Red Drives Break Unofficial "Peace"

By JOHN RANDOLPH

SEOUL, Korea, Nov. 29 (Thursday) (AP)—Two Communist attacks on the Eastern front last night broke the strange quiet that had settled across the 145 miles of frozen Korean battle front. The Eighth Army said Allied troops hurled back the assaults by midnight.

Field dispatches said Allied troops had received orders to fire only if attacked.

However, an Allied headquarters spokesman for General Matthew B. Ridgway in Tokyo said no cease-fire order "has been given by the Eighth Army or anybody else."

In Key West, Fla., President Truman's spokesman denied Korea reports that the order had come from the highest source, possibly the White House.

The Reds attacked in the high mountains Northwest of Yanggu. They hit first in battalion strength and then attacked with a regiment. The battle lasted eight hours.

Elsewhere, from coast to coast, hardly a shot was fired save for occasional artillery rounds.

An Allied briefing officer reported only one minor patrol action along the whole Western front.

A 3rd Division officer said "we didn't fire a round of artillery last night for the first time since I can remmeber, and I came here last November.

"We don't plan to do any offensive firing now," he said, "but our men have been told that for each shell the enemy fires at us, we will fire five back at him."

NO ORDER

Allied headquarters said no order to stop fighting had been issued.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's public information officer in Tokyo said:

"I can say that no such order has been given by the Eighth Army or anybody else. The report of a directive to stop the fighting is false."

AP correspondent Milo Farneti, in a dispatch from the front passed by censors, quoted a 3rd Division officer as saying an Eighth Army directive ordered front line units not to fire on the Reds unless necessary.

The officer said that the ground war had stopped "for all practical purposes."

The officer also said air strikes against Communist front line positions also had been banned.

Communist troops played volley ball in full sight of Allied troops last night without being fired upon. Camp fires glowed across the battle line but there was no shooting.

In Florida, Truman's press secretary, Joseph Short, said, "there can be no cease-fire in Korea until an armistice has been signed."

In Washington, the Defence Department said it had received no official information on the halt in ground fighting and said Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway had been asked for clarification.

AIR, SEA FIGHTING

Fighting continued in the air and at sea.

Field dispatches said United Nations troops received orders Tuesday night and early Wednesday to fire only if attacked.

The absence of activity on the Communist side indicated the Reds, too, were under their own orders to halt fighting.

TITO FREES CHURCH LEADER

Hint R.C. Leader May Be Released

BELGRADE, Nov. 28 (AP) — Serbian Orthodox Church officials disclosed today that Marshal Tito's Government has freed Metropolitan Josef, placed under House arrest more than a year ago on a charge of conspiring to overthrow Tito.

Metropolitan Josif is the second ranking leader of the Serbian Orthodox Church, Yugoslavia's strongest. He had been accused of plotting with agents of former King Peter to oust Tito's Communist regime.

Church circles said the House arrest was lifted last Friday and Metropolitan Josif now is waiting, at his home in Rankovicevo, for confirmation as administrator of his diocese.

The disclosure came less than 24 hours after Tito hinted strongly that he would free Archbishop Alojzipc Stepinac, spiritual leader of Yugoslav Roman Catholics, from his jail cell at Lepoglava by Christmas.

Archbishop Stepinac, 53, was sentenced five years ago to 16 years' imprisonment on a charge of collaborating with the Germans in the Second World War.

The release of Metropolitan Josif may be designed to placate members of the Servian Orthodox Church, many of whom are still hostile to the Roman Catholic prelate.

The Government offered several months ago to free Archbishop Stepinac if he would leave the country. The Vatican rejected this offer. Tito has made it clear the Archbishop will not be permitted to resume work as the leader of the Catholic Church in Yugoslavia.

Ra...o Stations Ready For T.V Go-Ahead

OTTAWA, Nov. 28 (CP)—T. J. Allard, general manager of the Canadian Association of Broadcasters, said today that private radio stations in Canada are anxious to move into the field of television.

Continuing testimony before the Commons Committee on Radio, Mr. Allard said private stations in various parts of the country are ready to go ahead as soon as they are granted a television licence. He estimated they could have stations in operation in from 12 to 18 months.

SEEK EQUAL RIGHTS

Donald Fleming (PC—Toronto Eglington) asked Mr. Allard what type of recommendation he felt the committee should make on television. Pointing to the C.A.B. brief submitted yesterday, Mr. Allard said the Association wanted the committee to "recommend equal opportunity to enter the television field for properly qualified citizen applicants."

Television would unquestionably cripple and might destroy radio broadcasting as it now exists, said Mr. Allard. Consequently to refuse private operators permission to enter into television "is simply an indirect way of expropriating their business or cancelling their licences."

"Operators of non-government stations in Montreal, Toronto, Ottawa, Windsor, Hamilton and New Westminster, B.C., have indicated their willingness and their desire to enter the televsion field immediately," said Mr. Allard.

He knew that station owners on the Prairies also were anxious to go ahead.

M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, asked how the private stations would finance television. Mr. Allard replied that it would be through the sale of advertising.

Mr. Coldwell said he saw American television last week and considered the advertising bad and the programs poor. If that was the type of thing which Canada would get, it might be wise to accept the recommendations of the Massey Commission on Arts and Sciences and move slowly in the field of television.

On the question of TV programs, Mr. Allard said private stations could telecast hockey and baseball games, news events, boxing matches and similar events. They could make use of films made by the Crown-owned National Film Board.

Mr. Allard said that on the average the Canadian standard is as good or better than the U.S. standard. Unquestionably there were peaks in the U.S. that Canadians could not hope to match. These included such programs as those by the New York Philharmonic.

He expected that Canadian TV, on the average, would be as good or better than its American counterpart.

Mr. Coldwell asked if it wasn't a fact that the existance of the CBC had tended to raise the standard of programs in Canada. Mr. Allard sid he did not believe that to be the case. If a Canadian station wanted to survive it had to supply the types of programs which people wanted to hear.

Province Approves 693-Mile Yellowhead Oil Pipeline

$82 Million Project To Begin in Early 1952 if Permit Granted

VICTORIA, B.C., Nov. 28 (CP)—Trans-Mountain Oil Pipe Line Company, subject to approval of the Board of Transport Commissioners, will build a 693-mile pipe line from the Edmonton area to Vancouver, Premier Byron Johnson announced today.

The project would cost $82,000,000 and be completed by the end of 1953. The line would follow an all-Canadian route through the Yellowhead Pass along the Canadian National Railways line to Kamloops, B.C., then South through the Coquihalla Pass to Hope and West along the South bank of the Fraser River to refineries in Burnaby, a Vancouver suburb.

Initial capacity to the line would be 75,000 barrels a day. Its ultimate capacity could be increased to 200,000.

GOV'T SUPPORTS

The Premier said the British Columbia Government will support the application of the company to the Board of Transport Commissioners. The Board will hear the application at Ottawa Dec. 10.

"This is the biggest thing that has ever happened to B.C.," the Premier said.

The announcement followed a conference today between the Premier and R. L. Bridges, president of Trans-Mountain, S. D. Betchel Jr., vice president of Canadian Betchel Ltd., and M. Van Hoesen, Trans-Mountain's legal representative.

SEVEN COMPANIES

Trans-Mountain comprises seven major oil companies. Financing of the project has been underwritten by Imperial Oil Ltd., Standard Oil of B.C. Ltd., Shell Oil of Canada Ltd., Canadian Gulf Oil Ltd., Union Oil of California, Richfield Oil Co. and S. D. Bechtel and Associates; one of the leading engineering firms in the oil industry in the United States.

The pipe line route will enable a feeder line to be built from the Peace River area when oil development is advance there. First oil in B.C. was discovered in that area Nov. 1.

Premier Johnson said B.C.'s oil requirements would be adequately provided for when the line was completed.

The problems of maintaining B.C.'s oil supply which arose during the war when tanker routes were menaced by submarines would be eliminated.

"With the completion of the pipe line, additional refineries will undoubtedly be built in B.C. and Vancouver may become a large refining centre," he said.

There are now three refineries in B.C., all in the Vancouver area, with a combined capacity of 28,850 barrels a day. Imperial Oil is considering expansion of its plant capacity from 12,000 to about 22,500 barrels a day. Refinery capacity in the Vancouver area by the end of 1953 is expected to be around 37,500 barrels.

Assuming that a permit is granted by the Transport Commissioners, construction of the pipe line will start as early in 1952 as weather will permit. Between 1600 and 1700 construction workers will be needed, 200 operating personnel when the line is finished.

The Northwestern United States has a current demand running to more than 200,000 barrels a day. It now is met mostly by tanker shipments from California.

Harold is holding here his plans and a model for a rocket he designed. He believes it should fly to the moon. The young designer says he doesn't know much about fuel yet, but he "hopes to get a chemistry set for Christmas," and soon dispose of the fuel problem. FIGHTING BREAKS AGAIN IN EGYPT

Comes After Compromise Plan

ISMAILIA, Egypt, Nov. 28 (CP) —Violence broke out again in Ismailia tonight less than six hours after the British commander had announced agreement that Egyptian police would resume responsibility for maintaining order there.

A shooting affray between Egyptian civilians and British military personnel occurred near a British camp.

Egyptian Police Capt. Abdel Aziz Hamdi, chief of Ismailia's special branch of police, said four Egyptian civilians "on their way home and behaving normally" were wounded by a British patrol.

A British Army spokesman gave this version:

"Seven or eight" Egyptians attempting to steal steel plates from a storage building near the camp were surprised by a military patrol.

They fired on the patrol. The patrolmen stormed the building, wounding one man, who was left behind when the others fled.

COMPROMISE

The violence followed an announcement that Britain's forces will withdraw from the main Suez Canal zone towns of Ismailia, Suez and Port Said in return for Egyptian promises of police help to fight anti-British terrorists.

Almost all British service families have been evacuated to guarded quarters — or to Britain — from these towns.

Britain also agreed to stop physical searches of Egyptian civilians at British military road blocks and to end all military patrols in the three towns.

The Egyptian government announced tonight it had decided to take full supervision over the irregular "liberation battalions" waging guerrilla warfare against British troops because "dangerous" elements had infiltrated into them.

Mother Fails to Rescue Daughter

VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 28—(CP)—Two persons were burned to death today in suburban Burnaby when an old frame house went up in flames. Nine others escaped.

The victims were Marie McGillivray, 31, and Olaf Berdahl, 38.

The heroic efforts of 52-year-old Mrs. A. D. McGillivray, who battled through the flames to spread the alarm, is credited with saving the lives of the others in the house.

However, she was unsuccessful in her attempts to save her daughter, Marie, and Berdahl.

A backfiring sawdust burner was blamed for the fire, which almost destroyed the seven-roomed frame house.

Berdahl, a roomer, apparently collapsed with a heart attack in his room, and attempts to reach him were blocked by intense heat and roaring flames.

Marie was trapped by roaring flames in an upstairs bedroom and two later attempts by firemen and other rescue workers failed to reach her.

Author Receives Quai Des Orevres

PARIS, Nov. 28 (Reuters)—Maurice DeKobra, whose novels have been translated into 27 languages, has been awarded the Quai Des Orfevres prize by a jury of authors, newspaper men and high police officials for his first detective story, "Operation Magali," The prize is $280, twice the usual amount, because last year the jury couldn't find a thriller worthy of it.

Cattle on Airfield Cause 13 Deaths

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 28 (AP)—A Mexican airline official said 13 persons were killed and seven were injured Tuesday when cattle on an airfield delayed a plane until after dark, causing it to crash.

Juan L. Titlam, head of the small West Coast Lines, Lineas Unidas, said the dead all were Mexicans. The survivors, also Mexicans, were brought here today.

Doctors said four of them may die of their injuries.

TORONTO, Nov. 28 (CP)—Lotta Dempsey, newspaper columnist and radio commentator, has been appointed editor of Chatelaine, Canadian Women's magazine, effective Jan. 1, the Maclean-Hunter Publishing Company announced today. She resigned three years ago as feature writer with the magazine to write a column for the Toronto Globe and Mail. As editor she takes the place of Byrne Hope Sanders.

31 Ousted From U.S. Internal Revenue Service

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (AP)—A big broom swept through the Scandal-ridden United States Internal Revenue Service today and when the dust had settled 31 "unsuitable" employees had been ousted from jobs in 16 cities.

President Truman fires James G. Smyth, San Francisco's tax collector for "failing to manage his office properly."

Revenue Commissioner John B. Dunlap ousted 30 others, including nine deputy collectors. He said 18 had been fired outright and the rest forced to resign.

POSSIBLE PROSECUTION

Five cases have been turned over to the Justice Department for possible criminal prosecution. Without disclosing the charges against them, the Revenue Bureau said the five involved are:

James J. Christman, Deputy Collector, San Rafael, Calif., branch of the San Francisco office.

James K. Harris, Deputy Collector Denver.

Mary A. Cook, clerk, Syracuse, N.Y.

Cletus H. Gerdel, clerk, St. Louis.

John A. Festa, Internal Revenue Agent, Philadelphia.

There were signs of more ousters to come. Several investigations haven't been cleaned up yet, and the cases of a number of employees under suspension still have to be disposed of.

Today's housecleaning was the biggest since Congress started to dig several months ago into charges of widespread graft, corruption, irregularities and inefficiency in the country's tax collecting system. Smyth and a number of others let out today already were under suspension.

Manitoba Cabinet Change Seen

WINNIPEG, Nov. 28 (CP)— A reorganization of the Manitoba Cabinet was forecast today by reliable government sources.

These sources said two new ministers probably would be added—one for the Treasury Department, now handled by Premier Douglas Campbell, and one for the Department of Municipal Affairs, a portfolio left vacant by the recent death of Commissioner Sauvieur Marcoux.

It also is expected the Premier will make an early announcement on the date for a by-election to fill the Brandon seat, vacant since the resignation of J. C. Donaldson.

Eggs Drop at Coast

VANCOUVER, Nov. 28 (CP)—For the first time in months of egg-buying, Vancouver housewives had something to cackle about today. Retail price for Grade A large dropped three cents to 63-67 cents a dozen.

Atlantic Winds Subside; Leave Trail of Death, Broken Ships

HALIFAX, Nov. 28 (CP)—Salvage and rescue operations were stepped up today as the sea calmed in the wake of a roaring storm which plundered the North Atlantic seaboard during the last 36 hours, leaving a trail of death and broken ships.

Reports reaching here from craft which sailed into the teeth of a 65-mile-an-hour gale to bring aid to distressed vessels said the winds had subsided and conditions "are improving."

Ten Gloucester, Mass., fishermen, who braved the merciless gale to save their ship, stepped ashore at Lunenburg, N.S., tonight with shouts of glee.

Their trawler Ronald and Mary Jane was towed to the famous South coast fishing port by the tug Foundation Vera, which last night put a line aboard the leaking vessel about 90 miles from here while the seas raged.

The 390-ton coaster Vagabond Prince, out of Yarmouth, N.S., was swept aground at Codroy on the Southwest tip of Newfoundland, during a blinding snowstorm. Her crew is safe and trying to refloat the craft.

ITALIAN SHIP GROUNDED

A rescue tug was reported en route to the side of an Italian ship, believed to be the 2000-ton Carla Maria G., grounded at Mont Louis on the Gulf of St. Lawrence near the Northeast extremity of the Gaspe Peninsula of Quebec. The vessel struck after pounding breakers parted her cables.

At Cuttyhunk, Mass., only one man of a crew of six escaped when the Dragger Mary M., also of Gloucester, crashed ashore. The survivor said the crew had tried to swim ashore.

A Newfoundland coaster, Ice Hunter, went aground on Madame Island at the Atlantic mouth of the Strait of Canso. The tug Foundation Lillian was dispatched to render assistance.

Damage estimated as high as $100,000 was done when the storm teamed up with the high tides of Shediac Bay, N.B., to force residents out of their homes and cause havoc to buildings and fishing equipment.

Storm Downs Victoria Wires

VICTORIA, B.C., Nov. 28 (CP)—Wind gusts reaching 92 miles an hour pounded storm-weary Victoria tonight. Heavy rain accompanied the 78-mile-an-hour wind sweeping in from the Southwest.

Wires were down at scattered points but there were no immediate reports of heavy damage.

Gusts of up to 50 miles an hour struck Vancouver as the storm moved Northwest.

Forecasters said the storm was expected to "weaken considerably" as it moved over the mainland.

WITHOUT LIGHTS

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 28 (AP) —A lightning storm, bringing wind gusts of up to 50 miles an hour, pounded the coast of Oregon and Southern Washington today.

Electric service in the Oregon coastal city of Astoria was disrupted for 30 minutes after lightning bolts struck poles and knocked out transformers.

Neighboring communities, including the Tongue Point naval station, were without lights tonight and repair crews said service probably could not be restored until morning.

LAKELAND, Fla., Nov. 28 (AP)—Florida is rushing Tangerines to Canada to counter importations of 925,000 boxes of low priced Mandarin oranges from Japan.

Florida's first carload of the zipper-skinned fruit for Canada this season is on its way. The Mandarin orange is small and resembles a Tangerine.

Van Doos Fight Magnificent Defensive Battle Against Odds

By BILL BOSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WEST SECTOR, Korea, Nov. 28 (CP)—For five days a Canadian infantry company fought thousands of Chinese to a standstill and held a barren Korean ridge-top vital to the United Nations.

This is the story of a great stand by the "Dog Company" of the Royal 22nd Regiment, under Maj. Real Liboiron of Windsor, N.S.

But special mention must be made of:

A scout-and-sniper platoon headed by Sgt. Leo Major of Montreal;

A mortar platoon commanded by Capt. Charles Forbes of Matanne, Que.;

The gunnery of Maj. Herb Baker, Pictou, N.S., who, throughout the battle, had at his disposal the entire artillery of the Commonwealth Division and attached gunners.

The Nov. 22-26 action was outstanding in the entire Korean campaign.

The battle was for possession of a ridge 2000 yards long West of the Imjin River in the Mount Kowang area, about 40 miles North of Seoul.

SEE-SAWED HOLD

The Canadians were on a saddle between two peaks. The Chinese held the peak to the West. The Eastern peak changed hands several times between the Communists and the United States 3rd Infantry Division.

This important ridge controls the front for miles.

Not once in the 120-hour fight did the Reds loosen the Canadian grip on the ridge. The Van Doos lived in a rain of artillery shells and mortar bombs and faced enemy tanks on their ridge-top. The enemy attacked by companies, by battalions and sometimes by larger formations. He was supported by more than 90 guns and hundreds of mortars.

SHORT NOTICE

The French-Canadian unit moved in Nov. 22. They had 28 hours to prepare themselves with only shelling to contend with, before the Chinese laid down the first serious bombing.

Maj. Liboiron, describing the Red technique, said:

"You'd see them coming down out of the mountains in threes and fours. The first thing you'd know, there were 500 there.

"They'd come in small packages of a few men milling around. Before long they'd formed into masses."

The Reds assaulted the Van Doos' position in three waves:

First, with grenades and burp guns;

Second, with carpets and big bayonets, the carpets being used as stiles to cross U.N. barbed wire;

Third, with nothing but grenades.

"I must say they were plucky," said Maj. Liboiron. "They kept coming through not only our artillery but their own."

The U.S. 3rd vacated the Western peak after a half-hour battle. This exposed the Van Doos to attack on both flanks and from the rear by infiltration.

The pressure was maintained all night by the Chinese, but there were seven noticable peaks in the action as seven successive attacks were pushed home.

Maj. Baker built a ring of fire around the Van Doos company, using all the Commonwealth Division's artillery. That night the R.C.H.A. alone fired 6000 rounds and mortar crews loosed 5100 bombs. The crews carried on without a break though Chinese retaliatory fire killed some of their comrades on neighboring guns.

Dawn found the company still holding its exposed position.

Maj.-Gen. James Cassels, commander of the Commonwealth Division, who today said the Van Doos conduct through the entire action was "exemplary and magnificent," visited Lt.-Col. J. A. Dextraze of Montreal, commander of the Royal 22nd. He complimented the whole battalion, whose other companies had also beaten off minor Red assaults.

An hour after midnight, Nov. 24 the Reds launched, from the Western Peak and from a gully to the North, the first of four major counter-attacks in stengths up to 300 men.

REFUSED TO WITHDRAW

Once Cpl. Major refused point-blank to obey Col. Dextraze's order to withdraw.

"No sir," he radioed. "We can take a bit more. We'll sit it out — can you bring down the mortar closer?"

The Colonel repeated his order.

"No sir," said Major. 'But maybe I'll change it a bit. Please keep the confidence you had in giving me this job."

"Good Joe," said the Colonel. "Sure we'll bring down the mortars."

Col. Dextraze personally directed the firing of battalion mortars just in front of Cpl. Major as the little band fell back 10 yards, then 20 yards, then 10 until finally, 75 yards and five hours later, the Sergeant found a spot he thought he could hold.

(Monday every Van Doos mortar was replaced.)

REDS HOLD 1 HILL

Meantime, United States troops recaptured the Eastern peak, leaving only the Western hill in Chinese hands. From there, Nov. 25, the last major assault on Maj. Liboiron's company was launched.

Monday Maj. Liboiron's company —muddy, bearded, battered and dog-tired but with its Van Doos zest still sparkling through — turned over the ridge-top saddle to fresher troops.

"Each battalion in the brigade fought a magnificent defensive battle against vastly-superior numbers of the enemy and proved they can beat him in defence as well as in attack," said Brig. J. M. Rockingham, commander of the Canadian 25th Brigade, in a special order of the day.

"I am grateful and proud to serve with you."

Seaway Project No Bluff—Howe

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (CP) —Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe, Canada's Trade Minister, said tonight that Canada is not bluffing in her proposal to undertake construction of the St. Lawrence seaway project alone.

"It has been suggested in some irresponsible quarters that the Canadian proposal was a bluff, that Canada could not and would not undertake such a large project alone," the minister said in a speech before the Washington Society of Engineers.

"I trust that the official announcement will put an end to that kind of talk. There is no bluff about Canada's attitude. We would need and would seek the cooperation of a designated agency in the United States to develop the international power.

"With that, we can and will complete the other essential works in the St. Lawrence River."

PREFERS U.S. HELP

Nevertheless, Canada still preferred to get U.S. participation through early ratification of the 1941 Canada-U. S. agreement to deepen the river for ocean-going traffic.

This preference, said Mr. Howe, had little to do with the sharing of the cost, which Canada is "quite capable" of financing, but because it would help speed actual construction.

"The main reason for the preference is simply that work could start almost immediately after ratification. Any other procedure involves a new series of legal and engineering preparations, formal and informal consultations, perhaps public hearings, and other formalities which might easily take up a year or two."

DELAYED TOO LONG

But time was running out. Canada had been looking forward for early ratification for 10 years and "each additional year of delay costs us more dearly in money and security."

"We can still hope for ratification of the 1941 agreement, but meanwhile we are preparing a second string to our bow."

Actually, the plans now being made represent only the "final stage of a development that has been going on for well over a century—with beneficial results for the peoples of both Canada and the United States."

"This final stage should be undertaken now simply because we have outgrown the facilities that are in existence. The present navigational channels are no longer able to support the demands that now are being placed upon them and are still less adequate to meet growing demands to handle new traffic presently in sight."

As Mr. Howe saw it and as he believed the majority of Canadians saw it, the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence navigation system was a simple necessity. The seaway and the added hydro power has become something "that we, the people of Canada, can no longer afford to do without."

To Hold Inquest

VANCOUVER, Nov. 28 (CP) — An inquest into the fire tragedy in suburban Burnaby will open tomorrow, officials reported.

Olaf Berdahl, 68, and Marie McGillivray, 30, died early today in a blaze which swept the home of Mrs. Grace McGillivray.

Eight persons escaped.

OTTAWA, Nov. 28 (CP) — Prime Minister St. Laurent said today he is not in a position to announce financial aid to Prairie farmers for their unthreshed grain.

He was answering a Commons question from Hazen Argue (CCF—Assinaboia), who asked if he could make such an announcement.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 28 (AP)—Marshal Raymond Thomason —achoo—wishes to say he is finally rid of those 8925 pounds of ground red pepper—achoo.

"We buried it," he commented tersely.

The pepper—35 barrels of it—was condemned as unfit for consumption. Thomason had to get rid of it.

At first, he thought of burning it. No go. The fumes, you know.

Finally the city provided a bulldozer and dug a trench.

Marshal Thomason announced that the case of the red pepper is closed. Achoo.

LITTLE HECK, Yorkshire, England, Nov. 28 (AP)—Officialdom has been raising heck hereabouts of late and Heck won't stand for it.

Two men with paint pots hit "Little Heck" last week and made its single "To Heck" signpost read "To Great Heck."

Heck is a mile from Little Heck and has 192 residents. They complained to their member of parliament about being raised to "Great Heck." Emissaries to post officials hecked: "Where the heck is Heck?"

The post officials just didn't know who sent the painters and why. Little Heck doesn't much care either why—it has only five houses.

Difficult To Do Anything About Red Blackmailing

OTTAWA, Nov. 28 (CP)—Justice Minister Garson said today in the Commons it is difficult for Canada to do anything to stop blackmailing in China.

He made the statement after G. K. Fraser (P.C. — Peterborough West) said Chinese in Peterborough have received telegrams from relatives asking for sums of $5000 and $2500 to protect themselves from torture.

Mr. Garson said the government has looked into the matter. The telegrams were from relatives in China and not from those doing the blackmailing there. Canada has no diplomatic communication with China and it is difficult for this country to do anything about blackmailing in China.

Mr. Fraser said something should be done to prevent the money from leaving Canada.

James Sinclair, parliamentary assistant to Finance Minister Abbott, said the only way this could be done would be for Canada and the United States to stop all communications with China and to institute postal censorship.

100 Per Cent Vote Sought By Jaycees

A 100 per cent vote in the December civic elections is the aim of Nelson Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Jaycees and their assistants are emphasizing the fact that they are not connected with campaigns of anyone running for civic offices, but are going all-out for a record vote.

In their "get-out-the-vote" campaign, the Jaycees are providing transportation on election day for anyone who wants to vote.

Service clubs are cooperating with the Jaycees in providing cars, and anyone willing to lend his car has been asked to contact Henry LeMoigne, "get-out-the-vote" committee chairman.

The Jaycees are also seeking headquarters for their "get-out-the-vote" campaign for election day. They are looking for a centre from which information can be given, and which will also serve as transportation headquarters.

All They Want Is A Christmas Tree

LONDON, Nov. 28 (Reuters) — Twenty-five young Canadians want a fir tree from home for their Christmas party at London House, a big residential club here for Commonwealth students.

For most of them it will be their first Christmas away from Canada.

Dr. John Osborne, from Medicine Hat, Alta., heads a committee formed to get the tree.

"It won't be a real Christmas for us without it," he said tonight.

"A Canadian fir will help us remember Christmas at home, in the midst of London's fog and rain."

Osborne, doing post graduate work at St. Mary's Hospital here, added that most of the Canadians had received food parcels from home.

"All we need now is a tree," he said.

Big Three Agree To Disarmament Talks With Russ

By NORMAN ALTSTEDTER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

PARIS, Nov. 28 (CP)—Britain today retained her conciliatory tone, despite initial Russian rebuffs, in accepting on behalf of the Western nations the Asian-Arab plan for private four-power disarmament talks.

Selwyn Lloyd, Britain's Minister of State, in the United Nations Political Committee urged Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky not to "close the door."

Some smaller powers urged the Russians to speak up on the new proposal.

"We came here with great hopes and we have not abandoned those hopes," said Lloyd. "Therefore I appeal once again to the Soviet delegation to give our proposals the full and detailed examination which they deserve.

"I . . . hope that the Soviet delegate has not said his last word and that he will not finally close the door."

SILENT

Vishinsky kept his silence. He has rejected the disarmament plan of the United States, Britain and France, but he has yet to tell the committee whether he will accept a resolution by Iraq, Syria and Pakistan calling for the four great powers to meet with the president of the U.N. Assembly and try to find ground for at least a start on arms limitation.

Vishinsky told reporters after the committee adjourned that he was thinking it over. "Wait for one or two days and everything will be clear," he said.

Fifteen U.S. Fishermen Perish

BOSTON, Nov. 28 (AP)—Fifteen fishermen perished tonight —most of them "like sardines in a can"—when a big Texas Oil Co tanker rammed and sank a light Boston fishing trawler in the outer harbor.

The Coast Guard said that 13 of the 17-man crew evidentally were trapped in the ship. Two others died after they were rescued. Two other survivors were taken to hospitals.

There were brief, sharp outcries from the stunned gathering of relatives on the pier as the yellow Coast Guard flares dropped over the scene of the crash. They could see the outline of rescue ships silhouetted against the sky, as the flares brightened the area.

The Coast Guard reported the water was strewn with wreckage. One lifejacket was found empty. There was no sign of life on the water after the four crew members were picked up.

The crash occurred just an hour after the 10,000 ton tanker Ventura and the trawler left their berths—outbound.

OUTBOUND

Capt. Johannes Asjerisson of the Ballard said his vessel also was outbound, near the Ventura just before the crash.

"The Ventura came to an unexpected stop and I thought a couple of men had fallen overboard," he said.

"It didn't seem possible that there could be a collision in such clear weather."

The scene of the sinking was near Boston Light Vessel.

ALAS, NO HORSES FOR MOUNTIES MOURNS U.K. FAN

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Nov. 28 (CP)—"Dear Mounties," the nine-year-old writes tremulously, "do you always get your man like they say and do you see real Indians? It must be smashing to do all that."

The nine-year-old, who writes from Chester, Cheshire, wants to know whether he can join the Canadian Mounties when he grows up. From Clifton, Yorkshire, another nine-year-old sends a particularly urgent request for an autograph of "any Mountie" and in London's Manor Park district a 12-year-old girl records her regret that the poor Mounties have to travel in jeeps and automobiles, instead of romantically on horseback.

These are excerpts from three of the deluge of letters received in London since five membrs of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, visiting Britain last week, proved that the lure of the scarlet tunic is a good deal stronger than many Canadians think.

Today an R.C.M.P. official declined to put a figure on the number of letters received from youngsters in the last week, but admitted "you could probably say more than 50." The R.C.M.P. has no official address in London, or anyway none that appears in the telephone book, so Britain's boys and girls put some weird directions on their envelopes, including simply to "Five Mounties, London," but the missives usually get their man. About four out of five contain a request for autographs or pictures.

The five visiting Mounties, headed by Assistant Commissioner M. F. E. Anthony, came to Britain with Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh and went home last week. Their pictures appeared on the front pages of most national newspapers.

The clinic is held once a month in Fairview and once a month at Memorial Hall in the city centre and is sponsored by the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority of Nelson.

"Fairly Good" Is Report on Injured's Condition

Miss Yvonne McNabb, 17, and Joseph Henry Gingras, 30, injured in a Friday night traffic accident, are reported in "fairly good" condition at Kootenay Lake General Hospital.

Injured when an ore truck plunged 300 feet down an embankment, two miles Northwest of Crescent Valley, Miss McNabb suffered a broken leg, lacerations and severe shock. Gingras, suffering a broken arm, lacerations and shock, managed to climb the embankment and lay at the side of the road until picked up by a passing car.

Two men, Elmer Oliver Storbo, 21, of Nelson and Mike Helishoff, 27, of Vallican were killed in the accident.

An inquest into their death was adjourned Tuesday pending recovery from injuries of Miss McNabb and Gingras. Dr. N. E. Morrison, deputy coroner, expects it will be at least two weeks before the injured will be able to testify.

Europe Army Not for Britons; Plan Threatened

ROME, Nov. 28 (AP) — The 12 Atlantic Allies wound up their eighth council today by calling for a quick final report on the possibility of creating an international European army, including Germans.

But Britain's foreign secretary, Anthony Eden, indicated Prime Minister Churchill's Conservative Government has no idea of reversing the Labor Government's decision to hold aloof from such an army.

Eden told a Press conference "British formations will not join the European army. But there might be some form of association."

Officials in London explained that this association would consist of "working with S.H.A.P.E.," Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters.

Although Britain's stand is not new, it produced a fresh reaction in the European Consultative Assembly at Strasbourg. A long shadow fell over the possibility that the European army plan ever would be realized.

There Paul Reynaud, French rightist, predicted to the representatives from 15 European parliaments that Britain's rejection would result in overthrow of the plan in the French Parliament.

Shuman had reported to the North Atlantic Treaty organization here yesterday that recruiting for a 43-division European army, under supra-national political authority, could begin in April.

West Germany, France, the Netherlands, Belgium, Italy and Luxembourg have been negotiating details for the one-uniform army, which would be added to Gen Eisenhower's forces, since last February.

Collapse of the plan would blow up present prospects for getting West Germans into the West's defence line.

Eisenhower asked the N.A.T.O. meeting Monday to "pool sovereignty—we must attempt the impossible." He added that Europe's defence must be built strongly Far East of the Rhine —a statement taken to mean he wants the Germans included.

Directors said that the mill has been suggested by Henry Hill, consulting engineer, who reported that enough ore has been developed.

The report said that silver-lead-zinc-tin ore bodies have been developed on the lower level of the Snowflake workings and the fifth level of the Woolsey mine. Tungsten ore shoots were indicated on the Woolsey lower levels.

The union is seeking financial support from all other unions in the area in order to stand by their demands.

"Our people are militant and are determined to weather the storm however long it might be," a mimeographed union letter declares.

Former Anti-Combines Chief Says Resale Prices Fatal to Enterprise

OTTAWA, Nov. 28 (CP) — Fred A. McGregor today described resale price maintenance as a "negation of freedom" that will kill the enterprise "so much needed by the Canadian public."

In doing so, the 63-year-old former combines commissioner, who resigned after clashing with the government on a delay in tabling a combines report on the flour-milling industry, supported a government proposal to make resale price maintenance practices illegal.

Appearing as a witness before parliament's special committee on retail price-fixing, Mr. McGregor, now in charge of writing the MacKenzie King memoirs for the Rockefeller Foundation, maintained:

1. Extension of the price maintenance practice has become "alarming" in recent year. If the vital element of price competition is removed, Canada will not have a free economy, but a price-controller economy — "with prices controlled by manufacturers."

2. The "avowed object" of the practice is the "maintenance of retail prices and the prevention of retail price reduction."

3. The practice whereby a manufacturer or supplier determines the price at which his goods will be offered to the public keeps prices "higher than they would otherwise be — right across the board."

4. It was "serious enough" that prices could not be reduced in many industries without the manufacturers' agreement, but the "limit surely has been reached" when retailers were prevented from making any reduction in the price of bread.

Ross Thatcher (CCF—Moose Jaw) suggested to Mr. McGregor that if resale price maintenance tends to increase the outlets, would not the converse be true if the practice was eliminated — small businesses would be forced out by big department stores.

Mr. McGregor agreed there might be some curtailment of outlets, but he also believed that the community would continue to patronize those establishments it wants continued.

Voters in Favor Of New Schools

NATAL, B. C.—The result of the bylaw that was voted on November 15 for the new schools required in District No. 1 showed decisive support given for the proposed building program. The result of the vote showed 795 in favor of the bylaw while 217 opposed it.

The share of the rural ratepayers for the whole project was estimated at $484,500 while city ratepayers share would be for $149,000. The Fernie ratepayers voted four to one, Michel-Natal ratepayers two to one. In the three rural areas only one vote showed against.

The school building program for Michel-Natal, a major item in the rural program, would be a new one-story frame building at Sparwood as a Junior-Senior High School for the Michel-Natal and adjacent areas. This would consist of six classrooms, library, gymnasium, home economics and industrial arts facilities and administrative offices.

Also included in the building program are much needed repairs and improvements at the Michel-Natal elementary school. The program would also provide one-room schools to accommodate the pupils at Elko, Jaffray and Newgate in the rural areas. The program that was proposed by School District No. 1 was also approved by the Department of Education.

The new site at Sparwood for the new Junior-Senior High School for the Michel-Natal and adjacent areas was chosen because of a number of disadvantages of the area adjacent to the present elementary school: The difficult job of keeping the coal dirt out of the school; to get the children away from the main highway with its increasing traffic; the school would be removed from the noise of passing trains; very poor natural lighting, as in the present school; Coal Company operations are steadily extending towards the school property.

Grading Course Draws 40 Pupils

CRANBROOK, B.C. — Approximately 40 East Kootenay lumber workers recently completed an intensive two weeks course in lumber grading in day and night sessions held in the Central School Annex.

The course was sponsored and financed by the interior section of the B.C. Lumber Manufacturers Association at no cost to the student. Eligible to take it were experienced employees, interested in grading work and in securing their graders' certificates following examinations next Spring.

William Clark, veteran instructor in grading for these classes which have been a longtime institution for coast center, was lecturer and demonstrator and will repeat the course at various points in the interior during the next few months.

Purpose is to meet a general shortage of qualified lumber graders in the industry in the interior, and to provide opportunity for ambitious lumber workers. Second purpose is to standardize grading methods to conform with the Canadian grading bureau principles in this matter.

CRANBROOK, B. C. — Over 600 Cranbrook residents saw something different in the way of entertainment when an international folk festival, the first of its kind in Cranbrook, was held in Mount Baker Auditorium. Folk songs of the leading countries of the world were depicted.

Scotland was the first country shown with Gavin Anderson, former Kootenay Kiltie Pipe Band member in Nelson, giving an outstanding performance of highland piping.

The "Reel O'Tulloch, Sword Dance and Sean Trubhais" performed by Kimberley Highlander dancers were also part of the Scottish portion of the program.

Next country visited was the United States with boys of Cranbrook Elementary Choir rendering two Negro spirituals, "It's Me, Oh Lord" and "Go Down Moses". The Cranbrook High School group gave a demonstration of American jitterbugging.

Other countries whose folk songs were presented were Wales for which the Welsh Quartet, under the direction of T. S. Beynon, sang "Men of Harlech" and "Hod-y-Derridena"; Scandinavia, with junior national dancers in full costume presenting the "Hatter Dance" and the East Kootenay Scandinavian Sisters presenting "Baglaens-Kontrasigre;" Italy, with "O Sole Mio" being sung by Maureen, Gerald and Margaret Marra, and other Italian songs rendered by the Sorrento singers of Kimberley.

Ottawa Studies Longer Paterson Customs Hours

TRAIL, B.C. — Paterson border hour crossings may be extended, it was announced by a group of United States customs and immigration officials at a Trail Gyro Club meeting.

Consideration was being given a U.S. proposal that the Paterson-Northport border crossing remain open from 8 a.m. until 11 p.m. by the government in Ottawa, they said, and if there is too great an increase of traffic 24-hour service may be made available.

Possibility that a direct road from Waneta to Colville would be constructed was also mentioned at the meeting.

Gov't Can Share Proceeds Trail Hospital Sale

TRAIL, B.C.—A part of the money received when the Trail-Tadaanc Hospital is sold, may revert to the Provincial Government, Trail-Tadanac Hospital Board was told Tuesday.

Word was received from Hon. A. D. Turnbull, Minister of Health, that a section of the Hospitals Act says that if the B.C. Government at any time made grants to assist in construction of a hospital or purchase of equipment, then when the hospital was sold the minister could say how much of the proceeds would be given over to the government.

The government in 1930 made a grant of $25,000 for the hospital's construction of a new wing. Amount that may be confiscated is not yet known. It had been thought previously that all money from the old hospital would be shared by Trail and Tadanac on a pro-rata basis.

L. M. DeLong presided at the meeting which was held Tuesday night and at which he read Mr. Turnbull's letter.

DRIVER UNINJURED AS TRUCK PLUNGES 2000 FEET

TRAIL, B.C. — A Trail truck driver miraculously escaped injury early Wednesday when his truck plunged off the Pend d'Oreille road and fell 2000 feet down an embankment into the river.

The driver, Eugene Dilling, was unhurt when he jumped clear of the vehicle, seconds after it left the road.

Dilling, employed by a local lumber firm, was reported en route to a D.B. Merry lumber mill when the accident occurred.

It is not known what caused the truck to leave the road and fall headlong down the mountainside. It turned over several times on its downward plunge and disappeared in the Pend d'Oreille. Only pieces of wreckage were seen to mark the spot where it vanished.

Police are investigating the cause of the accident.

ORE RESERVES LARGER THAN ESTIMATED

Recent exploration at Kootenay Base Metals Ltd., near Fort Steele, has disclosed that replacement mineralization continues to a considerably greater depth than the present No. 1 level. Ore tonnage calculations to date have been based on known continuation of orebodies to the No. 1 level horizon. In addition, the company has announced that recent sampling and geological mapping on the No. 2 level has indicated the presence of ore not previously included in ore reserve estimates.

Production from the new mill at Kootenay Base Metals is scheduled for the latter part of January. The mine camp has been completed and winterized. All necessary mine machinery has been installed. The mill building has been erected and concentrating equipment is being installed.

The talks by the noted radio personality covered various activities, industries and the geographic layout of the Kootenays.

Mrs. Harris is well known to residents of New Denver, having lived there at one time. Her brother-in-law A. L. Harris resides in New Denver.

Kimberley Quiet On Candidates

KIMBERLEY, B.C. — Kimberley notoriously slow in announcing candidates for municipal election, appears once again to be living up to that representation.

With offices of mayor, three aldermen and two school trustees to be filled, no candidates have yet announced for office.

Mayor C. Swan's term expires this year, also Aldermen J. Shaw's and M. Beduz. The third vacant office resulted when Alderman H. Nicholson left to reside in Trail. The two returning school trustees are M. A. Thomas and B. H. Bentley.

At present it is not definitely known if any of these will seek re-election.

District Economic Status Discussed

A general discussion of economic conditions in the district took place at a banquet and meeting of male members of Bank of Commerce Kootenay branch staffs in Armson's Roundup Room.

Thirty-two men from branches in Creston, Fernie, Nakusp, Trail, Salmo and Nelson attended the event. Meetings are held monthly in Nelson headquarters for Bank of Commerce branches in Kootenay.

Citizens Protest In Crow's Nest

BLAIRMORE, Alta., Nov. 28 (CP) —A ruling of the Crow's Nest Pass Hospital Board requiring patients to pay a deposit on admittance has stirred up a lively controversy in this Southwestern Alberta town.

Some citizens protest that the deposit requirement is equivalent to "placing medical service on a C.O.D. basis."

The Board said public cooperation to this extent is necessary if the hospital is to be efficiently operated.

Under the ruling, taxpayers are required to deposit $15 when entering the hospital. Non-taxpayers are assessed a $25 entry fee.

Secretary-Treasurer V. J. Horejsi said the Board will also take legal action against former patients who fail to make some effort to pay off outstanding accounts.

City Buses Sought For Practice Runs

Feasibility of renting a City bus to drivers seeking Class A licences is being studied by Council's Transportation Committee. The City's position in event of accident will first be investigated.

Superintendent A. C. (Les) Hall asked Council's advice on the matter. Ald. R. J. Reisterer, remarking that he had received three enquiries recently from persons wishing to rent buses for this purpose, suggested a retal fee of $5.

Mr. Hall's request for authority to purchase fire extinguishers for the buses was granted.

Increased Traffic Ahead —Castlegar Bridge an Urgent Need

If there weren't already sufficient arguments for the provision of a bridge over the Columbia River at Castlegar, the prospects of development in that West Kootenay area in the next several months should provide a clincher. With the establishment of a vast pulp and paper-making industry in the area the next thing to a certainty, it takes no great vision to foresee vast residential and business growth in the Columbia-Kootenay hub with the corresponding increases in traffic a natural offshoot.

The Castlegar ferry already carries more traffic than any other ferry in the Province. It provides for a considerable amount of the traffic that goes to the West Kootenay-Boundary's primary airport. The route through Robson and Castlegar is the present all-year highway outlet to the West for the growing Arrow Lakes and Slocan districts. That there is a district-wide interest and need to be fulfilled in the bridge proposal is seen from the wide area offering support to the Castlegar campaign.

Industrialists envision—and district residents see ahead in keeping with that vision—the day when because of power and other resources there will be vast developments throughout the valleys of the Kootenay. Such growth cannot be stifled by the lack of travel facilities and services.

Atomic Heating

In the United Kingdom central heating means a furnace in the basement. In Canada it's a term commonly applied to a mass heating system through which whole city blocks are provided with steam or hot water heat from a central plant. And curiously enough, the most advanced of all these plants has just gone into service in Harwell, England. Atomic fission is its source of heat.

Water used to cool Harwell's atomic pile is being piped into buildings on the site. So far, the Windsor Daily Star says, the test appears to be successful in more ways than one. The system is efficient and, as a byproduct of atomic research, it's economical. Score another first for John Bull.

Obviously it's too early to look for rapid increase in atomic heating facilities, either in power plants or in commercial operated central plants. But the pattern has been set, and from here in it will be a matter of research and adaptation, two fields in which North American engineers have considerable competence.

The development in Britain, modest though it is, marks the beginning of a change that will come soon or late, but certainly it will come.

As the Italians say, Good company in a journey makes the way to seem the shorter.

Return-to-the-Home Compaign for Youth Advocated by Mother

To the Editor:

Sir—I see our probation officer advocates more activities for Nelson teen-agers. I don't know if any parents differ with this or not, but as a mother I would like to.

What is the use of homes if every organization is working to take the children out of these homes? There are entirely too many outside activities now—all good ones, but if any teen-ager takes in one-third of them he will never get home for one quiet minute.

Everyone should be taught self-reliance so he will be able to amuse himself and not need a crowd. There are hundreds of good books to read, and so many things to make with their hands, but teen-agers cannot settle down to work alone.

It's not their fault, but a trend of the times. I would like to see less outside influences and more of a return to the home. When a child gets into trouble we read, "He lacked leadership in the home." What rot! The home has nothing to do with the child once he gets to school. It is only a place to eat and hunt up skates or a clean shirt.

I've heard mothers say, "My children are not going to miss anything." Well, they are missing many useful lessons in quiet living and home-making. Also much sleep.

What kind of homes will this generation make? They have been taught to do nothing in the homes because outside interests take all their time.

How can a girl bake a cake when a friend waits for her to go to a show? How can a boy make an airplane while his buddies phone for him to go skating?

Nelson may lack many things, but it certainly does not lack activities for its young people. All these outside interests wean the child from the home and keep him poor as well. There is no free entertainment; everything must be paid for.

I insist on my family having one evening a week at home, but even so they miss some good entertainment.

We are told not to lecture the children while the eat. What other time is there? They eat and run.

I would like to see a return-to-the-home campaign, not more things to do.

Alderman Replies To Questioner

To the Editor:

Sir—Regarding J. D. Ternan's letter in your issue of Nov. 27 in which he refers to me in regards to my stand on bus transportation, I thought I had made it quite plain that I favored immediate action to procure three buses, afterwards favored four buses, and that I would have been quite happy to go to the Coast and take part in the purchase and the bringing back of these buses. The part I took in solving the bus transportation problem along with other Council members, had previously been in the press.

Further he quotes referring to my letter, "I could mention numerous other matters which have taken place since I have been on the Council." Why did he omit to finish what I said further on, which was, "but space will not permit."

I would not expect the Nelson Daily News to again cover matters at this time which they have already covered during the year.

If J. D. Ternan is so civic minded, why does he not have his name on the voters' list?

ALDERMAN A. SUTHERLAND.

"Rep" by "Pop"

Some correspondents and columnists write as if there were something new and surprising in the Conservatives winning the British election with fewer total votes than the Labor candidates polled.

There's no reason for surprise. Ridings can't be reduced to the same population. Other factors besides the total number of people living within the boundaries of a constituency have to be considered.

In this Province Vancouver and Victoria hold roughly half the people. Try to give them half the seats in the Legislature and see what a row would ensue from the country districts!

The elder Winch sits alone for Burnaby, which contains more people than six ridings in the interior of British Columbia represented by six members.

This sort of thing is bound to happen in a frontier country such as B. C. still is.

A good many years ago Premier Pattullo got into heavy political weather with Vancouver City over a local problem. Duff's friends said at the time he was considering a policy that would play up the country against the cities, feeling he could win an election while losing every urban seat in the Vancouver and Victoria areas. It might have been possible, though probably bad business to divide the Province on such lines.

But the fact is that many Governments have been returned to power when polling much less than half the popular vote.—Vancouver Sun.

NEW MILITARY WONDERS may come and go, but the foot soldier is still basically the key figure in any army, as this photo clearly illustrates. These U.N. infantrymen, using just their muscles, push mightily to free a jeep and trailer which bogged down in the heavy mud in Korea. The infantrymen had just recaptured a strategic hill from 600 attacking Chinese on the Western front.—Central Press Canadian.

Legal Proceedings Make Salmon Arm School Case More Involved

VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 28—(CP)—Instead of restoring 510 unwilling truants to their classes, legal proceedings against Salmon Arm District School Board get more involved as the days pass.

The Trustees won today's round in Court of Appeal here by having their $500 deposit approved as security of their appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada from an order that they reopen the schools to municipal students.

Any allegations that the appeal is not bona fide, but is merely to stall off enforcement of the order, should be made in Ottawa, the appeal judges ruled.

The Supreme Court of Canada does not convene again until February, M. M. McFarlane stated yesterday when he tried to introduce affidavit evidence that the appeal is "an abuse of the process of the Court".

He is counsel for Ross Alexander McLeod, President of Salmon Arm Farmers' Institute and father of three children barred from school since Oct. 1.

No application has been made for a stay of proceedings under the Court of Appeal's order to take back municipal students.

Victor L. Dryer, counsel for the trustees, claims it is not necessary. Mr. McFarlane says it is.

When asked what the next move will be, Mr. McFarlane said they must await the Board's reply to the order and then decide whether application will be made to commit the trustees to jail for contempt of court.

"My one desire is to get the children back to school, not to put people in jail," he added.

Alom Tests Said To Be Successful

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (AP)—Chairman Gordon Dean of the Atomic Energy Commission said today the atomic-weapons test conducted recently in Nevada proved "very useful" in development of United States military might.

Dean's guarded statement to reporters was his first public comment on the latest series of tests. Six explosions have been conducted in the series which started Oct. 22, ranging from what was apparently a baby A-bomb to mountain-shaking weapons.

Air-Raid Warnings Termed Inadequate

VICTORIA, B.C., Nov. 28 (CP) — Victoria's three air raid warning sirens are totally inadequate to handle an emergency, Civil Defence Coordinator Leonard Hatcher said today.

Mr. Hatcher said his preliminary spot-check Monday showed that some people living almost on top of the sirens failed to hear the test Sunday.

Oak Bay was the weakest link in the chain. "This area couldn't possibly be covered by three sirens," said Mr. Hatcher.

Mr. Hatcher believed that future tests will be more effective when an additional seven sirens now on order have been installed. Plans call for the sirens to be installed in a circle ringing the four-mile area.

The New York anti-crime committee has reported that Anastasia recently was advised by unknown underworld buddies that he should get out fast or be killed for a gangland double-cross in which he allegedly engaged with mobster Willie Moretti. Express Train Avoids Wreckage

ALBANY, N.Y., Nov. 28 (AP) — The last seven cars of a 10-car New York Central Express early today lurched from the rails at 75 miles an hour but remained upright.

Only one person—a crew member—was hurt. He suffered minor bruises.

The Easterner, bound from Cleveland to New York, was halted by automatic emergency brakes near Stuyvesant, 19 miles South of here at 1:30 a.m.

The Express apparently hit a defective rail.

The 86 passengers aboard—36 of them in the train's two sleepers—remained calm.

The wreck blocked the Central's main line between Albany and Poughkeepsie. The line is double-tracked at the scene.

Canadian Courage Impresses Primate

WINNIPEG, Nov. 28 (CP) — Soldiers in Korea are under a great strain in having to withstand the many raids from superior numbers of the enemy, Most Rev. W. F. Barfoot, Archbishop of Edmonton and Anglican Primate of Canada, said in an interview.

"They are able to do so," he said, "only by reason of overwhelming fire power, backed by high courage and devotion."

The much-travelled church leader said he is "tired but happy" following a round of tours extending back to Oct. 22. His travels included a visit to the Korean battlefront, where the Primate saw the Canadian men in action. An artillery officer in the First World War, Archbishop Barfoot confirmed his previous reports that Canadian soldiers showed both kindness and compassion in their dealings with the Korean people, especially the children.

Maddened Steer Chased Through Downtown Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Nov. 28 (CP) — Twenty policemen in 10 prowler cars chased a maddened steer through downtown Vancouver streets Tuesday for half an hour before five shots finally brought it down.

The steer, which escaped from the Canadian Pacific Railway yards, scattered pedestrians. No one was injured.

Children with cap guns joined in the chase.

$59 Pension for Injured Veteran

VANCOUVER, Nov. 28 (CP) — Harry Albert Read, 36-year-old R.C.A.F. veteran who walked around for nearly eight years with a broken back, is receiving a $59-a-month pension, his wife said Tuesday.

Mrs. Read, 26, mother of three children aged one, four and five, said her husband's pension was 35 per cent instead of the 100 per cent promised by Ottawa D.V.A. officials in June.

It was in June that John Blackmore, Social Credit Member of Parliament for Lethbridge, brought Read's case to the attention of Veterans Minister Lapointe in the Commons. He said Read had suffered "constant physical pain, serious deformity, mental torture and gross indignities."

WRONG DIAGNOSIS

W.O. Read, native of Medicine Hat, Alta., was injured when he parachuted into Sweden in 1943 after a raid on Berlin.

The former pilot said that for nearly eight years D.V.A. psychiatrists at Calgary, Regina and Toronto had told him it was his mind and not his back that was twisted.

Read finally got an X-ray at Shaughnessy Military Hospital here. It showed that he had a broken back.

Read said he was unable to work more than a few weeks at a time because of the back injury.

He is due for pension re-examination here Dec. 5.

Churchill Mum On Truman Talk

LONDON, Nov. 28 (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill declined to say today how much U. S. dollar aid he will seek for Britain when he confers with President Truman in Washington in January.

Informed sources have guessed that Britain will seek around $300,000,000 to shore up her sagging economy and limping rearmament program.

Labor member Marcus Lipton asked Churchill in the House of Commons to tell what requests for financial aid he will make of Truman. Churchill replied:

"I do not think it would be fitting for me to make a public statement now about a question on which I hope to have confidential discussions with President Truman."

Says Beer Strike Puts Up Milk

VANCOUVER, Nov. 22 (CP) — The Vancouver Labor Council Tuesday was told the five-week-old beer strike is forcing up the price of milk.

Bob Calder, representative of the striking Brewery Distillery Workers (CCL), told of a Lulu Island farmer who phoned him and said:

"Since the strike I haven't been abel to buy used hops from the breweries to feed my cows, and I have to buy feed which is more expensive."

Meanwhile, there was no indication that the strike of 431 employees of four breweries in Vancouver, New Westminster and Victoria was anywhere near a settlement. The men are striking for an increase of 35 cents an hour.

HOPE TO DISTRIBUTE EDUCATION GRANT SOON

OTTAWA, Nov. 28 (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent said today in the Commons he hopes it soon will be possible to distribute at least a part of the $7,100,000 voted at the last session as federal aid to education.

Replying to R. R. Knight (CCF-Saskatoon), Mr. St. Laurent said the Federal Government still is discussing the matter with the provincial premiers. He hoped the point was being reached where 40 to 50 per cent of the total grant could be distributed pending final settlement.

Kimberley Bazaar Best In History of Church

KIMBERLEY, B.C.—The most successful bazaar in the history of the Kimberley United Church was held in the church hall, with Mrs. J. Colthorp, W.A. President, as convener.

A particularly interesting entry was a display of paintings by Mrs. C. Dakin of Bull River.

Pourers were Mrs. E. Elliott, Mrs. Wilson, Sr., Mrs. Bentley and Mrs. G. D. Garden, and members of the church's five W.A.s and two sewing circles served.

Blarchmont Park W.A. handled a home cooking stall, and Blarchmont W.A. was responsible for a needlework stall. Chapman Camp W.A. sold knitting and novelties, and kitchen duties were in the care of Townsite W.A. Mrs. W. E. Miller and Mrs. E. Nesbitt made and sold candy.

Mrs. McNab New W.A. President

GREENWOOD, B.C. — Greenwood United Church Ladies' Aid, at its meeting in the kindergarten room, chose Mrs. Norman McNabb as its president for 1952.

She succeeds Mrs. W. E. McArthur Jr. Other members of the new executive are Mrs. Edward Hendry, first vice-president; Mrs. Joe Fukui, second vice-president; Mrs. John Klemen, secretary, and Mrs. C. G. McPhail, treasurer.

Final plans were made for the Aid's Christmas sale. Many articles of fancy work, aprons and stuffed toys were turned in and displayed to members. A decorating bee in preparation for the sale was also planned.

A Christmas tree for children will be a special attraction of the sale, which is the Aid's annual event.

Bingo, Dance Held

Bingo and dancing were included in a social held by Nelson aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, for members and Ladies' Auxiliary members in Eagle hall.

J. Haynes, J. Plozo and Bruce Liness made arrangements, and Albert Smith called the bingo. Members of the auxiliary assisted in the kitchen. A special guest was R. M. Jones, treasurer of Trail aerie.

Lutheran L.A. An Active Group

Plans for their annual Fall tea and sale were made by members of St. John's Lutheran Church Ladies' Aid at their last meeting.

Proceeds of the sale and other functions sponsored by the Aid go to church work. Among its recent projects has been purchase of a carpet for the church.

The group is busy from one end of the year to the next. Mrs. Lewis is president, Mrs. J. Bringsli, vice-president and Mrs. A. Boyce is secretary.

Nelson Interest In Rites

KASLO, B.C.—A wedding of interest in Nelson and Kaslo was solemnized in St. Andrew's United Church here when Rev. W. B. McIntosh united in marriage Eileen Reta, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Laybourne of Kaslo and John Cameron McAdams, son of Mrs. J. Bagnall of Nelson.

The altar was decorated with chrysanthemums and fern for the nuptial rites.

FRENCH LACE

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a floor-length gown of French lace over white satin with a chapel veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of red roses.

Her sister, Miss Freda Laybourne, as bridesmaid, wore a gown of yellow net over taffeta with a matching bolero, and carried a Colonial bouquet of pink carnations.

Mr. Allen McAdams supported his brother, and Mr. Arthur Laybourne and Mr. Charles Lipinski of Nelson were the ushers.

Mrs. T. H. Horner sang during the signing of the register, accompanied by Mrs. A. L. McPhee, organist.

Mr. McIntosh proposed the toast to the bride at a reception at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. A. K. McAdams, the groom's brother, was toast master.

The bride's going-away costume was navy blue with grey accessories.

LIVE IN NELSON

After a honeymoon in the Western States, the couple will take up residence in Nelson.

Out of town guests were Mr. Mac Laybourne and Mr. F. Carlson of Swift Current, Sask., and Miss L. Page, Mrs. H. E. Ward, Mr. and Mrs. H. Peacock, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Abfalter, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. McAdams and Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Lipinski of Nelson.

INVERMERE GETS DANCE LESSONS

INVERMERE, B.C.—Mr. and Mrs. James Lindsey of Kimberley and 30 club members motored to Invermere where Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey gave instruction in square dancing and sequence dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey also performed in a number of exhibition dances. A Mexican dance done in costume by eight club members was an attractive item. This had been presented the previous evening at the International Folk Dance Festival at Cranbrook.

Among the Kimberley dancers present was a square dancing team which was also a prize winner at the festival and which went through the intricacies of a square dance with gaiety and brace.

Mr. Lindsey invited Invermere dancers to attend a dancing evening in Kimberley.

WHIST DRIVE HELD

WYNNDEL, B.C. — Catholic women held a whist drive at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Liens. High score holders were Mrs. G. Kirtzinger and L. Benedetti.

Danish Grandparents At Invermere Nuptials

INVERMERE, B.C.—All Saints' Church at Edgewater was candle-lit for the wedding of Wanda Maria, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Paprocke of Radium Hot Springs, and Eugen Seel, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Heintz Seel of Edgewater.

Rev. Eric Bibby of Kimberley officiated. Best man was Mr. Herbert Seel, the groom's brother, and ushers were Mr. Kurt Seel and Mr. Eddie Paprocke.

CHANTILLY LACE

Given in marriage by her father, the brunette bride was gowned in white Chantilly lace over satin in traditional style with a lace veil en train which was caught by white roses. She wore pearls, gift from the groom, and her bridal bouquet was composed of red roses and white carnations.

Attending the bride were Mrs. Russell Fetter of Creston, sister of the groom, as matron of honor, Miss Sophie Paprocke, sister of the bride, and Miss Edith Seel, sister of the groom, as bridesmaids. The groom's little sister, Ursula, was flower girl and his little brother, Charlie, was page.

The matron of honor's gown of nylon sheer over taffeta was in fuchsia shade, and she carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums. The two bridesmaids were in mauve nylon with lily-of-the-valley headdresses and the flower girl was in nile green. The bridesmaids carried mauve chrysanthemums.

A reception was held at the home of the groom's parents, where Mrs. Seel in pale blue lace with grey accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations, and Mrs. Paprocke in a purple ensemble with a mauve hat and accessories and a corsage of yellow carnations, received the guests with the bridal couple. Toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Kurt Seel.

RECENTLY ARRIVED

Among the guests were the bride's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs Evals, newly-arrived from Denmark.

A wedding dance was held in the Edgewater hall.

The young couple will reside at Edgewater.

Prior to her marriage the bride was honored at a tea and shower at the home of Mrs. Rudy Hecher, attended by mothers of the bride's Invermere music pupils. Gifts were presented in a decorated wagon by Darlene Merrilees and Clifford Lake dressed as a bride and groom. Previously she was guest of honor at a shower at Edgewater where her Edgewater pupils gave her an electric clock.

"The Memoirs of an Educational Pioneer," biography of Alice Ravenhill, one of the prime organizers and promoters of Women's Institutes in B.C., has been published.

Miss Revenhill, who will be 93 in March, traces in her memoirs the various stages in her career as one of B.C.'s pioneers in social service and Indian rights.

She describes her journeys to Salmon Arm, Vernon, Armstrong, Penticton, Kaslo, Cranbrook and other communities in the early days.

Greenwood W.I. Elects Officers

ARRIVAL of Iranian Premier Mossadegh in Egypt, following his six-week's stay in the U.S., was an occasion for wild demonstrations on the part of Egypt's anti-British elements. As Mossadegh stepped off the trans-Atlantic airliner, he was greeted by a mob howling their hatred of things British. So Mossadegh fainted, just a few seconds after this photo was taken.—Central Press Canadian.

Alexander Stresses English Speaking Union for World

NEW YORK, Nov. 28 (CP) — Viscount Alexander, Canada's governor-General, said tonight the English speaking countries of the world must work together for world peace and understanding.

Viscount Alexander said he placed a broad interpretation on the meaning of "English speaking."

"When we talk of an English speaking union, I think it important to stress, at the outset, that it is no part of its purpose to promote the interests of the English language over those of other languages in widespread and officials use in the various parts of the British Commonwealth and elsewhere," he said.

"When I think of an English speaking union, I am not so influenced by the meaning of English speaking as a tongue but rather in the sense of its wider interpretation —'speaking the same thoughts and same ideals'—although in doing so we may use different words."

N.Y. OYSTER INDUSTRY CRIPPLED BY STRIKE

GREENPORT, N.Y. Nov. 28 (AP) — A strike today halted the major part of Long Island's $10,000,000-year oyster industry. All five Greenport plants closed down when several hundred openers and shuckers walked out, demanding higher pay.

Commons Defeats Non-Confidence Vote

OTTAWA, Nov. 28 (CP) — The Commons today voted 145 to 55 against a Social Credit non-confidence motion criticizing the government for not increasing the war veterans allowance.

The Social Credit group won support from the Progressive Conservatives and the C.C.F. The government opposed it.

Introduced by Victor Quelch (S.C. —Acadia) during the throne-speech debate, the motion said the government has "failed to compensate the recipients of war veterans allowance for the increase in the cost of living by an appropriate increase."

Ottawa Held Liable For Saanich Floods

VICTORIA, B.C., Nov. 28 (CP)— The Federal Government was blamed today for the sea-flooding of rich Saanich Peninsula farmland bordering Island View Beach during Tuesday's storm.

The charge came from Reeve Sydney Pickles of Central Saanich Municipality, after the gale-lashed seas had pounded a 200-foot hole in the seawall to flood 250 acres of the municipality's finest potato growing land and force the hasty evacuation of two families.

It was the only major property damage suffered in the Victoria and district area from the 50 m.p.h. gale a survey showed today.

Reeve Pickles said Central Saanich Council have been pressing the Federal Government for the last few months to make good the damage done to this particular area of the seawall during the Second World War, when it was used as an RCAF target area.

He explained that certain parts of the beach were bulldozed to establish the targets "and the weakening of the wall has been getting steadily worse each year."

"It appears that we will have to take action to mend the seawall and then have the Government foot the bill," the Reeve continued.

The waters which had saturated the farmlands have been largely returned to the sea by automatic flood gates. "But with the tides rising each day for the next few weeks there is a danger of re-flooding unless action is taken," Reeve Pickles said.

He said the salt water would damage next year's crops severely and impair crops for several years to come until the salt has been washed out of the soil.

One owner of the flooded area is considering an application to have his taxes refunded because the damage the flood waters have done to his land.

Receding waters have enabled two evacuated families to return to their homes near the broken seawall. They are Mrs. P. M. Little, her granddaughter, Jeanne, 7, and Mrs. R. L. Ratcliffe and her daughter, Lillian, two.

Meanwhile, the Victoria city engineer's department is maintaining a close watch on the Ross Bay seawall to check damage done by the heavy sea pounding.

Waves damaged some small boats at the Oak Bay boathouse and in Esquimlt Harbor.

Westminster Shaken by Home Guard Clash, Suspend Bevanite Five Days

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadain Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Nov. 28 (CP)—Women may serve alongside men in Britain's reconstituted home guard, the House of Commons decided today after a 21-hour, all-night session marked by angry clashes.

Members of the six-week-old Parliament left for home at 11 a.m. after a gruelling session that saw one Left-Wing Labor member suspended for five days.

Labor members attacked the Home Guard Bill—rebuilding the part-time volunteer home-defence army—on the grounds that the force is being built up at the wrong time and will detract from the already-oppressive defence program.

The 20-hour and 50-minute session—longest since last June 11 when the House sat for 31 hours, 47 minutes on the Finance Bill—adopted an amendment allowing women to serve. But it adjourned without a vote on the bill itself.

Opposition members forced 12 votes on the Bill's three clauses, attacking detail after detail and reducing progress to a snail's pace.

Most dramatic incident of the night was the suspension of Labor Member Sidney Silverman for disobeying the authority of the Deputy Speaker. Silverman challenged the chair's acceptance of a government motion to close the debate.

A motion to suspend him was passed by 194 votes to 147. He was then ordered formally to get out.

It means he will not be able to sit in Parliament for five days.

The sitting was frequently in an uproar.

Angriest man in the chamber was Emanuel Shinwell, former Defence Minister, who spent the night feuding with one Conservative opponent after another.

Once he accused Sir Reginald Manningham-Buller, the solicitor-general, of being "too cowardly to repeat an offensive remark."

Shinwell, moving an amendment (later carried) that all-male units must be created first, suggested that women might occasionally accompany their husbands in Home Guard units.

A Conservative member asked: "Is that an advantage?"

Amid laughter, Shinwell replied: "I am not sure whether he means an advantage to the wives or to the husbands. But it may well remove apprehensions from the minds of some wives."

The Home Guard, first recruited in the grim days of 1940 when Britain fought for survival, holds a special place in British hearts. In its early days, the unpaid force was more noted for its enthusiasm than its prowess under arms—which occasionally included weapons as rudimentary as pikes and pitchforks.

The formation of the Guard was announced May 14, 1940. It was disbanded Dec. 31, 1945.

Conditions Appal Mr. Justice Wood

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Nov. 28 (CP) — Mr. Justice H. S. Wood urged investigation of what he termed "appalling conditions of drinking" at Point Roberts, Wash., just across the Canadian border.

He said conditions have resulted in a large increase in car accidents and traffic fatalities on the Canadian side of the border.

Mr. Justice Wood was hearing a charge of manslaughter against Ernest Edward Scambler in the highway death July 31 of John C. Campbell.

Policeman Scott Fenton told the court that excessive drinking at Point Roberts has caused 99 per cent of recent accidents in neighboring Delta municipality.

Fenton said Canadian immigration men at the border apparently had no authority to make arrests for drunkenness but had to call Delta police. He said the four man Delta police force was not large enough to handle the situation.

Treaty Used as Battering Ram

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Nov. 28 (CP)—For the first time since the Oct. 25 general election, the group of Labor left-wingers led by Aneurin (Nye) Bevan has openly defied official party policy.

After several weeks of standing pat, Bevan and his followers made their first decisive move against the policy of the party leaders by voting to reject the Japanese peace treaty bill. Aligned with the Bevan group were a small number of Labor back-benchers who complain that the treaty makes no provision against the possibility of cut-throat Japanese competition.

Second reading of the bill was given in the House of Commons Monday when the Socialist motion to reject the treaty was defeated by 382 to 33. The 33 negative votes are believed to have come entirely from Labor members.

Bevan did not speak against the bill in the House, but he is reported to have criticized it violently at a private meeting of Labor members. Accounts of the meeting suggest that the one-time Health and Labor Minister, who resigned from the Labor Government last April because he considered Britain's arms budget too high delivered the hard-hitting sort of speech that has come to be expected from him.

Peter Throneycroft, President of the Board of Trade in the new Conservative Government, accepted the danger of Japanese competition as "great and grave," but said such a threat can not be met by a paragraph in a peace treaty.

Hosp. Employees Ask Wage Boost

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 28 (CP)—A recommendation for a 16½ per cent wage increase for male employees of Nanaimo Corporation Hospital has been made by a Conciliation Board.

The Board also recommended a bost of 12½ per cent for female employees. Both wage boosts would be for the 1952 calendar year.

Wage recommendations were unanimous. The Board also unanimously rejected a union request for an additional statutory holiday.

A union request on the union shop was recommended in part, in that employees would become union members after 30 days service but would not receive any bargaining agreement benefits until their probationary period of three months had expired.

"Stalin" Slippers Not Standing Up

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 28 (Reuters)—"Stalin" slippers produced by a Latvian shoe factory, the Latvian Communist party organ Cina complains, come apart after a week's wear. Workers of this factory, Cina said, "show neither love for work nor any spirit of Socialist competition."

New Yorkers Run To Raid Shelters

NEW YORK, Nov. 28 (AP)—Screaming sirens sent millions of New Yorkers scurrying for shelter today in the city's first practice air-raid alarm since the end of the Second World War.

Signals for the 10-minute drill sounded at 10:33 a.m. EST.

Most business came to a halt. All but key workers in vital industries were under orders to take cover.

The "red" warning for the city-wide drill was signalled over the fire-alarm system. This signal was followed by the screaming of fire-house roof-top sirens.

Rockefeller Centre, in the heart of Manhattan, was cleared within seconds after the alarm sounded.

Traffic stopped and passengers of buses, taxi cabs and private automobiles left the vehicles in a dash for subways, buildings and air raid shelters.

The Illustrated London News, founded in 1842, is believed to have been the first illustrated newspaper.

Claxton to Check Mail Deliveries

By DOUGLAS HOWE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

HANNOVER, Germany, Nov. 28 (CP) — Some Canadians in Germany with the 27th Brigade are wondering what's become of their mail.

Many others are happy because they're getting mail four or five days after it is posted.

The situation was drawn to Defence Minister Claxton's attention during his visit here last week. Checks are being made.

Postal officials here advise Canadians to use the small blue air-letter forms which cost 10 cents at the post office.

If envelopes are used, its essential to put on the right postage: 15 cents for one-quarter ounce. And the envelopes must be clearly marked "airmail."

The right address for 27th Birgade troops is:

Rank, number, unit, 27th Brigade, Canadian Army Post Office 5050, care postmaster, Montreal.

One or two letters intended for Korea have already landed here, possibly because the Canadian Army post office number is similar: 5000. In other cases, mail intended for Germany has gone to the postmaster at Vancouver for Korea.

So far eight bundles of mail have arrived by sea in an average of 15 to 17 days from date of mailing.

LONDON (CP)—Officials at the London airport acted as nursemaids when 17 babies waited with their parents to board a plane for Canada. The travellers were all emigrants.

Athabascan Earns Admiral's Praise

OTTAWA, Nov. 28 (CP)—The Canadian Destroyer Athabaskan, serving off the West coast of Korea, has earned a "well done" from Vice-Admiral Martin, U.S.N., Commander of United Nations Naval Forces in the Far East.

Naval Headquarters said today the praise resulted from an inshore blockade and bombardment assignment the Athabaskan carried out earlier this month.

Under Cmdr. D. G. King of Victoria, B.C., the Athabaskan acted as a decoy and fired on remote targets; delivered arms to a friendly island; stood by a Communist-threatened island for six days, and took aboard 47 wounded South Koreans for removal to Inchon for medical attention.

The ship's medical officer, Surgeon Lieutenant C. A. West of Toronto, and his medical assistant, Petty Officer M. B. Lavole of Victoria, had to prepare facilities for the injured Koreans during the 18-hour trip South. Seamen evacuated most of their messdecks to make room.

The assignment over, the Athabaskan is again back at its regular job of screening United Nations aircraft carriers.

GERRY REYNOLDS

CALGARY—Interest in Canadian football hit a new high last week when the largest crowd in history, more than 27,000, saw the Ottawa Rough Riders down the Saskatchewan Roughriders 21-14 to win the Grey Cup. Hundreds of thousands more listened to the big East-West classic via the radio on the largest network ever to carry a Canadian sporting event. Here, at last, Canada has a big-time sports spectacle that has caught the interest and imagination of fans on something akin to a national scale.

CALGARY STAMPEDERS and their colorful, uninhibited fans, can take a lot of credit for adding the showmanship that made the event big-time in 1948, but although they won the West again in 1949 the Stamps lost the cup to Montreal Alouettes and have fallen into eclipse the past two seasons.

According to the fans I talked to here, the dismal showing this season can be attributed to injuries to key players and for the coaching of Les Lear. The Winnipeg wonder-boy who won it all in 1948 in his first year of coaching, has finished dead last in the West the past two seasons.

BOB MAMINI, Calgary Herald sports editor, figures Lear mystified the opposition with razzle dazzle stuff new to the Canadian game in that first year, but that these tactics have since been solved. Mamini thinks Lear's use of the "T" formation is too American, too readily tethered under the Canadian code and needs adapting to our reduced blocking.

★ ★ ★

With a completely new executive, named in a move to rebuild the Stamps into cup contention, Lear faced the axe. With one year to run on a three-year contract, he made it easier for them by offering to waive contract rights if the executive felt a new coach was needed. The players, however, were solidly behind Lear and his coaching ideas. A demonstration of faith, virtually an ultimatum from several import stars, that they wouldn't care to return if Les was displaced, altered the mural handwriting and assured that Lear will be back.

ALL THIS FOOTBALL CHATTER may seem out of place in the Kootenay where a good many sports fans have never seen the Canadian game. But I feel it justifiable because of a growing interest, not only among the growing band of migrant Prairie fans but more and more among fans who've never had the thrill of watching the game.

Apart from the Maritimes, the Interior, excluding some parts of the Okanagan, is the only section of Canada where the game has not caught on.

★ ★ ★

A small, but enthusiastic group of Vancouverites have launched a campaign to raise the $200,000 deemed necessary to put a Vancouver team back in the Western Conference.

THE THREE-TEAM Vancouver Junior League may blossom into a five team loop next season with Royal Roads Naval College set to enter and talk of a Penticton team in the air.

Although tried briefly several years ago in Nelson without success the kind of interest evidenced this year suggests the time is ripe for another try. Dmitiri Goloubef, the former Edmonton Eskimo lineman, is in Trail while in Eddie Wares, Nelson has a football player of note during his Calgary days. With these men and possibly others around to help organize and provide instruction on fundamentals there seems to be no too difficult reason why the sport couldn't be promoted by the high schools with some outside financial support. Any suggestions?

BLUELINE BANTER — Dropped over to the Stampede Corral Tuesday to see the first-place New Westminster Royals beat the last-place Stampeders in a Pacific Coast League hockey game. Was reminded of several Nelson home games. The Stamps, like the Leafs, more than held their own from blueline to blueline, but were lacking around the net.

Bob Gilhooly was making his second appearance with the Stamps since leaving Nelson and played well, although used sparingly. If Bob was a little faster, he'd be a standout in P.C.H.L. company, just as he was in Nelson. Guyle Fielder won't be long out of the N.H.L. if he maintains his present form. The Lethbridge Native Son grad is really smooth. Ex-Smokie Archie Scott still shows plenty of speed in this league. Don Anderson, another Trail alumnus, didn't play because of an injury but will get back in action when the Stamps hit the road this week, as will Dick Butler. Don't forget the Old Timers game in Nelson Saturday.

$300,000 Worth of Ball Players In 3-Way Swap

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO, Nov. 28 (AP) — General Manager Frank Lane, the White Sox' Sultan of Swap, has helped to engineer a nine-player trade that promises to enhance the Comiskey's 1952 American League pennant chances.

The Sox sent Rogers Hornsby's rebuilding St. Louis Browns first baseman Gordon Goldsberry, outfielder Jim Rivera, pitcher Dick Littlefield, catcher Gus Niarhos and infielder Joe de Maestri.

The Browns dispatched to the Sox catcher Sherman Lollar, pitcher Al Widmar and shortstop Tom Upton.

The Sox then sent Upton to the Washington Senators in exchange for utility infielder Sam Dente. There was no cash involved.

Everybody was happy in the three-cornered trade which some observers estimated involved $300,000 worth of players.

Lane was especially jubilant in landing the 27-year-old Lollar, who, with rookie Rivera, 30, were the keymen in the trade traffic.

"Frequent injuries to our catchers during 1951 forced us to overwork Phil Masi and to utilize rookie receivers," said Lane. "Our combined catching staff drove in 45 runs in 154 games. Lollar alone drove in 44 in just 97.

Lollar batted .252 last season.

Vancouver May Get Dobbs To Promote Football

VANCOUVER, Nov. 28 (CP) — Quarterback Glen Dobbs or Coach Harry Smith of Saskatchewan Roughriders football team may be invited to come to Vancouver to help promote a team here.

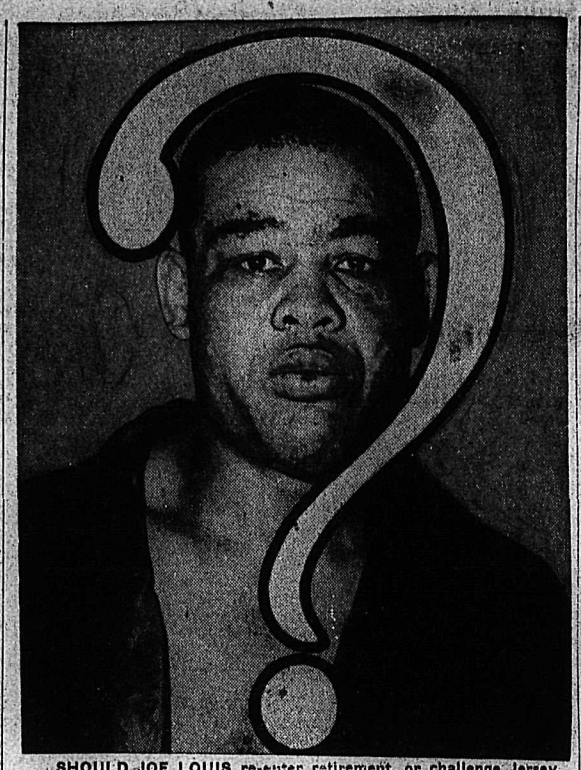
At a meeting of the booster club last night, members decided to ask one of the two men to address a monster rally to be held here to get support for a Vancouver Western Conference team.

The booster club, with some 130 members, was formed to lend moral support to the proposed team.

Meeker Tells The World

OTTAWA, Nov. 28 (CP)—Howie Meeker, right winger with Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League and Progressive Conservative member of the Commons for the Ontario constituency of Waterloo South, today made sure that the country hears about the birth of his second daughter.

A telegram announcing the arrival in New Hamburg, Ont., was sent to the parliamentary press gallery along with a large box of cigars for distribution to reporters.



SHOULD JOE LOUIS re-enter retirement, or challenge Jersey Joe Walcott for the heavyweight title next February in Miami, as he intimates despite his knockout on the comeback trail by Rocky Marciano? "Yes, continue fighting, Joe," says his punch-drunk pocketbook, reeling from blows by the tax collector. "No, stop before you're hurt for good and all," warns the medicos. Although kayoed only twice in his entire career, Joe Louis has absorbed enough head blows to be on the ragged edge of permanent injury if he takes any more punishment, say two of the fight game's best authorities on its hazards. Joe's recent announcement in which he refused to retire, although he has been banned by the State of Illinois as unfit to fight, is because of high income tax deficiency which was the cause of him abandoning his retirement in the first place. He had hoped that in one big fight he might square things! That "big fight" has turned into an illusive will-o'-the-wisp, which now may never be "caught" by the greatest fighter of our time.—Central Press Canadian.

Ironman of '94, One of Kootenay's First to Face Off Oldtime Pucksters

(Contributed)

Trail and Nelson old timers will take no second rate material for their hockey classic here December 1. The organizers have delved into the very bowels of Kootenay hockeydom and have emerged with one of the players who participated in the first game ever held in this region.

The player is Billy Duncan ("Sheet-Iron Bill" he was knowed as then) who with his brother played for Nelson against Kaslo at Kaslo in 1894. This, it will be recalled, was during the age when you played "shinny on your own side" or took the consequences.

Bill got his moniker from his toughness and it would take very little persuasion for him to don the blades today. His eyes glow yet when he talks about early day hockey and he will be on hand Saturday night to drop the puck for the initial faceoff.

At present Bill is making his home in Castlegar with Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Horswill.

Kramer Seeks Post

NEW YORK, Nov. 28 (AP)—Jack Kramer, who pitched for both the American League pennant winning New York Yankees and National League Giants in 1951, returned today from a trip to Europe, looking for a job.

Kramer, voted a $3223 slice of the Yankee World Series melon, said he would start his job hunting soon.

"There's nothing the matter with my arm," he said, "that a little good luck won't cure."

WOULD ALTERNATE GREY CUP CLASSIC

OTTAWA, Nov. 28 (CP)—George Hees (P.C. — Toronto Broadview), former Toronto Argonauts football player, said today Canada's football classic, the Grey Cup final, should alternate each year between East and West.

Speaking in the throne-speech debate, he said the "big game" ought to be played in the city of the Western winner one year and the city of the Eastern winner the next.

Deer Season Extended 9 Days

Doe Legal Targets Dec. 1-9 in "Orchard Area" About Creston; Single Animal Limit Unchanged

Deer will have to keep ducking till December 9. All the unlucky hunters, planning to stash away their guns for another season, can dig them out again. There are two more weekends to roam the hills in search of game.

An amendment to the Game Regulations 1951-52, provides that the season on deer be extended in the Kaslo-Slocan, Nelson-Creston and Trail-Rossland electoral districts.

The season is open on does over one year of age, in that portion of the Nelson-Creston Electoral District situated to the South of Lockhart Creek and East of Kootenay Lake and River, December 1 to the 9th.

Game Branch authorities emphasized that the season bag limit is unchanged at one deer per hunter.

Bratton Draws Champion

By CHARLES DUNKLEY

CHICAGO, Nov. 28 (AP) — Johnny Bratton of Chicago, showing a complete reversal of form, tonight fought Cuba's Kid Gavilan, world's welterweight champion, to a blistering 10-round draw in the Chicago stadium.

Bratton, who held the 147-pound title for 6 days before losing it to Gavilan in New York's Madison Square Garden last May 18, was a 3-to-1 underdog in the wagering on the non-title fight.

Referee William Doty voted 48-52 in favor of Bratton, with Judge John Bray balloting 52-48 in favor of the titleholder. The other judge, Frank McAdams, scored his tally 50-50.

BRATTON STANDS UP

Bratton whose fragile jaw was fractured three times in previous encounters, undoubtedly fought the most impressive batle of his major competition. He exchanged blows with the one-time Cuban sugar cane picket without retreating and outboxed him in furious rallies.

The draw ended Gavilan's consecutive winning streak at 13 bouts.

Gavilan's title was not at stake since the match was an overweight affair with both scaling 149 pounds, two pounds over the welterweight limit.

The stirring bout, televised from coast to coast, was witnessed by a paid attendance of 7397 with gross receipts at $27,138. The net was $20,875.

Coast Needs 8 Clubs to Crash Big Time

NEW YORK, Nov. 28 (AP), — The path was cleared today for the birth of another major baseball league. At the same time, the door was closed to any individual city wishing to crash the big leagues.

A new method of application for major-league status was recommended by the major-league executive council. The recommendation came as the council acted on a proposal made by the special committee named to study the Pacific Coast League's request for a change in classification.

It specifices that applications can be made only by a group of eight clubs mutually agreeing to all requirements.

This proposal must receive a majority vote among the big-league owners at their convention next week for ratification.

Skimpy on Talent, Army, Navy Classes Generous on Show

NEW YORK, Nov. 28 (AP)—Hard by a bleak wasteland assailing the nostils with the acrid fumes from smouldering dumps, American football will stage its most gaudy show next Saturday at Philadelphia.

In vast municipal stadium, Army and Navy meet for the Service Championship before upwards of 102,000 witnesses, lured as much by the pageantry of the occasion as by the prospect of seeing two teams collide on the synthetically green sod.

For many onlookers the sight of the midshipmen and the cadets striding briskly onto the field to the accompaniment of rousing band music is more of an attraction than the contest itself.

It matters not that both teams bring with them records spoken of in subdued tones. Records mean nothing in such a game. Last year a navy team which, on its record, should have paid to get in, defeated a really fine army eleven.

The situation is more or less reversed this year, with Army the team which, it would seem, should meet Navy only socially. Navy, to be sure, has a record no more impressive, but it is studded with experience whereas Army practically is made up of boys who have picked up their meagre experience painfully from Saturday to Saturday this Fall.

Jockey Loses Truck In Miniature Rodeo

VANCOUVER, Nov. 28 (CP) —A Vancouver jockey who works on a tea company's truck during the off season lost $18 yesterday proving he wasn't a cowboy.

Jockey Willie Slocum left his truck and attempted to rope a runaway steer on a Vancouver Street with his truck's tire chains. He succeeded in getting the chains around the steer's neck, but the steer broke away and chased the cowboy.

When he returned from his miniature rodeo he found his truck had been moved a block and that the tea was missing.

Rangers Dump Hawks To Gain Third Spot

NEW YORK, Nov. 28 (CP) — New York Rangers burst out with their biggest scoring spree of the season tonight as they defeated Chicago Black Hawks 6-3 at Madison Square Garden to move into a three-way tie for third place in the National Hockey League.

The defeat dumped the Black Hawks into last place, a single point behind the Rangers, Boston Bruins and Montreal Canadiens.

Tonight's high-scoring game was watched by 8135 fans.

Both goal tenders were brilliant, Chuck Rayner making some great saves in the New York net, and Harry Lumley performing brilliantly for Chicago.

Lumley, who was playing with a injured left knee, had 36 saves compared with 22 for Rayner.

One of the goals — New York's fifth — was scored at 18:17 of the finale while Lumley was sitting on the players bench. He had been lifted in a vain attempt by Chicago to get the tying goal.

Red Sinclair shoved the puck into the empty net on a pass from Edgar Laprade as the Chicago strategy backfired.

New York took a 2-1 lead in the first period on goals by Herb Dickenson and Hi Buller after Bep Guidolin had given the Hawks a 1-0 margin.

Chicago outscored the Rangers in the middle frame, Bill Mosienko and Bill Gadsby beating Chuck Rayner cleanly, while Nick Mickoski got one for New York to leave the game tied 3-3 as the third period started.

A spectacular goal by Laprade, outstanding man on the ice for the Rangers, was the third-period tiebreaker. Laprade, after taking a pass from Steve Kraftcheck, let go a hard shot which Lumley stopped. Then the Ranger centre fell to the ice and he slid toward the backboards his stick, apparently without his knowledge, flicked the puck into the opposite side of the empty net.

Finally, Sinclair and Allan Stanley iced it with goals just before the end.

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

About a month ago the shares of the company dropped within a few trading hours from $3.90 to a low of $1.25. Stop loss orders were said to have been a major factor in the precipitous slide. Since then, quotations for the shares have improved to above $2.

Diesel Power Conversion To Be Near Completion

CALGARY, Nov. 28 (CP) — Conversion to diesel power of the Canadian Pacific Railway's mountain line from Calgary to Revelstoke B.C., will be half completed this Winter, company officials said today.

E. S. McCracken, General Manager of the line's Prairie region, inspected the new $1,000,000 diesel plant at nearby Alyth and some of the diesel engines already in mountain service.

Market Trends

NEW YORK, Nov. 28 (AP) — Prices turned to a fairly even mixture of gains and losses during late trading.

Most of the price changes were measured in fractions and activity was very slow, the volume running to around 1,100,000 shares.

Canadian issues were mixed. Canadian Pacific was up ⅛ and Dome Mines dropped ⅛. International Nickel and Hiram Walker were both ahead ¼ while Distillers Seagram fell ⅛ and McIntyre was not quoted.

TORONTO (CP) — Profit-taking toward the session's close erased about half of the early gain.

In base metals International Nickel, Noranda, Hudson Bay, Quemont, United Keno Hill and Waite Amulet retained fractional advances. East Rim, Eureka, Quebec Labrador, Sherritt-Gordon and Reeves climbed pennies.

MONTREAL (CP) — Prices, following two days of brisk advance, were steady to slightly firmer near the close. Trading was moderate.

A major portion of the list traded from the opening at yesterday's levels. Advances were generally fractional.

LONDON (Reuters) — Buyers were showing interest in first grade stocks at the start of the new trading period.

Prices of selected issues in engineerings, tobaccos and collieries moved higher while British Government funds added ⅛ to Tuesday's higher levels.

Calgary Livestock

CALGARY, Nov. 28 (CP)—Trading continued active on the Calgary Livestock Market today, though some classes tended lower. Offerings were 975 cattle and calves, with strictly choice butchers again absent.

Good butcher steers and heifers were steady. Good cows were under pressure and canners and cutters weak to 50 cents lower. Bulls were steady. Stocker and feeder steers were in good demand at steady prices. Veal calves were steady.

New Records Set by Bank

TORONTO, Nov. 28 — All-time records in assets and deposits were set, and loans and profits showed a marked increase over the previous year, shareholders of Imperial Bank of Canada were told at the 77th annual meeting on Wednesday.

Reviewing current conditions, the President, I. K. Johnston, pointed out that during the year the Canadian economy had been operating at near capacity. Employment had been at record levels, and gross national production would be well over 20 billion dollars in 1951, a rise in real output of 5 to 6 per cent as compared with 4 per cent in 1950.

"The Canadian economy", said Mr. Johnston, "is buoyant and should remain so if it can be managed in such a way as to control the inflationary pressures inherent in our present circumstances. Our difficulties arise from the searching pressures of the international situation. Perhaps the best one can hope for is a prolonged period in which we and the other associated nations must continue the policy of containment of Russia. We have, I feel, made progress in this and if we manage our affairs successfully, despite these continuing pressures, we need not fear for our safety nor our economic well-being."

The General Manager, L. S. Mackersy, reported assets at a new all-time level of $535,606,041, deposits of $484,742,046 also at a new high, and profits of $2,862,000 up $211,692, with profit and loss account at $2,075,745. Investments totalled $196,768,301, and loans $234,074,343—an increase of $28,631,000.

Provinces Agree To Use Sliding Rule In Vendors Deal

TORONTO, Nov. 28 (CP) — The Securities Commissions of eight provinces today agreed upon the principles they will follow in regard to "the maximum allowance to vendors in the case of ordinary type of mining venture."

The "vendor" ordinarily is the owner of property of some other asset sold to a newly-formed company; and for which he receives shares in the company, known as "vendor shares."

The object of regulations is to see that he does not get a disproportionate interest in the company, and sale of his shares is subject to regulation.

Today's meeting agreed in principle "that dealing with vendors' interests in ordinary mining companies, including oil companies the province will follow the Ontario rule of a sliding scale, or, in the alternative, a maximum of 25 per cent vendors' allowance in any case."

Agreement was also reached in principle that an increased allowance of vendors' shares is justified if the vendors have expended funds on development to increase the value of a property, according to a qualified engineers' report.

King and Queen Plan Cruise Next Spring

LONDON, Nov. 28 (Reuters)—Buckingham Palace announced tonight that it is hoped the King will make a health cruise lasting some weeks in the battleship Vanguard early next Spring. The Queen will accompany him.

LONDON, Nov. 28 (Reuters)—The King who is recovering from a lung operation, hopes to make a cruise of some weeks in the battleship Vangaurd early next Spring. He will be accompanied by the Queen.

A statement issued from Buckingham Palace tonight said:

"It is hoped that the King will be able to take a sea voyage lasting some weeks in the early Spring.

The King and Queen will make this cruise in the H.M.S. Vanguard."

No information was available as to where the King will be cruising in the 42,500-ton Vanguard, Britain's biggest battleship.

The King underwent an operation for lung resection on Sept. 23. He has made an excellent recovery, but so far has not left the palace since the operation.

It is thought that his health will benefit considerably from a sea cruise in a warm climate.

Bank Officials Foresee Increasing Prosperity

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

TORONTO, Nov. 28 (CP)—Prosperity should continue in Canada if inflation can be kept within bounds, I. K. Johnston, President of the Imperial Bank of Canada, said, in effect, at today's annual meeting.

"The Canadian economy is buoyant," Mr. Johnston stated, "and should remain so if it can be managed as to control the inflationary pressures inherent in our present circumstances."

L. S. Mackersy, General Manager, forecast a prosperous year for the farmer, with a prediction that cash payments from the sale of farm products will reach a record, despite the difficult harvest season in the West.

"Perhaps an estimate of $3,000,000,000 may be reached, compared with the previous record of $2,500,000,000 in 1949" (and some $2,250,000,000 in 1950). Mr. Mackersy added:

"To a growing extent, we must rely on a diversion of production capacity from civilian to defence purposes. . . .

"In the longer period, however, defence requirements may quite possibly be more largely met out of growing output of goods and services."

Mr. Johnston said the financial aspects of the defence program may be more troublesome than those of production.

Part of the rising cost of living stems from the rising prices of imports, he stated, but much stems from domestic sources.

However, anti-inflation measures "appear to be having their effect".

"Beginning in the second quarter of the year, consumer spending has declined. Some of this may be attributable to increased personal taxes, but it is to be hoped it also indicated a desirable increase in personal savings.

"Housing expenditure is showing a noticeable decline. Inventories are currently at high levels and perhaps not much further increase will take place."

Work Prescribed For Long Living

TORONTO (CP)—Seventy-seven year old William Etches has been in the clock-repairing business since he was 12, and believes it is his interest in his work that is keeping him alive today.

"I love my work," he said. They tell me I should retire but I'd be dead in six months if I didn't have my watches and clocks to tinker with."

One watch that he set back on its feet, a 100-year-old Swiss cylinder type, hadn't run for 20 years before its owner visited Mr. Etches. Now it is keeping good time.

Mr. Etches, a fourth-generation watchmaker, spent 12 years apprenticeship before he set up his own business. However, he doesn't worry that neither of his sons nor his grandson followed i nthe trade.

"Watchmaking doesn't pay too well. One has to love the work to make a success of it."

Diamond-studded watches may please the ladies, but Mr. Etches doesn't think much of them. Dirt sifts through the diamond settings and damages the movement of the watch. Not practical, says Mr. Etches.

GREELEY'S ADVICE GETS NEW TWIST

DALLAS, Texas (CP)—A Montreal hotelman has given a new twist to Horace Greeley's famous slogan, "Go West, young man."

"Go North, young man" was the advice given Texans by Richard H. Nash, General Manager of Montreal's Mount Royal Hotel, on a visit here recently.

Mr. Nash, former hotel executive here, said there is more opportunity in Canada today than anywhere else in the world. The Dominion's natural resources are virtually uncratched and the situation is drawing millions from investing United States business men.

Going to Canada from Dallas in 1947, Mr. Nash managed the King Edward Hotel in Toronto before going to Montreal.

WINNIPEG, (CP)—Belief that Indian boys of nine, 10 or 11 years often have keener observation and make better hunters than grown white men was expressed by Clarence Tillenius at a meeting of the Winnipeg Game and Fish Association, of which he is a director.

Magistrate Reads Murder Charge To Hospital Patient

VANCOUVER, Nov. 28 (CP)—A 27-year-old logger quietly had his lunch while Magistrate G. A. Grant read a charge of murder to him.

The logger was Albert Fairweather, charged with the September knife-slaying of a co-worker, Raymond Boyce, at Camp Five, Bloedel Stewart and Welch.

Fairweather was being fed intravenously with suction tubes through his nose to his stomach when an R.C.M.P. constable led the Magistrate and Lawyer Al McEachran to Fairweather's screened-off hospital bed at Vancouver General hospital.

Magistrate Grant adjourned the case till Dec. 4 at Duncan at the request of McEachran who was representing Defence Counsel Wilfred Heffernan.

Fairweather was the object of a pro-longed search before he was discovered in an Edmonton hospital.

WINNIPEG (CP) — Mr. Justice Ralph Maybank of the Court of King's Bench believes Canada can get a better picture of their country when they get away from it for a while. In an address here he said he had found this to be true while serving as a delegate to the United Nations.
