Queen Charlottes Residents in "State of Alarm" After Week of Tremors; Camps, Wharf, Tanks Wrecked

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C., Aug. 30 (CP)—The British Columbia West Coast suffered more damage than was at first realized in the earthquake off the Queen Charlotte Islands Aug. 21, it was revealed today.

Belated reports from isolated Cumshewa Inlet in the Charlottes said the Aero Logging Company totted up damage estimated in the thousands of dollars.

The main tremor Sunday night dislodged two crude oil tanks containing 14,000 gallons of fuel. One carried away part of the company wharf in its fall, another crushed 75 feet of trestle when it struck the end of a logging railway.

The escaping fuel polluted a wide fishing and beach area.

Camp residences were shaken from their foundations, and the home of Manager George Bell was demolished.

All along the Cumshewa Inlet slides carried rocks and trees down the hillsides.

Company officials said the residents, who endured a week of diminishing shocks after the major tremor, were still "in a state of alarm."

The Northern portion of the Queen Charlottes is across the channel from Prince Rupert, and about 600 miles Northwest of Vancouver.

Previous reports had confined damage to toppled chimneys and a few minor earth fissures.

WEST POWER BLAMED IN CZECH ANTI-RED PLOT

Death Sentences Meted Out After Coup Fails

PLAN IN EMBASSY

By RICHARD KASISCHKE

PRAGUE, Aug. 30 (AP).—Czechoslovakia's Communist Government announced today it has smashed an armed revolt by a large number of conspirators who tried to seize the capital and set up an anti-Soviet regime.

The official account claimed the plotters were "under the direction of a certain Western imperialist power" and that a copy of their plan of action was deposited with an unnamed Western embassy in Prague by the conspirators.

SEIZE ARMED MEN

The Government said the revolt already was in motion when police seized armed rebels who had gathered at their pre-arranged concentration point.

The regime disclosed the smashing of the plot only after authorities were ready to announce that they already had tried and sentenced the accused participants in secret in the Prague State Court.

Six men were sentenced to death. Ten others, including three women, drew life sentences. An unspecified number received prison terms ranging from one to 25 years at hard labor, and 10 were acquitted.

SECOND CONVICTIONS

It was the second such secret conviction of alleged terrorists announced in the last four days. The Government disclosed Saturday that the State Court at Melnik, North of Prague, had sentenced a nine-man band of alleged terrorists to terms of four years to life for trying to overthrow the Government.

Spokesmen for Western embassies in Prague said they were "as surprised as anyone could be" by the story of the plot and the charge that a Western power was involved.

Strike Threat Comes To Lumber Industry At "Crucial" Time

By RAY TIMSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER, Aug. 30 (CP) — The multi-million- dollar lumber industry, which provides one-third of every British Columbia dollar, and which attracts about one-sixth of Marshall Plan dollars spent in Canada, today faces a strike by 32,000 coastal loggers.

Trade experts describe the time of the threatened walkout as "crucial."

Machinery to supervise the strike vote among the loggers, members of the International Woodworkers of America (CIO-CCL), is being put into gear today by the Provincial Labor Relations Board. All B. C legal strikes must be supervised and this is expected to be the Board's biggest task since it was so empowered by the Legislature in 1947.

REJECTION SUPPORTED

The union claims its major locals, in weekend balloting overwhelmingly ratified President Stewart Alsbury's wholesale rejection of a recent Conciliation Board report and his subsequent call for strike action. The Conciliation Board's report followed a rather unique approach by the 165 logging camp operators concerned in the dispute.

They carried the 1949 wage battle to the union's doorstep instead of modifying the I.W.A. demand for a 15-cent hourly increase, a procedure not so unfamiliar in the last few years, the operators fired at the loggers a surprise counter-proposal A basic salary slash of 13 cents an hour.

Forest Industrial Relations, voice of the operators, claimed the union's demands, which included an employer-paid welfare plan, union shop and a reduction to $1.50 present $2.00 daily board rates, would cost the industry $22,004,256 a year. The union claimed the operators were "crying wolf."

NO CHANGES

Last Friday, the Conciliation Board handed down its decisions which, in the main, recommended no changes in the present contract. The ruling, which was not binding, threw out simultaneously the union's demands for 15 cents more and the operators' proposal for 13 cents less.

Policy Committee of the I.W.A. immediately called for strike action.

It Depends on How You Look at It

BALTIMORE, Aug. 30 (AP) — Front view, it's a cat; rear view, a rabbit.

This freak fugitive was chased out of the woods at Back River near here yesterday by Major, the communtly mongrel, and ran smack into a net held by Leonard and Edward Claridge.

From the waistline North, the creature has every appearance of a docile tabby. But South of that border, it's all bunny.

It stands like a cat with a sagging stern, but it hops like a bunny. It has a growl all its own—nothing like a cat or dog, and it eats only raw meat.

Right now it's in a pen with Major serving as guard.

Move Police, Arms for 'Possible War on Tito'

Muster Force on Yugoslav Border, Deserters Reveal Call to Service in Greece; Moscow Steps Up Name-Calling

By CARTER L. DAVIDSON

BERLIN, Aug. 30 (AP)— The West-Berlin newspaper Sozialdemokrat said today a vanguard of 3500 heavily-armed East-German police have been sent to the Yugoslav border for "a possible war against Tito."

The newspaper said perhaps 12,000 more will be sent for "anti-Tito action" in the Balkans, and "with feverish hurry, tanks, guns and other military equipment are being loaded on trains and trucks to go with the German police troops."

British and United States intelligence officers said they knew of the report, but could not confirm it. Socialdemokrat is the British-licensed newspaper of the Social Democratic Party which claims to have an extensive network of underground agents in the Soviet zone.

WITH GUERRILLAS

The newspaper's report followed disclosure by the United States Military Government that five East-German policemen fled into the American zone at Hof, saying they escaped to avoid military service with Communist guerrillas in Greece. The escaped policeman said the Russians had isued an order for all unmarried members of the East-German police under 25 years of age to be recruited for the service.

The Volkspolizei (People's Police) of the Russian zone is reported to have a target enrolment of 300,000, but is believed to actually number only about 80,000 men under the command of Soviet General Smirnov. It has participated in military-style training.

By NATE POLOWETSKY

LONDON, Aug. 30 (AP) — Soviet Russia tonight accused Premier Tito of Yugoslavia and his lieutenants of being deceiving double-dealers and stooges of Western masters.

The newest Moscow note to Belgrade, eighth in the name-calling battle between the two Communist capitals, made no mention of Yugoslavia's recent offer to settle outstanding differences. The Yugoslav note of Aug. 23 offered to settle the feud—provided Russia will clearly recognize that the Balkan state is determined to stay independent in all her politics.

Nor did Russia make further mention of the threat voiced in a Moscow note of Aug. 19 to take "more effective measures" for protection of Soviet citizens alleged to have suffered brutalities in Yugoslavia.

100 MEN FIGHT BLAZE ATOP MT. COQUIHALLA

Ban Fishing to Protect Coastal Forest Sections

HAZARD GROWS

PRINCETON, B.C., Aug. 30 (CP). —More than 100 men today fought a stubborn 100-acre fire, described as the worst in many years, on the 4000-foot summit of Mt. Coquihalla, 30 miles West of here.

Though flames have leaped through the ring of fighters several times, there is little danger to property, The Canadian Pacific Railway mainline is the main property in the line of the fire's path.

Forestry officials said the outcome depended on the weather. A typical late-Summer hot spell has increased the fire hazard, and humidity is as low as 20 per cent.

Ranger Harry Dearing, supervisor of the mountain district, said 70 blazes had broken out during the season, compared with a dozen last year. Property loss, in view of the isolated nature of the area, has been almost nil.

VANCOUVER, Ag. 30 (CP).—Further protective measures were taken by the Provincial Forest Service today as the fire hazard increased in British Columbia timber stands.

All fishing permits for the coastal Silver Creek and Skagit areas were cancelled by officials who reported the situation there as "very dangerous."

They said if thunderstorms should break they would be faced with the task of keeping "hundreds" of lightning-ignited flash fires under control.

SEATTLE, Aug. 30 (AP).—Critical fire conditions in Eastern Washington have prompted State forestry officials to ask the Game Department to consider cancellation of the grouse hunting season now set for Sept. 4-5.

Moving Magnetic Pole Still Within Canada, Scientists Find

OTTAWA, Aug. 30 (CP)—A team of scientists and airmen flew back to nearby Rockcliffe today from their annual pole patrol and reported that the Magnetic North Pole is still functioning normally, well inside Canadian territory.

The Magnetic Pole, which jumps around a daily orbit of about 30 miles radius, is some 1000 sea miles South and slightly West of the geographic North Pole. Its location is about 73½ degrees North, 100 degrees West.

Back to report that Canada's Magnetic Pole is more or less behaving itself was Ralph D. Hutchison, chief magnetician of the Dominion Observatory, who found phenomenon carrying on normally with its centre in Owmmanney Bay, on the Northwest side of Prince of Wales Island.

Along with Hutchison were an assistant, Philip N. Daykin of Vancouver; a geographer, Ben Shinman, and a seven-man crew.

Using special instruments, the 10 men roughed it in the islands in and around the Magnetic Pole, and "Operation Magnetic Pole" carried them in a criss-cross journey over a wide area of roughly 1,250,000 square miles, all North of the 60th parallel.

WONDERS 200 MILES

Glenn Madill, head of the Dominion Observatory Terrestrial Magnetism Section, said from observations, he believed Canada's Magnetic Pole, which moved roughly 200 miles North over the 120 years it has been studied, is moving generally in a Northwesterly direction.

Whether it will continue in the same course is a question. Its centre moves from five to 10 miles a year.

The Cabinet, after two hours of discussion, approved the proposals put forward.

Near the end of the sale an impressive suit of Japanese armor was put up. "How much for this?" said the auctioneer.

A youthful voice rang out "one shilling" (20 cents).

There was silence. People gazed at each other and smiled. The auctioneer waited with poised hammer. Down it went, and he took the boy's shilling for a suit of armor worth £20 ($80).

The boy triumphantly wheeled away his bargain in a baby carriage. But he left without the sword and shield, which were sent on to him.

WARWICK, R.I., Aug. 30 (AP)—Police have suspended the driving licence of Maurice A. Sazarko.

The customers at his golf driving range hooked into left field so consistently that a bucketful of balls was picked up in a yard across the street, police said.

Labelling such driving a "public hazard," Chief Forrest R. Sprague lifted Sazarko's licence until he builds a better fence or heads his hooking customers in another direction.

LONG BEACH, Calif., Aug. 30 (AP)—The gambling grandmother of Gardena's Poker Parlors is taking glutamic acid again, and this time authorities will see she keeps it up for at least six months.

She'll be in jail that long, under the care of the jail physician, who thinks the drug might cure her craving for gambling.

Mrs. Sula Bell Stimson, 49, told Judge Fred Miller yesterday she didn't have the desire to gamble as long as she took glutamic-acid treatments, but that she had quit taking the medicine after her release from jail in June

Poker is legal in nearby Gardena, but Mrs. Stimson has been passing checks, say police, to cover her gambling losses. Her passion for poker came upon Mrs. Stimson in middle age The doctor hopes glutamic acid will restore her original personality—that of a normal housewife.

Glutamic acid—a protein brain food—has been used with some success in similar cases. It tends to replace deficiencies in the cranial system.

Red Sox Chop Off Tigers' Win Streak

By STEVE ROBERTSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The Boston Red Sox Tuesday smashed the eight-game winning streak of both Detroit Tigers and Pitcher Freddie Hutchinson. The 3-0 victory put the second-place Sox just three games back of the American League leading New York Yankees, who were beaten 6-2 by St. Louis Browns.

Washington Senators beat Chicago White Sox, 1-0, and the game between Cleveland Indians and Philadelphia Athletics was rained out.

At Detroit, with Ellis Kinder scattering five hits, the Red Sox were early winners. Verne Stephens smashed his 35th homer with empty bases in the second. In the fifth inning Dom DiMaggio singled, Johnny Pesky walked and Ted Williams advanced both with an infield out. Stephens was passed to load the bags but Hutchinson couldn't settle down. He walked Bobby Doerr, forcing DiMaggio across the plate. DiMaggio's eighth home run finished the scoring in the ninth.

BROWNS BEAT YANKS

Rookie Roy Sievers batted in three runs to help the Browns beat the top-running Yankees at St. Louis. Stan Spence contributed two other Brown runs, and hit two doubles.

At Chicago, Bill Wight's throwing error and Sam Dente's 10th inning fly enabled Eddie Yost to score the winning run, while Lloyd Hittle on the Washington mound gave only three singles for his second straight shut-out over Chicago.

The two National League games saw the St. Louis Cardinals' lead cut to 1 ½games over Brooklyn. Boston Braves beat the Cards 12-4, while Brooklyn defeated Pittsburgh 4-3.

Over the season, the Braves have lost 15 out of the 19 to the Cards, but at Boston yesterday they garnered 16 hits for 31 bases off five Card pitchers. There were homers by Jeff Heath, Bill Salkeld and Sibby Sisti. Heath led the Boston attack with four runs bated in, three of them on his eighth homer of the year. Sisti drove in three and Salkeld two. The Cards had only three hits off Vern Bickford until the seventh, when Stan Musial poled his 27th homer.

At Brooklyn it was Gil Hodges' 21st homer with one aboard in the ninth that gave the Dodgers their fourth straight over Pittsburgh. Hodges' smash sent the little Pittsburgh righthander, Murry Dickson, o the showers, ending a five-game winning streak.

1. The Creston Reclamation Company shall indemnify to the satisfaction of the Commission, any persons or interests on the United States side of the International Boundary who may suffer damage or injury attributable to the Company's dykes.

2. Pending determination by the Province of British Columbia regarding the purpose or purposes for which the lands shall be utilized in order to best serve the public interests, the Company shall not extend its main river dyke North of the ridge of high ground which cuts diagonally across the area of the application from the River bank near the junction of the East and main channels, Northeasterly to the vicinity of the foothills and is intersected by North latitude 49 degrees 12': nor shall the dyke be extended North of that limit until flood control storage has been provided in the Kootenay River watershed upstream from Bonners Ferry, Idaho, sufficient in amount to more than compensate for the effects of the dykes constructed under this order on the levels of the Kootenay River at and above the International Boundary; but the Company is hereby authorized to construct a cross dyke along or near the crest of the high ridge to make possible as soon as practicable the utilization of approximately 3200 acres of land in the South end of the Duck Lake area for agricultural puropses, without disturbing the outlet of Duck Creek to Kootenay Lake.

3. Nothing in this order shall be construed as freeing and relieving the applicant of any claims for injuries, damage or loss sustained by reason of its works to any person or persons or corporation or any other interest in Canada or the United States which may be affected by such works, and which are not otherwise provided for herein.

In the preamble it was pointed out that the total area involved in the proposal amounted to some 8100 acres of which approximately 700 acres were included in the application approved by the Commission under its order of April 3, 1928, and the remaining 7400 acres constituted lands not dealt with previously by the Commission.

It was also stated that in view of the objections of wildlife interests, the applicant's solicitor gave an undertaking dated June 21, 1948, to reserve for wildlife purposes an area of about 2000 acres of Duck Lake from the area contained in the application.

Tougher on Horse Than on His Rider

By JOHN ORMONDE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER, Aug. 30 (CP) — Don't scoff at the two-buck bettor who bets on all the blue-eyed jockeys born South of Kamloops.

Take Mrs. Irene Hunter, a little black-haired woman who is leading trainer at the Exhibition Park meet here. She puts the whammy on every race in which she has a horse entered. And it's paying off.

It works this way: writes Ken (Vancouver Province) McConnell:

Mrs. Hunter looks over the field, decides what horse has the best chance of whipping her steed and then bets on that horse.

"It's a hoodoo," McConnell writes.

The other day Mrs. Hunter entered Sparkling Blue in a mile race. She wagered on Union Jack, the favorite and the "horse to beat." Sparkling Blue won galloping, paid $13.50 on the nose.

Union Jack? It was dead last.

THE POOR HORSE

Also in the racing world, Alf Cottrell has been reminiscing about the time medicos at Shaughnessy Hospital here were giving old-time English jockey Paddy Hartshorn, the once-over.

Asked why he had a silver plate in his head, says Cottrell, Paddy told how a horse had tossed him at Doncaster, Eng., more than 50 years ago, and then kicked him in the head.

"Did it give you much pain?" the doctor asked.

"No," said little Paddy, "but the horse broke his shoe and was lame for three weeks."

Ovation for Cranbrook Band

CRANBROOK, B.C., Aug. 30—A huge crowd of citizens gave Cranbrook High School Girls Band a great ovation on their arrival Sunday from the Pacific National Exhibition at Vancouver, where the Band captured a trophy as smartest-appearing band.

The C.P.R. depot was jammed as the 40 band members and their officers descended from their special sleeping car, and the roar of welcome which went up was continued until they were safely stowed into a special bus which conveyed them to Proc's Cafe, where Mayor R. E. Sang and service club officers voiced pleasure and pride in the Band's accomplishments during a week's stay at the Coast city.

The Band tied with Vancouver Firemen's Band for top parade honors as "smartest appearing" bands in the P.N.E. opening day parade, to be awarded a duplicate trophy.

The Cranbrook girls, none over 17 years of age, "stole the show" as continued handclasps, cheers and whistles greeted their four-mile long hike through jammed Vancouver thoroughfares Aug. 24. Two shows were given at Exhibition Park that afternoon and evening, one again on Thursday, and a final one on Friday, when the trophy was awarded at the outdoor stage.

He was fireman and engineer here until he retired a few years ago to make his home at the Coast. He was active in labor affairs and politics during his long residence here.

His wife and three daughters, Mrs. J. Haroer, Mrs. D. C. Macdonald and Madeline and one son, Thomas W. Brondsdon, all in Vancouver, a brother, Stanley G. Brondsdon at Revelstoke and three sisters in England survive him.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30 (AP) — Samuel William Renick, an ex-jockey, picked a 72-to-1 winner at Aqueduct race track today, bet $50 on the horse's nose—and then lost his ticket, worth $3680.

$100,000 Fire in Sault Ste. Marie

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Aug. 30 (CP)—Firemen stood by helplessly for an hour today as a $100,000 fire swept through the yards of the Chromium Mining and Smelting Corporation, one of the Soo's largest industries. No one was injured.

Flames ate through power lines from the Great Lakes Power Company which cross the property and left water mains without pressure. The city was left without lights and telegraph communications were temporarily disrupted.

Large lumps of burning material flew high in the air to explode like rockets as flames spread. Pressure was restored and subsidiary power lines were cut in but not until after a tar-paper-covered cat-walk had burned through and collapsed across the road leading through the property to the power canal.

COMMONS SEATS OPEN AFTER APPOINTMENTS

OTTAWA, Aug. 30 (CP)—Appointments to the Bench caused four of the seven vacancies which now exist in the Commons, elected in the general Federal election June 27.

Hon. Ernest Bertrand, former Postmaster General and Member of the Commons for Montreal Laurier, has been appointed to the Montreal division of the Quebec Court of King's Bench. Hon. Joseph Jean, former Solicitor General and Member for Montreal Mercier, has been appointed to the Montreal division of the Quebec Superior Court.

A similar post went to Elphege Marier, the Liberal Member for Montreal Jacques Cartier. Eugene Marquis, Member for the Quebec Constituency of Kamouraska, was appointed to the Quebec division of the Superior Court.

Deaths caused two other vacancies. Benoit Michaud, Liberal Member for the New Brunswick Constituency of Resitouche-Madawaska, died yesterday and J. E. McMillen, Progressive Conservative Member for Toronto Greenwood, died more than a week ago.

The remaining vacancy resulted from the appointment of Leon J. Raymond, Liberal Member for the Quebec Constituency of Gatineau, as Clerk of the Commons.

Dates have not yet been set for by-elections to fill the vacancies. Present standing of the Commons:

Liberals, 188; Progressive Conservatives, 40; C.C.F., 12; Social Credit, 10; Independent, four; Independent Liberal, one; vacant, seven; total 262.

Russ. Clears Way For Mercy Drug

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 30 (AP).—A brief message has sent 60 grams of streptomycin on a long errand of mercy—from New Haven to Moscow.

The drug was sent to a Russian girl by two of her relatives in Connecticut. They answered a plea from the girl's home in Moscow.

"Please send 60 grams steptomycin to your 19-year-old niece who is deathly ill," the telegram said.

Russian diplomatic offices in New York and Washington gave assurances the drug would reach the young girl.

OTTAWA, Aug. 30 (CP) — The Finance Department announced today that Canadians now may obtain permits from banks for expenditure of "reasonable amounts" in Canadian dollars for travel in Switzerland.

Previously, a Canadian wanting to travel in Switzerland had to spend United States dollars. This limited him to the $150 a year Canadians are allowed for travel purposes. In future, travel expenditures in Switzerland will be authorized only in the form of Canadian dollar travellers' checks, but for larger amounts.

MONTESANO, Wash., Aug. 30 (AP)—An information charging kidnapping and second degree assault was filed today against the step-father of a veteran amputee by Prosecutor Stanley J. Krause.

Frank Case, 52, was charged with imprisoning and "holding in service" 22-year-old Henry Chum "with intent to extort" by cashing his Government pension checks.

Comet Jet-Liner Interests Aussies

SYDNEY, Australia, Aug. 31 (CP)—Arthur, Coles, Chairman of the Australian Government's National Airlines Commission, left here today for Canada and Britain to inspect new jet airliners.

With him are George Watt, Secretary to the Treasury and Director of the Airlines Commission, and John Watkins, Technical Superintendent to Trans-Australia Airlines, which is operated by the Commission.

They are particularly interested in the recently-tested Avro jet airliner. But if this plane is built in Canada they may prefer to buy the non-dollar British jets.

The Melbourne Herald said Australian National Airways, privately-owned competitor of Trans-Australia Airlines, is likely to buy 10 of the Vickers Viscount turbo-prop airliners with delivery late in 1951.

The Herald said Quantas, the Government's main overseas airline, is interested in long-range jets and that Quantas' retiring chief engineer left this week to investigate the new De Havilland jet airliner, the Comet.

It said a recent survey off Alaska disclosed that there are important fishing grounds in the area that as yet have been barely touched.

"Drags made from Norton Sound (South of Nome) to the Southern end of Nunivak Island revealed rock sole, lemon sole, starry flounder, yellowfin sole, capelin and cod of prime marketable size.

"The fishermen agreed that they have never seen any better cod than in this area. The cod were meaty and weighed up to 20 pounds each."

Victorious March Westwards by Chinese Reds, 170 Miles From Canton

Nationalists Reinforce Positions To Hold Kukong, Northern Gateway

CANTON, Aug. 30 (AP)—The Communist threat to Canton mounted today.

Jucheng, 170 miles North of Canton, was lost to a Red force, news dispatches said. The victorious Communists struck Westward in an apparent attempt to cut the Canton-Hankow Railroad and Nationalist supply lines.

The Ministry of National Defence reported a new Communist drive from Kiangsi Province aimed at Lungchuan, a city well inside Kwantung Province. The Ministry did not say whether the Reds had crossed the border.

Lungchuan is 145 miles East Northeast of Canton and 115 miles Northeast of the British crown colony of Hong Kong.

The loss of Jucheng, in Southeastern Hunan Province, caused more immediate concern here in the Nationalist provisional capital. The Nationalists immediately reinforced their positions on the Kwangtung-Hunan border to try to hold Kukong, the Northern gateway to Canton.

CIVILIANS FLEE

Large numbers of civilians were fleeing Southward from Kukong, which is 125 miles North of Canton.

There were reports here that reinforcements from Hainan Island were being rushed to Canton for dispatch Northward to meet the new threat.

Top Nationalists leaders conferred here on plans to defend Kwangtung. Chiang Kai-shek, however, remained in Chungking, where he is trying to reconcile differences between Szechwan warlords and the Commander of the Southwest, Gen. Chang Chung, former Premier.

Meanwhile, in the far Northwest, Singing, capital of Tsinghai Province, appeared in grave danger. A commercial airline pilot said he was forced to turn back from the airfield there yesterday by Nationalist defenders who said the field was not safe.

Has Stalin's Row With Tito Hurt His Prestige With Other States?

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press News Analyst

One of the hottest pieces of current news out of Europe is the report reaching Washington that Stalin's hold on the Communist satellite States has been badly shaken by Moscow's row with Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia.

John M. Hightower, Associated Press diplomatic expert in Washington, says this information is contained in highly-responsible reports from Eastern Europe.

GROWING DISCONTENT?

Sensational as this news is, it is not surprising. This column numerous times has pointed out that the trend in Eastern Europe, and especially the Kremlin-Tito fight, might be expected to weaken Russia's hold on the satellites. Czechoslovakia, Poland and Hungary all have powerful elements of opposition to Red rule. And Finland has refused to bow to Moscow.

The Yugoslav dictator's defiance, in refusing to surrender his country's sovereignty to Moscow, has placed Russia in the difficult position of having to make him eat crow—and quickly—unless she is to sustain a disastrous loss of face among the satellites.

OMINOUS SIGNS

Of course mighty Russia could handle Yugoslavia by force handily enough if there weren't outside interference. But there might be outside interference. There might be another world war going full tilt overnight.

Troop movements in neighboring Bulgaria and Romania have led to speculation that war might be developing between them and Yugoslavia. That could be, but here again Moscow would be running a great risk in letting such a conflict develop, because it could grow into world conflict.

That leaves the Muscovites with the alternatives of trying to smash Tito economically, or of inspiring a revolt against him among his own people.

WEST COOPERATIVE

The economic approach already has been tried without the desired success. On orders from the Kremlin, neighboring satellites cut Yugoslavia off from essential supplies. The unexpected result was that Tito promptly turned to the West for aid—and got it. Washington approved his purchase of equipment for a big steel mill, and the indications are that he also will get a large loan from the World Bank.

Italy's Post War Harvest Good

ROME, Aug. 30 (AP) — Italy is harvesting her largest post-war wheat crop despite the worst drought in some 50 years, the Central Institute of Statistics reported today.

The Institute said forecasts Aug. 1 were for a 1949 wheat crop of 6,860,000 tons, about 12 per cent greater than last year's crop.

The drought, however, reduced harvest forecasts for rice and corn. This year's rice crop may be about nine per cent smaller than 1948 and the corn harvest 1.8 per cent less than last year, the Institute announced. Total harvest estimates of the latter crops were not given.

ALBERTA GOVT. LEADS IN HOUSING AID

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Aug. 30 (CP)—Steps to stimulate home ownership in Canada may be taken by the various Governments as a result of recent discussions between Reconstruction Minister Winters and Premiers of the 10 provinces.

Under the present National Housing Act regulations, a down payment of between $1800 and $3000 is required on a five-room bungalow costing from $7000 to $10,000.

There have been recent unofficial reports that the Federal Government will reduce the required payment by as much as 50 per cent. There has been some speculation the provinces and municipalities may take complementary steps to make it easier for the average worker to become a home owner.

A recent survey by The Canadian Press showed that provincial action in the housing field has been limited and varied since the end of the war.

Here are some of the things the survey disclosed in the Western provinces:

MANITOBA

Apart from aiding in the erection of a few buildings on the University of Manitoba campus, the province has stayed out of the housing field.

SASKATCHEWAN

Saskatchewan has provided some 700 housing units, largely for veterans' families, in 15 municipalities.

ALBERTA

The Provincial Government has given various forms of assistance. It purchased war surplus United States Army huts at Dawson Creek and brought them to Edmonton where they were turned over to the city. The province provided about $1,000,000 to convert the huts into 238 suites of one, two and three bedrooms. Some are reserved for veterans attending the University of Alberta.

The Government bought surplus buildings at 27 Army and Air Force bases in Alberta, demolished them and sold materials to private home builders at 30 per cent of cost.

The province brought in plumbing fixtures, nails and other articles in short supply and sold them direct to home builders at cost. Veterans were given priority on the goods.

BRITISH COLUMBIA

Victoria reported that there has been no Provincial Government housing assistance.

"Operation Snail" To Spread To Australia

MELBOURNE, Australia, Aug. 30 (Reuters) — House-hungry Australians have welcomed an announcement that 1000 British railway-workshop workers will migrate to Australia this year bringing their own prefabricated houses with them.

The "bring your own homes" plan—called by W. S. Kent Hughes, Victoria Transport Minister, "Operation Snail"—grew out of negotiations between the Victoria government, architects and builders, the British Board of Trade and a firm of prefabricated house contractors in Nottingham, England.

Some of the prefabs have arrived ahead of the first batch of migrants, who are urgently needed to augment Victoria's railway staffs.

The finished cost of the prefabs in Australia is expected, Hughes said, to be £1420 ($5680) for a three-bedroomed house, inclusive of fencing, paths and all services.

Six Months Jail Sentence for Theft

Malcolm McLeod, Nelson laborer, and Albert Kelly, transient, are serving six months' hard labor in Nelson Provincial Jail following their conviction on a charge of theft of brass fittings and other articles from the Nasookin.

The articles were located in a second hand store.

The two men pleaded guilty before Magistrate William Brown in City Police Court Tuesday.

Troubles Pile Up

PORT ALBERNI, B.C., Aug. 30 (CP).—Lucien Soriel's brand-new automobile went up in flames, but that's only the beginning of his trouble.

The car, which was stopped by British Columbia Police as it sped flaming through a downtown street, was impounded after officers put out the flames.

He was charged with driving without a licence.

And the status of his ownership and insurance may be open to question, police said.

To top it all off, the municipality is reported considering billing him for a call to volunteer firemen which his flaming drive touched off.

TOURIST TRAVEL WILL INCREASE IF "GOAT TRAILS" IMPROVED

OTTAWA, Aug. 30 (CP) — Canada's 1949 tourist trade is expected to break all records, D. Leo Dolan, Director of the Canadian Travel Bureau, said today.

Month by month records are being shattered, the Government Director said in an interview.

On a rough basis, said Mr. Dolan, Canada should get about $300,000,000 in American dollars through tourist trade this year.

That would be about 10 per cent more than the industry obtained last year when it counted $270,000,000 in receipts from U.S. tourist customers.

Last year Canada's playgrounds and urban areas lured 6,000,000 American vacationists for a period of more than two days. This year, Mr. Dolan said, the figure likely will be around 6,600,000.

Last year the Dominion entertained 25,000,000 short-term American visitors, that is travellers who stay for two days or less. The figure this year is expected to hit 27,000,000.

Mr. Dolan gave this bright picture of tourist trade after he left a meeting of the Ottawa Rotary Club. He said there that if Canada's tourist industry is to continue to show improvement, some of the "goat trails" that have been termed National Highways will have to be improved.

The Provinces had done considerable work in highway improvement but more had to be done if the Dominion was to have roads comparable with those in the U.S.

Circumstances Alter Cases, Says Judge

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 30 (AP) — Longshoreman Jose Venegas, 48, was only smoking a cigaret, but the judge gave him 180 days in jail.

The reason: He was smoking aboard a ship, the Grace Line freighter Santa Juana, loaded with 7660 cases of dynamite, 2000 kegs of blasting powder and 14 cases of dynamite caps.

Fortunate Child Who Has Patient And Sympathetic School Teacher

HOW well the child's speech has been developed by the time he enters school will bear a close relation to his success at school. The child who has infantile speech is greatly handicapped. If he talks as many other children talk at two or three, other children will notice his speech and tend to treat him as a child much younger than he is. Surely the teacher will consider him very immature.

SPEECH ERRORS

Many children on beginning speech have trouble with certain sounds. Samples of such difficulties are d for g, t for c, ch for q, b for v. If these children have not gradually overcome these difficulties before entering school they are handicapped, since such speech errors class them as infantile.

If your child, about to enter school, has some such speech difficulties don't get panicky and try to make him over all at once. If you do you will make him self-conscious and cause him to appear more infantile than he has appeared up to now. Plan a slow, patient program. Hold yourself to speak more distinctly in his presence. Often read to him, especially from nursery rhymes that contain these troublesome sounds. (My bulletins "The Young Child's Speech," and "Your Child and His Playmates" may be had in a stamped envelope sent me in care of this paper.)

SERENE ATMOSPHERE

Occasionally you should say the correct sound after him nonchalantly but not insist then that he repeat after you.

You will do most to cause this child to want to speak distinctly as you help him grow more self-reliant physically and emotionally. A mark of this growth will be his increasing enjoyment with other children of his age.

In case he stutters (not a mark of infantilism), you should not stop him or correct him but work chiefly on yourself to create a very serene and comfortable atmosphere for him. Also you should plan a calmer program for him. It is fortunate if this child has a very serene, patient, sympathetic teacher who in turn has the help of a speech expert at school. (My bulletin, "The Young Child Who Stutters," and "The Nervous Child" my be had in a stamped envelope sent me in care of this paper.)

Farmer, Scientist Is Petunia Expert

EDMONTON (CP)—At a glance, Robert Simonet of Edmonton is an ordinary citizen-farmer who can be seen any Saturday morning selling his produce at the city market place.

But Mr. Simonet also is a scientist. Unknown to many of his fellow Edmontonians, he is one of the world's leading producers of 100-per-cent pure strain, double-headed petunia seeds.

His laboratory is the hot-house in his back yard. His laboratory technicians are five or six young girls who, with the aid of tweezers, artificially cross-pollinate hundreds of petunia seed specimens.

Mr. Simonet's method of deriving pure strain double-headed petunais began by crossing two doubles. The next year 75 per cent were found to be doubles, the rest singles. Doubles then were crossed with singles. In the third year, one-third of the original 75 per cent turned out doubles.

Theoretically, this one-third was pure strain double-headed petunias. But the proof of purity is further chose-pollination. Mr. Simonet spends most of his time on his knees continuing his research among his beloved petunias.

Good Food Habits Prolong Life's Span So Count Calories After 40

How would you like to belong to a longevity club—a club whose prime purpose is to help you live longer?

Unfortunately, longevity clubs are rare, but why not appoint yourself a committee of one to work on the long-and-happy-life aim? Start with the three meals a day. Then when you're a centenarian and someone asks to what you attribute your ripe old age, speak right up and tell him, "Good food habits."

Scientists and nutritionists agree that nutrition plays an important role in longevity and that what you eat between the ages of 40 and 60 determines to a large extent whether you are to have a vigorous old age, or just old age.

NEVER FAT

Without adequate calcium, iron, protein and vitamins, the body grows old prematurely. Make sure the daily meals include: a pint of milk, 2 or 3 vegetables—1 a dark green leafy or yellow, 2 or 3 fruits—1 a citrus, an egg, a serving of lean meat, fish or fowl, and whole-grain or enriched cereal or bread and butter. The vague aches, pains and dyspepsia of old age are often directly traceable to an absence of adequate amounts of these foods.

As we get along in years, a greater proportion of the calories must be in these essential foods, since fewer calories are needed because of lessened activity, internal and external. And there is another factor we can bank on: Normal weight is essential not only to good health in old age, but to longevity. Proof? People who live to a very ripe old age are never fat!

Leading Lady in Home Drama

MANY of us have played in amateur theatricals, or in a High School play or church production. Very glamorous we felt in costume and make-up. Nervous about our "lines" and whether or not we could "put it over." But no matter how good we might be, the show could not run smoothly without the assistance of the property-man, man dashed around putting this or that in the exact position for instant use. A missing or misplaced "prop" would slow down the whole production.

Every homemaker is playing a part in a one-person production 365 days a year. First act, breakfast. Second, luncheon. Third, dinner. Scene, the kitchen. Star and supporting cast, stage hands and property-man, "Yourself." You are the whole show!

MEAL-TIME DRAMA

Whether the three times a day meal-time drama is a tragedy or comedy, a success or failure, depends upon you. And a lot hinges on the property-man angle. Especially with that matter of the kitchen time savers, such as the electric mixer, the waffle iron or electric roaster, or a food-chopper, or a wooden chopping bowl and chopping knife, or smaller equipment such as a strainer or can opener. These appliances make meal preparations faster and simpler, if—and here's the rub—you, the property-woman, keep them always "on location" where they can be used as needed. This means without specially setting them up, or rooting them out of a cupboard at floor level or climbing on a chair to lift them from a top shelf.

If you want to be a real star at meal-making, the first thing you must learn is to arrange the appliances and equipment in your kitchen so they can be right at hand for immediate use. This does not necessarily call for a big money investment in new kitchen cabinets. But it does call for planning as clear and intelligent as that of the property-man for a play.

Walker Hopes for Director's Chair Rosalind Russell Off Dramatic Roles

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 30 (AP) — Robert Walker, a new man since his recent mental treatment, is eager for a shot at directing movies.

"I feel that I'm marking time now," he said on the "Please Believe Me" set. "Acting is fine; it's good training. But you get tired of other people telling you what to do.

"Directing is the creative end of this business. I probably won't get a chance to do it until my contract is up in three years, but I am to get into it as soon as I can."

BERGEN'S DUMMY

Edgar Bergen is having the head of his new dummy made in New York, the body in California. She'll be a five-footer.

Rosalind Russell figures mourning doesn't become her. She says she won't even consider dramas. Paramount has promised Ray Milland a crack at directing, which he admits is insurance against old age.

Regular Visits To Dentist Still Important Part of Child's Life

TODAY'S children should grow up with better teeth than their parents because after many years of effort we have developed a means of preventing or at least reducing the amount of tooth decay. A well-balanced diet certainly has some influence in the formation of sound teeth and it is also thought to play a role in preserving them. Here reliance has been placed on a reduction in the amount of starchy foods and sweets allowed the child.

Regular visits to the dentist are, of course, important so that any decay present can be removed before it spreads and destroys the whole tooth.

PREVENTING DECAY

But today's best hope of preventing caries or tooth decay lies in the use of sodium fluoride. Attention was first drawn to the decay-preventing properties of this chemical when it was found a few years ago that tooth decay was infrequent among people living in areas where sodium fluoride was naturally present in the drinking water.

It has since been found that if a 2 per cent. solution of sodium fluoride is applied to the teeth on four occasions, a week apart, and is preceded by a thorough cleansing of the teeth, a reduction of 40 per cent. in the amount of tooth decay occurs.

More than four applications do not increase the preventive effects of the preparation. Its effect seems to be retained for as long as three years.

If the teeth are not thoroughly cleansed before the fluoride solution is applied, its effectiveness is reduced by about half.

It would appear that the best effects are obtained when the sodium fluoride is applied once or twice a week for four applications. Increasing the interval from three to six months seems to decrease the decay preventive action.

APPLIED WITH SPRAY

The solution may be applied to the teeth with a spray, and is just as effective in this way as when it is put on with a cotton applicator.

One study was carried out to determine if using a calcium or lime preparation with the sodium fluoride improved its action, but it was found that it was no better than when the fluoride was used alone.

The treatment with the sodium fluoride is usually carried out by a dentist. Taking fluoride preparations by mouth, or the use of various substances containing the fluoride, apparently does not have the same value as its direct application by the dentist.

Parents should consult with a dentist about having this treatment carried out for their children. Tooth decay is not only painful, but often interferes with chewing, thus resulting in poor nutrition. Germs or other poisons may be taken up from the decayed teeth and carried to other parts of the body and do some severe damage to the tissues. Thus, any method for the prevention of tooth decay is of great value.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

S. R.: My three-and-one-half-month-old baby has trouble with her nose during the day. There is a lot of mucus present. She sneezes a great deal. Please advise.

Answer: It seems likely that the child is suffering from a nasal allergy or sensitivity. An examination by a physician would be advisable.

There are various drugs which can be used to give relief from the symptoms and which the physician will prescribe.

Forrestal Praised Canadian Cabinet

WASHINGTON (CP)—The Reporter, a fortnightly Washington magazine, says the late James V. Forrestal considered ideal the cabinet set-up in Canada.

Herbert Elliston, editor of The Washington Post, tells in recent issue of The Reporter how the suicide of Forrestal points to the "crushing pressures" under which United States public servants have to work.

Discussing Forrestal's ideas about government, Ellison says:

"The ideal set-up he found when he went to Canada a year or so before he died. Forrestal sat in on a meeting of the Ottawa cabinet, and, as he described it, 'there I saw half-a-dozen men devoting themselves to making policy,' with their decisions governing all down the line.

"The contrast with his own country was startling. In every place but the cabinet, decisions were made, and they were reported haphazardly to the parties concerned—sometimes in an odd answer to a question at the President's press conference.

"Forrestal's neat mind was irked by the traditional slipshod of executive administration."

Only One Way To Avoid Petting Parties, That Is To Stay Away

Dear Miss Atkinson:

For about two years now, some of our girl friends have been having parties. We have attended some of them, but they all lead to petting. Everybody pairs off.

These parties have not been chaperoned, and consequently some of the boys drink and smoke. We don't like this sort of thing, but how can we warn the girls what they are getting into without hurting their feelings?

"Three Curious Girls"

Dear "Curious Girls":

Why bother about warning your girl friends that the sort of parties they are giving will only land them in trouble sooner or later? I am sure they know it fully as well as you appear to realize it.

If you simply refuse to attend any such parties it will make much more of an impression than anything you could possibly say. I suggest that you, and some of the others who feel the same way, start giving parties of your own of a more wholesome kind, and invite only boys you can trust. Take the lead in your crowd in setting up better standards for your good times, and ask your parents to help you in this.

TOO YOUNG

Dear Miss Atkinson:

I got married at 16, and have been married a year. I started dating when I was 13, and went with the same boy for two years. We were very much in love, but broke up because my parents didn't like this boy because he was a different nationality from mine. So I got married for spite. I didn't realize what I was doing until it was too late.

I am still in love with my old boy friend. I know he still loves me because he tells my friends he'll never love anyone but me.

I don't want any children to bring up in a home like mine. So should I leave my husband before I have a child? I don't want to step out on my husband and ruin my reputation, so what shall I do? I am very sorry for my husband.

"Shortie"

Dear "Shortie":

I wish a girl could not marry at any such age as 16. If you had not been able to marry when you did, it would have given you time to think things over, and then you probably would never have taken such a reckless step.

Usually, I feel that when either a man or a girl marries for spite, the only decent thing for them to do is to try and make the marriage work. Under all the circumstances, I think you should talk your situation over with someone in your own locality who is competent to advise you.

CANBERRA (CP)—A team of Australian physicists has begun experiments to produce an artificial aurora. The aurora is believed to be caused by electrically-charged particles striking the atoms of the upper atmosphere and making them radiate light. Up To The Patient

Most headaches are caused by emotional stress, it is indicated by five New York physicians in a report in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

Three of the physicians—Arnold P. Friedman, of the Headache Clinic Section, Mental Hygiene Service, Veterans' Administration, and Charles Brenner and Sidney Carter, from the Division of Neuropsychiatry, Montefiore Hospital and Columbia University—conducted special headache clinics. They found that headaches for which there is no apparent physical cause and headaches following head injuries were by far the most common among patients.

Treating 494 patients with headaches of these kinds, they found that 50 to 60 per cent responded favorably to almost any medicine given them, and nearly as well to placebos, harmless but ineffective substitutes for drugs. Treatments used included psychotherapy, pain-relieving drugs, substances to constrict and dilate blood vessels, vitamins and hormones.

Results of the study strongly suggest that the effectiveness of the medications was caused primarily by the patient's psychologic reaction to the treatment situation in general and to having received a "remedy" from the doctor, the article says, adding that both types of headache probably are "responses of the body to disturbing psychologic stress."

Robert M. Marcussen, M.D., and Harold G. Wolff, M.D., from the New York Hospital and Cornell University Medical College, made a study of migraine headache. The typical sufferer, they found, is ambitious and tends to be a perfectionist.

"The natural outcome is tension, fatigue, and exhaustion; in this setting headache makes its appearance"—the report says. "Rage, resentment, and frustration are often common denominators of the emotional derangement preceding an attack of migraine. However, dramatic events need not precede headache—many follow long periods of so-called routine living with slowly accumulating tension."

Although the doctor can make the migraine patient aware of the cost of such a way of life, the decision of what to do about it is the patient's, the physicians emphasize.

An Individualist

The Duke of Edinburgh caused a furore in Savile Row by wearing a high wing collar with a double-breasted dinner jacket. The style dictators of that famous street can take either the wing collar or the jacket by itself, but together!—"Most extraordinary—never heard of such a thing." For them the double-breasted jacket comes with a turndown collar, or else. After all, they have only accepted it in the last 10 years, so the jacket is still a bit of a sartorial upstart, according to the Toronto Globe and Mail.

But the wing collar has a venerable tradition. It is a unique garment, if the word may be so used, in that it comes in several shapes, each one a little worse than the others. They range from the lofty, midget-winged choker to the wide open model known as the gates ajar, wherein the wing begins at the collar button and ends up midway along the collar bone. The choker is noted for its exacerbation of the Adam's apple, which the gates ajar, on the other hand, ruthlessly exposes.

Rugged as it may be, the wing collar is a weak and possibly cowardly compromise with the old wingless variety our ancestors wore, known as the throat-cutter. Here the points, instead of folding back on wings, clamped together in a pincers movement just abaft the chin. The saw edge left by the laundry made them even more interesting. However, come to think of it, our forebears managed to live to a ripe old age, so maybe the throat-cutter has been maligned. Either that, or we in this age are a lot of sissies.

Curling Executive Welcomes Ice School

To the Editor:

Sir: To allay further misinterpretation of your editorial stressing the value of the proposed five-year contract with Mary Rose Thacker I have been asked to state the position of the Midsummer Bonspiel Committee.

This committee is jointly composed of the Civic Centre Commission and the executive of the Nelson Curling Club who, this year as in the past, have voluntarily given of their time and efforts to produce the Midsummer Bonspiel that has become internationally known.

The executive members of the Nelson Curling Club have never failed to individually and collectively appreciate the value of Miss Thacker's school to the City of Nelson and have actively supported the continuance of the Summer Figure Skating School on a long-term basis that so obviously is to the advantage of the Civic Centre and the community as a whole.

Published and conversational opposition to the Figure Skating School was not the collective opinion of the executive of the Nelson Curling Club and the members of this executive welcome Miss Thacker and her students to the hospitality of Nelson.

ARCHIE BIRSE, Secretary,
Midsummer Bonspiel Comm.

Old Wives' Tale

We haven't any particular application for the following facts, and just report them to keep the record straight. It used to be argued that under the stimulus of war a preponderance of boy babies were born. It was assumed that Nature was redressing the lack of balance due to war casualties. According to investigations made by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, we have been giving Nature a bit too much credit. She doesn't redress the balance. As a matter of fact, a preponderance of boy babies are born to young mothers, and as young mothers naturally marry young fathers, and it is the young who must meet war's demands, there is a slight but general feminizing of the population. So goodbye to another old wives' tale, and goodbye also to even so slight a justification of war.—Joseph Lister Rutledge.

Mrs. G. B. L., Fruitvale—We are indebted to Mrs. H. A., Rossland, for the following recipe for tomato mincemeat:

Six green tomatoes, fairly large; 6 tart apples, fairly large. Both should be put through food chopper (remove cores of apples). 1½ cups brown sugar, ½ cup currants, 1 cup seedless raisins, ½ cup chopped citron peel, ½ cup orange juice (may be part cider vinegar), 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ½ teaspoon cloves, ½ teaspoon allspice, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg, ½ cup fruit juice—any kind, grated rind of 1 orange. Mix all ingredients thoroughly in kettle, simmer until thick—at least an hour. Seal in sterilized jars while hot. Put away to ripen. When ready to use, add to each pie 1 tablespoon butter and ¼ cup chopped nuts.

Curious, Nelson—Can you tell me anything about the Mason and Dixon Line?

The Mason and Dixon Line was surveyed by two Englishmen, Charles Mason and Jeremiah Dixon (Nov. 15, 1763, and Dec. 26, 1767), to settle dissensions between Lord Baltimore and the Penn family, proprietors of Maryland and Pennsylvania, respectively. It was originally marked by milestones, every fifth one bearing on one side the Penn coat of arms and on the other those of Lord Baltimore. It runs along the parallel in latitude 39-42, 26.3.

WATCH THAT WEIGHT!

A man 90 pounds overweight is twice as likely to die in the next year as one of normal weight. Obesity predisposes to arthritis, diabetes, high blood pressure, arterial degeneration, pulmonary emphysema, and cirrhosis of the liver. Its control is thus an important part of these disorders.

Obesity—the state of being overweight—is a consequence of the body's energy intake exceeding its energy output—that is, calorie consumption exceeds calorie expenditure. Reduction of calorie intake alone will reduce weight. There is no easier way, and indiscriminate use of drugs may produce dire results.—British Medical Journal.

Lumber Quotas To End September 6

OTTAWA, Aug. 30 (CP) — The Trade Department announced yesterday that effective Sept. 6 the regulation of lumber exports through quotas will be discontinued.

That means the United States market will be wide open to Canadian lumber after that date.

However, a Government official said conditions are such that the relaxation of controls won't mean a drain of lumber and lumber products into the export market.

The official said one reason is the recent price recession in the United States which brought lumber prices closer to those in Canada. The U.S. market thus would not be so attractive that lumber dealers would begin sending all they could across the border.

However, the existing conditions didn't stop the Government from retaining a small measure of control in order to assure there would be sufficient lumber for the Canadian market.

Permits will still be required for export of the items formerly on the quota list. If in the future it is found that too much lumber is being exported and too little being made available for use in Canada, then restrictions could be returned by cutting down the issue of permits.

Relaxation of controls applies to such items as flooring, millwork, window sash and doors as well as unfinished lumber.

HOLLAND DECIDES C.I.U.-A.F.L. REPRESENTS CAN.

ROTTERDAM, The Netherlands, Aug. 30 (Reuters)—The International Transport Workers Federation Conference today decided that the Seafarers' International Union (A.F.L.) is the "most representative of seamen in Canada."

The annual conference made this decision after hearing a report on the shipping industry in Canada. The Federation's decision recognized the S.I.U.-A.F.L. as its affiliate in the Dominion.

A resolution passed today endorsed the declaration made by the meeting of Seafarers' organizations at Geneva, June 14, concerning the recent Canadian shipping dispute. The Geneva declaration recommended that the Canadian Seamen's Union be suspended and ultimately expelled from the International Federation.

FOREIGN NEWS BLACK OUT IN SHANGHAI

SHANGHAI, Aug. 30 (Reuters)—The Military Control Commission today ordered all foreign news agencies to suspend work as of tomorrow, threatening severe punishment for any violations.

The order, it is believed, refers only to the distribution of foreign news in Shanghai, and will not prevent news agency correspondents transmitting news from China.

The Associated Press and the Russian Tass Agency are affected by the order. Other news agencies ceased distributing news in Shanghai some weeks ago.

Tonight the British-owned morning newspaper North China Daily News announced it was suspending its monitored service of foreign news from Sept. 1, pending clarification of the order.

The newspaper has been picking up Reuters news broadcasts since the agency ceased direct distribution in Shanghai Aug. 1.

Must Keep Tito Alive, Says U.S. Truman, Acheson, Favor Loan

By JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 (AP)—Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia is considered virtually a cinch to get a United States Government loan—provided he stays alive and independent from Moscow.

Acheson and Ambassador Cavendish Cannon in Belgrade are reported vigorously urging the export-import bank not only to approve Tito's bid but to do it quickly.

The Yugoslav dictator is said to be in need of quick economic help from the United States and other Western countries to help him weather the economic blockade now threatening to strangle his country.

The Yugoslav Government was disclosed last night to have applied formally to the bank of a credit of about $25,000,000 to buy American machinery for its copper, lead and zinc mines.

SOUND BUSINESS

Government officials familiar with the Yugoslav application said that thus far there has been no sign of opposition from Defense Secretary Louis Johnson.

Export-import bank officials said they are giving the matter "serious consideration" and that a decision should be forthcoming shortly.

Officials connected with the National Advisory Council, which guides the bank's activities, said a loan to Yugoslavia would represent a "sound business proposition." Yugoslavia would be able to pay for the credit, they said, by increasing shipments of strategic copper, lead, zinc and chrome ore to the United States.

Acheson and President Truman are reported to believe it is vital to keep Tito alive and his country in fairly good economic shape, in this way Tito can serve as a symbol and reminder to the other Eastern European Governments that it is possible to break with Moscow and still exist as an independent country.

Canada's Jet-Liners Make Wall Street "Sit Up and Take Notice"

By JOHN D. HAMILTON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

British and Canadian designers have just given American plane makers a scorching "jet foot."

So far, U.S. companies haven't produced a single jet-liner, although they have a creditable record in developing jet fighters. One reason is that during the second World War, American designers concentrated on conventional, propellor - driven transports while Great Britain took on jet-propulsion as its special field.

The fruits of British designing ripened last month when de Havilland unwrapped its high-speed, long range jet-liner, the "Comet."

Its performance in tests indicated to aviation experts that jet-liners might be competing with American airliners by 1953—and holding a speed edge over them of 200 miles an hour.

Such a development could place Canada smack in the forefront of the commercial aviation industry—largely because Canada has been working closely with Britain in aviation development.

WALL STREET ALARMED

The alarm of U.S. business is summed up by the Wall Street Journal.

The newspaper points out that the second and third models of the Comet are expected to be "up to" the trans-Atlantic run—and at much faster speeds than three American cross-ocean lines — Trans World, American Overseas and Pan American.

As to the Canadian craft the Journal says:

"At present it has a range of only 400 or 500 miles, but later versions might approach the 1200 mile hange needed for the New York - Miami run, which happens to be of high interest to Eastern Air Lines.

Student Exchange, Canada to N. Z., Urged By Hopper

WELLINGTON, N. Z., Aug. 30 (CP)—Dr. W. Clayton Hopper, Acting Canadian High Commissioner, here, today advocated exchange of agricultural scientists between Canada and New Zealand.

Hopper, an agricultural expert in his own right, said graduate students from Canada, particularly those interested in animal husbandry and production of grasses and clovers, could gain much from the courses and study at New Zealand research stations.

He said he has been particularly impressed with research using identical twins in studying many aspects of dairy farming.

Strike Causes Mine Shut-Down

KELLOGG, Idaho, Aug. 30 (AP)—A major lead, zinc and silver producer will lay off 1000 men Wednesday because of a strike in an affiliated smelter.

This was announced today by the Bunker Hill and Sullivan Mining and Concentrating Company. General Manager J. B. Haffner said the company would shut down completely when all shifts finish work Wednesday.

Haffner said the company "has no choice."

The Bunker Hill smelter was struck by the International Union of Mine Mill and Smelter Workers (C. I. O.) nine days ago. Negotiators deadlocked over a health and welfare clause in a new contract.

The layoff of the company's 1000 employees will bring the number unemployed as a result of negotiation deadlocks to 1700. Only 500 of them, employees of the smelter, are on strike. Another 100 were laid off when the Sidney mine shut down last week because it was unable to ship concentrates to the smelter.

Regina Polaris Has New Wheel, Propeller Shaft

MONTREAL, Aug. 30 (CP)— The story of the ticklish job of installing a new propeller on the little Arctic supply ship Regina Polaris in the ice-strewn waters off Southampton Island at the entrance of Hudson Bay was told in a message today from Capt. Thomas Bannerman.

The craft, carrying supplies to Arctic outposts, lost her propeller last week after leaving Churchill, Man.

A message was sent out for a plane with a diver and spare propeller but the diver was unable to go down in the icy water.

The ship's master solved the problem by moving cargo forward until the little craft reared her stern out of the water. The new wheel and shaft was fitted into place and the Regina Polaris continued on her way.

RAINS NEEDED TO SAVE ITALIAN ELECTRIC POWER

By GEORGE BRIA

ROME, Aug. 30 (AP)—An acute power shortage is clotting Italy's economic bloodstream.

It is partly the result of a disastrously mild Winter which left hydro-electric reservoirs almost dry.

Severe two-day rationing curbs already have been clamped on in many cities. Many industries have been forced to curtail production.

Unless heavy rains come in September and October, unemployment will increase. Rationing may be increased to three days a week.

The coming Winter may be grim. Unless the rains fall, the experts expect small industries, particularly in the chemicals, iron, steel and mechanical-engineering fields to suffer. Larger plants will be better off because many have their own thermal units

Churchill, the Man They Need Says Express

LONDON, Aug. 30 (Reuters) — Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express today calls for the return of Winston Churchill as the leader of Britain in her present predicament.

"There is no salvation in Washington," the Express says. "The place to search is right here at home. Bring Churchill back. Not because he is the leader of the Tories or any other political party. Because he is the man—so far beyond all others—who can unite and inspire all men of good will to pull the country through its troubles, as he did in 1940."

Dash Ace Will Stick to Boats for Long Hauls After Glimpse at Channel

By ALVIN J. STEINKOPF

DOVER, England, Aug. 30 (AP) —In this chalk-cliffed centre of the Channel swimming industry, United States 17-year-old school girl challenger Shirley May France, resumed practising today.

The republic of France was hidden in mists, the Channel was chopped with waves and no one was swimming across today. The Egyptian Abdel Moneim Abdu, 26, was set for a trial tomorrow.

But in the comparative clam of Dover's harbor two American girl experts in different kinds of swimming—the dashes and the long hulls—met and got acquainted. They were Shirley May and Brenda Helser, holder of the American 100-metre amateur record and gold medalist for her achievement in the girls 400-metre Olympic Games relay.

They discovered instantly that they are swimming girls of different worlds, the rugged Channel and the quiet swimming pool. Shirley May thought that for those short distances it doesn't seem worth while getting into your bathing suit.

"I have always felt," said Brenda, "that for those long distances there are boats."

Then there was a pro vs. amateur argument and finally the two girls went out for a splash in the harbor.

Brenda, who brought a short-distance judgment to bear on Channel swimming, decided that it is not for her. The 23-year-old San Francisco girl, living in Paris, wangled a seat in the Egyptian boat which yesterday accompanied Marie Hassan Hamad as he failed gallantly to swim from France to England.

But Shirley May is not frightened by the Channel's meanness. Her trial runs in the harbor today were called satisfactory by her trainer and father, J. Walter France.

WEEKEND TRY

France said that Shirley May, the weather being willing, will make her assault on the Channel next Saturday, Sunday or Monday. But there will be more excitement in the Channel before the American girl starts.

At Cap Gris Nez, set to go, is the Egyptian Abdel Moneim Abdu, a bachelor who is a life saver at Alexandria. He will start tomorrow if conditions are favorable.

Two other Egyptians in training at Folkestone will make individual tries. They are Fahmy Attalla, 40, who hopes to swim Sept. 3 and Hassan Abd El Rahim, 39, who swam from France to England last year. Early in September he will try it from England to France.

Turnesa Wins, But Rivals Right on Heels

ROCHESTER, N.Y., Aug. 30 (AP) —Willie Turnesa, the smiling champion, today won the first match in defence of his United States amateur golf title, but so did his most powerful rivals.

Turnesa spun a brilliant two-under-par 69 to subdue Harold Foreman of Glencoe, Ill., for a 1-up triumph.

Moving into tomorrow's pair of 18-hole rounds with Turnesa are such American stalwarts as Ray Billows of Poughkeepsie, N.Y., runner-up to Turnesa last year; Frank Stranahan, the well-muscled millionaire of Toledo; and Robert H. (Skee) Riegel of Tulsa, Okla.

Bob Fair of Toronto Scarboro, only Canadian in the tournament, advanced to the third round by beating Tom Draper of St. Louis 5 and 3. He defeated Robert Roos of San Francisco in the first round.

All the members of the United States Walker Cup team came through except Ted Bishop of Islington, Mass., 1946 American amateur champion. He bowed to John Kraft, Denver school teacher, 3 and 2. Kraft lost his touch in the afternoon and lost to Robert Goldwater of Phoenix, Ariz., by the same score.

BRITONS FAIL

John Dawson of Hollywood defeated Laddie Lucas, captain of the British cup team, 4 and 2.

Lucas' fate was shared by Max McCready, British amateur champion, and Ronnie White, regarded as the best shot-maker among the Britons. McCready was eliminated by Dan Carmichael of Columbus, Ohio, 5 and 4, while P. J. Boatwright, Jr., of Spartanburg, S.C., beat White, 3 and 2.

Art Perowne, Joe Carr and Ken Thom of the British team, were winners.

Beat the Cards Or No Flag, Dodgers Spurred

BROOKLYN, Aug. 30 (AP), — Branch Rickey, a hard, calculating man, has served the brutal truth on Brooklyn Dodgers; they are not going to win the National League pennant unless they step out and whip the League-fronting Cardinals by themselves.

It now is somewhat obvious, Rickey observed, that the Giants and the Braves have not got the right stuff to beat the Cardinals and thus assist the Dodgers.

In fact the Cardinals have just stacked up a five-game winning streak versus the Giants and Braves.

"That St. Louis team is getting great pitching," said Branch.

"But we still have three games left with them in St. Louis. That's a series we will just have to win."

The Cardinals may offer very formidable opposition indeed to such ambitions, as Rickey well knows from his former position as the brain of the Redbirds.

Rickey offered the Dodgers no country comforts from his tight little farm system either.

"I don't know where I could find any players to help us," he moaned.

"The best prospect, I believe, is Joe Landrum, a young man with Fort Worth, but could he do better than Banta? Or Carl Erskine? I doubt it. Outfielders? No."

Although neither farms nor the other National League offer aid and comfort to the Dodgers, Rickey thought he could see a way out.

"We've still got 30 games to go," he said, "You never can tell."

Line Up Woodcock, Savold Scrap for May

By BEN PHLEGAR

DONCASTER, England, Aug. 30 (AP)—The on-again, off-again battle between American Lee Savold and the British heavyweight champion, Bruce Woodcock—billed as a world title bout—was reset today for London in the Springtime.

"I am insisting on the fighting taking place in May," said Bill Daly, Savold's manager.

"If we win, Savold will defend the title for the Joe Louis promotions at the Yankee Stadium against the best American heavyweight at the time."

The London fight would set up rival heavyweight champions. Ezzard Charles, Cincinnati Negro, is recognized as world champ in the United States, except in New York and Virginia.

Jack Solomons, London promoter, matched Woodcock against Savold after Joe Louis retired and billed his battle, too, as a world title fight.

Solomons and Tom Hurst, Woodcock's manager, agreed with Daly to hold the bout next May.

OFF ON HOLIDAY

Original fight plans were thrown into confusion when Woodcock came off second best in a collision between a truck in which he was riding and a stout English oak tree. The fight then was postponed indefinitely and many predicted it never would take place.

The new plans were announced today after Solomons brought his own doctor from London to Woodcock's home here to check on the injured boxer's condition.

Woodcock had disappeared on a vacation trip with his family. Dr. Philip Kaplin, hired by Solomons, consulted with Woodcock's physician, Dr. John Dashforth, and they agreed the British champ won't be able to fight anybody at least until December.

They came to this decision, they said in a joint statement, after "an exhaustive review of his medical history with special reference to his serious setback since 1947."

The "serious setback" was a bloody beating by American Joe Baksi, who slashed Woodcock so badly about the head that the Briton had to spend several days in the hospital and continue seeing a doctor for months.

N. Denver Wins Opener of Baseball Finals

NEW DENVER, B.C., Aug. 30 — In the first of the playoff games of the Slocan-Arrow Lakes Baseball League, New Denver outhit Slocan 7-6, though Slocan players got nine free trips to first to New Denver's five and 12 of their men were left stranded on base to New Denver's 15, wound up on the short end of a 5-3 score.

Slocan made two of its runs in the sixth, on a hit, three passes to first and an error. This briefly tied the score, as New Denver had tallied once each in the second and fifth. Thring scored what proved to be the winning run in the sixth, when the third baseman booted his grounder. He advanced to third on Crellin's hit and came home after Kiyono's fly was caught in deep center field. New Denver scored one each in the 7th and 8th innings. Slocan got its last run in the 9th on a walk and 2 hits.

All Slocan players but Inouye, Matsubahashi and J. Hicks got one hit. For New Denver D. Crellin and N. Hayashi each got 2 hits, Yamada a double and Thring and Miyuhara one each.

Lineups:

Seattle Lefty Upsets Another Net Ace

FOREST HILLS, N.Y., Aug. 30 (AP)—Jim Brink of Seattle southpawed his way blithely today into the third round of the national tennis championships at the expense of another seeded player.

Yesterday the grinning "outsider" from the West coast knocked out Victor Deixas, ninth seeded.

Today he defeated Marcello del Bello, stocky Italian Davis-cupper who was seeded eighth among the foreigners. The scores were 6-4, 6-0, 6-1. Brink slugged away with such terrific pace and accuracy that Del Bello, in the second set, made only one point in three services.

However, the luck of the draw demands that Brink face Pancho Gonzales, the defending champion, in his next match.

Tony Trabert, junior Davis-cupper from Cincinnati, fought off five set points while winning a marathon first set from fourth seeded Gardnar Mulloy of Miami, 12-10. But the 35-year-old Mulloy proved fresher than the youngster and proceeded to crush him in the next three sets, 6-2, 6-1, 6-3.

Eric Sturgess of South Africa defeated Sidney Schwartz of Long Beach, Calif., 6-3, 6-0, 6-2.

Veteran Frankie Parker, the two-time former champion, displayed all his old smoothness in outclassing Charles Mastersen of Hicksville, N.Y., 6-2, 6-1, 6-1, also in the second round.

NO UPSETS

The women completed their second round without sign of an upset. Blonde Louise Brough of Beverley Hills, the Wimbledon champion, gave the day's most convincing display in overpowering Lois Felix of Meriden, Conn., 6-0, 6-0.

Only the upper brackets were played in men's and women's singles today. Ted Schroeder, the No. 1 men's seed, had the day off.

The three Canadian contenders, Brendan and Pat Macken and Henri Rochon of Montreal, all were eliminated yesterday.

Coast Teams in Interior Loop

KELOWNA, B.C., Aug. 30 (CP)—Acceptance of Nanaimo and Kerrisdale hockey teams into the Okanagan-Mainline Senior "B" League was announced by league officials here today.

They will draw up a schedule in which each team will appear for 24 games. Play will start about Oct. 8.

The league last year consisted of Kelowna, Vernon and Kamloops.

Details of the conditions agreed upon for the enlarged league are sketchy. They are said to hinge on each of the Interior teams making two trips to the Coast, with the Coast teams trekking to the Interior twice.

Dr. Mel Butler of Kelowna, President of the League, said the Coast teams will probably be in the loop for one season only. Chilliwack is expected to round out the league next year, while Penticton may have an entry in the Interior League for the 1950 season.

NEW DELPHI (CP)—The Indian government has established a directorate-general of shipping, Arthur S. Lal, formerly Indian trade commissioner in London, has been appointed to the post to deal with seamen's welfare, maritime conventions, shipping corperations and lighthouses.

Where the Deer and The Antelope Play

LAKE SUCCESS, Aug. 30 (AP)—The deer and the antelope are on their way back. That is the opinion given by Albert M. R. W. Diamond Paper Discussed at U.N. Meet; to Triple Irrigated Land

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Aug. 30 (CP)—Projects planned and under construction will increase the area of irriagted farm land in Canada from about 1,000,000 to more than 3,000,000 acres, a top Canadian irrigation engineer said today.

Gordon MacKenzie of Regina, Chief Engineer of the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Adiministration, told the United Nations Scientific Conference Canada's irrigation development will be limited only by the available water supply. The suitable land is almost unlimited.

Straus said it is an old human practice to pray for rain but the country where the farmer can order his "rainfall" via the irrigation ditch is the one whose people will eat.

"We can foresee an irrigated area of 3,000,000 acres on the plains of Western Canada as well as 300,000 acres in the inter-mountain areas of British Columbia."

WORLD'S BEST USAGE

The mining section discussed a number of papers, including one on new processes for utilization of low-grade ores by R. W. Diamond, Vice-President and General Manager of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Trail, B.C. C. O. Swanson and B. P. Sutherland, respectively chief geologist and research chairman of the company, were co-authors.

Presenting a resume of the paper, Dr. G. C. Monture, head of the Mineral Resources Division of Canada's Mines Department, said the Trail plant probably uses the ore it removes from the Sullivan mine at Kimberley to the best advantage of any in the world.

Mr. Diamond concentrated in his paper on the problem of separating the particles of ore and waste and then collecting the valuable particles.

"If the problems involved in the adequate development of the world's mineral resources can be approached in the spirit of the true co-operation and partnership, the results already achieved can be surpassed and multiplied many times throughout the world for the benefit of the whole of mankind the paper said.

Nelson, Vancouver High School Girls Tell of Toronto Fair Fun

The following story was written by Dorothy Wallace of Nelson and Doreen Montgomery of Vancouver, two of 20 outstanding Canadian High School students visiting the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto:

Hello B.C.: We are the two high school students chosen by the Department of Education to represent our Province at the Canadian National Exhibition here in Toronto. We are being entertained royally during our four-day stay here. Immediately after our arrival, we were personally introduced to His Worship, Mayor McCallum of Toronto at his office. Then a delicious luncheon was enjoyed during which the latest Canadian fashions were modelled.

Viscount and Lady Alexander of Tunis officially opened the exhibition. The 20 students representing the ten provinces of Canada were then presented to Their Excellencies.

The opening of the Toronto Teen-Town, "Club 580" fololwed, which was broadcast over the air. Some of us received beautiful gifts during this program. At night we attended the dynamic grandstand show, featuring Olsen and Johnson, the Leslie Bell Singers, and His Majesty's Royal Marine Band. This was finished off with a colorful firework display which lasted for about ten minutes. Back stage after the show we had the privilege of meeting Olsen and Johnson.

With only a small part of our eventful visit gone, there is so much we have yet to see—the spectacular diving and aquatic events, the midway tour with Paddy Conklin, the beautiful handicraft exhibits, and displays of anything and everything one could wish to see. At night the grounds of the exposition are especially beautiful being lit up with hundreds of colored lights.

With all this before us, we know we'll enjoy the remaining portion of our trip as much as we've enjoyed the first.

New Ore Body Indicated in Con Mine at Yellowknife

Preliminary diamond drilling in the Campbell shear on the 2300-foot level at the Con mine of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. at Yellowknife indicates the possibility of a new large orebody in the vicinity of the Con-Rycon boundary line. The average grade of the ore indicated by the drill results so far is considerably lower than mine average, according to an official statement, but the deposit may prove of such size as to be economic.

The Campbell shear, which represents the faulted southerly extension of the Giant Yellowknife ore structure, was located in drill holes following a geological study made by Dr. Neil Campbell of the Con staff.

B. C. Liquor Education Program Expanding

VICTORIA, Aug. 30 (CP).—Junior's curiosity about pappa's hiccups is purely scientific in British Columbia homes.

The Provincial Education Department is on its second year of a program to include alcohol education in the everyday school routine.

First of its kind in the Dominion, the program first organized scientific, organic and physical data into a separate subject.

Later the emphasis was changed. Now, with the scope of the plan expanding, alcohol creeps into almost every school subject.

Its composition and nature falls naturally into science studies dealing with the properties of compounds. Its effect on the human body are dealt with in physiology, health and physical fitness courses. Economic effects are included in courses on agriculture, manufacture and advertising.

The place of alcohol in society come under social studies, and its relation to motor accidents becomes apparent in the study of statistics.

Senior students delve more fully into the moral, social and psychological aspects.

SCIENTIFIC APPROACH

Instructions to teachers stress that they must not convey the impression that drinking is a worthy habit for the young. Neither must they "undermine the influence of a good home where alcohol is used in moderation."

The "demon rum" approach is out, as is the use of "exaggeration, overemphasis, exhortation or similar approaches."

Teachers are advised against touching the topic if personal prejudices might color what is intended to be a scientific approach.

The project is financed by a special Legislative grant, and is designed to present pupils with "such information as will enable him to form his own conclusions, with the advice of his parents, when years of discretion are reached," rather than preconceived conclusions.

CAR MAKERS NEED TAX RELIEF SAYS CANADA G-M HEAD

TORONTO, Aug. 30 (CP) — William A. Wecker, President of eGneral Motors of Canada Ltd., said today the Canadian automobile industry must be relieved of excessive taxes if it is to meet the demand for automobiles in the next 12 years.

The General Motors President estimated that Canadians will require more than 1,750,000 passenger cars in the next 12 years. There was also a growing demand for commercial vehicles in the domestic and export markets.

In Canada there is one motor car for every gorfo puc..... .... car for every group of 8.7 persons. In the United States there is a car for every five people, he said. "One of the biggest reasons for this difference is the lower cost of cars to the consumer. . . . So the opportunity for expanding the automobile market in Canada is limited to a great extent only by our ability to find ways and means . . . to produce at lower and lower cost."

Large-scale irrigation in Canada began with the passing of the North West Irrigation Act, 1894.

Former Czech Member of Parliament Prefers to Scrub Clothes in Free Land

OTTAWA, Aug. 30 (CP).—Oda Hora, a former member of the Czechoslovakian Parliament, has taken a job washing clothes in an Ottawa laundry because he prefers freedom to Communist domination.

In Prague, he and his wife and small son lived in constant fear of the Communist police. Until the Communist coup d'etat in Czechoslovakia in February, 1948, Mr. Hora was a National Socialist Member of Parliament. He was also a member of the Parliament's Security Committee. As such he was an outspoken opponent of the Communist domination of the Czech police.

He left his native land as soon as he could and spent a year in England arranging passage to Canada. Friends arranged for him to come to Ottawa and to obtain work in the laundry washing clothes.

When the year for which he has contracted to wash clothes expires, he plans to make his living by bookkeeping.

Delights Nelson, Trail Rotarians Piano Wizardry of Marion Barnum

Youthful pianist Miss Marion Barnum, graduate of the Juilliard Musical Foundation in New York, thrilled Nelson Rotary Club members and their wives and visiting Trailites at the Hume Monday evening with her superb artistry.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. M. Barnum of Nelson presented what amounted to a concert, and the large gathering enjoyed every minute of it.

The notes flowed from Miss Barnum's sure and able hands, and the applause she received was worth two encores.

Her varied program consisted of three waltzes by Schubert, Scarlatti's D Major sonata, four studies by Chopin, Bruyeres and Minstrels by Debussy and Danse Russe from Stravinsky's Petrouchka. As encores she played a Brazilian Dance by Darius Milhaud and Debussy's ever-popular Clair de Lune.

In all Miss Barnum displayed experience, thorough understanding, and fine recognition of musical values. She captured the translucency of Debussy's works to perfection.

Vancouver-born, Miss Barnum at 23 has already received her diploma after attending the Juilliard Foundation for four years. She took up the piano seriously at 17.

CAREER IN MUSIC

Returning in the Fall for post-graduate work, she will study under Madame Rosina Lhevinne, famous teacher and wife of the late Joseph Lhevinne. She hopes to make the concert stage her career.

Presentations were made to Miss Barnum by George Gray, and she was introduced by Croft Haines. Earlier this Summer she gave her first public performance to Nelson Rotary Club.

Appreciation of the 14 Trail Rotary Club members and their wives who attended was voiced by President Roly Mills, who also thanked the Nelson Club for its invitation. Herbert Clark of Trail, Past District Governor, was also heard from.

Next Monday's meeting, which falls on Labor Day, was called off.

TEACHERS FEEL CANADA UNESCO WORK IS WEAK

OTTAWA, Aug. 30 (CP) — Dr. J. G. Althouse, Chief Director of Education for Ontario, today said Canadian educators are dissatisfied with the way the Federal Government is directing Canada's work in the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization.

He said what Canada needed was a National Commission which could serve as a kind of "propaganda machine" to publicize the work of U.N.E.S.C.O. in Canada and make Canadians more conscious of educational activities in other countries.

The Toronto educationist, President of the Canadian Education Association, rejected suggestions by the Royal Commission on Arts and Science Development that possibly the practical value of U.N.E.S.C.O. was nebulous.

He said U.N.E.S.C.O. had value in spreading international good will, especially among the children. It provided a basis for common international understanding.

CONVERTIBLE NECKLINE FOR MODEST MADAM

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Aug. 30 (AP) — "The bared bosom is here to stay," says Designer Merideth Peterson, whose Fall and Winter collection of plunging necklines is evidence of her belief.

"I deliberately play up the bosom," says Miss Peterson. "And why not?" she asked. "It's woman's greatest appeal. Of course, every woman can't wear a plunging neckline but it's a great thing for those who can get away with it."

"All the plunges on my dresses are convertible. So, if the woman is modest, or just can't wear a dress cut so low, she can stitch the slit up to a more comfortable height."
