Texans Would Help . . .

Iran Compromise Prospect Bright

Talks With Britain Will Re-Open If Next Harriman Meet Successful

ABADAN, Iran, July 22 (Reuters) — A Texas oil company has offered to buy millions of gallons of oil from Iran's nationalized oil industry and send its own tankers to collect it, an Iranian spokesman said today.

The offer was received in a cable from A. B. Davis of "Texhoma." The Iranian spokesman said Texhoma also had offered to send "the best technicians in the world" to help the Iranians run the oil industry.

TEHRAN, Iran, July 22 (Reuters) — Members of Iran's Oil Commission, tonight met United States envoy Averell Harriman and reported afterwards "success is assured." They had been discussing Harriman's set of proposals for a settlement in the Anglo-Iranian oil dispute.

Harriman Saturday night presented the commission with a set of proposals as a basis for a compromise between the Iranian government and British interests in the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company.

Commission members said tonight "we are in the final stages of negotiations."

"If everything goes well at a further meeting, Mr. Harriman can go home a satisfied man."

"The Associated Press quoted Deputy Premier Hossein Fatimi as saying that the Iranian Government is "optimistic" about chances of re-opening talks with Britain in an effort to get oil shipments started again from Abadan."

Commission members had given a satisfactory reply to the proposal and the reply was approved by special decree by the cabinet meeting today, they said.

The nature of the proposals is secret but they are reported to include suggestions for a joint British-American-Iranian marketing organization.

One member of the commission said tonight's talks with Harrriman were "mainly concerned with steps to prevent a closedown of the Abadan refinery."

U.N. Naval Chief Dies in Naples

NAPLES, Italy, July 22 (AP)— Admiral Forrest P. Sherman, 54, United States Chief of Naval Operations, died unexpectedly here today after two heart attacks. He was on a tour of Europe's Atlantic Pact defence and had planned to leave this afternoon for home.

He first was stricken early this morning. A Navy medical officer and a Naples doctor were called and he appeared to rally. But several hours later, the second and fatal attack struck Sherman. Mrs. Sherman and Admiral Robert B. Carney, American Commander of Allied Forces in Southern Europe, were at his bedside.

Sherman had been boss of the U. S. Navy since December, 1949. He replaced Admiral Louis Denfeld in the bitter squabble over unification of the Army, Navy and Air Force. A brilliant "flying Admiral", he vaulted over the heads of nine other admirals to take the Navy's No. 1 post, the youngest, at 53, ever to get the job.

He was first stricken in his Naples hotel room shortly after he awoke this morning and died there following the second attack, just after the noon hour. The body was removed to the U.S.S. Mt. Olympus, Carney's flag ship, in Naples harbor. A Naval spokesman said it would be returned to the U. S. at once for burial.

ADMIRAL SHERMAN

WON DEVOTION

Although some of his fellow officers were critical of him when he took the Navy's top job after the firing of Denfeld, his leadership won him the confidence and devotion of the whole Navy. Grieving officers and men aboard the Mt. Olympus were stunned at the news of his death, as was official Washington.

TRUMAN "GRIEVED"

In Washington, President Truman led the U. S. today in expressing grief at Sherman's death.

"I am shocked and grieved," Truman said in a radio message relayed to Washington from the presidential yacht Williamsburg. Truman was on a Potomac River cruise when the news reached him.

"The country's loss is great and so is mine," Truman said. Defence Secretary George C. Marshall and others issued similar statements.

In London Admiral of the Fleet Lord Fraser expressed his "great shock" at the news of Sherman's death.

"He was a man just as much respected by our Navy as by the American Navy," he said.

Meanwhile, Defence Department officials said that Admiral L. D. McCormick, Vice-Chief of Naval Operations, will take over the Navy's top command temporarily.

A regular assignment to the post of Chief of Naval Operations will be made later by the White House.

McCormick, 55, rose through the ranks to become Vice-Chief of Naval Operations, a post he has held since last year.

Meat Price Dip Forecast

VANCOUVER, July 22 (CP) — A decline in meat prices was forecast Saturday by J. S. McLean, President of Canada Packers Ltd., here on a visit.

He said that when prices reached their present level, "declines are more likely than advances."

"I don't think further meat price increases are likely, although anything is possible. Lower prices are more likely—but I anticipate no great drop."

"Goodbye, Daddy"

ATLANTA, July 22 (AP) — Eleven-year-old Sarah Anne Massey put her arms around her father's neck Saturday and said: "I just wanted to tell you goodbye, Daddy," shortly before she died of cancer.

Sarah knew she was about to die and asked that her father, Marcus P. Massey, be called home from work. When he came in she hugged him. "I just wanted to tell you goodbye, Daddy," she said. "I love you and Mamma and everybody."

A little later she said: "I'm going home, Daddy. Go with me."

Expect Reply Tuesday

Admiral Joy on Way to Korea; "Wait and See"

By ROBERT EUNSON

TOKYO, July 23 (Monday) (AP) — Vice-Admiral C. Turner Joy, chief allied cease-fire negotiator, prepared to return today to Korea with last-minute instructions from the Supreme Allied Commander.

At Kaesong on Tuesday, Joy expects to receive the Communist reply to his final offer on an agenda looking toward an end of the 56-weeks-old Korean war.

Since late Saturday, after the Kaesong talks were recessed at the Reds' request, Joy has been in closed consultations here with Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme allied commander. He has received explicit instructions to take if the Reds insist that withdrawal of all foreign troops from Korea must be a subject on the case-fire agenda.

But there was nothing to indicate the Red delegates had acted similarly during the recess.

The North Korean and Chinese Red delegates Saturday had asked the Far Eastern Air Force for a guarantee of immunity from air attack if the delegates travelled over 100 miles of road North from Kaesong to Pyongyang, North Korean capital, for further instructions.

Air Force Col. A. J. Kinney told the Reds such a guarantee could be assured if they supplied information on just when the trip would be made and described the convoy markings.

An Air Force spokesman said today no further request has been received.

SARIWON BOMBED

Sunday 15 Okinawa-based B-29s bombed Sariwon due South of Pyongyang and on the main road the delegation would have to travel.

However, there was the possibility the Red delegates had taken advantage of poor flying weather and driven to Pyongyong without making another request for freedom from attack.

Joy was accompanied to the conferences with Ridgway by two other cease-fire delegates, Rear-Admiral Arleigh Burke and Air Force Maj.-Gen. Laurance C. Craigie.

(Reuters News Agency reported that Ridgway said Sunday night in a radio interview that nothing had happened in the talks with the Communists to give rise to undue optimism for peace. He said his own attitude is one of "wait and see.")

He added: "I would not attempt to guess" for what reason the Communists asked for the current recess in the talks. It was possible they had to communicate directly with Moscow for instructions, he said.

(The Supreme Commander said the South Korean Army is a long way from the point where U.N. troops could leave the situation safely in its hands and withdraw, as the Communists have demanded.)

GOODBY, MR. MALIK — Outward bound on the S.S. Gripsholm, Jacob Malik, Soviet delegate to the United Nations, waves goodby to the continent that he may not see again. He was accompanied by his wife and daughter. — Central Press Canadian.

MUFTI KIN IN POLICE NET

Jerusalem Grab Feared; Dynastic Quarrel Looms

CAIRO, Egypt, July 22 (AP) — Two relatives of the former Mufti of Jerusalem were reported among 500 persons rounded up in Jordan today as a result of the assassination of King Abdullah. Middle East personalities converged on Amman for one of the Arab world's most glittering funerals.

The Cairo newspaper Al Ahram said the relatives were Dr. Daud El Husseini, a nephew of the bearded former Mufti, Haj Amin El Husseini, and Sayed Tewfik Saleh El Husseini.

Reports from Amman, the Jordan capital, have said Abdullah's assassin was a member of the "Sacred Struggle Organization", a band fostered by the former Mufti. Daud El Husseini has been identified in the Mufti's anti-British terrorism in Palestine as far back as 15 years ago.

The Mufti, from his exile in Egypt, issued a denial Saturday night that he had anything to do with the assassination of the staunchly pro-British Abdullah in Jerusalem Friday, the Moslem Sabbath.

FORESTALL OUTBREAK

With a dynastic quarrel looming over who will suceed the old king, the crack Arab Legion commanded by the former British brigadier, John Glubb Pasha, was laying a heavy hand on the populace to suppress any outbreak.

Anti-Abdullah sources in Cairo said more than 500 persons had been arrested in Jordan.

Cairo newspaper dispatches from Jerusalem said a "delicate situation" prevailed in the old city. The government feared the Jews might seize the opportunity of any chaotic disorder to grab the rest of the Holy City.

Pro-British Prince Naif, 35, second son of Abdullah who has been proclaimed regent, issued his first statement as the new ruler by reminding his people that "my martyred father taught you patience" and appealing to them to keep calm in the crisis.

No statement had yet come from his anti-British brother, Prince Talial, 40, who normally would succeed to the throne. Talial, in Switzerland for treatment following a nervous breakdown, was reported outraged by Naif's regency.

PETAIN UNCONSCIOUS

ILE D'YEU, France, July 22 (AP) — Former Marshal Henri Philippe Petain, 95, former French Chief of State, lapsed into unconsciousness tonight but doctors said a defensive reaction had set in and that his pulse had become more regular than Saturday.

Members of his family had been summoned with news that he was dying. Twice before, since April, they have come at the same summons and each time the aged soldier rallied, amazing his doctors. One of them Saturday said Petain could not live through the night.

Sentenced to life imprisonment for treason in the Second World War, his term was commuted last month and he was removed from his prison cell to a private villa on this island.

18-Day Refinery Strike Settled

VANCOUVER, July 22 (CP) — The 18-day strike of about 230 workers at the Shell Oil Company's Shellburn refinery in suburban Burnaby was settled Saturday.

The strike committee of the Oilworkers' International Union (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) signed an interim agreement which brings the starting wage in the plant to $1.40¾ hourly. The previous starting wage was $1.04¾.

Lopes Elected

LISBON, Portugal, July 22 (AP). —Gen. Francisco Craveiro Lopes, 57, was elected President of Portugal today. He succeeds Marshal Antonio Oscar de Fragoso Carmona who died last April.

The votes had not yet been counted but Craveiro Lopes was the only candidate for the seven-year term.

He was the choice of Premier Antonio de Oliviera Salazar and his National Union Party.

Salazar, who with President Carmona has ruled Portugal for 25 years, declined to run for president for "reasons of conscience."

FRENCH FROWN ON WATER BABY CHANNEL TRY

PARIS, July 22 (AP) — Russell Tongay of Miami, Fla., his wife and his "water babies" arrived here from London today, but they may not be here very long. French police gave them a cool welcome and they might be forced to leave tomorrow.

Tongay had hoped that his two children, Bubba, 5, and Kathy, 4, would return to England by water — swimming the English Channel. He said he expected to remain in Paris about a week before going to a small town South of Cape Gris Nez to prepare for the Channel swim.

Within half an hour of their arrival, however, police ordered the Tongays to pack their bags.

The Tongay family arrived in London June 22, but were detained by British immigration authorities as a result of protests against the proposed Channel swim by the children.

Later, British authorities relented and said the family could stay in England as regular tourists so long as Tongay made no attempt to put the children in any exhibition or Channel swim.

PRAVDA WARNING

Armada To Search for Airliner Off Alaska

Korea Airlift Craft Carrying 38 Missing on Anchorage-Seattle Run; 20 Planes Scouring Panhandle

VANCOUVER, July 22 (CP) — An aerial armada criss-crossing the craggy Alaska Panhandle was seen tonight as the only hope of finding the Canadian Pacific Airlines Korean airlift plane which vanished Saturday on a flight from Vancouver to Anchorage, Alaska.

The DC-4 carried 38 persons: Seven crew members from Vancouver, two Royal Canadian Navy men, three United States Army officers, three civilians attached to the U.S. Army and 23 U.S. Air Force men bound for duty in Japan.

Weak radio signals picked up yesterday had been all but discounted today as possible clues to the fate of the plane. They were heard at Anchorage and Cranbrook, B.C., as well as by ships at sea. The 17th Coast Guard district in Alaska, directing the hunt, said listening posts monitor similar faint signals nearly every day. A C.P.A. spokesman in Vancouver said that there was no indication the signals came from the plane but that with the scarcity of clues no possibility could be ruled out.

The Airlines said tonight that an American pilot flying in the same area—at approximately the same time the airlift plane was reported overdue — summed up his flight as "generally routine".

Capt. Bill Chapman, on a direct flight from Anchorage to Seattle, reported he was flying at 10,000 feet C.P.A. said, and although he encountered continuous rain, the air was generally smooth. The missing plane, when last heard from, was flying at 9000 feet.

C.P.A. said 20 planes participated in the search today after the weather cleared along the panhandle of Alaska, a coastal strip that hooks South from Alaska proper.

When Capt. H. Hollick-Kenyon of Vancouver reported the weather clear to 8000 feet, C.P.A. said, search aircraft from the U.S. Coast Guard squadrons at Anchorage and Juneau took off.

Additional aircraft were poised at Juneau, Yakutat, Anchorage and Fairbanks. Four C.P.A. planes were in the region. They were being commanded by Capt. Charles H. Pentland, manager of C.P.A.'s Pacific Lines. Two Coast Guard cutters were handling the sea search.

The Korean airlift plane was to continue on to Tokyo from Anchorage. It was the first plane to meet disaster in the airlift's 87,000,000 miles of flying since the outbreak of the Korean war.

The Navy men were identified today as Ab. Robert J. Moore of Westphal, N.S., and Ab. Frank R. Laker of Winnipeg.

An early report that the three civilians were United Nations officials was scotched later by U.N. Headquarters in New York.

WEATHER "FOUL"

Weather may have caused it to crash. The Juneau Coast Guard headquarters said flight conditions had been 'foul" with fog, rain and clouds in the area since the lost plane had taken off from Vancouver at 7:42 p.m. Friday night on the 1348-mile leg.

13 DIE IN FIRE, DROWNING

'Frisco Apartment' House Blaze Takes 8 Lives

SAN FRANCISCO, July 22 (AP). —At least eight persons were burned to death and 23 were injured today in a quickly spreading dawn blaze that destroyed a four-storey apartment house.

Eighteen other persons who lived in the building were missing but most of these were believed away for the weekend. It was San Francisco's worst blaze since a 1944 fire killed 22.

The bodies of seven women and one man were charred beyond recognition. Firemen spent the day hunting through water-soaked debris for traces of others.

Ten of the injured were firemen fighting the blaze which raced through the 44-year-old tenement-like structure. Damage was estimated at $40,000.

Cause of the fire was undetermined, but firemen blamed delay in turning in an alarm for the high loss of life.

BOAT OVERTURNS

STROUD, Ont., July 22 (CP).—Five men were drowned today when their motorboat overturned on Lake Simcoe near this police village, 45 miles north of Toronto.

Two other members of the party were rescued.

Dead are:

Beverley Leslie, 40, Toronto.
Harvel Fletcher, 30, Drayton, Ont.
Lorne Fletcher, 47, Fergus, Ont.
Austin Fletcher, 32, Fergus.
Wesley Fletcher, 65, Drayton.

Harvel, Lorne and Austin Fletcher were sons of Wesley. The fifth man was his son-in-law.

They were attending a family picnic at which 36 members of the Fletcher family were present.

The men who were saved were Glen Fletcher, 20, of Fergus, a grandson of Wesley Fletcher, and Kenneth Hill, 22, of Moorfield, Ont.

The two survivors managed to cling to the capsized boat, a mile off shore, until they were reached by another boat and pulled to safety.

Fight to Save 30,000 Acres From Missouri

ST. LOUIS, July 22 (AP)—The mighty Mississippi's highest flood here in 107 years kept on rolling today—bringing danger to new areas below St. Louis.

The peak of the flood passed St. Louis around 4:30 a.m., EDT with a stage of 40.28 feet. This actually was .02 higher than during the disastrous 1947 flood, although both will be carried in the weather bureau books to the nearest one-tenth at 40.3.

But despite passing of the crest little relief from the flood is expected immediately.

The fall today has been slight. The weather bureau expects the water to remain for as much as a week.

Normally heavy river traffic came to a standstill Saturday with the closing of the main lock at Alton, Ill., North of St. Louis. Towboats and barges were tied up at the nearest docks.

An oil pipeline leak, similar to the situation that led to destructive fires in Kansas City, Kas., during the same flood last week, was repaired.

Coast Guard headquarters reported the oil which escaped had been carried away by the swiftly-moving current.

Newest danger spot is in Perry County, Missouri, across from Chester, Ill., and 50 miles South of St. Louis.

Army Engineers fighting to save 30,000 acres of rich farmland gave the levee there a 50-50 chance to withstand the pressure. The Mississippi already is above the levee top but a vast sandbag barricade built by Air Force and civilian volunteers is holding out the water.

Parts of old Chester have been flooded for several days but the main town is perched on a high bluff.

At Cape Girardeau, Mo., some 100 miles South, water has been edging into the main business district. All industry and several homes located along the water front are surrounded by water.

The crest is expected to read 41.7 there Tuesday.

Slide Sweeps Home Into Lake

PENTICTON, B.C., July 22 (CP) — A landslide swept the home of Dr. Plecash into Okanagan Lake. The doctor and his family escaped without serious injury.

More than an acre of orchard slid down a 100-foot cliff and roared 350 feet out into the lake, causing a tidal wave that swept across to Summerland, on the opposite bank.

Dr. Plecash said he heard a sudden roar as he sat in his home near the foot of the cliff, and water suddenly rushed into the room.

"I saw my daughter, Penny, 3½, floating on the water," he said. "I picked her up and rushed into the bedroom where my youngest daughter ,Gail, was.

"The door wouldn't open so I kicked the window in and found her lying under a mass of debris. I can't understand how she came through it alive."

EDINBURGH, July 22 (Reuters). —The 990-year-old Scottish Clan Hay has decided to organize a clan society with headquarters at its 14th-century seat, Delgaty Castle, at Turriff, Aberdeenshire.

The Clan Hay, founded in 961, is one of the most widely dispersed in the world. It is intended to found society branches in the United States, Canada, France, Italy, South Africa and Iran.

More than 15,000 in North America alone are known to have ancestral qualifications for clan membership.

ON THE WESTERN FRONT, Korea, July 23 (Monday) (AP) — Twenty-seven officers and men of the British Commonwealth 29th Brigade were decorated for heroism today.

Among the awards were four Distinguished Service Orders, a Military Cross and four Distinguished Conduct Medals.

The ceremony was the last for the Brigade as an independent group in the Korean war. The 29th, which has been with United Nations forces in Korea since last Fall, soon will merge with two other Commonwealth brigades to form the 1st Commonwealth Division under Maj.-Gen. A. J. H. Cassels.

The division is to be made up of Canada's 25th Infantry Brigade, in Korea since last May, the British 28th and 29th Brigades, Australians, New Zealand artillerymen and an Indian field ambulance unit.

And in This Corner . . .

DENVER, Colo., July 22 (AP) — Things were cooler Saturday night for one Denver woman.

"Draw two," she told a tavern bartender.

He drew one and then a deep breath — for the woman was attired in nothing but a smile and a pair of shoes.

"You crazy?" he asked.

"No, just hot," she replied.

The bartender summoned police who made the woman dress for a ride to the station in the wagon.

They looked in the back of the station. She was undressed again.

ROME, July 22 (AP) — It's perfectly okay to holler "Viva Il Duce" in Italy if you want to.

A Rome court of appeals has ruled that the phrase, once the traditional cheer for Fascist dictator Benito Mussolini, means just what it says — "Hurrah for the Leader" — and need not be a reference to Mussolini.

Claudio Bassan shouted the phrase at the funeral of a member of the pro-Fascist Italian Social Movement two years ago. He was arrested and sentenced to four months in jail.

He appealed and the higher court said he was within his rights.

BIRMINGHAM, England, July 22 (AP)—Sprint champ June Foulds victory in a 100-yard event today was certainly a crowd-pleaser.

Her running pants dropped to her knees at the halfway mark.

Blushing, June crossed the finish line with fists clutching the pants and the customers howling with joy.

But no one could answer a reporter's query: Were any dogs dishonorably discharged?

Jiggs Mauriello To Race In Three Competitions

TRAIL, B.C., July 22—Jiggs Mauriello, owner of a speedboat that is drawing attention in ever-widening circles, leaves Trail Thursday to enter a series of Pacific Northwest races.

Mr. Mauriello plans to race Miss Mercury II at Harrison Hot Springs July 28; at Kelowna Regatta Aug. 2 and at the Gold Cup races in Seattle Aug. 4 and 5.

Mauriello drove Miss Mercury to second place in the Pacific Northwest Gold Cup race at Deep Cove, near Vancouver, recently.

Miss Mercury will race in Division 1 of the 225 cubic inch class, which is for boats ranging up to 266 cubic inch displacement. Miss Mercury has a displacement of around 264 cubic inches.

Following the Seattle races, Mauriello plans to defend his title in the Kiwanis Water Show at Nelson Aug. 19. He easily won the 10-mile open here last year when Commodore L. F. Gilbert of Nelson in his well-known Ladybird crashed into a boathouse and was unable to race. Speedboat owners at Vancouver and in Washington have also signified intention of competing.

NEW SLO-MO-SHUN

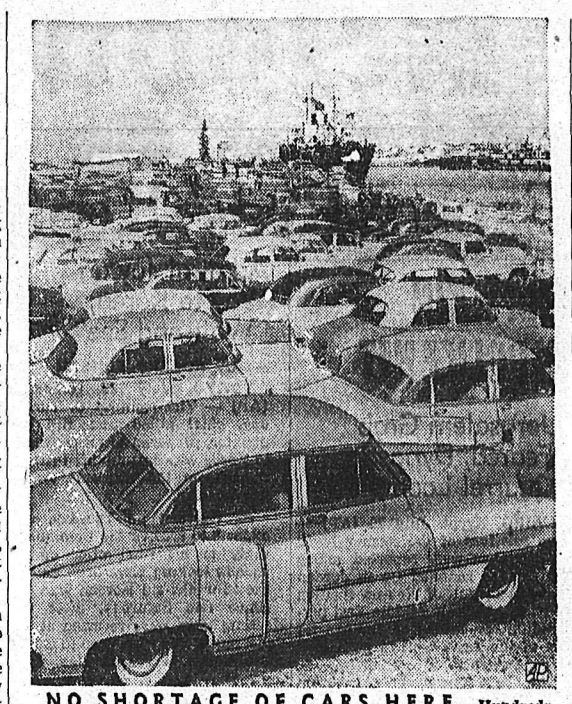
SEATTLE, July 22 (AP).—Slo-Mo-Shun IV, world-record holding queen of the speedboats, has a brand new sister and rival.

Stanley S. Sayres, owner of the boat that skimmed to a world mark of 160 miles an hour a year ago, eased the Slo-Mo-Shun V into the water today.

Sayres has said he hopes some day to have a boat capable of hitting 200 m.p.h. His designer, Ted O. Jones, said last Fall he had a boat on the drawing board which could make 200 and this may be the baby.

Nobody is saying much. The V was even built in a secret hideaway so curious folks couldn't get in the way of the workers. Long, wide and low, looking a lot like the champ, it's a product of the same team that built the IV—owner Sayres, designer Jones, builder Anchor Jensen.

The work has been rushed in an effort to get the new craft ready to defend the Gold Cup—won by the IV last year at Detroit—on Lake Washington here Aug. 4. If the new Slo-Mo can't be gotten ready there's still life in the old gal and Cayres will go to the start with it.



NO SHORTAGE OF CARS HERE—Hundreds of new cars and trucks are lined up at a dockside in San Juan, P. R., ready for delivery to buyers. Despite the higher cost per vehicle than on U. S. mainland there are plenty of cash buyers.

ONCE-DOOMED YOUNGSTERS SHARE ROOMS AFTER BRAIN SURGERY

PASADENA, Calif., July 22 (AP)—Little Donny Marton, the Canadian boy whose life was saved by a delicate brain surgery, shared his hospital room today with a similarly-afflicted 14-months old girl — subdural hydroma, the pressure of fluid on the brain.

The newcomer, Pamela Ann Crawford of Colton, Calif., was moved into the room at the invitation of Donny's parents Ella and Arthur Marton, a Saskatchewan farm couple from Archerwill.

Both children are recovering from critical brain operations performed by Dr. William T. Grant, a Pasadena specialist. They had been pronounced doomed.

Pamela's parents had read about four-year-old Donny's plight of his father's desperate search for a cure, and of Dr. Grant's offer to operate without charge.

So the Crawfords, whose own baby had been operated on without success five times, brought her to Dr. Grant. The surgery on Pamela was performed last Monday.

The Crawfords could not afford the vitally-needed special nurses and the Martons helped solve the problem.

"That mother and father love their baby as much as we love ours," Mrs. Marton said. "Look at the hundreds and hundreds of letters and dollars that have been sent us. Why, the least we can do is share the kindness and generosity."

QUEEN SEES ASCOT WON BY OUTSIDER

ASCOT, England, July 22 (Reuters)—A spry three-year-old named Supreme Court came home by three-quarters of a length here Saturday to win the new Festival of Britain stakes — at £25,372, the richest purse in British turf history.

Owned by Mrs. Tom Lilly, Supreme Court triumphed over 18 of Europe's best thoroughbreds.

Through an oversight the colt was left out of all British classics this season.

Supreme Court started at 100 to 9.

George Roll's Zucchero, 100 to 8, ran second with Francois Dupre's French champion Tantieme, 7 to 2, six lengths behind.

The Queen and Princess Elizabeth were among the record Ascot Saturday crowd of more than 100,000 who watched this great weight-for-age event run over 1½ miles.

Tantieme, best of the six French challengers, just kept Winston Churchill's gallant grey, Colonist Two, out of a place.

Favorite at 100 to 30 was the runaway Epsom Derby winner, Arctic Prince.

Where to Catch Fish From British Columbia to Newfoundland Lakes

By The Canadian Press

This is the year for fish but not for fishermen.

On the British Columbia coast, it's the drought—too hot to fish. In the Middle West it's the rain—too wet to fish. In Central and Maritime Canada fishermen brave the rain and blackflies, mosquitos, tent caterpillars and horseflies.

Reports hooked in a Canadian Press survey today indicated that fishing is the best it has been in years for the determined Canadian angler.

On the west coast, they're talking about fighting 25-pound Kamloops trout in the Interior and the thrill of hooking a tasty salmon in one of the coast rivers. There's a good supply still swimming around for the catching.

Alberta reports lots of fish but few catches. The difficulty has been that heavy rains have turned roads into mudholes and clouded the water. (Fishermen insist the fish can't see the hook as well.)

The Alberta standby, raw beef, is still the best bait, but only the wealthy are using it this year.

Newfoundland, dotted with hundreds of small lakes and ponds, teems with salmon and trout in numbers sufficient to take the waiting out of fishing. The annual May 24 "trouting day" saw the provincial capital, St. John's, a near ghost town as residents headed for lakes and streams.

Quebec has a whopping fish story to make up for reports of poor salmon fishing and average trout bites.

Straight-faced Indians on Lake Mistassini, North of Quebec, say they caught a grey trout weighing 158 pounds.

Northern Saskatchewan thinks it has a record with a 54-pounder taken at Lac La Ronge, 190 miles North of Prince Albert. One Jackfish weighed 27½ pounds and measured 50 inches.

The lake has become the favorite fishing hole of Americans who come in by plane. Non-resident licences in April brought in $2725 compared with $361 for the same month last year.

Similar increases in fishing licences issued were reported from most provinces—all indicating that more Canadians have been bitten by the angling fever than ever before.

And if you're after more than fish, you might visit Ontario. One angler threw in his line and pulled out a wallet containing $33.25.

FIERY OBJECT EXPLODES OVER WEST ARM

Some sky-riding phenomenon caused a bit of a stir among North Shore residents late Sunday night.

Sweeping out of the sky from near the top of Sunset Mountain, a bright, burning object with a fiery tail flashed down to within about 50 feet of the surface of the West Arm to disappear in an explosive-like flash.

"It made a swishing sound," Mrs. B. McGinn, one of the observers, reported. "It wasn't like a meteor."

Postmaster Of Beaton Dies

Burial services will be held in Vancouver Monday for Charles A. McElroy, who died at the Shaughnessy Military Hospital at the age of 65.

Mr. McElroy, who served with the Second C.M.R. in World War I, is well known to Beaton and district residents, where he was postmaster and recorder for a number of years.

LONDON (CP)—A company director was fined £150 for trying to evade duty on a camera. It was stated that he hid the camera in a sock hanging from his belt.

Rotary Club, which has had Dr. Bach as its guest on prevous occasions, is sponsoring the evening event.

The Weather

Synopsis—Sunday temperatures again reached the low nineties in the Okanagan and Thompson Valleys with no indication of any break in the current warm dry weather over the Southern regions of British Columbia.

Northern coast and the central and cloudiness is confined to the Northern interior. A few showers occurred along the Northern coast and scattered showers and isolated afternoon and evening thunderstorms were reported in the Cariboo and Prince George regions.

Spiritual Needs for Full Life Discussed

That fullness of Life cannot be found in matter but only in the knowledge of God and Christ Jesus was discussed in all Churches of Christ, Scientist last Sunday. The Lesson-Sermon was entitled: "Life" and the Golden Text was:

"The wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord."
Romans 6: 23

The Lesson-Sermon included the following passage from the Bible: "Woe unto him that saith to the wood, Awake; to the dumb stone, Arise; it shall teach! But the Lord is in his holy temple: let all the earth keep silence before him."
Habukkuk 2: 19, 20

Among the selections from the Christian Science Textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, was the following: "The sharp experiences of belief in the suppositious life of matter, as well as our disappointments and ceaseless woes, turn us like tired children to the arms of divine love. Then we begin to learn life in divine science."

CITY OF NELSON

Money By-Laws

Property Owners will have an opportunity on Tuesday, July 24, 1951, between the hours of 8 a.m. and 8 p.m., Daylight Saving Time, to vote on:

A. A Bylaw for $300,000.00 to provide a transmission line of suitable capacity to take care of the ever-increasing load.
The City now has sufficient plant to take care of your requirements for years, but the power must be delivered in the City in order to give customers efficient service, and take care of the ever-increasing load.
The Light Plant is your greatest asset and the annual revenue increase will, at all times, take care of the Interest and Annual Payments and provide an annual surplus of some $111,000.00 representing a saving of approximately 23 mills on your tax rate.

B. Property Owners will also have an opportunity to vote on a $50,000.00 Bylaw to renew the pipes in the Civic Centre Rink, make the freezing plant automatic, renew Civic Auditorium roof and repair walls which are becoming dangerous and is necessary to protect your asset of $600,000.00.

The existing debt on the Civic Centre amounting to $150,000.00 will be repaid in 1955 which will reduce the annual cost of $12,622.00 after the above date.

The debt on the Light Plant is being paid off at a rate of $46,182.50 annually.

There is also a surplus of $107,924.90 in sinking fund.

As your elected representatives, we, the members of the Council, are unanimous that these two Bylaws are necessary in order to protect the power plant and the facilities at the Civic Centre.

We, the undersigned, respectively request you to support the above Bylaws by turning out to vote on Tuesday, July 24th.

PARKING METERS PETITION SHORT 160 NAMES

CRANBROOK, B. C., July 22 — Despite voluble protests against installation of city parking meters last year, the city is having difficulty getting the necessary 250 signatures to a petition for a plebiscite on the subject. The petition was set up in the city hall two weeks ago for objectors to sign and has only 90 signers so far. One fifth of the ratepayers must sign before a vote is called.

Intent on a ratepayer verdict on the matter, the city has decided to circulate the petition through the meter readers, and vote is planned sometime in August.

Approximately $400 a month is being collected from the meters, not including fines for violations with the city retaining one-fourth and remainder going to the meter company to pay for the installations. At present rate of revenue the city will own the meters outright in about three years, after which the revenue becomes the city's. Meters have operated since May 1, 1950, except for the four Winter months when they are removed for snow clearance.

Leaders of Fashion Give Out Few Clues

By NADEANE WALKER

PARIS, July 22 (AP) — "The coming mode will ally all the tenderness of feminity to the severity of Winter."

Make what you can of that, girls.

It's straight from the lips of Paris fashion dictator Christian Dior, and it's absolutely all he intends to tell you about new styles before his collection is unveiled July 30.

Most fashion kings are as close-mouthed at this time of year as atomic-bomb makers.

However, the following trends for the new fashions have been uncovered:

"The face has never been more important, and everything will emphasize and frame it," says couturier Pierre Balmain. "The pencil line of dresses will lead like a rocket to the face, and we've found a way to change hats so they emphasize the face."

Jacques Fath:

"Lengths will remain the same, but skirts will be fuller, sleeves will be puffed, and afternoon dresses will be high-necked. We will use black, peacock blue, purple, red and green, and lots of tweed, even for afternoon wear."

Heim:

"Necklines will be severely high, with small rounded or Cossack collars but sometimes the decollete will be cut out beneath."

Rochas (according to his young American designed Bill understood):

"Fabrics will be richer, with much embroidery. There's an Orientay influence. Interest will be in bodices and necklines, which will be high and modest."

Maggy Rouff:

"Smaller busts, longer skirts, shorter waists."

The unit consists of a 1932 truck with a 12-foot roof ladder and a 25-foot extension ladder. It is also equipped with a centrifugal front mounted pump, two soda ash chemical extinguishers, two reinforced suction hoses and a five H.P. flasher siren.

A purchase of 300 feet of second hand hose with a nozzle from the Calgary department will complete the equipment here for the present.

The truck was brought from Cranbrook by Ian Weir and Rudy Hecher. Mr. Weir has been acting fire marshal for the village during the past two years when the fire fighting situation has been most difficult due to lack of suitable equipment.

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (CP) — York Y.M.C.A. in Pennsylvania defeated King's College, Auckland, 79 points to 35 in a swimming meet conducted by airmail. A program of sprint events in three grades was swum by competitiors on each side and times were exchanged by airmail.

Canadian Touches Mark Diplomat's Canberra Home

Written for The Canadian Press
By Margaret Ecker Francis

CANBERRA (CP) — The residence of the Canadian high commissioner here is a successful attempt to blend Canadian atmosphere with surroundings essentially Australian.

When C. Fraser Elliott and Mrs. Elliott arrived to make their home in Canberra this Winter (Summer in Canada) they found themselves in a charming house that might well stand in Toronto's Forest Hill village, the Westmount section of Montreal, or Vancouver's British Properties.

But it is also typically Australian in its setting. Incidentally, one of the Elliott's first uninvited visitors was a possum, Australian variety, which settled in between the first-floor ceiling beams and at last reports was still imposing on the high commissioner's hospitality. (Note: possum—A small nocturnal marsupial mammal with thumbed hind-foot.)

A Canadian flag fluttering from a pole in a gracious garden was the first sight Mrs. Eliott caught of her new home. That garden is very like a Canadian garden, since the high, clear air of Canberra is kind to North American trees, shrubs and flowers planted there.

When C. M. Croft, Canadian trade commissioner in Sydney, was acting high commissioner at the capital, Mrs. Croft lavished time and love on the rose garden. Clumps of fragrant lavender hug the house so that its perfume can come in through the windows.

Mrs. Elliott admired the gentle, corot-esque beauty of the tall eucalyptus trees that border the garden. At one side of the house, beneath a trailing Canadian willow tree, and facing the rose garden, there is comfortable wicker furniture, for twilight relaxation outdoors when December Summer brings heat to Canberra.

VEGETABLES TOO

Behind the house, in the Australian Springtime (September and October) she'll be able to pick strawberries and gather other types of Canadian vegetables, peas, beans, beets.

Red Virginia creeper climbs over the sprawling, modern house which with its wide windows, balconies and red-tiled roof shows the Spanish influence.

The house within is an unpretentious, friendly place. Queensland oak lines the reception hall where hang the portraits of the King and Queen and Lord and Lady Alexander. A high brick, Canadian fireplace dominates the informal drawing room which is decorated in beige and rose tones. The panelled dining room, with its gay floral drapes in green and purple leads onto a screened dining porch.

Canberra homes must be designed for comfort at Christmas time when the temperature can rise to 100 degrees, as well as in Winter when frosty breezes bring to the valley the nip of snow from the hills around.

The big kitchen, with their two refrigerators and endless cupboards is convenient, but at the same time it is arranged for efficiency in a help-scarce country. When Mrs. Elliott entertains she will use crystal on which has been etched maple leaves.

The bedrooms, one downstairs, three upstairs, are large and cheerful with restful color harmonies such as blue with rose, green with beige. They have fireplaces and ample cupboards, as well as bathrooms more modern than usually seen in even the best Australian homes. From the upstairs windows the view sweeps across the forest-like boulevards of the capital to the red hills with their white eucalyptus trees, usually muted with blue haze.

Movie Gossip—

Hollywood Mouths Water at Figures Paid Stage Artists

By JACK QUIGG

HOLLYWOOD, July 22 (AP) — Looking at the Hollywood News:

Producers are drooling at the fantastic grosses drawn by touring entertainers, notably Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis in New York and torrid Josephine Baker in Los Angeles.

Cutups Martin and Lewis made more than $100,000 in a single week on Broadway. La Baker drew some $52,000 during her second week in a theatre here.

Unfortunately, it's only the big houses that get such top draws.

The producers' solution: A heavy schedule of films for Martin and Lewis; a proposed screen biography of Miss Baker, the American Negro dancer who makes her home in Paris.

Unhappy news (from Hollywood's point of view) from London, where a new Anglo-American film pact is being negotiated. Hollywood is fighting for permission to spend its frozen British pounds in new ways. British authorities are against it . . .

Lana Turner's all-white foreign convertible, selected to match the white sweaters she fills so admirably . . . An independent producer's announced plans to film the life of Mickey Cohen, and how sad it is the mobster, recently convicted on income tax evasion charges, won't be around to act as technical adviser . . .

Twentieth Century-Fox's decision to change the title of "Old Soldiers Never Die" to "Fixed Bayonets."

"Happy Little Washday" Gal Far Happier on Television

NEW YORK, July 22 (AP)—Anne Marlowe's most vocal claim to fame is a six-year job she'd rather forget.

She is the possessor of the soprano voice which for six years assaulted the ears of radio listeners with a paean to a soap powder with the recurring refrain: "Happy Little Washday Song".

As such, she undoubtedly was the best-known unidentified radio voice on the air.

As the identifiable producer of "Somerset Maugham television show" Miss Marlow is much happier She is one of the handful of women who also are television producers.

RESPONSIBLE

Miss Marlowe selects the story, hires writers to work out a dramatization, casts the shows, and supervises the crew which actually handles the productions. She gets a discreet credit line at the end of each show. She also is the person who is held responsible by the sponsor for each week's success or failure.

An attractive, energetic blonde, Miss Marlowe has spent most of her life in the theatre.

Even as she was receiving steady employment as a soap-opera heroine and as the anonymous voice of the soap powder, Miss Marlow was dreaming up program ideas and getting into the producing field.

She produced and directed her quota of shows, including the popular "Sam Spade" and "The Fat Man", a pair of super-sleuths.

SAW FILMS

Her career as a TV producer began the night she saw the movie, "Quartet" and decided it would be a good idea to dramatize Maugham's works as television dramas. She promptly made a deal through his American agent. Then she went out and sold the "package" to a sponsor.

Now Miss Marlowe is getting restive under the "routine."

She's busy figuring out a presentation for a couple of other shows involving dramatization of the works of Hemingway and F. Scott Fitzgerald.

Britain Has Favorable Immigration Balance

The British census taken this Spring found 50,368,455 people in the United Kingdom, including Northern Ireland. Twenty years ago the United Kingdom had 46,023,485 people. The gain of 4,345,000, remarks the Toronto Globe and Mail, may astonish those who had supposed that the British were slowly petering out as a race.

Canada's population in the same two decades has increased by just about 3,900,000, including the bonus of 350,000 from Newfoundland. There has been, of course, a much higher percentage gain by Canada than Britain. Even so, it is an astounding fact that a crowded country like Britain, in twenty years marked by severe economic strain and heavy wartime damage, has had more population growth than an empty country like Canada that was unscathed by war.

Still more extraordinary are the facts about immigration into and emigration out of Britain since 1931. In that time, the Globe and Mail points out, 745,000 more people have moved into the country to live than have moved out. This total, Britain's net gain from the movement of population, considerably exceeds the number of immigrants to Canada in the same period—a figure offset, of course, by Canada's large loss to the United States and elsewhere. Here is surely another staggering contrast. When Britain, with its supposedly dwindling resources and restricted opportunities attracts far more new settlers than Canada, with its vast unused wealth and vacant spaces, it is time to take a long look at our national policies as they affect migration.

His Home, His Own

We're all for that Englishman who, maintaining a man's home is his castle, went to the court and now has gone to the appeal courts to support his contention. There have already been too many invasions by officialdom of man's privileges.

The stand that an Englishman's home is his own and proof against long noses was rudely shattered when a London court upheld the right of a gas company inspector to remove a pane of glass from a window to force entry to read a meter. Not only that, but when Members of Parliament brought the matter to the floor of the Commons, Attorney General Frank Soskice was quoted as saying, in effect, that 25,000 officials and inspectors had such a right.

We wish the Englishman luck in his efforts to maintain the traditional sanctity of his castle.

Slocan's Aid in Hunt For Son Seen as Example Western Spirit

To the Editor:

Sir: It is not without good reason that we in the East hold Western hospitality in high regard. This feeling is the result of numberless examples of kindness and generosity.

The residents of Sandon and New Denver have offered the most recent evidence in the magnificent help they gave a short time ago when my eight-year-old son decided to seek adventure in the bush. To them this could only mean that a little boy was lost. To my wife and I it meant far, far more. My wife has already expressed her thanks for the help which she received and I am anxious to let these good people know how deeply grateful I am for their kindness and generosity.

Are We Going To Bow Down?

BY JOSEPH LISTER RUTLEDGE

"If we could know where we are, and whither we are tending, we could better judge what to do, and how to do it."

So began Abraham Lincoln's "House Divided" speech. Those simple words emphasized the fact that everything has a beginning and that is where support or attack should commence. There are today a few indications of whither we are tending that present the "real and present danger" inherent in the centralizing of power in otherwise admirable institutions.

It was early this year that a coal miner, Joe Dickman, had the temerity to stand in his place among the coal miners of Liberty, Pennsylvania, and call John L. Lewis a dictator. We all know that he could have so spoken of the prime minister of Canada or the president of the United States and, if he did not add to his words violence toward the state, no one would have challenged his right to live and work and hold such views. But for Joe Dickman of Liberty, Pt., there was no such freedom. He was suspended from the union and three months later was still jobless.

In the latter part of this year, James A. Quinn, Secretary of the Cleveland Industrial Union Council, stood in his place and, presumably, speaking for the heads of organized labor — who at least saw nothing in his words they cared to challenge — declared: "Some day we will be able to tell the papers what to print, and what not to print."

Nobody questions the unique service that organization has brought to the worker. But, whither are some heads of labor tending? And what control has the membership over the proud and ruthless and power-hungry barons of labor? If a man may not speak his mind, even disrespectfully, without having to sacrifice therefore his opportunity to make a living; if the free press of a country is some day to dance to the tune that union leadership demands, then, as surely as the average citizen has lost his birthright, so has the worker. If he holds his job at the will of officialdom he is no more free than if he were a slave under a lash. If he is only permitted to hear and think what these leaders permit he is no more free in mind than he is in body.

"If we could know whither we are tending" — Well, there are signposts on the road that speak of lost liberties that no material benefits can replace.

Press Comment

The time will come shortly, if it is not at hand, when the Government will have to do something more than continue the freedom and privileges of enemy agents at work in the Dominion under the protection given to loyal citizens.—Port Arthur News-Chronicle.

I believe if we all would decide this year to give a half dollar more work for the dollar we receive, we would all come pretty near getting back the half a dollar we are losing because our dollars are only worth half as much.—Sherman Adams, Governor of New Hampshire.

Subscriber — Does Canada make any money contribution to Britain in order to retain her position in the Commonwealth?

Canada does not make any contribution to Britain in order to hold her position in the Commonwealth. Canada has made large loans to Britain to assist her during the post war period and is endeavoring to help by trade agreements that facilitate sale of products between the two countries. Perhaps you have been confused by hearing of the quota contribution which Canada, in common with other members, makes towards cost of United Nations Organizations.

In Passing By

Sweet courtesy has done its most
When you have made each guest forget,
That he himself is not the host.

—T. B. Aldrige.

In could not help recall those words when my friend Jake, who passed through town last week on his way to Vancouver, told me of the following little incident.

It seems that while Jake was sitting in his car waiting for his wife to do some shopping in Cranbrook, he noticed a car parked beside his with the meter showing "Violation." The driver was sitting in the car when a constable walked up, looked at the driver, and the out-of-province licence plate, then turned and put a nickel into the parking meter. He then strolled calmly away. A very red faced driver jumped from his auto, tore after the officer and returned the nickel, thanking the constable profusely for his courtesy . . .

Courtesy and honesty stroll hand in hand, and not long ago an old acquaintance of mine said to me, "You know, Joe, the people in these parts are the most honest I have ever come across. Why, just the other day, I parked my car at the side of the road near the Slocan River, intending to do a bit of fishing. Inside the car I left a package of chocolate bars lying on the seat. The door of the car was unlocked. On my return, I found the package of confections had been broken into, and one taken out; but so honest was the "thief" (my apologies) that in its place he left a ten cent coin to pay for it. Amazing, isn't it Joe?"

Britain Stops A-Scientist, F. O. Official, From Going to Russia

LONDON, July 22 (CP)—Britain's State Department Saturday fired one of its officials, after requesting that he turn in his passport, and simultaneously impounded the passport of a London University atomic scientist, bound for a goodwill trip to Russia.

The Foreign Office said neither case is connected with the disappearance last month of two other Foreign Office officials, Guy Burgess and Donald MacLean.

The scientist, London University's Professor E. H. Burhop, cancelled an air trip to Russia with members of a British goodwill delegation half an hour before the plane was to leave, it was reported.

The suspended foreign official was not named, but it was reported his passport had not been cancelled, but returned to the authorities.

ON FORBIDDEN LIST

A Foreign Office spokesman said the two men were on a list of 12 persons forbidden by the government to leave the country. The list was issued to all air and sea ports with instructions to detain any persons on it if they should try to leave.

Burhop was to have accompanied a party of 20, visiting Russia through the British-Soviet Friendship Society, a Communist-front organization.

The other 19 members left London airport as scheduled.

William Ridsdale, foreign news department chief, said the decision to prevent the Australian-born Burhop from going to Moscow was that he was in possession of scientific knowledge.

Burhop worked on atomic bomb projects in the United States during the Second World War. He is vice-chairman of the British Association of Scientific Workers and a leading member of its Atomic Sciences Committee.

At a farewell dinner last night, Burhop said he was looking forward to meeting Soviet scientists and spending two days on a collective farm.

PRECAUTIONARY MOVE

It was not known whether the suspended Foreign Office official had been planning a trip outside Britain. The government said the 12-man list was issued as a precautionary move, "taken as the result of inquiries."

The action against Burhop had been taken because "it is not in the national interest that this gentleman should make this projected journey to Moscow at this time."

The leader of the Russian-bound party, Dr. I. Gilliand, said he knew nothing of the matter except that Burhop had suddenly cancelled his plane reservation.

The party includes several university professors and Mrs. Harry Pollitt, wife of the British Communist party secretary.

MacLean, head of the American desk in the Foreign Department, and Burgess, former second secretary in the British Embassy in Washington, disappeared late in May. They were traced as far as Rennes, France, where the trail grew cold.

Responsible officials have expressed the fear that they may have fled behind the Iron Curtain with important British - American secrets.

IT WAS ALL A MISTAKE

OTTAWA, July 22 (CP) — Canada's pride has been restored.

External Affairs headquarters reported today the United States Government has corrected a statement that Canada is among countries which have been getting U. S. aid since the war.

Canada, proud of her record of standing on her own feet, complained recently when a list put out by officials in Washington included Canada among those countries getting help.

The whole thing, said a spokesman, was a mistake. The mistake has been corrected, at the request of the Canadian Embassy in Washington.

Young Cadets Leave For 12,000 Mile Trip

By VIC MORRIS, JR.
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL, July 22 (CP)—Five starry-eyed sailors from the town of Lac la Biche in Northern Alberta sailed from here today aboard the Empress of Canada on the first leg of a 12,000 mile trip that will take them and their home-made boat on a cruise of European waters.

Led by Rev. Joseph Edward McGrane, 49, Roman Catholic priest and commander of the Exeter Sea Cadet Corps of Lac la Biche, the sea cadet party will sail their 32-foot boat, the Exeter II, through English canals, the English Channel, and French rivers.

The small crew posed for countless press photographs beside their boat which was lashed to the deck of the Empress of Canada.

BUILT IN EDMONTON

The Exeter II, only 9¼ feet across the beam, left Edmonton two weeks ago on a railway flat car. She will be re-launched at Liverpool, proceed to Manchester via canal, then to Birmingham, London, Dover and across the channel to Calais, France.

Her five-man crew will return to Canada next September on the Empress of France which also will be carrying Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip on their official trip to Canada.

The trip was financed by $1000 of Father McGrane's savings, $1100 from the 850 townspeople of Lac la Biche, and $1000 from the Northern Alberta and Montreal divisions of the Navy League of Canada. The cadets contributed $135 each.

With Father McGrane are Cadets Jack Wolstenholme, 17; Harold Klein, 16; Wilf Woyahuck, 16; and Romeo Lebeuf, 15.

The cadets were chosen on a basis of racial extraction with a view to showing Britain how successful the melting pot idea of nationalities has worked in Canada.

Wolstenholme is of English extraction, Lebeuf is French, Klein is German and Woyachuck is Ukrainian. Two boys are Protestant and two are Roman Catholic.

Pravda Perhaps Most Powerful, Feared Newspaper in the World

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

NEW YORK, July 22 (AP)—The Soviet Union, which claims it invented everything, has one invention nobody will dispute. It has the world's dullest newspapers, and the dullest of these is Pravda.

But not if you are a Communist Party functionary—say the leader of the party organization in a factory, charged with maintaining discipline and preventing mistakes by inept workers.

Every day, seven days a week, you rush to the newsstand and stand in line to pay 20 kopeks (five cents at Russia's valuation) for your copy of Pravda. You have to hurry, because Pravda is not intended for the masses and there are just about enough to supply the members of the Communist party.

Your only concern is page one, columns one and two, which tells you the way the wind is blowing. Here you will find out just what the party is thinking about.

"STALIN TEACHES"

You skim over the first five or six paragraphs. The articles all read the same way in the beginning—first a glittering generality about the topic in hand; then, invariably the words "Comrade Stalin teaches" or some variant thereof, along with a couple of lines of quotation from the master. But you are looking for a keyword. It usually comes after Pravda finishes saying that things are pretty good in general.

One day the word is "odnako"—meaning "however." Another day it may be "regrettably," or "on the other hand," or just plain "but."

This is it.

Then Pravda will centre its fire on the target for the day. It may be that not enough attention is being paid to party leadership in the facory organization. If it is, you are getting off easy. It may speak of "serious shortcomings." Even this is not so bad. But it may be that Pravda finds that the way things are being run amounts to "anti-state activity." That, brother, is bad. You are on your way to being bounced and possibly a job in a cooler climate.

Pravda has brought the newsless newspaper to a point of perfection. Every day it looks just the same all through its four pages, except for the headlines, and even some headlines are the same as the day before.

But for all this, Pravda is probably the most powerful and most feared newspaper in the world. It pipes the tune which all the Soviet press must dance. It lays down the law of the Communist party which rules 200,000,000 souls. It pronounces sentence on straying Communists.

Pravda is edited by a collegium, headed by the powerful Mikhail Suslov, who is close to the Politburo and may even be a member by now.

Canadian Shot Wins King's Medal

Kolapore Cup Also Comes to Canucks, Captained by Woman

BISLEY, Surrey, England, July 22 (CP)—Lieut. Gilmour Boa of Toronto today won the Commonwealth's outstanding award for marksmanship—the King's Medal.

The 26-year-old officer of the 48th Highlanders, making his second trip to the National Rifle Association meet, won the coveted ward with a total score of 285. With the honor goes £250 and the N.R.A. gold medal and badge.

Earlier an eight-man team, including Lt. Boa, captained by a woman—Miss Mary MacLennan, Alexandria, P.E.I., school teacher, won the prized Commonwealth Rajah of Kolapore Imperial Challenge Cup.

Miss MacLennan, a lieutenant in the supplementary reserve of the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps, is the first Canadian woman to compete in the N.R.A. meet. She did not shoot in the Kolapore. The Kolapore, presented for competition 80 years ago, was last won by Canada in 1934.

Rangers were 300, 500 and 600 yards, with a maximum possible of 150.

Canadian scores were: Capt. G. J. Gamble, Winnipeg, 133; Cpl. G. H. Farquharson, Kamloops, B. C., 137; Lieut. G. A. Colville, Winnipeg, 143; Capt. M. M. Morgan, Winnipeg, 134; CSM. N. L. Beckett, Hamilton, 140; S.-Sgt. G. B. Kay, Hamilton, 140; Sgt. R. S. Potter, Hamilton, 144; and Lieut. G. S. Boa, Toronto, 145. The total was 1120.

As captain, Miss MacLennan wins a silver medal.

KISS FOR WINNER

Boa, 26-year-old officer of the 48th Highlanders, won the coveted award on his second trip to the National Rifle Association competition. He was here in 1949.

He is a member of a well-known family of marksmen. His father, Lieut. James Boa, Sr., has made the trip to Bisley on several teams.

Viscount Alexander, Canada's Governor General, arrived behind Boa's firing point just as the marksman prepared for his last shot.

Boa, who regards shooting as "more a religion than a sport," hesitated before he fired his last shot. Then he took a deep breath and fired, the bullet went home.

The bright-eyed school teacher was the first to greet him with kiss when it was over. She startled the solemn judges, flinging her arms about Boa's neck and shouting, "Good old Gill, the Maple Leaf forever."

Boa edged out two British officers by three points.

Immediately a great cheer went up from the Canadians behind him.

His team mates gathered around him, he walked over to the victor's chair and was carried shoulder high to join the procession back to camp.

Led by the band of the Royal Army Medical Corps, behind the mounted military police, and followed by the biggest crowd Bisley has seen since before the war, the procession went through a cloud of dust to the N.R.A. offices where the winner's trigger was tested.

Throughout the meeting Boa has been wearing the jacket in which his father, Lieut. James Boa, won the governor general's prize in 1948, and in his pocket he had a lucky rabbit's foot.

The rifle he used is the one with which his father has been winning major competitions for the last 20 years.

B.C. ADJUTANT

One of the most delighted men in the camp was Captain H. Collings of Esquimalt, B.C., the Canadian adjutant. "This has made my trip complete. The last time I came over we took back the King's prize and the Kolapore Trophy and now we are doing it again."

In the Kolapore, teams of eight fire 10 shots per man at each of the 300, 500 and 500-yard ranges, with a maximum possible of 150.

Yanks Grab Lead On Double Defeat Of Browns 9-0, 7-3

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

New York Yankees swept into first place in the torrid American League pennant race Sunday — by two percentage points — downing St. Louis Browns 9-0 and 7-3. The second game was called at the end of eight innings because of rain.

The double victory behind the pitching of Allie Reynolds in the opener and a fine relief job by Jack Kramer in the second game put the Yankees ahead of Boston Red Sox, who won their single game but dropped into a second-place tie with Cleveland, which won two.

Reynolds yielded only four hits in the opener, gaining his 11th triumph against five defeats.

The skidding Chicago White Sox, who blew a 6-2 lead in the opener and were hammered for a seven-run frame in the finale, bowed 7-6 and 11-5 to Washington Senators.

The double setback left the fourth-spot White Sox 2½ games of the American League pace.

In the nightcap, the jittery Sox made six errors.

The Senators thus swept a four-game set from the White Sox. Before this series, the White Sox had beaten Washington 10 of 11 games.

The White Sox pitching came apart at the seams in Sunday's twin bill.

In the opener, Billy Pierce — third Sox pitcher—yielded a game-winning double to Sam Mele with two out in the ninth after starter Saul Rogovin pitched a three-run home to Mike Guerra, tying the score at 6-6 in th sixth.

In the nightcap starter Ken Holcombe and reliefer Harry Dorish collaborated in the second inning to give Washington five hits, including three doubles and three walks for seven runs.

PESKY REDEEMS SELF

Shortstop Johnny Pesky of Boston Red Sox almost threw the game away with two errors but he finally broke up a 10-inning battle with a two-run rouble that edged Detroit Tigess 10-9.

Bill Wight, the third of four Boston pitchers, was credited with the win, his fourth against five losses. But it was starting pitcher Willard Nixon who furnished the punch, batting in three runs on a bases-loaded double in the fourth inning. Cleveland's rampaging Indians made it a four-game sweep over Philadelphia Athletics, beating them 6-4 in the first game of a doubleheader and Steve Gromek batting and pitching a 3-1 victory in the nightcap.

The onrushing Tribesmen now have won 22 of their last 27 games and eight of their last nine.

NINTH STRAIGHT

The National League-leading Brooklyn Dodgers posted their ninth straight victory over St. Louis Cardinals as Carl Erskine turned back the Red Birds 9-2 on seven hits.

Erskine lost his shutout in the ninth when Stan Musial hit his 19th homer with one aboard. Roy Campanella belted a pair of two-run four-baggers for the Dodgers.

Erskine now has won 10 and lost eight.

Chicago Cubs made Phil Cavarretta's debut as a manager a success when they defeated the Phillies 8-7 in 14 innings. The second game, called after seven innings because of the Sunday curfew, will have to be finished at a later date.

Monte Irvin singled Whitey Lockman home from second base in the ninth inning to give New York Giants a 9-8 victory over Cincinnati Reds. The Reds won the opener 7-3 behind Ken Raffensberger. Home runs by Joe Adcock, Connie Ryan and Ted Kluszewski led the Red drive while Willie Mays clouted two home runs to account for all of the Giant scoring.

Murry Dickson threw a six-hitter to give Pittsburgh Pirates a 5-2 victory over Boston Braves after the Pirates dropped the opener 5-3. It was Dickson's 12th win and ninth complete game.

Cavarretta in As Frisch Quits Sparkless Cubs

PHILADELPHIA, July 22 (AP) —Frankie Frisch said today he resigned as Manager of Chicago Cubs but refused to say why.

Frisch was replaced as skipper of the seventh-place National Leaguers by longtime star and team captain Phil Cavaretta, 35.

Informed that Chicago owner Phil Wrigley didn't think he was getting the spark out of his players that he should, Frisch said, "If that's Mr. Wrigley's opinion, okay. Let it go at that."

Cavaretta, the new Chicago skipper, takes over a team 16½ games out of first place. Although named only for balance of this season, he is expected to instill the hustle and spirit into the Cubs that marked his play since he first joined the team as a kid of 17 in 1934.

Cavaretta said he expected to play as much as possible.

Frisch was in his second season as manager of the Cubs. A player for 18 seasons, one time manager of St. Louis Cardinals and Pittsburgh Pirates as well as a New York Giants coach and radio broadcaster, Frisch was nominated to baseball's Hall of Fame in 1947.

Mrs. E. McGregor Wins Pollard Cup

Mrs. E. McGregor of Bonnington captured the Blanche Pollard Trophy Sunday at the Nelson golf links with a net score of 84 over the 18-holes.

Miss Anita Henderson was runner-up in the medal play with 85. Twelve lady shotsmiths competed for the trophy, won last year by Miss Jean Gordon.

Play in the men's division for the C.I.L. Trophy got under way and will be completed next weekend. This is a match medal competition based on three-quarter handicap.

Parnell Cracks Three Track Records; Olympics Win Meet

BY BILL HARCOURT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER, July 22 (CP) — Six track records toppled in one event Saturday as the Canadian Track and Field Championships wound up at University of British Columbia Stadium.

Canada's king of the milers — Bill Parnell of Vancouver — ran the half-mile in 1 minute, 52.7 seconds, setting a Canadian native and B.C. open and native record. (Record breaker Bill Parnell is grandson of Mrs. C. V. Gagnon of Nelson.)

Three other records fell in the same 880-yard run when Parnell, clocked at the 800-metre mark, shot across in 1:52 and chalked up a native Canadian and native and open B.C. record for 800 metres.

Pete Stewart, Oliver, B.C., member of the Victoria YMCA team, made a clean sweep of the hurdling events when he won the 440-yard hurdles. He took both the 120-yard high hurdles and 220-yard low hurdles Friday.

Colville Wins After Nelson Lets Lead Slip

By CLIVE FLEMING

COLVILLE, Wash., July 22 — Nelson Peerless-9 blew a 4-2 eighth-inning lead and allowed Colville to count four runs for a 6-4 victory in the first game of a home and home exhibition series between the two centres. Both pitchers, Hal Davis of Colville and Les Hufty of the visitors, made the most of the sweltering heat, as they fanned 11 and nine batsmen, respectively.

Nelson took advantage of Colville's three errors, counting all four of their tallies as the result of bobbles.

Two were out in the opening frame when Carl Locatelli and Fritz Koehle beat out infield safeties, and then scored one run when Dick Meamaron threw the ball away, but Colville came back with a pair of counters in their half of the first on a pair of safeties and two free passes.

Don Kennedy put the locals back on even terms when he stole second and kept going the rest of the way around the base paths when catcher Lorne Abernathy's throw went into the centre field pasture.

4-2 LEAD

Nelson moved ahead 4-2 in the fifth when Carl Locatelli's long fly ball was dropped. Except for a sixth inning threat, Hufty held the American club in check, while Davis did not have too much trouble with the Nelsonites.

Lee Chester opened the Colville eighth with the first extra base blow of the game, a double, but was tagged at third on an ensuing fielder's choice. Before the inning was over, Lloyd Cole smashed a two-bagger, and a pair of singles and an error paved the way for a big four run rally to put the home towners out front 6-4.

Nelson had the tying runs on second and third bases when the final out was made in a desperate attempt to pull the game out of the fire.

SEEK SUNDAY GAMES

At present, the Nelson executive is working on a return game in Nelson Sunday if it is possible for Colville to come up.

VALLEYFIELD, Que., July 22 (CP) — Bernie Daousts' Canada Maid II made a clean sweep of the heavy hydroplane speedboats at the Valleyfield International Regatta held here today and yesterday.

A crowd estimated at 50,000 jammed this small industrial city on the South shore of the St. Lawrence River, to see Daoust win all three heats of 225 inboard hydro, division II class, averaging 62.026 miles an hour over choppy bay.

Daoust's victory gave him the Schenley Gold Helmet Trophy lead in points. The trophy is awarded annually to the 225 class, division II winner, in all Canadian regattas under the sponsorship of the Canadian Boating Federation.

Ontario Sculler Wins Singles

BY BILL KING

WORCESTER, Mas., July 22 (AP) —High-stroking Bob Williams of the Hamilton (Ont.) Leanders led all the way today to win the National Association of Amateur Oarmen's regatta's prized championship singles sculling event by three lengths from Walter Hoover, Jr. of Detroit on Lake Quinsigamond.

Hoover, a 16-year-old stripling, was the only one of three rivals able to press the husky Canadian veteran who covered the 1¼-mile course in eight minutes, 35.4 seconds.

Hoover pulled event at the mile but the powerful Williams redoubled his already-strenuous efforts to gain this continent's top sculling honor.

Joe McIntyre of the Sattle, Wash., Tennis Club, was third and Bill Knecht of Philadelphia's Vesper Boat Club, trailed far back.

The West Side Rowing Club's eight-oared crew from Buffalo, N.Y., was a front-runner all the way in taking the senior event for the third straight year.

NO-HIT, NO-RUN GAME FOR BISON FLINGER

BUFFALO, N.Y., July 22 (AP). — Tom Simpson, 23-year-old right-hander of Buffalo Bisons, pitched the second no-hit, no-run game of the International League season today, beating Toronto Maple Leafs 3-0 in the nightcap of a doubleheader. The no-hitter climaxed a clean sweep for the Bisons who took the opener 8-6.

Simpson fanned four and walked four in the seven-inning game. The Leafs were also victims of the first no-hitter. George Bamberger of Ottawa Giants recorded the feat June 17, downing the Leafs 1-0 in nine innings.

The victory was Simpson's sixth of the season against one loss. The Bisons scored single runs in the second, fourth and sixth innings.

Prairie Scribe Sees End of Summer 'Spiel Unless Ice Improved

Poor ice resulting from the Civic Arena's tired, 16-year-old system has brought the first serious complaints against the Midsummer Bonspiel in seven years of operation.

That the effect may be costly is indicated in comments made by ex-Nelsonite Don Fleming, a curler himself in this year's event who should know whereof he speaks. In his Edmonton Journal sports column, Fleming writes:

"The Nelson Midsummer Bonspiel will have to clean house or the curling feature will die an early death . . . Heavy ice spoiled the fun for most of the shotmakers and the vast majority of them won't be back unless there's an improvement. The Nelson people are aware that something is wrong, and accordingly a money by-law will go before the citizens soon in quest of funds to replace the 16-year-old artificial ice pipes. The life of piping is said to be 12 to 15 years, so a changeover would not be premature. The pipes have corroded to such an extent that in some instances only about 10 per cent of the brine can get through. Also there's been much heaving. Icemaker Fred Tinling did a fine job under difficult circumstances to provide true ice. But to accomplish this, the levelling process required five inches of ice over some pipes to coyer a quarter of an inch in other places. The result was it was too much to expect keen ice what with 90-degree temperatures outside."

The heavy ice condition referred to by Fleming actually caused cancellation of two draws on Arena ice during the spiel. Keen ice has always been one of the highlights of previous years' spiels.

A money bylaw asking for $50,000 for Civic Centre improvements will go before the voters Tuesday. Biggest item in the proposed repair program is the replacement of the Arena piping system, calling for an outlay of approximately $23,000.

HEAD ALBERTA BIG SIX

TIGERS DROP TRAIL PIRATES TWICE

Trail Pirates, unbeaten in junior loop play this season, came a cropper against Nelson's intermediate Tigers and dropped both ends of an exhibition baseball doubleheader here Sunday.

Ron Brown pitched the locals to a 6-2 victory in the seven-inning opener, scattering six hits and striking out 10. then came back to cop the second game in relief as the Tigers squeezed out a 10-8 verdict.

The Pirates collected five runs off Stan Grill, Nelson starter in the nightcap, before he was relieved by Brown in the fifth with the score 7-5 for the Tigers. Brown pitched scoreless ball until relieved by Irwin in the seventh. Irwin walked the first three men to face him and Brown was recalled from right field. He got two men out before McGhie singled to score two runs and tie the game.

The Pirates scored another on an error to go one up, but the Tigers came back in the bottom of the seventh to score three runs on two walks, a single and two errors.

Jorgenson struck out 11 in seven innings for the losers but gave up three hits and a walk in a bad fourth inning for four Tiger tallies. "Bush" McIntyre who went the route in the opener, relieved him in the eighth.

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Metals Still In Big Demand

NEW YORK, July 22 (AP) — Pricing troubles, strikes and allocation problems harried the nonferrous metals industry last week.

There was no let-up in demand, and prices continued strong and unchanged.

Threatening to upset the schedule of copper deliveries for August, the strike at the Garfield, Utah, smelter of American Smelting and Refining Co., closed out its third week.

Lead producers were deluged with defence priority orders far in excess of the required set-asides for August metal—which are 20 per cent for "do" business and 5 per cent for the national production authority's emergency supply pool. One big domestic lead producer has reported that priority orders for August shipment called for more than his total output for that month.

Major non-ferrous metals prices:

Copper—24.50 cents a pound, delivered. Foreign, 27.50 cents, New York.

Lead—17 cents a pound, New York; 16.80 cents, St. Louis. Foreign 21.50-22.25 cents, nominal, Gulf of Mexico ports.

Zinc—17.50 cents a pound, East St. Louis; 18.25 cents New York. Foreign, 29 cents up, nominal, Gulf of Mexico ports.

Silver—90.16 an ounce, New York; 78.5 pence, London.

Canadian Stamps Go to N. America

LONDON (CP)—About 60 per cent of the Canadian and Newfoundland stamps sold at a recent London auction went to North America buyers.

Sales totalled £7132 and a Toronto dealer (Sissons) made the top purchase of the day bidding £500 for a set of four stamps commemorating the Jubilee of Queen Victoria. Issued in 1897 and originally valued at ½ cent to $5, the stamps show the Queen as a young girl and as the reigning sovereign.

Early issue stamps were offered from New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Newfoundland and British Columbia. Many post-confederation were also sold.

Among those bringing the highest price was a rare 6d. stamp issued in 1852. This brought £120 and its companion issue—the 10d. Blue—went at £140.

A ½ cent stamp cut in half, brought £42. It represented a makeshift, lasting only four days in 1897 and was used only in the New Glasgow District of Nova Scotia's Pictou County.

OTTAWA (CP) — University students have been engaged by the Ottawa Tourist Bureau to drive visitors through the city and point out its landmarks and beauty spots.

Cabin 1 Wins Sports; 6 a Close Second

HAPPY DAY NO. 7

Hi Mom! ya know what I think I sleep better out here, the fellows in my cabin have an awful time waking me up in the mornings. I feel good too.

Sure like the Morning Chapel Service amid the rustic surroundings of the lakeshore, the counsellors give us good advice and then in our study groups we talk about worthwhile things that really mean something and count for most in character building and a Christian way of life. Funny, the fellows never miss these and are eager to get to the groups.

The Cabin leaders are grand fellows. They help us lots and show us the right way to do things. While we are at the study groups, they are usually working on one of the camp projects. Right now it is the cutting of logs for the top of the new cesspit and filling in around the hole. Guess I didn't tell you that the camp is installing a new sanitation and water system.

Sure glad I don't have to pack the groceries from the store for this crowd, they buy it by the freight car load. Well, maybe not quite that much, but 35 boxes and sacks did come off the train today. It takes quite a lot of food to feed us. Those cooks Downie and Van are a great team and give us nothing but the best.

The sports are over now and Cabin 1 led by Cec Nesmith and Bill Gibbon won with 17 points. Cabin 6 their rivals took second place this time with 15 points.

Dash: D. Mervyn, K. Halsey.

Wheelbarrow: L. Atwell and Bill Gibbon; J. French and K. Peerless.

Dishpan relay: Cabin 4, Peerless, Foxall, Stanley, Johnson, Lusk, French; Cabin 7, Service, Halsey, Standidge, Smith, Armstrong, Fraser.

Three-legged: Service, Halsey, Standidge, Smith, Cabin 7; Morrison, Brown, More, Kirker, Cabin 2; Atwell, Burch, Gibbon, Draper, Cabin 1.

Obstacle race: Horswill, Thoms, Wilks.

Snake Race: Cabin 6, Cabin 2.

Skinny Race: Cabin 3, Bell, McRory; Cabin 1, Jolly, Jepsen; Cabin 6, Horswill, Borch.

Broom Race: Cabin 3, Wilks, Douglas; Cabin 6, Drew, Borch.

You know Mom, the way they plan everything is so that all the boys have to take part and have a chance. We won the sports and beat Cabin 6 but they won the water sports and are now one point up on us. Sure hope our housekeeping points are enough for us to be the champions.

Today we had our first rain, and boy did it ever come down, but we were lucky it didn't start until we had finished swimming, then it let up while we were playing our evening games and boating. Then it came again during the camp fire program. Freddie seems to know just what the weather will do for he told us to build the fire in the lodge.

I guess being closer together is what makes the singing in the lodge sound so much better. Tonight the scribes Tom and John Jepsen, Arthur More, Jim Wilks, Denis Stanley, Dinham Drew and Doug Cherrington gave the reports one after the other so it was just like having the paper read to us. The Leaders gave their talent a going over and came up with harmonica, ukelele, accordian and even combs to form an orchestral accompaniment for the songs they sang.

Happy Day No. 8—Saturday that's it, gang we have to clean up the camp if it be possible to clean it any more, ready for visitors' day.

One day last week it was announced that four dimes were reclining beneath four pieces of candy paper or gum wrappers about the camp, to date two of those have yet to be found, of course some chap may have got the dime and just left the paper.

The final league softball game was played today and it had all the thrills of big league ball. These kids play it hard and close and give nothing. The pitching of Barclay Draper was outstanding for the winners, Cabin 1, while Dinham Drew and Bernie Monteleone shared the duties on the mound for the losers, Cabin 6. The final score being 6-2. Garry Burch's home run for the Cabin 1 boys pushed in two runs. An exciting moment came when Mike Horswill, the little eager beaver of Cabin 6, got in the hotbox between home and third and could not escape the closing in of Gary Burch and Peter Thom.

Today was picnic day. Everybody, even Jimmie Potts, took off for Russells via the tracks, rowboat, outboard and launch. Everything from weiners and buns to cake and watermelon were loaded on the launch for a fine supper. Many of the boys found the shallower water at this spot enjoyable for a short swim before eating.

Campfire call has gone and everywhere you can hear the last minute tune ups before the Talent show. No. 1 item on the program and perhaps No. 1 in merit was the kitchen staff from Downie in command down to Gary Van singing McNamara's band (their own words). Sally, bless her heart, is with the boys again this week and naturally had to appear on the program assisted by Downie. Sally, the Great Mystic, had the boys amazed at her ability to discover which part of Downies bright shiny knife they had touched.

Each Cabin Scribe after reading his report introduced the talent produced within his cabin. The following will give an idea of the program:

Barcley Draper sang a solo and the whole cabin sang the humorous "Copenhagen." Arthur More played "Country Garden" on the organ and recited. Bob Teek gave forth with a solo on the tonette and Allister Fraser recited. Cabin 3's Jimmie Wilks had Lorne McRory, Bill Douglas and Peter Bodnarchuk perform, Dagwood also was obliged to play the tonette. Bill Lambert was Cabin 4's contribution to the program, singing in beautiful style "Early One Morning". Cabin 5 had the whole gang sing then Bill Matthews, Bill Halliwell and Marvin Smith performed. Cabin 6 had the stunt as part of their talent show and did the newspaper office scene to perfection, again this cabin came up with songs and resitation. The Cabin 7 gang had Dick Fraser playing the camp organ while songs were given and jokes enacted by Brian Mitchell, Don Standidge, Bob Telfer, Ken Smith and Doug Cherrington. The most humorous items of the evening were the Colvin McBurney boys singing "Old McDonald Had a Farm" and Peter Bodnarchuk singing "Little Wooden Head."

A round of cocoa and cookies quieted the boys down while Freddie, Ian and Bev told stories. So another good day came to a close and the friendship circle formed about the dying embers as the boys tired, but happy, sang "Abide With Me" and "Taps" then "Thanks for the Day Comrade" as they hustled off to bed to rest up for another busy and exciting day.

Canadian Best, Though U. S. Cops Win Field Day

TORONTO, July 22 (CP) — The Detroit Police force, with outstanding individual performances by Jim Brodie and Elmer Coleman, Saturday won a clear-cut decision over two Canadian police track and field teams to take the team championship of the 69th annual Toronto Police Field Day.

However, in the battle for the individual championship a Toronto policeman, Gord Crosby, emerged on top as he threw back the challenge of Coleman and Brodie.

Crosby who completed for Canada in the last British Empire Games, captured the individual honors with 24 points. Brodie and Coleman tied for second place with 19 points each and Ian Hume of Montreal followed with 17. Points were divided on the basis of five for a first, three for a second, two for a third and one for a fourth.

Eden, Bunche, Attend Denver Freedom Study

By EDWARD O. ETHELL

DENVER, July 22 (AP) — A five-week joint study of the pathways of freedom by noted and common citizens opens here today.

Leaders include Anthony Eden, Andrew Cordier, Ralph Bunche, Francis Sayre and William Donovan. They and others will discuss the problems of a free world in give-and-take sessions with housewives, lawyers, laborers, business men, students and teachers.

The occasion is the World Affairs Institute of Denver University's Social Science Foundation.

Subjects to be discussed include power politics, wage controls, human rights and security. Each phase will end with an attempt to find out "what we can do."

The goal, says Albert C. Jacobs, university chancellor, is two fold: "To inform Mr. Private Citizen so that he can aid wisely in arriving at the solutions of the free world must find:

"And, to allow the leaders coming here to meet face to face the people they represent and whose thoughts they must have."

The first week will be devoted to the prospect of making freedom secure through the United Nations.

The second week will cover the prospect for freedom in underprivileged areas. Bunche, Nobel Peace Prize winner, and John Jukes, British Cabinet adviser, are among the participants.

Eden, Britain's former secretary for foreign affairs, will make a major address Aug. 6 as part of the third phase—the prospect for freedom through democratic alliances. Others in this are Sayre, trusteeship council chairman of the U.N., and Henri Bonnet, French ambassador.

The government committee for economic development will handle the fourth week, devoted to a discussion of democracy in world crisis. A special night series for businessmen will be a feature.

The final sessions on human rights will include forums with Interior Secretary Oscar Chapman, Arthur Sulzberger, President and publisher of The New York Times, and Charles Malik, chairman of the U.N.'s Human Rights Commission.

The pretty screen starlet had been convicted of conspiracy in the kidnapping of her former manager, Nick Gianaclis, and his bodyguard in 1947. She had been sentenced to serve a term of five years to life, and was freed on her 30th birthday after her sentence was commuted by Governor Earl Warren. Miss Meredith plans to revive the budding movie career that was cut short when she went to prison.—Central Press Canadian.

Oatis Gave Evidence Of Routine Presswork

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP) — The full record of the trial and conviction of Associated Press correspondent William N. Oatis in Communist Czechoslovakia has been received by the State Department from American Ambassador Ellis O. Briggs in Prague.

Department officials said Saturday it showed no evidence of what any government outside the Iron Curtain would call espionage. Oatis, who was arrested April 23, was sentenced July 4 to 10 years imprisonment on a charge of spying.

The Oatis case is unique among trials of foreigners in the Communist countries, department experts said, because the record shows so clearly that the defendant was judged guilty of doing well the job which he had been officially admitted to the country to do.

Throughout the transcript of the testimony the Communist prosecutor treats routine news inquiries from Associated Press offices in New York and London as "instructions" for espionage. Oatis is pictured as the "head" of an espionage network. His news reports, though published for the world to read, are referred to as if they were secret dispatches to a hostile government.

Officials here said much of the questioning at Oatis' trial was designed to show that Oatis was guilty of espionage simply because he sought to dig out information which the Czech government wanted withheld.

After being in jail two months and denied counsel, Oatis "confessed" to espionage and, more generally, to activities hostile to the Czech state.

However, on the second day of his trial, in a voluntary statement couched in the terms familiar in such Communist court sessions, he made clear in the view of officials here that all he was actually confessing to was the normal, industrious activity of a reporter.

Summarizing testimony he had given the previous day, he told of news contacts he had with the American, British and other embassies in Prague. He said he not only had a supply of news coming in from these contacts, and from Czech friends and employees but also a 'certain demand for such news coming from New York in the form of orders."

Winnie Deplores Loss of Prestige

WOODFORD, England, July 21 (AP) — Conservative Leader Winston Churchill said in a speech at Woodford, his home constituency, Saturday that socialist control of Britain cost her much hard-won wartime prestige.

He declared:

"For the time being we have lost our rank among the nations. There is hardly any country in the world where it is not believed that you have only to kick an Englishman hard enough to make him evacuate, bolt or clear out. Egypt, Persia, Albania, the Argentine and Chile compete with each other in the insults and the humiliations they inflict upon us."

Countries Britons defended from the Nazis, said Churchill, "are watching with astonishment a Britain which they think — and will think until once again we prove them wrong—is a Britain in retreat or in decline."

Airmen Lift Van Doos Cannon

OTTAWA, July 22 (CP) — Officers of the R.C.A.F.—not Yankees or gremlins—were the jokesters who made off with the historic bronze cannon from Quebec's citadel last week. The story involves its second "capture" in 175 years.

No formal story has been told but the facts have leaked out and it is known that the souvenir of battle, first captured by the British at Bunker Hill in 1776, is under lock and key at nearby Rockcliffe airport.

It will be returned safely and promptly and, perhaps with some ceremony.

The cannon, complete with wooden base and weighing several hundred pounds, was taken last Wednesday night from its place on the lawn in front of the officers' mess of the Royal 22nd Regiment and close by the Summer residence of the Governor General in the walled ctiadel of Quebec.

It was taken in the spirit of fun and the flying men are hoping their friends in the Van Doos will see it that way.

In any event they didn't steal it. They left a message for their paratroop officer friends telling them where they could find the souvenir of which the Royal 22nd is custodian.

RULES CONVOY SHIP SUNK BECAUSE OF FRIGATE CARELESSNESS

OTTAWA, July 22 (CP) — Six years after it happened, the owners of a Scottish steamer have been awarded right to damages because a Canadian court found the ship was sunk through the negligence of a Canadian warship. The owners are the Nisbet Shipping Co. Ltd. of Glasgow.

The Exchequer Court, in a decision handed down Saturday, ruled that the steamship Blairnevis was lost in the Irish Sea through negligence aboard H.M.C.S. Orkney, a frigate.

The collision happened at 1:34 a.m., Feb. 13, 1945, as the Orkney and two other Canadian frigates drew near a convoy.

CLOSE BORDER TO CHECK EPIDEMIC

CAIRO, Egypt, July 22 (Reuters) — An epidemic — believed to be cholera — has led Saudi Arabia to close its frontier with Yemen. The epidemic broke out recently in the Abkom region on the Yemen-Saudi Arabian border. There is only one doctor in the whole of Yemen, a 75,000-square-mile region Northwest of Aden with a population of 3,500,000.

BERLIN, July 22 (AP) — The West Berlin newspaper Der Tag said today the Soviet zone is building a German tank army as a branch of the Communist "People's Police." GRAINMEN UNHAPPY

MONTREAL, July 22 (CP) — A leading grain exporter said today he sees no sign of improvement until the end of July in the serious grain shortage in the port of Montreal.

There are 11 vessels waiting here for 56,000 tons of export grain. Five more are expected in the next few days.

Grainmen weren't enthusiastic about reports that railroad officials are rushing 400 freight cars to Montreal from Port McNicoll, Ont.

"That cargo is only a drop in the bucket," one exporter said.

LIFT 4000-6000 SALMON DAILY OVER McNARY DAM

McNARY DAM, Ore., July 22 — Uncle Sam is spending upwards of $500 a day here to virtually "lift" blueback salmon over the half-completed dam during the annual Spring run. A dip net, a huge bucket and navigation locks are combining to help nature as she drives the salmon upstream to spawning grounds.

Ironically, these extreme methods were made necessary by nature in the form of rampaging river waters which tore out three temporary fish ladders intended to serve until the permanent ladders were in place.

UP TO 6000 DAILY

Samuel G. Neff, resident engineer here for the army corps of engineers reported today that from 4000 to 6000 fish are being moved upstream daily. He said there is no question in his mind that the entire run will be moved upstream without trouble.

Molotov Rips Off Anti-West, Anti-Tito Talks

By The Associated Press

Some of the Kremlin's top spokesmen were loosed on Northeastern Europe during the weekend to utter tirades against Tito, accuse the West of "acts of direct aggression" and assert their own undying devotion to peace.

No less a figure than the Soviet deputy premier, Vyacheslav M. Molotov, tried to sound the knell for Yugoslav Premier Marshal Tito's government in a speech Saturday at Warsaw. Molotov, warming up the old Kremlin hope that a Yugoslav counter-revolution would cook Tito's goose, said:

"Now all can see that the gang of Tito. (Foreign Minister Edward) Kardelj and (Interior Minister Alexander) Rankovic have already re-established the capitalist system in Yugoslavia, deprived the people of its revolutionary victory, and transformed the nation into a weapon of the aggressive, imperialist powers . . . This cannot continue long.

The peoples of Yugoslavia will find a way to freedom and liquidation of the Titoist Fascist regime."

WAR PREPARATIONS

The Soviet deputy premier also paid his respects to the Western powers, accusing them of "open preparation for a third world war." He added that "we cannot close our eyes to the fact that the states entering into the aggressive North Atlantic Pact have set out on the path of an arms race."

Molotov spoke on the eve of a flamboyant celebration of the seventh anniversary of the founding of the Polish Committee of National Liberation, which set the stage for the present Communist-dominated regime in Warsaw. Also speaking was Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov, one of Russia's top Second World War commanders and once considered a friend of the West.

Royalty Celebrates

She was driven to the royal lodge at Windsor to await the arrival of other members of the royal family — the Queen and Princess Elizabeth, who spent the day at the races at Ascot, and Prince Philip, who flew home from Malta.

The King is recuperating from a bout of lung congestion at Sandringham Castle.

VICTORIA, B.C., July 22 (CP)— Eight per cent increases in passenger fares on Vancouver Island Coach Lines up-island runs and boosts in Nanaimo urban rates were approved by the Public Utilities Commission Friday.

The changes are effective Monday, July 23.

No public hearing was held, but the Commission, company representatives and delegates from the Vancouver Island Ratepayers' Association held a round-table conference.

The company had originally asked for about 10 per cent increases.

Retreats, Shouting

TIMMINS, Ont., July 22 (CP) — Carpenter Leo Piquette, working in the basement of a fruit warehouse, Friday saw a 15-inch alligator walk out of a hole in a wall.

He retreated, shouting for help. A fellow worker whacked it over the head with a shovel.

Warehouse employees said the alligator must have come from Guatemala with a shipment of bananas. The wall was rebuilt two years ago and the alligator must have slipped in then and been imprisoned, they said.

Saturday the little reptile was still unconscious.

Writers in Arms At Elizabeth's Clothes Critic

LONDON, July 22 (AP) — An army of indignant letter writers rallied today to the support of Princess Elizabeth whose taste in clothes was criticized last week by a Scotswoman. Mrs. L. Williamson said in a letter to a London newspaper that Elizabeth's clothes made her look like "a dowdy, middle-aged matron."

She got 200 letters right back in her own mail box and the newspaper got enough more to fill a column. Elizabeth's defenders — most of them women — didn't say much about the Princess' clothes, but they said she had character, dignity and poise — and "God bless her."

Two men writers commended Mrs. Williamson's courage but the women said she was catty and impertinent.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., July 22 (AP) — Some of the most colorful conference rooms ever built for diplomats are nearing completion in the $9,000,000 meeting-hall area of the United Nations permanent headquarters.

Committee room, one called the blue room because of its dominant color, has blue chairs for the 180 public seats and blue chairs for the 92 press seats. Its double horseshoe tables are made of teak. The walls are of American oak and a blue French carpet covers the floor. The room is 175 feet long, 72 feet wide. The ceiling is 18 feet high. On the side facing the East river are huge windows, with a wall between them on which the U.N. will hang a gold and yellow curtain purchased in England.

COMMAND POST ON ROUND-THE-CLOCK WATCH AGAINST AIR ATTACKS

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP) — Deep in military headquarters here is a command post, manned continuously now, from which the air war will be directed if Russian bombers head for United States cities.

A battery of direct-line telephones link the post with the warning networks, fighter and bomber bases and headquarters of the air force. Instant contact can be made with any of them.

Officials who showed the layout to a reporter also described its operation.

Each evening, when the end of the normal workday empties most of the Pentagon — the vast building which houses the headquarters — a general goes to the command post to remain in charge throughout the night. He has authority to make immediate decisions. He also has before him a daily list to show the whereabouts at all times of key personnel of the Air Force — the secretaries, the chief of air staff, the heads of all U.S.A.F. branches and offices. The nightly duty is rotated among a number of air general officers.

TIME AROUND GLOBE

Demonstrating the fact that air war probably will be global is a row of clocks high up on the wall, telling the time in Washington, in San Francisco, in London, In Tokyo —and in Moscow.

Here in this room with the telephones and global time tellers and links to radio circuits around the world will come the first alert if some night Red bombers start thrumming over Arctic or coastal radar stations.

The command post has had one unplanned test. Some months ago radar interceptors picked up an unidentified formation of planes flying Southward off the Northeast coast of the United States. There were no American formations known to be in the area. An alert flashed into the command post.

The flight proved to be a formation of R.C.A.F. planes on manoeuvre.

STOCKYARD COWBOYS are shown rounding up cattle that had strayed during the terrible flood that has been sweeping Kansas and Missouri. Though the water in the streets of Kansas City, Mo., is still knee-deep in many places, the flood has receded sufficiently to allow the rescue of cattle that had wandered away, seeking high, flood-protected hiding places. Many were found inside suburban houses. The recent floods have killed hundreds of cattle, but most of those rescued have been in good condition, though some were so weak that they required the assistance of trucks to enable them to reach dry ground.—Central Press Canadian.
