JAPS LAUNCH NEW SOLOMONS OFFENSIVE

Force Landings Despite Marine Resistance

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 (AP)—Reinforced Japanese troops with strengthened sea and air support have intensified efforts to drive United States Marines out of the Solomon Islands, the Navy announced tonight, but the Marines are holding and the Japs have lost 21 planes in five days of fighting.

United States Air Forces have counter-attacked Japanese bases north and northwest of the main American base on Guadalcanal Island, a Navy communique reported, but the enemy is maintaining his pressure in apparently increasing force.

The Japanese attacks have consisted of bombardment by surface vessels and aerial bombardment, particularly against the United States airfield on Guadalcanal.

Moreover, some attempts by the Japs to land reinforcements, in the American-held area at night have been successful, the navy said, and on the night of Sept. 13-14 the strengthened enemy troops made an effort to capture the airfield but were repulsed in heavy fighting.

The Japanese plane losses were suffered in a series of air actions which began Sept. 11 when army "Flying Fortresses" shot down four "Zero" fighters in the vicinity of Guadalcanal and strafed shore installations on the Japanese base island of Gizo.

Two days later army bombers attacked seaplanes on the waters of Rekata Bay on the northeast shore of Santa Isabel Island, destroying one enemy craft and damaging a second.

The heavy fighting which apparently constitutes a major Japanese attempt to re-take Guadalcanal Island, began the night of Sept. 12-13. While details of the battle are lacking, the navy said that reports up to the present "indicate that the marines are maintaining their positions."

The navy related that after the army Flying Fortress attack on Gizo, which is about 215 miles northwest of Guadalcanal, army bombers shot down two enemy seaplanes the following day.

Then during the night of Sept. 12-13 the Japanese brought naval units and shelled shore installations. Marine batteries answered this fire and were reported to have hit one of the attack ships.

Meanwhile contact was made with enemy patrols in heavy fighting ashore which continued during the night and day.

On Sept. 13 the enemy sent over two flights of 28 bombers each, with "Zero" fighter escorts to attack the airfield at Guadalcanal. Navy and marine corps Grumman "Wildcat" fighters shot down four of the bombers and four Zeros.

Also on Sept. 13 army bombers attacked the seaplanes at Rekata Bay, about 140 miles north of Guadalcanal, on the northwest shore of Santa Isabel.

Then on the night of Sept. 13-14 the Japanese again brought up their warships and shelled shore installations while heavy fighting continued with enemy troops. It was at this time that the Japanese made their unsuccessful attempt to capture the vital air base.

Next day, another enemy flight of 28 bombers with fighter escorts attacked Guadalcanal shortly after noon but once more navy and marine fighters opposing the attack took an effective toll of the enemy, shooting down one bomber and five fighters.

Russ Smash Fresh Nazi Assaults on Flaming City

By HENRY C. CASSIDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, Sept. 16 (Wednesday) (AP)—The Red Army defending Stalingrad has smashed successive assaults by fresh German troops west and southwest of the embattled Volga city, which already is in flames from steady Nazi dive-bomber raids, it was announced today.

Although the Germans succeeded in advancing yesterday, southwest of the city, the Russians later threw them back in a counter-attack which disabled seven Nazi tanks and dispersed two infantry companies.

West of Stalingrad "repeated attacks" by fresh German troops and tank forces also were repulsed, and one Russian unit which fought for one inhabited locality "destroyed three German tanks, five guns, and wiped out more than 50 enemy officers and men."

In the Mordok area of the Caucasian foothills the Russians also announced successful Russian defensive fighting in which one unit destroyed eight German tanks and four armored cars, dislodged the enemy from two populated places, and captured a train carrying German officers and troops.

German troops also were reported attacking fiercely and steadily South of Voronezh on the Upper Don River where the Russians said they annihilated about 1000 troops with an artillery and trench mortar barrage.

The Russians again emphasized the Nazis' frenzied efforts to force a decision at Stalingrad.

Time and again the battered Russian lines sagged under the impact of fierce onslaughts, but German gains even though made with a prodigious expenditure of blood and limb, now were being measured in yards.

(The German Transocean News Agency, quoting German military sources, asserted in Berlin that Nazi forces had seized the main station of the rail line which runs through the heart of Stalingrad from the Northeast to the Southwest.)

Armed Annett, Governor General of the Island, advised the Vichy Government today as British columns drove closer to Tananarive, the capital.

Annett said a South African motorized column pushing southeast from Majunga, its landing place, had captured the village of Antanafabotra after occupying Maevatanana, 150 miles by road from Tananarive.

The Governor-General said resistance is continuing and that British forces now are in difficult mountain terrain.

There was no report on activities of British forces moving inland from Morondava, 350 miles inland south of Majunga, and from Ambanja, in Northern Madagascar.

PACIFIC CHIEF OPTIMISTIC OVER CONFLICT

Jap Conquest Plan Off Schedule in New Guinea Area SEES HARD FIGHT

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, Sept. 15 (AP)—Gen. Sir Thomas Blamey, chief of allied forces in the Pacific, declared today that he will again have to meet the Japs under such disadvantageous conditions as those which made it possible for the enemy to advance through the jungles to within 40 miles of Port Moresby, on New Guinea.

Gen. Blamey, returned from an inspection of the New Guinea sector, said that while the Japanese had crossed the Owen Stanley range the rest of the going to Port Moresby would be far from easy.

They still face ridge after ridge until they hit open country which is easier for the allies to defend, especially because it reduced enemy chances to use infiltration and envelopment methods.

Today's communique said the actual situation remained unchanged, but noted that patrol activity was increasing in the mountains. Allied airmen are raking Japanese positions with machine guns and bombs.

Gen. Blamey predicted the new Guinea campaign would be hard and long, but declared the farther he went from Australia and the closer he got to the battle area the greater was the confidence of our forces from the men I talked to in the field to the commanding general.

The Japanese plan of conquest had not gone according to pattern, Gen. Blamey said, and pointed to the southeastern sector of the New Guinea front where the prompt work of allied airmen and Australian land forces had "prevented the Japanese from establishing a bridge head at Milne Bay," last month.

He attributed the Japanese success in the Owen Stanley Mountains largely to the allies' difficulty in moving sufficient strength to their forward positions and expressed doubt the Japanese could ever take Port Moresby without heavier artillery than the small mountain pieces they have been able to carry over the tortuous trails.

NELSON AIRMAN WITH "DEMONS"

The famous Demon Squadron of the R.C.A.F. has been mentioned in many dispatches of raids on enemy shipping and coastal cities. Sgt. G. E. "Chub" Greenwood of Nelson has been flying with this unit since last June and is shown above with the other members of the Hudson bomber crew. They are all Sergeants and have been flying together since they completed their operational training in England and Scotland. In a recent letter to his brother, H. A. D. Greenwood of Nelson, Sgt. Greenwood reported that their plane had been officially credited with sinking two enemy ships. On another occasion when returning from a mass raid on Bremen their plane was attacked by a Junkers 88 and it was only after diving from 4000 feet to 200 feet that they were able to shake off their pursuers and return to their base. Left to right, Sgt. Pilot Hamish Collins of Vancouver, Sgt. Wag. Joe Harrison of Vancouver, Sgt. Observer Grant Fowle of Vancouver and Sgt. Wag. "Chub" Greenwood of Nelson.

Tobruk Raiders Fight Way Home Through Dive-Bombing Attacks

CAIRO, Sept. 15 (AP)—The British warships which bombarded the Libyan stronghold of Tobruk Sunday night in the allies' big land-sea-air attack arrived safely at Alexandria yesterday under protection of long-range fighters which beat off wave after wave of Axis dive-bombers, it was disclosed tonight.

Details of the raid were lacking but headquarters of United States Army air forces in the Middle East said the American bombers which backed up the British aerial squadrons engaged in one of their most extensive operations of the middle Eastern campaign.

The R.A.F. Middle East News Service said that the attacks were the heaviest night raids of the Middle East campaign and that fires were started among naval fuel tanks and other installations. One explosion was so violent that planes were rocked while flying at 10,000 feet. South African and Australian planes also participated in the attacks.

While forces which landed in the commando style also blew up harbor installations and stores, the planes swooped out over the port and attacked enemy encampments in the desert. When they finished the desert darkness was pitted with fires.

The American air force communique said that no Axis night fighters were encountered but that considerable anti-aircraft fire was directed at the raiding planes.

On Saturday night, a British communique said, bombers of the allied air forces made attacks in force against shipping and port installations at Bengasi, airfields at Sidi Haneish and picked targets at Tobruk.

"Explosions and fires were caused anti-aircraft and searchlight batteries put out of action and encampments attacked."

The communique said that except for daylight artillery exchanges and night patrol operations the land front was quiet.

Gen. Brett is now in the United States.

BRITISH, RUSS BOMBERS STRIKE AT AXIS

Cherbourg Struck by British in Daylight Offensive
BUDAPEST HIT

BY PAUL LEE
Associated Press Staff Writer
LONDON, Sept. 15 (AP)—British bombers struck heavily at the Axis from the West today on the second anniversary of the decisive fight of the Battle of Britain, while Russian planes apparently were making another attack tonight on Budapest, one of the targets in their recently opened aerial offensive in Nazi Eastern territory.

An Air Ministry communique said Boston bombers with strong fighter escort made a daylight attack on shipping in the port of Cherbourg, France, and that other fighters made Channel sweeps and attacked railroad freight yards, factories and other targets in Northern France. All planes returned safely.

The Budapest radio went off the air at 9 p. m. after warning its listeners that enemy aircraft could be expected from the Northwest. There were no further details but it was presumed the planes must be Russian since they have bombed German, Rumanian and Hungarian cities in recent weeks.

A Reuters dispatch from Stockholm today said Swedish journalists in Berlin reported that planes, believed to be British and American, last night bombed parts of Bulgaria. Details of these raids were lacking.

Insurance Plan Approved at U.B.C.M. Meet
KAMLOOPS, B. C., Sept. 15 (CP)—The Union of British Columbia Municipalities at its annual convention today launched long-discussed plans for a Province-wide scheme of municipal insurance, and in resolutions asserted again the need for Old Age Pension increases and called for sale of all Japanese-owned land and repatriation of all Japs at the end of the war.

Far ahead of schedule, the convention disposed of the bulk of its more than 50 resolutions, without much discussion.

Convention approval was under which municipalities insure cheaper than with private companies, after reading of a lengthy report by Alderman O. L. Jones of Kelowna, chairman of a special committee appointed last year to investigate the matter. He moved that application be made to the Legislature for the necessary charter to set up such a company and the convention gave its unanimous consent.

The Municipal Insurance Committee found that the setting up of a Municipal Mutual Insurance Company would best serve the interests of the Municipalities, but that under the Insurance Act $30,000 is needed before such a company can be established. The report proposed that if $30,000 was unavailable, then the convention might seek an amendment from the Legislature making this part of the Act interpretative against a mutual company.

Say 73,000 British Prisoners of War in Germany

MISSING AT DIEPPE

Gunner Gerald McEwan Ross of Nelson, reported missing in action at Dieppe.

Nelson, Natal Men Among Dieppe Missing

A Nelson man and a former Nelson man are among those listed as missing in the Dieppe raid. Their names appear in the list of missing issued Tuesday at Ottawa.

Gunner Gerald McEwan Ross, husband of Mrs. Bertha Georgina Ross, 705 Stanley Street, is the Nelson man missing. He is the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. George Lapointe.

Mrs. Ross received a telegram from Ottawa Aug. 24 advising her that her husband was missing, but this news could not be published until now. Ottawa made no general announcement of the names of missing men and newspapers were requested to withhold names in order that any of the men who had not been captured might have an opportunity to escape.

The former Nelson man now reported missing is Donald Lazier, son of H. F. Lazier, formerly of Nelson and now of Calgary. Lazier enlisted at Calgary early in 1940 and went overseas. In Nelson he was known in sports circles, particularly in golf. He was here about five years. His father was well known in mining circles.

NATAL MAN MISSING
NATAL, B. C.—Natal's first war casualty was Corporal Jack Weaver, age 22, second son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Weaver of Natal. He was reported missing after the Dieppe raid.

Corporal Weaver joined the Seaforth Highlanders in June, 1940, later being transferred into a tank unit which was the first armoured unit to arrive overseas. This tank unit took an active part in the raid at Dieppe. Weaver went overseas in the later part of June last year.

He has a brother, Walter, at present in training on the B. C. Coast. Another Natal lad in the same unit who returned safely after the Dieppe raid was Corporal Herbert Travis, only son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Travis of Natal.

Other Michel-Natal casualties since the war started were: Lance-Bombardier Robert Mitchell, who died overseas, and Seaman Salwyn Heycock, listed as missing from the destroyer Marguerite.

Situation Grave in Madagascar Vichy Heads Told

VICHY, Sept. 15 (AP)—The situation in Madagascar is one of "extreme gravity," Armand Annett, Governor General of the Island, advised the Vichy Government today as British columns drove closer to Tananarive, the capital.

Annett said a South African motorized column pushing southeast from Majunga, its landing place, had captured the village of Antanafabotra after occupying Maevatanana, 150 miles by road from Tananarive.

The Governor-General said resistance is continuing and that British forces now are in difficult mountain terrain.

There was no report on activities of British forces moving inland from Morondava, 350 miles inland south of Majunga, and from Ambanja, in Northern Madagascar.

U.S. Planes Raid Kiska Island

AN ALASKAN ARMY BASE, Sept. 7 (AP) (Delayed)—American fighter planes have strafed Japanese shipping and men on Kiska for the first time since the island was occupied.

The spectacular raid by two fighters followed a bomber trip made by Brig.-Gen. William O. Butler, Commander of the Alaskan Air Force, who led a low-level attack three days previously.

Butler's three craft straddled several cargo vessels in the harbor with near misses, and escaped into the clouds before the Jap gunners recovered from the surprise of seeing planes at almost eyelevel.

The raiders also strafed a column of troops ashore and hit installations.

British War Relief Building Bombed

Nelson Rod and Gun Club to Urge Later Duck Season; Would Strive to Eliminate Coarse Fish

When the West Kootenay Rod and Gun Club Association holds its annual, zone meeting at Rosland today, the Nelson Club will have five proposals to make affecting fishing and hunting, and will endorse Rosland and Trail clubs on others. It will add its weight to the request of sportsmen's clubs that alienation of hunting and fishing areas by private interests should be prevented throughout British Columbia. The Nelson Club will propose:

Later opening of the duck season. Limitation of size and load of shot gun shells for hunting ducks and geese.

Similar grouse seasons next year as this year. Reduction of the number of coarse fish in district waters.

Use of Rainbow trout eggs locally until waters are adequately stocked. It will endorse:

Rosland's resolution urging a bounty on coyotes throughout the year.

Trail's resolution suggesting earlier opening and closing of Beaver Creek for fishing.

DUCKS UNLIMITED FILM ENTHRALLS

These decisions were made at a lengthy session Tuesday night at the Canadian Legion following the showing of a film forwarded by Ducks Unlimited depicting the tremendous work undertaken by this sportsmen's organization to restore the duck population. The colored moving pictures, nearly all taken in Northern Canada, showed how dams were being built, reclaimed land was being reforested, overgrazing was being controlled, natural enemies were being attacked, and so on in an effort to bring back the great numbers of ducks and geese of former years. All available seating was taken for the showing of this film, a large number of children seeing it.

At the suggestion of George Steele, veteran hunter, the Club decided to ask for a later opening for ducks and geese—Oct. 1. Mr. Steele contended that at mid-September many of the birds were too young, and that when hunters shot ducks at this time; they often spoiled before they could be used.

Delegates to the Zone meeting were instructed to discuss limiting the size and load of shells which could be used for ducks and geese. Members held that use of high power ammunition by a few hunters kept the birds high and spoiled shooting for the majority.

GROUSE DATES SATISFY

Satisfaction with grouse open dates was expressed, though it was stated the Willow season was longer than requested. It was suggested the season should remain the same next year. The Blue grouse season this year is Sept. 15 to Oct. 15. Willow or Ruffed grouse may be hunted East of Kootenay Lake from Sept. 19 to 30, and West of Kootenay Lake from Oct. 1 to 15.

Proposed by John Wallace that the bag limit for deer should be increased to three bucks was defeated. Mr. Wallace and A. H. Noakes contended there were too many deer. Others argued that efforts had been continued for years to boost the number of deer, and to increase the limit now would counteract these efforts.

Moose had been seen in the Duncan recently, President J. J. McEwen reported. Commissioner J.G. Cunningham had told him, he added, that caribou were increasing quite rapidly.

WOULD ATTACK COARSE FISH

How to improve sport fishing in district waters was again a discussion highlight. Members urged an attack on coarse fish. Robert Hickey stated he saw them teeming at the mouth of Middle Creek recently; William Marr reported a similar condition below Grohman Creek; and President McEwen said the Little Slovan was the same.

Informed by the President that the B. C. Game Commission and the B. C. Security Commission were working out a plan to net coarse fish for Japanese to use as food, the Club voiced approval. Feeling that all Rainbow trout

RECEIVES BIRTHDAY PRESENT FROM FATHER

Keith Pratt Gemmel, Markdale, Ont., waited a long time for this day. He is here shown being sworn in at the R.C.A.F. recruiting centre, Ottawa. What's more, it is a proud father, Flight-Lieutenant Kenneth Shaw Gemmel, who swears his son into the service. Keith, who enlisted as an air gunner had four months with the British Merchant Marine and four months with a Malton aircraft plant while he waited for his 18th birthday to roll around and his anticipated present air force uniform.

eggs available should be used in this district, the Club on a motion by C. W. Tyler decided to ask that sale of these eggs to American Game authorities should cease until district waters were adequately stocked. Fishing should be developed now as a post-war tourist attraction, it was argued.

PONDS COMMENDED

F. R. Butler of the B. C. Game Commission in a letter warmly commended the efforts of the Club, in cooperation with the City of Nelson, to improve fishing by building trout rearing ponds.

Suggestion was made that Slovan Pool should be opened for a brief period of fishing, under supervision to reduce the number of trout in the pool. Robert Main said there were hundreds of fish in the pool and expressed the fear disease might break out among them. Doubt was expressed that the pool would be opened, since the river was closed as wartime protection for West Kootenay Power & Light Company plants.

The Trail Club's resolution asking that the open season for Beaver Creek be changed to May 1-Aug. 31, instead of June 1-Sept. 15, was left in the hands of delegates to the zone meeting.

Delegates were also instructed to support any motion designed to block private exploitation of hunting grounds or fishing waters, fearing the public would be barred from them as in other places, notably in the Maritimes, where the practice of granting leases has been instituted.

The fight to preserve Duck Lake at Sirdar as a duck breeding ground and concentration point would come under this heading, it was suggested.

Rosland's resolution for today's zone meeting urging that the coyote bounty of 3 should be continued through the year was endorsed.

McDonald Records Four Mineral Claims Near Ymir

Organization of Labor-Management Boards to Be Speeded Up

OTTAWA, Sept. 15 (CP) — Action to speed organization of Labor-Management Boards, which has been disappointingly slow, will be announced shortly, Elliott M. Little, Director of National Selective Service, told delegates to the annual convention of the Canadian Congress of Labor today.

Discussing Labor-Management Boards in a question period following the presentation of his address, Mr. Little intimated that if necessary compulsory measures would be introduced to make the Government's recommendations effective. Two important resolutions presented by Eloy Robson, Resolutions Committee Chairman, were referred back to his committee for further consideration. One called for strong collective support of affiliated unions to the extent of calling National or Regional strikes. The committee had recommended non-concurrence in the resolution. While general feeling was that the Congress lacked authority to call affiliated unions out on strike and was opposed to strikes in wartime, the resolution was sent back to allow framing in a form which would call for other measures of support.

The second resolution referred back was the one in which the committee had moved concurrence asking a Federal hours of work Act to provide "rapid conversion of essential industries to a 168-hour week" providing continuous operation. The resolution sought an eight-hour day with time and a half for overtime and double time for the seventh day.

Cross sewing, but the girls insisted they wanted their cadet corps, and today 98 girls were on parade for the first turnout.

Signalling, first aid and home nursing were given on school time as regular classes. A check for $82.50 was reported received by Mr. Thompson for uniform maintenance.

ALLIES SMASH JAP BASES IN NEW GUINEA

Barges Blasted; Ships Pounded for Third Time in Week

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, Sept. 16 (Wednesday) (AP) — Allied air forces again smashed at the Japanese bases in New Guinea and ground patrols in the Owen Stanley mountains were more active yesterday but the general situation remained unchanged, a communique said today.

Buna, the base from which the Japanese operating in the Owen Stanley range get their supplies, was bombed heavily and a number of fires started. The attack was directed at supply installations and dispersal areas.

Enemy barges on the beach also were bombed. Two anti-aircraft batteries were silenced. As in several recent attacks, no enemy fighters attempted interception.

For the third time in a week allied bombers struck at shipping off the Tanimbar Islands, West of New Guinea and North of Darwin, Australia. At Samiak a cargo ship was severely damaged by a direct hit on the stern. One plane was missing after this attack.

Heavy bombers also attacked shipping in the harbor at Rabaul, New Britain. A large ship was observed burning after the attack.

In this attack a strong force of Japanese Zero fighters intercepted the bombers and an air battle took place. One Jap plane was shot down and one allied machine was reported missing.

ARTILLERY DUEL IN THE DESERT
A British gun crew is shown in action in the desert on the El Alamein front, where artillery duels are in progress almost all the time. The gun crew is under enemy shellfire as they blaze away with their 25-pounder. This gun is said to be very effective as a tank stopper.

Canadian Bombers Spread Fires in Wilhelmshaven

LONDON, Sept. 15 (CP). — A strong force of British and Canadian bombers last night attacked Wilhelmshaven, chief German naval station on the North Sea, and kindled fires which one participating Canadian pilot said were left spreading "right bang in the middle of the docks."

From this assault—by perhaps hundreds of bombers—only two raiders were lost, the Air Ministry said. The Wilhelmshaven attack was the second in as many nights and the ninth this month upon Germany.

Wilhelmshaven, 50 miles airline Northwest of Bremen, the main target the night before, is the chief German naval station on the North Sea.

The constant pounding of Germany marked a full swing of the pendulum from two years ago when it was Britain which underwent successive smashing attacks.

Today is the second anniversary of the Battle of Britain's climax and Allied air chiefs commemorated the event with the promise that their air armadas would help despatch and defeat the Axis enemies.

The Berlin report said "Fires were started and some damage was caused to buildings mainly in the residential district." Four attacking bombers were claimed to have been shot down.

The attack last night was the ninth carried out over Germany by

U.S. Hold Power in West Pacific for Time Being

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 (AP).—Rear Admiral W. H. Blandy, just back from a 26,000-mile inspection trip, declared today that United States forces presently hold the balance of striking power in the Western Pacific.

Rear Admiral Blandy, Navy Ordnance Chief who talked with reporters at Navy Secretary Frank Knox's Press conference, said he is not "bold enough" to make any forecasts of the future Pacific situation, but that "for the time being, most certainly," the United States hold the balance of military and naval striking power over Japan.

He had been asked "Are we in position to hold the Japs against anything they might throw?"

"Yes," he replied, "I think we are. But we can't do it by merely holding. We've got to keep pushing. The best defence is a strong offence. We can't remain static."

Would Pay Higher Allowance Under Compensation Act

VICTORIA, Sept. 15 (CP).—Increased allowances for persons receiving compensation under terms of the Workmen's Compensation Act and their dependents are recommended in the report of Mr. Justice Gordon Sloan, who as commissioner conducted a 62-day inquiry throughout British Columbia into workings of the act. His report, covering 400 closely-typed pages, was released today.

Mr. Justice Sloan quoted chief witnesses at the inquiry to the effect the Board was fair and impartial and their dependents are recommended in the report of Mr. Justice Gordon Sloan, who as commissioner conducted a 62-day inquiry throughout British Columbia into workings of the act. His report, covering 400 closely-typed pages, was released today.

might be made at the Board's discretion.

The report dealt with the B.C. Hospital Association's objection to the statutory power of the Board to fix the amount payable to hospitals for services rendered in compensation cases and deductions made by the Board from hospital accounts. The commissioner was of the opinion it would not be in the public interest to permit hospitals to have a free and unrestricted right to charge the Board whatever rates they deemed expedient, and that deductions made by the Board did not "reflect an arbitrary or capricious policy in regard to hospital items."

In recommending that the Board be empowered to adjust the contributions of workmen to the fund, Mr. Justice Sloan noted that in 1919 workmen contributed 73-13 per cent of the medical aid fund while in 1941 their contribution was 35.90 per cent.

In regard to an evaluation of incapacity, the commissioner found the Board's policy was not in accordance with the act, as the method adopted by the Board ignored the personal ability of the injured man to earn his living in some employment or business suitable to his residual capacity, and in many cases was paying the man more than he was entitled.

Mr. Justice Sloan recommended adoption of an Ontario statute which reads: "Where deemed just, the impairment of earning capacity may be estimated from the nature of the injury, having always in view the workman's fitness to continue the employment in which he was injured or to adapt himself to some other suitable occupation."

The report noted the British Columbia act was the only one in Canada lacking a fund for rehabilitation purposes. The Board had done what it could by commuting pensions to assist handicapped men in reestablishing themselves and Mr. Justice Sloan said it seemed to him the annual cost of such a scheme, estimated at between $75,000 and $100,000, could be shared by the state and the employee and employer groups. He suggested that rehabilitation of injured workers be under the direction of the Board but "closely allied with Returned Soldier Rehabilitation agencies."

The commissioner did not recommend any extension of the act to cover all industry and said he saw no reason to introduce blanket coverage of industrial diseases, the scheduled coverage system being uniform throughout Canada.

The report dealt with such occupational diseases as hernia, lead and hemlock poisoning and silicosis, advising in the case of the first compensation be paid for such proportion of hernial disability as may reasonably be attributable to the injury upon which the claim is based. The silicosis problem was exhaustively reviewed with the finding that "the act be broadened to compensate silicosis incapacitated" from silica dust in any industry in which the Board is satisfied the hazard exists.

This would extend the benefits of the act to coal miners and above-ground workers in metalliferous mines where workmen are exposed to silica dust. The report stressed the need of an educational program to acquaint miners with the dust hazard and its prevention.

In connection with allowances, the commissioner found that dependent children should receive allowances up to 18 years and that the sum al-

1. That allowances be increased.
2. That the Board be permitted to order and pay for chiropractic treatment to compensation cases.
3. That further study be given to the treatment of neurotic cases from a medical and legal viewpoint.
4. That workmen incapacitated by silica dust in any industry be compensated.
5. That a rehabilitation fund be established.
6. That men brought to Vancouver for medical examination be paid a per diem allowance of $2.50 in addition to travelling expenses and time loss compensation benefits.
7. That the Board be empowered to adjust the contribution of workmen (now one cent per day) to the medical aid fund from time to time to ensure distribution of the cost between workmen and accessible industries on a fair basis.
8. That the present method of determining a workman's average earnings be retained, but that in "time loss" claims for short periods in seasonal occupations, compensation might be based on the actual wage at the time of the accident.

Mr. Justice Sloan recommended that "in conformity with general wage levels in this Province" it would be in the public interest to increase the present maximum wage level at which a workman may participate in the scheme from $3000 to $2500 and the weekly minimum compensation from $10 weekly to $12.50 unless that exceeds the workman's average earnings.

The report also recommended increased allowances in many respects for dependents. No recommendation was made regarding a cost-of-living bonus in view of the fact that when a worker is receiving the bonus it is considered when computing compensation, but the report said "the sorry plight which the shrinking dollar may visit on a disabled workman is something which should be alleviated." Such assistance, however, was seen as "a matter of governmental policy."

In connection with workers killed in industry, the report suggested that the definition of dependents be extended to include a wife, husband, parent or child who is able to satisfy the Board he or she had reasonable expectancy of pecuniary benefit from the continuance of life of the deceased workman. In such cases awards not exceeding $1000 advised that the motor is installed in the snow plow, but that the pump has been well taken care of, and was only used one winter. The complete unit for this 80 horse power pump was approximately $2000.

It was decided to write to the B. C. Equipment Company asking for evaluation. Members of the Council felt this should be said if anyone needs it.

COMFORT STATION PLANS

Specifications for the proposed comfort station received from City Engineer R. W. Haggen provided for frame construction, concrete floors, four lavatories, four wash basins, two electric heaters, the approximate cost to be $786.00. Mr. Haggen gave approximate cost of upkeep $27.00 per month during Summer, and $55.00 per month during Winter.

The question arising was with regards to fire regulations as the site is in the fire zone, being between the bus depot and the Metropolitan Building, the matter was turned over to the Board of Works for consideration.

Rosland Spends $84,500 8 Months; May Sell Old Pump to Sidney

ROSSLAND, B. C., Sept. 14.—The City of Rossland disbursed $84,500 during the first eight months of this year, the City Council learned Friday night from the report of Auditor Leslie Read. For the same period the City's receipts, from all sources, grossed $102,790. Mayor J. E. Gordon described the City's standing as "very good."

In response to a letter from W. J. McLean, C.P.R. Division Superintendent at Nelson, asking the City to supply 12 planks for the railroad crossing in the vicinity of the Herr Levevre residence, it was decided to reply that the City did not feel this to be its responsibility. Foreman Roy Hancock stated the crossing had not previously been the City's responsibility.

On recommendation of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, an order was authorized for 1000 feet of half-inch pipe and 500 feet of 1/4-inch pipe.

Secretary A. T. O'Reilly, of the City Water Works at Sydney, B. C. requested a price on a belt-driven pump owned by Rosland, which is at present in storage. Mr. Hancock lowed for each dependent child be increased from $7.50 to $10 up to 16 years of age, when it should be raised to $12.50 a month "to provide some incentive for children between the ages of 16 to 18 years to remain at school."

It was also suggested the maximum of $70 per month to a widow and family be increased to $80, and the allowance of $10 a month for orphan children to $20 until the child is 18.

It was recommended that widows and foster mothers receive $100 in addition to the first compensation cheque, and maximum allowances to dependent parents be increased from $30 to $40 per month.

11 Public Works Projects Get Council Approval

Disturbances in India Showed Well Planned Previous Organization

NEW DELHI, Sept. 15 (CP). — Sir Reginald Maxwell, home member of the Viceroy's Council, told a special session of the Legislative Assembly today that widespread attacks on railways and other communications took place during the wave of disorders which followed the recent arrest of Mohandas K. Gandhi.

Describing the attacks as "an orgy of destruction" Sir Reginald told the Assembly, however, that "if the enemy believes our transport is so upset as to make an attack on this country easier, he will be grievously disappointed," adding:

"The attack on railways and other communications started almost simultaneously in widely-separated parts of India. That in itself is significant. It becomes more so when one reflects that much of the damage caused must have required implements which could not have been produced at a moment's notice—wire-cutters to cut telegraph wires, spanners to remove fish-plates from railway lines and so on.

"Even more significant is the fact of which we have considerable evidence, that great technical knowledge was displayed by the saboteurs."

Sir Reginald told the Assembly that the disturbances showed considerable organization.

"They might possibly have been planned to synchronize" with an enemy attack, he said, adding that another such outbreak would be a direct invitation to Japan to launch an attack on India.

"In the area of the worst disorder, Bihar, any dislocation of the railways would seriously affect troop movements and prevent sending reinforcements from Northern India to the area most exposed to enemy invasion. Moreover, this is the centre of India's coal industry and the inability to dispatch coal would paralyze the transport industry throughout the country."

"Both points supply evidence of previous organization, having the most sinister possible motives."

Sir Reginald praised the work of the police, 31 of whom were killed,

That was the time I 'divorced' my twin... for good purpose only, I switched to Pepsodent Tooth Powder. Athalie went right on using another well-known brand."

Here's a Right Way to Exercise

By IDA JEAN KAIN

In busy times like these you can't afford to waste time exercising. You know that, and you can't stop and think there may be a technique that sets down your exercise time.

Suppleness is a direct test of fitness, so let's begin with the sit-ups. When you stretch concentrate on the up-pull through the mid-section, in that space between the hips and shoulders.

Keep your shoulders down and relaxed but stretch between hips and ribs until you actually feel the ribs and diaphragm.

Then, when you have twisted round to the side, hold your hips squarely to front, stand with feet 18 or so inches apart, and parallel, and keep hips front while twisting your waist.

Finally, bend at your waist—but bend while continuing to stretch. You're not just trying to reach over and touch the floor. Anyone can do that. What you want to do is stretch over and touch the floor with the right twist and upstretch. Stand erect with arms upstretched, and most of the stretch between ribs and hips. Twist to side, now, bend, keep your shoulders erect, stretch again, and bend to the other side. The main point in sit-ups and waist is to tug at the waist muscles. In bending keep the stomach muscles pulled up, the hips under.

Miss Edna Willis of Creston Weds Navy Man

CRESTON, B. C.—The Metropolitan United Church, Victoria, was the scene of a quiet wedding, Aug. 10, when Edna Odessa, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Willis of Creston became the bride of Leonard James Vivian, R.R.A., I.C.N.V.R., eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Vivian of Galt, Ont. The bride was attended by Miss Edith Rader, of Fort Steele, wore a floor length gown of pale blue chiffon and a hat to match. Her bouquet was of a mixture of asters and baby's breath. The bridesmaid's gown was of roses crepe, and corsage of pink carnations. The best man was Claire G. Courtney, Saskatoon, Sask. The young couple will reside in Victoria for the present where the groom is stationed and later plan to take up residence in Toronto.

Don't Overlook Egg Dishes

Though the United Kingdom is taking some forty-five million dozen Canadian eggs this year, increased production has made the current supply for home use adequate.

Eggs are light and nourishing, and there's practically no end to the ways they may be served.

So the white will be palatable and tender, whether boiled or baked, eggs should be cooked at low temperature. For boiling, after water has reached the boiling point turn the heat low. When baked, oven temperature should be moderate (325 F. to 350 F.).

Omelet is a favorite egg dish that lends itself to many variations.

PLAIN OMELET:
For each egg add one tablespoon top milk, 1/4 teaspoon salt and pepper if desired. Beat eggs slightly. Beat in milk and seasoning. Heat one tablespoon dripping in frying pan. Add eggs and cook slowly. Run spatula around edge lifting to allow uncooked portion to flow underneath. When set increase heat to brown if desired. Loosen omelet from pan and fold one half over. Serve on a warm plate.

JELLY OMELET:
Fold jelly omelet allow one tablespoon of jelly for each serving. Spread over top of omelet before folding. Tart red jellies, such as red currant, are delicious.

SPANISH OMELET:
One-quarter cup cooked tomatoes; 1/4 teaspoon each green pepper and onion and one teaspoon celery for each serving. Cook slowly until celery is tender. Pour over omelet on serving platter.

Use Frames in Cold Weather
By DEAN HALLIDAY

Either the hot bed or cold frame or both can be used as storage quarters during the early winter months.

After the first frost but before danger of a hard freeze, endive, lettuce, chicory, parsley, Swiss chard, celery and even cauliflower can be heeled in the frames placed close together.

Place a layer of loose boards over the plants and ventilate them on nice sunny days by using a stone or small piece of wood to brace the planks up at one end.

Reviews Plans for Returned Men
TORONTO, Sept. 15 (CP)—Pensions Minister Mackenzie told the War Amputations Board of Canada convention today it is the national purpose that men who have served in the forces shall be able to return to civil life in a condition to hold their own in private employment, and able to pull their weight with any person anywhere.

The minister reviewed arrangements made for the care of the injured after the war, provisions for rehabilitation and reestablishment, and programs for training for employment and completion of education.

Winter use of frames in victory gardens
As illustrated in the Garden-Graph, when severe weather sets in, cover over the planks with a layer of straw. To shed rains or melting snow keep the sack over the straw. Another layer of planks or boards can be set over the sack if necessary.

The frame should be banked up around the sides with cornstalks, leaves or straw, covered with soil.

Low Activity of Thyroid Gland Is Often Serious

By Logan Glendening, M. D.

We wrote in the last two articles this week of the functions of the thyroid gland performs in the body, and in summary we said that it produces a secretion which activates every cell in the body to a certain rate of function.

No gland or human being or living organism, however, jogs along at the same rate and the thyroid sometimes produces an excess of secretion. This may correspond to the days when we are full of pep or in the case of people like Hitler decide to declare war.

Obviously, it is natural to suppose that sometimes the thyroid gland does not produce as much secretion as normally. And this actually happens in Nature. The result is just the opposite of increased secretion—the person affected instead of being full of pep is sluggish and sleepy.

SYMPTOMS
Instead of a fast pulse he has a slow pulse. Instead of feeling warm, and needing less clothes and bed clothes than normal, he needs more and will sit with long-sleeved underwear on the hottest day. He has an unresponsive expression on his face and falls asleep easily. He increases in weight. His basal metabolism is low.

This condition which comes on for some people in middle age and is called myxoedema is often very unfortunate for the victims because in so many instances nobody in the family or among the friends understands what is really happening.

Women are afflicted more often than men, and I have known instances when the condition went on and grew progressively worse for years, and every one said—"Oh! grandma, or mother, or Aunt Lizzy is getting old. She doesn't want to get around any more. She is drawing into herself. She just likes to sit by the fire. She isn't interested in things any more"—and similar expressions, when all the poor thing needs is a few grains of thyroid extract to make her just as normal as anybody.

Offer of New Job Puzzles Family
By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Dear Miss Fairfax: We've been married 13 years and have three children. My husband has been employed at the same job for 15 years. Now he has a chance at a much better paying job and he does not know whether to take it or not. The conditions of the new employment are such as he's wanted to work in all his life. Yet we're both afraid it would last only for the duration.

Would it be unwise to give up an old job for a new one, which, while paying more, wouldn't last? WORRIED.

Many letters on this very question have come to this column. Balled down to yes or no, it's a question for individuals themselves to answer.

If people own their own homes have a comfortable life insurance, expectation of inheriting money, they can afford to take a new job in a more congenial environment at better pay. If a man is apt at his work, such a job is likely to lead to another, after the duration. On the other hand, if the head of the family has nothing put by for a rainy day, and he hasn't plenty of initiative, it might be unwise to give up a steady job for short-time employment, even though it pays better.

SERIAL STORY YOU ARE THE ONE

CHAPTER FORTY-EVEN
Marg had said that Tibby looked pale and interesting, as one should, when in hospital. Tibby was not sure as to the "interesting" part, but she certainly looked pale enough. She tried rubbing a little rouge into her cheeks and she put on the pretty shell pink bed-jacket that Steena had brought her. She was expecting Wayne and so she must make some effort to sort of "perk" up. She would have to try to put on a brave exterior, since her interior felt so jittery.

When he finally came, after what seemed hours of waiting, not because of eagerness, but because of her anxiety, Tibby felt more ashamed than ever to think she had dressed Wayne's return as she had.

As Marg had predicted, he did not seem concerned with anything as long as he found Tibby safe and sound. He did not even reproach her for having taken up the silver ship without asking him and in his absence. He did not so much as refer to it until Tibby herself brought it up.

"It was my fault," Tibby said, with her customary honesty. "It was perfect flying weather. Wayne. The ship was in perfect condition. I don't know what happened, even—but I do know that it was something within me that went wrong, that I did not wake up until it was too late."

That was the only explanation Tibby could give. It had been something within herself. She should have been able to have righted the ship after all Wayne's patient, expert teaching. Nothing had gone wrong with the motor. There had not been any disturbance in wind or altitude. She had been unstrung, upset; she had not been sleeping well, either. She had not been in shape, in other words, to pilot the silver ship.

Wayne said, his steel gray eyes kind and understanding. "You're not to think of that. As long as you are safe, my dear, nothing else is of any consequence. As for the ship, I had it heavily insured, so please do not fret about it."

But there was something more that she must tell him, honestly, without evasion. That was Tibby's

Tea Surplus Will Be Allocated to United Nations

LONDON, Sept. 15 (CP)—Lord Woolton, Minister of Food, announced today that henceforth that ministry will allocate the entire exportable surplus of tea crops in India, Ceylon, and East Africa to the United Nations and neutral countries.

The allocations will be made in accordance with recommendations of the tea committee of the combined food boards, which includes representatives of Britain, the Dominions, the United States and Russia.

He warned the public that it might receive less, rather than more tea through British administration of the crop because the United Kingdom agreed to reduce its own requirements in order to obtain a fair distribution.

Health... Urge Moderation if Youth Takes Up Smoking

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

I smoke. A pipeful lasts for about one column. I often wish I didn't. It costs money. It's a dirty habit, and to some persons one's smoking is offensive. Life insurance companies advise those they insure not to smoke, giving this advice in terms of dollars and cents to their firms. Medical journals don't carry advertisements of tobacco.

Health authorities agree that smoking is most harmful during the child's growth, and athletes who observe the rules of training don't smoke. Indeed, sports have generally had good effect in keeping some youths from smoking.

Religious appeals also are responsible for a certain percentage of non-smoking youths and adults. Though we must admire those persons who because of religious teachings or obligations avoid tobacco and the like, yet, by and large, these influences do not seem to be very great.

Health... Urge Moderation if Youth Takes Up Smoking

HEALTH APPEAL
Also we must admit that parental example is a factor, that the father and mother who don't smoke are in a more favorable position to win their child not to smoke. However, we need to recognize that our folkways are such that the use of tobacco is generally considered as belonging only to those grown-up, or nearly so. To the child of 10 the parent can say that smoking is for big people with about as much effect as to say to the tot of two that pickles are not for little children.

The health argument, I believe, is the strongest. Practically all of us parents, with this argument in mind, strongly wish our children would not smoke at all or not until they have fully grown.

COST OF SMOKING
I don't believe we have emphasized the argument of cost enough. Many a youth, especially if he has learned to operate on an allowance or budget, would not start smoking if he had carefully counted the actual money cost for cigarettes.

Let no parent suppose he can keep his child from smoking merely by commanding him not to smoke.

URGE MODERATION
Having done your very best to

Health... Urge Moderation if Youth Takes Up Smoking

keep your son or daughter from smoking, suppose this child begins to smoke. Your next step is to induce him or her to smoke in moderation. I hope you don't cause the child to smoke clandestinely, abuse him, or act childishly in any way about his smoking. Better to have your child love you and smoke than to despise you and smoke anyway.

"I've got to be shown!"

"Today, with war hitting retail business in so many ways, I want the kind of support from manufacturers that I can see... the kind that goes to work for me right here in town."

1. "I want ads that help me answer my customers' questions and solve their wartime problems. When a manufacturer runs ads like that in my local newspaper, it really takes a big load off a retailer's shoulders...and it's a service to my customers, too."
2. "How to sell isn't my whole problem any more. I worry about what to sell, too...just as Mrs. Customer wonders what she can buy. The best way a manufacturer can help us both is with newspaper ads both she and I will be sure to read."

3. "New products are helping a lot to fill the gaps on my shelves. They help most, though, when they're pushed by newspaper ads...ads that show all my customers what they look like, and tell them these new items can be bought in stores like mine."
4. "A manufacturer's newspaper ads show me, too, that he's still mighty interested in my problems... even though he's got plenty of his own. His salesman may not call so often...but as long as his newspaper ads are pitching, I know he's backing me."

Wide-awake retailers...here in town and all over Canada...are realizing more and more this vital fact: In wartime especially, the best support a manufacturer can give them is advertising in their local newspapers. In scores of new ways, manufacturers' newspaper advertising is helping retailers carry on through these critical

BLACKOUT SANDWICHES
Emergency Food For Hungry Families

ALL the family will praise your sandwiches if you will just avoid "fat taste" by the addition of H. F. Sauce. This is the secret to appetizing sandwiches.

"Blackout" Sandwiches are the latest wartime "newy". To make them, whip together 1/2 lb. of cream cheese with 1 tablespoon of H. F. Sauce and 1/2 tablespoon of horseradish; then beat a 3/4 oz. can of clipped beef and a tablespoon of butter until fringed. Break up fine and add to cheese mixture. Spread on buttered brown bread.

H. F. is a fine old English type, thick, fruity sauce. It is economical because it is concentrated. Try it on meat, fish, fowl, salads, soups, stews, etc. You'll be surprised at the wonderful flavour it gives foods.

Wartime Hints... Shoes Take on New Importance

There's going to be a lot more walking, the tire and gasoline situation being what it is. That won't hurt anyone, but it does bring to the fore the question of being well shod.

Regular polishing and the use of shoe trees are of primary importance in extending the life of footwear and in maintaining their appearance.

Comfortable and becoming shoes that are well cared for will prove a good investment in health, money and appearance. Extra care in buying to insure a good fit will mean added life to shoes.

Regular polishing is a first rule because good polish feeds the leather, makes it pliable and protects it. Wet shoes are easily put out of shape so rubbers and galoshes should be worn in wet weather. When shoes get wet and muddy wash off the mud with a damp cloth and wipe them dry. Insert shoe trees or stuff well with newspaper and dry slowly but completely, away from direct heat, and polish as soon as they are dry.

When shoes are not being worn they should be kept in shape with shoe trees. Replace soles just as soon as the outer ones wear through and have the heels straightened before the last is worn crooked.

C. W. Nelson Will Take His Bride to New Denver

VERNON, B. C., Sept. 15—The home of Sgt. and Mrs. R. S. Nelson of Vernon was en fête Tuesday Sept. 8 for the nuptials of Mrs. E. M. Reberger, daughter of Mrs. D. A. Dewey and the late Mr. Dewey of Langley Prairie, and Charles W. Nelson, son of H. S. Nelson, and the late Mrs. Nelson of New Denver. Rev. R. J. Love of Armstrong performed the ceremony, witnessed by immediate relatives and intimate friends. The rooms were deftly decorated with pink and white streamers, and while wedding bells combined with late summer flowers.

A floor-length gown of Queen's blue silk jersey, accented with white carnations and pink roses, Mrs. R. S. Nelson, as matron-of-honor, wore a dress of printed blue sheer, complemented with a corsage of roses and carnations. Sgt. Nelson was his brother's best man.

The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth, decorated with roses in varied shades of pink and rose, and flanked by rose tapers. A three-tier wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom was the central motif.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson left later for Kelowna, the bride travelling in a navy blue suit featuring a pin stripe, and matching accessories. They will make their home in New Denver.

Guests of Sgt. and Mrs. Nelson for a few days are Mrs. O. A. Dewey, mother of the bride, whose home is in the Fraser Valley and the father of the groom, H. S. Nelson of New Denver.

N.H.L. Hockey Given Go-Ahead Signal; Officials Pleased

OTTAWA, Sept. 15 (CP)—National Hockey League teams in Canada and the United States were officially notified today by Selective Service officials in Ottawa and Washington that they may operate this winter, but that no special consideration will be given under mobilization regulations to professional athletes.

Canadian and United States manpower authorities reached their decision after the N.H.L., which already has played three seasons of wartime hockey, requested information as to its status in the light of manpower regulations.

Elliott M. Little, Director of National Selective Service, told of the decision in a brief statement, released simultaneously at Washington, which said:

"While neither country (Canada or the United States) has any intention of granting exemption from military service to hockey players or other athletes, there is no objection to allowing their professional athletic activities unless and until they are requested to engage in some non-military war duty."

Mr. Little said that consideration also has been given to a request from the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association for a ruling on the positions of players and teams in its organizations.

"The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association," he said, "has undertaken to arrange its schedules, particularly travelling schedules which occur during playdowns and play-offs, to allow for a minimum of lost time from work."

"This cooperation is necessary because every adult amateur hockey player, like every other able-bodied citizen, must have a job and remain on the job the maximum possible time."

MONTREAL, Sept. 15 (CP)—The go-ahead signal for continuation of professional sport in wartime was received with satisfaction tonight by members of the National Hockey League both in Canada and the United States.

President Frank Calder, who has guided the League's destinies since its inception in 1917, seemed highly pleased with the announcement of approval made earlier in the day at Ottawa, and he said that "now we have the green light we can plan ahead."

The clubs will have to rely on young players up to 19 years of age and those players who are married or otherwise not required for active service, Calder added the teams may have to cut down on active player strength.

Phils Force Cards to Go All Out to Win 3-2 for Two-Game Lead

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 15 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals had to go all out in 14 nerve wracking innings today to conquer the once docile Phils, 3-2, and inflate their National League lead to two full games over the idle Brooklyn Dodgers.

Mort Cooper, big right-hander who had won 20 games to lead the Red Birds in their quest for the pennant, had one of his rare bad days and was lifted in the ninth, so Murray Dickson finally pitched and batted St. Louis to success.

With two out in the 14th he smashed a sizzling double deep in to right centre and came home with the deciding run when Jimmy Brown followed with a ground single right through the middle of the diamond.

If Cooper had been right there would have been no need for the marathon that kept 3526 fans in Shibe Park 3 hours and 19 minutes because the Cardinals grabbed a 2-run lead in the third inning.

With one out Harry Walker, substiting in centre field for the injured Terry Moore, beat out a single down the first base line, and after Knos

70 Men Belonging to N.H.L. on Active Service

MONTREAL, Sept. 15 (CP) — Seventy players belonging to national league clubs last season are now on active service, it was announced here today by President Frank Calder. Most of this number are registered with the services in Canada.

Many of these have never played in the big league but have been with N.H.L. farm clubs waiting a turn to step up. Others have been in amateur ranks but on NHL negotiation lists and thus were considered D.H.L. material.

Jersey City Leads With Newark Bears

JERSEY CITY, Sept. 15 (AP) — Jersey City made it three straight over Newark's pennant winning Bears here today and took a 3-2 lead in their best four of seven game semi final governors' cup series as they defeated the Bruins 3-1 before 1757 fans.

CANCEL GAME

CHICAGO, Sept. 15 (AP)—The final 1942 Chicago appearance of Boston Red Sox was cancelled today while the White Sox were leading 4-3, with one out in the last half of the fourth inning. It was not a legal game and none of the statistics will go in the record books.

Ted Lyons of the White Sox was on the way to his 14th victory when the game was called off because of adverse playing conditions.

Pitcher Vito Tamulis, one-time New York Yankee, is almost certain to get another big league chance in view of his excellent record this summer with the Nashville Vols of the Southern Association. The southpaw has won 18 games and lost only eight.

World Series Baseball to Open Sept. 30, Landis Announces

CHICAGO, Sept. 15 (AP)—The opening games of the 1942 World Series will be played Sept. 30 and Oct. 1 either in Brooklyn or St. Louis, K. M. Landis, Commissioner of Baseball, announced today.

Landis also disclosed the American Red Cross has rejected baseball's offer to share in Series receipts and as a result the entire sum given away will go to the United Service Organizations.

If Brooklyn Dodgers win in the National League so that the series is between the Dodgers and New York Yankees, the first six games will be played without a day's rest. In the event of a St. Louis Cardinal victory, an open date would be inserted each time the Series shifted sites to allow for travel.

Under the original World Series cash split-up announced by Landis Aug. 27, a major share of receipts would have been divided between the Red Cross and the U.S.O. The Red Cross, however, does not participate in benefits where it shares the income with any other group.

If the Dodgers win the National League pennant, Landis said the following dates will be in effect for the Series:—

Sept. 30, Oct. 1 at Brooklyn; Oct. 2, 3, and 4 at Yankee Stadium; Oct. 5 at Brooklyn; Oct. 6 open to permit ticket distribution for the final games; Oct. 7 at Brooklyn.

If the Cardinals win, this schedule will be followed:—
Sept. 30, Oct. 1 at St. Louis; Oct. 2 open for travelling; Oct. 3, 4 and 5 at New York; Oct. 6 open for travelling; Oct. 7 at St. Louis; Oct. 8 open for ticket distribution; Oct. 9 at St. Louis.

All games will start at 1:30 p.m. except in the event of Sunday games in New York or Brooklyn which would begin at 2:05 p.m.

Landis said if any game were postponed it would be played off on the field originally scheduled before the next regular game were played. In the event of a tie game, the game would be played off following the seventh contest on the field where originally scheduled.

Sports Roundup

By HUKH FULLERTON JR. Associated Press Sport Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 15 (AP)—Brooklyn fans may wind up without even "wait till next year" to console them if you can believe all the hints and green lights turning red on sports. . . and the fans are no sadder than Eastern baseball scribes as they contemplate making the trip to St. Louis and back without special trains, cars or comforts . . . of course you still have to think of those seven games with the Phils, but from the way they were acting up to the ninth inning yesterday, you'd figure they were trying to ease up and let the Cards in . . .

CLEVELAND, Sept. 15 (AP)—Jimmy Bivins' sharp punches floored Tami Mauriello tonight in the first round of their Cleveland arena Scrap and handed Mauriello his first loss since the New Yorker graduated to the heavyweight ranks a year ago.

Philadelphia Won't Operate Puck Team This Winter

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 15 (AP)—Peter Tyrrel, Manager of the Philadelphia Arena, announced today that it will not operate a team in the American Hockey League during the 1942-43 season.

He said insufficient players were available. The Philadelphia Rockets are the second team to drop out of the American League. Two weeks ago Eddie Shore announced that the Springfield Indians have been disbanded.

Ray "Sugar" Robinson rings up his 124th consecutive ring victory, above, as Tony Motisi melts to the canvas in the first round of their scheduled 10-rounder in Chicago. Time of the knockout was 2.41 of the first round.

Pressure Is on Flatbushers

In winning their 32nd victory in their last 36 games yesterday St. Louis Cardinals stretched their lead over Brooklyn to two full games. The Dodgers were idle.

The Cardinals could clinch the flag by winning all their remaining 10 games. Or they could lose one and still get no worse than a tie, even if the Dodgers should win all their remaining 12. The pressure is on the flatbushers.

The Cards are due in Boston today for a two-game series with the Braves, while the Dodgers open a two-game series with Pittsburgh at Ebbets Field. Here was the situation:

Won	Lost	To play
St. Louis	97	47 10
Brooklyn	94	48 12

Remaining schedule: St. Louis, Sept. 16, 17 at Boston; 19, 20 at Chicago; 21, 22 at Pittsburgh; 23, 24, Cincinnati; 26, 27, Chicago. Brooklyn, Sept. 16, 17, Pittsburgh; 18, 19 (H), Philadelphia; 22, New York; 23, Philadelphia; 24, 25, Boston; 26, 27, Philadelphia.

SUIT PREFERENCE VITAL. NEXT to the opening lead, which is the most important single play of all in the overwhelming majority of hands, the one ranking second to it is the choice of suit to be led by the defenders to the second trick. The first is more or less "blind," except for whatever inferences may be drawn from the bidding, plus what you see in your own hand, but the second is or should be a more precise matter. Then calculations may be based partly on what you see in the dummy and partly on what your partner plays to the first trick.

switched to his partner's suit, the spade K. That and the A won tricks, but the Q scored for declarer on the third round, and the rest of the hand was a pushover for South, by means of trump-dropping and a cross-ruff.

No trick can ever be taken in spades by South unless the opponents lead the suit. West should have read, upon seeing the singleton in dummy and the great number of hearts there, that East knew he would shift to spades or diamonds. There would be no sense in a shift to trumps with so many in dummy. Hence East's job was to signal his preference as between spades and diamonds. That is exactly what he did. His 2 was meant to call for the lower-ranking diamond, whereas the 7 would have asked for the higher-ranking spades. Had West read the message, a diamond lead would have forced the declarer eventually to break spades himself, and thus take no trick in the suit while losing three, enough to beat his contract.

East would have succeeded with his double if his partner had paid close attention to all that he saw, and made proper use of it. But he didn't.

Picking the safest lead of the club K, instead of the suit which his partner bid in response to the informative double, as a free bid, but did not rebid. West did not notice the card his partner put on the trick, which was the 2, or else did not derive any message from it. To the second trick, he

by C. M. & S.;

ASIC for Samples

Calling for tungsten prospects, the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company will invite prospectors to communicate with it and to send samples. Tungsten is a vitally needed war metal.

The company points out that tungsten occurs most commonly in schistite and wolframite. Both are found in "coarsely crystallized granite-like rocks, and schistite often occurs in sedimentary rocks, especially limestone, near granite contacts. They are found in many gold bearing veins and in placer gravels."

Schistite is described as a "yellow-brown, buff, grey or white mineral with a dull greasy lustre. It is brittle. Under an ultra violet lamp it fluoresces with a blue white color. But fluorescence is not definite indication" since other minerals, such as calcite and some types of quartz, have this property.

Wolframite is a dark brown to black mineral with black to reddish brown streaks. It is brittle and harder than schistite and cannot easily be scratched with a knife, as schistite may be. Its density is about the same as galena. It does not fluoresce with ultra violet light.

Scheme for Postwar Rehabilitation Made at Municipalities Meet

By H. L. JONES (Canadian Press Staff Writer) KAMLOOPS, B.C., Sept. 15 (CP). — A revolutionary plan for post-war rehabilitation, setting out a $60,000,000 model scheme for British Columbia and calling for Federal control of National Finance through the Bank of Canada and many changes in the present economic set-up, was laid today before the annual convention of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities by a special committee.

The committee's report proposed the $60,000,000 scheme for post-war municipal projects and noted that though the sum is large it is only equal to what we now spend every 18 days of the war, therefore it could only be met by continuing the present rate of Federal war spending for the purpose of peace for 18 more days after the Armistice.

The plan, which would include improvements and new building in municipal areas throughout the province would, along with Provincial Government projects, "take care of all returned men and women for a period of five years," the report said.

Post war financing was set out as the municipalities' greatest problem and on the report said: "We suggest that the Federal Government take over full control of national finance, and the issuing of money through the medium of loans to all public bodies for legitimate use, at a cost sufficient to cover overhead—printing, distribution and bookkeeping. Such charge should not exceed one per cent. Back of all such money would be the people and resources of Canada."

Other important points of the committee's post-war plan were: 1. Government establishment of free medical and dental clinics together with free hospitalization, with all doctors and dentists becoming civil servants.

2. Legal advice to be made available without cost to people with low incomes. 3. Old age pensions be brought much closer to the cost of living index and the pensionable age reduced and made flexible.

4. Government guaranteed minimum prices for all farm products and removal of educational costs from the land. 5. Capital to be made available to farmers at low cost, to be repaid after harvesting of crops.

6. Establishment of a national minimum wage for workers, such minimum to be based on the Government's cost of living index. 7. Establishment of a Dominion-wide standard of education as a basic national obligation, with provincial privilege to extend indefinitely beyond such standard as may be deemed necessary.

Dealing further with post-war rehabilitation in British Columbia, the report said that the province could solve any threatened unemployment problem by producing at home goods it now imports such as linoleum, furniture, china, glassware, refrigerators, electrical goods, clothing and other things it proposed the setting up of new industries with cooperation of the municipalities, such as pottery industry at Salmon Arm where suitable clay is available, a fruit by-products industry in the Okanagan, a rayon industry anywhere in the province, coal by-products at Princeton and Nanaimo and an asbestos industry where abundant deposits are located.

Dealing extensively with labor the report recommended equal pay for equal work for either sex; a reduction if necessary of working hours so that all work may be equally shared by all members of the community; regulation of working conditions which will ensure the worker the highest standards of working conditions; compensation for injury or occupational sickness sufficient for a full standard of living with adequate medical care and hospitalization and equal representation of labor on all Government-appointed boards.

KAMLOOPS, B.C., Sept. 15 (CP) — A call to municipalities to concentrate all efforts on winning the war was sounded today by Reeve R. M. Grauer of Richmond in his Presidential address to opening full session of the Union of British Columbia municipalities.

President Grauer warned the 125 delegates from all parts of the province that despite increasing municipal costs, it is improbable that additional aid will be forthcoming from the Provincial Government.

Another development of note is Nazi confirmation of a recent British statement that the German U-boat attack centre in the Atlantic was shifting Northward and Eastward. Berlin claims a damaging assault on a convoy in the middle North Atlantic costing the allies a score of cargo and naval craft out of a West-bound sailing. Canada has announced sea losses in nearby waters.

The changed Nazi scene of action was due in part to increasingly effective American protective measures in the Western Atlantic and Caribbean, now supplemented by experienced British air patrols, in part to the sustained British bombing of Nazi submarine construction centres, bases and Bay of Biscay routes to Western hunting grounds; and in part to growing U-boat losses.

Two things about the Berlin claim tend to support that British explanation. It was a West-bound, not East-bound convoy picked for attack. Re-turning enemy ships are less heavily guarded than East-bound troop transports or supply craft. Berlin also paid tribute to young U-boat crews said to have been engaged. Serious attrition among seasoned undersea personnel is suggested.
