Truman Blasts Russia's Action

Charges Soviet Talking of Democracy While Setting Dictatorship; Warns Against Abandoning U.S. Aid

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

ST. LOUIS, June 11 (AP)—President Truman blasted at Soviet Russia Saturday for talking peace while "preparing for war." It was his most devastating attack on Communist aggression since the outbreak of the cold war.

Speaking from an improvised stand to thousands standing in a blazing sun, he said this blunt indictment:

"With a cynical disregard for the hopes of mankind, the leaders of the Soviet Union have talked of democracy—but have set up dictatorships.

"They have proclaimed National Independence—but imposed National Slavery.

"They have preached peace—but devoted their energies to fomenting aggression and preparing for war."

And he condemned the Soviet Union for maintaining history's largest peacetime army."

President Truman pinpointed his charges by 13 specific references to Russia or its rulers.

He was cheered as he began his address and when he finished. But his grim words were heard for the most part in attentive silence.

IN 24 LANGUAGES

The major foreign policy pronouncement was televised and broadcast over all the major radio networks at home. The State Department's "Voice of America" moved it all over the world in 24 languages.

The President's speech concluded a reunion with Army comrades of the First World War—members of a field artillery battery.

He warned Americans against what he called the dangerous belief that the United States can abandon its aid to other free countries in these critical times.

The "upside-down view" of "isolationists" endangered both world peace and National security.

"Isolationism is the road to war. "Worse than that, isolationism is the road to defeat in war."

We reserved for the Russians, though, the stern language of a prosecuting attorney. And he condemned them for the demonstration of Communist youth in East Berlin late last month.

The Soviet leaders were "turning the school children of Eastern Germany into the same kind of pitiful robots that marched into hopeless battle for Hitler."

"In looking at the current world situation, it is plain that the present policies and activities of the Soviet Government are not contributing to peace," he declared. And added:

1. "The Soviet Government is refusing to participate in the work of the United Nations."

2. "Representatives of the Free Nations are being forced out of the Satellite countries."

3. ". . . at home, the Soviet regime is maintaining the largest peacetime armed force in history, far greater than it needs for the defense of its own boundaries.

4. "The leaders of the Soviet Union, instead of using their resources to improve the well-being of their people, are devoting a massive share of those resources to the acquisition of further military strength."

The President spoke confidently of the ability of free countries to take care of themselves.

"These ominous activities of the Soviet Union, however, are being offset by the growing strength of the free world. The Free Nations are making steady progress in creating more satisfactory conditions of life for their people, and stronger defences against aggression."

U.S. Business Thriving

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—Rising United States retail prices will go still higher, assembly lines this month may set a peacetime record, business is thriving, and Washington's economists wonder: Can this last?

The experts agree there is vast, proven strength underlying today's economy, and room for greater growth. Another six months of prosperity is taken for granted.

There are 2,778,000 more jobs than three months ago, and 1,627,000 fewer jobless men. Profits are higher than last year's. Stocks are flirting with a four-year record. Even the Federal deficit is diminishing.

TROUBLE POTENTIALS

The chance of inflation is discounted too. But tensions have developed in at least four fields which officials eye with apprehension. The trouble potentials are:

Prices: The cost of living, creeping up since February apparently will climb anew. Food prices meaning mainly meat, lead the parade.

Credit: Consumer credit, mostly the easy-payment kind, is moving towards an all-time peak. At $18,600,000,000 it now is almost one-fifth higher than a year ago.

Steel and automobiles; both are thriving. This will be the first 7,000,000-car year, auto men believe.

Building: A housing boom unparalleled since the '20s is driving up prices of lumber, gypsum and other materials. The price of the end-product—new houses—may start climbing again.

42 Freedomites Given 3-Year Terms; To Try 94 at Spring Assizes Here

Number of Sons of Freedom to be sentenced to three-year penitentiary terms for nude parading rose to more than 300 Saturday afternoon, when 42 were sentenced by Stipendiary Magistrate William Irvine in Provincial Police Court.

Thirty-one were from Perry Siding and 11 from Thrums. All pleaded not guilty but all admitted removing their clothes. Sgt. W. H. Davidson conducted the prosecution.

More than 400 have now been arrested on various charges, 94 awaiting trial at the Spring Assizes opening in Nelson Monday on arson, conspiracy and bombing charges.

Those from Perry's Siding were William N. Chernoff, Fred L. Fominoff, Savely J. Fominoff, Nick A. Osachoff, Nick W. Fominoff, Walter F. Malakoff, Pete P. Chernoff, George W. Stoochnoff, Walter W. Chernoff, Fred F. Rilkoff, Fred F. Susoeff, George W. Chigmaroff, Mike L. Fominoff, Paul J. Chernoff, John J. Chernoff, John J. Fominoff, Jr., Elsie S. Chernoff, Helen P. Sysoev, Mary N. Chernoff, Fanny F. Fominoff, Nellie W. Kalmakoff, Mary N. Osachoff, Annie S. Osachoff, Polly A. Yerigin, Mary G. Chigmaroff, Elizabeth L. Fominoff, Florence M. Jmaiff, Verna B. Bojey, Emma W. Kalmakoff, Annie J. Popoff and Nellie P. Bawoolin.

From Thrums — Elsie N. Repin, Polly N. Posnikoff, Mary N. Posnikoff, Mary J. Ozeroff, Annie S. Tarasoff, Annie S. Sookeroff, Ell F. Esovoloff, Nick P. Repin Sr., John G. Hoodikoff, Pete P. Koftinoff and Andrew J. Tarasoff.

Alexander Wanted Italian Drive in Final War Stages

LONDON, June 11 (CP).—Field Marshal Viscount Alexander, who commanded Allied armies in Italy, speculates in a lengthy dispatch published tonight on what might have happened during tthe final phases of the Second World War if the Allies had hit middle Europe powerfully from the South.

In a report on the campaign, submitted to the War Office in April, 1947, Canada's Governor-General, reveals he urged making a swift power drive through Italy, and even considered landing strong forces in Yugoslavia. The report was issued tonight in the London Gazette.

The project could not be carried out because of decisions on a higher level to land Allied troops in Southern France in the operation known as "Anvil." This was carried out in the late Summer of 1944. Allied forces in the Mediterranean had to be diverted to France, and the effort there took ships, aircraft and supplies which Viscount Alexander hoped he might have used in Italy.

"It is interesting to speculate what would have happened if I had been allowed to carry out this plan (for a Northward thrust from Italy) and had appeared with two strong armies on the southern frontier of Germany and the Danube basin in the Autumn of 1944," he writes.

"The effects would probably have been considerable, not only militarily but politically. My plan was, however, fated to be stillborn.

"The demands of Anvil had grown: The troops to be withdrawn (from Italy) included not only the whole French corps and three United States divisions, but also a considerable number of American corps and army troops. I was informed that our air strength would also be reduced, probably by 70 per cent . . . my forces would be much reduced, and unbalanced in infantry, but I came to the conclusion that an advance into Northeastern Italy would still be possible, though at a reduced tempo, and must be attempted."

In another part of his report, the Governor-General of Canada, who was Gen. Sir Harold Alexander at the time of these events, writes:

"Whatever value the invasion of Southern France may have had as a contribution to operations in Northwestern Europe its effect on the Italian campaign was disastrous. The Allied armies in full pursuit of a beaten enemy were called off from the chase, Kesselring (Field Marshal Kesselring, German commander) was given a breathing space to reorganize his scattered forces and I was left with insufficient strength to break through the barriers of the Apennines.

"I express no opinion on the correctness of the decision, but I was, to say the least, disappointed that our victory was not to be exploited as it deserved."

The 1st Canadian Corps fought in Italy as part of the British Eighth Army during the campaigns which Viscount Alexander discusses.

Whereas the decision to invade Southern France was a disappointment to Viscount Alexander he ultimately reconciled himself to the change in strategy. He carried on in Italy with inferior forces.

Cruiser Heavily Damaged in Collision On Saguenay River

TADOUSSAC, Que., June 12 (Monday) (CP).—The Canada Steamship Lines river cruiser St. Lawrence was in repair docks at Lauzon, Que., early today, its side considerably damaged in a collision Saturday with an ocean-going freighter that left some of its 350 passengers a bit shaken up.

About 25 persons were reported to have suffered minor injuries in the collision with the Italian freighter Maria Paolina G. The incident occurred at the mouth of the Saguenay River, two miles from here.

Only one person—crew member Claude Ferland, 22, of Joliette, Que.—suffered severe injury. He was taken to hospital.

The others were only slightly injured or shaken up, a company official said.

Another C.S.L. ship, the Tadoussac took the passengers from Tadoussac to Quebec. Reports said it quickly disembarked a few Quebecers among the passengers before proceeding to Montreal.

The St. Lawrence made its way under steam from here and arrived last night at the Davie Shipbuilding and Repairing Company's docks at Lauzon, Que., across the St. Lawrence river from Quebec.

Officials would not permit newspapermen to see the damage done to the ship and said a statement will be made by the Company later today.

The collision occurred about two miles from here as the St. Lawrence prepared to make its regular stop here and the cargo vessel was pulling out of the Saguenay River.

The noise caused by the impact of the collision was heard in the village and brought hundreds of villagers to the shore.

Passengers were able to have supper on board the St. Lawrence last night and slept aboard the ship.

A Cook Book Free!

PASADENA, Calif., June 11 (AP)—Marvin Hersh, a door-to-door magazine salesman, called on Mrs. Madeline Sauder yesterday.

"Good morning, madame. Did you get your free cook book yet?"

Mrs. Sauder said she hadn't, so Hersh handed her one.

"There's usually a catch to this sort of thing," he lady said.

"Oh, no," Hersh assured her. "It's absolutely free."

Whereupon Mrs. Sauder closed the door and left Hersh with an unfinished sales talk on his hands.

Hersh rapped vigorously at both front and back doors. Mrs. Sauder refused to answer. She called the police instead.

Hersh told Sgt. Gerald Wilson, "The cook book is free only when you take out a subscription to a magazine."

The sergeant was unimpressed. He ruled on the spot that Mrs. Sauder was entitled to keep the cook book. There was no indication whether Hersh planned to appeal to a higher authority.

Recover Gold Stolen From Delnite Mine

TIMMINS, Ont., June 11 (CP)—The $75,000 in gold stolen from nearby Delnite mine June 2 was recovered several days ago, Inspector I. R. Robbie of the Ontario Provincial Police announced today.

He said that a safe containing three gold bars, $16,000 in stocks and $500 in Canada savings bonds had been found in the bush five miles Southeast of Timmins.

Swanson Retrial Opens Spring Assizes; To Try 95 Freedomites

A murder trial, seven civil cases, five divorce petitions, and trial of about 95 Sons of Freedom are booked for the Spring Assizes opening in Nelson today.

The new trial of William Francis Swanson, Creston reserve Indian, charged with murdering his wife Oct. 23, 1948, is scheduled to be heard first.

New trial for Swanson was ordered by the Appeal Court Jan. 26 after he had been convicted by a Fall Assizes jury here and sentenced to be hanged Feb. 28. The trial was asked on the grounds that Mr. Justice A. M. Manson made errors in his charge to the jury that could have been prejudicial to Swanson.

C. B. Garland, K.C., of Nelson will be prosecutor, while R. P. Anderson of Vancouver will appear for the defendant.

Trials of Michael Verigin and Joe Podovinikoff, who are charged with seditious conspiracy, are also scheduled. The large group of Sons of Freedom will appear on arson and conspiracy charges.

His Lordship Mr. Justice James M. Coady of Vancouver, who sat at the Spring Assizes at Cranbrook last week, will preside at the Assizes here.

Claims Attempt to Change Polish, German Border Would Provoke War

BERLIN, June 11 (AP)—Taegliche Rundschau, official organ of the Society Control Commission, said today that "any attempt to annul Poland's annexation of German territory would provoke a new war."

The paper coupled this warning with the claim that the Communist East German government "is the only legitimate representative of the German people."

A communique issued here and in Warsaw last Wednesday said the East German and the Polish governments have agreed on the "permanent marking" of their new frontier on the Oder-Neisse River line.

Spokesmen for the American and British governments have said their countries do not recognize the Soviet zone's authority to negotiate the border agreement. The position of the Western Powers all along has been that the final border line should be left to a German peace treaty.

Taegliche Rundschau asserted that the East German government, in agreeing at Warsaw last week to the loss of 38,986 square miles to Poland, recognizes the Oder-Neisse border as "the final and enduring frontier of peace."

The paper said the United States would like to delay the acceptance of this frontier, "which it agreed to at Yalta," and forestall a German peace treaty.

"It (the United States) intended at a given time to make the unclarified frontier the occasion for a third world war, as Hitler used the Polish corridor," the paper said.

Marshall Plan Countries Output At New High

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—The Marshall Plan countries have pushed their industrial output to a level 24 per cent higher than prewar and, by present crop forecasts, will enjoy their "best-fed" postwar year.

The Economic Cooperation Administration said in a report today that gains in steel, coal and electric power have helped boost production to "unprecedented heights."

The rate of industrial output is eight per cent more than a year ago, four per cent more than the last quarter of 1949; and 24 per cent more than the last pre-war year, 1938.

Could Have Left Casino a Rich Man

LAS VEGAS, Nev., June 11 (AP)—The young man who stepped up to a casino crap table Friday night could—in theory—have been $268,435,456 richer today. He made an amazing 28 consecutive passes with the dice—and left a hero.

But because he was cautious, he walked away with only $750 in winnings—chicken feed considering that the house lost some $150,000 to free-betting side wagerers.

The crap artist—who refused to tell his name—could have become a multi-millionare on paper merely by betting $1 on his first roll and rebetting the stack each time. Presuming, that is, he was psychic enough to quit after 28. He lost on the 29th.

Actually, Mr. Anonymous started with $2. After each win he stuffed a few bills in his pocket, never risking more than $50.

May Stabilize French Franc

PARIS, June 11 (AP)—France has made such economic progress during the last 18 months that high officials are talking of the early stabilization of the once-erratic franc.

The newspaper France Soir Saturday reported that the attempt may be made this Fall.

"Yes, that is true," said Emmanual Monick, honorary president of the Bank of France. On the general question of stabilization, he added:

"This is very important to France. It will strengthen the franc in all foreign markets."

The newspaper predicted that free convertibility of the franc with other currencies and removal of all controls might be part of the program.

However, an American official of the Economic Cooperation Administration, when asked about this, commented:

"We recognize the tremendous progress France is making toward final stabilization of the franc, but full convertibility into dollars in 1950 is out of the question."

Soft Shoulder Causes Bus Delay

Passengers on the Nelson-bound Greyhound bus from Trail arrived here about two hours late Saturday afternoon following a minor accident at Genelle, North of Trail.

The bus had pulled up to allow another bus to pass when a soft shoulder at the side of the highway gave in, leaving the front wheel suspended.

The passengers were taken out through an emergency door and transferred to another bus which brought them on to Nelson.

Trail Man Dies in Car Smashup at Brilliant

Lindsay E. Green Dead, Three Sent To Hospital as New Car Hits Bluff

One Trail man was killed and three others injured in a car accident at Brilliant dam, about 19 miles West of Nelson on the Nelson-Castlegar highway, early Sunday morning.

Dead is Lindsay E. Green, 34, while in Trail-Taddnac Hospital are John Miros, Mr. Spratt and Mr. Guillim.

Provincial police at Castlegar said that the new car ran off the highway and into a rock bluff just at the Brilliant dam. Mr. Green was immediately taken to Castlegar, where he died some time later. He did not regain consciousness.

Mr. Miros, driver of the vehicle, was hospitalized for shock, while Mr. Spratt suffered facial injuries and Mr. Guillim a knee injury.

The car was proceeding toward Castlegar at the time of the accident and was said to have been a total loss.

An inquest into the death of Mr. Green will open at Trail Monday.

EXPECT I.W.A. DISPUTE TALKS

Labor Minister Tries To Arrange Talks Before Strike Date

VANCOUVER, June 11 (CP) — Representatives of 32,000 Coastal loggers went ahead tonight with preparations for a June 15 strike in British Columbia's first-place industry but last-minute negotiations appeared likely.

Labor Minister John Cates said Saturday he met with the Provincial Labor Relations Board with a view to arranging meetings between the International Woodworkers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) and Forest Industrial Relations Ltd., representing 163 Coastal operators.

The I.W.A. and operators' representatives, not yet contacted officially on the plan to renew negotiations, would make no comment.

The loggers and millworkers, who voted in favor of striking in a Government-supervised ballot, are asking a 17-cents-an-hour wage hike, a union shop and other contract concessions. Basic rate in the industry now is $1.08 an hour.

Million Damage In Fort Frances Flood Estimated

By JOHN DAUPHINEE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

FORT FRANCES, Ont., June 11 (CP)—This Northwestern Ontario town and its twin city of International Falls, Minn., are dry peninsulas at one end of a 34-year record flood.

The rainy Lake watershed of 14,500 square miles is wetter than it has been since 1916. The 1916 peak almost certainly will be exceeded before the 200-mile-long lake system drops.

Damage from high water, mostly to commercial fishermen, the Canadian National Railways and private camps in the wilderness resort area has been established as high as $1,000,000.

But only a tiny fraction of the damage is in the town boundaries of Fort Frances and International Falls.

There is no risk whatever of appreciable flooding either place.

Road connection with Duluth and other points in the United States is unaffected by the flood. Rail service is operating normally, except for "slow" orders across some sections of soggy roadbed East and West.

All roads on the Canadian side of the Border are high and dry except for a little-used short stretch between Fort Frances and a Federal Dock. Boat owners are using a Provincial Dock closer to town instead.

Boat and plane service to camps is normal.

"A lot of harmful rumors have been circulating in the United States," said Bert Forsberg, President of the Fort Frances Chamber of Commerce. "Merchants have been worried about loss of tourist business.

"Lateness of the ice breakup on the lakes had something to do with it. But we have definitely suffered from a lot of ridiculous reports."

Today Rainy Lake at Fort Frances was less than two inches below the 1916 peak, highest on record. R. F. Smallian, Federal Engineer, said it likely will rise another six inches during the next couple of weeks.

Husband Sues For Divorce

CAMBRIDGE, Eng., June 11 (AP)—Red-haired Mrs. Richarda Morrow-Tait was accused Saturday by her husband of misconduct with a Cambridge University scholar who helped her fly around the world in a year and a day.

Suing for divorce, husband Norman R. Morrow-Tait named Michael Townsend, 26, as co-respondent.

Mrs. Morrow-Tait, also 26 and a former artist's model, set off on her round-the-world trip in a single-engined Proctor plane in August, 1948. She had hoped to make the journey in six weeks. Townsend went along as navigator.

After a series of accidents they got as far as Alaska, where the plane was wrecked in a forced landing in November, 1948. Townsend gave up and went back to Cambridge to resume his studies.

Mrs. Morrow-Tait worked at various jobs in Canada and the United States, and finally bought another plane. At this point Townsend rejoined her for the hop across the Atlantic.

She landed at Croydon Airport, completing her 366-day flight, in August, 1949.

Forrestal Tried To Stall Amerasa Case

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—Personal papers of the late James V. Forrestal show that he stepped in before the Amerasia case broke in 1945 to get word to President Truman that it might imperil relations with Russia.

But the President refused to postpone the case. Six arrests came only nine days after Forrestal intervened.

The Justice Department Saturday confirmed contents of the papers left by Forrestal, Navy Secretary at the time of the case, a few hours after the Washington Star published the story.

Forrestal, wanted to make sure President Truman knew all about the case for fear it would "greatly embarrass" relations with Russia in the critical negotiations for establishment of the United Nations.

In a May 28 entry among "Diary Notes," the Star says Forrestal anticipated that the arrests, then scheduled for May 30, would bring an "anti-Russia play-up" of the incident "out of all proportions to its importance."

So Forrestal wrote that he had asked a presidential aide to see that Truman was informed, and called Director J. Edgar Hoover of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in efforts to get before Truman the facts "as well as their implication."

Nevertheless, the President ordered the case to proceed.

The six persons, including three Government employees, were arrested in June, 1945, on espionage charges growing out of raids on offices of an obscure magazine, Amerasia, where hundreds of secret Government papers were found. Four of the six later were freed and two paid fines on lesser charges of removing Government documents illegally.

One of those arrested was Philip Jaffe, one-time editor of the magazine; who pleaded guilty and was fined $2500. Jaffe, a native of Russia, is under subpoena to appear tomorrow before a closed-door session of the Senate Foreign Relations Sub-Committee which is looking into the controversial Amerasia episode.

The Committee tomorrow also may get its first look at the Forrestal papers dealing with one aspect of the case. Officials of the Senate Inquiry Committee said the Justice Department is planning to hand over pertinent parts of the Forrestal papers to the Committee.

Forrestal's diary is locked up in the White House where it has remained since he died last year in a plunge from an upper window of Naval Hospital here. He then was Secretary of Defence.

The Star said its information came from diary notes among Mr. Forrestal's papers in New York.

The Sub-Committee inquiry concerns the question whether the Justice Department was diligent in handling the case in view of the outcome. Officials testified that the prosecution collapsed because evidence was illegally obtained. Some critics dispute this point.

The Sub-Committee is investigating the Amerasia case as an outgrowth of charges by Senator Joseph McCarthy (Rep.-Wis.) that the State Department is under Communist influences. McCarthy has asserted that the Amerasia episode is the key to a Red network in the Government.

The investigators only last week were working on the mystery on which the Star's story shed new light.

The diary notes showed, the Star said, "that Mr. Forrestal acted in the case after being informed . . . May 28, 1945 . . . that arrests were scheduled to be made two days later, including a lieutenant in Naval Intelligence."

This reference was to Andrew Roth, who was assigned as a liaison man with the State Department.

Roth was one of the three indicted in the case, but the charge against him was dropped.

The two who paid fines were Jaffe and Emmanuel Sigurd Larsen, then a State Department employee.

Another State Department employee, John S. Service, was never indicted. McCarthy has attacked him as pro-Communist. Service and the State Department have denied it. Service is still with the Department as a diplomatic officer.

MILWAUKEE, June 11 (CP)—The Milwaukee Sentinel tonight quoted F.B.I. Chief J. Edgar Hoover as saying the late James V. Forrestal did not ask for delay in the arrests of six persons in the Amerasia Magazine case.

Smuts "Improves"

PRETORIA, South Africa, June 11 (Reuters)—An official bulletin today reported a "slight improvement" in the condition of Field Marshal Smuts, former South African Prime Minister, but said his condition must still be considered serious.

A bulletin Saturday said the 80-year-old Smuts had suffered a pulmonary embolism. He caught pneumonia earlier this month.

Sunday Temperature Reaches 85.7

Residents in the Nelson district enjoyed a Summerlike day Sunday when the mercury rose to its highest point this year. The red shot up to 85.7 degrees.

Saturday's temperature was 79. Saturday night the low was 45.

The two-day spell of warm weather also swelled the flow of district creeks.

And in This Corner —

LONDON, June 11 (Reuters)—Tonsil operations "are already out of date," says the latest pronouncement of George Bernard Shaw, now nearly 95.

Oliver Locker Sampson, retired politician currently campaigning against needless operations, wrote to the sage for support.

Back came Shaw's reply:

"I never had any tonsil trouble. Didn't know I had any tonsils. The National Health Act (giving Britons virtually-free medical treatment) and the Swedish custom of paying your doctor by the year to keep you well are a great advance. Tonsils are already out of date."

HANNOVER, Germany, June 11 (Reuters) — Policemen who stopped a car speeding through Hannover Saturday quickly waved it on again when the driver and his wife explained why they were naked. Their clothes had been stolen while the couple bathed in a lake outside the city.

CHICAGO, June 11 (AP)—Police Sgt. Thomas O'Grady suspended official business at Town Hall Station last night to give the suspenders off his back to a prospective bridegroom in distress.

Joseph Nedza, 22, who is to be married today, came to the station in search of a pair of suspenders. He told O'Grady that the dress suit he rented was minus suspenders. None of his friends had any. And he couldn't find a store which sold suspenders.

O'Grady unstrapped his 30-year-old yellow-and-blue suspenders and gave them to Nedza.

"You take them and do right by the little lady," O'Grady told Nedza. "You've got something old, something borrowed and something blue."

O'Grady still had a belt for his pants.

More Than 700 Nelsonites Offer To Give Blood to Red Cross Clinic

The appeal for blood donors in the Nelson area to contribute the needy fluid during the clinic to be held here this week reached a record number for the City by topping the 700 mark.

The B.C. Red Cross mobile blood donors clinic will arrive Monday night so work may get under way sharp at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the Canadian Legion.

Blood donor cards were sent to all contributors stating the appointed time and providing the donors arrive at their appointed time, the clinic can be conducted without any need of waiting, officials said Sunday.

Appointments have been spaced out to eliminate crowding and it should only take half an hour of a donors time.

"With the interest which has been shown by Nelsonites, it is likely that the Red Cross will give us more time next year", officials stated. "We only hope all those who have registered as donors will make every effort to be there."

Public Schools Alone Benefit

VICTORIA, B.C., June 11— British Columbia's Catholic school children who wish to obtain free medical, dental services should attend public schools, the Catholic Ensign quotes W. T. Straith Education Minister as saying. The Ensign learned that Mr. Straith himself expects no change in the Government attitude on separate schools.

The position, Mr. Straith explained, is that medical and dental services, bus transportation and textbook rentals are provided by public funds and open to all children of public schools.

"Those who do not participate by attending public schools do not receive benefits," said the Education Minister, "but they can come in any time they wish by attending."

His statements suggested that Catholics could expect no immediate relief. Mr. Straith told the Ensign: "There's nothing to suggest we are going to make any change, but the matter is still under advisement."

Catholic lay groups which have conferred with the Provincial Cabinet on the separate school question, were optimistic that they would at least gain the dental and school book concessions.

Traffic Accidents, Drownings Take 20 Lives During Weekend

By The Canadian Press

Traffic accidents and drownings accounted for the majority of 20 accidental deaths recorded across Eastern Canada by the Canadian Press during the weekend.

Reports up to early this morning showed 10 deaths in Quebec and 10 in Ontario. Nine of the fatalities resulted from traffic mishaps, eight were drowned, two killed in the crash of a light plane at Hamilton and one man was fatally injured in a paper mill at Cornwall, Ont.

Two Killed in Bus, Car Collision

GOLDENDALE, Wash., June 11 (AP)—Failure of a headlight dimmer switch sent an automobile plunging into a Greyhound bus near here last night, killing a Columbus, O., couple who had been visiting relatives in Oregon.

Otto L. Nucklos and his wife, seven-year-old son, Donald, and his Sylvia, died in the crash. Their uncle, James A. Nuckols, of Halsey, Ore., driver of the car, were seriously injured.

Dismiss Order

OTTAWA, June 11 (CP) — The Air Transport Board has informed Colonial Air Lines of New York that it has decided to dismiss the "show cause" order against that company, arising out of a Canada-United States controversy over the Montreal-New York air route.

Campaign to Save Coast Orchestra

VANCOUVER, June 11 (CP) — More than 120 members of the Vancouver Symphony Chorus Saturday launched a campaign seeking full employment for the orchestra. City offices, public buildings and large stores will be entered by petition-bearing persons seeking continuation of the 23-week season for the symphony. A house-to-house canvass also will be started, too. Also sought is re-engagement of Jacques Singer as musical director.

Blood Donations Show Heavy Rise

CRANBROOK, B.C., June 11 — The Alberta Red Cross mobile blood unit completed a highly successful series of clinics in East Kootenay this weekend with largest amount for the district yet donated. It was its third annual tour.

A vigorous promotion campaign in Cranbrook headed by Rev. W. H. McDannold quadrupled this city's donations compared to last year's clinic, when 286 people visited the clinic during the afternoon and evening sessions at the United Church Hall.

Kimberley established a new high in its donations when more than 600 people enrolled, and at Creston the enrolment was over 250. Cranbrook hospital is East Kootenay headquarters for the district blood bank with blood for transfusions always immediately available, while plasma is maintained at all hospitals. Cranbrook hospital alone used 200 pints of blood obtained from this service during the year.

Some Valley Areas "Safe for All Time" Against Flooding

VANCOUVER, June 11 (CP) — High-level diking in the Fraser Valley has corralled the Fraser River and made some valley areas "safe for all time", British Columbia's Dyking Commissioner said last night.

G. B. Dixon told the B.C. Division of the community planning Association $11,000,000 has been spent to barricade the Valley from flood waters since the $30,000,000 floods of 1948.

The new dykes have been built two feet above the highest recorded level, he said.

In some areas, said Mr. Dixon, the re-dyking projects have made new land available for cultivation. At Hatzic, where 3200 acres were inundated two years ago, there now are 1500 more acres for use.

Although the run-off has been late, it is believed the Valley will escape serious flood conditions this year. Intermittent spells of warm and cold, flood-thwarting conditions have prevailed.

Two Nelson Firms Incorporated

Two Nelson firms, the Kootenay Refrigeration Company, Ltd, and and the Mines Management Corporation Ltd. have been incorporated under the Companies Act.

Authorized capital of the Kootenay Refrigeration Company is $25,000. Registered office of the firm is at 465 Ward Street.

The Mines Management Corporation, which has its registered office at 523 Vernon Street, has an authorized capital of $10,000.

Notice of the incorporations appeared in the current issue of the B.C. Gazette.

FORM BROTHERHOOD

PARIS, June 11 (AP) — Jews, Catholics and Protestants of 12 Western nations formally created today an organization to fight intolerance.

The new organization, called World Brotherhood, will seek to spread principles of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, formed in the United States 22 years ago.

The 155 delegates—leaders in religion, education, business, labor and civil service—ended a four-day meeting with a pledge to promote peace through better understanding among peoples.

GRANTED WAGE INCREASE

OAK RIDGE, Tenn., June 11 (AP) —An A F L official said today an arbitration board granted a 13 cent wage increase to 700 union workers who precipitated a wildcat walkout on atomic construction jobs.

Hundreds Hear Park Concert; $216 to Aid Fund

Hundreds of coolly dressed men, women and children lolled in the shade of the huge cottonwoods at Lakeside Park Sunday afternoon. The attraction was the smartly conducted Junior-Senior High Schools Band.

A collection totalling $216 in aid of the Manitoba Relief Fund was taken.

Under the direction of Don Cowan, Director of Music, the smartly uniformed group of boys and girls set hands clapping with many robust marches and familiar song hits.

Middleground Wins Belmont

By JOHN CHANDLER

NEW YORK, June 11 (AP).—King Ranch's Middleground rambled to a brilliant victory over nine rivals including Hill Prince—the odds-on-favorite—in Saturday's $75,000-added Belmont Stakes.

It was a stunner for the crowd of 39,152 sweltering customers, who backed Hill Prince down to 17-20 favoritism, then watched him finish seventh after setting the pace most of the way.

LAUDS B.C. ROLE IN HEALTH SCHEME

VANCOUVER, June 11 (CP) — Health Minister Paul Martin today said the Dominion-Provincial health scheme inaugurated two years ago is one of the most significant steps ever taken in Canada with more than 300 projects pertaining to health already underway.

In an interview here, the Minister lauded British Columbia's role in health matters and said that the $37,000,000 contributed to the provinces to date for hospital and health consumption is more than spent by the Federal Government on that division in the last 27 years.

Mr. Martin, here to address the biennial Canadian Conference on Social Work, also said the Federal Government has spent some $400,000 for cortisone for research purchasers, becoming the sole Government to take such a step.

Travellers' Golf Head Director Of Coast Exhibition

Commercial Men's Association President Thomas R. Fyfe of Vancouver, who directed the Association's annual tournament in Nelson over the weekend, is a Director of the Pacific National Exhibition.

He said Sunday that the Exhibition next Thursday will open its new nine-hole golf course and in about a month's time will open a driving range which cost about $24,000 to build.

Mr. Fyfe is a former President of the Quilchena Golf Club and at present is a member of the Capilano Golf Club. He is Second Vice-President of the Canadian Automotive Wholesalers and Manufacturers Association.

Lack of World Brotherhood Cause Of Wars, Rev. D. K. Faris Declares

"The greatest cause of wars today is lack of world brotherhood. The greatest challenge of modern time is to make the world a happy place."

So spoke Rev. Donald K. Faris in an address at a joint service of Trinity and St. Paul's United churches in St. Paul's Church Sunday evening.

A missionary and agriculturist in China, Mr. Faris has done outstanding work in China for UNNRA and the Relief Agency of the United Nations.

Mr. Faris said that a great revolution was taking place in Asia. "The first thing this revolution sees to is the needs of the people. We missionaries try to give the people something we think they need. Our approach is different to Communists who attend to the needs of the people first.

"Jesus said, 'Go ye into all the world,' that world is different today. Today we are one world whether we like it or not we are neighbors to every race in the world. We are one world in which we as citizens have an inescapable responsibility."

Illustrating how neighborly the nations are, Mr. Faris said it would take longer if one walked from Nelson to Trail than for a plane leaving Vancouver to arrive in Hong Kong, China.

Speaking of economic conditions in China, Mr. Faris said that in Canadian currency the average wage a year for 80 to 85 per cent of the Chinese people is $24. There was not enough food or clothing for the masses of Chinese people. One out of 200 women could read and one out of five men.

Every Communist believed in what he is doing and was willing to give the shirt off his back or the shoes off his feet to carry out his cause, Mr. Faris said. He went on to say that the Nationalists, who were much stronger, failed because they did not have the spirit which the Communists had.

"We have reason to be disturbed about the state of Asia today."

Mr. Faris appealed to the people to back him in his work which was to "bring food, education, and joy and happiness in the life of Jesus Christ to the Asiatic peoples."

Travellers' Golf Champ Kamloops Titlist Too; Tells of New Links Plan

Winning championships is becoming a habit with Alderman Robert Affleck of Kamloops, who took the annual golf tournament at the Commercial Men's Golf Association at Nelson Sunday. He was defending champion.

Alderman Affleck won the Kamloops Golf Club championship just before coming to Nelson.

President of the Kamloops club, he told Sunday of its plans to build a brand new 18-hole course, and said it was hoped the Commercial Men's tournament would be held there in 1952. Debentures were sold in raising $35,000 for the new course.

Alderman Affleck, who expressed admiration for Nelson's sport facilities, told of Kamlooks' new ice arena, which seats 2800 and has standing room for 1000.

The Kamloops Memorial Arena was completed last year. Roller skating and basketball were Summer activities, he said. In financing the building, a group of businessmen had raised $250,000, and the city passed a bylaw for borrowing of $95,000. The arena was turned over to the city. A commission was appointed by the city to operate the sports centre.

Former NHL hockey star Paul Thompson had done much to boost Kamloops' sports activities. He suggested Nelson's golfers might give more encouragement to younger citizens, although more was done in this line than in many other centres, he thought.

He hoped to visit Nelson again this Summer to attend the Midsummer Bonspiel. The Nelson golf course was "lovely" and the local executive had shown "wonderful enthusiasm" for the tournament.

Kamloops is fighting hard to get a natural gas pipeline through the Yellowhead Pass, he said. There was, of course, also much interest in the Trans-Canada Highway development, and it was expected much needed work would be done in the Kamloops area.

The Weather

SYNOPSIS

Sunday was one of the hottest so far this season for the Interior of British Columbia with Kamloops and Lytton both reporting high temperatures of ninety one for top honors. In fact temperatures in the eighties were recorded as far North as the B.C. Yukon Boundary.

Along the Coast fog banks over the open water and fresh winds off the water at some points kept temperatures generally down in the fifties or sixties although, many points along Vancouver Islands East Coast had maximum values in the eighties.

No marked change in the weather is expected during the next twenty four hours. However there will be a slight increase in cloudiness over the Eastern mountain sections and over the extreme Northern part of the Province.

Minimum and maximum temperatures across Canada and the U.S.

FINK'S

Fined $300 After Acquitted of Manslaughter

CRANBROOK, B.C., June 11— Fine of $300 or in default two months in prison, and suspension of driving privileges in Canada for two years was the sentence imposed by Mr. Justice J. M. Coady on David Louis Dufour of Kimberley, found guilty of dangerous driving at the Spring Assizes here.

This was the single conviction in the five hearings of the Spring Assizes, and was the jury's verdict when it acquitted him of manslaughter in the death of Leandre Soucy in a car accident North of Kimberley the morning of April 23.

244 Legion Auxiliary Members At Trail for Meet; Wreath Laid

TRAIL, B.C., June 11 — Two hundred and forty-four ladies had registered for the Canadian Legion buses arrived Sunday morning carrying 154 delegates from Coast points.

The first activity of the four-day Provincial convention was the laying of a wreath on the Cenotaph by Mrs. E. Swan, of Victoria, President of the Provincial Command, Ladies Auxiliary, following the playing of The Last Post.

The Legion Band led a colorful parade to Knox United Church for the evening service. The procession returned to the Legion Hall to end the first day of the Convention.

The official opening will take place Monday morning with Mayor E. G. Fletcher and R. W. Diamond, Vice-President of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company, among those making speeches of welcome.

The Convention will include business sessions, a banquet and dance and a tour of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company. Auxiliary Annual Convention here by Sunday night. Four Greyhound

"NERVES" She Called It

Losing interest—losing friends—she never went out any more—always too tired. "Nerves", she thought—but it was her kidneys—the filters of her blood—that needed attention. She used Dodd's Kidney Pills at once. The improved action of her kidneys helped to clear away blood impurities and excess acids. Fatigue, backache, headache, lack of energy disappeared. Dodd's Kidney Pills contain essential oils and medicinal ingredients that act directly upon the kidneys—and help restore their normal action. 144

Outlines Duties In Forestry at Procter Program

PROCTER, B. C., June 11—Climaxing the celebration of Forest Conservation Week at the Procter Superior School was the visit of the area forest ranger, O. J. Anderson of Kaslo, on Friday afternoon. In his address Mr. Anderson outlined the duties of the ranger and discussed other topics pertinent to his work. After his address the students were afforded an apportunity to ask him questions relative to other phases of forestry work.

Previously a short program was presented in the Community Hall at which an original play "Father Learns His Lesson", composed by pupils in Grade X was presented. Hazards due to careless campers and smokers and the way the problem was solved was the theme of the play. The stage scenery was made by the girls in Grades IX and X.

A collection was taken up in aid of the Manitoba Flood Relief. Nearly $10 was realized.

Master of ceremonies was Raymond Sewell.

A demonstration in First Aid bandaging was also presented.

Gale Whips Fire in Danish Resort

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, June 11 (AP)—A gale-whipped blaze laid waste to the centre of the fishing resort of Hundested Saturday and caused damage estimated at $175,000. The fire broke out in a waterfront shed and soon spread to a village inn and several houses. The town has a population of 4000.

Action Is Asked On Rossland Highway Program

ROSSLAND, B.C., June 11—A letter outlining the immediate Provincial Public Works program for Rossland District was authorized to be sent to Hon. E. C. Carson, Minister of Public Works at a meeting of the Rossland Senior Board of Trade.

The meeting felt that completion of the Paterson highway should coincide with the completion of the bridge under construction at Northport. Construction of the Public Works garage and improvements to the highway within the City limits should also receive immediate attention.

The Board was informed that the Northport customs office would be open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Standard Time 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. D.S.T. while the hours at Paterson would be from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. daylight saving time, 6 a.m. to 9 p.m. P.S.T.

Trail Woman Still Missing

TRAIL, B.C., June 11—No trace of Mrs. A. Marchiori of Trail, who has been missing from her home since early last week, has been found, Trail police reported Sunday. The elderly woman resided at 1874 Fourth Avenue.

Police with a Doberman Pinscher dog from Rossland searched the vicinity of her home and along the Columbia River bank, but with no success. No search parties have been organized as there is no indication as to which direction the missing woman might have taken.

A. Fioretti Dies at Fernie

FERNIE, B.C., June 11.—Invalided in a mine accident two years ago, Angelo Fioretti died Thursday in Fernie Memorial Hospital. He was 60 years old.

He came from his native Italy to the Cariboo district of this province in 1913, and the following year to Fernie where he started work that year in the coal mines. He remained a miner until an accident in 1948. He was well known in Fernie and an active member of the Italian Society G. Marconi.

His wife, Enes, a daughter, Lydia and a son, Frank survive him, all in Fernie.

Beginner's Luck . . .

NEW YORK, June 11 (CP)—Talk of beginner's luck!

When three Montrealers living here sat down to teach a pretty young California girl the fundamentals of bridge, they had no idea of the one-in-a-million luck she had.

After playing through a half-dozen hands with increasing understanding of the game, 22-year-old Eve Christie raised the bidding to seven spades—much to the consternation of her partner, Fred Kerner.

When she was doubled, Miss Christie said: "This is a funny kind of hand."

That ended the bridge lesson. Their opponents, Kerner's wife Jean and Joe Carin, said they'd had enough.

Creston Small Fruits Slowed By Cool Nights; Frosts Touch Spuds

Growth in small fruits in the Creston area was slower during the last two weeks, as cool nights and only moderately warm days persisted. Some early potatoes were touched by frost but no serious damage was done. Growth of vegetables was generally slow, the fortnightly Horticultural News Letter reports.

Strawberries were slowly approaching full bloom and in a few localities, frost touched the early blooms. Raspberries were developing slowly with some plantations showing late development of Winter injury. Black currants developed favorably and showed a good amount of blossom.

Some apricots, peaches and cherries which developed bloom and started to leaf out, collapsed. Frost injury to the trunks was responsible for this damage. Trees killed in this manner were, apricots, 10 per cent; peaches, five per cent, and cherries, less than one per cent. Cherries were not past the calyx stage, and it is still too early to determine fruit set. Plums and prunes were developing satisfactorily.

Application of apple calyx sprays began. The blossom was so heavy in apples that many orchardists applied blossom thinning sprays. Pears were developing favorably.

Peas and beans for seed purposes on the reclaimed lands were developing slowly. Cool nights held these crops back.

BRITAIN'S WORKING MOTHERS RAPPED FOR SENDING UNTIDY TOTS TO SCHOOL

LEAMINGTON, England (CP)—Working mothers are a new problem for British school-teachers.

Children who arrive late for lessons, untidy and without their dinner money, are generally those whose mothers go out to work.

"In nearly every case we find it is these children who are generally the most unsatisfactory," Miss C. M. Scott of Liverpool told a conference of head teachers.

The trouble simply is, said Miss Scott, that in many cases women prefer work outside the home. They'd rather do office jobs than look after junior.

"Many children leave home in the morning without having seen their mothers. They have to get ready for school themselves and prepare their own breakfasts."

PLAYGROUNDS FULL

Miss F. Dickinson, also of Liverpool, said that every day, wet or fine, she found the playground full of children sent to school early because their mothers worked. Another problem is that the mother is not home to welcome her children back.

"Some children go to play centres, but many run wild in the streets and it is probably during this time when the seeds of juvenile delinquency are sewn," Miss Dickinson said. "These mothers are doing irreparable harm."

Love Problems . . .

Thievery Their Game

By JANE ATKINSON

The girl was defiant.

Her breathlessly-written letter shrieked her defiance in every stormy sentence.

She was angry, too, and rebellious. And bitterly unhappy.

The story she had to tell followed a tragically familiar pattern.

In the office where she worked, the requirements of her job brought her in daily contact with a man of 35, seven years older than herself. She was single. He had a wife and two small children.

At first, they met only as occasion happened to dictate, disposed of the immediate problem and went their separate ways. Then, as time went on, in the casual friendliness of modern business custom, they began to use the lunch hour for their necessary conferences.

She was attractive and intelligent. So was he. They found each other delightfully congenial and so because they seemed to have more and more to talk about as they came to know each other better and better, they fell into the habit of meeting for an end-of-the-day cocktail now and then in some companionable quiet spot. From there, it was only a short step over an almost imperceptible line to an ocassional dinner together.

NOT THEIR FAULT

One evening as they looked at each other across the candlelit restaurant table, it caught up with them in a sudden revealing moment. They hadn't realized what had been happening. They would never have meant it to happen. She wasn't the kind of girl, her letter insisted, who would knowingly break up another woman's home, and he wasn't the sort of man to deliberately double-cross his wife.

So, according to her reasoning, all this being the case, what had come about was none of their fault. Obviously, they were meant for each other. It was just one of those things.

He had asked his wife to divorce him. She had refused. The only alternative, therefore, was for him to divorce her. Life would simply have to make way for their love. They had a right to their love, didn't they? she argued.

RIGHT?

Then there was the widow of 55. Victim of an incurable disease, she had fallen in love with the husband of one of her friends and he, despite her illness, wanted to divorce his wife and marry her.

"Haven't I the right to a few last years of happiness before I die?" she pleaded.

Each of these women felt that she had a right to the love of another woman's husband. Well, one may agree with a man who says that he has just as much right to wealth as the next fellow. But does that give him the right to break into another man's house and steal his money?

I think not.

Nor do I think there is any difference in the principle involved just because it happens to be another man's wife, or another woman's husband, that one is tempted to steal.

So—watch out for the "No Trespassing" signs. You cannot claim rights of any kind in a place where you have no business to be.

They're Tops In Desserts

By ALICE DENHOFF

Today, let's splurge, devoting our space to delicious desserts that have a Springtime flavor and appeal. First, a delightful parfait, a variation of ambrosia, a nice dinner winder-upper.

To serve 6, slice 2 ripe bananas lengthwise; place in ¼ cup orange juice. Whip one cup heavy cream until stiffened; flavor with vanilla. Beat one egg white stiff, adding 2 tablespoons sugar, fold into cream. Omit if desired, but it does add to the goodness of the sweet. Arrange banana slices upright around inside of parfait glasses. Alternate layers of old fashioned ginger snap crumbs (21 crackers make necessary 1½ cups crumbs) ¼ cup shredded coconut and cream mixture in glasses. Garnish with banana slices rolled in cookie crumbs or coconut.

WHOLESOME DESSERT

Banana Prune Betty to the tune of 8 servings comes next. To prepare this wholesome dessert, cut 1½ cups cooked, pitted prunes into large pieces. Combine cut prunes with 2 cups sliced, firm, ripe bananas (2-3 bananas). Place alternate layers of stale bread cubes and fruit mixture into a well-buttered baking dish, using bread cubes for top and bottom layers. (Takes 2 cups bread crumbs). Combine ¾ cup firmly-packed brown sugar, ¼ teaspoon cinnamon and ½ teaspoon salt. Add one cup prune juice, 2 tablespoons lemon juice; blend. Pour over top layer of bread cubes. Dot with 2 tablespoons butter. Bake at 350 F. for about 30 minutes, or until bananas are tender (easily pierced with a fork) and bread is browned. Serve with cream or hard sauce.

Glandular Obesity Rare

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Two out of every three overweights conveniently shift the blame for excess pounds onto "some gland or other." This seems to absolve them from all responsibility for appetite control . . . and lets them eat as they please.

"It's my glands, you know," they say confidentially, usually over "light" refreshments.

Let's face this subject of glands. Overweight is extremely common. Glandular obesity, on the other hand, is extremely rare. An eminent authority has said that it is doubtful if more than one per cent of obesity in later years is due to endocrine disturbance—the other 99 per cent is due to nothing more mysterious than overeating.

So far is glandular obesity that one doctor, who has examined thousands of overweights, says flatly that it is safe to assume that almost every adult stout adult is normal as far as glands are concerned.

Even those who put on as much as 100 pounds of excess weight have found on examination that there was nothing wrong with their glands . . . the trouble was merely wrong eating habits. Happily, by a change of food habits, they get back to normal weight.

Only when there is a dramatic and sudden change in weight that cannot be accounted for by any change in eating or exercise can the glands be suspected.

For example, one young woman gained 25 pounds in a startlingly short period, and the excess accumulated all on the hips. An examination revealed a glandular deficiency and she received the proper treatment, including diet and exercise.

Rev. Mr. Farris Speaks on China In Nakusp Church

NAKUSP, B.C., June 11 — Rev. Donald Farris was the guest speaker at a public meeting held in the Robertson Memorial United Church. Mr. Farris has spent twenty years in North China and was able to give authentic information on the Chinese situation as it is today.

Mr. Farris stated that the only thing greater today than Communism is Christianity. In China, the speaker said, there are many millions hungry. Since the war the Rev. Farris has been working in rehabilitation and food distribution. On his return to China he will join the Agricultural Staff of the Cheeloo University.

Mr. Farris showed films on China and his work there which he said is trying to prove that feeding the hungry is obeying God's word.

Films were also shown to the junior and senior high school pupils during the afternoon school sessions. Rev. B. S. S. Hartley introduced the speaker.

Fabric Coat

Dark topper for summer.

By VERA WINSTON

The dark fabric coat, long a favorite for town wear, takes on another duty, this time as a nice escort to the pretty sheers that are so popular this season. Prints, too, make an attractive contrast with this surcoat. Rayon ottomon is used for a full length coat made with a draped, waist-length shawl collar. A cord belt ties in a small bow in front, and the ⅝ sleeves are cuffed. In either navy or black, the coat is right with an elaborate dress and dresses up the simplest frock giving it an important air for cool evenings.

Canada's Indian Health Service has a total personnel of more than 1000.

Don't Copy Other Woman Says Lady Alexander's Hat Stylist

By KAY REX

Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, (CP)—"My work—it is a part of me."

Pert Alberte Legeault shrugged an expressive shoulder. "I don't feel as if I'm working when I'm making hats . . ."

Alberte was born in Hull, Que., and went into the millinery business 12 years ago when she was 18. Now her styles are so popular in the capital that there is scarcely a wife of a diplomat or high government official who doesn't boast at least one hat with a "Mlle Alberte" label.

The wives of two governor-generals also have worn Alberte models.

The sleek-haired young expert styled several for Princess Alice, wife of a former Governor-General.

"FOR HER EXCELLENCY"

"I made five for her excellency," said Alberte. "One was a black shiny straw and there also was a close-fitting turban for travelling—draped in toast-colored jersey."

Lady Alexander doesn't care for extreme hats.

"Her Excellency chooses hats with good lines and not too much trimming," said Alberte.

TIPS

What to choose when shopping for hats?

Alberte warns that trimming on the left side gives a "matronly" look. Flowers and feathers on the right give a "much younger, more dashing" appearance.

Women with round faces should avoid the complete halo hats. Instead there should be at least a fold in the material at one side—to detract from the roundness.

Tiny persons should avoid great towering feathers and obvious attempts to give height.

Tall persons can effectively wear cart-wheel hats—those are wide but don't add to height.

Finally Alberte has one last piece of advice—don't copy the other woman.

Crawford Bay

CRAWFORD BAY, B.C.—Mrs. C. H. King, Sr., Trail, has been the guest of Mrs. Nelson for the past two weeks.

Mrs. W. Fraser attended the Parochial meeting held at Harrop.

Miss Dorothy Hawkins was a visitor in Creston.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Linn have returned from their wedding trip and are making their home in Nelson.

Raymond MacGregor was a business visitor to Creston.

Rae Draper is a patient in Kootenay Lake General Hospital, Nelson.

Mrs. F. H. Petersen, who was a patient in the Kootenay Lake General Hospital, has returned home.

R. F. Bayliss was a business visitor to Nelson.

Verdun Brown was a Nelson visitor.

Alfred and Donald Hawkins visited Cranbrook.

W. S. Macpherson visited Nelson.

Mrs. Craig has gone to attend the provincial meeting of the W.I. held at Vancouver.

Mrs. Frank Olds, New Denver, is visiting her father, Craig Loyd.

Carl Hedstrom and Gordon MacGregor visited Port Hill and Creston.

There's No Place Like Home . . .

BRIDLINGTON, Yorkshire, England, (CP)—Tenants of a corporation housing estate at West Hill, Bridlington, are entering a complaint against the council.

The council has forbidden fences, gates and hedges. They ordered tenants to keep their gardens tidy and at one time stated that they must not grow flowers higher than nine inches tall.

Now they have ordered that tenants must not have outside aerials.

"What happens if we want to?" ask the tenants who are appealing to the Bridlington Corporation Tenants Association.

At the height of the depression in 1933 in the United States, American railroads carried fewer passengers than they had carried in 1895.

Finds Wonderful Relief from Constipation

"Feel I should tell everybody my happy news! Eating ALL-BRAN regularly has freed me from constipation, saved me from the harsh measures facing me!" Mr. I. Winger, R.R. No. 1 Hagersville, Ont. Just one of many unsolicited letters from ALL-BRAN users. Save yourself if you suffer from constipation due to lack of dietary bulk! Eat an ounce of crispy Kellogg's ALL-BRAN daily, drink plenty of water! If not completely satisfied after 10 days, just send empty carton to Kellogg's, London, Ontario. Get DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK!

WOULD YOU BE HAPPY ON A LEASH?

It's just as natural to want to get ahead and to succeed in any undertaking as it is to eat. Human beings are made that way.

When an individual starts to work as a clerk—as a pick-and-shovel man—as an interne or as a teacher, he doesn't see himself doing the same job for the rest of his life. He sees himself as office manager or sales manager, as a foreman or superintendent on a big job, as a famous specialist or as a school principal or professor.

Under our system that's where the office managers, the sales managers, the foremen, the superintendents, the famous specialists and educators come from. They come from the ranks—from the fellows who started out as clerks, working men and inexperienced students.

Ours is still the only system that permits the individual the opportunity to choose his job; to live where he pleases; to make the best use of his abilities to get along in the world and to hold his head up as an independent and free person.

It is still the only system that lends itself to steady improvement by democratic processes.

B. A. Plans First Holiday In Two Years

By FRED KERNER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, June 11 (CP)—The next two weeks are going to be the first "real holiday" Barbara Ann Scott has taken since she turned professional two years ago.

In New York for costume fittings prior to her leaving for a London ice production of "Rose Marie," Canada's ice queen says she looks forward to "sheer relaxation" with friends at Brockville, Ont.

But, no idler she. Since completing a month-long engagement in Hollywood with Ice Capades, Barbara Ann has spent two hectic weeks with costumes, contracts and "other necessary routine." Tomorrow she heads for Ottawa — the first time home since last September—and then on to vacation land.

Accompanied by her mother, Barbara Ann leaves for Britain at the end of June to start rehearsals of the musical comedy favorite of three decades which composer Rudolph Friml set in the Canadian Rockies. The show opens in mid-July and is contracted to run at least to August's end.

Pre-rehearsal interest has made a longer engagement in London likely, she said. There is a strong possibility that the show may be imported for a New York run where the original Operette premiered in 1924.

Crawford Bay C. G. Receives Letter of Thanks for Parcel

CRAWFORD BAY, B.C., June 11—Church Guild was held at the home of Mrs. Charles Millar with 15 members present.

A letter of thanks for food parcel sent to an adopted family in England was read. Mrs. Robinson consented to answer this and another parcel is being collected.

It was decided to sell all the extra wood that is now at the Church.

Tea was served by the hostess, Mrs. Millar.

Medicine Hat Wedding Of Interest In Nelson

MEDICINE HAT, Alta., June 9—Nelson, B.C., interest attaches to the wedding in Westminster United Church here of Margaret Eileen Williams, R.N., and Thomas Alexander Sissons.

The bride is the niece of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morris and Miss Lulu McVicar and Miss Jean McVicar of Nelson, and the groom a cousin of Mrs. Elmer Douglas of Nelson.

Rev. Harry Kay officiated in the flower-decked church for the daughter of Mrs. W. A. Williams and the late Mr. Williams of Medicine Hat and the son of Mrs. H. J. Sissons and the late Mr. Sissons, also of Medicine Hat.

Given in marriage by her uncle, P. A. Gorse of Salmon Arm, B.C., the bride chose a formal model of white Chantilly lace and sheer net over taffeta. A finger-tip veil fell from her Juliet cap, and she carried a cascade bouquet of Talisman roses and white sweet peas.

Miss Dorothy Williams attended her sister as bridesmaid. Jack Sissons, twin brother of the groom was best man, and William Clark of Calgary and Minor Murray ushered. Miss Adele Havard was organist, and Lorne Havard, soloist.

At the reception in Westminster Church Hall, Mrs. Thomas Murray, aunt of the groom, and Miss Lulu McVicar presided at the urns. The officiating clergyman proposed the toast to the bride.

Congratulatory telegrams including ones from England and India, were read.

For a motor trip to Yellowstone Park the bride donned a beige suit and hat complemented with rust accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Royal Alexandra Hospital in Edmonton and public health nursing from University of Alberta. For the last two years she has been on the staff of V.O.N. in Calgary. The groom is a graduate of University of Alberta, in Electrical Engineering.

Movie Gossip—

An Imaginary Interview With A Star's Subconscious Mind

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, June 11 (AP) — Imagine interviewing a movie star's subconscious mind!

That's the notion I toyed with this week after talking to a cautious actress who had nothing to say but glittering generalities. I took her remarks and tried to envision what she was really thinking about. This is the result:

"Hello! So nice to see you again. (Nice! Here I've got three pages of dialogue to learn and this egghead wants to ask me a lot of stupid questions.)

"I've wanted to do this picture for a long time. It's the most exciting script I've read in years. (What script? Every time I go before the camera, they hand me 10 new pages. I haven't done piece work like this since I left the shoe factory.)

"This picture is really a change of pace for me. ('Change of pace' meaning I had to take a $10,000 cut in salary.) The woman I play is really an off-beat character. (So far off-beat that 10 other stars turned it down.)

"And what an actor this leading man is! A real trouper. (If that lens-hog doesn't stop trying to steal my scenes I'll bite his lip in the clinches.)

"I love working with this director. He has a sensitivity that is rare in Hollywood. (What, that rum bum couldn't direct traffic.)

"Yes, it's true—I'll be leaving the studio after this picture. It has been a long and successful association, but I think both of us need a change. I asked for my release. (Okay, so they didn't pick up my option.)

"No, I don't know what my next picture will be. I've been snowed under with scripts and haven't had time to read them all. Dore wants me to come over there and De Mille said he's writing a part in his circus picture for me. But first of all, I'm going to take a good rest.

"(Rest is right. If that lamebrained agent doesn't start peddling me, I'll be a dead duck. Oh, well, there's always television. I wonder how I'll look on kinescope.)"

W.I. Life Membership For Mrs. O. Humphry

SOUTH SLOCAN, B.C., June 11.—Life membership in Bonnington and South Slocan Women's Institute has been bestowed upon Mrs. O. W. Humphry, one of its oldest charter members.

Mrs. Humphry took part in formation of the Institute 31 years ago.

Presentation was made at the organization's June meeting by Mrs. J. D. Yeatman, President.

The Institute's June meeting has since its inception been devoted to education. Accordingly, the guest speaker, Rev. Canon W. J. Silverwood of Nelson, used education as his topic and the program in the flower-decked hall carried out the theme.

Presentation of $5 was made to H. Loewen, Principal of South Slocan school, for the pupil making highest marks in Grade VIII in local schools. This is an annual bequest.

Under direction of Mr. Loewen and Mrs. A. Muir of South Slocan School and Miss Ruth Kulcheski of Bonnington School, recitations, singing, dances and instrumental music were enjoyed.

Recitations were by Polly Niminiken, Kay Mulloy, Dianne Davis and Alice Niminiken. Mrs. J. R. MacBain also gave a humorous recitation. A pianoforte solo by Ruth Evans and piano accordian numbers by Donald and Donna Mae Trozzo were much applauded.

Dances by Mrs. Muir's pupils of junior room consisted of old English square dances and Danish dances. They were followed by songs by junior children, accompanied by Mrs. Muir. A rollicking number was added by children of the Bonnington School directed by Miss Kulcheski.

A bouquet was handed Miss Norah Woods of New Denver who conducts the children's clinic.

The 80 school children were served ice cream at tea time. The tea committee consisted of Mrs. J. Murray, Miss M. Murray, Mrs. Conkin, Mrs. A. Budden, Mrs. W. Foster, Mrs. B. Jacobson and Mrs. A. Jacobson, Mrs. M Downie and Mrs. H. Nixon were on the receiving committee.

Nakusp Friends Honor Mrs. Harvard Hiltz

NAKUSP, B.C., June 11 — Mrs. Frank Yurik was hostess when the members of the Catholic Altar Society gave a surprise tea to honor Mrs. Howard Hiltz who is leaving shortly to reside in the Okanagan.

Miss Agness Urban, on behalf of the Society, presented the honoree with a rug and the good wishes of the members.

Mrs. Hiltz spoke very feelingly of leaving Nakusp and her many friends. Afternoon tea was served to the 25 ladies attending the affair Mrs. Yurik's rooms were beautifully decorated with Summer flowers.

On another occasion Mrs. Hugh Bolstad and Mrs. V. C. Smith were co-hostesses in honor of Mrs. Hiltz, at the home of the former when bridge was the order of the evening. Three tables were in play. During the evening a pleasing event was when Mrs. Hiltz was presented with a picture of "Mount Odin" which had been taken from the air, showing the beautiful lake scenery surrounding that area. Mrs. Hiltz, in replying, said she didn't like leaving Nakusp but that in this instance duty called.

Bridge winners were Mrs. Herb Couling and Mrs. Chris Haire. Other invited guests present were Mrs. V. Smith, Mrs. H. Bolstad, Mrs. H. Maxwell, Miss Irene Stewart, Mrs. W. Jupp, Miss S. Stewart, Mrs. J. Harris, Mrs. David Johnson, Miss L. Hrick.

Priest's Mother Dies at Coast

Very Rev. J. Martin, C.Ss.R., Superior of the Redemptorist Monastery, of Fairview, has received word of the death of his mother, Mrs. William Martin, in Vancouver.

Mrs. Martin, who was 73 years of age, had been in poor health for some years. She had resided in Regina before moving to Vancouver a few years ago.

Father Martin, who left by plane June 7, was celebrant at the solemn funeral mass Thursday, assisted by other Redemptorist priests in Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church, Vancouver.

Mrs. Martin is survived by her husband, two sons, Father Martin of Nelson and Daniel of Vancouver, and two grandchildren.

Turner Memorial WA Holds June Meeting

NEW DENVER, B.C., June 11 — The Turner Memorial United Church Women's Association held their June meeting at the home of Mrs. William E. Rowe with sixteen members and one visitor present. The President, Mrs. James Draper, was in the chair.

At the close of business the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Miss Doreen Rowe, served refreshments, and a social hour followed.

War Brides Leave On Seattle Plane

SEATTLE, Wash., June 11 (AP) —A chartered DC-4 loaded with sleepy kids, war brides and a few husbands took off from Boeing Field at 12:01 Saturday on "Operation Reunion."

Their destination was London. All told, there were 40 war brides—including some from the First World War—21 babes in arms, 14 youngsters under 12 years in age, three husbands, four pilots, two stewardesses, and a purser aboard the Trans-Ocean Air Lines plane that left here.

Their departure was thrice delayed. Twice it meant a wait of days because landing rights had been denied in England.

Most of the brides will scatter from London to their former homes in England, Scotland, or Ireland. The remainder will go on to France, Germany, The Netherlands, or Luxembourg.

The flight was arranged by War Brides Inc., recently chartered in Washington State.

Big Response In Creston To Blood Appeal

CRESTON, B.C., June 11 — Red Cross officials expressed pleasure over the response to the request for blood donors at the clinic held here with some 274 blood donors registering at the Canadian Legion Hall. Red Cross officials had asked Creston to obtain 200 donors, an increase of 80 over last year's registration.

The Red Cross branch was aided by many officials who volunteered to help.

Another large factor in the success of the clinic was the cooperation of local clubs and organizations. Among these were the Creston Kiwanis Club, which canvassed its members and also set up a transportation commitee; the Legion Auxiliary which provided donors and also did all the serving during both clinics; the Canadian Legion provided a good percentage of donors, also their hall and facilities; the Creston Lions Club, Creston Board of Trade, Creston Valley schools and others.

Just prior to this clinic the mobile blood donor clinic had been in Kimberley where 607 donors were obtained. Clinics are scheduled for Cranbrook and other East Kootenay centres this week.

N.Y. Police Blame Girls For Teen-Age Gang Wars

By STUART UNDERHILL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK (CP) — A group of youngsters tussle on a New York street. A gun cracks, a knife flashes and another victim is added to the casualty list of teen-age warfare that has cost 11 lives in the last year.

Law enforcement authorities, who have found youth gangs one of the most difficult post-war crime problems, differ on the means of dealing with it. Some advocate a tougher attitude, others an expanded program of social work that would give the youngsters an outlet in athletics.

Magistrate Benjamin Brenner of Brooklyn minced no words when a dozen boys appeared before him after an outbreak of knife and gun fighting on Memorial Day, a national holiday.

"If you act like hoodlums you'll be treated like hoodlums," he said. "I want the gangs of Brooklyn to know that we are going to get tough too . . . we're not going to treat you like kids any more."

Police say that girls are the chief cause of fights but sometimes battles break out over racial issues, imagined insults, or "just for fun".

The Police Athletic League, which has given many under-privileged youngsters a chance to blow off excess energy in sport, hopes to widen its program in this direction. Police Commissioner William P. O'Brien said recently that the gangs were "the fringe we have not yet reached" as well as fighting with their contemporaries. In one district they are said to extort money from householders and apartment house superintendents to guarantee that garbage cans won't regularly upset.

Police say that many youngsters are forced into gangs by ring-leaders. Alternatively, they are beaten or robbed of their school lunch money.

Unemployment Threatens Italy's New Democracy

By PHILIP CLARKE

ROME, June 11 (AP) — Italy's struggling young democracy is seriously threatened by continued unemployment or under-employment of nearly 4,000,000 Italian workers.

This was the recent public warning of James D. Zellerbach, chief of the United States Economic Cooperation Administration mission in Italy, and the hustling head of one of North America's largest paper makers, Crown-Zellerbach Corporation.

To help remove this danger to democracy, Zellerbach says, Italy needs a good old-fashioned price war to wake up business and create more jobs. E.C.A. officials are critical of what they term the Italian business man's psychology of high profits and low value of production.

In recent personal talks with Italy's business and government leaders, Zellerbach asked support for a program of democratic capitalism to help overcome the country's chronic unemployment.

Among the proposals were: a vigorous government-E.C.A. program to stimulate emigration and help relieve the surplus in Italy's labor market; creation of 3,800,000 new full-time jobs through expanded production and lower prices; breaking up of monopoly arrangements in markets and prices to stimulate real price competition; elimination of government bureaucracy and red tape.

DROWNS AT WHITE ROCK

WHITE ROCK, B.C., June 11 (CP)—George Roberts, 77, was drowned Saturday in waters off this resort town's beach.

The White Rock man failed to return after going for a swim. His body was found by Arthur Twiss and Frank Hindle as they walked along the beach.

PILOT KILLED IN CRASH

HAMILTON, June 11 (CP)— A light plane crashed near the Hamilton Civic Airport Saturday night, killing the pilot, George Isaac Reine, a native of Saskatchewan, and a passenger, Jean Dental of Hamilton.

The plane was about to land when a 30-mile-an-hour wind turned it over.

Attacks Tameness Of Faith in Christian Churches

MONTREAL, June 11 (CP)—Dr. Thomas F. Torrance of Aberdeen, Scotland, in a sermon today decried the "stunt performances" and "stunt campaigns" of the Christian Church.

Dr. Torrance preached at the Rededication Service in MacVicar Memorial Church marking the 75th anniversary of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. He is attending the Church's current general assembly.

Dr. Torrance, who spent some time in China, likened some methods of the modern church to "the futile attempt of the Chinese people to bring rain by firing cannon into the air.

"In our day faith is so demure and tame it is as though we have taken Jesus Christ and domesticated Him, taken the power of the Christian Church and harnessed and enslaved it so that here and there only a few people are healed and blessed," he said.

"Again and again we ministers have been guilty of dastardly treachery. How easy it is to use the words of the scripture such as balm and healing, comfort and peace, rather than fill the deepest need of mankind, which is to make peace with God.

"That is the tragedy of the Christian Church. Too often we touch merely the surface.

Dr. Torrance said prayer meetings are so few and so lacking in spirit, "a woefully significant fact".

An Evangelical movement to be shared by "every member, group and organization within the church", was adopted Saturday by the 76th General Assembly.

Newspaper Prize Winners Honored

TORONTO, June 11 (CP)—Winners of the national newspaper awards for 1950 were honored at a dinner Saturday night of the Toronto Men's Press Club, sponsors of the awards.

Five men and a woman were praised in speeches by club members and handed $400 checks in recognition of their outstanding work. Four others, cited for merit, received silver cigaret boxes.

Twenty-year-old Jack DeLorme of the Calgary Herald, travelled 2500 miles to accept the prize for photography. Other winners, announced some time ago, are: Spot news, Edmond Chasse, Montreal Le Canada; editorials, Edgar Collard, Montreal Gazette; features, Dorothy Howarth, Toronto Telegram; cartoons, Jack Boothe, Toronto Globe and Mail; staff corresponding, Stuart Underhill, chief of The Canadian Press Bureau in New York.

Mr. Chasse, who won his award for brilliant reporting on the Gusy airplane time-bombing at Quebec, spoke on behalf of the winners and thanked the club and the 18 judges from all parts of Canada who made the final selections.

Guest speaker Allan Pitt Robbins of The Times of London said that individuality, enthusiasm and character are "musts" in the make-up of all who seek success in the newspaper field. There was need for a higher level of reporting and editing and the national newspaper awards would help to achieve that aim.

God the Preserver Of Man Subject of Christian Scientists

"God the preserver of man" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday.

The Golden Text was: "Withhold not thou thy tender mercies from me, O Lord: Let thy loving kindness and thy truth continually preserve me."—Phalms 40; 11.

The Lesson-Sermon included the following passage from the Bible: "By faith Abraham, when he was called to go out into a place which he should after receive for an inheritance, obeyed: and he went out, not knowing whither he went."—Hebrew 11: 8.

Among the selections from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy was the following: "Life, Truth, and Love are the realities of divine Science. They dawn in faith and glow full-orbed in spiritual understanding. As a cloud hides the sun it cannot extinguish, so false belief silences for a while the voice of immutable harmony, but false belief cannot destroy Science armed with faith, hope, fruition."

Fishing Cruiser Sinks, Four Perish

SAN PEDRO, Calif., June 11 (AP)—Four men perished Saturday night after a sport-fishing cruiser with 20 aboard sank about 13 miles off Los Angeles harbor.

Two of the 16 survivors were reported in serious condition from shock and exposure following a sea-air rescue.

The victims were identified as William Pelletier, John Singer, Jim Roberts, and J. A. Robinson, all of Long Beach, Calif.

THREE YOUTHS KILLED

MONTREAL, June 11 (CP). — Three youths were killed and two seriously injured early today when their car sideswiped another, went into a ditch and crashed into a tree.

The accident occurred near Cedars, about 32 miles Southwest of Montreal.

The dead: Jean-Louis Bissonnette, 17, driver; Robert Turgeon, 21, and Raymond Denis, 19.

United Church Celebrates 25th Anniversary

TORONTO, June 11 (CP)—Those who profess the faith of the United Church of Canada today celebrated the 25th anniversary of the Union that brought their church into existence.

The day was remembered with a rally in Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens and simple services in the church's 6494 preaching places.

After a sometimes-bitter controversy that split many Presbyterian congregations, the Methodist, Congregational and most Presbyterian Churches were united June 10, 1925, to become by act of Parliament the United Church of Canada.

In that year of a total Canadian population of 9,364,000, the church's membership was 652,000. Today, with the population at more than 13,500,000, the church counts 791,677 members. In the census of 1941, however, 2,204,875 Canadians gave their religion as United Church although they were not all members.

Poland Edges Out Ireland in Europe Davis Cup Play

WARSAW, June 11 (AP).—Poland Saturday eked out a 3-2 victory over Ireland in the quarter-finals of the European zone Davis Cup tennis competition. Poland will meet the winner of the Philippines-Sweden match.

AUSTRIAN SKIER CAPTURES GOLDEN ROSE DOWNHILL

TIMBERLINE LODGE, Ore., June 11 (AP)—Austrian skier Franz Gabl zipped down the craggy snowfields of Mount Hood today to win the men's title of the 11th Annual Golden Rose downhill race.

His time of 2:28.8 minutes over the two and three-tenths mile course on the mountain's higher elevation was one of the fastest times turned in for the competition.

A cold fog, which iced the trail from the start at 10,000 feet elevation to the finish 3000 feet lower, added to the hazards that gave the Alpine veteran's skill an edge over rivals.

Defending Champion Allan Fischer, University of Washington, was second in 2:45.2 minutes. Dick Lewis, Portland, placed third at 2:50 and Norwegian Exchange Student Guttorm Berge, Whitman College, had 2:56.4 and fourth place.

Seventeen-year-old Jo Ann Kittleson, Seattle Penguins entry, placed the field of six women over a shorter mile and a half trail. Her time was 3:04 minutes. National Downhill Women's Champion Janette Burr, Seattle, placed second with 3:20.4 minutes.

Other men's rankings: 6, John Frazee, Vancouver, B.C.; 7, Bill Robinson, Vancouver, B.C.; 8, Rees Stevenson, Portland; 9, Jack Griffen, Vancouver, B.C.; 10, Dick Buec, Sun Valley, Idaho; 11, Doug Fraser, Vancouver, B.C.

ARCADIA, Calif., June 11 (AP)—Heavily-favored proximity captured the $50,000 Golden West trot at Santa Anita Park Saturday, and did it with a record-breaking performance for 1¼ miles.

TRAIL, B.C., June 11 — Work on the installation of refrigeration pipes in the new Cominco curling rink will get under way Monday, the Recreational Projects Society has announced.

Representatives of a refrigeration company were expected to arrive over the weekend to supervise installation of the pipes, one of the final steps in completion of the curling rink section of the Memorial Centre.

Runs Second Fastest Mile in U. S.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 11 (AP) —Wisconsin's Don Gehrmann Saturday night ran the second fastest mile in the United States by a college runner this year, turning the distance in 4:10.2 at the Central College Conference Meet.

Gehrmann's time was second only to the 4:07.7 registered Friday night by Jim Newcomb of Southern California, and broke the meet mark of 4:10.6 set by Chuck Fenske of Wisconsin in 1936.

Michigan State, defending champions, and Michigan Normal ended in a tie for team honors with 31 points each. Drake was third with 19 and Wisconsin fourth with 17.

Calgary's Don Pettie, running the sprints for Drake, had the misfortune to face Tulane's Paul Bienz on one of his best nights. Bienz, voted the outstanding athlete of the meet, won both the 100 and 200-yard dashes.

Pettie, a member of Canada's 1950 Empire Games squad, finished third in the 100 and second in the 220.

Seek "Bigger Voice" In Canadian Football

MONTREAL, June 11 (CP). — Members of the Interprovincial Rugby Football Union agreed Saturday to seek a "bigger voice" in the affairs of Canadian football.

They took the stand that the senior league in Eastern Canada and the Western Canada Conference should carry the balance of voting power in decisions of the Canadian Rugby Union.

The Interprovincial, or Big Four, also agreed to stage two pre-season benefit games. The games, with all four clubs in action, will be played a mid-week night in Toronto and Ottawa.

Proceeds from the Toronto game will go to funds for aid of victims of the Winnipeg floods and the Rimouski and Cabano, Que., fire disasters.

Proceeds from the Ottawa game will go to the family of the late Ross Trimble, a one-time Canadian football great who died last year.

No Thank You, Mr. Shea

"The frontier between Canada and the United States is becoming today an oppressive cord that threatens to strangle the progress and security of both our countries," therefore Uncle Sam should hoist the Stars and Stripes over Canada. So says George E. Shea Jr., in Look Magazine.

"Arbitrary division" of the continent is beginning to hurt both countries in these two fundamental ways, writes Mr. Shea, who is Financial Editor of The Wall Street Journal:

"1. It is serving to hold back the development of Canada's wealth; and, as our natural resources are gradually exhausted, it is also restricting U.S. economic welfare.

"2. It is weakening the ability of the two countries to ensure the military security of the continent in an age of new, intercontinental weapons."

Does Mr. Shea know of the staggering amount of national development now going on? Does he know how much of the money for that is now coming from the U.S.? Does he suppose more money would go into more development faster with Canada's annexation? asks The Financial Post, and then describes Mr. Shea's premise as "quite fallacious".

So is premise two. Nothing in the line of defence can be gained by union which can't be done as we are now.

But it seems the key reason for Mr. Shea's imperialist designs is that Canada has a lot of raw materials which the U.S. would like to have.

"Whereas we used to ship oil, copper, zinc and lead to the rest of the world, we now have begun to import all of these essential materials. And the proportion of imports in every case seems to grow. The same thing is happening in iron ore and timber.

"But Canada is rich in all of these materials. It is one of the world's largest exporters of copper, lead and zinc. The new oil fields of Alberta can supply the import needs of the United States and other nations besides. Iron ore will soon be mined in Labrador. And in timber, of course, Canada's resources are greater than those in the United States."

Mr. Shea goes on with frankly covetous eyes to appraise our water power resources, our radium and uranium mines, our nickel and our gold. He makes no bones about it; U.S.-Canadian union would be a great thing—for the U.S. His case for that side of the question is almost as strong as we could make it ourselves if we went begging that Washington take us over. On the other side, observes the Post, when he tries to show what Canada would gain, this true-blue American is much less than convincing.

None of the advantages he cites in the economic sphere could not be achieved more effectively and with infinitely less upset by more enlightened government and public opinion. And if the wise and welcome principle of all-out military cooperation promised by the recent Atlantic Pact meeting means anything at all, it means that Canada and the U.S. can, most easily of all 12 countries concerned, consolidate their defensive machinery efficiently—without political or economic union.

Baring Mr. Shea's naivete completely is his blithe comment about French Canada.

"The problem of the French Canadians would be no problem at all. They constitute 30 per cent of the population of Canada, yet their differences and conflicts with the English-speaking portion, while a serious issue, have not broken up the nation. And they themselves need have no fear of losing their identity in a combined U.S.-Canadian population, where they would amount to a minority of 3 per cent. Their rights could be guaranteed."

We know how our French-speaking compatriots will react to that.

Such silly, tactless stuff, so lacking in understanding, may amuse Canadians, but it is dangerous drink for the Americans.

Magnificent progress has been made in the political and economic cooperation between these two countries. But annexation schemes simply increase the mountain of misinformation and misunderstanding which is preventing faster progress in achieving that degree of cooperation so essential to both countries.

And two families of Canasta players can take over a district faster than weeds and dandelions.

Feels Proper Drainage Would Save Roads

To the Editor:

Sir—The swearing of our few tourists is terrible. From Nelson to Ferry is full of holes and the hard surface jars more than a gravel road full of holes. It would not cost over 5 per cent more at time of building to drain the roads. Three foot ditches would make the hard surface last for twenty years. Some light hard surface is still in fair condition near Fernie although put down fourteen years ago. This is only where the crown of road is three feet above water level. When it freezes in the Winter, the whole road heaves and does not crack and settles down in place in Spring. All the cuts on the Fernie road had the hard surface shattered the first Winter.

If you ever call on St. Peter at the gate, do not tell him you drive B.C. roads or you may not get in. (See Verse also on this page.)

Yours for less bumps.

ANOTHER COMBINE?

The doctors have done it.

The lawyers have done it.

The glass manufacturers have done it.

And now the accountants are trying to do it and they want the Government to bless their efforts.

Forming a combine to restrict competition and having the Government bless it through special legislation is one of the most popular pastimes in Canada today.

Governments, which see to feel that their function in life is to provide protection for highly organized pressure groups, have now salaamed before the Institute of Chartered Accountants and the Certified Public Accountants' Association.

Attorney-General Dana Porter has announced the formation of a council to regulate the practice of public accountancy in Ontario and the licencing of all persons engaged in the work of public accountancy.

For the Ontario Government, or any other government, to set up an association of the graduates of any particular course, such as accounting, with the right to tell others what theyy may or may not do in the practice of simple arithmetic, is not only nonsense, but a dangerous infringement of the individual rights of the citizen.—Midland Free Press.

Works Way Round World on a Bet

DURBAN, South Africa (CP)—Jack Murry, Irish-born ex-naval officer, is working his way round the world on a bet. And by working he means working. He's no shirker.

The bet is that he gets around the world in four years and shows a profit of £1000 (3100) at the end of it.

So far the 39-year-old traveller has been going 17 months and already has £400 salted away in a London bank.

The bet—for stakes of only £1—originated in Wanganui in the North Island of New Zealand.

The countries which Jack Murry must visit under the terms of the bet are: North and South America, Britain, any five countries in Europe, India, China, South Africa, the Rhodesias and Egypt.

So far he has been in the United States (where, he says, you can get a job anywhere), Canada ("they take you at face value and give you a chance to prove yourself"), England ("the loveliest country in the world and the most peaceful"), his native Ireland, including Cork, his birthplace, France and Italy. South Africa has been the toughest place so far in which to get a job.

Maps of B. C. in Great Demand

VICTORIA, B.C., June 11 (CP)—Today's demand for maps of B.C. is unprecedented in the history of the Province, Lands Minister E. T. Kenney said Saturday in announcing the 1950 field program currently under way by the survey and mapping service.

"Population, economic and industrial expansion are accelerating steadily, and, if these growths are to be ordered and not chaotic, they must be planned", the Minister said. "Plans are based on maps, which must be prepared by the surveys and mapping service."

The service this year has undertaken legal surveys, topographic surveys, boundary surveys and air surveys in almost all sections of the Province.

Vancouver Museum Mostly in Crates

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver has one of the best museums in Canada, but it's mostly in crates.

And, as the saying goes, you can't tell one item from another without a program, but there's no program.

Despite these handicaps, more than 1,000,000 adults and swarms of children clamber to the public library attic each year to browse around what is, in effect, an illustrated history text.

The only person to register disappointment recently was a youth who groused because the small-arms display had been removed. It was taken out because somebody cut the glass with a diamond and stole some guns.

The cramped attic holds only a fraction of the specimens owned by the city. The rest are crated in the basement.

Curator T. P. O. Menzies says there are more than 1,000,000 valuable items on hand, which could fill the entire library building.

Soviet General Dies Suddenly

MOSCOW, June 11 (AP)—Maj.-Gen. Ivan Mezhitsan died here suddenly June 7, the Soviet Press reported Saturday.

Characterized as a "daring and decisive" Tank Commander, Mezhitsan had been awarded the Order of Lenin and other high Soviet decorations. He had served in the Soviet Army for 18 years and had been a member of the Communist Party since 1941.

Famous Press Baron, Genius of Fleet Street, Outlived Power

By EDWIN S. JOHNSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP) — The amazing story of a schoolmaster's son who rose from obscurity to the pinnacle of fame and fortune while wielding the greatest influence on British journalism within the last 50 years, is told by veteran newspaper man Tom Clarke, in his book "Northcliffe in History", published here recently.

Former editor of the London News Chronicle and for 11 years closely associated with Viscount Northcliffe, founder of the Daily Mail, Clarke knew his man well. Clarke has no hesitation in bestowing on him the title "The genius of Fleet Street."

VOLCANIC ENERGY

Northcliffe, who became one of the Empire's most powerful Press Lords, entered the publication field as Alfred Harmsworth, in 1896. He launched upon his career with consuming ambition to make good and and a reserve of volcanic energy to carry it out.

Irrespressible foe for complacency and a man who refused to be kept down, Northcliffe is praised as an apostle of free enterprise and a pioneer of journalism who was one of the first to: Realize the thirst for information of the 'newly-educated masses; appreciate the importance of the fledgling inventions of radio and aviation; foresee the rising status of women in all spheres of life; forecast the first war with Germany; sound a later warning of the danger of another world war.

But Mr. Clarke concludes that Northcliffe could not flourish again, confronted with prevailing conditions.

In the early days of his career, Northcliffe developed the habit of talking over dummy telephones in his office, to impress imoprtant callers. He would press a secret button to start the phone ringing. Then, picking up the receiver, he would carry on an imaginary conversation with some Cabinet minister, General or other Big Wig.

Even to the last he could not forget the telephone. During his last illness at his home in Carlton Gardens, when on doctor's orders it was thought all the telephones had been placed out of his reach, he found a way to make a call to his colleagues at the Daily Mail and said: "They say I am going mad. Send a reporter out for the story."

The supreme disappointment of Northcliffe's life, the author says, was that he outlived his "banquet of power." He saw it turned to a "banquet of ashes," prepared for him by the politicians he had helped to the seats of the mighty and to whom he believed he was indispensable.

But political power had triumphed in the end over press power. Lloyd George, then Prime Minister, refused to have Northcliffe at the 1919 peace conference, not even to "come in with the coffee."

Turn Out Guard For False Alarm

LONDON, June 10 (Reuters) — The Tower of London guard turned out early today when the burglar alarm system protecting Britain's crown jewels began to ring. The crowns and gems are worth approximately $61,500,000.

The guard immediately went into an emergency routine when the bells clanged at two of the tower gates, and the guardroom as well as in the jewel house itself.

They found they had been roused for a false alarm. The alarm system had short-circuited.

Cards Wallop Giants 3 Games

By STEVE ROBERTSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Three veteran pitchers, all heroes of St. Louis pennant-winners in their younger days, have Cardinal fans talking World Series for the first time in years today.

The old-timers—righthander Red Munger and southpaws Howie Pollet and Alpha Brazle—cooled out New York Giants, last week's hottest National League team, in three weekend games and boosted the Red Birds into a two-game lead over Brooklyn Dodgers.

Another powerhouse outfit, the Boston Red Sox, took their lumps three times from the Detroit Tigers as Red Rolfe's Bengals took over the American League leadership by two percentage points from the New York Yankees.

The first homer of the season for youthful Bill Howerton helped Munger gain a 6-2 verdict over the Giants Saturday, while Pollet and Brazle got timely hitting support in subduing the New Yorkers 6-1 and 5-2 in Sunday's twin bill.

The Dodgers ran into trouble with tail-end Cincinnati, dropping a 4-3 decision to the Reds Saturday and settling for a saw-off Sunday.

The Reds overcame a grand-slam homer by Catcher Roy Campanella to take the opener 8-5, but the big Negro catcher clouted his second of the day with a mate aboard to lead Brooklyn to a 5-4 victory in the nightcap.

Ralph Kiner unloaded his 12th and 13th four-baggers as Pittsburgh Pirates edged Philadelphia Phillies 5-4 Sunday, the second breaking up the game in the 12th inning.

Chicago Cubs snapped a three-game losing streak to top Boston 13-10 in a Saturday slugfest, then made it three in a row by sweeping a Sabbath doubleheader 5-4 and 2-1 to edge the Braves out of fourth place.

The Red Sox, a menace to American League pitching in recent weeks, took an 18-8 shellacking from the Tigers Saturday, bowed 6-2 to Prince Hal Newhouser's slants in Sunday's first game, then watched Vic Wertz ruin them with a 14th-inning homer to lose the second 9-6.

CASTOFF WINS

Dick Starr, a Yankee castoff, tamed the New Yorkers 7-2 for St. Louis with a seven-hitter, but the Bombers got a three-hit pitching job from Vic Raschi and a four-hitter from unbeaten Fred Sanford to sweep their Sunday games 1-0 and 4-2.

Cleveland Indians took two out of three from the seventh-place Philadelphia Athletics, as the A's scored seven runs in the seventh to take Sunday's nightcap 9-6 after losing 7-3 and 6-3 in their earlier engagements.

A rain-shortened 4½-inning game saw Rookie Sandalia Consuegra pitch Washington to a 6-0 victory over Chicago, but the White Sox came back the next day with 8-3 and 5-4 victories.

Affleck Retains Golf Crown

Beats Bob Foulis on 19th in Commercial Men's Tourney Here

In a heart breaking finish for Vancouver's Bob Foulis, Kamloops' steady-driving Alderman Bob Affleck captured the 21st annual Commercial Men's Association Golf Tournament to retain the Old Parr Cup at Nelson Sunday.

The visiting sharpshooters were all even on the 18th green of the Nelson Golf and Country Club, but the breaks went to Affleck on the extra hole's play.

Foulis, who was low qualifier in the medal round in which he scored a neat one-over-par 34, had driven to the back of the green on his second shot. Affleck topped his, but the ball rolled to within five feet of the pin and he holed out in three. Foulis chipped up close, but could not equal the score.

Each player scored 72 for the 18 holes, Affleck 36 on each round and Foulis putting together 34 and 38. Affleck won the tourney last year at Kamloops.

WINS TWO TROPHIES

The Royal Anne Cup and the Associated Canadian Travellers Trophy went to Foulis, the former a medallist and the latter for the commercial man going farthest in the tournament.

A large crowd watched a colorful presentation ceremony, presided over by Association President Tom Fyfe of Vancouver, whose ad libbing kept the audience in kinks.

The Leland Cup for the First Flight winner went to James Paton of Vancouver, who took W. S. Ross of Trail in the final. A. C. Harrison of Vancouver won the Second Flight, L. Kelsch of Nelson the third and Joseph Keegan of Nelson the fourth.

In winning their events, Harrison defeated George Patterson of Vancouver, Kelsch beat G. K. Burns of Nelson and Keegan took W. P. Townsend of Vancouver in final games.

Young Johnny Leschuk of Nelson defeated Gerry Splatt of Vancouver, Association Treasurer, to win the Championship Flight consolation prize.

SENIOR WINNER

Men's senior event went to R. E. Horton of Nelson for low gross, and T. R. Wilson of Nelson was second. Mr. Wilson was referee for the Championship final.

Mr. Fyfe, who called on Mrs. Margaret Harrop, President of the Nelson Ladies Club, to assist in presenting the prizes, said much credit was due the Nelson officials for the arrangements carried out here. He had particular praise for J. E. Young, who collected the entries, and Mrs. Young was given a silver dish in recognition of this. He also had praise for E. G. Langley of Vancouver, official starter, and for Mrs. Robert Paterson, Chairman of the House Committee for the ladies section. Mrs. Langley also received a gift.

Dr. T. H. Bourque, Vice-President of the Nelson Club, said his club hoped to have a new clubhouse the next time the tournament came here.

W.I.H.L. Meets Here in July; Clark President

Nelson will be the scene of the next Western International Hockey League meeting scheduled to be held July 15. Little in the way of actual business was done at the last meeting of the Association held near Premier Lake, Kimberley being the host for the occasion.

A new constitution was adopted as drawn up. The matter of having Western International League games through the Okanagan and vice versa had to be left until it was definitely decided who would be in both circuits next winter. The Nelson representatives at the meeting, Mayor N. C. Stibbs, Vito (Dempsey) Coskey and Walter Duckworth were not able to say whether Nelson would be able to ice a team next year. Of the six players brought in last year, only one man remained in the City and work has not been found for him.

Before exhibition swings could be arranged the League would have to decide on the starting time of the schedule as well as best time for trips. This in turn would have to coincide with Okanagan interests.

G. Thomson of Trail, President of the B.C.A.H.A., gave an outline on the suggestion of player contracts which was brought up later in the C.A.H.A. meeting at Banff.

Officials of the W.I.H.L. for the coming year include William Clark, Kimberley, President; L. Hallam of Trail, First Vice-President; Harry Roplee of Spokane, Second Vice-President; W. A. Duckworth, Nelson, Third Vice-President; Mickey Thomas, Kimberley, Fourth Vice-President; J. Giegerich of Kimberley, Mayor Meegham of Spokane, W. R. Diamond of Trail, Dr. N. E. Morrison of Nelson and Secretary-Treasurer J. Buchanan of Kimberley, Honorary Presidents.

English Football Players Meet in Aid Of Winnipeg Floods

WINNIPEG, June 11 (CP) — Four thousand fans saw the touring English Football Association players split into two sides for a soccer match in aid of the Manitoba Flood Relief Fund. The Blues defeated the Whites 7-6.

Five Manitoba players bolstered the sides. Charlie Vaughan of Charlton Athletic, centre-forward for the Blues, scored three goals and Frank Bowyer of Stoke City and Jimmy Hagen of Sheffield United each scored two.

Rossland Cubs Edge Nelson

By CLIVE FLEMING

A pair of doubles in the seventh inning sparked the Rossland Cubs to a close 4-3 win over the Nelson Peerless "9" in the second West Kootenay Baseball League encounter. Although Nelson outhit Rossland 11-10, the Golden City crewd bunched in two runs in the opening inning, as Nelson was only able to score runs one at a time, with righthander Bobby McKinnon in hot water often.

Nelson third sacker Lloyd Swenson was the big man at the bat with three safeties. The best tagged hit of the game by Cub catcher Kelly Campbell, a ground rule double, which was still climbing when it went over the short left field barrier.

An error and a single set the stage for husky Lui Corraddo, who punched out a hit to score two runs in the top of the opening frame, giving the visiting Rosslanders a 2-0 lead.

TIED IN FOURTH

McKinnon kept the Lakesiders under his thumb until one occasion when they loaded the bases with one out, but Nelson was able to register only one run. In the fourth inning, Winlaw doubled and was driven home by Collings to tie the game.

Although both clubs left men standed in all but one of the remaining innings, Hufty and McKinnon waged a pitchers' battle until the seventh, when Rossland again broke through with a pair of runs.

Dick Baril opened the canto with a double, followed by Roy Thomas' single. McKinnon then blasted one of Hufty's choice offerings out of the field for a double, scoring one run, and the second counter scored on an infield out.

After two were out, three Nelsonites hit safety, but were again held to one run by good fielding. McKinnon hit Koehle in the back with a pitch to put the potential tying run on base in the last of the ninth, but the diminutive keystone sacker was stranded on third base.

It is expected Nelson will play Rossland in the Golden City next Sunday.

Ben Hogan Captures National Golf Open

By WILL GRIMSLEY

ARDMORE, Pa., June 11 (AP) —Ben Hogan, golf's game comeback man, today won the 50th National Open Golf Championships, blazing a one-under-par 69 in a three-way playoff with Lloyd Mangrum and George Fazio. Mangrum, with a two-stroke penalty, had 73, Fazio 75 over the Merion course where par is 36-34—70.

Playing like a machine, Hogan ripped around the East course in 36-33.

Mangrum, 1946 champion from Niles, Ill., had 36-37—73, losing his chance for the title when he was given a two-stroke penalty for cleaning his ball on the 16th green.

The Mangrum penalty added a bizarre touch to the exciting finish.

Mangrum measured a 20-foot putt and then his attention was distracted by an insect on the ball. He picked up the ball, blew on it and putted.

Regulations forbid cleaning of the ball on the putting green. So he took a two-over-par six and went three strokes back of the new champion. Hogan would have won without the penalty.

Hogan's legs had played out on him in the final round Saturday and he just managed to salvage the tie with Fazio and Mangrum.

The first inkling that the bantam idol of the huge gallery, was facing serious trouble came at the 12th hole of Saturday's hectic closing round when, after hitting his tee shot, he was seen to stagger and almost fall.

Oil drilling in Alberta in the third week of May, 1950, came close to a perfect score, with 17 out of 18 completed wells going into production.

Butter Output Drops While Oleo Climbs

OTTAWA, June 11 (CP).—While Canadian production of creamy butter is dropping, the output of margarine is steadily climbing.

The Bureau of Statistics reported today that production of creamery butter in May dropped from 31,987,000 pounds a year ago to 28,616,000.

The total five-month output for 1950 was estimated at 78,791,000, a drop of more than 3,000,000 pounds from last year's January-May production of 81,865,000.

Production of the butter substitute during May increased to 8,019,000 pounds from 7,190,000 last year, the Bureau said.

In the first five-month period of 1950, margarine output climbed to 42,922,000 pounds from 26,259,000 in the same period a year ago.

Russian Roulette Takes Boy's Life

McKEESPORT, Pa., June 11 (AP) —The dangerous game of Russian roulette took the life of a 15-year-old schoolboy Saturday while three young friends watched.

Killed was Anthony Petrulli. Police said the boy took all the bullets out of a revolver, replaced one, and spun the cylinder so he did not know which chamber contained the lone bullet. Then he put the gun to his forehead and pulled the trigger. Te hammer fell on the one loaded chamber.

PUBLIC NOTICE

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed tenders for the General Contract, including all trades, endorsed;

"Tenders for South Slocan High School," near South Slocan, B.C., for the erection and completion of a two class-room school will be received by the Secretary-Treasurer, School District No. 8 (Slocan) on or before 5 p.m., Saturday, June 17, 1950, at the office of the Secretary, Slocan City, B.C.

Working drawings and specifications will be available at the office of the Secretary, Slocan City, B.C.

A certified cheque for five per cent (5%) of the tender must accompany each and every tender and shall be forfeited if the party tendering declines to enter into Contract when called upon to do so. On award and signing of the Contract, the successful tenderer shall furnish to the Board of School Trustees a surety bond equal to fifty per cent (50%) of the Contract price. On receipt of this bond, the certified cheque submitted with the tender, will be returned.

The Board of School Trustees, and the Department of Education, reserves the right to reject any or all tenders without explanation. No tenders having any qualifying clauses will be considered.

A deposit of ten dollars ($10.00) is required for each set of plans and specifications and will be returned upon receipt of the same in good condition.

PAUL A. BARBER,
Secretary-Treasurer,
School District No. 8 (Slocan),
Dated at Slocan City, B.C., this ninth day of June, 1950.

These plans identical to recently issued Slocan City High School plans and addenda except for an intake pipe for a pressure pump to be installed in the mechanical room.

Stresses Need for Freedom of Press

MONTREAL, June 11 (CP)—Freedom of the press always is the first ended where freedom ceases to exist, John Bassett, president of the Gazette Printing Company, Ltd., of Montreal, Saturday night told the seventh Imperial Press Conference here.

Commonwealth editors and publishers arrived here Saturday for a three-day stay in Montreal before proceeding to Ottawa. They opened their conference in Quebec City last week.

Addressing a dinner meeting, Mr. Bassett said "in other and easier days, words spoken of freedom of the press had often a formal quality." This, however, is not the case now.

In recent years, the state of a free press in a free world was taken for granted as something normal and natural, but it is again being challenged, he said.

"A press gathering at such a time as this has a new significance and a new value. We are met not only to express our consciousness and our gratitude for the freedom we enjoy, the freedom to speak freely, write freely and to print freely.

"Far more than that we meet with a new awareness of the part that the free press plays in keeping freedom itself from the clutches of its enemies."

Chairman of the meeting was J. W. McConnell, President and publisher of the Montreal Daily Star and associate newspapers.

Gatineau Lumber Cut Setting New Record

OTTAWA (CP)—A record cut, topping even the boom-time drives of the last two years, has been reached in the pulpwood industry in the Gatineau this year.

Some 400,000 cords of pulpwood have started their $10,000,000 stampede to sawmills at Hull, Gatineau and Hawkesbury.

At $25 a cord—mill price—that is the estimate for this years' drive and it all adds up to big business.

Two thousand men are working with the peevy and pike-pole in the old tradition of the annual lumber drive to get the logs down river.

The Spring break-up was held back this year, delaying normal starting time of the drive for a couple of weeks.

The light Winter snowfall in the Northern bushlands resulted in a hard and deep cover of "black ice" on the lakes. It takes longer to melt than the normal "snow ice."

BELIEVES IT "CRIME" THAT YOUNG PEOPLE CAN'T AFFORD MARRIAGE

TORONTO, June 11 (CP).—Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Burton tomorrow celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary.

Hundreds of visitors are expected at Thornlea, their 15-acre home in suburban Thornhill. A whole field is being converted into a parking lot for the day.

Mr. Burton, former president and now chairman of the board of directors of the Robert Simpson Company, is 73. So is Mrs. Burton.

He calls it a "crime" that young persons must wait, sometimes for years, before they can afford marriage.

Even the Copies Are Worth a Fortune

The originals remain in England, but the copies of the British crown jewels, to be displayed at the International Trade Fair beginning May 29 at Toronto, are themselves worth a fortune. Here Arthur Cook, chief warder of the jewels, displays the jewelled sword of state to admirers in London. On the table, back row, left to right: St. Edward's crown, the Imperial crown of state and the Imperial crown of India. Centre row: King's orb, archbishop's cross and the altar cross. In front is the royal sceptre.—Central Press Canadian.

Aussie Housewives Query Government Living Costs

By LOUIS L. LECK
Canadian Press Correspondent

SYDNEY, Australia, (CP)—As in Canada, the cost of living nowadays is uppermost in the minds of most Australians.

Official statistics say that living costs increased about 60 per cent between September, 1939, and December 1949. Economists and housewives, however, claim that prices generally have doubled.

The reasons for this discrepancy are fairly simple. The Government statistics cover only basic items for a comparatively low living standard. Luxury items have increased more than the 60 per cent and, in many cases, the quality of goods has deteriorated. Goods are often in short supply and high-priced substitutes have to be purchased.

In addition, rent prices, which the Government claims have changed insignificantly, have been boosted by various devices to defeat controls and stand at about a 100-per cent increase.

DEFEAT CONTROLS

In 1939, for instance, it was possible to rent a two-bedroom cottage in a Sydney suburb for £1. 10. 0 (4.65) a week. Nominal rent for the same cottage today is unchanged, but "extras" would bring the real price to about £3. 10. 0. With an average wage in the area of £10 to £11, this is slightly more than the accepted North American figure of 25 per cent of income for rent.

Representatives of the increased food costs are butter, which now costs 2s. 2d. (34 cents) per pound compared with 1s. 8½d. prewar; peas and beans, 5d. per pound in 1939, now costs 1s. 3d.; six pounds of potatoes have gone from 6d. to 2s.

Government statistics on clothing show almost 200 per cent increase, but shoppers say it costs nearly four times the 1939 price to dress nowadays, but to inferior quality.

DUBIOUS FIGURES

Official figures also allow for a 50-per-cent increase in miscellaneous items—Transportation, entertainment, medical bills, etc. Australians again are dubious as to their practicality. Theatre prices have more than doubled, from 1s. 3d. in a suburban cinema to 2s. 9d.; cheap restaurant meals are up to 6s. from 2s. 6d.; for a permanent wave, a woman now pays £3. 3. 0 for what she paid £. 5. 6 10 years ago.

Wages have also gone up, but no one is quite sure as to the situation of the standard of living, because of their sceptical view of official cost-of-living statistics.

Unskilled laborers have had their wages doubled to about £9 ($27.90) a week. White-collar workers have increased salaries by about 60 per cent. Wages of from £6. 10. 0 to £14 now are roughly £10 to £20.

Three-Foot Lizard "Gives Itself Up"

KING WILLIAM'S TOWN, South Africa (CP) — Many dead lizards have been brought to the Kaffrarian Museum in the course of its long history, but the museum staff got a surprise one morning when a live three-foot water leguaan walked in through the back door of their laboratory.

Leguaans are outside lizards which look like a small version of something out of Conan Doyle's "The Lost World."

Arming himself with an old Japanese Samurai sword and a headed Kaffir knobkerrie, the director of the museum, Mr. C. J. Skead, trapped the leguaan behind a box and killed it. Half-an-hour later it was immortalized in a formalin bottle and has joined the museum's collection.

Phosphate Output At Pre-War Rate

AUCKLAND, N. Z. (CP) — One of the biggest post-war reconstruction jobs of the Pacific has reached an advanced stage on the phosphate islands of Nauru and Ocean which lie just below the equator.

These islands, vital to the great farming industries of Australia and New Zealand, were wrecked during the war by German raiders, Japanese bombers, and lastly by American bombers and capital ships during the Japanese occupation.

Their output now is equal to the highest pre-war record and may exceed that figure during the present year.

The Merchant Marine fleet of The Netherlands employs about 40,000 men.

$8000 Home Flooded

Holidays, Sunday, and every minute of spare time that Oscar Johnson, 145 Bartlett Avenue, Winnipeg, could muster, went into the building of an $8000 home that is now swimming in flood water up to the eaves. Their car, too, had to be left behind—the day before Mrs. Johnson's birthday, at that—so now they use a boat to make the occasional excursion back to their home. To help people like the Johnsons re-establish themselves, the Manitoba Flood Relief Fund has set out to raise $10,000,000.

What's New With Us?

Last week we received a big shipment of baby toys and rattles, a new bobby pin gadget, the latest styles in Sun Glasses by Grantly, a new line of wallets by Bourne, some very special Rubinstein sale goods, a Yardley shipment which includes their cream shampoo, a whole new shipment of books for adults and children.

More Questions for Motorists

TORONTO, June 11 (CP) — Toronto police who used to ask motorists, "where do you think you're going—to a fire?" Now want to know "How old is your youngest sister?"

The inquisitive cops are cooperating in a University of Toronto survey to find out the relation of liquor, psychology and other factors to accident probability.

Motorists who lock bumpers are likely to be handed a five-page questionnaire listing 78 questions such as:

Do you like the district you're living in?

Do you consider your parents were severe or were they too easy-going?

Do you remember ever having a cut that required stitches?

Do you read many books in a year?

The policeman may also ask you for a breath sample. He has two gadgets, one that registers alcohol content of the blood and another that just collects your breath to be taken to a laboratory for examination. They are trying to decide which is more efficient.

If you don't want to tell, you can keep your sister's age to yourself and your breath is your own business. If you do cooperate, however, the questionnaire assures you the information will be treated "in strictest confidence and used for experimental purposes only."

The survey is headed by Dr. Ward Smith of the University's Pharmacology Department.

FRIGHTENED GIRL TRIES TO CONVINCE CAMP OWNER SHE IS MISSING GIRL

HAMILTON, June 11 (CP). — A frightened girl calling herself Mabel Crumback turned up at a tourist camp near here Saturday and told a strange story of being held prisoner by a man who forced her to bleach her dark hair blonde.

She and her companion, a dark six-footer with a harelip, drove away before the wife of the tourist camp owner, Mrs. Wesley Jenne, realized that the girl might be the 19-year-old bookkeeper who disappeared mysteriously from her home in the Toronto suburb of York Township two weeks ago.

"She begged me to call the police," Mrs. Jenne said. "But I thought she was drunk and, to get rid of her, I told her I would call the police after she left."

She did—10 hours later.

Shown a photograph of the Crumback girl, Mrs. Jenne told police:

"It's the same girl, all right—except for the color of her hair."

Mrs. Jenne said the girl stopped for an hour at the tourist camp Friday morning with a man of whom she seemed terrified. She appeared drunk or drugged. She staggered and spoke so thickly that some of her remarks were incoherent. She nervously smoked cigarets.

At the Crumback home, Mabel's mother said it was hard to picture her attractive daughter as the dazed girl at the tourist camp.

"The description of this girl's behavior certainly doesn't correspond with that of my daughter," Mrs. Crumback told a reporter.

"But some madman and a handful of dope could easily have done this to my girl. It could be Mabel; it could easily be my daughter."

Mrs. Jenne said the girl kept repeating, "I'm Mabel Crumback." She wore a sheer pink dress which she called her "wedding gown" and alternately cried and sang.

Second Suspect Held on Timmins' Robbery Charge

TIMMINS, Ont., June 11 (CP)—A second suspect in the $75,000 gold robbery at Delnite Mine, 20-year-old Morley Latham, was arrested early Saturday.

Police said that Latham and Edward Clements, arrested last Sunday, were employed at the refinery and assisted in pouring gold bricks.

Both men are charged with breaking and entering.

A widespread search for the loot is being pressed and further arrests are expected. Planes and walkie-talkies are being used.

The thieves vanished June 2 with a 500-pound safe containing three bars of pure gold.

Clements is on bail awaiting trial.

CRUISER TRAPPED IN RAGING WATERS, FOUR PEOPLE DIE

PITTSBURGH, June 11 (AP) — Four persons died and four others were rescued today after a night of horror aboard a luxurious cabin cruiser which was trapped in the raging spillway waters of an Allegheny River dam.

The battered survivors — all men—were rescued by a group of daring boatmen at dawn. Clinging desperately to the swirling boat, they had watched the others swept away one by one.

The boat missed an 11-foot lock and swept over the dam.

After futile rescue attempts by a blimp, a seaplane and numerous small boats, a crew of volunteers drove a 100-foot sternwheel river tug into the violent waters and saved them.

Authorities listed the lost as Mrs. William Fisher, 29; Mrs. Carol Kreig, about 30, wife of one of the rescued men; William Lahey, Jr., about 25; and Hull Wright.

The cruiser was caught in the boiling eddies where the Allegheny drops 11 feet over the 300-yard-wide dam, about 15 miles Northeast of Pittsburgh.

It could not escape from the malestrom. The reverse current created by the plunging water drove the mahogany cruiser again and again into the face of the dam.

Volunteer firemen set up floodlights during the night on the riverbanks and played the beams on the doomed craft.

British Soldiers Killed, Wounded in Singapore Attack

SINGAPORE, June 11 (Reuters)—Six British soldiers were killed and three wounded when a gang of 40 Communist guerrillas attacked an army patrol Saturday in Perak.

One guerrilla was killed.

The British casualties were members of a King's Own Yorkshire Light Infantry section which was searching for a terrorist camp.

QUITE A GOOD EXCUSE

LONDON, June 11 (AP)—John Walter Shepherd was fined five shillings (77 cents) for being drunk. Shepherd was arrested while airing his 16-month-old twin daughters. "I had just been to a hospital where I learned that my wife had another set of twins," he explained. "I had a couple of nips to celebrate."

Western Allies Turn Down Russian Demands

BERLIN, June 11 (AP) — The Western Allies formally rejected Saturday a Russian demand for the withdrawal of all occupation troops from Berlin as the price for holding city-wide elections.

The three Western commandants by letter informed the Soviet Deputy Commandants that they back the stand of West Berlin's City Government, which already has turned down the Russian demand.

The West also rejected in detail most of the other seven conditions outlined by the Russians.

Army Training Plane Crashes

TULSA, Okla., June 11 (AP)—An Army C-47 plane carrying 18 persons crashed into three aviation school barracks on a take-off Saturday injuring three persons critically.

All those hurt were employees of the Spartan School of Aeronautics and were in the three buildings sheared by the plane's wings after it ripped through a fence at the end of a runway.

Witnesses said the craft never got over three feet off the ground.

Its impact with the fence, soft ground, the runway and prompt action by the airport fire crew probably averted a greater casualty toll.

Fire broke out in one engine after the crash but it was put out quickly.

The plane's left wing cut through each of the wooden buildings and the craft came to a stop with its tail resting against a fourth barracks in which 60 men were sleeping.

CIVIL AVIATION MEET COMPLETES LITTLE WORK

MONTREAL, June 11 (AP).—The International Civil Aviation Organization ended the second week of its assembly today with little work completed.

Prospects are dim for conclusive action on major policy problems before the expected adjournment next week. Much attention will be given, however, to organization problems, particularly a revision of assessments against member countries.

There has been a strong effort to increase the United States' share of the $2,900,000 annual budget from 19 per cent to 33 1/3 per cent.

The United States is now the largest contributor, paying almost double the amount of the United Kingdom, the second largest.

The reassessment plan does not name the United States for the one-third share. It merely states that no country shall be assessed more than one-third, which in the understanding of everyone here means the United States.

The American delegation has expressed a determination to go no higher than 20 per cent, or about $600,000 a year. Its position has been made difficult by the fact that the United States pays about 40 per cent of the United Nations budget.

The new council was elected for a three-year term at a general meeting today. New members are Denmark, Italy, Philippines, South Africa and Venezuela. Countries reelected are Argentina, Australia, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, Egypt, France, India, Iraq, Ireland, Mexico, Netherlands, Portugal, United Kingdom and United States.

TOKYO, June 11 (AP) — Life grew increasingly complex Saturday for Japan's Communists, already staggered by two purges of their top strategists.

On one side, the Chinese Communist Peiping radio—a link in the line to Moscow — urged them to "deal effective counterblows" to the purges ordered by Gen. Macarthur.

On the other side, the Government cracked down wherever the Communists raised their voices in public criticism of the United States occupation. Cabinet members and both rural and Tokyo police officials met with Premier Shigeru Yoshida to consider stronger measures.

Impatient About Seaway Project

CANTON, N.Y., June 11 (CP)—Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent of Canada said today Canadians "are getting rather impatient about the delay" in starting the St. Lawence Seaway and Power Project.

Mr. St. Laurent spoke at a convention at St. Lawrence University, where he received an Honorary Doctor of Laws degree.

"From end to end of Canada," he said, "there is an overwhelming feeling that a development which will strengthen and enrich this whole St. Lawrence area will benefit all parts of the continent.

"I said we in Canada were getting rather impatient. After all, it is 18 years since the first agreement which we were ready to carry out failed to get sufficient support in your (United States) Congress; and it is nine years since we made the second agreement.

"Our need in Canada is urgent; particularly for more electrical energy. If the Niagara Diversion treaty can be ratified quickly by your senate, that will help; but both countries need, and we in Canada certainly want, to get ahead with the larger scheme."

Mr. St. Laurent called for co-operation in defence production. Even in wartime, he recalled, Canadians paid cash for their defence purchases. They wanted to continue doing so.

"But we cannot buy unless we can also sell. We were particularly pleased by the announcement in Washington a few weeks ago that some of the obstacles to defence purchases in Canada had been cleared away, and that a program for such purchases on a reciprocal basis was being developed for the year beginning July 1.

Dies in Attempt To Save Racers In Burning Stable

CHICAGO, June 11 (AP) — A watchman perished and between 17 and 22 racing horses burned to death Friday in a fire which destroyed the huge barn on the Emil Denemark farm near suburban Hinsdale.

Denemark estimated the loss at $700,000.

Among horses that died in the fire was Curtice, which last year won the $57,850 Futurity at Washington Park race track.

Lightning struck the roof of the barn during a severe electrical storm, setting fire to some 200 tons of hay in the loft.

Frank Nemecek, 48, the watchman who died in the flames, attempted to rescue some of the frightened animals but was driven back by the intense heat.

Nemecek apparently was overcome by smoke.

Trygve Lie was appointed Secretary-General of the United Nations for a five-year term ending Feb. 1, 1951, the appointment being open for a further five years.

Flying Farmers Arrive Victoria

VICTORIA, B. C., June 11 (CP)—Fifty flying farmers from Washington State were holidaying in Victoria Saturday. They arrived Friday evening and were scheduled to leave late this afternoon.

They flew in 14 private planes, owned by some of their members.

The Flying Farmers' Association of Washington has built up its membership to about 200. The President is Chester Hensen, of Prousser, Wash. Leader of the flight to Victoria is Kenneth Patton, of Wenatchee.

The 50-farmers visiting Victoria left Wenatchee Friday morning, called at Chilliwack for lunch, and then flew here.
