

'Offensive' Speed Brings Warning

Canada to Demand Recall of Officials If Act Repeated Russian Embassy Told

OTTAWA, Nov. 6 (CP)—The Government warned the Russian Embassy tonight would demand the "immediate recall" of any diplomatic official making "offensive" speeches such as that of I. O. Scherbatuk, Soviet employee here, at St. Vital, Man., last July 27.

In a note delivered to the Russian charge d'affaires, the External Affairs Department declared Scherbatuk's speech at a Ukrainian picnic, as reported in a Ukrainian newspaper, was "clearly offensive" and "calculated to promote ill-will and hostility" between different groups of people in Canada.

The Canadian note, delivered to M. V. Degtiar, Russian Charge d'Affaires, quoted Scherbatuk in his St. Vital speech as follows:

"But there are to be found among the Ukrainians of Canada those who gladly unfold their bosoms to these traitors and bewail their hard fate. They share the hatred of the traitors towards their homeland because they themselves have already turned black from fierce hatred for the Ukraine and her heroic people, who, in fraternity with all the other peoples of the Soviet Union, have created real conditions for an abundant development of the Ukraine, which has been recognized by all the nations of the world as an independent and sovereign state. They believe in all the lies of the displaced persons because they themselves have long ago lost all sense of truth and honor."

"It can be said of these people that for a long time now they have made a bed of lies. They sleep on lies and cover themselves with lies. We shall leave this unworthy practice upon their conscience, for we know that a family is not without a degenerate."

"The Ukrainian people do not pay the slightest attention to this twaddle of the Nationalists. The Ukrainian people are preoccupied with their own great and noble business—the business of Socialist construction, the business of improving the material welfare of the working masses, the business of establishing a lasting peace throughout the world."

$235 Stolen In Nelson Safe Robbery

An expert job of safe cracking netted a thief or thieves $235 from Dill's Super Service Station, 401 Victoria Street, Wednesday night. The safe, had been carried from the front of the building to the back garage where the dial had been knocked off and spindle pulled out. The theft was discovered at 7:30 Thursday morning.

City police assumed it was the work of experts. No finger prints were found and there was indication of how the garage had been broken into. Police did not discount a suggestion that the person or persons might have been in the shop when it closed.

The tools used in the robbery were identified as those stolen from the C.P.R. Repair Shop earlier in the week. Employees of the C.P.R. reported that two strangers had been seen on the premises and Police here are following the lead.

Archangel Shouts Denial Terrorism Role

Elders Given Right to Use Funds At Own Discretion, Commission Told; Contributors Have Share in Colony

SOUTH SLOCAN, B.C., Nov. 6—Fiercely denying that he had taken any part in terrorist acts in West Kootenay, Michael, the "Archangel", Verigin Thursday completed two days testimony before the Special Commission into Doukhobor Affairs in the noisiest session on record. He rebutted charges that he had misused charity collections totalling approximately $7000 by giving a partial account of their expenditure and shouted "no" on being questioned about directing arson attacks.

"No, no, no," he shouted when first asked by Council H. W. McInnes of Penticton if he had directed the burning of several buildings in Krestova and Glade as alleged by previous witnesses.

Rousing the crowd to shouts of anger with his continual denials, he called his accusers "devils, who have many devils gathered on their necks". During intermissions he vehemently harangued the gathering of more than 300 in the upper hall, yelling that their statements were "lies, lies".

Although unable to prepare a written account of the $7000 collected from Krestova Sons of Freedom by the Elders of the Community for use at "their own discretion," he denied that the funds had been misused. Approximately $1500, the huge, 250-pound Archangel testified, had been spent to repair buildings and on construction at Krestova, $700 for expenses in transporting 65 Doukhobors to Hilliers to start a new colony in 1946 and $2200 to buy land at the Vancouver Island point. Building in Krestova included a house, store and a school.

Members of the sect who contributed toward the fund were eligible to join the Hilliers community, he said, because "they own $25 worth of land at the settlement." The money was collected on the basis that that it could be used "as they saw right." Titles for the land were in the name of the Elders of the Spiritual Community of Christ, while Michael Verigin and Kuzman Nazarov were named as trustees.

Faced with charges of directing numerous burnings and dynamiteing, the publicized spiritual leader of the Hilliers group was bitter toward the Sons of Freedom and Orthodox Doukhobors who had levelled the accusations at him on three separate occasions.

John J. Verigin, Secretary of the Union of Spiritual Communities of Christ, the orthodox faction, early in the hearing entered a copy of a letter purportedly written by Bill Markin, a Son of Freedom now in the Nelson Provincial Jail awaiting trial on arson charges. Describing the writer as "Mike's right hand man," the letter claimed that Verigin had ordered Markin to burn several buildings in the district, dynamite the Brilliant bridge and had given him materials to do it.

The Sons of Freedom, witnesses testified, were using the Archangel for "misuse of charity funds" while Mrs. John Lebedoff, Secretary of the Sons of Freedom Sect, had included his name and Joe E. Podvinkoff's, in a list of 300 who had "directly or indirectly," taken part in terrorist acts.

"I affirm all the accusations—perverse, provocative and false. I did all that was humanly possible to stop the unchristian and inhuman tendencies among these people. I am willing to go into each of these charges separately. The reason for this behavior is the result of refusing to obey the precepts put out by their leaders."

Emphatically declaring that he had never been a leader of any group, although he had been asked by delegations, the former Vancouver boarding house operator, claimed that he did not know Markin well enough "to make him my right hand man."

WORKERS WITH COLDS DO FAVOR WHEN STAY HOME VICTORIA TELLS BOSSES

VICTORIA, Nov. 6 (CP)—The Provincial Health Department said today that employers needed to be educated to the fact that employees aren't "gold-bricking" but instead are doing their duty to others by staying home at the first sign of sniffles and sneezes.

"If a cold, stayed in, instead of generously sharing his bad fortune with co-workers, millions of sniffles and sneezes would be prevented annually, and perhaps respiratory ailments would constitute only 10 to 20 per cent of absences from school and work instead of the 50 to 60 per cent they are probably able to boast of today," the Department said in its monthly health bulletin.

"In fact, most employees should, but don't realize that a cold caught in time saves nine at least."

9987 More Births Than Deaths

VICTORIA, Nov. 6 (CP)—The natural increase of British Columbia's population has risen by 34.7 per cent during the first eight months of this year over the corresponding increase for 1946.

The Division of Vital Statistics reported today that the excess of births over deaths for the first eight months of this year had totalled 9987.

Deaths during August totalled 687, giving the lowest monthly rate for the year to date. Births on the other hand dropped sharply below the July total, which constituted the peak of 1947 to date.

Although the number of marriages registered last August exceeded the August, 1946, total by 88, a 16.5 per cent loss in weddings was recorded from the July total, the highest this year.

Edmonton Girl Dies in 75-Foot Plunge at Coast

VANCOUVER, Nov. 6 (CP)—Molly O'Dwyer, 25, of Edmonton, who plunged 75-feet from the Georgia Viaduct, died in hospital early this afternoon.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 (AP)—Miss Ruth A. Reed, 30, daughter of Rep. Daniel A. Reed (R-N.Y.), plunged to her death today from the roof of the hotel where she was staying.

F. C. Minnick, Manager of the Meridian Hill Hotel, which is exclusively for women Government workers, said Miss Reed apparently fell from the roof.

The congressman's daughter was employed in her father's office.

Feels Might Lose Benefits if I.T.U. Laws Arbitrated

VANCOUVER, Nov. 6 (CP)—Alex Bevis, President of the Vancouver Local of the International Typographical Union, told Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson in Supreme Court today he felt if arbitration of the general I.T.U. laws were permitted "they (the publishers) would arbitrate some of the benefits away from us."

He was a witness in the suit of the Vancouver Daily Province, seeking damages as a result of a printers' strike which started June 5, 1946. The action is against the executives of the I.T.U., including Woodruff Randolph, International President.

"The fundamentals of I.T.U. laws protect the printers," he said. Arbitration might cause a loss of standardized operation of composing rooms over Canada and the United States. The general laws are not subject to arbitration.

"You say the Southams were trying to break these fundamentals?" asked Mr. Justice Wilson.

"They might eventually destroy all these things," Bevis replied.

Three Maritime Commissioners Sworn In

OTTAWA, Nov. 6 (CP)—Three prominent Canadian shipping men were sworn in today as Commissioners in Canada's first Maritime Commission, set up last July to encourage the Dominion's booming marine industry.

The three are John V. Clynne of Vancouver, an Admiralty Law expert who will act as Chairman of the group; Henry J. Rablves of Toronto, President of the Crown-owned Park Steamships and L. C. Audette of Ottawa a former first Secretary of the External Affairs Department.

NO BILLBOARDS

VICTORIA, Nov. 6 (CP)—Magnificent scenery along British Columbia's two big highways under construction—the John Hart Highway through Pine Pass and the Hope-Princeton Highway—never will be marred by unsightly billboards.

Works Minister E. C. Carson said today instructions have gone out that billboards, signs on trees and even directional signs are taboo, except essential signs pointing the way to tourist resorts authorized by Provincial license.

Intimates Atom Bomb No Longer Is Secret

Molotov Claims U. S. Preparing For Aggression; Making New Bases

MOSCOW, Nov. 6 (CP)—Foreign Minister Molotov said today that the Soviet Union would defend the interests of peace of the whole world "till the end" but also said that "it is well known that the United States is basing its policy on the sole possession of the secret of the atom bomb although this secret may be considered non-existent."

(The Associated Press, in a dispatch from London quoting Molotov as broadcast by Moscow Radio, used the phrase, "has long ceased to exist" in reporting the Russian Foreign Minister's reference to the secret of the atom bomb.)

(The Associated Press quoted Molotov as saying: "It is interesting that in the expansionist circles of the United States a new, peculiar sort of illusion has been formed about their internal strength—a belief in the secret of the atom bomb, although this secret has long ceased to exist.")

Emphasizing that his department was really cracking down on the sweeps, Mr. Turnbull said approximately 15,000 warnings have been sent to Canadians, more are on the way, and post office officials will seek to stamp out lotteries even if some system of express is used to replace the regular mail service.

Commenting on a report published in the London, Ont., Free Press that plans had been made to fly batches of tickets to some Northern Ontario point and ship them by express to various salesmen throughout the country, the deputy said he felt this, too, could be overcome by his department.

Meanwhile, an official of the Board of Transport Commissioners said he could not immediately say if lotteries by express were banned, but that receipts used by the express companies stated that the conveyance of letters was the exclusive prerogative of the Postmaster-General. This includes circulars, etc., enclosed in envelopes, sealed or ready to be sealed at the point of destination.

CAN DENY USE OF MAILS
The post office's strictest penalty, which it uses reluctantly and has imposed on only about 30 Canadians, is to deny the individual concerned the use of the mails. In such a case, the department takes steps to see that the individual does not receive any mail.

The warnings being sent out to all persons found to be using the mails for lottery purposes contain a return slip which the receiver must sign, through which he promises not to use the mails for illegal purposes again.

CHARGES DUTIES EXCEEDED BY CORONER'S JURY

VANCOUVER, Nov. 6 (CP)—Criticism of the coroner's inquest at Powell River into the Gulf Stream disaster, which cost five lives Oct. 11, was made today in Admiralty Court by Mr. Justice Sidney Smith.

"It seems to us an attempt was made to turn it into an inquisition," he said at the opening of a Department of Transport inquiry here.

"It is not part of the coroner's duties to deal with navigation of the cause of the accident. A properly conducted inquest should have taken about an hour."

Mr. Justice Smith asked that a protest be sent Attorney-General Wismer. He asked Counsel F. A. Shepherd to draw the attention of the Attorney-General to the matter of conduct of the inquest.

"It seems to us the coroner's duty was to inquire into the deaths and not into the cause of the accident," Mr. Justice Smith added. He believed the coroner's court had exceeded its duties.

At Powell River, the jury returned a verdict placing "immediate blame" for the wreck on Second Mate Ray Ketchum, in charge when the motor vessel crashed on Dinner Rock.

Ainlay Returned As Edmonton Mayor

EDMONTON, Nov. 6 (CP)—Candidates endorsed by Edmonton's Citizens' Committee made an apparent clean sweep following municipal elections yesterday which—on the basis of unofficial tabulations—saw Mayor Harry Ainlay returned to office for a two-year term.

A bylaw which would have authorized the city to borrow $1,500,000 for the construction of a proposed civic auditorium failed to attain the two-thirds majority required for passage of a money bylaw.

The voters approved, however, a plebiscite extending the mayoral term of office from one year to two.

Successful in the 13-way contest for five aldermanic seats were Alderman H. E. Tanner, F. Armour Ford, Ald. James M. Douglas, Ald. C. E. Garriep, and George E. Gleave.

Successful in bids for four seats on the Public School Board were Dr. G. H. Brown, S. A. Graham, Mrs. M. E. Butterworth and W. G. Morrow.

WORK ON PEACE PACTS

LONDON, Nov. 6 (AP)—Deputy Foreign Ministers of Russia, Britain, France and the United States convened today for another try at laying the groundwork for the German and Austrian peace treaties.

"The Soviet Union represents the opposite view and stands for respect of sovereign rights and non-interference in the internal affairs of other countries."

"The ground is swaying under the feet of the imperialists, while the strength of the democratic nations is growing day by day. The eyes of the nations must be opened to the new aggressive plans of the adventurers and these plans must be foiled. The anti-imperialist forces must be united into a mighty army to which the capitalists can never produce an equal."

Discussing the United States, Molotov said: "If the ruling circles of the U. S. were not worried by internal conditions there would be no need for developing their imperialist plans."

"It is clear that the United States is out to acquire ever more new bases for their expansion."

"American capitalism is trying to impose its will everywhere. This is done to counteract internal difficulties."

Molotov said the Soviet State had to develop a heavy industry because it was surrounded by a "dangerous capitalist entourage."

"These 30 years can be divided into three periods," he said. "First, the period between 1917 and the firm establishment of Soviet power, up to the first five-year plan; second, the period of the Second World War—the great patriotic war; third, the new period which is just beginning."

"Contrary to the Capitalist states, our country has suffered no setbacks in unemployment, even during the most difficult periods of our economic life."

Speaking of the Second World War, Molotov said: "The Soviet people saved the civilization of Europe from the Fascist hordes. Other peoples see the main credit to Stalin for this."

Over $1,000,000 Turnover at Post Office This Year

Spurred by a record turnover of $123,785 in October, Post Office business at Nelson climbed over the million dollar mark for this year to date.

Last year a record turnover for the Nelson office was established at $1,106,804. In the first 10 months of 1947 the aggregate stood at $1,011,254 and with the Christmas influx of mail still to come a new high is foreseen.

Post office business in October was up $12,000 from last month's figure and $10,000 above the total at the same time in 1946. Postage revenue taken in during the month was $722. Revenues for September were $672.

CONVICTED ON CHARGE OF SEDITIOUS LIBEL

ST. JOSEPH DE BEAUCO, Que., Nov. 6 (CP)—The first conviction on a charge of seditious libel was written into the annals of criminal justice in the Province of Quebec today while 50-year-old Aime Boucher, a member of the religious sect the Witnesses of Jehovah, started to serve a six-month term of 30 days.

The conviction against Boucher, resident of St. Joseph de Beauce, 40 miles Southeast of Quebec, was recorded by an Assize Court Jury yesterday on a charge laid under Section 134 of the Criminal Code of Canada.

Crown Counsel Antoine Lacourriere said later it was the Province's first under that particular section of the code which provides a maximum penalty of two years on conviction for inciting seditious libel against God, the state and liberty.

Boucher had admitted to the court that he distributed in the nearby village of St. Joseph last December copies of a tract entitled "Quebec's Burning Hate," which the Crown described as a succession of libellous attacks on Quebec's Government, its church and its judicial authority.

Meanwhile in Quebec, a source close to the Attorney General's Department said similar charges are pending against several other persons in the Province, among them Boucher's daughter, Gisèle, whose trial has been set for Nov. 24 here.

This source said that of the 800 to 1000 members of the sect arrested in the Province and charged in recorder's court under municipal bylaws, many had appealed from convictions to the Attorney-General. He said 100 such appeals now are pending.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 6 (CP)—Premier Douglas of Saskatchewan tonight called for Federal action for a new social security deal for Canada and charged the Government with "evading and procrastinating" in putting social security legislation into effect.

Newfoundland Welcome . . .

Canada's Terms Listed by Premier

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Nov. 6 (CP)—Canada today offered to welcome Newfoundland into Confederation on terms described by Prime Minister Mackenzie King as "the best possible under the circumstances" and with the added emphasis that no change could be contemplated which would impose "further financial burdens" on the Dominion.

The terms did not estimate in round figures how much the Dominion will have to put on the line as an initial outlay and Mr. King made it clear the final decision on acceptance rested solely on the island's population of 312,000.

The financial terms, made public here and in St. John's, came almost a month after release of general proposals under which union of the island colony and the Dominion would be acceptable.

They made these disclosures: 1. Canada is ready to absorb $63,000,000 of the $78,000,000 Newfoundland National Debt, but in doing so it will take over such resources as the Newfoundland Railway, the Newfoundland publicly-owned communication system, the mammoth Gander Airport, the Newfoundland Steamer Service and the Newfoundland Broadcasting Service.

2. Canada will allow Newfoundland to retain the $32,000,000 surplus built up during the war years, providing a third of the amount is set aside to meet possible deficits during the first eight years of the union.

3. Canada would extend to Newfoundland the special subsidies of $1,100,000 awarded to the Maritime Provinces after special Royal Commission hearings. 4. These special subsidies would be added to payments paid under any Dominion-Provincial taxation agreement where Newfoundland would agree to abandon income, corporation and inheritance tax fields in return for certain payments.

5. The payments for the use of the taxation fields and the statutory subsidies would amount to a minimum of $8,200,000 annually. 6. As a colony Newfoundland collected between $35,000,000 and $40,000,000 annually but as a province practically only $3,000,000 of this revenue, mainly raised from customs and excise taxes, would still be collectable by her.

7. Canada would make provision for a series of diminishing transitional grants to give Newfoundland time to develop, as a province, new revenue producing services. 8. In view of the difficulty of predicting accurately how Newfoundland would fare financially under Federation, Canada would make provision to have the island's financial resources reviewed by a Royal Commission within eight years.

FORMER YAHK GIRL WEDS FRUITVALE MAN

A lovely Fall wedding was solemnized at the First Presbyterian Church in Trail on Oct. 29, when Rev. Allan Farris united in marriage Florence, youngest daughter of Mrs. E. McInnis, formerly of Yahk, and the late Hugh McInnis, and David Albert, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. George Ewings of Fruitvale.

The brunette bride made a charming picture as she entered the church on the arm of her uncle, James Watt, who gave her in marriage. Her dress, cut on princess lines, was of heavy white satin with full long sleeves, high neckline and buttoned down the back to the waist. The floor-length veil was held in place by a coronet of small white flowers. The bride's bouquet was dark red roses, tied with wide white net ribbon. Later the flowers were forwarded to Cranbrook to be placed on the grave of Mrs. Ewing's father.

Miss Elizabeth Laurie was chosen as bridesmaid, and the two little flower girls were Doreen Ewings, sister of the groom, and Lois Anderson, niece of the bride.

The groom was supported by his brother, George Ewings, while Ron Hill, brother-in-law of the groom and Sandy McInnis, brother of the bride, acted as ushers.

Mrs. Harder supplied the wedding music and during the signing of the register Mrs. Pope rendered a vocal solo, "Smiling Through the Years."

Following the ceremony a reception was held for immediate friends and relatives of the bridal couple at the K.P. Hall. A number of out-of-town guests were present. Places were laid for over 100.

The bride's table, covered with a white cloth with deep crocheted edge, was centered with a lovely three-tier wedding cake which was

Fisheries in Strong Position

OTTAWA, Nov. 6 (CP)—The recently-established Fisheries Prices Support Board held its second meeting here Wednesday and found itself with nothing to support.

Fisheries of both coasts and of the inland Provinces are in "a strong position at the moment," a Board spokesman said, and there is "for the present at least, no need for support action by the Board." Inventory and marketing conditions generally are more satisfactory than at any time during the last several months.

On the East coast, there are no surplus stocks of frozen fish, while the salt fish market is strong. Prices to fishermen have returned nearly to war-peak levels, and there are many orders waiting filling.

He said the Board reviewed the first report made by Professor J. R. Dymond, well known Canadian fisheries scientist, on existing whitefish regulations in the Prairie Provinces. A study of this problem is being made jointly by the Federal and Provincial Governments.

On the West coast, the industry is enjoying ready markets for its 1947 canned salmon pack and extensive production of canned herring, mainly for post-U.N.R.R.A. relief feeding abroad, is under way. The Board's West Coast Regional Advisory Committee has recommended that a comprehensive analysis be made of current fish marketing conditions.

For Parents

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

The Church is Valuable to Wholesome Community Living

For several years Mrs. Myers and I—the children grown and gone—have been living in a strictly rural community. In it is a rural church. We were married there 35 years ago and, being a bit old-fashioned, are married still. Ours was the first wedding in that church which was then nearly 70 years old.

In recent years many weddings have been held there. I understand that church weddings in Protestant churches the nation over have increased and, as I pointed out in an earlier column, church weddings are to be encouraged everywhere, since this practice gives a spiritual emphasis to marriage and the family. The Catholic Church, I understand, has always emphasized church weddings.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES
At our particular rural church two Protestant denominations hold religious services alternately and there is a union Sunday school. The funds for both churches are raised and disbursed by a united organization, thus promoting fine relations. Unfortunately, each pastor must serve some other rural churches, too.

There ought to be a community church in most such areas with one resident pastor. Anyway, most of the Protestant churches are so much alike that if there adherents thought in terms of the whole community and its families, it should not be difficult for them to work and worship together.

Over the nation such community churches are increasing in number. In many places the traditional rural church is rapidly declining, even disappearing, alas.

With most church-goers so poorly educated to give to the church, and especially so in rural areas, it is not easy to keep some of these churches going and to attract a well-trained ministry.

The value of a strong church in any community to the children and parents of that community and to its moral and spiritual tone must be apparent. There are ever so many prosperous farm areas where one or more strong churches could easily be supported, if the people there really cared. Some leadership is needed, of course.

SPIRITUAL EDUCATION
All of us parents who wish our children to have spiritual education, and who believe in the efficacy of organized religion to this end could well afford to ask ourselves if we are doing our honest part at contributing to its financial support and at worship attendance. Are we by example and precept helping our children put reasonable emphasis on spiritual values? When we really consider what we and our children give to the church and the like, in comparison with what we lavish on perishable luxuries, we really feel ashamed. Now, don't we?

Look at the miserable salary we pay the preacher. How so many of them, especially in the rural areas, keep themselves and their families alive is hard to understand. What is still harder to understand is how so many of them put one or several children through college. One reason is that these parents, particularly the mothers, keep their eyes and hearts so firmly fixed on lasting values.

The Doctor

Sulfonamides, Penicillin Help To Reduce Pneumonia Death Toll

The man who contracted lobar pneumonia ten years or more ago had a hard fight for life. His chances of recovery were about one out of four. A good heart, a sound constitution, excellent medical and nursing care might have pulled him through but even so, his illness was likely to be long and hence expensive from both health and financial standpoints.

Today, the picture is greatly changed for the better. Pneumonia is still a very serious illness and still claims its annual toll of lives, but thanks to penicillin and the sulfonamide drugs we can now treat it with far greater assurance that the patient will recover.

PREVENTING PNEUMONIA
According to Dr. Frank B. Kelly, of Chicago, the prompt use of sulfonamides or penicillin at the beginning of a respiratory infection such as a cold or sore throat probably prevents many a case of pneumonia from developing or nips it so quickly where it is present, that it never becomes really serious.

Although lobar pneumonia is often preceded by a cold, it may have a more dramatic beginning, hitting a person in otherwise excellent health like a bolt out of the blue.

FIRST SYMPTOMS
The first symptoms in these dramatic cases consist of a severe chill, fever, cough and a sharp sticking pain in the chest. The breathing rate is stepped up, and the sputum may have a rusty color. In more than 90 of every 100 cases, the lobar pneumonia is caused by the pneumococcus germ.

Dr. Kelly believes that of the sulfonamide drugs, sulfadiazine is the most satisfactory for treating lobar pneumonia. It is easily administered, is effective, and reactions do not occur very often. The sulfadiazine may be given by mouth or may be injected into a vein. The patient, in 10 per cent of the cases, may have severe headache, a skin rash, or other reactions to the sulfadiazine. When giving the "sulfa" drugs, the doctor gives baking soda three times a day and plenty of fluids. This will help prevent reactions.

PENICILLIN SUBSTITUTED
If reactions occur with the sulfadiazine treatment, penicillin may be substituted immediately. It is also desirable to employ the penicillin if the inflammation in the lungs seems to be extending, or if the patient's general symptoms do not improve. Many doctors give both "sulfa" drugs and penicillin. The penicillin should also be employed in elderly patients, in those with heart failure, or in patients in whom there is any other serious condition. Penicillin is also used where tests show the pneumonia is due to streptococcus or staphylococcus germs.

The penicillin may be given by injection into a vein or into a muscle or even by mouth. There is now available a preparation of penicillin in a mixture of beeswax and oil which, when given in a single daily injection, is capable of maintaining an effective amount of penicillin in the blood for twenty-four hours.

HAVE SAVED MANY LIVES
If penicillin and the sulfonamide drugs had no other uses than the treatment of pneumonia (and they do have many other uses) we should still be tremendously indebted to their discoverers. They would still represent a great saving of lives. How great is shown by the fact that over a period of twenty-five years prior to their discovery, 35 per cent of all patients who contracted pneumonia died. Many who recovered were left with permanently damaged hearts.

Since sulfonamides and penicillin have been available, this death rate of 35 per cent has been reduced to 12 per cent, and of these 12 per cent, four out of every ten were in a very serious condition when they were brought to the hospital. Recovery was the rule with patients forty years of age or younger, regardless of the duration of the sickness or when they came under treatment. Most of those who succumbed had some complicating disorder such as liver, kidney or heart disease.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
A Friend: If your mouth and tongue get dry, does that mean you have a kidney condition? When I awake my mouth and tongue are dry. What causes it?

Answer: Dryness of the mouth and tongue is not usually a sign of kidney trouble. It may be due to some nose or throat inflammation. It is also possible that you sleep with your mouth open, which would cause the dryness.

Hallowe'en Party For Children At Invermere

INVERMERE, B. C., Nov. 6 — Nearly 70 children in costume took part in a Grand March around the Memorial Community Centre on Hallowe'en and enjoyed group games and traditional Hallowe'en fun before consuming unbelievable quantities of party goodies.

The party was arranged by teachers of the Athlmer-Invermere elementary school and was attended by over a hundred children. Prize winners for the best costumes were:

Best dressed girl—Aileen Johnson; Best dressed boy—Stanley Proctor; Most original costumes—Donald Tunnacliffe and Lynn Tunnacliffe; Best comic costumes — Pauline Englehart and Ewen McIntosh.

At Wilmer the school children enjoyed a Hallowe'en party at the Wilmer hall when Eldeen Godblein and Melville Larrabee were awarded prizes for the best costumes.

EXPECT YULE TREE PROFIT TO BE LOWER

VICTORIA, Nov. 6 (CP)—Shipments of Christmas trees from Eastern British Columbia although Christmas is still seven weeks away, today are rolling into the Unity States mid-Western area, but officials of the B.C. Forest Service are doubtful that the value of the harvest will equal the all-time record set last year.

Ninety per cent of B.C.'s Christmas trees are shipped from the Kootenay Districts, a proportion of the remainder coming from Vancouver Island. Ladysmith is one of the main Christmas tree cutting areas of Vancouver Island.

Last year the production value of the trees was set at $402,000.

Love Problems

By JANE ATKINSON

Reader Scornful of Miss Atkinson's Right to Tender Advice to Lovelorn

It is always interesting to hear from readers who disagree with me, and letters that object to views I have expressed are by no means rare.

Most of these letters take issue with me on specific things I have said. Recently I have received one from a reader who doesn't like anything about me. He, or she—and your guess is as good as mine as to which it is, since only the initials "T.W.N." are signed—seems to think this column considers itself something of an oracle whose pronouncements are inspired and infallible.

Know what those big words mean, "T.W.N.?"

Here is what "he" says: "I am a constant reader of your column and I read it not because I enjoy it but only because I wonder how anyone can call themselves an 'authority' as you do. You give advice to people in love. Did you take a course on love problems? What authority do you have to sling out stuff to broken hearts? I have to laugh at your so-called advice.

"I think that any person, young or old, who has to write for advice on love does not deserve to have a male. If they cannot settle their own problems, as silly as they are, without writing to someone who knows very little about them, what will they do when you run out of advice?"

"I often wonder if these lovesick people take your advice. If they do, as I said before, they don't deserve to love or to be loved. Let people solve their own problems. You can't be right too many times. I am sure your writing cannot be too helpful too often when you are minding other people's business."

Besides signing the initials "T.W.N.," this correspondent of mine uses a nom de plume. This pen name, which he signs just above his initials is "Needing No Advice."

Now it is certainly very fine indeed when anyone is so well equipped with good judgment that he never needs to seek advice, and I congratulate "T.W.N." on his good fortune in this respect. At the same time, he must remember that most of us human beings sometimes find it useful to get another person's point of view on our problems. There is an old saying to the effect that sometimes one "can't see the woods for the trees," which is only another way of saying that if you are right in the center of something, whether it be a problem or a forest, you can easily become confused. It is at such times that a person outside the problem—or the forest—can sometimes help the confused person orient himself and so get straightened out once more.

This is the sort of thing I hope this column may sometimes do for those who find themselves in bewildering situations—not to act as an "authority" slinging out stuff to broken hearts," as "T.W.N." puts it, but merely to offer a detached viewpoint that may help them see their way a little more clearly.

So go ahead and have your laugh, "T.W.N." It is nice to think that you are a "constant reader" of my column—even if that is all you get out of it.

The Pekin Court Gazette, China, was 640 years old when the first newspaper was printed in Europe in 1524.

Time to Reconsider

Numerous reports from Montreal, Ontario border cities and seacoast ports tell of seizures of great quantities of cigarettes smuggled in from the United States. These reports, added up, simply mean that there is a growing black market in tobacco in this country. What is not recorded is the fact that millions of cigarettes are successfully finding their way in, either through organized illegal channels, or with tourists and business travelers for personal use.

To many people the casual smuggling of cigarettes and other small items at the border is something of a game, and as long as there is a substantial differential between prices in these two countries the game will go on. Actually, we doubt very much whether the Canadian smoker prefers the American brands to those made in Canada. His choice is not one of taste; it is one of cost. He resents paying the higher Canadian price, especially when he knows that it is a direct charge of the country's top-heavy taxation structure.

Examination of comparative figures demonstrates why this situation exists. A standard brand of American cigarettes costs from 15 to 20 cents (depending upon the State) for a package of 20. Federal and State taxes included. The lowest price at which popular brands of Canadian cigarettes are sold is 33 cents for 20. Of this amount, 12 cents is for Federal "excise tariff". Another 1 1/2 cents goes for Ottawa's omnipresent 8 per cent sales tax. A special "war revenue tax" takes up another 8 cents. Thus, 21 1/2 cents of the total price goes directly to the Federal Treasury. The balance of 11 1/2 cents is shared by the grower, the manufacturer, the transportation companies, the wholesaler and the retailer. But out of this is taken another 3.6 cents for taxes on these various businesses, direct and indirect. Thus, all but 8 cents of the 33-cent price on an ordinary package of cigarettes is tax, virtually all of it Federal.

Canadians spend about $330,000,000 a year on tobacco products. This is big business, and because it is, the Canadian smoker is becoming acutely conscious of the fact that he pays approximately two and a half times as much for his purchases as does his American counterpart.

There is justification for some forms of "luxury taxation". But it is highly questionable whether goods as widely used as those made from tobacco should carry the high rating as luxuries given them by Ottawa's fiscal experts. Even more objectionable, however, is the pyramided system of taxation whereby the consumer is compelled to pay taxes on taxes. Moreover, we have no doubt that the attitude which has fostered the smuggling of tobacco applies to other forms of evasion.

When a Government policy creates this degree of resistance and evasion, there is cause for it to pause and reconsider. If it is not concerned about the moral lapse resulting from its policies, it should at least recognize the economic loss caused by contraband operations of any kind, not to mention the unrecorded drain of dollars over the border.

The Dollar Shortage

With world trade in its present disorganized and uncertain state, Canada's increase in exports is proof of this country's ability to produce and to compete in foreign markets with its products. For the first nine months of 1947, the value was $2,004,900,000, compared with $1,663,900,000 in the equivalent period of 1946.

Special interest attaches to an increase from $615,760,000 to $732,797,000 in exports to the United States. This offsets, to a relatively small degree, the vastly greater volume of imports we are taking from the United States. It calls attention to an argument that the best way to handle our shortage of United States dollars is to increase our exports to our neighbor country to an extent that would make them balance our imports from her. This would be the natural solution, but there are reasons why it is not feasible at the moment.

It would mean, in the first place, diverting our exports from countries which need them much worse than the United States does. To refuse to send products to Europe just because we could sell them to the United States would be callous and perhaps shortsighted.

In the second instance, a considerable proportion of our exports to Europe are not of a kind which the United States requires. Wheat is one example, unless the United States were willing to buy it from Canada and then give it to Europe.

Finally, the United States tariff is so high against some Canadian commodities that it would not be easy to get the mover the barrier without lower costs of production in this country.

The more we can export to the United States, the less acute our United States dollar problem will become. It would be an optimist, however, who thinks it can be solved in that manner in the near future.

Subscriber, Nelson—Which country manufactures the largest land planes, United States or England? United States.

M.R.W., Kaslo—Could you please tell me if there is anyone in Nelson or Trail who does hairwork, such as making wigs or transformations? We do not know of any shop in this district doing such work.

Subscriber, Kaslo—As I had a birthday last Thursday, I would appreciate seeing the Horoscope that did not appear in your paper that day.

Independent, sagacious and self-confident, you possess good executive ability. Love will play the most prominent part in your life; you should marry young and choose someone congenial with your own tastes. You like your own way and are apt to be petulant under much opposition. The day is adverse regarding home, family, property, buying, building and endings. Your next year calls for the utmost caution, self-control and patience if serious troubles are to be averted. Do not indulge in excessive pleasure and unwisdom; friendships; otherwise health and business finances will suffer; accidents also threaten. The child born today will need kind but firm guidance in early years if sorrow and ill-health are to be avoided in later life, a passionate nature being strongly evidenced.

Outline Match Block Factory Efforts to End Sawdust Nuisance

To the Editor: Sir—As there has been considerable controversy during the past two weeks regarding the disposal of our sawdust and shavings, we feel that the public should be enlightened as to our efforts to eliminate this nuisance, and wish you would print the enclosed letter written to the City officials. Since this letter was written we have been assured that the equipment for loading the sawdust and shavings into cars is being constructed in Spokane as fast as the material is obtainable. Yours very truly, W. W. POWELL COMPANY LTD. R. E. Horton, Manager.

Nov. 1, 1947. Mayor T. H. Waters and City Council, Nelson, B. C.

Gentlemen—We have your letter of Oct. 30, 1947, re a sawdust burner at our Nelson Match Block factory, and in reply are pleased to advise as follows:

Before our factory was burned on Jan. 15, 1946, we made a thorough investigation into ways and means of eliminating the sawdust nuisance by various methods of disposal, such as the installation of a burner or by sale to be manufactured into wood flour products. We discovered that Presto-Logs production was not practical unless we had double our sawdust and shavings production, and for this kind of an operation the cost estimated by the Presto-Logs Machinery people was then over $42,000, U.S.A. funds. Present cost possibly 25 per cent higher.

Plans were then drawn by the Walsh Construction Co. of Vancouver to build us a burner at a cost of between $15,000 and $20,000 to consume this waste material. Mr. Walsh advised us that there would be a certain amount of smoke and soot created by this burner, which would be absolutely unavoidable in a valley location like the Nelson locality. Before spending such a large amount of money the matter was discussed with Mayor N. C. Stubbs and Fire Chief McDonald. Just at that time the people of Fairview circulated a petition and were talking about obtaining an injunction to stop R. A. Paterson from operating his new burner, which was making quite a smoke and soot hazard.

The then City officials asked us not to go ahead with a burner until it was found that the smoke, soot and cinder menace could be controlled, as it was thought that this might be even worse than the clean sawdust which bothered only on a few windy days in a year.

We believe we have acted in good faith with the City of Nelson for the past 26 years, and now feel that, having been allowed to construct a new factory in 1946, without any restrictions having been made by the City, that they should put up with some small inconvenience until a solution of the matter is consummated.

Right now we are endeavoring to close a deal with an Eastern concern operating a wood flour factory in Spokane, Wash., to take over our entire production of white pine and spruce sawdust and shavings. If and when this is completed the dust situation will be remedied, as the mixed wood dust and shavings, which is not suitable for wood flour, will be small and probably all used for fuel.

We trust that you will bear with us awhile yet, as at present it is almost impossible to get equipment and materials to construct either a sawdust burner or dust collecting and loading equipment.

In case the deal does not go through for the disposal of sawdust and shavings, we are ready and willing to have a burner constructed if the City of Nelson will agree that we do so, and absolve us from blame of smoke and soot hazards.

Yours very truly, W. W. POWELL COMPANY LTD. R. E. Horton, Manager.

Wealthy Eastern Mining Man Buys Queen Bess Mine

G. B. Webster of Toronto, wealthy mining operator in the East and for a long time prominently identified with the Kerr Addison, has secured the Queen Bess Mine, above Three Forks in the Slokan, and plans to open up the property.

The late Clarence Cunningham, colorful American mining man, made a fortune out of the mine during World War I, gaining a profit of about $1,000,000 when an ore body was struck after carrying out a drift on a vein for only a short distance. It is believed that good chances for more ore exist in a vein paralleling the original run.

As a young engineer, Mr. Webster was in the Kootenays prior to the first war, and enlisted to go overseas with the First Contingent. Following the war, he concentrated his efforts in various mining camps in Northern Ontario with highly successful results. During World War II he was connected with the Kootenay Florence Mine at Ainsworth. Mr. Cunningham died 10 or 12 years ago, and the Queen Bess Mine has been tied up for years during settling of his estate. Following his success with the Queen Bess, he became interested in a number of Slokan properties, building a large mill, but his new venture failed financially.

NEW DOLLARS FOR CANUCKS FROM OIL LACK

By JOHN LEBLANC Canadian Press Staff Writer OTTAWA, Nov. 5 (CP)—A worldwide shortage creating hardship in many countries has a silver lining for Canada where it has given farmers and fishermen a chance to dig new dollars out of the soil and sea. The global scarcity of fats and oils—4,000,000 tons a year is the current shortage figure—has placed this new opportunity on the doorstep of the Canadian producer.

Under the spur of war, Canada already has enlarged her production of these essentials by about 100 per cent, but she is still only halfway toward meeting her own consumption. And the world market still waits—and will for some years—for every additional pound the Dominion can turn out.

F. H. Lehberg, fats and oils administrator in the Prices Board, said today the world shortage probably would last until 1950. But more important than meeting the world shortage from Canada's standpoint, said Mr. Lehberg, was the question of putting the Dominion on its own feet in the supply of fats and oils vital in peace and war for feeding the nation and keeping its industrial machine running.

Canada now produces about 250,000,000 pounds a year of these products, vegetable and animal, and edible and inedible. This compares with about 120,000,000 in the last pre-war year. But it is still far from the consumption of some half-billion pounds.

FINDS FAMILIES WITH BABIES BEST TENANTS

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 6 (AP)—Families with young babies make the best tenants, says Gunder Rasmussen who advertised for one today on the basis of considerable experimenting. "Preference given to families with one or two babies," Rasmussen, a contractor, builder and real estate broker said in his advertisement of a five-room flat.

Until a year ago, Rasmussen owned a six-apartment building in which only recent or expectant mothers were eligible for occupancy. He reached these conclusions: "The mothers are almost always at home. There are no drinking parties. The young fathers are devoted and very responsible. The rent money is always ready."

Robert Walker Gives Assurance That He Will Return to Pictures

By BOB THOMAS HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 6 (AP)—Robert Walker assures that after he gets a rest he'll be back in pictures again.

Much confusion has resulted from reports that the young actor was seriously ill, was retiring from pictures and leaving Hollywood forever. Bob is as much confused as anyone. "I merely asked for a six-month leave from MGM," he told me, "because my doctor said I needed the rest."

Far from retiring, Bob said he has 4 1/2 years to go under his Metro contract and intends to work some time next year. Earning top salary, he intends to go to New York soon to make some money on radio shows.

TO DEVELOP OKANAGAN LANDS UNDER PLAN

VICTORIA, Nov. 6 (CP)—Engineers of the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Assistance Act are carrying back from Victoria a program for the considerable development of irrigation lands in British Columbia following conferences here during the last few days with officials of the Provincial Lands Department. The program, details of which were not disclosed by the Provincial Government, calls for considerable contributions from the Federal Government under the Act for development of new lands. Bulk of the projects, it is understood, are in the Okanagan Valley, where the greatest development of fruit lands with irrigation has been undertaken in B.C.

The plans, which engineering work has been forwarded far enough to permit preparation of estimates of costs, will be presented to the Federal Government.

Please Fido, Not Now

WINDSOR, Ont., Nov. 6 (CP)—You can hardly blame Henry Langlois for questioning the old saying about a dog being man's best friend. In police court today, where Henry paid a $25 fine for hunting out of season, he told how his dog brought about his arrest.

Just having shot a hen pheasant before the season, Henry tossed the bird into the bushes when a game warden approached. Fido, being a retriever at heart, immediately jumped in after it and proudly produced the illegal bag which considerably embarrassed Langlois in the eyes of the warden.

FIND LOST HUNTER

LINTON, B. C., Nov. 6 (CP)—Alfred Johnson, Vancouver hunter missing in the Canim Lake Mountains since Sunday, has been found by members of a search party. Argues for Priority Of Wages Over Taxes

TORONTO, Nov. 6 (CP)—Wages should have priority over taxes in financial considerations of the packinghouse companies, Pat Conroy, Secretary-Treasurer of the Canadian Congress of Labor, argued today at arbitration hearings in the dispute between the United Packinghouse workers of America (C.C.L.) and two of the big three meat-packing firms, Canada Packers and Burns and Company.

Both Union and companies today completed their submissions on wages before C. P. McTague, the arbitrator. Hearings continue with the question of union security next on the list. Arbitration was provided following the recent six-weeks strike of packing house workers when an interim seven-cents-an-hour wage increase was granted. The Union is seeking an increase of 17 1/2 cents.

HOW TO JUDGE A BUSINESS advertisement with image of a scale and text: 'The question is often asked: By what standards should a business be judged? Should it be judged by its size? Is a small business better than a large one? Fair measuring sticks to a good business can generally be found in the answers to such questions as: Does it provide high quality goods or services? Are its prices fair? Are employees paid fair wages? What are the working conditions? Does it occupy a position of respect in the community? Can it offer a stable return to investors? Good management need never apologize for its actions provided it can give honest answers to these simple fundamental questions. * * * These views are presented in this newspaper by the British Columbia Federation of Trade and Industry. Many Flock To Abbey To Glimpse Wedding Site

By NORMAN CRIBBENS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Nov. 5 (CP)—Through the lofty main aisle of dimly-lit Westminster Abbey, over the graves of famous men, thousands of home and overseas visitors tramp daily on the great West door to the pearly high altar where Princess Elizabeth and Lieut. Philip Mountbatten will be married.

Walking over the grave commemorating the life of explorer David Livingstone near the entrance, the visitors pass through heavy bronze gates at the end of the nave, past choir stalls into the main chapel.

The distance is 130 yards. It is the distance the Princess will walk when she joins her bridegroom on the altar steps.

"Just where will they stand?" is the question wide-eyed visitors address hundreds of times to long-suffering vergers.

The chorus of questions fired at these patient men is augmented by cries of school children led on by their teachers.

Collect $128 For Salvation Army

NAKUSP, B. C., Nov. 6.—Women's Auxiliary to the Legion meeting, attended by 14 members, heard Mrs. R. McCulloch report that $128.50 had been collected for the Salvation Army fund, $5 had been donated to the Tranquille Hospital for their comforts fund, and a subscription to a magazine for Jack Kerr was being sent to the Vancouver Hospital.

Mrs. Larry Ward was appointed convener for Poppy Day sales.

Mrs. F. Rushton reported on the Zone Council meeting recently held in New Denver.

Refreshments were served with Mrs. M. Baird, Mrs. P. A. Henke and Mrs. D. Berard as hostesses.

The Armistice dance is to be in charge of Legion members.

"Aren't there going to be any flowers?" queried a nine-year-old girl.

"Loads of them, miss" the vergers replied. "But they won't be brought here until the morning of the wedding."

Except for flowers, visitors see the Abbey exactly as it will be on the great day. No extra seats are planned but the public will be permitted to stand in the lofty galleries (tribunes) encircling the interior.

Because of accidents which have occurred in former years the galleries will be railed in.

Guide Lost Vessel Through Storm

By FRANK CAREY
WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 (AP)—The United States Air Weather Service has come up with something new in the technique of guiding a lost surface vessel to safety through a terrific storm.

It's done with applied meteorology—by remote control.

Service officials told a reporter how weathermen stationed at Iwojima actually found and then guided to safety a vessel that was lost in a recent Pacific typhoon—even though their only clues to the ship's position were the wind direction and sea-level barometric pressure in the neighborhood of the ship.

The craft had been faring badly for three days in a wild sea whipped by winds of 140 miles an hour, with gusts up to 180.

The lost craft—the Coastal Gem—had radioed the facts about wind direction and barometric pressure at the time she sent out an S. O. S. With their knowledge of the pressure pattern of the typhoon and the associated wind flow airmen were able to determine the position of the vessel. The first position estimated was 70 miles East of Iwo. That was Oct. 8. The ship was informed of its position by radio every 15 minutes.

By means of these fixes, the ship's captain was able to navigate to a point only 12 miles from Iwo.

What Those British Elections Prove That Britain Could Learn From Canada

Everybody is busy interpreting last Saturday's limited municipal election results in England, and Wales—in which Communists were reduced to one seat after losing nine; Liberals wound up with 131, their 48 wins and 48 losses balancing; Labor finished with 831 after a net loss of 644; Independents racked up a total of 1087 after a net gain of 35; and Conservatives counted 1238 after gaining 618 net.

For a proper picture, bear in mind that one-third of the seats, or 3268, fall vacant each year, and that London was not voting, as its boroughs are differently organized. By percentages, Labor dropped from 45 or not far from half, down to 25, or one-quarter; Independents remained at about one-third, edging up from 32 to 38; Liberals were unchanged at 4; and Conservatives rose from 19 to 38, exactly doubling their representation, and coming close to having two seats out of every five.

We've had by cable the Canadian Press interpretation, and also Jack Smith's conclusion for the Associated Press; and by the ether waves, Matthew Hutton's view for the C.B.C., and Patrick Lacey's analysis for the B.B.C. We've also had the views of various British party spokesmen.

I disagree with the whole caboodle of them, even those who are diametrically opposed to each other.

To my mind, what the election results prove outstandingly is, not that the pendulum is swinging away from the Socialists—though that may well be—but that the British are far behind Canadians in municipal government, in that they have allowed the extraneous factor of party politics to inject itself into their strictly local and community business.

Yes, I'm aware that quite a section of the Canadian people wish Canada to be an exact copy of Britain. I'm ready to the very last degree for Canada to learn from every source, and I hope in many cases that source will be Britain.

But let us face facts.

OILING MACHINE IS AIM

With political parties, keeping the machinery oiled and in working order is important. From that point of view, every election fight pays off—if it is in the proper field, the political field.

I haven't the slightest doubt that is why the Labor party so conspicuously injected itself into municipal politics in Britain, and clearly it is also the reason why the Conservatives and Liberals replied in kind. It is fair to state this is not new; political complexion of the councils has been publicised for decades. Today's gratifying feature to me is that a full third of the seats are held by Independents.

When Lord Rosebery, ex-Prime Minister, headed the first London County Council, non-partisanship was the declared keynote.

ROSSLAND, B. C., Nov. 6.—The Vital Statistics for the Rossland Reg-

But 90 per cent of Canadians, I believe, are united in the opinion that municipal policies and projects and business should be considered and acted upon exclusively on their merits.

The vast majority of us don't worry over this question, because it doesn't arise with us. We don't anticipate any attempt to introduce party grouping into our municipal field. But any time the challenge does come, the response is almost invariably a rout for the retrograde innovators.

There is nothing wrong with the principle of politics. In the national field there could be no progress if elements that believed alike didn't act together in the mass. There could be no government without parties, that is, no democratic government.

I hope the British people, who have such a love of freedom, will show a capacity to benefit by Canada's example, and rid themselves, municipally, of that Old-Man-of-the-Sea, party politics, who may be an angel of light elsewhere, and the instrument of progress, but is a plain incubus when seated on a municipality's shoulders.

OTTAWA, Nov. 6 (CP)—If reports are correct that Daris Danilovic, 32-year-old Polish nurse at Dauphin, Man., is happily settled in a satisfactory job in Canada and is satisfactory to her employer, the Federal Government "certainly will not deport her," Dr. Hugh Keenleyside, Deputy Resources Minister, said today.

Immediate Action on School Tax Set-Up Urged Before Hearing

Views of four Kootenay municipalities, two school inspectors, provincial assessors and interested ratepayers on problems on school taxation were heard by H. Alan MacLean, Assistant Deputy Attorney-General, and his five commissioners at a day-long sitting of a Provincial Government inquiry at Nelson City Hall Thursday.

The Commission sat at Penticton Monday. Opinions from representatives of Trail, Tadanac, Nelson and Kaslo, and reading of three resolutions from a Salmo Valley District Ratepayers' meeting, occupied the morning session. Provincial Assessor H. Bourdon of Nelson, School Inspectors Joseph Chell and W. E. Lucas, George W. Pease of Nelson and James Crowe, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Trail School District No. 11, were heard later.

The "imperative necessity for speedy action to insure the equitability of assessments within the boundaries of large school districts," clarification of certain "statutory discrepancies" concerning taxable property, standardizations in types of school buildings and transportation of school children, and equalization of grants according to assessment per teacher in districts, were chief points brought up in brief or resolution form.

Salmo's resolutions, resulting from a meeting of its Ratepayer Association, follow: "That the mill rate for school taxes should be the same throughout British Columbia; the monies collected for school purposes should be placed in one fund and administered by the Department of Education, governed entirely by the need for the same educational facilities in each school district."

2. That the Department of Education have uniform plans of the different sizes and types of school buildings, to meet the districts' requirements according to school population. 3. That transportation of children to a consolidated school be limited to a 12 mile radius from the place of the consolidated school.

"Under suggestions put forth in the Cameron report, several smaller Districts in a given area have been consolidated into one large district, and this idea carried out throughout the Province results in fewer school districts and a difference in the mill rates between each district."

"This system is unfair," it continued, "to Districts that are sparsely settled and lack heavy industries, which means a lower assessment value and limits the facilities for the education of their children, even with a higher mill rate compared with a district having more industries and a larger population, which with its higher assessment value, can give better facilities for education at a lower mill rate."

UNIFORM BUILDING PLANS Establishment of uniform plans for school buildings were urged by the Salmoites mainly because "several school districts employ architects to draw up plans for individual school buildings which may or may not meet the approval of the Department of Education or the ratepayers." This was causing undue expense to some districts, they felt. The ratepayers asked regulation of the distance school children may be transported to their consolidated school to save travelling time which penalizes children as well as parents, who may be deprived of work around the home.

Views of four Kootenay municipalities on problems on school taxation were heard by H. Alan MacLean, Assistant Deputy Attorney-General and his five Commissioners, at Nelson City Hall Thursday morning, first session of the two-day Provincial Government inquiry here.

F. W. Banton, Trail Assessor, presented a brief from the City of Trail impressing upon the Commission the "imperative necessity for speedy action to insure the equitability of assessments within the boundaries of large school districts."

"Since the total cost of school expenditure is to be shared by the component areas of large school districts in ratio of assessed value, it is an obvious fact that unless the assessments of all the areas comprising these districts are on a comparable basis the distribution of this cost cannot be in fair proportion," the Assistant City Engineer stated.

ASSESSOR'S MANUAL As a means of reaching equity of assessments, the brief recommended publication of an assessor's manual as a common standard on which all assessments throughout the Province could be based, capitalizing of rental values as a method of arriving at the true economic value of any piece of property, and allotment of the "entire burden of assessment to the Provincial Government, making both rural and municipal assessments in each school district the responsibility of one Provincial Assessor."

"DISCREPANCIES" CHARGED Discrepancies in the Municipal Act and Public Schools Act regarding definition of improvements, was also brought to the Commission's attention, along with other relevant Statutory discrepancies. "We feel that until such time as clarifications are made, and some degree of equity in assessments throughout the Province achieved, the general incidence of taxation under the Public Schools Act cannot help but tend toward a mal-distribution of school administration costs among the various groups of taxpayers comprising any one large school district," the brief added.

Answering questions of the Board, Mr. Banton stated that assessment figures in Trail were as much as 40 per cent below present-day property values. Trail's largest assessment lay in residential properties, he said, retail businesses coming second.

R. D. Gardner, Kaslo City Clerk and Secretary-Treasurer of Kaslo School District No. 6, who submitted no written brief, expressed "satisfaction with the set-up." He stated that the last general revision of assessments in Kaslo was in 1942, and that in the last 18 months a considerable demand for residential properties had been noted. He thought assessments comparable between City of Kaslo and the constituent parts of School District No. 6.

Provincial Assessor at Kaslo, W. H. Dunn, said that it would take four years to reassess the Kaslo School District. Municipality of Tadanac was represented by its assessor, J. Victor Rogers, who like Kaslo's delegate referred oral statements to the Commission. There had been a completed reassessment of Tadanac in 1944, at which time total assessment was valued at $17,000,000 in land and improvements. Machinery was considered "chattel," he said, and in this respect Tadanac supported the views of the City of Trail.

The Nelson brief suggested that the sales tax or some other tax "which is just and will be paid by all benefitted is the only suitable tax to meet the cost of education. However, if real property must bear a small share, then we say that it should not exceed five mills on land and improvements. We also submit that the definition of land and all improvements should be uniform in the Municipal Act, the Schools Act and the Provincial Taxation Act."

In conclusion, the brief said: "We consider that the person who has invested his savings in a home should not be forced to sacrifice his property at 50 per cent of its value during depression periods, nor should it be possible to confiscate

Daughter of Nakusp Woman Dies at Calgary

NAKUSP, B. C., Nov. 6.—Mrs. L. J. Edwards of Nakusp received the news of the passing of her eldest daughter, Florence Ethelwyn (Flores), wife of Edgar McCammon, at their home 3831 8th St., West, Calgary on Nov. 3.

Mrs. McCammon was born in Vancouver 54 years ago. After living in Kamloops and Golden the family moved to Nakusp and Mrs. McCammon attended school both in Nakusp and Yale.

She leaves her husband and three children, Mervyn, Peter and Pat of Calgary; her mother, Mrs. L. J. Edwards of Nakusp and sister Mrs. D. W. MacAfee of Victoria.

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon with Rev. J. W. Kerr officiating.

the same as a result of expenditures over which he has no control, what- ever, while others who have invested in bonds or any other classes of security, makes no sacrifice. It is because of this uncontrolled tax, that the property owner is praying for a just revision of taxation."

"The brief pointed out that the present system could not function properly in that real property had been singled out as an object of taxation for a service which benefited all classes of individuals. It had resulted in the confiscation of the real property, while other forms of capital wealth were free from school taxation.

"It is evident from the fact the rural areas are receiving funds from the Government, that some adjustment should be made to relieve all real property from an ever-increasing burden whatever, and we suggest, that whatever the cost of educational taxation, it should be put forward after careful consideration and in the light of the following questions: ationxmoaf

"Would the tax be levied from all sources benefitted? "Will it relieve the burden now imposed on the wage earning class owning a home? "Will it create a hardship on the wage earner renting his home? "Does the tenant pay the school tax in his rent?"

It was contended that Municipal Government should administer local services only, and that real property taxation should cover the cost of these services "which benefit land and improvements." Education was not a local service, nor did the property owner have any control over the curriculum or the cost. Therefore the tax was "unjust and a discriminatory tax if assessed against real property."

Remarking on Nelson's brief, Mayor T. H. Waters stated that he hoped to see a solution to the problems of school-taxing as far as rental houses were concerned, because Nelson was "fast becoming a residential city." He estimated that as many as 75 per cent of Nelson citizens owned their own houses. While there was a considerable "floating population," residences were mostly stable, he asserted.

That fixed machinery in un-organized rural areas should be "disregarded" for assessment purposes in order to reach an equitable tax distribution was stated by H. Bourdon, Provincial Assessor for the Nelson Assessment District. At present it was causing a considerable loss in industries such as logging, he said. Re-assessment of most components of the Nelson Assessment District was expected to be completed in a year.

W. E. Lucas, Inspector of Arrow Lakes School District No. 10 and Trail School District No. 11, stated that while the Cameron report provided for an equalization of the basic standard of education, no devices were implemented to help poorer districts with transportation or building grants. He suggested that transportation and building costs be balanced proportionately between wealthier and poorer districts, perhaps varying inversely with a proposed assessment per teacher.

McGuigan Gives Assurance of His Good Health

ROME, Nov. 6 (AP)—James Cardinal McGuigan, Archbishop of Toronto, told the Associated Press today his health was "excellent" and he planned to leave Sunday to return to Canada.

The Cardinal, clad in his purple robes, was on his way to an audience with Pope Pius. He said he was feeling well after a slight attack of influenza which he himself described as "only a bad cold."

Cardinal McGuigan said he was receiving scores of telegrams from all parts of Canada from people anxious about his condition and he asked that assurance be conveyed to all that he was in good health.

Kaslo Grant Applied to Waterworks Loan

KASLO, B. C., Nov. 6.—City Council granted R. C. Gilker permission to erect a building according to specifications.

A zone and building bylaw will be drafted and presented at the next regular meeting of the council. Mayor Baker and City Clerk were appointed to draw an agreement, not exceeding $1275 per annum, with the 66 Transfer for the removal of garbage.

A letter from W. F. Moody stated that he considered the Trades-License Bylaw rates, much too high for pool tables.

The Council was unanimous in the belief that the present rate was not too high. A communication from Deputy Minister of Finance informing the city that under the Revenues Surplus Appropriation Act of 1947, Kaslo was receiving a grant of $4005.83 and that this grant was being applied against the "water works loan" leaving a balance in the principal of $6494.17.

City Clerk R. D. Gardner was appointed Returning Officer for the Municipal Elections December 11, in the city hall for the election of Mayor, Aldermen and School Trustees.

Russia Admits Voting for Canada On Security Council FIGHTS BACK

LAKE SUCCESS, Nov. 6 (AP)—The Political Committee of the United Nations Assembly, with the Soviet Bloc dissenting, voted 43 to 6 today for State Secretary Marshall's plan to provide a year-round sitting of the 57 countries as a "Little Assembly."

Andrei Vishinsky of Russia said in effect that the Soviet Union would resist any attempt to exclude it from membership in the United Nations. He also disclosed that Russia voted for Canada as a member of the Security Council "despite differences we have had with Canada in the past and whatever differences we may have with her in the future."

Vishinsky addressed the committee after Foreign Minister Molotov declared in Moscow that the secrets of the atomic bomb have "long ceased to exist"—a statement that hit here as many delegates were showing increasing concern over Russia's boycott of U. N. undertakings.

ATTACK ARCE In a sharp attack on Dr. Joseph Arce, who suggested yesterday that Russia be dropped from the U. N., Vishinsky said: "Dr. Arce, your hands won't reach that far."

The Russian Deputy Foreign Minister's reference to Canada was the first indication of the way Russia voted when the Dominion, along with Argentina, was a successful candidate for the Security Council on the first ballot in September.

He was appealing for co-operation from U. N. members in the election of the Ukraine to the last remaining council seat over which there has been a long deadlock.

Vishinsky declined to comment seriously on Molotov's declaration but when asked if it meant Russia

Ousted AP Correspondent From Budapest "Has Never Been a Spy"

(Jack Guinn, Associated Press correspondent at Budapest since January, 1946, was notified by the Hungarian Government on Monday that he must leave the country. The following dispatches tell of his arrival in Vienna.)

By JACK GUINN VIENNA, Nov. 6 (AP)—To avoid arrest on Hungarian charges of "espionage" and smuggling anti-Communists out of the country, I have been forced to bring my family out of Budapest into Vienna.

The Hungarian Foreign Minister, Erik Molnar, a leading Communist, on Monday morning gave me until Tuesday midnight to leave the country or face trial. He told United States Minister Selden Chapin that Hungarian political police had "incontrovertible evidence" that I had engaged in spying on Hungary and that I had smuggled the Communist party's enemies into Austria.

Molnar did not explain to Chapin exactly what I was supposed to have done. An official communique issued by Interior Minister Laszlo Rajk, another leading Communist, said that several Hungarians, all of them my friends and one of them my secretary, Miss Elizabeth Allos, had been arrested for providing unnamed persons with "confidential information." The official announcement said that in this connection I had been expelled from Hungary "forever."

Many persons in Hungary have given me information the 21 months and seven days I spent there. Much of it, after being verified from other sources, developed into news stories which I am sure did not please the Communist-dominated regime. Chapin said he did not "understand how a reporter's news dispatches could be classed as espionage."

Some of these news stories concerned the flight from Hungary of some prominent men and some ordinary little men who said they were afraid they would be arrested on various charges. Perhaps my prior knowledge of their plans to leave the country is what the Hungarian government meant when it accused me of smuggling Hungarians out of the country. But in the midst of the flurry of official announcements, Ivan Boldis-zard, Under-Secretary of State for the Foreign Office, stated that the charges against me did not involve news dispatches. He also stated the Hungarian Government was not angry at the Associated Press as a news agency and would take no action against its incoming news reporters.

The implication is that I received what the government calls "confidential information" and passed it on to somebody else by some method other than cable or telephone. I have worked in Hungary only as the representative of the Associated Press. I have never been a spy.

KISS YOUR TIRED FEELING GOODBYE!

Peoples Many Suffer Low Blood Count—And Don't Know It.

The baffling thing about low blood count is that you can weigh about as much as you ever did—even look healthy and strong—you can feel as if you had lead in your legs, dizzy, tired and peevish.

Low blood count means you haven't got enough red blood corpuscles. It is their vital job to carry life-giving oxygen from your lungs throughout your body. And just as it takes oxygen to explode gasoline in your car and make the power to turn the wheels, so you must have plenty of oxygen to explode the energy in your body and give you going power.

Get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today. They are world-famous for the help they give in increasing the number and strength of red corpuscles. Then with your blood count up, you'll feel like bounding up the stairs as if you were floating on air. Ask your druggist for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today.

Trail Spartans Tounce Trailblazers 5-1

TRAIL, B.C., Nov. 6.—The Trailblazers made their first appearance on home ice, defeated the Spokane Spartans 5-1 in a Western International Hockey League game before a capacity crowd at the Trail Arena tonight.

Joe Benoit-coached Spartans led off strongly intent on drawing first blood, but their efforts were ineffective against Trail's veteran goalie, Duke Scodelar. Trail's third string, composed of Coach Ab Cronie on right, Louis Secco on left wing and Gardner at center, provided the works for the locals. They scored three thrilling goals on well-executed passing plays and were in many times providing extra.

The biggest surprise to the local fans was left winger Louis Secco, out of junior ranks. Secco had played with Eddie Shore's farm club in Saskatoon a year ago, but did not make the grade. He then in a season with the Trail Juniors, though he always looked a comer he never seemed to make the hurdle and it was doubtful whether the Smoke Eaters had any great hopes of big things from him. However, Zeke Clements gave him an extra opportunity and he came through with two goals and an assist tonight and his stock went up.

Trail's 31-year-old playing coach, Ab Cronie who collected 4 points, looked as good as ever and transformed the third string into a dangerous trio.

Spokane's lone goal came off the stick of former Nelson rearguard Steve Krizan, who was a tower of strength for the Morin crew both offensively and defensively. He fired through a maze of legs at the six-minute mark in the third period to keep the Spartans from being blanked.

Lorne DePaolis, youthful Trail defenceman, also impressed the large crowd.

Lineups:
Spokane—Kneeshaw; Krizan, McLean; Petrucci; H. Scott, Ursaki.
Subs—Anderson, Porter, Barchyn, Blackett, McLennan, Steeva, Fleit.
Trail — Scodelaro; Edwards, Christensen; Turk; Hanson, Cavanaugh. Subs—Scott, Smith, Nicol, Gardner, Cronie, Secco, DePaolis.
Referees—Mike Wellock and Gerry Wheatley.
First period—1, Trail, Nicol 3:40; 2, Trail, Cronie 7:51.
Penalty—Krizan.
Second period—3, Trail, Secco (Gardner-Cronie) 7:58.
Penalties—DePaolis, Gardner.
Third period—4, Trail, Gardner (Secco-Cronie) 6:22; 5, Spokane, Krizan 6:51; 6, Trail, Secco (Cronie) 7:09.

Beckett Injury Fuels Plans to Set Up Challenger

TORONTO, Nov. 6 (CP)—Just when it looked as though a fighter who could be billed as Canada's outstanding middleweight, low score on next Monday night's box-fight card here, one of the hopefuls—Sudbury's Cliff Beckett—pulled up at training with a gimpy ankle.

To replace the experienced Northerner, promoter Frank Tunney has signed Bruce Richardson, former Toronto Argonauts football lineman, to meet Bobby Flannigan of London over eight rounds, in a return engagement. Flannigan decided Richardson recently in the grid star's professional debut.

The Beckett-Flannigan bout was originally planned to establish a challenger for the Dominion middleweight title held by aging Len Wadsworth of Hamilton and Sudbury.

District Talent On Amateur Stage Here Tonight

Tonight the talent of Nelson and District will be on review on the stage of the Capitol Theatre, during an Amateur Contest sponsored by the Associated Commercial Travelers.

The sponsors disclosed Thursday that entries have been received from as far as Grand Forks and late applicants could not be accommodated.

Entertainment will vary from acrobatics to horse shoe pitching. Public response has been good, it was said at the application headquarters, and the organizers were confident that the show will be the best ever.

Winners in the amateur attraction will be decided by a system of voting, votes to be bought at a nominal sum destined to bolster the coffers of the Boy Scout Association.

CKLN will carry the amateur show and listeners will have an opportunity to register an opinion by phoning their votes to the theatre.

Barbara "Weakest Champ in Years" Says Swiss Figure Skating Teacher

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer
LONDON, Nov. 6 (CP)—Jacob Gerschwiller, international known Swiss figure skating instructor, said today that Barbara Ann Scott of Ottawa is "the weakest figure skater to my mind we have had to hold the world's championship in many years."

His brother, Arnold, said he thinks Miss Scott is "very good but certainly not unbeatable. She isn't the type of champion I'd say who could hold the title five or 10 years."

Jacob cushioned his criticism with the observation that Miss Scott's free skating is "brilliant" and that she is his "outstanding choice" to win the Olympic games championship next February at St. Moritz, Switzerland.

Miss Scott won the world and European titles last Winter.

Arnold Gerschwiller told the Canadian Press in an interview that the petite, 19-year-old blonde Canadian girl has "a good chance" in the Olympics but "it all depends on how much improvement she has made since last Winter, especially in her figures," and on the degree of improvement of other skaters.

Her free skating is "very polished and finished but from a sports point of view her jumps could be higher," the younger Gerschwiller said.

Both brothers agreed that the present crop of amateur figure skaters cannot compare with pre-war stars.

The Gerschwillers, who have coached world-beaters since the early 30's—including Britain's Megan Taylor and Cecilia Colledge, British, world and European champions of a decade ago—saw Miss Scott in action last Winter when she triumphed at Davos Platz, Switzerland, and Stockholm, over such modern stars as Diana Walker of England and Gretchen Merrill of the United States.

JUST AN APPRAISAL
Jacob, Swiss champion for many years and runner-up in the world open professional championship in 1934 in London, said Miss Scott "deserved to win her titles—most decided so—but her figures were very weak."

"I hope Canadians won't take my remarks the wrong way," he said, adding that "criticism gives a nasty smell."

"I criticize my own pupils very severely and I'm sure Barbara Ann will take my words in the manner in which they are intended—just an appraisal by one who does not cheer for any particular competitor

AIR-SEAL is guaranteed to be non-injurious to all rubber.

Here's What Air-Seal Will Do:
PREVENTS PUNCTURES
When a puncture occurs AIR-SEAL seals the tube instantly — without loss of air pressure.
REDUCES DANGER FROM BLOW-OUTS
In case of BLOW-OUT, AIR-SEAL retards escape of air from tire, so that the driver has an opportunity to retain control of car, thus avoiding accident.
ENDS 90% OF ALL TIRE AND TUBE TROUBLES
AIR-SEAL REDUCES AIR-LEAKAGE AND UNDER-INFLATION
MAKES TIRES AND TUBES LAST LONGER
By maintaining even tire pressure AIR-SEAL materially lengthens the life of tube and casing. An AIR-SEALED tube can be immediately repaired and restored to duty.
AIR-SEAL IS THE ONLY COMPOUND THAT HAS WITHSTOOD THE TEST OF TIME.
ITS EFFECTIVENESS HAS BEEN PROVED BY SIX YEARS OF ACTUAL USE.

YOU CAN'T AFFORD TO BE WITHOUT THIS PROTECTION — YOU OWE IT TO YOURSELF AND FAMILY

FIND FLAT FOR McDONALD CLAN

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (AP)—A seven-room flat has been found for the McDonald Clan, three members of which had defied attempts to oust them from their Brooklyn home this week after the flimsy building had been condemned by the city as unsafe. New Restrictions on Dentists in Ont.

TORONTO, Nov. 6 (CP) — New regulations passed by the Ontario Government impose restrictions on dental technicians in the province in respect to advertising and business practices. The regulations which take effect Dec. 1 prohibit a dental technician from advertising himself as such except by mail to the Dental Profession, or by a business card in a publication devoted to dental surgery or in medical journals. In manufacture or repair of oral dental devices the dental technician is limited to use of materials which have been prescribed by the dentist or physician for whom the work is done.

Dispute Gambling Spending Report

LONDON, Nov. 6 (AP)—The National Greyhound Racing Society today disputed a report by the Churches Committee on Gambling that Britons wagered £190,213,385 ($796,853,140) on dog races in 1946. This sum, the Greyhound Society said, "does not represent money spent, but the accumulated bets staked on every race at every meeting at every track throughout the year. Actually, it was largely the same money used over and over again."
