

Nazis Report Russ Offensive in Leningrad Area

By LYNN HEINZLING
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, July 23 (AP)—Russian forces crashed across a river directly East of Orel, killing 2,000 Germans massed on the West bank, and scored fresh gains of two to four miles on the North and South sides of the beleaguered German Central Front pivot, Moscow announced tonight.

German broadcasts said 18 Soviet divisions had begun a powerful offensive South of Leningrad but official Russian dispatches were silent on developments there.

The river crossing at Orel appeared to have put the Red Army within eight miles of the city after a three-mile drive from Zolotarevo, the last village to fall in that area. Another Russian column was less than nine miles Northeast of Orel.

Several more villages fell to the advancing Russians who knocked out scores of German tanks and killed thousands of enemy troops today in fighting raging clear down to the Sea of Azov, said the midnight communique.

North of Orel the Russians beat down several fierce German counter-attacks near Bolkhov, wiping out a regiment of enemy infantry. Bolkhov, keystone of a strong Nazi defence network 35 miles North of Orel, fell to the Russians Thursday.

The Soviet drive on the North also was wheeling behind Orel, endangering the railway running Northwest of Bryansk. One dispatch said Karachev, midway between the two cities on the railway, already was threatened.

A special communique said 92 German tanks were knocked out and 112 planes shot down during Thursday, and the midnight bulletin said 5400 enemy troops were killed and 85 tanks destroyed today on three sides of the city.

The Germans also lost heavily in the Belgorod sector and the Donets Basin to the South, and Russian forces again were attacking the Germans in the Northwest-Caucasus.

After standing firm against German attacks in the Belgorod area the Russians resumed their offensive and captured a number of populated places, killing about 1000 Germans the communique said.

South of Izyum in the Donets Basin fighting still was described by the Russians as "of local importance" despite German accounts which called it part of a general offensive.

The Germans attempted to regain positions which they lost during the previous day but achieved no success, the communique said. One counter-attack sent the Germans staggering back with a loss of 800 dead on the battlefield and 18 mutilated tanks.

Several thousand Germans have been killed in four days of fighting Southwest of Voroshilovgrad where active operations were continuing as the Soviet forces captured several "advantageous positions." The Germans were counter-attacking again and again in this area.

The number of Nazis is estimated at more than three divisions, including the tough Hermann Goering Division.

Across the ditches, marshy fields uneven hills and citrus groves of Catania Plain—scene of savage fighting the last week—must be fought the greatest and probably most decisive battle of the entire Sicilian campaign.

The Germans are especially well-entrenched about a mile and a quarter North of the Simeto River which is below Catania, defences stretching back to a depth of several miles and with thinner but fairly strong defences facing the Northwest and West.

Justice Minister St. Laurent said serious consideration to a new site would have to be given at an early date. The expenditure of more than $800,000 would be required to provide accommodation at a new site.

Henri Feddersen, Secretary of the Association, said restaurant owners felt that in view of the present labor situation, they should be reclassified for if they do not get relief soon, many of the restaurants will have to close. They want equal priorities with war industries.

The application will be sent to the Provincial Minister of Labor at Victoria and thence to the Dominion Minister of Labor at Ottawa.

AMERICANS SWEEP INTO PALERMO

Surround 45,000 Axis Troops, Race on to East

LONDON, July 24 (Saturday) (CP)—A Reuters Stockholm report said today that Axis forces had begun evacuating Sicily. Reuters said the source of the report was a Berne, Switzerland, dispatch to the Svenska Dagbladet.

By RELMAN MORIN
Associated Press War Correspondent

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, July 23 (AP)—An American armored column striking the North Coast has captured Palermo, Capital of Sicily, to trap 45,000 or more Axis troops and apparently end Axis resistance of four-fifths of the island.

The United States 7th Army tanks and cars which thundered into the sixth largest Italian city from three sides already had begun fanning out to mop up thousands of Axis troops.

(A Rome radio broadcast recorded by NBC implied another Axis reverse on the Eastern coast at Catania. "Our forces have readjusted their positions around Catania to the rear," said the broadcast referring to the area where crack German troops have put up a stubborn defence against the British 8th Army).

The Canadian troops meantime were still reported advancing against stiff opposition. The Allied headquarters communique gave no details of their whereabouts but the Canadians were reported to have captured Ramacca, 22 miles inland from Catania.

(William Stewart, Canadian Press war correspondent, said the Canadian force, which consists of the 1st Division under Maj.-Gen. Guy Simonds, had struck its fiercest opposition and possibly was up against the outer shell of the main Axis defence system for the island.

(Stewart said the Canadians have advanced more than 75 miles since they landed on the tip of Pachino Peninsula almost two weeks ago. During the past three days they have had to fight every foot of the way through the sun-baked hills around Enna.)

An official announcement tonight said the Americans had applied their modern tank and plane tactics to capture Palermo, the political and cultural centre of Sicily.

One armored column hooked into the Sicilian capital from the Southwest, another hit it from the South and Southwest, and a third cut Northwest to intercept enemy forces withdrawing from Palermo toward the East.

It is estimated that approximately three divisions, 45,000 men, now are cut off in Western Sicily.

ITALIANS DEMONSTRATE
Madrid dispatches said Italians following Palermo's fall, demonstrated in the streets of Rome, Venice, Milan, Turin, Florence and Trieste, shouting "Peace."

Strikes and sabotage were reported sweeping the country, and the Balkans were rumbling with reports of rebellion. Rome already was the scene of a large-scale civilian evacuation movement.

The battle for Sicily appeared to be falling rapidly into the same pattern as the battle for Tunisia in its closing stages.

The capture of Palermo with its extensive shipping, naval and air facilities gave to the Allies a dominating port on the Tyrrhenian Sea approach to Rome, and reports at Allied headquarters tonight indicated that all Allied armies were converging swiftly toward the one remaining active battle line in Northeastern Sicily.

Axis resistance was now compressed in the Northeastern tip, on an area but little larger than Cap Bon where Col-Gen. Jurgen von Arnim's army met catastrophe in Tunisia last Spring.

Defending Catania, the Southern gateway to the escape port of Messina on this tip, the Nazi Hermann Goering Division fought with unabated tenacity in a battle which had held Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's 8th Army veterans to a yard-by-yard progress for eight days.

But the Canadians, on Montgomery's West wing, were reported swinging around the Germans' flank, meeting fierce resistance but driving the 15th German Armored Division before them.

And the main American force, despite the sweep of its units over most of Western Sicily, was reported to be in the area North-east of Enna where it could bear directly upon the Nazi's Western flank.

The situation appeared to be similar to that in Tunisia before the American break-through at Mateur.

JAP SEAPLANE TENDER SUNK BY BOMBERS

New Attempt to Run Supplies to Buin Broken Up
5 PLANES FALL

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, July 23 (Saturday) (AP)—Allied bombers smashed a Japanese attempt to run supplies to the strong base at Buin on Bougainville Island Thursday night, sinking a 9000-ton enemy seaplane tender and damaging one of four escorting destroyers.

The seaplane tender, one of the "Nishin" class, was sighted off the coast of Bougainville Island just at dusk. Heavy torpedo and dive bombers, protected by a strong force of fighters, sank the tender. Japanese Zeros, in force, attempted to ward off the attack but they were driven away by Allied fighters. Five of the enemy planes were shot down. Three Allied machines are missing.

Two-engine bombers and fighters conducted heavy bombing and strafing sweeps along the coasts of New Guinea and New Britain, destroying 12 enemy barges between Hanisch Harbor, just East of Lae, and Cape Bushing, near the Western tip of New Britain. At least 13 other barges were destroyed or seriously damaged.

DIVE-BOMB TROOPS
Today's communique from Allied headquarters contained no information on the progress of American troops closing in on the Japanese air base at Munda, New Georgia.

It said merely that "dive bombers attacked enemy gun positions in support of ground troops" in that area.

A surprise attack on enemy installations at Rekata Bay on Santa Isabel Island, Northeast of New Georgia was carried out by fighters and bombers.

In Vella Gulf, between Kolombangara and Vella Lavella Islands, Allied light surface units intercepted four Japanese barges attempting to run supplies to Kolombangara. Two of the barges were set afire.

A strong force of four-engine bombers, escorted by fighters, dropped 61 tons of bombs on Bogadjim, a village 20 miles South of the big Japanese base at Madang, New Guinea. Many direct hits were scored on buildings and installations and large fires resulted.

Approximately 90 Japanese fighters rose to offer battle to the Allied raiders.

They were "decisively defeated and dispersed," the communique said. At least 18, and probably 19, of the enemy fighters were destroyed and five were shot out of combat. Two Allied fighters were lost.

In other New Guinea sorties, Allied planes bombed or machine-gunned Finischhafen, Voco Point near Lae, Salamaua, and Malolo village. Small formations of enemy fighters which attempted interception were dispersed but one Allied plane failed to return.

LONDON, July 23 (CP Cable)—Viscount Bennett today called for immediate attention to forming an Empire Air Service. 50 Cretans Executed for Aiding Commando Raiders

CAIRO, July 23 (AP)—For aiding in the July 4 British Commando landing and raid on the Heraklion Aldrome, 50 Cretans have been executed by the Nazis on orders of military Governor Brauer who warned severer measures would follow, the Hellenic News Service reported tonight.

The news Service said the Nazi military governor announced the executions in a proclamation that declared "the population did not live up to the trust I placed in them" during "the planned sabotage operations" on the night of July 4.

The proclamation ordered a curfew from 9 p.m. to 4:30 a.m. Closing of all public places at 11 p.m. and shutting down of cinemas to civilians and cancellation of permission given recently to laborers to thrash their own corn.

HUNGRY FRENCH MASSES BUILD UP HATE

Angry Housewives Storm Hotel of Marshal Petain
CHILDREN SICKLY

By FRANK BRUTTO
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERNE, July 23 (AP)—The French masses, visited with terrible and constant hunger while their Nazi conquerors feed on their crops, are building up an anger which will explode with devastating effect at the first Allied invasion landing, says a dispatch from France to the Basler Nachrichten.

The situation, the paper said, has reached a point which may prove catastrophic for France unless soon relieved.

The spectre of inability to bridge the gap until the new crop is harvested hangs over the country, aggravated by the fact that 800,000 peasant prisoners are still in Germany and hundreds of thousands of youths are enrolled in Nazi forced labor ranks. But the existing food shortage, said the Nachrichten, "without question is due to fees and requisitions of the Germans."

Bread riots have occurred in various cities, among them Grenoble and Gex. More recently a throng of maddened housewives in Vichy assailed the Par Hotel—Marshal Petain's quarters—after a 15-day absence of fruit and vegetables from the city's markets. They shouted that they wanted to tell the Marshal "What we think about it."

A doubled police guard forcibly dispersed the mob and barricaded the hotel cellars, whose stocks the women had threatened to pillage, but not until the housewives succeeded in grabbing an arrival of vegetables scheduled for later sale. The housewives feared they would find their way to restaurants and the black markets as they did in the past, and not to the public marts.

Throughout France hunger is increasing. Children whose faces are pinched and legs spindly and falling easy victims to disease while their parents mutter helplessly.

The tuberculosis index is mounting at an alarming rate. At Marseille a class of 40 children early this year showed no trace of tuberculosis. Reexamined recently, all gave a positive reaction. Last year it was already determined that 60 per cent of workers' children were rachitic and 40 per cent anemic.

"One-Sided Labor Dept." May Force Total Strike

MONTREAL, July 23 (CP)—Robert Haddock, American Federation of Labor organizer here said tonight that Labor Minister Mitchell was "siding with" the Canadian Congress of Labor organization "in an attempt to break the A.F. of L."

He said that Labor Department officials had made concessions to striking C.C.L. employees of Canadian Vickers shipyards while refusing an A.F. of L. request for settlement of the strike.

"Our pledge for no strikes during wartime," said Mr. Haddock, "will be retaken during our August convention. Canada may face a total strike if the policy of the Labor Department continues to be one-sided."

Turks Expect Allied Attack in East

ESTANBUL, July 23 (AP)—A growing conviction here today is that the Allies are about to strike in the Eastern Mediterranean to link up with the Soviet offensive in Russia.

Balkan unrest appeared to be increasing steadily and it was learned the Germans are taking over command of all Greek ports and Corinth Canal region.

From Rumania Marshal Ion Antonescu, Leader of the State, sent two divisions to reinforce garrisons in Bucovina, Besarabia and Odessa against the possibility of a Russian breakthrough.

In Bulgaria, Sofia police were called out last Tuesday to quell rioting, a recently returned traveller said. Two policemen and several rioters were killed in the fight which was believed to have grown out of pro-Russian demonstrations.

The traveller also said that 200 persons were arrested in Macedonia before Bulgarian Prime Minister Bogdan Philov visited there.

Bullet-Riddled Body of Woman Found at Vancouver

VANCOUVER, July 23 (CP)—City Police tonight launched an investigation into the slaying of Mrs. Violet Alberta Morrison, 40, of Vancouver whose body was found late today in a rooming house with bullet wounds in the head and side.

Police officers said powder burns on the body indicated the shots had been fired at close range and since no weapon was found in the room, they concluded she had been murdered.

Claims Guns in Place on Norway Shores

STOCKHOLM, July 23 (AP)—German Press reports received here today said that fortification work on Norway's middle coast begun three years ago in anticipation of a possible Allied invasion, was completed recently when the last large battery of guns was put into place.

The reports presumably referred to the Trondheim area, vital to any defence of Norway.

Norwegian reports said the Germans had installed tanks throughout the Trondheim area containing a substance which generates dense smoke when it comes into contact with the air.

Fail of Palermo Brings Shouts for Peace in Italy

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, July 23 (AP)—Repercussions of the seizure of Palermo were reported today from all over Italy and the Balkans.

Dispatches said Italians demonstrated in the streets of Rome, Venice, Milan, Turin, Florence and Trieste, shouting "peace!" These reports also said that a wave of strikes and sabotage swept the country.

From the Balkans came reports of rebellion and fighting against Axis occupation forces.

OTTAWA, July 23 (CP)—Resources Minister Crerar said in the House of Commons today that many Indians do not desire the franchise and prefer their present status, in which they have no voting rights.

The Minister made his statement during discussion of Indian Branch estimates, after T. C. Douglas (C.C.F. Westburn) said that Indians as British subjects had been held liable for compulsory military training and should be considered for the full rights of citizenship.

A compulsory enfranchisement might have to be considered in the future, said Mr. Crerar.

OTTAWA, July 23 (CP)—A sum of $27,800,000 for wheat acreage reduction payments and other expenses of the Government's wheat acreage reduction program is provided in supplementary estimates for the Agriculture Department tabled tonight in the House of Commons.

This sum is in addition to $4,265,000 provided under the main 1943-44 estimates for this purpose—making a grand total for this fiscal year of $32,065,000. This compares with a total of $28,175,000 in 1942-43.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today that acreage seeded to wheat in the three Prairie Provinces this year is almost 4,000,000 acres less than last year at 16,729,000 acres.

Goebbels Attempts to Belittle Sicily Invasion

LONDON, July 23 (CP)—Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels told the German people in his weekly article in Das Reich that "Europe is entering a decisive battle," but asserted that although there may be reverses "here and there" for the Axis, the Germans "can look to future developments in the East as well as in the South with calm and composure."

The Goebbels article claimed the Allies "really had not scored any large-scale victories and presumably will not score any during the future course of the war."

The Nazi propaganda chief claimed that in contrast to German operations in Russia in the past two Summers, which he said were aimed at gaining territory, this year's operations were directed toward "exhausting the Russians."

He said the Allies were happy that with their invasion of Sicily they could make the "first modest installment payment" on their promise of a second front, but that more was necessary "than to invade Sicily with the joint strength of two empires."

Bright Wheat Prospects Reported From Europe; Canada, U. S. Down

OTTAWA, July 23 (CP)—The old world appears to have the edge in wheat prospects this year, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics said today in its monthly review of the wheat situation.

"Latest advices from Europe confirm earlier reports that this year's bread grain crops are the largest since the war began, while in Canada and the United States the prospects are sharply reduced from the banner year of 1942," the Bureau said.

But it said the better crop prospects in the Old World should be qualified by the statement that in many countries the larders now are almost empty, while in North America the smaller 1943 crops are backed up by the largest combined carry-over of old wheat in the history of Canada and the United States.

"Official carry-over figures have not yet been published but the latest calculation would indicate that the two countries between them have something approaching 1,250,000,000 bushels of old crop wheat on hand."

Estimates of European production have not yet been received and for many countries controlled by the OTTAWA, July 23 (CP)—Sgt. George A. Hickson, D.C.M., 28, of Kitchener, Ont., won the Military Medal in North Africa for organizing a detachment to clear a gap through a mine field so tanks could advance to the final objective—a job carried out under constant shell and mortar fire.

Also made public today was the citation covering award of the Military Cross to Capt. W. H. V. Matthews, 28, of Sooke, B. C. In the Battle of Bou Arada last April 22, he was the only officer left in his company, and "under extremely heavy fire" he "consolidated his position on the second objective when a counter attack seemed imminent."

Consider New Price Controls Says F.D.R.

WASHINGTON, July 24 (AP)—President Roosevelt said today the United States Government is considering new plans for price controls and general economic stabilization, but that no ideas have yet been agreed on.

If anyone has any bright suggestions as to how the rollback of prices can be carried out under the present law, he will welcome them, Mr. Roosevelt said at a Press conference.

B. C. Coast and Shipping Mustn't Be Photographed

Shores and waters of coastal British Columbia are now entirely prohibited areas for photography, officials of the Joint Services Security Intelligence Bureau, Pacific Command, point out.

Defence of Canada Regulations prohibit private or commercial photography of any part of the shoreline or any vessels plying in coastal or offshore waters. Carrying of cameras on ships has long been prohibited.

Security officials state there is no desire to interfere with holiday-makers seeking to keep a photographic record of family outings. They add, however, that care and patriotic judgment should be used in the choice of backgrounds, and potential photographers should acquaint themselves with photographic regulations.

The claim that photographic regulations are nullified because picture postcard views are available in stores is refuted by the Security Bureau. Its officials point out that the views were all taken prior to the outbreak of war. Those considered a menace to security have been officially called in.

Since the war started, state security officers, considerable defence work has been undertaken along the coastline and involves projects in addition to gun positions. Officials state the danger lies in the fact that photographs taken today might fall into enemy hands. They add that competent intelligence officers using modern equipment can take even a small snapshot and gain much valuable information from it.

Photographic societies, realizing the amazing technical advances since the outbreak of war, are fully cognizant of the danger and are co-operating fully with the authorities. Security officials ask the same co-operation from the casual camera user.

Armies Driven Into Exhaustion on Both Sides at Catania

By NED RUSSEL
Representing the Combined United States Press
(Distributed by The Canadian Press)
WITH THE BRITISH 8TH ARMY ON THE CATANIA PLAIN, July 22 (Delayed)—This 20-mile front subsided into a static condition today imposed by sheer exhaustion on both sides.

A small formation of British troops which had driven to an area just below the foothills about 3 1/2 miles southwest of Catania was pulled back before the moon rose to a position protecting the Westernmost British bridgehead across the Simeo River. Elsewhere on the Catania Plain the front situation was unchanged.

Farther West the Canadians reported progress was low. Wild rugged mountains through which the Germans had demolished strategic bridges and roads were forcing the Canadians to fight their way forward on foot.

The battle was moving slowly along most of the front. Both sides were getting tired. The strain of this close-quarter type fighting was tremendous for both sides.

The Germans were outnumbered almost everywhere but this country is ideally suited for defence. The British forces were fighting uphill everywhere except on the Catania Plain. Even on the plain they were overlooked constantly, which hampers any efforts to concentrate men and vehicles inside the bridgeheads over the Simeo River to drive across the plain to German defences.

Report Crete Heavily Raided by Allies

NEW YORK, July 23 (AP)—The Berlin radio said tonight that "strong forces of Allied bombers have attacked German airfields in Crete," the large Greek island South of the Balkans.

The Germans claimed 10 Allied planes were brought down by anti-aircraft guns alone.

The attack was reported to have been directed against German airbases and the three largest towns in Crete. The damage was called "insignificant."

The Germans said this was the first enemy action against Crete since the beginning of the invasion of Sicily and said "it obviously was made for the main purpose of probing Axis defences in Crete."

(The report has not been confirmed by an Allied source.)

Forms Are Up for Walls of Trout Pond

Forms for the walls of the first trout rearing pond built this year by volunteers of the Nelson Rod and Gun Club are now in place, and early completion of the pond is expected.

Progress of the work has been slow this season compared to last, stated J. J. McEwen, due to fewer workers turning out to lend a hand. However, the "faithfuls are still with us," he added, "and by plugging we will be able to carry through the best part of our program. It's a big job, but we have undertaken it and we've got to carry it through."

Marketing of Kootenay-Arrow Lakes Cherries Increasing in Pace; Bings and Lamberts Begin to Move

Movement of cherries to market is increasing in pace in the Kootenay-Arrow Lakes District. Robert Foxall, Manager of Nelson Sub-Central of the Associated Growers, stated Friday that "the market is very strong and prices are firm."

So far this season "quality has been excellent." The cherries are now at the stage where prolonged, heavy rain would cause considerable splitting.

The Arrow Lakes is past the half-way point in shipment of Royal Annes and other varieties, and these varieties are now beginning to move in crates, from the Kootenay Lake area.

Bings are moving in fair volume from the Arrow Lakes, and shipments of Lamberts has started. Kootenay Lake Bings are expected to start Monday.

As for the past few years, some of the earliest cherries have been processed at Harrop for sale later to manufacturers of maraschino and glace cherries. This processing deal takes Kootenay-Arrow Lakes early cherries off the market during the period Okanagan cherries are arriving on the Prairies in volume, and avoids competition between varieties while making sure that growers obtain returns for their early cherries.

Strawberries, raspberries and blackberries are also being processed at Harrop, for later sale to jam manufacturers.

Black currants and gooseberries are about finished. Raspberries are starting to move, and blackberries will follow.

Communists Can Fight Nazis Without Forming a Party

Tim Buck thinks the Government Ottawa will allow the Communist party to reorganize and operate publicly in Canada but under a different name. He said "there was strong sentiment in favor of changing the name because of public prejudice against it."

Naturally there is, very strong prejudice. Canadians cannot forget that when after the fall of France the people of Great Britain and the British Empire were fighting what was almost a forlorn hope against the Nazis and needed every ounce of support from every citizen, the Communists in Canada were saying it was a capitalist war, that they wouldn't fight for British imperialism, that men should not volunteer for our armed forces, nor work for a maximum production of war munitions.

In France, the Communists carried out a similar policy. There it succeeded to the extent that the Communists had strong influence in breaking down French morale and helping to bring about the disastrous French defeat.

Not until Hitler attacked Russia did the Communists support the Allied cause against Hitler. They would, they said, fight to help defend Russia. But Hitler could destroy Great Britain, be in power over the British dominions; and they would not lift a hand to stop him.

If today there is prejudice in Canada against the name "Communist" Tim Buck is surely not surprised. And he and his cohorts wish to aid the United Nations to the best of their ability in the present struggle against the Axis powers they do not need to reorganize the party, whether it be called Communist or camouflaged as something else. All they need to do is work against and fight with the rest of the common enemy.

An Idea for Kootenay Cities

The City of Spokane is setting up a reserve in its 1944 budget for postwar expenditures on supplies and materials, equipment and construction.

The idea is that neither labor nor material is available now for normal public works activities, and that after the war there will be a large backlog of work to be done and a need for municipal activities as part of postwar rehabilitation work.

Spokane is thus putting into reserve money which it would normally be spending for maintenance and other public works activities and holding these funds for after-the-war undertakings.

The city will be able to buy and construct out of its savings when materials and labor are released after the war.

There are obvious merits in the plan. Kootenay municipalities may find it worthy of consideration.

The Unanswerable Case for Social Security

The case for a program of Social Security in Canada could not be better than in a recent article in the Toronto Star.

"Everyone knows," says the Star, and some have their knowledge out of bitter experience, that thrift is no guarantee against a penniless old age; that willingness to work is no guarantee of employment; that high resolve and fine character are no assurance against prolonged sickness and misfortune will not drain the bank account. The state is not "wet-nursing" fortunate people when it alleviates their misfortune. It is simply spreading the income of the nation more evenly over the population so that there may be less want, less anxiety, less fear of destitution, less misery and less suffering. That is what social security means, and that is what the new post-war order will seek to achieve."

There is no reason in the world why Canada should not embark upon and achieve such a program of Social Security. The extreme Socialists would have us all virtual employees of the state, the State Socialists would have as many of us on the government payroll as possible. Such policies would stifle individual initiative and ultimately reduce the average standard of living, including the standard of living that it would be possible to provide for those benefitting from various measures of Social Security.

But, with freedom of everyone, laborer, mechanic, executive or professional man, to profit out of his own free enterprise we can not only establish a relatively high standard of minimum Social Security for all, but we can continue to enhance the returns from the vast resources which Canada possesses. The height of the minimum standard of Social Security which we can provide depends upon the extent to which enterprise, initiative, thrift and hard work are rewarded by earnings over and above that minimum standard.

To gild refined gold, to paint the lily To throw a perfume on the violet, To smooth the ice, or add another hue Unto the rainbow, or with taper-light To seek the beauteous eye of heaven to garnish is wasteful and ridiculous excess. —Shakespeare.

A number of people who should know better are still referring to "Gilding the Lily." Don't be a "Lily Gilder." Get it right. As you will note, Mr. Shakespeare said "To paint the lily." It is surprising how widespread this misquotation has been. There was even a film titled "The Gilded Lily." Mae Murray starred in it.

"We work from 5:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. and steadily," writes a young fellow with the armed forces. A. What do you mean "thrill girls"? My favorite film actresses are Jeanette MacDonald, Greer Garson, Ingrid Bergman and Jean Arthur. Q. Did you find out what song Margaret Spears refused to sing over the radio on St. Patrick's Day? A. The song Margaret declined to sing was "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling." She said it was a man's song. She did sing "Mother Machree" and "Where the River Shannon Flows". My favorite among songs appropriate for St. Patrick's Day is "My Wild Irish Rose."

REMARKABLE ANIMAL

Several months ago a visitor to Norfolk, Va., saw a mongrel dog who had been standing on the curb, hop into a taxi. "Whose dog is that?" asked the stranger. "Oh, that's the dog that works for the newspapers," answered a nearby native. The pup was Jack, famous newspaper dog, the pet of the boys of the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot. When tired after a long walk Jack always stood on a curb. Everybody in Norfolk knew him. When a taxi driver came along he would pick Jack up and take him to the newspaper office. Jack also had a pass for the street cars. Jack recently passed on at a ripe old age and was mourned by thousands of his friends in Norfolk.

Today's VICTORY GARDEN-GRAPH

By DEAN HALLIDAY

CARE OF EARLY POTATOES IN THE VICTORY GARDEN As soon as the vines of the early potatoes in the Victory Garden begin to die the soil can be worked up around the plants in order to hold them erect and protect the tubers from the scorching sun. Premature wilting and dying of the potato plant, as illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph, is caused by Fusarium Wilt. This disease cannot be cured and must be guarded against by means of seed selection, treating seed and a three to five year rotation planting plan. When preparing seed potatoes a prime safety factor is to discard all tubers showing discolorations. Fusarium wilt seems to be most severe during dry, hot Summers. In dry years, therefore, the crop should be well watered if possible. The use of a straw mulch with early potatoes is particularly desirable in hot, dry climates or in dry seasons. The mulch can be put on as soon as the potatoes are up.

Roosevelt Still Hopes Rome Will Be Made an Open City; Bombing Was to Save Allied Lives

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP)—President Roosevelt said today the Allies still hope that the Germans and Fascists will declare Rome an open city.

The President told his Press conference that the Allies had tried for a year or more to have the Italian capital rendered an open city and hence not subject to attack, but that all these efforts had failed. Discussing the recent air raid on Rome, the President remarked the city contains airports and railroad marshalling yards used to transport guns, troops and ammunition Southward. He also said the bombing was to protect British and American lives.

The President would not comment on the letter of Pope Pius XII to his Vicar General in Rome deploring the bombing. He said he had had no communication from the Pope.

The comment he did make came in response to a question whether Rome should be made an open city. Touching on the invasion of Sicily, he said it was clear that the Allied troops were in great danger by the influx of guns and other military equipment from the Rome area.

The more the Allies could keep the military traffic from operating between Rome and the South the better it would be for the Allies, he said. He described the Rome raid a successful one and said he would not go into the quid pro quo on the question, meaning retaliation for similar raids on Allied cities, because he believed that was not the essential thing.

Shot Seven Times and Left for Dead Soldier Worked Back to U. S. Lines

By STEPHEN BARBER Associated Press Staff Writer CAIRO, July 23 (AP)—A story of how he was captured by the Italians in Sicily, shot seven times, and left for dead, and yet escaped and made his way back to American lines, was told today by Pte. Michael Scambulluri of Albany, N. Y., a parachute trooper who is recovering in an Allied base hospital in the Middle East.

Scambulluri landed in an area alive with enemy troops and was surrounded and captured before he could join his mates.

"I was led to a captain's office in the troop barracks and asked a lot of questions about how many soldiers had been landed and what kind of arms we carried. "I told them only my name, grade and serial number and refused all other information. When I spoke to the captain in Italian, asked the name of the town, he became enraged and accused me of being a spy. He ordered my hands tied behind my back and I was led from the barracks and stood against a wall in the courtyard.

"The captain walked about 20 feet away from me, took out his revolver and fired one shot at me. "All hell seemed to burn inside of me and I collapsed. The captain continued firing at me, pouring six more shots into me as I lay there on the ground.

"I heard the group walk away, he continued, and when it got quiet I wiggled to a tree about 20 feet away and worked myself to my feet. I don't know where I got the strength but I managed to get out of the place and across the fields into some nearby woods. "I half walked, half crawled into the brush until I came across an old, deserted cemetery. I stopped and sawed through the ropes binding my hands on the edge of a sharp gravestone.

Scambulluri said he tore his wrists so badly in getting free that he collapsed. When he recovered consciousness he made his way through the woods and at dawn was found by a group of civilians. They helped him to where the American soldiers were advancing and he was given first aid and taken to a field hospital. That wasn't the end of Scambulluri's story. After he was placed aboard a hospital ship it was bombed and sunk at its moorings. Later another hospital ship brought him to safety.

Food Output Up 25 Per Cent Over Pre War Levels; Gordon Says Farmers Cannot Expect U. S. Prices

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., July 23 (CP)—Donald Gordon, Chairman of the Prices Board, said in an address prepared for delivery to the Alberta Federation of Agriculture here today that the production of food ranks in importance "with guns and tanks and planes", and that the total volume of food production last year was more than 25 per cent above pre-war levels.

"... and let me add," he said, "That the score sheet of this production records given high marks to the farmers of the Prairie Provinces." The greatest increases in hogs, cattle butter, milk, eggs and coarse grains had taken place on the Western farms.

The record was "all the more striking" because manpower shortage had fallen heavily on agriculture; 330,000 men had gone from the farms to the armed forces and war industries, and there was difficulty in obtaining needed farm equipment.

Mr. Gordon said there had been a "definite improvement" since the present war began in the economic position of farmers. The official index showed that farm prices had risen 43 per cent since 1939, and if wheat were left out prices, on the average, were 50 per cent higher, aside from subsidies.

Hog and butter prices had been raised and a subsidy paid on butter fat. Cheese prices were five cents a pound higher than in the basic period, and egg prices in June were higher than in any June since 1929, while potato prices had doubled.

Of the demand in some quarters for the equivalent of United States prices on beef, Mr. Gordon said: "Beef shows the greatest rise of any foodstuff in this war. However, there are those who feel defrauded because they cannot obtain the United States price for beef. Such expectations are completely unrealistic under present-day conditions."

"Canadian producers must realize that they cannot expect to get American prices for their products unless Canada is prepared to allow all prices to rise to the American levels, in which case it would be necessary for everybody, including farmers, to pay the higher American prices for everything they buy."

Farmers' expenses have risen, but taken as a whole farm living and operating costs have not risen nearly as much as the selling prices for agricultural products. The margin between income and expenses is "almost double" the pre-war figure.

If all the price increases granted to farm products had been allowed to affect consumer prices, there would have been a substantial rise in the cost of living. To prevent this, increases have been paid in some cases in the form of subsidies to producers; in others, the trade has been forced to absorb some of the price increase, and in still others consumer subsidies had been arranged.

The convention that higher prices would help the farmer get the labor he needs does not hold; it would result in a competition by auction for labor, wages would soon outstrip the benefit of increased prices, and the "familiar inflationary spiral" again appear.

The real interest of agriculture would be served by a long period of stabilized prices.

EGG SAUCE FOR FISH

4 tablespoons melted margarine, 3 cups milk, 2 hard boiled eggs, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, pepper.

Blend fat, flour and salt, add milk and stir constantly until thickened. Chop eggs and add to sauce with lemon juice and pepper to taste. A well beaten egg yolk stirred into the mixture after it is taken from the fire makes it richer.

HOLLANDAISE SAUCE

1/4 cup butter or margarine, 4 egg yolks, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1/4 teaspoon salt, dash of cayenne, 1/4 cup boiling water.

Divide butter into 3 portions. Beat egg yolks and lemon juice together, add 1 piece of butter and cook in double boiler, stirring constantly until mixture begins to thicken. Remove from stove, add a second piece of butter and stir rapidly; then add remaining butter and continue to stir until mixture is completely blended. Add salt, cayenne and boiling water. Return to double boiler and stir until sauce thickens.

GINGER SNAPS

1 cup molasses, 1/2 cup shortening, 1/2 teaspoon soda, 3/4 cups sifted flour, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 to 2 teaspoons ginger, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt.

Heat molasses to boiling point and pour over fat; add sifted dry ingredients to molasses and fat, mix well and make into long roll as large around as the cookies are to be. Wrap roll in waxed paper and put in cold storage to chill for several hours or overnight. The dough must be cold through and through to cut properly. When ready to bake, cut roll into very thin slices with a sharp knife and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until lightly browned. Remove from pan while hot.

He Needs Pipes Says R.C.A.F.; Former Nelsonite Stranded

PILOT OFFICER ALEX HALCROW

OTTAWA, July 23 (CP)—The R.C.A.F. today came to the aid of P. A. F. (Sandy) Halcrow of Penitentiary, B. C., a piper without pipes by drawing attention to his plight.

Halcrow, a recent arrival to the overseas fighter squadron commanded by Sqdn. Ldr. Eugene (Jeep) Neal of Quebec and Montreal, learned to play the bagpipes when the Gordon Highlanders were organizing in Penitentiary. His teacher was Peter Leslie of Nelson, B. C.

But now, said the R.C.A.F., Halcrow sits around the dispersal hut, disconsolate, playing scratched Bing Crosby records and "with that faraway look all good Scotsmen get when there are no bagpipes to be had."

"The sum total," a Press release said, "is that Halcrow won't be happy until he has a set of pipes; and the squadron won't be happy until Halcrow is pacified."

"Bagpipes are unobtainable in Britain. But maybe, Halcrow figures, there's an odd set sitting around in Canada some place and not doing anybody much good. "So... any others?"

Skril of Sandy Halcrow's pipes were familiar sounds to Nelson High School students and teachers of 1935-36. Sandy when he had his pipes was a happy lad and a willing performer. He played at class entertainments and assembly periods in the auditorium, at lunch hour and after school in the basements—anywhere and anytime he had an audience.

P.O. Halcrow was the son of Sgt. David Halcrow of the B. C. Police and Mrs. Halcrow, residents of Cranbrook before coming to Nelson and residents of Penitentiary later. Halcrow after graduating from High School won a scholarship in engineering at a Colorado University.

Two brothers, David and Gordon, were also Nelson High School students, and both are in the services.

Food Is Fuel... Keep Your Temper to Keep Cool

By IDA JAN KAIN

Don't fly off the handle in hot weather, or get into any heated arguments, or even bring up the subject of politics if you want to keep cool, keep your temper. Getting mad raises your metabolism and makes you just that much more uncomfortable.

Another factor is food. It's fuel, so don't over-stoke. A heavy, four-course dinner preceded by cocktail furniture too many calories (heat units) for a sweltering day. Besides, your system adjusts to the weather and your muscles relax somewhat. You don't use as many calories and can't take care of as many. That makes two good reasons for cutting down on the right foods high in fat and sugar. And, by the way, you won't mind the meat rationing so much in the hot weather because protein is "heating". Keep your Summer menus light and include plenty of fresh fruits, vegetables and salads.

If you perspire freely, you need more water and more salt. Don't drink the water too cold or too fast. You can sprinkle more salt on melons, vegetables and salads.

It isn't the heat, it's the humidity that determines whether a hot or cold beverage is more cooling. If the humidity is low, a hot drink makes you cooler because it induces perspiration. That doesn't work when the humidity is up.

The trick to cooling off with a bath is to keep the bathroom from getting all steamed up. You can prevent that by letting the cold water run first almost to the level you want your tub. Then, turn off the cold tap and let the hot water run until your bath is the right temperature. Before stepping out of the tub let the cold water run again to cool off some more and finally, dash a little cold water on the back

Raps Conference on Food Problems

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

It may shock my readers to know that such an eminent authority on diet as I am was not invited to be a delegate to the International Food Conference at Virginia Hot Springs, but such is the case. I was not invited for the same reason that a steel worker will not be invited to be a delegate at the peace conferences. I am a practical man, and the boys at Virginia Hot Springs were just nice, sweet little theorists floating around in a rarefied atmosphere all their own.

WHY IT WAS PRIVATE I accept the only explanation which makes any sense as to why the conferences were held in private—that advanced by Mr. Frank Kent, the columnist. Mr. Kent said the reason the conferences were held in private was that nothing was going to happen at the conference.

Of course, the delegates had to talk about something and one or two hints have slipped out. That massive intellect—Surgeon-General Thomas Parzan—according to my newspapers, gave out an interview in which he expressed one of the only two ideas he ever had. One was to the effect that the world was going to have to eat more vitamins, and that the proper dietary allowance for an adult male at moderate work is 2500 calories a day. This showman and shabby piece of half-information has been kicking around the nutrition laboratories of the world for nearly half a century, and if that is what the conferees talked about, no wonder they were ashamed to have anybody listen.

Drinking... Husband's Habits Make Her Feel 80 Yrs. Old

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Dear Miss Fairfax: Several years ago I married a widower with a daughter of five. We now have a baby girl of our own. His only fault was drinking, and he also had been running around with another woman. I've heard since I married him that his first wife left him for these reasons.

I want to leave, but I have no money, and I want both girls in my custody. His daughter wants to come with me. I think it's terrible to bring up children in this environment, as I too had a drunken father and know what this girl of 12 is going through. I'm still young but feel like an 80-year-old.

A.H.M. Could you persuade him to take a course of treatment?

Or why not get a job? In the city from which you write me, thousands of jobs, with good pay, are open to women now, and the children could be put in a day nursery.

"It's absurd for a woman who is 'still young' to feel 80 years of age. And as this man's first wife left him on account of his faults, it seems only sensible that you put your own welfare and that of the children first.

ANTI-LAND MINE DETAIL AT WORK IN SICILY

WAR ON FLU

Under the direction of Comdr. Albert Paul Krueger, above, Director of the Naval Laboratory Research Unit at Berkeley, Cal., a new serum has been developed which promises to be a valuable weapon for use against the influenza virus. The new agent consists of an antiserum which is inhaled directly into the lungs in the form of a fine mist. While it remains in the lung tissue it neutralizes any influenza virus breathed in by the patient.

NICE PLAYING MISSEL
EVEN THE very best players fail to see some of the prettiest plays which are possible in certain hands. During the post-mortems at a big duplicate, while waiting for other tables to finish a round, they usually discuss the various possibilities of the last couple of deals, until they feel that they have explored the worthwhile features of them. But sometimes a certain contract, which did not get bid, might have furnished something very spectacular, which none of them fathoms during the discussion.

Pass	2 ♠	Pass	2 ♠

If your memory of bridge hands can extend back to early last month, that deal looks familiar to you. The bidding on it was by masters in the national individual championship, and an extra trick was made. In the ensuing discussion, none of them realized what North could have done at hearts, even with a heart lead. Those cards were put up to Carlton Russell, of St. Petersburg, Fla., and his favorite partner, who by Mr. Russell's own "numerical" methods helped bid it to 4-Hearts, perhaps because West may not have bid that suit. But Mr. Russell's play has been chronicled.

The heart 4 was won by the A, club 4 scored, club 3 ruffed by the heart 5, diamond 4 led to the K, club 6 ruffed with the heart 6, diamond A taken, diamond 6 ruffed by the heart 3, club 8 ruffed by the heart 10. East being unable to over-ruff and thus enabling Mr. Russell to place those honors with West.

Then came the neat wind-up. With North holding three spades, the heart J and the diamond 7, South his four spades and the club 9, and West the heart K-Q-8 and spade K-3, Mr. Russell laid down his last heart, the J. West took it, but could score only his three trump tricks, having to finish by leading from his spade K-3 into the dummy's A-Q. Thus Mr. Russell scored 4-Hearts by using his last trump, an honor, to throw an opponent into the lead, truly an unusual play.

Market Trends . . .

NEW YORK, July 23 (AP) — Rails and specialties again carried the ball for recovery forces while numerous leaders elsewhere continued to lack worthwhile support.

Transfers for the full proceedings were around 1,000,000 shares.

Canadian issues were generally steady with Distillers Seagram, Hiram Walker and Dome Mines on the upside.

TORONTO—Active buying of the gold stocks lifted prices for substantial gains today. The action bulked in the medium-price group. Other groups were unchanged to lower. Turnover for the day was close to 600,000 shares.

Malartic Gold Fields, MacLeod-Cockshutt, East Malartic and Central Patricia were features of the trade and they advanced 10 to 15 cents.

MONTREAL — Price adjustments were mostly on the upside and changes were well distributed

215,000 Bushels of Wheat Go to Greece

Yankees Squeeze Out 1-0 Win From St. Louis

NEW YORK, July 23 (AP)—Yankees were handed a 1-0 decision over St. Louis Browns today.

Hank Borowy limited the Browns to five hits and fanned eight as he chalked up his fifth victory of the year. His elbowing was matched by Denny Galehouse who lost on an error.

In the first play of the second inning Charley Keller led off the frame and Mike Chartak made a two-base miff of his liner. Then Bill Dickey followed with a double—and school was out.

Wehrle and Goggin Bust Par to Take Golf Lead; Patty Berg Tops Women

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN Associated Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO, July 23 (AP)—Up-holding golf's amateur ranks, Wilford Wehrle of Racine, Wis., today punched a par-breaking 68 to tie pro Willie Goggin of White Plains, N. Y., with 140 for the 36-hole lead in Tam O'Shanter's $10,000 all-American open.

Meanwhile, Patty Berg of Minneapolis took a four-stroke lead in the $9000 women's open by carding a 36-36-72 which established a course record for women. Women's par is 87-39-76.

Betty Hicks of Long Beach, Calif., had 74 for a 36-hole aggregate of 185, while Kay Byrne of Rye, N. Y., took an 83 for a total of 162.

The 37-year-old Goggin shot a 70 to match his front-running score of yesterday.

Another first-round leader, Bob Hamilton of Evansville, Ind., dropped one a stroke off the pace, registering a 71 to be grouped in the 141 bracket. With him were Buck White of Greenwood, Miss., who fashioned a 69 today and young Chick Herbert of Battle Creek, Mich., who had a 69.

A pair of 70-shooters, Felix Serafin of Pittston, Pa., and Bill Kaiser of Louisville, placed at 142.

SIX AT 143

The 143 bracket was packed with six competitors—Bob Cochran of St. Louis, the second leading amateur; Leland Gibson of Kansas City, Mo.; Clayton Hafner of Spartanburg, S. C.; Ralph Hutchison of Bethlehem, Pa.; Andy Gibson of Baltimore, and veteran Jug McSpaden of Marion, Pa. Hutchison made the grade by shooting a 68, seven strokes under his first round score.

The open field was cut to 85 contestants. Most of the top-ranking stars made the grade, but two notable exceptions were Ralph Guldahl, of San Diego, Calif., and Bobby Cruikshank, of Richmond, Va. Guldahl, two-time open champion, had rounds of 79-75 for an aggregate of 154, while Cruikshank, leading pro money winner of 1943 after his victory in the North-South open and also a two-time open title-holder, faltered with 79-82-161.

Interpreting The War News

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON Associated Press War Analyst

The fall of Palermo, Sicilian capital, to American armored forces, moving more swiftly than did the once vaunted Nazi panzer spearheads at the outset of the war, does more than write all Western and Central Sicily off the war books.

It clamps a powerful, steel-shod Western jaw on the two main Sicilian lateral communication routes North and South of the Peloritani Mountains.

How long it may take to mop up the last Axis resistance in North-eastern Sicily can only be guessed at; but it will be only a matter of days. West of the American breakthrough to the North Coast at Palermo, there is little reason to expect any major fighting. And that Western end of the island, with its harbors, its network of hard-surfaced roads and railways and its span of only 90 miles to Cape Bon in Tunisia is already pointing an ominous Allied threat at Sardinia, Corsica and the Southeastern coast of Metropolitan France itself.

Western Sicily is the logical first advance base for the mounting of that drive to liberate Continental France. It seems obvious that the return to France when it comes, will be under American, not British auspices, with French troops in the van.

The first step to Sicily now has been taken. The next to Sardinia and Corsica cannot be long delayed to complete a land-based Allied blockade line about Italy proper to the West.

Both are in a virtual state of siege now. From bases in North-western Sicily Allied planes can sweep the Tyrrhenian and Ligurian Seas that wash Italy's South and East Coasts. Allied naval power based on Sicily can range those Italian waters at will with little fear that what is left of Italy's once powerful fleet, Sardinia and Corsica are as much a trap for their isolated Axis garrisons as Sicily proved and it remains to be seen whether they will offer even a token resistance.

Four Athletes to Run Against Haegg

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., July 23 (AP)—With both Gunder Haegg and Boston's Gil Dodds determined to give the best performances in their transcontinental racing series for the benefit of the American Air Forces Aid Society, there appears to be a slight possibility that the Swedish sensation will be forced to break the United States mile record of 4:06.7 to win tomorrow night at the Harvard Stadium.

When Haegg arrived in this country about six weeks ago, he numbered a mile mark of 4:04.8 among his seven world records; since then, however, Arne Anderson, his countryman, has lowered it to 4:02.6.

Haegg, who admits that he runs only fast enough to win, may be forced to get under Glen Cunningham's 4:06.7, which stood as a world mark back in 1934, if Dodds has rounded into top condition. Since he lacks the necessary finishing spurt, the Boston Divinity Student appears pegged as a 4:08 miler.

Three others are down to start against the Swedish star and his pursuer of the past three weeks.

Starting from scratch with them will be Don Burnham, Dartmouth's Intercollegiate mile champion, The American-Scandinavian A.A., which is sponsoring this benefit meet, had hopes of persuading Bill Hulse, New York University's 800-metre champion, and Bobby Knowles, Springfield freshman flash, to accept 40 and 60 yards handicaps.

Both accepted invitations with provision. Hulse refused to take anything longer than a 10-yard handicap and Knowles limited his to 25 yards. The promoters originally had planned to handicap all of Haegg's Stadium rivals, Dodds included, to insure a record-smashing mile but the homebreds balked them.

Henry Favored to Beat Joyce

HOLLYWOOD, July 23 (AP)—Encouraged by prospects of a gate that might run $50,000 or more, Henry Armstrong and Willie Joyce eased through final workouts today for their scheduled 10-round fight at Gilmore Stadium tomorrow night.

Promoter Joy Lynch reported there already is around $25,000 in the till.

The bettors have installed the dusky Armstrong a 2-to-1 favorite over the Gary, Ind., Negro, and some of the gamblers were willing to wager 1 to 2 1/2 that Joyce is knocked out.

Much depends on the condition of the two boxers. Armstrong suffered badly lacerated lips in winning from Sammy Angott in New York June 11 and Joyce suffered a broken jaw at Armstrong's hands in their last bout here, although Joyce won the decision.

Neither lad will have any trouble making the 145-pound limit. Joyce won't exceed 137 and Henry shouldn't tip the beam at more than 140 or 141.

Says Brother Recognized His Attackers

NEW WESTMINSTER, July 23 (CP)—Tom Davies told a coroner's jury today his brother, Frank, 55, divulged before his death that he recognized two men who beat him in his greenhouse at Burnaby, July 8.

Tom said that his brother while in hospital told him:

"Wait till I get better and I will get them myself." Tom added that the inference was that there were possibly two assailants.

The witness also told that his brother said: "What did they try to murder me for? If they wanted money, they could have had it."

Police announced that Frank Davies had refused before his death to give them any information about his attackers.

The inquest was adjourned until tomorrow.

Before the inquest police reported that a woman's letters, "couched in words of endearment," have led them to investigate a theory that Frank Davies may have been the victim of a jealous rival.

Bobby Doerr Sets Two New Fielding Records

BOSTON, July 23 (AP)—Two new major league fielding records for second basemen were set today when Bobby Doerr of the Red Sox made his first error in 60 games by dropping Chicago Luke Appling's pop fly at Fenway Park.

Doerr now is credited with records of accepting 343 consecutive chances and playing 59 games in a row without a miscue. The previous consecutive chances record of 271 was set by Oscar Melillo for St. Louis Browns in 1934 and Max Bishop in 1926 for Philadelphia Athletics, established the old errorless game mark by handling 267 chances in 53 games.

Nine to Run in $50,000 Classic Today

CHICAGO, July 23 (AP)—Nine horses are expected to start in the $50,000 added Arlington Classic tomorrow. There wasn't an outstanding favorite in the field on the eve of the 13th running of one of the richest races on the American turf.

If all get away, the Classic at Washington Park will have a gross value of $72,750.

Some handicappers like the Mill River stable's Chop Chop, winner of the Empire City handicap. Others figure Hal Price Headley's Askmenow, carrying only 115 pounds, has an excellent chance.

Considerable speculation centred on Occupation and his ability to maintain high speed over the mile and a quarter route. He was defeated by Askmenow in the mile and an eighth challenger purse last Monday.

The other contenders are Bourmont, Slide Rule, Amber Light, Famous Victory, All Hoss and Burnt Cork.

Granny Quarterly Income $36,000

VANCOUVER, July 23 (CP)—Operating profit of Granny Consolidated Mining, Smelting & Power Co. for the quarter ended July 30, after deducting reserves for income and all other taxes of $25,756, amounted to $108,962.

After deducting reserves for depletion and depreciation, net income for the quarter was $36,325.

Decreased production was caused by lack of manpower and the necessity of bringing shipments more nearly in line with current development work.

INTOXICATION BY LEMON EXTRACT BRINGS JAIL TERM

James Robinson of Nelson, who has been employed at the Emerald Mine, was sentenced to 10 days in the Provincial Jail at Nelson in default of payment of a $25 fine for being intoxicated with lemon extract and beer, on Vernon Street Thursday. He pleaded guilty to the charge when appeared before Magistrate William Brown in City Police Court Friday.

Acting Chief R. Harshaw, who laid the charge, said when he arrested Robinson, he had found him with an empty bottle of lemon extract, and one partly full. He expressed the wish that retail merchants would use caution in selling lemon extract to persons likely to use it improperly.

Headstands Give Nova New Lease on Life

OAKLAND, Calif., July 23 (AP)—Lou Nova, the Cosmic Punch Kid of Boxing, has convinced himself again that he can whip Joe Louis, or any other fighter for that matter. The Nova of 1943 has banished from his mind such material substances as his knockouts at the hands of Louis, Lee Savold and Tami Mauriello.

This assurance is from his Manager, Ray Carlen. Whether Nova discovered his new-found confidence by peering into the mystic realm of Yogism is not clear to Carlen. But he says Nova still stands on his head during periods of reflection and solitude.

Big Lou has been living in Southern California where he bought a ranch. He is in Chicago now to finish training for his postponed return match with Savold, rescheduled for Aug. 9.

Carlen left Oakland today to join his charge. Before leaving he expressed conviction Nova had a good chance to climb up to the top of the heavyweight pile.

Mild-mannered Carlen is a firm believer in the premise that an old-fashioned whack on the chops is more effective than mind over matter. He also thinks that Louis may not defend his crown by the time he gets out of the army.

This being the case he feels certain Nova, now 28 years old, can beat the rest of the heavies around, including both Savold and Mauriello, who stopped his fighter's last year.

$100 Fine for Using Marked Gas

Pleading guilty to a charge of using marked gasoline in his truck, Leehart Milton Langill of South Slooan was fined $100 and costs, and his driver's licence was cancelled, when he appeared before Stipendiary Magistrate William Irvine in Provincial Court Friday.

Mr. Langill was charged under the Munitions and Supply Act by Constable F. Slater with "using a gas other than graded gas . . . not being obtained in exchange for a valid coupon."

In extenuation of his offence Langill, who delivers wood, said he had been held back by Government regulations. The gas was legally sold to him by Mrs. R. J. Cunningham at Crescent Valley.
