China Peace Hangs on Communists' Reply to Peace Bid

BY SPENCER MOOSA

CHUNGKING, Nov. 5 (Monday) (AP)—An official dispatch today indicated that the position of the Government-held Inner Mongolian city of Kweisui, capital of Suiyan Province, is becoming critical.

The dispatch was received as Chungking expectantly awaited a Communist reply to Government proposals for cessation of hostilities. The reply is expected early this week.

The Government report said the Communists were closing in on Kweisui, and that one column of 3,000 was attacking the Northeast suburbs. The city's garrison, on the basis of previous reports, is heavily outnumbered.

ANY PLANE ATTACK STORY

A military spokesman denied a Communist assertion that a plane bearing markings of the Chinese Air Force attacked a village on the Tientsin-Pukow railroad South of Tsinan, capital of Shantung Province. The Communist report said four were killed and eight wounded.

Hope of ending the spreading civil war hung on the Communists' reply to a new four-point peace proposal by the Government.

Everything depended on an answer from Communist Headquarters in Yenan, Shansi Province, which if favorable might end the fighting widespread in 11 provinces and give peaceful negotiation another chance to unify troubled China.

There was moderate optimism here. Pessimists took the view that both sides still were stalling for time and that nothing would come of the present exchanges between Chungking and Yenan.

It was pointed out that the Communist spokesman here already had picked holes in the offer, styled by Central Government quarters as a sincere attempt to avert all-out civil war.

The Government's offer, issued here Saturday proposed:

1. That both sides cease attacks.

2. That the Communists withdraw 10 kilometers (6.2 miles) from the railroads, leaving railway police (instead of troops) to guard the lines.

3. That the Government thereafter consult the Communists before moving any troops over the railways.

4. That the People's Political Council appoint a commission to investigate conditions along the railways and report any violation by either side.

800 FREED BRITONS ARRIVE AT TACOMA

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 4 (AP)—Two trains brought 800 British servicemen, recently released from Japanese prisoner-of-war camps, here today for a four-day stay at Fort Lewis prior to the continuation of their journey back home to England.

They came from Fort McDowell, Calif., where they spent several days after arriving from overseas at San Francisco. After four days here they will go to Vancouver, B. C., to board trains to Eastern Canada. Two more trainloads are due from California tomorrow.

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana—(CP) — On a rock face in the Mazaruni district of British Guiana, bordering Venezuela, are paintings in pigment, mostly of animals and hands. This discovery has aroused considerable interest in archaeological circles.

CAIRO QUIET

By The Canadian Press

Quiet was reported in Cairo Sunday after police broke up a small demonstration in the main business section, scene of widespread anti-Zionists disorders Friday and Saturday. A BBC broadcast recorded in New York by NBC said more than 1000 persons had been arrested in Cairo during the last 48 hours.

INJURIES IN TRAIN COLLISION

JASPER, Alta., Nov. 4 (CP) — A Canadian National Railways locomotive engineer was seriously injured and two firemen and a number of passengers shaken up when the Prince Rupert, B. C. to Jasper CNR local collided with a work train in a tunnel six miles West of here, Saturday.

Names of the injured and extent of their injuries were not known and only scant details of the crash were available.

ONLY 3 JAP DIVISIONS WERE LEFT TO FACE FEARED HOMELAND INVASION

By RUSSELL BRINES

TOKYO, Nov. 4 (AP)—Japan's proudest army divisions were wiped out on the edges of the empire and only three first-class ones were available in the late hours of the war to defend the homeland from invasion, United States Army records showed today.

The arrogant divisions that led the triumphant Japanese march throughout Asia were chewed up or by-passed and at the end even the great Kwantung army of Manchuria was stripped for Japan's own defence against invasion.

The decline and fall of the army that once was the terror of all Asia were charted by a card catalogue kept by Lt.-Col. George Magruder while the war was on and confirmed by investigations after occupation.

"In Manchuria when the Russians hit," said the colonel who is one of Gen. MacArthur's intelligence officers, "the last of the Kwantung army's best outfits—the 25th and 1st armored divisions—had been forced to the homeland against the expected assault."

INFAMOUS 16TH SMASHED

The home army of 2,500,000 men had the veteran 57th division but "the remainder of the home divisions were just thrown together," Col. Magruder said.

The notorious 16th division of Bataan death-march infamy was smashed on Leyte in the American comeback offensive in the Philippines.

The tide of war swept past three other divisions that were in on the final assault of Bataan and Corregidor and they were rounded up after the surrender—the 4th in Thailand, the 21st in Indo-China and the 48th on Timor.

B.C. Raises Sights to $100 Million Target

VANCOUVER, Nov. 4 (CP) — British Columbia-Yukon Saturday set her sights on a new $100,000,000 objective as the third and final week of the Ninth Victory Loan got under way.

The new target was announced by J. L. Trumbull, chairman of the B.C.-Yukon division of National War Finance Committee, after the province had soared to within a little more than $1,000,000 of the original $70,500,000 quota on official returns to Saturday noon. Actually accounted for is $69,341,000 for 98 per cent of the minimum quota.

Sales on Saturday were $1,500,000 ahead of the corresponding day in the eighth loan. Public and armed forces invested $4,927,650 for the day.

INDIVIDUALS INVESTMENTS HIGHER

In announcing the new $100,000,000 target for British Columbia-Yukon, Mr. Trumbull expressed optimism that this great sum will be raised "if the public keeps up its lively buying pace."

He pointed out that individual applications have been running for considerably larger amounts than in previous loans, because of the fact that this will be the only victory loan for a year.

(Individual applications to the current loan to date total 171,514, compared with 199,633 over the corresponding span of the eighth loan last Spring).

FORCES SHOW WAY

Armed forces are far out in front among the divisions. The service personnel have socked $5,199,550 into bonds so far for 346 per cent of their, $1,500,000 objective.

Coast is the leading civilian division with total investments at $2,369,050 for 107 per cent. Following Coast are; suburban, 105 per cent; Vancouver, which reached her quota Saturday, at 103 per cent.

Seven more units reached their goals Saturday and 17 in all have topped their quotas. Newcomers to the "100 per cent" ranks include four Vancouver units—West End, Downtown, Kerrisdale-Dunbar and Shaughnessy—also Bridge River-Howe Sound, West Vancouver and Whitehorse in the Yukon.

Alberni District-West Coast is still the top unit in the whole province with a smart 130 per cent of quota. Next is North Vancouver's suburban division at 125 per cent and third, Vancouver South, at 121 per cent.

Golden, sub-unit of Revelstoke-Golden-Field, has shot up to 125 per cent of her $50,000 quota.

Pacific Mills employees, 1200 strong, at Ocean Falls, have exceeded their $260,000 objective and are $120,000 ahead of their total eighth loan investments.

Sorg Pulp Company employees at Port Mellon have finished their canvass and are $6000 over their $79,000 quota.

Carriers, Planes Seek 12 Missing After Transport Forced Down

HONOLULU, Nov. 4 (AP)—Aircraft carriers joined today in a search for 12 persons missing after an army transport plane made a forced landing in the Pacific East of Hawaii, killing at least seven of the 27 aboard.

In the same general area, big Pan-American Airways Honolulu Clipper en route to San Francisco came down today with engine trouble but the 15 passengers and crew of 10 were taken aboard a babby flattop and the plane was being towed back to Honolulu, Pan American announced.

PLANES JOIN SEARCH

The Army Transport Command reported eight persons had been picked up from the calm seas by surface craft at the site of the transport plane landing yesterday 450 miles East of Hawaii. One of two women passengers aboard was among those rescued.

The escort carrier Casablanca was en route to Pearl Harbor with the eight survivors and seven bodies. Planes were aiding surface vessels in the search for the missing. The eight had taken refuge on a life raft, one of three spotted earlier by search planes, and hope persisted that the missing 12 still might be found safe on the other two rafts.

The Honolulu Clipper made its emergency landing 630 miles Northeast of Honolulu when two engines developed trouble.

L. C. Reynolds, manager of the Pacific-Alaska division of Pan American, said at San Francisco that none of the 32 persons aboard was injured.

SEEK BOMBER

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 4 (AP)—A widespread air search was being made over Southwestern Oregon today for two Liberator bombers, with eight crewmen aboard, missing since Thursday on a flight from Tacoma, Wash., to Portland.

The planes carried a 10-hour supply of gasoline for their one-hour hop.

The air base public relations office here said all the men aboard planes were Americans.

The planes were in a group of four which took off from McChord Field. The other two planes landed, one on a navy flight strip at Arcata, Calif., and the other on an army air field at Redmond, Ore.

U.B.C. Arranges for Survey of Medical Schools

VANCOUVER, B.C., Nov. 4—The Board of Governors and the Senate of the University of British Columbia have approved the recommendation that a survey be made of Medical Schools in Canada and the United States in preparation for the establishment of a Faculty of Medicine at U.B.C., it is announced by the President's office. The Medical Association has expressed a desire to cooperate with the University in making this survey. The University would be delighted to have the benefit of their help and advice," President MacKenzie said.

Dr. C. E. Dolman Head of the Department of Nursing and Public Health at the University, has been asked to conduct the survey.

"Dr. Dolman will leave as soon as he can get leave of absence from the Connaught Laboratories and the Provincial Board of Health, probably some time in January," Dr. MacKenzie said.

300 PRE-MEDS NOW

At present there are some 300 Pre-Medical students attending U.B.C. Because of increased enrollment in medical schools in other parts of Canada, the entrance quota allowed to British Columbia is very small. A great many students, and students of high standing, will be forced to delay or cancel their courses if a School of Medicine is not established at U.B.C. in the near future.

"We are faced with three major problems," Dr. MacKenzie stated. "First, we must provide proper facilities — buildings, laboratories, equipment and lecture rooms. Unlike Law, a Faculty of Medicine can not be satisfactorily accommodated in huts or other such quarters.

"Secondly, we must secure sufficient appropriations from the Government to operate the school.

"Thirdly, we must obtain a staff of qualified teachers and instructors. We do not expect to have any difficulty in finding qualified men for the staff of a Medical School at U.B.C. if we can get the facilities and funds.

"Our most difficult problems are the first two—we must have proper facilities and sufficient funds."

Dr. Mackenzie hopes that a Medical School at U.B.C. will become an actuality in 1946 or 1947.

ALGONQUIN AT ESQUIMALT

ESQUIMALT, B.C., Nov. 4 (CP)—H.M.C.S. Algonquin, one of two modern destroyers given to Canada by Britain, docked here Saturday. Commissioned in Feb. 1944, the Algonquin served mostly on the Norwegian coast, making four raids on the German battleship Tirpitz and sailing in Russian convoys. She was in the bombardment during the invasion of Europe and then returned to the Norwegian coast to strike at enemy shipping, destroying most of a convoy of 11 transport and escort ships off Lister fjord.

After a refit in Canada the Algonquin served in the Mediterranean and came here by way of Malta, Gibraltar, The Azores, Trinidad and the Panama Canal.

EAST INDIES TROUBLE EASES

By RALPH MORTON

BATAVIA, Nov. 4 (AP) A British announcement that the army would hold no more press conferences to give information on the military situation in the rebellious Netherlands East Indies drew a protest today from foreign correspondents.

The ruling, which correspondents said would handicap them in attempts to present an accurate picture of events, also banned interviews with Allied officers unless the officer first obtained permission from the Southeast Asia Command.

British military officials said they planned to issue "handouts" twice daily in lieu of the press conferences. The Public Relations Office agreed to attempt to obtain answers to any questions submitted in writing.

TENSION EASES

The first statement today said no new incidents were reported in Java, but that some new instances of looting had occurred in Batavia. It said tension had "relaxed considerably" in Soerabaja.

The statement tended to minimize Saturday's reports by Allied pilots of 100,000 Indonesian troops on the move in Central Java, a prime trouble spot in the fighting between British Indian troops and Indonesians seeking independence from Dutch colonial rule.

President Soekarno of the unrecognized "Indonesian Republic" returned to Batavia after aiding in effecting a truce at Mageland.

Lt.-Gen. Stuart, Former General Staff Chief, Dies

OTTAWA, Nov. 4 (CP)—Lt.-Gen. Kenneth Stuart, 54, fomer Chief of the Canadian General Staff, died Saturday night following ill health since August and a serious illness in the last few weeks.

He left the Army just a year ago after the Canadian Cabinet crisis over the reinforcement issue. Since then he has been living in retirement, spending many months at Ganonoque, Ont. and at his home here.

Gen. Stuart in recent months had gone into hospital several times for treatment for anemia. He entered the civic hosptial here several weeks ago and the cause of his death was given as coronary thrombosis.

SON COMING HOME

His son, Sqdn. Ldr. C. H. Stuart is en route home from India and in the expectation of his arrival here Tuesday plans are being made for a funeral, with full military honors, on that day.

It was announced Nov. 8, 1944, that Gen. Stuart had gone on leave pending retirement. The announcement followed the reinforcement crisis which saw Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton succeed Col. J. L. Ralston as Defence Minister. Gen. McNaughton has since been succeeded by Hon. Douglas Abbott.

Gen. Stuart, then Chief of Staff at Canadian Military Headquarters in London, had accompanied Col. Ralston back to Canada after the Minister's overseas investigation of the reinforcement situation. It was understood Gen. Stuart's trip was for the purpose of supporting Col. Ralston's views on conscription.

Gen. Stuart had accompanied Col. Ralston to Britain in December, 1943 and remained there as C.M.H.Q. Chief and Acting Army Commander when Gen. McNaughton went on leave of absence. Gen. Crerar eventually relieved Gen. Stuart as 1st Army Commander.

Gen. Stuart was succeeded as C.M.H.Q. Chief by Lt.-Gen. P. J. Montague, his former administration chief in London. Gen. Montague has since been retired.

REPORT OUTBREAK ON GREECE-ALBANIA BORDER

LONDON, Nov. 4 (CP)—Swiss and Belgium radio broadcasts tonight reported fighting along the Greek-Albanian frontier, but official Greek government sources in Athens said they were unable to confirm the reports. The area has been a trouble spot since Northern Epirus was annexed to Albania in 1914.

Storm Isolates Prince Rupert

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C., Nov. 5 (CP)—One of the worst rain and wind storms in several years has isolated this Northern British Columbia coast port and left a series of slides over railway tracks and hundreds of downed telephone and telegraph poles. There have been no reports of death or injury.

Blowing up Friday night, the wind is reported to have reached a velocity of between 50 and 60 miles an hour around midnight, easing to 25 miles shortly before daylight.

(At Vancouver, telegraph company officials said there was little prospect of making contact with the Prince Rupert office at least before morning. Only brief word on the storm was sent out Saturday. Linemen were hampered in their efforts to restore lines by the slides.)

Train schedules have all been disrupted and it is doubtful if trains will reach here for at least two days. Sixteen miles East of the city a 200-foot slide of trees, rocks and other debris is piled over the Canadian National Railways tracks. Washouts are general for a distance of more than 80 miles.

All telephone lines are out of order, with lines down both in the city and several miles beyond.

MACKENZIE KING SAILS FOR CONFERENCE

SOUTHAMPTON, Nov. 4 (CP)—Prime Minister MacKenzie King sailed today aboard the liner Queen Mary for New York en route to Washington and the forthcoming atomic energy talks with President Truman and Prime Minister Attlee.

Pickets Await Police Effort to Enter Plants

WINDSOR, Ont., Nov. 4 (CP) — Some 8500 members of Local 195 of the United Automobile Workers of America (C.I.O.) employed at 27 district automotive plants voted at unit meetings today and tonight to strike immediately in support of 10,000 striking production workers, members of Local 200 of the U.A.W., at the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Ltd., here. This brings to approximately 18,500 the number of automotive workers on strike.

Union heads said the new strike was effective as from tonight and that the men would not be returning to work tomorrow.

Local 195 officials said strike action was taken without first obtaining permission of the international executive board of the U.A.W. in Detroit which previously had turned down requests by the Local that its members be allowed to strike.

There were several other developments in this tense, strife-torn industrial city of 138,000.

Outside the gates of the sprawling Ford plant along the Detroit River front, pickets awaited any attempt by a police force, augmented by 250 members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and the Ontario Provincial Police, to force entry.

Last of the outside police force, sent here on order of Leslie Blackwell, Ontario Attorney-General, after an attempt by Windsor Police to lead Ford security police through the main gates of the building, was repulsed last Friday, arrived in the city tonight.

The U.A.W., which called the Ford strike Sept. 12, said the Ford picket lines rose to more than 1,000 despite a bone-chilling wind today, and predicted that "thousands", including hundreds of Local 195 strikers, woul make up picket lines tomorrow. The men who have been on strike since September are members of Local 200 of the U.A.W.

Despite reference to military forces in a Labor Council telegram to Attorney-General Blackwell and in a City Council resolution, there has been no official suggestion here that troops will be brought in to assist police.

At least one Windsor soldier on leave was called back to his training base at Chatham, Ont., 45 miles East of here, during the weekend and speculation immediately arose in some quarters that troops were being held in readiness for possible strike intervention.

Neither strikers nor other sources anticipated any show of force before Monday by police seeking to force entry into the plant.

TORONTO, Nov. 4 (CP)—Attorney-General Blackwell of Ontario tonight made public a telegram to Mayor Arthur Reaume of Windsor saying he can not instruct Provincial or other police at Windsor to refrain from taking "proper police action" to maintain law and order.

"Police action if taken will not be taken in relation to the issues between employer and employee in the strike at the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Ltd., nor will action be taken to prevent lawful and peaceful picketing," said the telegram. ". . .Police action is concerned with the fact that the policy committee of Local 200, United Automobile Workers (C.I.O.) by their decree have set aside the laws of Canada . . . and have substituted therefor a decree that by forcible, illegal picketing the fire protection and maintenance personnel may not enter and leave at will the premises of the Ford Motor Company."

3-Way Parley First Move to Control Atom Bomb Threat

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 (CP) — The first of a series of moves aimed at eventually controlling or removing the atomic bomb menace will be undertaken here next weekend. It probably will result in a joint Anglo-American-Canadian plan which will then be taken up with Russia and other countries.

Prime Ministers Attlee of Great Britain and Mackenzie King of Canada are due at the White House by next Sunday. They are coming at President Truman's invitation to decide:

1. What possible controls there are to prevent a future atomic war and make certain that the bomb will not fall into the hands of some ruthless international gangster.

2. What steps to take toward putting controls into workable form.

Indications here are that Mr. Attlee will argue initially for handling the problem through the United Nations Security Council. This may be acceptable to Mr. Truman and Mr. King. The President's only policy announcement has been that he hoped eventually the world would reach such a state that the atomic bomb could be outlawed.

It is known, however, that some of the President's scientific advisers as well as some of his diplomatic counsellors believe the best procedure at present is not to rely on any treaty or agreement but to seek an international inspection system in making available to the world full scientific—though not detailed industrial—information on the bomb and on atomic energy.

RUSSIAN TALK SEEN

Whatever the three decide, it seems certain that they will then take steps to discuss the matter with Russia. Moscow editorial and radio opinion has been calling for international handling of the bomb project. Beyond that the matter would be taken up with other countries and possibly finally with the United Nations organization.

Diplomats regard the problem so far as Russia is concerned as essentially related to the whole field of American-Russian problems.

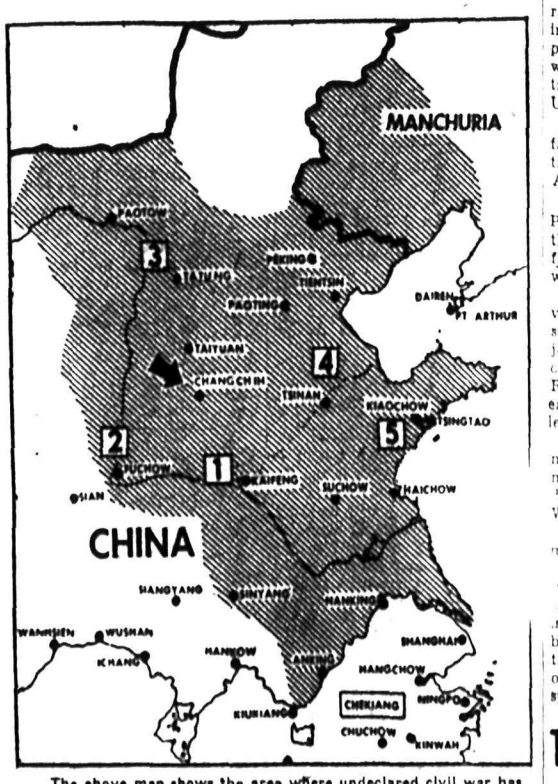
How far President Truman and Premier Stalin may be able to settle these general issues through friendly negotiation probably also will be indicated this week.

On Tuesday the Far Eastern Advisory Commission will hold its second session after a week's adjournment. The United States and other members are anxious to have Russia represented, to allow an early start on Japanese control problems.

Russia, on the other hand, has demanded an outright control commission. A compromise has been discussed between Moscow and Washington for two weeks.

On Wednesday Premier Stalin may give some further indication of its general policies and ideas on international cooperation and relations with the Western Allies. That is the day of the anniversary celebration of the Communist revolution in Russia and normally the occasion for much parading and speechmaking.

WHERE CIVIL WAR ROCKS CHINA



The above map shows the area where undeclared civil war has flared in China, involving almost a million central government and Chinese Communist troops who are fighting it out for control of some 11 provinces. Shaded section indicates principal area where fighting is reported. Specific zones of conflict are numbered: (1) The Kaifeng section, around which Honan province trouble revolves; (2) Fuchow, where the prize is the railroad; (3) Paotow, Shansi trouble zone; (4) Tsinan, another important rail centre; (5) Kaichow, towards which the fighting appears to be spreading. Arrow indicates Changchih, Shansi province, reported taken by Communist forces.

Rev. F. R. G. Dredge, Formerly of Nelson, Speaks at St. Paul's on United Church's 55th Anniversary

Rev. F. R. G. Dredge, M.A., a former minister of St. Paul's United Church, was guest preacher at services there Sunday. In the morning, the choir consisted of those who were members when Mr. Dredge was in Nelson, 15 years ago. He was here for seven years.

His subject at the morning services, was "The Call of The Church," in which he spoke of the appalling conditions in the world today and his belief that the church could meet the needs and solve the problems.

In order that the church could meet these conditions it was necessary that the individuals in the churches should rededicate themselves to Christ.

Commemorating the United Church's 55th anniversary, the congregations of St. Paul's and Trinity, united in the evening services at St. Paul's. Mr. Dredge chose as his subject in the evening, "A Sense of What Is Vital."

He read Dr. Moffat's translation of St. Paul's Epistle to the Corinthians from which he quoted, "enabling you to have a sense of what is vital."

This sense he said was all the difference between success and failure. It was essential in the business world and true in religion too. One of the criticisms of the Church was that there was too much time spent on incidentals.

CHANGED HISTORY

History, he said, revealed that Mohammedanism came into greater power because of this. In the Middle Ages there was too much thought of earthly success and this resulted in the Dark Ages.

"In the last century we have been given to over much discussion on denominationalism," he said.

Life itself, was the greatest necessity. People should ask themselves, what counted, and what was vital. He thought the first thing was a sense of God. A lot of people were ruling God out of their lives altogether. Some were thinking there was no need for God, and thinking there was only science. That was not meeting the whole situation of life.

"When life tumbles in, what has science to offer?" he asked, "A sense of God, is a sense of power and rest. It helps to meet with courage anything life may bring you. Philosophy, or materialism cannot give you anything, only God can, in such times."

He spoke of Jesus telling the Pharisees that justice, mercy and faithfulness were the greater things.

"Life craves for justice. It is one of the great crying needs of the world," he said, "We stand in need of fairness, and righteousness in dealings with our fellow men. The world is believing more and more that every race must have justice."

"Jesus was very fond of the thought of mercy," he said, "he thought the need of man was more important than all the forms of religious worship."

NEED FAITHFULNESS

Speaking of faithfulness, Mr. Dredge said people were taught that life is a stewardship. It was said of a steward that he must be faithful "and that is what God is asking of you and me."

Lastly, he said, was that which Paul put above all other things, the spirit of love. This was essentially above everything else, and Mr. Dredge told of Jesus' saying, "love one another."

"Jesus said, 'Seek first the Kingdom of God, and I will provide these other things'," Mr. Dredge quoted.

"Look into your life," he told the congregation, "and see if you have the satisfaction that will sustain you in sorrow. Only in God is there a sense of what is vital."

There was special music by the Choir, which sang, "Worship" by Geoffrey Shaw. The quartette sang "Evening and Morning," by Oakley, and Don Brown sang "The Blind Ploughman," by Clarke.

Rev. C. G. McL. Boothroyd assisted in the services and Rev. H. Stewart Forbes was also present.

TOAST and TEA
BY J. V. McARTHUR

Freedom is a matter of degrees. The prisoner in solitary confinement is less free than the one allowed exercise; an internment camp is paradise compared with prison, at least our own internment camps; Fascist Italy was a free country compared with Nazi Germany and an unfree one compared with France, but French democracy denied women the right to vote—or to keep a bank account without the husband's gracious permission. This, of course, seems a very barbarous thing to us and confirms our opinion that we are living in the freest country in the world. But, according to Arthur Koestler in The Yogo and the Commisar "I knew of a man who committed suicide because having been driven through the streets of Vienna with a sandwich board round his neck which said 'I am a filthy Semite, please spit on me,' and having reached the blessed shores of America, he was turned out out from a restricted hotel. He obviously didn't know that such a thing existed. He liked American films and the tough sergeant had never mentioned it when he quoted the Gettysburg Address in the Jungle of Batann."

Argos Run Up 19-Point Lead

By The Canadian Press

A Canadian who couldn't make good in United States professional football matched forward passes Saturday with an established product of the American game—and won an amazingly clear-cut decision as Toronto Argonauts throttled Ottawa Rough Riders 27-8 in the first game of a total-points, home-and-home series for the interprovincial Union title.

Before more than 19,000 fans who jammed Varsity Stadium for the peacetime renewal of an ancient gridiron rivalry, Argos unleashed the full fury of a diversified running and passing attack to count four converted touchdowns and three single points against one converted major score and safety touch for Riders.

The conquest earned Argos a 19-point lead for the second game of the series in Ottawa next Saturday and decisively established the dynamite-laden machine of Coach Teddy Morris as the team to beat for the Grey Cup late this month.

TROJANS, CATS TIE

Argos simply were irresistible after dominating play in a scoreless first quarter, they erupted for 13 points in the first six minutes of the second behind picture passing plays that were to become a familiar pattern of destruction as the game progressed.

That was the high mark of the Saturday clashes. In the Ontario Rugby Football Union Ottawa Trojans and Hamilton Wildcats, both out of the running, ended in a tie for second place with Ottawa's 6-2 victory but both were well below Balmy Beach and Toronto Indians who play off for the league title next weekend.

In the intercollegiate field, the rampaging Western Mustangs added another victory to their string in the abbreviate college season as they took Toronto Varsity 18-10. Queen's University kept McGill out of the winning column with an 8-4 victory

Speakers included Don E. Engrahl, Lieutenant-Governor from Spokane, Rev. A. L. Farris and A. G. Cameron, Vice-President of the Trail Club. R. R. Burns, Trail Kiwanis President, received the charter from the Governor.

Gifts to the new Trail service club were presented by representatives of other clubs in District Six. A gong and gavel, from the 10 other clubs in the District, were presented by Neal McClure. Don Cheney gave a Canadian flag from the Spokane Valley Club and Fred Selverson gave an American flag from the Spokane body. A secretary's kit was given by Bob Brainer of Kellogg and a secretary's pin and book by Everett Jenning of Chewelah. A Kiwanis banner came from Adolph Smith of Cheney.

Other service clubs and organizations in the city were represented at the dinner, and the dance which followed.

NANAIMO, B.C., Nov. 4 (CP) — A penalty kick awarded in the dying minutes of the game when Goalie Watson held the ball too long, paid off to give Royal Canadian Navy a 4-3 victory over Nanaimo in a Victoria and District Senior Soccer League game here today.

Describes Record of Foolishness

CAPE TOWN (CP)—A brochure on "the black record of South African nationalism during the war" just issued by the United (government) party lists cases of dissemination of Nazi propaganda, insults to soldiers and "leaders' opportunism."

The brochure is described by the United Party as a "record of foolishness, treachery and hysteria by political leaders obsessed with the idea of the omnipotence of the Nazi ideology." The publication says that the government's policy of ignoring "the rantings of political sharpshooters" was justified as treason trials would have served to increase the prestige of offenders in the eyes of their followers.

Instead of nationalist leaders "figuring in history as martyrs they will have to take their place as clowns," the brochure says.

Housing difficulties are receiving increased attention in the Union's newspapers and authorities have warned owners of vacant houses that unless they rent the government will take them over. Returned soldiers in Johannesburg expressed indignation when a survey indicated that between 150 and 200 houses were unoccupied while their owners held them for sale at high prices.

GRAIN FROM CANADA

The first of a large number of shipments of wheat from Canada has just been discharged from a British freighter in Cape Town. Other grain cargoes are expected to arrive shortly from Angola and the Argentine will assist considerably in relieving the wheat shortage in the Union.

The butter situation is serious despite good falls of rain in all parts of the country. The ration has been reduced by one sixth but the country's weekly consumption is still 700,000 pounds and weekly production is only 425,000.

A national appeal to raise £5,000,000 ($22,500,000) to aid Britain has been launched by delegates to a conference held at Johannesburg. Premier Smuts was named patron-in-chief and the chairman, Robin Stratford, M.P., said that efforts will be made to make the fund the greatest ever raised in South Africa.

A square deal for natives was demanded by the Anglican bishops of the Union at the annual diocesan synod in Johannesburg. The bishop of Johannesburg criticized a judicial system which differentiated so strongly between two sections of the population. The bishop of Pretoria called for a new attitude by the Labor Party and trade unions towards native laborers.

The National Union of Students is preparing a scheme to share in rebuilding Europe's crippled universities by aiding colleges in Holland and other war-torn countries. South African universities will "adopt" overseas universities and collections of scientific equipment will be made next year. In the meantime food and clothing will be sent.

Estimates indicate uranium is present throughout the earth's crust in the ration of one part in 250,000.

To Appear in War Crimes Trial ....

Mueller, Official of Food Stores at Belsen Camp Found

LUENEBURG, Germany, Nov. 4 (AP)—Herman Mueller, S.S. official in charge of food stores at the Belsen concentration camp, has been found after a two-month search and will appear in the Belsen war crimes trial next week as one of six final defence witnesses, defending counsel reported today.

Mueller is expected to tell of difficulties in getting food for overcrowded Belsen, to corroborate Commandant Josef Kramer's testimony that his efforts to supplement the camp's meagre food supplies failed. Kramer said bombing raids broke down transport systems.

The trial of Kramer and 44 others charged with atrocities at Belsen and Oswiecim camps ended its seventh week today.

Helena Kopper, 35-year-old Polish woman who became a camp spy for the S.S., was cross-examined today by Prosecutor T. M. Backhouse, and added to the accusations already made against several defendants.

She declared Irma Grese, an S.S. woman guard, sent women across wire barriers to be shot by guards at the rate of 30 a day at Oswiecim.

"Grese took pleasure in selecting me to carry the shot prisoners away," Mrs. Kopper testified.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 4 (AP)—Ben Hogan, steel nerved professional from Hershey, Pa., today won the Richmond open golf tournament with a 72-hole total of 289 and took first prize money of $2000 in war bonds in the $10,000 event.

Hogan added a 74-73 today to his previous 142.

It was the highest score to win a big time open event since Slamming Sammy Snead, of Hot Springs, Va., won the Portland open last November with the same score.

Dick Metz, of Silverdale, Kansas, with a 147-74-72—293, took second place and $1400.

Vic Ghezzi of Deal, N. J., and Johnny Bulla, of Atlantic, with 294, will divide third and fourth place money of $1800 between them. Jimmy Hines of New York, who was tied with Hogan at the halfway point, with 142, finished with a 77-76—295 today for fifth place, while Sam Snead took sixth place with a 145-79-72—296.

Hines won $700 and Snead $600.

The turf par of 71 over the Hermitage Country Club course withstood all assaults today with the exception of a 69 turned in by Henry Hansom, of Houston, Texas, in his morning round. Ransom blew up in the afternoon, however, to take a 78 for a 72-hole total of 299.

Authorities Ready to Combat Epidemic Menace

By JOHN KIMCHE

LONDON, Nov. 4 (Reuters) — British health and military authorities have completed preparations to combat what was described Saturday by a high government spokesman as "the danger of an epidemic resulting in a catastrophe such as the human race has not known."

Supplies of penicillin and sulfa drugs have been concentrated at strategic centres in Britain and, where possible, in Europe. Mobile medical units are standing by prepared to be rushed to any danger point of threatening epidemic. Drastic measures are contemplated to isolate such zones of infection and to take every possible preventive action within them.

This, it is felt in authoritative government quarters, is the one hope of avoiding epidemics this Winter, which would dwarf the death roll of the two waves of influenza in 1918-19 when 21,640,000 persons died in nine months. For if a similar epidemic broke out and were not isolated the capacity to resist would be considerably lower—in Europe at least—than what it was at the end of the First Great War.

Foreign Secretary Bevin estimates there are more than 20,000,000 men, women and children now on the move on the roads of Europe; virtually all of them are severely undernourished and continue to receive inadequate rations for protective purposes; nor have they much prospect of either shelter or warmth this Winter. Fifty per cent of those examined in the Berlin area had body lice, one of the chief carriers of typhus.

Another problem is the lack of protective foods available to the populations of those countries occupied or liberated by foreign armies. Pigs, cattle, chickens, eggs, butter and milk are usually the first items requisitioned for use of the armies.

VANCOUVER, Nov. 4 (CP) — Vancouver went over the top in its Victory Loan drive Saturday and claimed the honor of being the first major city in Canada to exceed its quota. Vancouver's total today was $83,027,450, or 103 per cent of quota.

Vancouver loan officials immediately set a new quota of $41,000,000.

Ladies In Glass, Bread From Sea Seen by Senators

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 — A Senate committee looked into the future and saw:

Ladies parading the avenue in spun glass or aluminum dresses, accompanied by gentlemen whose non-shrinkable, never-to-be-shiny serge pants have a permanent crease.

Homes with windows of insulated glass that will cut the heat bill 50 per cent.

Pastel colored glass kitchen sinks.

Neon lightning rods.

Bread made from sea water.

A life preserver quilt to take along on sea voyages.

A mechanical cow that turns out milk and cream from a mixture of water, dried skim milk and butter.

Soybeans shoe soles, slapped on at home and sealed with a hot flatiron.

No foolin', said a Senate military affairs subcommittee, all of these things are in the works. They are part of 839 new developments the committee listed in a 197-page printed volume about wartime technology.

Chairman Kilgore (Dem., W. Va.) hinted broadly in a statement about the report that peacetime life is going to be something of a dream, in which fountain pens will have a two-year supply of ink, women's stockings will have no runs and the farmer will send a machine out to do his plowing for him.

Conference Forging International Concept of Education

LONDON, Nov. 4 (CP)—An international concept of education now is being forged in London, where the United Nations educational organization, with delegates from 39 countries, met this week.

A draft constitution, adopted by Allied ministers of education last Summer, already has received the tentative endorsement of 20 governments.

In essence, the United Nations seek to develop better cultural understanding among the peoples of the world and to foster international cooperation in improving educational levels.

The task before the conference runs the whole gamut of educational and human relations. It can develop into an instrument for international peace based upon mutual understanding between countries. It can at least define the areas of disagreement to be worked over on a basis of mutual appreciation of each country's cultural and educational problems.

The destruction of constructive thinking in the conquered countries of the world and the imposition of a superstructure of totalitarian philosophy upon the educational foundations of such countries calls for their complete overhauling. This now is in process in most countries, but a general policy, whereby there can exist a free exchange of ideas and scholarship has yet to be worked out. This will be one of the chief tasks of the present conference.

The problem of developing democratic leaders in the former totalitarian states means that their youth must be retained. In some measure this can be done within the individual countries; in a larger measure, there must be established a free exchange of teachers and students between democratic and former Fascist states, with its consequent free exchange of ideas and philosophies.

The conference can do much to outlaw biased distortions of historical events that now appear in many textbooks. It can promote the free exchange of books, written to interpret events in an international rather than nationalistic vein.

Missouri Visit Worse Than Battle

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 4—The mighty battleship Missouri, whose decks have been crowded by hundreds of thousands of civilians since she came here October 22 to take part in Navy Day activities, has suffered considerable damage at the hands of souvenir hunters, officers reported Saturday.

As members of her crew ruefully surveyed results of the public inspection, Lt. Philip Stromback, damage control officer, opined: "I would prefer battle or fire damage control."

Lt. Stromback said the period from September 5 to October 22 was spent putting the ship in such a shape that "the public would be proud of her." He added: "She's not much to be proud of now."

Officers said the throngs of souvenir-hungry visitors came armed with pliers, wrenches and penknives. They swept the vessel clean of almost everything loose and a lot that wasn't.

BLAME SCHOOL KIDS

Most of the troubles came during an invasion Monday by some 60,000 school children, it was related. Officers said the youngsters:

Sounded a general alarm which sent sailors scurrying to their battle stations.

Attempted to hack out the main deck plate commemorating the Japanese surrender ceremony.

Tried to pull every lever in sight—one of which released a two-ton life raft that thundered onto the deck and cost one child a finger.

Precipitated a general furor simultaneously in which about 150 of their teachers fainted, necessitating the rigging of special bunks to care for them.

Pilfered many fire hose nozzles.

Pencilled countless "compositions" on the freshly painted walls.

It was estimated that by Monday night approximately 1,000,000 persons will have boarded the Missouri during its stay here.

Put Hounds on Trail of Escaped Man

PORT ALBERNI, B. C., Nov. 4 — (CP)—Peter Serota, 29, held in jail here on a charge of breaking and entering the Dunvegan Cafe last Saturday night, escaped from custody yesterday, and was still at large today.

GUARD AGAINST INFLATION Today!

Old Man Inflation stands just around the corner ready to snatch at your pay envelope and short-change you in return. It happened after 1918, and it can happen again.

It's strange but true that the only ones who can save us from inflation—excessively high prices—are ourselves. It's spending those extra dollars that bids up prices on everything that's still scarce. And once started, inflation spreads like a forest fire to everything we use or consume.

So let's fight the temptation to spend unnecessarily. Let's put every extra dollar into Victory Bonds and hold onto the Bonds we already have.

Think of tomorrow... and you'll agree the thing to do is not to cash Victory Bonds but to go and buy more!

NAB 125 IN NARCOTICS RAID

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4—A force of 220 police and Federal agents, striking simultaneously at 34 establishments, seized more than 125 persons during Friday night on one of the capital's biggest narcotic raids.

The suspects were herded into large vans and taken to police headquarters for questioning. More than 40 were booked today on various charges involving possession of narcotics.

Raiders also confiscated several thousand dollars' worth of narcotics, including 80 ounces of heroin valued at $4000.

Col. Edward J. Kelly, Superintendent of Washington Police, reported that 32 squads took part in the drive.

Kelly said it was the largest narcotics raid he could recall in his 39 years of association with the Washington police force. He said the raid was timed to coincide with similar roundups in New York and Baltimore.

In New York, Garland H. Williams, District Superintendent of the Federal Narcotics Bureau, said today 12 persons charged with peddling narcotics, including one reported to be the leader of gangs operating there and in Washington, were arrested last night.

Be Interested In Someone Else

BY BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I'm a girl of 21, deeply in love with a young man of 25, who says he's in love with me too. We had even started to plan for the future, when all of a sudden he decided he couldn't do the things for me he'd like to, and suggested we stay away from each other for a few weeks. He also told me to accept invitation from other boys, but I don't care to do that. No other man can take his place.

He lives a few houses away from me, and I'm apt to see him several times a day. How shall I act when I see him? Dou you think there's a chance of his ever coming back to me? I read your column every day and hope you can give me some advice.

K.D.B.

When a man treats a girl as you describe, the only thing she can do is fall back on her pride, hold her head high and convince the neighbors the broken engagement has not hurt her Judging from many letters received, reporting similar behaviour on the part of men, it means usually they've got interested in someone else of have got into some kind of scrape. When you meet him, speak pleasantly.

Force yourself to become interested in some one or some thing in the way of a hobby. Don't let this get you down, at the heavenly age of 21. The young man just isn't worth it.

Prisoners Revel in Sideshows, But Girls Avoid Them

DISS, Norfolk (Reuters) — Hundreds of Italian prisoners, let out on parole from two camps here, invaded a pleasure fair, paraded the streets, went to the movies, bought cigarets and fish and chips.

One of their guards said most of the prisoners, previously known for their Fascist tendencies, had become cooperators. Many had been engaged on sugar-beet lifting and with the wages earned they revelled on the "cake-walk," the "dodge 'ems" and other sideshows at the fair.

Some Italians went to inns and taverns but were quickly turned out as publicans had been warned against serving them. At the fair prisoners mixed with civilians, men and women of the British and Canadian forces and Americans. But the local girls, at whom some Italians made eyes, would have nothing to do with them.

When the National Anthem was played at the close of the fair, they stood smartly to attention.

NAKUSP KIDS PARTY IS RAFTER-RAISER

NAKUSP, B.C.—What was described as a rafter raising event was the party given to some 200 children in ages ranging from five years to High School age on the afternoon and evening of Hallowe'en by the Parent-Teachers Association of Nakusp. The legion Hall was loaned for the occasion. After a street dress parade, the judges awarded prizes to Beth Rushton for girls first, as a skeleton and boys first to Bruce Hopkins dressed as a scarecrow. Games which were organized by members of the P.T.A. were played and a hot supper was served, cafe style. Two cones of ice cream were given to each child donated by the citizens. The parents were assisted by several of the High School girls.

USED CAR PRICES SOAR IN BRITAIN

LONDON (CP)—Britain's second-hand car market is booming. Any car in fairly good running order—and even some that are not—has a quick sale notwithstanding the prices, usually well above original cost.

High prices of new cars due to increased production costs and the one-third purchase tax have contributed to the high second-hand prices.

Many motorists with a legitimate claim to a Ministry of Transport permit for a new car are refusing to buy. They fear there will be a sharp depreciation in value if the purchase tax is removed.

Used cars advertised for sale in a typical London showroom included few under £200 ($900). A salesman said in his opinion none of the cars would have been worth more than £60 ($270) before the war.

"We can sell almost anything on four wheels now," he added.

Dangerous . . .

Measles a Serious Disorder

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Measles is a disease which probably is due to a virus, that is a germ so small that it can pass through openings of a porcelain filter. Measles is passed from one person to another by direct droplet contact. These droplets, thrown into the air during talking or sneezing by a person who has measles, are breathed in by a well person who contracts the disease if he is susceptible to it. The virus which causes the disease remains alive only for a short time after leaving the body.

Measles, contrary to general opinion, is a serious disorder.

Measles is particularly dangerous for children under three and in those youngsters whose nutrition has suffered because of some prolonged illness or other cause. A second attack of measles is rare since one attack generally produces protection for life. Very few infants under six months of age have the disease because of the immunity or protection which they get from the mother. This protection lasts only up to the age of six months and after that time is rapidly lost. However, if the mother has not had measles, the infant is not, as a rule, born with this immunity.

Measles epidemics seem to occur regularly. In larger cities, epidemics seem to occur more frequently than in the smaller ones. Measles is also probably the most catching of all the communicable diseases. Nearly all persons who have not developed immunity by having had the disease are susceptible to it. Measles is a disease to be particularly feared during the period of the year when colds, influenza and pneumonia are occurring.

Measles starts with fever, running and redness of the eyes, sneezing, coughing and then the development of a rash made up of red spots.

Now, we have several protective measures to be employed for those in whom the disease may be particularly dangerous, that is, children under three years of age and others who may be weak and sickly. These consist in the injection of convalescent serum, immune globulin or placental extract.

Convalescent serum is blood serum taken from a person who has recently recovered from the disease. Immune globulin is made from the protein part of the blood and placental extract comes from afterbirth. The physician will decide in each case which of these substances should be employed. As a general rule, the convalescent serum seems most effective.

Dieting . . .

Star's Recipe for Slimming

By IDA JEAN KAIN

The way to make dieting easy is to apply psychology! That's what Signe Hasso, the Swedish stage and screen star, recommends.

She worked out the system in Hollywood. Out there where they all watch their weight, she found that the more she talked to the gals who follow strict diets, the more convinced she became that thinking about food and talking diet constantly is the very thing that makes it so difficult to stick to the straight and starchless path!

Her trick is to keep so busy and active and occupied that the diet is relegated to it's proper place instead of filling every waking thought and counting lamb chops instead of sheep to go to sleep!

Back that plan up by eating-to-keep-slim, instead of faddy dieting, and you'll really have something. The foods that put stiffening in the will power are the same ones that form the backbone of a good reducing menu. Proteins to stick to the ribs . . . it can't be lamb chops today, but Signe recommends fish highly. It's an excellent source of protein and surprisingly low in calories. Including some raw foods in every meal is a good way to fill up and get the vitamins. Raw carrots, celery, watercress, endive and tomatoes, all mixed together make a wonderful salad. Use one tablespoon of French Dressing only. A hard boiled egg is more satisfying than a soft boiled egg, so slice one into the above salad and you have a main dish for lunch. Cottage cheese can be used in place of the egg for protein. Serve with three crunchy, low calorie crackers. Add a hot beverage to impart comfort for few calories.

Another part of her easy slimming plan is to hold in mind a picture of how nice you will look with three inches off the middle measurement. That will make exercise a joy. Regarding the twists and bends as a means of doing your figure a good turn does put a different light on exercise. Then as soon as a bulky waist limbers up a little and you begin to feel free and lithe again, exercise is a pleasure.

This talented and charming actress really has something in her slimming system. The women who take a gay attitude toward calorie counting and regard exercise as a means of getting more fun out of life do find it a lot easier than the ones who go at it with grim determination and a sour outlook.

Elders . . .

Lording Over the Younger

By Garry Cleveland Myers, Ph.D.

Some big sisters or brothers lord it over the younger ones of the family. More often the elder is imposed upon by the unrestrained younger to whom the elder is forever ordered to give up because "he is little."

In many instances jealousies and heartaches in the older child would be avoided and quarrels of a lifetime prevented if the younger, as soon as he begins to toddle, would b trained not to appropriate or impair the possessions of the older, not to be a tag-along nor meddler when his big brother or big sister's friends call to see him or her. Few elder children would treat the younger so rudely were these simple rules observed by parents.

You and I know many a big sister or big brother who are wonderful in their attitude toward a younger child in the family. Many an older sister brings up a family of younger brothers and sisters and it's she who oftenest denies herself everything else to look after the old folk. I wish this self-sacrificing daughter were more often appreciated by the other members of the family. Think of the usual younger brother and sister's attitude when inherited estates are fought over and divided. How seldom is any consideration made for this gracious soul!

The big brother or sister who succeeds in high school and college, or diligently pursues a job will usually prove great inspiration to one or more younger children, and the more this elder brother or sister is admired by the younger the more the younger will choose to emulate the older.

I wish the school and Sunday school teacher would more often try to make the child sensitive to his influence on a younger child, help make him understand and appreciate the younger better, and vice-versa. I can think of no finer opportunity for moral aducation than frequent reference among children to problems of getting along with their brothers and sisters at home and attempts at leading children to see how they can make their parents happier.

Increased Vegetable Output Urged for West Kootenay at Board Meeting

Increase in vegetable production in order to take care of local needs, was suggested for West Kootenay at the annual meeting of the Interior Vegetable Marketing Board in the City Hall Saturday. The suggestion was made by a Board member from the Okanagan, Thomas Wilkinson, who outlined briefly the marketing situation.

High less-than-carlot freight rates were discussed and it was decided to write Frank Putnam, M.L.A., stating the case for the growers.

F. H. Chanter was appointed delegate to attend the annual convention to be held at Kelowna next month.

Only Mr. Chanter, J. Kosiancic, P. C. Hiles, H. C. Carne and Mr. Wilkson attended, and as a result no quorom could be established. The poor attendance was reported largely due to growers being unable to spare time from harvesting due to recent bad weather.

Board production figures studied showed that interior output in 1944 totalled $2,169,192. This included the Okanagan movement, with only a small proportion from West Kootenay. Of the total crop, there were 310,884 crates of tomatoes valued at $585,239. Processed crops were valued at $2,860,778, with tomatoes at $369,755.

Christmas Ten-Pin Bowling Play Will Start This Evening

With eight teams entered, the Canadian Legion Christmas bowling tournament will get under way on the Legion alleys this evening. Teams skipped by Jack Hamson and Walt Duckworth will meet at 7:30 in launching the mixed ten-pin tourney which will close Dec. 21.

During the schedule, each team will play every other squad once and is slated for one match a week. The tournament winner will be decided by the team having the highest total of pins in its seven matches.

Two strings will form a game, and games will start at 7:30 Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings. Wednesday has been left open for mixed challenge bowling. Free bowling will be available for lady members next Saturday.

Each member of the winning team will receive a turkey, and each skip, third, second and lead with the best average during the schedule will get a chicken. There is a condition, however, that these individual honors will not go to a member of the winning team.

Absentees after the second frame are to be given the low score from the opposing team for that string. Official scorer for the tournament will be J. Drummond.

German War Prisoners Returned by French to Americans

(The following eye-witness dispatch was written by Associated Press Correspondent Mel Most, who spent 15 months in a German internment camp after his capture in the German occupation of Vichy. Most was released under an exchange agreement.)

By MEL MOST

CROUTOY, France, Nov. 4 (AP) The first German prisoners of war returned to United States Army control by the French have been classified as unfit to work by American medical authorities and from personal examination I can report that many of them look almost like corpses ressurrected from the horror camps of their own Fatherland.

The former German soldiers, who had been turned over to the French as laborers, are being taken back under a project identified by the code name "Operation Skinny." They were called back after International Red Cross charges that they were being treated below standards set by international convention.

The charges resulted in Gen. Eisenhower halting more transfers to the French and then agreeing to take back those unfit for labor. The French have insisted most of them were returned in the same condition in which they were received.

1,151 PRISONERS ARRIVED

One group of 1,151 prisoners arrived Friday. It was a beggar army of pale, thin clad men in vermin-infested tatters. United States sources say the men had been adequately fed, clothed, shod and equipped when they were turned over to the French four months ago.

All said they had not eaten in two days. Four were brought in on stretchers. A few were sent to hospital immediately and fed intravenously. The rest, after a light meal, filled out a questionnaire on their treatment by the French.

Gen. de Gaulle has told Gen. Eisenhower that many French-held prisoners were received in a "deplorable state." Many of the new arrivals here confirmed they had been classed unfit to work from the start, but previous groups said they had been worked in stone quarries, coal mines, farms and clean-up details of Northwest France. Men in both categories said their condition grew worse in French custody.

Large Turnout of Juveniles

There was a very promising turnout of juvenile hockey players for their first general workout of the season Saturday evening, and the prospects of a fine juvenile rep team appears to be in order. This year the MRK and FAC squads which form the backbone of juvenile hockey will work under the Nelson Amateur Hockey Association with both teams being well balanced.

It was hoped to get at least one older team in to form a league, but the turnout at Saturday evening's intermediate-junior practice hour was poor.

Players out for the juvenile teams include Elmore, Ross, Hallbauer, Longden, Hysop, Fred Koehle, Perrier, Kraft, Pickering, Bob Wassick, Silverwood, Pitts, Cathcart, Clark, Colman, Macintyre, Maglio, Stuart, Brett, E. Duffy, S. Duffy, Bob Koehle, Shrieves and Boates.

Labor-Management Conference . . .

May Prove To Be Doorway to New Era of Industrial Relations, U.S.

By HAROLD WARD

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 (AP) — The Labor-Management Conference opening here Monday may prove to be the doorway to a new era of industrial relations in the United States—for better or for worse.

If it succeeds it will produce employer - employee relationships through the crucial reconversion months.

IF IT FAILS

If it fails the result may well be unparalleled strife between management and workers before 1946 is half over.

Because the stakes in the conference are so high, the top labor and business leaders who planned it with Government officials struggled painstakingly to lay a sturdy foundation.

The agenda they agreed upon provides a solid area for agreement. Though buried in the carefully-worded agenda, there even is an opening for discussion of peacetime mediation and arbitration machinery in the Labor Department to take the place of the War Labor Board.

CONFERENCE CALLED BY TRUMAN

The conference was called by President Truman because of the liquidation of the W.L.B. this year and the void which it is creating.

Private opinion among several participants points to possible agreements on at least three important phases of labor relations:

1. Management acceptance of collective bargaining rights of workers.

2. Recognition by labor of the managerial rights of employers.

3. Setting up procedures for voluntary agreements dealing with disputes which arise during contract negotiations.

In each case the agenda calls only for consideration of the "extent to which industrial disputes can be minimized" by such agreements.

It is doubtful that agreement could be achieved on any specific machinery to take the place of the W.L.B. enough endorsement of the idea might be forthcoming however, to permit the President and Labor Secretary Schwellenbach to ask Congress for legislation.

With the A.F.L. and C.I.O.—miles apart on many issues—and with John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers and the railroad brotherhoods participating, agreement on major points would seem to be even more difficult.

Over 12 Tons of Clothing Shipped From Nelson in District Collection

Nearly 12½ tons of clothing were shipped from Nelson by the National Clothing Collection Committee, Mrs. T. W. Brewer, Chairman, stated over the weekend. Her report follows:

The final shipment of clothing for the needy people of the liberated countries of Europe left the Armory on Thursday of last week, the weight of which was 4530 pounds, bringing the total weight shipped from Nelson and District to 24,916 pounds, a figure of which one can feel proud, especially after taking into consideration the great amount of clothing sent to England each month for five years. The majority of the donations were clean and in fair repair.

A very splendid donation of 5091 pounds was received from The Spiritual Communities of Christ, of which there are about 3500 in the West Kootenays, with headquarters at Brilliant. Their gifts were all beautifully clean and many new; there were also yard goods with the thoughtful addition of needles and thread for the necessary sewing and many pairs of their homespun and hand knitted socks and mitts which will be very acceptable. It was made clear to them that their donations would not necessarily go to Russia, but this they already understood and wished them to go where most needed.

There was also a donation of 175 pounds from the Federation of Russian Canadians.

The school children worked very hard and so large were their collections it was necessary to have them picked up by trucks. They were not satisfied with the time allotted them, but continued to take parcels to the very last day.

A special Saturday morning matinee was handled by the Parent-Teacher Association.

The weekly evening pick-ups were arranged by G. Burgess, who enlisted the help of the Service Clubs, and school collections, which had to be made during the day, were picked up by City trucks. A free telephone helped the pickup.

Although two short of 800 cartons were used, there was never a shortage, as all the stores saved them for this work and those who could, even delivered them.

These cartons were all roped and each one weighed and marked with its weight by Fred Irvine and George Pease. It can be readily understood this was a full time job.

Every women's organization was represented and gave one afternoon packing, but in addition there were several who put in many afternoons as extra help. There was always a list of names of those who could be called on any time which showed very plainly the interest taken in this drive.

Mrs. J. McGregor was responsible for having everyone in the telephone directory called and asked to contribute to this cause.

The expenses entailed in this undertaking were taken care of by the Rotarians, Gyros, Kinsmen and the Lions Club, the largest of which was for cord. A great deal of used cord donated by a few of the stores was used, but it was not nearly sufficient and it was necessary to purchase 30 pounds.

Alderman A. H. Allan of the Rotarians was responsible for all the advertising and taking care of finances.

I feel we were very forunate in being allowed to use the Armory. It is so light and was always comfortably warm and was kept as clean as possible by the janitor making working conditions that much happier.

The cooperation in this work was wonderful and I am very happy to have been part of it.

Local Hens on Strike, No Eggs at Market

This strike business is catching apparently. It spread to Nelson District henhouses last week, and Saturday the Nelson Farmers Market stalls were barren of any display of that particular barnyard product. With eggs scarce in stores, the demand at the market was heavy, but would-be buyers were disappointed.

Walnut trees were selling for $2.50 and up. Viking raspberry canes were also on the stalls at 75 cents a dozen. Plants of Bleeding Hearts sold for 35 cents and up and Peony plants and Snowball shrubs for 35 to 50 cents each.

Rabbits were selling for 30 cents a pound, and were in good demand.

The Scholarship Fund of the Nelson Catholic Diocese has reached two-thirds of the objective of $60,000, with $40,000 donated. A sum exceeding the objective has been pledged and most of these pledges are expected to be redeemed.

When all returns have been made, it is hoped that the fund will be large enough to enable needy youth in the diocese to obtain a higher education.

D. SMITH HEADS ROSSLAND STUDENT COUNCIL

ROSSLAND, B.C., Nov. 4—Much enthusiasm was shown by the students of the Rossland Junior Senior High Schools last week as it was election week for the officers of the Student Council. On Tuesday the candidates gave their election speeches and the students went to the polls on Wednesday. Miss Margaret Haggen was Returning Officer and Miss Peggy Johnson Deputy.

The nominees were:

For President, David Smith and Hugh Uquhart; Vice-President, Dave Keffer and Percy Ogg; Secretary, Lorraine Swift and Betty Petrie; Treasurer, Orma Bray.

The result of the poll:

President, David Smith; Vice-President, Dave Keffer; Lorraine Swift; Treasurer, Orma Bray (acclamation).

then had a 'Teen Age Dance in the I.O.O.F. Hall. Rev. and Mrs. Urquhart were representatives of the Parent-Teacher Association. Refreshments were served in the banquet hall under the convenership of Miss Isabel McNab and Dave Keffer. The High School Orchestra provided music for the dancing.

The students of the Junior High held a hallowe'en party at the High School. Hallowe'en decorations were used to decorate the auditorium. Skeleton games and contests were enjoyed as well as dancing. Dainty refreshments were served at the close of the entertainment. It was felt by those in charge that the segregation of the classes was a great improvement over the mixed ages parties held before; that much credit was due to the parents who had gone to the trouble of making the costumes for their children, and that these parties helped greatly to curtail mischief that was otherwise done on Hallowe'en.

South Africa May Step Up Uranium Prospecting

CAPE TOWN (CP)—South Africa has uranium, the basic composition of the atomic bomb. The deposits have not been expoited, but it is possible that prospecting will shortly be undertaken on a wider scale.

In 1919, Dr. William Versfeldt, a government chemist, referred to the existence of radio-active minerals in the Transvaal and Swaziland. Uranium was one of them.

Later Dr. A. L. Hall, then assistant director of the Union Geological Survey, announced the existence of "uranochre" (uranium ochre) in a mica quarry west of the Selati railway in the Northern Transvaal.

Near Madelane in 1920, in the corundum occurences of the Northern Transvaal, Dr. Hall found uranium ochre in the pegmatitic formation.

As recently as 1940 the Union Geological Survey stated that there was an authentic occurence of pitchblende (the uranium-bearing mineral from which radium is usually recovered) at Gordonia, in the North-western Cape. Small quantities of uranium-bearing euxenite have been discovered in other parts of the country.

The Wrong Viewpoint

The Ottawa decision to continue into the peace an official information service abroad is entirely sound. So is the decision to terminate official information for domestic consumption.

Ever since before the outbreak of this war, the Financial Post has been emphasizing the importance of Canada having some agency entrusted with the responsibility of getting adequate and proper treatment for information about this Dominion from the various instruments of communication in other countries. A nation which depends so greatly on foreign trade and on tourism, which now plays such a large role in the counil of nations, cannot any longer afford inaction in the field of foreign information.

But there is widespread concern among the ardent supporters of a foreign information service about the proposed set-up of the new bureau.

Is this reconstructed government bureau going to be able to serve the particular needs of the chief outlet for information about Canada—magazine writers, newspapermen, radio broadcasters?

Is this bureau going to have people with the kind of experience and training which will enable them to assist foreign writers and broadcasters who want to write and talk about this country?

Is this bureau going into the business of information—or the business of propaganda? There is a world of difference, and there is no faster way of closing the printed pages and radio microphones of the world to accurate information about Canada than even the faintest taint of "propagandist" on the reputations of any of the people associated with this enterprise.

In the organization of this Canadian Information Service, the Government seems sedulously to have avoided any attempt to tap the chief Canadian source of experience and expertness in the field of information, which is the publishing and radio industries.

"The new Service is to be directed," Mr. Ilsley announced, as acting Prime Minister, "by a committee on which departments and agencies primarily interested in external peacetime information are represented."

With this setup, Mr. Ilsley thus makes the Canadian Information Service purely a creature of government. That means the Service might become—or might become open to the suspicion which is almost as bad—that it is the creature of the reigning political party.

In a letter to the Editor of the Financial Post, July 21, Harry Sedgewick who throughout the war operated Canada's information service in New York, and who is abundantly experienced in the problems and techniques and dangers of this work, urged that a peacetime foreign information service be directed by a committee such as Mr. Ilsley has now announced.

But to that committee Mr. Sedgewick added "a nominee of the Canadian daily newspaper publishers, the magazine and periodical publishers, of the broadcasting industry and of either the Canadian Chamber of Commerce or the Canadian Manufacturers' Association."

Not only would such additional members have expertness, experience and hundreds of foreign contacts which would assist the Information Service help win acceptance for it, but their addition to the governing committee would go a very long way to protect the service against suspicion that it might be used for partisan propaganda purposes.

Wartime experience in mobilizing the country's special talents and skills by getting citizen experts working on committees with government officials has demonstrated its great value in scores of cases. This information job abroad is a place where that system could have been continued to the national advantage.

The Ilsley announcement has been widely accepted as the signal that the Department of External Affairs has sold the Government "a bill of goods" on this new information set-up. External Affairs is properly very much concerned with foreign information. It is an open secret that many times during the war, some of the people at External Affairs deplored the fast, deadline-meeting methods of cooperation with the world press used by our Wartime Information Board. Some would have much preferred "the cloak and dagger" or striped pant system which might have been more in the "drawing room" tradition but which would most certainly have resulted in Canada having little good said about her abroad and a good deal of bad. The East Block houses many very earnest and thoroughly well-meaning diplomats, scholars and clerks, but they are no more expert in the techniques of information than in the chemistry and physics of atom smashing.

Part Time Help

With so many front-page problems confronting Parliament, it is encouraging to note that the Deputy Minister of Labor, Arthur J. MacNamara, has had time to consider one which affects thousands of homes, but which might, on the face of things, be considered a lesser trouble. That is the question of home help.

The "maid" problem has been acute since before the war, and maybe it is just because of its name that it is such a problem. Mr. MacNamara's new plan of "home aides", to bring together prospective employers and employees available for short periods daily, sounds, suggests the Windsor Star, like a step in the right direction.

Plenty of homes need only part-time help, and there are undoubtedly many women whose only art is housekeeping—and it is an art, and should be respected, and not looked down upon—who would like a job for half a day only.

In this day of short hours, little thought is taken of the housekeeper. There are just as many meals to get, just as many rooms to clean, just as many dirty faces and hands to wash a hundred times a day. If for four hours a day every day, or twice a week, or even once a week, the housewife could have her chores done for her, it would mean much to her health and happiness, and on her happiness depends the happiness of the entire family.

If the "home aide" name can be adopted, eradicating the entirely unfounded stigma that attaches to the idea of being somebody's "servant", then maybe this troublesome problem can be solved.

Press Comment

DOES ARMY NEED SUCH VAST SUMS?

Although the war in Europe ended five months ago and, so far as major military expenditure for Canada is concerned, it never really got started in the Pacific, there is little indication of the return of peace in Canadian army appropriations for the current fiscal year. Estimates tabled by Mr. Ilsley are down only 14 per cent from actual army spending for 1944-45. So far as food, pay and allowances go, it is understandable that army expenses must continue on a major scale for some time yet, but in other respects there should be enormous reductions.

Immediately the fighting ceased in Europe, so should have colossal expenditures for munitions, fuel for fighting vehicles and equipment replacement. Yet figures indicate a drop of only 14 per cent in army demands for the year ending March 31, next, as compared to 30 per cent for the Navy and 50 per cent for the Air Force.

In addition to regular appropriations for food, pay and allowances covering the balance of the fiscal year the army asks some $250 millions for ammunition and further equipment. That figure seems fantastic in view of the fact that tremendous quantities of munitions and equipment must have been piled up unused by V-E Day as well as further substantial quantities enroute when the surrender came.

These army appropriations require the closest scrutiny by Parliament. One would think from the demands made on Mr. Ilsley that we were preparing for a war, rather than ending one.—Financial Post.

UNFAIR TO FARMERS

There should be removed from the vocabulary of the city-born that slightly contemptuous and wholly misinformed phrase, "just a farmer." They should get some idea of the lifetime of stored-up wisdom and the hours of unremitting toil that go to make up a good farmer. They should see him fighting, with one brain and one pair of hands, the unpredictable and uncontrollable forces of Nature. And they should know of the foresight and readjustment of plans that occasionally salvage something out of an apparently hopeless situation.—Kitchener Record.

Regrets Concession Not Tendered on

To the Editor:

Sir:—A news item in a recent issue of your esteemed paper states that the Nelson Council will "frown" on any of its employees who are working in other jobs after their regular hours in the city employ, in view of the labor situation in your district. I feel that this action on the part of your council is very timely, and the members are to be commended on their stand

I am taking the liberty of bringing to the attention of the officials of the Provincial and Dominion Governments at Victoria and Ottawa, this action of Nelson's Council, and citing instances of civil servants here in Nelson who are working after Government business hours elsewhere. Some of whom are single men doing work that can readily be done by unemployed returned men, their wives, or in some cases their families.

Nelson is to be congratulated on Kootenay Lake General Hospital. It is beyond question one of the finest public-spirited boards in this fair Dominion, who give ungrudgingly of their time and business ability without expectation of fee, or any special favors, under the able guidance of their chairman, Mr. C. H. Hamilton. I sometimes feel you Nelson folk do not appreciate them, and the wonderful work they are doing in the interests of the sick and suffering.

I hear a great deal of adverse comment on the Board's recent action in giving the concession to the Secretary's wife. It is customary to advertise such concessions and I am informed that some of the local veterans' families feel badly about this, particularly those who have wives or children who would have tendered on this concession had it been advertised.

The Board, of course, being like all of us, is very human, but it too bad they "slipped up" on this new innovation at the hospital. I hold them in the very highest regard, and it is my earnest hope and prayer that they will all be long spared to carry on this great humanitarian work at Kootenay Lake General Hospital.

Thanking you for your space in your valuable paper.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS

(From the Financial Times of Feb. 16, 1924)

The Southern Pacific has a train order issued April 12, 1887, by a mid-western railroad, at a time when Mikes and Pats did the country's railroading. It reads as if it were issued by a railroad in Tipperary.

Wants Mounted to Take to Air; New Narcotic Appears in Ontario

OTTAWA, Nov. 4 (CP) — The need for aerial transports capable of rushing 20 men to trouble spots was stressed Friday in the annual report of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police which also spoke of the appearance of a new narcotic in Ontario called Mexican brown heroin.

The report on Canada's famous police force, covered the 12 months up to March 31, 1945, and was tabled in the Commons by Justice Minister St. Laurent.

Commissioner Sam T. Wood reported the need for two 20-passenger Dakota transport planes to be used as aerial squad cars to rush men to trouble spots. These planes, he said, would "assist in the expeditious movement of police personnel in times of emergencies."

Planes also were needed for patrolling the seaboard and for extensive journeys to the remote areas of the Northwest. In this connection the commissioner reported it was likely the marine section would be increased now that the war was over and preliminary steps already were being taken to survey probable requirements and how best to meet them.

TO USE WAR CRAFT

In this connection it was recently disclosed that the R.C.M.P. were considering taking over surplus motor launches from the navy and surlus aircraft from the R.C.A.F. for use in this work. The possibility of the establishment of a coast guard service also was suggested.

Narcotics still were a problem and the commissioner gave some statistics on prices in various cities. In Winnipeg drug peddlers were charging $4.50 a quarter grain of morphine, in Vancouver morphine and heroin sold between $2 and $2.25. The actual market value, he added, was 15 cents for a quarter grain of morphine and 10 cents for a grain of heroin.

Mexican brown heroin, originally processed in Mexico but now believed to be originating in New York, appeared in Ontario during the last year.

The Mounties are working in close co-operation with the United States Bureau of Narcotics to stop this traffic.

The number of cases handled by the force during the 1944-1945 period was 82,461 compared with 77,679 for the previous 12 months.

The commissioner commented that he didn't see how it was "physically possible for this force to handle any further increase, without increased strength."

Increase in criminal code cases was only 163 over the previous 12 months.

Thefts decreased 139, while assaults increased by 100 cases and "it is rather disquieting" to note that safe-blowings increased by 41 cases the total number of 69 being the highest since 1940.

Without elaboration the commissioner said "special measures to combat this type of offence have already been placed in operation."

The Mounties also investigated 19 murders during the period—three more than the previous 12 months.

The enforcement of rationing and price control continued "to tax to the limit" the efforts of the Mountie black market squads in the larger centres.

Rehab Council Wires to Press for Ottawa Attention on Housing Request

Of the conviction that the housing shortage in Nelson constituted one of the major problems in looking after the interests of returning servicemen, Nelson's Rehabilitation Council Friday night decided to wire Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Reconstruction, and H. W. Herridge, Member for Kootenay West, at Ottawa, urging immediate attention to Nelson's request for assistance from Wartime Housing, Toronto.

H. D. Dawson, City Engineer, having conducted a survey of all available building sites owned by the City, said there were 106 pairs of lots suitable for building homes. He had prepared further information regarding whether or not they had access to open roads, and proximity of water mains, sewers and sidewalks. He said the assessed values of the various properties would be soon made available by W. A. Gordon, Nelson City Clerk.

Action regarding the housing problem was along the line of a recent resolution of the Nelson Branch of the Canadian Legion. Two other resolutions, in principle much the same as advanced by the Legion, were adopted, and copies will be forwarded to the appropriate authorities.

SEEK BETTER PLAN FOR VET BUSINESS MEN

Since the Council was of the opinion that there were many more mature ex-servicemen who wished to go immediately into business without taking advantage of the rehabilitation phases dealing with farm holdings or vocational or university training, a resolution that "a more equitable arrangement be made for the benefit of the ex-serviceman going into business for himself" was favored. Copies will be sent to Mr. Herridge and Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of Veterans Affairs.

Another resolution that was adopted and will be forwarded to the Provincial Secretary, will ask "the Provincial Government to to show greater preference in considering applications for employment from ex-service personnel, and also request the Provincial Government to retire immediately all their employees who are entitled to superannuation and who have reached the retiring age, and that the practice of granting such employees extensions in service beyond the retiring age, be discontinued in order to make room for young ex-servicemen."

Mr. Williams, a returned man, was elected part-time Secretary-Treasurer of the Rehabilitation Council at a monthly salary of $60. He will have an office at the Canadian Legion, open afternoons. The Council decided to place direction signs to the office at the railway and bus stations, and also a banner on the exterior of the Legion building drawing attention to the fact that it was Rehabilitation Headquarters.

Nelson's returned men will be afforded free legal advice, according to a plan of the Rehabilitation Council.

It was decided that the permanent composition of the Council should be eight members, presided over by Ald. T. H. Waters. The remainder of the Council would be the chairmen of the various committees. The complete committees will be drawn up during the coming week.

660 PLANES OVER PATROL IN DAY

LONDON (CP)—Royal Navy corvettes are operating as air-sea rescue service on transatlantic air routes, with seven points in the East Atlantic continually patrolled since before VE-Day when traffic was increased.

Lt.-Cmdr. A. C. Palmer of Surrey, commanding officer of the H.M.S. Berkeley Castle, said that on a recent patrol "the station turned out to be a real Piccadilly Circus of the Atlantic. More than 660 aircraft passed over us during the patrol, all communicated by radio telephone, although few were seen because of their height."

Two main transatlantic routes are in use—one running from Britain to Iceland and the other from Casablanca to the Azores.

Each corvette remains on station for about two weeks. Royal Canadian Navy officials said no Canadian ships had been engaged on air-sea rescue in the Eastern Atlantic.

First Batch of Auxiliary Parcels Ready for Overseas; Addresses Are Needed Immediately

First batch of Christmas parcels for Nelson servicemen and women who will still be away from home at Christmas has been asembled and packed by the Women's Auxiliary to the Active Forces, and the parcels are now awaiting addresses.

To meet the deadline for guaranteed Christmas delivery overseas, which is Nov. 10, it is necessary that parcels be mailed by the end of the coming week.

Addresses will have to be furnished at once by relatives able to do so, of Nelson servicemen or women known to be in the Occupation Force, or known to have volunteered for further duty in Britain, or known to be in the portion of the army that will be demobilized last, or known to be on naval or air duty that will still engage them at Christmas.

Such addresses are to be mailed to Mrs. F. Cameron, 111 High Street, giving the number, rank, name, platoon or company, regiment or other unit of the serviceman or woman; and should be signed by those sending them in, for reference in case they are found to be deficient in some necessary particular.

CAKES AS USUAL

All overseas parcels will contain the usual homemade Christmas cakes, as in other years, but as very few individual tins are available, the most of them are being baked in large baking tins, and being cut to sections weighing approximately 1½ pounds. Each such section is wrapped successively in cellophane, wax paper, and heavy oiled paper, for insertion in an overseas parcel, which, in the case of the men, will contain a pair of socks, package of cigarettes, razor blades, chocolate bar, chewing gum, handkerchief, shoe-laces, two packages of bouillon, tooth powder, pencil, comb, shaving cream, pack of cards, tooth brush, pocket-size book, and Auxiliary Christmas card, or 17 items in all. In the case of women recipients, the razor blades, shaving cream, and other masculine items will be replaced by powder puff, hair net, bobby pins, note-book, and sundries. The navy parcels usually go stronger on warm apparel.

Parcels for addresses in Canada, except for isolated Northern and navy men on sea duty, the cakes, but will contain all other items.

Each deadline will be met turn.

APPEAL FOR ADDRESSES

"The all-important thing now the cooperation of the home f in furnishing addresses," states H. H. Currie, President of the Auxiliary. "Every year our mailing has been made up from scra and this time we know less ever before about where our son men and Nelson girls who not yet returned home, will b parcel will be sent to every add furnished, within the necessary limits, but the addresses can only from those who know them

High School Murals Draw Comment

A feature that brought forth much favorable comment during the banquet tendered to delegates and guests attending the West Kootenay-Boundary Teachers' Convention at the Canadian Legion Friday night, was the display of murals done in chalk by Nelson High School pupils.

All around the walls of the hall were hung large colored drawings depicting the industrial, agricultural and sports life of West Kootenay. One, a Lakeside Park scene, stretched across the wall for 16 feet and was about five feet high. The miner, farmer and logger were all shown at work and the tourist at play.

Behind the main speakers' chairs hung a large drawing of the High School, looking somewhat the worse for wear, and with caricatures of the teachers appearing at every window.

Several art students did the drawings, while B. B. Crawford and Mrs. Mona Meagher arranged the hanging of the pictures.

WITNESS AGAINST YAMASHITA SCREAM THREATS AT ACCUSED

By DEAN SCHEDLER

MANILA, Nov. 4 (AP)—The erstwhile "Tiger of Malaya," Lt.-Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, today was linked for the first time directly with the hyena-like brutalities of the barbarous troops he commanded.

A Japanese interpreter who served with brutal Kempei Tai military police and the Filipino secretary of a known collaborator with the enemy both testified to the fallen Tiger's knowledge of the brutal doings of the Japanese soldiers in a stormy afternoon session concluding the first week of Yamashita's trial as a war criminal.

Narciso Lapis, former secretary to the exiled political General Artemio Ricarte, was brought into court under guard from an internee prison to testify that in conversations with Ricarte Yamashita affirmed his order to "wipe out all Filipinos."

Ricarte returned from exile to the Philippines in 1941 in the role of a "liaison and special envoy from Japanese Premier Hideki Tojo to effect the friendship and prepare the islands for independence under the Japanese rule."

Lapus testified, over the strenuous and repeated protest of the defence that the evidence was "hearsay four times removed," that Ricarte got in touch with Yamashita at least four times in the latter months of the year, and pleaded with him to spare the Philippines from mass destruction and slayings.

But, Lapus asserted, Yamashita was firm in his order to the troops to "wipe out all Filipinos, as they are no longer our friends. They now are helping the guerillas and are 100 per cent enemies of ours."

Lapus said that from long and intimate acquaintance he was sure Ricarte had told him the truth and that Ricarte quoted Yamashita directly in repeating the conversations.

AN EVER FAITHFUL CAT

CRESTON, B.C. — The story is told by E. Brennan, new garage operator at Erickson, of the loyalty of his cat. Previous to his leaving his home at Shaughnessy, the cat was given away to neighbors some two miles distant. Ready to leave by truck for Creston, the cat showed up, after the two mile return, somewhat dirty, but upon time for the journey. Putting the cat in the car the family moved to Brockett, where air was needed for the tires and the cat was let out and disappeared.

Upon arrival at Pincher station the cat was discovered to be clinging to the hydaulic line and spring, and evenly coated with slush and mud. The cat was put in the truck and taken to Fernie.

Upon leaving Fernie, no cat was to be found and the family after arriving at Erickson, looked amazed as the animal crawled out from under the box of the truck, again evenly coated with the dirt of the road. Needless to say the Brennan family kept the cat.

SENTENCED TO HANG, HE BEGS NO MERCY

LASZLO BARDOSSY

BUDAPEST, Nov. 4 (AP)—Laslo Bardossy, former Premier and Foreign Minister of Hungary, was sentenced by a people's court Saturday to be hanged in the country's first war crimes trial.

"I accept the sentence and demand immediate execution," Bardossy responded. "I beg no mercy."

The former Premier was convicted of serving German interests by allowing Hitler's army to march through Hungary to Yugoslavia and throwing Hungarian troops into the attack; arranging the Hungarian declaration of war against Russia without the consent of parliament, and involving Hungary in war with the United States. He was acquitted on a charge of failing to prevent a massacre at Ujvidek.

"You'll have to do the signing, Mister."

I got it between Caen and Falaise! We had been under cover during a bombardment—and when it began to let up, I looked to see if my buddies were all right.

I don't remember much about what happened after that. I have a hazy recollection, though, of being loaded aboard a Dakota at an air-casualty evacuation station and flown back to England. By the time my brain cleared I was in a hospital near Croydon.

Right now I'm going to school and learning a trade so that I can earn my living in a Canada at Peace. Soon I'll be able to write with my left hand. But right now, you'll have to do the signing.

. . . . .

We owe a great debt to the men of our fighting forces who shed their blood for us, and for our freedom. It's a debt that we can never repay! We can show appreciation, however, for all they have done by providing them with the best hospital care and medical treatment to ease their pain and suffering. After they have regained their health, many must be taught a trade or profession which will give them an opportunity to succeed in the peacetime world.

Market Trends

NEW YORK — Buyers generally concentrated on rail stocks in Saturday's brief market and left many leaders elsewhere to their own somewhat irregular devices.

WINNIPEG — Export business in Canadian wheat Saturday on the grain exchange was a carry-over of large flour sales and involved 500,000 bushels of wheat in the form of flour for the United Kingdom and around 150,000 of wheat, representing flour sold to the West Indies. Export wheat sales for the week totalled more than 9,000,000 bushels.

In the coarse grains futures market rye scored seasonal highs in an active session which saw quite aggressive buying by locals, commission houses and American interests. Considerable profit-taking appeared at top-levels but it was well absorbed. Strength at Chicago influenced trade here.

The close was 1⅛ to 1⅜ higher with December at $1.75.

CHICAGO — Short-covering and sustained buying pushed grain futures higher to seasonal peaks Saturday, influenced by strong oats shipping demand and mill buying of wheat.

Rye was up three cents a bushel at times to seasonal highs for all contracts, and December and May wheat and May oats also reached new seasonal tops.

Shipping sales of oats were estimated at around 300,000 bushels or more, and cash oats were strong.

Wheat closed unchanged to, one cent higher, corn was unchanged to ¾ up, oats were ahead ⅛ to 1 cent, rye was 1 to 3⅜ cents higher, and barley was up ¾ to 1⅛ cent.

Toronto Man Sends Check to Robbed Paralytic

VANCOUVER, Nov. 4 (CP)—Milt Porter, 67-year-old paralytic who was brutally attacked by thugs Wednesday and robbed of $108, Saturday received a check for $108 from George H. Wood of Toronto.

Mr. Wood read about the robbery in a Vancouver newspaper (Daily Province) and sent the check to the newspaper for delivery to Porter.

"There still are some swell people in this world," said Porter, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin.

Interpreting the News

By JAMES D. WHITE
Associated Press Staff Writer

Gen. Li Tsung-Jen, one of Chungking's top commanders in topsy-tirvy North China, last week spoke out from his Peiping headquarters on the "civil war" between the central government and the Chinese Communists.

Gen. Li spoke both as a soldier who has fought his full share of civil wars himself and as a politician who has used those wars as a stepping stone to his present position.

He said: "There may be a small war now in China between the central goverment and the Chinese Communists but major differences can be decided by negotiations."

He pointed out several factors important in the dispute.

1. The Communists are outnumbered or will be when United States planes ferry enough central government troops to the right places.

2. They are outgunned because generally they have only the artillery they have captured from the Japanese.

3. They have no planes.

Gen. Li's calmness is borne out in private advice from Shanghai which discounts the talk of full-scale civil war.

It agrees with Li's prediction that there "may be a small war in China now," but it seems to fall in with his belief that this "small war" can be localized to a considerable extent which will not erase the possibility of a peaceful settlement when all the military chips are down.

Announce Defence Counsel for Meyer

By WILLIAM BOSS
Canadian Press War Correspondent

AURICH, Germany, Nov. 4 (CP Cable) — Maj.-Gen. Kurt Meyer, former S.S. Division Commander and the leading German criminal so far as the Canadian forces are concerned, will be defended at his war crimes trial by Lt.-Col. M. W. Andrew of Stratford, Ont., Commanding Officer of the Perth Regiment.

Previously Col. Peter Wright of York Mills, Ont., had been named for the job and he already was here conferring with Capt. F. R. Flourde, Edmundston, N.B., before assuming responsibility for Meyer's defence. Col. Andrew arrived in Aurich last night.

SWITCH WAS MADE

Apparently the switch was made because the assignment might have interfered with plans for Col. Wright's repatriation.

There probably will be a German associate counsel when Meyer's trial starts Nov. 28 on charges of responsibility for execution of 48 Canadian prisoners of war in Normandy.

Meyer yesterday submitted to Lt.-Col. R. P. Clark of Vancouver, Commander of the Royal Winnipeg Rifles, the force garrisoning Aurich, a list of 10 witnesses including an unidentified Canadian captain whose presence he desired at the trial. The other nine are German officers from his former commands, the 25th Panzer Grenadier Regiment and the 12th S.S. (Hitler Youth) Division, and a medical major from the next senior formation at the time of the executions.

In view of Meyer's inability to name the Canadian witness or supply his regiment, it is doubted whether it will be possible to find him.

Capt. Arnold Smedmor of Peterborough, Ont., said before Meyer was brought here, the men who now are guarding him believed they were being made ready for ceremonial duties on the occasion of a projected visit of Prime Minister Mackenzie King to the Canadian occupation force in Germany.

(Mr. King, now in London, is attending a conference on atomic energy with Prime Minister Attlee and President Truman in Washington this month and has had to cancel plans for a visit to the Continent.)

Capt. Smedmor, Staff Captain at Brigade Headquarters and responsible for the administrative arrangements for Meyer's jailing, said such secrecy was observed in the training of the guards that until the prisoner actually arrived none had the slightest inkling of what his task would be.

CANADIENS AGAIN

MONTREAL, Nov. 4 (CP)—Maurice (Rocket) Richard found his scoring eye again last night and notched a brace of goals that led Montreal Canadiens to a 3-1 victory over Detroit Red Wings before a capacity crowd of 11,986.

Detroit hasn't taken a game from Montreal in the last 2½ seasons.

Trail Pins Allan Cup Hopes on Cronie Comeback

TRAIL, B.C., Nov. 4 — Not without Allan Cup ambitions even though they are just returning to senior hockey, Trail Smoke Eaters are pinning their hopes this year on Ab Cronie achieving his former greatness.

If Cronie, veteran of 11 seasons with the Smokies since he came from Calgary, performs at centre ice in the way President Ed Benson promises he will, it will make things a lot easier for the Trail club. Returning to help Ab out will be such other veterans of Trail's Dominion titlists of eight years ago as Duke Scodellaro, the colorful goaltender, and Jimmy Haight, the blue line bulwark.

Though Bunny Dame is reported to be now Calgary Stampeders' property, the rumor still persists that he will be back in the orange and black livery of this city.

Mike Buckna, another veteran winger, may be persuaded to make still another comeback with the team, and Bob Marshall is a possibility.

The rest of the club will be made up of men who have been playing in the Smelter League the past couple of years, graduates of the kid leagues of the past few years, and at least three imports from the Prairies.

Practices will be in full swing this week under the direction of Coach Jimmy Morris.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Nov. 4 (CP)—New Westminster Royals defeated Seattle Ironmen 3-2 Saturday night in a Pacific Coast League hockey game which started out looking like a cinch win for the Royals but by the end of the third period turned into a nip and tuck tussle.

Car Found Half an Hour After Theft Reported

Half an hour after H. Feller, 1224 Stanley Street, noticed his car was missing and reported his loss to City Police Sunday evening, it was returned to him none the worse for its adventure.

Mr. Feller said he parked the car in front of his house at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, and did not realize it had disappeared until over four hours later.

About 8 o'clock, Fred Brown, Fairview, was driving home and brought his car to a stop behind a car parked in the road just around the corner from Nelson Avenue on Kokanee Street. Presuming someone was in trouble, he got out to investigate, whereupon a group of boys jumped out of the car and fled. He then notified the police, who found the car was Mr. Feller's.

City police said they had a "fair idea" who the culprits were, but said no more, pending further investigation.
