Steel-Producing Plant Likely Soon For B.C. Says Eyres

VANCOUVER, Nov. 27 (CP)—Trade Minister Leslie H. Eyres said tonight there are "strong possibilities" that British Columbia soon will have a steel production plant.

"Frankly, I believe there are strong possibilities of a plant starting operations in British Columbia soon," he said in a radio broadcast over a CBC Provincial network.

"It will produce pig iron and billets from our own iron ore, and if it becomes a reality it will be instrumental in development of our rich ore reserves, provide more employment and help to balance our economy."

He said the groundwork for a steel industry has already been started in Vancouver at the plant of the Vancouver Rolling Mills, now producing 30,000 tons of steel rods, angles, bars and channels from scrap iron.

MOST PRODUCTIVE

He said there is a definite trend in the province toward a greater use and a higher degree of processing "our own raw materials."

The Second World War brought a marked change in British Columbia's economy, and the development of industrial skills within the last decade has made it one of the most productive provinces in Canada.

"The continued influx of capital and population are rapidly establishing B.C. as a great manufacturing province," he said.

"We must make every effort for a greater utilization and processing of our raw materials for export, but it is also of the utmost importance that we ourselves use the products of our own industries in order to foster the continued growth of the province. A greater use of our own products means greater payrolls."

In 1949, a total of 105,000 people were employed in 3700 manufacturing establishments in the province, almost as many as were employed in all the four basic industries of forestry, agriculture, mining and fishing.

The approximate payroll of manufacturing establishments was in the neighborhood of $200,000,000 and the gross value of production almost $1,000,000,000.

"In 1950, we are confident this will go over the billion dollar mark," he said.

Mr. Eyres said that with competition in world trade reaching a new tempo, it is necessary to maintain and expand markets for finished products, and to aid the growth of agriculture, an industry of paramount importance "to our whole economy."

Attempted to Bomb Pyongyang Airfield

U.S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN KOREA, Nov. 28 (Tuesday) (Reuters) — An enemy plane of unidentified type attempted to bomb Pyongyang airfield early today. It dropped six bombs.

The aircraft escaped before it could be intercepted. Whether any damage was done was not disclosed.

P.C.s Capture N.S. Byelection

HALIFAX, Nov. 27 (CP)—Progressive Conservatives increased their opposition strength in the Nova Scotia Legislature today, carrying the Provincial byelection in the Annapolis Valley riding of Hants West.

Party candidate George Wilson, Manager of a cooperative fruit marketing company, defeated Liberal W. C. Dunlop, a lawyer, in a straight two-party fight.

With all 35 polls heard from, Mr. Wilson had 3698 votes against 2892 for Mr. Dunlop—a margin of 806.

His victory gives the Progressive Conservatives under Robert L. Stanfield eight of the 37 seats in the Nova Scotia House. Liberals under Premier MacDonald hold 27 and the C.C.F. two.

The byelection became necessary after the Nova Scotia Supreme Court ruled the election of Mr. Wilson in last year's provincial contest void.

Despite a strong gale which swept over the area today, the vote was larger than that cast in the upset provincial contest. About 8000 voters were eligible.

A series of appeals and counter-appeals followed last year's voting.

Mr. Wilson was declared winner election day over George Cole, the Liberal candidate. A recount resulted in a 2529-vote stalemate and the returning officer cast a deciding vote in favor of the Liberal.

Mr. Wilson appealed to the Supreme Court and in March was again declared the winner. Mr. Cole, in return, appealed this decision and the full bench of the Nova Scotia Supreme Court then declared the election void.

Instal Old Ship's Bell in Cunarder

LIVERPOOL, England, Nov. 27 — (Reuters)—Installed in the Cunard liner Parthia when she sailed for New York today was the bell of the original Parthia, built on the Clyde in 1870 and for the last 42 years in service between Vancouver and Alaska as the S.S. Victoria.

The bell was presented to the Cunard Line by the Alaska steamship company, owners of the Victoria, and was given a place of honor on the promenade deck.

The Victoria carried American troops to the Philippines in 1899 and carried fortune-seekers in the Alaska gold rush in 1900.

East Canada Digs Out of Storm

By The Canadian Press

Eastern Canada cleaned up most of the damage Monday after a weekend of snow and gale-force winds among the worst in November records.

Eleven deaths were blamed in part on the weather. It also caused heavy destruction of property, made several hundred persons temporarily homeless and created hazardous driving conditions.

Hardest hit—But with no fatalities—was a group of low-lying beaches near Hamilton at the Western end of Lake Ontario. At Van Wagner's and Crescent, some 4000 persons joined in a desperate fight to build a sandbag defence against huge waves piled up by East and Southeast winds. Some 125 persons were injured. Some suffered fractures; others were burned by lime in bags used by dyking.

Forecasters said last night the worst was over for a while. Scattered rainshowers and snowflurries were expected in various parts of the East, with strong winds, but no heavy snowfalls.

A coldwave moved down from the James Bay region, however, bringing more snow to Northern Ontario and Quebec.

At Hamilton yesterday, the Van Wagner's flood relief fund was set up and initial donations and pledges totalled $12,000. The money will go to meet the losses of residents of the storm-swept Beach District. Some 25 dwellings need major repairs, officials said.

TRAFFIC RESTORED

Toronto and Ottawa, aided by comparatively mild weather, managed yesterday to get traffic moving more normally. Ottawa's clean-up job included untangling a maze of wires, fallen trees and broken poles. Eight persons were injured in the capital. There were 93 fire alarms during the storm period and some 2500 hydro calls.

As the East mopped up, the Far West had warm sunshine. But that warmth brought trouble. At Smithers, in North-Central British Columbia, the Bulkley River overflowed its banks and inundated a highway and some, farmland.

The Quebec government said the week-end winds inflicted heavy damage on Quebec forests, with spruce and pine especially hard hit. No damage estimate was available.

MUNICH, Germany, Nov. 27 (AP) —A surprise Socialist victory in the Bavarian state parliamentary elections dealt a third smashing blow today to plans for rearming Germany for West European defence.

U.S. STORM DAMAGE RISES

273 Reported Dead; Cost Runs Into Millions

CHICAGO, Nov. 27 (AP)—Big production centres in the Ohio-Pennsylvania area struggled today to throw off a strait jacket of snow.

Thousands of workers bent to the tremendous task of clearing away snow that had piled up to record depths in some places.

The number of deaths attributed to winds, blizzards and cold rose to 273 in 22 states.

Some estimates placed the property loss in the week-end winds that raked the East Coast from South Carolina to Maine at $100,000,000.

TOPS HURRICANES

An insurance executive, President Peter J. Berry of the Security-Connecticut companies of New Haven, Conn., said a preliminary survey of the storm havoc in the Middle Atlantic states indicates it will top the losses in the 1938 and 1944 hurricanes. The damage was estimated $110,000,000 in 1944 and at $400,000,000 in 1938.

To the total bill will be added millions yet uncounted in the form of profits and wages lost because plants and stores were closed in many communities.

This was dig-out day in the snowbound sections.

Fresh snow swirled in Ohio but it was a light fall. An estimated 40,000 to 50,000 men and thousands of pieces of equipment were put to work in an effort to cut through the snow blockade.

Industry and business were stagnated in most areas in Ohio. Production and other losses in Cleveland were estimated at around $10,000,000. Farmers used tractors and sledgs to bring milk and eggs to cities.

More than 100 snow-trapped men, women and children were freed in the various region of Kentucky.

At New Jersey, 200,000 homes still were without electric light.

Lack of electricity forced many industrial plants to shut down, but stores opened with lanterns for light and boarded windows. Not a community in the state escaped some damage.

Floods receded except in a few low marshland regions in South Jersey. Rescue crews using helicopters and walkie-talkies searched for four missing duck hunters.

Top Priority on Road Building Urged

TORONTO, Nov. 27 (CP) — The Canadian Good Roads Association urged today that top priority be given expenditures on road building in all public works programs.

Discussing the outlook for 1951, a meeting of the Board of Directors and Executive Committee estimated that expenditures for new highways and bridges and maintenance of existing rural roads will exceed $310,000,000, an increase of 11 per cent over 1950.

Malik Attempts to Hold Floor at U.N. Chinese Reds Attend

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Nov. 27 (AP)—A Chinese Communist delegation sat in the United Nations meeting halls for the first time today. It sat by silently as the Soviet Union charged the United States with aggression against China and manoeuvred to prevent the U.S. from asking 20 questions on Red China's intervention in the Korean war.

The Chinese Reds were called to the Security Council table late today after the Council decided to lump the Korean and Formosan issues together in one big subject. The Russian delegate, Jakob A. Malik, attempted repeatedly to knock out any reference to Korea but the Council finally voted him down 7-1. Malik voted alone for his proposal, designed to make it impossible for U.S. delegate Warren R. Austin to ask questions of the Red Chinese about Peiping's intervention in Korea.

The Chinese Communist delegate immediately tried to speak but Ales Bebler, Yugoslavia, ruled Austin was ahead of him. Malik started another argument and the Council adjourned at 6:13 p.m. until tomorrow without finally saying who would speak first.

The Chinese Reds also heard a speech by John Foster Dulles of the United States saying that Russia's Foreign Minister, Andrei Y. Vishinsky, and his government, are plotting to break up the old Chinese-American friendship to gain advantage for the Soviet Union.

Led by U.N. officials, Wu Hsiu-chuan and his delegation walked into the Political Committee chamber at noon, on invitation of the committee. Vishinsky was in the midst of a blast at the United States and was demanding that it show a "modicum of realism" and recognize the Chinese People's Republic, official name of the Communist regime installed in Peiping.

Vishinsky stopped when Wu walked in and then welcomed him in the name of the Soviet Government.

MEETING CANCELLED

Vishinsky then put before the committee a resolution asking the Security Council to take the necessary steps to make certain that aggression against China by the United States, as he described it, ceases immediately.

The committee called off its afternoon meeting because of the Security Council session on the same problem and planned tentatively to meet tomorrow.

These were the charges and denials by Vishinsky and Dulles in a cross-fire across the committee:

Vishinsky: United States armed forces have invaded the island of Formosa, "an integral part of China."

Dulles: There has been no invasion of Formosa by American armed forces. As of yesterday there were 44 persons belonging to the United States military establishment in Formosa. These were military attaches and advisers in the U.S. diplomatic mission.

Vishinsky: The U.S. committed aggression by sending aircraft over Manchuria and by bombing and shooting up peaceful towns and villages.

Dulles: Of 93 flights complained of, 61 were of reconnaissance character with no damage. Some bombings had occurred on the Korean side of bridges across the Yalu River on which Communist troops had crossed.

Dulles then said he wanted to stress that the tragedy of the whole China affair is that a third person—the Soviet Union—is trying to "poison the relationship between the American and Chinese peoples."

Most of the Security Council session was taken up with an agenda wrangle.

To Reassess Farmer's Income Tax Charges

OTTAWA, Nov. 27 (CP) — The Income Tax Appeal Board today ordered the Revenue Department to reassess the 1946 income of Walter Hollick of Prince Alebrta, Sask.

In that year Hollick gave up farming and in a sale received $450 for two horses, a wagon and some cattle. The Board held that the sum was a return of capital and was not taxable.

The Department originally assessed Hollick on taxable income of $2017. The Board ordered that amount reduced by $450.

The 2000 villagers of Milo and Fornazzo still were in a state of alarm but it now is believed they will be saved unless new gashes appear in the volcano's crater.

Entire Front Attacked; New Town Captured in Intensified Red Drive

TOKYO, Nov. 28 (Tuesday) (AP)—Waves of Chinese Communist Infantry smashed today at the turned right flank of the United Nations in Northwest Korea. The Reds attacked all along the 75-mile front, forcing new withdrawals.

An American battalion, about 1000 men, was reported encircled near the centre of the front.

Near the front line's left flank, battering Red forces cracked a hole before dawn today and captured the town of Yongsan East of the Taeryang River. The penetration was achieved against South Korean troops.

More Red troops were moving up to the attack. U.N. reinforcements were on the way North to the crucial battle zone.

More than 120,000 Communists appeared bent on cutting in behind the U.N. line on the exposed right and imperiling a U.N. force of more than 110,000.

The third straight day of Red onslaughts hit from the Western anchor, held by the U.S. 24th Division Southeast of Chongju, Eastward to the collapsed right flank of the South Korean 8th Division Southeast of Tokchon.

South Korean withdrawals in the Tokchon area have exceeded 20 miles since the big Red counter-drive began Saturday. The Red thrust definitely has stalled a U.N. offensive which opened Friday with the aim of quickly ending the war.

1. South Korean 2nd Corps (6th, 7th and 8th Divisions) — the redo peril posed by collapse of the Corps in the Tokchon area increased. That is the mountainous right flank of the line.

Elements of the 2nd Corps were surrounded at Maengsan, 11 miles Southeast of fallen Tokchon. The three divisions were trying to regroup along a new defence line below a breached one they had been ordered to hold as a line of "no retreat."

2. U.S. 2nd Division — On the South Korean 2nd Corps' left flank straddling the Chongchon River. At 1 a.m. today the Reds heavily attacked the Division's right flank near Unbong, 14 miles Northwest of Tokchon. The new attack followed others which forced the defending U.S. regiment to withdraw Monday and Monday night. Behind this regiment, a retreating South Korean division was organizing along with reinforcements to hold the flank shoulder.

On the U.S. 2nd Division's left flank, a battalion was reported surrounded by Communists at 3 a.m. This was in a sector four miles North of Kujang near the Chongchon River. At 4 a.m., the left flank regiment reported its line was stabilized with slight loss of ground. It did not report that the surrounded battalion had fought its way out.

3. U.S. 25th Division — On the Second's left flank. Employing artillery for the first time, the Communists opened an attack at 1 a.m. all along the 25th's line which is near the centre of the U.N. Northwest front.

In the first 30 minutes, 300 Reds penetrated to rear positions of a 25th Division task force six miles South of Sanggu, which is 10 miles Northwest of the 2nd's position near Kujang. The attacked task force reported it was "falling back to readjust positions."

The 25th's left flank North of Yongsan, more than 10 miles Southwest of Sanggu, was assaulted at 3 a.m.

4. South Korean 1st Division—On the U.S. 25th's left flank. Early today, the Reds broke through the South Korean line and captured Yongsan on the East side of the Taegyang River. At daybreak, the South Koreans counter-attacked, seeking to recapture Yongsan.

On the West side of the river and South of Taechon, the Reds probed the 24th Division front and then swung East to hit the South Koreans on the left flank.

The South Koreans, who had penetrated past Taechon at the outset of the U.N. offensive, since have fallen back more than 12 miles, retreating five miles in the last 24 hours.

The enemy regiment's assault at 3 a.m. forced a new withdrawal for regrouping.

5. The U.S. 24th Division — On the left flank of the U.N. front. At the outset of the U.N. offensive it had moved without opposition into Chongju but withdrew from there Monday because of the threat to its right flank.

At 3 a.m. today, Reds penetrated one 24th position. Others infiltrated the left and centre. The attack later was stopped. A 24th Division regiment moved toward the road running South from Taechon in a move to support the South Korean 1st Division. This regiment was hit by a Red assault. The regiment later reported the attack beaten off.

U.S. Marines moving out from the left flank of the Northeast Korea front to aid the South Koreans on the collapsed flank of the Northwest front also were under attack today.

Chinese Communists struck hard late Monday at the U.S. 1st Marine Division element and continued the attack today. The Reds hit from three sides about four miles West of Yudam, on the Northwest bank of the Changjin reservoir.

CUT SUPPLY ROAD

The Marines were trying to battle their way West across snowy mountains in freezing temperatures and cut a supply road of the Reds leading down to the critical right flank of the U.N. front in the Northwest.

They strove to push along a single mountain pass road.

Allied Commission to Remain Supreme Authority in West Germany

By GEORGE BOULTWOOD

BONN, Germany, Nov. 27 (AP) —An Allied source said today the Western Allies will retain broad authority over West German affairs—including foreign relations—under the revised occupation statute.

The new document defining the powers of the occupation forces will be published as soon as the West German Government agrees to share materials for war purposes and to take over the debts of Hitler's defunct Reich. It has been revised according to decisions made by the three Western Foreign Ministers last September in New York.

The Allied source said the three-country Allied High Commission will remain the supreme authority over the Federal Government.

Although the Western powers now are pressing the Germans to contribute military forces to aid in Western defence, West Germany will remain a country under occupation by virtue of military conquest.

The Germans have been campaigning for a more sweeping repeal of Allied powers. West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer feels his campaign for German contribution to European defence has been injured by retention of the occupation based on conquest.

Allied sources say the major changes in the occupation statute will be these:

The Allies will give up control of foreign trade and exchange except or:

1. Supervision of trade in strategic materials with Iron Curtain countries for security reasons.

2. Ensuring that German trade is conducted in accordance with the general agreement on trade and tariffs until West Germany is a party to that agreement and has assumed its obligations.

3. Ensuring that the German Federal Government observes the principles and practices of the International Monetary Fund Agreement.

4. Providing for orderly settlement of pre-war foreign debts and repayment of postwar Allied economic aid.

Her late husband, Karl, commanded the camp and Frau Koch said she never interfered or tried to influence him.

Good English Important on Job And in Social Life, Students Find

ROSSLAND, B. C., Nov. 27—This is "better English week" in Rossland High School to impress on students the value of speaking and writing better English. A three-part program was presented in the High School auditorium on Monday afternoon with Leone Lawlis as Chairman.

Speaking on the origin of English language, Mabel Soloveoff described it as "the richest and most widely-spoken of all modern tongues." With the aid of other students bearing printed cards or material samples, Mabel illustrated the origin of the language and the contributions made by the ancient German, Roman, Norse and other invaders of Britain.

Happenings on the continent such as the Crusades and the growth of world trade introduced foreign words which became a part of the English language.

In the second part of the program, dealing with the beauty of English, Thelma Pitt illustrated with poetry how beautifully the language could be used to express emotion. The senior choir at the school, directed by Miss M. McKay and unaccompanied, demonstrated the beauty of English set to music when they sang "Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes."

The fineness of English prose was aptly shown by Derek Fraser, who read an excerpt from the "Unknown Country" by Bruce Hutchison.

IMPORTANT TO INDUSTRY

The third part of the program was based on recorded interviews conducted by Laila Kalhovd, and Bud Godderis to learn the attitude of industry towards the use of good English.

Those interviewed at Cominco were P. F. McIntyre, Manager of Cominco's Personnel Division; Dr. C. H. Wright, Consulting Chemical Engineer, who is also Chairman of the Adult Education Committee and of the Scholarship Committee, and Miss Sybil Scott-Lauder, Secretary in the Administrative section. All three stressed the need for good spoken and written English in applying for and holding jobs.

Good concise English was required to record results of work, to make reports, to give instruction to others, and sell one's ideas to others. For secretaries and stenographers, Miss Scott-Lauder said nothing was more important than a thorough knowledge of English.

Mrs. Ira Hendrickson, President of Rossland Parent-Teachers Association, was asked in a recorded interview if studying literature in High School had any value. She replied that such literature helped one to live more abundantly by sharing the experiences of others, and that in poetry and prose "we can enjoy far-away places and events we would otherwise never know. It is also a good social asset since reading helps one to become a good conversationalist and a graceful speaker."

Pajama Tops Stay Behind . . .

You Can Lose Your Shirt, if You Don't Heed That Hotel Room Sign

Those "Have-you-left-anything-behind?" signs on hotel room doors are apparently the least-read in the world.

Hotel occupants in Nelson have left practically everything. Wallets, rubbers, electric razors, pyjamas and a hundred other things have escaped the attention of their departing owners.

Oddly enough, hotel operators have found that their forgetful guests will leave wallets under pillows or between pillow slips — just so they'll be out of mischief's way. The chambermaid or the next occupant of the room usually finds them.

Articles of clothing are left for the most part. One hotel proprietor has found that people invariably leave pajama tops — the tops only — or one slipper. Usually they are left in drawers, under beds or in closets, but occasionally belongings will be found in full view.

Opinion is divided on whether men or women are more forgetful. But one thing is certain. They nearly all want their belongings returned, if they are of any value.

Jewelry and fountain pens are often overlooked as hotel occupants "check out." One hotel some time ago found a box crammed with watches, rings and necklaces stuffed down the side of a davenport bed. Thievery was suspected, but on notifying the guest of the "find", the hotel management learned that he had been a former jeweller, and that he had never even missed his box!

The same hotel is in possession of a suitcase full of shirts and other personal belongings, and is in a quandry as to whom they belong, the government, the city or the hotel.

"We've never heard from the man to this day," the proprietor explained.

Unlike numbers who leave their entire worldly possessions, he had paid his bill. Hotel keepers have an assortment of intentionally-abandoned goods.

"I'd just like to take you into our basement," another said. "We've got everything down there from rifles to fishing tackle to clothing."

"But," she added, "it's all very poor security."

Nelson Sea Cadets May Soon Have Their Own New Headquarters

Nelson Sea Cadets may soon have a "home" of their own if plans for a proposed new building are carried out.

At a meeting of the executive in the armory Monday night, R. D. P. Gilday reported that plans for the building had been gone over by officers of the league and at present they were waiting for an appropriate time to call tenders.

The size of the building had been cut down from the original plan which, he said, would have been out of line, and larger than would be required for the Hampton Gray, V.C., Cadet Corps of about 50 boys. Cost of the building would be around $4000.

The structure, which would house the Cadets during their training and activities, would be built on the vacant parking site just East of the Lakeside Park.

Of the $4000, it was pointed out, the league would have to raise about $2000. The executive felt that various Nelson firms would contribute in some way to help carry out the project.

Before the S.S. Nasookin was damaged, the Corps had used the steamer as headquarters. At present the Armory is used.

J. W. Graham, Chairman, asked that Mr. Gilday prepare a detailed report on the building for the next meeting.

Republicans Act as Congress Reopens

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP) — The 81st Congress returned to work today with major clashes shaping up at the outset over statehood for Alaska and other issues.

Republican leaders, buoyed by victories in the Nov. 7 elections, quickly challenged many points in a list of legislative "musts" set forth by President Truman — including rent control extension.

The White House laid down a lengthy program of recommendations, topped by five described as being of the "greatest urgency," for Congress to consider in the next three to five weeks.

But some Republican leaders made it clear that aside from mobilization defence needs and tax legislation to put it on a pay-as-you-go basis, they see no emergency calling for hurried action before the new 82nd Congress with its strengthened Republican roster meets on Jan. 3.

KIDNEY ACIDS Rob your Rest..

Many people never seem to get a good night's rest. They turn and toss—blame it on 'nerves'—when it may be their kidneys. Healthy kidneys filter poisons and excess acids from the blood. If they fail and impurities stay in the system—disturbed rest often follows. If you don't rest well get and use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Five large naval camps accommodated thousands of young boys during the Summer.

Following a report of the Nelson Hampton Gray, V.C., Corps by Capt. S. Price, Lieut. Manson spoke highly of the cadets. He was of the opinion that their attendance was about the best when compared with cities of the same size.

The executive felt that attendance could be increased if prizes were posted for rifle drills, the best dressed cadet and so on.

Unemployment Increases

OTTAWA, Nov. 27 (CP)—Unemployment in Canada has started its customary seasonal upward swing, the Labor Department reported today.

Reports from National Employment offices show that in two weeks registered unemployed rose by 10,400. The total was 147,000 at Nov. 2, compared with 136,600 at Oct. 19. The figure was 25,400 fewer than at the corresponding date last year.

Reflected in the latest increase were a few temporary lay-offs due to material shortages, seasonal shutdowns on construction projects and termination of the harvesting season.

The number of applications for employment in the various areas at Nov. 2 follows, with comparative figures for Oct. 19, 1950, in brackets:

New Foundland, 3300 (3700); Maritimes, 17,000 (16,100); Quebec, 45,400 (43,100); Ontario, 38,300 (36,400); Prairies, 20,600 (17,800); Pacific Region, 22,400 (19,500).

On the whole, said the Department, the employment situation is buoyant. Workers released from agriculture and construction jobs as a result of the cold weather are finding many more jobs available this year than they did last year.

Eastern Canada logging camps need more workers to cut their increased quotas of logs. Base metal mines require additional help. Jobs are available for skilled and semi-skilled workers in the metal manufacturing industries.

The department said the government's accelerated defence program was responsible for some of the increased demand for workers.

Employment continued to increase in most primary iron and steel plants, aircraft factories and many firms manufacturing machinery and equipment for both producers and consumers.

In many textile plants, clothing firms and leather goods factories, employment was increasing seasonally. Some chemical and rubber plants were expanding their staffs.

B of M Loans Climb Over Half Billion Mark

MONTREAL, Nov. 27— Passing the half-billion dollar mark in its current loans for the first time in its history, the Bank of Montreal today published its 1950 annual report in a statement, "free from the mystery traditionally attached to bank statements."

Unique among bank statements, the report aims to inform all Canadians and B of M customers in particular, of the bank's operations in employing its two-billion-dollar resources.

Rising more than $40 million in a year, the bank's loans to business, governments and individuals now stand at $528,000,000—the highest year-end figure in its history—reflecting the growing financial needs of business and industry.

Resources that can be quickly turned into cash are equal to .76 per cent of public liabilities.

Deposits in the names of 1,800,000 customers have risen to a new high this year, and amount to $2,062,000,000, an increase of $43,000,000 since 1949.

After settling all overhead expenses, including staff salaries, cost-of-living bonuses and pension fund contributions, and making allowances for depreciation of bank premises and provision for contingencies, the bank reports earnings of $9,536,000. While this is an increase of $315,000 over 1949, a rise in taxes amounting to $189,000 offsets the gain. Net earnings for 1950, totalling $5,942,000 after payments of taxes, are thus up only $126,000 on the year.

Federal and provincial taxes, at $3,594,000, are within six thousand dollars of the amount distributed by the bank in dividends. These, on the basis of $1 a share per annum, amounted to $3,600,000, representing a return to the shareholders of 4.11 per cent on their funds.

HOPE TO RECRUIT BRITISH MINERS FOR GOLD MINES

Hollinger Consolidated Gold Mines, which have felt the pinch of the labor shortage confronting the gold mining industry, have sent H. M. Ferguson, personnel chief, to England in an effort to recruit 300 British workers. According to the Northern Miner, it has been Hollinger's experience that British miners are much more stable than the average.

In 1921, the company brought a group of Cornish tin miners to work in the mine at Timmins. Many are still employed there.

The company is seeking young men, preferrably married. Suitable housing would be provided for wives and families of the miners.

Tramline Linking Mammoth Mine to Mill Completed

The tramline, connecting the Mammoth mine to the mill of Western Exploration at Silverton in the Slocan mining division, has been completed. Silver-lead-zinc ore will now be drawn from three mines. Development on the Mammoth and Enterprise has been well advanced and the properties are ready for complete mining.

Development on the third mine, the Standard, is well advanced and this mine may also be regarded as ready for steady production. The company is aiming at operating at capacity of 250 tons daily.

All bins and storage places at the Mammoth mine are full of development ore which will take a month to be put through the mill. Regular operations on stoped ore will then be commenced.

The company has reported that recent work at the Enterprise mine, formerly regarded as a source of high grade ore in narrow veins, has encountered widths of three to four feet, considerably improving the prospects for this mine. Ore indicated in the three mines is considered sufficient for several years' operations.

Historical Society Gets Archivist's Advise and Photographic Aid

The highlight of a meeting of the provisional committee of the Nelson Branch of the Kootenay Historical Society was the reading of a helpful letter from Willard E. Ireland, Provincial Librarian and Archivist, in which he gave some valuable advice and made an "extraordinary offer of assistance."

Mr. Ireland's advice for the new organization was to decide what the eventual scope of its projected museum should be and to plan its activities in relation thereto. It was his hope that it should build a history museum collection around the incidents and development of the Kootenay country. He warned against cluttering up the collection with items offered by well meaning individuals which though valuable in themselves have no relation to this particular district. The committee readily accepted his suggestions and decided as its first task to trace out many of Nelson's features from its earliest times. Such items might well be the story of the Fire Brigade, Police Department, Civic Administration and changes in city life such as the progress of certain streets. Baker Street, the committee thought, would provide an interesting item as photographs were available showing its crude beginnings with pack trains in evidence and very few buildings. The development of Ward Street from the original gully known as Ward Creek with its series of bridges would be another. Modes of transportation, both freight and passenger, would make an interesting series, as would the story of power and light development. Subjects such as the above were endless.

The committee anticlaptes that an extremely busy and enjoyable time is ahead of it in preparing for a bang-up exhibition at the next Fall Exhibition. It was felt that other parts of the Kootenay District should organize on a similar plan and that all sections could cooperate and assist one another in presenting a complete and comprehensive picture of the Kootenay District, rich in lore and possibilities.

Mr. Ireland also sent along an "excellent book" entitled "Manual for Small Museums" and an article entitled "Modern Developments in History Museums" which were of considerable help and interest. The 1949 Year Book of the Okanagan Historical Society and a copy of the British Columbia Historical Quarterly was also loaned by J. J. Sutherland, Front Street.

"Wonderful assistance is being offered by Mr. Ireland which should greatly facilitate the procurement of much valuable information through the medium of photographs and documents without any sacrifice to the donor, in fact a decided benefit," it was reported. The Provincial Archives was willing to reproduce any number of photographs in lots of 100 or more, return the originals to the Society ,store the negatives in a fire-proof building and supply a fresh print of each photograph standardized in size to either 4x5 or 5x7 at a nominal price. No charge was made for any part of the service except for the prints required. In this way, the arrangement of exhibits would be simplified, in case of disaster all such prints could be immediately replaced and lenders of precious photographs could have their photographs returned without change or mutilation.

A great work confronts the committee in correctly identifying all photographs presented, to sort them out in telling each individual story and to cover the essential points of interest in the life of the city.

It was the intention of the committee to gradually increase its membership within reasonable ilmits so as to include key persons throughout the city. When the general membership reaches a satisfactory number, an election will be held in order that permanent officers and a Board of Directors may be chosen. The provisional committee at its meeting on Thrusday accepted Boyd C. Affleck to the committee. Other members of the committee are Ross Fleming, Chairman; Mrs. B. Miller, Secretary; R. R Brown, Treasurer; and members Mrs. R. H. Dill, Mrs. Vincent Fink, Mrs. S. H. Hamilton, Mrs. James McGregor and Mrs. W. J. Sturgeon; John Applewaite, G. Benwell and Howard Thurman. All are receiving early or later photographs in line with the objectives of the Society. Photographs have been requested at an early date in order to provide time for copying and transportation to and from Victoria. While on hand here, they will be stored in a fireproof vault.

Movie Gossip—

Anthony Dexter Nervous About Rudolph Valentino Portrayal

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 27 (AP) — Anthony Dexter is worried about what his family thinks of the to-do surrounding his portrayal of Rudolph Valentino.

Dexter is the lucky lad chosen from an estimated (by Press agents) 75,000 applicants for the role of the famed screen idol. Dexter's stage name was Walter Craig. Before that he was Walter Reinhold Alfred Frederick Fleischmann.

Now the Fleischmanns are a German-Scottish family who lean to the clergy. Anthony's father, grandfather, great-grandfather and uncle have been ministers in Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas and Colorado. His parents, Rev. and Mrs. Walter Fleischmann, now live in Loveland, Colo.

"I'm concerned about what the people in the congregations and my family might think about the things they see about me," he remarked. "You know, some people believe what they see in print is gospel. They don't realize that some of the things that come out of Hollywood are far from the truth. I didn't either—until recently."

Anthony himself is sometimes amazed at the things he reads about himself. Trouble began when the Valentino picture was filmed with no outsiders allowed on the set. That is a standard stunt to arouse mystery over a picture. But some correspondents resent it.

Although many will disagree with him (including myself) Anthony doesn't believe he's a ringer for the greatest of all film lovers. "The resemblance can be achieved by makeup, costumes and lighting," he argued.

As Walter Craig, the Nebraska-born actor played a number of roles on Broadway. It was Katharine Cornell and her manager, Gertrude Macy, who recommended him for the Valentino role.

COPENHAGEN (CP) — The Royal Danish Ballet has been invited to perform at next year's Edinburgh International Festival. The Danish Radio Symphony was a great success at this year's festival in Edinburgh.

NAKUSP, B.C., Nov. 27 — Mrs. Walter L. Maxwell, convention delegate to the annual meeting of the British Columbia Association of Hospital Auxiliaries, which was held in Vancouver, gave her report at the Nakusp Auxiliary meeting at the home of Mrs. Alex Bedard.

Mrs. Maxwell said there were 85 associate auxiliaries with a membership of 2540 active, and 1918 associate members. It was impossible to give more than a glimpse of the tremendous work done by this band of women. Much had been accomplished for the comfort of the nurses and patients, much redecorating and furnishing of nurses homes by way of caprets, drapes, bed covers, easy chairs, dinner services, bedside tables, wheel chairs, tea sets, radios etc.

New equipment included a power sewing machine, baby scales, splints, shoes, braces, portable X-ray and service machinery, also suction pumps, electric cardiograph, resuscitators.

Mrs. Maxwell spoke on the 40 different ways mentioned at the conference of raising funds. Some auxiliaries, the speaker said, had a canteen service. They also take orders and do personal shopping for patients. The sales in nine months had amounted to $2000 out of which they had had to pay $34.00 for licences.

The Auxiliaries were asked by the B. C. Hospital Association to form a division of their organization. Auxiliaries will have a voting delegate at all meetings of the Hospital Association who will be President, Mrs. Claude R. Wilson of the B. C. Association of B. C. Hospitals' Auxiliaries.

Nakusp's Auxiliary's report to the Convention for donations had been: Curtains for wards, bedside tables, $50; to hospital for dishes, $76; to the fire brigade towards a resuscitator, $610; paid for diatherm machine.

Mrs. C. H. Horrey reported that $23.65 had ben taken in at the November bake sale.

The total of all deposits is	$2,062,597,786.09
OTHER LIABILITIES: Miscellaneous items, representing mainly commitments undertaken by the Bank on behalf of customers in their foreign and domestic trade transactions	40,432,874.53

Canadian Buyers Ignore Britain's Non-Shrink Cloth

Editor's Note: The writer of the following was one of a party of Canadian newspaper women who toured British industrial areas as guests of Britain's Dollar Exports Board and Canada's Dollar-Sterling Trade Board.

By KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MANCHESTER, Nov. 27 (CP)—An anti-shrink fabric being manufactured here is popular in sterling currency countries. But Canadian buyers aren't showing much interest in it.

Canadian buyers are telling the British textile manufacturers that the average Canadian woman doesn't wash her Summer dresses—she has them dry-cleaned. That's why, they say, the Canadian gals wouldn't be interested in the anti-shrink fabric.

Meanwhile it's being snapped up by women in New Zealand and Australia.

That's one of the bits of information nine Canadian women journalists picked up in a visit to this British textile centre. They learned, too, that the British have no intention of swamping the Canadian market with their goods. What they're after is a small cut of the United States textile trade into Canada. They want to regain a little of the territory they lost during the war.

They're putting every ounce of effort into the job.

BIG EXHIBITIONS

In downtown Manchester the Cotton Board's 10-year-old color design and style centre puts on some six exhibitions a year to give manufacturers and designers an idea of what is popular in the textile world in other countries — Canada included.

"Our shows here have a tremendous range and enable our manufacturers to see what Canadian manufacturers are successfully putting out," said Kathleen Glover, secretary of the centre.

Mission Plan Aids Unmarried Mothers

LONDON, Nov. 27 (CP) — A five-year plan for more mother love needs $42,000.

The money would be used by a West London mission to equip 17 small apartments for working mothers. The idea is to discourage unmarried women from having their babies adopted.

During working hours, babies would be looked after by two resident housekeepers.

After five years, mothers would be asked to find other lodgings. Organizers believe that if a girl can keep her baby till then, the worst is over.

LUTON, Bedfordshire, England (CP) — Town council plans to run a helicopter service between its airport and the local 1951 Festival of Britain site.

Early Completion of Southern Route Calls for Support

Public Works Minister E. C. Carson's announced intentions for the portion of the Southern Trans-Provincial Highway through Kootenay-Boundary provide sensible and, what is vitally important, immediate answers to the main highway needs of Southeastern British Columbia.

A long-range far-sighted highway program, of course, is desirable. Largely, plans for 1951 and 1952 fit exactly into such a program. But if we are to provide adequate foundations for the future, it is equally important that provision be made to reap advantages offered by immediate opportunities, and for immediate needs. Early projects in this District make such provision in two important details. The plans, as outlined to the delegation from the Southern Trans-Canada Highway Association (Crow's Nest Route) at Victoria, promise early remedy to the route's two most trying travel problems, the Kootenay Lake ferry and Cascade Mountain bottlenecks.

The Minister proposes to seek $500,000 for blacktopping the 42-mile Grand Forks-Rossland section, and thus achieve an immediate, if temporary, solution to the Cascade problem. The Victory Highway plan, providing for a 22-mile corridor through the United States, is not to be forgotten. If the scant barriers that are now before it can be put aside, it will be carried through.

It is also proposed to double the M.V. Anscomb crew in 1951, and so double the number of ferry trips across main Kootenay Lake. It is further planned to order construction of a second ferry for delivery in 1952, and thus more nearly meet the demands for service offered by this route. Here, too, the long range view is not forgotten. The strongly advocated Salmo-Creston route, bypassing the lake, is to be surveyed in 1952.

The Minister is showing a remarkable ability for long range planning, while still meeting the needs of the busy present. In providing these solutions to the Cascade and lake problems, that some might regard as temporary or stop-gap, he is recognizing the fact that there are rich, immediate returns in commercial and tourist trade to be gained in this era of unprecedented activity.

British Columbia's highway problems are unequalled anywhere in Canada; there are many Districts and thousands of miles of highway demanding attention of the Government. The Kootenay-Boundary, the entire Southern B. C. area, in fact, must not rest on having extracted a promise and having viewed the highway program. The Minister has shown his awareness of the importance of a completed Southern route, and we can be confident the merits of the route must weigh heavily. Nevertheless, it behooves every public-minded individual, every business and public organization, to support Mr. Carson in his program.

A Good Scheme

British Columbia motorists are going to be saved a lot of unnecessary bother at the end of the year. Their present car licence plates, with the addition of a small tab, will be used again in 1951. After that, a semi-permanent five-year plate will be issued.

This is a sensible move.

Not only does the longer-lived plate eliminate a messy annual chore for the motorist, but it saves metal.

Suggests Work of Art For Civic's Face

To the Editor:

Sir—I am offering the two following suggestions for your consideration, if you care to bring them to the public notice.

The first is that when spending monies on the Civic Centre, consideration be given to putting a work of art pertaining to the Kootenay or the early history of Nelson on the large wall facing Vernon Street. Local talent could be asked to offer designs.

The second is a museum.

When in Regina recently, I visited the Museum there, and was surprised at the number of birds and animals and examples of Indian work. When I lived in that Province I didn't realize what was to be found beside buffalo bones and horns. I believe the school children would be keen to help, and it would be of interest to tourists.

A crowd of curious Nelson residents witnessed the arrival of the first gas-electric car when it whizzed into Mountain Station from below the border yesterday. The car pulled into the station on schedule with about 25 passengers. F. G. Baurer, master mechanic of the Great Northern Railway at Spokane, last night stated the regular schedule of steam trains would be maintained even with the new car.

At a special meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners, during which time a special report was submitted by Chief of Police C. W. Mrs. X, Nelson—Please print formula for making Yule logs.

Half pound stronchium nitrate, one ounce lithium chloride, one pound copper sulphate, half pound sodium chlorate, half pound barium nitrate. Dissolve these ingredients in one gallon boiling water, using crock or wooden pail, never metal. Roll up newspapers very tightly, pack into utensil, and leave two weeks.

E. S., Port Crawford—What weight is a person's head apart from the body?

Professor F. Wood Jones, in the Annals of the Royal College of Surgeons, mentions that in a limited number of examinations he found that the average weight of the adult head was 8.56 per cent of total body weight.

Mrs. P., Nelson—Can you tell me how to prevent small bugs in flour?

Throw flour away, scrub container thoroughly, dry, and keep new flour in paper bag tightly closed. If the bugs appear again it may mean that eggs are thoroughly embedded in the container, and the only hope would be to persevere with the scrubbing.

A. B., Nakusp—How can one keep steam from forming on large windows?

Apparently the only way to prevent this is to have double panes of glass, with a narrow air-space between. Consult a building contractor for full information.

Mrs. W. G. E., Cranbrook—Where can I procure molds for making small plaster of Paris figures?

Write to the Handicraft Centre, Hall Street, Nelson.

K. Q., Fernie—Please republish address of the Dolls' Hospital, Vancouver; also instructions how to make Yule logs.

Hot Rod Showoffs Blamed on Elders

When a half-chinned driver in a souped-up jalopy cuts around you in heavy traffic and then stops so suddenly you almost nick his tail-light, who's to blame?

Mom and dad. That, at least, is the theory of certain teen-agers who took part in a juvenile panel at the recent national convention in New York of the American Automobile Association.

Parents shouldn't merely pay—they should punish.

Persuasion, not paddling, was the panel's panacea.

Moral suasion, in other words, was held superior to the rod.

Six high school students, drawn from communities as far apart as Great Neck, L. I., and Kansas City, Mo., pointed out the motoring flaws of their elders, and held adults responsible also for the driving misdeeds of the younger generation.

Most hot-rod drivers are showoffs trying to impress their girl friends, the half dozen youngsters agreed.

"Girls are afraid of being called 'chicken' if they object to car capers," one fair damsel asserted. (Oldsters recall when the word had another meaning.)

"Better chicken than corpse," remarked a Midwestern lad.

But the real remedy is in the home, nearly all agreed.

If persuasion and paddling both fail, then what?

Padlocks, perhaps.

Courtesy Pays Dividends to All Ages When Applying for a Job

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

The older man or woman looking for a job may find the way easier from here in.

For one thing, defence programs are likely to cause a scarcity of workers. For another, a small working force is coming up because of the low birth rate of the depression years.

For still another, a considerable campaign has been going on to teach firms the advantages of hiring the old man or woman.

Labor Minister Gregg has this to say:

"I would advise any industry which now is having difficulty obtaining skilled workers to examine the possibility of obtaining these from among the older age groups. They are generally willing, able and dependable."

The Labor Department, as part of its campaign for the older worker, has been showing employers a motion picture called "date of birth."

Mr. Gregg says its showing has had outstanding success and that many companies are revising their age-hiring polices.

STARTS IN 40s

The older-worker problem, while it becomes more acute in the 60s, really starts in the 40s for people who for some reason, often beyond their control, have to change employment.

The problem is not all one of attitude of employers; sometimes the person seeking employment expects too much, especially if he has been in the executive bracket.

As one employment official put it, a man who has been, say, comptroller of a firm, too often expects to step into another firm with the same position, forgetting that it has its own men coming along.

The American Comptrollers Institute gives advice to comptrollers and accountants seeking jobs, which has general interest. It says:

Medium-sized corporations offer the best prospects, because larger corporations are usually well-staffed.

Address your letter to top executives only. Follow-up letters are as important as the application.

Don't stay too long at interviews. Don't fail to send a thank-you letter after an interview, no matter how it turns out. The employer may not hire you, but because of a good impression he may recommend you to someone else.

Don't be impatient because you aren't hired immediately after an interview.

Prepare an outline of past experience. Present your qualifications without regard to employment chronology. Then list past jobs, putting the most recent employment first. Give a reason for leaving each job. Never omit an unfavorable experience—any break in sequence arouses suspicions as to cause.

Whirlwind Canvass Gains $10,000 for Hammond Campaign

HAMMOND, B.C., Nov. 27 (CP)—The 2000 residents in this town poured $10,000 into the coffers for a new community centre during the weekend. It went in at the rate of $1000 an hour.

SMITHERS, B. C., Nov. 27 (CP)—Waters of the Bulkley River, swept over the banks by ice jams, today threatened farm lands in the Smithers District.

Flood waters swept across part of Highway 16, and an old section of the road is impassable with four to five feet of water covering it.

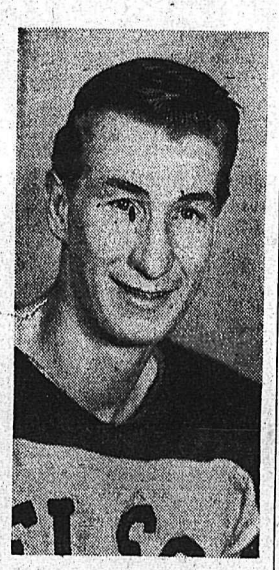
Eddie Wares, who has full power to do anything he sees fit with the Nelson Maple Leafs, is cutting deadwood out of the club in an attempt to bring out a winning combination. Some of the Leaf executives feel that "even if we have just 10 players for each game", they are in accordance with Wares' actions.

Defenceman Ron Collings, who hasn't been producing, and right-winger Joe Zubach, who hasn't been skating both ways, were cut adrift when Eddie wielded the big axe for the first time since the season started. There will likely be a couple more yet to feel the thud of the next swing, which may come very soon.

RON COLLINGS



JOE ZUBACH

Where are they going to get their replacements? The executive is doing all in its power to contact players to fill the vacated positions, and the spots of a possible couple more.

A good candidate for the laugh of the year was submitted by Jack Kavanaugh, sports ed., when he related in the last publication of the Kimberley sheet:

"Kromm (Bobby, now with Trail Smoke Eaters) has certainly improved since his days with the Dynamiters, but not all for the good. When Bob broke into senior company with the Dynamiters two seasons ago, he was a clean player and never carried his stick high and very seldom was seen going to the penalty box. He had a chip on his shoulder Saturday night and first tangled with Doc Livingstone, a player who doesn't serve more than a couple of penalties a term. Then to top it off he mixed it with Sullivan, one of the cleanest players in the loop."

That statement is absurd, Kromm is still a rugged gent, but no more so than when he played for the Mountain men.

They have a humdinger of a story on how Trail got John Sofiak, too. According to Kavanagh, Sofiak "came to Trail by way of Calgary, Calgary gave Trail Sofiak and $350 in cash for Don Anderson."

When Johnny left Saskatoon, where he played last season, he went to Regina along with Willie Hunter, but was beaten out of a berth with the Caps by Bev Bentley. Where did Calgary get their mitts on him?

What's this about Duke Scodellaro returning to the Smokies again. If he does, you watch him take over come playoff time.

Fred Hergert, who won everyone's heart when he was playing coach of the Nelson Maple Leafs two seasons ago, is now mentor of Calgary Meteors, an entry in the Big Six (intermediate) hockey league.

See that Norm Hyssop, who has been teamed up with Guyle Fielder, has crashed the big ten Western Canada Junior Hockey League scoring standing.

Culmone Upsets Shoemaker, Wins Six Out of Nine in Day

BOWIE, Md., Nov. 27 (AP) — Joe Culmone had himself a field day at the expense of rival Willie Shoemaker for the year's jockey honors by booting home six of the nine winners at Bowie today.

The heralded first meeting of the saddle stars was turned into a runaway by the cocky, 19-year-old immigrant from Sicily.

Not only did he win five of the eight regular races while Shoemaker was taking one, but he soundly whipped the West coast contender in a two-horse showdown race.

The two flipped coins for Chiloe II and Curruhuinca in the Bowie Special. Shoemaker was considered to have the better mount when he drew Curruhuinca because Chiloe II hadn't won in 27 tries since being imported from South America.

But Culmone booted Chiloe II out in front, stayed there for the entire 1⅛ miles and won by six lengths.

The results of the first personal competition between the jockeys put Culmone eight winners up on Shoemaker for the year so far, 350 to 342.

They are shooting for the all-time record of 388 set in 1906 by Walter Miller.

Louis "Better This Time" as Training for Brion Bout Ends

By CHARLES DUNKLEY

CHICAGO, Nov. 27 (AP) — Joe Louis, ex-heavyweight boxing champion of the world, and Caesar Brion, Argentine contender, today finished heavy training for their 10-round battle in Chicago Stadium Wednesday night.

"I'm better this time," said Louis after stepping five rounds against two sparring mates, Mike Buha, St. Louis, and Dutch Culbertson, New York.

Louis, still attempting a comeback after losing to Ezzard Charles in New York last September, said he expected to weigh in at 216 pounds, two pounds lighter than when he faced Charles.

"I feel that I have accomplished more in training this time," he explained.

Louis refused to make any predictions, saying: "If I win, I'll win as fast as I can." Apparently he realized his mistake of predicting an early knockout victory over Charles.

The 23-year-old Brion polished off his training with five rounds of boxing. He expects to weigh in at 194 pounds.

The South American, who has won 31 of 34 battles, plans to wear down the 36-year-old Louis with body smashes and win by a knockout in the late rounds.

Truman Gibson, representing the Chicago Division of the sponsoring International Boxing Club, said the advance sale indicated a crowd of 12,000 despite television and radio, with a gross gate of $60,000.

Dodgers Signing Dressen Manager

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 (AP) — Chuck Dressen, who was suspended once for leaving Brooklyn in too much of a hurry, will return to the Dodgers as manager, it was learned today.

The 52-year-old veteran's appointment is expected to be announced at a Dodger Press conference tomorrow.

The Dodgers declined to comment on the report that Chuck already had been signed to replace 66-year-old Burt Shotton.

Shotton, an old buddy of the departed Branch Rickey, won two pennants and finished second in three full seasons with Brooklyn. His club, favorites in the 1950 race, trailed the pennant-winning Philadelphia Phillies by two games.

Shotton had been rated one of the leading contenders for the managerial job in the first full reign of Walter O'Malley, the new Brooklyn president.

Dressen coached the Dodgers for seven seasons during the Leo Durocher regime. He joined the Yankees in 1946 as an aide to manager Bucky Harris and that led to a 30-day suspension.

It happened when Baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler suspended Durocher for a year on April 9, 1947. At the same time Chandler suspended Dressen for a 30-day period for leaving the Dodgers for the Yankees. The commissioner said he was convinced that Dressen had agreed to remain with Rickey and the Dodgers for two more years although no formal contract had been signed.

Ski Slants

BY BILL DERIDDER

Before you settle down to read these words about skiing, you'd better check the oilstove or shovel another load of coal into the furnace. Not because this section is long-winded, but because the snow is not very far off; it's a might colder and the skiers are beginning to work on the hill. Bob MacDonald, Len Matthews, Charlie Milligan and myself decided that there was enough snow on the ground to make it miserable walking on the hill, and cold enough so that a person had to wear so much clothes that he couldn't move, and set out for the ski cabin.

Nevertheless, a great deal of work was accomplished. Due to an appreciated donation of lumber, the fellows managed to board in the other half of our cabin, replace a door, and of course, like every other year, replace the windows. It seems as though some people just don't think a cabin looks right if it has windows intact, and they sure do a good job of removing them. After several hours of hard work (such as only skiers are capable of), we stepped back and admired our work. Of course not a word was spoken, but we all agreed it was an improvement. Due to the high Spring water in Cottonwood Creek, bridges were washed out and of course the problem of getting across arose. Seeing that we all had high rubber boots, we attempted to walk through the seemingly small stream. Of course our boots were six inches high and the creek, 6½ inches deep, but due to the fact we are skiers, we just laughed it off. (heh, heh).

TOW WORKS

We were about to pull out, when Roy Mackay arrived, and naturally we thought it would be just swell to work on the ski tow with our wet clothes and water-logged boots. So again replacing our smiles, we set out for the tow. To our amazement nothing had been stolen from it, and we were even more amazed when it started after only 15 minutes of trying. (We are quite used to at least one to three hours.) But all in all, we had a good day and a great deal was accomplished, but of course we wish we could get a few more fellows out. So come on you skiers, it won't be long, and we will be donning the old hickories. There isn't very much to do, so let's see you on the hill.

Ski Heil.

SHIFT PRAIRIE REFEREES

REGINA, Nov. 27 (CP)—Al Pickard of Regina, President of the Western Canada Senior Hockey League, today announced a re-assignment of the League's four referees.

Beginning Wednesday, when Calgary Stampeders play at Regina, R. E. (Hank) Wilson of Calgary and Ike Morrison of Moose Jaw, Sask., will handle League games in Saskatchewan. Maurice Walsh of Ajax, Ont., will join Paul Bozak of Moose Jaw in Alberta games.

Since the season started, the Morrison-Walsh duo have officiated at the Saskatchewan games while Wilson and Bozak worked in Alberta.

Pickard said the change is part of the League's plan to give referees a chance to work with each other. Further shifts will be made later.

Pickard also said a Regina Caps motion to dress more than 14 players each game was turned down by the executive.

More than four-fifths of the area of the Federation of Malaya is still covered by jungle.

Red Sox Sign Lou Boudreau

BOSTON, Nov. 27 (AP)—The Boston Red Sox' announcement of signing Lou Boudreau, deposed Cleveland Manager, of a player contract today lubricated the trading gears for next week's Major League Baseball meetings.

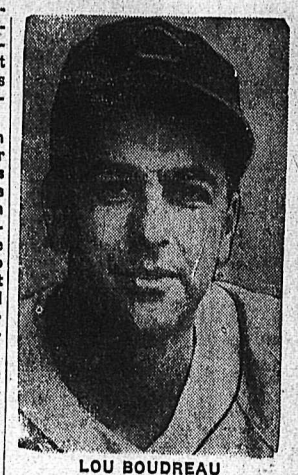
It also indicated that Vern Stephens, regular shortstop for the last three seasons, now is Red Sox bait in possible deals for much-needed pitching strength

After making his Boudreau disclosure, General Manager Joe Cronin became incommunicado in his Fenway Park office, but Manager Steve O'Neill, reached by phone at home in the Cleveland vicinity, was more informative.

"Now that we have Boudreau, we can afford to give up a regular infielder to get pitchers," O'Neill said. "I will be in St. Petersburg, Fla., for the Major League meetings next Monday and I will not lose any time finding out the pitchers who are available."

Boudreau, in Harvey, Ill., said "where and when I will play for Boston Red Sox is strictly up to Manager Steve O'Neill."

Boudreau, reported to have had a $65,000 manager-player contract with Cleveland, added, "It was between the Red Sox and New York Yankees all the way."



LOU BOUDREAU

Once the Indians displaced him with Al Lopez, Boudreau had several offers, one said to be a $45,000 bid from Chicago White Sox.

OTHER DEALS

Despite Cronin's silence, it is known that the Red Sox are in the market for such established pitchers as Philadelphia Athletics' Lou Brissie or St. Louis Browns' Ned Garver.

There are several other deals that appear possible for the Red Sox, including a baseball-shaking transaction involving their slugger Ted Williams.

Cleveland and Detroit Tigers. Who also have front-line pitching the Red Sox envy, have ample means to dicker for the $125,000-salaried Williams, who now is regarded as expendable by many in the Red Sox organization.

Quakers Defeat Stamps; Edmonton Ties With Caps

CALGARY, Nov. 27 (CP)—Saskatoon Quakers tonight squeezed out a 4-3 decision over Calgary Stampeders to take over undisputed possession of second place in the Western Canada Hockey League.

Saskatoon's Cy Rouse led his team to victory with two goals—one the winning counter—and an assist.

Other Saskatoon goals were scored by Chuck McCullough, and Stan Jones.

Stampeders' Archie Scott accounted for two of his team's goals. Stan Devicq added the other.

EDMONTON, Nov. 27 (CP) — Regina's tail-end Capitals and the leading Edmonton Flyers tonight battled to a 2-2 overtime tie to record the Western Canada Senior Hockey League's first stalemate of the season before a crowd of 6000.

The even split in points helped Caps, who now have nine in 16 games, but Flyers saw their first-place lead over Saskatoon Quakers cut by one point to 13.

Ray Barry and Colin Kilburn scored for Flyers, the latter also assisting on his linemate's counter.

Bill Kyle and Red Tilson were the Regina marksmen.

1951 Will Be Bad Grasshopper Year

REGINA (CP) — Saskatchewan farmers have been warned that 1951 may be a bad grasshopper year.

The Provincial Department of Agriculture says infestation by the stubble grasshopper, voracious enemy of grain crops, probably will be worse than in the last two seasons.

The Dominion entomological laboratory at Saskatoon says an extensive anti-grasshopper campaign will be required in a large part of the Province. Its preliminary forecast map shows bad outbreaks can be expected through much of central and Southern Saskatchewan.

Agriculture Minister I. C. Nollet said that the stubble grasshopper, which lays its eggs in stubble fields, is more easily controlled by proper farming practice than by poisoning.

Shallow Fall tillage is recommended, he said. During the last two years, severe damage had been done in infested fields sown to crop. Farmers should study egg infestation in their fields so they could tell whether it was safe to seed next Spring.

Sportsman's Park Cleared of Charges

CHICAGO, Nov. 27 (AP)—The Illinois Racing Board today cleared Sportsman's Park of alleged "irregularities," put reprimanded an auditor of the track for his $80,000 loan to Paul (The Waiter) Ricca, a paroled extortionist.

The Board granted 1951 racing dates to the Cicero, Ill., half-mile plant, including April 28-May 14, and Oct. 15-Nov. 3.

Two of the Board's three members suggested that the National Jockey Club which operates Sportsman's Park dismiss Hugo Bennett, the Auditor. Bennett last Friday testified he loaned the $80,000 to Ricca for "farm improvements" because of an old family friendship.

The hearing was launched following suspension of Sportsman's Park from membership by the Thoroughbred Racing Association.

Ricca was sentenced to 10 years in prison in 1944 for extortion. He was paroled in 1947.

Argentinian Leads Chess Tournament

AMSTERDAM, Holland, Nov. 27 (CP)—Miguel Najdorf of Argentina today continued in the lead of the international chess masters tournament, now in its 11th round.

In the one game played today, Nicolas Rossolimo of France defeated Harry Golombek of Britain in an adjourned game of the 11th round.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 27 (AP) — The heavyweight championship fight between Ezzard Charles, the defender, and Nick Barone was postponed today until Dec. 5 because of inclément weather. It had been scheduled for tomorrow night.

The action was taken at a special meeting of the City Boxing Commission called by Chairman Paul Cain.

Mrs. Kelsey Beaten Out of Wheat Title

By ERWIN FRICKE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO Nov. 27 (CP)—Four Canadians today won major grain titles at the International Livestock Exposition's Hay and Grain show.

V. P. Robbins of Shaunavon, Sask. picked off the premier award of wheat king in an upset victory.

John T. Eliuk of Dairy Hill, Alta., a steady winner, was judged barley king.

Louis Wendell of Neudorf, Sask., won the oats king title with an under-rated variety.

Chris Morck of Dickson, Alta., won the rye king title with the same sample of Pictus rye that earlier earlier this month at Toronto won for him the world's rye championship. Albert Kessel of Rosetown, Sask., 1949 rye king, was third.

Mrs. Amy Kelsy of Victoria, wheat queen last year and also in 1946, won the Hard Red Spring division and was overwhelmingly favored for a third grand championship and permanent possession of the Union Stock Yard and Transit Company trophy.

Robbins not only blasted her chances but another woman, Margareto Pew, beat Mrs. Kelsey out of the runner-up spot.

Canadians also won prizes in the following competitions:

Sweet Clover—Stanley Walker, Boyle, Alta., first; Mike Krajcic, Ellscott, Alta., second; E. Burns, Barrhead, Alta., fourth; Joe Guay, Athabasca, Alta., fifth; H. H. Jansen, Rosemary, Alta., sixth; and Clarence Hoff, Bluffton, Alta., seventh.

Red Clover—Mocabe Grain Company farm, Brooks, Alta., first; Walter Hoglund, Sundre, Alta., third; Valdi Lujasmeier, Magnolia, Alta., fifth.

Crested Wheat Grass—H. M. Gullot, North Battleford, Sask., first.

Refuse Injunction To Block Report

TORONTO, Nov. 27 (CP)—An injunction to block presentation of a report on an investigation of an alleged rubber combine in Canada was refused in court here today.

Twenty rubber companies sought the injunction on grounds that the present combines commissioner, Thomas D. MacDonald, is not the person who made the investigation and, therefore, should not present the investigation report to the Federal Government. Investigation of the rubber companies' activities was authorized more than three years ago by Fred A. McGregor, then combines commissioner.

Mr. Justice W. F. Spence of the Ontario Supreme Court ruled that the requirements of the combines investigation act were met by Mr. MacDonald "so long as he himself comes to his own decision that a combined exists."

The decision cleared the way for Mr. MacDonald to present his brief to the government.

$1920 Taken From Cafe by Children

VANCOUVER, Nov. 27 (CP)—Two boys, about nine and 13 years old, today are sought by police for a $1920 cafe robbery here Sunday.

Police reported the boys climbed over a partition into the office of the Trocadero Cafe in downtown Vancouver and looted a canvas bag on a desk.

The stolen money was in bills and silver. The boys discarded a number of checks in a wash room.

The manager and waitresses saw the boys in the cafe, but the theft was not discovered until half an hour after they left the restaurant.

Leak in Pipe-Line Pours Over Farm

EDMONTON, Nov. 27 (CP) — First leak in the oil pipeline from Edmonton to the Great Lakes was reported today by officials of Interprovincial Pipe Line Company.

The leak spilled about 200 barrels of oil on a Minnesota farmer's field, but officials said it was quickly located and fixed.

Officials said the leak was 3½-inch split in the pipe, 1½ miles West of the Red River. It was discovered when pressure fell off at the Regina pumping station. The farmer whose land was affected also reported. The line was repaired in less than two hours.

Racketeer Sells Fake Certificates to DPs.

VANCOUVER, Nov. 27 (CP)—The Vancouver Medical Association charged today that a racket exists in Canada to sell fake medical certificates to displaced persons from Europe.

The Association said that the R. C. M. P. has definite proof of the racket.

The statement voiced opposition to the Alberta Government's proposed plan to licence professional men, and declared:

"There is not one medical school on the European continent which can even approach the standards of medical education in North America. This does not, however, include Great Britain."

It said no discrimination has been shown qualified doctors who are displaced persons, but a number of applicants have been refused because no documentary proof of their standing had been submitted.

"More than 100 men have walked into the office of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of British Columbia stating they were doctors with European qualifications, but without the slightest documentary proof of these statements. Superficial investigation has shown several such statements to be false."

The statement did not say who are the operators of the racket, nor did it clarify the report that the R. C. M. P. has "definite proof."

New Religious Organization Unites Leading Churches

By ADELAIDE KERR

NE WYORK, Nov. 27 (AP)—The largest co-operative religious organization in the history of the United States will be set up in Cleveland in the next few days.

The new National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A.—uniting the work of 45 groups with the local cooperation of 2543 more—will be established at a constituting convention of leading Protestant and orthodox churches there Nov. 28 to Dec. 1.

The Council's members will be 25 Protestant and four Eastern orthodox denominations representing 150,000 churches and 32,000,000 church members in the U. S. It will link 16 existing national agencies now working in home and foreign missions, religious eduction, evangelism, youth movements and other fields.

RETAIN IDENTITIES

The agencies uniting in the Council's work will submerge their identities, but the churches will retain theirs. The Council does not constitute a merger of churches and has no authority or administrative control over the churches which are its members. It cannot prescribe a common creed, a form of church government or of worship.

Privately, however, many churchmen consider it a first step toward possible eventual unification of some Protestant churches.

The Protestant churches linked in the enterprise include Baptist, Congregational Christian, Friends, Methodist, Presbyterian, Protestant Episcopal, Reformed Church in America, Church of the Brethren, Disciples of Christ, Evangelical and Reformed, Evangelical United Brethren, Lutheran and Moravian. Not all branches of all these joined. There are also four orthodox denominations.

Tuberculosis Death Rate Halved in Last 15 Years, Rotary Told

Deaths from tuberculosis in British Columbia have dropped by almost 50 per cent during the past 15 years, Dr. W. K. Massey, director of the Kootenay tuberculosis clinic, told the Nelson Rotary club Monday at a luncheon address at the Hume.

Figures show that deaths per 100,000 of population stood at 69.7 in 1935. This rate has been reduced to 35 during the current year, Dr. Massey said.

He told of the strides that have been made in diagnosis and treatment of the disease during this period.

"Because of this we are finding more incidence of the disease than previously, but more importantly, we are detecting it to a far greater extent in the early stages where treatment is easier and more effective."

Dr. Massey illustrated his talk with the filmstrip "Provincially Speaking", produced with Christmas Seal funds and showing the facilities that are now operating in B.C. in the anti-tuberculosis campaign.

Five sanatoria with a bed capacity of 773 are now in use, with a sixth now being constructed which will provide another 528 beds, Dr. Massey said.

In addition, there are now 37 clinics throughout the province, all constructed during the past year, where free x-rays are available to anyone.

These have largely replaced the mobile units, the speaker said, making it possible for four travelling diagnostic clinics to cover outlying areas of the province.

Dr. Massey said the clinic here, set up last May at the hospital, was now available to everyone on a full-time basis and that those desiring X-rays could arrange it simply by calling the Public Health Nurse.

Referring to the annual Christmas Seals campaign being launched here and throughout the province Dr. Massey said its funds were being used to pay for a new $500,000 Institute Wing at a Vancouver sanatorium.

The Seals, distributed locally by the Rotary Club, had realized $125,000 in the province last year, Dr. Massey reported. Campaign officials were hoping to receive $150,000 through the sale of Seals this year, he added.

Reporter's Life Not All It's Cracked Up To Be

ABOARD H.M.C.S. SIOUX OFF CHINA COAST, Nov. 27 (CP)—It's because a destroyer is so narrow, you see.

I came jauntily up the Jacob's ladder of the Sioux, tied at buoy 18 in Hong Kong harbor. Yes sir, that good salt air. Makes a man want to breathe again.

I found a place to sit down—no easy matter on a destroyer—and in a few minutes the ship was under way.

It wasn't long before it started to get too warm. Must be near the engine room.

The ship began to roll from side to side. But also began to roll endways, too, bow to stern.

A bulb in a light wasn't screwed in tight. When the ship rolled, it blinked on and off.

Then somebody switched on the overhead fan. It rotated slowly.

COULD NOT HEAR

Now the ship seemed to be rolling diagonally, as well as across and endways at the same time.

I noticed I wasn't answering questions put to me. In fact, I couldn't hear anything being said.

A picture seemed to be joggling back and forth on the wall.

Then some instrument on the wall began to rotate like a ferris wheel.

The pressure was building up; the ship going up and down and rolling diagonally and across; the light flashing; the fan rotating; the picture joggling; the ferris-wheel whirling.

"Ready for lunch?" Somebody said.

Even the good salt air was no help.

Learns All Is Not Gold That Glitters

EDMONTON, Nov. 27 (CP) — Three men who tricked Casey Gorecki of Vimy, Alta., into paying $3000 for 9½ pounds of brass are being sought by police throughout the West.

Gorecki, who operates a hotel at Vimy, 33 miles Northwest of here, told police a man who gave the name of "Guzik" came to his hotel in October. This man said he was from Yellowknife, N.W.T., wanted to buy a hotel and had gold to sell. He then left, promising to return soon.

A man who said he was "M. Rakoff" next put in an appearance.

He claimed to be a Calgary jeweler and offered to pay Gorecki a commission of $2 an ounce for all gold he could locate for him.

Gorecki subsequently arranged for Rakoff and Guzik to meet in Edmonton. When he met them he was introduced to a third man who gave his name as "Kulik" and alleged he was Gusik's partner from the North.

Kulik produced a bag containing 16 pieces of yellow metal.

They said they had to return North and prevailed upon Gorecki to purchase their "gold" for $3000.

Gorecki borrowed the money from a bank to make the purchase. Then he was unable to locate Rakoff.

Edmonton police were notified after Gorecki recently took the "gold" to a jeweler and learned it was only brass.

C.C.F. Expected To Enter Vancouver Mayoralty Contest

VANCOUVER, Nov. 27 (CP)—The C.C.F. is expected to name a mayoral candidate for Vancouver's Dec. 13 civic election.

A spokesman said that a member of the party has been given until Wednesday to decide on acceptance of the nomination.

"We just can't run anyone," he said. "It has to be somebody with a thorough understanding of civic affairs . . . We think we'll have a candidate for the mayoralty."

He did not disclose the name, but it was understood Tom Alsbury, a school principal and leading figure in the C.C.F. for some years, has been asked to be a candidate.

Arnold Webster, another party worker, was also mentioned as a possible candidate.

Deer-Hunting Yarns

MANISTIQUE, Mich., Nov. 27 — (AP) — This deer really outsmarted the hunter. He stole his gun.

Harry G. Thompson and Charles F. Massey, both of Grand Rapids, Mich., were hunting Sunday North of this upper Michigan city. Massey brought down a buck.

As they approached the animal, Thompson noticed it was still kicking and thought he had better shoot it in the head.

"Don't do that,' said Massey. "The head will make a fine wall piece for the cottage."

So Thompson laid his rifle on the deer's antlers and got out his knife to slit the throat. — Up jumped the buck and dashed deep into the forest—bearing the gun aloft.

AND ANOTHER ONE

WINNIPEG, Nov. 27 (CP) — Two Winipeg men knew they had an early-start for the Maintoba deer hunting season which opened today.

But they didn't think it was that early.

Driving from the city Saturday Wilmer J. Ferguson and Henry J. Bourgeault were halted when a 300-pound, five-point buck hurtled out of the highway ditch and rammed their vehicle.

The buck was killed instantly and $200 damage was done to the car. The Game Warden has the deer and the men are wondering if he's going to pass that buck back to them.

A record 436,000 tons of sugar beets were delivered to Southern Alberta factories in 1950.
