Representatives of Poland Show Satisfaction

LONDON, Nov. 2 (Tuesday) (CP)—The war and post-war views of Britain, the United States, Russia and China, as set forth by the Moscow conference, won general acclaim here today—but raised a few complicated questions and much speculation. (For details of Moscow announcement, see page 3).

Even representatives of Poland, the only foreign government not having diplomatic relations with Russia, expressed satisfaction with the declarations of the parley, although Polish-Russian relations were not mentioned.

Representatives of European Governments in London interpreted the declaration to mean that the great powers had agreed not to dictate to the smaller countries.

Czechoslovaks particularly welcomed the plan to liberate Austria.

Unanimous was approval for the expression of determination to punish war criminals.

The press here cheered the announcement that China had joined the signatories in the declaration of general security. Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express said that while "it does not mean that Russia goes to war in the East," it means that Russia will collaborate in the victory in the East.

The Daily Herald said: "Our hopes are realized. The shape of things to come grows clearer. It is a goodly shape. But if the splendid promise of Moscow is to be realized, the work of collaboration must go on benevolently at an ever-increasing pace."

The Times declared "by far the most important operative decision" of the conference was establishing a European Advisory Commission of the three powers. It added that "the most obvious gap in the declaration" was the omission of any reference, except by implication, to economic reconstruction.

The BBC devoted entire programs to the declaration, beaming its full text to Germany and occupied countries. It broadcast the agreement in 26 languages.

Gen. Ivan Petrov's Northwest Caucasian Army also is poised across the two-mile-wide Kerch Strait separating the Caucasus from the Crimea on the East.

Russian reconquest of the Peninsula would again put the Soviet feet in control of the Black Sea, and give Red Airman valuable bases for attacks on Axis bases in the Crimea, and in Rumania.

The Germans acknowledged the break-through on the Nogaiak Steppes in their Berlin broadcasts, but only indirectly disclosed the imminence of it by saying that "the gateways to the Crimea are still in German hands."

North of the Crimea the Russians reached the edge of the lower Dnieper River between Kakhovka and Nikopol at a point 70 miles West of Melitopol with the capture of Zaporozhye-Kairy, the communistic said.

SWEEP 80 TOWNS
Sixty towns were swept up during the day, a total of 410 in three days, as the Germans fled in disorder. Ever soiled chocked with wrecked

Gen. Feodor Tolbukhin's victorious 4th Ukrainian Army drove five miles ahead into both narrow corridors linking the Crimea with the mainland, on the Northwest of Perekop and on the Northeast at Novo-Aleksseyevka.

Other units racing Westward of the Crimea converged on the Kakhovka and Nikopol crossings, of the lower Dnieper River in an effort to cross that stream and join two other Russian armies inside the Dnieper Bend, where fresh Red Army gains also were made.

Spilling into Perekop at the top of a 15-mile-long isthmus the Russians captured that town, went on to crack the old Turkish wall fortifications, and took Armyansk Basar, five miles to the South.

"Thus the ways of retreat by land for the enemy forces in the Crimea have been cut by our troops," the bulletin said.

This rapid investment of the Crimea was one of Russia's greatest accomplishments of the war, and put the Red Army in a reversal of the bloody role played out on the four-mile-wide Perekop isthmus in September, 1941, when the Germans captured it by a frontal assault.

"Hastily retreating under blows of our forces the enemy is sustaining huge losses in manpower and equipment," Moscow announced only a few hours after the historic results of the tripartite conference among the U. S., Britain and Russia had been disclosed.

"During Oct. 31 and Nov. 1 alone our troops have taken prisoner over 8000 enemy officers and men," the communique said in telling of the fall of 60 more villages on the Nogaiak Steppes and the cutting of the enemy's Perekop-Cherson road and rail links to the Crimea.

Says DeMarigny's Fingerprint Found in Room

By E. V. W. JONES
Associated Press Staff Writer

NASSAU, Bahamas, Nov. 1 (AP).—A scholarly New York police expert testified today the fingerprint reported by the Crown to have been found in the room where Sir Harry Oakes was slain is the impression of Alfred de Marigny's little right finger.

Frank Conway of the New York Bureau of Identification, the first witness of the third week of De Marigny's trial on a charge of murder in connection with the bludgeoning and burning of his millionaire father-in-law, said he studied the fingerprint on exhibit and the impression made by De Marigny when he was fingerprinted after his arrest.

"My conclusion is that they are identical, and were made by the same person," he swore.

Dressed in the same creamy white tropical suit he wore last week, De Marigny propped his foot against the bars of the prisoner's cage and listened.

Conway said the New York Bureau of Identification has on file more than 4,000,000 cards, or 10,000,000 individual fingerprints. He told of demonstrating fingerprinting at the New York World's Fair, where he took prints of thousands of volunteers, including many sets of twins.

"No fingerprints of separate individuals ever have been found identical anywhere in the world," he declared.

THE ANTISEPTIC LINIMENT

"I'll tell you one thing," says Squadron Leader Charles Stuart Dowie, D.F.C., Bar—
"We can't win this war with an even balance of power—it must be a decisive superiority. The more support, the shorter the war!"
"The better we're backed up by the folks back home—the better we fight!"

SETTING THE PACE FOR VICTORY

Squadron Leader DOWIE knows what he's talking about! Fifty flights over enemy territory taught him. He knows you can't stop at being just as good as the other man—you've got to be better and have more of everything!

He knows the Jerries are tough! Once they nearly got him when he visited Hamburg in a death-dealing Wellington! It was a close call—but those Canadians did what they set out to do... released a surprise packet of bursting bombs right where it hurt Jerry most—on one of his precious war factories.

Then they streaked for home... if you can call it streaking... peppered with flak—the bomb doors hanging open... flaps sagging... and the hydraulic system knocked out! You lose a lot of height quick in a jam like that—and bucking a strong west wind doesn't help much! But they made it—safely—with less than ten minutes' gas to spare. That's war as they know it... split-second decisions... nerves tensed to trigger quickness... brains alert to death and danger.

That's their job—tackled in the true Canadian spirit! Tackled by boys from prairie farms... from northern bushlands... from peaceful Canadian seacoasts... from little towns that have borne and bred men with the spirit of Squadron Leader Dowie.

They're fighting this war—and they know what's needed! When they ask for more planes, more equipment, more guns—there's only one answer... "more of everything on its way!"

We can do it—we're Canadians too! It means more and more work... greater self-denial... MORE VICTORY BONDS!

Show these boys we're in there fighting with them... they're putting everything they've got into this war... put everything you've got into VICTORY BONDS.

For it's VICTORY BONDS that will deliver the goods... it's VICTORY BONDS that will shorten the war.

He was within a month of being 73 years old. He had a host of friends throughout the West Kootenay District.

where he settled at Gen. where he was a show merchant. He married there.

CAME HERE IN 1890

When the big labor troubles hit the Coeur d'Alene, he closed out at Gen. and in 1890 came to Nelson, where he opened a shoe store on Ward Street, on the lower end of the site now occupied by the Medical Arts Block. This he operated until 1911, when he started the Provincial Police here.

He was almost immediately transferred to Oreston, in charge of the post there, and in 1913 was moved to Trout Lake City, where he remained for two years. In 1914 he was transferred to New Denver, and remained there for eight or nine years.

In 1923 or 1924 he obtained transfer to Okalla, where for 18 or 19 years he was in charge of the shoe making department, residing in Burnaby.

Some nine years ago he was superannuated, his retirement being speeded up somewhat on account of his health, and he remained a resident of Burnaby until a year or two ago, when he moved to Winnipeg, residing at 2805 Portage Avenue, in the suburb of Sturgeon Creek.

OUTDOOR MAN AND FISHER

Hunting and fishing were Mr. Gunn's outdoor recreations, which he enjoyed to the full, particularly on Trout Lake and Sloon Lake, but he was also a musical devotee, and during his residence in Nelson he was official paper for all public affairs. He was a member of Oskalla Lodge No. 2122, and was a past master of the lodge. He was also a member of the Oskalla Club and the Oskalla Athletic Club.

Mr. Gunn was twice married. His first wife died in Kootenay Laxo General Hospital, where she was brought for treatment, in 1913, while the family resided at New Denver. After his retirement, he married again, in Burnaby.

He is survived by his wife; by five adult children—H. G. Gunn of New Denver, W. E. Gunn of Nelson, Miss Ida Gunn of Victoria, Mrs. Hunter Vogel, formerly Miss Isabel Gunn, of Duncan, and Alet. Gunn of Vancouver, now overseas in the Royal Canadian Artillery, and by three sisters in Canada—Mrs. Denver Shanon of Trail, Mrs. C. J. Sinclair of New Denver, and Mrs. W. McKay of Kelowna, B.C.

2. Of this, $144,098,000 is invested in Dominion of Canada bonds.

Nelson Doing Big War Job "Behind the Scenes"; $4,700,000 Contributed

Written for The Canadian Press by ERIC RAMSDEN Nelson Daily News

NELSON, B. C., Nov. 1 (CP).—Nelson District's part in the war effort has been "plain plugging"—but it's been doing a better job of that than anyone, least of all the citizens, appear to realize.

Nelson has not had a war boom, nor has it been a war demerit. Just now, after four years of asking, a war industry has been established—a sub-assembly plant of Boeing Aircraft of Canada Ltd., housed in the Civic Centre's badminton hall, largest of its kind in Western Canada. Some 250 to 300 persons, mostly women, will be employed.

Previously Nelson's war industry was confined to minor sub-contracts at machine, blacksmith and wood-working shops. But the war effort proper goes far beyond the city, spreading through the district like roots of a tree.

Outstanding contributions have been made by the mining and lumbering industries. Pre-war mining meant gold but modern demand is for base metals and mines of other years have been reopened, mills rebuilt, and an increasing flow of lead and zinc concentrates is moving to United States smelters.

Given greater manpower, the Shonah could increase still further the flow of base metals.

War-time demand brought the development near Salmo of Canada's greatest tungsten mine, the Emerald. Just as it came into production, the need for tungsten fell off sharply and mine and mill are now idle. But engineers state the development program carried out by Wartime Metals, a Crown company, has made a mine which can operate commercially later.

War-time metals also brought back into production the Kootenay Florence at Alansworth, one of the District's base metal producers.

LUMBERING HAS BIG PART

Lumbering has played a part evidenced by trainloads of forest products. Output has climbed steadily until an all-time record for sawlogs was established in August. Spruce for airplane veneers made at Vancouver; cottonwood for locally-made veneers that find a hundred war uses; spruce lumber and cottonwood for wartime packaging; cedar poles for power lines in place of steel; lumber for barracks, internment camps and wartime housing—this is the picture of West Kootenay lumbering in wartime.

Increased railway traffic has resulted in expansion of shop facilities at Nelson, a Canadian Pacific Railway divisional point, with a wheel and axle lathe shop built this year. While all this was going on Nelson and District sent nearly 1000 men and women to the forces. The local Women's Auxiliary to the active forces has undertaken to supply each recruit with a Christmas parcel and 300 will go overseas, each containing a home-baked fruit-cake and knitted articles.

Early in the war Wing Cmdr. John Campbell, well known local fruit grower, set a mark for Nelson men to strive for when he was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross. He was killed in the Battle of France.

Housing is not a serious problem, although good accommodation is at a premium.

Business has profited from the evacuation of Japanese from the Coast to such adjacent points as Kaslo, Sandon and Shonah City. Quantities of local lumber were absorbed in the construction of hundreds of small houses for them.

An outstanding service rendered by Nelson, Nakusp and Kaslo has been entertainment of almsmen training in Alberta under the Commonwealth Air Training Plan. Fifteen hundred of varied nationalities has come here through offices of the Citizens' Committees and many have returned on private invitations.

One of the greatest stories of the war effort is the financial contribution made by Nelson District residents. With a population of 25,000, of which 7000 are Doukhobors whose contribution generally is regarded as slight, more than $4,690,000 has been raised of which $3,793,130 was in victory bonds.

Bulldozer Wipes Out Jap Machine-Gun Nest

GUADALCANAL, Oct. 31 (AP).—A United States bulldozer doubling in an emergency as an offensive weapon knocked out a Japanese machine gun nest during the landing on Treasury Islands, it was reported today.

A New Zealand officer, whose men were held up a few yards from shore by strong enemy machine-gun fire, saw an unidentifiable American drive his giant bulldozer from a landing craft which had just beached.

"The light of battle came into the American's eye," the New Zealand officer said. "With blade uplifted as a shield he barged through the undergrowth and then, as he reached the enemy platoon he dropped the blade, scooping up earth on the Japs burying them."

"Halfway over the hole he swerved his improvised tank around and then pulled away leaving a flat, smooth area and no trace of the Japs or the machine guns."

F.A.C. Annual and Banquet to See Presentations

The Fairview Athletic Club will hold its annual meeting and banquet shortly, states Slim Porter, the Club's manager.

As usual hockey matters will take up most of the time of the meeting. This year the Club will be able to enter only a bantam and a midget team, the juveniles being shifted into the Commercial League—such as there are of them available.

Last year's executive is small, with only two Vice-Presidents available, with the other members being in the Armed Services.

Highlights of the meeting and banquet will be the presentation of the Wm. Marquis Sportsmanship Trophy to St. Clair Duffy, who won the honor for the past 1942-43 season. Duffy also receives a small replica of the Trophy from the club for his own personal keep. There will also be presentation of photos of the Club's City Bantam Champions to each of the Bantam players who were on the team.

This year's meeting will mark the start of the Club's twenty-second year in Nelson and district sport.

Oster's 14½-Pound Trout Officially Entered for Derby

St. Oscar, Maine 7½ lbs. who annually has some of the best entries in the derby, was caught in the derby, caught a 14½ pounder way back in July—a tribute to his prowess because few big fellows were caught that month. The report of his catch went astray somewhere and it wasn't until a checkup was made that his catch was brought to the notice of Derby Statistician J. A. Ballantyne. It is now on the official list, however.

Mr. Oster landed his 14½ pounder in the North Bay at Blands, the big fellow taking a Gibbs Stewart No. 2. It was weighed in by J. W. Burn, Alzworth.

Big Stuke Takes 10-Point Lead in Ontario Scoring

TORONTO, Nov. 1 (CP)—Annie Stukas of Toronto Balm Beach tonight held a 10-point lead over his closest rival, Joe Krol of Hamilton Flying Wildcats. It was shown in the Ontario Rugby Football Union scoring statistics compiled by The Canadian Press.

Big Stuke scored two field goals, a single and three converts in the two games he played in the last week to increase his total to 56 while Krol had a touchdown and one single, bringing his total to 44. Walter Gubb, Hamilton's placekick kicker, held third place in the standings with 31 points.

Hundreds of Fish Caught in Freak of Nature

MARCUS HOOK, Pa., Nov. 1 (AP)—It was a freak of nature, but fishermen's luck, and 300 boys made the most of it.

They used landing nets, coal stoves, bushel baskets, even their hands, to scoop up hundreds of fish marooned in the shallow waters along the banks of the Delaware River here yesterday.

All they did was wade in and slap 'em onto the bank.

A 14-year-old boy claimed the record catch—more than 300.

Opinions differed as to how the fish were stranded. Some believed heavy rains, causing an interchange of fresh and salt water, made them sluggish. Others thought heavy blasting on the Jersey side may have stunned them.

But the boys didn't worry about explanations—they just caught fish.

Pioneer Cranbrook Business Firm Goes to Coast Man

CRANBROOK, B.C.—This area's oldest business firm, which predates the founding of Cranbrook has been bought by J. M. Falkins of Vancouver. It is the real estate and insurance firm of Beale and Sewell, started at Fort Steele in 1887 by M. A. Beale and Edward Sewell, when Steele gave indication of becoming the hub of East Kootenay.

When the course of the projected southern provincial branch of the railway went through Cranbrook instead of Steele the townsite was blocked out in 1888 and settled rapidly. The firm transferred from Fort Steele to Cranbrook in the early 1900's.

Both partners are now dead. On the death of Mr. Beale several years ago, Mrs. Beale assumed management and will now retire to make her home at Victoria. Mr. Falkins is a former member of R. S. Day & Son, and he and Mrs. Falkins and their young son will take over the apartment occupied by Mrs. Beale in the Hanson Block, which also houses the office of the firm.

Doukhobor Goes to Jail for Failing Register

For failure to register as required under National Registration Regulations, Sam Savinkoff, Pass Creek Doukhobor, on Monday was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 or to serve three months in jail.

Appearing before Supt. Magistrate Stanley Humphries in Provincial Police Court at Castlegar, he pleaded not guilty and in his defence said he followed only God's law. He refused to pay the fine and Monday afternoon was escorted to the Provincial Jail at Nelson to begin serving his sentence.

Jury Sees Body of Doukhobor Killed in Car

Body of John Weykin, Glade Doukhobor who was killed Saturday night in a truck-car crash near Shoreacres, was viewed Monday by a coroner's jury, opening an inquest into his death.

Adjournment was taken after the view, tentatively until 4 p.m. next Monday. This date was not certain, however, being dependent upon the availability of officials and of witnesses.

Weykin was driving a 1937 model passenger car when it figured in a partial collision with a slabwood-loaded truck driven by John Waddie of William Waddie & Sons Ltd., Robson.

The driver of the truck and his son escaped unhurt.

Three passengers in the Weykin car are in Kootenay Lake General Hospital under treatment—Miss Mary Chernenkoff with concussion, a broken arm and wrist; Alex Kooznetsoff with broken leg and shoulder; and Eli Koometsoff, father of Alex, with cuts.

The coroner's jury consists of J. V. E. McFlory, Foreman; Albert J. Hansen, Charles McDougall, J. W. Smith, J. A. Wright and James Muir.

CANADIANS COVER ADVANCE ON POTENZA: The capture of Potenza, Italy, by Canadians spearheading the Eighth Army's advance threw Canadian forces together in a combined effort after an all-out blitz on mined roads by engineers. While tanks and machine guns blazed away at cleverly-concealed German positions, Canadian infantry worked its way into the town and took over. Here, machine-gunners cover the advance.

AMERICAN EAGLES OPERATE FROM ABOARD VICTORIOUS: Her deck lined with U. S. Navy fighters and torpedo bombers, the British aircraft carrier H.M.S. Victorious rides at anchor in the harbor at a South Pacific base. This British veteran of almost every sea has operated with the U. S. Pacific fleet for several months now, taking part in offensive sweeps against the enemy in the Coral Sea, Southwest and Midwest Pacific areas. While American flying crews operated from the Victorious her own fliers were based aboard an American carrier—an interesting "exchange" of personnel.

THAT DOUBLING HABIT

GET YOUR opponents into the doubling habit, by bidding a whole series of different things they are certain to whack, and you may ultimately lure them into doubling something they shouldn't. At least, that is the idea back of a policy employed by some bidding psychologists or psychological bidders in trying to get the contract at a sacrifice and thus prevent the opponents from playing the hand at a highly profitable contract.
