Former L.P.P. Organizer, Fugitive For Three Years, Nabbed by F.B.I.; Reveals Own Secret to Shadows

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (Friday) (CP)—The Daily News says today the Federal Bureau of Investigation was just as surprised as Sam Carr when it apprehended the former organizer of Canada's Labor-Progressive Party on deportation charges.

"G-men," the News says it learned, "had been tailing a man in an investigation when somehow another man, very short, with brown curly hair and the scholarly look that spectacles give some people, got involved."

"Without even knowing who Curly was, the F.B.I. began tailing him. Then they caught up with him and asked a few routine questions. 'Impatiently, apparently assuming they were playing a cat-and-mouse game with him, he told them to stop horsing around. He was Sam Carr, The Sam Carr.'"

NEW YORK, Jan. 27 (CP) — Sam Carr, fugitive for three years from a Canadian spy trial, was arrested here today.

Tonight he is at Ellis Island, detention centre of the United States Immigration Service, first step in his forced return to Canada and a warrant charging that he disobeyed the Official Secrets Act.

His capture means a revival of the post-war Canadian spy trials in which nine persons were imprisoned or fined and nine others were acquitted.

SAM CARR

Carr was listed in the report of Canada's spy-probe Royal Commission as a recruiting agent for a Russian espionage ring.

First word of his arrest came from Washington, J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, announced the former organizer of the Labor-Progressive Party had been picked up this morning in a basement apartment only a mile and a half from Times Square.

TORONTO TRIAL

Almost immediately, a Justice Department spokesman in Ottawa said Carr probably will go to trial in Toronto where he formerly lived.

An F.B.I. agent indicated his followers were going over the small Carr quarters with a fine-tooth comb.

G-men said Carr had been living with his wife and that they called themselves "Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lewis." They said Carr told the neighbors he was "working as a statistical engineer, writing a book on mathematics."

They said Mrs. Carr was not arrested, but that she voluntarily agreed to be questioned.

No one could talk to Carr after his arrest, but newspaper men, photographers and passers-by crowded the court-house steps as he left for the island, in New York Harbor behind the Statue of Liberty.

Many of them, by a strange twist of circumstances, were attracted there by the trial of 11 other Communists—leaders of the American Communist Party, accused of advocating a forcible overthrow of the Government at Washington.

No one would say where Carr had been since he disappeared early in 1948 before a spy-charge warrant could be served. If the F.B.I. knew, they kept it to themselves. There were reports some time ago, confirmed by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, that he was hiding out in Mexico. When he came to the United States could not be learned.

ONE STILL BOUGHT

F.B.I. spokesmen said the "G-men" worked closely with the R.C.M.P. in the hunt for Carr. His arrest leaves still to be apprehended only one of those for whom warrants were issued after Igor Gouzenko, a Russian cipher clerk, went to police with information on his country's espionage in Canada.

That one is Freda Linton, former civil servant who also disappeared before a warrant could be served.

Police have been on the hunt for Carr since early in 1948. At the time Carr was national organizer for the Labor-Progressive, or Communist Party. The party's national executive announced that he ceased to hold any office in the party "as of April 15, 1948."

Justice Minister Garson said in Ottawa that if the United States does not deport Carr Canada will take extradition proceedings to have him brought back for trial. A departmental official said the trial probably would be in Toronto where Carr used to live.

Charges against him in Canada are understood to be:

1. Conspiracy to break the Official Secrets Act.
2. Uttering a false passport.
3. Giving false statements in connection with a passport application.

$600 MILLION OVER-TAXING, DREW CHARGES

Sees Danger If Dominion-Provincial Meet Not Resumed

COST INCREASE

OTTAWA, Jan. 27 (CP)—George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, tonight charged that the Dominion Government has over-taxed "the people of Canada" by more than $600,000,000 for the current fiscal year.

"By doing so, they have added that much to the cost of living in Canada," the Commons Opposition leader said over the "Nation's Business" broadcast of the CBC's Dominion network.

Calling for resumption of a Dominion-Provincial Conference, Mr. Drew warned that unless it is done quickly, "the present tax agreements which have been signed by seven provinces, are simply going to increase the difficulty of satisfactory Dominion-Provincial relations."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27 (CP) — Climate gives Canada a "great advantage" in storing and handling grain, the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization said tonight.

F.A.O. released studies of storing and handling methods in Canada, the United States and Britain and said it is hoped they will be "a stimulus to the spread of information on protection of stored grain from fungus and insect attack."

Crowd Wild in Greeting Tyrone, Linda at Beautiful Rome Wedding

ROME, Jan. 27 (AP) — Linda Christian and Tyrone Power were married today, in a wedding that would stack up against the best of Hollywood's camera extravaganzas. Screaming thousands of "Tifosi," Italian equivalent of hooligans, staged riot scenes around the little church of Santa Francesca Romana where the film notables said "I do."

Mounted Police were called out to ring the church, located in the old part of Rome. But all the police and all the police horses, plus a riot platoon in jeeps, couldn't hold the romantic jeeps back.

They broke through the lines as Linda arrived 15 minutes late. They screamed "Linda Linda!" as the starlet, resplendent in white satin with an eight-yard-long train, entered the church.

The crowd nearly pulled the overcoat off the United States Ambassador, James C. Dunn, when he and his wife arrived at the church. There were scores of other notables there, too.

Pope Pius gave the new Mrs. Power a booklet of "instructions about the good Christian family." The couple was received by the Pope at the Vatican shortly after they were married.

The Pontiff also gave the bride a Rosary during the 15-minute audience. He gave Power a Pontifical Medallion.

Bevin With Bodyguard—His Palestine Policy Under Fire

With a burly bodyguard walking beside him, British Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin approaches famed No. 10 Downing Street for a meeting of the British Cabinet, where topic of discussion was the Middle East war between Israel and Egypt. Bevin's Palestine policy has been the subject of attack from both Opposition and Labor ranks. (See stories on this page and page 10). Incidentally, using a bodyguard in England proper is quite unusual, and testifies to the stress of the times.

75 Extra Hospital Beds Sought in Petition

The Provincial Government is to be urged to take immediate and definite action to provide space for 75 beds in addition to facilities at Kootenay Lake General Hospital.

A statement asking the extra accommodation was approved Thursday night at a special meeting of the Hospital's Board of Directors, and will be forwarded to Dr. J. M. Stewart, of Victoria, B.C., Hospital Director.

Copies will also be sent to Hon. George S. Pearson, Provincial Minister of Health, and Hon. Frank Putnam, Minister of Agriculture and Member for Nelson-Creston.

Grounds for the petition are that persons are being refused admittance to the hospital because of lack of space, and that there is congestion in the building.

The reasons will be borne out by a report on the overcrowded conditions from Miss Marjorie Whitmore, Superintendent, that will be included with the statement.

The Board of Directors has not decided whether a new building or an addition to the hospital will be required to house the extra beds, until it has an idea what Government aid, if any, can be expected.

It has asked that G. F. Kincaid of Vancouver, Resident Director of the B.C. hospital survey, be in Nelson within two weeks. Mr. Kincaid may pass an opinion on the type of building that might house the additional beds.

The statement was recommended by a Special Committee of representatives of the Board of Directors, City Council and the Nelson Medical Association.

It follows:

"The accommodation of Kootenay Lake General Hospital has become insufficient to provide proper hospital service for the area in which it is situated.

"The needs of a large population and an increased demand for hospitalization have been met up to the present by comparatively minor changes to the original building and by adding beds to space which according to good hospital practice was already fully occupied.

"It is now apparent that further accommodation must be provided not only for the care of persons who now require hospitalization, but who cannot be admitted due to lack of space, but also to relieve the congestion existing in the present building.

"It is expected that the hospital insurance recently placed in effect will further increase the demand for hospitalization and while it has been suggested that the Mount St. Francis infirmary will afford some relief, it is felt that the presence of a considerable number of elderly people will result in an increase in the number of patients requiring treatment which can only be provided in a hospital.

"It is considered, that space for an additional 75 beds is required in order that proper hospital service may be provided for this community and the District tributary to it. This addition would make more space necessary for all ancillary services.

The space now available for the office, laboratory, X-ray, operating and other departments is not sufficient for the present needs of the hospital and will be quite inadequate if the required accommodation for patients is provided by an addition to the present building.

The heating plant, electric wiring and plumbing in the building now are in need of extensive repairs and replacements.

URGENT NEED

"It is requested that consideration be given as soon as possible to this urgent need for more accommodation and to the means by which it may be provided without delay."

"Almost daily patients are being refused admittance to the hospital because there are not enough beds," President George Turner told the Board when it was considering the statement.

His remarks were backed by the Superintendent, who said that medical and surgical patients were being taken care of on the maternity floor.

"In cases of emergency, there is no alternative," she said.

The need for urgency of Government action in dealing with the request was voiced by Walter Hendricks, who said that the Board should be prepared to send a delegation to the Coast if necessary.

It was he who approved the Special Committee's statement. Aid. Alex Sutherland, seconded it.

The Special Committee consisted of George Turner, President, C. H. Hamilton, Aid. Alex Sutherland and Harry Burns of the Hospital Board of Directors; Mayor T. H. Waters and Aid. T. S. Shorthouse of Nelson City Council, and Dr. F. M. Auld and Dr. A. J. Beauchamp of the Nelson Medical Association.

PALESTINE POLICY REVOLT UNDER STUDY

By HAL COOPER

LONDON, Jan. 27 (AP) — The Cabinet weighed today the revolt within the Labor Party against its Palestine policy, amid signs Foreign Secretary Bevin is determined to ride out the storm.

A source close to the Cabinet said Britain probably will extend recognition to Israel before the Labor members hold their next caucus next Wednesday and that this may help to kill off the intra-party squabble.

"Will Bevin Go?" asked a headline in Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express. The question was echoed elsewhere in the press and in the lower ranks of the Government itself. The answer seems to be: Not right now, anyway.

Bevin was absent when the Cabinet gathered with Prime Minister Attlee at 10 Downing Street to talk over the Foreign Secretary's future and the party's future course.

He went instead to a London conference of the five Brussels-pact powers—Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg—which is expected to help pave the way for Britain to recognize Israel. (See also story on page 10.)

On the two-day agenda of the five Foreign Ministers were talks on Western European unity and the North Atlantic Defence Pact.

The unfinished state of these two projects is one of the main reasons why few in London expect Bevin to step out of office now.

He has described a real United States of Europe as "one of the obsessions of my life." He said in a speech Tuesday he hopes to see the signing of the North Atlantic Pact, which would link the United States and Canada with Western Europe, as the "crowning event" of his career.

There still was some talk that he might step down for reasons of health or take another ministry in a general reshuffle of the Cabinet. This talk has had no official backing.

Nanaimo Indians Ambush CPR Engine

NANAIMO, B. C., Jan. 27 (CP)—Indians of the Nanaimo Reserve went mildly on the warpath recently, it was reported by police today.

The report said the Indians "ambushed" a moving C.P.R. locomotive, smashing six cab windows as the engine crossed the reservation property on Canadian Collieries tracks.

The Indians have an agreement with the Collieries for coal-hauling across their land, but have often voiced a demand that they be paid for the "concession."

The C. P. R. has a "running rights" understanding with the Canadian Collieries, but investigators believe the sight of a C.P.R. engine traversing the Reserve unleashed the sudden bombardment of rocks.

Big Family of Wild Fowl on Bread Line on Kootenay Waterways

Hundreds of water fowl that have decided to stick the winter out in the Kootenays instead of flying South with their wisper brethren, have become "babes" of the Game Department.

A big family of ducks, geese and other birds, is being cared for by "B Division" of the Department at Nelson. Their natural food covered by snow, and their habitat covered by ice, they are being fed and protected.

Wheat and chaff screenings are being thrown to the birds at two or three unfrozen spots along the West Arm waters daily.

At Castlegar, a flock of about 40 wild geese are given daily feedings. Pheasants and ducks wintering on the Creston Flats are being similarly treated.

PASS WORD ALOUD

Once some food is thrown out, the birds catch on right away, a Department official said. There will be only a handful of birds the first day the grain is laid out, but the next day hundreds will horn in.

"They sort of pass the word along," he explained.

The family is not without its problem children.

The Robert L. Hollys tried it and found a whole new room—plastered, papered and ready for occupancy—they never knew they had. And they've lived around it for 43 years.

The room, six by 11 feet, showed up when Hollys finally decided to take out a wall and see if he could find out what caused a "cold spot" in heating the house.

READY REPORT ON ARROW LAKES STORAGE DAM

Would Store Water For Columbia River in Winter HAS APPROVAL

SPOKANE, Jan. 27 (AP)—International Joint Commission engineers will report early in April on possibilities of building a storage dam at Arrow Lakes in British Columbia, former Senator C. Dill said Thursday.

The dam has been proposed to store water for release into the Columbia River in winter. Water supplies are at their lowest in the winter months and this curtails the production of power by generators on the Columbia.

Returning from Washington, D.C., Dill said the Commission had asked their engineers to have recommendations ready for an annual commission meeting in April.

A favorable report, Dill said, would clear the way for negotiations between the Bonneville Power Administration and the Province of British Columbia. If an agreement could be reached next summer construction might be started this year, Dill said. Construction of even part of the dam this year would help avert another power shortage in the Northwest next winter.

President Truman has approved the Arrow Lakes proposal.

Frozen Pipes Keep City Busy; 100 Calls So Far

The long cold spell this winter has sent the City on about 100 calls to de-freeze householders' water pipes.

In the last three days alone, about 25 thaw jobs have been done, of which about four were outside the City limits.

The number to date is considerably higher than at the same time last year.

A department head said Thursday that the danger of pipes freezing will not be averted by milder weather. Frost will still be in the ground, and freeze-ups can be expected until March or later.

Thaws are now the responsibility of the Water Department, rates have been jacked up, and payments must be made in advance.

The increases to both City and extra-municipal residents for thawing pipes were necessary because the cost was exceeding the charge. Minimum number of men that can be sent on a thaw operation is three.

LAY PLANS TO FIGHT HOPE-PRINCETON SNOW

VICTORIA, Jan. 27 (CP)—Its most up-to-date snow clearing system is being organized by the B.C. Public Works Department for the Hope-Princeton Highway, scheduled to open before Labor Day.

"Our plan," said Works Minister E. C. Carson today, "is to have the Hope-Princeton link open every hour of the 24 for 365 days a year."

High passes on the route sometimes catch 12-15-foot snow falls but Department engineers recently have paid visits to Washington State to study snow removal methods used there, the Minister said.

Young Refuses Sinclair Demand for Retraction; Prove Charges Or Resign Member Told; May Face Committee

OTTAWA, Jan. 27 (CP) — James Sinclair, Liberal member for Vancouver North, said today in the Commons that he will attempt to have one of his Vancouver fellow members unseated for describing Parliamentarians as a "bunch of crooks."

He said the charge was made by Rodney Young (C.C.F.-Vancouver Centre) during the off-session period. He asked Mr. Young to withdraw the remark in the Commons, but in a brief exchange the C.C.F. member declined.

Mr. Young agreed only to withdraw anything he might have said during the exchange that reflected on Mr. Sinclair.

Mr. Sinclair said that during the off-session period he had read a Vancouver News-Herald report of a speech Mr. Young had made at a public meeting. Mr. Young had described members of the Commons as a bunch of crooks and said he would not retract that statement.

The C.C.F. member had also stated that he was "burned up by the nonsense some of the men in the Commons utter." He promised he would go after "those guys" when he returned to Ottawa.

Mr. Sinclair said he was amazed that any member of Parliament would say such things, particularly a member who had attended only 10 days of the last session. Mr. Young was elected in a by-election last June.

Mr. Sinclair said the C.C.F. member was criticized by Vancouver newspapers for his utterances, but instead of withdrawing them he wrote a letter to the editor of the News-Herald repeating the charges and adding that many members of the Commons were lazy and incompetent.

In the letter, Mr. Young had reiterated that he would not withdraw his "bunch of crooks" statement and said that if the cap fitted certain members they could wear it.

Mr. Sinclair said that in public life men were insured to attacks from "crackpots and ignorants," but when they came from a member of the Commons they should not go unchallenged.

ASKS PROOF

He asked Mr. Young to prove his charges and if he failed, to follow the British tradition and resign his seat. If Mr. Young did not do that, then Mr. Sinclair said that he, seconded by Cecil Merritt, V.C. (C.C.-Vancouver Burrard), would move that Mr. Young be called before the Committee on Privileges and Elections for the purpose of finding out whether he was a "fit person to sit in the company of honorable and honest men."

Mr. Young then took the floor and said that as he had stated in his letter to the editor of the News-Herald, "if the cap fits" then members can wear it. Apparently the cap did fit Mr. Sinclair.

SHOVED ASIDE

Mr. Sinclair jumped to his feet and demanded a retraction. Mr. Young made no move to accede to the request and the issue was almost shoved aside as the speaker began calling other business. But Mr. Sinclair again interrupted and said:

"If he doesn't withdraw here I will certainly see that it is withdrawn elsewhere when the session is over."

"He has inferred, Mr. Speaker, that I am a bunch of crooks," Mr. Young asked permission to read the full text of his letter to the News-Herald, but the Speaker declined to grant the request because it referred to something that had occurred outside the Chamber.

With Mr. Sinclair still calling for a retraction, Mr. Young said he would withdraw anything he had said in the House today that reflected on Mr. Sinclair.

The exchange between the two members, with most of the Chamber thumping for Mr. Sinclair, took the spotlight away from the opening of the Throne Speech debate. It began with Donald Brown (Lib.-Essex West) moving the address in reply and Leopold Demers, the newly-elected Liberal member for Laval-Two Mountains, seconding it.

George Drew, Progressive Conservative Leader, adjourned the debate after those two speakers and the House rose for the day. Dr.

TO CONTINUE DEBATE

Mr. St. Laurent also indicated the Government will allow continuation of the debate through next week, though it had planned to proceed Monday with the bills to cement the union of Newfoundland and Canada. However, many members had indicated they would prefer to continue the Throne debate for another week.

The two weeks following that—Monday, Feb. 7, to Friday, Feb. 18—will be devoted to the Newfoundland legislation.

As the Chamber opened this second day of the new session, Government reports accumulated since the prorogation were tabled and Mr. St. Laurent told the Chamber he will visit President Truman in Washington Feb. 11 and 12 to discuss matters of common interest to our two countries as neighbors.

REPORT READ

But it was the free-wheeling exchange between Mr. Sinclair and Mr. Young which sparked the opening stages of this session and brought cries of "shame" from Government benches.

Mr. Sinclair said he had read in the Vancouver News-Herald the following report of a speech made by Mr. Young at C.C.F. rally last July 28:

"The Canadian people have been sending a bunch of crooks to Parliament, Rodney Young, C.C.F. member for Vancouver Centre, told a C.C.F. open forum here Sunday. 'And I will not take that statement back,' he added."

"Commenting on the anti-labor and 'reactionary' attitude of Liberal and Progressive Conservative Members of the Commons, Mr. Young said in a report on the last session, 'I am burned up by the nonsense some of these people utter. The workers would be unholy mad if they knew what was going on in Parliament.'"

"The Canadian people were coming to believe they must send men of the producing classes, not lawyers, to Parliament. The Government had been 'stunned' by the election of three C.C.F. members in recent by-elections."

"Mr. Young, who spoke five times in five days while at Ottawa, assured his friends that he would 'really go after those guys' at the next session."

BLUE, RED, WHITE STRIPES, BADGE AND LEAF'S SUGGESTION FOR FLAG

OTTAWA, Jan. 27 (CP)—The controversial issue of a national flag was thrust before Parliament again today in the form of a private member's bill.

Roland Beaudry (L.—St. James-Montreal) gave notice on the order paper that he will introduce Friday a bill entitled "an act respecting a national flag for Canada."

The flag would consist of three horizontal stripes—blue, red, white—with a war service badge in the centre surrounded by 10 green maple leaves.

This, he said in an interview, should satisfy a large number of Canadians who feel that the country should have a flag of its own.

The flag issue last came before the Commons in 1949. In that year a joint committee of the Senate and the Commons, after lengthy discussions, recommended a flag for Canada. After studying some 2500 suggested designs, the committee recommended that the red ensign with a white backgrounded golden maple leaf in the fly be recognized as the Canadian flag. The report of the committee was never moved for adoption because many Quebec members opposed inclusion of the Union Jack in any Canadian flag. The red ensign has the Union Jack in the upper left hand corner.

The Government has not attempted to revive the issue. Before the committee was established, the Government said that until a new flag was chosen it would fly the Canadian coat of arms in the fly would be flown from Government buildings as the Canadian flag.

Committee Heads Tell Works At Kiwanis Meel

It was like Father's Day at the Kiwanis Club.

Things really got under way at the Thursday night meeting at the Home when Bill Hendricks, the very proud father of a brand new baby, along with a proud grandfather, Walter Hendricks, passed out cigars to all Kiwanis members.

President Dr. Ken Gibbons opened the meeting by reading the objectives of the Kiwanis Club, and told members they should do everything they can to reach these objectives.

Short talks were given by the committee chairmen. Secretary Stan Morris began with a financial report, stating where and how the money of the club was being spent. Rev. T. L. Leadbeater spoke on the work of the Keys Committee which looks after boys and girls' recreational activities, development of key clubs and underprivileged children. Chester Marshall reported for the Citizenship Committee. Mr. Marshall declared, "It looks as though people are favoring the children and forgetting about the old men and women who were once children." He felt that more help should be given to the aged persons as well as the youngsters.

William Hamilton spoke of Agriculture and Conservation, including the subjects of encouraging the farmer, forestry, soil condition and protection of wild life. Other talks given were Public and Business Affairs by E. W. White; Administration, Philip Robinson; House Committee, Peter Markin, who spoke for William Hendricks; Inter-Club Relations, Monty Montgomery; Education and Fellowship, Ty Culley; Laws and Regulations, Leo S. Gansner; Programs, Richard Palmer; Classifications, Carl Field; and Reception, George Latta.

Past President Walter Hendricks was very pleased to see the enthusiasm of the committee chairmen.

William McGrath of Cranbrook and Vern Balford of Lethbridge were guests.

Prime Minister St. Laurent announced he will visit Washington Feb. 11-12.

James Sinclair (L-Vancouver North) said he will attempt to unseat a C.C.F. member for describing parliamentarians as a "bunch of crooks."

Donald Brown (L-Essex West) urged early development of the St. Lawrence deep waterway.

Leopold Demers, L-Laval-Two Mountains approved plans to abolish appeals to the Privy Council.

Party leaders will participate in the Throne speech debate. The Senate will not sit.

C.M. & S. To Start Tours of Universities

TRAIL, B.C., Jan. 27 — An extended tour of Canadian universities will be started Sunday by G. R. McMeekin, of the staff department, Personnel Division of The Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada, Ltd.

The purpose of his trip is to interview prospective graduates with a view to making known employment possibilities at Cominco. He will also establish contacts for Summer employment of undergraduates.

Mr. McMeekin will make his trip in two sections. The first, in which he will be accompanied by J. C. Rose, of the Personnel Division, will include the Universities of Alberta, Saskatchewan and British Columbia. On the second section he will accompany J. H. Salter, Assistant Manager of Cominco's Personnel Division. With Mr. Salter he will visit Queen's and McGill University and the Universities of Toronto and Manitoba.

Mr. McMeekin will leave Trail on the first part of his trip on January 28. He will visit the University of Alberta from Jan. 31 to Feb. 2.

Saskatchewan Feb. 3 and 4, and British Columbia Feb. 7, 8 and 9.

He and Mr. Salter will be at the University of Toronto Feb. 16 to 18, Queen's Feb. 21 to 23, McGill Feb. 24 to 26 and the University of Manitoba-March 1.

Chiang Successor Makes Peace Bid

By JAMES D. WHITE
NANKING, Jan. (28) (Friday) (AP) — Well-informed sources said Acting President Li Tsung-jen today sent a direct appeal to Communist leader Mao-tse-tung to name peace negotiators at once.

These sources said there were no further details available immediately.

Life appeal came at a moment when it began to appear a Chinese Government effort to make a surrender deal had broken down.

The apparent stalemate, with the Reds drawing ever nearer to Nanking, had turned the flight from this capital into a panic.

Gen. Chiang Chih-chung, a leader of the Government's peace delegation, announced he was flying to Lanchow in the far Northwest to discharge his official duties as commander there "during the lull in peace negotiations."

The Government will move to Canton immediately, the Chinese Foreign Office formally notified foreign embassies and legations.

A spokesman said all Government offices here would be closed by Feb. 3 and reopened in Canton by Feb. 6.

The present working agreement does not expire until Feb. 18.

Counter-proposals made by the Domestic Coal Operators' Association of Western Canada and the Western Bituminous Coal Operators' Association called for a $2 a day reduction in pay for all surface workers and a $1 a day reduction for underground classifications. The operators also asked for a return of the 48-hour week instead of the present 40-hour week and called for abolition of the Miners' Welfare Fund contribution.

Under the contract system, miners were guaranteed a basic daily wage of $10.95 a day with bonuses based on the amount of coal produced. Underground miners were to earn from $14 to $17 a day under the contract system. No request was made by the union for a general wage increase for miners working above ground.

Faces Unhidden By New Hats

PARIS, Jan. 27 (AP) — Variations of the boater and bowler with anything up to five brims on a single hat are being shown today by two leading Paris milliners.

Simone Cangel and Maude Roser have brims on both types of hats that dwindle away in the back.

Huge Breton sailor shapes in Bakel or chip straw, toques often made entirely of plush flower petals and chiffon turbans are also popular.

All shapes are worn to the side-back, clearly revealing the line of the face.

Navy blue and white seem to be the favorite color combination but the colors include smoke greys, blues and greens; soft tones of brown, harsh orange, deep turquoise and all burnt red shades.

Train To Dress At 38 Below

SHILO, Man., Jan. 27 (CP) — Soldiers at this Canadian army camp are giving one another the cold shoulder—but not in the usual sense of the term.

As part of a tactical scheme named "Exercise Snow," soldiers at the Prairie Command Winter Training School had to crawl from warm sleeping bags and dress in 38-degree below zero weather.

"The object of the school is to train our soldiers how to live in extreme cold and also to qualify as many men as possible to act as instructors at their local headquarters," Major J. D. Mitchell, Officer Commanding the school, told reporters who visited here this week to witness the operations.

Manitoba's weatherman provided "ideal" conditions for the present class of 86 reserve and active force soldiers from Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Northwestern Ontario points. During outdoor exercises the temperature remained well below zero, touching 48 below.

TENTS UP IN 10 MINUTES

First days of the 18-day course were spent on lectures covering care of clothing and handling of Arctic equipment. The course was climaxed by living three days and nights in the field. Students moved from Shilo to the Sewel Lake area, about five miles away, carrying all their equipment, rations and supplies on toboggans.

Each toboggan, towed by four men, was loaded with 100 pounds of equipment. First night out was spent in tents which students must learn to erect in less than 10 minutes—due to danger of frostbite while working with bare hands. Second night a pine-bough lean-to was the only shelter and on the final night students returned to tents.

Students returned to Shilo today to round out the course by discussing the exercise, writing tests and attending a question period.

Raising Standards of Backward Countries Would Aid Red Fight

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press News Analyst
President Truman's idealistic project of aiding backward countries is described by State Secretary Acheson as a proposal for raising living standards in order to promote political improvements and greater liberty. It would use material means for a non-material end.

Already talks are in progress between United Nations economists and the State Department on the implications of Truman's idea. Over in Europe, Foreign Secretary Bevin pledges that Britain will join the United States in an all-out "answer-to-Communism" crusade against poverty in Africa and the East.

Thus we are beginning to move from the broad conception of the idea toward concrete definition and details for implementation.

IDEALS COUNT
Don't let anybody tell you ideals don't count. They're about the only things that do count.

One of my early introductions to this thought came back in the First World War when I was attached to British General Headquarters in France as war correspondent. The morale of many of the troops was buoyed up by the idealism of Woodrow Wilson in his call for self-determination of small Powers and for making the world safe for democracy. Day after day as I went up and down the fighting front British officers would stop me and ask eagerly: "What does President Wilson say today?"

Such morale is needed as much today as it is in war.

BACK TO THOUGHT
But to get back to this thought of helping underprivileged peoples: You can't imagine how many folks fall in that category until you've travelled abroad.

I've knocked about a lot in the Western Hemisphere, in Europe and in Asia. But I can tell you from personal observation that there are literally hundreds of millions of unfortunate who rarely if ever even have enough to eat. Many are literally primitive peoples, living centuries behind our time.

But doesn't charity begin at home? Sure it does, and we've got a lot of inequalities to iron out here in North America. Moreover, we haven't any money to throw away.

However, that needn't prevent consideration of the idea of helping the other fellow, especially since by strengthening him we may help defeat Communist aggression.

British-Canadian Trade Talks Continuing

By SYDNEY CAMPBELL
Reuters Financial Editor
LONDON, Jan. 27 (Reuters) — Trade between Canada and the sterling area is believed under discussion at the current meetings here of the "United Kingdom-Canada Committee on Trade and Economic Affairs."

The Committee was formed after the visit to Canada last September by Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer.

The discussions are believed to have centred on the growing disparity between the price systems of the two countries.

British exports to Canada have been increasing quarter by quarter since the middle of 1947. But much more is needed, since the exports have been paying for less than one-third of the imports.

Items involved in the question of how to get the "much more" are textiles, machinery and metal goods. Sir Stafford said a few days ago that there are "great opportunities" for British machinery in the Canadian market.

British textile exports to Canada have risen greatly, but they are still not big enough and it is difficult to expand them further while British manufacturers have to pay much higher prices for soft-currency raw materials than Canadian and United States manufacturers pay for dollar materials. This is the crux of the whole problem of Anglo-Canadian trade.

TROUBLE BALANCING

Britain could trade alone, at high prices, with the soft-currency area, or at disinflated prices with hard-currency countries. Her trouble comes when she tries to balance the disparities between the two systems, notably in these exports to Canada. It was thought that the Committee will also exchange views on the International Wheat Conference now on in Washington.

From Britain's standpoint, participation in the long-term international wheat agreement has increasingly come to be regarded as ill-advised, because of the possible precedent it sets for other British imports.

Britain, however, has an outstanding obligation to Canada for compensation for the relatively low wheat prices which Canada has accepted from Britain during the last 2½ years under the Anglo-Canadian wheat agreement.

Lift Output, but Hold Cost Line Builders Urged

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor
TORONTO, Jan. 27 (C) — The Canadian Construction Association said in effect today, "you can't have your cake and eat it too," but tried to suggest ways in which to get more cake.

The way they put it was: "It is impossible to enjoy post-war incomes and expect to pay pre-war prices."

They urged all employers and employees on construction and allied industries to increase output and exercise all possible restraint to avoid further cost increases.

They suggested that Dominion, Provincial and Municipal Governments agree as soon as possible on their respective responsibilities in a low-cost housing plan, particularly in providing the land and financing it.

"We are builders," they said, "and are satisfied that existing individual examples show that low-cost housing can be achieved by the industry when the land and financial problems have been surmounted."

"A 10-year program of 12,000 publicly-assisted dwelling units per year might be kept within a deficit of $1,700,000 the first year and $17,000,000 the 10th year. This is a small fraction of the $314,000,000 now annually paid in Federal subsidies of various kinds."

They estimated home costs of from $4500 to $6000 as reasonable and practical, and urged abandonment of the concept of erecting new housing in downtown areas, on the ground that healthy children need the outdoor benefits of suburban and fringe areas. BASED ON INDEX

As to wage contracts they suggested they be on a basis "which shall reflect increases or decreases in the cost-of-living index beyond an agreed number of points (say five points) as compared to the index figure existing at the date one year prior to the signing of a new agreement."

They noted a definite trend towards stabilization of construction costs, with increases in 1948 only half as large as those of 1947.

The Association predicts, from available data, that 83,000 dwelling units will be built in 1949, compared with 79,359 in 1947.

It proclaims quotation of firm prices by all members, particularly on projects that can be completed within a year.

New Action for Lloydminster Oil Centre

By KEN KELLY
Canadian Press Staff Writer
LLOYDMINSTER, Sask., Jan. 27 (CP) — New life is stirring today in this oil centre on the Alberta-Saskatchewan border where no producing well ever was drilled dry.

Oilmen expect rich returns from the 25-square-mile field for two reasons: The West is becoming road conscious and all companies are looking for new markets for Lloydminster's heavy crude.

Ever since oil first was discovered in 1935, Lloydminster has been waiting the great boom. It never came as it did to other oil centres but the 4000 citizens of this town feel it is just around the corner.

Lloydminster oil is a thick, black crude almost like molten tar. It has little gasoline or high-grade petroleum products so companies looking for quick returns on costly outlays have paid the field less attention than other areas.

But, with Governments in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba starting road-building programs, Lloydminster crude soon may be in greater demand. Asphalt, the road-maker's basic material, is easily made from heavy crude.

One plant already is turning out as much asphalt as possible from the nearly 2,000,000 barrels the field produces each year.

A second refinery—now nearly at full production—plans to seek markets for furnace oils in Western Canada.

The Canadian Pacific Railways announced recently it planned to change 100 steam locomotives to burn oil instead of coal. And the company will use bunker oil from Western Canadian fields.

WANTS NO MORE COMMON SCOLDS IN PENNSYLVANIA

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 27 (AP) — Representative Jenette M. Dye today demanded the end of a Pennsylvania law that punishes women for talking too much.

She has proposed a bill in the State Legislature which would abolish "the common-law crime of common scold."

As the Legislature's leading proponent of women's rights, Mrs. Dye says the common scold law: "It is unnecessary. Laws against disorderly conduct and libel cover common scolds."

It's discriminatory. Women alone are subject to the law which over the years has exempted men. "And what's more I intend to do everything I can to end, as far as Pennsylvania is concerned, the farce of subjecting women to a silly law such as that," she told a reporter.

The crime of common scold originated in England centuries ago and was directed against women who became a public nuisance.

Punishment was a dousing in a pond while strapped to a ducking stool. The last time such a punishment was inflicted in Pennsylvania was in 1824.

The State Supreme Court ruled then that although the crime of common scold still existed in Pennsylvania, ducking was obsolete as a penalty. It said punishment should be by fine or imprisonment.

Last year, two women were convicted of being common scolds.

Training of Men Problem For Builders

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor
Right now one big problem of the building industry is to get fellows to learn how to build—to lay bricks, put on plaster, or the 101 things connected with putting up a house or a skyscraper, a road or a bridge.

It pays good money. Whether or not it will pay good money in the future is another question. If you believe Canada is going to be pretty busy for the next 25 years—and all signs point that way—you don't worry very much; if you are depression-conscious, you may fidget.

The Canadian Construction Association annual meeting, held in Toronto this week, had this put before it in regard to apprenticeship, or young people learning a trade. "It is abundantly clear that present methods have failed and cannot possibly produce the numbers of trained men that must be produced."

And the Committee on Apprenticeship gave this warning:

"Buildings will be built regardless of the supply of mechanics. Just as aluminum is replacing stone and brick, and transit and steel are replacing plaster, so will other substitutes be found."

"The question is—do we wish to see buildings built by machines or men? ... We must realize that it is not only for the benefit and protection of our business to revive the trade-training movement, but it is best for our citizens and for the future of our country, socially and economically."

Girls' Gangs Operate As Auxiliaries to Toronto Boys' Gangs

TORONTO, Jan. 27 (CP) — The Telegram says in a newspaper story today that at least nine girls' gangs have been established in the city, at least eight of them operating as "ladies' auxiliaries" to notorious boys' gangs. They are said to have a combined membership of 300 girls, aged 14 to 18. The story included an account by an unnamed girl of nude bathing parties last Summer at Wassa Beach on Georgian Bay.

Black, Winter Blue, Feathers, Sequin Popular With Members Wives

OTTAWA, Jan. 27 (CP) — Foolish hats must be passing out of the picture. At any rate most of the women attending the opening of Parliament today chose solid colors and sturdy felt.

Practically all the head-gear would withstand a high wind—except possibly one black number which bore a tall feather.

Feathers, large and small sequin-trim on many dresses added to the glitter of an opening which lacked the sparkle of other such occasions.

Black and Winter blue were the popular choice of color among the wives of the Cabinet ministers, Parliamentarians and diplomats.

Viscountess Alexander, wife of the Governor-General, chose a graceful floor length gown of royal blue crepe. Her hat was in matching velvet, and her jewelry, a pearl necklace and diamond ornaments.

For the first time in more than 20 years the wife of a Canadian Prime Minister attended an opening of Parliament.

Dressed in dove blue crepe, and wearing a black hat trimmed with blue ostrich feathers, Mrs. Louis St. Laurent, wife of the Prime Minister, sat at the right of the Senate Chamber, near the speaker's throne.

Another newcomer to an opening was Mrs. George Drew, wife of the leader of the Progressive Conservative Party. She wore a navy blue tailored wool model and an off-the-face hat of pale blue.

Color splashed in the section reserved for the diplomats and their wives where some wore native costume.

A sari of brilliant red was the choice of Sardarni Malik, wife of the Indian High Commissioner. Over her head was draped a gold paviav.

Tasty Recipes

By IDA BAILEY ALLEN

It's a good idea, at this time of year, to have on hand prepared fillings for hearty sandwiches, when something hearty but not too substantial is in order. Sandwiches, plus a salad, a cup of hot consommé, coffee and cake adds up to a nice meal.

For a healthful spread, place 3 strips of bacon in a cold skillet, and grill slowly over low heat until crisp. Pour off all fat except one on 2 tbs. Add one c. chopped cooked beef liver, then crumble the bacon. Let the mixture cook for a few minutes. Cool; add one c. finely grated raw carrot, 1/4 c. boiled salad dressing or mayonnaise, salt and pepper to taste. Makes about 2 c. of dressing—enough for 8 good sandwiches.

GOOD DISH

Ever hear of Rum Tumbly? Or, maybe you know it as Rinkum-Tiddy? Melt 2 tbs. butter or cooking fat in double boiler. Add 2 tbs. flour to smooth paste. Add 1/4 c. thin cream or undiluted evaporated milk gradually, stirring constantly until mixture thickens. Add 1/4 c. tomato catsup, 2 tbs. finely grated onion, dash of salt and pepper. Combine well. Cut 1/4 lb. yellow cheese into small pieces; add to mixture.

PYLONE FOR PILES

Modern medical science knows the internal cause must first be removed. The new PYLTONE TREATMENT is the result of amazing results everywhere, simply because it goes directly to the inside cause of piles. (A liquid taken mouth), it acts quickly on delicate internal tissue and swellings, restoring it to a healthy normal state. That's the difference with the new PYLTONE TREATMENT. You get results you expect with the first bottle or price refunded at once. With this new Treatment, pile torture is a thing of the past. $1.75 at all druggists or have him order for you.

with 1/4 c. minced pimiento. Stir until cheese is melted. Blend a little of the cheese mixture with tsp. prepared mustard before combining with rest of spread. Remove from fire and store in covered jar in refrigerator to use as a sandwich spread. Makes 2 c. spread.

For something fancier than just a sandwich spread, however good, spread the cheese mixture on white bread, then French-toast by dipping in beaten egg and milk with a dash of salt and pepper. Sauté in butter in skillet. They'll emerge light and delicate as a soufflé, with crisp little edges.

CHOP UP FINE

For a filling with flair, wash 1/4 lb. mushrooms and put through food chopper with coarse blade or fine chop with a knife. Sauté in 1/4 lb. table spread for 5 min. Sprinkle with 2 tbs. flour; add 1/4 c. cream or evaporated milk, 1/4 tsp. salt, 1/4 tsp. pepper and, if desired, 1/4 tsp. blended herbs. Stir until thick, then cook. Store in a covered jar in refrigerator until needed.

For something special, spread this mushroom mixture on buttered slices of white bread from which crusts have been removed. Roll up each slice very carefully; place side by side in shallow baking pan. Toast in oven or under broiler. You'll find that they stay up nicely and in place.

For Parents

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

Baby's Temper Not Very Different From Grownup's Violent Tantrum

The tiny infant may express anger at being unduly hampered by his clothing or when he is bathed and dressed. Subtly, he learns very early that crying, kicking or the like may bring him certain satisfaction and he, therefore, can easily develop a violent tantrum when his wishes have been thwarted. With enough reward of this fashion, aided and abetted by the mere attention and show of concern by adults during his rage, his tantrums can grow to be more frequent, prolonged, and violent. As he waxes older, he may, during a rage, destroy things, throw them about or at some person, abuse, curse, or attack that person in some other way. A certain child at the age of five would, when enraged, seize a butcher knife and drive his family out of the house. Another lad, sixteen, could make the whole household tremble with a violent temper tantrum.

Now a temper tantrum at the age of four, six or ten is not basically different from a fit of anger at the age of thirty, during which a wife may murder her husband. Most tantrums which persist in later life are of course less violent and destructive; yet many a youth (perhaps a parent) will, in a tantrum, prove himself almost any sort of social nuisance. He may, for example, talk back to the teacher or boss or quit a job or game when things don't go his way. He may blow up in a student council meeting, kick or knock things about, curse some person, refuse to communicate, or may feign illness. Any such behavior renders him a less-likable, less-co-operative person and citizen.

The first essential in prevention and correction of temper tantrums in the growing child are poise and self-control in the parent, especially at the moment when the child is enraged. Rarely, if ever, would a child develop violent temper tantrums, if he never got his way by crying and the like.

IGNORE THE WHINING

Like all other forms of tantrums, the whining habit may be corrected by paying no attention to it and making sure it never gains anything for the child that he wants. However, there are many instances in which the whining youngster should be sent to another room to remain until he can "come out smiling" or, preferably, have to sit in a chair where he can be seen, doing nothing for a definite period. Often such measures prove very effective in cultivating desirable self-control. When a child is kicking or shrieking, the best procedure, as a rule, is to do nothing and say nothing, not only ignoring him outwardly, but not even having any stirrings in your insides—psychological ignoring. If, however, the young child in rage is endangering the furniture, himself, or himself, a sound paddling might be very desirable and effective, if it is connected directly with the act and not vaguely with his anger.

FACTOR'S WIFE CLAIMS NORTHERN OUTPOST HAS ITS GOOD POINTS

TORONTO, Jan. 27 (CP)—A medical handbook, a supply of drugs, and a lot of common sense were all Mrs. Eunice Tyrer needed to fight an epidemic of mumps among a tribe of 800 Eskimos, 800 miles from the nearest doctor.

Mrs. Tyrer, 32-year-old wife of the Hudson's Bay Company Factor at Great White River, on the East Coast of Hudson Bay, was the only white woman in the settlement when the disease struck among the natives.

Before the epidemic was controlled, 100 of the 800 Eskimos had caught the disease, and 35 died.

Mrs. Tyrer is now in hospital here, recovering from a series of mastoid operations. She was flown to Timmins, Ont., from the lonely outpost three weeks ago for two operations and was brought to Toronto for further treatment.

Despite the loneliness, she misses Great White River. "I hope I can go home next week," she told an interviewer yesterday.

Although life there is sometimes uncomfortable, it has its good points. Mrs. Tyrer has an Eskimo maid at a salary of $20 a month, and she has a washing machine, too. If the wind blows often enough, a windmill will charge storage batteries sufficiently to give electric light.

Washington Spotlight Cocktail "Hour" Out of Hand

By GEORGE RONALD
Canadian Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, Jan. 27 (CP)—Paul H. Douglas, 56-year-old freshman senator from Illinois, stuck his neck out the other day and criticized one of Washington's most cherished institutions—the "cocktail hour."

The bespectacled, six-foot three-inch Marine Combat veteran said he has no objection to cocktails as such. Nor has he any kick about the hundreds of smoky, crowded sipping-parties Washington hostesses give each week.

His beef: There just isn't any such thing as a cocktail "hour" any more. One way and another, he contends, these things are getting out of hand and interfering with the work of Congress.

Douglas, who had an impressive public record even before his cocktail habit, made this observation at the tail end of party-cramped Inaugural Week.

"I'd be willing to hold later afternoon and evening Senate Committee hearings to escape the people who think a senator's time should be taken up with cocktail parties," FIREWATER SURVIVORS

The reaction was immediate—but on a mirthful note of well-here-we-go-again! The Washington Post said soberly:

"One of the first lessons every Congressional newcomer to Washington learns is that the social life of this town will get him if he doesn't watch out."

"A glance around will show that many of the older members of Congress have survived the ordeal by firewater, some of them with evident pleasure."

"But the choice is always there for each new solon to make: whether to take the cocktails and let the legislation go, adopt the contrary practice or find a happy medium."

Continued Hoarseness May Be More Than a Little Frog in the Throat

Most of us, at one time or another, have suffered from an attack of hoarseness. We have not paid much attention to it, but it should not be neglected for the kind of hoarseness which continues for several weeks is a disturbing symptom and one which requires prompt investigation. This throat condition may be due to a number of things. It may even be due to a tumor of the vocal cords in the larynx or voice-box and, of course, we all know that such an ailment should not be neglected.

Unfortunately it is not always possible to tell by an ordinary examination exactly what type of tumor is present. Therefore it may be advisable that in these difficult-to-diagnose cases, a bit of the tumor be removed for examination under the microscope.

There are several types of tumor growth in children. One of them is known as papillomatosis. This is a difficult disorder to treat. In this condition, numerous tumors are present, spread along the vocal cords and larynx. The growths seem to recur persistently and must be removed at intervals.

In adults, what is known as a papilloma of the vocal cords may develop. It can usually be cut off with out injuring the vocal cords.

What are known as vocal nodules or singers' nodes, may develop in singers, public speakers, and in persons who abuse the voice. The nodules are made up of swellings, and around the bottom of the swellings there is some inflammation or edema or collection of fluid in the tissues. These swellings may disappear after a period of complete rest of the voice. However, surgical removal may be necessary in some cases.

There are a number of other conditions that may cause hoarseness. For example, ulcers may develop in the larynx. These usually occur as a result of infection due to tuberculosis and, at times, even to syphilis. Fortunately, healing generally follows with proper treatment which must include complete voice rest.

A disorder known as pachydermia causes some thickening of the lining membrane in parts of the larynx. It is suggested that this may be due to the excessive use of alcoholic beverages. These growths also may be easily cut away.

When hoarseness that lasts more than a day or two occurs, there is always need to consult your doctor. He may even suggest that a thorough study by a specialist be made in difficult-to-diagnose cases so that the cause may be found and proper treatment carried out.

SASKATCHEWAN COUNSEL TO GO TO VANCOUVER

SASKATOON, Jan. 27 (CP)—The Saskatoon Star-Phoenix said today in a newspaper story it was rumored that M. C. Schumatcher, K.C., special counsel to the Saskatchewan Government, was resigning to take up private practice in Vancouver. It was understood that Mr. Schumatcher, who last year appeared before the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in London in the appeal on validity of the Saskatchewan Farm Loans Act, planned to set up a practice associated with organized labor.

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Jan. 27—(AP)—The hammer slaying of a red-haired beauty contest winner, found nude except for a shower cap, led to the questioning of her husband today by Sheriff's officers. The body of Mrs. Anne Stewart Cather, 23, her skull crushed, was found in her boarding house room yesterday. A few hours later the husband, Fred Cather, 28-year-old draftsman, was arrested at San Jose, Calif. A Sacramento pilot said he had flown Cather there. He was returned here last night.

Deputy Sheriff Harvey Hutchings quoted Cather as saying, "My mind was blank; I beat my wife up; all I saw was red."

Sacramento police theorized the couple had argued over worthless checks they said Cather had passed.

Cranbrook Thaws 250 Pipe Lines

CRANBROOK, B. C., Jan. 27—About 250 electric thaws of water pipes between City mains and the householders' property have been required in the past two weeks as this area continues to stagger under the heaviest winter of its history. Consistently below freezing since late November, and below zero three-fourths of that time, heavy snowcover protected pipes for the first six weeks. Threat of a thaw in mid-January started frost penetration of the ground which has reached record depth.

The water department has also had to thaw mains with steam pressure during the past few days. Frozen mains effect groups of houses. The City is responsible only for frozen pipes between mains and the householders' property. Household-ers are responsible for thawing their own pipes within their property limits.

East Kootenay Mining Towns Fear Railway Change, Urge Economy

CRANBROOK, B. C., Jan. 27—Installation of oil fueling facilities along the 400 miles of railway between Nelson and Lethbridge, with Cranbrook midway is expected to start soon for the Spring program which the Canadian Pacific Railway recently announced of converting the division from coal to oil burning locomotives.

Boards of Trade in the Crow's Nest Pass on both sides of the Rockies, in the heart of the coal mining district through which the line passes, have vigorously protested the change, but the railway stated the program will be carried out. The fuel oil to be used will come from Alberta's oil fields, and railway officials have pointed out that in the past importation of coal from the United States has been required in sections of its operations. The coal mining towns believe the change will have a reaching effect on their future operations and are urging utmost economy in coal production to keep this fuel on competitive price terms with oil.

About 37 locomotives operate from Cranbrook roundhouse. Two of these are old-timer oilburners operating the Cranbrook-Golden run of the Kootenay-Central Railway, and a third, a 5700 is used in yard work. Work of converting the others from coal to oilburners will be done a few at a time at the Winnipeg shops. The change will require oil fueling facilities at intervals along the way and in the principal stops. At Cranbrook yard a new coal chute was built and put in operation last year.

The Sunday School report was given by Mrs. Oxenham, Woman's Missionary Society by Miss A. A. Allen, Ladies' Aid by Mrs. H. L. Miller and Mrs. P. R. Henke, Missionary and Maintenance Fund by Mrs. W. L. Maxwell, and Pension Fund by Mrs. W. L. Maxwell.

Canada — A Refuge From "Communist Domination"

One hundred refugees selected from the 347 who landed last Dec. 13 in Halifax off the converted mine sweeper Walnut, have finally passed their medical tests, been accepted as immigrants, and today are bound for Ontario.

No doubt 100 novels could be written about these people—each person's life must be a story in itself. One middle-aged woman who had been a school teacher in her homeland said since the end of the war she had fled five countries to escape "Communist domination".

Now that the refugees are in Canada, their troubles are by no means ended, though they will enjoy the happiness of a free life. They will not be hounded or molested in this country, but they will have to map out a whole new life for themselves amid strange surroundings. They must find homes and jobs and start life anew. Many of them are already well on in years, and to them Canada will never really be home. It will be a refuge, nothing more.

The children and young people are the ones who will become real Canadians, they and their children after them.

One mother said, "First comes the English language. We want our children to take up their school studies as soon as possible."

It goes without saying that the children of that mother will be good Canadians some day.

Looking Backward

10 YEARS AGO

From The Daily News of Jan. 28, 1939

M. McIntosh, Conservative organizer, along with R. L. Maitland, Herbert Anscomb and R. W. Bruhn, will come to Nelson over the weekend to pay a "good-will" visit.

Danny McKay, President of the Nelson Ski Club, stated that Nelson skiers are tuning up for their tournament which takes place in February. Danny urges all skiers to come out early Sunday and take advantage of the practices.

In a talk to the Council of the Knights of Columbus at Fernie, Most Rev. Martin M. Johnson, Bishop of Nelson, said he expects to visit Rome with other Bishops of Canada and the United States in the near future.

Mrs. Robert McDonald's rink defeated Mrs. S. W. Davis' rink 10-2 in the finals at Rossland Friday, to capture the Ladies' Curling Archibald Cup.

25 YEARS AGO

From The Daily News of Jan. 28, 1924

W. P. Dickson of Willow Point, who has been in Nelson for the past month, has returned to his home.

At the annual meeting of the Nelson Board of Trade last night, the following officers were elected for the year: I. R. Phole, President; J. A. Irving, Vice President; E. F. Gigot, Secretary; A. D. McLeod, Treasurer, and W. M. Walker, Auditor.

Miss Margaret Daly left this morning on a trip East. She will visit Toronto, New York and Chicago. Last night was the formal opening of the new Lodge room of the Sons, Daughters and Maids of England Benefit Society in the Memorial Hall. Over 130 members were present.

At the annual meeting of the Creston Valley Agricultural Association Friday night, C. F. Hayes was unanimously elected President and George Johnson Vice President.

40 YEARS AGO

From The Daily News of Jan. 28, 1909

The 11th annual convention of the Associated Boards of Trade of Eastern British Columbia will open in Trail today. Delegates from Cranbrook, Greenwood, Kaslo, Moyle, Nelson, Rossland and Creston will be present. G. O. Buchanan of Kaslo is President and Fred Starkey of Nelson Vice President.

F. J. Smith, Editor of the Moyle Leader, and E. A. Hill, also of Moyle, passed through Nelson on their way to the Trail convention.

It is reported that the Porto Rico Lumber Company at Moyle has 6,000,000 feet of logs cut and ready for the mill next Spring. The Company expects a big season's business.

The second game between Nelson and Rossland in the League series will take place in Rossland tonight. Many Nelson fans will be on hand to help cheer Archie Bishop and Les Patrick to victory.

WHERE RUBBER REPLACES STEEL

It might seem unreasonable to say that a coal chute lined with rubber will last longer than one of steel alone. But the facts are that rubber lining bonded to the steel will often increase the life of a chute by twenty-fold. In one actual case, after two years, the chute is still performing without replacement of lining. This chute was actually lined with a soft, elastic, black rubber. It is claimed the lining protects equally well against abrasion from dry materials such as coal, for example, or wet materials, even at temperatures up to 150 degrees F. It is also acid-resistant.—Rotarian Magazine.

NEED SEVERE PENALTIES

Mayor Houde of Montreal urges that convicted bank robbers be punished by the lash. It brings up an old argument, but certainly, that sort of crime, and all crimes where violence is used, warrant the sharpest penalties the law is able to impose.—Ottawa Journal.

? Questions? ANSWERS

Open to any reader. Names of persons asking questions will not be published. There is no charge for this service. Questions WILL NOT BE ANSWERED BY MAIL except when there is obvious necessity for privacy.

Correspondent, Creston—Where and when was General James Wolfe born?

General Wolfe was born at Westerham, Kent, England, Jan. 1, 1727.

Pacificist, Nelson—The Foreign Ministers of the Big Three met in Moscow a few years ago to discuss atomic energy. Please give me the date of the meeting.

Dec. 27, 1944.

Stage-Struck, Nelson—Where was Signo Hassó born, and has she always acted in movies?

Signo Hassó is Swedish, and was born in Stockholm. Before going to Hollywood she appeared on the stage in "Maedchen in Uniform" and "Mary Queen of Scots".

Band Student, Creston—Is the English horn used in orchestras?

Yes.

E. B. Cranbrook—Please answer the following questions concerning the union of Newfoundland and Canada: (1) What representation will Newfoundland receive in the House of Commons and in the Senate?

To the House of Commons, Newfoundland will send seven members; to the Senate, six.

(2) What method has Newfoundland been using in marketing her fish?

This probably differs according to the kind of fish being marketed—one system for lobsters, for instance, another for whales, salmon, cod, etc. Perhaps a reader could help here?

(3) What will the taxation system be?

The Dominion Government has fixed March 31 as a likely date for the Island's official entry into Confederation. Presumably, following that date, Newfoundland, in common with the other nine Provinces, will establish its own Provincial taxes and assume Federal ones.

Protests Action on Fourways Park

To the Editor:

Sir—Please grant me space in your paper that I might voice my opinion on the sale and the purchase of the Fourways property. This property, as announced in The Daily News more than a year ago, was given up by the Knights of Pythias Lodge and the City reserved it for a tourist location. The buyers, anxious for a location for such a business, applied for and purchased this property. Furthermore, the 1948 Council had every legitimate right to sell this property, as well as the buyers having every legitimate right to buy it, as anyone else might have done had he been in the position to do so.

This is not a Communist country, and after a property has been sold for better than a year the owner doesn't come to you and say, "You can't have it; I want it back." There wouldn't be much use living here if it were like that.

I cannot understand why some people are protesting now, especially ones who know very little or nothing about the grounds. The owners refuse to be victimized over their purchase.

About 1906 the Patrick brothers built a skating rink on the property. Not so many years ago this rink was torn down and the Civic Centre was built to take care of the ice arena and to centralize activities for young and old.

The Kinsmen Club was the first organization to take over this rink ground to convert it into a children's playground. They were going to make it an ideal playground. Being an up-and-coming Club, they recognized the hopelessness of their project after a year or so, and relinquished the property to the City again.

The Knights of Pythias took up the project. One of the leading protesters was a member of this Lodge. They saw it was useless to try to carry it on as a children's playground, as it was not being patronized by the children. That is why they gave it back to the City. May I add that some of the members who were going to take care of the children's playground were right there with spade and shovel the first day, but later they were always away out of reach when something was to be done. Mr. J. C. Robinson was the one member who worked hard to make it a children's playground, and he was always there when something was to be done.

I would like to know why the now protesting member of this Lodge has reversed his stand and is trying to reestablish the grounds as a playground. I have lived around that property all my life, and I know that children seldom played there.

The City firemen flooded a portion of these grounds for winter-time skating. This was fine until the screaming of late ice skaters proved a nuisance to the neighborhood and a protest was made when an adjoining house had a flood situation in its basement caused from the melting ice.

The iron bars that stand on the property are the same ones that the children used to play on at the Central School. Several times the City was threatened with a law suit by the parents of children who were nearly killed on them. Would you wish your children to play on them and have to depend on neighbors or passersby to come to their assistance when they fall?

A petition was taken up in the required area surrounding the property saying that the property-holders had no objections to a business being established there. A better than required percentage of consent of the property-holders was obtained. The petition met the approval of the Council. The opposition has tried in every way to take exception to it by making false implications.

There is no such thing now as a retention by the City of these grounds. You could urge the City to buy the grounds if you believe it the most justifiable cause. This is a democratic country, and as such has a democratic way of doing things.

Winter Tasks for the Gardener

Inexpensive Equipment Will Ensure Ample Light and Water to Your Plants, and Protect Them From Disease.

SCIENCE DESIGNS SEED BOX TO START PLANTS IN HOME

Grandfather's methods of sowing garden seeds in a box to grow in the kitchen window during the winter have been subjected by experiment stations to a series of rigid tests. Sometimes Grandpa succeeded and sometimes he failed, without knowing exactly why.

Science demands first to know why, and then seeks a way to prevent failure. If all the protective measures which have been recommended in the last few years were applied to a single seed box (see illustration), here is what it would have:

1. Automatic watering, by the wick method, to make sure the soil never dried out.

2. A layer of sphagnum moss on top of the soil, in which the seeds were sown, to prevent disease, especially "damping off", which cannot develop in the anti-biotic moss.

3. A lamp, preferably fluorescent, suspended a foot above the box, so it can be turned on to supplement the daylight, whenever light is needed.

With this equipment none of which is expensive, any amateur gardener ought to be able to sow seeds of flowers or vegetables in an indoor box, and bring the seedling plants up to transplanting size without disaster.

Most important of these devices is

No Permanent Damage To Flooded Soil

VICTORIA, Jan. 27 (CP) — No permanent damage to the general fertility of the soil was caused by the devastating floods in the Fraser Valley and elsewhere in B.C. last Spring.

This conclusion was reached by 40-odd agricultural experts here during the third annual convention of the B.C. Agronomists Association. The experts, representing the Dominion and Provincial Agriculture Departments and the University of British Columbia, discussed the effect of the flood on the farm lands of the province at length during a symposium. They generally agreed that only permanent damage was limited to extreme silting and erosion of the soil. This damage was not, however, general.

A. E. Donald, District Agriculturalist at Chilliwack for the Provincial Government, reported that in the face of a very adverse season, with precipitation above normal during August and September, good crops had been obtained from seeded areas. Particularly fine yields had been obtained from oat crops on the lands after the flood waters receded.

SEEDING EXTENSIVE. The reseeding program was reported more extensive than had been expected and as a result produced good feed crops.

In the Fraser Valley 50,000 acres were totally flooded. Of this total 38,000 acres were cultivated or improved land.

In the Creston District the flood waters totally inundated 15,000 acres.

N. F. Putnam, Field Crop Commissioner for the Provincial Agriculture Department, told of the work of an Advisory Committee on soils and fertilizers set up during the emergency.

At the same time the experts were agreed that the flooding had not improved the soil in any way. Silt deposits were not extensive enough to enrich the soil generally.

Former Police Commissioner Will Need New Expression

VANCOUVER, Jan. 27 (CP) — Christopher R. North, former Victoria Police Commissioner, will have to look for a new form of expression. In Supreme Court yesterday Mr. Justice H. S. Wood decided "Joe's" Bronx cheer, a resounding vocal insult, was too much for ball park fans.

North, now 73, sued the Victoria Baseball and Athletic Co. Ltd. for refusing him admission to their park last June. North held two season tickets that cost him $146.30, but the operators banned him.

The Judge termed North, winner of the Victoria "Good Citizen" award in 1936, a man "of whose generous spirit there is no doubt," but agreed with the company's objection to his famous raspberry, and his general conduct at ball games.

The last straw, according to the park operators, was North's rendition of a classic Bronx cheer before two women in a ticket office.

Said the Judge: "Whether the cheer was well done or misfired I'm not sure, but the young women swore he spoiled their lunch."

The court ordered a return of $66.80 from the price of the season tickets.

CANCEL SPEAKING TOUR

VANCOUVER, Jan. 27 (CP) — Three service clubs here today cancelled the speaking tour of Rev. James G. Endicott of Toronto because of his connection with the Peace Council of Canada. On a previous visit here, Dr. Endicott was hailed by several Communist papers, and his meeting sponsored by prominent leftists.

Gov't Will Lend Money To Steel Companies

OTTAWA, Jan. 27 (CP) — The Government is prepared to lend money to steel companies on a 50-50 basis to help them expand primary production, Trade Minister Howe said today.

Expanding an announcement of steel plant help in yesterday's throne speech, Mr. Howe said in an interview the Government would match funds the steel-producing companies provided to extend their facilities.

NO CEILING He declared no ceiling was being placed on the Government's loans.

"We will go as far as the companies are prepared to go," he said. Aim of the new policy is to get new primary units into production to help overcome Canada's acute shortage of steel.

Several months ago, the Dominion Government asked the Canadian steel producers to draw up programs for the expansion of their blast furnace and other primary facilities.

So far, Mr. Howe said, the only company to lay down its program with the Government is Steel Company of Canada at Hamilton, Ont. The other basic producers are Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation at Sydney, N.S., and Algoma Steel Corporation at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

For that reason, the Minister said, he could give no indication of the probable extent of the Government's ultimate financial participation.

SEEK INQUIRY INTO POULTRY FEED PRICES

VANCOUVER, Jan. 27 (CP) — A campaign for an inquiry into poultry feed prices was launched today by the West Coast Poultrymen, a recently-organized producers' group. At their annual meeting last night in suburban Burnaby the poultrymen backed a challenge issued to Deputy Agriculture Minister J. G. Teggart. The challenge asked him to reconcile his announcement that feed prices were on a downward trend when wheat had risen $28 per ton, barley $2, oats $3 and mash $1.6. The meeting said flocks are being reduced sharply due to increased operating costs and falling returns.

Members also attacked the 1949 British contract. Egg prices in the deal were termed "ridiculously low."

tion toward the expansion program.

However, he emphasized that it would be by loan only. The loans would be repaid from the proceeds of the output of the projected new facilities.

SOCIALIST PLANNING ...AND WORK BOOTS

Under a Socialist state employment will be steadier, say the Socialists, because scientific government planning will replace the planning of private company managements.

One of the first socialized industries of the first Socialist government in Canada was a shoe factory in Saskatchewan, making work boots.

There is a great and continuous demand in Canada for work boots.

Five days before Christmas the factory, which had been losing money steadily, closed down and threw its workers out of employment. The Socialist government told its employees just at Christmas time that it would not need them again for three months.

Non-Socialist shoe factories in Canada are still managing, presumably in spite of "unscientific planning," to give regular employment in a business where there is intense competition to give the consumer the best possible deal and win his patronage.

If Socialism can't operate as simple an industry as a shoe factory in a time of high employment and high purchasing power without a three-months layoff, what can be expected of Socialist planning in vast, complex industries which the equally inexperienced Socialists in British Columbia say they will take over if the people of British Columbia elect them to power?

Our Rinks Into Semi-Finals for Kimberley Cup Today at Ladies' Spiel

KIMBERLEY, B.C., Jan. 27 — Links from the four centres competing in the Kootenay Ladies Curling Association Bonspiel here will meet in the semi-finals Friday morning for the Kimberley Cup, a primary event in the annual "spiel".

Mrs. T. A. Wallace of Nelson will play against Mrs. Sommon Kimberley, while Mrs. Pat Pattullo of Trail and Mrs. Cameron of Rossland will take to the lanes to work toward the final.

Play will also open Friday for Rossland Cup—a secondary event in the six-event affair.

Trail Cup play, also a primary event, was started Thursday. The Bonspiel got under way, and play will see eight rinks engaged in the quarter-finals.

Three-day competition will see cups from Trail and Kimberley (primary), Nelson and Rossland (secondary) and Cranbrook (contingent) in contest.

Thursday's results:

MARY EVENTS
KIMBERLEY CUP
First round:
Mrs. Cecile Graham of Trail defeated Mrs. Swan of Kimberley.
Mrs. T. A. Wallace of Nelson defeated Mrs. Rochon of Kimberley.

Rossland High Hoopers Here Tonight

By CLIVE FLEMING
Rossland High School basketball team will play the Nelson Bombers and Bomberettes a return visit tonight at the Civic Centre Auditorium.

The Nelson Bombers, last year Kootenay champs, played a series with Trail and Rossland lately, and made a split, as did the Bomberettes. The Bomberettes beat the Golden City girls badly, while the Bombers eked out a 41-32 decision.

The Bombers lineup will be composed of Wilson, Pitts and Renwick, guards, and forwards Todd, Brett, Harris, Hood, Nutter, Elmore and Lorne Irwin. Jim Wilson plays a steady defensive job, and has a wicked shot from far out. All members of the club are highly proficient basketballers.

Playing for the Bomberettes will be Dora Wallace, Barbara Nellis, Sheila Kearns, Mary McGinn, Hazel Siminoff, Muriel Stuart, Eileen Williams, Viv Montealeone and possibly some of the Bruinettes, one of the High School's other squads. It will be the first home appearance of the Bomberettes in an intercity match. Play will start at 8:30.

Nelson Basketeers to Enter Kootenay Play

Nelson will enter two teams in the coming Senior B Kootenay Basketball playoffs, Archie Birse, Civic Centre Manager and Vice-President of the Kootenay Basketball Association, said Thursday.

A men's rep team will enter a five-city battle for the Kootenay championship, while a girls' rep team will meet Trail in a West Kootenay series.

Nelson's reps in the men's play will first play Rossland in a two-game home-and-home series. Total points count. The winner will play Trail for the right to meet the winner of the Kimberley-Creston series.

Nelson-Rossland series must be completed by Feb. 10.

The new Kootenay Association setup made play in the British Columbia playdowns possible, as back-

Following players will make the trip: S. Benedetti, D. Kennedy, B. Burns, G. Twells, F. Renwick, D. Brown, K. Carmichael, E. Mayer, L. Ludlow, D. Ackert, N. Sjoberg and G. Choquette.

8-Enders Scored in Kimberley Game

KIMBERLEY, B.C., Jan. 27 — A freak shot turned the tide in a game at the curling rink here this week between F. Holmes and Mr. Hardy.

On the ninth end, with the score standing at 9-4 for Holmes, the Hardy rink managed to edge in the last rock for a perfect end.

Holmes, after suddenly finding himself down three coming home, was able to rally sufficiently on the last end to tie it up and win on the extra end.

Personnel of the rinks were F. Holmes, skip; M. Thomas, A. White and G. Cowan, and K. W. Jensen, skip; J. Wightman, W. Anderson and Joe Rochon.

By The Associated Press

The National League's leading scorers had a lean night although all teams were in action Wednesday night. Sid Abel of Detroit was the only marksman in the select circle to collect a point. He garnered an assist to move into a third-place tie with Montreal's Bill Reay. Chicago's one-two punch of Doug Bentley and Roy Conacher still set the pace with 45 points apiece.

Portland Nears Northern Leaders

By The Associated Press
Victory over the Northern Division leaders of New Westminster left the Portland Eagles only six points behind the pace makers today in the Pacific Coast Hockey League.

Portland held the Royals scoreless until midway in the third period and wound up with a 4-1 triumph Wednesday night on the New Westminster ice. Ollie Ritchie scored for the losers.

Phil Dalglish and Frank Davis scored for Portland in the opening two periods. Doug Corrigan made it 3-0 for the Eagles early in the third. Walt Hnatuk added the final Portland tally near the end of the game.

Seattle defeated the Fresno Falcons 3-1 on its home ice, and the invading San Francisco Shamrocks outscored Los Angeles, 9-7. The games left Fresno and Los Angeles in a third-place tie in the Southern Division.

THUNDERBIRDS WIN

VANCOUVER, Jan. 27 (CP)—U.B.C. Thunderbirds last night walked away with an 8-3 victory over Vancouver Indians in a British Columbia Senior B Hockey League fixture.

Rossland Ready For Busy Sno-Sho, Skiing Week

Reports from the Sno-Sho Committee under the direction of George Ballantyne indicate their plans are complete for the Carnival.

Continued cold weather has made the building of the ice throne an easy matter, all that remains is to install the flood lighting and decorations. There is an abundance of snow, good tracks for both the bob-sleigh and the ski-joring races.

Details for the skating shows are complete, with local and out-of-town figure skating stars lined up for a well balanced program.

The Sno-Sho starts Saturday, Feb. 5 and continues through until Wednesday. On Thursday the Western Canadian ski championships start, running through until the following Sunday. The Tournament Committee of the Red Mountain Ski Club reports heavy entries in all events, with the best skiers in the West competing.

With the Associated Boards of Trade convention here on Feb. 11 and 12, it promises to be a busy week for Rossland.

LION JUVES WALLOP DODGERS

Lion Juveniles moved into a tie for second place in the local Juvenile Hockey League as they walloped a weak Dodger Club 13-6 at the Civic Arena Wednesday evening. The Dodgers were minus three of their top players and their defence was almost like a sieve.

Gail Brett, who was a standout for the Lions, figured in almost all of the play for nine of their goals. Brett took time out to drive in two for himself. Charlie Christenson was the big scorer for the winning Lions as he drove in five markers, and also gained an assist. Johnny O'Genski scored three and gave out one assist. Lorne Irwin tallied two goals and one assist. Keith Loewen one goal and five assists. Gordie Flickering also figured in the play with one assist.

For the losing Dodgers, Johnny Bachynski and George Welbourne shared top honors with two goals and one assist each. Brady and White were the other marksmen with a goal each. White also gave one assist. Leschuck was top play maker for the Dodgers with three assists to his credit. Bachynski drew the only penalty of the game.

George Welbourne of the Dodgers was a casualty late in the third period when he collided with Irwin of the Lions both going off for repairs. Alan MacDonald and Slim Porter were the referees. Pete Reibin kept the time and score.

Campbell Defends N.H.L. Referees

BOSTON, Jan. 27 (AP)—President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League insists the standard of refereeing in the circuit is the best he has seen in years.

In a conference with hockey writers Campbell defended the loop's officials against printed criticism, that the referees were allowing too much rough hockey.

"It's the men on the benches, the managers and coaches, who set the style of play, not the officials," he stated.

Puck-Pourri—

By CLIVE FLEMING
"The Smoke Eaters will smear the Nelson Maple Leafs tonight," said Eric Bishop Wednesday in the Trail Times, but it was exactly the reverse, with Nelson doing the smearing, to gain second place. Jesse Seaby was the main factor for the Leafs win, the other night. Courtless times he made sensational stops, and inspired Nelson to their second win on Trail ice, shoving the Smokies into the dreary depths of the cellar, one full game behind Nelson and Kimberley.

The Leaf line of Hergert-Haldane-McClenaghan was outstanding throughout the game, and amassed eight scoring points.

Jack Kilpatrick, playing along with Bill Vickers and Jerry Lubeck almost got the hat trick in one stint on the ice. He scored two, and drew the Duke out of the goal but hit the meat beside the goal post. Bill Vickers came dangerously close on a few occasions, but he tried early in the first, when he used Jimmy Anderson as a shield just hit the Duke's pad, when he appeared to be looking for the disc.

One of the nicest goals of the game was McClenaghan's counter, when both Corrado and Hergert were in the sin bin. It was a two man rush right up the ice, with Haldane carrying the rubber most of the way. When Neil was right in the clear, he took Haldane's pass, and drove the puck hard into the net.

Don Anderson's first period goal was the best of the night, receiving a fast pass from Secco, as he was almost at the far post, and the bespectacled centreman banged it past Seaby, giving him no chance at all.

Fred Nelson made several good rushes from his defence position, and scored his first goal of the season, when he slapped Bill Haldane's rebound cleanly past Scodellaro. Fred originated the play and Hergert and Haldane had the disc before he scored. It happened when he applied some of his speed to sloop onto Scodellaro in case he let a rebound out.

Almost every game Nelson plays in Trail, there is at least one fluke goal, due to the cramped space in the arena. Probably it's the same when any other team plays there, but almost all the time it's against the final of the new McLeod and Hodgeson Cup, up for competition for the first time this year. The Dergosoff rink also won the new Morrison Trophy for the local rink winning most games. They won seven straight games.

Art Morryson's rink won the battered Barnes Cup of many years prestige from Fraser Carmichael in a pretty duel that closed the bonspiel.

Herb Clark's rink took the Consolation Competition from Pat Fihlay's quartet.

Weatherly's Greenwood rink and Lewis rink from Osoyoos were conspicuous in major battles but lost towards the finish.

Grand Forks Cup, Major Trophy, To Landucci as Close Games End 'Spiel

GRAND FORKS, B.C., Jan. 27 — Joe Landucci's rink from Trail captured the Grand Forks Cup from Gordon McMynn's Midway quartet by a single point in a keen battle and won the tops of the trophies at the annual Grand Forks Curling Bonspiel concluded Thursday morning.

Nick Dergosoff beat Leo Mills in the final of the new McLeod and Hodgeson Cup, up for competition for the first time this year. The Dergosoff rink also won the new Morrison Trophy for the local rink winning most games. They won seven straight games.

Art Morryson's rink won the battered Barnes Cup of many years prestige from Fraser Carmichael in a pretty duel that closed the bonspiel.

Herb Clark's rink took the Consolation Competition from Pat Fihlay's quartet.

Weatherly's Greenwood rink and Lewis rink from Osoyoos were conspicuous in major battles but lost towards the finish.

F.A.C. JUVENILES BLANK DODGERS

Fairview Athletic Club's juvenile hockey team blanked the Dodgers 3-0 in a League game at the Civic Arena Tuesday evening. It was Bill Dozzi's second shutout in League play.

Neither team scored in the opening period, but early in the second session Jimmy Todd combined with Al Hood to mark up the first F.A.C. goal. Later on Gene McInnes made it 2-0 as he slapped in Bob Pitts pass. Al Hood of the F.A.C.'s drew the only penalty of the game in that period.

In the final stanza Bobby Pitts broke away from a Dodger ganging attack to rifle home goal number three. The Dodgers who enjoyed an even amount of play were never able to break Dozzi's goose egg.

John Lang and Syl Benedetti were the referees. Chuck Crosby kept the time and score.

Lions Trounce Medicine Hat 10-5

BELLEVEUE, Alta., Jan. 27 (CP)—Belleveue Lions are crowding the fifth-place Medicine Hat Tigers in their effort to vacate the Western Canada Junior Hockey League cellar.

Lions last night trounced Tigers 10-5 to draw to within one point of the Medicine Hat Club.

Mario Scodellaro harvested four goals, one in the first and third periods and two in the second stanza, to lead Lions to victory. Pete Petrovich, Pontrollo, Bill Schevitz, Vern Pachal, Rich Antonenko and Frank Kubasek tallied singletons.

Doug Hage paced Tigers with two goals while Ernie Rucks, Jack McFarlan and Bud Kobussen accounted for one each.

Lady Curlers Elect Mrs. Wasilleu; Cranbrook To Have 1950 Bonspiel

KIMBERLEY, B.C., Jan. 27—Mrs. S. Maartman of Kimberley was elected Honorary President and Mrs. W. Wasilleu of Cranbrook, President of the Kootenay Ladies Curling Association at the annual meeting here.

Store News From MANN'S

We will sell cheap our share of this cold weather—we don't like it! The girls put up a brave bluff of doing extra jobs but mostly they huddle around our poor lone inefficient radiator.

We are trying to get our stock in shape for the annual inventory headaches. Not only is there the actual physical work involved but as well the necessity of showing a big stock to help our bank statement, a small stock to keep our income tax down, a big stock for the benefit of our customers and an accurate amount for fire insurance purposes. To adjust all these different demands requires as many decisions as you'd expect from a hockey referee. It's a tough life.

ESKIMO ONLY ONE RESCUED FROM ICE FIELD WHO SUFFERED FROSTBITE

WINNIPEG, Jan. 27 (CP)—Akomulik the Eskimo, one of 12 men rescued late last week from a Hudson Bay ice floe, was disclosed today to have been the only one who suffered frostbite from the 34 hours on the field of ice.

Akomulik, Eskimo for ball of fire related through an interpreter from a hospital that he had frozen his thumb during his stay on the ice. He said this had resulted because he—like the others—had to stay in a tent while on the ice. He had found it impossible to build himself an igloo because there was no snow, just ice, on the ice-pan.

Akomulik, who was brought here for medical treatment, revealed that he had suffered a rupture when he slipped in his boat after harpooning

Cold Weather Still Hampers Coast Herring Catches

VICTORIA, Jan. 27 (CP)—Herring catches continued small during last week because of the cold weather, but the catch for the current season still is well ahead of the catches for any season since 1943.

The Chief Supervisor of Fisheries for the Dominion Government reported the catch to last weekend at 116,607 tons. The previous high during the last six years at that date was 111,941 tons caught last year.

Last week the catch totalled 1217 tons. The bulk of it was taken off the West Coast of Vancouver Island and along the middle East coast.

Protest East Indian Drivers "Poor Risk"

VANCOUVER, Jan. 27 (CP)—Representatives of automobile insurance firms said today East Indian applicants are refused policies because they are a "poor risk," not because of any racial discrimination.

Representatives of the companies were answering charges levelled last night at a C.C.F. meeting. The meeting heard Mrs. Ida Bann, wife of Iahar Singh Bann, who said one company had cancelled his policy when they learned of his race.

"They say Indian boys are reckless drivers," she said. Bann, a carpenter, has been driving 25 years without an accident.

One company official said he thought the bad Indian driving record came from white boys who drove their trucks. "Accidents are charged against the owner, not the driver," he pointed out.

Study Bevin Post In U.K. Cabinet?

By JAMES MCCOOK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Jan. 27 (CP)—There was general speculation in political and newspaper circles today that Ernest Bevin's assignment as Foreign Secretary is under study at a Cabinet inquiry into his Palestine policy.

The Cabinet met this morning. Bevin was absent but William Whiteley, Government Whip, was called in. It was believed Whiteley was to report on the Labor revolt against Bevin last night.

The House endorsed Bevin's policy but only by a margin of 90 votes. It was the lowest margin of victory obtained during the present Parliament on any major issue.

The vote was 283 to 193, on a division demanded by Opposition leader Churchill. It climaxed a 7½-hour debate and marked the first major cleavage between the Government and the Opposition on foreign policy.

In old time form, Churchill called at Bevin for his "folly, stupidity and fatuity" in handling the Palestine problem. Bevin listened impassively with arms folded.

Bevin said he assumes that the "final act" of recognition will be taken in the next few days. It now was a matter of consultation with the Commonwealth and Britain's Allies—France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

The debate ended in an uproar as Prime Minister Attlee sought to defend Bevin against what the Prime Minister claimed was "a vendetta." Attlee accused Churchill of trying to work on the feelings of the people, and of suggesting that Bevin be removed from office.

Earlier, Bevin was under fire from a member of his own party—R. H. S. Crossman, Labor Member from Coventry—who obtained, along with a Party group, Crossman said.

"If any single man is responsible for the growth of Fascism on one side and Communism on the other it is the man who conducted British policy in Israel in the last three years."

At least 50 Labor Members abstained from voting. They did so despite a reported last-minute appeal from Attlee, Deputy Prime Minister Herbert Morrison and other leaders. As the House filed into the lobbies for a division, this group remained at their benches as there would be no mistaking their attitude.

Bevin, in opening the debate, demanded support of the Commons and the country in his policy designed to ensure security in the vital Middle East.

SHIRKED PROBLEM
Closing the debate, Attlee accused Churchill of shirking the Palestine question when the Opposition leader headed the wartime Coalition Government. "Everybody in the wartime government knew that Churchill shirked the question," Attlee said.

Churchill had called for immediate government recognition of Israel. He drew support from almost all the members of his party, Liberals and the discontented Labor Members.

Bevin told the Commons: "The state of Israel is a fact and we (The Labor Government) have not tried or done anything to undo it. Now that the armistice talks are at last proceeding, the British Government now has considered that the time has come when de facto recognition (of Israel) may contribute to the peace settlement."

Bevin opened the debate with a belligerent defence based on the argument that the Government's policies have been essential to safeguard the Middle East against the spread of Communism.

He hinted that Britain might intervene if fighting flared again between Arabs and Jews in Palestine.

"There is so much propaganda on the other side that sometimes I think it is forgotten that the Arabs are in the world," Bevin added.

Truman Expects St. Laurent Visit Next Month

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27 (AP)—President Truman announced today that Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent of Canada is visiting the United States next month.

The President said the Prime Minister will arrive in Washington the night of Feb. 11 and remain for two days on just a friendly visit.

He added that the visit would have nothing to do with the North Atlantic Pact or any specific questions.

The President said he met the present Prime Minister when he visited Ottawa in the Spring of 1947.

He disclosed the forthcoming visit at a Press conference in which he said that the Prime Minister had accepted his invitation.

May Get Chance at Bantamweight Title

VANCOUVER, Jan. 27 (CP)—Jackie Turner, Vancouver's bounding bantamweight, may get a shot at the Canadian 118 pound title.

Negotiations are underway to have him meet title-holder Fernando Gagnon in Montreal within the next two months, promoter Al Principe said here today.

ENTER FOR DAVIS CUP

MONTREAL, Jan. 26 (CP)—Canada has sent in her application for participation in the North American Zone Davis Cup matches of 1949 and the selection committee for the Dominion's tennis team will be appointed in March, it was announced today.

Canada's team was defeated by Mexico in last year's Zone semifinals.

Ski Slants

Gee, this is swell weather for skiing, but right here and now we want to state "If there's anyone in the Nelson Ski Club praying for more of the same, we wish they would desist." You know, at the first of the season a skier was greeted with, "This must be good weather for you sk enthusiasts." Now all we get is a dark fog—as if it was our fault!

The slalom course is being used constantly now—skiers go out on Wednesday and some stay for a pot-luck supper at the cabin, and some skiing after—practically every day there's someone on the hill. Saturday and Sunday are the big days tho—and sometimes our hill seems a bit narrow. We must add a word of caution too. When the hill is packed with your fellow members, please don't ski straight down, stay in control and let's not have any collisions.

The jumping hill is in fair shape now. There are very few jumpers among our members and it takes three-quarters of their skiing time to put the hill in shape every skiing day. Lately the work has been increased by a number of skiers who like to "ride the hill." We know this is a big thrill but ask you please to stay off the jump hill—it's hard enough to keep it safe for the jumpers as it is and riding the hill just creates bumps and ruts that might mean a bad spill when the boys "fly through the air."

Noticed around the hill: Art and Bill working hard with shovel and rake for a couple of "jeeps." Doug Morris finally got out Sunday to put his skis on again Wednesday. "Tuffy" making the rounds—Alice Stevenson wondering why she doesn't take as good a picture in a movie as a still.

Not noticed around the hill: Spectators are very few. We would like to see more of our member's parents out to watch their youngsters on the "slippery hickories." We know it's pretty cold out there but as we said before, the cabin is small but congenial.

That's all for now—see you Sunday, and please members, stay off the jump hill.

Ammunition Faulty So No Record

SYDNEY, Australia, Jan. 26 (AP)—Lloyd Labeach of Panama stepped 100 yards in 9.4 seconds tonight, his fastest time on a grass track.

The former University of Wisconsin star defeated Ted Strickland and Morris Curotta, both of New South Wales, in an invitation sprint.

Although Labeach's time was 1/10th of a second under the listed Australian record, it will not be recognized officially because the starter used a whistle after the ammunition for his gun proved faulty.

Labeach also defeated Curotta in the invitation 220-yard dash. He was clocked in 21.3 second, 3/10ths of a second more than the Australian record set by Herb McKenzie of Jamaica in the Australian championships here Jan. 22.

McKenzie, who did not start in the 220, captured the invitation 440-yard run in 48 seconds. Curotta's Australian record for the distance is 47.2 seconds.

British Expect Lower World Wheat Price

Canada, U. S. Satisfied With $2
A Bushel Price as Meeting Opens

By GEORGE RONALD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27 (CP)—Canada favors a $2-a-bushel maximum price in any new world wheat agreement, her delegate told the International Wheat Conference today, when almost immediately the United States said she is willing to agree if "favorable provisions can be obtained on other points."

But the United Kingdom, one of the biggest wheat importers, took the buyer's stand. She expects "a substantial reduction" from the $2-a-bushel maximum, which was included in the never-implemented wheat agreement of 1948.

Dr. Charles F. Wilson, the Canadian delegate, said in an opening statement that Canada will support the price ranges as laid down in the agreement drawn up last March but never put into effect.

The Canadian stand, he said, is that these are 1948 prices are "appropriate to give effect to the objectives of an international agreement, whether wheat is in scarcity or in surplus."

(Under the terms of the unratified agreement, 500,000,000 bushels of wheat would have been exported by Canada, Australia and the United States during a five year period, 1948-53. The three countries would have been importing countries would have bought at prices ranging from $2 a bushel maximum to minimums of $1.50 in 1948-49, $1.40 in 1949-50, and so on to $1.10 in 1952-53.)

First of several opening statements was that of the British delegate, T. Sheed Anderson. He said the United Kingdom expects a "substantial reduction," particularly in maximum prices.

Wilson said undoubtedly some delegations may read into the present circumstances an opportunity to seek different terms than those which were agreed upon in 1948.

"Because of that possibility I should like to mention that the only

Seeks Snooker Endurance Record

By STUART UNDERHILL
Canadian Press Staff Writer
LONDON, Jan. 27 (CP)—The craze to be crazier than the last crazy character has cropped up again on the fringes of British sport, recalling the halcyon days of "Shipwreck" Kelly and other endurance fiends of the early 1930s.

Latest to be bitten by the bug of wanting to do something longer than anyone else ever did is 49-year-old Bert Couzens. He's angling for the world snooker endurance record.

Couzens is no slouch in the stamina league. Already he has gained world reputation as a marathon walker. "Now he hopes for additional places in the wacky record books alongside such forgotten men as Milton van Nola of San Francisco, who won fleeting fame when he wore the pants off the redoubtable Kelly by squatting for 71 days atop a flagpole."

Then there was the Australian, Harry Davies, who stayed 24 hours—50 feet up—on a half-inch diameter cable without a safety net. He gave the spectators a jollier time by snatching a nap and cooking a three-course lunch on a spirit stove he kept handy.

Maybe the wackiest of 'em all was the Netherlands' Dejo. He took a modern and apparently healthy delight in being stabbed through the heart (500 times), submerged in boiling water, shot through the brain, and doused with a deadly poison. Nobody seems to know if he had a predecessor—dead or alive.

Couzens plans to start his attack tomorrow on the snooker record of 45 hours and 20 minutes. And his aim is at least 60 hours of continuous play.

Among his world-record achievements is a round-Britain walk of 3100 miles in 50 days. Before that, in 1946, he wore out an 1800 world record and seven pairs of shoes when he walked 3000 miles around a sport stadium in 48 days with only 26 hours rest.

He has also won the world record for 24 hours of snooker, and has been a member of the B.C. Snooker Association.

Dimaggio Seeks Highest Paid Player Title?

By TED MEIER
NEW YORK, Jan. 27 (AP)—Joe Dimaggio was reported today to have turned down a $10,000 raise from New York Yankees and to be seeking a contract that would make him the highest-paid player in baseball history.

Friends mentioned sums like $90,000 and $100,000 but no figures came from the principals.

Following a salary conference yesterday with Yankee officials Dimaggio said only:

"The Yankees made me an offer. I made no counter-offer. My understanding is that after a few days they will call me up and we will have another session. Until then I am not going to say whether it will be a quick or a delayed signing."

The contract offered Dimaggio is reported to call for $85,000 in basic salary, compared to $55,000 a year ago, and a bonus if the Yankees' home attendance exceeds 1,500,000. Last year the Yanks drew 2,400,000 and Dimaggio drew a $15,000 bonus making his aggregate pay for 1948 $100,000.

John Joe was represented as opposed to the bonus arrangement this year.

MEET RESISTANCE
In Cleveland, meanwhile, President Bill Veeck of the world champion Cleveland Indians has met with rebuffs in attempting to sign four of his key players.

Third baseman, Ken Keltner and fireball hurler Bob Feller are the latest to shy away. Others objecting to terms are pitchers Gene Bearden and Bob Lemon, who with Detroit's Hal Newhouse were the only 20-game winners in the American League last season.

Feller and Veeck conferred for an hour and a half yesterday, but were unable to agree on a bonus clause based on home attendance. The two plan to meet again Feb. 6 in New York.

Sells Interest In Cardinals

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 27 (AP)—Roy E. Hannegan, former United States Postmaster General, sold his interest in St. Louis Cardinals baseball today to his partner, Fred M. Sa Jr.

Hannegan told a press conference in his Sportsman's Park office, he is getting out of baseball on orders from his physician.

Saigh becomes President and jockey stockholder of the Cardinals which he and Hannegan bought November, 1947, from Sam Bread.

Neither would disclose the price involved in the transfer of the team, but speculation was Hannegan will receive not less than $1,000,000.

When the Cardinals were chased from Breardon for $4,000 representing a price of $400 a share Hannegan and Saigh were reported to be 50-50 on the deal.
