OUTLINES T.C.A. EXTENSION PLAN

Canada to Have Two-Ocean Navy

OTTAWA, Oct. 2 2(CP) — Defence Minister Abbott said tonight in the Commons that he was not prepared to say as yet how the ships of Canada's post-war navy will be divided between the East and West Coast.

Speaking during resumed debate on Navy estimates, Mr. Abbott said Canada was a two-coast country and she would have a two-ocean navy.

The Navy will be made up of two cruisers, two aircraft carriers, a number of destroyers and ancillary craft.

PAY TO BE GOOD

A definite statement on conditions of service in the permanent forces would be made by March 31, 1946, at the latest. Committees now were working on questions of pay, allowances, pensions, gratuities.

The pay would be good as Canada did not want a "cheap" permanent force.

Mr. Abbott said the proposed permanent force was not badly off as far as officers were concerned, but more ratings could be used.

G. H. Castleden (CCF-Yorkton) asked whether any Navy ships were being used to bring back troops from overseas.

Mr. Abbott said some of this was being done but noted that Canadian naval vessels were not suited or designed for transport duties.

SAYS ABBOTT "TOO CASUAL"

Lt.-Col. Cecil Merritt, V.C., (PC-Vancouver Burrard) said he thought that Mr. Abbott had adopted "too casual" an attitude in respect to recruiting. The Minister did not seem to realize his "great responsibility."

Col. Merritt said discovery of the atomic bomb was no reason why there shouldn't be a definite decision on the size of permanent forces. Fundamental forces still were necessary.

The first duty now was the defence of Canada and the Government did not have to wait for any decision by the United Nations' Security Council before deciding on the size of forces.

Col. Merritt expressed the hope the permanent navy would be increased from 10,000 to 15,000 men.

He urged Mr. Abbott to take the Commons and the people into his confidence and give full details of the principles of the post-war forces.

Mr. Abbott said he was not taking his responsibilties casually. Col. Merritt had said the post-war plans were indefinite and indecisive. Yet Canada was more definite than any other Allied country on the size of post-war forces. Mr. Abbott said he did not believe this was the time for the setting down of hard and fast rules.

BE OWN BOSS

Besides the atomic bomb there were jet-propelled planes and other weapons. Seven weeks after the end of the war with Japan was too soon for hard and fast rules as to the character and size of post-war forces.

J. F. Poulliot (Ind. L-Temiscouata) expressed the hope that the Canadian Navy would be its own boss and not be under the jurisdiction of the British Admiralty.

Kootenay Companies Funds Among First Big V-Loan Investors

OTTAWA, Oct. 22 (CP)—Early indications at National Headquarters here tonight were that the first day's subscriptions to Canada's Ninth Victory Loan would be higher than in the opening day of the Eighth Loan last Spring, when a figure of $87,000,000 was reached.

Defence Minister Abbott, speaking in the shadow of the National Memorial on Confederation Square, opened the drive in the capital while an army barrage balloon floated lazily 700 feet above the Parliament buildings.

"Buying Victory Bonds is buying the kind of peace we all want," he said.

Among the large subscriptions today were an investment of $17,500,000 by the Canadian Pacific Railway, including $3,500,000 on behalf of the C.P.R., employees pension fund; $8,000,000 by a C.P.R. subsidiary — Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co., at Trail, B. C.; $500,000 by Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company pension fund, Trail and Kimberley, B. C.; and $800,000 by Smelters' subsidiary, West Kootenay Power and Light Company, Trail.

Life Insurance Companies were prominent among early buyers, with purchase of $6,000,000 by Crown Life Insurance Co., Toronto, in addition to the $22,500,000 investment by London Life Insurance Co., London, Ont., reported earlier today.

SERVICEMEN INVESTING

Drawing a bead on a $13,500,000 target, the Canadian Army expects again to top its objective. While that is $6,500,000 less than in the eighth loan, the per capita quota is only five dollars less. The Navy's overall objective has been reduced from last loan's $5,000,000 to $2,800,000, but like the Army the individual quota has dropped only five dollars.

The total RCAF objective has been reduced from $12,500,000 to $6,500,000.

"NOW, LISTEN HERE, YOU . . ."

Making full use of his freedom of speech, a striking longshoreman puts up an argument with a police sergeant at one of the North River piers, New York, when police were sent to the scene to protect non-striking workers from being roughed-up by outlaw strikers and sympathetic CIO pickets.

First Reading for Citizenship Bill

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Oct. 22 (CP).—Plans for the extension of Trans-Canada Air Lines, legislation providing for Canadian citizenship, the value of the International Labor Office, and Navy Department estimates today provided the basis for discussions in the Commons as efforts were made to put more work before the House and various committees.

Reconstruction Minister Howe gave an outline of projected new international and domestic main lines services for T.C.A. that will probably multiply the Corporation's present route mileage five or six times.

To meet the situation a bill would be introduced to authorize an increase in the capital of the Government-owned service from $5,000,000 to $25,000,000 and to make other amendments to the T.C.A. Act giving the Corporation a more flexible operating set-up.

ADJOURN DEBATE

Mr. Howe spoke on a resolution to the bill and when he completed his statement Howard Green (PC—Vancouver South) asked that debate be adjourned until tomorrow. M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, said his party was ready to go ahead with debate.

A standing vote was called for and by a vote of 59-15 it was decided that the discussions would be put over.

Long-range international services planned are trans-Atlantic, from Eastern Canada to Latin-America and trans-Pacific, said Mr. Howe. On the trans-Atlantic run the company now is operating a non-commercial service for the Government. Mr. Howe said he hoped this would be transformed into an ordinary commercial service "before many weeks."

Addition to the domestic service would include a shorter trans-continental service across the Great Lakes, a service from Winnipeg through Saskatoon to Edmonton and services into various United States points.

FIRST READING FOR CITIZENSHIP BILL

Mr. Howe took the floor shortly after the Commons had given first reading to the Canadian Citizenship Bill. State Secretary Martin said the bill was aimed at giving a clearer definition of the national status of the citizens of the Dominion.

The bill would clear up a condition of "great confusion and misunderstanding" resulting from the fact Canadians are listed under three classifications—"Canadian citizen," "Canadian national" and "British subject."

Canadian citizenship—a status which up to now has been non-existent—will be extended by the bill upon proclamation to all native-born Canadians, aliens who have taken out naturalization papers and British subjects resident in the Dominion.

CRITICIZES I.L.O.

Discussion on the I.L.O. arose when the House was asked to refer to committee conventions passed by the I.L.O. in 1932 and 1938. The first convention dealt with the protection against accidents of workers employed in the loading and unloading of ships. The second dealt with statistics of wages and hours of work in the principal mining and manufacturing industries.

Criticism of the work done by I.L.O. came from J. F. Pouliot (Ind L—Temiscouata) who said the organization was made up of "all these fellows who live on the fat of the land and who call themselves labor men."

His charges brought retorts from Veterans Minister Mackenzie and Labor Minister Mitchell that the I.L.O. was an international organization which had done praiseworthy work for the cause of the common man.

200,000 STRIKERS RETURN TO U. S. COAL MINES

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP) — More than 200,000 soft coal miners returned to work today, reducing the number of persons idle because of strikes in the United States to 230,000.

The total was the lowest in more than a month and less than half of the 550,000 who were out on Oct. 6, peak of post-war labor controversies.

15,800 WALK OUT

Only major strike outbreak today was in the glass industry, where 15,800 C.I.O. supporters walked out of plants in seven States. The Federation of Glass, Ceramic and Silica Sand Workers struck at plants of two of the country's major companies, Pittsburgh Plate Glass and Libbey-Owens-Ford, after breakdown of negotiations over wages and other issues.

Resumption of work by the miners at the call of John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers President saw nearly all of the 216,000 idle soft coal men back in the pits. They had been out 27 days in a dispute over recognition of a foremen's union.

Return of the miners stimulated a pickup in the steel industry where operations were curtailed by coal shortages.

In Detroit, Walter P. Reuther, C.I.O. United Automobile Workers Vice-President, rejected the proposal for a 45-hour week made by President C. E. Wilson of General Motors Corporation. Acceptance, Reuther said, would mean scrapping the Federal Wages and Hours Act and "General Motors workers and their union will never agree to this."

OTHERS RETURN

For the first time since early Thursday a full staff manned plants of the Consumers Power Company of Michigan where a C.I.O. strike last week threatened curtailment of service for 2,000,000 residents.

Five thousand A.F.L. ship repairmen returned to their jobs in the San Pedro, Calif., harbor ending a strike which the U.S. Navy said had delayed repair of 20 minesweepers needed for Pacific operations.

Elsewhere on the West Coast, 67,700 A.F.L. lumber workers remained on strike with no hope of immediate settlement. The men, employed by lumber companies in the Pacific Northwestern States, are seeking a $1.10 hourly minimum wage.

In Hollywood, mass picketing extended to three studios in the protracted film industry disputs.

URGES "SALVAGING" OF ALASKA HIGHWAY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (AP).—Sen. Warren Magnusson (Dem.-Wash.) today urged President Truman to consider a plan designed to "salvage" for peacetime use at least part of the Alcan Highway.

Constructed during the war to link the United States and Alaska, the highway now is for the most part "useless," Sen. Magnusson said. But part of it could be used, he suggested, if a link is built between Prince George, B.C., and Whitehorse, Alaska.

Britain, U.S. Strive to Ward Off E. Indies Bloodshed

BATAVIA, Oct. 22 (AP)—The British and American governments intensified their efforts tonight to bring peace to the Netherlands East Indies, where frequent clashes between the Dutch and native leaders of an independence movement threaten to touch off a bloody racial war.

Ned Denning, chief political advisor to Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten, arrived by plane to make a personal investigation of the political situation for the Commander-in-Chief of the Southeast Asia command.

Earlier Brig.-Gen. Robin Paper, American liaison officer attached to the Southeast Asia Command, arrived for a first-hand look at the situation. He emphasized that he was merely an observer.

Tenseness of the military and political situation has lessened little in the last week. So far only Batavia, Bandoeng and Semarang have come under British control.

Some sources said British authorities have advised the Dutch not to land troops in large numbers at present, if at all, and that the Dutch have complied with British suggestions to demilitarize the Netherlands colonial forces.

Record Start Reported on Loan at Trail

TRAIL, B. C., Oct. 22—First reports on the 9th Victory Loan campaign here indicated a record start for the campaign both downtown in the general canvass and in the C. M. & S. internal drive where the five day blitz campaign was opened with employee meetings in almost every division and general mass meeting at both Tadanac and Warfield.

The Warfield leadburners were the first division in the C. M. & S. internal canvass to go over the top as they reported sales of $4850 at 10 o'clock this morning, topping their quota of $4700 by $150.

Another department reporting early was the engineering and construction, which boasted a total of $32,000 subscribed for 13 per cent of the $230,000 quota for that department.

The Warfield meter repair shop also reported over the top shortly after 10 a.m.

Mass meetings of the employees were held as the internal canvass headed into the first day of a five-day plant objective of $833,800.

"HOW MUCH PER SIT?"

CLEVELAND, Oct. 22 (CP). — Sitting up with baby has blossomed into an organized business in Cleveland.

Like many another young couple, Harold M. West and his wife have had to forego a party or the movies because they couldn't get anyone to stay with the baby, but West has done something about it.

He's organized "Minute Maid," a baby-sitter service for tied-to-home parents. He put a classified ad in a local paper for girls 18 to 45 for baby-sitting jobs and for parents with babies they want "sat up with."

The response has been so encouraging that West is thinking of expanding his service.

Deny Rumors Stalin Dead

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (CP) — Washington sources tonight lacked any information to back up a cryptic broadcast from the French radio at Brazzaville, North Africa, denying what the broadcast said were "widespread rumors" in Paris that Generalissimo Stalin is dead.

Premier Stalin, who led his country through the Second Great War, is known not to be in good health.

In Paris a spokesman of the Soviet Embassy denied recurring reports that premier Stalin is dead, terming the rumors "either pure rumor or propaganda."

NO WORD

LONDON, Oct. 22 (CP)—The Soviet Embassy here, in answer to a question concerning reports that Generalissimo Stalin was gravely ill, replied tonight that "we have no information to that effect."

ST LOUIS, Oct 22 (AP)—Twin baby girls, born in St. Louis on VJ-Day, were christened yesterday on board the battleship Missouri at anchor off Norfolk, Va., at the exact spot on the deck where the Japanese surender terms were signed. The girls are Susan Virginia and Janis Loraine Wills, daughters of Capt and Mrs. Charles E. Wills of St. Louis.

Cast Ballots Today . . .

ADVANCE VOTING LIGHT IN N. S. ELECTION

HALIFAX, Oct. 22 (CP)—From the glens of Cape Breton to Yarmouth County's tide-swept Tusket Islands, the voters of Nova Scotia will cast their ballots tomorrow to elect the seaside province's 14th Legislature since Confederation.

Their voting will decide whether the Liberal Government of Premier Angus L. Macdonald will continue its 12 unbroken years of office, or whether a new administration will be formed by the Progressive Conservatives under L. W. Fraser or by the C.C.F. Party, whose House leader is Donald MacDonald.

Public interest in the election remained light through the month-long campaign, and a heavy vote was not expected, although the electoral list was longest on record and 83 candidates were contesting the 30 seats at stake. Chief Returning Officer A. S. Barnstead said 400,000 ballot forms were needed, but in the 1941 election only 63.05 per cent of the 341,700 on the voters' lists marked their ballots.

Voting in the advance polls throughout the province was light, and only 17 ballots were cast in four Halifax electoral district, South, Centre, North and East. This voting was done Friday under the Nova Scotia Election Act which allows railway employees, seamen, commercial travellers, fishermen and service personnel to vote on that date if their business will prevent them from being in their home constituencies on election day.

The servicemen stationed in the province, but not in their home constituencies, will cast their votes at the service establishments where they are stationed. Results of this voting will be forwarded to Halifax and distributed by telegraph from there to returning officers of the proper constituencies.

Loan Canvass Encouraging in Nelson Area

Six war veterans engaged in canvassing for subscriptions to the 9th Victory Loan worked until late Monday night in Nelson and all reported encouraging returns.

First day's sales will not be available until today, however, as reports were to be turned in to headquarters Tuesday morning.

Nelson's share of the district objective of $1,050,000 is $775,000, well below the amount raised in the 8th Loan, $814,050, but $75,000 above the last quota.

The District last Spring raised $1,066,450 or 115.3 per cent of its $925,000 objective. Of this, Nakusp raised $87,200; Slocan $94,650; Kaslo $62,200; and Salmo $28,350.

Dolman Speech Brings Tax Exemption Investigation, Coast

VANCOUVER, Oct. 22 (CP). — Vancouver City Council officials today instructed its legal department to investigate the status of city churches regarding tax exemption following an address in St. John's United Church forum yesterday by Dr. C E. Dolman, University of British Columbia bacteriologist.

Speaking on chlorination of Vancouver's water, Dr. Dolman urged the continuation of chlorination and criticized members of the City Council as men who "pose as authorities and twist facts."

Alderman George Buscombe said at a City Council meeting today that if the legal department probe discloses abuse of the city by law providing tax exemption from churches used solely for the worship of God, he will press for the return of the church to the civic tax roll.

"If they are going to use the churches other than to preach the Gospel," their exemption from taxes is threatened, added Mayor J. W Cornett

B.C. READY TO SUPPLY PREFABRICATED HOUSES TO BRITAIN

LONDON, Oct 22 (CP Cable) — Robert O'Meara, British Columbia Trade Commissioner in London, said at a Press conference today that British Columbia is ready to supply "as many prefabricated houses as may be required" in Britain.

He said a prefabricated house from the Pacific Coast province erected on the outskirts of [illegible] pool was widely acclaimed in Britain

Jap Monopolies to Liquidate

TOKYO, Oct. 22 (AP)—Japan's family-operated industrial monopolies which built the machine of aggressive war promised today to go out of business, while Allied Headquarters started revising the education system that long has nurtured the warlike spirit.

Simultaneously Prince Fumimaro Konoye, former Premier who is taking an increasing share of Japan's political spotlight, contended that the Emperor's highly-touted divinity never had been a legal concept. He conceded, however, that the current constitutional revision would shear Emperor Hirohito of some of his absolute powers.

The poweful Tokyo paper Asahi challengingly asserted dissolution plans of such industrial giants as Mitsui, Sumotomo and Mitsubishi were merely a blind intended to evade responsibility for the war, protect profits and await opportunities to go warmongering again in the future.

"We Take What We Want" Russian's Words Officer Says

WARSAW, Oct. 22 (AP)—Lt.-Col. Edward J. York, air attache of the United States Embassy here, said he was halted at the gates of Warsaw last Thursday night on the order of Russian officers who demanded and took a lug wrench from the Embassy car.

Col. York said this is what happened:

His automobile was stopped by a Russian lieutenant, who grasped Col. York's Polish chauffeur. The attache identified himself and explained he was returning from an official mission

The officer and another lieutenant then stepped forward

"It makes no difference who you are — American, British, French, Belgian or Polish," one of the Russians said. "We take what we want. Now are you going to give us that wrench or must we take it from you?"

Col. York deemed it wise to surrender the wrench. The incident was reported to the United States Ambassador, Arthur Bliss Lane.

R.A.F. Ghost With Bowl of Blood Wanders No More

MEDMENHAM, Eng., Oct. 22 (CP)—The Grey Lady of Medmenham has ceased haunting this quiet Buckinghamshire village, and airmen and airwomen are wondering what became of this wraith, said to be the spirit of a nun who made 3 a.m. appearances in the camp lanes and village roads carrying—so men of the R.A.F. claim—a bowl of blood in her right hand.

The Grey Lady was last reported walking towards a service canteen said to have been built on the site of an ancient chapel, but she had been missing from her usual haunt—Opps—lately.

Disappearance suggestion by wishful-thinking R.A.F. men: She's been demobbed.

DELAY AMPUTATION FUND CAMPAIGN

TORONTO, Oct. 22 (CP) — Robert Wilson, Chairman of the Building Fund Committee of the War Amputations of Canada, tonight announced that opening of a public appeal for $500,000 had been postponed a week to avoid overlapping with a campaign by the Salvation Army and now is scheduled to start Nov. 24.

New Venezuela Government Works to Correct Disorder

By PHILIP CLARKE

CARACAS, Oct. 22 (AP)—Venezuela's new leftist government worked to restore order to this revolution-torn country tonight as it announced that all opposition to its week-end coup d'etat had collapsed.

Armored scout cars, filled with green-clad troops carrying rifles and machine guns, continued to cruise the streets of Caracas searching for a few isolated snipers, but a government office announced:

"At noon today no resistance was reported from any part of Venezuela."

The new 10-man cabinet, installed Sunday night by the military junta which directed the overthrow of the government, this appeared to be firmly in control, but order had not been fully restored

This was demonstrated by incidents involving diplomats or embassies of Mexico, Colombia, Santo Domingo, and Haiti, and by confusion and traffic jams in the downtown areas of Caracas.

12 TO 15 YEAR OLDS ARMED

Miraflores palace, in the centre of the city, was still guarded by three medium tanks. The roar of clanging tanks and armored troop trucks echoed through the narrow twisting streets which were jammed with helmeted soldiers and civ*ilians.*

Girl Trades Mainland Life for Lonely Isle

COVE ISLAND, Ont., Oct. 22 — (CP) — Nineteen-year-old Iris Banas is sure she made a good swap by turning her back on mainland life to marry lighthouse keeper Harold (Hal) Banas, 24, and become the third inhabitant on this lonely island marking the division between Lake Huron and Georgian Bay.

Third member of the trio is Earl Banas, 22, Harold's brother and assistant. He was best man when Rev. C. B. Arrol recently came over from Tobermory, six miles away at the tip of the Bruce Peninsula, to marry the couple on a high rocky platform directly below the light tower.

"The island is a wonderful place," said Mrs. Banas after the ceremony. "I wouldn't mind living here for years and years."

MAKE OWN FUN

"We have to make our own amusements," she added, "reading, horse-shoe pitching, hunting, fishing, and long walks around the island are some of our activities apart from the regular work. The men work in shifts and the light is always attended."

The 300,000-candlepower flash from the tip of the 100-foot tower has guided shipping on Lake Huron for 89 years. The station also provides a radio beam that can be heard in Toronto and a foghorn which carries 20 miles and becomes so much a part of the community life during bad weather that the Banas family has to "stop and listen to see if it's going."

Gyros See War and Service Films, Hear J. B. Curran, Affleck on Rehabilitation, Poulsen on Loan

Two enthralling films were shown to Nelson Gyro Club at the Hume, Monday by M. Morley and F. Edgehill. They were "The Unrelenting Struggle", and "Valiant Company", the former being based on speeches of Winston Churchill from 1940 to 1945, and the latter being a technicolor film depicting the rehabilitation work for wounded veterans and citing Captan Alan Piper as one example of the way these men could recover from their disabilities. Edward Arnold was narrator in this film.

CURRAN CHARTER MEMBER

Capt. J. B. Curran, who recently returned from overseas, was a visitor to the Gyro meeting. He told those present that when the Nelson Gyro Club was formed in February, 1924, he was the youngest Charter member of the club.

He had great praise for the Gyros, and he thanked them for the parcels he had received while overseas.

Alderman Boyd C. Affleck made an appeal for the newly re-organized city rehabilitation committee, which was being formed to help servicemen. The committee was to have a secretary in the Canadian Legion every afternoon. The City Council had been asked about housing accommodation for these returning men, and the committee was also asking the Council for $300.

The appeal was referred to the War Service Committee for study.

REPORT ON HOCKEY

J. Longden gave a report on the recent Senior Hockey meeting. A Nelson Hockey Booster Club was being formed to raise money, and members of service clubs were being asked to sell three tickets each. The club was out to sell 500 tickets.

W. Hicks introduced B. C. Poulsen, who read a letter from Mayor N. C. Stibbs on the Ninth Victory Loan, asking help from the members of the Gyro Club in giving the loan a boost.

Mr. Poulsen thought the citizens of Nelson and the Gyro Club should do all they could to give encouragement to the government.

"Let's lend every effort we can in boosting the loan, or at least not kick it down," he said.

J. Grayblel was a visitor.

F. H. Smith, President of the club, was in the chair.

TOAST and TEA

BY J. V. McARELL

It is commonly believed that timid women are the easy prey of the adventurer, says Squire Spriggs in An Industrious Chevalier, and that men of knowledge and experience can be trusted to remain in peaceful possession of their goods; but the belief, though of course, not wholly erroneous, has no sure foundation. It allows nothing to the influence of over-confidence. The timid woman knows her weakness and is alert to suspect danger—so alert, it may be, that she is perpetually being scared without reason. But she is guarded by her comprehensive fears. Her outposts challenge friend and foe alike, and no one gets through without scrutiny. Men of knowledge and experience set no such sentries. They rely on their weapons of worldly wisdom to protect them at close quarters. As a result it not infrequently happens that the enemy has disabled them and carried off their goods before they have realized his true character.

Interment was in the Nelson Memorial Park.

Churchill Hits at Slow Demobilization

LONDON, Oct. 22 (CP Cable)—The question of the future strength of Britain's armed forces was brought up in the House of Commons today with Winston Churchill urging speedier demobilization and Labor Secretary Isaacs outlining the difficulties of increased discharges.

Mr. Churchill said a total of 1,550,000 men "should suffice for our needs in the immediate future," but he understood there would be 3,842,000 in the forces on Dec. 31. In his view, this meant that 2,250,000 were "redundant and surplus."

In reply, Mr. Isaacs said the chiefs of staff had completed examination of the military requirements and had reduced the estimate of the required military strength to 2,250,000 by next June. As soon as it could in the light of military circumstances and world difficulties, the Government would reduce that figure.

HITS AT SPEECH

Mr. Isaacs termed the opposition leader's speech "most irresponsible and mischievous," and said: "whether it was to help get men out of the services or get them out of temper with the present Government, I do not know."

Appearing in the role of champion of the soldiers, who voted predominantly against his government in the general election last July, Mr. Churchill asserted that slow demobilization was "the fountainhead of all our domestic difficulties." He continued:

"Now is the time to bring home the men who have conquered . . . . to bring them back to their families and to promotive work.

"If we do not get the great wheels turning we may lose forever our rightful place in the post-war economic world."

Apps Fitting in Neatly With Leafs

OWEN SOUND, Ont., Oct. 22 (CP).—With Sylvanus Apps fitting neatly back into his old centre-ice berth, Toronto Maple Leafs whirled through final practices today before tomorrow night's exhibition game that will virtually close their training camp program here.

Apps, working on a line with Nick and Don Metz, showed flashes of the rushing style that kept him at the top of National Hockey League stars for years until enlistment in the Army. Ten training days behind the others, however, he appeared to tire fairly easily in first workouts.

McCOOL INJURED

Goaler Frank McCool was missing from the workouts following discovery that he suffered a fractured rib in practice last Tuesday. He is expected to be back in the nets when Leafs divide up for an exhibition game setting "Blues" against "Whites" tomorrow night.

Aldege (Baz) Bastien, perennial candidate for netminder, went well in McCool's absence, several times robbing Gaye Stewart from close in. Bob Davidson was one of the best men on the ice in the workouts.

Following the exhibition game, Leafs plan to break camp Wednesday, moving to Hamilton and then to Toronto, where they open the season Saturday against Boston Bruins.

Phillips Tells Creston He Speaks for Buddies; Regimentation Kept Army Fit; MacInnis on New Zealand

CRESTON, B.C., Oct. 22—At the best meeting of the C.C.F. campaign, Howard Phillips of Erickson, C.C.F. candidate, Friday night told Creston electors he had accepted the nomination at the insistence of his Army buddies, who wanted him to return and speak for them. As he had given 24 hours' service daily in his five years in the forces, serving in Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Italy, so he promised to give service in Canada in the interests of social reform.

He noted that while Premier Hart had had B.C. roads under his care for the past term, still he travelled by U.S. roads to get to this riding.

Referring to the recent Legislature, he said the record showed C.C.F. suggestions were often either voted down or ruled out of order, the latter seeming to be a standard method of avoiding discussion in the House. Questions of amendments offered in the fields of social welfare, health, wages and pensions met the usual fate of C.C.F. efforts for the general good.

POOR NUTRITION

Enlistment figures, Mr. Phillips said, showed a deplorable lack of physical fitness brought about by poor nutrition standards and governmental attention to public well being. He quoted Army figures to show that under its care bodily health was kept at a high pitch under a regimentation despite the Coalition worry and doleful prophecy.

Alluding to the dire need of Europe for clothing, he stressed that almost any garment, new or old, would be welcome in those countries of "patch on patch" and semi-starvation, with resultant sincere thanks to Canada.

Chairman Frank Baker spoke briefly on the C.C.F. accomplishments in Saskatchewan, instancing the new government's invasion of the insurance field, with great savings to the insured.

NEW WORLD POSSIBLE

Angus MacInnis, M.P., from Vancouver, speaking as one of the older C.C.F. representatives, extended a warm welcome to Candidate Phillips, and then developed the theme of "The New World," its possibilities under the C.C.F. and the impossibility of the Coalition ever bringing it in.

Judging by the opinion expressed by each of the old line parties respecting the other, Mr. MacInnis said their sincerity and truth were open to doubt, and there was justifiable wonder at such enemies ever uniting for the common good.

Rather than taking the farms from the farmer, the C.C.F., he said, was assuring tenure to the original homestead, under present Saskatchewan rule.

In respect to New Zealand, with its comparable government socialistic, he showed the better position of the working man in contributing to hospitalization and social welfare.

Later Mr. MacInnis answered many questions from the audience. He found that New Zealand workers were satisfied with the services they were taxed for, and said the Government continually improved the social services.

He urged the voters to vote C.C.F., as any other vote would be against their best interests.

CRANBROOK, B. C., Oct. 22 — While the Victory Loan canvass was in full swing here today, the only report in, came from the CPR canvass, which listed 10 applications, for bonds totalling $2650. The Cranbrook CPR quota, an internal canvas, is $66,692.

Kimberley's three-day payroll blitz on the internal C. M. & S. Company canvass was launched first thing this morning. The Sullivan mine employees will be canvassed on the job, with objectives of the three levels in the mine set at $77,700, each, and the Sullivan mill objective $68,850.

PROGRAM AT CONCENTRATOR

The mill campaign started with a mass meeting this morning in the machine shop, with a program.

City Grants $300 to Rehabilitation Council; Studies Housing Proposal

City Council Monday night decided to grant $300 towards expenses of the new Rehabilitation Council formed last Wednesday and approved in principle at least the organization's suggestion that immediate steps be taken to have the Dominion Government emergency housing plan put into effect in Nelson.

Alderman T. H. Waters, Chairman of the Rehabilitation Council, which is to assist Veterans Welfare Officer G. C. Wallach and the National Selective Service in reestablishing servicemen and women, said that $900 would be required for a part time secretary and other expenses. Service clubs were being approached for contributions, and he asked if the City would donate $300. If more money was needed to make up the $900 after these appeals had been made, then the citizens would be approached.

Ald. H. H. Hiniit, also a member of the organization, said in moving that the $300 be granted, that it was highly important that an efficient Council be set up to look after every possible phase of rehabilitation.

Ald. Waters said that a 25-house program was considered necessary. On asking City Engineer H. D Dawson how his survey was progressing on building lots, he was informed that it should be completed in two or three days.

The Council was told that under the Government plan, engineers studied lot sites as a first step. Sower and water services are provided by the City and set taxation is required.

Ald. Waters emphasized the need for haste and urged that plans for projects be pushed, so that jobs could be made available for veterans.

PIMLICO SHAPING UP AS 4-HORSE TUSSLE

BALTIMORE, Oct. 22 (AP)—The Maryland Jockey Club today invited 11 thoroughbreds, cream of the American turf, to participate in the ninth running of the $25,000 Pimlico Special Nov. 17, but four of the 1945 leaders are out of training and were honored because of their past records.

Right now it looks like a four-horse battle between Mrs. P. A. B. Widener's Preakness winner, Polynesian; Calumet Farm's Armed, victor in the Washington handicap at Laurel last Saturday; and two of the season's best handicap performers—Mrs. Edward Mulrennan's First Fiddle and Mrs. E. D. Jacobs' Stymie.

Definitely out of the winner-take-all classic are Louis B. Mayer's great filly, Busher, and Thumbs Up, from the same stable; F. W. Hooper's Hoop Jr., the Kentucky Derby winner; and Greentree Stable's Devil Diver.

Incorporation of Castlegar Is Studied by Board of Trade

CASTLEGAR, B.C., Oct. 22—At the October meeting of the Castlegar Board of Trade, held last Thursday, at which 14 new members were introduced, bringing the membership roll up to 46, the outstanding matter discussed was the possibility of the incorporation of the Castlegar townsite as a municipality.

Speaking on the feasibility of this poposal, S. C. Watson said it would be necessary to bear in mind that the figures representing the assessments cover only that portion of this area which the commttee considered eligible to be included in the proposed incorporated area. Any enlargement of this area would automatically add to the assessed value of the incorporated area, and any reduction in the area outlined would of course reduce the assessed value.

SUGGESTED BOUNDARIES

The committee had taken as a proposed boundary, from the Castlegar ferry, South to the Southerly boundary of the C.P.R., thence in an Easterly and Southerly direction, using the C.P.R. track as a boundary, through to lot 18 in the Kinnaird area, which lot is now being used as a dump grounds for Castlegar, from this point back up the river to the C.P.R. bridge, then across the river to the Waldie millsite. The boundaries on the North side of the Columbia River would include the Waldie mill site and all the lots adjoining, the Nelson highway from the Brilliant school (but not including the school site), to and inclusive of Zibbin's store on the East Robson side of the Castlegar ferry.

He stated the assessed value of the land and improvements within these boundaries totalled $399,600,000. These figures were received from the Provincial Assessor at Nelson. He also mentioned that under a municipality the assessment on existing C.P.R. property would be approximately $12,000.

Mr. Watson said that the committee was in favor of calling a meeting of the rate payers to get their views on the idea of incorporation.

French Voters Back De Gaulle's Plan for New Constitution

By RELMAN MORIN

PARIS, Oct. 22 (AP)—France's first general election in nine years today placed an almost unqualified stamp of approval on Gen. de Gaulle's plans to found a fourth republic on a new constitution drafted by the people's chosen representatives.

Figures announced today by the Interior Ministry 12 hours after the closing of the polls showed Gen. de Gaulle had won an overwhelming victory in a two-pronged election which decided that:

1. A constituent assembly—designated at yesterday's election—will draft a new constitution rather than attempt to rebuild the document on the 1885 document which was the foundation of the third republic.

2. Executive power will be vested in a provisional government during the seven months the assembly sits rather than in the assembly itself.

With approximately half of the ballots counted, the first issue was carried by a margin of 10,694,197 votes to 729,409—a 96 per cent affirmative majority, according to the official figures.

For establishment of an interim government, the vote so far was 7,445,129 to 3,660,441 against—a 65 per cent majority.

The question of writing a new constitution was supported by all political parties, but the Communists—aided by the radical Socialists—had opposed Gen. de Gaulle on the interim government issue.

The election, which saw voters queue up at the polls in record-breaking numbers, witnessed the emergence of the resistance-born popular Republican movement (MRP) as a potent factor in French politics. Socialistically inclined, the MRP is headed by Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, who is considered close to Gen. de Gaulle.

Official figures based on complete returned from 39 of France's 90 departments gave the MRP 134 seats the assembly, which will have 522 members from France and 64 from the colonies.

Two branches of the Socialists coalesced into a single group and also clinched 134 seats.

The Communists—before the election considered the dominant political group—were assured of 13 seats.

Gen. de Gaulle won electoral endorsement all down the line. Sixteen of his present "council of ministers" sought to election to the assembly and 15 were victorious. Only Rene Mayer, his Minister of Transportation, was defeated.

Gen. de Gaulle himself and four other ministers did not seek election to assembly posts.

Government statistics indicated between 20,000,000 and 25,000,000 persons voted in the national elections—the first in which women were eligible.

Rene Pleven, Minister of Finance and National Economy who is regarded as Gen. de Gaulle's "heir apparent", won election to the assembly by a narrow margin.

Felix Gouin, President of the consultative assembly which has acted as adviser to the de Gaulle government, also won election to the assembly from Marseille. Among the big name casualties was former Premier Daladier.

Accused Says He Was in Church at Time of Shooting

LUENEBURG, Germany, Oct. 22 (CP)—Otto Kulessa, Prussian defendant in the Belsen war crimes trial accused of shooting prisoners at the concentration camp, testified today "I was in church" at the time.

Kulessa told the British military court that the shootings of April 2 of which he was accused were impossible for "at that time I was attending Easter church services at Nordhausen"—at a concentration camp several hundred miles from Belsen.

The trial entered its sixth week today, and there was some prospect the procedure might be quickened so the cases could be ended within another two weeks. Thus far only 16 of the 45 defendants have testified.

Laughter rippled through the court at Kulessa's replies to allegations that he shot one man and killed another with an iron bar.

"It was never a habit of mine to shoot unarmed prisoners," he said. "I'd never dream of hitting anyone with an iron bar!"

Salmo Valley Told Choice Is Hart or Winch

At meetings held Friday at Sheep Creek and Salmo, on behalf of Frank Putnam, Coalition candidate for Nelson-Creston, Mr. Putnam spoke of the perils of the war years, and of the policy of the Government in giving every possible support to the Dominion administration in its war effort.

He outlined some of the achievements of the Coalition in giving greater assistance to those in need, such as mothers and orphans, and the aged; of the changes made in the Compensation Act, and of the plans for the post-war period formulated by the Government, for which large sums of money were accumulated during the war years. He pledged that he would give every assistance in securing improvements to the highways, and stated he was very optimistic over the prospect of a large road program in the riding.

Dealing at some length with the obligations of citizenship, and stressing the need for straight, sane thinking on the part of the electorate, Mr. Putnam called on every voter to study the issues of the election and then cast his ballot for the man he deemed most fitted to represent the district. Stating that no socialist government has ever been voted from office by the ballot, the ouster of such administrations requiring revolt to remove them, he told his audience that while many would say that it could not happen in Canada, he was convinced that unless the people woke up and took a greater interest in the affairs of the Province, such a state of affairs was a distinct possibility.

A 50-YEAR DEAL

The Dominion-Provincial conference to be convened in Ottawa next month would likely change the entire financial relationship between the governments in Canada, and he asked the people to consider their representation at that historic meeting. Stating that the choice would be John Hart or Harold Winch, he asked those present to compare the experience and ability of the two men, and decide which was most fitted to make a deal for British Columbia, the results of which could be with the public probably for the next 50 years.

Mr. Putnam urged that everyone present vote on election day, and see that all those entitled to the vote exercised that privilege, in order that British Columbia would have a Government truly representing the will of the people.

Both meetings were attended. O. G. Macintyre was chairman at Sheep Creek, and C. H. Scribner presided at the Salmo meeting.

World's Need More Disciples, States Forbes

At St. Paul's United Church Sunday morning the minister, Rev. H. Stewart Forbes, read a letter from the heads of four Churches, the Church of England in Canada, the Presbyterian Church in Canada, the Baptist Federation of Canada, and the United Church of Canada, urging observance of Sunday as Victory Loan Sunday, in support of the Ninth Victory Loan.

The subject of the sermon was "Christ or Another," and was a reply to an article in a recent number of the Toronto Saturday Night, written by Shaw Desmond, and entitled, "World Needs New Great Teacher of Religion."

That the world needed a new great teacher John the Baptist thought when he asked "Art thou he that should come, or do we look for another?" So thought the disciples after the Crucifixion, said Mr. Forbes. But the third day Jesus rose again and everything was changed. This was proof that He was true, and His words concerning Himself were true.

DEITY IDEA STAGGERING

After Pentecost the Spirit-filled Church began to do much thinking about Christ, and the intellectual explanation of the faith of the Church did not stop short of predicting absolute deity to a historic person. "It is a staggering proposition, and one that the Church has constantly affirmed, and the world has consistantly denied," Mr. Forbes said.

This manifestation of Himself, Christ had revealed only to those who were willing to obey His Divine will, and this ultimately rested on love for Himself. It was natural that the person in whose heart the love of God awakened no echo could hardly receive the truth of Christ.

What the world needed today was not a "new great teacher of religion," said the preacher, but a multitude of men and women to whom Christ could reveal Himself as Lord and Savior, and who in turn would go and tell what they had seen.

The music was by the Girls' Choir conducted by Mrs. A. T. Bradshaw, with Mrs. T. J. S. Ferguson at the organ.

Today Likely to Be Last Day of Clothing Drive

"Unless several donations come in there is no doubt that everything will be packed early Tuesday afternoon," Mrs. T. W. Brewer, Chairman of the Clothing for Europe Committee reported Monday night. "There were only two visitors to the Armory Monday, which shows that all wishing to donate have brought their contributions in within the first record time," she said.

Clothing packed Monday included 274 men's articles; 701 women's articles; 542 children's articles; 219 infants' articles; 13 blankets, 92 coats and one feather bed.

This gave a total of 1842 articles packed for the day and brought the total to date to 24,365 articles.

Putnam Stresses Irrigation on Weekend Tour

CRESTON, B.C., Oct. 22.—Frank Putnam, Coalition candidate, on the homeward stretch of an active campaign tour, at the weekend held large meetings at Kootenay Lake points, and tonight told a good Camp Lister audience, that the object of the Coalition Government was to make British Columbia a better place to live in."

At these meetings Mr. Putnam pointed out the progressive legislation passed by the Coalition Government during its term of office, all benefitting the citizens of British Columbia.

Locally he would strive for an over-all survey of Creston Valley for irrigation purposes, because he felt that successful farming depended on water.

Tuesday night Mr. Putnam will speak at Wynndel, and Wednesday night his campaign will conclude with a meeting at Canyon.

To the Electors of British Columbia

During its four-year term of office, the Coalition Government has given a record of achievement which it believes to be unsurpassed in the history of this Province

Our policies for the future involve the expenditure of vast sums of money Upon those policies rests the development of our great natural resources, the opening up of new areas, the creation of great reservoirs of electrical power for industrial expansion and rural electrification; the raising of our standards of living and social security; the further improvement in our educational facilities; and the stimulating of greater activity and development in our four basic industries.

The issue of this campaign is clear-cut.

You are asked to choose between an experiment in socialism with untried and inexperienced leaders, or a government that has given you sound business administration with forward-looking measures, and which now offers a programme of far-reaching importance to the people.

Premier.

Webster Promises Press for Arrow Lakes Road, Bridge, Home for Aged

CASTLEGAR, B.C. — A public meeting was held in the Castlegar Parish Hall by the Coalition candidate, J. L. Webster. Other speakers were T. Bloomer, I. P. Patton, D. McDonald and W. Scribbens.

Mr. Vickers, chairman, explained the formation of the Coalition Government. He introduced Mr. Bloomer as one of Castlegar's oldest citizens.

Mr. Bloomer stated that he was the oldest member of labor movements, serving 50 years with a railroad union. Railroad unions did not support any party, he said, members voting for candidates of their liking.

"Mr. Winch claims to be representing labor but he does not represent me," was Mr. Bloomer's emphatic statement.

Mr. Patton quoted a number of articles dealing with the success of the Manitoba Coalition Government. The "form of dictatorship" the people of New Zealand have to undergo was outlined.

Mr. McDonald stated that the Coalition was not carrying on to defeat the C.C.F. but because it was a good form of government.

The C.C.F. claimed to be supported by labor unions but if elected labor unions would not be able to operate under a Socialism Government.

Mr. McDonald quoted a part from a book by Cole "that once in power, the opposition should be destroyed, constitutionally or unconstitutionally." Democratic system would be lost if the C.C.F. attained power, the speaker asserted.

British Columbia had $16,000,000 in its treasury, the finest financial position in any province. Times would not return to the thirties because if they did there would be a revolution and the C.C.F. or other Leftist party would take over.

Mr. Webster told the audience to elect a man to bring something back to them, not a man to tell the people what goes on. The Coalition Government was putting foward a plan to spend $210,000,000 on highways. Roads would be built by real machinery through hills and cliffs and not around them as was done by using wheelbarrows.

A road should be built up the Arrow Lakes to open up new business and tourist camp sites. A bridge will definitely have to be built. Hospital facilities will have to be improved. There was enough lumber here to start a pulp mill. A home for old persons in this district would keep all the friends and relatives together. These were points Mr. Webster planned to press for if elected.

The last speaker was W. Scribbens of Vancouver. He was with labor organizations for 40 years. Mr. Scribbens saw no comparison between the C.C.F. and the Labor Government in England.

During the period when the coast of British Columbia was under the threat of attack by the Japanese, there was a great need for uniting all parties to support a better defence of the country. The C.C.F. was scared to enter the Coalition because it was incapable of performing the duties required. Mr. Scribbens said that the fight in this district was between the proven and capable government and the revolutionary socialists. The criticism of the C.C.F. that the Government was not prepared for post-war period, he said was false. The housing shortage was not a queston of finance but the availability of men and materials. Canada's standard of living was second highest in the world.

Bank Debits Up 7 Per Cent

OTTAWA, Oct. 22 (CP)—Bank debits from individual accounts in major business centres amounted to $8,157,000,000 in September of this year compared with $4,819,000,000 in the corresponding month a year ago, an increase of 7 per cent, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today.

In the nine months ended in September, debits totalled $47,970,000,000 compared with $44,011,000,000 in the corresponding period of 1944, an increase of 9 per cent.

Increases were shown in each of the five economic areas for September, except the Prairie Provinces.

Bank debits are an important index of the business activity since they show the volume of checks issued against current and savings accounts.

Launches C.P.R. Drive in Canada Wide Radio Talk

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 22 — Support of the Ninth Victory Loan rampaign is a matter of self interest to everyone, in that it assures the individual of his own prosperity which is interwoven with that of his neighbor, W. M. Neal, CB, the Vice-President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, told a cross-country audience of more than 80,000 employees of the C.P.R., as he inaugurated the Company's loan drive in an address from here today.

His address launched the campaign among Canadian Pacific personnel to obtain a minimum objective in the Dominion's Ninth Loan drive for $1,500,000,000 of 12 per cent of the annual payroll. He spoke from the CBC studios here to staffs in the offices and shops from Sydney and Halifax in the East to Victoria and Nanaimo in the West over a special 7500 mile circuit arranged by the Company's Communications Department.

Even the winners must pay the piper when peoples go to war, no matter how just their cause, Mr. Neal stated, as he listed as reasons of primary importance for support of the loan the matter of personal thrift and the necessity of maintaining Canada's position as a sovereign nation in the post war world of trade and peace. "I know of no sounder means whereby to protect our personal futures than by purchase of Victory Bonds," he said.

The Election Thursday

Its record of policy and administration has caused the Hart-Maitland Coalition to be generally accepted, even by the opposition, as the best government that British Columbia has had.

The statement has been made so often, and it has been endorsed by C.C.F. members in the Legislature, that it has come to be a commonplace, something to be taken for granted. Yet we should remember the fact when we come to mark our ballots on Thursday.

The policy of the Coalition for the immediate future is the most progressive and far-sighted, and at the same time practical, that British Columbia has ever been offered.

The opposition, in which the C.C.F. takes the lead, proposes various forms of Socialism. The C.C.F. leader is an extreme Socialist, though toned down superficially during this election campaign, because of the public reaction aroused by his earlier demands for the socialization of all the means of life, and threats of dictatorial methods of enforcement—"they showed the way in Russia"; "we must have revolutionary discipline". Much as we might disagree with Mr. Winch, we liked him rather better when he expressed his views frankly. We knew where we stood; we knew definitely what we might be voting for.

The Coalition's immense advances in social and security legislation and administration; its program to expand enormously our educational facilities, especially in rural areas, while at the same time reducing the tax on the individual; its power development plans; its projects for standardization and surfacing of highways, have left the C.C.F. in a weak position, while the fluctuations in C.C.F. policies in attempts to avoid public disfavor, have caused serious divisions in its ranks.

That the C.C.F. should criticize the government is not only proper but essential to our system of government. To be critical is the function of an opposition, of no matter what party, though there is paradox in the fact that the most bitter critics of the Coalition are proponents, and deeply sincere proponents, of the extreme Socialism which would lead to one-party dictatorship and the type of police government which all democrats fear.

If, in this election, the line that the opposition has followed has seemed weak, if much of it has been devoted to trivialities, if some of it has seemed fantastic, if it has emphasized subjects beyond provincial control — such as housing and the layoff of war workers at the Coast—it is due to the circumstances that the Coalition has done such good work and offers a program of such general excellence. There is no valid comparison between the situation in British Columbia and that which existed, for example, in Saskatchewan where the people had reasons to be fed up with the former administration.

The result of this election will have tremendous influence on British Columbia's future. We can put into effect the program of development that the Coalition offers us, or we can indulge in a welter of socialistic experiments.

Our provincial revenue and credit are such that it is practical for the Coalition to carry into effect the great advances in education, in social services, in power development and distribution and in highway construction which it proposes.

What would happen under Socialism is not to be lightly regarded. No government program on the scale which British Columbia requires if it is to keep its ever growing population profitably employed can be carried out unless our present good credit is maintained. We cannot use that credit twice over.

What would happen to our highway program if provincial credit were loaded with huge government investments in great industries by the process of borrowing hundreds of millions to replace private capital?

We might trifle with the thought, for example, of the transfer of the West Kootenay Power & Light Company, and the smelter to which power at present minimum cost rates is essential, from private to political management, from private investment to a charge against the credit of the province, but would it be for the people a a profitable substitute for using the same amount of provincial credit to back bond issues for the construction of a modern system of highways in East and West Kootenay and Boundary?

That is what, quite apart from what we know of the relative proficiency of private and political management and the probable effect on ultimate power costs and the ability of the smelter to meet world prices for metals, is what it boils down to. Our credit will permit us to borrow ample sums for highway construction, but outside investors will not put up money for highway construction linked with vast government investments in socialistic experiments in industry.

Two Loans in One

This Ninth Victory Loan is really two loans in one.

Instead of a loan each six months, there will not be another for a year.

Hence, the subscriber who makes monthly payment can buy twice as much with the same instalment out of income.

To meet the increased quotas larger individual subscriptions will be necessary. But that is all to the gain in future security for the individual. His reserve in interest-paying Victory Bonds will be that much greater.

Press Comment

UNIFORMITY NEEDED

Evenly distributed and wisely administered, the tax burden of the Canadian people can be carried. But unless there is agreement between the Dominion and the Provinces we will merge from the war into a taxation jungle. The Dominion will be frustrated and bedeviled in its taxing program by contradictory policies in the Provinces. The effect of double, triple and quadruple taxation upon the public mind would spell disaster for this country. It is not difficult to imagine the violent bickering which would take place between various economic and regional interests in an effort to shift tax loads, and the strife which would develop between Province and Province and between Dominion and Province.—Winnipeg Free Press.

Curious, Nelson — When did the Germans invade Poland?

The Germans invaded Poland on September 1, 1939.

J. R. S., Trail—Why are racing cups called loving cups?

All racing cups are not necessarily loving cups. A loving cup is one having two or more handles, generally constructed of silver. The custom of the loving cup is traced back to the days of wassailing. It was continued after the introduction of Christianity. The monks called the wassail bowl the "poculum caritatis" meaning loving cup. The ceremony of drinking from one cup and passing it around was observed in the Jewish paschal supper.

Collecting Truck Was Ahead of Schedule, So Miscue at Robson

To the Editor:

Sir—It was stated that when the truck was collecting produce for the Hospital, only one box of apples came from Robson.

I believe the card announcing the collection gave 9 a.m. as the time it would be made. The driver of the truck, no doubt actuated by that inspiring saying, "It's the early bird that catches the worm," (no reference to Codling Moth intended), sped along the mist-shrouded highway, arriving in Robson I believe between 8:20 and 8:30 a.m. At that time a number of residents had got put their produce out, although some did later, not knowing the truck had come and gone.

We realize the value of Nelson Hospital to the surrounding district, and we are sorry that, at least in this case, plans seem to have miscarried.

If Bottom to Fall Out the Sooner the Better, Says Erickson Voter

To the Editor:

Sir—A few days ago we read in your columns that the Nelson-Creston Progressive Conservative Association was backing the Coalition candidate in this district. It would be of interest to the electors just who they are and what weight they carry. We do know there is one man in Nelson who belongs and twice that many in the Creston Valley who are the party here.

And Mr. Garland informed us at the Coalition meeting held in Creston last evening that Nelson was planning on rolling up a majority of 600 in that city. We have no idea of the plans of the party in Creston, but we do recall that Mr. Putnam did receive about 20 votes above one-third of the votes polled four years ago, and with the thousands of new voters now on the list we doubt if he will do any better next Thursday.

Much has been said as to what will happen to B. C. if Winch and his gang gets into power. The same was said about Douglas of Saskatchewan. Nothing unusual has happened in that province during the past year. So what?

If the bottom of things is about to fall out, let us pray the sooner the better in order to secure a new bottom that will serve all mankind. And if the C.C.F. can get us to the bottom quicker than the Coalition, then in the name of God let us vote for a soldier boy who will help to save us again. Let us bust the machine as was accomplished in Saskatchewan. A Winch born in England is just as safe as a leader as a Hart from South Ireland!

Erickson, B. C. A Longtime Tory.

Today's Horoscope

If today is your birthday, you should cultivate your talent for music. You are a good planner, though not always practical in execution. You are generous, loving, and seldom depressed. You have many friends. You are devoted to your mate and unselfish in your love. The best thing to do in any adverse situation that arises today is to remove yourself from it to a spot as far away as possible. Do not join any group that seems to be in a belligerent mood.

MONDAY'S HOROSCOPE

Moderation, a firm will, resourcefulness and a quiet, homely humor are your most dominant traits if today is your birthday. You get along well with many types of people. You are diplomatic, kind and even-tempered. You will enjoy a happy married life. Planetary aspects may seem to put you under restraint today. Should this be the case, cooperate with all, and just do the best the circumstances permit. However, whatever you do, no not apologize for an error that you have not committed.

Etiquette Hints

As a general thing it is not good manners to drink with your mouth full. If, however, you take a bite of food which is so hot it scalds your mouth, it is permissible to take a drink of water to cool the food.

Must Understand Soviet to Have Peace, Herridge Says at Castlegar

CASTLEGAR, B.C. — People's C.C.F. supporters gathered at the Coronation Hall Friday to hear candidate William Cunningham outline his policies.

Chairman Hasold Van Oene explained that the People's C.C.F. club planned a meeting with the official C.C.F. members to reach some common agreement in uniting their forces. The meeting failed to materialize because no official C.C.F. members turned up.

He stressed the point that the People's C.C.F. movement was not to wreck the C.C.F. party in the Kootenay ridngs but to carry on the democratic prnciple of parties in nominating their candidates.

Mr. Cunningham stated that though he was not very familiar with politics he did know the problems of the laborers in this district. He was active in trade unions since he came to this country and had been among the first members of the C.C.F. club in Rossland. He was also an active member of the Cooperative Transportation Society and served as director.

Mr. Cunningham defined the word "politics" as the science of governments and pointed out that people should take greater interest to know what they were voting for.

He outlined the People's C.C.F. policies. One of these was higher pensions.

The next speaker was H. W. Herridge, M.P., who came here for a week to support the campaign of Mr. Cunningham and P. S. Beatt in the Nelson-Creston riding.

He explained that had he not come, the people would have felt neglected and he felt it was his duty to be here as it was to be in Ottawa. He was not the only one taking time out for elections because there were members from all parties doing the same thing.

In voting for the government the people desired, they must view the problems in three ways, internationally, nationally and provincially.

MUST UNDERSTAND SOVIET

He stated that certain factions were working against the Soviet Union which could result in World War III.

"We must understand the Soviet Union to have peace."

Canada brought the other two big powers, Great Britain and United States closer together, also served as an important step from United States to the Soviet Union due to her geographical position. To stress the understanding the Canadian people must have with those of Russia, Mr. Herridge quoted a part of the speech made by D. Wilgress, Canadian ambassador to the Soviet Union at a celebration held in Toronto.

Before Canada could have a good Socialistic Government each province must be socialized, he said. When thinking provincially, the people must all share part in the administration. The C.C.F. planned to decentralize the government so that this could be possible.

DISTRICT OFFERS MUCH

If the C.C.F. Government was elected in B.C., it would only take over those industries that are under their jurisdiction and that have a steady market.

Mr. Herridge said that this district offers the finest opportunities for cooperation in Canada. There were trade unions, farmers institutes, coops and many other movements that could unite to solve the problems of the district.

REROUTE TRAFFIC

During question period a member from the audience asked about the possibilities of a bridge in Castlegar. Mr. Herridge replied that when he was provincial member he had a conference with Hon. H. Anscomb, Minister of Public Works. The Government's idea was to build a better road through Fruitvale and Salmo so that traffic between Trail and Nelson may be rerouted along that road to lessen the flow on the ferry. Steel is in high demand in Europe and there will be none available for a number of years.

The M.P. also mentioned that a commission was studying the Columbia River with the idea of putting in a storage dam. A highway could be built on top of this. The report by the commission would not be available for three or four years, he said.

Mr. Cunningham assured the audience that he will keep that question in the front continuously if elected.

WHITBY, Yorkshire, England — (CP) — Whitby aand Scottish herring fishermen agreed when prices fall below $14.40 a cran, all of the day's catch will be paid for on the basis of pool average. Should all herring reach the maximum price of $22.80, the ditribution will be on an allocationo basis.

MIRACLES of MAKE-DO

There will not be enough textiles in Canada for many months to come. That is a blunt, uncompromising statement, but it is a fact.

Conservation is the answer. More than ever, the need is to conserve, to take care of what there is, to mend, make-over and make-do.

Thousands of thrifty, fashion-wise Canadian women have already discovered the thrill of designing new clothes from old. This autumn, thousands more are taking the "Make-do Road". Here are four practical, tested ways of styling new and fashionable clothing from an outgrown or out-moded ladies' coat. Patterns are available at the stores.

THIS ADVERTISEMENT IS the third in a series published to assist Canadian women to conserve textiles. For complete information write to Consumer Branch, Wartime Prices and Trade Board, Ottawa, for your copy of "Miracles of Make-do".

TODAY'S MENDING HINT

When buttonholes are stretched and frayed, pick out all worn and ragged stitches, being careful not to pull the hole out of shape as you rip the old stitching. Join new stitching with old, carefully, so that it won't show where the repair is made.

If the entire buttonhole has to be reworked, work buttonhole stitching over gimp or several strands of thread twisted together and waxed.

Market Trends . . .

NEW YORK—Light selling stalled some stock market leaders although many individual favorites exhibited quiet strength.

MONTREAL — Dealings were steady to irregular in trading on the stock exchange and curb market. Volume was light as interest of investors turned to the Victory Loan.

TORONTO—Opening of the Victory Loan campaign had little effect on the demand for stocks, especially the cheaper mining issues, on the exchange and the market closed with prices showing a narrow margin over losses.

VANCOUVER—A total of 104,338 shares was sold on the stock exchange. Of this number Privateer sold 15,210 shares at 54½ cents, up 4½.

CHICAGO—Grain futures continued a rally that began Saturday, with all grains except corn climbing well over a cent a bushel at times.

Wheat led the upturn, stimulated by buying which was believed hedge removals against Government purchase of 1,775,000 bushels of cash wheat at Minneapolis Saturday. Firmness in cotton also influenced prices.

Wheat closed ½ to 1½ cent higher, corn was up ¼ to ½, oats were ahead ¾ to up 1¼ cent, rye was ⅞ up to ⅛ down, barley was ¾ to 1½ cent higher.

Cash grain: Wheat: No. 2 red 1.79. No corn sales. Oats: No. 2 white 66½. Barley, nominal; malting 1.21-1.39½; feed 1.06-1.23¼.

LONDON— Pending introduction tomorrow of Britain's interim budget, the stock market remained quietly firm.

WINNIPEG—A brisk rally in the last half of a moderately active session on the grain exchange upped rye futures from 1¼-2⅜ cents. Buying by commission houses, locals and for American account found offerings light. Firmness at Chicago aided the local market.

At the close Oct. $1.69⅛B; Dec. $1.68B; May $1.67⅛-⅜; July $1.61¾B.

Higginson Sentenced to 14 Years

VANCOUVER, Oct. 22 (CP). — George Randall Higginson, 44, former Vancouver serviceman, was sentenced in British Columbia Supreme Court today to 14 years in penitentiary following his conviction last week of manslaughter in connection with the death of a 4-month-old baby boy.

Reports Murder Charge Against Youth Expected

VANCOUVER, Oct. 22 (CP). — The Vancouver Sun in a newspage story today says that "a charge of murder is expected to be laid against the 12-year-old schoolboy held in the Juvenile Detention Home in connection with the death of Dianne Blunt, four, the girl whose body was found buried in a Vancouver garage."

The Sun said reports of studies by two psychiatrists have not yet been released "but the Sun understands they warrant the boy being regarded as sane and therefore fit to understand the nature of a trial and fit to stand trial in Juvenile Court on a charge of murder."

Hart Announces Power Commission Plans . . .

To Study Electrification for Windermere; Enlarge Nakusp Area Services; Buy W. K. P. & L. Power

VICTORIA, Oct. 22 (CP).—The British Columbia Power Commission plans to take over eight more utility companies to rehabilitate the plants and extend the services, Premier John Hart said tonight.

Speaking over a provincial radio network, Mr. Hart said the Commission would conduct six major investigations affecting power development and rural electrification projects.

The Commission had already taken over 18 power plants and distribution systems and had embarked on its first big power development plan, he said, it was giving attention to developing huge power resources of the Chilcotin and Fraser Rivers.

He announced that the Commission plans to take over the Ladysmith, Courtenay and Lytton electric firms, and said:

1. For the Courtenay-Comox Districts it is planned to supply power for distribution either by the Municipality of Courtenay or by the Commission.

2. For Ladysmith the Commission will supply power for distribution by the Municipality or the Commission.

3. The Commission proposes to take over the Lytton Electric Light Co. Ltd and develop new sources of power.

4. At Lillooet the Commission is investigating a plan to extend the hydro plant owned and operated by the P.G.E Railway.

5. Several other projects of major importance are being investigated in the Lillooet-Lytton area.

6. The Commission is studying the request of Westview, adjacent to the Powell River Co. Ltd., to provide more power.

7 Plants are being enlarged and services extended in the Columbia Power Company areas at Williams Lake.

8. The plant of the Quesnel Light & Water Co. Ltd., acquired by the Commission, will be expanded and the services extended into rural areas.

9. Surveys will be conducted without delay and appropriate steps taken to bring electrical facilities to the residents of Burns Lake, Hazelton and adjacent rural areas in the region of Quesnel, Williams Lake, Vanderhoof and Smithers.

10. Facilities will be extended at Terrace where a small electrical plant has been taken over and temporary remedial measures adopted pending a permanent development.

PLAN STUDY IN WINDERMERE

11. Acquisition of existing plants and distribution services is being considered for Dawson Creek and Pouce Coupe in the Peace River District.

12. The Commission plans to extend and improve services to rural areas at Golden, where the generating and distribution plant of the Columbia Power Co. Ltd., has been acquired.

13. Lake Windermere area is to be studied and recommendations submitted on rural electrification proposals affecting that area.

14. At Nakusp, the property of the Columbia Power Co. Ltd., also acquired by the Commission, will be enlarged so that services may be extended to rural areas.

15. It is proposed to act without delay on the Commission's recommendations for the Revelstoke area where the city is short of power.

W. K. P. & L. POWER FOR OKANAGAN

16. The request of Peachland that that area be included in the Commission's undertakings to tie its services up with those of the West Canadian Hydro-Electric Corp. Ltd., including the Shuswap hydro generating plant and distribution systems in Vernon, Enderby, Armstrong, Salmon Arm, Sicamous, Coldstream and Oyama, which the Commission has acquired, is being investigated.

17. It is proposed to acquire the Princeton Power & Light Company property and purchase power from the West Kootenay Power & Light Company and proceed with plans for rural electrification affecting more than 1000 potential rural consumers in the Okanagan.

12. Other projects are being studied for the region of Hope where the Commission had acquired Hope Utilities.

19. Services have been extended and a new unit installed at Sechelt where the electrical property of the Columbia Power Co. Ltd., has been acquired.

The Premier said surveyors were engaged in laying out the plans for the power site, water pipe lines and storage basin for the Commission's project at Campbell River.

SEEK TO LOWER COST

"These major projects are receiving attention but in the meantime the Coalition Government has set in motion the program to electrify the province throughout its length and breadth as quickly as possible," he said.

"The Government seeks to lower rates by eliminating from charges to consumers the profits and corporation taxes which now form part of the basic rate structure of private companies."

The immediate postwar public works program totals $30,000,000 not including $20,000,000 for proposed power development.
