Communist Heads Defy Government

CAPETOWN, May 30 (AP) — Four Communist leaders on a passive resistance movement against racial restrictions in South Africa have decided to defy government orders to quit public life, sources in the movement said today.

All are non-whites.

A secret call for defiance was reported given the four by the 20-man high command of the United Negro, Indian and Colored (half-caste) Campaign to counter the Nationalist, white supremacy policies of Prime Minister Daniel Malan.

The four are Dr. Yussif M. Dadoo, a member of the banned South African Communist party's politburo and chairman of the South African Indian Congress; Moses Kotane, once Communist secretary-general and high up in the African (Negro) National Congress; David Wilson Bopape and J. B. Marks, A.N.C. leaders.

MOVEMENTS RESTRICTED

Decrees issued by Justice Minister C. R. Swart under the act to suppress Communism have instructed them—together with about 20 other non-whites and whites—to retire from all activities in politics, civil liberties and trade unionism on pain of imprisonment. Their movements are restricted to their own provinces.

Under present plans the 20-man high command of the passive resistance movement will meet in Port Elizabeth tomorrow and Sunday. Within a few days, the four men will wire Swart they intend to remain active. Then they expect to be arrested, setting the stage for country-wide protests.

They are the only known Communists among the leadership of the drive to make the union's 10,000,000 non whites an effective influence in South African politics.

Future power is at stake. In the face of the government's protestations of good faith, the opposition expresses fear Malan's men will try to steamroller themselves into permanent office. A general election is du next year.

Malan hopes by then to have cut down the polling strength of 55,000 coloreds of Cape Province, enfranchised by the 1931 constitution, who have a habit of voting against his party.

The Nationalists would gain about four seats in the Union's next parliament if the racial law is reinstated.

Crown Withdraws Murder Charge

TORONTO, May 30 (CP) — Albert Verrault, 31, today was freed of a charge of murder in connection with the death last month of 11-month-old Michael Lafontaine. The baby died when the home which his parents rented was destroyed by fire April 24.

Mrs. Adella Wall, the Lafontaine's landlady, testified at the preliminary hearing that she was "just joking" when she told Verrault she would pay him $500 to set fire to the cottage in suburban Long Branch where the baby was burned.

Mrs. Wall said she told Verrault the night before the fire that "I'm so fed up with the darn place I wish it would burn or somebody would burn it."

Charges of arson and manslaughter were withdrawn by the crown before the preliminary hearing on the murder charge began.

Fire-Body Seen Over Pacific

VANCOUVER, May 30 (CP) — A huge meteorite or other "fire-body" was seen about midnight Thursday night by transport pilots and others from points as widely separated as Seattle, Wash., and Vancouver.

Captain Mickey Milliken, Trans-Canada Air Lines pilot flying from Victoria to Vancouver, said he saw the fireball at "exactly 12:36."

Ken St. John, on night shift at Vancouver airport tower, also saw the object and made the following entry into the log book:

"00:35 hours, May 30. A bright orange object with a greenish halo passed across my field of vision in a North-Easterly direction and appeared to come to earth. Very bright. A tube-like extension behind it tapered to a normal meteorite-like tail. Long and thin. Seemed to be a meteorite."

The world's largest helicopter, a jet-powered transport built by Howard Hughes, is shown as it was moved out of its hangar in Culver City to its flight test. The helicopter is powered by two turbojets supplying gas pressure through ducts leading up the rotor shaft and out to the tips of the long rotor blades. The machine is designed for short-range moving of heavy military equipment, including artillery, tanks, bridge sections and trucks. In operation it will straddle its cargo in a manner similar to that of a lumber lift, picking up loads by attachments to landing gear and body. The craft appeared to weigh at least 10 tons; stood at least 40 feet high and approximately 110 feet from wing tip to wing tip. Exact specifications were kept secret by the Air Force.—Central Press Canadian.

Three Killed in Red Riot

TOKYO, May 31 (Saturday) (AP) —Japan rocked with Red riots Friday and Tokyo police killed three of a Communist mob which attacked with vicious weapons of searing acid and flaming oil bombs.

The newspaper Yomiuri said that at the height of the disorder a home-made bomb exploded on the gorunds of Pershing Heights, United States Army residential area. But there was no damage or injuries. This report could not be confirmed.

35 INJURED

At least 35 persons were injured in the waves of Red "Martyr's Day" demonstrations that broke across Japan's home islands from Hokkaido in the North to Kyushu in the South.

Country-wide reports placed the number of arrests at about 125 from an estimated 12,000 persons who participated in 62 demonstrations in Japan's large cities.

There were no injuries reported to U.S. Army personel or U.S. civilians except among newspaper men who covered the riots. AP correspondent William C. Barnard suffered an ugly neck wound from a sulphuric acid bomb hurled by a Red agitator while he was covering street fighting in a Western section of Tokyo. At Kobe, in southwestern Japan, Life correspondent John Dille was attacked by a mob and bruised.

An estimated 25,000 police and national rural police, mobilized for the occasion, smashed the demonstrations.

The three Red agitators were cut down by police bullets when they attacked a police box at Itabashi, a northwest suburb. Police arrested 11 Japanese.

Magistrate Larouche said he will pass sentence May 30 and Galipeau was sent to cells pending sentence.

There was little about the court ceremony to suggest that the dark-haired man, formerly of Sturgeon Falls, Ont., was confessing to one of the biggest gold-bouillon thefts in Canadian history.

Sweeping Purge Shakes Romania

WASHINGTON, May 30 (AP)—The biggest shake-up and purge among rulers of Communist Romania since that Balkan country became a Soviet satellite was described today in diplomatic dispatches from Bucharest.

Ana Pauker, long-time friends of Generalissimo Stalin and one of the top powers in the Communist heirarchy in Romania, has lost her vital Red party positions and is thereby to be on the political skids.

Seven persons, including Mrs. Pauker, have been eliminated from among the 13 regular members of the Romanian Communist party's all-powerful politburo. A new politburo composed of nine regular members has been announced in the Bucharest Press.

Experts centred their attention on the possibility of financial scandal, of a contest for power between two factions in the party and of the failure of the Red regime to press forward Romania's Russian-style collectivization program on schedule.

Jet Output Doubles . . .

Canada's Arms Program Shifts Into High Gear

OTTAWA, May 30 (CP)— Canada's $3,500,000,000 arms program has hurdled the tooling-up stage and a mass flow of planes, guns and ships soon will come from assembly lines, Production Minister Howe said today.

He opened a debate in the Commons on defence production estimates with a 6000-word statement. He disclosed that F-86E Sabre jet production has doubled over original planning and will double again before the end of the year.

NEW CONTRACT

A new contract in Canada for a trainer plane, is indicated. Mr. Howe gave no details, but it was learned the plane may be the U. S. T-34 two-seater to be produced at the Fort William, Ont., plant of the Canadian Car and Foundry Company.

Arms production is the major part of the three-year $5,000,000,000 defence program launched more than a year ago. Mr. Howe estimated that of the $3,500,000,000 which will go into arms about $1,400,000,000 may be spent during the 1952-53 fiscal year.

Opposition members were not in agreement with Mr. Howe that the program was satisfactory. Howard Green (PC—Vancouver Quadra) said defence production called for long-range planning and not just a three-year plan. More orders should be placed in the United Kingdom.

MATERIAL RELAX

Materials controls in Canada will be relaxed as rapidly "as it appears advisable," but Canada must take into consideration the needs of other countries for essential goods which she produces. Some types of steel still were extremely scarce.

The arms situation by major items:

JETS

Ten CF-100 Canuck jet fighters already produced and deliveries on the main part of the classified contract are expected next August. About 48 Orenda jet engines also have been manufactured. Sabre-jet production at Montreal is sufficient to meet Canadian requirements, and to meet some demand by the U. S. and the United Kingdom.

SHIPBUILDING

Canada is producing 14 destroyer Escort vessels, primarily of Canadian design, and 14 of the most modern minesweepers in the world. Three of the minesweepers already have been launched. The remainder will be produced by the end of the year.

GUNS

Main item of the $130,000,000 gun program was the American-type three-inch naval gun at Sorel Industries, Ltd., Sorel, Que. The U. S. Navy has sent Sorel a note that the gun has passed tests with flying colors on its first submission. This was a record.

GIVE UP POWERS

Mr. Green said he believes Mr. Howe should give up the seizure powers given him under the Defence Production Act. More war orders should be placed in Britain and Canada should build up a merchant navy of fast, modern freighters. Canada was building 14 Escort vessels. But they would have nothing to escort, if war should come, but some old, slow merchant ships.

Mr. Green suggested also that the government consider establishment of a steel industry on the West coast. British Columbia ore now was being shipped to Japan for processing.

Of the $1,431,000,000 worth of orders placed by Canada, he said, $987,500,000 had been placed in this country, $412,600,000 in the U. S. and only $31,400,000 in other countries. Large U. S. orders had been expected but had not materialized.

Mr. Howe interjected that since July, 1951, to date, the U. S. has placed $251,000,000 worth of defence orders in this country and they are continuing at a high rate.

Convicts at the Idaho state jail in Boise got into the prison riot act by staging a short-lived revolt. More than 250 prisoners brandished knives and set fire to equipment before surrendering meekly after club-swinging guards and officers moved in on them behind a tear-gas barrage. The convicts said they were rioting against unfair recreation policies. Here a prison officer inspects a burned and ransacked cell block where 400 gallons of fuel oil were set afire by the rioters.—Central Press Canadian.

Nearly 4000 Teachers Resign

DURHAM, England, May 30 (Reuters)—Nearly 4000 teachers in this Northern England county submitted resignaitons today, protesting an attempt to impose a "closed shop" union policy.

Almost all the country's teachers are already members of the National Union of Teachers. But the Socialist-ruled council, which employs teachers as well as doctors, engineers and other professionals, has decreed that Union membership must be 100 per cent.

The teachers reject this as an infringement of their personal liberty. The resignations are not effective until Aug. 31.

The education battle in Durham has been dragging on for 18 months Both Labor and Conservative governments have intervened briefly to head off threatened strike action.

The N. U. T. today handed in resignation notices on behalf of 3790 of its 4900 Durham members—more than 75 per cent. The union said it would keep a skeleton staff on the job so that schoolchildren would not be too hard hit.

The Teachers' Union has sent an ultimatum to the council demanding that it change its "closed shop" clause. The ultimatum expired today without action by the council. Prime Minister Churchill said last week the government would intervene if the council did not amend its position.

Eisenhower told a press conference that he will fly home in uniforth and change after he completes his round of official calls in Washington late Tuesday.

Eisenhower made it plain he will remain a soldier unless he gets the Republican presidential nomination at the Chicago convention starting July 7.

In the meantime, he explained, he will be on an inactive status. His retirement from an active status, Eisenhower said, will enable him to acquire most of the privileges of a private citizen.

Bricks Vanish From Cart In Slickest Theft in Years

SUDBURY, Ont., May 30 (CP) — Canada's slickest gold theft in years was pulled off last night when a fortune in gold bricks vanished from an unguarded mail cart.

While passengers and train men hurried about the Canadian Pacific railway station, thieves spirited away three 60-pound bricks of pure gold — valued at about $80,000 but worth considerably more on the black market.

En route from British Columbia mines to the Ottawa mint, the gold was left unguarded for a few minutes on the station platform while it was being transferred to another car.

That short time was enough for the thieves—police believe there were three of them—to make the haul.

Officials believe the men made the trip of 3000-odd miles from the West aboard the gold-carrying train.

While mail crews were unloading other baggage, the thieves shifted bags on the mail cart and reached in to grab the gold, packed in cardboard boxes.

UNDER COATS

Then, police believe, the men tucked the bricks under their topcoats and walked a block away where they were picked up by an automobile.

Inspector Leo Duberges of the C.P.R. police said even he hadn't been informed of the shipment. That's why no extra guard was posted, he added.

The gold squad of the Ontario provincial police arrived early today from Timmins, Ont. Postal investigators from Ottawa also were on the scene.

SECOND BIG ROBBERY

It was the second large gold robbery in Eastern Canada in a week.

Last Thursday four bricks valued at $120,000 were taken from a vault at East Malartic mines in Malartic, Que. Three of them have been recovered; a mine mechanic pleaded guilty Thursday to the theft.

Other thefts in recent years: In June, 1950, $75,000 worth of bullion was stolen from Delnite mines and two months later gold worth $98,000 was taken from Coniaurum mines near Timmins, Ont. Both shipments were recovered.

Liberal Candidate Hits Co-Insurance

SILVERTON, B. C. — Strong opposition to co-insurance clause in the B. C. Hospital Insurance service was voiced here before more than 60 people Friday night by T. M. Leask, Liberal candidate for Kaslo-Slocan.

Mr. Leask, who spoke with Pat Bate of Victoria, said he had wired protest to Premier Byron Johnson at the time co-insurance was introduced.

He emphasized the great need for power in the Slocan, mentioning the recent survey of requirements. With effort, an adequate supply could be provided within two or three years, he said.

Mr. Leask expressed opposition to Hon. E. C. Carson's road policy, in the view that all monies allotted for road construction had gone to arterial highway work. More attention should be given to secondary and tertiary roads, he felt.

Approval of a forest management licence application of Celgar Development Company would prove a "great boon" to this district, the candidate said, and had been a wise move.

Mr. Leask supported proposed school taxation apportionment as recommended by the Union of B. C. Municipalities, whereby the provincial government would provide 80 per cent of the cost and property owners, 20 per cent.

B. C.'s present prosperity, reckoned over a period of time, would provide a higher standard of living for every family, Mr. Bate predicted. He dealt with the general platform of the Liberal party, its accomplishments over the years, and its appeal as a "peoples' party". Liberals, he noted, had pledged themselves to expand the university program.

Castlegar Plans For Higher School Enrolment

CASTLEGAR, B.C. — Anticipating a high school enrollment of 450 next term, trustees of Castlegar School District Friday night discussed the appointment of additional teachers to the staff of Stanley Humphries School. Three new teachers will be required, along with replacements for several who are resigning.

Plans for Summer holidays maintenance work were also discussed.

The High School grounds have been levelled and seeded, and will not be used until a satisfactory grass sod is evident over the entire field. The village has installed water lines.

The Board plans some leveling of Castlegar No. 2 grounds, but no seeding until the Fall on this area, as it is required for children's activities.

Plans for the senior matric classes were further discussed.

The Board discussed the proposal of the village on grading of 3rd Avenue on the West side of Block 56. The secretary is to deal with the village regarding this matter.

Trail Hockey Club Reports Small Deficit

TRAIL, B. C.—The annual meeting of the Trail Senior Hockey Club was held Thursday evening in the Legion band room with an attendance of about 143.

New directors were elected to serve a two-year term are Ab Cronie, Mike Buckna and Joe Haywood. Three directors still serving one year terms are Tommy Johnston, Pete Shields and Gino Lerose.

Tommy Johnston was elected by the directors as the new president with Gino Lerose as vice rpesident and Ab Cronie secretary treasurer. The financial report revealed high gate receipts amounting to $38,237.19 for league and exhibition games. Expenses were also high and the club found itself in the hole to the extent of $270.49.

Among other donations, $2000 had been given to the Kimberley club and Nelson had been conceded the popular Saturday night games. An accident fund started in 1934-35 had been heavily drawn on this season, $2000 as compared with $800 for the previous season due to many accidents, four of which were of a serious nature.

Retiring president Fred Edmunds extended thanks to all who had helped in making the season a success. He was high in his praise of the work of coach Gerry Thomson and extended the appreciation of fans and members.

A question of funds to help the Cominco hockey league was brought up but it was suggested that the parks commission be approached for a larger share of receipts in order that help might be given to the other leagues using the Arena.

A motion was made that a letter of appreciation and a remembrance gift be sent to Mel Irving, former faithful secretary who is leaving the district.

The question of bringing in new hockey players and as to whether a "name" coach should be brought in next season was left to the discretion of the new executive.

Booster Club Season Successful

Nelson Booster Club operations netted more than $2700 for the Maple Leaf senior hockey team during the 1951-52 season, President Ray Newcomb reported at a meeting Thursday night.

Program sales accounted for the bulk of the revenue, $1648, while the early-season auctions netted $391.47. The program sales also provided $434 for the Nelson Amateur Hockey Association and the furtherance of minor hockey.

The meeting discussed several money-raising plans for the 1952-53 season, among them a new program format and a suggestion to take over the public address system at senior games for the sale of spot announcements. These were left in abeyance for further study.

A motion by Walter Wait was passed, asking that Booster Club sanction be obtained by the hockey club before committing it to financial responsibility.

The motion was prompted by receipt of a $700 bill for team jackets presented at the end of the season.

It was a much brighter picture than at the start of the season when the club started with 41 cents in the bank and no money on hand. In addition to the surplus, club membership in the Canadian Figure Skating Association has been paid for next season.

A successful ice show, netting $525 each for the club and Rotary Club, was responsible for the favorable balance since paid-up membership decreased from 149 in 1950-51 to 90 last season, a drop of 40 per cent. Fees amounted to $482.50.

Retiring president J. Kary recommended in his report that dues be collected before skaters be allowed to participate in the session.

One bronze or first test was passed at the end of the season while 10 of 11 trying their preliminary tests were successful.

Judges A. B. Gilker and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Dill recommended that two test periods be held, one before Christmas and the other at the end of the season.

SLATE NAMED

A new 11-man executive slate, comprised of five Rotarians and six Skating Club members, was drawn up with officers to be named at a later meeting.

Crowds Attend Art Exhibition

Nelson Art Club's two-day annual exhibition, this year featuring a one man show of works by Procter artist Alec J. Garner, Friday promised to be the most successful in the history of the event.

Crowds of interested Nelson and district people and visitors from other parts of B. C. and Canada streamed through Civic Centre rooms Friday afternoon and night to view Mr. Garner's outstanding show, paintings by nearly 15 local artists and exceptional work from recent classes in woodcarving and design.

Several of Mr. Garner's paintings, sold Friday and during a preview and tea Thursday night. A total of 64 oils, watercolors, in tempera paintings and sketches comprise the Garner show, along with a group of his lino watercolor prints.

Officers of the sponsoring Art Club expected even greater attendance this afternoon, with the usual Saturday influx of district people.

H.M.C.S. Nootka Breaks Invasion

A U. N. NAVAL BASE, Japan, May 30 (CP) — A nightly display of starshells and rockets was thrown up by the Canadian Destroyer H.M.C.S. Nootka on a recent assignment to protect a group of small islands lying off enemy-held territory on the West coast of Korea.

The Nootka helped break up a Communist invasion attempt on the islands, gave food and medical aid to the island's inhabitants and rounded out its patrol with a surprise shelling of the port city of Haeju.

The islands lie in the sea approaches to Haeju and have been under constant threat of attack by Red forces anxious to control the entrance to the port.

GRATEFUL KOREANS

During their stay in the area, crew members visited the island's defenders and gave food and medical aid to the Korean inhabitants.

Surgeon Lieut. Robert E. Stewart of Toronto, ship's medical officer, treated a number of Koreans wounded in skirmishes and gave advice and supplies to help meet sanitation and disease problems brought on by the siege. Grateful Koreans gave him a Russian sub-machine gun taken from an enemy patrol.

Following the patrol, the Nootka sailed for her base in Japan to take on provisions for her next patrol.

TO VISIT Nelson shortly in the course of a tour of various parishes to discuss camp plans will be Rev. D. G. Herron of Kimberley, minister of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. He was elected moderator of Kootenay Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church of Canada a few months ago.

The Weather

Synopsis: The weather over the Interior was generally sunny and a little warmer today with many points in the Southern part of the province reporting maximum temperatures in the seventies.

In the coastal areas it was cloudy and cool with rain in many districts. The moist Pacific air that brought the cloud to the coast today will spread slowly Eastward over the province tomorrow accompanied by increasing cloud and scattered showers.

Offer West Berlin Phone Service On Russian Controlled Equipment

BERLIN, May 30 (AP) — The Russian sector offered to restore telephone service to West Berlin today, but only on certain lines that would be controlled by the Communists and thus open to tapping.

West German postal authorities rejected the offer, and said they had demanded "full and free" intra-city communications as they existed before the cut-off last Tuesday.

The East proposed to open 70 lines all of them running through the central security police switchboard in the Soviet sector.

German trunk calls between the East and West zone have been subjected to these Communist tactics, the postal officials said. All long-distance lines that cross the Elbe River frontier now are routed into Leipzig and undoubtedly exposed to censorship.

Crews of German workers under the direction of the peoples' police continued their sealing-off operations against West Berlin. Barricades were being erected at dozens of places where the British, United States, and French sectors touch on the Russian zone.

None was being put up however, on the Soviet border within the city itself. The Russian sector is about one-fourth of the city. The zone is the area from the Elbe to the Oder Rivers, completely surrounding Berlin.

Scouts Farewell Leader, J. Clark At Banquet; $1200 Hall Improvement

Cups of ice cream, chocolate milk and a film showing wildlife in their natural habitat made a Father and Son banquet for some 35 Cubs and Scouts here Friday night a howling success. Of course, the fact that most of the boys had their Dads their to be proud of added something to the evening's enjoyment nor were the fathers lacking in paternal pride.

The Fifth Nelson Scout Troop numbering some 20 Scouts and 15 Cubs said good-bye to their Scout Leader, J. P. Clark, who in the last three years built the group up from a small nucleous of boys. Mr. Clark was presented a pen and inkwell by the Scout Leader council, a razor from the Cubs and Scouts and a shaving kit from the Scout Mothers Auxiliary. In presenting the gifts, District Commissioner Don Ure expressed the regret of the boys and the leaders in losing so fine a leader as Mr. Clark and wished him well in his new post in New Westminster. At this point Mr. Ure pointed out that the Nelson Scouts could ill afford to lose a leader since leaders are all too difficult to find. He hoped that some of the fathers present would find themselves in a position to offer their services in this respect.

Dr. N. R. Jennejohn, president of the Nelson Scouts, gave a few figures on Scout finances, mentioning that the Scout hall which during the war years had had virtually nothing done to it in the way of upkeep, had been reroofed at a cost of some $500 and plumbing and floors attended to making a total expenditure of $1200 last year. Scout Apple Day had netted $300 and the Spring financial campaign, $1200. He explained that $375 had been sent to Scouting headquarters in Vancouver and $100 had been spent in the Spring cleanup campaign at Camp Busk.

The trip to Camp Cowles at Diamond Lake where six Nelson Scouts joined with American Scouts at a camp of 600 boys was reviewed by Commissioner Ure who said it was hoped that the American boys could come to Nelson next year.

A Canada Carries On film gave glimpses into the training necessary for various sports and featured a skating exhibition by Barbara Ann Scott. This was followed by a realistic first aid demonstration by some of the boys. Another film showing methods of combatting soil erosion and protection of wildlife proved highly entertaining for both the boys and the fathers with scenes of birds and animals in their natural habitat.

The evening's entertainment ended with a shadow play which sent everyone into gales of laughter as the "doc" operated on the former stretcher patient for "internal injuries" cutting the patient open with a huge knife and drawing forth the strangest things from the incision.

Sally Forrest Offers New Idea in Limbering Up: Walk on All Fours

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, May 30 (AP) — Sally Forrest advises us to prowl around the house on all fours and she follows her theory.

"I know it sounds a little screwy," she admitted, "but you'd be surprised how limber it keeps you."

"I've been doing it every day for years. Just a few minutes on all fours every day and you can keep loose. It strengthens the leg muscles, pulls in the stomach and tones you up. It's an exercise you can do while performing your chores. I can even walk up and down stairs that way."

THAT'S NOT ALL

Miss Forrest admitted that dancers sometimes do strange things. She told me of one friend who used to sleep in her ballet shoes to break them in.

She demonstrated some other exercises. She did the splits, sitting on the floor with legs extending in opposite directions.

"It's a good idea to stay in this position for some time," she remarked, "so I often read a book."

"Here's another one," she enthused. She lay on the floor on her stomach, extended her arms over head and had me pull her by the hands while she arched backwards. She also described an exercise in which she stands on her hands against a wall and touches her head with her toes.

"If you're a dancer, you have to keep in trim," she said.

So where does all this effort get her? Of all her pictures, only one has been an out-and-out musical.

Retallack Socreds Organize Group

RETALLACK, B. C. — A Social Credit group was formed here after an address by E. W. Bourque of Nelson, Social Credit candidate for Kaslo-Slocan.

In speaking on his party's monetary policies, Mr. Bourque asked "Does Mr. Anscomb believe he can reduce B. C.'s debt by borrowing when a great percentage of the money he borrows goes to pay interest on debt already owing?" A pay-as-you-go policy had worked in Alberta, he said, and could work in B.C.

He emphasized that security alone is not enough for a people. There must be personal freedom and security.

J. J. McMow of Silverton was the chairman.

The municipality of Kaslo will put up $28,000, and the rural area, $90,000, both including bylaw and debenture expenses. Half the cost, or $111,000, will be provided by the provincial government.

Financing will be by 20-year debentures bearing interest at the rate of 4¾ per cent per year.

Kaslo School Board Members at Confab

KASLO, B. C. — John Cochran, chairman of the board of trustees of Kootenay Lake school district No. 6, and Mrs. T. Saalfeld, trustee, attended a school trustees convention in Castlegar.

Financing, a problem facing most school boards, was discussed, and delegates decided to hold another meeting early in September.

Grit Doubts B. C. To Get Majority

PROCTER, B. C.— Concern that no party may get a majority in the B. C. Legislature as a result of the June 12 election was expressed by L. S. Gansner of Nelson at a public meeting here held under the auspices of the Liberal party.

Mr. Gansner and E. W. White, also of Nelson, spoke on behalf of Walter Hendricks, M.L.A., for Nelson-Creston in the last legislature and Liberal candidate.

With four parties in the field, it will be difficult to elect a government with a strong majority, Mr. Gansner said. He saw a danger of too little legislation being passed at a time when industrial progress demanded progressive legislation to keep pace with development.

Ig recommendations of the B. C. Hospital Insurance inquiry board are adopted, B. C. will have an ideal set up, he said. Mr. Hendricks had been the only member of the board to have served on a hospital board, and had pressed for the inquiry.

Mr. Hendricks spoke of his three years in the legislature. At first he had found everything new and his fellow members were strangers, the second year he had become acquainted with procedure, and in the third year was thoroughly conversant with his duties.

In his 1949 campaign he had emphasized the need for a contributory superannuation plan for senior citizens, and would not have believed such a plan would have been instituted so soon. He admitted that $40 was insufficient monthly payment, and that the age limit wasn't low enough, but said that at least a start had been made. British Columbia leads Canada in its extra contributions to the plan where needed.

Bert Fitchett was chairman.

Roads Top Leask's List Of Election Promises

KASLO, B.C. — A promise that he would press for attention to Kaslo to Nelson and Kaslo to Lardeau roads if elected was given by T. M. Leask, Liberal candidate for Kaslo-Slocan, at a public meeting in Legion hall here.

Mr. Leask spoke on the same platform with Hon. Douglas Turnbull, minister of health and welfare and Member for Rossland-Trail. George Armstrong was chairman.

Mr. Leask said he would also work on the New Denver to Three Forks road program, and would make an effort to see that road machinery is available where needed.

The Slocan, Mr. Leask told his audience, is "power starved". When the results of a recent survey of the power situation in the area are made known, and if the report is favorable, every organization in the riding would be asked to send a delegate to a meeting to be attended by members of the B. C. Power Commission.

Referring to pollution of Kaslo Creek by mine tailings, the speaker said he did not think the mining companies concerned were trying to take advantage of the situation. He said he would work for a solution to the problem.

He saw a need for closer co-operation between the provincial government, small municipalities and village municipalities, and thought a move should be made to have part of the three per cent sales tax allotted for education.

Mr. Turnbull suggested one of the reasons for the present prosperity and industrial progress in B. C. is stable government. He said the province must continue to capitalize as much as possible on its tourist attractions.

He spoke of the record of the Liberal party in B. C., of it passing a bill in 1916 giving women the vote, of social and labor legislation, and on hospital insurance, said many hospitals were on the verge of closing through financial difficulties when the Act came into force. "We all know the new plan has had a very stormy career, but during the last year things have reached a more even keel." A voluntary plan would not work, he said.

During a brief question period, Mr. Leask explained the alternative voting system to be used at the June 12 election.

Look at it this way...

Right now at Cominco we're spending $65,000,000 on an expansion program that will provide 800 new permanent jobs. The dollars we are spending came from past years' profits. This isn't new practice for us—we've been turning profit dollars into jobs for years.

But that's not all—during those years we've grown rapidly, we've grown big—and we have established a permanent industry—jobs with us have become much more secure and communities adjacent to our operations can build with confidence in the future.

Now let's come back to profit dollars—by ploughing them back we have been able to expand and to keep our plants up to date. This meant greater and more efficient production. From this increased and more efficient production has come money for more jobs, higher wages, better working conditions and improved employee benefits.

If you look at it this way—profits are vital to success and profit dollars wisely spent make prosperity.

Arrow Lakes Area Awaits Whatshan Power

B. C. Power Commission estimates its capital fund requirements for 1952-53 at something near $9 million. From this, according to the Commission's own report, $1 million will be spent on "improvements and additions to existing distribution facilities in the Commission's 25 districts throughout B. C."

The Commission's report is not detailed, and it may be that provision is made for extension of the lines carrying power from its 33,000 horsepower Whatshan plant to the Arrow Lakes communities and industries it does not yet serve. If it does not, this is an oversight that the Commission should hasten to rectify in its program.

It is not yet a year since the switch was thrown on the $6.7 million project sending power over the spectacular Monashee transmission line to North Okanagan and Kamloops areas. Early this year the service was extended to the Lower Arrow Lake area nearby the Needles power source covering Fauquier, Edgewood and a portion of the Inonoaklin Valley. However, this is but a fraction of the adjacent district that is awaiting only sufficient electrical energy to launch itself into unprecedented industrial, agricultural and population growth.

Distribution Job Still To Be Done

World production of goods is reaching new peaks, according to reports compiled for the Economic and Social Council of the United Nations. This is good news, and there is special satisfaction in indications that the leading free-enterprise nations have proved their ability, both industrially and agriculturally, to outproduce the State-controlled economic system of Communist countries.

Still, the Christian Science Monitor points out that there are some points on which satisfaction needs to be tempered with warning. One is that the rate of climb in output of consumer goods tapered off noticeably in late 1951 after well exceeding the 1937 prewar peak. The deduction to be drawn here probably is that although rearmament gave a stimulus to activity, heavy military production is limiting rather than adding to the amenities of living.

"Should an easing of political tensions in the world bring about a reduction in armament expenditures, opportunities for raising living standards in both countries would correspondingly improve," says an E.C.O.S.O.C. staff report.

A second dark spot in the picture is the fact that while total food production increased for 1951, especially in the United States and Canada, the world food supply per capita was 4 per cent less than a year before, and the harvests in Europe, Asia, and the Far East (including Communist-controlled Eastern Europe, which once exported food) were below even prewar averages.

This means, said the experts, that the gap between the best-fed populations and the worst-fed has widened. That is not a condition to promote contentment, but it is a challenge to the resourcefulness, energies and good will of men on both sides of it.

Asks Effort for Better Movies

To the Editor:

Sir—May 27, I saw the picture "Quo Vadis" at the Civic Theatre. In my estimation it was the best movie shown in Nelson in several years. The settings were excellent, acting was superb, while the production and direction were perfect. A truly great picture.

Now the reason for this letter: Although it is impossible to continually produce movies of the same calibre as "Quo Vadis", I am certain that there have been produced and are being produced pictures of high quality which have not and never will be shown in the Civic Theatre. It seems that the Nelson theatregoers are being unnecessarily subjected to far too many mediocre films. No doubt "B" pictures must at times be accepted by the theatre management, but in my opinion Nelson gets more than its share of inferior movies.

The May 27 picture was excellent, but the price of admission, $1.20 per adult, will prevent a certain number of fans from enjoying a treat in film-seeing. The local theatre, enjoying a no-competition monopoly, should try to realize that it can supply a public service of entertainment. By bringing in pictures fit for public consumption, at regular prices, the theatre would be filled to capacity for each showing, and the patrons would go home satisfied customers.

C.C.F. Program Disregards History

To the Editor:

Sir: Accepted that the "C.C.F. News" is the criterion of the calibre capacity latent in C.C.F. candidates and programs, I conclude the party consists of ill-informed, perhaps well-intentioned, wishful thinkers, whose chief and reasonably doubted asset is a strong belief that a status may be raised by bootstrap lifting.

"C.C.F. News" abounds with inconclusive and crackpot logic, distortion of facts which I suspect results from ignorance rather than malicious intention, and an insidiously seductive appeal to the "have-nots" of something for nothing.

The published program can have appeal only to irresponsible idealists, opportunistic self-seekers, puerile economists, and to those of such incompetence and inertia that personal preferment could be achieved solely by Governmental paternalism.

It's soak the rich all over again, without regard that history shows not one single instance of a practical and prosperous socialism. There is also complete disregard that free capitalistic enterprise, untrammelled by excessive legislative restrictions, has produced the highest known degree of general wealth and comfort to all cross-sections of citizenship.

I am not an active party member of any political group. Simply, I hope to be preserved from direction by a group of individuals whose sole achievement in their own spheres of living is the doubtful distinction of great mediocrity.

JOE JOSEPH.

Reader, Nelson—What is the name of a technical school in Montreal, its address, and the name and address of one in Ottawa?

Ecole Polytechnique de Montreal, 1430 St. Denis Street, Montreal; Ottawa Technical School, Ottawa, would be sufficient address.

C. H. S., Nelson—Are public and parochial schools in the States supported by Federal or State funds? Is there any reference regarding religious rights in the U.S.A. Bill of Rights?

According to our information, schools in the U.S. are financed by the various States, with some Federal aid. Regarding your second question, the only reference to religion in the Bill of Rights is embodied in Article 1: "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances." The aim in the United States at present is to obtain Federal aid for separate schools.

Miss C. J., Trail—Please let me know reasonable pay for baby-sitter, and please give address in Spokane where one can take up practical nursing.

Reasonable payment for baby-sitting ranges from 35 to 50 cents per hour up to 11:30 p.m. Write to The Nurses' Association, Spokane, Wash., for information on practical nursing.

New Medical Eye

Long depending solely upon the X-ray to show what goes on inside a patient, doctors now have another way to look directly into the stomach, bronchial passages and other body cavities. Rodlike instruments called endoscopes enable physicians to see with their own eyes hitherto hidden conditions which might have appeared only as a vague blur on an X-ray plate.

Describing the endoscopes in Reader's Digest, J. D. Ratcliff says one of them, the gastroscope, is probably the highest expression of the instrument maker's art. The gastroscope is 34 inches long, almost as slender as a pencil. The lower portion is flexible so that it can slip through the passage to the stomach and move around inside that organ. A light bulb the size of a wheat grain is at the tip; inside the tip are 29 tiny, precision-ground lenses or mirrors. The patient "swallows" the gastroscope (three out of four do it with little trouble); the light is turned on; no matter how the tube is twisted the 29 mirrors reflect a true inside picture of the stomach.

An air system in the gastroscope connects with a rubber bulb, enabling the physician to inflate the stomach like a toy balloon, for disease may lurk in hidden folds. A tiny forceps, for snipping off suspicious tissue, can be ipped down the instrumen'ts shaft.

Views From the News Fronts

By J. M. ROBERTS Jr.
Associated Press News Analyst

The Kremlin has shelved its peace offensive, by which it tried to make Western mobilization appear useless, in favor of force, and threats of more force, in an effort to make it appear too dangerous.

Communist mobs run through Paris in what French authorities say is a definite plot against the State. Communist mobs infiltrate Western Berlin. Chinese Communists in Korea use the same phraseology to threaten a new offensive that they used when threatening the original intervention.

Russia is reacting just as the Allies expected. But there is a critical alertness in the absence of knowledge of just how far she may go. She shows obvious signs of deadly fear as plans go forward for mobilizing Western Germany, with its Ruhr and its nearly 50,000,000 people, on the Allied side.

She is met in the broad field of power politics with United States plans for a $3,000,000,000 addition to the atomic weapons program.

She is met by Allied announcement, in effect, that an attack on Berlin will be considered an attack on Britain, France and the U.S. themselves.

She is met with Allied confidence that, if the Reds do make another attempt to conquer South Korea, United Nations lines will hold and "Operation Kill" will be repeated.

And if she backs the Chinese army with airpower, she is met with the prospect of Allied air attacks on China and Manchuria, and even, if the need became extreme, on the Russian supply line from Vladivostok to Korea.

In other words, Russia has gone just about as far as she can without risking getting herself directly into a war.

Think what would have happened for Russia if she had participated in the great world-wide cooperation for postwar recovery, instead of blockading herself behind the Iron Curtain while devoting practically all her resources to military preparedness.

When you are dealing with a Government capable of decisions like that, you can't tell what it's liable to do.

Criminal Negligence Sentences First of Kind in Court Records

TORONTO, May 30 (CP) — The parents of a child who was burned to death while they went to a party have been convicted of criminal negligence but acquitted of manslaughter.

The jury's decision, brought in after 7½ hours, is believed the first of its kind in Canadian history.

Edward Brown, Sr., the father, was sentenced to three months in jail. The mother, Mrs. Jean Read, was given a suspended sentence of two years less a day.

The child, David, 21 months, was left with his three-year-old brother, in their suburban Scarborough township home while his parents went to a new year's eve party. The brother was rescued when the home caught fire.

Mr. Justice W. F. Spence said he was sentencing Brown to jail "because you are a man, and a man has greater responsibility."

Brown's defence counsel protested the difference in the sentences. "The sentences should be just the sam."

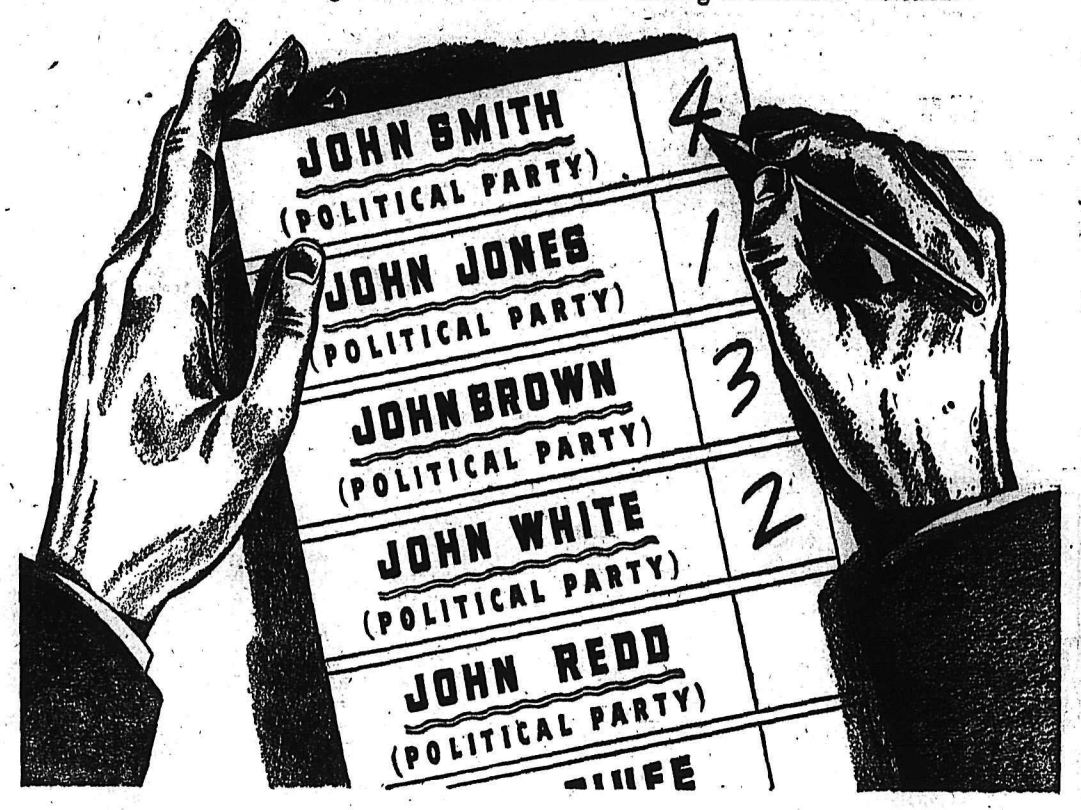
This is the way to mark your ballot under

Alternative Voting

Alternative Voting will be used in the coming Provincial Election.



Explaining Alternative Voting briefly, it may be said that the voter has no longer to content himself with marking an X for just one candidate. He marks a first choice for his candidate, and then proceeds to make a second, third and possibly further choices for as many candidates as have been nominated.

On counting the ballots, if the highest candidate has an absolute majority over and above the total votes cast for all the other candidates, he is declared elected. If, however, no candidate obtains an absolute majority on the first count, a second count is required. Before doing this, the lowest candidate is excluded and the second choices on that candidate's ballot are transferred to the other candidates as indicated on his ballot. If the second count elects no one on an absolute majority, the next lowest candidate is eliminated making a third count necessary. This is continued until some candidate obtains an absolute majority.

Little Woman Receives New Title As "Gadget-Conscious Mammal"

TORONTO, May 30 (CP) — Meet Mrs. Housewife—"a gadget conscious mammal."

That is the rather fearsome-sounding tag put upon her, but in a complimentary way, before the current annual meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

It came from Henry Dreyfuss, industrial designer of New York, who gave the little woman much of the credit for a revolution in the appearance of manufactured products.

HIDEOUS DESIGN OUT

Said Mr. Dreyfuss:

"Having learned to enjoy the honest design and clean beauty of her kitchen, laundry and bathroom, she has gradually acquired a marked distaste for fringed lampshades and dropsical sofas.

"I'd be willing to wager that there is more bad taste in the form of ugly furniture and hideous decoration today in homes in the great artistic and cultural centres of Europe than in those of Canadian and American cities.

"But this too, is changing, as more and more products of new world design are being copied by European manufacturers. Our culture came originally from the old world. Now we are repaying that debt in the form of well-designed, mass-produced goods, which make not only for better every-day living, but gradually for better every-day taste among every-day people."

Industrial design was only one item in the vast program for the three-day meeting which opened yesterday to hear discussions on all the things that interest manufacturers.

TEXTILE DEPRESSION

C. F. Woodward, of St. Catharines, Ont., said the Canadian textile industry is the least protected by tariffs in the world, while supporting the second highest wage-scale in the world.

"The current textile depression is world-wide, and other countries are taking advantage of the existing Canadian law to export their distress to Canada, with the result that the Canadian textile industry has to contend with a domestic depression plus an imported depression.'

He asked that the government recognize that tariff reductions have left the industry in a highly-vulnerable position; and that it take prompt and efficient action to prevent "real dumping so that the industry will be permitted to handle its own depression only.

He expressed appreciation to the government for its "consistent stand" against the inclusion of Japan as a most-favored nation.

"Were most-favored-nation treatment extended to Japan the competition of that country's great textile capacity and the low wages paid to its employees would indeed produce catastrophic conditions in the industry in Canada."

Since 1949 the I.O.D.E. has awarded Bursaries for Canadian Universities from the Second War Memorial to a value of $10,100.

Era Without Basements Coming But Storage Space Must Be Provided

More and more homes are being built without basements.

"I hesitate to bring up this controversial topic," James M. Lange of Chicago told U.S. builders recently. "There are strong supporters for either side — and each has plausible reasons. However, good or bad, the general trend is toward the basementless home.

"That doesn't mean that homes with basements will be obsolete. Some areas will continue to have them because of the advantages it may bring in their living functions. Remember, the habits of a family have much to do with layout of the home."

Lange cited various factors which have contributed to the decline of basements. Among them, he said, was "more compact heating equipment and the switch from coal as a heating fuel and consequent elimination of a coal bin." He added:

"The development of radiant panel heating systems, whether they be in the floor, wall or ceiling, is an additional reason. These systems can use hot water running through the wrought iron or copper tubing or warm air passing through ducts of hollow clay tile or concrete block.

"The washing appliance people, with their automatic machines and dryers, have sought to take the housewife out of the dingy and somtimes damp basement to a more comfortable kitchen or utility room above ground.

The advent of the home freezer and the decline in home canning are making the basement less important.

"Recreation and children's playrooms in basements sound inviting but in practice they do not always perform their functions satisfactorily."

Lange admitted that one of the most serious criticisms against the home not having a basement was the fact that too frequently, not enough storage space was provided above ground.

"While, generally, there is no need to give all the storage area found in an ordinary basement," Lange said, "it is necessary to include enough of it above ground in a well designed utility room in a combination laundry-kitchen section and in engineered storage walls. An oversize garage will help solve the problem for storage of bulky items and will be an aid for hanging up wash when a basement is unavailable."

Lanbe reported that a two-car garage was quite common. The extra space is used for storage, rather than a second car, in most instances.

"Some builders have set up an outdoor tool shed in connection with a carport or garage to meet these storage problems," he added. "Be watchful of this angle—that enough storage space is planned for bulky items, like garden furniture, tools, tricycles and the like, and be sure the utility room gives sufficient accommodations, especially if washing is to be done in it."

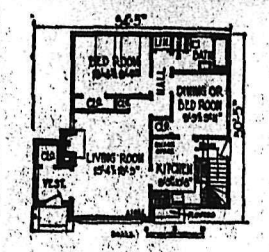
The Modern Home



The floor plan of this modern four room house is unusually versatile. Just off the kitchen there is a large dining room, which may be readily converted into a bedroom because there is also a large snack space in the kitchen. The vestibule with guest closet and the natural fireplace in the living room are also important features. The large bedroom will easilyl accommodate twin beds. Note, as well, the built-in towel and linen cabinets in the bath.

These plans are published for the interest and information value only. The Daily News cannot supply detailed blueprints or specifications. Those contemplating building homes should consult a local architect, designer or builder.

REMOVE PAINT IN SMALL AMOUNTS

Paint and varnish remover will take off an old coating of paint that is in bad condition. Apply the remover to a small area at a time. Allow it to stand a few minutes until it softens the old paint. Scrape off the old finish with a scraper or steel wool. Before putting on new paint, clean the surface thoroughly with turpentine or mineral spirits to remove all traces of wax left by the remover.

Farm-in-a-Day For Veteran

MOSES LAKE, Wash., May 30 (AP) — Farmers, carpenters, electricians and plumbers chipped in today to create a $75,000 farm in 17 hours for a dramatic start of the Columbia basin irrigation project.

More than 100 workers started under floodlights a minute after midnight.

The finishing touches were completed at 8:30 p.m. EDT. This was the signal for reclamation commissioner Michael Straus to start the symbolic flow of the first irrigation water from the Columbia River.

The seven-room house, which contractors said would normally take more than two months to build, was 70-per-cent completed by noon as carpenters banged away at the roof and got out of the way of the painters.

The farm is completely stocked — even to tractors, furniture and groceries — and belongs to Donald Dunn, 30, a soft-spoken father of two children and an army veteran of the Second World War.

Dunn was washed off his dry-land Marion, Kansas, farm by the 1951 floods. But he gets a big start on a new life because he wrote a letter for the national veterans of foreign wars contest to find a tenant for the "farm in a day." He was adjudged the most worthy veteran and got the farm free.

Experienced farm hands put in 15 acres of alfalfa, 12 acres of oats, six acres of other pasture, five acres of corn and 31 acres of Red Mexican beans after dawn. They even planted a lawn and shrubbery around the house.

Building Jobs Scarcer in U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—About 400,000 jobs will be eliminated on the site of building projects this year because of the curtailment of construction, says the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics.

But new construction still will require an average of about two million full-time construction workers a month, the bureau estimates. This will make 1952 the fifth consecutive year in which the two million employment marked has been reached or exceeded.

$705 Awarded for Suggestions

TRAIL, B. C.—During April, a total of $705 was won by Cominco employees in joint production committee awards.

The top award of $105 went to T. Buscumb of the zinc department who suggested an improved method of handling and drying sand used for repair work in the tank room basements.

The second highest award of $80 was won by C. Beaton, of the Sullivan concentrator in Kimberley for suggesting that wooden angle strips be installed under the rubber lining in certain launders in the sink float plant. This resulted in a saving of rubber angle strips.

H. J. Beninger of the Sullivan mine won a $60 award for a time saving idea to supply special check lists for use when issuing diamond drill equipment. This suggestion has been adopted for use in all four sections of the mine.

A $40 award went to G. B. Hollington of the Engineering division for devising a method of installing steam coils which will decrease the maintenance costs when replacements are necessary.

A. P. Stocknow of the Sullivan concentrator won a $25 award. R. Saare won two awards totalling $25 and H. F. Stanton won four awards totalling $20.

There were 56 other awards ranging between $5 and $15.

Building Trades Priced Out of Housing Market

THE CANADIAN STATESMAN

Thanks to a high degree of organization, and of a leadership almost totally unconcerned with the public interest, the building trades have virtually priced themselves out of the housing market. As a consequence of high wages and a very low order of productivity housing costs have sky-rocketted, with the result that only about half as many houses will be started this year as were started in 1951.

Moreover, few of such houses as are built this year will be built for rent, since their high cost would necessitate an economical rental far in excess of what the average worker would, should, or in many cases could pay.

WAGES HIGH

Because the wage and work policies of construction, mechanics have put housing beyond the reach of the average citizen there arises periodically a demand that "low-cost rental housing units" be provided by the state. One wonders what the term "low-cost" means in this connection. At current prices of labour and of housing materials the construction of any housing units cannot possibly be described as "low-cost". Presumably then, the term "low-cost" is designed to describe the level of rents.

In other words, the State is expected to put up housing units which must be costly under today's conditions and then to rent them to "the People." But what people? How in the current climate of opinion, can a means test be developed? How, without a means test, can the high-cost low-rent housing be honestly distributed? Or will political pull, or bribery, or other favoritism become the basis for selection?

RENTALS IN DEMAND

What the advocates of "low-cost rental housing units" are really demanding is that the State subsidize the highly organized and monopolistic construction worker, leaving him to enjoy his current inordinate wages whatever the state of the housing market. In other words, when the consumer decides he can not or will not pay the price of housing demanded by organized labor, the State will help not the consumer but the high-priced union workman. Further, the State will do this by penalizing the low-paid worker through taxes, since only by means of taxes can the State raise the money necessary to support the monopolistic union worker in the style to which he has become accustomed.

Ours is supposed to be an economy ruled by the law of supply and demechanism if the state does not permit the price mechanism to work when it would benefit the bulk of consumers, the State is helping to maintain a form of monopoly. It is also playing favorites in what is supposed to be a classless society.

Housing may be as short as the advocates of State-supplied "low-cost rental housing" declare. But the over-all situation will not be helped by throwing a greater tax burden upon the people of Canada as a whole, particularly at this juncture, in order that building mechanics can ride in their automobiles while their prospective customers ride street cars or use shank's pony.

Housing in Rural Area Forgotten

CALGARY, May 30 (CP) — Inhabitants of rural areas or 60 per cent of Western Canada's population are the forgotten men as far as housing is concerned.

That wa sthe contention of directors of Western Retail Lumbermen's Association when they met here today to discuss the current decline in house building in Canada.

As representatives of more than 1000 lumber dealers from the head of the lakes to the Pacific, they indicated their concern at recent figures on housing published by the federal government.

Although 155,000 immigrants arrived in Canada in 1951, (or more than 2½ times as many as in 1950) and although the government had announced that 200,000 immigrants were expected again this year, there had been a sharp decline in the number of houses started since 1950. About 92,000 houses were built in 1950; 85,000 in 1951 and it is estimated that only 62,000 will be built in 1952.

Especially was the lag in building homes evident in rural areas, for, they declared, the National Housing Act seemed beamed for the benefit of the larger metropolitan areas.

About $5,000,000 worth of cement piping is manufactured in Canada each year.

Toronto Workers Behind Shut-in Day Foundation

GODERICH, Ont., May 30 (CP)—Shut-In's Day, which some day may reach the same degree of recognition as Mothers' Day, will be observed this year on June 1.

The observance will mark the 12th anniversary of the founding of an International Shut-In's Day and two Canadians have played a large part in attempting to establish a day to remember the sick and disabled.

They are Ernest Barker of Goderich, Ont., executive secretary of the Shut-In's Day Association of Canada, and Rev. James M. Finlay of Toronto, head of the international chapter.

In 1940, Mr. Barker was a member of a Toronto Shut-In Club whose purpose was to create friendship through correspondence. The idea was first spread through the club's newspaper, but realizing a separate organization was needed to sponsor the day he resigned in 1942 and then formed the Shut-In's Day Association of Canada.

IN NEED OF FRIENDS

"In every community," says Mr. Barker, "There are many individuals confined to homes and hospitals because of ill health or physical disability. Many have no friends and they spend long days waiting for the step of a friend that seldom comes."

What would shut-in persons like to have you do on June 1? Here are a few suggestions: Make a cheerful, personal half-hour call; or send a gay letter or card, a good book, or a few flowers from your garden; take a Shut-In who is able to go out occasionally to morning church service or for a short afternoon drive.

Charity is not desired but the right kind of sympathy is often helpful and good. But don't ask the Shut-In to talk about his handicap, and don't take your troubles to him.

The first Shut-In chapter to be organized outside Canada was in Philadelphia and, according to Mr. Barker, the idea has taken root in Britain and France.

SPADE GARDEN THIS EASY WAY BEFORE PLANTING

Keep Spade Blade at Right Angles to Trench.

No matter what you may read about new practices in agriculture, this Spring most farm and garden land will be plowed or spaded, before seed is sown. For the home gardener with a few thousand feet or less of garden space, spading is best. Weeks may slip by waiting for a plowman to do a job which, by the proper approach, can be reduced to enjoyable and beneficial exercise.

The secret is to take it easy. Spading is not hard work if done a little at a time. A space of 1000 square feet can be spaded in a leisurely way for eight hours. One hour a day for eight days, and the job is done.

Be sure the soil is in condition to spade. Never work soil which is too wet; and if the soil is heavy, don't wait until it has become too dry. There is a point between extremes when even heavy clay can easily be lifted, and will crumble under a blow from the spade. You can tell this point by using the "mud pie" test.

Mould a ball of earth in your hand, and pat it to make a mud pie. If the pie holds together, the soil is too wet to spade. If it crumbles, then you can go ahead.

Set a definite task for your first day's work, say a strip six feet wide, running the shortest dimension of the garden. At one end dig a trench, say the width and depth of the spade, removing all soil from it. Pile this soil near the opposite end of the strip.

Now spade with the blade not parallel to the trench, but at right angles to it. This enables you to lift the soil more easily, and deposit it in the trench. The spade should be driven down, not on a slant, but perpendicularly to its full depth. Take a small slice of the soil so your back is not strained. Lift it up, turn the spade over, so that the top soil falls underneath and the bottom soil on top. In filling the first trench you have opened a second.

If you wish to spade under manure, spread it evenly over the area, except for the top of your initial trench. When this first trench has been dug, clean the manure from the top of the next trench and throw it into the bottom of the first; then proceed with your spading, piling the soil on top of the manure.

When you have finished your day's quota, you will have an empty trench which should be filled with the soil you removed from the initial trench.

Ways to Keep A House Cool

You can't put a calico dress on your house to keep it cool, but there are many practical methods of maintaining lower indoor temperatures in the Summer season.

Basic is adequate insulation. Fully insulated houses are noticeably cool as soon as you step into them.

Attic fans of the blower-type are capable of changing the air of an entire house within three minutes or so. They are very effective in expelling a day's accumulation of hot air and drawing in cooler evening air at the windows.

An easy way to cool a home equipped with a circulating warm air heating system is to turn on the circulating blower without starting the heat. This circulates cooler basement air through the house and often lowers the temperature by 10 degrees.

Individual room coolers installed as window units are available for about the price of a television set. Each unit usually is able to cool a room measuring about 15 by 20 feet with a nine foot ceiling.

Civil Servants Reject B.C. Government Offer

VICTORIA, May 30 (CP)— British Columbia's 10,000 civil servants have rejected the British Columbia Government's offer of a five-day, 36¾-hour week for office workers and a five-day, 44-hour week for outside workers on a four-month test basis.

Exact results of the vote have not been revealed, but it is understood the offer was defeated by a fairly large majority.

Provincial Secretary W. T. Straith said today the B. C. Government Employees' Association has informed him officially of the rejection. He had no comment to make.

In turning down the offer, the locals of the Association followed the advice of their executive.

WILL STAND FIRM

The Association executive now will endeavor to resume negotiations with the Cabinet. The civil servants are expected to stand firm on their demands for a five-day, "maximum 40-hour week".

It was the outside workers who swung the negative vote. The offer ran a chance of being approved until the up-country votes started to pour in. The up-country area is composed predominantly of outside workers, for whom the offer was less favorable.

For them, acceptance of the Government offer would have meant a work week of four days of nine hours each and one of eight hours. This is what killed the offer.

The workers already have accepted the Government offer of a 5 per cent wage increase, and incorporation of the cost-of-living bonus into the wage structure.

Communist Actions Raise Suspicions

NEW YORK, May 30 (CP) — The New York Times says today there is every indication that the Kremlin has ordered its fifth column apparatus to adopt tougher and more active methods to combat the resurgent strength of the democratic powers on a world-wide basis.

In a dispatch from Paris, C. L. Sulzberger says that regardless of what Soviet official policy contemplates, there seems no doubt that Communist parties in countries not under Moscow's direct domination have been told to step up their trouble-making activities regardless of the consequences.

Departing Mission Covenant Pastor Honored; Seattlelle to Be Successor

A large number attended the farewell gathering Wednesday night in the Mission Covenant Church for Rev. and Mrs. Vernon Lund who are leaving for Chicago where Mr. Lund will complete studies in the seminary.

Mr. Lund has pastored the church here for the past 20 months. Members at the gathering expressed regret that the couple must leave and wished them "God speed."

Program opened with congregational singing and prayer followed by instrumental and vocal numbers, readings and a Bible quiz. Presentation of a purse was made by Alan Smith on behalf of the members and friends of the church.

Refreshments were served by the ladies.

Rev. David Butterfield of Seattle is the incoming pastor. He will be welcomed in the pulpit this Sunday.

Belgium Ready for Royal Engagement

ROME, May 30 (AP) — Young King Boudoin of Belgium and Italian Princess Margherita de Savoia-Aosta are headed for a meeting in Italy which may lead to a royal wedding.

Members of their families were already here for a preliminary "get acquainted" gathering. An engagement announcement is expected.

The Belgian King, 21, probably will meet the 22-year-old daughter of the late Italian viceroy to Ethiopia at the villa Sparta, residence of former Queen Helen of Romania, near Florence.

DO THE PEOPLE OF B.C. WANT TO THROW HOSPITAL INSURANCE OVERBOARD?

"There are undoubtedly administration adjustments to be made."
—Premier Byron Johnson

But... Hospital Insurance is the greatest social reform in B.C.'s history. Like all great reforms, it has had its period of "trial and error" and its criticisms. Public education when it was first introduced, was opposed—yet would we be without it today?

In the heat of the present Election campaign some of my political opponents are advocating schemes that would destroy Hospital Insurance. Let's not lose sight of what Hospital Insurance really is —not a political football, but INSURANCE. Insurance for everyone of us against the crippling expense of acute and lengthy illness. Like accident or fire insurance, it supplies the protection and peace of mind we all desire.

The people of British Columbia want and need Hospital Insurance.

Since 1949, Hospital Insurance in this province has paid more than 740,000 bills—over 55 million dollars that otherwise would have come from the pockets of the sick, many of whom would have suffered untold misery and destitution had it not been for Hospital Insurance.

With regard to Co-Insurance, the Liberal Party in Convention has requested the abolition of Co-Insurance. My personal views are that the abolition of Co-Insurance at this time will jeopardize the continuance of Hospital Insurance. Time alone will tell. But for the welfare of the people Hospital Insurance must remain.

Make no mistake about it, Hospital Insurance is working for British Columbians. The Liberal Party is committed to its continuation and to the protection it gives to all of us.

Do not be misled by meaningless comparisons. The Hospital Insurance plans proposed by all other parties will place the cost on the already overloaded municipal taxpayer.

NELSON'S LITTLE LEAGUERS RARIN' TO GO . . . All of the Queen City's potential DiMaggios, Kiners and Fellers — 163 of 'em— turned up at the drop of a bat this week for the opening workout of the newly-organized Little League for youngsters 10 to 12. Only sad part in all the bubbling enthusiasm the movement has created is that only 75 of the lads can be fitted into the five-team league which is sponsored by five Nelson service clubs. With the gala opening day parade and doubleheader only one week away, the prospective players are giving their all to be numbered among the chosen 75 who will derive the benefits of provided equipment and uniforms built to scale for the carefully-organized Major League in Miniature.

Harassed team managers will tackle the unenviable chore of weeding them out and bidding for the players they want this week-end. Each manager will draw up a list of the 20 players he would like most and in cases of duplicate choices will bid with rival managers for the player's services, using a credit system designed to keep the teams evenly-balanced. Managers will be given 36,000 credits with which to "buy" their teams and may bid as high as they wish for a single player but must form the rest of their team with remaining credits. Team personnel will be announced next week, a few days before the uniforms arrive and the big June 7 opening is staged.

RACES TIGHTEN AFTER 16-GAME DAY

By The Associated Press

Brooklyn narrowed New York's National League lead to a half game Friday and Boston moved within one game of Cleveland in the American after a flurry of Memorial Day holiday doubleheaders.

Gil Hodges snapped out of his .198 slump to knock in eight runs as the Dodgers bumped off Boston 5-4 and 11-2 to make it eight straight over the Braves this season.

New York Giants split two in Philadelphia, losing the opener 3-0 to Russ Meyer's two-hit pitching and winning the second 4-2 for Larry Jansen's 100th major league victory.

Chicago also picked up ground by downing Cincinnati twice, 7-6 and 11-0, as Bob Rush threw a fine two-hit shutout. St. Louis split with Pittsburgh, the Cards winning the opener 3-2 but losing the second 4-3 on a three-run pinch homer in the ninth by Joe Garagiola, an ex-Card.

Minnie Minoso returned to Chicago White Sox lineup with a bang, hitting three home runs in a sweep over the League-leading Cleveland Indians, 7-2 and 3-1. Billy Pierce and Joe Dobson turned in a pair of stylish pitching jobs.

Boston bounced back to whip Washington in the second game 5-3 after losing the first game on Eddie Yost's three-run homer in the ninth.

SHANTZ WINS 8TH

Little Bobby Shantz and Bob Hooper teamed up to pitch the Philadelphia A's to a double win over New York Yankees 2-1 and 4-2. Shantz outpitched Tom Morgan in a 14-inning duel in the opener with Dave Philleys single off reliefer Jim McDonald winning the game. Morgan was replaced by McDonald after he walked two in the 14th. Bob Hooper blanked the Yanks until the ninth inning of the second game, but needed help from reliefer Carl Scheib to snuff out a New York rally.

The combination of the Yanks' double loss and the White Sox two wins boosted Chicago into fourth place and dropped New York to fifth.

Detroit came up with three runs in the 12th inning on bases-loaded singles by Don Kolloway and Steve Souchock to top St. Louis 8-5 for a split. Shortstop Joe Demaestri's double in the last of the ninth broke up the opener with a 3-2 win for St. Louis' reliefer Satch Paige.

Kimberley's 8-Bout Butula Benefit Tonight

KIMBERLEY, B. C. — Thirty rounds of boxing in what promises to be the best card ever staged in the Interior will hold sway tonight at the Kimberley Arena when East Kootenay fans get their chance to aid Jack Butula on his trip to the Olympics.

The 147-pound Golden Boy and top-ranking Canadian welterweight will tangle with Len Kupchak in the feature event of an eight-bout card, proceeds of which will go towards financing the Kimberley fighter to Finland this Summer.

Another Canadian champion, 126-pound catchweight titlist Len Walters of Vancouver will meet another Vancouverite, Bobbie Ingram, in the co-feature while Kimberley's Dave Masich takes on Vancouver's Bobby Russell in the middleweight semi-final.

The five preliminaries will include an exhibition by the McSporran twins of Trail and several promising district fighters.

The card is being staged by the Kimberley Amateur Athletic Association and the Kimberley Amateur Boxing Club.

Record Falls In 500-Mile Auto Race

By GAYLE TALBOT

INDIANAPOLIS, May 30 (AP)—Troy Ruttman, a 250-pounder from Lynwood, Calif., shattered speedway records today and drove his cream-colored Agajanian Special to a sensational victory in the annual 500-mile Memorial Day race.

Taking the lead only 22 miles from the finish, when Bill Vukovich, another coast ace who had led almost throughout the spectacular event, piled up on a retaining wall, the 22-year-old Ruttman won going away with an average speed of 128.922 miles an hour. The previous record of 126.244 was set last year.

A crowd estimated at more than 150,000 gave the husky victor an ovation when he pried himself loose from the cockpit and received the traditional winner's kiss—this year from Arlene Dahl of the movies.

For Vukovich, who apparently had the classic in the bag with the finish almost in sight, the result was a heartbreaker. His only consolation was that he was able to walk away from his damaged racer —that and the fact that he had piled up a total of $15,100 in lap prize money.

Drobny, Sedgman Paris Finalists

PARIS, May 30 (AP) —Doris Hart and Shirley Fry of the United States who have dominated the French women's tennis championship since 1950, today gained the final round for the third straight year.

They play for the crown tomorrow while Australia's Frank Sedgman and Egypt's Jaroslav Drobny, the defending titleholder, clash in the men's final.

Miss Fry, the defending queen, eliminated Mrs. Hazel Redwick-Smith, of South Africa 7-5, 6-4. Miss Hart, the 1950 French winner, defeated Dorothy Head of Alameda, Calif., 6-2, 8-6.

Sedgman routed 41-year-old Eric Sturgess of South Africa 7-5, 6-2, 8-6. Drobny, a stocky lefthander, ousted the other Australian threat, lanky Ken McGregor, 6-3, 6-0, 4-6, 6-3.

GERRY REYNOLDS

Today is the day when at least 300,000 golfers across Canada and the United States will take on Ben Hogan in what must rank as the biggest tournament ever staged. The idea is that every golfer plays an 18-hole round on his home course on the same day that Bantam Ben plays 18 at the Northwood Club in Dallas. It's simply Hogan's score against the field, with everyone getting their regular club handicaps and winning a bronze medal inscribed "I Beat Ben Hogan" should their net score better his.

Hogan, whose hole-by-hole round will be aired on the CBC network starting at 2:30 p.m., figures modestly that at least 100 golfers will beat him, what with the handicaps and wide variety of courses while he plays a tough course which will be the scene of the 1952 National Open.

Nelson golfers are entering into the fun but won't be taking their licks until Sunday afternoon so that those who work Saturday can join in.

* * *

DIAMOND DUST . . . Eric Bishop was obviously saving his best chuckers for today's clash with Fairchild Air Base when the Smokies played here this week and absorbed a 9-2 pasting at the hands of the Tigers . . . Not that it isn't nice to see the Tigers beat 'em but it was strictly no contest after the first few innings because Smokies declined to replace an ineffective hurler . . . And Eric, weren't you the guy who urged that a minimum of 12 players should be in uniform to assure an adequate "bench"? . . . I counted just 10 men here Thursday . . .

Nelson fans get a chance to compare Ron Nash's Outlaws with the senior Tigers here tomorrow when the renegades take on Colville Air Force base in an afternoon game and Fred Tinling's club plays the American squad in an evening afterpiece . . . Outlaw ace Ronnie Brown will start the opener while lefty Jim Todd makes his first home appearance of the season in the second . . . Tigers' infield looks much better since Tinling made some tightening alterations while the club's stickwork showed no problems against right-handed hurling . . . Still more infield help could come from Kenny Nicol if the Trail flash moves thisaway.

* * *

OFF-SEASON STUFF . . . One of the best stunts we've heard yet for the still-unfixed midsummer hockey game would be to make it a family affair for one period — pitting Trail's hockey-playing Malleys (Jimmy, Leo, Kevin, et al) against Nelson's hockey-playing Koehles (Red, Fritz, Bob Gerry, et al) . . . This from Merv Horne, brother-in-law of the Mailey boys, who did such a fine job with the Nelson juveniles last season . . . Merv, incidentally, is going all out for an intermediate squad for Nelson next season. Needless to say, he has the blessing of Frank Hufty's senior club which still has bleak memories of last season playoffs when lack of available reserves wrote finis for the Leafs . . . Hustling Merv already has 20 players lined up and will apply for admittance into the Trail Smelter League next season. A look at his roster guarantees they'd provide stiff competition, and more importantly, at last half a dozen good, conditioned reserves for the Leafs in an emergency . . . Included are names Jesse Seaby, Jimmy Houston, Jack Kilpatrick, Bill Vickers and Swede Larsen along with Red Wassick, Ron Brown, Les Hufty, Bill and Lawrence Ludlow, George Crothers and a fella by the name of George Barefoot who says he'll carry out his perennial threat to retire from the senior wars this time for sure . . .

Seems the Booster Club is a little irked at the Maple Leaf executive, and not without reason, after receiving a $700 bill for the team jackets presented at the end of the season . . . Not that the Boosters minded a fine and deserved gesture to the Leaf players but no Booster was approached about the matter anywhere along the line . . . Then, too, there's the matter of 30 jackets while it's well-known the Leaf roster was a maximum 18 with half a dozen close team officials and helpers.

All-Yankee Final in British Amateur

PRESTWICK, Scotland, May 30 (AP) —Frank Stranahan of Toledo, O., bidding for his third title, and young Harvie Ward of Tarboro, N. C., forged double-barrel triumphs today to produce the third straight all-American final in the British Amateur golf championship.

They play 36 holes tomorrow over Prestwick's treeless, seaside course for the crown which Stranahan won in 1948 and 1950 and which has been a United States possession since 1950.

Should Stranahan win again, the young Ohio millionaire would become the first United States golfer to win this historic event three times

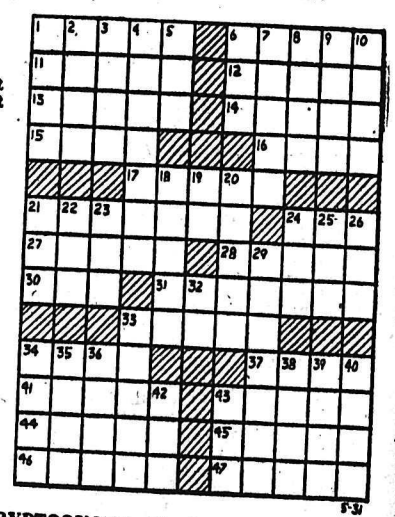
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

N I B Q O U J G B M I A — T J U C S P P U.

Blame Bone Meal For Hog Disease

WASHINGTON, May 30 (CP) — The United States Agriculture Department says it has found no evidence that sabotage was involved in recent outbreaks of anthrax in livestock in previously non-infected areas of the Midwestern U. S.

Some of the outbreaks of the disease among hogs in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, had been attributed to contaminated bone meal imported from Belgium. The meal was used in livestock feed.

Closing the door to imports of meal would not assure farmers protection because of the many possible domestic sources of the disease. Only about 10 per cent of the imported supplies are used in livestock feed. Most of it is used in industry.

Barring imports would not prevent any spread of the disease.

Officials of the federal department of agriculture at Ottawa said there is no case of anthrax in Canada.

Ottawa Interested In Coast Harbor

VANCOUVER, May 30 (CP) — Alderman Halford Wilson reported today that a demand by shipping men that Vancouver's harbor be deepened to facilitate the handling of large vessels is getting "favorable consideration" in Ottawa.

Alderman Wilson, who returned Thursday from the East, said national harbors board officials have promised to recommend some action on the Vancouver request.

Market Trends

TORONTO, May 30 (CP) — Prices made little headway toward the close after moderate mid-afternoon support bolstered selected base metal issues.

Industrial dealings showed a slight spread from leading issues but few golds, metals or oils attracted speculative interest. Volume for the session was about 1,100,000 shares.

MONTREAL (CP) — Mixed support produced little trend near the close.

Senior metals held early strength while utilities and beverages advanced slightly.

LONDON (Reuters) — Most sections were quiet.

This trend was particularly noticeable among industrials. Nervous liquidation resulted in widespread declines.

Butcher steers and heifers were steady to strong. Cows and bulls were fully steady. All classes of stocker and feeder cattle were in keen demand with prices steady at the week's advance of 50 cents to $1. Veal calves were steady.

Catholic Schools Not Seeking Subsidy, Recognize State Rights

PENTICTON, B.C.—"We are not attacking anyone nor do we seek to destroy any system. Rather we are defendants in the cause of justice and rights."

These were the words of Right Rev. Martin M. Johnson, D.D., Bishop of Nelson, speaking at the annual banquet of the Knights of Columbus state council in Penticton.

Bishop Johnson was speaking on the controversial subject of the separate school question, and he outlined the Catholic viewpoint. He emphasized that he did not wish to enter into any political controversy, but owing to the prominence this question was receiving, the Catholic stand should be explained.

He claimed there is need of both the public school and the denominational school — both should be partners in education.

"We do not ask that public funds be used to subsidize our religious schools, but we do seek the right to support and maintain our school by our own money — the money which we pay as school assessment. If we have a right to exist we should have the rights to the means of existence."

Bishop Johnson said that not only Catholic schools were being endangered—but also private, denominational and independent schools of other religions.

He referred to the attack on these schools by the president of Harvard University—and said that it was encouraging to note that "as Catholics we do not stand alone in opposing such a ruthless and false conception of democracy."

He said that it was not surprising to see leaders of every denomination aroused by this "shameful" attack—because enrolments in both Protestant and Catholic schools have reached an all-time high in the U.S.A., according to a survey made by the National Council of the Churches of Christ.

In 15 years, Bishop Johnson claimed, enrolments in the nation's 3000 Protestant schools has jumped 61 per cent. The leading Protestant group, the Missouri Lutheran Synod has 1164 schools with 95,474 students. Catholic enrolments are up 35 per cent.

"I submit," he said, "that these thousands of denominational schools do not threaten our democratic unity—nor dot hey threaten our public schools system. We believe that the state has quite definite rights in education. It has not only the right but also the duty to assist parents to discharge their obligation to educate their children. It is the duty of the state to make it possible for every child to have the opportunity of acquiring an education."

Honor President

BOSWELL, B.C.—Hopes that arrangements can be made to ship 1952 cherry crop through the Wynndel Cooperative were expressed at the annual meeting of the Boswell Fruit Growers' Association.

The growers are going to confer with the Farmers' Institute to see if any deal can be made for shipping processing cherries, which go to the Harrop plant.

The retiring directors were renamed to continue in office to handle sale of the Boswell packing shed and property. Report of 1951 fruit shipments was given, and the financial statement showed the organization is in good shape.

A. Mackie, president, was extended a vote of appreciation for his outstanding work in the interests of the growers over the last 25 years.

F. H. W. Chanter reported on the annual meeting of the West Kootenay-Boundary Central Farmers' Institute at Kaslo, and Mayor Joseph Kary on the Creston Blossom Festival.

Trail's $17,000 Traffic Light System Expected to Start July 1

TRAIL, B.C. — July 1 may see starting of Trail's new $17,000 traffic light system. The tentative date has been set by T. N. Stretton, City electrical superintendent.

The system will give Trail eight traffic lights, seven of them new ones. About 50 per cent of the installation work has been completed by City crews.

There are several signal heads still to be installed along with timing and other devices. In addition connecting cable remains to be laid between the various lights.

Only change in the location of the traffic lights was the decision to place one at the corner of Helena Street and Bay Avenue instead of at Bay Avenue and Victoria Street.

A traffic survey at the Cominco arena intersection indicated there was not sufficient normal traffic to warrant installation of a light.

A speedier flow of traffic through the city is anticipated when the lights are in operation. The "progressive lighting system" will allow traffic to flow uninterruptedly at a predetermined rate of speed.

TO SPEED TRAFFIC

The system is designed to speed traffic along the two main streets and it is possible the city's speed limit may have to be raised to prevent congestion. A short street will permit only a back-up of eight or nine cars without interfering with the intersection behind.

All lights will have manual controls for use at peak periods if necessary and the Victoria Street-Tamarac Avenue light will have an automatic device to favor heavy Smelter hill traffic at certain times of the day.

Another traffic speed-up to come with the lights will be a through traffic lane for vehicles going up the Smelter hill.

Traffic authorities expect a considerable period of trial and error with the system during its initial operation. For instance, left-hand turns will be allowed at all intersections but may be curtailed if they snarl traffic too much.

The complicated installation requires 10 miles of wiring. The cost of the system is estimated at $12,500 for lights along the arterial highway and another $3700 for Cedar Avenue.

The provincial government contributed $5000 towards the highway lights.
