SAN SALVADOR, Jan. 26 — The earth shook and trembled again in Central America today after a night in which earthquakes wrecked homes and buildings and killed at least one person in Eastern El Salvador.

At the same hour, a prolonged earthquake began in

Warn B.C. Investors Against Ontario Syndicates' Wooings

VICTORIA, B.C., Jan. 26 (CP) — Provincial Government Securities officials sounded a warning today against hasty investment in Ontario mining syndicates that are flooding British Columbia with circulars hinting at — but never exactly promising — a golden return for a few dollars.

They said that while the syndicates are at pains to keep within Ontario law, many of them are definitely illegal under the more stringent laws of this province.

In British Columbia a private syndicate of not more than 20 members is exempt from registration under the Securities Act; but if more than 20 members are obtained, it is necessary ofr the syndicate to register. If more than 20 persons are interested the public is presumed to be participating, and the object of the Securities Act is to protect the public.

Officials urged B.C. residents to investigate the proposition thoroughly and take counsel of a broker, banker or solicitor before forwarding any money or completing any application form in connection with Ontario syndicates.

Man Who Refused To Lower Colors Honored

DUNCAN, B.C., Jan. 26 (CP) — Lt.-Col. A. R. Stewart, now a detective on the Vancouver Police force, has been awarded the decoration of Order of the British Empire.

The award was accompanied by an official citation that stated Col. Stewart was "most forceful in his dealings with the Japanese and secured immediately the vital needs of prisoners and war internees. He refused to lower the Union Jack despite very strong representations by the Japanese High Command."

Born in China, Stewart came to Canada at the age of 18 and joined the police force here in 1929. He enlisted with the Irish Fusiliers in 1942 and rose to the rank of regimental sergeant-major.

He was attached to the British Army in England for special work in South East Asia.

Nurse Shortage Cause of Deaths In Hospitals

BOSTON, Jan. 26 (AP)—Death of 60 patients in Massachusetts and Rhode Island hospitals from a mysterious influenza diarrhoea was attributed — at least partially — to a shortage of nurses and attendants.

Health officials said there were 2500 vacant jobs in Massachusetts' 16 mental hospitals, where 40 patients — all of them aged — have died in the last six weeks.

In some institutions, the shortage of help forced patients to aid each other.

In Rhode Island, Governor John O. Pastore named a three-man commission to investigate conditions in the State mental hospitals where 20 deaths have been reported in the last 12 days.

SILVER DROPS AT N.Y.; CLOSES AT 70¾ CENTS

NEW YORK, Jan. 26 (AP)—The copper industry last week reported domestic demand strong at the continuing price of 19½ cents, and noted the Canadian Government's price increase from the wartime level of 11.55 cents a pound to 16.625 cents.

Copper consumers, looking to the dwindling Government stockpile to piece out the gap between second quarter demand and domestic production, reported growing belief that the stockpile allocations would be exhausted before the quarter ends.

Foreign copper sales were recorded in good volume at 20 cents a pound, New York, and some sales in small quantities at 20¾ cents.

Lead supplies remained tight, but the trade said January deliveries may be larger than in recent months. Demand was unabated at 13 cents a pound, New York.

Canada boosted lead prices from 5 cents to 10.63 cents a pound for sale to Canadian manufacturers.

Zinc prices were unchanged at 10½ cents, East St. Louis, for prime Western. Canada boosted its domestic price from the wartime 5.75 to 9.65 cents a pound.

Silver plunged 5¼ cents an ounce Monday, the sharpest one-day drop in 26 years, and closed the week at 70¾ cents an ounce in New York.

BRITISH OFFICER STUDENTS TO LEARN RUSSIAN

LONDON, Jan. 26 (AP) — Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, Chief of the Imperial General Staff, announced all officer-students at the Royal Military Academy at Sandhurst would be taught Russian.

Lord Montgomery, speaking to cadets at Sandhurst, said he believed that the language barrier was the main obstacle to full understanding between Britain and Russia.

Sentenced to 150 Years for Bizarre Kidnapping

DIXON, Ill., Jan. 26 (AP)—Frank Sickles, 27, who pleaded guilty to the bizarre kidnapping of Mrs. Della Stackhouse, was sentenced Saturday to four life terms and 150 years in the penitentiary.

Prosecutors said the sentences—three for kidnapping, one for armed robbery and one for burglary — would make him ineligible for parole until he is 97 years old. The sentences were made to run concurrently.

Delay Train for Hamburgers, but Don't Get Them

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Jan. 26—A Westbound Union Pacific train was delayed 42 minutes Saturday because four of its passengers hankered for some hamburgers.

Mrs. Sadie Moore and her four daughters—en route to California from Illinois—left their Pullman car in Grand Island, Neb., to get hamburgers.

The train left without them. Rail officials heard their woes and decided to hold the train at Kearney until the family could catch up by car.

The clincher to this yarn is—in all the confusion, the girls never did get their hamburgers.

Mike Stooshnoff of Grand Forks Killed in Crash Near Northport

STROKE KILLS FORMER KING OF UNDERWORLD

Al Capone Ruled Chicago's Gangsters From 1925 to '31

DIES AT HOME

AL CAPONE

MIAMI, Jan. 26—Al Capone died at his Miami Beach home Saturday night following complications on the heels of a stroke.

Those who remember Al Capone think of bullet-proof cars, battling machine guns and vicious gangster wars when they hear his name. They think of him as "Scarface," "Public Enemy Number one," the personification of gangland in the roaring 1920's.

This bulky, paunchy man with the jagged scar running from the left side of his forehead to his cheek, ruled Chicago from 1925 till 1931. He was the Czar of Chicago's underworld—the storm center of beer wars and racketeering that cost hundreds of hoodlum lives, and the director of a bootleg syndicate that took in $25,000,000 a year.

TORRIO HIS TEACHER

Federal prison records show that Capone was born in Naples, Italy, on January 17, 1899. His career as a gangster began in New York, and Johnny Torrio was his teacher in crime. Later on, Torrio went to Chicago. And in 1925, when a close shave in a gang war caused Torrio to return East, Capone took over Chicago's gangland rule.

Capone's thugs were the first to use machine guns to eliminate members of rival gangs, and there was a legend that Capone learned the use of this weapon in the First World War. However, the many people who have searched have never been able to find any record that the gangland leader served in the war.

Capone's steel-reinforced motor car became a well known sight in Chicago, and he needed it for protection. A rival gang once fired on the Cicero Hotel when Capone was dining there, but the underworld Czar escaped by dropping to the floor.

FINALLY RAPPED FOR TAX EVASION

For years officials tried in vain to get Capone with charges of gang murders, liquor conspiracy or participating in election frauds. And it was a sort of anti-climax when they finally snagged him for income tax evasion in 1931. When he got sentences totalling 11 years and a fine of $50,000, the scarfaced gangster mumbled something about being hit below the belt.

Ironically enough, the man known as Public Enemy Number One got time off for good behavior. And after a little more than seven and one-half years—part of them in Alcatraz—he was set free in November of 1939. However, the public decided that fate had begun to catch up with Al Capone. He emerged from prison suffering from a periodical brain disorder known as paresis. And he sought recovery by relaxing at his home near Miami Beach in Florida. His doctor said Capone seemed to have a blank memory about his days as underworld Czar. And in filling out an application for a school, Capone's son listed his father's occupation as "retired."

WANTED TO "DIE AT HOME"

Al Capone used to have but one fear as he strutted through Chicago streets in $150 suits and $30 silk shirts.

"I don't want to die, shot in the streets. I want to die at home," he used to say.

Capone's family has sent for a Chicago undertaker to handle the remains of a gang leader who ruled the many rackets of the prohibition era with an iron hand.

A Chicago newspaper says Capone's body will be taken to Chicago on either Tuesday or Wednesday. His mother has always expressed the wish that he be buried in the city where he was best known.

More Dangerous To Be Baby Than Be in Combat

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 (AP) — Catherine E. F. Lenroot, Chief of the Labor Department's Children's Bureau, said it was more dangerous to be a baby in the United States than it was to be in combat during the Second World War.

"Between Pearl Harbor and VJ-Day, 430,000 babies died for lack of good medical and hospital care—nearly twice the number of men killed in action." Miss Lenroot told the 21st annual Women's Patriotic Conference on National Defence.

TROOPS SEARCH JERUSALEM FOR KIDNAPPED BRITON, JEWISH GANG

JERUSALEM, Jan. 26 (CP) — Troops and police scoured Jerusalem tonight for a kidnapped businessman, H. I. Collins, 48-year-old former British cavalry officer, who was seized today near a Moslem cemetery in the heart of the city by four armed Jewish youths and one girl.

Police stations throughout the Holy Land were warned to watch for a green automobile, which authorities thought might be carrying Collins and the kidnappers.

Police investigated unconfirmed reports of a second kidnapping of a British officer but military headquarters here said later this report was "unfounded." The earlier, unconfirmed report said that the officer had disappeared after being held up at pistol point by civilians.

Despite the car clue, some British authorities feared Collins might be dead.

A British officer said of the cemetery search that "about all we can hope to find is a dead body."

RETALIATORY MEASURE

Six hundred British troops, carrying machine guns and lighting their way with parachute flares and tracer bullets, swiftly surrounded a half-mile-square area of the cemetery, situated in the heart of Jerusalem.

British officials attributed the kidnapping to Irgun Zvai Leumi, and said it was in "retaliation" for the sentence pronounced on Dova Bela Groner, alleged Irgun member under sentence to die Tuesday for an attack on a Palestine police station.

HOLIDAYERS MAROONED BY ROAD SLIDES

90 From Seminary Among Trapped; Highways Inundated

RIVERS SUBSIDE

RAINIER NATIONAL PARK, Jan. 26 (AP) — Little or no progress was made today in clearing Saturday's slide on the highway above Narada Falls and freeing the guests at Paradise, it was reported tonight by Park Superintendent John C. Preston.

Among the marooned skiers and others at Paradise are 80 girls and their 10 chaperones from Annie Wright Seminary at Tacoma.

RIVERS RECEDE

SEATTLE, Jan. 26 (AP)—Brimful Northwestern Washington rivers, which spilled over their banks late last week, receded slowly today as coller weather dissipated the threat of another disastrous Winter flood.

Red Cross headquarters at Renton, just South of Seattle, said its evacuation equipment and disaster facilities were on a standby basis but it had not been necessary to put them to use.

Several roads were still inundated and many farm houses were surrounded by water, but the situation improved gradually during the day.

The Milwaukee Railroad's Olympian, due in Seattle at 8 a.m. today from Chicago, was delayed five hours by an earth slide shortly after midnight East of Cle Elum.

Weather observers, in their state forecast, predicted showers along the Coast and in the Western valleys Monday with snow flurries elsewhere. Little change in temperature is expected.

Car Strikes Burnaby Lad

BURNABY, Jan. 26.—Five-year-old Richard Smith of Burnaby, B.C., suffered head injuries tonight when he was struck by an automobile. His condition is reported by hospital authorities to be only fair. Hospital authorities say that young Smith is still unconscious. No further details are available.

FALLS THROUGH STORE WINDOW; BLEEDS TO DEATH ON STREET BENCH

VANCOUVER, Jan. 26 (CP) — Herbert O. Moulton, painter, gashed his leg in a fall through a Main Street store window early Saturday then stumbled helplessly to a street bench and bled to death. Moulton had been attending a party in a night club and left the group. He was later found on the bench bleeding from a gash caused by glass cuts.

THE ATOMIC AGE!

OMAHA, Neb., Jan 26 (AP) — It was one of those cold, frosty days. Mrs. C. M. Howard, kindergarten teacher, tried to be enthusiastic.

"Now we are all going to the windows," she told the class, "and see what Jack Frost did last night — how he painted all the shrubs, trees, bushes and blades of grass."

"Mrs. Howard," interrupted John Heptinger, aged five.

"Yes?"

"Mrs. Howard, that's all caused by the warm air currents coming in contact with the cold curents. Then the moisture condenses and leaves those ice crystals on the bushes. There ain't no Jack Frost."

EMPHASIZES NEED OF DEVELOPMENT PLAN IN CANADA

VANCOUVER, Jan. 26—A noted Eastern economist—Doctor Leonard C. Marsh—has emphasized in Vancouver the necessity of a Dominion Government full employment program.

Doctor Marsh, author of Canada's Marsh Plan for Social Security, is in Vancouver on holiday. He warned in an interview that there is every possibility of a depression in Canada even as soon as three years from now.

Man Jumps to Death From 86th Floor; Strikes Woman

NEW YORK, Jan. 26 — A man who leaped to his death today from the 86th floor observation tower of the Empire State Building in New York struck and critically injured a woman pedestrian. The man was identified tentatively as David H. Gordon Jr., about 40 years old, of the Men's Residence Club of New York. The injured woman was Mrs. Frances Coover, 51, of Ames, Iowa.

CLAIM U.S. HEADED FOR DEPRESSION

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 — Top-notch European economists believe American business is headed for a mild depression soon. The time element finds these economists in some disagreement however. One Belgian says an American depression has arrived. A Briton says 1950. The others choose some period between now and 1950. But the big question is—"how much effect would an American depression have on Canada?" The French see an American depression as having a fearful effect on France, almost too disastrous to think about.

THE PAS, Man., Jan. 26 (CP)—Sixty-five Indian families who studied the white man's way of commercial fishing have proven themselves apt pupils. They took a total of 102,600 pounds of whitefish from South Indian and Granville Lakes in Northern Manitoba.

Singer and Prince Crash Victims

NEW YORK, Jan. 26 — The American singer Grace Moore, who was killed in an airplane crash today, left the United States in July, 1946. She was on a European concert tour and also made appearance before American servicemen on occupation duty in Europe.

Originally, she was scheduled to return to the United States in February for star appearances at the Metropolitan Opera House in New York. But she cancelled these engagements because her husband, Valentin Parera, was sick.

During her European visit, the singer spent much of her time with her husband at their home in the South of France. She planned to stay abroad until September. When her plane crashed, she was on the way from Copenhagen to Stockholm.

Miss Moore was 45 years of age, and a native of Slabtown, Tennessee. When she was five years of age, she moved to Jellico, Tennessee. And she said of Jellico: "I started my musical career there when I sang in the church choir. So, that is really where life began for me."

Although blonde, blue-eyed Grace Moore made her stage debut in musical comedy, she saved her pennies and cultivated her soprano voice until she attained Grand Opera. She made her debut at the Metropolitan in 1928 in the the opera "La Boheme."

Miss Moore has given command performances before the crowned heads of England, Sweden, Norway, Denmark and Belgium.

During the war, she volunteered for the USO early. And even before a schedule had been set up, she paid her own way from army camp to army camp.

Miss Moore's mother, Mrs. Richard Moore, and a number of brothers and sisters live in Chattanooga, Tenn. Miss Moore made her home in Newtown, Connecticut.

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 26 — The death of Swedish Prince Gustaf Adolf in an airplane crash at Copenhagen was announced over the Swedish radio. The news saddened Sweden and brought expressions of sympathy for his widow and five children. The children include four girls and a boy born last April. The baby now is second in line for the throne.

Gustaf Adolf was known as the Rider Prince to Sweden's people. He was 40 years old and his father is 64 year old Crown Prince Gustaf Adolf. King Kustaf, his grandfather, is 88.

The late Prince Gustaf Adolf was head of the Boy Scout movement in Sweden as well as an officer in the Swedish army. He presided over a physical education program in which upwards of 1,000,000 Swedes were benefitted. The tall, handsome Prince was considered as perhaps the best horseman in Sweden. He represented his country as a rider in the last Olympic Games in Berlin.

He married Princess Sibylle of Saxw-Coburg-Gatha in 1932.

Early Thaws Causing Slides On Rails, Roads

With higher temperatures and light rainfall bringing general thaw conditions in the Kootenays, Public Works plows and railway crews were kept busy over the weekend.

Only serious disruption to rail transportation was reported from the Zincton area where an Eastbound freight train was caught in a slide Friday afternoon. The train, refuelling and bucking previous slides, was held up by what was believed to be a recurrence of the Rambler slide, one of the three bad slide spots between New Denver and Zincton. The cars had not been cleared by Sunday afternoon, but a C.P.R. official reported that plows had been working in the Kaslo subdivision during the weekend and word was awaited that the train had been dug out. Its crew reached Nelson by bus Saturday.

All lines other than the Kaslo-New Denver run were reported open.

ROAD COVERED

A rock slide at Vallican is the only District highway tie-up. It is causing little difficulty, however, as the old road on the West side of the Slocan River is being used. It is expected to be open Tuesday.

The Elko-Fernie highway, which was blocked by a 400-foot long landslide Friday, is expected to be open by Monday.

U. S. FIRST TARGET IN NEXT WAR, KENNEY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 — General George Kenney predicts that in the event of a future war the United States will be the first target. Kenney, the chief of the Strategic Air Command at Andrews Field, Maryland, declares that if war comes there will be a trans-polar assault by the enemy which might kill or injure 25,000,000 persons in first 24 hours. In an address written for Women's Patriotic Conference in Washington, Kenney predicts that the attack would come over the shortest air routes from Europe-Asia land mass across the North polar basin—which would involve a trip across Canada. He says that it would be made by both piloted and pilotless radio-controlled missiles and by rockets—all of them loaded with atomic bombs, super-explosives and material for germ warfare.

Byrd Set for Carrier Takeoff To Little America

LITTLE AMERICA, Jan. 26 (AP) —Little America is waiting anxiously for word that six big, stripped-down navy air transports have taken off safely from the carrier Philippine Sea on a daring 600-mile flight to this Antarctic base.

Messages from the Philippine Sea, which made a rendezvous early Saturday with three other ships off Scott Island, indicated that Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, Commander of the expedition, has the planes poised for take-off. He will fly in the lead plane.

Human Skeleton Rolls Out of Washed Down Bank

NANAIMO, B. C., Jan. 26 (AP)—Gales which have been lashing the Eastern Vancouver Island coast line for two days have washed down a gravel bank at the mouth of Englishman's River, a few miles North of Nanaimo. As the gravel crumbled out rolled a human skeleton some time Friday night.

Provincial Police Constable Parsley of Parksville now has possession of the bones which undoubtedly had remained buried in the gravel for more than 50 years.

Examination of the skull reveals that the relic was one of the island's famed "Flathead Indians" with the skull top tapering back to a high point and starting where normally eyebrows would be.

There was a bullet hole through the front of the skull and another square hole at the top and back end of the skull, evidence of the ancient trepanning custom of the tribe, where in a small aperture was chiselled out of the skull to permit "exist of evil spirits."

Police are holding the skeleton for instructions from Victoria.

Private Industry To Handle Housing

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 (AP) — The United States Government gave notice Saturday that it has shifted to private industry the chief responsibility for meeting the housing shortage, with Federal controls and aid to be continued only where they "will result in more housing."

Opera Star, Prince Among 46 Victims In Air Disasters

American Grace Moore and Swedish Prince Gustaf Meet Flaming Death; 17 to 21 Believed Missing in China

CRASH SCATTERS MILLIONS IN GOLD

By The Canadian Press

The third January series of weekend disasters on the world's air routes took a known toll on Sunday night of 46 lives, including the American opera soprano Grace Moore and Prince Gustaf Adolf, second in line to the throne of Sweden, and left unknown the fate of 17 to 21 other persons reported missing aboard a Chinese civilian plane.

This weekend's worst aerial disaster occurred when a Royal Dutch Airlines (K-L-M) DC3 crashed and burst into flames Sunday a few minutes after taking off from Copenhagen airport. Sixteen passengers including Miss Moore and Prince Gustaf Adolf and six crew members were killed.

GRACE MOORE

The crash came a day after another DC-3, carrying settlers and nuns as missionaries to East Africa, crashed and burned in a mist-shrouded take-off at Croydon Airport near London, killing 12 of its 23 occupants. The dead included an entire family of four and three nuns, one of whom chose to perish in the flames rather than imperil a rescuer.

Relatives and friends of the victims were stunned Saturday as they saw the transport falter as it took to the air and then crash into an unoccupied Czech airlines plane. Both planes burst into flames which bared rescuers.

Seven pasengers and four of the five-man crew survived. The pilot, Capt. Ted Spencer who headed the Spencer Airways, operators of the American-built airliner, was killed. He had arrived in London only this month offering 6000-mile flights to former servicemen planning to make their homes in East Africa.

The heroic nun who sacrificed her life was en route to Nyasaland. George Wright, a former serviceman en route to Johannesburg to find work, said the nun saved his life. "I remember trying to help a nun out of the plane but suddenly she turned around and pushed me outside."

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cond, their 2½-year-old son Peter, and a five-month-old daughter died in the Croydon crash, as did the family's young governess.

GOLD SCATTERED BY CRASH

The broken bodies of four crew members and $5,000,000 in gold were removed Sunday from the wreckage of a Philippines airlines plane which crashed into a Hong Kong mountain Saturday. Two and a half tons of the precious metal, packed in 50 cases were spread over a quarter-mile area and officials said that one-third of the scattered shipment would never be found.

A heavy guard was thrown around the area as authorities feared a "gold rush" by destitute Chinese.

Saturday the pilot and four passengers of a twin-engined private plane were killed when their aircraft crashed into barnyard and exploded six miles Southeast of Rensselaer, Indiana.

A United States Army plane crashed Saturday about 60 miles South of Hamburg, said an announcement by American Air headquarters in Europe, quoted by the German news service in the American Zone. The pilot was fatally injured. There were no reports of other passengers.

A Chinese National Aviation Corporation plane with 17 to 21 persons aboard was overdue and believed lost Sunday on a flight from Canton to Chungking.

Reports on the number of passengers ranged from 14 to 16 and on the crew from three to five.

Two men were killed Saturday when their Mosquito aircraft crashed near Kirby Fleetham, Yorkshire, England.

An R.A.F. Mosquito plane with a crew of two abpard has been listed as missing since Friday when it left Bordeaux, France, to fly to Istres in Southern France. Bad weather has prevented aerial search for the mising aircraft.

STUDENT CRASHES

Two persons were killed in the crash of their two-passenger lightweight plane in an open farm field near Taneytown, Carroll County, Md. The plane, apparently lost and off its course, fell during a heavy rainstorm.

In Indiana, James Carruthers, 20-year-old Purdue University sophomore studying aeronautical engineering, was killed in the crash near Rochester of his small cabin plane.

The plane fell in sight of his home shortly after he had waved from the plane to his parents, Mr. and Mr. Harold Carruthers, and headed for Rochester airport two miles away.

Mentions No Ways of Bringing More Into Country

OTTAWA, Jan. 26 (CP) — Agriculture Minister Gardiner said Saturday he thought it was pretty well agreed that Canada should have a population of 20,000,000 people but he could not say what steps, if any, the Government might take to bring more people into the country.

He made it clear in an interview that in an address he made on immigration recently in Vancouver he was not advocating an "open door" policy when he suggested 10,000,000 to 12,000,000 might be admitted into Canada from Europe.

"I just suggested what I thought was necessary but how or when they can get those people I am not prepared to say."

There was nothing new in what he had suggested—"I have been saying that for 20 years."

Convicted of Telling Fortunes Contrary to Code

OTTAWA, Jan. 26 (CP) — Azalia DeJausserand, 52-year-old Ottawa woman said to have given horoscopical advice to members of Parliament, Government officials and other leading citizens, was fined $75 and costs in court Saturday on conviction on a charge of telling fortunes, contrary to the Criminal Code.

Pictorial Paper Record Edition

The Twelfth Annual Pictorial and Industrial Edition of the Nelson Daily News published on Saturday marked an all time record for newspaper publication in Kootenay-Boundary.

Is was the largest paper that the Kootenay-Boundary district has produced. It was 68 pages and the total distribution exceeded 15,700 copies. More than 7½ tons of newsprint was used in the printing.

In news stories and photographs it pictured the activities of the people of Kootenay and Boundary more completely than ever before.

Not only was the distribution greater than in the case of any preceding issue but it was also wider. In addition to the heavy distribution in Canada and the United States copies went to countries in Europe, Asia, Australasia and Africa. Removal of wartime postal restrictions made this possible.

Orders for extra copies are continuing to come in and the papers are being mailed promptly to their destination.

Mrs. Wallace was playing cribbage with Mr. Wallace at their home at 211 Cedar Street, with John Thom kibitzing at the time. She held the five of diamonds, five of spades, five of clubs and jack of hearts in her hand and the five of hearts was turned up.

TOAST and TEA
BY J. V. McARDLE

A man rushed into a newspaper office and announced, "My name's Auchnutty."

"That so?" said the editor noncommittally. "What about it?"

"What about it?" roared the other. "You printed in your paper today that I'm dead!"

"Un-m-m," mused the editor. "Must be some mistake. We're very sorry."

"Very sorry," mocked Auchnutty. "Say, do you realize what a fix I'd be in if I believed everything I read in your paper?"

COAL MINERS PLAN TO STRIKE WITHIN WEEK

13,000 in Maritimes to Stop Work Jan. 31

WAY CLEAR

OTTAWA, Jan. 26 — Thirteen thousand coal miners in the Maritimes are predicting they will have just one more week on the job for a while—after that they expect to go on strike.

It has been said for the past month that last week's meeting in Ottawa would be the last hope of averting a strike in Maritime coal mines. But that meeting got nowhere—it is understood the company wouldn't go beyond its offer of a $1 a day increase. The union has lowered its demands from $2.50 to a $1.40 a day, but has come down no further. The government made it clear that no additional subsidies would cover the wage increases.

Finally the meeting broke down, and that left the way clear for a Maritime coal strike on January 31. And the only happy people in the Maritimes are those with old furnaces in their homes.

150 Strongboxes Stolen While Guests Slept

NEW YORK, Jan. 26 (AP)—One hundred and fifty steel deposit boxes containing an estimated $25,000 to $50,000 in cash and valuables were stolen from one of Coney Island's largest Turkish bath houses early today while 200 guests slept in other parts of the building.

Seven bandits entered Silver's Bath with drawn guns, tied up the manager, Bernie Hellman, 50, and then spent half an hour carrying the strongboxes to two cars.

Police estimated the loot after waking guests and getting a tentative list of what they had placed in the boxes.

Warship Used As Hideout for Loot

MANILA, Jan. 26 (AP) — Police Saturday discovered that the rusting hulk of a partially-submerged Japanese warship is the hideout for loot of a gang of pier thieves preying on merchant ships congesting this port.

Twelve bales of cotton thread valued at $3750 were stowed aboard the wreck.

A search of 300 ghost vessels cluttering the harbor was ordered by police after two customs employees were charged with throwing 12 bales of thread into the bay. The bales presumably were to have been recovered by confederates.

Masters to Coach Ottawa Trojans

OTTAWA, Jan. 26 (CP)— A bold challenge for football supremacy came out of the Ontario Rugby Football Union cellar Saturday with the announcement that Wally Masters famed United States College backfielder and former Rough Rider Star in the Big Four, had signed to coach Ottawa Trojans in 1947.

ATLANTA, Jan. 26—The two claimants to the title of Georgia's governor may settle their dispute before the courts on Feb. 7. Lieutenant Governor M. E. Thompson and Herman Talmadge have been summoned to appear in the same court at McDonough, Georgia, to answer suits filed by the Fulton National Bank of Atlanta.

The Fulton National Bank filed suit to determine who is the legal governor of the state. Meanwhile, the bank refuses to honor checks drawn by either claimant to the governorship.

Sask. Towns Free From 20 Days Isolation

REGINA, Jan. 26 (CP) —Twenty-day, snowbound isolation ended Saturday for towns and villages along the Radville-Lampman line of Southern Saskatchewan as a special 37-car train renewed food and fuel stock near depletion.

The train, which stopped overnigh at Radville, 70 miles Southwest of here, to give the exhausted crew a short rest, moved East along the 80-mile sub-division line greeted at every stop by eager crowds.

Housewives replenished larders with bread, butter, sugar and vegetables not seen for several days.

A. M. Crowie, Provincial Agricultural representative at Weyburn said the unusual amount of snow would probably provide the best seed bed next Spring the country has seen in many years.

Chinese Reds Routed in Raid

NANKING, Jan. 26 (AP) — Six Chinese Communist divisions which swept South into Government-held Central Manchuria in a menacing Winter raid have been routed, pro-Government dispatches asserted Friday.

While these successes eased any threat to the capital city of Changchun and environs, the Government was not doing so well in China proper.

USE TEAR GAS TO BREAK MOSLEM PROTEST

Total Moslems Arrested Near 100; Deputy Chief Seized

LAHORE, India, Jan. 26 (AP)—Police used tear gas Saturday to break up demonstrators protesting the arrest of high-ranking Moslem League leaders and the Punjab Provincial Government's decision outlawing the Moslem League's National Guard.

More than 30 Moslems were arrested, bringing the total of arrests to almost 100. Seven Moslem League members of the Punjab Provincial Legislative Assembly were taken into custody for shouting defiant slogans in violation of a public safety ordinance after they left a party caucus in Assembly chambers. The deputy chief Assembly whip of the Moslem Party was seized.

Moslem merchants in Lahore, in Delhi, 275 miles to the Southeast, and in Bombay, 900 miles to the South, closed their shops in protest against the Punjab Government actions, and protest meetings were called in major Delhi and Bombay mosques. Bombay Province's 2,500,000 Moslems were ordered to strike.

Punjab Province's population is predominantly Moslem, but its Government is made up of a coalition of anti-League Moslems.

The eight Moslem League leaders arrested Friday in Lahore, including the League's Provincial President, were arraigned Saturday on charges of resisting a sudden police search of headquarters of the League guard, a quasi-military organization formed to keep order at Moslem League assemblies.

A procession of 200 Moslem women and girl students was tear-gassed by police while shouting "Pakistan!" (Pakistan is the name for the independent state demanded by the Moslems in Iidia.)

Sandon Pioneer Dies at Trail

Funeral services were held Thursday morning for Mrs. Priscilla Macdonald, formerly of Sandon, who died Tuesday morning in Trail-Tadanac Hospital after a lengthy illness.

Mrs. Macdonald was born at Peake's Station, P.E.I. In 1900 she married William James Macdonald and moved to B.C. the same year. She went to Sandon in 1903 and continued to reside there for 42 years, moving to Nelson in 1945, and to Trail a few months ago.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Macdonald is survived by one son, J. V. Macdonald, and one granddaughter, both of Trail, and one sister, Mrs. D. J. McGillivray, of Belmont, Mass.

Requiem High Mass was sung by the Rev. Father O'Carroll, assisted by Fr. Cain, C.S.S.R., from St. Francis Xavier Church, Trail, Thursday morning. Interment was in Mountain View Cemetery.

Pallbearers were P. H. Long, H. T. Hartin, Santo DelPuppo, William Cant, Dan MacDonald and James Boates.

Out of town relatives and friends attending the funeral included Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Boates, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Long and Mrs. C. R. McLanders, all of Nelson, Mrs. Allan MacDonald, Cranbrook, and Mr. and Mrs. William Batten, Salmo.

ARREST 100 FOR GAMBLING

NEW YORK, Jan. 26—There is a two-storey frame building on the outskirts of Glen Cove, New York, which has a small sign neatly framed over the doorway. The sign reads "The Collins Seed Service Company." But Nassau County officials say the building has been used for other purposes besides selling seeds to flower and vegetable growers. They raided the premises early this morning and found 10 dice games in progress with more than 100 men and women as eager participants. District Attorney James Gehrig says he is holding everybody found in the building as common gamblers. Seven patrol cars were used to transport everybody to the hoosegow in Mineola.

Pre-War French Beauty on Trial On Nazi Soy Charge

BORDEAUX, France, Jan. 26 (AP) —Madelein Coraboeuf, who once had a love idyll with "My Benito" Mussolini and shot a French Ambassador whom she blamed for breaking up the romance, will go on trial Wednesday, charged with acting as a spy for the Nazis.

The once-beautiful darling of the prewar Paris literary and theatrical world now is 37, and has become so nervous that doctors have been giving her sedatives.

The daughter and granddaughter of French artists, Miss Coraboeuf was married at 17, divorced two years later, and then became a newspaperwoman who called herself Magda de Fontanges. She was on terms of warm friendship with numerous political personalities in the early '30s.

In 1936 she went to Italy to help "celebrate the Fascist era," and she managed an introduction to Mussolini through the French Ambassador Count Charles de Chambrun.

Later, after the romance soured, she blamed the Ambassador, and fired two revolver shots at him in a Paris railway station in 1937.

The shooting caused a sensation, but the case never came to trial.

She is charged with hiring herself out as a Nazi spy for $42.50 a month plus expenses and for denouncing several Frenchmen to the Germans.

At her preliminary hearing, she said she had given the Germans only valueless information that lulled and misguided them.

Britain Hopes to Rule Air With Jet Planes

LONDON, Jan. 26—Thousands of British people today hope that Britain one day may rule the air commercially just as her ships once dominated the seas.

They hope to create the slick, jet-pushed flying wings able to flash across the Atlantic in a matter of a few hours. They also will give a good deal of attention to making aircraft as familiar in the air as the British tramp steamers on the sea.

However, workers, scientists and governmental departments know they are facing aggressive competition. They know that the air liners are largely American which are flying the world's prestige routes.

Britain threw her resources into the production of war planes and vital trainers. The flow of British design was broken as far as transports were concerned. Now Britain's most conservative constructors believe they may need five to six years to catch up.

However, during the critical war years, the British concentrated on engine design, and in that field they now believe they have a two-year lead.

The British doubt that others can teach them much about jet propulsion, and they are proud of their new gas turbine engines. The British also think they have learned a great deal about aerodynamics, which is vital as planes approach or exceed the speed of sound.

British aviation is keeping its eye on two revolutions. First is the technical revolution. Then there is the industrial and political revolution of nationalization.

As a result of all these things, aviation leaders admit readily that there are many shortcomings in British commercial aviation in a comparison with America. But the British are as determined as they were during the battle of Britain.

Claim British Housing Plan Not a Success

LONDON, Jan. 26 (Reuters)—Britain's permanent prefabricated steel houses, 30,000 of which were to be built by the British Iron and Steel Federation and its subsidiary, British Steel Houses, Ltd., are not a success, in the view of three Labor Members of Parliament.

They made these criticisms in the House Friday:

The parts have been provided, but not the nuts and bolts to put them together. Planners have forgotten that the best place for overflow water to flow is outside the house and not in it, and the design is such that if all members of the family joined hands they could play "Ring o' Roses" around the chimney in the centre.

The price—£1200 ($4800)—is prohibitive despite a Government grant to municipal corporations. The delay in construction—only 70 three-room houses so far completed—is doing nothing to ease Britain's acute housing shortage.

Alex McCaskill Laid at Rest

Funeral rites of the Salvation Army were accorded Alexander McCaskill, oldtime logger of Nelson iDstrict, at the Thompson Funeral Home Saturday. Capt. F. H. Pierce of the Nelson Citadel conducted the service.

Two hymns, "Abide With Me" and "Rock of Ages" were sung, Mrs. Eva Burkholder rendering organ accompaniment.

Pallbearers were C. Kennedy, A. McLeod, D. Tychy and Herbert McGuire. Interment was in Nelson Memorial Park.

TO STUDY ENLARGING OF SUPREME COURT

VICTORIA, Jan. 26 (CP)—Attorney General Wismer said Friday he would study the suggestion of Chief Justice Wendell B. Farris that the Supreme Court of British Columbia be enlarged from six to eight members.

"This is a matter for cooperation between this Government and Ottawa," the Attorney General said. "The matter will be taken up and given consideration."

Chief Justice Farris had pointed out that the Supreme Court was still the same size as it was 35 years ago, although the population of Greater Vancouver had increased five times and B. C.'s population had doubled.

He suggested one judge should be provided for the holding of courts in the interior, which was demanding more service from the Supreme Court.

Truth Subject of Lesson Sermon

"Truth" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon included the following passage from the Bible: "For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any twoedged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and ofthe joints and marrow and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart." Hebrews 4: 12.

Among the selctions from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, was the following: "Radiant with mercy and justice, the sword of Truth gleams afar and indicates the infinite distance between Truth and error, between the material and spiritual—the unreal and the real."

Leonard said he was fired from his union job because he tried to set up an organizers independent union not affiliated with the C.I.O.

Prior to the start of the game, Goalie Sam Quigley of the Dynamiters was presented with a baby buggy by President Jim Livingstone on behalf of the Dynamiters and the Executive. Sam having during the past week become the proud papy of a future Dynamiter.

Looking very much like a well beaten club with less than ten minutes to go in the final period after having been outskated, outplayed and outscored throughout, and the count 5-1 against them the Dynamiters came through with a sustained offensive that had the capacity crowd in an uproar, as they completely disorganized the Leafs and swarmed in on Seaby and rattled five goals past him in five minutes to take the 6-5 decision.

Rumors in Nelson that Seaby had been hurt in the game were denied Sunday night by hockey officials. The hot-stovers had it that Seaby's shoulder injury had been aggravated, and that a wire from Kimberley called for his sub, Jim Heuston, to be sent over for the Monday game. Nelson officials were in touch with the team by phone and learned that everything was fine, the loss was "just one of those things."

The going was rather heavy and the fleetfooted Nelson boys skated the locals ragged in the first 50 minutes of play. The Kimberley offensive was in spurts and Seaby was safe when they did get through. Meanwhile the Leafs scored once in the opening period and twice in the second period to hold a 3-0 lead opening the final frame. The Winlaw-Vickers-Allen line was a standout up to this point. A Brown-from-Swaney goal broke the goose egg for Kimberley early in the third but Nelson roared back with two more fast ones with their first string again clicking nicely, but then the roof fell in as far as the Leafs were concerned as the Dynamiters banged home a goal a minute for five minutes to leave the Leafs and the fans very limp.

The three star selection made by Mrs. Joe Rochon were Vickers, Brown, Allen.

Mr. Abel said that each of the eight teams will be playing some 160 games and he added that there would be no post-season playoffs.

CANADIENS HAVE 7 OF 8

MONTREAL, Jan. 26—Trouncing their cousins Boston Bruins 4-1 in a sometimes loose and ragged game at Montreal Saturday night Canadiens ran their streak to seven wins in eight games this season with Boston and moved within four points of the National League leading Toronto Maple Leafs who lost to Rangers at Toronto.

Bruins matched strides in the first period but wilted badly in the last two sessions as Canadiens kept the pressure on the harried Frankie Brimsek, who played a standout game in Boston nets.

Veteran Toe Blake sank a pair of goals, one three quarters through the first period and another in the first minute of the last stanza. Rookie Leo Gravelle sandwiched a second period goal between Blake's efforts and Maurice Richard was credited with Canadiens final tally, pushed into the nets after Brimsek smothered the puck that the referee was slow in blowing his whistle.

Joe Carveth broke Durnan's shutout hopes with less than two minutes to go in the game, as the badly tired Bruins made a last rally.

Nine penalties were handed out in the hard bumping game, seen by 11,000 fans.

Rangers Turn Back Fighting Leafs; Canadiens Trounce Bruins 4-1

TORONTO, Jan. 26—Frank Boucher's New York Rangers eased themselves into third spot in the National Hockey League race Saturday night at Maple Leaf Gardens, Toronto, as they defeated the Toronto Maple Leafs 1-0.

Brian Hextall scored the lone tally at 15:58 of the first period and the Rangers never relinquished that slim lead. The loss for Toronto cut the Maple Leafs advantage to four points over the second place Montreal Canadiens who turned back Boston Bruins in Montreal. The game in Toronto was cleanly played with only one penalty. It went to Toronto's Klukay in the second period.

A crowd of almost 14,000 was in attendance.

Trail Juniors Take Nelson Legionnaires 7-3

After spotting the Nelson Legionnaires two quick goals in the opening minutes of the first period the speedy Trail Junior Smoke Eaters bounced back to score seven times and trim the Intermediates 7-3 in an exhibition hockey game played before several hundred fans at the Civic Arena Saturday night.

The Legion team, sporting new sweaters, played one of their best games to date but were unable to match the terrific speed set by Gerry Thomson's hopefuls who took full advantage of the fast Nelson ice to roar in on Legion net guardian Buck Stedile and notch four goals in the first stanza, two in the second and one in the final session.

The Junior's secondary line of Harnation, Carlson and Paquette took scoring honors for the visitors, collecting three goals and four assists. Other counters went to Mailey, Pasquallato, Petrie and Secco. Absent from the Trail lineup was ace centreman Archie Scott and goaltender Bruce Ham who filled in for the injured Al Laface in the Spokane nets against the Trail seniors, Friday.

Legion goal-getters were "Red" Wassick and Jarbeau with assists going to McDonald and Gallicano, Nelson's third and final goal coming from the stick of Jim Gryson on a pass from McDonald.

Lineups:

Nelson — Stedile; defence, Kuhn, Wassick, Porteous and Holland; forwards, Nash, Haines, Whitfield, McDonald, Gryson, R. Wassick, Gallicano, Hooker, Noakes, Jarbeau and Koehle.

Trail—Shields; defence, Bell, Mondin, Peebles and Pasquallato; forwards, Secco, Cook, Ircandia, Petrie, Mailey, Camponi, Carlson, Paquette and Harnation.

Hogan Trims Par To Win Phoenix Open

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 26 (AP)—Blazin' Ben Hogan, little Mr. Big of golf, shattered par and the hopes of rivals today to win the $10,000 Phoenix open tournament with a 72-hole score of 270. He successfully defended the title he won a year ago, beating out a formidable field.

The United States open champion, Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago, and Ed (Porky) Oliver of Wilmington, Del., tied for second place with scores of 277.

Hogan, the Hershey, Pa., "hot shot" via Fort Worth, Tex., finished by clipping two strokes off par with his 36-33—69. He shaded standard figures by 14 shots over the four rounds to set a tournament record for the course.

Last year's record mark of 273 was held jointly by Hogan and Herman Keiser of Akron, O., Hogan winning the playoff with a 68 to a 70.

Hogan put together rounds of 67-64-70-69, always under par. His second round 64 equalled the competitive course record set in 1946 by Vic Ghezzi of Knoxville, Tenn.

The victory, second of the Winter tournament swing for the diminutive shotmaker, netted him $2000. He won the Los Angeles open three weeks ago.

Dodd on Track After 3-Year Layoff, Trims Quinn, Record

BOSTON, Jan. 26 (AP) — The flying parson, Gil Dodds of Boston, resumed his indoor mile running Saturday night by defeating Tom Quinn of New York, by 40 yards in 4:09.1, a meet record, in the O'Reilly Memorial feature of the Knights of Columbus track meet at the Boston Garden.

Returning from a three-year layoff from major indoor competition, Dodds, who set the world indoor record of 4:06.4 in 1944, thrilled a crowd of 12,000 by turning in Boston's fastest indoor mile on a new $18,000 spruce running surface. Les MacMitchell winner of Friday night's Philadelphia Inquirer mile, was an unimpressive fourth.

Goal-Tending Tough on Tootsies Finds Leafs' Turk Broda

TORONTO, Jan. 26 (CP)—You'd maybe never believe it without someone around to speak with authority but goal tending in the National Hockey League has something in common with the ballet—they're both hard on the toes.

The authority in this case is Turk Broda, the pudgy fellow from Brandon, Man., who guards the goal for Toronto Maple Leafs.

He says it's so, that right now, tonight, he's in the process of losing both big toe nails and adds, "it's because of kick-out stops early in the season."

But, says the Turk, you can grow new toe nails. The eyes are what really count for a goalie.

"They're the best weapons a goalie has and when they start going, you quit," said the Maple Leafs' netminder, who has allowed 91 goals in 38 games to stand second among the N.H.L. goalies back of Canadiens' Bill Durnan who has allowed 77 goals in 36 encounters.

DEFLECTED SHOTS A HEADACHE

Now about puck blocking?

"Well, anybody with a clear-cut chance is dangerous and you can't afford to guess on any of them. The treatment is the same for everybody. You wait and make them commit themselves and cut the angle down as much as possible."

Broda trains on table tennis. It offers enough moving around to keep his legs in shape but mostly it keeps the eyes in trim.

"I'll take my chances against any of them if I can see the puck," said Broda. "When I can't I just stand there or move over to where it should be going and wait for it to hit me."

Pet hate: The shot that is deflected by a leg, a stick, a skate or a body, even if you see it all the way.

"You see the thing coming," he said. "You have a split second to move. And then the puck is headed for where you aren't and you're picking it out of the net."

Ready to Spend Money on Highways

Advocates of better highways in British Columbia, and they certainly include the overwhelming majority of the people of this Province, will find encouragement in the speech of Hon. Herbert Anscomb.

Mr. Anscomb was for years Minister of Public Works. When in charge of that Department he became seized of the absolute modernization of British Columbia highways and he advocated large appropriations for the purpose. He is now Minister of Finance, and feels the same way about the matter as the Minister in charge of the public treasury. He feels that British Columbia can profit out of good highways. He sees their importance to the residents of the Province. Those who operate automobiles or otherwise pay for their use, for pleasure or business purposes, can save as a consequence of good highways much more than the cost of modernization of the highway system. All British Columbians, whether car owners or not, can profit out of the expansion of business, both from internal development and from that arising out of increase in tourist traffic from other parts of Canada and from the United States.

We in Kootenay know that Mr. Anscomb realizes that we need not only good transprovincial roads but also first class connecting links with the United States, from which we can obtain such an immensely profitable part of our tourist business. He has in Nelson and elsewhere clearly expressed himself on that point.

The situation looks promising for the Nelson-Salmo delegation which is to meet members of the Cabinet on Jan. 31 and press claims for the modernization and surfacing of the Nelson-Nelway highway. It will meet members of a Government which is highway conscious, which has buoyant revenues, which through Premier John Hart has recently made an excellent financial deal with the Dominion, and which sees the need for immediate large expenditures upon highway improvements in addition to those upon which it has already embarked.

It Makes the Sensitive Cringe

Does your gorge heave? Do you have frequent nausea? Do you ever feel as though your brain had turned into low-grade mushroom soup? If so, you are probably a victim of hypocorisma.

Hypocorisma is not a thing which you have yourself; it is a thing which other people have which makes you suffer the symptoms listed above. Hypocorisma is a university word meaning baby-talk.

Dr. Allen Walker Read of Columbia University says that there are six types of hypocorisma. They are (1) wheedling, (2) talking to children, (3) talking to a lover, (4) talking to a dumb animal, (5) talking sarcastically, and (6) writing certain sorts of advertisements. We will provide examples of each type herewith: (1) "Is the big bad Papa Bear going to buy his Snuffkins a new hat?" (2) "Of course Mama's Poopsie-Woopsie is going to eat the lovely prune." (3) "Whose Baby Doll is Oo?" (4) "Aw! was it a lovely Doggykins then?" (5) "Does Mama's Boy want the big nasty Sergeant to take away his nasty old rifle?" (6) "Gollywog Soups are easy on the hummy. They're vitamin- packed and boy! are they Yummy!" Any or all of these instances of hypocorisma are calculated to make sensitive people cringe.

Hypocorisma is incurable; the only way to stop some people from talking baby-talk is to shoot them and put the body in a concrete tomb. It is possible to prevent hypocorisma in the young by proper training, however. Noah Webster said that "a boy of 6 years of age may be taught to speak as correctly as Cicero did before the Roman Senate." If you have a boy of 6 in your home you should inoculate him against hypocorisma at once.

Police Exceed Powers in Dick Case

During the course of Mrs. Evelyn Dick's appeal against her conviction for murder, Mr. Justice Henderson noted that she had been taken from her home and questioned while technically charged with vagrancy.

"I didn't know a British subject in Canada was liable to be taken to the police station for questioning (he said). What possible grounds were there for a charge of vagrancy? She lived in her own home with her mother. If this kind of thing is going on, it is time we found out about it," he said.

At the time of Mrs. Dick's arrest, it was explained in the press that holding a suspect on a charge of vagrancy, while the police conducted further investigations, was a method quite commonly used, states the Toronto Globe and Mail. It has the advantage of keeping suspects from comparing notes on the line of inquiry the police are following, and thus no doubt facilitates the obtaining of evidence. On the other hand, there is nothing whatever in the Criminal Code definition of vagrancy which warrants the use of the method, except, of course, in dealing with actual or suspected vagrants.

It is not the wish of any responsible citizen to make more difficult than necessary the work of the police in the detection and apprehension of criminals. There is, however, as Mr. Justice Henderson indicates, a serious principle at stake in the practice of taking persons from their homes for questioning, without being directly charged with the crime they are suspected of having committed. It most assuredly is time we found out how widely this practice is being used.

Improper arrest, and undue pressure or deception to obtain confessions, are not to be tolerated in this country. If such methods are used in tracking criminals, they can be readily extended by a less scrupulous authority, and used in other ways. From these, it is only a step to the point where a person might be taken from his home to be questioned about his political opinions. It is by acquiescence in small and "justifiable" irregularities that precedents are set which allow for the misuse of power in times of crisis, or political impotence.

As both guardian and dispenser of justice, the judiciary has a special responsibility toward the liberty of citizens. It is salutary that judicial notice has been taken in Ontario of a potentially dangerous practice, and one which at any time is impossible to justify on grounds of legality. If the scope and development of modern criminality requires the extension of the powers of the police, they should seek such an extension within specifically defined limits. It is unthinkable, however, that indiscriminate questioning without the prisoner's prior knowledge of the charge can be permitted under British legal procedure, than which no better is known on earth.

Looking Backward

10 YEARS AGO

From The Daily News of Jan. 27, 1937

Paris styles in women's dresses are reaching a new high. The present length of skirts is 12 inches from the ground. The rise will bring dresses at least 18 inches off the ground.

From one city to another, from town to town and from person to person influenza is spreading. Already 300 children have been absent from Nelson schools, 500 definite cases were reported in Trail, and Cranbrook and Kimberley both have over 100 cases to fight.

The Kaslo Juniors defeated the Nelson Cubs 11-4 at Kaslo last night. The Nelson team was composed of Ringrose, Pitts, Marquis, Curran, Cryderman, Armstrong, Benwell and McKinnon.

At a meeting of the Slocan City Council Thomas McNeish was appointed Mayor and R. E. MacMillan and William Kirby were elected Aldermen.

The Canadian dollar jumped to 96 12 cents on the New York market.

40 YEARS AGO

W. B. DeWitt and a group of men have left to open a trail to the Farn Mine so that operations may commence immediately. The mine has been closed due to heavy snow and below-zero weather.

The City power plant began operations today, and all city lights, except those on Baker Street, are taking their power from the new plant. The rest of the wires will be cut in today, excepting the power lines for the city tramways.

"Scots Symbol" Is American Monument

To the Editor:

Sir—In your paper there was a column titled "Scotland Forever," by G. S. Rees.

In this column Mr. Rees makes reference to a seated, kilted Highlander, as a symbol of the thousands of Scottish warriors who gave their lives for their country during World War I. If I am not mistaken, this monument is known as the "American Monument," and is a symbol of the thousands of men of Scottish birth and descent who gave their lives while serving in the American forces during World War I. The model for the statue is an American, and during World War II appeared in Edinburgh in the uniform of an American soldier.

PALESTINE INVOLVED IN PARTY POLITICS

The Palestine problem, one of the most troublesome perplexities confronting the British Government, is made more difficult of solution by becoming involved in both American and British domestic politics.

President Truman's renewed demand that Britain permit immediate entry into Palestine of 100,000 Jews was made at this time with an eye to its effect on the approaching election in New York, where Zionist sympathizers are numerically important.

This is the second time Mr. Truman has made a public statement in an atempt to win support for his party's ticket in that State. His first attempt was a disastrous blunder that came near to destroying the country's foreign policy and split his party wide open. It was when he first approved and then repudiated Henry Wallace's Madison Square Garden attack on the bipartisan foreign policy pursued by Secretary of State Byrnes.

His more recent statement on Palestine, while it has embarrassed and offended the British Government, was better calculated to help his partisan cause in New York. However, Governor Dewey was quick to second the President's demand and thus may have nullified the effectiveness of the maneuver.

At the same time former Prime Minister Churchill, making a partisan address to a Conservative Party gathering in England, attacked the Labor Government for its lack of "any plan or policy" in dealing with Palestine and for "holding on to a mandate in which we have no vital interest."

Neither Churchill's, Truman's nor Dewey's statements contribute anything to a solution of the Palestine program. Rather they aggravate the difficulties of reconciling Arab and Jewish claims. They were insoired by partisan considerations and it is doubtful if they even served the purpose for which they were intended.—Spokane Spokesman-Review.

DAIRY BUSINESS PROFITS

If the profits in milk distribution even remotely approached the figures sometimes hinted, then that business would have been a gold mine for the companies interested and a tempting field for those advocating municipal ownership. But the actual record is disillusioning. Scores of dairy companies have gone to the wall in the last decade or so. Very few have been able to show a continuous record of earnings. In 1944, a good year, 31 (nearly one-fifth) of the 160 retail dairies reporting to the Department of National Revenue, showed a loss. Only 49 earned enough to be in the 100 per cent E.P.T. bracket. The truth is that there is much competition and little margin of profit in this business, as those who have invested in dairy stocks have learned. Before they plunge taxpayers into this new venture, advocates of public ownership of milk distribution would be well advised to study the earning experience of those private firms they would supplant.—Financial Post.

WORLD DEMAND FOR OIL

A lot of people laugh at the Harold Ickes' forecast that the world will be short of oil in 15 years and point to deep drilling as the cure. But the fact is that a mechanized world would use far more oil than is now in sight as reserves. What this may mean to Alberta the future will tell. But it is our guess that before too many years Alberta coal will come into its own as a source of power and energy, and that ways will be found to use coal effectively in place of oil by processing methods which are now being developed by research engineers. The scarcer oil gets, the better coal will look to us.—Lethbridge Herald.

WHAT CHANCE DOES A POOR REFORMER STAND?

Hugh Dalton, Chancellor of the Exchequer, told the British House of Commons the other day that he was seriously considering placing a tax on betting. Such a tax, he intimated, would be found in his budget next year.

Britons who bet—there appear to be millions of them—should be pleased, rather than annoyed, at Mr. Dalton's pronouncement. For it means that the British Government will never suppress gambling, and may even encourage it. Once gambling becomes a source of Government revenue, it may be expected to continue indefinitely, since the powers that be have a vested interest in it.

This is the situation in Canada with regard to liquor and horse racing. Canadians who drink booze and play the ponies contribute huge sums to Provincial and Federal treasuries. If liquor or horse racing were prohibited, there would be weeping, wailing and gnash-

The campaign is for funds to purchase goods in Canada for shipment to China where they will be distributed. National objective is $2,500,000, with B.C.'s quota, $250,000. The Fund takes the place of the wartime Chinese War Relief Fund.

Warners, M.G.M. Both Use Same Unusual Technique at Same Time

By HELEN SANNERMAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Are too many doctors as bad for the patient as too many cooks for the broth? Hollywood, repeatedly being diagnosed as being on the decline, is probably worried about this latest threat with so many persons bursting into print with causes and cures for the illness.

Latest diagnosis comes from Variety, the trade paper with its fingers always on the entertainment pulse, which lays the blame on lack of original story material because "most Hollywood writers are afraid to take a chance on their own creativeness."

Cause of this fear, says the paper, is "complacency, lack of initiative or an inferiority complex—and perhaps all three."

BOGIE DOESN'T SHOW

"Dark Passage," the latest film starring Humphrey Bogart, doesn't show him until the last reel but Lauren Bacall, his co-star, is seen throughout. The film uses the same technique of having the camera as the eye of the principal player which Robert Montgomery uses in "Lady in the Lake".

Having the two pictures with the same unusual technique made at the same time is coincidence since the rival companies, Warner Brothers and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, kept their activities quiet while the pictures were in production. This camera angle has been used before in parts of some French, British and American films but these are the first feature films to use it throughout.

BRITISH TROUBLES

The British film industry's high-pressure campaign to convince the public that British pictures can more than hold their own with Hollywood has run into unexpected difficultries.

Suporting a move for amendment of present legislation, the Cinematograph Exhibitors' Association of Great Britain and Ireland has asked the Government to reduce the quota of British films they are required to show on the grounds there are not enough British film available.

Many of Canada's outstanding public figures gained their appreciation and understanding of public affairs in newspaper offices. William Lyon Mackenzie, Joseph Howe, Sir Francis Hincks, Jean Baptiste Corion and George Brown were newspapermen.

"He who moulds public sentiment goes deeper than he who enacts statutes—he makes statutes possible or impossible to execute." — Abraham Lincoln.

Canvas Chute Is "Nothing New" To Kelowna Man

Adding proof to the old proverb that "there's nothing new under the sun," a reader in Kelowna has sent in recollections evoked by a Daily News front page picture of Dec. 20 captioned "Fire Safety Chute."

He related that similar devices were used when he was employed by Heelas Son and Company of Reading, England, in the latter part of the 19th century.

"There were about 80 people living over the store at the time (1891-94), and we had a canvas chute exactly like your sketch," the letter read, "Everybody eased himself down the chute with his elbows. We also had ropes at each window on which the boys came down hand under hand. Fire practise was held every Monday."

The supposedly "new" fire-resistant canvas chute was depicted being tried out in Los Angeles, Calif. It is designed to evacuate up to thirty persons a minute from burning buildings.

WORTHINGTON WANTS TO SEE NAHANNI VALLEY

VANCOUVER, B. C., Jan. 26 (CP) —Maj.-Gen. F. F. Worthington, commanding officer of Western Command, said here yesterday that he would like to head an expedition into B. C.'s famed Nahanni or "Headless Valley".

"It has always intrigued me," he said, "but I think the way to go is by helicopter."

He mentioned a flight he made over the valley by plane.

"It showed some intriguing geological formations that I should like to see close at hand . . . deeply cut ravines and sheer rocks."

Opportunities For Youth Not Lagging in B. C.

VICTORIA, B. C., Jan. 26 (CP)—To suggest to British Columbia's Education Minister, Dr. G. M. Weir, that this province might be lagging behind others in Canada in providing opportunities for youth is to touch the Doctor on the raw.

And Dr. Sidney Smith, President of the University of Toronto, has done just that — not in so many words, but by a remark in Toronto that optimism concerning possibilities for Canada's coming citizenship "confined in the main to Ontario."

Dr. Smith was speaking of the findings of the Canadian Youth Commission—a new one to Dr. Weir who says that if the Commission did any investigations on the ground, it didn't come to B. C. to his knowledge.

As Education Minister now and in an earlier administration, Dr. Weir has gone far beyond the three "R's" in bringing the West Coast Provincial Education System academically and vocationally up-to-date, both in the school room and outside.

Of Dr. Smith's comments on the Commission's findings he had this to say today:

DOES NOT APPLY TO B. C.

"It would be dangerous to generalize in any such fashion here. The general tenor of the findings doesn't appear to apply to this province, where opportunities for youth are on a par with those anywhere else in Canada."

He summed up the employment outlook for youth in British Columbia in this way:

"For the right kind of youth there are the right opportunities—and we are trying to train the right kind.

"There are jobs for the fit, and we are trying to fit the unfit for jobs. That is the whole purpose of our vocational training."

He took isue with Dr. Smith also on another remark that "the report throws into sharp relief the general barrenness of recreational life of young Canadians."

"They should visit our pre-rec centres, for which there is no parallel in Ontario," Dr. Weir retorted.

In answer to another remark by Dr. Smith that "they (Canadian youth) reiterate the need for more adequate preparation for marriage and family life," Dr. Weir said the British Columbia Department in a current revision of the curriculum was giving much attention to a course in parent and family responsibility.

Hog Marketing Decline Checked

EDMONTON, Jan. 26 (CP)—J. G. Taggart of Ottawa, Chairman of the Federal Agricultural Prices Support Board, said in an interview here Saturday that the decline in Canadian hog marketings apparently has been checked. He added the minimum objective of 265,000,000 pounds of bacon for the British market probably will be reached this year.

Mr. Taggart is here to confer with the Board of Directors of the Alberta Farmers' Union concerning the composition of the Advisory Committee to the Prices Support Board.

In the interview, Mr. Taggart said it was proposed to have one Alberta member on the Advisory Committee, representing the Alberta farmers. There would be one from Saskatchewan, one from British Columbia and other Provinces also would be represented on the Advisory Committee of probably 12 members.

American Soldier Leads Germans in Armed Robberies

MUNICH, Germany, Jan. 26 (AP) —Military Government announced a wave of armed robberies in Munich has been broken by the arrest of an American soldier and two Germans and the killing of a fourth member of the gang.

Identified as leader of the gang was Pte. John Abernathy, 20, of a military police battalion. He is accused of providing the Germans with the uniforms and ammunition for carbines.

The police raids yielded 18 weapons, including machine pistols and American carbines, grenades, four military police helmets, 53,000 reichsmarks and jewelry valued at 5000,000 marks.

4 Senators Join In Fight for U. S. Rent Boosts

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26— Four Republican United States Senators have joined in a proposal to boost American rent ceilings by 15 per cent. Their action followed closely on the heels of an office of Price Administration Edict that appeared to relax controls but apparently ruled out an across-the-board rent increase.

O. P. A. officials say the relaxation of rent rules will apply to hardship cases and will benefit small property owners.

But the government's housing statement did not meet with the approval of real estate spokesmen who want the O. P. A. to declare a flat 15 per cent increase on all rented dwellings.

The four Senators who say they will introduce a bill asking for the 15 per cent increase are Albert Hawkes of New Jersey, Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin, Harry Cain of Washington and Nevada's George Malone. They say their bill also will ask for continued rent control through 1947.

Spokesmen for C. I. O. unions, however, attacked the proposal. They have asked all members to join in fighting the measure when it is introduced.

Compulsory Voting Not Considered By Alberta Gov't

EDMONTON, Jan. 26 (CP)—Compulsory voting has not been considered by the Alberta Government, although a special committee of the Legislature is considering a method of registering voters prior to voting day, a Provincial Government official said Saturday.

POLISH DETAIN PHOTOG, REPORTER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26—A photographer and a reporter for an American magazine—Anthony D. Linck and Flora Lewis—were detained for two hours by Polish Secret police Saturday.

This occurred after Linck took pictures in the streets of Warsaw. No formal charges were filed, but police reprimanded Linck. They said that his photographs of urchins did not represent a true picture of Poland.

Highland-Bell Drills Rich New Ore Deposits

The Highland-Bell, in the Greenwood District, has "pulled a remarkably rich underground drill section," states the Northern Miner.

The core averaged 84 ounces silver across the unusual width of 37.6 feet for a value of about $68 a ton at the current silver price. The section probably represents an exaggerated ore width due to a series of close faults, the Miner continued.

The intersection, however, in conjunction with several other good ore sections in underground holes, broadened the whole aspect of this veteran silver producer. It appears that a major fault upthrust the main Highland Lass vein so that it will produce ore all over again between the fifth and eighth levels. The ore addition will be first attacked for production on the 700 foot level, an official advised.

The several drill intersections ranged over a strike length of 750 feet from the 800-foot level up to nearly the 500-foot level as follows West to East.

The whole pattern of ore occurence at Highland Bell, said the Northern Miner, was becoming clearer and other significant developments were suggested. It seemed that the Highland Lass vein, which had been the big producer through the years, was paralleled some distance away by the hanging-wall Idaho vein structure, which was only tested production-wise on the 800-foot level.

P.C.'s CONTINUE CRITICISM OF LIBERAL GOV'T

EDMONTON, Jan. 26 (CP)—Criticism of the Federal Liberal Government for maintenance of wartime controls was repeated again as the annual convention of the Alberta Progressive Conservative Association ended here Friday night.

J. G. Diefenbaker, M.P. for Lake Centre, said Progressive Conservatives in the House of Commons had fought for restoration, maintenance and preservation of freedom and had condemned what they believe is the abuse of democratic safeguards.

VAN WEDS

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 26 — Thirty-one-year-old Van Johnson and his bride of a few hours, Evie Wynn, have arrived in Hollywood from El Paso. The boyish idol of the bobby-soxers admitted that "it was all very sudden." And he added as they dashed to a waiting car from the plane "we don't have any honeymoon plans just yet."

Mrs. Johnson divorced Actor Keenan Wynn in Juarez yesterday, and a few hours later she married Johnson.

United W. M. S. Has Active Year; Mrs. J. A. Wilson Reelected President

Increases over the previous year were noted in annual reports of the various secretaries at the United Women's Missionary Society meeting at the home of the President, Mrs. J. A. Wilson.

Mrs. R. J. Patterson and various members paid 351 home and 163 hospital calls. This is one of the most important projects of the society.

Mrs. D. H. Ferguson, Supply Secretary, sent a parcel of pyjamas, towels and a hospital quilt to Hazelton.

Some 27 missionary monthly and 25 World Friends subscriptions were sent in 1946.

St. Paul's mission band has 16 members. They studied "In the African Bush" and their meetings include worship services. The members take turns with the program and worship periods. Three girls were given life memberships in 1946. For this year Beverley Adams is President and Beverley Boyes, Secretary.

The "Colleen Grace" Baby Band has 25 members. Leaders are Mrs. R. McBain and Mrs. F. Rose.

An Explorers' Group was organized in St. Paul's in the Fall under the leadership of Miss Anne Harkness. C.G.I.T. groups in Trinity and St. Paul's have had a busy year.

The report of the Margaret Foster Evening Auxillary showed increases in membership, givings, community friendship projects, and supply work. The newly formed couples club originated with members of this group. The "Margaret Foster" members paid 260 home and hospital calls besides many acts of kindness for others. Their officers for 1947 are: President, Hazel Morton; Vice-President, Velma Edey; Treasurer, Daisy Brown; Secretary, Queenie Wright; Christian Citizenship, Nettie Bennett.

Stewardship: supply, Thelma Halliwell; M. Monthly, Doris Ryales.

One Honorary President, Mrs. D. G. Smith, celebrated her 90th birthday in October when a large crowd of friends gathered to extend greetings. Another honorary President, Mrs. K. Kettlewell, will be 90 in March. For the past year she continued to knit baby goods for sale. The proceeds from this work together with her donation brought $65 into the society. With contributions from the junior groups, the Margaret Foster" society, St. Paul's W. A. and gifts from friends added to their own givings the W.M.S. allocation of $500 was raised again.

The program on Tuesday included prayers and readings by Mrs. J. A. Wilson and Mrs. C. E. Jorgensen, installation of officers and a beautiful solo, "My Task," by Mrs. J. C. Chambers.

United W.M.S. officers for 1947: Honorary Presidents, Mrs. D. G. Smith, Mrs. K. Kettlewell and Mrs. J. C. Grummett; President, Mrs. J. A. Wilson; 1st Vice-President, Mrs. N. C. Revenues Top Expenditures By More Than $275 Million in Canada

OTTAWA, Jan. 26 (CP) — Government revenues topped expenditures by more than $275,000, during the first nine months of the current year, heightening the hopes of Federal officials for the first balanced budget since 1930.

Some officials believe that not only will the budget be balanced but that a sizeable surplus will be shown. Estimates on the surplus range from $150,000,000 to $200,000,000.

They are confident that such a successful year would mean tax reductions in the next fiscal year, but no one is ready to predict just what tax cuts might be expected.

(Finance Minister Abbott told a press conference Saturday he did not know when he would bring down his budget. He hoped it would be before June 27, when it was presented last year.)

Revenues from April 1, 1946, to Dec. 31 totalled $2,061,869,666 against expenditures of $1,783,211,568. Although revenues are expected to drop off in the last three months of the year, the decline is not expected to be sufficient to make any sizeable cut in the surplus so far built up.

When the last budget was brought down last June it was estimated that the fiscal year would end with a deficit of between $260,000,000 and $300,000,000. Since then, however, revenues have run higher than estimated and expenditures had been lower than anticipated.

This year's nine-month revenue of $2,061,869,666 compared with $1,865,679,301 for the corresponding period of the last fiscal year. Expenditures were $1,783,211,568 against $3,052,636,821 for the first nine months of last year.

Looking Ahead in Ottawa . . .

Keenleyside Appointed Deputy Minister Mines and Resources; To Return From Post in Mexico

By The Ottawa Staff
Of The Canadian Press

OTTAWA, Jan. 26 (CP)— Dr. Hugh L. Keenleyside will be returning soon from his Ambassadorial post in Mexico City to take over the Deputy Minister's chair in the Federal Department of Mines and Resources. Appointment of the 48-year-old history professor-diplomat to the post, announced recently by Prime Minister King, becomes effective March 15.

The appointment provided plenty of corridor-discussion at the recent annual convention of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy. And the general opinion among the mining men seemed to be that it was a good one, that Dr. Keenleyside's diplomatic experience would serve him well in a department which guided the destinies of Canada's second industry and which, the mining men felt, should be energetic and far-sighted.

Dr. Keenleyside, who lectured in history at various colleges and the University of British Columbia, joined the External Affairs Department in 1928. He served as First Secretary of the Canadian legation in Tokyo in the 1930's and was promoted to Ambassadorial rank in 1940 and appointed to Mexico four years later.

As Deputy Minister of Mines and Resources—the post also carried appointment as Commissioner of the Northwest Territories — Dr. Keenleyside follows one of Canada's most highly-regarded figures in the Canadian mining world—Dr. Charles Camsell—who recently retired after years of service.

The mining men paid high tribute to Dr. Camsell, announcing his selection as President-elect of the Institute, an office that will become effective just about the time Dr. Keenleyside takes over his old mining department deputy's chair in the West block.

MARITIME COMMISSION

Commission: A question that will come in for considerable discussion at the forthcoming session of Parliament is that of the establishment of a Maritime Commission for Canada.

The government has been receiving representations from both shipping operators and labor engaged in deepsea and coastal shipping, all urging the appointment of a body similar to the Maritime Commission in the United States.

The chief advantage of such a body it is argued, would be the concentration into one agency of all authority to deal with marine matters, which now is scattered through a number of government branches. It is understood the government favors the proposal.

Surveyors: Parliament will be in session then, but the Canadian surveyor will have his say in Ottawa Feb. 5-6 when the 40th annual meeting of the Canadian Institute of Surveying is scheduled to be held.

Martin Signs With Dodgers

BROOKLYN, Jan. 26 (AP) — Pepper Martin, the ever-youthful Wild Horse of the Osage, signed a Brooklyn contract Friday as "field man" in the Dodgers farm organization and Frankie Frisch, another Gas House gang alumnus, was offered a similar position.

The hawk-faced Oklahoman, whose daring base running and .500 batting average made him the hero of the 1931 World Series, thus rejoined his old boss Branch Rickey, who moved East from the St. Louis Cardinals four years ago.

Frisch, former Cardinal and Pittsburgh manager, is currently between engagements with many irons in the fire. Among others, he is under consideration for the radio broadcasting job with the New York Giants.

Sees U.S.A. Becoming Hockey Talent Producer

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 26 (CP)—Fast-talking Tommy Lockhart, the ex-choir boy who became financial impresario of a $1,000,000 annual hockey turnover without ever learning to skate, said today he won't be surprised if the United States ultimately replaces Canada as world's leading producer of hockey talent.

Free enterprise wil ldo it.

"It probably won't come in my time," acknowledged the brash, 54-year-old former barrel maker and bicycle rider who has irons smoking in half-a-dozen hockey fires. "But I wouldn't be surprised if Canadians some day come over here looking for players."

Hockey's most unorthodox executive, whose Madison Square Garden offices on 49th Street are on the same block as the brownstone tenement that was his birthplace, offered straw-in-the-wind support for the forecast by disclosing plans for an "all-American" league with teams at Boston, Providence, Springfield, New Haven and New York.

All players would be under 21 and born within 25 miles of the city for which they played.

Direction of the new organization would be just another chore for the grey-haired, gingery Irishman who is business manager of the National Hockey League's New York Rangers, the Eastern League's Rovers and the American League's New Haven Ramblers; President of the Eastern League and of the Amateur Hockey Association of the United States; Vice-President of the International Ice Hockey Association and Director of the local Metropolitan League.

Preparations for Royal Tour Almost Complete

LONDON, Jan. 26.—Preparations for the visit of the British Royal Family to South Africa next month are rapidly nearing completion. A mounted police escort of 57 officers and men will head the Royal procession when the King and Queen land at Capetown. And special precautions have been taken to see that the Royal cars will not be the targets for confetti, streamers, or waste-paper thrown from windows and balconies along the way.

The city of Pretoria has announced that the most intense task of planning ever undertaken by the South African police has been worked out. The plans cover assigned duties for the force from motor cycle escorts to the Commissioner of Police himself, who will travel with the Royal party. Moving pictures of the Royal visit to Canada were used to brief the police. The film showed every stage of the Royal couple's travels in Canada. The police will also be assisted by South Africa's "Home Guard" in controlling crowds and maintaining security. And Scotland Yard will cooperate with the police —six men have been assigned on the security plans.

Both trains to be used for the tour are being fitted with broadcast receiving equipment and announcing facilities so that officialc and newsmen aboard can keep in touch with the outside world every minute of the day and night. The radio equipment includes more than 60 loudspeakers for broadcasting announcements.

Officials at Johannesburg are concerned over hotel accommodations for the thousands of tourists expected in South Africa during the Royal tour. The overseas traffic manager of Thomas Cook and Son, C. M. Squarey, has visited most of the main towns and cities of the Union and Rhodesia, investigating tourist possibilities.

The King and Queen and the two Princesses are scheduled to arrive at Capetown on February 12 and will leave for home again on April 24. But the end of the tour will by no means be the end of festivities for Britain's Royal Family. For London and other large British cities are planning large celebrations in honor of their return and to mark Princess Elizabeth's 21st birthday, April 21. These events will probably take place some time early in May.

DENY CHINA 9

Earlier, other Chinese sources said the Government sent a transport ship loaded with reinforcements to the islands.

Film Actor Refused Marriage Licence

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Jan. 26—(AP) — Film actor Dean Jagger and Gloria Ling, attractive New York City secretary, were denied a marriage licence here Saturday under a State law forbidding unions between Caucasians and Mongolians.

Miss Ling's father was born in China.

Jagger and Miss Ling said they would leave for Albuquerque, N. M., where they plan to be married at once.

Immunization Program Progresses

Rounding up a year of extensive activities in the field of school nursing, Miss Jean McVicar and her assistant Miss Nancy Lee, presented their annual report to the Nelson District School Board No. 7. During the year immunizations were given for diphtheria, whooping cough, scarlet fever and small pox.

Miss McVicar's report follows:

Following the "Cameron Report" the Provincial Board of Health felt the necessity of extending the Health Service to cover the new District, and a plan, whereby the medical staff would be employed and paid by the Board of Health and extra personnel supplied, was presented to the School Board.

The plan was accepted and in September Miss Nancy Lee was appointed to work with me in the city and District.

It was decided that Miss Lee would be responsible for the District work, calling on me for assistance when necessary and that she would also be responsible for the Junior and Senior High Schools in the city. The arrangement is proving quite satisfactory.

The District program for the past four months has been devoted chiefly to school services. The schools included here are those at Procter, Longbeach, Harrop, Balfour, Willow Point, Taghum, Belford, Sproule Creek and Bonnington, with a school population of approximately 250.

A survey of rural school needs was made early in September. This showed that, although much has already been done since these schools were incorporated in the Nelson District, the lighting facilities and sanitary conditions of several of them leave much to be desired.

School medical examinations were completed in the rural schools before Christmas.

Water samples were taken from all these schools for laboratory analysis, and this will be done routinely and as requested.

GOOD RESPONSE

There has been a fairly good response to the immunization program. Eighty-seven children received hte complete number and forty received reinforcing doses of diphtheria toxoid. Forty-four were innoculated against whooping cough and nine given reinforcing doses. Sixty-two were vaccinated against small pox.

The parents of infants and pre-school children were invited to take advantage of these clinics and twenty-two of them brought their children to be immunized against small pox, diphtheria and whooping cough.

Tubercular skin tests were given to all the children of the Sproule Creek School.

We hope in the coming year to develop the child welfare program throughout the District communities.

Owing to the early Winter and bad road conditions it has not yet been possible to give the service we could wish to the rural district.

IN CITY

The program of work in the city has been carried on as usual, with the schools and T.B. work playing the most important part, and infant, pre-school and some pre-natal work included.

In the schools, the Immunization Clinics have again been carried on and about 85 per cent of the school children are now immunized against small pox, diphtheria, whooping cough and scarlet fever.

Routine medical examinations have shown that, as usual, many of the children are suffering from defects such as enlarged tonsils, decayed teeth and bad posture. Cases of underweight and malnutrition are very few.

School home visiting has as usual been an important part of the school program — 607 visits being made during the year.

The Clinic for immunizing infant and pre-school children has been carried on monthly throughout the year with a fairly good attendance.

HOPE FOR BABY CLINIC

We are hoping that, with the co-operation of the doctors, we will soon have a "Well Baby Clinic" again in operation in the city.

Visiting and supervision of T.B. patients, and contacts has played, as always, an mportant role in the Public Health Work during 1946, and we have been able to give assistance and advice in many cases.

In closing I would like to pay tribute and express thanks to the I.O.D.E. and the Junior Red Cross for the help they have given and are giving us in our work.

The I.O.D.E. supplies free milk to many of the children in school as well as to numerous families outside the school, and have also helped in various other ways with our work.

The Junior Red Cross has borne the costs for surgery and treatment for four children in this District in the past year, and with their assistance we are sending another child to Mayo Clinic for necessary surgery.

Through their generous efforts, hundreds of children are being given the chance of health and happiness.

Hundreds of Scots Salute Robbie On 188th Birthday; Haggis, Pipes, Kilts Mingle at Dinner, Concert

A moment's silence was split by the wail of the pipes Friday night as a kiltie and a lass "piped in the Haggis." The event was Burns' Night and members of Clan McLeary with their wives and friends, thronged the Eagle Hall to honor Robbie in traditional Scottish fashion.

Everyone wore a Scotch tam and sprigs of Heather decorated tables set for hundreds.

Haggis, the delight of sons and daughters of Auld Scotland, was escorted in by Piper James Stout and his sister Helen, both dressed in full kilts. The crowd cheered when the main dish arrived at the head table and from then on it was "have some more Haggis?"

Before dinner started A. G. Ritchie gave "The Selkirk Grace" and James Kay delivered the "Address to the Haggis."

Guests at the head table were William Forrest, Past President of the Trail Caledonia Clan, and William Fraser of Creston, who 28 years ago was chief of the Nelson Clan.

"Burns was the loyalest soul of all the British Isles," Rev. A. Stewart quoted when proposing a toast. "In Security," he said, "let us not forget that it is due to the fact that men fought and died. We remember that the names of tyrants and oppressors are soon forgotten, but the name of Burns lives on."

"Look over the horizons and recall the musicians, teachers, poets and politicians and try to find one whose memory is kept ever green by a celebration such as this."

LOVER OF COUNTRY

Burns' hall of fame, Rev. Stewart said, was in the hearts of the people. A lover of his country, and proud of being a Scot, Burns appeared at a time when Scotland was at a low ebb, when students who carried a Scotch accent were shunned.

"It was his faith, his genius and his love of his fellow people that made his poetry great and made him 'truly great.' In his words, 'A man's a man for a' that' is the true estimate and dignity of man."

Concluding Mr. Stewart said that Burns' message came from the heart and has reached the hearts of mankind.

The hall rang out with "There Was a Lad Was Born in Kyle" when everyone stood up to sing.

A concert of Burns' songs was given by Colin Baker, Miss Marie Stringer and Jock Hawkins. William Penman rendered a violin solo. Accompanists were Mrs. C. W. Tyler and F. E. Wheeler.

A Grand March started off dance rounds of Circassion Circles, Quadrilles, Highland Schottishes, Pas de Quatre (Barn Dance) and Spanish Waltzes.

Chairman and Master of Ceremonies was Chief Bennie Sutherland who took "this chance of a bit of free advertising" and said that there were over 50 in the Clan.

Mr. Sutherland was assisted in making arrangements by two committees. They comprised A. G. Ritchie, A. Wallach, Jack Stewart, William Leslie, Alex McQuaig, A. Arnot, W. Easton and D. Paul on the General Committee; and A. McKay, Hector MacKenzie, James Sutherland and Ivie Spiers on the Dance Committee.

Hundreds of voices blended in "Auld Lang Syne" as Robert Burns' 188th birthday anniversary drew to a close.

Nelson Catholics Honor Villeneuve

For the repose of the late Cardinal Villeneuve, Archbishop of Quebec, a solemn requiem mass was sung in the Cathedral of Mary Immaculate Friday.

At nine o'clock the school children together with a large number of parishioners gathered to assist at this requiem mass and pay prayerful tribute to the 63-year-old prelate.

At this solemn mass of requiem for a deceased Cardinal the Rector of the Cathedral of Mary Immaculate, Very Rev. F. L. Flynn, was the celebrant; he was assisted by Rev. J. B. Barnes as Deacon and Rev. A. V. Maglio, as Sub-Deacon. Most Rev. Martin M. Johnson, Catholic Bishop of Nelson, assisted in the sanctuary, and Very Very. J. Martin, C.Ss.R., Superior of the Redemptorist Monastery in Fairview, was Chaplain to His Excellency. Rev. E. C. Doyle of Creston also assisted.

The girls' choir of St. Joseph's School with Mrs. D. Bennett as organist rendered the choral parts of the Mass.

Throughout Canada Catholics in every diocese offered their prayers for the repose of the soul of this great prelate and Prince of the Church, His Eminence Rodrique Cardinal Villeneuve, O.M.I., Archbishop of Quebec.

Chinese Protest Immigration Policy in Canada

VANCOUVER, Jan. 26 (CP)—The Chinese Nationalist Party here will hold a mass meeting of city Chinese Jan. 26 in protest against Canada's immigration policy.

Foon Sien, President of the Hoy-sun Ningyung Benevolent Association, reported that resolutions urging the lifting of "discriminatory" barriers against their race will be sent to the Federal Government to have the Chinese Immigration Act of 1923 repealed.

Mr. Sien said only eight Chinese have entered Canada since the 1923 Act was passed, making each Dominion Day "one of humiliation for Chinese in Canada."
