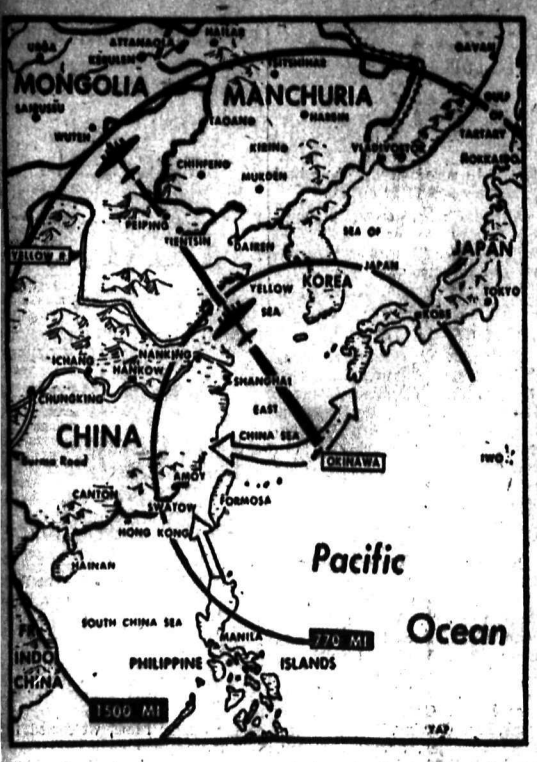
SECURE LANDING AT OIL CENTRE



VENGEANCE BLASTS FROM OKINAWA: While last, scattered Jap survivors of the Okinawa campaign were being rounded up, Allied bombers were starting to take off in all directions from the island's air bases on errands of vengeance. From Kyushu to the Sakishimas and elsewhere in the Western Pacific, Thunderbolts were carrying loads of destruction. In this map is shown the general idea that can be covered. When the big B-29's get going, most of the Japanese inner defence zone can be attacked.

10 BURN TO DEATH, 35 HURT IN HOTEL FIRE

WINNIPEG, July 1 (CP)—Ten persons were reported burned to death and 35 injured, 20 of them seriously, when fire destroyed the three-story frame constructed hotel at Red Lake, 175 air miles Northeast of Winnipeg early this morning.

An undetermined number of persons were missing. Volunteers continued to search the ruins early tonight.

Three of the dead have been tentatively identified as C. M. Keech, veteran Red Lake lumberman; Mrs. Don McLaren, a school teacher, whose husband is overseas, and a man named Grainger.

FLY IN MEDICAL AID

Fire broke out in the crowded hotel, which has accommodations for an estimated 100 guests, at 1.05 a.m. and spread rapidly. The building was destroyed in less than half an hour. The blaze was reported to have started in the hotel lobby.

Three Canadian Pacific Air Lines planes were rushed from Winnipeg, Lac du Bonnet, and Kenora, Ont., to the Northwestern Ontario mining town, carrying five doctors, eight nurses, 93 flasks of blood plasma from the Winnipeg General Hospital and other medical supplies.

The Winnipeg General Hospital reported seven persons, four of them severely burned, were being brought to Winnipeg by plane. Two arrived late this afternoon and were rushed to the operation room. Their identity was not immediately determined.

The planes were being used as hospital ships to take patients to outside hospitals.

600 B-29s Ignite 4 Jap Centres

GUAM, July 2 (Monday)—(AP)—Nearly 600 Superfortresses—the greatest fleet of B-29s ever sent against Japan—struck four of Nippon's industrial cities with a record 4000 tons of fire bombs before dawn today.

It was the greatest incendiary strike of the Pacific War.

The targets, all fire-bombed for the first time, were Kure, site of Japan's greatest naval base on the Inland Sea; Shimonoseki, on the Northern shore of Shimonoseki Strait at the Western entrance to the Inland Sea; Ube, one of Japan's major coal centres and top magnesium-producing region in the empire, and Kumamoto, a transportation hub and military training centre as well as an important war industries city on Western Kyushu.

Use of Salmo Port to Speed Development Interior Air Service Finds Ready Backing

The proposal that Salmo airport become part of a scheduled air service route found high favor at the joint meeting of the Trail, Nelson and Salmo Boards of Trade at Salmo Friday night.

Not a dissenting voice was raised and all speakers were unanimously behind the opinion that if the of the Salmo port would bring air service to the Kootenay-Boundary faster then all centres interested should back the proposal. The resolution asking that all organizations of this District send in resolutions to Transport Minister Howe, Ottawa, requesting air service for the Interior was passed unanimously. Municipal officers of Trail, Nelson and Tadanac also took part in the meeting.

The meeting was called following a visit to the District of Flt Lt. A. W. Bishop of Nelson who came here from Ottawa to carry on a survey for a proposed air service connecting Interior points with Vancouver and Lethbridge. At the meeting, he said the reason for his attendance was solely to try to get each Board and Council to send letters or resolutions to the Transport Department at Ottawa telling the Department of the necessity for air service here.

He hoped an agreement could also be made for use of the Salmo port for the present at least.

Dr. C. M. Wright, Trail Board of Trade President, who was largely instrumental in organizing the meeting, told of his interview in Ottawa with Wing Commander G. G. Diamond, who seeks a charter for the proposed service, and of the need to give the Kootenay-Boundary a faster link with the Coast and Eastern centres. With introduction of the service, then the need of improved roads between Trail and Salmo and Nelson and Salmo should be brought to the attention of the Provincial Government.

FLORISTS LIKE PLAN

E. A. G. Colls, Chairman of the Trail Board Airport Committee, told how he had found much interest in Trail amongst Trail business men on air service and florists particularly looked forward to the service. He urged that young men especially with air training, be drawn into the Boards so that their knowledge could be brought into the work of the Boards.

President R. A. Peebles of the Nelson Board expressed his approval of the plan and urged that strong pressure be brought to bear on the Government.

President James Wright of the Rossland Board said he felt confident the Rossland Board would whole heartedly support the Salmo site.

M. C. Donaldson of the Salmo Board told how he had promoted the Salmo airport for years and felt that its position between Nelson and Trail was a big argument in favor of its use. Then, he said, the roads should be put in shape to handle the traffic that would follow. After a short drive to the airport, air passengers from either City could be in Vancouver in very short time.

LOTS OF LANDING SPACE

The type of aircraft planned for the Interior service could be handled quite easily on the Salmo port, Flt. Lt. Bishop said in answer to questions by Mr. Donaldson. There was little work to be done on it to put it in condition and its 3700-foot length, with a possible 400-foot extension, would be ample. A width of 150 feet was sufficient, and there was room for 300 feet additional width if required.

Early in the service, fares would probably range from $30 to $35 from Salmo to Vancouver on a one-way trip. Flying time would be from 2¾ to three hours.

Ten-passenger aircraft were planned and the planes would be radio equipped. The line would probably be known as the B.C. Central Airlines.

D. D. Townsend of Trail, R. D. Barnes of Nelson, Alderman A. H. Allan of Nelson, Alderman J. R. Anderson of Trail and Reeve A. D. Turnbull of Tadanac all spoke in favor of the proposed air service.

Chairman of the meeting and banquet, both held in the K.P. Hall, was Smith Curwen, President of the Salmo Board. All speakers expressed their compliments to the Salmo Board and to the Pythian Sisters who handled banquet arrangements, for the splendid arrangements of the meeting and the grand banquet.

Catching the eye of all was the miniature airport complete with twin-engine plane which centred the head table. Miss Maxine Lindow constructed the airport, and her brother turned out the model plane.

WAR CRIMINAL?

Alfred Krupp, 37, head of Germany's vast armament and munitions industry, has been placed under arrest by the British for possible trial as a war criminal. Krupp backed the Nazi party from its infancy. This picture was taken last April, shortly after his capture by Allied forces.

Completes Tactical Control S.W. Pacific

MANILA, July 2 (Monday) (AP) — Australian ground forces have landed at Balikpapan on Southeast Borneo and obtained a firm beachhead, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today.

The invasion of the famed oil centre was the third major landing on the big island.

The veteran Australian 7th Division went ashore after intensive Allied air and naval bombardment.

Royal Australian and Royal Netherlands naval forces participated in the operations against the major Dutch Borneo petroleum port.

The ground troops advanced inland rapidly and losses have been light, Gen. MacArthur said.

ISOLATE DEFENCES

With this third landing, following seizure of the enemy's bases at Tarakan Island off the Borneo East coast and the Brunei Bay area and Miri and Seria oil fields on the North coast, Gen. MacArthur said the Japanese key defences on Borneo now were isolated or crushed

"The speed, surprise and shocks of these three operations have secured domination of Borneo and driven a wedge South, splitting the East Indies," said a Manila communique.

"The strategic Makassar Straits, gateway to the Flores and Java Seas, is now controlled by our surface craft as well as by air and submarine.

"Development of already existing air facilities at Balikpapan will enable our air craft of all categories to disrupt and smash enemy communications on land and sea from Timor to Eastern Sumatra."

The communique said "the whole extent of Java" now is within easy flight range of the Allies and "our shipping can now sail with land-based air cover to any point in the Southwest Pacific."

The Australian 7th Division, "which turned back the tide of invasion of Australia on historic Kokoda Trail" three years ago this month, now has won "what was once perhaps the most lucrative strategic target in our East Indies sector," Gen. MacArthur reported. He added that this virtually completes "our tactical control of the entire Southwest Pacific."

ALLIES USING OIL

The campaign to reconquer Borneo, one of the richest prizes seized by the Japanese in their 1942 drive through the East Indies, already was paying dividends with oil from its fields going to United States armed forces.

Borneo's crude petroleum is of such high quality that it can be used in ships for fuel without refining.

Britain, France Remember Canada's Birthday

BY FRANK LOWE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, July 1 (CP Cable)—In the quiet of the Hastings, Sussex cemetery where lay Canadian dead from Dieppe and in the sun-washed bustle of London, Dominion Day was marked today by hundreds of men and women who echoed the hope of Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian High Commissioner to Britain, that this would be the last birthday of their country they would spend serving away from home.

In London, Mr. Massey said in a cemetery, where rest the bodies of some of the men who stormed the Dieppe beaches Aug. 19, 1942, a poignant Dominion Day service was held with pipes wailing the Lament. The service was arranged by the Canadian Ex-Servicemen's Association in Britain.

In London, Mr. Massey said in a BBC broadcast this was "good-bye" on the part of Canadian servicemen. "Before another Dominion Day comes, they will have left these shores," he added.

Mr. Massey said Britons got to know "as new friends the men we have been proud to send abroad to represent us . . . and we have learned much about the country which sent them."

"We have been happy that our good names should have been in their hands," he added.

FRANCE REMEMBERS

The High Commissioner expressed Canada's gratitude for the way Britain had received the Dominion's servicemen.

Dominion Day also was marked in Paris where the Canadian Ambassador to France, Maj.-Gen. Georges P. Vanier placed a wreath on Tomb of the Unknown Soldier this morning and later visited the Canadian Officers' Club.

Radio France had a special half-hour broadcast paying homage to Canada while several leading newspapers followed suit. Headlines such as "A Nation on the March," "July 1; National Holiday of Canadians" and "Heroes of Two Great Wars and Champion of Peace" topped editorial columns of leading Paris newspapers.

In charge of the parade arrangements is A. B. Gilker.

Little Damage in Safeway Fire

Nelson Fire Department trucks were called to the Safeway store on Baker Street early Sunday evening when smoke was seen issuing from the building.

A large crowd gathered as firemen broke the glass in one of the doors to get into the building to discover that the smoke came from a burning refrigerator motor. A short circuit caused the fire, which was put out by chemicals. No serious damage was reported.

Cabinet to Turn to Conference Preparations

BY R. K. CARNEGIE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, July 1 (CP)—Most of the Cabinet Ministers are back in Ottawa and will concentrate this week in preparing for the Dominion-Provincial conference which opens Aug. 6 and the opening of the new Parliament Aug. 23.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King has decided to postpone his scheduled visit to Washington until President Truman returns from the meeting with Marshal Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill scheduled to begin in Potsdam, Germany, towards the end of this month. That is assuming Mr. Churchill wins this week's general election.

Mr. King has an invitation from the United States President to meet him in Washington to discuss Canadian-American relations much as Mr. King and President Roosevelt used to, but this will be after the Big Three have discussed the weighty world problems.

There also may be a meeting of the Empire Prime Ministers before Mr. King and Mr. Truman get together. Last week Lord Cranborne, Dominions Secretary, said while in Ottawa he did not think it would be possible to hold a full-scale Imperial Conference before the peace talks began and that a conference of Prime Ministers could be arranged more expeditiously.

EXPECT LOWERING OF TAX BARRIERS

It looks as though most of the Canadian Cabinet Ministers will lose out on their holidays. Several Ministers during the weekend admitted they were longing for them after the strain of the general election campaign, but did not see how they could be worked in. Mr. King so far has made no plans for a holiday.

Work on the conference is well advanced because the Cabinet provided a permanent Secretariat under D. A. Skelton of the Bank of Canada. They have been preparing data for months.

Finance Officials already have started preparing material for Mr. Ilsley's budget speech which will be delivered early in the new session. The last Parliament was dissolved before a budget speech could be delivered and even if it is delivered within a few weeks of the opening of the new Parliament it still will be late, containing as it does a financial report for the year ended last March 31 and providing for taxation for the year which began last April.

Canada has taken a stand in favor of lowering trade barriers and it is generally agreed this budget will have to do something to show this country is ready to practice what it preaches. It is expected the budget will wipe out the special 10-per-cent excise tax on goods coming in from the United States.

Will Pass Gas Bylaw, Victoria

VICTORIA, July 1 (CP)—The by-law requested by gasoline station operators calling for the closing of all Victoria gas stations on public holidays will be passed by the City Council, M. F. Hunter, City Clerk, said Saturday because the petition has been signed by more than the required percentage of operators.

VANCOUVER, July 1 CP) — Between 700 and 900 new passenger cars are expected to arrive in British Columbia between October and December, Clark Simkins, Assistant Manager, Ford Motor Company of British Columbia, announced Friday night.

Chinese Seize Strategic Island

BY SPENCER MOOSA

CHUNGKING, July 1 (AP) — Chinese fighters have captured Weichow Island in American air-patrolled waters off China's South coast, the Chinese Command said tonight, while front dispatches reported the fall of three Japanese-held Indo-Chinese towns to Chinese forces pushing into the French colony on a 100-mile front.

In swift new blows following the recapture of the rail hub and former American air base of Liuchow, other Chinese forces battered toward two other former American airfields in South China—the airstrips at Kwailin and Tanchuk, a Chinese communique disclosed.

COMMANDS SUPPLY LANES

Weichow Island, in the Gulf of Tonkin between Luichow Peninsula and Indo-China, was cleared of Japanese forces as a result of mopping-up operations by Chinese regulars and local militiamen, the High Command said.

The strategic little island, lying astride Japan's much-pummeled sea supply routes to land-isolated Southeast Asia, apparently was garrisoned only by a small Japanese force, the bulk of which probably was withdrawn to the Luichow Peninsula as part of a recent redeployment of Japanese forces in South China.

New details of fighting inside Indo-China meanwhile revealed that hard-bitten mountain troops under Gen. Chang Fah-Kwei had pushed over the Chinese frontier and into 6500-foot hills at points along a 100-mile front.

The front extended from Trung Khanh Phu (Chungchingfu) 19 miles Northeast of the mountain-locked Indo-Chinese highway hub of Caobang, to Malungchai, identified as one mile inside Indo-China and 23 miles North of Hagiang.

4308 VETERANS ARRIVE AT HALIFAX

HALIFAX, July 1 (CP)—As a Canadian Legion Pipe Band skirled out the "Road to the Isles", the troop ship Louis Pasteur docked here late Saturday with a cargo of 4308 Canadian soldier veterans and a sprinkling of RCAF personnel.

The eager soldiers wedged themselves into every available bit of deck space to yell themselves hoarse as the big trooper entered harbor, flanked by an army coastal boat bearing a military band, and two port fire boats with big welcome signs on their top deck.

On the dock waited a Halifax Civic Welcoming Committee and pretty girls by the dozen to wave a cheery welcome. The general public was barred from the section of the long pier wall where Pasteur docked, but crowded, hundreds strong, at the far end of the dock where the giant liner Aquitania lay berthed.

Nearly 600 personnel from Military District No. 6 (Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island) were disembarked first and driven through crowd-lined streets in military buses and trucks to get a loud and happy reception.

HEAD WEST ON TROOP TRAINS

Men from other parts of Canada were unloaded later and are being speeded home aboard special troop trains that will puff out of the ocean terminals at the rate of one an hour.

Occupation Troops Move on Berlin

By JAMES M. LONG

PARIS, July 1 (AP) — Allied occupation troops tonight were moving toward Berlin, preliminary to the Big Three meeting there this month, and Gen. Eisenhower's forces prepared to dissolve Allied Supreme Headquarters.

Formal dissolution of headquarters awaits only Gen. Eisenhower's return from the United States, authoritative sources said. Its operations now are broken into separate Army activities which will be correlated through the Allied Control Council.

LEAVES ZONES TO RUSSIANS

The move toward Berlin coincided with an announcement that more than 315,000 American troops already have returned to the United States, and the total will reach 500,000 by July's end.

As British, United States and French troops were on the move to Berlin, the Western Allies were pulling out of territory designated parts of the Russian zone of occupation. The entire shift is expected to end by July 4.

A composite Canadian battalion will be part of the British force occupying Berlin. It will be made up of men from the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders, of Hamilton, Ont.; Les Fusiliers Mont-Royal of Montreal, and the Loyal Edmonton Regiment, and a Provost Corps detachment.

A press party of more than 100 prepared to leave for Berlin Tuesday. Supreme Headquarters made no announcement but it was understood here that the American force moving in is the 2nd Armored Division with the 82nd Airborne to follow or perhaps to take over the assignment later. Britain is sending her 7th Armored (Desert Rat) Division to make good its cry "Alamein to Berlin". The French Force may include part of their 2nd Armored.

The Russians will continue to hold the Eastern half of Berlin including all the central section. The British and Canadians will take over the Northwestern slice, including the fashionable residential areas, at least one of which is not so severely damaged as some parts of the city.

The Americans will occupy the Southwestern slice, described unofficially as the smallest of the three but including the Templehof airdrome.

Whether the French actually will occupy a district or will be there only to staff and serve their administrative buildings in connection with the Allied Control Council has not been disclosed.

Brewers Appeal for Empties

VANCOUVER, July 1 (CP) — An urgent appeal for consumers of beer to return their empty bottles was made Saturday by British Columbia brewers.

The brewers warned that unless buyers returned their empties there was a possibility that supplies of bottled beer would run out next week. They also stated that it was up to the consumers if they wanted to purchase their four case quota next month.

BROOKLYN, N.Y., July 1 (CP)—This is the borough where anything can happen, and Brooklynites were only slightly startled Saturday to see a brown haired, blue-eyed beauty strolling down the street, tastefully clad in her birthday suit.

Cranbrook Board Supports Application for Air Service Charter

CRANBROOK, B.C., July 1 — A resolution that a charter for establishment of a feeder passenger and mail airline, likely to be called British Columbia Central Airways, be granted as soon as possible by the Department of Transport is being forwarded immediately by the Cranbrook Board of Trade. This resulted from Flt.-Lt. Archie Bishop's address Saturday to a public meeting here outlining projected plans of W.C. G. G. Diamond, currently of Ottawa, which require only issue of the charter to put the line in almost immediate operation.

The proposed airways plan will serve an estimated population of 135,000 in interior points at Cranbrook, Kimberley, Nelson, Salmo, Trail, Penticton and other Okanagan points with air access to the Trans-Canada Airlines terminals at Vancouver and Lethbridge.

ASSURED OF MAIL CONTRACTS

Issuing of the charter can be followed immediately by securing of the necessary aircraft, and service release of the personnel to man the commercial service. Assurance has been given of mail contracts when the charter is issued.

The plan will be privately financed and will involve outlay of $200,000 for immediate equipment needs, and highly experienced operators for both air and ground crews. The proposed line will operate commercially but will be partially subsidized by the Government.

Under the plans passenger fares would amount to about the same as first class railway travel if the saving in time, berths and meals is taken into account. The Airways head office would be at Vancouver.

Ewell Equals Own 100-Metre Record

NEW YORK, July 1 (AP)—Pte. Barney Ewell, one-time Penn State great, unfurled a pre-war sprint at the United States National A.A.U. track and field championships Saturday and equalled his own meet record in winning the 100-metre dash in :10.3.

It was the only record approached at the annual meet. Ewell's time also matched Eddie Tolan's Olympic record for the century and was one tenth of a second off the world standard.

Ewell, who as Henry Norwood Ewell, won three championships for Penn State in 1941 and 1942, catapulted ahead with such speed that Harry Samuels, graduate of a month from Jefferson High in San Antonio, Texas, never was able to catch up. Samuels won the junior crown Friday in :10.5.

TOAST and TEA

BY L. A. McARTHUR

You have read this before but it will do you no harm to read it again, remembering that your grandchildren's grandchildren will also read it and be moved by it. Mr. Churchill said it on June 18, 1940, when he had become Prime Minister: "I expect that the battle of Britain is about to begin. Upon it depends our own British life, and the long continuity of our institutions and our Empire. The whole fury and might of the enemy must very soon be turned on us. Hitler knows that he will have to break us in this island or lose the war. If we can stand up to him, all Europe may be free, and the life of the world may move forward into broad, sunlit uplands. But if we fail, then the whole world, including the United States, including all that we have known and cared for, will sink into the abyss of a new Dark Age, made more sinster and perhaps more protracted, by the lights of perverted science. Let us therefore brace ourselves to our duties, and so bear ourselves that, if the British Empire and it Commonwealth last for a thousand years, men will still say: 'This was their finest hour.'"

Black, Off Form, Toppled 4 and 3 by Harry Givan

VANCOUVER, July 1 (CP) — Harry Givan of Seattle took a four and three decision over Ken Black, Vancouver golf ace, in the 36-hole final of the Pacific Northwest Golf Association tournament here Saturday.

Playing par golf all day Givan had little trouble defeating Black, the duration Canadian amateur champion, who was sadly off form.

Givan held a three-hole lead at the end of the first 18 holes carding a one over par against Black's 76. The Seattle man turned on the heat at the beginning of the second round reaching the turn in 34, two under regulation figures, to increase his margin to five up.

Black won the 28th when Givan hooked his second into the bush but Harry again went five up on the 30th getting a birdie four on the 511-yard hole. Black made a stiff bid to prolong the match when he won the short 31st with a par 3 as Givan drove into the trap and also took the 32nd after Givan carded his second consecutive bogey. However Black's putter failed him on the 33rd and Givan ended the match with a par four.

Rossland High Schools Have Public Graduation

ROSSLAND, B. C., July 1—Graduating exercises for the Senior and Junior High School filled the High School auditorium to capacity with parents and students, when Principal D. G. Chamberlain presided over a long and varied program, which opened with "O Canada", and an invocation by Rev. H. K. Johnston.

The Grade XII students, now graduating, Principal Chamberlain said, would in some cases be going on to university, and in others embarking on their life's journey, and whatever they did would largely be the result of what they had done in the last 12 years. Respecting the Grade IX students, now graduating from the Junior High, he expressed the hope that as many as possible would continue on to take High School grades, and he urged parents to encourage them on this course, so they could develop the lines for which in their exploratory work in the Junior High they had found themselves to be adapted.

Chairman Arthur Turner of the School Board presented the awards for citizenship, remarking that Rossland's product was once the gold from its mines, but its "gold product" today was its High School students. The awards were presented to Betty Jean LaFace of the Junior High and to Virginia Atkinson and Richard Marcuzzi of the Senior High.

The War Savings award was presented by John Peachey. The objective of one certificate per student, which would have produced $1024, was rather high, he said, and the actual aggregate was $580, an average of $2.25 per student. The trophy was presented to Mr. Bishop's Grade X room, which had raised $104, a student average of $3.60. A close second was Mrs. Cedric Cox's Grade VII-A room, which raised $112, but had a lower average, $3.13.

In presenting the school letters, C. Larson explained a boy needed 17 points, and a girl 14 points, for a major letter, and eight points for a minor. He presented majors to Arnold Cummings, Leonard Camozzi, Pat Hutchings, Richard Johnston, Betty Petrie, Hugh Urquhart and David Keffer. Minors were presented to Ronnie Aiken, Virginia Atkinson, Shirley Davidson, Jack Foss, John Gordon, Dave Glover, Jean Hedley, Keith Jamieson, Irene Kootnikoff, Kay McKenna, Dick Marcuzzi, Florence Nixon, Marian Postill, Joy Ridgers, Dave Smith, Pamela Topliff, and Mary Vetere.

Mr. Larson also presented the awards for sports to Irene Kootnikoff—who had won the Senior girls Shield at the Trail track meet—Helen Buchanan, Shirley Rolph, Betty Densky, Gordon Perkins and Buddy Fulton.

Mrs. L. A. Read, President of the Parent-Teacher Association, presented the two pictures to the school. She said that the Association tried to be of help to the school staffs and pupils by giving the little extras that were nice to have and which the School Board was unable to give.

Principal Chamberlain spoke appreciatively of the many services rendered during the year by the Association, and Miss K. Dupuis, School Librarian, thanked Mrs. Read and the P.T.A. for the lovely pictures, which will hang in the Library.

During an intermission the High School Orchestra played "Tales From the Vienna Woods".

DIPLOMAS PRESENTED

In the second half of the program, Principal Chamberlain presented each High School graduate with a diploma tied with the school colors, purple and gold.

Shirley Davidson gave the Valedictory for tthe 19th graduating class, expressing the sense of regret with which the class was saying farewell to the school, staff and students. She described the three mile stones of the student—starting with the elementary school. In her personal journey she entered Junior High School as a member of the first Junior High class in Rossland, and had assisted in wearing out the floors of the halls and class rooms, breaking the desks and wearing out the teachers. Now the third mile on the educational journey had been reached. Each mile stone had meant the parting of the ways. She appealed to the students to carry on the work of the School and the School Honor, saying, "God Be With You."

Leonard Camozzi, President of the Graduating Class, presented the School with three pictures of the class as a Valedictory gift. He paid tribute to tthe principal and staff for their assistance, and to the members of the staff who had organized the school activities and worked so tirelessly with the orchestra, operetta, sports day, etc., which was done out of school hours. He also appealed to the students to preserve, cooperate and be loyal to the School and make it a pleasant place to live in.

Principal Chamberlain thanked Leonard and the class and the staff for their wonderful support given him during the year.

Betty Jean LaFace of Grade IX, in giving tthe School's farewell, said that tthe Grade XII students had given the school inspiring leadership, and it was difficult to think of the Rossland High School without them in the Fall. "Wherever you go," she said, "Whatever you do, God's speed. Please come back and visit us."

E. Hayes, sponsor of the Graduating Class, gave the staff's farewell message. Thanking Shirley and Len for the tributes they had paid to the staff, he felt that the year had been a profitable one, as well as enjoyable, both scholastically and socially, and he looked on the students not as students but as friends. He wished them the best of luck, and asked them to keen their goal a lofty one, and that life was a long process of accomplishments giving great satisfaction. He closed by reading a prayer for teachers, and with the reminder that to be sure and visit the school some time and to be careful.

After the school orchestra played the "Merry Widow Waltz", "God Save the King" brought a very impressive program to a close.

Mr. Ernest was in charge of preparing the programme.

Having Trouble With Skirts

OTTAWA—Block those tape measures! Neighboring Hull and Aylmer City Councils have brought out an old bylaw of great Aunt Elizabeth's Day and promise to prosecute women striding the streets in brief beach attire. Their edict has caused a problem for the thousands of service women in the capital.

The campaign is aimed chiefly at wearers of shorts but Mayor Lloyd Pilgrim of Aylmer says the bylaw stipulates penalties for women skirts that are more than 14 inches above the ground.

Women service officials, who are not taking the matter seriously, say if Mayor Pilgrim wants to be tough he could prosecute all but midgets in the women's services—and they haven't many midgets.

For instance, official measurement of an average Wren's skirt is 16 inches above the ground. The CWAC are a little more daring with an average of 17 inches of ankle and leg showing. The Air Force WD's skirts are a prim inch below the knee, which, however, in most cases puts them under the ban.

An indignant Wren has written Police Chief Jean Robert of Hull to ask how the heck the sailor girls can visit their recreation camp on the Aylmer Road if they can't wear shorts and their regulation skirts are beyond the law.

In ancient Greece, it was believed that it grew warmer and warmer as you went south, and that if you went far enough you would die from the heat.

Herridge Confident of District's Future He Tells at Nakusp Reception

NAKUSP, B.C.—At a complimentary dinner tendered to Herbert W. Herridge in his own town Tuesday evening to congratulate him on his election as member for Kootenay West, between 60 and 70 guests sat down to a sumptuous repast.

J. W. Bailey was toastmaster.

The Chairman said he had known Mr. Herridge for many years and he felt that Mr. Herridge had passed through experiences to fit him for the task ahead.

Mr. Bailey mentioned "Bert's" early days in the town, his willingness to help in all civic projects. He spoke of Mr. Herridge as being one of the hard workers in helping to bring in the water system to the town and district, and of Herridge as a boy in the town band. He recalled his agricultural college days, and his volunteering for service in the First Great War.

PROUD TO BE ESLING SUCCESSOR

Mr. Herridge was given a great ovation as he stood up to respond. He said he would not be human if he did not feel somewhat proud to be the successor to Mr. Esling, who had for 20 years before his retirement as M.P. for Kootenay West been such a wonderful leader of the people and for the people.

Speaking of the town of Nakusp Mr. Herridge said: "Were I a millionaire I would again settle in Nakusp. The little town has great possibilities."

SEES BRIGHT FUTURE

He had confidence of the growth of the Arrow Lakes, and he urged the people of the Arrow Lakes to retain the steamers for the future growth of the district was assured the immensity of the proposed international development of the Columbia River for hydro reclamation and irrigation purposes involving use of the Arrow Lakes for water storage.

Kootenay and the Arrow Lakes the speaker said, were the focal point in the vast scheme of development for which surveys were being made. It would take several years, Mr. Herridge said, to get underway but would be one of the greatest things in British Columbia.

Mr. Herridge also spoke of the Nakusp natural hot springs, provincial park and the need of a road there.

Rural electrification, which was assured, would bring heat and light at cost of operation. Mr. Herridge also spoke of the growing of fruit and the possibilities for the farmer.

Camp Koolaree Alive as Young People Prepare for Season

Another camping season got under way at Camp Koolaree, eight miles East of Nelson, when a work party of young people under the direction of Mrs. Elva G. Kettlewell, left Nelson at 1:30 p.m., Friday. This group will be in camp until Monday, getting the camp site prepared for the Senior Boys Camp which will take over from July 3 to 11. One of their main projects includes the reshingling of several of the cabins. A further group of workers left Nelson on the Eastbound train Sunday morning.

For the first year in some time Camp Koolaree is going back to its pre-war schedule of five camps during the Summer season. There will be two boys' camps; Senior Boys, aged 13 and over, from July 3 to 11 and Junior Boys, aged 10 to 13, July 11-19. These two camps will be under the direction of Rev. Bob Morris of Nelson. Senior Boys will leave Nelson from the C.P.R. depot at 1 p.m. Tuesday, July 3.

From July 20 to 30 there will be a mixed Young People's camp. The theme speaker will be Rev. Bernard F. Ennals of Creston. He will be assisted by Mrs. Elva Kettlewell and Rev. Bob Morris.

Leaders at the two Boys' camps will include Rev. Rae Allen of Vancouver, recently returned from doing graduate studies in University of Toronto, Jock MacDonald and Richard Tyson of Trail, Donald Brown of Trail and Vancouver, George Hoover of Nelson and probably Rev. Plenty of Abuse as Time for Election Draws Near

By W. W. HERCHER

LONDON, July 1 (AP)— Great Britain, after seven-week political campaign in which almost every public figure in the United Kingdom received a good measure of abuse, will elect a new government next Thursday when an estimated 30,000,000 voters ballot to fill 640 seats in enlarged House of Commons.

The campaign was a big one because the Britons have abstained from general elections for almost 10 years. The last House of Commons was elected Nov. 14, 1935. Six of the intervening years have been spent at war, leaving no time for domestic quarrels.

The main fight in the campaign has been between the Conservatives, led by Prime Minister Churchill, and the Labor Party of Clement Attlee, Ernest Bevin and Herbert Morrison.

There are 1675 candidates in the field and only three are unopposed, indicating a determination of the parties to contest every constituency in which they have the faintest hope of winning.

The seeds of campaign acrimony were planted when Mr. Churchill resigned and formed a "caretaker Government" at the request of the King until an election could be held. The wartime coalition alliance broke up May 23, with each party accusing the other of desertion.

The campaign proceeded at a moderate pace until June 4 when Mr. Churchill, over the BBC, made the most controversial speech of the campaign—his attack on the Socialist policies of the Labor Party.

"I must tell you the Socialist policy is abhorrent to British ideas of freedom," the Prime Minister said. "I declare it to you from the bottom of my heart that no Socialist system can be established without a political police."

The speech brought a tremendous outcry from both the Labor and Liberal ranks, many calling it the gravest blunder of Mr. Churchill's long political career. Mr. Bevin quipped that the voice was Mr. Churchill's but the mind was Lord Beaverbrook's, Canadian-born Lord Privy Seal.

Since then in many places it has been a battle between Mr. Churchill's followers and those opposed to him. The Conservatives were aware that Mr. Churchill could draw many votes to his party because of his brilliant war leadership.

Out of the Prime Minister's temperate attitude toward Spain the Labor Party conceived a slogan which it used whenever possible: "A vote for Churchill is a vote for Franco."

Mr. Churchill plunged into the thick of it despite his age, raining oratorical blows on the heads of Messrs. Bevin, Morrison and Beveridge and charging repeatedly the Labor program aims at nationalizing the country's basic industries.

Echoes of the Prime Minister's controversial "Gestapo" speech, as it was dubbed, hardly had died away when the Labor Party leadership split on the question of foreign policy and the Conservatives jumped at the crevice.

The schism lay between Mr. Attlee, titular head of the Labor party, and Harold Laski, its chairman. At the time Mr. Churchill was arranging to have Mr. Attlee, as Leader of the Opposition, accompany him to the Big Three Conference in Berlin.

Prof. Laski stated publicly that the only condition under which Mr. Attlee could accompany Mr. Churchill was as an observer. Promptly 10 Downing Street released an exchange of letters between Messrs. Churchill and Attlee in which the latter stated "there was never any suggestion that I should go as a mere observer."

Mr. Attlee said he approved the unity of foreign policy which the Coalition Government had maintained through the last five years. Prof. Laski stated he did not believe in "continuity of foreign policy."

"When we win this election we want to be free in Socialist terms to make our policy for our own Socialist purposes," he declared.

The Conservatives seized on the disagreement to claim it proved the Labor Government would be one of caucus rather than a Parliament, with the party machine shaping policy.

Throughout the campaign all parties have seemed in agreement on what the nation needs. The question for the voters to decide is the means by which adequate housing, social security, employment, world peace will be achieved.

The outcome is extremely hard to judge and few predictions are being made. There are too many imponderables for a sound forecast. Or it is estimated that fully one-third of the anticipated vote 10,000,000 ballots, will come from people who attained their majority in the last 10 years and never have voted before. Even after the election the people will have to wait until July 26 for a declaration of the results, due to the necessity of collecting and counting the soldier vote.

Kimberley's Celebration Off to a Good Start; Jean Sims Rodeo Queen

KIMBERLEY, B.C., July 1—The setting is now perfect for Kimberley's big day, the First of July celebration. In spite of forebodings cast by weather prophets regarding the intentions of Old Sol after a week of heavy rain, sighs of relief echoed through the city as the sun broke through the clouds Saturday afternoon, to beam approval on the first events of the celebration, the rodeo and the Indian pow wow.

A capacity crowd was in attendance both at the afternoon and evening performances. The crowning ceremony was held toward the close of the evening, when Miss Jean Sims, who was sponsored by the Elks Lodge, proved to have captured the most votes over the other contestants, and was crowned the Kimberley Rodeo Queen of 1945.

A dance from 10 p.m. till midnight rounded out the first day of the city's Dominion Day celebrations.

Norwegians Celebrated "Allied Nations Day"

LONDON, July 1 (Reuters)—The people of Norway Saturday celebrated "Allied Nations Day" and gave thanks to the soldiers of the Allied armies for their liberation.

In Oslo 1500 servicemen—500 Britons, 500 Americans and 500 Russians—were pelted with flowers as they paraded through the streets before forming in a square to receive formal thanks from King Haakon.

The King took the salute from a stand on which he was accompanied by Air Chief Marshal Sir Arthur Harris, Gen. Omar Bradley of the American 12th Army Group, General Ratov of the Russian Army and Rear Admiral Risser Larsen of the Norwegian Air Force.

"Christian Science" Is Lesson Theme

"Christian Science" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday.

The lesson-sermon included the following passage from the Bible: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father." John 14: 12.

Among the selections from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, was the following: "Christian Science heals organic disease as surely as it heals what is called functional, for it requires only a fuller understanding of the divine Principle of Christian Science to demonstrate the higher rule."

Army Instructors to Return Home

OTTAWA, July 1 (CP) — Two hundred members of the instructional staff for Canada's Army force for the Pacific are expected to arrive from overseas by air within the next few days, it was learned Saturday.

A Defence spokesman said it was expected the men, all ranks, would land at an unnamed airport in United States, later proceeding to Montreal. They will be given 30-days leave, after which they will report to Barryfield, Ont., camp.

Count Marigny Appeals for Landing Permit

MONTREAL, July 1 (CP)—Rejection of an application by Count Alfred De Marigny for a landing permit has been appealed and the appeal has been forwarded to Immigration officers at Ottawa, it was learned Saturday.

Count De Marigny, formerly of Nassau, Bahamas, arrived in Canada first as an officer aboard a merchant ship and later was granted permision, on the grounds of illness, to extend the 30-day landing permission given ship's officers.

The landing permit sought now implies application for permanent resident, and as a permit applied for by a person not of Canadian citizenship who may be in Canada on a temporary basis. Should the permit be granted, the person may seek citizenship after residence of five years in Canada.

(In a dispatch June 25, The Canadian Press erroneously reported that it was an application for citizenship, rather than a landing permit, which had been rejected.)

Welcome to the Summer Bonspiel

The people of Nelson have today the pleasure of welcoming curlers from many places in Western Canada and some in the United States, to the novel experience of a bonspiel in July.

It will be an event of contrasts—ice and blanket-coated and berubbered curlers surrounded by Summer flower gardens, Summer greenery on the mountains, bathing scenes on the beaches, white-shorted tennis players, sweatshirted golfers and fishermen in all the glory of the search for the big Kootenay trout.

We know that the visitors will find Nelson a friendly city, and we hope that they will enjoy the recreation and entertainment that the natural beauty of the city and enterprising leaders in civic affairs and a cooperative citizenry can offer them.

Aircraft to Carry 10,000 British Soldiers a Month to India

Since the beginning of May, planes of the Royal Air Force Transport Command have been carrying troops to Poona from an airfield in the West of England. By Fall it is expected that considerably more than 10,000 troops a month will be arriving in India by air.

The R.A.F. has been working for over a year on the delivery of men, aircraft and equipment to the Far East. The six staging posts on the route now have big buildings, long runways, ample dumps of spares and petrol, overnight laundries and refrigerators to cool beer and preserve food. At the present time the troops are carried by Dakota aircraft, which take 22 men, but Yorks and Liberators will come into operation soon.

The 48-hour rest periods on the way enable the men to meet the sudden change in climate. One of these stops is made at Lydda in Palestine, where they can make sightseeing visits. Food and hot coffee and tea is provided on the planes, and each man is given two books for light reading during the flight.

Troops being sent to the Far East used to spend months at sea, but now the entire journey will take seven days, including the two 48-hour rest periods. When the ferry system is working fully, planes may be arriving at the Indian terminus every 10 minutes.

Horrible, but These Are Realities of German Policy

Belsen was staggering in its stench and horror to the British troops who entered it on April 15. There were 40,000 people still alive and 10,000 to 12,000 lying dead about the camp or amongst the living in the huts. Less than five weeks later 27,000 had been evacuated to the adjacent Panzer training school, whose brick barracks could house an army division, and the concentration camp was empty. Twentythree thousand bodies, including 13,000 of those who died after April 15, had been buried.

When the British arrived, the Panzer school housed 15,000 male internees from other camps, many Germans and Hungarians, and a German military hospital with several thousand patients. The British evacuated most of these, and transformed the school into a vast reception area with hospitals. This entailed creating a hospital city, organizing all supplies and public utilities, and resettling 30,000 internees.

By May 18, this city of 27,000 internees was a going concern and the concentration camp was almost wiped off the face of the earth. Four hospital areas comprising 13,000 beds were handling 11,800 patients. Three meals were served daily. A maternity home, a women's home filled by transfers from the maternity home, and a children's orphanage had been established. Those fit to return to their own countries were beginning to travel, and the 27,000 who five weeks before were on the verge of death had regained hope, though life must inevitably be short for many of them.

During the first 14 days all this work was done by 1600 British service personnel, later increased to 3000. They were advised by leading medical authorities, and used European labor, including many of the most capable of the Belsen internees. The S.S. guards—both men and women—who had been in charge of the camp were forced to collect the dead and drag them to mass graves. Some were made to cook for the inmates left alive. Among the British were nurses of Queen Alexandra's Imperial Military Nursing Service and six sections, men and women, of the British Red Cross Society. Though not asked to work among the horrors of the camp proper, the nurses and Red Cross women faced conditions only slightly less abhorrent when they received the first of the endless stream of diseased and emaciated people in the new hospital area. Ninety-six London medical students made sure that the sick and weak got their share of food, and the Swiss Red Cross also contributed. Some of the men of the Royal Army Medical Corps themselves became typhus cases.

The urgency of the task and the huge numbers involved necessitated the introduction of the Belsen "standard of fitness". A person was fit if able to collect his own food and maintain himself. The ordeal of starvation and disease had so lowered the moral values that the majority thought only of filling their own stomachs. Human decencies had almost disappeared. In such conditions the British servicemen strove night and day to bring order out of chaos, register, bathe, cleanse, reclothe, feed, house and gradually rehabilitate the hapless inmates.

MORE RENT QUESTIONS

When a Federal Government department took a five-year lease, at $412 a month, of property in Windsor which had previously been rented at $85 a month, it was at once recognized that the transaction was one which should be cleared up. Obviously, the increase in rental value of nearly 500 per cent involved two phases as to both of which the public was entitled to the full information.

The first and most important of these phases was why the property was so tremendously more valuable to a government department than to a private tenant. The political game being what it is, it is of the highest importance that the powers at Ottawa should demonstrate both that they were not using public funds for party patronage and that they were not playing ducks and drakes with the taxpayers' money. The second phase involved the apparent breakdown of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board control over rentals.

When the affair became public property, the W.P.T.B. was prompt to anounce that it would investigate the transaction. It has since done so, and has decided that under the established ceiling the Government may not pay the swollen rental which it was prepared to pay. It does not appear that the W.P.T.B. has explained how it was possible for the increased rental to be approved in the first place. Why the control failed to operate in the Government's case is a feature on which there should be information.

But as to the more important phase — the circumstances under which the Government was prepared to pay almost five times the original rental — there has been not the slightest information, nor is there any indication that the Government intends to offer any explanation. It is apparently to be allowed to go down with the purchase of the Gimli airport as one of the mysteries of the King Government's operations.—Toronto Telegram.

M. C., Creston—What can I spray my evergreens with to keep dogs away?

There are several commercial preparations that can be used for this purpose. These can be bought at most hardware stores.

T. R., Trail—Can you inform me as to what is meant by the statement as to a ship's tonnage? When a ship is said to be 10,000 tons, does it refer to the displacement of water, or is it the dead weight of the ship?

There are three kinds of tonnage in shipping, gross and register tonnage, displacement tonnage, and Thames tonnage. Gross and register tonnage are bracketed together, as the system of measurement is the same. It is the system on which all ships of the merchant service are surveyed. But when warships are referred to, it is displacement tonnage that is meant. British gross tonnage is the cubic capacity of all completely enclosed spaces on a ship with certain exceptions, notably cook house, wheel house, stern steering house, and one or two other small items. The ton on which the gross and net tonnage of a ship is based is not weight, but a measure of cubic space called "a ton of measurement" and meaning actually 100 cubic feet of room. Displacement tonnage is not "tons of measurement" but actual tons of weight.

R. A., Nelson—How much will a magnet lift?

A piece of hardened tool steel in the shape of a horse shoe can be magnetized to lift approximately 10 pounds per square inch. As the cross section is increased, the length must be increased proportionately to retain this strength per unit area.

Looking Backward

10 YEARS AGO

(From Daily News, July 2, 1935)

Developments of recent years are a striking fulfilment of the prophetic statement of Sir John Macdonald, Canada's first Prime Minister: "It will become year by year less a case of dependence on our part and of overruling protection on the part of the Mother Country and more a case of healthy gradual alliance."

After varying from 42½ degrees for nine Sundays, the water at Lakeside Park yesterday was recorded at 52½, three degrees higher than it had been under the float any previous Sunday this year.

25 YEARS AGO

(From Daily News, July 2, 1920)

Yesterday Sir Robert Borden announced his decision to lay down the Unionist Party leadership.

The greatest Zeppelin ever constructed, the L-71, was built with the intention of bombing New York, the Germans admitted when they delivered the plans to the British in compliance with the terms of the Peace Treaty.

40 YEARS AGO

(From Daily News, July 2, 1905)

The trial of the alleged C.P.R. train robbers was continued all day yesterday and at 12:45 a.m. the Jury were discharged as they could not agree. A new trial opened at 10 o'clock this morning.

Etiquette Hints

If a woman wishes to see that some service men have a good time at her favorite restaurant she can arrange matters with the restaurant ahead of time so that she pays the bill then, or that the bill is given her when she excuses herself from the table for a short time, so that the check is not presented at the table.

Words of Wisdom

By The Canadian Press

July 2, 1941—The largest contingent to date of Canadian troops, including a tank brigade, arrived in Britain. Heavy fighting developed in Minsk and Dvinsk areas on the Eastern front. The RAF attacked air bases at Beirut and Palmyra, Syria.

Smash Nazi Spy Rings, Holland

By RICHARD ROWLAND

WITH THE CANADIANS, The Hague, Holland, July 1 (Reuters)—The German spy rings in Holland have been smashed and the spy schools cleared out by Canadian, British and French counter-intelligence officers, but there are still some German agents and Dutch traitors at large.

Unconfirmed reports say that some of the tougher Dutch collaborators are hiding in bunkers and fortifications in the Scheveningen fortress area on the coast two miles from The Hague. This area is extensively mined and the accounts say the men have food and arms with which to hold out for three or four months.

Investigations now are being made there.

The sudden all-round collapse of Germany — particularly in the Southern German redoubt area—made easier the task of cleaning out the German agents and collaborators, as it deprived them of any central control point.

It is known that both German and Dutch members of the enemy spy ring were given instructions to conceal their lightweight radio transmitters, code books and instructions and to go into hiding.

The general belief is that if the few who have so far escaped are going to do anything it will not be for at least six months or a year.

No pattern of organized subversive activity is discernible at present. No threads leading to possible werewolf centres in Germany have been found.

It is not known how successful these German spy schools were, but that their training was not too good was proved by this incident:

Nine men from a German spy school in Friesland, Northwest Holland, attempted to join the throng of refugees and displaced persons which was streaming to the Canadian lines. Within 72 hours all nine had been caught by the Canadians. Each told something about the others—sometimes only a few details, but when the information was put together it was sufficient to prove that they were spies.

That the Field Security Service men picked all nine from thousands of persons shows how skilful they have become. They can't explain how they know. One Sergeant tol dme that he had developed a sort of sixth sense through long practice. "You sort of feel there's something wrong," he said.

16,000 Mines Cleared by Sweepers

LONDON, July 1 (Reuters)—The saga of the long, little-publicized struggle of British minesweepers during the war in Europe in which they swept up a total of 16,000 mines was disclosed by the Admiralty Saturday night.

The cost of this grim silent battle was 237 vessels. Of these 99 fell victim to mining and 68 to attacks from the air.

German minelaying, which on the night of May 1, 1941, less than a fortnight before the German assault in France, blocked five British and three French ports—Sunderland, Hartlepool, Middlesborough, Blyth, Dunkerque, Calais and Boulogne—had at the outbreak of war to be countered with about 56 minesweepers and 40 trawlers. Today, the statement said, 1350 minesweepers fly the British colors.

The seagoing personnel of the service has similarly increased from 2000 at the outbreak of the war to 50,000 now.

In September 1939 the Germans were believed to have about 100,000 moored contact mines to start their offensive. The first fields were moored in the area of the Humber, on Britain's East coast. Towards the first December of war, mines also appeared as far South as the Channel port of Dover, while German planes laid magnetic mines in the approaches to the Thames, to Bristol and off Swansea, on the coast of South Wales.

In January, 1940 losses reached the peak figure of 90,000 tons of shipping, but after that British counter measures took effect.

Fishing trawlers and paddle steamers were taken over by the Navy to play their part in the struggles. Around the end of 1943, the Germans changed the adjustment of their mines to make them explode under the sweepers themselves. Of the 67 vessels lost to mines during 1943, 29 were minesweepers.

The preparations for the Allied invasion of France last year brought an increase in German minelaying, and June 7, 1944, saw the launching of the most concentrated German mining attack of the war, the statement said.

Time Lost Due to Strikes Decreases

OTTAWA, July 1 (CP)—Time lost as a result of strikes in the first five months of this year was 74 per cent less than in the corresponding period of 1944, the Labor Department said Saturday.

Figures for the first five months of this year show 70 strikes involving 22,435 workers, with a time-loss of 79,035 man-days, compared with 91 strikes with 42,354 workers involved and a time loss of 308,760 man-days for the corresponding period in 1944.

Similarly, May, 1945, showed a sharp decrease in the number of strikes reported and man-working days lost as compared with May, 1944. There were nine strikes in May of this year, involving 3035 workers with a time loss of 6340 man-days as against 25 strikes involving 22,827 workers, with a time loss of 126,386 man-days for May, 1944. All strikes were reported terminated at the end of May.

B.C. MATERIALS IN NEW ALUMINUM COVERED BOXCARS

VANCOUVER, July 1 —Vancouver will have a look at Canada's newest and most spectacular freight car on Wednesday and Thursday.

The Canadian Pacific Railway's brand new aluminum-sheathed 50-ton box-car, one of three such units just added to the freight car fleet, will be on display both days at the local freight office at Pender and Abbot Streets.

Two tons lighter than modern steel-sheathed box cars of the same load capacity, the new aluminum car's gleaming exterior reveals interesting improvements in details designed for easy loading. Clear British Columbia fir lines the floor and walls of the interior and an inside ceiling of B. C. plywood provides perfect insulation with a further weight saving.

Relax Control on Newsprint, U.S.

WASHINGTON, July 1 (AP)—The War Production Board's newsprint control order will be relaxed by at least five per cent on July 1, Chairman L. H. Boren of the House Newsprint Investigation Committee said in a statement Saturday.

"This is based on agreements from Canada to give us an additional 10,000 tons a month," he said. "Other policies lead us to believe that it will be possible to relax another five per cent on Oct 1."

He said it is the Committee's "objective" to remove all controls over the use of newsprint as soon as it is assured that an adequate supply is available.

Salmon Fishing Tie-Up Ends

VANCOUVER, July 1 (CP)—Six-day-old tie-up of some 2000 Canadian West Coast sockeye salmon fishing boats was settled Saturday when canners and fishermen agreed on 1945 prices.

The season opened last Sunday midnight but the boats remained in port because no agreement had been signed. Fishermen were notified to begin fishing at midnight Sunday night.

Only obstacle to a signed agreement was a one-quarter cent a pound on the price for pinks and chums. Representatives of canners and fishermen both refused to give any details of the new agreement.

World Charter...

United Nations Made Stronger

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1 (AP)—The new world charter carries with it provisions which its authors believe will make the United Nations stronger than the old League of Nations in three important ways.

It was written in 63 days, often heavy with anxiety, in meetings where men sometimes angrily questioned each other's motives.

But now it is en route home, in the brief case of men from 50 nations, to seek the ratifications of as many parliaments. The 969 delegates and advisers who put it together start home with the satisfied feeling that the paper they have written will take the world one more step toward the universal goal: Peace secure for many years, and hopefully, peace forever.

The new strength of the United Nations lies first in their agreement here to pledge military forces which can be called up immediately a new war-maker starts to march. The old League only pledged cooperation, but it never knew what troops, ships and planes it could lay its hands on.

The United Nations' second strength lies in a provision which puts the full responsibility for keeping the peace, actually, into the hand of just five nations, "The Big Five": the United Kingdom, the United States, Russia, China and France.

In the old League 15 nations had to vote together, and the result was time-wasting talk.

The third new strength lies in provisions which will permit the 50 nations to go into all the economic, social, educational, humanitarian and health conditions which can make a people unhappy enough to fight.

These matters will be talked over in an economic and social council of 18 nations which will work with all the rest of the 50, and with the special international agencies set up to coordinate such activities as food, money, relief and reconstruction. The powerful position of this Council is largely due to the efforts of the Canadian delegation.

The old League had no such provisions; it entirely ignored the fact that seeds of war lie in economic and social ills.

The actual machinery of the United Nations will not be very different from the old League. There will be six working divisions to split up responsibilities.

They are:

1. The World Assembly. All 50 nations will sit in it, each with one vote. Here they can talk about anything that affects the peace, and can ask for reports from the other divisions, and pass on its ideas to the smaller, and important Security Council.

2. The Security Council. This will be the United Nation's actual "policeman"; a council of 11 nations, with the Big Five holding permanent seats, and the other six seats filled by nations elected for two-year terms. This is the group that will take the actual vote to put down a war-maker; They can try first for conciliation. Then, they can cut the trouble-maker off from world commerce. Last, they can call out the troops, ships and planes.

3. The Economic and Social Council. This group of 18 nations can investigate, and recommend action where there is hunger, shackling trade restrictions and transportation troubles.

This Council will act as coordinator for all future world agreements.

4. The World Court. It will give advice to all the United Nations' agencies, and will act as arbiter for any nations which ask advice in disputes.

5. The Secretariat. This is the actual working staff which will be headed by a Secretary-General who will have the right to call attention tto any threats to the peace, and thereby start off investigations by the Assembly, or the Security Council.

6. The Trusteeship Council. This is set up by a special charter in the charter devoted to the dependent people of the world. The charter pledges the mandatory powers to govern the areas so that the inhabitants have a chance for better living, and for "progressive' development toward free political instructions."

Russia, Czech Agreement No Surprise, London

By JON KIMCHE

LONDON, July 1 (Reuters) — The agreement signed in Moscow Friday night between the Czechoslovak and Soviet Governments came as no surprise in London diplomatic quarters. It obviously was the first item on the agenda of frontier questions to be settled.

It is expected that the National Assembly will approve of the transfer which will bring together all Ukrainians into the Soviet State. This is a matter of some importance for the Soviet Government for it does away with the danger of Ukrainian irredenta fostered from the outside.

This is what happened after the First Great War and before this war when first the Ukrainians in Poland and later also those in Ruthenia were incited by National Socialist and Fascist propaganda against the Soviet Government.

The loss to Czechoslovakia is not great since Ruthenia was probably more a liability economically than an asset. The transfer does, however, cut off Czechoslovakia from direct contact with Rumania and gives the Soviet Union and Hungary a joint frontier.

There still is no indication whether this will be the only territorial sacrifice the Prague Government has to make. Negotiations concerning Teschen are still in progress between Polish and Czech representatives, but the Soviet Government is taking no direct part in these.

There have also been reports—so far unconfirmed—of the possibility of a wider pact embracing all Slav States on the lines of the Chapultepec Regional Pact of the American States.

Authoritative British circles welcome the settlement as a natural agreement between friendly states which is fully understood in London.

Market Trends

NEW YORK, July 1 (AP)—Aviations, assorted Rails, Industrials and Utilities revived although laggards were plentiful.

Advances of fractions to around two points prevailed near the close. Transfers were in the vicinity of 600,000 shares.

CHICAGO—Grain markets were firm to strong, rallying to new highs near the close of the abbreviated session. Gains ranged from important fractions to more than two cents with wheat and rye leading the advance.

Buying by cash interests provided the best support and shorts covered in preparation for the weekend recess. A firmer stock market and reports of rain in the corn belt, where fair, warm weather is needed, also were factors.

Liquidation of July wheat was credited to one of the prominent local traders but during the final hour grain became hard to buy and most prices were bid up sharply.

At the finish wheat was ¾ to 1⅝ higher. Corn was unchanged to up 1. Oats were ⅛ to 1⅜ higher. Rye was up ⅝ to 3½. Barley was ¾ to 1⅛ higher.

WINNIPEG— Export business in Canadian wheat was confined to sale of 200,000 bushels for the United Kingdom. There was some inquiry for Canadian oats from Cuba and the United States.

In the coarse grains futures market rye prices showed considerable strength on buying by locals and for American account. There was also some pre-holiday coverings. Strength at Chicago stimulated buying in Winnipeg rye. Dealings were inactive until near the close when trading expanded.

LONDON (CP) — A message of sincere thanks for "the great friendship shown to every one of us by our comrades in arms of the Royal Air Force" was sent to the Air Council by Maj.-Gen. H. Riiser-Larsen, Air Officer Commanding-in-Chief, Royal Norwegian Air Force.

The double loss brought the Athletics' losing streak to 13 games.

Greenberg, playing left field in the opener, went hitless his first three times at bat but walked in the seventh inning, scored as Rudy York clouted a three-run homer off relief pitcher Louis (Bobo) Newsom. The Tigers scored six runs in that inning, sending Newsom to his 11th consecutive defeat.

Allie Reynolds was credited with his eighth victory in the finale.

In the first game Cleveland used 20 players as they whittled the Nats' 6-0 lead to a bare one-run margin.

Nelson Edges Trail Indians Here 13-12

Off to a bad start in the first inning of Sunday's ball game when they were on the short end of a 9-0 score, the Nelson Intermediate Rep baseball team made a surprising comeback as they slowly overcame the big Trail lead, tied it up, went down one, tied it again, and drove in the winning run in their last trip to bat for a 13-12 final score. There was another large crowd on hand to witness a game that contained some nice hitting and fielding.

Bill Stillwell gave the fans a big kick as he fooled four Trail boys on first base with the old hidden ball trick. Both squads used two hurlers. For Nelson Stillwell got off to a bad start in the first inning and after walking four, yielding five hits, he was relieved, and Anderson went to the mound. While he gave eight free passes to first besides hitting one batter, he struck out nine, but gave up only six scattered hits.

McNeil, a smooth working southpaw went the first five innings for the visitors, and was nicked for five hits. He fanned four, walked four, and hit two batters. Broman, Trail backstop, then took over the mound duties, and Nelson batters found his chucking more to their liking, as they collected nine hits. Broman walked two and struck out two, besides hitting one batter.

Ron Nash, John Harry and Stillwell hit two-baggers for the home team, and Clint McNeil hit one for Trail. For Nelson, Brosinoff, Bob MacDonald, Nash, Browell and Anderson came in with two runs each, and Doyle, Harry and Buzz MacDonald one each. Broman headed the Trail squad, bringing in three runs, Wilson and English got two each, while Tom Owens, McNiel, Wetmore, Roberts and Smith got one apiece.

Umpires were Carl Spence, Nelson, and Eugene Catalano, Trail.

Betty Jean Takes Title

VANCOUVER, July 1 CP) — Betty Jean Rucker, long-hitting golfer from Spokane, Wash., captured the women's Pacific Northwest Golf Association championship here Saturday when she defeated Mrs. Rena O'Callaghan of Vancouver five and four in the 36-hole final.

During the latter half of the contest the women matched shot for shot on the outgoing nine, both rounding the turn in 44, with Miss Rucker holding her five-up margin.

Mrs. O'Callaghan cut the lead to four on the 29th hole but that was her last win. Miss Rucker ended the match on the 32nd when she blasted out of a bunker to within two feet, to chalk up a birdie four as Mrs. O'Callaghan's putt rimmed the hole.

Vatican Impressed With Russ Move

VATICAN CITY, July 1 (AP)—The Soviet-Czechoslovak accord ceding the Carpatho-Ukraine to Russia has caused a "profound impression" in the Vatican, Msg. Enrico Pucci's unofficial news service said Saturday.

"Once again it is observed," the agency said, "that Soviet diplomacy perseveres in accords reached between two parties while the need for accords based on international agreement becomes ever more evident."

The service added that the accord "cannot pass unobserved from the Catholic viewpoint because large numbers of Catholics reside in the area."

Revenues for the same period were $432,635,387 as against $447,586,289. War expenditures for the two month period were $398,055,104 compared with $398,055,104 in 1944 but last year's figure included $177,600,000 subsequently transferred to the previous fiscal year.

Mutual aid showed a sharp increase at $225,934,443 as against $68,920,807. There was also a jump in expenditures on veterans affairs from $9,628,170 in the 1944 period to $23,339,224 for this April and May.

Nelson Blazes In for Seventh Straight Win

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO, July 1 (AP)—Byron Nelson, of Toledo, who thought a sprained back might keep him sidelined, roared to his seventh straight major tournament victory today as he fashioned a 13-under-par 275 to win the $10,000 Chicago Victory National open at Calumet Country Club.

Nelson overcame an injury suffered in a driving contest yesterday and a tournament jinx—he was an also ran in the past two Victory opens—to blaze through the final 36 holes with 68-70—138 for a 72-hole aggregate of 275.

JUG, LAFFOON TIE

Nelson's masterful finish left defending Champion Harold (Jug) McSpaden of Sanford, Me., and Ky Laffoon of Chicago, tied for second, seven strokes behind with 282.

Nelson, whose $2000 first prize gave him more than $28,500 in War Bond swag for 10 victories in 19 tournaments since Jan. 1, waited until the final 18 before he really turned on the heat.

Up to that point, McSpaden was making a brilliant title-defence, lagging behind Nelson by a single strike with a 206 aggregate at the 54-hole turn. The mechanical man hammered an eagle on the par-five 55th hole to go two strokes ahead of McSpaden and then Jug's goose was cooked when he took a woeful seven on the 57th while Nelson matched par four.

McSpaden's fade-out with a four-over-par 76, enabled Laffoon to sneak into a tie for the runner-up spot which paid off $1200 to each. Laffoon made the 54-hole turn with 212, six strokes behind the defending champion but rallied with a 34-36—70 down the home stretch.

Fourth place, paying $800 in War Bonds, went to Claude Harmon, Detroit pro, who finished with 139-70-74—283. Sgt. E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of Wright Field, Ohio and Toney Penna, Dayton, O., pro, were next with 284 each, the former closing with a three-under-par 69. Harrison and Penna received $650 each.

GRAVESEND, Kent, England — (CP)—Acting Sqdn. Ldr. R. A. M. Palmer, who won the Victoria Cross for going on to bomb his target with his plane afire and two engines out, now is known to have lost his life. He was reported missing after the attack.

Thumbs Up, Equalling Seabiscuit's Record, Wins Big-Money Race

By RUSS NEWLAND

ARCADIA, Calif., July 1 (AP)—Charging into the lead at the far turn and resisting all efforts of rivals in the stretch, Thumbs Up, even money favorite, won the 1945 Santa Anita $100,000 added handicap over a mile and a quarter Saturday by approximately half a length.

The time of 2:01 1-5 equalled the track record set by Seabiscuit in winning the 1940 renewal of the United States richest race.

Texas Sandman, 12 to 1 shot, ran second and Gay Dalton, the Mexican champion, closed with a rush for third.

The winner paid $4.00, $2.90 and $2.40. Texas Sandman rewarded backers with $6.10 and $3.70 and Gay Dalton, second choice of the bettors, returned $3.50.

Triplicate took the fourth position.

LONGDEN UP

Johnny Longden, 35-year-old riding veteran, born in Wakefield, England, and formerly of Taber, Alta., rode Thumbs Up masterfully. Holding the six-year-old bay son of Blenheim II out of the Man o' War mare, Gas Bag, just off the pace, he moved into contention as the field rounded the far turn.

Thumbs Up responded like a champion, coming up on the pace setting Stronghold and Victory Drive. Texas Sandman made its move at the same time. Gay Dalton, winner of Mexico City's largest stakes, also jumped into action.

As they hit the head of the stretch, Thumbs Up had the race under control, easily noticeable to the crowd. He was flying in the stretch. Texas Sandman hit hard but to no avail.

The favorite simply wasn't to be beaten.

The shirt-sleeved crowd of 55,000, considerably under the record throng of 76,649 last Memorial Day, made up in dollars what it lacked in size.

The mutuel handle of $791,837 set a new American record for a single race; $776,408 went through the machines in this year's Kentucky Derby. More than a third of the amount was bet on Thumbs Up.

Movie Magnate Louis B. Mayer's big winner took down $83,100 for his share. Texas Sandman earned $20,000; Gay Daolton, $10,000, and Triplicate, $5000.

Thumbs Up packed top weight of 130 pounds and handled it easily in chalking up its 17th victory in 43 starts.
