Money Bylaw For Power Plant Work Passes

Nelson's money bylaw for $290,000 to cover cost of new installations at the City Power Plant easily passed Wednesday, 376 voting in favor of the bylaw and only 25 voting against it. A two-thirds majority was required.

The vote was extremely light, only 402 of the 2045 entitled to vote, turning out. One ballot was rejected.

The City will now be able to proceed with plans to purchase a new hydro-electric unit and equipment with which to tie in City and West Kootenay Power & Light Co. lines, and to repair existing units.

Total cost of the work will be about $412,000, with $122,000 already available. In 1940 a $150,000 money bylaw was authorized for a similar purpose, but the war made it impossible to obtain a new unit. Of this $28,000 has been spent on preliminary work. Heavy increase in the use of electricity in the City has occurred since that time and a still larger increase is anticipated.

Swiss Provide Rest From World's Woes

By ROSS MUNRO

Canadian Press Staff Writer

INTERLAKEN, Switzerland, Oct. 16 (CP) — Switzerland again is the holiday haven of Europe, although the tourist traffic isn't anywhere near the lavish scale of pre-war years because foreign exchange restrictions in most European countries still make it difficult to get Swiss francs.

A holiday trip to Switzerland is a recommended respite from the gloom and grief of Europe. Here you don't hear rumor and talk of war which prevails in other continental countries.

This is one of Switzerland's greatest tourist attractions, but the Swiss are so accustomed to neutrality and peaceful ways of life they don't appreciate the boon.

Switzerland has everything to offer a tourist. Apart from its famed scenery there is abundant food. Food is rationed but once in the country the tourist is given twice as many ration tickets as he needs.

Here is the only place on the continent, apart from neutral Sweden, where you don't win favors from a porter or a chambermaid by tipping them with cigarets. Smokes are plentiful.

Found It Didn't Pay to Cheat A Millionaire

CHICAGO, Oct. 16 (AP)—Butcher James V. Fiduccia was in license court on a charge of giving a customer short weight on hard-to-get meat. "She was a millionaire, Judge, and I thought she could afford it," Fiduccia told Judge Samuel Heller. "Must be a lot of millionaires in your neighborhood," Judge Heller commented in fining Fiduccia $200 and costs and reminding him he had been convicted three times on short-weight charges since 1941.

Production of Soda Ash to Be Resumed Soon

WINDSOR, Ont., Oct. 16 (CP) —The Brunner Mond of Canada Plant at nearby Amherstburg will resume full production of soda ash—vitally needed for manufacture of glass, textiles and other goods—next Sunday or Monday, General Manager R. G. Zimmer announced today.

He said some 150 maintenance men now are in the plant preparing for resumption of opertions after the wages-hours strike which began July 5 and ended last Thursday. The strike, called by the United Automobile Workers (C.I.O.) involved some 400 workers.

The plant is the only one in Canada producing soda ash and its closing brought numerous shortages.

Ready to Negotiate With Striking Marine Engineers

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 16 (AP) —The Pacific American Steamship Association announced it stands ready today to negotiate with the striking C.I.O. Marine Engineers but not to recognize the committee for maritime unity for bargaining.

The C.I.O.-led, seven-Union C.M.U., with which the Engineers are affiliated, had asked Mayor Roger D. Lapham of San Francisco to hold meetings seeking a settlement of the 16-day old strike.

Lapham sounded out the shipowners, who declined to participate.

The Shipowners' Association is negotiating here with the A.F.L. Masters, Mates and Pilots, also on strike since Oct. 1. Negotiations have been deadlocked since last week in the strike of a third Maritime Union, the C.I.O. Longshoremen.

R.A.F. TO RECRUIT CANADIANS

OTTAWA, Oct. 16 (CP) — Canada has concluded an agreement with the Royal Air Force by which the R.A.F. will recruit trained Canadian aircrew from former members of the R.C.A.F. for service in any part of the world, Air Minister Gibson announced tonight.

King Attitude Precludes Early Parley -- Drew

TORONTO, Oct. 16 (CP) — Premier Drew of Ontario said tonight that Prime Minister Mackenzie King had "closed the door on any further consideration of requests for an early resumption of the Dominion-Provincial Conference."

Premier Drew released an exchange of correspondence with the Prime Minister and said he had told the Prime Minister in a letter today:

"It is apparent that not only are you preventing the possibility of such an agreement now, but that you are determined to follow a course which will still further prejudice the ultimate possibility of reaching any satisfactory agreement on Dominion-Provincial relations.

"My colleagues in the Ontario Government have carefully considered the statements in your letters and we can only conclude that your effort to force individual agreements upon all the Provincial Governments in violation of the very principles which you have yourself asserted in the past, is part of a settled design to substitute for a modern and overhauled Federal system—such as we have urged—a form of decentralized authority which still carries the name of confederation but is in truth de facto unitary Government at Ottawa. This you are seeking to do by economic pressure."

TWICE URGED MEET

The exchange of correspondence started Sept. 7 when Premier Drew in a letter to Prime Minister King asked that the adjourned Dominion-Provincial conference be reconvened at the earliest possible date.

After the Federal cabinet considered the request, Mr. King replied Sept. 27 that "once satisfactory financial relationships have been agreed upon, the Dominion Government will be prepared to resume in a general conference the working out of mutually satisfactory arrangements relating to public investment and social welfare."

In reply Oct. 2 Premier Drew again urged Mr. King to set an early date for the conference to meet again in Ottawa to reach satisfactory agreements which will be in the best interests of all the people of Canada."

In his reply Oct. 2 Mr. King said in part:

"In answer to my statement that the Dominion Government is prepared at all times to consider specific proposals on any aspect of Dominion-Provincial relations, you do not express a willingness to discuss any such proposals with the ministers and officials of the departments of the Dominion Government immediately concerned but claim it is your right to present your views to the whole conference.

IDEAS DIFFER

". . . As Prime Minister of Canada, it is necessary for me to point out that your conception of the purpose and role of the conference appears to differ substantially from that of the Dominion Government.

"As you have pointed out, I have consistently maintained that the conference should be master of its own proceedings and agenda. That, however, does not imply that the conference has power to make decisions which are binding on the Dominion Government or on any Provincial Government. Such a claim would be a denial of the autonomy of all the Governments concerned and of the exclusive constitutional responsibility of each Government to its own legislative body for its financial policies . . .

"It is and always has been our view that the purpose and scope of the conference were to study Dominion-Provincial relations and endeavor to find lines along which the Dominion Government and each Provicial Government as a separate autonomous entity could enter into agreements mutually satisfactory to the two parties to each separate agreement."

Russ[illegible]t Defence Budget; More For Economic, Military Science

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, Oct. 16 (CP)—A slash of $10,571,000,000 in next year's Russian defence budget, along with a hike of about $568,000,000 for scientific research "for the further growth of the economic and military might of the Soviet Union" was recommended today by Finance Minister A. G. Zverev to the Supreme Soviet (parliament).

The budget predicted 11,000,000,000 rubles more in income than proposed for expenditure.

(The ruble's official value is 5.3 to the dollar.)

The 2½-times increase in funds for scientists recalled Premier Stalin's speech last February when he said: "It is necessary not only to overtake but to exceed in the nearest future the achievements of science outside of the U.S.S.R."

The Finance Minister, in making his recommendations to the Supreme Soviet, said the "basis for this year's budget is the cost of the five-year plan." The newspaper Pravda said, "Now our budget reflects a new period and new tasks."

Other principal budget items, Zverev said, would be:

Industry — 102,000,000,000 rubles ($19,200,000,000.)

Social and cultural—83,000,000,000 rubles ($15,600,000,000).

Loans — 6,000,000,000 rubles ($1,110,000,000).

Zverev proposed a total budget of 319,200,000,000 rubles. That would amount to approximately $60,000,000,000.

He estimated income at 330,400,000,000 rubles ($2,080,000,000) overflow in the treasury, perhaps making her the first of the major war powers to get income above expenditures if her budget figures hold up during the year's business.

Hospital Fruit And Vegetable Drive Under Way

The Kootenay Lake General Hospital's annual Fall drive for fruit and vegetables got under way Wednesday, with Queen's Bay, Harrop and Procter being the main collection centres for the day.

"Our first results have been most gratifying" commented Hospital Secretary D. B. Simpson, adding that he hoped the same cooperation will continue throughout the drive.

Leaves Jail With Eyes Shut; Returns With Them Open

BRANTFORD, Ont., Oct. 16 (CP) —William Holder, 49, walked out of Kingston penitentiary with a white cane last February upon completion of a 10-year sentence and police listed him as totally blind. He will reenter the prison within a few days to serve a life term for attempted murder — with his eyes open.

Holder, convicted of attacking his brother-in-law, John Carey, in a quarrel over Carey's sister, stabbed his victim, hit him with a hammer, gagged him and bound him with wire.

A few minutes later he released him and sent him to hospital with the comment, "Not bad, eh?"

He blinked when Mr. Justice Keller Mackay meted out a life sentence for the attack, but did not need a white cane to leave court.

Prison authorities prepared to revise their medical records of Holder when he returns to Kingston.

Russia to Outlive Soviet Regime—Gouzenko

OTTAWA, Oct. 16 (CP) — Igor Gouzenko testified in Ontario Supreme Court today that he had severed his connections with "the Soviet regime but not with Russia — Russia existed a thousand years before that regime and it will exist for a thousand years after it is gone."

The former cipher clerk at the Russian Embassy in Ottawa came out with the statement in the midst of prolonged and searching cross-examination by Defence Counsel Joseph Sedgwick in the conspiracy trial of Eric George Adams.

Foresees Free Hand For Action On Franco Spain

NEW YORK, Oct. 16 (AP)—Herschel V. Johnson, United States delegate, was reported to have expressed confidence at a closed meeting of the United Nations Security Council today that the General Assembly would be given a free hand to act against Franco Spain during the coming session.

Mr. Johnson spoke shortly before the Council unanimously approved a formal notification to the Assembly that the Spanish and Iranian questions still were before the Council and, therefore, were not subject to Assembly action.

LABOR CODE AGREEMENT NOT IN SIGHT

OTTAWA, Oct. 16 (CP) — The Dominion-Provincial labor conference appeared to be nearing an end tonight with little possibility that any general agreement on a Federal labor code would come from the discussions.

Dominion and Provincial labor ministers with their advisers started conversations yesterday on the type of legislation that should be introduced to replace the wartime Federal collective bargaining code which is due to expire March 15. Expectations are that the conference will conclude tomorrow.

So far the brief formal announcements coming from the convention room have thrown no light on actual proceedings but it is understood that on the whole the Provinces have been non-commital on a reported suggestion by the Dominion that an amended Industrial Disputes Investigation Act might serve as model legislation which any Province could accept or reject for application to industries in its jurisdiction.

Five Take Own Lives to Escape Punishment

NUERNBERG, Oct. 16 (CP)—With the suicide of Hermann Goering, five key men of the Nazi regime have taken their own lives to escape punishment for their crimes.

Adolf Hitler, who led Germany into the Second Great War, is believed to have killed himself with a pistol in Berlin fall in May, 1945.

Joseph Goebbels, his propaganda chief, took potassium cyanide in the same debacle.

Heinrich Himmler, Gestapo head, crushed a cyanide vial in his teeth after British authorities captured him that same month.

Robert Ley, Nazi labor boss, hanged himself in a toilet in the Nuernberg jail in October, 1945.

Last night Goering, Hitler's No. 2 man, died in his death cell by the same means as Goebbels and Himmler.

Counter-Offensive Started to Smash Siege of Paoting

PEIPING, Oct. 16 (AP)—The government today started a counter-offensive to smash the Communist siege of Paoting, capital of Hopeh Province, simultaneously with a push against the Red stronghold, Antung, in far Southern Manchuria. Elsewhere, the Communists were reported, without confirmation, to have captured several towns Northwest of Tatung in a renewal of their assault on that North Shansi Province city.

Ear-Rings Bring $100,000

LONDON, Oct. 16 (CP)— Lady Ludlow's ear-rings today brought £25,000 ($100,000). Lady Ludlow, whose first husband was an African Diamond Mine operator, died in 1943. The ear-rings made up with two pear-shaped diamonds weighing 17 carats each, were sold at auction to an unidentified buyer along with £26,000 ($380,000) worth of other diamonds.

Ferry Anscomb Launching Today

M.V. Anscomb will slip down the ways at 3 p.m. today to float in the waters of the West Arm, another step nearer her service as Kootenay Lake ferry replacing the veteran steamer Nasookin.

Hon. Herbert Anscomb, B.C. Minister of Finance, and former Public Works Minister, after whom the new vessel is named, arrived in Nelson Tuesday night. He visited Trail Wednesday. With Mrs. Anscomb, who will launch the new ferry from the C.P.R. shipyards, Hon. E. C. Carson, Minister of Public Works, and a large company of other visiting dignitaries and delegates he will attend the launching today.

Probe Goering Death Mystery

By G. K. HODENFIELD

NUERNBERG, Oct. 16 (AP) — The bodies of 11 Hitler henchmen were spirited away to secret and unmarked graves today, while harassed guardians of Hermann Goering launched a microscopic, inch-by-inch examination of his cell for clues as to how he had managed to cheat the hangman by suicide.

The prison chaplain and assistant security officer both expressed the opinion that the wily No. 2 Nazi had carried on his person, ever since his capture 1½ years ago, the deadly potassium cyanide which he gulped less than two hours before he was to march to the gallows.

How he managed to do this remained unanswered. He had been searched at least 100 times.

Mystery shrouded the burial of Goering and of the 10 top-ranking Nazis who died on twin gallows shortly after midnight on this cold grey morning.

The 11 corpses of the men who brought death and suffering to millions were removed from Nuernberg prison in sealed vans, under armed escort, for an unannounced destination. One suggestion was that they might be buried at sea.

Capt. Samuel Binder of the Security Police detail said the final resting place of the 11 would remain a secret.

Parliamentarians Tangle Over Fuel Problem

LONDON, Oct. 16 (CP Cable) — Fuel Minister Shinwell said today in the House of Commons that coal production is increasing although manpower is less. He said the prospect for the coming Winter still is grave.

He was answering Capt. H. F. C. Crookshank, former Conservative Mines Secretary, who said the Government had followed a course of "plain politics" in the mining industry in 1945. Nationalization legislation was completed this year.

The acid-tongued Mr. Crookshank said that Mr. Shinwell is likely to go down in history as minister without fuel and without power. Equally bitter, Mr. Shinwell said he wondered if the opposition is as anxious as it pretends for Britain to get coal.

The debate was staged in the knowledge that coal stocks are lower than last year when Britain scraped through the Winter on the verge of hardship. Mr. Shinwell has called for a voluntary cut of 10-percent in fuel consumption. Such reductions would lead to "tremendous dislocations" in industry, Capt. Crookshank said.

Nationalization of All Class A-1 Railroads Favored

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 16 (AP)—The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen adopted a resolution yesterday favoring the nationalization of all class A-1 railroads in the United States. The action was not new, similar resolutions having been adopted the two previous conventions.

Mrs. Dick Sentenced To Hang Jan. 7

"I want to Appeal" Says Calm Widow Before Leaving to Face Shrieking Mob; Judge Ignores Mercy Recommendation

By ALAN RANDAL

Canadian Press Staff Writer

HAMILTON, Oct. 16 (CP)—Mrs. Evelyn MacLean Dick, 26 only last Sunday, tonight was sentenced to hang Jan. 7 for the torso slaying of her husband, John Dick, last March 6.

She took this sentence with no display of emotion, standing alone and firmly in her place by the prisoner's bench before Mr. Justice F. H. Barlow of the Ontario Supreme Court.

Her only words: "I want to appeal my case."

"Your appeal will be handed on to the proper authorities," said His Lordship.

And then Evelyn, as calm and self-possessed as at any time during her nine-day trial with its moments of high drama and grisly sensation, left the courtroom, turning to her bench to pick up her gloves as she went.

The jury, a cross section of Hamilton citizens, included one Negro, a blacksmith, a printer, an electrical appliance man. It was dismissed and tomorrow selection of a new jury begins for the trial of Mrs. Dick's father, Donald MacLean and William Bohozuk, her former friend, charged with the same murder.

The verdict came at 5:58 p.m. one hour and 53 minutes after the jury retired with their 109 exhibits and their masses of testimony.

Evelyn, who said she drove the murder car that chill March day when husband John Dick met his end from two revolver bullets fired from the back seat by William Bobozuk, returned to the courtroom at 5:48 p.m. with a police matron.

As ever, she was the self-possessed young widow, centre of curiosity, morbid and otherwise, these past nine days.

She looked cheerier than when the jury went out at 4:06 p.m., her make-up freshened during the interval. But she was perhaps a shade tense as her big, dark eyes roved over the courtroom to the East door and watched the unsmiling jurors march in.

RECOMMEND MERCY

They looked grim men, left little room for any doubt after one glance at them here what their unanimous verdict was.

Charles Paupst of Dundas, Ont., jury foreman, said a verdict had been reached: "We find the accused guilty as charged with a recommendation of mercy."

And then His Lordship, not wearing the customary black cap, delivered his sentence with Mrs. Dick standing: ". . . solitary confinement until the seventh day of January when you shall be taken to the place of execution and there hanged by the neck until dead . . ."

That was all. His Lordship had warned against any demonstration before passing sentence.

Mrs. Dick was led away for transportation back to the jail. Outside, about the courthouse doors, the crowd which nightly has awaited her appearance stood about, not knowing she was coming out in a moment under sentence to hang some three months hence.

SHOVE THROUGH MOB

When she finally came out it was to a hoarse shrieking mob that by now knew the sentence.

Through the crowd the word had gone, and back from it came the sound of their repitition . . . "Guilty" . . . "Guilty" . . . "Guilty" . . . akin to the measured tread of those jurymen who a few minutes before had carried that verdict to the courtroom.

Once more, certainly for the last time in this trial, policemen shoved a way through the crowd for their youthful, pretty prisoner.

Her attendants said her spirits sagged in the waiting room after receiving sentence, as she gathered up her small effects for departure. When she left, they said, she had revived—was her old self.

She had a smile as her guards started her down the last out-of-doors steps and the crowd, as always previously, gave no indication of anything other than curiosity—a yen to look at this woman who five months after marrying a Hamilton street car driver, engaged in a killing which shocked a whole country with its brutality.

HIGHWAY NOT EXPECTED UNTIL 1948

EDMONTON, Oct. 16 (CP) — Completion of the $6,000,000 highway between Prince George and Dawson Creek, B. C., where it will connect with the Alaska Highway, is not expected before 1948, Dr. M. A. McIntyre, a director of the Edmonton Branch of the Alberta Motor Association, said today.

Dr. McIntyre returned to Edmonton yesterday after a shooting trip during which he travelled over 125 miles of the new road West from Dawson Creek. He was accompanied by Joe Dill of Dawson Creek.

"They are building a first class road which will rank only second to the Alaska Highway," he said adding "the gravel is six inches in thickness over a road surface 21 feet wide between the shoulders."

Dr. McIntyre said while it was predicted the Highway would be completed in 1947, he had been informed the heavier type of work in the mountain region would mean a delay until 1948.

Dreamboat Lands In U. S.; Believe New Record Set

WESTOVER FIELD, Mass., Oct. 16 (AP) — The United States Army B-29, Pacusan Dreamboat, which left Paris at 9:38 a.m. landed at this army airfield at 2:05 p.m. today.

Unofficial observers said the elapsed flight time of just under 12½ hours probably set a new speed record for crossing the Atlantic.

The big craft was on a routine flight over the Atlantic.

Col. C. S. Irvine of St. Paul, Neb. on leaving France, said he would make no effort to set a speed mark. Fouled sparkplugs held up the originally scheduled trip yesteray.

New Japanese Group to Sail in November

VANCOUVER, B.C., Oct. 16 — The next group of voluntary Japanese repatriates will leave Canada about the middle of November, the Department of Labor Japanese Division's head office reported here. This will be the fifth group.

Repatriates who missed the last boat due to illness in the family are now awaiting in interior B.C. centres.

It is understood that there are some in the Prairie Provinces who have not cancelled their repatriation requests, and who have been delaying their departures until Autumn. Notices are being sent out to these asking them to make applications for the next boat, and inquiring if they have completed the medical examination and the required inoculations.

U.S. ENDS CURBS ON FATS, OILS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16 (AP) —The O.P.A. took all U.S. price restraints off vegetable fats and oils tonight, and the Price Decontrol Board decided to keep butter and other dairy products equally free of control.

These two decisions, following close on the freeing of meat from price control, were disclosed as another form of wartime restrictions, Government curbs on wages, appeared headed for a quick death.

London Zoo Wants Wild Animals From East Kootenay

CAMP LISTER, B.C., Oct. 16 — It is reported that Harry Yerbury has received an order from the zoo in London for cougars and wolves and for lynx and elk, the order coming from Montreal. Cougars have been on the increase in this section and have been noticed playing at the Lyon's gravel pit area.

WORKERS ACCEPT RAND FORMULA

WINDSOR, Ont., Oct. 16 (CP) —By a 2-1 vote tonight employees of the Windsor plant of the Chrysler Corporation accepted the Rand Formula of Union security, major issue in the 120-day-old strike by the United Automobile Workers of America (C.I.O.) which affects 3500 workers here.

Union members voted today here and at the Chrysler plant in Chatham, Ont. The Chatham result has not yet been announced.

Under the Rand Formula, all employees pay union dues whether Union members or not.

PARIS, Oct. 16 (Reuters)—French police have arrested 20 members of an alleged pro-Nazi gang operating in Paris, it was learned today. Says Britain Has No Need for Overseas Borrowing

LONDON, Oct. 16 (Reuters) — Britain has no need at present to make further arrangements for overseas borrowing, Hugh Dalton, Chancellor of the Exchequer, said in a written Parliamentary reply yesterday. He had been asked whether it still was the government's policy to avail itself of the facilities of the International Monetary Fund and the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development.

Claims Conflict In Acts

OTTAWA, Oct. 16 (CP)—Argument that a section of the Saskatchewan Farm Security Act is in conflict with the Dominion Interest Act was put forward in the Supreme Court of Canada today by C. F. H. Carson, counsel for the Dominion Mortgage and Investment Association.

Mr. Carson, supporting the Dominion Government's contention that the section of the Saskatchewan act should be declared ultra vires, said the legislation conflicted with the Interest Act because it took from the lender the right to fix the interest rate on a loan.

The contested section of the Saskatchewan act provides that in any year in which a farmer's crop yield is less than 86 per acre, the principal owing on all mortgages shall be reduced by the amount of interest due. The section would also retard the final payment of the principal for one year every time there is a crop failure.

Crowds Outside Courthouse for Dick Trial

This lineup was typical of the crowds that pressed about the Hamilton, Ont., courthouse, awaiting the verdict at the trial of Mrs. Evelyn MacLean Dick, found guilty Wednesday in the torso slaying of her husband and sentenced to hang Jan. 7. Police warned the crowding spectators that the trial was not a circus. Such lineups were daily occurences as the curious sought seats for the proceedings.

Rossland Backs Building Resolution, Seeks New Policing Agreement

ROSSLAND, B.C., Oct. 16 — The matter of the sewerage problem in Rossland was discussed by the City Council along with the recommendation that a committee be formed to prepare a brief of Rossland's problem.

Aldermian Allison reported to the Board of Health that Rossland's resolution on dental care met the approval of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities at the conference held at Harrison Hot Springs in September.

Mayor J. R. Corner appointed Alderman W. Darby and Alderman H. Lefevre as a committee to draw up the brief.

The application of Peter Dergurs-off for a licence to sell household articles was authorized and granted after his status was determined.

The matter of passing a new trades licence bylaw and collections of licence were discussed and the proposed changes to bylaw will be considered at a meeting of the Finance Committee.

Seven applications were received by the committee for the position of assistant city clerk. The committee will interview three of these applicants.

Alderman W. Darby, Chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee reported that new lights had been installed in the wartime housing area. He reported that owing to no pipe being available it was impossible to instal new services; but the Committee would do its best to do all necessary jobs.

He reported that Fireman G. Erickson had resigned and that Mr. Jensen had been substituting. The committee's recommendation that Mr. Jensen be hired as fireman on 3 months' probation was adopted.

GIVE TO C.N.I.B.

In response to an appeal for a donation from the National Institute for the Blind, the Council authorized a donation of $25.

The Council endorsed the resolution from Kitchener, Ont., asking the Government to prohibit unessential building until the wartime housing projects had been completed.

The request of the Canadian Legion for permission to sell poppies on the street on Nov. 7 and 8th was granted.

The applications of H. A. Perrsons and R. B. Wallace for improved water pressure were referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee for investigation.

The complaint of R. Decaire, that the water service to his home was in need of attention as at times the water was quite discolored, was also referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee for investigation.

SEEK NEW AGREEMENT

The Rossland City Council was notified by the Provincial Police that the agreement between the city and the Police Department, which has been in force two years, would terminate Dec. 31.

It was decided to ask a representative of the Provincial Police to meet them to arrange a new agreement.

F. E. Woodside of Vancouver wrote the City Council and informed them that Ross Thompson had returned to Vancouver and that he was greatly impressed with his visit to the city he had founded. Mr. Woodside congratulated the Junior Board of Trade and others who had made this trip possible for Mr. Thompson.

The Rossland City Council received a letter from the C.M. & S. Company stating the terms under which the city could use the Black Bear mineral claim as a city dump. The agreement was referred to the City Solicitor, R. J. Clegg, and upon his approval will be signed by the mayor and city clerk.

The application of Joe Langman for four months' leave of absence from the Board of Works Department, starting Nov. 1, was granted.

As an illustration of the action of Fascist countries to secure control over their peoples, journalism was defined by law as a "public task regulated by the State" in Germany after Hitler came to power in 1933.

TOAST and TEA
BY J. V. McARTE

Here are some words of wisdom from Sir William Temple on poetry: "I know very well that many, who pretend to be wise by the forms of being greve, are apt to despise both poetry and music as toys and trifles too light for the use or entertainment of serious men. But whoever find themselves wholly insensible to these charms would, I think, do well to keep their own counsel, for fear of reproaching their own temper, and bringing the goodness of their natures, if not of their understandings, into question. It may be thought at least an ill sign, if not an ill constitution, since some of the Fathers went so far as to esteem the love of music a sign of predestination, as the thing divine, and reserved for the facilities of Heaven itself . . . When all is done, human life is, at the greatest and best, like a forward child, that must be played with and humored a little to keep it quiet till it falls asleep, and then the care is over."

Byelection Electorate Filled With Issues As Campaign Nears End

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, Man., Oct. 16 (CP) — When voters of this district turn out next Monday to elect a new member of Parliament to succeed the late Harry Leader they will be able to do so with at least a fair idea of what issues face the Canadian people at the present time.

All three parties contesting the election—Liberals, Progressive Conservatives and CCF—have had most of their top men campagining here for the past two or three weeks. The record of the Liberal government, the Canada-United Kingdom wheat agreement, removal of the milk subsidy, government expenses, the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, foreign policy—all these have been aired by speakers and hecklers alike.

Liberal guns have been sparked by Finance Minister Ilsley, Agriculture Minister Gardiner, Resources Minister Glen, Saskatchewan leader Walter Tucker, who is also a member of Parliament for Rosthern, and many Federal and Provincial members. Mr. Gardiner chose last week to announce the new United Kingdom beef agreement in a campaign address at Rossendale in the Southern part of the constituency.

National Leader M. J. Coldwell and Premier T. C. Douglas of Saskatchewan have led the CCF campaigners, many of whom have been house-to-house canvassing rather than taking to the stump.

John Bracken, National Progressive Conservative leader arrived last weekend. Other opposition party members who have spoken here include Gordon Graydon, member of the Commons for Peel and former House Leader, J. M. Macdonell, member for Muskoka-Ontario and Finance Minister in the party's shadow cabinet, Lt.-Col. C. C. Merritt, V.C., Vancouver-Burrard and Col. J. A. Ross, Souris.

Almost eclipsed by the flash of the big guns have been the three candidates, Jaffrey S. Wood, Liberal, Calvin C. Miller, Progressive Conservative and Sidney Coulthard, CCF. Mr. Wood is an Oakville, Man., farmer, Mr. Miller, a Portage lawyer and President of the Manitoba Progressive Conservative Association, and Mr. Coulthard a Bagot, Man., apiarist-farmer.

Never a one-party constituency, Portage is a limbo to prophets who try to make a presage of the results. Since 1904, its electors have sent five Conservatives and six Liberals or Progressives to the Federal Parliament. Mr. Leader was first elected in 1921 as a progressive and was defeated in 1925 by Arthur Meighen, later Conservative Prime Minister, who had carried the constituency three times previously, once in a byelection.

Following the constitutional crisis over powers of the executive, the constituency went Liberal in 1926. The Dominion election of 1930 saw a Conservative elected. Mr. Leader represented Portage from 1935 until his death last Spring.

The constituency itself is a large one, extending 15 miles West to Bagot, North to Lake Manitoba, and East to the outskirts of Greater Winnipeg. The Southern boundary is an approximately straight line from Winnipeg to Rosendale. The area includes the fertile Portage Plains, Northwest of here.

HEATH HANGED FOR MURDER OF MOVIE EXTRA

Body Lashed 17 Times Across Back and Breasts

SHOWER LEAFLETS

LONDON, Oct. 16 (CP)—Neville George Clevely Heath, handsome young former R.A.F. pilot, was hanged at Grim Pentonville Prison today for the sadistic murder of movie extra Margery Gardner.

A crowd of approximately 500 persons milled about outside the prison walls, waiting for the posting of the notice announcing that the curly-haired aviator had paid with his life for a crime which shocked Britain.

A few minutes before the execution hour—9 a. m., Mrs. Violet van der Elst, colorful campaigner against capital punishment—drove up to the prison in a large yellow automobile and showered leaflets among the crowd. Police after a discussion, accompanied her to a nearby police station in her car.

Mrs. Van Der Elst was charged with obstructing a public place by scattering the pamphlets which said Heath "was a possessed madman and should have been sent to Broadmoor."

Within an hour after the execution an effigy of Heath was set up in Madame Tussaud's famous waxworks—the first addition to that collection of images of famous criminals since 1936.

Heath was convicted of slaying Mrs. Gardner in one of the most sensational murder trials in Britain's history. The jury rejected his plea of moral insanity.

Mrs. Gardner's body, nude with ankles bound, was found in Heath's London hotel room last June 21. She had been lashed 17 times across the breasts and back, there were teeth marks on the body and she had been severely mutilated with a poker-like instrument.

Heath also was charged with the sadistic slaying of pretty Doreen Marshall, 21, at Bournemouth, swank seaside resort, less than two weeks later. Miss Marshall's body, also bitten and badly slashed, was found in a grove near the shore.

On the levy of $1,693,857 there has been $1,540,700 collected to date.

NEW APPROACH TO ATOM ISSUE OPENED

U. S. Urge Care in Inspection Of Violations

LONG REPORT

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Oct. 16 (AP) — An American suggestion that direct inspections for atomic violations should be carried out with discrimination to avoid antagonizing a nation or its citizens opened today an entirely new approach to an atomic energy issue over which the United States and Russia are at odds.

"Direct inspection should not be used indiscriminately, because of the risk of antagonizing a nation or its citizens," the United States delegation to the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission said in a 57-page report to the Commission.

This report, released last night after being handed to members of the Commission's Political Committee, is the first time the Americans have gone to such lengths to explain their stand.

"Care must be taken to inspect only so far as necessary to confirm or disprove suspicions," the report said. "In some cases inspection of receiving and shipping rooms and platforms might be sufficient. In other cases a thorough inspection, including taking samples from processes, might be necessary.

"In all cases the right of nationals and industries should be observed to the greatest possible extent consistent with fulfillment of the functions of the authority."

The report said that in addition to inspections by representatives of the Atomic Development Authority, the Authority could gather information through its normal control of authorized activities and through formal reports on specific topics submitted by individual countries to the Authority.

U. S. Has More Bombers Now Than When War Ended

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16 (AP) — The United States has more supersize bombers today than when the war ended.

The Army Air Forces, striving to keep its long-range striking arm in readiness even though demobilization has made deep inroads elsewhere, now counts slightly more than 3000 "very heavy bombardment" type aircraft. This number compares with 2865 on hand when hostilities ended in August, 1945.

With the exception of two experimental airplanes—the B-36 and the B-35 "Flying Wing"—all the present force of VHBS are B-29s or B-29 modifications.

A.A.F. officials emphasize, however, that not all the 3000-plus planes make up the VHB operating force. Only part of the total actually are being flown; the remainder constitute reserve or spare aircraft.

While preserving and slowly expanding its fleet of aircraft capable of carrying atomic bombs thousands of miles, the A.A.F. has disposed of nearly 12,000 of its winged workhorses, the B-17s and B-24s.

WHO CARES? SAY GERMANS OF EXECUTIONS

Goering Branded Coward by Average Berliner

NOT MARTYRS

NUERNBERG, Oct. 16 (Reuters) — The people of Nuernberg were generally apathetic to the news early today of the execution of the 10 Nazi war leaders and the suicide of the 11th — Hermann Goering.

"Who cares?" one German youth in a back street cafe commented. "We don't."

A German toy-maker expressed the hope that the Allies "will consider their scores with the German people settled as far as the common people are concerned." He added: "The trial has shown that German workers and trade unionists were also victims of Goering and his gang.

A housewife who had lost two sons and a sister announced vehemently the fate of the Nazi leaders was too good for them.

"Why didn't we, whose flesh and blood they stole to satisfy their lust for power, see them hang?"

A schoolteacher considered the hangings "just another unsavory affair."

Meanwhile in the capital, six of 10 average Berliners branded Hermann Goering a coward. Only the German officer class showed any satisfaction.

Frau Lucie Boldt, housewife in the British sector, summed up the opinion of most: "He has proved himself a coward at last. The man who was responsible for so many bloodbaths could not face death himself like a man."

Otto Hasse, hotel manager, commented: "This is really the party day of vengeance—I know Goering's character and I am almost certain he is now thumbing his nose at the Allies."

Max Speet, former captain in the Germany army said: "He held his trump car until the last."

There seemed no danger that the Nazi war leaders would be regarded as martyrs.

Seeks to Remove Bar to Franchise For B. C. Hindus

VANCOUVER, Oct. 16 (CP)—Dr. D. P. Pandia, unofficial representative of the Indian Congress Party, said in an interview today that he will go to Victoria next week to meet with Premier John Hart and Cabinet members to seek granting of the hitherto withheld franchise to British Columbia Hindus.

Dr. Pandia said that it is in the power of a few men in Victoria to exclude from the British Commonwealth of Nations and to close the doors of this country to a trade which is fabulous in its potentiality.

"I have talked to more than a score of organizations and seen countless well-informed people during my stay here," he said, "and have not found any opposition at all."

Dr. Pandia explained that if the vote were given to British Columbia's some 1400 Hindus there would be no complaint by India against Canada.

"There is the matter of complete exclusion of Hindus from immigration here," he added, "but we are not complaining about that, because India will give reciprocal treatment—complete exclusion of Canadians or a balanced quota of immigration."

He added that the Constituent Assembly will meet shortly to decide "whether we shall stay in the British Commonwealth or not."

"Canada is in the unique position of being able to give a lead to the Dominions. At no cost to herself she can grant this right of a British citizen (which the United Kingdom has granted) and can assure herself of the friendship of India.

Dr. Pandia said the United States is already looking ahead. Not only has she granted an immigration quota of 100 East Indians annually but she has allowed several hundreds of students to take up scholarships in her universities.

"America is looking to her interests. You in Vancouver represent the gateway to Canada from the East and India is in the market. If Canada comes into line it will make it easier for us to get the same rights from Australia and South Africa. Canada is in line, except for British Columbia."

To Make Report On Peace Meeting Friday

PARIS, Oct. 16 (AP)—State Secretary Byrnes, taking off for the United States, announced today he would make a broadcast report Friday night on the 21-power Peace Conference.

Mr. Byrnes left in President Truman's plane, "the Sacred Cow," after a press conference in which he expressed confidence that Yugoslavia eventually would sign the peace treaty with Italy.

Giving correspondents his views on the Peace Conference which came to an end Tuesday with Yugoslav delegates boycotting the final session, Mr. Byrnes said he feels the 11-week parley has accomplished much important work in registering world opinion on peace treaty issues.

Mr. Byrnes, Foreign Minister Molotov of Russia and the others on the Four-Power Foreign Minister's Council—Georges Bidault, French President and Foreign Minister, and Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin of Britain—are to meet in New York November 4 for final action on the satiellite treaties and preliminary work on the German pact. They originally framed the drafts from which the Peace Conference worked.

Since July 29, in commission and plenary sessions, delegates had written treaties for Italy, Bulgaria, Hungary, Romania and Finland.

Unfilled Jobs, Unemployed, Near Balance

OTTAWA, Oct. 16 (CP)—Unfilled jobs practically caught up with the number of unemployed Canadians at October 3, the first time the two figures have approximately balanced in 11 months, the Labor Department reported today.

The Department said expansion in logging and the pressure of consumer demand were buoyant factors in labor market activity, despite the adverse effect of strikes and shortages.

The national employment offices showed 144,000 workers still looking for jobs at October 3, a decrease of 2000 during September compared to a decline of 16,000 during August. The falling off in unplaced applicants occurred in the Pacific region, where settlement of a foundry strike sharpened industrial activity, and in Quebec where logging activity and settlement of textile strikes absorbed workers.

Available jobs shot up to 142,000, a rise of 23,000 in September compared to a gain of 11,000 in August. The upswing in logging accounted for three-fifths of the September increase. Settlement of the steel strike brightened the general strike picture and labor demand increased in all industries except heavy manufacturing. Construction in some regions showed healthy labor requirements despite supply bottlenecks. Quebec and Ontario registered the greatest increase in unfilled vacancies.

Ontario industries suffered heavily from material shortages, many of them due to strikes. The labor supply was adequate in most industries except textiles and foundries.

The Prairie Provinces reported labor demand which exceeded the supply by 7000 workers. Most of the demand was in logging in which few applicants showed immediate interest. The Alberta farmers' strike affected the meat packing industry. Base metal production was at a high level despite heavy labor turnover.

The Pacific region recorded an improved labor situation with farm labor requirements still under control. Logging was handicapped by a lack of skilled men. Increased activity was shown in shipbuilding, with several major contracts on hand. Construction was patchy because of material obstacles.

The number of unplaced workers, with unfilled vacancies in brackets, in typical centres at October 3, included: Halifax 2890 (1412); Montreal 12,216 (20,250); Toronto 9211 (19,546); Fort William 966 (2309); Winnipeg 6734 (4586); Regina 859 (950); Saskatoon 965 (738); Edmonton 2277 (2172); Calgary 2359 (1288); New Westminster 1786 (808); Vancouver 12,411 (4886); and Victoria 1866 (1257).

Sausages Back On Market; Fruit Plentiful

Sausages should be back on the market next week, Nelson wholesalers said Wednesday, and while lard, pork and cheese were still on the scarcities list, there was a good supply of beef, and cured meats were becoming more plentiful.

Some slight irregularity in the lamb supply was indicated by the reports of wholesalers, though from one source a good supply was being received.

Eggs were still scarce.

Florida grapefruit, California tomatoes and Tokay grapes have been arriving from the States, and California fresh grapes were being received regularly with cranberries, bananas and oranges.

Two cars of flour and feed were received by the grain wholesalers.

Development Of Speech

By Garry Cleveland Myers Ph. D.

Children differ widely in the speed of early development of speech. The average child has a vocabulary of few hundred words at the age of two. Some, however, after using a few words much earlier, seem to make little or no speech gains till after two. If at two and a half or three your child does not talk, you should have his hearing tested and consult a speech expert.

While it is good for the speech growth of any child to read to him daily from the time he is in his second year, it is especially good for the child slow in speech development. Also good for him to be with other children who talk freely.

Begin very early to talk to the infant and continue to do so, about what you are doing for him and with him. Never engage in baby talk. Also sing lullabies to him and say a few nursery rhymes to him over and over again. Answer all his questions kindly.

Never ridicule his questions, remarks or mode of utterance. If at all possible, don't allow anybody else to do so. Talk to your child as a person and make him feel that what he has to say is worthy of your attention, be he two or sixteen guiding him, of course, to wait a reasonable time while others talk.

Most children have trouble with certain sounds, in their early years, a few even after they enter school. Samples of such are d for g; t for c ch for q, b for v. Never treat this infantile speech as "cute" nor make him ashamed of it.

Until the youngster has a pretty good start at speaking it were better not to bother about these wrong sounds, speaking yourself very clearly and distinctly as you talk or read to him. You might select some stories or rhymes to read often to him, which contain these sounds.

Occasionally you should say the correct sound after him nonchalantly but not insist then that he repeat after you. But to succeed you must use infinite tact and patience in order to win him to want to cooperate with you.

Be not concerned about your young child's grammar. If you hold yourself to accurate use of English and read a great deal to him until after he enters school, he will hardly make many grammatical errors until he learns them from his playmates.

Even then, you should not interrupt him to correct his grammar. If you show no vexation over his speech, he, wishing to appear grown-up, will gradually choose to speak correctly, by the time he is 10 or 12.

Many children stutter some between two and five years of age. How wisely you act toward the matter will determine pretty surely whether he will recover from stuttering or stutter the rest of his life.

Worrying Too Far in Advance

By JANE ATKINSON

Dear Miss Atkinson:

I am 17½ years old and have been in love with a fellow almost four years. He knows I love him, because I almost told him so, yet when he sees me, he talks and jokes as he would with his sisters. I don't like this because I always think he is doing it to make fun of me behind my back. What do you think?

Another thing, he told me one night that he would take me out for graduation. Do you think I should go? Maybe he was doing this because he knows I love him, and just to satisfy me. Should I tell him, on graduation, about his promise, or just forget about it and eat my heart out until it's worn and sick?

"Jackie"

It seems to me, "Jackie," that you are doing your worrying far in advance when you are giving so much thought to what you are going to do about your graduation. That must be a long way off, and a lot of things can happen before then. If I were you, I would not start on this problem until you're a little nearer to the time when it comes up.

If it will help you to stop doing this advance worrying, however, I will answer the question you asked, about whether or not you should go to the graduation with this young man, since he has invited you. Certainly; why not?

If you are only 17½ now and have been thinking about this boy for the past 4 years, don't you think you began a little early to make up your mind on the big question of love? Give yourself a bit more time, and see a lot more of boys, before you decide that any of them is the one for you. At your age, you should be having good times with many people.

And don't you think you are dramatizing yourself a little when you talk about "eating your heart out?" Hearts are a lot tougher than you, at 17, have had a chance to find out yet, and they stand an awful lot of wear. If you give yours a chance, I feel sure that one day it will pick out the right man for you.

One Cause of Over-Weight

By Herman N. Bundesen, M. D.

Many overweight people have an idea that their excess poundage is due to the fact that too much water is retained in the body. In some cases this may indeed be true.

It has been noted that just before the regular periods, some women gain as much as 12 pounds, due to temporary retention of water in the tissuese, water which is usually eliminated following the periods.

According to Dr. Max A. Goldzieher of New York, even larger amounts of water may be retained by people in whom the accumulation of weight is slow and gradual.

Unfortunately, at the present time the cause of this retention of water is not known. There is evidence however, to show that the functioning of the body's system of ductless glands may have something to do with it. Under the influence of some of the powerful chemicals which the body manufactures for its own use, certain tissues, particularly the fat cells lying just under the skin, seem to increase their capacity to take up water.

Usually, when this occurs salt is also caught and held in the tissues. Of course, in some patients the source of this retained water is obvious. They drink larger amounts of fluid than the body can dispose of in the normal way, either because they eat too much salt or because they are always thirsty.

In others, however, water retention cannot be explained in this way because they drink no more than average amounts of fluid.

We know that the chief use of the secretions formed by certain glands is the regulation of different body functions, and recent research work indicates that several of them have a distinct effect on the way in which the body uses salt and water.

For example, some of these secretions stimulate the action of the kidneys and thus promote the exseems to have this effect as do expulsion of water. Thyroid extract tracts from the adrenal gland located just above the kidney.

The giving of estrogens which come from the ovary often causes water to be retained in the tissues. The pituitary gland located at the base of the brain also forms several secretions which seem to affect the amount of water in the body.

The lack of secretion from the back part of the gland causes excessive amounts of water to be eliminated through the kidney. A lack of secretion from the front part of the gland favors the retention of water in the tissues.

Thus, when persons are overweight, there is always a need for a careful study by a physician to determine if some disturbance of the glands of internal secretion may not be a factor in producing evcess weight, through its effect on water retention.

There is no evidence that drinking water in normal amounts has any effect on the weight whether the water is taken with meals or between meals, unless som type of glandular disturbance is already present.

It is true that most overweight persons can reduce by proper dieting but there are some in whom treatment with glandular extracts will be of value. Hence, the services of a physician should be secured so that proper treatment with gland extracts may be employed.

"Try these six EASY WAYS to please your family"

says Barbara B. Brooks
well-known Kellogg Home Economist

"More and more busy housewives are learning how to save time and food, and still keep meals interesting for their families. They have discovered that Kellogg's cereals are ideal, not only at breakfast, but for making tasty dishes out of leftovers. Try these six ideas, and see how cereals can save you time and food!"

Merry sparkle at breakfast—serve big bowls of Kellogg's Rice Krispies. Children love to listen to the merry snap-crackle-pop song. Even "difficult" children love body-building whole-milk—with Rice Krispies.

Fresh from the oven—and piping hot—All-Bran muffins add a party flavour to any simple luncheon. Serve them with a crisp salad, or with golden honey. The easy recipe is on the Kellogg's All-Bran package.

Hungry youngsters want an after-school snack that's satisfying and easy-to-digest. Kellogg's Krumbles with plenty of milk is the answer. Whole wheat gives them the lift they need to carry them over.

Oven meal — all in one dish — get the most out of every scrap of food. Add a topping of crisp Kellogg's Pep to leftover meat and vegetables in a casserole. Saves meat—and your family will love it!

Cupboard crawl for the hi-crowd! O.K., but keep their snacks on the simple side. Let them help themselves to big bowls of Kellogg's Corn Flakes with lots of milk. Appetizing, always fresh.

A satisfying snack that's easy-to-digest. That's what you want at bedtime? Fine—but make sure it's plain, and simple. Tonight have a big bowlful of Kellogg's Bran Flakes With Other Parts Of Wheat.

Now, more than ever an important part of the Canadian diet!

THE world looks to Canada for help in the present food crisis. We can help make sure that everyone gets his fair share by making the most out of every bit of food. Thousands of housewives rely on Kellogg's ready-to-eat cereals. Try the suggestions above and see how they can help you save food. They're made from corn, wheat, rice . . . some are flaked, some shredded, some popped!

Kellogg's pioneered ready-to-eat cereals, constantly improved them. For over a quarter century, Canadian housewives have known and trusted them. Now Kellogg's is by far, the greatest name in cereals!

Kellogg's All-Wheat is Canadian whole wheat in its most delicious form. Flaked, toasted, ready-to-eat, it has a heartening flavour everybody likes.

Youth in Canada

"The young," said the philosopher, "are much to be envied. They will see fine things." True, and no finer than they can see in Canada. For Canada itself is young. With here and there throughout the Dominion a stirring of argument for and against renewed immigration on a larger scale than has prevailed in past years, the idea of Canada's need for increased population keeps coming to the fore; while the certainty of Canada's confidence and pride in her own native-born Canadians cannot be overlooked, writes Norman Mackintosh in Agricultural and Industrial Progress. There are voices that are raised emphatically in the claim that Canada needs no immigration from overseas, for she can well enough, and better, increase her population from within her own borders. And the lively voices of youngsters throughout Canada are a merry reminder of the argument.

No doubt about it, the native-born Canadian baby boy or girl has the best start in the world for Canadian citizenship, that proud privilege the granting of which by Canada, to the fit and worthy to receive it, is constructively provided for. By right of birth it belongs to the native-born; of grace it is bestowed upon the immigrant qualified to receive it, and capable of upholding it. To guard it with appreciation is the instinct of every true Canadian. From very early years Canadian youth is aware of this its birthright. It is the innocent boast of little boys and girls, growing up with them to adolescence, manhood and womanhood, this consciousness of their Canadian citizenship. The children of Canada are one convincing argument—not against immigration from overseas, but very decidedly for the advantages of a native-born growth of Canada toward her great destiny, her place on earth as a great power—a great power for good. They are so vivid, so vital, these Canadian youngsters. They work and play with such vigor. They are so frank, so self-possessed, so eager. They are so capable. The small boy who makes a bit of Saturday money delivering parcels for the local store can be trusted to deliver "C.O.D.," and to carry the necessary supply of small change. Canadian born, he is already keen in Canadian business. But his business done, how keen he is also in his "back-lot" baseball game. And on Monday morning watch him going to school—he is as interested in his school books as he is in the colored comic strips. For to work hard and to play hard is so characteristic of the Canadian people. Their children take after them.

Ethiopia Still in the News

Although enemies seek to create ill-will between Britain and Ethiopia, the relations between Emperor Haile Selassie and the British continue to be friendly. The Emperor spent years of exile in England after he was driven from his own country by the Italians and remembers the measure of support that the British gave the Ethiopian case in the councils of the League of Nations at Geneva. Britain pressed Ethiopia's claim for justice and the application of sanctions until Canada, in effect, repudiated the oil sanctions. That action led Britain to fear that she was getting out too far in front in support of the League and must be less ardent if she would keep the approval of Canada and Australia. Mussolini's success in defying the League and grabbing Ethiopia stimulated the greed of Hitler and the Japanese militarists and contributed to the Second World War.

Ethiopia is being urged to protest against the continued presence of British troops in Ogaden, her Southeastern province. The British are there under an agreement that requires that they be withdrawn next year. What is giving Ethiopia greater concern is the future of Eritrea and Italian Somaliland. She wishes both to be annexed to Ethiopia. Her desire, in part at least, is likely to be gratified, but perhaps not without the making of certain concessions to Britain that are considered to have strategic and tactical value. The Ethiopians wish a son-in-law of the Emperor handed over to them as a war criminal, but the British seem indisposed to do so.

Haile Selassie is trying to encourage industry, trade, education and health. Most of the country's export trade is with countries in the sterling bloc and moves through the British port of Aden. The country has the equivalent of three or four million dollars of sterling exchange, but is prevented by a shortage of dollars from doing business with the U. S. and other American countries. A loan has been arranged whereby the Export-Import Bank will supply the necessary dollars.

The better part of Ethiopia's tobacco, coffee, wheat and barley is going to the Middle East, particularly to Egypt and Saudi Arabia. Much lumber is being sold to Egypt. Near Eastern countries are eager to buy Ethiopian products. The Sinclair Oil Company of the United States has obtained exclusive development rights and is obligated, if the venture turns out well, to provide funds for social welfare work.

It is five years since Ethiopia was liberated by British armies. Today Britain has received a demand from Ethiopia that Marshal Badoglio and other highly placed Italians shall be tried as war criminals. Ethiopia holds Badoglio mainly responsible for the use of poison gas against the Ethiopian army. Ethiopia also wants 750 million dollars' reparations from Italy. She has a good claim, but will be lucky if she gets one-fourth of that amount. Haile Selassie was indignant that the United Nations condoned Italy's treacherous attacks on Ethiopia and France by recognizing Italy as a co-belligerent. Russia is sending a group of doctors to Addis Ababa, on invitation of Ethiopia, to open a much-needed hospital and a dispensary in the capital city.

ON THE SIDE

By E. V. DURLING

This morning,
As sleeping in my bed I lay
I dreamed a dream
Of a happy home and life with you
And morning dreams
Come true they say.

—Rhodes.

(An astonishing number of people believe in dreams as mediums of predicting the future. Absolutely nothing to that. However, there is no doubt that dreams reveal much as to the character, conduct and state of mind of the dreamer, so be careful as to telling people what you dreamed about last night. You might give away a secret if the listener is a student of dream interpretation.)

A Californian says I often speak of horses having been "born" on certain dates. He says this is incorrect. I should not say "born," but "foaled." And, of course, he's right . . . It was Hesiod who advised men as follows: "Marry in the Springtime of your life. Neither much above nor below the age of 30. Your bride should be in her 19th year."

ASKING

Queries from clients. Q. Name an eight brother vaudeville act and a six brother act or send me 14 stogies. A. The eight Byrnes Brothers. The six Brown Brothers. Q. What is the best way to handle a tall wife A. Tall women like to be dominated and made to do what their husbands tell them. Makes them feel less amazonian. A lengthy lady is also very fond of sitting on her husband's lap while he talks baby talk to her. Husband of a tall woman should refer to her as "my statuesque beauty," "my long limbed venus." Also quote Tennyson as follows: "She was a daughter of the gods, most divinely fair and most divinely tall." Q. What major leaguer was the last to sport a handle-bar moustache? A. John Titus, while playing the outfield for the Phillies in 1912. It was a red moustache and Mr. Titus was very proud of it.

OLD IRISH SONGS

My pride in my knowledge of old Irish songs is decreasing. Not long ago I admitted I had never heard the song titled Bridget Donahue. Now a New Yorker baffles me by asking for the title and words of an old Irish dity from which the following lines are an excerpt:

As I was sitting by the fire,
Drinking O'Reilly's whiskey and water
Suddenly a thought came in my head
Concerning O'Reilly's daughter.

GET IT RIGHT

Why do people who should know better keep saying bulls are angered by anything colored red. Bulls are color blind. If you wave something white, green, blue or black at a bull he will get as angry as if you waved something red at him.

BRIEFLY

Jack Carson would be good in a film version of that play of the yesteryear titled "The Show Off". Remember it? Was by George Kelly who also wrote "Craig's Wife"—Now I have a reader in Billericlay, England. Says he: "I have a racing system, too. I bet on every horse Gordon Richards rides. Gordon recently had 29 winners in 58 mounts."

SOME MAN

His eldest son is 97 years old. His youngest son is two years old. He, himself, is 112 years old. So he was a father of a newly born India named Amah Gaga Singh who is now a son at the age of 110. So states a native of resident of Melbourne, Australia. A Baltimorean sending me the dispatch dealing with this asks: "Do you believe this?" It appears incredible, but as a newspapermen I wouldn't call the man a liar until I had thoroughly checked his claim. In fact, if I were in Melbourne that is just what I would do. I wonder if he is a vegetarian.

OVER THERE

Ever play darts? Good game. You should try it. Very popular in England where it is played mostly in the pubs. In a London newspaper I recently read about a U. S. army sergeant from Philadelphia named Nick Hubicki who walked into the Robin Hood Inn in Norwich, Eng., and offered to play any dart player in the place for any side bet named. That an American should challenge them at their own game aroused the Englishmen present. Well, anyway, to make the story short, Sergeant Hubicki from Philadelphia beat every dart player in the pub and walked out loaded with dough.

ASIDES

A fellow born on July 24, which is also my birthday, asked for names of some famous persons born on that date. So far I can only name Alexandre Dumas the elder and Amelia Earhart—Trouble with a great many business executives is that they eat too much lunch. Experiments have proven that when a man eats a heavy meal at noon his mental alertness and accuracy is greatly decreased.

Press Comment

TERRORISTS WORST FOES OF ZIONISM

The worst foes of Zionist aspirations in Jerusalem are the secret terrorist organizations which resort to murderous violence and perpetrate such insane outrages as the bombing of King David Hotel, in which scores of persons were killed.

Nothing could be more certainly calculated to discredit and defeat a righteous cause than insensate acts of that kind. They horrify and repel world opinion. They defeat the honest and reasonable efforts of responsible leaders to ad vance their program.

None were more shocked, dismayed and disheartened by this latest and most frightful of a long series of similar outrages than the leaders of the Zionist movement in Jerusalem and elsewhere.

Terrorism is as stupid as it is criminal. It serves only to invite and justify measures of repression. It does not solve the problem of Jerusalem. It merely complicates that problem. Instead of frightening the British Government, the mandatory power in control of Jurusalem, it hardens the resolution of the British to search out and punish the criminals and assert the authority of law.—Spokane Spokesman-Review.

"I thought I was WELL-INSULATED till polythene came along!"

Well may the thick-skinned rhinoceros grieve, for chemistry has produced an insulating material that puts even his tough hide to shame . . . It is called polythene—a new plastic that stands up to heat and cold and is unaffected by any known chemicals at ordinary temperature. Its unusual insulating qualities make it an indispensable factor in the vast, new field of radar and television while it gets back to earth again in the form of simple, resilient, waterproof refrigerator bowl covers that seem to last forever . . . polythene, in its scope of application, is another outstanding example of what Chemistry is contributing to our daily comfort and welfare.

AIL, B.C., Oct. 16 — G. He leads his nearest competitor Walter Dobler of Winnipeg Blue Bombers by 20 points with only the Saskatchewan Roughriders at Winnipeg Oct. 19 tilt left to play in the schedule.

SON COMES TO CLAIM CURSED TREASURE

VANCOUVER, Oct. 16 (CP)—The mysterious disappearance of Henri Bar, French millionaire banker from Shanghai, is back in the news but this may be the last time—unless the supposed "curse of the Pekin Cups" appears again.

His son, Claude, has come to Vancouver from France to claim the $500,000 treasure which the elder Bar shipped from Shanghai and which includes the cups, said to have been stolen from the Pekin Palace in the early 1900's during the fall of a Chinese dynasty and to which some attribute a curse.

Henri Bar disappeared from the British freighter SS. Samwater while en route from Shanghai to Vancouver last Spring.

Reports at the time of the elder Bar's disappearancesaid he carried three jade necklaces around his neck. This theory was exploded when his son said that there had been no such article in his father's collection. The son said that he had been with his father when the older man had collected the fortune.

Of the "curse" on the cups, Claude just laughed and said that he and his pretty wife of three months aren't worried.

Mr. and Mrs. Bar plan to return to France or settle down in America —with the supposedly "cursed" treasure.

"THE WINNAH"

CHICAGO, Oct. 16 (AP)—Heavyweight Joe Louis lost a bout today—but in the legal, not in the boxing, ring.

He agreed to pay his ex-wife's former lawyer, Bindley E. Cyrus, $2000 for legal services on a divorce action which ended in a reconciliation in July of 1941.

After the agreement was announced, Louis grabbed Cyrus' hand, lifted it high and announced:

"The winner!"

Cyrus said Mrs. Marva Trotter Louis, who later divorced the champion in another suit, had paid him $2500 but that Louis had reneged on a promise to pay the remainder. Louis denied making any such promise.

12,756 See Wings Tie Leafs With Last Minute Goal in N.H.L. Opener

DETROIT, Oct. 16 (CP) — Sid Abel's 20-foot shot with 11 seconds to play enabled the Detroit Red Wings to tie the Toronto Maple Leafs 3-3 tonight in the opening game of the National Hockey League's new 60-game season.

A first night throng of 12,756 cash customers raised the roof when Abel's hard low shot banged into the corner of the net as Detroit played without a goalie in the nets for the last 15 seconds to avert defeat.

12 PENALTIES

Rookie Garth Boesch, Toronto defenceman playing his first major league game, had broken a 2-all tie by slamming in a 45-foot screen shot with four minutes of playing time left and Toronto appeared a certain winner until Abel punched in his first goal since his return last Winter from military service.

Although the game was marked by 21 penalties—one of them a major against Detroit's Adam Brown for fighting, only one of the goals was scored while a team was shorthanded.

That was the first score of the game when Browntallied for Detroit at 7:02 of the second period with Howie Meeker of Toronto serving time for tripping.

Bob Goldham of the Leafs squared it at 12:59 skating in from left wing to hit the corner of the net but within less than a minute Rookie Gordon Howe hit a 5-footer to put Detroit ahead 2-1.

Harry Watson knocked in a rebound shot with a minute to play in the second period to send the fracas into a tie going into the third stanza.

Cards Each Pocket $3757 Extra

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 16 (AP) — For the first time in many months the pressure was off the champion St. Louis Cardinals today and the players turned to personal plans.

The baseball season was finally over, and the Cards had won from Boston Red Sox the World Series in which most of the experts said they didn't have a chance.

The Cardinals, voted a full share of the Series receipts, each richer by $3757, were packing their bags and leaving for their homes, for delayed vacation trips and—in some cases—more work.

At least two of them still had baseball on their minds. Stan Musial, the hard-hitting first baseman, was reported en route to Los Angeles where he will join Bob Feller's touring all star team. The veteran coach Mike Gonzalez was released to go back to his Winter job of managing the Havana club in the Cuban League.

Aquatic Centre to Serve Community

Highly Modern Building Kinsmen Proposal

A tremendous war effort behind them, Nelson Kinsmen Club members today are putting their well known enthusiasm and drive into City and District work. Their immediate objective is to raise funds for the Lakeside Park Aquatic Centre.

The Club has built up an outstanding record in service club work. Its first efforts were directed toward local charities and to assistance to Kootenay Lake General Hospital.

Came the war, and the Club's first step was to present $1800 to Prime Minister Churchill to dispose of as he saw fit. This money was turned over to the Lord Mayors Fund.

Then the National objective, Milk for Britain, was set and with the cooperation of the City and people throughout the Kootenay, the Nelson Club raised more than $49,000 for this fund.

In choosing a peacetime project, the Club's aim was to find something of benefit to the community, and the Aquatic Centre was chosen from several proposed projects as something which could serve the City and District and provide an additional tourist attraction.

Providing funds for the new project will be the Kinette Club's tag day Oct. 19, the Kinauctions of the Air Oct. 22 and 29 and Nov. 5 and 12, as well as proceeds from the annual July 1 celebration.

The accompanying pictures give details of the Centre, which extends 190 feet along the curved front and 150 feet at the back. It is 45 feet wide. The dance floor will be 90 feet long at the front and 66 feet at the back and opens out on to the verandah. Folding doors also open into the lounge. The tea room, 45 feet long at the front and 33 feet at the rear, and the lounge will both be served by the same kitchen.

The dance hall will also be suitable for community gatherings, banquets and so on, and all organizations will be encouraged to use it.

Friends Trying to Get Sinatras Back Together; "Look-Homeward Angel" Nears Shooting; Betty Grable Back to Work

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 16 (AP) — Talk of the movie town today is whether or not the Frank Sinatras will reconcile. Their best friends are trying to get them back together, but the odds appear against it. During the weekend, Nancy attended a party with Skitch Henderson, while Frank discovered Ava Gardner in Palm Springs. Meanwhile, the breakup has created chaos in the bobbysoxer ranks. Most of them are disillusioned.

Thomas Wolfe fans, who are many and enthusiastic, will be happy to know that "Look Homeward, Angel" is nearing the production stage after many postponements. Producer Arthur Ripley has a script which adheres to the novel and is lining up Van Heflin for Ben, Robert Mitchum for Luke and Frank Morgan for the old man.

Want to know who will be the most important man in radio tomorrow night? He's the man who puts the needle on the first Bing Crosby transcription show. The radio industrialists are watching the program carefully because it may change their mode of operation.

I see that Warners is advertising itself as "The World's Most Honored Studio." Paramount last used that line. A certain watch company used the line first.

Purely personal . . . Betty Grable is back at work on "Mother Wore Tights,' after straining her back in a dance routine. . . . Kathryn Grayson is developing a repertoire of eight operas so she can try out for the Metropolitan Opera auditions next Spring. . . . Wall Beery flew up to Jackson's Hole, Wyo., to see if early snows damaged his ranch. . . . Osa Massen's wedding gift to her sister in Copenhagen will be a round-trip honeymoon to Hollywood.

R. C. N. Looking for 3000 Young Canadians to Man its Ships

By GEORGE KITCHEN

OTTAWA, Oct. 16 (CP) — The Royal Canadian Navy, emerging from its war and post-war duties as the biggest and best sea force in Canada's naval history, is looking for 3000 young Canadians to man its ships and see the world.

Ofering better pay, better opportunities and better accommodation than ever before, the Navy is launching a Fall recruiting campaign aimed at bringing its permanent force strength up to the authorized total of 10,000 officers and men.

Running side by side with the permanent force campaign will be a drive for some 16,000 recruits to boost the strength of the part-time navy—the reserve—up to the authorized 18,000 peak. These men will train evenings on modern equipmnt in the 19 naval divisions across Canada and spend two weeks afloat during the Summer.

The Army now has recruited 12,000 to 13,000 of its authorized peacetime force of 25,000 while the R.C.A.F., with a goal of 16,100, has accepted more than 9100.

The naval recruits will man the more than 50 ships—aircraft carriers, cruisers, destroyers frigates and escort vessels—which make up the new peacetime navy, which looms as a formidable fighting force when compared with the 13 vessels that were ready for active service when war broke out.

Now on a permanent basis with the ending of the interim service period Oct. 1, the Navy includes two aircraft carriers, one of which already is in service with the second now building, two cruisers, a dozen destroyers, 18 frigates, 12 Algerine escort ships and scores of auxiliary vessels.

To date, enlistments in the reserve total 1800 against the 18,000 men required but this is mainly due to the fact recruiting has been concentrated on the full-time force, which now includes some 7000 officers and ratings.

For its permanent force the Navy mainly draws its recruits from a number of sources—ex-naval personnel, men with service in the other forces, Sea Cadets and the Royal Canadian Naval College.

Rates of pay and standards of naval life have been made more attractive in the last few years.

For instance, the lowest rating —an ordinary seaman—now begins his service at a rate of $50 a month against $37.50 in the pre-war Navy and at the end of six months his pay is increased to $54 against an increase to $45 formerly. This is tax-free and in addition food, clothing, shelter and dental and medical care are provided at no extra cost.

Accommodation has been improved. Peacetime complements of ships now are about four-fifths of wartime complements, which means that over-crowding on board has been eliminated.

There also is the new "home port" system, under which men from Eastern Canada are posted to Eastern bases and men from Western Canada are based at the Pacific Coast. Married men are given every possible opportunity to live with their families.

Extended cruises, such as the voyage on the Cruiser Uganda around the tip of South America last year, will be the practice for permanent forec raining. Reserve men will go on shorter cruises.

Account for All Army Missing

OTTAWA, Oct. 16 (CP) — Latest available figures on Canada's war casualties show that nearly al of the men reported missing or presumed dead in the Army and Navy have been accounted for by search parties in Europe and the Far East.

Officials said today Army authorities have completed their searches for men whose fate was unknown at the end of hostilities and their records now show a total of 17,672 men killed in battle and 5238 who later died from wounds and natural causes. All missing men have been accounted for.

Naval totals show 222 oficers and 1756 ratings who gave their lives and three officers still on the missing list.

The R.C.A.F., its task made more difficult because many aircraft disappeared in combat without leaving a trace of their crews, said its search crews have reported 6730 men dead and another 10,340 presumed dead. Still listed as missing are eight men.

FREMANTLE, Australia (CP)—A woman who bore 39 children in 31 years died recently at her home here. She was Mrs. Annie Brown, who married in 1901. A number of her 12 surviving children attended the funeral. Mrs. Brown's family is believed to be a record for Australia.

M.V. Anscomb's Steel Plates Were "Made in Vancouver"

MODERN ENGINEERING technique marks up yet another victory over conditions, with the launching of the motor vessel Anscomb on Kootenay Lake. The steel hull of this one hundred eighty-two foot car and passenger ferry was fabricated in the shops of Western Bridge at Vancouver, shipped in pieces by rail and assembled on Kootenay Lake ready for launching.

M.V. Anscomb, named after British Columbia's former Minister of Works, Hon. Herbert Anscomb, designed to carry areund two hundred passengers and forty-six automobiles, is powered by one thousand horsepower Vivian diesel engines. She will replace the old stern wheeler Nasookin, familiar to generations of travellers on Kootenay Lake.

Versatility has always been a factor of Western Bridge work. During the war this Company fabricated steel for fifty-three ten-thousand ton cargo ships. Previously, the firm had also shared in such important contracts as the Lions Gate Bridge and Burrard Street Bridge in Vancouver, the Pattullo Bridge at New Westminster, as well as the Hotel Vancouver, Royal Bank Building and numerous other public, Commercial and Industrial structures.

Weight Limit for Gift, Food Parcels Lifted to 20 Pounds

OTTAWA, Oct. 16 (CP)— The Post Office Department announced today the weight limit for gift and food parcels addressed to the United Kingdom has been lifted from the wartime restriction of 11 pounds to the normal maximum weight of 20 pounds.

Parcels also no longer are restricted to one a month and there will be no limit on the quantity of food in general or of any one foodstuff in particular which may be included in a gift parcel weighing up to the 20-pound limit.

The announcement said the parcels must be unsolicited bona fide gifts and must not be imported into Britain as merchandise or for sale. Each parcel must be clearly marked with the word "gift."

The concessions do not apply to parcels containing arms and ammunition, plumage, dangerous drugs or other articles subject to special prohibition and restriction. They also do not relieve goods from liability of any appropriate customs duty or purchase tax on arrival in Britain.

Few Men Answer Bushworkers Strike Call

TORONTO, Oct. 16 (CP)—W. A. Delahaye, Manager of the Ontario Forest Industries Association, said today that few men have answered the bush workers' strike call in the Eastern part of Northern Ontario, and the number in the Lakehead district joining the walkout "will not exceed 1000."

Speaking on behalf of pulp and timber operators involved in the strike, called last Saturday by the Lumber and Sawmill Workers (A.F.L.) to enforce demands for wage increases and union recognition, Mr. Delahaye said there is no evidence of any general strike action in the Iroquois Falls, Cochrane, Smooth Rock Falls and Kapuskasing areas, and only a small percentage of workers in the Hearst area camps quit work.

Referring to the Lakehead situation, Mr. Delahaye mentioned a union statement last night that some 2000 striking bush workers have come to Port Arthur, and recalled that union officials estimated Monday 12,000 were involved. "Actually the number on strike will not exceed 1000 men."

So far the operators have not heard officially from the union as to its demands, he said, adding that of the men who have stopped work only a few have taken their clothes from the bush camps and asked a wage settlement.

"It is quite evident that the other men are waiting to find out what is happening in the towns in the areas."

Feels Bulwarks of Peace Strengthened By Nuernberg Trial

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16 (AP) — Justice Robert H. Jackson said last night that "the Nuernberg trial may constitute the most important moral advance to grow out of this war."

In a report as U.S. Chief Prosecutor, Jackson told President Truman the trial andthe decision condemning 11 high Nazis to death "do more than anything in our time to give to international law what Woodrow Wilson described as 'the kind of vitality it can only have if it is a real expression of our moral judgment.'"

Saying "we cannot doubt that they strengthen the bulwarks of peace and tolerance," he added:

"The four nations through their prosecutors and through their representatives on the Tribunal, have enunciated standards of conduct which bring a new hope to men of good will and from which future statesmen will not lightly depart. The standards by which the Germans have been condemned will become the condemnation of any nation that is faithless to them."

Accept Sloan's Settlement Plan

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 16 (CP) —British Columbia copper mine operators have accepted Chief Justice Sloan's strike settlement plan, subject to certain conditions, it was announced here today.

The objections cover four points referring to wages and working conditions and one refers to the check-off clause. Details, however, were not made public.

Chief Justice Sloan has also proposed compromise settlement terms for the gold-producing section of the 107-day-old hardrock mines strike.

The gold recommendations are understood to provide for higher wage rates, but lower than those proposed in the copper recommendations.

Molotov Believes U. S. Has no Right to do Business, Romania

By ROBERT EUNSON

PARIS, Oct. 16 (AP)—The United States has no right to do business in Romania because all Americans became rich during the war and motion pictures made in Hollywood are cheap.

Unreasonable as this may sound, this was the basis of a last-minute argument by Foreign Minister Molotov of Russia before the Paris Peace Conference adopted the treaty with Romania—paramount issues of which were Romanian oil production and freedom of navigation on the Danube.

To support his statement, Mr. Molotov produced a copy of the World Almanac to prove that Americans were interested in Romania for the sole purpose of making money. Figures from the Almanac, he said, showed that the national income in the United States had increased from $96,000,000,000 in 1941 to $160,000,000,000 in 1944.

And then he threw in for good measure a statement that American motion pictures were "cheesy", but "there are so many of them" that the people of the world have to look at them whether they are any good or not.

These instances are reported because they are typical of the tangents taken by debate occasionally at the Luxembourg Palace. State Secretary Byrnes held his fire and did not reply to Mr. Molotov's argument, because he had already explained that his delegation's contention was that American business firms had every bit as much right to do business in Romania as Russian firms, such as the Sov Rom Oil Company, which is now exploiting the famous Ploesti oil field.

The debate over Romanian oil centred on the most favored nation clause of the treaty; Article 30, which was adopted after Russia lost an effort to push through Slav bloc amendments that would have favored "neighboring states" and "state agencies".

According to the article that was adopted, the Romanian Government shall grant "unconditional most favored nation treatment" to the United Nations "in all that concerns duties and charges or importation and exportation . . . of imported goods."

Elizabeth Sails on First Post-War Voyage As Civilian Luxury Liner

By R. J. ANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

SOUTHAMPTON, Oct. 16 (CP-Cable)—The stately Queen Elizabeth—a wartime sea travel as a troopship—sailed from here today on her first post-war voyage as a civilian luxury liner, the job for which she was built.

The Elizabeth—at 83,673-tons, the world's largest ship—is the first big liner since the end of the war to throw her speed and luxury accommodation into the struggle with the overseas airlines to capture the Transatlantic passenger trade. With her sister ship, the Queen Mary, she will inaugurate next year a weekly service between Southampton and New York.

Aboard the Elizabeth, transformed from a trooper into a floating palace for this much-publicized maiden voyage, was the full complement of 2314 passengers. Among them were diplomats, leaders of industry and finance, government representatives and plain travelers. Also aboard was a party of Canadian and American newspapermen.

Among the passengers was Foreign Minister Molotov of Russia, who travelled by plane from the peace conference to Eastleigh near Southampton, Mr. Molotov told a press conference aboard the ship that he hopes the work begun at the Paris Conference will be completed when the Big Four meets in New York.

Most prominent Canadian aboard was Dana Wilgress, Ambassador to the Soviet Union and a member of the Dominion Delegation at the Air Secretary Philip Noel-Baker headed the list of British political figures along with Sir Alan P. Herbert, member of Parliament and famous humorist.

Among members of Britain's nobility aboard were: Sir Hugo Cunliffe-Owen, scion of one of Britain's wealthiest families; Viscount Rothermere, publishing magnate; Lady Iris Mountbatten, the Countess of Ayles Ford, the Earl and Countess of Birkenhead and the Earl and Countess of Carrick, the Countess of Craven and Viscount Camrose.

Teh military was represented by Air Chief Marshal Sir Guy Garrod, R. A. F.

Senator Tom Connally (Dem.-Tex.), a member of the United States delegation to the Paris Conference also was aboard.

The Cunard White Star Liner sailed at 2 p. m., (8 a. m., C.S.T.) Contrary to previous expectations that she might attempt to break the Southampton-New York speed record of three days, 20 hours and 42 minutes set by the Mary in 1936, she was not expected to dock at New York until Monday.

Cunard officials said the ship's captain, Commodore Sir James Bisset, likely would wait until Spring before attempting to wrest the mythical Blue Riband of the Atlantic from the Queen Mary.

Mazerall Appeal Dismissed

TORONTO, Oct. 16 (CP)— The Ontario Court of Appeal in a judgment handed down today dismissed the appeal of Edward Wilfred Mazerall against his conviction on a charge of conspiring to communicate information to the Soviet Union.

Mazerall, 30-year-old native of Fredericton, N. B., was sentenced by Chief Justice J. C. McCruer of the Ontario Supreme Court to four years in penitentiary, following his conviction last June 1 at Ottawa by an Assize Court Jury.

The appeal made by G. A. Martin of Toronto and Roydon Hughes of Ottawa on behalf of the accused, criticized a ruling of Mr. Justice McCruer admitting in evidence a deposition by Mazerall to Royal Canadian Mounted Police. The appellant argued that an R. C. M. P. inspector induced him to make the statement, used later by the Royal Commission on espionage as a basis for their interrogation.

Says 8000 Women Trained or Undergoing Training for 100 Different Occupations

OTTAWA, Oct. 16 (CP) — Commending Canada's 48,000 women veterans for their "remarkably fine" rehabilitation progress, Veterans Minister Mackenzie today said more than 8000 women are trained or undergoing training for more than 100 difefrent occupations.

More than 45,000 of the 48,000 women who enlisted in the armed forces were discharged by last Aug. 31. Of these, 18 per cent are training under various veterans' training programs and it is expected the figure may exceed 20 per cent within the next year, the Minister stated.

Approximately 6000 ex-service women have taken vocational training with assistance from the department and more than 2000 have taken or are taking university training or other professional or semi-professional training in various non-university schools or colleges.

Of the women veterans taking university and other educational training, 713 are in arts and science courses, 204 in undergraduate training as nurses, 75 in public health nursing, 54 in household science and home economics, 33 in occupational therapy, and 39 in normal schools. Others are training in medicine, engineering, law, and other professional and semi-professional fields.

Training calssed as "vocational" ranges from such occupations as radio mechanic, egg grader and linotype operator to dressmaker, practical nurse and homemaker.

A little more than 30 per cent of service women were married at the time of discharge and this percentage approximates that of women veterans who have used their re-establishment credits, which are an alternative to training or Veterans Land Act assistance, to help establish or furnish a home.

CASH MONEY
- and some of it may come your way!

Yesterday Farmer Nielsen got over $800 cash when he sold his grain. Through the processes of trade and commerce, some of that money may come to you. Banking service enabled him to obtain his money quickly.

The farmer doesn't have to wait for his money until his grain reaches the consumer . . . this is important to you, no matter where you live or what your work.

Farmer Nielsen, and thousands like him, spend money for household and farm equipment, food, clothes, radios, paint and a hundred other things. This helps keep people busy all over the Dominion.

Your bank advances credit also to help farmers plant, cultivate and harvest crops of all kinds, to buy and raise livestock. Banking service is something like the good oil in fine machinery, you never notice it. But it is a prime factor in your prosperity . . . in the Canadian way of life.

Market Trends

NEW YORK, — The stock market moved up smartly at the opening, then stalled, and slowly settled back into a narrowly irregular range.

TORONTO — The stock market harbored a few features showing chiefly scattered strength in golds. Both mining groups and industrials were higher at midday. Western oils remained steady and quiet. Volume was even with the recent average at about 900,000 shares.

MONTREAL—Papers, which have had steady rises in most cases since the increase in the price of newsprint was announced Friday, turned irregular in late deals on the stock exchange and curb market.

VANCOUVER — Mines continued to rise sharply in trading on the stock exchange, while oils slipped slightly and industrials were quiet. Sales in the forenoon session were 43,883 shares.

LONDON — Improvement of industrials was a feature of stock market trading, following Chancellor of the Exchequer's statement that the ban on capitalization of reserves would be lifted.

Report Good Response From B. C. Buyers in Sale of Saving Bonds

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 16—(CP) — Campaign officials here today reported a good response from British Columbia buyers in sale of Canada's peacetime Savings Bonds. The total for first-day sales is not available but a bank here reported a record with more bonds sold yesterday morning than during a similar time in any of the wartime Victory Loans.

Claims He Was Hit By Meteorite

KAMLOOPS, B. C., Oct. 16 (CP) —John Bauer of Brockelhurst says he was hit by a meteorite during the Giacobini-Zinner comet shower last week. He said a hot object hit his hat and buried itself in the ground at his feet. He recovered a burned rock the size of a pebble, and it now is enshrined in his home.

Canuck's Diary Aids Prosecution

OTTAWA (CP) — The diary of one of Canada's noted fighting men on the Second Great War is one of the key factors in the compilation of evidence against Japanese who tortured Canadian prisoners-of-war.

It is the diary of Wing Cmdr. Leonard J. Birchall, O.B.E., D.F.C., "Savior of Ceylon," who, with surprising thoroughness, took down the history of every prisoner he met. In fact his collection of data is valued by every country whose warriors became Japanese prisoners.

A native of St. Catharines, Ont., Birchall was shot down over the Indian Ocean and taken prisoner after sending back the warning that a Japanese fleet was approaching Ceylon. The warning led to a repulse of the attempt. Birchall now is back in Canada.

His contribution was made known by the R.C.A.F. in its report of Canada's efforts to track down the tortures of her men.

In Ottawa, the Canadian War Investigation Section at National Defence Headquarters, under Lt. Col. M. J. Griffin of Vancouver, sorts out the evidence, and adds the written testimony of former prisoners now in Canada. Liaison with the Air Force is maintained through an officer who insures that atrocities against R.C.A.F. personnel receive appropriate attention.

SAVED HALF OF DIARY

The Birchall diary consisted of several flimsy-papered books, only half of which he was able to get out of Japan. During the war he kept the books hidden in a false-backed box and smuggled part of it from place to place in a pillow. Half the diary was lost in a bombardment by an American fleet.

Birchall suffered all the usual hardships including sentence to a "discipline" camp where life was made particularly miserable in an effort to crush the spirits of officers whom the Japanese found particularly unmanageable.

One of his camps was that at which the United States fliers who first bombed Tokyo were imprisoned. Birchall saw at least one of them tortured and heard of the deaths of others. He was camped outside Tokyo during the burning and bombing of that city.

Progress reports list names of men and places that will ring a familiar, if painful, note to many repatriated Canadians from the Far Eastern war theatre.

One reads: "Captain Einichi Sonia, formerly of Cycle Camp in Batavia, Java, is in custody facing charges for mistreatment of prisoners of war and civilians," and, "Captain Kantara Tanaka of Maksura Camp in Batavia, Java, is awaiting trial on charges of brutality and neglect."

Other names and places include Sgt. Major Masoi Mori of camps in Bandoeng, Java, and on Ambon Island in the Moluccas; Lieut. Col. Bano of Medan Camp, Sumatra, who is awaiting trial on charges relating to the "Notorious camp on the Burma railway."

Bantin also told of Japanese surgeons who cut out chunks of infected flesh from prisoners' arms and legs without administering anaesthetics.

Flt. Lt. William Lockwood of Renfrew, Ont., Sgt. Clarence Aitken of Vancouver, F.O. Donald Hanna of Montreal and Flt. Lt. Lawrence Montgomery of Lachine, Que., described intolerable living conditions with food of such poor quality and meagre rations that to keep alive was a real achievement."

AFFIDAVITS SUFFICIENT

In a few cases transportation is arranged for a serviceman or civilian to the East where the trials or investigations are being held. But more often affidavits or "depositions" are sufficient. A check on all sources of evidence requires affidavits be obtained from all parts of the world.

Descriptions of beatings by Japanese guards are numerous in the depositions, Flt. Lt. L. Voynich of Montreal described the nervous tension under which prisoners at his camp lived daily due to the cruelty of a camp guard named Captain Sone. Sone, according to Voynich, stoned and struck without provocation any prisoner he met while walking through the camp.

Voynich also described an instance when a ring of guards was formed around a prisoner charged with theft. The victim was beaten until unconscious. Then cold water was thrown on him and he was beaten again until he died.

Long trenches, "presumably air raid shelters," were built at the prison camp of Flt. Lt. W. F. Bantin, still in the R.C.A.F. in Canada. "They had long trap doors at the ends made of logs which could be secured from the outside," his affidavit reads.

"These (trenches) were never used in a raid but the whole camp was warned that when a certain signal was given every man in camp was to proceed on the double into the pits with one blanket. We found out after the Jap capitulation that these were our graves. At the first sign of invasion of Japan, we were to be assembled in the shelters and gassed through a small vent at the top. The suddenness of the atomic bombings instead of invasion landings altered their plans."

Protest Proposed Increase in Freight Rates

WINNIPEG, Oct. 16 (CP)—The People's Co-operative today sent a telegram to Transport Minister Chevrier protesting the proposed increase in freight rates asked for by Canadian Railways.

The Co-operative a Manitoba organization representing 2000 customers and farmer, described the proposed rate raises as reducing the income of farmers and lowering the purchasing power of consumers "in a most discriminatory fashion."

Asks Backing for Annable-Warfield School; Move for New Bridge Afoot

TRAIL, B. C., Oct. 16—Lloyd Crowe, Chairman of the Trail-Tadanac School Board, was the guest speaker tonight before the Trail Gyro Club. Mr. Crowe made a strong plea for help to put over to the electorate the necessity of a new school for Annable-Warfield.

He outlined the problems facing the School Board and stated that they have had to juggle pupils from one school to another in an attempt to alleviate some of the congestion. Plans for the 12 roomed school were now on hand and construction would begin not later than next summer if vote was favorable.

Regarding the new high school, the speaker believed that the recent purchase of land in East Trail at a reported price of $8850 was the start required to impress upon the Provincial Government the necessity of another bridge across the Columbia river here.

However construction of the proposed high school, expected to cost in the neighborhood of quarter of a million dollars was not contemplated for some time.

Britain Residents Step Into Fairyland

SOUTHAMPTON, Oct. 16 (CP-Cable)—Residents of tightly-rationed Britain stepped into Fairyland when they boarded the luxury liner Queen Elizabeth which sailed for New York today in her first trip in peacetime passenger service.

Britons aboard the giant ship dined on food unseen in the United Kingdom since before the war, drank rare wines and danced in luxurious surroundings. It was a long way from the austerity conditions prevailing in Britain since 1939.

Much of the liner's food came from Canada. There was fish from British Columbia and Nova Scotia, meat from Alberta cattle ranches, eggs from Ontario and Quebec and flour from the Prairies.

The luxurious service is aimed frankly at attracting American dollars which Britain needs badly. It is emphasized that this does not affect adversely living conditions in Britain.
