5 Trailites Saved From Drowning

Ronald Waters of Nelson Pulls Men From Lake After Waves Capsize Boat

Quick work by 40-year-old Ronald W. Waters of Nelson saved five Trail men from drowning in Kootenay Lake Sunday afternoon when their boat capsized about three-quarters of a mile off shore, near McDonald's Landing, six miles East of Nelson.

The men, fished out after holding on for about 15 minutes in the icy water had been returning from a week-end at Camp Koolaree when the spill occurred, some time around 3:30 p.m.

They said they had encountered rough water on the trip across the lake, two particularly heavy waves finally swamping the boat and spilling the occupants and equipment.

Thoroughly chilled but otherwise none the worse for the experience were James W. Fish, 42; his son, Ian, 16; Robert Davies, 16; Darryl Milburn, 17 and Gordon Hunter, 20. Three other members of the party escaped the spill because there was not room on the craft for the entire party. They were to have been brought over on a second trip.

HEARD CRIES

Mr. Waters said he and his wife were working in the garden of their Summer home at the Landing when they heard the cries for help. The pair immediately carried their own boat into the water and Ron rowed out to the scene, while Mrs. Water went to phone Nelson police and fire departments for aid.

Waters reached the scene five minutes later and found the men clinging to the upturned craft.

The rescuer found the men too exhausted to lift themselves over the stern but managed to pull them all into the boat. A few minutes later he had them back into his house and around a warm fire.

Meanwhile, other boats proceeded to the scene to recover the boat and equipment. Bill Morton and George Fox of the Nelson Fire Department brought out an inhalator, but it was not needed.

"Wall of Misunderstanding" Being Broken Down, Gulley Tells 1000

A firm link in a chain of friendship started several months ago between Doukhobors and other West Kootenaians was forged Sunday night at a service in Civic Theatre attended by nearly 1000. Scores stood at the back of the theatre.

The service was the last of a series sponsored by Young Peoples of the Spiritual Communities of Christ (orthodox Doukhobors) and Ministerial Associations and service organizations in West Kootenay centres.

Emmett Gulley of the American Society of Friends told the congregation that upon arriving in West Kootenay, he had found a "wall of misunderstanding" between Doukhobors and other Canadians, and that he had been impressed with the need to break it down. The meetings had done much to achieve this.

"We think of problems to be solved on the other side of the world, when actually it is right at home that friendship is most needed," he said.

John Stoochnoff of Brilliant, Young Peoples secretary, said that West Kootenay could set an example if harmonious relationships were established between Doukhobors and their neighbors.

The first commandment was "Love Your God with all your heart and mind," and the second, "Love your brethren," he said. "We love you in the spirit of God, and we feel you must love us or you wouldn't be here tonight."

"I believe people today should have faith in God," Mr. Stoochnoff continued. He scored people who criticized church-goers yet prayed to God in troublous times, and noted that men such as Robert Ingersoll who had written and spoken against organized churches had returned to a faith in their old age.

"Hitler wanted to obliterate the cross and raise the swastika in its place. Where is Hitler now?" he asked.

WELCOMES OPPORTUNITY

Choirs from Slocan Park and Appledale and Passmore sang hymns in English and Russian, and their members also sang solos, duos, trios and quartettes. The women were in their traditional white costumes.

Peter Bloodoff of the Appledale and Passmore choir expressed appreciation for a "chance to associate with our English-speaking friends and neighbors." He thought it was gratifying that at a time when the forces of war were about to break loose in the world, people here were trying to prevent ill-will.

Very Rev. T. L. Leadbeater, Dean of Kootenay, said that Doukhobors and other Canadians had been drawn apart by negative attitudes. The pride and arrogance of Canadians of Anglo-Saxon origin had resulted in peoples of other racial extractions taking a back seat and the attitude "we will stay out of the community."

"We must be guided by God's message of love," he said.

Rev. A. R. T. Dixon, president of Nelson Ministerial Association, conducted the service, and other members of the Association participated.

Reclamation Project Planned in Fraser

VANCOUVER, April 29 (CP) — What is expected to be one of the largest private land reclamation projects in British Columbia's history was announced today for the Fraser Valley.

Work will get underway immediately, it was announced, on a 7000-acre site 27 miles from Vancouver, between the Pitt and Allouette Rivers, and North to Pitt Lake.

The property, known as Raney Ranch and owned and operated as a gun club by Pitt Farms Development, Ltd., has been purchased by the Netherlands Finance Company of Canada, Ltd.

REDS REQUISITIONING PROPERTY IN CHINA

HONG KONG, April 30 (Monday) (Reuters) — Communist China today ordered the requisitioning of all property in China belonging to the British-owned Asiatic Petroleum Company, the new China News Agency reported.

The agency said requisitioning was ordered for "our national security and in the interests of the general public."

Loses Husband, Son In Ont. Drowning

WAUBAUSHENE, Ont., April 29 (CP) — Four persons were drowned today near Honey Harbor, a few miles from this Georgian Bay town.

Police said the victims were the husband, son, grandson and a brother-in-law of Kathleen Stokes, organist with the "Happy Gang," well-known Canadian radio entertainers.

The victims were identified as: Russel Stokes; his son, Frank, about five; Douglas Stokes, and Frank Stokes, about 60. All were residents of Toronto.

Designed for Hazardous Terrain

Italian inventor, Count Guido Bonmartini of Rome, is seen in his newest invention—a plane with a new type of landing gear. It is called a "tubular track landing gear" and is somewhat along the same lines as that of a tank track. The inventor, who has already sold the patent rights to Italy and Switzerland, claims that this type of landing gear can land in the most hazardous terrain. — Central Press Canadian.

ASK NAMING IRAN PREMIER

Oil-Nationalization Bloc Member Sought; Final Step

TEHRAN, Iran, April 29 (CP) — The Senate backed the Lower House today in demanding that a reluctant Shah Designate Firebrand F Mohammed Mossadegh of the oil-nationalization bloc as premier.

The Senate then proceeded to final legislative action on immediate Government ownership of the $500,000,000 British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Company, Iran's only developed oil enterprise.

The Majlis, or Lower House, voted unanimously Saturday night for immediate nationalization. Senate approval is expected Monday.

(In London, Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison held urgent talks with his advisers. The crisis is up for consideration at a Cabinet meeting tomorrow.

(The Anglo-Iranian Oil Company announced in London Saturday it has protested against the Iranian moves to nationalize Britain's big oil interests at once.)

Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi, though incensed at Parliament's effort to force his hand on a matter of royal prerogative, called the anti-American, anti-Russian Mossadegh to the palace for a conference. Palace sources said the Shah will bow to the popular will.

The right of designating a premier to succeed the resigned diplomat, Hussein Ala, is the Shah's alone. But Parliament, in a fever of nationalistic excitement whipped up by assassinations, strike violence, a munitions depot explosion and Communist threats growing out of the oil issue, took the initiative.

Malayan Town Warned to Stop Aiding Reds

SINGAPORE, April 29 (AP) — British authorities have handed a final warning to the inhabitants of "the worst town in Malaya" to stop helping Communists or face the consequen .

They didn't specify what the consequences would be but hinted the citizens might find their town pulled down around their ears.

The 3000 residents of Pusing, in Perak State, were called into the main square Saturday and told by the British district officer there must be no more incidents of violence.

The warning came after Communist guerrillas cut the perimeter wire fence of the town and ambushed three Malay special constables. One constable was slain.

On Jan. 20, a British magistrate imposed a collective fine of 40,000 Straits dollars ($13,100) upon Pusing's inhabitants because they had failed to help security forces run down terrorists.

Eighty-seven incidents, including 12 murders and 11 attacks upon police stations, preceded the imposition of the fine.

A short time afterward, British authorities took more drastic action against the 1600 villagers of Jenderam, in Southern Selangor state. The inhabitants were forcibly evacuated and orders have been issued to wipe out the town by fire. The town has been stripped and the torch is expected to b eapplied soon.

COMMONWEALTH TROOPS PRAISED

ON THE KOREAN FRONT, April 30 (Monday) (Reuters) — The 27th Commonwealth Brigade's action last week in plugging a 10-mile-wide gap in United Nations lines North of Kapyong was described today by U. S. Maj.-Gen. William Hoge as "superb."

Hoge, commander of the U. S. 9th Corps, recounted during a flying visit to the front the heroic story of the Brigade—composed chiefly of Canadian, Australian and British troops.

He said the Brigade fought against "tremendous odds and did not budge an inch."

It was rushed into the line to fill a gap left in the path of the advancing Chinese by the collapse of an entire South Korean division. It held its ground against high casualties, inflicting tremendous losses on the Chinese and slowing their advance timetable by an estimated 48 hours.

Mediation Blocked

MAILLARDVILLE, B. C., April 29 (CP)—A move to get the mediation services of Education Minister W. R Straith in this area's bitter parochial school feud has been blocked.

A resolution to invite the Cabinet Minister to a round-table discussion, endorsed unanimously by the Municipal Council, was hoisted when Reeve James Christmas invoked the Municipal Act.

The dispute centres around refusal of the Roman Catholic School Boards to continue their schools in

Menzies Wins Election But Problem Unsolved

SYDNEY, Australia, April 29 (CP)—Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies' Coalition won Saturday's election but there was doubt that the problem which forced it to call the election in the first place has been solved.

The Associated Press said indications are that the victorious Liberal-country party Coalition, although gaining slightly, may still split equally with the Opposition Labor Party in the 60-seat Senate.

Reuters News Agency, however, said it appeared that Menzies can expect 31 seats in the Senate to Labor's 29.

Standing in the House of Representatives:

	New Parliament	Old Parliament
Government Coalition	66	74
Labor	52	47
Doubtful	3	—
Total	121	121

It was the lack of a majority in the old senate—34 for Labor and 26 for the Coalition—that caused the Government to dissolve both houses March 19 and order an election about 20 months ahead of the regular date.

The tedious counting of Senate votes under a proportional representation system may delay the final outcome for three weeks.

AP said the trend in Australia's six states—each of which gets 10 seats — indicates the Government and the opposition will each get five seats in New South Wales, South Australia, West Australia and Tasmania, that Labor may get a six-to-four edge in Victoria and the government a six-to-four edge in Queensland. This would create a 30-30 deadlock.

Reuters said, however, that the trend indicates that all states except Queensland will split five to five while Queensland can be expected to give six government candidates to four Labor candidates. That would give the Government a 31-to-29 edge in the Senate.

COMMUNISTS LOSE

Australia's Communists failed to win a single seat in either House of Parliament and appeared to be getting only about two per cent of the total vote.

The voting seemed to demonstrate that Australians are more worried about the Communists—who have influence out of proportion to their numbers in such key trade unions as the coal miners, the iron workers and dock laborers—than about rising prices.

Although the Labor party is strongly anti-Communist, the Coalition promised in the election campaign to undertake more vigorous action to crush Communism. Menzies pledged to "destroy the Red menace here".

Churchill Hastens to Exploit Labor Split

LONDON, April 29 (AP) — For the first time in 14 months, Winston Churchill has real hopes of shoving Prime Minister Attlee's Labor Government out of office.

His lever: A left-wing labor revolt over Britain's arms budget.

His tatics: To drive a wedge into the Labor party split, shattering Attlee's slim majority of five in the House of Commons, and force a general election soon.

The feud inside the Labor party has brought the party to its weakest point since it was returned to power by a scant margin in the general election of February, 1950.

Despite the growing struggle over the arms budget inside the party, Attlee appears determined to hold on to power as long as possible, possibly until next Autumn

But the aging Churchill, the Conservative leader, moved rapidly to exploit the split.

Churchill's first move was to toss into the House of Commons a motion designed to put the Labor rebels in a voting dilemma.

What the rebels, led by former Labor Minister Aneurin Bevan do may decide Attlee's future.

Churchill's motion, which comes up for debate and a vote Tuesday, reads:

"That this House learns with anxiety that the rearmament program, which it approved in February, was based on stimates of defense production which were not accepted by the ministers principally concerned."

Bevan, Harold Wilson, president of the Board of Trade, and John Freeman, parliamentary secretary of the Ministry of Supply, quit the government because they said Britain couldn't fulfill her planned three-year £4,700,000,000 ($13,865,000,000) arms program.

The three and their left-wing supporters inside the party, however, have pledged themselves not to do anything which might bring down Attlee's government.

Three important developments were reported in the party fight Saturday:

1. The 750,000-strong Scottish Trades Union Congress, for the second day running, ignored the advice of their pro-government leaders and, amid cheers, voted in favor of policies urged by Bevan.

2. The Amalgamated Engineering Union, whose 800,000 members play a big part in Britain's arms drive, has called for an emergency Labor party conference to consider changes in Britain's foreign policies.

3. Hugh Gaitskell, Chancellor of the Exchequer, told a Labor party rally in Glasgow the government is neither giving up its socialism nor attacking the country's social services in carrynig out its rearmament program.

Scottish trade unionists, traditionally more to the left than their fellow-workers in England, demanded at a conference in Dunoon that the government restore cuts made in social service spending.

The Scottish unions also called for "a stop to United States interference in our trade policy" and expansion of British trade with Russia, Red China and the Red-led countries of East Europe.

For the second time in a month, the Amalgamated Engineering Union demanded an emergency national conference of the Labor party to consider the Korean situation, relations with Communist China, projected German and Japanese rearmament and continuation of American bases in Britain.

BEVAN WELCOMED

EBBW VALE, Wales, April 29 (AP) —Aneurin Bevan, who pulled out of the Labor cabinet last week, received an enthusiastic welcome tonight in his home constituency.

The local Labor party organization accorded him its "whole-hearted support" in the clash within the party which threatens to topple Prime Minister Attlee's government.

Allies Put Up Grim Stand To Save Seoul

11 KILLED AS PLANE CRASHES

Warned to Turn Back From Storm; Shattered in Field

FORT WAYNE, Ind., April 29 (AP)—Eleven mangled bodies were brought out today from a muddy stubble field where a United Airlines plane crashed and exploded Saturday night in a violent thunderstorm.

The eight passengers and crew of three plunged to their deaths as the big DC-3 plane twisted, turned over on its back, and shattered in the field between two thickets. The plane had been approaching Fort Wayne airport for a landing.

Some gusts of wind blew in at 85 miles an hour. The tower instructed the plane to turn back East to miss the storm. A few moments later, the tower man saw an orange flash to the East.

Among the victims was Dr. H. Clive McAlister, 57, Medical Director of the Lincoln National Life Insurance Co., Fort Wayne. He was returning from a business trip to Montreal.

U.S. Urges Other U.N. Members for Troops for Korea

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., April 29 (AP) — The United States has stepped up its campaign to get other United Nations members to send more troops to Korea.

Warning that there is no free ride to international security, U. S. delegate Warren R. Austin said Saturday that the U. S. expects every country to make an effort in proportion to its means.

His statement, made in a country-wide broadcast, was couched in general terms, but an American source said it was a "diplomatic echo" of negotiations now being carried on by military headquarters in Washington.

These negotiations, at the military level, are aimed at getting those countries which have sent a few troops to Korea to send more and those which have sent none to start joining up.

This source said the U. S. has assured the countries that sending more men will not be allowed to strip Europe of defences. The American view, he said, is that the Korean war is just a part of the world picture and that unity demonstrated there may well forestall aggression elsewhere.

Aluminum To Go To Britain

MONTREAL, April 30 (Monday) (CP)—Officials of the Aluminum Company of Canada today announced an agreement wit hthe British Government to increase shipments of Canadian aluminum to Britain between 1952 and 1955.

Under the new arrangement, the British Ministry of Supply will advance to the company $10,000,000 against unsecured interest-bearing notes maturing 20 years from January 1, 1954.

In return Britain will have first call on an additional 50,000 metric tons out of the company's total integrated productive capacity, expected to exceed 550,000 metric tons a year when the $220,000,000 expansion program announced last week is completed in Quebec and British Columbia.

The principal and interest payments on the loan will be subject to abatement in any year in which the company's annual production falls below certain stipulated levels.

The Ministry of Supply has agreed to exercise its over-all first call by purchasing 250,000 metric tons for delivery during 1954 and a like tonnage for delivery during 1955. Purchases of Canadian aluminum by the Ministry of Supply are also being increased to 250,000 metric tons in 1952 and 260,000 metric tons in 1953.

Artillery Shells 600,000 Enemy Troops; 20,000 Reds Moving Up

By DON HUTH

TOKYO, April 30 (Monday) (AP) — Allied forces battled today to hold back the pounding surf of Red manpower on a broad perimeter less than 10 miles from Seoul. Red pressure on the city mounted hourly.

A bold decision to defend the battered old Korean capital was announced Sunday by Lt.-Gen. James A. Van Fleet, United Nations ground commander.

It had been expected that Allied forces would withdraw to the South bank of the Han River, which curves around Seoul's Southern outskirts. But Van Fleet said Seoul's historic significance justified its defence. The rubbled, nearly-deserted city has no military value.

Allied artillery ringing the ancient capital poured thousands of heavy shells into the Chinese shock troops of an estimated Red Army of 600,000.

4100 REPORTED KILLED

At U. S. Eighth Army headquarters, AP correspondent Robert Eunson reported that vanguards of the Red force were within range of Allied guns early today.

Air observers said some 20,000 Reds were moving on the city from the North and Northwest. The Eighth Army estimated 4100 Reds were killed or wounded Sunday. Only 80 were taken prisoner.

This was the opening stage of an expected massive Chinese assault aimed at seizing Seoul by tomorrow—the Communist May Day holiday.

CHUNCHON LOST

On the Central front, Allied forces abandoned Chunchon, 45 miles Northeast of Seoul, and took up new defence positions to the South along the Pukhan River.

On the Eastern front, the U. S. Eighth Army communique reported only scattered contact with the Chinese and Korean Reds.

In the Seoul area, two Allied companies were reported surrounded Saturday night, but a tank-infantry task force rescued them Sunday morning.

The Red radio at Pyongyang, the North Korean Red capital, said that Chinese forces Sunday night were within 7½ miles of Seoul on the North.

Allied forces have previously been located on a defence perimeter four miles North of the city. Censors refused Sunday to permit correspondents to pinpoint the defence line in greater detail. United Nations forces punched back at Chinese forces Northeast of Seoul Sunday. One tank force plunged North of Uijongbu, 11 miles North of Seoul, and shot up a force of some 1000 Reds before being forced back to U. N. lines.

VEHICLES MOVE UP

With Red pressure increasing today, the full weight of the Chinese assault on Seoul was expected to be felt Monday night and early Tuesday. U. S. Fifth Air Force planes spotted 3380 Red vehicles streaming toward the battle front—most of them in the area immediately North of Seoul.

In the heaviest night aerial strikes of the Korean war, the Allied fighters and bombers attacked 1000 vehicles. They reported knocking out at least 200.

Fighters from carriers in fast task force 77 joined in the close-support missions. Rear Admiral R. A. Ofstie estimated carrier planes had accounted for 6500 Red casualties since the offensive began last Sunday.

LOSE 70,000 TROOPS

The Communists have lost an officially-estimated 70,000 of the 300,000 shock troops that began the offensive. They have been pouring in reinforcements from a nearby 300,000-man reserve pool.

The estimate of over-all Red casualties was made by Van Fleet after a series of visits to front-line positions. He made clear that the weeklong withdrawal of Allied forces — the rolling with the Red punch—had stopped North of Seoul.

He said no house-by-house defence of the city was planned but that it would be defended on a broad perimeter to the North. Seoul has been abandoned to the Red invaders twice before.

The Russian-equipped North Korean army easily took the city shortly after they started the Korean war last June 25.

It was liberated by the Allies last September after the Inchon landings on the West coast. Then it fell to the Reds again in January after Red China's entry into the war changed the picture.

The Eighth Army retook the city without a fight March 15 in the series of limited offensives against the Chinese.

Field dispatches said Seoul now is a grim armed camp.

The greatest immediate threat to the city was reported as coming from Red agents among the civilians remaining in Seoul.

More than 250,000 civilians have fled Southward and 150,000 were refugees from the North passed through Seoul in their flight South. Seoul once had a population of 1,500,000.

Princeton Votes For Incorporation

PRINCETON, B.C., April 29 (CP) —This old mountain-encircled copper town, where stampeding miners dreamed of fabulous riches a century ago, voted Saturday to incorporate as a city.

Princeton, 183 miles East of Vancouver, and with a population of 2500, was until Saturday the largest unorganized town in the West.

In 1860, Sir James Douglas, first governor of British Columbia, planned to build a wagon road over the Coast Range from Hope, 83 miles West of here, into the Similkameen Valley, where gold had been discovered.

Miners seeking gold on the Eastern side of the mountains waited impatiently but only 25 miles of the road was completed. Gold was found in the Cariboo and the miners pushed North through the steep-walled Frasher Canyon.

Less lustrous minerals later became the reason for Princeton, named for the Prince of Wales, later Edward VII. Copper, nickel, lead and zinc were found in the surrounding mountains.

The Great Northern Railway strung a link North from the United States into the Similkameen about 1900.

This provided "jobs" for Billy Miner, Canada's most notorious train robber who made Princeton his sometimes headquarters.

In 1914, the Kettle Valley Railway pushed from the far-interior smelter city of Trail through the Coquihalla Pass to the coast and Princeton was linked by rail with Vancouver.

On Nov. 2, 1949, the Hope-Princeton highway was opened and Douglas' Pack Trail had bridged the dizzying 83 miles of mountain peak and chasm from Hope to Princeton.

There's a big argument going on around this rural community about it. Some farmers say most pig tails curl clockwise, others say counter-clockwise.

So how to solve such a knotty problem? Farmers in the area were asked to tabulate the twists on their porkers and turn in the results to a feed mill.

Nelson Rotary to Play Host to 400 At Annual District Conference May 6-8

More than 40 Rotarians from clubs in Eastern British Columbia, Eastern Washington and Northern Idaho will converge on Nelson May 6 for the annual Rotary International convention of District 153.

The host Nelson club, 73 strong, are finalizing preparations for the big three-day meet and are expecting representatives from 42 clubs in the district. District Governor Harry D. Harrison of Nelson will preside at the conference sessions.

This series of meetings is held each year, President Jack MacDonald said, to review the Rotary service activities of the preceding year and to make plans for increasing their effectiveness. The activities of the Rotary clubs in District 153153 are many and varied—tremendous projects are undertaken for community betterments — many clubs participate in different fund raising activities for such causes as Summer camps for youth, crippled children's work, special hospital equipment, boys and girls band equipment, etc. The local club's most recent activity has been the sponsoring of Don Cowan's Schools Band.

One of the most important matters to be taken up at the conference is the official nomination of Sidney R. Woodcock of Coeur d'Alene, Idaho to succeed Mr. Harrison as district governor. Mr. Woodcock will take office as governor on July 1, and will be the official representative of Rotary International, the world-wide organization of all Rotary Clubs in the 153rd District.

Although nomination at the District Conference is equivalent to election the new Governor will be formally elected, along with more than 200 other district governors from all parts of the world, at Rotary International's 1951 Convention in Atlantic City, New Jersey, U.S.A., May 27-31. For the 1951-52 fiscal year, these District Governors will co-ordinate the service work of 346,000 business and professional executives who are members of more than 7270 Rotary Clubs in 83 countries.

Carl B. Mutchler of Nelosn, who is in charge of arrangements for the district conference, is also planning on special features for the ladies attending. Other speakers will include Past District Governors, R. V. Borleske, Walla Walla, Wash., Herb Clark of Trail, Al W. Carlson of Spokane, and Roscoe Sheller of Sunnyside, Wash.

Also included on the program are Rotarian Erle E. Eisenhower, Deputy Minister of Public Works for the province of Saskatchewan; and Rotarian William T. Knights of Calgary.

Turnbull Cup Presented to Rossland Fair; Trophy Coming From Herridge

ROSSLAND, B. C., April 29 — Honorable A. D. Turnbull, Minister of Health and Welfare, presented the Turnbull Cup to the Golden City Fall Fair Association at a meeting here Saturday night.

The Cup is to be engraved each year with the name of the person receiving highest aggregate points in the Fair. A small individual cup was presented to Mrs. P. C. Berry, winner of this class last year at Creston.

Mayor J. R. Corner of Rossland welcomed Mr. Turnbull to the meeting and said that the Fall Fair workers were "the salt of the earth citizens."

"Last year," he said, "the Fair was a great success but this year I am sure it will be bigger and better than ever."

Mr. Turnbull said that on many other occasions he had emphasized the importance of such a fair to the individual as well as the community. He said he was pleased to present the Turnbull Cup and that he wished to do anything he could to help the Association. He was unable to attend the Fair last year, but if at all possible he intends to be here this year.

Mr. Turnbull concluded by saying "that perhaps the height of support was when workers for the Fair like Mr. Berry could find time to also enter exhibits.

President Berry thanked Mr. Turnbull and explained that a member from every organization in Rossland was present at this meeting. He went on to say that it might seem odd to have a Fair in Rossland, but he believed a project such as this ministered to the mind. For example a man came home from work, worked at his hobby in the basement, or went out to his garden. In this way he found relaxation. Mr. Berry then invited Mr. Turnbull to open the Fall Fair this year. Mr. Turnbull replied that if at all possible he would do so.

A letter from H. W. Herridge, MP for West Kootenay, was read in which Mr. Herridge stated he was presenting a trophy to be offered for competition in the Fair and to be won outright this year. Mr. Berry described the trophy to members as about 20 inches high, goldplated, and handsomely engraved. This trophy is to be an award in the flower section of the horticulture display.

In conclusion it was decided to add a window display of large trophies in a store to stimulate competition.

Hopes Street Car Will Be Retained As Link With Past

To The Editor:

Sir—A recent news item in your columns appears to indicate that our Nelson City Council is considering, or has accomplished the sale of the two old street car bodies now resting in honourable retirement in Lakeside Park. I hope that you have been misinformed, and that one at least of these old relics will be granted a permanent and respected position in Lakeside Park to remind both ourselves and our successors of an era that has passed away.

Our fair city is gradually assuming an aspect of impecuniosity on account of the unrelenting economy (?) policies of recent councils, but surely we can still afford to do without the 15 or 20 cents that the sale of these old relics would add to our coffers.

Boyd C. Affleck.

Defends Financing

To The Editor:

Sir—A letter signed "Synik" appearing in Friday's "News" should have been signed by the individual as "Ignorant" or "Stupid", either of which would have been applicable.

It is very strange that the setting of the mill rate at 45 mills should have created such furore, while nothing was said about other years when the same rate was struck. Were some people hoping it would be raised? Thereby discrediting some members of the council including myself. Those of us supporting it did so, because we figure it in the best interest of the city. We could have raised it and by so doing we would not have done more work than will be done, but would have been taking money we would not use. Many of us feel that by surveying some of the streets and grading them this year ready for surfacing then next year is the more progressive way than just put down a street or sidewalks and find in a year or two that it is out of line. No doubt many have noticed where haphazard work has ended with sidewalks being left up in the air. We believe we have taken the right way.

I noticed in "Synik's" comments that I am retired, this is the first intimation I have had, and it seems funny because I was at work today and no notice of pending retirement was handed me, especially as I have some years to go to reach that time.

I am sorry that only a very small part of what I said regarding our taxpayers was published. I think that the Daily News errs when they take this in longhand as only part of what is said is reported and this is unfair to the individual, but aside from that, the piece quoted is true and if "Synik" thinks not he can soon verify it by contact if he cares to spend a little time around town. Do not forget also, my friend, that approximately 1600 people here are actual payers of taxes.

(Editor's note—The Daily News devotes the services of two reporters to each City Council public meeting).

I am very glad also that we have on the council someone that can subtract.

There seems to be a distinct effort on the part of some group of individuals to try and discredit the efforts of the railroaders, but I can definitely assure the taxpayers that in the council chamber I am not a railway employee, but a citizen of this town, and, as such, with only the interests of the citizens in mind. Anyone can spend money, but it takes some thought to save it.

I do not as a rule answer letters by people afraid to use their names, but my name was mentioned. I think the "News" showed poor taste in publishing it. (Editor's note—All letters to the Editor are published unless they are libelous or otherwise contravene the laws.)

Fishermen Sail For Halibut Season Opening

VANCOUVER, April 29 (CP) — A peaceful armada of 200 trim, white-hulled ships sailed out of Vancouver this week-end to reap a rich harvest in British Columbia's Northern waters.

The fishermen sailed off into two months of silence in Northern seas. Only once every dozen days will the boats with their seven-man crews touch dock and then at some remote cannery.

The rest of the time, they will be 20 or 30 miles offshore where "the ocean stands on end."

Between May 1, when the halibut season opens, and the first week of June, the Canadian fleet which share 50-50 with American boats a catch of at least 25,000,000 pounds.

During the following month, the ships will move North from the Queen Charlotte Islands to the Gulf of Alaska to take another 26,000,000 pounds.

Then it's off to the Bering Sea for the hardier skippers and crews to catch another 500,000 pounds.

All told, the Canadian and American fleets will split between them an amount equal to 70 per cent of the total world catch.

$6 MILLION VALUE

To B.C., it will mean a landed value of at least $6,000,000 and much more than that when firms have frozen, stored, packed, and shipped fish to waiting markets in Eastern Canada and the U.S.

The first catches will be landed at Namu, Butedale, Klemtu and Prince Rupert on the Northern Coast Later, boatloads of fish will go on the big board at the fish dock here to be auctioned off to the highest bidder.

The advent of the big "superseiner" type of vessel with tremendous power and carrying capacity has revolutionized what was once a year-round industry.

Many big halibuters now can take on 25 tons of ice and return to port in 12 days with 80,000 pounds of halibut.

The Weather

Skies have cleared along the coast and should clear through the interior. Monday is expected to be sunny in most regions. The main exception will be the North coast which is expected to cloud up during midday as a Pacific storm now developing West of the weather ship begins to move toward the coast.

Somewhat higher temperatures are expected through the province as the skies clear. The highest recorded temperature was only 62 degrees which was obtained at Kamloops.

Fall of Ireland Gov't Expected

By PATRICK QUINN

DUBLIN, April 29 (Reuters) — The Republic of Ireland's Coalition may fall this week to Eamon de Valera who was Premier for 16 years until 1948.

Political observers expressed belief today that a series of crises will shake the Government into an election that might bring the former Premier's Fianna Party back to power.

They claim Costello—a Liberal Republican—is making too many concessions to the left and that Government prestige has deteriorated greatly through local squabbles.

Another factor that may climax months of political unrest is the resignation three weeks ago of Health Minister Noel Browne. He quit because the Roman Catholic hierarchy condemned his free-for-all mothers and children welfare scheme. Costello backed the bishops and the scheme flopped.

The five-party grouping under Costello would present De Valera with a united front if it came to an election—though the Fianna leader might not get the Independents on his side.

The Independents threatened last Thursday to vote with De Valera against an agriculture financial estimates bill.

Observers said the result would have been 72-70 against Costello but the Government side-stepped and delayed the vote.

Apart from party politics, De Valera is a well-loved figure throughout the Republic. The passionate, sparsely-built De Valera, 68, campaigned for years against British authority until home rule was allowed.

Twice he was jailed—once sentenced to death—but he still campaigns for an end to the Northern Ireland-Republic partition barrier.

Next Regional Jaycee Session Set for Trail

KAMLOOPS, B. C., April 29 (CP) —For the second year in a row, R. J. (Bob) Innes of Kamloops has been elected Regional President of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in B. C.

Mr. Innes was elected to his second term during the final business sessions of the Jaycees' Provincial convention which concluded here Saturday.

The Jaycees passed eight resolutions, two of which dealt with municipal elections.

One called for an amendment to that part of the Municipal Act which prevents mortgagers from qualifying to run as mayor and aldermen because of property restrictions.

This resolution will be forwarded to the Union of B. C. Municipalities and each Jaycee unit will take up the matter with its local Government with a view to having it discussed at the next convention of the Union.

The other asked that a person's name be put on the voters' list when he pays his poll or road tax without an affidavit of eligibility being required.

Other resolutions asked that the Provincial Government be urged to embark on a separate program of low-cost hospitalization for chronic patients, that the B. C. J.C.C. notify both the Federal and Provincial Governments that it is opposed to indirect hidden taxes, and that such people as wives and veterans allowance recipients, recipients of widows allowances, and recipients of dependent parents pensions under the Canadian Pensions Act, be provided with free hospitalization.

New Approach for Arrow Park Ferry; Three Forks Road New Route Favored

NAKUSP, B.C., April 29 — Projects under way, projects needs, plans for 1951, and some inkling of the business administration of a public works district were outlined to Nakusp Rotary Club by M. C. K. Struve of New Denver, Department of Public Works district engineer.

Blacktopping of the arterial highway through Slocan City and Silverton was planned for this Summer.

The building of the New Denver to Three Forks road to serve the Sandon mining area on the North side of Carpenter Creek was being contemplated. This new route was favored because some $65,000 would be required to replace the 33 cribs on the old road on the South side of the canyon, and the old road on would have to be closed during repairs. This project was still in the survey stage.

A 16-foot road was to be built from Kaslo to Lardeau by the Department of Mines from its mining road appropriation.

New Arrow Park ferry approaches were under construction. It was expected they would be completed by May 15, ahead of high water.

Weather conditions had favored the expensive, extensive Arrow Parks ferry approaches project.

More money was needed to complete the Dog Creek work. Some 40,000 cubic yards of fill had been made to replace the old bridge. A six-foot culvert had been put in to carry the creek water. The work had been done well and economically.

TO RAISE ROAD

It was hoped to raise the road bed North of Burton which is under water at times of flood conditions of the lake.

The costly wood sidewalks in Nakusp were gradually being replaced with shale as a filler and will be covered with blacktop.

The arterial highway through Silverton and Slocan City will be blacktopped this Summer and some of the material will be brought to Nakusp for the sidewalks. These will be much more satisfactory and economical than wooden ones. Costs had to be studied and kept down.

The territory served by the Engineer's office was bounded by Passmore, Edgewood, Nakusp, Galena Bay and Kaslo.

It contained 644 miles of road, apart from mining and logging roads. There was 138 miles of major highway; 139 bridges and some government buildings. Some $125,000 was provided for maintenance. The sum of $30,000 was provided for repairs to bridges.

The district was divided into four sub-districts, New Denver, Kaslo, Nakusp and Lardeau. A senior foreman was in charge.

Once the appropriation was set, from past experience the monthly allowance for each district could be worked out. All expenditures, wages, fuel, repairs, rentals on all equipment, also extra things such as lumber, etc., had to come out of this amount. It took a shrewd business handling to keep things running the full month and yet not run short of money.

The government fiscal year ends on March 31 which adds to the difficulties. A certain amount of money had to be held back for March to take care of extraordinary expenses of the Spring break-up.

The costs of snow removal were taken from a special fund and did not effect the local appropriation.

Special work orders were issued for special jobs, such as the Dog Creek fill and the bridge and diversion at Summit Lake gravelling, etc. These extra jobs helped to provide work in slack seasons and enabled the Department to keep a steady crew and a better type of men.

The department hoped to have a new garage in Nakusp but nothing definite had been done on it yet.

The 16-foot Kaslo-Lardeau road was being built by the Department of Mines. Thirty-two miles of road from Lardeau to Gerrard already existed following the old CPR grade but old railway grades never make good highways, said Mr. Struve, though adequate for local traffic. It was expected the Shutty Bench to Lardeau link would be about 12 miles in length.

A question period followed, regarding crushed rock and graders. The latter were fully employed throughout the season but as the roadbed dried out with the sun, pot holes could not be avoided, in spite of constant grading.

Sees Need for Customs Concentrator In Kaslo Area

KASLO, B.C., April 29 — The need for a customs ore concentrator in the Kaslo area is being pointed up by the Kaslo Kootenaian.

In a front page article the weekly says:

"Independent miners are greatly handicapped for want of a customs concentrator in this district. The Kootenay Belle mill at Whitewater has been kept busy, but cannot be expected to do much more than serve the Slocan mines.

"Leasers and independent operators around Woodbury have hundreds of tons of ore to be treated and Ainsmore and Yale mills are fully occupied milling their own ore. With prices and demand fairly stable for several years, it looks like a good opening for a 50-100 ton mill to be built for custom work in this area."

proud of the men

Of course you're proud of your children. They're your biggest investment. Your brightest hope for the future. Helping them to plan a happy, successful life can be your most rewarding hobby.

The Junior Estate policy gives your boy or girl a head-start. The annual premium when the child is young is very low. At age 21 the amount of the policy increases to five times as much without increase in premiums. It provides cash values to meet a special need or opportunity or for extra education.

Here's a policy you'll perhaps get more "kick" out of than any other on your list. Think about it. For details, phone any North American Life representative.

Handwriting Psychology

By Norman Draper

MINDING YOUR Ps AND Qs

ARE YOU A MORON?

Because your handwriting is hard to read? No, hardly. Many well educated people write a horrible hand as far as legibility is concerned. Yet, if you're a scatter-brain" don't think your writing won't reveal it.

Does your writing slant upward on the page and do the words seem to rise at the end? You're exuberant, full of high spirits, but if your writing slants downward on the page, you see mostly the hole in the doughnut and if your letters become a bit larger toward the end of words, it reveals you are not very tactful and prone to "blurt things out", however, if the words get smaller and dwindle toward the end, you are tactful and diplomatic and a safe person to be entrusted with top drawer secrets. If you connect all the letters in each word as you write, it may be assumed you are a logical, consistent thinker that can stay on one track of endeavor.

If you join words it indicates a gift for intensive reasoning and logic. While breaking words up into several parts, especially if some words are printed, reveals frequent flashes of intuition and if some other signs agree, literary talent or tastes.

Do your I-dots and T-bar crossings fly at top-mast and away off to the right? You've a vivid imagination and possibly much impatience to get the job done. But, if the i's dotted look like little tents it reveals you as penetrating and critical. If your t's have a bar to the left of the stem and doesn't quite get through the t itself, well, you hesitate on decisions and you "don't quite get there yourself." If the t-crossing bar runs away from the t on the right, it indicates you are full of nervous energy and enthusiasm. When this same t-bar crossing is found in straight up and down writing sh-h-h, it tells of a nasty temper. Is your t-bar crossing a wavy one, something like a slack wire clothes line and your i-dot a tiny line instead of a mere speck? If so, you have a grand sense of humor and can laugh at the world and even yourself.

Your samples of writing at times are hardly sufficient for a thorough analysis. This is not fair to you in a way because it is impossible to bring to light some of the things you would like to know. So please do send in as generous a sample of writing as you possibly can. For instance, did you know there are thirty odd ways of crossing the t, as well as many signs that do not show up in a "smidget of writing"? And please, always sign the name or include signatures. Thanks! The birthdate and year has no significance beyond revealing the cycle of life you are now in. A comparison of the mental vs physical development.

Do you agree? Women's styles may change, but their designs remain the same . . . let's get "cracking" on the coupon below.

Have a happy day and a peaceful night.

Complete Plans For New Denver May 24 Fete

NEW DENVER, B.C., April 29 — At a meeting of the New Denver Community Club, it was decided to promote a bigger-than-ever May 24 celebration in New Denver.

Final preparations for the celebration were completed at an executive meeting held at the home of Mrs. Struve.

Only one queen contest will be held this year in the three communities, New Denver, Silverton and Slocan City. The net proceeds, however, from the sale of tickets will be divided amongst the communities in proportion to the tickets sold for their contestant. As successful as the queen constest was last year, in view of the altered plans, there should be much more enthusiasm than last year. Some extremely attractive prizes are being offered.

In addition to the queen contest there will be baseball contests, games, fireworks and dancing. The Nelson Pipe Band will be in attendance throughout the day.

The New Denver Community Club's project, that of building a community centre in New Denver, is progressing satisfactorily and it is hoped that the results of the May 24 celebration will further substantially augment the project.

GALE DUMPS GRAY CREEK MAN INTO LAKE, BOAT SINKS

GRAY CREEK, B.C., April 29 — Fred Wilmot has a swollen arm from helping to pull a man out of the lake at Riondel. In a recent gale, the loading barges at Riondel wharf were in danger of breaking away and it was hard to secure them owing to the high seas and the great wind. An unnamed man fell into the lake between wharf and barge and came up under the barge. In the end it took three men to pull him out of the water. Owing to his long immersion he was practically numb.

The same high wind threw the houseboat of A. J. Watson, old-timer of Kootenay Bay, against the Gray Creek wharf, when the gale blew from the North. One side of the deck-house was splintered, the houseboat sank and canted over in the lake and the stove and other movables fell into the lake. The pontoons have been pumped out and the boat is floating. T. J. Oliver has been helping with the repairs.

Two nominations have been submitted for the vacancy on the city council caused by the resignation of Adam Carson whose term would run until the end of 1952. They are James Cameron, Fernie garage operator, past president of the Board of Trade and chairman of the Arena committee, and H. E. Miard, longtime mines inspector who is now retired. Vote on this matter will also take place Thursday.

Left-Over Cooked Haddie Can Make a Tempting Dish

By MARGARET CARR

When there were only two of us, I found that even a small haddie was too large for one meal, so I tried to plan on about three different dishes from the one haddie. Half of it may be poached in milk and served for dinner, with egg or parsley sauce. If desired, the whole fish may be poached and the leftover used in a dish that calls for cooked flaked fish. Or part can be kept uncooked, and used for Sunday breakfast. Bacon and haddie is what we serve. First pan fry a little bacon, then fry the floured haddie in the bacon drippings. It's a grand dish — especially if accompanied by toasted crumpets on a leisurely Sunday morning.

The left-over cooked fish is very nice when broken into large flakes and heated in a well-seasoned white sauce, along with coarsely chopped hard-cooked egg whites. Serve it in croustades (toasted bread cups) and garnish it with the hard-cooked egg rubbed through a sieve, a shake of paprika and a sprig of parsley.

Even if your family is small, not a scrap of the fish need be wasted. And for a really swanky dish made from the left-over cooked haddie, the following is very good.

HADDIE A LA KING

2 cups cooked finnan haddie, 2 tablespoons minced green pepper, 2 tablespoons chopped canned pimiento, ½ cup sliced mushroom caps, 4 tablespoons butter or margarine, 3 level tablespoons bread flour, 2 cups rich milk, ½ teaspoon salt, dash of pepper.

Cook the green pepper, pimiento, mushroom caps in the butter or margarine for 5 minutes. Add the flour and stire over heat for a minute, then add, very gradually, the 2 cups of whole milk. Stir constantly until the mixture thickens and boils; add the fish, then just before serving add minced egg yolks. (These may be omitted if desired.) Season to taste with salt and pepper and serve very hot with chopped egg whites sprinkled over the top. This will serve six.

Carpet Beetle Lurking

As Published in the Trail Times, February 28, 1951

The carpet beetle, a nasty litle fellow who feeds on carpets and feathers and woolen goods, is thought to have invaded this city.

An East Trail housewife yesterday asked the Trail Times to issue a warning to householders of the district to be on the lookout for the beetle, which she thinks she has found in her home.

Professor G. J. Spencer, UBC zoologist, last Fall warned the Kootenays of the impending visit of the beetle, which, first discovered in Vancouver in 1936 ,had last Fall spread up the coast and inland as far as Penticton.

The Trail woman said that the larvae and eggs she found in a rug in her home, answered the descriptions given by Prof. Spencer in this article last Fall. She is sending specimens to the professor for confirmation. The tiny insect, about one-eighth inch long, has a broad oval shape and is mottled brown, black and white on the back in patches and zig-zag stripes. The underside is grey. Full-grown larvae or grubs are about three-sixteenths of an inch long, broad in the center with pointed ends and are covered with tufts of brown hair. Eggs are minute and milky white and difficult to see.

For chemical action, once the beetle has entered the home, the professor suggests a spray of Chlordane (Okta-Klor or 1068), a chlorinated hydrocarbon in 3% solution, mixed with Varsol, obtainable at gas stations.

The beetles are attracted to white things, and white clothes hung out to dry are often the medium by which the beetle enters the home.

A Job for The Red Chamber

A vital function in the guarding of individual freedoms is seen for the Canadian Senate by the Free Press Herald of Midland, Ont.

"We believe," says the Herald, "that the Senate, peopled by men and women whose tenure of office is not governed by the relative popularity of public opinions, can and must perform an increasingly essential legislative function."

The Herald's feeling is one with which many Canadains will feel a kinship.

"There was a time, not so many years ago," says the Herald, "when it was generally believed in this nation that the prime purpose of government was to preserve and protect the political, economic, and religious liberties of the individuals, to ensure certain basic rights and privileges to all citizens.

"Thus safeguarded, it was held that each citizen would reap rewards in proportion to his or her individual enterprise.

"It was a philosophy based in no small degree on the belief that in balance of power there is freedom and the potentiality for peace and progress.

"But rightly or wrongly, our governments have now become not only referees but players.

"Certainly the democratic rule of law, the constitutional right of equal citizens to govern themselves and thus protect their individual freedoms, is not the relatively simple concept it used to be.

"Government, as an arbiter and protector of individual liberties, still has in Canada the good name it earned in decades past. Too much government in our lives, however, as is now being amply demonstrated in Great Britain, may well sully that reputation.

"In the growing emphasis on production, on dollars, and on development, all of us forget the sign posts to responsible democracy which our forefathers, with such great sacrifice, erected along the years.

"In our Canadian Senate lies a possible balance of power with which the individual citizen freedoms can be guarded.

"If our House of Commons is determined, at our urging, to play as well as referee, let our Senators be a second arbiter.

"Let them measure our actions and policies by the proven standards of democratic sanity.

"Let them protect the individual elector from those interested barnacles which would attach themselves to the ship of state for a free ride.

"Let them speak for the men and women who must today, for their very existence, stand out against the combinations of labor and of industry, against the special interest groups which have found that in growing "state-ification" there is growing opportunity for private profit.

"Of course, this might mean for some Senators longer hours of work, the surrender of private retainers, even at times the severance of party ties.

"The men and women in the Red Chamber might have to labor as long, if not longer, than our elected legislators.

"But theirs would be a vital task. In their hands would lie the future freedom of individual Canadians.

"Theirs would be the duty to see to it that if government grows in size and authority it be not at the expense of the basic rights and freedoms of the electors.

"This is a responsibility wholly worthy of the Canadian Senate."

On the Civic Centre Statement

To The Editor:

Sir—In Saturday's editorial of your valuable paper, reference is made to the delay in the presentation of the Civic Centre financial statement.

You suggest that the interjection of personalities confuse the issue, and that technicalities and opinions alone are involved.

This is quite incorrect.

Your reporter, who I understand heard my report read to the City Council, must be fully conversant with the real reason for this delay.

Insofar as I am concerned, there have been, on my part.

A.—No technicalities raised.

B.—No personalities used.

C.—No wrangling.

It would appear, I regret to say, that the writer of Saturday's leader in your paper, is not fully cognizant, with all the facts in this case.

CHAS. F. HUNTER,
City Auditor.

(Editor's note: It was emphasized in the editorial referred to that the Daily News was taking the part of neither side in the Civic Centre financial report situation. It tried neither to assess or lay blame. It merely pointed out that the matter had been delayed since before Feb. 17 and on behalf of the citizens urged that the matter be cleared up before the arrival of B. C. Bracewell, Deputy Minister of Municipalities on May 7.

(The reference to technicalities and opinions was based on these points: The city auditor has under authority of Section 414 of the Municipal Act, made formal request for certain vouchers and ticket records which he deems necessary for preparation of a proper accounting of the Civic Centre 1950 operation.

(The Civic Centre Commission, for its part, feels that it has met requirements of previous audits, that it is being imposed upon to provide added information it does not feel or believe is essential. It had insisted that it required return of records being audited before it could prepare the required information. It is understood that arrangements were being made for this requirement to be met.

(The editorial, as are all editorials dealing with city matters, was not the product of one writer, but the result of conference bringing together all knowledge of the staff that deals with city affairs. Mr. Hunter can be assured that no inferences against either side in the matter were the objectives of the Saturday article. Its aim was merely a speedy handling of this public matter by our own officials. And it is still insisted that this should be the objective of the principals.)

QUEBEC MYSTERY

We would like to suggest to the Samuel de Champlain National Society to attempt anew to solve one of historic Quebec's greatest mysteries of history. And that is where Champlain was buried. Because, if the exact final resting place of the city's founder could be located and verified, we can think of no better and more practical way of honoring the memory of Samuel de Champlain than to constitute his known grave into an historic and national site for all time in the future.

The H. B. Mine at Salmo is going strong and soon to be put into production. It was whispered to me on a recent visit that in a few years Salmo will have a population of over 3000.

I remember one of the pioneer prospectors telling me of the discovery of the H. B. Mine. Two prospectors were ambling through the woods and sat down for a spell and one remarked to the other about a showing of oxide zinc. After resting they travelled still looking for the ledge of dreams which seldom come true.

Later two more prospectors passed that way and, seeing the showing of oxidized zinc located the ground. They were Horton and Billings who after a few years sold the claim for a few dollars. Today that prospect is one on which a mill of good proportions is being built and for which a $2,750,000 program is now announced by Cominco.

Strauss Supports Labor Program

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, April 29 (CP)—Supply Minister George Strauss, long regarded as a supporter of rebellious Aneurin Bevan, says the resignations which caused Britain's Cabinet crisis were "wholly unjustified."

Strauss had been expected by some to follow Bevan into the political wilderness.

"My answer to those who have resigned," Strauss said in a speech at Crayford, Kent, "is that there are clearly no grounds for altering our production program at this moment and that the rearmament estimates in this year's budget are realistic."

Strauss, one of the kay men in the arms drive, talked more optimistically about the possibility of fulfilling the program.

"My department has been exceedingly successful in buying machine tools during recent months," he said. "Apart from home purchases, we have bought £27,000,000 ($79,650,000) worth in Western Europe and £49,000,000 worth in the United States.

"We have no reason to doubt that the European machine tools will be delivered by the time we want them. Most of our American orders have been given priority for early delivery."

May Change Fire Sirens to Bells

VICTORIA, B.C., April 29 (CP) — Sirens may soon be a thing of the past on Victoria's fire trucks, police vehicles and ambulances.

Their use might have to be abandoned because the area's civil defence setup will require a warning system of sirens. In order to avoid confusion and false alerts, consideration is being given to prohibiting the use of sirens on emergency vehicles.

It is understood discussions already have been held between civil defence authorities and local police and fire officials. The latter are believed reluctant to give up their sirens because they are considered the best emergency warning.

Already, some American cities, New York is one, have stopped the use of sirens on emergency vehicles. Instead, bells are being used and have proved effective.

Excluding Asiatic seamen, the British mercantile marine in 1950 had more than 141,000 officers and men.

Gaitskell Keeps Faith in Future

GLASGOW, April 29 (Reuters)—Hugh Gaitskell, Chancellor of the Exchequer, Saturday told critics of his rearmament budget that the Labor Government believes its giant defence program can be completed "without fatally damaging the fabric of our economic life."

Addressing the Scottish regional conference of the Labor Party, Gaitskell said the £4,700,000,000 ($13,500,000,000) three-year arms program will not cause an "intolerable" fall in Britain's living standard.

Nor, he contended, will it mean "our falling heavily into debt again and losing our hardly-won economic independence."

Fishing Starts in Earnest In Kootenays Tomorrow

Salmo irideus will be the most sought after creature in Kootenay from tomorrow on.

To almost everyone but Latin scholars, that's the rainbow trout, and with May 1, and the opening of most district lakes, a mob of fishermen is unleashed annually.

Kootenay Lake and the West Arm and Slocan Lake are the big waterways which from tomorrow will lure every breed of angler, from those who place the emphasis on an outing more than the catch to those who take their fishing seriously and like nothing better than an argument on technique, tackle or lure.

Actually, all lakes are open from tomorrow to November 14, except those to which special closures apply.

Kootenay and Slocan lakes run until the last day of February; the West Arm West of the Procter dolphin until November 14 and the West Arm from Corra Linn to the Columbia until October 15.

The Columbia, Elk, Michel, St. Mary and Kootenay Rivers will open until November 14.

The thing anglers have to watch this year — besides the catch limit and licence regulations, is that gang trolls are banned on Trout Lake, Kootenay Lake, Kootenay River and their tributaries.

Big Sheep Creek, Little Sheep Creek, Meadow Creek near Kitchener, Beaver Creek near Fruitvale, Boundary or Rosebud Lakes and their tributaries near Nelway, Loon Lake near Ainsworth and Leviathan Lake near Kaslo are legal fishing waters until August 31.

Bulk of the streams open June 1.

Three Teams Tied In Kimberley Junior Baseball

KIMBERLEY, B.C., April 29 — A junior baseball loop, embracing four teams ,is well under way in Kimberley this year, after a not-so-impressive season last year. Competition seems much keener in the circuit due to early season planning. With three games played, three teams are tied, each with a win and a loss.

Four districts of the city: Town, Townsite, Upper Blarchmont, and Lower Blarchmont, are all boasting full rosters of sixteen year olds and younger players. In the first three games Upper Blarchmont edged Townsite 14-11 ,then dropped a 13-7 decision to Town. Townsite got its first victory by edging Town 7-5.

Standings:

	P	W	L	Ave.
Town	2	1	1	.500
Townsite	2	1	1	.500
Upper Blarchmont	2	1	1	.500

League Leads Tied; 26 Homers in Day

By STEVE ROBERTSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Home runs and extra inning games highlighted Sunday activity today in the major leagues which also saw three teams tie for the National League lead and two for first in the American League.

The St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers tied the Boston Braves for first place in the National and Cleveland and Washington wound up in a deadlock for top honors in the American.

Major League batters enjoyed their biggest home run spree of the season with 26 of the circuit blows. Each league accounted for 13.

Harry Brecheen pitched the Cards to a 6-3 victory over Chicago Cubs while Brooklyn defeated New York Giants, 6-3, to extend the Giants' losing streak to 11 games.

Boston divided a doubleheader with the Philadelphia Phils, winning the first game, 1-0, but blowing the second, 10-9.

The Braves, Dodgers and Cards all have the same percentage — .667—but their won-lost records differ. Here's how they stand:

	W	L	P	GB
Boston	10	5	.667	—
Brooklyn	8	4	.667	½
St. Louis	6	3	.667	1

The Indians dropped into a tie with Washington by losing a doubleheader to St. Louis Browns, 6-3 and 13-11 while Washington lost a 4-0 decision to the New York Yankees. The Indians and Senators have identical 7-3 slates.

In other National League action, Pittsburgh Pirates defeated Cincinnati Reds 9-8 in 13 innings in the opener of a doubleheader. The Pirates then battled the Reds to a 1-1 10-inning tie in the nightcap. The game was called because of the Pennsylvania Sunday curfew law.

This blue law also halted play between the Boston Red Sox and Philadelphia Athletics. The Sox won the opener of a scheduled doubleheader, 12-8, in 13 innings but the second game was called after two innings with the Sox leading, 6-0.

Seven home runs were blasted in the marathon opener, five by the Sox. Ted Williams clinched the victory with a two-run homer in the 13th. Dom DiMaggio homered in the 11th and Tom Wright in the 12th for the Sox. Bobby Doerr socked the other two homers for the Sox and Joe Tipton and Eddie Joost connected for the A's. The loss was the A's 10th straight.

In the other American League game, Ken Holcombe pitched Chicago White Sox to a 4-0 five-hit victory over Detroit. It was Holcombe's first outing of the year.

Vern Bickford scattered seven Philadelphia hits while the Braves collected only two off Jocko Thompson and Jim Konstanty in the opener at Boston. The Braves scored in the second on a walk to Sid Gordon and double by Lou Olmo.

The Braves scored six runs in the first inning of the nightcap to take a 6-2 lead but couldn't hold the margin.

Dick Sisler put the Phils back in contention with a three-run homer in the fourth. The Phils grabbed a 9-7 lead with three in the sixth on a homer by Del Ennis and two-run triple by Ed Pellagrini and were never headed.

The Dodgers also wrapped up their victory over the Giants with a three-run sixth-inning rally. Gil Hodges' sixth homer of the season with one on featured the uprising. Duke Snider blasted two homers for the Brooks and Bob Thomson one for the reeling Giants.

Lefty Ed Lopat turned in his second straight shutout and third route going performance for the Yanks in stopping the Senators. Phil Rizzuto's three-run homer in the third off Bob Zuzava decided the issue.

Home runs by Sherm Lollar and Ken Wood sparked the Browns to victory over Cleveland in the opener at St. Louis. Lollar connected with one on in the fourth and Wood with a mate abroad in the eighth. Ned Garver went all the way for his third victory.

FIRST FOR ROSEN

The Browns scored seven runs in the fourth of the nightcap but the two runs in the seventh turned out to be the winning ones. Al Rosen, American League homer champ last year, socked his first of the year for Cleveland with two on in the ninth.

Hold Edge Over Nanaimo Clippers

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., April 29 (CP)—An overtime goal by Walter Zuke Saturday night gave the Sault Ste. Marie Greyhounds the edge in their best-of-three exhibition series with the Nanaimo Clippers.

Zuke's goal came in a special overtime session, made necessary after the Hounds had skated to a convincing 6-2 decision over the Clippers in regulation time. The teams decided to play a sudden-death session to decide the winner. Nanaimo had won a 6-4 decision Thursday night while the opening contest ended in a 2-2 tie.

Zuke's goal was his second of the night. Other Sault scorers were Ronnie Lay, who had two, Johnny Offidani, Joe Bumbacco and Jimmy Mosienko.

Gordie Miller and Leslie Lundmark were the Nanaimo marksmen.

Kimberley Elks Prepare Entry to Baseball League

KIMBERLEY, B.C., April 29 — Kimberley Elk's baseball team will enter, once again, the British Columbia-Idaho-Montana league this season, club officials announced this week. The league is divided into two divisions, Northern and Southern, with a playoff setup arranged in which the two top teams will play off for the league championship.

Kimberley will be in the Northern circuit with Creston, Clark Forks, Bonners Ferry, and Troy (Montana). Cranbrook will not enter a team this year. In the Southern section is Kellogg, Coeur d'Alene, Sagle, Burke and Sandpoint.

With a wealth of material on hand, new coach Sandy Sanderson, aided by assistant-coach Bill Hryciuk, will soon have a team picked for the league-opener, two weeks away. Hryciuk, who sparked the Kimberley team two years ago, will be back for infield duty with Red Matthews, batting king of the loop last season, Gord Smart, replacing Buzz Mellor, and several other hopefuls.

Eric Bodin, who racked up a 6-0 standings last year is once again ready for mound duty, as is second-year man Bill Jackson.

Randy Lauer, Claude Bell, Bill Fergus and Red Mellor will share outfield duties.

Barrie Ousts Quebec in East Junior Finals.

TORONTO, April 29 (CP) — Barrie Flyers, long on spirit but short on the betting odds, dumped Quebec's favored Citadelles 8-3 Saturday night to win the Eastern Canadian Junior Hockey title. They took the best-of-seven series 4-3.

Moulded into a powerful club on sheer drive, Flyers put the lid on one of the most controversial title series in the Canadian Amateur Hockey in years.

They now will meet Winnipeg Monarchs for the Canadian crown. The East-West final opens in Winnipeg Tuesday night, with the second in Winnipeg and a third in Brandon. The remaining games will be played in Winnipeg.

This was a series plagued with arguments, peppered with penalties, spotted with Quebec's refusal to play the final game on Barrie ice and finally climaxed by 11th-hour dictums by the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association to finish the series here.

Flyers, lacking in weight and height, weren't conceded much of a chance to take the big, powerful Cits. However, Barrie blazed to two stright home victories at the start of the series, dropped the next two in Quebec and then split the other two before Saturday night's clincher.

Coach Hap Emms, who guides his Flyers best when the chips are down, summed up the series this way:

"Wheww . . . that was a toughie. We were up against a tough club but my boys came through in fine style."

BABE PRATT FINED

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., April 29 (CP) — Hockey Coach Walter (Babe) Pratt was fined $50 Saturday for dangerous driving after he crashed his car into a light pole.

Valleyfield Enters Alexander Cup Final

By VIC MORRIS, JR.
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL, April 29 (CP) — Valleyfield Braves trounced Sydney Millionaires 7-1 tonight to move into the Alexander Cup final against Toronto St. Michaels.

Paced by Jack Irvine with a pair of goals, the Braves had too much power for the Maritime hockey champions who became completely disorganized in the final period.

Valleyfield won the best-of-seven series, four games to two.

Netminder Paul Leclerc played a big part in his team's victory as he came through with a sensational performance in the first and second period.

The Braves' other goals were scored by Andre Corriveau, Rosaire (Kitoute) Joannette, Jean-Paul Bisaillon, Jackie Schmidt and Paul Larivee.

Tom Rockey scored Sydney's lone marker in the third period on an unassisted screen shot from the blue line.

The victory marks the first time that Valleyfield has reached the finals in Canadian senior hockey. The team entered the Quebec senior league six years ago and won their first league championship this season.

Over the full route, Sydney outshot the Braves 23-19 but Valleyfield connected for seven goals on their 19 shots.

Monarchs Dump Pats From Junior Series

WINNIPEG, April 29 (CP)—Winnipeg Monarchs, minus the services of brilliant wingman Laurie Mitchell, coasted to an 8-4 win over Regina Pats Saturday night to win the Western Canada junior hockey title.

The victory sent Monarchs, Canadian junior hockey champions in 1946, into the Memorial Cup final series against Barrie Flyers. They won the best-of-seven set 4-3.

The title match will open here Tuesday, with the second game Thursday and the third in Brandon Saturday. The next two are slated for Winnipeg May 7 and 9. The others, if necessary, will be announced later.

Ross Parke paced the Monarch attack with three goals. Elliott Chorley sniped two while singles went to Jim Zarie, Dave Trainor and Bill Burega.

Harvey Schmidt, Gary Edmundson, Warren Dowie and Tony Schnieder scored for Pats. Seventeen penalties were handed out, nine going to Regina.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

L V A T N M I M F H L V V T F H K N M B K J V I F K V I H — H X F P M H Y M F I M.

Fort Frances Ties Allan Cup Series

OWEN SOUND, Ont., April 29 (CP) — Fort Frances Canadians shrugged off a hockey hex Saturday night and defeated Owen Sound Mercurys 6-4 to square their best-of-seven Allan Cup finals at one game apiece.

Canadians roared from behind a 4-3 count late in the last period to blast in three goals. The win marked the first time Mercurys were defeated on home ice this year.

It was nip-and-tuck until Bob Fero drove in to tally for Canadians at 9:46 of the final period. That gave Canadians added life and they had little trouble shoving the other two counters past netminder Jackie Gillson.

Fort Frances goals were divided among Johnny Irving, Ike Eizensoph, Doc Johnson, Fero, Morris Saplywy and Sambo Fedoruk. Mike Bukacheski counted twice for Owen Sound. Singles went to Jack Ingoldsby and Pat McReavy.

OWEN SOUND, Ont., April 29 (CP)—Owen Sound Mercurys lost the services of left-wing ace Al Forslund Saturday in their game against Fort Frances Canadians for the Allan Cup and Canadian senior hockey title.

Forslund suffered a broken wrist when he collided with Morris Saplywy of Canadians during the second period. He fell heavily to the ice after hitting the boards and will be out for the rest of the series.

Great Reunion for 48th Highlanders

TORONTO, April 29 (CP) — A three-day reunion the 48th Highlanders are planning here in May has all the earmarks of being the biggest celebration for a single army unit since 1928.

It marks the 60th anniversary of the Highlanders and registrations are pouring in from all provinces.

Officials believe it will be bigger than the historic union of the 48th 22 years ago, said to have broken the British military record for a single unit's peacetime rally.

Many veterans of the 48th originally enlisted in British Columbia and Alberta in such units as the 30th, 51st and 54 battalions, or in the 17th from Nova Scotia and the 12th from Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick. The 19th and 35th battalions from Western Ontario also sent members to the Highlanders.

Market Trends

NEW YORK, April 29 (AP)—An increasing number of losses cropped up in the short session and the trend turned from an advance to a mixture of gains and declines.

Oils remained strong with Cities Service ahead about $2 at one time and Standard Oil (N.J.) (Socony-Vacuum and Texas Co., up by lesser amounts. Canadian issues were mixed today. Canadian Pacific lost ⅛, and Distillers Seagrams gained ⅜. Dome Mines and Hiram Walker were unchanged, and International Nickel was up ¼.

TORONTO (CP) — Trading was practically at a standstill in the short session. Gains and losses were about balanced and there was little change. Volume was about 550,000 shares.

MONTREAL (CP) — Trading was moderate and securities moved hesitantly.

Many leaders held unchanged, while gains and losses near the close were about evenly divided in a small fractional price path. The add issue moved as much as a point.

British Soccer

LONDON, April 29 (Reuters)—Two second-half goals by centre-forward Jackie Milburn gave Newcastle United a 2-0 decision today over Blackpool in the English soccer cup final before 100,000 fans in Wembley Stadium.

The King and Queen watched the contest—climax of Britain's soccer season.

The Football Association Cup which Newcastle gamered today is a massive silver urn, 175 ounces in weight, 19 inches high, mounted on an ebony plinth on which are inscribed winners' names. The present cup has been up for competition since 1910.

It is the third F. A. Cup. The first, originally contested in 1872, was stolen from a Birmingham shop window where it had been displayed in 1895—and was never recovered.

The second was presented to the late Lord Kinnard in 1910 at the compeltion of his 21 years as President of the F. A.

Tottenham Hotspur, who won promotion from the second division only a year ago, capped a brilliant rise to soccer glory by clinching the championship of the English League Saturday.

Glentoran, Irish League champions, completed the "double" when they defeated Ballymena United 3-1 in the final of the Irish Cup Saturday.

U.S. Requests End to Lend-Lease Deadlock

Note Proposes Russian Settlement, Denies Preference for Great Britain

WASHINGTON, April 29 (AP) —The United States formally proposed arbitration of the long-drawn deadlock with Russia over a settlement of the $10,800,000,000 lend-lease aid granted the Soviet Union during the Second World War.

"Four years of direct negotiations between our two governments have yielded little progress toward a settlement of this issue," State Secretary Dean Acheson said in a tlengthy note to Russia's Ambassador Alexander S. Panyushinkin.

Acheson suggested that a three-man arbitration panel be named. Russia and the U. S. would each appoint one member while the third would be named by the President of the International Court of Justice at The Hague.

The decision of the Board should be final and binding. Its duty would be to decide how much Russia should pay. Russia in negotiations which began last Jan. 15 offered a maximum of $240,000,000. The U. S. flatly rejected this and countered with a demand for at least $800,000,000.

In his note Acheson made it plain the U. S. still insists that Russia return immediately 672 small lend-lease naval ships, including two icebreakers, torpedo boats, landing barges and tankers.

The 1400-word American note again rejected Russia's contention that the U. S. had offered Britain a better deal when it settled the British lend-lease settlement. Radio Moscow has aired this charge.

The American note pointed out the U. S. was writing off $10,000,000,000 of Russia's bill. This, it said, represents a "great recognition of the community of interest of our two governments in the achievement of the common victory and takes full cognizance of the part played by the Soviet Government in this effort."

Vogeler Breaks Down in Warning Americans to Protect Freedoms

VIENNA, April 29 (AP) —Robert A. Vogeler, still haunted by nightmare experiences in a Communist prison, broke down before a television camera today while warning Americans that "what happened to me can happen to them."

The 39-year-old businessman, released Saturday after serving 17 months of a 15-year sentence in a Hungarian jail on spy charges, spoke with emotion.

He was so nervous from the sudden shock of his homecoming that his doctor forbade three scheduled radio broadcasts to his homeland. But Vogeler insisted upon talking before an NBC television camera set up at his home.

"I am convinced," he said, "that my incident is just one of a series of planned attacks on democracy as we understand democracy."

"As for me, this is very important . . . I feel that every individual American should realize that what happened to me can happen to them. If we don't all band together to destroy these enemies of individual freedom, independence and liberty—of the right of a person to go where he wants, to say what he wants to say without hindrance by authorities or police. . .

"You never realize what freedom means until you lose it."

Vogeler was released by a U. S. agreement to reopen two Hungarian consulates in the U. S., lift the ban on American broadcasts from Munich so as not to interefere with the Hungarian radio, and restore Nazi-confiscated Hungarian property in Western Germany—but not the ancient crown of St. Stefan, the nearly 1000-year-old religious relic and symbol of sovereignty and power in Hungary.

PRESSURE USED

Vogeler told newspaper men Saturday there was "some truth" in the confession he made at the people's court traial. But he said both physical and mental pressure were used to obtain the statement, and it contained many technical inaccuracies because he became "mixed up" in long interrogations.

Vogeler was brought Saturday to the Austrian border at Nickelsdorf, where he was met by an American legation car and taken to his home where his Belgian-born wife and their two sons received him.

Asked if he had been drugged, to make him confess at his trial, he said:

"That is a difficult thing to determine, whether you are drugged. It depends on your physical condition at the time. If you are kept awake long enough you don't know whether you are drugged or whether you mind just ceases to function normally.

"I was given stimulants to keep awake. Coffee and cigarets were forced on me."

IN SAME PRISON

Vogeler said he thought Edgar Sanders, a British accountant for International Telephone and Telegraph, sentenced to 13 years was in the same prison.

The American said he received no letters. The Hungarians told him this was because of "American censorship." His own letters, he added, were not received by Mr. Vogeler.

Vogeler said he got enough to eat part of the time and was "fattened up" for his trial but there were times when he was hungry.

Asked whether his interrogators were always Hungarians, Vogeler said he could not be sure "but I suspect there were two other interested countries — Czechs and Russians."

Cave Men's Bones Start New Theory

TEHRAN, Iran, April 29 (AP)—Perhaps 75,000 years ago three cave men died when their roof fell in.

This month their shattered bones were dug up by a University of Pennsylvania professor and a young Harvard graduate. Their discovery in Notrrhern Iran, amid gravel deposits going back ot the ice age, is bound to stir up the scientific world.

The two say the bones they found may have belonged to the oldest human being ever found. And they may prove that modern man goes farther back than has been believed.

Dr. Carleton S. Coon of Devon, Pa., curator of the Mediterranean and Far Eastern section of the University of Pennsylvania's Museum, says the pin-headed Aspian men had most of the physical characteristics of modern man except that their brain chambers were smaller. Geological evidence indicates they lived even before the Neanderthal man.

USE OF FIRE

This theory might upset the contention that modern man descended from the so-called ape-men through the Neanderthal man. Coon says the discovery indicates that a true human being existed at the same time as the cruder species.

Found with the skeletons in a cave near Behshar, on the South shore of the Caspian Sea, were other objects adding to the scientific haul—the oldest known agricultural tools, pottery and other traces of primitive civilization.

Coon's assistant, Louis Dupree of Harvard, says the find offers one of the earlest evidences of man's use of fire as well as what may have been one of the beginnings of agriculture.

Coon believes the Caspian area probably may have been one of the so-called "nuclear" regions—where cultures flourished while they lagged in less-favored parts.

Britons Keep Eye On Swiss Market

By SYDNEY GAMPELL

LONDON, April 29 (Reuters)—Fluctuations in rates for blocked West German marks, quoted in Switzerland in United States dollars, had an important bearing in London on Canadian securities.

Almost the only way a Briton can buy Canadian securities is by some other Briton buying blocked German marks for sterling, selling them in Switzerland for Swiss francs, selling the francs for United States dollars, using the dollars to buy Canadian securities in New York, and selling the Canadian securities in London—at a substantial premium.

There is virtually no other way, because the Bank of England does not allot dollars for purchases of any dollar securities, and Canadian securities are the only ones that Britons are not allowed to switch.

When British-owned Canadian securities are sold back to Canada, the dollar proceeds have to be used towards paying off a loan which the Canadian Government granted the British Government during the war. Thus they cannot be switched into purchases of another Canadian security.

There has been a substantial business by the roundabout route which starts off with somebody buying blocked German marks and ending up with somebody else investing in International Nickel.

Because it is difficult to bring them into this country, Canadian securities such as International Nickel command a substantial premium in London.

The premium is even higher than on U. S. securities, though less uniform because Britons are allowed to switch from one U. S. security into another.

Last night, the premium was about 26 per cent. This means that International Nickel in London was worth 26 per cent more than th sterling equivalent of its price in New York.

Police Capture Two Suspects

VANCOUVER, April 29 (CP)—Two brothers, described by police as "dangerous American gangsters," were captured Saturday near Cache Creek, B.C., 150 miles Northeast of here.

The capture was made by R.C.M.P. and F.B.I. agents sent here from Seattle.

Police, who refused to identify the men, said a third brother was arrested earlier in the week when he attempted to enter Canada with a stolen automobile.

The capture ended a week-long search following a series of car thefts and burglaries in the interior of B. C.

The brothers are reported wanted for a series of crimes in the United States. All were armed when captured.

The police hunt started last Sunday after a ranch robbery near Prince George.

Two men, each armed with two rifles, held up Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Parker at their ranch home. They bound the couple and stole two rifles, a small amount of cash and a jeep.

The men captured at Cache Creek were travelling in a truck which was halted at a roadblock.

LONDON (CP) — Passers-by ignored explosions occurring in a store in Piccadilly. Later it was reported that £8,000 ($24,000) had been stolen from the shop. The explosions? Stick of dynamite blasting a safe.

Sleep Method for Jittery Children

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

BOSTON, April 29 (AP)—How do you fill the teeth of a jittery kid who fights like a wildcat about getting into the dentist's chair?

One answer at Chilrden's Hospital here is to put them to sleep, in the hospital, under a general anaesthetic. The sleeping rebels have had up to 10 to 15 fillings and two or three extractions at one time, said Dr. Paul K. Losch, chief of the dental service.

The child gets a clean, healthy mouth, and then is reconditioned to the dental chair and normal methods of treatment by early, regular visits to his own dentist.

The first work after the sleep treatment is only to clean the teeth, or polish the fillings, something the children don't mind. They return at least every three months to catch decay or other trouble early.

The sleep method is for hospitals only, with a skilled anaethetist giving the ether or other anaesthetic, Dr. Losch said. He has treated some 500 children this way in the last three years.

"Actually, I don't regard them as bad kids," he said. "I think they just have good defences."

He means youngsters 2½ to 4 years or older. Children eight or nine years old usually can be reasoned with, he said.

Often the youngsters have badly neglected mouths, he said. They have fought too long, and may be in danger of becoming neurotic about dentistry because they have been urged and enticed and browbeaten to behave and be nice.

In one hour the dentist can do work that would frequently take eight to 10 hours by the usual appointment method, Dr. Losch said. This saves money, often enough to offset the cost of the hospital stay and the anaesthesia.

Foresees Prisons With "Out-Patients"

OTTAWA, April 29 (CP)—Prisons "within the next 25 or 50 years" will resemble hospitals with a large part of the prison population handled as out-patients, a penal expert predicted Friday.

Joseph McCulley, Deputy Commissioner of Penitentiaries, said he "doubts "if prison authorities of the future will consider it necessary to build at terrific public expense great bastilles of steel and stone."

He spoke to the 20th class to graduate from the penitentiary officers' training course.
