

Tirpitz Sunk by Bombers

Hit Squarely, Last of Hun Giants Keels Over and Sinks Slowly

By ROBERT EUNSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Nov. 13 (AP) — The 41,000-ton German battleship Tirpitz, last "unsinkable" giant in Adolf Hitler's fugitive navy, capsized and sank yesterday morning in the Norwegian waters of Tromsø fjord when hit squarely by three six-ton earthquake bombs dropped by R.A.F. Lancasters, the Air Ministry announced tonight.

Attacking out of the Arctic mists, it took the R.A.F. airmen only a few minutes to finish off this great potential killer which never had engaged in a single surface battle, and which the Germans were five years in building at a cost of $50,000,000.

The cost to the R.A.F. was one bomber, out of an attacking force of 29, an Air Ministry communique said.

Three bombs landed on the deck of the Tirpitz, which blew up inside, keeled over and sank slowly, ending a three-year chase by Britain and Russia.

The Lancasters struck at 10:30 a.m., from a height of 5000 feet, and 15 minutes later the ship burst into flames and turned over. Reconnaissance showed the ship had capsized, with 700 feet of her keeling sticking out of the water.

The sister-ship of the ill-fated Bismarck went to her grave just a few days after reports from neutral countries had speculated on an imminent invasion of Norway by the Allies.

The Tirpitz, already crippled by previous air and midget submarine assaults, had been a threat to the Arctic supply lines to Russia, and a potential menace to any landing in Norway.

The successful mission of the big bombers, carrying the new streamlined, armor-piercing 12,000 pound earthquake bombs, was led by Wing Cmdr. J. B. Tait and Sqdn. Ldr. A. G. Williams. Taking off from Britain, the planes "landed away from base" presumably in Russia.

Roaring in before the Germans could throw up their usual protective smoke screen, the Lancasters caught the ship in an explosive vise and the three direct hits were registered in quick succession.

"Her guns had been firing like blazes, when we first arrived," said an Australian pilot, Flt. Lt. B. A. Buckham of Sydney. "The guns stopped after the first bomb. Not a shot came up after that. Smoke began to pour up."

"Afterwards there were several explosions. One of them was very big and one of my crew shouted out over the inter-com, 'she's on fire, skipper, she's on fire.'"

"The fire did not seem to last very long, not more than two or three minutes—I should say. It was difficult to see exactly what was happening."

"The ship was already on its side when we came off our run," his tail gunner said.

The Tirpitz, one of the most powerful warships in the world, bristled with eight 15-inch guns in two turrets, 12 six-inch and 16 four-inch guns, carried four planes, and a normal crew of 1600 men.

The Germans' only other ship of this class, the Bismarck, was sunk by the Royal Navy May 27, 1941, following a 1700 mile chase after the Bismarck had sunk the British battleship Hood between Greenland and Iceland.

Two other ships of the Tirpitz class were under construction when the war started, but they were never completed.

Now Hitler has left only two pocket battleships, the Scheer, and the Lutzow, two eight-inch cruisers, the Hipper and the Prince Eugen, and four six-inch cruisers.

INCREASING SIGNS HIMMLER HAS TAKEN OVER

LONDON, Nov. 13 (CP) — There were increasing signs tonight that Heinrich Himmler had taken over as Nazi No. 1—possibly even militarily.

The Moscow radio said orders given German officers in East Prussia to "fight to the last man" were signed by Himmler and not Hitler.

The Berlin radio spokesman, Dr. Rudolf Semmler, said Himmler in broadcasting Hitler's proclamation yesterday, acted as the Fuehrer's closest collaborator. Semmler claimed the words were Hitler's but he said the German people "will follow their leaders"—using the plural.

Airman Named to Sask. Legislature

LONDON, Nov. 13 (CP Cable)—Election of Lac. D. S. Valleau of Aylsham, Sask., to represent European theatre servicemen in the Saskatchewan legislature was announced today by Lt.-Col. F. W. G. Miles, European returning officer.

Also announced was the election of Lt.-Col. Alan W. Embury of Regina and Saskatoon as serviceman member for the Mediterranean. (Maj. Malcolm Doble of Paynton, Sask., has been returned as member for Saskatchewan servicemen in Canada.)

FRANCE TO BE GIVEN CONTROL OF SAAR MINES

Assassination Report Laughed Off as Propaganda

PARIS, Nov. 13 (AP) — Agreements for the demilitarization of the Saar—with France in control of the mines as was done after the last World War—full participation in the post-war development of Europe, and the speedy rearmament of the French Army, were reached during the weekend conferences between Prime Minister Churchill and Gen. de Gaulle, it was reliably reported tonight.

German radio reports of an Armistice Day attempt to assassinate Mr. Churchill and Gen. de Gaulle as they were riding along the Champs Elysees were laughed off here as a propaganda attempt to make the German home front believe life in Paris was worse than life in Berlin.

Although almost 1,000,000 persons turned out during the weekend and cheered the two leaders, only one isolated case of violence was reported.

In addition to giving France a seat on the European Advisory Commission, Mr. Churchill and Gen. de Gaulle were reported to have agreed that a strong French fighting force should be equipped as quickly as possible and that the French should participate in the military occupation of Germany along with British, Russian and American forces.

The exact area to be assigned France in Germany was reported left to the European Commission to decide. In the first deliberations of this question the Commission assigned Eastern Germany to Russia; the Southern area to the United States and Northwestern Germany to England.

Mr. Churchill and Gen. de Gaulle were reported to have shelved such specific problems as the Italian Levant question and Spain to concentrate on general principles for common action.

The afternoon press—there are still no morning newspapers—continued to sound an exultant note. Liberation Solr said that by France's admission to the European Commission "an intolerable injustice is righted" and "France has regained her place among the great powers."

Jap Drive to Cut China Appears Near Completion

CHUNGKING, Nov. 13 (AP) — The Japanese drive to cut China in half and establish a land route from Manchuria into extreme South China appeared near completion tonight with the Chinese High Command reporting only localized street fighting in Luichow.

Also near completion with this setback was the enemy strategy of eliminating American air bases in Southeastern China.

Luichow was the former site of the last main United States air base in the area.

(An Associated Press dispatch from Kunning said that with the loss of Luichow "Southeastern China for a long time to come, if not forever, thus has been eliminated as a possible zone of inland offensive against the Japanese armies.")

Refuse to Consider Tyler Kent Case

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP) — The United States Supreme Court refused today for the second time to consider the case of Tyler Kent, convicted in a British court of violating the British Official War Secrets Act. Kent, a code clerk in the American Embassy in London, was sentenced to seven years' imprisonment. His mother, Mrs. Ann H. P. Kent of Washington, asked the Supreme Court to intervene in the case.

HOUSE OF COMMONS IS CALLED

Expect Mackenzie King to Ask for Confidence Vote

By R. K. CARNEGIE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Nov. 13 (CP) — Prime Minister Mackenzie King tonight announced House of Commons will meet Nov. 22 and it was learned later on reliable authority that he will ask for a vote of confidence on the Government's stand to continue the voluntary system of supplying reinforcements for overseas forces.

When the Commons adjourned Aug. 15, the date for reassembly was given as Jan. 31, 1945, unless some emergency intervened.

Mr. King said that Speaker J. A. Glen was satisfied that it was in the public interest that the House should meet "at this time and had informed the Prime Minister he was notifying the members to meet Nov. 22 at 2 p.m. C.D.T."

The calling of the House followed a statement yesterday by Col. J. L. Ralston, who resigned as Defence Minister Nov. 1 after recommending that conscription of overseas be enforced. He was succeeded by Gen. McNaughton.

The Prime Minister is understood to have come to the decision that nothing could be gained by any further exchange of statements and that the whole dispute should be fought out on the floor of the Commons.

One source said there was no question of Mr. King changing his opinion in support of voluntary service. It was expected he would make a statement outlining this position when the House opens and then ask for a vote of confidence.

If this course is followed it will throw the question of reinforcements open to a full-dress debate and whether or not the government goes to the country immediately in a general election will depend on how united the Liberal party is behind the administration.

Mr. King's announcement calling Parliament was submitted to the Cabinet at a meeting late this afternoon and it is understood it had the support of all Ministers present.

Defence Minister McNaughton attended the brief Cabinet sitting this afternoon and like Mr. King, he supports the voluntary service policy.

Gen. McNaughton will not have a seat in the House when it opens, it is learned Mr. King will offer to give members an opportunity of calling the Defence Minister before a secret session. Gen. McNaughton will be in a position to place before members his complete plans for continuing the support of the overseas forces on a voluntary basis.

The meeting of Parliament will be a continuation of the present session so there will be no formalities at the opening and no speech from the throne.

Government supporters may meet in caucus before the House opens and private members then will have an opportunity to present their views.

The Cabinet meeting tonight lasted about an hour and the very brevity of the session indicated the Ministers were in agreement with the Prime Minister's announcement that the House should meet tonight, but there was sufficient time for all members to be informed and be in Ottawa for the opening sitting.

When the Prime Minister announced the resignation of Col. Ralston and the appointment of Gen. McNaughton on Nov. 2 he said he could see no reason for calling Parliament before Jan. 31. Since then there have been recurring reports that other Ministers might leave the Cabinet in protest against continuation of the voluntary service policy, but it was evident that a majority support Mr. King's position.

M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. national leader, today asked that Parliament be summoned immediately to discuss reinforcements, and last week John Bracken, National Progressive Conservative leader, said after Mr. King's broadcast speech that the Prime Minister had "betrayed his trust and deceived both the Army overseas and the people at home."

The Liberals have a large House majority—161 members against 73 for all other parties and independents. Eleven seats are vacant.

Mr. King's brief statement today made no reference to the discussion of reinforcements in the Cabinet.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 13 (CP) — A Progressive Conservative Party spokesman said tonight that John Bracken, the National Leader, would have no official comment to make on the announcement by Prime Minister Mackenzie King that the House of Commons will assemble Nov. 22 instead of Jan. 31, as originally intended.

Mr. Bracken is in Winnipeg attending a meeting of the National Committee of the Party and the spokesman said a statement probably would be issued by Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative House Leader, who is expected to arrive tomorrow.

SASKATOON, Nov. 13 (CP) — "That's what I have been suggesting," National Leader M. J. Coldwell of the C. C. F. said tonight when he learned the House of Commons had been summoned to meet Nov. 22. "It is the only way," he added, "in which the situation can be fully understood by the House of Commons, which must take the responsibility and by the people of Canada."

Churchill Keeps Going to the End

ON THE VESGES FRONT, Nov. 13 (CP Reuter) — Prime Minister Churchill and Gen. De Gaulle today flirited with death in a 100-mile drive in a blizzard over tortuous ice and snow-bound roads in the Jura mountains in inspect units of the French Army.

Thirty cars originally set out with the Prime Minister's convoy, but only 10 finished the course, the remainder being either ditched or snowbound or gave up.

One press jeep somersaulted from the road down a 12-foot embankment into a field.

Despite the rugged ride the Prime Minister kept going right to the end, when he admitted he felt tired.

Mr. Churchill's car was the first to have trouble when its tire chains snapped, causing a hold-up. They snapped a second time during the tour.

Gen. De Gaulle was in the Prime Minister's car and sharing the rigors of the tour was Mr. Churchill's daughter, Mary Churchill.

At Valdahon, near Besancon, one of the biggest training camps in France and famous as a shooting school, Mr. Churchill stood up in an open car and drove through the light snow to inspect troops.

For the rest of the time the Prime Minister travelled in a big black saloon and at the end of the journey he shook hands with his French driver who had taken him safely along treacherous roads where a slight mist had plunged the car into steep valleys.

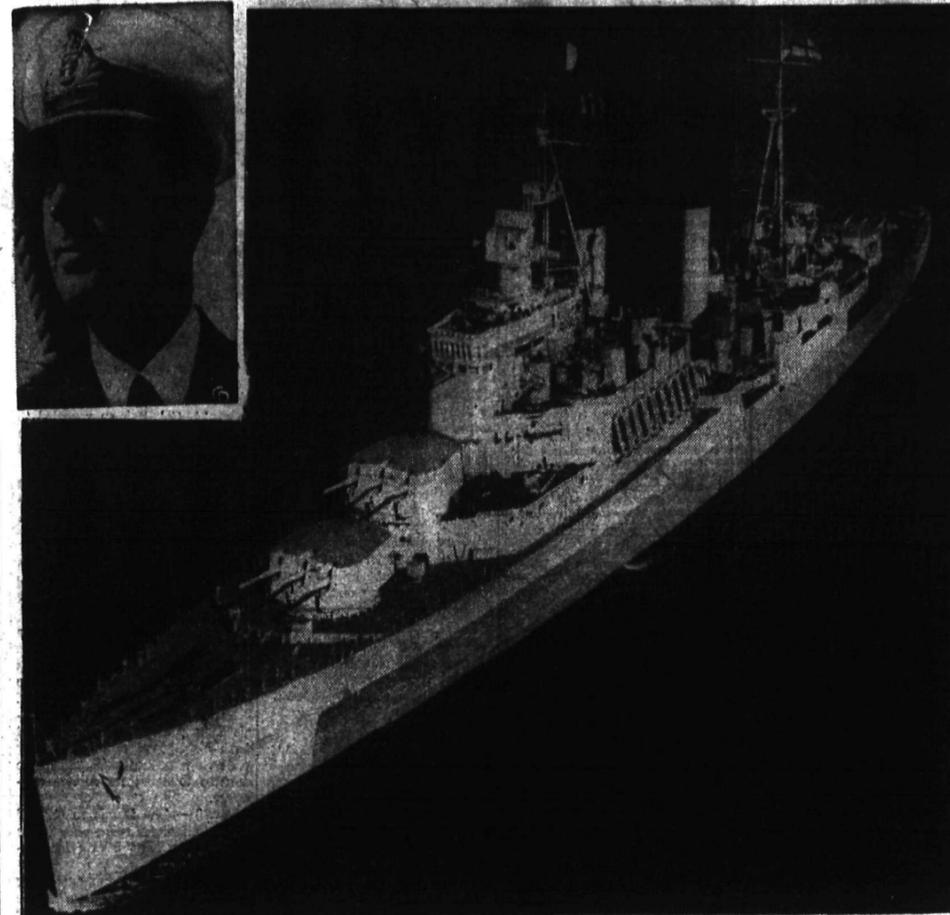

At one point of his tour Mr. Churchill was within five miles of the Swiss border.

U.S. Sub Destroyed by Crew to Prevent Capture

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP) — The United States Navy announced today the submarine Darter was destroyed by its crew to prevent capture by the enemy after it had run aground in an undisclosed area. All the complement of 65 officers and men survived unharmed and escaped to an advanced naval base. The year-old, 1,526-ton vessel was the 33rd submarine lost by the United States since it entered the war.

H.M.C.S. "UGANDA" CANADA'S FIRST CRUISER: During a brief but impressive ceremony, held recently at an Eastern U. S. Navy Yard, the powerful 8000 ton cruiser "Uganda" was officially transferred from the Royal Navy to the Royal Canadian Navy. The first of two cruisers for Canada's fast-growing Navy, H.M.C.S. "Uganda", shown here, is 549 feet in length, mounts 9 six-inch guns, 6 twenty-one inch torpedo tubes and is equipped with the very latest anti-aircraft armament. "Uganda" has a speed of more than 30 knots, carries a complement of some 800 men, and is entirely Canadian manned. Completed and originally commissioned for the Royal Navy late in 1942, "Uganda" played an important role in the invasion of Sicily and Italy. Later she moved up the Italian coast in support of the landings at Salerno where she was damaged by enemy aircraft. She subsequently made her way to the United States for refit. PROMISES TO FIND MAN FOR QUEBEC UNITS

4 French Canadian Regiments Answer LaFleche's Appeal

MONTREAL, Nov. 13 (CP) — Maj.-Gen. L. R. LaFleche, Minister of National War Services, in a statement issued here tonight said that he, as a Quebec Minister, "has assumed the responsibility of arranging to find the men needed for French-Canadian units now in action."

He added that over the weekend he had obtained formal offers from the commanding officers of four Province of Quebec regiments now on the battlefronts and he confidently awaited a similar response from another regiment. "There will be others as soon as I have the opportunity to put the matter up to the regiments."

Maj.-Gen. LaFleche, a native of Sorel, Que., who was himself seriously wounded while serving with the French-speaking Royal 22nd Regiment in the First Great War and was decorated with the D.S.O. and French Legion of Honor, said that it was only three weeks ago that he learned "for the first time," of the reinforcement situation.

"I was convinced," the statement continued, "that men of Quebec would, if the situation were placed before them with complete frankness and on the basis of equal privileges for equal sacrifice, make it their patriotic duty to insure that never would their compatriots overseas be threatened with a shortage of reinforcements. Accordingly, I volunteered to take the affair in hand and virtually to guarantee the Province of Quebec's answer to the call for more men for French-Canadian regiments."

"My proposal was not taken up. A change in the Ministry of National Defence followed and I was then asked to find the volunteers."

"I am now in receipt of an official offer from the commanding officer of the Fusiliers Mont-Royal to raise a reinforcing battalion for the 1st Battalion of that regiment at present in action against the Germans on the Western front."

"I hold a similar offer from the commanding officer of the Regiment de Maisonneuve, the first mobilization after the war broke out in 1939."

"The commanding officer of the Regiment de Joliette and the Regiment de Chateaugay have given me similar assurances. "I await the offers of reinforcements from a fifth Quebec regiment. "In each case the home regiment offering a reinforcing battalion will

First Three of Metz's Forts Fall

Other Forces Wheel Southeast of City to Within 13 1/2 Miles of German Border

LONDON, Nov. 13 (AP) — The first three of Metz's 22 forts fell today to United States 3rd Army infantry as their comrades pressed on more than four miles through the snow and bitter cold in a wheeling movement Southeast of the fortress city to within 13 1/2 miles of the German border.

The surprising capture of these outward defences of the citadel came as the 3rd Army plunged ahead all along a 40-mile front South and Southeast of Metz, overrunning at least 15 more towns.

The main prize was Fort L'Aisne, actually a series of underground fortresses joined together much as at bloody Fort Driant, back across the Moselle to the West.

The second was at Verny, South of Metz, and the third close by.

Fort Verny, one of the smaller networks 6 1/2 miles South of Metz, was captured without a shot.

Despite the mud, which for a time slowed the 3rd Army on this sixth day of its new offensive, American tanks in an advance of up to four miles drove into many and Thicourt, 15 miles South of the Saar frontier.

Deepening their bridgehead across the Nied River Southeast of Metz, to at least four miles, the Americans were fighting within four miles of the enemy base at Faulquemont, 19 miles East and slightly South of Metz.

A second Nied bridgehead a few miles West was consolidated as the last of the enemy was cleared from Ancerville, 10 miles Southeast of Metz. These latest successes increased to 17 miles the penetration of Metz' Eastern defences since the attack broke Nov. 8.

One United States division in a gain of one to two miles entered Marthilly, 20 miles Southeast of Metz, and three miles West of Morange, where the big opening battle of the First Great War was fought.

As the American forces driving head-on against Metz reached a point five miles to the South, the big guns of the outer forts opened up for the first time.

RUSS TIGHTEN STEEL ARC ON BUDAPEST

Nazis Report Break Into Jaszbereny, Big Railway Centre

LONDON, Nov. 13 (AP)—Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky's 2nd Ukrainian Army closed its steel arc tighter around the Southeastern approaches to Budapest today, capturing the railway town of Jaszapati and, according to a German report, breaking into the important communications centre of Jaszbereny.

The day's advance carried 13 miles Northward and brought Malinovsky's Southern and Eastern columns within 20 miles of a junction. German commentators said the Russians were attempting to encircle Budapest, with Red Army troops in Czechoslovakia likely to join Malinovsky's forces in a vast manoeuvre.

The German communique said Soviet troops had penetrated into Jaszbereny, 28 miles Southwest of Fuzesabony, a junction of the Budapest-Miskolc railway, but claimed the attackers had been thrown back.

Moscow did not mention Jaszbereny in its broadcast communique, but announced the capture of the suburb of Jasztelek, five miles Southeast. It was probable, therefore, that forward units already were battling inside Jaszbereny, a city of more than 30,000 population, from which highways and railways radiate in several directions.

The objective of both the Southern and Eastern wings of Malinovsky's Army appeared to be Hatvan, a big rail centre 14 miles Northeast of Jaszbereny and 27 miles North of Budapest. From Hatvan a rail line extends Northward through the mountains to Czechoslovakia, 34 miles beyond.

Jaszapati, biggest of the prizes won today by the Russians, is 11 miles due East of Jaszbereny and 45 miles East of Budapest.

LONDON, Nov. 13 (CP) — Marshal Tito announced in a communique today that his Yugoslav Partisan forces had broken into Skopje on the railway escape route for German forces fleeing from Greece toward the homeland.

It was not clear whether any Germans remained South of Skopje, a city of 65,000, which lies 120 miles Northwest of Salonika and about 200 miles Southeast of Belgrade. But control of the city would block through rail traffic from the South.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP) — President Roosevelt today accepted "with great personal reluctance" the resignation of James Lawrence Fly as Chairman of the Federal Communications Commission.

Plan to Reorganize Belgian Army

LONDON, Nov. 13 (CP Reuter) — Allied experts will meet this week to arrange for the reorganization and equipping of the Belgian Army so that it may take its share in the war against Germany and in the occupation of that country, Henri Spaak, Belgian Foreign Minister, announced today.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 (AP) — Actress Ethel Barrymore, who suffered an attack of influenza during the weekend, took a sudden turn for the worse last night and was removed today from the home of a daughter to hospital.

Miss Barrymore, 65 years old, was forced to cancel her engagement in "Embezzled Heaven" Friday night when she suffered an attack of influenza. It was the first time in nearly 30 years that she had missed a New York performance.

Trade Policy Opens Rift at Conference

RYE, N.Y., Nov. 13 (AP) — The first sign of disagreement at the International Business Conference arose today when British delegates made it clear that Great Britain has no intention of abandoning her program of Empire preference for an indefinite period after the war.

TOAST-TEA

For a long time the Italians have proved themselves better fighters as individuals than as armies. Particularly in this war they showed little heart when the going got tough. This may have been because even before Italy left the war as a partner of the Axis the Italians had realized that they had little to fight for, and felt even greater enmity toward the Nazis who had overrun their country than for the British who were pushing them out of their African empire. It is said by a returned correspondent that the best planes for carrying parachute troops which the Italians had designed had in the end a crew of 22. There was the pilot, and there was the parachute; and there were also 20 other Italians to push him off to make certain that he jumped.

BRACKEN CALLS FOR GOV'T TO FULFIL DUTY

"Are We, or Are We Not Going to Back Our Fighting Men?"

WINNIPEG, Nov. 13 (CP)—John Bracken, national leader of the Progressive Conservative party, "in the name of the Canadian people and for the protection of our men overseas," called tonight upon the Dominion Government to "fulfill its duty" by making the Home Defence Army available immediately to reinforce the Canadian Army overseas.

In a statement on the "gravest issue now facing this country," and in which he commented upon the declaration last night by the former Defence Minister, Col. J. L. Ralston, that the need for reinforcements overseas was "urgent and immediate," Mr. Bracken said:

"The issue is now clear, are we, or are we not to back our fighting men to the limit by the only certain means available to us, namely—to put immediately into effect an order-in-council making the Home Defence Army available for reinforcements overseas."

The statement was issued with the endorsement of the party's national committee, now in session in Winnipeg. It said the need for reinforcements was urgent and that they could be found only in Canada, where there was a large army drafted by the present government.

No Mention of Senate Being Called

OTTAWA, Nov. 13 (CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King's announcement tonight assembling the House of Commons on Nov. 22 made no mention of the Senate which was interpreted as meaning the only thing to come before the Commons will be the vote of confidence on the Government's policy to continue voluntary enlistments for overseas.

Both Houses stand adjourned at the same time, but after a long recess the usual procedure has been to have the two Chambers resume simultaneously.

It is probable the Government plans to have the Commons meet for a week or so and discuss compulsory service versus voluntary service. If the debate develops into a wide open breach which would cause the Prime Minister to dissolve the House, he could do so without assembling the Senate.

Accuses Press of Comment Unfair to Trial

VANCOUVER, Nov. 13 (CP)—Gordon Wisner, counsel for Giuseppe (Joe) Esposito, at the opening of the supreme court trial today of his client on a murder charge, accused Vancouver newspapers and the Vancouver Ministerial Association of comment "certainly detrimental to a fair trial for the accused man."

Esposito was charged in connection with the shooting of Kevin Thompson at Esposito's home Sept. 20. Esposito pleaded not guilty.

Consolidated High School for District and Junior College Seen as Needs for Future by Irwin

Founding of a consolidated high school for Nelson and its large rural area, and a junior college for the Interior was presented Monday by Floyd L. Irwin, Junior High School Principal, as a solution, if the educational system was to fulfill its immediate future responsibilities. A program of educational development on a broad scale so that the school could educate, train and equip the student and carry him right to the door of industry or commerce, was a necessity, he declared in an address, "Post War Claims on High Schools," to the Nelson Rotary Club. Such a program must have the support of citizens and organizations, he said, if the students were "to receive the education to which they were entitled to prepare themselves to fit into life in our country."

SOME SUPPORT FOR PROPOSAL

The District adjacent to Nelson, Mr. Irwin disclosed, had already been sounded out on the proposal of establishing a consolidated high school, providing education on broad lines, for students of the area. Some encouragement had been received, but as yet, not sufficient encouragement to warrant its undertaking.

The cost of such an undertaking would be high, and the problems large, he admitted. The tax rate, varying from five to 25 mills in various sections, would probably have to be equalized. It would be required that support come from all those benefitting. Provision would have to be made for students from the rural area, probably through the construction of dormitories, and development of a students transportation system.

ROOM FOR COLLEGE

There was room for a junior college in the Interior, he asserted. It could provide courses of first and second year university. The advantage he saw in such an institution was that District students could be trained for roles in the industries of the District, forestry, mining, agriculture, and many others.

The founding of a consolidated school and of a junior college was an ambitious program, and one that would involve high finance, he admitted. Nevertheless, he felt, the two such institutions were of the utmost importance if the District was to play its full part in the future.

"We've overcome such difficulties before," Mr. Irwin said. "If the people wanted a broader, more beneficial educational opportunities for their youth, and support was given by public organizations such a program could be brought about. Tremendous problems were ahead in the demobilization and reconstruction period, Mr. Irwin felt. Returning service men and women must be re-instated in positions equal to those they left, positions must be found for those who enlisted in temporary war work must be provided with work, and a place must be found for the normal output of graduating students.

ENTERED PERIOD OF TRAINING

If the period of education of students could be extended perhaps two years, he felt that would be a great aid. Most importantly, when they did graduate after longer and broader training they would be better fitted for places in industry and commerce. Secondly, it would retard somewhat the flood onto the labor market. An increase in the compulsory education age from 15 years was coming, he felt.

If such a course was adopted, Mr. Irwin foresaw the necessity of educational courses being made more applicable to industry. There was much room for extension of practical arts, home economic and cultural training. Schools should be able to offer more extensive courses in woodworking, metal work, electrical work, mechanical training and other divisions. They should provide students with training to "carry them to the doors of industry," he said.

Cultural courses, for those so adapted, should be extended. Courses of five periods weekly for five or six years in music, art in its various branches, home decoration, landscaping and others, should be offered.

Mr. Irwin's talk was in line with various Education Week activities, just concluded throughout Canada and United States. John Erb was program chairman.

Must Clear Metz Before All Out Offensive

LONDON, Nov. 13 (CP-Reuters)—It is perfectly clear now that before Gen. Eisenhower, Allied Supreme Commander, could contemplate the all-out offensive he had to clear up two points at his front: Antwerp and the fortress city of Metz. Antwerp, it has been announced, will be in use within a week; the neutralizing, if not the capture, of the world's reputed strongest fortress therefore has become urgent.

Metz is a main fortress at the cross-roads; 12 main roads radiate in all four directions under the control of its guns and 14 bridges span the Moselle inside the city. It is therefore perfectly designed to present a threat to any army rash enough to by-pass it and leaving insufficient protection on its flank. Gen. Eisenhower has to settle Metz one way or another; also he needs the roads to give Gen. Patton elbow-room for his deployment against the Moselle Gap.

The German garrison is substantial. The peacetime strength of the Metz garrison was 25,000. Now its defences reach North as far as Thionville. Gen. Patton is coming up from the South, using the main roads that intersect the approaches to Metz.

The Germans are probably staying to fight. Metz therefore may take longer to reduce than will the clearing of Antwerp.

Former Trail Man to Serve 2 Months on Bad Check Charge

Mobile X-Ray Unit May Operate in Nelson 1945; Starts Trail Next Week

Likelihood that a mobile X-Ray unit would be available and would operate in the Nelson area in 1945 was expressed Monday by Dr. W. K. Massey, Medical Health Officer. It is the aim to eventually, through the use of such units, make X-Ray examinations of every man, woman and child in British Columbia at regular intervals as an anti-tuberculosis measure.

A mobile unit would be brought into use next week at Trail, and for the first time in history the X-Ray examination of every person in a city and district of $20,000 will be undertaken, he said.

Nelson Rotarians will gather at the Hume tonight to prepare the seals for mailing. The seals will be mailed to over 1500 families here. Publicity for the sales campaign had been arranged, Secretary J. H. Coventry reported. One supporting program had already been broadcast, while Mayor N. C. Stibbs would be heard in a radio address over CKLN next week.

Interpreting The War News

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON Associated Press War Analyst

First reports of Nazi evacuation of the Metz-Thionville bastion guarding the Lorraine gateway to Germany and the middle Rhine appear premature, but no more than that. Both anchorages of the last enemy foothold in France, however, are close to encirclement by United States 3rd Army elements and due for capture or complete isolation soon.

In each case twin bridgeheads threaten to cut the last communications and escape routes from both towns. Thionville at the North end of the 16-mile Moselle span between it and Metz seems certainly doomed. It has been cut off by American forces from direct contact with Metz and Nancy. A single highway and rail system leading Southeastward to Germany are all that remain in German hands.

Metz is in little better case. Two railroads and four highways center-

C.P.R. Employees in B. C. Reached 120 P. C. of Quota

VANCOUVER, B.C., Nov. 13 — Returns were still pouring in when the Canadian Pacific Railway employees Victory Loan campaign went over the top in every way.

In British Columbia, the employees invested $800,000, reached 120 per cent of their objective and had 96 per cent employee participation. Victory flags were won by the District, by the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway, by the Vancouver, Revelstoke, Kootenay and Kettle Valley divisions, and by Canadian Pacific Air Lines. A large number of group pennants and scores of honor certificates were also won.

The employees' national objective was also greatly exceeded, investment being in the neighborhood of $10,000,000. This combined with the investment of $17,500,000 by company and pension funds to boost the total for company and employees in seven loans to more than $144,000,000.

Hundreds Return on Hospital Ship

By JOHN LEBLANC Canadian Press Staff Writer

HALIFAX, Nov. 13 (CP)—Survivors of land fighting in France and Italy and the air war over Europe, hundreds of wounded Canadian servicemen returned to the Dominion today aboard the British hospital ship Aba.

Their experiences of the battlefields temporarily thrust aside, the disabled fighters showed keenest interest, as they came home, in Canada's army manpower crisis. News-men going aboard the ship were bombarded with questions on the developments leading up to Defence Minister Ralston's resignation issue.

Men of the army, most of them veterans of France, made up the bulk of the arrivals, with a small group of R.C.A.F. personnel rounding out the contingent.

A bombing error incident in Italy was described by L.-Bdr. Roy (Chesty) Green, R.C.A., of Victoria who despite a fractured spine was the life of the party down in his ward.

"This one was really a pip," he said. "I was attached to the West Nova Scotia regiment at the time, near Campobasso. We were going into a town and called for air support at 4 p.m.

"Our bombers came over at four o'clock all right, but they bombed us. They decided to try again. At four o'clock, the bombers gave it to us again.

"We got set for one more try, at four in the afternoon. So at four in the afternoon—yeah, you guessed it. That was enough for the O. C. He sent a message back: "OK, we capitulate."

Rotary Club to Boost Xmas Seals

Formal opening of the 1944 Christmas Seal campaign for the prevention of tuberculosis has been set for November 20. President W. G. Harold of the Nelson Rotary Club, announced in a radio address Saturday night.

For some weeks the Rotary Christmas Seal Committee has been hard at work preparing the envelopes that will carry into nearly every home in this district a supply of the cheerfully colored seals that are by this time so intimately associated with the anti-tuberculosis movement.

Many thousands of these seals will go into the mails just before the official opening of the campaign on Nov. 20. Citizens of this district are asked to purchase—and use—as many seals as they can. The need for the work supported by Christmas Seals is more important this year than ever before. During 1943 Canada suffered an increase in the death rate from this disease. If the ground thus lost is to be recovered, every citizen will need to do his part to bring up the Seal sale total.

Find Footprints of Missing Airman

LAKE COWICHAN, B.C., Nov. 13 (CP)—B.C. police officers directing the search for Lac. Leslie Heal, 28, airman missing since Nov. 5 in the woods near here, said today footprints which they were satisfied were those of Heal had been found near Dymple Lake.

Cpl. J. Henry, B.C. Police officer at Duncan, said he dispatched eight experienced woodsmen, who will follow Lens Creek, from its headwaters in Dymple Lake to the San Juan River and the Pacific Ocean.

While hopes of the searchers were raised by finding of the footprints, there is little chance now of finding him alive. While he carried a rifle and ammunition and matches with him, he had no axe. It is felt it would be impossible for a person to exist eight days in the woods without food and shelter at this time of year.

Lac. Heal was stationed at Patricia Bay. His wife lives at Saanich.

First Two Deaths by Military Court in Brussels

BRUSSELS, Nov. 13 (CP Reuter)—The first two death sentences to be passed by the Military Court at Brussels since the country's liberation were carried out today.

One was Joseph Hoogeven, a chauffeur convicted of betraying to the Gestapo a young patriot and the youth's friends wanted by the Germans for killing a traitor journalist.

Paul Herten, collaborator and the chief editor of the pro-German news paper Nouveaux Journaux was the other. Herten was accused of inspiring Hoogeven's crime.

The two men were shot in the Saint Gilles prison.

Says Sulfa Drugs Being "Grossly Abused" by Doctors

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 13 (AP)—Use of sulfa drugs in treatment of skin diseases is being "grossly abused" by doctors trying to compensate for their own "shortcomings" in the field of skin infections, Dr. Norman Tobias of St. Louis University said today.

Declaring that the layman also was erroneously using the drugs in certain instances, he asserted: "Not only do we find fathers using their babies' jar of sulfathiazole ointment for real and imagined dermatoses (skin infections) but babies are getting smeared with sulfa ointments that were originally prescribed for their parents."

While he declared that the sulfonamides undoubtedly were one of the greatest blessings in the world of medicine, he said they had definite limitations and should therefore not be employed willy nilly.

Saying that the chief danger of sulfonamides applied to the skin consists of local or general sensitization (an allergic reaction) which may be incapacitating.

Religion . . . Bible Reading in the Home

By Garry Cleveland Myers, Ph.D.

For years and years the average clergyman has been urging the parents of his parish to restore the widely-passing practice of family prayers and other religious ceremonies in the home. The impact of the war has brought more of this urging from the pulpit and religious press. It appears that a good many parents are responding favorably. Indeed, a great many mothers have written me lately to tell me of their home practices in this direction.

Many who read this column grew up in homes where grace was said at meals and the Bible read aloud in the family circle. Most will admit that they are glad to have had such upbringing even though they are not carrying on these practices with their own children.

It is apparent, of course, that in many homes today, with all the haste and interruptions from outside—radio, telephone and visiting programs by different members of the family, with fewer opportunities for this family to be all together at regular times in a leisurely, quiet atmosphere—family religious ceremonies are harder to cultivate now than in earlier days.

Nevertheless, many religious parents who sense deep values in such ceremonies, may find ways to carry them on.

The best time to begin is when the first child is very young. Not many families with children of school age, particularly if they are adolescents, will be able to win the wholehearted cooperation from the children in such an undertaking, unless these children have for years been used to the family practice.

Not only may these older children feel hampered by the procedure but also may feel embarrassed lest some playmate or pal should drop in during the ceremony. This inner response from the children is not so likely to happen where the practice has been the constant usual way of the family, and where there also obtains a fine relationship between the children and their parents, who religion seems to cause them to be more lovely to live with.

Moreover, these children witness no sign of embarrassment in the parents or indication by them that they consider the ceremony a mere perfunctory matter; provided the parents don't brag about their ploy or make it a burden to other adults and the children's young friends. Surely it is a great and noble achievement of parents to have kept the growing child from feeling ashamed of any of the family's religious practices but instead, proud of them.

A good time in most families for Bible reading is at a regular meal when all are together. Though the youngster of four or five might not understand, it, he can learn to wait, be quiet and listen, to enjoy the rhythm of the words, if the selection is short and chosen with a view to music, as illustrated by some of the Psalms. Some families repeat a few choice selections over and over again, so that growing children come to know them by heart and enjoy saying them in concert. The more the children participate, of course, the better.

While spinach has been put in its "proper place" among the vegetables that are good for us and de-throned from its top rating as the one having the most iron, it is still an excellent food and should be frequently included in our menus. Try it with tomato and bacon for a change, as in the menu submitted for today.

POTTED VEAL SHOULDER

2 pounds veal shoulder, 1 onion, 1 quart water, 2 tablespoons salt, 1 teaspoon pepper, 2 cups diced potatoes, 6 carrots, 4 tablespoons flour. Remove fat and cut meat into 1-inch cubes. Simmer veal and sliced onion in water for one hour, add salt, pepper, potatoes and sliced carrots, and continue cooking for 15 minutes. Thicken mixture with flour and water which have been blended together. Prepare dumplings and drop by teaspoonsful on top of meat. Cover closely and steam 12 minutes. Serves six.

SPINACH WITH TOMATO AND BACON

1 pound spinach, 2 tomatoes, 2 slices bacon. Clean spinach and set aside. Remove thin slice from top and bottom of tomatoes, cut in half and cover with bacon cut in tiny pieces. Start spinach cooking and at the same time broil tomatoes until they are soft and bacon is crisp. Spinach and tomatoes will be done at the same time. Serve with buttered spinach in center, surrounded with tomatoes. Serves 2 or 3.

CUSTARD PIE

Pie pastry, 2 cups scalded milk, 3 eggs, 1/4 teaspoon salt, dash nutmeg, 1-3 cup sugar.

Line pie tin with pastry and flute edge. Beat 2 eggs slightly, add sugar and salt, add scalded milk and pour into pie shell. Place in 450 degree F. oven and bake 10 minutes, then reduce heat to 350 and bake 40 to 50 minutes altogether. For chocolate custard pie add 2 squares of grated chocolate to custard before baking. The chocolate will rise to the top and make a dark crust over top.

ROSSLAND, B.C., Nov. 13.—The Women's Consumer Council met on Thursday afternoon in the Red Cross rooms at the Court House, when Roy L. Foster and Mr. Erdahl of the War-time Prices and Trade Board were present.

Mr. Foster told the Council that a customer could demand a fully detailed sales slip from the merchant showing weight, etc. He also told of various illicit practices, which he personally had to inquire into. These enquiries dealt with sale of radios, fuel trucks, Chinese vegetable merchants, rentals. He also spoke of the assistance given by the Women's Council in keeping prices down.

Saying that children's clothing manufacturing was up, he said there was a better quality of shoes being made, but merchants were hesitant in stocking them, as prices were higher. Mr. Foster felt the scarcity of children's clothing was due to the people having larger incomes, and instead of buying one garment, purchasing two or three.

He also read a list of prices of articles sold in Newfoundland, which has no price board. The prices of Newfoundland being two and three times higher than those in Canada.

The report of the year's activities was read. Members present were Mrs. P. L. Swift, Mrs. P. G. Palmer, Mrs. W. G. Mara, Mrs. J. R. Bryan, Mrs. T. R. Davis and Mrs. W. G. Brooks.

FIVE GENERATIONS: Representatives of five generations gathered at the home of Mrs. McMillan, Erickson, July 17 to honor Mrs. Donaldson on her 94th birthday.

The members of the family, representing the five generations, are shown, Mrs. Donaldson, seated, Mrs. A. McMillan, Mrs. Charles Godwin, Mrs. E. Perry, and son, Donald.

Remembrance Service Held at Grand Forks

Grand Forks, B.C.—Observance of Remembrance Day was carried with alike solemnity and rejoicing under auspices of the Grand Forks Canadian Legion.

The ceremony took place at the Cenotaph at the post office square, where there was a program of sacred singing led by the band, a brief discourse on Remembrance by the Rev. Cyril Sylvia-White, laying of wreaths at the base of the Cenotaph, and the sounding of The Last Post.

More than a dozen wreaths were placed at the Cenotaph, and included those from the City of Grand Forks, from the Legion, the Masons, the Odd Fellows, the Knights of Pythias, the Gyros, the Rebekahs, the Eastern Star, the Pythian Sisters, and several private wreaths.

Grand Forks Band of twenty members led the parade from the Canadian Legion Hall and were followed by veterans of the last war under command of Sergeant-Major Richard Scott; then came mothers or wives of veterans and of members of the present expeditionary force. Then the local company of Pacific Coast Mountain Rangers in uniform, numbering about 60, and after them came Boy Scouts in uniform and Girl Guides in uniform, numbering nearly 100. They paraded along several city streets en route to and from the Cenotaph.

The Legion had preceded their Armistice Day celebration with a dance in the Bonthon Hall Friday evening, which was largely attended. Following the ceremonial at 11 a.m. Saturday morning all those on parade and a number of other invited friends repaired to the Legion Hall. The young or basement with luncheon, music and dancing, while the veterans and other friends enjoyed luncheon and their annual "get-together" on the main floor of the Legion.

Michel Boy Recognized for First Aid Work

NATAL, B. C.—The St. John Ambulance Association and Red Cross of Michel sponsored an enjoyable banquet and dance at the Legion Hall, Michel, recently during which time the presentation of a record of 68 first aid certificates were made by W. Chapman, superintendent of the Michel colliery to the different members of the Cadets, Home Nursing and Public classes, Dr. Kydd of Michel acted as chairman during the presentation. W. Chapman, Michel and W. Whittaker, General Superintendent of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company of Fernie, spoke on the good work and the large membership of the Michel St. John Ambulance Association. Others present were H. Miard, Fernie; Inspector of Mines; J. Littler, Coal Creek Superintendent along with the officials of the coal company.

One of the highlights during the presentation was the reading of a letter from Brigade Headquarters of Ottawa regarding the efficiency of rendering first aid by youthful Neale Pennington of Michel, a 10-year-old boy who a short while ago went wading in a pool above Michel with some friends. One of the boys cut his foot very badly, severing an artery, and through the knowledge of first aid he was able to stop the

Kimberley Legion Holds Armistice Day Services

KIMBERLEY, B.C.—An impressive Remembrance Day ceremony was held in Kimberley on Armistice Day under the auspices of the Kimberley branch of the Canadian Legion. The Chairman of the Branch, Percy Lye, opened the ceremony by dedicating the service to the memory of the six thousand valiant men who gave their lives for Canada during the war of 1914-1918 and the men in the services who have paid the supreme sacrifice in the present conflict.

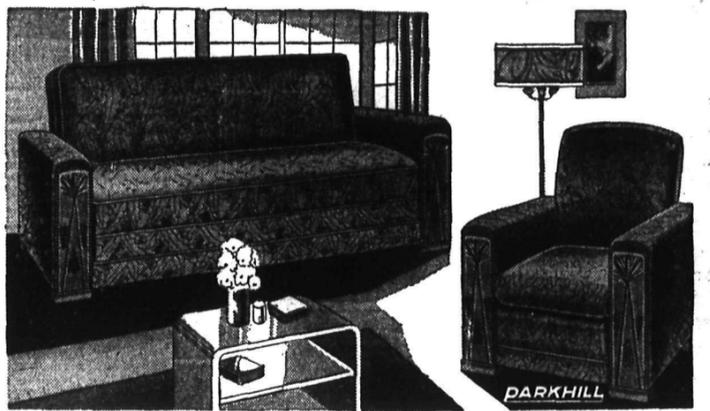

After the sounding The Last Post by Bandmaster J. Pearson the two minute silence and The Long Bell toll he read the names of the fifteen men from this District who since 1939 have given their lives in the fight for freedom. Mayor Swan spoke briefly building a word picture of the gradual rise to power of dictatorship and expressed the hope that with victory will come peace.
Rev. S. T. Galbraith read the Scriptures from Hebrew 11th Chapter 1 to 6, 32 to 40, the reading particularly fitting for the occasion. Rev. B. A. Resker gave the address and commenced by speaking about the tomb of the unknown soldier who gave his life that his son might enjoy life in freedom, his son who perhaps has also given his life for the same cause. He pointed out that the peoples of the world had not gained peace nor victory over greed and selfishness in the intervening years since the last sacrifice of bloodshed and the present war.

CANADA'S VETERANS Their Post-War Opportunities

This is the tenth of a series of advertisements to inform the people of Canada of plans to re-establish men and women of the armed forces. To get the full details save and read every advertisement.

A Worthwhile Work For All Canadians — THE COMMUNITY'S SHARE IN RE-ESTABLISHMENT

This is the final advertisement in the series dealing with Canada's plans for the re-establishment of its men and women in the armed forces. Previous statements have told of the Canadian legislation, and have outlined the opportunities open after discharge to the men and women in uniform. Cash grants paid on discharge have been reviewed and service men and women have been advised how they may take advantage of the post-discharge program. It is important that these things be understood fully, not only by those in the Navy, Army and Air Force, but also by all citizens of Canada.

ALL HAVE A RESPONSIBILITY

The problem of re-establishment, however, can not be solved alone by Parliament providing machinery and financing. Neither can it be solved merely by the men and women in uniform taking advantage of that machinery and that financing. To be fully successful the Canadian plan for returning its fighting forces to civilian life needs and must have the full support of all. It needs support from employers, and the help of organized labour, skilled trades and other workers. It needs, above all, the help of the communities from which these men and women come.

PLANS ARE WIDESPREAD

As has been outlined, the Canadian plan for re-establishment is so all-embracing that it has been described as the most complete of any of the United Nations. There are cash grants at discharge, coupled with the war service gratuity and re-establishment credit. There is protection against illness and unemployment, and pensions for those disabled as a result of service. Wide opportunity is provided for state financed training either on the vocational or university level, with assistance in financing a business or in aiding for return to farms and commercial fishing. The home owning provisions are generous—and because Canada throughout the war, has guarded against inflation and has financed soundly, all this monetary assistance is worth one hundred cents on the dollar. Canadians who have served will return to a nation sound financially.

MANY ARE HELPING NOW

Already government authorities are receiving a great deal of voluntary assistance. Veterans' organizations, such as the Canadian Legion, the Canadian Corps Association, the War Amputations of Canada, the Army and Navy Veterans, and others are rendering magnificent service. Canadian service clubs, and women's organizations are doing excellent work. Several hundred communities across Canada have formed volunteer committees to aid with the community problems of re-establishment, but there is need for many of these.

THE FUNCTIONS OF VOLUNTEER COMMITTEES

Volunteer Citizens Committees are set up under a government order-in-council. They are an official part of the Canadian re-establishment machinery. In a broad sense their function is to assist in the community re-establishment problems. These vary in different centres, but in a general sense the committees:

1. Organize home coming receptions for veterans.
2. Give local publicity to the re-establishment program.
3. Give advice and counsel to veterans on their re-establishment problems.
4. Assist in securing employment.
5. Advise the government on policies and on local problems.

These, however, are only highlights of the work which can be done, for the field is wide and the work is well worthwhile.

HOW TO ORGANIZE

In many communities where Volunteer Citizens' Committees have been formed, initial leadership has been provided by municipal authorities and veterans' organizations. Usually service clubs, business men and other community bodies have been invited to assist. The co-operation and aid of government authorities is available, for the problem of community re-establishment is regarded as a most important part of the work. If your community has not already formed a volunteer citizens' committee, full details and assistance may be secured by writing to the Department of Veterans' Affairs.

VETERANS' WELFARE OFFICERS ARE STATIONED IN KEY CENTRES THROUGHOUT CANADA. THEY ARE THE FRIENDS OF EX-SERVICE MEN AND WOMEN. IF THERE IS ANYTHING ABOUT THE REHABILITATION PROGRAM WHICH YOU DO NOT UNDERSTAND CONSULT YOUR NEAREST VETERANS' WELFARE OFFICER.

British Columbia Needs the Best Brains It Can Attract

That indefinable something for which Canadians have been fighting in foreign lands, waters and skies for five years is strongly hinted at by Col. George S. Clarke in a letter to his former "learned friends" of the Vancouver Bar in the October issue of the Advocate.

The Vancouver Sun in an editorial joins this fighting Vancouver lawyer in asking if it is worthy of our fighting men for those at home to place a tariff against brains entering this province from other parts of Canada.

Col. Clarke deals with a suggestion advanced at the last B. C. Law Society convention that fees for barristers from other provinces wishing to practice in British Columbia be raised from $750 to $1500.

"We must be just before we are generous and we have 120 of our members overseas," said one prominent K.C. in support of the suggestion. Said another: "We should take steps to see that when they come back they won't find British Columbia the happy hunting ground for lawyers from all over Canada."

But those members overseas appear to take a broader view. We quote Col. Clarke in part:

"My own feelings on this subject are somewhat confused, but frankly I can not believe that a financial barrier against members of the profession from other provinces is a good thing, either from the point of view of the B. C. bar, the public, or those of us over here.

"After all, the function of the lawyer is to serve the community. If in doing so he can earn a livelihood, so much the better—I should be most unhappy to think that the B. C. public should be deprived of the services of capable barristers from elsewhere merely in order that I, with my very limited talents, should be thereby assisted towards earning a livelihood to which, on my talents and merits in competition with such others, I might not be entitled.

"It goes without saying that the efforts of those at home towards assisting in a pecuniary way those of us over here is fully appreciated. But I do think that the answer to the problem does not consist in an attempt to exclude brains on financial grounds or, for that matter, on any other grounds."

If men overseas are against any tariff on brains entering this province from other parts of Canada, is it not time that British Columbians generally prepared themselves to meet whatever competition comes?

The Vancouver paper deals with the barriers placed by the legal profession against admission of lawyers from other parts of Canada. Its argument is equally strong if applied to any other profession or business which might attempt to featherbed itself against competition from other provinces. The more brains and talent we can attract to British Columbia the better for this province and, in the long run, for the professions or other vocations concerned.

To Prevent Post-War Inflation

The Armistice in World War I was signed on Nov. 11, 1918, and the Versailles Treaty the next Summer, yet prices of commodities rose tremendously during 1919 and 1920. It was not until June, 1920, that there was any sign that inflation was ending. In the meantime the public suffered. War prosperity had ended, average incomes were down, but costs of living continued to soar.

Butter in Canada reached 85 cents a pound, eggs 86 cents a dozen, clothing climbed to twice its pre-war prices. Woolen goods, such as blankets, reached astronomical prices.

The same condition, or worse, would arise after this war if we did not continue to hold the line against inflation during the war and continue price and wage controls after the war until that danger has passed.

Once the danger of post-war inflation has disappeared, controls should be immediately abolished. Controls during peacetime conditions, once we have settled down from the war, would be as detrimental to the people and to economy of the country as they have been beneficial during the war and will continue to be beneficial for the transition period after Germany and Japan have surrendered.

Government Control of Industry Harris' Remedy for Ills

To the Editor:

Sir—Quite a lot of people who have read my letters are "still bewildered". They say, "This fellow Harris seems to have got hold of some good ideas, and certainly does some first class cussing, but we think that his schemes for making everybody do useful work are absurd. Why even now in peace time, the farmers have been unable to sell their crops, and Trill itself, in spite of its grand management, has been compelled to pile up great quantities of good minerals in times before the war. Now Harris comes along and tells us that we all ought to work hard: which of course would only make matters far worse."

Harris has never said that we all ought to work hard. He has said, and he repeats, we all ought to work sufficiently to pay our way through life, and end up with our accounts at least square with humanity. How hard we have to work should be our own decision. For an old haysced like myself, with fairly simple wants, and to whom possessions are generally a nuisance, only a very small amount of well-managed work would be necessary to cover every expense. But our modern youngsters, who will probably require a swift motor-car and an airplane, also swankey surroundings, may need to work quite hard to pay for such magnificence. To whom much is given, of him much shall be required.

Under our Bedbug system, too often we get the very opposite results. The men who make our roads by hard work are despised by the careless herds of idle rich, who swank past in luxurious cars — "Fat and greasy citizens" as the immortal William described them. My good friend, Mr. Kershaw, pointed this out in his very able letter which you published very recently. He showed how badly Canada has treated her farmers, and he suggests price fixing as the remedy for the farmer's troubles. Think again, Brother Kershaw. How can you fix the prices of produce or wages or salaries in the face of inflation? If you could get a fixed value for currency (which you can't), and with all the crops fixed at profitable prices, there would be a wild rush to the land. The price of land would take an enormous jump, as it did after the last war. Those who held land would sell out and the newcomers would find themselves under a load of debt, or mortgages, and would be just as hard up as ever. We should have raised a new crop of parasites.

Let us get after our parasites systematically, and by the only means that will bring results, conscription for peace. Make every Canadian attempt to do useful work. "What is useful work?" many will exclaim.

Providing the goods and services that Canadians ask for is useful work. To put it neatly, "Every time that you make a purchase, you cast a vote for the thing purchased, to be produced." Under conscription you would be able to win your small election, perhaps 20 times a day. How's that for politics?

But some people will ask for stupid or even harmful things. Well, lots do now. And lots more spend vast energy in trying to persuade people to buy most injurious things—even the most dangerous drugs, or filthy literature, or obscene photographs. Some women try to sell themselves even, and sometimes they are driven by awful necessity to do so.

Take control of our industries once and for all. It is not kindness to have your little dog's tail cut off, inch by inch. Treat all former owners decently, you well afford this, and we all are partly to blame for breaking God's laws and allowing such injustice. No single person need be made to suffer, though plenty will think that they are hardly used. Within six months of applying conscription for peace, Canada would be going right ahead—happier, safer, saner, than ever before. And true religion and undefiled will become far more possible, and Peace on Earth less like a wild dream.

Courage Canadians. You must lead the way. By honest work into a brighter day.

Gone are the times when it has seemed to pay to sneak your living, and Christ disobey. J. C. MARRIS. New Denver, B. C., Nov. 9, 1944.

THAT WATH JUTH WHAT HE THAID
When a midwestern reporter turned in a story about a farmer's loss of 2025 pigs by theft, an alert copyreader thought the figure was pretty high and phoned the farmer to check up on it. "Did you lose 2025 pigs?" he asked. And when the distraught farmer answered, "Yeth," the newspaper thanked him and changed the copy to make the loss two sows and 25 pigs.—Your Life.

Just Wondering—Is it true that a person applying for the old age pension must do so six months before he reaches the age of 70? How does he go about it, and whom should he write to when applying for the old age pension?

No, a person does not have to make an application till three months before he reaches the age of 70, and it can be made any time following that time. If the application is made before the 90 days the papers would have to be re-sworn. In making application write to the Old Age Pensions Board, 411 Dunsmuir Street, Vancouver, or to the Social Assistance Branch Office, Nelson.

His brother, Flt. Lt. Allan Emmott, has completed one tour with the Pathfinder Squadron and now has a total of 40 trips behind him.

"Stan Horswill (Flying Officer T. S. Horswill, D.F.C.) was on my station," Emmott said Sunday. "He flew for the Tiger Squadron while I was with the Porcupine Squadron. We had a visit one day from F. Stuart McIntosh, who is in Radar work."

Emmott also recalled that Phil Marchildon, Philadelphia Athletic pitcher of former years, was also on his station and was now a prisoner of war following a raid on Kiel.

Lac. Weir of Trill, an engine mechanic, had often worked on Emmott's aircraft, he said.

He said his brother Allan had begun flying with an English airman who had 90 bombing trips to his credit and was working for an even 100 trips.

Creston Lions Suggest Widening of Main Street

CRESTON, B.C.—The matter of interviewing merchants on the main street as to their attitude in moving their establishments back ten feet on each side of the road, along with the proposed site of the civic centre took the major part of the semi-monthly meeting of the Creston Lions Club, with President A. Speers in the chair, 17 Lions present and two visitors, Ted Mitchell and W. Granger present.

Town Advisory Lions representative, J. D'Appolonia, told the Lions of a meeting of the council and committee with the latter agreeing in principle to levy 8 mills for three years on the taxpayers to bring in an engineer to make a survey of Creston. He further pointed out that the council recognized the Board of Trade, Lions and Legion representatives as the official town planning advisory council.

Frank Staples will be the Lions representative to interview the merchant in regard to moving back the ten feet. If enough of the merchants favor the idea of moving back, a general meeting will be called and definite plans established.

The club re-affirmed John D'Appolonia as their representative on the town planning advisory committee.

Chairman Frank Staples reported to the club on the civic centre and suggested that it be called the Lions Memorial Park. He felt that in between the first and third meetings all Lions number of athletic departments the number of athletic departments the civic centre should contain, the location and methods of finance.

In answer to E. J. Graham's question of civic centre dimensions, J. D'Appolonia stated that an area of 300 feet by 300 feet would take in a swimming pool, skating and curling rinks, tennis court, bowling green and still offer a 75 foot by 200 foot parking space.

The skating rink would take a 235 foot by 105 foot building with the swimming pool and curling rink bordering each side of the skating rink. There is a possibility that extra ground, for baseball will be bought and the suggestion of a 35 acre golf course will come under discussion.

"Immortality" Is Church Theme

"Mortals and Immortals" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday.

The Golden Text was: "As is the earthy, such are they also that are earthy; and as is the heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly" (1 Corinthians 15: 48).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Look unto me, and be saved, all the ends of the earth: for I am God, and there is none else" (Isaiah 45: 22).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus beheld in Science the perfect man, who appeared to him who winning mortal man appears to mortals. In this perfect man the Saviour saw God's own likeness, and this correct view of man healed the sick."

Double Depreciation Provided . . .

To Encourage Reconstruction

OTTAWA, Nov. 13 (CP)—Finance Minister Isley announced today that a double depreciation provision on new capital investments to encourage reconstruction projects became effective on November 10 and will continue until December 31, 1946 or until two years after the cessation of hostilities with Germany, whichever is the earlier.

The taxation concession was promised in this year's budget. A condition of obtaining the double depreciation benefits is that a certificate must be issued by the reconstruction Minister Howe certifying that, having regard to war or reconstruction needs, it is desirable in his opinion that the project be allowed double depreciation.

Mr. Isley said the measure was being implemented immediately to assist certain projects which would result in increased war production and which also would later have post-war use and contribute to maintaining employment when war production falls off.

EARLY PLANS
Mr. Isley said the measure was taken to meet the problem of conversion to peacetime production before the actual cessation of hostilities in Europe. Plans must be made and much preparatory work done, if industry was to be ready to proceed with reconversion of expansion projects immediately on cessation of active hostilities in Europe.

There were instances "where producers should be allowed to prepare in advance to meet the basic demands which will arise when industry generally is able to undertake a complete change-over to full peacetime operations," he said.

"For example, there will undoubtedly be a very heavy demand for various kinds of building materials when peacetime construction gets under way. "Unless the supplies of certain building materials are allowed to prepare now for this situation unfortunate delays are bound to arise later on. The conversion program would be seriously hampered if industry generally were held up through lack of capital facilities on the part of certain basic industries. "The announcement of the coming into force of the double depreciation section with the requirement of a certificate from the Minister of Reconstruction recognizes the obvious need for carefully synchronizing certain activities in our economy if transition from war to peace is to be effected smoothly."

The order-in-council proclaiming the effective period makes provision for details connected with the administration of the measure. It provides that the double depreciation in respect of those assets which qualify will continue annually until 80 per cent of the assets in question have been written off.

Thus, if normal depreciation of an asset is at the rate of 10 per cent per year, the double depreciation will be allowed to continue for four years.

SOME EXCLUDED
Certain kinds of new investment are excluded, at least for the present, from the benefits of double depreciation. Among these are buildings used for commercial or financial purposes. Including stores, hotels, tourist accommodation and office buildings; dwelling houses, including apartment houses; automobiles, trucks, buses and railway rolling stock.

More detailed regulations with regard to the administration of the double depreciation provision will be issued by the Minister of National Revenue.

Removal of Isolationists Dispense Fears in U.S.

By C. R. BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (CP).—Removal of some of the most obstructive isolationists in last week's congressional election and approval of President Roosevelt for another four-year term has dissipated much of the fear that the peace to come would be lost through a repetition of the Senate action which destroyed the hopes of the League of Nations in 1920.

This is the conclusion of foremost American analysts from study of the results of the voting, and they foresee swift and harmonious action by Great Britain, the United States and Russia now that the President's authority to speak has been so strongly supported by his people.

Two conclusions are drawn from the election results:
1. That President Roosevelt may go to his next international conference with reasonable assurance that his commitments will be approved by Congress.

2. That the fear of Senate refusal to approve American participation in a world organization for peace now may be dismissed. The first of these conclusions means that the Roosevelt prestige at future conferences, always great, will be greater, and his authority to speak unquestioned.

And the second is expected to encourage all the United Nations to enter wholeheartedly into the final negotiations on the league for peace and security which are expected to open somewhere in the United States early in 1945.

Missing when the 79th Congress convenes for the first sitting next January will be such isolationists as Senators Robert Reynold (Dem.-N.C.) who did not seek re-election, and Gerald P. Nye (Rep.-N.D.) defeated last Tuesday.

Also absent will be representatives Hamilton Fish (Rep.-N.Y.) and Stephen Day (Rep.-Ill.), both of whom were defeated, the latter by a woman and by a big majority.

Market Trends . . .

LONDON, Nov. 13 (CP-Reuters) - Argentine rails were firm today, reflected an Argentine Government spokesman's statement concerning an agreement for the better-working of the British-owned railways in that country.

NEW YORK - Led by Aircrafts and Motors, the stock market today suffered its first average tumble since Nov. 3.

Canadian issues were easier but Lake Shore gained 1/2, C.P.R. eased 1/4 and Seagrams and Hiram Walker lost 1/4. Dome was unchanged.

CHICAGO - The grain futures market was fairly steady, showing fractionally higher in all pits at the close. Wheat and oats showed the greatest advance.

At the opening, the Government's price was as much as 1/2 cent from Friday's close, but moderate buying by commission houses on the breaks held the market fairly steady.

Wheat was steady during the day's trade. There was selling of the December contract against buying of May, but the trade was of small volume.

Rye was fairly active and prices fell near the day's high point, and fractionally higher than Friday's close. Traders said it was a case of no selling pressure rather than any great demand for the grain.

MONTREAL - Papers moved down from the higher levels established in the brisk trading in the section at the end of last week. Trends in other divisions were mixed.

Noranda did better in Metals and Hudson Bay Mining posted a decrease. Home was ahead in Western Oils and in Mines, both Stecco and J. M. Consolidated chalked up losses.

More Than 200,000 Prisoners Since D-Day

AT 21st ARMY GROUP HEAD-QUARTERS, Nov. 13 (AP) - Field Marshal Montgomery's British and Canadian armies have captured a grand total of 189,926 prisoners since D-day last June 6, it was disclosed today by a 21st army group spokesman.

In addition, it was announced that French Maquis have taken more than 20,000 prisoners, swelling the bag to considerably more than 200,000.

Lt. Gen. Crerar's First Canadian Army held a slight edge of Lt. Gen. Dempsey's British Second Army, with a total of 1,857 officers and 93,275 other ranks captured, compared with 1,276 officers and 93,275 other ranks seized by the British army.

Between November 3 and November 10 the Canadians captured 2,822 prisoners and the British 507, the spokesman said.

Veterans Out at Nakusp Service

NAKUSP, B. C. - Remembrance Day service was held on Saturday morning in the Legion Hall. Rev. F. M.B. Gilbert of the Anglican Church and Rev. W. E. G. Dovey were in charge. The Rev. Gilbert spoke of the courage and devotion of the men who had sacrificed their lives that the people might have peace.

The veterans were out in full force and the local boys brigade also marched from the Legion Hall to the Cenotaph where wreaths were placed. Two minutes' silence was observed, the Last Post sounded, and the names of the 1914-18 fallen were read from the cenotaph as follows: Frank Benton, Marvin Boves, Peter Boftant, William Cleas, E. Mervin Edwards, Charles T. Gregory, Ernest Hall, Walter Hoare, John Ion, Alec James, Charles Jeffries, C. Ramsden, Frank Le Barge, William Marsland, Alfred Mosely, Eric Stokes, Fred Swires, Hugh Taylor, Horace Waterfield, Alfred Moseley, Samuel Reid, Robert Stobo, Joseph Robinson, Frank Chatfield Howett - and those in 1944 - John H. Benton, Robert Steenhoff, Frank Green and Ernest Shelling.

Try New Secret of Keeping Eggs Fresh

STRAATHROY, Ont., Nov. 13 (CP) - Three men who believe they have discovered "the secret by which the Scandinavian countries were able to supply Britain with fresher eggs than Canada's are at work in nearby Melbourne trying to prove that eggs dipped in wax stay fresh. This week a test batch of 330 cases is being dipped at St. Marys. The eggs will be shipped to Britain where they will be subjected to rigorous tests.

Melbourne's three experimenters said that of eggs 26-days-old which have been kept unprotected in room temperatures ranging from 55 to 75 degrees, some not given the wax treatment show big air cells and darkening yolks when candled. In the eggs that have been treated, evaporation has not occurred and, so says Stewart Campbell, one of the trio, the eggs taste just as good as newly-laid ones.

Australia Stops Sending Men for Training in Canada

OTTAWA, Nov. 13 (CP) - Australia has stopped sending men to the Commonwealth Air Training stream in Canada and her 2,000 men still in training will eventually go to operations in Europe and the Southwest Pacific. Sir William Glasgow, Australian High Commissioner said today.

The majority would probably return to Australia for eventual service in the Pacific.

Burglars Escape With $1,839 From Coast Store

At Least 18 Canadian Infantry Regiments in Schelde Action

LONDON, Nov. 13 (CP) — At least 18 Canadian infantry regiments, a reconnaissance regiment, and some tanks of a Western Canada unit participated in the campaign to drive the Germans from the Schelde approaches to Antwerp, a recapitulation showed tonight.

The units included the following infantry battalions, all of the 2nd Canadian Division:

- The South Saskatchewan Regiment, of Weyburn, Sask.
- Royal Hamilton Light Infantry.
- The Essex Scottish of Windsor, Ont.
- The Royal Regiment of Canada, of Toronto.
- The Toronto Scottish.
- The Calgary Highlanders.
- The Black Watch, of Montreal.
- Le Regiment de Maisonneuve.
- Les Fusiliers Mont-Royal.
- The Third Division Infantry battalions were engaged.
- The Highland Light Infantry of Galt, Ont.
- The Canadian Scottish, of Victoria.
- The Royal Winnipeg Rifles.
- The Regina Rifles.
- The North Nova Scotia Highlanders of Amherst, N. S.
- The North Shore New Brunswick Regiment of Newcastle, N. B.
- The Queen's Own Rifles of Canada, of Toronto.
- Le Regiment de la Chaudiere, of Lake Megantic, Que.
- The Stormont, Dundas and Glen- gary Highlanders, of Cornwall, Ont.

In addition, the 8th Reconnaissance Regiment, of Swift Current, Sask., was engaged and one company of the Royal Montreal Regiment. The Western unit which contributed some tanks to the operations on South Beveland so far has not been identified.

Ross Munro, Canadian Press War Correspondent, reported in a field dispatch last week that every Canadian combat unit on the Western front saw action in the campaign, but added it was principally an infantry show.

The Schelde campaign covered three sectors—the German-held pocket South of the Schelde Estuary, bounded on the South by the Leopold Canal; the Mainland sector extending Northward from Antwerp's dock area to Bergen Op Zoom; and the Schelde Estuary islands of the South Beveland, North Beveland and Walcheren.

Some of the units named fought in more than one of these sectors. In the Schelde pocket sector the Royal Winnipeg Rifles, the Regina Rifles, The Canadian Scottish and the Company from the Royal Montreal Regiment fought their way across the Leopold Canal. The Stormont, Dundas and Glenary Highlanders, the North Nova Scotia Highlanders and the Highland Light Infantry made the original seaborne landings in the pocket near Hoofdplaat, and fought in the pocket until the last resistance by the German 64th Division was eliminated. The Queen's Own Rifles, Le Regiment de la Chaudiere and the North New Brunswick Regiment also fought in this region.

In the country North of Antwerp the R.H.L.I., the Black Watch, the Essex Scottish, the Toronto Scottish, Le Regiment de Maisonneuve, the South Saskatchewan Regiment and the Calgary Highlanders were engaged.

In the fighting through the estuary islands the Toronto Scottish, the Royal Regiment of Canada, the R.H.L.I., the Essex Scottish, the Black Watch, Le Regiment de Maisonneuve, Les Fusiliers Mont-Royal, the 8th Reconnaissance Regiment, the South Saskatchewan Regiment and the Calgary Highlanders took part. The Black Watch led the initial attack in which a foothold was gained on the Eastern end of Walcheren Island and the South Saskatchewan led the way across a canal which bisects South Beveland from North to South. The Toronto Scottish and the 8th "Reece" unit in an uncheduled operation occupied North Beveland Island.

Luzon, with an area of 40,814 square miles is the largest of the Philippine Islands.

Flt. Lt. Halcrow Wins D.F.C.

FLT. LT. HALCROW
 VANCOUVER, Nov. 13 (CP)—Flt. Lt. A. F. Halcrow of Penitenc, B.C. has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for meritorious service overseas. Western Air Command announced today. Flt. Lt. Halcrow now is on leave at his home in Penitenc.

Flt. Lt. (Sandy) Halcrow is a son of Sgt. and Mrs. David Halcrow of Penitenc and was a Nelson High School student during the period his father was with the Provincial Police here.

In July dispatches from R.C.A.F. Headquarters in London told how Flt. Lt. Halcrow contributed to "one of the most brilliant achievements of the R.C.A.F. in the history of the war in a day-long raid over Normandy June 23" when he shared in destroying a Focke Wulf near Bayeux. He was flying with a Spitfire squadron. Earlier in the month he was credited with shooting down an enemy plane on a day when Canadian airmen accounted for 26 Nazis in one day.

He was a member of the Nelson Klitkie pipe band while in Nelson. After graduating from High School he won a scholarship in engineering at a Colorado university. He came here with his family from Cranbrook.

Two brothers, David and Gordon, were also Nelson High School students and both are in the services.

There are about 2500 species of lizards.

Pro-Rec Classes Get Under Way at Armory Today

Pro Rec classes, popular health-building recreation centres, will get under way at the Nelson Armory tonight. Courses for women, men, girls and boys will be held.

The women will lead off with a class starting tonight at 7:30 o'clock. Men's classes will be held each Wednesday evening and Saturday afternoon, while the boys will have classes each Monday after school hours, and the girls each Wednesday.

Ed Kelter, Pro Rec Director, will handle the men's and boys' classes assisted in boxing instruction by Ross Young. Louis Hanic, Leader, will aid with the boys' course. Mrs. Frank Phillips will conduct the women's and girls' classes.

Pro Rec activities, it is expected, will be moved shortly to the Recreation Hall at the Civic Centre, now occupied by Boeings Aircraft of Canada.

"I'll Be There", Says Ralston

OTTAWA, Nov. 13 (CP) — Col. J. L. Ralston, who resigned as Defence Minister Nov. 1, said tonight he will attend the Commons session starting Nov. 22.

Col. Ralston had planned to start a vacation at the end of this week, but decided to attend the sitting after announcement by Prime Minister Mackenzie King tonight that the House would resume its session on Nov. 22, instead of Jan. 31.

"Yes, I'll be there; I'm the Liberal Member for Prince (Prince Edward Island) Constituency am I not?" said Col. Ralston, answering a reporter's inquiry.

A raffle is to be held for the annual Christmas W. I. fund, those in charge of this effort are Mrs. A. E. Fowler, Mrs. P. Jugg and Mrs. L. Morton.

Mrs. Parent, Sr., reported for the Cemetery Committee and said cleaning up work was being done and the levelling of the new part of grounds was being undertaken under supervision of J. Taylor.

Trail District Reaches New V-Loan Mark With $1,114,750

TRAIL, B.C., Nov. 13—Trail District subscription to the 7th Victory Loan, according to latest figures reported Monday, was $24,000 above the record subscription to the Spring loan. Seventh loan purchases by Monday amounted to $1,114,750, nearly 100 per cent of its quota. Records will be complete by Wednesday.

With the exception of Grand Forks, all units went over their quotas in the campaign, and all units, with the exception of Grand Forks and Fruitvale, which was only $100 short of its last loan total, exceeded the records they had set in the Sixth Loan campaign.

The district subscribed $8250 more than in the last campaign while Trail City went exactly this amount over its last loan total. Roseland went $14,000 over. Castles' $2450 and Greenwood-Boundary $2500.

Additional sales reported Monday and cumulative totals to date were:

Trail	$ 5,600	$ 772,700
Roseland	1,000	172,450
Grand Forks	15,050	68,450
Greenwood	Boundary	13,050	44,550
Castles	1,500	28,900
Fruitvale		27,700
Total	$24,500	$1,114,750

East Kootenay 7th Victory Loan Investment Up to $1,218,150

CRANBROOK, B.C., Nov. 13—East Kootenay Victory Loan Unit continued to increase its over-subscription margin today to 121 1/2 per cent. Standings of the sub-units, all of which have met objective, are: Cranbrook 132 1/2 per cent of its $230,000 quota, Windermere 123 1/2 per cent of its $53,000 quota, Kimberley 112 per cent of its $250,000 quota, Fernie 108 1/2 per cent of its $220,000 quota and Michel-Natal 102 1/2 per cent of its $72,000 quota.

Of the total 4810 applications for East Kootenay, Kimberley accounts for 1743, and Cranbrook for 1027. Today's official figures follow:

Cranbrook	$ 6,000	$ 304,600
Creston	5,500	255,000
Fernie	750	239,350
Kimberley	4,850	280,050
Michel-Natal		78,700
Windermere	4,450	65,450
Total	$21,550	$1,218,150

COMPLETES TOUR: FL. LT. GORDON SMITH of Nelson has finished his first tour as a fighter pilot with a score of three enemy planes destroyed and three damaged, a news release from an R.C.A.F. fighter wing in Holland reports. He is among a group posted to non-operational duties after fighting from bases in England, France, Belgium and Holland under the command of Group Captain W. E. MacBrien of Ottawa, the story said. Flt. Lt. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Smith, Third Street, was a "Red Indian" squadron pilot.

He won his wings and commission at the age of 19. His brother, Sgt. Bob Smith, recently graduated as a pilot.

I.W.A. Firm in Stand Against Communists

VANCOUVER, Nov. 13 (CP)—Members of the International Woodworkers of America stand firm in opposition to Communists, Fascists and Nazis in their organization, E. E. Benedict of Portland, Financial Secretary, said in an interview today.

"I came here to explain the position of the International Union, and to reiterate the strong opposition to Communists, Fascists and Nazis in the Union," said Mr. Benedict.

"It is deplorable that members of our organization who obviously do not represent the rank and file, are insisting on dragging this issue into our local unions, in Canada and the U.S.A. at a time when all our efforts should be devoted to winning the war, and concentrated on improving hours, working conditions and wages for the Woodworkers."

The International officers are not members of any political party, and feel that our obligations is to effectuate the program of our Union as enunciated in convention, and the program of the C.I.O. and the Canadian Congress of Labor.

The convention ratified an interpretation of the International Woodworkers constitution that the Communist Political Association was, in fact, the same organization as the Communist Party.

"Any member of the I.W.A. charged with being a member of the Communist Party must be tried on those charges and if found guilty then that member must be given an opportunity to withdraw from the Communist Party."

"Failure to withdraw from the Communist Party forfeits their membership in the I.W.A."

A petition has been made to head charges and if found guilty then that member must be given an opportunity to withdraw from the Communist Party.

Harold Pritchett, B.C. District President said that the way the constitution stands now, it could be abused by an officer who might brand a member of one of the three parties and have him removed from the membership rolls.

"We want a constitution adopted whereby a certain process will be set, if a person is believed to be causing disruption in the Union; the process to be, charges, trial by jury and if guilty, expulsion."

At the recent International convention of the I.W.A., here two members of the Union in Washington were expelled as being members of the Communist Political Association in the U.S.A. At the same time the membership re-affirmed its stand that Communists, Fascists and Nazis not be permitted membership in the Union.

Hunter Siding Children Busy on War Work

NEW DENVER, B.C.—The children of Hunters Siding School collected $8.40 for the Kinamen Milk for Britain Fund and at a Halloween party on Friday November 3rd in aid of Junior Red Cross $5.35 was realized from sale of work such as toys, garments etc. A further $5.15 from children's own self denial or earning capacities brought takings of $10.50. This is an independent Doukhobor community and the results of the children's work from 13 pupils only compare most favourably with any rural settlement.

Playground for Children in Central Kimberley

KIMBERLEY, B.C.—Substantial progress on construction of the playground for children of the main section of Kimberley has been made possible through proceeds of a recent carnival sponsored by the Rotary Club here who have made this one of their principal projects. The net profit from the two-day carnival was $2400.

Several acres flanking the highway below the high school on the South side have already been purchased, cleared, levelled and a substantial stone wall built. The additional funds are directed at planting of lawns and putting in play facilities such as swings, teeter-totters and merry-go-rounds, and the addition of trees.

Children in the main section of this city have never had easy access to the recreation facilities available to children of the McDougall Height and Chapman Camp residential sections. For this reason the Rotary Club has taken on this project on behalf of the city.

Hold No Terrors for the Home With

GYPROC WOOL THICK INSULATION

Inexpensive Healthful

When you consider the comfort, economy and protection that Gyproc Wool Thick Insulation affords, you'll quickly realize that it is indeed inexpensive to install. In fact, the low cost will probably surprise you.

Uneven temperatures in a house cause drafts. Drafts cause illness as well as discomfort. With Gyproc Wool Insulation, all rooms are kept at a more uniform temperature; drafts are eliminated and the home is definitely more healthful.

Fuel Saving Permanent

Because heat does not escape through the barrier of Gyproc Wool Insulation, you require LESS fuel to properly heat your house.

Gyproc Wool Thick Insulation is a processed rock. It does not deteriorate nor lose its insulating property. It lasts the life of the building giving the same complete protection year in and year out. First cost is last cost.
