

ITALY'S SCATTERED FLEET

Intelligence reports place its fleet, Italy's first line of defence, in the scattered positions indicated above—too weak at any one point to resist a determined Allied naval assault; and too far apart to be brought quickly together. Its main force, including three modern 35,000-ton battleships of the Littorio class have been bombed and severely damaged at Spezia in the Gulf of Genoa. Older 23,600-ton battleships of the Cavour class are based at Taranto, near the Adriatic. The best cruisers are in scouting forces based in Corsica, Sardinia, Sicily and Naples, from which they haven't ventured since the Allies landed in North Africa. Second-line ships are in Adriatic harbors, while a small and diminishing force of destroyers and submarines does patrol and reconnaissance work off the Italian mainland.

TURKEY RECALLS ENVOY TO VICHY

Expect Big News on U-Boat Warfare Shortly

By SCOTT YOUNG
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, June 17 (CP Cable).—The most encouraging news of the war from the Battle of the Atlantic is expected to be released soon in a statement considered certain to include an account of a Canadian Escort Group's outstanding success in one of the greatest anti-submarine battles ever fought.

When these details are released the public will get the best news so far from that sphere of the war—a sphere still dominating Allied strategy despite the rising flood of evidence that amphibious operations elsewhere are imminent.

MALTA RAIDERS SMASH AT SICILY, ITALY

Axis Warship Hit in Sea Attack; Plane Toll Rises

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, July 17 (AP).—R.A.F. Mosquito bombers from the Malta force—one of the three Allied air arms which have been pounding at the Axis throughout the Mediterranean—have smashed once again at enemy communications and military centres in both Sicily and Southern Italy.

This was disclosed today in a Malta communique, while headquarters here was announcing that bad weather had grounded the great Northwest Africa bombardment squadrons for the first time in more than two months.

The Mosquitoes hit the railway sidings and docks of Termini-Imerse, a North Sicilian port, with both bombs and cannon fire and raked a half dozen other targets, including railway bridges and stations in Southern Italy.

At sea, an Axis destroyer escorting a convoy was gunned and there was a brilliant flash astern; a minesweeper also was raked with fire.

To the 16 Axis planes previously reported shot down in heavy Allied offensive air action over Monday night and Tuesday, a headquarters announcement today added five enemy craft for a total score of 21 in that period.

Canada's Power to Be Increased by 1,000,000 H.P.

SEIGNIORY CLUB, Que., June 17 (CP).—Construction now under way will increase by 1,000,000 horsepower the amount of electrical energy available for Canada's war effort, W. C. Mainwaring of Vancouver, President of the Canadian Electrical Association, said here today.

This increase will take place within the next 18 months, Mr. Mainwaring added in his Presidential address.

After that development, the Dominion still will have "available for development approximately 70 per cent of our total water power resources," he said. "Nature certainly dealt generously with us in creating these water powers, and this will undoubtedly have a great effect on the future prosperity of the Dominion."

Mr. Mainwaring reported that as at last Jan. 1 Canada's hydraulic development totalled 9,225,838 horsepower. Since the outbreak of war approximately 1,000,000 additional horsepower have been developed, with 376,000 of that resulting from new installations last year.

Charge Logger With Murder of Girl

VICTORIA, June 17 (CP).—William Mitchell, 50-year-old Vancouver Island logger, was charged in nearby Saanich Police Court today with murdering Molly Justice, 15-year-old seamstress whose knife-slashed body was found last Jan. 18 on a railway right-of-way close to the home she shared with her widowed mother.

"I'm not guilty," Mitchell said as the charge was read. He was remanded until next Thursday for preliminary hearing.

BOMBER FORCE STRIKES OUT FOR GERMANY

Oil Drum Bombs Hit London Postoffice; 9 Nazi Planes Down COAST CITY HIT

By RICE YAHNER
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, June 18 (Friday). (AP).—Keeping up a week-long pounding which culminated Wednesday night in the 11th raid on the industrial city of Cologne, a large force of heavy R.A.F. bombers was heard passing over the coast early today, apparently heading again for Germany.

They followed a number of fast planes which struck out for France about midnight, returning a short time later.

An indication that the Allied planes were again heading toward Germany was seen when the Berlin radio interrupted its overseas transmission for "technical reasons," its usual way of announcing that R. A. F. planes were attacking.

Wednesday night's raid on Cologne was again aimed at the heavy concentration of Nazi war industry along the Rhine River, already heavily hammered.

In almost hourly sweeps over the continent, R.A.F. fighters shot down a total of nine German fighters during the day Thursday. Two of the raiders failed to return.

The Germans put a so-called "front-line reporter" back on the air again tonight to buck up the bomb-nervous industrial workers of the West, and D.N.B.'s military correspondent in a 1000-word story maintained that Allied bombing wasn't doing much military damage.

The "front-line reporter" in a broadcast from the "terror-stricken Western part of Germany," declared that "all people are equally affected. All have to stay put. All suffer. All have to cooperate..."

"More than once," said the broadcast, a German fighter pilot "up over the Rhine River was attacking an enemy aircraft when he saw from some 3000-foot altitude how his own house was hit."

LONDON, June 18 (Friday). (AP).—A London post office was hit by "oil drum" bombs early today during a short-lived German air attack on the city's metropolitan area.

Earlier reports said some persons were injured when a building was struck. Shortly after the alert was sounded, one explosion was heard in the area. The all-clear followed shortly.

It was also reported in London that a town on the South Coast, not immediately identified, was raided and some homes damaged.

BODY OF CHINESE MURDER SUSPECT FOUND ON BEACH

VICTORIA, June 17 (CP).—Queen Choy Yin, Chinese farmer who had been sought by police for questioning in connection with the hammer-slaying yesterday of Quan Yuen Yen, prominent Chinese businessman, was found drowned on the Dallas Road waterfront here today and police said they believed he had committed suicide.

Montreal's Mount Royal Amazes Mme Chiang

MONTREAL, June 17 (CP).—Mme. Chiang Kai-shek came to Montreal tonight and found herself intrigued by the city, its people—and a mountain.

Mme. Chiang, en route back to the United States from her three-day visit to Ottawa, paused here briefly between trains, with intentions of spending the two-hour interval resting at uptown Windsor Hotel. That was before she caught a glimpse of Mount Royal, which rises majestically in the midst of the city and its suburbs.

Mme. Chiang expressed to members of her party her amazement at the size of the mountain and its proximity to the business district. She said she would like to get closer to take a "peek" at it.

Within a matter of minutes a long black motor car whisked her up to Sherbrooke Street for a short drive along the base of the mountain before going to the station where she was greeted by other cheering throngs as she boarded a Washington-bound train.

THROWS OUT 500 LBS. OF SAUSAGE

TORONTO, June 17 (CP).—A Toronto sausage manufacturer said yesterday he had discarded at least 500 pounds of meat in the last few days because housewives are reluctant to use meat coupons to buy sausage.

Say British Forces Concentrated on Turkish Frontier

LONDON, June 18 (Friday). (CP).—The Rome radio "in a broadcast recorded by Reuters News Agency said early today that "large British forces are concentrating along the Southern frontier of Turkey."

The Rome radio previously told its listeners of "many landing craft concentrating from African coasts toward Pantelliera."

The broadcast apparently was Italy's interpretation of the closing of the Syrian-Turkish border. There was no confirmation from Allied quarters.

JAP CASUALTIES 40,000 IN YANGTSE FIGHT

Report New Attacks by U.S. Planes Cause Great Damage DOWN 6 PLANES

CHUNGKING, June 18 (Friday). (AP).—Approximately 40,000 Japanese were killed or wounded in the 40-day battle for the Upper Yangtze River, a Chinese army spokesman said today.

"Less than two-thirds of the entire Japanese force thrown into the battle managed to escape from the Chinese trap," he declared.

The Japanese, striking South of the Yangtze River at points between their big bases at Ichang and Yochow, for a time had seriously threatened China's vital "rice bowl," but the Chinese have virtually recovered the entire area in a strong counter-offensive supported by American and Chinese airmen.

Chinese troops at present are fighting on the outskirts of Owchikow, on the right bank of the Yangtze 90 miles Southeast of Ichang, and Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's headquarters announced yesterday that United States planes caused many fires and extensive damage there Tuesday in supporting attacks.

The United States bulletin said the Americans attacked the warehouse area of the city at Lotus Pond inlet, and also announced that a greatly outnumbered force of American planes the day before had destroyed six Japanese planes and probably destroyed three others in a battle Southwest of Nanchang. No American planes were lost.

The Chinese High Command said Chinese units intercepted Japanese troops near the Canton-Hankow railway, East of the Owchikow sector, and a fight presumably still going on in that area where Chinese troops have been constantly harassing Japanese communications.

The Army spokesman's declaration of 40,000 casualties had followed his recent assertion that the Japanese had employed 100,000 men in the unsuccessful offensive.

Today he said that other Japanese troops West of Salween River in Yunnan Province adjoining the Burma border had begun an offensive, but declared that Chinese troops were checking their advance.

Canadian Fighters Shoot Down Three Hun Planes

LONDON, June 17 (CP Cable).—A Canadian Spitfire wing destroyed three FW-190s in a sweep over Belgium this afternoon, the Air Ministry said tonight.

J. E. Johnson, English-born Commander of a Canadian wing, raised his own score to 17 planes downed by shooting down another today. The German fighters were destroyed in a series of combats between Ypres and the coast at heights varying from 22,000 to 26,000 feet.

The wing first encountered a formation of about 30 enemy aircraft. Shortly after a dog fight with them about 20 more fighters were seen. The Canadians immediately attacked and scattered the formation.

Protests Strong Restrictions on His Embassy

By FRANK BRUTTO
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERNE, June 17 (AP).—Turkey recalled Behic Erkin, its Ambassador to France, in protest against strong German restrictions on his Embassy in Vichy, a Turkish diplomatic source said today.

Erkin's recall to Ankara was not considered a rupture in relations between Turkey and German-occupied Vichy this source said, but it could be a step in that direction. A Turkish Embassy Counselor, M. Sevdar, also was told to return home.

The move occurred on the eve of the anniversary of the signing of a German-Turkish friendship treaty June 18, 1941, and as German propagandists were asserting that Germany is "fully satisfied" with Turkey's political position despite "Anglo-American intimations—increasing in number of late—that Turkey already had made its choice in favor of the Allies."

The whole affair served to focus still more attention on the military and political situation in Southeastern Europe and the Middle East, coming as it did at a time when Allied leaders had sealed the Syrian-Turkish border to "protect troop movements" in Allied Syria, and when persistent reports said that Germany's Balkan satellites were seeking a means of escaping the Axis camp.

The German Transocean Agency reported in an Ankara dispatch that Premier Gen. Nuri Pasha as of the day to his troops saying "the hour of decision and active service was approaching." Iraq joined the war against the Axis last January.

Berlin's broadcast said this alleged order, together with the closing of the Syrian-Turkish border, and the silence of radio stations at Beirut, Jaffa and Jerusalem, made it possible "that the Anglo-Saxons in the near future will launch a military action from the Levant." Berlin also found a possible explanation in "an intensified war of nerves" on the part of the Allies.

Besides registering a protest against German Gestapo surveillance of the Turkish Embassy in Vichy, another reason advanced for Erkin's recall was pressure on the part of Allies, who hope that Vichy will retaliate by recalling Gaston Bergery, its Ankara Ambassador.

Allied quarters hold that Bergery "is too friendly with the Axis; sees too much of German Ambassador to Turkey" Von Papen," said this source.

Relations between Vichy and Ankara were reported strained, with the Turks especially angered at the Petain-Laval regime due to German interference.

The German Secret Police were said to have instituted a close watch recently on the Turkish Embassy at Vichy, forbidding it to use code messages. The Embassy was allowed to continue the use of a diplomatic pouch, but, according to this Turkish diplomatic source, the pouch was opened at the border and examined.

Turkey was not the only country whose foreign missions were encountering trouble in France. The Vichy correspondent of the Gazette de Lausanne reported that all foreign consulates in the Mediterranean coastal areas of France had been ordered to move into the interior.

The Swiss Consulate at Nice, which was removed to Grenoble, and one at Marseille is going to Montelimar next Monday.

Since the German occupation of all France, Swiss Consulates at Bordeaux, Nantes, Le Havre, and Lille have been forced to close.

An Algiers broadcast said Germany had asked Turkey to recall her consul in Mytilene, Capital of the Greek Island of that name in the Aegean Sea off the Turkish Coast 170 miles Northeast of Athens. The Turkish Consul at Salonika, a likely landing point in an Allied invasion, was reported already recalled.

Turkish Ambassador to Russia to Return to New Post

ANKARA, June 17 (AP).—Turkey's Ambassador to Soviet Russia, Cevat Achikalin, is expected to return home to assume a high post in the Foreign Office, informed diplomatic quarters said today.

Observers said this development, following almost immediately upon Premier Saracoglu's speech emphasizing Turkey's friendship for the Allies, indicated that Turkish-Russian relations, which have been on the doubtful list for years, have reached their most amicable point since the beginning of the war.

GERMANS THROW FRESH TROOPS INTO OREL AREA

Lack of Supplies Seriously Hampering Nazis TAKE AIR BLOWS

LONDON, June 17 (CP).—The Red Army was reported officially tonight to have smashed repeated German efforts to regain lost positions North of Orel for the fourth straight day, but the enemy is throwing fresh troops into action on this sector where it has been expected the Germans would launch a summer offensive.

In contrast to German High Command reports of only "local activity" in Russia, the Thursday midnight Moscow communique said the Germans had suffered "heavy losses in manpower and material" Northwest of Mtsensk, which is 40 miles North of Orel, in "unceasing attempts" to regain several villages recently overrun by the Red Army.

A foreign source in London who has reliable contacts inside Germany said the Germans had planned a powerful offensive in the Orel sector, to begin June 16, but said it was postponed at the last moment when Field Marshal Gen. Fedor von Bock discovered inadequate supplies at forward bases.

Berlin on the other hand said the Russians themselves are planning to launch a major campaign in the same sector. German broadcasts suggested the Red Army would strike within three weeks.

The Red Air Force kept up its pounding of rear-line German bases, an offensive jibing with Allied blows struck in the West to weaken Axis war-making capacities.

Long-range Russian bombers started 100 big fires on German air-drome Wednesday night. Explosions also were touched off in ammunition dumps, and hangars and parked planes were damaged in raids that cost the Russians two planes.

The effectiveness of these raids, in conjunction with the heavy British attacks on the Ruhr's munitions factories, would appear to be borne out in the foreign source's report that Germany's summer offensive has been delayed by lack of supplies.

Moscow's midnight communique also pointed out that in one recent raid on Mogilev, German rail and river base on the Upper Dnieper 250 miles Northwest of Orel, the Red Air Force blew up three ammunition dumps, smashed many railway trains and the bridge over the Dnieper and killed several hundred Germans.

The communique said that during Wednesday's operations on various sectors of the long Russian front, the Red Air Force destroyed at least 20 German trucks carrying troops and supplies; silenced three artillery batteries and blew up five ammunition and fuel dumps and several enemy trains.

Teachers Interview Cabinet Members

VICTORIA, June 17 (CP).—The question of teachers' salaries and possible amalgamation of the teaching profession with organized labor was debated at length in a 90-minute conference today between a delegation from the B. C. Teachers' Federation, Premier John Hart, Education Minister H. G. T. Perry and Members of the B. C. Cabinet.

Neither the Government nor the Federation would make a statement, other than to say the conference had been amicable. The teachers returned to the Empress Hotel for a further conference and will get in touch with the Government again as soon as possible.

CANADA PLANS BIG PLANE FOR FUTURE

Production Is Two Years Away; Now Build Cargo Ship

OTTAWA, June 17 (CP).—Munitions Minister Howe told the House of Commons tonight that the work of designing a four-engine plane for future Canadian transport work has started but that production is at least two years away.

Mr. Howe made this statement after he referred to a new cargo-carrying plane of "trans-oceanic type" which was being made now and would soon be coming out of a Canadian factory.

His Parliamentary Assistant, Lionel Chevrier (Lib. Stormont), declined to comment on the Minister's statement but elsewhere it was learned that this cargo-carrying plane is a version of the Lancaster, now being made at Malton, Ont., the first to be test-flown soon.

A reliable informant told The Canadian Press that it is the intention to turn out some Lancasters with commercial fuselages—instead of bomber fuselages.

Yesterday Mr. Howe said outside the House that the Malton, Ont., Lancaster plant would supply the planes for Canada's new trans-Atlantic air service, scheduled to start early in July. Presumably it will be the commercial version of the Lancaster that will ultimately be used.

After referring to the plane of "trans-oceanic type" now being built Mr. Howe said:

"But we are doing something that has never been done before. We are designing a plane which will be all-Canadian and which we think will be the plane of the future."

The Minister was answering questions about aircraft production from J. G. Diefenbaker (Prog. Con. Lake Centre) who questioned why Canada was not expanding aircraft production and getting into production of cargo carrying planes.

Mr. Howe said Canada is making cargo planes, the Noorduyn Norseman, as rapidly as they can be turned out and went on to tell of the new plane soon coming out of trans-oceanic type and the other in the design stage.

Mr. Howe said Canada is spending proportionately as much as the United States on aircraft production, 25 per cent of the whole war program, $1,000,000,000 out of a total program of $3,950,000,000. The same proportion held good for the past two years.

Esling Explains C. M. & S. Labor Policy to Commons

OTTAWA, June 17 (CP).—W. K. Esling (Prog. Con. Kootenay West) said today in the House of Commons it would be well for other industry to follow the example set by the Consolidated Mining & Smelting plant at Trail, B.C., where "not an hour" of production has been lost due to labor disputes.

A committee of employees, elected by secret ballot, dealt with the management of the plant on all matters affecting the workers, and disputes had been avoided.

Mr. Esling said the Trail plant is the largest metallurgical plant in the world. Employees were among the shareholders. They had been given shares valued at more than $2,000,000.

The company had contributed $1,500,000 to a Housing Fund for employees, he said.

Nazis Say Syrian Frontier With Turkey Is Reopened

LONDON, June 17 (CP).—The German radio, quoting a D.N.B. dispatch from Ankara said tonight that the frontier between Turkey and Syria had been opened again, but the report was not confirmed by any Allied or neutral source.

The German broadcast said the Taurus Express was again operating in the direction of Syria, but did not make it clear whether it was inferred from that alone that the frontier was open. Ankara dispatches already had disclosed that the Taurus Express was permitted to cross the border at least once after the official closing.

76 Jap Planes Shot Down at Guadalcanal

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP).—In one of the great air battles of the Pacific, United States planes shot down 77 Japanese aircraft over Guadalcanal Island Wednesday while losing six of their own number, the Navy Department announced today.

Never before had the enemy's air losses in the Guadalcanal area been so heavy.

The make-up of the enemy forces in the Wednesday battle suggested that the Japanese had returned to their earlier tactics of fighters escorting bombers, after their Saturday thrust with fighters alone failed so completely.

It was not clear, however, on the basis of available information why the Japanese should be directing air forces of such considerable size and suffering losses at so great a rate into the Guadalcanal area.

One explanation widely mentioned in speculation here is that the Japanese believe Guadalcanal will play an important role in the next big American push and are trying to disrupt operations there as much as possible, primarily as a defensive measure.

Dismiss Application for Appeal in Police Stores Case

OTTAWA, June 17 (CP).—Mr. Justice R. Taschereau has dismissed an application by Stuart Henderson, Counsel for four men convicted of conspiracy to defraud the British Columbia Government in connection with Provincial Police stores, for right to appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada.

Mr. Henderson contended that the indictment of the men was invalid because it was signed by the Acting Attorney-General of the Province, instead of by the Attorney-General. Mr. Justice Taschereau ruled this was permissible.

Mr. Henderson was acting for George Henry Hall, Leonard James Simmons, John G. Simpson and Joseph A. Walsh, convicted in the British Columbia Courts.

U-Boats Taken to Safer Spots

LONDON, June 17 (CP).—An informed British observer said today that Germany's submarines were being so badly mauled in the Atlantic that they were being withdrawn to seas where they can get a measure of air protection.

There, he said, they likely will prove to be troublesome.

The observer, who would not permit the use of his name, said great success against submarines in the past weeks indicated that the U-boats had "been measured but not beaten."

Commission Rules G. N. Must Maintain Grand Forks Business

GRAND FORKS, B. C., June 17.—The Great Northern Railway must maintain a station at South Grand Forks, according to a ruling by the Canadian Transport Commission. The commission's decision, which approves the content of the City of Grand Forks, as against proposals made by the Railway Company. The Great Northern is eliminating a downtown agency and publicly given the closing of the office created an impression that the Great Northern Railway is withdrawing from Grand Forks. This, of course, is an error as virtually all facilities of the Great Northern will continue as they have in the past. All telephone and telegraph costs that develop as a result of the closing of the downtown office are to be absorbed by the Great Northern. While business here has been greatly cut since the start of the war, by reason of travel to the South and other incidental matters, the company is building a new railway spur two miles south of Grand Forks sufficient to handle about ten cars. This is to be at the Bailey silos property from which shipments are being made steadily to the Trail Smelter of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company. Passenger, mail and express from Grand Forks to the south is being handled by bus to Kettle Falls of Spokane, daily except Sunday, as has been the case for some years.

Loggers Suffer From Mysterious Intestinal Ill

ROSSLAND, B. C., June 17.—Mike Dergousoff and Mike Ploinkoff, who were brought to Mater Misericordiae Hospital Wednesday night from Ed Paul's Lumber camp, suffering from acute intestinal infection of unknown origin, were reported tonight by Dr. Leonard B. Wrinch to be making favorable progress. Ed Paul and his son, who were also afflicted, required medical attention, but were able to remain at their home. It was understood other loggers went to Grand Forks for attention. Dr. Wrinch said meat, tinned goods and water were tested and found pure.

Seek Better Ways of Taxing Overtime Earnings

OTTAWA, June 17 (CP).—Revenue Minister Gibson told the House of Commons today that while there is no possibility of a man earning less by working more under present tax laws, the Department of National Revenue is making studies with a view to finding more satisfactory ways of taxing overtime earnings. Both Mr. Gibson and Munitions Minister Howe denied statements by C. E. Johnston (N. D. Bow River) that absenteeism was caused by the tax laws taking away all or more than the extra money earned by working longer hours. "There is no combination of circumstances under the present tax laws which penalizes a man for working more," said Mr. Howe, "it is impossible for a man to work more and earn less. A man earns more if he works more."

Damaging Attacks Made on Aleutians

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP).—Damaging new air attacks on Japanese bases in both the Solomons area of the South Pacific and the Western Aleutians of the North Pacific were reported today by the United States Navy. Medium bombers attacked Kiska June 15, scoring hits on the main camp area and among anti-aircraft batteries.

BBC Again Warns Europeans to Move to Safer Areas

OTTAWA, June 17 (CP).—The BBC shortwave listening post tonight reported the BBC had broadcast an appeal in several languages to the people of occupied Europe urging them to evacuate areas in which German troops, military headquarters and factories are situated. The BBC said those who remain in such districts expose themselves to unnecessary dangers, adding the Allied Air Forces will intensify their activities and bomb military objectives more violently than ever. It was noted that similar warnings had been broadcast from London previously but today's broadcast said it was more important than ever that the civilian populations should get out at once.

Car of Paper Rolls; Ladies Sort Salvage

A carload of paper salvage, the loading of which extended over a period of three days—one day at the Hall Street Salvage Dump, and two at the old Wood, Vallance warehouse, which is now the salvage warehouse of the I.O.D.E.-Red Cross Salvage Committee, rolled out of Nelson Thursday, heading toward the Coast. The car which contained 34,600 pounds, or approximately 7 1/2 tons, of paper of all kinds, including much baled cardboard, is consigned to the Sidney Roofing & Paper Company, Ltd., Victoria. With the paper cleared out of the way, the warehouse was a busy place Thursday afternoon, when a group of I.O.D.E. ladies sorted woolens, rags, bottles, rubber, etc., in preparation of another shipment. The next carload of salvage will probably be made up of bottles, while more than half a car of rubber has been collected, with many donations coming in from Salmo and Creston and other sections. Next week the committee will again be busy sorting in the warehouse, and by that time will have a better idea of what salvage items will be especially needed in the next drive.

Cranbrook Group Needs Help for Greek Material

KIMBERLEY, B.C. — Announcement by L. V. Lane, Dominion Day Celebration Chairman, was made at the regular Red Cross meeting Monday evening that the celebration had been transferred from July 5 to July 1 in line with the proclamation concerning the holiday. Events are being changed to fit in with this revision. All proceeds go to the Red Cross. At the meeting Mrs. R. G. H. Edmonds, Work Committee Chairman, said the special consignment of material for the Greek Emergency shipment had arrived, and she appealed for an additional 250 volunteer workers to help complete the necessary work. Cutters are particularly needed, but the quantity of work involved is such that service of volunteers who will undertake the simplest sewing in this connection is badly needed. A unanimous vote of sympathy was passed by the meeting for Mr. and Mrs. William Lindsay in the recent loss of their elder son in an Air Force training accident.

Veteran Railroader, Former Nelsonite, Now Kelowna Agent

KELOWNA, B.C., June 17.—Kelowna has welcomed George M. Ross, well-known railroad man who arrived to assume duties as Canadian Pacific Railway Agent here, but his many friends are remarking that 35 miles in 35 years is rather slow travelling for a railway official, since it was in 1908 that Mr. Ross first came to Sumnerland to open the first C.P.R. office there. Mr. Ross commenced his railroading in 1903 at Nelson, B. C., at which time he was working under the President, D. C. Coleman. Since that time he has held many responsible positions in the Nelson and Revelstoke Divisions including the past 16 years spent as Agent and Yardmaster at Field.

Eight of St. Paul's Choristers, recent first place winners in the Vancouver Music Festival, will be heard in the June Musicale, singing their two test pieces, "Aye Waukin' O," and "Linden Lea." Dr. Stalon, the adjudicator, gave the Nelson octette very high praise, complimenting Nelson for producing such a high order of choral work from young teen-age singers.

Choristers Who Won Honors Will Be Heard

Guilford Brett won third and fourth places in two large classes of boy sopranos from 12 to 16 years. Mabel Watkins won fourth place in a class of 17 girls under 18. Kathleen Wilson also won fourth place in her class under 16. Don Brown received his usual top-ranking 90 marks for his solo in a class of 12 young men under 21. He also won first in a concert group of songs, competing here with matured singers. At the June Musicale young Brown will sing some of his festival numbers. An added feature of the evening will be a short play entitled "Storyland," enacted by six young children and two older ones. The entertainment will also include instrumental and vocal work, and refreshments will be served by Fairview Circle of St. Paul's Women's Association.

Nelson to Have Navy League; Dominion President Describes Work

Organization of Nelson Branch of the Navy League of Canada was initiated Thursday night after D. H. Gibson, C.B.E., of Toronto, Dominion President, and W. H. S. Dixon of Vancouver, Secretary of the B.C. Mainland Division of the League, outlined to a meeting at the City Hall the purposes and work of the League. It was pointed out the Navy League was the sponsoring body for the Sea Cadets, also being organized in Nelson. Mayor N. C. Sibbs presided. Volunteering for the Navy League Executive Committee were Ald. Ross Fleming, Vincent Fink, City Engineer H. D. Dawson, John Erb, K. C. McCannel, Leonard Peartless, W. G. Harold, Mrs. John Cartmel, Mrs. E. E. L. Dewdney, T. A. Temple and Mayor Sibbs. This Committee was made the nucleus of the Branch Executive, and immediately laid plans to complete the Executive and to elect officers. "The City of Nelson has not fallen down on any patriotic duty and will not let down the Navy League of Canada," Mayor Sibbs pledged. "We are greatly heartened that we can now include Nelson," the Dominion President replied. The motion by which it was decided to organize was offered by Alderman Fleming who described Nelson as "a natural place for a Navy League and Sea Cadets" since it had "natural advantages in Kootenay Lake and acquired advantages in the Civic Centre." Mr. McCannel seconded the motion. Introduced by the Mayor, Mr. Gibson paid tribute to Mr. Sibbs' enthusiasm and his knowledge of Canada's affairs. He was also impressed by the number from this community on active service throughout the world, and by the training facilities at the Civic Centre. Canada was, he felt, becoming "one great family" and was "at last world-minded." He spoke highly of the work of the Red Cross and the St. John Ambulance Association in their own fields and in cooperation with the Navy League. He told how the Red Cross and the Women's Auxiliary for Naval Service assisted the League in providing 10,000 survivor's kits now carried on ships to be used in outfitting rescued men; and told how the I.O.D.E. Red Cross and Navy League made up 100,000 ditty bags for seamen in response to a call last Christmas for 100,000. "We want 177,000 ditty bags this time," he said, and added confidentially: "We'll find them." Canada was the fourth nation in the export markets of the world, though it had a population of only 12,000,000. EMPIRE NAVY "The day is past when we can lean on the British Navy to protect . . . the surplus production of Canada" as it was shipped "to the ends of the earth," Mr. Gibson declared. "After the war there must be an Empire Navy. What an opening that will be for Sea Cadets!" He spoke of the impression Canadian Sea Cadets made upon the British Admiralty and the demand for more, and of the great part now being played by Canadians who had Sea Cadet training. "We are asking you people to make a wide open gate for the lads who are naval minded," he said. "Canada has a Navy we can be proud of, for it is an honor to live in a land which increased the Service 32 times since 1899," Mr. Gibson asserted. Mr. Dixon, stating Mr. Gibson had given the past four or five years to the Navy League, said the Dominion President's service had been recognized when, in the King's Birthday Honor List, he was made a Commander of the British Empire.

Typhoons Tear Into Enemy Convoy Damage Three Ships

LONDON, June 17 (CP)—Heavily battered Cologne and other objectives in the Rhineland were the R.A.F.'s targets last night as the current aerial offensive against Germany continued.

At the same time, the Air Ministry announced, R.A.F. fighters attacked transport and other targets in Holland and Belgium. Fourteen bombers and one fighter were declared to be missing from the night's operations.

The Air Ministry also announced that R.A.F. Hurricanes and Typhoons tore into a three-ship enemy convoy early today off the Netherlands and damaged all of them, one so severely it was stated she probably sank. The planes suffered no loss and left all the ships smoking from bomb hits and bullets.

Last night's was the 116th on Cologne and the first heavy night attack on the city since February 26.

The offensive continued today as R.A.F. fighters shuttled back and forth across the channel to attack German-occupied territory, and it was authoritatively stated that they had destroyed six enemy fighters in these operations at the cost of one R.A.F. fighter plane.

Two R.A.F. Typhoons, striking at Germany's precious stock of locomotives, damaged at least nine in the Douai and Bethune areas of Northern France yesterday, beating off four Focke-Wulf 190's and flying through intensive anti-aircraft barrages to make their getaway.

In the February attack on Cologne it was said that 600 acres of the city had been laid waste. The attack last night undoubtedly was to nullify rebuilding efforts in rail and road communications and to smash repairs intended to put chemical works, ammunition factories, engineering and truck plants, power stations, blast furnaces and oil refineries back into commission.

There was another light raid on Cologne April 9 when the R.A.F.'s speedy Mosquitoes darted in at dusk to lay bombs in the city.

Cologne was the target for the first 1,000-bomber attack by the R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. on the night of May 30, 1942. In that one assault 300 acres in the city were reported flattened and more than 200 industrial buildings destroyed or damaged.

(The German radio voiced its customary assertions that British bombers "attacked residential quarters in Western German cities" and said that "hospitals and churches were again the favored objectives of the enemy." It did not identify the targets but said at least 14 bombers were shot down.)

FOLKESTONE, England, June 17 (AP)—A large force of Allied planes was heard heading across the Strait of Dover this afternoon into Northern France. The aircraft flew at a great height and their roar was lost as they went toward Calais.

Invasion Stories Gain Momentum as Unrest Grows in Balkans

LONDON, June 17 (CP)—The Rome radio quoted a correspondent of the newspaper Il Messaggero today as reporting the movement of "many landing craft" from the North African coast toward the Allied-conquered island of Pantelleria.

"The Axis aerial offensive continues unrelentingly against many landing craft concentrating from the African coasts toward Pantelleria, against the concentration of naval units in that bay and against enemy convoys sailing Eastward from Gibraltar. Good results for this offensive are reported daily in Axis communiques.

"That proves that the great lines of the strategic situation in the Mediterranean are practically the same and that after taking possession of Pantelleria and Lampedusa the enemy must take notice that the difficulties of attacking the European fortress are still the same."

Meanwhile, referring to Southern development in Axis-held Southern Europe, the Rome radio reported that Rumanian authorities in a communique denied that Rumania was seeking a separate peace.

Axis anxieties about the Balkans were emphasized with a report of the hurried dispatch of Ernst Kaltenbrunner, Chief of the German Security Police, to Rumania for reorganization of the police force there.

At the same time, the Moscow radio reported that the atmosphere in Bucharest, Rumanian capital, was "very tense" and that many of the country's prominent politicians were in hiding.

The Algiers radio was quoted in Stockholm dispatches to London morning newspapers as saying the expectation of a separate Italian peace was growing among the Italian masses and that frenzied applause greeted Pope Pius XII every time he mentioned peace in his address Sunday.

An Algiers broadcast also reported the Allies were increasing landing exercises around Pantelleria and that the Axis was getting "more and more nervous."

The German radio asserted meanwhile in a broadcast heard by Reuters that "an invasion will prove a blood bath without precedent" and that "two thirds of the landing force will be wiped out even before a decisive battle is joined."

By STEPHEN BARBER

CAIRO, June 17 (AP)—Increasing resistance by opposition groups within Axis satellite countries of Southeastern Europe, a situation which Nazi authorities apparently are handling with unusual liberality, was reported today in information reaching Cairo.

Underground leaders in collaborationist Rumania and Bulgaria are becoming more and more outspoken, it was said, and in Bulgaria, where many elements have strong ties with the Soviet, there has been a resurgence of the old "Mother Russia" sentiment.

Reports reaching here indicated that Hungary is laying plans to abandon Hitler's "new order" if the necessity arises.

Recent suspension of the Budapest Parliament is thought to have been ordered by the Government of Premier Nicolas Kallay to check possible questions on the subject of Kallay's recent secret talks in Rome. These talks were thought to have mapped out a common Italian-Hungarian policy in the event of an Axis break-up.

Place Maximum Price on Used Radios and Tubes

OTTAWA, June 17 (CP)—S. Godfrey, Administrator of used goods for the Prices Board, today issued an order establishing a maximum selling price schedule for used radios and radio tubes, based on the age and type of set.

Maximum selling prices for rebuilt radios, which are refined as radios which have been completely overhauled and perform almost like new, are scheduled in the order. Prices of used radios which have not been rebuilt will be 50 per cent of the rebuilt price.

The order provides that dealers must guarantee every used radio sold; if the set sells for $50 or less, the guarantee must be for 30 days. If the selling price is more than $50 the guarantee must extend to 90 days.

The price charged for a used radio tube must not be more than 25 per cent of the price charged in the same district for the same kind of tube when new.

Mme. Chiang Worth "20 Columns"

By JAMES MCCOOK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, June 17 (CP)—A lady worth "20 columns" in Canada today—and then some.

Mme. Chiang Kai-shek, wife of the Chinese Generalissimo, met a Press conference today, picked up its questions, looked them over with a frank eye, and gave forthright answers.

When she came in with Prime Minister Mackenzie King, he commented her husband had said she was worth 20 divisions of troops in China.

"If she is worth 20 divisions in China, she is worth at least 20 newspaper columns in Canada," he said. Mme. Chiang laughed.

Immaculate, precise, a lady of the Orient speaking with the words of a highly-educated woman, Mme. Chiang sat straight in her chair and said the second front in Asia would help if it struck at the heart of Japan.

Warning, she leaned forward, speaking slowly, and said the Japs would not "fold up" easily. Laughing, leaning back in her chair, she chuckled that questions of politics were like questions of love—unpredictable.

Angry, her lips grew thin and her eyes narrowed when she spoke of the puppet government at Nanking, given all the help that Japan can bestow.

She spoke of "my people"—and she fondled the words as if she loved them. "My people" were brave, they knew about Canada, they had an endless will to resist, but they had suffered much. "My people" were the most reasonable people in the world.

She brought the conference out of itself. When she told of the treatment given Westerners by Japanese after Hong Kong, the murmur of sympathetic sounds was a background for her words.

As she left she made a little extemporaneous speech. She had been delighted to visit Canada. She had been delighted in her Canadian welcome. She would tell her people more about Canada.

Physical Signs... Machines May Not Be Necessary In Examination

By LOGAN GLENDENING, M. D.
The physical examination consists in endeavoring to accumulate data about the patient's appearance... the signs he displays which are evident in the physician's trained senses—sight, feeling and hearing.

and how he examined the blood and used a microscope.
IMPORTANCE OF HISTORY
These things are all very fine, but they do not take the place of the history and the physical examination.
Let us illustrate by taking a common condition, jaundice or yellow jaundice. The patient can see this and to that extent it is a symptom, so the patient tells you when it started and other things about it. You can see it and to that extent it is a sign, and part of the physical examination. Your seeing the fact that the patient is jaundiced confirms the patient's statement. Now you begin to analyze it and you find that the patient says it came on without pain. In making a physical examination of the abdomen over the gallbladder, you find that there is no tenderness and you cannot find any lump which would indicate the gallbladder or an enlargement of the liver. The patient says that attacks of jaundice have occurred a number of times in the last few years.

Help at Home for Poor Scholar

By Garry Cleveland Myers, Ph.D.
When a child fails or lags at school, we parents usually place the blame on him or his teacher or both, rarely on ourselves.
In the last analysis, as measured over the years, perhaps the parent should take the blame, even though he had always tried conscientiously to do the very best by the child.
Anyway, before any reader lets himself scold or punish his child who brings home a low or failing report card, he should sit down calmly, preferably with the other parent, and do some careful, serious thinking.
If you have a child who has failed, or barely passed this last school term, let me entreat you to put no trust in venting your emotions on him. Instead, please consider that your problem now is to find a way to help this child do better at school from now on. First you want him not to dwell on his failure remorsefully but to look hopefully ahead to a way to greater school success. You will want to have assurance from a medical expert that your child is physically well, that he has not been handicapped by poor sight or hearing.

SEEK OUT EXPERTS
Then you will try to find out from his teacher and other learning experts just where this difficulty has been and specific ways to help him overcome them. If any teacher merely tells you the child is lazy and indifferent, insist on more definite reasons. What is back of these? Has he reading difficulties, for example? In case he reads poorly, he can hardly be expected to work very hard at reading or on subjects which consist chiefly of reading.
My "Home Helps for Poor Spellers, I and II," may be had by sending a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp.
Your older child might have neglected to do his home work at a regular time and place. He might not have been home at night to do it. Your problem is to see to it that your child shall cultivate day-by-day homework responsibility. In hundreds of other ways you might have been responsible, through your emotional expressions, especially when he works at lessons, for his success or failure. Besides, no matter how smart their parents are, some children are just naturally slow learners.

Housework... Now It's the Dishpan Sloop

By IDA JEAN KAIN
It took a homemaker to coin a clever phrase for what she declares is just as bad as "dishpan hands." This is "the dishpan sloop," and she goes on to say, "I wish something could be done about it, because I am sure it is a worry to a great many women."
If you stoop over the sink several times a day, stoop to make the beds, dust, and to do the dozen and one odd tasks that seem to come your way in the course of a day's housework, you know exactly what she means. Something can be done about it.
But first, I'd like you to have as good an understanding of what is wrong as our phrase-maker has. She observes that while certain muscles are used over and over, the trouble is probably the failure to use certain other muscles—and she is right.
You do use your forearms and hands for most of your work, and stooping stretches the muscles in the back and shoulders. You can't let the housework slide. That isn't the answer, anyway. What you really need is exercise for the muscles of the upper arms, the network that spreads fanwise across the chest, and a good, vigorous workout that counteracts the forward bending.
Here is a simple program that should fill the bill for you:
Sit in a straight chair, about half way back, spine straight, elbow out at sides in line with shoulders, forearms in front of the chest. Try to have the hands and forearms completely limp. Work only the muscles of the upper arms and shoulders as you circle the crest of the shoulders up, around and back, lightly touching arms to chairback at other side as you circle. Make the movement up, rather than down, and keep that line at the back of the neck straight. Circle 10 counts, and relax.
Stand in a doorway, dead centre, with hands on door frame at each side, shoulder height. Straighten your back, draw your hips down and under and pull up and in with the lower abdominal muscles—and keep it straight. Now, slowly lean forward as far as you can, keeping heels on floor, knees straight, and spine in straight line. Hold it, and push back into position. Relax and repeat five times. That exercise gives a good stretch to the muscles spreading from the upper shoulders across the chest, and contracts the overly-stretched muscles of the upper back.
You will find this simple trio does wonders toward correcting the "dishpan sloop"—or, for that matter, any other stoop!

Innocent Actions... Shouldn't Be a Slave to Public Opinion

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX
Dear Miss Fairfax:
I never seem to feel any older than my children; ride their bicycles skate and play tag with them. A neighbor of mine has a roving eye, it has never had any return glances from me. If you know what I mean—his wife resents this, and at the same time is suspicious concerning her husband and me. Having more time than I have to dispose of, she's talked about me to the neighbors, and I'm really thinking of giving up our charming home just to get away from their clacking tongues, and yet that seems so silly.
IN A QUANDRY.
If you moved every time you were criticized, my dear, you'd have to take your kids' skates permanently. Disregard the clacking tongues, and don't forget the immortal quotation: "Be thou as chaste as ice, as pure as snow, thou shalt not escape calumny." I liked your telling me what a jolly companion you are to the children and what good times all of you have together. Don't mind what the stuffy neighbors say. Probably they are all jealous of you. It's certainly a case for the psycho-analyst. A wife resenting the fact that you don't admire her husband, and at the same time being suspicious of you.

B. C. Is Making Movies for Postwar Uses

While publicity activities designed to attract tourists to British Columbia have been cramped by war conditions, the B. C. Department of Trade and Industry Travel Bureau is making preparations for the post war period, stated C. R. D. Ferris, photographer for the Travel Bureau, who is in Nelson in connection with B. C. Products Week. Each year a documentary picture showing the attractions and industries of British Columbia is being made. Mr. Ferris hopes that next year one will be made of scenes in the Kootenay District. Under this plan, when the war is over, the Bureau will have a library of documentary films which can be used all over the world, particularly in Eastern Canada and the United States, for travel promotion purposes. Mr. Ferris stated that in spite of war conditions number of inquiries coming in to the Travel Bureau was extraordinarily large. He will show pictures at tonight's B.C. Products public meeting at the Canadian Legion Hall.

To Show Movies Tonight, B. C. Products Meeting

Colored sound movies will be one of the features of the B.C. Products Week meeting at the Canadian Legion this evening. Two of the movies will depict scenes in British Columbia and a third scene in Africa. There will be little in the way of speeches at the meeting. One of the most popular features is expected to be the quiz contest for which prizes in cash and War Savings Stamps will be given. The exhibit of British Columbia products is believed to be one of the best that has been made in the course of the tours organized by the B.C. Products Bureau of the Vancouver Board of Trade. The pictures will be shown by C. R. D. Ferris, Photographer for the British Columbia Government's Travel Bureau at Victoria.

The family had not resided in Victoria a full year, consequently Rossland, where they had resided 1 1/2 years, was held liable. Mr. Clegg will be instructed to collect through his agent at Victoria from the father.

Interpreting The War News

By GLENN BABB
Associated Press War Analyst

News from two battlezones half a world apart brings convincing testimony to the great and growing superiority of United States airmen and planes over both ends of the Axis. No other factor in this war is so sure a pledge of victory.

Over Guadalcanal in the South Pacific American airmen on Tuesday met a Japanese air armada, probably the single concentration of aircraft in the Pacific war and shot down 45 Zeros and 32 bombers for a loss of six planes. It was one of the most devastating air defeats suffered by any belligerent in this war.

Word of this battle reached Washington about the time War Secretary Henry Stimson was disclosing that United States heavy bombers, in their raids of Friday and Sunday on some of Germany's greatest bases shot down at least 150 and probably 170 German fighters. This was not done without cost, for in the Friday raids on Wilhelmshaven and Cuxhaven eight heavy bombers were lost while from the Sunday attacks on Kiel and Bremen 24 failed to return.

In the South Seas it was American fighters against an enemy raiding force; over Germany the American role was reversed. Success in both is proof of the versatility of the United States Air Forces.

Ever since the R.A.F. at the climax of the Battle of Britain shot down 185 of Goering's planes on Sept. 15, 1940, and ended the threat of invasion there has been no question of British qualitative superiority in the air. Quantitative superiority for the Allies had to wait on the United States' entry into the war and the full mobilization of American industry. For a year now there has been no possible doubt about the outcome of the race for quantity. It was a runaway for the Allies.

FORGES HITLER'S HAND

Two men who should know say that the Anglo-American air pressure on Germany has compelled Hitler to rob other fronts of air power to protect his vital war industries. Stimson says the Germans have had to switch hundreds of planes from Russia and the Mediterranean and Britain's Air Secretary, Sir Archibald Sinclair, says Western Allies are tying up twice as many German fighter planes as Hitler has been able to spare for the Russian front.

This may explain why the expected German attack in Russia has been withheld.

ANSWERS

Open to any reader. Names of persons asking questions will not be published. There is no charge for this service. Questions will not be answered by mail except when there is obvious necessity for privacy.

M. L. Natal—I would like to know how much tax a single man would have to pay on 1942 income of $600? They took $34.50 for Defence Tax and compulsory savings $33.98. From September to December the new tax paid was $48.98. I am exempt $600.

Your total tax is $81. You can deduct savings in life insurance etc. up to $39. If you have no deductible savings your tax is $42.11, less amounts paid which total $31.16 leaving you a credit of 16 cents. If the amount of $33.98 represents deductible savings then you have a credit of $34.14. You will note on Form T1 Special that you can leave this sum as a credit against this year's taxes, or apply on a form to be obtained later at postoffices for the return of this money.

Reader, Rossland—A person has an income of $3100. From this at the source a deduction of $200 is made for superannuation leaving him a net taxable income of $2900. Which form should he use, the one for incomes under $3000, or the one for over that sum? Tax Form T1, 1942, for incomes over $3000 should be filed.

Reader, Nelson—How much Income Tax would I pay on an income of $1150, made up of a pension, dividends from stock, and interest from war loan bonds? Please inform us what type of pension you are receiving.

E. L. Wynndel—Can you use honey for preserving fruit? Please give me the recipe. A thin syrup for canning fruit is made from one cup of honey to two cups of water; medium syrup, one quarter cup of sugar and three quarters cup honey to one cup of water. Honey and corn syrup are not recommended for strawberries, raspberries or cherries as the flavors do not blend well.

Greece

By G. S. REES

Robert Cars's recent book, "The Unconquered", includes a chapter on Greece. Let me quote some excerpts rather pertinent to the Greek War Relief Fund:

"People of Europe fight back, and among them the Greeks. Upon the crests of snowy mountain passes, they achieved great victories, fighting hard in defence of their homeland—orchards and vineyards, old, old cities and lovely islands. Then Hitler gave aid to fumbling Mussolini. . . . There was treachery in rear, confusion at the front. . . . Greek army, with the British forces were cut off, destroyed. Not even the brilliant defence at Thermopylae saved Greece. . . . Then the Nazi horror—slow execution by starvation, the young, the old, then the stronger. . . . but the Greeks still resist; they know the reign of all conquerors must sometime end!"

DON'T LET THEM STARVE! Canada will surely generously recognize Greek courage, and Nelson, as ever, readily reach its quota of $1000.

We shall receive dividends in gratitude from a long-suffering people. Greece was wantonly attacked. The stones of her cities, white with peace in the morning, were red with blood the same evening, and her valiant struggle is written in letters of gold upon the never fading scroll of human endeavor. Of them it can be truly said:

"The burning homes, their broken dead, This is why men are willing to die: Not for medals. . . not for glory, But for the right to live."

And now the old challenge of Spartacus to his gladiators rings in the ears of desperate multitudes, "Nothing to lose but your bonds! Herdsmen may win battles, but free men win wars: no rulers rampant can quench this vital heritage, and the Greeks are still immeasurably free. The cruel ideologies of Nazism cannot prevail, for 'Easier were it to hurl the rooted mountain from its base than force the yoke of slavery upon men determined to be free!"

Blind and bedevilled Nazi hordes, with jackboots feet marching in an atavistic urge, have had their wilful way with Greece for time being, and Iron is still on the move, but much more slowly! Marble still stands! The Winged Victory, serene and clothed in mutilated majesty, flung 'gainst the blue sky on the highest hill in Samothrace, has ever spurred men to heroic deeds as they sailed past it across the sapphire seas of the Aegean!

OUR OPPORTUNITY

Churchill of England, one-time Cassandra of British politics, now another Leonidas at the pass of Thermopylae, in the name of all Britons, has promised the Greek nation its primal freedom. "In the past" he said, "we have had a light that flickered; in the present, a light which flames; in the future, there will be a light which shines over land and sea!"

Let us implement a sure prophecy with quick response to the present appeal: "Your sacrifice today will save a life tomorrow!"

The Greeks have never missed an appointment with History. Despite their unparalleled sufferings, they still resist, and will fight on until the day-break and the shadows flee away. Let us remember that away over yonder not so long ago in the Isles of Greece, where the lilacs still bloom in great but fragile crests of white and pink 'gainst a dusk-darkened sky, sons and daughters of Greece hurled their bodies into the breach, and could not dam the dyke! But in their Gethsemane, they gave valuable aid to Britain in her race against Time; and for long after their crucifixion, the peasants of that brave little nation succored and aided in escape hundreds of English soldiers from Wavell's shattered army during some of the darkest hours in our Empire's fight for Freedom. Noblesse oblige.

Ottawa Acts as if War Private

(Ottawa Journal)

President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill faced 160 correspondents in the White House executive office at Washington, gave them the news. President Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill didn't do this to please the newspapers; just to make headlines. They did it because as democratic statesmen they know that this is a people's war and that the people have a right to be told how the war is going. Mr. Churchill, when he addressed the Congress, paid homage to this same fact. Mr. Churchill's immediate audience were members of the Senate and House of Representatives. But Mr. Churchill knew that he had a vaster and more important audience outside—the common people of the United Nations who wanted to know about the war. Accordingly, and with a wealth of detail, he respected that right.

Here in Canada, there is little respect for that right. Our public leaders talking about a "people's war" act as though it was the private enterprise of a few professional politicians and soldiers. Prime Minister King, except for very rare occasions, never sees the press. Back from Washington, where he conferred with President Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill, he has nothing to say; not even to the House of Commons while Mr. Churchill and President Roosevelt meet newspapermen and give them news and answer questions, Mr. King wraps himself in silence.

No one expects Mr. King to divulge confidential matters that involve high strategy. What they have a right to expect is that Mr. King, head of an emocratic government waging a democratic war, should not dwell the while in some ivory tower, excluding himself from all contact with the public. Yet that is what happens. The Canadian people are deluged from day to day with stencilled "hand-outs" from this or that bureau telling them of this or that regulations; are swamped with statistics about war orders and contracts. They are given little else. Indeed, the only detailed information the Canadian public gets about its war effort comes when, once a session, the ministers of the various war service departments report on the War Appropriation Bill.

There is a Parliamentary institution known as the "Orders of the Day," a period when members may ask questions of Ministers. This period means something in England. It means nothing here. In England members subject ministers to cross-examination; ask questions "arising out of answers." Over here there is nothing remotely resembling cross-examination, with the questions few, the answers invariably vague, and with Ministers prone to take refuge in "not in the public interest."

We are a reasonably responsible people and, as response to the last war loan seemed to tell, with a good heart for sacrifice, or at least self-denial. Yet our government, not content with making the war's conduct a party enterprise, insists as well on making it a sort of secret enterprise, with the head of the State aloof from the public.

THIS VALE OF TEARS

A young married couple recently determined to spend their first wartime holiday on Western coast. A huge crowd was on New Street station, but they managed to get into a crowded compartment when, to the wife's dismay, she discovered that she had left her ration cards at home. Returning home and collecting the books, they gathered up their luggage once again, only to discover that their "macks" had been left in the first train.

The next train not being due to leave for an hour, they adjourned to the station buffet for a stimulant. In the crush at the counter, a tall fellow's elbow was jabbed into the husband's eye, which 'necessitated first-aid. When at length by the now disgruntled couple arrived at their destination, they learned that the landlady was too ill to accommodate them. The new address given them was half a mile farther from the sea.

Nothing further happened to upset their piece of mind until on reaching home madame found that she had once again left her ration books behind—and on the mat in the hall reposed her husband's calling-up papers! —Birmingham Mail.

Today's VICTORY GARDEN-GRAPH

By DEAN HALLIDAY

USE OF MULCHES IN VICTORY GARDEN

Mulching is one of the best methods of conserving moisture in the victory garden. Mulch material helps the soil to retain moisture by preventing rapid evaporation, and this in turn keeps the roots of plants from drying out. Mulching is of especial value to the busy victory gardener, for it is a good substitute for hoeing or watering. Mulching material should be applied after a good fall of rain.

As illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph, mulching between the rows of vegetables with straw, hay, dried lawn clippings, leaves or similar material will help to conserve moisture and also keep down weeds.

Shallow rooted plants such as raspberries should be mulched to protect their roots from the danger of being scorched during the hot summer months. Strawberry fruits will be found to be much cleaner than normally if mulching material (straw is good) is placed around the plants.

When mulching fruit trees keep the mulching material from four to six inches away from the trunk, as illustrated. When a mulch is placed too close to the tree trunk it affords a sheltered place for mice with dangerous access to the bark of the tree.

Machinist, Knocked Out by German, "Gets His Own Back" by Inventing Valuable New Ship Gadget

VANCOUVER, June 17 (CP). — Through the invention of a new type punch press, Harold Ker, 46, a Vancouver machinist fitter, is "getting his own back" on a Nazi sailor who knocked him down in an attempt to escape from a Canadian military escort here two years ago.

Ker was so badly hurt by the German sailor that he was discharged from the army, but he now is back in the war as a machinist fitter in a West Coast shipyard, building frigates for the Royal Canadian Navy. The new type of punch press which he has invented increases by more than 20 times the speed of production of brass washers needed in manufacturing the handles of ships' water-tight doors.

Ker's invention is regarded as so important, naval officials said, that the management of the shipyard recently gave him a substantial cash bonus and a letter of appreciation. With his gadget, the cheerful ex-soldier can turn out 500 washers in a morning, and often manufactures more than 1000 a day.

The Nazi whose furious blow altered the course of Ker's life was one of the crew of a German cargo ship captured in the Spring of 1941 in Central American waters by a Canadian auxiliary cruiser. The crewmen were taken to Vancouver en route to an internment camp, and Ker, a mechanical instructor in the army, was on duty at the time escorting the captives into an army establishment.

"One of the prisoners was a huge chap, about six-foot-two and built in proportion," Ker said. "I was standing in front of one exit door. Suddenly the big fellow broke away from the group in the centre of the room.

"He swung all the way from the floor with his right fist and slugged me across the side of my face. The blow knocked me cold, and they told me afterwards my head bounced against the pillar on the way down and then smacked on the concrete floor."

Ker was unconscious for 24 hours, but within 30 seconds after the blow which felled him the German had been recaptured by others who overpowered him as he sprinted from the building.

The washers the machinist now turns out were manufactured formerly on a drill press. The air-tight doors into which they fit are among the most vital parts of a Canadian warship.

The doors mean the difference between a ship's sinking and staying afloat after an enemy shell, mine or torpedo causes water to flood into one or more of the vessel's sealed-off sections.

For more than an hour His Majesty, who flew to North Africa

Saturday, walked slowly up and down a vast space covered with detachments of sailors and marines. They were drawn up in long lines that stretched all the way from the port city's warehouse down to the water front.

The King then went aboard a large American warship and reviewed the personnel, after which he entered the captain's cabin with some of the ship's officers for a 10-minute breather.

From there he went to a British warship, where more than 30 British and American correspondents were drawn up to meet him.

Each correspondent introduced himself, and from time to time as the King walked down the line of newsmen his face lightened up and he exclaimed: "I know your name very well. I have read many of your dispatches."

Leaving headquarters Monday morning, the King spent nearly a full day with an American Army. As he reviewed one particular group of American troops, the King asked if these units had suffered very heavy casualties in the Tunisian fighting. He said he had visited a convalescent camp the previous day and seen himself what good care the wounded were getting.

American cooks prepared a luncheon that combined some of the best features of Southern cooking and British menus. The main course was roast beef that would have done credit to the best Piccadilly chef. There came creamed corn, string beans, canned fruit salad and hot biscuits. Tea was served instead of coffee.

CAPE TOWN (CP)—Prime Minister Smuts, presenting wings to R.A.F. pilots, said the joint R.A.F.-South African training plan was providing a nursery of future friendly relations between South Africans and young men from all Allied Nations.

Jap Cajolery May Do Most Harm in China—Mme. Chiang

By FRANK FLAHERTY Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, June 17 (CP).—Cajolery on the part of the Japanese towards the Chinese may present a greater danger than the cruelty they applied earlier in the war, Mme. Chiang Kai-shek said today at a Press conference.

The Japanese are good at propaganda, she said. They have been telling the Chinese that China has not received help from the United Nations since throwing in her lot with them.

"In the first years of the war," she said, "the enemy perpetrated calculated cruelties and atrocities on our people. But they found that brute violence could not subjugate us."

"In later years—and especially since Pearl Harbor—the enemy has resorted to cajolery."

The Japanese have promised that if the Chinese join them they will give every help. They had given "military and economic aid without stint" to the puppet government at Nanking.

The suggestion was that if the central government and the unoccupied regions of China would cooperate they, too, would be treated as equals—as people of the same race.

At the fall of Hong Kong the Japanese technique was shown when they treated the Chinese prisoners very well and the Westerners very badly.

"They said to them," she commented, "You were oppressed and we have come to liberate you. Those who oppressed you we are going to oppress."

China needs help in the air at once, she said. The manpower is there, the army is there, the will to fight is there, but airpower is needed for attack.

When better communications are opened up heavy artillery will be needed, for China manufactures only small arms.

Accompanied by Dr. Liu Shih-shun, Chinese Minister to Canada, the wife of the Chinese Generalissimo answered questions directly, but one about the prospect of Russia joining in the fight against Japan was too much for her.

"Questions of politics are like questions of life," she parried with a smile. "You can predict about everything else but can not predict about love."

On another question she said Russia had always stood out strongly for justice to China. At times, when other nations were rather hesitant, Russia had spoken out.

Before Russia became involved in war itself it had sent planes to China. As Russia now was in great need of planes for its own forces, not so many were being sent, Mme. Chiang said.

The Japanese will not "fold up," she said. They had shown themselves an intrepid people. Any illusions about the ability of their soldiers or their powers of endurance should be put aside.

"To attack Japan you must use the mainland of China," she said. "To attack island by island would take 50 to 100 years—and few of us expect to live that long."

She said she came to the United States for her health and not to transact any official business. When she came out of hospital she had received invitations from many friends to visit them and was anxious to do so. She expected no special results from her trip but would be "a very happy woman" if she could go back to China feeling that her visit had brought the peoples of the United Nations closer together.

Allied Ship Reserve Is Strengthened, Ready for Action

LONDON, June 17 (CP) cable.—The Daily Telegraph said today "the United Nations have enough reserve shipping to enable them to embark simultaneously on more than one amphibious operation."

The reduction in Atlantic losses has created a reservoir of shipping, the paper said, much of which is available for offensive plans. These plans, the Telegraph added, are for a number of operations and have been worked out over a considerable period in order to prevent delay when the time to strike comes.

Looking Backward

10 YEARS AGO

(From Daily News, June 18, 1933)

Through traffic on the Canadian Pacific Sunday was being organized on a basis of the new lake link being finally cleared around midnight, after being obstructed for 3 1/2 days by the mammoth rock and mud slide at Blake, 10 miles East of Procter.

The shingle industry on the Fraser River is booming with virtually all the big plants working double shifts and employing approximately 1000 men in the district.

Cardinals Take 6-1 Beating From Cincinnati

ST. LOUIS, June 17 (AP)—Manager Billy Southworth of St. Louis Cardinals, who picks the spots for Pitcher Howard Krist, chose a tough one today for the tall right-hander who was beaten 6-1 by Cincinnati Reds.

It was only the fifth defeat of Krist's Major League career against 29 victories. He came to the Cardinals in 1941 and has been remarkable relief pitcher, starting only occasionally. He has won three games this season.

The defeat was the Cardinals' second in a row at the hands of the Reds, marking the first time they had suffered two consecutive reverses in exactly a month. However, the loss meant nothing so far as their National League lead was concerned since Brooklyn Dodgers also were beaten.

SMACK DODGERS 8-5
NEW YORK, June 17 (AP)—New York Giants clubbed across five runs in the first inning today and went on to beat Brooklyn Dodgers 8-5 and sweep their three-game series.

It was the fourth consecutive defeat for the Dodgers and, while they lost no ground to St. Louis Cardinals, they fell within two games of the third-place Cincinnati Reds.

The Giants' opening blast was against Kirby Higbe, with Nick Witke hitting a single with the bases loaded, Dick Bartell punching a double and Gus Mancuso adding a two-run single for the major blows.

Powerless against Salvo, whom they had returned to the Braves several weeks ago, the Phillies came to life in the nightcap and collected 13 hits. It was their seventh victory in nine games, and gave them the series with Boston, four games to one.

Gustline Heading for Stardom?

PITTSBURGH, June 17 (AP)—Ardent supporters of Frankie Gustline, whose snappy batting average of .348 may bespeak the end of his four-year jinx, entertained hopes today that the 23-year-old second baseman may finally be heading toward stardom predicted for him long ago by Frankie Frisch.

Given a respite from leg; ankle and finger injuries he received at intervals since making his big league debut with the Pirates in 1939, the lad from Chicago promptly staged one of the hottest batting upsurges current in either league.

Now standing fourth among baseball's big six hitters, Gustline clustered 27 hits in 58 attempts to hoist his average 90 points from .253 in two weeks. He hit safely in 10 out of the last 13 games and is the only regular of the third-place Bucs batting .300 or better.

Gustline sparkling play hasn't been confined to hitting. He is one of the three players tied for stolen base honors in the National League with five steals.

His fielding is as versatile as it is clever. He has performed capably at second, short and third—and last year caught two and one-third innings of a game when the Bucs were left without a catcher.

Derby to Be Run at Newmarket; Oaks Runs Today

By ALLEN NICKELSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEWMARKET, England, June 17 (CP Cable)—The greatest classic of them all—the world-famed Derby—will be run over Newmarket's green turf Saturday, and the only safe bet is that there will be plenty of perplexity, crowds and queues. It will be the most open Derby in years.

Never within the memory of race followers have so many outsiders been left in this classic at the acceptance stage. About 25 of Britain's best 3-year-olds are expected to go to the post.

All available accommodation in the district surrounding this old market town was booked weeks ago. The Derby, of course, holds the main attraction, but another classic—the Oaks—will receive almost as much attention when it is run over the same course Friday. The Oaks, open to fillies, has 13 entries.

Wayin, owned by Lord Astor, is the favorite in the fourth wartime Derby. Aboard Wayin will be Cliff Richards, one of Britain's outstanding riders and a brother of the champion jockey of British turfdom, Gordon Richards.

Gordon himself will be astride the temperamental Nasrullah, one of the Aga Khan's three entries.

Second choice to Wayin is 13 to 2 is A. E. Saunders Kingsway, winner of the 2000 Guineas last month, who will be ridden by Sam Wragg.

However, some tipsters, who as usual claim their knowledge comes right from the feed box, tout Pink Flower as the best bet. Bought from a farmer for 13 guineas as an unbroken yearling, Pink Flower placed second in the Guineas.

The King, who hasn't an entry in either the Derby or the Oaks, won't be around to see the classic as he did last year. He is in North Africa with his troops, and there is no indication the Queen will be present.

Favorite to take The Oaks, at 9 to 4, is Tropical Sun, owned by Mrs. S. MacDonald-Buchanan, with Gordon Richards in the saddle. Lord Derby's Herringbone, winner of the 1000 Guineas, is second choice at odds of 7 to 2.

The Derby prize is 2000 sovereigns added, while The Oaks stake is 1000 sovereigns added.

Injured Riverland May Be Destroyed

NEW YORK, June 17 (AP)—Trainer Moody Jolley said today that after examining Harold A. Clark's badly-injured Riverland, three veterinarians decided to wait until tomorrow before giving their decision over whether to destroy the five-year-old.

Riverland, a $5000 bargain who won nearly $100,000 in three years of racing, broke his cap in the Carter Handicap at Aqueduct last Saturday. He is insured for $40,000 and the insurance company has the final say as to his disposal.

"I'm fully convinced the horse will have to be destroyed," Jolley said.

Flyweight Title Bout Climaxes British Program

LONDON, June 17 (CP Cable)—Britain's greatest week of sport in wartime winds up on a major scale tonight when two little fellows meet at Glasgow for the world's flyweight boxing championship.

The long queues for tickets this week indicate that a police-limit crowd of 50,000 will be at Hampden Park to see Jackie Paterson, former Glasgow shipworker, battle Peter (Hurry) Kane, former flyweight king and once a Liverpool blacksmith.

Three titles will be at stake because Paterson holds the British and Empire crowns and is defending both in addition to trying for the world championship.

The scheduled 15-round bout—the majority of observers believe Paterson will win by a knockout—is recognized by both the New York State Athletic Commission and the British Boxing Board of Control as for the world title. The National Boxing Association in the United States recognizes Little Dado of the Philippines.

The fight ends a brilliant week of sport which started over last Whit-sun weekend and includes two of the great racing classics—the Oaks which is to be run tomorrow and the Derby Saturday.

Yanks Squeeze Out 9-8 Win Over Senators

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—A walk with the bases loaded in the ninth inning gave New York Rangers the deciding run in a 9-8 victory over Washington Senators today and restored the American League champions' first-place margin to four games.

The sloppy struggle produced 23 hits, 13 bases on balls and four errors and required two hours and 36 minutes to play.

Washington whipped across five runs in the third inning to take a temporary lead, but the Yankees who got one in the third bottled back with five runs in the fifth when Nick Etten tripled for two of the tallies.

The Senators tied the score in their half of the fifth and Ellis Clary doubled for two runs to put them in front again in the seventh.

The Yanks filled the bases in the ninth. Bill Johnson promptly hit a long fly to bring in the tying run. Tommy Byrne batted for Bill Zuber and was intentionally passed to load the bases. And George Stinewiss popped up, but Wynn walked Bud Metheny to force across the winning run.

Cronin Scores 6 Runs

BOSTON, June 17 (AP)—Appearing as a pinch-hitter for the fourth time in the five-game series, Manager Joe Cronin belted out his second and third three-run homers today as his Red Sox split a doubleheader with Philadelphia Athletics.

Cronin's first four-bagger of the day enabled the sockers to win the opener, 5-4. The Athletics gained the nightcap by an 8-7 margin.

The Athletics had a 4-1 lead behind Russ Christopher in the seventh inning of the first game until, with Babe Barna and Skeeter Newsome on base, Cronin tied the score by driving into the left field screen.

The sockers made their winning run in the ninth when, with the bases filled and one out, Tony Lupien grounded out to drive in reliever Eddie Lake.

The Athletics were coasting along on an 8-4 lead when Cronin batted out his second pinch-hit homer of the day against Don Black with Bobby Doerr and Skeeter Newsome on base in the eighth frame of the second game. Roger Wolf pitched the ninth for the Athletics and squelched the Red Sox' desperate closing rally.

Net Favorites Still Pace U. S. Title Play

DETROIT, June 17 (AP)—Defending Champion Seymour Greenberg of Chicago and top-seeded Billy Talbert of Cincinnati led the unbroken advance of favorites today in the United States Clay Courts tennis championships.

Nancy Corbett of Chicago, ranked second in Women's Singles, became the first seeded player in the meet to drop a set, but when she finally triumphed she went all the way to the finals in her division. Miss Corbett, a 19-year-old Rollins College, Fla., junior, defeated Mary Hernandez of Detroit, 6-0, 3-6, 7-5.

In Sunday's final, Miss Corbett most likely will meet her college pal, Pauline Betz of Los Angeles, the country's top ranking women's player who was idle today and must dispose of Pearl Peterson of Detroit tomorrow to reach the finals.

Greenberg, little left-hander, turned back the challenge of lanky Robert Odman, University of Washington ace, who passed up defence of his Eastern Inter-Collegiate title for a shot at this meet. The scores were 6-2, 6-1, 6-2.

Talbert breezed through a 6-1, 6-4, 6-2 victory over Fred Otto of Grosse Pointe Park, Mich. Talbert next meets Bob Fought, Notre Dame player from Cleveland, while Greenberg's opponent is Leonard Karpelos of Detroit.

CONSIDER THEIR VIEW
NORMAL reactions of your opponents, in normal situations, will be about the same as yours would be. Seldom will it pay you to attempt a play which would not be likely to work if they tried it against you under similar circumstances. Consider their probable point of view before attempting something which depends upon their making a particular mistake. If you decide they probably won't fall for the bait, the try to see if you can't figure out some more likely way to make your contract.

led. If East had held only one heart, or only the A and 4, this card could have brought the club discard, but East stuck in the heart 7, and the 8 over-ruffed. To dummy then went declarer with the diamond 9 to the heart 9, and the last spade, the 8, was led. East threw a diamond, South a club and West ruffed with the heart 3. Two top clubs and the heart A then set the contract.

That last spade lead was the bad one. It should have been clear to South that, with the heart A and 3 out, whoever held the 3 would ruff the trick with it—that the one with the A would not use it then. His play was hopeless.

At that stage, South should have decided his best chance was to find East holding only a doubleton club, including two of the missing top three honors—very likely in view of the bidding. If that was the case, a lead to the heart A then would have made the contract, as the club suit would have been blocked. After taking two honors, East would have had nothing left to lead but a diamond, which would have been ruffable while the other discarded a club.

(Dealer: East. Both sides vulnerable.)
Following the diamond 5 lead, South saw that he had to lose a trick in trumps and possibly three in clubs. He decided to try to get rid of one of his clubs before the defenders had the lead. Taking the first trick with the diamond A, discarding a club from dummy, he laid down the spade A, overtook the Q with the K and led the J. That card would have made a club discard possible at once if the outstanding spades had been divided 3-3. But East ruffed with the heart 4, so South over-ruffed with the 6.
Now the diamond 10 was ruffed with the heart 5 and the spade 10

POSTWAR SLUMP "MANAGEABLE" ASSERTS FORD

Unless We Are More Foolish Than He Thinks We Are IT MEANS WORK

NEW YORK, June 17.—In one of his rare interviews, released today in the July issue of the Woman's Home Companion, Henry Ford, who will celebrate his eightieth birthday on July 30, scans the future of America and pronounces his opinion on a variety of topics ranging from the industrial outlook and new inventions to the importance of a happy marriage.

To anxious mothers and wives who wonder how we are going to find jobs for all the boys when they come back from the war, Mr. Ford, who has just resumed the active presidency of his company, offers the comforting assurance that "unless we are much more foolish than I think we are, this country will find a way to swing back into productive employment after the war without much of a break," which leads logically to his broader view that "if we handle our postwar affairs properly and heed the voice of experience, there need be no unmanageable postwar depression."

This faith in the future of American industry, Mr. Ford explains, is founded on the credo that "the more people employed at fair wages, the larger the market for the products of industry," and in his belief that the machine age is just beginning. He feels that the machine has been a great civilizing force. "Machines save our energy and time. They have lightened men's burdens and have brought more economic equality between men than ever existed."

WORK NEVER POPULAR, BUT—
But more machines don't mean a world of unemployment and loafing. Although Mr. Ford acknowledges that work never has been popular he says, "You can bank on this: there is no future without work. Efforts to construct a workless economy are doomed to fail. More and more kinds of work will be developed. There will be new inventions."

Not, he points out, that there's any pressing need of new inventions at the moment. Mr. Ford maintains that "we are way behind in the task of completing and refining the inventions we already have. Nothing invented in the last fifty years has yet attained its final form or been made as easily obtainable as it should be."

Much of his success in the industrial world Mr. Ford attributes to his happy marriage. Every American woman will take a vicarious pride in the tribute he pays his wife:

FIRST CAR WOULD'NT BACK UP
"I regard my marriage anniversary as a more important milestone than my eightieth birthday. It certainly seems to me a greater thing to have been happily married for fifty-five years than it is just to have lived for eighty years.—When we were married we didn't have much. I was working for the Detroit Edison Company and I got the idea of what the popular mind called a horseless carriage—a motor-driven vehicle of transportation. "We didn't even have money enough to buy the raw materials to experiment with. Everybody said I was crazy—except Mrs. Ford. She believed in what I was trying to do. So she made the sacrifices that all young wives have to make to establish their husbands to go on. "The first time we tried the car on the road, after working all night, we found it would go forward but wouldn't back up. So we took it back to the shop and started over, ing we took it out again. And it a few days later, early one morn-worked. It went forward and backward tool! "Except for the day we were married, that was the happiest day of our lives."

C.B.C. REVENUE UP SLIGHTLY IN YEAR
OTTAWA, June 17 (CP)—Revenue of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation showed a slight increase last year, Dr. J. S. Thomson, General Manager of the Corporation, reported today to the House of Commons Radio Committee. Income from radio licences was up some $210,000 and income from commercial operations increased by $188,000, making the entire income almost $5,000,000.

The corporation now was entirely free of indebtedness and was able to present a

French Group Reach Agreement
ALGIERS, June 17 (AP)—Thirteen members of the French National Liberation Committee, with Gen. Henri Giraud presiding, reached an agreement at an 80-minute meeting today on procedure and collective responsibility, it was announced.

René Massigli, Commissioner of Foreign Affairs, informed the first plenary session of communications received from other governments concerning recognition of the committee as the provisional government of the French Empire.

Called to the meeting were not only the original seven members of the committee but also the six commissioners who occupy the status of ministers in the new French Regime.

Summoning of the full membership was regarded by observers as in itself something of a victory for Gen. Charles de Gaulle, who has refused to attend meetings of the seven-man committee for the last week.

At today's meeting the committee began the first steps toward the creation of a "consultative assembly."

It was also announced that an exchange of views had taken place on the problems concerning the organization of French military forces, one of the principal causes of friction between Gens. Giraud and De Gaulle.

One committeeman told the Press that "everything went admirably—an absolutely democratic institution now has been born."

He said the six commissioners attending the committee meeting for the first time accepted, like the original seven committeemen, the principle of collective responsibility and the pledge to relinquish the committees' powers when France is freed.

The announcement that agreement on procedure today "will bring to a conclusion the various questions now pending which need to be solved urgently" was interpreted as the most hopeful indication that the quarrel over military power between De Gaulle and Giraud might soon be solved.

The committee set no date for its next session.

DISMISSES CHARGE AGAINST MAN DRINKING IN CAR
KAMLOOPS, B. C., June 17 (CP)—Argument that an automobile is not a public place within the meaning of the liquor regulations if the public does not have access to it was advanced successfully in Police Court here in the case of a man arrested while drinking in his parked car.

Magistrate Arthur Rankin dismissed the charge, ruling that the public hadn't had access to vehicle and remarking: "It is not a question of where a truck or car stands that makes such a conveyance a public place, but the manner in which it is legally controlled."
