Mounties Turn Up Smugglers' Hoards

Borderland Caches Yield Hundreds Of Dollars in Contraband Smokes

OTTAWA, June 12 CP) — The thick bush, narrow trails and twisting side roads of the Quebec-New England border are yielding hundreds of dollars worth of contraband cigarets to the R.C.M.P.

Using patrol cars, aircraft and "walkie talkie" portable radio equipment, the R.C.M.P. is waging a continuous battle against the smugglers, who shop low-priced American cigarettes into rich Canadian border-town markets.

So far Quebec is proving the biggest headache and the locale of the greatest catch. Almost 1,800,000 contraband cigarettes have been seized in that province since the beginning of the year.

The R.C.M.P. says a similar potential market for smuggled cigarettes exists in Ontario, but here there is no bush or winding trails to hide the smuggler.

Vehicles have to cross by bridges, tunnels or ferries, points which are adequately covered by customs and police officials.

In Quebec one seizure transported in a truck consisted of 450,000 American cigarettes, purchased in the U.S. for $1.80 per 200 and on which there should have been Canadian customs duties and taxes of $2.75 per carton of 200.

DODGE POLICE TO BOARD REFUGEE SHIP

Balts Bound for Canada on Jam-Packed Craft

PRIOR FAILURE

STOCKHOLM, June 12 (AP)—A small ship was reported tonight en route from Sweden to Canada with 60 desperate Baltic-country refugees —more than three times its approved capacity.

Most of those aboard beat police attempts to keep them off the 18-ton Briljantin. Reports from Goteborg, Western-Swedish port, said police had approved passage of 18 persons last Thursday.

Forty or so were taken off at Stenungsun, North of Goteborg, and the Briljantin sailed without them after the skipper said he was sailing for Uddevalla, North of Stenungsund.

The Briljantin sailed South, however, and at a small village those previously removed trooped back aboard.

There was no food aboard but it was believed the Balts had stores cached on a small island where the boat had been cruising.

The same craft set out last Fall for the United States but had to be towed back to Sweden when its engine stalled.

SHOTGUN CHARGE MISSES DIRECTOR

MARION, O., June 12 (AP) — Thomas S. Mitchell, 30, of Cleveland, Director of the violence-torn Ohio Associated Telephone Company strike, was shot at early today through a window at City Hospital.

He's a patient in a first-floor room.

The shot came from a shotgun and struck the wall above Mitchell's head.

A few pellets lodged in Mitchell's pillow, but he was not injured.

Mitchell, organizing director for the Ohio Federation of Telephone Workers, said he was asleep when the shot was fired.

The strike began April 7 and has been marked with repeated violence and vandalism. Only yesterday 10 cables, nine of them owned by Ohio Associated, were cut in this area and for a time two thousand subscribers of the company were without service.

New Westminster Is 90 on Wednesday

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., June 12 (CP) — The oldest fresh-water port on the Pacific coast — New Westminster—will be a venerable 90 years old Wednesday.

The port was established June 15, 1895 when James Cooper was appointed first harbor master.

Among the first exports on record was 12 bundles of shingles, 13 bales of beaver skins and 16 bales of dried salmon.

The salmon and shingles still are going strong.

PUT 21 ON ICE WHILE LOOT STORE

SEATTLE, June 11 (AP) — Two armed, masked men escaped from a Safeway Store with an undetermined amount of money here today after imprisoning about 21 persons in a walk-in refrigerator.

Stevedores Go Back to Work, But Trainmen Balk

LONDON, June 12 (CP)—Some 8000 stevedores in Liverpool today decided to return to work Monday ending a strike which began 16 days ago.

Some were on the job today to unload ships carrying food cargoes for Britain. One of these was the Empress of France. The dock workers discharged several thousand tons of grain from her.

But 2000 stevedores remained idle in Avonmouth and Bristol, where the walkout began three weeks ago.

Labor Minister George Isaacs, in a broadcast Saturday night, appealed to the 10,000 dock workers to get back on the job "and let the Canadian unions settle their own troubles."

He blamed the walkout, which began three weeks ago, on the Canadian Seamen's Union, terming it Communist-dominated.

Meanwhile, for the fourth Sunday in a row, trainmen on the Northeast rail routes to Scotland staged a 24-hour strike.

Fuel Oil Price Cut 20 Cents

VANCOUVER, June 12 (CP) — Price of fuel oil light will be reduced 20 cents a barrel, Standard of British Columbia announced today.

Possibility of price reduction in stove and furnace oils seems unlikely immediately, Standard's President Ralph D. Baker said.

"Although the picture has shown some improvement, these gas oil products are not in over-supply, which situation may well continue at least through the coming heating season," he said.

13th a Big Day In Vancouver Past

VANCOUVER, June 12 (CP) — June 13—that's tomorrow—has been a day of import throughout Vancouver's history. In fact, the history began June 13, 1792.

Tomorrow marks the day when, 157 years ago, Captain George Vancouver sailed through the first narrows and took a look at one of the world's finest harbors.

Back on June 13, 1859, they discovered coal at Coal Harbor, the records say, while four years later to the day a trail was completed from New Westminster to what now is Point Grey golf course. The trail became Vancouver's scenic Marine Drive.

June 13, 1886 was a red-letter day too—although in a different sense. The budding metropolis of Vancouver went up in smoke and flames in a disastrous fire.

But a year later a new era of prosperity started when the SS. Abyssinia, first Canadian Pacific Steamships Company ship to span the Pacific, docked.

THE BEE LEFT, AND SO DID $2800

CRANBROOK, B. C., June 12 —Apparently taking flight with a bee, $2800 disappeared here over a week ago, it was the property of tourists, Mr. and Mrs. Patjen of Portland.

Travelling through here last weekend they visited in Marysville, then continued to the junction of the Kimberley and transprovincial roads a mile out of Cranbrook. At the junction they stopped to evacuate a bee that had gotten into the car, and a few miles East of Cranbrook on the Transprovincial road discovered the money—most of it in American $20 bills—was gone.

Intensive search has been carried out without results, and now a substantial reward is being offered for return of the currency.

Stork Races Second Craft, Captain Studies Obstetrics

D-P MOTHERS

LONG BEACH, Calif., June 12 (AP)—A seven-pound baby boy today was born 6000 feet in the air, with the cooperative assistance of the Army, the Navy and the Air Force.

The child was born in a C-47 plane to Mrs. Jean Fisch, 24, wife of Staff Sgt. Barney Fisch of the Muroc, Calif., United States Air Force base.

When the stork began beating its wings, Fisch asked the Air Force to try to beat the bird to the Long Beach naval hospital where confinement arrangements had been made.

But the plane wasn't fast enough for the stork and the baby arrived five minutes before the plane was due to land at Long Beach Air Force base.

PRESTWICK, Scotland, June 12 (AP)—Two stateless women coming from Germany today became mothers a few minutes after being taken from a New York-bound plane.

Vastly relieved was the captain of the aircraft, Walter Kyse, who for a tense hour on the plane's approach to Prestwick thought he would be obliged to take over the role of midwife in mid-air.

"I coaxed a little extra speed out of the motors and—gosh—here we are and all's well," he said.

The mothers are Mrs. Sylvia Tellerman, 26, formerly of Pole, and Mrs. Elena Vaicys, 27, a Lithuanian before she became a displaced person.

In a hospital near the airport, Mrs. Tellerman gave birth to a daughter and Mrs. Vaicys became mother of a son. Physicians said everyone concerned is well. But the flight from Munich was an ordeal for Kyse. He even took some instructions in obstetrics by radio.

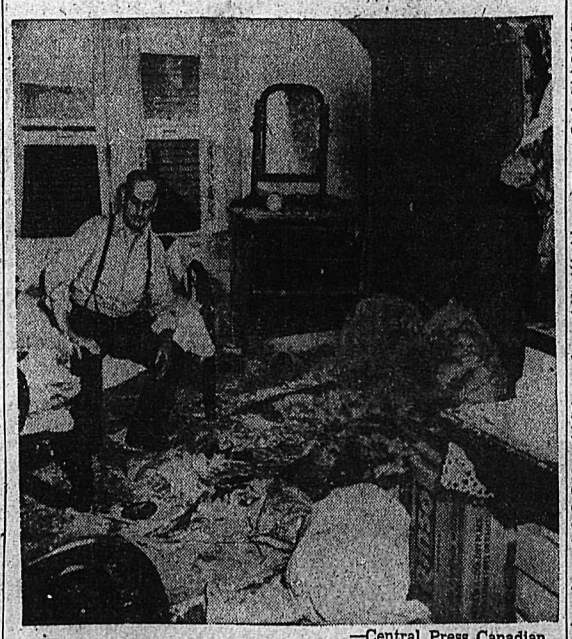
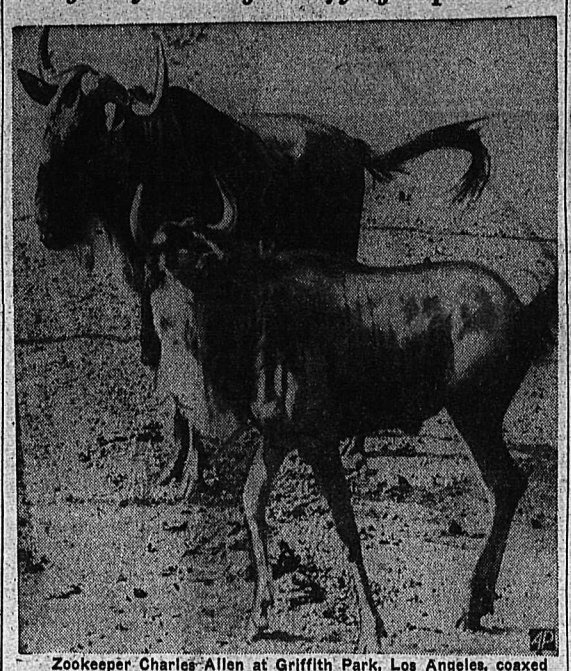
Misses Death by Three Feet



—Central Press Canadian

Herman W. Miller, 64, sits amidst the shambles of what once was his upstairs bedroom in Detroit, Mich., undoubtedly still thanking his lucky stars that the tank from a jet plane fighter which wreaked the havoc missed him by about three feet. Miller was asleep in the bed on which he is shown sitting when the jet auxiliary tank fell, going through the roof and doing extensive damage to his $18,000 home as it continued down into the basement, tearing a seven-foot hole in the process. The other tank fell between two vacant houses, shattering windows for blocks around.

Gnulyweds Gnullify Gnuptials



Zookeeper Charles Allen at Griffith Park, Los Angeles, coaxed a lovely lady gnu (foreground), obtained from San Diego, into the pen of Ned (background) when he noticed the latter seemed neurotic. Everything went nicely until the lady suddenly stopped and sniffed a Brahma bull in an adjoining cage. That infuriated Ned to the point of charging and goring the girl friend twice. Now they're in separate pens until they act as gnormal gnulyweds.—(AP Wirephoto.)

MASSAGING OF HEART BRINGS LIFE BACK TO MAN AFTER "DYING" TWICE

BALTIMORE, June 12 (AP). — How a man who "died" twice on the operating table and came back to life both times after a surgeon massaged his heart was told here.

Physicians said the 49-year-old patient's heart and respiration stopped for 20 minutes at one time and nine at another.

The man, James W. Staneck, entered Maryland General Hospital for a hernia operation Wednesday.

This is what followed as told by Dr. Joseph V. Castagna:

Stanek, a printer, was given a commonly-used anaesthetic and shortly afterwards his breathing stopped, as did his heartbeat.

Dr. Castagna made an incision in the chest and began gently massaging the heart.

"According to all the rules," the doctor said, "this man was dead."

Twenty minutes after the heart stopped it began to respond under the massage. Then, just as signs of life returned, they began to disappear again.

Nurses and doctors started filing out of the operating room, but the surgeon continued his work.

Again, the signs of life began returning. The heartbeat and respiration picked up.

Stanek, placed in an oxygen tent, regained consciousness Friday.

Dr. Castagna said Stanek has shown no signs his experience will produce a lasting disability.

Million Jobless If Trend Continues Declares Coldwell

VANCOUVER, June 12 (CP) — M. J. Coldwell, National C.C.F. Leader, said Saturday night that existing unemployment legislation is filled with weaknesses.

Mr. Coldwell told an election campaign meeting here the only way these weaknesses can be overcome is under a comprehensive social security program such as the one pledged by the C.C.F.

"We shall see that out-of-work benefits are available to all who are out of a job through no fault of their own—whether they be sick, permanently unemployed or seasonally unemployed," he said.

He added that the C.C.F. policy which he termed one designed to maintain full employment in Canada, was equally fundamental in its approach. The C.C.F. believed that only under a planned economy could full employment be maintained.

Mr. Coldwell contended that the Liberal Government is unprepared for unemployment and has no plan to alleviate such a situation. The current trend continues, he said, there will be 1,000,000 unemployed in Canada within five years. He continued:

"The Liberal Government has no plan to cope with even the degree of jobless we have seen this year, let alone any larger number of idle, if the trend should continue.

The meeting was the largest addressed by Mr. Coldwell on his national tour of the Dominion. The C.C.F. Leader, who now has delivered 33 addresses in the last four weeks, spoke before an audience which filled the 2750-seat hall to capacity.

Acheson Slaps Propaganda Brand On Repeat of Treaty Proposal

By WES GALLAGHER

PARIS, June 12 (AP) — The United States Secretary of State tonight told the Russian Foreign Minister that the latter's proposal for a German peace treaty is as "full of propaganda as ad og is of fleas."

"In fact," said Dean Acheson, "I think it is all fleas and no dog."

He made this remark to Andrei Y. Vishinsky at the close of a futile session of the Council of Foreign Ministers. Almost the entire session was devoted to what Western officials called a Soviet propaganda appeal to the Germans.

Vishinsky proposed Friday that the four big powers submit individual drafts of a new peace treaty to the Foreign Ministers within three months. The draft would provide for withdrawal of occupation forces of the Allied powers within a year after concluding the treaty. The Soviet proposal was the same the Russians had made at previous conferences in Moscow and London.

After their regular meeting, the Big Four Foreign Ministers stayed behind with their interpreters and one adviser each for a 90-minute private session. They decided in the course of this meeting to adjourn the conference until Tuesday. The conference on Germany now has entered its fourth week.

Dr. Philip C. Jessup, United States Ambassador-at-large who was Acheson's only adviser at the private session, told a reporter he had "nothing to say on what Tuesday's discussion will be."

The private meeting was devoted largely to discussing the future course of the conference, other American sources said.

SEE PARALLEL IN 2 SLAYINGS

BOULDER, Colo., June 12 (AP) —Shocked by the second student slaying in seven months, University of Colorado authorities today checked classmates of Roy D. Spore, Jr., for clues to the identity of his vicious killer.

The 19-year-old Denver sophomore was killed Thursday night defending his "blind" date from the attack of an unknown assailant. His date, Doris Ann Weaver, 19, of Twin Falls, Idaho, ran to safety on the campus nearby.

The killer battered the youth mercillessly and threw his body into Boulder Creek. The body was found 75 yards downstream yesterday.

Dr. Angeo Lapi, Denver medical examiner, said after an autopsy that there were similarities between the deaths of Spore and Theresa Foster, university coed killed Nov. 9.

Joe Walker was convicted May 9 of Miss Foster's death despite his story that a "burly blond" youth killed her. He has not been sentenced.

Dr. Lapi said Spore apparently died of drowning, but that the blows to his head—29 deep cuts and at least four fractures—would have caused his death later.

The Liberal News Chronicle said; "Mr. Truman is no Roosevelt, but in his own way he displays some of his predecessor's qualities. He shares Roosevelt's political courage, and he has the same ability to appeal direct to the American people, over the heads of the American Congress . . .

"It is as surely damaged by dilatory tactics on Capitol Hill as by irresponsible strikes in Liverpool or Avonmouth."

Henry W. Clayton was taken to court by neighbors who objected to a pack of coon hounds be kept in his back yard. They described the howls as "weird, irritating, mournful and annoying."

Clayton called noise made by his dogs "music in my ears."

Judge C. Edwin Moore said the hounds' howls might well be music. He remarked the dogs apparently gave their master "a full concert." But "a brass band playing all hours of the night and day in the back yard of one neighbor could well amount to a private nuisance to the surrounding neighbors."

He declared the hounds constituted such a nuisance and gave Clayton three to "stop the music."

Better Secondary Roads, Dude Ranch For Fruitvale Advocated by Turnbull

FRUITVALE, B. C., June 12 — "It is not necessary to give up freedom to have improvement . . . it is not necessary to tear down in order to rebuild." D. McDonald of Trail spoke these words to a gathering in th Fruitvale Community Hall in support of A. Douglas Turnbull, Coalition candidate for Rossland-Trail Provincial riding.

Better roads were needed, particularly in outlying centres to connect them with main highways, Mr. Turnbull said. The District of Fruitvale was fortunate in having a good roadbuilding program — the new road (Fruitvale-Beaver Falls) will be a "joy to ride on."

Third speaker was F. Edmunds, Mr. Turnbull's campaign manager. Fred Barrett was Chairman.

Mr. McDonald said Coalition stood for progressive legislation step by step. Their reform was orderly, not jumping from "frying pan into the fire."

MODIFIED SALES TAX

Sales Tax would be modified, he said, "no matter who was elected." Particularly meals in restaurants, children's clothing and school books would be effected.

"Bill 66" he said, "was merely to assure Aluminum Company of Canada that their proposed expenditure of $400 to $500 million would be safe, that they wouldn't be taken over by a Socialistic Government."

STEADY GROWTH

Mr. McDonald stated the "most important district of B. C., the Rossland-Trail Riding, was steadily growing. With the proposed building gprogram of Cominco, the district and the new schools. Young people of today were the most fortunate on earth and needed only to play their cards right."

By supporting Mr. Turnbull, Mr. McDonald said, "we would be supportin ga Government led by two of the most able men a country could have."

Mr. Edmunds spoke briefly, comparing freedom of thought, speech, press and worship to those countries of other types of government. He said he was most impressed with the new homes being built, the healthy children, the good schools, higher education.

Mr. Turnbull dealt with roads first, and said that "better roads were needed for outlying places linking up with main highway. This district, particularly Fruitvale, was fortunate in having a road building program.

Mr. Turnbull felt that B.C. had had the best government it had ever had. Such an extensive program had ben laid out that the Government would have to borrow money to finance it. And only a government of a tried and true party would have good credit.

A Socialistic government's borrowing power was limited, he said, citing Saskatchewan as an example.

MORE EXPORT, CHEAPER IMPORT

With the removal of the mountain differential on freight rates July 1, B.C. products could be sent further East. Imports would cost less, thus reducing cost of living.

He affirmed that Coalition had given "good" labor laws, which only the most radical of laobr leaders criticized.

Fruitvale people were ideally situated to make the Kootenay the largest food producing area in B.C.

Mr. Turnbull said he was "all for better roads and better maintenance of these roads. He would urge Department of Trade and Commerce to establish more industries in this area.

Lost Both Hands, Writes of Fight Against Handicap

By The Canadian Press

"When I woke up, I had no hands."

Thus begins the autobiography of Canadian-born Harold Russell, who lost both hands in a wartime accident and went on to overcome his handicap and assist other amputees.

His story, "Victory in My Hands" (McClelland and Stewart), is a gripping recital of the problems — both physical and mental—which faced him after a defective fuse in an army demolition charge blew off his hands. How he triumphed over his misfortune is an inspiring lesson.

Born in North Sydney, N.S., Russell moved to Cambridge, Mass., with his parents when a boy and enlisted in the United States Army soon after Pearl Harbor. He rose to be a sergeant-instructor in the paratroops when the blast tore his hands to shreds and changed his whole future.

For months he was in hospital, wondering if he could ever live a normal life on "the outside," and worrying over how his girl friend would react when she found out about the "ugly steel hooks" he would have to wear for the rest of his life.

However, as he learned to do more and more with his hooks, some of his self-confidence returned. Later, the Army asked him to make a movie short, demonstrating for other amputees how handicaps could be overcome.

A Hollywood director saw the film and signed him for a feature picture Sam Goldwyn later produced. It turned out to be what was chosen the best picture of 1946 —"The Best Years of Our Lives," which depicted the rehabilitation of three war veterans.

Mr. Russell received two acting awards for his role, that of a handless sailor-veteran. For the last three years, he has travelled the United States and Canada in Red Cross campaigns, government loan drives, hospital benefits and racial-tolerance campaigns.

Northeastern Ontario's timber country is the setting of Jessie McEwen's latest novel "Taltrees," (Ryerson) a picture of life ruled by lumber interests and the transition to a new era.

Jessie McEwen, born and brought up in Bannockburn, Ont., knows the timber business first-hand. Both sides of her family were associated with the lumber trade in Ireland, Scotland and Bavaria and later established themselves in Ontario and Michigan. Her love for the woods and knowledge of the personalities which fill the bushland are integral parts of her writing.

"Taltrees" is a simply-told story of timber dynasties and the domineering force of the individualists which rule the kingdom. Cooperative interests and demand for better working agreements shape a new mode of life and threaten to break the influence of Michael Goldie, a benevolent tyrant whose stern rule continued to be felt years after his death.

Romance, rivalry and ambition blend to make "Taltrees" another portrayal of the absorbing Canadian scene.

PLUCKY AIRMAN FLINGS SEARING BOMB FROM PLANE

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, June 12 (AP) — A courageous helicopter crew member, his right hand shattered, jettisoned a blazing phosphorous smoke bomb while the badly burned pilot landed the wobbling craft safely today on a Far North rescue mission.

The story of the men's heroism was told by the Air Force this afternoon after the two fliers were brought to the Ladd Field Hospital. Both were seared by the sputtering phosphorous, but their condition is not critical.

The freak accident was only one of a string touched off by the forced landing after engine failure of pilot Billy English yesterday on a barren mountain peak 35 miles Northwest of Stevens village on the Yukon River.

The helicopter was directed to the scene of the crash, and was about to make a landing when the crew chief pulled the pin from the smoke bomb. It was to have been used in determining the wind direction.

A sudden explosion blew out the windows of the rotor-ship, filled the cabin with phosphorous flames and crushed the bones of the crew member's right hand.

Holding the sizzling bomb with his left hand, the airman managed to toss it out of the window while the pilot, burned on the face and left leg, set the helicopter down safely.

C.C.F. Aims Told Kaslo Audience

KASLO, B.C., June 12 — Randolph Hardings, M.L.A., and H. W. Herridge, M.P., spoke to a capacity audience in the Odd Fellows Hall here.

Mr. Harding, member for Kaslo-Slocan, dealt with the Provincial programof the C.C.F. and assured the audience that if elected the C.C.F. would remove the tax on necessities, and remove it entirely as soon as other sources of revenue were found to take its place. The CCF intended to secure further revenue from taxation on natural resources used by large corporations. Mr. Harding also compared Saskatchewan automobile insurance with the automobile insurance sold by private companies.

He outlined C.C.F. proposals for complete medical care for all, free treatment of cancer and artritis, and provision of air ambulances for remote areas. The C.C.F. believes in a Road Commission free to give effect to government policies without political interference.

Mr. Herridge, Federal member for Kootenay West, outlined his support in the House for veteran, farmer and labor legislation, and his work in connection with district needs. The CCF did not believe in money being used as a commodity, but as a medium of exchange, he said, in presenting the C.C.F. program for commodity agreements between governments. He further reviewed the situation with respect to monopolies in Canada, and gave the CCF proposals for control and if necessary public ownership.

Mr. Herridge stressed the firm belief of the CCF in the necessity for price and rent controls and certain subsidies on consumer goods. He further informed the audience that the C.C.F. believes that a Dominion government subsidized housing policy is the only hope Canada has of providing sufficient houses at a rental the average worker can pay.

Both Chinese Nationalists, Reds Seeking Western Support in War

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press News Analyst

Both the harassed Chinese Nationalist Government in Canton and the triumphant Communist leadership in the North are manoeuvering energetically for position in the forthcoming phase of their bloody civil war.

Diplomatic efforts directed toward the Western world are in part taking the place of gunfire during a pause in the victorious Red drive. From Nanking comes word that Communist officials there are urging Western powers to withdraw recognition of the Nationalist Government. Meantime, the Nationalists have appealed again to Uncle Sam fgor aid, this bid having been made in Washington by Dr. Kan Chieh-hou, special emissary from China's Acting President, Li Tsung-Jen.

Washington has taken the position that it will not recognize any Communist regime so long as a responsible Nationalist Government exists. The other Western powers have been playing along with the United States in this policy.

MILITARY AID OUT

In the matter of the Nationalist bid for further aid, there is no sign that the United States intends to shift its policy of not giving further military help.

Dr. Kan has stated in Washington that the Nationalists have a "definite plan" for defence of territory still in their hands. The Nationalist Government in Canton is said to be preparing to move to the old wartime capital of Chungking, leaving an army behind to defend Canton against the Reds. Meantime, former President Chiang Kai-shek has organized the defence of the great Island of Formosa off the East coast.

REDS WAITING

The Communists aren't rushing into establishing a "government" of their own. They aren't expected to make this move until Autumn, and so meantime they aren't eligible for international recognition. The Communists already have laid down the conditions under which they will be prepared to enter diplomatic relations with foreign powers.

1. Foreign armed forces must be withdrawn from China.

2. Relations must be based on "equality, mutual benefit and mutual respect for each other's independence and territorial integrity."

3. Recognition must be withdrawn from the Nationalist Government.

There oughta be a law!

When you pick up a copy of a newspaper you restate your belief in fair play. You express your willingness to let the other fellow get a hearing for his opinion. For opinion is as much a part of the newspaper as fact. Not just the editor's opinion but the opinions of business men and labor leaders, farmers and housewives, public officials and candidates for office—everyone whose opinions make news.

* * *

Some men and women think you should not have this freedom. They believe you should read only one set of opinions—theirs. They think there should be a law limiting what a newspaper can print.

Those whose freedom these self-constituted leaders are aiming to limit are not so much the editors and publishers of newspapers as the readers. They claim that newspapers have too much freedom but what they mean is that you are too free. They don't talk about thought control but that is what they have in mind. They don't trust you with the knowledge of what is going on in the world—even what is happening in your own government.

They know that if they can control what you read, they can control what you know. And when they control what you know, they can control your mind. Under the claim of knowing what is good for you, they want to take over your thinking. Hitler, Mussolini and Stalin used the same technique.

Of course, the newspaper isn't your only source of information. But if the attack on the newspaper is successful, you can be sure that the magazines and books and the radio won't be overlooked. The newspaper happens to be the first target because it is the main source of your information regarding the events and trends about which these men and women want to keep you in ignorance. Once the newspaper is muzzled, the others will be easy.

* * *

If you think your right to know isn't in danger, take the time to read the proposals that are being offered. Apply these recommended press regulations to this newspaper and to the other publications you read including the ones published by your lodge or union or church.

You may agree that you should get less information than you now get and that some super-commission should decide what you should read. But if you don't agree—if you want to protect your right and that of the members of your lodge and union and church to read freely—you will not be taken in by the high sounding resolutions and other adroit devices now being used as the first step towards control. You will refuse to give them your support. You will speak out against them and against those who ask you to help put public knowledge and public opinion in chains.

Your right to know is the key to all your liberties

How To Lose Those Extra Pounds And Still Enjoy Delicious Meals

If you're not doing anything for the next five minutes, go up to the attic and get out your wedding dress. Whatever for? Well, just to see how much you've changed since that June you waltzed down the aisle.

"My goodness!" you muse, "what size was that dress? A 12! Just imagine . . . and that tiny waistline!" You're lost in reverie, recalling the slim, lovely bride who wore that dress . . . ah, it seems but yesterday.

But back to reality. Let's see, from a size 12 to a twen . . .no, you can still get inso some 18's. Besides you were far too thin when you were married . . . why, you weighed a mere 112 pounds.

You distinctly remember that Bill was pleased when you rounded out a bit. When you'd put on 10 pounds, he declared you looked healthier, and that he had never liked thin women. And how he praised your cooking!

Then the children came along, and after each one there were those extra pounds that stubbornly remained. All in all, the excess somehow got up to an alarming number, almost without your knowing it. And now the doctor says you need to take off 25 pounds.

Well, there is no better time than Summer to take it off . . . THIS SUMMER. Of course the main trouble with dieting is that you love to eat and actually get very weak on a diet. All right—instead of dieting, eat. By eating to get slim, you'll feel better than you have in years. I mean it honestly.

Don't be disgruntled—think about all the good things you can eat and still take off weight at the safe and satisfying rate of a pound or two a week. Delete the calories where they will be at least missed. A deviled egg, for example, tastes just fine fixed with mustard and chopped celery in the center . . . no fattening mayonnaise needed. And a watercress sandwich with boiled dressing made with skim milk—why it's delicious!

With the meat and low-calorie vegetables at dinner, have an especially big salad with ripe tomato, cucumber, green lettuce and celery hearts stuffed with cottage cheese. Salads are space fillers. And when the family dessert is ice cream don't leave your plate empty . . . have a generous piece of cantaloup with a few of those luscious black cherries on the side.

On scientifically planned menus, you'll be happy while clipping off the excess pounds. It's not dieting—but rather a change of food habits. And oh the joy of seeing the fat melt away as if by magic! And the sweet music of hearing your husband proudly say you look just like the girl he married!

Tasty Recipes

By ALICE DENHOFF

Since the delights of homegrown herbs enhance almost all dishes, tuck a few herb seeds into a garden corner this Spring, or as we have advocated before, get busy with an herb window box (lots of fun for city apartment dwellers).

Among the herbs that thrive in the home garden are mint, thyme, sage, marjoram, summer savory and sweet basil. Each adds its distinctive piquancy to dishes.

Get the knack of herb seasoning in tested recipes, then branch out and "spike" other dishes to suit yourself. But do be sparing, better too little than too much. The herb flavor must predominate.

IN MEAT SAUCES

Sage is a "natural" with pork. Sweet marjoram adds spice to veal and lamb, to hash, meat pies and Thyme is delicious in meat sauces casseroles. Mint, of course, is unbeatable with lamb. Summer savory is delicious in meat balls, perking them up no end, and sweet basil is fine and meat and tomato sauce. During the Summer, use herbs fresh. In Fall, dry them and store leaves in air-tight jars.

Two rules will guide you on use of herbs: (1) use no more than two herb-flavored dishes in one meal; (2) a pinch of herbs between thumb and first finger is generally enough for any dish serving four people. Remember, seasoning is easy to add, but hard to remove.

A nicely-seasoned sausage loaf adds up to an inexpensive, nourishing and satisfying main dish. Mix thoroughly, then shape into a loaf, one lb. each sausage meat and hamburger. Also ½ c. fine bread crumbs, tsp. salt, tsp. pepper, tsp. sage, 2 eggs well beaten and ¼ c milk. Bake uncovered, in 350 F. for about an hour. This may be served with cream sauce. Serves 8 to 10 nicely.

GOOD LAMB DISH

If the larder yields enough for 8 slices of lamb then you've got the foundation for a good dish. Mix 2 tsp. cornstarch with 1-3 c. lamb gravy. Add ½ c. each currant jelly, orange juice and minced mint leaves. Cook until slightly thickened, stir ring occasionally. Heat 8 slices of lamb in sauce and serve.

To make superb beef stew, cook cubes of stewing beef with a small amount of pickling spices. You'll have every diner puzzling as to be the origin of the fine flavor. And have every dinner puzzling as to a roast or stew lamb. Make fluffy meat loaf with any left-over ground meat. Extend the meat with bread cubes soaked in milk or tomato juice. Flavor with oregano, an abundant Mexican sage that doubles well for true or marjoram. Serve with tomato sauce.

And, for a final tip, put your fresh celery leaves in a paper sack and place on radiator or in a cooling oven to dry. Fine for flavoring soups, stews and pot roasts.

OTTAWA, June 12 (CP)—Canada is not considering de facto recognition of Communist China—at least, not for the next month or two.

When she does, it will be considered along with the status of $60,000,000 China owes Canada. The money was loaned to the Nationalist Government in 1946 and was spent in Canada over a two-year period for the purchase of military and other equipment.

New Cure for Goiter Requires Close Study in Case of Unforseen Results

Having heard of radioactive iodine as a treatment for toxic goiter, many people write to me to ask if this substance is safe.

That is a hard question to answer. Many patients have recently been treated in this way and the results show that radioactive iodine does a good job in getting rid of goiter. However, it must be remembered that we still know too little about any radioactive substance to predict what long-term effects it may have on the body.

In toxic goiter, there is a tremendously increased output of the powerful chemical secreted by the thyroid gland, with the result that all basic activities of the body are over-stimulated. The heart races, the patient becomes nervous, sleeps poorly, and loses weight and strength very rapidly. Before long there may be severe damage to the heart. Sometimes there is protrusion of the eyeballs. The gland itself, which is located in the neck, may or may not be enlarged.

SPEEDY TREATMENT

In the past, most such patients were treated with iodine or a drug known as propylthiouracil until their physical condition improved sufficiently so that they could withstand operation. Then most of the thyroid gland was removed by surgery.

Today, radioactive iodine is being used more and more frequently. In one series of 35 patients, 30 were completely relieved of their symptoms after one or, when necessary, two doses of this substance.

The radioactive iodine is given by mouth in a water solution. The iodine accumulates in the thyroid gland. That part which does not get into the thyroid gland is excreted. The symptoms are usually gone by the end of the second or third month following treatment, at which time, in most cases, the thyroid gland is reduced to normal size.

COMPLICATIONS

Certain complications may occur, such as sore throat, cough, tenderness in the thyroid gland, or recurrences of the symptoms. In none of the cases were any of these complications at all serious.

Two patients were treated in the first two months of pregnancy without any harm to either the mother or baby.

Treatment with the radioactive iodine seems to be equally as successful as that with surgery in many cases, and is better than that with X-ray or propylthiouracil. Operation, of course, relieves the symptoms much more quickly, but radioactive iodine does not have the dangers which accompany any operative procedure.

The one danger in this treatment seems to lie in the fact that radioactive substances are so new. There are some authorities who believe that they could cause cancer in certain cases years after their use to cure a disease. Only time will tell.

This is considered a remote possibility but so long as it exists at all, it should be used in the treatment of toxic goiter only in those cases where patients can be followed up over a period of years.

God, Preserver of Man Sermon Subject

"God the preserver of man" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday.

The Golden Text was: "The eternal God is thy refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms." Deuteronomy 33: 27.

The Lesson-Sermon included the following passage from the Bible: "And Moses said unto the Lord, See, thou sayest unto me, Bring up this people: and thou hast not let me know whom thou wilt send with me. And he said, My presence shall go with thee, and I will give thee rest." Exodus 33: 12, 14.

Among the selections from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, was the following: "The God-principle is omnipresent and omnipotent. God is everywhere, and nothing apart from Him is present or has power."

Wife and Children Perhaps Wise To Leave Home and Start Afresh

"I have felt like a dead woman for the eight years I have been married to my husband. Now I would like to live."

In these words, a distracted wife and mother makes it clear, whether she realizes it or not, that she has reached a definite decision about a marital situation with which sh has been struggling for a long time.

"I was married very young to a man 20 years older than myself," she writes. "He was full of sweet talk before we were married and up until our third child was born.

"Now everything has changed. He is mean to me and the children, and never has a kind word for us. He says he has me where he wants me. He has often threatened to leave us and I have always begged and pleaded with him to stay, for I was worried how to take care of the children. But last week when he said again that he was leaving us, I found I really want him to go and told him so. He was surprised, as I have never taken my own part before. He says he was just fooling about going.

BETTER OFF

"But I really do want him to go. All my people and his own say they don't know how I could live with a man with such a mean disposition. He is always ridiculing me and calling me a fool. He gambles and never gives me any money. The children are nervous and afraid to talk when he is home. He is always promising them a good time or presents, and when the time comes he just laughs at them and walks out.

"I know we will be better off without him. He makes good money and I told him to support the kids and I'll work. My mother is willing to help with the care of the children, who all go to school.

"What shall I do?"

In spite of the fact that this unhappy wife asks for advice, I believe, as I said in the beginning, that she actually has reached her own decision and it sounds to me like a wise one. If this man's family has nothing good to say about him, and takes her part against him, it seems a fairly clear indication that he is not worth standing up for.

There will, however, inevitably be problems and complications to be carefully handled. She should have expert advice and a personal talk with someone competent to help her. If she will write me a letter giving me her name and address, so that I can send her a personal reply, I will be glad to tell her to whom she may go in her own vicinity for the advice she needs.

Nickel Brings Dollars to Canada

Since more than ninety per cent of the Nickel produced in Canada is sold to the United States and other countries, it brings a constant flow of dollars back to Canada. In fact, Canada's Nickel industry is one of our chief sources of U.S. dollars so essential at the present time to maintain our foreign trade and make available products not produced in this country.

These dollars help pay the wages of the 14,000 Nickel employees, and help provide the dollars which make it possible to pay millions in freight to Canadian railways, to buy timber, steel, coal, machinery and supplies amounting to many millions each year.

These millions, flowing into all industries through the length and breadth of Canada, help create jobs for Canadians.

● A wedding of interest to Nelsonites was that which was solemnized Saturday morning June 11th at 10:30 o'clock, when Very Rev. Father W. J. Harrison united in wedlock Lisa Gylding Borch, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. G. Borch of Copenhagen, Denmark, and William George Joseph, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. George Montgomery Benwell. The youthful couple were attended by Mrs. Sheila Monoghan and R. O. Brown. The ceremony took place in the rectory of the Cathedral of Mary Immaculate, where a small number of guests were present. Given in marriage by her uncle, H. O. Borch, the charming bride chose a smart afternoon dress of steel grey with short matching cape, piped in white pique. Her headdress was a plain white narrow band of pique from which hung a shoulder-length silk net veil held in place by pastel flowers. Her arm bouquet of rose buds and pink and white sweet peas was centered by a mauve orchid. Her matron of honor donned a pink frock with small grey straw hat and grey accessories. Her bouquet was composed of blue daisies and pink and white carnations. After the ceremony the bridal party and guests repaired to the home of the bride's uncle and aunt at 404 Elwyn Street, where a buffet luncheon was served. The tea table, daintily centered by a three-tiered wedding cake trimmed with silver leaves and flanked by pink and blue lighted tapers, was presided over by the groom's aunt, Mrs. E. J. Waterer, and Mrs. F. A. Whitfield. The groom ably responded to the toast to the bride proposed by Very Rev. Father Harrison. Following this the bride's uncle read the many cables sent from the bride's relatives in Denmark. On their return from the honeymoon spent in Spokane, Mr. and Mrs. Benwell will reside at Crescent Bay.

TORONTO, June 12 (CP)—They have forgotten many names. Some, obviously have "grown out" of their uniforms. But they haven't lost their erect postures or forgotten how to keep step in a march-past.

It was the first peacetime reunion of the Canadian Women's Army Corps. About 1100 of the girls who volunteered to do their bit in the Second World War turned out, many of them coming from remote parts of Canada, others from the United States.

To blonde Joyce Haskell of Powell River, B.C., who travelled the farthest—3085 miles by ship and plane—was given a brown leather overnight case.

Throughout the weekend the 1100 girls—women, now; many of them married—enjoyed the comradeship that was theirs during the years of conflict. They still were enthusiastic about their experiences in the C.W.A.C. which drew into its ranks some 21,000 of Canada's young women. Almost all said they would volunteer again if the need arose.

Good Service To British Columbia

Administration by the Coalition Government during the past eight years has resulted in a number of signal achievements for the people and Province of British Columbia.

Municipalities in this Province receive financial aid from the Provincial Government far in excess of any other Province in Canada. For instance, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Quebec receive no Municipal aid, apart from educational aid, whereas Municipal aid in B. C. amounts to $6.90 per capita, not including education.

Citizens of British Columbia enjoy the highest level of social security of any Province in the Dominion. The social service program was further improved by the introduction of hospital insurance, which during the first quarter of this year benefitted 40,000 persons.

British Columbia holds the enviable reputation of having the highest level of old age pension service through the Dominion of Canada.

In addition to the amounts paid for pensions and social allowance, the Coalition Government made arrangements with the Medical Association to provide complete medical services for every person receiving social allowance, and their dependents, and the Provincial Government pays into the hospital insurance scheme dues to cover all recipients of pensions, social allowance and dependents.

The Municipalities in this Province are assisted in connection with education to a much greater degree than in any other Province.

These measures were passed in order that the individual citizen of British Columbia might have a greater measure of health, happiness and security, without his personal freedom being tampered with.

In addition to measures concerning the welfare of the individual, vast strides have been made in the public works program, labor relations, forest management, encouragement of new industry, to mention only a few fields in which accomplishments were made.

British Columbia would do well to return the Coalition Government which has so capably managed the affairs of the Province for the past eight years.

DISCOVERY OF CANADA

The discovery of Canada is going ahead rapidly these days. Uncle Sam is waking up to the fact that he has a next-door neighbor to the North and that that neighbor is sitting on one of the world's last great stores of natural resources.

This makes it easy to secure close cooperation on defence matters between Canada and the United States and smooths the way for such developments as the new Industrial Mobilization Committee which will supplement the work of the permanent Joint Defence Board, a body which has been operating since 1940. In the event of trouble it is recognized that the two neighboring countries can function more effectively as a partnership. —London (Ont.) Free Press.

Suggests More Thought About Causes of Troubles in Our Lives

To the Editor:

Sir—On Saturday night last, I listened to the address of Hon. H. Anscomb, and would like to criticize parts of it. He told his audience of the wonderful social service legislation that the Coalition Government had proposed and made effective, but he failed to tell them why such legislation was necessary.

Prevailing conditions, like all other effects, must have their causes, but while emphasizing the many virtues of our free enterprise system, and the high standard of living attained under it by the people of B. C., he did not explain why old age pensions and the rest of the Government social services, together with all the work of the numerous charitable organizations, are so necessary at the present time, British Columbia's greatest period of prosperity.

The necessitous conditions of the "underprivileged" have not been brought into being by a bad Socialist Government, or by the operation of Socialism in B. C.; then who or what is the responsible cause?

All the social legislation claimed by Mr. Anscomb and his co-partners was advocated by the Socialists in Great Britain 60 or more years ago, to my own personal knowledge, yet he says in his circular letter of May 31: "If we are to remain free, Socialism in any and every form must be defeated," by voting against it and FOR the political Parties (combined) that have passed only palliative social measures that were long overdue.

Mr. Anscomb was quite right when he said the taxpayers of B. C. would have to bear all the cost of whatever they got. When defending his 3%sales tax, he gave credit to industry for the payment of 60% of it, and stressed his statement that the C. M. & S. Co. was paying taxes of one kind and another at the rate of $1000 per day.

After the meeting was over, I ventured to tell Mr. Anscomb what the late Sir Edward Beatty had said about the payment of taxes. The following is copied from the Nelson News of Sept. 1, 1938:

Headline: "Poor Man Pays the Taxes in the end, Sir Edward W. Beatty Says, Urging Fewer Concealed Taxes."

"I would suggest to you young men," Sir Edward said, "that you consider very seriously whether you wish to follow your fathers in fooling yourselves, whether you really want to go on paying taxes without knowing that you do so; whether you are satisfied with the explanation that most of these taxes come out of the rich, without stopping to think that, in the end, the poor will pay them."

Mr. Anscomb said that Sir Edward was quite right in his conclusion. Why, then, did he not tell his audience so, instead of giving credit to industry or free enterprise for the payment of 60% of his 3% tax, every cent of which will be included in prices of goods sold by industry to the consuming public?

Let us do more stopping to think, not only about hidden taxes, but about the causes of our troubles and disasters in life. Prevention is better than cure, which is so often very painful to the victim.

He spoke of the wealth of B. C. that is now going to Alberta; of the development of the Peace River District, and of the extension of the P.G.E. Railway, at a cost of $10,000,000, in order to keep B. C.'s production within the Province; but he did not tell us how much Vancouver and New Westminster were benefitting by the shipment of Alberta's produce to their grain elevators. Are we too insular, while professing to be good Canadians?

He referred to the necessity of profit for development, but I would like to deal with that matter in another letter. He also touched on "the rising cost of education". I would suggest that he confer with the Minister of Education and get his assurance that, in the future, every pupil in our schools will be taught how to pronounce New Westminster correctly. It will not involve much extra cost.

Cost of B. C. Forest Fires Increases

VICTORIA, June 12 (CP) — The extraordinary cost of the Provincial Government of fighting forest fires in British Columbia rose to $16,769 during the week, the B. C. Forest Service reported today.

This figure compared with $8541 at this date last year and $12,259 at this date in 1947.

So far this year there have been 413 forest fires recorded throughout the province, compared with 184 at this time last year and 305 at this time in 1947.

One hundred and twenty-one have been recorded in the Vancouver District which includes all Vancouver Island. The extraordinary cost of fighting these fires has been $1504. Fort George forest district with 57 has cost $9040 while Nelson with 84 has cost $4344 and Kamloops with 128 has cost $1325. In the Prince Rupert District only 23 fires have been recorded to date this year and the extraordinary cost has been but $556.

At the week's end 31 forest fires were burning and it is believed all are under control. When the week started there were 14 fires burning and 75 new fires occurred. Firefighters extinguished 75.

W. Point Crowd Hears Hendricks

WILLOW POINT, B. C., June 12—A large crowd heard W. Hendricks, Coalition candidate for this riding, and two supporters, F. Emmott and R. Gilday, in Crystal Hall.

W. Spooner Chairman, introduced the speakers.

Mr. Emmott spoke briefly of the social services enjoyed during the Coalition Government, highest level of any province, and urged everyone to vote.

Mr. Gilday gave a vivid outline of Coalition achievements and compared the policies of the Government to that of the C.C.F. to their disadvantages.

Mr. Hendricks, long in residence in the Kootenay, said that its progress would be his chief interest. He hoped that the roads would be different by 1950. He wouldn't promise a bridge at Nelson seeing how often the people were disappointed in the past.

He emphasized the vital importance of the Atlantic Pact, a major defence against another world war.

Mr. Hendricks received an enthusiastic welcome from his audience, Liberal and Conservative.

Flows of Kootenay, Columbia Above Normal

Runoffs of the Columbia and Kootenay Rivers were above normal in May.

Mean monthly discharge of the Columbia River at Birchbank near Trail was 145,000 second-feet, compared with its long term mean monthly discharge over 36 years of 110,000 sec.-ft., or 132 per cent above normal.

Maximum daily discharge was 205,000 sec.-ft., considerably below the 1928 record of 306,000 sec.-ft. The minimum was 68,200 sec.-ft., whereas the all-time low was 21,500 sec.-ft., set in 1920.

At Wardner, the Kootenay River's mean monthly discharge was 18,600 sec.-ft., against the long term mean monthly runoff of 15,400 sec.-ft. over 35 years. This is 121 per cent of normal.

Maximum runoff was 33,900 sec.-ft., and the low, 5330 sec.-ft. The high is 62,900 sec.-ft., established last year, and the low, 1800 sec.-ft. of 1917.

Would Strengthen Fire Fighting Resources

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

ST. ANDREW'S-BY-THE-SEA, N.B., June 12 (CP) — "We must strengthen our fire-fighting resources as quickly as possible," Commander E. E. Robertson told the Canadian Manufacturers' Association today, during a session devoted to the perils of fire in war and peace.

"This should be done," he said, "along the lines recommended by our fire-fighting authorities.

"It is unfortunately true that we are built to burn, and will burn in an emergency unless our fire-fighting capacity is greatly augmented."

Commander Robertson is a member of the staff of Maj.-Gen. F. F. Worthington, Civil Defence Co-Ordinator, Civil Defence Branch, Department of National Defence.

Looking Ahead in Ottawa . . .

Canadian Forces Increasing Tempo In Building Up Strength

By The Ottawa Staff
Of The Canadian Press

OTTAWA, June 12 (CP) — The Government has given no indication of what Canadian obligations will be under the Atlantic Pact but, quietly and steadily, the country's regular forces are building up strength to fit any possible commitment.

The regular army, air force and navy have boosted total manpower from 35,000 in May, 1948, to more than 42,000 in May, 1949.

The tempo around defence headquarters has increased in the past 12 months, pivoting on army plans for its airborne brigade, air force plans for a framework of fighter defence and navy plans for improved anti-submarine facilities.

A spokesman said recently headquarters planning envisages the possibilities of war anytime. But, generally speaking, it has not though in terms of an early war.

Recruiting hit a peak in March with an influx of 1200 new men but now is running below 900 a month, in line with a not-unusual Summer slump. The services, busy with the Summer reserve training, are not displeased.

They can increase their absorptive capacity but consider the average rate is quite satisfactory. Since September when a recruiting campaign was launched, recruiting has been running 60 per cent ahead of the same period a year before.

Probably for the first time since the war, the Navy has had to inform men in certain categories that they are acceptable but will have to await a call.

Current strength stands at better than 19,000 for the Army, 15,000 for the Air Force and 8000 for the Navy.

JOBS OPEN

Twenty seats in the Senate—worth $6000 a year each—still are open two weeks before the June 27 election and there is a chance that some of them won't be filled before the ballots are counted.

If Prime Minister St. Laurent leaves some of them unfilled it will be a rare, if not unprecedented, move. The usual thing is for the Prime Minister to make sure the Upper Chamber is as full as possible for his supporters in case some other party wins the election, and, with it, the right to name new Senators.

But it is regarded as certain that there will be some Senate appointments before the election, chiefly affecting former Liberal members of Parliament or Provincial Legislatures.

With the entry of Newfoundland the Upper Chamber will have 102 members. Present standing is 67 Liberals and 15 Progressive Conservatives. The 20 vacancies include six Newfoundland, five in Ontario, two each in three Maritimes Provinces and one each in Alberta, British Columbia and Quebec.

If Mr. St. Laurent does not fill all the vacancies, his action could be construed as an unusual mark of confidence in the election result.

Quinn, Herridge Charge Big U. S. Interests Take Out Big Profits

FRUITVALE, B.C., June 12.—H. W. Herridge, M.P., and James Quinn, M.L.A., addressed a gathering in the Community Hall, presenting the platform of the C.C.F. Party in the coming Provincial and Federal elections. Steven Lewis, Fruitvale C.C.F. Campaign Committee, was Chairman.

Mr. Quinn dealt on Provincial issues. He said on June 15 voters had two choices of candidates, representing according to radio and press, Socialism versus Free Enterprise. He stated there was no free enterprise now—it had gone out the window. This Province was endowed with the greatest mineral resources, put there for benefit of all. People were entitled to a fairer share of this wealth. It was the furthest from the C.C.F.'s mind to interfere with small business, but it was the big businesses, so many American controlled financially, taking huge profits out of the country and doing comparatively little to help with welfare of community and country, was their concern.

Mr. Quinn spoke of the sales tax and explained that as this tax had provided $18,000,000 for social security municipal aid, a government would have to search for a way to secure a sum of that amount before saying it could be removed at any one party's say so. If C.C.F.ers were elected, they would have a round-table conference with industrial heads, labor, welfare, etc., to go into the matter completely and thus secure a "more fair" way of getting this money than from the poor working man alone. The C.C.F., backed the working man, and it was by working with organized labor groups, farmer groups, that the Government was forced to fulfil some of its promises.

Mr. Quinn spoke of the reception given a delegation from union groups to Victoria to urge some changes made in Bill 39, Compensation Act and other labor legislation, who were told there were no changes needed, "the bill is good enough."

He said it wasn't to the interest of Coalition to lower the cost of living—monopoly dictated how things should be run in the Province.

"Government should handle the "car insurance premium," thus keeping in the Province, for the Province's benefit the thousands of dollars going each year out of the Province, and out of the country to swell the pockets of private international concerns.

He stated roads should be taken out of politics and placed in the hands of a road commission.

The Chairman, before asking Mr. Herridge to speak, told of the Federal member's interest in this community, particularly Champion Lakes as a Summer resort for local people to vacation at. At his suggestion he had placed this in the hands of a local reliable body to carry through. The Fruitvale Ratepayers' Association had taken it up and with local playgrounds for children was carrying out only a few of Mr. Herridge's community benefit interests.

Mr. Herridge said a candidate should have three qualities: integrity, intelligence and industriousness, and Mr. Quinn had all three. To truly represent a community, Mr. Herridge said he guided himself by two points: Support of the policy he was elected upon; followed the wishes expressed to him by organized groups, labor groups, veterans' groups, for any particular legislation.

The situation in foreign trade was serious and important, in his opinion. It should be the major concern of all governments. Many markets were dropping, and the reason was that "money has become a commodity and not a means of exchange."

"Until we start to barter on world markets, markets for our primary resources will continue to fall off. Instead of destroying our surplus supplies, these should be given as gifts to needy starving countries. Import and export trade should be between government and government, not between private trader."

In speaking of monopolies, Mr. Herridge stated, Canada was the most monopolized country in the Western world. American money was slowly buying controlling interest in many Canadian firms and industries, including the C.P.R. and steel, oil and pulp and paper industries. He backed up the statement Mr. Quinn had made in Trail, that Cominco was one of these being controlled by Wall Street.

Everyone was entitled to a decent standard of living and an education to the limit of his ability. A pensioner should have sufficient to maintain a comfortable living.

Mr. Herridge said too much American capital was being invested here, which meant more money being exported at expense of the work of Canadian people. Their loyalties were not to Canada, but to their country of origin.

Housing was another major problem facing Canada, he said, and the C.C.F. was all for a subsidized housing program. There should be a pattern off the same plan as the small housing program for veterans' holdings.

On cooperatives, Mr. Herridge said this movement, steadily growing, was now entering the manufacturers' field. Failure of any co-op. was largely due to lack of membership, loyalty and poor management. Members of co-ops were out to save money, not make it.

Free enterprise was mixed economy which meant public ownership, cooperative ownership and private ownership.

A discussion on roads and particularly the Southern Trans-Canada road was held. Mr. Quinn stated in answer to a question, the Salmo-Fruitvale road would be built regardless of who was elected.

Mechanical Brain Thinks as Human Mind

MANCHESTER, England, June 12 (AP)—A mechanical brain that may "eventually compete on equal terms" with the human mind has been developed at Manchester University.

It may even compose poetry, says mathematician A. W. Turing, who is testing its thinking powers.

Discussing robot brains in general, the University's Professor Geoffrey Jefferson said Thursday he doubts one will ever compose a sonnet or a concerto.

He told the Royal College of Surgeons a machine with enough artificial brain cells for that would have to be as big as the Empire State Building. It would take the power of a Niagara Falls to run it, Jefferson added.

But Turing said no one can tell yet how smart this new thinking machine may be.

"It may take years before we settle down to the possibilities," he said, "but I do not see why it should not enter any one of the fields normally covered by the human intellect, and eventually compete on equal terms."

He kept secret the actual operating principle of the machine. The apparatus consists of complex rows of electrical units, a tangle of wires and panels of bulbs, tubes and valves.

New Drug Aids Alcoholism

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Reporter

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., June 12 (AP).—A stupor-producing drug is aiding in the treatment of alcoholism, the American Medical Association was told.

The idea, said two Seattle physicians at the closing session of the A.M.A.'s 98th annual meeting, is this:

In the trance-like state produced the patient can still talk, and his sub-conscious mind is probed by a doctor seeking to learn the real reasons why the patient began hitting the bottle.

Then the doctor gives the entranced patient "strong suggestion against alcohol and toward correction of faulty habits of thinking."

Work with the drug—called "pentothal"—was described by Doctor Frederick Lemere and Paul O'Hallaren of the Shadel Sanitarium for the Treatment of Alcoholism.

They said it was an effective aid in the treatment of heavy drinking associated with nervous tension.

Their report was based on a three-year follow-up study of 47 patients treated with pentothal, long or in combination with a "conditioned reflex" treatment.

The latter method attempts to produce an aversion to the sight, taste, smell and thought of alcoholic beverages by means of still another drug, called "emetine."

ACQUIRE CRAVING

The researchers said that 58 per cent of the patients followed were still on the wagon after three years.

The doctors said some patients can not stand the drug at all, and some others develop an abnormal desire for it—akin to their craving for alcohol.

Dentist Captures Open When Jinx Hits Snead

CHICAGO, June 12 (AP)—Cary Middlecoff, the young golfing dentist, Saturday won the 49th United States Open Golf Championship with a 72-hole score of 286 while an old familiar jinx rose up to haunt Samuel Jackson Snead.

Snead, hard-luck loser in three previous open tournaments, faded on the 71st hole after a spectacular rally to finish in a second-place tie with Clayton Heafner of Charlotte, N.C., one stroke back at 287.

In fourth place came Jim Turnesa of Briarcliff Manor, N.Y., and Bobby Locke of South Africa, with 289s.

Al Brosch of Garden City, N.Y., who led at the halfway point with a sub-par 141, wilted and finished with 293.

Middlecoff, after shooting a 69 over Medinah's 6981-yard, par 71 layout in the morning, also soared in the hot, humid afternoon for a 75.

The 286 winning score, two over par, was the first time the open had been won by an over-regulation figure since unknown Sam Parks did it at Oakmont in Pittsburgh in 1935.

Snead played 16 in par and then needed only two pars in for the tie. One birdie and a par would have given him the championship to lay beside the Masters and P.G.A. crowns he already holds.

But at the 193-yard lake-hole 17th, after laying his tee shot on the fringe of the green, he took three putts and there was another championship gone out the window.

On the 18th he had to struggle for a par four that gave him a 70 for a total of 287.

Heafner, who battled Middlecoff down the stretch in a two-man duel watched by most of the record crowd of 14,000, blew a six-foot putt on the final green that would have given him a tie.

There were other bold stabs at the championship, but all fell short under the Memphis, Tenn., dentist's two blazing middle rounds.

Turnesa, six strokes back going into the final day's 36 holes, fired rounds of 70-72 to threaten right to the end. Locke bracketted 73 and 71. Following them at 290 were O'Neal (Buck) White, the leathery-free-lance pro from Greenwood, Miss., and Dave Douglas of Newark, Del., a dark horse, who had 290s.

TOP AMATEUR

The top amateur was Robert (Skee) Riegel of Tulsa, Okla., who had 73-74 for a 294. This score was shared also by one of the four surviving former champions, Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago. Ralph Guldahl had a 296 and Craig Wood and Lew Worsham shared 298s.

For Middlecoff the triumph brings $2000 in cash and a store of links prestige that professionals figure is worth, in the long run, $100,000.

The wide open tournament saw such stars as Byron Nelson, Jimmy Demaret, Frank Stranahan and a galaxy of former titleholders pushed out after the second round.

Better Golf

By SAM SNEAD

I have seen fellows hit the ball pretty well with a million different swings, but I can't remember any fellows who started their downswing with their hands ever really banging the ball worth a darn.

In trying to get fellows hitting the ball reasonably well in one lesson I get them thinking of pulling the club down—NOT AROUND—with the left shoulder. When they concentrate on that they are not inclined to lose most of their power by uncocking the wrists too soon. They also are going to keep that left arm straight and that means they are reducing the possibility of topping the ball.

There is another thing that this left shoulder down-pull hunch does for most fellows. Because it's easy to do they will work on it and quit trying to figure out tricks for their hips and feet to do. There is so much queer fussing around with feet, knees and hips when the average golfer tries ot make his swing fancy I wonder how he ever can hit a ball. When your chin is against your left shoulder at the top of the swing you've done one of the most important things right.

Capot Wins Belmont Stakes

NEW YORK, Jne 12 (AP)—Capot Saturday won the Belmont steaks with Ponder second and Palestinian third.

With Ted Atkinson up, the Greentree Stable's Colorbearer won the mile and a half $75,000 added classic at Belmont Park in a close finish.

Capot was clocked in 2:30 1-5 and paid $13.20, 4.90, and 2.90. Ponder paid $2.06 and $2.10. Palestinian, third in the eight horse field, paid 2.40 for show.

Stalking his claim to the 1949 three-year-old championship, Capot, also winner of the preakness, set the pace virtually from the start.

Ponder, winner of the derby but a belated fifth in the preakness, rallied from far back as usual and barely wore down Palestinian, which forced the winner's page.

HOCKEY AGAIN FOR OLYMPICS IF PEACE RESTORED

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, June 12 (CP) — Hockey will be reinstated on the Winter Olympic Games program when the Amateur Hockey Association of the United States and the Amateur Athletic Union "make their peace," J. S. Edstrom of Sweden, President of the International Olympic Committee, said today.

That is the only obstacle in the way of a continuance of the sport in the Olympics, he told a roundtable conference of Canadian Olympic and A.A.U. leaders assembled here. "We still keep hockey on the list for the 1952 Winter Games at Cortina, Italy, in the hope the problem can be settled before then," he added.

(First moves toward peace in the A.H.A.-A.A.U. dispute were made in New York last week when leaders of both organizations met behind closed doors. Settlement is expected later this Summer and well-informed sources say the A.H.A. will affiliate with the A.A.U. and govern amateur hockey in the United States with the union's blessing.)

BRITON BOUNDS MILE IN 4:11.1

PRINCETON, N.J., June 12 (AP) —A track and field team from Princeton and Cornell Saturday turned back the combined forces of Oxford and Cambridge, 9-4 but the Britons trotted out the most spectacular performer of the meet, a 20-year-old miler named Roger Bannister.

The long, lean Oxonian, captain of the invaders, won the mile by 30 yards in the creditable time of 4:11.1, second fastest in the United States this year.

Although Bannister's performance has been topped in the United States this year only by the 4:10.1 run by Don Gehrmann of Wisconsin at the relays, it failed to approach the meet record. That is 4:07.6 with which Jack Lovelock set the then world record in 1933.

Lovelock was anofficial at the meet.

Bannister's mates could win only three other of the 13 events. Only first places counted in the team scoring.

United Eleven Goes on Unbeaten

WINNIPEG, June 12 (CP) — Newcastle United, rolling up a 6-3 margin in the first half continued its unbeaten record during a Canadian tour by defeating all star Winnipeg soccer team 7-4 here Saturday.

About 6000 spectators gathered at Osborne Stadium despite a temperature of around 94 degrees.

Newcastle will play its next game in Toronto against a touring eleven from Sweden.

20-7 Pasting Handed Reds by Dodgers

By STEVE ROBERTSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Brooklyn Dodgers scored the most lop-sided victory of recent weeks when they trounced Cincinnati Reds 20-7 in a National League game Sunday.

That victory on 13 hits off no fewer than seven Cincinnati pitchers left the Brooks two full games ahead of St. Louis and Boston, tied for second. The Cardinals split a doubleheader with Philadelphia, winning the first 7-3 and losing the second 3-3. Boston meantime split with Chicago, losing 6-2 and winning 2-0. Pittsburgh edged New York Giants 6-5.

In Saturday's National League games Brooklyn had beaten Cincinnati 11-3, New York edged Pittsburgh 4-3, St. Louis beat Philadelphia 6-2 and Chicago beat Boston 5-2.

In the Sunday schemozzle at Brooklyn, Billy Cox and Gil Hodges each clouted two homers, driving in 14 runs between them. The Dodgers were aided by 11 walks and one hit batsman as they stretched their winning streak to seven games. Their big inning was the fifth, when five Red hurlers paraded to the mound and gave up 10 runs.

In the American League the year's largest crowd, 77,543, turned out at Cleveland Sunday to see the Indians beat New York Yankees twice, 6-0 and 3-1.

HOLD LEAD

The Yankees still hold a three-game lead over Detroit Tigers with Philadelphia in third spot another two games back.

It was Manager Lou Boudreau's clutch hitting and superb pitching by Bob Lemon and Mike Garcia that humbled the Yanks at Cleveland. Boudreau hit a homer and a single in the nightcap.

The Tigers swept a doubleheader from Washington Senators, 9-0 and 6-5. Boston Red Sox walloped three homers in a 15-3 victory over Chicago White Sox, then scored a 7-5 win in the second game.

At St. Louis the Browns and Philadelphia Athletics divided a twinbill. The Browns came from behind with a four-run eighth inning rally to win the opener 6-4. The Mackmen pounded extra-base hits all over the lot to grab the afterpiece by 13-10.

On Saturday the Yankees whipped Cleveland 12-7 and Washington edged Detroit 9-8. The Philadelphia at St. Louis Saturday game was postponed by wet grounds.

30,000 To See Bronz Boxer Try For Cerdan Title

By CHARLES C. CAIN

DETROIT, June 12 (AP)—Confident Marcel Cerdan tapered off training today for defence of his world's middleweight title against Jake La Motta in Briggs Stadium Wednesday night.

Indications were that a crowd of 30,000 would pay a gross gate of about $300,000 to see Cerdan's first defence of the crown he won from Tony Zale on a 12th round knockout last Sept. 21.

Cerdan rated about a 9-5 favorite in pre-fight betting, but a lot of La Motta money was reported showing up this weekend and some observers said Cerdan would be about a 7-5 shot at fight time.

La Motta followers figured that the 15-round distance on a hot night would be a help to Jake who is six years younger than the 32-year-old French champion.

It marks the first title shot for La Motta, the burly Bronx, N.Y., battler who has been around pro rings for nine years.

Under a ruling by the International Boxing Club, parent of the Olympia Stadium Corporation—the official promoters of the fight—there will be no radio, television, newsreel or movies of the fight.

CLAIM RECORD FOR CZECH

PRAGUE, June 12 (AP) — The Czechoslovakia radio announced Saturday night that Emil Zatopek, the Olympic 10,000-metres champion, has broken the world record for that distance by seven seconds.

His time, the radio reported, was 29 minutes 28.2 seconds. The listed mark is 29.35.4 by Viljo Heino of Finlan dat Helsinki in 1944.

ARCADIA, Calif., June 12 (AP)—Ralph Neves, one of the leading jockeys in the United States, starts a 15-day suspension Tusday on orders of the California Horse Racing Board.

The Board's action stemmed from a purported touting scheme involving Neves, a man named Charles Messenger, and a business manbettor. The business man turned out to be an investigator from the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau.

LOS ANGELES, June 12 (AP)—Booker McDaniel, 27-year-old right-hand pitcher, was due to fly to Seattle to join the Los Angeles Angels as the first Negro ever to appear on the Club Roster in its 47-year history.

Sport Snapshots---

By TREVOR ICETON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, June 12 (CP)—Sports writers have had about a week to digest the news of the new 70-game schedule for the National Hockey League next season. Reaction to the 10-game increase seems varied.

For example, Dan (Kitchener-Waterloo record) Odette figures the added contests won't benefit anyone except the team owners. "The players probably will get more money, but they'll burn themselves out much faster doing it."

He doesn't think the move will improve the standard of N.H.L. play, either, because the puck-chasers won't get proper rest between games and won't be able to "give his best at all times."

THE BRIGHTER SIDE

On the other hand, Doug (Windsor Star) Vaughan, questioning players about the longer schedule, found that "while many hockeyists.. figured that 70 games were too many to maintain peak condition, they liked the increased pay check that are bound to come their way.

As for the extra wear and tear on the players, Vaughan notes that "the number of playes a team can dress for a game has been increased from 16 to 17, excluding the goalie (and) the league governors feel that it won't be too great a strain for the teams to play an extra 10 game.

Clips Racing Record

TORONTO, June 11 (CP) — Air Arm, a two-year-old colt owned by M. C. Haddix, set a five-furlong record of 593-5 seconds at Thorncliffe Park Saturday.

Ridden by H. Wallace, Air Arm clipped one-fifth second off the mark set in 1934 by Donna Julia.

This sleek twin-jet fighter plane of the U.S. Navy is said by Navy men to be capable of outfighting the U.S. Air Force "invulnerable" bomber, the B-36. The Navy was all for staging a test between its fighter and the A.F.'s bomber. But the joint chiefs of staff turned thumbs down on the mock battle on the grounds that it would "serve no useful purpose" and would be "subject to serious misinterpretation on the part of the U.S. public."

They are Raymond Cote, driver; Camille Lajeonesse and Clifford Hobbs, all members of the Canadian Government tender Estevan. They are not believed to be seriously in- jured.

The accident occurred when they failed to negotiate a turn on the East Saanich Road, three miles North of Sydney.

Beavers Lose 3rd Straight as Tigers Win 10-7

FRUITVALE, B.C., June 12 — Fruitvale Beavers lost their third straight game in the West Koote- nay senior baseball series when Nelson Tigers downed them 10-4 at the Fruitvale recreation grounds tonight.

The Tigers clubbed seven of their 10 runs in the first two innings, four in the first and three in the second, while two runs were chalk- ed up in the third and one in the fifth. Nelson's Al Swenson hit a homer in the first inning.

Through an error on the part of Nelson's first baseman, Fruitvale scored two runs, capturing their run in the first and one in the seven- enth. After the second inning, both teams settled down and played close baseball with players on both sides being struck out. Les Hufty was hurler for the Nelson team while Fuzzy Grieve and Dave Ewing shared the pitching for Fruitvale.

Lineups:

Nelson—D. Koehle, W. Haldane, F. Larson, F. Koehle, A. Swenson, B. Pitts, R. Koehle, Colet, L. Hufty.

Fruitvale—D. Haines, N. Sadler, J. Simpson, D. Lewis, E. Grieve, H. McLnnis, F. Grieves, D. Ewing.

Gulch Juniors Take Nelson 5-1

TRAIL, B.C., June 12 — Trail Gulch Junior baseballers chalked up a 5-1 win over the Nelson Jun- ior Yanks at Butler Park here Sun- day afternoon. A fair crowd turned out to watch Joey Jankola toss a no-hitter in a pitchers battle with Nelson's Ron Brown. Jankola show- ed exceptional form as he struck out 19 of the youthful visitors. The locals collected seven hits off Ron Brown, three of them being for extra bases. Pisacreta hit a double and a triple while Geranzo drove out a homer over the 350 foot mark. The Nelson team, while going hit- less, played almost errorless ball and their fielding drew a good hand from the fans. The home club scored two runs in the fourth, one in the sixth and two in the eighth. Nelson tallied their lone run in the sixth. Jankola, besides striking out 19 bat- ters, hit one and gave out three free passes to first. Brown allowed seven hits, struck out 13 and walked two.

Batteries were:

Trail Gulch—Jankola and Hack- ett.

Nelson Yanks—Brown and Ken- nedy.

Umpires were Bill Bullie and Don Ireland.

PORTRAITS SHOW DARKEST AFRICA COLORFUL PLACE

By ROBERT MARX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK (CP)—African na- tives may not wear any clothes, but they're "the world's most perfect gentlemen," says Mrs. Margot Mo- berly-Perrin of Toronto and Old Lynne, Conn.

She ought to know; they've been her hosts for eight years.

Mrs. Moberly-Perrin discounts any dangers she faced during a 160,- 000-mile trek through the Dark Continent. She says she was too in- terested in her study of the people to worry about trouble from "dan- gerous savages."

Officials repeatedly warned her against venturing among them. She consistently ignored their advice.

"Why, they are the most gentle- manly people you could imagine," Mrs. Moberly-Perrin says. "I was always treated with the greatest consideration and hospitality."

The result of her study, a selec- tion of 42 brightly-colored portraits from the 300-odd she painted is be- ing exhibited here in the Museum of Natural History.

"Darkest Africa," as shown in the Canadian-born artist's work, is a colorful place. Racial and tribal characteristics are clearly depicted in her work. Varied headdresses, ceremonial cloaks, dancing cos- tumes and warlike shields back- ground the figures. Accessories show vivid yellows, reds and greens while faces range from greyish for the Arab traders to chocolate for Zulu girls and fierce black for the bushmen.

ACCOMPANIED BY SON

Mrs. Moberly-Perrin was accom- panied on her safari by her son, Peter, who also acted as interpreter. He speaks English, French, Spanish, Arabic and several native dialects. Mrs. Moberly-Perrin speaks only English.

"The natives never had been photographed or painted before. When they saw the finished port- raits they were delighted to be able to recognize themselves and their friends," she said in an interview.

The pair travelled when possible by automobile, but often had to re- sort to river transport and pack animals or trek on foot to reach out-of-the-way villages and settle- ments.

The Moberly-Perrins were hamp- ered but not interrupted by war- time conditions. Authorities feared the possibility of agitation among the natives and were reluctant to permit foreigners to enter the bush.

Frequently they were unable to cash travellers' cheques, since the local population complained they would not be able to collect until after the war. One British consul ter the war. One British consul was sympathetic but said he could offer no assistance, because he was living on credit himself.

On several occasions disease halt- ed their travels. Cerebral malaria and amoebic dysentery sent both to hospital.

Copper, Zinc Declines Fail to Attract Buyers; Lead Promising

NEW YORK, June 12 (AP). — Copper and zinc prices were hammered down a little more last week —but buyers' response was negligible. Lead business was somewhat more promising and the price held steady.

The refined copper reduction Wednesday of ⅝ of a cent brought the new custom smelter price to 17 cents a pound, Connecticut Valley, or 6½ cents less than the post-war high.

The large mine operators again failed to change their quotations, saying they saw no point in cutting prices further until buying develops. Their quotations, all nominal, ranged from 18½ to 23½ cents.

Several Western Senators and Congressmen introduced bills to restore the copper import duty of 2 cents a pound, suspended in 1947 when the metal was in critically short supply.

The price of zinc was slashed twice last week for a total of 1¼ cents a pound. At the new price of 9½ cents, the metal is 8 cents less than the post-war peak.

Demand for lead was better than for either copper or zinc, and the price managed to hold at 12 cents a pound, New York.

Discussions of the strategic stockpiling needs of the United States for the coming fiscal year began in Washington. Some trade sources estimated that Government lead purchases would range from 150,000 to 200,000 tons, and copper around 120,000 tons.

Major non-ferrous metals prices:

Copper—17 cents a pound, Connecticut Valley. (Major mine operators quote 18.5-23.5 cents, nominal.) Foreign, 17 cents, New York.

Lead — 12 cents a pound, New York; 11.85 cents, St. Louis; foreign 12 cents, Gulf of Mexico ports.

Zinc—9.5 cents a pound, East St. Louis; 10.2 cents, New York; foreign, 9.5 cents, Gulf of Mexico ports.

Aluminum—17 cents a pound, ingots, shipping point; pigs, 16 cents, shipping point.

Antimony—41.73 cents a pound, cased, New York; 38.5 cents, bulk, Laredo, Texas.

Manganese—48 cents per ore, nearby contracts, nominal, 79-81 cents a long ton unit (22.4 pounds), C.I.F., U.S. ports; ferro-manganese, 78-82 per cent manganese, $172-$175 a gross ton, shipping point.

Nickel—40 cents a pound, electrolystic cathodes, Port Colborne, Ont., 42.93 cents, New York.

Platinum—$72 an ounce, wholesale; $75 retail, New York.

Silver—71.5 cents an ounce, New York; 43.5 pence, London.

Tin—$1.03 a pound, New York.

Quicksilver—$81-$83 a flask of 76 pounds, New York.

Tungsten ore—$28.50 a short ton unit (20 pounds), delivered; Chinese, $23-$23.50, New York.

BOY RUNS MILE TO WARN TRAIN OF WASHOUT

ZENON PARK, Sask., June 11 (CP)—Quick thinking and a fast pair of legs made Robert April, 16-year-old farm boy, a hero in this Northeastern Saskatchewan district. Last Thursday night, he ran a mile to warn train officials of a washout.

M. D. Thompson, Superindent of the Canadian National Railways at Saskatoon, said today that "everybody who was on the train that night is grateful to that boy."

He related that the youth came across the washout while inspecting his father's farm after a cloudburst Thursday night that inundated the countryside.

He saw 50 feet of washed-out roadbed, and six feet of water in the ditches. The rails hadn't shifted, but in some places the ties were just hanging over the water.

The youth ran a mile down the track to the station, arriving with his warning just as the train pulled in.

The Zenon Park station is on the Saskatoon-Melfort-Arborfeild line which operates twice weekly.

"I can tell you," said Mr. Thompson, "He and his family are going to be hearing further from us."

NEW ISRAELI PLAN FOR PEACE TALKS WITH ARABS

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, June 12 (AP)—Israel proposed today that five committees be set up to study the problems that have bogged down the Israel-Arab peace talks.

Walter Eytan, head of the Isreali delegation, made the proposal to the United Nations Palestine Conciliation Commission. The American - Trkish - French Commission will study the proposal Monday.

The five committees would have these duties;

1. Draft the outline of a peace treaty between Israel and Egypt, Trans-Jordan, Syria and Lebanon.

2. Discuss the repartiation of some 800,000 Arab refugees in the middle East who want to return to Israelle-occupied Palestine.

3. Discuss territorial adjustments.

4. Discuss economic issues affecting the five nations conferring here.

5. Discuss the Internationalization of Jerusalem and other holy places. This committee already exists.

One of the long-jaums of the conference has been Israel's refusal to consider repatriation of Arabs until boundaries are fixed.

Claims Cut in Marshall Aid Would Make Plan Useless

WASHINGTON, June 12 (AP)—Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) declared Saturday that an "arbitary" cuts in Marshall plan funds might make the European recovery program "useless."

The Michigan Senator, top Republican on the Foreign Relations Committee, said in a statement that the retirement of E.C.A. Administrator Paul G. Hoffman is "unthinkable."

Hoffman has indicated to the Senate Appropriatio.i Committee that he would resign if his funds are cut to a oint where he feels it would scuttle the recovery program.

New Water Route Halted With Strike

VANCOUVER, June 12 (CP) — Eastern strike conditions have forced a temporary halt in the new water route from Montreal to Vancouver, officials of the Seaboard Shipping Co. said here today.

A lack of interest on the part of shoppers because of the crippling strike is blamed for the cancellation of the service designed to overcome increase railway freight rates.

The service was resumed a short time ago a 10-year lapse.

Coldwell Believes C. C. F. Will at Least Stand as Opposition Party

VANCOUVER, June 12 (CP)—M. J. Coldwell, National C.C.F. Leader said Saturday he believes his party will be at least official opposition in the next Parliament.

The C.C.F. Leader made his prediction at a Press Conference here after arriving from the British Columbia Interior where he has been campaigning for the last few days both for the June 15 provincial election and the June 27 Federal vote.

The chances of the C.C.F. in Canada, he said, appear to be "extraordinarily good" from the Quebec border West. The industrial centres of Ontario offered encouragement and the C.C.F. was likely to take at least 20 seats in Ontario.

C.C.F. IN B.C.?

"I think there is also a very good chance of the C.C.F. forming a Government in British Columbia," Mr. Coldwell said. C.C.F. stock was going up generally and receptions all across the country had been "enthusiastic." He was particularly pleased with the reception in Interior B. C. centres like Kelowna, Armstrong and Kamloops.

He said he is convinced that the Progressive Conseravtives have lost "a great deal of ground, particularly in Quebec where Premier Duplessis had fallen into disfavor among many people because of his position on margarine and the asbestos strike."

Mr. Coldwell said that under no circumstances will the C.C.F. go into Coalition with another party in the vent of no group having a majority after the Federal election.

"We will support good legislation without tieing up with any political party," he said, adding that the C.C.F. is not "interested in the fortunes of any other political party."

The C.C.F., leader said the real fight in the Federal election seems to be between the Tories and the C.C.F. for the position of official opposition in the next Parliament.

"I think Col. Drew may run third and will have fewer seats than he has now. I have said that from the beginning and I am more convinced now, after travelling across the Dominion, than ever."

Mr. Coldwell predicted a few C.C.F. gains in Quebec, possibly in the Montreal District. He mentioned the Cartier Constituency and Verdun as ridings in which the C.C.F. was well received.

Clarence Fines, Provincial Treasurer in Saskatchewan, whom Mr. Coldwell said he regards as a sound forecaster, had predicted that the C.C.F. would gain in Saskatchewan. Mr. Coldwell was also confident that the C.C.F. would hold its own and possibly gain in Manitoba.

Asked about the interest of the people in the Federal election, he said "our meetings have been good but there seems to be some apathy. That may be because most people do not yet see the cracks in our economy. As a matter of fact, I think the reason the Liberals called an election now instead of in October, is because they were afraid the indications of a recession would be more obvious then."

Old Vernon Street Building Brings Flood of Memories to Old Timer

By R. G. Joy
Historian, Nelson and District Old Timers Association

I think it was Shakepear who wrote, "Brevity is the soul of wit". To put Nelson's early history in that class would even make Shakespeare get het up. Some years ago, many, but it is as yesterday in my memory, I attended a night school in England provided by the benevolent members of the church in Margate, Lowly Margate is now quite fashionable and many there added to their prestige because of their faith in their fellow townsman Dr. Rowe, an amateur geologist who insisted there was coal in Kent. The finding of that coal caused several thousand miners to be employed.

I remember as a boy going to the Theatre Royal. I often got hold of sixpence, (12 cents), for the privilege of a seat in "the Gods", (gallery). By the way, Miss Sarah Thorne trained many young actors and actresses in the old Theatre Royal at Margate. Forbes Robertson, was one of those famous actors that graduated from the stage of the old theatre in Margate. "Can any good come out of Margate?" and actor said, when questioning a young applicant for the stage who was of Margate. It is a long way from Margate to Nelson, but, when a humble write of more than three a hmble writer of more than when 3 score years and ten reminiscences, please forgive.

Walking along Vernon Street recently on a visit to the hospital to meet an old time friend and before reaching the New Grand Hotel corner I noted that the old building, one of the first erecuted in Nelson and originally known as the Guepot Saloon where unadulterated wines and spirits were sold in exchange for coin of the realm and gold dust, had been torn down. The building changed hands many times, so did its proprietors who were of many nationalities. One was Tom Ward of Ward's Ferry fame was a giant of a man with a voice like a fog horn, a genial chap and well liked by many old timers. In later years many a kind word of encouragement came from Tom to me.

On my first trip to the Boundary country Tom was my fellow passenger and kindly pointed out to me many land marks. I will never forget Christina Lake as viewed from the raildroad. It was as smooth as plate glass and seemed to be decorated with many huge green trees of the Kootenay. I am afraid my brevity idea has been lost in the crowd of memories that come when I reminiscence.

E. Applewhaite told me a story of the Gluepot Saloon. It was the Winter of 1891 on Vernon Street that he noticed a crowd in the vicinity of the Gluepot Saloon. Said he:

I was curious and looked through the legs of the crowd and saw to my horror two men on the ground trying to chew one another up, also endeavouring to spoil each other's beauty. Both had on cork boots and no part of their anatomy was barred. The Marquess of Queensbury would have been horrified I was aroused and said something about fair play, and made a move to enter the ring when suddenly I felt a powerful hand on my neck and found myself being dragged backwards very quickly, and a loud voice saying, "stand back you damn fool, you'll get hurt. Let them have it out."

If you wish to read a good description of a similar fight you will find it in The Man From Glengarry by Ralph Connor.

London Pickets Protest "Murder" Of Fellow Seamen

LONDON, June 12 (CP)—Striking members of the Canadian Seamen's Union Saturday picketed the United States Embassy, protesting what they called the "organized murder" of three of their fellows in Los Angeles.

The pickets, 150 strong, wore black arm bands of mourning. They carried sahdwich boards, edged in black, saying: "Gun war on Canadian Seamen's Union" and "Murder." Extra police were on hand but there was no disturbance.

(Los Angeles doctors are examining organs of Herve Beauchesne, Montreal seaman whose body was found last Monday floating in San Pedro Harbor. Cause of death has not been determined, the coroner's office said.

(The body of Leonard Richards of Vancouver, a member of the C.S.U., was found in the water April 9. The death was listed by the coroner as accidental or suicide, undetermined.

(A third Canadian seaman, Charles Leslie, was slugged May 29 while in the harbor area. He suffered a skull fracture.

(Beauchesne was a second cook on the freighter Argobeck. He and others of the crew were paid off when the ship reached port here because the owners, while it was at sea, had contracted with the Seafarers' International Union (A.F.L.) instead of the Canadian Seamen's Union.)

BRITISH EXPORTS INCREASED IN MAY

SOUTHPORT, Lancashire, Eng., June 12 (CP)—Britain's exports bounced higher during May, compared with April, Harold Wilson, President of the Board of Trade, announced today.

At the same time, imports also increased to nearly £195,000,000 ($780,000,000)—the highest on record —so that the trade gap was not reduced proportionately, he said.
