Tax Cuts Hinted In Throne Speech

Bill to Assist Trans-Canada Highway Building Forecast; to Amend Gold Mines Aid Act

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Jan. 26 (CP) — The fifth session of Canada's 20th Parliament opened today with the reading of a Throne Speech which forecast a lengthy list of important legislation and hinted at possible tax reductions in the next budget.

The 2000-word speech was read by the Governor-General, Viscount Alexander, in the stately Senate Chamber where the glare of Kleig lights reflected off the red-carpeted floor and the multi-colored dresses of women guests at the ceremony.

Several measures will provide for amendments to defence legislation, the Industrial Development Bank Act, the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act, and the Prairie Farm Assistance Act.

The terms under which Newfoundland has agreed to enter Confederation as a 10th Province will be submitted to Parliament "without delay." Target date for union has been set for March 31.

Much of the pre-war pomp and formality were lacking as Viscount Alexander, in morning coat, read, first in English and then in French, the speech which pin-pointed the continued unsettled condition of world affairs.

Highlights of the speech to the assembled Senators and Members of the Commons were:

OTTAWA, Jan. 26 (CP)—Following are highlights from the Speech from the Throne read today at the opening of Parliament:

A hint of lower taxation in the statement that the "buoyant level" of national revenues would be given "due consideration" in preparing the budget.

A Royal Commission will be established to examine the work of Government agencies relating to radio, films, television, arts and sciences, research and other activities designed to make Canadians Canada-conscious and spread the knowledge of Canada abroad.

The scope of family allowances will be broadened.

Legislative steps will be taken to abolish appeals to the Privy Council and make the Supreme Court of Canada the court of last legal resort for this country.

Parliament will be asked to extend steel control and a limited number of price controls, including that over the rental of housing accommodation.

Bills will be introduced to provide assistance for the building of a Trans-Canada highway and for Government loans to stimulate basic steel production.

A Department of Reconstruction and Development will be established to take over the functions of the present Ministry of Reconstruction and Supply, including ministerial responsibility for Central Mortgage and Housing Corp.

Foreign exchange controls will be continued "for a further period."

Amendments to existing defence legislation will be introduced.

There also will be new legislation dealing with forest conservation, overseas telecommunications, the control and regulation of interprovincial and international pipe lines and assistance for the Canadian shipbuilding industry.

The Industrial Development Bank Act, the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act and the Prairie Farm Assistance Act also will be introduced.

Parliament will be asked to approve, subject to ratification by the United States authorities, the 1941 agreement for the development of the St. Lawrence seaway.

The Government will continue to press "vigorously" for the lowering of tariffs and other barriers and, "as quickly as possible," for the expansion of multilateral trade.

Legislation will be introduced to promote extensive and adequately-safeguarded use of the national trade mark "Canada Standard," in the interests of both domestic and foreign trade.

Legislative provision will be made to implement the food agreements with Britain.

Parliament will be asked to approve the terms of union with Newfoundland for Newfoundland's entry into Confederation March 31.

The North Atlantic Security Pact will be submitted for Parliamentary approval.

DREW CLASHES IN FIRST SPAT WITH PREMIER

Commons Opening Filmed, Televised For First Time

START OF TIFFS?

By GEORGE KITCHEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Jan. 26 (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent and George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, clashed in the Commons today over a ticklish question of procedure—with the buoyant new Opposition chieftain coming out on top.

The exchange, quietly-spoken but firm, came as the Commons opened the fifth—and perhaps the last—session of the 20th Parliament on a note of peace and harmony but quickly ran into a wrangle which may set the pattern for future debates.

Mr. Drew, as new to the leadership of his party as Mr. St. Laurent is to the prime ministership, forced the suave, lawyer-leader of the Liberals to give way and withdraw a motion which would have stopped the Throne speech debate, traditional first business of a new session, within two days.

But the conflict did not end there. It carried a promise for the future. Mr. St. Laurent said the question would be debated Friday. At the same time, he explained that he did not wish to press the chamber to do something not to its liking.

DRAWS COLDWELL BACKING

The contentious resolution called for suspension of the Throne speech debate after Friday. Mr. St. Laurent said he planned then to introduce a motion to devote the next two weeks, to Friday, Feb. 11, to consideration of the Newfoundland legislation.

Mr. Drew, winning support from M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, expressed his opposition to the motion because it would mean that the House would be left without direction if Mr. St. Laurent's second motion Friday did not pass. The Prime Minister was presuming that the chamber would adopt the second motion.

There had been nothing like this since Confederation, said Mr. Drew, and he warned:

"I do not consent to proceed with the motion in its present form."

Mr. St. Laurent said the Government did not intend to impose "any dictatorial attitude" on the members.

"Oh, oh," chorused the Opposition members behind Mr. Drew.

Mr. St. Laurent's voice rose. "The honorable members can say 'oh, oh' as much as they like," he snapped. "But I know best what the Government intends to do."

A strong, unfamiliar light fell on the Commons deliberations as the proceedings opened.

It was the harsh glare of Kleig lights focused on the green-carpeted chamber for movie cameras which recorded the opening—for the first time in history—for newsreels and television outlets in the United States and Britain.

A great clatter of applause from both the Liberal and the Opposition benches greeted Mr. St. Laurent as he entered the chamber as Prime Minister for the first time. He succeeded Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King last November. Mr. King, now the private member for Glengarry, sat a few seats away, just beyond the Cabinet row.

Champion Creek Mother Finds Body Of Son; Drowned When Ice Gives Way

CHAMPION CREEK SETTLEMENT, B.C., Jan. 26 — Peter Popoff, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alec Popoff of Champion Creek Settlement, drowned Wednesday about noon in icy Columbia River waters.

The lad left his home about 11, slid down a slope toward the river on his sleigh, and attempted to walk on thin ice along the river's edge about a mile below the mouth of Champion Creek.

Mrs. Popoff missed him almost immediately after he left home, and ran a considerable distance to the spot, only to find her child floating in broken ice four or five feet from the shore.

The water was only about two or three feet deep, but freezing.

Fred Fillipoff of Shoreacres, teacher at the Champion Creek Settlement School, applied artificial respiration at about 11:40, but to no avail.

When Dr. J. R. Harrigan of Trail arrived at about 1:20 p.m., the boy had been dead for some time. B.C. Provincial Police also attended the scene, and it was believed that cold as much as actual drowning caused the boy's death.

Besides his mother and father, he is survived by a brother and three sisters.

Champion Creek Settlement, a Doukhobor community on the left side of the Columbia as it flows South, is South of Blueberry Creek and about 10 miles North of Trail.

The speed with which authorities were notified of the drowning is considered a feat, as there is no communication with the Settlement except by boat travel across the river.

8 Freed After Month In Ice-Bound Camp

Miners and Families Rationed Food After Arm Iced in; Tug Breaks Way to Rescue; Rushing Woman to Hosiptal

VICTORIA, Jan. 26 (CP) — Eight persons tonight were taken from an isolated tiny mining camp on Vancouver Island's Muchalat Arm where they had been marooned more than a month and had been rationing their food.

The Captain of the tug Island Commander told Victoria by radio-phone seven adults and one child were being evacuated and that four other persons had left earlier. He did not say where the other four had gone.

Originally it was believed 11 persons were settled at the camp up the 23-mile-long arm 60 miles Northwest of Port Albernie, B. C., and 145 miles Northwest of Victoria.

One woman was said seriously ill from cold and exposure. Identified as Mrs. William Sloan, wife of the camp's superintendent, she was taken aboard the 36-foot cruiser Burman which was being towed out behind the Island Commander.

The rescued were identified as H. K. Anderson, a miner, and his wife and three-year-old child; J. A. Sloan, a miner, and his wife; and Mr. and Mrs. Sloan.

The sick woman will be taken to hospital tomorrow at Esperanza, B.C.

CRUISER FROZEN IN

Thick ice apparently had isolated the camp and made useless the cruiser stationed there. The inhabitants had been rationing their food and said they were prepared to wait another 48 hours before trying to build an ice boat with which to escape.

The Island Commander, presumed creeping back to a port in pitch blackness tonight, first heard reports of the camp's isolation last night from a fishing boat crew where both were storm-stayed.

Ice-breaking equipment hurriedly was improvised and the craft set out.

Ice was reported five inches thick within 1000 yards of the camp where contact first was established by shouting.

Captain Arthur Warren of the tug said "they certainly were a happy bunch of people tovsee us."

William Sloan added, the captain said, "we are so grateful to be rescued."

LABOR LEADING IN ISRAEL'S FIRST ELECTION

Right Wingers and Communists Trail 21-Party Field

NO MAJORITY

TEL AVIV, Jan. 26 (AP)—Israel's first election appeared today to have given labor a firm voice in her new government.

Premier David Ben-Gurion's moderately Leftist Labor Party, Mapai, had received 35 per cent of the total vote cast, at the half-way point of the official count.

Mapai was running up a vote more than twice as large as that cast for either of two other contenders fighting it out for second place. They were the United Labor Party, Mapam, and a bloc of five parties which want the country to base its laws on ancient Jewish scriptures.

Militant right-wing parties and Communists trailed in the field of 21 parties competing for seats in the powerful Constituent Assembly. The 120-member Assembly will form a government to succeed the present provisional government and write a constitution.

The returns indicated that Israel's new government will comprise several parties following the cautious foreign policy laid down in the last eight months by the white-haired Ben-Gurion.

No party will have a clear majority and whether Mapam will join the new regime is an unanswered question. It now has two Cabinet seats.

Ben-Gurion campaigned on the issue that Israel should settle down within boundaries worked out with United Nations approval, live at peace with Arab neighbors and seek world recognition. He has kept free of entangling alliances with either the Western powers or the Russian bloc.

(Mapam has contended Ben-Gurion's Party looks too much to the West for international guidance. Mapam describes itself as having centrist policies on world affairs, balanced between East and West.)

Alaska Power Site Could Have Highest Output of N.A. Dams

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 (CP) — A power site described as "potentially the greatest in North America" has been discovered on the Yukon River in the heart of Alaska.

It would require a dam only 250 feet high, says William E. Warne, Assistant Secretary of the Interior. Hoover Dam, across the Colorado River, is 726 feet high.

The Alaskan project could produce more than 12,000,000,000 kilowatt-hours of power each year, it is estimated. The largest producer in the United States, Grand Coulee (Wash.) Dam, will have a top capacity of only 8,000,000,000 when all units have been installed some years hence.

Warne, writing in "The Reclamation Era," a publication of the Bureau of Reclamation, says another site, involving diversion of headwaters of the Yukon, if developed would be the second largest power project in Alaska.

Since that site is at Miles Canyon, in the Yukon Territory, the dam could be built only through an international agreement, Warne says.

Water, backed up through a series of interconnected Canadian lakes now covering 500 square miles, could be diverted through a 15-mile tunnel to the Pacific slope, he adds. The annual power output would be 8,000,000,000 kilowatt-hours.

Warne's article adds:

The site "which may prove to have the greatest potentiality in North America" is at a sudden narrowing of the Yukon known as the Ramparts, almost in the geographic centre of Alaska.

The proposed dam would flood the so-called Yukon flat with a reservoir 40 to 100 miles wide and 200 miles long.

G. T. Matthews, Pioneer Salmo Prospector, Dies

George T. Matthews, pioneer miner and prospector of the Kootenays, died at Kootenay Lake General Hospital early Wednesday morning after a long illness. He was 77.

He had lived at Salmo for many years, and it is believed he was one of the original stakers of the Sheep Creek Gold Mines.

He is survived by his widow Barbara at Salmo.

RESCUED RADIO MAN IN HOSPITAL

WINNIPEG, Jan. 26 (CP) — Harold Dunn of Ottawa, Transport Department radio operator whose illness touched off a 2000-mile mercy flight to Arctic Bay, at the Norther end of Baffin Island, reached Winnipeg by RCAF aircraft tonight and was taken immediately to Misericordiae Hospital.

Rains Ease River-Drying Drought

JOHANNESBURG, Jan. 26 (CP)—Good rains during the last fortnight have relieved drought conditions in widespread areas of South Africa but conditions in the Southern part of the Orange Free State are critical.

In Bloemfontein, Free State capital, water rationing has been enforced and the supply cut to 1,250,000 gallons daily. During the Summer months as much as 4,600,000 gallons of water is consumed daily in Bloemmontein, a city of about 64,000 population.

Reports from parts of the Free State have told of stock dying on farms.

At Upington, in the Northwestern part of the Cape Province, the Orange River has reached the lowest level since 1903 and in some places the river is just a series of stagnant pools.

WEATHER DROPS TO 36 BELOW AT NATAL-MICHEL

NATAL, B. C., Jan. 25 — Natal-Michel is still experiencing cold weather as the weatherman continues to keep the thermometer down below zero for the sixth straight week. Last week the thermometer hit the lowest recorded this Winter as it went down to 36 degrees below zero.

The cold snap is still playing havoc with motorists as cars and trucks are continually being pulled and pushed around town. The Michel mines are continuing work although working under a severe handicap due to the cold weather which is continually freezing up some machinery.

Household coal orders are continually coming in with little signs of catching up on back orders unless a sudden change of temperature for the better. Many homes are still facing a coal shortage while others are placing their coal order as soon as the first load is delivered.

The cold weather and icy roads have already lost the Fernie miners working at Michel a few shifts. It is also playing havoc with the water lines.

Stores Locked, But You Can Still Shop

DETROIT, Jan. 26 (AP) — This concerns another new gadget.

A downtown men's store happened on it after being bothered by the thought of all those night-time window shoppers who couldn't be accommodated.

So there's now a record-player in the window. You put a quarter in the slot and leave your order, speaking into a tiny microphone. The store promises delivery the next day.

CRASH KILLS TWO

SPOKANE, Jan. 26 (AP) — Two prominent Pomeroy men were found dead this afternoon in the wreckage of their small plane 20 miles North of Dayton, the State Patrol reported.

They were identified as Louis J. Whitmore, rancher, and his passenger, Wynn Stallcop, automobile dealer.

RECORD RETURN FOR FARMERS

OTTAWA, Jan. 26 (CP)—Canadian farmers received a record cash return from sale of their products during the first nine months of 1948, the amount totalling $1,762,814,000 the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

This was more than 37 per cent higher than for the similar period of 1947. However, the increase was attributed "in large part" by the Bureau to a "significant" increase in the prices paid for farm products and to the substantial sums paid out as grain equalization and adjusting payments by the Canadian Wheat Board and Western grain companies.

In addition, farmers received a total of $15,821,000 in supplementary cash payments made under provisions of the Prairie Farm Assistance Act of 1946, 1947 and 1948, the Wheat Acreage Reduction Act of 1946 and 1947, and the Prairie Farm Income Act of 1946, bringing their cash receipts for the period to $1,776,635,000 against $1,292,306,000 for the same period of 1947.

SAYS PAID TO SIT WITH CHILDREN OF "OTHER WOMAN"

MOBILE, Ala., Jan. 26 (AP)—A 29-year-old wife charged with murdering her husband told detectives today she was paid $6 a week to baby sit for "the other woman."

Mrs. John J. Foster was booked at city jail on a murder charge after her husband, a 39-year-old telephone worker, was found shot to death in their kitchen last night. Their 20-month old child was in the house at the time.

Police said Mrs. Foster told them that at her husband's insistence she acted as baby sitter for the woman with whom she accused him of associating. The "other woman" had two children of her own.

"I didn't want to keep the children, but my husband insisted that I did," Mrs. Foster said. "I loved my husband, and I was doing all I could to try and keep the family together."

Mrs. Morrow-Tait Still Determined To Finish Flight in Light Craft

EDMONTON, Jan. 26 (CP) — Mrs. R. Morrow-Tait, stranded British aviatrix, is travelling once again, but not by aircraft. Last night she began hitch-hiking and now is enroute to Dawson Creek, B.C., by truck.

The former housewife and artist's model arrived in Edmonton from Fairbanks, Alaska, aboard a United States Air Force plane Nov. 27. Her Proctor aircraft was badly damaged a few days earlier in a forced landing on the Alaska Highway.

Her aircraft arrived in Edmonton yesterday by truck. "I was shocked when I inspected the plane," said Mrs. Morrow-Tait. She claimed that the light-model aircraft suffered further damage during a loading mishap in the North.

Mrs. Morrow-Tait had planned to hitch-hike to Toronto to confer with Proctor Aircraft officials but decided to go to Dawson Creek to investigate loading and hauling of her aircraft.

The plane, "Thursday's Child," will now be abandoned here where it is being held by custom bond. The avaitrix plans to sell the serviceable parts from the plane.

Determined to complete her globe-skirting hop in a light model aircraft, Mrs. Morrow-Tait arranged a series of public speaking appearances in December in an effort to raise funds. This scheme was abandoned after one appearance in Calgary.

Following completion of business in Dawson Creek, Mrs. Morrow-Tait will visit Fairbanks and possibly Anchorage before returning to Edmonton about the middle of February.

From Edmonton the aviatrix will go to Toronto. "I am scouring the continent in an effort to find some company which will give me a plane to fly back to England for the advertising purposes," Mrs. Morrow-Tait said.

Two-Timed by Thief

VANCOUVER, B. C., Jan. 26—(CP) — David Ferguson was a two-time loser to a thief yesterday.

His wallet and $19 were stolen in a downtown beer parlor. Two hours later a man phoned him at his home, told him his son had found the wallet, and arranged to meet him on a street corner.

Ferguson turned up, but the man did not.

When he got home he found his room had been ransacked. His radio, watch, club bag, two suits and other clothing, totalling $400, were missing.

BATTLE AHEAD OVER U. S. HEALTH INSURANCE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 (AP)—A battle royal lies ahead in Congress on the hot subject of compulsory health insurance in the United States.

On one side are administration men who say millions can't afford good medical care, and the Government must step in.

On the other are those who contend that "socialized" medicine would ruin the quality of medical care and saddle the taxpayers with burdens running into billions of dollars.

CONVICTED OF ATTACK

VANCOUVER, Jan. 26 (CP) — Robert K. Lake, 26, of Powell River, today was convicted of rape by an Assize Court jury.

The complaintant was a 20-year-old married woman of Cranberry, B.C., who told court she was assaulted last Nov. 27 at Westview, near Powell River.

Lake testified he had been drinking, and had "blanked out" on the day of the assault.

He will be sentenced at the end of the Assizes.

PROMISE OF AID SENDS GOLD UP

VANCOUVER, Jan. 26 (CP) — Gold stocks, depressed for months, came to life today on the Vancouver Stock Exchange.

The speech from the Throne at the opening of Parliament promised new aid for the mining industry, and this influenced higher gold prices here.

A total of 48,000 gold shares traded during the afternoon session, with price advances ranging from seven to 50 cents a share.

NAVY FAVORED FOR SPRING

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 26 (AP) — What will you wear this Spring?

Irene, at her Spring fashion showing today, hopes she had some of the answers.

Taffeta is dominant. It is used by itself or combined with net, wool, crepe or white embroidery.

Shirring appears repeatedly as either the main decorative emphasis or merely a lush detail. Panels of shirring over the hips, around the waist, on the bodice of an evening gown, or as a touch of the neckline are popular.

Rounded, plunging, and portrait necklines and jutting collars continue last year's fashion trend. The decollete even finds its way to the casual dresses, a black faille dinner suit, and a navy coat dress.

Suits have a rounded effect at the hemline of the jacket and skirt, shoulders are natural but not drooping. Suit details include slit cuffs and occasionally a back slit in the jacket.

Navy heads the color lineup, with champaigne (beige), and gray doing their bit. Green chimes in occasionally and crisp, white touches emphasize that it is a Spring collection.

More Steel, But Nails Shortage to Continue

VANCOUVER, Jan. 26 (CP)—W. E. Uren, Canadian steel controller, said today the consumer can look forward to a small increase in steel production in 1949, but that nails will remain "tight."

Visiting here this week, Mr. Uren said the output of steel rod for nail manufacture is still short. A lot of it, he said, is needed for fence wire and other important work.

The Dominion Government is examining submissions from major steel companies for large production increases.

"If anyone in British Columbia wants to put up plans for a steel industry," he said, "they will be taken under advisement too."

CHECK-CASHING HITS RECORD PACE

OTTAWA, Jan. 26 (CP) — Checks cashed against individual accounts during 1948 exceeded all previous years at $80,697,448,000 compared with $74,498,093,000 in 1947, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

TRIPLES PULP EXPORT

MONTREAL, Jan. 26 (CP) — Despite a world shortage of the raw materials for woodpulp, Canada last year was able to triple her pre-war exports of chemical pulp to the United States and the United Kingdom, F. G. Robinson, Chairman of the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association's chemical pulp section, said in his annual report today.

JUDGE SPENDS NIGHT IN JAIL

SHERMAN, Tex., Jan. 26 (AP)—A judge and county attorney slept in jail here last night—thanks to the weather.

The men were unable to reach their homes because of an ice storm. In one cell, Judge W. C. Dowdy of 59th District Court slumbered and in another cell was County Attorney Hal Rawlins of Denison.

Perlite Processing Plant for Calgary

CALGARY, Jan. 26 (CP)—A $100,000 plant will be constructed here within the next six months to process perlite for use in mixing with cement, Western Gypsum Ltd., of Calgary officials said today.

The plant will be the first of its kind to open in Canada, officials said. A large deposit of perlite, a volcanic lava, was found in Western British Columbia recently. The lava is a grey, glassy substance in appearance. Officials said a plant is being erected in B.C. to quarry the lava.

SURVEY SHOWS SOME PRICES DOWN IN U. S.

NEW YORK, Jan. 26 (AP)—The cost of seven staple food items in 13 cities across the United States has dropped an average of 9.7 per cent from the level of a year ago, an Associated Press survey showed today.

Women's cotton house dresses are down an average of 24.5 per cent and their nylon stockings are 15.3 per cent under the retail prices of a year ago.

The men are paying about 7.5 per cent less for shirts but men's and women's shoes and men's suits cost about the same as they did in January, 1948.

Those are overall figures for the entire list of items in all 13 cities.

MILK HIGHER

A quart of milk was the only one of the staple food items that was higher priced generally.

The survey was based on the current retail price of these seven staple food items—a loaf of bread, a dozen best grade eggs, a pound of top grade butter, a quart of milk, a pound of pork loin, a pound of leg of lamb and a pound of chopped steak.

And in This Corner—

VANCOUVER, Jan. 26 (CP)—Did you ever hear the one about the two Irishmen, Reilly and Riley?

Reilly (John, of Victoria) left his hotel room here without his bag. He asked a friend to pick it up.

The friend got a bag belonging to Riley, another guest in the hotel. Then Reilly (the two-bag one) returned with Riley's bag and picked up his own. Somehow he neglected to leave the other.

The present score: Reilly, two bags; Riley, none; the hotel man, Riley—on his neck.

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 26 (AP)—A dozen boys at West High School doffed their caps yesterday to show a new version of male hair styles. The various thatches were bright with new colors—as different as possible from their natural shades.

When school officials joined parents in protest, the boys said they couldn't change again right away. Spokesman Ronnie Beyyler explained it took five treatments to turn his own mop of black hair red.

"The dye is cast," he said.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 26 (AP)—The world was pretty topsy-turvy today for the customers of Rudolph Beckiers' grocery store.

It seems Beckiers had mentioned that world conditions are topsy-turvy these days. His wife and two daughters took him at his word and turned practically every saleable article in the store upside down.

Customers craned their necks to read the labels on boxes and cans. They tipped their heads to find the correct date on the calendar. Even before they entered the store they were greeted by upside down displays in the windows.

In reply to questions from customers the Beckiers merely said, "Everything looks all right to us." They offered gloves to customers who preferred to stand on their hands while shopping.

POSTAL CLERK SERIOUSLY INJURED WHEN PARCEL EXPLODES IN POST OFFICE

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (AP)—A bomb in a parcel post package exploded in the post office here today, injuring three employees, one seriously.

Postal Inspector A. B. Cleveland said William Harry Osborne, 29, a clerk, suffered the loss of both hands and both eyes and is not expected to live.

Less seriously injured were Paul Goodrum, 46, and Ray Cosfey, 27, mail carriers.

Cleveland said the package was addressed to Ulysses Jones, 14 Laurel Avenue. There is no such person or address, he added.

Osborne was examining the parcel, about the size of a woman's compact, when the blast occurred. The package came from an Eastern city.

Nearly every window in the post office building was shattered by the blast.

COMMONS BACKS BEVIN POLICY

LONDON, Jan. 26 (CP) — The House of Commons tonight voted endorsement of Foreign Secretary Bevin's policy on Palestine after Prime Minister Attlee announced that Britain has "accepted in principle" recognition of the new state of Israel.

The vote was 283 to 193 with 50 Labor members abstaining. It came after a day-long debate on British handling of the Palestine situation during which Bevin, in defending his policy, clashed with Conservative Leader Winston Churchill as well as several members of his own Labor Party.

OTTAWA, Jan. 26 (CP) — The Bureau of Statistics reported today that Canada had a sales balance on her international security transactions in November for the first time since July and only the fourth time in the last two years.

Net sales to all countries in the month amounted to $1,600,000, with sales at $21,800,000 and purchases at $20,200,000. Transactions with all countries in the first 11 months of 1948 resulted in net purchases of $17,200,000, compared with net purchases of $13,900,000 in the same period of 1947 and net sales of $137,400,000 in the first 11 months of 1946.

The sales balance in November was due for the most part to an excess of $1,500,000 in purchases by the United Kingdom over sales to that country.

Ice Closes Plants, Halts Steamer

VANCOUVER, Jan. 26 (CP)—The cold wave has crippled plants along the Fraser River, now ice-laden.

The big plywood plant of H. R. MacMillan Ltd., was closed today because of frost in boom logs. The plant employed 700 workers.

At other plants dynamite was used to blast the logs free of ice as tugs battled to keep docks open.

The cold weather not only crippled the mills but a New Westminster brewery shutdown. Brewery officials said cold weather reduced the market for beer.

The cold eased today, but not sufficiently to aid, and a low of 26 above was forecast for notght. above was forecast for tonight.

Snow was general over the British Columbia mainland during the day.

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C., Jan. 26—(CP) — For the scond time this Winter, ice conditions at the head of Portland Canal prevented the steamer Camosun from making her weekly call at the mining camp of Stewart.

The Camosun was able to get no closer than three miles distance from the Stewart wharf, Capt. John Boden having to break ice that far before giving up the attempt.

Two weeks ago the Camosun was unable to make Stewart, but on that occasion it was possible to launch a lifeboat and reach the dock at nearby Hyder, Alaska, with passengers, mail and essential goods. The ice this week was so much thicker that this was impossible.

Controller Allan Lamport said some citizens were so alarmed they feared to walk the streets at night. He was prepared to organize vigilantes—patrols of citizens in each neighborhood to halt the outbreaks of violence.

U. S. Steel News Sets Off Buying

NEW YORK, Jan. 26 (AP) — U.S. steel common stock was the toast of today's market.

Orders to buy streamed into the exchange and rased the price 4⅝ points to 77½. The buying rush was touched off by news that directors had voted a special $1 common dividend and recommended to stockholders a proposal to split the stock on the basis of three shares for one. In addition, the company reported the largest earnings in 1948 since 1929.

Interest in big steel appeared to spread to other steel stocks. The balance of the market, though, turned in a sloppy performance.

While leading steels moved up fractions to around 3 points, other key issues showed a majority of losses running to above a point.

The main body of stock tried to follow the steels during the morning but couldn't make a go of it.

The Steel Company's announcement yesterday frankly flabbergasted most of the financial district. The news itself was not too great a surprise although it was generally agreed that the size of the special dividend, and the amount of fourth quarter earnings, veered on the generous size. A special and split-up have been high on Wall Street's rumor list for months but few anticipated that Steel directors would choose Tuesday to act.

Assistant Public Health Engineer

VICTORIA, Jan. 26 (CP)—Norman J. Goode, formerly District Sanitary Engineer for Saskatchewan in the Public Health Engineering Division of the National Health and Welfare Division, has been appointed Assistant Public Health Engineer in the Provincial Health and Welfare Department's Public Health Engineering Division, it was announced today.

The Provincial Health and Welfare Department announced this in a statement which said that expansion of public health engineering services in B. C. had been made possible under a project submitted by the Provincial Health Department and approved by National Health and Welfare Minister Paul Martin.

An engineering graduate of the University of British Columbia, Mr. Goode before his Federal appointment served in the Canadian Army for three years, and saw action in the European theatre. He was also employed as a hydrometric engineer in the Dominion Water and Power Bureau at Vancouver before enlistment.

During 1948 the Provincial Health Department reviewed and approved plans submitted by local communities for about $2,000,000 worth of water works construction and more than $2,000,000 worth of sewerage works.

The Eiffel Tower in Paris was erected by the engineer Alexandre Gustave Eiffel as a feature of the Paris Exposition in 1889.

Growers To Ask Grand Forks To Enter Certified Seed Control Area

GRAND FORKS, B.C., Jan. 26—Members of the "Grand Forks Certified Seed Control Area"—the first seed potato control area in the Dominion of Canada — at their primary annual meeting here elected Jack M. Markell, Pieter Tjebbes and John Sookochoff committee members.

The meeting, under the chairmanship of Pieter Tjebbes, renowned champion potato rancher saw J. F. Carmichael demonstrate the proper cutting of seed potatoes. The District Agriculturist, who is Secretary of the organization, cut the potatoes for detection of subcutaneous diseases and lectured briefly on cutting and the disinfection of knives.

It was resolved to include the blossom-free strain of "Early Epicure" potatoes in the variety for 1949.

Foremost topic dealt with was the matter of bringing the City district of Grand Forks into the control area.

It was pointed out that, as long as the City gardens were not taken in, any potato blight originating in the uncontrolled spots could infest the whole district. A motion was carried to have the committee undertake the preparatory steps to remedy the "precarious" situation.

Considering the economic importance of the potato industry to Grand Forks, which exported 69 carloads of seed potatoes to Washington alone in 1948, confidence was expressed the meeting that every garden owner of the City would cooperate.

Interested seed potato growers sat down to an informal luncheon and a "share what you know" session after the meeting.

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Hold onto your hats—here comes our first "10 best" list of the year.

The conductor is Betty Hutton and she is picking the 10 men with the most sex-appeal.

"All great men in any field have sex appeal," she explained, "they don't have to be actors."

Here are Betty's selections and comments:

Winston Churchill: "I never met him, but he has great appeal in his voice. It's not exactly sexy, but he has a command that makes women stop and listen."

FREE AND EASY

Bing Crosby: "He's not an actor. He does everything the way he plays golf—free and easy."

Gen. George Marshall: "His integrity appeals to me."

Jack Benny. "He's brilliant and a big-hearted guy."

Montgomery Clift and John Lund. "They kill me."

Producer Buddy DeSylva. "He knows more about show business than any man I know."

Gen. Ike Eisenhower. "He's a solid guy."

For her other two choices, Betty picked her doctor and her husband.

Hope for Asiatic Bloc Joining Up With Democracies Discussed

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Associated Press News Analyst

A century hence historians will, I suspect, remark that in the month of January, 1949, Asia produced two events which changed the course of world affairs.

The reference, of course, is to the collapse of Nationalist China before the Red Rebellion, and to the birth of an association of Oriental countries under leadership of India.

Viewing these developments at close range it appears the two may be the fuel which will heat the melting pot of Asiatic destiny. And that's a matter of vast concern to the Western world.

Take the case of China, with a population which is close to one-quarter that of the whole world: Its Nationalist Government, which had been accorded the ranking of world power and was one of the Big Five, has collapsed. Chinese Communism, which is working hand-in-glove with Moscow, seems about to take over control.

Whether Communism can dominate all China remains to be seen. It's a gigantic task. Communist success would mean that China had become a Russian base from which to conduct the Communist revolution in the rest of Asia.

GREAT MENACE

There could be no greater menace to world peace—no greater challenge to the Western Democracies.

By a curious twist of fate we have the coincidence of the parley of Asiatic countries in New Delhi. Fifteen attended this meeting at the invitation of Prime Minister Nehru of the Dominion of India, and four other states sent observers.

This bloc comprises countries representing more than half the population of the globe. Where is it going to stand as regards the Communist world revolution? What will be its attitude towards Russian domination of China?

I believe there are grounds for hope that this bloc will work with the Western world — provided the Western world will let it.

The primary purpose of the Association formed in New Delhi is to work for the elimination of Imperialism from the Orient. Nehru has served notice that the days of colonization by Western powers in the Far East are drawing to a close.

HOPE FOR WEST

The Asiatic peoples are Nationalist minded, and therein lies the hope of the Western world, as I see it.

The Asiatic bloc either is going to join hands with the Communists or is going to fight them. There can be no half-way business with Communism, as the Western world has found to its cost.

But Communism is the antithesis of Nationalism.

So it strikes me that if the whole Western world subscribes to the principle of self-determination for all, we shall have the Asiatic bloc with us in the fight against Communism. If the bloc should swing into the Red camp— then heaven help us.

Submit Plan for Covering Land, Water Resources

SASKATOON, Jan. 26 (CP)—The lack of an adequate and integrated Government policy covering land and water resources now is recognized as a growing menace to the welfare of farmers and to the whole national economy, and "must become a matter of national concern," Dr. R. D. Sinclair, President of the Agricultural Institute of Canada, said today.

The Agricultural Institute has recommended a basic plan of action which already has been presented to Federal and to Provincial authorities, said Dr. Sinclair, Dean of Agriculture at the University of Alberta, Edmonton.

The plan proposes the immediate establishment of a national policy on soil and water conservation and land use, and passage of the necessary Federal legislation, he said in an address to the Canadian Federation of Agriculture.

Under the plan a national council with Federal and Provincial Governments represented and working with a Federal co-ordinator, would be empowered to implement programs across Canada in accordance with the need.

The Institute emphasized that Departments of Agriculture should be responsible for the custody and conservation of land and water resources available for agricultural purposes.

It asked provinces to provide such legislation, aid and guidance to municipalities and farmers as would enable them to combat these problems effectively, and recommended that existing Federal and Provincial agriculture services carry out the program of action.

Two More Liberals Named to Senate

OTTAWA, Jan. 26 (CP) — Prime Minister St. Laurent today added two more prominent Liberal Party workers to the Government's majority in the Senate.

He announced appointment of John Caswell Davis of St. Boniface, Man., and Thomas H. Wood of Regina, a former photographic supplies dealer and long-time financial adviser to the Liberal Party in Saskatchewan.

Mr. Davis, a native of Quebec's Eastern Townships, is head of a Winnipeg engineering firm and a former President of the Manitoba Liberal Association.

Last night, at the banquet of the National Liberal Federation, Mr. St. Laurent announced appointment to the Senate of J. Gordon Fogo, Federation President, and a native of Halifax.

These appointments bring the Liberal group in the Upper Chamber to 67. There are 15 Progressive Conservatives, and 14 vacancies.

To Test Wall Construction for Winter Homes

By FORBES RHUDE

Canadian Press Business Editor

Saskatoon may expect a bit of Winter and a spot of Summer at the same time.

They'll be side by side, 40 below zero and 80 to 100 above.

However, they will be felt only by a section of wall, seven by eight feet, and it is all part of housing study being carried on by the Division of Building Research, National Research Council, across the country.

R. F. Leggett, Director, told about it in an address to the Canadian Construction Association.

"The matter of wall construction appears to be one of special importance in Canada," he said, "in view of our extreme climatic variations during the Winter when we have high temperatures and relative humidities inside our homes, with extremely low temperatures and humidities outside.

"These extreme conditions set up a large water vapor pressure gradient from inside to outside."

Therefore the experiment at Saskatoon, which should be in operation in early Summer, and is only one case cited by Mr. Leggett. Ottawa has two test houses, for instance, with different types of insulation.

The Division of Building's first laboratory is to be installed at Saskatoon as the first step in the development of a Prairie Regional Station, in close association with the Universities of Saskatchewan, Alberta and Manitoba.

WORK IN B. C.

"We hope also to carry out some work in British Columbia during 1949, and first steps have already been taken towards the development of work in the Maritime Provinces and at Churchill.

"Closely associated with wall problems is that of deterioration of paint." One place where this is being investigated is in Vancouver.

Other matters being studied include possible building of houses on flat concrete-slab foundations without basements; deterioration of mortar joints; heating; foundations and soil conditions, including problems connected with rehabilitating 240 miles of dykes in British Columbia's Fraser Valley; and "snow mechanics," important because Canada spends $20,000,000 a year in snow removal.

U. S. Snows Will Benefit Crops

DENVER, Jan. 26 (AP) — The oceans of snow over the Western United States are filled with something besides misery. The beneficial payoff comes when the icy flakes start melting.

Farmers are the principal sufferers now, but they'll be the prime beneficiaries when the snow melts, flows into streams and nourishes the far-flung plains.

Weather officials agreed that the heavy snow pack from January's blizzards in the mountains assures adequate irrigation water. And that is the life-blood of many of the West's rich farming areas.

Dry-land farming may be similarly benefited. However, winds swept some spots clear while drifting the snow against obstructions on the Prairies. The snow-barren spots may be lacking in soil moisture when Spring comes.

GRASSHOPPER DEFENCE

The heavy snows may be the start of Nature's defence against what agriculture officials said could be a catastrophic invasion of migratory grasshoppers. The areas swept by the worst storms were also the most vulnerable to the crop-destroying 'hoppers. They are in Southeastern Montana, Eastern Wyoming and Colorado, and the Western parts of Nebraska and Kansas. Officials say the grasshopper threat is the worst since 1940.

Excellent water supplies, which the current storms promise, would insure strong growth of Prairie grasses and farm crops. The luxuriant growths could withstand the hungry attacks of the migratory 'hoppers without serious damage.

Along with adequate irrigation supplies for the West's farming valleys, the storms assure water this Summer for hydro-electric plants. They supply many of the West's greatest industrial centres.

Everyone Getting into Act in Chapter of U.S. Spy Hearings

By GEORGE RONALD

Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 (CP) — Fantastic is as good a word as any for the story being written by the House of Representatives' Committee on Un-American Activities.

Chapter after chapter of almost unbelievable incident has made its investigation of Communist espionage a narrative stranger than many a fiction favorite.

Everybody5s getting into the act, people say. These are some of the principals:

Whittaker Chambers, 47, a self-styled pre-war Communist courier and a senior editor of Time Magazine until his resignation last month. He charged several former State Department officials had been active in the spy ring to which he himself belonged. When one of them sued him for libel, Chambers produced copies of stolen documents from a hollowed-out pumpkin on his Maryland farm.

Elizabeth T. Bentley, 40, a former school teacher who says she, too, was a Red courier before renouncing Communism.

Alger Hiss, former State Department official, Secretary-General of the San Francisco Conference at which the United Nations Charter was drafted, President of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. Hiss denied membership in and pre-war spy "apparatus" and, when Chambers repeated the accusation outside the committee hearing room, sued for libel damages of $75,000. A Federal Grand Jury has indicted Hiss on two charges of perjury as a result of his testimony at its own spy inquiry.

Representative J. Parnell Thomas (Rep. N. J.) who, as Chairman, set the pace for the committee's investigation methods. He has since been indicted on charges that he padded the payroll of his office staff.

Dr. Edward U. Condon, chief of the Bureau of Standards, branded by the committee as "one of the weakest links" in atomic security.

He asked for and was promised—but still hasn't been given—a chance officially to refute the charge.

Lauchlin Currie, former assistant to the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, one of several officials named by Chambers and Miss Bentley as having unwittingly played into the hands of Russian spies. Currie was heard by the committee and denied the charge.

Lawrence Duggan, former State Department official who plunged to his death from a 16-storey window in downtown New York. A committee spokesman said a few hours later that Chambers had named Duggan as a member of the pre-war spy ring. Chambers denied the next day that he had made any such allegations.

DEAD COMMITTEE

President Truman, who has consistently cuffed the committee's probe as a political "red herring" and labelled the committee itself "a dead committee."

All these persons ae involved in a still-unfinished investigation for which the keynote has been raw rough publicity.

Most baffled is the public. It is difficult to gauge what the average American thinks of it all.

Representative John E. Rankin (Dem. Miss.), who submitted the committee's report at the closing of the 80th Congress Dec. 31, said:

"The committee on Un-American Activities has uncovered one of the greatest spy rings in history, one that reached into the vitals of the State Department and probably other departments of the Government, and undoubtedly carried on its treasonable espionage throughout the war . . ."

The committee phase of the investigation is suspended temporarily as the new 81st Congress makes up its mind whether and how to continue the inquiry.

Whatever the final verdict of the committee's work during the last two years' no one can deny its amazing, eye-catching characteristics.

London Letter . . .

N. Z. Buys Famed English Site

By STUART UNDERHILL

Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Jan. 26 (CP) — Few post-war real estate deals in London have caused such a flurry as the New Zealand Government's acquisition of a one-acre site on the corner of Haymarket and Pall Mall.

Front-page news stories announced the transaction, which involved the Carlton Hotel, His Majesty's Theatre and the Royal Opera Arcade, all of them rich in history.

Eventually the hotel and the arcade will be replaced by a "New Zealand House" which will accommodate officials now housed in modest quarters on the Strand. A 40-year agreement protects the present tenants of the theatre, which stands on the site of the first opera house in London, completed in 1705.

Those with Edwardian memories will shed a regretful tear for the Carlton, for then it was in its heyday. King Edward VII frequently entertained there when its chef, Escoffier, had world-wide renown.

It was bombed early in the Second World War, and has since been used by the Ministry of Food. As space becomes available, New Zealand departments will move in.

His Majesty's Theatre was built in 1893, the fourth theatre to rise on that site. Two of the previous buildings were destroyed by fire.

The Ontario and British Columbia Governments have their respective offices within a block of the site, and a few hundred yards away, on Trafalgar Square, are the buildings of Canada and South Africa. India and Australia occupy imposing premises a half-mile away at the other end of the Strand.

Canada House, a familiar sight to all Canadian visitors to London, was originally designed in 1820. It was occupied by the Union Club until bought by the Canadian Government, which moved in July, 1925.

At that time there was room for all Government departments, but in recent years officials have overflowed its offices elsewhere.

Papen Freed

NUERNBERG, Jan. 26 (AP) — Franz von Papen, the old fox of diplomacy in Hitler's Reich, was set free today by a German de-Nazification Court.

The Court reversed his previous conviction as a major Nazi offender, under which he was serving an eight-year sentence in a labor camp. It convicted him of being only an offender, the second category of Nazism.

Von Papen, 69, Hitler's former Ambassador to Austria and Turkey, has been imprisoned since the end of the war. The Court, in ordering his immediate release, held that this was enough punishment.

Will Continue War On Printing Industry

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 26—(AP) — Woodruff Randolph, President of the International Typographical Union (A.F.L.), said today the Union's "war" on the printing industry will continue in 1949.

Writing in the Typographical Journal, official I.T.U. publication, he said, "We are in a fight for our life as a craft Union, and the war will continue, and the cost will be great. A thinking, loyal membership is needed to survive."

Claims Canada Must Up Steel Output

By FORBES RHUDE

Canadian Press Business Editor

TORONTO, Jan. 26 (CP)—Canada must increase her steel production, F. K. Ashbaugh, Canadian Steel Controller, said today in an address to the Canadian Construction Association. He implied that it should be increased by more than 25 per cent.

In view of Canada's unusual growth as a manufacturing nation, he stated, her need is obvious, and the Government has indicated to producers that an increase is highly desirable.

Because of the shortage of scrap steel "increased production must be based upon facilities which will convert from iron ore into steel rather than any addition to our existing electric furnace reduction methods."

"The chief steel producers are in the process of preparing submissions to the Government . . . I am certain that, from these submissions, will come decisions upon the part of the Government, and from these decisions will follow definite action for the increased production of steel in Canada."

Canada now produces 472 pounds per person, whereas the United States produces 1126 and Great Britain 600.

"Whether an increase is justified to bring Canada's production up to the per-capita level of the United States is doubtful, but it seems evident that production should be increased to equal, at least, the per capita level of the United Kingdom," said Mr. Ashbaugh. (This would be more than 25 per cent).

He told steel-hungry industries that Canada's supply this year will be about the same as last.

Canada herself in 1948 produced the all-time high figure of 3,075,000 ingot tons—130 per cent more than in 1939—which, when translated into usable steel forms, is about 2,300,000 tons.

Mr. Ashbaugh strongly advised users of steel products, if they wish continuing supplies, to spare no effort in directing to steel mills every ton of scrap possible.

Appointments Made for Coming B. C. Legislature

VICTORIA, Jan. 26 (CP)—Premier Byron Johnson's office today announced several appointments for the forthcoming session of the Legislative Assembly, including the mover and seconder of the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne.

The 1949 session of the Legislature will begin Feb. 8.

Allan James McDonnell, Conservative Coalition Member of the Legislature for Vancouver Centre, will move, and Arthur James Richard Ash, Liberal Coalition Member for Saanich, will second the traditional resolution thanking His Honor the Lieutenant Governor for his gracious speech at the opening of the Legislature.

William Berkeley Monetith of Victoria has been appointed Law Clerk to succeed Ernest Cambourne McIntyre, who resigned that position recently.

Earlier it had ben announced that Edwin Keary Debeck had been appointed Clerk of the House to fill the vacancy created by the death of Robert Stuart Yates.

Mr. Johnson's office also announced that Charles William Morrow, Liberal Coalitionist for North Okanagan, has been appointed Liberal Whip.

During the 1948 session Mr. Morrow served as acting Liberal Whip during the absence because of illness of J. L. Webster, Member for Rossland-Trail. Mr. Webster later succumbed to his illness.

For Parents

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

Young Baby Always Inventing New Sounds, Should Record Early Notes

Normally, the infant may use at his sound-making play before he is eight or ten months old, practically all the sounds he will ever use. It is fun for a parent to observe the new sounds a baby makes as they appear for the first time. Still more fun to record the time of the appearance of each new sound and to look over the record later, especially after his speech has developed.

I recorded thousands of notes in the early development of vocal sounds in our own children during their early months, and have checked on many of these notes on some of my grandchildren. My notes show no exceptions to the rule that the baby always seemed to be happy when inventing new sounds. Nor do I recall any instance when a youngster chose to say a word after me, if asked to do so, when he was out of sorts. While angry, the infant may whine and cry with a few simple old sounds, but not new ones. Nor is he likely to make a new motor coordination nor to invent with things and words when vexed. Comfortableness, goodnaturedness and happiness seem to be normal states for learning by an infant.

BABY TALK

Some little children have trouble making certain sounds. If the child does not speak rather distinctly by the time he enters school, he is greatly handicapped. Infantile speech by a young child causes older children and adults to respond to him as if he were much younger than he really is, thereby hampering his personality growth.

A mother writes: "My youngest child (and only son) four years old cannot speak plainly yet. He "talks" a lot and sings—he can carry a tune, too—but we have to sort of guess what the words are. I have had our doctor examine him. He has no deformties of the mouth or throat and his ears are O.K. Nearly all his sounds he turns into n's, such as 'Num nere, Mommy, me no noo numping," for "Come here, Mommy, me show you something." He will hold up two fingers and say, "Two pies" quite plainly, but if we ask him what is his name (which is Joe) he will answer, "Noe." He also pronounces toe "noe." He starts such words as egg and eye with hard 'g' sound.

"We help him all we can, trying to show him how to form the words with his lips and tongue, but we never scold him as we believe he can't help it. When he tells us something, we repeat it after him slowly and distinctly and then tell him to say it again, and he does, but it is just as he said it before. We read to him, simple rhymes mostly. We would take him to another doctor, but he is so shy he would not speak for him at all."

IS HEARING GOOD?

In part, I wrote this mother about in this way. Until he grows less shy you might check roughly yourself on his hearing. A teacher of nursery school or kindergarten might do it better and help that child gain more social courage and give him good speech exercise. His sisters, being older, might do most for him by talking much with him and reading often to him, getting him to play with other children and protecting him from being teased and ridiculed.

Your ways seem to be good. Go on reading as long and often to him as he will listen. Select some rhymes which contain the sounds hard for him. Don't ask him to say them back. Just repeat them over and over. Also sing some lullabies to him. Talk often to him as you do things for him and with him. Please do not press corrective measures. The chances are your efforts have annoyed him. If he does not show some gains after a month or two, find a specialist who deals with speech of young children. The psychology department of your nearest college or university would be glad to help you locate such an expert.

Love Problems

By JANE ATKINSON

Mother's Jealousy of Daughter Not Uncommon Home Breaker

A curious case of competition between a mother and her daughter for the father's affection is present in a letter written by a lonely wife who says:

"My problem is two-fold. My older daughter is her father's first love. He takes her out to shows, dinners and parties, and I am always left home alone. He says he won't go out with me on Sundays or otherwise, using our two-year-old baby as an excuse. We have no car and can't afford one.

"I do my own housework without any help, and we owe money on the small house we own and cannot afford a maid. Many times I feel like taking the baby and leaving, and letting my husband live with this other daughter. I am very lonely and very blue at times. Could you suggest anything?"

I think the first thing this wife should do is to analyze herself and see if she can find any way in which she is failing as a congenial companion to her husband. Let her think back to their courtship and try to figure out what the things were about her that attracted the young man who wanted her for a wife. Any young man in love repeatedly tells the girl of his heart about the charms she has for him. He tells her how pretty she is, how much he likes the way she does her hair; he mentions her sunny disposition and happy ways, her gayety and good sportsmanship. In other words, she should try to remember what seemed to be the reasons why her husband enjoyed being with her.

SELF-EXAMINATION

Once her memory has called up these qualities on which her husband complimented her when he was courting her, she can examine herself on whether or not she has let herself go on some of these points. Has that sunny disposition soured a little, so that she nags instead of being gay and pleasant? Has she slumped a bit in care of her appearance? Does she complain about all the work she has to do around the house and in the care of the children so that she never has anything really interesting to talk about? Does she pick on her husband instead of praising him, as no doubt she paised him while they were still young people in love?

All these are things about which she can do a lot, and none of them costs money, except perhaps, improving her appearance, which she may feel would be helped by new clothes and beauty shop visits that she can't afford. But even though she hasn't the money for the things she would like, there's nothing to prevent her from keeping herself clean, neat and as attractive as a pretty hair-do and a few good dime store cosmetics can make her.

But more important than any*thing else in making any man want* his wife's company is for her to be invariably cheerful and happy, and for her to make him feel that she is proud of him. What I gather from this wife's letter is that, now, she tries to make her husband feel that he ought to take her out; that it's a duy and an obligation. Such an approach is never going to get her anywhere. She must first make herself such a good sport and fine companion that he will want to take her out.

Sergt. Robert E. Hodgekiss, pictured above, was in charge of a C-82 flying boxcar with a cargo of 36 paratroopers of the 82nd Airborne Division, when the plane developed trouble while on a training run at Layetteville, N. C. Hodgekiss lost no time in ordering his men to bail out. After seeing every one of his charges hit the silk in safety, Hodgekiss rode the stricken plane down to its crash landing—from which he was lucky enough to walk away. Pilot and co-pilot also survived the crash, but three other crewmen died.

The Doctor

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D

Amateur Diagnosis Confused by Similar Symptoms, Lung Diseases

When something happens to the lungs people are quite likely to call the condition by many different names and take the advice of some well-meaning friends or neighbors; most often they treat themselves for some wrong condition.

There are two conditions affecting the respiratory tract which are difficult to tell apart, even for doctors. These are so-called primary atypical or virus pneumonia and influenza.

SIMILAR SYMPTOMS

For example, headache, chills and a feeling of sickness occur at the onset of these two diseases. A cough is almost always present, but while it is usually severe in atypical pneumonia, it is seldom distressing in influenza. The patient is more likely to cough up fluid material in atypical pneumonia than he is in influenza. Otherwise, the difference, in the early stages of these diseases, is slight. Both of these disorders are probably due to an infection with a virus.

Examination of the patient also reveals about the same features in the two diseases. There is fever, some congestion in the nose, and a mild sore throat in both disorders. Abnormal sounds during breathing, called rales, occur in both conditions. Harsh or rough breathing sounds are heard in more than two-thirds of the patients with atypical pneumonia, and in only about one-tenth of the patients with influenza. Slowing down of the heart rate is more pronounced with the atypical pneumonia.

X-ray evidence of congestion in the lungs is the principal feature which distinguishes the atypical pneumonia from influenza. This congestion is present for from five to eighteen days after the onset of the disease and gradually clears up when the temperature drops to normal.

There are other conditions which may closely resemble atypical pneumonia. These include a disorder known as Q fever, as well as pneumonia produced by the pneumococcus germs. Influenza is distinguished from ordinary colds and sinus infections, by the symptoms.

REST IN BED

The treatment for either atypical pneumonia or influenza includes rest in bed, relief of the symptoms by such means as the doctor may prescribe, and the giving of plenty of fluids and the proper diet.

It has not been found that such preparations as penicillin or the sulfonamide drugs have any effect on these conditions. However, if some secondary infection with germs occurs, the sulfonamides or penicillin are usually given and, as a rule, will stop these complications.

When such symptoms as fever, cough, chills, or headache occur, a thorough study by a physician is necessary to determine what disease is present so that the proper treatment may be instituted, if the trouble is due to atypical pneumonia.

M. L. MacFarlane Heads Cranbrook School District

CRANBROOK, B. C., Jan. 26—M. L. MacFarlane, graduate of Cranbrook schools, and School Trustee for five years, has been chosen by the Cranbrook District School Board as its new Chairman, succeeding J. E. Webster, who retired from the Board in December. The meeting reelected Dr. W. A. Fergie as Vice Chairman.

A report on the highly constructive program in a Provincial meeting at Victoria recently of School Board secretaries and inspectors from all but two of the Province's School Districts was given by S. R. W. Horwood, Cranbrook Secretary.

No new action on Cranbrook's new $400,000 school was taken, but revised plans of the building were examined. The Board authorized payment of general accounts totalling $2,786.84.

Bull Turns Sissy On Icy Hill

PRINCETON, Mo., Jan. 26 (AP)—Want to know how to keep sheep from slipping in icy weather?

Put socks on them.

Farmer Bill Cox found some of his sheep stranded in a ditch. He put men's work socks on them, permitting them to climb up the icy slope.

Joe Jenkins, another farmer, reported his bull slid down a long hill—sitting down.

"He came from Arkansas last Summer," said Mrs. Jenkins, "and he's not used to all the ice."

The bull is in the barn now—and he won't get out.

Kimberley Library Board Elected

KIMBERLEY, B. C., Jan. 26—Mrs. Chester Roberts, Mrs. Fred Walker, Mrs. Archie Chisholm, Fred Walton and C. I. Taylor were elected to serve on the Kimberley Public Library Association Board for 1949 at the Association's annual meeting.

Len Sambell was reappointed Secretary-Treasurer. C. I. Taylor, Chairman of the meeting, in his annual report stated that the Library opened in the Mark Creek Store March 13, 1948. The Management Committee under the direction of Mrs. Chester Roberts had done excellent work, he stated. The success of the Library during the past nine months was due in many ways to the ladies who acted as librarians. Since all the work connected with the Library had been on a voluntary basis, the Board had been able to spend more money on book stocks. Fred Walton, Finance Committee Chairman, ably handled the finances.

Three grants had been received by the Library, one from the Provincial Government Department of Education, amounting to $500; another from the Kimberley and District Community Chest, of $500; and a third from the Parks Board of Kimberley, of $920. Several generous donations of books had also been received. It was decided to reduce the 1949 fees for adults. Children's membership remains free.

During 1948 adult membership was 216 and children's 508. At present there are 705 adult fiction books in the Library, 700 adult non-fiction and 502 children's and teen-agers' books. The monthly average of books in circulation was 840.

The amount of $1451.35 was spent on books during 1948, and $141.47 on miscellaneous library items.

Natal to Start Dealing With Transients

NATAL, B. C., Jan. 26—The Natal Police Detachment, under Constable W. H. McLeod and Assistant Constable J. A. Robertson, are making it known that all transients caught in and around Natal and Michel will be dealt with accordingly. The latest transient to be dealt with was Hector Usenault, 30, transient, of no fixed abode, who was sentenced to three months with hard labor for theft of $25. The transient was sentenced by Magistrate Marshall of Fernie.

Previously transients and strange persons were not bothered with, as it was thought that all were in hopes of seeking employment at the mines, but after a few reports it was decided to act at once and put the law into effect.

The Cardinal Mindszenty Case

In Canada (or anywhere else in the British Commonwealth of Nations) any citizen who is arrested is first informed that he is under arrest and what the charge is; he is also asked if he has anything to say, but told that he is not bound to say anything.

He is warned by the policeman in the following manner:

"You must have nothing to hope from any promise or favor; nothing to fear from any threat which may be held out to you to induce you to any admission or confession of guilt—and whatever you now say may be given in evidence at your trial."

Communist courts, such as those in Hungary, apparently stop at nothing to obtain a confession of guilt—in order that the hapless victim may be "legally" executed.

Cardinal Mindszenty has "confessed" after collapsing from five days of almost uninterrupted questioning, the intervals no doubt occasioned when it became necessary to give him "refreshment pills" so that he might remain upon his feet. Such questioning sessions are usually carried on under bright lights, the victim standing, the questions being fired at him continuously by interrogators who work in shifts—a refined form of torture if ever one were devised.

Now that the Cardinal has "confessed" his so-called trial will be carried out, with his death warrant practically signed before he ever steps into the dock. It is believed that the man will be given the will-destroying drug actedron so that he will have no will or wish to defend himself.

The method is an especially evil extension of the ill-odored "third degree" which was at one time frequently employed to force confessions from both the innocent and the guilty by some American police officers.

It has been legally abolished in British courts since the dark ages of the torture rack and screw.

Today every British Judge will almost automatically exclude from a court hearing any evidence which is open to suspicion of having been obtained by any process of duress.

Behind the Iron Curtain, the whole tortuous farce of the Cardinal Mindszenty case is being carried on to confuse the rest of the world—the democratic audience.

Communist "justice", like the rest of their placations, is nothing more than a blind placed before the eyes of the democratic nations to hide Communistic tyranny.

A later dispatch published yesterday quotes the Hungarian Foreign Office as saying that it is "utterly ridiculous" that drugs were administered to Cardinal Mindszenty.

From a Foreign Office whose admitted international policy is to lie when it thinks a lie would be profitable, the statement may be taken for what it is worth.

The Foreign Office further states that octedron (or actedron) is the same thing as bensadrine, and "leaves no after effects." It would be a bold and reckless doctor who would swear to such a statement.

It is evident that something was used on the Cardinal.

Cheaper Paper From Straw Pulp Development

CLEVELAND (AP)—Kinsley Chemical Co. reports it has developed a method for manufacture of paper entirely from straw instead of wood pulp.

The process was demonstrated recently for the first time on a commercial basis at Chemical Paper Mfg. Co. of Holyoke, Mass., with a run of several tons of newsprint.

H. Lee Kingsley, President of the Cleveland Company, emphasizes that the new straw paper is not a substitute.

"Straw pulp is a new source for fine paper fibre," he declares. He reports plants built to use the process—and he says it calls for standard equipment—can turn out paper to sell 40 to 60 per cent below wood pulp paper.

"For instance," he says, "straw newsprint would cost about $65 a ton compared with the current price of around $100 for wood pulp newsprint, and straw cigarette paper would sell for $120 to $130 a ton, against $480."

DENTURES UNLIMITED

Dentures, like spectacles, are in great demand under the National Health Service, but the regulations will hardly permit of anyone collecting such aids wholesale as did Henry Labouchere. "Labby" was extremely fussy about his artificial teeth, and acquired set after set, which he would wear in turn, without ever, apparently, finding any set which gave him complete satisfaction. He went on trying until the end of his life, and at his death was found to possess no less than 120 sets, some almost "as new".—Manchester Guardian.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Letters may be published over a nom de plume, but the actual name of the writer must be given to the Editor as evidence of good faith. Anonymous letters go in the waste paper basket.

Divine Purpose No. 2

To the Editor:

Sir—God does move "in a mysterious way". My first letter of this series was largely devoted to showing how human slavery and war and capitalism have been used by God as absolutely necessary steps in His desperate efforts to move humanity upward, toward cooperation with Himself, by lowly forms of cooperation amongst themselves. It took humanity thousands of mistakes and the imagination of thousands of demons and false gods before Abraham had wondered his way into the conception of one God and therefore one Universe. To begin to grasp this fact was the most successful piece of wondering that humanity has ever accomplished, and the most fruitful in results for humanity.

Far later on, Charles Darwin wondered his way into the mysteries of evolution, which has been another masterpiece of useful wondering. As usual all new wonderings were fiercely attacked by actually the best wonderers that mankind had produced hitherto. But a great leader and teacher like Stanley Jones is possible in our day because of that intense wondering that Darwin started so unexpectedly.

War also has been a necessity much used of God in human uplift. In even early tribal warfare the necessity of having a leader and of giving some chief implicit obedience became apparent. Strongly individualistic tribes were wiped out by the tribes who sank their differences in planning and carrying out their campaigns. Historians credit the capacity of the solid and rather stolid Romans for united action as the quality which enabled them to conquer the brilliant and warlike Greeks. Mankind found that cooperation was essential to survival.

Americans who boasted a few years ago of their individualism and of being "isolationists" are rapidly learning their mistakes, as airplanes and swift ships make us all close neighbors. The capacity to cooperate has become the all-important capacity to survive. The capacity to fight is steadily losing its significance for nations; war will soon become as ridiculous between nations as fighting duels between quarrelsome gentlemen has become.

This does not mean that war between nations is over, but that it is on its way out. The "class war" is a far more fundamental matter, and the struggle between "the Haves and the Have-nots" will grow more and more intense. It is the really dividing issue for modern society, and by no means ridiculous or out of date, nor can it become so. Let us seek the causes of "this fight to the death" which seems so absurd to the average politician and so wicked to many others. To understand it, we must try to understand what capitalism has done to the working class, and why it has become so much hated that in every country it is being fiercely challenged by people who have quite decent educations and fairly secure positions.

Our politicians point to the high standards of living achieved under capitalism, especially upon this Continent. What more could well-fed and comfortably-house hogs require? The trouble is that mankind are not hogs, even if they often act in a hoggish fashion. "Man cannot live by bread alone," and our wonderfully productive machinery and modern science, which so nearly reduces a large proportion of the workers to little cogs in the vast machinery, has taken very much of the joy out of work. Manufacturing tiny parts which will be assembled in some distant machine shop, or the endless making of parts for machines in which those working have no especial interest, may be most efficient, and yet far less sufficient, to those engaged in such monotonous jobs, than far less efficient work, done under far worse physical conditions, simply because the worker has a far more complete grasp of the object of each move that he makes and of what he is doing.

It has been my very good fortune to have enjoyed doing a lot of hard, inefficient work; clearing land, etc. Sometimes in great heat, and often in nasty, cold weather. But I was my own boss, though a very dreamy manager and clumsy workman. Still, I attained happiness, and generally friendly relations and companionship with those who worked with me.

Successful capitalism inevitably drives wedges between the workers and the management, and still more between "the hands" and the shareholders, which no amount of charity can offset.

Peace is not to be won cheaply, or by high wages wrung by strikes from reluctant employers and frightened politicians. Taking over industries by the State in itself has no effect. The State may give better or worse management (too often worse). Our industries must pass to the ownership and management of all the workers in the industry, with central, national and international councils, who will effect the very necessary coordination of all industry. The nation does very much for every citizen. It has therefore the right and the duty to require of each and every citizen an honest attempt to return in full, useful work to pay for our board and lodging. What is useful work? "By their fruits ye shall know them," said the Divine Teacher.

Thanking you for many past favors, Mr. Editor.

Yours for Peace through Justice.

Throne Speech Laden With Bright Forecasts

Viscount Stresses Importance of Western Union, Prosperity in Canada

OTTAWA, Jan. 26 (CP). — Text of Speech from the Throne, read at the opening of Parliament by Viscount Alexander, Governor-General:

Honorable Members of the Senate:

Members of the House of Commons:

The first concern of Government in world affairs is to ensure peace and security. To this end, Canada continues to support the principles of the United Nations Charter. Our foreign policy is based on the realities and dangers of the existing situation. One of these is the Communist menace. Until the United Nations are able to provide an adequate guarantee of peace and security, peace-loving nations will also be obliged to seek security by combining their strength. The North Atlantic nations, including Canada, are negotiating a security pact. The treaty when concluded will be laid before you for approval. The North Atlantic Treaty will supplement the Treaty of Mutual Guarantee signed by the Western European nations at Brussels last year. Such regional arrangements are provided for in the United Nations Charter.

RESISTANCE GREATER

Despite unsettled conditions and the disruptive activities of international Communism, the nations of Western Europe are making progress toward recovery. Aid from North America is contributing substantially to the restoration of economic activity, thereby increasing their ability to resist internal and external aggression.

At home we have been blessed with good crops. Industrial expansion is taking place at an unprecedented rate. There have been few differences between employers and employees leading to stoppages in work. Inflationary pressures are less pronounced. Employment is at higher levels than ever before. In striking contrast with Communist countries, the free economy of our country is demonstrating its ability to provide for all a high standard of living, social justice and individual freedom. It is the view of my ministers that a steady advance toward the goal of social justice for all is an effective safeguard against the influence of subversive doctrines.

NEWFOUNDLAND AGREEMENT

The people of Newfoundland, by a majority vote in a referendum, expressed their desire to enter Confederation. The precise terms of union were subsequently negotiated with an authorized delegation from Newfoundland. You will be asked without delay to approve the agreement, signed on December 11, and to make provision for the entry of Newfoundland as a province of Canada on March 31. I am confident the union will be of mutual advantage to Newfoundland and Canada.

Amendments to the Supreme Court Act to make the Supreme Court of Canada the court of last resort for Canada will be submitted for your consideration.

You will be asked to approve, subject to the approval of the United States authorities, the agreement concluded in 1941 for the development of navigation and power in the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Basin.

You will be asked to make the further legislative provision necessary to implement the agreements for the sale of agricultural products to the United Kingdom.

With a view to assisting in the restoration of world trade, so vital to general security and our own prosperity, Canada participated in formulating the charter for the international trade organization and the general agreement on tarrifs and trade, which will be submitted for your approval. Within the next few months Canada will engage in further negotiations with 13 other countries to broaden the scope of the tariff concessions which we obtained at Geneva in 1947. The Government will continue to press vigorously for the lowering of tariff and other barriers and, as quickly as possible, the expansion of trade on a multilateral basis.

Meanwhile the Government is seeking to remove specific obstacles to the continued sales of Canadian products in our traditional export markets, and to that end is cooperating closely with the nations concerned in the implementation of the European Recory Program.

The continuing committee established by the Governments of Canada and the United Kingdom to review the progress of trade between the two countries is presently meeting in London.

In the interests of both domestic and foreign trade, legislation will be introduced with the object of promoting extensive and adequately safeguarded use of the national trade mark "Canada Standard" associated with goods which conform to prescribed standards, and of requiring proper labelling of goods to prevent deception of the public.

TRADE CONTROL

Improvement in our United States dollar position has resulted in the removal of certain restrictions imposed in November, 1947. Further restrictions will be removed as the position improves. So long as trading and financial conditions remain unstable, a degree of control over foreign exchange will be required. You will, accordingly, be asked to extend the Foreign Exchange Control Act for a further period.

The report of the Royal Commission on Prices will be laid before you as soon as it has been submitted to the Government.

Your approval will also be sought for legislation to continue in force steel control and a limited number of price controls, including control over the rental of housing accommodation.

You will be asked to make legislative provision for governmental assistance by loan to the producers of basic steel for the purpose of increasing production.

The governments of the provinces have been advised that the Federal Government is prepared to discontinue rent control in any province in which the government expresses the desire to assume the jurisdiction.

The provision of housing has received and continues to receive close attention. More new housing units were provided during the last calendar year than ever before.

Your approval will be sought for the establishment of a department of reconstruction and development to continue the functions now vested in the Department of Reconstruction and Supply, including the ministerial responsibility for the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

CANADA HIGHWAY

A measure for assistance in the provision of a trans-continental highway will also be laid before you.

A Royal Commission has been appointed to inquire into and report upon all questions of economic policy within the jurisdiction of Parliament arising out of the operation and maintenance of national transportation. Together with the findings of the investigation by the Board of Transport Commissioners, the report of the Royal Commission should furnish Parliament and the Government with the basis for a sound transportation policy.

The national health program, inaugurated by the Government last year, is receiving cooperation from all the provinces. In supplementing provincial health measures, the program has already made a contribution to the health facilities of Canada and will thereby bring increasing benefit to our people.

A bill will be introduced to broaden the scope of the Family Allowances Act, as a further instalment of the policy of the Government to provide a national standard of social security and human welfare designed to assure the greatest possible measure of social justice for all Canadians.

The organization of the armed forces to provide for unification and coordination has been pressed forward. Steady progress has been made in the recruitment and training of officers and men of the active and reserve forces, so that the Navy, Army and Air Force may be in a position to meet the defence needs of Canada as these may change from time to time.

Conditions of service in the armed forces are being further improved, and as rapidly as the results of research can be adequately tested, additional equipment is being made available. Amendments to existing legislation with respect to the armed forces will be ecommended for your consideration.

Other measures to which your attention will be directed include bills respecting forest conservation, overseas telecommunications, the control and regulation of interprovincial and international pipe lines, and assistance for the Canadian shipbuilding industry.

It is the view of my ministers that there should be an examination of the activities of agencies of the Federal Government relating to radio, films, television, the encouragement of arts and sciences, research, the preservation of our national records, a national library, museums, exhibitions, relations in these fields with international organizations, and activities generally which are designed to enrich our national life, and to increase our own consciousness of our national heritage and knowledge of Canada abroad. For this purpose, the Government intends at an early date to establish a Royal Commission.

Members of the House of Commons:

You will be asked to make the customary provision for essential services.

Prosperous conditions now prevailing are being reflected in the buoyant level of national revenues; a condition to which due consideration is being given by my ministers in the preparation of forthcoming budgetary proposals.

Honorable Members of the Senate:

Members of the House of Commons:

The birth of a son of Their Royal Highnesses Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh has been the occasion of widespread rejoicing. Happiness over the birth of the Royal prince has been tempered by regret over the indisposition of His Majesty the King. The people of Canada hope and pray for the complete recovery of the King's health.

Since the close of your last session, Mr. Mackenzie King has retired as Prime Minister. I feel it is the hope of all Canadians that Mr. King will be spared, over a long period and with less exacting responsibilities, to continue his distinguished and devoted service to Canada and the free world.

May divine providence bless your deliberations.

Skeena Snow Conditions Worst In 35 Years

PRINCE RUPERT, B. C., Jan. 26—(CP)—Worst snow conditions in 35 years in the Lower Skeena Valley West of Terrace are reported by C. A. Berner, Divisional Superintendent, Canadian National Railways, but the line is being kept open, although trains have been delayed for hours.

Drifts six feet deep piled over the tracks Tuesday as 17 inches of new snow fell within 24 hours in the Salvus and Kwinitsa area, between 40 and 50 miles East of Prince Rupert.

Snow fighting gangs, with rotary and wing plows, had to contend with two new slides—one five miles West of Kwinitsa Station and another at Salvus.

Snow, hanging high on precipitate bluffs, has menaced the railway line for two weeks or more.

SNOWS IN VANCOUVER

VANCOUVER, B. C., Jan. 26—(CP) — British Columbia's Lower Mainland, in the grip of a Wintry cold wave since Dec. 14, today had a new fall of snow.

It started snowing in Vancouver at 8:30 a.m., and within half an hour downtown streets were blanketed, adding to icy traffic hazards.

Higher temperatures were recorded during the night, with Vancouver reporting a low of 27 above, nine degrees higher than Tuesday.

Peace River Coal May Drive Engines of Future

VICTORIA, Jan. 26 (CP)—Peace River coal may drive the future locomotives of North America and open up a vast new industry for British Columbia.

J. M. Stewart, Deputy Minister of Railways, said today 500 pounds of the coal will be shipped to Columbus, Ohio, for tests in a gas turbine engine. Engineers of Bituminous Coal Research Inc. of Dunkirk, N.Y., have examined an analysis of the coal and said it "looked like the best coal known in North America" for the jet engine.

Canada Skating Champ Going To World Contest

WINNIPEG, Jan. 26 (CP) — A stenographer's life can be pretty dull and montonous, but Betty Mitchell, 20-year-old Winnipeg steno, today sounded plenty excited as she gasped into the telephone: "Yes, it's true. I'm going to skate in the world's championships in Norway."

And for the comely North American and Canadian senior women's speed skating champion, it is "the dream of my life come true."

The first inkling Betty had that she would participate in the world speed skating championships at Kongsberg, Norway, near Oslo, Feb. 12-13 came today when Percy Renger, President of the Manitoba Speed Skating Association, informed her that a department store had completed all travel arrangements for her trip.

An employee of a subsidiary of the company, Miss Mitchell hopes to take part in the Manitoba championships here Friday night before leaving this weekend for Norway.

"I've been practising practically every night, but I would like to get one meet in before I take off," the soft-spoken athlete said.

Although she prefers the middle distances, Betty, who captured her second straight North American title at Alpena, Mich., a year ago, proved she could go any distance by winning the 220 yards, the 440, the half-mile, three-quarter mile, and mile—the first clean sweep for a girl racer.

It also was the first time in the history of modern racing that a girl had been able to win the championship two years in succession.

3-1 VICTORY AT SALMO FOR NELSON MIDGETS

Salmo's midget hockey team bowed 12-1 when the Nelson Dodger Midgets journeyed to the mining town.

Play was keen, in spite of the one-sided score, and Salmo boys, short of their regular goalie, supplied plenty of competition.

The entire Dodger club, including their goalie, figured in the team's 12 goals, while Bill Bush scored Salmo's lone tally.

Nelson officials have expressed the hope that more games could be arranged with outside clubs "as it is valuable experience for both sides."

Coach Ron Nash and Mrs. Nash, F. Hufty, jr., Sam Brown, E. W. White and Trev White accompanied the team and supplied transportation.

Two Ties in Coast Hockey Games

By The Associated Press

Overtime ties seem to be a favorite dish for Northern Division, Pacific Coast Hockey League. In two games nobody won Tuesday night.

The Vancouver Canucks and the Portland Eagles put on a scoring show that wound up 5-5 after a scoreless overtime period.

The Tacoma Rockets continued their tying ways in entertaining the Fresno Falcons with a 1-1 deadlock in the first game of the Falcon's Northern Division invasion.

In the Southern Division the Oakland Oaks strengthened their hold on first place by trouncing the second place San Diego Skyhawks.

TRAIL, B.C.—The Nelson Maple Leafs jumped into an early lead with goals at three minutes and 4:45 of the first period, and coasted home from there on in as they drubbed the cellar dwelling Smoke Eaters 7-3 on Trail ice Wednesday night. The win boosted Nelson into second place in the Western International League.

The Trail club looked badly disorganized throughout and their juggled lines were no match for the speedy Leafs who took advantage of every break to storm in on the busy Scodellaro in goal. The Smokies showed signs of renewed fight during the early part of the second period and turned it on some in the third, but the best they could muster was one goal in the opening period and two in the third, against Nelson's four in the first, two in the second and one in the third.

Jack Kilpatrick opened the score at three minutes of the first from Lubeck and added another a minute and 45 seconds later on a breakaway with Vickers. Trail got one back a minute later, as Don Anderson went in on a picture passing play from Secco and Cronie, and beat Seaby cleanly.

LEAFS DOMINATE

Nelson continued to dominate the play however, and were rewarded with two more counters before the period ended. Fred Nelson scored from Hergert and Haldane at 14:07, and 46 seconds later Tatchell scored unasssisted as he shot from the corner and Scodellaro pulled the puck into the cage in an attempt to clear after stopping the shot. The Nelson scoring parade got under way again at 9:20 of the second as McLenaghan banged one in from Haldane. At 15:50 while Vickers and Corrado were sitting out high sticking penalties, Hergert scored as he shot from outside the blueline and the puck caromme din off the arm of a Trail defenceman.

Nelson potted the first one in the third as Haldane found the mark at three minutes after taking a double relay from McLenaghan and Hergert. Then Trail came to life and whittled the Leafs by two. Nicol scored from Clements and Sutherland at 4:49, and Cavanaugh took Cronie's pass at 11:56 to find the mark and wind up the scoring.

Lineups:

Nelson—Seaby; Barefoot, Tatchell; Hergert; Haldane, McLenaghan. Subs—Bicknell, Kilpatrick, Vickers, Lubeck, F. Koehle, Red Koehle.

RIDERS SPARING NO EFFORTS FOR FOOTBALL TITLE

OTTAWA, Jan. 26 (CP) — President E. K. (Eddie) Emerson of the Ottawa Football Club said today the Rough Riders will spare no efforts in their drive to win the next Dominion Football Championship.

And that, of course, includes the acquisition of the Hamilton Tigers' playing-coach, Frankie Filchock. Emerson said in an interview the contract is not signed yet but "providing nothing interferes" it was likely that Filchock will team up with the Riders within the next few days.

"We're aiming for a balanced team," said Emerson. "If we get Filchock, he'll fill the quarterback position which Bob Paffrath had last year.

"Paffrath hasn't actually indicated he doesn't want to come back. That's still undecided. It all depends on what positions we still have to fill."

$8500 TOO HIGH

Emerson did not want to discuss what the terms of the contract were but said the figure of $8500 for the football season was "too high."

Talking about the big football "schemozzle" last year when Calgary Stampeders walked away with the Dominion championship, Emerson said he didn't blame any one of the Riders team for what took place. Least of all did he blame Paffrath.

It was Paffrath who was on the starting end of a boner play that ended in a Stampeder victory. Rushed as he tried to go around the Calgary end, he appeared anxious to get rid of the ball, tossing an offside lateral to Pete Karpuk who thought it was a forward and let it lie on the ground. Woody Strode picked up the ball and set up Calgary's winning touch on the 12-yard line.

"I blame neither Paffrath nor Karpuk," said Emerson. Paffrath had appeared jittery but that was not the reason why he would not quarterback the Riders in the Big Four League this year. "As I said, he was misplaced. He'll do better as a fullback. If he comes back to Ottawa, we'll use him in that slot and perhaps as a spare quarterback."

JOE STILL HIS BOY SAYS UNCLE MIKE

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 26 (AP) — Joe Louis will fight under sponsorship of the Twentieth Century Sporting Club this Summer and not in Chicago, Promoter Mike Jacobs said today.

Jacobs scoffed at statements of Louis' lawyer Truman Gibson and Louis' manager Marshall Miles that the heavyweight boxing champion isn't under contract any more to the Twentieth Century Club in New York.

"Louis has been under a long-term contract with me," Jacobs said, "and I think you can depend upon it he will box for me again, not in Chicago."

Avery, David in Vancouver Entries for B.C. Bonspiel in Trail

VANCOUVER, B.C., Jan. 26—At least five Vancouver rinks will be seeking top place in the British Columbia Curling playdowns in Trail the week of Feb. 7.

Frank Avery, Provincial champion in 1946, will take a rink composed of Art Gooder, former Dominion curling champion, and Stan and Alf Millham. Avery curled with Roly David in 1937 and 1939 when David represented British Columbia, and was also a member of the Don Campbell rink, Provincial champs in 1942.

Roly David himself is taking in the event again, skipping the Earl Bennett rink. In addition, other skips will be Dave Garnham, Stan Walker, a former Regina skip, and Dr. Alvin Porter, a one-time Flin Flon curler.

Mr. Garnham has announced that a special car has been granted the curlers. They will leave Vancouver Feb. 5.

The bonspiel will decide B.C. representatives in the 1949 Dominion championships, and for the first time in the long history of the event, this Province will be defending the championship.

Canadian winner a year ago was Theo (Frenchy) D'Amour's rink of Trail.

Rocks Roar Down Kimberley Lanes As Ladies' Spiel Under Way

KIMBERLEY, B.C., Jan. 26—Sixteen rinks are entered in the three-day annual competition of the Kootenay Ladies' Curling Association here Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

There are four quartettes from Trail, two from Rossland, two from Nelson, two from Cranbrook, one from Creston and five Kimberley rinks.

Followers of the event are watching the Smelter City's rink skipped by Mrs. Pat Pattullo. Her foursome walked off with 10 wins in 10 starts last year in Nelson to capture the Grand Aggregate, the Nelson and Kimberley primary events.

The Trail and Rossland enthusiasts picked up Nelson's aggregations on the train Tuesday, and arrived in Kimberley Wednesday along with other East Kootenay incomers.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

PULP FROM WHEAT STRAW IMPROVES QUALITY OF CANADIAN FINE PAPER

MONTREAL, Jan. 26 (CP) — Blending of pulp made from wheat straw with other pulps improves the quality of fine paper and increases industrial cellulose resources, Dr. E. C. Lathroy, of the United States Department of Agriculture said today.

In a speech at the annual meeting of Canadian Pulp and Paper Association, he told some 1200 delegates associated with the pulp and paper industry in Canada, Newfoundland, the United States, Britain, Sweden and China that a superior insulating board can be made by blending long-fibred straw pulp with regular lime-cooked pulp. The board acquires increased ruggedness.

He said that a printable sheet of newsprint could be made from straw pulp, but it will differ from regular newsprint.

The progress of literacy in certain heavily populated areas would increase the demand for paper and board. An enormous expansion in the pulp and paper industry seemed certain. Wheat straw pulp therefore will prove a helpful addition to the world's cellulose resources.

Resigns Chairmanship In British Inquiry

LONDON, Jan. 26 (CP)—George Gibson, 63-year-old Trade Union veteran, resigned today as a regional chief of the nationalized electricity industry after a special tribunal accused him of using his influence with the Government in return for personal gifts.

He resigned last month as a Director of the Bank of England during the tribunal's investigation which was prompted by rumors of corruption in the Government.

He said in a letter to Hugh Gaitskell, Minister of Fuel and Power, that he felt obliged to resign his £4,000-a-year ($16,000) job as the Chairman of the Northwestern Electricity Board because of the tribunal's charges.

URGE FRENCH, ITALIAN REDS TO JOIN FRONT

New Call Latest Development in Russ "Peace Offensive"

SEEK ALL FORCE

By PHILIP CLARKE

ROME, Jan. 26 (AP)—Communist leaders of France and Italy last night told their 5,000,000 followers to join in a huge Russian-bossed "peace front".

Members of the two largest Communist Parties outside Russia were ordered to throw "all their force" against "propaganda of hate and calumny, warlike preparations and policies of oppression."

At the same time, Western Germany's top Communist called for "better relations" between the United States and Russia.

These moves were the latest developments in Russia's so-called "peace offensive", picturing Communists as lovers of peace and their opponents as warlike aggressors.

They followed shortly after Moscow's announcement that the Soviet Union and her Eastern European satellites had been linked in an "economic council of mutual assistance" to counter the European Recovery Program.

NO RESPONSE

But there still has been nothing but talk in the new Russian propaganda line. State Secretary Acheson of the United States has called on the Reds to prove that they mean what they say. There has been no direct response.

The call for a "peace front" was announced by the Italian Communist Party after a conference with Marcel Cachin, veteran French Communist leader.

A communique ordered French and Italian Communists to "fulfill their tasks of fighters of the international front which, under the leadership of the great Soviet Union, is checking the forces of oppression and war."

Cachin and the Italian Communist leader, Palmiro Togliatti, have spearheaded the recent "peace offensive".

The emphasis on "peoples action" in recent pronouncements probably reflects dissatisfaction on the part of the Kremlin with the fact that Western European Communists have not been able to get back in their Governments after post-war elections.

URGES WOMEN TO MAKE WORLD SAFE FOR MEN

LONDON, Jan. 26 (CP)—Viscountess Astor, who took part in the first Suffragette movement, has given British women a new battlecry.

"Women, we must make the world safe for men," she said last night. "They've made it darned unsafe for us.

"The country has been in danger for years, ever since men began to rule it alone."

Lady Astor was addressing a victory dinner celebrating passage of the British Nationality Act, 1948. This restores to women the right they lost in 1870—to retain their British nationality after marriage to a foreigner.

Lady Astor had a word for the Press, too—"It doesn't give women enough publicity."

"Women have to murder their husbands to get into the papers," she said.

FIVE TOWNS SEEK WELSH CAPITAL TITLE

By JOAN CAPREOL

CARDIFF, Jan. 26 (Reuters)—Five towns today are competing for the title of prospective Capital of Wales.

Welshmen are unanimously agreed that they need a Capital. Prime Minister Attlee agrees the time is ripe for recognizing one, but the difficulty is that the fiery Welsh themselves cannot make up their minds which town to choose.

Cardiff, largest and richest city in the South, with a population of 226,000, and already a great administrative centre and seaport, made the first claim.

Caernarvon, Wrexham, Aberystwyth and Machynlleth quickly opposed Cardiff's claim, mainly on the grounds that they, historically and culturally, are wholly Welsh, and therefore more entitled to the honor than cosmopolitan Cardiff.

Blasts Keeping Man in Prison After Acquittal

VICTORIA, Jan. 26 (CP)—Detaining of Irving Hess of Vancouver in prison when he was acquitted and set at liberty by the Court of Appeal, was described by Mr. Justice O'Halloran today as a threat to the civil rights of Canadians, and contrary to the rights of the citizenry under the British North America Act.

Hess was detained under a section of the Criminal Code by the Attorney General following his acquittal by the Appeal Court Dec. 22. His conviction on a charge under the Narcotic Drug Act was also quashed by the Court.

Protest Expense Accounts Allowed Coast Aldermen

VANCOUVER, Jan. 26 (CP) — City aldermen journeying to far places on home-town business are protesting current expense accounts allowed for such junkets.

Ald. Birt Showler feels even rate payers would hardly expect aldermen, now granted $10 a day expenses, to travel "like beggars."

Another, Ald George C. Miller, says he was out of pocket $5 on a Victoria trip last week while a trip last year set him back $60. The hardest to take, he thinks however, was an Ottawa trek that saved Vancouver $500,000 and cost him personally $150.

Recommendations to amend what they feel is a deplorable situation are promised for City Council.

BRITAIN HOPES FOR COLONIAL AID

By JAMES McCOOK

Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Jan. 26 (CP)—British planners now hope United States dollars will help release for world benefit the rich resources of 45 colonial territories.

Thus far their proposals have been received cautiously by private American investors. But Government economists have been given new heart by President Truman's declaration that the United States must embark on a "bold new program" for the improvement and growth of under-developed areas.

Britain now sees the prospect that Marshall Plan arrangements will be revised to facilitate participation in colonial development in territories under British and European control.

Friends, Mining Associates Fill Pro-Cathedral at Major Davis' Rites

Friends and mining associates with whom he had become acquainted through 50 years in the Kootenays accorded last respects Wednesday afternoon to Major Angus Ward Davis, D.S.O., who died suddenly Monday.

Funeral services were held from St. Saviours Pro-Cathedral, Rev. T. L. Leadbeater officiating.

The church was filled, and floral tributes were many. Hymns sung were "Onward, Christian Soldiers" and "The Old Rugged Cross."

A group of returned men attended in a body as a sign of comradeship with the First World War veteran, and formed open ranks when the casket was borne into the church and later outside the church.

Members of the Chamber of Mines of Eastern British Columbia, of which Major Davis was for two years President, were in attendance.

CITY REPRESENTED

Mayor T. H. Waters and other Council members represented the City, Major Davis being at the time of his death on the Nelson Municipal Library Board, and as another mark of respect, the Library was closed from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m.

The Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company, which employed Major Davis for a number of years, was represented, as was Nelson Lodge No. 23 A.F. and A.M. and Kootenay Lodge of Perfection of Scottish Rite.

Honorary pallbearers were Dr. G. R. Barrett, Dr. R. B. Brummitt, W. M. Cunliffe, E. E. L. Dewdney, R. W. Diamond of Trail, H. S. Gamble, C. B. Garland, K.C., W. A. Gordon, George Gray, C. H. Hamilton, E. Mason, R. L. McBride, J. S McGregor, J. R. McLennan, Dr. N. E. Morrison, I. G. Nelson, Ald. N. R. Sardich, J. Smith, T. R. Wilson and E. C. Wragge.

Active pallbearers, all members of the Nelson branch of the Canadian Legion, were C. O. Anderson, H. Bush, Frank Holt, G. Hornett, Guy S. Mayo and Duncan Smith.

Interment was in the Returned Soldiers' Plot of Nelson Memorial Park.

The Canadian Legion burial ritual was read by A. Oliver, after which the returned men filed past the open grave and deposited poppies on the flag-draped casket.

Miss C. Proudfoot Heads New Women's Club

Miss Carol Proudfoot is President of the newly-formed Nelson branch of the Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

Vice-President is Mrs. W. L. H. Holmes, Miss Florence Jeffreys is Treasurer, and a Secretary is still to be elected.

The club, one of 20 in the Province, was organized by Mrs. Elsie MacCleave of Penticton, Regional Director, and is sponsored by the Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs. The organization is an international one.

Improvement of women's status in business, companionship and amusement are aims of the club. The members will gather next at a dinner meeting.

Butter Supplies Still Tight

Shipments of fresh vegetables to the local wholesale houses have been arriving here in good supply. Carloads of lettuce, Texas spinach, Idaho onions, bananas and Alberta potatoes have been received during the last week.

In the meat line, lamb is still in short supply due to the cold weather, but is expected to improve when the weather becomes warmer. Other varieties of meat are in good supply, but butter supplies still do not meet the demand of the consumers. Eggs are coming in better and the prices are easing off.

One car of hay, grain and flour reached Nelson last week and more are expected to arrive in a few days.

If Your Feet Get Cold
Wear Your Hat
U. S. Army research shows that head and trunk must maintain blood circulation in cold weather to safeguard the most vital bodily functions. The head doesn't feel cold because other parts are being sacrificed to keep it at the safe temperature.
