TRAPPED HUNS TURN TO FIGHT

Big Bombers Blaze Path for Canucks

Shortly Before Noon Bombers Hit Huns Only 3000 Yards in Front of Allies

By NED NORDNESS
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Aug. 12 (AP)—Relentless armadas of close to 3,000 Allied heavy bombers smashed Germany's home and fighting fronts today in answer to Gen. Eisenhower's call to deny with all aerial might German ability either to fight or flee.

A British bomber force—predominantly heavies—blasted paths through the German lines in the Falaise sector in direct support of the major Canadian drive Southward.

Two explosive-packed air fleets totalling near 1500 American heavy bombers lashed at already battered industrial targets in Southern Germany and at airdromes and freight yards from North-Eastern to South Western France.

Up to 750 American heavy bombs at the same time struck from Italy, smashing German military installations in the Riviera section in the South of France for the third consecutive day of incessant operations by tactical orces of the Mediterranean Command.

The weather, after a hazy start, cleared beautifully to aid the allies in their continued hammering offensive against enemy roads, junctions, bridges, freigh, yards and troops.

Medium bombers of the 2nd Tactical Airforce started an aerial offensive in front of the Canadian push shortly before noon, pointing specifically for three German strongpoints along the escape corridor only 3000 yards in front of allied troops.

Bombing by the mediums was accurate . id without loss. Shortly before midday great waves of RAF heavy bomLers exploded a path through the German positions for the advancing Canadians.

Enemy shippin, at the besieged Brittany port of Brest received another shattering blow from British heavy Lancasters which now have dropped 12,000 tons since Aug. 6 on the Nazi submarine pens at Brest.

Some 750 American heavies streamed into Germany to plaster the I. G. Farben Industrie Chemical Plant at Ludwigshafen, an electrical equipment factory at Mannheim where parts for jet-propelled planes are made, and Air Force stations at Sandhofen, near Mannheim and Echterdingen, near Stutigart.

A second force of up to 750 heavies bombed the railway yard at Angouleme in the Bordeaux area, bridges Northeast of Paris, and airdromes in the vicinity of Dijon.

Mediums and the heavies' escorts of fighters met little fighter opposition in strafing and bombing forays along the Seine River and East of Paris.

Need Special Nazi Permit to Stay in Marseille

NEW YORK, Aug. 14 (AP) — The Nazi-controlled Vichy radio broadcast today that the German Army Commander at Marseille had ordered evacuation from that French Mediterranean seaport of all persons whose presence "is not of direct or indirect interest" to the German Army.

Persons allowed to stay in Marseille must carry a special permit, said the broadcast and "all those who after the time limit, which will be made known later, fail to furnish themselves with a certificate will be punished and evacuated at once."

CONVOYS RUSH FOOD AND WATER INTO FLORENCE

Frontone on North Bank of Cesano Falls to British

CLASHES ON ARNO

ROME, Aug. 14 (CP)—British 8th Army troops inching toward the Adriatic end of the Germans' Gothic line in Italy have captured the mountain town of Frontone on the North bank of the Cesano River 27 miles from the sea, Allied Headquarters announced today.

This was the only significant ground action along the Italian front, where Allied authorities devoted their major effort to the relief of the hungry and thirsty civil population of Florence.

Allied motor convoys poured ton after ton of food and water into the historic city. The Allied Military Government reported 450 tons of food already had been distributed. Anti-typhus serum and other medical supplies also were sent into the city which the Germans had evacuated.

Within the city clashes between Italian Patriots and Fascists, which had brought much indiscriminate shooting, tapered off to occasional sniping.

Along the entire Italian front fighting dwindled to a few patrol actions. There were a few artillery exchanges across the Arno River.

New Zealand troops now are fighting to clear the banks of the Arno between Empoli, taken yesterday, and Florence.

Artillery duels continued in the 5th Army sector on the West coast.

Lift Ban on U.S. Civilian Goods

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP) — Chairman Donald M. Nelson tonight lifted the War Production Board's ban on hundreds of civilian articles where local surpluses of labor and machinery permit.

The order, delayed since July 1 by the opposition of the Army, Navy and War Manpower Commission, is effective at midnight.

Cutting across 86 restrictive orders now on W.P.B.'s books, the action empowers W.P.B. field offices over the country to let individual plants make consumer goods hitherto prohibited or restricted.

It provides priority aid, also, for concerns willing and able to manufacture any of several hundred "preferred" items listed by W.P.B. as scarce and badly needed.

This preferred list covers such goods as vacuum cleaners, electric ranges, wash tubs, egg beaters, lawn mowers, sewing machines, church goods and oil burners.

Gen. Bradley Heads U.S. Army in France

ALLIED SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Aug. 14 (CP) Lt.-Gen. Omar N. Brandley was disclosed tonight as over-all Commander of the whole United States fighting force in France, which includes, besides the original 1st Army, a new 3rd Army, which the Germans have said is commanded by Lt.-Gen. George S. Patton. Gen. Bradley's former place as Commander of the 1st Army was taken by Lt.-Gen. Courtney H. Hodges, who previously commanded a United States Army Corps in France.

There are 30,000 Chinese in B. C., and of this number it is estimated between 3500 and 4500 are eligible for military service.

Flying Bombs Damage 700 Homes an Hour

LONDON, Aug. 14 (CP)—British homes have been damaged at the rate of 700 an hour by Hitler's flying bombs, but the Britons themselves are rapidly learning to dodge the robots, it was shown in a report today that indicated one person was killed for every three bombs launched against Southern England and the London area.

Health Minister H. U. Willink told a Birmingham audience today that fatalities per bomb are down to about one-third compared with the first fortnight of the attacks. He said that in that period deaths averaged about one a bomb.

(On Aug. 2 Prime Minister Churchill reported 5,340 bombs had been launched, 4,735 persons killed and 14,000 injured).

There has been little respite from the missles, however, and again for a short time this morning bombs came over the Southern Counties and London. The early morning attack was followed by the recent customary daylight lull.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 14 (CP) — Nearly 900,000,000 feet of Vancouver Island timber changed hands last week with the sale of the Alaska Steamship Co., to Skinner and Eddy Corp., of Seattle, it was reported here today.

Holdings are understood to cover some 70 square miles East of Port Alice on the Northwest Coast.

An incomplete survey places the stands at 840,000,000 feet.

Crowds Go Wild as Frenchmen Return

By EDWARD D. BALL
Associated Press War Correspondent

SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE, Aug. 13 (CP) — High-spirited French troops commanded by the famed desert General Jacques Leclerc have gone into action against the Germans on their home soil for the first time since the 1940 armistice.

Wearing brilliant red forage caps and riding Sherman tanks the bronze and eager Frenchmen, many of them veterans of North Africa, began arriving on the Normandy beach es late in July.

It was permitted to be disclosed only today that these forces, forming the French 2nd armored division, have been fighting alongside the Americans. There are thousands of them in this force.

Theirs is a complete armored force fighting under the allied over-all command, and in their first clash with the enemy, in metropolitan France, they gave a brilliant account of themselves.

The homecoming of France's fighting sons was greeted by their proud people with one of the wildest outbursts of enthusiasm ever witnessed. It multiplied many times over as they rolled through the country.

Every hamlet and village turned out with the news of their approach and they had difficulty negotiating the narrow lanes and streets as the cheering crowds overflowed into their path. Although this French armored force was supposed to be a "military secret", word got around that they were due in towns along the route of their march.

Tears mixed with cheers as medium and light tanks bearing such names as "Dunkerque", "Dijon," "Marne," and "St. Mihiel" rolled past with the tri-color flapping from tank turrets, and with the Cross of Lorraine over a white relief map of France in blue squares on their thick tough sides.

Their progress across country was made over a carpet of flowers and a row of uplifted bottles of their beloved vin rouge and cognac. Duty bottles of the rarest vintage which had been kept in hiding for the great day were trotted out and in many cases picked up on the fly by broadly-grinning crews.

Portraits of De Gaulle painted on the front of some tanks brought roars of "Vive De Gaulle" and "Vive la France". In this part of France at least there is overwhelming support for the head of the French Committee of National Liberation.

These first fighting French forces joining the allies in France spent long training in Britain after many had seen action in North Africa.

No Conference Until After Election

Mackenzie King Says Date Uncertain But Once War Is Over May Come Any Time

OTTAWA, Aug. 15 (Tuesday) (CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King announced in the Commons early today that the Dominion-Provincial conference will not be held until after the next Federal general election and he quoted a radio speech by Premier George Drew to support his contention that desired cooperation would not be available before that date.

He said the date of the Federal election "is necessarily uncertain, but as I have repeatedly said, once the war is over, it may come at any time." He added that it would not, however, be delayed "on any account" beyond the legal term of the present Parliament.

Mr. King said the whole purpose of the conference was to work out solutions of many difficult problems which would have to be implemented by the various Governments.

Canada could not afford a repetition of the unsuccessful conference of January, 1940, when former Premier Mitchell Hepburn of Ontario, the late Premier William Aberhart of Alberta and former Premier T. D. Pattullo of British Columbia refused to accept the Sirois Commission report as the basis of discussion.

"It is obviously desirable," said Mr. King, "that the conference should, if possible, be held between the Governments that may be in office during the next few years, the Governments that will be living together and will have to work together."

He added that his chief reason for holding the conference after a general election was to ensure its success.

What above all else is required to make the conference a success is cooperative attitude on the part of all Governments concerned," he said.

He referred to correspondence from various Provincial Governments and also to a radio speech of Premier rew in which he quoted the Premier as having said:

"My one ambition in the political field outside of Ontario is to see an end as soon as possible of the weak and incompetent Government in power at Ottawa today and to assist in every way I can to assure that John Bracken (National Progressive Conservative leader) is the next Prime Minister of Canada."

Mr. King added:

"Such, being the declared aim of the Premier of Ontario it must be apparent that any conference held before a Federal election would have little or no hope of success, and would almost certainly prejudice the success of a subsequent conference."

Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative House Leader, rose to say that Mr. King's reasons "might properly be called excuses."

Mr. King replied that he would let the record stand.

Mr. Graydon: "You said all you could in regard to the Premier of Ontario."

Mr. King: "I said all that was necessary."

Shortly after the last item of business was passed and Mr. King walked out of the House to a din of desk thumping from his supporters, some of whom threw order papers into the air.

Mr. Graydon had the last word. "A nice farewell, Mr. Speaker."

Part of Burma Road in Use Again

Poles here expressed fear Gen. Bors' troops may be wiped out in a matter of days unles Warsaw meanwhile is liberated by the advancing Red Army.

Third son of Mrs. J. H. Wood-Taylor, of Vancouver, formerly of Comox, he lived at the Vancouver Island town for 12 years.

ZERO HOUR NEAR FOR RUSS PUSH IN EAST PRUSSIA

Bitter Fighting Rages Along 1000-Mile Front

ANTSLA FALLS

LONDON, Aug. 14 (AP)—Gen. G. F. Zakharov's 2nd White Russian Army today captured the Biebrza River fortress town of Osowiec, 17 miles from the German East Prussian border, and Berlin soberly warned the homeland that "a very great trial of strength" was at hand.

Osowiec, East bank stronghold on the Biebrza, fell as scores of thousands of attacking Russian troops sent the Germans fleeing across the river to roads slashed by the guns of swarming Soviet planes.

The Soviet communique also announced that Russian troops racing across Southern Estonia toward the Gulf of Riga had captured 100 localities, including Antsla, which is only 80 miles from the Baltic coast.

Antsla fell in a 19-mile advance from Voru and put the Russians almost half way across Estonia in their drive to split up possibly 200,000 Germans trapped in Latvia and Estonia.

In Western Lithuania the Russians said their troops beat off heavy German counter-attacks at Raseinial.

Northwest and West of Sandomierz, in the area of Central Poland where the Russians have established a huge bridgehead West of the Vistula River below Warsaw, the Russians repulsed heavy German tank and infantry counter-attacks in the gruelling struggle to expand their holdings which already consist of nearly 1500 square miles.

"A great battle is raging Northwest of Bialystok," said the German Transocean in announcing the fall of Osowiec and the retreat of German troops to the Western side of the Biebrza.

"The Russians have started their big drive for East Prussia and according to their own statements the impending major battle will call for a very great trial of strength during the next few days and weeks."

Berlin broadcasts also acknowledged Soviet advances Northeast of Warsaw, where the Russians are within 11 miles of the Polish capital in a broad flanking drive aimed at reaching the Vistual River North of the city.

Farther South Kakharov's troops drew dangerously close to Lomza, big German communications centre linking the German defences between Warsaw and East Prussia. They were converging on the city from the Southeast and East, as Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky's adjoining 1st White Russian Army steadily rolled back the enemy on a broad front between Warsaw and the Bug River.

Berlin told of bitter fighting at almost every point along the 1000-mile front between the Baltic and the Carpathian Mountains, and acknowledged Soviet gains in Southern Estonia where it was said Gen. Ivan Maslennikov's 3rd Baltic Army was pushing forward with 20 infantry and four tank divisions.

Canucks and Yanks Closing Noose

Allies Straining to Close Escape Gap; Germans May Fight to Death in Trap

By JAMES LONG
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALLIED SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Aug. 13 (AP)—The German 7th Army appeared tonight to be trapped hopelessly and, forsaking flight, to be turning for a fight to the death in the narrow corridor where its destruction would be the greatest Allied victory of the West and would open the way to the Seine and Paris.

A new Canadian attack drove to within 3½ miles of the Falaise escape route from the North while the United States 3rd Army battered up from the South to within 8½ miles of Falaise. The seal-off of the escape corridor was completed by the thunder of heavy guns from both sides which brought every road of the 12-mile gap under fire.

This was the stroke for which Gen. Eisenhower and Lt.-Gen. Crerar in orders of the day urged their troops to summon every ounce of energy to achieve a great victory.

The Germans, who 24 hours before were reported streaming East in a full-fledged withdrawal despite endless pounding from the air, now were said to have checked their rush, and some forces even were reported surging Westward again to plug weak spots in the sack at which the British 2nd and American 1st Armies are probing.

The lines of the trap were ill-defined, but it was no wider than 25 miles from a point East of Sourdeval on the West end to Argentan at the Eastern mouth. At its greatest depth it probably was about 27 miles from a line near Domfront on the South to South of Thurty Harcourt on the North.

Both ends were compressed. The closed Western end was about nine miles wide measured from Barenton North to last reported Allied positions below Vire, but the pocket was shrinking rapidly; as was the mouth on the East, last measured at 12 miles.

Outside the escape bottleneck some mobile forces which managed to slip through were spotted from the air racing Northeast for the Seine.

Bent on closing the gap, American forces surrounding Argentan and struck on North toward Falaise, while Canadians, pressing South toward Falaise after a saturation raid by R.A.F. heavy and medium bombers, were within four miles of the anchor city and driving steadily ahead.

One Canadian force was in the region of Sassy, only two miles from the Falaise-Lisieux Road, which is the sole good route to the Seine still open to the enemy.

"It will be a military miracle if the Germans get out anywhere near whole," an Allied staff officer declared. "This is the end of a German army."

The armored Canadian infantry moved forward 3½ miles in three hours. Then resistance stiffened as the attackers reached the first enemy gun positions.

The Canadians were well across the Laison River, fighting in strategic high ground and closing steadily on the prize highway from Falaise running Northeast toward the Seine.

Towns taken included Ouilly le Tesson, Bout de Haut, Maizieres and Monthou in the Laison River Valley East of the Falaise Highway, and Bray en Cinglais West of the highway.

Taking advantage of the German preoccupation with this sector, British forces to the Northeast struck East, possibly also aiming to cut this road farther East, and captured the village of Le Bu sur Rouvres, two miles North of the Canadian bridgehead of Rouvres on the Laison River.

Lt.-Gen. Omar N. Bradley, disclosed tonight to be Commander of all American forces fighting in France, expressed confidence most of the German 7th Army would be unable to get away.

The British 2nd Army on the North and the American 1st Army on the West were in hot pursuit of the Germans, mowing down rearguards and swarming through positions abandoned recently.

British troops seized Proussy, only two miles North of the German rallying-point of Conde sur Noireau, which is 13 miles West of Falaise, thus drawing ever tighter the lines about the enemy.

The village of Estry, near Vassey, fell to the British 2nd Army after a week's battle.

Other British units striking in concert with the Canadians North of pivotal Falaise scored a three-mile advance and after capturing Martainville pushed on near Bonnoeil, seven miles Northwest of Falaise.

Thury Harcourt, Orne River stronghold, was firmly in British hands after a teetering battle in which flames from the ruins once drove both sides from the town.

The Americans striking from Mortain—site of Von Kluge's folly, the attempt to break through the Normandy - Brittanny corridor — drove East seven to 12 miles and captured Ger. The Germans were abandoning their dead and had no time to dig in behind hedgerows.

The Americans took Barenton, six miles East of Mortain, and neared Domfront, eight miles farther on in a drive toward the East while British troops coming down from the North captured St. Martin de Chaulieu in a two mile advance South of Vire.

There was no change in the battle for the besieged Breton ports of Brest, St. Malo, St. Nazaire, and Lorient.

NIXON THREATENS TO FIGHT DREW OVER ALLOWANCES

TORONTO, Aug. 14 (CP)—Harry C. Nixon, Ontario Liberal Leader, said today that if the Ontario Legislature holds a special session this Fall he will see that the Federal Family Allowances Legislation is raised as an issue.

His announcement followed a hint from Premier Drew that the Legislature would be called into special session but not because of the allowances measure. The Premier also denied Ottawa reports that he planned an early Provincial election.

Mr. Nixon said he would join other Opposition parties to vote against any measure the Drew Government might introduce to prevent operation of the Act in Ontario.

All Entrances to Vichy Guarded

AT THE FRENCH FRONTIER, Aug. 14 (AP)—Heavily armed guards in streets and hotels kept watch today over a turbulent and restless Vichy through which ran a series of rumors, not absolutely confirmed, but including one that Marshal Petain had gone to Germany.

Whether Petain still was in Vichy could not be stated by persons who left there yesterday. At any rate, he had not been seen. He was known in the most reliable quarters to have sent a note last week to legations of his "capital" that he would not leave willingly. If it should become known that he had departed it could be taken for granted that it was against his will.

Troops guarded all entrances to the town. The streets of Vichy were crowded with policemen, militia and "special police."

Russian Proposal for Post War Peace Rouses Keen Interest

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—A Russian proposal for organizing the post-war peace in a manner which would place control firmly in the hands of the great powers capable of using force to suppress aggression has aroused intense interest among officials here as probably being the key to Soviet security planning.

The proposal is contained in a lengthy analysis of failures of the League of Nations and suggestions for a new world organization which was recently published in a Leningrad writers magazine, Zvezda.

The article reached Washington only a few days before an official document outlining Russia's ideas for the world security agency. These ideas will be presented at the four-power meetings opening Monday at Dumbarton Oaks, Georgetown estate.

The analysis was signed by N. Malinin, otherwise unidentified.

The main point of the Russian proposal is that the "genuinely guiding and decisive role" in the organization "must be assumed by the great powers, which have demonstrated in fact during the present war their greatness, stability and power."

This would be accomplished, the article implies, by creating the "directive organ" of the peace agency solely out of great powers and giving the world's small nations a position only in the general Assembly of Nations. The Assembly would decide routine matters by majority vote and important questions by two-thirds vote so that there would be no "false equality" extending to the small powers a voice in decisions greater than their real influence in world affairs, the article declared.

The ties binding the great powers within the peace agency framework would be supplemented by separate treaties among them covering the use of force, which would be decided upon by the great states on a basis of unanimity.

On the question of organizing force for maintenance of peace, the Russian proposal called for an international air force which would be able to strike swiftly against any aggressor, but it described as impractical the organization of an out-and-out international police force.

Parliament Adjourns Until New Year After 11-Hour Sitting

OTTAWA, Aug. 15 (Tuesday) (CP)—Parliament early today adjourned to Jan. 31, 1945. The adjournment came at the end of an 11-hour sitting and the giving of Royal assent to a number of bills.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King gave notice that in the next Parliament he would support a move to make members' $4000 indemnity tax-free.

In the Senate Chief Justice Thibaudeau Rinfret, as Deputy to the Governor General gave assent to 28 Government bills, two private and a number of divorce bills.

Included in the Government bills was provision for the payment of war gratuities, floor prices for farm and fish products, family allowances, export credit insurance and establishment of an industrial development bank.

The adjournment came at the end of the longest day of the 123-day session. The Commons had started at 11 o'clock the previous morning and had shortened its dinner recess in an effort to complete consideration of a lengthy list of Departmental estimates.

Affairs of a number of Departments came under review during the day.

During a discussion on Indian affairs Resources Minister Crerar said preparation was being made for a complete revision of the Indian Act. G. H. Castleden (C.C.F.—Yorkton) suggested that the revised Act should make provisions for the Indians having a voice in their affairs.

Referring to the Government's proposal to establish a Royal Commission to investigate the Canadian coal industry Clarence Gillis (C.C.F.—Cape Breton South) and Rev. E. G. Hansell (SC—Macleod) said the Commission should have broad powers to make a complete inquiry of all phases of the industry.

Affairs of the Soldier Settlement Branch were also the subject of some discussion with the House sitting an extra hour in the usual dinner recess.

Earlier, during consideration of External Affairs estimates, Prime Minister Mackenzie King said British Government representatives at the coming conference in Washington to consider plans for a world organization are fully informed on the views of Canada and other parts of the Commonwealth.

Mr. King said it was the intention that the League of Nations should continue in a limited way until the new world organization was established.

While estimates of the Mines and Resources Department were under review Mr. Crerar, speaking in reply to a question by John Blackmore, Social Credit House Leader, said he favored expansion of work on water conservation projects.

TOAST-and-TEA

BY J. V. McAREE

Animals find various uses for their tails, from the beaver that uses it as a trowel to the horse that uses it as a kind of steering wheel or balancing rod. That members of the cat tribe often lash themselves to fury by thrashing their tails against their sides is a very old observation indeed. They can also use it to fascinate their prey; and the other day we saw a domestic cat with her tail moving as if she were making hypnotic passes as she crept closer to a bird. It was impossible for us to tell whether the bird was watching the twitching tuft of the tail or the cat as a whole; but after the sudden pounce of the cat, we came to the conclusion that the bird had made the fatal mistake of keeping its eyes on the tail. Thus it did not realize that the cruel claws and the rending teeth were so close. Watching the tail, the unhappy bird made the false calculation that danger was eighteen inches farther away than in fact it was.

Rossland Public Health Nurse Is Leaving City

ROSSLAND, B.C., Aug. 14—That Mrs. Betty Hahn, Public Health Nurse, had resigned, as her husband was leaving to attend university and they would be moving to Edmonton, was reported to the City Council Friday night by the Health Committee.

The City Clerk was instructed to write Mrs. Hahn, and express the appreciation of the Council of the efficient manner in which she has conducted her duties, as much good work had been accomplished in the past year; also to express the regrets of the Council in accepting her resignation.

The clerk was also instructed to write Miss D. Tate and request her to use all her efforts in an endeavor to secure a qualified health nurse for Rossland.

The results of the milk and water tests by the Nelson Pathological Laboratory on July 26-28 and the butter tests made by the Palm Dairies Ltd. were received. The City Clerk was instructed to write R. L'Ecluse of the Valley Dairy and advise him "that recent tests of milk from his dairy shows a butterfat content of 3.2 per cent and that the Board of Health understands that the subsidy being paid him by the Federal Government calls for milk of higher percentage of butter fat."

The Mayor reported Dr. K. H. Thompson, veterinary surgeon, was in Rossland inspecting dairy herds and premises and that he was well pleased with improvements carried out to the dairy premises since his last visit.

The Health Board's report was adopted in full.

Bracken Backs Removal of Japs From B.C.

KAMLOOPS, B.C., Aug. 14 (CP)—John Bracken, National Leader of the Progressive Conservative Party, told a public meeting here tonight that his Party's policy calls for the removal of all Japanese from British Columbia.

Present wartime regulations prohibit Japanese from living less than 100 miles from the Pacific Coast, Mr. Bracken added, and the Progressive Conservative policy is that even in peace time this protective zone would be increased to 500 miles.

Declaring that in future Canada must consider the allegiance of people allowed into the country, the Progressive Conservative leader said "it is bad enough to allow certain foreign nationals into our country but it is much worse when they continue allegiance to a foreign country."

In peace time Japanese ships probably would touch B.C. parts and Progressive Conservatives feel it would be for the welfare of Japanese in Canada if they are removed from any contact with visiting Japanese, Mr. Bracken added.

Mr. Bracken asserted no more Japanese should be allowed to enter Canada. There are approximately 23,000 Japanese in the country now.

Canada is operating on a two-Army basis, the Progressive Conservative leader said, adding one is to fight the enemy and the other is being "sheltered at home." The Home Army of 70,000 is costing the country $150,000,000 a year to defend what against whom?"

He declared Quebec had been falsely led by its leaders and the work of the Fathers of Confederation must begin again. Only on the basis of acceptance of equal sacrifice in times of difficulty could there be a united Canada, he added.

Howard Green, M.P. for Vancouver South, and F. D. McArthur, National President of the Progressive Conservative Association, also addressed the meeting.

Nimitz Has Eye on Marianas

PEARL HARBOR, Aug. 14 (AP) — The fourth bombing of the Philippines in five days and new air blows North and South of Japan were portents today of a war moving West so fast that Admiral Chester W. Nimitz may have to advance his headquarters to catch up with it.

Underscoring this tempo of offensive Admiral Nimitz told a Press conference the war may be won without invading Japan — although occupation "would be necessary to ensure a winning peace" —and mentioned the possibility of American warships bombarding Japan.

The Commander-in-Chief of the United States Pacific Fleet, in looking for new headquarters, has his eye on the recently invaded Marianas, 3000 miles away, within 1500 miles of Tokyo.

It now can be disclosed that Admiral Nimitz, after conferences here with President Roosevelt and Gen. Douglas MacArthur, went to Guam and Saipan, consulted fighting leaders there and has returned, determined "to put the heat on as hard and fast as we can."

"I am not prepared to say now whether I will advance my headquarters to the Marianas," he said, "but I can say that I constantly am on the lookout for an opportunity to move closer to the fighting."

That fighting was carried again to the Philippines Saturday, Gen. MacArthur announced today, by New Guinea based heavy bombers which sank a 3000-ton freighter in Davao Gulf.

Rossland Redmen Boost Boxla Lead by Beating Nelson Leafs 13-6

Playing before another fair crowd of spectators, the Rossland Redmen moved farther ahead in the Boxla League here Monday night as they took the scalps of the Nelson Leafs 13-6. The game was not as fast as previous ones and except for a weak Nelson defence in the second period the score might have been a lot closer. In that period Rossland scored six to Nelson's two.

The play opened slow with both teams looking for an opening and at the 5:30 minute mark the locals opened the scoring, Paul Hielscher taking Ian Dingwall's pass while Martin was in the penalty box. Three minutes later Martin evened it up unassisted. Babe Laface notched another from Archie Scott.

Jack Laface put Rossland still farther ahead. Dingwall picked up a rebound to score his team's second goal just as the bell went.

The sandwich session opened with Stan Hill getting the nod from the refs and before he was back the visitors had added two more goals by Babe and brother Jack Laface. Dingwall combined with Boyer to give Nelson more life, and seconds later Boyer scored by himself. From then on the Nelson defence crumpled and Goalie Cookson had a tough time as the Redmen pressed in to pile up a big lead. Babe scored to be followed by Jack from Archie Scott, and then Babe Laface added another from Scott as the period drew to a close.

Nelson again came back as the third canto opened and it was Dingwall from Boyer again. The visitors came right back and it was Babe from Jack and Archie Scott. Jack Laface then added the final goal of the period on a nice play from Babe and Scott, making the count Rossland 11, Nelson 5.

It was Dingwall from Boyer again at the start of the final period for the home boys. Play roughened up and Ron Lyons was off for the Leafs. At the 14:40 mark Babe Laface scored on the only penalty shot of the game. Half a minute later Jack Laface added the final goal of the game. Martin was chased and Rossland was shorthanded as the bell went.

Teams were:

Nelson— Cookson, A. Choquette, Douglas, Hucal, Hill, L. Choquette, Dingwall, Crosby, Hielscher, Boyer, S. Lyons, and Breeze.

Rossland—Grubisic, Cox, A. Scott, Jim Laface, B. Laface, Jack Laface, Martin, I. Martin, Gillis, Dixon, W. Scott, Hamm and Van Tassel.

Officials were:

Referees—A. Sittun and N. Apostoliuk; Goal Umps, Monahan and Swain; Timekeepers, B. Blackwell and L. Riley; Scorekeeper, J. Morgan.

Mystery General Fights in France

ALLIED SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Aug. 14 (AP) — The French 2nd Armored Division, commanded by the mysterious Gen. Jacques le Clerc of African fame, is fighting in France alongside American forces, Supreme Headquarters announced late today.

This was the first disclosure of the recent whereabouts of the General, one of the first to rally to Gen. De Gaulle.

At the time France fell he was Governor of the French Camaroons and a year later he had organized a small force and was fighting the Italians in Libya.

The following year he was the organizer of a daring 2000-mile march from his base at Lake Chad in which Fighting French forces made harassing raids on Axis forces in Libya.

Once more his forces appeared in the climactic battle of North Africa in 1943, appearing as a menace to Marshal Rommel's South flank when Gen. Montgomery began his drive.

Gen. Le Clerc's forces joined the 8th Army in the battle that ran the Germans from Tripoli, then participated in the showdown struggle for Tunisia.

The General assumed the name of Le Clerc, and his true name has been hidden from the Germans to prevent reprisals on friends or relatives in France.

Gratuities to Armed Forces Most Important Legislation of Session, Says W. K. Esling

After nearly seven months at Ottawa, with continuous sittings covering 14 hours daily in committee and House sittings, W. K. Esling, M.P. for Kootenay West, passed through Nelson yesterday on his way to his home in Rossland. He is now going to take a two weeks holiday and he will not be available until Sept. 1.

"The programme of the Session," said Mr. Esling, "was perhaps the heaviest of any session since the last war and has contained every phase of social security legislation which would suggest an election appeal.

"The Prime Minister has made it clear that there will be no election while the war is on; while on the other hand he states that there will be no extension of the life of Parliament; which means that there must be an election before June 1, 1945. Then Mr. Ilsley, the Finance Minister says election or no election the Victory Loan will be on as usual at some time during the fall. The next loan will probably be for fifteen hundred million, which will mean three billions of dollars borrowed from the public for the year 1944. Then," continued Mr. Esling, "there must necessarily be two similar loans of a billion and a half each for next year and a similar amount is not unlikely for 1946. Such sums will be necessary at the conclusion of the war for demobilization, reconstruction, pensions and innumerable other disbursements in connection with the coming home of the members of the Forces.

"In addition to this there will be $200,000,000 for family allowances, $200,000,000, or more, for the Housing Act and similar sums for post-war purposes. What it means is that when the men return from Overseas those whose earnings will bring them within the income tax brackets will find that taxes will be nearly three times what they were prior to the outbreak of war.

"There is one way," said Mr. Esling, "in which relatives and friends can be of particular service to boys Overseas, and that is to warn them about their medical examination on discharge. After the last war the greatest trouble in connection with pension applications was to prove that disability was due to war service because when the boys were mustered out they were so keen to get home, after four years in the field of battle that they failed to make a proper record of hospitalization, or illness. They simply told the Medical Board they were perfectly all right and they ignored any reference to the fact that perhaps two or three years before they had been hospital with wounds or illness from exposure. The consequence was that they were discharged as in Category 1, and in after years when illness resulted undoubtedly from shock or exposure or other causes for hospitalization, they were discharged fit as A-1 and that any complaint they had was post-war and they were not entitled to pension. My urge therefore is that when relatives or friends write to any of the boys overseas they should tell them to be sure to record on their discharge papers any cause for hospitalization which they may have had," said Mr. Esling.

"By all means the most important legislation and that in which every Member of the House heartily concurred, the West Kootenay Member stated, was the Bill providing for gratuities to men in the Armed Forces. Although this was provided for in the Speech from the Throne as far back as January, it was not brought down until Thursday of this week. Most of the argument was applied to the terms and conditions under which gratuities are to be granted.

Those who served in Canada are to get $7.50 for each 30 days; it is to be $15 for each 30 days to those who served Overseas and this includes service in the Aleutians. In addition to the above for each six months served Overseas or in the Aleutian Islands seven days' pay and allowance is provided. In addition to this there are advantages under the Veterans' Land Act, the Vocational Training Act, etc. In certain cases dependents will also be benefitted. These gratuities are not subject to attachment, levy, seizure or assignments or to taxation.

Blame Warsaw Fate on Polish Gov't in London

MOSCOW, Aug. 14 (AP)—The Soviet Government, indicating resentment over reports that the Red Army had abandoned Warsaw's Underground Army to its fate, declared yesterday the Polish Government in London never had attempted to establish liaison with the Russian Military Command regarding the Patriot forces.

A statement released through the official news agency Tass asserted that the London Government, said by the Russians to be the source of the reports, was responsible for events in Warsaw.

DeGaulle Calls For Uprising

ALLIED SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Aug. 14 (AP)—Gen. Charles de Gaulle's French Committee of National Liberation issued a call tonight for a national uprising in France.

"The duty of every Frenchman has been outlined in the appeal of De Gaulle for the people of France," a statement said.

"There is not one Frenchman who does not feel and who does not know that it is his supreme and sacred duty to take part immediately in the supreme war effort of the country.

"In the field, in the factory, in the workshop, in the office, in the street—whether he be under arrest, deported or prisoner of war—each Frenchman can harm the enemy or prepare that which harms him."

"Military Miracle" If Germans Escape Allied Trap

Here's Your Big Chance, Grab It, Says Eisenhower

ALLIED SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ADVANCED COMMAND POST IN NORMANDY, Aug. 14 (AP)—The text of an Order of the Day issued Sunday by Gen Eisenhower:

Allied soldiers, sailors and airmen:

Through your combined skill, valor and fortitude you have created in France a fleeting but definite opportunity for a major Allied victory, one whose realization will mean notable progress toward the final downfall of our enemy.

In the past I have, in a moment of unusual significance, made special appeals to Allied forces it has been my honor to command. Without exception the response has been unstinted and the result beyond my expectations.

Because the victory we can now achieve is infinitely greater than any it has so far been possible to accomplish in the West and because this opportunity may be grasped only through the utmost in zeal and determination and speedy action I make my present appeal to you more urgent than ever before.

I request every airman to make it his direct responsibility that the enemy is blasted unceasingly by day and by night and is denied safety either in flight or in flight.

I request every sailor to make sure that no part of the hostile forces can either escape or be reinforced by sea, and that our comrades on land want nothing that guns and ships and ship companies can bring to them.

I request every soldier to go forward to his assigned objective with the determination that the enemy can survive only through surrender; let no foot of ground once gained be relinquished, nor a single German escape through a line once established.

With all of us resolutely performing our special tasks, we can make this week a momentous one in the history of this war—a brilliant and fruitful week for us, a fateful one for the ambitions of Nazi tyrants.

Trams Welcome Sight to Montrealers

MONTREAL, Aug. 14 (CP) — Street cars and buses plied regularly over Montreal traffic arteries today, and Montrealers welcomed them to runs that had been deserted for 11 days.

They were a welcome sight to thousands who had used makeshift transportation methods for 11 days while Montreal Tramways Company and the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees (CCL) remained deadlocked in a dispute over a union shop clause in their collective bargaining contract.

The Federal Government broke the stalemate Saturday by placing the company under temporary government control and by appointing controllers to take over the management usually invested in the Board of Directors.

Hoover Names Committee to Get Ferry Action

Nelson Board of Trade, deluged with complaints about the inadequate, and sometimes entirely lacking, ferry service between Frasers Landing and Gray Creek, concerned about Prairie visitors who had reached Gray Creek and been compelled to return because of the lack of ferry service, with consequent bad advertising for Kootenay as a tourist district, decided at its last meeting that a committee should be appointed to go energetically into the question with a view to getting action from Victoria.

President George A. Hoover announced yesterday that the committee will consist of C. F. McHardy, chairman, R. D. Barnes, R. A. Peebles and Gordon Williams. As President, Col. Hoover will be ex officio a member of the committee.

Hon. H. Anscomb, Minister of Public Works, is reported to be likely to visit the district shortly.

David Rees Sees Robot Fall and Kill in London

First hand impressions of buzz-bomb tactics are conveyed to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Rees of Nelson, by David Rees, who had been sight-seeing in London while his ship was on berth in a Welsh port.

After "window - shopping and people-watching" and listening to Londoners' matter-of-factly talk in every manner of dialect concerning their buzz-bomb experiences, the writer tells of visiting the famous London departmental store of Selfridge's, where he was amazed to see half one floor displaying delicate and beautiful English pottery as if in complete contempt of Jerry's bombs.

"When returning from a look-see at Buckingham Palace, and just crossing a square towards the Southern entrance of one of London's most famous parks, the air-raid siren sounded. Just as it died away, I heard approaching road of a buzz-bomb, which streaked across the sky a few hundred feet over my head at the commencement of a power-dive. I just had time to drop to one knee when the contraption exploded with terrific blast in the Park about 250 yards distant, almost knocking me over, windows shattered all around. I dashed to the scene of action where already several London bobbies were guarding crumbled fragments of smoking steel. Some dazed soldiers were piling leaves over an elderly man and woman, victims of the blast, and huge oak trees, stripped of all branches, were uprooted, with the ground littered for blocks around with leaves and pieces of metal. Ambulances quickly took away the wounded.

"It brought home to me with a jolt what these people have undergone during the London blitzes, and what they are going through now without the least signs of panic."

In an earlier letter, David Rees, like all overseas visitors, wrote enthusiastically of "truly lovely English farm scenery through the West of England." "Everything here," he wrote, "gives one the impression of silent strength and an intangible stability compared to the impression of growth and expansion in the Americas and Australia. For instance, one of the tugs that docked us at a Northern port was nearly 70 years old and still going strong—then there are the solid brick houses with fancy chimneys, cobble-stone roads, oak-beamed village inns and ancient castles. None of these things seemed to have outlived its usefulness, or its outward appearance changed with age . . . It seems only yesterday indeed that I was over here with you as a boy!"

NEW COMPANY TO DEVELOP JET PROPULSION

Head offices and the main research works will be located at Leaside, Ont., adjoining the plant of Research Enterprise Ltd., another Government company.

Says Mr. Gold Seal

"I'm in there punching for Morale and Victory!"

"My physique may not be particularly impressive but in my own sphere of action I'm rated tops with both dealer and public who know me as the Congoleum Trade Mark. I've always stood for floor covering quality and value, factors that are more important today than ever, now that replacements are so hard to come by. The care that has always gone into the making of the goods I identify, is intensified as we do our modest bit for morale and victory by providing that touch of colourful brightness — fine, easy-to-clean, budget-saving Congoleum floors — that make any home a happier place to live in. And on top of that, we at Congoleum are happy that our complete machine-shop facilities have been devoted to specialized war production ever since the outbreak of hostilities."

HOW TO HELP MR. GOLD SEAL MAKE GOOD

You can get added wear out of your Congoleum floors with very little effort. Brush and mop them regularly and renew the brightness of their surface with an occasional waxing. Make sure too, that the floor underneath is smooth and free from crevices or knobs. If it's a rug, move it every few months to "spread" the traffic. Yes, a little care will pay big dividends.

Allied forces in Normandy are so close to putting a hangman's noose about substantial portions of the German 7th Army in Northwestern France as to raise a question whether the Nazi high command has not deliberately sacrificed it to gain time to establish a new defensive front East of the Seine.

Field estimates vary as to the size and composition of the enemy forces trapped in the Normandy pocket. Unofficial guesses place at 100,000 up the number of German troops still West of the Caen-Lamana road.

The Falaise-Argentan gap, the only Eastward escape corridor for the foe, had shrivelled to a breadth of 12 miles between converging Canadian and American forces. It was swept by over-lapping allied artillery cross-fire and bombed by allied planes. An allied junction to seal it completely was to be expected at any moment.

Unless there proves to be another defense line already established along the Seine between Paris and the sea behind which escaping remnants of the 7th Army can shelter and refit, the allied way not only to Paris but up the channel coast lies open once mopping up in Normandy and Brittany is completed.

The Battle of France and the Low Countries will have been lost already in a suicidally prolonged delay of Nazi orders for a general retreat to the Seine.

Victories Will Add to Resources for Use Against Enemy

Germany has been employing many of the resources of occupied countries and countries which are associated with it to produce munitions and supplies to use against the Allies.

As the war progresses these resources will become available for use against Germany.

The Nazis are getting oil from wells and refineries in Romania; cannon and machine guns and rifles from Czecho-Slovakia; trucks and tanks from factories in France—the list is endless.

If advances from the East, from the South and from the West continue at the present rapid speed, the extent to which munitions from lands which we liberate or conquer can be reorganized and turned against the Germans will be minimized; if German resistance becomes ever more stiff as we get nearer to German borders—and that is to be expected—captured war resources will be turned to a greater degree against the enemy. Already, the cutting off of Romania oil resources from the Germans and their use by the Allies is being brought near by Russian victories and British-American victories from the Mediterranean front.

As we can make use of supplies of munitions produced near to the battle-front the demands for similar supplies from this continent will lessen. We will be able to concentrate on increasing the volume of war material of other types that our forces require.

Readjustment of war industrial production will reach major proportions, and perhaps long before the end of the war. What form these adjustments will take, where pressure can be reduced, where it must be increased and when the changes will occur, will depend upon many circumstances that at present are unpredictable.

When Germany has surrendered, we can then turn German munitions plants to the production of armament and supplies to throw against the Japanese.

The Allied governments are already making plans to this end. An organization is being set up under Admiral William A. Glassford for the mobilization of captured German resources for use against the Nipponese.

Starving Poland

Liberatin of Poland by the Russian armies will give the United Natinns their first immense job of feeding and assisting in rehabilitating a people who have been enslaved by the Germans. The same work is extending rapidly in France, as the British, Canadian and American armies drive back the Nazis.

Conditions have been bad in France, but they have been worse in Poland. Poles have been on starvation rations, with exorbitant prices for goods obtained legally and with black market prices so high as to be almost incredible.

Rationed bread has been sold at 40 to 50 cents a pound, and sifted flour bread has been selling at $2.50 a pound in Warsaw. Rationed foods have been obtainable only in small quantities, if at all. Monthly rations have been one pound of flour, half-pound of sugar and half-pound of meat.

On the Warsaw black market practically everything has been offered, but at the following prices:

Pork, $12 per lb.; beef $9 per lb.; lard, $16 per lb.; sugar, $8 per lb.; wheat flour (50 per cent), $3 per lb.; rye flour, $2 per lb.; ham, $23 to $27 per lb.; sausage, $18 per lb.; apples, $3 to $3.50 per lb.; fish (carp), $11 per lb.; alcohol, $60 per qt.

Agricultural quotas include all farm products and are set at very high levels, usually higher for small landholders, so that the Germans have been keeping the country almost denuded of food for the native population. The peasants were paid for the quotas delivered at official prices in premium coupons for alcohol, cigarettes, textile products and household articles. However, only the alcohol and cigarette coupons had circulation value, for no industrial products could be obtained either on the official or on the black markets.

Claims Improved Ferry Service Could Be Given at Lower Expenditure

To the Editor:

Sir—After reading the letter of C. S. Leary regarding the Main Lake ferry, seems as though our B.C. Government is more concerned with so called economy than sound economic policy. At the last provincial election not a single vote was cast for a Coalition Government, yet that is what we have, by name at least, but mostly it is Progressive-Conservative in policy; balance the budget, show a surplus, and to hell with the public! Something like the man with a large family who would see his kids in rags and half starved in order to have a "comfortable" bank balance, which brings back memories of the last depression.

However, to get back on the ferry; Mr. Leary's figures being correct, and there is no reason to doubt them, it actually costs more to run the ferry now than with diesel equipment: is that Progressive policy?

Likewise the Nelson ferry with the trailer is more economical per car than without it during the Summer at least: so why do without it?

Also it costs the Government more to run the Nelson ferry with seven men than it did with eight, so what?

All of which would be funny, if it wasn't so silly; the whole setup seems anti-economic, not to mention the inconveniences.

FRANK CARTER.

Pantywaists?

(Ottawa Journal)

Apropos the suspension from the House of Commons of Dr. Herbert Bruce for denouncing the Government's family allowances bill as a "bribe," the Toronto Globe and Mail wonders whether the Present Parliament isn't being dominated by "Panty-waists" in fear of strong words. It recalls that Alexander Mackenzie called the Macdonald Government an "organized hypocrisy" without a suspension penalty, and that Sir Wilfrid Laurier described Sir Hibbert Tupper's charges against Major Walsh as "conceived in absolute and wanton malice," and an aspect of the Borden Government's naval policy as "a scandalous and immoral violation of the fundamental rules of British parliamentary government" without the Speaker's reprimand.

The Globe and Mail could have gone further. It could have looked up some of Mr. Mackenzie King's characterizations of Mr. Meighen's "shadow" Government, and would have found rich evidence for its case in some of Mr. Meighen's speeches. There was the turbulent night, for example, when Meighen told Mr. Bennett that he was the "gramophone of Mackenzie and Mann."

The Globe and Mail could have gone, too, to the Mother of Parliaments: back to the days of Fox, Pitt, Burke and Sheridan, and down through the era of O'Connell and Disraeli on through to the days of Chamberlain and Lloyd George. It might have recalled Grattan's famous philippic against Flood: "Sir, I say it to your beard, you are not an honest man." It might have recalled O'Connell's description of Peel: "He has a smile like the gleam of a silver plate on a coffin." It might have pointed to Disraeli's characterization of Gladstone:

"A sophisticated rhetorician, inebriated with the exuberance of his own verbosity, and gifted with an egotistical imagination that can at all times command an interminable and inconsistent series of arguments to malign an opponent and glorify himself."

It might have recalled, too, Lloyd George's searing remark to Joe Chamberlain: "While the Empire expands the Chamberlain's contract," or T. P. O'Connor's "Judas," hurled at the same Joe; or Chamberlain's own retort to John Dillon: "the honorable gentleman is a good judge of treason", or Justin McCarthy telling John Bright that "his generous impulses of youth have been succeeded by a mean old age."

They have never been afraid of strong words in the Mother of Parliaments. Perhaps it is because they have realized that anger is among the cleanest of passions, and that indignation, even if expressed in hard or perhaps cruel language, at least indicates devotion to a conviction—which is not a bad thing.

Courtesy, what is called the "amenities of debate" is desirable. But when it is carried to the point of falsity, becomes a veneer, or something to raise hypocrisy to the level of a principle, it can become a dangerous thing.

As dangerous as any dishonesty.

Words of Wisdom

There never was any man so wicked as not to approve of gratitude and to detect ingratitude, as the two things in the whole world, the one to be the most esteemed, and the other the most abominated.—Seneca.

Etiquette Hints

If you are invited to a dinner and do not know whether you are to dress formally or informally, it is correct to call your hostess and ask her.

CONDEMNED TO TORONTO

The Toronto Globe and Mail is giving the Ottawa Government a terrific strafe over the Christie Street hospital for returned disabled soldiers, claiming that it isn't a fit place for anybody. We have often wondered why any government should condemn disabled soldiers to live in Toronto anyway with all the beauty spots in Ontario far away from Toronto.—Lethbridge Herald.

R. K., Trail—What causes the earth's magnetism?

It is not known whether the earth's magnetism arises chiefly from substances in the magnetized condition exhibited by the natural magnet, the lodestone, and by the artificial magnet, or as a result of electric currents circulating approximately in the direction from East to West within the earth. All we know is that the earth acts like a magnet and is therefore surrounded by a magnetic field, whose lines of force extend far out into space.

H. H. P., Nelson—Is milk as heavy as water?

Milk is slightly heavier than water, its specific gravity ranging from 1.029 to 1.034 at 60 degrees Fahrenheit.

L. H., Cranbrook—What was the origin of the bride's shower?

It is said to have had its origin in Holland. A Dutch father refused to give his daughter a dowry if she married a poor miller whom she loved. The friends of the young couple, poor themselves, decided to make them gifts with which they could go to housekeeping. In this way the young people were provided for, and the custom of having showers was inaugurated.

R. C. S., Creston—Is it true that a person comes up three times before drowning?

The popular notion that a person comes up three times before drowning is a fallacy. He may come up many times, or not at all, depending on various conditions.

H. M. G., Nelson—How should a club sandwich be eaten?

A club sandwich is eaten with a fork after the toast and other ingredients have been broken. In doing this one uses a knife and fork.

Nazis Paint Red Cross on Vehicles Retreating in France

NEW YORK, Aug. 14 (AP) — A Canadian Broadcasting Corp., reporter today said that the Germans had painted the Red Cross on armored cars, track vehicles, self-propelled guns and other transport in their retreat in France.

This "direct violation of international law" was reported in an NBC broadcast, quoting correspondent Bill Herbert.

Blackmore Bows to Commons Bank Decision

OTTAWA, Aug. 14 (CP) — The application of the Alberta Government for the right to establish a provincial bank will not be considered this session by the Commons Banking Committee.

The committee was called to deal with it today but failed to get a quorum. After waiting for 15 minutes, Chairman W. H. Moore (L-Ontario) suggested it would be impossible to give the bill adequate consideration so late in the session and moved that the committee stand adjournment permanently. The six members in the committee room at the time agreed.

John Blackmore, Social Credit House Leader, sponsoring the bill, said there was nothing he could do but bow to the Chairman's ruling.

"It is not a ruling, it is a suggestion," Mr. Moore said.

Should Fight Election on "Real Differences," Stop "Casting Mud"

OTTAWA, Aug. 14 (CP) — The belief that the next federal election should be fought out on the "real differences" between the Liberal and Progressive Conservative parties—if such differences exist—was voiced Saturday by John Blackmore, Social Credit House Leader, in the Commons.

Mr. Blackmore said the Liberals and Progressive Conservatives should stop trying to "cast mud" on each other about imperial relations.

He also asked opposition members to accede to Prime Minister King's request to pass external affairs department estimates to enable him to attend to "important duties."

Mr. Blackmore's desk-mate, E. G. Hansell (SC-Macleod) said earlier in the sitting that Mr. King should represent Canada at the peace conference, political developments in the interval notwithstanding, and suggested that the party leaders—Mr. King, Mr. Bracken and Mrs. Coldwell, be given acclamations at the next general election.

He said also that the tendency to create a world state as a solution of world problems after the war worried him, and that he was critical of some views expressed by Rt. Hon. Anthony Eden, British Foreign Secretary, which he thought pointed in that direction.

The House changed the date of the coming into force of the War Services Gratuities Bill from Oct. 1 to Jan. 1, next after hearing Defence Minister Ralston say it was doubtful if the machinery for paying gratuities and grants would be set up by Oct. 1.

Pensions Minister Mackenzie offered to have a committee of members of all parties examine into every phase of hospital care for service personnel and suggest whatever improvements they thought necessary.

A. W. Neill (Ind.-Comox-Alberni) said the only solution to the Japanese problem in Canada was to send all persons of Japanese origin back to Japan, and that he doubted the effectiveness of trying to disperse them throughout Canada to prevent them from concentrating in British Columbia.

Victoria Army Officer Promoted

OTTAWA, Aug. 14 (CP) — Defence headquarters announced today the promotion of Lt.-Col. J. M. Rockingham, 32, former Commander of the Royal Hamilton Light Infantry, to rank of acting brigadier.

Revelle to Serve 27 Months In Jail

A total of 27 months will be spent in Provincial Jail at Nelson by Frank Revelle of Nelson, who was found guilty on charges of obtaining money on false pretenses by passing worthless checks, and received sentences in courts at Rossland, Creston, Cranbrook and Kimberley. Actually the sentences totalled 36 months, but as some were to run concurrently, Revelle will serve 27.

At Kimberley Saturday, he appeared before Stipendiary Magistrate Halpin and was sentenced to six months imprisonment to run concurrently with earlier sentences.

Friday he was sentenced by Stipendiary Magistrate C. R. Ward, at Cranbrook, to three months on one charge, to run consequtively, and to three months each on two other charges, to run concurrently.

At Creston he received sentences of six months each on three charges all sentences to be consecutive.

Revelle was first sentenced at Rossland Aug. 3, when he was convicted on four charges and sentenced to three months, a fine of $50 and $50 costs, and further three months jail sentence in event of default of payment of his fine. The fine has not been paid to date.

By the end of June, 1944, Canada had produced $2,000,000,000 worth of war vehicles.

"I felt dragged-out all the time

. . . because I forgot one simple fact!

"THE children were forever getting on my nerves. Housework seemed never to end! And the thought of going out for fun was just too much for me to cope with.

"It was Kellogg's pleasant 30-day test showed me how a simple change of diet could help me keep fit. Now my house runs like a charm—little upsets never bother me—and the youngsters and I have wonderful romps together. All because I feel like a million—right on top of the world from morning to night."

Make this 30-DAY TEST

1. If you're really ill—see your doctor! But if you're all the time feeling dopey and "blue", without real zest for life, chances are you're suffering from incomplete elimination. It's an ever-present danger when you're over 35. Yet there's no need to risk your job, or spoil your fun! Just take this simple precaution:

2. Start now to eat Kellogg's Bran Flakes every morning! To keep fit you don't need hoerid doses, or harsh cathartics that actually may be harmful. Instead, discover the natural way . . . get plenty of "bulk" in your diet by eating Kellogg's Bran Flakes with Other Parts of Wheat. Gently laxative, they help keep food wastes moving promptly . . . supply valuable minerals and proteins too.

3. Just thirty days, and you'll know you have the answer! Thirty days away from the medicine cupboard, eating a big bowlful of these crisp, delicious flakes every morning, and you should have proved the pleasant way to keep fit. Proved, too, how grand it is to feel alert, to have extra energy to do all the extra things you've always wanted to do!

LOOK FOR the name "Kellogg's" on the distinctive golden-yellow package at your grocer's. Regular or family size. Made at London, Canada by the makers of the famous Kellogg's Corn Flakes.

Keep fit with Kellogg's every day in the year!

ON A SUNDAY AFTERNOON: Basking in the sun on a Sunday afternoon always was a favorite pastime at a Canadian seaside resort. These airmen of a fighter bomber squadron in Normandy are fashionable too. Their backs are propped against one of the West wall's "impregnable" fortresses; the beach is the famous one on which Canadian assault troops showed so much courage D-Day, and the background is the always-present but ever-changing armada of supply ships bringing troops and materials into the bridgehead. There is a decided shortage of bathing beauties on this beach. The airmen are, left to right, Lac. Gordon Ritchings, Vancouver, B.C.; Lac. Bruce Long, Toronto, and Sgt. Jack Dale, Ottawa. It was a Sunday afternoon too, although every day is like the next in theatres of war. (Canadian Army Overseas Photo, through W.I.B.)

AWARDED MILITARY MEDAL: For bravery in the face of the enemy while photographing Canadian troops in the battle for Ortona last Winter Sergeant Jack Arnold Stollery of St. Thomas, Ont., has been awarded the Military Medal. A member of the Army Public Relations photographic unit in Italy, his disregard of danger while securing action pictures in the forward area was credited with bolstering morale of the combat forces. His wife, Mrs. Florence Arnold, lives at St. Thomas, Ont. Sgt. Stollery is the second Army Public Relations officer to be honored in recent awards, Lt. J. H. Smith of Toronto having been made a Member of the Order of the British Empire for gallantry during the Sicilian campaign. (Canadian Army Overseas Photo.)

THESE LADS SMASHED CRACK NAZI DIVISION IN ITALY: Working with a British Division in Italy, Canadian tankmen led the Allied advance through rough country in the Arno River sector in Italy, smashing the crack Hermann Goering Division and sending them reeling back in retreat. These pictures from the battle front show (top left) a youthful Nazi prisoner, guarded by a Canadian soldier, being taken to Battalion Headquarters in a jeep for questioning. At lower left Canadian tanks following through on the heels of the retreating Germans and right, Trooper Bob Sharpe, of Winnipeg, a Canadian tankman, bathing and doing his "family" wash at the same time, during a brief halt in the Allied drive. (Canadian Army Overseas Photo).

LONDON, Aug. 14 (CP)—After accumulated week-end orders had been executed, trading resumed the quiet pace of the last several sessions. Industrials were irregular, home rails eased and oils were firm. International issues closed below the day's best levels and British funds tended lower.

NEW YORK—Motors, rubbers and selected industrials attracted modest bids although many leaders were a trifle depressed by lack of investment interest. Canadian issues were quiet but the undertone was firm. Lake Shore gained ⅛, Seagrams ¼ and Dome ⅛.

MONTREAL — Industrials showed strength. In mines, Labrador, Bulolo and Bralorne were up.

TORONTO—The gold listings eased down to show moderate declines after posting a margin of gains. Base metals also weakened while the industrials and Western oils were unchanged to slightly higher. There were weak spots in the senior base metal list.

VANCOUVER—Trading was irregular. Sales shot up with 171,890 shares changing hands.

CHICAGO—Selling hit the rye pit today, dropping prices as much as a cent at times to new seasonal lows for December and May contracts before a rally recovered most of the losses. Wheat closed ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, September $1.58¾, after September and May had equalled seasonal lows. Oats were up ⅛ to 1⅛ cent, September 69¾-⅝. Rye rallied to close ½ off to 1⅞ cent up, September $1.04¾-½, after December and May had hit seasonal lows at $1.02¼ and $1.03¾ respectively. Barley was ⅛ to ¾ higher, September $1.11.

WINNIPEG—Eire purchased 180,000 bushels of Nos. 1 and 2 Northern wheat.

Cut Out Stymie in Pro Golf

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 14 (AP)—Marking one of the most drastic rules changes ever made in major tournament golf, the United States Professional Golfers Association today eliminated the stymie from the 1944 championship just getting under way at Manito Course.

Jimmy Hines of Amsterdam, N.Y., Chairman of the Tournament Committee said he and seven other members of the Committee had voted unanimously to abandon the stymie—which often blocks the putting path of one player on the greens—unless the balls are six inches or less apart.

Red Sox Cut Brownies' Lead

BOSTON, Aug. 14 (AP) — With Righthander Emmett O'Neill tossing four-hit ball, Boston Red Sox today reduced St. Louis Browns' lead to 5½ games by defeating the American League pace-setters 5-1.

O'Neill, winner of his three previous starts, limited the Browns to two hits until the ninth, when George McQuinn's double and Vern Stephen's single cheated him out of a shutout.

The Sockers hammered Starter Denny Galehouse for 11 of their 12 hits and all of their runs before he was relieved for a pinch-hitter in the eigth inning.

Dark Horse Steals Show With Below Par Game on Manito Course

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 14 (AP)—Little Freddie Annon, one of the dark-horse contenders, scrambled around the Manito Course in below-par fashion today to lead a classy 69-man field in the first round of the 36-hole qualifying test for the 1944 National Professional Golfers Association Championship.

His 34-34—68 against a 36-36—72 par course, was good enough to set the pace not only for the two leading performers of the year, Byron Nelson of Toledo, A., and Harold McSpaden of Philadelphia, but many another star and former champion.

Annon, 30-year-old defence plant worker of Mamaroneck, N.Y., stole the first-day show of the seven-day event and people were asking "who is Annon?"

Trailing him with 69's were Nelson, former United States open and P.G.A. champion; Ed. Dudley of Colorado Springs, President of the P.G.A., and Morris Gravatt of Williamsport, Pa., also an outsider. McSpaden, leading bond winner of the year, shared the 70-station (36-34) with Bob Hamilton, Evansville, Ind. (36-34) and Willie Goggin, White Plains, N.Y., who paired up 35's.

The only others to break par with 71's were Joe Zarhardt, Harristown, Pa., 37-34, and John Geertsen, Salt Lake City, 38-33.

Back a ways were such big names as Craig Wood of Mamaroneck, United States open titleholder for the duration, with a 39-35—74; Tony Manero, Stamford, Conn., National open champion in 1936, with 37-37—74; Harry Cooper of Minneapolis 39-35—74; Jimmy Hines, Amsterdam, N.Y., 38-36—74; and Olin Dutra of Los Angeles, ex-National open and P.G.A., winner, with 43-35—78.

H.M.C.S. Gatineau Assigned to New Duties; Rossland Man on Ship

OTTAWA, Aug. 14 (CP) — The Destroyer Gatineau, whose record of sea action in this war equals that if any other Canadian naval vessel, has been assigned new duties after months of anti submarine patrol, strenuous rehearsals for D-day and patrol operations in the channel during the invasion, Navy Minister Macdonald announced tonight.

He did not disclose however, just what new task has been given the vessel whose actions have included the probable destruction of an E-boat, "assists" in successful attacks on two U-boats and battles with robot bombs which the Germans began to hurl at Britain while the ship was on invasion patrol duty.

"We experienced a fair share of fun," recalled the skipper, Lt.-Cmdr. Harold V. W. Groos, Victoria and Halifax. "We have taken part in more operation assignments than I could estimate correctly and we have had some exciting moments."

In disclosing the Gatineau had completed her invasion role, Mr. Macdonald noted that during recent operations five seamen had received operational awards.

Ab. Frank Craig, Kamsack, Sask., received the Distinguished Service Medal for outstanding work in connection with the destruction of a sub marine and four were mentioned in dispatches for outstanding performances of duty while engaging the enemy.

Those receiving mentions were Lt Cmdr. Groos, Lieut. Frank Hartley, Glasgow, Scotland, and Halifax Norbert J. Laderoute, Fort William, Ont. and Stoker Po. George H. McGinn, Kamloops, B. C.

"Pre-invasion training was dramatic and tough," said the skipper. "But the men all felt it might be their last big show and gave it all they had. They were keen as mustard going into the invasion area which we patrolled before the big push."

In a pre-invasion sweep with four other Canadian ships, Chaudiere, Chilliwack, Fennel and St. Catharines and the Royal Navy Destroyer Icarus, Gatineau took part in her first submarine sinking.

A few days after the invasion started the Destroyer attacked three enemy E-boats.

"Jerry just about got us that time," said Cpo. William Holmes, Victoria. "We were on patrol not far off the invasion coast when the E-boats suddenly appeared. One of them fired a torpedo which we managed to avoid. We gave chase and opened fire but they put down a smoke screen and it was impossible to see the results.

"However, after several salvoes we heard and saw a huge explosion. The officers on the bridge claimed a hit."

Gatineau's guns were among the first to be trained on the now famous robot bombs.

Leading Seaman Donald Langman of Rossland has been serving aboard the Gatineau.

Japs Hit Back From Tengyang

CHUNGKING, Aug. 14 (AP)—Chinese forces redoubled their attacks on the city of Tengyang today and the Japanese hit back savagely to safeguard their hold on the Central China fortress.

Heavy fighting was general throughout the Hengyang area. The Chinese High Command said its troops repulsed repeated assaults South of Hengyang.

In the Salween River drive in Western Yunnan, Chinese marshalling their strength from an all-out attack on the walled city of Tengchung repulsed five Japanese counter-blows.

In this Burma Road offensive the Chinese had nearly completed their penetrations for an attack on a large hill mass Southeast of Lungling and the last strong Japanese position East of the town.

J. H. Hunter Leaves Estate of $4434.20

Letters of administration for the estate of Joseph Henry Hunter were granted Sheriff M. E. Harper by His Honor Judge W. A. Nisbet in Chambers August 10.

Mr. Hunter, who died in Fruitvale on July 3, 1944, left an estate of $4434.20 to be divided equally between his two sisters, Martha Campbell and Margaret Stevenson, both of Ireland, and a brother, Thomas James Hunter, of Scotland.

D. MacDonald of Trail was solicitor.

Dr. Bach, Tells Rotarians of Religious Cults

Dr. Marcus Bach, of the University of Iowa, speaking to Nelson Rotarians at their luncheon Monday, told of the success of the religious cults in the world. He told how in the United States with a population of 133,000,000, —60,000,000 belong to an organized church, and only about 30,000,000 attended. Most of the religious cults had reversed this entirely with more attending than were actually members. He said the reason for this great success was that the cultists had given the people a technique for religion.

Dr. Bach told several interesting stories about the different groups, such as the Buchmanites, Vedantas and the Oxford Group. He also gave interesting little happenings that affected his life when attending meetings of these kinds.

He felt that the Protestant Churches had become too liberal, that especially the young, were often left at sea. The churches should plead with the people to keep working out their own technique. The speaker said that it was time to start thinking about the fact that these cults were growing to such a great extent they were giving the people something to do, and the churches would have to do likewise.

This was the second time that Dr. Bach had spoken to the Nelson Club. G. A. Hoover thanked the speaker on behalf of the Club, and expressed the hope that he would be able to return in the future.

Guests at the luncheon included B. A. Stimmel of Trail; Rev. R. F. Cragg of Grand Forks; H. H. MacKenzie, M.D., of New Westminster, H. Radcliffe of Trail; William Brown, P. E. Poulin, and Rev. H. R. Stovell of Nelson.

Eisenhower to Retain Control of Military Areas in France

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—Britain, the United States and the French National Committee are ready to sign formal agreements on civil administration of liberated French territory by the Committee, it was learned tonight.

The United States is signing at the "military level" thus, one official explained, the agreement lacks the status of a treaty and is not subject to the time-consuming process of Senate ratification. Also this method avoids any appearance of a political committment to the French Committee.

A separate and parallel memorandum is being signed to provide for Lend-Lease shipments to the French.

The arrangements made by Britain and the French Committee and the United States and French are substantially the same on all points. They provide essentially that Gen. Eisenhower will have supreme authority in France so long as the war continues there.

Gen. Eisenhower is to retain direct control of all military areas, including the combat zones and rear-area supply depots and the like. He is to turn over to the French for civil administration all other rear area. It is up to him to fix the limits of the military and non-military areas.

One unexpected clause in the agreements, written in at the insistence of American conferees, provides there should be no French censorship of Allied correspondents in France. That means that only military censorship can be applied.

Signing of the agreements in conjunction with the swift advance of Allied armies in France is taken here to mean that the French Committee, under Gen. De Gaulle, may open its own capital in metropolitan France soon, moving from Algiers.

Civil Units Up in Front Line to Speed Relief in French Towns

GEN. EISENHOWER'S ADVANCED HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, Aug. 14 (AP)—Civil Affairs Units of the Allied armies now are fighting their way through France alongside frontline assault troops to speed relief and restore order in liberated towns and villages, Lt.-Gen. A. E. Grasett, a native of Toronto and Assistant Chief of Staff in Gen. Eisenhower's Command, disclosed today.

A number of casualties already have been reported among the hand-picked, specially-trained crews who heretofore moved into such areas after resistance had ceased, said the expert, who is a British Army officer.

The ruthless tactics of the fleeing German Army commanders who flooded battle areas with civilian refugees and an assortment of murderers, rapists and thieves turned out of prison cells were among the problems confronting the Allies, the General said in an interview. Despite this, he added, the Civilian Affairs phase of the French campaign has proceeded smoothly.

Gen. Grasset said officials of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration were studying plans for helping the liberated countries if the Governments of France, Belgium and the Netherlands ask for this aid.

Two of the most important problems—public health and displaced persons—now are receiving the joint attention of the Army Civil Affairs authorities and the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration.

Looking toward the day when France will return to a peace-time basis, the Allies last week turned food and clothes rationing over to French authorities.

At the invitation of the French, Civil Affairs observers have attended all court trials. The severest penalties imposed so far have been life imprisonment sentences given two young Frenchmen at Cherbourg convicted as Nazi spies.

B. C. Packers Head Says Profit Is Inadequate

VANCOUVER, Aug. 14 (CP) — B. C. Packers' net profit for the year ending April 30 was $281,472, H. R. MacMillan, President of B.C. Packers Ltd., said in the Company's annual statement issued today. This compares with a net of $308,043 for the previous year.

The net represents 2.6 per cent of net sales or a profit of 13.79 cents on every 100 pounds of raw products processed.

Profit before taxes is $479,122 less than a year ago. This is chiefly because of a much smaller salmon pack and increased operational costs, Mr. MacMillan said.

"This return is perilously inadequate for the elements of risk, the large amount at stake in prepaid expenses each season and volume of capital invested," Mr. MacMillan added.

"We are caught between insufficient ceiling prices of products and ever increasing costs of fish and services."

Export Trade Over $2 Billion

OTTAWA, Aug. 14 (CP) — Canada's domestic merchandise export trade during the seven months ended July totalled $2,024,960,000, a record, Trade Minister MacKinnon announced tonight. Vast stores of equipment going to fighting fronts were responsible for the record figure.

The total was 28 per cent higher than in the corresponding period last year when $1,581,408,000 was exported.

The approach of the climax of the war intensified the flow of exports, said Mr. MacKinnon. During the three months of May, June and July when fighting in France and Italy reached a peak exports aggregated $990,000,000 or almost $11,000,000 daily.

The United Kingdom was the biggest buyer, taking $757,868,000 worth of goods, compared with $574,334,000 last year. Shipments to the United States were $736,554,000, compared with $612,685,000.

Battle areas in Europe and the East received heavy shipments.

Export of wheat was valued at $227,947,000. About double the value exported in similar period of last year.
