Says Vichy Fugitives Admitted to Canada

Toronto Paper Claims Catholic Influence Behind Entry; One Reported on University Staff

TORONTO, Oct. 15 (Friday) (CP)—The Globe and Mail says today in an Ottawa-dated front-page story that four "alleged Nazi collaborators" from France have been admitted to Canada and all four are living in Quebec Province.

The story did not name the four. It said one "is reported to be a member of the faculty of a Roman Catholic University there."

OTTAWA, Oct. 14 (CP)—A Government source disclosed tonight that four men, believed to be former Nazi collaborators from France have been permitted to remain in Canada by special Cabinet order-in-council.

The source said the decision was reached by the Cabinet after strong pressure was brought supporting the appeals of the four men against deportation. The source linked the case with that of Count Jacques de Bernonville, now fighting deportation in a Montreal court.

The men were named as: Dr. Georges Bênoit Montel, Dr. Andre Charles Emanuel Boussat, Julien Gaudens, Labedan and Jean Louis Huc. All are reported to be residing in Quebec province. One is reported teaching in a Roman Catholic university.

Unlike de Bernonville, the source said, the four were found to be in good health and otherwise suitable for residence in Canada.

From another quarter it was learned that altogether there had been six of the so-called wartime collaborators, one of which was Count de Bernonville. Out of the six, only one has actually been deported so far.

Officials decline to divulge how they got into Canada.

"All four Frenchmen are alleged to have held administrative posts of varying importance under the Vichy Government of France during the German occupation," says the Globe and Mail. "They are said to have been convicted 'in absentia' on collaboration charges at trials held in France after they had fled to Canada."

The story says "it is alleged the Roman Catholic hierarchy in Quebec threw its weight behind the successful applications." It says the four were granted "what is technically known as 'permission to land,' by an order-in-council passed in September "which has never been made public."

T.L.C. ASKS CONTROLS ON ESSENTIALS

Low Income Workers Being Overtaxed Convention Is Told

CODE SUPPORTED

VICTORIA, Oct. 14 (CP)—Return of price controls on "essential" articles was advocated today by the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada convention.

The convention commended its executive for trying to have these controls re-established and to have a 100-per cent tax levied on excess profits—"with cartels, monopolies and speculators prosecuted if found guilty of prifiteering."

The Congress also asked that the Executive work against any relaxation of rent controls, after some delegates had declared removal of these controls would be a "catastrophe."

Bruce Magnusson of Sudbury, Ont., head of the Lumber and Sawmill Workers' Union, declared Canada's taxation structure discriminated against low income workers.

He criticized removal of the excess profits tax. The corporations were not in need of tax relief, but workers were being over-taxed.

"The corporations are trying to explain away their huge profits by means of trickery," he said. "They're making so much money they are ashamed of it."

Dealing with income tax, the Congress itself expressed regret that no reduction had been made in the income tax in the lower wage brackets.

BEHIND LABOR CODE

In another resolution, the convention gave qualified endorsation to the new Federal Labor Code as a "step in the right direction."

Increased benefits under the Unemployment Insurance Act were asked, and the Congress also urged it should cover all workers.

It also declared that old age pension provisions should be "improved."

A national health insurance plan and "adequate" housing were other requests made by the delegates.

On the Labor Code, National Secretary-Treasurer J. W. Buckley said that Act was far from perfect. But it was something on the statute books as a basis for future legislation to meet the needs of labor.

Other recommendations were for a "sound" immigration policy, reduction of the voting age, Federal aid for education, the 40-hour work week, pevention of injunctions in labor disputes, and gratuities and benefits for overseas wartime volunteer fire-fighters.

VICTORIA, Oct. 14 (CP) — Calgary was chosen today as the 1949 convention city of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

Delegates to the T.L.C. annual convention picked Calgary in preference to Montreal or Saskatoon

Drive Against Seed Eating Mice

VICTORIA, Oct. 14 (CP) — The Forestry Department is all-out on a mice trapping campaign.

The object is to discover when the mice population is at its lowest ebb so that the Department can start planting Douglas fir seeds.

In the past it has been a race to see if the Department could plant them faster than the mice could eat the seeds. The mice won.

Laboratory tests, he explained, revealed a mouse could eat 300 seeds a day. The deer mouse appeared to be the worst offender.

The Department is now considering coating the seeds in order to make them less palatable for mice.

ARGUE RIGHT TO BAN GRADUATE FROM BAR

VANCOUVER, Oct. 14 (CP) — Communism, holding frontpage play in newspapers across Canada, today has become a dynamic subject at the University of British Columbia.

It stems from the Red ban imposed by the B.C. Law Society which refused admittance to the Bar of Gordon Martin of Nanaimo, B.C.

A graduate of the U.B.C., and head of the now-defunct Communist forum at the University, Martin refused to name his political affiliation to the benchers.

Now a controversy rages on the right of the Law Society to ban anyone because of political affiliations.

To Set Falcons on Plane-Ramming Birds

LONDON, Oct. 14 (AP) — The Air Ministry, noting that birds caused 13 plane accidents on British airfields last year, announced today the Royal Air Force has bought 15 Falcons and trained six men as falconers in the hopes of keeping birds out of the R.A.F.'s air

LABOR CONGRESS CALLS I.W.A. REBELS TRAITORS

Labor-Progressives Blamed for Break by Delegate

OUTSIDE ORDERS

By GEORGE RONALD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, Oct. 14 (CP) — The Canadian Congress of Labor took another roundhouse swing today at the stubborn Communist minority within its ranks—and connected.

It wrote into Congress policy an enthusiastic statement of support for the strife-torn International Woodworkers of America and a bitter slap at the Woodworkers Industrial Union, a "rump" outfit born recently in British Columbia.

The Woodworkers Union was formed last Oct. 3 by the British Columbia District Council of the I.W.A. after the Council—alleged to be Communist-dominated — broke away from its international affiliation.

A resolution passed decisively at the fourth day of the C.C.L.'s eighth annual convention called the union "a pathetic imitation of a real trade union" and branded its organizers as "traitors to the cause of labor."

FIGHT OUTSIDE DICTATING

Harvey Ladd of Vancouver, an I.W.A. International representative, said from the platform that the battle in British Columbia is "to guide the destiny of I.W.A. membership without the veto of outside, alien forces."

He and other speakers charged that the I.W.A. membership in B.C.—27,000—was unaware of the break-away move. Two hours before the meeting in which the disaffiliation announcement was made, a radio transcription was ready to broadcast the decision, Mr. Ladd said.

"I don't believe even the Executive knew they were going to break away until they were given their orders."

Daniel O'Brien, President of the British Columbia Federation of Labor, although declining to "defend" the break-away, said he takes his hat off to Ernest Dalskog and Harold Pritchett, B.C. District President and Vice-President, respectively. They had fought consistently to better the working conditions of I.W.A. members.

He warned there will be a "debacle" if the C.C.L. "sets up a hierarchy to hunt out heresies." Mr. Dalskog and Mr. Pritchett should be given a chance to defend themselves, he said.

"I appeal to you to stop blowing on this fire. Get an extinguisher and put it out now."

FUNDS CONTROL

Lawrence Vandale, a member of the New Westminster (B.C.) I.W.A. Local which, 5000 strong, refused to obey the Dalskog-Pritchett secession order, raised the touchy issue of "unaccounted-for funds."

The "real" reason for the breakaway, he contended, was that "Pritchett, Dalskog and their gang were losing control and, to gain full control, they had to set up a new union."

William Mahoney, B.C., representative of the Congress, harped on the question of I.W.A. money. The secession order, he said, came two days before a special investigator—Harry Chappell of Winnipeg, a C.C.L. Executive — reported "large sums not covered by vouchers."

Daniel Radford, another C.C.L. representative, put the blame for the break-away directly on the Labor-Progressive (Communist) Party. The Communists, their backs to the wall in the B.C. dispute, had said: "If we can't control, we'll wreck." But, despite the break-away faction's contenting that all 27,000 B.C. members of the I.W.A. were wth them, a big percentage remained "loyal." There were I.W.A. deleates at the Congress convention.

COULD NOT STOP PRICES FROM GOING UP

OTTAWA, Oct. 14 (CP)—H. R. MacMillan, head of a large West Coast group of lumber companies, today told the Prices Commission that he felt the restraint of British Columbia mills was a large factor in keeping Canadian lumber prices below the United States level.

Mr. MacMillan was being examined on prices charged by the H. R. MacMillan Export Co. Ltd., the parent firm, to domestic, British and other buyers. The Canadian prices were substantially lower than either export price.

"So great has been the interest of the B. C. mills in the Canadian market that while the mills are free to charge in Canada as much as in the United States they are not doing it," Mr. MacMillan said.

When price controls were removed, the MacMillan firm felt that "it was not in the company's interest that the price of lumber in Canada should be advanced."

"We tried an experiment," Mr. MacMillan continued. "For two or three months we refrained from letting our prices go to the level at which we were aware lumber was being sold by the industry at large.

"We found that selling to the retailer at lesser prices than other mills was having the effect of increasing the retailers' profits."

It did not result in MacMillan's lumber reaching the domestic consumer any cheaper than other mills' products.

"After losing $75,000 to $100,000 in the pursuit of this ideal we ceased it and allowed our prices to rise to almost the level established in the open market.

PRINCE RUPERT, B. C., Oct. 14 (CP)—William Seinen, 22, employee of the B.C. Forest Service at Houstin in the Bulkley Valley died today at Smithers following a hunting accident.

In company with William Van Der Weil, sawmill operator, and Gene Blanchet, Sainen left on a combined timber-cruising and hunting expedition last Wednesday. They were unloading their rifles when Van Der Weil's gun discharged and the bullet struck Seinen in the leg.

An inquest will be held.

Neutrals Still Seek Berlin Solution

Canada Intervention a Possibility; Tackle Holy Land Problem Today

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

PARIS, Oct. 14 (CP)—The Security Council's neutral nations, including Canada, tonight pushed last-minute efforts to uncover a solution to the Berlin crisis acceptable to East and West.

Council President Juan Bramuglia of Argentina told newspaper men he still thinks there is a chance the six neutrals he speaks for will find a solution of their own which is "just and acceptable" to Russia and the Western powers.

There were persistent but unconfirmed reports that Canada would move, possibly Monday, a resolution asking Russia to lift the Berlin blockade. But late tonight, as Council representatives of Britain, the United States and France met privately, a canvass of informed opinion tended to play down the suggestion of Canadian intervention.

"It just hasn't reached that stage yet," reliable informants said. "It may happen ultimately, but there is nothing to indicate such action now."

One thing seemed pretty definite about Berlin: The informal talks among the neutral six—Argentina, Belgium, Canada, China, Colombia and Syria—have ended. Any action by one of them now would be taken independently.

PREFER OTHER'S ACTION

Canada's name cropped up logically in speculation on the future, in view of the Dominion's sympathy with Britain and the United States. But for just that reason, one source said, the Big-Three Western powers would prefer to have the resolution come from some other quarter.

While the corridor talks on Berlin were under way, these developments took place on the floor:

1. The Security Council took the "menacing situation" of Palestine on its shoulders. Britain and Canada demanded that Israel say what is being done to find the assassins of Count Folke Bernadotte and called on both Jews and Arabs for a tighter truce. The Council adjourned without a vote or setting the time for another session on the subject. Tomorrow the Assembly's 58-national Political Committee also tackles the problem of the Holy Land.

2. An Assembly sub-committee on armaments cuts started debating how best to tackle a galaxy of suggestions, topped by the Soviet Union's demand for a one-third cut in the arms of the Big Five. Col. W. R. Hodgson of Australia was named chairman.

3. Dr. Oscar Lange of Poland said before the Assembly's Economic Committee that United States dollars are rebuilding a new imperialist Germany.

Creston Woman Killed in Porthill Mishap

CRESTON, B.C., Oct. 14 — Mrs. Linden J. Bell, 24, of Creston, was killed Friday night near Porthill, Idaho, when the automobile in which she was riding overturned.

Police of the Idaho town reported that the car was driven by Mrs. D. W. Blackaller, also of Creston, and that it overturned when it apparently swerved to miss another car.

Mrs. Blackaller was brought to the Creston Valley Hospital in a serious condition.

Plan Extension Of University Radio Federation

VANCOUVER, Oct. 14 (CP) — Student representatives from the four Western Canadian universities will meet here at the University of British Columbia campus Saturday to discuss plans for extending their two-year-old Western University Radio Federation.

George Barnes, Chairman of U.B.C.'s Radio Society will preside over the weekend meeting, which will attempt to line up exchange programs for the W.U.R.F. network. Last year the Federation presented four quiz and four dramatic shows over the C.B.C.

Visiting delegates will be here from the Universities of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

I.W.A. Assets Remain Frozen

VANCOUVER, Oct. 14 (CP) — A Supreme Court injunction freezing the assets and affairs of the British Columbia District of the International Woodworkers of America, (C.I.O.), was extended today.

The freezing order will be effective until the court rules on the legality of the district's break with the parent body.

FRAME JOINT DEMAND FOR BLOCKADE LIFT?

PARIS, Oct. 14 (AP)—Western delegates met today on the Berlin crisis and authoritative sources said they were framing a joint demand for action by the Security Council to lift the Soviet blockade.

The Council takes up the Berlin issue again tomorrow. Hope vanished for mediation outside the Council with Russia's reported rejection of conciliation efforts by the so-called neutral states.

British, United States and French delegates studied the Kremlin's answer to the neutral states' mediation efforts. The content of the Soviet note still was not made public, but Western sources said it set back the Berlin dispute to where it was six weeks ago.

The six "neutrals" of the council, including Canada, abandoned their efforts to mediate. The Argentine Foreign Minister, Juan A. Bramuglia, Acting Chairman of the Council for the Berlin discussions, called the council meeting after receiving a Russian reply to the neutrals on what terms would be acceptable to Moscow.

THREE PARTIES AFTER ROSTHERN SEAT

SASKATOON, Oct. 14 (CP) — A spirited contest is underway in the Rosthern Federal by-election with voting Oct. 25. The by-election was necessitated by resignation of Walter A. Tucker, Liberal.

Mr. Tucker, who represented Rosthern since 1934, resigned the seat to contest Rosthern Provincial Riding, to which he was returned in the Saskatchewan general election of last June. He is the leader of the Liberal Party in the province.

The Liberal, C.C.F. and Social Credit parties are contesting the by-election. The Liberal candidate is W. A. Boucher, Hoey, Sask., merchant. P. G. Makaroff, Saskatoon lawyer, is the C.C.F. standard bearer. George W. Beilhartz, Rosthern businessman, is the Social Credit candidate.

Extend Judgment On Margarine Ban

OTTAWA, Oct. 14 (CP) — The Supreme Court judgment in the test case on the legality of Canada's margarine ban will not be handed down until the end of the month, court sources said today.

It had been expected the decision would be announced next Monday but a heavy roll of cases before the court has put the date back a week or two.

EFFICIENT WAITRESSES CAN CUT MEAL COSTS

VANCOUVER, Oct. 14 (CP)—The fate of the restaurant business rests in the hands of the girl who brings you your coffee.

Operators attending lectures on restaurant efficiency here today said prices may come down if waitresses "smarten up" and take an interest in their work.

Otherwise, they will stay at their present level for "at least two more years."

The talks are sponsored by the Canadian Resturant Association and conducted by George L. Wenzel, efficiency expert from Austin, Texas.

Main operating difficulty, the meeting heard, was a staff turnover of about 20 per cent per month. If waitresses made a career of their job, costs would be reduced to the proprietor and to the customer.

TOKYO, Oct. 14 (AP)—The Welfare Ministry said today 1088 Japanese died of sleeping sickness during the epidemic last Summer.

B.C. Not End of Rainbow for Unskilled Workers—MacNamara

OTTAWA, Oct. 14 (CP)—Don't go West, young man, unless you have a little capital.

This in effect, was the advice issued today by Arthur MacNamara, Deputy Labor Minister. Mr. MacNamara said that "unless you are convinced you have something to offer to the development of one of the newer parts of Canada, stay away from British Columbia for the time being."

The deputy said it would be doing a real injustice to the Canadian pioneering spirit "which is far from dead" and one of the most enterprising provinces if he were to presume to warn against migration to B.C.

"However, a general warning is necessary since the number of job seekers exceeds the number of job openings in this region, and it is not the place today for the worker with no particular enterprise, skill or ability, or willingness to work in outlying districts."

According to a report of the Unemployment Insurance Commission, the unemployment index is higher in the Pacific region than in any other region in Canada. Analysis of the situation revealed that this was not due to a depressed state of industry in B.C., but rather to the inability of industry at its present level to absorb the large number of persons seeking employment.

While only four per cent of the labor force is seeking employment on the Pacific Coast, there is an unduly high proportion of unskilled workers and older workers among the unplaced applicants, Mr. MacNamara said.

Many people were attracted to British Columbia by the reports of delightful climate and by the relatively high wage levels. Unskilled workers were more ready to seek new pastures, and these had difficulty in finding employment there. Many older people, too, had moved to the Pacific Coast to live after retirement on fixed incomes, and had been forced by rising living costs to find work.

LOOK FIRST

Mr. MacNamara urged that those contemplating a move to the Coast should assess their abilities before committing themselves to such a step. The labor market there might be considered to be "temporarily saturated" as far as unskilled labor was concerned, or even for skilled labor in many occupations.

However, the province had a pressing need for further pioneers—men who could establish new small businesses which would provide employment for others, or men who were willing to work in outlying districts at the jobs which were available in mining or lumbering.

Freight Rate Issue Goes Back to Board

Review Is Partial Victory for Provinces Says Wismer; Criticisms "Impress" Cabinet

VANCOUVER, Oct. 14 (CP)—The provinces have won a "partial victory," Attorney-General Gordon Wismer said tonight, in their fight against increased freight rates.

Mr. Wismer said the action of the Federal Cabinet in instructing the Board of Transport to review the railways' original 21-per-cent freight-rate increase "recognizes the soundness of the positions taken by the provinces to some extent."

OTTAWA, Oct. 14 (CP)—The Cabinet today tossed the whole controversial freight rate issue back to the Board of Transport Commissioners.

A 1200-word order-in-council, issued by the Prime Minister's office, instructed the Board to review the original 21-per-cent freight-rate increase granted last March in the light of changed conditions and complaints raised by seven of the nine provinces.

The review, however, is to be carried out in conjunction with the Board's consideration of a subsequent application by the railways for an interim 15 per cent increase and a permanent increase of 20 per cent.

Any revision of the order granting the 21 per cent boost, however, would take the form of modifying the Board's actions on the applications for further increases.

The application for an interim 15 per cent increase is scheduled to be heard in January.

JOINT CONSIDERATION

The order-in-council indicated that the 21 per cent increase granted in March would not be directly revised since the Board was instructed to consider "any revision . . . in relation to its disposition of the pending application."

The order-in-council was the Cabinet's decision on the appeal against the 21 per cent increase by seven provinces—all except Ontario and Quebec—which it heard three weeks ago.

It said the Federal Government, which sat as a Privy Council Committee, was "favorably impressed" by certain of the provinces' criticisms of the basis on which the March award was made.

The Transport Commissioners' original decision excluded non-railway earnings of the lines from its consideration of their financial requirements. The provinces protested this was an unsound basis on which to approach a freight-rate increase.

It was this argument by which the Cabinet was "favorably impressed." The order-in-council said the Government considered that income from non-railway sources should not be entirely excluded in determining the corporate needs of the companies.

"The payment of fixed charges and income taxes are corporate obligations of corporations as such," the order said. "The incomes of corporations, whatsoever their source, are liable therefor.

"Provisions to be made for dividends and a surplus are likewise corporate needs and should be so considered.

"For these reasons the committee (Cabinet) are of the opinion that some portion of the corporate needs should be borne by the income derived from non-railway sources."

The order instructed the six Transport Commissioners headed by Mr. Justice M. B. Archibald to investigate and decide what share of fixed charges, income taxes, depreciatio nand dividends should come from non-railway earnings.

NEW BENEFIT

The Cabinet also noted that since the March boost the railways have benefited from increases in international freight rates. They had also increased their sub-standard competitive rates.

It was these increases to which the Cabinet referred as "changes in conditions" in instructing the Transport Board to review the 21 per cent increase.

The provinces appeal had complained that the Transport Commissioners "improperly" accepted the contention that fixed charges of $15,787,174 and dividends of $21,310,000 should come entirely from the C.P.R.'s earnings from its railway operations. The provinces contended that these should be alocated over all earnings, including those from hotels, steamships, telegraphs and other operations.

A further provincial contention which favorably impressed the Federal Cabinet was the complaint against the Board's decision in allowing the C.P.R. — as a requirement from railway earnings—provision for a surplus of $15,235,000. The provinces contended that the $24,788,927 surplus from non-railway earnings should have been taken into consideration.

When the provinces presented their appeal three weeks ago the railways appeared in rebuttal. The Cabinet noted their references to increased costs since the March award. It was in this connection that the Cabinet referred to higher international and competitive rates from which the lines are benefitting.

UNSATISFACTORY

EDMONTON, Oct. 14 (CP)—Premier Manning tonight described as "wholly unsatisfactory" an order-in-council issued by the Prime Minister's office at Ottawa today, referring the freight rate issue back to the Board of Transport Commissioners.

"The order just refers the points at issue to the same Board which made the decision in the first place and endorsed it," said Mr. Manning.

URGE FINISHING DISTRICT ROAD "WITH NO ENDS"

Nelson Board Joins Salmo Valley in Drive for Surfacing

WRITE VICTORIA

Nelson Board of Trade Council Thursday went on record as urging the Provincial Government to complete pavement of the Nelway-Nelson Highway.

The action followed reading of a letter from the Salmo Valley Board of Trade addressed to Hon. E. C. Carson asking for completion of a 12-mile section from Nelway to Salmo and eight miles from Nelson South. Some 23 miles of the Highway was surfaced this year.

Text of the letter pointed out that the paved portion was a road with no ends and appealed for quick action from the Provincial Government.

Nelson Board of Trade will draft a similar letter to Mr. Carson.

Plan Restoring Ruhr Ownership Title to Germans

FRANKFURT, Oct. 14 (Reuters)—A "top secret" Anglo-American plan for restoring ownership titles of the Ruhr's coal and steel industry to the Germans will shortly be put into operation, British and American officials here said today.

At present, ownership of these two vital industries is vested in the Commanders-in-Chief of the two occupying powers of the Bizone. The plan, already approved by the British and American Governments, would restore the industries to German ownership while leaving the choice of nationalization or private enterprise open for a future German Parliament.

The plan explains the meaning of British Commander Gen. Sir Brian Robertson's statement made during his and Gen. Lucius D. Clay's visit to Essen, that the German miner will produce more coal "if he knows he is working for Germany."

Details of the form of German ownership and of how the functions of the Anglo-American coal control and the British steel control will be effected ,will be kept secret until the official announcement. It is certain, however, that the international control of distribution of output, as laid down in the London six-power agreement, will be safeguarded.

Russian Attempts To Convert War Prisoners Fail

VIENNA, Oct. 14 (AP)—Russian attempts to convert Austrian and German war prisoners to Communism are "failing miserably" repatriated prisoners said today.

A cross-section of 300 repatriates who arrived here yesterday told reporters they all had been forced to attend lectures on Marxism which pictured capitalism as declining.

They said the lectures were so contrary to what they say around them they were left unconvinced.

The lectures, they said, were given both by Russian officers and by Communists from the ranks of the prisoners. At one camp a series of "question-and-answer" evenings was started, but the plan was dropped "because they did not get the right answers to their questions."

Most of the repatriates said they were well treated in Russia, after the first hectic months of the immediate post-war period. Their worst treatment, they said, was at the hands of their fellow prisoners who made a quick and profitable jump from Nazism to Communism.

REGRETS ABSENCE OF CANADIAN CHIEF

LONDON, Oct. 14 (CP) — The King, speaking to Dominion Prime Ministers at a private dinner, said all regretted the absence of W. L. Mackenzie King "whose unrivalled experience has always been of such great value at the council table."

His Majesty spoke at Buckingham Palace during a dinner for the Prime Ministers or their deputies.

Although still confined to bed in his Dorchester Hotel room, Mackenzie King remains busy.

Today he was visited by Prime Minister Clement Attlee.

FIND PILOT'S BODY

HALIFAX, Oct. 14 (CP) — Search parties tonight found the body of Lieut. J. S. Berge of Vancouver, killed when his Navy Sea Fury fighter crashed today 2½ miles from base here.

VICTORIA, Oct. 14 (CP)—Canada's shipping legislation was denounced as "monstrous" and "iniquitous" today before the annual convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

LOSS OF OVERSEAS MARKETS STIFF SET-BACK FOR APPLE INDUSTRY

KENTVILLE, N.S., Oct. 14 (CP)—Dried-up overseas markets have delivered an economic punch that has the Annapolis Valley apple industry on the ropes.

Money no longer grows on trees for some 2500 Valley apple producers and orchardists are becoming "extremely pessimistic" over the future.

In pre-war years, 85 per cent of the Valley's turnover went to the United Kingdom and Continental consumers. The dollar shortage put the skids under the apple business and an end to exports.

Many of their trees produce apples not rated as premium varieties by Canadian buyers. Extensive grafting operations began last year to grow apples with plenty of eye appeal—the kind preferred by U.S., and Canadian housewives—but it will be 1951 before reconversion is complete.

DEPRESSION AHEAD

R. D. Sutton, President of the Nova Scotia Apple Marketing Board says: "The apple industry is really up against it," he predicts grimmer prospects for next year and he adds: "We are headed for the damnedest depression we ever saw." This year, Quebec and the Maritimes will absorb most of the scant 600,000 barrels—less than one-third pre-war output.

Valley residents have hitched a good share of their economy to apples and the bleak outlook is reflected in their attitude.

Labor demands in the Valley have plummeted to a fraction of their former size. Earlier in the season, employment officials received orders for 1500 pickers to harvest the crop. Growers took a second look at their yield and the number skidded to 800. It formerly took 3000 men to do the job.

SNOW NAMED DEPUTY ADJUTANT GENERAL AT ARMY HEADQUARTERS

OTTAWA, Oct. 14 (CP)— Brig. T. E. D. Snow, 43, a permanent force officer who has served lengthy periods in Halifax and Vancouver, has been appointed Deputy Adjutant General at Army Headquarters, the Defence Department announced today.

He succeeds Brig. A. B. Connelly, now commandant of the Northwest highway system.

Earlier in the year, Brig. Snow gained official acclaim and promotion from colonel in recognition of his services in the British Columbia floods, in which personnel of Canada's armed forces were employed.

B.C. YULE TREES GOING ALL OVER WORLD

VANCOUVER, Oct. 14 (CP) — There are 73 "chopping" days left until Christmas, but already the Christmas tree harvest has begun.

The Cariboo, Kamloops and East Kootenay districts of Interior British Columbia reported today that dealers are already combing the areas, and shipments of trees to all parts of the world is under way.

C.C.L. Slaps Down Communists Again

By GEORGE RONALD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, Oct. 14 (CP) — The Canadian Congress of Labor slapped down its Communist minority again today and reaffirmed its support of the C. C. F.

A. R. Mosher, Congress President, in a fighting blast at the Communist minority, said:

"Up to now we've given you a good deal of leeway, but don't expect it to continue."

He said he supports 100 per cent the statemen earlier this week by Secretary-Treasurer Pat Conroy that the C. C. L.'s main job is to rid itself of Communists.

The C. C. F. has long been endorsed by the Congress as the "political arm of Labor." In a two-part resolution presented today the C. C. L:

1. Endorses a political-action program aimed at electing "the largest possible number of C. C. F. members" to the next Parliament.

2. Wants this same program put into operation on a provincial level to elect C. C. F. members in provincial elections.

The resolution criticizes the Federal Government's price-control policy and the "inflationary rise in the cost of living."

Other protests against the Liberal administration include its adoption of a labor code "unsatisfactory to Labor in many respects" and its failure to disallow the "notorious anti-Labor legislation" enacted recently in Prince Edward Island.

This legislation prohibits affiliation of any P. E. I. union with any national or international labor organization.

S. English of Michel, B. C., representing the East Kootenay Labor Council, moved an amendment broadening the C. C. L. support resolution to include "Labor and farmer candidates."

Speaking on the amendment, J. Hampson of the Edmonton Labor Council said that as a C.C.F. candidate he was defeated in this year's Alberta election, "thanks to the efforts of the L. P. P."

Wherever "independent labor" candidates ran in Alberta, they were nominated by Communist or Communist-dominated unions, he said.

The amendment by Mr. English went unseconded and the original resolution was approved with a big majority.

SCOUTS TO SELL YULE TREES AGAIN THIS YEAR

Christmas trees will again be sold by Nelson Scouts and Cubs in December.

This year, instead of door-to-door soliciting, a central depot where Yule tree buyers can choose their tree, is planned.

Funds raised will be distributed among the five Nelson troops, Scouts and Cubs of which will take part in the sale of trees.

Market Most Active of Month

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 (AP)—Stock prices advanced again today in the broadest and most active market of the month.

The advance was far from one-sided. Buyers were highly choosy and numerous issues failed to make the grade. Stocks in favor, though, moved up fractions to 2 points or more.

During the final hour demanded slowed considerably. As a result, top gains were trimmed in many cases and some gains were converted into small losses.

Oils received the lion's share of attention but even in this group a few losses cropped out. Rails found the going tough a good part of the day.

Volume just missed the 1,000,000-share level. Turnover of 980,000 shares compared with 880,000 Wednesday and was a welcome relief to brokers who have had their fill of recent business of around 700,000 shares or less.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced .1 of one point to 69, which was last recorded on Sept. 8. A total of 1015 stocks appeared on the tape, of which 491 advanced and 281 declined.

MUST DIVORCE HUSBAND OR LOSE OUT ON ESTATE

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 (AP)—Mrs. Denise Reid was silent today regarding her father's will which cuts her off from a large share of his $2,500,000 estate unless she divorces her husband, Robert.

She referred all inquiries to her attorney, Sampson Selig, who said it was "just one of those personal dislikes."

The late Daniel K. Weiskopf, who made the provision in his will, "just didn't like Mr. Reid."

The will of Weiskopf, who died last March 22 provided that his daughter be cut off with only $2500 a year unless she divorces her husband. If she does, she would receive about $30,000 a year from a trust fund.

LONDON, Oct. 14 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Bevin today called the Russians expansionists—"as imperialistic as the Czar ever was."

"We seek no power," he told the National Union of Manufacturers. "We have no desire to upset their system, but we must resist any attempt on their part to destroy our liberties."

Blockade Nerves Show in Berlin

By RICHARD K. O'MALLEY and TOM REEDY

BERLIN, Oct. 14 (AP) — Imagine living in a city where, if you step outside certain boundaries, you will be arrested.

Imagine living in a city where all your food and other supplies are depending on an air lift. Where you have lights a few hours in the morning and a few hours at night. Where simple, every-day items such as candles are rationed. Where Winter is coming on and the prospect for sufficient coal is dim. Where war is not out of the realm of possibility.

Blockade nerves are beginning to show in Berlin.

Irritability is perhaps the most frequent indication.

How will the Germans come through the Winter?

All right, say the Western Allies. Better than they survived the 1944-45 Winter when they were cold and hungry and pounded by bombs.

The average German gets a basic daily ration of 1608 calories. Heavy workers get a top ration of 2985 and housewives, 1680.

(The average North American receives about 3000 calories daily. The food of heavy workers, such as lumberjacks, may total up to 6000 The average Briton received 2800 calories daily in the first six months of 1948).

The biggest problem is coal. Germans are going to have a mighty cold Winter unless more planes can be added to the airlift. The old warming halls—public places where one came to get the chill out of his bones—probably will be revived.

Under blockade conditions the health of the German has remained surprisingly good. A British report said flatly that there has been "no apparent effect." One helpful factor is the abundance of drugs.

One of the major concerns is what to do about German business and industry. It has been clipped hard by the Soviet control of two of the city's largest power plants. Already it has been retrenched by a third. Reserves of raw materials are being exhausted.

There has been some new unemployment, but not as much as had been expected. As part of a "make work" program instituted by the Germans, thousands are toiling part-time clearing bomb rubble, or plugging up holes in damaged buildings.

Transportion is — and will be— tough to get for everyone, both Germans and the Western Allies.

It is necessary to shutdown the German subway system at 6 p.m. The street railways stop at 11 p.m. Only the affluent have gasoline for private cars.

Reelect Bengough T L C President

VICTORIA, Oct. 14 (CP)—Percy R. Bengough, was unanimously re-elected President of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada today at its annual convention.

Bengough, veteran machinist, was the only nominee for the office.

Engaged in a battle with one T. L. C. faction over congress policy towards Reds, he told the delegates after his election that he planned to carry out congress policies "regardless of any pressures that may be brought to bear on me."

The delegates gave him a standing ovation and topped it off by singing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

J. W. Buckley of Ottawa and Toronto was re-elected Congress Secretary-Treasurer.

James Whitebone of Saint John, N. B., was re-elected Vice-President to the Maritimes.

Elphege Beaudoin of Montreal, President of the Quebec Federation of Labor, was chosen Vice-President for that province.

He succeeded Arthur D'Aoust of Hull, Que., who declined to run, friends of D'Aoust, a strong anti-Communist, said he had decided to leave the executive because he did not agree with its handling of the Communist issue.

For Ontario, William Jenoves, President of the Toronto Trades and Labor Council, was re-elected Vice-President.

Carl Berg of Edmonton was re-elected Vice-President for the Prairies in the first actual contest of the day. He won by a margin of 400 to 331 over James McDuffie of Brandon, Man., head of the Brandon Civic Employees' Union.

A three-way fight developed over the British Columbia Vice-Presidency, with Birt Showler of Vancouver winning out over William Black and E. E. Sturgeon, both of Vancouver. Showler polled 496 votes against 126 for Black and 99 for Sturgeon.

Alex Gordon of Vancouver, who defeated Showler for the office last year, declined a nomination this time.

British Columbia provincial executive comprises R. K. Gervin, Vancouver; J. Stevenson, Vancouver; C. Pick, Victoria; W. Sands, Kelowna.

Nelsonite Addresses Windermere Farmers' Institute

INVERMERE, B.C., Oct. 14 — H. B. Debeck, Superintendent of Ranges, Department of Lands, Nelson, addressed the Windermere District Farmer's Institute at their October meeting. His subject was Range Preservation. He also showed a film on Canadian parks and a highly informative film "Richer Range Rewards."

It was announced that the department had decided to close the range to all horse stock from February 15 to April 15 to prevent deterioration of ranges through too early pasturing.

By special arrangement with the department, permits would be assured to individual horse and stock owners to destroy or round up horses illegally at-large in definite areas. Permits are subject to regulations provided in the Animals Act and their issue is approved by Ranger J. L. Johnson.

The meeting unanimously approved of turning over the ownership of the Fair Grounds at Athalmer to the East Kootenay Exhibition organization. A special committee was appointed with K. M. Marples (convener), W. H. Cleland and Gordon Appleby to negotiate terms and arrangements with the exhibition executive. They will report to the next meeting of the Institute.

In the absence of the President, K. M. Marples, Mr. Appleby presided at the meeting.

DOCTOR FEELS HE MAY HAVE CANCER AID IN HEAD-SHRINKING FORMULA

By C. R. BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14 (CP) — Men and women of the press who usually talk only to presidents and cabinet members sat around on plush chairs and fondled human heads that had been cut off the bodies of once-happy people in the Amazonian jungles.

They didn't look happy any more but they looked amazingly real and they were shrunken to the size of baseballs. And the correspondents didn't look happy either as they gingerly handled them.

Ambassador Dillon of Ecuador, who talks with the speech of an Irish graduate of Oxford, which he is, was the host at this strange press conference.

The "Medicine Man" of this show was Dr. Wilburn Ferguson, a mid-West native who has spent 18 years teaching and practicing medicine in the jungles of Peru and Ecuador. He thinks head shrinking may produce an aid in the fight against cancer.

He is starting a tour of the United States to interest philanthropic people in the establishment of a modern medical centre at Quito on the site of a 400-year-old hospital where he now makes his headquarters.

Perhaps most important of all his exhibits, unless Dr. Ferguson has been double-crossed, was a small three-ounce bottle of dark liquid which a Jivaro chief gave him, claiming it was the solution used to shrink human heads.

Ferguson is going to have it analyzed and tested in the hope that it can be reproduced in modern laboratories. If it will shrink human skin and cartilage, which is what the Jivaros have done to the heads he brought back, it may halt and shrink the growth of cancer cells.

Addresses Christians . . .

Democratic State Must Make Influence Felt

YORK, England, Oct. 14 (Reuters)—Dr. Cyril Garbett, Archbishop of York, today urged Christians to outlaw the atomic bomb, but added that in an armed world the democratic state must also be armed to make its influence felt on behalf of justice and freedom.

"Pious resolutions will not deflect by an inch the will of a state bent on violence," he said.

Dr. Garbett, making his presidential address to the convocation of York, defined the Christian's duty at the present time thusly:

1. "The Christian must never give up hope of peace; he will support the continuation of negotiations, however exasperating their length."

2. "The Christian sees in the unbridled sovereignty of nations one of the chief dangers of peace . . . . the Christian therefore should support the United Nations as an attempt to limit national sovereignty.

"The frequent and unforeseen use of the veto in the interests of national sovereignty has gravely jeopardized both the work and influence of the United Nations. Unless the veto is restricted the United Nations will fail, as the League of Nations failed to preserve peace."

3. "The Christian should support all proposals which may remove or reduce some of the worst horrors of war. He must therefore press strongly for the outlawry of the atomic bomb. Its use in war may result in the end of our civilization and the reversion of those who survive to primitive conditions of existence.

4. "The Christian, with all his hatred of war and passionate desire for peace, must recognize that war is not the worst of all evils.

"The utter degradation of man, the loss of human rights, and the trampling underfoot of all that is righteous and true is an evil worse than war. The Christian must therefore be ready to resist to the last the unjust demands of an aggressive totalitarianism."

Can Send Picture By Wall Socket Device

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 14 (AP) — An electronic eye system, a civilian version of a model used to pilot wartime guided missiles, was previewed here today and its makers predict it will perform countless tasks in industry.

Called vericon, the system consists basically of three portable units, a camera, a power generator and a 7½ by 5⅝ inch screen. Each of the units fits into a suitcase-sized box.

It differs from conventional television in that images are sent from camera to screen over wires, instead of broadcast. The units plug into a wall socket and are ready for operation.

The system was developed by the Remington Rand Laboratory of Advanced Research at Norwalk, Conn. Now ready to be marketed, at $7500 without extras, the eye was developed during the war.

Until recently the Army had a monopoly on its use. It served as a seeing eye for guided missiles in experiments.

Any business that requires rapid transmission of records, messages or any documents could use it. A bank teller could hold a check before a camera while a file clerk in another room verified it from a screen.

As many as 10 screens may be hooked up to one camera. Thus several offices in a building could be wired into a circuit.

Police departments expect to use it to view suspects in off-guard moments. Educators foresee one lecturer's image being flashed to a dozen classrooms at once.

Hall Group Still Considering Break

Will Save Action Until Meet Over; Another Communist Issue Due to Break

By JOHN LEBLANC
Canadian Press Staff Writer

VICTORIA, Oct. 14 (CP) — Frank Hall led his rail brotherhood back into the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada today, but the rift over Communism between T.L.C. factions was far from closed.

As delegates from the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks took their seats after the lifting of a suspension, it was learned the "Hall group" of the Congress was still considering breaking from the parent body because of its failure to back Hall in his anti-Red activities.

Hall's Union had been suspended because of his actions in this line, yesterday the suspension was lifted.

But the Brotherhood's 25 delegates stayed away from yesterday's convention session, returning only this morning with Hall at their head.

(Also see story page 3 please)

In the meantime, they had been considering further anti-Red activities including the possibility of a breakaway.

Included in the talks were high officers of other international unions in the Congress, who have been backing the railway union chief.

Hall and the others were silent today on the progress of their deliberations, but it was indicated they would not be taking further action on the floor of the convention.

"Anything we do will be done after this convention is over," Hall said.

Meanwhile, the Communist issue was due to break out in another direction later in the convention.

This would come on an executive-backed resolution in which the Congress would be called on to take a stronger stand on Communism in unions.

Rightist forces will call for roll-call vote on this issue, in order to get on record the names of those voting in each direction. Indications were this type of vote would be ordered.

With convention heading into the second half of its week's schedule, it had touched on few major issues except Communism.

A series of votes involving the Red issue had failed to bring out a clear-cut Congress verdict on Reds in its ranks, up to now.

There were these developments:

1. The convention upheld the suspension of Frank Hall and his 13,000-man Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks because of anti-Communistic manoeuverings of Hall.

2. Then it lifted the suspension but voted "censure" of Hall personally without revoking any of his T.L.C. privileges.

3. Despite their re-admission to the Congress, Hall and 24 other Brotherhood delegates stayed away from yesterday's congress session in a body.

4. It became known that Arthur D'Aoust, Quebec Vice-President of the Congress and a strong anti-Red, would not run for office again as a protest against the way the T.L.C. handled the Communist question.

5. The Congress Executive was reported to have withdrawn its support from Alex Gordon of Vancouver, one of its Vice-Presidents who represents the United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union of British Columbia. That union is regarded as Communist-inclined.

All the manoeuverings indicated, convention observers said, that Hall's anti-Red drive had pushed the Congress leadership into a hardening of its attitude towards Communists in the Canadian Labor movement.

Up to now, the Congress had taken the attitude that the political beliefs of its members were their own concern, so long as they did not operate to the detriment of the Labor movement.

Soviet Persuade U. N. to Deal With Russian Plan First

PARIS, Oct. 14 (Reuters)—Soviet delegates today persuaded the new United Nations Disarmament Sub-Committee to deal first with the Russian plan for a one-third arms cut and a ban on atom bombs.

With this understanding, the sub-committee adjourned till tomorrow, after a 90-minute argument on how to do its job to create a single text out of seven resolutions and amendments.

The sub-committee, which includes the big-five powers, was appointed yesterday when the Political Committee found itself bogged down to a standstill by East-West difficulties.

Col. Walter R. Hodgson of Australia was elected chairman against opposition from the Soviet Union, whose delegate wanted a civilian for the job through Hodgson said he had been a civilian since 1934.

All Right to Blow Nose Hard When You Have a Cold

CHICAGO, Oct. 14 (AP)—A physician who believes that 30,000 Navy submarine men can't be wrong said today it's all right to blow your nose hard when you have a cold.

It won't cause an ear infection by forcing bacteria or virus-laden material into the ear tube, he told a group of ear-eye-throat specialists.

Dr. W. Wallace Teed of Ann Arbor, Mich., said he came to that conclusion while serving as a Navy Medical Officer at the New London, Conn., submarine base during the war.

St. Laurent Denies Premier to Retire

Claims Immediate Retirement Would Leave Canada Without Gov't; Arrives in London in Rainstorm

LONDON, Oct. 14 (CP) — Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent, acting Prime Minister of Canada, denied on his arrival in London today that his ailing chief, Prime Minister Mackenzie King, would immediately retire.

St. Laurent arrived by air to replace the Prime Minister at the conference here of Commonwealth leaders. There had been reports that the Prime Minister, now confined to bed with a condition of the blood circulation, would retire on the arrival in London of the acting Prime Minister.

These reports are "untrue," St. Laurent said. "If he retires in London it would mean there would be no Government in Canada until I returned to the Dominion and the Canadian people would not want to recall me while the conference is on."

When the Prime Minister's physician advised that 73-year-old Canadian leader withdraw from the Commonwealth Conference, it was decided that St. Laurent would fly to London to take over as Canada's representative. He left Canada last night and arrived in a rainstorm here this morning.

VISITS MACKENZIE KING

He issued the denial, then proceeded to the Dorchester Hotel to confer with his chief, confined to bed in his hotel suite.

After a short visit, Mr. St. Laurent said, "I was delighted to see that Mr. King already has benefitted from his enforced rest.

"I had to insist on getting away as I did not want to be the occasion of hindering Mr. King's rest. I must say he looked very well and he impressed me as most cheerful."

The Prime Minister's staff earlier had reported that he had spent a "restful" night and that his condition continued good. It is not yet known how long he will be confined to bed.

At the conference itself, intense activity was going on among individual delegations on matters relating to their particular national interests. Plenary sessions will be resumed Monday with discussion on the possibility of improving Commonwealth inter-communication.

Tuesday the session on foreign affairs, initiated Tuesday by Foreign Secretary Bevin who reviewed the situations in the Middle and Far East, will be resumed. The timetable was revised to permit St. Laurent to take part in the talks on foreign affairs.

Wednesday the Commonwealth leaders will discuss defence.

Thus far, it is understood there is general agreement on these points:

1. Bi-lateral trade agreements negotiated by the United Kingdom with many countries are essential to United Kingdom trade recovery under present conditions.

2. United Kingdom participation in the Western European Union is looked on as desirable and discussions have indicated there is no essential conflict of interests between the economies of Western Union and the Commonwealth.

3. Proposals for a European Customs Union are looked on cautiously at present. There is a tendency to wait until Western Union co-operation has been carried further before approval of the Customs Union idea.

4. There is no Dominions quarrel with the United Kingdom four-year plan to guide economy until Marshall Plan aid is exhausted in 1952.

The Dominions have indicated they will do their best to assist the United Kingdom carry through the plan, with the reservation that their individual economic problems must have first consideration in the light of conditions.

PREDICTS BERLIN CENTRAL GOV'T WILL FALL SOON

BERLIN, Oct. 14 (AP) — A Communist spokesman predicted last night that Berlin's Central Government, last link between the Eastern and Western sectors of the divided city, would fall to pieces soon.

The spokesman, Karl Maron, made this prediction a few hours after a clash between Communists and non-Communists of the City's Magistrate (Executive Department).

Missing Cook Walks Into Camp

CRANBERRY PORTAGE, Man., Oct 14 (CP)—An eight-day prospecting trip, during which he was the object of a search by air, land and water, has ended for Bert Smith, 67-year-old cook.

Smith was reported recovering today from the effects of exposure. He walked into a pulpwood camp 18 miles Southwest of here yesterday.

He said he ran into difficulties on the return leg of a prospecting trip to Nieso Lake, North of Cranberry Portage, last Tuesday. He encountered a heavy fog on Lake Athapapuskow, and not knowing where he was, camped on the lake shore. His cane, which had been insecurely tied, drifted off.

When dawn broke yesterday, Smith found he was on the mainland within walking distance of the camp. Residents of this area and R.C.M.P. from The Pas had conducted an extensive search for him, believing he had been lost along the shores of Lake Athapapuskow.

Dr. Thomson Dean of New McGill Faculty

MONTREAL, Oct. 14 (CP)—Appointment of Dr. James Sutherland Thomson, President of the University of Saskatchewan, as Dean of McGill University's new Faculty of Divinity and Professor of the Philosophy of Religion at McGill was announced today.

Dr. F. Cyril James, Principal and Vice-Chancellor, who made the announcement, said Dr. Thomson will assume his duties next June 1.

The Faculty, which began its first term a few weeks ago, was described earlier by Dr. James as "to the best of my knowledge the first University Faculty of Christian theology in the Dominion of Canada, which is not specifically associated with one of the Christian churches to the exclusion of others."

Dr. Thomson, a native of Scotland, has been President of the University of Saskatchewan since 1937. He is a minister of the United Church of Canada, and formerly was Professor of Systematic Theology and Philosophy of Religion at Pine Hill Divinity College, Halifax.

He came to Canada in 1930. He is a fellow of the Royal Society of Canada, the recipient of honorary degrees from McGill, when he was President of the National Conference of Canadian Universities, and from Queen's, Toronto, and McMaster.

Life Finally Turning Out Well for Audie Murphy in New Starring Role

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 14 (AP) — Audie Murphy steps before the mera today in his first starring le, he can reflect that things are ally turning out well for him. The United States' most-decorated dier's life has taken three happy rns:

1. Today he starts the lead in ad Boy."
2. Last Saturday he sent his life ry, "To Hell and Back," off to publisher.
3. This week Wanda Hendrix wrote from Rome (where she's making a movie with Tyrone Power) that she'll be home by Christmas to marry Audie.

Luck hasn't always been with the Farmersville, Tex., lad. Broke, jobless and homeless a few months ago, he was about to turn his back on Hollywood.

After returning from the war, he was spotted on a magazine cover by James and William Cagney, who offered him an acting contract.

Audie came to Hollywood amid a flurry of Cagney publicity. Then nothing happened.

The Cagneys dropped Audie. He did a couple of bit parts that netted him publicity but little footage or cash. His lean days set in.

With no income (he sent his pension home to support his orphaned brothers and sisters), he slept in a bed at Terry Hunt's body-building salon.

"I had a shower for breakfast and a steam bath for dinner," he laughs.

Meanwhile he was having romantic troubles. He had admired starlet Wanda Hendrix on a magazine cover and arranged to meet her at a party. Their soda-sipping courtship became one of the nicer things in town. But her family interfered and she began having other dates.

Then the picture brightened. Book Agent Stanley Rose landed a $1500 advance for Audie's book. Wanda decided Audie was the love of her life. And Producer Paul Short signed him for a series of pictures.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

WHICH IS MORE EXACT?

WITH MANY players, a raise of the partner's major suit bid, if not made at the first chance to raise it, shows that the raiser does not possess four cards of the suit and warns the first bidder to be prepared for only three-card support if he has just four cards of it himself. These bidders, when possessing four cards of the major suit, will show the fit at once, with either a single raise in a hand of ordinary strength, or a double raise to show game strength opposite a minimum and possible slam chances, or a raise all the way to game when having splendid distributional support but a holding weak in high card values.

Under the suit-support plan followed by the North and South players in this rubber game, the fact that South did not bid spades on his first chance to raise them showed he did not have four. And the fact that North did not raise hearts on his first opportunity to showed he did not have four. When North raised the hearts on his second chance, he showed his partner exactly three of them, letting South know his suit was only dangerously supported unless he happened to have five cards of it. He did.

South's own second bid of 2-No Trumps, instead of a 3-Heart rebid, did not in any sense deny possession of five. Its message was positive, not negative. It showed North a bit more general strength than would a heart rebid. It indicated probably a couple of cards in spades. It proclaimed some degree of stoppage in both minor suits. It enabled North, with three hearts, to show his intermediate support. It gave North a chance, if he lacked three hearts but was a bit stronger than he had shown, to bid 3-No Trumps. Lacking any of these, North received a chance to rebid spades with six of them.

Of course the 4-Hearts contract worked, one trick each being lost in spades, hearts and diamonds.

Advice to Parents on How to Prepare Their Children for Entry Into School

Wise parents who have children old enough to begin school next September are thinking now of what they might do to prepare the child best for this experience. Still wiser parents begin thinking of this matter as soon as the child is born, if not before.

Thanks to the Summer Round Up Program sponsored for many years by the National Congress of Parents and Teachers (known locally as the PTA), the attention of many parents of children nearly five or six has been focused around this time of year on the physical fitness of the little child for entering school in the fall. Accordingly, many children soon old enough to enter school have been given a physical check up, when parents request such, by the School Health Department or by volunteers from the dental and medical profession.

When children are thus found to need remedial care of the physician or dentist these facts are announced to the parents who are advised that these matters be atended to by the family physican and dentist. Also this program has spread to emphasize social and emotional preparation of the young child for entering school.

Let me offer a few suggestions:

1. See that your child has a thorough physical check. Be sure his hearing and vision are tested. Carry out the advice of your physician and dentist faithfully and promptly. If any remedial work is advised have it done at once.

2. Foster good sleep habits in your child. Provide him with a family atmosphere of love, security and poise. See that he is not overexcited.

3. Consider your child's social readiness. Does he play normally with other children of his own age? The better he does so the more easily he will get along with other children at school and on the way to and from school.

4. Make him self-reliant, doing for himself everything he is reasonably able to do. Also help him grow in emotional independence, weakening the apronstrings which have tied him too close to you. Help him to be happy in your absence.

5. Cultivate in him responsibility not only for doing some things he likes to do but also for doing a few desirable things he would rather not do.

6. Train him to respect the rights and possessions of others and to have due regard for constituted authority.

CREATIVE PLAY

7. Encourage him at self-amusement and creative play with paper, scissors, crayons, paste and other simple playthings. Enjoy his creations with things or words.

8. Answer his questions kindly, converse with him companionably. Help him enjoy achievement at work and play.

9. Read some to him daily. No better way to practice him in ease of expression, in good habits of concentration and reading and to listen well to what he should hear at school.

10. Instill in him a hopeful, happy expection of his first days at school.

BIRTH RATE AT NEW PEAK

OTTAWA, Oct. 14 (CP)—Canada's birth rate broke into new high ground during 1947.

The Bureau of Statistics reported today the rate continued the general upward trend of wartime and post-war years by rising to 28.6 per 1000 population, highest figure since an average of 27.4 was reached following the First World War.

The 1947 rate compared with 26.9 in 1946, 23.9 in 1945 and 23.8 in 1944.

At the same time, the fortality rate remained unchanged at 9.4 per 1000 population, giving the rate of natural increase a boost of 19.2 against 17.5 in 1946 and 14.5 in 1945.

The Doctor

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Intermittent Attacks of Dizziness Often Symptoms of Meniere's Disease

It is medical tradition that diseases should be named after the physician who first describes them. In 1861, a French doctor deciphered the relationship existing between a peculiar combination of symptoms, the most prominent of which were head noises, severe attacks of dizziness, and progressive loss of hearing. In the cases studied by Meniere, the trouble was due to bleeding into the internal ear and this group of symptoms still bears his name, even though we know today that their most common cause is not a collection of blood but of lymphatic fluid in the ear's inner canals.

Meniere's disease is always intermittent; that is, it attacks at irregular intervals, sometimes of weeks or months. The first symptom is usually a sudden spell of dizziness, during which the patient feels as if he were reeling and that everything in the room is moving in circles about him. In some cases, ringing in the ears, known medically as tinnitus, may usher in the episode. In more severe attacks, there may be sickness at the stomach and vomiting. The patient is pale and lies quite still because he knows that the slightest movement may make the dizziness worse.

SEVERAL HOURS

An attack may last for several hours. After the attack is over, the symptoms tend to clear up, but the patient may be unsteady. In some cases, a mild, persistent dizziness occurs between the more severe attacks.

The patient with Meniere's disease should be given medical treatment first, in an attempt to relieve the disorder. He must be reassured because he may be worried that he is suffering from some severe disorder within the skull that is affecting the brain.

Further medical treatment is aimed at attempting to get rid of the increased fluid pressure within the internal ear. Two substances have been employed for this purpose. One is histamine and the other nicotinic acid, which is part of the Vitamin B complex.

METHOD OF TREATMENTS

Another method of treatment is to reduce the salt in the diet and to give the patient potassium or ammonium chloride. Limiting the amount of fluids taken also is important.

Some patients have been greatly benefited by getting rid of infections present in the teeth, tonsils, sinuses, or elsewhere in the body. Others may be found allergic or sensitive to certain foods. If these foods can be found and eliminated from the diet, improvement may occur.

In about one case out of ten, some type of surgery may be necessary. Surgical treatment is used, however, only when the attacks are very severe and disabling and medical treatment brings no relief. Surgical treatment brings relief from the dizziness, but in many cases will not eliminate the tinnitus or head noises.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

C. B.: What causes the eyeball after a good night's sleep to feel dry and bulgy?

Answer: This condition might be due to some inflammation of the lining membrane of the eyes, known as conjunctivitis, or to a nerve disorder.

It is suggested that you have a thorough study made by your doctor.

Beauty Hints

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Hollywood Expert Says That Glamour Is A Quality That Has to Be Developed

That old-fashioned notion that beauty and brains are seldom found together is knocked galley-west in the decorative person of Anita (The Face) Colby, executive assistant of Paramount Pictures. Among other things, Miss Colby has charge of the Glamour Department for her studio. It's easy to see why.

Since I'm acutely allergic to the idea that glamour is something that can be painted on, billboard style, it was a relief to hear our Hollywood authority state emphatically that glamour is a quanlity that has to be developed, and that the essence of it lies in a woman's attitude toward herself.

Miss Colby deplores the attitude of the plain woman—that "I can't be bothered with my looks . . . I'm not good looking and that's that." The girl who gives up and refuses to try will never have that touch of glamour. Even beautiful women couldn't have it if they thought and acted as if they were homely! Our practical psychologist believes that women tend to become the way they think and feel and act.

Miss Colby said quite candidly that no "spoiled brat," in spite of her fresh prettiness, is likely to grow up to be a true beauty, or a great actress either. Without inner beauty and character and purpose, there can be no real glamour . . . it would be a shoddy imitation, a veneer. And don't be impatient, she coaches, it takes time to build character and to develop assurance and true poise. No one wakes up and suddenly finds herself a dream girl.

It was heartening to hear there is a change in the type of girl who is getting places in Hollywood. Todays' girl is more believable and real . . . more like the girl next door, rather than the artificial baby doll type.

When youngsters ask, "Miss Colby, how can I get to Hollywood?" she advises, "Go to school." Hollywood is not getting its talent from behind drug store counters now-a-days, but from dramatic schools, Summer stock, and the straw hat circuits. There they find the girls with a real desire to become an actress. That's the first essential, a strong desire. It takes stamina too—the kind that comes from bubbling health. As for glamour, that can be developed . . . provided the girl has the stuff and is eager to learn.

Miss Colby tells the youngsters on the Paramount lot to act the part of a poised, confident person—to walk it, think it, feel it! "No girl can feel poised in slacks, or without stockings, or when carelessly dressed," she emphasized. "Always behave as if you were beautiful."

She summed it up to this effect: Any girl, in the movies or out, must not only be aware of her own shortcomings, she must be willing to work to change them . . . instead of letting them shortchange her. Sounds like a winning formula.

New Fall Outfits Deftly Designed For Quick Change

By MURIEL NARRAWAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, (CP) — Quick-change ensembles of ingenious design were featured at London's fall fashion shows.

One lovely example started with a straight-skirted stone beige wool dress with soft raglan shoulder and standup, long-pointed highwayman collar. The narrow three-quarter sleeves ended in stiff, standout cuffs which with collar and very deep belt were piped in dark mole brown.

To this could be added a self-colored apron skirt. Buttoned under the belt, it could be affixed plainly, coming to front hip in panel effect or, buttoned to the back only, giving a softly gathered bustle drape.

Added to this was a Linton tweed cape of oatmeal shade with dark mole pencil lines. It is reversibly lined with stone beige. The neck and shoulder can be unbuttoned to make a straight flared skirt. This, fastened to the waist band of a matching, wide sleeved, battledress top makes a reversible, flare-skirted coat buttoned from shirt neck to neat waist. The diamond-shaped, buttoned shoulder line of the cape makes hip-pocket effect.

TRAVEL ENSEMBLES

Other designs consisted of several pieces—especially the travel ensembles. These were suits with waistcoats and adjustable shoulder capes and heavy, bulky travel coats. Comfortable travel hats made in self materials had contrasting scarves or snoods attached which could be wound or tied in varied ways to hide "what the journey does to your hair."

A black barathea suit had raglan shoulders, squared reverse, tight waist and very flared basque. The tightly fitted straight, gored skirt narrowed towards the knees and flared suddenly just below them to a wide bell-shaped finish. This design was effectively used in a cocktail suit of water-marked moire. The basque, yoke and kneeline were accentuated by black velvet piping.

A cafe-au-lait suit with straight-waisted jacket continuing to low knee length had straight skirt and shot taffeta blouse of dull brown with under color effect. This had deep, off-the-shoulder quilted neckline, quilted hip turnup, narrow sleeve and tight waist.

For the teen-ager's first party dress there was a white slipper satin trimmed with black lace. With tightly swathed off-the-shoulder bodice draped with wide black lace collar the big, straight, hip accentuated skirt of the "80s" swept back in large bustle drape which lifted intriguingly to show a black lace insert.

Why Not a Bridge?

Another new ferry went into operation Tuesday to pilot cars and pedestrians across the West Arm of Kootenay Lake so that Nelson may have better connections with points East. Built by Western Bridge and Steel Fabricators at a cost of $80,000, the new ferry will accommodate 28 cars as compared with the 14-car accommodation on the previous ferry. Naturally the improved service afforded by the new ferry will be welcomed by Nelson residents and tourists alike.

All the ferries that have come and gone laid end to end would form a bridge across the gap of water between Nelson and the North Shore. All the money, including operating costs, that has been put into ferries would by now have built a bridge. Compared with the inconvenience of the antiquated ferry system, even a toll bridge would be more than welcome.

Why must the "Nelson bridge" forever remain a cobweb structure of dreams?

Science and the Farmer

Probably no single group has benefited more from the march of modern science than the farmers. Science has given them a multitude of labor-saving machines. It has developed new varieties of crops capable of withstanding drought, frost and other elemental scourges. It has come forward with chemicals to feed their starving soils. It has developed a great variety of weed and insect killers which have resulted in increased yields and therefore increased profits. It has created new strains of farm stock infinitely superior to the old standbys of a fading era.

Where agricultural science is leading only tomorrow will tell. But we may be certain of one fact—that no intelligent farmer who wishes to remain in the business can ignore its significance in farm economics.

Primary step in scientific farming is education. Few Canadian farmers are graduates from an agricultural college. Education, therefore, must be done at home. The local newspapers go out of their way to print editorial material of rural nature. The farm magazines are replete with articles about a wide variety of subjects dealing with scientific agriculture. Radio stations offer a generous slice of their time to farm broadcasts.

Available to the farmer, without charge, is the great mass of educational literature from Provincial and Federal Agricultural Departments. Industrial firms have produced great numbers of booklets which offer the latest information on scientific farming. The local agricultural representative is another good source of information.

The fact is, there is more solid factual information available to the farmer about his occupation than any other economic group enjoys. Let him use it to the best advantage of himself and his country.

QUESTION OF TIMING

There is not so much difference of opinion about the socialization of banking in the C.C.F. as is commonly supposed; Chairman Frank Scott explains that it is merely a question of timing. Whether the bankers shall be shot in the first year of Socialism or in the second or third, so to speak.—Toronto Saturday Night.

R. S., Nelson—Please give me a recipe for grape wine.

Mash sound ripe grapes well with your hands, in an earthen pan, or if not with your hands, with a perfectly tasteless stick of wood. Do not crush the seeds; strain the liquor into a cask, gently squeeze the pulp, pouring the remainder of the juice into the cask (strained). Let it stand aside for two weeks, then draw it off into another cask, covering up the bunghole with a piece of slate until all fermentation has ceased. Bottle in six months, cork and seal, and it will be drinkable in 12 months' time. Or—Ten pounds of fresh grapes are put into a large jar or crock, three quarts of boiling water poured over them, and when the water is cool enough to permit of it, squeeze the grapes well with the hand. After allowing the jar to remain three or four days covered with a cloth, press out the grapes, then add five pounds of sugar. Allow it to remain for one week, skim and strain carefully, then bottle, corking loosely. After the fermentation is completed strain and seal tightly.

ON THE SIDE

By E. V. DURLING

Far away, my love, thou art,
But I've thy beauties all by heart.
Most of all your lips
So rich in blisses,
Sweet petitioners for kisses;
Pouting nest of bland persuasion
Ripely suing love's invasion!
—Anacreon.

What are we going to do about people who abandon dogs by tossing them from automobiles in strange places miles from home? A dispatch reports a little yellow and white dog sitting patiently beside the highway in Nebraska. A man was seen to leave the dog there and then drive rapidly away. Every time a car resembling that of his master slows down near him the dog walks toward it wagging his tail hopefully. When he learns it is not the car he is waiting for he walks away with his head bowed. But soon hope springs again and the pup looks eagerly up and down the road just as much as to say: "I know he'll come back. He wouldn't do this to me." How I hope that dog is right.

WISE MAN

In Chinatown was recently celebrated the twenty-fifth hundred anniversary of the birth of Confucius. My two favorites among the many wise sayings of Confucius are: "The more you know the better luck you will have," and his answer to the question: "Should good be returned for evil?" which was: "For good return good. For evil, justice."

AMONG THE MARRIED

The Pittsburgh Horses and Women Club, organized several years ago for the purpose of "improving the breed of wives," is reported progressing nicely. At a recent meeting was discussed the subject, "The value of the compliment in promoting peace in married life." Husbands of experience advised the younger H. & W. Club members never to spare the compliments where a wife is concerned. Not only compliments as to personal appearance should be voiced, said they, but compliments on the appearance of the house, the handling of the children, management of the budget, etc., etc. "Never overlook an opportunity to compliment your wife," said one husband of 30 years' experience, "and your days in the doghouse will be few." The Pittsburgh H. & W. Club seems to be an interesting organization. They appear to know quite a little about women. Wonder what they know about horses?

IRISH INVENTOR

A young lady advised me she was being harassed by a male acquaintance who claimed there never had been a truly great Irish poet, musician, playwright or inventor. Of course, I was able to furnish her with the names of great Irish poets, playwrights and musicians, but the inventor angle momentarily baffled me. John Philip Holland, the inventor and submarine designer, was born in the County Clare, Ireland.

HORSES AND WOMEN

Someone speaks of some women having the "silly habit" of betting two or three horses to win in the same race. One of the things I have learned in my efforts to understand the female sex is to never consider anything a woman does is silly until you have thoroughly checked the action. Women are smart people. Don't judge their seemingly foolish actions too hastily. The fact of the matter is that betting on two or three horses to win in the same race is not silly if done intelligently. It is a practice followed by some very smart and experienced speculators.

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL

Of newly married couples, one in 10 will have a baby in nine months. Seven in 10 will have a baby within two years. One in 10 will have a baby after two years. One in 10 will be childless. When a couple is childless, the husband is responsible in 40 per cent of the cases; so states an expert on the subject.

Nelson Board Of Trade To Study Voting System

Nelson Board of Trade will study Canada's voting system with an aim to submitting suggestions for changes to be forwarded to the office at the parent Chamber of Commerce in Montreal.

A letter was read to the Board of Trade Council Thursday advising of the plans of the Montreal Chamber of Commerce. H. E. Thain, chairman of the National Affairs Committee, suggested that the matter be studied by the committee and a report brought in.

Gist of the move is to offset the present system of highest count being declared winner. It was pointed out that this system lent itself to a situation where contenders were elected to office on a minority vote. In Ottawa today there were no less than 145 members holding seats who were elected by a minority vote, Mr. Thain stated.

The alleged weakness in the Canadian voting system was illustrated from a hypothetical case by the speaker: three candidates run for office, one receives 100 votes, one 90 and the third, 80 and thus the candidate with a 100 votes wins. He however represents a minority since 170 votes were against him.

No alternative plans were offered but re-vamping of the voting system will be studied in committee and the committee's report submitted for consideration of a full meeting. As from other Boards of Trade, suggestions will be forwarded to the Montreal Chamber of Commerce which will draft recommendations to the Government.

Something Better Best Weapon Against Communism—Harris

LONDON, Oct. 14 (Reuters)—Sir Percy Harris, President of the British group of the Liberal International, tonight told Liberal newspaper editors from 11 countries that world communism must be combatted with "an alternative philosophy, a more attractive political ideology."

"There is no use trying to meet it with abuse," he said.

Sir Percy was host at a reception for the editors on the conclusion of their two-day conference here under the sponsorship of the Liberal International, a grouping of Liberal elements in various countries.

Among the guests were editors of papers in Canada, Greece, Finland, Turkey, Switzerland, France and Scandinavia.

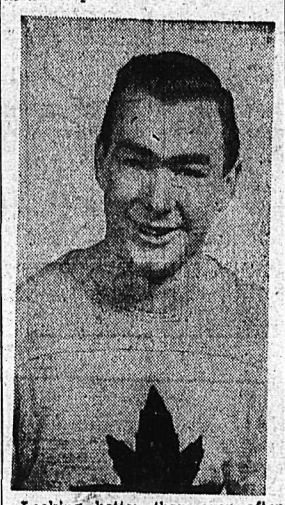
In Action at Spokane Sunday

One of the bright spots of last year's Nelson Maple Leafs was Johnny Fargher who has made the team this season and will be on the lineup Sunday night for the circuit opener at Spokane. Fargher, besides being something of a speed artist has one of the trickiest shots in the loop.



Looking better than ever after three weeks of concentrated workouts is Bill Vickers, an outstanding player with the Leafs in past seasons. Bill plays a heads-up game and is a boy to watch when he's around the twines.

PORTLAND BOSS BECOMES YANKEE COACH

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 (AP)—Jim (Milkman) Turner, Manager of the Portland Club in the Pacific Coast League for the last two seasons, today was named Coach of New York Yankees under their new manager, Casey Stengel.

Turner will replace John Corriden on the Yankee coaching staff. No announcement was made concerning the status of Charley Dressen, John Schulte and Frank Crossetti, the other Yankee coaches who served under Bucky Harris, recently dismissed as Yankee pilot.

BONE SPUR TROUBLES DiMAG

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 (AP)—Joe DiMaggio of New York Yankees said today he is planning to enter John Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore soon for his annual physical check-up.

The Yankee centre-fielder has been troubled by a bone spur in the heel. In 1947 an operation for a similar growth on his left heel kept him out of action at the start of the season.

The deadlock was a disappointment to the 11,200 home-town fans who saw their Canadiens hang grimly to a one-goal lead from early in the first period until six minutes from the final siren.

Goalie Chuck Rayner's acrobatic work in the Ranger nets was a big factor in keeping Canadiens from winning. He was called on to make one sensational save after another and handled 31 shots against 14 for Bill Durnan.

Tells Nelson Club of Victoria Kiwanis Meeting

Mood of the 31st annual conference of Kiwanis Pacific Northwest shifted between the serious and the light, President Walter Hendricks Thursday evening told a dinner meeting of the Nelson Kiwanis Club in the Hume.

In a comprehensive report on the convention, Mr. Hendricks outlined the activities during which Neil McClure of Colville, Wash., was elected Lieutenant-Governor and John Langback of Raymond, Wash., District Governor.

"Victora treated us royally," the Nelson President said. Over 900 delegates, representing 15 Districts and 116 clubs, in Oregon, Washington, Idaho Panhandle and B.C., attended.

William DeFoe, also a Nelson delegate, gave a brief account of the session, which next year will be held in Portland, Ore.

Dick Palmer, Mr. DeFoe and W. B. Montgomery were chosen as Nominating Committee to prepare for election night.

Music for the Kiwanians came in the form of a five-piece orchestra and vocalist Joseph Comhairo. With Charles King, Master of Ceremonies, playing the harmonica, Mrs. Stanley Linton the piano, Norman Young the violin, Harley Scales the accordion and E. W. White the clarinet, the dining room resounded with music, both old and new.

Guests were Rev. T. L. Leadbeater of Nelson and Bernard Kline of Leduc, Alta.

70-Game N.H.L. Schedule a Prospect

DETROIT, Oct. 14 (AP) — Expansion of the National Hockey League's schedule to 70 games by next season, 35 at home for each of the six clubs and 35 on the road, is foreseen as a distinct possibility by N.H.L. President Clarence S. Campbell.

But there is no immediate prospect of enlarging the circuit to eight clubs.

Campbell, who came here for Wednesday night's league opener in which Detroit beat Chicago 3-1, said that N.H.L.'s current 60-game schedule can be stepped up to 70 within limits of the 27-week season, and probably will be for next year if the Boston Garden and Madison Square Garden in New York will approve the additional dates.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 14 (AP) — Cleveland Indians won't need much overhauling for defence of their world championship, President Bill Veeck said today.

"Of course, that doesn't mean we'll repeat but we'll be up there with the best of them," Bill hastened to add.

Veeck conceded that "we can't stand pat completely. No team should adopt that attitude. But I don't think many changes will be necessary.

"We have a pitching staff that is good for five more years," Veeck said. "Our outfield is one of the best and there isn't a better catcher in the league than Jim Hegan.

"With the exception of (Eddie) Robinson at first, our infield is past the mark, but I'm looking for another good year from (Lou) Boudreau, (Ken) Keltner and (Joe) Gordon.

"Our pitching looks awfully good to me. Gene Bearden and Bob Lemon both won 20 games.

"Bob Feller will come back. In fact, he did come back this year in spite of the fact he lost two series games. A lot of people overlook the fact that he helped us tremendously in the stretch drive. Remember, he won seven straight before Hal Newhouser beat us and forced us into that playoff with the Red Sox. Nobody could have beaten Newhouser that day."

The Indians' President was noncommittal on the subject of whether Boudreau would receive a new managerial contract. The old two-year document runs through next season.

"That's one of the items we will take up whe nwe get to it," Bill said.

FOLKESTONE, England (CP)—Regarded by insurance firms as "too bad a risk" owing to ill-health when he was young, George Surgen has died. He was 99.

Toronto . . . physically, a city of toweringly majestic skyscrapers . . . shadowy canyons . . . bustling vehicles, bee-busy streets, and multi-acred parks, squares and beaches. Torontonians pride themselves on the loveliness of their homes and the tree-shaded quiet of the residential districts. It houses over 850,000 civic-conscious citizens, and is the acknowledged industrial city of Canada. There are nature-rich parks, great educational institutions, and, of course, the internationally famed Canadian National Exhibition. And there is so much more for which there isn't space. Ask any Torontonian for further details: You'll get them, for they are proud, and justly so, of their city.

At the first sign of fire, the forest ranger instinctively reaches for his telephone, confident his call will go through.

To justify the confidence which has been built up in the reliability of telephone service, the telephone companies leave nothing to chance. From long experience their engineers know that Exide batteries are thoroughly dependable. KEEP THIS FACT IN MIND WHEN SELECTING A BATTERY FOR YOUR AUTOMOBILE.

Ask the Exide dealer in your community to check your battery every two weeks. He will help you get the most life out of your present battery and, only when a new battery is essential, will he recommend the proper Exide to suit the electrical requirements of your car.

"Miss Stuttgart" Actor Arraingned In Paper Bag

—Central Press Canadian

The "Miss This or That" craze has spread to war-battered Germany, which is currently in the throes of a contest to select "Miss Germany of 1948". Elimination contests are being held all over the country. Above is Lore Tessler, who was chosen as "Miss Stuttgart" of 1948. She will compete with other regional winners in the main event to select Miss Germany at Munich.

Rex Ingram, 53-year-old Negro stage and film actor, puffs on a pipe as he leaves the office of U. S. Commissioner Isaac Platt in New York City after being arraigned on white slavery charges. F.B.I. agents who arrested Ingram charged him with bringing a 15-year-old girl from Salina, Kansas, to New York City for immoral purposes. He was held in $2500 bail for removal to Kansas City. —AP Wirephoto.

—Central Press Canadian

This nameless bit of humanity was left in a paper bag in a hallway at Chicago, Ill. She is a little girl, about five days old, and when found was wrapped in a pink and grey Indian blanket, white kimono and white sox. Quite unperturbed by her plight, and still wrapped in her paper covering, the little lady is shown after her arrival at an orphanage.

Tornado Wreckage

These folks examine the remains of their home, flattened by a tornado at Pompano, Fla. More than ankle-deep water hampered their salvaging what was left of their belongings. —AP Wirephoto.

Bostonians Choose Her

Starlet Joy Lansing, who's successfully hiding behind that big baseball, had a date for the World Series if she wanted it. A group of Beantowners, who call themselves "Brave Bostonians, Inc.," have named her "The Girl We Would Most Like to Take Out to the Baseball Game." Miss Lansing, oddly enough, is currently making a movie in Hollywood called "Take Me Out to the Ball Game." —AP Wirephoto.

Fights Back With Dolls

Freckle-faced Connie Harding, of Sioux Falls, S.D., hospitalized with polio, holds up one of the dolls she is making and selling for the March of Dimes. The blonde 12-year-old hopes to leave the hospital the day funeral services are set for her mother, who died from the disease. —AP Wirephoto.

MODERN MANNERS

If you should take a friend visiting you to the home of another friend, introduce your visitor to those who are present, instead of expecting your hostess to remember the name and make the introductions.

IT HAPPENED TODAY

Virgil (Publius Vergillus Maro), great Latin poet, was born on Oct. 15, in 70 B.C. On this date, 1582, the Gregorian calendar was introduced into Roman Catholic countries, and on Oct. 15, 1846, Dr. Morton made the first public demonstration of the use of ether as an anaethetic in Massachusetts General Hospital.

YOUR FUTURE

Work hard and be unassuming now, also enjoy romance and/or home life. Business enterprises, travel, changes and intellectual activities are portended for you. Avoid the law, however, and do not be extravagant, even in your generosity.

IT'S BEEN SAID

I repeat . . . that all power is a trust; that we are accountable for its exercise; that from the people and for the people all springs, and all must exist.—Benjamin Disraeli.

However, a Government spokesman said it was not true that Canada was trying to "flood" the American market with the Dominion's production.

Expected Judgment

VICTORIA, Oct. 14 (CP) — The Privy Council judgment, upholding the Saskatchewan Trade Union Act in requiring reinstatement of workers dismissed for union activities, was not unexpected, Saskatchewan's Labor Minister C. Mc. Willians, said today.

The Privy Council ruled that the section of the Act which requires employers to reinstate workers dismissed for union activities to be within the Provincial Legislature's power.

Diamond Urges Greater Stress on Human Side of Industry; Sees Need of Exploration for New Mines

WINNIPEG, Oct. 14 — A plea that Canada's mining industry should lay greater stress on the human side of its affairs was made here last night by R. W. Diamond, Vice-President and General Manager of The Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada, Limited.

In an address at the annual Western meeting of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy and the annual meeting of the Manitoba Chamber of Mines, Mr. Diamond, who is President of the C.I.M.M., stated the industry should recognize its responsibilities to society.

He felt a healthy society was more important than technological progress and since the individual was the backbone of any society, more interest must be paid to him by the industry.

And in striving to effect harmony between the industry and its employees he emphasized the role the supervisory personnel should play. He felt adequate education of the supervisory personnel in the company's attitudes would result in all levels of employees having a better understanding of the company.

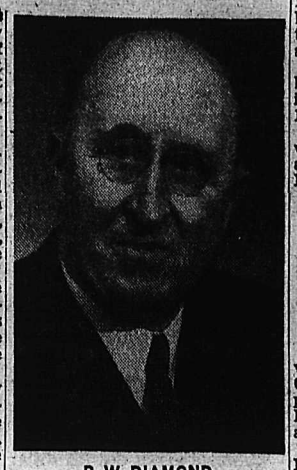
In this way the employee's confidence and friendship could be won and greater harmony in the industry would result.

Mr. Diamond also discussed the necessity of exploration for new mines and paid tribute to the services of the Dominion Geological Survey and allied services, which had helped bring mining to its present third place in Canada's leading industries.

He said government controlled prospecting and mineral surveys would not release the effort, technical skill and detailed information necessary for success in this field. Mr. Diamond felt it sufficient incentive was given "an army of potential prospectors can be born overnight."

He also felt the industry in its turn should spend a reasonable portion of the profits it received from Canada for further search arcoss the Dominion for new mines.

Mr. Diamond mentioned the problems facing Canada's gold mines today. He felt the gold industry had a difficult problem of producing a commodity of fixed dollar value in the face of rising costs. But he added the problem must be solved and new gold mines brought into production so they might, as in the past, add to Canada's economic stability, and future development.



R. W. DIAMOND

He also pointed out the difficulties besetting Canada's coal mining industry. Geography, rising costs of labour, supply and transportation and public resistance to increased prices were all making things hard for the coal mine operators, he said.

OTTAWA, Oct. 14 (CP) — The Government is taking steps to redeem some $730,000,000 worth of bonds by next February.

Finance Minister Abbott announced today another $50,000,000 block of First War loan bonds will be called for redemption next Feb. 1.

The Federal Government also is redeeming next month $680,954,600 worth of bonds, made up of three issues.

Mr. Abbott said the First War loan bonds being called are those bearing the call letter "A" and will bear no interest beyond the date of calling—Feb. 1, 1949.

STEP UP EXPORTS OF BRITISH WOOLLENS

OTTAWA, Oct. 14 (CP)—Exports of British woollens and worsteds to Canada are increasing steadily and by the end of this year will be almost double the 1938 exports, Thow Munro, head of a United Kingdom woollen mission, said today.

In the first seven months of this year, 12,000,000 square yards of woollens and worsteds were sent to Canada. If the current rate continues, the year's exports will amount to 23,800,000 square yards. Total exports in 1938 were 13,800,000 square yards.

Too Much Good Will in '44, Too Little in '48 Berlin's Headache

By WES GALLAGHER

BERLIN, Oct. 14 (AP) — This rubble heap city of 3,000,000 has become the world's No. 1 headache through too much goodwill in 1944 and too little in 1948.

The United States and Britain had too much good-will and trust in future international relations in 1944.

The Soviet Union's lack of goodwill in carrying out international agreements brings a crisis over Berlin in 1948.

How did it happen?

It began around a conference table in London in 1944. At the table was the European Advisory Commission set up by Britain, Russia and the United States. The men around the table set up lines for the occupation in Germany without too much trouble.

Then it became a question of which city should be the seat of Government for the victorious powers. The Russians wanted Berlin—which was deep in their assigned zone.

The Americans were opposed. But the Russians insisted on their choice. It seemed not too important at the time, when all stress was on cooperation. So, the West gave in.

Finally, British and American representatives worked out agreements with the Soviet commander on moving Western troops to the city in the Soviet zone and supplying them. The Western Allies were given the use of one railroad and the international highway between Berlin and Helmstedt, on the British zone border.

Subsequent four-power agreements provided air corridors and worked out the exact number of trains to be moved over the rail lines daily. The Western powers undertook to feed the hungry population of their sectors as well as their occupation troops. The Russians agreed to this.

WORKED FOR TWO YEARS

These agreements worked for nearly two years with only minor difficulties.

Meanwhile, however, the era of good-will was running out. The Allies were at odds on what kind of post-war Germany should be created. The Russians wanted a Communist-dominated Central German Government with full police powers. This was unacceptable to the West.

The Allied Control Council, set up to govern all of Germany, bogged down with Soviet vetos.

Each power governed its zone of Germany as it saw fit.

The foreign ministers of the Big Four tried to solve the situation. They ended in worse deadlocks.

Meanwhile, Western Germany was falling to pieces. Inflation killed the incentive to work. Factories lacked raw materials. Unemployment mounted.

The rest of Western Europe was not much better off. Communist parties, thriving on poverty and misery, made headway.

The Russians reasoned that Berlin was the weak point in the Western armor.

If the Soviets could strangle Berlin and oust the Western powers, they would gain enormously in prestige throughout Europe. They could set up a German Central Government in the old capital which would appeal to all nationalist Germans. And most Germans are nationalists.

The Soviets proceeded cautiously. They were not sure the Western powers would not fight. And they did not want to risk a war.

DEMANDED INSPECTION

In March, they demanded the right to inspect British and American military trains on the charge the West was smuggling out war criminals and undesirables of other types. The West refused to allow this inspection, saying it would be an infringement on sovereignty the Russians refused to allow the trains to go through. So the military trains stopped running.

In a few weeks the Soviets charged the Western powers with "looting" this wrecked city by removing factories and businesses. They refused to allow any freight train to pass from Berlin to the West unless it had a Soviet-granted licence.

Then the Western powers put in currency reform in Western Germany to end inflation which was wrecking recovery plans.

The Soviets immediately (in June) closed the rail line with the excuse of "technical difficulties." The large line developed "technical difficulties." The highway was shut by new controls, on the excuse the Western powers would use it to smuggle marks into the Soviet zone.

With the land routes closed the Western powers resorted to the arm that won them the war—air power. Vast fleets of air transports roared over Berlin.

The Russians have protested the airlift. Their pilots have buzzed the Western transports. Their flak guns have created nuisances in the corridors. But the lift has gone on.

In the air the Russians are at the same disadvantage as the West was on the ground. They may commit the overt act which might bring war. On the ground the West would have to push its armed convoys across the Soviet border. In the air, the Russians must shoot a British or American plane down to stop it. There is no other way.

Thus far the Russians have shown no inclination to shoot.

But Berlin has become such an international issue it is believed the Soviets would risk war in the event force was tried. The stakes have become too great for a retreat without some face-saving compromise.

Communities Can Buy or Lease Castlegar Airport

The problem of the Castlegar airport will be put to the City Councils in the immediate district. Mr. W. A. Hendricks, committee head investigating the airport problem told Board of Trade Council Thursday.

Following confirmation from W. R. May, Director of Development, and R. P. Philips, speaking for the Superintendent of the Western Region of the C.P.A., that the airline would use the Castlegar site if it were brought up to standard, the way was open for encouraging air traffic into the West Kootenays, Mr. Hendricks declared.

The Committee chairman stated that two alternatives lay before the communities; that of leasing the land from the Provincial Government for a 20 year period at $1.50 an acre or buying the 120 acre strip outright at $25 an acre.

Final decision will rest with a representative committee of district centres.

Record Sockeye Spawning in Chilco

VANCOUVER, Oct. 14 (CP) — About a million Sockeye salmon are spawning in the Chilco Lake area in the Cariboo this year, Chief Fisheries Supervisor A. J. Whitmore said today.

The spawn is believed to be the largest there in history, and triples that of 1944, the last cycle year for the fish.

Mr. Whitmore said the report was partly a result of the International Sockeye Salmon Commission's conservation program.

Fisheries officials said the Chum salmon catch in the Johnstone Strait area, about 100 miles North of here, was 200,000 fish in two days. Value of the catch is close to $300,000.
