H. A. McKowan of Cranbrook, Head Of District's Largest Lumber Producing Plant, Dies on U.S. Visit

CRANBROOK, B.C., Sept. 26—Harry A. McKowan, President and General Manager of the Cranbrook Sash and Door Company Ltd., and one of the Interior's best known citizens, died suddenly today at Catskill, N.Y., where he was visiting his daughter. He was born 70 years ago in Ontario and came to Cranbrook about 1900.

He was a building worker at the start of the city, was then employed by Slater Lumber Company. In 1910 with W. F. Attridge and Joseph Woodman, both dead, and J. H. Spence as partners, he bought the Slater Company which became the present Sash and Door Company, largest Kootenay lumber producer. Mr. McKowan was prominent in all phases of the business' activities in his 48 years of residence. Surviving are his wife, who is also visiting at Catskill, and four daughters, Mrs. T. A. Moore, Mrs. R. S. Inglis and Mrs. Ross Leyden, all of Cranbrook; and Mrs. Frederick Kelley of Catskill; his brother, J. E. McKowan of Cranbrook; and sister, Amy McKowan in England, and eight grandchildren.

9 Mineral Claims Recorded

Five persons have registered mineral claims at the Nelson Mining Recorder's Office during the past fortnight, their claims totaling nine in all. Staked for the most part in the Salmo-Ymir area, claims were recorded by two Nelson residents and three Salmo, Ymir and Vancouver. The following were recorded: Contract C, about 3 1/2 miles up Hall Creek, by Henry Erickson of Ymir. Michigan No. 1 and No. 2, Hughes Creek adjoining the Ohio No. 1 mineral claim, by J. W. H. Hamilton of Vancouver. Gambler No. 1 and No. 4, in the vicinity of the Blues Ridge and Mewan mineral claims, by R. H. Winter of Salmo. Cavaleade, adjoining the Shirley Girl mineral claim and the Jubilee of the North, by J. E. Marquis of Nelson. Jubilee, adjoining and South of the Dixie Queen mineral claim and West of the Cavaleade, by Ira C. D. Marquis of Nelson.

Conference Plans May Aid Canada Dollar Shortage

LONDON, Sept. 26 (CP)—Implementation of the recommendations of 16 countries including Britain for United States help to Europe, may be a major factor in ending Canada's difficulties due to the shortage of United States dollars, an informed source said today. His comment was made after a foreign office spokesman said that the phrase, "American continent," used in a report from the Paris 16-Nation Conference on the Marshall Plan, could be taken to mean Canada and South American countries as well as the United States. The report said that the whole plan of United States aid to restore Europe would be "in jeopardy" unless large supplies of food, fuel, raw materials and capital equipment could be obtained from the American continent. The report must be approved by Washington before action can be taken but if this is done a vast market for Canadian supplies will be opened, the source said.

Judge Driving Taft Gets Warning

GEARHART, Ore., Sept. 26 (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft's driver—an Oregon Circuit Court Judge—drew a warning and a $15 fine for speeding on the drive here from Tacoma today. Judge Walter Toozee, Portland, said on arrival. Toozee, the driver, said he was fined at Tenino, Wash., for going 40 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone and when he told the patrolmen he was hurrying the Senator to a meeting, was told, "we're here to see that the Senator gets there safely."

BA. STANDARD TIME SUNDAY

Nelsonites early Sunday morning will gain that 60 minute sleep they lost five months ago. When they turn their clocks back one hour Saturday night—at 2 a.m. Sunday—Daylight Saving Time will officially end and Pacific Standard Time resume for the Fall and Winter months. While residents' schedules may be somewhat disrupted by the change, and the fact that evening will come an hour earlier, trains and buses which remained on Standard Time, operate without change. Daylight Saving Time came into effect April 28.

NEXT MOVE ON PALESTINE UP TO U.N.

British Move Clears Way; Analyst Sees Haste as a Danger

By DEWITT MacKENZIE Associated Press Foreign Affairs Analyst
Announcement of the British decision to get out of Palestine comes as no surprise. The British authorities have been restless for some time over a situation where they were spending the lives of men and large sums of badly needed money and receiving only ill-will in return. And one of the things on which the U.N. Palestine Commission was fully agreed was that British control should end. Now the future of Palestine is squarely up to the U.N., with no proposal in sight which will make everybody happy, although the Jews have generally accepted the partition idea if not all of its details. The British announcement clears the atmosphere somewhat, but it also raises the danger that, under the pressure of needing to act immediately, the nations may act up with a hasty solution which will prove unworkable.

ROAD OPEN TO COMPROMISES

Although the majority of the U.N. Investigating Committee decided in favor of a separate Jewish state, the suggested borders include such a large proportion of Arabs—416,000 to 500,000 Jews—that there is grave doubt regarding its practicality. Then, too, there are indications that the Jewish Government is building a 205-mile highway from Gushatayim to Jerusalem which will be ready for use in 1949. Efforts are being made to reduce the costs of gasoline and fuel oil which comes in by tankers from Norman Wells. An up-to-date landing field has just been opened for the air service.

Discrimination Against Negro Girls 'in Many Hospitals'

TORONTO, Sept. 26 (CP)—Discrimination against negro girls seeking to become student nurses exists in a number of hospitals across Canada, according to the results of a Dominion-wide survey of 58 schools of nursing. The survey, made public yesterday, was conducted by the National Council of the Y.M.C.A. in the form of a questionnaire sent to 178 hospitals. More than two-thirds of hospitals receiving the forms did not reply. Public attention was focused on alleged discrimination practices this week when a hospital in Owen Sound, Ont., rejected the application of Marris Scott, 21-year-old negro girl, for admission to a nurses training course. Hospitals operated by Roman Catholic nuns seemed generally free of discrimination, but in two of these—one in Halifax, and one in St. Vital, Man.—the medical staffs were reported as objecting to negro trainees. Seventeen hospitals reported no discrimination and 13 said they had graduated negro girls or now had negro students.

RESERVES DECISION ON COMMISSION APPEAL

VICTORIA, Sept. 26 (CP)—The Appeal Court today reserved judgment on the appeal of the British Columbia Power Commission against a decision of Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson disallowing on a technicality the Commission's action from valuations by American Appraisal Company on power plants expropriated in 1945. The hearing which lasted five days involves the Nanaimo Duncan Public Utilities Co., which was awarded a sum of $1,894,000 for electric power plants expropriated by the Commission. The Commission in Supreme Court tried to reduce the valuation by approximately $200,000, but the case was dismissed by Mr. Justice Wilson on the ground that the Commission had not complied with the B.C. Electric Power Act, relating to appeal.

SEEK MEANS OF RELIEF FOR GOLD MINES

Government Feels Free Marketing Not Of Lasting Benefit

TRANSPORT AID

By R. K. CARNEGIE Canadian Press Staff Writer
OTTAWA, Sept. 26 (CP)—The Federal Government is giving renewed consideration to means of assisting Canada's gold mining industry, which has been seeking relief since the revaluation of the dollar last year reduced the value of its product and made a severe dent in operating profits. The problem has been placed in the hands of Resources Minister Glen and he is understood to have asked the industry for suggested remedies. The Mines Branch of the Government comes under his department. However, as Mr. Glen has expressed the view that a devaluation of the dollar to its former status is out for the present at least, thus the main proposal of the mining companies is turned down. Government officials here do not think another suggestion by the mining interests—that they be allowed to sell gold on a free market—would be of lasting benefit. While some gold might be sold at considerably more than the world price of $35 an ounce United States currency, this demand soon would be satisfied.

VANCOUVER, Sept. 26 (CP)—The United Kingdom is casting aside its "pipe dream" and "will shortly struggle through to prosperity again," Sir Robert Burrows, head of Britain's largest railway, today declared at an international port day luncheon. "Pipe dreams are being dissipated by the cold air of reality, and abandoning false and feeble doctrines, we will come through with heads bloody but unbowed." Sponsored by the Vancouver Board of Trade, the luncheon was attended by representatives of Canadian and United States ports here for the annual meeting of the Pacific Coast Association of Port Authorities.

HILLIERS DOUKHOBORS WOULD BAR FANATICS AS TRESPASSERS

HILLIERS, B.C., Sept. 26 (CP)—At this Vancouver Island centre of 275 population 35 miles Northwest of Nanaimo, orthodox Doukhobors told a delegation of businessmen from Nanaimo and Parksville that they would bar man-made laws where these did not conflict with "divine law." The unusual meeting was arranged by the business men to ascertain the intentions of the Doukhobors in their newly-established community of 75 persons on 325 acres of land near here in view of sect disturbances in British Columbia's Interior and persistent reports that the Hilliers colony would be expanded and numerous other Doukhobors brought in. The round-table conference was held in a cabin in the Doukhobor settlement where members of Nanaimo and Parksville Boards of Trade met "Archangel" Michael Verigin. Michael is known to his followers as "The Fourth Brother." He was flanked by two elders, actually young men, products of Canadian schooling—Joseph Podovinkoff and A. Markel. Cordial welcome was extended by the Doukhobors to their guests and questions were answered readily. The Nanaimo Board delegation included President George Benwell, Sheldon Burr, Al Hardy and W. A. Barnes; those from Parksville were President Stan Johnson and Postmaster E. Parsley. The Doukhobor spokesmen said they had no intention of bringing into the community a large number of the sect from the Interior of the province and would not permit "fanatical" or "dissident" compromisers from trouble zones to join their ranks. REGINA, Sept. 26 (CP)—A premonition that her son—Frederick Thomas Langton Bussey—was in trouble and needed a mother's consolation roused Mrs. Fred O. Bussey of Regina from her sleep three nights ago, she said today. Informed that a man giving the name of Fred Bussey was charged in Montreal with the murder of 11-year-old Betty Playford of Owen Sound, Ont., Mrs. Bussey said: "Instinct told me it's all wrong. He had a loving tender nature. I can't connect him with a crime of this sort. I've always known when Fred was in trouble. I wake up in the night hearing his voice. It happened on several occasions. "The other night I heard him call 'Mom, I need you,' and I was awake instantly." He son, she said, was always one to do things instantly "and have great sorrow after."

FOUR BRITISH KILLED IN JEWISH HOLDUP

Hebrew-Speaking Gunmen Escape With $180,000

MANY WOUNDED

JERUSALEM, Sept. 26 (AP)—A band of Hebrew-speaking gunmen killed four British constables in the busy streets of downtown Tel Aviv today during a daring armored car holdup which netted the robbers $180,000. They took $600,000 from the closely guarded car outside Barclays Bank but dropped one bag of money containing $450,000 during their getaway in a white jeep. A Jewish policeman was wounded in the gunfighting which accompanied the holdup and a bank official was smashed in the face by members of the robber band. Police officials said two of the extremists also were believed to have been wounded. The attack on the armored car, which was loading two sacks of money from Barclays Bank in crowded Allenby Road, was preceded by the bursting of a bomb against the Palestinian Economic Corporation Building across the street. This apparently was intended to distract attention from the hold-up. Witnesses said four men drove up in a white jeep after the bomb explosion and tossed a hand grenade into the group of British constables guarding the armored car. In the grenade and exchange of shots which followed three constables were mortally wounded.

URGES CANADA TO PROMOTE STRONG UNIONISM

NORTH BAY, Ont., Sept. 26 (CP)—M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, urged last night that Canada take a leaf from the books of other countries regarding labor matters. Comparing trends in labor legislation in the various commonwealth countries and in the United States, he said that Britain, New Zealand, and Australia were promoting strong responsible unionism by giving workers the opportunity to aid in the administration of industry and government. By contrast, in the United States, the Taft-Hartley law had been passed "in an attempt to bring about decay in the labor movement. This could only be done by legislators who failed to appreciate the values of democratic unionism to the country as a whole." Mr. Coldwell said he felt Canada was perilously near to trying to emulate the new American law, and that the "failure of the Dominion Government to pass an adequate national labor code shows its inherent unresponsiveness to the labor movement."

SEARCH SUCCESSFUL

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 26 (AP)—A 12-hour search for a four-year-old boy who was sleeping in a car when it was stolen, ended today when Denton Lloyd Ricci was found unharmed in the Southwest Park District here. Detective John Machamer, who with the boy's father, Joseph D. Ricci, went to the park blocks in answer to an anonymous tip that an apparently lost boy was there, said the youngster was seated on a bench talking with a man and a woman when they arrived.

CONVICTED OF MANSLAUGHTER

VANCOUVER, Sept. 25 (CP)—John Kneeler, 26, of Vancouver was convicted of manslaughter in Assize Court here today. He had been charged with the June 17 slaying of 52-year-old Harry Woo. Last Wednesday 21-year-old Eva Boucher was also convicted of manslaughter in connection with the death of the Chinese foreman of a city cannery factory. Both were charged with murder as a result of Woo's death following an East-End rooming house brawl. Sentences will be pronounced at the end of the Assize.

Walks in to Montreal Newspaper Office to Tell Story on Ontario Slaying; Police Find Details Check

MONTREAL, Sept. 27 (CP)—Police late today charged 22-year-old Fred Bussey of Regina with the Sunday night bludgeoning slaying of 11-year-old Betty Playford in Owen Sound, Ont. Bussey, slight, brown-eyed and self-described as a man with a "psychopathic personality," remained in cells here awaiting the arrival of Ontario police who are to return him to Owen Sound after he had voluntarily named himself as the killer. Three times Bussey told his story to police. Each time details were the same and check-ups in Ontario bore out several of his facts. "I would be greatly surprised if it was not the man," said detective Capt. Georges Allain when asked if he thought Bussey's story was bonafide. TELLS REPORTER First, and in surprising fashion, the wartime navy man told his story to a reporter of the Montreal Herald. He visited the newspaper office voluntarily last night. Then in today's early morning hours he was handed over to police. Again he told his story. The burden of it was this: Last Sunday night he was driving in a stolen car and arrived in Owen Sound, having lost his way. He asked the Playford child the way, then offered her a lift home. In the car she screamed and, fearing the attraction of attention since the car was stolen, he hit her with a hammer, later dumped the body into a ditch. In Bussey's story—he signed a statement in the Herald office—he denied he criminally assaulted the little girl. He abandoned the stolen car at Collingwood, he said and this part of his story checked when Ontario police worked on it. Then he hitch-hiked to Montreal and took lodgings at the Y.M.C.A. In Montreal he was overcome by remorse. "Remorse was so great that I couldn't sleep nor eat anymore," he said. So he surrendered. From Owen Sound came word that Police Chief T. H. Carson felt "good reason to believe" that Bussey was the wanted man. Chief Carson said the car which Bussey claimed to have been driving when the murder was committed had been found abandoned near Collingwood. Later, so he said, he stole $1,800 in Halifax merely to gain a navy discharge even though it was not an honorable one. The suspect said he then returned to Regina where his parents reside, joined the army and three months later received an honorable discharge because of poor physique. His statement included a reference to serving six months at the Bays Industrial School at Regina when he was 15. The only possessions carried by Bussey when he walked into the Herald office last night and signed a statement were discharge papers and a booklet of typed precepts for correct living which he said had been prepared by his mother. One of the articles read: "The loose liver cannot escape sorrow and pain. The undisciplined mind falls, weak and helpless, before the fierce onslaught of passion." In the statement he said he alone was responsible for the brutal killing of the Owen Sound child. Inspector Wilfrid Bourdon told The Canadian Press the man had also given his name as Thomas Bussey, though The Herald reported him saying his Christian name was Fred. In greater detail the man's story recounted how in peeling rain he was driving 40 to 45 miles an hour

Britain to Pull Out Of Palestine Soon

Refuse to Attempt Alone to Impose U. N. Partition Plan by Force of Arms

By CLYDE BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LAKE SUCCESS, Sept. 26 (CP)—Britain today told the United Nations she had decided to withdraw from Palestine at an early date, and meanwhile, would not alone attempt to enforce a U. N. settlement agreement which was unacceptable to Jews and Arabs.

In a long-awaited British statement on the U. N. special Palestine Committee's recommendation for partition, Colonial Secretary Arthur Creech-Jones told a packed committee room "some other authority" would have to enforce it.

The special Ad Hoc Committee on Palestine adjourned soon after Creech-Jones made his statement and will sit Monday to hear representations from the Arab Higher Committee. On Tuesday it will hear the Jewish Agency of Palestine.

The significance of the British stand was that, whatever happens, Britain is going to get out of Palestine, and that it will not attempt alone to impose partition by force of arms.

Justice Emil Sandstrom of Sweden, who headed the U. N. Palestine Investigating Committee, spoke briefly to say that it seemed unlikely a settlement would ever be found, acceptable to both Jews and Arabs.

Jamal Hussein for the Arabs and Emmanuel Neumann for the Jewish Agency were called to the committee table and given their dates for making their submissions next Monday and Tuesday.

The British spokesman said he hopes the U. N. will have "more success than the United Kingdom has had" in persuading the Jews and Arabs to cooperate in attaining independence.

Meanwhile the Committee waited in eagerness for the statement of policy by the United States which is in a delicate spot between the influential Jewish and Arabian interests in this country.

S. AFRICAN ACTION

Elsewhere in the United Nations activities today the knotty problem of South Africa's failure to submit a trusteeship for Southwest Africa was under hot fire from all sides. Russia's Boris Stein told the Trusteeship Committee it had the spectacle of a member defying the organization's orders.

South Africa was asked last year by the U. N. not to annex the former German colony of Southwest Africa but to submit a U. N. Trusteeship plan to replace its League of Nations mandate entrusted to it after the First Great War. South Africa has not carried out annexation but neither has it submitted a trusteeship plan, arguing that the natives of the region, in an overwhelming majority, want to become a full member of the union.

RUSS ATTACK ALLEGED "U.S. WAR MONGERS"

Says Some Should Be Enchained; Includes British

SECOND TIRADE

By CLYDE BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LAKE SUCCESS, Sept. 26 (CP)—Russia's Andrei Vishinsky today took the press conference method to deliver a second and more bitter attack on alleged "U. S. war mongers" some of whom he declared should be "enchained".

Before some 300 correspondents held for nearly an hour in a packed committee room of the United Nations Vishinsky repeated his tirade of a week ago and broadened it to include among his "war mongers" Britain's chief delegates, Hector McNeil, and Warren Austin, United States delegate.

The news conference, called by the Russians, was held in the Security Council chamber between sessions, and those attending were not permitted to leave until it was over. Vishinsky handed out a prepared statement repeating his charges of the existence in the United States of a virtual war plot against the Soviet Union.

N. Burgess Fills Creston Council Vacancy

CRESTON, B.C., Sept. 26—Nelson Burgess, Creston merchant, was sworn to fill the Council vacancy before D. Bradley, J.P., to complete the term of office to December 31, formerly held by Col. E. Mallandaine.

The new councillor during past years has taken a great interest in civic and Board of Trade affairs and been a keen advocate of valley progress. He is also a member of the Creston Rate Payers Association and had acted as a representative at Council meetings.

No Blame in Logging Death

CRESTON, B.C., Sept. 26—A coroner's jury found that Sidney H. Prowse came to his death about six miles North of Wynndel about 2:30 p.m. on September 22 from a blow from a rolling log dislodged in skidding operations. No blame was attached to any person or persons.

The jury comprised Laverne Plumb, John L. Walker, Clarence Miracle, Charles Hewitt, Bernard Friesen and Bernard Price.

Steve Zackodnick, partner in the logging firm of Zackodnick and Habart, reported that his employee Sidney Prowse died following a logging mishap out at Wynndel. The injured man was taken to Wynndel where he received medical attention from Dr. Murray, but later succumbed while enroute to Creston.

ENGLISH RAILWAY CHAIRMAN AT COAST

VANCOUVER, Sept. 26 (CP)—Sir Robert Burrow, Chairman of the London Midland and Scottish Railway, arrived in Vancouver last night with a new comment on Canada. "This is the only country in the world today where people run after you to do you a service," he said. "It's remarkable."

Kimberley Council Supports C.P.A. Mail Contract; To Build More Houses

KIMBERLEY, B.C., Sept. 26—Application of the CP Air Lines for the mail contract between Calgary and Vancouver via Cranbrook, Castlegar and Pentiction was one of the many matters discussed at the regular tri-monthly meeting of the Kimberley City Council. The Council supported the CPA application and instructed that the City Clerk write them to this effect. It was also decided to ask the Kimberley Board of Trade to support the CP application.

The problem of trade licences was also discussed. To date 16 electrical trade licences have been issued yet it was still difficult to secure electricians to work in the homes. This was felt to be due to those issued licences who work at other jobs and only do electrical work as a side line. The Council was to investigate the possibility of amending the Trade Licensing Bylaw so that only those who work full time at their trade may obtain licences.

SITE FOR HOME

Other matters discussed by the Council included the purchase of land as a site for a Senior Citizen's Home, the drawing up of money bylaw for the proposed new sewerage system in the city, a contract for fifty more war time houses and the sending of a delegation to the School Tax Investigation Committee which will sit in Cranbrook on Nov. 3.

It was decided that the C.M. & S. Company should be approached upon the purchase of the site for the Senior Citizen's Home. The pro-

WITHDRAWAL OF TROOPS IN KOREA URGED

Would Take Out Both American And Russ Troops
RUSS PROPOSAL

SEOUL, Korea, Sept. 26 (AP)—Russian Gen. T. F. Shtikov today proposed simultaneous withdrawal of American and Russian occupation troops from Korea at the beginning of 1948.

Shtikov is chief Russian delegate to the Russian-American Joint Commission which has tried unsuccessfully to set up a provisional government for a unified Korea.

Lt.-Gen. John R. Hodge, Commander of United States occupation troops in South Korea, and Maj.-Gen. Albert Brown, chief American delegate to the Commission, said they had "no comment" on the Russian proposal.

The United States asked the United Nations General Assembly Sept. 17 to consider the Korean question. The request followed Soviet rejection of an American invitation to a conference on Korea with the United States, China and Great Britain. The conference was postponed.

The Joint Commission failed in two attempts to prepare the ground for a Provisional Government of Korea, now divided into Russian and American occupation zones. Each time, the two delegations were unable to agree on which Korean political parties and social organizations were to be consulted on the form of government.

Allowance Raise For Princess After Wedding?

LONDON, Sept. 26 (CP)—What increase, if any, in her allowance of £15,000 ($60,000) yearly Princess Elizabeth should receive after her marriage is being discussed by financial advisers to the King headed by Sir Ulick Alexander, keeper of the Privy purse.

They have to decide in time for the King to ask Parliament to adjust the civil list allowance when Parliament resumes Oct. 21.

In May, 1937, when she was 11 years old, Parliament decreed that Elizabeth should receive £6,000 yearly, increasing to £15,000 at the age of 21. But under the Act of 1937 no provision was made for any increase on her marriage.

Such an increase, if approved by Parliament, will come from the revenues of the Duchy of Cornwall, normally held by the Prince of Wales. These revenues produce more than £1,000,000. They are vested in the King and the residue goes to the reduction of the civil list. Lieut. Philip Mountbatten will not be entitled to any state income—even when he receives a dukedom—but it is expected he will derive a substantial income from royal estates normally given to the prince consort as a wedding gift.

EXEMPTIONS

As a single woman, the income tax payable on Elizabeth's £15,000 is £1,000 leaving her less than £4,000. But there are a number of exemptions for household and entertainment expenses.

Opposition to any increase in Elizabeth's salary was crystallized in a number of letters to London newspapers, a few protests from labor organizations and critical editorials in the Left-wing press.

On the other hand there has been no large-scale public opposition to the increasing salary or to expenses of the royal wedding and the general view seems to be that Elizabeth must be given enough to maintain her position as heiress-presumptive to the throne.

Aron, a Greek physician, is reputed to have originated fumigation in 473 B.C. when he halted a plague in Athens by burning aromatics in great fires.

What Are 25 to 50 Years in Lives Of Nations? MacKenzie Asks

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press
Foreign Affairs Analyst

The appalling question of whether another world war is brewing keeps coming up, even in the councils of United Nations where we are hearing grim warnings that unless the breach between the Eastern and Western blocs is healed we shall have another conflagration—this time of atomic proportions.

This being a persistent topic of conversation, it's interesting to hear from Ernest G. Ropes, Chief of the United States Commerce Department's Russian section, that "we don't need to worry about Russia as a potential enemy." He says she won't have the industrial capacity to war against the United States for at least 25 years—maybe 50 years or more.

SATELLITE AID

Ropes had in mind only the industrial capacity of Russia itself, without reference to how much the Soviet war potential might be increased by the industrial strength of its satellites and the Russian zone in Germany. The satellite aid is problematical, but one is impressed by the fact that Czechoslovakia's huge Skoda Works were among the world's great armament centres during the last war, though they are devoted to civilian production now.

There are of course numerous imponderables involved in trying to gauge Russian capabilities of creating military striking power out of her vast resources, and it is a problem which should be approached with great caution lest we underestimate. As for your columnist, his thoughts immediately turn back to 1925 when Stalin achieved control in the new Communist regime.

The project of world revolution for the spread of Communism—which is now in full swing—was one of the cardinal projects of the Reds. Leon Trotsky, competing with Stalin for leadership, wanted to push the revolution to the limit immediately, but the more far-sighted Stalin said in effect: "Everything in its proper time. To wage world revolution now is putting the cart before the horse. Russia first must be made powerful industrial and militarily."

DID WONDERS

So Stalin temporarily shelved world revolution and created his series of highly successful five-year plans to strengthen the industries of the Soviet Union. Well, from 1925 to 1941 when Hitler lashed out at the Muscovites it lasted only 16 years, but in that comparatively brief time Stalin had done wonders with what had been a relatively outmoded industrial structure. And he had built a powerful army, as he demonstrated on the battle field.

Much of the industrial strength which Stalin had created was smashed by the invading Germans. But even as the Hitlerites were driving into Russia, Moscow was busy creating a new, great industrial area in the fastness of the Urals, far from the ravages of war. The products from that new zone were being used long before the war ended.

Since peace came Stalin has inaugurated a new five-year plan for the rebuilding and extension of industry. In this connection Ellisworth Lester Raymond, former chief of the United States Army's Russian economic section, states in an article in the magazine "United Nations World" that the Soviet Union, unknown to the outside world, has built or is building 100 industrial centres. It also is creating an immense Siberian industrial region which will include a Russian "Oak Ridge" for atomic energy development. Raymond says that these new industrial centres "bear witness to the huge strides the U.S.S.R. is making toward rebuilding an industrial economy so terribly ravaged by war."

So, while it will take Russia long to repair the damage and equip herself with great striking power, yet we shall do well not to overlook potentialities. After all, what are 25 or even 50 years in the lives of nations.

Forty per cent more persons were killed in automobile accidents on Saturday in 1946 than on average days during the year.

Church Adds Agricultural Experts to
Her Staffs in Overseas Missions

The United Church conducts mis- sionary enterprises in China, Japan, Korea, West Africa, Central India and Trinidad. In China there are three mission fields—one in Honan, one in South China and on in West China—and in normal times these comprise 16 Central Stations, over 100 Out-Stations and scores of or- ganized churches and groups of be- lievers. In the China mission be- fore the war the United Church operated twelve hospitals and several branch dispensaries treating tens of thou- sands of in-patients and out-pa- tients annually. At Chengtu, West China, industrial work is carried on and experiments made in poultry feeding, silkworm culture, the grow- ing of Nanking wheat, cotton and corn.

Grave crisis confronts our over- seas missions in this ancient land. Bombing, fighting, looting, inflation and famine have taken a heavy toll. Many mission stations have been severely damaged—some even wip- ed out. This is a grim story and one of Christian heroism and sacrifice. There is no one better qualified to tell it than Dr. "Bob" McClure who speaks at the Cavalcade meeting in St. Paul's Church Wednesday night. The time has come to repair the ravages of war. Not only build- ings and equipment, but person- nel—the church itself must be rehabi- lated if it is to make a worthy con- tribution to the Kingdom of God.

This applies with equal force to our mission work in Japan and Korea, to man yparts of which missionaries are just returning. In West Africa the United Church has a responsibility for the evan- gelization of 500,000 Africans, be-

MILLIONS OF DOLLARS
RAISED TO CARRY ON CHURCH'S WORK

The Treasury Department super- vises the finances of the United Church of Canada in all phases of its activity. In 1946 the Mission- ary and Maintenance fund received contributions of $1,988,098 to carry on the work as outlined in this page. Over 20,000 remittances of money came into the treasury in the course of a year, and a similar number of receipts are sent out.

The Treasury Department is re- sponsible for the securing and management of bequests and an- nuity gifts which are invested in high quality trustee securities by a committee of laymen with wide investment experience. In the year 1946 nearly $100,000 has been given to the United Church under its Annuity Plan, whereby donors receive a generous rate of return on their gifts during their lifetime.

In 1946 the United Church raised for all purposes $17,817,949 and holds property valued at $95,211,619. The many and varied activities of the church are made possible by the givings of our people—chiefly by regular, systematic, and propo- rionate contributions of faithful folk who stand loyally by the Church they love.

PENSION FUND
CAMPAIGN MEETS WITH SUCCESS

During the past year the lay- men of the United Church have been active in a campaign to raise $5,100,000 to add to the capital of the United Church Pension Fund. At this date, $4,454,882 has been reported an d the returns and much of the work are still incomplete.

The United Church recognizes and accepts responsibility for the care of her servants who have grown old in the Master's Service. The Pension Fund enables min- isters to undertake their life work in extremely moderate salaries, in the knowledge that a portion of their income will continue to be paid to them on retirement, as a pension, by the church they have served.

The Pension Fund now supports:
844 aged ministers at an annual cost ..... $487,388
754 widows at an annual cost ..... $289,128
90 children at an annual cost ..... $ 7,102
Total ..... $783,618

This is a unique pictorial record of the United Church of Canada at work throughout the Dominion and Newfoundland and in Mission Fields Overseas.

By the visual education method of charts and illuminated maps, still and moving pictures, curios, native costumes and flashlight devices indicating centres of Missionary endeavor, Rescue Homes, Hos- pitals and other areas of Christian life and ministry, the organized work of the ministry is graphically set forth as a vital part of the "Crusade for Christ and His Kingdom."

The Crusaders' Cavalcade Van — a converted Army Officers-Headquarters vehicle, fully equipped with a fine quality Public Address System wired for both lights and pictures, and carrying the entire exhibit, has already covered much of Eastern Canada and B. C. Coast. It is now moving through the interior and will go to the Prairie Provinces, then will tour the Maritimes.

By means of this display the United Church is attempting to acquaint the public with the whole work of the church. Each church and denomination is doing a great piece of work and this only shows what one branch of the whole church is doing. We believe, however, that when you see this you will have a greater vision of the church's work and a greater zeal for it.

Plan to attend the evening meetings and see this great exhibit that will be on display each afternoon and evening.

CHINA TO MAKE A

Dr. Kenneth Beaton and Rev. Anson Moorehouse have sailed for China to make a moving picture of the work of the United Church in the war torn land. This film will be part of a library the church is making for its own use. A picture "Western Hands Are Sure" made under the direc- tion of the committee on Mis- sionary Education and showing the Medical Missionary at work in Lomont Hospital will be shown in Trinity church on Tuesday night during the visit of the Cav- alcade.

In addition to this film library a series of graded books is prepared annually for Primary, Junior, Teen Age and Adult reading; also a number of specialized books dealing with various phases of Missionary work and service.

Lectures, Lantern Slide lec- tures sets of Kodachrome slides and sets of missionary dramas in phonograph records with a Lead- er's Guide outlining 12 Junior pro- grams are now available for use in local churches.

UNITED CHURCH DOES
MUCH OF ITS OWN
PUBLISHING

The United Church owns and operates its own publishing house, at Queen and John streets in To- ronto. Here much of the material for the work and worship of the church is printed—in particular, the church paper, THE HYMN- ARY, THE MANUAL and THE BOOK OF COMMON ORDER. The Year Book, Sunday School Lesson Helps and Story Papers and promotional materials for the Boards and Committees.

In addition The United Church Publishing House, under its trade name, The Ryerson Press, pub- lishes religious, educational and general trade books—history, bio- graphy, poetry, art, fiction, travel and books on economic, social and national problems.

By instruction of the General Council profits from the Publish- ing House are contributed at the discretion of The Board of Publi- cation to the Pension Fund of the Church.

The Church Restores the Wayward and Unfortunate

The church has a task to preach the word of God, to care for the wayward and the unfortunate, and to create better living conditions for all people. In this present time this is a difficult task and the United Church, and all Canada, is fortunate in the leadership given by the Board of Evangelism and Social Service.

This Board organizes preaching missions, promotes evangelism through the Crusade for Christ and His Kingdom, stimulates Visitation Evangelism campaigns, promotes the work of church membership classes, assists in the ministry of radio, helps ministers and their regular evangel- istic work, distributes devotional literature, circulates theological literature, such as "The State- ment of Faith," and the "Catechism," and makes available World-Wide Communion Sunday material. Delinquent and unfortunate girls are helped and cared for in three United Church Redemptive Homes: The Mountview Social Service Home at Calgary, The United Church Maternity Home at Vancouver and The Church Home for Girls at Winnipeg. The United Church Cedarvale School at Georgetown, Ont., provides for the physical, mental and spiritual development of girls from broken homes.

The protection and care of homeless children are very near to the heart of the Church, and boys and girls who need special help are subjects of our Church's care. The Earls Court Home in Tor- onto provides a real home for needy children. In addition, this Board has a share in the fine redemp- tive work of the Victor Home for unmarried mothers in Toronto.

In Moncton, N.B., the United Church, along with other Protestant communions, operates the Interprovincial Home for women committed by magistrates; also at Truro, N.S., the Maritime Home for girls. In both these Homes kindly Christian counsel an d spiritual help are given, in order that shattered lives may be restored and healed.

The Bethany House at Montreal, and the Ina Gratton Gage Home at Toronto provide sympathetic care for elderly women who otherwise might pass their declining years unprovided-for and forgotten. The church is greatly concerned about social conditions and gives leadership in the fields of health and Social Security, Social Hygiene, Civil Liberties, Sabbath Observance, the liquor problem, home life, and other important aspects of our national and international social life. The creation of an en- lightened conscience within each community is producing encouraging results.

PYTHIAN GRAND CHIEF VISITS N. DENVER ORDER
 NEW DENVER, B.C., Sept. 26 — Mrs. Drusilla Anders of Nanaimo, Grand Chief of the Pythian Sisters of British Columbia, paid her official visit to Lucerne Temple No. 17, New Denver accompanied by her husband Ben Anders. A grand banquet was held in her honor in the Knights' Pythian Castle Hall at 6:30 p.m. to which the Knights of Pythian Lodge No. 22 New Denver and the Pythian Sisters of Myrtle Temple No. 16 of Nakusp were invited. The tables were lovingly centred with beautiful flowers in the colors of the order, white, red, yellow and blue gladiolas and roses. Other Autumn blooms also decorated the hall.
 Speakers included Grand Chief Mrs. Drusilla Anders, Past Grand Chief Miss Dora M. Clever, Past Grand Chancellor James Draper, Chief Mrs. Irene Larsen of Myrtle Temple, Nakusp, Chief Mrs. Belle Pendry, Ben Anders of Nanaimo and Les R. Campbell of New Denver Lodge.
 Following the banquet the Temple meeting opened at 8 p.m. when all of the work of the order and initiatory ceremonies were exemplified. The Grand Chief, Mrs. Drusilla Anders gave an address on the ritual work. Refreshments were served.

EACH ONE WITH ITS OWN FAMILIAR STORY IN A DELIGHTFUL NEW VERSION.

THIS IS THE STORY

Mary had a little lamb who was as white as snow—he followed Mary everywhere no matter where she'd go. And then one day when Mary left he followed her to school—and went right in although he knew it was against the rule! For Mary told him often, "Lamb, can't go to school, you see — and that is why you'll always have to wait outside for me!" And then, when Mary saw him she could scarce believe her eyes—and all the children laughed and said, "This is a nice surprise!" But Mary's teacher smiled and said, "I'm very sorry, dear—a lamb is nice to have but you must take him out of here — So Mary took the lamb outside and felt so sad and blue—to think that he had done just what she'd told him not to do. The little lamb was so ashamed and felt so awful that it almost broke his heart to see that Mary felt so sad. So he decided right away he wanted to be good—and said to Mary, "From now on, I'll mind you like I should." And that's exactly what he did—so starting there and then, he always was a perfect lamb—and never he-a-d oppel!

Cranbrook Land Tax Sale High

CRANBROOK, B.C., Sept. 26 — Twenty-six of the 82 parcels of land in Cranbrook section of Fort Steele assessment district on which taxes were delinquent sold at auction by the Provincial Government agent Wednesday. Minimum bid was the amount of tax delinquency, and bidding was spirited in several of the sales. Some of the parcels were uncleared, some were cleared and some had added improvements.

It was the first land tax sale since 1938 and consequently the volume of sales was high. Sales are underway in other unorganized territory of East Kootenay.

E. H. Hedley, Government Agent, and William McGruder of the office staff here handled the sale.

Canadian Rangers Start Formation

OTTAWA, Sept. 26 (CP)—Formation of the Canadian Rangers, a successor to the wartime Pacific Rangers, has started with organization of two companies in the Yukon Territory, Defence Headquarters announced today.

Officials said it was impossible to estimate the number of personnel which will make up the companies. However, other companies will be added from time to time. Total authorized strength of the Rangers is 5000, and units must be located only in areas where other reserve force units do not exist.

Edward Noyes Westcott, American author, is best remembered by his quaint novel, "David Harum." The book was published after Westcott's death, after it had been rejected by six publishers. Four hundred thousand copies were sold within about a year, a record that had been equaled in the United States only twice before that time.

Mobilizing Britain

Under operation of the new labor controls a Control of Engagement Order, made under the Supplies and Service (Extended Purposes) Act will come into force in Britain Oct. 6.

The object of the order is to enable men and women seeking employment to be diverted to jobs on essential work. This is effected by requiring employers to obtain labor and workers to obtain employment through the local office of the Ministry of Labor or an approved employment agency. Workers will be given as wide a choice as possible of available jobs on essential work and directions will be issued only if they insist on taking unessential work or refuse to take any work.

The order will apply to all men aged 18 to 50 and women aged 18 to 40, except women with children of their own under 15 living with them and members of the forces during re-settlement leave. Certain employment can be taken freely, in particular part-time employment for not more than 30 hours weekly and employment in a managerial, professional, administrative or executive capacity.

Engagements in the Merchant Navy and dock work are not subject to the order as recruitment in them is governed by special arrangements.

Farm workers can move freely between jobs in agriculture but cannot be freely engaged for employment outside it. Agriculture includes forestry and horticulture but not employment in sports ground, parks or private gardens. Similarly miners can move freely between jobs in coal mining but cannot be engaged outside except through official channels. All outside these two industries may be freely engaged for agriculture or coal mining.

A Breeding Ground For Inflation

The advance in prices as a result of withdrawal of subsidies points up forcibly the damage that was done by "overselling" and underexplaining vital points in Ottawa's wartime stabilization policy. It is now apparent that, in their anxiety to win public favor for price control during the war, the Government, the newspapers, the radio, the economic experts oversold the measure. They stressed the necessity and the immediate advantages of price control without making it clear how the control was being achieved and that a time of adjustment would have to come points out the Toronto Globe and Mail.

In the case of many commodities, price was controlled by subsidizing either producers or distributors. This simply meant that prices went up but the Government paid part of it in the form of subsidies in order that consumers could continue to buy at the old level. It meant that taxpayers in the middle and upper income brackets were paying the additional cost both for the goods they consumed and for those purchased by Canadians in the low income group. At the same time, while prices remained relatively stable, costs were increasing everywhere. Virtually every one earned more money as the war went on, either through higher wages or through the cost-of-living bonuses that were later incorporated in the basic wage scale. Few, indeed, were the labor unions which were not granted at least a part of the wage increases they demanded of the War Labor Board.

As a result, the Globe and Mail continues, the whole Canadian price structure was thrown out of gear. Prices, pegged at a calculated wartime base, no longer bore their proper relationship to production costs, but were held down artificially. Once free of restraint, they were bound to soar unless lower wages or higher productivity altered the cost pattern. The story of rising costs since the war ended and decontrol began does not have to be recited to prove the point. Unfortunately we have gone forward without any noticeable increase in productivity to offset the upward trend.

There are other factors in the inflation picture which must be considered. Indeed, it can be said that they could not exist without inflation occurring. Most important is the fact that, like the United States, Canada has become a supply house for a large part of what Ernest Bevin calls the "devastated areas." We not only supply many of their needs, but we do so "on the cuff." In other words, the Government borrows money from the banks and from the people to pay for Europe's needs—making payment in wages to Canadian workers and producers.

One result of this practice is full employment in Canada at the highest wage level in our history, which in turn means a continuous demand on the part of Canadians for a greater share of the goods they are making. As an indication, our per capita consumption of bread rose from 88.3 pounds in 1939 to 106 pounds in 1945; of beef from 54.7 pounds to 61.6 pounds and of pork from 39 pounds to over 50. Many other examples could be cited, most of them commodities kept in short supply by our commitments to Great Britain and Europe. Supply cannot exceed demand in such a situation and, in consequence, prices here remain high.

The inflation spiral does not make a cheerful or encouraging picture. There is no one but would wish for the living standard which a 50 per cent increase in the purchasing power of our dollar could create. At the same time there is some comfort for Canadians in the knowledge that, being fully employed, they at least have food along with inflation. All the people of Europe have inflation, but precious little food to buy at any price.

Do what good thou canst unknown, and be not vain of what ought rather to be felt than seen.—Penn.

Etiquette Hints

After a death in the family, calls of condolence need not be returned, as the family of the bereaved does not make social calls.

Today's Horoscope

If this is the date of your birthday anniversary, you are conscientious about everything regardless of how small or menial. You like all of the arts and converse interestingly and intelligently on all. You are kind, generous and sympathetic and will select a loving and understanding mate. Marry early in life. The day will be good in regard to finances and possessions, also artistic activities. Next year your life will progress on a more or less even keel, but exercise care in correspondence, and when travelling. Make changes only after careful reflection. Born today a child will be sympathetic, generous, dependable, serious-minded, fond of and accomplished in the arts. This child will also be quick-tempered and moderately fortunate.

HOROSCOPE FOR STUDENT

You are impulsive, emotion, impatient and like to get results quickly. You have originality, are quite versatile, quick to grasp a point, and have good judgment. You have a keen sense of humor, are winsome and vivacious, loving and demonstrative in your family. Your home life will be a happy one. Today is good for advertising, educational interests, and correspondence. Although sudden quarrels or disagreements will trouble you in your next twelve months, refrain from impulsive speech, writings or changes. Guard against accidents; otherwise good fortune may be expected in this period. The child who is born today will be energetic, assertive, kind-hearted, generous, refined, intellectual and fond of travel, but easily roused and liable to go off at a tangent. Success is predicted, however.

A. F. Trail—Would you please answer the following in your column—Is there any truth in the saying that after you knit a pair of socks and pour boiling water over them they wont shrink afterwards? How should woollens be washed?

If the action of pouring boiling water on the socks reduces them to the maximum shrinkage point then threat of further shrinkage would be averted. Two woollen companies give their views on washing woollens: "It is absolutely wrong to put woollen garments to soak, to use strong soap, soda, boiling or even very hot water, to let them lie in a wet state or to hang them up to dry. We recommend good quality soap flakes without the use of water softeners. Use only lukewarm water. Rinse thoroughly, dry quickly. Do not place garment over radiator or hang up to dry as this spoils its shape."

COLORED PAPER MONEY

With reference to Representative Edith Nourse Rogers' proposal to print paper money in various colors, there is a temptation to bow in the direction of Gelett Burgess, say, I never saw a purple two-spot I never hope to see one, and let the matter drop right there. But Representative Rogers is serious and intends to put her proposal before Congress at the next session. Some bankers have given a qualified indorsement to the idea on the theory that it would make identification and sorting of denominations easier. But other bankers, guided as much by theory, believes that identification of paper money by color would make it easier to pass counterfeit currency.

It is difficult for the average person to tell the difference between a one-dollar bill and a five-spot, then most of the time spent in teaching young America how to read and cipher has been wasted. Anybody reduced to reading the contents of his pocketbook will find it repetitious stuff. Spelled out or in numerals, there is the denomination, front and back, over and over. For added ease in identification, there are the portraits that adorn the faces of the bills. Few may have the chance to know Salmon P. Chase by sight, but almost every American recognizes Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln and Hamilton when he sees them.

The analogy between paper currency, and postage stamps is not a persuasive one and the Post Office Department does not always follow its own color scheme. The recently issued 3-cent stamp bearing a reproduction of Sir Luke Fildes' famous painting of the family doctor was not in the conventional purple but in what might be called maroon. Representative Rogers is an able and conscientious public servant, but she should put a little more faith in the innate ability of the American people to tell their bills apart by use of elementary arithmetic.—New York Sun.

MORE NEW YORKERS ARE FLYING

The Regional Plan Association, in connection with its approaching community conference, has made public some interesting statistics regarding private aviation. These disclose that in the present year 2927 civil aircraft were registered in the New York metropolitan area. This compares with 1538 in 1946 and 1069 in 1940, the last year before demands for military aircraft took precedence over those manufactured for air-minded civilians. A breakdown of the 90.3 per cent increase of the past year is likely to surprise many New Yorkers. Though New Jersey showed the largest percentage of increase—its planes went from 375 in 1946 to 781 in 1947—residents of New York city owned nearly two-thirds of all planes registered in the area embraced by the regional plan. This year they have 1923 planes registered, compared with 1083 in 1946. Of the city's boroughs Manhattan alone showed a decrease—a sharp one from 486 to 73. This, however, was much more than offset by the increase in Brooklyn, where plane registrations jumped from 59 to 889 to give Kings County a lead over all others in the metropolitan area.

There is nothing in any set of statistics to explain Manhattan's sharp drop and Brooklyn's phenomenal rise in the matter of airplane ownership. And of course the Regional Plan Association does not undertake to suggest why Brooklynites apparently have become more air-minded and Manhattanites less so. Perhaps it merely is a case of the Manhattan flyers drawing from their hobby such a longing for wide-open spaces that they have migrated to Brooklyn, or even beyond the city's confines, to account for some of the increases in Nassau, Fairfield, Westchester and Bergen Counties. What is important to the regional planners is that the trend is completely in line with their prediction that by 1956 about 20,000 airplanes would be privately owned in this area. This is why the second annual community conference sponsored by the Regional Plan Association when it meets on October 9 will give special attention to the need for a system of airports adequate to serve that many private planes.—New York Sun.

North made an awful big pass on his first turn, so took very positive action with his second-round double. After South's 1-No Trump, North should have hopped all the way into 3-No Trumps, but got into his shell again as an ultra-conservative by raising to only the two level. South knew North as a timid bidder, however, so went the rest of the way.

Instead of the low-card lead which most fine players would make in their partner's spade suit, West opened the K, led the 6 to the A, and East returned the J to the Q. South thereupon noted that East retained the 10, a card with which he could be thrown into the lead later. Preparing his end-play, he ran four diamonds, noting East's discard of a heart, then led toward his club K, being certain East had the A because he required it for his opening bid to be sound. East played low and the K won. The heart K and A then stripped East of those suits.

East was now pretty well marked as having the A and an other club, plus his spade 10. The latter card put him in when the 9 was led. With his club A-10, he had to give the game trick up to the dummy's Q.

You no doubt can figure out a better defence than was offered, one which could have given South a much meaner job to do. But you must admit he seized upon his opportunities when they were presented.

Tuberculosis X-Ray Unit to Visit Nelson in Early November

Tuberculosis chest X-ray vans will arrive in Nelson in early November, and members of the various service clubs have already banded together to prepare thorough city-wide coverage in the campaign to prevent the spreading of tuberculosis.

Under the chairmanship of Mayor T. H. Waters, meetings of service club representatives were held Tuesday and Thursday nights, with a general committee being appointed and plans laid for canvassing preparatory to the visit of the X-ray unit.

A preliminary committee was named consisting of Mrs. N. C. Stubbs, Mrs. D. Male, Mrs. H. H. Currie, J. H. Longden, H. D. Harrison and Aid. T. S. Short-house. They represent men's and women's service clubs, and organizations affiliated with health work. Public Health Nurses Miss Jean McVicar and Miss Nancy Lee are also co-operating closely with clinic and local supervisors.

The unit will have a staff of three—a senior technician, an assistant and a driver. Local volunteers will also assist in the directing of X-ray operations, and in setting up the portable equipment.

250 TO CANVAAS

About 250 members of numerous City organizations will be called upon to canvass in an effort to have as many as possible attend the clinic. Clerical assistance will also be recruited from the women's groups as each person when interviewed by the canvasser will be filed on a registration card. Advance notices as to the time and place for appointments will later be sent to the citizens interviewed. Canvassing preparations will be completed by around Oct. 6, and by Oct. 18 canvassing is scheduled to be completed. Appointment cards will be sent out in the intervening two weeks before the unit arrives. It will remain here seven days—Nov. 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 10, 12, to X-ray Nelson and residents of Taghum, Willow Point and waypoints.

New and modern equipment in the T. B. mass survey unit will eliminate long periods of waiting. Five hundred people a day can be X-rayed and the actual picture taken in a matter of seconds. No longer will it be necessary to remove clothing before being X-rayed. The service is supplied free of charge by the Department of Health.

The unit will have a staff of three—a senior technician, an assistant and a driver. Local volunteers will also assist in the directing of X-ray operations, and in setting up the portable equipment.

This is what's behind that CHEVRON SIGN

Lots of folks are curious about our new Chevron Gas Station. So here are the answers to the questions you've been asking—the story of how Standard of B.C. is helping us establish our identity as an independent.

No, when the Chevron sign went up over our gas station it didn't mean that the station had changed hands. The new name, the new paint job are just to establish it as an independent business. Lots of motorists who like the personal service they get at independent gas stations didn't know we are local businessmen. We're taking this means of making the fact plain.

You bet we will continue to handle Standard products. We want to offer our customers the finest. Our services and accessories will be just the same, too. Sure, we'll honor Standard of B.C. Credit Cards. And they're mighty handy when you come in for Chevron Gasolines, RPM Motor Oil and other products and services. Just drop in any time.

House C Cops Third Straight Win At High School Annual Track Meet; Colorful Parade Marks Opening

Perennial winner House C with a wide-margin lead of 169 points, today walked off with top honors at the conclusion of an afternoon of racing and sports activities that was Nelson High School's annual track meet.

With the work of such stars as Dorothy Wallace and Sheila Kearns, House C went to an easy victory over Houses D and B, which tottered between second and third places and wound up with 124 and 123 points respectively. House A trailed with 86 points.

Highlighting the program was a lengthy parade of floats and decorated cars, which descended on Baker Street shortly after noon, halted briefly and attracted crowds of amazed spectators.

PARADE IN THE DELL
Thoughts of Nelson's Golden Jubilee parade were evoked as lines of streamer-bedecked cars, trucks and novelty floats joined in the annual event. Houses A and B announced the current season with a display of hay wagons, farmers, and farm implements.

BEST PARADERS
Coveted position of first place in the parade was won by House C. Second was House C, while Houses A and D held third and fourth places.

During track proceedings at the Recreation Grounds, softballs were sold by the High School Cross division.

Weak Array of Pitchers May Place Relievers Page, Casey in Spotlight

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK, Sept. 26 (AP)—The 1947 World Series between New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers will see the weakest pitching staffs that have ever carried their teams to major league championships.

Certainly no team has ever entered a World Series before whose mound corps had hurled a total of only 46 complete games as has this year's edition of the Dodgers. The Yankees' hurling crew which has accumulated a much more decent total of complete games—72, to be exact—has fared even worse than the Dodgers during the last two months.

Since July 27, not one of the Yankees' big four of Allie Reynolds, Frank Shea, Bobo Newsom and Floyd Bevens has gone the route more than three times. Shea finished what he started only once during that time.

STRIKES AND SPARES
In the first round of Senior Ladies Club five-pin bowling this season, the V. Allen team took the lead of 10 teams on the alleys with a total score of 2254. Next in line were the All Stars who counted up a score of 2245.

N.H.L. Notes Fisticuffs for Murph of Habs; Kaleta on Block

By The Canadian Press
Old Hardrock Murph Chamberlain, Montreal Canadiens veteran centre who'll fight at the drop of a puck is up to his old tricks. Just to get in some practice for the coming National Hockey League season, Murph traded punches with Gerry Plamondon in a brief flareup along the boards during yesterday's ice session.

The Habitués are still chucking over the way Tom Hockey, rookie rearguard who left last night to join Buffalo Bisons, arrived in Montreal for his Canadiens tryout. It seems Tom is in the undertaking business out West and, the boys relate, he breezed into camp giving a hearse.

Managing Director Conn Smythe announced the signing today of two juniors from Toronto St. Michael's last year's Memorial Cup winners. They are Phil Samis, a rugged defenceman, and Fleming Mackell, tough little right winger. It's expected both will wind up with Pittsburgh Hornets, training with the Leafs at St. Catharines, Ont.

The defence shortage is so acute with Chicago Black Hawks that owner Bill Tobin is rumored ready to trade one of his name forwards for a rearguard. A few months ago he offered Alex Kaleta, who reported yesterday to the Hawks Regina camp, but found no takers.

Matching Crippled Armed, Assault Turf Cash Records to Tumble in Card

By SID FEDER
NEW YORK, Sept. 26 (AP)—The best-talented of horse races in the United States in a decade—the $100,000 match race between Armed and Assault—is definitely on for Belmont Park tomorrow.

For the second time in a week, Robert Kleberg, Jr., the Texas rancher who owns Assault, today overruled Trainer Maxie Hirsch, who wanted to withdraw from the 1 1/4-mile race, and declared officially that the Clubfoot Comet would go to the post in the tussle that headlines what is probably the richest program in turf history.

Along with the $100,000 match race, which will decide the handicap championship for 1947, there are two traditional $25,000-added events—the 45th running of the Manhattan Handicap for older horses and the 41st Matron Stakes for two-year-old fillies.

Mrs. Dorothy Crisp (right foreground with flowers in hat) and Mrs. Gill (centre) have quite a tussle as they try to grab the microphone away from each other during a hectic, boisterous six hour meeting of the British Housewives' League, at London's Central Hall, Westminster. Mrs. Crisp is the Chairman of the League and Mrs. Gill was one of those members who disagreed with the League's policy and just insisted on being heard. For six hours there were yells, cheers, boos, accusations and fights. The meeting ended when Mrs. Lovelock, the League's founder, fainted and was carried out of the hall, whereupon Mrs. Crisp closed the meeting, and the women rushed to queue for tea.

SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 5 (Creston)
NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed tenders marked "Tenders for Crawford Bay School" will be received by the Board of School Trustees of School District No. 5 (Creston) for the construction of a new school at Crawford Bay, B.C.

Plans, specifications, contracts, and forms of tender may be seen on and after the 26th day of September, 1947, and further information may be obtained from the Architects, Sharp and Thompson, Berwick and Pratt, 626 Pender St. W., Vancouver, B.C., or from the Office of the School Board, Creston, B.C.

Copies of plans and specifications can be obtained from the School Board at Creston on the payment of a deposit of the sum of $10.00, which sum will be refunded on the return of the plans and specifications in good condition, if a bona fide tender with accompanying deposit, as stated hereunder, is submitted.

Each tender must be accompanied by a certified cheque on a chartered bank of Canada made payable to the Board of School Trustees of School District No. 5 (Creston), Creston, B.C., for the amount of five per cent (5%) of the contract price, which shall be forfeited, if the party tendering declines to enter into a contract, when called upon to do so.

Tenders will not be considered unless signed by the actual signature of the tenderer.

Tenders must be in the hands of the Board of School Trustees of the aforementioned school district by October 17, 1947. Tenders will be opened at 2 p.m., on October 17, 1947, in the Office of the Board of School Trustees, Creston, B.C. The successful tenderer will be required to commence work within two weeks of the date of the award of the contract, and to carry through to final completion within three calendar months from the date of such award, with due allowance for any emergency that might arise.

The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

By Order of the Board,
 J. W. HAMILTON,
 Secretary-Treasurer.

In Belgium I Once Shaved in Dew Housewives Removed Pump-Handles

"Early falls the dew" on the lawns these nights. At an early hour the drops of moisture glisten on the short-clipped stems and blades, and anyone who walks in the wayside grass will find his toes-caps wet.

"The dew is falling," I used to be told when I was a kiddie. I used to look up at the stars and wonder how I missed feeling the falling drops on my face. The fall of the dew was one of those fancies that went along with the "poisonous night air," against which Nova Scotia housewives shut the windows tightly when I was a tiny tad. It was supposed to bring on illness. On the same line, malaria used to be attributed to the "poisonous miasma" of the swamps, instead of the bacteria caught in the feathering of a female mosquito's bill.

Chill of the air next the ground condenses the dew from the water-vapor the air contains if it happens to have an excess. There is a scientific term that explains itself — the dew-point.

I recall a night in England when either the ground air at Bramshott Camp contained little water vapor, or else the temperature didn't fall to the dew-point, while a few days later, in Belgium, across the Channel, there was so much dew in the morning that one couldn't help envisioning Milton's "fresh blown roses washt in dew".

This chat is about dew.

of tired Nature's sweet restorer. The circumstance I particularly noted when I found it was 2 a.m., and turned out and shook out and packed my blanket, was that the turf was dry as a bone. The water-vapor and the temperature had not got close enough together to produce a dew-point and precipitation.

A little over 24 hours later, in the pre-dawn, we were embarking on the cross-Channel transport at St. Helier, and early in the forenoon Southampton, with the aid of light-reached Le Havre, the only incident of the crossing, except perhaps escort, that I definitely remember, being a small dirigible balloon overhead when we were in mid-Channel. To me, Le Havre became the 75th mule-line, where we spent the day in a huge shed with lots of stabling. In the evening I had a turn at the mule chore — I suppose in order that somebody else could play cards, as the entire transport section had nothing else to do. That night we were taken to a camp at Reminghelst. Armed with this order, I headed across the map in the direction shown, and with occasional guidance from some British M.P., reached the desired area.

MOVE TO FRANCE

On the night before the Fourth Division began its move to France — about Aug. 11 or 12, 1918 — all orderly rooms, from Division down to battalion, were busy with the last details of "paper work," among them the 11th Brigade H.Q. Runners from the 54th, 75th, 87th and 102nd Battalions would be bringing in reports and messages, and once in a while some battalion would report itself a man short because someone had "gone sick." Perhaps another battalion was over-strength, and a transfer would be made to adjust strengths. One of the over-strength battalions' men on duty in the orderly room would be given a transfer to the battalion that was short, and would leave with his papers for his new unit. Several of these adjustments had been made, and all seemed serene, when the 75th, about 10:30 p.m., reported a transport private sent to hospital. This time I was elected, was given my transfer from the 54th to the orderly room of the 75th, which was to move off before dawn, instead of during the forenoon. I had signed for my last 54th pay!

"Runninghurst?" said one Britisher, Anglicizing Reminghelst delightfully. "It's just along that pike!"

WATER UNOBTAINABLE

The thing everybody was talking about, officers, N.C.O.'s, and privates, was, not the war, but the almost non-existence of water. A single day at Reminghelst had established that Housewives were said to refuse to let the troops use their pumps. In fact, several iron pumps, conspicuous for absence of their iron handles, bore out this report. Where would the troops find water for shaving tomorrow morning? It was the frog-pond or nothing! I carefully inspected the frog-pond, as I suppose every other member of the Brigade Sub-Staff had already done. It did not look inviting. It was not merely a frog-pond, with plenty of green scum-known to country boys as frog-spit, though of vegetable origin — it was also the community drinking hole for cows and horses, with the muddy

All the 75th wanted of me was to be on hand for the roll-call prior to moving off, so I selected a spot on the grass, rolled out my ground-sheet and one-of-my-blankets, and with the other folded under my head, and with pack, rifle and equipment beside me, curled up for two or three hours margin cut up by hoof-marks. It was discolored, and looked good and dirty. No, I wouldn't use that on my face!

There were plenty of hawthorn hedges around, and I picked out one just opposite Brigade H.Q. for my scene of operations. With the dawn I was up, and was soon tramping through dew-laden grass, to the hawthorn hedge, which was also heavily-laden. I had a little pink celluloid round flat container, that had once held a thin water of soap, or something similar. Holding this in my left hand, I travelled along the hedge, shaking each dew-laden branch over it. By the time I had made the round-trip, down one side and back along the other, my little celluloid "cup," not over half an inch deep, was half full of dew, of Nature's distilling, right off the May leaves.

Before anybody else of the day detail was up, I was shaved, washed, and ready, though I did resort to the frog-pond and a wet towel for the final rites. When I mentioned to one of the fellows that I had shaved in dew, he commented: "Why, you'll have a complexion like Mary's!"

It was my first and last shave in dew, for next day, like the others, I yielded to the frog-pond. I imagine I was the first, quite possibly also the last, in the 11th Canadian Infantry Brigade to shave in distilled water, right from Nature's distilling machine.

A few days later, our H.Q. was moved up to Burgomaster Farm, in proximity to the "Line," where the four battalions were rotated in their tours of duty. When our H.Q., several weeks later, moved to Reminghelst again, on the way to Belgium, the housewives rushed to loosen the nuts and remove the pump handles as we marched into the yard.

It was a pleasing gesture I saw only once again during nearly three years.

Nelson, Salmo Family Return From New Zealand

Back in Nelson after an eight-year absence are Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kitchener and daughter Olive who arrived here last Friday from New Zealand.

A carpenter by trade, Mr. Kitchener and his family lived in Rotorua, New Zealand, where since 1899 he was employed in the big State lumber mills in the South Pacific. The left Rotorua, tourist centre and city of 1,750,000 population on August 14 to return to Nelson, and booked passage of the British ship Rangitiki.

Their homeward journey brought them via the Pictou Islands, through the Panama Canal, past Cuba and the West Indies, and along the United States coastline to New York. On their way across Canada they stopped at Lethbridge to visit Mr. Kitchener's brother Gordon, at Lethbridge.

Well-Known in Nelson, Mr. Kitchener is the son of Harry Kitchener, Hoover Street, and has spent most of his life in Nelson and Salmo. His wife is the daughter of Mrs. Olive Payant and the late Joseph Payant of Salmo. She was educated in Salmo and Nelson schools, and later was employed in the Hume Hotel for 13 years.

After they were married, Mr. and Mrs. Kitchener lived in Nelson and Salmo for over seven years, their 14-year-old daughter being born in Nelson. Although the Kitcheners have no immediate plans for the future, they intend to live in Nelson permanently. "We liked New Zealand very well, and had many friends there, but we also like the 'Kootenays'," Mrs. Kitchener commented.
