Rossland Man Killed in Crash

W. A. Church, Immigration Officer, Dies in Collision at Cloverdale

CLOVERDALE, B.C., Nov. 20 (CP) — William A. Church of Rossland, B.C., an immigration inspector, was killed today when the new car he had purchased here collided with a milk truck.

Mr. Church, 27, was en route home. With him in the car when it was demolished was a youth identified as Leo Pauk of Vernon, B.C.

Pauk was thrown clear of the car and escaped serious injury, police said, while Les Loski of Langley, B.C., driver of the truck, was unhurt.

Mr. Church's car was proceeding toward Langley and the truck was travelling toward Vancouver when the collision occurred at nearby Fry's Corner.

Mr. Church, a provincial police officer before he entered the immigration department, was married and the father of a six-months-old boy.

Mr. Church lived at 2127 Queen Street, Rossland. He left the provincial police force shortly before R.C.M.P. took over policing of the province in August, 1950.

Relatives of his wife also live in Rossland.

Commons Told . .

CBC Seldom Airs Communist Views

OTTAWA, Nov. 20 (CP)—The Radio Committee of the Commons was told today that the Communist viewpoint is seldom heard on CBC networks.

A. D. Dunton, CBC chairman, said the CBC tries to see that all main viewpoints are expressed through its facilities. It does not consider Communism one of the main views in Canada.

He made the statement as members of the committee expressed their views on what opinions the publicly-owned CBC should allow to be heard.

The controversy centred around a recent series of broadcasts by well-known psychiatrists and philosophers. The speakers included Bertrand Russell, British author and philosopher; Dr. Brock Chisholm, head of the World Health Organization; Dr. Carl Binger, Associate Professor of Clinical Psychiatry at Cornell University in New York; Dr. Ewen Cameron, Professor of Psychiatry at McGill University in Montreal; and Prof. William Line of the University of Toronto.

"TRIPE" . .

Leonard Stick (L — Trinity-Conception) described the broadcasts as "tripe" and said they should not be allowed in the future. When asked by George Murray (L — Cariboo) to say what he had found offensive in the broadcasts, Mr. Stick said his remarks were aimed at the broadcasts generally.

Other members similarly did not quote from the broadcasts, texts of which were provided them last week. The broadcasts dealt with modern psychology.

John Diefenbaker (PC — Lake Centre) said that if the CBC sets up itself as a censor. Freedom of speech will suffer a "serious setback in Canada." As long as the broadcasts did not breach the laws of blasphemy, sedition or libel, who was to say that they were wrong.

COMMENDS CBC

Stanley Knowles (CCF — Winnipeg North Centre) said he saw nothing offensive in the broadcasts. The CBC should be commended for bringing all points of view to the people.

Mr. Dunton said the CBC felt that all main viewpoints should be heard if there was to be freedom on the air. Reactions to the broadcasts of Mr. Russell and Dr. Chisholm indicated that many people wanted to hear them. The CBC as a whole accepted responsibility for the broadcasts.

Mass Unemployment Fear Stirs Vancouver City Council

Question Federal Immigration Policy; Thousands Already Jobless in Coast City

VANCOUVER, Nov. 20 (CP)—The City Council today wrestled with the problem of "imported labor."

Fear of mass unemployment in Vancouver—similar to the rough Winter of 1949—has brought Council action.

First, the Federal Government will be asked to explain its immigration policy. Then, an investigation into the effect of the policy on the job market here will be made.

Mainly from European countries, 9649 immigrants have come to British Columbia so far this year. Other hundreds are slated to come.

Recently, 200-odd German immigrants reached Vancouver. Most of them are still jobless, waiting for jobs to develop on Northern projects.

"Things are getting tough in Vancouver, no fooling," Mayor Fred Hume told council.

"I have as many as 10 people in every day looking for work and I don't know where to send them."

On Oct. 25 there were 12,604 persons registered with the National Employment Service in Vancouver and only 1025 unfilled jobs.

TO STUDY

Council plans to set up a four-man committee to study the immigration problem and to plan for job placements.

"We've got to act now," Alderman R. K. Gervin said. "We're facing a very vital question of employment."

A Winter of heavy snow or icy weather would aggravate the situation.

Two years ago an abnormal Winter caused mills and logging operations to halt. Thousands of workers flocked into Vancouver and at the peak more than 35,000 were unemployed.

Alderman Birt Showler found that there was a language bar in the labor market.

"Most of the immigrants have absolutely no knowledge of English," he said. "How can union leaders be expected to direct them to jobs when they can't speak our language?"

Alderman Alex Fisher, opposed any investigation of immigration policies. Federal policies, he told council, are none of city council's business.

WELL, WHAT D'YA KNOW, says Danny Kaye, internationally famous comedian, as he mugs for the camera with Pte. Cecil Simon of Brantford, Ont., in Korea. Danny Kaye and his troupe of Americans, on tour in the war zone, stayed for two days with 1st Commonwealth Division putting on shows for as many men as could be spared from duty. At one performance nearly 4000 men sat around a natural amphitheatre to watch the comic put on one of his zaniest performances. —Canadian Press Canadian.

Thieves Grab Radio in Trail Store Break-In

TRAIL, B.C., Nov. 20 — A hardware store in downtown Trail was broken into early today. A front store window of the A. B. Webster Hardware Co. Ltd., on Victoria Street was found broken by police between two and three a.m.

The thieves had apparently tried to force the door and being unsuccessful gained entry through the window.

A portable radio valued at $82 was reported missing.

Demara's Lips Sealed Tightly

VICTORIA, B. C; Nov. 20 (CP)—Ferdinand Waldo Demara Jr. is not telling anybody why he joined the Canadian Navy under the assumed name of Dr. Joseph Cyr.

The man whose strange adventure has intrigued the continent will be released shortly, following establishment of his identity by a Naval board of inquiry.

He is being discharged from the service for entering it under false papers. He was alleged to have used those of Dr. Joseph Cyr of Grand Falls, N. B.

But why he did so is still a mystery—even to high Naval officers here who conducted the inquiry.

"He has not told us," a top-ranking officer said today. "And, of course, it does not come within the scope of the official inquiry to ask him why. So far as we know, he is a doctor. At least no one without medical knowledge could have done what he did in Korea."

The Navy says he performed some remarkable operations while medical officer aboard H.M.C.S. Cayuga.

It may have been that Demara preferred service in the Canadian Navy to the U.S.

He would not be accepted for a commission in R.C.N. unless he were a British subject, an officer explained.

"But we have not asked him his reasons. We are intrigued, naturally, but it is up to him to say if he wants to. He has refused all interviews on the subject."

LACEY, Wash., Nov. 20 (CP) — St. Martin's College officials reported today that an American who posed as a doctor in the Canadian Navy, with outstanding results, was on the college faculty in 1947.

The Canadian Navy announced Monday that the man was Ferdinand Waldo Demara Jr., from Lawrence, Mass. Under the name of Dr. Joseph Cyr he won acclaim for his surgery on South Koreans. His father was quoted as saying that he knew of no previous medical experience by his son except as an orderly in a Boston eye and ear infirmary.

A St. Martin's spokesman said he served for about two months under the name of Dr. Robert Linton French and posed as a Stanford University graduate and well-known psychiatrist. The spokesman said his brief St. Martin's career ended after suspicions led to an investigation and disclosure of the double identity.

The spokesman said he was immensely popular with students.

"The man has a wonderful personality," he said. "All the students were going to be psychologists."

New Settlement Plan Studied

Would Place Oil Industry Under World Bank Trust

LONDON, Nov. 20 (Reuters) — Britain is studying a new plan to solve its dispute with Iran by placing the oil industry there under trusteeship of the world bank, it was learned today from usually reliable sources.

The world bank is an international financial authority set up in 1944 to help in reconstruction and development.

Sponsor of the plan is one of the bank's member countries, which also approached Britain on the subject.

It was not yet known here whether the proposed solution of the nine-month-dispute set off by Iran's decision to nationalize the British-owned oil fields has been officially put before the Iranian government.

World bank chiefs are understood to be examining the plan sympathetically and have already studied their statutes to see if there are any legal snags.

If Britain, Iran and the bank accept the plan, the whole operation of extracting, refining oil from Southern Iran would be done in the name of the world bank.

The oil would also be sold on its name.

WOULD GET SHARE

The bank would be responsible for earmarking a share of the proceeds—25 per cent has been suggested — as compensation to the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company for nationalization of the industry.

It would administer the rest of the income for the Iranian National Oil Company.

It would be far and away the largest single operation the organization has undertaken.

Reaction in Britain to the proposal is not yet known. But Monday in the House of Commons Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden declared the Conservative administration's willingness to reopen negotiations with Iran.

Integration of Schools Proposal Draws Support

VANCOUVER, Nov. 20 (CP)—The proposed integration of Roman Catholic Schools into the public school system drew support from two sources today.

Archbishop William Duke, head of British Columbia Roman Catholics, said today he was "pleased" with statements that mooted the incorporation.

Additional support came from the British Columbia Teachers' Federation.

Statements from Education Minister W. T. Straith and Reg. Paxton, Secretary of the B. C. Roman Catholic Education Association during the weekend hinted at the end of the long dispute about separate schools.

Paxton said the Roman Catholics were willing to integrate and Mr. Straith said the proposed merited discussion.

Paxton said that the Roman Catholics are willing to consider holding religious instruction after school hours and to accept non-Roman Catholic teachers.

LONDON, Nov. 20 (Reuters) — Prime Minister Churchill, bowing to Labor Party critics, told the House of Commons today he would not press for a secret parliamentary session on defence if there was considerable opposition to the proposal.

Since Churchill announced Nov. 6 that he planned to hold a secret session — unprecedented in peacetime—the Labor opposition has objected strongly.

Explosions Shake Argentine Capital

BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 20 (AP)—Heavy explosions shook the port section of this Argentine capital today, and fires swept its oil storage area. At least five persons were injured.

Dense smoke rolled over the city. Police said the explosions and fires were so menacing that five firefighting companies were unable to approach the centre of the conflagration.

Expect Special Grade for Eggs

VANCOUVER, Nov. 20 (CP) — New laid eggs may soon have a special grade of their own—Grade "AA."

E. A. Lloyd, chairman of the B.C. Poultry Industries Council, leaves by plane today to attend the Canadian Poultry Industry Council's annual meeting in Ottawa.

The special grade will be a major innovation he will urge. The present grade A can now be held in a storage for a lengthy period.

Other requests from the B.C. group will include a higher floor-price and lower prices for sulfa drugs used on poultry.

FALSE ALARM . . .

TORONTO, Nov. 20 (CP)—Civil servants fled from the Parliament Buildings today, two days before the Ontario general election. A workman carrying a ladder broke the glass in an alarm box and set fire sirens screaming throughout the building. The civil servants went back to work.

Coast Woman Dies When Told Brother-In-Law Killed

VANCOUVER, Nov. 20 (CP) — Mrs. Mary Jane Lawrence, 62, of Vancouver dropped dead today after hearing her husband's brother had been killed in a traffic accident.

Coroners office found that Mrs. Lawrence died of natural causes "owing to upsetting news" when she heard of the death of her brother-in-law Matthew A. Lawrence, 73.

Lawrence, the Lower Mainland's 67th traffic fatality, was killed Monday night when crossing an intersection. His wife was injured in the same accident. She has not been told of his death yet.

2357 Pre-Fabs For Canadian Army

OTTAWA, Nov. 20 (CP) — The Canadian Army bought 2357 prefabricated huts during the first nine months of this year and is using 81 of them and has 130 in storage. The rest have yet to be delivered. This information was given in a return tabled in the Commons. C. M. Drury, Deputy Minister of National Defence, said the huts in storage are at Winnipeg, Petawawa, Ont., Wainwright, Alta., and Ottawa.

FINAL STAGES IN ELECTION BIDS

Ontario to Decide Gov't Thursday

TORONTO, Nov. 20 (CP)—Ontario decides Thursday whether to retain in office the Progressive Conservative government which has run its affairs for the last eight years.

The alternatives were the Liberal Party, making a renewed bid for power under a new leader, and the C.C.F. which slipped past the Liberals in 1948 to become the official opposition.

Thursday's election is the pay-off to a sharp six-weeks' campaign in which all three parties fought hard for the favor of 3,000,000 voters and the right to run Canada's richest and most populous province.

Standing of the 90-seat Legislature at dissolution:

Progressive Conservative, 53; C.C.F. 21; Liberal 14; Labor-Progressive (Communist) 2.

A total of 271 candidates entered the field. The two main parties are contesting every riding while the C.C.F. has candidates in 77. A smattering of supporters of other political faiths and a half-dozen assorted independents make up the list.

Two men never before tested as party leaders in the rough and tumble of an election campaign seek endorsement of the voters: Leslie Frost, 56, and Walter Cunningham Thomson, also 56, part-time Pickering farmer and Toronto lawyer. Edward Bigelow Jolliffe, at 42, a veteran of provincial politics, heads the C.C.F.

Britain's Foes Meet in Cairo

CAIRO, Egypt, Nov. 20 (AP)—Two major foes of Britain's policy in the Middle East—Iran's Premier Mohammed Mossadegh and Prime Minister Mustapha el Nahas Pasha of Egypt—met today for the first time.

Tens of thousands of Egyptians paraded with anti-British and anti-American slogans to welcome the aged Iranian, stopping here for a four-day official visit after a month in the United States.

Mossadegh's Government already has kicked Britain's oil men out of Iran. Nahas Pasha's regime has ordered Britain out of the Suez Canal and the Sudan, but Britain's troops so far still hold military control of both.

The two Premiers held their first meeting later at the Middle East's most famous gathering place for travellers—Shepheard's Hotel. Mossadegh and Nahas Pasha embraced and kissed as they were introduced.

Mossadegh, during a month's stay in New York and Washington, led his country's successful fight to block the United Nations' action on its oil dispute with Britain. He talked at length with U.S. officials about the oil wrangle and financial aid to ease Iran's economic crisis.

Political and press circles in Tehran, Mossadegh's capital, hinted the ailing Premier will discuss formation of a Middle-East Moslem bloc independent of both the West and Russia.

B. C. Labor Relations Board Loses Appeal

VANCOUVER, Nov. 20 (CP) — The B. C. Labor Relations Board today failed in an appeal to uphold its right to certify a one-man union.

The Court of Appeal dismissed the Board's appeal against the judgment of Chief Justice Wendell B. Farris, quashing the Board's order of July 10 when it certified the B. C. Projectionists Union Local 348 as bargaining agent for a single employee of the General Theatre Supply Co.

Chief Justice Farris found the Board had acted without jurisdiction. The company contended the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act was intended for a group of employees and not for a single employee.

Canadian Red Cross Aids Flood Victims

TORONTO, Nov. 20 (CP—Canadian Red Cross relief supplies were among the first to reach victims of the Po River flood in Italy, the Canadian Red Cross was informed today. A carload of clothing and rubber boots arrived in Rome Nov. 12. It was sent from Geneva, from a stock of Canadian supplies held in emergency reserve.

Grohman Power Cable Span Longest So Far

Work is in progress this week on a 3300-foot span of power transmission cables being strung to cross Kootenay River at Grohman Narrows.

The span is considerably shorter than the two-mile power line crossing of the main part of Kootenay Lake which is to be strung later this year, but it is the longest span to date for lines carrying power from the plants on the Kootenay River.

THREE CABLES

Three cables are being suspended between pole structures and will provide ample clearance over the water at the lowest point.

High strength aluminum cables with steel cores are being used. They are being strung by the West Kootenay Power and Light Company, and it is expected the work will be completed this week.

Abolition of Balkans Committee Sought

PARIS, Nov. 20 (AP)—Greece proposed today the abolition of the United Nations Special Committee on the Balkans, set up nearly six years ago because of Communist threats against her.

Jean Politis, Greek delegate in the U.N. Assembly's special political committee, said the Greek people had so expanded their possibilities of resisting Communism that a recurrence of subversive activities appeared "less and less probable."

However, he joined France, Mexico, Britain and the United States in asking that a sub-committee of the peace observation commission be established to keep watch on developments in the talks, where Yugoslavia has charged her Cominform neighbors with threatening trouble.

The peace observation commission is a group of 14 countries, including the United States and the Soviet Union, created by any threats to the peace in any part of the world. So far it has sent out no observation groups.

Russia and Poland asked to speak to the committee tomorrow in answer to the Greek action.

The 60-member political committee heard Brazil, Peru, Haiti and Iran urge progress on the arms proposals put forward by the United States, France and Britain.

Canada's Minister of External Affairs, L. B. Pearson, is expected to speak tomorrow and then depart from Rome, leading a group of the North Atlantic Pact foreign ministers to the Rome meetings of the North Atlantic Council this weekend.

C. C. L. Favors Elimination Of Price-Fixing — Forsey

OTTAWA, Nov. 20 (CP) —The issue of resale price maintenance is not of "paramount importance" an official of the 360,000-member Canadian Congress of Labor said today.

Eugene Forsey, C.C.L. research director, said the Congress is far more interested in price controls as a means of bringing retail prices down.

However, since Parliament was against price controls, the Congress was prepared to accept "small mercies" and for that reason it favored elimination of the practice by which a manufacturer sets the price at which the retailer will sell his goods.

Mr. Forsey appeared as a witness before the special Parliamentary committee investigating the impact of retail price-fixing on competition and prices:

He made these other points:

1. There appear to be no signs of a depression in the immediate future.

2. The Congress is in favor of anything which pushes prices down and considers undesirable anything which pushes prices up.

3. He agreed with Roland Beaudry (L—Montreal St. James) that while resale price maintenance practices may limit competition, so does the closed shop, but he is not against the closed shop.

4. The Congress is against combines, not because of what they represent, but because results of their operations work against the public benefit.

5. The Congress is opposed to business having "private courts" through which they deal with distributors, without those distributors having recourse to the public courts. Private courts were embodied in the principle of resale price maintenance.

Hong Kong Reports Red Ransom System

WINNIPEG, Nov. 20 (CP) — The Tribune today publishes the text of a cable from the China Mail in Hong Kong reports that relatives of Canadian Chinese are being held by the Chinese Communists for ransom.

The Hong Kong cable says several cases are happening in the Oishan District near Canton where a large number of emigrants to Canada originated.

The Tribune also reports that Winnipeg Chinese have formed an anti-Communist league to protect Chinese from such threats and to keep Communists out of Chinatown. The newspaper says its informant on a previous blackmail story was threatened with death in an anonymous telephone call.

Headaches Worse At Salmon Arm

VICTORIA, B.C., Nov. 20 (CP)—A delegation from Salmon Arm School Board met the provincial cabinet today in an effort to find a solution to one of the biggest financial headaches ever to face a group of trustees.

They emerged from the meeting with a terse "no comment" but promised a statement after reporting back to the whole School Board.

"We are sitting on a keg of dynamite and we must be careful what we say," said E. Max Ladner, spokesman, and chairman of the Board's finance committee.

The trouble arose when ratepayers in the municipal portion of the school district rejected a bylaw for an increased school budget. City and rural ratepayers approved the bylaw.

The School Board then refused 510 municipal students entrance to the school which houses pupils from all areas.

Last week, an appeal court ruling required the board to take in the municipal students, but no solution has yet been found for financing this move.

Japanese Oranges Arrive; To Cost More This Christmas

VANCOUVER, Nov. 20 (CP) — Japanese oranges for the Christmas season arrived here today and shippers said they will cost more than they did last year.

A 150,000-box order, to be distributed as far East as Toronto, was unloaded from the freighters Oregon Mail and Colorado.

The oranges will retail in Vancouver at $1.29 a box, 14 cents above last year's price.

Radio-Active Weapons Revealed

By Howard W. Blakeslee

NEW YORK, Nov. 20 (AP) —A startling variety of radio-active weapons is revealed in a series of patent cases issued to Jack Dement of the Dement Laboratories, Portland, Ore.

These patents recently were released from the secret list. They show what enemies can do.

At least six countries have the atom-splitting reactors to make these radio-active weapons. These are Canada, the United States, Britain, Russia, France, and Sweden.

All the weapons are made from radio-active atoms. There are about 70 different kinds of atoms to select from. Probably only a few will be useful, but a few is plenty.

There are reports that Russia is working on radio-active weapons in inner Siberia and other places.

Radio-active rays do not strike anyone dead. It may take hours or days of exposure to do harm, but no one can see, feel, hear, taste or smell them.

PATENTS

Dements patents cases follow:

One is poison gas, with radio-activity added.

Dement says the radio-active atoms will be filtered out in the cannisters of gas masks, along with the poisons. But the radio activity will build up in the cannister, until this filter itself becomes dangerous to carry.

Decontamination squads can destroy the poison spread by war gases but not the radio-activity.

Mustard gases blister the skin. Radio-active atoms in the mustard can enter your blood through the blisters, and deposit in your body. This blister carries the risk of illness.

Entirely new kinds of poison gases can be made with radio-activity. There have been only a few possible kinds of poisonous war gases, because only a few would remain near the ground and persist. Adding radio-activity will make others poisonous too.

600 VARIETIES

Other patent cases cover radio-active smokes of 600 varieties. Chemical elements that can be made radio-active in smokes include iron, silicon, copper, lead, aluminum, nickel, arsenic, gold, silver and many others.

A projectile can be dipped or coated with radio-active materials. Radio-active stuff may be electro-plated on, or mixed with the projectile or the explosive in a shell.

An unusual weapon is radio-active fire. The napalm (jellied gasoline) used in Korea can carry radio-active substances. So can any of the other war incendiaries. The ashes of the fires they set will remain radio-active.

Then there are the "death sands." There can be sands, with adhesive properties that sick them to the clothing of personnel, and magnetic sands that will jump and stick to tanks, vehicles and guns. They look like ordinary sands of any region and blend with the colors of the earth or even city pavements.

And in This Corner . . .

NEW YORK, Nov. 20 (AP)—Times must be good. Even the hoboes are talking expansion.

Six of them abandoned the Bowery today and sought out the vice-president of the Modern Industrial Bank on lower Fifth Avenue. They rode a cab, no less.

Harry Baronian, editor of the Bowery News, was their spokesman. He told the banker he wanted a $2600 loan.

While he made his pitch, his fellow hoboes roamed the bank lobby peddling the Bowery News—a sort of newspaper champion of the non-working man.

Baronian said Bowery hoboes provide free entertainment every Saturday night for about 50 persons. He didn't describe the entertainment.

"A loan of say $2000," Baronian explained, "will enable the boys to take over a dilapidated building and the boys can fix it up."

That would give them a roomier entertainment centre, he said.

It also would provide sleeping space for about 20 hoboes now paying 50 cents a night in a flophouse.

Said Abner Jackson, vice-president of the bank:

"We told them we would consider their application."

LONDON Nov. 20 (AP)—Two brothers-in-law were fined £3 yesterday for stealing lead worth £2 10 shillings from a roof they were repairing. The roof was on Holloway prison.

In a further effort to promote good will among the people of the Kootenays, Nelson Ministerial Association and leaders of the Union of Spiritual Communities of Christ, Orthodox Doukhobors, in conjunction with Emmett Gulley of the Society of Friends, have arranged a day of worship, discussion and inspiration for Sunday, Dec. 2.

The program will commence at 2:00 p.m. at St. Paul's United Church. After an opening of worship and singing there will be an arrangement of discussion groups on the topic: "The Causes and Cure of War." Refreshments will be in the form of a pot luck lunch, each one bringing something to add to the food supply.

In the evening, at 7:30 p.m., there will be another service of worship and witness, with an address by E. Pennington, of the Friends Society. This will be similar to the meeting of last Spring when the attendance was estimated at 1000 people.

Nelson and district people are being urged to help to make the venture "a real gesture of friendship and co-operation for the whole community."

Graduate Nurses Get $20 Raises

Graduate nurses at Kootenay Lake General Hospital have been given a $20 raise.

Monthly salaries have been increased from $180 to $200, and board has been raised from $40 to $47.50 a month, effective Nov. 1.

Board of directors of Kootenay Lake General Hospital took the action Tuesday night, in approving recommendations of its executive.

Salaries of Miss Marjorie Whitmore, superintendent; Miss Elsie Suran, assistant superintendent, and L. Cruickshank, secretary-manager, were also increased.

The new salaries for graduate nurses are in line with those paid to graduates at Trail-Tadanac Hospital.

Members of the hospital office staff, who have applied for membership in local 180 of Hospital Employees' Federation Union, have asked the board for classification of jobs and a salary scale according to the positions. Their request was referred to the executive for consideration.

Egypt Buys Arms From Switzerland

PARIS, Nov. 20 (AP) — An Egyptian spokesman said today his country bought arms from Switzerland to equip forces in the Suez Canal area after Britain, the United States, France and Sweden had refused to supply them.

Dr. Mahmoud Azmi told a Press conference the arms were purchased "several weeks ago." He gave no details.

Special Class For Foreign Pupils Studied

Formation of an "opportunity class" after January 1, 1952, received serious discussion at the Nelson District No. 7 School Board meeting Tuesday night.

F. B. Pearce, principal of Central School, told the board of four Chinese students recently arrived in Canada and not familiar with the English language presently attending elementary school. In the teenage group, these students were out of place in the elementary classes. Mr. Pearce told the board these students were "bright and eager to learn" and that they required "special attention".

It was suggested by E. E. Hyndman, schools inspector, that the classes "should not be limited to Chinese students, but should be open to others in the district who fit into the same category."

A motion passed by the board asked Mr. Hyndman to submit a report on the possibility of holding the "opportunity class."

Urge Defence Measures Settled

Military Chiefs Of Atlantic Pact Countries Meet

ROME, Nov. 20 (AP) — Chiefs of Staff of the North Atlantic Pact countries decided today to urge their Governments to settle the size, shape and leadership of Mediterranean, Atlantic Ocean and Middle East defences early in 1952.

Meeting as a committee, the military men are preparing for talks by the Foreign, Defence and Finance Ministers at the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council meeting beginning here Saturday.

Representing Canada was Lt.-Gen. Charles Foulkes, Chairman of the Chiefs of Staff.

Italy's powerful Communist Party laid plans for a propaganda rally to coincide with the Council opening.

The Government alerted its special anti-riot police squads.

The military committee itself made little headway over the projected command structures.

Britain, on paper, is committed to the idea of an American Admiral heading the Atlantic set-up. In turn a British soldier—probably Gen. Sir Brian Robertson—has been tabbed for the top job in the projected Middle East command.

But Britain wants the Atlantic and Middle East appointments agreed on and announced together.

American sources, reported, however, that the United States insists the two problems not be combined as the sort of package-deal the British want.

The chiefs of staff also weighed where Greece and Turkey are to fit into the big Allied picture when they join the alliance next year.

Richard Holt Candidate for Rossland Seat

ROSSLAND, B.C.—Richard Holt, Rossland resident for 20 years, has announced he will be a candidate for alderman at the civic elections in December.

Mr. Holt is an active member of the Rod and Gun Club and the Eagles Lodge.

Four aldermen's seats will be vacant following the resignation of Ald. H. S. Elmes, who will run for mayor.

Ald. Keane, who will complete his first two year term this year, will again be a candidate. Ald. E. V. Gauley and Ald. L. C. Austin are the other retiring aldermen.

Mayor J. R. Corner plans to retire following many years on the council, six of which he has been mayor.

Couple Fined for Neglecting Children

CHILLIWACK, B.C., Nov. 20 (CP) — A Chilliwack couple were fined $25 today for leaving their children in a car while they spent two hours in a beer parlor.

Magistrate F. K. Grimmett fined Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Yong for "causing the children to be abandoned and exposed" when they left them alone in the car.

One of the children was a baby, the other was three years old.

Joseph Stefanac, Nelson Resident For 22 Years, Dies

A Nelson resident for 22 years, Joseph Stefanac died at Kootenay Lake General Hospital Monday evening following a lengthy illness.

Born in Yugoslavia, Mr. Stefanac migrated to the United States in 1905, came to British Columbia in 1913 and was employed in the Carlboo around Hope and Lytton before coming to Nelson in 1923. He was married here, then moved to South Slocan where he was employed by the West Kootenay Power and Light Company until 1929. In 1931 he was employed by Reno Gold Mines until illness overtook him in 1940.

Father W. M. Agnew of Gonzaga University in Spokane will conduct the three-day Catholic Sodality conference starting in Nelson Friday.

Sodalists from Fernie, Kimberley, Cranbrook, Creston, Trail and Rossland are expected to attend and last-minute plans are being made by the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin Mary, Nelson Catholic Youth Organization for the visitors.

The conference is the first of its kind to be held in the Kootenays and it is hoped it will become an annual affair to be held in different centers each year.

Most Rev. Martin M. Johnson, D.D., Bishop of Nelson, will preside at the opening conference Friday evening. Priests and Sisters from other centres are also expected to attend.

Besides six conferences a banquet, dance, movie and sing-song are planned for the delegates.

Mrs. Mackenzie Early-Day Leader

By R. G. JOY
Historian, Nelson and District Oldtimers Association

The late Mrs. Hector Mackenzie was one of Nelson's oldtimers responsible for retaining domestic science and manual training in early day Nelson school curriculums.

At a meeting which Mrs. Mackenzie called in the Y.M.C.A. building, now the Canadian Legion, City Council plans to cut out the practical arts were discussed.

Having with the late Dr. E. C. Arthur, together with the help of William Irvine, R. J. Steel and A. D. Emory, inaugurated these classes and realizing their usefulness, I took an interest in having them retained.

Many were against them, but because of the strong resolution passed by the citizens, mostly mothers and Women's Institute members, the Council thought it better to carry them on.

I enjoyed many a conversation with Mrs. Mackenzie and met few who could excel her in repartee. She had native Irish wit that cheered folk on their way.

Some time ago she and others asked me to write a story about the good work done by the Women's Institute in Nelson. The story in The Daily News was well received. Many of the pioneers that were still living congratulated me and one of the most valued letters in my archives was received from the Institute thanking me for writing the article.

The information came from Mrs. Mackenzie, Mrs. H. H. Pitts, Mrs. H. E. Thain and others.

Cooper, Nelson representative of the Dominion Government Veterans Land Act, requested the use of the Nelson Junior High School shops and classroom twice weekly, for the purpose of instructing veterans on building their own homes, at the Tuesday meeting of the Board of Trustees of Nelson School District No. 7.

He told the board that 90 per cent of the veterans attending the classes build their own homes.

The course would extend over a two-month period, with 16 two-hour evening sessions during that time.

The matter was referred to the management committee with power to act.

Many Attend Last Rites for Mrs. H. Mackenzie

Two hymns, "Dear Lord and Father of Mankind" and "Unto the Hills Around" were sung. Mrs. T. J. S. Ferguson was organist.

A large attendance and a profusion of floral tributes marked final tribute to the well-known Nelson woman.

Among those attending were representatives of St. Paul's Church Choir, Ladies' Auxiliary to St. Paul's United Church, the Soroptimist Club, and the Central School teaching staff. Nelson Women's Institute members attended in a body and formed open ranks through which the casket was borne.

Pallbearers were R. D. Barnes, Harry Burns, J. Foggo, R. A. Grimes, H. E. Richards and W. E. Shaw.

Interment was in the family plot, Nelson Memorial Park.

Trail Projects Society Plans Busy Program

TRAIL, B. C. — Dr. C. A. H. Wright at the fifth annual meeting of the Warfield Recreational Projects Society, outlined the history and aims of the group since its foundation in 1947. He said that of the original plans for recreational facilities in the greater Trail area nearly half had been completed in the three years the society has functioned.

Further improvements were planned for swimming facilities at Gyro Park and cable for lighting the old rink had been purchased, Mr. Wright said.

Plans for a community hall in Warfield were proposed. A building committee should be formed, Mr. Wright said, to survey the property and decide what facilities were required and plan how the hall is to be operated.

Plans for laying the pipe and landscaping the playground in early Spring were reported by the playground committee.

Other business of the meeting included the election of officers with A. C. Bickerton named President and Fred Keith secretary-treasurer. Board of directors will be R. G. Service, Pat Rooney, J. L. Grant and T. S. Harrison with W. G. Jewitt, Jr., representative to the Trail Athletic Association.

Trail Bowling

The schedule of the Cominco mixed bowling league was thrown out of kilter last week by the holiday, but they are to make it up later on. Up until last Tuesday night the Trail Ladies League hadn't made much of a show. However, during that session, the gals proved their worth. There were several 600 aggregates as well as a number close to 600. Peggy Reid of the Spitfires led her team to a four point victory with 265, 193, 260 for a grand total of 718. This proved to be the high total of the evening. Dot Pennie of the Whizbangs rolled the high single game of 290. Phil Scala with 658, and Mary Cronie with 651, helped their Gremlins to attain the high team aggregate of 2900.

Babies To Be Lowered in Baskets In Case of Fire at Hospital

A basket system for evacuation of babies from maternity floor of Kootenay Lake General Hospital in case of fire, is going to be installed.

Board of directors at its meeting Tuesday night approved the $150 expenditure subject to the approval of L. Cruickshank, secretary-manager, and G. A. McDonald, fire chief.

Recommendation of the installation for the third floor, which at present has no fire escape, came from the fire chief. An escape could be built only at a considerable expense.

With the baskets, between 18 and 20 babies can be lowered to the ground from a maternity floor window in between five and 10 minutes, and the nurse placing them in the baskets can use a basket herself for escaping in event of fire.

The baskets operate from an arm swing by gravity. As one goes down with its cargo, the other is on its way up. The baskets are two feet square, of screen wire with latch lids, and will carry up to 1000 pounds.

The system is easier and quicker than having a fire ladder raised and having a fireman transport babies one at a time to the ground.

Nelson Arthritis, Rheumatism Unit Will Get Physiotherapy Service

A physiotherapist is to be appointed for Nelson unit of the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society.

The provincial branch of the organization has informed the unit it will appoint a physiotherapist if accommodation can be found, and board of directors of Kootenay Lake General Hospital Tuesday night paved the way for this.

Use of two rooms in upstairs of the isolation hospital was granted subject to details being ironed out, and the executive was empowered to act on the request.

Dr. F. M. Auld asked for the isolation hospital accommodation on behalf of the unit.

A year ago the unit campaigned for funds for the Society, and its objective of $2500 was achieved, he said.

The provincial branch has had difficulty in obtaining physiotherapists for the various units, and Nelson and New Westminster have been "running neck-to-neck" in eligibility.

BIG OPPORTUNITY

When the branch notified the Nelson unit it was ready to make the appointment provided accommodation could be found, the unit felt it should not let the opportunity slip.

Dr Auld pointed out that upstairs of the isolation hospital was not ideal for the purpose, but was practically the only accommodation available for opening for treatments.

The stairs would be a drawback for some rheumatism and arthritis sufferers, but those with leg disabilities could be among those treated at home.

Nakusp Library May Link With B.C. Association

NAKUSP, B.C. — Nakusp library may become a member of the Public Library Association.

The library, which is administered by the Nakusp Women's Institute, was advised to link up with the Association by C. K. Morison of Victoria, superintendent of the B.C. Library Commission, at a public meeting here.

Under the Public Library Act, the library could benefit annually to the extent of $250, the standard minimum, he said.

If the Nakusp organization could not raise dollar for dollar, he suggested that various organizations in Nakusp be asked to assist in raising the sum.

Mr. Morison told of the work of libraries in the province. He said 26 belonged to the association.

Members decided to apply to Victoria for re-organization with the Public Library Association.

Last Rites Conducted For J. Declara, Natal-Michel Oldtimer

NATAL, B.C. — The funeral of John Declara, who died in Fernie Memorial hospital after a short illness, took place at Natal. Funeral services were conducted by Father E. Brophy at St. Michael's church. Members of both the Italian Societies and members of the R.A.O.B. Michel Order, marched from the church in paying final respects to one of their departing brothers.

Mr. Declara was 61 years of age, born in the small town of Goricizza di Cordroipo, Italy. He leaves no relatives in Canada. One nephew lives in his home town.

A veteran of the First Great War, he served with a Canadian Scottish regiment. He had just applied for his war pension when he became ill. He came to Michel from the Old Country in 1910 and outside of serving with the armed forces in Europe during the 1914-18 struggle, he spent the years at Natal-Michel with a few years at Fernie. After coming to this country he worked in the Michel mines for a short time. During the rest of the time he was in hotel work.

Elko Store, Home Lost In Early Morning Fire

ELKO, B.C. — Landmark on the Southern Transprovincial Highway between Cranbrook and Fernie, Beaudry's general store in which Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Beaudry also made their home was completely demolished by fire. Truckdriver Doug Vanlerberg noticed the smoke from the highway at 6:30 a.m. and roused the couple and Mrs. Beaudry's mother, Mrs. Ernest Rod, who escaped injury. Only two rifles and a pair of binoculars were salvaged.

The couple had heard a noise they ascribed to a sudden rainstorm, which was exploding rifle shells and roar of fire. Elko neighbors turned up at once as bucket brigade and saved the adjoining Beaudry service station and tourist cabins but all contents of store and home were lost. Some insurance was carried. The family has moved into one of its tourist cabins for the present.

Michel-Natal Hospital Society To Be Formed; Officers Named

NATAL, B.C. — Formation of a hospital society in the Michel-Natal area is under way following a public meeting here. A committee of seven was elected to proceed with incorporation and given power to act.

The meeting followed an earlier one in which the question of taking over the Michel hospital as a regularly organized hospital society was discussed, and a temporary committee formed to investigate possibility of taking over of the hospital by Michel-Natal.

Since then the committee has been in touch with the B.C. Hospital Insurance Service and attended the sessions of the Inquiry Board at Fernie.

It was pointed out that in the Michel-Natal area the members are paying the full B.C.H.I.S. fees for hospitalization services but are not receiving full service, as maternity benefits for out-patients at Michel-Natal were cut off May 1. The B.C.H.I.S. told the committee that these benefits would not be reinstated until such time as a regularly organized and incorporated Hospital Society was formed and had taken steps to run the hospital.

The question of financing the purchase of the hospital, equipment and supplies was also brought up. Money for this purpose could be raised either by a fixed sum levied on each member, by taxes levied on ratepayers under the incorporation of a hospital improvements district under the Water Act, or by a combination of both methods. Lengthy discussion was also held regarding the price of the present hospital building and equipment.

Thomas Uphill, M.L.A., Fernie, stated that there was an agreement between the Michel Hospital committee and the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company that the community's share toward the cost of the building was to be returned to the community. It was moved that the present hospital committee be discharged and that immediate steps be taken to form a Hospital Society.

Elected to the hospital committee were S. Grocutt, S. English, J. John, J. Ivanisko, J. Hulbert, Mrs. L. Cheston and Mrs. B. Mogielka. It was suggested that each wage-earner in the area be assessed $1 for immediate funds for the organization committee. Elected to the Michel-Natal District Hospital Society were:

President, S. English, Michel; vice president, S. Grocutt, Michel; secretary, J. Ivanisko, Natal; treasurer, Mrs. J. Mogielka, Sparwood. The organization committee will go under the same name.

Gyros Told of Notre Dame Work

Notre Dame College of Nelson was the topic at Nelson Gyro Club meeting as A. L. Cartier, Dean of the College, and two students, Miss Sheila Moss of Kelowna and Bud Godderiss of Rossland, outlined their views of the college. They told of the work the college is doing for students through curricular and Christian education.

"Education costs too much and too few are able to receive it," therefore, the college, which Mr. Cartier hopes will expand into a small liberal arts college, allows students of any denomination to take first and second year university with a relatively small tuition fee while sharing the work of housekeeping, janitor and other tasks to help with their room and board.

Poverty created fellowship which was difficult to find any other way, Mr. Cartier said. There was a certain richness in poverty and Notre Dame College students by working together to get an education with little funds had won this richness in fellowship. Students and professors alike worked together, side by side, not only in the class room, but in their everyday living, with a full spirit of cooperation.

"Students of the college come not only for an education," Mr. Cartier continued. "They come to build and strengthen their faith and obtain practice in combatting the problems of the world."

Bud Godderis told of what the student thought of the college and why they liked it. Main reason, he said, was because students were encouraged to follow the principles of their own faith, and the school was "one big family."

Miss Moss said Notre Dame gave a better chance to "broaden your personality" than a big school.

Business included the announcement of Dec. 19 for the Gyro Christmas party with Fred Cunningham chairman of the Christmas Committee.

Norway and Newfoundland have long been the world's chief exporters of cod-liver oil.

Two Youths Sent To Institution; One on Probation

Two juveniles were committed to the Boys' Industrial School and a third was given 12 months' suspended sentence when they appeared in Juvenile Court Tuesday, charged with attempted robbery and car theft.

The three had appeared before Juvenile Court Judge William Evans October 31, charged with attempted robbery of Ymir Motors. At that time, Benhjamin L. Kropinske, owner of the garage, testified that the trio drove up to the garage at 3 a.m. October 28 and requested oil for their car. While he serviced the car, he heard the bell of his cash register ring. He rushed into the garage and allegedly caught a youth in the act of pilfering the till.

Meanwhile, the other two drove away and Mr. Kropinske notified R.C.M.P., who found the car had been stolen from a used car lot in Nelson.

Road blocks were established and the other two were picked up by police in Nelson later that morning.

Two other charges of car theft were laid against two of the youths in Juvenile Court Tuesday. The charges arose over theft of a car from a Vernon Street car lot on Oct. 27 and one from a Baker Street garage Sept. 29.

When questioned by police, one boy answered, "I guess I'm just car crazy."

In his remarks to the two youths convicted on three charges the judge said, "This is not your first offense. You were in trouble last year, although you did not appear in court." The judge also blamed the parents in that there was "no discipline in the home and little or no guidance."

"I feel that for your own good, a period of constructive discipline would be of benefit to you," the judge told the youths before passing sentence.

Probation officer H. W. Jackson submitted a report to the court on the juveniles.

Gene Kelly Attacks Film Snobism, Says Musicals Should Win Oscars

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 20 (AP)—Gene Kelly today attacked "snobism," which he said kept some musicals and their stars from being given Academy Awards.

The issue arose when I suggested that Kelly and his latest picture might be up for Oscars next March. The actor-dancer-director said he doubted it.

"There is a strange sort of reasoning in Hollywood that musicals are less worthy of Academy consideration than dramas," he remarked. "It is a form of snobism the same sort that perpetuates the idea that drama is more deserving of awards than comedy. But actually the kind of thing that Groucho Marx and Red Skelton do is 10 times as hard as straight drama.

NO FAVORS

"No, I don't argue that musicals should be given a special category in Academy voting. I think musicals can and should stand on their own merit in competition with straight pictures. And I think perhaps next year or at least within 10 years, the movie musical will have progressed so far the Academy voters will not be able to overlook it.

"The same thing is true on the stage," he said. "The legitimate drama has stood still for about 20 years, while musicals produce the really exciting things in the theatre. Shows like 'Pal Joey,' 'Oklahoma?' and 'Carousel' are worlds apart from the operettas of the past.

"The culmination is in "South Pacific,' which I think is the greatest show I have ever seen."

The actor feels the movie musical is progressing in the same direction.

Letter From China Received at Coast

VANCOUVER, Nov. 20 (CP) — A letter showing how the Communists in China are attempting to extort more than a $1,000,000 from Chinese-Canadians was produced here today.

The letter — like the estimated 1,000 that have been sent to local Chinese — made no mention of direct money demands, but was blunt about the tortures that await relatives in China.

It was written to a local Chinese business man from his nephew in Hong Kong who had received word from relatives on the Chinese mainland.

Here are exerpts from the letter:

"They (the Communists) often arrest people demanding money. There is no way of meeting it. News of the people being forced to . . . commit suicide . . . is becoming a daily occurrence.

"We heard that Aunty was suspended by a rope forcing her to agree . . . Have in the past used up U.S. $800 being donatoins by overseas Chinese for repiars (to a bridge).

"This has been settled by the repayment of . . . Hong Kong $4000 or more within a time limit of seven days. (Some is still owing) Your nephew is now making plans to meet this situation.

"The Communist bandits have forced Grandma to declare whether she has any gold, silver or jewelry, have demanded that she bring them forth otherwise they will wreck the house to investigate, and should any be found, she will be severely punished."

The letter said "the communists' bandits" actually tore down the roof and dug a hole in front of the household altar but found nothing.

"If this continues our two families will also be forced to pay fines, although it will be difficult to know what excuses they will use. Surely it will be inevitable.

"We are ever anxious that everyone will remit promptly.

"Please regard that human lives are more important than anything else."

The nephew concluded that the "coming few months will be . . . most gruesome for the people . . . But in eight or nine months, the people in the interior will recover their real freedom."

The letter was in Chinese and was translated for publication.

U. K. Prisoners Say Treatment Not Bad

LONDON, Nov. 20 (AP) — War Secretary Anthony Head said today letters from Britons captured in Korea "stressed their treatment is reasonably good."

"Letters from these men to their relations, of which some 600 have been brought to our notice, have in nearly every case stressed their treatment is reasonably good, that suitable clothing and accommodation has been provided, and that food is enough to exist on."

No Promises From Churchill on Atom

LONDON, Nov. 20 (Reuters) — Prime Minister Churchill today refused to say whether he would seek assurances from President Truman that no decision for the use of atomic weapons in Korea would be taken without consultation with Britain.

Mrs. Barbara Castle, a left-wing Labor member, had urged him to do this.

"Beaver" Urges Population Shift

MONTREAL, Nov. 20 (CP) — Lord Beaverbrook, Canadian-born publisher of the London Daily Express, said in an interview today that the centre of the British Commonwealth would be in North America if some of his recommendations were put into force.

In Montreal briefly before travelling to Jamaica, Lord Beaverbrook also made this comment: "It has been stated that I have newspaper interests in Canada. I have no interest, direct or indirect, in any newspaper in Canada."

Beaverbrook said that since Britain has plenty of available manpower and Canada a vast wealth of resources, a population shift should be considered.

"Let Canada take the decision to shift some portion of the overcrowded population of Britain," he said. "Then the centre of the Commonwealth will be on this continent. Persuade some of the great industries to set up works here. They are overtaxed in Britain."

Lord Beaverbrook said his own newspaper represents an investment of millions of pounds.

"Last year the paper made about £800,000. The government took £506,000 in taxation before any dividends were paid. Then when the balance was distributed to the shareholders we were taxed all but sixpence on every pound."

He said that as principal shareholder, with nearly three-fourths of the stock, he received only £6000.

"It is difficult to administer a business economically when you're given such a trifling reward for your labors."

Egypt Accused of Blind Censorship

NEW YORK, Nov. 20 (CP)—Blind censorship, in which news stories are blocked or distorted with political bias, is being used in Egypt, the New York Times says today.

Frequently used in totalitarian countries, blind censorship is designed to suppress news destined for foreign countries as well as to distort some of the news that is sent out, the Times says in a London dispatch.

The essential feature of the system is that correspondents, after placing their dispatches in the hands of the censors, may not see how their articles are cut or amended before being released abroad. Consequently, the Times says, they often don't know until top late what their stories actually say and have no opportunity to prevent biased versions from being sent to their newspapers or news agencies.

The Times says that reports to official quarters in London reveal that since Egypt became embroiled with Britain, the Egyptian Ministry of the Interior is using this type of censorship not only to suppress military information but also to eliminate material favorable to Britain or unfavorable to Egypt.

FANS RETURN TO FASHION

LONDON, Nov. 20 (CP) — The inclination of London and Paris dress designers to couple ostrich and lace fans with some of their more exotic gowns is causing British fashion writers to recall the "language of the fan."

In the old days the fan in a lady's hands spoke a language of its own. If she wishes to communicate with a gentleman without speaking, she could do so by judicious use of the fan.

Fashion writers note this could still be a useful method of silent telegraphy — providing the modern male takes the trouble to learn the code.

Kimberley Couple Married 25 Years

KIMBERLEY, B.C. — Mr. and Mrs. Lars Paulson will remember their silver wedding anniversary for a long time.

At a dance given by their friends in Moose hall, they were presented with a coffee table on which were a silver tray and cream and sugar set, and a bouquet of chrysanthemums. H. Nordlund made the presentation.

The youngest of their five children, Bobby, presented Mr. Paulson with a gold wrist watch and Mrs. Paulson with a set of matched luggage. A set of flatware and an end table lamp came from relatives in Bawlf, Alta.

Spokane Honeymoon For Kimberley Couple

KIMBERLEY, B.C.—A pretty wedding was solemnized in Kimberley United Church when Kathleen June Newhouse, daughter of Mrs. V. Newhouse and the late Mr. N. Newhouse, and Kenneth Raymond Elkerton, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Elkerton, exchanged marriage vows.

The church was banked with white chrysanthemums for the ceremony, performed by Rev. G. A. Affleck. Mrs. E. Suart was organist, and G. Williams sang.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Syd Newhouse, the bride wore a rich gown of taffeta with a double skirt of white silk net. Her beautiful imported French lace redingote was styled with a wing collar and lily point sleeves, and her fingertip veil fell from a cap of white velvet edged with ostrich plumes. A shower bouquet of red roses and a four strand pearl necklace and matching earrings, gifts from the groom, completed the picture.

GREEN MAUVE GOWNS

Mrs. Joyce Yound as matron of honor wore a two-piece gown of apple green moire taffeta with a matching headdress which caught a shoulder-length veil. Pink and yellow chrysanthemums were combined in her Colonial bouquet.

Mauve organza with pink lace trim was chosen by the junior bridesmaid, Miss Marilyn Profit, niece of the groom. Her headdress matched her gown, and she carried a Colonial bouquet of white and mauve button chrysanthemums.

Mr. William McLay was best man, and Mr. D. White and Mr. J. Young seated the guests.

A three-tiered cake topped by a miniature bride and groom and flanked by pink and white tapers in antique brass holders was cut at a reception for 52 guests at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. Affleck proposed the toast to the bride.

A tailleur of black and white pic and pic with red accessories and a brown mouton topcoat were donned by the bride before she left on a wedding trip to Spokane.

Mr. and Mrs. Elkerton will live in Lois Creek, Kimberley.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Douglas and Mr. and Mrs. H. McKay and their family.

SHOWERS GIVEN

The bride was honored at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. J. Young. Bingo was played and the guest of honor was presented with gifts in a basket decorated with blue netting studded with rosebuds.

A double presentation shower was also held in Union hall for Mrs. Elkerton and Mrs. Nelson Todd, another bride, and Miss June Archibald presented them with torchiere lamps. Hostesses were Miss Dorothy Aune and Mrs. Young.

VOWS SPOKEN AT NEW DENVER

NEW DENVER, B. C. — Sayoko Awamoto, daughter of Mr. E. Awamoto of Vancouver, became the bride of Masayoshi (Cue) Yamada in Buddhist hall here. Rev. J. Kuta of Coaldale, Alta., officiated.

The bride was attended by Miss Suzy Sakurai and the flower girl and page were Joyce and Ronnie Tobo, niece and nephew of the groom. Mr. Noboru Hayashi was best man.

A banquet for 85 guests was held later.

After a honeymoon in Spokane, the newlyweds will reside in Vancouver.

Boswell Club Plans For Christmas Tree

BOSWELL, B.C. — Community Christmas tree arrangements were made by members of Boswell and District Women's Club at their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Norman Bainbridge.

A committee was formed to handle collection and purchase of gifts. Donations were promised, and proceeds of a Dutch auction of home cooking were given to the committee.

Members also decided to send a parcel to Richard Embree who is in the U.S. Navy. The meeting was told Crawford Bay school is in need of high school reference books.

The Shareholder And the Employee

An editorial in the July-August issue of Dominion Foundries and Steel Limited employee publication points up in an understandable way the role of the shareholder in business systems.

The editorial tells the fanciful story of an employment manager interviewing a prospective applicant for a job and asking him if he has a certified cheque ready covering the cost of $10,000 worth of the necessary equipment to put him to work. "How many of us would be working at Dofasco today," asks the editorial, "if that imaginary conversation had taken place the day we applied for a job? Imagine a steelworker paying for an open hearth! Or a machinist supplying a lathe! Or an engineer bringing a diesel locomotive! Those things cost thousands of dollars; more than any of us could afford. And yet those are but a few of many costly items we must have in order to do our jobs."

The editorial points out that this is where shareholders enter the picture of job security, "for they are the people who provide the tools we must have if we as individuals are to do our jobs. The assurance of continuing employment tomorrow, next month, next year depends upon the shareholders who provide management with sufficient funds to enable them to plan ahead, to increase production and decrease costs by installing newer, more modern equipment, to branch out in new lines, and to carry out long-range expansion programs."

One of the further benefits of the Canadian way of business that the employees' publication did not point out is that it is also possible by thrift and prudent investment for the employee in many cases to also become a shareholder in the business that employs him.

The Sacred Bark

Cascara sagrada, which interpreted from the Spanish means "sacred bark", is the common name for the native British Columbia tree Rhamnus Purshiana, more commonly referred to as the cascara-tree. This tree, from which the drug cascara is obtained, was thought to be held sacred by the early Indians, an idea obviously picked up by the Spanish explorers. Strangely enough, unlike other medicinal plants native to British Columbia, no mention is made of the cascara-tree in the Indian language and writings. It has been established, however, that they did recognize the tonic properties of its bark.

The tree is valuable today, as its bark and wood provide the only source of the drug cascara, the only known "tonic" laxative. Other laxative drugs are available, but they all tend to become more or less habit-forming. Cascara extract is reputed to tone or strengthen the peristaltic muscles of the intestinal wall, so that after a period lesser amounts of the drug are required. Cascara today forms the basis of many medical compounds produced by the modern drug industry.

As valuable as this tree is, harvesting of the bark has reduced the original stand of trees by 90 per cent. It is possible that if adequate conservation is not practised soon, British Columbia may cease to be the chief source of supply in North America for the "sacred bark".

Flame Throwers

West Coast hot-rod fiends have been making pedestrians leap like kangaroos ever since some nameless hot-rodder rigged a sparkplug in his exhaust pipe and made a profound discovery—that waste gases, thus ignited, produce a spectacular "hoosh" of flame. Last week the Portland, Ore., City Council was taking steps to make hot-rod flame-throwing illegal. But the fad was moving faster than the lawmakers. Longview, Wash., reported with nervous pride that a local rodder was regularly getting a six-foot "hoosh".—Time Magazine.

Arise

Do you ever have the feeling that switching off those incredible radio programs isn't enough? Have you ever felt you'd like to exterminate the superior news boomer or the nauseous soap vendor? This urge to kill, to smash the loudspeaker, to put the torturer on the rack, has been sublimated by the talkative Italians into the development of the most inspiring invention since the record-player.

This invention of the just is called the Italian Radio Listeners' Association, and its tens of thousands of fellow-sufferers banded together last year to fight back against the space-rated air. Last month, according to The Manchester Guardian, the Association took up its cudgels and went to court, where it proceeded to sue the Italian Broadcasting Association for alleged failure to fulfil its contract to its listeners.

The downtrodden listeners accused the national radio organization of failing to provide programs which inform, amuse and educate, of spoiling programs with commercial publicity, and of putting more advertising time on the air than is permitted under regulations.

This league of the damned specifically stated that much of the leisure-time listening hours is spoiled "by a string of emphatic statements and songs in praise of purgatives, aperitifs, dentifrices, cheeses, shoe polish, soaps, socks and so on, often in a most objectionable form, as in the case of the lady who writes from the seaside to her husband that although she misses him, she misses her sewing machine far more."—Calgary Herald.

Press Comment

QUITE DIFFERENT

Lord Ismay, Churchill's Commonwealth Relations Secretary, told a luncheon meeting: "There was once a cavalryman who was so stupid that even his brother-officers noticed it." Lord Ismay, a cavalryman himself, adds the story was repeated at the Cavalry Club and nobody saw the point.—Ottawa Journal.

Beautify the entrances to the smaller towns, suggests the Wingham (Ont.) Advance-Times. "Wingham is a very pretty town and from a distance the trees and buildings create a very eye-pleasing effect which is ruined by the naked approach from the South. We would suggest that trees and shrubbery be planted along the highway for a quarter of a mile or so. There is a natural beauty about this country and a little assistance to nature will cover up our man-made structures and wouldn't be far amiss. Perhaps one or both of the service clubs or some other civic body would be interested in sponsoring this project. There would be little expense involved in comparison to the results obtained, and Wingham would certainly give a more pleasing impression to both visitors and residents."

Everyone wants anti-inflation control for the other fellow, points out the Montreal Star, "but not for themselves. The wage-earner wants more money, but he wants everything to be cheaper. The companies hit by credit restrictions believe that credit should be cut down—but not for them. The man who wants to borrow from the banks will agree that bank credit should be reduced in general but not in particular—especially where he is concerned.

"There should be, we think, more sympathy and understanding for the Government and its policies. It is trying to restrain inflation by means which, whether you like them or not, have that tendency. All its actions are consistent. You get somewhere with them, even if not very far."

The United States is not the only country where moral values have slipped, declares the Sherbrooke Record. "Former United States President Herbert Hoover, in his native Iowa, delivered an eloquent appeal to his countrymen to help find the way back to moral decency in American public life. He could well have added 'private life' and made his remarks apply to other countries than his own United States. If we are to find our way back to decency, what better guideposts can we have than the Commandments so many seem to have ignored in this troubled time."

Names

"The vicar of a Paddington church in London has declared his pleasure that in these days, when he asks the godfathers and godmothers to "name this child", he gets a nice sensible answer like Henry or John or Mary or Margaret. There was a time, the vicar says, when the latest film star provided the only choice; and he adds darkly: "One was sick to death of the endless Shirleys." We all know, of course, the kind of millstone-round-the-neck that some choices can be to the ladies. I mean that if you get yourself called after a child-star, it can be an embarrassment when your namesake starts playing grandmother parts.

Says Australia White Man's Settlement; Wants No Mixing

Sir—In answer to your article, "Australia Preferred", may I tell Canadians why so many Britishers prefer Australia to settle in than Canada, and how much more advanced Australia is to the general belief in this country? We Australians appreciate the offer of friendly advice from you Canadians, but I think you should allow Australia to decide on its own immigration laws and the types it should allow to enter. They, I think, know best what is good for the country and we are in no hurry to populate our country. Development is slow, certainly, but is good and sound so why surround a solid, firm and dependable nucleus with a sodden mass? We have the color bar in Australia because it is a white man's settlement. We want no internal strife, no mixing of the breeds, which all lead toward deterioration and general weakness until we are reduced to a class of imbeciles. Our goal is a strong, white Australia, advancing with England and the U.S. We are now well on that road and much further advanced than the average Canadian is led to believe. Immigration is not limited to the people of one race, but to the better types of all white races, and Australians are no imitators of any old land but just an offshoot of the Old World, retaining all the things that go towards reproduction of the finest breed the world has ever known.

Again, where does this impression come from that Australia is a backward country? To me that seems very funny, and at the same time I don't like it, because it keeps people over here, in your new world ignorant of the facts of life in Australia. May I state just a few? Australia in many ways is much further ahead than Canada and if I may say so, a happier country. Australia, though lacking in quantity is producing in quality and enough for export as well as home consumption. We produce our own cars, trucks, ships and aircraft, all 100 per cent Australian, not, mind you, built under licence. General manufacturing there is booming ahead, mostly Australian, though there are a few English and U.S. firms operating. Dams and more power are being built up and produced annually. On top of this is our great wool industry, wheat, beef, wines, gold, iron, steel, to mention only a few, so how far back are we?

The standard of living is as high as any in the world though the average housewife doesn't have everything to make housekeeping easier, or the average working man doesn't have a Pontiac. But neither do they have all kinds of creditors calling on payday to absorb the poor unfortunate's earnings. So life is much happier and carefree over there and the climate is in his favor for he can work all the year round and add to his savings rather than absorb any that may have been left by the Winter, as happens over here. The Australian too, when he is not playing around on the beaches or touring the countryside or the Blue Mountains, can go to the theatre or a night club for a nominal charge which he can well afford. There a fellow may take his girl or his wife to a very select place, have an excellent dinner and drinks, any drink he likes, dancing and music, cabaret for two, for about $7.50 inclusive. He doesn't have to nip into a lavatory and gulp down whiskey from a bottle at the risk of being caught and heavily fined; no, he prefers to sit in comfort and pleasant surroundings, atmosphere and companionship, and take his whiskey comfortably and like a gentleman, and he gets it that way. If he wants to gamble, well, he can have that too, in full view of the public, at the races or in lotteries, most of the proceeds of which go to some deserving cause. If he wants none of these things, well, he can relax in his garden or on the beaches in the glorious Australian sunshine.

Taxation is another bitter pill here that wouldn't be taken by the Australian. He has his income tax and amusement taxes but that's it. Apart from petrol tax, when he purchases some little necessity he is not informed, "Yes, that is so much with tax". He'd hit the roof if he was. Australians are lucky people. So are New Zealanders. Unfortunately, many of them don't realize how much, but I think they are beginning to, and will. I for one, do not envy Canadians or life as they know it, nor am I alarmed at the slow immigration movement in Australia. It is, I think, in the interests of a happier and better people "down under".

Australia's war record is second to none. They have reason to be proud of it. They will never be found lacking. They will always be there when the Motherland calls. No despising remarks are heard over in those two great Dominions on royalty, because loyalty is part of their breeding without which no nation, young or old, can hope to survive. The words "There'll always be an England" ring in my ears particularly when I hear some nasty remark as "Why should we worry about the King, he means nothing to us", and so on, and likewise, I say "There'll always be an Australia", because loyalty is so much part of our makeup, it's in the breeding.

With these few words I conclude: I hope they may be published, if only to give the true facts of life as it is over there in that backward land.

Oh, just one thing more. I think it is priceless, but just the price of ignorance. The other day my wife was at a hen panty. During the conversation a woman approached her and said: "I hear you are an Australian", and when my wife confirmed this fact, the lady in question exclaimed: "How remarkable": My wife, at a loss, remarked: "But what is so remarkable about that?", to which the woman replied: "Why you have such a wonderful command of the English language! !" Can you beat that ? ? ?

AN AUSSIE.

FOR THE FOURTH YEAR IN SUCCESSION British Columbia's apple exhibit is causing wide comment at Canada's Royal Winter Fair in Toronto. The exhibit this year put on by British Columbia Fruit Growers, is in the form of an eight sided, revolving pyramid with the letters B.C. done in Golden Delicious apples on a background of Red Delicious apples with a triangular border of Green Newtons. Around the base of the exhibit are standard boxes of packed apples interspaced with apples packed in the new junior boxes.

Views From the News Fronts

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press News Analyst

The Allied disarmament proposal before the United Nations, designed to let the world see just where Russia stands on peace, already has the Soviets screaming.

Vishinsky laughed when Acheson sat down to play, but the tune seems to be making a deep penetration. The Soviet and satellite press didn't think it should publish Vishinsky's mirth over a topic which is close to the hearts of people everywhere.

In what Allied diplomats quickly interpreted as an effort to divert attention from the Soviet position in Paris, Moscow brings up a rehash of old charges that the Allies are violating the Italian peace treaty in their effort to effect a Yugoslav-Italian agreement over Trieste.

And the Red government of China chimes in with a radio attack on the Allied program. It apparently anticipates U.N. approval of the U.S.-sponsored proposals by calling the U.N. a tool of the United States, and tries to make the program out to be a part of an American desire to "dominate the world."

KILLS ARGUMENTS

The Western disarmament resolution as finally presented by State Secretary Acheson of the United States, skilfully draws the sting of many arguments left to the Soviet obstructionists.

It proposes that the U.N. arrange a disarmament conference—something the Soviets asked for. It provides for attendance by all nations which maintain sufficient arms to affect the world peace level. This includes Communist China, and robs Foreign Minister Vishinsky of Russia of a chance to set up a howl for that on his own hook.

While this whole manoeuvre calls for Russia to put up or shut up on her "peace offensive," that will hardly be the result. Russia will fume and wiggle out, continuing her efforts to convince people that she is the one who really wants peace while the Allies seek imperialist power. The record of her campaign of chaos should be clearer, however when this debate is over.

Turk-Canadian Won't Argue

VANCOUVER, Nov. 20 (CP) — Turkish-born Vahan Tashdjian, owner of a Persian art store here, today accepted a ruling of the income tax appeal board that will cost him many thousands of dollars.

"I will not argue with the decision of my loving Canada," he said. "I shall never contradict the judgment of my country. It involves our integrity, our way of life."

A naturalized Canadian for 27 years, Tashdjian has been ordered to pay income tax on $52,924 which he claimed he won in three years of playing the horses.

The board ruled in Ottawa that Tashdjian had not provided corroboration for his story that his large bank deposits came from race track winnings. Normally, horse racing and other wagers are not subject to income tax.

Tashdjian, a dealer in fine silver and antiques, claimed his success was due to his friendship with Eddie Arcaro, ace jockey in the United States.

But in New York today Arcaro denied the friendship and called the story "fantastic."

Famous Gloucesters Homeward for Leave

PUSAN, Korea, Nov. 20 (AP) — The Glorious Gloucestershire Battalion, all that was left of it, left today for Britain and Christmas after more than a year of service in the Korean War.

The battalion was hardly the same one that landed here Nov. 7, 1950.

Of those returning, only 15 were survivors of last April's murderous battle of the Imjin, when the Gloucesters were trapped and almost wiped out in a hopeless two-day stand.

The rest of the original 600 officers and men—save for a few evacuees and wounded—are dead or missing.

Most of the officers and men who filled the battalion's ranks today are replacements poured in from Japan after the disaster. With the new men, the battalion reorganized and fought through the bloody Fall offensive that carried the Allies back across the Imjin and deep into Red build-up areas.

As a farewell, Maj.-Gen. A. J. H. Cassels, Commander of the 1st Commonwealth Division, sent the Gloucesters a final message:

"Your regiment, which already had a fine reputation, has won a reputation finer still after what you have done in Korea and we and the people at home are very grateful to you for that."

The Gloucesters also carried with them the American Distinguished Unit citation which was conferred on the battalion by order of President Truman after the Imjin fight. By special order of the King, the Gloucesters may wear the blue-and-gold citation badge.

Quebec Police Spare None in the Clean-Up of Liquor Lawbreakers

By KEN KELLY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL, Nov. 20 (CP). — Crime, what sociologists call the cancer that destroys a nation's moral health, has undergone some drastic surgery in Quebec Province; and the treatment isn't finished, police say.

Police are cutting at the roots of crime, in the places where it might breed — betting houses, gambling joints and illegally-open night spots.

The most spectacular move was made last week when a squad of Quebec Provincial Police made a cloak and dagger raid 180 miles from their base. Their objective—Montreal's richest gambling joint where hundreds met nightly to enjoy French Canada's favorite dice game, barbotte.

Close on the heels of the gambling raid came the closing of one of the city's night clubs for operating after the 2 a.m. closing hour set by Provincial law.

The club automatically lost its liquor licence and its valuable stock of liquor in a raid by Provincial Police in the heart of nightclub row on downtown St. Catherine Street.

Such raids aren't new in Montreal where it has always been possible to get a drink after hours. But there are two factors indicating that clubs once raided would stay closed this time.

PETITION CIRCULATED

The first is a petition now being circulated among Roman Catholic parishes in the Province calling on the Provincial Government to enforce the liquor laws more rigidly. Priests in all churches in the Montreal archdiocese preached sermons last Sunday urging the faithful to sign the petition which will be sent to Premier Duplessis.

The second indication that this cleanup is final for those caught is the remarks of the Premier to the Quebec Legislature in commenting on the petition.

He said the Provincial Police will spare no one who is brought to their attention as breaking the liquor laws or the laws against gambling. Such a promise, if broken would give the Opposition a good issue to bring into the campaign now going on in anticipation of an election next year.

The clean-up seemed to have spread to other cities in the Province. From Quebec came reports of a police raid and seizure of 9000 ticket stubs to be used in the drawing of an automobile at a wrestling program.

Meanwhile, in Sherbrooke police made the first raid in 13 years on an alleged brothel and picked up two men and three women.

Dynamite Explosion Injures Coast Boy

VICTORIA, B.C., Nov. 20 (CP)—Victor Rowe, 13-year-old William Head youth, is in hospital here today with a badly mangled right hand, as the result of a dynamite cap explosion.

Rowe was given immediate surgery for his injury in hospital. Several bones were blown away. Additional surgery may be required to save the hand.

The injured boy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Rowe of William Head.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP) — The Bureau of Mines said today world production of crude petroleum last May—most recent month for which statistics are available—averaged 11,975,000 barrels daily, an increase of 302,000 barrels compared with the April daily rate.

The largest gains in daily average production over April were in Canada, the Middle East and the United States.

LARRY RATCLIFFE

Those of us in Kimberley who have waited with interest as the season got under way for the Nelson Maple Leafs to make their first appearance here were in for many surprises in Friday evening's knock-'em-down-drag-'em-out affair that Kimberley won 10-2. That's right, their first victory, but Kimberley can't claim a legitimate hockey victory even yet . . . Friday night there was only about fifteen minutes of honest-to-goodness hockey and it was a wee bit far-between.

Now, on to Friday's "game". Kimberley officials went back to the two-man referee system and though we certainly aren't going to say that there was much improvement, we would admit that the two referees, Stan Layton and Sandy Sanderson, BOTH were kept busy, while Layton carried the large share of the work before.

The score? Penalties and hot tempers played a large part in it, with many a goal coming with men glumly watching from the sin-bin. The Kimberley team, it must be admitted, were flying, though, and deserved their victory.

★ ★ ★

Now that we have had a look at Eddie Wares' 1951-52 edition of the Leafs, we have come to several conclusions about the W.I.H.L. third-place squad. We'll work from the goal out, if you don't mind . . .

Boomer Rodzinyak, a youthful goal-tender but a fellow who can compare favorably with anything we have seen here in years, played a losing battle, kicking out 40 drives (by our books) and letting in 10 goals . . . none of which were flukes or softies. Dave McLay, who let only two goals past him, played a lovely game, but the brilliant playing of the "Boomer" stole the show.

Defensively the Leafs looked like the Dynamiters of last year and the year before . . . plain lousy. Ernie Gare and George Crothers were absent, but Eddie Wares, George Barefoot, Bruno Pasqualotto, and Bob Gilhooly can compare with the other defencemen in this league usually. They didn't this game . . .

Up front, pint-sized Red Koehle and smoothie Don Appleton didn't quit, in the early stages, which is more than we can say for some of the others. Appleton, incidentally, was in on both Leaf goals. Bill Haldane played his usual good game and newcomer Glen Smith showed some lovely bursts of speed, but there was little else on the ice going either way.

That, then, gentlemen, is our opinion of your Nelson Maple Leafs after seeing them in just one game, a defeat . . . Perhaps, in the next Nelson game here, everything will be different.

★ ★ ★

What of the Dynamiters? McLay played a smart game of goal, as he usually does on his home ice. The forwards, with Buzz Mellor and Spence Tatchell playing big parts, were finally hitting the net.

But it was on defence that the locals really hit their stride. A vastly-improved Red Sutherland and a slamming Tank Johnston sparked the way to a big win. Sutherland played the best game he has ever played on Kimberley ice, in a Trail or Kimberley uniform, while the "Tanker" was finally hitting at every opportunity, something his fans have been waiting for for a long time.

SHOTS AND PASSES

Eddie Wares, when sent off the ice early in the game, drew much criticism here. Always a great guy for holding up a game to argue each and every call, the Nelson coach went just a little bit too far to many people's way of thinking, and he got his just desserts for something that started a year ago. One game last Winter Wares and Layton argued but the Kimberley referee kept calm, cool, and collected and Wares behaved the rest of the game, or most of it at least. This time there was no playing around, thank heaven.

The Barefoot incident would be better forgotten. With 10 seconds remaining, his team behind 10-2 and without a hope in the world of winning, the rugged Leafian boarded a Kimberley forward savagely, created a rumpus, and finally ended up nearly tangling with a fan. That is not hockey.

Bobby Schmeid, the Kimberley centre, seems to love the rough stuff and he certainly doesn't dodge it. In fact, his penalty-a-period exhibition, and the stuff he got away with, certainly won't make him a favorite in other towns.

Slashing, elbowing, tripping, holding up the game with arguments and fighting do nothing to help hockey and yet almost every player from both teams seemed to worry more about that than the puck. We mention the above incidents only as the worst examples and hope that the coaches of B.C. hockey squads, all 10 of them, will tell their boys to settle down and play the game as it should be played . . . for a change.

Vernon Upsets Smoke Eaters 5-4

Ritson's Late Goal Breaks Deadlock to Give Canadians Win; Play Here Tonight

TRAIL, B.C., Nov. 20—A smooth Vernon Canadian team outplayed the Western International Hockey League leading Trail Smoke Eaters for a 5-4 upset win before 2700 fans.

Vernon led 2-1 at the end of the first period and 3-2 after 40 minutes, then had to come from behind when the Smokies pumped in two tallies early in the third to take a 4-3 lead.

Ching Dheere with two, Leo Lucchini and Stan Mills scored Vernon's other tallies while Bill Ramsden, Johnny Ryplen and Mike Shabaga with a pair were the Trail marksmen.

Only four penalties were handed out in a close, well-played game, each team drawing two.

The Canadians move on to Nelson for a game against the Maple Leafs, then play the Kimberley Dynamiters Thursday.

6-Team Senior Hockey Set-Up At Coast Seen

VANCOUVER, Nov. 20 (CP) — The Kerrisdale Monarchs and the Nanaimo Clippers may be joined by four other teams on the Pacific Coast Amateur Hockey League next year it is reported here.

Vancouver Towers, a famous name in amateur hockey here from 1912 to 1929 may be re-established next season; New Westminster would be interested if Sunday hockey is permitted; Chilliwack may have a new rink ready in time, and Powell River has made inquiries about rinks and players.

"We can make real money in amateur hockey on the coast but they'll never get out of the red under present arrangements" Allan Fellowes who is behind the Towers entry, said.

"With a six-team set up to work with we wouldn't have to bother with the Okanagan Mainline League until the provincial play-offs."

NEW COACH FOR KERRIES?

Meanwhile, Sid Hole of the Kerrisdale Monarchs announced today that his team may have a new coach by the end of the season.

"Scotty Milne will remain with us in some capacity," said Hole. "He feels he cannot devote enough time to coaching and consequently isn't getting the most out of his players," Hole said.

"The decision to step down was Scotty's, not mine."

Milne has been with the team since mid-season last year. He will try to find a coach through his connections with the New York Rangers.

LIFE WITH BROWNS OKAY—Baby-faced Ned Garver, who won 20 games for the last-place St. Louis Browns, reportedly will go to the champion New York Yankees in a big deal to be announced soon. Now back home in Ney, Ohio, as the No. 1 citizen of little community of 300 people, the handsome 25-year-old hurler refuses to confirm or deny that he will be traded, saying: "I haven't talked to Veeck since the last day of the season, and at that time he said 'we' when he talked about 1952." "I suppose," he volunteered, "that I might be traded if Veeck can make the right deal." Garver's apparent lack of enthusiasm about the trade rumors stems from the fact that although he would like "to pitch in the world series," he would be just as happy "with Bill Veeck at the helm in St.Louis."—Central Press Canadian.

Leaf Scoring Honors Well-Divided

Don Appleton continues to pace Nelson scorers with 14 points but Red Koehle and Bill Haldane have gained ground in recent games.

Appleton leads the goal-getters with eight while runnerup Red Koehle is tied for top playmaker on the club with seven assists. He has five goals for 12 points.

Haldane, Leafs' high scorer last season, is third with 11 points on seven goals and four assists. He missed several early-season games because of an injury.

Bruno Pasquolatto is top point-getter in the blueline brigade, his seven assists tying him with Red Koehle in that department. Two goals boost him into a tie for fourth with Mickey Maglio and Fritz Koehle who have five goals and four assists.

Johnny Harms is the team's bad-man with 36 minutes in penalties.

There is little to choose between Nelson forward units, with only a five-point spread between the three lines. The Appleton-Maglio-Smith combo has 30 points, the Koehle-Koehle-McClenaghan unit 27 and the Harms-Haldane-Dobni trio 25.

In 17 games to date, the Leafs have scored an average of 3.29 goals per game as against 4.29 goals per game scored behind Boomer Rodzinyak.

In contrast the high-scoring league-leaders, Trail Smoke Eaters, until last night's tilt had averaged 6.3 goals per game while the opposition was scoring 3.46 per game on Sofiak.

Grid Fever Spreads to Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Nov. 20 (CP) — The missing link in Western Canada football—a Vancouver entry—may be reforged in 1952.

All that is needed is $25,000 on the line Jan. 1 to deposit with the Western Inter-Provincial Football Union and another $200,000 for operating expenses.

But it may be possible. A million and one schemes are under consideration to raise the money, including the floating of a bond issue.

Four-hundred sharp-eyed fans, most of them from the Prairies, last night got on the booster band wagon, many pledging financial support to make 1952 a revival year.

The back-to-football movement is sparked by Tiny Rader and Orville Burke, former Ottawa Roughriders star, who came here to coach the University of British Columbia team two years ago.

Vancouver last had senior Canadian football in 1941 under Coach Greg Kabat, one-time great of the Winnipeg Blue Bombers. It didn't work out well, lacking fan support, and folded after one season. The team was known as the "Grizzlies."

The $25,000 guarantee to be posted with the W.I.F.U. is designed to prevent any recurrence of the 1941 failure.

Earlier, it was reported that Burke, now an executive with a lumber firm here, might become coach if Vancouver fields a squad next season.

At the "desperation" rally an organizational committee was formed. It will chart the next move.

Rader told the rally that the penny-ante set-up of 10 years ago, when the entire budget was $12,000, must be forgotten.

Today, some American imports are paid more than that in a single season and team payrolls alone exceed $100,000.

Tom Molyneaux, an Edmonton golf pro here on vacation, told the boosters how Coach Annis Stukus "sold" football in Edmonton.

The Edmonton Touchdown Club had brought in the money. Booster clubs were organized among the women and school children.

There are plenty of Vancouver-trained players now in the big time, but it may be a problem to bring them back here.

The Prairie clubs — Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary and Edmonton — have promised not to poach and Eastern teams may make a similar promise.

Wings Blank Bruins 2-0

BOSTON, Nov. 20 (CP) — Tony Leswick and Red Kelly scored late in the third period to give Detroit's league-leading Red Wings a 2-0 victory over Boston Bruins tonight in a National Hockey League game witnessed by a slim 6190 crowd in Boston Garden.

The teams had battled through 114 minutes and 57 seconds of scoreless hockey in their last two meetings on Boston ice before little Leswick tallied at 14:57 of the finale on assists from Metro Prystal and Glen Skov. It was Leswick's second goal of the season.

Then after Bruin's goalie Sugar Jim Henry had been removed for a sixth skater in a desperate attempt to tie the count, defenceman Kelly fired the Red Wings' second goal into the empty net at 19:27.

FARGHER, THIRD OFFICIAL IN ACTION TONIGHT

Johnny Fargher may be in the Maple Leaf line-up tonight for the first time this season when Nelson plays host to the touring Vernon Canadians.

The addition of Fargher, whose job has kept him from steady practice until recently, may add scoring punch to the Leaf forward units. The part-time right-winger has always been a dangerous man around the net for the Leafs.

Another innovation which should create a lot of interest here will be an experiment with the three-man officiating system. In vogue in most other senior and pro leagues, it has never been tried in Nelson before. In practice, one man is designated as referee while the two linesmen patrol the boards and concentrate on offsides.

Johnny Lang will be referee in charge with Bill Wicken and Laurence Ludlow as linesmen.

First Basketball Night Friday; 2 Leagues Formed

First of a planned series of Basketball Nights in Nelson will get underway this Friday evening with two games planned in a new City League set-up.

Lemacs, senior women's team, will clash with the junior Bruinettes in the first of a twin bill aimed at reviving spectator interest here. Ramblers, an independent junior club will tangle with a senior city team, as yet un-named, in the second game.

Other teams in the four-team men's loop, the high school senior Bombers and Notre Dame College, will meet next Tuesday.

The Bombers and Bomberettes, third team in the girls' loop, will travel to Trail for games Friday against Trail high, then move on to Rossland Saturday evening for another pair of games there.

The Notre Dame College team, meanwhile, will travel to Kaslo Friday evening for a game against Kaslo High. This will be the second trip for the Bob Kenzie-coached team. It dropped a close 21-20 decision to Rossland High last Saturday in Rossland.

The Ramblers, (formerly Bruins) and Bruinettes, the independent junior teams, have also made a jaunt to Kaslo, splitting a pair there last weekend.

The Ramblers won their game 24-23 while the Kaslo girls downed the Bruinettes 32-30 in another close tilt. Return games are slated for Nelson in the near future.

Charley Orders NHL's Youngest Conacher Back to School

CHICAGO, Nov. 20 (AP) — Young Pete Conacher's career with the Chicago Black Hawks as a National Hockey League player has been short-lived.

Pete, 19-year-old left winger who joined the Hawks last week from the amateur rinks of Galt, Ont., has been ordered home by his father, Charley.

Charley, former Black Hawks manager, told Pete to come home and complete his schooling.

Meanwhile, the Hawks have brought up Sid Finney, a centre, from the St. Louis Flyers of the American Hockey League.

You Know Me, Al . . .

EDMONTON, Nov. 20 (CP)—Edmonton Eskimos received more than 11,000 applications for the club's allotment of 1372 Grey Cup tickets, Manager Al Anderson said today. Touchdown Club members got first call.

"We got letters from people as far away as Quebec City asking for tickets," Anderson said. "The favorite form of greeting on most of the applications was 'Al, old pal, remember me from away back when . . .!"

Anderson said the Western champion Saskatchewan Roughriders received 70 per cent of the ticket allotment for Western Canada, the Edmonton, Winnipeg and Calgary clubs each getting 10 per cent.

CLOSE GAMES IN BANTAM LEAGUE

According to games played to date, the Nelson Bantam Hockey League is shaping up as a well-balanced circuit.

Rangers just managed to squeeze out a 3-2 win over the Red Wings in one weekend encounter while the Rangers and Bruins played a rare scoreless tie in another clash.

Price, Wah and Moajelsky scored for the Rangers while Extrome got both tallies for the Red Wings in defeat.

It was a battle of goal-keepers in the Bruins-Rangers tilt with both Wood of the Rangers and Grundy of the Bruins playing outstanding games.

4 Junior Games Possible for New Natal-Michel Rink

NATAL, B.C., Nov. 20 — With the Crow's Nest Pass Coalers of the Western Junior Hockey League to play four of their home games at other rinks than the Bellevue arena, Natal-Michel has been assured of the first game, and possibly all four at a recent meeting of both the Natal-Michel arena executive and the Coalers' executive.

With both the rinks at Fernie and Pincher Creek not yet completed the arena at Natal-Michel, being nearest to completion, was the best bet to play these Coaler league games.

The first game is slated for Dec. 22 with the Medicine Hat Tigers being the visiting team. The outcome of the other three games as to whether they will be played at Natal-Michel or not will depend solely on the support of the local hockey fans.

Unless some unforeseen barrier arrives, such as lack of ice or failure to complete the necessary dressing rooms which are at present underway, the Natal-Michel hockey fans are assured of the Dec. 22 W.J.H.L. game when the new arena will most likely be officially opened.

The dates of the remaining three Crow Coaler League games which may be played at Natal-Michel are scheduled for January 8 against Edmonton Oil Kings; January 22 against Calgary Buffaloes and Feb. 18 against Moose Jaw Canucks.

The members of the Natal-Michel arena executive that attended the meeting included J. Thomson, president and R. Thomson, both of Michel.

SOMBREROS VS. HOMBURGS . . .

Ottawa, Regina Fans Vie For Grey Cup Color Laurels

OTTAWA, Nov. 20 (CP)—Striped pants, homburgs and briefcases — or broad-axes and mackinaws?

That was one of Ottawa's "problems" today as fans considered what to wear to offset the colorful stetsons and cowboy outfits Regina Roughrider supporters will wear to the East-West Grey Cup classic at Toronto on Saturday.

While the football followers continued to scramble for tickets to Saturday's game, Ottawa's colorful Mayor, Dr. Charlotte Whitton, led them in their already well-established belief that tomorrow's Eastern playoff with Sarnia Imperials is just a whistle-stop on the road to the Grey Cup.

Miss Whitton discounted suggestions that Ottawans should choose the black homburg and briefcase of Parliament Hill dignitaries.

Ottawa's badge, the mayor said, is the broad-axe.

"No doubt about it. Ottawa was carved out of the great pine forests with the broad-axe. Ottawa was built into one of the greatest lumbering empires on the continent with the broad-axe. Ottawa can bear the broad-axe to Toronto with pride, and just as appropriately and legitimately as any Westerner can sport a sombrero," she said.

Along with the broad-axe would go the mackinaw, the calked boots, and maybe the odd peavy or pike pole, she implied.

Mayor Whitton said she wouldn't take a broad-axe with her to Toronto herself when she goes to see the game Saturday, "although it'll be there in spirit."

REGINA, Nov. 20 (CP) — Football fever is mounting here as some 700 fans prepare to leave on two special trains tomorrow afternoon for Toronto and Saturday's Grey Cup final between Saskatchewan Roughriders and the Eastern champions.

About 75 fans already are in the Ontario capital, having travelled East with the Roughriders.

Another 150 were to go by air during the week while several carloads of rooters were reported Toronto-bound.

The two special trains have been tabbed the green and the white—the Roughriders' colors. Special cars have been provided for dancing. Wearing the "official" dress of white hats, plaid shirts, Roughrider ties and blue jeans, the Westerners will have plenty of chance to practice their whoops before they strut their stuff in staid Toronto.

Ten thousand copies of a "Saskatchewan Roughrider Extra" published by the Regina Leader-Post will be given away by a group of Regina fans at the Grey Cup game.

The four-page tabloid, printed in Roughrider colors, features a front-page cartoon of quarterback Glenn Dobbs throwing a loaf of bread to another player who is heading for the goal line, labelled "a hungry world." Riders have never won a Dominion final.

The Extra sports a banner headline saying "A Glad Howdy to the East From the Wheat Province." Across the bottom of the front page are the words "PS—Also Need Your Support for the South Saskatchewan River Project."

PRINCE CHARLES, who celebrated his third birthday, November 14.

MORE CUSTOMERS FOR BETTER MILK

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C. Nov. 20 (CP)—The dairy business of farmer William E. Crawford has nearly tripled. He's the dairyman whose milk was too good by Milk Board standards.

Mr. Crawford was summonsed for selling milk which was "too good" . . . It had more butterfat than Milk Board standards allow.

Judge F. Sullivan in County Court reversed a police court fine levied on the dairy. The judge said that at the time that if he had been obliged to judge on the act which brought about the charge, he would have declared the Milk Board's powers ultra vires.

Before the publicity, Mr. Crawford's dairy had 200 customers. Today it has more than 500.

New Trial Granted

VANCOUVER, Nov. 20 (CP) — Anthony Schlosser, who was called the mastermind of a $5000 bank robbery here, was granted a new trial by the British Columbia Court of Appeal.

He was sentenced to 20 years in prison when convicted at the June Assizes.

Alex R. McDonald, convicted with him and sentenced to 14 years, later was acquitted by the Court of Appeal at a hearing in Victoria.

A third man, Gordon Lyons, alias Blackie Weir, now is serving a four-year penitentiary sentence at Prince Albert, was charged with the other two but jumped $8000 bail here. His case has been traversed to the Winter Assizes.

The men were arrested following the robbery of the Alma Street branch of the Bank of Montreal last March 28.

801 Scarlet Fever Cases in Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Nov. 20 (CP) — A total of 1154 cases of scarlet fever, 801 of them in the city, have been reported in the Greater Vancouver area this year.

Quarantine officials state that the outbreak is "serious" and it may break all previous records.

Last year there were 190 and 253 cases in the city and metropolitan areas, respectively.

The previous top year was 1944 with 975 cases reported in Vancouver. There is no record for that year for the number in the metropolitan area.

One-fifth of the whole area of California is included in its 18 national parks, apart from 53 State parks.

WIN FOR UNIVERSITY

TORONTO, Nov. 20 (CP) — The University of Alberta won the grand champion steer of the show award at the Royal Winter Fair.

The champion, a shorthorn, Earl U. A. was exhibited by Fred Major, herdsman for the University. This is the second straight year the University has won the award.

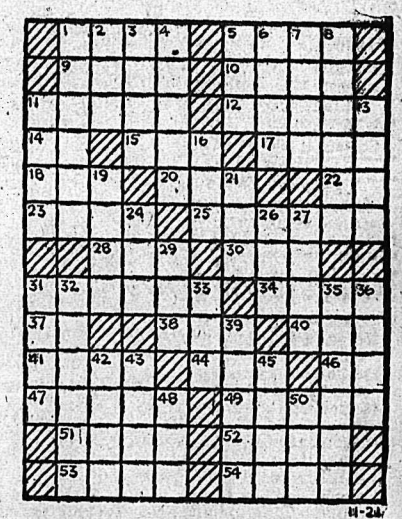
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
A L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Market Trends

NEW YORK, Nov. 20 (AP) — There was a lower drift although trading was enlivened by a rush of dividend declarations.

Losses went to between one and two points among leading issues, while gains extended from fractions to around a point.

Canadian issues were mixed. Dome Mines was ahead ⅛, Hiram Walker dropped ½, and Canadian Pacific and Distillers Seagrams were both off ¼. International Nickel was unchanged and McIntyre was not quoted.

TORONTO (CP)—Slightly firmer support toward the session's close checked declining prices. Industrials opened lower and eased for the fourth consecutive session.

Base metals checked their downward trend. Anacon Lead, East Sullivan, Chromium, Golden Manitou, Minda Scotia, Normetal and Tungsten were weak. Market leaders showed a majority of losses.

MONTREAL (CP) — Prices dropped abruptly near the close. Trading increased from Monday's extremely dull pace.

Consolidated Smelters dropped 1½ points to 170. Noranda fell one point to 80 and Aluminum 11 to 100½. Canadian Celanese was off 1½ at 47. Fraser one at 59, McColl-Frontenac one at 37, Algoma one at 44½, and Ford "A" 1¼ at 51½.

LONDON (Reuters)—With members engaged in the settlement of business done during the last trading period, active interest was small and price trends indecisive.

British Government funds opened with a continuation of the recent downtrend, rallied later, but closed with fractional net losses. Industrials and oils closely followed the changes of tone in gilt-edged and closed irregular.

VANCOUVER, Nov. 20 (CP) — Base metals moved into higher price levels but oils showed declines.

The decline in oils was small, but most stocks showed recessions at the close. Base metals posted small advances while golds showed little change.

Oil Leases Show Sharp Drop, Alta.

EDMONTON, Nov. 20 (CP) — A sharp drop in revenue from sale of oil leases left the Alberta Government with an overall deficit of $2,581,304 for the first half of the current fiscal year ended Sept. 30. Provincial Auditor C. K. Huckvale announced today.

The deficit compared with a surplus of $15,227,106 for the corresponding six-month period of the previous fiscal year.

Sale of petroleum and natural gas leases dropped from $23,534,000 to $7,025,053, accounting for most of the decrease. This was the Government's only source of income showing a major drop.

Reason given for decreased revenue from lease sales was that the more valuable leases were sold in the corresponding period of last year. It bore out an earlier prediction by Premier E. C. Manning that this situation would develop as oil companies bought up the best land.

Calgary Livestock

CALGARY, Nov. 20 (CP)—Trade was fairly active and prices generally steady on the Calgary Livestock Market. Receipts were a little higher, 1100 cattle and calves, with no strictly choice butchers offered.

Good butcher steers and heifers were steady, cows were weak to 50 cents lower for the week, bulls uneven. Good stocker and feeder steers were in fair demand at steady prices. Good stock calves were fully steady, veal calves about steady.

Hogs closed Monday at $30.50, sows at $18.25. Good lambs were steady at $29.50 to $30, with a few off car lambs bringing $30.50.

Good to near-choice butcher steers $32.50 to $34; common to medium, $26 to $32.

Good to near-choice butcher heifers, $30 to $32; common to medium, $24 to $29.

Good cows, $24 to $24.50; common to medium, $21 to $23.50; canners and cutters, $16 to $20.50.

Good bulls, $25 to $25.50; common to medium, $22 to $25.

Good stocker and feeder steers, $29.50 to $31.50; common to medium, $23 to $29.

Good to choice veal calves, $33 to $34; common to medium, $22 to $32.

CEILING ON LOGS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP) — Standard grades of logs produced in the United States Pacific Northwest Monday were placed under dollars and cents ceilings about equal to current prices.

The regulation is effective Nov. 24. It applies to a logging area mostly covering Western Washington, Oregon and California's extreme Northwest. O.P.S. said one-fourth of the lumber and two-thirds of the plywood produced in the United States comes from logs cut there.

Wheat Payments Raise Dissent

WINNIPEG, Nov. 20 (CP)—Stanley Jones, President of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, today said farmers have little reason to rejoice over the final payment of 28.65 cents a bushel on the 1950-51 crop.

Final payments totalling $105,000,000 or an average of 28.65 cents a bushel were announced Monday at Ottawa by Trade Minister Howe.

Mr. Jones said "wheat growers have little reason to rejoice at being paid a price, basis in store Fort William, lower than the lowest point registered by International Wheat Agreement quotations and which is 13½ cents under the I.W.A. high for the year, including the six-cent carrying charge paid by importing countries late in the year.

"The final price of $1.85½ basis No. 1 Northern also should be compared with the class 2 price which averaged $2.12¼ for the crop year and reached a high of $2.36¾."

$105 Million for Wheat Growers

OTTAWA, Nov. 20 (CP)—Prairie wheat farmers who participated in the 1950-51 Western Wheat Pool will share in final payments totalling $105,000,000, Trade Minister Howe announced in the Commons Monday. Checks will be mailed before Christmas.

This represents a final average payment of 28.65 cents a bushel on the 1950-51 crop—more than some farmers had expected.

It brings the price of top-quality No. 1 Northern to the farmer to $1.855 a bushel, basis deliveries to Fort William, Port Arthur or Vancouver. This is slightly higher than the $1.833 realized in the previous crop year.

Unlike average crops in the past, the 1950-51 crop was mostly low-grade wheat, but high world demand kept prices buoyant. Prices to the farmers ranged from $1.855 for No. 1 Northern to $1.446 for feed wheat.

In general, the articles sum up the differing views of the various writers on the controversial subject.

PROFITS SLIP

OTTAWA, Nov. 20 (CP) — A sample survey conducted among 10,000 independent retail stores shows that net profits for most of the stores were smaller last year than in 1948, the Bureau of Statistics reports.

It found net profits had declined, but gross profits and expenses had increased. Detailed reports on these studies, said the Bureau, now are being prepared for the public.

It also was understood that copies of the survey have been forwarded to the Parliamentary Committee on retail price-fixing, at the committee's request.

METAL PRICES

NEW YORK, Nov. 20 (AP) — Spot nonferrous metal prices: Copper 24½ cents a pound, Connecticut Valley. Lead 19 cents a pound, New York. Zinc 19½ cents a pound, East St. Louis. Tin $1.03 a pound, New York.

Patricias' Cherry Berets Enliven Korean Landscape

By BILL BOSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WITH THE CANADIANS IN KOREA, Nov. 20 (CP)—The change-over was made quietly.

A few maroon berets. . . .

Then a few more. . . .

And then almost before it was quite realized, the 2nd Battalion Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry had been replaced by the 1st Battalion.

The Patricias of Kapyong were on their way home. Company by company they had been replaced by their parent unit, and the last to leave its Korean ridge was "A", under Maj. E. J. H. (Paddy) Kyall of Hamilton. It was relieved by a 1st Patricia company under Maj. C. O. Huggard of Halifax.

That was Nov. 11, six days after Gen. James Van Fleet, Commander of the United States Eighth Army in Korea, had inspected the 2nd Patricias, the day of the formal turn-over to the 1st Battalion.

As he walked down the parade, the General turned to Lt.-Col. Jim Stone, the 2nd Patricias' Commander, and said: "Do you mean to tell me that these men were in foxholes on the front yesterday?"

Smartly turned out and with the easy precision of veterans, they looked as though they'd rehearsed the ceremony for weeks. Stone replied: "No sir, most only left their foxholes this morning." They were the men of "B" Company under Capt. W. P. (Paddy) Pine of Rivers, Man.

Recapitulating the 2nd Patricias' last two motnhs in action, Lt.-Col. Stone said highlights were an early September attack by "C" company under Maj. Del Harrison of Calgary, a late September assault by "D" company under Maj. Bob Swinton of Vancouver, and a raid by "A" company of 1st Patricias, commanded by Major Geof Williams of Calgary, while under Stone's Command.

The operation is completed, and the 2nd Patricias, who established a reputation for themselves "apart from and above" other units of the Eighth Army—so reads their Presidential Citation—are on their way home.

But the maroon regimental pennant still flies outside a Patricia headquarters, and its color has spilled over the Korean countryside in the cherry berets of its paratroop followers.

Britain Requests Prompt U.S. Aid

LONDON, Nov. 20 (Reuters) — Britain revealed today she has told the United States she wants a share of financial aid under the new American Mutual Security Act.

The British decision to seek aid has been dictated by a grave balance of payments position and increasing inability to pay dollars for imports.

Without prompt American help, the economic crisis could jeopardize Britain's defence program.

Poland Training Part-Time Army

By THOMAS HARRIS

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 20 (Reuters) —Russian-born Marshal Rokossovsky, Poland's War Minister, is urging every able-bodied Pole to become a spare-time fighting man.

These part-time soldiers, reinforcing Poland's existing army of nearly 500,000 men, are one of Russia's counters to Western rearmament. They are making Poland the strongest Soviet satellite in East Europe and a serious threat to the West.

The men are being recruited "voluntarily" into the "Soldiers' League" and the "Airmen's League." These two leagues, modelled on the Russian "Dosarm" and "Dosav" organizations, train their recruits in every branch of modern warfare from sniping, radio transmission and truck driving to combat flying.

Many men can be trained in war with little equipment and at small cost. The same rifle, radio set, truck or aircraft can be used by a large number of men training in shifts. And as the recruits work during the day, the state is not obliged to feed and lodge them, as it would have to do with regular soldiers.

Details of the two leagues are given by Polish newspapers reaching here and by carefully sifted and counter-checked accounts from the score of Polish refugees fleeing to Sweden every month.

Recruitment is by compulsion and cajolery.

All Rokossovsky's plans may, however, be spoiled by the human element.

Food and consumer goods are desperately short in Poland—as the press admits, although it blames saboteurs—and disconfent is increasing.

No one dares revolt nod, but in a war many "leaguers" might well turn their weapons against the Russians unless Rokossovsky can dilute them sufficiently with trusted Red Army men.

Young Princess Visits France

PARIS, Nov. 20 (AP)—Princess Margaret arrived by air today for a four-day private visit to the French capital. She was accompanied by the Duchess of Kent, her aunt.

The Princess will meet some of the younger set at the British Embassy at a small cocktail party tonight. She will attend a charity ball for the Hertford British Hospital tomorrow, and is expected to lunch with Vincent Auriol, France's President.

75th Casualty List Issued

OTTAWA, Nov. 20 (CP) — The Army today issued its 75th casualty list of the Korean war, reporting one man killed in action, one dead of wounds, seven men wounded, and three injured in action. This brought to 484 the number of casualties so far suffered by Canadians in Korean action, including 98 dead, 348 wounded, 38 injured in action, and two missing.

FILE APPEAL AGAINST W. RUSSELL SENTENCE

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 20 (CP)—An appeal has been filed in the conviction and sentence against William Russell, brother of Victoria's "cat burglar."

Russell was convicted in the Fall Assize Court on seven counts of retaining in his possession goods stolen by his brother, Phillip, and was sentenced to one year in jail.

Phillip, who had a long run at house-raiding that netted him close to $18,000 worth of loot, is serving a seven-year penitentiary term.

Appeal was filed in Vancouver by J. Ronald Grant, Victoria lawyer.

Sloan Formula For H.B. Workers

VANCOUVER, Nov. 20 (CP) — The Sloan Formula of union security, whereby all non-union employees of a plant are required to pay union dues, was granted today for employees of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting "HB" mine at Salmo.

Harvey Murphy, regional director of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (Ind.) said the decision would affect about 80 employees in the Nelson and District Mine, Mill Local.

The Sloan Formula, B. C. version of the Rand Formula of union security, was approved by two members of a mediation board, Chairman Judge Eric P. Dawson and Union representative J. E. Gordon, Murphy said.

Employer representative Edward Benson voted against it.

Other clauses of the 1952 wage contract were settled earlier, with the question of union security submitted to the mediation board.

Mine, Mill also has the Sloan Formula at Trail and Kimberley.

Blind Marketing Up For Inquiry

VANCOUVER, Nov. 20 (CP) — City Council will study the methods used by the Canadian Institute for the Blind to market handicrafts to see if some people have "a fair chance to achieve independence."

The investigation arises out of the case of Bob Birtch, a blind man arrested last week for selling on city streets without a licence. City licence committee had refused to issue him a licence.

"It was my understanding (a letter from a minister) would permit him to continue to sell his handicrafts," Alderman Halford Wilson said Monday. "Now it appears it only allows him to beg and this man, quite rightly, does not want to beg."

Birtch appeared in police court Monday and was remanded for one week.

Member Will Sponsor Oleo-Coloring Bill

VICTORIA, B.C., Nov. 20—Capt. D. J. Proudfoot, Coalition member for Victoria, said today he will fight for colored margarine at the February session of the Legislature.

He said that "if no one else brings in a bill to allow coloring of margarine, I will."

Capt. Proudfoot said he has recently had numerous telephone calls and letters from constituents who want to see margarine that looks like butter.

"The whole act is stupid," Capt. Proudfoot said. "The farmers won't benefit by the coloring or non-coloring of margarine—they can't supply the butter we need anyway."

Capt. Proudfoot said he is reading every word of the 1200 pages of evidence presented at this Summers Buttle Lake Dam hearings.

And, said Capt. Proudfoot, he will have 35 or 40 specific questions to fire at Lands Minister E. T. Kenney in a promised Buttle Lake debate at the Provincial Legislatures Spring session.

Capt. Proudfoot said he is "looking at the situation from the viewpoints both of the conservationists and the Power Commission."

Provincial Water Rights Comptroller E. H. Tredcroft recently approved a Power Commission application for permission to dam Buttle Lake, to provide extra water storage facilities for its huge John Hart power development.

When the decision was announced, Capt. Proudfoot wrote to Premier Byron Johnson and to Mr. Kenney, asking for a statement of Mr. Tredcroft's reasons for granting the application.

Capt. Proudfoot said he was given only a copy of Mr. Tredcroft's decision, without the reasons.

Plan Expressway Between Cities

VANCOUVER, Nov. 20 (CP) — A Technical Committee will be set up shortly by the Provincial Government to consider construction of an expressway between Vancouver and New Westminster.

This was reported to City Council today by City Engineer John Oliver who visited Victoria last week.

He said the municipality of Burnaby would be invited to join talks on the proposed road with representatives of Vancouver and New Westminster and the Government.

BONNIE PRINCE CHARLES gestures with his hands in a typical child-like manner during his ride to Buckingham Palace in London to celebrate his third birthday with his grandparents, King George and Queen Elizabeth. The party had previously been planned to take place at Clarence House, home of his parents, but at the last moment, the Queen switched the party to the palace so the King, recuperating from serious lung operation, could watch his grandson celebrate. In addition to a truckload of gifts received by the excited young prince, another batch was brought back home for him by his mother and father, Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip from their first tour of Canada.—Central Press Canadian.

Korean Censors' Charges Denied

LONDON, Nov. 20 (AP) — War Secretary Antony Head denied today that United Nations censorship in Korea discriminated against British or Commonwealth correspondents.

He was replying in the House of Commons to questions raised by two Labor Members and a Conservative. Their questions grew out of a recent report in the London Daily Telegraph, whose Korean correspondent said U.N. censors failed to pass promptly a report of an action by the King's Own Scottish Borderers.

"I am satisfied there is no justification for the suggestion that censorship is carried out in a spirit of bias or discrimination," Head said.

"There has been remarkably little criticism of American field censorship in Korea by correspondents in the theatre.

"This matter has been represented to the American authorities by the correspondent who sent the report referred to, and I think no further action is required."

Flood Waters Fill Thames Valley

LONDON, Nov. 20 (Reuters) — Housewives went shopping by boat today in parts of the Thames Valley flooded after heavy rains.

Though the rains held off during the night, the river rose several feet in many parts.

A 19-month-old baby drowned in flood water near his home in Trotton, Sussex.

Flood waters covered large areas of the King's grounds at Windsor Castle.

Gifts From Korea Subject to Duty

VANCOUVER, Nov. 20 (CP) — The days when Canadian soldiers overseas could send gifts home duty free "are gone forever."

Canadian Customs officials reported that as far as they are concerned soldiers in Korea are just "non-residents abroad."

Gifts from servicemen now are subject to tariff regulation 698 which deals with "casual donations from non-residents abroad" and permits duty-free entry only if the cost does not exceed $5 and if the contents are non-alcoholic and not tobacco.

Many extremely valuable gifts such as black pearl necklaces have come into Canada from troops in Korea.

"We appraise them as reasonably as we can, but a lot of this stuff is jewelry, worth several hundred dollars," an official said.

Red Troops Not Back From Manoeuvres

BERLIN, Nov. 20 (Reuters) — About 85,000 Russian troops, brought into East Germany for the Army's Summer and Autumn manoeuvres, have not yet returned to the Soviet Union, Western observers said today. The troops were shipped to Poland and then marched into East Germany.

It is customary for Soviet garrisons in East Germany to be brought up to strength for the manoeuvres. In former years, such Soviet reinforcements returned to their bases immediately afterwards.

The last Army exercises in the Soviet zone, which ended early last month, involved more than 300,000 Soviet troops.

Bank Robbers Work Like Trained Team

TORONTO, Nov. 20 (CP) — Five men today robbed a West end branch of the Bank of Toronto of some $4000. Witnesses said they carried out the robbery with "football team precision."

The bank staff and four men and a woman customer were ordered to lie on the floor while the men scooped bills into two shopping bags. Then the five robbers ran from the bank and disappeared. The holdup was over in 10 minutes.

ASHFORD, England (CP)—One of Britain's finest locomotives, the "William Shakespeare", broke down e while pulling a continental boat here while pulling a Continental boat train. The engine was back in regular service after being on exhibition at the Festival of Britain.

Logger Charged With Murder

DUNCAN, B. C., Nov. 20 (CP)—Albert Fairweather, 27-year-old Vancouver logger, was officially charged with murder today.

The charge was laid by R.C.M.P. following the death of Raymond Boyce, 24, a fellow logger, who died in Duncan hospital from a knife wound following a quarrel Sept. 19.

Fairweather was discovered 46 days later in an Edmonton hospital where he required an operation for an old abdominal wound.

He was remanded for eight days. A date will probably be set at that time to fix a date for the preliminary hearing.

Wild Horses Near Last Round-Up

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 20 (CP)—British Columbia's dwindling band of wild horses is nearing the last roundup.

Plans are going ahead for the annual cleanup drive of mustangs in the East Kootenay mountain range; and early in the new year the Provincial Government will start advertising closure of the public range some time in February.

Once the advertisement is placed, ranchers have four weeks to get their horses in off the range. After that, any horses found in the area can be shot by persons appointed by the Government.

Urges Program to Create Wealth

OTTAWA, Nov. 20 (CP) — E. D. Fulton, Progressive Conservative member for the British Columbia constituency of Kamloops, today told the Commons that Canada may eventually be faced with bankruptcy unless plans now are made to finance social-security measures and long-term defence expenditures.

Canada's defence and social-security commitments now total $2,750,000,000 a year — nearly six times Federal expenditures in an average pre-war year.

He suggested the problem could be met only by increasing the real wealth of the country — by developing natural resources.

The government should formulate an immigration policy to bring new men to this country to help develop the resources.

There are, he said, a number of projects which could be undertaken immediately. They included the St. Lawrence navigation and power projects, the South Saskatchewan River irrigation project and power developments on the Columbia and Fraser Rivers in British Columbia.

JAP "FLEET" GROWS

TOKYO, Nov. 20 (Reuters) — A "maritime safety" fleet—commonly referred to by foreigners as the nucleus of a new Japanese Navy—will increase its patrol boats from 100 to 200 during the next three years. Fleet Director Yonekichi Yanagisawa said the boats would protect Japanese fishermen from "illegal seizure"—presumably referring to past Korean and Russian acts.
