

Hints Orthodox to Suggest Formula For Doukhobors

Commission Hearing to Resume on Oct. 28; Former Secretary Blames Blanket Mortgage for C.C.U.B. Ruin

SOUTH SLOCAN, B.C., Oct. 16—A blanket mortgage was said Thursday by a witness during the third day of the Royal Commission hearing in South Slocan to have been the cause of the ultimate "ruin of the economic life of the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood, Limited". The hearing was adjourned until Oct. 28.

William A. Soukoreff of Grand Forks, who took the floor after a two-day stand by John J. Verigin, young Secretary of the Communities, said the mortgage covered a $350,000 loan to the Community in 1926. The loan was transacted because the affairs of the community were a "little entangled".

At the conclusion of the three-day hearing, Donald MacDonald of Trail, counsel for the Orthodox group, intimated that his clients would probably present their suggestions for a solution of the terror-ridden strife between Orthodox and the radical Sons of Freedom groups at later sittings of the Commission.

He would give no hint regarding possible Orthodox suggestions for reaching a solution to the 40-year-old problem. Earlier Orthodox spokesmen said they would "never amalgamate with Sons, who they directly charged with responsibility for the recurring deprivations that have caused property loss estimated at more than $1,000,000."

The loan was made through the National Trust Company, which demanded both a specific and blanket mortgage. "That was the unfortunate part of it," Mr. Soukoreff, Secretary of the Brotherhood at one time, said.

Peter Petrovitch Verigin, commonly known as Peter II, was still in Russia and, later as leader of the Doukhobors in British Columbia, "held it against them for the rest of his life as an unwise loan."

A rumor, said by Soukoreff to have been spread by Michael Verigin of Hilliers, B.C., that the loan had been appropriated by Directors of the Brotherhood was "complete-

Archbishop of Kootenay Takes Yukon Post

MOST REV. W. R. ADAMS, D.D.

VANCOUVER, Oct. 16 (CP)—The appointment of Most Reverend W. R. Adams, Anglican Archbishop of the Kootenay, to the post of Bishop of the Yukon, was announced here today by Dean Cecil Swanson.

Archbishop Adams will resign his present post to take the appointment, Dean Swanson said, adding that if he remains as Metropolitan of the Ecclesiastical Province of British Columbia, he will become Archbishop of the Yukon.

The appointment was made by unanimous action of the Electoral College to fill the vacancy created by the death last Spring of Rt. Rev. W. A. Geddes.

Asks Why Decentral Policy Followed

OTTAWA, Oct. 16 (CP)—The Co-Operative Union of Canada, a national federation of cooperatives, today called on the Federal Government to explain "why the policy of decentral has been pursued at this time" and to "state what alternative methods it proposes to employ in checking the spiral of inflation."

In a resolution approved by its National Board of Directors and member co-operative bodies across Canada, and submitted to Prime Minister Mackenzie King and Finance Minister Abbott, the union saw an "alarming prospect of disastrous deflation."

"BIG BETH" LOST IN NEW YORK FOG

Atlantic Queen's Docking Delayed 10½ Hours

FERRYBOAT FUN

NEW YORK, Oct. 16 (AP)—The Queen Elizabeth knows now that London fog is consomme compared to New York's pea soup.

The world's largest liner was "lost" for several hours today when a heavy fog settled over New York City, disrupting shipping and plane schedules.

Originally scheduled to dock at 8 a.m. EST, the ship settled down two hours earlier three miles off Ambrose Light because of the dense, ghostly fog. At 7 a.m. a pilot boat was sent to guide the huge ship into port but returned and reported to quarantine she had been unable to find the huge vessel.

TIDE CHANGES

When the fog lifted several hours later, the tide had changed, forcing the Cunard White Star Line to delay her docking until 10½ hours after the scheduled arrival.

Twenty other vessels lay motionless outside the harbor, fully flagging their horns into the fog described by harbor police as the thickest in many years.

BAYONNE, N.J., Oct. 16 (CP)—The ferryboat Vega churned into her slip at 7:30 a.m. today after taking 7½ hours to complete a normal three-minute run from Port Richmond, Staten Island.

The Vega and its 50 passengers took off across the 1000-foot-wide Kill Van Kull at midnight and promptly became lost in a pea-soup fog.

Passengers glumly paraded the deck, peering into the fog as the ferry boat groped around in the channel. At one time it tied up alongside a barge in mid-channel, and hot coffee was passed over by the barge captain for the fog-stranded commuters.

After dawn, the Vega managed to complete her journey. There was one bright spot to the night-long crossing, one passenger said:

"They didn't collect the tickets."

TRANSIT HANDS TO VOTE ON NEW OFFER

2850 Coast Unionists To Cast Ballots Saturday

TIEUP DELAYED

VANCOUVER, Oct. 16 (CP)—George Morrison, international representative of the Street Railwaymen's Union (A.F.L.), said tonight that unless transit workers in Vancouver, New Westminster and Victoria agree to a last-minute offer in a vote to be held Saturday, 2850 bus and street railwaymen would be called out on strike at 4 a.m. Monday. The walkout was first set for Saturday.

Earlier Acting Mayor Charles Jones of Vancouver said he believed the threatened strike had been temporarily averted. New proposals for a compromise were made at two lengthy closed sessions today of union representatives and civic and provincial officials.

The new offer was not made public but it was unofficially said to be a 10-cent-an-hour increase. The 2800 operators of street cars and buses in British Columbia's three major cities sought a 20-cent an hour pay boost and a 40-hour week. The company offered a 7½ cent boost and a gradual reduction in working hours to 44 a week. The present wage is 95 cents an hour and the work week 48 hours.

CONTINUE TALKS ON POSSIBLE RAILWAY STRIKE

MONTREAL, Oct. 16 (AP)—A Negotiating Committee representing 125,000 railwaymen affiliated with various national Unions of railwaymen in Canada last night continued discussions on the possibility of calling a railway strike.

This was the result of a vote through which members of the several Railway Brotherhoods had expressed their support of a strike, if necessary, to obtain an annual 14-day holiday with pay.

Frank H. Hall, Chairman of the Negotiating Committee, said, following publication of the strike vote, that the railways would continue in session to set a strike date which would affect the Canadian Pacific Railway Company and Canadian National Railways and their subsidiary lines.

FINED $100

NANAIMO, B.C., Oct. 16 (CP)—Alfred Kohle, managing director of Pine Tree Nut and Candy Co., Vancouver, convicted by an Assize Court jury Wednesday of assault, was sentenced today to a $100 fine or 30 days in jail by Mr. Justice Whittaker.

Ed Brewster, Nanaimo manager of a nut shop, charged Kohle struck him in the face with a hammer, April 1, during a business quarrel. The jury convicted Kohle of common assault.

Princesses Defy Long-Skirt Fashion Decree

Princess Elizabeth (left), heiress to the British Throne, followed by her sister, Princess Margaret, and her fiancé, Lieut. Philip Mountbatten, arrives at the Worplesdon Parish Church, Surrey, England, to act as godmother at the christening of Rosemary Elizabeth Elphinstone, 6-week-old daughter of her former lady-in-waiting and the Hon. Andrew Elphinstone. A nurse carries the infant in background. Both Princesses wear the short skirts, preferring to ignore the new long-skirt styles in support of Britain's program to conserve cloth, an extremely scarce item in England at the present time.

STEP UP HOUSING ACT ALLOWABLE LOAN FROM $7000 TO $8500

OTTAWA, Oct. 16 (CP)—Maximum amount allowable for a joint loan under the National Housing Act has been increased from $7000 to $8500, it was announced tonight by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, the Government's construction-financing agency.

The upward revision, authorized by order-in-council, provides that the maximum joint loan which can be made to assist in the construction of a one-family dwelling is $8500. In the case of dwellings designed to have no more than four standard rooms, the maximum loan which may be granted remains at $5000. A standard room may be any one of the following: living room, bedroom, dining room or kitchen.

The Corporation said that the increase in maximum amount of loan in no way affects the valuation or lending value upon which the ratio of loan is based.

JOKE PAYS OFF WITH COTTAGE, COTTAGE PAYS OFF TO WIFE

SALMON ARM, B.C., Oct. 16 (CP)—Arthur G. Powell, "Lucky" to his friends, is a quiet-spoken Englishman who loves his little joke—and who wouldn't for $5000.

Mr. Powell, a veteran of both world wars, received a check for that amount from a United States magazine for a joke he submitted for a contest last Winter.

The manager of the Salmon Arm Farmers' Exchange, Mr. Powell scribbled his joke on the back of an apple-box label, sent it in and forgot about it. It went something like this:

"Little Mary had been to Sunday school one morning. The teacher's theme had been 'God is everywhere, find him, keep him.'"

"That afternoon she was pondering the lesson and asked her mother if God really was everywhere.

"Yes darling," the mother replied.

"Is he in this house?"

"Yes darling."

"In this room?"

"Yes darling."

"In my cup?"

"Yes darling."

Mary quickly placed her hand over the cup. "Got him."

Mr. Powell, said he intended to invest his new-found riches in a cottage, and speaking of cottages, the name of the horse on which Mrs. Powell wagered a pound note in the Grand National just prior to returning to Canada from England was "Lovely Cottage."

It paid 40 to 1.

B.C. HEARS PLAN TO TRANSPLANT U.K. MILLIONS

Scheme Would Bring 10 Million Britons to Canada

NEW INDUSTRIES

VICTORIA, Oct. 16 (CP)—Plans for settlement in British Columbia of family units and whole communities from Great Britain to help in the development of the province, and at the same time help the British Government solve the problems of shortages and over population, were presented to the B.C. Government today by George Wadsworth, M.P. for Buckrose Riding in East Yorkshire.

In conferring with Hon. L. H. Eyles, Minister of Trade and Industry, Mr. Wadsworth outlined a plan to be known as "Operation Pilgrim," a plan destined to bring 10,000,000 of Britain's excess population to Canada to help develop the Dominion's natural resources.

Migration of family units was stressed so that the burden in Britain would not be left on an ageing population as it would if only young single men emigrated from the Old Country.

NEW INDUSTRIES

British industry would provide industrial plants to employ British workers to develop Canada's resources, under the proposed plan.

A businessman as well as a member of Parliament, Mr. Wadsworth said: "I am convinced that the answer to Britain's economic problems is to stop building new towns in the Old Country, and build them near the sources of the great natural wealth in our Commonwealth."

He and G. M. Oldsworth, his travelling companion, are interested in British Columbia and Alberta as possible locations for the scheme. They are driving up-Island as far as Nanaimo to see something of the Vancouver Island lumber industry.

They will leave tonight to retrace their steps across Canada, and to do as much as they can to interest Canadian industry and the Canadian Government in their plan to help the British Isles through what Mr. Wadsworth considers to be "the worst beginning of the worst austerity period which they have ever known, even including the war-time period between 1939 and 1945."

TRY TO AVERT TRANSPORTATION TIEUP AT COAST

VANCOUVER, Oct. 16 (CP)—A last-minute attempt was underway here today to avert a transportation tieup in Vancouver, New Westminster and Victoria as a conference opened in Acting Mayor Charles Jones office at City Hall.

No statement was issued at the luncheon adjournment, but the fact that the disputing parties agreed to meet again this afternoon was taken as a hopeful sign.

At the conference were representatives of the Street Railwaymen's Union, the B.C. Electric Railway Company, and Civic and Provincial Government authorities.

It was the last hope for settlement. If agreement is not reached it appeared certain that the carmen would call their strike to take effect before the weekend.

The 2800 street car operators and bus drivers seek a 20-cent-an-hour pay increase and a 40-hour work week.

While the transit conference was underway, preparations were made the month-old strike of packing-plant operators and union representatives to seek a solution to house workers.

Know Nothing of Raising Ceilings

WINNIPEG, Oct. 16 (CP)—Officials of the Canadian Wheat Board today said they know nothing of reports that a recommendation had been made to the Federal Government that price ceilings on oats and barley be elevated to a fixed level which was to be held until the termination of the current crop year, July 31, 1948.

Butter Prices Lower at Toronto

TORONTO, Oct. 16 (CP)—Butter prices were reduced by as much as three cents a pound in several large Toronto stores today as a result of what dealers said was normal adjustment of supply and demand.

Good pastures during the Summer and early Autumn have helped boost the Dominion's butter supply beyond the levels of last year. If warm weather continues and producers are able to obtain enough fed grains during the coming months, lower prices likely will hold, officials said.

NAIL OUTPUT CLIMBS

OTTAWA, Oct. 16 (CP)—It's still tough to lay in a good supply of wire nails, but things are beginning to look brighter.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today that during the first eight months of the year production of wire nails or iron and steel totalled 40,780 tons, compared with 42,502 in the similar period last year. Tonnage shipped totalled 50,888, compared with 44,162.

Johnny Black accounted for two of the Flyers goals and Alex Pringle, Freddy Smitten and Bud McPherson tallied one each. Markermen for Lethbridge were Ray Heximer, Jack Taggart and Grant Hall.

Edmonton was defeated by Calgary here Saturday 4-2 and Lethbridge defeated Calgary on Tuesday 6-1.

MOVE TROOPS INTO PARIS; STRIFE FEARED

3000 Vote to Get Buses Rolling; 67,000 Still Out

PORTS TIED UP

PARIS, Oct. 16 (Reuters)—Fears of possible violence were expressed tonight by Transport Ministry officials after the French Government moved detachments of troops into Paris.

PORTS TIED UP

PARIS, Oct. 16 (AP)—The first break in France's wave of pre-election strikes came today when 8000 of the 70,000 idle workers voted to return to their jobs, but there still were few signs that foot-wear Parisians would ride to work tomorrow.

Two independent unions, controlling approximately 1-10th of the more than 30,000 striking bus and subway workers, voted to end their three-day walkout, but the Communist-dominated General Confederation of Labor which embraces the remaining 9-10ths urged its forces to stand fast.

The first resumption of work came late in the day as seven buses began running on the line linking the Eiffel Tower area with Eastern suburbs.

Nearly 40,000 merchant marine employees tied up the major ports of France this morning when they walked out. But the Union still was negotiating for a settlement of its 15-per-cent wage increase demand, and both Union and Government representatives predicted the strike might end soon.

YOUTH PICKED UP AFTER ROBBERY OF CAR REPORTED

BELLINGHAM, Oct. 16 (CP)—A Canadian youth, picked up by United States Border Patrolmen a short time after a Chilliwack B.C. motorist reported he was robbed of a new sedan and $5 by a hitchhiker, was held in the city jail here today.

The youth, identified as Eric Lentz, 19, Route 2, Chilliwack, was taken into custody after Patrolmen For-man O. Marvin and Edward S. Mulla spotted the car on the Kendall Road and gave chase. Rentz, officers said, attempted to make a sharp curve onto a side road but the car turned over, landed upright, and Rentz crawled out, unharmed.

Rentz told officers he had stolen a 38 automobile found on him, while employed recently at mines of the Britannia Mining Company, at Britannia Beach, B.C.

"Angel" May Bring Cotton to Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Oct. 16 (CP)—An unnamed "Angel" with $1500 to spend may be the means to import smooth-stroking Henry Cotton, currently touring the Northwest United States with the English Ryder Cup team, for a two-show performance here next month Stan Leonard, President of the B.C. Professional Golfers' Association said today.

He added that in the event the deal transpired, the Association might try to get Fred Daly, Dal Rees or Charley Ward, other members of the British squad, to play Cotton.

Should the "Angel" come through, Cotton would arrive here immediately following his appearance at Portland, Ore., Nov. 1-3.

PRINCESS MARGARET LAUNCHES LINER; CELEBRATES 17th BIRTHDAY

BELFAST, Oct. 16 (Reuters)—Princess Margaret, the younger daughter of the King and Queen, celebrated her 17th birthday today by launching the 28,500-ton liner Edinburgh Castle—the first official duty she has carried out alone.

The launching was completed smoothly, and the Princess described it as a "wonderful experience." Congratulating the builders on "this latest example of the acknowledged supremacy of our shipbuilding," she said, "I share with those who built the Edinburgh Castle their pride and pleasure in work well done."

When Tom Smyth, 17-year-old joiner's apprentice, presented a bouquet of pink roses to the Princess, she delighted the crowd by taking one of the flowers and giving it to him to wear.

The Princess, a slim, shy figure in a fawn coat, was cheered by a great crowd of workmen of the famous Harland & Wolff firm, the builders of the Edinburgh Castle. She wore a double-breasted coat trimmed with mole-skin fur, a small-brimmed hat set off the forehead, and carried a small mole-skin muff.

To Receive $6273 Insurance For Schools

A total of $6273.83 in insurance for the Sproule Creek and Erie Schools, burned in August when a wave of incendiaries hit the West Kootenay, was voted as acceptable Thursday night by the Board of Trustees to Nelson School District No. 7. The Sproule Creek School loss was estimated at $2795.56 and the Erie School at $3478.27.

The possibility of visual education for Salmo school children was discussed. Monthly educational films, shown to both the elementary and high school classes, may be added to the school agenda. Principal of the High School, F. T. Middleton, was instructed to obtain information he could on available equipment and films.

Mr. Middleton was congratulated by the Board on the enlargement of the curriculum of the Salmo High School. At the start of the 1947-48 term, bookkeeping, junior business and typing, as well as an improved home economics course, were added.

View in Wrong Spot So Catalogue House Goes Back

ASTORIA, Ore., Oct. 16 (AP)—Donald Riswick, former Air Force gunner doesn't like his mail order house, so he's sending it back.

A clerk, he said, must have made a mistake, and sent him model 3-A-1-R. He ordered 3-A-2R. And it came down on five huge trucks from the factory in Portland. When he got it set up he found that his living room faced the back yard, and his kitchen window showed a magnificent view of the Columbia River.

"When a fellow spends $6000 for a house and plans to spend $4000 more to get it livable, he should get what he ordered," Riswick complained. The company, he said, is rectifying the error.

The smiling, confident young man entered a New York bank. He stepped up to the manager's desk. "Good day, sir," he announced. "Has your bank any need of a highly intelligent, college-trained man? The manager poised a pencil over a form. "Your name?" "Gradwell Lesserman." "Experience?" "Just out of college." "I see," said the manager. "And what kind of a position are you seeking?" "Well," mused the young man. "I want something in the executive line. A vice-presidency for example." The manager put down his pencil. "I'm really very sorry," he said, sarcastically, "but we already have twelve vice-presidents." The young man waved a hand. "Oh, that's all right," he stated happily. "I'm not superstitious!"

To Adapt Little Spiel for Clubless Curlers; Add To Substitution Rule

Nearly a 100 followers of the roarin' game at Nelson Thursday night mulled over six recommendations forwarded by the executive of the Nelson Curling Club. The recommendations resulted from suggestions which came up at the Spring meeting and had been studied and prepared for hearing at the Fall meeting.

Four of the recommendations were endorsed, one left over for further study and one dropped.

By the approval of the Curling Club body an addition will be written into the Club rule book governing substitution of rinks. The added phrase reads "in the event of a substitute the player in charge may allocate the position of players at his discretion subject to standing rules."

Also endorsed was the suggestion that the club purchase a set of rocks for a contest to bolster the treasury.

Curling clubs across Canada are attempting to accumulate their own stock of rocks and it was with the intention of obtaining a sufficient number for all rinks that the executive recommended sale of some older rocks and purchase of new ones in their place. The Club at present has 24 rocks, 10 of which it was hoped to sell and replace. After a lengthy discussion the membership decided to refer the matter to a special committee which will report its findings at a later date.

For several years Canadian Curling championship hopefuls from their respective curling clubs have had travelling expenses plus some allowance paid to the town in which the competitions were held. Earlier in the year it had been sug-

Picking Crew Seems Trojan Chore for Cronie
TRAIL, B.C., Oct. 16 — Nobody was envying Smoke Esters new coach Ab Cronie tonight after watching him put through some 30 players in the first full dress hockey practise of the season. The players were divided into two squads and drilled for an hour and a half each.

But it will be some time before any selections can be made and judging from the large turnout of pretty fair hockey talent it is going to be a tough job to pick the right men. About the only sure start appeared to be veteran goalie, Duke Scodellaro, who was his old duelling self between the pipes.

While the Smoke Esters were going through their session another branch of Trail's hockey family got together in a quiet corner of the rink and re-elected last season's Smelter League executive Tommy Johnston, President; Max Debrissay, Vice-President and Joe Ink, Secretary-Treasurer.

Preliminary plans were laid for another four-team league consisting of Zinc Tank Rooms, Machine Shops, Warfield and either Juniors or Rossland, Junior practise will be held first to see if there is enough players for a team and failing this Rossland will be asked to enter a team.

MEAT RATION O.K.
MONTREAL (CP) — Found—One man who thinks the British meat ration is all right. Seventy-year-old A. Yellowlows, retired Councillor of Selkirk, Scotland, when he went through Montreal en route home from a Canadian visit, said rationing of meat meant people were healthier; that the British ration of 28 cents worth of meat was "ample".
Peaches were first introduced into England from Persia in 1562.

A LEAD MIS-DIRECTOR
 THERE is such a thing as being too dependable. In extreme emergencies, reliable information to your partner can not enable him to accomplish what is necessary; your sole hope is to get an opponent to help you. One of the most dramatic devices for such a purpose is the lead mis-directing bid. By bidding a suit which you don't want led, you may frighten the enemy into leading exactly what you do desire.

Penicillin in a New Form Aids Acute Sinus Infection

To people who read headlines, penicillin may seem an old story, but to the exact and precise doctor, it is one which depends in interest with each new extension of this wonder drug's usefulness.

When penicillin was first introduced, nobody thought it would have any effect when applied locally to the tissues. Since then, however, research has shown that penicillin can be taken into the body through the lungs and that when administered in this way as an aerosol it has great power to heal infections.

BREATHABLE FORM

By aerosol is meant something which can be breathed. To get penicillin into a breathable form, special apparatus is required to mix it with oxygen. When sprayed out as a fine mist, this mixture can travel along the whole respiratory tract and penetrate to the farthest and tiniest tubes of the lungs.

Drs. Rodolfo Godinez and Raul Infante of Cuba, who have used penicillin in this way, report excellent results in a large variety of respiratory infections.

The aerosol penicillin treatment is of value in infections of the respiratory tract such as the throat and lungs due to germs which are sensitive to penicillin. This treatment seems to be superior to the use of penicillin by injection because it is less painful and in addition the oxygen has some benefit in the lung infections. The oxygen also has a local, beneficial effect on the lining membranes of the affected tissues.

Drs. Godinez and Infante have employed the treatment in acute infections of the sinuses, which are air spaces connected with the nose. Three daily treatments were employed, after which treatment the patient was advised to gargle with some mild solution in order to prevent local irritation of the throat.

ACUTE SINUS INFECTION

In forty cases of acute sinus infection, an average of twelve treatments were employed in chronic sinus infection, it was felt that if after twelve treatments no improvement occurs, the use of the aerosol penicillin should be stopped.

Acute infections of the throat, the larynx or voice-box, and the windpipe, also seem to respond satisfactorily to the aerosol penicillin. Chronic infections are not benefited to as great an extent as are acute infections.

However, both acute and chronic bronchitis or inflammation of the tubes in the lungs, were helped with the aerosol penicillin method of treatment. It was found that in the acute infections the temperature tended to become normal after the first few treatments, coughing became less severe, and the symptoms improved.

The treatment with aerosol penicillin is easily carried out and quickly brings improvement in respiratory infections.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

B.M.: What causes swelling of the feet and legs?
 Answer: Swelling of the feet usually comes from heart disease, kidney disease, some trouble with the ligaments in the feet, or a disturbance of the circulation in the legs. Before treatment can be suggested, the cause of the trouble must be found.

Tasty Recipes
 By ALICE DENHOFF

Although the real nutritional value of a meal is in the main course, there is no reason why desserts, if carefully chosen and prepared, should not provide their own quota of nutrition, as well as palatability. Splendid for the youngsters is fine pudding, economical, too, because it is made with stale bread, which precludes wickered waste of the staff of life.

For eight servings, remove crusts from 6 slices stale bread; spread with table fat, cut bread into squares and arrange in layers in greased baking dish. Sprinkle each layer with raisins and bran, using in all ½ c. raisins and ¼ c. bran. Separate 2 eggs; beat yolks, add 2 tbs. su-

For Parents
 To New College Students; Guard Your Religious Beliefs

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

To the young man and woman entering college, I venture a word for consideration: Don't leave your spiritual striving, your religion, in deed, at home. Take it with you to college, and while at college stick to it.

Though it is highly probable you will revise and broaden a few of your notions, you would do well to hold fast to the basic portion of your religious background, at least until you are sure you have worked out something more satisfying and enduring in relation to your aspirations and sense of orderliness.

INTELLECTUAL ANGLE

Just keep in mind that in nearly all your lectures and studies at college, you will dwell chiefly on the merely intellectual. There is no strong certainty that you will be exposed to much in your college training to cause you to dwell long and often on wide values not made with hands nor bought with price, except a few mental skills and bits of knowledge.

You may have some professors who will take delight in making you feel that your parents are benighted because of their religious background. Even in high school you may have had some similar teachers.

PROFESSOR'S PRESTIGE

Under the spell of the professor's prestige (at college) and the readiness of other students to accept his words as final on everything, regardless of how little he may know

Help Fight Tuberculosis

Two years ago, the Kootenay-Boundary took part wholeheartedly in the British Columbia Department of Health and Welfare chest X-ray survey, to provide effective help in the relentless fight against a dread enemy—tuberculosis.

Again we are being asked to help carry on this battle, the X-ray unit already at work in the Trail and Rossland area, and due to reach Nelson, after visiting way points, Nov. 3. Various Nelson organizations, 100 per cent behind the battle, have volunteers busy distributing X-ray cards in the business and residential areas and doing the necessary clerical work, just as they did in 1945.

But why do a survey when "you can't get them in the sanatorium?" That is a question that is being asked because of the crowded institutions in which tuberculosis patients receive care.

Bed capacity is limited because of the large number of cases discharged from the Services, but no patient in need of sanatorium care has failed to receive it. Patients are being chosen carefully, and treated according to the merits of the case. Seldom is emergency treatment required, but when it is, there is always accommodation available.

Many suffering from the disease actually do not require sanatorium care and are successfully treated in their homes. They did not require such care in the first place, largely because their cases had been discovered in early stages by the X-ray survey or through the Provincial clinics.

In about 60 per cent of those found to have tuberculosis, the disease is already healed or "under control." In this case, sometimes a simple adjustment to a person's way of life is all that is necessary to assure continued good health.

The number of known cases in Kootenay-Boundary has grown from 521 in 1943 to 813 in 1946. The majority of the new cases was found by the X-ray surveys in 1945 and 1946. This does not mean that there were 813 active cases of tuberculosis in this area last year. Many of them were old cases and the majority were healed.

But the X-ray surveys did uncover a large number of active cases. In East Kootenay there were 68, of which 11 required treatment. In East Kootenay there were 68, of which 11 required treatment. At the present time, eight of these cases have shown marked improvement, only two still being restricted to bed. The rest have every expectation of an early return to work.

In West Kootenay, a similar situation exists. In the Nelson area, the survey uncovered 60 new cases, seven of them active. All seven are now classed as improved, many arrested and back at work. In the Trail, Rossland, Fruitvale, Castlegar survey, 59 cases were found, with only 11 needing treatment. All but two, who were so far advanced nothing could be done for them, are now improved.

In the Boundary, 15 new cases were found, seven requiring treatment, with three of these patients now better.

Many people are under the impression that once they have been found to have healthy chests, they have no further need to worry. It is an erroneous impression. Last January a young girl was X-rayed with negative results. In April, three months later, she was found to have a moderately advanced lesion in one lung.

Such a case emphasizes the necessity of having X-rays at least once a year. No one is exempt.

The Health Department, working toward the time when very few cases proceed to the advanced stages before being found, has a highly effective machine combatting tuberculosis. Its "armamentarium" includes the sanatoriums, stationary clinics, travelling diagnostic clinics and survey units, all of which combine with public health services in the work.

Illustrating the success of the work are the annual reports of the Health Department, which show that of the total number of cases in 1946, 5 per cent were far advanced, compared to 23 per cent in 1942, and 56 per cent were classed as minimal as compared to 39 per cent in 1942.

The significance of these figures is readily recognized, when it is realized that chances of recovery are 90 per cent in minimal cases, 50 per cent in moderately advanced cases and 25 per cent in those who are far advanced.

One chest X-ray two years ago is not good enough to guarantee safety. In the interim, between the first survey and the present one, somewhere along the lines of our travel we could have come in contact with the disease and received possible infection. All right-thinking persons will bend every effort to take fullest advantage of this free chest X-ray service. Despite progress being made against TB, and with Canada's death rate from tuberculosis now at the lowest in our history, it still takes an average of 15 lives daily, and is still the number one killer in the age group 18 to 35.

Tuberculosis is preventable, and it can be cured. As the Health Department states, "it is no disgrace to have tuberculosis, but it is a disgrace to do nothing about it. In truth, people do not die of tuberculosis, they die from neglect."

Lance H. Whittaker

Like Old Hoss, when defending myself against prickly "Porcupine," I must plead some misinterpretation. It seemed to me to be necessary (and still seems so) to point out that there are a lot of people on his continent who do not accept the fact that Stepinac was a martyr simply because he happened to be a cleric. In pointing this out I feel that I am doing a service to my Catholic friends.

Inherent in the Catholic stand on nearly every issue is the idea that a Catholic can do no wrong. This is a very great strength of Catholicism, but it is a weakness in making a case for Catholicism with non-Catholics. . . . for it seems sometimes to blind the great church of Rome to the psychology of other Christians. A case in point is the fact of the presence of certain Cardinals at the recent Marian Congress in Ottawa. To an outsider, ill-will appears to have been generated unnecessarily on that occasion. These princes of the church may have had the complete blessing of the Vatican, and of Heaven itself, in all their wartime activities, but it should have been obvious that they were not highly esteemed by Canada's large non-Catholic population. Why then, was it necessary to bring them to Canada and to embarrass a government which seeks to live in peace with all religions? Perhaps this attitude on the part of non-Catholics is completely wrong, but there is still some virtue in diplomacy, even in the case of Rome.

I am in no position to debate the doctrines or policies of the Vatican. I know nothing of them, but it is obvious to the smallest intellect that Catholicism is numerically the strongest body in Christendom, and for that reason alone is probably the greatest potential instrument for peace in the world. This in itself is enough to bring the Vatican strong support in any program of economic betterment of underprivileged peoples.

But I will not accept the prosecution of Catholics or Catholicism as a prima facie case for condemning any government or people no more than I would whitewash Quisling because he happened to be a good Lutheran. I, and thousands of others like me, want to know why Catholicism is being persecuted—or Methodism, or Mohammedanism—before I judge their persecutors.

G. H. Rossland—Would you please give directions for waterproofing a tent?

An oil dressing for tents and also a waterproof paint which can be used on tents are prepared commercially and may be purchased. However, if you wish to make your own waterproofing solution use equal parts of alum and sugar of lead, a quart or more of each to several buckets of tepid water. Soak the canvas well and turn it often, then spread it out to dry.

Woodworker, Nelson—What kinds of wood are used for handles of coffee pots?

Beech, birch, maple, and sap and red gum are widely used for this purpose. It is advisable to use woods which do not contain too much resin.

Attacks "Violation" in Canada of Democratic Principle

To the Editor: Sir—A short time ago I read an article in your paper that a girl in Ontario was refused admission to a training school for nurses. The reason for the refusal was that she was colored. According to the Winnipeg Free Press she applied at different training schools and was given the same answer by all of them.

With a fundamental principle of democracy being violated in such a manner, I have been watching the papers and radio expecting a mighty roar of protest from our politicians and influential men, who have been so free in spouting to the rest of the world how well people are treated under Canadian democracy. One of the principles of Canadian Citizenship is that "He or she is not to be discriminated against on account of race. "Our leaders and representatives go to such places as the United Nations, and they eulogize these principles of democracy and criticize other countries as undemocratic if they do not do things as we do.

We continually hear stories about the undemocratic things that our Northern Neighbor, Russia is doing, but this is one principle that Russia seems to observe. Paul Robeson made a statement some years ago that Russia was the one country in the world that he could feel equal in.

I cannot see where any country can say that they have true democracy unless the cardinal principle of "No Racial Discrimination" is not only written in the constitution but practised throughout the land.

We in Canada claim to have democracy, and yet we allow one of the major principles to be violated and broken without a word of protest. This case was carried to a government minister, and he said that he could not do anything about it, except that he probably could have her admitted to a school to train as a Nurse's Aid. What a diabolical mockery of democracy when one of our citizens is not good enough to serve her fellow citizens as a nurse, but would be allowed to act as a servant to a nurse. All because her skin happens to be dark. In other words we will tolerate them as long as they are willing to do the menial tasks and shine our boots. How can a Minister of the Government say that he can do nothing about it.

When we elect men to Parliament I have always understood that we place them in those positions to uphold the principles of democracy and to see that they are lived up to. When any citizen is discriminated against in violation of these principles I think it is time that the Government stepped in and put the guilty persons or institutions back on the correct path.

I honestly expected that the Government and members of Parliament would have had something to say on the question before now, but if they have it has been under the cloak of silence.

With such inaction on the part of the Government I think it is time that we as citizens raised our voices in protest throughout the land until it reaches the ears of those men in power who are preaching to the rest of the world how to run their respective countries on a democratic basis.

Or would it be by any chance that they are giving democracy a lot of lip service in front of one of those talked of curtains that we hear so much about.

If we as citizens believe in democracy, and are willing to sacrifice our sons and daughters on the altars of democracy, let us start right now and see that the violation of this cardinal principle is not tolerated. Let us see that this injustice is corrected not in years to come but now.

BIRDS FORCED TO FIND NEW HOMES AS HEATHS LEAVE "COOMBE PARK"

INVERMERE, B.C., Oct. 16.—have created the lovely garden from "Coombe Park," which has been visited annually by more than 600 visitors from all parts of North America and a few from Europe and other distant points, is to pass into other hands. The birds and squirrels to which it has been a haven for the past 17 years will be looking for another sanctuary. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Heath, who have lived there since 1930 and who Countless wounded and orphaned birds have been cared for by Mr. and Mrs. Heath, who have made their screened porch a sanctuary for their feathered friends, needing to gain strength to cope with wider spaces. Generations of squirrels, too, had found friends at "Coombe Park" and an abundant supply of food at all times.

Mr. and Mrs. Heath have had visitors from all over the world sign their guest book and have made hundreds of friends through sharing their beautiful garden. They say that in 17 years no one has abused their hospitality. Mr. and Mrs. Heath left Invermere Tuesday for their new home at Mirror Lake. Mrs. Heath will stay at Creston for a short time before joining her husband.

Look what happened when a couple of people at an exhibition stopped to consult their catalogue. When they looked up a few moments later a patient queue had formed behind them.

The same thing has been known to happen when one member of the family slips into a store, leaving the other to wait outside. The person waiting, having read all the labels and notices in the window, turns around to find himself at the head of a queue. Most likely explanation is that people are afraid they'll miss something good if they don't tag on to anything that looks like a queue. Old ladies out shopping, who ordinarily would pass a store without a thought for its contents, have been known to halt and join a queue because "they might have something nice."

In the early days of the war queues were regarded with such disfavor that some towns banned them. But they found that the ensuing confusion was even more disagreeable. If housewives saw any goodies displayed they went into mob action.

Back came the queues and no one is brave enough to say when they'll disappear. Sometimes they're necessary if the misery is to be spread evenly, and no one complains about waiting his turn to board a bus or to be served in a store that only has one clerk.

But sometimes they're downright silly, like the cases mentioned above, or the queues that formed behind 10 women who were seen waiting outside a store in South London. Others decided to wait too, until the line extended 60 yards. Then a bus arrived and the first 10 women stepped into it and were whirled away on an outing, while the others on the sidewalk looked at one another and wondered why they'd stopped. Then there was the incident in a London railway station, where several hundred people had lined up to check their luggage in the cloak room. Slowly the queue moved forward. Then stopped for 15 minutes until someone noticed a sign had been put out, saying "cloak room full."

When the word passed down the line a few people sighed and went away, but most of them stayed, stubbornly refusing to yield their places.

The London Evening Standard calls the habit "queue fever" and said in an editorial "there are people, thousands of them, who queue not from need, not to bring home the ration, but because they are 'victims of habit. For some people, to see a queue means to join it."

"They may not know what they will get, if anything, at the other end, but the queue fever has gripped them. Slowly they shuffle forward, lured by the mysterious."

"The queue fever can and should cure himself. The habit is a time-waster, a temper-frayer, a frustrating throwback to the war years."

JIM WEST SAYS ABOUT "BILL 39" . . . I've seen some polls of public opinion and labor opinion on labor laws, both in Canada and the United States. Both labor and the public think Government should demand conciliation by both parties to a dispute before there is a strike. Both labor and the public think a "cooling-off period" set by the government is a good thing for all concerned. Both labor and public think that there should be a secret vote taken amongst the employees affected before strike action is called. If the polls of public opinion tell the story aright, what's the REAL objection to Bill 39, which merely writes those provisions into the labor laws of B.C.?

By the Starting Gate

Interpretations of Bible Differ
Is Garden of Eden Vital to Faith?

To bring to a close the debate intentionally initiated by myself when I suggested that man, as illustrated by Christendom, was a most concealed animal, as proven by some of his past beliefs, I must make a few comments on the friendly letter to the Editor, of M. D. Forrest of Grand Forks, which appeared Sept. 23, and which was later seconded by "A Creston Reader" in the issue of Oct. 3.

Brother Forrest uses the word "theologian" in either the singular or plural seven times, and the word "theology" twice. He distinguishes between Catholic theologians and other theologians. He refers twice to a "reliable theologian" or "reliable theologians," thus implying that there are unreliable theologians also, or at least, theologians who are less reliable than others who bear that designation.

My point wasn't particularly about theologians—men don't have to be guided by them—but about man's capacity for self-conceit, as illustrated, for one major instance, by the belief that at one time permeated Christendom, that all creation, including even the stars, was brought into existence to serve the purposes of man.

On this point, my critic quotes Catholic theology as teaching that "man is the highest creature in the visible world (which I had not in any respect denied), and that all other creatures have been produced for man's use and benefit." All right, let it be so. Evidently I was not far out in stating that Christendom had once held that belief.

In neither of the "Starting Gates" in which I referred to man's conceit (one in answer to "Porcupine's" comments), up to the time Mr. Forrest wrote, did I refer to any religious faith, but only to Christendom as a whole, and then in the past tense. Nor was I thinking of any particular faith. In fact, I used as an illustration the belief about the reason for the creation of the stars that was still to be heard and read in my young boyhood—and at that time the only Catholic I knew was an elderly cobbler, who used to make my little brass and lead toys.

I have, of course, the same right to my beliefs as Mr. Forrest has to his, and as everyone of us individually has, to his own. Let's differ amicably.

GARDEN OF EDEN CASE
One other general matter referred to by my critic I'll discuss—the story of creation. He observes: "Old Hoss's statement that 'the Genesis story' calls for talking animals' is both stupid and ridiculous." As it cannot be successfully contended that there is no talking animal in Genesis—the serpent spoke to Eve twice, Eve spoke to the serpent once, and later when questioned by God, said the serpent had beguiled her, and God spoke to the serpent, casting a curse on it—the only meaning to be taken from Mr. Forrest's assertion is that he considers the account of the Garden of Eden incident to be factual, and not a devised legend. He has a right to that belief.

Similarly, I have the right to my belief that it is a legend, of entirely human origin, and without any authority for Christians.

As Mr. Forrest intimates, there are theologians of different faiths. I was so situated as a youth as to come in contact with at least two Baptist teachers of great authority, in addition to any number of men in the Baptist ministry.

A VIEW OF 80 YEARS AGO
One was a venerable and venerated University President, who retired as University head but not as a faculty member, about 1897. His view of the Genesis story of creation was that it clearly was an allegory, and that belief that it was an allegory, devised to explain creation, need not vitiate in any way a Christian's belief in revealed religion. I did not learn this from him, but from the son of another faculty member, who was of the same opinion, though a layman. While religion was not the business of the University, I doubt if any members of that faculty adhered to the belief once held, that every part of the Bible was of equal authority, and was absolutely inerrant.

The other theologian I have in mind had returned to the ministry after several years as a professor in an Ontario theological seminary. He was the pastor of my home church, and later was called by the Board of Governors to succeed as President of the older theologian I referred to first. When a Department of Theology was added, he taught the subject of Homiletics.

OLD TESTAMENT AUTHORITY DENIED
While he was still the local pastor, he gave a course of talks on New Testament teachings to the congregation, week by week. In one of these talks, he made the flat assertion that Christianity was based entirely upon the life of Christ, its founder, that its teachings must be drawn from the New Testament, and that the Old Testament had no authority whatever for the Christian.

At least half a dozen retired Baptist ministers were present when this particular exposition was made. One of them, a returned missionary, asked whether the Ten Commandments had no authority.

"None whatever," was the reply. "They are superseded by Christ's own enunciations"—or words to that effect. He added, merely as an interesting sidelight, that anyone who considered the Old Testament had any authority would have a hard time meeting the contentions of a Seventh Day Adventist.

I recall also that he expressed the opinion, that night or another, that the language of the Genesis account of creation was the language of imagery. "My old professor would have died," he related, "before he would give up his belief that the world was created in exactly six of our days." Yet the dual use of the Hebrew word for day was only one of many keys showing the account was poetic. He pointed out that, after the various days and nights had been recounted, the whole scroll of creation was summarized as in one day—"In the day that the Lord God made the earth and the heavens," etc.

May I make one or two further comments?
If I believe, what Baptist theologians, even of the old school, avowed as early as 60 years ago, that the opening chapters of Genesis are a poetic legend, doesn't that sweep away, for me, the three references in the first chapter, to man being created in God's image?
This apart from the obvious fact that, even if the creation story could be accepted as inspired, a spirit could have as an image only a spiritual, not a physical, body.

Apart also, from the fact that at least some Christian faiths exclude the Old Testament from the foundation on which Christianity rests.
I quarrel with no man's beliefs. In my original comment on man as a concealed creature, I was using as an illustration what I regarded as a past condition. My mistake. Let's let it go at that.

BYELECTION CAMPAIGN GAINS GROUND
FREDERICTON, Oct. 16 (CP)—With polling day four days away the three political parties contesting the York-Sunbury byelection operated the campaign in high gear today in a concerted last minute attempt to garner votes.

All three parties had meetings scattered across the two counties and one—the Liberals—had a rally scheduled for Fredericton city Friday night. Previously, party organizers say, meetings in the city have been few because of lack of hall space.

Three Federal Cabinet Ministers, Labor Minister Mitchell, External Affairs Minister St. Laurent and Defence Minister Claxton, will join the campaign to back Liberal candidate Milton F. Gregg, who resigned as University of New Brunswick head after being named Fisheries Minister.

The Progressive Conservative standard-bearer, Lt.-Gen. Ernest W. Sansom and the CCF candidate, Murray Young, 24-year-old former student of Mr. Gregg, have confined their attacks on Liberal policies along the lines of prices and price control.

CALL OFF ROYAL WEDDING PROCESSION AS TOO RISKY

LONDON, Oct. 16 (AP)—Plans for Princess Elizabeth and Lieut. Philip Mountbatten to drive through London streets in a state carriage after their wedding Nov. 20 have been cancelled as a safety precaution, it was learned today.

The Royal Family resolved upon the cancellation, qualified sources said, after being informed by the cabinet that Scotland Yard and the Home Office felt such a drive involved risks, "doubtless remote," which should not be taken.

They were to have made a short swing through the central part of the capital, either in an open landau or "glass" coach, after the ceremony in Westminster Abbey, for the benefit of crowds which might not otherwise see them. Under the revised arrangements, they will return immediately to Buckingham Palace with the King and Queen.

"It isn't that anyone expects anything untoward to happen," one source said, "but the police and other authorities simply do not care to take chances."

Meanwhile, special detectives and officials at Britain's ports are keeping close tabs on new arrivals so that undesirable may be prevented from reaching London. One official said the coming of so many wealthy and distinguished guests, including foreign royalty, was bound to attract international crooks and stir up the domestic ones with dazzling hopes of loot.

Authorities realize also that political or racial agitators—even Terrorists—might try to exploit the day and therefore are on guard against such possibilities, too, the sources said.

The departure of Elizabeth and Philip for their honeymoon destination—as yet unannounced—will entail extraordinary security measures developed jointly by the police and the Buckingham Palace Security Staff.

Wismer Appeals For Moderation In Labor Strife

VICTORIA, Oct. 16 (CP)—First act of Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer today as Minister of Labor for British Columbia was to appeal to labor and management to display moderation and co-operation "so that an end can be put to the strife which is threatening inconvenience and suffering to the public and serious disruption of the economy of the province."

Mr. Wismer was sworn in as Minister of Labor, to succeed Hon. George S. Pearson, who is continuing as Provincial Secretary and Minister of Health and Welfare, at a brief ceremony at Government House today at which Lieutenant-Governor Charles A. Banks officiated.

"I have agreed to accept the portfolio of Minister of Labor with a deep sense of the very serious responsibilities involved," said Mr. Wismer in a statement.

"I make no pretense of being a miracle worker, but I have confidence that much can be accomplished if the problems are approached in a spirit of genuine co-operation by all parties—Labor, Industry and the Government alike," he continued.

WANTS BOARD

Stating it was too early to make a definite statement of policy, Mr. Wismer made these observations:

1. He intended to recommend to the government the immediate appointment of the Board provided under the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act which became law last May 15, and this board will have "outstanding representatives of labor and industry and an able and impartial chairman."

2. He believed this board could make an important contribution to industrial peace.

3. He would make an immediate study of suggestions that provisions of the I.C.A. Act have made unnecessary delays in conciliation proceedings, saying that if such a condition does exist it will have to be rectified.

4. He would make an exhaustive study of administrative experiences under the act "and if amendments appear to be necessary in the interests of all concerned, they will be introduced at the next session of the legislature."

"In all these matters I propose to consult the leaders of both labor and management and to hear representations on their behalf, as it is most important that the viewpoint of both sides should be considered not only in laying down policy but in any changes contemplated in the act itself," he said.

"In the meantime, however, it must be recognized that the act as it stands is the law of the land, and it is the government's duty to enforce it. Any other position would not be in accordance with the principles of Democratic Government."

The ceremony, which took less than two minutes, was witnessed by Premier John Hart, Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb and Mr. Pearson. Mr. Pearson has been Minister of Labor except for a brief interval for 14 years.

In a statement issued following the ceremony Mr. Hart paid tribute to the "outstanding work that has been done by Mr. Pearson in modifying the labor laws of this province more harmonious relationships being conditions for the employees and in order to bring about better work-tween the employer and his staff."

Mr. Hart said that choice of Mr. Wismer for the Labor portfolio was made in view of the fact that the administration of labor affairs is very closely identified with legal matters.

During the absence of Education Minister G. M. Weir, Mr. Wismer is serving as Acting Education Minister.

Gift Vegetables, Fruits Flow To Nelson Hospital

Trucks plying the Slokan district roads Thursday picked up the first "gift" lots of fruits and vegetables destined for Kootenay Lake General Hospital at Nelson. Although the weather conditions were not favorable to the pickups, receipts were reported to be up to par with last year's donations.

The appeal for fruits and vegetables will continue for the remainder of this week. Arrangements have been made for pickups along the North Shore route and the Salmo road. Residents living in the immediate vicinity of Nelson can phone to have their donations delivered to the hospital, but it is hoped most donors will deliver their fruits and vegetables themselves.

Nelson Nurses Pass Exams

Several Nelson girls achieved second class standing in their examinations for registered nurses' certificates. Their names had not previously been published.

They were Miss Verma Blackwell, who trained at Royal Jubilee Hospital at Victoria, and Miss Shirley Robinson, who trained at Royal Columbian Hospital at New Westminster. Miss Beryl Calbeck, who also trained at Royal Jubilee Hospital, won a partial pass, having been unable to write one subject due to illness.

Miss Betty Dronfield of Nelson was among leaders, tying for third place with Miss Patricia McCloskey of Vancouver.

Harrop W.I. Told Of Hand Looming

HARROP, B. C., Oct. 16—A well attended meeting was held at the home of Mrs. G. Sargent, Longbeach, under the auspices of the Harrop and District Women's Institute, Arts and Crafts Committee.

The speaker, Mrs. Mathews of Trail gave an interesting graphic account of the art of hand-loom weaving, its history and development. The talk was given additional interest as the speaker gave a practical demonstration of weaving on her own loom.

She described in detail the setting up of the warp, reading and making the pattern. On display were beautiful examples of Mrs. Mathews' work, comprising table mats, napkins, handbags, cushion covers, rugs, crib blankets, etc.

Many questions were asked. Tea was served by Mesdames E. Smith, Eaton, and Armstrong.

Arabs to Challenge Legality Of U. N. Action in Palestine

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 16 (CP)—Two Arab countries disclosed today that they would challenge formally the legality of any United Nations action on the Palestine problem.

This disclosure came as Britain prepared to emphasize her determination to withdraw from the Holy Land at an early date and leave the problem up to the United Nations.

Other major United Nations developments:

1. Canada formally proposed that the General Assembly's 57-power Palestine Committee direct the Planning Subcommittee to study ways of implementing the plan to partition the Holy Land into separate Jewish and Arab countries.

2. Poland declared in the 57-power Political Committee that State Secretary Marshall's program to overhaul U.N. peace-keeping machinery was "contrary to the spirit of the U.N. charter, dangerous and useless." White Russia also joined in the Slav bloc attack on the American proposal. Greece, India and the Netherlands backed the United States "in principle."

Informed quarters said Egypt and Syria would challenge the validity of U.N. action on Palestine in a joint resolution which was said to have the support of all the Arab countries.

It was learned that the proposal raised a question whether the General Assembly had any right to recommend a solution to the problem or whether any country or group of countries could legally attempt to implement a U.N. decision without the consent of the people of Palestine.

The resolution was reported to contain two specific proposals: That the question of the U.N.'s legal rights be referred to the International Court of Justice and that the Assembly defer all action until the opinion of the court is received.

Test Arctic Penguins for Radioactive Rays; to Compare With Brooklyn People

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
NEW YORK, Oct. 16 (AP)—One hundred pounds of penguin meat that Admiral Byrd brought back from Antarctica is under test at the University of Chicago to learn whether these birds are as radioactive as the people of Baltimore. If so, science will have a new calendar for dating the works of man quite accurately for the last 40,000 years. This calendar will be radioactive carbon, and it will be a calendar because the carbon's rays decrease with clock-like regularity.

The calendar will date anything that was made of living tissue, such as wood, papyrus and a great many other objects left by ancient man. The fact that these objects became petrified into stone does not interfere with the carbon clock's accuracy.

This radiation of the people of Baltimore is entirely harmless, and is presumed beyond a doubt to be equally true of everyone in any country. Probably it is true also of every living thing in the world. But, taking no chances, the Chicago physicists are checking the penguins, because they are the forms of life farthest away. If there is any difference in these rays anywhere in the world, the penguins should show it.

Nurse Graduate Former Procter Resident

Miss Lois Hurst, who was among those passing their first class examinations for their registered nurses' certificates at Vancouver General Hospital, is the eldest daughter of the late James Hurst and Mrs. V. Hurst, formerly of Procter.

Miss Hurst received her early schooling at Procter, leaving for Vancouver to continue her high school education in 1937.

Mr. Hurst was for many years purser on lake steamers, and later was the first purser on the Kootenay Lake ferry Nootkoin.

Miss Hurst is a granddaughter of J. Fowler, for many years a fruit rancher at West Robson.

Believe Bombing Plot a "Hoax"

LONDON, Oct. 16 (CP)—A small tin containing a grey powder which might be explosive was found today on the sill of the Commonwealth Relations Office in Downing Street, and now is being examined by Home Office experts.

A Scotland Yard spokesman said it "seemed to be a very amateur affair," and added that it might be a hoax. However, he said he was unable to say definitely until the Home Office report was received.

The tin was placed near a door through which pass Philip Noel-Baker, Secretary for Commonwealth Relations, higher commissioners visiting him, and Department employees.

The find caused no excitement in the Commonwealth Office.

"We just heard it was there, and now it's gone, so why worry?" said an employee.

About 50 yards further along the dead-end street is the Prime Minister's residence, where police are always on duty.

Earlier today the Evening Standard said it had received further details of an alleged conspiracy by Palestine terrorists against the life of Foreign Secretary Bevin. The "plot" was officially denied when the Standard first reported it Monday.

The paper said threats had also been made on the lives of Hector McNeil, Minister of State, and Arthur Creech Jones, Colonial Secretary, both of whom are in New York where extra armed Federal Bureau of Investigation guards had been placed on the two ministers.

News of the threats was received in London four or five days ago, the Standard said. Special agents in Palestine reported the terrorists were likely to open a new campaign against Britain following the decision to withdraw troops. Their main target was Bevin, the Standard claimed.

It was "certain" that the terrorists had agents in Paris who might attempt to reach Britain.

GRADUATES WHO MIGRATE TO U. S. CALLED CHEATS

VANCOUVER, Oct. 16 (CP)—Colin Cameron, President of the C.C.F. British Columbia-Yukon section, says Canadian university graduates who migrate to well-paid jobs in the United States are "cheats."

Speaking at a University of British Columbia Student Socialist Forum last night, Mr. Cameron said that graduates owe a debt to "the miners, farmers and harassed housewives" whose taxes maintain the University. He said the graduates must remain in Canada to better the conditions of their benefactors.

today as the undisputed bosses of the American Federation of Labor convention.

Control of the convention for George M. any of the plumbers and Daniel J. Tobin of the teamsters carried with it virtual control of the 15-man policy-making Executive Council which will run the A.F.L.'s affairs from now until next Fall, when the Federation meets again.

As the convention drew to a close today, delegates admitted that the smoothly-operating machine of the 72-year-old Tobin and 53-year-old Meany was the big revelation of the convention.

Together Meany and Tobin overwhelmed John L. Lewis and William L. Hutcheson with their votes. While Lewis created the fireworks with his effort to block what he called "dehydration" of the Executive Council, it was Hutcheson who suffered most. He and his carpenters have ruled the Federation since 1915.

Lewis and his United Mine Workers never had much of a chance to get support of the other delegates. The other Federation leaders favored complying with the affidavit requirement so the weaker union could have access to the protective machinery of the National Labor Relations Board.

Under the Taft-Hartley Act the Board can have no dealings with unions until their leaders sign affidavits that they are not Communists. Yesterday the A.F.L. dropped Lewis, a Federation Vice-President, from its Executive Board with its other Vice-Presidents when Lewis refused to sign an affidavit, terming the requirement "an insult."

The Congress of Industrial Organizations has not submitted any affidavits on behalf of its union members of their jurisdictional rivalry of A.F.L. organizations.

Newcomers Seek Places on Leaf Team; Five More Men Coming

thirteen newcomers taking part in the tryouts and five more to be added to the team, according to Coach Gordon McKenzie, who has plenty of material to choose from the new Leaf team.

The second night of the tryouts saw double the number of players than the first. Hockey talk has been the No. 1 topic around town since the Civic Centre ticket office first started picking up season tickets Saturday is the last day on which those wishing to reserve the seats they had last year may do so in them, and a last-minute rush is expected.

More or more of the players turning out are from last season's aggregation or from kid league ranks.

Newcomers include D. McLean and Bob Irvine, forwards who last year played with Lethbridge Native Sons and are now over-age juniors. One of the defencemen is Joe Marcoux, last season with Nanaimo and previously with St. Boniface Juniors. Carlo Cirullo of East Coules, Alta., played defence and Nick Moskito left wing in Drumheller last year. Bill Wicken came here from Toronto late last season.

Also seeking berths are the Kuly brothers of Portage la Prairie. Frank was with Haringay Racers and Alex with Flin Flon Bombers in 1946-47.

The goalkeeping job is sought by Keith Duffy, formerly of Saskatoon Quakers, and Tommy Madden, who was with Navy in Halifax. Jesse Seaby has stated his willingness to turn out but only if he is needed.

Loss of George Barefoot and Steve Krizan was felt in the re-arranged positions, but the newcomers are expected to fill the gap. Four prospects are still to come from Vancouver and another from Calgary. Johnny Hryciuk, last year a member of one of the Leaf strings, has telegraphed his willingness to come back to Nelson. He recently tried out with Buffalo Bisons. Johnny Arichuck cannot play this season for health reasons. Johnny wound up the last year handicap because of his health and is taking it easy this winter.

MACKEN AND STOHLBERG KNOCKED OUT

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 16 (CP)—Brendan Macken of Montreal and Walter Stohlberg of Vancouver were eliminated today in the second round of the men's doubles play of the sixth Pan-American Tennis Tournament.

The Canadian team went down 6-1, 6-4, before the brother pair of Armando and Rolando Vega of Mexico.

Sellout Crowds Expected at '48 Olympic Games

By JAMES R. CHAMBERS
LONDON, Oct. 16 (AP)—The Olympic games scheduled here next summer promise to draw more than 1,000,000 sports fans from all corners of the earth and London is preparing to gear itself accordingly.

An official of the British Olympic Organizing Committee said his group is "confidently expecting a sellout" for each session of the games at the outdoor and indoor arenas at Wembley, which together hold approximately 90,000 persons.

In addition, some indoor contests will be staged at Harringay Arena, with a capacity of 10,700, while four London soccer grounds, on which the preliminaries of the soccer tournament will be staged, can handle about 150,000 persons among them.

Tickets, soon to be sent out to competing nations, are expected to be allocated on the basis of population, plus the number of sports organizations directly interested in the games.

$67 TOP PRICE
The top price for season tickets to track and field events at Wembley Stadium will be £16 10s (967). Other prices for books of tickets will be £8 8s (334); £4 4s (171); £3 (112); £2 2s (110); and, for standing room, £1 8s (66).

Flyer Finds Barefoot Rugged

George Barefoot, who left Nelson Maple Leaf ranks to join the Calgary Stampede made himself known to Edmonton hockey fans last Saturday night by connecting solidly with Bing Merluk of the Flyers. Merluk was checked into the boards by Barefoot early in the second period of a game that was finalized 4-2 for the Stamps. The Edmonton forward was carried off the ice and though he was out for the game his injury will not prevent participation in the next encounter.

The Stampede lineups now has a fair representation of district players. Bud Emery, once of Nelson, has seen two seasons with the Cowtowners and along with Barefoot, Bunny Dame and Dave Duchak, two former Trail Smoke Eaters, the Stampeder roster should have a leaning towards the Kootenays.

Trophy Hunters Rile Sportsmen

Hunters who left two goat carcasses in the Russell Creek area in the Little Slokan, have aroused the ire of District sportsmen.

Other hunters who saw the remains of the animals, said that the party had either shot more goats than they could handle or were "just out for the fun of it."

From one goat they had taken only the horns and hide, leaving the meat and from the other, the head and hindquarters only.

Olympic Hockey Team for Canada; R. C. A. F. to Direct, Assemble Club

By GEORGE FORSTER
Canadian Press Staff Writer
REGINA, Oct. 16 (CP)—The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association came up last night with the answer to the 64 question—and Canada is to compete in the Olympic Winter Games. An R.C.A.F. hockey team will represent the Dominion.

Smoke over the issue—competition according to Olympic rules or no participation at all—has waged across the whole of North America, the Atlantic and half of Europe.

But President A. Pickard of the C.A.H.A. said argument over the definition of an amateur could not be allowed to cause the home of hockey to go unrepresented at the Olympic championships of its own sport.

The games are to be played at St. Moritz, Switzerland, next January and February.

Given a free hand by the Canadian Olympic Games Committee to pick a team representative of Canada, the C.A.H.A. chose the R.C.A.F., an organization not inexperienced in hockey, to provide its answer.

PREVIOUS WINNERS
The R.C.A.F. already has provided championship hockey teams. In 1941-42, R.C.A.F. Flyers of Ottawa captured the Allan Cup, emblematic of the Dominion's amateur hockey championship. An England-based R.C.A.F. team later made a successful tour of the Continent.

Pickard's statement said the R.C.A.F. team will have its headquarters in Ottawa, training both there and at Camp Borden, Ont.

Those in the know speculate that Cpl. Frank Boucher of the R.C.A.F., stationed in Ottawa, may coach the team. Boucher is a nephew of Coach Frank Boucher of the National League's New York Rangers, and son of George Boucher, Coach of the Quebec Senior League's Ottawa Senators.

Another name suggested was that of George McPaul, also in the R.C.A.F., and trainer of a number of Ottawa teams.

Though a fast ball, last night's announcement did not catch R.C.A.F. headquarters in Ottawa entirely off guard.

PLAY IN OTTAWA
"The best possible prospects" will be culled from force personnel throughout the Dominion," a spokesman said.

Ottawa hockey sources said that already it was known the Olympic team would play in Ottawa City Hockey League, where other civilian hockey are an Army and two civilian teams — Hull Volants and Berge, both of recognized calibre.

Pickard made it clear, however, that Canada has not abandoned the fight for a broader interpretation of amateurism.

"The C.A.H.A. will continue to press for a more liberal definition, believing that the present definition tends to encourage hypocrisy and under-the-table dealings with which the Association wishes no part," his statement read.

Charges East Snubbed West in Soccer Plans

VANCOUVER, Oct. 16 (CP)—John M. Richardson, the Secretary of the British Columbia Soccer Commission, today charged Eastern Canadian soccer officials with attempting to by-pass the West in the inauguration of international soccer with the United States.

Mr. Richardson was commenting on a report from Toronto that international soccer on a large-scale will get underway for the first time in America when a Canadian team faces an all-star United States team in Toronto next Saturday.

The Toronto report said that an all-star team, selected by committee men of the Dominion Football Association in all provinces except New Brunswick will meet an United States all-star team in St. Louis for the Traynor Trophy.

Richardson contends that the Eastern officials "have no right" to make such an announcement.

"Next year's series will be between the champions of Canada and the champions of the United States," and "all-star teams will not be involved."

Amateurs Whip Pros in Ryder Cup Rehearsal

LONDON, Oct. 16 (AP)—Two golfers, who between them won the British Amateur championship three times, defeated a potential Ryder Cup pairing — Eric Green and Reg Horne — in a full-dress rehearsal today for the professional matches against the United States Nov. 1-2.

The amateurs who pulled the surprise on the Royal Mid-Surrey links are Bob Sweeney, Anglo-American star who won the British title in 1937, and veteran Cyril Tolley, double winner of the amateur crown in 1920 and 1929.

Out in 32, they won 7 and 5, a shellacking for the pros although the amateurs, as in every match today, started two holes up.

Henry Cotton, captain of the British Ryder Cup team, and Art Lees squeaked through with a 1-up victory over Leonard Crawley and Percy Lucas, who played on this year's Walker Cup team.

New Lightweight On British Throne

LIVERPOOL, England, Oct. 16 (AP)—Billy Thompson of Yorkshire won the vacant British lightweight championship tonight by a technical knockout over Stan Hawthorne of North Shields, in the third round of a scheduled 15-round bout.

Rocket and Butch Come To Terms

MONTREAL, Oct. 16 (CP)—Maurice Richard and Emile (Butch) Bouchard agreed to terms tonight and signed contracts just 45 minutes before Montreal Canadiens took the ice for their National Hockey League opener against New York Rangers.

Richard, top goal-getter in the League last season with 45 counters to his credit, said after emerging from General Manager Frank Selke's office: "I signed for $1000 less than I wanted, but I couldn't hold out any longer for the simple reason I like playing hockey so much."

The Rocket was said to have asked for $12,000 this season, after receiving a reported $9000 plus bonuses last winter.

Bouchard, Canadiens' bruising All-Star defenceman, was believed to be holding out for the same salary as Richard.

Goldham Goes To Pittsburgh

TORONTO, Oct. 16 (CP)—Bob Goldham, bashing defenceman of Toronto Maple Leafs, headed for Pittsburgh tonight to join the Hornets of the American Hockey League where Toronto officials hope he will quickly regain his old form. He is subject to immediate recall.

The 25-year-old native of Georgetown, Ont., suffered a fractured arm about one-third of the way through last season's schedule and so far this season, he has been away below par.

Swim Trophy for Irene Strong

VANCOUVER, Oct. 16 (CP)—Irene Strong, Vancouver's swimming ace, today had a new trophy for her collection — the Sir Edward Beatty Trophy, awarded each year to Canada's outstanding swimmer.

Miss Strong succeeds Doris Feldard of Toronto as holder of the trophy and had to nose out Victoria's ace churner, Peter Salmon, to earn it.

Announcement of the award to Miss Strong came from the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association headquarters in Winnipeg. A year ago she won the Rose Bowl, awarded annually by the A.A.U. of C. for the Dominion's top feminine athlete.

Market Trends

MONTREAL, Oct. 16 (CP)-The pluses outnumbered minuses about two to one among industrials. Mines were quiet and mixed.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16 (CP)-Selected steels, oils and special issues kept the recovery swing going although selling on the five-session advance stalled many leaders.

TORONTO, Oct. 16 (CP)-Gold were up mildly in improved volume but price increases did not indicate enthusiasm over Resources Minister Glen's announcement yesterday that some form of assistance to the gold mining industry is being planned. Industrials held unchanged with trends mixed, while Western oils continued quiet.

LONDON, Oct. 16 (Reuters)-The London Stock Exchange opened strongly but trade soon slackened and a subsequent general recession cancelled out the original improvement by the coast.

CHICAGO, Oct. 16 (AP)-December wheat touched $3.05 a bushel, equalling the high for 1947, but could not hold extreme gains.

VANCOUVER, Oct. 16 (CP)-Early trading picked yesterday's slump.

Calgary Livestock

Train Horses for Royal Wedding Procession

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM

LONDON, Oct. 16 (AP) - Britain's most aristocratic horses are being trained by blaring music and limited street scenes for the noisy excitement of Princess Elizabeth's wedding procession.

For 30 minutes to an hour, twice weekly, radios and phonographs are turned on full blast on the royal stables adjoining Buckingham Palace, playing military marches and other loud tunes to accustom the horses to the inevitable din Nov. 20, when the Princess and Lieut. Philip Mountbatten will be married in Westminster Abbey.

Nothing like the roaring volume of crowd sounds nor the vast color and movement of people can be obtained in this special schooling, of course, but as the next best thing, carrying flags and pennants, cheer at the top of their voices and wave enthusiastically as the horses are paraded past.

More than the general shouting of crowds, however, the horses mind the voices of children, presumably because they are high-pitched. To overcome this, the famous Windsor Greys and Yorkshire bays which make up most of the King's stables are taken to London schools, just before letting-out time, to avail the children's demisical and certain whoops of glee.

Col. Sir Dermot McMorrough-Kavanagh, 57-year-old crown equerry, summed up the importance of this unusual program by saying "we must try to worry the horses as much as possible now so that they will not worry us later on."

The horses to be chosen from among the 30 or more in the royal stables for the wedding procession will have had from 18 months to two years constant training for regal ceremonies under the supervision of Frederick McIlven, head coachman, 40 of whose 60 years have been spent in royal service.

Full-dress rehearsals will be held probably on the three Sundays preceding the wedding with police assistance in clearing traffic.
