BUTCHERS RETURN TO COUNTERS

Textile Workers Strike; Idle Now Number 412,777

CHICAGO, Sept. 28 (AP) — A textile workers strike spread through 284 plants Friday and raised the total of persons away from work because of labor trouble in the United States to 412,777.

In addition some 1,500,000 persons were kept from their offices and shops indirectly by the strike of 15,000 New York building maintenance employees, where mediation efforts have failed.

Other prime labor developments included:

1. John L. Lewis, head of the Unaffiliated United Mine Workers, asked bituminous coal operators to meet with him Monday to discuss the foremen's stoppage involving 36,635 Pennsylvania and West Virginia miners. The Operators' Negotiating Committee refused.

2. Labor Secretary Schwellenbach faced the hardest task of his brief Cabinet career—settlement of the eight-state oil strike at conferences resuming Saturday in Washington.

3. A C.I.O. union executive board authorized its organizing committee for Montgomery and Ward Company facilities to call a strike if necessary.

4. High C.I.O. United Automobile Workers Union officials planned to intervene in the 36-day Kelsey-Hayes Wheel Company strike in Detroit, which affects 4,500 directly and many thousands of others indirectly.

5. The C.I.O. United Packinghouse Workers Union announced it would demand a general wage increase of 25 cents an hour throughout the meat industry.

6. William Green, American Federation of Labor President, said passage of adequate unemployment compensation and full employment bills would "have a tendency to lessen strikes."

In the mine controversy, supervisory employees organized into a branch of the United Mine Workers are seeking collective bargaining rights for their groups. They have been out since Sept. 24 and their absence from the pits had prevented thousands of miners from entering the shafts and forced many mines to close.

Mr. Lewis said in Washington that if the operators failed to accept his invitation to a meeting, the union would feel "free to take such independent action as may be required." While 400,000 soft coal miners over the United States could be called out through "independent action," a U.M.W. spokesman cautioned against "reading too much" into Mr. Lewis' statement.

The National Bituminous Coal Operators Negotiating Committee, in rejecting the invitation, said it would confer with him only if he ordered the strikers back to work.

TEST POLICY OF PERSUASION

Fast, hard work confronted Mr. Schwellenbach in today's conferences which will test the current Government policy of persuasion for handling reconversion labor disputes. The new Secretary wants to avoid seizing oil properties to get the 35,100 C.I.O. unionists back on the job.

The union has threatened to expand its strike and claims 250,000 oil workers would be off their jobs if negotiations fail. At the same time the Army and Navy is running short on supplies and "can't get along beyond next week" unless full oil and gasoline production is resumed, officials advised Mr. Schwellenbach.

Strikers are demanding a 30 percent wage increase.

In the Detroit automobile centre, the protracted Kelsey-Hayes dispute has been one of the most serious. In the Detroit-Windsor area some 95,000 workers are off the job because of walk-outs and layoffs resulting from the stoppages. This includes 15,000 employees of the Ford Motor Company of Canada.

26 Nations Take Action to Ratify 'Frisco Charter

LONDON, Sept. 28 (CP) — Edward R. Stettinius, head of the United States delegation to the United Nations Preparatory Commission, announced tonight that 26 nations had taken action to ratify the San Francisco Charter.

Seven—Argentina, Brazil, the Dominican Republic, France, Nicaragua, the United States and New Zealand—have deposited their ratifications in Washington, he said at a meeting of the Commission. (Britain has ratified the charter and Canada is expected to do so at the present Parliament session.)

Twenty-nine formal ratifications must be received in Washington before the United Nations organization becomes effective.

Says Argentine Arrests Having a Bad Effect

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 28 (AP)—The Argentine Military Government was told today by the ranking United States diplomat here, John Cabot, that its suspension of constitutional guarantees and widespread arrests would "inevitably" have a "deplorable effect" on American opinion.

The Government, through Interior Minister Hortensio Quijano, maintained the repressive measures, which included reimposition of a state of siege and full censorship of press and radio, were necessary to put down conspiracy and avert "grave happenings."

CANADA TO LOSE AN HOUR AS CLOCKS TURNED

OTTAWA, Sept. 28 (CP) — Another wartime regulation—continuous daylight saving time—goes by the boards at 2 a.m. local time Sunday Sept. 30 when all Canada except Saskatchewan will lose an hour. Saskatchewan has decided to maintain daylight saving time until Oct. 14.

Canada's decision to revert to "old time" coincides with a similar move in the United States which also put its clocks an hour ahead early in the war as a power conservation measure.

While the Dominion's official clocks will be set back at the appointed hour of 2 a.m., most clocks will probably remain as they were until daylight dawns to awaken sleeping citizens who may then enjoy their extra hour—the one they lost when clocks were set ahead across the nation in 1942.

On Canada's railroads night-running trains will be stilled at stations while the extra hour passes away.

Canada's reversion to standard time will be welcomed mostly in rural districts where many farmers claimed it worked a hardship. Periodically during the war representations were made to the government from farm and agricultural associations for a revision to standard time, the farmers claiming that under the daylight saving system they lost an hour of daylight from their workday.

Expect Showdown Over Suspension of Tokyo Papers

TOKYO, Sept. 29 (Saturday) (AP)—The Japanese Home Ministry precipitated what probably will be a showdown with occupation authorities by suspending three major Tokyo newspapers today.

In the action, apparently taken without consultation with American censorship authorities, the Home Ministry imposed the suspension on Asahi, Yomiuri and Mainichi for publishing a recent New York Times interview with Emperor Hirohito.

The question whether the Japanese Government has a right to suspend its own newspapers, which now are operating under American censorship, had not arisen before today's action.

American authorities understood the newspapers had been warned by Japanese Government officials against publishing the interview with the Emperor obtained by the New York Times correspondent, Frank Kluckhorn.

In the interview, the Emperor had expressed belief that through a slow evolution, rather than by a quick turnover, the Japanese Government would develop democratic tendencies.

"This morning's ban," said an NBC broadcast from Tokyo, "is an obvious attempt to keep information from the Japanese"

Now Allowed 75 Per Cent of Anthracite Coal

OTTAWA, Sept. 25 (CP) — A new coal order raising the amount of anthracite to which a householder is entitled from 50 to 75 per cent of his normal annual requirements, was announced tonight by Munitions Minister Howe. The new order is effective Oc. 1.

Under Canada's original coal control order householders were allowed only 50 per cent of their normal annual anthracite requirements and were required to accept 25 per cent in alternative class "C" fuel. Under the new order a householder can get 75 per cent of his anthracite requirements in that fuel but the remaining 25 per cent must still be filled by acceptance of an alternative class of "C" fuel.

No change is made in the quantity of fresh oven coke that can be delivered and this remains at 75 per cent of normal annual requirements together with the concurrent delivery of 25 per cent of alternative class "C" fuel.

Repatriation Will Cost $30,000

OTTAWA, Sept. 28 (CP)—Repatriation of Canadian prisoners of war in the present fiscal year will cost $30,000 according to estimates tabled in the Commons today by Finance Minister Ilsley. No comparative figure is available for the last fiscal year.

Internment operations estimates for the current fiscal year are $1,853,296, compared to the figure for the previous year of $1,360,000.

TIME CHANGE TO MEAN EXTRA HOUR OF SUNDAY REPOSE

At 2 a.m., Sunday, Sept. 30, Nelson citizens along with the rest of Canada will go back on Standard time, setting back the clock one hour. The actual changing of the clock in the average home, will be some time before midnight, Saturday, Sept. 29—thus an extra hour's sleep next morning.

Strange Situation as Servants Fight Masters, Saigon

By HAL BOYLE

SAIGON, Indo-China, Sept. 28 — (AP)—Servants are fighting masters in French Indo-China's postwar war, with a half-dozen or more nationalities entangled in varying degree.

It is one of the strangest situations in history.

The revolutionists are the Annamites, one of the native strains that make up the turbulent melange known as French Indo-China. They have picked this moment, when Gallic power is at low ebb, to try to overthrow the colonial government by which some 50,000 Frenchmen ruled 25,000,000 natives.

It is a many-sided struggle full of rumors, suspicion and some bloodshed.

The rebellion centres around Saigon, seat of the French government, a city of some 60,000 population. It is in most ways a modern city, with electric lights, a good water system, well-paved streets and a big opera house which was bombed out during the war. It looks like a bit of France, with its stucco buildings and its "post-no-bills" signs.

Order is being maintained largely by some 5000 British and Indian troops, pending arrival of Maj.-Gen. Jacques Leclerc's French forces. The Britons and Indians have tried to employ a minimum force, but developments have compelled them to employ a stronger hand daily.

They no longer fire over the heads of the rioters. They shoot to kill—and they are killing a few Annamites each day.

The Annamites do not appear to be armed in great strength. They have looted outlying French homes and seized hostages. They ambush parties of all nationalities leaving the city, and lay down considerable harassing fire. But the torch has been their main weapon. They have burned many French factories and the city market.

ARMED JAPS AS GUARDS

The picture is complicated because British authorities have employed armed Japanese as guards. The French complain that Japanese soldiers—some say there are 70,000 still armed in Indo-China — have helped instigate Annamite riots and supplied natives with weapons.

French colonials object strenuously because they feel if they themselves had the arms being carried by the Japanese they could take care of the Annamites without further help.

The French also say the British authorities should take stronger measures. At the same time, many of them voice suspicions over Britain's post-war ambitions in regard to Indo-China. Some are equally suspicious over the presence of a few dozen American soldiers in Saigon on special missions.

Saigon's large Chinese population is strongly pro-French. Many Chinese have asked for arms to fight the Annamites. So have many of the 2300 Dutch prisoners of war. Weary of long years in Japanese prison camps and prevented by the shipping shortage from returning to their homes in Java and Sumatra, they are willing to fight almost anybody—but they would still prefer to take on Japanese.

GREATEST MIGRATION IN POLES' HISTORY

By LARRY ALLEN

WARSAW, Poland, Sept. 28 (AP) —War-ravaged Poland is experiencing one of the greatest migrations in her long turbulent history, and two bridges across the Vistula here are the teeming gateways to the East and the West.

The Russian-controlled temporary wooden structure and a Russian-built pontoon bridge alongside —the only replacements thus far of the four large spans which once crossed the Vistula—are the scenes of one of the greatest population movements the world has seen.

From early morning until midnight there is a steady stream of men, women and children carrying all their worldly possessions strapped to their backs, in bags, in suitcases and in sacks.

As they tramp across the wooden footpath on the bridge or ride carts and trucks the first biting winds of the coming Winter sting their faces and whip through their tattered rags and shawls.

All faces show lines of strain and worry. Scarcely one, whether he is going East or West, has the slightest idea of where he will finally settle. They only know this has to be done, and they tramp on.

In a matter of hours thousands pass, their faces turned Eastward. These, the Russians say, are repatriated former prisoners of war or civilians who were bagged by the Germans.

Simultaneously to the West move more thousands. These are Poles swarming into the ruins and debris of Warsaw where they will live a short time awaiting cart, truck, wagon or train transport Westward to resettle in Silesia and Poland's other new territories.

Report Unified Gov't to Be Created, China

LONDON, Sept. 28 (CP) — The Moscow radio declared today that "a complete central unified Government will be created for the whole of China" under an agreement reached between Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek and Communist leader Mao Tse-Tung.

Moscow said the new Government would contain wider political representation and that "an early election will be held throughout China."

(The broadcast gave the same general outline of terms as were reported Sept. 20 by the Chungking newspaper Ta Kung Pao. The newspaper said Chinese Government and Communist negotiators had agreed on peaceful reconstruction of China under Chiang's leadership, with equality between the Kuomintang and Communist parties.

Ta Kung Pao added that a principal point of the agreement was on calling a conference to plan for participation of all groups in the Chinese Government. No official statement has been issued in Chungking, but more details may be available after Oct. 1.

The Moscow radio said flatly that "unity in China has been established" and it credited the Chinese-Soviet treaty with playing "an important part in helping to unify the nation."

Montreal Quiet; Strike Continues Among Miners

By HAROLD FREEMAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL, Sept. 28 (CP) — Montreal had its butchers back behind their meat counters and its longshoremen back on their docks today, as high officials and the man on the street conducted a variety of post-mortems on the four-day meat strike which reached its climax in an uptown riot yesterday, then ended abruptly today.

Housewives talked mostly about the strike throughout the day too, as they crowded into meat stores in full force for the first time this week. Only the fact that today was Friday, a fish day for many residents, allowed hard-pressed packers to keep abreast of the orders.

Meanwhile, most of some 1500 longshoremen reported back to work during the day, and their return allowed another 1500 dock workers of various kinds to resume loading operations on upwards of 30 ocean ships in port. Three ships had sailed empty, to load at other ports, and two others sailed with partial cargoes during the dock strike.

Missing from the docks today were some 78 men, most of whom described themselves either as longshoremen or as laborers, who appeared in court today and received a tongue-lashing from Judge Amedee Monet, who said that he had received threats prior to the court hearing.

"I want it known," said Judge Monet, "that as a criminal judge for more than 20 years, I am not frightened by the threats of longshoremen or any other members of an organized union. I am not afraid of such people who try to disorganize society through lawlessness. Let them attack me with their hale hooks on the court steps after the court session, and they will find that I am capable of defending myself."

SETS BAIL

Judge Monet set bail of $500 for 28 of the accused, and bail of $200 for 41 others pending hearing Oct. 4. One man—Laurina Meunier—charged with assaulting Lieut. Elie Turgeon of the Montreal police force, was refused bail, while the cases of eight others were transferred to juvenile court. Police said later that "quite a few" of the men had been able to raise the necessary bail.

Both strikes ended early today when the committee of striking butchers agreed to a plan of the Food Distributors Association to abandon the strike in order to push a less militant method of seeking changes in meat rationing regulations. The longshoremen, who had gone on strike in what they said was a protest against the butchers' strike, trickled back to work rapidly when they found that the meat strike was over.

With the situation here rapidly returning to normal, Montrealers had time today to look around and find out how the protests about meat rationing were fairing in other parts of the country. The biggest mass protest was that of some 4500 miners of Canada's Western coal fields who took their second successive holiday because they claimed they couldn't dig coal on the present meat ration. Two thousand were idle in the Drumheller Valley, a similar number in the Crow's Nest Pass area, and 500 in the Lethbridge field.

The original 4500 protesters were joined by some 800 miners at Michel and Fernie in the Crow's Nest Pass, to boost the number of miners idle past the 5000-mark.

Butchers in a number of other centres across the country remained on strike, or threatened to strike, while in Toronto L. S. Lee, Managing Secretary of the Domestic Packers and Processors Association of Canada said that "the existence of many of our members is threatened by the rationing of processed meats." The Association sent an appeal to Federal officials asking that cooked and fancy meats be removed from the rationed list.

PUBLICATION OF TOKYO PAPERS IS SUSPENDED

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 — The Japanese Board of Information today suspended publication of all Tokyo newspapers for having published an interview with Emperor Hirohito written by two American correspondents, the National Broadcasting Company reported from Tokyo tonight. The broadcast did not identify the correspondents.

City Hall Question Concerns Site Now, States Mayor; to Be No Building Under Present Conditions

The questionnaire on the proposed City Hall which has been circulated amongst property owners was set up chiefly to find the best location for the Hall, Mayor N. C. Stibbs said in a statement Friday night. There was no intention of building at this time, he said, and there would be no construction started without Dominion aid or with materials and labor still lacking.

The lookout for any community not prepared to provide jobs for returned men was serious, he said. If the work was not available in the cities, then riots and bloodshed would probably ensue. Mayor Stibbs declared he could not allow that condition to prevail in Nelson.

The questionnaire must be in the mail by today.

The Mayors' statement follows:

For some years, Governments have requested Municipalities and Boards of Trade to submit to the Rehabilitation Committee set up by the Provincial Government, headed by Hon. H. G. T. Perry, different projects. They include city halls, civic centres, water systems, roads, streets, bridges, etc., and would provide jobs both for returning members of the armed forces, also those thrown out of wartime jobs. The Dominion Government is expected to assist the municipalities with perhaps grants or low interest loans.

Many municipalities have already received approval of the ratepayers on projects should the occasion arise to provide work. No one knows what the labor situation will be in Nelson and the Kootenays with the return of many of the more than 1200 men from the armed forces along with the many who may return from the wartime jobs. The Government realizes the possibility of an unemployment situation which would lead to riots, bloodshed and ill will.

MUST BE PREPARED

We must be prepared to give work and avoid such a condition. We know what price was paid by being unprepared for war. We must be prepared on the peace front. Why should anyone hesitate to provide employment to keep our boys at work?

Employment spells prosperity to everyone in the community and at no time does the creating of civic improvements bring an unnecessary burden on to its people.

It is evident the questionnaire was not explicit enough, as it was set up chiefly to find out the desired location of a city hall before making a sale of property to a prospective business enterprise. It should not convey the idea that building will start at this time; and certainly not without Dominion aid in grants or cheap money and with materials and labor readily obtainable; and certainly not to interfere with street, power transportation or any other city betterments.

The curtailment of our street betterments was entirely due to wartime restrictions on oil products, labor and Government orders for an all out war effort. We hope the oil restriction will be off in 1946 and a general plan can be put into force to bring our streets into the desired condition.

The Admiral whose powerful fleet helped drive Japan's navy from the seas told a press conference he was taking the step to give younger officers a chance.

"I'm an old man; let the young fellows take over," said the 62-year-old Admiral.

The Admiral said the Navy had not yet taken him into its confidence on whether his application had been acted upon.

Nor did he have any particular plans for the future, he added.

May Reopen Talks on Balkan Peace

LONDON, Sept. 28 (CP) — The five power Council of Foreign Ministers was believed to have discussed tonight the question of reopening talks on the Balkan peace pacts.

A communique issued after the 26th session in 18 days said the Council completed discussions on French proposals for control of Germany, "and reviewed a report by the deputies on items on the agenda which at previous meetings the Council had agreed to defer for further examination."

While the scope of the subjects referred to was not indicated, it was believed the Council took up again the problem of drawing up peace treaties with Bulgaria, Romania and Hungary. The Council will meet again tomorrow.

There was no official announcement of when the ministers of Great Britain, the United States, Russia, France and China would end their talks, but indications increased that unless the Balkan issues were revived they would adjourn their session this weekend.

Now a Full Fledged Soldier

WINNIPEG, Sept. 28 (CP) — Cpl. John Wolfe, 27-year-old German Jew who joined the Royal Winnipeg Rifles during their offensive in Western Europe now is a full-fledged soldier in the Canadian Army, it was learned today.

Claims Argentine Failed to Live Up to Obligations

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP) — Ambassador Spruille Braden charged tonight the Argentine Military Government had failed to live up to its hemisphere and United Nations obligations.

Mr. Braden, who arrived by plane from Buenos Aires to take up his new duties as Assistant Secretary of State for Latin American Affairs, referred newspapermen to a statement he made yesterday in Puerto Rico in which he said that if the people of the Americas remained indifferent to current events in Argentina they would be failing to live up to the resolutions adopted at the Inter-American Conference at Mexico City early this year.

"Beasts of Belsen" Fail to Lose Appetites

LUENEBURG, Sept. 28 (Reuters) —Even the horrors unfolded at the trial of 45 German men and women on Belsen concentration camp atrocity charges failed to dull their appetites, an official report said today.

On the contrary, their appetites seem to be increasing after two weeks in the dock and many are seeking second and third helpings of the vegetable stew served them at mid-day outside the courthouse, Joseph Kramer, "The Beast of Belsen", for instance, sought a second helping Wednesday, although he is not one of the bigger eaters among the accused.

Donald Gordon . . .

Warns Against Lifting of Controls

VANCOUVER, Sept. 28 (CP)—Donald Gordon, Chairman of the Prices Board, said in an address today that the Canadian economy faces peacetime tasks as big as those it faced in war and warned that any ill-time lifting of controls would put thte Dominion in the grip "of a disastrous inflation and subequent collapse."

Speaking before a combined Board of Trade and Canadian Club luncheon meeting, Mr. Gordon said the war-generated inflationary rise in the cost of living had been held down better in Canada "than in any country in the world." But nothing could be more fatal than an assumption that the end of active hostilities meant all wartime controls could be immediately lifted.

NEW PROBLEM

The Prices Board Chairman said the end of the war had brought immense new problems abroad and at home and made these other points:

1. Canadians can expect controls on textiles to continue at least until the end of the year.

2. Strict rationing of sugar is indicated for at least another 18 months, perhaps longer.

3. World shortages of food may dictate "establishment or continuance of rationing and distribution controls well through the transition period."

4. So long as price controls remain the Board expects to "hold the line" on 1941 price levels on which ceilings are based.

It was conditions of scarcity which necessitated not only the war's direct controls over production, distribution and manpower, but also the broader controls, such as the price ceiling, wage-salary control high taxation and the great public borrowings campaigns, Mr. Gordon said.

"Until these conditions of scarcity have been adequately relieved, and until goods and services are reaching the market in sufficient quantity it would be an act of madness to abolish all anti-inflationary controls. . . ."

Canada's food supply was secure. She was short of sugar, one of her principle imports, and it would be tightly rationed for another 18 months at least but in the matter of meat Canada produced more than she needed. However, at present she was facing declining production along with increased demands from abroad and that was why meat was rationed.

Canada's interest in helping Europe was two-fold. First continued food shortages were bound to result in riots, bloodshed and even revolution and in helping those conditions by sending food to Europe, Canada would be helping prevent the seeds of another war.

Secondly, as a leading exporter country, she needed European markets and would be helping herself by aiding over-ridden countries to get back on their economic feet.

There were humanitarian grounds too and he believed that "every right-thinking Canadian would feel guilty and uncomfortable if we continued to live on the fat of the land while thousands, yes millions of men, women and little children, were hungry and in misery."

There would be other continuing shortages too such as tin, rubber, coal and building materials.

Experience after the last war had taught a lesson of the danger of a sudden sharp price rise followed by a drastic collapse of values and subsequent deflation.

Samuel H. Green, Kaslo Pioneer Merchant and Leading Citizen, Dies Suddenly, Aged 86 Years

KASLO, B. C., Sept. 28—Samuel Howard Green, a Kootenay old-timer of over 60 years standing, Kaslo pioneer merchant and civic administrator, resident of Kaslo for 53 years and member of a famous political family, died around midnight Thursday at his home on "B" Avenue Kaslo, after about 12 hours illness, aged 86 years. His younger brother, Senator Robert F. Green, and his son, Howard C. Green, M.P., for Vancouver South, are in attendance at the Parliamentary session at Ottawa. Howard Green is expected from Ottawa by plane for the funeral, which will be held here Tuesday.

Mr. Green, though retired from business 21 years, was still active and interested in community affairs, and was looking forward with keen relish to attending the jubilee of the Kaslo Masonic Lodge Thursday night, of which he was a charter member and a past master, when he collapsed in a barber's chair at noon Thursday. He was rushed to his home on a stretcher, and was treated by Dr. K. Shimo-Takahara, Japanese physician. The Masonic celebrants knew of his sudden illness, but did not learn of its serious nature till today, after the event of his death.

TRADED AHEAD OF C.P.R.

Born in Peterborough, Ont., Aug. 14, 1859, one of the two youngest of a family of 10, young Sam Green, then aged 23, came West to Winnipeg, in 1882, and engaged with his younger brother, Robert, the future Parliamentarian, and another brother, in merchandising, the group operating general stores just ahead of the end of steel, all the way across the West, as the C.P.R. construction progressed Westward, their final Main Line operation being at Revelstoke, where they remained in business for some years after the last spike was driven at Craigellachie.

Sam and Robert then moved to Sproats Landing, now Robson, and were general merchants there, while the Columbia & Kootenay line was under construction, and then in 1890 established in the new mining camp of Ainsworth, finally moving to the still newer camp of Kaslo in 1892, where, after a time, three firms amalgamated, to form the Byers, Giegerich & Green concern. In the course of time Robert moved to Victoria, but Sam remained in the firm and in active harness until his retirement in 1924.

He was Postmaster of Kaslo for a number of years in the early days.

SERVED KASLO IN MANY CAPACITIES

Mr. Green was a member of many of Kaslo's City Councils, in both early and later years, and was an alderman in the first City Council, that of 1893, of which his brother Robert was Mayor. He was also Mayor two or three times.

He was an active Board of Trade member during and after his business years, and was President of the organization a number of times.

Active in the establishment of the Kaslo hospital, which was built just after the turn of the century, he was on the Hospital Board for many years, and served several terms in the presidency.

When the Masonic Lodge was instituted in 1895, he was a charter member, and he served as secretary of the lodge for many years, and also served as master.

An active mining booster, he was interested particularly in the B.N.A. and Silver Bell mines, on the South fork of Kaslo Creek, and at the time of his death was still secretary of the "Bell" company.

Mr. Green was active in the Conservative party throughout his long life in Kaslo, and was many times President of the local Association.

He was a member of St. Andrew's United Church.

In 1892 Mr. Green married a Kaslo girl, Miss Flora Goodwin, the marriage taking place in Spokane.

"HEART IN THE KOOTENAY"

He was "sold" on the beauties of the Kootenay Lake country, and it was said of him that "his heart was in the Kootenay Highlands".

Mr. Green is survived by his wife; by two sons, Howard Charles Green, Vancouver lawyer and M.P. for South Vancouver, and Rowland T. Green, Vancouver teacher; one daughter, Mrs. J. C. Dawson, of Okanogan, Wash.; one brother, Senator Robert F. Green, of Victoria; five grandchildren; six nephews, Major Robert H. Green of Victoria, Walter E. Newton of Penticton, Fred J. Green of New Westminster; Walter Lipsett and Bert Lipsett in Pennsylvania, and Rey Green of Kaslo; and one niece, Miss Nellie Lipsett in Pensylvania.

Tigers Won't Be Caught Without a Pitcher

DETROIT, Sept. 28 (AP) — Manager Steve O'Neill, chief strategist of Detroit Tigers who stand just one big hop away from the American League pennant, doesn't intend to be caught without his pitchers if the Tigers are forced into a post-season playoff with Washington for the flag.

Barring a complete weekend flop, Detroit can sew up the pennant by beating the Browns in either game of a Saturday-Sunday wind-up series at St. Louis.

But O'Neill wants to have his best available flingers on tap to curve 'em against the Senators in a Monday play-off game here if the Tigers can't put over the clincher sooner.

His original plans were to send out Virgil (Fire) Trucks, fast-baller released this week from the Navy, to oppose the Browns Saturday and use Hal Newhouser, ace lefthander with 24 victories in the final game of the regular season Sunday.

Realizing that such a pitching order would not leave Detroit in position to send its best hurler against the Senators in a possible play-off, the calculating Tiger pilot today reversed his field and said Newhouser would not take his regular turn on the mound Sunday.

"We'll have him ready for relief as a 'stopper' in case we get a lead in either game against the Browns," he said. "Otherwise, if St. Louis should beat us twice we'll have Hal fresh for the big one against Washington."

POONA, India (CP) — A committee appointed by the Central Government is examining the question of improving tourist facilities in India and of encouraging not merely foreign visitors, but Indians themselves "to discover India."

12-Man Executive to Start Senior Hockey Ball Rolling in Nelson; Walter Duckworth Named President

Efforts of Nelson hockey supporters to put senior hockey back in the limelight received fresh impetus Friday night when a 12-man Executive was selected to head a new club at a large meeting at the Civic Centre.

There were over 70 at the meeting, with representatives from Rotary, Gyro, Kinsmen and Lions Clubs attending, as well as veteran supporters of the national game. They passed on suggestions to the Executive, started a subscription list for season tickets, heard several pleas to have District youngsters brought along for senior play, and generally threshed out the situation from top to bottom.

The Executive selected Walter Duckworth as President; H. M. Whimster, Vice-President; W. P. Kapak, Secretary-Treasurer; H. A. Doak, Treasurer.

Leo Atwell, Walter Duckworth and Pat Aitken will form the Players Selection Committee.

A Booster Club will also be formed, with Service Club members forming the foundation for a large club.

W.K. MEETING OCT. 7

Chairman H. M. Whimster announced that a meeting of the West Kootenay Association will be held at Nelson Sunday, Oct. 7. Trail had the nucleus of the pre-war Smoke-Eaters, he said, while Kimberley was in a similar position to Nelson and would require some imports.

The Executive includes Mr. Whimster, Ray Shaw, J. A. Ferguson, A. S. (Pat) Aitken, W. A. Duckworth, W. P. Kapak, M. N. (Slim) Porter, W. E. Marquis, G. F. Allan, H. A. Doak, H. Peacock and Dr. T. H. Bourque.

The Executive will set up ticket sales and player selection committees.

The Senior Club had $105 in the bank, A. B. Gilker, Treasurer during the 1940-41 season when senior hockey folded up, reported. In that season, receipts for home games had been over $7000 and expenditures over $4000. By the time referee fees, travelling expenses and so on had been paid out, there was a balance of five cents.

Since then, $99 had been received from the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association as the Club's share for a player that had turned professional.

Mayor N. C. Stibbs urged the gathering to unite in an effort to put senior hockey back on the map. He felt that in men like Jack Kilpatrick, Leo Atwell and W. A. Duckworth, there was already a good foundation for a team. There was also a possibility Len Bicknell might return and returning servicemen such as Everett Kuhn would also form good hockey material, he felt.

In the neighborhood of nine or 10 players would have to be imported, Mr. Whimster told questioners.

Leo Atwell said he thought quite a number of players were available. They were married men who wanted to settle down and were looking for jobs that held futures for them. Some of them had been playing on service teams.

W. P. Kapak suggested jobs be lined up, then the prospective players told what could be guaranteed.

Slim Porter suggested young players be brought in and given suitable employment. The day when picks and shovels were handed players was gone. He suggested a scout be sent away to find such material. Older players would find it hard to set a pace to the fans' liking.

It was at Porter's suggestion that an Executive was set up when several men turned down nominations for President, with the Executive having the power to name its President.

ICE BY NOV. 1

The Arena ice would be ready for skating Nov. 1, Ed Kelter, Civic Secretary-Manager, told the meeting.

No equipment was on hand for a team, Mr. Whimster reported. In the past this had cost about $900.

Mr. Atwell proposed that Service teams' discarded equipment might be available. New equipment was difficult to obtain and much more expensive than in pre-war years.

John Erb, G. A. Hoover, Alderman T. H. Waters and Mayor Stibbs were ardent supporters of the idea of using local talent. They felt local boys with ability should be trained and developed. It was argued that more interest would be shown by fans if local talent was given the opportunity to play.

Pat Aitken, B.C.A.H.A. Secretary, said that was the feeling all over British Columbia. This could be done if all agreed not to import teams, but if players were not imported, hockey would cease in B.C. at playdown time.

He said that statistics in Calgary, a city of 80,000, had shown that only four or five players capable of playing in topnotch hockey were turned out annually, there.

Dr. Bourque felt players should be imported. Unless Nelson could hold its own against Kimberley and Trail, the gate receipts would be *poor. Kimberley had already stat*ed that imports were necessary, while Trail had a team lined up of men who were imported years ago. The local talent idea was an excellent one, but gate receipts failed to give it support.

Suggest That Canada Should Keep Permanent Armed Force

BY D'ARCY O'DONNELL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Sept. 28 (CP)—Suggestions that Canada keep herself strong in the military sense with permanent armed forces which would be kept at the peak of efficiency were heard today in the Commons as debate began on the Government's War Expenditures and Demobilization Bill.

M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, said that while long range defence policies could not be worked out until implementation of the United Nations Charter, the policies for the time being should be considered in the light of Canadian interests and those of the United Nations.

Solon Low, Social Credit leader, said Canada should be prepared to contribute her strength to ensure the preservation of Britain, which if destroyed would mean the end of the Commonwealth.

Howard Green (PC—Vancouver South) said that as a result of wartime developments Canada might be the battleground in the event of another war.

The three men and John Diefenbaker (PC—Lake Centre) spoke after Finance Minister Ilsley announced that Government expenditures during the current fiscal year were placed at more than $5,000,000,000. He forecast outlays totalling $4,000,000,000 during the year following the Ninth Victory Loan opening Oct. 22.

Announcements preceding Mr. Ilsley's speech included: the appointment of George McIlraith (L—Ottawa West) as Parliamentary Assistant to Reconstruction Minister Howe; Mr. Ilsley will serve as Acting Prime Minister while Prime Minister Mackenzie King is in the United Kingdom.

Both Mr. Coldwell and Mr. Green called for the establishment of standing committees to go continuously into the field of defence.

Mr. Green suggested a committee similar to those in the United States Congress. Mr. Coldwell suggested a non-partisan committee, which would be a mixed committee of civilians and military men.

Life to 10 Years Sentences for Three Canucks for Aiding Enemy

LONDON, Sept. 28 (CP Cable)—Sentences ranging from life imprisonment to 10 years imprisonment were imposed by courts martial on three soldiers in the Canadian Army tried on charges equivalent to treason, Canadian Military Headquarters announced today.

Courts martial on these three soldiers—all former members of the Essex Scottish Regiment who were taken prisoner during the Dieppe raid on Aug. 19, 1942—were held at Farnborough, Hampshire, late in August and early in September.

The charges of voluntarily aiding the enemy while a prisoner of war were laid under Section Four of the Army Act and are equivalent to charges of treason.

The maximum penalty which could have been imposed was death.

Galaher's trial, the first of the three to be held, was closed to the public. It lasted four days. Wording of the charge against him was the same as that against Hale—aiding the enemy as an informer of information received from other prisoners.

Martin, whose trial lasted six days, faced two charges: one of aiding the Germans as an informer of information received from fellow-prisoners and the other of aiding the enemy as a member of the German-controlled anti-Russian British Free Corps.

The three men were charged with aiding the enemy while prisoners of war.

Pte. John Gordon Galaher, 34, of Windsor, Ont., was sentenced to penal servitude for life.

Pte. Edwin Barnard Martin, 26, of Riverside, Ont., was sentenced to 25 years in prison.

Pte. George Hale, 24, of Vassar, Mich., formerly of Windsor, Ont., was sentenced to 10 years in prison.

All the accused will be discharged "with ignominy" from the armed forces.

MONTREAL, Que., Sept. 28 — Eighteen tons of food, including 10 tons of meat, has been sent to Halifax this weekend in the pantries of Canadian Pacific dining cars which make up part of the 277 car total despatched to the Atlantic seaboard for the thousands of overseas troops returning to their homes throughout Eastern Canada and as far West as Calgary.

KELOWNA MERCHANTS PROTEST RATIONING

KELOWNA, B.C., Sept. 28 (CP) —Although no strike action is planned the Retail Merchants Association has sent several wires of protest to the Federal Government against the present meat rationing system.

Hundreds of pounds of mouldy weiners and scores of "sour" meat loaves were thrown into garbage cans this week by Kelowna butchers as residents refused to use their meat coupons to buy them.

3,000 More Chauffeurs' Licences in B.C.

VICTORIA, Sept. 28 (CP)—There now are in B. C. almost 3000 more persons holding chauffeur's licences than in 1944.

The biggest increase was shown in Class "C" Chauffeur's licences which soared to 18,702 from 16,354. Original class "B" chauffeur's licences increased from 1801 to 1850. Original class "A" licences totalled 1754 compared with 1486 a year ago.

Bus drivers hold class "A" licences, taxi drivers class "B" and truck drivers class "C".

Motor vehicles registered on July 31 last totalled 127,066, compared with 126,864 at that time last year.

Dodgers Clinch Third Place in National League

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28 (AP) —Brooklyn Dodgers clinched third place in the National League today when they defeated Philadelphia Phillies, 5-2. It was the Dodgers' 10th victory in 10 games played at Shibe Park this year.

Eddie Stanky, the Dodgers' lead-off hitter, drew four bases on balls on his first four times at bat and his fourth pass was his 147th of the season. With it he tied the National League record for bases on balls received by one player in a single season, the standard having been made by Jimmy Sheckard of Chicago Cubs in 1911. When he drew the pass which enabled him to tie the record Stanky asked for the ball and received it as a trophy. In his fifth actual time at bat, he was retired on a foul. The American League mark is 170 drawn by Babe Ruth with the 1923 New York Yankees.

Hogan Holds Lead in Portland Golf

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 28 (AP) Slim little Ben Hogan maintained his sizzling sub-par pace today to hold his lead at the halfway mark of the 72-hole Portland Open tournament.

His second round, 69, three under par, gave him a 36-hole total of 134, a working margin of four strokes over his hottest challenger Harold (Jug) McSpaden, Sanford, Maine. McSpaden also came in with a 69, equalling his first round effort, to hold a midway count of 138.

Harry Bassler, Los Angeles, adding a 71 to his opening 69, was well up at 140 shots, with Jimmy Hines, Chicago, right behind at 141. Hines took a 70 today.

The lowest second round score was chalked up by a Spokane, Wash., amateur, Ken Storey, who tacked up a 32-36—68 to give him a total 142. Defending Champion Sam Snead, Hot Springs, Va., was in the same bracket with a pair of 71s.

NELSON FINDS TROUBLE

Byron Nelson of Toledo, O., leading money winner of the country the last two years and pre-tournament favorite here, continued to find trouble on the greens and missed putts cost him several strokes. He needed 71 shots to get around the course today, the same score he had in the first round. So he finished 36 holes in a 142-tie with Snead and the amateur, Storey.

Jim Ferrier, the big Army sergeant from San Francisco, knocked in a 71-round for a total of 144. A shot behind in the 145-class were Ted Longworth and Joe Mozel, both of Portland.

Next in line was Vancouver's Freddie Wood, who carded a 35-37 —72 to give him a halfway score of 146, the same as former National P.G.A. Champion, Bob Hamilton, now a private in the United States Army at Fort Lewis, Wash.

Stan Leonard, Canadian professional champion of Vancouver had a 38-35—73 for 148 and two other Vancouver players, Ernie Brown had 40-41—81 for a two-day total of 158 and Hal Thodes had 87-41-47 —175.

The field was trimmed after today's round to the 50 low scorers, plus ties.

TOAST-TEA
BY [illegible]

After the Battle of Bull Run, when the city of Washington feared an imminent attack by the forces of the Confederacy, Gen. McClellan devoted himself to building up the Army of the Potomac, one of whose chief duties would be to defend the capital. Hundreds of sight-seers, Margaret Leech tells us in Washington Reveille, thronged to see the military spectacles he was providing. Driving back to Washington in heavy traffic one evening, a party of Bostonians beguiled the tedium by singing John Brown's Body, a favorite with the Massachusetts regiments. One of the party, Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, was a writer, and she vaguely wished to set some new words to the tune. At dawn next morning she awoke in her room at Willard's, with long lines of verse swinging through her brain. She jumped out of bed and with an old stump of pencil scrawled in the semi-darkness the stanzas of The Battle Hymn of the Republic, which with the exception of what Walt Whitman later wrote, was possibly the best poem to be inspired by the American Civil War.

German Doctor Testifies . . .

Remove Liver From Bodies for Food at Belsen Camp

LUENEBURG, Germany, Sept. 28 (AP)—A thin bespectacled German doctor testified before a British military court today that cannibalism was rampant in the men's compound of Belsen concentration camp.

"I have seen bodies with the livers removed for food," Dr. Fritz Leo told the court. "I have seeen many bodies with the ears cut off, parts of cheeks, shoulders, arms, back and other parts cut off for food—either eaten raw or cooked later."

Forty-five S.S. defendants, their eyes dropping to the floor, heard the doctor say the S.S. gave orders that any prisoner guilty of cannibalism would be hanged or beaten to death.

Dr. Leo cared for the prisoners from February until April, when the camp was liberated.

Earlier accusations were levelled against Peter Weingartner, one of 45 members of the personnel of Oswiecim and Belsen concentration camps.

Lydia Sonszajn, 13th witness in the trial, said: "The Germans couldn't find the fifth girl and I was the sixth."

The witness said the six girls worked in the camp's powder factory and managed to steal enough explosive to blow up the gas chamber. They also stole wire cutters to get through the surrounding fence.

Miss Sonszajn told how Peter Weingartner, one of the defendants, was in charge of 1,000 girls and women employed digging sand from the Vistula River.

FOREWOMAN

"I was sent there as a forewoman but as I didn't beat the girls, I was punished by being made to work in the river with water up to my knees," she said. "There was steep hill and dogs were set on the women to make them run up the hill . . . Weingarten also gave me 15 blows on the head with a rubber truncheon. I fainted and had to be put to bed for 10 days."

Turning to Josef Kramer, Commandant of the Belsen Camp, Miss Sonszajn said she recognized him as having been present at many of the gas chamber parades along with others of the accused when prisoners were called out to be sent to their deaths.

KNEELING IN THE RAIN

The witness told how Kramer had punished a group of Russian girls for stealing bread by forcing them to kneel in the rain in front of their barracks for 24 hours without food.

"As a result of this treatment, some of them died," the witness said.

Lt.-Col. F. G. Champion, called to describe the procedure of collecting affidavits from concentration camp victims, said photographs of S.S. men and women were shown to former prisoners for identification.

A ripple of laughter passed through the grim court room when Col. Champion said: "Some wit put a newspaper photograph of Field Marshal Montgomery on the wall and at least one person actually identified him as an S.S. officer."

To Divide Peace Time Navy Between Atlantic, Pacific

VANCOUVER, Sept. 28 (CP)—Canada's peacetime navy, "much larger" than before the war, will be divided evenly between the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts, it was announced here today by Rear Admiral V. G. Brodeur, RCN, commanding officer, Pacific Coast.

Admiral Brodeur said at a press conference that the post-war navy will include cruisers, aircraft carriers, destroyers and frigates but no corvettes. Ships, men and training facilities would be divided on a 50-50 basis between the two coasts.

He also announced that Pacific Coast naval headquarters, based at Vancouver since the war with Japan began, would be operating in Esquimalt, B. C., again by Nov. 1.

HIGHEST RANKING OFFICER

Admiral Brodeur added that after the transfer he would continue as commanding officer, Pacific Coast. He would be the highest ranking officer in that post in peacetime. The pre-war C.O.P.C. was a commodore. The Atlantic Coast C.O. at present is a commodore.

He said the Navy is reverting to peace-time establishment as quickly as possible but the Navy will have a "much larger" peace-time complement of ships and men than before the war.

After Pacific Coast headquarters is transferred, only a reserve division will remain in Vancouver. This reserve division is H.M.C.S. Discovery, one of the most important training establishments both for the Navy and Sea Cadets in Canada.

45 SHIPS

Forty-five ships would be declared surplus and sold on the West Coast soon by the War Assets Corporation. These included 11 frigates, nine corvettes, 12 fairmiles and 13 minesweepers. Markets were assured for all ships but corvettes. The Royal Canadian Mounted Police and the Fisheries already have taken over some vessels including armament.

Demobilization on the West Coast has just about reached its peak of speed with 150 personnel being discharged each day. About 50 officers are discharged each week.

Questioned about Wrens being taken into the permanent navy, Admiral Brodeur said no decision has been reached yet but it is his personal opinion that some Wrens still doing key work will be induced to join the civil service after demobilization and as civilians continue to do the same work they were doing while in the Navy.

CHARGES THAT C.C.F. OPPOSING UNIONS

VANCOUVER, Sept. 28 (CP) — Sam Carr, National Organizer of the Labor Progressive Party charged last night the C.C.F. in Saskatchewan is deliberately opposing union organization.

Branding "wild statements" being made by Harold Winch and the C.C.F. in regard to a six-hour day "sheer responsibility," he told a large election rally.

"Not only have they not introduced the six-hour day in Saskatchewan, but in their Government-owned shoe factory they are opposing union organization in order to compete with a privately-owned factory in Winnipeg.

"The minimum wage in Saskatchewan is $11 for a 44-hour week."

Maurice Rush, L.P.P. candidate in Vancouver Centre, said that only with a united front of L.P.P., C.C.F., People's C.C.F., labor and farm groups behind a single candidate in each constituency is there any hope of defeating the Coalition.

Murderer of 10-Year-Old Awaits Hearing

LANGLEY PRAIRIE, B.C., Sept. 28 (CP)—Nobel Monahan, 53-year-old former inmate of a mental institution, was held in custody today awaiting preliminary hearing on a charge of murder in connection with the fatal shooting of Doreen Ryan, 10, Wednesday.

Monahan was captured yesterday only a few yards from the scene of the shooting. He apparently had hidden overnight with his dog under a pile of hay while armed posses scoured the area 25 miles Southeast of Vancouver. Monahan appeared before Magistrate D. W. Poppy and was remanded to Oct. 4.

Mrs. Thomas Ryan, mother of Doreen, reported to police that Monahan fired several bullets from a .22 calibre rifle into the girl's head in a root-house on the Monahan farm where the Ryans were tenants.

FIRED TWO SHOTS

Mrs. Ryan said she found her daughter lying in a pool of blood in the root-house with Monahan standing over her with a rifle. She added that she failed in an attempt to take the rifle from the man and then he fired two shots into the girl's head.

Police officers said no motive for the crime has been established yet.

Michel Mines to Fall in Step With Striking Miners

NATAL, B. C., Sept. 28—At a special meeting in the Legion Hall at 1 p.m. a motion was passed that the Michel Miners' Local No. 7292 of District A18 stand pat and fall in line with the rest of the miners who are striking for additional meat ration throughout the Crow's Nest Pass and other Alberta mining camps.

The actions of the Crow's Nest Pass miners in Alberta were endorsed, and copies of the Michel miners' actions will be wired immediately to the Wartime Prices and Trade Board in Ottawa, and one to the district's headquarters at Calgary, from where it can be sent to John Stokaluk of the district office, who is at present in Ottawa. It was decided also to strike until the miners' demands have been rectified. The walkout involves some 900 miners, Michel local having a membership of nearly 600, and Fernie local, which is also expected to follow Michel's footsteps.

Both Michel and Fernie mines are operated by the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company.

Says C.C.F. Trying to Poison Minds of Youth

VANCOUVER, Sept. 28 (CP) — At a rally of Vancouver's Social Credit forces last night, Peer V. Pavnter, Vancouver-Burrard standard bearer, hurled charges the C.C.F. is deliberately attempting to poison the mind of youth against democracy.

To a meeting which listened to the party's five candidates, he spoke of "a well-defined" Socialist and Communist conspiracy "to poison the mind of our youth against ordinary patriotism and indoctrinate the young with collectivist and totalitarian attitudes."

Said he: "This is carried on in our schools, our high schools and our university by C.C.F. and Communist-inclined teachers and professors. They have courses and text books in so-called social science and political science — both largely phoney sciences as they are taught."

Eric Martin, Social Credit candidate for Vancouver-Centre, urged adoption of these education measures in post-war Canada:

1. Every child, when qualified, should have access to the highest possible standard of education, including university and technical courses, irrespective of financial means.

2. Adequate grants-in-aid on the basis of 'weighed population" should be provided by the responsible Federal authority, supplemented by Provincial grants, for maintenance of the highest possible standard of education, including erection and up-keep of buildings.

INVENTS NEW BABY-TENDER

By JOHN JAMESON

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Sept. 28 (AP)—Debby Skinner, 13 months old, has lived since birth in a box—a mechanical baby-tender—free from almost all sound and dirt and always at the right temperature for a baby.

The baby-tender is science's contribution to easing the modern mother's problems. Debby's father writes about it in the Ladies Home Journal for October.

LABOR-SAVING

"Her remarkable good health and happiness and my wife's welcome leisure have exceeded our most optimistic predictions," says the father, B. F. Skinner, recently named professor of psychology at Indiana University. He and Mrs. Skinner felt it was time to apply a little labor-saving to the problems of the nursery, and the mechanical baby-tender resulted.

The first problem tackled was how to keep the baby warm. Their answer was to heat the baby's home —so they had built an insulated box about the size of a crib. One side is safety glass, which can be raised like a window.

The box is heated by electricity to the temperature wanted, controlled by a safety device.

LIVES COMFORTABLY

Debby lives there, wearing no clothes except a diaper.

At first she was most comfortable at 86 degrees, but now she likes it best at 78 degrees.

The bottom of the box is tightly stretched canvass over which there is a sheet. The clean sheet, except that part in use, is on a roll outside the crib and a fresh sheet can be put in place by turning a crank, pulling a clean section over the bottom of the box in a few seconds. The sheet is 10 yards long and lasts a week.

DRESSED FOR FUN

Occasionally Debby is dressed up "for fun" or for her play period, but that is all. The wrapping blanket, roller sheet and the usual diapers are the only laundry actually required, the professor said.

Most satisfying to the Skinners is the baby's health. She has always enjoyed deep and extended sleep, and her feeding and eliminative habits have been extraordinarily regular. "She has never had stomach upset" the father writes.

NOT SURE

But not all who know about the Skinners' mechanical baby-tender are enthusiastic or sure it is the way to raise a baby.

The Skinners plan to keep Debby in the box until she is two years old, or perhaps three, extending the time out of the box as she grows older. She spends about 8½ hours a day out of the box now. Eventually she will spend only her sleeping time in it.

MAYORS FAVOR SUMMERTIME DAYLIGHT SAVING

WINNIPEG, Sept. 28 (CP)—Member municipalities of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities are in favor of Summertime daylight saving, from April 30 to September 30, it was shown today in the report of a survey made to the executive committee of the Federation meeting here. Standard time would be reverted to for the Winter months.

"The survey showed that this practice should be uniform across the country," said Mayor J. W. Cornett of Vancouver, President of the Federation.

Senseless Criticism of the Use of the Atomic Bomb

There seems curious confusion of thought among those who criticize the use of the atomic bomb against Japan.

In Great Britain 31 people, chiefly preachers, writers, musicians and teachers, are circulating a petition declaring the bomb was a "further deliberate violation of the principles of sacredness of human life upon which Christian civilization and democratic society alike have been based and the perpetration of this crime reduces to hypocrisy the self-constituted right of Allied nations to put 'war criminals' on trial."

On this principle a police officer, because it is wrong to shoot a human being, would allow himself to be shot down by a homicidal criminal rather than defend himself by shooting his attacker; the husband of Lady Pethick-Lawrence, one of the signers of the petition, would allow her to be assaulted by a lust-inspired armed burglar rather than shoot the burglar.

Winston Churchill has said, and American military leaders have agreed with him, that the atomic bomb saved the Allies from the bloody venture of invading Japan, and that the invasion would have cost one million American and half a million British casualties.

Should we have sacrificed 1½ million Allied servicemen rather than use the atomic bomb?

It was the Axis powers which violated the Hague Convention by bombing large areas of populated cities. Once the Germans had thus attempted to bring us to our knees should we have accepted certain defeat by refusing to bomb German cities?

If other than atomic bombing could have forced the Japanese to surrender, which our military leaders say was impossible without accompanying landings of vast armies, would it have been more humane to kill hundreds of thousands of Japs in a prolonged war with many thousands of ordinary bombs instead of killing 70,000 with two atomics thus throwing the Tokyo government into despair and capitulation?

The truth is that the atomic bomb saved hundreds of thousands of lives on both sides of the war in the Orient.

The British intellectuals who criticize the employment of the atomic bomb are strongly ignorant of what war means. In these times, since the Germans reverted to the war theories of the primitive savages, it means that you either destroy the enemy or he destroys you. There are no polite half measures. The knights of King Arthur are long dead.

Science Safeguards Equipment Against Cracks

Dr. Stephen E. Maddigan who has been appointed Director of the B. C. Industrial and Scientific Research Council has recently gained wide recognition for his contributions in the metallurgical field. He has been largely responsible for the development of the microradiographic technique into a highly effective tool for examining the internal structure and composition of alloy castings. Microradiography has been found to be of great value in revealing metallurgical defects which would otherwise pass unnoticed.

A new British crack detector has also recently been developed for shapes and materials. The apparatus, which is known as the metrolux, operates by fluorescent indication. It consists of an inspection cabinet and a tank, the latter being divided into three compartments for impregnating, cleaning and drying.

Operation is simple. The material under examination is first soaked in a fluorescent solution in the impregnating tank, dipped into the cleaning tank, and then covered with fine sawdust in the drying tank. It is next placed in the inspection cabinet, where a mercury vapor discharge lamp bathes it in ultra-violet light, when the fluorescence brilliantly reveals even the most minute cracks. Special areas can be brought into prominence by means of a lever which causes the rays to be focused on any given point, fluorescence being accordingly increased.

One important advantage of this system is that since the ultra-violet rays are invisible the sound surfaces are dimmed, so that any fluorescent markings stand out in acute contrast. The cabinet has a hooded design which effectively dispenses with the necessity for a dark room or other special provisions entailed under former testing methods.

The metrolux outfit can deal with many shapes and materials hitherto beyond the scope of non-destructive testing—for example, magnetic and non-magnetic metals, and alloys, plastics, ceramics and other solids. Besides exposing surface cracks, folds or porocity, it also locates leaks in vacuum equipment.

Where Do Voters Come in Asks Donaldson re Coalition Nominations

To the Editor:

Sir:—I was interested in reading your report of the Liberal nominating convention that was held in Nelson last Saturday, the 22nd, and was particularly interested in Mr. Putnam's answer to a question by Mr. Winlaw.

Mr. Winlaw wanted to know the conditions under which the Liberal members in the House went into Coalition with the Progressive Conservatives. Mr. Winlaw maintained that the ordinary person had had nothing to say about this. I think he is right. In reply Mr. Putnam said that he would have to go back to 1941, and how at that time neither the Liberals, Conservatives or C.C.F. had a majority in the House. Mr. Hart proposed a Coalition for the duration of the War, the C.C.F. refused to join in, but the Liberals and Conservatives formed the Coalition and carried on as the Government.

Now when the war is over, the Liberals and Conservatives decide they should carry on with the Coalition; they claim it is just as important to have stable government during the post-war period. But the manner in which they have decided they should carry on, and the formula they proposed, strike me as altogether at variance with my understanding of a democratic form of Government. Mr. Putnam says that it was decided in caucus—I presume that this was a caucus of the Liberal and Conservative members of the House. The formula that was worked out among the members themselves was that Coalition candidates would be limited to the present member, or one of the same political party; this applied to those seats held by the present Coalition members. This deal would lead one to think that the present member was trying to make sure that he would continue to be the member, or if not himself, it would be one who had the same party beliefs. Mr. Putnam thought this fair as far as the Liberal party was concerned. Well, I think he is right in that, because I understand there were 19 Liberals and 11 Conservatives in the last House, so it would be fair to the Liberals if they could get Progressive Conservative support for their candidates, and it would prevent the Progressive Conservatives from a chance of getting as many seats in the next House as the Liberals. I guess this was so the Liberals could hold the balance of power; of course this all depended on the formula working.

But where do the people in the different ridings come in? Are we to accept this political deal among the members, which, if successful, would work out to a life-time job for the present member?

I know they will say that this is only for the coming session. They said that before. In 1941 the Coalition—at that time—was to last only for the duration of the war. If they should happen to elect sufficient of their number at the coming election so that they could carry on, what is to prevent them doing the same thing all over again when the next election comes around? And if the people should give them a mandate to carry on at this time, how long is the post-war period?

Further, do we realize that this sort of a deal restricts voters of a riding from retiring present member, should they so desire? Their only alternative would be to vote for the C.C.F. It is possible some would not want to vote that way. We either take the present member, or the country will go Socialist, is what I have been told. Is that the club the Coalition deal is holding over the heads of the people? It makes one wonder what was meant when we heard so much talk about fighting the war for political freedom.

Mr. Putnam also says that owing to the Dominion Government's request to restrict conventions, they did not call one, but instead had their Provincial Executive agree to the deal. Once more the Coalition members come into the picture. All members of the Provincial House are members of the executive of their particular party, and as such could bring a lot of pressure to bear on the other members of the executive to agree to the formula.

In some ways the restriction on conventions excuse does not add up. From recent newspaper reports labor unions, mining engineers, Union of Municipalities, and others have been holding conventions, not only in Vancouver, but all over Canada. This looks like blaming the Dominion Government for not giving the rank and file of each political party an opportunity of expressing their opinions on a matter so vital to the political freedom of the people.

I believe the people of the riding, and they only, have the right to choose their candidate, and from reports it is apparent some of the people in the Kaslo-Slocan, the Grand Forks-Greenwood, and the Saanich ridings have similar beliefs.

M. C. DONALDSON.

J. W. G., Trail — Please name some unusual uses that were made of plants during the war.

Among the ingenious uses to which plants were put were: sphagnum moss—dressing for wounds; charcoal from fruit-pits—used for gas masks; birch and willow pulp—used as a substitute for cotton and the nettle for making textiles; meal obtained from clover, horse chestnuts, oats, Indian corn, barley, beans, peas and buckwheat—used in place of flour; roasted barley and oats and roasted acorns and beechnuts—substitute for coffee; in Germany eventually a substitute for coffee was made from carrots and yellow turnips; bloom of the linden tree mixed with beech buds was found to make an excellent beverage; roasted peas and oats—substitute for cocoa.

Mrs. W. A. L., Nelson—Could you please tell me how to make saccharin sweeten uncooked mixed pickles?

Write to the Recipe Department at the Vancouver Province. They will be able to supply you with the answer.

A. B. C., Cranbrook—I have heard that there is a way to crack nuts so that the meat comes out whole. Can you tell me how to do this?

Putting the nuts in boiling water for three to five minutes makes it possible to crack them when cool and remove the meat whole.

It's too bad, but it's true: Hog marketings this year up to June 1 were 1,500,000 head less than for the same period in 1944. And how those 1,500,000 hogs are needed now! What's wrong with sheep? Other classes of meat-producing animals have increased substantially while sheep number about the same as in 1871. All the while, large quantities of wool are imported. Spr. A. P. Surina Returns to Nakusp; Overseas Four Years

NAKUSP, B.C.—Sapper A. P. Surina, son of Mrs M. Surina, returned to Nakusp Friday after four years overseas.

While crossing the choppy North Sea at night in the early part of June, 1944, his Channel scow broke away and was picked up the next morning and towed to the Normandy shore amid a cross fire of Allied sea craft and Nazi 88s.

In September of the same year his battalion was sent to Arnhem to release some British and Canadian Paratroops trapped in a pocket but as they arrived in Nijmegen just a short distance from their goal they themselves were trapped but later released when Allied troops broke through. He was on operations somewhere across the Rhine when surrender came.

FO. LAPOINTE

FO. L. P. Horace Lapointe, son of H. Lapointe of Nelson, who completed an operational tour as an R.C.A.F. Navigator last April, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Flying Officer Lapointe returned to Nelson last June after being overseas more than a year. Born and raised in Trail, he was employed there when he enlisted in 1942. He attended Central and High Schools and Business College at Nelson.

A letter informing him of the award stated:

"The Minister for Air personally and the Chief of the Air Staff on behalf of himself and all ranks of Royal Canadian Air Force congratulate you most heartily on the award of the Distinguished Flying Cross made to you September 8 (announced September 28) by His Majesty the King. Arrangements will be made to have this medal presented to you at a later date."

WHEN a man has lived for several years among strange sights in far places, in a world of excitement and adventure, it is not easy for him to return to the work he left behind and settle down to normal peacetime living. If, in addition, he returns with some physical disability, his problem is even greater.

It is this latter aspect of the rehabilitation of our fighting men that has led this Company to make a special study of the placement of disabled veterans in its organization.

Of the 2400 and more men who left the Company to go to war, about three hundred already have returned. All of them will be given the opportunity to return to their former employment (or as far as possible any other type of work they may prefer) WITH A STANDING EQUAL TO THAT WHICH THEY WOULD HAVE ATTAINED HAD THEY STAYED AT HOME.

But some, fortunately not many, of them have returned maimed, sick, or perhaps just mentally upset. These will need, and will receive, special consideration. They are being trained to do such work as their disability allows, and at the same time encouraged to realize that their special tasks are as vital to the organization as the more strenuous work being done by their fellows.

In this way Consolidated is endeavouring to fulfil its part in Canada's obligation to her fighting men. Our work along these lines will be continued until all those of our 2400 veterans who return to us have been fully reinstated.

Release Material When Building Permit Issued

OTTAWA, Sept. 28 (CP)—Materials for house building are released when a building permit has been obtained, Reconstruction Minister Howe said today in the Commons.

Permits were issued freely for small houses, but in the case of large houses the need for such buildings was carefully assessed.

No material was available for building shops or repairing existing shops. The Government felt available materials should be used for housing.

The situation was improving, and it was hoped that later this Autumn it would be possible to issue permits for building and remodelling.

The Long Road Back

During the war years the growth of the telephone systems of North America was restricted by Government order so that materials, labor and manufacturing facilities could be diverted to war purposes. This policy contributed greatly to the war effort but naturally resulted in thousands of people being unable to get telephone service. At the time of writing, there are over two million names on the waiting lists for telephone service in North America.

Now the factories are changing back to peacetime production, and the huge job of catching up with telephone demands has begun. The products of the factories are being apportioned among the telephone systems of the continent. We are getting our share of telephones, wire, cables, switchboards, automatic equipment, and so forth, but it will be many months before factory deliveries enable us to make telephone installations on a normal basis.

Moderator Visits Nelson Presbyterians

Right Rev. J. M. Macgillivray, D.D., Moderator of the General Assembly, honored Nelson Presbyterians Tuesday evening by being their guest at a reception held in the Presbyterian Church Parlors.

The distinguished visitor addressed the gathering, telling them that the pessimistic view of the Presbyterian Church in Canada was groundless. The Church was now entirely free of debt and had a substantial balance which was going to be used for the extension of its work at home and abroad.

"Some people forget," the Moderator said, "that the Presbyterian Church in Canada is part of the largest Protestant communion in the world, whose membership is 42,000,000."

The Moderator was introduced by Rev. A. N. Shannon of St. Stephen's Church, Creston. A. N. Winlaw, on behalf of the Nelson congregation, expressed appreciation for the Moderator's visit. Refreshments were served by the Ladies' Aid.

Revelstoke Libs Withdraw From Coalition

REVELSTOKE, B.C., Sept. 28 (CP)—Liberals in Revelstoke have withdrawn publicly from the Coalition and will run an Independent-Liberal candidate in the Oct. 25 Provincial election.

They will refuse to support W. J. Johnson, President of the local Progressive Conservative Association, chosen as candidate at a joint Liberal-Progressive nominating convention Wednesday night.

Mr. Johnson won the nomination on the second ballot by a vote of 36 to 34 over S. E. Moase, former President of the Liberal Association. Following balloting, Mr. Moase moved that Mr. Johnson's election be unanimous and the motion carried without a dissenting vote.

Thursday, a group of prominent Liberals, including Mr. Moase, and the President and Secretary of the Liberal Association, in an advertisement in the Revelstoke Review, announced its withdrawal from the Coalition.

The advertisement claimed nomination of a Conservative violated arrangements made by the Provincial Steering Committee of both parties.

(Liberal Party officials in Victoria said they were aware of no such arrangement. They said the rule laid down was this:

(In Constituencies where there was a sitting member of either party of the Coalition, that member, or a member of the same party, would be given the nomination. In constituencies where neither party had a sitting member — the C.C.F. holds the Revelstoke seat — an open joint convention of both Liberals and Progressive Conservatives would select a candidate, as was done in Revelstoke.)

The dissenting Liberals contend that Mr. Johnson, after being nominated, made a strictly Conservative speech of acceptance, which "completely overlooked" Coalition, and made it impossible for Liberals to extend him further support.

The Progressive Conservative Association at Revelstoke insists that in view of the loss of the seat by a Liberal Coalition candidate in open convention, the winner should have support of the losing side.
