

8th Army Secures Bridgehead on Sangro River

By EDWARD KENNEDY
Associated Press War Correspondent

ALGIERS, Nov. 25 (AP) — The British 8th Army has smashed across the Sangro River on a five-mile front near the Adriatic Seacoast and firmly established itself on the North side of that last important water barrier before Rome in the face of bloody counter-attacks by German troops who were ordered to hold the stream at all costs, Allied Headquarters announced today.

Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's veteran fighters penetrated the enemy's bristling "Winter line" to a depth of 2,000 yards in overcoming what a military spokesman described as "four enemies—rain, mud, a very swollen river and a very determined enemy."

The spectacular battle raged for several days, a communiqué said.

The bridgehead, established in the lowland area near the Sangro's mouth, includes the sites of a destroyed railroad trestle and two highway bridges, which Allied engineers were rushing to restore so reinforcements and supplies could pour across to Gen. Montgomery's assault troops.

Although the progress thus far made represents a sizeable bite out of the enemy's defence-in-depth, much bitter fighting confronts the British, Canadian and Indian regiments of the 8th Army before they crack the German line. The Canadians are on the mountainous left flank of the 8th.

HURL TANKS FORWARD

German broadcasts reported that the 8th had established a bridgehead and was fighting forward with the aid of tanks that had been brought across the swollen river. Gen. Montgomery's feat in crossing the Sangro and gaining a solid, armor-enforced foothold against a strongly entrenched enemy appeared to have been one of the most remarkable achievements of the Italian campaign.

Official sources reported that the crack 6th Infantry Division was thrown against the advancing Allies repeatedly from the high ground overlooking the river, but was bloodily repulsed. Prisoners from this division said they had strict orders to throw the attackers back into the torrent.

At two to five miles back from the Sangro, hills rise abruptly to between 300 and 1,600 feet and are ideally adapted for machine gun, mortar and artillery emplacements commanding the entire valley and the river.

By a quirk of geography, this initial onslaught against the enemy's powerful defenses is being made at a point farther North than Rome, but nearly the width of the Italian peninsula separates the 8th Army vanguard from the eternal city.

Near the centre of the Italian front other 8th Army units, who on the previous day took the burned and deserted town of Alfedena, were reported engaged in brick and mortar fighting with the Nazis West of Castel di Sangro which is about five miles Northeast of Alfedena. Only artillery exchange and patrol clashes enlivened the mixed-down 8th Army front.

GOOD AERIAL SUPPORT

British and American fighters and fighter-bombers braved storms to give close support to the 8th Army as it consolidated its bridgehead across the Sangro.

Fighter-bombers from dawn to dusk blasted the enemy's trench systems and gun positions in the hills around the towns of Santa Maria, Lanzano and Morza Grappa, all within a few miles of the Sangro near the Adriatic. The enemy made only one attempt to retaliate with a small force of Focke-Wulf 109s, but they were driven off by Spitfires.

Board to Reserve Judgment on N.S. Wage Question

OTTAWA, Nov. 25 (CP) — The National War Labor Board indicated today it would reserve judgment in an application by District 28 of the United Mine Workers in three large Nova Scotia coal mines.

Mr. Justice C. P. McTague, chairman, said at adjournment that the Board was prepared to reserve judgment but that it would meet again tomorrow to hear any comment either side had to make in connection with demands for increases in wages and changes in working conditions.

The application—seeking an increase of $1.35 over the present basic day rate of $3.90, proportionate increases in other rates and payment of time and one-half for holidays and double time for Sundays—is opposed by the company.

Found Guilty of Murdering Baby

ALMA, Neb., Nov. 25 (AP) — A district court jury made up mostly of middle-aged farmers today found Dale L. Cramer, 34-year-old Orleans, Neb., farmer, guilty of the first-degree murder of his month-old daughter, who he confessed killing by placing "just a pinch" of poison in the baby's formula because it kept him awake nights and because its care affected his wife's health.

DEATH TOLL IN SHELTERS HIGH IN BERLIN

Life Emerges Slowly Says Traveller; Kitchens Set Up
FEEL "HATRED"

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 25 (Friday) (AP)—Scenes of death and panic in Berlin air raid shelters this week were described today by reliable eyewitnesses, one of whom said half of all such shelters had been hit.

A Finnish diplomat who reached Sweden said that of 31 persons in his air raid shelter, only three escaped death.

When people became panic-stricken in another shelter, the warden threatened to shoot all if they did not remain quiet, it was said. He fired several shots into the wall as a warning.

The Berlin correspondent of the Helsinki newspaper Helsingin Sanomat said Berlin today "looks like the remains of a battlefield a long time under strong artillery fire."

He added, however, "Berlin is not a dead city and life is emerging slowly."

The great sprawling metropolis which tourists knew has ceased to exist.

That seemed certain today on the basis of eyewitness reports piling up since the R.A.F. and U.S.A.F. shattered the administrative centre of Hitler's Nazi-occupied Europe.

Explosives and fire wiped out block after block of buildings including many historic landmarks, ripping a great area of destruction through the heart of the city, starting at obliterated Ruhleben and running East and Northeast.

German officials, who rushed in firemen from other cities and army pioneer units to combat seas of flames, face an acute problem in evacuating homeless and dazed Berliners, reports to the Swedish press said.

The Stockholm correspondent of the Stockholm's Aftonbladet, in the first heavily-censored telephone dispatch from Berlin in the last 48 hours, said the problem of feeding the population was serious, and that army field kitchens were being set up throughout the city.

The most serious problem was increased in boiler rooms, he said.

This censored dispatch described Berliners as "not discouraged" by the raids, but showing "intense hatred toward the British."

The newspaper Aftonbladet's said Gauseliter Goerlitz described some reports of casualty figures as "fantastic," but then declared:

"The exact figure cannot be given, but if I mention the figure of 10,000 killed I would sooner be too high than too low. We have no reason to belittle the losses. We are strong enough to see the truth, particularly as our reprisal weapon against England soon will be launched."

"The face of Berlin is changed today," said the Lokal Anzeiger, first German paper reaching Stockholm describing the ruins. "There are lines of suffering in the face of Berlin, but it will take a long time before they disappear."

Eyewitness accounts gave this picture of destruction in Berlin:

Virtually every building on the left side of the Wilhelmstrasse, from Wilhelmplatz to Unter den Linden, was destroyed or damaged, except for the Reich's Chancellery.

Nazi centres damaged included Dr. Alfred Rosenberg's staff buildings for ruling the occupied East, located in the former Russian Embassy on Unter den Linden; Reichsmarschall Hermann Goering's Luftwaffe building, and Gestapo headquarters on Prinz Albrechtstrasse.

Heavy ruin was spread over the Alexander Platz and Winterfeldt Platz, with the great Kaufhaus Tietz department store on Alexander Platz fired, the St. Matthias Church on Winterfeldt Platz destroyed; the telephone centre for continental calls on Winterfeldtstrasse just North of the square damaged, and both sides of the square running South of the square ruined.

Hits were scored on the SS barracks near the corner of Hohenstaufenstrasse and Muenchstrasse, and the Sportplatz on Potsdamerstrasse, a Nazi rallying ground.

Reception Centres Prepare to Receive Millions
ALERT IN LONDON

By GLADWIN HILL
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Nov. 25 (AP) — The two saturation assaults on Berlin by the R.A.F. and U.S.A.F., followed by swift Mosquito bomber strikes Wednesday night in a third consecutive night of raiding raised the prospect tonight that large sections of the capital may be abandoned.

Martine Bormann, Deputy Chief of the Nazi Party and one of Hitler's designated successors, was reported to have told Gauleiters in German reception centres to prepare for 3,000,000 to 4,000,000 in evacuees. This is practically the entire population of Berlin but it was not made clear whether Bormann referred only to evacuees from the capital.

RADIOS SHUT DOWN
German radios shut down again tonight indicating new Allied forays into the Reich.

The Pas-De-Calais area and Cherbourg peninsula were bombed during the day by British medium bombers and Mosquitoes bombed objectives in Normandy. The Cherbourg docks were attacked by Whirlwind bombers escorted by Spitfires. Five were lost in these operations and one enemy aircraft was destroyed.

Canadian Spitfires supported RAF operations in the Pas De Calais area and damaged a freight train during offensive patrols over Holland, leaving one plane, an RCAF communication reported.

London had its first alert tonight since last Saturday, but no aircraft or gunfire were heard. There was a vivid flash in the sky over one district during the alert.

Later, the flash was explained as caused by a barrage balloon which exploded in flames. Bombs fell near a village on the Coast of East Angles.

After suddenly blacking out, the DNB transmitter in Germany reported to the air about 2:15 p.m. earlier than on the three previous nights.

The idea of wholesale evacuation of Berlin, the fountainhead of Germany's war effort, is unprecedented. Gauleiter Goerlitz was said to have estimated the dead at 8000 to 10,000, one third as many persons as were acknowledged killed in the bombing of Hamburg.

Telephone communications in the capital were cut off.

Shortage of Turkeys and Christmas Trees in Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, Nov. 25 (CP) — A scarcity of both turkeys and Christmas trees was reported today. The Manitoba turkey crop was reported 30 to 50 per cent less than a year ago but it is expected there will be a plentiful supply of chickens.

Needs of the armed services, both at home and abroad, will be taken care of first. The Department of Munitions and Supply has ordered more than 5,000,000 pounds of poultry, mostly turkey, for the armed forces.

GERMANS MASS TROOPS NEAR GREEK FRONTIER

Crowd Bulgarian Civilians Off All Trains

By RICHARD G. MASSECK
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Nov. 25 (AP) — Germany is massing troops near the Greek frontier as guerrilla fighting increases in the Balkans, reports reaching London said tonight.

Trainloads of German men and arms have been pouring through Sofia to the Greek frontier, said a Budapest report received by way of Stockholm. Travellers from Sofia reported it is impossible for civilians to get places on Bulgarian trains.

In addition to fighting the Greek guerrillas, the Germans are believed to be establishing troop pools for use in event of an Allied invasion.

With Partisans standing off reinforced German forces in Yugoslavia new attacks on the Germans are reported from Greece.

GUERRILLAS COOPERATE
Cairo dispatches indicate that the swartze rivaal Greek guerrilla bands, the "EDES" and the "ELAS" have buried their differences and are fighting together.

Greek guerrillas reported to Cairo that they had held up an ammunition train near Patras and had taken 45 prisoners and wrecked freight cars and bridges on the Peloponnese.

Yugoslavs in London said German Stukas had dive-bombed the Partisan-held town of Senj on the Croatian coast and Zlatar, Marija-Bistrica, and others at the base of the Papuka mountains of Eastern Croatia, and around Bjelovar, with the victims being mostly women and children.

BIG RAIDS NO SHORT CUT TO VICTORY

Army Heads Discount Chances of Smashing Morale
CROSS FINGERS

By LEWIS HAWKINS
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Nov. 25 (AP) — The bomber showdown bid for out and out victory in the Battle of Berlin found ground officers pulling as hard as anyone today for the world's first major victory through air power—but these men who must plan and lead an invasion from the West are keeping their fingers firmly crossed.

"Bombing, plus Russia's magnificent victories, may crush Germany before any great battle in the West," said one highly-ranked American officer. "But it would be criminal if these hopes led me to relax for one moment on the job that's been given to me in preparing for invasion, and it would be tragic if they led to any further over-confidence on the home front."

There is divergence of opinion among ground force leaders on the airman's chances to shatter Germany sufficiently to bring surrender, but those who think first in terms of land battles seem agreed that:

1. If such an economical victory is won it must be won by smashing the German will to fight and not physical destruction of the means to make war, because the latter cannot become great enough to break the German Army in the time remaining before the invasion deadline.

2. There is a definite danger that the immediate value of these unprecedented, spectacular blows, deep inside Nazism, may be exaggerated in the public mind and breed overconfidence which would react badly on the war effort.

An important British officer who knew the German heavy attacks on Britain in the Winter of 1940-41 was inclined to discount the chances of smashing morale so that the Germans would revolt and sue for peace. He said:

"Unless that will to fight were broken, it would not have any decisive effect even if Berlin were bombed so badly it had to be abandoned."

There would be dislocations of records and communications, of course. Men's pay and pensions and promotions might get all mixed up, but it wouldn't paralyze operations, particularly since the German High Command must have made extensive preparations to meet just such an emergency."

Smash Within Six Miles of Upper Dnieper

By JAMES M. LONG
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Nov. 26 (Friday) — The Red Army has torn a 37-mile-wide gap in the German lines North of Gomel in a new major offensive in White Russia, killed 2000 Germans, captured 180 populated places and charged to within six miles of the upper Dnieper River in three days, Moscow announced today, while unconfirmed Stockholm reports said Gomel itself fell to the Soviets.

The new drive is in the Propoisk area, about 60 miles North of Gomel, pointed for the German Orsha-Fogilev-Gomel line, at the Dnieper, 110 miles East of the Minsk and the road to Berlin.

The Stockholm report that Gomel, almost surrounded for weeks by the Russians, was captured, was printed by the London Daily Express.

Another Stockholm dispatch said the Germans were still in Gomel, but were destroying everything of military importance there.

OUT RAIL LINE

In another important advance, almost obscured by the dramatic new smash, the Russians cut the Zhitobin-Kalinin railway North of Zhitobin at the towns of Oshankovich and Zhar, about five miles apart.

The one escape railway from Gomel still open to the Germans runs Northwest through Zhitobin to Bobruisk. The latest Russian advance, announced by the Moscow midnight communique supplement, narrowed the escape corridor to 33 miles between Zhar in the South and the town of Jursvichi in the North.

Jursvichi was the highest mark of the new offensive's Westward surge at it carried forward as much as 25 miles. Jursvichi, on the Minsk-Moscow highway, is five miles East of this road's junction with the Vitebsk-Gomel highway and 17 miles East of the Leningrad-Orsha North-South railway.

The Germans, who for several days have been hinting at a major Russian attack in the area "Southwest of Krishne," admitted in a Berlin broadcast today that their "covering forces had to be taken back to new positions in the face of numerically superior Soviet units."

The Russians successfully crossed the Sozh and Pronya Rivers in the drive and carried almost as far West as the Nevel salient to the North and the Kiev bulge to the South.

In the Kiev area Gen. Nikolai Vatutin's divisions grimly fought the German "armored avalanche" to a standstill for the second day in a battle which the Germans described as one of the bloodiest in the whole Russian war.

The Soviet bulletin said German attacks were beaten off in the Korosten area, 45 miles North of Zhitobin, suggesting that Field Marshal Gen. Fritz von Manstein was broadening the front in the most serious German threat in Russia in four months. In the Chernyakhov area, 13 miles North of Zhitobin, and the Brusilov area, 45 miles West of Kiev, German infantry and tank attacks also were successfully stemmed.

There was heavy fighting in two other areas between the new offensive to the North and the Kiev fighting to the South. In the Rechitsa section where the Russians were heading for Kalin-Kovich, an important rail junction, the Kalin-Kovich-Zhitobin railway was cut as the Red Army swung Westward to capture 13 towns and hamlets.

Farther South in the Pripiet marshes the Russians drove over frozen swampland to capture eight more populated areas near Khoinik, a town captured the day before.

In the Southernmost fighting in Russia—the Dnieper bend area—the Russians continued their clean-up of the Germans clinging to their Easternmost hold in Russia. South of Kremenchug eight more towns, including a district centre and two railroad stations, were taken.

Moscow dispatches said the Germans in this area were retreating Southwest along the railroad from Kremenchug to Znamensk, a rail junction whose loss would cripple German supply in the area.

SMUTS UNABLE TO VISIT CANADA

OTTAWA, Nov. 25 (CP)—Prime Minister Smuts of South Africa will not visit Canada this year, it was learned today.

It had been expected he would come here following his recent trip to the United Kingdom but he had found it impossible, said a Canadian Government source. He might come to the United States and Canada some time next year.

46 JAP PLANES DOWNED IN U. S. MOP-UPS

26 Zeros Shot Down in Other Battles; Clearing Up Gilberts

PEARL HARBOR, Nov. 25 (AP) — Evidence that Japanese air strength in the Gilbert Islands has diminished steadily—"in planes, material and the will to fight"—was reported today by a spokesman for the United States Pacific Fleet in connection with a communique telling of an American aerial victory in mopping-up operations there.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, Fleet Commander-in-Chief, announced the destruction of 34 enemy fighters, nine bombers and three four-engine patrol planes by one United States carrier division as three fighter planes and one bomber.

The Nimitz communique recorded that the mopping-up process is about complete on Makin, Tarawa and Abemama Islands, the strategic part of the Gilberts, which the Americans fought took from the Japanese in a 76-hour attack.

The Fleet spokesman disclosed also that carrier planes dropped about 200 tons of bombs "right on the button" at Waji airfield, a Japanese island airbase in the Marshall Islands, to the North of the Gilberts. This attack was carried out Monday.

The spokesman added that on another day carrier fighters brought down 15 out of 20 Zeros intercepted in one phase of the Gilberts action. No American planes were lost in that operation. In another instance the United States fighters got 10 of a group of 15 Japanese Zeros and bombers, with a loss of one of their own planes.

Ottawa Included in Big Post War Construction Plan

OTTAWA, Nov. 25 (CP) — The Evening Citizen said today the city of Ottawa is to be included to the extent of "many millions of dollars worth" of construction in a Dominion-wide building program designed to take up the slack of a post-war employment by providing public buildings and works of many kinds "where they have long been needed."

46 CONVICTED ON PRICE VIOLATIONS

OTTAWA, Nov. 25 (CP) — The Prices Board announced today 46 persons were convicted of violating its regulations during the week ended Nov. 19. Twenty-three were found guilty of various price violations, 18 of breaches of rationing regulations and five landholders of leasehold regulations.

Among those convicted was a Vernon, B.C., bottling company, fined $1500 for buying sugar from sources other than its regular supplier.

New Canadian Destroyer In Heroic Rescue

A BRITISH PORT, Nov. 25 (CP) — The Canadian Tribal Destroyer Troop picked up survivors from a bombed merchant ship in "one of the outstanding rescues of the war both from a standpoint of its success and of heroism displayed," the Royal Canadian Navy announced today.

Leading Seaman Erland Hugh Grant, 21, and Able Seaman Wilbert Carson Spence, 19, both of Ottawa, were singled out for special mention as the "central figures" in the rescue operation. They stripped off their clothing and plunged into the sea time and again to rescue drowning men who jumped from the blazing merchantman.

Where the merchantman was sunk was not disclosed in the Navy's statement. The number of survivors picked up also was not disclosed, but that it was large was indicated by the Navy's comment that by the time the destroyer—then commanded by Cmdr. W.B.L. Holms of Victoria—finally docked "some days" later her food lockers were empty.

Credit Unions and Libraries Theme

ROSSLAND, B.C. Nov. 25 — At a study meeting of the Rossland C.O.P. Club, Tuesday night, L. T. Humelek gave an account of the Credit Union system, and its application and success in Canada. One such union, with headquarters at Levis, Quebec, has grown into a large institution, while the Nova Scotia credit union formed by the fishermen accomplished splendid results in enabling the members to raise and increase equipment at a time when it appeared probable they would be unable to carry on.

The Rossland Credit Union, while it has been curtailed in growth due to the large number of members who have enlisted or moved from the district, has amply justified its existence and is in a sound condition, he stated.

Wilfred Rahn spoke on libraries and their place in education. He outlined the position of the Rossland Public Library, and covered the plans of the directors for improving the service during the coming year by providing reading room accommodation with papers and magazines.

George Massey, Jail Guard Here Many Years, Dies

George Massey, former guard at the Provincial Jail here, whose home was in Nelson for approximately 30 years, died Saturday at Vancouver, his home for the past dozen years, at the age of 67.

He was a member of the Grenadier Guards in London, England, when the South African War broke out, and served with his regiment in South Africa. He was married in England. About 1911 Mr. Massey and W. Williams, the latter still residing here, came out to the coast and to Nelson together. For two years Mr. Massey was employed at the Nelson Iron Works, and was then taken on the staff of the Provincial Jail as a guard under Warden W. B. Jarvis. He went overseas with the 102nd Battalion, from British Columbia, in 1914, and served a year overseas before being invalided home, later resuming his post at the Jail. He was a member of the Nelson G.W.V.A., and later of the Canadian Legion, and also of the Royal Order.

He was transferred to be a guard at Oakalla Prison about 1931, residing in Vancouver. Last year he was eligible for superannuation, but was asked to continue at his post for a time, and finally retired from duty last April.

Mr. Massey is survived by his wife; by his daughter, Mrs. Stanley T. Sweetman of Trail; and by an invalid son.

The funeral was held at Vancouver Wednesday, Mrs. Sweetman going down from Trail.

Set Ceiling Prices on Nuts

OTTAWA, Nov. 25 (CP)—Ceiling prices on walnuts, almonds, filberts and pecans sold in Canada were set tonight by the Prices Board.

Board officials said prices set in the new order, effective tomorrow, were higher than in other years because no nuts have been imported from the United States since 1940 and because ceiling set on stocks held in Canada during the 1941 basic period were not uniform or representative of normal trading. Importers' maximum prices now are 42½ cents per pound for United States unshelled walnuts, 28 cents for unshelled almonds from other countries, $1.11 for shelled pecans and halves from the United States and 46 cents for unshelled filberts from other countries.

Officials said nuts imported for the Christmas trade will come from the United States and Mexico but limited shipments of almonds from Spain, Portugal and India will reach the Canadian market. There is also a possibility some almonds and filberts will come from Sicily and Southern Italy.

Six Airmen Die in Accidents on Prairie Stations

PRINCE ALBERT, Nov. 25 (CP)—An instructor and two student pilots were killed in a crash late yesterday of two training planes, three miles Northwest of Prince Albert, after a mid-air collision, officials of No. 6 F.F.T.S. R.C.A.F. announced here today.

Po. J. S. Butler, 26, instructor, former Detroit resident, and Lt. E. G. Henderson, 19, Windsor, Ont. student, were two of the victims.

WINDSOR, Ont. Nov. 25 (CP)—Parents of Lt. Edward Guyon Henderson, 19-year-old Negro member of the R.C.A.F. today said they received word that their son had been killed in an aircraft accident at Prince Albert, Sask. yesterday.

REGINA, Nov. 25 (CP)—An instructor and a pupil were killed Wednesday afternoon in the crash of a plane of No. 39 S.F.T.S., six miles North of Rush Lake.

Coast Undertakers Union Asks Gov't Arbitration

VANCOUVER, Nov. 25 (CP)—Immediate convening of an arbitration board postponed sometime ago with the consent of the Embalmers and Undertakers Association, was asked tonight by the union in a letter to the Provincial Department of Labor.

First application for arbitration was postponed two months ago following a request from the Department that further negotiations should take place.

William Scott, President of the union, said today that all negotiations had come to a standstill with the refusal of the morticians to recognize the union.

Instead, he said, the employers had offered to post memoranda in the shops, accepting certain demands on hours of work and wages, but with no recognition of the union, and no signed agreement.

LONDON, Nov. 25 (CP)—Spies betrayed British gun positions on the Aegean island of Leros, which the Axis recaptured, and many were knocked out at once by the Luftwaffe, Reuters News Agency said tonight in a dispatch from Ankara. The remainder of the gunners fought valiantly but with little success.

Announces Union Now Bargaining Agency Kimberley

VANCOUVER, Nov. 25 (CP)—Harvey Murphy, organizer of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (I.U.M.S.W.) announced today on his return from Trail, B. C., that the union is "now established as the bargaining agency at Kimberley, having replaced the Workers' Cooperative Committee."

Murphy said that at a meeting Sunday the Kimberley local, No. 651, had accepted the collective bargaining sections of a negotiated agreement, and will now go before the National War Labor Board to apply for a daily basic wage rate of $7.25.

Other clauses of the agreement, such as an improved holiday scheme a five cent an hour shift bonus, and double time or the six statutory holidays, must be passed on by the N.W.L.B. before the agreement is finally signed, Mr. Murphy said.

In the meantime by mutual agreement of management and union, Local 651 is to be recognized and will perform all the functions of a bargaining agent, he stated.

The Workers' Cooperative Committee was the oldest company union in all Canada when it passed out of existence with recognition of the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, Mr. Murphy said.

Department of Labor representatives are now at Trail, in the process of certifying the union there said the organizer, who reported that two locals at Hedley and one at Silvertown have also been certified.

The Pischel Lake local has made an application for certification, Mr. Murphy said, in "an effort being made by all locals for system-wide agreements."

Hint Canadian Army Overseas to Be Reorganized

VANCOUVER, Nov. 25 (CP)—The Province in a newspaper story today said that reports of a reorganization program for the Canadian Army overseas possibly as far reaching as that announced for home defence forces last September, are circulating in Army circles in Pacific Command.

The Province added "There is little doubt now that important changes in the makeup of the Army overseas are coming but just what these changes will be and how they will affect the operation of Canadian forces is not known."

Evaporated Milk Now Rationed Coast and Island

VANCOUVER, B.C. Nov. 25 — Sale of evaporated milk in the Vancouver and Victoria areas has been stopped to the general public with the exception of holders of 'Q' coupons. The milk will still be obtainable for children two years and under if they require it, and others who come under the preferred classification, but they must surrender 'Q' coupons to the retailer before the milk is handed over.

Application for these coupons is to be made to local ration boards of ration administration branch offices in Vancouver and Victoria.

The object of this restricted sale is to make certain that evaporated milk is available to areas in Canada where there is a shortage of fluid milk. Wholesalers and jobbers have been notified that their retail outlets in restricted areas will be able to obtain replacement of evaporated milk only against the surrender of ration coupons or other ration documents.

In B. C., the restricted areas have been defined as the cities of Vancouver, North Vancouver and New Westminster, the District of North Vancouver, the municipalities of West Vancouver, Burnaby and Richmond, the University area in Point Grey and the Fraser Valley, the City of Victoria, the municipalities of Oak Bay and Saanich, and all other points within a radius of three miles of Victoria city hall.

Restricted areas have also been established in the provinces of Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

B. C. Men Seek Alaska Link

VANCOUVER, Nov. 25 (CP)—A great highway extending Northwest from Hazelton, B.C., on the Cariboo Highway, to link with the Alaska Highway at Whitehorse, Y.T., is sought by a delegation of Northern business men now in Vancouver.

From Premier John Hart the delegation has obtained an assurance that its selection for a new link with the North will be thoroughly investigated, and the route surveyed before work is started on any other route.

Financed by public bodies in various Northern British Columbia and Alaska settlements, they intend going on to Seattle, Portland and San Francisco to confer with interested groups there.

Their chief arguments in support of this new route to the North are that it would give road access to the Alaska panhandle, provide a coast link with the Alaska Highway, open up thousands of acres of fertile farmlands, make available 5,000,000,000 feet of merchantable timber and vast mineral resources.

"The route is within easy distance of the famous groundhog coal deposits," said a spokesman for the group. "This is the biggest coal deposit on the continent—anthracite coal of high grade."

Starting from Hazelton, the proposed new road would go Northwest to the Nass River, thence up the Skeena to Atlin and then to White Horse—practically a straight line Northwest to the Yukon, passing along the inside of the Alaska Panhandle.

Reid Would Like Japanese Moved From B.C.

VANCOUVER, Nov. 25 (CP)—Tom Reid, M.P. for New Westminster, told a Service Club in an address today that he would like to see Japanese moved entirely from British Columbia after the war.

"You will have speakers and various societies talking to you about the brotherhood of man. But we have been up against a barbarous and savage race."

"I would not leave the problem (of final disposition of the Japanese) to someone with a cushy job in Ottawa. Unless Japan is crushed to the ground we'll have another blood bath in 25 years' time. No one should be a citizen of this country while still owing allegiance to Japan."

The problem had been made a "political football" in British Columbia, Mr. Reid charged, adding: "That is unfortunate, for the problem is an economic one. Every man or woman seeking public office in future should be asked where he or she stands in regard to the Japanese."

MORE THAN 600 DEER SHOT IN COAST AREA

NANAIMO, B. C., Nov. 25 (CP)—Hunters, the majority non-resident, have killed and taken more than 600 deer this year from Campbell River District. It was reported at a meeting of Affiliated Fish and Game Association here with recommendation that the deer season should close November 15 instead of November 30.

The meeting vetoed the proposal unfair to sportsmen because few deer are shot during September and October.

The Association supported the farmers appeal for raising the cougar bounty to $50 from $15. This bounty in former years ran as high as $40. And cougar depredations on the island are increasing.

AMERICANS EAT TURKEY IN FAR AWAY PLACES

NAPLES, Nov. 25 (AP)—Up in the bleak, foggy, wind swept mountain positions of the farthest American advances on the Italian front, American troops ate Turkey and all the trimmings with one hand while they cradled their rifles with the other.

Conscription for military service was first introduced by the Chinese during the "War of the Warring States," 470-475 B. C.

FARMERS TO ASK CONTINUATION OF WARTIME POLICIES

VANCOUVER, Nov. 25 (CP)—Directors of the British Columbia Federation of Agriculture have decided to recommend to the annual meeting of the federation this Dominion Legislature be asked for continuation after the war of the principles of the Wartime Measures Act and the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, so far as they apply to the maintenance of adequate prices to the farmer for his produce.

It was also urged that measures be provided for minimum prices be secured, so that while ceilings may be obtained the farmer may also count on a floor price below which prices would not be allowed to fall.

R.M.R. Win 9-3 Over Tigers in Hockey Opener

R. M. R.'s rather outclassed the Tigers in the preliminary series opener of the Commercial Hockey League at the Civic Arena Thursday night, when they ran in nine goals straight, before the Tigers got organized, the final score being 9-3. It was announced that the third team will be known as the Wolves. They had been tentatively christened as the Lions. The Wolves will take on the Tigers next Tuesday, and there will be a Wolves-R.M.R. clash next Thursday, to complete the preliminary series, after which any necessary adjustments will be made to balance the teams in playing strength, for the League season.

Suggests Germans Should Be Urged to Abandon the War

LONDON, Nov. 25 (CP)—While reports from abroad of a meeting among Prime Minister Churchill, President Roosevelt and Premier Stalin remained unanswered, Cmdr. Stephen King-Hall, Independent member of Parliament, today proposed that the three leaders issue a joint statement to the Germans urging them to abandon the war.

King-Hall gave notice in the House of Commons he would ask the Prime Minister "whether he will consult Marshal Stalin and President Roosevelt with a view to issuing a joint message to the German people analogous to that addressed to the Italian people Sept. 11."

The September statement was an appeal for the Italians to quit the Axis and turn against the Germans.

Predicts Coal Prices to Be Maintained by Gov't Subsidies

VANCOUVER, Nov. 25 (CP)—Maintenance of present retail coal prices by full or partial subsidy to compensate mine operators for increased wages for miners as recommended by a Royal Commission was predicted today by King Anderson, Secretary of the Greater Vancouver Fuel Dealers Association.

He based his view on "government policy" with respect to prices in general and to existing subsidy arrangements for both wood and coal.

Fuel administration officers said that mine operators now were allowed 15 cents a job profit, and that where the mine could not produce that margin the difference was made up to assure adequate production.

NETHERLANDERS SABOTAGE DEFENCES

LONDON, Nov. 25 (CP-Antea)—Netherlands patriots are attempting to aid the future Allied invasion by sabotaging the German Army's defence works on the coast of occupied Holland, it was reported today. Fortifications near the town of Leeuwarden have been damaged and authorities have issued a warning to the population that any repetition would lead to the "most disagreeable consequences."

Seahawks Win in Overtime

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Nov. 25 (CP)—Sea Island's high-flying R.C.A.P. Seahawks produced the odd goal in overtime tonight to defeat Vancouver St. Regis 4-3 and increase their margin of leadership in the Pacific Coast Senior Hockey League to a clear three points over Victoria Navy.

Cpl. Johnny Quilty scored two goals for the Seahawks, including the game-winner in overtime while St. Regis was a man short and LEO Tony Leoni and A.C. George Johnston got the others. Ed. Trite, Romeo Martel and Lode Palm scored for the Vancouver squad.

St. Regis took a 2-1 lead in the opening period on markers by Trite and Martel against a lone air force goal by Leoni but the airmen went a goal up, scoring two in the second with Quilty and Johnston doing the scoring. Palm scored St. Regis third goal late in the third, ending the game into overtime where Quilty scored again at the seven-minute mark.

KISS YOUR TIRED FEELING GOODBYE!

Peoples Many Suffer Low Blood Count—And Don't Know It.

The leading thing about low blood count is that you can weigh about as much as you ever did—even feel healthy and strong, yet you are fed as if you had lead in your legs, dazed, tired and pale.

Low blood count means you haven't got enough red blood corpuscles. It is their red job to carry life-giving oxygen from your lungs throughout your body. And just as it takes oxygen to explode gasoline in your car, so it takes the power to turn the wheels, so you must have plenty of oxygen to explode the energy in your body and give you going power.

Get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today. They are world-famous for the help they give in increasing the number and strength of red corpuscles. Then with your blood count up, you'll feel like bursting up the stairs as if you were floating on air. Ask your druggist for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today.

Berlin Stabbed Again in Effort to Confuse and Harass

LONDON, Nov. 25 (CP).—Swift R.A.F. Mosquito bombers set the air raid sirens howling in Berlin for the third successive night by stabbing the German capital again last night as smoke still rose skyward from conflagrations set by British and Canadian heavy bomber fleets.

The purpose of the attack, from which only one of the raiders failed to return, obviously was to harass and confuse the battered defenses of the city, which already had been burned and devastated on a scale hitherto unknown.

The Allied aerial offensive was kept rolling, meanwhile, as several waves of planes swept out across the Channel in bright sunlight this morning in the direction of the French Coast.

Only a small number of planes, no heavy bombers—engaged in offensive operations from Britain last night, but Berlin had no reason to breathe easily.

Destruction was piled on destruction in this week's two mammoth attacks but all available information suggested that methodical obliteration of the Metropolis still had some distance to go.

The vast destruction in the heart of Hitlerdom, plus the relatively low cost in bombers—26 Monday night and 20 the next, of which total six were Canadian craft—made it clear that the German High Command must find a quick way to check the raids with more severe losses to save the city.

A thick yellow pall of smoke spread 300 miles from the German capital—as far as the Swedish East Coast—as the speedy all-wood bombers set the sirens to wailing again.

Only one Mosquito of the force of undisciplined six failed to return from the "Berlin run" which in recent months was a familiar trail for the twin-engine aircraft. The Mosquitoes have been over Berlin 17 times since the middle of August.

Labor Vote Backs Mosley Release

LONDON, Nov. 25 (CP).—Home Secretary Morrison's hand was strengthened today for a possible Commons debate arising out of the release of Sir Oswald Mosley, former British Fascist leader, when the Parliamentary Labor Party defeated by 10 votes a resolution deprecating the limited freedom given Mosley.

It has been generally predicted the Labor attitude would be the deciding factor for or against Morrison, a Labor member of the National Government.

Edmonton Miners to Accept Ruling

EDMONTON, Nov. 25 (CP).—Peter Collins, Secretary of the Edmonton District of the United Mine Workers of America said last night miners in this district would accept the majority ruling of District 18, U.M.W.A., and continue work although they voted against acceptance of the Royal Commission's pay-increase award.

"There's no question," he said, "about accepting the decision of the majority. We always do in this organization. This is no local question, it concerns the entire district."

Coast Paper Says Coal Prices May Be Increased

VANCOUVER, Nov. 25 (CP).—The News-Herald in a newspaper story today says it has learned that coal prices will have to be raised unless the Dominion Government pays a subsidy to mine operators sufficient to cover wage increases awarded workers.

"Such an increase, contends the manager of one of the city's largest coal dealing companies, would be inevitable, as mining companies, unless subsidized by the Government, would expect dealers to pay for the cost increase," the newspaper added.

Report Pope Pius Mediates Between Germany and Allies

BERNE, Nov. 25 (AP).—The Basler Nachrichten said in a dispatch from the Swiss border town of Chisone today that Pope Pius XII had undertaken a mission of mediation between Germany and the Allies.

No confirmation was obtainable from diplomatic or church sources, although the dispatch quoted "Italian Catholic circles" as the basis of its information.

The Basler Nachrichten's correspondent said the Pope definitely had increased his diplomatic discussions greatly in the last few days, seeing the German, British, French and American envoys to the Holy See.

The dispatch said other reports of the Pope's activity concerned a request by "belligerent nations" that the Pontiff leave Rome and take up refuge "in a northern land" and discussion of the church attitude toward Mussolini's new Fascism.

The possibility that the attitude toward Fascism was most delicate was suggested by quotations from the Milan Fascist newspaper, Il Fascio, which declared that the Vatican's diplomacy favored Premier Marshal Pietro Badoglio, that the Vatican had "no sympathy for Germany" and that it must be decided whether the attitude of the Vatican is for or against.

The Swiss Telegraph Agency, in a dispatch from Rome, said the Pope will begin seven days of spiritual exercises Sunday, and that all audiences will be suspended during this period.

Eisenhower Held Responsible For Patton Incident

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (AP).—The responsibility for disciplining Lt.-Gen. George S. Patton Jr. for striking an enlisted man in a fit of anger was placed squarely on Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower by War Secretary Henry Stimson today.

At a news conference, Stimson said that until a full report has been received from Eisenhower he had nothing to say about the case, but for "background" asserted that from the beginning of the war he and Gen. George C. Marshall, Chief of Staff, had adopted a basic principle of selecting the best possible theatre commander, and then giving that commander a free hand and complete authority.

"Under these principles," said Stimson, "Gen. Eisenhower is responsible for all matters of administration and discipline within his theatre."

After Eisenhower had rebuked Patton—not a formal reprimand which would have appeared on Patton's record—the incident was closed, Stimson said, and the War Department then was informed, but only of the general nature of the incident and not of the details.

Stimson said the War Department was aware of this incident when Patton's nomination for promotion from the permanent rank of Colonel to Major General was sent to the Senate by the White House nearly two months ago. The Army's recommendation of Patton for that promotion, he said, was based not on any specific incidents but "his overall value to his country."

Red Cross Gives 9,741,276 Articles This Year

TORONTO, Nov. 25 (CP).—Mrs. W. R. Campbell, Chairman of the National Women's War Work Committee, reported to the Central Council of the Canadian Red Cross Society here today that 9,741,276 articles of supplies and comforts had been distributed during the first nine months of this year, bringing the total distribution since the beginning of the war to 39,076,810 articles.

Less Than Half B.C. Permit Holders Apply For Liquor

VANCOUVER, Nov. 25 (CP).—Liquor permit holders applying for new liquor ration coupons numbered considerably less than one-half of the 600,000 permits issued in British Columbia up to Aug. 31, it was learned here today. Thus the 100 per cent increase in spirits and beer rations this month will not mean any greater drain on stocks than in the past.

Officials said permits taken out of circulation by clubs and outcamps and those formerly left with friends by temporary visitors to the Province had drastically narrowed down coupon applicants. Reason for this was the stipulation obliging permit holders to apply personally for coupons.

There is much speculation as to what December ration will be, and in some quarters it has been hinted that 40 ounces of spirits may be allowed. It has also been suggested unofficially that two purchases monthly may be permitted next year.

Vichy Militia Chief and Propaganda Head Killed Near Annecy

BARCELONA, Nov. 25 (AP).—Gaston Jaquelin, chief of the Vichy militia in the Upper Savoy Department, and Roger Franck, head of the militia propaganda organization for the same area, were slain by four armed men today at Thonnes, near Annecy, according to advices from France.

A third Vichy official, Paul Courtois, was said to have been wounded. The assassins, who were unidentified, were reported to have cornered their victims in a hotel dining room and moved them down with sub-machine-guns.

Train Young Sailors on Okanagan Lake

PRITCHARD, B.C., Nov. 25 (CP).—Importance of the current Navy League membership drive in British Columbia is being underlined here by the fact that the Penticton Sea Cadet Corps, under the command of Lt. Wally Matlock, and said to be one of the smallest corps in the Dominion, is seeking to raise a total of $1800 for training equipment.

Main item is a cutter in which the embryo seamen can obtain some real seamanship experience on Okanagan Lake.

In Penticton the major work of the Navy League is sponsoring the Sea Cadet Corps, which now consists of 70 boys, and a fine bugle band.

Decision... Doesn't Want to Give Up Job to Marry

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I'm a boy 21 years old, in love with a girl a month or so younger. We've been going together for five years, and I'd like to marry her as soon as possible. She says we ought to wait until the war is over, as she is employed in a defense plant. I know her job is important, but is mine our happiness is important, too.

Our parents will abide by what-ever decision we make, as they approve. Do you think I'd be selfish in asking her to leave her job and friends to come and live near me? I'm in training as an aviation cadet, and our time together would be limited. I'd appreciate an answer through your column, as I read it every day.

J. L.

You have several arguments on your side for an immediate marriage. You've known the girl for five years. It wouldn't be one of those whipped-up, war-inspired marriages that have so little to hold them. Your parents approve and will abide by your decision. But the girl wants to put the wedding off until the war is finished.

There is such a thing, you know, as feminine intuition. If you can't tell your girl over amicably and make her see your side of the argument, it would be better to accept her decision.

Methods... Vitamins Versus Good Cooking

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

"Just got back from New Orleans," said my old friend, Dr. Adrian Gibbs. "Went to a few clinics just to see what they were up to, but I spent most of my time eating."

"Great place to eat, New Orleans, as you well know. They cook their food enough. You know I had a Chinese cook once, and while I don't want to say anything against one of our Allies, according to my standard their way of cooking is all wrong. They wait until about five minutes before the meal is to be served and then they put her all on and turn up the fire full on and let her simmer until just before they bring it in and then you have food that is sort of raw and cooked on the outside but nearly raw in the middle."

"Now in New Orleans that plan is out. Why, I actually believe some of the food I ate had been cooked and re-cooked half a dozen times. Then they put everything together and let the juices swap around and in these days of rationing that is quite an advantage."

COOK FOR TABLE

"New Orleans is making the last stand against the vitamin. So a doctor, down there told me. It is the last city in the country where the cooking is based on taste and not whether it is healthful."

"This fellow said most of the cooks in New Orleans have never heard of Vitamins A, B, C, D, E, F, and G. And these vitamins tend to avoid New Orleans because they know if they show up they'll be cooked to death."

"Now the Chinese cook's food is just loaded with vitamins because he doesn't kill them with heat. The chefs in other cities have taken courses in vitamins and treat them as if they were royalty, but not in New Orleans."

"They have either never heard of the vitamins or they despise them, and when they get hold of some food that has a little vitamin in it they give it a going over that amounts to the third degree. They pour sauces over them. They fry, frizzle and fricasse. They really leave just a bare remnant of vitamin in the food, enough to keep you healthy, but not enough to make you sick."

"I must say I never felt so good in my life as since my vitamin intake has been cut down. That report you just read to me about the draftees 18 and 19 years old doesn't look as if vitamins had done this country much good. And weren't our fathers and mothers and grandparents pretty healthy and never saw a vitamin pill in their lives. Sometimes I wonder how they survived."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

A. S. C. — What causes excessive hair to grow on a woman's face—is it hereditary or due to some glandular deficiency? Is the electric needle or X-ray the better treatment?

Answer: Excessive hair can be caused by glandular trouble, but this form is very rare. The average case is hereditary or due to some cause unknown to science. Both the electric needle and X-ray are useful for removal, but they act somewhat differently. The X-ray will remove the fine hairs, but has little effect on the coarse ones.

Brussels Sprouts Pickles Cole Slaw Mince and Pumpkin Pie Coffee

ROAST DUCK

Clean bird and rub inside and out with salt and pepper. Stuff, sew openings closed, tie legs close to body, and put in 300 degrees F. oven. After 10 minutes take out of oven, pour off fat, and lower temperature to 350 degrees. Allow 25 minutes cooking for each pound of duck. A six pound duck serves four or five as there is a lot of fat on an average duck.

PUMPKIN PIE

1 cup stewed pumpkin, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon mace, 1 cup boiling milk, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 2-3 cup sugar, 2 eggs well beaten. Soak milk and pour over pumpkin, add salt, mace and cinnamon mixed with sugar, stir in well beaten eggs and pour into prepared, unbaked crust. Put into 400 degrees oven and after 10 minutes lower heat to 350 degrees F. Bake about 40 minutes.

Raisin and Apple Stuffing for Turkey or Duck

2 cups seeded raisins, 2 cups finely chopped apples, 3 cups stale bread crumbs, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, dash pepper, water to moisten.

Combine ingredients in order named, toss together lightly, season to taste and stuff into duck.

MINGMEAT

5 cups boiled beef, chopped; 10 cups chopped apples, 1 pound suet, chopped fine, 2 pounds seeded raisins, 4 cups brown sugar, 3 quarts sweet cider, 3 cups molasses, 10 teaspoons salt, 10 teaspoons cinnamon or mixed spices, 3 teaspoons cloves, 1 pound dried currants, 1 cup brandy or cooking wine if liked.

Prepare all ingredients, mix thoroughly, boil up, put into sterilized jars and seal.

Responsibility... Warlike Thrift In Schools

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

A patriotic duty of the school right now is to discourage luxuries and encourage thrift. Let me offer some suggestions:

1. By precept and example, teachers should encourage simplicity and economy in dress.

2. The duration is no time for collecting money from school children or raising funds by entertainment for material things about the school.

3. Giving presents to teachers should be ruled out now.

4. Nor should teachers be burdened by having to buy gifts for other teachers. Anyway, this type of gift is usually from social pressure rather than from the heart, especially when given to the prospective bride.

COSTLY GRADUATION PLANS

6. Particularly in high school, plans for costly graduation are under way, unless held in check by the school in cooperation with parents.

6. The school should take the lead in preventing such extravagances. Our country is at war! Let the school, supported by the P.T.A., rule out printed and engraved yearbooks, announcements and invitations and programs. Invitations had better be written by hand. This would be better for education anyway.

CULTIVATE SELF-SACRIFICE

7. School leaders with vision and courage will, if necessary, require this patriotic procedure. Boards of education should get back of any efforts by the school to discourage luxury and encourage thrift.

SOLVING PARENT PROBLEMS

8. Can jealousy of a child at home cause him to be a laggard or discipline problem at school.

A. Yes; I wish more teachers were aware of this fact. I can think of no behavior problem which jealousy cannot cause. My special bulletin on "Jealousy: its prevention and reduction," may be had for postage by writing me in care of this paper enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

Today You Need Healthful Food

GOOD FOOD is essential to good health—and never before was good health so important. Eat nourishing Grape-Nuts Flakes regularly, with milk, sometimes with fruit, too.

You see, Grape-Nuts Flakes is made from two grains—sun-ripened wheat and malted barley. So it provides high quality carbohydrates and proteins, useful quantities of iron and phosphorus, and other food essentials.

Decide now to make Grape-Nuts Flakes a "regular" on your breakfast table. Order from your grocer—either the regular package or the giant economy size.

Libby's "Gentle Press" Tomato Juice provides an easy, pleasant daily source of Vitamins A and C, essential for clear, healthy skin—normal, sound teeth—greater vitality and resistance to colds.

Libby's "Gentle Press" Tomato Catchup adds an irresistible tip to the most ordinary dish. It's the flavour that does it—that satisfying flavour resulting from Libby's patented "Gentle Press" process.

Give your family a treat with Libby's New Crop Tomato Products. Most Canadians drink Libby's TOMATO JUICE than any other kind. Libby's CATCHUP and TOMATO SOUP are also made with the "Gentle Press" process—both are equal to the juice in flavour. Try them. R.C.A.F. Girls Have Definite Ideas on Gifts

Written for The Canadian Press By FLIGHT OFFICER FRANCES DOUGLAS

OTTAWA, Nov. 25 (CP)—People wondering what to give Canada's women in uniform for Christmas will be interested to know airwomen of the R.C.A.F. have very definite, practical ideas on the subject.

One special "hope-for" is a subscription to the home town newspaper. Magazine subscriptions and books—small ones—are suggested, too, but the newspaper is first choice of many. Keeps them in touch with home, they say, and is a comfort when letters don't arrive.

Take out the subscription not only by name and address but by Air Force number as well. Airwomen often move from one station to another in a year.

Other things they're asking Santa for are lingerie (lots of glamour, please); their favorite cosmetics; cologne (perfume isn't supposed to be worn with uniforms but cologne, with their fainter fragrance, is all right); housecoats that are stylish, and warm but not bulky; bedroom slippers; sleeveless sweaters in Air Force blue and sports sweaters in any other color—preferably a gay one; silk stockings in the approved Air Force shade of grey, for off-duty wear; and silk stockings in other smart shades for 48-hour leaves when they wear "civies."

Hard to find, but started for giving, are small radios, travelling irons, or any kind of iron.

And the girl who's spending Christmas in barracks will cheer the arrival of cigars, chocolates, home-made cookies and fruit cake.

More Servings Per Package

WERE spreading the restricted supply of Jell-O and Jell-O Puddings as fairly as we can. You can help yourself and us—by spreading these delicious, tempting desserts over more servings per package. Here are two good suggestions.

CHOCOLATE BREAD PUDDING

- 1 package Jell-O Chocolate Pudding
- 3 cups milk
- 3 cups stale bread cut in cubes

Place Jell-O Pudding in saucepan. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly. Place over medium flame and cook until mixture comes to a boil, stirring constantly. Remove from fire. Place bread in buttered baking dish; pour chocolate mixture over it. Bake in hot oven (400° F.). 25 minutes. Serves 8.

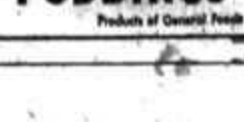

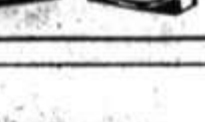

PRUNE SNOW—12 Servings

- 1 package Lemon Jell-O
- 1 cup warm water
- 1 cup prune juice
- 1 cup prune pulp
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 2 egg whites, unbeaten

Dissolve Jell-O in warm water; add prune juice. Chill. Combine prune pulp and sugar. When Jell-O is cold and syrupy, place in bowl of cracked ice or ice water, add egg whites, and whip with rotary beater until fluffy and thick. Fold in prune pulp. When slightly thickened, turn into sherbet glasses or molds. Chill until firm. Top with small pieces of prune.

Present-day problems have not brought about any change in the quality of Jell-O and Jell-O Puddings.

Sissy Ways of Doing Business

President Johnson of the United States Chamber of Commerce, an aggressive leader of progressive business thought, who is as ardent a foe of artificial monopolies as he is an advocate of free enterprise, declared the other day in Portland, Ore., that "monopolies are a sissy way of doing business."

It is a new way of stating an old truth. Too much protection against the cold winds of competition, of competitive strife, has the same softening effect on business management as a hot house has on flowers. It has the same effect on the individual. The individual who has too much protection, whose life is too softly cushioned and guarded against adversity, other than the cushions and guards purchased by his own self-hardening efforts, becomes soft and inefficient.

Government monopolies are the worst example of all. They are not subject to the control which the people through constant political pressure impose upon "natural monopolies" such as public utility concerns, to which we grant charters because in their case competition would be too expensive to the public. The government monopoly is more damaging to the people because it lacks the spur of the threat of bankruptcy if it is slothfully operated. A government monopoly cannot bankrupt itself. It can bankrupt the taxpayers.

Government monopoly is the sissiest of all ways of doing business. Enough of it could sissy a whole nation, make it vulnerable to all the rest of the world, as its living standards fell in ratio to its falling production.

Bigger Trout From Use of Fertilizers?

Most people have long since ceased to be surprised at modern miracles of food production. The conjuror who could produce a rabbit out of a hat has nothing on the scientists who can magic a bunch of bananas into a handful of powder or pack a full-size Irish Stew into a flat slab the size of a bar of chocolate. Powdered eggs, and dried soups and vegetables, freezing of vegetables and fruit shows us other wonders.

Sheep in Great Britain are, in a sense, now being fattened on metal. Dr. A. B. Stewart, of Macaulay Institute for Soil Research, Aberdeen has found that if 12 parts of cobalt are introduced into 100,000,000 parts of grassland, rich pasture is produced on which sheep thrive and fatten exceedingly.

Further war-time triumphs for British science lie in the recently completed experiments of Sir John Graham Kerr, Professor of Zoology at Glasgow University and world expert on fish, which have shown that fish yields can be boosted to an amazing degree by the introduction of nitrogen and phosphates into the water—and by investigations into the use of sterilized soil, which have enabled no less than eight crops to be gathered from one plot in a single season.

To Kootenay the use of nitrogen and phosphates in water to boost growth of fish is especially interesting. We know that our already notable sport fishing could be almost immeasurably improved with better supply of feed in our lakes and rivers. Some experiments with fertilizer products from Warfield might be worth while. Reports from England suggest it is there introduced in the water.

Dumping of artificial fertilizers into small lakes and ponds is now being practised by American conservationists.

Are We Heading for a Wheat Shortage?

Canada has faced great problems in handling its grain production, storage and distribution, but we should stop to consider whether there should not now be a change in policy.

For the first three years of the war, which we entered with a surplus of grain in storage, we were producing more than we could either sell or for which we could find storage space. Elevators were full to the brim, farm storage was full, we reached a point at which it was almost impossible to secure material for the construction of additional granaries. We were using labor for grain production that it seemed better to allow to go into other farm production. Much of it went into industrial production, a movement which contributed to shortage of food products other than grain.

Grain quotas were established. Farmers, in effect, were bonused for non-production of grain rather than for its production.

The result was that our 1943 production of wheat was about half of that of 1942—250 million bushels as against about half a billion. Our production this year fell so low that any substantial export business must cut into our 900 million bushel reserve.

Dispatches of a week or so ago told us that 100 million bushels were moving down the Great Lakes to Montreal, some of it for England, some possibly for storage overseas in readiness to meet demands from occupied countries. These shipments alone represent 40 per cent of our 1943 production, or about 11 per cent of our reserves.

One of these days, unless the higher price recently established by the government is accompanied by measures to relax restrictions on acreage and production, we are likely suddenly to awaken to a position of wheat scarcity instead of overabundance in Canada.

A large part of the world today is starving or in a state of semi-starvation. Conclusion of the war will bring immense demands upon Canada for all classes of foodstuffs suitable for transport overseas.

Dogs Are Bad But a Truck Is Worse Writes Nelson Mother

To the Editor:—Sir—I thoroughly agree with "One of the Annoyed", whose letter appeared in your paper last week. The canine jam sessions are hard on tender nerves.

However, there are other people in the world who have annoyances to contend with, too.

I'm just fiendish enough to hope the dogs in my neighborhood keep the fellow awake who starts his truck blasting (I can't think of a more expressive word) away every morning at 7 o'clock and awakens my youngster. He's too young to start the day at that hour.

I've probably stuck my neck out but it just had to be.

ANOTHER ONE OF THE ANNOYED.

Reader, Creston—Further to your question on removing the bitter taste from sugar beet syrup we have received the following letter from "One who has tried it" at Roswell:

"In today's paper I see where someone wants to know how to take the bitter taste out of beet syrup. I find that very careful peeling, getting all the green tops off and all spots culled out before slicing, helps. Then I cut up eight or 10 sweet apples and boil with the beets, then strain and boil down. If using the syrup for cake or pudding, I boil two cups of milk with the syrup and the result has a very slight flavor. It makes a very good cake using the syrup, and milk for liquid, and no sugar is needed."

Over 5000 Japs Wiped Out in Changteh Battle

CHUNGKING, Nov. 25 (AP).—More than 5000 Japanese have been wiped out in a battle for Changteh, gateway to Changsha, in the enemy's offensive against the nation's rice bowl, the Chinese high command said tonight.

President Chiang Kai-shek issued an order congratulating the defenders of Changteh, which lies 100 miles from Changsha where the Japanese have been bloodily repulsed in three previous offensives.

The high command again charged that the Japanese attacking Changteh had used poison gas.

The communiques said the Chinese were holding out against vigorous Japanese attacks, launched under cover of artillery which poured incendiary shells into the city.

A large number of Chinese troops were said to have reached areas behind the enemy lines, encircling the Japanese siege forces. American planes had supported the Chinese defenders with attacks Monday and Tuesday on the Japanese base at Yochow in North Hunan Province.

The Chinese command said the Japanese had suffered heavy losses in trying to cut the highway connecting the city with Changsha. After a severe battle in which the Chinese Air Force participated, the Chinese were said to have recaptured a strategic point in the path of the Japanese advance toward the road.

Meanwhile, the Japanese who had cut the Hunan-Szechwan rice supply route Southwest of Changteh, drove farther South but were met by Chinese defenders and thrown back with heavy losses, the communiques said.

Attacking the Japanese rear from the West, the Chinese said they recovered more points of the Yangtze River and cut enemy communication lines at several points. Great losses were said to have been inflicted on the Japanese around Singyang Japanese base in South Hunan Province.

It was suggested that the project might be financed with Federal assistance through rehabilitation funds.

R. G. Joy Delves Into Early Day Sports in Nelson

BY R. G. JOY

Historian, Nelson and District Old Times Association

Teddy (Edgar) Mason, formerly of Nelson and now of Vancouver, sent a message asking me to dig up some cricket history. So here goes, with history and with memories of sports in Nelson in the early days:

Captain Carruthers played cricket here about 1891 or 1892, that is, approximately 52 years ago. Al Trevellick played at the same time. The pitch was situated on the block connecting from the Imperial Bank to the East corner on which stands the Palm Drive.

Then later we can remember the coming of Teddy Mason, who was a versatile fellow. He told me of being a groundsman at the famous cricket ground "Lord's" in London.

His days included bowling for the batmen when practicing. He was a good bowler.

I remember one game when Teddy had disposed of most of the opposing side and a Nelsonite went to the bat. Teddy glanced at the batsman with a look that meant "you're easy." There were only three runs to get and the last man in.

The man at the bat asked up the situation, planked his bat in front of the wicket and started to pound the ground. The fielders came in to catch something easy and so disposed of the player. Judge Forin was a little excited that day full of enthusiasm for the team he was backing. Teddy sent some more balls down, but the bat was still in the way and the wickets were intact. The "over" came and the veteran batsman had a chance. Four runs were soon added. Then Teddy put him out.

The late Fred Starkey was also a great supporter of the game, managing some teams that went to Vancouver, Spokane and Victoria.

Sammons of Procter was a good batsman. Copen was also a good man, setting as Secretary. Some of you will remember him as the accountant at the Hudson's Bay store.

It was at this period an aristocratic Englishman made the remark that though he had travelled all over the world, he found Nelson was the best place to live. For, said he: "With a $15 income, you can live up to a $600 one, because it's so easy to get credit." That day is gone for ever.

This man was one of the best fly fishermen who ever sat in a rowboat. He did not row himself. He had for a companion, a young lad from Cambridge—the lad who used a fishing line to draw domestic chickens into his net while camping on the ground which is now the site of the Civic Centre.

This lad was drowned when he got too close to the falls at Granite bridge. While listening to the World Series recently I thought of the first game of the kind I saw in Nelson. Dick Doucley, now over 60 years of age and living at Fincher Creek, Alta., was good allround player, a splendid catcher, a good first baseman and a team runner. I think it was about '93. Bob Elliott, one of Nelson's lawyers, was fielding on the block opposite the Ymcr Hotel. He reached out his hand to catch a swift one from petty batsman and broke the middle finger of his right hand. He kept on playing until someone advised him he had better see a doctor.

The late Jim Wallace was also a good first baseman. I remember him playing a good game some after he came here about 1890. There was a major named Jacobson who had one

This Is the Real Stuff Says Air Minister

(World Copyright by Reuters News Agency by Arrangement with the London Star.)

LONDON, Nov. 24 (Delayed) (CP-Reuters).—"This is the real stuff," Air Secretary Sir Archibald Sinclair declared shortly after Berlin reeled under Monday night's mighty air attack. "The real power of the Bomber Command now is operating normally. They will keep it up."

In an exclusive statement to Reuters News Agency and the London Star, Sir Archibald explained that the only limiting factor is the weather.

"Our bomber offensive was planned in 1941. Few people realize the enormous mass of preliminary work necessary to achieve continuous operations of this magnitude. You have to begin from nothing."

"Our attacks on the heart of Germany will continue to be as heavy as at any time this year; indeed heavier, like those of last Thursday night when Berlin and Ludwigs-hafen were bombed simultaneously and very heavily."

"These attacks will go on the whole winter—only the intervals when bad weather stops bombing will be longer in Winter than in Summer."

Sir Archibald admitted that bombers used in the spectacular 1000-bomber raids more than a year ago were not all "heavies" and that bombs then dropped were far lighter than those dropped today with fewer planes.

"We are always," Sir Archibald continued, "looking to the future. Bigger and better bombers even than Lancasters are on the way."

"New types have actually left the drawingboards and will presently be coming from factories, bombers that can fly faster, carry a greater weight of bombs and are better defended than those we have now."

Asked about the "peak" loss ratio—the danger line which, if reached, might cause the Bomber Command

Bucko McDonald, Bruins Line to Rangers

NEW YORK, Nov. 25 (CP)—Les Patrick, manager of the New York Rangers, National Hockey League, announced tonight by telephone from Boston that he had bought Wilfred (Bucko) McDonald, husky Toronto Maple Leaf defence man, and an entire forward line from Boston Bruins.

The forwards are Charles Scherz, who starred at centre for Ottawa Senators in the Memorial Cup series in Spring, Oscar Aubuchon, left wing, and Ab DeMarco, right wing, all centre. Both Aubuchon and DeMarco have had considerable minor league experience.

While no figure was mentioned it is understood that the deal involved more money than has been laid out at one time for a player or up of players in the National Hockey League.

Patrick, whose team has dropped a straight games, said he still is in the lookout for another defence man and the Madison Square Garden check book is wide open for it.

McDonald, who is 29 years old, has played for both Toronto and Montreal, and will join the Rangers in Montreal and play against the Canadiens in New York Sunday night.

O'Connor's Shift Amazes Bostonians

By The Canadian Press

Coach Dick Irvin's statement that Buddy O'Connor of Montreal Canadiens is the greatest all-round player in the National Hockey League seems to have been solidly seconded by Johnny Crawford and Flash Hollett.

Shortly after Canadiens handed Boston Bruins that 13-4 beating in Montreal Sunday, two Boston defencemen joined in tribute to the 27-year-old centre player who graduated to Canadiens from Montreal amateur ranks.

Said Crawford: "I never saw anything like O'Connor's shift. The guy is coming at you full tilt, and all of a sudden you find he's around you—I don't know how he does it."

Joe Buckna Sends Greetings From Boys Overseas

Gunner Joseph Buckna sends his Christmas greetings in a recent letter from overseas.

"Just to let you know, since Christmas will soon be here, that the kids and myself from the Kootenays send greetings to you all back home one and all," he writes.

"Greetings to 'Paddy' Croxson who just recently returned. The mail which had been delayed has caught up now with a bang. Then soon comes the Christmas mail. We are ever so grateful at this time for the parcels and good things in the parcels bring many smiles. They are welcome indeed."

GANUCKS GOOD FIGHTERS

"The Allies are really scoring the punches now—our air forces are hitting hard—Russia is on the move in a big way and our boys in Italy are really doing grand work despite the winter, mud and cold. The Canadian lads have a mighty good reputation on the battlefield and take no back seat for anyone."

"The lads are getting their smokes from the C. M. & S. Co. for which we say 'thanks'."

"The skies are filled with a sky armada all day long, and they are not dog biscuits they carry, either. They are dropped where they do most good against the enemy's vital military targets."

"The Nazis dropped a lucky one on a dance hall in London causing many casualties. There are only a few who ever get in so close to the greater London area but even the few can do some damage. The defences are strong over the British Isles. Our Mosquitoes really have a sting."

"The Moscow Conference seemed to have made a real hit with our diplomats, so we look to a better understanding between the great nations in the future. May it be the end of world wars."

"A special hello to Mrs. Mary Buckna, my mother, Mrs. Annie Mark, Mr. and Mrs. E. LeRoy, Mr. and Mrs. H. Stoen, all my friends and relatives in Trail."

"The lads are in good health, they all send a great big Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to one and all, and again thanks for everything."

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR., Associated Press Sport Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 25 (AP)—To the Detroit district golf association with an assist from Cleveland, goes the credit for the United States Golf Association's campaign to have America's 3000 golf clubs provide the beautiful jobs for handicapped war veterans.

The movement is gathering headway. When the new Philles' President, Robert R. M. Carpenter, Jr., said he planned to hire an experienced baseball executive to handle the club, scribbles began wondering if he could mean Bill Terry (what, again?), or Herb Pennock, who is said to be a close friend of the family.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

John Mooney, Salt Lake Telegram: "We shall always contend that Judge Landis' real reason for ousting Bill Cox was not Bill's betting on the Philles nearly so much as it was the Judge's opinion that anyone foolish enough to wager on the Philles' winning ball games shouldn't handle the finances of a big league ball club."

THANK YOU NOTE

On this Thanksgiving Day after nearly two years of war, sports fans in the U. S. should be thankful for the continuation of baseball, a pretty fair football season; a lot of good boxing bouts; horse racing (win or lose); track and field, hockey, tennis, soccer, etc. . . . and the determination of sports authorities and athletes to keep sports alive when it would be so easy just to give up.

Warlike Theme Dominates East-West Game

TORONTO, Nov. 25 (CP)—The wartime theme dominates the 18th annual renewal of the East-West classic for the Dominion football title and the Grey Cup this Saturday in Toronto's Varsity Stadium between Winnipeg R. C. A. F. Bombers and Hamilton Flying Wildcats.

This fourth wartime final—there was no game in 1940—duplicates the setting for the 1942 classic in which one service team—Toronto R. C. A. F. Hurricanes—played a Western team which combined players from the three services with civilians—Winnipeg R.C.A.F.-Bombers. Hurricanes won the game 8-5.

The service team this time is the challenging Winnipeg Club while the Wildcats have on their roster eight members of the Air Force and two of the Navy, the rest of the players being civilians many of whom work in war plants.

The fact that neither of the competing clubs is from Toronto is not likely to affect the attendance, advance indications being that upwards of 14,000 fans will see the annual classic—providing the weather is favorable.

The Bombers, confident that they can take the Grey Cup back to Western Canada for the fourth time since the East-West competition first began in 1921, arrive in Toronto tomorrow morning and have a brief unlimbering workout scheduled for the afternoon.

The Wildcats held their final workout tonight in Hamilton and will come to Toronto Saturday morning for the game.

Hamilton Coach Brian Timmins—a veteran of East-West competition—said today that his team will "be in there trying" but he had no predictions to offer as to the outcome.

However, some of his worries have been allayed by the return to sound health of his triple-threat backfield star—Joe Krol—who was a sick man when he led the Wildcats to victory over Lachine in the Eastern Canada final last Saturday.

Double Bill Opens Hoop Leagues

Ex-Bomberettes and Bombers, Business Men and Spillies match shots tonight in the opener of 1943-44 Basketball League play. The girls' curtain-raiser is at 7:30 p.m. while the men will take the floor at the Junior High gym immediately following the girls' match.

Nelson Virtually Clinches $5000 Golf Derby

PORTLAND, Nov. 25 (AP)—Holted Byron Nelson fired two under par over the Waverly Country Club course today and virtually clinched his $5000 War Relief Golf Derby with Harold (Jug) McSpaden.

Nelson carded 36-35-70 while McSpaden scored 36-37-73 as a record crowd of 1000 spectators followed the two touring professionals.

With only 72 holes remaining in their contest, Nelson's victory today gave him a 16-stroke lead. The final matches will be played at Sacramento and San Francisco.

King's Plate Restrictions Lifted

TORONTO, Nov. 25 (CP)—The Ontario Jockey Club today made drastic changes in conditions of the historic King's Plate, throwing the oldest continuously-run stake of North American thoroughbred racing open to all three-year-olds foaled in Canada and allowing horse men to take Plate candidates outside Canada prior to the running.

Since the first running of the three-year-old classic in 1880, the King's Plate has been restricted to horses foaled in Ontario.

The announcement of the changed conditions was made following the annual meeting of Jockey Club directors today by Col. K. R. Marshall, Jockey Club President, who also promised that the purse value of the event will be increased in 1944 from the $3000 added offered last Spring for the 84th renewal, won by C. H. (Charlie) Hemmle's Pollita.

Acting on complaints of horsemen that many three-year-olds are at a disadvantage in being forced to run a mile and an eighth—the Plate distance—on the first day of the Ontario Spring season without a preliminary race, the directors also decided to shift the King's Plate to the second Saturday of the seven-day Spring meeting at Woodbine Park. A new race, the Plate Trial, will be run on opening day for Plate candidates, distance six furlongs.

Boll Scores Four Goals as Bruins Take Rangers; Hawks Take Wings

BOSTON, Nov. 25 (AP)—Burr Boll, veteran right winger, scored four times while the Boston Bruins were subjecting the New York Rangers to their 10th consecutive National Hockey League setback by a 5-2 margin tonight before a skippy crowd of 7800 at the Boston Garden.

The other Boston scorers were Dit Clapper, veteran defence star, and young Norm Calladine.

The Rangers, unable to get a shot on the Boston cage during the first 13 minutes of one sided play, were trailing by four goals when Ott Heller, one of their few seasoned players, combined with Butch Hillier, early in the second period.

Rookie Billy Gooden rammed in the other New York goal during the fourth minute of the finale, after a rink length rush with such veterans as Heller and Bryne Hextall.

Two of the three Bruins who were sold to the Rangers before the game were in action—Centre Charlie Scherz and winger Oscar Aubuchon. But they did not play a prominent part in their new team's downfall. The other, Ab DeMarco, also a centre, is on the injured list.

Dec. 28 is the date this season for the Nelson Figure Skating Club's popular revue.

For several years, with the exception of last winter, the figure skating revue has been an outstanding event on the winter entertainment calendar. With the interest and enthusiasm being shown by members, it is expected the 1943 revue will exceed all past performances. The skaters are working on the various numbers, and committee members are busy.

An endeavor is being made to bring in outside skaters to add their talent. These arrangements, however, are not complete.

Canada May Name Chairman to U.N.R.R.A. Committee on Supplies

By C. R. BLACKBURN, Canadian Press Staff Writer

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 25 (CP)—Indications here today were that the permanent committee on supplies would emerge from the UNRRA Conference as one of the most important bodies set up to advise the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration, and that the Canadian Government may be elected to name its Chairman.

Through a mass of reports from 15 sub-committees, the conference delegates saw the possibility of completing their work a week from today.

Dean Acheson, U. S. Assistant Undersecretary of State and conference chairman, said he hoped to have all sub-committee reports by Saturday and a consolidated report ready for consideration early next week.

L. B. Pearson, head of the Canadian delegation and Chairman of the sub-committee on organization of supply and transportation has made his report.

It reflects the policy which has been followed by Canada since the project of United Nations effort toward cooperative relief of war distressed countries was first advanced—that the supplying countries be given a real job to do in the library.

Library, gymnasium, swimming, bowling, Sea Cadets, badminton, and Canadian Women's Training Corps activities had been carried on in the building during the year.

Others elected to the Executive were F. E. Dockrill, Vice-President; F. L. Hallam, Secretary; A. W. McDonald, Treasurer; T. R. S. Stanley, R. H. McLaughlin and William Ray, Directors.

Boys and Men Massacred in Reprisal for Shooting German Soldier

ALGIERS, Nov. 25 (AP)—Allied Headquarters today gave out the story, as related by a British officer, of the massacre of 54 men and boys in the town of Belkoms, Naples Province, by the Germans on Oct. 7.

The massacre was in reprisal, the British officer said, for the killing of one German soldier and the wounding of another after they had seized and attempted to carry off a young Italian girl.

The girl was 21-year-old Maria Cafaro, daughter of a naturalized American citizen, Gabriel Cafaro, formerly in the U. S. at present.

Last Oct. 6 while the Germans still were in Belkoms, Maria was peeling vegetables in the home when German soldiers climbed over the fence and approached, grinning.

She stood up and the vegetables tipped over. She bent over to save them and the Germans grabbed her by the shoulders and legs and started up the stairs.

Maria's uncle heard her scream and went to help her

Rayon From B. C.
Wood Pulp
May Replace Cotton
for Tire Fabric

Rayon from British Columbia wood pulp is expected to replace cotton as the ideal material for tire fabric. Many experts say the rayon causes less friction between inner tube and outer cover than does cotton. That is because cotton, a natural fibre, carries fuzz or nap which generates heat in the "pull" that develops between inner tube and outer cover. Rayon, a wood pulp fibre born in a vat and made into a fibre by being forced through a tiny hole, is quite smooth and friction-resistant. A first-class civil war is on in the United States between advocates of cotton and of rayon for use in making tires. Meanwhile, large-scale production of rayon pulp from hemlock is a feature of the war program of the British Columbia Pulp and Paper Co., Ltd., at Port Alice and Woodfibre. Above is shown the finished rayon filament yarn ready to ship in bales or skeins for weaving or knitting.

Captain Gilloft Promoted to Rank of Major

Captain E. M. Gilloft of Nelson, on active service since the outbreak of war, has been promoted to the rank of major. Mrs. Gilloft received a cable Wednesday telling of his promotion.

Major Gilloft enlisted in the 11th (Nelson) Field Battery, R.C.A., when it was organized as a non-permanent militia unit. He had served briefly in the First Great War.

After serving for some time as a sergeant in the 11th he was promoted to commissioned rank a short time before the war, and went into active service as a lieutenant. Overseas he was transferred from the Artillery to the Ordnance Corps, and served for some time as a captain.

Scots to Have Haggis on Meatless Day

By JAMES MCCOOK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Nov. 26 (CP) — The haggis may be legally eaten in restaurants on St. Andrew's Day, Nov. 30 — a meatless Tuesday — and Scotsmen say it will taste none the worse for innuendoes that have appeared — even those in today's official Prices Board announcement making it legal.

Some 70 Scotsmen in Prices Board headquarters here were placed fairly on the spot when complaints began to pour in that the meatless Tuesday regulations would prevent the Scot enjoying haggis on the day of his patron saint.

The Aberdeen Scot, Donald Gordon, Prices Board Chairman, could appreciate the intensity of the spirit behind protest telegrams which came collect and letters which were franked.

Among questions raised in the country-wide debate on the haggis was whether it was really food, whether it was meat or offal and whether it was eaten on Burns' Day, Jan. 25, instead of St. Andrew's Day.

The Board evaded most of the questions and issued the following pronouncement:

"It is understood that the Board action was taken in response to appeals from interested parties throughout Canada and that these consisted principally of collect telegrams and franked letters."

"A spokesman for the Board said that its research division had been unable to ascertain that there is any commonly-agreed-upon recipe for haggis."

"In some forms it is believed to contain sheep's stomachs, hearts, livers, lungs and hoofs and while the meatless Tuesday order prohibits serving of butchers' offal in public eating places on Tuesday, it was felt that an exception could be made for haggis because as many Scotsmen contend it is a hardship to eat it as maintain it is a hardship to do without it."

"It was intimated that haggis originated in the days of border raiding as a means of concealing evidence of sheep stealing but has since become a recourse of harassed chefs in house-cleaning season."

Clamp Hold Order on Army Promotions

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP) — The United States Senate Military Committee has asked for a full report from the War Department on the slapping of a shell shocked private by Lt. Gen. George S. Patton and meantime has clamped an informal hold order on the promotions of 14 other Generals.

The latter action, while coming close on the heels of the Patton episode, appeared to be aimed primarily at preventing — if possible — the elevation of Lt. Gen. Brebron B. Somervell to Chief of Staff if Marshall takes command of Allied forces in the European theatre.

Somervell, who heads the Army's Supply Service, is a former W.P.A. director for New York and a friend of Harry Hopkins, Presidential adviser.

Man's Actions, Not Words Are What Count

The value of man's deeds, as compared with the value of his words, were compared in a timely parable by Lt. Col. Matt Junker when he addressed a meeting at the Salvation Army Hall Thursday evening.

Quoting the parable of the three servants who were given an equal sum of money, two of them returning after having increased theirs, and one returning with only an excuse for his one talent, Lt. Col. Junker applied the lesson to the times of today.

"Those men who acted, and increased their talents, are like those thousands of fighting men today who are performing deeds for the benefit of others. How much more do we respect and honor those men, in preference to the tones who stand by, and let the other fellow do the task!"

The parable of the Good Samaritan concluded the officer's address. "We despise the two who passed the wounded traveller, refusing to aid him, waiting for someone else to do the deed, and we love the third one, the Samaritan, who did away with idle words and excuses, and performed the kindly deed," he observed.

SURE THERE'S GOING TO BE A CHRISTMAS

With old "Bull" Mussolini chased off his balcony, the Nazis getting their "Kharkov" knocked off in Russia, the Japs getting it with increasing violence in the Pacific, and the United Nations everywhere cooking up more grief for the Axis... well, the war situation surely looks better and back here on the home front we can breathe again and feel a little more like celebrating the Christmas holiday than we did last year.

While we are not able to offer you the pre-war selections we have stocks of merchandise that will enable you to follow a sound policy for this wartime Christmas of giving only what will be useful and necessary to the person who receives the gift.

So please shop early and avoid disappointment.
