15,000 HUNS DIE AS DRIVE TURNED BACK

MEXICO CABINET TO CALL SESSION TO DECLARE WAR

Reprisal for Sinking of Ships, Failure to Take Note

EVEN DIE AS TANKER IS SUNK

MEXICO CITY, May 22 (AP).—The Mexican Cabinet decided tonight to call a special session of Congress to declare war on the Axis.

The decision was taken as a reprisal for the sinking of two Mexican ships by Axis submarines operating in the Caribbean and after the refusal of the Governments of Germany, Italy and Japan to receive a Mexican note asking for "complete satisfaction" for the sinkings.

A statement isuesd after the Cabinet meeting said President Avila Camacho would ask the permanent commission of Congress to call the full body into a special session "so that in our own constitutional way we may dictate the law authorizing the President to declare that a state of war exists with the countries of the Axis."

A declaration of war on the triple Axis powers will be the first formally declared in Mexico's history.

The Government already had moved to block the escape of Axis agents here after the torpedo sinking of the tanker Potreror Del Llano off Miami and the Faja de Oro off Cuba.

An announcement said the 6087-ton tanker Faja de Oro was sunk off Cuba and that seven Mexican sailors perished. The Axis Governments had just rejected a Mexican protest over the sinking May 13 of the tanker Potrero Del Llano.

Propose 10 U.S. Gov't. Leaders Go to Britain to Discuss War

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—Congressional leaders had under consideration tonight a proposal that a bi-partisan group of 10 Senators and Representatives be chosen to confer in Great Britain with Parliament Members on the conduct of war and plans for the subsequent peace.

Proposals for such a visit were reported to have been advanced tentatively and informally by a Representative of the British Government in a secret meeting with Republican and Democratic Leaders of both Houses at the Capital late in the day.

As outlined at this Conference, the plan was reported to call for the selection of five Democrats and five Republicans, including the top ranking Members of the House of Representatives and Senate, to make a trip to Great Britain in July as the guests of Parliament.

While it was stressed that no formal invitation of this nature had been issued or would be issued until there was a certainty of acceptance, the British Representative was said to have made it clear that Parliament Leaders are anxious to hold such o conference.

Informed persons said that if the trip was made, one of the chief objectives would be to bring about a meeting of British and American legislative minds on the problems likely to confront the two countries at the peace table, as well as current questions involved in the conduct of the war.

In this connection, some of those who attended today's conference were said to have pointed out that while the executive departments of the two nations will be charged with the responsibility of writing the peace terms when the time comes, no peace treaty can become effective as far ts the United S'ates is concerned until it is ratified by two-thirds of the Senate.

Chinese Hurl Back Sea-borne Japs; Slaughter Is Great

Annihilate Over Half of Force; Take Huge Stores

By SPENCER MOOSA
Associated Press Staff Writer

CHUNGKING, May 23 (Saturday)—(AP.)—Chinese troops have anihilated more than half of a sea-borne Japanese invasion force which landed on Chuanshih Island, at the mouth of the Min River East of Foochow on the Fukien coast, and the remainder of the enemy has been sent reeling back to their ships, the Chinese announced today.

The high command communique failed to saw how many enemy troops were involved but some reports said the Japanese had hurled as many as 25,000 men into their drive against Foochow, capital and chief seaport of Fukien.

Chinese shore batteries slaughtered the invaders who swarmed on the island yesterday morning under protection of a barrage from Japanese ships standing offshore, the Chinese announcement said.

In the headlong dash back to their ships, the Japanese were declared to have left huge stores of equipment which the Chinese captured.

Chinese batteries exchanging fire with the enemy warships offshore likewise repulsed an attempted landing on the North bank of the Minn, a Chinese communique said. While listing these specific successes, the Chinese did not claim that they had smashed what appeared to be a determined Japanese thrust upon Foochow itself.

Earlier reports of the operations in the Foochow area had said that the Japanese gained a foothold at Changmen, East of the provincial capital, landing 25,000 troops after an all-night bombardment from 10 warships but subsequently had been driven back to their ships.

In neighboring Chekiang province, North of Fukien, the Chinese said a Japanese column occupied Tunglu, 35 miles Southwest of Hangchow, and continued Westward in an attempt to outflank Kinhwa, provisional capital of Chekiang and gateway to Kiangsi province and central China.

Waves of Troops, chutists Hurled At Russian Wall

Diversion Tactics Attempted by Tanks Fail Say Russ; Many Prisoners Taken; Repel 11 Hun Attacks

By HENRY C. CASSIDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, May 23 (Saturday) (CP) — The Russian Army, battling fiercely through the 11th day of Marshal Timoshenko's offensive in the Kharkov area, claimed tonight to have killed more than 15,000 Germans in hurling back Nazi attacks in the last three days.

(A BBC broadcast, heard in New York, said the Germans are "throwing in masses of airborne troops," in an attempt to turn the tide of battle. The broadcast, quoting the Moscow Radio and the Army Newspaper Red Star, said the German troops are being wiped out as fast as they parachute to earth.

("The Germans are fighting stubbornly and are counter-attacking and even launching offensives," the broadcast quoted from Red Star. "It is proving a costly business for the Germans.")

The communique said Russian resistance is continuing on the Eastern part of the Kerch Peninsula.

As a gauge of the ferocity of the fight and its huge slaughter, the midnight communique said that the 15,000 Nazis had been killed on a single flank of the Kharkov front—the Izyum Barvenkovo sector where wave after wave of Hitler's shock battalions were thrown against the Red army.

In one sector of that Southern end of the conflict the Russians said they repelled 11 Nazi attacks in a single day. The receding Nazi waves finally left 3000 dead on the field in one area in one day along with heaps of battered tanks.

Choking dust hovered over the hot Ukranian plains as each side resorted to every military trick learned in a campaign which has had few equals in history.

The supplementary communique telling of attempted German flanking operations also said that Red airmen destroyed or damaged 85 Nazi tanks at various points along the front during Thursday. The Russians also claimed the recapture of another populated place far to the Northwest on the Kalinin front.

The general picture drawn from Soviet accounts was of inconclusive fighting in some areas and Soviet advances in 6thers. In one undesignated sector, said the afternoon communique, Russian troops broke into a town "on the heels of the retreating enemy."

NEW TACTICS

German counter-attacks employed a new tactic by which two small tank forces were sent forward to divert Soviet attention while a third and much stronger force sought to break into the Russian flanks.

Mjlitary dispatches reported Soviet anticipation had destroyed the element of surprise, and that all such assaults failed.

The capture of a sharply increasing number of German prisoners was reported and the Communist newspaper Pravda declared that all lunge had been wholly unexpected had testified that Timoshenko's by the German command.

The Weather

Following the season's hottest day Thursday, with a high of 78 degrees, Nelson had the warmest night of the season, with 49 degrees the lowest point reached by the mercury during the 24 hours ending Friday at 5 p.m. The warm weather no doubt had something to do with bringing on a weather break, and the all-night rain measured .26 inch. ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia, May 23 (Saturday) (CP)—Allied bombers crippled two Japanese planes, and badly damaged six other bombers in two swift strokes against the enemy's invasion bases at Rabaul, New Britain, and Lae, New Guinea, it was announced today.

"I'll Switch on Every Light and Go Outside to See How It Looks" Pen Friend Writes Nelson Institute

"Let me express my thanks and the thanks of all our members for your W.I.'s very generous gift." writes Mrs. E. Benson of Durham, England, pen friend of the Nelson Women's Institute, when she thnaked the institute for the box of cake and various foodstuffs it sent.

Mrs. W. Postlethwaite, secretary read the letter to the meeting Friday afternoon.

"I opened it at the meeting and it is quite impossible for me to tell you how very thrilled and touched we all were at your generosity and thoughtfulness. We do appreciate your kindness, please convey our sincere thanks to all your members. Everything is in perfect condition, the fruit cake looks marvellous.

WHEN BLACKOUT IS OVER

"How you must hate the blackout after so much light. The first thing I'll do when the blackout restrictions are lifted will be to switch on every light and go outside to see how it looks.

"It has just been announced that coal, gas and electricity are to be rationed, also the clothing ration is to be cut by a quarter. That means that we will only have 60 coupons for a period of 14 months. We won't be able to have many new things. It takes 18 coupons for a coat, five for shoes.

URGE TO SPLURGE

"I have only used 29 coupons since last May. I've tried making do with what I had, but oh, how I do sometimes long to splash some money about and have a brand new outfit! Then I think of our boys who have to go out to sea and fetch things for us and I think I'll do without for a little longer.

"I suppose by now you are rationed for more things still, I don't think you will ever be as bad as we are. This is how we pay for living on an island. But we have thanked God very often that we did live on one, because I am convinced that our country would have been overrun by the Germans long before this had be not been divided from the continent by what we often call 'the Duck Pond'. I do hope that the Japs never start bombing you. They are horrid little yellow devils."

Speaking of the R.A.F., Mrs. Benson said: "Boys don't think of the danger, to them it is a great adventure, and whatever would we have done without our wonderful boys in the R.A.F. Somebody has to be brave and daring!

"It is wonderful the way you people are helping us over here. The quilts you are making for the Red Cross will be very acceptable gifts. Durham quilts are quite famous; Durham miners' wives made quilts for the Queen.

"I hope this leter has the luck of my others and arrives safely in Nelson."

During the business meeting the Institute voted that it was not convenient to have a proposed conference in Nelson.

A vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. H. B. Penny, who took over the last meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. F. E. Wheeler.

The Institute Tad Day is scheduled for August 29.

TO REPORT ON PRICES

Following a dscussion of price control, Mrs. A. Shreives volunteered to send in the reports of the women on prices, as had been requested by the Wartime Prices and Trades Board.

A brief and very interesting talk was given by Miss Constance Sanky, who left England in 1938 and came to Montreal, but immediately sailed for Jamaica to spend the Winter. In her travels she visited South Africa and Egypt, and arrived at Canada after visiting California. When asked by Mrs. Wheeler how she liked Canada, she said: "We haven't seen a great deal of Canada we have been to Banff, Jasper and Calgary, but so far I like Nelson best".

Mrs. Hector Mackenzie gave the treasurer's report, Mrs. W. H. Jasper gave the Baby Clinic report in Mrs. T. B. Tallyn's absence; Mrs. Penny, the report for the ways and means committee.

A vote of thanks was given Mrs. R. Keffer and Mrs. Penny for their valuable work during the tea and bake sale.

Trail Check for $48,000 Will Go in Mail Saturday for Red Cross

TRAIL, B. C., May 2—The sum of $9122.09 has been taken in by the air crews in the bombing of the citizens on behalf of the Red Cross by the Patriotic and Welfare Society, up to 8 p.m. Some 1009 direct hits have been made out of a total bomb load of 2139.

A check for $48,000 will be forwarded to the Red Cross in Vancouver from the Trail District Patriotic and Welfare Society Saturday, which includes $36,000 from the membership drive and Society funds, and $10,000 from the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company. The quota for this district was set at $35,000.

Flight I has covered its entire area, and other flights range from 70 to 90 per cent. Flights G, A and F are leading the amount of vital material captured, and competition is very keen in connection with flight and individual awards.

Each member of the winning flight will be rewarded with 12 theatre tickets and the member of any air crew with the highest ratio of direct hits will be decorated with a five dollar credit note on a local jewellery store. Awards will be presented by Air Marshal Frank Sharpe at a meeting of all members of all flights in the Salvation Army Hall Tuesday at 7 p.m.

A vote of thanks and appreciation was tendered to the personnel of operational headquarters and air crews for management and results of the bombing attack on the area from May 11 to date, at a meeting of the directors of the Patriotic Society Friday in the Masonic Temple.

It is important that all bombing reports be turned in to operational headquarters before 8 p.m. Saturday.

Car Headlights Worst Offenders In Blackout; Thain Says Citizens, Business Houses, A.R.P. Excellent

Car drivers were the worse offenders in the blackout in Nelson Wednesday night. A report directed to Mayor N. C. Stibbs, Chairman of the Nelson Civilian Protection Committee, by Chief Warden H. E. Thain sets this out and adds:

"Though only seven instances of attempting to drive with open lights were reported, many apparently were woefully ignorant as to regulations regarding screening of auto lights; and in their own interests it is to be hoped that these good folk will lose no time in learning what the law requires of them."

There were a number of instances of headlights being improperly hooded through shields being put on upside down, and through the slot in the hoods being too large or incorrectly placed.

The code message from the Coast ordering the blackout was received at 2201 and immediately was sent out by telephone, "Thanks to priority service and trojan-like efforts of the staff at our local exchange, the C.P.R. siren centre and other 'key points', including CKLN and the Civic Theatre, were all advised by 2206 with the exception of Longbeach," the last point was contacted almost immediately afterward.

87 PER CENT TURNOUT

"District wardens or their deputies were all at their respective headquarters in a remarkably short space of time," Chief Warden Thain continued. Complete reports showed 87 per cent of all registered personnel was on duty.

He reported individual reports revealed a "fairly large number of residential lighting defects" which were quickly remedied. "Wardens' reports indicate without exception a ready and willing cooperation on the part of householders."

Pedestrians on the streets were fewer. Children with bicycles "were something of a nuisance and if necessary steps will be taken in the future to keep them off the streets while a blackout is in progress."

Business houses "were excellent." The extensive C.P.R. shops, sheds and so on "did a wonderful job." Postoffice, Court House and other public buildings and essential services, with one exception, "were splendid." In the case of the single exception remedial measures are being sought.

WARNING HELPED

The Chief Warden expressed the opinion the advance warning made possible a better result than could be expected if an alarm were sounded without warning, and said: "For my own part, I would welcome a real test without pre-warning of any kind—the possible state of chaos resulting would be more education."

He concluded:

"All things considered, the citizens of Nelson are to be congratulated, and I personally am truly gratified at the excellent performance of our ARP organization. Without exception they were great, and in every instance the work of the District Wardens showed evidence 'perfect control.'"

CRANBROOK

CRANBROOK, B.C.—Miss Helen Mae, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Gilroy of Cranbrook became the bride of William Leonard, son of Pte. and Mrs. E. G. Davis of Riondel, at a pretty ceremony in the United Church. Rev. S. T. Galbraith of Kimberley was officiating clergyman and groomsman was W. Beynon of Kimberley.

The bride wore a blue redingote with three-quarter sleeves, slash pockets and quilited panels on the bodice. Her hat was beige with flowers and a veil in tone. She wore beige shoes and her flowers were pink roses and lily of the valley. She was given in marriage by her father and her attendant was Mrs. W. Beynon who chose a grey redingote, with lace collar and cuffs, a black pill box hat trimmed with chin-length veil and small white flowers, her gloves were grey and her shoes black. Her flowers were sweet peas and lily of the valley.

The church was decorated with mauve and white lilacs and tulips and T. S. Beynon played the organ. During the signing of the register, Miss Jean Glendenning sang "Because."

A reception followed the ceremony and was held at the home of the bride on Armstrong Avenue where the guests were received by the wedding couple, their attendants, Mr. and Mrs. Gilroy and Mrs. Davis. The wedding table was set with a three-tiered wedding cake banked in pink tulle and was flanked by vases of lily of the valley and pink and white tapers. Mrs. W. D. Gilroy wore a dusky blue dress with beige accessories and beige hat and Mrs. E. G. Davis wore a royal blue velvet with matching hat and white gloves.

For the wedding trip to Riondel on Kootenay Lake, the bride wore a turquoise flowered dress, turquoise hat with shoulder length blue veil and gloves in tone. Her bag was a black envelope style.

The young couple will reside in Castlegar.

Miss Joyce Wilton was a tea hostess Saturday and Sunday afternoons. Tea was served from the dining room which looked very pretty with a table set with a lace cloth centred by a bowl of tulips. Mrs. Wilton poured tea Saturday afternoon and Miss Helen MacDonald assisted Miss Wilton in the serving. Sunday afternoon Miss Johnstone poured tea and invited guests were Miss Eileen Johnstone, Miss Helen MacDonald, Miss Eleanor McKowan, Miss Nan McLeary, Miss Betty McLeary, Miss Catherine Fergie, Miss Jean MacDonald, Miss Isobel MacDonald. Miss Joan Bowley, Miss Helen Scott, Miss Dorothy Leonard, Miss Marylin Patmore, Miss Sue Harrison and Miss Norma Spence.

Kaslo, S. Slocan Focal Points for Holiday Fun

Kaslo and South Slocan will hold the spotlight in District Victoria Day celebrations.

Victoria Day has always been "the day" for the Cherry City, and Monday will see the 50th annual celebration marked. The Bonnington and South Slocan Women's Institute will stage its annual sports day.

The long holiday with schools, stores, and most offices closing on Monday will probably see holiday makers from throughout the District at these two centres. Fishing will likely draw many but the usual weekend motor trips of many will have gone.

Traditionally, the Lakeside Park bathing season starts on the 24th. Caretaker J. E. Bedford will have the dressing rooms open for bathers if the weather is favorable.

Prince Eugen Runs Through Blockade

LONDON, May 22 (CP). — The damaged German cruiser Prinz Eugen has arrived at Kiel, it was learned today.

The Air Ministry announced four days ago that British planes had scored two definite torpedo hits and one probably hit on the 10,000-ton cruiser off Southern Norway the night of May 17.

Arrival at Kiel, big German naval base, indicates that for the second time the cruiser had run a sea blockade to a German port. The vessel was with the battleships Scharnhorst and Gneisenau in the dash through the English Channel from Brest.

The Scharnhorst is reported also at Kiel, undergoing repairs, as is the 6000-ton cruiser Nuremberg.

German warships believed still at Trondheim include the 35,000-ton battleship Tirpitz, sister ship of the Bismarck, the Hipper, sister ship of the Prinz Eugen, and the 10,000-ton pocket battleship Luetzow.

The battleship Gneisenau is at a Baltic port and the cruiser Seidlitz is at Bremen.

The aircraft carrier Graf Zeppelin, now understood to be completed, is also in the Baltic.

(Previous advices, however, have said the Graf Zeppelin is only 80 per cent completed.)

Warns Foreign GAgents Land on Maine Coast

AUGUSTA, Me., May 22 (AP). — Francis H. Farnum, State Director of Civilian Defence, said today that "accurate information is in the possession of police and Army authorities to show that foreign agents have recently been landed on the coast of Maine."

"Others have come into the state over the Canadian border or from other parts of the United States," Farnum said.

"Sometimes a special agent is sent to this country to perform some single task," Farnum added. "He is the pinch hitter, or the hit and run worker. Once his assignment is completed he tries to make his way back to his native land or to join other spies in this country."

Farnum warned that it was "entirely possible that the enemy may attempt to land parachutists or other air-borne troops in Maine" and added that "an attempt may even be made to organize bands of fifth columnists."

Blame Confusion of Command for Normandie Fire

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—The United States Senate Naval Committe has prepared a tentative report holding confusion of command partly responsible for the Normandie fire and recommending creation of an office of Inspector General of the Navy to prevent any future mixups.

Carelessness, poor supervision and lack of precautions also contributed to the fire and capsizing of the Normandie, said the report now awaiting final Committee approval. It said that while sabotage played no part in the incident, there was a lack of adequate safeguards against subversive activity.

The Senate Committee said the direct cause of the fire was carelessness in the use of an oxy-acetylene torch and attributed its quick spread to the disorder resulting from the rush nature of the conversion.

Patrols were active along the entire front, while in air fighting over the desert one German Messerschmitt fighter was shot down. In night operations British bombers attacked Bengasi, major Axis supply port, and the enemy airport at Martuba.

Headquarters reported German pressure on Malta had eased somewhat. Of the few Axis planes that appeared over the island, one German Messerschmitt was shot down.

No British planes were lost throughout the Middle East in the 24 hours under review.

OTTAWA, May 22 (CP). — The Mines and Resources Department announced today that it has assigned 28 geological parties to undertake field work this year in Canada, the Northwest Territories and the Yukon.

One party will operate in Yukon, two in the Northwest Territories, nine in British Columbia, four in Alberta, one in Manitoba, eight in Ontario and Quebec, one in New Brunswick and two in Nova Scotia.

This will complete for the present registration of the country's manpower for both fighting and non-combatant war duty and will be the fifth registration under existing law.

Young men 18 and 19 years of age who will register June 30 will not be subject to the military draft until they reach the age of 20.

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP).—Attorney General Francis Biddle today ordered the United States Attorney at Detroit to seek an indictment for treason against Max Stephan, Detroit restaurant operator, for allegedly aiding Peter Kruo, a German Air Force Lieutenant, after the latter's escape from a war prisoners' internment camp in Canada.

Form Committee for Workers and Employers

OTTAWA, May 22 (CP)—Organization of a Consultative Committee which will give both employers and workers an opportunity to confer with the Labor Minister on matters of policy has been completed, Labor Minister Mitchell told The Canadian Press today.

"The Committee is comprised of representatives nominated by trade union and employer organizations," Mr. Mitchell said.

"We will confer with the labor and Employer panels of the Committee separately or jointly as the matters under consideration may require.

"Members of the Committee will be expected to exchange opinions freely, frankly and informally."

Big Corporations Blamed for Steel 'Failure'

CLEVELAND, May 22 (AP).—"A few giant steel corporations" are blamed by the United Steelworkers of America for the industry's "failures" to expand production, and for an inadequate flow of steel products for ships. It also charges they are "strangling smaller firms to death."

The C.I.O. union in its constitutional convention adopted a resolution on "indequacy of steel capacity" demanding the United States Congress investigate "the work of the so-called Steel Expansion Commitee of the War Production Board," which it asserted "has sabotaged the order to expand steel ingot capacity immediately by 10,000,000 tons."

A congressional inquiry also was asked of "the systematic manner in which giant steel corporations are eliminating and also bind the smller stel firms" from "the viewpoint of impeding vital steel war production" through industrial concentration.

Busy Women Find Time to Do Their Exercises

By IDA JEAN KAIN

They were saying we had become so dependent on machinery we couldn't even bend down and tie our shoelaces. But we are learning to do without the things that made life soft even faster than the manufacturers can stop making them.

Women who hadn't walked around the block for five years are now swinging gaily along to market every morning. And, since their maids have skipped over to defence where ther's more money as well as more freedom, the housewives are patriotically doing their own work.

They are finding out you never know how much you can get done until you have tried. You can get around faster, do more, and look and feel better.

You can even find time—as you never have before—to do your calisthenics. In fact, a good percentage of the women's civilian defence units insist that you attend classes in exercise twice a week. Exercise is getting to be part of war work. Like knitting.

For the times you can't attend the class workouts, you need a few simple exercises that will pull you and your figure out of the doldrums.

Get down on the floor on your hands and knees and raise alternate legs backward, stretching the leg out straight and raising it high in air. Tense the hip muscles and pull up and in with the abdominal muscles while doing this exercise. Repeat 10 times.

Plant Tomatoes Fairly Deep

By DEAN HALLIDAY

Many gardeners prefer to purchase their tomato plants rather than raise them from seed. Now that all danger of frost is over they can be planted out in the vegetable garden.

Tomato plants should be set fairly deep. Sturdy plants, six to ten inches in height, should be planted about two inches deeper than they were growing.

Sturdy tomato plants in victory garden

As illustrated in the Garden-Graph, when the plants are long and spindling as some varieties grow it is advisable to make a trench about six inches long and bury a part of the stem with the roots. This results in stockier plants as roots grow out all along the part of the stem in the soil, giving the plant additional strength.

Keep tomato plants under shallow cultivation, so as not to disturb the roots. When the weather becomes really hot, discontinue cultivation and apply a two-inch mulch of straw, hay, dry leaves or grass clippings.

In the morning Kurt served them coffee, bacon and eggs.

He watched them eat with great interest. "You have good appetites. And a good appetite, well satisfied, should put one in a pleasant mood."

Neil pushed his plate aside. "Okay, snake eyes. What's the deal?"

Kurt's gaze was cold. "The deal, as you put it, is quite simple—and as dealer I will call the game. My lovely one here refused to cooperate in the spirit I expected. Now it will be a little more difficult."

He dragged his chair up closer and straddled it from the rear, leaning over the back. "No longer can I let sentiment interfere with my work. At this moment Mr. Burton Whitworth is in possession of our proposition for a trade—his concrete formula for Miss Glendon."

"I don't get it," Neil blurted.

"You are naive. You force me to add . . . for Miss Glendon's life."

"You wouldn't dare," Neil said, out even as he was saying it he read the look in Wilhelm's eyes and he knew he was wrong.

"No? We shall see. Whitworth has just 4 hours to deliver. But I shall give him every opportunity to see that we are not fooling. If there are no favorable results you shall precede her, my dear Mr. Lundquist, as an indication of our mood."

"You are a fool, Kurt," Molla said. "Mr. Whitworth will never do it. Never. I will not let him."

Kurt smiled. "Yes he will. You do not know the Americans. Their hearts bleed easily. Thus will Mr. Whitworth's bleed when he finds his precious Mr. Lundquist deposited on his step in a large sack, quite, quite dead."

Molla shuddered as the picture flashed into her mind. There was no mistaking Kurt's cold, matter-of-fact manner of speech.

She looked over at Neil. His face was a mask, expressionless, unrevealing. She marveled at his composure. Surely, he must realize, too, that Wilhelm was deadly in earnest, that he would stop at nothing.

"Kurt," said Molla, "I believe I can give you the formula."

Neil's head jerked in surprise.

"Indeed," Kurt murmured.

"If there must be a traitor I would prefer it were me and not Burton Whitworth," Molla said. "By mistake I made several carbon copies of the formula. I do not remember the equations, but I know the ingredients. That should suffice the brilliant minds to whom you have sold your soul."

"Molla!" Neil shouted. "Shut up! You don't know what your saying."

Kurt walked over casually and slapped Neil across the face with his flat hand. For a split second Neil looked as though he would explode off his chair, but Otto stepped forward menacingly, his hand in his pocket.

"You are not a gentleman, else you would not tell a lady to shut up," Kurt said mildly.

"And if she tells you what you want to know she isn't a lady," Neil grated.

Molla turned pleading eyes on him. "It is better this way," she said.

"Neil's lips drew to a thin, straight line. "Give me some paper and a pencil," she said to Kurt.

He produced the paper and she started writing. Neil cursed savagely aloud and Kurt smiled amusedly at him.

Molla finished writing and handed the paper to Kurt. He studied it for a moment, his hand carressing his chin. "It isn't for me to say whether this may be correct, so, even though I appreciate your gesture, we shall still await word from Whitworth."

Molla tried to catch Neil's eye.

Molla tried to catch Neil's eye, but he looked away from her, staring out the window. Even from his profile she could notice the bitterness of his expression. She knew she would have little difficulty later on convincing him she hadn't given Kurt the right formula, but until then hre would despise and hate her.

Suddenly one of Kurt's men burst into the house and loosed a torrent of German. Wilhelm cursed and sprang to his feet. Then he went to the window.

Molla's hopes leaped. She understood German. Someone had followed them. The house was being watched right then.

Kurt turned and faced them. "So," he said. "Someone followed us here. It will do them no good."

Kurt drew his gun from his pocket and held it in his hand loosely. He opened a door which presumably led to a cellar.

"Down here," he ordered. "Sorry we will not be here to entertain your stupid police."

Shock . . .

How the Child Acquires Fears

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH.D.

The baby practically from birth responds in a rather definite way to shock. We do not know how he feels, but we know he acts much as adults do when they are frightened. After a day or two he makes a similar response to loud and sudden sounds.

He is not by nature fearful of a thunder clap, of the dark, or of strange things or animals. Later he may be. He may learn by accident or from suggestions made by older persons. If, particularly when he is alone, there is a sudden noise like a clap of thunder, it may greatly shock him, causing him thereafter to be very fearful of such sounds.

ELDERS TO BLAME

A worm, or bug, or snake, or dog, or rabbit may be very fascinating to him; but its quick movement, or some shocking sound associated with it, or the frightened behavior of an older person, may arouse strong fears in the child.

The child of three or older, with a keen imagination, may become afraid of the things he thinks he sees or hears in the dark. If then he asks to have the light on in the hall with the door ajar, accede to his wishes, without remark about his fears. Gradually you can decrease the light and reduce the width the door is open until it can, by and by, be closed.

SOLVING PARENT PROBLEMS

Q. My 15-year-old boy sometimes in a rage will use abusive language.

A. No use to say or do anything then. Wait until he and you are wholly serene and feel comfortable. Then quietly ask him if he would not like to try to control himself better next time he feels anger coming on him. Your love at times between might prove very eloquent and persuasive. The next time he shows improvement under a trying ordeal, compliment him.

A Case of Too Much Mother-In-Law

BY BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I'm 19 years old, and six months ago I married a man of 36, an only child, whose parents had just bought a home. At their suggestion we went to live with them.

After three months, I couldn't stand it any longer. His father was quiet, but oh, his mother! I did the housework and she did the cooking, but everything that went wrong was my fault. Finally, after a quarrel, we went to my mother's house. She rented us a room until we could get on our feet and live alone. When I went back to get my clothes, my mother-in-law started to throw a heavy bowl at me.

We were paying $50 a month, besides helping with all the work. Now my husband tells me my mother-in-law wants us to come back again. I can't understand him, because he said he'd never go back there to live, and we were saving for a little home of our own. I love him very much and don't want to lose him, but his parents are turning him against me.

Should I go back and suffer, or shall I find a job and try to forget all of them?

VERY WORRIED

I've been accused at times of being too much of a partisan for mothers-in-law, as I've known so many of them who were really angels and kept their sons' and daughters' marriages from breaking in those first trying years.

But you seem to have drawn a different type, and in your place I would insist on having my own home, away from the mother-in-law. A room and bath, without contention can be "Paradise enow."

Antiseptic : . .

Nose Secretions Kill Flu Germs

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

The best antiseptic that you can put in your nose to kill off the germs of influenza is put there by Nature itself, and is formed by the secretions of the cells that line the nose.

This was the announcement made by Dr. Thomas Francis, Jr.

He collected nasal discharges from a number of people and found that they contained a substance, which in test tubes neutralized Type "A" influenza virus within an hour.

Not only do the cells lining the nose produce antiseptic secretions, but also a number of them have little hair-like propections (cilia) which have constant wave-like motions. The direction of these movements is toward the outside, and especially in cold weather they keep a constant movement of liquid and mucous going toward the outside.

MORE HARM THAN GOOD

Nearly all the substances which are used for nasal sprays, provided your nose is in a good state of health, do more harm than good. Drs. Walsh and Cannon, in an article called "The Problems of Intranasal Medication," concluded the only safe medicaments for the healthy nose are weak solutions of salt water, or in the case of an established infection, weak solutions of drugs that constrict the vessels of the nose such as epinephrine and ephedrine.

Hints for Housewives

A little trick in reheating roast meat which is left over from the previous day is with mustard sauce. Mustard sauce is also nice to serve over hot ham loaf. Try making cornstarch pudding with a mild, unsulphured molasses instead of sugar. These are grand days to experiment.

MELON DEW TO OPEN DOORS TODAY

Nelson's Newest Ice Cream Parlor and Lunch Counter

Bright, smart and modern, Nelson's newest ice cream parlor and light lunch counter—the Melon Dew—opens today in the premises formerly occupied by Gray's Confectionery, 580 Baker Street. Jack Wong and Kue Wong two Chinese with residence in Canada ranges of 25 and 17 years respectively have launched the new venture.

Focal points of the Melon Dew are the soda fountain at the front of the establishment, the lunch counter next to it, and the luncheon booths taking up the remainder of the space back to the kitchen.

The large soda fountain, automatically refrigerated, has been given a setting as modern and as smart as the fountain itself. Face and counter have been finished in brown and black composition with chromium trim. At the rear the shelves, filled with shining glassware and bright with fruits, are strikingly modern in design. Veneer has been employed to excellent effect in the modern manner with curved corners and ends. The natural finish of the veneer and its blue trim, and the large central mirror, complete the smart picture.

For the lunch counter the practical black composition top has been employed again. The face of the counter is finished in natural veneer and the shelves at the back are painted a golden cream. Seats are modern leather and chromium.

Immediately opposite the counter are small "tables for two", finished in cream with black trim. The smart modern booths are cream with black trim and have heavy blue leather cushion seats. Up-to-date low partitions distinguish the booths.

The picture is completed by mellow indirect lighting overhead; and bright, cheery floor covering.

At the rear of the booths is a smart rest room.

In the kitchen at the rear furnishings have been reduced to a minimum, and all are bright and new. A gas range is employed.

Jack Wong, who will make the soda fountain his main interest, is experienced in this work. Three years ago he took a course in soda fountain work at Vancouver. In Canada for 25 years, he resided at the Coast until he came to Nelson in 1928.

Kue Wong came to Canada at the age of 11 and went to school at the Coast. He has made a number of return trips to China. Coming to Nelson first in 1930, he left in 1931 for China and returned in 1932. He went to China again in 1936, and came back to Nelson in 1938 to stay.

Nelson Pythians See Africa in Movies

Nelson Lodges of Knights of Pythias and Pythian Sisters met at their Castle Hall, Baker Street Tuesday night to take a journey of 14,000 miles through South Africa by means of a moving picture travelogue shown by A. W. Neil.

They went through deserts and jungles, were entertained at villages by a king who was fully seven feet in height. He appeared in public only twice a year, attired in white robes, his head covered partly by a veil and turban.

The Pythians saw how young men chose their wives—There were 20 or so maidens in line and a young man walked along the line till he found a maiden to his liking, then bargained with the father of the bride as to the number of goats wanted for payment.

Capture of a young elephant by natives led by a white man and taming by means of huge work elephants proved exceedingly interesting.

The pictures showed the journey of three huge cars loaded with gas and lubricants, the latter by the way were tasted by some of the natives. There were no roads in the desert and Lary Thaw, the leader, found his way by using the sextant

Rossland Guides and Brownies Let Parents See

ROSSLAND, B.C., May 22—The Girl Guides and Brownies held a "Parents' Night" Wednesday in the armory, a large number of parents witnessing the display.

The opening ceremony, the singing of the Brownie Song, and the signalling were done by the First Brownie Pack. This was followed by a similar display by the Second Pack.

Senior girls, of the Brownie Group did first aid bandaging. The whole group then engaged in a contest on the Constitution of the Union Jack.

GUIDE DISPLAY

The Girl Guides opened their part of the display with the forming of the horseshoe, bringing in the flag, and singing 'God Save the King."

A mock accident was staged and the guides rendered first aid.

Pamela Topliff delighted the audience with pianoforte numbers.

A demonstration of the various knots and their uses proved interesting. The guide promise was said by the two younger recruits, and then by the whole Company. A sing-song and the saying of the "Taps" finished the Girl Guide display.

Mrs. W. A. MacCabe of South Slocan, the Division Commissioner, gave an address on the aims and objectives of the Guides. She spoke of the great service that was being rendered by the Girl uides in England and Europe at the present time, of how they "were prepared" how they assist with young children during an evacuation. Mrs. MacCabe stated that there was a new badge Guides could earn for War Emergency work. She appealed to the parents to assist their girls in Badge work in their homes.

NEED MOTHERS' HELP

Brownie Leaders are needed in Rossland and Mrs. MacCabe appealed to the mothers to give some of their time to this very necessary work. Realizing many mothers spend all the time possible doing war work, Mrs. MacCabe stated the need for training girls for the future was of importance too.

Refreshments were served. Mrs T. Wood and Mrs. H. Bathie poured. Mrs. A. Snowball and Mrs. Barney Lees were the general conveners. The Girl Guides served.

Cranbrook IODE Reports on War Work Supply

CRANBROOK, B.C.—Members of the Kuskanook Chapter of the I.O.D.E. met in the City Hall, Monday afternoon, with the Regent, Miss Bertha Jenkins in the chair.

After the various reports Mrs. J. Davidson, Convener of the April work group gave a report on the work done by this group which included the following: nine dozen diapers, 18 nighties, nine blankets, nine shirts, 20 binders, 15 pairs pyjamas, 17 skirts, 12 baby sets of sweater, bonnet and booties, nine cards safely pins, nine tins baby powder, nine boxes babies' own soap, nine sweaters for girls, two quilts.

The Regent suggested that the members, during the Summer months, save calico and oil cloth to make flat toys for shipment to England for Christmas toys.

The war report was read by Mrs. Argue, in the absence of Mrs. D. Problems of the Associated Boards of Trade

Kootenay and Boundary Boards of Trade appear to be unanimously in favor of the proposal for a Council of representatives of the five Associated Boards of Trade in British Columbia. Through such a Council would pass matters of Province-wide and Dominion-wide importance. District matters would continue to be disposed of within the various districts of the Associated Boards of Trade.

The idea is good. Crystallization of British Columbia opinion through centralization of discussion, and unity in representations to Victoria and Ottawa on matters of Province-wide importance, should be more effective than separate action by five different organizations.

Also before the Associated Boards of Trade convention which is to be held in Nelson this month is a proposal to divide the Associated Boards of Trade of Eastern British Columbia into two separate organizations.

Instead of centralization as in the case of the proposed Council of British Columbia Associated Boards, the proposal to split up East Kootenay and West Kootenay and Boundary goes in the direction of division and decentralization. It would seem difficult logically to favor both proposals.

The argument that division of the two Kootenays would give the whole Kootenay area two votes in the British Columbia Council is not impressive. Other areas in the Province which are taking part in the proposed Council might get the same idea and play for position in the same way. On any such shaky foundation the B. C. Council could not hope to succeed.

But the practical point to be considered is whether division of East and West Kootenay into two separate Associated Boards of Trade would be good business for Kootenay as a whole. It could hardly be said that two voices from two different parts of Kootenay would be more impressive than the united voice of the whole area. Problems of Kootenay and Boundary as a whole are similar in their nature. Our needs are similar. The public, both within Kootenay and Boundary and outside of it, have quite properly come to regard the district as one entity. Our population is not too great for one Associated Boards of Trade. It would seem rather too small for two.

If it is felt that the present Associated Boards of Trade of Eastern British Columbia has lacked vigor it would hardly seem that division into two weaker organizations would accomplish that end.

Fruitvale Lady Reads Future from Meteor

To the Editor:

Sir—The writer has seen meteors before, but none so awe inspiring as that which appeared like a huge ball of fire, right over Fruitvale about 4:30 a.m. on Saturday. It seemed very low, and shot straight toward Salmo at a great rate, paralleling the road, or it would have done so had the road been straight. It left a thin, straight, shining thread of light showing the course it had travelled. This stayed in the sky for some time after the meteor had disappeared, and seemed like a shining silver surveyor's tape.

It almost seemed as though the heavens had taken pity on the hundreds of men who travel over this road every day to work in the Smelter, and were laying out a course to show where the road should be built. A picture of station wagons packed with weary men returning from work in Spring, their wagons being tossed up and down like small boats on an angry sea, wheels buried to the axles in mud, leaving a deceptive, smooth path where the car bodies trailed along the top of the mud, came to mind. One thought of all the futile petitions signed by those men, to be tossed by some bureaucrat into his waste basket, or buried for ever among dark files; of political meetings broken up by a cursing, angry mob, whose only outlet is first to vote Conservative then they sweep to Liberal, and now to C.C.F., in a vain hope that someone will pity their plight.

The straight, silver tape remained in the sky for some time, but at last even the heavens seemed to realize that no such road would be built within the lives of those wretched men, and that every Spring for them will always be the same, so after a time it wavered before it finally, like the meteor which made it, disappeared.

This must be the same meteor seen by a constable in Nelson and a train crew at Procter.

FARMERETTE.

Fruitvale, B. C., May 19, 1942.

Today's Horoscope

Physical vigor, mental alertness and unusual self-assurance characterize the person who has a birthday today. He or she is an excellent conversationalist, and attracts many friends with a charming personality. In the course of the next year, however, such a one will be perplexed over business, love and domestic affairs. Health of self and relatives will cause anxiety. Guard against deception, and avoid changes. Financial benefits are portended. Many vicissitudes of fortune will be experienced by the child born on this date. Unexpected upheavals and reverses, disappointement in love, and some ill-health are threatened, but some good fortune, probably inheritance, is also shown.

HOROSCOPE FOR SUNDAY

Enthusiasm of effort and intensity of purpose are the keynotes of the character of the person who has a birthday today. He or she has the natural qualities of a leader. Provided this persons avoids speculation in the next 12 months and does not trust business associates and friends too much, unexpected good fortune will be realized. Elders will prove helpful. An analytical turn of mind will be evinced by the child who is born on this date. He or she will be keen and successful in physics, chemistry, hygiene and occult subjects.

Too late, too late!

You made it wait.

Anna Jarvis, usually credited with originating Mother's Day, did not make the suggestion until 1908. As to what is the best mother poem that is difficult to answer. There are so many good ones. The following is an excerpt from my favorite mother poem, which is by Margaret Widdemer:

She always learned to watch for us,
Anxious if we were late,
In the Winter by the window,
In the Summer by the gate.
Her thoughts were all so full of us,
She never could forget!
And so I think that where she is
She must be watching yet!

Air Training to be Under Direction of Combined Committee

OTTAWA, May 22 (CP)—Decision to form a combined committee on air training in North America, to consist of representatives of the United States, the United Kingdom and Canada, was announced at a press conference here today.

A United States representative will be the Chairman of the Committee which is to have headquarters in Washington. The committee may meet elsewhere in the United States or Canada, however, if that seems desirable.

The decision to form the air training committee was reached at the Ottawa Air Training Conference which opened here last Monday. Air Minister Power, Capt. Harold Balfour, British Undersecretary for Air, and Maj.-Gen. Barton K. Yount, Commanding General of the United States Flying Training Command made it public when they met newspapermen after the final conference session.

Function of the committee will be advisory, including:

1. The exchange of information on air training questions;

2. Advice on standardization of training methods;

3. Advice on the measures to be taken to ensure that the most effective use is made of the air training facilities of the United Nations, in North America.

The committee will provide opportunity to representatives of other governments concerned with air training on this continent to appear before it whenever there are questions of interest to those Governments to be discussed.

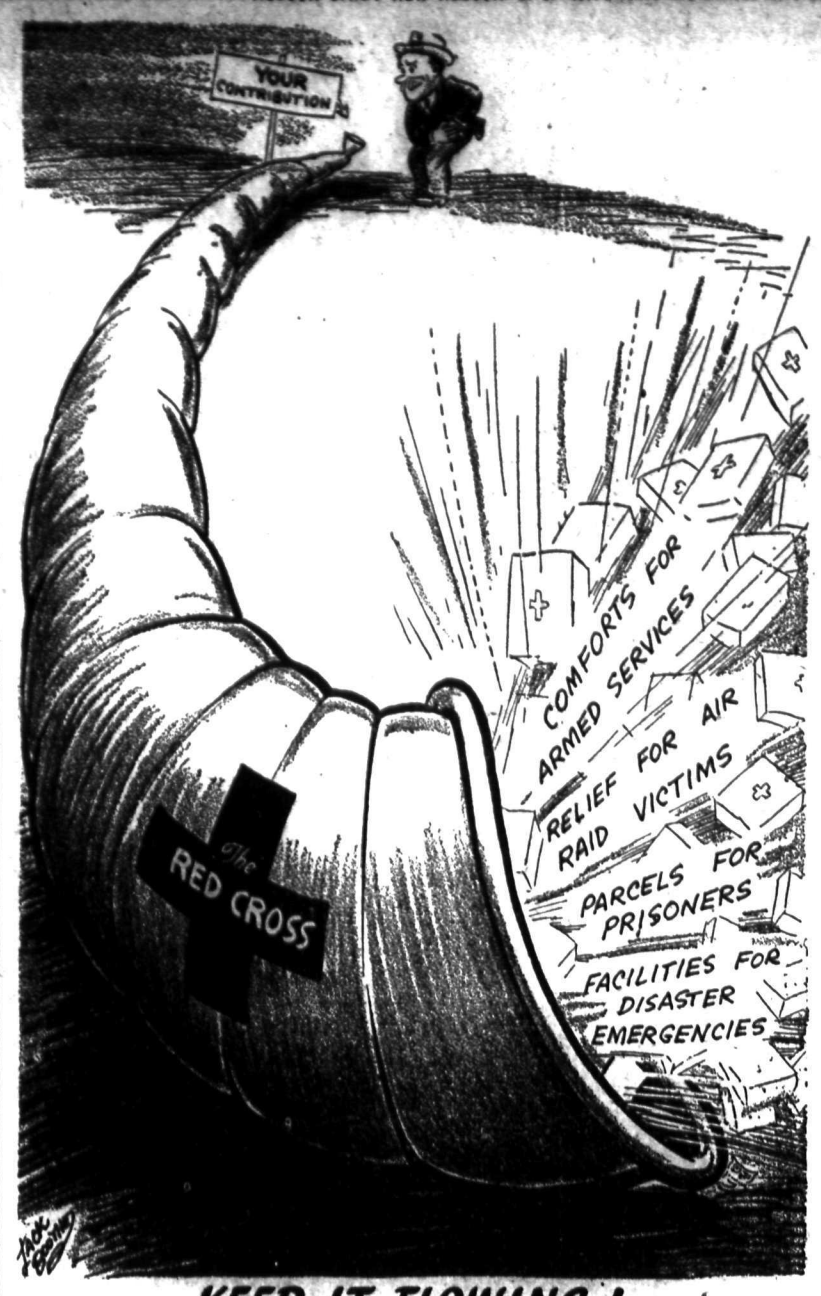
MAY COORDINATE AIR CADET TRAINING

OTTAWA, May 22 (CP).—Coordination of air cadet training activities in Canada and the United States was virtually assured today at the Ottawa Air Training Conference.

United States representatives at the conference obtained full information on the organization and functioning of the Air Cadet League of Canada and proposed to use that information in developing and expanding the Air Training Corps of America, the corresponding organization in the United States engaged in giving pre-flight training to boys between the ages of 16 and 21.

Canadian Air Cadet authorities made available to the United States visitors all their manuals and textbooks. To some extent courses offered in United States for cadets are already patterned on the Candian system. The U. S. Air Training Corps is still a privately sponsored and financed organization, like the Air Cadet League of Canada was in its earliest stages. The Canadian organization now has been incorporated in the Air Force, and American officials see a possibility of a similar development in the United States at a later stage.

The A.T.C.A. enrolment is expected to reach 500,000 by Autumn and 2,000,000 by the end of 1943, American aviation officials said.



DUKE OF WINDSOR HEAD MISSION TO WASH.

NASSAU, The Bahamas, May 21 (CP Cable)—Governor the Duke of Windsor prorogued the Colonial Legislature last night and, as the House now has completed its seven-year life, the Duke will dissolve it by proclamation Tuesday and call a general election. In his prorogation speech the Duke announced he would head a delegation to Washington shortly to discuss, among other subjects, the question of obtaining United States contracts for the islands.

Roosevelt Warns Against Over Optimism

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP).—President Roosevelt reiterated today an opinion that the war would be a long one and cautioned against over-optimism one week and over-pessimism the next.

The war, public opinion and the news go up and down with things that appear big at the moment, he told a press conference, but the more than can be done to prevent this, the better it is for the war effort.

The fluctuations he said, are caused by a tendency toward overstatement on the part of the American people.

It is a great mistake to overstate things, the President declared, adding that he thought the press could help.

"Do you think censorship should pass some bad news?" he was asked.

Yes, he replied, as soon as it does not affect military operations. There is only one reason for withholding bad news, he said, and that is that to release it might create more bad news.

Oh my, yes, he ejaculated in reply to an inquiry as to whether the ship-sinking situation was not still "pretty serious."

No More Aircrew Tieups Says Power

By FRANK FLAHERTY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, May 22 (CP)—With men available to man the planes, the United Nations can be assured there will be no more aircrew bottlenecks, Air Minister Power said today at the end of the Ottawa air training conference at which representatives of 14 nations made a combined survey of their actual and potential aircrew manpower.

The minister, at conference chairman, made known the results of the conference—in-so-far as they can be disclosed—at a joint press conference with Rt. Hon. Harold Balfour, parliamentary undersecretary for air in the British government, and Maj.-Gen. Barton K. Yount, of the United States delegation.

The only concrete agreement announced as reached at the conference was one to set up a combined committee on air training in North America, with headquarters in Washington. Canada, the United States and the United Kingdom will be represented on the committee and other governments engaged in air training in North America such as those of China, Norway and the Netherlands will have the right to appear before it when questions of interests to them are under discussion.

Discussing manpower Maj. Power said there need be no repetition of conditions which existed during the battle of Britain when pilots were required to go up time after time without proper rest because of a shortage of aircrews.

"At the moment we have the men to match the aircraft," he said, "and though we can not tell what the future will bring we hope to have them in the future."

The British and American delegates joined with Maj. Power in expressing satisfaction at the results of the conference after the minister read an official statement approved for publication.

"As flying training is the foundation of flying efficiency there is no doubt that the discussions of this conference will soon produce beneficial results on the air operations of the United Nations," The statement said.

Because of the highly-secret nature of much of the work of the conference, a decision to publish two official reports was reached. One will be public and contain only general descriptive material. The other—secret—will contain the actual detailed conclusions and will be made available to the governments of the nations participating.

"It has been a most successful conference," said Gen. Yount, "If anybody thinks we have been up here getting rid of a few pleasantries he is very much mistaken.

Each nation carrying on its own training would continue to do so and there was no thought of a central aircrew pool for all. Better results could be obtained by each country operating in its own way but in cooperation and in the light of what the other countries were doing.

Capt. Balfour described the combined committee to be set up as a "positive achievement" which would permit of a continuous interchange of vital information and experience.

"I have never been at all frightened that we should not eventually wipe the enemy forces out of the skies," said Capt. Balfour. "If we can do that one day sooner or one week or one month sooner as a result of the conference, so much the better.

"We sometimes start slowly but we usually finish up all right in our united efforts."

A Zurich dispatch quoted Yugoslav circles as saying some Rumanian troops recently joined the Yugoslavs, as well as Croat units which had been sent to fight them and thousands of Bulgarians belonging to the Agrarian Party.

Germans Claim Lone Sub Sank Ships in St. Lawrence River

BERLIN, May 22 (AP)—The German High Command claimed today that German submarines have sunk 20 enemy ships totalling 111,600 tons in the Caribbean and the Gulf of Mexico and three others aggregating 14,000 tons in the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

The sinkings in the St. Lawrence, a communique said, were executed by a single submarine which entered the Gulf "in defiance of the guard of numerous naval and air forces."

Nazis Blame Rail Lines for Breaking Pact

By FRANK O'BRIEN
(Associated Press Staff Writer).

ISTANBUL, May 21 (Delayed)—(AP).—Germany has still failed to deliver important heavy goods pledged Turkey under their seven-month-old trade treaty and Nazi apologists blamed everything today on the fact railway bridges over rivers along the Turkish-Bulgar border were out of commission.

These bridges were destroyed during the Axis conquest of Yugoslavia and Greece last Spring. They now are nearly repaired and Turks said the Germans must produce promised industrial supplies, freight cars, locomotives and war material or admit they cannot.

Drugs and some light by-products of war industries have been shipped, but these German deliveries contrast sharply with British and United States trade with Turkey.

During the past year, despite extended transport systems, Britain continued to move locomotives, freight cars, war equipment, cloth, a destroyer and a submarine to Turkish docks on schedule and, in addition, made unscheduled deliveries of wheat to offset a bad Turkish harvest.

The Turks specified in their October talks with the German trade expert, Dr. Karl Clodius, that no Turkish goods would be released until equivalent supplies arrived from Germany, and only minor items have been shipped North.

Allied economic experts here said it was "verely unlikely" that the German industrial system, burdened by expanding demands for military supplies and rolling stocks, could squeeze out any part of the heavy goods needed by Turkey.

Huns Press Vichy for Consent to Occupy Tunisia

MOSCOW, May 22 (AP)—Tass, Soviet News Agency, said today Germany is pressing the Vichy Government to consent to Axis occupation of Tunisia and "defence" of the French Empire on grounds that Britain and the United States intend to seize the Tunisian ports.

Quoting reports from Vichy via Geneva, the agency said Pierre Laval, Vichy's Chief of Government, is afraid to make the deal lest it cause a negative reaction in France, but that the Germans are threatening to go ahead even without Laval's consent.

Tass said also that German forces now outnumbered Italian in the central Mediterranean, completely dominating all air and sea communications between Italy and North Africa, with the German Command having undivided control over the most strategic points.

German planes and flotillas of small submarines restrict Italian operations, and Italian staff orders are cancelled at German discretion, Tass said.

For example, an Italian plane which was carrying out an assignment contradictory to German instructions was shot down by the Germans over Pantelleria recently, Tass said, and Italian fliers at Marsala were arrested by the Germans for refusing to obey Nazi orders.

Shipbuilding Is Going Ahead at All Time Peak

LONDON, May 22 (CP)—Shipping authorities said today—Maritime Day—that British merchant shipbuilding is proceeding at its all-time peak, due to improved methods of production, advances in salvage and repair, and new ways of mobilizing labor.

Declaring it is clearly realized the battle of the Atlantic can be won only by Herculean efforts of British and North American shipyards, these authorities pointed out.

1. British launchings exceeded 1,500,000 tons in 1941, in addition to large building vessels TOI AO large launching for the Royal Navy.

2. The yards are building vessels of more than 10,000 tons in 100 days from keel to test;

3. A 14,600-ton deadweight oil tanker has been delivered in a day less than eight months from the laying of the keel.

These facts are remarkable, it was said, because warship construction has encroached on what are normally merchantile facilities, and because for seven months each year work has to be carried on in conditions of the winter blackout.

The drafting of women in shipbuilding yards and the sending of officers and seamen through the merchant navy reserve pool to the ship most needing them are regarded as important factors in Britain's ship program.

Increase standardization and prefabrication of parts inland for assembly at coastal yards have helped while salvage reached peaks hitherto unknown. For instance, a 12,000-ton tanker broke in two when mined. The forepart sank and the after part was towed into port. A new forward section, about 200 feet long, was then made and the parts joined. The tanker was rebuilt in two thirds the time required for a new ship and with a saving of 1500 tons of steel.

Limits Placed on Use of Wool by Red Cross Workers

The Red Cross Work Rooms here have received bulletins from headquarters concerning the Wool Allotment: Following are excerpts:

"The National Purchasing Committee, have thoroughly explored all possible resources for our knitting requirements, have submitted to the Women's Work Committee the amount available for the whole of Canada.

"Based upon this information, the situation has been studied and a meticulously planned knitting program has been decided upon.

"Bearing in mind that it is the duty of Red Cross to support the total war program in every detail, you will receive the amount of wool which can be alloted to your Branch and we are attaching a list of the garments which are to be made. No wool can be diverted to any other purpose.

"All quotas have been based upon latest reports of stocks in England, numbers of men on active service at home and abroad, the numbers to be enlisted as isued by the Department of National Defence through the public press, and, most important, the wool which we are certain of getting.

"There are probably still groups who will donate such things as scarves, etc. from wool which they have secured outside Red Cross, and these articles should be gratefully accepted."

The specific list of articles to be knitted from the wool allowed and the local Work Committee are impressing upon their workers the importance of following instructions implicitly. All types of mitts are cancelled for the present time, and gloves, in khaki only, are to be knit. The Work Committee are asking also, that all outstanding work be finished and handed in to them at the earliest possible time.

Ted Williams Joins Navy; Will Be Airman

BOSTON, May 22 (AP).—Ted Williams, slugging outfielder with Boston Red Sox, enlisted in the Navy today in the hope of becoming a flier, but there appeared some chance that he would not be called before the end of the baseball season.

Williams, whose deferment in the draft caused a nation-wide controversy, was sworn in as a seaman second class, and passed mental and physical examinations of the Naval Aviation Cadet Selection Board for training as a pilot.

Lieut. Robert P. Fuller, member of the board, said that Williams asked no postponement of his induction nor would he be granted any, but would be called up in the normal course of procedure.

Fuller explained that the two months or more normally elapsing between the swearing in of candidates and their summons for flight training would give Williams a good chance to get through the present American League season.

"It's okay with me however it works out," Williams said. "I'm ready to go whenever they call me."

Williams said his financial problems are "pretty well" straightened out. He has a dependent mother who is under a doctor's care.

Mauriello Holds Pastor to 10-Round Draw

By SID FEDER

NEW YORK, May 22 (AP)—The fistic upset of the year was chalked up in Madison Square Garden tonight when young Tami Mauriello was given a draw with Bob Pastor in a 10-round thriller, and the verdict put a decided crimp in the carefully laid plans for an early Summer heavyweight title bout between Pastor and Joe Louis. Pastor scaled 183¼; Mauriello 177¾.

After taking the best of Mauriello's Sunday sots through the first three rounds, in one of which he was staggered by a shot on the jaw, Pastor turned on the gas and gave Tami quite a boxing lesson most of the way home, until the ninth and 10th rounds. The nthe two stood toe to toe and slugged it out to the final bell as a noisy, good-sized crowd stood and roared.

Each of the three officials came up with a different verdict. Referee George Walsh scored it five heats for each and called it even. Judge Marty Monroe had five rounds for Pastor, four for the uptown belter and one even. The third judge, Charley Traycott, turned in a surprising card of seven rounds for Mauriello and three even.

Giants Trounce Dodgers 5-1; Sox Beat Tigers

By The Canadian Press

New York Giants throttled Brooklyn Dodgers 5-1 yesterday with an early scoring rush that routed the previously unbeaten Ed Head after four innings.

The rookie right hander, who had won five straight games to lead all National League pitchers, was shelled with a two-run homer by manager Mel Ott in the first inning and another circuit clout by Hank Lieber in the fourth as well as being tapped for two unearned runs in the third.

The Boston Braves put on a four-run rally in the ninth inning in a night game to beat the Phils, 10 to 7, in a see-saw game at Shibe Park. A single by Elmer Klutz with the bases full and the score tied at 7-7 was the deciding blow of the rally.

The Chicago White Sox opened their night season by pounding out 15 hits to defeat the Detroit Tigers, 7-4. Manager Jimmie Dykes was banished from the field in the ninth inning for protesting too furiously a baseline decision by Umpire Bill Grieve.

VERNON STREET CANNONS GO AS WAR SALVAGE

Nelson's two cannons, trophies of 1914-18, are going back to war. The two captured German pieces, that have graced the Cenotaph boulevard for a number of years, were hauled from their Vernon Street bases Friday to join the flow of war scrap from Nelson.

"They'll be going back to Germany—or perhaps to Japan," said a Red Cross official as City trucks towed guns down to the Red Cross Salvage Committee's loading grounds. They will likely be shipped with the next carload of metal scrap.

Sloppy Track, Long Run Facing Plate Favorite

TORONTO, May 22 (CP). — The aura of invincibility Ten to Ace built around himself as a two-year-old will get its first big three-year-old test tomorrow in the 83rd running of the King's Plate.

The distance will be the longest he ever has faced. The track will be sloppy, and he wil be faced by a field that has more determination than clas sbut has enough of each to make it tough. There will be a minimum of seven and a maximum of 11 thoroughbredsin the race—all three-year-olds foaled in Ontario which have not won a race this year. Such are the conditions of the $8,000-adde classic.

Interpreting

The War News

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

London report., credited to a Nazi broadcast, of a Russian breakthrough South of Lake Ilmen lack confirmation, but that region covers so sensitive a junction point for German left flank communications that a Soviet thrust there might be expected.

Russian forces both North and South of the Lake have been within 120 miles or less of the Pskov Gateway for many weeks. It was through that gateway, ust South of the Peipus Lake system on the old Russian-Esthonian frontier, that the German legions crashed last year to lay siege to Lenin grad and overrun Northwestern Russia.

Through Pskov, or close by, pass half a score of railroads and roads from the West and South to fan out North and East.

It is the hub of the communication network upon which the whole German left flank depends, except for the Leningrad-Revel system which passed north of the Peipus Lake barrier, close to the Seacoast. Should Red forces succeed in taking and holding Pskov Nazi forces north of the Faldai Plateau would be in a precarious position.

Russian attacks in the Lake Ilmen region are officially admitted by the Nazis, with the statement that they have been beaten off. The indications are, however, that the Russians have undertaken a new offensive in the Starkya Russa region where they once had a considerable German force trapped, and have made some appreciable progress.

The Russian pressure in the Lake Ilmen region tends to support Stalin's recent assertion that Red armies are being massed for offensive operations all along the huge front.

For immediate Russian purposes, there are three important strategic objectives. Marshal Timoshenko has stabbed deeply toward one of the three, and possibly the most important, in his drive to Krasnograd to reach the Dnieper crossing southwest of Kharkov.

The indicated heavy action south of Lake Ilmen looms as a matched effort in the North to seize the second objective, Pskov Junction. The third is the Smolensk-Vitebsk communication spa.. above the northern bend of the Dnieper. That is the main feeder for the whole German centre, supporting the advance bases still threatening Moscow.

This would seem to indicate the centre as the scene of the next major battle to develop, whether by Russian or German initiative.

West Arm Makes Good Showing in ARP Blackout

LONGBEACH—The seven A.R.P. Units of the Longbeach C. P. Area went into action on Wednesday evening at the receipt of the alarm signal from Western Command. Despite the lack of a co-ordinated and adequate alarm system to warn the whole Area, the response was described as gratifying.

District Wardens took post, First Aid Posts were manned, and Service Group personnel were on call, while Wardens patrolled their districts. The blackout throughout the whole area was, on the whole, most satisfactory, each community having contributed in a most cooperative manner in the effort to make the blackout practice a general success.

The practice blackout proved very welcome to the Chief Warden, and District Wardens, as it enabled them to find out the difficulties and weak spots in the quite large and scattered district covered by Longbeach area, which extends from the North Shore to Coffee Creek, and from Harop to Procter, and has given an opportunity to remedy the difficulties for future occasions.

The officers of the "Nasookin" at Procter were thanked for the help they gave by sounding the ship's whistle, which gave the alarm at the East end of the Arm. As an illustration of the peculiar carrying effects of sound, District Wardens have reported that the alarm whistle could beheard perfectly at Balfour and Procter, but was not heard at Sunshine Bay, Harrop, or Longbeach, yet the Warden on duty at Cedar Point reported that he heard it quite clearly.

In view of the large areas to be covered, the Wardens deserve great credit for the speed and thoroughness with which they made their patrols, and it must give a feeling of security to the residents to know that the work of civilian protection is being done in such a capable manner. It must be realized, too, that it is only by the cooperation of the residents that this high degree of success was reached, said Major Mathisen, Chief Warden.

Flats South of Salmo Flooded by Rising River

Rising rapidly as a result of warm weather and warm rain, the Salmo River is flooding garden flats just South of Salmo. So far the Nelson-Nelway road is not endangered.

Whether the condition would become more serious was entirely dependent upon the weather, said W. Ross Workman, Assistant District Engineer for the Department of Public Works. Warm rain was most to be feared, for although there was little snow in the hills there was sufficient if it melted quickly under a warm rain to bring river and creek levels up quickly. Rain constituted a greater threat than warm days for these were followed by cool nights, he added.

Hall Creek is running high, but is not causing apprehension.

Wallace, Nelson, Gets 12-Pounder; Hobbs Has Five Fish in Derby

Six more fighting Kootenay Lake trout have been added to entries in the Gyro Trout Derby, according to reports from weighing depots received Friday by Derby Statistician George Lambert. The biggest catch among these was a 12 pound, 8 ounce fish brought in by R. D. Wallace of Nelson.

To date 38 trout have been entered in Derby competition, the biggest so far being a 20-pounder caught by Joe Wolf of Trail.

Away out in front as far as numbers are concerned is George Hobbs of Ainsworth. He added two more big ones, the first 11 pounds, 11 ounces, and the second nine pounds, eight ounces, to his three already entered.

Current reports follow:

R. Bell's Depot, Balfour:

R. D. Wallace, Nelson, 12 pounds, 5 ounces, in Kootenay Bay, May 17, pearl lure; 10 pounds, five ounces, off Twin Rocks, May 17, Glen Stewart.

J. W. Burns' depot, Ainsworth:

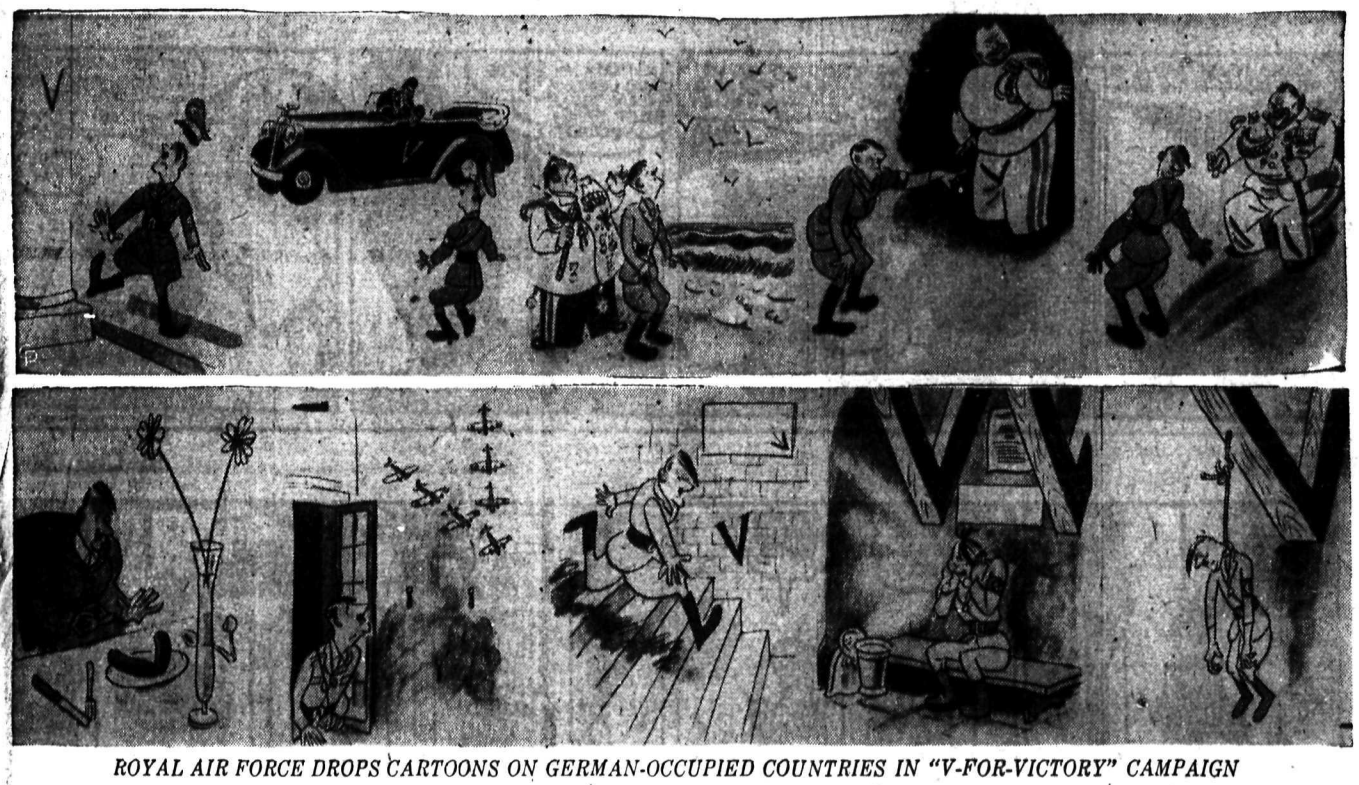
George Hobbs, Ainsworth, 11 11 pounces, off Cedar Creek, May 19, homemade lure; 9 pounds, 8 ounces, off Woodberry Creek, May 21, S.F.T. lure.

Tom Heise's Depot, Balfour:

Edward W. Campbell, Trail, 8 pounds, 14 ounces, off Pilot Bay, May 17, Gibbs No. 5, silver and copper.

W. McHardy's Depot, Balfour:

H. Hughes, Nelson, 6 pounds, 3 ounces, off Wilson Creek, May 13, Gibbs No. 5.



ROYAL AIR FORCE DROPS CARTOONS ON GERMAN-OCCUPIED COUNTRIES IN "V-FOR-VICTORY" CAMPAIGN

Based on the oft-propounded theory that a picture is worth a thousand words, these cartoons are being used as a potent propaganda weapon by the minions of "Colonel V Britton" in the waging of the "V-for-Victory" campaign in the German-occupied countries and even in Germany itself. The cartoons are dropped by Royal Air Force planes where they are calculated to do most good. Beauty of the scheme is that their message is equally clear in France, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Norway, Greece, Belgium, Holland or Yugoslavia; for no words are necessary and a picture is the same in any language.

Tokyo Reports "Harsh Treatment" of Japanese In the U.S.

NEW YORK, May 22 (AP)—Following is a verbatim transcription of an English-language broadcast by the Tokyo radio today:

"Japanese residents in the United States including Americans of Japanese ancestry were subjected to indescribable humiliation and shocking treatmet, including lynching at th hands of enraged American mobs, when the outbreak of the greater East Asia war on December 7 uncapped a wave of anti-Japanese sentiment throughout the United States, Asahi's correspondent reported from Rome.

"The Asahi correspondent based his report on information obtained from members of a party of 82 Italian diplomatists and pressmen, including Prince Ascanio Colonna, Italian Ambassador to Washington, which returned to Rome May 21 in the first United States-Axis diplomatic exchange of personnel.

"Members of the Italian party disclose on the outbreak of war a strong wave of anti-Japanese feeling spread rapidly thruoghout the United States, and Japanese Nationals were attacked by brutal American mobs who even went to the extent of lynching some innocent Japanese residents.

"Questioned regarding treatment of Japanese after outbreak of war, members of the Italian party said Japanese, irrespective of whether they were Nisei (American born) or not, were being subjected to much harsher treatment than Germans and Italians, and huge numbers of them were being interned in concentration camps which the United States Government had the Japanese build, as in the cases of Germany and Italy.

"They said of the total of 10,000 Axis Nationals who are interned, 6000 were Japanese, 3000 Germans and 1500 Italians.

CONTRACT . . . By Shepard Barclay

DO YOU WANT IT LED?

ALWAYS bear in mind that, when you bid a particular suit, there is a possibility that your partner may lead it if the opponent at your right ultimately becomes the declarer. Unless you are willing to have that suit led, or unless your hand is such that there is a pretty good likelihood of your side furnishing the declarer, such a bid may prove costly. By leading that suit, instead of the one which otherwise would be his natural lead, your partner may present a gift of some hundreds of points to the enemy.

Here was another one of those cases in which a smart cardsman takes advantage of the known mental habits of an opponent. Walter Beinecke bid as he bid in the South, while shooting for unorthodox top scores, solely because he knew West as a man who could be depended upon to lead his partner's suit.

West did exactly as expected, putting forth the spade K. When the dummy went down, the club A looked awful good to Mr. Beinecke, as it made his contract a sure thing. He took the first trick with his spade A and then ran seven clubs, followed by the diamond A for the ninth trick. If West had made his natural lead of the heart 3, the K would have been dropped and the opponents would have taken the first five tricks. Mr. Beinecke, therefore, stole a game, as 5-Clubs cannot be made.

Market Trends . . .

LONDON, May 22 (AP)—The stock market closed generally firm today in the face of some profit taking. Industrials finished higher.

NEW YORK—Fractional losses and scattered modest gainers were in evidence in the final hour.

Among Canadian stocks, Hiram Walkers lost 1¼ points and Dome Mines ⅜ while International Nickel gained ⅛.

TORONTO—Stocks shifted about within a narrow range and closed with only minor net changes in all four groups.

In golds, Preston came in for a burst of buying and the price moved up to 2.10. The close around 2.05 was up 13 for the day. Bralorne gained 10 cents and Macassa, McLeod-Cockshutt, and Beattie 5 cents each.

Mining Corporation, Normetal and Pend Oreille were strong base metals, all adding 5 to 8 cents

MONTREAL—Moderate activity in Industrials and a few leaders in other sections featured trading today. Price fluctuations were irregular.

VANCOUVER—A slight recovery in trading was evident during the morning session with chief activity seen in the mines.

Cariboo gained 5 at 1.20, Pioneer 2 at 1.48, Grull Wihksne ½ at 1½, and Whitewater ¾ at 3¼.

WINNIPEG, — Light mill purchases of routine local transactions were reported wheat futures closed unchanged with May at 79⅛b cents a bushel and July at 80⅜a.

Canadian and United States mills were credited with taking moderate quantities of wheat.

CHICAGO — After registering gains of almost a cent early in the day, the wheat market's recovery was nipped in the bud by a renewal of selling that lowered prices as much as 1⅝ cents from the highs at times.

NINE SHIP LAUNCHINGS ON PACIFIC COAST MARK MARITIME DAY

SAN FRANCISCO, May 22 (AP)—Nine ship launchings high-lighted the Pacific Coast celebration of National Maritime Day as shipyard workers, officials, and sailors pledged themselves to build a bridge to victory.

U. S. Ship Sunk In 90 Seconds

NEW ORLEANS, May 22 (AP)—A sea captain expressed belief today that two torpedoes which sank his medium sized United States cargo ship in 90 seconds were fired by a submarine crew tipped in advance on the vessel's movements.

At least 21 members of the crew and the gun crew were married to death in the amazingly swift sinking which occurred in the Gulf of Mexico May 16.

Captain A. Henry Rowe attached significance to the fact that the submarine not only attacked without warning but did not surface after the sinking to obtain information about its victim, possibly indicating the submersible's officers already knew the ship's identity and its sailing plans.

There was no time to use the radio to summon help and the 19 survivors rode liferafts for about 30 hours before being picked up.

Italians Claim Big U. S. Battleship Sunk

ROME, May 22 (AP)—The Italian High Command claimed in a special communique today that its submarine Barbarigo sank a United States battleship of the Maryland class with two torpedo hits off the Brazilian coast Wednesday.

(There was no confirmation from any other source to bear out the Italian claim.)

The communique said escorting vessels of the United States naval formation did not reply to the attack.

It gave the time of the asserted attack as 2:50 a. m. Rome time, and the place as 100 miles West of the Brazilian island of Fernando Noronha, 125 miles off the Easternmost extremity of Brazil.

RIO DE JANEIRO, May 22 (AP)—Official Brazilian and United States sources, commenting on the Italian claim of the sinking of an American battleship off Brazil's coast, said today they had no knowledge of any naval engagement in these waters.

Rain, Trees Cause Damage to Wire; Light Interrupted

Burning of a 2300 volt feeder wire in the 500 Block, Nelson Avenue, resulting from Friday morning's storm, brought an interruption of one hour, 35 minutes in electric light service to Fairview and the business section.

A report by Robert Simpson, Superintendent of the electric distribution system, showed the trouble was caused by ornamental trees and by the action of the rain, said Ald. Ross Fleming, Gas, Light and Power Committee Chairman. The switch was open from 4:30 until 6:05 a.m. while repairs were effected.

Within a few days electric power distribution to the business section from a feeder operating from the new bank of transformers at the City sub-station will be in operation. Such an interruption in the residential districts then will not affect the business section. At present feeder as Fairview.

Mr. Simpson, in his report, expressed appreciation of the cooperation of C. E. G. Fisher, 511 Nelson Avenue, who reported the trouble, and of Constable Jack Whitfield of the City Police.
