Big Steel Plant Closes, Second to Close Thursday

Findings of Commission Recommending Against Increases in Base Wage Rates Protested by Canadian Workers

By The Canadian Press

One of Canada's three basic steel-producing plants was closed today (Wednesday) and Union employees of a second voted last night to go on strike Thursday to protest the findings of a Commission which recommended against increases in the industry's basic wage rates.

Operations at the huge plant of the Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation at Sydney, N.S., came to a halt yesterday morning when 2600 men on the day shift walked out. Union officials said 2400 men employed on night shifts at the plant also were involved.

At Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., members of the United Steel Workers of America (U.S.W.A.) voted last night to call a strike Thursday in the plant of the Algoma Steel Corporation there. This would add about 5000 men to the strike list.

Only one of the three basic steel plants not affected is that of the steel company of Canada at Hamilton, Ont.

At Sydney a statement from the Executive of the Sydney Coal local of the United Steel Workers said that maintenance workers were on the job in the plant and that the executive endorsed the strike action.

The Sydney Union issued a statement which said that "the inevitable has happened, with regret at the loss of jobs in protest against what the men must consider an unjust and unnecessary position brought about by legal evasions of the majority report of the Barlow Commission."

George MacNeil, President of the U.S.W.A. local at Sydney, said the "backing" of some 3000 steel workers in the company's plant at Trenton, N. S., had been assured by Alphonse Murray, Financial Secretary of the Trenton local.

The situation was described as "serious" by C. M. Anson, General Manager of the Sydney Company. "The men just walked out," he declared. "The Company received no notification whatsoever from the union regarding the strike."

Since 1941, the steelworkers at Sydney and at Sault Ste. Marie have been seeking a basic wage rate of 30 cents an hour for unskilled labor, exclusive of cost-of-living bonuses.

At present, Sault Ste. Marie workers are paid on a basic rate of 43½ cents an hour, while workers at Sydney get 43½, both exclusive of cost of living bonuses. A full bonus is paid at Sydney but only a partial bonus at Sault Ste. Marie.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Jan. 12 (CP)—The Sault local of the United Steel Workers of America (U.S.W.A.) voted tonight to call a strike Thursday in the plant of the Algoma Steel Corporation here.

The decision was reached at a mass meeting.

Word of the decision followed only a few minutes after Mayor J. McKeen of Sault Ste. Marie announced receipt of a telegram from Federal Labor Minister Mitchell, announcing appointment of a special labor department representative to arrange a conference of Company and union officials designed to prevent strike action.

Mr. McKeen also received a telegram from H. R. L. Henry, Secretary to Prime Minister Mackenzie King. Both messages were in reply to a telegram sent the Prime Minister and Mr. Mitchell by Mr. McKeen saying that unless "you intervene to adopt the minority report of the Barlow Steel Commission before 7 a.m. Thursday, a most grave situation will arise in the steel industry here."

Members of the Sault local voted unanimously to call a strike at 7 a.m. Thursday, affecting an estimated 3000 workers.

Union officials said the company has been given 24 hours notice of the strike action, the notice to start at 7 a.m. tomorrow.

Well-Equipped Nazi Army of 70,000 in Tunisia—Giraud

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Jan. 11 (Delayed) (AP)—Gen. Henri Giraud, French High Commissioner in North and West Africa, said in a speech today that 70,000 Germans have arrived in Tunisia and now oppose the allied forces.

"A well-equipped army that fights well is facing the Anglo-American troops, and also the French Army," he said in addressing officials at Naimy in the desert before reaching Algiers.

Allied operations might have been more rapid but the "price" would have been out of proportion to the results, considering the terrain and the importance of the Axis positions, he said.

CALLUP AGE NOT TO BE LOWERED OTTAWA DECIDES

18-Year-Olds Not to Be Called at This Time—MacNamara

By FRANK FLAHERTY Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Jan. 12 (CP)—Arthur MacNamara, Director of National Selective Service, announced today that no early downward extension of the age classes liable for compulsory military service is contemplated by his branch.

"It has been decided not to call 18-year-olds at this time," Mr. MacNamara told The Canadian Press.

Recently 19-year-olds were made subject to the callup and now are being drafted into the army. Since 18-year-olds are subject to call in the United States and since plans for the Canadian army during 1943 have not yet been stated, there has been considerable speculation over the possibility of calling Canadians of the 18-year class.

The last extension of the callup made men married prior to July 13, 1940, who are between the ages of 19 and 25, liable to call.

As the callup regulations now stand, all single men and widowed, divorced or legally-separated men without children between 19 and 40 are liable to call as well as the small class of married men under 25.

Meanwhile the Selective Service branch is attempting to complete the callup of all men who were single in July, 1940, between the ages of 19 and 40 who have not yet been called. Under a recent proclamation all such men are required to report by filling in special forms available at local offices of Selective Service and at post offices.

This procedure, which amounts to a re-registration of all men legally callable but not yet called, is to be completed by Feb. 1.

Following up the night raid on the Ruhr, aircraft of the Fighter Command and Army Co-operation Command attacked and damaged water transport and railway targets in offensive patrols over the Low Countries, the Air Ministry said today.

"None of our aircraft is missing," One Norwegian pilot raked three tugs in a Netherlands canal with gunfire and left them sinking, the Air Ministry News Service said in amplifying the communique, and two locomotives, several freight cars and barges also were reported hit.

ONLY PRESIDENT CAN MAKE PETRILLO OK RECORD MAKING

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—James Caesar Petrillo, President of the American Federation of Musicians, told a Senate Committee today that only upon the request of the President would he permit his musicians to go back to make records.

Petrillo, who said that as a musician he played "the trumpet very quiet," emphatically trumpeted his grievances against recorded music as the creator of widespread unemployment in his union.

1500 Coal Miners Rejoice Strikers

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan. 12 (AP)—A back-to-work movement collapsed in one section of Pennsylvania's strike-bound anthracite field today only a few hours after the industry's governing body and the War Labor Board made new appeals for an end to the production-crippling walkout.

The Glen Alden Coal Company's Truesdale and Loomis collieries, where operations were resumed on a limited scale yesterday, failed to reopen this morning and their 1500 workers rejoined approximately 18,000 other strikers who remained idle for the 14th day.

8TH ARMY HEAD UNITS ARE REINFORCED

Advance Is Expected; Many Blows Dealt Tunisian Foe

FRENCH ADVANCE

LONDON, Jan. 12 (CP)—Forward elements of the British 8th Army at Wadi Zemzem, 160 miles Southwest of Tripoli, were reported tonight to have received strong reinforcements of tanks and infantry and indications were that the British forces were about to resume their advance Westward.

The Morocco radio was the source of the report that reinforcements have reached Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's forces. This supplemented Berlin statements of Saturday night that thousands of allied vehicles have been concentrated to the South of Marshal Erwin Rommel's positions for an attack.

Meanwhile, the Anglo-American-French forces in Tunisia and the Fighting French in Fezzan wastes of lower Libya and the allied air powers dealt many blows at the Axis in the Mediterranean theatre.

The Morocco radio report said the 8th Army reinforcements had reached the British positions before Wadi Zemzem in the last few hours.

If an attack was imminent it obviously was in cooperation with the Fighting French of the Mysterious Gen. Jacques Leclerc who were reported within 300 miles of Tripoli after announcing a complete conquest of Italy's Fezzan empire of Salt marsh, oasis and desert in Southern Libya.

Among the developments of the day which sharpened the picture in the Mediterranean were these:

American Flying Fortresses for the first time thundered into Tripoli from the West and bombarded the Italian port of Garmes, 170 miles Southwest of Tripoli, near the Libyan-Tunisian-Algerian border.

In Tunisia, just to the South of the German perimeter about Tunis and Bizerte, British and French patrols were more active than in days and fought several successful actions, a North African headquarters communique reported.

French troops of Gen. Henri Giraud drove the enemy out of a mountain pass at a point 23 miles South of Pont-du-Fahs. They reported the capture of at least 180 prisoners.

The Fighting French communique in announcing the complete conquest of Fezzan after a march of more than 1000 miles in three weeks across the Sahara from the Lake Chad area in Equatorial Africa, said the flying column of legionnaires and native troops had occupied Murzuch, religious capital of Fezzan, 490 miles South of Tripoli, and Sebha, the chief military centre, 60 miles farther North.

Almost the entire Italian garrisons at both places surrendered, the announcement said. Both these places had been by-passed in the advance to Brach, 350 miles South of Tripoli.

The communique said one forward spearhead drove on Northward and routed an Axis motorized detachment. It was reported now only 300 miles from Tripoli.

Need Few Hundred Men to Keep In Mines Says Lokes

VANCOUVER, Jan. 12 (CP)—A. E. Jukes, President of the British Columbia Chamber of Mines, said here tonight that provisions should be made for a few hundred men to enable British Columbia gold mines to carry on through the war period "on a basis of say, 66 per cent of normal capacity."

Speaking at the Chamber's 15th annual meeting, Mr. Jukes said that such action "would maintain the operating efficiency of an industry which can continue to do a great deal to assist in providing money and metals for the war program and which, when peace comes, can not only yield annual production of some $25,000,000, but is able and ready to serve as one of the spearheads upon which to build re-establishment programs by opening the mineral resources of the Province."

YOUNGEST CENTENARIAN CELEBRATES BY SKATING AT CARNIVAL

SPOKANE, Jan. 12 (AP)—John Jerome Whit, the man Spokane believes to be the nation's youngest centenarian, skated, self-consciously onto the ice at a carnival tonight, did an easy figure-eight backwards and skated off—just to celebrate his 100th birthday.

The man who was 10 years old when the Civil War started and has been skating for 90 years ate a breakfast of bacon and two eggs, two pancakes and a cup of coffee. At dinner he had a T-bone steak with French fried potatoes.

Population of Canada Now 11,500,000

OTTAWA, Jan. 12 (CP)—Canada had 11,505,898 citizens at June 2, 1941—5,900,148 male and 5,605,750 female—the Dominion Bureau of Statistics said today in releasing final 1941 census figures.

Included in the revised total were men in the armed forces, not included in preliminary figures issued a few months ago.

The Canadian population in 1931, year of the last decennial census, was 10,378,786.

By provinces the final population figures for 1941 follow:

Prince Edward Island 95,047, Nova Scotia 877,962, New Brunswick 457,401, Quebec 3,331,682, Ontario 3,787,855, Manitoba 720,744, Saskatchewan 899,992, Alberta 796,149, British Columbia 817,861, Yukon 4914, Northwest Territories 11,271.

COAST PLANT CLOSES DOWN THREE HOURS OVER DISMISSAL

VANCOUVER, Jan. 12 (CP)—A committee composed of Company and Union officials was investigating today the case of a workman at Dominion Bridge Co. Ltd. whose dismissal yesterday resulted in a shutdown of three hours at the plant which is working on war orders.

Labor men said stoppage of work was a protest by members of the International Steel Workers' Union. Work was resumed when the Company decided to allow the men to continue working pending an investigation of his case.

INCREASE RAIDS

Meanwhile, Allied air forces in India and China were being increased week by week and the British communique announced a new series of raids against the Japanese in Burma.

Piniha railway station in Central Burma was attacked and engines and rolling stock destroyed, two small Japanese steamers on the Chindwin River and near Akyab were damaged, buildings and railway trucks at Kyaukse, and a number of villages near Akyab, including Rathedaung and Laung-chabing were bombed.

Big Guns Within Range of Salsk in the Southeast

LONDON, Jan. 13 (Wednesday) (CP)—Russian troops driving toward Rostov were reported early today within artillery range of Salsk, important junction 110 miles to the Southeast, while the Soviets in Moscow announced the capture of 10 more Caucasian settlements and the killing of 2000 Germans along the Lower Don where the Nazis are counter-attacking.

Six villages, including Essentuki, or Yessentuki, Karas and Bestaunt—all in the Pyatigorsk area—fell to the advancing Russians, the regular Tuesday midnight communique said of the fighting along the Rostov-Rosov Railway skirting the Northern slopes of the Caucasian mountains.

Another town which the Russians reported occupying was Levokumsk, about 75 miles Northeast of Georgievsk, and Reuters News Agency said the Russian troops from the North Caucasus had joined forces near there with the Kalmyk Steppes army which had been driving Southwestward.

To the North the Russians took four more settlements in the area of Zimovniki on the Stalingrad-Tikhoretsk railway. The Red Army's advance units are already beyond Kubersk, 150 miles Southwest of Stalingrad on the railway, and less than 50 miles from Salsk.

Stockholm reports said that the Russians already were battling the Germans in Northwest of Salsk, where a railway connects with Rostov to the Northwest.

Along the Lower Don River where the Russians last were reported about 40 miles East of Rostov, the Soviet communique also announced the capture of several localities but did not identify them. For three days the Russians have not announced any specific gains in this area.

"The Germans are throwing in reserves in an effort to stem the Soviet advance at all costs," the communique said of this area where the Nazis are counter-attacking day and night.

"Soviet troops wore out the enemy by their defence and followed up with a strong blow. Some 2000 of the enemy were wiped out. Forty tanks and 12 enemy guns were destroyed. Booty and prisoners were captured."

On the central front the Russians said their troops also repulsed Nazi counter-attacks Northwest of Velikie Luki which is 80 miles from the Latvian border.

In another sector of the central front Soviet troops wiped out about one Nazi infantry company.

Soviet tanks and cavalry were credited with a major part of the continuing successes in the Caucasus where the Russians said hundreds of additional Germans were captured along with quantities of ammunition. Costack cavalrymen already have penetrated into the Kuban River region, Moscow reports said.

Far behind Russian columns fighting along the Lower Don River the fighting continued in Stalingrad itself where the communique said Red shock troops wrestled several more streets from the Germans in the city's factory area.

It was the second large contingent to arrive from Canada in three weeks.

The announcement of the arrival was delayed for security reasons and by now the troops have been at their reception centres for some time.

MANY AIRMEN

Army units formed the majority of the movement which included a large detachment of R.C.A.F. personnel and men from the combined training operation. Included also was a group of Royal Canadian Navy men returning from leave in Canada.

The Atlantic crossing was said to have been uneventful and free from enemy interference.

One detachment of the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps and Royal Canadian Artillery personnel for training centres in Manitoba was involved in the recent train wreck at Almonte, Ont. Their officers spoke with pride of the assistance the men gave to injured civilians, singling out particularly Pte. F. R. Whitta of Kenora, Ont.

The draft represented army training centres from Gordon Head, B. C. to Debert, N. S., and included men for the infantry, artillery, engineers, armored corps, service corps, medical, dental, ordnance and forestry groups.

FRENCH LEADERS PLAN TO MEET VERY SOON

"Early, Complete Agreement" French Prediction

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Jan. 12 (AP).—Gen. Henri Giraud, French High Commissioner in North and West Africa, will meet Gen. Charles de Gaulle, Fighting French leader, soon in order to try to reach an agreement between their two forces an official French spokesman said tonight.

The two Frenchmen have been in telegraphic communication and the meeting will "take place soon," the spokesman said.

(Gen. de Gaulle disclosed in London not long ago that he had suggested to Giraud on Christmas Eve that the two meet on French soil and try to arrange "an enlarged temporary" French government in order to wage effective war against the Axis.)

LONDON, Jan. 12 (Wednesday).—(CP).—An "early and complete agreement" between Generals Charles de Gaulle and Henri Giraud was predicted by a Fighting French spokesman early today after it had been announced in North Africa that the two leaders will meet soon.

The meeting which de Gaulle has been proposing since Christmas is expected to take place almost immediately, the spokesman said. The Fighting French leader then will go to Washington to see President Roosevelt.

Long-range bombers and attack planes raised what is regarded as the next probable sector of ground action, the Lae-Salamua area Northwest of Buna. The planes bombed and strafed the trail to Komiatum, destroying a bridge.

Another formation strafed the New Guinea coast as far as Amboge.

Allied long-range fighters returned to a much-raided point, Fuloira, in Portuguese Timor, destroying an enemy fighter on the ground and carrying out successful low-level strafing of buildings and motor transport.

The Japs also raided a point they have been giving increasing attention, Mersuke on the South coast of Dutch New Guinea. Nine of their bombers inflicted what the communiqué described as "only slight damage" on the town.

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, (CP).—The "Turret", four foolscap pages of typewritten copy, is a saucy weekly published "in the Field" by two enterprising young lance-corporals of the Three Rivers Tank Regiment. They are Vic Gotro and Eric Wright. It is a newspaperman's newspaper. Its style is a combination of those of "Time", "College Humor" and the "Times of London".

One week's editorial, for instance, urges proper dress for all in the Army: "The way some soldiers have stuff sewed on their sleeves is not only improperly dressed, but downright indecent. You do not know whether to read up or down. Like the fellow who is wearing a Three Rivers tab on his shoulder strap, a Canada on his shoulder, a U.S.A. below it, a 12CTR patch below it, a tank, a lance-corporal's hook and a good conduct stripe all on the same sleeve. He is properly dressed for two Regiments and two Armies!"

The headline "Loose Teeth and Dinner" is intriguing. The story: "Argument over procedure in a meal queue this week cost Tpr. R. C. Watson a meal and the temporary loss of his teeth. Insisting that he was ahead of another man Watson elected to practically dispute the point. Somebody shoved him, and his upper plate fell in the mud. By the time he had recovered his chopper and taken a trip to his billets to clean them, dinner was over."

Laval Trades French Workmen for Power

LONDON, Jan. 12 (CP)—In exchange for increased political power, Pierre Laval has contracted to deliver 400,000 more Frenchmen and some French warships to Germany, a fighting French spokesman said tonight.

An agreement on this was reached at the December conference of Laval with Hitler and Count Ciano, according to information brought here from France.

Hitler was said to have told Laval that his would be the last French government with which Germany would negotiate, and that he gave Laval direct control over all police and generally increased administrative authority.

The spokesman said Laval, Hitler and Ciano reached a 10-point agreement, as follows:

1. Hitler assured Laval his would be the last French government with which Germany would negotiate.

2. Laval was granted direct control over all police in what was formerly the occupied zone and the increased administrative powers generally.

3. Hitler agreed to abandon his plan to reorganize the French army on a compulsory basis to fight against the United Nations.

4. Hitler will act as arbiter in further French-Italian negotiations.

5. Laval will deliver five destroyers and two large tugs to the German fleet.

6. Laval will send 400,000 skilled workers to Germany.

7. The Germans will take full control of all French industry, finance and agriculture.

8. The French departments of Nord and Pas-de-Calais will not be restored to the French state.

9. Demarcation lines between the two zones will not be abolished.

10. The question of making Paris the seat of Laval's government was postponed.

Observers said the first point represents a considerable strengthening of Laval's position with respect to leaders of other French parties.

French-Italian negotiations probably concern Corsica and other areas under Italian military occupation.

The departments of Nord and Pas-de-Calais are parts of the "forbidden zone" where the Germans are constructing fortifications against possible United Nations invasion. The majority of French residents have been evacuated.

Signs Japs Getting Supplies to Kiska Under Cover of Darkness

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—Under cover of the long Arctic nights, the Japanese invaders of Kiska Island in the Aleutians appear to have been receiving supplies and reinforcements.

Military authorities who declined to be quoted by name expressed the opinion today, however, that on the basis of available information the enemy's hold on their bleak outpost off Alaska probably is little if any more secure than it was last Fall when Army air attacks ceased off because of the fog and darkness that set in with the winter.

One of the most recent indications that the Japanese have not been idle came when two lightning fighters escorted medium bombers on a raid over Kiska Harbor were shot down by four Japanese float-type Zero planes on Dec. 30. Only one of the Zeros was destroyed. That was the first evidence in many weeks that the Japs had float planes at Kiska and occasioned considerable surprise that they had been able to move in such reinforcements.

Another indication came when a Japanese float plane was seen on the water near Kiska on Jan. 10.

The allied report said a "heavy cloud cover obscured the results, although one very large fire which penetrated the overcast was seen."

The raiding force was attacked by German fighters and "two of our aircraft were shot down," the war bulletin reported. "At least one enemy fighter was destroyed."

Currier fighters were reported active yesterday in the Libyan battle area.

"In one engagement with a large force of enemy fighters," the American communiqué said, "one enemy aircraft was destroyed and another damaged. One of our aircraft failed to return."

The British headquarters reported the Naples raid but said only that it was carried out by allied bombers.

Three allied planes were reported missing in aerial operations of the Middle East Command yesterday and the preceding night, but it was not specified whether any were lost in the Naples attack.

Allied bombers continued to strike at Axis Tunisian strongholds from the West. The communiqué said the harbor of Sousse was successfully bombed and said transport vehicles on the road between Gabes and Sfax were attacked.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—Four Japanese Zero fighters were shot down and one American Wildcat fighter was lost, the U. S. Navy said today, when the Japs attacked a flight of U. S. dive bombers in the central Solomon Islands.

The four Zeros shot down rained to 680 the number of planes the Japs have lost in the Solomon campaign.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—Reliable information through neutral sources from Germany today indicated that a squabble for authority between Marshal Erwin Rommel and Gen. W. Nehring underlies the confusion of who is commanding the German forces in Tunisia.

It was said that even intervention by Hitler failed to reconcile the two high German officers.

The report has been current for several weeks that Nehring had been replaced by Col. Gen. Juergen von Arnim as commander in chief of the Axis forces in Tunisia.

Well informed sources said this apparently was true and resulted from Rommel's refusal to serve under Nehring. Nehring, likewise, was reported to have refused to serve under Rommel.

The German radio continues to assert that Nehring has not been replaced, referring today to heavy reinforcements going "to Nehring's third army in Tunisia."

Getting information necessary for the ultimate permanent location of the Nelson-Taghnum section of the Southern Transprovincial Highway, though there is no likelihood of work being undertaken under present conditions, a Provincial Department of Public Works survey party is making a survey from the top of Taghnum hill to Nelson City boundary.

A similar survey will be made from the North Shore ferry landing at Nelson to Willow Point, stated Ernest Smith, District Engineer, on Tuesday.

ON THE TUNISIAN FRONT, Jan. 12 (CP)—Allied forces which stormed to the gateways of Tunisia and Bizerte are held up either by mud or hastily reinforced German garrisons after crossing country as rugged as some parts of the Canadian Rockies.

Driving towards the front over the routes taken by British and American shock troops, I was struck forcibly by the obvious geographical difficulties facing the fighting formations here.

Towering mountains, with many crests snow-white and misty with clouds, spread awkwardly over part of the war zone. There are only a few good macadam roads leading Eastward to Tunisia and at places they squirm up mountains and through passes with hairpin turns and great chasms giving way to broad valleys reminiscent of the Bow River Valley near Banff.

There are rolling foothills and vast plateaus and attacking here is somewhat as though an army were striking from Calgary into the Rockies.

It has been a daring advance which already has brought a considerable measure of success and certainly has placed the Axis in an unenviable strategic position.

In addition to a few good lateral roads are narrow gauge railways straggling through the mountains and via these routes supplies and reinforcements reach the forward areas.

War is not easy to wage in this rough country. Hasty scrawlings in my note-book as our station wagon sped toward the front show what this war zone is like in the areas leading forward.

We crossed plains and saw Americans kicking a rugby football and playing catch in a farmyard. There was brilliant sunshine that hurt the eyes but don't get the idea that

Europe, or in doing security work in war factories.

"Measures were being taken to put the matter right, he told them, and that would mean even more restrictions on Germany's home front. He did not make any direct reference to Germany's casualties on the Russian front, but he did tell the Germans that whether they liked it or not they would have to put up with new hardships which were being imposed on them and would have to realize the acuteness of the man power situation."

In another broadcast the BBC said the German troops retreating in the Caucasus "are fleeing hungry and panic stricken." It quoted Reuters News Agency's Moscow correspondent, Harold King.

"Hundreds of German corpses in great mounds fill the streets of the Caucasian rear," continued the broadcast. "The Germans had intended to use these spa towns as winter quarters."

A vastly expanded production program of nine selected types. On behalf of Munitions Minister Howe the statement said each of them "is the best of its class in the world."

It added the changeover to new types will mean a substantial increase in the number of Canadian airplanes sent to theatres of war. Of the 6500 planes built in the Dominion in the past 30 months, 5000 remained in Canada to fill the requirements of the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan. "In Toronto yesterday Air Minister Power said it had been decided to rename the training plan the combined Training Organization." The remainder of Canada's output went to active war theatres in Britain or elsewhere.

The statement quoted Mr. Howe as saying "Shipping space will not be needed. Each of the four combat and service types can fly the Atlantic. They can be delivered to any theatre of war under their own power."

Aircraft production in 1942 was 2½ times that of the previous year, the Departmental spokesman continued, although the industry was expanding and changing over to heavier and more complicated machines.

American Bombers Hit Naples Shipping

CAIRO, Jan. 12 (AP)—Four-engine Liberators of the United States Army's 9th air force bombed Naples by daylight yesterday, hitting harbor installations and shipping, a communiqué announced today.

The attack was the 38th of the war on the hard-hit Italian supply port and the first attack of 1943 after repeated December raids.

(An Italian communiqué said: "Damage is slight. In the collapse of some civilian buildings, the population suffered losses which as far as has been ascertained are 23 dead and 75 injured.")

The allied report said a "heavy cloud cover obscured the results, although one very large fire which penetrated the overcast was seen."

The raiding force was attacked by German fighters and "two of our aircraft were shot down," the war bulletin reported. "At least one enemy fighter was destroyed."

Currier fighters were reported active yesterday in the Libyan battle area.

"In one engagement with a large force of enemy fighters," the American communiqué said, "one enemy aircraft was destroyed and another damaged. One of our aircraft failed to return."

The British headquarters reported the Naples raid but said only that it was carried out by allied bombers.

Three allied planes were reported missing in aerial operations of the Middle East Command yesterday and the preceding night, but it was not specified whether any were lost in the Naples attack.

Allied bombers continued to strike at Axis Tunisian strongholds from the West. The communiqué said the harbor of Sousse was successfully bombed and said transport vehicles on the road between Gabes and Sfax were attacked.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—Four Japanese Zero fighters were shot down and one American Wildcat fighter was lost, the U. S. Navy said today, when the Japs attacked a flight of U. S. dive bombers in the central Solomon Islands.

The four Zeros shot down rained to 680 the number of planes the Japs have lost in the Solomon campaign.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—Reliable information through neutral sources from Germany today indicated that a squabble for authority between Marshal Erwin Rommel and Gen. W. Nehring underlies the confusion of who is commanding the German forces in Tunisia.

It was said that even intervention by Hitler failed to reconcile the two high German officers.

The report has been current for several weeks that Nehring had been replaced by Col. Gen. Juergen von Arnim as commander in chief of the Axis forces in Tunisia.

Well informed sources said this apparently was true and resulted from Rommel's refusal to serve under Nehring. Nehring, likewise, was reported to have refused to serve under Rommel.

The German radio continues to assert that Nehring has not been replaced, referring today to heavy reinforcements going "to Nehring's third army in Tunisia."

Getting information necessary for the ultimate permanent location of the Nelson-Taghnum section of the Southern Transprovincial Highway, though there is no likelihood of work being undertaken under present conditions, a Provincial Department of Public Works survey party is making a survey from the top of Taghnum hill to Nelson City boundary.

A similar survey will be made from the North Shore ferry landing at Nelson to Willow Point, stated Ernest Smith, District Engineer, on Tuesday.

ON THE TUNISIAN FRONT, Jan. 12 (CP)—Allied forces which stormed to the gateways of Tunisia and Bizerte are held up either by mud or hastily reinforced German garrisons after crossing country as rugged as some parts of the Canadian Rockies.

Driving towards the front over the routes taken by British and American shock troops, I was struck forcibly by the obvious geographical difficulties facing the fighting formations here.

Towering mountains, with many crests snow-white and misty with clouds, spread awkwardly over part of the war zone. There are only a few good macadam roads leading Eastward to Tunisia and at places they squirm up mountains and through passes with hairpin turns and great chasms giving way to broad valleys reminiscent of the Bow River Valley near Banff.

There are rolling foothills and vast plateaus and attacking here is somewhat as though an army were striking from Calgary into the Rockies.

It has been a daring advance which already has brought a considerable measure of success and certainly has placed the Axis in an unenviable strategic position.

In addition to a few good lateral roads are narrow gauge railways straggling through the mountains and via these routes supplies and reinforcements reach the forward areas.

War is not easy to wage in this rough country. Hasty scrawlings in my note-book as our station wagon sped toward the front show what this war zone is like in the areas leading forward.

We crossed plains and saw Americans kicking a rugby football and playing catch in a farmyard. There was brilliant sunshine that hurt the eyes but don't get the idea that

Europe, or in doing security work in war factories.

"Measures were being taken to put the matter right, he told them, and that would mean even more restrictions on Germany's home front. He did not make any direct reference to Germany's casualties on the Russian front, but he did tell the Germans that whether they liked it or not they would have to put up with new hardships which were being imposed on them and would have to realize the acuteness of the man power situation."

In another broadcast the BBC said the German troops retreating in the Caucasus "are fleeing hungry and panic stricken." It quoted Reuters News Agency's Moscow correspondent, Harold King.

"Hundreds of German corpses in great mounds fill the streets of the Caucasian rear," continued the broadcast. "The Germans had intended to use these spa towns as winter quarters."

A vastly expanded production program of nine selected types. On behalf of Munitions Minister Howe the statement said each of them "is the best of its class in the world."

It added the changeover to new types will mean a substantial increase in the number of Canadian airplanes sent to theatres of war. Of the 6500 planes built in the Dominion in the past 30 months, 5000 remained in Canada to fill the requirements of the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan. "In Toronto yesterday Air Minister Power said it had been decided to rename the training plan the combined Training Organization." The remainder of Canada's output went to active war theatres in Britain or elsewhere.

The statement quoted Mr. Howe as saying "Shipping space will not be needed. Each of the four combat and service types can fly the Atlantic. They can be delivered to any theatre of war under their own power."

Aircraft production in 1942 was 2½ times that of the previous year, the Departmental spokesman continued, although the industry was expanding and changing over to heavier and more complicated machines.

YOUTH CHARGED WITH MAN. BANK ROBBERY

WINNIPEG, Jan. 12 (CP)—Edward Ruffin of Lydiatt, Man., and a juvenile, have been charged with the $1000 armed bank robbery at a branch of the Royal Bank of Canada at Beausejour, 35 miles East of Winnipeg.

Appearing in court late yesterday they were remanded eight days without plea.

Two youths entered the bank near the close yesterday and at gunpoint locked the manager, William Crack, and three other employees in the vault, and escaped in a horse drawn sleigh.

Are Coast Spuds as Good as Those From Ashcroft?

Potato famine in the Coast cities of British Columbia has been accentuated by the refusal of the Coast potato growers to sell potatoes at the present ceiling of $48 a ton, which is approximately 60 per cent higher than the 1939 prices. No shipments have been made to civilian markets since Nov. 19, and for a time the growers threatened to refuse to sell to the military camps. They are demanding a price of $52 which is the ceiling price for first grade potatoes from Ashcroft and other interior districts.

The latest argument is upon the question of quality. The Coast growers say that they should get the same price for their potatoes as those allowed to be paid by the Prices Board for Ashcroft potatoes.

It would seem to be a very simple matter to settle this question. The Coast growers say that the quality of their product is as good as that of the potatoes raised in the Ashcroft district. The Prices Board say that it is not. The obvious answer would be in whether in pre-war days, when there was no shortage of potatoes, Coast potatoes sold at as high a price as the product of the potato fields of the Ashcroft area.

In the meantime, thousands of tons of potatoes are remaining in storage at the Coast. Shrinkage is taking place, and there are threats that there will be no large planting of spuds for the 1943 crop. Such a situation is definitely contrary to the public interest. It may prove detrimental to the growers themselves, and to the B. C. Marketing Act under which at least some extent the growers are operating.

Sound Policy

Dispatches from Victoria state that Premier John Hart, who is also British Columbia's Minister of Finance, is preparing to make sharp cuts in Provincial expenditures during the coming fiscal year.

The budget is being prepared, and it is said that his orders to all departments are "cut, cut, cut." He is determined that expenditures should be cut to the bone.

There are two obvious reasons for such a course. Provincial revenues during the coming fiscal year will be down. Of still greater importance, and no one is likely to be more deeply conscious of this than Premier Hart, is the patriotic duty of every public body, as well as every individual, to economize in every possible way in order that the largest amount of money may be available for the war effort. We also have to consider the future. It is necessary that British Columbia should be in a strong financial position when the war ends, so that we may be able to make the most rapid progress in rehabilitation.

Premier Hart will be able beyond doubt to show striking improvements in the financial position of this Province when he brings down his budget. And his determination that we should continue along the same sound lines will meet with general public approval.

THE TALE FIGURES TELL

Figures issued by the Department of Defence, last week, showed that of the 2,313,800 men in Canada eligible for military service, 618,488 or 27.8 per cent responded to the call for recruits for the fighting services and enlisted for service anywhere. Another 68,017 were drafted, but, in accordance with the present policy of the Government, will not be sent out of Canada. Altogether 30.8 per cent of those eligible have enlisted or been called up.

The various provinces responded as follows to the call for men for the fighting services: Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, 37.9 per cent of eligibles—that is, of men between 19 and 45; New Brunswick, 35.3 per cent; Quebec, 13.7 per cent; Ontario, 32.8 per cent; Manitoba, 30.9 per cent; Saskatchewan, 27.1 per cent; Alberta, 31.7 per cent; British Columbia, 34.8 per cent.

When the "R" recruits—those not eligible for service outside Canada—are added, the figures are different, but the Provinces stand in the same relative order: Nova Scotia, 41.5 per cent; New Brunswick, 39.9 per cent; Quebec, 17.0 per cent; Ontario, 35.7 per cent; Manitoba, 33.9 per cent; Saskatchewan, 30.2 per cent; Alberta, 34.4 per cent; British Columbia, 36.4 per cent.

It had been known, of course, that the response of Quebec to the call for fighting men had fallen far below that in the other Provinces. The figures show just how far. Out of each 100 eligibles, 13.7 responded in Quebec; 31.5 in the rest of Canada.

It had been thought, however, that the draft, which had been conceived and arranged for the special benefit of Quebec, would have the effect of righting the balance. If the young men of Quebec would not enlist for service outside Canada, they would surely, it was believed, come forward for service inside Canada. They always said they would defend their native land—would meet the foe when he came to the St. Lawrence.

But the figures do not show that the young men of Quebec are equipping themselves against the time when the foe will come to the St. Lawrence. Perhaps they are counting on the young men of the other provinces to keep him away. Taking the enlisted men and the "R" recruits, 36.3 per cent of Canada's eligible outside Quebec are in the fighting services assigned to duty outside Canada and within; but only 17 per cent of Quebec's eligibles are there.

How can this be? How is it possible that Quebec's eligibles have evaded both the recruiting officer and the draft?

There are two possible explanations. The fighting services do not accept men who are not physically fit. And it is possible to get deferment from the draft if one is engaged in work of vital national importance.

But what is the explanation of the explanation? Is it likely that Quebec's young men are only half as fit, physically, as say, Ontario's? And how comes it that so many more of them are engaged in work of vital importance than is the case in Ontario, which is also an industrial province? The figures, 17 per cent and 35.7 per cent, do not stand well together.

NATIVE CANADIAN ASSUMES BIG JOB IN CONGRESS

It will probably be all to the good from the standpoint of the United Nations cause that Representative Charles A. Eaton from New Jersey is to succeed to the chairmanship of the highly important House of Representatives Foreign Affairs Committee. He supplants Hamilton Fish, formerly regarded as the leader of the Congressional isolationist forces.

There is no question as to where Eaton stands in regard to the war and the part that the United States must play in it as well as in the peace that will succeed it. He supports the thesis that the United States must in future play a leading role in world affairs and not retire into the shell of isolationism immediately peace is declared. In fact he declared the other day that American isolationism is a thing of the past.

This is a sweeping statement incapable of proof. In fact there is still a very considerable section of American opinion, supported by certain newspapers of large circulation, that inclines to the view that the chief concern of the American people should be directed to the defeat of Japan and that Europe should be left to stew in its present devil's brew. Coupled with that view is a decided anti-British bias with India as the main subject of attack on British "imperialism." Back of all this is a burning desire to cripple Roosevelt's prestige.

After the treacherous attack on Pearl Harbor a little over a year ago the isolationist forces were silenced. They dared not oppose their nation going to war in self-defence, but now they are getting their second breath and they are carrying on a sniping campaign against Great Britain and her Empire. That is a line of attack that attracts some support, much of it inspired by ancient prejudice and jealousy.

It is of interest that Representative Eaton was born in Pugwash, Nova Scotia, seventy-four years ago.—Calgary Herald.

IT'S INANITY, NOT INSANITY

A farmer applying for a permit to purchase a pair of rubber boots is asked, among other things, by the O.P.A. "How often will you wear these boots?" An owner of a truck who wants to continue operating it is required by the Office of Defence Transportation to "give the percentage of cubic space used by this truck during the first quarter of 1941." A Midwest manufacturer, given a Government order for 90 felt washers, net cash involved $3, had to fill out 42 pages of forms.

These are instances cited in hearings before Senator Byrd's committee investigating rationing applications and forms sent out to harried businesses and citizens of the country.

It has been said that Washington is an insane asylum run by the inmates. These questions and forms make it appear that our Washington war-time bureaucracy is a custodial institution run by imbeciles.—Spokane Spokesman-Review.

We love flattery, even when we see through it, and are not deceived by it, for it shows that we are of importance enough to be courted.—Emerson

"Practical Joke" Costs Trail "Gun-Man" $60

TRAIL, B.C., Jan. 12 (CP)—A New Year's day "practical joke" cost Horace Williams of Trail $60 today when he was fined that sum in police court following his conviction on a charge of assault with intent to rob. His trial opened Monday. Williams pleaded not guilty to the charge.

After he ordered a party of four in a parked car on Jan. 1 to put up their hands and give him their money, two young men in the car overpowered him and called the police.

Williams said he had been drinking, and thought the occupants of the car were friends of his. He decided to play a "joke" on them, he said, and tied a handkerchief over his face, took a flashlight, and held the handle of a hairbrush to represent a gun.

In passing sentence, the Magistrate said he was being lenient because of Williams' good record, and the testimony of several character witnesses who testified the accused was considered a practical joker.

Williams is married, with five children. He has resided here 14 years.

Girls... Don't Be Cheap Just to Have a Boyfriend

Dear Miss Fairfax:

Do all girls have a chance to marry sooner or later? Some day I want to marry. I want the feeling of security and someone to love me. I've been ill for two years and now I'm back in college and trying to forget all I went through. I'm 18 years old and want friends, pretty clothes, etc. What do men look for in a woman? My girl friends all seem to have a "line". I'm not like that and I don't flirt. Please give me some hints.

I'm considered good looking and dress attractively and neat.

At 18 you've still plenty of time to wait for the right man to come along. And I hope you won't rush madly into matrimony as so many girls are doing these days. If he's the type of man you hope to go through life with, his choice will fall on a girl who has the same ideals as he has.

Now that you're well and back again in college, you'll have plenty of opportunity of finding the right sort, and I beg of you, don't be cheap!

Overweight... Old Standbys Are Best Exercises

By IDA JEAN KAIN

What do the overweight want? To slim down their hips and waists and to flatten their stomachs. And what about the thin girls? They want to build up their legs.

You have heard of the side-scooters—all you do is lie on your side on the floor, head pillowed on the under arm, other hand out chest level on floor for support, legs straight down, and swing legs from hips in a scissors-like action, one leg back, the other forward. If you would just do it for 30 counts every day, you wouldn't have to worry. (The 30 counts means on each side.)

Another standby is this: Lie on your back on floor, arms extended straight up on floor overhead, legs straight down, and, without letting feet come off the floor, swing arms and trunk up until you are in sitting position then bend over and touch fingers to outstretched toes. Finally, very slowly lower trunk backward until you are again in starting position. Repeat six times. If you have trouble keeping feet on floor anchor them under heavy piece of furniture until you acquire better balance.

Any thin girl would get just as much as the overweight out of these exercises. They tone the all-important trunk and hip muscles. But, having been trained as a dancer, our ex-exercise teacher thinks there's nothing to beat ballet for developing beautiful legs. It's good legwork to stand with heels together, toes turned out at the sides, use on toes, and lower on heels.

Or, try to stand with heels of one

The value of exercise is appreciated by Paramount screen star Mary Martin, who used to conduct classes for women bent on reducing.

Hints for Housewives
By BETSY NEWMAN

Mushrooms are another food that you can use when you plan a meatless meal. Serve them creamed over toast; or in Cream of Mushroom soup, or broil or fry them and serve them with other vegetables in a Vegetable Plate.

TODAY'S MENU

Creamed Mushrooms on Toast
Baked Stuffed Potatoes
Buttered Cauliflower
Pear and Cheese Salad
Cake
Tea

CREAM OF MUSHROOM SOUP

4 lb. mushrooms, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 tablespoon flour, salt, pepper, 1 pt. milk.

Melt butter and saute the sliced mushrooms in it for not longer than 3 minutes. Add flour, blend well, then gradually add milk, stir until smooth and slightly thickened. Season well. Serves 2 in bowls; 4 in cups.

CREAMED MUSHROOMS

2 or 3 tablespoons butter, 4 lb. mushrooms, 1 tablespoon flour, salt, pepper, 1 cup top milk.

Pick over mushrooms and remove any discolored spots. Melt butter in flying pan, put in mushrooms, cap side down, cook 3 minutes over moderate heat, sprinkle with salt and pepper, then sprinkle with the flour, blending in the fat, and add milk slowly. Cook until thickened and smooth, stirring gently the while; or add 1 cup medium white sauce to mushrooms. Season well. Serves 2 or 3.

BROILED MUSHROOMS

Only the mushroom caps are broiled. The stems may be used to make soup. Brush over with melted butter, sprinkle with salt and pepper, place on a preheated broiler, cap side down, and cook 3 minutes, turn, dot with butter and broil 3 minutes longer. Remove and serve piping hot.

PEAR AND CHEESE SALAD

1 can pears, cream or cottage cheese, salad dressing, lettuce or shredded cabbage.

Put halves of pears on beds of lettuce on salad plates; stuff hollow in pears with cheese and serve with mayonnaise or French dressing. A sprinkling of chopped nuts may be added, if liked.

Business Worries Bring on Heart Attacks

By LOGAN GLENDENING, M. D.

We have been told and warned over and over again of late about the increase of heart disease and the effect of high pressure living.

We have more heart disease nowadays because more people attain an age in which heart disease is prevalent than in previous generations. In strenuous times like these it is impossible to worry all the time about your individual health when there is work to be done.

There are certain people who can make any amount of effort without putting any strain on their hearts and on the other hand, there are certain people who are very subject to heart upsets from the stress and excitement of daily life.

ANGINA PECTORIS

This is not to say that the stress and excitement does not have an effect upon the heart, especially on that form of heart disease which is the most frequent cause of death and ability nowadays.

This form is angina pectoris, or spasm of the arteries of the heart. These arteries are under nervous control and the nerves controlling them are connected with the central nervous system, so naturally in periods of emotional stress or business excitement the arteries go into spasm. The fact that men, more often than women, suffer from angina pectoris is an indication that business worries have something to do with the condition.

When you get to the edge of 60, no matter what you are doing you are not in any more danger of angina than if you were 35.

HEART ATTACKS AND BUSINESS

The monthly incidence shows unquestionably the relationship between heart attacks and the volume of business. The largest number occurred in the month of December, which is the busiest month on the stock exchange, and in most other businesses. The month of lowest incidence is April, from which it rises gradually so that July, August and September are reasonably high months.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

C. F.: What causes a lack of hydrochloric acid in the stomach?
Answer—Hydrochloric acid is deficient or absent in the stomach contents in cases of an atrophy of the cells of the stomach wall. If an atrophy is present it should be treated with liver extract, if it is a simple lack of hydrochloric acid, it is possible to use diluted hydrochloric acid with the meals.

Excess Butter May Be Sold Back to Retailer

OTTAWA, Jan. 12 (CP)—The Prices Board announced today that excess stocks of butter in the possession of consumers may be sold back to retailers only if the retailers arrange with a Ration Officer of the Board for special purchase permits.

The announcement said the butter rationing order requires retailers to buy only from suppliers to whom they surrender ration coupons, purchase permits or other ration documents, and unless they choose to apply for special purchase permits they are not obliged to accept butter from consumers.

Preliminary reports received by the Board indicated that more than 30 tons of butter were reported by consumers last week in excess of the one pound per person which it was unnecessary to report.

CHICAGO, Jan. 12 (AP)—Little, if any, immediate relief in the present butter shortage in the United States is expected by dairy men, they said today, although the country has passed the point of lowest production and output will expand from now until July.

Orr Infant Dies at Portland

Word has been received of the death Sunday of Forrest Lee Orr, 21-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Orr of Portland, Ore., by Mrs. Orr's mother, Mrs. P. Gansner, Granite Road.

Funeral services were held Tuesday.

Mrs. Orr was the former Elsie Gansner, who is well known in Nelson. Her husband was also well known here.

Mexican Indians, small in stature and who still use bows and arrows, are believed to be descendants of the ancient Mayas.

Training... Waiting on Child Robs Him of Self-Confidence

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

We are creatures of habit. We must care for the infant while he is helpless; then, having become accustomed to caring for him, we keep on when he should help himself. We are sure, moreover, we can do for him better than he can do for himself.

During his early months, we have to talk for him, tell his name, how old he is and the like, but when he can talk for himself and answer the questions directed at him we continue speaking for him. We even do it when he is in his teens. In this way, we rob him of self-confidence.

First of all, strive to do nothing for the child that he can do for himself.

LET CHILD ANSWER

As soon as the child can give his name or tell his age, or answer concerning other facts about himself, don't allow yourself to answer for him.

As soon as he can feed himself—the infant at a year of age can do so in part at least—let him. Also let him comb his own hair, wash his own hands, even bathe himself, as soon as he is able to do so.

When the child over eight or ten wishes to experiment at following a recipe in baking or cooking, even at preparing a meal, encourage him. Be patient with him. Don't look for perfection. Remember he is learning.

As your child, in his work or play, does things in ways you dislike or know to be less skillful than your way don't insist on your way, so long as he does not injure himself or property.

ALLOWANCES

As he begins spending a bit of money, help him learn values and practice in the principles of good budget and allowances hoping that by the time he is in high school, he will have learned to buy most of his own things wisely; not just in his choice of clothes, but in his choice of so many other things, and in practice at making decisions for himself where he is able safely to do so, you can help him find ways at development in self-reliance.

If, when the child is most eager to do something for himself, we let him, even though it takes our time and tries our patience, he will want to go on helping himself; but if we discourage him then, by doing it for him, he either may be vexed and give up, or willingly let us go on doing for him.

SAVE YOUR GOOD CARD
RUFFING of a trick by one of the defenders costs you nothing if you have nothing of your own on the trick except worthless cards which would have to be lost anyway. But, if the ruff kills an honor with which you otherwise would take a trick, then it has cost you something. That is the principle underlying your play to the first trick of a suit, which you are able to win in either hand. If you fear the next trick of the suit is going to get trumped.

Some players would prefer 1-No Trump as a response by that North hand, despite the four spades and the lone diamond stopper, because of the even distribution and the desire to have kings led up to instead of through, but that is not the main point here. It arose immediately upon West leading the diamond Q.

The declarer let that run to his A, then used the spade K to knock out the A, and the diamond 9 came back. On went the dummy's

K, and East ruffed with the spade 8. It is now easy to see that the declarer also had to lose the third round trick in diamonds and one trick in hearts, so he was down one.

If he had realized that West might have a six-card diamond suit, and East therefore a singleton, he should have taken the first trick in the dummy with the diamond K. Then, when West got in with the trump A and led a second diamond, he would have put on a small card from dummy, to be ruffed by East. After that, he would of course play low from his own hand, and so would have lost only two spot cards to the ruff.

This would have enabled him to use his A later for a diamond trick, so that he would have taken two diamond tricks instead of one, and so would have made his contract.

Wants Collins Elected to Hall of Fame

NEW YORK, Jan. 12 (AP)—Although baseball's hall of fame at Cooperstown has enshrined 26 of the game's immortals, it still lacks a third baseman.

Bob Stedler, veteran sports editor of the Buffalo (N.Y.) Evening News, opened a formal campaign this week to bring about the election of his fellow townman, James J. Collins, famous third baseman of the 1890's and early 1900's.

Cottonwood Park a "Natural Gem" Says Hinitz in Parks Report; City Parks Improved During 1942

Development of Nelson parks and boulevards was described by Ald. H. H. Hinitz, 1942 Parks Chairman, in a report to the City Council which emphasized the increase of stock on hand, improvement of planting practice, and prospects for development in 1943.

An interim report on the City Cemetery attached to Alderman Hinitz's report emphasized the improvement in the Park entrance and detailed plantings and so on.

"I think we had a good floral display in the Park gardens, they have been commented on favorably by the public in general. The upkeep of lawns, paths, etc., was satisfactory. Mrs. T. E. Homersham and Mrs. May defeated Mrs. Charles Norris. The tourney continues Thursday and Friday. The draws follow:

"We have secured stocks of plants and shrubs which we never had before. These are in the little greenhouse but the majority is in a newly prepared nursery outside. I would say that about 75 per cent of the list is newly acquired stock. We are indebted to S. G. Blaylock, E. Hamer, the City of Kamloops and the Experimental Farm at West Summerland for these additions.

"I would also like to call to your attention the value of these additions, if we had purchased them in

POSSIBILITIES AT GYRO PARK

"Gyro Park was also very popular Monday evening, he showed that the value of the buildings and contents . . . which fires had occurred in Ross-land during 1942 was approximately $54,800, and that the loss sustained
