B.C. Gold Mines To Close Without Aid, Ottawa Told

Monetary Fund Dictated Reduced Subsidy, Provincial Mines Ministers Told; Alberta Coal Business Threatened

OTTAWA, Oct. 30 (CP)—Provincial Mines Ministers asked the Federal Government today for more help for gold mining and Western coal mining, but they got no commitments on financial aid.

Informed sources said the delegation of four ministers, speaking for the Canadian Conference of Mines Ministers, got little encouragement from the Government in seeking:

1. Restoration of the Federal gold production subsidy to the level paid for the last three years. The Government recently announced a reduction in the gold-aid payments for next year.

2. Increasing of freight-rate subventions on coal moving from Alberta to Ontario to take care of a freight-rate increase to go into effect next March 1. The Alberta producers say this increase would knock them out of the Ontario market.

Some of the ministers advised the government that, unless the gold assistance was kept on the old basis, some marginal mines would be put out of business.

"A number of our 43 producing mines would be knocked out," W.S. Gemmell, Ontario Mines Minister told a reporter after the conference. He added he could not say how many would be affected.

"Only two of our mines—maybe three—would be able to carry on," said Mines Minister R. C. MacDonald of British Columbia.

It was understood that Quebec Province's delegation had estimated 35 per cent of Quebec's gold mines might be forced to suspend operations.

WORLD BANK ORDER

While there was no official statement from the government, provincial sources said it had been indicated to the delegation that the reduction in federal gold aid had been largely dictated from the international monetary fund. At the same time the government announced the reduction in gold aid, it stated this had been done in consultation with fund headquarters at Washington.

In today's coal meeting with Trade Minister Howe, aid was sought only on behalf of Alberta, with the claims of that province backed up by the mines ministers of British Columbia and Ontario and Mines Ministers A. H. MacKinnon of Nova Scotia and C. D. French of Quebec.

Hon. N. E. Tanner, Alberta Mines Minister, was unable to arrive because of adverse flying conditions. He was expected to arrive tomorrow to put his province's case personally.

Main point of the submissions on behalf of Alberta, as presented today, was that the federal government should increase its coal freight subvention to take up a freight rate increase which the railways intend putting into effect next April 1 on coal moving from Alberta to Ontario.

This increase will amount to $2.35 a ton. On the current volume of coal from Alberta to Ontario, expected to amount to 500,000 tons, that would run to $1,175,000 over normal subvention payments which total $4,500,000 for both Eastern and Western coal movements into Central Canada.

"Even Mom Won't Recognize Me Tonight!"

"There! Now no one will know me," smiles Twyla Walton as she deftly applies burnt cork whiskers before her admiring friend, Jo Ellen Kary. Jo Ellen, daughter of Ald. and Mrs. Joseph Kary, 306 Second Street, and Twyla, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Walton, 406 Fifth Street, are typical of hundreds of Nelson youngsters who will be donning bright make-up and fancy costumes tonight for that night of nights—All Hallows' Eve.

Chinese Reds Join Koreans in Battle

Launch Counter-Drive, Wipe Out S. Korean 6th; Reinforcements Rushed

SEOUL, Oct. 31 (Tuesday) (AP)—Resurgent Reds, reported unofficially to be bolstered by two Chinese Communist divisions, were on a counter-offensive today in Northeast Korea and fought savage defensive battles in the Northwest.

In the Northeast, where a U. S. spokesman acknowledged at least one Chinese Communist regiment was in action, the Reds stabbed within 30 miles of the East coast industrial centre of Hamhung.

AP correspondent Bem [illegible] quoted a captured North [illegible] officer as saying that [illegible] Chinese Communist divisions [illegible] in an encircling drive [illegible] Hamhung. American advise[illegible] no identification of [illegible] however, an American Intel[illegible] officer said he was skeptical.

In the Northwest the B[illegible] Commonwealth Brigade had [illegible] fight street by street to capture [illegible] highway hub of Chongju on th[illegible] main road to the Northwest border city of Sinuiju. Then Americans swept through, ready to drive along that road.

Other American forces are dug in near Kusong, 26 miles North of Chongru and 34 miles from the Manchurian border.

The South Korean 2nd Army Corps, operating on the right flank of Americans, attributed reverses of the last three days to the weight of fresh enemy troops. Officers of the 2nd Corps insisted many of those troops were Chinese.

"While the U. S. Eighth Army so far has declined to give official recognition to their claims, 2nd Corps staff officers insist it is no token Chinese Red force which already has chewed up one of their divisions," said AP correspondent Jack MacBeth.

He quoted an American military adviser as saying there was not much left of the South Korean 6th Division after a three-day battle near Onjong, 35 miles Northeast of Kusong.

While the immediate situation appeared serious for the South Korean Republican 3rd Division, strong American reinforcements were within 50 miles of Hamhung on the South and 75 miles on the North.

Elsewhere along a 250-mile arc, United Nations forces edging toward the snowy fringes of the Manchurian border found their advance stalled by bitter Communist resistance.

SINGAPORE TROUBLE TARGET

Bombers, Assassins, Arsonists Busy in Fifth Column Attack

SINGAPORE, Oct. 30 (AP)—Militant Communism in Singapore is being intensified to offset reverses suffered by Communist forces in Korea.

Bombs have been flung into places of entertainment frequented by Britons. Rubber warehouses and factories have been destroyed. An officer in charge of Chinese education has been shot in a public bus. British-operated buses and taxicabs have been doused with flaming gasoline.

Singapore's thousands of illiterate believe the Red whispering campaign that big things are in the offing by the Communists.

French military setbacks in Indo-China also are causing concern to British authorities who fear a continuance of reverses will spur Communist terrorism here.

British Army chiefs feel the Vietminh successes are boosting the hopes of Malayan Communists and this is likely to step up their widespread campaign of murder and sabotage.

Malaya, rich in rubber and tin, would loom as a choice Red target in Southeast Asia if the rebel Vietminh forces succeed in cutting deep into Indo-China and threaten Thailand.

In that event it is felt here that Malayan Communists undoubtedly would get substantial help in reinforcements and equipment from outside to lay the groundwork for a possible big push.

British authorities already have their hands full trying to smash an estimated 3000 to 5000 terrorists operating from the dense jungle.

CALL GUARDS TO CRUSH REVOLT

Puerto Rico Chief Says Attacks Communist-Aided

BY JULIO RIVERA

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Oct. 31 (Tuesday) (AP)—The government today called out 3,500 National Guardsmen to suppress a nationalist uprising, the worst in the island's history.

Police said 23 persons had been killed and 15 wounded in the widespread revolt by American hating nationalists, the party of Harvard-educated Pedro Aloizu Campos.

Latest reports reaching police in San Juan said the dead included 13 policemen, nine nationalist rebels and a fireman.

The governor in a broadcast tonight told the country the uprising was "a conspiracy against democracy, helped by the communists."

Munoz interpreted the attack on the palace as an attempt to murder him and said this was in accord with "Communist and Fascist" practices.

Here Comes the Bogey Man

By HARRY ECCLES
Canadian Press Staff Writer

It's an old festival that's getting better organized every year—Hallowe'en, the night when goblins and witches haunt the earth. The more extravagant pranks that used to startle citizens in the old days appear to have died out.

Tonight the goblins and the witches and a lot of other weirdly-attired apparitions, young and not so young, will haunt the cities and towns and villages across the country.

The old cry of "shell out" will have housewives and storekeepers on continuous front-door guard, many of them stocked up beforehand with candy and fruits. Some stores have been putting on sales of candy kisses and such for days ahead.

But this year's Hallowe'en will probably see the greatest number of organized and properly-conducted celebrations ever held. The idea caught on only a few years ago with the laudable ambition of keeping the young people happy and keeping them out of mischief.

CELEBRANTS' NIGHT

While police warnings and augmented patrols curb the more rowdy spirits, communities from one end of Canada to the other have organized parties and celebrations which will keep the evening more or less under control.

In Montreal the children cry "charity" and receive tokens which they take to parties, chiefly in the schools. In Saint John, N. B., children at the door cry "help the poor". But in most places it's the familiar "shell out, shell out" that will be heard.

They're celebrating one of the world's oldest traditions, from the days of the Romans, the Druids and the early Christians. The Romans and the Druids long ago set the day aside as a festival of thanksgiving for the harvest.

The name of course signifies the Eve of All Saints' Day in honor of all saints known or unknown. The date for All Saints' Day was set as Nov. 1 by Pope Gregory III during the eighth century and since then the vigil has been kept.

Winnipeg Enjoys Hottest Weather

WINNIPEG, Oct. 30 (CP) — Yesterday was the warmest Oct. 29 in Winnipeg's weather records, the Dominion Weather Office said today. It was 70 degrees. Previous high for the day was 69 in 1903.

The weather man said more records may be broken today.

Just in contrast: Oct. 29, 1887 it was 2.5 degrees above zero.

U. S. GOVERNORS NAMED NOV. 7

Congressional Contests Also To Be Decided

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (CP) — Many a widely known figure in the United States will have his political fortune at stake Nov. 7 when 32 States elect governors.

For some governorship candidates, the result will decide whether or not they are considered for Presidential or vice-presidential nominations in 1952, or have a say in naming those slates.

Voter interest naturally turns first in the non-presidential election years to which party is going to win control of the new congress At present the House of Representatives and the Senate are dominated by Democrats. All 435 seats in the House and 36 seats in the 96-seat Senate are up for election a week from tomorrow.

When it is recalled however, that 13 of the country's presidents previously served their states as governors, the governorship races assume a significance that overlaps state borders.

Governors Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Earl Warren of California, Republican nominees for President and Vice President respectively in 1948; Frank J. Lausche of Ohio and Chester Bowles of Connecticut, both Democrats, are battling hard for reelection in a list of elections that in many cases over shadow interest in Congressional contests.

All except Bowles are seeking third terms. Warren's opponent is James Roosevelt, eldest son of the late President. He is seeking his first political office. Bowles, wartime price administrator is challenged by Representative John Davis Lodge, brother of Senator Lodge and grandson of the late Henry Cabot Lodge, leader in the fight against the League of Nations.

Representative Walter A. Lynch is battling Dewey in what observers on both sides regard as Dewey's toughest fight of his political life.

Republican State Treasurer Don H. Ebright takes on Lausche in Ohio. Altogether 33 governorships are being filled this year. Maine started things off Sept. 11 by re-electing Governor Frederick G. Payne, a Republican.

Heart Operation Amazes Doctors

CHICAGO, Oct. 30 (AP) — A report of an operation for coronary heart disease, killer of many persons, drew applause and gasps today from a fascinated group of doctors at Northwestern University.

Dr. Claude S. Beck, neuro-surgeon at Western Reserve University, Cleveland, made the report in a lecture and in movies of the operation.

Usually reserved physicians called it "amazing," and "astonishing," medical sources said.

The operation is designed to feed more blood into the heart muscle by bypassing the blocked coronary artery. A piece of blood vessel is grafted between the aorta, or main blood channel, and the opening of the heart chamber.

Dr. Beck said four persons in the United States have undergone the operation and lived.

Coronary occlusion is a hardening or narrowing of the arteries supplying the heart muscle. It strikes many persons who work at high tension or for long hours.

Straith Advocates Temperance Teaching

WINNIPEG, Oct. 30 (CP)—Education Minister W. T. Straith of British Columbia says more than 56,000 pupils in 650 schools in his province now are studying the effects of alcohol and the causes of drinking.

He told a Temperance meeting here last night that 1700 teachers give courses to students from Grade VII to Grade XII, as part of the regular school curriculum.

"This education must reach every child," Mr. Straith said. Scientific findings about use of alcohol were presented. The hope was the students would be able to form their own conclusions when they grew up.

Seven in Coupe, Four Injured

WINNIPEG, Oct. 30 (CP)—Four out of seven boys, crammed into a coupe driven by a 13-year-old boy, were injured yesterday when the car slid in loose gravel and turned over. The roof of the car had to be ripped off to free them.

Injured were: Doug Mitchell, 15, in hospital with a fractured pelvis; Alexander Kelly, 15, broken left wrist; Bruce Taylor, 15, abrasions on his right side and a possible broken arm; and Bob Griffiths, 12, cuts to the head.

Police said the boys "borrowed" the car, owned by John G. Bonk of Fort Garry who said he had left the keys in the ignition after parking.

Duke Visits Mother

LONDON, Oct. 30 (Reuters)—The Duke of Windsor arrived in London today from France on a short visit. He will stay with his mother, Queen Mary, until Wednesday.

"Duty Above All" For Gustav VI

By GUSTAV SVENSSON

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 30 (AP) — King Gustaf VI ascended the ancient throne of Sweden today and proclaimed as his royal motto "duty above all." He pledged himself to adhere strictly to the constitution and to rule as a "righteous king and gracious father of the Swedish people by a legal, just and mild government."

The new king will be 68 Nov. 11. His formal succession came as he finished reading his royal oath in the cabinet council room of Stockholm Palace.

Gustaf VI, looking pale and strained, hailed his father as the "peace king." Gustaf V, who died Sunday, had kept the country neutral during two world wars. His reign of nearly 43 years was the longest in Swedish history. At 92 he also was Europe's oldest monarch.

The king's oath was read by Socialist Premier Tage Erlander, in the presence of his cabinet and Sweden's hereditary princes. The premier formally offered his government's resignation and the king asked it to remain in office.

The king then turned to the royal princes, his son, Bertil, 38, and his brother, Wilhelm, 66. The two pledged always to remain loyal and faithful to their "king, lord and master, Gustaf VI Adolf." The premier then pledged the allegiance of his cabinet to the king.

The new crown prince, curly-haired Carl Gustaf, was not required to pledge his allegance. He is only four years old—the son of the new king's eldest son, Gustaf Adolf, killed in a 1947 airplane crash.

Calls on All to Help Formulate Foreign Policy

PERTH, Ont., Oct. 30 (CP) — George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, tonight called on Canadians to assume responsibility for helping formulate the foreign policies of the democracies.

In a speech entitled, "The Lessons of Korea," at a district convention of Rotary Clubs, Mr. Drew said the thing which distinguishes a democracy from a dictatorship "is that foreign policy, just as much as any other responsibility of Government, should represent the opinion of a majority of all our individual citizens."

Bones for Buttons, Not for Chewing

CHURCHILL, Man., Oct. 30 (CP) —There'll be some cracked teeth and aching tummies if the army at Fort Churchill tests the latest rumor.

New parkas issued this year have nine white buttons. The rumor has it that they're concentrated food—that one button makes a meal and the nine will keep a man going three days.

But it's just an idle rumor, says Prairie Command Headquarters at Winnipeg.

The buttons are really made of bone.

Round World From Japan to Red China

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP) —A tale of how more than 3,500,000 pounds of copper were hauled from U. S.-occupied Japan clear around the world to Communist China during the last year was unfolded today before Senate investigators.

Walter Spritzer, import manager of the Kane Import Co., New York City, told of buying most of the copper off ships of the Isbrandtsen Line after they had left Japan and then having it reshipped from New York to the North China Import Corp.

He testified before a Senate Commerce Subcommittee which is investigating shipments of oil and other strategic materials to the Chinese Reds.

Piper, Pooch Through With Ignorant Canucks; They're Off to Highlands

VANCOUVER, Oct. 30 (CP) — Piper John Sutherland, 61-year-old knife sharpener, plans to buy a new set of bagpipes and return to the old country "toot sweet."

The bearded Scot has inherited an estate, he has been informed, but it may not be particularly large. It is the estate of his brother, Lawrence Crawford Sutherland of West Gorton, Manchester, England.

John, who came to Canada in 1929, used to play the "Road to the Isles" as he paraded Vancouver streets, but the "igner-r-r-ant" Canadians protested and 12 times he was in court, charged with creating a disturbance. Even a six-months jail sentence didn't stop him.

For years he has lived as a squatter in North Vancouver, his only companion in a dingy cabin a 10-year-old mongrel dog, "Bill".

"I've had enough of it here," John said today. "Bill is my pal. We're going back together."

NO WINE, BUT WATER ORDER MIFFS WAITERS

WINNIPEG, Oct. 30 (CP)—Long on wine and short on water was the rule in Paris, delegates to the 1950 World Women Christian Temperance Union found.

Mrs. Leigh Colvin, Union President from Chicago, told a Temperance meeting here last night that French waiters were "extremely reluctant" to substitute the wine for water at delegates' request.

COAST TRANSPORTATION FIRM CHANGES HANDS

VANCOUVER, Oct. 30 (CP) — Sale of Johnson Terminals Ltd., and Johnson National Storage Ltd to Security Storage Ltd. of Winnipeg was announced today. The purchase price was not disclosed.

The pioneer transportation and storage business was founded by Elmer Johnson in 1913.

"Standby" Power to Be Provided Free to Nelson for Next Two Years

Standby power will be provided without cost for two years by West Kootenay Power and Light Company, Mayor N. C. Stibbs informed City Council Monday night.

The Mayor explained that with Aldermen N. R. Sardich and W. S. Smith he had visited R. G. Anderson, General Manager, in Trail Saturday.

Mr. Anderson had given the visiting delegation "a wonderful reception" and said that the new arrangement would start at once. Previously the City had been paying $3000 a year for standby power whether power was used or not. The West Kootenay Company had provided power to the City at various times during construction of the new power plant addition and installation of the fourth unit.

The Council committee went to Trail to take up the matter after receiving a letter in connection with renewal of the contract.

It was hoped the projected new transmission line from the City power plant would be completed during the two-year period, Mayor Stibbs said. Council has ordered drawing up of a bylaw to be presented to the ratepayers for this work, expected to cost approximately $300,000.

The citizens should be "very happy over the pleasant relations" between the power company and the City, the Mayor remarked.

A letter of thanks will be sent to Mr. Anderson.

Asks Hearing on Milk Price Hikes

WINNIPEG, Oct. 30 (CP)—Formal application for a public hearing on recently-increased milk prices was announced today by the Manitoba branch of the Canadian Association of Consumers.

Avis Clark, chairman of the branch Milk Committee, reported a first application had been "disregarded" when given to the Milk Control Board Sept. 1.

Return of previous prices — with two exceptions—is sought by the Association. Low school rates currently in effect would remain, while the Association also asks a two rather than one-cent spread between store and wagon prices.

Milk a quart now sells at 20 cents on wagon delivery.

Australian Trains At a Standstill

MELBOURNE, Australia, Oct. 30 (Reuters)—Trains were at a standstill today in all Australian states except Western Australia.

Nineteen unions staged a 24-hour token strike in support of railway strikes in Victoria and South Australia.

Thousands of railwaymen have been on strike in Victoria for 15 days and in South Australia for eight days over grievances about overtime and other rates of pay.

FOUR DEATHS IN OREGON FLOODS

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 30 (AP)—The death toll rose to four in Oregon floods tonight as swollen rivers began receding, but still swirled over scores of highways and farms.

A farmer and his son drowned in the Coquille River as they attempted to reach safety in a rowboat. They were identified as Leo A. Landive, 35, and his son, Dan Fred Landive, 9.

The rowboat was swamped as they tried to reach the town of Coquille on the Southern Oregon coast. Three others in the boat splashed their way to safety.

They were the latest victims of flash floods that left uncounted property damage and several hundred persons temporarily homeless.

The danger appeared to be over, although weather forecasters warned another ocean storm was heading toward the area.

This one, however, did not appear to be violent, like its predecessors, and forecasters had hopes the area —hit by successive storms for five days—would escape further damage.

River experts said it would take a three-or-four inch downpour — such as struck yesterday—to imperil the flood zones again.

More than four inches fell at some points yesterday. It made nearly 11 inches of rain in three days in Northern California and Southern Oregon.

B.C.H.I. Not to Blame For Overcrowding

VICTORIA, B. C., Oct. 30 (CP) —The British Columbia Hospital Insurance Service is not responsible for the overcrowded conditions which prevail in most provincial hospitals, Lloyd Detwiller, Commissioner of the Service, said today.

He said the main reason was lack of planning.

"Hospital space and construction plans have been inadequate for the last decade," he said "and are not problem children weaned by the Hospital Insurance Service, but rather an inescapable inheritance."

Mr. Detwiller said hospital insurance premiums might possibly be raised if operating costs continue to rise.

"Premiums must keep pace with costs," he said. "However the public may rest assured everything possible is being done, and will be done, to keep costs down."

WINNIPEG, Oct. 30 (CP)—L. D. M. Baxter of Winnipeg today was reelected President and Director of the Calgary and Edmonton Corporation Ltd. at the Oil Corporation's annual meeting of shareholders.

And in This Corner —

RALEIGH, N.C., Oct. 30 (AP)—What does it take to discourage a tobacco moocher? That's what an Army recruiting sergeant is asking after he prepared this mixture for the moocher:

A small quantity of tobacco, five rubber bands, eight match heads, two locks of finely clipped hair—one donated by a blonde and one by a brunette, a teaspoonful of lint, a dash of pencil sharpenings, and the contents of one shot-gun shell.

The moocher filled his pipe as usual, smoked merrily away—and returned two hours later for a refill.

ALBION, Ia., Oct. 30 (AP)—If you think living up in a tree is strictly for the birds, you should see Robert A. Dunn's tree-dwelling cats.

The kittens, name of Tiger and Fluffy, were born in a hollow tree, 12 feet off the ground. Now they're more at home in the tree than on the ground.

Spotty, the kittens' mother had lost several litters to dogs or to cars passing on the highway in front of the Dunn farmhouse. Spotty deserted more conventional cat lying-in quarters for the hole in the tree. The kittens lived there the first six weeks of their life. Then Spotty got tired of hauling groceries up the tree to the kittens. She enticed them down by waving dead mice at them. Now the family lives in a barn.

OWEN SOUND, Ont., Oct. 30 (CP)—Theoretically, residents of Owen Sound have been locked out of their city for the last year, ever since the Governor-General took away the key.

Viscount Alexander chuckled over the incident today during a return visit to the city. Presented with the yard-long official key to the city during his last trip to Owen Sound, he took it away with him, not realizing that he was supposed to keep only a miniature replica and return the official key for future presentations.

Unabashed, Viscount Alexander told Mayor E. C. Sargent today that the key still hangs in a place of honor at his Rideau Hall residence in Ottawa.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 30 (CP)—Inspector Donald McRitchie, like the elephant, never forgets.

A 71-year-old man pleaded guilty today to a charge of being drunk. He told Magistrate M. H. Garton he hadn't been in court since 1915 and was reprimanded rather than fined.

Then Inspector McRitchie recognized him. The man was asked whether he escaped from a detenton home here 35 years ago.

"I didn't escape," the prisoner said. "I just walked away."

Now the sheriff's office is searching the records for details of the case.

CHELSEA, Mass., Oct. 30 (AP)—The Fire Department was called yesterday when smoke filled the home of Mrs. Margaret Arsenault.

A quick check showed no fire so firemen removed the smoke pipe between the kitchen oil range and the chimney.

Out popped a grimy, soot-blackened cat.

Canadian Reserves Fight Long Battle

TORONTO, Oct. 30 (CP)— More than 500 Army Reservists of the 19th Canadian Army Brigade fought a two-day battle through nearby Markham township during the weekend in manoeuvres designed to test the ability of the Brigade staff to set up wireless communications.

It was a shouting, not a shooting, battle because the Brigade's tanks could not be used over valuable farm land. Light trucks took the place of tanks.

Active army units from Kingston, Camp Borden and Oakville and the Ontario Regiment of Oshawa and the 1st Hussars of London, Ont., joined Toronto units for the exercises, commanded by Brig. G. D. Wotherspoon.

$200 Gift to Schools Band by Rotary Club

Nelson Rotary Club has donated $200 to the Junior and Senior High Schools Band to help purchase music and to carry on their activities in the next year.

Milk Prices Up Cent a Quart From Nov. 1 Here

Milk consumers throughout the Nelson District will be paying a cent a quart more for their milk from Nov. 1 on.

The decision by the District Milk Producers Association hiked the price of quarts to 21 cents. The price of pints will remain the same as before, however, continuing at 11 cents.

Although housewives paid only 10½ cents a quart during the war they were actually paying 14½ cents due to the two cent subsidy to the consumer and a two cent subsidy to the producer, the Association pointed out.

Milk producers have found it necessary to increase the price because of higher costs of feed and hay, while distributor costs have also climbed.

Habitual hoodlums don't start all of the Hallowe'en trouble. It's the "decent" young people.

Dr. Topping advocated youth committees to promote self discipline among potential offenders.

Application for the freedom was made through the Most Worshipful Company of Horners, a city company which formerly dealt in horn drinking glasses. Wilgress became a freeman of the Horners last July.

The city is the oldest part of London and comprises about a square mile of offices in the business and financial centre.

Dr. N. E. Morrison Tells of U. K., European Travels

Doctor N. E. Morrison of Nelson, who recently returned from a trip to England, Scotland and Europe, gave a resume of his travels to the Nelson Rotary Club in the Hume Monday.

Dr. Morrison was most impressed with the people of England, who although they had faced hardships during the many years of war, were still carrying on and could now smile and laugh when they told of the war.

Dr. and Mrs. Morrison flew from Castlegar to Montreal and from there they took a train to Quebec where they spent a day and a half. They then set sail aboard the Empress of Scotland, making the Atlantic crossing in seven days.

They arrived at Liverpool where they spent a day before going on to Dublin. From there they flew to London to visit relatives of Mrs. Morrison in Kent. They also spent 10 days in the city of London visiting most of the spots of interest to tourists.

They then decided to hop across the English Channel to visit Holland, Belgium and France.

From London they flew to Amsterdam, then on to Brussels where they spent several days. On the last lap of their European journey they visited Paris for about five days. A noticeable contrast was seen in the European countries compared with England, he said. The countries looked more prosperous and commodities were not rationed.

From France they returned to England, going on to Glasgow, Scotland, for about a week in the Highlands.

During his travels Dr. Morrison also found time to attend a couple of Rotary Club meetings in the British Isles.

From Scotland the Morrisons returned to South England to begin their trip back home to Canada.

2000 to Attend Hallowe'en Fun

The day that for centuries has captured the imagination of people for centuries with its fanciful witches, ghosts, spirits, and hobgoblins, black cats and pumpkins will be observed with parties and dances in Nelson today.

Upwards of 2000 boys and girls are expected to turn out to the Kinsmen gala party which will feature a giant costumed parade, bonfire, fireworks, bags of candies, a picture show, and teen age dancing. The Nelson Kinsmen will be assisted by other service clubs and organizations.

A colorful masquerade will be held by the Canadian Legion and another at the Eagle Hall. The dance at the Eagle Hall will be in aid of the Canadian Cancer Fund.

The pupils of the Procter High School spent an enjoyable evening at a party in the school.

The early part of the evening included a whist drive. Dean Renzie was highest scorer.

Refreshments were served and later all joined in a sing-song.

Granby Profit Reaches $140,934 In Third Quarter

Although output of the Granby Consolidated Mining, Smelting and Power Co., Ltd., was reduced in August due to the railway strike, operating profit for the company for the third quarter of the year after provisions for taxes of $19,458 was $140,934.

Following further provision of $101,286, for depreciation and depletion, net income for the quarter reached $39,648. Net income for the second quarter of the year was $66,215 and in the corresponding quarter of last year, $137,135.

During the quarter 5,321,560 pounds of copper were recovered from 413,198 tons of ore milled; this compares with 6,429,473 pounds from 448,550 tons milled during the second quarter and with 8,537,752 pounds of copper from 460,089 tons milled during the third quarter of 1949.

RISING DEMAND FOR STEEL IN CANADA

Steel demands in Canada have risen to a record high and Canadian steel manufacturers are not taking any more orders for the remainder of this year, the Northern Miner states in its current issue. Manufacturers are reported to be booked for business until well into the middle of next year.

Booming industrial activities, including some major construction jobs have spoken for the visible steel supplies. It is not thought that defence contracts are consuming any important part of current production.

No letup is evident in the tightening supply situation but so far no government controls have been instituted and no allocation system has been put into effect by the steel industry.

Base Metals Output 3280 Tons in Sept.

During September, the Base Metals Mining Corporation milled a total of 3280 tons of ore from its Monarch and Kicking Horse mines near Kaslo. The company reports that the ore averaged 3.4 per cent lead and 5.42 per cent zinc.

Production amounted to 258.9 tons of 58.4 per cent zinc concentrate and 120 tons of 81.27 per cent lead concentrate shipped to the Trail smelter. Tonnage milled however, was below normal due to a forced curtailment caused by the railway strike.

At the company's Cork-Province mine the 506 West drift in the hanging wall ore zone has now developed a length of 110 feet classed as high grade ore. Sampling of the first 100 feet has averaged 6.5 ounces silver, 9.6 per cent lead, and 7.2 per cent zinc across a width of 10 feet. Drifting to the East is continuing in ore.

Napoleon Is Champ Jumper

CROWLEY, La., Oct. 30 (AP) — A long-legged frog has been acclaimed champion jumper of the world.

The frog—his name is Napoleon because he represented France — won the frog-jumping contest at the International Rice Festival Saturday.

And Napoleon was some jumper though there were bystanders who said he wouldn't have had a chance if Pericles, a former champ, hadn't disqualified himself by jumping backward.

The judges didn't announce just how far Napoleon jumped.

Movie Gossip—

Valentino's Rival Discusses Lovers of Today's Films

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 30 (AP) — Antonio Moreno, a top romantic star of the silent movies, shook his head sadly as he considered the current crop of screen lovers.

"They just don't have it," sighed the Madrid-born actor, still handsome at 63. He is making a comeback to the industry he first joined in 1912.

"The new stars don't have the romantic appeal," he declared. "The real lovers are the more-mature men. Take Charles Boyer, for example. I can see why women would be crazy for him. He has a romantic air about him.

"Clark Gable is another. He is simple and plain-spoken. And the success of Ezio Pinza proves that women go for the man who is mature and polished.

YOUNG KNOW NOUGHT

"The younger stars are all right for the bobby-sox crowd. But they know nothing about how to make love."

Moreno added that the current glamor girls are equally uninspiring.

"The sexiest woman on the screen today is Gloria Swanson," said the actor, who co-starred with her in "My American Wife" in 1923.

"In the silent days, actresses were picked for their sex appeal—with the exception of Lillian Gish and little Mary Pickford. Most of the women on the screen today do not have it."

No modern lover has achieved the fame of Rudolph Valentino, he added. (Valentino got his first break because Moreno was not available for the lead in "The Four Horsemen.")

And Moreno commented that movie love-making is not what it used to be.

"The talkies killed love on the screen," he observed. "The reason is that love is more effective when it is silent. Valentino, Ramon Novarro and I could make a love scene real by our actions alone.

"But when you introduce talk into a love scene, it is dangerous. The things that you say to your lover might sound silly or offensive to someone else."

Foundation of Scouting Belief Is God, Says Dean

"The Scout movement is taking a firm hold on its two principles—belief in God and the democratic rights of freedom," said Very Rev. Dean T. L. Leadbeater in his message to Nelson Scout leaders and committee members Sunday evening in St. Saviour's Pro-Cathedral.

Dean Leadbeater spoke of evidence that the reds had utilized the Scout movement to propagate Communistic ideology and of the rejection of the Communists in the International Conference of Boy Scouts. Despite the influence of communism the greater part of the world had maintained its belief in God, he said.

"We are assured that in the ultimate affairs of the world there is a Creator. Our idea of freedom is ultimately based on the belief in God. Among people who have this belief is the realization that it is the motivated force in any field of our development," Dean Leadbeater said.

Essential in the development of humans was the need for a good and sure foundation. Much of the training in the Scout movement was with the purpose of molding that which was growing up and thus give a good root or foundation for life.

Belief in God was the root or foundation of the Scout movement and so it had spread throughout the world.

"The Christian life of perfect service and perfect sacrifice grows only in the knowledge of the root or foundation. We must remember in teaching young people to point to the Lord and Master which is perfect service and perfect sacrifice," Dean Leadbeater concluded.

The Doctor . . . An Overdose Of Vitamin C

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

As our knowledge grows, we are often required to make new estimates of wel-established practices. One of these which has recently been questioned, concerns our liberal use of vitamin C.

The beneficial effects of this vitamin on connective tissues and bones have been known for a long time. Since citrus fruits, such as oranges, lemons, and limes are known to be rich in vitamin C, their use in the diet has been constantly encouraged.

Recently, however, Dr. Henry Hicks, a Greenwich, Connecticut, dentist, has advanced the opinion that there may be such a thing as a too liberal use of fruits and juices containing vitamin C.

CONNECTIVE TISSUES

He believes that eating such foods in excessive quantities can at times have harmful effects on the connective tissues of the mouth. Among such effects is oversensitivity of the teeth to heat and cold, as well as defects in the enamel of the teeth produced by the action of acid solutions.

A number of cases have been studied over a period of 15 years in patients who habitually drank large quantities of citrus fruit juices. For example, one patient consumed eight ounces of orange juice daily between breakfast and lunch, ate several whole oranges weekly, as well as fruit salads containing oranges and grapefruit. This patient's diet, in general, was a well-balanced one supplying all the necessary vitamins and minerals, as well as other food parts. The patient complained of a burning sensation in the gums which were found to be swollen, red, and puffy. The gums bled easily on slight pressure or brushing. The teeth were over-sensitive.

In treating this patient, citrus fruits were eliminated from the diet competely for one month and large quantities of cabbage, green peppers and other vegetables rich in vitamin C were substituted. By the end of the first two weeks, the redness, swelling, puffiness, and bleeding of the gums had disappeared. At the end of 30 days the mouth tissues had returned to normal and the oversensitivity of the teeth had cleared up.

Royalty's Favorite

Hartnell

By PRUNELLA WOOD

It doesn't seem that it was over 10 years ago that Queen Elizabeth of England visited our shores and made a hit with crowds in this country and in Canada. Everyone liked her clothes, and suffered with her sunburn, and, in general, admired Royalty. They wondered, too, how she happened to wear so much fox fur and marveled that it became her so well. Over here, shortish women who are a little bit plump avoid fox in favor of smooth furs. A British designer named Norman Hartnell, who is well-known over here, advised the fur to Her Majesty, but you can see that it is not restricted to her. Above is a wonderful ball gown from his current collection in London, for any lady to buy, and a dark lime velvet coat with red fox fur covering it. The gown is pale lime satin with trimming from bodice top to hem of embroidery with paillettes, cabochon mock gems, and velvet appliques.

PERSONAL PROBLEM FOR MOCH BEHIND QUESTION OF GERMAN RE-ARMAMENT

PARIS, Oct. 30 (AP) —France trusts to high-tempered, hard-drivingDefence Minister Jules Moch to pull the country out of the worst diplomatic pickle it has been in since the war.

In Washington to attend the conference of Atlantic Pact members, the 57-year-old Moch is in the hard position of being at least slightly out of step with all the other 11 ministers. The other 11 want a lot of German forces formed to help defend Western Europe against Russia. France doesn't want that, at least not right away.

Moch, in his personal make-up, is somewhat like France on the question. He knows that from strictly a defence standpoint, Europe must mobilize Germans in any army it sets up. But Moch can't forget that during the war the German Gestapo trapped his son, who was in the Resistance, ond shot him.

The American position is that solution of the German problem is the most important before the world today. The West can't talk hard sense to Russia until there is enough military strength to back up the diplomats. Right now, Russia can enforce any decision it wants to make by rolling its armies all over Europe. The idea is to build up an army in the West during the next two years to change that.

With that outline, Moch and the French government agree, in general. But the U. S. wants a basic agreement reached right away about bringing Germans into play in the defence of Europe. American generals figure that it will be at least 18 months and perhaps two years before any German outfits can be recruited and trained. And they want to set the machinery going now.

That is where the clash comes.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Thorpe Celebrate 45th Wedding Anniversary Today

Forty-five years of happy wedded life will be celebrated in Nelson today by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Thorpe. Forty-two of the 45 years have been spent in Nelson.

Residents of 1112 Beatty Avenue in Fairview, where they have lived for 20 years, Mr. and Mrs. Thorpe are well known in the City. They came directly to Nelson from Yorkshire, England in 1908. Mr. Thorpe was the first to come West while his wife followed him a year later.

Sweethearts since childhood—"and we are yet", said Mrs. Thorpe Monday—they were married in Yorkshire, England, Oct. 31, 1905. Both Mr. and Mrs. Thorpe were born in Yorkshire where they grew up together.

Mrs. Thorpe was an active member of the Nelson Women's Institute until a few years ago and also took part in the work of the Methodist Church. She had been associated with the Institute since shortly after coming to Nelson.

RETIRES

Mr. Thorpe, just a few months ago retired from the T. H. Waters and Co. Ltd., with whom he had been employed for over 30 years. He now spends his time "fishing, and enjoying life", his wife says. Since retiring, he has also taken up gardening for the first time and is "making a good job of it."

Before coming to Nelson from England, Mrs. Thorpe was a singer and taught school for some years.

It will be a family get-together for the Thorpes as well. Mrs. Thorpe's brother, E. S. Pounder of Nelson, attended their wedding in Yorkshire, England, 45 years ago and this year will be on hand to help celebrate the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Thorpe have two children, a son, Berthram Thorpe, a trapper near Nakusp, and Mrs. J. E. Marquis in Nelson. They have also two grandsons, John and Donald and a granddaughter Patricia.

They Join Fall Newlyweds

Among the newly-married host of this Fall, which, next to Spring, is supposed to be the popular wedding season, are Mr. and Mrs. Guston Balahura, young Nelson couple. Kelowna Festival Attracts 7000, Rotarians Told

The outstanding program put on at Kelowna recently by the residents of the Okanagan Valley for their second annual international festival of folklore dancing and singing, was outlined to the Nelson Rotary Club at their meeting in the Hume Monday by Harry D. Harrison, Governor of District 153 of Rotary International.

The program was inaugurated a year ago as a means of developing a greater international understanding between the people from foreign lands residing in the Okanagan Valley.

Last year's program was so successful that it was decided to hold the festival two days this year instead of just one.

7000 ATTEND

Staged in the Kelowna arena, the colorful program attracted over 7000 Valley residents to both performances which included about six hours of entertainment each night.

Over 400 residents of the surrounding Valley participated in the festival which featured songs and dances from 22 different countries throughout the world. Performers were dressed in the native costumes of each country represented.

This year's festival celebrated the fifth anniversary of the founding of the United Nations organization and was sponsored by the Kelowna Rotary Club.

Mr. Harrison, District Governor and Past President of the Nelson Club, was official representative from Rotary International at the festival.

10-Year-Old Writes Guide to Adults

By GENE KRAMER

BERKELEY, Calif., Oct. 30 (AP) —Many a youngster has complained about grown-ups, but few ever did anything about it until Jill Owsley came along.

At the age of 10, this neat, brown-haired girl amazed her mother by scribbling outspoken child's-eye-views of her elders.

Now, two years later, Jill, who lives in a modest but comfortable attic apartment with her mother, Mrs. Alice Owsley, is awaiting royalties from her first book.

Titled "A Handy Guide to Grown-Ups," it is a collection of her opinions on what makes grown-ups tick and how kids can get along with them.

Jill — short for Jennifer — started writing, her mother said, because "she thought she'd had a pushing around from the adults in her life.

"She saw all the books on child care I was reading and decided children needed a handbook worse than adults.

"When she was annoyed, she'd write something. Often she'd cross it out later. The book is what is left."

A SAMPLE

One of the gems it contains:

"Hardly any mothers will stop talking (on the telephone) until you bother them quite a lot. I think it is perfectly fair to bother them as much as you have to. After all, they can call their friends back after you have to be in bed. Some of the ways to bother them are: going upstairs and calling them, starting downstairs without any coat on . . ."

On the jacket, Random House suggests the book is hilarious for adults and definitely of the "let's-be-sure-to-keep-this-from-the kids" type.

But, Jill insists, "the publishers misunderstood. It's for kids. Of course, I guess there are more grown-ups than kids and they had to make money. Kids don't have as much money as grown-ups."

MOTHER IS TYPIST

Jill had strong feelings on grown-ups. She wrote them down and had her mother type them. After appearing in Parents' Magazine, they were printed in book form.

Jill wants to be a writer or a psychiatrist but frankly hasn't started thinking about courses to take or what college she'll attend.

As for the book, it is hard to believe that statements like "to understand adults you need to understand a little about the way they think about money," could be written by a 12-year-old without help from her mother, or an editor.

But both publisher and mother insist the work is all her own, and the spectacled young lady makes statesments just as candid in normal conversation—like "people you meet camping are different from those in motor courts."

The first successful American gasoline automobile is credited to Charles Duryea in 1892.

EAST ZONE POLIS FLEE TO WEST

These two pictures graphically illustrate the escape of two Communist police-soldiers from the Soviet zone of Berlin to the U.S. sector, where they gave themselves up and will join other refugees from Soviet-controlled areas in a camp established by the West Berlin city government. The two police-soldiers, whose names cannot be used because their families still live in the Russian zone, had approached a passerby who notified a West police patrol and the surrender was arranged. Left, two men, their eyes etched out to prevent recognition, approach the U.S. sector and are questioned by patrol units. At the approach of Russian patrols, the two literally run for their lives, right while a border guard peers over his shoulder. They made the West police station, around the corner, safely.

Wanted, More Space for Visitors To London's Festival of Britain

By EDWIN S. JOHNSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—The problem of how to cope with the influx of visitors to the Festival of Britain next year, has provoked a major headache for those responsible for accommodation and traffic control.

Officials of the British Travel and Holiday Association estimate at least 700,000 overseas visitors will come to London in the festival year. Several times that number is expected from other parts of the United Kingdom and Eire.

Based on this rough estimate, accommodation officials say that transient lodgings will have to be found every night for about 100,000 people. To meet this need London hotels can take care of only about 13,000.

To bridge the gap Londoners, with any space to spare, are being asked to open their homes to visitors unable to obtain accommodation in hotels or rooming houses. Many prospective tourists have already written in commending the idea. Several other schemes have been nsuggested. One being seriously considered calls for the mooring of ocean liners in some convenient reach of the Thames River, to be used as floating-hotels. A similar plan was operated successfully for visitors attending the Olympic Games in 1948.

Lodgings in houseboats, barges and caravans have been offered and organizers are also studying the possibilities of setting up dormitory facilities under canvas on a 40-acre scenic spot in the outskirts of London.

BIG TRAFFIC PROBLEMS

But accommodation difficulties, says Sir Harold Scott, Commissioner of Metropolitan Police, are nothing compared with the traffic problems that will arise. Even with all the improvements planned, including construction of a temporary bridge across the Thames, widening of some streets and diversion of traffic from normally-congested areas, traffic regulation, he believes, will prove an enormous task.

"It is a problem which is altogether unlike anything that has hitherto fallen to the police in the field of traffic or crowd control," he said.

What is mainly worrying the authorities is the acute day-to-day parking congestion in almost every area of Central London. A ban on parking in the busier districts has eliminated certain serious obstructions. But this has been achieved only at the cost of choking useful secondary roads with the displaced traffic.

As a possible solution, Sir Harold has urged reconsideration of plans prepared in 1938 for construction of huge underground parking centres at strategic points throughout the city. Such a scheme, however, would entail an outlay runing into millions of dollars. And even if approved, planning authorities doubt if work on so vast a project could be completed in time to ease the expected festival traffic crush.

Oil Boom Means Easy Gold For Alberta Sourdough

DEVON, Alta. (CP) — Alberta's rivers are still singing the songs of the sourdoughs and Thomas Staley says it beats everything.

The way Staley pans gold today everything pans out fine, because he's virtuall got the Alberta Government working for him.

A little guy with a battered hat on the back of his head and a bit of graying bristle on the chin, the 64-year-old sourdough will shift his chaw of "bacca and tell you he pans gold the same way they did 50 years ago—but he has a new twist of his own.

He has two spots on the North Saskatchewan River in this Leduc oil country. Six others are working the waters thereabouts but Staley has the spot where the Government is building a bridge to replace the historic Devon ferry, overworked by the oil boom.

PICKS IT UP

Gravel for the bridge construction is washed right at the site and a long flume carries the water back to the river. Staley has lined the flume with 20 feet of blanket. All he has to do is drop around every once in a while and pick up the pretty gold particles left on the blanket.

At the other location he has a mud box, 20 inches wide and four feet long, with blankets on the bottom and a screen on the top. He shovels sand into it and a one-horsepower motor pumps water from the river to wash it. He catches the gold particles on the blanket.

It takes a lot of shovelling at this spot but the stuff he sends to Vancouver assay office brings $28 an ounce and he clears about $6 a day. He splits with the gravel people his take from the flume.

Old Tom, who got his first touch of gold fever on the Fraser River, has been working the North Saskatchewan "for nigh on 16 years."

Canada Cancels Appointment of Warsaw Attache

OTTAWA, Oct. 30 (CP) — After weeks of negotiations, Canada has given up trying to get a new Canadian military attache into Communist-run Poland, it was disclosed today.

A spokesman for the External Affairs Department said he was authorized to reply to a reporter's query that "no Canadian military attache will be sent to Warsaw at this time."

There was no elaboration, but the inevitable conclusion was that the Poles have refused to budge from their refusal to allow Lt.-Col. H. A. (Buster) Phillips of Kingston, Ont., to go to Warsaw.

The Poles said they have no military attache here and thus Canada has no right to one in Warsaw. Canada's reply was that Col. Phillips was simply replacing Lt.-Col. E. W. Cutbill who was recalled. The argument has been going on since early September.

The Army said Col. Phillips has been ordered home from London where he has been awaiting orders while diplomatic negotiations continued. He will be posted to another job on his return.

Coal Dispute Turns To Strike in Mine

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., Oct. 30 (CP) — Operations at Lethbridge Collieries' No. 8 mine stopped today as a simmering dispute about the handpushing of coal cars boiled over and more than 300 miners stayed away from work.

Clemens Pirock, Secretary of Local 7302, United Mine Workers of America, said the miners decided on the action at a meeting Sunday as the only way to bring the mine management to terms.

More than 300 mine employees, including maintenance men, remained home from work. Only company officials are at the mine, Pirock stated.

The dispute arose over a clause in the wage contract stating the pushing of cars to the coal face by miners was to halt when mechanical means were proven economical.

Pirock stated the company has made no effort to install mechanical delivery and the miners are refusing "to do a horse out of a job." The dispute first began a week ago.

The contract men claim they lose an average of an hour and a half a day by pushing cars when they could be mining coal.

Other miners, working at a daily wage rate, continued to produce around 300 tons of coal a day.

1,100,000 Visitors This Year—And We Can Keep Them Coming

British Columbia's Government Travel Bureau, according to a dispatch from Victoria, has set the number of this Province's tourist visitors so far in 1950 at an estimated 1,100,000.

The fact that activity at Kootenay border ports, for the most part, outpaced those of the previous year, and ferry traffic figures indicate that this District, along with the rest of the Province, had another record tourist year.

Up to Sept. 30, official records show, 186,135 cars entered the Province on travellers' permits, a new high record, and an increase of 5809 over last year.

Tourist officials say there is an average of 3.4 persons per car, which gives a total of 662,000 people coming into the Province in automobiles.

Car travel amounts to between 60 per cent and 62 per cent of the visitors, officials estimate; the remainder come by boat, train and plane.

On this basis the total travel into the Province slightly tops the 1,100,000 mark, which is equal to the whole population of B. C.

Only in January and May were car travel totals lower than last year. September hit an all-time high for the month with 27,002 cars, an increase of 1663.

Publicity campaigns by the Province and by cities and Boards of Trade, improved resort facilities, better access to fishing and hunting, and better highways are credited by Trades and Industries Minister Leslie Eyres with maintaining the tourist trade that has boomed increasingly in every postwar year. If such increases can be gained by these means, here, then, is argument enough to bend every effort to still greater improvements.

Need More Gold to Back Increased Trade

The Times of London has developed the idea that Britain should have four times as much gold, or $10 billion, and the world twice as much, or $70 billions. It is an idea that is of interest in the Kootenay, where gold mines have shown little activity when compared to prewar days.

International Monetary Fund figures show that world trade has increased from $47 billion in 1938 to $119 billion in 1949. This is 154 per cent. The Fund's figures show that monetary gold holdings (except Russia) have gone up in the same time from $26.5 billion to only $34.2 billion, or 30 per cent. As trade is the great measurer of all financial transactions it follows, as The Times has reasoned, that the gold supply should be $70 billion.

The amount coming out of the mines is woefully inadequate, after hoarding and industry take their pieces. In the three years 1947-8-9 the increase in monetary stocks (except Russia) is only $1635 million, or $545 million a year. (U.S. Treasury officials calculate it at only $440 million a year out of a production of $800 million a year.) Since the war, the world's production has increased by only 10 per cent.

Obviously, there just isn't enough gold available or being produced. Equally obviously, the solution is in better conditions for gold mining so that the industry can operate profitably under present-day conditions of high material and labor costs.

Recalls Col. Wright With 54th, But Not C.O.

To the Editor:

Sir—In your issue of the 25th, is a news item from Vancouver announcing the death of Colonel J. C. Wright, stating that he served overseas as commanding officer of the 54th Kootenay Battalion at Vimy Ridge.

Evidently this is an error, for the commanding officer of the 54th Battalion at the Battle of Vimy Ridge, April 8, 1917, was Lt. Col. V. V. Harvey, D.S.O.

Here are the names of the commanding officers of the 54th Battalion, C.E.F., from its inception to the time of its demobilization in June, 1919.

Lt. Col. Mahlon Davis, 1915; Lt. Col. A. G. H. Kemball, C.B., D.S.O., 1915-17; Lt. Col. V. V. Harvey, D.S.O., 1917; Lt. Col. A. B. Carey, C.M.G., D.S.O., 1917-1919.

Major H. B. Hicks was Acting Colonel during the absence of Col. Carey, wounded in 1917. Lt. Col. Wright was attached to the Battalion for a period in 1917, but not as its commanding officer.

Secretary, 54th Battalion Association.

Questions Difference In Coast, Kootenay Gasoline Prices

To the Editor:

Sir—We note in your paper that the price of gasoline will not be lowered in the Kootenays. Can you tell us the reason for this? Also, why is the price of gasoline in West Kootenay to be 11 cents higher than at the Coast? Surely the freight on a gallon of gasoline can't be as high as 11 cents.

Portrait of a Child

I saw a portrait of a child this day,
Kneeling by his bed, head bowed in prayer,
A look of rapt belief upon his face,
A smile that only faith could have put there.

A golden spaniel lay against his feet,
Waiting for the time when he should rise
And pat him lovingly upon the head,
Then climb between the sheets and close his eyes.

The Angels up in Heaven looking down
Shall hear the prayer said by a little boy,
And promise that his waking love shall find
Another day, crammed full of love and joy.

"LIFE" OF MR. KING

We may hope that in time a complete biography will be written, revealing not only much that was widely known about Mackenzie King, but also about the principal political figures of his time, Canadian and non-Canadian.

Our country has not been lucky in the biographies which have been written of its great men, and it is a sad fact that the publication of the memoirs of a Canadian statesman is not often a profitable venture. However, we must persevere, for the time will come when our population is large enough to make such books not only necessary, but necessary in considerable numbers.—Peterborough Examiner.

Today's Bible Thought

Some imagine that security from the cradle to the grave can be attained through some magical formula. A man should have as much foresight as a squirrel.—He that gathereth in Summer is a wise son. —Prov. 10:5.

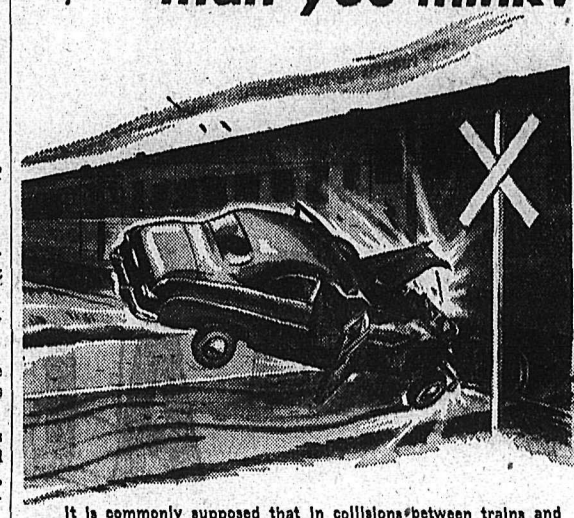
Trains travel faster than you think!



It is commonly supposed that in collisions between trains and motor vehicles at railway crossings it is the train which strikes the motor car. Reports to the Board of Transport Commissioners for Canada covering the 12-month period ended June 30, however, reveal that of the 443 accidents occurring in that period, nearly a quarter of them resulted from the motor vehicle—ranging from sleek sedans to modest farm trucks and even motorcycles—striking the side of the locomotive or train. Cases were reported in which the motor vehicle struck the train as far back as five cars behind the engine. One of the reasons for this apparent anomaly is the fact, well supported by scientific tests, that trains travel faster than the motorist can estimate within the few seconds allowed him. It is safer to give the train the benefit of the doubt.

Churchill Says Dieppe Sacrifices Not in Vain

MONTREAL, Oct. 30 (CP)—Results of the August, 1942, raid on Dieppe were disappointing and costly, but the operation proved a "mine of experience" and the sacrifice of Canadian troops was "not in vain," in the opinion of Winston Churchill.

The wartime British Prime Minister's views are set forth in his war history appearing in the Montreal Standard, a section this week devoted to Dieppe.

The raid was primarily a Canadian show. In it were 5000 Canadian troops, some United States Rangers and Royal Marine Commandos and a few Free French troops. All were under Maj.-Gen. J. H. Roberts of Kingston, Ont.

Bad weather interfered with the first planned operation—for July 4 and Gen. Montgomery, Commander in Chief of the Southern Command, thought the operation should not be remounted as the troops, embarked in the Isle of Wight, had dispersed ashore.

But Churchill considered it "most important that a large-scale operation should take place this Summer and the chief of the imperial general staff stated that until an operation on that scale was undertaken. No responsible general would take the responsibility of planning for the main invasion."

Churchill says that in discussion with Admiral Mountbatten, the chief of combined operations, it became clear that time did not permit of a new large-scale operation during the Summer, but Dieppe could be remounted within a month. The code name was changed from butter to jubilee.

NO BIG CHANGE

No substantial change was suggested beyond substituting commands for airborne troops to silence coastal batteries. Two more infantry landing ships had become available to carry the commandos. Omission of airborne troops meant that bad weather would not be a top factor.

The Germans had no special warning through leakages, but their general estimate of the threat to the Dieppe sector "led to an intensification of defence measures along the whole front" especially during periods when moon and tide were favorable for landings.

"The Canadian Army in Britain had long been eager and impatient for action and the main part of the landing force was provided by them," says Churchill.

"Although the utmost gallantry and devotion were shown by all the troops and by the British commandos and by the landing craft and their escorts, and many splendid deeds were done, the results were negligible and the casualties were very heavy.

"In the Canadian 2nd Division 18 per cent of the 5000 men embarked lost their lives and nearly 2000 of them were taken prisoner.

"Looking back, the casualties of this memorable action seem out of proportion to the results. It would be a costly but not unfruitful reconnaissance in force. Tactically it was a mine of experience."

He was one of the three founders of Blue Cross in B. C. six years ago and served this organization as secretary.

Lanky Len Bicknell, the jovial defenceman who coached the Leafs in 1947, will be at the helm of the Maple Leafs tonight, when Spokane Flyers come to town for their second performance here. Eddie Wares was called back to Calgary when his father died Sunday.

Art Griffis, a rookie centreman from Port Arthur, will likely be in action tonight. Griffis and another rookie, Jim Fiddler, a Fort William defenceman, arrived in town Sunday and worked out with the Leafs Monday. The pair had gone to Kerrisdale for a tryout but apparently didn't like the setup, and left, although Griffis was supposed to play for the Kerries Friday night against Kimberley.

Griffis stated, however, that they had only been on ice about four or five times since the close of the Minneapolis Millers' training camp.

SPEED LINE

In the meantime, Roy Allen has moved in to work with Bill Haldane and Joe Zuback, and it will likely be Haldane who will centre this trio of speed demons against Spokane tonight. Although it isn't known who will sit out the game. Griffis at practice centred Ernie Gare and Conny McBeth. Johnny Fargher has been unable to attend the last two Leaf workouts, so may be sitting this one out.

Jim Drew, who rode the bench for the Nelson-Trail game last Saturday, will be back in action with Wares away.

We may be able to find out a little about possible replacements coming to Spokane. Manager Roy McBride and coach Scoop Bentley were looking for a portsider and a defenceman when the Flyers play-their only other game here, but since then they've lost the services of ac ecentreman Roy McBride who is mending a broken arm.

Previously the Flyers were interested in leftwinger Mickey Maglio, the Nelson product who is presently under the New York Rover wing, along with another Nelsonite Lee Hyssop.

BRODA IN GROOVE

The fabulous fatman Turk Broda ran up quite a scoreless string of hockey. The aging Leaf goalie, who is splitting the games with Al Rollins who played here with the Allan Cup Edmonton Flyers, racked up three consecutive shutouts ond a skein of 245 minutes, 33 seconds without allowing a goal. Alex Connell established the all-time NHL record of consecutive shutouts with six in a row in 1928-29 playing for the Ottawa Senators.

Just landed upon Rudy Pilous' name as the coach of the St. Catharines Teepees of the International Amateur Hockey League. "The Deacon" played for Nelson at the time that the Nelson Civic Centre was opened, in the '35-36 season. Since then he has done considerable coaching and scouting for pro clubs.

The Calgary Stampeders of the WCHL recently signed a pair of reinstated pros 22-year-old Ken Simpson and 31-year-old Norm Larsen, both rightwingers. While Simpson was with Seattle last yeor, Larsen played his last four seasons with Hershey Bears of the AHL, and was named to a couple of the League all-star clubs. He had also played in the big top with New York Americans.

Recently Frank McCool, sports editor of the Calgary Albertan, stated that he would come out of retirement. But instead of playing goal, which brought him NHL fame with the Toronto Maple Leafs, he said, he'd turn out on the Stampeder blueline. Apparently anyone would be an improvement to the Stamp blueline brigade.

Biggest Kootenay Rainbow in 10 Years Taken by Nelson Angler

Carlo Arcuri was probably the happiest fisherman in town Monday when he returned from one of his weekend fishing jaunts on the main lake—and he had a good reason to be. He caught a near 25 pound Kamloops trout and a seorch of the records proved it to be the biggest recorded catch in ten seasons.

Although the going was tough and the Kootenay Lake water rough Sunday afternoon, Mr. Arcuri, with the help of Tany Romano and Clarence Westwood, landed the monster after a rugged battle.

Asked if the fish put up much of a fight, his reply was: "I'll tell the world."

The angler worked the rod and reel for half an hour before the fish slackened its tugging and jolting.

Mr. Arcuri landed the Kamloops at Woodbury Creek, just past Ainsworth using a No. 5 Gibbs lure.

Earlier in the day he lost a smaller fish but the 25-pounder made up to all the ones that ever got away.

An ardent angler, Mr. Arcuri has luck on nearly every trip, he said Monday. All during October the big ones have been biting.

The trout is at present on display in a downtown meat market window on Baker Street.

BEST SINCE '41

Records of trout derby catches since 1941 show that Mr. Arcuri's catch has topped them all. The largest fish hooked in 1941 was a 26 pound, four ounces by Lorenzo Sammartino of Trail, The next largest, that of W. C. McDonald of Nelson, caught in 1945, tipped the scales at 23 pounds, 14 ounces.

Other catches were Capt. J. A. McDonald of Nelson, 23 pounds, 12 ounces in 1942; R. D. Hickey of Nelson, 19 pounds six ounces in 1943; Pete Osbey of Queen's Bay, 23 pounds six ounces in 1944; Percy Boffey of Creston, 23 pounds six ounces in 1946; William C. McDonald of Nelson, 22 pounds, eight ounces in 1947; George Donaldson of Procter, p1 pounds eight ounces in 1948 and Len Smith of Kaslo, 20 pounds 12 ounces in 1949.

The rainbow was not only the biggest catch in that period but is also the largest for Mr. Arcuri in his many years at the sport. He felt that it was "good experience" and will be out trying to top the ten-year record with another catch.

King Wants Fling, So He's for Sale

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30 (AP)—Anybody want to buy a fighter who is confident he can beat lightweight champion Ike Williams?

If so. Williams' manager has one for sale. Sound funny, Williams' manager selling the contract of a fighter who thinks he can lick the 135-pound champion?

Well, Frank (Blinky) Palermo, manager of titleholder Williams wants to peddle his rights to Li'l Arthur King of Toronto, British Empire lightweight champion. This would give King his long-awaited a chance against Williams.

The law prohibits matches between boxers under the same manager. So Palermo is willing to step aside to give King his opportunity. Actually he doesn't think King has a change against Williams.

"Ike and Arthur aren't in love with each other," Palermo said. "Even if they were, Ike would try to knock him out. He'd knock out his grandmother if she stood in his way. I'll bet on Williams if the two meet."

Palermo concedes a Williams-King bout might be looked on with suspicion by many fans and some boxing commissions.

"But what can a guy do to stop it?" Palermo asks. "King thinks I've been holding him back and making him take unimportant fights and small purses, while Ike was getting all the breaks.

"I told him last Winter that whenever I thought he was ready for Ike, I'd get out of his way by selling his contract. I still don't think he's ready, but he's itchng to break loose."

Under Palermo's management, King has won 28 of 29 fights. He is slated to meet Rudy Cruz of California here Nov. 13.

The consensus among local fight experts is that King hasn't a chance against Williams. But the experts have been wrong before. King asks only one thing, "give me a chance to prove they're wrong."

Rickey Looking For Berth

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 30 (AP) — Branch Rickey, known as a shrewd manipulator of the dollar, said today he is open to any "firm" baseball offer but that money isn't the important thing.

The unemployed wizard said he may not want to be as active as he has been in the past "and I might not want as many responsibilities."

The 69-year-old Rickey, who sold his interest in Brooklyn Dodgers for more than $1,000,000 last week, said baseball is still a big challenge to him.

Has he had any definite offers?

"Yes," Rickey replied. "But terms and conditions have not been discussed."

Churchill's Racer Has Victory Habit

By BEN PHLEGAR

LONDON, Oct. 30 (AP)—"Win with Winnie" was a money-making slogan at English race courses this year.

Thousands of race-goers followed the lead of Winston Churchill, the wartime Prime Minister, and his one winning horse.

And when Churchill showed up at the tracks—his fingers raised in his famous "V for Victory" salute—the money went down on Colonist II.

Usually it was like money in the bank. The good grey colt — a French-bred four-year-old—started 11 times and won eight races, the last six in a row.

Churchill's purse winnings off the dappled grey were £7202 (about $20,000).

Churchill had never paid any noticeable attention to racing until he bought Colonist II in France in August, 1949, for 1500 guineas.

"It was just a whim," a friend explained and nobody here thought much about it.

But the horse won the first time it ran in England. It won the second time out, too.

Then it came in for its share of political jokes by running wide on its first look at a track with left hand turns. (On some English race courses the horses run to the right, on others they run to the left).

With so much political talk about the "right" and the "left" Colonist II got a lot of publicity by refusing to turn left.

This year the colt was brought along carefully and a victory in the Jockey Cup late in October climaxed a successful season.

Colonist II now will be pointed for next season's Gold Cup at Ascot, one of the few races in which it failed in 1950.

Churchill has followed Colonist II faithfully, often flying from important political conferences in time to see his pride run in his colors of pink and chocolate.

Churchill later bought two other thoroughbred racers. One died without winning a race; the other, a filly, is still a maiden.

Tough Field On Snead's Trail

PINEHURST, N.C., Oct. 30 (AP)—A formidable field of efficient pros and amateurs formed today to chase down Samuel Jackson Snead in the North and South Open golf tournament.

Jack Grout, bespectacled professional playing out of Columbus, Ohio, shot a three-under-par 69 today to lead the qualifying field.

Grout put together nines of 35-34 to lead the 133-man field by one stroke. Back of him came Bill Goldbeck, professional from Mt. Kisco, N.Y., and Charles C. (Chuck) Klein, San Antonio, Texas, pro, who both posted 33-37—70.

Only three others managed to break par. They were Fairly Clark of Fort Bragg, N.C., 34-37—71; Johnny Weitzel, Harrisburg, Pa., 33-38—71; and Michael Krak, Cleveland, 35-36—71.

Stan Horne, Montreal pro, shot a 38-35—73.

Fifty players made the grade with a qualifying limit of 76.

Because of the big field, officials increased from 30 to 50 the places for the non-invited entries in the tournament proper starting tomorrow. The low 50 from today's field of 135 will be joined tomorrow by 60 who were not required to qualify.

Eighteen-hole rounds for the next four days will decide the $7500 event, which carries $1500 top money.

Snead, the year's top money winner from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., automatically fell into the role as favorite. His 274 here last year was only three strokes beyond the tournament record.

From a Long Line Of Tree Planters

One of the many Royal traditions in England is that Royalty shall plant a tree at Balliol, and if possible smile in public. Both customs were upheld by Princess Margaret, shown smiling enchantingly during her first official visit to Oxford University. She planted a mulberry tree in the garden quadrangle, to keep company with other mulberries planted by predecessors.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Calgary Livestock

CALGARY, Oct. 30 (CP) — The livestock market opened fairly active today and early sales looked about steady with last week's close. Some classes may have difficulty in holding the line, however, because of moderately heavy receipts.

There was a good demand for stocker and feeder cattle at steady prices. Choice animals remained scarce.

Sales for last week totalled 5201 cattle, 2365 calves, 1220 hogs and 434 sheep. In the same week a year ago sales were: 6927 cattle, 1306 calves, 1217 hogs and 495 sheep.

Hogs closed last week at $27.25; sows $19.75. Good lambs brought $25.50 and good ewes $13.50.

Good butcher steers 26.00 to 27.00, common to medium 22.00 to 25.50.

Good butcher heifers 24.50 to 25.50, common to medium 21.00 to 24.00. Good cows 18.50 to 19.25, common to medium 17.00 to 18.25, canners and cutters 13.50 to 16.50. Good bulls 21.00 to 21.75, common to medium 18.00 to 20.50. Good to choice veal calves 27.00 to 29.00. Common to medium 20.00 to 26.50. Good stocker and feeder steers 25.50 to 26.50. Common to medium 20.00 to 25.00.

Market Trends

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP)—Persistent selling undermined an early market rise today and dropped most leaders into losing ground.

Declines ranged from a few cents to about $2 a share. The session picked up speed on the downside, with transfers running about 2,000,000 shares.

Canadian issues climbed, paced by mines, with McIntyre up ⅝ and Dome Mines ⅛, Hiram Walker was up ⅛ and Distillers Seagrams down ⅛. Canadian Pacific dropped ⅜. International Nickel was unchanged.

TORONTO (CP) — Industrials climbed strongly for the third straight session today.

Gains more than doubled losses to put the industrial index just about back to where it was before the heavy losses in the middle of last week. Volume was about 2,150,000 shares.

Papers headed by Abitibi led the list with nearly every paper in the plus column. Steels, utilities, agricultures, constructions, foods, refining oils, banks and manufacturing companies showed a majority of gains. The rest of the board was fairly mixed.

MONTREAL (CP) — Securities moved strongly ahead today and trading remained moderately active.

The market opened firm and moved steadily higher. Near the close many leaders registered advances ranging to more than a point. There were some weak spots.

A wide list of plus signs dominated the industrial section and a fairly large list held unchanged.

Mines moved irregularly higher in a narrow path, while Western oils were a shade easier. There were no features.

LONDON (Reuters)—A premium of three points was established by Imperial Tobacco stocks when the issue was introduced today. Trading was active and the opening level of 3½ points premium exceeded the most optimistic forecasts. Issue price of the stock was 99.

Markets generally were quiet and with a slightly easier trend. Operators were awaiting the end of the trading period, last day tomorrow, and the speech from the Throne at the re-opening of Parliament.

VIOLAMAC MILL TO BE READY IN THREE WEEKS

The new mill constructed at the Violamac Mines (B. C.) at Sandon is expected to be ready for operation in three weeks.

Gross output of the mine in September was $45,816 from 202 tons of ore which was an average of $226.81 per ton. However, with the new mill high grade shipments will be increased in November. The long drive on the 700-foot level is 300 feet from its objective at present.

Restore BWI Market To Canadian Trade

OTTAWA, Oct. 30 (CP) — The British West Indies market, severely curtailed by dollar import restrictions, will be partially restored to Canadian exporters January 1.

The Trade Department today announced that through a dollar liberalization agreement, completed after months of negotiation, the B.W.I. colonies will cut controls to allow for an increased flow of Canadian goods.

On some goods, import licences will be granted to a minimum of 50 per cent o fthe value of Canadian exports to B.W.I. during the period 1946-47-48. On other goods, the minimum will be 33 1-3 per cent, or one third of the shipments in the 1946-48 period, considered a peak in Canada-B.W.I. exports.

The B.W.I. agrees to again open the doors to such items as apples, dairy products, fish and paper, banned during the last few months.

Trade Minister Howe said the step is "particularly gratifying."

"The way has been opened, but energetc sales efforts by Canadian exporters will still be required to ensure that full advantage is taken of the opportunities provided."

Under the dollar liberalization agreement, developed under the approving eye of the former chancellor of the British exchequer, Sir Stafford Cripps, the B.W.I. colonies also will ease restrictions to imports from the United States.

The colonies concerned are Jamaica, Trinidad, Barbados, British Guiana, British Honduras, Leeward Islands, Windward Islands and the Bahamas.

The minimum of one-third will apply on such items as canned fruits and vegetables, breakfast and prepared foods, leather, apples, rubber and metal products, as well as a host of other goods such as electrical apparatus, chemicals and liquor.

Licences amounting to one-half of the exporter's base-period shipments will be granted on meats, canned fish, dairy products, lumber and wood products, papers, chemical fertilizers and feed.

Other goods may be added from time to time. The program will come under review next June when further adjustment may be made.

Red Empire Built on Strength of Underground Fifth Column Works

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press News Analyst

The United States is employing one of her earliest defences against Communism in joining five other United Nation members to label Fifth-Column aggression as among "the gravest of all crimes against peace and security throughout the world."

A resolution to this effect has been placed before the Assembly's Political Committee in answer to the Russian peace project calling for armaments reduction and branding as a war criminal the first Government to use the atomic bomb.

The grouping of the bomb with Fifth-Column activities may seem far-fetched at first blush. However, the Fifth Column is by far the most powerful weapon in the Soviet armory. The Red Empire is built largely on the strength of these underground works.

One of the earliest of the world's statesmen to recognize the dangers of the Fifth Column, and to take action against it, was Franklin D. Roosevelt.

In 1933, Roosevelt invited Russia to confer on recognition. The Russians responded by sending Foreign Minister Maxim Litvinoff. Conference with the President resulted in agreement and formal recognition was extended.

READ RIOT ACT

However, before agreement was reached, the President read the Riot Act to Litvinoff and exacted sweeping pledges from him. The Foreign Minister guaranteed that his Embassy in Washington would refrain from propaganda against the social or political order in the U. S. and would restrain any agency, under direct or indirect Soviet control, from interfering in American internal affairs.

Well, things ostensibly quieted down for a while. The Soviet Union joined the League of Nations in 1934. The Communist International —or General Staff for world revolution—shifted the character of its propaganda in many countries. Radical revolutionary demands were shoved into the background, and the Communists sought "alliances" with Socialists and other political parties.

Then in 1939 came another radical change. Litvinoff, advocate of collective security, was relieved of his post as Foreign Minister and dropped into obscurity, Molotov, hard-boiled old Bolshevist, took over.

Communism was on the warpath in full strength again. Fifth Columns were working overtime. Stalin signed the Non-Aggression Pact with Hitler, thus enabling the Fuehrer to launch his world war.

The rest of the story is fresh in everyone's mind. The world revolution is in full swing.

Dead Man's Cousin Avenges Sentence

BEYROUTH, Lebanon, Oct. 30 (Reuters)—Gen. Sami Hinnawi, who organized a coup d'etat in Syria last year, was shot and killed today at a streetcar stop here.

Police said the killer was Ahmed Barazi, cousin of the former prime minister, Mohsin Bey Barazi, who was executed on Gen. Hinnawai's orders after his coup d'etat.

Barazi fired three bullets into Hinnawi's heart and killed him almost instantly, the police said. He was arrested as he tried to run away.

Police said his motive was vengeance.

Canadian Santa Will Answer Boy's Letter

MONTREAL, Oct. 30 (CP) —Mortimer Moriarty of West Main Street Cahirciveen, County Kerry, Ireland, doesn't ask for the moon or put on a sob act, so you may be interested in his letter to Santa Claus.

Nine-year-old Mortimer, apparently alive to the business of letting Santa know about these things bright and early, addressed an envelope to "Editor of the Canidian (Mortimer's spelling) Press, Canada."

A puzzled postman walked into CP's Montreal Bureau and thankfully shed himself of the letter.

Inside was another envelope addressed only "Santa Claus" and a half sheet of paper in boyish penmanship: "Dear Sir. Will you please mail this to Santa Claus for me I don't know his right address. Thank you very much."

SNOOPING DESKMAN

A snooping deskman peeked into the Santa Claus letter. At the top was "My name is . . . followed by name and address . . . and at the bottom an even dozen x's for Santa and "Love from Mortimer."

The letter itself—spelled out correctly but suffering from want of punctuation marks—indicated that Mortimer thinks Canada's Santa Claus is top man among all Santa Clauses. But read it for yourself:

Dear Santa Claus—How are you I hope you are well and strong for to carry all the Toys to the children I am nine years old and I would be very thankful to you if you would be good to me and please send me a few nice Toys to play with because I am a poor boy and I won't be lonely for Xmas my Daddy told me that Santa Claus in Canada was a very good man better than the Santa we have in Ireland I will say a whole lot of prayers for you I have 3 more Brothers and two sisters younger than myself.

Good bye now Santa Claus

Good Luck God bless you and give you a holy and happy Xmas.

(Note to Mortimer: CP relayed your letter. This Canadian Santa will look after you.)

Founder and publisher of the Star and the Star Weekly, he set it up as a vehicle by which he conveyed the bulk of his estate at the time of his death into a charitable trust.

Mr. Atkinson died in 1948.

Newspaper Man Finds Masked Bandits' Car

VANCOUVER, Oct. 30 (CP) — Bank of Montreal officials reported today the loot obtained by a bandit trio who held up a West-end branch Saturday totalled $9300. Previous estimates had placed the loss at about $2000.

The masked men threatened some 20 persons in the bank, scooped the money from the teller's cage, and fled in an automobile driven by a fourth man. The car was recovered by police last night. It was found within three blocks of the holdup scene.

The bandits had driven the car into a private garage, parked it there, and closed the doors.

An alert newspaper man found the car after learning a "strange car" was in the garage of John Vowles, who told a service station operator: "I can't get in my garage, there's another car there."

Deskman Charles King of the Vancouver Daily Province, who was at the service station, went to Vowles' garage, identified the car as the one used by the bandits, and notified police. Identity was made by the licence number.

LONDON (CP) — When a pram ran into his ladder, John Adams, a house-painter had two shocks. The first was a fall of 20 feet to the ground, the second when he saw a baby in the pram—covered in paint.
