Explosions Rock Skyscraper

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP)—A series of basement explosions rocked the area around the huge, 70-storey Radio Corporation of America building in New York's Rockefeller Center tonight and the first, unofficial word from the scene was that the trouble centred in an electrical transformer, with no one injured.

Black, oily smoke billowed up through sidewalk vents.

The first blast occured around 10:40 p.m. and after a few minutes a lesser series of explosions took place.

Lesser explosions occurred as long as 25 minutes after the initial blast, and firemen were unable to get at the focal point of the difficulty immediately because of the heavy pall of smoke.

Building lights and elevator service were not affected in any way.

There were few people on the sidewalk around the building at the time.

The trouble apparently did not affect radio programs emanating from studios in the building.

Police lines were formed to keep passersby away from the area.

L. S. Herrick, building superintendent, said that the explosions evidently were caused by oil in lubrication compartments of a huge transformer which occupies a space nearly one-half block long and 10 feet wide beneath the sidewalk paralleling the building.

Later, officials of the National Broadcasting Company and American Broadcasting Company, which have studios in the building, said they would not have to go off the air in any event as they had their own power systems which could be used if necessary.

TO CREATE NEW GOV'T DEPARTMENT

Would Work Out Program for Natural Resources

HOWE TO HEAD

OTTAWA, Oct. 31 (CP) — The speech from the Throne opening the new session of Parliament Dec. 5 will forecast plans for the creation of a new Department of Government to replace the Reconstruction Department which now is completing its activities, The Canadian Press learned authoritatively tonight.

A Cabinet source said that for some time there was some argument as to what jurisdiction the new department should have. It finally was decided that the department would take over some of the duties of the Mines and Resources Department and some of the functions of the Trade and Commerce Department.

Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe, now Minister of Reconstruction and Supply, would take over the new department, said the source. Main job of the department would be to work out a long-term program for the development of Canada's natural resources.

The resources development program would be one of the steps planned by the Government to solve the American dollar shortage problem.

Particular attention would be given to making Canada more self-sufficient in the way of iron and steel. Efforts would be made to curtail waste in industry as far as natural resources is concerned. Attempts would be made as well to encourage the manufacture of Canadian products from wholly Canadian goods.

The source said that while efforts would be made to have most expansion projects sponsored by Canadian capital some attempt would be made to attract American capital here in the way of plants and equipment.

To back up his arguments he pointed to the speech in Montreal Thursday by Finance Minister Abbott who said that the branches of American firms in Canada should try to specialize their products in order to be able to sell them on American markets.

Confesses He Slew Rancher

DETROIT, Oct. 31 (CP) — A former Marquette Prison lifer today admitted the slaying of George Stanley Spaul, retired Canadian wheat rancher, according to homicide inspector George Branton.

The ex-convict, William H. Stewart, 46, was arrested in Sault Ste. Marie and brought here early today.

Detective Sgt. John Cotter of the homicide squad said Stewart was sentenced to life in 1938 as an habitual criminal and was released from prison two years ago.

Branton quoted Stewart as saying he hitched a ride with Spaul, who was enroute to relatives in Michigan after selling his property at Saskatchewan.

He rode with the crippled farmer from Mackinaw City to near Port Huron for two days.

Then, Branton said, Stewart shot and killed Spaul, robbed him of $34 and dumped his body from the car. It was discovered near Port Huron Aug. 27 and buried in a potter's field when it could not be identified.

It was identified last week after Spaul's car was found on a Detroit street where it had stood unnoticed for weeks.

POSSIBLE NEW DRUG FOR CERTAIN DISEASES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (AP)— A "chloromycetin," a possible new drug weapon against certain serious diseases, including epidemic typhus and Rocky Mountain Spotted fever, has been developed from a soil-dwelling organism.

Two United States Army researchers reported that the substance has demonstrated a "remarkable" effect, experimentally, against some of the germs against which streptomycin and penicillin had little or no combative power.

The researchers described experimental studies with chick embryos or mice in which the drug proved effective in combatting infections of epidemic typhus, scrub typhus, Rocky Mountain Spotted fever, Murine typhus, "Rickettsial Pox." and one virus infection—Parrot fever."

MURDER CHARGE FILED IN TACOMA AXE-SLAYING

TACOMA, Oct. 31 (AP) — First degree murder charges were filed today against Jake Bird, 45, confessed axe-slayed of a woman and her daughter here early yesterday, as Tacoma police received a flood of requests that he be questioned regarding similar crimes at widely scattered points in the United States.

The charge filed by Deputy Prosecutor Earl D. Mann accuses Bird of the bludgeon death of Mrs. Bertha Kludt, 53, the mother. No mention was made of the daughter, Beverly June, 17.

CANADA TO DISCLOSE POLISH TREASURE STORY

OTTAWA, Oct. 31 (CP) — The Canadian Government shortly will disclose the whole story of the disappearing Polish national treasures, an External Affairs Department official said today.

An account detailing developments in the year-long squabble over the "priceless" works of art between Polish factions is in preparation by the department and is to be released in the next few days.

That was as far as the department would go today in commenting on a report from New York quoting Dr. Tadeuszzebrowski, Polish official, as saying the Canadian Government was "hesitating" in acting on a request from Poland that the case be turned over to the RCMP.

Says Russia Muzzling Small Powers

TORONTO, Oct. 31 (CP)—Russia's unwillingness to allow the smaller nations a voice in settlement of world affairs is one of the chief stumbling blocks in session of the United Nations, said Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent, Secretary for External Affairs, in an address today to the Bench and Bar at Osgoode Hall's 150th anniversary of the Law Society of Upper Canada.

Mr. St. Laurent, Chairman of the Canadian delegation to the U.N. Assembly, said: "From the very outset Mr. Stalin seems to have had grave misgivings about the wisdom of allowing us little fellows to have anything to do about the settlement of world affairs. During the war rapid and concerted action was necessary and a pattern was set of international conferences of Mr. Stalin, Mr. Churchill and Mr. Roosevelt. All important decisions were made by them, and it must have appeared to Mr. Stalin that this was the proper course to follow."

He had stated in New York recently that if the great powers' veto privilege continued to be abused, it might well destroy the United Nations.

Mr. St. Laurent said it now was perfectly clear that the Soviet Union wished to see what it calls capitalistic regimes destroyed, and Communist totalitarianism established everywhere.

UNION BLOCKS BROADCAST OF SCHOOL BAND

TORONTO, Oct. 31 (CP) — The Toronto Secondary Schools Band played today at Education Week ceremonies at City Hall but its music was not broadcast—because of a ruling by a musicians' union.

Walter Murdock, President of the Toronto Musical Protective Association, said in a letter to a Board of Education official that the musicians "regret we cannot consent to the band being broadcast on this occasion."

Dr. C. C. Goldring, Municipal Director of Education, to whom the letter was addressed, declined immediate comment but said he would have "plenty" to say later.

NEW DELHI, Oct. 31 (Reuters)—Indian Army Sappers and Engineers using Bailey bridges today were working to build a mountain road from the East Punjab into Jammu, Southernmost district of Kashmir, along which armored forces were already reported moving to aid in fighting off raiding tribesmen.

The raiders, who have broken out of the mountain passes into the Valley of Kashmir, were reported to have sent a column South over a precipitous mountain pass to attack Gulmarg, famous Kashmire mountain palace belonging to Sir Hari Singh, the Maharajah.

PUSH ICE CRACKS DOWN ON BOOKIES

Sweepstake Receipts Headed for Ticket Buyers Are Seized

PUSH DRIVE

OTTAWA, Oct. 31 (CP) — Sweepstakes bookies better head for cover — the Post Office Department has started a drive to run them out of the mail.

*W. J. Turnbull, Deputy Post*master General, said today that postal authorities across Canada had seized between 13,000 and 14,000 receipts headed for purchasers of tickets on the Cambridgeshire Handicap Sweepstake which Wednesday brought fortunes to some Canadians. He warned that persons persisting in selling lottery tickets via the royal mail would have their mail stopped.

Commenting on a report from Toronto that several persons there had failed to receive receipts from his last Irish sweepstake, Mr. Turnbull declared that seizures would be "intensified" until use of the mails for these purposes was stopped.

"The use of the post office for lotteries is illegal and has been for years," he said. "During the war there was no trouble as there were no lotteries, but now it's starting all over again . . . and if we find receipts for tickets in the mail we seize them."

No action is being taken against the individual buying a ticket, but it's the person who sells them the Post Office Department is after.

"If he persists in selling them then his name is placed on the mailing prohibited list until he satisfies us that he is no longer in the business," said Mr. Turnbull.

Increase Gas, Petroleum Product Prices

TORONTO, Oct. 31 (CP) — Wholesale price increases in gasoline and other petroleum products including kerosene, tractor distillate, stove oil and other fuel oils and asphalts, effective immediately, were announced today by Imperial Oil Ltd.

The price changes range on the average from 7-10 to 1½ cents for gasoline and kerosene; 7-10 to 1 cent for tractor distillate; 1¼ to 1½ cents for stove oil; ½ to 1½ cents for furnace and other light fuel oils; ½ to ¾ cents for heavy fuel oils and ½ cent for asphalts.

At nearly all Ontario points gasoline and kerosene advance one cent and stove oil and furnace fuel oils 1¼ cents. Heavy fuel oils and asphalts advance ½ cent.

Reasons for the increases, as given by Imperial Oil Ltd., are an increase of 10 per cent in rail freight rates effective Oct. 13 in the United States where most of Canada's crude oil and imported products are obtained. An increase of 20 cents a barrel in crude oil prices in the United States effective Oct. 14, and increased expense to meet unprecedented demand.

The announced price increases, an official of the company said, applies in varying degree across Canada except for British Columbia where the company is awaiting clarification of crude oil and petroleum products prices in California, the supply base for B. C.

The official added that although the price increases released today applied only to wholesale or tank wagon prices he had no doubt that the increases would be passed on to consumers by retailers.

"It is not likely that retailers would absorb the increases," he said. "The last price increase in fuel oil announced July 21 was passed on."

Hospitalization for All Residents Of B.C. Sought

VICTORIA, Oct. 31 (CP)—Legislation to provide for full necessary hospitalization for all residents of the Province will be sought in a petition to the Provincial Government, approved by the British Columbia Hospitals Association at their 30th annual convention, which concluded here this afternoon.

The resolution called for the cost of the plan to be assessed as equitably as possible on every individual resident.

A full inquiry into the present shortage of nurses, with the Provincial Government asked to enlarge schools of nursing and subsidize them, was sought in another resolution approved by the convention.

A resolution which sought an amendment to the Registered Nurses Act of B.C., to allow the entrance of girls into nursing training schools at the age of 18 instead of 19 was discussed at length and referred to the Committee on Resolutions for re-drafting.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (CP)— The Daily Worker said today in a dispatch from Lake Success that "informed diplomats" at the United Nations headquarters asserted that Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, former President of the Polish Opposition Party, has been in London since Sunday when he was first reported to have fled Warsaw.

The Communist newspaper said that Mikolajczyk arrived in Britain aboard a British military plane.

Testify in Film Quiz

Movie actor Adolphe Menjou blows out a cloud of cigarette smoke as he takes the witness stand at the House Un-American Activites Committee hearing in Washington. The suave screen star is on record as stating that Hollywood is the centre of Communist activities in America. The Committee is probing alleged Red infiltration of filmdom.

Impeccably attired and as glamorous off the screen as on, Robert Taylor, movie star, is shown as he testified before the House Un-American Activities Committee in Washington. He said that *a number of his fel*low-actors follow the Communist Party line and constitute a "disrupting" influence in the motion picture industry. He named Howard de Silva and Karen Morely as exponents of the Party line.

Mines Must Run Fans Four Hours Before Men Go Down

VANCOUVER, Oct. 31 (CP)— Ventilating fans in all British Columbia mines will have to be operated for four hours before a miner goes underground, as the result of an order-in-council passed Thursday and now in *operation, Harvey Murphy, Un*ion of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers head, said here today.

Mr. Murphy said the order is to prevent recurrence of the Aug. 18 explosion at the Pacific Eastern Mine at Bridge River, B.C., which took three lives.

A proposal to give the widow of every miner killed underground $2500 will be discussed at the District Convention of the U.M.M.S.W. Union here Dec. 3, Mr. Murphy said.

Greenall Ousted From Post With Woodworkers

VANCOUVER, Oct. 31 (CP) — Jack Greenall of New Westminster, B. C., has been suspended from his position as International Trustee of the International Woodworkers of America (C.I.O.) due to the United States Anti-Communist drive on the Trade Unions.

Word was received here today of Greenall's suspension by J. E. Fadling of Portland, President of the I.W.A., for refusing to sign an affidavit that he is not a Communist or Communist sympathizer. The affidavit is required under the United States' Taft-Hartley Labor Bill.

Greenall said he wrote to Fadling Oct. 20, saying that he refused to sign on the ground that the United States Government has no right to tell a Canadian what political principles must be endorsed or repected.

Greenall was elected International Trustee in 1945 by a referendum vote, and his term still has five years to go.

It is the second time in recent days that Union Officials in Vancouver have been suspended by their International Office.

Local offices of the Hotel and Restaurant Employees Union (A.F.L.) in Vancouver were taken over earlier this week by Archie Johnstone of Toronto, Canadian representative of the International Union. However, they found that Local Officials had regained possession of the offices yesterday morning and a fist fight broke out, with police called to restore order.

The Union's International Headquarters in Cincinnati has charged the Local Officials with being Communists.

Johnstone has engaged a solicitor and probably will seek a court order to regain possession of the Union Local Offices.

TO INVITE ROYAL COUPLE TO CANADA

MONTREAL, Oct. 31 (CP) — Prime Minister Mackenzie King plans to invite Princess Elizabeth and Lieut. Philip Mountbatten to visit Canada when he is in England next month for their wedding.

The Prime Minister made this known last night during a brief interview with newspaper men when he passed through here on his way to New York from where he will sail aboard the liner Queen Elizabeth tomorrow.

"In the name of Canada and her people, I will deliver to Princess Elizabeth and Lieut. Philip Mountbatten a most cordial and warm invitation to visit our country, after I have offered them in the name of the people our best wishes for their happiness," Mr. King said.

Mr. King did not elaborate on his statement that he would invite the Princess and her future husband to the Dominion. If they accept, it will mark the first visit to Canada by the Princess whose parents, King George and Queen Elizabeth, were here in 1939.

Reject Russian Accusations

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP)—The United Nations Assembly tonight rejected accusations by the Soviet bloc that the United States and Britain are harboring war criminals in the occupied zone of Europe.

The vote was 40 to 7 against the Russian group.

The Assembly approved a British-sponsored move which requires governments desiring the surrender of war criminals to present evidence as to their guilt. The vote for the British proposal was 42 to 7.

Other U.N. developments were:

1. The United States suggested to a Palestine "partition" sub-committee at Lake Success that proposed Arab and Jewish countries in Palestine become independent nations on July 1, 1948, if the Assembly finally recommends partition of the Holy Land.

2. Russia lost in the Security Council her demand that Dutch troops withdraw to positions they held in the East Indies last July that the Indonesian Republic be given authority to keep order in the areas restored to it.

Thieves Make Haul

MOUNT ALBERT, Ont., Oct. 31 (CP) — With police swarming through this little town, 28 miles North of Toronto, in search of a lone robber who stole $2000 from a bank, thieves last night stole a washing machine and a fur coat from a railroad station express room.

The articles, valued at $500, evidently were taken about 12 hours after yesterday's bank robbery.

NELSON KIDS UP TO HALLOWE'EN PRANKS, BUT NIGHT MOSTLY QUIET

Nelson youngsters observed Hal*lowe'en Friday night with numer*ous prankish ways, but on the whole the night was a quiet one.

Apart from gangs of small fry and 'teen agers roaming the streets and hurling lighted fire-crackers, overturning garbage cans that may have been left in alleys, executing *an occasional "soaping" job, and dis*placing property, things were under control.

ONE FALSE ALARM

City Police had answered no reports of property damage or vandalism up to 10 o'clock in the evening. On the alert for false alarms, the Fire Department answered one "fake" at 8:46. A street switch at the corner of High and Pine Streets had been pulled.

One Baker Street resident had a window of his home broken by a stone, thrown presumably by one *of a "bunch of teen age girls." Elec*tric lights were inconveniently turned off for some householders.

However, activities in general were dampened by the wet weather, it was thought.

Gov't Oppression of Doukhobors Charged

Commission Hears Press Scored for "Selling" Group to "Highest Bidder"

SOUTH SLOCAN, B.C., Oct. 31—From a small group of Doukhobors in Crescent Valley Friday came bitter recrimination against the Canadian Government and the "prejudicial" press. John Tarasoff, representative of the Crescent Valley branch of the Union of Doukhobors in Canada, in submitting a short brief to the Royal Commission sitting at South Slocan, charged "economical oppression" from the Government, and that the press was selling "we Doukhobors to the highest bidders."

He refused to enlarge upon the charges, but the 48-year-old Crescent Valley farmer declared that the "half-rate relief" given the Doukhobors constituted economical oppression.

Tarasoff's group, of which he is a trustee, constitutes about 60 whose creed "is in accordance on most points with both the Sons of Freedom and the Union of Spiritual Communities of Christ."

Asked by Counsel H. W. McInnes the main difference between the Sons of Freedom and the Orthodox Doukhobors, Tarasoff said he believed it was that the Sons of Freedom would not "agree with vital statistics."

Harold Winch, Opposition Leader in the British Columbia Legislature, and Provincial head of the C.C.F., sat in as an observer of the Friday session "to get a first hand picture" of the Doukhobor problem which he said would "undoubtedly" come before the next session of the Legislature.

Tarasoff, stating himself a member of the Federation of Russian Canadians — a "cultural organization"—said he, with about 200 other Doukhobors in the area, subscribed to a paper published in Toronto by the Canada-wide group. While the organization boasted a majority membership of Russians, Doukhobors, he said, were not barred.

"Is this paper a Communistic paper?" Mr. McInnes asked, in examining the witness.

"It has a Russian sentiment and stands for Russia."

"I do sympathize with Russian ideals," Tarasoff continued, "I don't think they're opposing Canadian ideals. I think Canadian democratic ideals are good ideals."

"You know, of course, that many Russian ideals are opposed to those of Canada," the counsel questioned.

"There seems to be some disagreement."

"That is a master understatement," Mr. McInnes remarked.

Private ownership, the witness continued, was one difference, yet there were large industries in Canada that were not privately owned.

The Crescent Valley Branch of the Union of Doukhobors of Canada, he emphasized, was not in any way connected with the Federation.

SONS SPEAK

The sentiments of the Sons of Freedom, radical Doukhobor Sect accused of being the major cause of strife between the two factions, were voiced by Nikolas Nevakshonoff when he said "our fight is not a struggle against people as a whole or against a nation organization separately. "It is not for the benefit of private good will, but as our teacher Jesus Christ for the sins of people gave himself as a sacrifice, we also give ourselves."

"STRUGGLE WILL CONTINUE"

But, he said, they depended on righteousness and until such time as there "is righteousness of all kinds among the people" the struggle would be continued.

"Doukhobors of all the groups in the root are one. Many of the Doukhobors in the present day are always fighting to attain earthly goods, and not aware that now they have fallen from the original appointments."

Questioned as to whether he, for one, was going to give up burning, Nevakshonoff at first emphatically said "no," and later changed his mind to say "I can't say for sure."

They had, he admitted, in some cases, used force against the "brethren, but we do it only for love of them and for love of saving life."

John Perepelkin, who told the Commission that "some of the fires are as much as a mystery to we Sons of Freedom as to the others," and Bill Chernenkoff also appeared in testimony for the Sons.

NO SURVIVORS FOUND IN PLANE WRECK

Believe Improperly Marked Charts Contributed to Crash

KETCHIKAN, Alaska, Oct. 31 (AP) — The terse message, "no survivors," from a United States Coast Guard climbing party near the top of snow-tipped Mount *Tamgas of Annette Island, confirm*ed late today the deaths of 18 persons aboard a Pan-American Airways airliner which crashed last Sunday.

Charts which give the mountain's altitude as 3610 feet, although the summit is apparently several hundred feet higher, may have contributed to the disaster, William L. Baker, Editor of the Ketchikan Chronicle, reported. He flew in one of the searching planes.

Earlier today, searching planes first sighted the partly burned wreckage about 200 feet below the top of the peak. The plane, flown by pilot Alf N. Monsen, veteran pilot, was bound from Seattle to the Annette Island airport last Sunday and its last message said that extreme air turbulence over the island would compel the plane to fly on to Juneau.

Baker, who had flown with a Coast Guard pilot over the wreckage, said the peak was apparently 4000 or 4100 feet high and that other pilots had reported several other Southeastern Alaska peaks improperly marked on charts. The wreck lay about six miles from the Annette air field.

Early Departure From Holy Land Suggested

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 31 (AP) —The United States suggested today an early and complete withdrawal of British troops from Palestine and establishment of sovereign Arab and Jewish nations there by next July 1.

American delegate Herschel V. Johnson made the proposal at a closed session of a special Palestine sub-committee of the United Nations Assembly.

The American plan was based on the assumption that the United Nations would approve the proposed partition of Palestine into separate Arab and Jewish countries.

In proposing independence for the two proposed countries by July 1, Johnson said the United States felt the Assembly must recommend a definite date when the proposed countries must assume their own responsibilities.

Johnson further proposed that the two countries become "absolutely sovereign and responsible for public order in their respective nations" on the suggested date of independence.

For an interim period ending July 1, he suggested that Britain continue to be responsible for preservation of law and order.

The United States plan also called for a three-man U.N. Commission to go to Palestine after the proposed partition decision was taken and act in an advisory capacity to the two new countries during transition. It would be responsible for the Assembly.

Sees Canada as New Influence

NE WYORK, Oct. 31 (CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King predicted tonight that Canada will increasingly be "one of the great influences for world cooperation and peace as the years go by."

He said Canada's scope in this sphere is "all the larger" because she is located alongside the United States and that "nothing is more important" than for the U.S. and Canada to continue to share a "community of ideas in furthering international friendship."

The Prime Minister was speaking at a reception of the Canadian Club of New York where he was awarded the club's medal for his contribution to promoting friendly relations between Canada, the United States and the British Commonwealth.

Speaking to about 300 people who crowded the Canadian Club lounge, Mr. King said that what he had to say was "somewhat of thfe bat" due to the "high pressure work" in Ottawa of the last few weeks.

He then launched extemporaneously into a discussion of Cana*dian-United States friendship* and said that "in this we are developing a sense of security and setting an example of cooperation for the rest of the world which it needs at this time."

B.C. Old Age Pension Bonus Due Next Week

VANCOUVER, Oct. 31 (CP) — British Columbia's 19,000 old age pensioners will receive their $30 bonus check either tomorrow or early next week Pension Board officials said here tonight.

The bonus, expected by the pensioners since May, was delayed until agreement could be reached between the provinces.

In future the bonus will be added to the monthly checks received by the pensioners bringing the total to $40, the highest in Canada.

Polio Over-Rated Claim Doctors

WINNIPEG, Oct. 31 (CP)—Poliomyelitis is over-emphasized as a killer and crippler in comparison with other diseases, two Winnipeg medical officers said today, commenting on the Winnipeg effects of the last Summer.

With poliomyelitis appearing spent — until next Summer anyway — Dr. M. S. Lougheed, City Medical Health Officer, and Dr. O. *J. Day, Chief of Health of Chil*dren's Services, delved into records. They had a theory that the disease is over-rated as a bogey.

Three so-called epidemics of polio have struck Winnipeg in the last 10 years, and Drs. Day and Lougheed said the figures placed poliomyelitis no better than sixth in that period's killer parade.

Tuberculosis, comparatively unpublicized in comparison, led with 408 deaths in 10 years. Poliomyelitis claimed 23. Nor was the after-effect of polio, in parents minds its dreaded feature, anywhere as serious as tuberculosis, they said.

Untold disabilities could accompany the patient released from sanitoria.

But the number of crippled from the 173 polio cases reported this year, out of a child population of 40,000, was not expected to exceed three.

Second to tuberculosis in number of deaths over a 10-year period was influenza with 151. Infantile diarrhoea, recorded for only two years, was third with 37 deaths. Diphtheria was fourth with 30 deaths and even the common whooping cough outranked polio with 25 deaths in 10 years.

VICTORIA, Oct. 31 (CP) — June Robinson, 18, Glanford Ave., Saanich, was committed for trial in a higher court today on a manslaughter charge by Magistrate H. C. Hall in a special session of Saanich Police Court. Preliminary hearing was concluded Tnursday afternoon and the committal was requested by Defence Counsel George F. Gregory.

To Probe Big Meadow Area For Lost Plane

EDGEWOOD, B.C., Oct. 31—A mountain meadow adjacent to Lightning Peak, about 18 miles West of Edgewood, has now become the point of concentration of ground search parties following their failure to find any trace of the missing Air Force photographic plane in the Mount O'Leary sector of this district.

The meadow, high up in the mountains, extends for many acres and its reasonably flat surface suggests the possibility the pilot of the missing craft may have attempted a landing there. Residents believe crew members could survive a crash-landing on the meadow.

Plotting by triangulation of the origin of the flares seen by many residents brought the searchers' efforts to bear on the meadow.

The fire seen last Monday on Mount O'Leary is believed to have been that of a trapper's.

Meanwhile, the Canadian Legion has joined others in protesting the manner in which the R.C.A.F. has conducted the search for the plane, now missing two weeks.

HOSPITALS SEEK DOUBLE GRANT FROM GOV'T

VICTORIA, Oct. 31 (CP)—Double the Provincial and Municipal per capita grant now paid hospitals is sought from the Provincial Government by the British Columbia Hospitals Association in a resolution passed at the 30th annual convention, here today.

There were seven resolutions on the question of finance, which were consolidated into one, wherein the incoming executive was asked to make strong representation to the government to have the per capita grant increased by 100 per cent.

The present grant amounts to 70 cents a day per patient. The resolution also asked that municipalities without a hospital be asked to pay 25 cents a day additional to the hospitals serving their municipalities.

Introduce Bill To Curb House Of Lords Powers

LONDON, Oct. 31 (AP) — The Government introduced in the House of Commons today its controversial bill to curb the power of the House of Lords. The measure was denounced by the Conservative Opposition in the House earlier this week as "authoritarianism."

Champ Adanacs Still Hope to Reach Olympics

By JIM McCURDY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., Oct. 31 (CP) — Official anhouncements from London aand Toronto to the contrary or not, New Westminster Adanacs, 1947 Canadian Lacrosse Champions, stoutly were maintaining today that they would go to London to play an exhibition game against a British team at the 1948 Olympics.

A Canadian team originally had been scheduled to go, but the trip was cancelled at the annual meeting of the Canadian Amateur Lacrosse Association in Vancouver on the grounds that the cost would be prohibitive. The moguls estimated it would cost $18,000 for the trip—twice the amount in their treasury. That, plus the fact that only one exhibition game was to be played made them decide that the trip wasn't worth the money.

However, Adanacs had other ideas.

A few days after the C.L.A. meetings ended, New Westminster Coach Max McDonald told Association President Lyle Barr that the A's would travel with or without the help of the Canadian body and asked, Barr to transmit that information to the British Olympic Committee.

Barr said last night that he had relayed the information to Gene Dopp, Secretary-Treasurer of the C.L.A. and asked him to pass it along to the British officials. Somewhere along the line the signals got crossed and the Olympic Commitee received no word. Barr, however, said he would take immediate action.

Coach McDonald explained that his team would make the trip by means of a public subscription here if necessary. The famed New Westminster Salmonbellies were sent to the 1928 Olympics in Amsterdam by donations of citizens of this lacrosse-loving city.

By way of defraying expenses, the A's plan to play a few games on their way across Canada and will possibly try to line up other exhibition tilts when they reach England.

Barr intimated that if the New Westminster team went ahead with their plans, and it seems as if they will, it is possible the C.L.A. will be able to help on the finances to some extent.

TOAST and TEA
BY J. V. McARTHUR

Here is a typical passage from Ruskin's Modern Painters from which we do not think we have quoted before: "We habitually think of the rain cloud as dark and grey, not knowing that we owe to it perhaps the fairest, though not the most dazzling of the hues of heaven. Often in our English mornings, the rain clouds form soft, level fields which melt imperceptibly into the blue; or, when of less extent, gather into apparent bars, crossing the sheets of broader clouds above; and all these bathed throughout in an unspeakable light of pure rose-color, and purple, and amber, and blue; not shining, but misty-soft; the barred masses, when seen nearer, composed of clusters or tresses of cloud, like flossy silk, looking as if each knot were a little swathe or sheath of lighted rain."

INTERNATIONAL CHARGED WITH "RED BOGEY"

VANCOUVER, Oct. 31 (CP) — "Purged" officers of the Vancouver Hotel and Restaurant Workers Association today charged the International Executive with creating a "red bogey" following yesterday's unsuccessful attempt by International Union Officers to seize control of the Local 28 offices.

Emily Watts said the "whole thing was so ridiculous" that she refused to deny or affirm affiliation with the Communist Party after A. R. Johnstone, Canadian Vice-President of the Union's International, had declared "he was satisfied" in his own mind that "some of the local officers are Communist sympathizers."

"The Executive (Local) wishes to make it clear that the question of Communism is not involved in any way, but is used merely as a 'red bogey' to cover up undemocratic actions in the attempted removal of the three officers."

Winnipeg Employees Seek Pay Boosts

WINNIPEG, Oct. 31 (CP) — Two unions, representing approximately 2400 of Winnipeg's more than 3000 municipal employees, have submitted requests to City Council for pay increases, it was learned today.

One, the Federation of Civic Employees (C.C.L.) and representing 1400 clerical workers, has asked for increases based on gains in the cost-of-living index issued by the Federal Bureau of Statistics.

The other, the One Big Union, an indpendent organization representing approximately 1000 city workers, has asked for an outright 15-cents-an-hour increase.

VANCOUVER, Oct. 31 (CP)—A 70 mile-an-nour race between taxi-cab driver Lisle Davidson and the stork wound up in a photo finish at the door of the Vancouver General Hospital—with the stork getting the nod.

Davidson made the 13-mile run from Port Moody to the hospital in 20 minutes last night. He arrived at hospital just as a baby boy was born to Mrs. Joe Bedard.

Davidson didn't see a traffic policeman the whole way. "I wish I had. An escort would have made it easier."

Apples, Peaches Down, Pears Up in Production

OTTAWA, Oct. 31 (CP)—Harvesting of Canada's 1947 fruit crops is practically completed with estimates of production little changed from those of September, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

The apple crop again shows a decline, being estimated at 15,222,000 bushels against 15,621,000 a month ago and 19,283,000 in 1946. Production in British Columbia remains unchanged at 7,623,000 bushels.

An increase of 19 per cent in the prospective pear harvest in Ontario since September brings the total Canadian crop to 1,929,000 bushels, 78,000 bushels more than was harvested last season. Production this year in British Columbia still stands at 596,000 bushels.

The estimate of the plum and prune crop also increased as a result of better yields in Ontario. That for British Columbia remains unchanged at 483,000 bushels.

The 1947 peach crop was reduced slightly from 1,728,000 bushels to 1,694,000 bushels. Brown rot and Oriental peach moth caused considerable damage in Ontario, where production now is set at 925,000 bushels. The British Columbia crop still is estimated at 769,000 bushels.

Wismer Hopes For Labor Relations Board

VICTORIA, Oct. 31 (CP)—Labor Minister Gordon S. Wismer said today that he hoped he would be able to set up a Labor Relations Board, provided for in B. C.'s Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act which became law last May 15 sometime next week.

His announcement followed a meeting here Thursday night with officials of the Vancouver, New Westminster and District Trades and Labor Council (A.F.L.) during which the council nominated representatives to the Board. It is expected the Board will have five members. J. Pitcairn Hogg, Legislative Counsel for B. C., has been mentioned as a possible chairman.

Mr. Wismer has also requested the Vancouver Labor Council (C.C.-L.) to name delegates but the council has indicated it would not until amendments had been made to the act, known in Labor circles as Bill 39.

It is expected that British Columbia industry will be represented on the Board along with the two Labor groups and an independent chairman.

Seven Injured in Coast Accidents

VANCOUVER, Oct. 31 (CP) — Seven persons were injured today in two separate bridge span crashes during congested traffic conditions.

Beverly Davis, 22, suffered severe facial, chest and abdominal injuries after the car in which she was riding smashed into the Cambie Street bridge early this morning. Hospital attendants reported her condition as "poor."

Miss Davis' sister, Mrs. Shirley Kunns, 25, and Frank C. Brookes, 28 all of Bellingham, Wash., were treated for facial injuries.

Three other American visitors and a Vancouver woman also were hurt when their automobile struck the Granville Street span, injuring Marcella Le Comte, 19, Walter Drake, 24, Olson E. Jackson, 22 and Stanley Browning, 23.

General Election Likely for Eire

No Other Choice Prime Minister Indicated Before Byelection Voting

DUBLIN, Oct. 31 (CP)—Eire today was confronted with he possibility of a new general election after Prime Minister amon de Valera's Fianna Fail (Government Party) suffered efeat in two out of three byelections held yesterday to fill acancies in the Dail (Parliament).

The Government party was beaten in the vital County Dublin byelection by Sean McBride, a young lawyer and leader f the recently-formed Republican party known as Clann na oblachta. McBride polled 29,629 votes to 20,197 for Thomas Mullins, General Secretary of Fianna Fail.

LONDON, Oct. 31 (AP)—The Press Association said tonight Prime Minister Eamon de Valera had announced he would call a general election in Eire early in 1948.

Before the County Dublin byelection, Prime Minister de Valera had announced that he would consider the outcome a test of confidence in his Government. He indicated that if the Government's position were weakened he would have no choice but to call a general election.

The Republican candidate in County Tiperary, Patrick Kinane, 40-year-old former Irish Republican Army officer, defeated Sean Hayes of the Fianna Fail, 23,265 votes to 11,847.

In the third byelection the Fianna Fail candidate, John Ormond, was victorious in County Waterford over the Fine Gael (chief Opposition party) but his margin was only half that of the winning government candidate in 1944.

The Government defeats showed that de Vaelra has lost much of his left-wing support and observers see the odds as against the Prime Minister retaining the clear majority he has enjoyed in the Dail—77 out of 138 Parliamentary seats.

De Valera is due in London soon to complete an Anglo-Irish trade agreement and it is highly probable that with good terms from Britain he may ask that the Dail be dissolved and go to the country.

The Government has been the target of much criticism recently because of growing inflation and an outbreak of wage disputes and strikes.

De Valera himself warned in a campaign speech that "the conflict of classes and sections cannot go on" and said the Government must see that production was not lowered.

New austerity measures to deal with inflation, including subsidies to lower consumer prices of bread, tea and sugar were announced by de Valera and Finance Minister Frank Aiken in the Dail two weeks ago.

Premier Indicates Statement Likely During His Absence

SAILS TODAY

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. (CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King said here today on his arrival from Ottawa that Canada's choice for its representative on the United Nations Security Council "has not yet been made," but indicated that it would likely be announced while he was absent in England for the Royal wedding.

"It is an extremely important post, an extremely important one," said the Prime Minister. "But our choice has not yet been made."

Asked if the appointment might be made and announced during his absence, he said it is in the hands of External Affairs Minister St. Laurent, and "it is quite likely that Mr. St. Laurent will make the announcement while I'm in London."

"He will be in communication with me from time to time," he added.

To questions about his own future plans for retiring from the Liberal Party leadership and political life, he just gave a bland smile and said, "There is nothing new on me."

"But you know," he said, "I hope to get new energy from this trip."

The Prime Minister will sail on the Queen Elizabeth for Southampton late tomorrow morning.

He will attend the Royal wedding Nov. 20, make a brief trip to the Continent and probably have informal talks with British and Commonwealth leaders in London before returning to Ottawa in time for the new session of Parliament called last night for Dec. 5.

AWARDED MEDAL

This afternoon the Canadian Club of New York presented the Prime Minister with its award medal, presented annually in recognition of outstanding contributions to "the harmony of relationship and mutual welfare of Canada, the United States and the British Commonwealth."

Previous recipients of the award medal were Cordell Hull, former United States Secretary of State, who was given the award in 1946, and Sir Gerald Campbell, former British Minister in Washington, who received his in 1940.

Mackenzie King also will receive an illuminated scroll praising his statesmanship and record tenure of office.

Following is the text of the testimonial:

"Whereas, the Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King has, as Prime Minister, with rare distinction and great statesmanship, guided the destiny of Canada through periods of peace and war with wisdom and courage, and has directed the development of that vast country, rich in natural resources and inhabited by people of two dominant cultures, into a great nation;

And, whereas, in his long and memorable tenure of office as Prime Minister, embracing more than two decades and exceeding the record of any other Canadian, he has continuously devoted his great ability to the creation and development of a harmony of sentiment between the United States and the whole British Commonwealth;

"Now, therefore, in recognition of this outstanding contribution to the mutual welfare of Canada, the United States and the British Commonwealth of Nations, the Canadian Club of New York, by unanimous action of its Board of Governors, has authorized and directed the presentation to the Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King of the Canadian Club award medal, 1946."

Dmytryk Wanted Site Near Grand Forks for Picture

Visited District Hoping for Background Like Swiss Alps; Has Relatives Here

By CLYDE BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (AP)—Edward Dmytryk, 39-year-old former British Columbia boy who now is a Hollywood Movie Director, says he is more concerned about a location for the outdoor scenes of his next picture than about being cited for contempt of Congress because he refused to say whether or not he was or had been a member of the Communist Party.

Dmytryk is one of 10 Hollywood figures cited for declining this information during evidence before the House of Representatives Committee on Un-American Activities.

Talking about the case yesterday, he turned the conversation to his new picture, the best-seller about mountain climbing, "The White Tower."

He will direct the picture and a few weeks ago visited Grand Forks B. C., and adjacent areas hoping for a site near his boyhood home.

Dmytryk was born at Grand Forks, in 1908, his parents having been among the first Ukrainians to settle there.

His father farmed and worked in a smelter nearby until 1915 when the family moved to the United States. Both his parents are dead. He still has relatives in Grand Forks.

"It is a beautiful country but the mountains won't do for our picture," he said. "The texture is wrong and the valleys are not green enough. The background must be like the Swiss Alps."

Of the House Committee which will try to get a conviction against him and his associates for contempt, Dmytryk said he believed it was proceeding on an unconstitutional "witch hunt" and that the time had come to fight it in the hope of getting some congressional reforms.

"If there are people in this country working to overthrow the Government by force and giving their first allegiance to a foreign power, then there are laws to defeat them and I am sure the Federal Bureau of Investigation has every such person tagged.

"I would not lift a finger to protect such persons," he said.

Dmytryk said he had no interest in Russians or Ukrainians who are in the Communist Party or out of it. He was interested in Americans, he said, and was an American citizen.

Consider Reparation Claims From Japan Higher Than Justified

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (AP)—An eight-months dispute among the wartime Pacific Allies over reparations from Japan was disclosed today after the Philippines had put in a $4,198,675,244 bill for damage suffered from the invaders.

Lifting some of the secrecy surrounding sessions of the 11-country Far Eastern Commission, it was revealed that:

1. With the sole exception of Canada, every one of Japan's foes has claimed a larger share of the reparations pool, whose size is yet to be determined, than the others consider justified.

2. Only the Philippines put a dollar value on her loss. On a proportionate basis, the other claims, which were only in percentages of the future total amount, would add up to some $54,000,000,000.

3. China thinks she is entitled to 40 per cent of whatever is obtained from Japan under terms of the Peace Treaty which is yet to be drafted. The United States put in a 29-per-cent bid; Australia 28 per cent; Britain 25 per cent; the Philippines 15 per cent; India 12.5 per cent; France, the Netherlands and Russia each 12 per cent; New Zealand, 2 per cent; and Canada, 1.5 per cent. Earlier claims were even higher.

4. All added up to 188 per cent of the ultimate pool. The Far Eastern Commission has been striving since last February, thus far in vain, for agreement on the manner in which the shares shall be scaled down to the necessary 100 per cent.

5. Although the ultimate size of the reparations pool is conjectural, a rule-of-thumb total of some $14,000,000,000 has been used as a working basis in the efforts to agree on shares.

The information came from an authoritative official source after the Philippine figures were published in Manila.

46 Navy Cadets Continue Training On Old Nasookin

Every Monday night since the first of September the veteran steamer Nasookin, docked at the C.P.R. shipyards, has been the focal point for the Nelson Sea Cadets.

At present the sea cadets are still in the process of assimilating new recruits. Training is continuing under two categories which allow the more advanced cadets to go ahead into specified fields. Strength of the corps stands at 46 plus a staff of officers.

Lately two city ex-Navy men, D. Coleman and R. Gilday, have joined the instructor's ranks. The corps now has a full roster of instructors for every phase of naval training undertaken by the cadets.

Allege Doctor Did Not Answer Call

VANCOUVER, Oct. 31 (CP)—The fourth instance in three weeks in which a seriously ill patient died after the doctor allegedly spurned his call for aid was entered in the police books Thursday.

Officers said that a doctor, called at 12:25 this morning, gave a flat refusal to treat 72-year-old Fred Broughton after the man collapsed in his bathroom.

The medical man had been treating Broughton for a heart condition, but declined to answer the call in the early hours of the morning.

One Vancouver doctor suggested that persons requiring medical attention at odd hours of the night should consult the Doctor's Medical Service.

"Many of the older doctors in the city refuse to take calls at night because they find they cannot work night and day," he explained.

Fare Increase Inevitable if Strike Continues

VICTORIA, Oct. 31 (CP) — If both the B. C. Electric Railway Co. Ltd. and striking B. C. E. R. employees remain adamant over the present transportation tie-up, an increase in the fare structure is almost inevitable, according to Mayor Percy E. George, who addressed the Retail Merchants' section of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce this morning.

Meeting to discuss the transportation strike, which is hitting Victoria, Vancouver and New Westminster, the Retail Merchants heard the Mayor say that if the wage increase demands of striking B. C. E. R. employees were met, the way would be opened to the company to go to the Public Utilities Commission to seek a higher rate structure.

The Mayor, who finished a six-hour meeting between leading civic officials of the three strike-bound cities Thursday, said they had come away from the meeting "stymied." He sought suggestions from the meeting which might lead to a solution of the problem.

The section, in response to the Mayor's appeal, appointed a four-man committee, including Percy Surrach Chairman of the section; George MacDonald, Hugh Francis and O. B. Taylor.

This committee will meet with the city's transportation committee to discuss ways and means of overcoming the strike, dealing mainly with the possibility of seeking Provincial Government action and future legislation which would prevent a repetition of the strike.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 31 (AP) — Baseball's 52 minor leagues set a new all-time attendance high during 1947 when 41,516,736 fans watched their games. Of this total 40,274,256 were paid admissions.

As the major leagues drew an unofficial total of 19,870,358 paid, the total for organized ball exceeded 61,000,000, or almost half of the entire population of the United States.

The minor league totals far exceeded the previous high turnstile mark of 32,704,315 established last year.

Private Firms Plan Vancouver, Alaska Highway

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (AP)—Plans for construction of a railroad from Vancouver to Fairbanks, Alaska, are under consideration by a group of private investors.

Marshall Ramsey Diggs, Washington Counsel for the group, said today his clients had been studying the project for several years and he hoped to be able to announce definite plans, along with the names of the backers, within 30 days.

Diggs said the idea calls for taking over 345 miles of railroad now owned by British Columbia and building another 1000 miles into Fairbanks, where the proposed road would connect with the Alaska Railroad.

Diggs predicted that either his group or some other "will start this railroad within three or four years.

"The present plans contemplate that the railroad will be constructed by private capital. We hope that after we reach Alaska our government will aid in the construction but we have received no commitments from it though government officials have shown great interest.

"We are anxious that a railroad be built to the territory for we believe that is the only way it ever will be opened up.

"And, in view of the present Russian situation, we should have such a connection with our territory.

"The railroad will open up vast resources, and in Canada tap country exceedingly rich in natural resources such as coal, timber and pulp wood."

Canadians have shown great interest in the proposal, Diggs said, adding that his group consists of both Americans and Canadians.

He said two New York banking houses have shown an interest in financing the proposed road, estimated to cost $200,000,000 or more but declined to name them.

The plans are to construct the railroad West of the mountains which Diggs described as the only feasible route for such a project.

Red Cross Food Shipments to Britain Progress

MONTREAL, Oct. 31 (CP)—Half of the Canadian Red Cross $1,000,000 food relief shipment to Britain and Europe is expected to be on the seas by the middle of November, H. H. Bishop, Chairman of the National Purchasing Committee, Thursday told the meeting of the Red Cross Central Council.

Dr. R. W. I. Urquhart, National Chairman of First Aid, Swimming and Water Safety, reported that in the first nine months of this year a total of 16,595 children across Canada were taught water safety under Red Cross auspices. This was one-third more than in the whole of 1946. Altogether 692 instructors held 1365 classes.

Increased cost of materials has affected the Women's Work Committee, said Miss Orian Warwick, National Chairman.

She reported that a total of 1234 cases of clothing and other supplies from Women's Work Committee's throughout Canada was shipped between June 1 and Sept. 30 to Britain and Europe for relief distribution. Clothing to the value of $156,000 has also been purchased for British relief and most of it has already been shipped.

Welcome Justice To Supreme Court

VICTORIA, Oct. 31 (CP) — Members of the Bar Association and Law Society welcomed Mr. Justice H. S. Wood to Victoria at a ceremony held at the courthouse yesterday.

His Lordship, former Chief Magistrate of Vancouver, was recently appointed Supreme Court judge and sat for the first time in a Victoria court today.

Immediately after the ceremony, the judge heard his first case in Victoria, involving Karma Singh, who claims $10,000 in damages from Bisa Singh for injuries suffered when he was allegedly assaulted by the defendant on Burnside Road, Victoria.

The defendant, Bisa Singh, has entered a counter-claim and is asking for $15,060 for injuries.

W.P.T.B. Office To Close Here

Closure of the Nelson office of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, in line with a policy of economy adopted by the Board, was effective Friday.

The local branch, together with those in Victoria and Kamloops, will be consolidated under the jurisdiction of the Vancouver regional office. Consolidations have been general in various parts of Canada.

Replacing the Nelson office will be an organization to handle rentals matters, and a Vancouver man is expected here to direct operations.

A. H. Erdahl was supervisor of the W.P.T.B. here.

Prepare Field For New School At Cranbrook

CRANBROOK, B. C., Oct. 31—Anticipating final result when Cranbrook's new school is built here, the School Board has undertaken preparation of the seven acre field formerly use for track and field events. East Kootenay Equipment has taken a contract to level the field and has started bulldozing from the Eastern boundary. When it is completely levelled the field will be sown in grass, and planting of trees in line with a general landscaping plan is under consideration.

Construction of the $400,000 building has been authorized by ratepayers and architects drawings completed. Postponement of actual building was ruled by the Board, in view of what it considers highly inflated building and material costs which would prevent school ratepayers from securing full value for their investment.

Tells Kimberley Sketch Club of Art School

Speaker at last week's meeting of the Kimberley Sketch Club, affiliate of the Federation of Canadian Artists, was Mrs. Charles Dakin.

Mrs. Dakin, who attended the recent session of the Banff School of Art, gave an interesting account of the day's activities of the art students, displaying a number of excellent oils she completed there. Leading artists across the Dominion acted as instructors with students receiving personal criticism and help daily from their chosen instructor.

Founded nine years ago with 30 students, the school now attracts over 500 students, all parts of the Dominion, many American States and an occasional overseas city being represented.

Don Cameron is director of the school which is sponsored by the University of Alberta Extension Department. Subjects available include art, music, ballet, drama and various handicrafts.

Was Threatened by Pickets Says Printer

VANCOUVER, Oct. 31 (CP) — Stories of disturbances on the picket line were told Thursday by witnesses in the Supreme Court action of the Vancouver Daily Province against executives of the International Typographical Union.

Printers now employed in the newspaper, including William Morphy, William Yorke-Hardy and Edgar Stanley Lee, testified of "threats" from pickets to "beat them up."

The Province seeks damages of $250,000 from the I.T.U. executive as a result of the 16-months-old printers strike against the newspaper.

Yorke-Hardy told Mr. Justice J. he offered no further explanation.

Earlier, Donald S. McLauchlin, employed by an advertising agency in the Province Building, said he had been assaulted when pickets O. Wilson that he was jostled once by a group of pickets in front of a downtown cafe.

He said members of the group told him: "If we don't get you now, we'll get you later."

"They also made references to my mother," said Yorke-Hardy, but were on duty.

"The Authority on Authorities"

HEED SUCH A WARNING

CROSS-RUFF bidding is just about the most emphatic warning that can be given against doubling the opponents' high contract. When they have shown a satisfactory fit in one suit and each has bid another suit on the side, you should heed the news that the declarer probably can use his trumps one at a time for ruffing purposes. It is extremely hazardous to double in such a situation unless you are in position to score tricks in the trump suit and thereby impede the ruffing process. Side honors in your hand are likely to get ruffed, especially second-round honors like kings and queens.

	♠ A 9 8 3 ♥ 3 ♦ Q 10 7 6 ♣ A 7 5 3
♠ Q 7 5 4 ♥ 6 5 2 ♦ A 5 3 2 ♣ 8 2	N W E S	♠ K J 10 4 ♥ K Q J 4 ♦ K 9 8 4 ♣ 4
	♠ 6 ♥ A 10 9 8 7 ♦ J ♣ K Q J 10 9 6

(Dealer: South. North-South vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
2 ♥	Pass	3 ♣	Pass
4 NT	Pass	5 ♥	Pass
6 ♣	Pass	Pass	Dbl

It should have been clear to East that South was very short of diamonds and spades and that North was short of hearts. Otherwise good bidders would never have reached that slam. But East liked the looks of all those brilliantly-tinted face-cards, six of them, which he had never bid.

West decided to disregard the conventional meaning of most doubles of slam contracts—to direct a lead of the suit bid by the dummy. He properly opened his club 2 because of the cross-ruff type of bidding, hopeful that his partner would have the A, would win with it and then return another trump to limit ruffs.

South, however, won and then proceeded with a whale of a cross-ruff. He scored the heart A, ruffed the 7, scored the spade A, ruffed the 3, ruffed the heart 8, ruffed the spade 8, ruffed the heart 9, ruffed the spade 9, scored the club Q and J and the established heart 10. At the end he gave up a diamond trick—not, however, to the doubler, but to West's A.

Your Week-End Question

If you hold two four-card minor suits, one strong in top honors and the other lacking any honors, with high honors in both majors, what advantage is sometimes gained by opening the bidding with the weaker suit and never bidding the stronger?

For Parents

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

A Child Who Lacks Affection Is Often the "Black Sheep"

Often the child who gives his parents more trouble than his brothers or sisters give gets worse and worse. Because he has so often been naughty he, naturally, gets scolded and punished more than they do and praised correspondingly less. Inevitably he supposes he is loved less than they are and this supposition causes him to take it out on them or misbehave in some other way, resulting in more scolding and punishing and in turn more jealousy, and so on.

If you were the mother writing the following letter you would be worried as much, no doubt, as she is. And if you were the lad she writes about, you probably would be as bad as he is or worse.

HAS FIVE CHILDREN

"We have five children. Our three oldest are girls. The fourth child is a boy thirteen years old—our problem.

"My husband is an invalid. Two years ago I had a very serious operation, so I can't punish this boy as he fights back. He abuses his brother eight years old, who is such a sweet child. Why he is so mean at home I cannot understand. His teachers all speak very highly of him and he is an A student. I've tried to punish him by giving all the other children an allowance but him but he's just the same. He has always attended Sunday School and church. We let him play on the Junior Baseball Team.

"Another thing, he won't help us at all. When I ask him to do something for me he grumbles. I've tried to talk kindly to him but he tells me to shut my mouth. We are all ashamed of him. He is kind too. He spends more on gifts for me than my other children do and he was much concerned about me when I was in the hospital."

In part I replied somewhat like this. Since as you say you are "All ashamed of him," he feels the rest of the family have ganged up on him. It is significant that he is so fine at school. If you could capitalize on his good school achievement and his special considerations for you, I believe you could make considerable progress. You are surely on the wrong track when by punishing him as by denying him an allowance, his loss means a gain to the other children.

PROTECT THE WEAKER

You must, of course, protect that younger, weaker brother. Yet in doing so you probably often play up his sweetness in contrast to his older brother's sourness. When you ask this older boy to do something for you, make the request as if you were making it of an adult and treat his response to it in like manner. Be sure this younger lad is not allowed to provoke his older brother to wrath. Don's allow yourself to scold and ever to compare this older child's faults and short-comings with the virtues of the other children. Perhaps you could induce the older girls to try to help build up self-regard in this lad and take a personal interest in his aspirations.

At best, do not look for quick improvements. Be happy as you see small but gradual gains.

"Saviour of Ceylon" To Testify at War Crimes Trials

OTTAWA, Oct. 31 (CP) — Wing Commander L. J. Birchall, the man called the "Saviour of Ceylon" for a wartime radio warning of the approach of a Japanese fleet on that strategic island, is going to Japan to be heard in the war crimes trials of Japanese Army personnel at whose hands he and hundreds of prisoners suffered during the war.

In making the announcement today Air Force Headquarters said the Ottawa and St. Catharines, Ont., officer is being relieved by Group of Personnel Administration, and Captain H. M. Carscallen as Director will leave for Japan shortly.

He will testify against Japanese officials who were in charge of camps in which he was held by the Japanese during the three and a half years he was a prisoner. Among those against who he will testify in the U. S. trials for mistreatment of Allied prisoners of war is a Lieutenant Hayashi, Commandant of the Yokohama Stadium Camp where the Wing Commander spent a year, and a Sergeant Usjioda(a Medical Sergeant at the same camp.

Testimony taken by affidavit has already been given against these two by Wing Commander Birchall, the material having been taken from the diary he secretly kept while a Japanese prisoner of war.

To Seek Conciliation At Britannia

VANCOUVER, Oct. 31 (CP) — Labor Minister Gordon Wismer announced Thursday that a conciliation officer will be appointed in an attempt to avert an impending walkout of 500 workers of the Britannia Mining and Smelting Company.

The men, members of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, are scheduled to meet tomorrow in what is termed a final effort to gain their demands for wage increases which would boost their average daily earnings to $9.28.

A similar number of workers at Copper Mountain, B.C., also are said to have put forth the same wage demands, with a threat to strike if the increases are not granted.

Reopening of Wheat Talks With Britain Expected

REGINA, Oct. 31 (CP)—The possibility of a re-negotiation of the British-Canadian Wheat Agreement after it expires in 1949 and an increased price for wheat in the final year of the contract, was seen last night by Agriculture Minister Gardiner.

"If we have a satisfactory experience with the agreement, and if they have a satisfactory experience, there is a good possibility, of a renegotiation" he told reporters following an address which ended a three-weeks' speaking tour in reformed Federal constituencies in Saskatchewan.

There was no doubt, he said, that in the final year of the contract, Canadian farmers would receive more than the $1.55 a bushel stipulated for its first two years.

In a review of Federal Agricultural policies, Mr. Gardiner said Prairie farmers—who this year had experienced the worst crop year in their history, with the exception of 1937 and possibly 1931—would receive between $16,000,000 and $20,000,000 under the Prairie Farm Assistance Act. This, added to participation paymetns for wheat to be paid this year, meant a total of $190,000,000 this year to Western farmers—as much money as they received in a good crop year.

SEES FINANCING CHANGE NEEDED IN HOSPITALS

VICTORIA, Oct. 30 (CP)—A new approach must be made to the matter of hospital management and financing, Hon. George S. Pearson, Provincial Secretary, through his deputy, R. A. Pennington, told nearly 200 delegates to the 30th annual convention of the British Columbia Hospitals' Association, which opened here Thursday.

Absent owing to health reasons, Mr. Pearson invited the Association to send any committee to him to discuss problems of the hospitals.

"The Department has under consideration the problems hospitals are facing in those two branches of hospital work and Mr. Pearson hopes that with reasonable cooperation, a solution may be found which will make it possible for hospitals in B.C. to operate efficiently and soundly," Mr. Pennington said.

J. V. Fisher of Victoria, President of the B.C. Hospitals' Association called for a comprehensive health insurance or at least hospital insurance, in order to help hospitals hurdle their difficulties.

Referring to the matter of nurses' salaries, he said that he was informed most hospitals were now paying a basic minimum wage of $140 a month.

"The increase in the salary rates, together with the increased cost of supplies is making it more and more difficult to keep institutional expenditure in line with institutional revenue," he said.

The Key to British Recovery

Coal remains the key to Britain's industrial recovery. Production depends on coal output and exports depend on production. Coal itself is needed as an export to aid the tottering economies of Europe. The needs for the coming Winter are urgent. But Britain's coal will also remain a cornerstone of both her own industrial strength and the economic health of Europe for many years to come. The problem is to balance short-term priorities with the needs of long-term development.

With a view to greater production, the National Coal Board has announced a program for the reorganization and development of the coal mining industry, which includes about 100 long-term individual pits projects, each of which will take about six years to complete and cost up to £3,000,000 ($12,000,000). At the same time certain short-term schemes are being developed, and coal-face machinery to the value of £9,000,000 ($36,000,000) has been ordered.

Lord Hyndley, Chairman of the National Coal Board, discussed the progress of the industry under nationalization in a press conference. On immediate prospects, he was inclined to be optimistic, pointing out that the holiday period is now at an end and that there is every chance that the target of 183,000,000 tons of deep-mined coal might be reached this year. The recent decline in the manpower he attributed to seasonal causes and pit accidents, and he thought there was a reasonable prospect of reaching the manpower target of 730,000.

To complaints of over-centralization he replied that the Board was decentralizing as fast as they could where they could, but he declared there were two functions that could not be decentralized—the making of national policy and serving as a nerve centre through which the divisional boards can adjust their policy with each other.

Lord Hyndley thought efforts to effect an immediate increase in coal production had not been without success, notwithstanding the setback of two serious unofficial strikes. The East Midlands Division alone produced 1,000,000 tons more in the first six months of 1947 than in the same period of 1946 and 487,745 tons more during the first 13 weeks with the five-day week than in the same period last year. The whole industry in the first 17 weeks of the five-day week produced 875,600 tons more than the previous year, with an increase in output per man-shift of .06 overall. In this period the average labor force was 717,600, compared with 699,300 the previous year. From the beginning of the year to August 23 the output of deep-mined coal had exceeded last year's by 4,244,100 tons and the average overall output per man-shift had increased by 3.9 per cent.

The Board has placed before the country a statement of production plans which illustrates that the problem is one of conflicting priorities. The urgent requirement for immediate increased production has to be balanced against the importance of creating as rapidly as possible a balanced and fully efficient industry. The planning of a substantial program of long-term plans can only be justified if it does not interfere unduly with overriding short-term necessities.

For short-term developments there are many pits where a reasonable expenditure of £200,000 to £300,000 ($800,000 to $1,200,000) in two or three years would yield a big return. Such schemes are being given priority over bigger projects involving expenditure of more than £1,000,000 ($4,000,000) which might not yield return for six or seven years.

In addition, the Board has an intensive mechanization program already under way. Orders for coal-face machinery alone to the value of £9,000,000 ($36,000,000) have already been placed, and where necessary, machines and materials are being pooled and allocated to the Board to give maximum results.

Of long-term plans, each of which will take about six years to complete and cost up to £3,000,000 ($12,000,000), the Board hopes to have some 20 in hand by the end of next year and some 10 more annually in each of the following eight years, a total of 100 projects for the whole program. The number in progress will reach a peak of 60 by 1945, and all will be completed by 1962.

Letter to Minister Criticizes Search for Plane

The Right Honorable The Minister of Transportation, Ottawa:

Sir—I am confident that I am voicing the opinion of every adult in the Inonoaklin-Edgewood Valley in drawing your attention to the utter lack of common sense and organization displayed in the search for the missing photographic B-25 plane from Calgary to Penticton, B. C., Oct. 18, 1947.

This is the 11th day and to date there has been no official ground search party sent out. Yet, on Tuesday, Oct. 21, flares were reported having been seen by reputable adults, and the local constable and forest warden, after making minute inquiries, went out and plotted the point by means of triangulation.

Every clear night these flares are seen.

I know for a fact that this information was wirelessed and phoned to Nelson to be relayed to Penticton.

People here are very worked up and indignant, and rightly so, for nine lives are at stake.

Private parties have gone with pack horses and supplies, also wireless lent by the Forestry Department, which seems to be the only Department that is interested. These 20 men offered their services free and are supplying everything, though all are leaving profitable employment to do so. They have asked for someone in authority to take charge and organize the relief parties, but no such person has been sent.

We would all like to know who is responsible for this gross negligence.

I am sending a copy of this letter to the Nelson, Vancouver and Victoria papers.

EVELINE DE COURCY MEADE.

Today's Horoscope

The November birthstone is the topaz, meaning fidelity. The flower is the chrysanthemum, and the colors are dark blue and red. You are a great reader, an interesting conversationalist, and always appear at ease. You are adaptable to environment and circumstances, quick-witted, capable and trustworthy to the minutest detail. You are both loving and lovable, very fond of your home life, and you enjoy everything. Your birthday influences are adverse. Even though things are well done, they may not please. Quarrels are indicated, or trouble through careless talk. Use caution. In your next year, endeavor not to jeopardize your success by carelessness or other actions inimical to receiving valuable aid from others. Hard work will yield better permanent results than pleasure-seeking. Today's child will be very ingenious, jealous and cunning, and the degree of success attained will largely depend on his or her own actions and attitude toward life and people.

HOROSCOPE FOR SUNDAY

You are both bold and ambitious, and have high ideals. You are positive in your ideas and make an enemy rather than make any compromise. You are critical and very relentless in your punishment of wrong. Your mate will have to be tactful, and have great understanding to make your home happy. Your birthday will be adverse for health, occupational pursuits and outside contacts. Your next year will be productive of many totally unexpected events and reversals in business, love and family matters. Exercise caution and the utmost discretion; refuse unnecessary risks and defer changes if possible. Born on this date, a child will have many battles to fight, physically, mentally and spiritually, tintoward events frequently affecting life and outlook. This is an unfortunate nativity.

HOME CAN HELP SCHOOL

An appeal to parents to cooperate with educational authorities, issued from Ottawa, is based on the need for continuation in the home of classroom training in such matters as punctuality, team-play and discipline.

At school children learn that they must abide by accepted rules of social behavior for personal benefit as well as for collective well being. Parents can further this type of training by ensuring that principles of sportsmanship and cooperation are honored in the home.—Kitchener Record.

BUILDING TRIPLE TUNNEL

The British Minister of Transport formally initiated work on a big post-war reconstruction project recently. This is taking the form of a triple tunnel under the River Tyne, which will mean easier access and better transport facilities for the big industrial area around Newcastle. It will provide separate tunnels for vehicles, cyclists and pedestrians, each about 900 feet long. There will also be special approach roads four miles in length linking the tunnels with the main traffic routes on either side of the river. An interesting innovation will twin escalators at each entrance similar to those used in the London Underground stations. This is the first example in Britain of elevators being provided for cyclists.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

ERRATA

To follow "Old Hoss" along must be a habit with a lot of people. Certainly his words of wisdom are recounted many times in my presence.

I was particularly interested in his recent column on errors, typographical and otherwise, that occur in newspapers. Perhaps close association with the writing business gives some of us a greater understanding of how such boners occur. To put it in simpler language: we've usually made some ourselves.

In a recent issue of "Western Business and Industry," a responsible Coast magazine with a large circulation, an article on Nelson's Jubilee by a gifted Nelson writer contained three glaring errors at first glance. The title of the article made the Jubilee Nelson's 60th anniversary instead of the 50th; one picture caption showed the Queen City in 1861; another placed you Nelson people right at the junction of the Kootenay and Columbia Rivers. A casual and uninitiated reader might condemn the author and the magazine at first glance; anyone who has done any writing knows better.

As a matter of fact, a newspaper without errors makes frightfully dull reading, as witness the number of newspaper "boner" columns which grace even such outstanding magazines as Reader's Digest.

It is a rather odd commentary on the whole business of newspaper errors that the papers which are the most careful pull the most spectacular and amusing boners when they do slip. A case in point is the classic that will go into history with the New York Times.

The story has it that a very brilliant and unorthodox music critic on the staff of the paper one day included in his review of a symphony concert the sentence: "One giant of a man in the percussion section sat at the tympani gazing down at his navel like an over-inflated Buddha."

Now this critic had reached such an eminence with readers of the Times that his stuff no longer went through the rewrite desk, but had clear passage, without any editing, to the composing room. Before any other member of the editorial staff had seen it the story was set, the mats had been made, and the stereotypes were on the great cylinders, ready to roll the paper off.

Just as a matter of routine, the first pages of the paper were taken directly from the press room to the Managing Editor for final check before the presses started to roll. As the great man ran his eye casually over the paper this day he happened, by the sheerest accident, to light upon this sentence in the music critic's column.

"Good lord!" he yelped. "This can't go through. We can't publish such a thing without risking a libel suit."

Pandemonium reigned. It was obviously impossible to reset the whole page without delaying the paper considerably. After hurried consultations and frenzied conferences, the Managing Editor roared out into the pressroom demanding that they do something—anything—but fix that sentence and get the paper out on time.

The foreman of the pressroom, rattled by the commotion and pressure, did the natural thing. Seizing a chisel, he went to work on the stereo and chiselled out what he understood to be the offensive matter—the word "navel".

And the staid, correct New York Times that day printed its thousands of copies bearing the sentence: "One giant of a man in the percussion section sat at the tympani gazing down at his ——— like an over-inflated Buddha."

Elizabeth Pays Tribute to Commonwealth

GLASGOW, Oct. 31 (CP)—Princess Elizabeth Thursday paid tribute to the "affection and loyalty" of the Commonwealth as she launched the 34,000-ton North Atlantic liner Caronia.

A sharp burst of cold rain fell as the Princess pressed a trigger to start the towering grey and red-brown hull into the water. The first to wave as the Cunard-White Star Line vessel shuddered and started to move was Lieut. Philip Mountbatten, the Princess' fiance.

In a brief speech the Princess expressed happiness that on her third visit to Clydebank "my future husband is by my side."

"Lieut. Mountbatten and I are here at a time when, in spite of all Great Britain's achievements, she is confronted with difficulties and dangers of a kind we never had to face before," she said.

As in 1940, when the United Kingdom stood alone, "we have got to win this battle ourselves."

"We have gratefully learned in the last few months that we can count on the support of the Commonwealth and Empire just as surely in peace as we could in war," she continued.

"I cannot speak too highly of the eagerness with which they have sought to help us, so often at their own expense . . . in the assistance which they have given their Mother Country the Dominions and Colonies have shown an affection and loyalty Britain will never forget."

KEEP SPIRIT

She appealed to workers to keep alive the spirit of unity "which kept us from despondency and brightened our darkest days in the war."

"It is only by putting claims of our country far above our personal feelings that we can win through as surely as we did before," she said.

The Caronia, with cabin and first classes, will have a capacity for 1000 passengers. She is the second ship of the name built by John Brown's. The first Caronia, of 20,000 tons, was launched 43 years ago.

John Brown has been dickering with Canadian Pacific Steamships to build a 20,000-tonner on the ways left vacant by the Caronia, but W. M. Neal, Canadian Pacific Railway President, who has just completed a United Kingdom tour, said he found shipbuilding prices were too high.

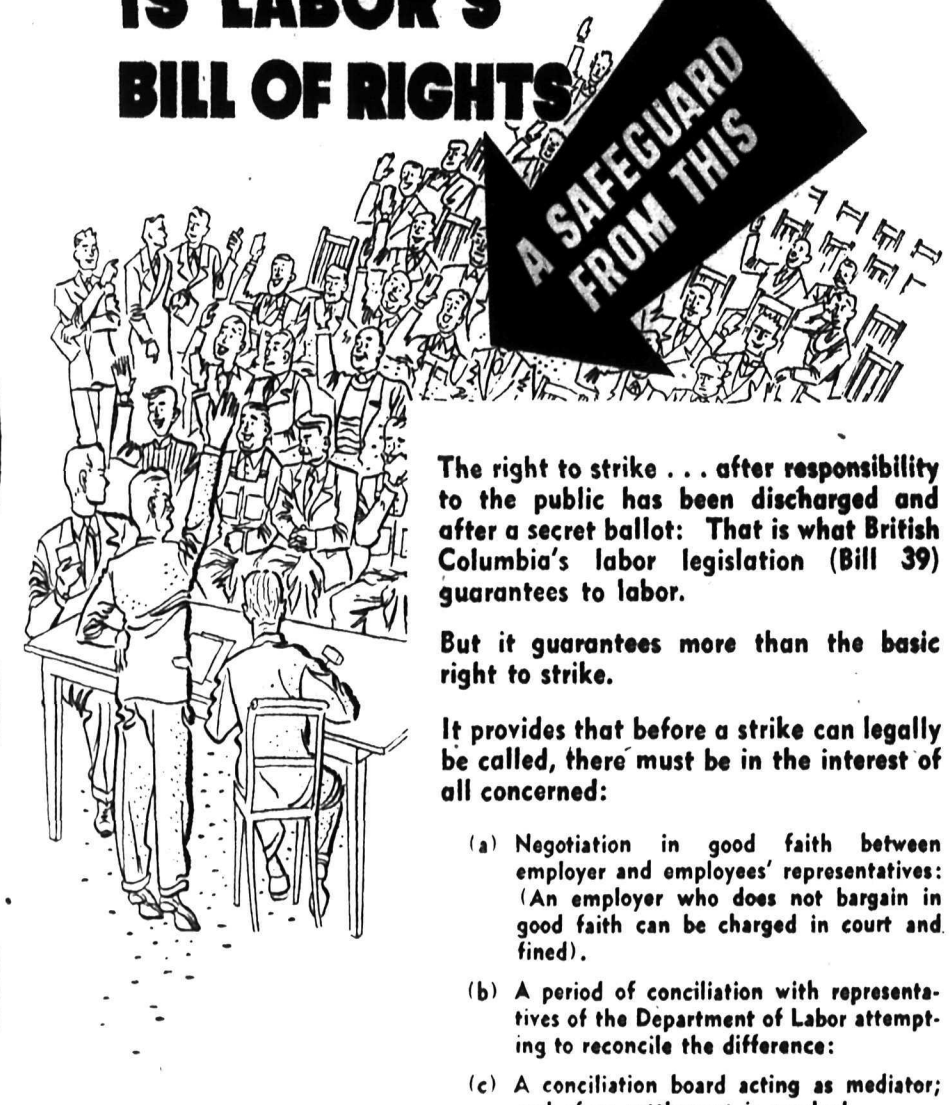
"PUBLIC INQUIRIES ACT" — SCHOOL TAXATION

School Taxation Commission

TAKE NOTICE that meetings of the Commission will be held at 10:00 A.M. and 2:00 P.M. on November 6 and 7 in the Council Chambers.

Why "BILL 39" IS LABOR'S BILL OF RIGHTS



The right to strike . . . after responsibility to the public has been discharged and after a secret ballot: That is what British Columbia's labor legislation (Bill 39) guarantees to labor.

But it guarantees more than the basic right to strike.

It provides that before a strike can legally be called, there must be in the interest of all concerned:

(a) Negotiation in good faith between employer and employees' representatives: (An employer who does not bargain in good faith can be charged in court and fined).

(b) A period of conciliation with representatives of the Department of Labor attempting to reconcile the difference:

(c) A conciliation board acting as mediator; and, if no settlement is reached

(d) A government-supervised secret ballot of employees affected to determine whether or not they want to take strike action.

Note: "Bill 39" is not perfect legislation. No one claims it is. Where necessary it can be improved by orderly and democratic action in the Legislature. The public approves its basic provisions.

THE ONLY THING NEW IN THIS PROCEDURE IS THE SUPERVISED SECRET BALLOT ON STRIKE ACTION.

It is a reform designed to free labor from the possibility of pressure and intimidation that can exist where there is open, show-of-hands balloting, often at small, unrepresentative meetings where a minority could impose its wishes on the rank and file.

It brings the democratic secret ballot to employees faced with a critical decision.

WHY SHOULD THE SECRET BALLOT BE OPPOSED?

apprenticeship under Ed Bruchet of the noted junior team, Lethbridge Native Sons, and last season with the Veterans' organization in Great Falls, Mont. Saw some hockey while serving in the Army. Bob is 23, stands at five feet 10½ in his socks and weighs 160.

Don McLean — Teamed up with Bob Irvine last season in Great Falls, and also grew up in the Ed Bruchet school at Lethbridge. Just 21, he tips the scales at 160 and his height is five feet nine.

Pete Smith — He'll be 27 this December and he played for Wembley Lions in London the past two seasons. Five feet six and 150 pounds, Pete served in the Army overseas from 1940 on, came home in 1945, and returned the same year to join the Lions. He learned his hockey in Winnipeg, playing in his early years for St. James Canadian Midgets. His first senior team was St. Boniface Tigers.

Bob Lunney — Another "old boy," Bob weighs 170, stands five feet nine and has been in circulation for 28 years. Centreman, he played at the Coast for three years and is another Winnipeg product.

Roy Allen — Joined the Leafs last season after seeing a bit of the world. Came here from San Diego after a spell in Coast hockey. Roy also grew up on skates in Winnipeg where he played up to junior ranks, joining the St. Boniface squad, then hitting for Moose Jaw and Navy at Halifax before going on to San Diego. Admits to 26 years, 155 pounds weight and five feet 7½ height.

WINNIPEG AGAIN!

The next three boys all hail from the Gateway to the West, all coming here from junior ranks in Winnipeg or its immediate vicinity for the 1945-46 season.

Johnny Fargher — Now 22, 170 pounds and five feet 8½.

Spence Tatchell — Now 23, 160 pounds and five feet eight.

Bill Vickers — Now 23, 160 pounds and five feet eight.

Local products are:

Doug Winlaw — Of M.R.K. fame in Nelson kid leagues, aged 24, weighs 145 and is five feet nine. Doug made the Leafs last season and was a regular winger.

Al (Swede) Larsen — The pride of Salmo, for that's where he first took to the ice. He played his first organized hockey at Nanaimo in junior circles, then the Army. Just 21, he is a hefty winger at 187 pounds and six feet in height. Has also tried defence.

24 Seek Olympic Puck Chasing

OTTAWA, Oct. 31 (CP)—Swelling the number of tryouts for the R.C.A.F. Olympic hockey team to 24, two new prospects have arrived from Winnipeg and Camp Borden, Ont.

The former was Flt. Lt. Robbie Robson, 31, 180-pound goalie from Transcona, Man., who played junior hockey with the Winnipeg Rangers in 1936-37, minded nets for R.C.A.F. teams overseas and played in Winnipeg again last year.

From Camp Borden came Lac. Ivan Gray, 22, of Hamiota, Man., who played junior Manitoba hockey in 1941-42, served with the Army overseas and played in Calgary last year. He is a right-winger.

Further prospects are expected to arrive this week to bolster the team coach George (Buck) Boucher is training as Canada's entry in the Olympic Games at St. Moritz, Switzerland, next January and February

Brutal Beating Given Mauriello

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP) — Gus Lesnevich, the light-heavyweight champion, gave Tami Mauriello a brutal beating in Madison Square Garden tonight and forced Referee Ruby Goldstein to halt the massacre early in the seventh round to save the bulbous Bronx heavyweight further punishment. Lesnevich weighed 180½, Mauriello 201½.

The final round was only 33 seconds old when Goldstein took pity on the reeling, bloody Mauriello and stepped between the two men. The crowd had been yelling for him to stop it even before the sixth round closed.

Lesnevich, scoring his fourth straight victory over his larger rival, won every round by wide margins and had Mauriello in trouble as early as the second stanza. At the finish the 32-year-old veteran from Cliffside, N.J., was unmarked, while Mauriello's face was a bloody mask.

CHICAGO, Oct. 31 (AP)—Marcel Cerdan, European middleweight champion, tonight survived three last round knockdowns and maintained his perfect United States ring record with a loudly-booed 10-round decision over Anton Raadik of Estonia before 9172 fans at Chicago Stadium.

Cerdan weighed 160, Raadick 161½.

RYDER CUP MATCHES OPEN TODAY

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 31 (AP)—Capt. Henry Cotton, paired with Arthur Lees, will lead Britain's quest for the Ryder Cup in tomorrow's opening matches in the revival of the international golfing event at Portland Golf Club course.

The Britons will tee off in the first match of the Scotch foursomes against Ed Oliver and Lew Worsham, the latter United States open champion.

Fred Daly of Ireland, British open and professional title holder, was Cotton's choice to team up with Charles Ward of England, and this pair will meet Sam Snead and the former United States open champion, Lloyd Mangrum.

Ben Hogan, captain of the United States squad, paired himself with Jimmy Demaret, reliable links veteran, and will meet James Adams of Scotland and Max Faulkner of England.

TORONTO, Oct. 31 (CP) — Frank Boucher, Manager and Coach of New York Rangers of the National Hockey League, said tonight he had not been able to persuade winger Roy Conacher to reconsider a retirement decision but that he had "not given up."

Boucher said the question of salary had nothing to do with Conacher's decision to quit hockey. Conacher, traded to Rangers by Detroit Red Wings, had been "satisfied" with the offer made him by Rangers but had decided not to continue in hockey.

Increased Money for Fish, Game Projects Likely Convention Told

Speaking before the West Kootenay Rod and Gun zone convention at Rossland Wednesday night, J. L. Webster, M.L.A. for Rossland-Trail, raised hopes of the likelihood of increased appropriations from the provincial treasury for fish and game projects. He called for a clear cut policy from the zone to present to the Provincial House.

Mr. Webster, a sportsman himself, told the gathering of West Kootenay game heads that "the situation in the House is better — that there is more interest shown by M.L.A.'s than ever before."

The speaker reiterated that "some headway has been made" in recognition of the fish and wildlife resources in the Province and promised that he would "go to work in the House" on the problems of the District Rod and Gun clubs if they were presented to him in writing.

B.C. Game Commissioner, J. G. Cunningham, suggested that the Rod and Gun clubs in the Province could benefit from better relations between their district members.

"You have made friends with your M.L.A.," Mr. Cunningham told the convention, adding that "this is not being done in all of the Province." The Commissioner also hinted that expenditures on the Game Department this year would be in the neighborhood of a half million dollars. He disclosed that some $615,000 had been voted for fish and game undertakings in 1947.

TELLS ACHIEVEMENTS

Mr. Cunningham lauded the success of the Harrison Hot Springs convention last Spring. He stated that he would like to see similar conventions carried on from year to year.

The Commissioner pointed out that some of the recommendations endorsed at Harrison had already been acted upon by the Game Commission and that others would bring action in time.

Prior to the address from the speakers, hunting and fishing stories were rife. Each delegate was called to say something from his club and since almost everything had been threshed out at the afternoon session the banquet room took on the atmosphere of a friendly liar's club. Little remained of the intensity shown at the discussion of resolutions earlier. Fantastic tales of shooting a deer, a covey of turkeys and a flock of quail with one shot, was told by B. Hummon of the Nakusp Rod and Gun Club. Jack Bailey of Nelson pantomined a duck hunting catastrophe, and many equally amusing stories were heard.

SAVE FOR SONS

J. J. (Mickey) McEwen, immediate past president of the zone, spoke in more serious vein. Mr. McEwen urged the banqueters to perpetuate the cause of wildlife through conservation and education of their youngsters to the ways of the trail. "The thing is," he said, "that we should not just save the game for ourselves but some for those who are not yet born."

Mayor J. R. Corner of Rossland welcomed the visitors. He lauded the conservation policy adopted by the zone and gave his best wishes for the success of the convention.

TELLS OF SURVEY

Ralph H. Imler of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Association of Portland, guest speaker cited experiences from field work in Alaska and the States in connection with determining the food eaten by birds and game of the regions covered in his studies.

Mr. Imler headed a survey group to Alaska in 1945-46 to study the food habits of birds and animals there and it was from their findings that he spoke.

Mr. Imler said that in 1917 a bounty was paid on all Bald Eagles shot in Alaska because it was believed that the birds were predatory and hence a menace to other wildlife. The bounty was paid until the survey proved the eagle to be a fish eater in most cases, Imler stated. Close study of over a 1000 stomachs revealed that 84 per cent of the birds lived solely on dead fish.

The Alaskan hair seal in the opinion of the survey group was a menace to the fishing trade inasmuch as they inhabited river mouths where salmon congregated and depended on the fish as mainstays of their diet. Predator hunters have been employed to cut down on their numbers, Mr. Imler said.

Speaking of predatory animals in the United States Mr. Imler said that the only serious ones encountered were the coyote and the bobcat. The predators always preyed on game that was easiest to kill and therefore were not difficult to keep in control, the speaker said.

TO OPPOSE DUCK LAKE DRAINAGE

Of interest to the convention was the controls which the wildlife associations had brought into effect governing hydro-electric development on fish inhabited stream. Mr. Imler said that construction of any dams or similar water obstruction had to comply with findings of the game associations before they were approved. It was stated that hydro-electric companies in general were cooperative and satisfactory settlements were the usual outcome.

Mr. Imler stated that he would sit on the future Duck Lake Commission at Creston and speak in opposition to drainage of the lake.

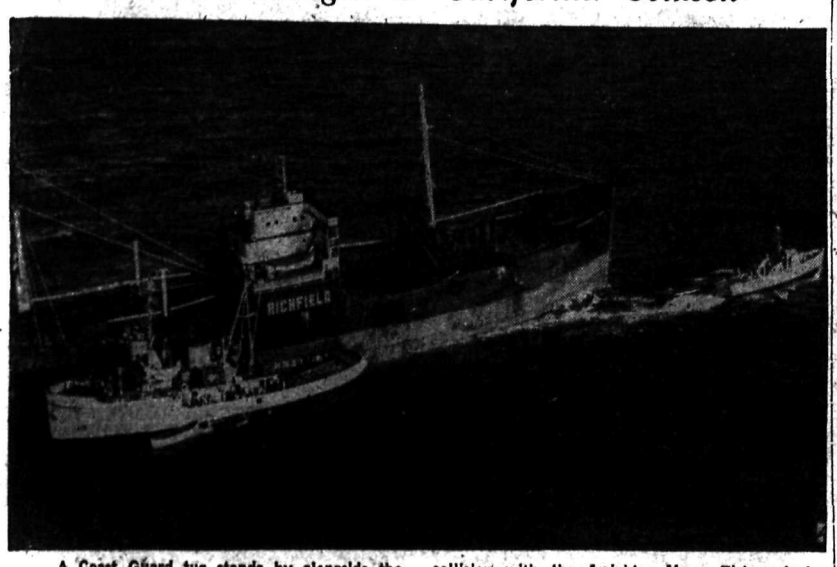
Tanker Damaged in California Collison



A Coast Guard tug stands by alongside the Richfield tanker Sparrows Point near Monterey, Calif., after a fire aboard (forward), started by a collision with the freighter Manx Fisher, had been extinguished. Note hole ripped in forward deck. Three members of her crew were injured.

OBSERVING THE LAW — Gloria Whelan, Long Island horsewoman, and a former West Point steed conform to law requiring saddle horses to be lit, fore and aft, when abroad after dark in Nassau County, New York.

Witness

Mrs. Lela Rogers, mother of actress Ginger Rogers, testifies in Washington before the House Un-American Activities Committee during its probe of Communist activities in Hollywood. —AP Wirephoto.

The name "witch-hazel" is derived from the use of the shrubs' twigs as divining rods. Extract of witch-hazel is prepared from the leaves of the shrub, which is found in North America from Texas to Nova Scotia.

Soft and and hard pines from the far Western States are distinct from the heavier, harder, more pithy yellow pines fro mthe South. Soft pine supplied for many years the major lumber requirements of the United States.

. . . Teddy Tried to "Fix" Arbitration
. . . Told Britain Canada Mustn't Win

"The Alska Boundary dispute, now almost half a century old, was the last occasion when an American President, walking none too softly, carried the big stick against us."

This is the one and only sentence in George Ferguson's article, "Are the Yanks Invading Canada?" in Sept. 1 Maclean's in which the Managing Editor of the Montreal Star, a former Nelson schoolboy, mentions a threat of force.

His article, a plea for common sense in regard to accepting Uncle Sam's help in joint continental defense, and against the wild-eyed alarmists, who opposed allowing American detachments in Canada to be under American military courts, is so obviously soundly based on Canada's self-interest, that I am going to make no further reference to it, but only to the secret history—though Mr. Ferguson does not refer to it as such—behind an arbitration that Canada lost.

Probably not one Canadian in a hundred has ever heard about that secret chapter. Personally, I've read about it only once—in an article in Maclean's by Prof. Wrong, probably 20 years ago.

Let me sketch the background.

When I was a youth, both before and after Laurier came into power, there was hardly a daily paper in the United States that did not act as though Britain—invariably called England—was the national enemy., to be opposed, ridiculed, flouted on every possible occasion and in every conceivable manner. President Cleveland in his message to Congress on Venezuela, about 1894, talked of war with England in defence of the Monroe Doctrine. About all that happened from that was that U. S. markets all crashed, for British statesmen habitually discounted American spread-eagleism.

The first let-up in American criticism of Britain in 120 years came when Britain kept the European continental powers from intervening when the United States attacked Spain following the blowing up of the Maine in Havana Harbor — attributed everywhere but in the U. S. to the Cuban Junta. It was also claimed the British fleet in Manila Harbor kept the German fleet from firing on the Americans, by steaming in between. Some U. S. papers suggested that Uncle Sam should pay over the money it owed Canada on the Bering Sea Arbitration.

Vituperation was resumed, however, when the Boer Republics invaded Cape Colony, and politicians and newspapers equally denounced British "oppression" of the Boers. Senator Frye proposed that the United States seize Canada, arguing that it could easily be accomplished. Responsible American papers of course pronounced this speech foolish. However, we had the same kind of sensationalists on our side of the line, and Robert Gourley, a Nova Scotia M.P., proposed that Canada seize the United States.

Canada's Yukon Gold Rush was on in full force in 1898, and for at least a part of it the jumping off place and exit were in Alaska. Teddy Roosevelt, hero of San Juan, and ex-Governor of New York, became President on McKinley's assassination at Buffalo, in the Fall of 1901. Previously no one had cared where the Yukon ended and Alaska began, but the United States pushed its agents into the disputed territory.

This was clearly a case of arbitration, and the Hay-Pauncefote treaty was signed, for an arbitration by "six impartial jurists," three to be appointed by each side.

U. S. MEN ALL COMMITTED

The chances of Canada winning looked pretty small, however, when the U. S. appointees were announced as Elihu Root, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, and Senator George Turner. I am not criticising these men as poor jurists—I consider Root later was the greatest Secretary of State Uncle Sam has had since John Hay; Lodge was a historian and professor, and three of his volumes I've read, on the Revolutionary War, struck me as moderate and enlightened; and Turner, a great Seattle lawyer and lawmaker, was an undoubted authority on Alaska, and its great champion in Congress. But al lthree of these men were the opposite of "impartial," for all along they championed the boundary claim made by the U.S.

The British commissioners were duly announced as Sir Louis Jette, Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec; another great Canadian lawyer whose name I have forgotten, but who died before he could serve, and was succeeded by Alan Aylesworth; and Lord Alverstone, British Lord Chancellor.

When the London sittings were terminated, with Alverstone and the three Americans finding for the American view and signing the award, and the two Canadians refusing to sign, I well remember the storm of anger all over Canada. It seemed to us Winnipeg newspapermen, as well as to everyone else, that "Britain has sold us out again to the States."

But after the meeting of Parliament, we had to acquit Britain. At first Sir Wilfred Laurier refused to give Parliament the correspondence between Ottawa and Downing Street following the naming of the U. S. commissioners, on the ground that it could not be given without Downing Streets' consent. But it was stated in the British House of Commons, in answer to a question, that the British Government would have no objection to Canada making the correspondence public. So it had to come out.

NOT BRITAIN'S DOING

What came out was that Alverstone was not Britain's choice, but Canada's. The Colonial Secretary—that was before there was a Dominions Secretary—had advised Canada to appoint three Canadians who would be as prejudiced in favor of Canada's contention, as the three Americans were in favor of the U. S. contention. All that would happen then, would be a 3-3 disagreement, with a chance later for an outside arbitration. Laurier, it was shown, refused Downing Street's advice, and made a fine gesture toward British connection by rounding out the commission with Alverstone.

We now arrive at the secret history, which perhaps 25 years later was dug out by Prof. Wrong, and set forth in an article in MacLean's.

Prof. Wrong, by putting two and two together, along with one or two references in American biographical books, established that Roosevelt had sent word by a private emissary, to the British Foreign Secretary, who at that time was abroad in Europe, that under no conditions would the United States permit Canada to have the disputed territory, if she should be awarded it.

The supposed "square deal" was originated under Theodore Roosevelt. He swung a big stick in proximity to all public malefactors, campaigned as a trust-buster, and was supposed to be devoted to the ideals of fair play. But that is the way he played the game with Canada.

It was established by Prof. Wrong that the British Prime Minister knew of the threat.

On whether the British Prime Minister and his right hand man, the Foreign Secretary, ever communicated so much as a whisper to Lord Alverstone, Prof. Wrong found no evidence.

They are all dead. Personally I can't imagine them doing it.

ALVERSTONE HAD CHANCE

However, it was the general impression in Canadian legal circles at that time that Lord Alverstone went to the commission with his mind already made up. Prominent Canadian lawyers who used to appear before the Judical Committee of the Privy Council, circulated the belief that Lord Alverstone—previously Sir Richard Webster—could never be moved from his original impression, whatever it was. I know that was said to have been the view of J. S. Ewart, prominent Winnipeg lawyer, who had so much of that work to do that he removed to Ottawa, to devote himself to it exclusively.

One well known Canadian historical work suggests that Alverstone figured that it was to Canada's and Britain's interest to have this cause of friction out of the way, and it would not be out of the way if he supported the Canadian contention.

Unfortunately, by Laurier's inability to take sound advice, he was in a position to end the matter. The actual decision was a compromise, but it was Canada's claims that were compromised.

Today the International Joint Commission is happily a permanent body, and the possibility of boundary acrimony seems definitely over.
