EMBARRASSMENT BRINGS DEATH TO 21-YEAR-OLD GIRL ON WAY UP AISLE TO MARRY CHILDHOOD SWEETHEART

INWOOD, N.Y., Oct. 7 (AP)—Rose de Fabrizio, 21, who waited through the war to wed her childhood sweetheart collapsed and died yesterday as she walked up the church aisle to become his wife.

Embarrassment over tripping over her train—and sheer happiness—caused her death, Dr. Alexander Vivona said.

"She had a rheumatic heart; the embarrassment of stumbling over her train was too much for it," he declared.

Her intended bridegroom, who waited in the vestry of Our Lady of Good Counsel Church wondering what had delayed the ceremony and unaware of her death, was John Mastunanatone.

John, an Army Medical Corps veteran, sat alone today in the bedroom of the home they had lovingly furnished. "I guess I'll sell the furniture," he said. "I could never sleep in this room."

Rose's father, Louis, was leading his daughter to the altar when she collapsed.

Her father carried her to the church steps, where Dr. Vivona and a fire department rescue squad tried, in vain, to revive her.

She will be buried Wednesday from the church where she was to have been married.

SAYS MRS. DICK RETURNED CAR BLOODSTAINED

Separate Trial for Wife of Torso Murder Victim

PLEAD NOT GUILTY

By ALAN RANDAL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

HAMILTON, Oct. 7 (CP) — The day her husband is alleged to have been slain, Mrs. Evelyn MacLean Dick borrowed a car and returned it late, bloodstained and dirty, a Crown witness testified today at the trial of the pretty 25-year-old widow on a charge of murdering her husband.

The witness was William (Bill) Landeg, Hamilton garageman, who said Mrs. Dick left a note of explanation, saying her daughter cut her face and had had to be taken to hospital in the car and that accounted for the blood.

Landeg had said much the same thing at Mrs. Dick's preliminary hearing last Spring when she, her father Donald MacLean, and her friend William Bohozuk, 27-year-old steelworker, were ordered for trial at the current assizes for the murder of John Dick.

TRIALS FOR 2 OTHERS

At that time though, the hearing was concerned with all three accused. Today, at the suggestion of the Crown, a separate trial was ordered for Mrs. Dick. Her father and Bohozuk will go on trial later, possibly next week if the young widow's trial ends by that time.

All three accused pleaded not guilty. They spoke firmly and answered "yes," emphasizing with a nod of the head, when asked if they were ready for trial.

Then the father and Bohozuk were returned to the jail while Mrs. Dick's trial got underway.

There was no mention today of additional murder charges faced by Mrs. Dick and Bohozuk for the slaying of the infant Peter David White MacLean whose cement incased body was found in a suitcase in Mrs. Dick's home.

MISS DEFENDANT

Nothing that had not already been brought out came up at today's proceedings. But nevertheless her appearances, brief as they were when she arrived at and departed from the courthouse, had all the earmarks and interest of a three-ring circus. Crowds fairly battled for a glimpse of her.

In early morning, hours before court opened, the courthouse lawns were dotted with groups waiting to see Mrs. Dick. They flocked to the back entrance for the arrival of Bohozuk and Mrs. MacLean, mostly got caught napping when Mrs. Dick herself was brought in the front door.

CIVIL SERVANTS TO SEEK PAY INCREASES

VANCOUVER, Oct. 7 (CP) — The British Columbia Civil Servants Association at its closing convention session Saturday decided to enter immediate negotiations with the Provincial Government for basic pay increases averaging 16¾ cents an hour.

The action came in a resolution noting the "sharp increase" in the cost of living and that members of Legislative Assemblies and the Dominion Parliament had increased members' indemnities.

Another resolution described the present Provincial system of paying cost of living bonuses "unfair" and urged that the Government be asked to pay all Government employees the bonus. It also described the present bonus as inadequate in view of increased cost of living.

3 Million Medals For Canadians

OTTAWA, Oct. 7 (CP)—Making medals has become big business since the war ended with something like 3,000,000 slated for eventual distribution to members of the Canadian forces.

At the moment the Royal Mint is producing Canadian Volunteer Service Medals at the rate of 2000 a day but that will be increased as more machine tools and presses become available. Until there is a stock of medals on hand the services are not receiving applications for the decorations.

Estimates are that apart from the C.V.S.M. and the War Medal there will be 765,000 decorations go to the Army; 164,000 to the R.C.A.F., 64,450 to the Navy and 6000 to the Merchant Navy. These will be made up of: 1939-45 Star, 287,500; Atlantic Star, 40,000; Aircrew Europe Star, 12,000; France and Germany Star, 185,000; Italy Star 107,000; Africa Star, 12,000; Burma Star, 5200; Pacific Star 8250 and Defence Medal 342,000.

To accompany the Volunteer Medals 625,000 clasps are being made in recognition of overseas service, although immediate requirements are only expected to be 575,000.

IMPROVEMENT IN BACON SITUATION SMALL

OTTAWA, Oct. 7 (CP)—Agriculture Department sources said today there was little prospect, for some months at least, of improvement in the quantity and quality of bacon being sold for home consumption.

They pointed out that Canada, because of her declining hog production, was having trouble meeting her contract to supply Britain with 350,000,000 pounds of bacon this year and likely would experience similar difficulty in 1947.

Ottawa States Nelway Change Not Warranted

Extension of hours at Nelway is not warranted, the Board of Trade has been advised by P. L. Young, Assistant Deputy Minister for Customs, Ottawa. The Board last Friday decided to press for later closing hours at the Nelway customs office in view of the shift of traffice through the port. The shift occurred when the Northport bridge was condemned, necessitating halting of traffic through Paterson, South of Rossland.

Mr. Young's wire received Monday said, "if conditions change and United States Customs at Metaline operate to 11 p.m., similar hours will be observed Nelway."

Pressure for extension of hours at Nelway will be maintained. In the meantime, an Interior Stages bus is operating daily between Salmo and Spokane with connections to Nelson and Trail, while Greyhound Lines' Vancouver bus is travelling over the Cascades.

SUSPICIOUS OF FOUL PLAY IN DIAMOND DEATH

VIRDEN, Man., Oct. 7 (CP) — Royal Canadian Mounted Police reported today they are holding one man for questioning in connection with the death of H. C. Diamond here yesterday.

The 50-year-old Belleview, Man., grain buyer was found lying in a ditch near the Exhibition Grounds.

A preliminary investigation by Dr. H. S. Harris, District Coroner, indicated carbon monoxide poisoning as the cause of death. In addition, Diamond had a black eye and there were scratches about his face.

Police said the autopsy was not complete and the carbon monoxide theory would be checked further. Reports said Diamond's automobile was not found anywhere near his body.

Inspector C. W. Harvison of the R.C.M.P. Winnipeg Division, indicated there was a definite suspicion of foul play. He refused to divulge the name of the man being held and said no charge has been laid against him.

STRIKE COSTLY TO FARMERS

EDMONTON, Oct. 7 (CP)—Agricultural produce moved over highways and district market roads in Alberta and Saskatchewan without hindrance from picket lines for the first time since Sept. 6 today as the delivery strike by an estimated 50,000 Western farmers was suspended indefinitely.

Dealers predicted the supply situation would soon be back to normal, particularly in small Northern Alberta towns that bore the brunt of strike shortages.

A.F.U. officials said it was too early to make an accurate estimate of the strike cost to farmers. They said heaviest losses might be sustained by livestock producers who withheld deliveries during the strike. Hog prices took a sharp drop just before the strike was halted and a decline in other livestock prices is predicted.

Dairy farmers taking part in the strike also found the strike costly. A large number fed milk to their hogs. The majority cut their losses by churning cream into butter and holding it for sale after the end of the strike. A number also made lard.

ONLY 3 FILED IN MANITOBA BYELECTION

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, Man., Oct. 7 (CP)—Liberal, C.C.F. and Progressive Conservative candidates will fight it out October 21 for the House of Commons seat made vacant by the death last May of Harry Leader, Liberal Member for Portage la Prairie.

When nominations closed today, only the names of Sidney Coulthard, C.C.F. representative, Jaffray S. Wood, Liberal, and C. C. Miller, Progressive Conservative, had been filed with Returning Officer William Stewart.

Rev. Harold L. Henderson, Minister of First Presbyterian Church here, who had been reported as considering running as an Independent, announced before the deadline that he would not be a candidate.

COAST WRESTLER JAILED, CHARGED IN KIDNAPPING

Officer Injured In Scuffle Near Girl's Home

MOTHER HURT

LADNER, B.C., Oct. 7 (CP) — Oliver Cote, 30-year-old Air Force veteran and former Vancouver wrestler, tonight is in Oakalla jail charged with abduction of 16-year-old Rita Wilson from her home here early Sunday.

He is also charged with assaulting Constable Bud Dennis, who suffered severe head injuries in a scuffle with Cote who resisted arrest after he had been cornered in the bush near the Wilson home.

Police charged that Cote dragged the girl from her home, threatened her with death, and assaulted her after forcing her into an automobile. She escaped when the car stalled. Her mother, Mrs. Ben Wilson, in attempting to rescue her daughter, was also badly beaten.

Cote, who has been remanded on $1000 bail until Oct. 15 for preliminary hearing, had been drinking, police reported. They said a quarrel developed when Cote demanded "a drink" and, then tried to force Rita to go for a car ride.

Fire Prevention Week Opens With City Inspections

The Nelson Fire Department's plans for Fire Prevention Week got under way Monday with lectures and fire drills at the Nelson High School, St. Joseph's Academy and the Central School. Routine drill brought a few laughs along with it at Nelson High, where one boys' class was in the shower room changing for track meet practise when the fire alarm rang. Following strict regulations, all "escaped" in a wide variety of attire—including towels.

The Kootenay Lake General Hospital also came in for a thorough inspection and regular drill.

ASK FEDERAL REVISION OF LABOR LAWS

VANCOUVER, Oct. 7 (CP)—The Vancouver Board of Trade has submitted recommendations to the Federal Government urging revision of Provincial and Federal labor laws in Canada "to protect more effectually rights and interests of employees, employers and the public."

In a petition to both Dominion and Provincial Cabinet ministers and President of City Labor Councils, the Board holds that many illegal strikes in Canada have been promoted by "persons with political beliefs opposed to Canadian and economic democracy."

It asks that procedures of the secret ballot and full referendum be required on all major decisions in union affairs, and in the holding of strike votes.

CLAIMS GOEBBELS' WIFE BORE HITLER A SON

MUNICH, Germany, Oct. 7 (AP) — Mrs. Otto Meissner, wife of Hitler's former Secretary of State, said today that Hitler had a son by the wife of Propoganda Minister Goebbels.

The son was born in March, 1933, and died in the suicide of the Goebbels family in the last days before Berlin's fall in the Spring of 1945, Mr. Meissner said in an interview.

Goebbels knew Hitler was the child's father and "took advantage of this knowledge," she said, but otherwise the fact was kept so secret "I am the only survivor who knows it."

Hitler's son was named Helmuth and was the result of a romance between the Nazi Fuehrer and Goebbels' attractive, ash-blond wife, Magda, while both were vacationing on the Baltic Sea in the Summer of 1934, Mrs. Meissner said.

"At that time Mrs. Goebbels was on bad terms with her husband," she said, "and Goebbels spent only his weekends at Heiligendamm, while Hitler lived there constantly for two or three weeks.

"Mrs. Goebbels loved Hitler's child especially. Hitler, too, maintained an active interest in his son, remembered his birhdays, gave him presents, and invited him to parties. Even when his interest turned to other women he did not lose interest in the child."

Mrs. Meissner, who claims to have seen the child often, said "his similarity to Hitler in appearance was obvious. Helmuth's head and eyes were the same as his father's."

Donated Skin

CHICAGO, Oct. 7 (AP)—His body covered with more than 200 square inches of skin donated by his parents and six other donors, 4-year-old Melvin Snyder was recovering today from burns he suffered while playing with matches.

The skin grafting was performed August 15, when the boy hovered between life and death with 60 per cent of his body covered by burns.

Ready for Heavenly Fireworks

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 7 (AP)—Harvard astronomers set up their telescopes today in anticipation of a heavenly fireworks display due to start Tuesday night in the form of thousands of falling meteors.

The University observatory said the display would be "one of the largest in astronomical history" and would extend through Thursday.

Bing Crosby Not Prospective Resident Here

Bing Crosby, radio-movie star, is not negotiating for the North Shore estate of the late S. G. Blaylock.

Speculation around Nelson for several days has had it that the famous singer was in this District. Then it was reported he had offered $80,000 for the well known residence, but The Daily News learned Monday that the rumor was completely unfounded.

The rumor had spread to Spokane, the Spokesman-Review sending a query by wire as to the truth of the report.

A number of residents were supposed to have seen Crosby, but only the people "who heard" about it could be located. He was in Cranbrook some months ago, however, while en route to Jasper National Park where the scene was laid for his latest film.

Stories that he had registered at a hotel in Nelson last week, and that he attended mass at Cathedral of Mary Immaculate were also denied.

Smuts Eases Paris Tension

By ROSS MUNRO
Canadian Press Staff Writer

PARIS, Oct. 7 (CP Cable) — The speech of Field Marshal Smuts before the plenary session of the Peace Conference appears to have contributed to a notable lessening of tension here as the Conference races toward its conclusion.

The view expressed today by the 76-year-old South African Prime Minister that the Conference has been successful had an important impact on many delegates, some of whom had become completely cynical about its progress.

A British spokesman applauding the speech said it was the address "of a thoughtful man who never allows himself to get too close to the Conference."

"There are a lot of delegates here who cannot see the woods for the trees and this has led to a lot of cynicism and defeatism.

The Canadian delegation also seemed more cheerful than previously. Most Canadians feel the Council of Foreign Ministers will accept a good many recommendations from the Conference. The earlier impression was that the Foreign Ministers would write their own peace and that practically no recommendations from the Conference would carry any weight with them. (See story on page 3.)

Claim Attlee Has Not Answered Truman's Message

LONDON, Oct. 7 (CP)—Informants at 10 Downing Street said today President Truman had not yet answered Prime Minister Attlee's last communication on Palestine and that the message "called for a reply."

Mr. Truman asked Britain Friday to open Palestine at once to "substantial" Jewish immigrations.

PONDER BRITISH LABOR-TORY COALITION

Feel Churchill May Consider Union a National Necessity

CHALLENGES SEEN

By FRASER WIGHTON

LONDON, Oct. 7 (Reuters)—On the eve of Parliament's reopening Tuesday, some British political observers are asking whether the Conservative opposition envisages a coalition with the Labor Party at some future date.

They point to opposition leader Winston Churchill's references at the Blackpool Conservative convention to subjects upon which the two parties are on common ground — their anti-Communism, their broad agreement on foreign policy, particularly in reference to Britain's association with the United States and her desire for friendship with Russia, and their like mind on some social legislation.

Students of the political scene wonder whether Mr. Churchill, perhaps thinking his party may be unable to regain its former strength within the space of a single Parliament, anticipates the coalition of Conservatives with their chief adversaries as a possible national necessity.

Some underline Mr. Churchill's repeated accusations that Labor ended the wartime coalition Government and also his thought at Blackpool that "if only the Government would devote itself to national rather than party aims," many benefits would result.

ALTERNATIVES AROUSE TALK

Mr. Churchill followed his denunciations of the nationalization schemes by suggesting an alternative that seemed to go some way towards socialist thinking—that is, profit-sharing schemes and intimate employer-employee consultation in industry. This point has aroused much speculation.

Whatever the long-term thoughts of the Conservative leadership, it is certain that its immediate policy will be one of tooth-and-nail opposition to the Labor Government. This is particularly the case as regards measures of socialist legislation, such as the impending nationalization of the gas and electricity supply industries and so far as controls and strict rationing are concerned.

Meanwhile the Labor Government, having got its second wind, will need it all for the coming Winter which will see several challenges to its prestige.

Explosion Imperilled Observers at Arctic Outpost; Average Temperature Eight Below; Coal Price $150 a Ton

By JACK GRAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, Oct. 7 (CP) — The three-month Arctic night had settled over the bleak outpost at Arctic Bay on the Northern tip of Baffin Land. Outside, where the temperature hovered around 30 below zero, no movement disturbed the stillness except when an occasional shadow flitted across the light pouring from the windows of the Dominion meteorological observation building.

Suddenly there was a terrific flash and an enormous roar. The entire building shook. With shocked, incredulous exclamations the group of five men and one woman inside the building hurried out. A fierce glare greeted them. A nearby building holding cylinders of hydrogen for inflating weather balloons had exploded into bits.

The flames began to spread as Eskimos came running to the scene. The walls of the observation building began to get scorched.

"That was the most memorable experience of my three years in the Arctic," recalled senior radiosonde technician Hugh R. Longfield in an interview here today. "It could have been bad. The threatened building held all our belongings and supplies.

"No more would be available until the Arctic supply ship Nascopie arrived in the Spring—and this was November. We would have had to get along on what we could obtain from the Hudson Bay Company trading post and the Roman Catholic mission."

SNOW QUELLS FLAMES

With blanched faces the men began shovelling snow on the flames. Eskimos gathered around to add their handfuls. Finally the fire diminished, flickered and went out.

Due precautions now have been taken and the hydrogen is housed a distance from the meteorological building. But so important is this lonely outpost of civilization, 1000 miles from the North Pole, that new supplies of hydrogen were flown in.

Longfield, 34, with junior technician Harold Serson, 20, of Ottawa, and Mr. and Mrs. John Gillis of Edmonton, is back in Toronto to report to headquarters. They arrived at Montreal on the Nascopie last week when the Dominion Government vessel returned from her annual supply voyage to Arctic outposts.

Among the supplies the Nascopie took "down North" was the coal for the pot-bellied stoves which heat the six buildings at Arctic Bay. It took 30 tons last Winter when the temperature went down to 62 below. (The average yearly temperature is eight below zero.) Incidentally, the coal costs $150 a ton up there.

But Longfield shrugged off the idea of cold.

"We used to go around from building to building in our shirtsleeves in sixty below weather," he said. "I guess it's because your blood gets thicker."

Hurricane Endangers $150 Million Crop

Thousands on Florida Coast Seek Shelter; Reports 130 M.P.H. Winds

HAVANA, Oct. 7 (AP)—The hurricane which whipped across the extreme West end of Cuba late Sunday night and this morning caused damage to fruit and tobacco crops estimated at $2,000,000. Up to tonight, no fatalities had been reported in the wake of the storm.

Latest reports from Pinar Del Rio City, capital of the province, said several persons were slightly injured in the hurricane area when three flooded rivers washed away huts and farmers' flimsy houses.

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 7 (AP)—A vicious tropical hurricane, officially reported to contain 125-mile winds, spun like a meteorological buzz saw along the Florida West coast tonight, sending thousands of persons scurrying for shelter.

The Federal storm warning service caused hurricane flags to be hoisted along the West coast from the Florida Keys to Cedar Keys and ordered additional warnings up from Melbourne to Fernandina on the East coast.

Although 120 miles Southwest of Fort Meyers at 3 p.m. C.S.T., the centre of the storm was headed for the Tampa Bay area, the most populous section of the Florida West coast. Tampa, St. Petersburg, Bradenton, Clearwater, Palmetto and smaller communities were in its indicated path. The storm was expected around midnight.

This area also contains a rich "Gold Coast" from St. Petersburg Beach and Pass-a-Grille to New Port Richey, with palatial waterfront homes, hotels and beach cottages.

EVACUATE AREAS

Beach residents on both coasts were advised urgently to evacuate the exposed areas as the spinning winds began to sweep the West coast.

A terrific economic blow was impending as winds began to shake citrus groves whose trees now hold Florida's $150,000,000 orange, grapefruit and tangerine crop. Fruit shaken to the ground now would be virtually a total loss.

FLIES THROUGH STORM

Lieut. A. W. Eyrd of the Navy's weather group flew through the eye of the storm at 1 p.m. and reported 130 mile winds. The Weather Bureau listed the velocity as upward of 100 miles an hour.

An Army B-29 flew on a history-making mission over the top of the swirling hurricane, to make observations, recordings and photographs for the first time from above its 30,000-foot or higher peak.

Meanwhile, Pan American Airways joined Army and Navy air stations in flying planes out of the storm zone.

All scheduled flights into Miami were cancelled.

Army and Navy planes were flown to Jacksonville—where hurricane warnings also are on display now—and to Georgia and Alabama air fields.

Coast Guard pilots flew into the teeth of the rising winds to see that every vessel in the danger area was warned.

SUN SHINES IN STORM CENTRE

MOBILE, Ala., Oct. 7 (AP)—The Army's "Hurricane Hunters" flew into the "eye' of the vicious storm sweeping toward the Florida coast today and found the sun shining.

"We just relaxed and ate lunch in the middle of the thing," said Capt. Wilber Grisham of the seven-man Army B-25 crew.

Grisham called the sight "one of the strangest I have ever seen."

"Usually in the centre of hurricanes," he explained, "we have heavy rains but this afternoon it was almost completely dry with sunshine and scattered clouds."

BISMARCK, N.D., Oct. 7 (AP)—A snowstorm which covered Western North Dakota with a five-inch blanket Sunday was sweeping Eastward late today, interrupting bus and airline schedules.

Northwest Airlines flights Westward were held up at Fargo, on the Minnesota-North Dakota border, while Mid-Continent Airlines cancelled two flights today.

Sleet in extreme Eastern North Dakota made highway travel hazardous.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 7 (CP) —Snow blanketed Southeastern Saskatchewan and Southwestern Manitoba during the weekend.

A 10-inch fall at Sifton, Man., accompanied by a high wind, disrupted traffic. Drifts at Virden, Man., made roads almost impassable and put telephones out of commission.

There was a light fall in Winnipeg early today.

Plans Rolling For Gala Nelson Jubilee

Nelson next year will mark its 50th year as an incorporated city. Plans for a gala celebration are afoot.

To get the ball rolling is the job alloted to a City Council committee, named by Mayor N. C. Stibbs. The committee of T. S. Shorthouse, A. H. Allan and T. D. Rosling has power to add to its number.

An effort will be made to bring all groups and persons interested into support of the celebration plans. An invitation is out for all ideas that may be worked fittingly into the commemoration schedule.

Nelson Board of Trade will be approached to direct the publicity campaign through its publicity committee.

Lolos Allow Two To Search For Captured

CHUNGKING, Oct. 7 (AP) — A friendly Lolo tribesman and a Chinese General's aide—the only two permitted by hostile natives to pass —were searching the wilds of Western China today for an American pilot and 31 other persons reported held by Lolos since their Chinese airliner crashed Sept. 20.

A Lolo family near a village called Ahbululuboo had taken charge of the passengers, all of whom reportedly had survived the crash without serious injury, the General reported. The family, he added, had "tried their best to protect them." General Ho spealed to Chungking for salt, cloth and medicines, presumably so rescuers might be able to barter their way into the mountains and perhaps ransom captives.

MARSHALL ASKS 10-DAY TRUCE TO REOPEN TALKS

NANKING, Oct. 7 (AP)—A Chinese Press report from Shanghai today said Gen. Marshall had proposed a 10-day truce in China's civil war to permit reopening of deadlocked peace negotiations. Such a move would indicate the United States special envoy was eager to halt fighting before government troops seize the key Communist city of Kalgan, in Chahar Province, and use it as a bargaining point in new negotiations.

The Nanking newspaper Hsin Min Pao, attributing the Marshall report to "circles concerned," said Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek had agreed to the truce.

Believe Subsidy For Dosco Under Discussion

SYDNEY, N.S., Oct. 7 (CP) — Efforts to get Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation's Sydney mills back into operation shifted to Ottawa tonight as officers of the United Steel Workers learned that Dosco officials had been in conference with Reconstruction Minister Howe.

Union Secretary J. C. Nicholson said the U.S.W. local here was advised this afternoon that Dosco officials had met Mr. Howe to talk over "the added cost" of the 13-cent wage increase the Union had approved last week.

The specific subject under discussion at Ottawa was not disclosed but it was believed in Union circles that the meeting involved discussion of a possible subsidy to help Dosco pay the increased wages.

FIND BARS CUT IN SEATTLE JAIL

SEATTLE, Oct. 7 (AP) — Sheriff Harlan S. Callahan revealed today that bars of a King County jail cell holding two condemned murderers, a "lifer" and a man facing trial for murder were found cut in a routine cell "shakedown" last Wednesday.

The discovery, Callahan said, was kept secret in the belief that an outsider had helped on one of the bars. After shadowing a suspect for several nights, however, the Sheriff said he is now satisfied the bars were cut from the inside.

Callahan identified the prisoners as:

John Richard Lindsey, 24, ex-paratrooper under life sentence for the slaying of Erwin Bufford Tiffany March 19; Richard C. Britton, 28, under sentence to hang for the robbery murder Dec. 13 of Clayton W. Stockberger, shoe store manager; John Henry Clark, 25, Negro, under sentence to hang for the murder Oct. 27, 1945, of Sam Katz, merchant; and Charlie Perry, 30, charged with the slaying of Willie Murdock, Sept. 1.

Jailors said they found several nooses made by ripping strips from mattresses in the cell as well as several table spoons which had been ground in the floor to razor sharpness.

NO EARLY BREAD PRICE RISE LIKELY

Prices Board Head Confers With Bakery Officials

NO REQUEST

OTTAWA, Oct. 7 (CP)—There is no immediate possibility of an increase in the price of bread to the consumer, Chairman Donald Gordon of the Prices Board, told reporters today after a closed meeting with officials of the National Council of the baking industry, holding a two-day conference here.

He added that there also would be no relaxation of wartime controls or price increase of bakery products as a result of his conference with the baking officials, which was in the nature of a general discussion on the problems of the industry.

Attention was being given, he said, to the possibility of the return of sliced bread for consumer delivery, one of a number of peacetime innovations which were eliminated during the war.

While the Council made no formal request for an increase in bread prices, Mr. Gordon indicated the price line would be held indefinitely at its present level. This varies in different Provinces, depending on the size of the loaf. In Ontario, where a 24-ounce loaf is standard, the price is 10 cents.

WANT PRICE LIKES

OTTAWA, Oct. 7 (CP) — Representing the Dairy Farmers of Canada, a delegation of cheese and milk producers today conferred with officials of the Agricultural Prices Support Board and the Food Board.

The delegation, headed by W. O. Coon of Elgin, Ont., President of the Ontario Cheese Producers asked that "something be done to raise prices of cheese, concentrated milk products and butter to satisfactory price levels more in line with other farm products today."

MONTREAL, Oct. 7 (CP) — A delegation representing the Montreal North-End Housewives Association and the Central Consumers League called on Mayor Camillien Houde at City Hall today to protest the increase in the price of milk, but the Mayor told them it was not a civic matter.

"If your quarrel is with the Provincial Government, go there," he told them. "If it is with the Federal Government, go there."

CALGARY, Oct. 7 (CP)—A special meeting of the executive of Calgary Restauranteurs' Association decided to make representations to have higher prices allowed for milk sold in cafes.

Odlum Says Peace for China Discouraging

SHANGHAI, Oct. 7 (AP) — Prospects for a peaceful settlement of China's civil war in the foreseeable future are "very discouraging," Canadian Ambassador Maj. Gen. Victor Odlum said here today before leaving to report to his government. He said he did not see the situation in China as leading to a Third Great War, but if such a conflict is in the making, "the situation in China will become a very important factor in it."

"If China were to become powerful but not democratic," he declared, "she would be a danger to the rest of the world."

Odlum said his return to China would depend on forthcoming consultations with his Government.

Windsors Leave Friday for Britain

PARIS, Oct. 7 (Reuters) — The Duke and Duchess of Windsor will leave for London by train next Friday and will stay "several months" with Lord Dudley at Sunningdals, Berkshire, the Duke told correspondents today. Later plans are uncertain, he said.

The Duchess has not visited England since the abdication although the Duke came to England last January for private reasons. Lord Dudley is a personal friend of the Duke.

Five Killed When Plane Crashes School Building

APELDOORN, Holland, Oct. 7—At least four boys were killed and several were injured when a military plane crashed into a school building today and set fire to a hall in which about 25 students were doing gymnastics. The pilot of the single-seater plane, also was killed.

The plane's left wing ripped a hole in the roof of the gymnastics hall. Burning gasoline poured into the hall, setting afire the boys' clothes.

OXFORD, Mass., Oct. 7 (AP)—The entire population of this small industrial town — 5100 men, women and children — today became "guinea pigs" in a four-month experiment to check the spread of diabetes.

Officials of the United States Public Health Service, in charge of the survey, said it was "the first time in the world" a whole community would be tested for diabetic symptoms.

Journey From North Rugged For Cartmels

Pleasure over being able to visit Nelson and over its building activity was expressed by John Cartmel, former Government Agent here, who was a guest of Nelson Gyro Club Monday night. Other guests were N. J. Lowes of Regina, former City C.P.R. Ticket Agent here, and W. Gosnell, Passenger Representative, C.P.R., Vancouver.

Mr. Cartmel described his experiences while relieving as Government Agent at Telegraph Creek and Atlin, scenes of his younger days. Telegraph Creek was his first Government Agency. Mr. and Mrs. Cartmel are to make their home in Vancouver, where their sons Warren and Edward reside with their families.

He also told of a harrowing experience they endured on their return to Vancouver from Northern B.C. While on a river steamer, engine trouble developed, and the ship drifted helplessly toward a canyon. Finally a crew member hit upon the idea of dropping an engine overboard, linked to the ship by a cable, and this slowed the boat, which eventually drifted onto a sand bar.

They were marooned in bitter cold for 10 hours, with little fuel for fire, but fortunately another steamer which had altered its schedule came to the rescue. They had missed their connection at Wrangel as a result, however, and decided to take a plane. While debarking from the plane, Mrs. Cartmel slipped and broke several ribs in her resulting fall.

The trip, incidentally, began on Friday, Sept. 13.

TOAST and TEA

BY J. V. McARTHUR

Cecil Rhodes made seven wills before he produced one that promised to realize his dearest hopes. Here is an extract from the first one in which his aim is clearly defined: "The extension of British rule throughout the world, the perfecting of a system of emigration from the United Kingdom and of colonization by British subjects of all lands wherein the means of livelihood are attainable by energy, labor and enterprise, and especially the occupation by British settlers of the entire continent of Africa, the Holy Land, the valley of the Euphrates, the islands of Cyprus and Candia, the whole of South America, the islands of the Pacific not heretofore possessed by Great Britain, the whole of the Malay archipelago, the seaboard of China and Japan, the ultimate recovery of the United States of America as an integral part of the British Empire, the consolidation of the whole Empire, the inauguration of a system of colonial representation in the Imperial Parliament; . . . and finally the foundation of so great a power as to hereafter render wars impossible and promote the best interests of humanity."

Rotary Told of England During Black Years

G. R. Bone, Nelson Police Chief and newest member of the Rotary Club, told fellow members at their regular luncheon meeting in the Hume Monday, of his impressions of England while in service there during the war year.

Speaking of how Londoners were affected by the wartime difficulties, Mr. Bone told of the British rations, stating that it was the poor people who sufefred most through the food distribution. The servicemen and the wealth classes could, he explained, eat at restaurants every week-day, and thus save their ration coupons for the weekend.

The severe air raids and the rocket bombings of London were handled in an amazingly efficient manner, he stated, mentioning one instance in which he witnessed eight roof fires burning in one street after a strong raid on the city. "It was no time before all these fires were out," he stated, exemplifying England's effective fire service system, which was under National cotnrol during the war years. The city police were equally effective during raids and blackouts.

Talking of the lighter side of England at that time, Mr. Bone described the beautiful English countryside, and the old buildings, statues, courts and parks he saw throughout the country, as well as the dog shows, horse races and sports events he attended.

Smooching Taboo In Quebec During Autumn

MONTREAL, Oct. 7 (CP)—As far as the Quebec Health Department is concerned, smooching is definitely taboo during the current autumn season. The Department warns that the season of common colds is here and one of the most effective methods of passing on the cold is "by kissing upon the mouth." Says the Department:

"If a person must be kissed, let it be upon the cheek and never upon the mouth."

Nelson Kiwanis Sets Up Board Of Directors

MR. L. Craig, President of the Nelson Kiwanis Club, told fellow members of the establishment of a Board of Directors which will manage the affairs of the group as well as handle suggestions from the individual members. This announcement was made Monday evening at the supper meeting in the Golden Gate.

Election date of Nelson Kiwanian officers for the coming term was set for Oct. 28.

After a lengthy discussion of plans for sponsoring activities for Nelson youths, C. H. Marshall suggested that the Club include in these plans the city's aged people, those, he explained, whose pensions were not enough to meet their need. With the approval of the club, Mr. Marshall was appointed to decide on the exact work that the club will sponsor, based on the Kiwanian motto, "We Build."

Next week's meeting was postponed until Oct. 21.

Trail Council Plans Protest of Road Difficulty

TRAIL, B.C., Oct. 7—Trail City Council Monday at the bi-monthly meeting, with acting Mayor William Thompson in the chair, passed a motion that the Council draw up a strong resolution of protest to the Minister of Public Works regarding the present difficulty in reaching Trail from the South by road, and request that the Department take immediate steps to rectify the situation.

A copy of the resolution will be sent to J. L. Webster, M.L.A. for Trail-Rossland.

The Council was informed by Arthur Gordon, representing a local committee, that a drive for funds for a B.C. war memorial would commence Oct. 26, and asked for support from the City Council. The request was taken under consideration.

Trade licence applications approved were those of W. M. Robertson, painting and decorating; William Vance, photographer; R. McNeil, woodwork; M. Morris, rooming-house; Pauline Walker, hair dresser; E. J. Melatini, taxi business.

BONUSES PAID MEMBERS OF RUSSIAN EMBASSY

OTTAWA, Oct. 7 (CP)— Igor Gouzenko, former Russian Embassy Cipher Clerk, completed his testimony today in the trial of H. Gerson, 41, of Ottawa and Montreal, former Munitions Department Official charged with conspiring to communicate confidential information for Russia.

Under cross-examination by A. W. Beoment, Defence Counsel, Gouzenko disclosed that bonuses were paid members of the Russian Embassy who were on "secret work." This amounted to an addjitional 15 percent after the first year and 20 percent after the third.

Gouzenko said that just before he fled the Embassy in September, 1945, he was receiving $200 monthly plus $75.

He confirmed that his wife gave birth to a baby boy during the summer and that it was born in a hospital at the expense of the Canadian government.

He testified that when he came to Canada in 1943 he started to accumulate what eventually amounted to some $300 worth of canned food and $600 worth of clothing to take back to Russia. "All the Russians at the Embassy do that," he said.

Mr. Beament drew from Gouzenko two admissions affecting the last few months he spent at the Embassy. One was the fact that orders had come for his return to Russia. The other was that another cipher clerk, named Koulikov, had arrived to take his place in June.

Gouzenko said he had started to think about fleeing the Embassy a full year before he actually did and that his determination grew "stronger and stronger" in the last six months. Finally the fear that once Koulikov knew his job he (Gouzenko) would be barred from the secret room where secret documents were kept led him to start extracting the papers that now have been used in trial after trial.

City Streets Patched Up

A mixture of tar and asphalt from the underground tank at the Gas Works has been used for patching in various parts of the City, including on Ward and Vernon Street, City Engineer H. D. Dawson told the City Council in his September report Monday night. The remainder will be stored for patching in the Spring.

The road back of Kootenay Lake General Hospital was seal-coated using a tank car of asphalt.

Asphalt was being stored in two 10,000 gallon tanks erected in the Gas Works.

MAN BELIEVED TO BE DE HAVILLAND, WASHED ASHORE AT WHITSTABLE

WHITSTABLE, Kent, England, Oct. 7 (Reuters)—The body of a man, naked except for a necktie, was washed ashore here today, and officials believed the body might be that of Britain's ace test pilot, Geoffrey de Havilland, missing since September 27, when his jet-propelled aircraft exploded in the air.

A De Havilland Aircraft Company official said, however, it was unlikely De Havilland would have been wearing a tie at the time of the crash. The man found on the shore had head injuries and an arm and a leg were fractured.

Christopher Columbus was a weaver, his father's trade, until after he was 21.

BROTHERS MEET ENROUTE TO CANADA AND PATCH UP 13-YEAR-OLD QUARREL

HALIFAX — The Aquitania had just docked here and a steady stream of passengers was moving down the gangplank. Newspaper reporters and cameramen milled through the crowds along the dockside, seeking visiting celebrities. But one newsman got "the story of the day," which he happened to stumble on by the merest chance. The most seasoned reported, with a nose for news a mile long, wouldn't have ferreted out this human interest story. For two men and a little girl, quietly clearing their luggage with the customs officials, would certainly arouse no news instincts about their incredible reunion.

It all came about this way: Joseph James Sloan of Liverpool had embarked on the Aquitania on a two-fold mission. In the fir place, he wanted to inspect a 450-acre farm he owned at Westholm on Vancouver Island. Secondly, he was going to the Bureau of Vital Statistics in Ottawa to trace the whereabouts of his long-lost brother, John, whom he had not seen for 13 years. It seems they had parted after a family squabble, and no word had passed between them since then. Joseph had long since forgiven his brother, and was certain John was of the same mind. But John's hands were tied, because, after the quarrel in Liverpool, John had left for Canada without leaving any address. It was up to John, therefore, to patch things up by writing the first letter. When, after 13 long years, there was no word from Canada, Joseph decided to take action. In fact, he fully expected Ottawa to inform him that John was dead. But he had decided that as long as he knew that for a fact, it would set his mind at ease.

Well, Joseph had just nicely got on shipboard, unpacked his suitcase, and was giving a casual perusal to the passenger list. Next to his own name was one "J. Sloan." Consumed with curiosity, he went to his namesake's cabin, knocked, and the door was opened by a stoutish man. Joseph was on the point of asking if the stranger knew of a John E. Sloan, formerly of Liverpool, when he stopped suddenly. The two men stared at one another intently for a moment, then smiles of recognition spread over their faces as they stammered out each other's names and shook hands heartily. Just then a little girl, attracted by these effusions, came to the stateroom door, and Joseph had the added thrill of meeting his niece, Monica, 12, for the first time.

John told Joseph he had settled in the Niagara Peninsula district, and was now the owner of several fruit farms there. It seems that he had left for Liverpool to seek reconciliation with Joseph, had found the Liverpool house closed up, and travelled on the same boat train with Joseph to Southampton.

It was a jolly trip for the Sloans, and the brothers had a hearty laugh over Joseph's proposed trip to Ottawa to confirm John's death.

Smuts Appeals for Unity, Tolerance Between East, West at Conference

PARIS, Oct. 7 (CP)—Prime Minister Smuts of South Africa today warn the Peace Conference against a cleavage between East and West. He appealed for unity and tolerance.

"One feature of this conference," the veteran statesman said, "has been "struck" by the "consistency with which the Slav group and the Western group voted against one another" in Commission balloting. He added that he was "deliberately bringing this up" so it could be "ventilated" and cleared up.

"This cleavage may in time overshadow the work of the conference itself. . . We seem, in this moment of unparalleled victory, to be forming up into new camps of East and West. This would be a fatal division."

Senator Tom Connally (Dem.-Texas) told delegates the United States would make no further concessions on the Trieste issue and urged the adoption of Commission recommendations.

Senator Connally was the first speaker in general discussion on the Italian treaty as the conference went into plentary session under the chairmanship of Foreign Secretary Bevin of Britain.

Senator Conally reminded delegates the outline of principles for the projected free zone had been backed by two-thirds of the Italian Political Commission and then added:

"It outlines principles without which no settlement is possible."

Canoe Vote May Swell Statehood Demand in Alaska

JUNEAU, Alaska, Oct. 7 (AP)—Alaska's so-called "canoe vote" was expected today to swell the demand for statehood in tomorrow's general election, first time the issue has ever come before the United States territory's voters.

Although opposed by prominent business men as too costly for the small population at this time, statehood has the backing of numerous groups who have carried on a vigorous campaign. The Alaska Statehood Association has spearheaded such efforts.

The proposal has topped interest in an election which will also name a delegate to the United States Congress, territorial office holders and legislators and decide whether the blanket primary will be adopted. E. L. (Bob) aBrtlett, Juneau Demoirat, seeks reelection as delegate and is opposed by Almer J. Peterson, Anchorage Republican.

The so-called "canoe vote" of the Alaska natives was generally expected to follow the advice of such leaders as Delegate Bartlett, who favors statehood. The natives usually vote as a bloc at elections and although not a sizeable number have at times been a deciding influence in close contests. The largest native vote is cast in Southeastern Alaska.

120 Fishermen Missing After Typhoon Strikes in Azores

PONTA DELGADA, The Azores, Oct. 7 (AP) — One hundred and twenty fishermen were reported missing Saturday at the Island of Santa Maria in the wake of a 98-mile-an-hour typhoon which destroyed 12 fishing vessels, two port tugs and several launches. Four fishing boats were missing.

Reports from San Miguel and Santa Maria Island said the winds did "catastrophic" damage, destroying crops, ruining homes, smashing pineapple hothouses and wrecking communications.

The American-built airfield in the Azores was practically destroyed.

Bar 14 As Defence Witnesses for Stepinac

ZAGREB, Yugoslavia, Oct. 7 (AP)—The People's Court allowed 22 defence witnesses to testify today for Archbishop Alojzic Stepinac, head of the Roman Catholic Church in Yugoslavia, over strenuous opposition of the prosecution. Fourteen others were barred.

Archbishop Stepinac is on trial for his life, accused of war crimes and collaboration with the puppet regime of Dr. Ante Pavelic in Croatia.

After the court blocked prosecution efforts to bar the testimony of all defence witnesses as "blasphemy," the defence offered testimony contending that Stepinac had attacked in speeches "forceful leaders" of the puppet regime and had protested to Dr. Pavelic over crimes committed by Dr. Pavelic's Ustachi. Documents were represented also to show the Archbishop opposed mass conevrsion of members of the Orthodox Church to the Roman Catholic Church.

The court did not say why it refused to hear 14 of the defence witnesses. It listed to 80 for the prosecution earlier in the trial.

The 75-year-old former United States Secretary of State rallied during the weekend after being in a critical condition for several days.

Claim Service Over Top of World Practicable

CAIRO, Oct. 7 (CP)—Lt.-Col. F.S. Shannon, communications officer of the superfortress Pacusan Dreamboat, which flew non-stop 10,925 miles over the Arctic Circle from Honolulu to Cairo, said today commercial air service over the top of the world is practicable from a communications standpoint.

Col. Shannon said high radio frequencies were blacked out repeatedly by sunspot flareups but added:

"If commercial airways decide to use this region as an air route, I believe they could have successful communications with a few well-placed low-frequency radio stations."

He said radio stations already are operated by Canada at Coppermine in extreme Northwest Territory, Arctic Bay, Cambridge Bay and Baffin Island and by Denmark in Greenland. Increased power and manpower for these stations he said, would aid in safeguarding flights when sunspot activity blacks out high radio frequencies used normally by aircraft to communicate great distances with the small power available in planes.

Defence Department officials disclosed at Ottawa last February the existence of a number of secret "ionospheric recorder" stations in the Canadian North from which service scientists and technicians send out radio beams to probe the mysteries of the atmospheres ionospheric layers.

Spokesmen said the prime purposes of the stations was to measure the height of the layer of ionized air, which reflect radio waves, and thus predict the best possible frequencies for communication between two specific points on the earth's surface.

New York Papers Show Canadian Steaks to America

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (CP)—New Yorkers, undergoing a meat shortage, were given a look at pictures of Canadian steaks by two New York newspapers today.

The World-Telegram reprinted from a Toronto newspaper an advertisement of a chain store. Headed by the World-Telegram "Steaks, Canada style," the advertisement read: "Sizzling steaks, tender, juicy, delicious"—with pictures.

The Sun carried a three-column front-page display showing an open-mouthed Detroiter at the moment of intake, devouring a big T-Bone steak in Windsor ,Ont. Another picture showed Detroit cars lined up to get through customs at Windsor.

The last time Canadian steaks aroused envy, and even criticism, here, the United States had meat rationing and Canada hadn't. This time Canada has rationing and the United States hasn't.

Chicago Reports Second Razor Attack in 3 Days

CHICAGO, Oct. 7 (AP)—A 42-year-old mother was slashed on the arm today by a razor-wielding assailant in the second sadistic attack reported to Chicago police within three days.

Police said Mrs. Tulla Rodotoulos, 42, mother of two children, reported that a man about 40 years old drove up and stopped and said, "You're late this morning." Mrs. Rodotoulos said the man then drew a razor blade from his pocket and slashed her left forearm five times.

Mrs. Rodotoulos fled and the man drove away.

Police said they did not believe the attacker was the same man who Saturday forced Mrs. Thelma Breen, 24 mother of two children, into a dark gangway and there slashed her with razor blades and burned her with a cigarette after tearing off most of her clothing.

Mrs. Breen, who expects another child in December, described her assailant as a young, "pimply-faced" man.

Bevin Likely to Head British at U. N. Assembley

LONDON, Oct. 7 (CP) — An official source said today Foreign Secretary Bevin probably would lead the British delegation in the United Nations General Assembly scheduled to begin sessions Oct. 23 at Lake Success, N. Y.

Lady White Interrupts Mother's Evidence

LONDON, Oct. 7 (CP) — Lady Elizabeth White, haggard and distraught, threw a crowded London court into uproar today by shouting down the testimony of her mother, the Dowager Marchioness Tonshend, who had first preferred—and then unsuccessfully attempted to withdraw—charges of theft against her daughter and a male friend.

The 28-year-old Lady Elizabeth and Paul Anthony Walsh, 40, described as being without occupation or fixed abode, first were summoned two weeks ago, accused of stealing a refrigerator, a radio set and six chairs from the Marchioness' fashionable Westminster Home. Their total value aproximated $1600.

The charge was amended today to one of stealing three pairs of curtains, a lamp, table glassware and a shawl. The worth of these was fixed at about $200.

Lady Townshend had said she did not wish to continue the case, but the public prosecutor decided otherwise. Both defendants pleaded innocent and were commited to trial.

For more than an hour before the pleas were entered, Lady Elizabeth, helped into the dock by a policeman, interrupted her mother's evidence with a stream of objections and invectives such as "rot" and "it's a lot of lies."

Policemen tried unavailingly to calm her. Walsh, sitting nearby, nudged her, muttering "keep quiet."

The Marchioness testified that Walsh was a heavy drinker and, in her opinion, a bad influence on her daughter.

RETIRED PASTOR, 2-GIRL CREW REACH SANTA MONICA IN BATTERED YAWL

SANTA, MONICA, Calif., Oct. 7 (AP)—Badly battered by heavy weather, the stout auxiliary powered yawl Reverie arrived here from Vancouver, an 81-year-old retired Church of England pastor her skipper, and two adventurous young girls as the crew.

The captain, the Rev. John Antle, said they were en route from Vancouver to New York through the Panama Canal. He said the vessel's batteries were overturned and ruined during a four-day blow and that he was unable to put in at San Francisco as planned.

His crew—Miss Lucy Varty, 19, and Audrey Sherlock, 20, both of Vancouver—were "regular old seadogs," the Rev. Antle declared.

Rev. Antle said he sold his Vancouver home after he retired from the ministry, and bought the Reverie, sailing her from England in 1939.

Slavs Release American Held On Spy Charge

BELGRADE, Oct. 7 (AP)— The Yugoslav Government released Sunday an American construction engineer with U.N.R.R.A. who had been held 10 days on charges of espionage.

Simultaneously United States Ambassador Richard C. Patterson announced that regular C-47 transport planes were replacing B-17 flying fortresses in "full airline service" between Vienna, Austria, and Udine, Italy, on the route which skirts Yugoslavia.

The U.N.R.R.A. engineer, Robert Burnup of Independence, Mo., left Belgrade by plane for Rome on his way to the United States. Authorities here refused to comment on his release, which was understood to have been conditional upon a guarantee of his immediate return to United States.

To Withdraw G. B. Administrative In Mediterranian

LONDON, Oct. 7 (AP)—An authoritative War Office source said today the British General Staff had proposed tentatively the withdrawal of British administrative and supply bases in the Eastern Mediterranean—including Palestine—to the South African colonies of Kenya and Tanganyika.

The proposal envisaged retention of Britain's forward operational bases as long as practicable in such countries as the Sudan, Palestine, Trans-Jordan and Iraq, this source declared.

Says Yugoslavia Insulted By U. S. Proposal

PARIS, Oct. 7 (AP)—K. V. Kiselev of White Russia asserted on the floor of the Peace Conference today that Yugoslavia had been insulted by a United States proposal during the drafting of the Italian treaty.

He spoke soon after Sen. Tom Connally (Dem.—Tex.) had declared the United States would make no further concessions on the Trieste issue and after Field Marshal Jan Christian Smuts, Prime Minister of South Africa, called on the Slav bloc and the Western powers to forget the "cleavage" between them because it "may bode ill for the future of world peace."

Kisselev asked the Conference to reject paragraph four of Article 13 of the Italian draft treaty, guaranteeing equal rights to Italians living in sectors of Istria, being transferred to Yugoslavia.

He maintained that Yugoslavia already had given fundamental freedoms of human rights by her own institution, and termed the words of the guarantee "insulting, unjust and unfair."

Dewey Seconds Truman Request Of Palestine

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP) — Governor Thomas E. Dewey, seconded President Truman's recent request to the British to open Palestine to Europe's homeless Jews, in an address at a united Palestine apepal dress at a united Palestine appeal dinner.

"I want to make it crystal clear to our British friends that demands for immediate immigration into Palestine far transcend partisan politics," the 1944 Republica Presidential candidate said.

"Actually, they have the wholehearted supoprt not only of the leadership of both political parties, but also of the vast majority of the American people."

"We should adjust our own immigration laws to permit the admission of our share of displaced persons, both Chritians and Jews," he said.

Say Japs Planned Invasion of Russ Before Pearl Harbor

TOKYO, Oct. 7 (AP) — A Nazi document introduced today in International War Crimes Trials noted that Japanese leaders were considering invasion of the Russian part of Sakhalin Island, North of Japan, less than a month before the Pearl Harbor attack.

"It probably would not prove too difficult," Hiroshi Oshima, Japanese Ambassador to Germany, was quoted as saying. "In view of severe losses which the Soviets suffered at the hands of German troops, they probably could be driven away from the border (between Japanese and Russian sectors of Sakhalin). However, any attack on Vladivostock (Siberia) was considered impossible" before late 1941.

His views were thus quoted in a report found in the German Foreign Ministry's files. French prosecutor Robert Oneto told the court in introducing the document.

Peron's Power Moves Toward Judiciary Control

By K. F. McEVOY

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 7 (AP)—President Juan Peron's administration, already in possession of the executive and legislative branches of the Argentine Government through elections, now is moving toward control of the judiciary, which so far has eluded Col. Peron's supporters in his sweep to power.

The Chamber of Deputies, voting on party lines—104 Peronistas to 47 of the minority—passed a writ of impeachment against four of the five justices of the Supreme Court. Under terms of the writ the Lower House designated a five-man commission to place before the Senate charges which call for the removal of the four justices as well as solicitor general Juan Alvarez, Prosecutor of the Supreme Court.

Under Argentine law the Senate acts as both judge and jury. To oust the accused men the Senate must approve the charges against them by a vote of two-thirds of the members present.

Since the Senate is composed of 28 Peronistas and has not a single minority member political circles predict that the accused will be convicted despite a determined fight by opposition newspapers and every bar association in the country.

The writ accuses the Justices of violating the constitution because they recognized the De Facto Governments formed as a result of the 1930 and 1943 revolutions. The fact that the present government and its chief were by-products of the last revolution has no importance, the Peronistas argue. They say Col. Peron came into the picture officially only after the revolutionary government had been recognized by the highest tribunal.

Defenders of the court contend that the justices had no other choice but to recognize the government in power.

Proceedings Started Against 3 Nazi Leaders

NEURNBERG, Oct. 7 (AP)—Dr. Camill Sachs, chairman of the Nuernberg Denazification Board, announced today that proceedings have started against Franz von Papen, Hjalmar Schacht and Hans Fritsche, but that no arrests would be made for some time.

All were acquitted by the International Military Tribunal on War Crimes charges last week.

The Council decided to meet Thursday and arrange final details of the execution here of the 11 condemned German leaders, Army authorities said. Tight secrecy prevailed.

Mrs. Herman Goering obtained admission to the Nuernberg jail, but no officer would say whether she visited her doomed husband. One officer said she talked only with the prison chaplain.

Abducted Wife Is Safe

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 7 (AP)—State Police headquarters here reported last night the pretty 27-year-old Portland housewife abducted two days ago was safe and that the last of three men charged with spiriting her away from a suburban cafe had been captured near Heppner, Ore.

Police said Alvin Dahl, 17, and the woman were found in a cabin 30 miles West of Heppner, Ore., in Northeast Oregon, after one of two men arrested earlier told of the hideout where Mrs. Margaret Havely was held captive.

Police said the woman was in good health.

The two men arrested earlier last night—Jess W. Neal, 24, Ernest W. Avery, 21—were captured as they drove into a gasoline station. Although the two men had loaded revolvers in the dashboard compartment of their sedan, they offered no resistance.

The woman was spirited away from the small cafe in suburban Portland Friday when police said the three men were seen there.

Most physicians of the early Middle Ages were clerics.

Maybe She's Changed

By JANE ATKINSON

Dear Miss Atkinson:

When I was discharged from the service, I fell in love with a girl I met at a wedding. I was the happiest man in the world, for a time. I would call her a few times every day and we would see each other for two or three times a week. I wanted to marry her, but she wouldn't become serious.

About four months ago, she began acting indifferent toward me would have to call her three or four and would not give me any reason. I times before I could date her. Finally, one day, I told her I would not call her any more and I also told her she should call me up some time when she is not so busy.

For four whole months I ate my heart out for her. The other night she called me. I made no dates with her, but I am thinking about it. Should I see her again? Does she only want to see me for a few times and then brush me off again? How can I be sure she has changed her attitude toward me?

Doubtful

There is no way you can be sure your girl has changed her attitude without trying her out again. Maybe, as you suggest, her interest is only very mild, and she might brush you off again after a short time. It is perfectly possible that, when you stopped trying to date her, she wanted to see if she could get you back again, not so much because she was deeply interested in you, but merely out of feminine curiosity and vanity.

On the other hand, she may have discovered, in the four months, you have been ignoring her, that she cared more about you than she thought, and really didn't want to lose you. So why not give her another chance? That's the only way you can find out.

Self-Reliance Good Policy

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Recently, I discussed the suffering young child who feigned to be sick to his stomach, or actually was, on a school morning; who begged and cried to stay away from school. I pointed out that while the immediate cause may be some unfortunate experience at school or his fear of other children who bullied him, such fear nearly always had its remote source in the youngster's being tied too close emotionally to his mother.

I have been impressed with the large number of letters I get describing all sorts of fears in the child from a year to six years or older. In most of these letters over-dependence emotionally on the mother is apparent.

One of the surest ways to harden the growing child with courage is to make him self-reliant as early as possible and able to amuse himself and find abundant happiness at play with other children of his age.

With the infant from about 9 months to a few years old, much of what the mother supposes to be fear in him may merely be his discomfort at being out of her sight. There's the fourteen-month-old who will cry pitifully when his mother just steps into another room for a few minutes. Of course, this experience of his does have some fear in it. He certainly feels insecure while he canot see her then. He does until she gradually weans him and lets him harden into being comfortable while out of her sight.

There's the tot who for months has had his mother stay in his room with him after he is put to bed till he falls asleep. Should she attempt to leave him earlier, he will cry bitterly and evince signs of fear. Because he will, it is hard for her to muster up the courage to settle the matter once and for all time by letting him cry it out; and the longer she delays this ordeal the more emotionally upset he will be at bedtime if she tries to leave him.

Any sudden loud sound or shock tends to prove more severe to the child so dependent than to the one more self-sufficient.

The same principle aplies to his fear of physical pain from the ordinary bumps which come to any child. So, also, the more dependent he is on his mother, the less ready he will be to bear stoically the bit of pain from the doctor or dentist (when he is two or sixteen).

See, moreover, how this principle applies to the bumps and the like he may get at normal play with other children. Over-tied emotionally to his mother, he runs quickly to her when he is hurt physically or otherwise.

What is more, in all such situations, the mother has keen inward pain when he is hurt and she naturally reveals to him that she has. Her being over-tied to him tightens the apron strings which already hamper him.

It is manifest, therefore, that the more self-reliant physically and emotionally the growing child can become, the few fears, as a rule, he will have and the more happy and likable person he will be.

Hints for Housewives

By BETSY NEWMAN

Have you picked all your tomatoes and have many ripening on windowsills?

Maybe you've picked them all from the vines and would like to make a good relish or pickle with the green tomatoes.

One word of advice: Taste the finished product before you take it off the stove and pour into the sterilized cans or jars, to make sure there is enought salt.

The Celery and Tomato relish is very good, and one I have used for a long time.

TODAY'S MENU

Cold Meat Platter
Creamed Potatoes
Relish Squash Soya Muffins
Jam Coffee

SOYA MUFFINS

¼ cup soya flour, 1¾ cups sifted all-purpose flour, 2 tablespoons sugar, (may be omitted), ½ teaspoon salt, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1 egg, well beaten, 1 cup milk, 2 tablespoons melted fat.

Sift dry ingredients together; combine the egg, milk and fat. Pour in dry ingredients all at once, and stir just enough to moisten and give mixture a rough appearance. Fill greased muffin pans and bake in a hot oven (400 deg. F.) for 20 to 25 min.

CELERY AND TOMATO RELISH

5 onions, 5 heads celery, 1 green or red pepper, 15 tomatoes, 8 tablespoons sugar, 2 tablespoons salt, 2 cups vinegar.

Chop all ingredients, add seasonings and vinegar, blend and cook 1½ hours. Put into hot sterilized jars and seal.

GREEN TOMATO PICKLES

4 quarts green tomatoes, 12 medium-sized onions, 1 cup salt, 3 green peppers, 4 cups sugar, 2 tablespoons whole cloves, 1 quart vinegar, 4 tablespoons mustard seed, 1 tablespoon peppercorns, 3 3-in. sticks of cinnamon.

Wash tomatoes, remove stem ends and slice ¼-in. thick. Wash, peel and slice onions. Put layers of tomatoes and onions in a large bowl, alternately with salt, and stand overnight.

Drain and rinse with plenty of water. Wash peppers, remove seeds and stem ends and fibrous parts, chop fine. Put vegetables in large kettle, add sugar, vinegar, mustard and celery seeds. Tie cloves, peppercorns and cinnamon in cheesecloth and add to vegetables. Stir over heat until sugar is dissolved, bring to boil and cook rapidly 15 mins. Remove spice bag, pour into hot, sterilized jars and seal. Makes about 7 pts.

Every "Other" Woman Is Slim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Ask a man if he prefers women fat or thin and he'll hasten to protest that he does not like thin women. He may be quite emphatic about it. Pin him down and ask if he likes women to be fat and he gets out of that one nicely by saying he likes them pleasingly plump, with curves.

But don't let him off so easily. Get his definition of pleasing—5' 6" tall and weighing 150 pounds? That's a fine figure of a woman. He'll hedge and say that 150 pounds may be a trifle hefty, and mention 130 or 135 pounds as being just right. You see? He likes them slim, with curves.

And since every "other" woman is slim, that's proof that men do not like women fat, for all their fine talk.

That naturally leads to the question as to whether women reduce to please men, or to compete with other women, which amounts to practically the same thing. At first blush it might seem they do keep their figures to please men. But a more thoughtful analysis shows it's a matter of pride. The women who has personal pride in her appearance, will not allow her figure to slip or slump, or go to please herself. Agree?

This does not mean they make a career of streamlining, or even spend much time at it. Nor do they "diet". They make a habit of eating within their calorie requirements. They do not stuff. Or they set a limit on the amount they allow their weight to go up. This will be from three to five pounds. They go along, enjoying three meals a day, just like anyone else, but they weigh regularly. As soon as the scales show a three-pound gain they clamp down on unnecessary calories until the pounds are off.

The women who take pride in their figures are usually intelligent about their food habits. They know they can't have their cake and eat it too, so they watch the delectable carbohydrates. Glance at a drug store counter and see who eats the ice cream sodas and sundaes in the middle of the afternoon. It is not the slim, trim women.

Nor do they ever graduate to a larger size dress. Pride again. If they slip a bit and find themselves straining at the seams, they do not have the dress eased here and there, or take a larger size. They take exercise.

One woman with a perfectly lovely figure told me she keeps a test skirt. It's an old favorite that she has had for many years. It fits perfectly around the waist and smoothly over the hips. When she suspects she is getting out of shape she hauls out that skirt, and if its a tight squeeze she starts streamlining.

Burghers Ponder Existence of Ghost of Sinister Preacher-Smuggler

By NORMAN CRIBBENS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

RYE, Sussex, Oct. 7 (CP) — In this ancient red-roofed town, made into a borough by William the Conqueror the year after his victory at Hastings, there is contention as to whether the ghost of Dr. Syn really haunts the dim precincts of the 15th-century Mermaid Inn.

There is contention, in fact, as to whether Dr. Syn ever lived at all.

Some elderly historians and archaeologists who have devoted years of study to local history, say they can find no surviving traces of the sinister doctor, who according to legend, was a clergyman by day, a demon smuggler by night.

"The ghost of Dr. Syn is more likely to have been the person of George Arliss who stayed at the Mermaid while making the film of Dr. Syn," said Frederick Finucane, elderly antique collector and archaeologist.

DISPLAY MURDER SCENE

The innkeeper and his staff not only believe in the existence of Dr. Syn, they will show you a small oak-beamed room upstairs where he is alleged to have murdered a fellow clergyman — the rector of a neighboring parish.

"Before the war," said the hall porter, "several residents declared the room to be haunted. One stormy winter's night a middle-aged woman rushed down the stairs screaming 'It's there, it's there!'

"We all turned out of bed to look at the room but found nothing. It was suggested at the time that the lady may have been disturbed by wind in the rafters."

Other visitors told of moaning noises in the night and of 'things' scuttling about behind the wormeaten panelling in their rooms.

Damaged by bomb-blast in 1942, the Mermaid Inn closed its doors to the public, and has just been reopened after repairs.

Canadian Nickel

will bring you real Silk Stockings

THE FIRST POST-WAR SHIPMENTS of silk from China are now beginning to move across the Pacific. Before long, it is hoped, real silk stockings and fabrics will again be available.

As the expansion of Chinese industry gains momentum, China will require more Canadian Nickel, Canadian Nickel will go to China; Chinese silk will come to Canada. Each product will help pay for the other.

Less than three per cent of the Nickel produced in Canada is consumed in Canada. The rest is exported, and the money received helps to pay for silk and other products necessary to good living in Canada. Canada cannot keep on importing from other lands unless she exports Canadian goods.

Each increase in the export of Canadian Nickel means more workers employed in the Canadian Nickel industry, and more employment for other thousands of Canadians who produce the lumber, power, steel, explosives, machinery and supplies used by the Canadian Nickel industry.

By expanding the use of Nickel at home and abroad, the Canadian Nickel industry brings additional benefits to Canada and Canadians.

"The Romance of Nickel" a 40-page book fully illustrated, will be sent free on request to anyone interested.

1,200,000 Civilians Died in Air Raids

Aerial bombardment in World War II, which reached its climax in the atomic bombing of Nagasaki and Hiroshima, cost the lives of at least 1,200,000 civilians, and possibly as many as 1,500,000, according to Dr. Louis I. Dublin, Second Vice-President and Statistician of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. He points out, by contrast, that in World War I, 5000 civilians died in air raids.

The one atomic bomb dropped on Hiroshima, where between 70,000 and 80,000 persons are estimated to have been killed, Dr. Dublin notes, cost the lives of more persons than the entire death toll in World War II of any of the other belligerent countries, with the exception of Germany, and, possibly, Russia. Nagasaki, where another atomic bomb was dropped, raised the total of civilian deaths from that weapon to between 105,000 and 120,000. Actually, the greatest loss of life in a single air raid in the entire war was that suffered by Tokyo on March 9, 1945, when 85,000 civilians lost their lives. Altogether, Japan's total civilian losses by bombing were 360,000 to 375,000, according to careful estimates of the United States Strategic Bombing Survey.

Of the total civilian victims in World War II, at least two-thirds were nationals of the Axis countries, with Germany far the heaviest loser and Japan the second. Germany's losses were about 500,000 according to the United States Strategic Bombing Survey. Of German cities, Hamburg experienced the most intensive bombardment. A series of attacks by the Royal Air Force in July, 1943, brought death to 60,000 persons in that city within the short period of three days.

For the other Axis countries there are only fragmentary figures, but the total losses of these countries ran to tens of thousands, with Italy suffering the largest toll.

On the Allied side Great Britain was probably the heaviest sufferer, next to Russia. More than 60,000 English civilians were killed between March, 1940, and March, 1945. Other parts of the British Commonwealth suffered civilian air raid losses of varying degree, but in proportion to its population the tiny island of Malta was the hardest hit, with one in every 200 of its inhabitants killed by enemy bombs from June, 1940, until the Winter of 1942.

In France, the civilian air death toll is reported at nearly 54,000, or almost as great as in England. More than two-thirds of these deaths were sustained in 1944, both before and after the successful Allied landings. Among Belgian civilians, the heaviest toll inflicted by the Germans was by means of V-1 and V-2 attacks in the Winter of 1944-45.

In the Antwerp and Liege regions, which bore the brunt of these attacks, nearly 5000 civilians were killed. In the Netherlands, too, civilian mortality from bombing was exceptionally high. Nearly 30,000 lives were lost in Rotterdam alone in 1940.

As to the Allied countries in Eastern and Southern Europe, Dr. Dublin estimates that civilian air raid dead in those countries far exceeded 100,000. He places Polish losses at more than 50,000 and Russian losses at an even higher figure. The official estimate for Greece is 7000 civilian air deaths. Only fragmentary data are available on Yugoslavia, but in Belgrade alone more than 10,000 people were killed in the air raids on Palm Sunday in 1941.

Pointing out that recent atomic bomb tests have again focused the attention of the world on its death-dealing potentialities, Dr. Dublin sounds this warning:

There can be no doubt that the civilian air-raid losses in World War II, heavy as they were, would pale into insignificance should a major conflict again arise. In the face of this threat it is imperative that the peoples of the world develop the necessary political organization to maintain a lasting peace."

Our Experimental Farms

June marked the sixtieth anniversary of the founding of the Dominion Experimental Farms. When on June 2, 1886, the Governor-General of Canada gave assent to an "Act Respecting Experimental Farm Stations," agriculture in Eastern Canada was in a somewhat primitive state; and in Western Canada all that vast area now known as the Prairie Provinces — Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta — was to all intents and purposes virgin land.

In the East, the value of good seed and suitable varieties was but little understood; systematic rotations were very little followed; good cultural methods were neither studied nor practised; the use of fertilizers was not understood or systematically followed; the advantage of surface tillage to preserve moisture on the one hand, and of under-drainage on the other, had not been called to the attention of the farmer; the use of leguminous plants to increase fertility was unknown; the necessity of careful breeding, feeding, housing and management of livestock was little recognized—in short, agricultural education and practice were in their infancy.

Yet, on June 2, 1886, while little general public concern was evinced over the condition of agriculture, at the same time agriculture was even then recognized as Canada's basic industry. It is so today. The investment made by the people of Canada in agricultural services has returned abundant dividends.

While the development of early wheat and other grains may be regarded as the most spectacular accomplishments of the Experimental Farms, they do not, by any means, embrace all that has been done for the benefit of Canadian agriculture and Canada. It may be true that no other natural product has exercised such vitalizing influence upon the economic life of the Dominion. It has been the most powerful factor in attracting population and capital to the Dominion in bringing extensive virgin areas of land under cultivation, in widening the market for domestic manufacturing, mining, and other industries, and in building up export trade.

The discovery of Marquis wheat by the late Sir Charles Saunders, Dominion Cerealist, at Ottawa in 1904 has been regarded as the most revolutionary event in North American agriculture. Since then, in the application of science to practical agriculture, the official agricultural services have made an impressive contribution. During the past 60 years, as Canadian agriculture increased in extent and complexity, there has been a corresponding expansion and intensification of the work. Scientific principles and techniques, not known in 1886, now receive routine application in the solution of farm problems. And for cumulative evidence of Canada's world leadership in agriculture and other spheres, the contribution of Canadian farmers during the recent war is an encouraging epic in itself.

There are now 34 Experimental Farms and Stations in British Columbia and other Provinces of Canada, operating as a unit of the Dominion Department of Agriculture. All the facilities of these farms and stations are available to farmers and the public as a whole.

Interested, Nelson—How salty is the ocean?

On the average there are 3½ pounds of salty material to every 100 pounds of sea water. The salinity corresponds with the climate, increasing where the evaporation is great and decreasing with heavy rainfall or little wind.

R. S., Trail—Would you please answer this question: How can a tobacco pipe be made fresh?

Pipes may be sweetened by allowing the bowls to soak in alcohol. This will dissolve some of the nicotine. A little potash may be added to the alcohol if so desired.

Curious, Kaslo—What becomes of the part of the tree that decays and makes a tree hollow?

The Forest Service says that the rotten wood inside a hollow tree decays and disintegrates, and goes to the bottom of the trunk of the tree, eventually going into the soil.

Press Comment

ADMIT DIFFERENCES

There has been, in the United States particularly, a considerable amount of loose thinking about relations with Russia. One school of thinking, in its appreciation for Russia's part in the war and its eagerness for peace, has gilded the Russian thistle and tried to ite it up with the American cactus in a "One World" bouquet. There was great need, as Wendell Willkie perceived, for more appreciation of the interests all humanity share. There is still need for more recognition of the good in men everywhere. But peaceful relations with Russia may be more soundly founded on a recognition of profound differences than on a false assumption of similarity in political methods and purposes. There has been too much tendency to base American foreign policy on emotional reactions toward Russia, too little to base it on America's own prime interests— the promotion of freedom and world order.—Christian Science Monitor.

Says Canada's Quantity of Wheat For Export Will Be Small This Year

By the Ottawa Staff of The Canadian Press

OTTAWA, Oct. 7 (CP)—Sales discussions with traditional buyers of Canadian wheat, other than Britain, are expected to take place shortly but the quantities Canada will be able to supply them likely will be small, despite this year's bumper crop.

The new crop, plus the carry-over, brings the total wheat supply to approximately 510,000,000 bushels but from this will have to be deducted 175,000,000 bushels for domestic consumption and another 85,000,000 as a safe margin for the 1946-47 carryover.

That will leave some 260,000,000 bushels available for outside customers. Britain will take 160,000,000 bushels through the new Anglo-Canadian wheat agreement, leaving possibly 100,000,000 bushels. However, Canada has other flour commitments totalling some 50,000,000 bushels, so a bare 40,000,000 to 50,000,000 bushels will be all that will be left for shipment to other customers.

Official sources say Canada had been under considerable pressure to supply more wheat for food-short countries because of an impression that her bumper crop gives her more wheat for export. Actually, however, she may end up by shipping less than she did last year.

Conference: Labor Department officials are busily thrashing into shape a model, labor code which will be put before a Dominion-Provincial Labor Conference scheduled to open in Ottawa Oct. 15.

The conference, called by Labor Minister Mitchell will be attended by Labor Ministers of the Provinces and will consider primarily what the future is to be of the wartime labor code which marked the first introduction of collective bargaining on a compulsory basis.

The field covered by the wartime code is one normally within the confines of the Provinces and there have been hints that some Provinces—particularly Quebec — will oppose the idea of the Dominion taking a permanent place in the field of legislation on labor relations.

On the other hand there have been insistent demands from labor organizations, supported by the Commons Industrial Relations Committee, for a national peacetime code which would assure uniformity.

Walks Keep Mighty York Bat Silent; Phillie Pilot Pays Own Shot

By FRANK ECK

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 7 (AP) — St. Louis Cardinals found a way to keep Rudy York from hitting home runs today. After southpaw Harry Brecheen disposed of threat No. 1 in Ted Williams in the second and fourth innings. The "Cat" each time issued passes to York, Boston threat No. 2.

Brecheen gave only one other walk, an intentional pass, as his brilliant four-hit pitching evened the series at one game each.

It wasn't until the sixth inning that Brecheen gave York anything good to swing at. By then the National Leaguers had a 3-0 lead.

The danger of a York homer winning the game also was removed in the ninth with Dom Dimaggio on first as the result of a single. Williams popped to Marty Marion who had to leg it all the way past third base to pull down a high foul. Whitey Kurowski was busy playing the "Dyer shift" for Williams.

Brecheen pitched to York and Rudy flied to Slaughter in right field.

York was the only Red Sox player to reach second base. He did it twice.

Brecheen hurled five shutouts ...ing the regular season.

... Fonseca, director of the ...an League's annual movie, ... been busy for the last two days ...aking shots of Red Sox and Card ...yers who will be seen in the baseball film to be released in January.

Marion gave the impression of a sandwich man walking on stilts when he took three huge steps to start a first inning double play, the first twin killing of the series.

Al Simmons, Coach of Philadelphia Athletics, says he's been coming to World Series games for 23 years and always pays his own expenses. He must like the game.

Tom McBride, Boston leadoff batter, was the first to make two consecutive hits in the current series when he drove Brecheen's first pitch into right. Yesterday he sent in Boston's tying run with a ninth-inning single to left.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 7 (CP)—Amateur Frank Stranahan of Toledo shot a three-under-par 68 today to finish first in the $10,000 Fort Worth open tournament with 270 for 72 holes.

Stranahan's card was 14 under par for the 72 holes over the 6350-yard Glen Garden course.

Jim Ferrier, Chicago professional, finished second with 272 by laying down a 70 and thus captured first money of $2000.

Duke Hyssop Of Kimberley To Train Leafs

Duke Hyssop, Kimberley Dynamiters' Trainer for years, will serve in similar capacity for Nelson Maple Leafs, Leo Atwell, who put his Club prospects through their paces at the Civic Monday night, stated.

Duke Hyssop is now working for the Canadian Pacific Railway here.

A large number of pucksters were out for Monday night's practice. New faces included Swede Larson of Salmo and Bud Whitfield of Nelson, both of whom turned out for Nanaimo last season, Roy Allen of Winnipeg and Clarence Walsh, who has been in the District for some time. Atwell was pleased with the early showings of Larson and Allen.

He said the Coach question was still unsolved, but that a former outstanding professional player would take the position if he was able to get his release. The pro would also play for the Leafs.

Three or four more players are expected to try out later this week. Some of last year's stalwarts on the ice were Spence Tatchell, Bill Vickers, Johnny Fargher, George Barefoot, Doug Winlaw, Gordon Smith and Johnny Arichuk. Jesse Seaby and Jimmy Heuston of Balfour worked in the nets. Ev Kuhn tried out a defence position.

SEATTLE, Oct. 7 (AP)—Eleven Pacific Coast Hockey League squads will begin training this week for a 60-game season, with the Northern division getting underway Oct. 18 in Vancouver, B.C., as the Seattle Ironmen tangle with the champion Canucks.

Seattle will open its home season October 20, again playing Vancouver.

Frank Dotten, Seattle skipper who has just returned from a jaunt to Canada, has added three new forwards and a defence man to his squad. Back from last year will be forwards Eddie Dartnell, Bill Robinson, Don Campbell and Dick Milford, and defence man Scoop Bentley.

Tacoma, which will make its league debut this Winter, also plans to start workouts this week under the direction of Ron Moffatt, Davie Downie and Gordon Teel, former pro players.

Conny Smythe Expects Playoff Spot for Rebuilt Toronto Leafs

By FRASER MacDOUGALL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Oct. 7 (CP)—Bent on moulding a fighting, crowd-pleasing team for the 1946-47 National Hockey League campaign, Managing Director Conny Smythe of the Toronto Maple Leafs ventures only cautious estimates as to how his rebuilt club will fare in the tough 60-game schedule. It opens Oct. 16 against the Red Wings in Detroit.

Recalling that the Leafs finished in fifth place last season—out of the playoffs for the first time since 1929-30 — Smythe said: "I will say that the team won't go down any more and it will do better than last year. I confidently expect it will improve greatly and that we shall make a playoff berth."

He pins his hopes for a better club on the 20 players Coach Clarence (Happy) Day has under his wing at the training camp here in St. Catharines. He looks to them to provide "a good candidate for the Rookie-of-the-Year Award, we'll have at least five" and to catch one or two places on the league's all-star team.

Five saw hockey service in the days before the more urgent demands of war cut deeply into hockey manpower. There is 32-year-old Turk Broda, back for his first full season of goaltending since the war; Pete Langelle, at 27 just out of the services to bring his dipsy-doodle skating style back to the centre ice spot; forward Syl Apps, at 31 starting on his last N.H.L. season; tireless Nick Metz, the 32-year-old wheat farmer from Wilcox, Sask.; and Wally Stanowski, 27, whirling dervish puck carrier. Leafs have a second goaltender in camp, Bas Bastien.

Smythe plans to keep five of the six defencemen for the season. Besides Stanowski, candidates are Bob Goldham, 24-year-old husky from Georgetown, Ont., who was with the team last season; Harry Watson, obtained from Detroit in the deal which sent centre Billy Taylor to the Wings; 20-year-old Garth Boesch from Milestone, Sask.; Jim Thomson, at 19 one of hockey's most promising defencemen; and Nick Knott, the Oshawa boy recently called up from Tulsa Oilers.

It seems probable that Goldham and Watson will be retained as one defence pair and Stanowski and Boesch are looked on as another likely pair with the choice for fifth man resting between Thomson and Knott. But even that depends on workouts and exhibition games in the final 10 days of training.

Smythe has already made up his mind about one forward line—The Flying Forts, so named because its three members come from the Lakehead city of Fort William, Ont. Bud Poile, 22, is the centre, 23-year-old Gus Bodnar patrols right wing and 23-year-old Gaye Stewart, left wing.

Three other forward line combinations are working out now. Langelle and Apps team with right wing Bill Ezinicki, 22-year-old rugged checker. Ted Kennedy, a veteran at 20, centres rookie Howie Meeker from Stratford, Ont., and left wing Vic Lynn, up from Buffalo of the American Hockey League. Metz teams with Wally Wilson, high-scoring native of Oshawa who played last season with Pittsburgh, and big Joe Klukay from Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., who also is up from the Hornets. One or two of the 12 forwards are destined for the minors.

Admittedly, a major Leaf problem is to rebuild the defence. Smythe likes the way Harry Watson, moved back from his old left wing position to the rearguard, is coming along.

"I think Watson has done exceptionally well at defence for a forward. We've moved forwards back before. Andy Blair was one. But Watson has more natural aptitude for a defence position than any forward I have seen since Hap Day himself moved back to defence."

Castlegar Cubs Blank Trail Nine To Win West Kootenay Fastball

By GEORGE LANDIS

CASTLEGAR, B. C., Oct. 7—The Castlegar Cubs became the fourth winners of the Gilbert Rowling Memorial Trophy for West Kootenay fastball supremacy as they downed the Trail Legion nine 4-0, taking the round in two straight.

The cup was presented by Al Hall, President of the Trail Fastball League. It previously was won by the Warfield Aces in 1939-40, Crown Point in '40-'41, and Rossland Eskimose in '41-'42.

It was a great day for the loyal Cup supporters as their favorites wiped out the humiliation cast on them in the previous series with the Legion for the Trail League title. Castlegar easily took the League title, and then were set down in two games by the cellar-dwellers.

Sunday the Cubs squeezed in a run in the initial inning on two successive bunts.

Astoforoff and Zibin both connected singles in the third. Gerry Wanless' big bat walloped a double with both runners scoring.

In the seventh, Ken Stanton knocked in Verigen with a double to give Castlegar their fourth run.

This was Wally Ostoforoff's second shutout of the series. The young pitcher struck out six batters and walked three while giving up six hits.

Johnny Fulthorpe was touched for 10 hits. He walked only one, and fanned three.

Verigen and Kambick hot hit 2-4.

The Cat Hobbles Sox to Square Series

By GAYLE TALBOT

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 7 (AP)—With Harry (The Cat) Brecheen turning in a masterful four-hit pitching job against the vaunted Boston Red Sox sluggers, St. Louis Cardinals bounced back with a 3-0 triumph in the second game of the World Series today before another packed crowd of 35,815.

In squaring the play-off for the National League champs, Brecheen not only hamstrung the Sox with his left-handed pitches, but knocked across the first run with a single off Mickey Harris in the third inning and himself scored the game's third run in the fifth frame.

Not a Boston player reached third base and only twice did the Sox move a man as far as second. Each time it was Rudy York, whose 10th inning homer broke up Sunday's opening game. He drew two of the three walks given up by Brecheen.

FANS WILLIAMS

Ted Williams, greatest of the Sox sluggers, did not get a hit and was the victim of one of the four strikeouts registered by the slim, 160-pound Brecheen. Once Williams swung so viciously at a curve that his bat left his hands and sailed into the Boston dugout, barely missing a couple of his teammates.

While Brecheen was shackling the American Leaguers with one of the superb performances of World Series history, his opponent, Harris, found hard going in the seven innings he worked before being lifted for a pinch-hitter.

Del Rice, the Cardinal catcher who always receives when Brecheen is working, opened up on Harris with a fence-rattling double in the third inning, and Brecheen, after making no attempt to sacrifice, dumped a single into right field to drive his battery mate across with the day's big run.

Rice also sparked the Cards' two-run clincher in the fifth, which he led off with a single to left. This time Brecheen tried to move him along to second, but Pinky Higgins, Sox third baseman, grabbed his bunt and threw wildly past second. Rice raced clear to third and Brecheen to second on the bobble.

Red Schoendienst was an infield out, both runners holding up, but Captain Terry Moore slapped a single through Boby Doerr at second to count Rice, and Brecheen romped in a few minutes later as Stan Musial hit into a forceout at second and beat the relay to first.

That was all Brecheen needed. The little lefty was exceptionally fast, his curves and screwball were baffling, and his control almost perfect. The two walks he gave to York resulted from the extreme caution with which he pitched to the big fellow rather than to any hint of wildness.

Tom McBride, first Boston batter to face Brecheen, tapped the opening pitch through the right side of the infield just out of the reach of Schoendienst for a single. He got no farther as Brecheen struck out Johnny Pesky and forced Dom Dimaggio to smack into the first double play of the series.

That was the last Sox batter to knock a ball past the infield until the fourth frame. With two out in that inning, York drew his second walk and advanced on Bobby Doerr's single to right, but Brecheen got the dangerous Pinky Higgins on an infield roller to retire the side.

Harris, himself, nicked The Cat for his club's third hit in the fifth, a dinky looper just over second base, and he remained right on first base. For the next three innings Brecheen knocked the Sox off in order.

WALKER STOPS LONG ONE

Dimaggio opened the ninth by barely beating out a roller to Whitey Kurowski at third, but Williams, York and Doerr, the heart of Boston's batting order, couldn't advance him an inch.

Doerr, the last man to face Brecheen, gave the hometown fans a bad moment when he caught one on the nose and sent it high and far towards the left field bleachers. It looked as though it might drop in, but Harry Walker backed close to the fence and hauled it down for the final out.

It might have been a different story had a stout breeze not been blowing toward the plate.

NEXT GAME WEDNESDAY

The two clubs entrained tonight for Boston and the next three games in the American League city, starting Wednesday.

Manager Eddie Dyer of the Cards announced he would start his crack righthander, Murry Dickson, against the Red Sox in the opener at Fenway Park.

Manager Joe Cronin of the Sox, having discovered that portsiders hold no terrors for the Cardinals, said he would throw his star sophomore, Dave (Boo) Ferriss, a right-hander, against the Flock on Wednesday.

Red Wings Berth Likely for Teen-Age Howe

DETROIT, Oct. 7 (CP)—Gordon Howe, 18-year-old rightwinger who turned professional with Omaha of the United States Hockey League last season, today seemed likely to catch a regular berth with Detroit Red Wings.

If he makes the grade he'll be the third Wing ever to move into the N.H.L. while still in his teens. Ted Lindsay and Harry Lumley both moved up at 18.

Coach Happy Jack Adams indicated he was pleased with Howe's performance in training and said he would start on Detroit's second line with Lindsay and Captain Syd Abel when the Wings tangle with Indianapolis of the American League at Galt, Ont., Wednesday night.

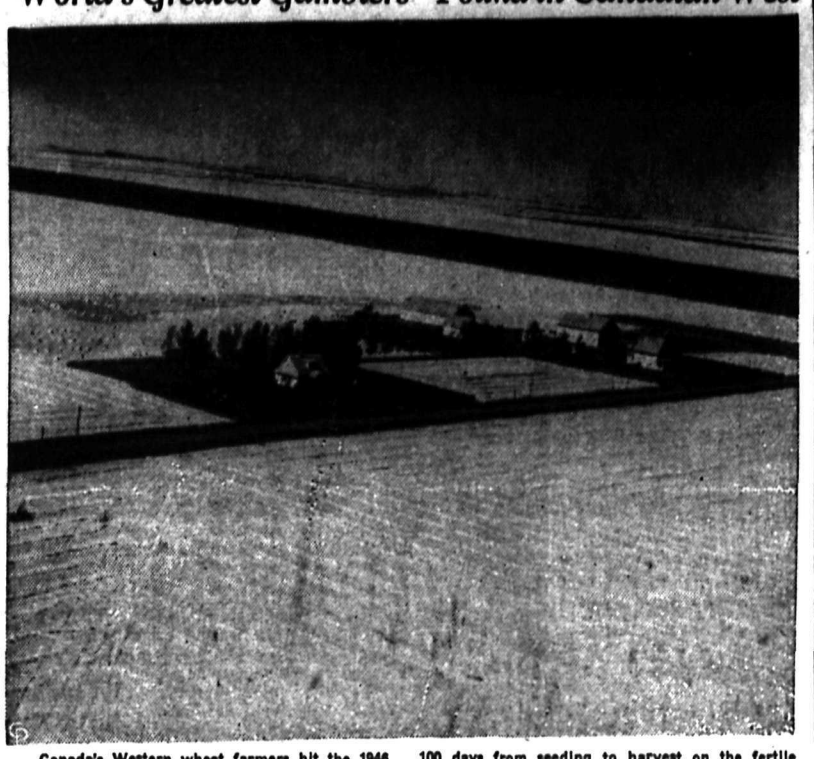
"World's Greatest Gamblers" Found in Canadian West



Canada's Western wheat farmers hit the 1946 jackpot with a harvest of 440,000,000 bushels—just 100,000,000 bigger than last year's crop. Fear of sawfly, rain, drought, dust storms and pests make the 100 days from seeding to harvest on the fertile plains days of worry for the farmers who cultivate 25,000,000,000 acres.

At harvest, wives bring lunches to their men in the fields.

O. C. Wagoner, typical farmer, checks a sample of his quality wheat harvest.

Like prehistoric monsters gobbling the rich earth's bounty—seven combines on Saskatchewan's plains work in tandem to harvest one of Canada's all-time yields of wheat.

Egypt is twice as large as France, but 97 per cent of its area is barren sand and rock.

The banana is one of the largest plants on earth not having a woody stem above ground.

New Zealand is about 1000 miles long, and no wider than 280 miles at its widest point.

SYDNEY, Australia, (CP)—Twelve years ago Miss E. M. Richardson, an Englishwoman living in Australia, became interested in making pictures, not with oils or water colors, but with silks and wools.

Today she has developed a new art; her pictures, painted with Australian wools, are full of life color and have fine perspective. She has done pictures of such personalities as John Masefeild, Edvard Greig, Jean Sibelius and Thomas Edison.

Black and white portraits such as she does have never been done before, and few people have attempted landscapes in colored wools. She says that she cannot paint and has no other interest in art, yet her Australian scenes and misty-green English landscapes appear at a distance to be done in oils.

New York Plans 20 Acre Buyers' Utopia

By ARLENE WOLF

NEW YORK (AP)—A shopper's world of tomorrow to rival the wonders of the original "world of tomorrow" is planned near the old World's Fair site in Flushing, N. Y.

In this 20-acre buyers' Utopia, planned to serve as a model for similar centres around the country, the customers will be whisked along underground on moving sidewalks. They will be cooled in Summer and warmed in Winter. There will be no crowded streets, no parking problem, no traffic jams.

These comforts—plus just about all the others a footsore housewife could dream up—will cost about $50,000,000, and will be incorporated into what architect Lester C. Tichy and real estate developers Webb and Knapp call the largest retail shopping centre in the world. Its 1,500,000 square feet of retail selling space is planned to serve a potential 1,000,444 customers, and yield some $250,000,000 annual sales. The project is expected to pay for itself in 25 years.

An average day at this modernistic centre, planned for middle income group salaries, might go something like this:

The shopper drives up a ramp, swings past the glass-enclosed second story of a futuristic department store, and parks her car on a covered roof parking area that will accommodate 5000 automobiles. Then she parks junior at an adjoining nursery, where he will be fed, amused and put to bed at the proper hours.

THEATRE INCLUDED

Her first stop probably would be somewhere in the 1000-foot-long unit comprising the department store and a variety of specialty shops and service stores. She might window-shop on the street level on covered sidewalks cooled with exhaust blown from the air-conditioned buildings. She could take in a movie and stage show in a 4000-seat super de luxe theatre or mosey around in the "five and ten." When she's finished, she picks up her car, drives across the roofs to a supermarket and farmers' market for her groceries, collects junior and goes on home.

If she has a spare hour, she can go skating, bowl in one of 100 alleys, get some sunshine in a green nursery that will serve as outdoor sample room for florists, or even make a reservation for hubby and herself for that evening at a night club on the premises.

All delivery trucks serving this North shore shopping centre, on which construction will begin late in 1947, will load and unload via sub-basement driveways to eliminate street level traffic jams. On the first basement level, horizontal escalators will convey customers arriving by bus, railroad or subway past retail displays and on to their destination.

Also planned for the centre are three 10-storey modern structures —a professional building, a hotel, and possibly an office building. Most of the other structures will be two or three stories high.

The shopping centre site now contains a bus station, to be moved in accordance with the new plan, and a Long Island railroad station, whose tracks will run right through the area. It is planned to remove all existing structures—they are mostly old buildings in various states of disrepair—so that the development can start from scratch. Population displacement in the area will be small, explains Mr. Tichey, for the district is not densely settled.

Glasgow Enters Milk Business

GLASGOW, (CP) — Glasgow corporation soon may seek legislative authority from Parliament to supply 1,000,000 customers with 90,000 gallons of milk daily to be paid for with their taxes.

Details of the plan now are being worked out by a civic committee instructed to report to a corporation meeting in September. Bailie Edward Hunter, an ex-miner who pioneered municipal milk supply in Wellington, N. Z., 20 years ago, is author of the plan for Glasgow.

Already the city government is the largest dairy farming unit in Scotland with herds totalling 1500 head and 4700 acres of land supplying 350,000 gallons of tuberculin-tested milk yearly to city hospitals. Cooperative societies supply one-third of the milk consumed in the city where there are 1,460 deliries of all types.

Under the plan the city would establish a monopoly making it unlawful for any person other than the corporation and its servants or agents to have milk in his possession for sale in the city. It would have power to place the milk supply on city taxes, buy and sell milk and manufacture and sell butter, cheese, ice-cream and other milk products.

New "Underground" Emerges in Poland

WARKA, Poland, (CP) — The war is over, but nearly a quarter of a million Poles still live in dugouts and bunkers. That's the picture one finds around Warka, about 50 miles South of Warsaw, and in the district of Kielce, on the main Warsaw-Krakow highway.

In the Kielce district alone, 146,000 people live in dirt-topped, brick-walled dugouts and hovels. Despite that, most Polish peasants appear to be glad to be back on their own soil, for many of them spent long years in Nazi concentration camps.

In this little town, not a roof was left and few walls are standing. Peasants live in cellars or little holes dug in the ruins, sometimes two families to a dugout.

The United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration, the Polish ministries of health and food, the American Red Cross and Polish Red Cross are trying to bring aid to the poor families in the worst devastated areas, but the people have little to eat.

CROYDON, England, (CP) — The Darbies are marrying the Joans at a club for lonely old-age pensioners here. Three old couples were married recently.

SEEK HIGHER PRICES FOR WESTERN COAL

EDMONTON, Oct. 7 (CP)—Higher prices for Western coal will be sought when a delegation of operators leaves shortly for Ottawa to submit applications to the National War Labor Board and the Prices Board, it was learned here today.

The delegation, representing the Western Canada Bituminous Coal Operators' Association will seek higher prices for steam and domestic coal. The increases will be urged in view of the recent $1.40 per day wage incerase to miners. The contract is to be in effect until March 31, 1948. A 48-hour week it to be introduced in mines this month.

A Welfare Fund of three cents per ton also will be established under the new agreement.

When the new agreement was announced last month, sources close to the Western Coal Industry predicted an increase of 50 cents per ton for domestic coal mines in the West. There has been no official statement from the Association as to the amount of the proposed increase.

Rest From 2400 Mile Trip in 30-Foot Ketch

SEATTLE, Oct. 7 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Field, their two small children and a friend, Robert Wagner, rested today in the home of Field's mother after a 32-day, 2400-mile voyage from Hawaii in a 30-foot ketch, the Pau Hana.

Field brought the craft to anchorage in Lake Washington Saturday after a trip he described as uneventful except for a storm 85 miles off the Washington coast which blew the Pau Hana North of Vancouver Island.

An electrical engineer, Field is on leave of absence from Hawaii where he has lived for the past 10 years.

Says Speech Hard For Churchill To Admit

By DEWITT MacKENZIE
Associated Press
Foreign Affairs Analyst

That was an amazing speech which Winston Churchill delivered at the weekend when, as leader of Britains Conservative party, he painted a gloomy picture of a shrinking British Empire.

Mr. Churchill was bidding for a continuation of his leadership at a party conefrence (a leadership which was confirmed with cheers), and he was charging the present Socialist Government with making previous mistakes to the detriment of the Empire. Still, it must have been hard for him—the quintessence of British imperialism — to make these admissions.

The famous wartime Premier attacked the Socialist Government especially on two lines—Palestine and India. He charged that the government was "vascillating without plan or policy" for the Holy Land and was "holding on to a mandate in which they have no vital interest." He declared such a course was "gaining the distrust and hostility both fo Arab and Jew".

It was regarding mighty India, however, that which he really let himself go. He accused the Attlee government of so mishandling the situation that "no one can measure the misery and bloodshed which will overtake these enormous masses of humble, helpless millions, or under what new power their future destiny will lie" (this last was a reference to Russia).

Mr. Churchill said that with the loss of India—and perhaps Burma—"the number of the King's subjects is being reduced to barely a quarter of what it has been for generations." And at the same time Russia has "brought extra scores of millions of people" under the "despotic control of the Kremlin" and continues to expand in every direction.

Of course Britain made a major imperial change when she conceded the sovereignty of the great Dominions—Canada, Australia, New Zealand and the Union of South Africa—which became members of the "British Commonwealth of Nations." Now the Socialist Government in London has offered India this same Dominion status, with the same privilege of withdrawing from the Commonwealth if she so desires.

The fate of 400,000,000 Indians is involved. If Britain should lose this great sub-continent, the King would indeed have lost some three quarters of his subjects, as Mr. Churchill points out.

New Zealand is fourth among the world's wool producing countries.

Favors Miners, Now Britain Finds Others Want Their Carrots, Too

By STUART UUDERHILL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Giving British coal miners an enlarged meat ration — a Government decision expected to be announced soon — has been likened to the principle of dangling a carrot before a donkey's nose.

Coal mining is regarded as the key to a successful British economy just now and the miner is a man to be cultivated. The theory is that if he gets more meat he will be both eager and capable of doing more work.

The trouble is that other donkeys" — heavy manual laborers such as steel workers — want their carrots too.

The Food Ministry has until recently consistently opposed differential rationing. Miners for some time have been getting a little more cheese than others but the first sign of weakening by the Government was when bread rationing was introduced. Heavy workers were given an extra allowance.

At present the basic meat ration for adult: allows them each to spend one shilling, two pence (about 22 cents) weekly on meat. It is thought the miners will get about double that although there has been no anpouncement as yet.

However, the Trade Union Congress has been advised that underground workers' demands for more meat are being met.

CONGRESS ON SPOT

The Congress, Britain's over-all labor organization, is in an awkward position. It cooperated through the war and afterwards in turning a deaf ear to heavy workers' claims for more food. Then it found the Government had reversed its policy where miners were concerned. Other unions have been vociferous in their complaints and the matter probably will be hotly debated at the Congress Convention at Brighton Oct. 21.

In defence, the Government can say it is releasing thousands of tons of additional meat supplies to industrial canteens, factory cafeterias where workers can get hot meals at extremely low prices. However, workers of all classes would rather see extra meat on their own tables in the form of bigger roasts which can be enjoyed by the whole family.

Get Jail Terms For Fraud

CRANBROOK, B.C., Oct. 7 — Pleading guilty to obtaining money under false pretenses from a veteran, William A. Oldham, alias H. C. Miller, alias Rex Stephens, who has been in Cranbrook for a week, was sentenced Saturday morning in City Police Court to six months' hard labor. Complaint was laid by personnel of the Townsman, new Cranbrook news-advertiser, and investigation disclosed Oldham had been soliciting subscriptions and free advertising from veterans for a non-existent national Ad-News, and had accepted money for the subscriptions, it was revealed in court.

At the same court session Mervyn Baxter Holden pleaded guilty to obtaining lodgings fraudulently. He claimed to be soliciting advertising for a telephone poster. He was sentenced to two months' hard labor without option of a fine.

Albert M. Byers pleaded guilty to consuming liquor in a public place and was fined $50 or 30 days, and was found guilty of taking a truck without consent of the owner and was fined $15 or 15 days, sentences to run concurrently if the fine is not paid.

Corporal M. B. MacBrayne prosecuted the charges which were heard before Magistrate C. R. Ward.

Williams Thinks He Won't Be With Sox Next Year

SPORTSMAN'S PARK, St. Louis, Oct. 7 (AP)—Ted Williams, mighty Boston hitter, has a "hunch' he will not be playing for the Red Sox next year.

Asked shortly before today's World Series game abouf numerous rumors he would be traded, Williams said:

"I just have a kind of hunch that I won't be with this team next year. I have heard nothing, nobody has told me a thing, but it's just what I pick up from all I read. After all, I probably would be the last one to hear about it."

HOPES DWINDLE FOR RUSS ROLE IN WORLD BANK

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (AP) — World Fund and Bank officials today were about ready to write off their last hopes of financial cooperation from Russia.

Barring a great improvement in political relations, United States officials privately predicted the chances are virtually nil that Russia will enter the $15,000,000,000 international lending agencies by the Dec. 31 deadline.

After that the chances will be worse, they believe. Russia would have to apply as a "new" country—one which did not sign the Bretton Woods agreements—and would have to submit to newly figured quotas of contributions to the fund and bank.

Such new quotas might be less favorable than those worked out at Bretton Woods, N.H., in 1944. Concessions were made to the Soviet then because of the eagerness of the Western powers to induce her to come in.

Soviet interest in economic collaboration has dwindled as her diplomatic relations with Britain and the United States have deteriorated. This came into clear focus at the first annual meeting of the Bank and Fund Governors here last week.

LONDON, (CP) — Liners Aquitania and Empress of Australia, both 32 years old, are likely to continue in service another three or four years.

Announce Separation Of Sinatra and Wife

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 7 (AP) — Singer Frankie Sinatra, whose crooning love songs send thousands of bobby soxers to the verge of delirium, has separated from his attractive wife, Nancy, his associates disclosed today. He has moved from their home and is seeking an apartment, but a press spokesman emphasized that a divorce is not contemplated. He said Sinatra voiced hope of a reconciliation.

PUBLIC WON'T REGARD THEM AS WAR VETERANS WOMEN FIND

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—The women who used to be in the women's branches of the Army, the Navy, the Coast Guard and the Marines complain that the old-fashioned public fails to regard them as war veterans.

A Veterans Administration survey disclosed Saturday night that failure to gain recognition as veterans in competition for jobs is one of their major problems.

"Nobody knows anything about women veterans," one woman told the V.A. inquiry unit. "All they recognize is women, period."

Queen Elizabeth, in 1572, received the first wrist watch ever made.
