Allies Score New Gains in France

By JAMES M. LONG
Associated Press War Correspondent

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, June 15 (AP)—A great armored battle of attrition ground ahead today on the Eastern wing of the Allies' beachhead in Normandy, held by British and Canadian forces, and strong German counter-attacks were repulsed with what tonight's communique from Supreme Headquarters called "considerable loss to the enemy."

On the western end of the 100-mile front American troops slashing Westward from Carenton on a 10-mile front have reached firm ground within six miles of La Haye du Puits, junction of the last German-held rail-highway lifeline to the port of Cherbourg, and within 4½ miles of the secondary junction point of St Saveur-Lecomte. The communique said "steady progress" was made.

In the developing drive to cut off and capture the Cherbourg Peninsula, similar steady advances were reported for a less clearly defined thrust through the lowlands between the Vire and Elle Rivers Southeast of Carentan.

This advance appeared to be aimed toward St Jean de Daye, on the highway linking St Lo and Carentan Extent of the gain was not disclosed officially but it appeared probable that the road had been cut about five miles West if Lison.

On the extreme right flank of the Allies' beachhead, American capture of the coastal village of Quineville and surrounding territory was said to have provided "a valuable new outlet from the beaches."

These were the principal gains in the 10th day of the Allied invasion of France, which saw the offensive all along the 100-mile line gather force and either gain ground or repel repeated enemy counter-attacks.

Right around the irregular front, starting on the Northwest, this was the battle situation as the invasion went into its 11th day:

Quineville: American right flank on the sea, scene of a six-day action in which the Americans took the town and scored local gains across the Quineville-Montebourg road.

Montebourg: Still in German hands but increasingly outflanked on both sides by the American 4th Division which took Quineville and put the Montebourg-Valognes highway under heavy artillery fire.

Port L'Abee: Airborne Americans, 4½ miles Northeast of St Saveur-le-Comte, under rising enemy pressure but holding firm.

Carentan: American thrust Westward now well across defensively-flooded ground into farm land West of village of Baupte. Germans acknowledge Americans reached Pretot, three miles beyond Baupte and barely six miles from La Haye du Puits. German 17th Motorized Infantry Division with some tanks crushed back in vain counter-attack.

Lison: Allied 21st Army Group Headquarters disclosed Americans advanced Westward in Vire and Elle River areas nearly halfway across base of the Cherbourg peninsula. Particulars withheld. Lison, 11 miles inland, was taken last week.

Caumont: In British hands, with operations still in patrol stage but prospects of early expansion. Strong German counter attacks repulsed between Caumont and Tilly sur Seulles.

Villers-Bocage: Scene of increasing pressure from both sides, with town in German hands and Allies facing it on high ground quarter mile distant across Seulles River.

Tilly-Caen-Troarn zone: Heavy tank fighting with Germans stopped in their tracks around Tilly and losing slightly between Caen and Troarn but still holding Troarn. Canadian forces are in this sector.

Both the Vichy radio and Allied correspondents in the field predicted a heavy new British-Canadian attack in the Caen sector.

British and American warships throughout today engaged German mobile batteries on the Allied flanks, the British battleship Nelson slamming 16 inch shells into the guns at the port of Le Havre.

It was announced also that German naval forces in Le Havre suffered very severely from Wednesday night's R.A.F. attack with sixton "factory buster" bombs. The Germans repeatedly have hinted east that Le Havre was an imminent invasion objective of the Allies.

Nine big German Tiger tanks and eight Panthers were reported knocked out in a slugging match just East of Villers Bocage and it was likely that these represented only a fraction of the day's total losses from the 800 enemy tanks estimated to be in action on the British-Canadian front.

Best estimates here were that at least 30 enemy divisions were being engaged—a total of 300,000 to 500,000 men. At least four of these were known to be armored divisions.

NEW CEILING ON KOOTENAY STRAWBERRIES

Changes Give Late Producing Areas Price Advantages

OTTAWA, June 15 (CP)—The Prices Board announced tonight that changes have been made in a new order governing price ceilings for strawberries to adjust the ceiling for late producing areas.

Zone No. 3 in the order, which originally included Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Eastern Quebec, Northern Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and the Kootenay area of British Columbia.

In Zone 2 the ceiling price to wholesale distributors will be 27 cents a quart and 14¢ cents a pint up to June 24. After that date the price will drop to 22 cents a quart and 12 cents a pint, remaining at that level until July 15, when ceiling prices revert to those of the period before June 24.

The Board's announcement said the changes were made to give the late producing districts the advantage of the normal price increase that takes place in the season. The order applies only to sales of fresh fruit for market purposes and not to sales to processors.

Wholesalers may sell on the basis of their cost any strawberries they may have on hand or in transit at the time of the price change so as to allow growers the ceiling prices right up to the date of the price change.

Russ Cut Hole in Finns' Second Line

LONDON, June 15 (AP)—The Russians drive for possession of Finland advanced further up the Karelian Isthmus today with Gen. Leonid A. Govorov's troops capturing 17 more fortified Finnish strongpoints along the road to Viipuri, Moscow announced tonight.

Moscow said Govorov's army in six days of battle had advanced 23 miles through the first and second Finnish defence zones and widened the breach to 47 miles.

During bitter fighting Tuesday Soviet troops were reported to have opened a gaping hole in the Finns second great belt of permanent defences between Mustomaki and Kutsa and captured two important towns Mustomaki, a railway station 37 miles from Viipuri on the line to Leningrad, and Ino, a coastal community South of Mustomaki.

The Finns were using the forests for ambushes, causing extreme caution on the part of Soviet troops anxious to save every tank in the vast wilderness of the Karelian Isthmus.

The Russians introduced heavy bombers in efforts to blast through the forests, An Izvestia correspondent reported that sailors from the Baltic Fleet had entered the campaign, but he did not specify where.

Temperatures

Temperature extremes at Nelson Thursday, a day of sunshine with brief cloudy periods, were 71 and 43.4 degrees. Rainfall Wednesday measured .15 of an inch, while the mercury ranged between 64.1 degrees and 45.8.

DIES AT KELOWNA

KELOWNA, B.C., June 15 (CP)—Funeral services were held today for David Alan Lloyd-Jones, former operator of Kelowna Sawmills Co., who died this week. Born in Burford, Ont., Mr. Lloyd-Jones came West in 1890.

First Victory at General Election

REGINA, June 15 (CP)—The C.C.F. movement, Western-born and fostered on the Prairies, today won its first victory at a general election and will form the new Saskatchewan Government.

A factor in Saskatchewan elections for the past decade, the C.C.F. boomed to victory over its Liberal and Progressive Conservative opponents without the issue ever being in doubt.

T. C. Douglas, 40, the C.C.F. provincial leader who left his seat in the House of Commons in May to lead his party in the election, was elected in his own constituency of Weyburn.

Premier W. J. Patterson, Liberal Premier for the past nine years, had a narrow majority in Cannington when the count was completed. Whether he will take a seat in the Legislature again will depend on the vote by men and women in the services within Saskatchewan which will be counted on June 19.

The "soldier votes" will be distributed to candidates in the voters' home constituencies and with several thousand voters in the services within Saskatchewan these ballots may cause changes.

Major E. M. Culliton, Minister without portfolio, also will watch the soldier vote with intense interest. When the count was practically completed his C.C.F. opponent, Dr. H. E. Houze, had a narrow lead. Maj. Culliton has been on active service since early in the war.

C.C.F. candidates were elected in the three two-member constituencies—Regina, Saskatoon and Moose Jaw—taking former Liberal seats in each case.

FOUR MINISTERS BEATEN

Four Cabinet Ministers have been defeated—J. W. Estey, Attorney-General; J. G. Taggart, Minister of Agriculture; Hubert Staines, Minister of Education and R. J. M. Parker, Minister of Municipal Affairs. A. T. Procter, Minister of Highways, was reelected.

Maj. George Williams, former C.C.F. provincial leader, was reelected. The Liberals did not name a candidate in his riding of Wadena.

The C.C.F., with 10 members, was the strongest opposition group in the Legislature at dissolution a month ago. The Liberals had 33 seats.

Voters went to the polls under sunny skies throughout most of the province. Those who had to splash through muddy side roads did not mind as moisture means crop success in a province harried by drought conditions when the last election was held in 1938.

Election officials said they anticipated the vote would be smaller than in 1938 as more than 100,000 voters have left the province for service with the forces or for work in war industry.

Candidates for the 51 seats in today's voting numbered 150, the largest group—51 — being C.C.F., with 50 Liberal and 39 Progressive Conservative. Ten Labor-Progressive, Independent and Social Credit candidates all failed to obtain election.

Mr. Douglas said in a statement following the vote that the victory had been due to cooperation of the people and a continuation of this aid would be necessary in facing responsibilities ahead. He said the vote indicated condemnation of Federal Government agricultural, manpower and reconstruction policies.

Mr. Douglas said his government would take office as soon as Mr. Patterson decided when he would hand over the reins of office.

The new government leader is a Baptist Minister who entered the political field in 1934 and served in the Commons as member for Weyburn for nine years. Scottish-born, he came to Canada at the age of six. A skilled debater, he is a graduate of Brandon College and McMaster University. In his university days he was an outstanding amateur boxer.

C. C. F. supporters staged a vigorous celebration in Regina, with crowds cheering as results were posted on a newspaper bulletin board and motorists blowing car horns. Ald. C. M. Fines, president of the provincial C.C.F. organization, was carried shoulder high through the crowd. He was elected in Regina.

M. J. Coldwell, national C.C.F. leader, and Mayor C. C. Williams, also a successful candidate in Regina, walked at the head of a victory parade.

DEEP WEDGE DRIVEN INTO NAZIS

Campaign Sweeping to Its First Great Climax

By ROSS MUNRO
Canadian Press War Correspondent

WITH BRITISH AND CANADIAN FORCES IN FRANCE, June 15 (CP Cable)—This campaign is sweeping to its first great climax and big battles, which would bring large armored formations into combat over the Normandy farmlands, may be approaching rapidly.

A deep wedge was driven into German-held territory South of Bayeux by the thrilling dash of an Allied armored formation past Tilly sur Seulles and on toward Villers-Bocage, about six miles South of Tilly. It has been a vitally important thrust.

This thrust was slowed down as the Germans threw in armor and guns to block it but a salient has been created which, if developed, could outflank Caen from the West.

There has been stern fighting on this battleground South of Bayeux and the enemy could stop it only by drawing troops from distant points and hurling them into battle.

On the immediate Caen sector to the East of this salient, the Germans still have their bulge in the beachhead line.

But Canadian and British forces on this Caen perimeter maintain the initiative and the enemy has taken up strictly defensive positions for the moment.

The Germans have been given little rest and artillery hammers them several times day and night while Allied fighters and bombers roar over the area from dawn to dusk.

On no other battlefield have I seen anything like these continuous sweeps of our low-flying fighters, which blast with cannon and machine-gun fire and bombs anything in the enemy zone that moves.

THREE ITALIAN TOWNS FALL BEFORE ADVANCE

Orvieto, Aquila, Narni Taken; Terni Tottering

By EDWARD KENNEDY
Associated Press War Correspondent

ROME, June 15 (AP)—Bursting through another line of defences thrown up by the retreating Germans beyond Rome, Allied forces have captured the large Italian towns of Orvieto, Aquila and Narni and were fighting tonight in the outskirts of the important industrial and communications centre of Terni, 45 miles North of the capital.

British 8th Army columns fought their way into Orvieto, 57 miles Northwest of Rome; Narni, 41 miles due North of the capital, and Aquila, 54 miles to the Northeast, above Avezzano. Lt.-Gen. Sir Oliver Leese's forces were checked temporarily on the outskirts of Terni by blown bridges and a stiff German counterattack.

American troops shoving up the Tyrrhenian coast captured Magliano and threatened Bengodi, only 14 miles from Grosseto. They had entirely cleared lateral higway 74, running inland from the coast past the Northern shore of Lake Bolsena.

Today's Allied communique reported more Allied troops had crossed the Saline River, just North of Pescara in the Adriatic sector. The Saline flows into the Adriatic 17 miles Northwest of Ortona.

Despite the arrival of fresh German divisions in Italy Allied armies still are encountering only formations made up of remnants of the 14th German Army. Apparently these are being used for the present delaying action and the new divisions are being saved for a stand on a line farther North.

The Allied communique said all of Highway 74, which runs from the coastal highway at a point North of Orbetello Eastward to Orvieto, was in Allied hands.

Americans Get Saipan Foothold

Continue Inland in Marianas Push; Nimitz Reports Progress Is Good

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—American forces invading Saipan Island in the Marianas have obtained beachheads and are continuing inland despite artillery fire and enemy tanks, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz announced tonight.

"In general, fighting is heavy but good progress is being made against well organized defences," Nimitz said.

"Virtually all heavy coastal and anti-aircraft batteries on the island were knocked out by naval gun fire and bombing. Our troops have captured Agingan Point. In the town of Charan Kanoa, brisk fighting is continuing.

"The enemy has attempted several counter attacks with tanks. These attacks have been broken up by our troops with the support of ships and aircraft."

Agingan Point is on the Southwestern tip of the island. Charan Kanoa is one of the few sizeable communities on the island.

The assault on Saipan, Japanese air and naval base, was launched Wednesday morning after intensive preparatory bombing and bombardment of it and neighboring Japanese defence points.

Additional assault forces were storming ashore despite enemy resistance.

This bold move to advance American bases 1100 miles West of the Marshall Islands climaxed four days of pre-invasion assault by powerful naval and air forces, starting last Saturday. The first day of the attack wiped out almost all of the enemy's air force based in the Southern Marianas.

In invading Saipan, Vice-Admiral Richard Kelly Turner's forces vaulted far beyond Truk, major enemy base in the Central Caroline Islands. When a firm hold is established on Saipan, it will place American forces 675 miles to the rear (West) of Truk.

Guam, Southernmost of the Marianas, also would be outflanked.

The operation was believed to be the most spectacular of the Pacific War, due to the major use of rocket-firing planes and ships.

Saipan is the second largest island in the 500-mile long Marianas chain. Westward lies a clear ocean sweep to the Philippines, Formosa and the China Coast.

Canadian Spitfire Squadron Downs Nine Nazis

AN R.C.A.F. BASE IN ENGLAND, June 15 (CP Cable) — A Canadian Spitfire squadron racing over the Caen area of Normandy beachhead in support of Allied troops locked in battle on the ground tore into a formation of 20 ME-109's today and blasted nine of them out of the sky. Another was damaged.

The squadron was led by Flt. Lt. J. F. McElroy of Port Arthur, Ont., and Kamloops, B.C.

A general melee developed when the Canadians flying directly toward them at 15,000 feet.

REAL POSTWAR PROBLEM TO BE DISTRIBUTION

Challenges "Notion" Employment, Jobs Key to Veteran Aid

OTTAWA, June 15 (CP)—A challenge to what he termed the accepted notion that jobs and employment constitute the key to the problem of re-establishing veterans of the present war was delivered today in the Commons by Walter Kuhl, Social Credit member for Jasper-Edson constituency in Alberta.

Speaker Glen ruled Mr. Kuhl out of order in the debate on second reading of the bill to create a Department of Veterans' Affairs, but only after hearing the general trend of his argument and deciding that it had nothing to do with the bill.

"It never was the munction of industry to employ men," said Mr. Kuhl. "The only same function of industry is to produce goods whether it uses manpower o- not."

In the modern world the power machine had displaced human labor to the extent that the employment of manpower was no longer necessary as before to provide a high standard of living. That, said Mr. Kuhl, was why he quarreled with those who advocated full employment and jobs for all.

The post-war problem would not be employment. There would be goods in abundance as there were before the war. The real problem would be to distribute the goods. A four-hour working day and higher incomes for all might provide the solution to the problem.

"If employment is to be the means to reestablishment of the returned men we are going to fail in that objective," he said.

He said no industry ever employed a man for the sake of employing him, but only for the sake of making more money. Lt. Col. J. A. Ross (PC—Souris) said he was hopeful of the results to be obtained from the Veterans' Land Act. He urged special care to see that soldiers were not settled on sub-marginal land. He suggested no land should be allotted to a soldier until it had been certified by a soil expert from the University of the Province concerned and until the deal was approved by a representative of the Canadian Legion.

A. W. Neill (ND—Comox-Alberni) complained that Hon. R. B. Hanson (PC—Kork-Sunbury) received a recent Order-in-Council changing rehabilitation regulations before other members of the House.

"In fairness to the Minister, I think it was because I asked for it," said Mr. Hanson.

"Then I hereby ask all Ministers for copies of all Orders-in-Council as soon as they are passed," said Mr. Neil.

Japs Claim U.S. Losses Heavy

NEW YORK, June 15 (AP)—Tokyo radio claimed tonight that the invasion of Saipan in the Marianas has cost the Americans 1800 casualties and the loss of 40 landing barges.

The broadcast asserted, "obviously this invasion of Saipan was timed to coincide with the invasion of Europe, but we have thrown the Americans back to the sea."

14-Year-Old Girl Rescues Child

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C., June 15 (CP)—Diving into swift running Eaglet Creek at nearby Giscombe today, 14-year-old Kathleen Neil saved Raymond Herbert, three, from drowning when the lad slipped from a raft into the deep water.

Kathleen had to swim some distance and dive for the boy. Raymond revived when artificial respiration was administered.

Industrial Areas Hit Japs Admit

Say Northern Kyushu, Yawata Hit; "One or Two" Factories Are Ablaze

NEW YORK, June 16 (Friday) (AP) — A short-wave broadcast to North America by the Tokyo radio shortly before midnight acknowledged that American bombers had damaged the "railway line between Orio and Hakata" in their raid on targets in Japan.

NEW YORK, June 15 (AP)—Japanese Imperial Headquarters said in a broadcast communique tonight that about 20 B-29 and B-24 bombers from the "China area" had raided Northern Kyushu six hours before, the Federal Communications Commission reported. The communique, contained in a Domei agency broadcast from Tokyo, said:

"Today, June 16, at about 2 a.m. from the China area, about 20 B-29 (super Fortresses) and B-24 (Liberators) planes raided the Northern Kyushu sector. Our Western air defence forces immediately intercepted and repulsed them, shooting down several. Our losses were negligible."

An earlier Tokyo broadcast, made just ahead of the communique, claimed that six of the American planes were shot down, and named the city of Yawata, situated in a narrow strait across from the great Japanese naval base of Shimonoseki as one of the principal targets.

The communique was broadcast in romanized Japanese to occupied areas, the F.C.C. said, while the Tokyo radio's first statement came in an English language broadcast beamed to the United States. This broadcast said the raiders concentrated their attacks on industrial areas of Mojo and Shimonoseki.

Other Japanese broadcasts also named Yawata and Kokura as targets. During the night the Japanese stations issued a number of reports on the attack, minimizing its importance.

One broadcast said the raiders aimed mainly for the Moji and Yawata vicinity. The former is an important communications centre and the latter is one of the most important steel producing districts in Japan.

A broadcast beamed to North America and recorded by the F.C.C. said "one or two factories blazed up due to the bombings."

The broadcast declared that "the damages incurred on our side were negligible and of no military importance." It said that two or three fires were started in comparatively unimportant centres but that they were quickly extinguished.

Kyushu is the Southernmost unit in the island group forming the Japanese homeland.

"Quick and effective interception by the Japanese defence" resulted in the shooting down of six of the attacking bombers, Tokyo claimed, adding, "Japanese pilots who engaged the raiders also disclosed that among the enemy planes shot down were the new B-29 super bombers."

The Japanese announcement said the raid "did not work according to the original plans of the enemy."

BAY TOKYO BOMBED

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP) —Japan was bombed today by huge new planes, the B-29, and Congress heard that Tokyo suffered "great destruction."

The War Department disclosed that the long-secret flying giants had gone into action. The announcement said:

"B-29 super Fortresses of the United States Army Air Forces 20th Bomber Command bombed Japan today."

To this was added some time later that the planes flew to the attack from the China-India-Burma theatre.

Then Representative Joseph Starnes (D-Ala.) arose in the House of Representatives to tell his colleagues that the target of the raid was Tokyo proper. A good source informed him, he said, that a large number of American planes were causing "Great destruction in Tokyo."

It was the second American bombing of Japan, but the first announcement of action by the B-29s.

Representative Carter Manasco (D-Ala.) said the War Department advised him the B-29's "bombed several large cities" on the mainland of Japan but there was no information yet on the results.

Representative Manasco said the assumption could be that the reference was made to Tokyo and Yokohama.

This opened a new phase in the war—a phase in which fleets of the world's most formidable planes will strike at the enemy anywhere on earth at the command of one man—Gen. Arnold.

Few details of this first mission by the new planes—twice as heavy and one third larger than the Flying Fortress—were disclosed in a War Department announcement.

Gen. Marshall, United States Army Chief of Staff, explained in a statement that the "Super Fortresses' were placed under the centralized control of the joint Chiefs of Staff with a single Commander, Gen. H. H. Arnold, acting as their agent in directing their bombing operations throughout the world.

"The planes will be treated as major task forces in the same manner as naval task forces are directed against specific objectives," he said.

Because of the enormous range and heavy bomb load of this newest bombardment plane, said Gen. Marshall, they can strike "from many and remote bases at a single objective."

Their power is so great, the Chief of Staff continued, that the (American) joint Chiefs of Staff decided it would be uneconomical to confine the Super Fortress organization to a single theatre.

"This type of flexible, centralized control recognizes that very long-range bombardment is not a weapon for the air forces alone. Under the joint Chiefs of Staff, theatre commanders will have a voice in its employment, ensuring that maximum effectiveness will be obtained through missions which will contribute directly to the overall strategy for the defeat of the enemies."

Truk Handed Heaviest Bombing Blow

ADVANCED ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, June 16 (Friday) (AP) — American bombers unloaded the heaviest bombing attack yet made on Truk, Japan's Caroline Islands naval base, Headquarters announced today.

The planes dropped 180 tons of bombs on the atoll during daylight raids June 12 and 13. They destroyed buildings and shot down nine intercepting Zeros in blasting Dublon and Eten Islands.

No further progress was reported in stalemated land fighting on Biak Island, in the Schouten Group. American forces, holding Mokmer airdrome, have been halted in their advance toward two other airstrips on the islet.

Heavy bombers also bombed Yap Island in the Caroline Group for the first time during the night of June 13-14. Yap, formerly a major cable base in the Pacific, lies approximately 250 miles Northeast of Palau, the Eastern guardian of the Philippines.

Breen, MacAvity Seen About Nakusp Witnesses Tell at Hearing

George Stowell Breen and John Francis MacAvity, appearing in Provincial Police Court here Thursday for preliminary hearing on a charge of breaking and entering the Nakusp Drug Store with intent to steal between April 29 and 30, were identified by witnesses as men seen in and around Nakusp between April 25 and 27.

Nakusp Drug Store was one of eight business premises entered the weekend of April 29 when cash and Victory Bonds of over $10,000 in value were missing. Breen and MacAvity have been in custody since before May 8. The hearing continues today at 10 a.m.

Drug capsules allegedly found in Breen's effects on his arrival at the Provincial jail here were similar to those missing from the drug store, it was brought out through testimony of three witnesses, G. R. Mackintosh of Nakusp Drug Store, Cpl. John White of the Provincial Police, and Stanley Walter Metcalfe, analyst, of Victoria. The drug they contained was nembutal, Mr. Metcalf asserted.

A heel imprint on a paper form, found on the floor of the drugstore April 30 after the burglary, corresponded by measurement and a peculiar mark to a left shoe found buried at one of two similar camp sites a mile North of Nakusp, Cpl. White said. Breen and a shorter companion had been seen April 27, carrying packs and walking North from Nakusp on the railway track by a witness, Mrs. Elizabeth Frances Edgington of Nakusp, she testified. The uncovered shoe was of similar size to that worn by Breen, according to Cpl. White.

"SOUP" FOUND

A bottle containing a small amount of liquid substance, identified from chemical tests as nitroglycerine by Analyst Metcalfe, was admitted as an exhibit. "Don't drop it", admonished C. B. Garland, Crown Prosecutor, when entering it for identification by B. C. Police Constable G. J. Emsley. It was handled with respect by Bench and Bar and witnesses alike. Constable Emsley found the bottle along with a number of other articles in a part of a safe found buried at one of the camp sites.

IDENTIFY FROM PHOTOS

Pack sacks, identified by Cpl. White as those in the possession of the defendants on their arrival under escort at the jail here, were said to be "like they were using" by Mrs. Edgington. A dark zipper jacket or sweater, found burried at the campsites by Cpl. White, "looks like" one worn by Breen near Nakusp, she said, when it was produced. The pack sacks carried by two men she had seen a number of times in late May walking North on the tracks and returning toward Nakusp were "very much like" the exhibits, Mrs. Maude Jordan, Nakusp, said.

When cross-examined on their identity of the men by A. G. Cameron of Trail, Defence Counsel, Mrs Edgington said she had been able to pick out Breen's picture from a pile of photos shown her by police, while Harry Olson, mill foreman, of Nakusp and Frank Rushton, merchant of Nakusp, had been able to identify photos of both from among a number. Their attentions had not been directed to the particular photos, the witnesses said. Gladys Lucille Barrow of Nakusp, Mr. Olson and Mr. Rushton all told the Court they had seen Breen and MacAvity at Nakusp April 25.

Twenty-seven exhibits were entered by the prosecution. Among them were some pairs of sox found by B. C. Police Constable H. J. Butler, stationed at Nakusp, at the campsite North of Nakusp. They bore laundry mark initials "M.A." A sock and two wool shirts allegedly from the pack sack in MacAvity's possession when he arrived at the jail bore similar "M.A." laundry marks, Cpl. White testified. Spruce bought beds had indicated to Constable Butler that two or three men had slept at the camps. Sleeping bags with spruce twigs on them were found in the pack sacks at the jail, according to Cpl. White.

The part of a safe, uncovered by Constable Emsley, contained among other articles a nembutal carton, an empty tin marked "Cetyloid", two heavy metal punches, the nitro glycerine, a partly used tube of liquid solder, a soap wrapper, and a number of documents, including stocks and shares, checks, letters of probate, certificates of title, insurance policies, Victory Bond application acknowledgements, food ration books, land deeds, and other papers. A piece of paper-wrapped laundry soap had also been found at the camps.

The 31 nembutal capsules, identified as such by analysts, were contained in a small box marked "Cetyloid" in Breen's effects Cpl. White told. The soap in the wrapper had been taken by corporal to fingerprint experts at Victoria and had not yet been returned.

Graham R. Mackintosh, of the Nakusp Drug Store described the burglary scene on his return to his store Sunday morning. About $14 in silver, two war savings stamps were missing from his till, a carton of approximately 100 nembutal capsules was also missing.

He identified the nembutal carton, found in the buried section of a safe, as from his store.

Under continuous use nembutal would be habit forming, Dr. L. E. Borden of Nelson testified. The prescription limit of nembutal capsules unless under extraordinary circumstances was 12, ordinarily six, he said. Nembutal was described as a sedative.

Mighty Bomber Force Hits Germans Again

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, June 16 (Friday) (AP)—Continuing the around-the-clock aerial punishment of Nazi targets in France, a tremendous force of R.A.F. bombers thundered across the Channel during the night in a spectacular sequel to widespread daylight operations.

Later it was announced that the night bombers were over enemy occupied territory and that a force of Mosquitos had raided targets in Germany.

The R.A.F. armada making the latest assault on the Germans' invasion defences was so large it took an hour and a half to pass across England's Southern Coast. The roar of engines was so great as Wednesday night when R.A.F.-R.C.A.F. planes delivered the heaviest aerial bombardment in history against Le Havre and other points on the French Coast.

After the first big R.A.F. night raiders had passed out of view last night flashes and explosions in the direction of Boulogne indicated that another vital Nazi port on the French Coast was getting a blasting.

Squadrons of R.A.F. fighters were believed to have escorted the bombers, for they began circling over the Southeast Coast shortly before the heavyweights started out. Some of the bombers came back within a short time after apparently hitting the French Coast. Others were believed to have struck deeper.

Weather in the Straits of Dover was not good. A wind was blowing up with heavy clouds prevalent.

De Gaulle Leaves Instructions on Administration

LONDON, June 15 (AP)—Gen. de Gaulle announced today that he had left instructions for administration of French civilian affairs during his visit to the Normandy beachhead, and this suggested an effort to eliminate the chief difficulty in British-American-French relations.

A communique issued through the French Press Service emphasizing the "atmosphere of immense fervor" with which it reported De Gaulle was received in Allied-liberated towns Wednesday, said he gave directions "regarding resumption of civil administration, organization of supplies and public relief."

The instructions apparently were a step toward eliminating rough spots in the bid of De Gaulle's French Committee of National Liberation for full recognition as the voice of France.

De Gaulle returned to England today.

The communique referred to him as "President of the Provisional Government of the French Republic," a term which still lacks acknowledgement by Britain and the United States.

There was no clue as to the nature of De Gaulle's instructions, but it is unlikely such a trip would have been arranged if, view of the military situation unless some degree of accord had been reached on De Gaulle's position in civil affairs.

Expect Veteran C.C.F. Men to Form Cabinet

REGINA, June 15 (CP)—Veterans of C.C.F. campaigning in the Western provinces probably will be included in the Provincial cabinet to be formed by T. C. Douglas, provincial leader, following the C.C.F. victory in the Saskatchewan election today.

Mayor J. W. Corman of Moose Jaw, a lawyer, was said to be a likely appointment as Attorney-General. Mayor C. C. Williams of Regina also is likely to obtain a cabinet post, possibly that of Minister of Public Works.

Maj. George Williams, former C.C.F. provincial leader, now on active service with the Canadian Army, may be appointed Minister without portfolio. Some other cabinet office probably would be available for Maj. Williams, but his health has been indifferent since his return from overseas and he is expected to rest for a considerable period.

Mr. Douglas himself may assume the portfolio of Minister of Health. P. H. Brockelbank, a Tisdale constituency farmer and C.C.F. leader in the last Legislature, may become Minister of Resources.

Ald. C. M. Fines, long active in the C.C.F. movement in Regina and President of the C.C.F. provincial section, may receive the Municipal Affairs Portfolio.

Premier W. J. Patterson, head of the Liberal administration since 1935, had eight cabinet ministers in his administration. He himself held the portfolios of Provincial Treasurer and Minister of Telephones and Telegraphs in addition to being president of the council.

British Capture Strategic Bridge

KANDY, Ceylon, June 15 (CP)—British tanks have captured the three strategic heights—Pip, Squeak and Wilfred. This triple-peaked ridge dominates a deep wooded gorge in the Kangletongbi area more than 20 miles North of Imphal near the Indo-Burma border.

Continuous heavy rains in the last 36 hours has turned large areas of the Imphal plain into a shallow lake but British forces have maintained their attacks.

Other British troops, heavily supported by aircraft, struck today at Mogaung to wipe out this supporting base of the embattled Japanese garrison in Myitkyina, 31 miles East-Northeast of Mogaung on the severed Burma railway.

Air-borne Chindits of Maj.-Gen. W. D. A. Lentaigne's command and a jungle force under Brigadier 'Mad Mike" Calvert, secretly concentrated East of the town, made the attack.

Probe Tax Evasion Reports on Bayer

OTTAWA, June 15 (CP) — The Revenue Department said today in a return for M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, that it was investigating reports of tax evasion by the Bayer Co. of Canada.

(Mr. Coldwell, speaking in the report of a United States Senate Commons March 28, quoted from a sub-committee to the effect that a share of the Bayer profits was to be paid to the I. G. Farben Co. as a royalty).

VANCOUVER, June 15 (CP) — One thousand Burrard Shipyard employees who went on a sitdown strike today, returned to work later in the afternoon following an agreement with the management that no union will be recognized as bargaining agent in the yards until a vote had been held.

The work stoppage was called in sympathy with 120 members of the Shipwrights' Industrial Union (C.C.L.) who were protesting entry into the yard of business agents of the Amalgamated Shipwrights' Union.

The agreement which ended the stoppage also stated business agents would be allowed into the yards only for discussion with the management and not for talks with men on the job.

Disagree Over Sanity of Vancouver Man

VANCOUVER, June 15 (CP)—Three psychiatrists, testifying at the trial of Robert Logan of Vancouver for the murder of his wife last Dec. 4, expressed conflicting opinions today as to the sanity of the accused.

Dr. George H. Manchester, New Westminster, B.C., said in his opinion Logan was "sub-normal." He explained the accused had gone to school for one year only, had never read a book, played games nor danced, and had lain in the same bed for two hours with the corpse of his wife whom he had allegedly stabbed to death. Logan then allegedly cut his own throat in an attempt at suicide.

Dr. William A. Dobson of Vancouver said he concluded from his examination that the accused was "a mental defective, not insane, but about 75 per cent normal."

"My impression was that he was aware of what he had done," he added.

Dr. J. Gordon McKay said he found the accused "was mentally competent to stand trial—well orientated, with a good insight into his condition."

"He showed no evidence that would justify any physician to certify him as a mental case," he said.

The case is continuing tomorrow

After the battle died away he was visited by two friends, Engineroom Artificer John Dawson, R.C.N.V.R. of Nelson and Stoker George Foster, R.C.N.V.R. of Kimberley.

World Body to Maintain Peace Is Urged

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—President Roosevelt called today for creation of a world organization of all "peace-loving" nations to maintain peace and security—backed by force if necessary.

"We are not thinking of a superstate with its own police force and other paraphernalia of coercive power," the President said, but added that member nations of the world organization would maintain adequate forces "for joint action when necessary."

For the mechanics of a peace-promoting organization, Mr. Roosevelt proposed in a statement:

1. An international organization comprising all peace-loving nations.

2. A council, elected annually by these nations, to include the four major nations and "a suitable number of other nations."

(The big four are the United States, Britain, Russia and China.)

3. An international Court of Justice to deal primarily with disputes capable of settlement.

Mr. Roosevelt emphasized that for the need for physical enforcement of war prevention, the Government is seeking agreement with other nations to have their armed forces available for joint action.

The plan set forth in the President's statement will be the basis of conversations at a meeting to which Secretary Hull has invited Britain, Russia and China to send representatives.

Nurses Versatile on Pacific Front

CANBERRA — (CP) — Australian nurses are following closely on the heels of the Australian troops as they advance in New Guinea. They are staffing a casualty clearing station at Finschhafen and a general hospital at Lae.

At first they lived under campaign conditions, but the Army soon made them much more comfortable. When they went to Lae their mess was a mobile cooker in a tent, but in two days the Army built them a mess hall.

Some units have been functioning for four years, in the Middle East and in New Guinea, but the initial enthusiasm has not abated.

In some places nurses and convalescent patients have terraced gardens with rockeries, fountains and miniature waterfalls. They tried to grow vegetables, but found there were no bees to pollinate. So they did the job themselves with cotton wool wound on twigs. Crops of watermelons, tomatoes and cucumbers were prolific.

There is a rest home for them in the hills.

Perry, 19, who told the court that he was a minister for the Jehovah Witnesses and as such was entitled to exemption to military service, was sentenced by Magistrate Mackenzie Matheson to three months in jail. At the expiration of the sentence he will be turned over to the military authorities.

In passing sentence the Magistrate said courts in this country held that alleged ministers of this sect were not entitled to exemption but despite this ruling they continued to offer this defence.

Election Victory "Prelude to Federal Victory"

REGINA, June 15 (CP)—M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. national leader, said in a statement tonight that the C.C.F. victory in the provincial election had exceeded all his expectations.

His statement follows:

The result of the Saskatchewan election exceeded all my expectations. It is a peoples victory in the truest sense.

Our workers throughout the constituencies were volunteers. This made up for any lack of money we may have felt. We believe that this is a prelude to a victory in the Federal field, where alone the great national problems may be dealt with. Our success today rests on a firm basis of political and economic education.

We look forward to the future with confidence.

Japs Cut Off Retreat for Chinese Troops

CHUNGKING, June 15 (AP) — Japanese troops have crossed the Liuyang River, last line of defence before Changsha, by-passed the city on the East and then slashed Westward toward the Siang River to cut off the Southward line of retreat for the besieged defenders, the Chinese High Command indicated tonight.

Changsha lies on the East bank of the Siang.

The only chance of escape now remaining to the garrison forces, the High Command intimated, is to cross the Siang. But the invaders on the West bank have but a few miles to go to seal off the city.

Factory-Busters Blast Le Havre

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, June 15 (CP)—A force of between 1000 and 2000 American heavy bombers and escorting fighters swept over France this morning, bombing airplane plants, airfields and railroad facilities in a dozen places.

Berlin radio reported an attack on the great industrial city of Hanover in Germany while lighter Allied warplanes from bases in Normandy and Britain continued their widespread support campaign in a smashing follow-up to an 1100-bomber operation overnight.

As a part of the later operation several hundred Lancasters blasted E-boat pens at La Havre with six-ton "factory busters" in daylight.

A force of Mosquito bombers attacked the synthetic oil centre of Gelsenkirchen in the Ruhr last night to keep the unceasing assault on Hitler's war machine going around the clock.

The Lancasters, accompanied by fighter escort, were believed to have accomplished a successful mission yesterday in their switch to daylight bombing, for the Royal Navy reported no E-boats at work in the Channel last night.

The R.A.F.'s heavies have operated in daylight a few times in the past, notably in the D-day preliminary assault, but never in such a heavy attack. The tonnage dropped by the R.A.F. on the thick concrete installations at Le Havre was estimated as high as 3200 tons—more than most of the R.A.F.'s "saturation" attacks on German cities.

German broadcasts telling of the progress of the American daylight raids today reported planes over Brandenburg province, in which Berlin is situated, as well as over Hanover.

In all, the R.A.F. had more than 1100 bombers out last night. Their targets included another string of enemy railroad centres—Douai, Cambrai and St. Pol—and German front troop concentrations at Evrecy and Aunay-sur-Odon, only nine and 18 miles respectively, from Caen in the Normandy battle area.

Canadian heavy bombers participated in the attacks on Cambrai and St. Pol and two Canadian aircraft were lost.

R.A.F. night bomber losses—including these two R.C.A.F. planes—were placed at five. None were lost in the Gelsenkirchen attack.

The American 9th Air Force, in its heaviest assault since the first 48 hours of the invasion, sent out more than 3400 bombers and fighters from dawn yesterday to late last night to pound key points behind the Nazi lines with 1485 tons of bombs at a cost of 14 fighters and one medium bomber against 11 German planes shot down and 10 destroyed on the ground.

Hundreds of medium, light and fighter bombers and fighters of both the American 9th and R.A.F. Tactical Force concentrated on small targets in the area at the base of the Cherbourg peninsula, bounded by St. Lo, Coutances, Granville and Tessy, and up the peninsula.

The Americans included a surprise attack against the German air base at Le Mans in their operations last night. About a dozen planes were destroyed on the ground.

The R.A.F. bombed the Mezidor rail yards near Caen.

Late afternoon and evening targets included the railroad and highway junctions at Amorieres, highways at Vire, railroad yards at Domfront, bridges at St. Hilaire, Duharcomet and Argenton, German barracks at Noyen and, in the Laval area, "everything that moved."

The Germans claimed they bombed six Allied ships in the Channel.

Allied planes based in Britain yesterday flew about 2000 sorties from Italy and Mediterranean bases against a half-dozen oil refineries in Hungary and Yugoslavia.

Sandon Pioneer Dies in East

SANDON, B.C.—Word was received by friends at Sandon of the death of Alexander MacMillan at Glenandfield, Ontario, June 4th, the burial taking place on June 8th at the family plot at Kirk Hill. Mr. MacMillan, who was over eighty years of age, had gone East a year ago to visit his old home and relatives. Failing health had prevented his return.

Mr. MacMillan came to Sandon in the 1890's, and while he followed his trade as carpenter, he also engaged in leasing in the early days. When leasing on the Queen Bess property, he and his partner missed a fortune by choosing to work in the second tunnel. Had they chosen the other, they would have opened up the famous million and a quarter dollar high grade ore-shoot that the late Clarence Cunningham opened up at a later date by continuing the channel another eight feet.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC, June 15 — (AP)—Admiral William F. Halsey relinquished his position as Allied Commander-in-Chief in the South Pacific today to Vice-Admiral John Henry Newton, 62, his deputy commander.

Medicos Attack Kenny Treatment

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

CHICAGO, June 15 (AP) — A charge that the public and many doctors have been misled by publicity about the infantile paralysis treatment of Sister Elizabeth Kenny, famous Australian nurse, was made to the American Medical Association here today in a report by seven university professors, all physicians.

They also said they acknowledge that the Kenney publicity has stimulated the medical profession to more effective treatment.

The seven were appointed two years ago this June to evaluate the Kenny treatment by the orthopedic section of the American Medical Association and by the American Acadamy of Orthopedic Surgeons and the American Orthopedic Association.

"There is no evidence," the report said, "that the Kenny treatment prevents or decreases the amount of paralysis. We criticize severely the oft repeated statement of Miss Kenny to patients who have come to her after treatment elsewhere that had this case come to her early the disability would have been prevented. Such statements are not founded on facts.

"Spontaneous recovery in poliomyelitis occurs in many cases. Reports in the medical literature indicate that this varies in different epidemics from 50 to 90 per cent. We have seen many patients receiving the Kenny treatment who showed no muscle involvment at any time, yet she assumes credit for their satisfactory results and does not take into account the factor of spontaneous recovery."

DEMAND JAP NEWSPAPER BE SUPPRESSED

VANCOUVER, June 15 (CP)—Demand for suppression of The New Canadian, a newspaper published by Japanese crystallized today in a resolution asking City Council to request the Dominion Government to "investigate the necessity" of continuing to allot a newsprint ration to the publication.

The June 10 issue of The New Canadian described Mayor Cornett as "blowing a Nazi tune."

"In these days when the Government is pleading with people to save paper," he continued, "I can't see why the war effort should be impeded by diverting newsprint to a Jap propaganda sheet. Its only purpose is to inflame the Japs themselves."

All berries will be picked for packing or jam manufacture.

Tragedy . . .

Poverty Wages of Foolish Pride

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

"Dear Miss Fairfax:

"The man I married was supposed to be very well off. He never suggested any economies, domestic or otherwise. He urged me to open charge accounts at our better shops.

"The day of reckoning came when my husband was forced to go through bankruptcy proceedings. I know nothing of this looming tragedy until it was actually upon us. Then I was told that my husband had written to a rich uncle of mine who needed a housekeeper, also that I could bring our two children.

"This arrangement, without consulting me, struck me as a high-handed procedure. I'd never liked this uncle, and know while he might take me in from a sense of duty, that my children would be dreadfully repressed. Uncle John's house is kept exactly the way his late wife (my father's sister) had left it. Her toilet articles and her gloves are still on the dressing table in her bedroom. The atmosphere of the place is morbid and I could not think of bringing up my children there.

"My husband has never liked my mother because she disapproves of his extravagance and used to talk to him, about saving. His idea was if he splurged and spent, prosperity would overtake him but the 'rain day' instead of prosperity came, and we hadn't even a cotton umbrella.

"My plans are still in the making. My children will go to mother in the country, and I will try to get a job. The trouble is I haven't been trained for anything. Have you any suggestions what an untrained woman of 28 can do to support herself and her children? I'm supposed to be good looking and wear my clothes well.

S. G. D."

Go to your nearest National Selective Service Office. If you can pass a Civil Service examination, your choice of employment will be pretty good. Or you might capitalize on your ability to wear clothes well and take a job in a department store as a saleswoman or model.

Can you sew? Women who go out to sew are almost extinct. They command excellent prices per day. If you have the physical strength, you can go into a defence plant and be well paid as a welder or riveter.

Calisthenics . . .

Doff the Duffle at the Waistline

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Nobody asks you to be enthusiastic about calisthenics. Why should you be? They're work. But you will be wildly enthusiastic about the results.

These exercises doff the duffle at the waistline, firm your muscular girdle, and slim and smooth the hips. That should add up to the figure you are after. Moreover, this streamlining is so much velvet, for the same exercises are conditioners and give you extra drive and energy for living.

The kind of exercises you need depends largely on your job, on whether you sit all day and tend to round your shoulders and spread your hips, or whether you do housework and settle down in the middle, or are tense and tired from your war job. The same is true of the best time to exercise, which many of you write to ask about. If you are an office worker, you can take a few easy exercises when you get up in the morning. Take them right in your pyjamas, before dressing. But they should give you an easy start for the day. The ones taken lying down on the floor or bed are especially good. Frankly, I am against bouncing out of bed and bobbing up and down for exercise. There's no sense in knocking yourself out trying to be healthy! Don't under-estimate this mild stretch-twist routine. If you make it daily, you will be delighted with the changes in your figure.

The ideal plan for you office workers would be to swim or to play at some sport, or walk regularly, after five o'clock. When you are mentally tired, physical activity is a rest. Three times a week would keep you in condition and get your figure back.

If your job is homemaking, you are an executive and can arrange your exercise schedule to suit yourself. You get more out of exercise in the middle of the morning, before you have done too much housework and are tired. Your next best time is between three and four o'clock in the afternoon, which is another high energy level. Fifteen minutes' calisthenics for the big muscles will give your more energy, not less.

If you are in war work, your exercise time depends entirely on the shift you are on. But you need exercise, too.

The only times not to exercise apply to all of you: Do not exercise within one hour after eating and wait 20 minutes after exercising before eating, and do not take strenuous exercise before retiring.

Summer is cartwheel weather, and even the man hatter designers are willing to give us them, as witness the Palm Beach cloth hat above, made by a famous man hatter.

Children Should Respect Property

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

I have never had any house or apartment for rent, but I should like to say a word in defence of the landlord who won't rent to adults with children. Suppose you had a house or apartment for rent. Wouldn't you consider it more profitable to rent it to a family without children than to one with children, especially young children? If, of course, you had a private fortune and wished to be a philanthroplst, that would be different.

To be sure, some families with children are more careful of rented property than other adults without children; yet most are not. Many children are very destructive of rented property and, in recent years with more and more children uncontrolled by their parents, the problem is growing increasingly serious. The tragedy of it is that the parents with well-trained children must pay the penalty of those with ill-trained ones.

It may take a long while for parents in general to convince landlords that they and their children can be desirable tenants. But that will happen when enough so-called best parents, beginning with the babies, bring them up to be careful of property and respectful of the rights of others. Once a large group of these "good" parents win such a reputation, many less-privileged parents will imitate them and the proble mof "no children allowed," will gradually diminish.

Nutrition . . .

High Value of Ice Cream

By Logan Clendening, M.D.

The first reaction of the average dietician to anything new or strange in the way of food is—"It's bad for you." Especially if it tastes good. By the average dietician I include not only the professors of biologic chemistry, but also mother and grandma and the cook.

It was so with ice cream. Dolly Mawdison, according to legend, invented it and it immediately caught on. But it had plenty of opposition. The sour pusses said it froze the stomach and stopped the flow of gastric juice.

Well, people by disregarding the dietetic advice of the early days have performed a mass experiment which proves in itself that ice cream can't be anything but healthy. The average person has for many years consumed nine pounds of ice cream a year.

If milk is good for you then ice cream is good for you. In the realm of the vitamins milk is the largest contributor of riboflavin in the dietary of medium cost diets. The thiamine (Vitamin B) content of ice cream is four hundred milligrams per 100 grams, of Vitamin C, 1 gram, and of Vitamin A, 450 international units.

For calories and nutritional value an ice cream cone is as good for your body as a shovelful of coal for a furnace. So it as a good mid-afternoon "lift" for the worker whether in factory or office.

The fillers of the ice cream cone have themselves no mean nutritional value. They are a triumph of the baker's art. The remain crisp under melting ice cream so are better than a paper carton and spoon. They are made of milk, sugar, honey, tapioca, flour and baking soda.

LONDON (CP)—Once a week General Eisenhower and Prime Minister Churchill lunch together. It is reported the General always calls the Prime Minister "sir," and Churchill? Well, like a lot of others who are big in their own right, he calls the General "Ike."

The B.C. vegetable deal is commencing with head lettuce, cauliflower, hot house tomatoes, cucumbers and new cabbage arriving from the Coast. Most of these lines will also be available from the Okanagan next week. Texas field tomatoes are arriving but the California deal is pretty well finished because of the local supplies.

Oranges, lemons and grapefruit remain steady in price and are of excellent quality.

Dry onions are also being imported with the last car arriving this week. No more of these will be available owing to the duty being placed on them June 17.

One car of mill feeds, grain, flour and cereal was received during the last week.

It is also reported that eggs are not coming in quite as freely as they have been although some are still being sent to the dryers.

Taking Some of the Bugs Out of Cigarette Deliveries to Men Overseas

Next to letters from home, parcels of cigarettes are the most gratifying mail that Canadian servicemen overseas can receive.

From the commencement of the war, especial attention has been given by governmental and private organizations in Canada to ensuring that our Canadian boys overseas should be well supplied with smokes. Tobacco companies and tobacco stores have cooperated in the fairly satisfactory arrangements which have been made.

Deliveries have been reasonably regular and speedy, but from time to time difficulties have developed and there have been cases of losses of hundreds of thousands of cigarettes in transport.

These difficulties are to be overcome by the new plan which has been announced by Postmaster-General Mulock.

A huge stock of cigarettes has been built up in Italy by the Ottawa authorities. From this stock parcels containing the 300 cigarettes will be drawn against addressed labels sent from Canada. All we in Canada are required to do is to make the purchase of cigarettes at the special low overseas rates from a dealer or direct from a tobacco company. When the tobacco company receives the order, a label covering each 300 cigarettes ordered will be prepared, complete with postage and particulars. The labels will be then sent overseas by air transport by the Post Office Department. On arrival at the Postal Depot overseas, the labels will be attached to packages of cigarettes of the brands ordered and dispatched to the addresses.

It is in Italy that the new scheme will be first applied, but it is planned to build up stocks in Great Britain and France so that it can be made applicable to the great majority of Canadian troops overseas.

The Post Office Department is assuming any loss in bulk shipment of cigarettes or shipment of labels through enemy action or any other cause, between Canada and the Overseas Cigarette Depots.

Efficient operation of the plan makes it necessary to adopt a standard size parcel of 300 cigarettes. The package of 300 can be far more conveniently handled—especially for troops on the move—than can the 1000 size packages. The centralization of all these tobacco parcels addressed to individuals under the one agency — the Canadian Postal Corps—will tend to facilitate delivery.

The plan will not affect the present practice of certain auxiliaries, associations or other agencies sending bulk shipments of cigarettes for impersonal distribution to units or generally throughout the Forces.

American soldiers on foreign service are able to buy cigarettes in their canteens at low prices, and Canadian soldiers have complained because they had not been granted a similar privilege. Ottawa authorities are considering a system whereby the armed forces overseas will be able to buy cigarettes direct from the Tobacco Depots at 300 for $1. If this idea is put into effect it will be tremendously popular with the services. It will please them even more than the improvements in the mail service.

British Don't Intend to Cramp Their Overseas Air Traffic

Hon. C. D. Howe's proposal that in postwar international aviation the only Canadian line which would be allowed to operate would be TCA has been described as a policy similar to that of Great Britain.

It is nothing of the kind. Great Britain does not propose to prevent privately operated British airlines from getting all the international business, establishing all the international services, they can.

Lord Beaverbrook stated British policy in the House of Lords May 10. He said that the British Government airline would be the "chosen instrument" in international aviation, but only in the sense that it would be the only line to receive a Government subsidy. "To that extent, the B.O.A.C. is the chosen instrument of the Government."

He said that other lines may engage in overseas service, that other lines can receive mail subsidies, even if on the same route as the Government line. "There is no statutory provision," said Lord Beaverbrook, "that can prevent any British line from operating overseas, as long as that service conforms to airworthiness and other regulations." A shipping company could go into overseas aviation, when it could get craft and personnel and had made arrangements through the Foreign Office for landing privileges at its overseas stopping points.

Both Great Britain and the United States policies provide for permission, and even encouragement, for private lines to go into the international air business.

Our proposed Canadian policy would confine development of international airline business to the government line. It may be sensible, but it doesn't seem like it, or likely to give Canada the place it should win in world-wide air traffic.

C.I.O. Article "Close to Slander" on Slocan Mining Conditions

To the Editor:

Sir: Under the heading of "Shameful Conditions in Slocan Camps" the Commentator, official organ of the Trail Smelter Workers Union (C. I. O.) carries an article which comes close to a slander (and which is to say the least, far from the truth) on the Slocan operations.

As usual, in attacks of this kind, the only specific charges are against one mine, the Lucky Jim, the inclusion of other mines, Whitewater, Standard and Mammoth under the heading "Shameful Conditions in Slocan Camps" is not substantiated by any specific complaint or specific condition existing.

At two of these mines, the C.I.O. has been certified as bargaining agent, and have an agreement. If conditions approaching the general charge exist, why is the union committee not functioning? Or are they only interested in signing up members to obtain funds to meet the overhead caused by the salary and expense paid to their officials, which by their own financial statements, show these organizers drawing close to $400 per month in salary and expenses.

The bed roll question has been thrashed out many times before, but at at least one camp blankets can be purchased at the mine, and a refund obtained on leaving, less the laundry charge.

The bed bug question has also been thrashed out before, and unless the army principle of having every man go through a fumigator with his clothing and bedding before entering camp is instituted, this will continue. At all the mines mentioned, camp officials are continually on the lookout for improvement of sanitary conditions, and much depends on the cooperation of the men concerned. In most of these camps, the dry and washrooms are up to date, the old Relief Arlington dry was recently moved into the Slocan and remodelled, while flush toilets are installed in most places.

These camps are inspected regularly by Department of Mines and Workmen's Compensation Board officials, and before articles of this kind are given publicity, it would be well to have specific complaints investigated by impartial examiners, as the Slocan has had sufficient hold back in the last twenty years, without unfavorable and unjustified publicity of this kind.

The writer has been in all these camps and has personal knowledge of conditions quite recently. The Silverton cookhouses providing meals of a class unobtainable in any Nelson restaurant, despite the rationing of certain commodities, and apparently there is no restriction on the cook in ordering supplies, as all cookhouses are reported to be operating at a loss the $1.25 rate per day board still prevailing.

True, there are no sheets, or pillows provided, but there is nothing to stop a man using them if he so desires, and the bullcooks provided are men who are usually conscientious in their duties, and living in the same quarters are just as interested in sanitary conditions as anyone.

The C.I.O. are at present endeavoring to obtain certification at the Lucky Jim. If they obtain it, what is their committee going to do? Are they going to take the alleged conditions up with the management with a view of improvement, or are they going to sit back as they have done elsewhere, and keep on kicking against the "bosses." The unions will never obtain the support of the general public until they produce more construction, and less destruction.

Yours for a square deal for the Slocan,

CANADIAN

Grateful, Kimberley—Mrs. Margaret Allardice, 1719 Circle Street, Trail, has kindly supplied this column with the answer to your question:

The Story of a Pack of Cards:

This is a story about an English soldier, stationed in barracks in England. It is part of every soldier's kit that he include a Bible. Now one morning during inspection, the sergeant discovered that this particular soldier did not have a Bible in his possession but instead had only a pack of cards. Consequently he was arrested and a few days later brought to trial.

The judge presiding asked him if he had anything to say in his own defence, and taking the pack of cards from his pocket he laid them on the judge's bench and said:

"Yes, your Honor, I have. This pack is my bible, my prayer book, and my almanac. Perhaps to you and this court that might appear sacreligious but its purpose to me is the exact opposite. It represents everything that is most holy.

"The fifty-two cards in the deck tell me there are fifty-two weeks in the year, and therefore, fifty-two Sundays in which to go to church. On the faces of the fifty-two cards there are three hundred and sixty-five spots, reminding me of the number of days in the year.

"The four suits in the deck tell me of the four evangelists, Matthew, Mark, Luke and John. The thirteen cards in each suit picture the Last Supper, which thirteen persons attended; and the Ace reminds me there is but one God.

"The deuce, or two, reminds me of Adam and Eve and the threes of the Holy Trinity; the four, of the four major prophets, and the five, of the five wise and foolish virgins; the six, of the six days during which the world was created; the seven, of the seventh day, the day of rest, Sunday; the eight, of the eight good people saved from the flood; the nine, of the nine lepers cleansed by the Lord; the ten, of the Ten Commandments; the Jack, or Knave, of Judas, the betrayer; the Queen, of the Virgin Mary; and the King, of His Majesty King George, whom I will proudly and courageously serve as long as I am able."

The judge looked at the soldier for a moment, then in a kindly voice said: "Case dismissed."

W. H. Burgess, mining man of Vancouver, formerly of Kaslo, spent Saturday in town and left yesterday morning for the Coast.

From early morning, when countless alarm clocks must have shrilled, to late at night, Thursday was a day of days in Nelson for young and old, who almost literally spent the day seeing the Al G. Barnes Circus.

Today's Horoscope

Although you are changeable and restless, you do your task faithfully and to your best ability, even though it is irksome to you. You are led by your inward desires rather than by outside influences. You are affectionate and sincere, but will not fall in love at first sight. Sometimes you are obstinate and like to have your own way. In the next year of your life varied influences prevail. Do not spoil promising business activities by erratic actions, extravagance or carelessness. Neither lend nor borrow. Canadian Press Pioneer Dies

CLARKSON, Ont., June 15 (CP)—J. F. B. Livesay, 69, who retired in 1939 after 20 years as general manager of The Canadian Press died today.

Since his retirement June 30, 1939, he had lived quietly at his home, Woodlot, 20 miles West of Toronto. In the Summer of 1942 he started writing a book of his newspaper reminiscences which was not completed at his death.

Mr. Livesay came to Canada from his native Isle of Wight, England, in 1895.

During his early years in Canada he wrote for the London Daily Mail, Outlook and other English periodicals as well as for the Toronto Globe and Toronto World. In 1903 he entered daily newspaper work first on the Winnipeg Tribune and then on the Winnipeg Telegram. For the Telegram he covered in 1905 the Provincial Rights campaign in the newly-established Province of Saskatchewan and at the end of that year he joined the Regina Standard as editor, this being the first daily paper in Saskatchewan, owned by the late J. K. McInnis.

In August, 1907, he was appointed manager in Winnipeg of the newly-formed Western Associated Press, the first cooperative news gathering and distributing association in Canada whose pioneer founders were E. H. Macklin and the late John W. Dafoe of the Manitoba Free Press, the late R. L. Richardson of the Winnipeg Tribune and M. E. Nichols of the Winnipeg Telegram, and now publisher of the Vancouver Province, who became its first president.

During the First Great War, the need of a national news association made itself felt and in 1916-17 Mr. Livesay was closely associated with Mr. Macklin in the establishment of the Canadian Press.

The news association became national in character by absorbing the W.A.P., the morning and evening paper sections of the Canadian Press Limited, established in 1911, and the Eastern Press Association of the maritime publishers, established in 1909. Under the name Canadian Press Limited it started functioning as a national news-gathering and distributing organization on Sept. 1, 1917, Allied with the Associated Press of New York and Reuters of London.

Mr. Livesay continued in Winnipeg in charge of the Western division until 1920 when he was appointed general manager, moving to Toronto. In the succeeding years he saw the seed sown in 1907 blossom into a powerful organization, a news association that in the formative period, 1917-25, under the presidency of the late E. F. Slack of the Montreal Gazette and E. Norman Smith of the Ottawa Journal, earned the respect and the confidence both of the public and of the political parties and became recognized as an instrument of national solidarity.

In 1918, Mr. Livesay served as war correspondent with the Canadian Corps, finishing the war in Mons on Armistice Day. He later put his experiences into a book, "Canada's hundred days."

He had a curious and inquiring mind. "I have no politics," he said. "The Canadian Press is my politics and my friends among politicians are those who give me news." He hated shams of all kinds.

He once said: "To be a working newspaperman is good enough career for anyone and mere money-making is nothing compared to the kick one gets out of it every day of one's life."

At Vancouver M. E. Nichols, former President and now a Director of The Canadian Press said: "This may be truly said, that if the founders of The Canadian Press had the vision of cooperative news gathering in Canada, Fred Livesay was the outstanding power that carried the vision to fruition."

E. Norman Smith, Vice-President of the Ottawa Journal and a former President of The Canadian Press said:

"I believe that Fred Livesay contributed to the national cohesions of Canada more than any one man of his generation.

"He made known to each other the people of the nine provinces. He overcame the wide geographical gaps separating them and did much to reconcile their many differences."

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., June 15 — (CP)—Senator W. A. Buchanan, President of The Canadian Press paid tribute to J. F. B. Livesay, former general manager of the C.P. who died today at his home in Clarkston, Ont., and said: "It wouldn't be assuming too much to say that Fred B. Livesay was the man who laid the foundation of cooperative news gathering in Canada."

"The achievements," Senator Buchanan said, "of first, the Western Associated Press and later, the Canadian Press, rested largely upon the vision and the organizing genius of Livesay."

Germans Using "Moaning Minnie"

BY ROSS MUNRO
Canadian Press War Correspondent

WITH THE CANADIANS IN FRANCE, 11:30 a.m., June 15 (CP-Cable)—German formations, occupied with British thrusts Southeast of Bayeux and from the Allied beachhead East of the River Orne, evidently have been compeled to hold the Northern and Western perimeter around the city of Caen with what they had left of badly-battered units which lost heavily in abortive counter-attacks.

But the Germans are strongly dug in and using their "Nebelwerfer" six-barrelled rocket mortar and other weapons to block the way to Caen, the strategic city six miles inland on the Orne River. Their equipment also includes well-sighted anti-tang guns and artillery.

The rocket mortar was used against Canadian troops on the Moro River line in Italy and also in Sicily, but this is the first experience of it for the 3rd Canadian Infantry Division.

Strong Canadian patrols are on the prowl every night, feeling out these positions and Canadian artillery is shelling the area.

This morning Spitfires, Typhoons and Thunderbolts, refuelling and rearming on French airstrips, have been shuttling over the German lines at tree-top height.

They are strafing enemy positions and attacking anything appearing on the roads to and from Caen.

The Germans have thinned out considerably in this British-Canadian sector of the Caen perimeter but they still hold some formidable positions.

Canadian soldiers took note of the "Nebelwerfer" when the enemy started using it here.

Maj. Phil Strickland of Saskatoon said he was at forward headquarters when he saw a flash of flame from one of the German positions, followed by a billow of black smoke—and then mortar bombs crashed in rapid succession in the nearby fields.

There has not been any great concentration of fire from the "Nebelwerfer," which used to be known to Canadians in Italy as "Moaning Minnie."

Disclose Details on Mammoth B29

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—The United States Army, after tersely announcing its mammoth B-29 Superfortresses had bombed Japan, today uncovered may details of the world's most talked about airplane.

Long familiar in only the general terms, these details of the Superfortress may now be published:

Its wing span is 141.2 feet, its length 98 feet, is height 27 feet.

It has a cylandrical fuselage, a midwing, a high dorsal fin, tricycle landing gear and is all metal.

Armament includes .50 calibre machine guns in power turrets and a 20 mm. cannon. There is much protective armor.

The power consists of four 18-cylinder, radial Wright Cyclone engines rated at 2200 horsepower for takeoff. Each engine is served by two turbo-superchargers to provide the high altitude operation desired.

Each engine drives a 16½-foot four-blade Hamilton-Standard propeller, largest ever installed on an airplane. The propellers are connected by reduction gears so that they turn slower (one-third as fast as the engine) than any other aircraft propellers.

Crew comforts surpass anything in any previous warplane. The cabin has been soundproofed, seats are of the latest design, four cots and many minor conveniences are available. The purpose is increased crew efficiency in combat despite the long time spent in the air.

Except for a hydraulic booster on the brakes, the B-29 is entirely electric. It has 150 electric motors of 49 types using power supplied by auxiliary engines.

So complex is the plane's operation that a Flight Engineer controls most of the power plant, the pilot using only the throttle and his usual flight instruments. The rudder and ailerons are so balanced that despite their size they are operated without the aid of boosters, thus giving the pilot the "feel" experienced in smaller aircraft.

"We Are There to Stay" Says Stimson

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—War Secretary Stimson said today the Allies have established a firm foothold on the European coast.

"I believe we are there to stay until all of France is liberated and Germany defeated," he asserted, although cautioning that "we must expect counter attacks greater than any yet met" in the fighting in Normandy.

Stimson told a news conference that destruction or heavy damage to nine bridges over the Seine River by Allied Air Forces was one major factor in slowing down development of a major counter attack—"a delay longer than we could reasonably have counted upon."

Turning to the Pacific, Stimson noted new blows in Japan's Marianas Islands, in the Kuriles, and throughout the Southwest Pacific and then said:

"These form a guarantee that pressure on this (the Japanese) enemy will mount and that no part of his empire will be safe."

It has been estimated that one urban householder in every seven in Canada had a wartime garden in 1943. The 209,300 urban gardens in 1943 represents a 15 per cent increase over gardens planted in 1942, and about 34 per cent more than in 1941.

Toronto Jockey Piles Up Victories

NEW YORK, June 15 (AP)—Ted Atkinson, Toronto jockey who rode five winners yesterday and 10 in the first three days this week, booted home two more at Aqueduct today.

Atkinson, who figured he had ridden 124 winning mounts before today's program, guided Mrs. Payne Whitney's Tambo, a $4.90 for $2 favorite, home first in the featured Gowanus Purse at six furlongs, then completed his double aboard Allessandro in the day's last race.

Tambo came fast in the stretch to beat a field horse, Yodeler, by a half length with Bud Grey third. A crowd of 18,368 sent $1,967,563 through the mutuel machines.

Hammering Henry Drops Davis

NEW YORK, June 15 (AP) — Hammering Henry Armstrong battered Al (Bummy) Davis to the canvas in quick order at Madison Square Garden tonight, scoring a technical knockout in 69 seconds of the second round. Davis was down for counts of eight and nine in the first rour t.

Bouncing back from a 10-round defeat at the hands of Willie Joyce in Chicago two weeks ago, Armstrong, a 13 to 5 favorite, gave Davis an unmerciful beating before Referee Frank Fullam stopped it.

Each weighed 141¾ pounds.

From the opening bell Armstrong was on top of Davis. He whaled away with lefts and rights at close quarters, then, suddenly stepped away and whipped over a left. Davis' knees sagged.

Another left and right, and down went Davis for eight. Armstrong swarmed over him again and with a series of lefts and rights knocked Davis outside the ropes. Davis managed to stagger inside the ropes at nine as the bell rang. Many thought he had been counted out.

Davis was helpless in the second round. It was Armstrong left and Armstrong right. Davis went down for four, then two. Then sprawled on his stomach. Referee Fullam didn't bother to count as he waved Armstrong away.

Scribes Take to Farmhouse; Sleep in Clothes

By ROSS MUNRO

WITH THE CANADIANS IN FRANCE, June 15 (CP Cable) — Canadian war correspondents and the Canadian 3rd Division Press Relations unit now are established in an inconspicuous farmhouse, following the shelling of the Chateau which we previously were using.

No one was seriously wounded during the 20-minute concentrated shelling on Tuesday.

It was noisy at the chateau and we still don't get much sleep at the farmhouse, with Allied guns pounding and brilliant flares lighting up the night sky.

The farmhouse shudders as though it was alive and we lie in our clothes, with tin hats on our pillows.

The tin cans used for salvaging fats are themselves salvaged after the fat is removed at the rendering plant.

Deportation Policy for Japanese Un-Chrisian—Baptists

VANCOUVER, June 15 (CP)—Policies recommending total deportation of the Japanese are "completely un-Christian," Rev. A. J. MacLachlan of Vancouver told delegates to the Western Canada Baptist Union convention here today.

"This is a vicious and insidious policy providing no discrimination between the really undesirable elements and those Japanese worthy to live among us, who were born and educated here, and who are true Canadians," Mr. MacLachlan said.

"This is not a Japanese problem at all," he declared. "It is a problem of the East Indian and the Chinese as well. It is really a problem of all Orientals."

Polio Case at Coast

Nazi Sub Invaded Fishing Grounds

BOSTON, June 15 (AP)—A German submarine invaded the North Atlantic fishing grounds recently shelled and machine-gunned a Boston trawler and forced all but two of the crew to abandon ship.

The submersible finally left, her skipper apparently thinking the trawler would sink. Then the crew put the vessel in shape and brought her into port early today, her hull and superstructure looking almost like a sieve.

Details of the attack were given at a press conference by Captain James L. Abbott, 38, skipper of the fishing vessel, The Lark, owned by F. J. O'Hara Brothers, Boston operators. The vessel is 145 gross tons.

EDINBURGH (CP) — A testimonial signed by Lord Traprain, regional fuel controller, has been presented to 39 Scottish miners thanking them for their long-devoted service to mining. Their unbroken service exceeds a total of 3000 years.

"But there's a Telephone in the house now ... Why can't I have service?"

This man, who has just moved from one residence to another, cannot understand why wartime restrictions prevent him from having telephone service, when there is already a telephone in place.

The answer is that the telephone set is only one of many things necessary to provide service. There are many links in the chain and one missing link will prevent service. For example, there may be no line from the house to the telephone pole; there may be no spare circuits in the cable to the central office; or there may not be enough central office equipment. We cannot add any equipment for unessential service until after the war.

War demands must come first and the material that is ordinarily used for telephone equipment must now go into such essential things as aeroplanes, ships and tanks. Factories, machines and personnel that used to produce telephone equipment are now needed to fill war orders.

To Discontinue Abbotsford School as E.F.T.S.

VANCOUVER, June 15 (CP)—The Royal Canadian Air Force school at Abbotsford, B.C., will be discontinued as an Elementary Flying Training School July 14, Western Air Command announced today.

The station will continue operating under the R.C.A.F., but for security reasons nature of its operation will not be released at the present time.

Opponents Have Say on Inner Reserves

OTTAWA, June 15 (CP)—Opponents of the proposal to bring inner reserves of the chartered banks into the open had their say before the Commons Banking Committee as decks were partly cleared today for on the question tomorrow.

Ralph Maybank (L—Winnipeg South Centre) said the issue devolved into a question of judgment. It was a choice between the judgment of Finance Minister Ilsley and Finance Department experts and the judgment of these members who asked for disclosure of the reserves which are set aside to take care of losses on bank loans.

For his part, he said, failing the production of evidence to show that disclosure would serve a useful purpose he preferred to take the judgment of the Minister.

Mr. Maybank said the arguments for disclosure of inner reserves put forward by G. G. McGeer (L—Vancouver-Burrard) had relevance only to a change in the whole monetary system involving a segregation of public finance from commercial banking. That question was a proper one for consideration but had no relevance to the desirability of disclosing reserves. If the monetary system were changed the disclosure or non-disclosure of inner reserves would not matter.

Hon. R. B. Hanson (PC—York-Sudbury) quoted figures on savings deposits in banks to show that figures given yesterday by Mr. McGeer were not accurate.

Mr. McGeer said his attention had been called to the error and he intended to make a correction. The mistake arose from linking savings and demand deposits.

Mr. McGeer said he was in error in stating that as "we went into the depression the deposits increased." It was correct to say that as the depression continued the deposits increased.

W. A. Fraser (L—Northumberland) said the question before the Committee was whether the members had confidence in the Minister of Finance with his expert advisers and the Government. There was too much tendency to "pry into everybody's business." If that policy was to be continued the finances of labor unions should be disclosed.

Robert Ryan (L—Three Rivers) said he had a good idea of how the vote would go and wished it were not taken. It would have a bad effect. It would give a wrong impression to the public that members of the Committee were "bowing down before the bankers."

For himself he was satisfied that inner reserves were necessary and in the interests of the banking system and the public they should not be disclosed.

Monetary reform was desired by many people. There were many things going to happen in the next few months, international conferences on currency and trade. The Government and the Bank of Canada so far had done a good job in financing the country and in effecting desirable reforms.

Market Trends . . .

LONDON, June 15 (CP)—Profit-taking brought an irregular close. Motor, brewery and heavy industry shares advanced but textiles and rayons eased. Home rails were firm, oils irregular and international securities quiet. British funds finished selectively higher.

NEW YORK—Up a point or more near the close of today's trading were Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Oliver Farm, Westinghouse, Dow Chemical, Johns-Manville and Dupont. MONTREAL—Industrials on average were higher. Placer touched a new high in mines.

TORONTO—At the close Canadian Food Products and Western Canada Flour pfd advanced a point and fractions were added by Maple Leaf Milling and National Grocers. Lake Shore and Dome advanced a full point. Strong spots in the base metal group included Noranda, Labrador and Falconbridge.

VANCOUVER — Oils held fairly steady while mines made a few gains.

CHICAGO—Attention of the grain market was focused on the outcome of House-approved legislation seeking to guarantee parity prices for farm products and the trade was bullish. Wheat closed 2¼ to 3 cents higher than yesterday, July $1.81. Oats were ¼ to 1¼ higher, July 75. Rye was 2 to 2¾ higher, July $1.09¾-¾. Barley was 1¼ to 2 cents higher, July $1.19¼.

$13,599 Fire Loss In B.C. Woods in 1943 by Unintended Slash Fires

VICTORIA, June 15 (CP)—To what extent timber and timberlands may be concentrated in the hands of a few large operators in British Columbia, is not known by the Forestry Department, C. D. Orchard, Chief Forster of the Province, told the Forest Inquiry today, which resumed after an adjournment of a month.

When asked if the States of Oregon and Washington Forest Services had information compiled on individual companies, he said, he felt what information they had would be given by the operators themselves.

Loss to the Province through unintended slash burning—that is burning which escaped a prescribed area, totalled $139,599 in 1943, Mr. Orchard told the Inquiry. Lack of preparation for slash burning and failure to have sufficient men on the job once the burning began, resulted in the fires escaping, he said. No action has been taken to date on operators whose fires escaped, he said, although the Department could prosecute.

F. S. McKinnon, a Forester with the Forestry Department, told of the effects of slash burning stating that burning after a fall of seed would destroy the seed. In areas where there was decayed wood covered with moss on the ground, slash burning would be necessary in order to allow the seed to get to the mineral soil, he said.

Annual amount spent of forest protection by the Forest Protection Fund in B.C. totalled $633,425 and the amount spent by other agencies totalled $242,189 a year, Mr. Orchard said.

Mr. Justice Sloan, Commissioner, commented at this point that approximately $880,000 was spent to minimize a 10 per cent fire loss, while nothing was spent to minimize a 20 per cent loss from insect and disease. Mr. Orchard explained that the amount saved from fire loss by that expended on protection was not known.

Discussing insect control and pathological research, Mr. Orchard said there had been no money spent on the work by the Province and no appropriation from the Dominion. Early in his evidence, The Chief Forester touched on the question of hardwoods in B.C. and said there was but a minor amount of them.

Howard Foster Leaves Bank for Accountancy

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Foster of 810 Victoria Street, Nelson, B.C., have received word from their son Howard at San Francisco, that he would sever his 21 year connection with the Wells Fargo Bank and Union Trust Company, of that city, on June 15, to join the firm of Harris, Kerr, Forster & Company, who are Certified Public Accountants with offices in New York, Chicago, Washington, Atlanta, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Howard Foster was born in Lancashire, England, in 1900 and came to Queen's Bay, B.C., with his parents and brother Arthur in 1911. He attended public school at Balfour and after taking a business course with Mr. Pawley in Nelson, he worked eight months in the freight office of the C.P.R., when F. W. Stirling was District Freight Agent.

On leaving the C.P.R. in 1915, he worked for over seven years in the Imperial Banks at Nelson and Calgary. In June 1923, he went to San Francisco and started to work in the Wells Fargo Bank, with which the Union Trust Company was later amalgamated, gaining experience in practically all the departments.

For the past 10 years or more, he has held an important position in the audit department of the bank, which also covers the operations of the trust company. The two institutions employed about 800 people prior to the war.

In 1932 he passed the examination of the Certified Public Accountants Association, and will now be engaged in the actual audit work of his new employers, and will thus gain the experience necessary to fully qualify him as a Certified Public Accountant in California.

He is a member of the Cost Accountants' Association of America.

With his wife and daughter of 13 years, he lives in Burlingame, some 20 miles South of San Francisco, Cal.

Sinclair Gives Views on Postwar Plans

BY D'ARCY O'DONNELL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, June 15 (CP)—A serviceman's views on what the Government should do to prepare for the rehabilitation and reestablishment of members of the armed forces after discharge were expressed in the Commons yesterday by Flt. Lt. James Sinclair, (L-Vancouver North).

Flt. Lt. Sinclair, 36-year-old R.C.A.F. Administrative Officer, on extended leave from his overseas post, said the Government should be prepared to treat the fighting men as fairly and as generously when they return to train for peace as when they trained for war.

"The whole problem of the return and the proper re-establishment of our fighting men after the war is a secondary one," he said. "It depends on the one prime consideration that the program of reconstruction shall eventually provide adequate employment for all those who are willing and able to work."

He spoke on second reading to a bill setting up a Veterans' Affairs Department to handle all matters concerning ex-service personnel. The matters now are handled by the Pensions Department.

Hon. H. A. Bruce (PC—Toronto Parkdale) suggested that the medical and health services of the Government be placed under the proposed new Department of Social Welfare. He said the new Department should be known as the "National Health Department" since its principal task would be the administration of the projected National Health Insurance Plan.

Hon. R. B. Hanson (PC—York-Sudbury) said changes were needed in the system of awarding pensions. Many men were being denied pensions on the grounds that their disability was due to a pre-enlistment condition.

Flt. Lt. Sinclair said if the rehabilitation program was not based on the assumption that adequate employment would be available for all, then the program "would be nothing but a program of qualified relief, with a little training thrown in to pass the time away."

"The program then will return those who had civilian jobs to those jobs, to find jobs for those who have trades and skills, and to provide training for those who will need it or want such training to fit themselves for employment."

Robert Fair (SC—Battle River) said he hoped soldiers settling on farms purchased with the aid of the Government would be given better treatment than veterans of the First Great War. He urged that the Government grant a clear title to the veterans of the last war who still owed money on their farms.

Fire Sweeps Alaskan Town

JUNEAU, Alaska, June 15 (AP)—Seventy-five per cent of the inhabitants of the Chicagof Island village of Hoonah were reported homeless today after a fire that swept wildly through most of the town last night.

One native was known to have perished; possibly two. Replacement value was estimated unofficially in excess of $350,000.

The fire swept from North to South, destroying the United States Government teachers' quarters, the Church, Manse and all stores. Flames reached the rear of the Union Oil dock but the gasoline supply was not ignited. The cannery, the settlement's main establishment, was far enough outside the town to escape damage.

The fire was scattered swiftly by dry moss, carried through the air from burning roofs. An estimated 350 were homeless. The fire was believed to have started in a dwelling.

Ease Ruling on Service Politics

OTTAWA, June 15 (CP)—Regulations governing the political activities of members of the Canadian Armed Forces have been broadened by an order-in-council published today in official war orders.

Under the new regulations provision is made for any member of the Armed Forces to get leave—depending on the exigencies of the service—to attend political conventions for Provincial or Federal candidate or leader selection.

The order also provides that service personnel may wear uniform at political gatherings. However, only service Members of Parliament, candidates or prospective candidates may address political meetings.

Formerly members could not wear their uniforms at political gatherings, and servicemen, who were not Members of Parliament, could not get leave to attend political conventions.

Leave was formerly granted to Parliamentary servicemen to attend to their duties in Ottawa or in the Provincial Legislatures and leave up to a month was granted for them to attend to their political duties in their constituencies.
