Greatest Immigrant Influx in 30 Years

194,391 Europeans Settle in Canada — Flow Expected to Continue in '52

OTTAWA, Feb. 26 (CP)—Canada brought in 194,391 new settlers during 1951 in her biggest immigration flow in 38 years.

The influx, 1½ per cent of the population, was the heaviest since 400,000 arrivals were admitted in 1913. It outstripped the 73,912 of 1950 and was well above the previous post-war mark of 125,414 in 1948.

Immigration Minister Harris, disclosing the 1951 figures to the National Advisory Council on Manpower, indicated a high rate of immigration would be continued for the next few months at least.

He expressed belief that the rate of arrivals could be based on an expectation of continued buoyant economic conditions for Canada.

The 1951 total of immigrants was made up of 114,786 workers — adding about two per cent to the working force — and 79,605 dependents.

While the minister assigned specifically no reason for the big 1951 jump, several factors operated through the year to contribute to it. These included more shipping facilities and government loan assistance in paying for passage.

MORE GERMANS

Germans provided the largest single racial group — 32,395 compared with 5825 the year before.

The British Isles total increased by 134 per cent, going to 31,370 from 13,427. Of that number, 19,109 were English, 9201 Scottish, 2506 Irish and 554 Welsh.

Continental Northern Europe supplied 71,872 prospective Canadians, jumping 321 per cent from 17,060 in 1950. Next to the Germans, the largest single group from that area — 19,130 — were Netherlanders.

Italians accounted for 24,351, jumping from 9059 and leading the way among racial origins outside the United Kingdom and the Northern continent.

Among the immigrant groups of any size, the only one showing a drop — and that a slight one — was from the United States. Americans entering Canada fell off to 7732 from 7799.

Some of the other major 1951 totals included: Poles, 12,938; Ukrainians, 6804; Danes, 4613; Finns, 4130; Yugoslavs, 4144.

Most of the immigrants went to Ontario, which absorbed 104,842. The figures for the other provinces: Newfoundland, 259; Nova Scotia, 2035; New Brunswick, 1423; Prince Edward Island, 211; Quebec, 46,033; Manitoba, 8749; Saskatchewan, 4178; Alberta 12,238; British Columbia, 14,394; Yukon and Northwest Territories, 29.

By work classifications, skilled tradesmen of various kinds made up the largest group with 33,682. There also were 31,007 semi-skilled and unskilled workers; 25,890 farm workers and 6531 domestics. The others included clerical, professional, commercial and miscellaneous workers.

By age groups, the largest number — 41,591 — was between 30 and 39 years old. Almost as many — 39,474 — were 14 and under.

Canada Boosts Air Contribution To N.A.T.O.

OTTAWA, Feb. 26 (CP) — Defence Minister Claxton disclosed today Canada has boosted her promised air contribution for European defence to 12 from 11 jet fighter squadrons and said they all will be overseas by 1954. Two already are in England.

Mr. Claxton and External Affairs Minister Pearson — both tired men — flew back to Ottawa together from the Lisbon meeting of the North Atlantic Council and joined in hailing it as a "meeting of decision" which make N.A.T.O. "a going concern."

Duke of Windsor Lunches With Queen

LONDON, Feb. 26 (AP) — The Duke of Windsor had lunch today with Queen Elizabeth II and speculation he might be sounding out his niece for a government job.

The young Queen always has been regarded as extremely fond of her uncle, despite reports of a strained feeling toward him among some members of the Royal Family over his abdication.

Speculation that the Duke may be in line for an official position has been rife her since his long talk with Prime Minister Churchill on Feb. 14.

Slow Digging Delays Slaying

REGINA, Feb. 26 (CP) — Federal Government officials said tonight that slowness of the digging of a mass cattle grave will delay the start of the slaughtering of Regina district cattle, infected with the world's most infamous cattle plague, the dreaded foot-and-mouth disease.

Diseased animals are to be shot by R.C.M.P., liberally covered with unslaked lime and then buried. Digging of the first grave, on the farm of Konstantina Haun where 40 cattle are afflicted with the disease, began today.

P.F.R.A workmen, using mighty bulldozers, tried unsuccessfully today to dig into the Winter-frozen ground. It is frozen solid for five feet. Late in the afternoon strips of oil-soaked coal were set afire along the projected trenchway in an effort to soften the Regina gumbo for easier digging.

Dr. L. B. Thomson, P.F.R.A. director, said tonight that the original intention of digging a cattle grave on each of the infected farms would likely be abandoned since digging through the frozen earth posed such a problem.

Now the plan is to dig the trench on the Haun farm large enough for at least 200 animals. Dr. Thomson said the trench would measure about 200 by 60 feet and 10 feet deep.

He said Federal agencies have arranged to transport some other animals to the Haun farmstead for slaying and burying in the one grave.

KOREAN TALKS NEAR SHOWDOWN

MUNSAN, Feb. 27 (Wednesday) (AP) — Korean truce talks grew near the showdown stage on Russia and three other big issues today.

Most non-controversial details have been cleared by Communist and United Nations staff officers, leaving bare the hard areas of disagreement.

Unless one side makes a compromise soon, colonels handling the lower-level staff talks may send unresolved problems back to the main armistice delegation of admirals and generals.

GERMANS O.K. DEFENCE SUM

Wheels Set for German Contribution

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

LISBON, Feb. 26 (AP)—West Germany has agreed to pay out 11,250,000,000 marks ($2,670,000,000) a year to help bolster Western defences against Communist aggression, the big three foreign ministers announced today.

The British, United States and French ministers also sent orders to their high commissioner in Germany to start talks for unleashing many of the country's war industries.

The two steps open the way further for linking of West Germany's vast resources of men and machines to the Allied arms buildup.

Britain's Anthony Eden, France's Robert Schuman, and Dean Acheson of the U.S., headed home tonight from one of the most business-like Allied parleys since the war.

A spokesman for the three said 1,050,000,000 marks of the West-German defence contribution would be used for internal defence, such as frontier guards and defence of Communist-ringed Berlin.

In Bonn, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government announced it had accepted the proposed total "with reservations." It contended that if West Germany's gross income should fall below the 107,300,000,000 marks forecast by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, it should be allowed to appeal for a lower assessment.

Missing Nurse Found in New York

OTTAWA, Feb. 26 (CP) — An army nursing sister, Lieut. Elizabeth Sansom, who has been the subject of a widespread search for more than two months, has been found in New York City.

In a brief statement issued late today, army headquarters said that details of her disappearance "are still meagre," but that she has definitely been located and will be returned to the home of her parents at Stanley, N. B.

The nurse, aged 26, had been missing since last Dec. 24, when she boarded a train at Kingston, Ont., where she was stationed. She presumably was going to spend Christmas with relatives in Sherbrooke, Que.

The army statement said Miss Sansom "appears to have been the victim of amnesia."

UNINJURED IN LANDING

MONTREAL, Feb. 26 (CP) — A pilot of No. 421 Red Indian Squadron at nearby St. Hubert crashed while making an emergency landing today, but the R.C.A.F. said that he was uninjured. He was identified as F.O. John R. Buzik of Vancouver.

Teen-Age Addiction Not Big Problem in Canada

OTTAWA, Feb. 26 (CP)—Canada has "a handful" of teen-age dope addicts, but no major problem in this field, a Health Department narcotics officer said today.

While the department has no official information on reported outbreaks of teen-age addiction in the United States, there have been no cases in Canada "of young people being approached on the way home from school and being offered marijuana or other drugs."

The official was elaborating on a reference in the Health Department's annual report for the year ended March 31 last which said there appeared to be a lowering in the average age of new addicts.

"A number have come to the attention of enforcement officers who were in their early twenties, and some in their teens," it added.

Actually, of an estimated 4000 addicts in Canada in the period under review, only two or three were teenagers. Since then, a "similar number" of others had developed.

DELINQUENTS

In no case, said the spokesman, had addiction developed among well-adjusted young persons. All were cases where the teen-ager already was a juvenile delinquent and had turned to dope because of psychic problems.

"They were cases resulting from broken homes," he added. "Each case had a history which included a jail record."

He cited the case of a girl sent to a detention home for delinquency. Because she was an addict herself, she had "inhibited other inmates with the narcotic idea. But those in the home were juvenile delinquents as well. In every case, some underlying cause forces people to resort to drugs."

Addiction in itself is not an offence in Canada. It is an offence to be in possession of a narcotic or to distribute it. There were 360 convictions in Canada in the year ended Sept. 30, 1950, and "a similar number" in the following year.

Wismer Reports . . .

$96,000 Spent On School Guards; "Bomber's" Whereabouts Unknown

VICTORIA, B. C., Feb. 26 (CP) —The British Columbia Government spent $96,000 in 1951 for 46 guards at 16 schools in the Kootenays to prevent possible Sons of Freedom Doukhobor fire raids.

This was made known today in the B. C. Legislature in answers tabled by Attorney-General Gordon Wismer for Ruppert Haggen (C.C.F.—Grand Forks-Greenwood).

The answers said the Consultative Committee on Doukhobors felt it "unwise" to remove the guards and that the R.C.M.P. expected "further incendiarism." School boards had asked for the guards.

R.C.M.P. guards worked 3782 shifts in 1951 to protect the Canadian Pacific Railway line between Nelson and Midway. (The railway in past years has been a favorite target for bombs of the fanatical Freedomites).

The Attorney-General said his department has received complaints concerning the release from jail of John Sherstobitoff, described at his trial as the "official 'bomber' for the Sons.

The Attorney-General had recommended release of Sherstobitoff, sentenced to 14 years for arson. He was released Jan. 15 after serving approximately 18 months of his sentence.

Sherstobitoff was ordered deported from B. C. The Attorney-General said his department does not know Sherstobitoff's present whereabouts.

Two cases of suspected arson had been reported so far this year — Brilliant, where a community hall was burned, and at Grand Forks, where a railway trestle was damaged.

MAN SURVIVES BAD FALL

REVELSTOKE, B.C., Feb. 26 (CP)—Norman Ross, a construction worker, survived a 1500-foot tumble down a steep mountainside.

Working near the Mastodon mine, 17 miles North of here, yesterday he lost his footing and slipped off a ledge.

Unconscious, he was rescued by mine workers and brought to hospital here. He suffered a broken leg and multiple cuts and bruises in his tumble.

REGINA, Feb. 26 (CP) — The championship bench show of the Regina Kennel Club has been cancelled due to the outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease in Saskatchewan.

The show was to be held April 29-30.

Club officials said today they had many American entries. They cancelled the show because they did not want the American owners to face the risk of not being able to take their dogs back to the United States when the show was over.

FLOOD PREDICTED

VANCOUVER, Feb. 26 (CP) — Tom Goode, Liberal Member of Parliament for Burnaby-Richmond, today predicted a major flood disaster for Lulu Island this year unless a $2,000,000 breakwater is built to stem the Spring freshet.

"The dykes will never hold against any strong freshet this year," he said. "The island would be flooded clear to Brighouse."

The resident federal engineer at New Westminster has prepared a complete survey of the area and his report will be in Ottawa by Monday, when Mr. Goode returns to ask for action on the breakwater from the federal government.

Planes Cause Concern

EDMONTON, Feb. 26 (CP)—Some City Council members, perturbed by two recent air crashes in Elizabeth, N.J., where planes took off from the airport only to crash into residential areas, have expressed concern over the danger of large planes flying over densely-populated sections of Edmonton.

Alderman Abe Miller said some planes fly very low over Edmonton. Alderman Duncan Innes said he understood some of them flew so low because they were very heavily loaded.

Asked if arrangements could be made to restrict the direction of planes leaving and arriving at the municipal airport, Commissioner John Hodgson replied that the main runway lies in a North-South direction. Thus Southbound planes travelled over the heart of the city.

BRITAIN HAS ATOMIC BOMB

Churchill Wins Confidence Vote

LONDON, Feb. 26 (CP) — Winston Churchill told the House of Commons tonight that Britain has the atom bomb and won from the House a 318 to 285 vote of confidence on his foreign policy.

Fighting off Labor party attempts to censure him for a controversial speech before the United States Congress last month, the 77-year-old Prime Minister denied vigorously making any secret agreements in his Washington talks with President Truman.

He insisted that Britain's policy toward China remained unchanged.

Churchill said the Labor government defeated in last October's election not only produced the atom bomb in secret but also set up a plant for regular production.

The program was so secret, the Prime Minister said, that he learned about the bomb himself only after coming back into power four months ago.

In the angry, bitter debate over foreign policy, Churchill lashed back at Pacifist elements in the Labor party. He claimed the former Labor government itself had been ready as far back as last May to join in taking action "not confined to Korea" in the event of heavy air attacks on United Nations forces from bases in China.

Churchill's disclosure of the atom bomb gave point to a British announcement 10 days ago that, later this year, Britain will test an atomic weapon in Australia.

The former announcement did not specify that the weapon was an atom bomb but there was speculation that an improved type of small bomb for support of ground troops might be the British product.

Wages Asked May Close Business

VANCOUVER, Feb. 26 (CP) — Sweeney Cooperage, a pioneer Vancouver business, may be closed because of union wage demands.

Leo M. Sweeney, president of the company, said today more than half of the staff of 95 was laid off Monday after International Woodworkers of America (C.C.L.) rejected a majority conciliation board proposal.

"We might close down altogether. We certainly can't pay the wages they're asking this year — which amounts to about seven times what we've made in the last seven years."

The union rejected, and the company accepted, a conciliation board proposal for a profit sharing scheme to distribute 1-3 of the net profit after taxes.

Sweeney said labor costs are about 45 per cent of the finished product.

The union asked a 35-cent an hour increase. They have postponed their application for a government-supervised strike vote.

Fear for Livestock, Game Prompts Action

VICTORIA, B.C., Feb. 26 (CP)—The British Columbia government today closed the B.C.-Alberta border to Westward shipment of cattle to prevent spread of foot-and-mouth disease into the province.

Agriculture Minister Harry Bowman made the announcement rising at the start of the House sitting on a matter "of urgent public business."

Mr. Bowman said the situation is still not clear but that B.C. could not take a chance on the disease spreading to its livestock and wild game.

He said that if the disease got ot B.C.'s wild game it would never be possible to control it.

He said he hoped the government order would be only temporary until the situation was cleared up.

Closing of the inter-provincial border will leave a vast hole in British Columbia's meat supply.

Figures for 1950, latest available, show that during the year 235,000 hogs, 56,000 cattle, 26,000 calves and 27,000 sheep and lambs came into BC.

The province also imported 6,750,000 pounds of dressed beef and veal and 9,600,000 pounds of pork and pork products.

Earlier, spokesmen for the $22,000,000 dairy industry in 100-mile long Fraser Valley on the B.C. mainland advocated closure of the B.C.-Alberta border.

"Dairying in the valley is congested and a single outbreak could lead to disastrous results," said B. H. Creelman, manager of the Surrey Cooperative Association.

Gov't to Reimburse Stricken Farmers

OTTAWA, Feb. 26 (CP) — Canada faced a national crisis tonight as an international meat-and-livestock embargo, resulting from an outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease, extended to trade between provinces.

An official said the government likely will take "extraordinary" steps to cope with the situation and there is every likelihood the measures will include price support for beef.

"This is serious and a crisis," the official said, "and the government has emergency powers it can take if the situation calls for any drastic action."

He did not believe the situation as it now shapes up will call for anything more than to reassure cattle ranchers who may face heavy losses that they will be "properly reimbursed."

The scourge which has infected livestock in South Saskatchewan brought these developments today:

1. British Columbia and Ontario announced borders will be closed to shipments of cattle from the prairies.

2. The United States, clarifying its emergency embargo order yesterday, extended it from livestock and meats to include hay, straw and animal by-products.

3. The Federal Government enlarged its rigidly-enforced, nine-municipality South Saskatchewan quarantine to a 10th municipality — Elmsthorpe.

4. An immigrant, reported to be a German displaced person, who may possibly have carried the disease into Canada, was located at Port Arthur, Ont., and plans were made to bring him to nearby Hull, Que., for laboratory tests.

The infer-provincial embargo, first in Canadian history, would mean a virtual freeze on the movements of cattle out of Alberta. Federal officials said that the livestock industry has appealed to the government for some form of price support to ward off the possibility of a collapse in the beef market and this now may be granted.

The provincial barriers to cattle movement, on top of the United States embargo, are expected by officials here to lead to sharp fluctuations in beef and pork prices.

British Columbia cattlemen were reported to be able to supply only about 10 per cent of the provincial demand for beef. If plants were not able to get livestock from Alberta, they likely will get them from the United States, paying higher prices than those which prevail in Canada.

Ontario buys a lot of livestock from the West, and with this source close, it, too, may do some buying from the U.S. The Eastern provinces are a "deficit" area, that is they must obtain most of their requirements from the West, and it appeared likely that prices in this area would jump sharply with some supplies coming from American sources.

Federal agricultural officials said that although the situation appeared to be shaping up into a "national emergency" it would be "foolish" for Canadians to panic. The quarantine, American and provincial embargoes did not mean "calamity."

In Regina, Dr. Kenneth Wells, associate chief veterinarian for Canada, said there even is a possibility that the outbreak will be "under reasonable control before the Spring break-up."

However, Ottawa officials would not support him in his view. They would not venture any clean-up or control date, except to say "we believe we can control it."

The Cabinet, in an all-day session today, touched on the foot-and-mouth disease and its economic implications, but there was no announcement on possible Cabinet measures.

The United States clarifying embargo order followed a report from the border-crossing point at Rouses Point, N.Y., where Dr. L. E. Bruncher, local U.S. Animal Industry Bureau representative, embargoed not only on livestock and meats, but also Canadian grains, hay, straw and even some vegetables.

The U.S. Agriculture Department issued a formal order, defining the embargo to cover livestock and meats as well as hay, straw, and animal by-products, such as hides, skins and bone meal.

Canada shipped about $130,000,000 worth of livestock and meats to the U.S. last year and about $10,000,000 in hides and hay and straw.

Officials here believed that the U.S. ban does not cover certain types of preserved or canned meats, and Canada might turn to this kind of processing for export if the American ban continued long.

Coast Explosion Shatters Windows

VANCOUVER, Feb. 26 (CP) — Windows were shattered today by a blast which shook neighboring Richmond municipality and was heard in Vancouver's West Point Grey and university areas.

A harbor patrol boat cruised the North Arm of the Fraser River but was unable to solve the mystery of where the explosion originated.

Police set the time of the blast at about 3:40 p.m.

Mrs. Fred Oldfield, who lives on Twiggs Island, Richmond, said a large window on the Eastern side of her house was shattered.

The woman said a neighbor was about to sip a cup of tea when the concussion shook the cup out of her hand.

Farmers Watch Stunned as Graves Prepared for Cattle

REGINA, Feb. 26 (CP) — Regina district farmers don't have that consolation of waking up to find a nightmare.

Because of the outbreak of the dreaded foot-and-mouth disease among livestock in the district, many of the farmers will get little sleep for a while. They may have to endure a nightmare of one year or more in duration.

These farmers, who waited out the 1929-36 drought that transformed Southern Saskatchewan into a virtual dust bowl, now face the prospect of seeing carefully-nurtured herds of diseased livestock slaughtered.

They bounced back from the drought to enjoy prosperity for a while. Now they face partial or total ruin.

One farmer didn't sleep last night. Instead, he stayed awake to wonder whether his herd would be the next on the list of those infected with foot-and-mouth disease. That would mean the official "guillotine."

For others, the waiting period was over. They would watch their heards buried in a communal pit.

Konstantin and Jean Haun sat in their Regina outskirts home today with nothing to do.

They received word yesterday that their 40-head herd would have to be destroyed.

BURIAL GROUND

A mile west of their home, a Prairie Farm Rehabilitation bulldozer was rolling up and down a field taking off snow and topsoil for Canada's first foot-and-mouth victims' burial ground.

The Hauns watched all this in stunned disbelief.

"My cattle are as healthy as can be," said Mr. Haun in mild protest. He knew loud complaining would solve nothing. He was a study in futility.

"I can't see why they shoot those cattle. I fed them yesterday and I called my wife, Jean, and said to her look how those cows are eating."

Though Haun's animals look clear-eyed and firm of mouth now, they're just so much bad beef in the official black book.

Haun has a young Jersey cow he bought for $600 a few months ago, and a pet holstein.

"They're gentle, like two babies in the barn. They sure produced milk," he said.

Of Haun's heard, 25 had been on mechanical milking line until they were condemned. They yielded 600 pounds of milk daily. $480 every two weeks, roughly $1000 per month.

$16,000 LOSS

On the basis of a $400 per head average value Haun works his loss out at $16,000. In addition, his income is cut short. He'll be out of the dairy business for at least nine months.

That make a total loss of $25,000 for 1952. It's small satisfaction to Haun to know he can write a big zero on his 1952 income tax papers.

How did the woman of the house feel about it?

"This is too big a blow, far worse than the depression," said Mrs. Haun.

"In those years the rains never came. But you always waited and looked for those clouds. The dust storms came and blew out."

"The dry years lasted from 1929 to 1936. You got used to it."

Haun figured he would get one-third of the value of each animal and "that $100 is nothing compared to what the value is."

"Even if they (the Federal Government) give me an average of $300 I'm still the loser. I have no income."

Mrs. Haun said it would be nine months to a year before they could get started again in the dairy business.

"By that time I'll be dead," said Haun. "I'm going to apply for the old-age pension. I'll be 70 in July."

Haun was born in Russia on the banks of the old Volga River and has been living in the Regina district since 1913.

BIG BONFIRE

Ken Tracy, P.F.R.A. field man from Moose Jaw, was supervising the grave digging operations today. He said frost ran down five feet in the gumbo. They couldn't use dynamite. They're building a coal bonfire tonight to thaw out the pit.

It will measure 200 feet long, 60 wide and 10 deep. The hole will provide 14 square feet for big animals and five square feet for calves and small cows.

"If you want to see a real bonfire, come along tonight," said Mr. Tracy.

And in This Corner . . .

MACON, Ga., Feb. 26 (AP)—Nick and Mira Lalich went on their honeymoon yesterday after three days of getting married.

They had $9000 as a starter, showered on them at the wedding reception last night. There was a slight fee for dancing with the bride.

Nick and Mira are members of the small, close-knit Serbian colony in the United States. Their wedding was something of a national event for American Serbs. About 500 of them came from all over—Detroit, Miami, New York—to get in on the fun. The ceremonies and parties covered three days.

PEKIN, Ill., Feb. 26 (AP)—Two bridge-tenders took turns on a perch 100 feet above the Illinois River yesterday. They were on a bridge span that went up, but wouldn't come down.

One of the tenders, 71-year-old George Risinger of Pekin, raised the span at noon to let a boat pass. Then he couldn't get it down.

Later Risinger scrambled down the ironwork. Up went the night man, 69-year-old Frank Grover. Grover climbed up to the lofty perch to spend the night.

State highway engineers said part of the bridge mechanism was broken and it would be stuck for a week or longer.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26 (AP)—Two gunmen held up Leonard Power, 40, manager of a chain grocery in Brooklyn, last night after he left the store with a brief-case he is seen carrying every night.

The robbers escaped with the case.

All it contained was an empty thermos bottle.

No Railway Construction Yet At Castlegar

VANCOUVER, B.C. — Canadian Pacific Railway is carefully watching B.C.'s industrial boom and when further services such as new line construction are needed, the company will attempt to provide them.

This assurance was made in Vancouver by Norris R. Crump, vice-president of the C.P.R., whose duties include bossing the overall maintenance and operation of the railway.

No line construction in the Castlegar area is immediately indicated despite the start of the Celgar development, a $65,000,000 construction program. "However," he said, "it looks as though we will be looking after that company's need, and the C.N.R. will handle the Alcan project."

"If necessary we'll cooperate with each other to service British Columbia's new industries."

Mr. Crump, a native of Revelstoke, educated in Vancouver, rose from the labor ranks to one of the top transportation jobs in the world.

OLD B.C. FAMILY

Both he and his father, T. H. Crump, retired superintendent of the C.P.R.'s Kettle Valley system, started work with the C.P.R. in B.C. Crump joined a track crew in 1920 while living in Revelstoke.

Here until Wednesday on what he termed "a routine visit," Mr. Crump is travelling with Fred Stone, chief of the headquarters research group in Montreal.

"The Canadian railroads will be able to handle anything that comes their way," said the C.P. vice-president.

FAST TRAINS UNPOPULAR

On the matter of faster train service, Mr. Crump had this to say: "There is a sign from the United States that the number of complaints about train speeds is increasing.

"Trains cannot compete with planes. The railways should concentrate on comfort rather than speed. A person travelling at 110 miles an hour in a streamliner is not comfortable — too much bouncing around."

Purchase of new streamliners would be much too expensive for Canadian travellers, the C.P.R. chief said. "These trains cost from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 each."

Blessing of Ashes to Open Catholic Thrice-Weekly Lenten Devotions

Ash Wednesday, the beginning of Lent, will be marked at the Cathedral of Mary Immaculate with the same vivid ceremony that has been a part of Catholic liturgy for over a thousand years.

First mass will be celebrated in the Catholic Church at 6:30 a.m. by Rev. R. D. Anderson for the St. Joseph's Sisters and early workers. The main mass will begin at 7:30 with the traditional blessing of the ashes. School children, office workers, laborers, and parents will kneel at the communion rail.

The plea of Most Rev. Bishop M. M. Johnson to all Catholics throughout the diocese has been that the Lenten season be marked by "a return to Christ and the Christian way of life."

"BE YE PERFECT"

Sunday night Father Anderson emphasized in a pre-lenten sermon that the whole office of the church was to make men perfect. "Be ye perfect as my heavenly father is perfect", he quoted.

"Our Lord's life was one of such holiness that not even His bitterest enemies could reproach Him with any faults. He asked them openly: 'Which of you shall convince me of sin?' and all remained silent."

"What does Holy Mother Church demand of us during Lent?" he asked. "A pure moral life, personal responsibility for all our thought, words and actions, the subjection of all earthly interests to those of eternal life, the control of instinctive actions according to divine laws, respect for marriage, for women, and for children, loyalty, labor and the fulfilment of duty, obedience and respect for authority and an ever-burning desire to unite our lives more closely with Christ."

"How courageous, how daring is the Catholic Church in her demands!" the priest went on. "How unwaveringly and uncompromisingly she holds to the difficult commands of Christ's moral ideals! For Christ's ideals she dares to be unpopular, she dares to be 'not modern.' She dares not to allow the dissolution of a valid marriage; she dares to defend the lives of unborn children and the purity of married life—not even the whole flood of modern catchwords is able to move her one iota from proclaiming these lofty principles.

"What gives the church the strength to be so exacting? What gives the church the strength to be so exacting during Lent—demanding prayer and fasting from her faithful? The consciousness of her mission to make men holy."

SPECIAL SERIES

In both the Cathedral of Mary Immaculate and St. Aloysius Church in Fairview, lenten devotions will be held every morning and on Sunday, Wednesday and Friday evenings. On Sundays and Wednesday evening a special series of sermons will be preached on the "Holiness of Christ's Life". Wednesday evening the Senior Sodality of the Blessed Virgin will sing at the Benediction the "Stabat Mater", "Tantum Ergo" and "By the Blood That Flows for Thee".

The Chancery Office is preparing the list of priests who will take part in the ceremonies of Holy Week at the Cathedral. Some 15 to 20 priests are expected to be on hand.

90-100 Get 'Em Hot Off Griddle At Church Dinner

Champion flap-jack flippers Stanley Edey, Raymond Law, William Fowles and Will McCubbin, male members of St. Paul's Couples Club, are now members in good standing in the Noble Order of the Pan and Griddle, having completed their initiation at the Shrove Tuesday supper held in St. Paul's Church parlors.

It required eight ladies of the Women's Auxiliary, Mrs. David Maloney, Mrs. R. A. Peebles, Mrs. A. T. Richards, Mrs. J. O. Wilson, Mrs. G. B. Willis, Mrs. T. A. Temple, Mrs. J. C. Chambers and Mrs. Jean Waldie beating up batter to keep the cooks supplied. The men in turn were kept "cooking over a hot stove" to supply the 90-100 guests with the delicious golden discs. Lines formed at the right for second helpings.

Jack Harvard, Gary Barnhardt, Leonard Cutler and Mort Browne served the coffee and Mrs. H. E. Dill was cashier.

Shrove Tuesday, which the French call Mardi Gras or "Fat Tuesday", and which in some countries is the final fling of feasting and merrymaking before the people settle into the sombre Lenten season is observed by others with the serving of pancakes.

A short program rounded off an enjoyable social time with Mr. Browne as master of ceremonies, introducing eight members of the Couples Club in a burlesque fashion show! His running commentary as the models appeared and the outlandish costumes were the cause of a great deal of merriment.

Miss Carol Coventry sang an arrangement of A. A. Milne's poem "Christopher Robin Is Saying His Prayers" and Gary Barnhardt sang the old Irish favorite, "Cockles and Mussels."

The program was concluded with a few words by Rev. A. L. Anderson.

Nelson-Built Surge Tank for Propane Plant

Purchase of a surge tank at a cost of $497 from a Nelson firm to eliminate need of propane gas storage was approved at City Council's special meeting Monday night.

The purchase was recommended by Ald. W. S. Smith, Gas Committee chairman, and F. H. Stringer, City gas superintendent. The tank, to be built by Stevenson's Machine Shop, would represent considerable saving, it was explained. Originally it had been planned to buy a tank from one of several companies that had submitted tenders.

The Nelson-made tank would be smaller than the tank the City had originally intended to buy, Mr. Stringer explained. Then it was understood that a high pressure tank was required, but it was now known that a low pressure tank would be sufficient.

The surge tank manufactured gas as it was required. Noon peak load at present was about 6700 cubic feet per hour, and the gas-air machine produced 10,000 cubic feet per hour. With two machines, 20,000 feet per hour was possible, and there was no need for storage.

The City plant could store only 10 hours' supply.

Woodbury, Hamil. . .

Two District Mines Report Good Progress

Executives of Woodbury Mines Limited, Ainsworth, report favorable results of underground development and rapid progress toward establishing sufficient ore reserves to warrant the construction of a mill.

Recent drilling on the Bell No. 1 vein has yielded the following assays, all taken over a mining width of 4.0 feet and at regular intervals: 2.0% lead and 6.6% zinc for a gross of $32.68; 1.8% lead and 4.4% zinc, gross $23.56; 24.6% lead and 6.5% zinc, gross $118.18; and 6.0% lead and 14.8% zinc, gross $79.04.

Derek Davidson, mine manager, advises the last round in the Bell No. 1 drift shows a full five-foot face of high-grade ore without the full width of the vein being known at that point. The drift is being advanced towards a diamond-drill intersection which gave an indicated width of 49 feet.

The Bell crosscut will be extended 130 feet to reach the Bell No. 2 vein, on which drifts will be driven both East and West from the point of contact. Results of diamond drilling give indication of finding ore of similar width and grade as in the Bell No. 1.

All development ore is being stockpiled for the present for future shipment. The company expects the returns from these shipments will help to offset the cost of development.

HAMIL MINES

The internal winze being sunk by Hamil Silver-Lead Mines Ltd. at Argenta is reported to have reached its objective, depth of 66 feet (vertical). The vein, which at higher horizons had been dipping at 75 degrees, was found to become almost vertical at a depth of 15 feet in the winze.

A crosscut will be driven across the A ore zone and extended an estimated 130 feet to the B zone from the foot of the winze. It is also planned to do about 100 feet of drifting on the A vein to explore an orebody indicated by diamond drilling to have a metal-content value of $68 per ton over a true width of 25 feet.

When this work is completed, a tunnel will be driven from the surface at a greater depth of 165 feet to provide a new main-haulage and explore the vein systems. At a projected length of 455 feet, a raise will be driven to connect with the bottom of the present winze. The raise and winze will ultimately be utilized as an ore pass.

In the present main-haulage level, there is a developed length of 200 feet of ore with indicated average width of 41 feet and a raise has been driven 170 feet to the surface. Indicated ore in this block has been estimated at 80,000 tons grading 1.6 ozs. silver per ton with 3.4% lead and 7.4% zinc.

Extensive surface stripping has indicated the persistence of the A vein one mile to the North of the present entry. Previous owners sank a vertical and an incline shaft and did some 700 feet of lateral development with indicated grade of 9% in combined metals.

Top Award to Kimberley Man

In January, Cominco employees won $935 in Joint Production Committee awards, the highest monthly total since July of last year.

The top award of $170 went to Ralph Westgate of the Sullivan Concentrator in Kimberley for a suggestion that drill steel be installed on the points of heavy wear of the Dillon screens used in the underground crushing plant. This has extended the life of the screens and has realized time and material savings.

Awards of $50 wer won by J. W. Chesham of the Sullivan Mine and H. A. Kellogg of the Tadanac Warehouse. Mr. Chesham suggested that the bottom of the chute under No. 2 rools grizzly be widened. This decreased wear to the sides, reduced material and labor costs, improved working conditions and has safety value. Mr. Kellogg suggested that an improved storage building for powder be installed. The location was also changed to facilitate handling and for safety reasons.

A $40 award went jointly to W. L. McLellan, G. M. Ross and E. U. Ronnquist of the Sullivan Mine in Kimberley.

Four men won $25 awards. They are H. C. Ordway, Sullivan Concentrator; H. F. Stanton, Sullivan Mine; W. H. Craig, Tadanac Warehouse; L. Santano, Engineering Division in Trail.

A $20 award went to A. Guidone of the Engineering Trades department at Trail, and J. S. MacRae of the Sullivan Mine won a total of $25 for three suggestions.

Dancing Champions Offer Advice On How to Cut Down Divorce Rate

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 26 (AP)—The dancing champions—Marge and Gower—offer this advice to help stop the rising divorce rate: Husbands should take their wives out dancing more often.

The couple have certainly made dancing pay dividends. They think the fox trots and waltzes can prove profitable for any wedded pair.

"Why should romance stop after marriage?" argued Marge. "A boy and a girl dance their feet off when they're courting. As soon as they step before the preacher they give up dancing entirely. It never occurs to them that dancing could be just as much fun after they're married."

DUBS CAN LEARN

What if the husband's fox trot is the kind that might be considered grounds for divorce?

"There are plenty of dance schools that could cure that," Gower replied.

Although they spend a good many of their workday hours dancing, the champions still like to flit around the dance floor when they go out at night.

"I enjoy nothing more," said Marge.

Credit Unions Hear A. Bailey on Injustice of Coast Tax Threat

FRUITVALE, B. C.—The ninth annual meeting of the Fruitvale Progressive Credit Union was held in the Legion Hall. President Cam Weir was in the chair.

Mr. Weir gave the directors' report of the activities during the year. Ten regular and two special meetings were held, and the Union has through the efforts of the West Kootenay Credit Union Chapter secured for its members payroll deduction privileges with Cominco and Tadanac Municipality.

Three changes were voted to the rules governing the Credit Union: (1) To Rule 51, raising the number on the Credit Committee from three to five members; (2) to Rule 57, raising the number on the Supervisory Committee from three to five members; (3) to Rule 1, increasing the area covered by the Fruitvale Credit Union from the present five miles radius of Fruitvale to 25 miles radius of Fruitvale.

OFFICERS ELECTED

The following were elected: Two new directors, Steven Lewis (re-elected) and Dennis Miller; Supervisory Committee, Mrs. Myrtle DeBruyn, Joseph Simpson and Fred Peitzsche; Credit Committee, Milton Dacre, Stanley Walsh, Mrs. Robert Vyse; Social and Education Committee, Mrs. John Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Cam Weir, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Talarico, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Smith, Charles Lilydale, Calvin Ferris, Joseph Simpson, Milton Dacre.

Guest speaker was Ace Bailey, President of the West Kootenay Credit Union Chapter and Vice President of the Rossland Credit Union. Mr. Bailey expressed the regrets of Richard Monafrey, Manager Editor, who had been recalled to Vancouver.

"The City of Vancouver," he said, "was trying to classify Credit Unions in the same category as insurance and finance firms, and charge them the same licence fee. We are not out for profit, but for service to all."

THREAT TO UNION

He felt that such a tax as Vancouver is trying to impose was unjust, as Credit Unions were not insurance firms or finance corporations, but service unions.

"We need unity now as never before to fight this latest threat to our existence."

Mr. Bailey outlined for his listeners the payroll deductions and the Cuna and endowment policies. He said Fruitvale was leading the way in having such an active social group.

In closing, he presented John Wood and Cam Weir with certificates of merit for their outstanding work and contribution to the Credit Union. Both men have been members of the Fruitvale Credit Union since its formation, John Wood as its treasurer for nine years and Cam Weir as a director and this last year as its President.

Percy Swift, chairman of the Rossland Credit Committee, also addressed the meeting.

The cable system was purchased from the United States. It is expected the $30 million dam and hydro-electric development of 205,000 horsepower will be completed in three years.

Beat egg with two-thirds of a cup of lukewarm water. Strain and use in place of your regular shampoo. Wash the hair twice, using half the egg mixture each time and rinsing thoroughly in between applications of egg. Rinse hair two or three times or until water is clear. Be sure to use only WARM water, not hot, or the egg will coagulate. This shampoo leaves the hair soft, glossy and easy to manage.

W.M.S. Discusses Value of Missionary Work

A panel discussion on "Christ for the World" highlighted the meeting of the United Women's Missionary Society meeting at the home of Mrs. M. T. Harris, Mill Street, Tuesday afternoon.

Conducted by Mrs. R. A. Custer, Mrs. J. C. Chambers and Mrs. J. A. Wilson, the discussion brought out the subject, have missions flaled?

Answer to the question was found in a Roman Catholic soldier in Korea who received his education in the United Church College in Winnipeg who paid tribute to the work of the missionaries in Korea.

The soldier, whose duty included re-allocation of Korean refugees is reported to have said: "Eventual rehabilitation of the South Koreans would be better done by missionaries with money made available than by the elaborate government agencies"

"We are faced with the fact, a debator said, "that our untiring support is necessary to carry out missionary projects in education and agriculture and medical work. Some of our missionaries in foreign fields are retiring soon and only a few are ready to take their places. Young people are needed to consecrate themselves to this task.

Mrs. G. Wellington and Mrs. Robert Kelley led the devotional period. Mrs. R. A. Custer and Mrs. R. L. Dempsey served tea.

Dalzell-Leary Wedding Claims Wide Interest

NAKUSP, B.C.—Of interest across Canada was the charming, early Spring wedding ceremony performed in St. Mark's Anglican Church here recently uniting in marriage Sydney Grace Leary and Reginald Maynard Dalzell.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mrs. C. S. Leary and the late Capt. Leary of "Brookhaven", Nakusp, and the groom is the third son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Dalzell of Kensington, Prince Edward Island.

The altar was banked with white stocks and ferns and baskets of flowers were arranged at the altar rails. Rev Thomas Mitchell read the marriage service, and Mrs. Mitchell was organist.

HOOPED SKIRT

As she entered the church on the arm of her uncle, Mr. Howell Jordan, the bride was a picture in her full-skirted ballerina hooped gown of exquisite white nylon lace over glowing satin. A hand-made full-length veil appliqued with tiny seed pearls misted from her halo headdress. Her cascade bouquet consisted of red roses.

A trio of maids in gowns with hues contrasting nicely with the bridal gown attended the bride. They were her sister, Mrs. Don Easton as matron of honor, Miss Mavis Barlow as bridesmaid and another sister, Mrs. Robert Firbank as bride's matron.

Miss Barlow was in pink net with lace trim, Mrs. Firbank chose blue net with lace inserts, and Mrs. Easton wore wine satin. Tiny crownless hats and bouquets toning with their gowns.

Mr. Douglas Hakeman, a cousin of the bride, was best man, and Mr. Robert Firbank and Mr. Rowland Jordan ushered the guests.

A family wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's mother, and later a reception was held for almost 200 guests, Mrs. Leary and the newly-married couple receiving. Mr. Ralph Islip proposed the toast to the bride. A three-tiered wedding cake was cut by the bride and groom at a table covered with an heirloom satin cloth.

The young couple left by car for a honeymoon in Radium Hot Springs, Banff and Lethbridge.

They will reside in Nakusp.

PARTIES GIVEN

Prior to her marriage, Mrs. Dalzell was guest of honor at a gadget shower given by Mrs. Herman Thomas, Mrs. Howard Jeal and Mrs. V. C. Smith at Mrs. Smith's home. Mrs. Leary and her daughter were presented with corsages, and shower gifts were presented in a miniature cottage. Mrs. Robert Firbank and Mrs. W. Firbank assisted the hostess, and Mrs. Harry Murphy and Mrs. Jerry Morehouse poured. An out-of-town guest was Mrs. David Johnson Firbank of Vancouver.

Mr. Dalzell and his bride were honored at a party given by Mrs. Donald Pye and Mrs. Iyan Morehouse in K.P. Hall. A mock wedding, staged by men attending the event, created fun and laughter. After music and games, a buffet lunch was served at the Morehouse home. A table lamp was presented to the couple.

Love Problems . . .

This Girl Shouldn't Diet Without Doctor's Advice

BY JANE ATKINSON

Dea Miss Atkinson:

My problem is that I'm too fat. I'm 16 years old, five feet four inches tall and weight 126 pounds, and would like to weigh 118.

I don't want to go to a doctor, because he just gives you medicine. I would like to get thin all over without dropping too many foods. How could I lose weight without taking pills or any other stuff? —A.R.

Dear A. R.:

No sort of reducing program should be undertaken without checking with a doctor first, and no good doctor will simply give you pills to make you lose weight. Unless there is something wrong with you which is responsible for your being too fat, and which would require some kind of medical treatment, the only proper way to reduce is to go on a sensible diet. I suspect that when you say you want to lose weight "without dropping too many foods," what you actually mean is that you don't want to give up things you like to eat.

The Case for Fluoridation

A pioneer in experimentation with fluorine-treated water, Brantford, Ontario, has been reporting progress in the fight against tooth decay for years. Last week it was able to underscore them, with the latest report on its tests.

Dental defects in Brantford children are down more than one-third in seven years. The number of city children with perfect teeth has advanced from 5.18 per cent to 15.97. Even that margin of improvement is of tremendous importance to the percentage so greatly benefited.

The case for water fluoridation keeps improving.

65 Per Cent Fail In English Test

Toronto University recently conducted examinations to test students' knowledge of the fundamentals of English grammar. The test was confined to those of all three years taking English as a pass subject.

The results, reports President Sidney Smith, "were, in the highest degree, alarming."

The failure rate was 65 per cent.

Two conclusions, says President Smith, present themselves:

1. The training in English given in the high schools is no longer an adequate equipment for work in the university.

2. It is incumbent on the university to take immediate steps to make sure that illiteracy no longer dwells in easy partnership with the possession of a degree.

Surely there is something faulty if a system that purports to educate fails to pass along the basic requirements. If similar tests in our high schools show similar results—and the experiences of employers show that they easily might—then it probably is not amiss to suggest that some revision of methods or emphasis on particular studies are in order.

Colored Heroes

In Houston, Texas, a Negro six-footer pried apart the telescoped cab of a wrecked and flaming truck to free the driver. In another of the Southern States recently a Negro with his own body kept a clear space to enable his white neighbor, trapped in a well cave-in, to breathe until rescue came. We can't imagine either of the rescued questioning the color of the heroes' skin on either occasion.

Declares Need for Greater Effort So Others Can Believe With Us

To the Editor:

Sir—Our Japanese reader seems bewildered concerning our Christian faith with its different creeds and forms of worship. This has largely come about from freedom of thought allowed by the Protestant religion. It is difficult to find in a democratic country every person thinking in exactly the same pattern in politics or religion. We tend to follow the parental ideas, which may be developed or changed somewhat as we grow older. However, these are but paths, however devious, that lead us in Chrtsian living.

Why do we believe in Christianity? Because so far no other religion has been found of such a high standard of morality or of loving service to mankind. It seems a pity that we have so many divisions, but we can always unite on common projects like fighting evils, trying to break down racial discrimination, etc. In our Protesant faith we have the World Council of Churches, which is doing great things to unite the nation of Japan, as in China and other countries. Our missionaries have brought the various denominations together in what is known as the United Church of Christ in Japan. This proves that when the light of the Christian gospel does come to these nations, their methods are often more direct than ours in Canada.

To the question, what is the reason for sending missionaries to other lands when they are needed more badly here, I would say we have had full opportunity in Canada of hearing the Christian message with many years of the services of missionaries and ministers, with many churches earnestly inviting everyone to come, worship, listen, and act. If we didn't take it all for granted so much, perhaps we might appreciate our opportunities more. In Japan, where great war havoc destroyed many Christian schools and churches, Kagawa, sometimes spoken of as one of the world's finest Christians, is calling for at least 1000 missionaries to be sent there.

In one of our recent church papers I saw an article on this question, written by a former Nelson minister. He said: "God gives abundantly to all, irrespective of race, color or station. His abundance should rebuke us for our parsimony and lead us to a new era of Christian missions. Workmen can be obtained and money secured if we share our abundance."

Our United Cturch is endeavoring to teach millions of illiterates to read by the Dr. Laubauch method. We are also teaching more up-to-date methods of farming so the people can grow more food. Medical missionaries look after health problems. If we at home practised our Christianity more seriously we would spend less money on selfish fancied needs, many spending on that narcotic drug, alcohol. Then we would have more to spend on worthwhile projects such as sending Christ's workers to those countries that are under the bondage of superstitions, many fears and much misery.

It is to our shame that so many do not work hard enough at their religion and are so often indifferent, too much concerned about other activities or just plain lazy. We should try to set a better example.

EDITH N. HARRIS.

"Leap Year Tower"

To the Editor:

Sir —In your Feb. 8 issue I noticed some very fine pictures of the steel tower erected on the shore of Kootenay Lake to support the power lines carrying Kootenay River power to Riondel. You are to be congratulated on the clarity of these pictures.

It was also observed that the height of this tower was 366 feet. The tower being completed during the month of February, 1952, would suggest to me that it may be very appropriate to christen it the "Leap Year Tower".

Yours for continued success,

HORACE SIMPSON.

Trail, B. C.

(Editor's note: Many thanks. Even the mention of the word "leap" in connection with the tower has turned our photographer, who had to climb the spider web of steel to get the pictures, pale all over again.)

A kind word, a smile a day,
Will help you well along life's way.

Mrs. A. N. K., Trail—Referring to your question if anyone locally does needlepoint, we have been asked to inform you that this type of work is done by Mr. and Mrs. T. Davison, 511 Turner Street, Trail, and Mrs. Glowachuck, 707 Fifth Street, Nelson.

Amateur, Nelson—Is there any way to join rubber?

Rubber is easily joined, and can be made as strong as the original fabric, by softening before a fire, laying edges together, without dust, moisture or dirt between. Cut the edges neatly beforehand. Tubing can be joined by rolling it around a glass cylinder, powdering the inside of the tube first with fine flour to prevent accidental adherence to the glass.

Mrs. H. K., Creston—Please print recipe for apple strudel.

Three cups flour, one tablespoon butter, three-quarters cup water. The water should be warm enough to melt butter. Mix all ingredients to form a light dough, similar to bread, knead till smooth and elastic, then place on bread board, cover with warm bowl and leave in warm place while preparing crumbs. Fry one and one-quarter cups of the breadcrumbs in four tablespoons butter until crisp brown; let these cool and peel four apples in thin slices; put cloth over table and sprinkle with flour, rub melted butter over dough, then start to stretch it, closing your hands and pushing it out under your fists. Do not use fingers in case nails tear dough. Stretch, pull and work till as thin as tissue paper, brush with melted butter, sprinkle with fried crumbs, sliced apples, sugar, cinnamon, coconut and a few chopped raisins, fold over, and cover again with same ingredients. Keep this up till all dough is rolled, then cut in lengths to fit pan, sprinkle with melted butter, and bake in 375 F. oven for about 45 minutes, or until apples are soft. Makes six strudels, which should be served warm.

This Week at Victoria

By LEO T. NIMSICK, M.L.A. for Cranbrook

On arriving in Vancouver I made a visit to the Children's Hospital. I must say I was greatly impressed by the marvellous work carried on in that institution. Large numbers of crippled children are being treated daily, many of them free of charge due to the generous donations that the hospital receives from the public.

As I travelled to Victoria I noticed that the seagulls were more numerous than ever. In fact, they were so numerous that it reminded me of the administration office of the Hospital Insurance Service.

The House opened Tuesday without any of the usual fanfare, in respect of the death of King George VI. The Speech from the Throne was very short, not for the number of words in it but for the lack of mention of matters of importance. I expected a full-dress discussion on the reports of committees on Hospital Insurance, the I. C. & A. Act and the Compensation Act, but outside of a few items to be dealt with from the Compensation Report the rest will just be tabled. It is gratifying to know that several of the recommendations in the Hospital Insurance Report are identical with what I proposed last Spring, and, if adopted, would be of great benefit to everyone, especially to those in the low income bracket.

The reasons for the dissension in the Coalition were aired on the floor of the House, and the greater part of the last three days has been taken up with listening to the evidence of the "plaintiff" and the "defendant". Sounded to me rather like the case of where the irate husband got tired of his nagging wife and one morning in a flare of temper booted her out. Now each is before the court giving his reasons, and, as the case unfolds, one cannot help but feel that both realize that the whole affair was hasty, but they must go through with it now, and the people will judge the case at the election which is promised some time this year.

For those people who are worried about the tailings from the Estella Mine running into Wasa Lake, I wish to say that I took this matter up with the Departments concerned and they promised immediate action to see that this does not happen.

One of the last items of the week was a Bill to change the horse-racing regulations—probably thought to be more important than hospital insurance.

And so ended the week.

Ban Leaves Canada With No Meat Markets

VICTORIA, B. C., Feb. 26 (CP)—Agriculture Minister Gardiner said today Canadians should not be stampeded by the outbreak of hoof-and-mouth disease among cattle near Regina, and that it would be "nonsense" to close Provincial boundaries.

The Minister said in an interview that nothing should be done to affect discussions between Canadian and American authorities about the possible lifting of the ban imposed by the U.S. on importing of meat from Canada.

Mr. Gardiner warned that Canadian world and domestic markets could be ruined unless the fight against the disease is properly handled.

"The main thing now is to keep our heads and not to panic buyers in the Canadian Provinces, the U.S., Britain and other parts of the world into slamming the door against us."

Mr. Gardiner will cut short his Western vacation and fly back to Ottawa tomorrow from Vancouver. He leaves from Victoria for Vancouver by boat at midnight tonight.

The Minister was to have addressed the British Columbia Natural Resources Conference, opening here tomorrow.

LOSS TO B. C.

He said the Provinces have the authority to close their boundaries to cattle, but that this seemed to him like a "very foolish" move.

He said he hoped that the U.S. ban on Canadian cattle would not be a long one, but that talks are being carried on in Washington. The ban would leave Canada with no export market at all, Mr. Gardiner said.

Provincial Agriculture Department authorities say they are ready to cooperate with Ottawa in any way possible to prevent the spread of disease.

Closing of the inter-Provincial border would leave a vast hole in British Columbia's meat supply.

Figures for 1950, latest available, show that during the year a total of 235,000 hogs, 56,000 cattle, 26,000 calves and 27,000 sheep and lambs came into B. C.

The Province also imported 6,750,000 pounds of dressed beef and veal, and 9,600,000 pounds of pork and pork products.

Government and meat-packing firms spokesmen say there should be no increase in meat prices here this week.

Livestock Commissioner Dr. W. R. Gunn said supplies might get low if there is panic buying.

"We could get meat from the United States, and it would not necessarily be higher priced than what we now have," he said.

No Panic Selling In Alta. Market

CALGARY, Feb. 26 (CP) — No panic selling by Southern Alberta cattle producers is reported in the wake of the outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease among livestock in the Regina area.

There was little or no run of livestock at the Alberta stockyards here today and opening market prices ranged on the same level as yesterday—$1 to $3 lower on various classes.

Local packing plants were bidding briskly for butcher cattle. A representative of the Pacific Meat Company of Vancouver was among the buyers.

The fact that the British Columbia outlet for Alberta livestock still is open proved cheering news to producers and commission men alike.

They felt that as long as there were no restrictions on interprovincial shipment of dressed meat there was little chance of a serious break in livestock prices.

Maritime Lumber Below War Peak

By The Canadian Press

There is a strong feeling among operators that the Maritimes, lumbering more than 520,000,000 board feet a year, have reached capacity production.

John Bigelow, director of the Maritime Lumber Bureau, noted this in a conversation with The Canadian Press. Last year's production was only about 5 per cent more than in 1950.

"And there is nothing in sight to indicate that any more will be produced in the current season," said Mr. Bigelow.

Production now was about 30-35 per cent below the wartime peak.

PRICES DOWN

The United States, which bought heavily in 1949-50, hung back last year, forcing prices down and taking less than 80,000,000 board feet, 11 per cent less than the previous year. The Maritimes competed with Quebec and Ontario for the American market.

The United Kingdom took 60,000 feet in 1951, an increase of 20 per cent. In 1952, the U.K. will take about half that figure, unless there is a drastic change in the dollar situation, Mr. Bigelow said. An export of pit props will also be made to the U.K.

Ireland's import from the Maritimes increased more than 10 per cent last year to 20,000,000 feet, a figure that was expected to be nearly doubled this year.

The domestic Nova Scotia-New Brunswick market will probably account for a steady 65,000,000 feet.

KIMBERLEY—Kimberley citizens, including youngsters of all ages and sizes, were saddened and shocked to hear of the death of Frank Redding Saturday evening. The popular Kimberley businessman, the father of Dynamiter coach Ralph Redding, was truly a great sports booster.

Yours truly met him several times in the last two years in connection with youth activities. May we offer our sincerest sympathy to the Redding family.

Two stars of the last few seasons, first baseman Red Matthews and chucker Eric Bodin, will likely line up with the professional Seattle club . . . The Elks, too, will be without flashy Bill Hryciuk again.

Kimberley Juveniles are going to use five Kimberley Midgets in their quest for Kootenay hockey laurels. The Juves, who are coached by Harry Brown, former Dynamiter, will play all games on home ice this Winter while the other Kimberley kid hockey teams will travel Westward.

★ ★ ★

Care for some more predictions? The Kootenay winner will be forced to the final game before the B.C. winner advances, despite the fact that the B.C. finals will be played here. Either Kamloops or the Nanaimo-Vancouver winner could make things mighty hot . . . And if games were played in the West would have to be given at least 2-1 odds. Even now we would be willing to give something better than even odds for the powerful squad that will probably have to meet Trail's unpredictable Smokies.

Cranbrook's beautiful high school gym was the scene of East Kootenay's first junior high school basketball tournament Saturday afternoon. With boys' and girls' squads from Fernie, Creston, Kimberley and the host club participating, the big sports meet did much to build the growing sport of basketball in the East Kootenays.

LEAFS WIN SERIES OPENER, 6-2

Take Advantage of Dynamiter Penalties To Grab 5-2 1st-Period Lead, Coast In

Nelson Maple Leafs took advantage of two first-period Kimberley penalties to rap in three goals in two minutes and go on to defeat the Dynamiters 6-2 in the opening game of their best-of-five W.I.H.L. Allan Cup semi-final series.

The Dynamiters started strongly, Claude Bell scoring the all-important first goal at 7:41 on a nice passing play with Barre and Livingstone and more than holding their own in the close checking.

A hooking penalty to Ken Simpson at 10:30 proved disastrous for the visitors, however. The Leafs poured to the attack and Johnny Harms netted the tying goal just six seconds later, then roared back for his second at 10:56 to give the Leafs a lead they never relinquished.

Nelson were opportunists again two minutes later when Buck Kavanagh was sent off for hooking. The power play paid off with Willie Schmidt connecting at 12:47, 23 seconds after the penalty.

Buzz Mellor put the Dynamiters back in the running at 15:25 on a fluke counter, firing from behind the net and caroming it off defender Willie Schmidt's stick into the twine.

Don Appleton squared this account at 18:20 when he fired one from the blueline and caught the inside of McLay's skate, the puck dribbling through his pads.

With less than half a minute to go in the first frame, Neil McClenaghan made it 5-2 after a goal-mouth scramble to give the locals a commanding lead.

Play tightened in the scoreless second frame although Nelson outplayed the visitors by a wide margin. McLay was called upon to stop 11 drives as against one by Rodzinyak.

Red Koehle scored the final marker of the game at the 36-second mark of the third when he outraced the Kimberley defence and flipped a neat back-hander into the top corner from close in.

Dynamiters put on the pressure the rest of the way, outshooting the Leafs 7-2 but failed to dent a stout Nelson defence.

Eleven penalties were handed out by referees Jimmy Morris of Trail and Jerry Pettigrew of Spokane, six of them going to the visitors.

The Leafs again used ex-Penticton star Willie Schmidt on the strength of a telegram from George Dudley, C.A.H.A. secretary-treasurer, granting permission to replace Bob Gilhooly.

Kimberley again filed protest of the game, on the grounds Schmidt has not been cleared.

The teams go back at it Thursday night here with the locale shifting to Kimberley Saturday.

CANADIAN SCHOOL CURLING CHAMPS AGAIN . . . Gary Thode's Saskatchewan Tech rink had no trouble retaining national honors won here in Nelson last year. The Saskatchewan boys swept through all opposition for nine straight victories last week at Moncton, N.B., to again cop the Sifton Trophy. B.C. representative, Murray Green of Vernon, finished in a three-way tie for third with five wins and four losses. The beaming winners, left to right, are skip Thode, third Gary Cooper, second Doug Conn and lead Roy Hufsmith.

Air Travel Made Finals Too Hectic Says Wallace

The experiment in flying Western school curling finalists to Moncton this year succeeded only in making the event more hectic for the competitors.

This was the view expressed by T. A. Wallace, B.C. representative on the national playdowns committee, who accompanied Murray Green's Vernon rink to the Maritimes this month.

Mr. Wallace, who returned Monday, made the comment in a talk to the Nelson Gyro Club.

"I'm not trying to drum up business for the railroad but flying speeded up travelling time too much and didn't give the boys enough rest."

The four Western rinks flew East from Winnipeg going to the event and as far as Winnipeg on the return trip. He said the plane was late leaving Winnipeg with the result the lads had only two hours sleep before the round of activities started on their arrival in Toronto.

He praised the hospitality of Moncton, Toronto and Hamilton people but thought there was "too much entertainment," even more than the boys received when the event was held here last year.

As a result, the boys didn't have a spare moment to catch up on rest from the time they left Winnipeg until returning.

Mr. Wallace added that a heavy snow storm which made it difficult to get around, also complicated things during their Moncton stay.

As for the curling, the veteran Nelson player had nothing but praise for Gary Thode's Saskatchewan rink which swept through to its second consecutive title undefeated. "That rink could beat any senior rink, in my estimation," he said.

BOOM-BOOM GEOFFRION . . . top contender for the N.H.L. rookie award who has taken up the scoring slack for Canadiens since the injury to Maurice Richard. Geoffrion has 25 goals, tying him with Richard for the second highest total in the league behind Gordie Howe of the Red Wings who has 35.

HOWE'S GOAL WINS FOR WINGS

BOSTON, Feb. 26 (CP) — Detroit's top-place Red Wings defeated Boston Bruins 4-3 tonight in the first National Hockey League game played at the arena in 24 years. Gordie Howe's second goal of the game, his 37th of the season, clinched matters with less than two minutes remaining.

The game's site was switched after a severed brine pipe put the Boston Garden's ice-making plant out of commission.

The Red Wings gained a 2-0 lead during the first period on goals by Alex Delvecchio and Ted Lindsay. Howe's first counter was sandwiched by Boston goals scored by rookie Real Chevrefils and Johnny Pierson in the second session. With less than three minutes remaining in the middle frame, George (Red) Sullivan put the Bruins into a 3-3 tie as the Red Wings played shorthanded.

The 4049 crowd was the smallest the Bruins have attracted in more than 24 years, before they moved from the arena to the more spacious garden.

By winning tonight, the Red Wings moved to within six points of clinching first place in the N.H.L. race. They have a 19-point lead over second-place Montreal Canadiens and need only three more victories in their remaining 13 games to nail down top spot.

For Boston the loss was a setback in the Bruins' campaign for the fourth and last playoff spot. They trail New York Rangers by three points.

Howe's two goals tonight maintained a spectacular scoring streak for the league's leading scorer. Howe has scored at least one goal a game in the Red Wings' last nine games. With 37 goals and 29 assists—a margin of eight points over Elmer Lach of Montreal—the big right winger is almost assured of finishing on top of the scoring column.

MORTSON CASE HEARING TODAY

TORONTO, Feb. 26 (CP) — Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, said tonight the hearing dealing with Toronto defenceman Gus Mortson's alleged kicking of New York Rangers' Hy Buller had been adjourned to New York at 11 a.m. Wednesday.

Mortson appeared before Campbell in Toronto Monday after being given a match penalty Feb. 19 for what referee George Gravel called "deliberately trying to injure" Buller. The game ended in a 3-3 tie.

Also attending were Joe Primeau, Hap Day, Referee Gravel and N.H.L. referee-in-chief Carl Voss.

Phil Smith Bowls Perfect Game . . .

¼-Mile Running Oval May Be Built in Trail This Year; Boxing Interest Up

Last week in Trail we had the high bowler of the month with a score of 410. This week bowler of the season comes forth in the person of Phil Smith who bowled a perfect game in open bowling at the Legion alleys, with a score of 450. Then, to top it off, after being jokingly challenged by friends to roll a 13th frame he made another strike.

This is the first time a perfect score has been accomplished in Trail and places Phil in line for the $100 award offered by the B.C. Bowling Operators' Association.

With the Winter season coming to an end the Trail Athletic Association is looking and planning Spring activities.

Of coming interest this year will be the revitalization of track and field in Trail. This sport has been on the decline for the past few years until finally it died out completely. The main reason for the decline was lack of facilities.

It is hoped that this year might see the start in construction of a quarter mile running track and oval. If this plan suceeds, inter-city meets will be staged which should revive interest in track and field throughout the Kootenays.

Now that the hockey season is nearly over there is much activity on the part of the boxers and wrestlers. With the removal of ice from the arena, better and bigger boxing and wrestling cards will be featured this year.

Because of the Club's promotional schemes, boxing clubs have been organized in Castlegar and Grand Forks which will mean that our future shows will have the local color, which is necessary to make the cards interesting and exciting.

Sport Briefs

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 26 (AP)—New York Yankee manager Casey Stengel hopes to have a "big six" this year.

Stengel is counting on aces Vic Raschi, Allie Reynolds and Ed Lopat as top three starting pitchers and expects Johnny Sain, Jim McDonald and Tom Morgan to come through to form a crew of six starting pitchers.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 26 (AP) —The New York Giants were only four players short of their full roster of 35 today after outfielders Monte Irvin and Willie Mays and infielders Bill Rigney and Henry Thompson checked in.

Still due are pitchers Sal Maglie and Hoyt Wilhelm, catcher Ray Noble and first baseman Marvin Blaylock.

SOX FLINGERS BETTER

SARASOTA, Fla., Feb. 26 (AP)—There has been a startling improvement in the Boston Red Sox pitching staff this training season and manager Lou Boudreau credits it to the veteran Bill McKechnie.

That former manager of four National League clubs has been giving pointers to all of Boudreau's flingers, with the result that such experienced hands as Maury McDermott, Bill Wight, Walt Masterson and Willard Nixon look much better than a year ago this time.

HAMILTON, Feb. 26 (CP)—Coach Carl Voyles of the Hamilton Tiger-Cats, this city's entry in the Big Four Football Union, today expressed the opinion that the weekend ruling allowing eight United States imports, could break the back of some Canadian clubs.

"I don't know where all this is going to end," he said. "That additional expense of the other import may well prove just too much for us to bear. I don't see how we can keep pace with the tremendous spending."

"Instead of eight imports, the Canadian Rugby Union should have worked in reverse and chopped them to five. Then we could concentrate on developing the Canadian players."

VICTORIA, B.C., Feb. 26 (CP)—Victoria's entry in the Western International Baseball League is starting this season with a new name as well as new manager.

The team will be known as Victoria Tyees, instead of Athletics, business manager Reg Patterson has announced.

Tyee is an Indian word which means big and is used to describe the big salmon which have made B.C. fishing world-famous.

Club officials and fans hope that the change in name will herald a big season for the island club, which last week signed Cecil Garriott, former Coast league star, as manager.

TWO TIES IN BANTAM TILTS

Maple Leafs came up with a win and tie in Nelson Bantam Hockey League games last week, edging the Black Hawks 4-3 and drawing 1-1 with Bruins.

In another close tilt, Rangers and Black Hawks played to a 2-2 stalemate.

Bill Gibbon led Maple Leafs to their win over the Hawks, scoring twice and assisting on a third. Horswill and Chursinow scored the others. Ball got two for the losers with Monteleone adding the other.

Spencer got the Maple Leaf goal in the 1-1 tie while Kraft replied for the Bruins.

Monteleone and Ball notched Black Hawks' tallies against the Rangers whose scorers were Price and Moojelsky.

STODDARD LOST TO RANGERS

NEW YORK, Feb. 26 (AP)—Jack Stoddard, lanky rookie right winger, fractured his right wrist in practice today and will be lost to New York Rangers for the remainder of the National Hockey League season.

The 25-year-old, 6-3 forward, a native of Stoney Creek, Ont., who came up to the Rangers from Providence in December, suffered the injury in a collision with defenceman Jim Ross. Dr. Vincent A. Nardiello, the club physician, said Stoddard was through for the season.

Ray Powell Aims For A.H.L. Triple Crown

NEW YORK, Feb. 26 (AP) — Ray Powell of Providence Reds, virtually assured of the American Hockey League scoring crown, has his sights trained on the goal-getting and assist titles.

The veteran centre leads the league with 87 points and also tops the circuit in goals with 34 and assists with 53. No player in the league's history has ever led all three scoring departments in one season.

Jackie Hamilton of St. Louis and Steve Wochy of Cleveland are tied for second place in the scoring race at 68 points apiece. Wochy also is second in goals with 33 and Hamilton in assists, 46.

Agar Pacing PCL Scorers

SEATTLE, Feb. 26 (AP)—George Agar of Calgary continues to lead the Pacific Coast Hockey League with 76 points for the season on 31 goals and 45 assists, President Al Leader announced today.

The new scoring totals, released weekly by the league, include last night's games.

Close behind Agar is New Westminster's Gordon Fashoway with 73. Eddie Dorohoy of Victoria has 70, Wingy Johnston of Tacoma 68, and Guyle Fielder of New Westminster, Frank Kubasek of Edmonton and Barton Bradley and Moe Young of Tacoma, each 65.

Dorohoy has the most assists with 48 and Fashoway the most goals with 45.

Lucien Dechene of New Westminster still tops the league's goaltenders with an average of 2.66 goals allowed per game.

WHILE HER TWO CHILDREN LOOK ON, Mrs. George A. Davis Jr. is seen sorting out a stack of sympathy cards in their home at Lubbock, Texas. INTO A JUNGLE CLEARING in North Central Malaya, British parachute troops were dropped by a combined force of R.A.F. and R.A.A.F. aircraft. The clearing lies in a bowl of 4000-foot mountains, and the dropping operation was a race against time. The site of the air-drop was a remote area of Central Malaya, inaccessible by road or river. Communist bandits were using the area as a rest and training area and for the growing of food. Food is becoming one of their great problems, since the Malayan government introduced severe restrictions on the movement of foodstuffs by road. On the way to the dropping zone the heavily equipped paratroops, shown here, were cramped inside their Dakota aircraft. Many landed on trees and bushes.—Central Press Canadian.

U.K. Special Board Deals With Problem of Delinquent Children

LONDON, (CP) — Establishment by the government of a strong inter-departmental committee to tackle the problem of child delinquency in Britain, is recommended by a special board which has been studying the subject for three years.

The board, appointed in 1948 and headed by H. W. F. Franklin, headmaster of Epsom College, blames "the present chaotic situation of overlapping responsibilities" for confusing the proper handling of maladjusted children both before they become delinquents and afterwards. It urges the Ministry of Education, Health Ministry and Home Office to formulate a common policy as the only means of securing better justice for the problem child.

The board finds a close association between dullness and delinquency and contends that many dull and unstable children have found their way into corrective institutions because their special educational and medical needs have been left unsolved in their earlier years.

The report says that not a single witness appeared before the board to suggest that corporal punishment should be abolished. It found that the cane was being used judiciously in all approved schools and remand homes.

After examining the four types of cane in use, the report concludes that none could be considered a brutal weapon. It held, however, that the type used in senior boys' schools was too thick and rigid and more likely to cause bruises than pain. It recommended a longer thinner cane.

The proposal was branded as "shocking" by the London Star which suggested the recommendation be torn up and that parliament should insist on abolition of corporal punishment.

The Star added: "When the Home Secretary considers the report he might remember the Spaniard's retort to an English critic of bull fighting: 'At least in our country we don't flog children.'"

A GROUP of British soldiers stand around the wreckage of an Egyptian oil train that was blown up by terrorists at El Kap, 25 miles North of Ismailia on the main Suez-Port Said line. Although the first six tankers of the train were completely wrecked by two powerful mines, the only British casualties were some soldiers suffering from scratches. It was the first planned attack in the Canal Zone since the Cairo riots weeks ago.—Central Press Canadian.

Medicine Hat Natural Gas Fires Ovens for Czech Pottery, Vases

MEDICINE HAT, Alta. (CP) — Medicine Hat has added paper weights, figurines and flower vases to its $35,000,000 a year production of such things as bottles, pottery, sewer pipes and agricultural produce.

And it can thank a group of Czechoslovakian immigrants. In a hangar at the airport, under guidance of John Furch, who has been in the glass business for 25 years, these men are turning out paper weights, intricately spun little figurines and even have the equipment to make glass buttons.

The business was first located in Stratford, Ont., but was moved to Medicine Hat because of the cheap natural gas available here. Mr. Furch said he can run the plant here for a month at the same cost of a day's operations in Stratford.

An engineer, he designed three furnaces and he also makes his own glass. Each evening after the day's work is done he mixes the silica sand and chemicals and leaves it to melt overnight to be ready for the next day's operations.

Mr. Furch makes 300 pounds of glass each night and is hopeful of soon having a furnace that will handle a couple of tons.

Mr. Furch left Czechoslovakia in 1938 when Hitler entered his country. He went to Yorkshire, England, to work in glass factories, and later came to Canada.

The intricate figures of deer, swans and other animals and birds are made by hand. The buttons are made by hand. In Stratford the factory concentrated on buttons but it has branched out since moving to Medicine Hat.

ACCUSED of robbing a travel agency operator, Anthony Chirlelelson (right) was awarded a mistrial in Kings County Court, Brooklyn, N.Y., after the chief witness was unable to tell whether it was Anthony or his twin brother, John, shown with him, who pulled the alleged stick-up. Even court attendants failed to tell the two apart. When Anthony was remanded to jail after failure to post $25,000 fine, guards snapped handcuffs on John before realizing they had the wrong man.—Central Press Canadian.

Market Trends

NEW YORK, Feb. 26 (AP) — With trading at around the slowest pace of the year, prices drifted lower despite isolated strength.

Losses were mostly fractional, with the deepest inroads going to between two and three points among leading issues.

Canadian issues were mostly lower. Hiram Walker elevated ⅛, Canadian Pacific plummetted ¾, Dome Mines tottered ⅝, and International Nickel dropped. Distillers Seagrams remained unchanged, and McIntyre was unquoted.

TORONTO (CP)—Support weakened steadily as stock market prices slipped continuously toward the session's close.

Leading industrials changed hands steadily, and a wide list of penny golds, lower-priced metals and Western oils attracted speculative interest.

MONTREAL (CP)—Prices weakened steadily near the close.

Fractional declines at the opening spread to major losses as the session progressed, continuing Monday's late weakness. A few declines ranged to about two points, while advances were scattered and generally fractional.

LONDON (Reuters)—Disappointed by the postponement of United Kingdom budget day to March 11 and news of an increase in charges for certain loans, prices were mainly easier.

Falls of up to ½ point in gilt-edged followed the raising of the rate of interest on loans by the Agricultural Mortgage Corporation from 4¾ to 5½ per cent.

Calgary Livestock

CALGARY, Feb 26 (CP)—Trade was moderately active on the Calgary Livestock Market, with some classes steady at Monday's lower level. Others were lower, some sharply. Offerings were a little heavier, at 750 cattle and calves.

Good butcher steers and heifers were around $3 lower for the week, the odd choice steer bringing $27.50. Cows were $2 or more lower and bulls sharply lower. Stocker and feeder steers were going as killers at $20 to $24 per hundredweight. These showed the biggest loss of around $5 to $6. Veal calves were about steady.

Hogs dropped 65 cents Monday, closing at $24, and sows lost 25 cents at $15. Good lambs were about steady at $23.75. No ewes were sold.

Good to choice butcher steers, $25 to $27; common to medium, $19 to $24.50.

Bone Meal Cause Of Dock Strike

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 26 (CP)—A cargo of bone meal which made some longshoremen sneeze so hard they developed nosebleeds is being blamed for a tieup of dry cargo shipping in the Philadelphia port area.

Some 4000 members of the International Longshoremen's Association (A.F.L.) were idle for the second day today in a strike resulting from demands for premium pay for handling cargo classed as obnoxious.

Union officials claim such classification should have been given the 40,000 bags of bone meal which started the dispute that led to closing of hiring halls Monday.

Bone meal is ground bone used to manufacture poultry feed and fertilizer.

A management spokesman claims the workers violated an agreement to arbitrate disputes over cargo classification.

VANCOUVER, Feb. 25 (CP) — A couple out strolling late today found the body of an unidentified woman washed up on Locarno Beach here.

CONSERVATIVES WIN VOTE

LONDON, Feb. 26 (Reuters)—The Conservative Government defeated an attempt tonight by the Labor Opposition to censure Winston Churchill's son-in-law, Supply Minister Duncan Sandys. The vote was 250 to 203.

The qaurrel centred on the raising of the average price of steel by £4 a ton, announced today.

B. C. Leading In Narcotic Habits

OTTAWA, Feb. 26 (CP) — The Federal Health Department, without giving any figures, said today that narcotic addiction is on the increase among Canadians. As is the case in the United States, some of the addicts are teen-agers.

In its report for the fiscal year ended last March 31, the Department said:

"Addiction is known to have increased during the year, partly due to the availability of substantial quantities of heroin which have been smuggled into the country, and partly to general high levels of prosperity and consequent increased earning power of addicts and potential addicts.

Most of the narcotic traffic is centred in British Columbia. Of 360 convictions obtained in the judicial year ended Sept. 30, 1950, 173 cases were in British Columbia.

ALBERTA INCREASE

"In contrast, there has been very little narcotic addiction uncovered in the Maritime Provinces," said the report. "A marked increase in the number of cases in Alberta has occurred; 45 as compared to 23 in the previous year.

"There was no increase in the number of females associated with illicit transactions, with the ratio of male to female convictions remaining at about five to two.

"There does, however, appear to be a lowering in the average age of new addicts; a number have come to the attention of enforcement officers who were in their early 20s, and some in their teens."

Suspect Seen by Plane Hostess

NEW YORK, Feb. 26 (AP) — A man wanted for questioning in a $19,600 Los Angeles bank holdup was seized by F.B.I. agents at La Guardia Field early today after his description had been checked by radio with a plane coming in from the West coast.

In Los Angeles, where police were notified of the arrest, Lt. George Stoner identified the prisoner as John Richard Bayless, 37.

A branch of the Bank of America in Los Angeles was robbed Monday as movieland customers waited in line, unaware of the holdup.

A T.W.A. spokesman said the F.B.I. had radioed a description of the wanted man to the plane as it flew over Pittsburgh. Capt. B. K. Steussi, 37, passed the word to the hostess.

The hostess, Jeri Starr, 21, spotted the passenger in seat No. 6, and gave a description to the captain.

The man's description was radioed back to the F.B.I. agents at the field, and double-checked.

TOBACCO DEALERS WATCH FOR CUTS

VANCOUVER, Feb. 26 (CP). — Tobacco dealers here are keeping a wary eye on Ottawa, watching for a possible announcement of price cuts in tobacco.

Wholesalers here today report retailers are keeping small cigaret stocks on hand in case a price cut would catch them with large stocks.

One wholesaler reported large stocks would break many small retailers, but that distributing houses are conducting an "educational program" to forestall this.

Some optimistic dealers expect cigaret prices to drop to 35 or 30 cents a package against the present price in British Columbia of 43 cents.

Vancouver Fights Mill Rate Increase

VANCOUVER, Feb. 26 (CP) — City departments were ordered by City Council today to slash expenditures to the bone to avert a 15-mill jump in 1952 taxes.

But despite strict economy and drawing on reserves, citizens face a three-mill tax boost, restoration of the seven-per cent business tax rate, and increases in water rates and building, plumbing, electrical inspection and other fees.

Drastic action was recommended by City Comptroller Frank Jones to bridge the gap between $32,454,583 estimated income and $37,234,533 estimated expenditures, according to preliminary figures.

Coast Bricklayers Ask $3 Per Hour

VANCOUVER, B. C., Feb. 26 (CP) —Bricklayers here will seek wages of $3 an hour, an increase of 90 cents from the present scale.

The increase is being demanded by the American Federation of Labor Bricklayers' Union, representing about 175 workers.

Present contract with a $2.10 rate expires April 30.

Bricklayers claim the high increase is necessary because most of them only work about six months a year, and earn about $1800.

Cancel Annual Show

REGINA, Feb. 26 (CP). — The Saskatchewan Cattle Breeders' Association today decided not to hold its annual show and sale, scheduled for the Regina Exhibition grounds March 25-26, because of the outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease in the district.

Catalogues of intended entries for the sale will be sent out to prospective buyers outside the quarantine area. The cattle sale was to have been held in the new livestock pavilion, scheduled for official opening March 10.

Swine breeders of the province were due to hold a sale of animals during the same week but that too will be called off because hogs are as much susceptible to the disease as cattle.

Germany Must Unite Before Discussing Peace With Soviet

BONN, Feb. 26 (AP)—The Western big three powers said today Germany must be united through free and secret elections before they will discuss a German peace treaty with the Soviet Union.

This was their answer to a request from the Soviet-controlled East German government for speedy conclusion of a German peace treaty.

The big three statement put the Russians on the spot on Western proposals for three national elections to unify Germany.

Britain, the United States and France made their position clear in a statement announcing that a West German proposal for such elections has been sent to Soviet authorities in East Germany.

Internal Autonomy For Tunis Mooted

TUNIS, Tunisia, Feb. 26 (Reuters) —France has "accepted in principle" internal autonomy for this riot-troubled North African territory, it has been authoritatively reported.

But the plan depends on stage-by-stage reforms aimed at increased Tunisian participation in local government.

This may involve setting up a new Parliament to take the place of the present Tunisian Grand Council—a Legislature of equal French and Tunisian membership.

BARBARA KELLY

JOAN FLEETWOOD

A £5-A-WEEK TYPIST from Birmingham, England, who for years has been trying to save up enough money to visit her closest friend in Toronto, has become the lucky winner of a soccer pool jackpot. The recipient of a $196,000 fortune from National Soccer Sweepstake, 30-year-old Barbara Kelly intends to visit Canada to renew a 14-year friendship with Joan Fleetwood, a telephone operator, who has only been in Canada four years. But she is at a loss what to do with the rest of her new-found wealth. "I don't want fine clothes—I hate fur coats—and I have never wanted to go to Paris or on a Mediterranean cruise," she said dazedly as she retreated into a corner to do some mental arithmetic.

Seeks Action on River Project

REGINA, Feb. 26 (CP).—Opposition leader Walter Tucker said today a report the Saskatchewan Government was kept "in the dark" prompted the Federal Government's decision to investigate by Royal Commission the feasibility of the proposed South Saskatchewan River project.

Mr. Tucker, speaking at a meeting of the Legislative Crown Corporation Committee, said this report, prepared for the provincial government, led federal authorities to "have some doubts about this (project) from the standpoint of producing electricity."

He demanded that the report, prepared by David Cass-Beggs, a Toronto electrical engineer, be tabled at once in the provincial legislature.

Mr. Tucker further accused the Saskatchewan Government of "political trickery" in blaming Ottawa for the delay on the proposed irrigation and power project.

He spoke during the committee's consideration of the annual report for the government finance office. It contained a special services expenditure item for $6553, of which $3716 represented payments to Mr. Cass-Beggs for reports and work done for the government.

Provincial Treasurer C. M. Fines said Mr. Tucker's statements were "entirely unwarranted." The Opposition leader could ask for tabling of the report by introducing in the legislature a motion for a return. Mr. Fines said he though the report would be tabled if it was "in the public interest."

Al Ahram Outlines Canal Zone Talks

CAIRO, Feb. 26 (AP)—The independent newspaper Al Ahram says today Egypt in negotiations with Britain starting Saturday will propose a period for withdrawal of British troops from the Suez Canal Zone.

She also will propose that a number of British military experts train Egyptian forces to take over the Suez base and that Britain supply arm and equipment, the newspaper says. The account adds:

The military proposals will be contained in one of three notes. A second will propose a plebiscite in the Sudan to determine whether that Upper Nile country unites with Egypt or becomes independent. It will suggest a provisional parliament and a provisional cabinet with British and Egyptian advisers to rule under a United Nations Commission's supervision in the transitory period. The present British Governor-General would be displaced.

A third note will propose conditions under which Egypt would participate in a Middle East defence organization and its relations with the U.N. and such regional defence systems as the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

There was little trading. Only 10 head of cattle were on hand.

Alexander Lines Up With Duke of Wellington and Earl Kitchener

LIVERPOOL, England, Feb. 26—(CP) — Field Marshal Alexander came home today to Britain, to an Earldom and to a peacetime post as exacting as the military tasks he performed in wartime.

The retiring Governor General of Canada, summoned from abroad to take over the Defence Ministry in Prime Minister Winston Churchill's Government, arrived in Liverpool aboard the Cunard liner Franconia.

He is one of three Field Marshals to hold Ministerial rank in British history. The other two were the Duke of Wellington and Earl Kitchener of Khartoum.

In London, the Daily Mail predicted the new Defence Minister may have a rough ride when he takes over the portfolio from Churchill.

"Parliament has an instinctive distrust of famous soldiers as Ministers—dating back to (Oliver) Cromwell," the Daily Mail said.

LABOR OPPOSITION

As an Earl, Alexander will not sit in the House of Commons. Appointment of still another peer to Government has already arounsed criticism from the Opposition Labor Party.

"HAPPY YEARS"

In an interview on arrival, Lord Alexander spoke to reporters of his six "happy and interesting" years as Governor General of Canada.

He said he has some new ideas to bring to his job, but would have to wait and see what his organization was like. He would start in "right away."

Disembarking with him at Liverpool were Countess Alexander, their son Brian, and an adopted daughter, Susan. Another son, Shane, is at school in Harrow, and a daughter, Rose, is completing a course at McGill University.

Alexander, an Ulsterman, will take over the London home of General Sir Gerald Templer, another Ulsterman, who recently assumed command of the war against the terrorists in Malaya.

The Alexanders have a country home in the rolling Buckinghamshire hills, between Amersham and Chalfont St. Giles, which will be rented or sold.

Lord Alexander will dine with Churchill Thursday night.

Free Trip to America For French "Steward"

LE HAVRE, France, Feb. 26 (Reuters) — Lucien Curty, 53, bluffed his way through a free transatlantic round trip to New York by wearing a steward's jacket when he got on and off a luxury liner, it was disclosed in court today.

Curty boarded the Ile De France here Jan. 4. Once aboard, he hid the steward's jacket.

He spent the nights on a deck chair on the promenade deck. When asked whether it was not too chilly, he replied he had asthma and his cabin was "too stuffy." He solved the food problem by buying sandwiches in the bar.

When the liner arrived in New York, Curty put on his white jacket and passed United States immigration officials.

He started looking for a job but no one wanted to hire him. With his savings gone, Curty decided he would have to return to France. He waited for the Ile De France, put on his white jacket, and got aboard again.

Last Thursday, Curty again drew out his steward's coat but this time French police detained him as he lingered on the gangway at Le Havre.

He was sentenced to one month in jail.

Montreal Beef Prices Soaring

MONTREAL, Feb. 26 (CP)—Beef prices bounced upward in the retail trade in Montreal today in the wake of the outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease in Saskatchewan and the possibility that beef supplies from Western Canada might be heavily curtailed.

With retailers bidding for available beef, Montreal prices rose almost to the early January all-time high. Retail cuts jumped 15 to 16 cents a pound for top grade beef and cow beef advance from 20 to 25 cents a pound in some stores. Other stores which had stocks on hand increased prices only slightly.

Stores which charted the smallest price rise reported good cuts of beef selling at 99 cents a pound against yesterday5s 94 cents.

New Pilot Training School at Calgary

OTTAWA, Feb. 26 (CP) — The R.C.A.F. said today a new flying training school for pilots will open at Calgary early next month and will operate until the Moose Jaw, Sask., base is ready to accommodate the school in the late Summer or early Autumn.

It will be the fourth pilot-training school to be opened by the R.C.A.F. since the war and will be an integral part of Canada's air training plan for N.A.T.O. and herself.

The new school, to be called No. 4 Flying Training School, was originally scheduled to open at Moose Jaw but due to an accommodation shortage it will start at Calgary.

Willing to Oblige

NEW YORK, Feb. 26 (AP)— A strange clerk greeted a woman customer last night when she entered a drug store to buy cigarets. Unsure of the price, he inquired of the owner, who was tied up at the moment in a back room. The clerk served her and she left. Then he pocketed the money and left with an armed companion, adding the price of a pack of cigarets to their $500 robbery.

SUSPEND RICE EXPORTS

BANGKOK, Thailand, Feb. 26 (Reuters).—The government has suspended rice exports to British Asian territories as a result of new difficulties that have arisen in trade talks here. This move follows a meeting yesterday between Malcolm MacDonald, Britain's commissioner-general in Southeast Asia, and Premier Pibul Songgram.

FRONT PAGE FOR ACTRESS

LONDON, Feb. 26 (CP).—Canada's Suzanne Cloutier made the front page today in all three London evening newspapers. A picture showed the Ottawa actress waiting for a New York-bound plane, en route to Hollywood to appear in the film "Persian Gulf" with Alan Ladd and Humphrey Bogart.

Burra Burra, celebrated copper mine in South Australia, is 100 miles distant from the state capital, Adelaide.

Denies Bleached Flour Harmful

LONDON, Feb. 26 (CP) — Lord Horder, physician to the Royal Family and adviser to the Minister of Food, has assured the British public that bread made from "agenised" flour has had nothing to do with the outbreak of nervous or other diseases in the country.

His assurance followed an attack in the House of Lords against the use of agene, a chemical agent employed by British bakers for more than 25 years to give a whiter and larger loaf.

Charges had also been made by Dr. John Coghlan, a Hull practitioner, that thousands had died and the health of many more had been endangered by eating the chemically-treated bread.

Replying to those who demanded instant abolition of agene, Lord Horder said: "We don't say, because chromium has been used in motor car manufacture for the past 20 years, that therefore the increase in road accidents is due to chormium."

The same "fallacy" in elementary logic entered into the current bread-whitening controversy.

"I am satisfied," he said, "that we cannot trace any nervous complaints prevalent in this country to the use of agene as an improver in bread."

When Lord Chorley remarked that the practice of using agene had been discarded in the United States, Lord Horder retorted: "But the Americans change from day to day. They have a very sensitive administration. They discard something, then go back to it, and do not always tell you."

Aussie Doctors Join Canadians

OTTAWA, Feb. 26 (CP) — The armed forces, hard up for doctors, have found two more far, far away. They are coming from Australia in April to become majors in the Canadian Army.

A fair number of medical men have already come here from the British Isles to join the forces but there still is a considerable shortage.

In the case of the two Australians, Canada didn't recruit them as she did a number of the Britons. The Aussies wanted to come because they have relatives here and they made inquiries.

The Army quickly grabbed them after looking at their own records. The two are John Murray McFarlane Drew, 39, of Freemantle, who will go to the Shilo, Man., military hospital and William John Elliott Phillips, 39, of Claremont, who will go to Calgary military hospital.

Both served with the Australian Medical Corps during the Second World War.

Times Thunders At N.A.T.O. Story

LONDON, Feb. 26 (Reuters) — The Times of London today thundered against the "ambiguity" of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization communique from Lisbon on the 50-division army.

It declares it is difficult to understand either the meaning or the purpose of the communique.

Its leading editorial says the words of the communique might almost have been chosen for ambiguity and adds that only the most ingenious will believe that General Dwight Eisenhower will have 50 divisions ready and able to fight in Europe by the end of the year.

"Presumably the announcement is meant to impress someone; but it will not impress the Russians, who know very well the true state of affairs and who have the sense to realize that any real plans for real divisions would be kept secret.

"Indeed this imaginative total with the still more imaginative promise of 85 to 100 divisions in two years time, seems to contain the maximum amount of provocation with the minimum amount of deterrant effort.

"Perhaps it was meant to impress the European nations themselves, who will thus feel that something is being done on the grand scale to justify their effort and expense. Unfortunately it is more likely to have the directly opposite effect of creating a sense of false security and of glossing over weaknesses and omissions in the existing arrangements for defence."
