that the settlement price will be the actual price received for silver by this company."

Therefore, commencing from this date and until further notice, our settlement price will be the Canadian price, and adjustments will later be made to the average price received by this company for the month in which the respective shipments are received at our plant.

BRITISH OCCUPY CAPITAL OF MADAGASCAR

Annet Flees After Praising Courageous Defence

CAPITAL QUIET

By BLAKE SULLIVAN Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Sept. 23 (AP)—British troops reached their goal on Madagascar today by occupying capital city of Tananarive after two weeks of operations from seized coastal points but Governor-General Armand Annet apparently had fled.

Word of the occupation came first from the Vichy French radio in Tananarive which was taken over dramatically in the middle of a French announcement by a voice which said: "British officer speaking. British troops entered Tananarive at 5 p.m. today. All is quiet. That is all."

Governor Annet, Parisian politician and supporter of the Vichy regime, had asked, then rejected, armistice terms midway in the British drive and said he would not stay to surrender at the inevitable fall of the capital.

His last words quoted on the Tananarive radio were of thanks to his troops for their "courageous defence" of the capital. These were heard after he was reported a fugitive somewhere in the South of the 1000-mile-long island, fourth largest in the world.

There was no indication as to how Annet hoped to make good his escape. However, it was recalled that at the outset of the campaign to dislodge Axis-inclined elements from the island unofficial reports told of Japanese submarines using remote price received for silver by this company. WILL ADJUST

"Therefore, commencing from this date and until further notice, our settlement price will be the Canadian price, and adjustments will later be made to the average price received by this company for the month in which the respective shipments are received at our plant."

The U. S. is paying the new price for silver in ore and concentrates from both Canada and Mexico. One Kootenay mine, shipping to an American smelter, has already received settlement on the basis of the new price.

Ten cents an ounce extra for silver in a concentrate containing even 40 ounces of silver per ton would represent an increase to the producer of 44 plus exchange. This margin could make it possible for a mine to operate.

Since silver is almost always associated with lead and zinc in the Kootenays, the extra 10 cents would stimulate production of base metals. Also of importance it would result in a greater flow to the Consolidated of siliceous ore, which is a vital flux.

The position of the Consolidated is that it can only pay the pegged Canadian price until the Wartime Prices and Trade Board has consented to the price being increased to the world level. It is trying to persuade Canadian officials to pay the new price and if successful will pay shippers the back amount due on their shipment.

Mr. Bateman to whom the telegram was addressed, was in New York recently and discussed the silver situation with U. S. authorities. He informed Mr. Ewing in a letter that he was taking up the price of silver with Donald Gordon of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Forgetful Bride Says First Husband Shot Self

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 23 (AP)—The bizarre case of Hollywood's forgetful bride, statuette, blonde Glory Weller Miller, who says she can't remember marrying her second husband, became more involved than ever tonight.

The 25-year-old model told interviewers that her first husband, H. Pierce Weller, 60-year-old newspaperman, committed suicide at his 16-room Atascadero, Calif., home Nov. 4, 1941. She describes the shock of this for what she says was almost a year of amnesia.

Pressed for the cause of her first husband's death, she said: "He did it for me. That's all I'll say."

Moslems Demand Lifting of Ban on Group

NEW DELHI, Sept. 23 (CP)—A determined group of Moslem League members of the Indian House of Assembly today pushed through a resolution, opposed by Government speakers, demanding that a ban on a spade-carrying marching society of Moslems be lifted and their leader released.

Passage of the resolution in the Lower House of the Indian Legislature does not bind the Government to lift the ban, but serves as an expression of the Moslem League's attitude.

Reports late yesterday had told of the Red Army's loss of a few more shell-pocked streets, but said these were balanced by newly-won Russian gains northwest and southwest of the city.

The Russian loss was reported in a communiqué which said: "In one sector enemy infantry, operating with the support of more than 100 tanks, succeeded in pressing back our troops somewhat and captured several streets." This apparently was a report for the use of tanks in a street battle.

Russian gains were announced by the Army newspaper, Red Star, which said Russian forces lashed out northwest of the city recaptured a village, while in the northwest other forces crossed the Volga by night, struck at the German flank upriver from the city and drove the Germans back.

An important road in the Stalingrad battle zone also was reported recaptured by the invaders.

Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, reported the Nazi assault intensified to more than 1000 bombing flights a day and 16 reinforced Russian fighter planes had proven equal to the new challenge.

Tax dispatches gave vivid accounts of the devastation and the slaughter in the fight when the Russians said had cost the Germans almost 6000 men in the last three days.

NEW CAUCASUS BATTLE

The battle swelled to new fury too, in the Caucasus.

Red Star said a fierce fight had developed for control of an important pass southeast of the Black Sea port of Novorossiisk in the mountains, barring the road to the South. The Army newspaper said Soviet forces there repulsed the Germans in the first tests of power, but indicated the Nazis still are attacking, supported by artillery.

At the northwest approaches to the Greeny of fields on the coast of the Caspian Sea, German and Russian forces were locked in a see-saw

Wreck 109 Tanks

Volga Flotilla Shelling Invaders

By EDDY GILMORE Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, Sept. 24 (Thursday) (AP)—The Russians announced early today that Stalingrad's valiant garrison had wiped out 4000 more German shock troops and knocked out 109 Nazi tanks in fierce street fighting in which the Volga River naval flotilla was pouring shellfire on the invaders.

The Wednesday midnight communiqué said the Red Army had gained slightly northwest of the city, and nowhere did it acknowledge any retreat inside the battered city itself.

Front dispatches said the Nazis were hurling 1000 dive bombers a day against the city where the Red Army had converted every ruined building into a bristling fortress of anti-tank and machine-gun nests.

The Germans also were sending hundreds of massed tanks into Stalingrad's streets in an effort to achieve a September victory on the Volga, and the latest Russian communiqué claimed its most impressive score yet against these steel hulks.

Forty-four Nazi tanks were destroyed or crippled in one action, 42 in another, and 23 in two other areas.

Two thousand Germans were killed in one unidentified sector, the same number in another, and the Volga River Flotilla's guns were credited with annihilating at least two battalions of Germans and Rumanians in the last few days.

Red Guardsmen fighting inside the city were said to have beaten off steady attacks by huge German infantry, tank and air forces.

In the Mordok area of the Mid-Caucasus the Russians said they killed 300 attacking Germans and destroyed five tanks and 24 trucks.

More than 1,500 Germans were said to have fallen in the Voronezh area of the Upper Don where the Russians beat off repeated Nazi attacks on that left flank of the advance of Stalingrad.

LOBE 10,000 MEN

The Germans were believed to have lost more than 10,000 men in the past four days in the Stalingrad sector without making any vital gains in their month-old siege.

Reports late yesterday had told of the Red Army's loss of a few more shell-pocked streets, but said these were balanced by newly-won Russian gains northwest and southwest of the city.

The Russian loss was reported in a communiqué which said: "In one sector enemy infantry, operating with the support of more than 100 tanks, succeeded in pressing back our troops somewhat and captured several streets." This apparently was a report for the use of tanks in a street battle.

Retail Store Hours Being Studied

OTTAWA, Sept. 23 (CP)—The question of restricting retail store hours in Canada is being studied by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, said a board statement tonight on behalf of Retail Administration, E. G. Burton.

Mr. Burton added that "while no date has yet been set upon which action is to be taken on this subject merchants should not wait for the board's directions." He urged them to cooperate in reducing the store hours wherever possible.

The statement said "a report that a wartime Prices and Trade Board order restricting retail store hours would go into effect Oct. 1 is without foundation, according to Burton, Retail Administration."

The Canadian Press in a Sept. 21 article that a board governing the hours during which retail stores may be open for business has been drafted and may come into effect Oct. 1.

C.C.F. Win First Seat in Alta.

EDMONTON, Sept. 23 (CP)—The Cooperative Commonwealth Federation gained representation in the Alberta Legislature for the first time today when Elmer E. Roper was elected after the fourth count of votes cast in yesterday's by-election.

Mr. Roper had 8433 votes and J. E. Lambton, Independent, 7188. Mr. Roper was elected on the first count because none had a majority necessary for a win under the proportional representation system of balloting.

Mr. Nelles V. Buchanan, Liberal, was eliminated for the second count. William (Paddy) Griffin, Social Credit, for the third and J. B. Gillies, Social Credit, for the fourth. The election was made necessary by the death of D. M. Duggan, Independent.

The C.C.F. victory made the standing in the 57-seat Legislature: Liberal 30, Independent 11, Social Credit 16, Labor one, and C.C.F. one.

Kaslo-Slocan Conservatives Ask More B. C. Aid for Mines; Express Confidence in Maitland

(Contributed)
NEW DENVER, B.C., Sept. 23.—Demanding that the Provincial Government make a determined attempt to revive and support the mining industry in the Kaslo-Slocan area, the Conservative Association in this electoral district at its annual meeting Wednesday afternoon rejected the alleged fact that the district was not being permitted to do its maximum war effort.
The Slocan district has no hesitation in mixing mining with its every activity, including politics. Wednesday's meeting of Conservatives, after passing a resolution approving the work of the Coalition Government, nevertheless urged that much more could be done, especially way of assistance to mining.
IRMAN TALKS MINING
Speakers at the annual meeting were Sidney Norman, well-known leader of Kootenay mining, and Russell R. Walker, Provincial Organizer for the Conservative Party. Mr. Norman reviewed mining in the Slocan, Kaslo and South Kootenay areas, and spoke of the great difficulty being experienced in securing the aid necessary to place the industry once more on its feet.
He told of the great good which would come through silver producers being informed that they could secure the full advantage of increased silver prices.
Mr. Norman revived hope among the miners in the audience, and declared that by striving daily for improved conditions, there could well be a material increase in production very quickly, and consequently greatly improved times throughout the famous mining area.
WALKER URGES PREPAREDNESS
Mr. Walker dealt chiefly with organization work, the need to support the coalition administration through greater party strength. He reviewed the recent Port Hope laymen's conference, and outlined some of the main conclusions of that meeting.
The Provincial Organizer spoke of Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen's recent announcement of the coming Conservative Party National Convention, and said that while party was committed to the support of coalition for the duration at the same time there was a great need for strengthening of the Conservative Party associations federally. He declared the present was none too soon to lay a strong foundation for a spirited and successful campaign when a federal test of strength should come. At the present time, he added, the greatest good that the party could accomplish was the building up of healthy associations throughout the Dominion.
PARKINSON AGAIN HEAD
All officers of the Kaslo-Slocan Association were re-elected unanimously. These included the President, Ben Parkinson, Nakuap; Vice-President, R. Garland, Kaslo; and Secretary-Treasurer, Howard Parker, Slocan City.
Resolutions of confidence in the B.C. party leader, Hon. R. L. Maitland, and in the Provincial President, Howard C. Green, M.P., were passed. Tribute was paid to A. E. Jukes, Candidate for the Riding at the last election. A telegram was read from Mr. Green, wishing the association a profitable year.
The meeting went on record in commending party leaders for their action in joining the Coalition Government "during our period of fighting for victory for the Allied Nations."

ALLIED PLANES BATTER JAPANESE BASE

One-Ton Bombs Fall on Airdrome; Strafe Landing Boats

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia, Sept. 24 (Thursday)—(CP)—Allied fighters and bombers smashed in the Japanese invasion base of Buna, in Southeastern New Guinea, for the 10th consecutive day yesterday, strafing landing barges and dropping one-ton bombs on airdrome installations, a communique said today.
Three sweeps were made by fighter planes over the Buna area. Seven bombers were raked with machine-gun and cannon fire on the first trip, and anti-aircraft positions, supply huts and tents were attacked on the subsequent flights.
For the first time in several days, the Allied airmen met fighter opposition when six Zero fighters attempted to intercept them without success. One Allied plane was missing however.
The bombing attack was carried out at night by heavy bombers which dropped their explosives on airdrome installations, causing large fires.
Allied fighters also continued their strafing attacks on the Japanese inland supply lines in the area of Kokoda, machine-gunning a bridge and a pack train.
There was no change in the position of ground troops in the Owen Stanley Mountains, where the Japanese drive on Port Moresby has bogged down 32 airline miles short of the Allied base.
A single Japanese plane appeared at sunset over Port Moresby, but its few bombs dropped harmlessly in scrub.

Trustees Defeat Religious Teaching Move

KELOWNA, B. C., Sept. 23 (CP)—John Barby of Nanaimo was elected President of the B.C. School Trustees Association at its annual convention concluded here today. David Hall of Vancouver, was chosen first vice-president and B. A. Edwards of Kamloops was elected as second vice president.
Executive members elected included Leslie Craufurd, Nelson.
A resolution advocating more religious instruction in B. C. schools was lost when the vote resulted in a tie and the chairman cast a negative vote. Many delegates believed that a considerable amount of Christian study was already taught in the schools.
One resolution endorsed approved the formation of a committee from the local branches to be appointed at the convention for a one-year term for the purpose of dealing with administration of the local branches.
Another provided that Branch secretaries should send copies of minutes of the branch meetings to the Parent body as soon as possible.

Salmonbellies Win Title

VANCOUVER, Sept. 23 (CP)—New Westminster Salmonbellies defeated the United Services team of Victoria 12-8 here tonight in the second and final game of the best-of-three British Columbia box lacrosse final series to win the Killmarnock Cup and the right to represent the Province in the Dominion Mann Cup playdowns.
The Victoria team was in far better form than during the series opener at New Westminster Monday night when they dropped a 15-3 decision to the Salmonbellies.
Kenny Featherstone led the Victoria sharpshooters, scoring three goals on five shots. Harry Carter netted three times for Salmonbellies with Ed Downey, Bill Wilkes and Bert Bryant each scoring twice.

Drake Gives Brief on Youth Training Before Rossland Committee; Use German Army's Success Method

ROSSLAND, B. C., Sept. 23 — A. F. G. Drake, who has assigned the subject of "Youth Training" on the local Rehabilitation Committee, presented the following cogitations to the meeting of that committee held Tuesday night:
"To defer a definite Youth scheme until after the war is to weaken our war effort; physique and morale need building up quickly. The greatest morale builder Canadian youth could possibly have, would be the force of example by those in high places, with equality of sacrifice, particularly in profits.
"Those whom we regard today as youth will be holding the line for us before this is over. Youth must go into fight, not merely for a meal ticket, but because they are convinced that if they die the world will eventually be a better place. Is that their assurance, now?"
MORALE FIRST
"Morale is more important than pay. Hitler realized this years ago, and proceeded to raise morale by gratifying the vanity of German youth. Uniforms, bugles, drums, and the best of everything. 'Strength through joy' have had an ulterior motive, but is sound psychology.
"The Soviets, in their first five-year plan, put youth next in importance to electrification. Every town has its Pioneer Palace devoted entirely to youth training in all its branches, many of them even fitted with such things as wind tunnels for the study of aerodynamics. The Young Pioneers is an adaptation of the Boy Scouts with this improvement — their outlook is solely international, whereas many Scout leaders are still misinterpreting Baden-Powell's ideas into narrow national channels.
"Canadian Youth is at present full of misgivings and uncertainties, yet Canadian youth has been splendid in spite of these misgivings, and any doubt in their minds must be removed. Show them we mean what we say, when we say 'Never Again!' Not a move has been made in this direction yet."
EXTEND PRO-REC
Mr. Drake proposed that Pro-Rec be extended, and coordinated with the Youth Training Movement, with adequate instructors and equipment provided. By Pro-Rec was meant not only physical drill, but a fully rounded out program, working in conjunction with regular school curriculum. Included in the program should be swimming, field sports, track, hiking and camping.
This last item needed careful planning, and must not be on a military pattern. By this was meant, camping in large units, "spit and polish" drill. Instead, the patrol system as introduced by the Boy Scout Movement, where the unit was six, should be used, encouraging leadership, initiative, quick promotion cooperation and resourcefulness. This system was part of the German army's success secret. Each unit was self sufficient, camped alone, doing all its own cooking and chores. Any competition that was introduced was inter-patrol, and not between individuals.
Camping should be spread over the whole year, one leader taking a whole school in rotation; the boys over 16 doing the winter camping combined with skiing. The effect on morale, physique and morals of

300 Nelson District Scouts, Cubs and Fathers at Annual Banquet

Three hundred Nelson District Scouts, Cubs and their dads dined in state Wednesday night at the Civic Centre Hall. It was their annual father and son banquet and it was an unqualified success. The mothers prepared and served the dinner, while the lads and dads tucked it in. S. E. Briard, President of the Nelson District Scout Association, presided.
Arrangements were in the hands of Cubmaster E. C. Hutchinson, J. A. Wilson, Mrs. Briard, Mrs. R. Todd, Mrs. J. A. Ballantyne and Mrs. E. M. Gillitt.
Guests of honor included Rev. L. A. C. Smith of Trail, District Commissioner for Trail-Rossland, and E. R. Humphries of Trail, District Scoutmaster for Trail-Rossland.
BUILDING FOR FUTURE
Commissioner R. R. Brown, looking upon the leadership of Scouts and Cubs as building a future generation, declared "we must not leave our boys to their own resources, even if there is a war on." To do their best the boys must have the assistance of their fathers. He urged fathers to attend meetings and help the Scoutmaster and Cubmasters.
Rev. T. J. S. Ferguson likened the development of a boy to the growth of a beautiful biadious from a small bulb. To help unfold "that marvelous thing God has placed in each boy," was a great task.
Boys were the same all over the world, he had found. God intended the world to be a great family and circle. It was a privilege and opportunity to assist in creating a new world of brotherhood, Mr. Ferguson asserted.
Commissioner Smith, bringing Trail's greetings, declared "If we are fighting for anything today we are fighting for a new world for our boys and girls." Scouting he felt, was the best way to that new world. Individuals could do little, but by pulling together they could accomplish a great deal.
OPPORTUNITY TO SERVE
District Scoutmaster Humphries saw in Scouting and Cubbing the opportunity for men unable to join the armed forces to "get in and help."
Mr. Briard appealed to the fathers to help leaders to attend Association meetings and to keep scouting alive through the war. Scouts in the Old Country were giving services which could not be duplicated by any other organization, and Scouts here sought to emulate them.
He also asked for the names of Nelson District Scouts now in the armed services.
The value of the Scout movement in the lives of youths of Nelson was fully realized by the citizens, declared Acting Mayor Ross Fleming. He also welcomed the Trail visitors.
Cubmaster Hutchinson said the work of his committee members and the cooperation of citizens had made the banquet a success.
One of the highlights of the evening was the demonstration of the Wolf Cub howl by the First, Second Third and Fourth Nelson Packs, and the South Slocan Pack.

176,789 Women Registered

OTTAWA, Sept. 23 (CP)—Selective Service officials tonight reported 176,789 women in the 20-24 age group registered as unemployed in tabulations compiled up to Monday night. Hundreds of rural points are still to be heard from.
Of this total, 5,894—just more than 20 per cent—signified willingness to work full time in the nation's war effort and 10,825 indicated they would be able to work part time.
Hindus comprise 66 per cent of the population of India.

Nine New Forest Fires in Week

Kootenay-Boundary forest fire total for 1942 mounted to 307 with nine new fires reported in the week ending Wednesday. All were small except one, a grass fire in the Boundary which covered a fairly large area but did not cause extensive damage. This was one of the three listed as still burning at the close of the report week. It was thought at the Nelson office of the Forest Branch that these three were probably out by Wednesday night.
Of the nine new fires in the week, one was in East Kootenay, three in West Kootenay and five in the Boundary. The East Kootenay total to date reached 103, the West Kootenay total 161, and the Boundary total 43.
A year ago wet weather at this time ended the fire season so no comparison with last year is possible. The 1941 total was 448.

Legion Head Says Army Must Be Considered First

OTTAWA, Sept. 23 (CP)—Alex Walker, Dominion President of the Canadian Legion in a letter to Prime Minister Mackenzie King dated Sept. 22, said the heavy casualties suffered by the Canadian forces in the Battle of Dieppe make clear large reinforcements will be needed to fill the gaps in the overseas army when the Canadians begin fighting the German Army.
The Legion believed "the time has arrived when the needs of the Army overseas must be given first consideration and not remain, as at present, without priority over civilian requirements." It added the Legion felt this could not be accomplished until the Government introduced conscription for overseas service.
DUBLIN (CP)—The Government has issued an emergency order providing for blackout tests throughout Eire during the winter.

Weather

Indian Summer weather of the last few days continued Wednesday when Nelson was bathed in sunshine, and the temperature extremes of the 24 hours ending at 8 p.m. were 47.9 and 76.1 degrees.

900 Aged Man, Woman Burn to Death in Coast Blaze

VANCOUVER, Sept. 23 (CP)—An aged man and woman, one a cripple and the other a semi-invalid, burned to death when trapped in the separate rooms of a six-roomed house in the downtown section of the city today.
Dead are Florence Mary Jackson, 61, and Frank Kelly, 78-year-old pensioner.

MISSING SCRIBE REACHES PORT MORESBY

Emaciated, Delirious A.P. Writer Wins Jungle Battle

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia, Sept. 24 (Thursday) (AP)—Vern Haugland, Associated Press War Correspondent missing since he parachuted into the wild New Guinea jungles nearly seven weeks ago, now has reached the Allied base of Port Moresby, the High Command announced today.
Haugland was a passenger on an Army airplane whose occupants were forced to bail out during a storm Aug. 7 on a flight from Northern Australia.
The correspondent was brought into an Australian Army outpost in New Guinea Sept. 21, emaciated and delirious, and authorities began immediately to arrange for his hospitalization.
The United Press quoted a spokesman at Allied Headquarters as saying that Haugland was "very sick but will recover." First word of his whereabouts was received at an inland mission, the United Press said, and he was taken from there to the outpost, where he received treatment, and was later taken by plane to Port Moresby.
Haugland was said to be suffering from malaria, hunger and exhaustion.
Haugland, 34-year-old Associated Press staff member at Los Angeles, volunteered for foreign duty soon after the Pacific war started and his desire to see and write about the war at first hand took him to Australia in the first big United States convoy to make the trip.
He was the first member of the present Australian Bureau of the Associated Press to reach that theatre of war and was in Melbourne when General Douglas MacArthur arrived from the Philippines.

Nazi Planes Drop Fire Bombs in Northeast England

LONDON, Sept. 24 (Thursday) (CP)—German airplanes scattered fire bombs over a northeast England town shortly after midnight, but only light casualties and little damage were reported.

Tom Booth Had Old Royal Hotel in Nelson

Tom Booth, pioneer B.C. hotelman who died at Vancouver Friday, operated the old Royal Hotel, on Stanley Street just above Sillco, in Nelson's early days. He came to Nelson from Nanaimo in 1904, remained here several years, then went back to the Coast. A nephew now resides here.
The old hotel was built on the ground where Mrs. McLeod, mother of R. G. McLeod, Seattle mining man, established the first dairy in Nelson. Incidentally, R. G. Joy recalled Tuesday, R. G. McLeod as a boy had the first baseball bat brought to Nelson. It came in on a pack horse.
When the old Royal was pulled down years ago about $300 worth of gold quartz, believed to be from the Poorman mine, was found hidden under a chimney. It was thought at the time that some early-day miner had hidden it there.

Buy your SUGAR for making GRAPE JELLY and for Household use with APPLES BEFORE SEPT. 30 FOR USE DURING MONTH OF OCTOBER

Order No. 176 states that any consumer may up to and including Sept. 30, 1942, purchase sugar for the purpose of home preserving of fruit and any culinary use of apples (by voucher system) provided that such sugar is used for such purpose not later than October 31, 1942.

This means that any housewife who intends to make grape jelly or intends to use apples for any cooking purposes during the month of October should make up her mind now how much fruit she intends to use during October and buy enough sugar to go with it before Sept. 30.

REMEMBER THAT SUGAR OBTAINED WITHOUT COUPONS ON THE VOUCHER SYSTEM MAY NOT BE USED FOR ANY OTHER PURPOSE THAN HOME CANNING OR WITH APPLES FOR ANY CULINARY USE.

Big Allied Convoy Reaches Russ Port

LONDON, Sept. 23 (CP). — The great majority of a big convoy of British, United States and Russian merchant ships heavily laden with war supplies for Russia has reached its destination in North Russian Ports despite Nazi air and sea attacks, the Admiralty announced today.

It announced some losses, but a communique remarked acidly that German claims—to have sunk 38 out of 45 merchantmen—were "more exaggerated than usual."

None of the convoying warships were lost, the Admiralty bulletin added, contradicting the German assertion that six escort vessels were damaged or sunk in the running attack by planes and U-boats in the lengthening Autumn darkness of the Arctic.

No figures were issued, the communique remarking that "it is not intended to assist the enemy by informing him of the extent of his lack of success."

The Admiralty, declining to say how many ships were lost, stated, however, that German claims "on this occasion have been more exaggerated than usual" and "a great majority" of the ships arrived at their destinations.

The German High Command asserted Sunday that Nazi submarines and planes had smashed a great Russian-bound convoy in Arctic waters, sinking 38 merchant ships totalling 240,000 tons and destroying or damaging six warships in a running battle lasting six days.

With the fanfare of trumpets usually reserved for announcing great achievements, the Berlin radio broadcast a High Command claim that only battered remnants of an original 45 freighters and tankers had escaped.

It said this represented a second triumph for the Germans on the Northern convoy route, recalling previous unconfirmed Nazi claims that 35 ships in a convoy of 38 had been sunk in the same waters between July 2 and 11.

Two Charged With Failure to Give Quit Notice

HAMILTON, Ont., Sept. 23 (CP). Two Hamilton men today appeared in police court and were remanded on charges of quitting their jobs without giving their employer seven days' notice required by National Selective Service regulations. The prosecutions were the first of their kind here.

They were employees of the Canadian Engineering and Contracting Company, Ltd.

Mass Arrests Made in Connection With Laval's Labor Plan

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 (CP). — BBC said today that in four French cities public demonstrations took place against head-of-government Laval's compulsory dispatch of French workers to Germany.

Mass arrests were reported made in Toulouse, Narbonne, Montepellier, Marseille, Nice, Lyons and other cities.

Many policemen refused obedience and were replaced by followers of Laval, said the broadcast, heard here by CBS.

Bracken's Name Mentioned as New Cons. Leader

OTTAWA, Sept. 23 (CP). — A Conservative party spokesman said today that if Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen retires from the national leadership of the party, the possibility of Premier John Bracken of Manitoba succeeding him should not be overlooked.

Murdoch MacPherson of Regina now appears the most likely candidate should Mr. Meighen step down, the spokesman said, but that is without taking into consideration that Mr. Bracken might agree to contest the leadership at the forthcoming Conservative National Convention.

The eight members of the Interim Committee announced last night by Mr. Meighen to organize a national convention committee have sent word they will be at a meeting to be held here Friday in the Opposition Leader's office in the Parliament Buildings.

It is expected this committee will work quickly so that a national convention committee may assemble in Ottawa about the middle of October, and possibly speed up the assembly of the national convention for late in November. Winnipeg is the likely place to hold the national convention but the decision in this regard will be left to the convention committee.

Cable Messages to Canadians in Enemy Countries May Now Be Sent Through the Red Cross

OTTAWA, Sept. 23 (CP). — Mrs. H. P. Plumtre, Director of the Red Cross Inquiry Bureau, announced today that the Canadian Red Cross Society is handling a service under which personal cable messages may be sent by Canadians to relatives in enemy or enemy-occupied countries.

"This new service, which it is believed will be appreciated by persons having relatives in Europe, now in operation and inquiries may be made at any branch of the Canadian Red Cross throughout the Dominion, where the necessary forms may be procured," Mrs. Plumtre said.

Previously there was a postal message service handled by the Canadian post office and International Red Cross but there has been no cable service. Now, at the request of the Government, the Red Cross was accepting cables to relatives. The Society served as a guarantor to the Government that the messages were bona fide messages to relatives.

The Red Cross local branch which accepts a cable collects sufficient funds from the sender to cover transmission. The money and message are sent to Ottawa where they go through the "customary channels" for dispatch overseas.

Every message is routed through Geneva, and delivery is at the sender's risk.

"We are not just sure what method of delivery is being used," Mrs. Plumtre said. It was presumed the messages would be handled by the regular civilian communication channels in the countries of destination.

Clarifies Gov't Allowance Policy When Men Reported Missing

OTTAWA, Sept. 23 (CP). — R. O. G. Bennett, Chairman of the Dependents' Allowance Board today issued a 300-word statement describing the procedure which is followed by the Board in payment of allowances to dependents of soldiers or airmen reported missing in action.

Army spokesmen said the statement was issued because there had been considerable doubt in the public mind since the Battle of Dieppe, where hundreds of Canadians were reported missing, about the Army's regulations in regard to payments to dependents.

His statement follows: The wives and other dependents of the soldiers or airmen reported missing in recent actions have had natural anxiety for the safety of their husbands and relatives increased by worry about the amount of assigned pay and dependents' allowances which they now will receive.

In response to inquiries, the authorities indicate that this is what is done in such cases:

In general, when a serviceman is officially reported missing, dependents' allowance and assigned pay are continued to the end of the month in which he is reported missing. From the first of the month following an interim allowance amounted to either the dependents' allowance and assigned pay in effect at the date he was reported missing, or the maximum pension applicable in the event of the soldier's death, whichever is the lesser amount, is paid to the dependent.

This allowance is continued until there is change in the status of the man concerned; such as "dead," "presumed dead," "prisoner of war," "interned," or "alive." If dependents allowance is not in pay, no interim allowance is payable.

If, after the interim allowance is put into effect, the serviceman is officially reported a prisoner of war, interned or alive, the interim allowance is discontinued and the dependents allowance and assigned pay in force at the date he was reported missing is reinstated from the date it was replaced by interim allowance.

If he is officially reported, or presumed, to have died, the interim allowance as above is continued for three months from the date of the casualty, and the Canadian Pension Commission advised of the position in order that their consideration regarding pensions may be given. Future payments are under the jurisdiction of the Canadian Pension Commission.

The foregoing, if generally known, should relieve dependents of all worry regarding financial matters during the "missing" period.

Odlum in Ottawa on Surprise Visit

OTTAWA, Sept. 23 (CP). — Maj. Gen. Victor W. Odlum of Vancouver, former Commander of the 2nd Canadian Division and now Canadian High Commissioner in Australia, has arrived in Ottawa for "consultation" with officers of the External Affairs Department.

Gen. Odlum, who has been close to a year in Australia, arrived quietly in the capital last night. His presence here was not known until this morning.

Length of his stay in the capital is not known.

A spokesman for the External Affairs Department said it is anticipated that the High Commissioner will hold a press conference in a few days but that he was unwilling to hold it until after he had consulted Prime Minister Mackenzie King, head of the department.

INDIA CASUALTIES TOTAL 98,388

NEW DELHI, Sept. 23 (CP). — Casualties of Indian troops on all fronts was placed at 98,388 to date in a Government report today. Of this number 2096 were listed as killed, 8521 wounded, 2038 prisoners, and 84,833 missing—most of them believed to be prisoners. Indian troops have seen their principal action on the North African battlefronts and in Malaya and Burma.

The carcasses of sharks are used for high-protein poultry food or fertilizer.

CHINESE OATH CAUSES STIR IN COURT ROOM

LIVERPOOL, Eng., Sept. 23 (CP). — Thirty-four Chinese defendants caused consternation in a magistrate's court here today when they proposed taking an oath in traditional Chinese fashion by breaking a saucer each and saying, "As this saucer is broken so may my soul be shattered."

Several hundred Chinese witnesses may be called in the case, and only two saucers could be found in the court room. The magistrate observed, "There is a war on, and the breaking of saucers seems to be a needless extravagance."

The manufacture of china is limited for the duration. One Chinese then made a suggestion that the oath might be taken to the accompaniment of the cutting of throats of cockerels.

With food rationing in effect that idea was worse than saucer smashing.

The Chinese Consul finally suggested that most witnesses could be persuaded to raise their hands and speak an oath.

Franco Plans for Restoration of Spanish Royalty

BERNE, Switzerland, Sept. 23 (AP). — Gen. Franco has virtually completed negotiations with the Spanish royal family for the restoration of the monarchy, the Madrid correspondent of the Berner Tagblatt declared today.

Franco, the dispatch said, is willing to accept Prince Don Juan as king. It was stated he is preparing the ground slowly, and that the question of restoration will be raised publicly in three to six months.

Normal Growth In Infancy and Childhood

The Child Health Movement is observing its 16th birthday this year. It can hardly be gainsaid that the subject has done as much to promote the health of the present generation as public hygiene measures.

The standards to determine the health of an infant and child at different ages is one feature of the educational program this year.

Points to notice about the baby one or two years are, first, the shape and form of the head. It should be well rounded with plenty of space above the eyes, and the ears wide to prevent tooth crowding.

The neck should be free of enlarged glands.

The chest should be broad and deep, the abdomen flat. The skin should be everywhere soft.

The arms are normally plump, but not excessively fat. The same thing is true of the legs. The muscle of the arms and legs should be firm.

The legs should be straight, not bowed, and the lower limbs strong and well-proportioned.

For the child of about eight or 10 it is a sign of good health for the height and weight to be close to the average for the age.

A luxuriant head of hair is a sign of health.

The shoulders should be square. The back flat at this age (later the normal curves begin to appear), the spine straight, the muscles firm and the trunk well proportioned.

The legs should be straight and not bowed, and the knees should touch without bumping at attention. The feet now should be well arched.

These general standards can be determined by any parents without recourse to measurements and without any special medical training.

If the child does not conform to them reasonably closely it should be an indication for medical consultation to see if there is any nutritional condition which would account for the lack of body symmetry.

Short Skirts... Exercise Helps Leg Contour

BY IDA JEAN KAIN

There are only about 10 per cent of the women who have legs that look lovely in short skirts.

But to get back to the women. Leg contour is almost always a matter of muscle tone.

I have a set of exercises for you that has been tried and proved by a group of girls who are famous for their legs.

Some of these exercises are probably very different from any you have ever tried.

1. Stand with back to wall, legs straight and left leg straight out in front, the foot grasped by your collaborator.

2. Now stand facing the wall, weight supported on one leg. Keep this leg straight but bend the other knee up in back with foot grasped by your co-exerciser.

3. Stand with weight on the right foot and go into a deep-knee bend with the right leg as you slide left leg straight out in back, heel pointed.

If your legs are thick, Mr. Snyder recommends massage. The girls at the Music Hall message their legs to keep the muscles smooth.

Hints for Housewives

By BETSY NEWMAN

Maybe the gentleman will challenge me on this, but it has been my experience that men have more food prejudices than women.

Today's menu: Baked Fish, Spinach with Rice, Sliced Tomato Salad, Doughnut Coffee Delight, Coffee or Tea.

Spinach with Rice: 1/2 cup butter, 1 medium-sized onion, sliced, 1 clove garlic, peeled, 2 cups chopped cooked spinach, 1 cup cooked rice, salt, pepper.

Melt butter in heavy frying pan, add onion and garlic and cook over medium heat three minutes. Remove onion and garlic.

As if the Radio City Rockettes didn't get enough exercise by way of work, the go out on the roof for this sort of thing.

You take one pint of alcohol and one-half cup of Russian mineral oil, mix well, and always shake before using. And don't just rub the lotion on. Knead your legs.

Use Oil Spray for Shell Scale

BY DEAN HALLIDAY

The apple tree is subject to attack by a number of scale insects which are frequently brought into the garden on the feet of birds or other insects.

Oyster shell scale on tree wood. Protection for fruit trees in victory gardens.

As illustrated in the Garden Graph, the oyster shell scale, about one-tenth of an inch long, is brown and shaped somewhat like an oyster.

Control these insects use a dormant oil spray, or lime sulphur. If any scales are missed by the dormant spray, use a contact insecticide when the yellowish young are hatching and active.

Set Price Ceiling on Brazil Nuts

OTTAWA, Sept. 23 (CP)—Brazil nuts—"nigger nuts" to youngsters—were the subject of a Wartime Prices and Trade Board order today which set ceiling prices that importers, wholesalers and retailers in Canada may charge for them.

Issued by the Food Administration Branch of the Board, the order set maximum importers' prices based on landed seaboard costs for various grades and kinds, ranging from 21 cents a pound for large washed unshelled Manaoas Brasils to 83 1/2 cents a pound for midget blanched shelled Brasils.

From this scale, the wholesaler's and retailer's maximum selling prices are computed by adding transportation costs and normal markup in each case. Upper limits are placed in each case upon the markup which may be used.

Tea to Be Packed in Ration Lots

OTTAWA, Sept. 23 (CP).—To match tea packages with the new ration coupons, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board has issued a special order setting specific sizes of containers in which tea may be packed, it announced in a statement today.

On and after October 1, tea packed for Canadian consumers must be in packages of two, four, eight or 16 ounces or a multiple of 16 ounces, except in the case of individual tea bags, of which a particular number must contain two ounces. Sale of packaged tea packed otherwise is prohibited.

This order issued by Food Administrator J. G. Taggart, conforms with the purchasing validity of the coupons in the permanent ration book. Each coupon is good for two weeks' supply, two ounces per person, and the coupons become valid in pairs, at intervals of four weeks so that the holder of a ration book may buy four ounces at one time, and a family with several ration books issued to members more than 12 years of age may purchase a proportionately greater amount.

The order does not affect sale of tea packaged by the seller in the premises in which tea is sold to consumers, except that the quantity sold is to be two ounces or a multiple. Tea packed in cartons, packages or individual tea bags prior to September 21 is also exempted.

Report Early Store Closing Plan

WINNIPEG, Sept. 23 (CP).—The Canada, Manitoba branch, has received a letter from the Canadian Retail Federation, with headquarters at Toronto, stating that a proposed order of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board governing hours of business of retail stores "has been postponed indefinitely" by the Board.

George R. Cormack, region's Food Administrator of the W.P.T.B. here, said he had read a letter from the C.R.F. but has not received notification of any kind regarding closing hours from officials of the Board at Ottawa.

MARK'S WIFE

Tony Bradshaw was 28, but now he felt something queer in his throat. He nodded. After a moment, he grumbled, "What did you do after your father died?"

"I had to go to work. Dad didn't leave a nickel. I haven't much education, Tony, and I didn't, and still don't know how to do anything useful. . . . One of Dad's friends was a theatrical producer and he gave me a small walk-on part. After that I got other small parts. I never was any good, never wanted to be. I hate the tinsel part of the theatre. You have to love it to see its glamorous side, and I never loved it."

He cleared his throat, being again without the right words, and ventured, "But it is a way to earn a living."

"Yes," she murmured, her eyes slipping away from him into the past, seeing the years when she'd lived in shabby theatrical boarding houses, remembering the ever-present fear of running out of her meager funds. "Then I met Mark," she said.

And now she wondered what Mark had seen in her that he should have said that night three weeks after their meeting, "Don't worry about your show closing. We're going to get married."

"Did you know him long?" Tony asked.

"Not very long," she said aloud, and to herself. "And never very well." She had never known him because she never knew what went on in his mind, so different from her own. He never talked to her about the things that he was thinking, or writing. It seemed impossible to her that they could have lived so intimately, yet he would apart.

She forgot the doctor sitting across from her, thinking of Mark, and of Sonny asleep upstairs and that Mark should have provided in some way for what lay ahead of her. As if the burden of her thoughts was heavy, her head fell forward.

Tony came to her side and, raising her chin, looked into her face with a searching professional look. "What have you had to eat today?" he asked gruffly.

"I had a cup of tea a little while ago."

"Tea?" He snorted. "Off to bed with you, Barbara. I'll look after the furnace and look up for you. I'll bring something up to you. Get into bed and put something warm around you."

"Tony, the neighbors . . ."

He snorted.

She gave in then and went upstairs, past the door of the big front room that had been hers and Mark's, and into the little room beside Sonny's. She undressed hastily and got into bed with her pyjamas and bathrobe on.

He came up in a few minutes with other explanation of their beautiful legs. They have to balance their contracting exercises with stretching. Most women need leg exercises—especially now that short skirts are here for the duration.

Tony Bradshaw was 28, but now he felt something queer in his throat. He nodded. After a moment, he grumbled, "What did you do after your father died?"

"I had to go to work. Dad didn't leave a nickel. I haven't much education, Tony, and I didn't, and still don't know how to do anything useful. . . . One of Dad's friends was a theatrical producer and he gave me a small walk-on part. After that I got other small parts. I never was any good, never wanted to be. I hate the tinsel part of the theatre. You have to love it to see its glamorous side, and I never loved it."

He cleared his throat, being again without the right words, and ventured, "But it is a way to earn a living."

"Yes," she murmured, her eyes slipping away from him into the past, seeing the years when she'd lived in shabby theatrical boarding houses, remembering the ever-present fear of running out of her meager funds. "Then I met Mark," she said.

And now she wondered what Mark had seen in her that he should have said that night three weeks after their meeting, "Don't worry about your show closing. We're going to get married."

"Did you know him long?" Tony asked.

"Not very long," she said aloud, and to herself. "And never very well." She had never known him because she never knew what went on in his mind, so different from her own. He never talked to her about the things that he was thinking, or writing. It seemed impossible to her that they could have lived so intimately, yet he would apart.

She forgot the doctor sitting across from her, thinking of Mark, and of Sonny asleep upstairs and that Mark should have provided in some way for what lay ahead of her. As if the burden of her thoughts was heavy, her head fell forward.

Tony came to her side and, raising her chin, looked into her face with a searching professional look. "What have you had to eat today?" he asked gruffly.

"I had a cup of tea a little while ago."

"Tea?" He snorted. "Off to bed with you, Barbara. I'll look after the furnace and look up for you. I'll bring something up to you. Get into bed and put something warm around you."

"Tony, the neighbors . . ."

He snorted.

She gave in then and went upstairs, past the door of the big front room that had been hers and Mark's, and into the little room beside Sonny's. She undressed hastily and got into bed with her pyjamas and bathrobe on.

INTERCEPTOR CONTRACT

This pretty girl getting ahead with a solitaire layout is table-top attractive because of the jewelry she's added to her chic black frock. Earrings, bracelet and clip are of flower and leaf motif, the clastered stones a bright ruby color, the metal sterling silver. The bracelet is flexible; the huge ring is a solid block of fake ruby.

KIMBERLEY

KIMBERLEY, B.C.—A quiet wedding took place in the Convent Chapel on September 13 when Althea Florence Vandaele of Bridge River, B.C., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vandaele of Dillard, Sask., became the bride of Joseph George Arcand of Kimberley, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Arcand of Dillard, Sask. Rev. Father Monaghan officiated at the nuptial mass at the rectory. W. Paulds sang the Ave Maria. The bride wore an afternoon dress of rose wool, an Alice Blue model hat with shoulder veil, and blue accessories. She carried a bouquet of pastel sweet peas, snapdragons, and ferns. Mr. and Mrs. L. Lambert, uncle and aunt of the bride were witnesses. Following the ceremony the wedding breakfast was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lambert. Mrs. Warmington and Mrs. Morin assisted in serving and Mrs. B. Brown poured. Rev. Father Monaghan proposed the toast to the bride. The table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake and scapular flowers decorated the rooms. Mr. and Mrs. Arcand left for Banff and Calgary for their honeymoon. Mr. travelling the bride wore a blue suit with navy accessories. On their return they will reside here.

Today Red Cross Starts Plum Jam; Men Appreciative

The Memorial Hall will be a hive of activity today as the Red Cross Workers start on the plum jam that will wind up the season for the jam to be sent overseas from this district.

Although this year's effort has not quite reached that of last year, due to scarcity of fruit, the Committee is hoping that the plum jam will bring it a little nearer to its objective. Donations of plums will be received at the Memorial Hall up until noon today.

Just how greatly this jam is appreciated is told in a letter which was received by Dr. and Mrs. T. H. Boutique from the former's cousin who is serving overseas with the R.C.A.F. Ambulance Corps. An excerpt from their letter says:

"In your letter you speak of making Red Cross jam. We receive, what we call Red Cross comforts for the patients in our hospitals and dressing stations. It is also my job to see that the Medical Officers of the Infantry Units get these comforts for their sick boys. In these comforts we have received there have been several cases made by the women of Nelson, B.C. You can tell your friends it is very much appreciated by the patients, especially those who are quite sick and unable to eat the rough Army food. You can be assured that it is only out to patients and not used in regular kitchens. We keep a very strict check on its use. So on behalf of the patients I thank you and your friends for their kind contributions."

Why it is wise to BOVRIL-IZE

The best of beef GO-ZINTER BOVRIL and wise cooks know that when a little BOVRIL GO-ZINTER leftovers and thrifty cuts, the meal is much improved in taste and goodness by the BOVRIL she PUT-ZINTER them.

When one is cold and tired, a cup of delicious beefy BOVRIL proves a real BUCKER-UPPER that is also a real PALATE-TICKLER that stimulates the flow of gastric juices and so helps digestion.

All these novel words indicate how wise it is to BOVRILIZE, because BOVRIL not only has a deliciously beefy flavour, but is a stimulating pick-me-up without harmful reaction of any sort.

Autumn

By G. S. REES

The third war summer has come and gone: "Over to you. Over to you." over to the lands of the Southern Cross, where the tides of Armageddon savagely ebb and flow by the long wash of Australian seas.

But there is still our Indian Summer, and it is being gracious to us. We affectionately remember the little lads who these past yesterday rejoiced in their youth on parkland sands and shaded turf; our hills of home must seem very distant to them on the far fields where the fight for Freedom is being fought—and will be won.

SAFELY GATHERED IN

Harvest Home along the Kootenay trails with a rich reaping, barns bulging with hay and brim-filled granaries, as all things remaining in the earth turn again home.

It is good news that Britain has the biggest and best crop ever; every ton of home-grown grain spares overseas tonnage for other essentials. The land is fighting for her, as it ever will when aided by skilled and sufficient labor.

PATINA OF MATURITY

A great Magician stalks serenely through our valleys as sunshine pales and hazy horizons lay across the mountains; he carefully carries his paint-pot of horlequin hues and there is no black-out in the woods! Subversive maps already run riot with incendiary flame, and the thick gown is slashed with matted molten hues that blaze briefly—then dim-out for ever. The A.R.P. should do something about this really!

Leaves fall—they are the season's greeting cards sent through aether space. In unchecked fall-spins they form quiet ponds of brown on grass and ground, or scumber across the lawn in a last flurry of life and freedom. A laggard sun waxes through misty morns to warm noons and wanes into placid dusks as day and night join hands; then comes the promontory breath of old Man Frost through darkening hours that crisps the air with sharpness and delight. There is beauty and serenity in sunset and evening star. The harvest moon, "sharpe with her mild glory," rides high across the lift of the hills, touching the sleeping earth with its lovely alchemy, so that it stands wrought in silver.

"Slowly, silently, now, the moon Walks the night in her silver shoes"

NO MILITARY SECRET

Abroad over the Russian steppes a wind is whistling, hard-pressed men of Muscovy mutter in their beards, "Oslen vs yodukhe", Autumn is in the air; then follows winter with its three chilly climates, cold, colder and bitter.

Salute to the Red Star of Russia, to its age-old and new spirit, to its unity and youth and fighting skill of all the Soviet peoples.

Through all of men's madures, rivers flow and flowers blossom, there is seedtime and harvest with bountiful gain, birds and bees and trees perform their individual essential tasks in an ordered perfection. All these are hopefully symbolic of their inner interpretation.

Our love of trees and rivers, mountains and plains is not necessarily more praiseworthy than pride in past conquests and in ruthless leaders. It however, indicates a completely different attitude towards life, and thus creates a vastly different type of civilization and culture. We are seeing something of this in the present stormy phase of man's onward and upward march to the stars.

We now have a fairly clear idea of what this particular war is all about and its differ-

English Soldier's Widow Feels for Jap Evacuees

To the Editor: Sir—Will you kindly publish the following reply to Mr. Leary's letter in Friday's issue: Dear Mr. Leary—A widow whose husband did not return from France in the last war, I would like to express my deep appreciation of your letter.

My maintenance having been purchased at so great a cost, it was my duty to use as little as possible for my own needs, and devote the remainder and my life to service for the prevention of the recurrence of such a world tragedy.

My service for International Appreciation through understanding took me round the world, and to dwell for a time in different lands in the British Commonwealth of Nations, in Honolulu, Samoa, China and Japan.

I contacted with many pro-British Japanese people in their homeland, devoted to friendship between East and West, well-known friends of some of the Canadians of Japanese ancestry who are evacuated to the Kaslo-Slocan district.

Their parents came to this land when there was great friendship between the English and Japanese people, including the courts of Queen Victoria and the Emperor Meiji.

Dr. Niobe spoke from serious conviction when he said, "It will be a sad time for Japan if she is controlled by war lords." This tragedy has happened, and the people here have no part in it.

If the Japanese warlords have secret service agents in this country, would they be likely to concentrate among the evacuees here? I think not.

We shall not lose by showing friendship and kindness to these unfortunate people who, added to the anxiety for their loved ones under military domination in Japan, of whom they can receive no news, have had to leave their homes and be parted from husbands (in some cases). We, who profess to follow Him who lived, taught and died for all humanity, must not allow a spirit of hate and fear to control us.

We remember how the Indians became our friends through the wise treatment of them by William Penn, whose policy is admired today by many, even in Japan, and others in whom the Christ Spirit was so manifest that the Indians feared not harm them, but became their friends.

Because of these, my findings in study and travel, I thank you very much for your kind words about our Canadian evacuees.

FRENCH WORKERS GO TO GERMANY

Wounded prisoners are pictured in the train, left, at Campagne, France, returning from Germany. They are to be replaced by waiting French workers, off to Germany in the same train. The inscriptions on the train would make it appear that the returning soldiers, glad to be home, are cheering Petain and Laval. Germany demands three French workers to go to Germany, for every French prisoner released from that country. The workers, right, were waiting at the station of Campagne, France, as the first trainload of war prisoners pulled in, under the new exchange arrangements. They are off to Germany. Some of the returning soldiers are seen near the train.

SNURFEIT CHEESE

Will the half-pound per head ration of cheese which is to be conceded temporarily later this month, be taken up by the average household? It is doubtful. The intention is to enable the food minister to save other protein foods, such as canned meats, for a more substantial season.

But eight ounces of cheese is fully three times the average rate of British consumption before the war. That rate, which covered both domestic and catering supplies, was roughly 2 1/2 ounces.

The new eight-ounce ration is exclusive of catering supplements. Hence we have a surfeit of cheese in prospect.—Glasgow Herald.

"QUIET AND SANCTITY"

It is difficult to understand the reluctance of Hove Town Council to permit cycles to be ridden in the cemetery. Cars are allowed—subject to conformity with a reasonable speed restriction. Yet people who, as Alderman Tringmar has done, have laid up their cars and have taken to cycles, must now walk.

The regulations prohibiting the riding of cycles are for the purpose of preserving the quiet and sanctity of the cemetery, yet that quiet and sanctity is much more likely to be disturbed by an inconsiderate car driver than by a reckless cyclist.—Sussex Daily News.

Today's Horoscope

Today's birthday people have abundant natural talent, executive ability and strong will power. They are fond of their homes, yet outside interests hold a great deal of attraction for them. They should assert themselves more, and not let others of lesser ability surpass them. They will gain through secret activities during the next year and novel enterprises, but should guard against loss through theft or fraud, perhaps through women. Also they should avoid overstrain and refuse to take unnecessary risks. Born on this date a child will possess a kind, humane, sympathetic disposition, but will need to guard against impulsive decisions and intrigues in business. Births late in the day are more propitious.

French Just Misses Perfect Game as Dodgers Defeat Phils 6-0

By GAYLE TALBOT

knocked down but couldn't throw. There was never any argument about it having been a hit.

Even so, French's performance was one of the most remarkable seen in the big leagues since back in 1922, when Charley Robertson turned in his perfect game for Chicago White Sox. Eiten was wiped out by a fast double play for a moment after he hit, and only 27 batters—the absolute minimum—faced French.

The further he went the better French became. Four of his six strikeouts were registered in the last three innings, when his knuckle ball was dipping and swerving over the plate like a hula dancer. None of the Dodger fielders even made a particularly good play, in helping French mow down the Phils.

A crowd of 13,346 including 8647 scrap metal donors who got in free, cheered the chunky left hander vociferously as Phil after Phil went down in order in the late innings. In the ninth they burst into the outfield and the game was delayed for several minutes while they were shooed back.

The way the Dodgers were leaning against the ball today French scarcely needed to work on the unhappy Phils to such an extent. For the second straight day the erstwhile league leaders poured base hits into the outer reaches, piling up 13 safeties at the expense of three pitchers.

They slammed Rube Melton from the premises with six hits and four runs in the first five innings, and found Ike Pearson and Walter Beck almost equally entertaining.

Incidentally, racing men have made themselves look good with such contributions to the war effort as the seven-day post-season meeting at Belmont, Church Downs' Victory Days and turning their most profitable events into relief programs.

American Hockey Association Suspends Operations

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 23 (AP)—Lyle Wright, League President, announced late today the American Hockey Association will suspend operations for the coming season.

Faced with gasoline rationing and difficulty in obtaining players, club and league heads deemed it best not to operate this winter, Wright said.

Negotiations are now being carried on, Wright said, in regard to those N.H.A. players available to be placed elsewhere.

Larry MacPhail Resigns; Going to Army

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 (AP)—Leland Stanford (Larry) MacPhail announced tonight that he had resigned as President of Brooklyn Dodgers of the National League and would enter the Army at the close of the major league season Sunday.

The fiery, red-haired executive made the disclosure to newspapermen while the Board of Directors of the ball club was in session and said that no decision had yet been made as to his successor.

When asked if he would sever all connections with the Dodgers after Sunday he replied, "No, but I can't say more until the directors have finished conferring."

MacPhail came to the Dodgers in January, 1938, as general manager and a couple of years later was elevated to the Presidency of the club.

Hun Soldiers Are Targets for Oppressed Peoples

BERNE, Switzerland, Sept. 23 (AP)—Bitterness against the German conquerors is increasing in the Netherlands and, heightened by hopes of an eventual allied invasion, the people are committing almost daily acts of sabotage. A correspondent of the Basler National Zeitung, wrote today.

The invasion threat, he said, compelled the Germans to strengthen their coast fortifications and to transfer many of their troops in the Eastern Netherlands Provinces to Coast stations.

He wrote that at the same time daily acts of sabotage occur—German road signs are destroyed, lines on German cars are slashed, trains of war supplies and food for Germany have been derailed and telephone lines have been cut. Bombing attacks have been carried out against German officers and soldiers who venture singly into the blacked-out streets at night.

The Nazis in their reprisals have arrested a thousand hostages, including writers, scientists and officials, who have been sent to Germany.

Another Liberty Ship Breaks Building Record

Portland, Ore., Sept. 23 (AP)—Ten days after its keel was laid the 10,500-ton liberty freighter Joseph N. Teal, slid into the Willamette river here today.

Thus the Henry J. Kaiser Oregon shipbuilding yards trimmed a full 14 days from the previous record for ship construction. Kaiser himself arrived here early today and witnessed the launching of the 10-day ship.

When the Teal hit the water she was 87 per cent complete. Albert Bauer, assistant general manager of the yard, said. Ordinarily a vessel is 79 per cent finished at its launching.

The yard hopes to complete the ship and give it a trial run by Sunday. If successful 17 days will have been clipped from the Teal to delivery record of 31 days, jointly held by the Oregon yard and the Richmond No. 2 yard.

Pennant-Chasing Cardinals Close on Title by Beating Reds 4-2

BY CHARLES DUNKLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 23 (AP)—The pennant-bound Cardinals regained their 2 1/2-game lead and moved closer to the National League championship tonight by defeating the Cincinnati Reds, 4 to 2, before 26,514 top-coated spectators in flood-lighted Sportsman's Park.

The Cards triumphed behind the magnificent pitching of a 2-year-old rookie righthander, Johnny Beasley, who allowed only two hits—a single by Frank McCormick and a double by Bert Haas. Cincinnati had only one man on base after the first inning, in which the Reds got off to a two-run lead.

BEASLEY'S 20th WIN
It was Beasley's 20th victory of the year. Only 29 batters faced him, six of those being in the first inning.

The Cards' lead over Brooklyn was reduced to two full games this afternoon as the Dodgers trimmed Philadelphia 6-0 but the Redbirds bounced back tonight to make it 2-4.

After Cincinnati scored two in the opening frame, the Cardinals rebounded with three quick runs on three hits in the third to take the lead, and added their fourth on three straight hits in the seventh.

Manager Billy Southworth was forced to make a change in his lineup when first baseman Johnny Hopp came down with a cold. Hopp was ordered to bed because Southworth feared complications. He was replaced by Rook's Ray Saunders, who smashed a triple in the third to score two of the three runs.

Amerks May Be Out of Hockey

TORONTO, Sept. 23 (CP)—Prime items of business when the National Hockey League opens a two-day meeting here tomorrow will be: 1. Playing schedule, 2. Drafting policies to comply with new international regulations for professional sport, 3. Relations between the N.H.L. and amateurs; 4. Brooklyn Americans.

The first three items are scheduled points of discussion. The fourth is not but it is inevitable.

If there is to be a major division between delegates to this meeting, it will come over the Rumors have floated about for months that the Americans are through for the duration. The Amerk manager, Red Dutton, has not confirmed this, directly or indirectly. Neither has anyone else in authority.

But Brooklyn has been hit hard by enlistments, and the club which finished last in the league last season—didn't have much strength to counter any type of a blow. While several other clubs have announced training plans for this season, Americans have been silent. The indication may be there that Americans will not be back.

A CLINIC FOR Financial Cases

Just as some clinics successfully treat physical ailments, by applying the combined knowledge and experience of specialists—

. . . so, in our business we deal with financial problems of individuals, along clinical lines, and from our years of experience, can frequently prescribe measures and offer plans, for the conservation and application of personal resources, that bring to their owners, added security and peace of mind.

Our special qualifications and orderly methods enable us to analyze your present estate, advise you on investments, estimate your succession duties, help you plan your Will and act as your executor, for surprisingly moderate consideration.

By Lana Wheeler
DELIGHT SOME CHILD

This doll is fun to sew and is bound to make a hit, for isn't it dressed just like sister herself? Her haircomb is wool—her clothes are removable and take little material to make them. Pattern 1003 contains a pattern and directions for making a 17-inch rag doll and her clothes; materials required.

Send twenty cents for this pattern to The Nelson Daily News, Needlecraft Dept., Nelson. Write plainly pattern number, your name and address. Pattern will be mailed to your home within 10 days.

Marian Martin
SLIM AFTERNOON MODE

Smart fashion arithmetic in a frock that subtracts inches from your appearance. Pattern 9204 by Marian Martin has slimming long-waisted lines, with soft side-front bodice sections. Young revers.

Pattern 9204 may be ordered only in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 36 requires 3 1/2 yards 38 inch fabric.

Send twenty cents for this Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your SIZE, name, address and style number. Send your order to The Daily News. Pattern will be sent to your home within 10 days.

SOLDIER MISSING AT DIEPPE SAFE IN UNOCCUPIED FRANCE

MONTREAL, Sept. 23 (CP).—Lieut. Antoine A. Masson of Les Fusiliers Mont-Royal, originally reported missing after the Dieppe battle, is safe in Unoccupied France where he has been alerted, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Auguste Masson of Montreal, were advised today.

SALLY'S SALLIES

Contract... By Shepard Barclay

DON'T HELP HIM GUESS

THERE ARE frequent spots during the play of a hand, when you have a chance to make the work of your opponent easier for him, by saving him the necessity of guessing the location of some important card. Playing it yourself at the first opportunity solves the problem for him, whereas holding it back may give him a terrific worry as to whether it is held by you or your partner. This is emphatically so when a declarer leads toward a king-jack in the dummy. If the ace goes on his lead, he has no guess remaining, but if you play a low card, he doesn't know surely whether to come up with the king, or put on the jack.

South took the third diamond trick, three hearts and three spades, then ruffed the spade 6 with his heart 8, leaving a trump in each hand and also two clubs in each. With two tricks already lost, he could afford to lose only one more, and had to take two. One of those two was certain as a trump trick, but the other had to be a club.

So he led the club 7 toward the K-J. West came right in with his A, making the K good for the trick that assured success of the contract.

If West had played the club 10, declarer would have had a puzzle. He would have had to guess whether East or West had the A. If he guessed West had the Q and East the A, his best play would have been the J to force the A and make the K good. As the cards lie, that play would have beaten him. It would have enabled East to take the J with the Q, and then lead back to the A for the setting trick.

If, however, South guessed West for the A and came up with the K, only to find that East had the A, the K would have been killed and West would have taken the setting trick then with the Q. The A was by no means marked in the hand of West, who had made a shaded double anyway. East's five bid of clubs over North's redouble might have marked the A as there. But, when West played his A on the first club lead, no problem remained.

MY, MR. BEAVER, WHAT BIG TEETH YOU HAVE
The determination in the expression of the beaver in this cartoon poster, recently produced by the Wartime Information Board, symbolizes the fighting spirit of the Canadian people, in the armed services, the munitions industry and the home front. It is a challenge to all Canadians to follow in the tradition of Canada's national animal and work ceaselessly for the destruction of the enemy.

Rumania Premier Japs Say U.S. Ship in Germany to Discuss Problems

BERLIN, Sept. 23 (AP)—Hitler conferred today with Mihai Antonescu, Acting Premier of Rumania, and a DNB report said they "dealt with all pending problems."
Germany recently has been reported calling for more Rumanian troops to go to Russia.
Antonescu's reception at Hitler's headquarters, in what the radio called "an extremely friendly atmosphere," followed two days of conferences with Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop.

ANKARA, Turkey, Sept. 23 (Delayed AP)—A traveller recently arrived from Rumania said today that Marshal Ion Antonescu had swept out hundreds of Rumanian office holders after getting from the Germans a list whose attitude the Nazis did not regard as sympathetic enough.

ANTONESCUS as Rumanian Chief of State has delegated his civil authority to his nephew, Mihai, the Acting Premier.
The traveller, whose identity may not be divulged, said that more Foreign Office employees were among the ousted officials.

Churchill Says We Need Every Ship That Can Be Built

LONDON, Sept. 23 (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill declared today that "although the shipping position has improved recently it still is grave and we are in urgent need of every ship that can be built."
His statement was in a message to a conference of the ship-building industry in which he exhorted the builders "in the name of His Majesty's Government" to strive your utmost for only thus can you compel victory.

Premier Hart Tours B.C. Rail Lines

LILLOOET, B.C., Sept. 23 (CP)—Premier John Hart and a party of provincial and civic dignitaries including Mayor Cornett of Vancouver, arrived at this Cariboo centre last night and left this morning for the northern end of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway at Kamloops on an inspection tour of the line.
Scores of Lillooet residents gave the party a welcome at the station and many loaded the chief's party on the special train with malons, potatoes, honey, fruit and other Cariboo-grown products.

Fleet Moves North to New Fishing Grounds

VANCOUVER, Sept. 23 (CP)—Most of the Gulf of Georgia purse seine fishing fleet and a number of Fraser River Gillnetters are preparing to move to the west coast of Vancouver Island or in Johnstone Strait to continue salmon fishing. George Miller, business agent for the United Fishermen's Union, said today that the majority of the purse seiners will have sailed by the first of next week and that some of the Gillnet fishermen also will be moving North to new fishing grounds.

August Ferry Traffic Across Lake Halved From Year Ago

Passenger cars crossing Kootenay Lakes by the ferry steamer Nasookin were only 1271 in August compared with 2663 in the same month of 1941, a reduction of practically 50 per cent and passenger cars using the Nelson Ferry in August were only 12,856, compared with 18,530 a year ago, a drop of nearly 25 per cent. Both declines of course were attributed to the gasoline and tire restrictions and the voluntary reduction of travel, and only carried out the trend that has been in force ever since the first restrictions on border travel were put into force by the Dominion a couple of years ago.

Figures for the ferries reporting to the Nelson office of the Provincial Public Works Department, for the two Augusts, are as follows:

Nelson Ferry:	1941	1942
Round trips	18630	12856
Passenger cars	2167	1833

Trustees Adopt Resolution Urging Teaching of Spanish in Schools

KELOWNA, Sept. 23 (CP)—Resolutions recommending that Spanish be included in the High School curriculum and urging the introduction of a Provincial salary schedule for teachers, with increments guaranteed by the Province, were adopted at the British Columbia School Trustees Annual Convention here.

The Convention went into its third and final session today after going on record as urging that the Dominion Government give special assistance to those school districts which, due to war conditions, have lost taxable property and still are required to provide education for temporary residents.

The resolution urging the teaching of Spanish in British Columbia schools suggested that the inclusion of this language in the curriculum would promote trade and closer relations in the post war period. Spanish already is being taught in Vancouver schools while the University of British Columbia has an optional course. The delegates also adopted a resolution urging grader safety lessons be added to the curriculum after A. B. Fellows, Secretary-Treasurer of the Association and Chairman of the Vancouver School Board, presented figures showing traffic accidents were considerably reduced in cities where such lessons were given in the schools.

Other action taken by the Convention included:

A resolution urging that student age persons should not be employed without a permit from the National Selective Service Committee. The object of this is to prevent students leaving school to obtain temporary high wages and being unfit for better jobs when peace comes.

A resolution urging that the final date for the resignation of teachers be July 15 and not July 31 as at present.

A resolution asking that remuneration be paid to those teachers whose classrooms are used by teachers in training at the Normal School was turned down.

A resolution urging the introduction of a Provincial salary schedule for teachers with increments guaranteed by the Province and other conditions of teaching improved that a good grade of teachers may be attracted and held.

FORMER NELSONITES MARRIED 60 YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stucky, early-day residents of Nelson, snapped on their sixtieth wedding anniversary, celebrated at their home at Pincher Creek, Alta., in April. Mr. and Mrs. Stucky lived in Nelson from 1891 to 1899.

Their sons, Samuel and R. Percy Stucky, came back to Nelson this year on a holiday trip, after an absence of 43 years. They are planning to come again next year. Percy Stucky writes to R. G. Joy, for Nelson was "one of the most picturesque places I have seen, with the magnificent flower gardens, etc." On their visit they met many friends of their school days in Nelson, and they hope to meet more on their next trip.

New Navy Ship May Bear Name of Kokanee, Kootenay, or Bonnington to Honor Nelson

"Kokanee," "Kootenay," "Bonnington"—one of these names or possibly some other suggested by a Nelson district resident may be carried by one of Royal Canadian Navy ships.

Requested by the Naval Board to select three names representative or suggestive of this City or District, one of which will be carried by a R.C.N. vessel, members of the Nelson City Council have put forward these. Perhaps citizens will be able to suggest others.

The request, addressed to Mayor H. C. Stubbs by R. A. Percival, Secretary of the Naval Board at Ottawa, follows:

Your Worship:

I am directed to advise you that it is intended, shortly, to allocate names to certain new construction vessels which are due to be commissioned as H.M.C. Ships.

In view of the importance of your city in the Dominion of Canada, it is considered that one of the vessels of the R.C.N. should be named after it.

It is regretted, however, that one of H. M. Ships already bears the name "Nelson". It will, therefore, be impossible to apply the name of

Note Explains Jordan's Death

CRESTON, B. C.—Police authorities investigating into the recent suicide of the late Ed Jordan, packer-trapper, whose body was found in his cabin 18 miles up Summit Creek, found a note explaining his action. Apparently the dead man had kept track of the days by marking each one off on a calendar. For the month of August up till the 27th this had been done with the exception of five days. These five days were marked on a small calendar and it is thought he had taken this calendar with him when he was building a small cabin some distance away as there were no means of necessities required to finish the cabin.

August 21 the trapper recorded he had internally ruptured himself and was unable to leave his bed. The next five days were repetitions of the terrible pain he was enduring and how on the 26th he felt he was beyond all medical aid. The 27th showed his handwriting very faint and scrawled and he stated the gun was his best way out as he was too weak to leave his bed. It was signed "Goodbye, Ed."

Putnam to Plead for Fruit Men
 CRESTON, B. C.—Meeting a delegation from the War Measures Committee of A. K. Loyd and E. J. Chambers from the Okanagan and Mr. Debrisy of the B.C.F.A., the local B.C.F.A. executive and other fruit authorities have thoroughly discussed the near crop failure in this district and decided to send a representative to Ottawa to secure aid for the farmers. The man chosen for this assignment was Frank Putnam, M.L.A.
 This week a meeting of the growers is being called to discuss Mr. Putnam's mission and also to get the growers' ideas and suggestions for the Rehabilitation Committee which visits Creston on Sunday.

33 Women Rural Area Register

Registration of 33 young women of the Nelson rural area was reported by District Post Offices Tuesday and Wednesday to the Nelson office of the National Selective Service. This lifted the total registration for Nelson and District since Sept. 14 to 350.

Figures for the registration of women, 20 to 24 years inclusive, at the Nelson office stood at 142 Monday night and remained unchanged. The compulsory registration concludes Oct. 3.

The Selective Service office here open morning, afternoon and evening Monday to Saturday for the first week of the registration has now resumed its regular office hours. The office besides being open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays and 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturdays is open in the evenings of Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays from 7 to 9 p.m.

2 NELSON YOUNG WOMEN LEAVE TODAY FOR ARMY

Two more of Nelson's young women leave today to don the khaki of the Canadian Women's Army Corps.

Miss June Morgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Morgan of Fairview, and Miss Louise Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cox of 412 Mill Street, plan to leave on the Westbound passenger this morning to report at Vancouver. They will be assigned to training centres from there.

SAYS ENEMY SUBS WILL PENETRATE NEW YORK RIVER

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 23 (AP)—Simon Lake, designer who built the world's first big submarine, says enemy submarines soon will penetrate the East River in New York, torpedo docks and shipping and "lie unseen on the river bed for months—if necessary—until they can get away." He told a luncheon club yesterday that he knows of a secret process for manufacturing air by which the ships could remain submerged for a year and not even impair the crew's health.

Roseland Social

By MRS. HARVEY FLEURY

ROSSLAND, B.C., Sept. 23—Eileen Lorets, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Mara of Roseland, and Jack S. Ramsay of Trail, youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Ramsay of Regina, were united in marriage Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, by Rev. A. K. MacIntyre, V.G.D.F., in the Rectory of the Sacred Heart Church. The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely attired in traditional white. Her wedding gown of white sheer, featuring a softly gathered bodice with yolk and shoulders beautifully embroidered with very fine silk braid, had a row of tiny buttons from the high rounded neckline to the fitted waist. The skirt was floor length; the long sleeves were gathered to a tight cuff at the wrists. The full length silk net veil was held in place with a coronet of seed pearls and orange blossoms. Dainty satin flowered appliques and intricately embroidered silk braid decorated the veil. The bride carried a bouquet of Tallman roses. Miss Alouise Mara, as her sister's bridesmaid, wore turquoise blue sheer fashioned along similar lines to the bride's wedding gown, but featuring a quilted bodice. Her headpiece was a wreath of pleated blue ribbon in matching shade, with a band of yellow rosebuds. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations. B. W. Lawrie, brother-in-law of the bride, acted as best man. Richard Boucher played the wedding march. Following the wedding ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where the bridal couple, standing in front of the flower-banked fireplace, were assisted in receiving the guests by Dolrict points where there are no Clubs but where a nucleus of C.C.F. members exists will be represented by single delegates.

The agenda will be a full one. The election of officers, the financial statement, an organization report, a report by Spencer J. Newell of at Toronto in July, and a discussion on the National Convention on an Interior Summer school will be the main items.

The delegates will convene at 7:30 p.m. in the Eagles Hall.

That time still may be remote, or all his setbacks in Russia last year and now around the ruins of Stalingrad Hitler still is moving on. But his pace is slowing. No decisive turn of events in his favor to avert another wearing Russian Winter campaign is discernible; but he is still moving forward, not backward, to soothe his people with fresh promise of ultimate triumph. An internal crack-up of any sort seems improbable until he is definitely halted. But the seeds of discord are being sown.

Even that could not satisfy the sombre judgment of German military professionals that Nazi political-military amateurs are risking utter disaster, guided only by Hitler's "intuition" instead of sound military conceptions.

If Von Bock foresaw the grim price that must be paid to take Stalingrad, as reported, and warned against an assault there and in favor of a concentrated campaign in the Caucasus, unquestionably not only Von Brauchitsch but all other senior German professionals shared his view. The soundness of their judgment put only of Stalingrad's defence preparations but also of Russian will to fight to the death to hold it now is proven beyond question.

That Hitler is seething with resentment for the delay involved, as well as over the blood cost, goes without saying. That he is seeking a scapegoat among his non-political Generals to avert public blame from himself is quite likely.

Another straw in the wind is the current report that Marshal Rommel is complaining bitterly of Nazi failure to back him adequately with air power. His frustrated attempt to crack the British El Alamein Quattris Depression line is directly traceable to that air inferiority. Every day brings from Cairo indi-

Interpreting The War News

BY KIRKE L. SIMPSON
 Associated Press War Analyst

There is enough rumor smoke from the Stalingrad siege to warrant the conclusion that Hitler is building fires under his Generals even if one accepts with caution the Swedish reports that Field Marshal Feder Von Bock, German Commander, has been purged.

Stalingrad, left-wing citadel of Russian defence line extending from the Baltic to the Caspian, has come to have more than strategic significance for Hitler. It has become the symbol of his personal prestige. If he ordered its capture against the counsel of his professional soldiers, as the Stockholm version runs, he dare not sanction a halt in the bloody frontal attack.

Only its fall to Nazi arms, whatever the cost of that victory, could gloss over the ever-mounting casualties in the eyes of the German public.

Even that could not satisfy the sombre judgment of German military professionals that Nazi political-military amateurs are risking utter disaster, guided only by Hitler's "intuition" instead of sound military conceptions.

I am accordingly directed to request that you select three alternative names of local significance in order of preference.

The name "Kokanee" was chosen because it seemed "to very closely cover the idea of something purely local. The name brings to mind Kokanee Glacier Park, Kokanee Creek, Kokanee Point where the Scout Camp is located, Kokanee Mountain, Kokanee Street, and the Kokanee Indian Tribe. Kokanee was also the name of one of the trimmest and fastest C.P.R. steamers on these waters.

"Kootenay" was chosen as a name representative of the West and East Kootenay Districts, and of the local Kootenay Indians.

"Bonnington" where the "goose that lays the golden egg" is located, was the third choice.

LONDON (CP)—The Cockney ostermerger and his "moke"—donkey to you—are busy again. As railway companies will no longer accept flowers and plants for transport the "mokes" have been recruited to take the blooms to market.
