Nelsonite, Father of 4 Killed in Car Crash

Plunges Down 50-Foot Embankment Near Grand Forks, Dies in Hospital

A father of four children died in Grand Forks hospital, six hours after his car dropped down a 60-foot embankment.

Victim of the Friday night crash is William Charlton Mundy, 34, of 222 Delbruck Street, Nelson.

The Nelson man was sole occupant of the auto, travelling along the Southern Trans-Provincial Highway, 11 miles West of Grand Forks. Fred Pearce, a motorist following Mundy's car, told officers that as Mundy approached the curve, his car continued in a straight line, running off the highway. The car nosed into the ground at the foot of the embankment.

The sudden impact threw Mundy against the steering wheel causing it to smash. He was conscious when taken to hospital but died of internal injuries several hours later.

The car, R.C.M.P. reported, was not extensively damaged. The accident occurred about 10 p.m. The death is the 18th on district highways this year. Born in Vancouver, he came to Nelson in April and was sales representative for Procter and Gamble products in the Kootenay. Prior to coming here, he worked in the same capacity in Kelowna and Vancouver. He was a member of the Associated Canadian Travellers and served in the navy during World War I.

Beside his wife Nora at Nelson, he is survived by four, two sons, David and Sean, and two daughters Shellagh and Mary Ann, all at home, and his mother Mrs. Robert Mundy presently in England.

Funeral services will be held here.

Fire Razes Emerald Staff House

Fire ripped through the Emerald mine staff house Sunday levelling the 21-room structure before any attempt could be made to save it. Some of its occupants scurried through windows to escape fast spreading flames. The panabode building, its furnishings and the personal belongings of the occupants were destroyed in the early morning blaze.

Fire broke out about 1:00 a.m., Sunday in the men's section of the structure. It was first noticed by a passerby.

A number of the residents were away and those in the building dashed to safety unable to save even personal belongings. The structure housed men and women employees of the mine and contained 18 rooms, a kitchen, dining room and lounge. It was located in the centre of the Jersey Townsite, about 30 miles South of Nelson.

She Knows How to Spend Winnings

VANCOUVER, Nov. 15 (CP)—What will she do with $18,700?

Mrs. Trudy Howes, 21-year-old blonde power machine operator, had the answer today after Solar placed third in the Manchester November handicap.

"We'll pay for the car, buy a house and furnish it," she said. "If we get everything we want, it will cost $14,500.

"It's wonderful. The only thing I ever won before was a sack of flour."

Her husband, Cliff, wasn't excited. He just rolled over and went back to sleep for half an hour when his mother told him Trudy's ticket had collected in the Army, Navy and Air Force veterans' sweepstake.

Married in June, 1951, in Winnipeg, where she was born, the young couple came to Vancouver a year later.

Low Water Cuts Alcoa Production

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 16 (AP). The Bonneville Power Administration Monday will cut 10 per cent of the electric power now going to 100 Pacific Northwest industries.

It was too early to tell Sunday how this would affect employment in the region.

But C. S. Thayer, northwest manager for the Aluminum Corporation of America said the Alcoa plant at Vancouver, Wash., might lay off about 20 men. The plant now is operating at only three-fourth capacity because of the loss two months ago of its interuptible power.

B.P.A. officials said the cut was made necessary because of reduced stream flow over Columbia River dams, source of most of the region's hydro-electric power.

Rainfall in much of the Columbia River basin this summer was at an all-time low.

PLANE MISSING WITH 20 ABOARD

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Nov. 16 (AP) — A C-119 flying boxcar is missing with 20 men on a flight from Elmendorf air force base to Kodiak, the U.S. Air Force announced Sunday.

The transport was on what was described as a routine flight in the current "Exercise Warmwind," Alaska training maneouvres.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16 (AP) — Robert Schuman, French foreign minister, left Saturday night for Paris after spending eight days at the United Nations General Assembly.

Plane Sounds, Smoke Lead to Main Lake Watch

Close watch is being kept on the Wilson Creek area following a report of smoke signals and sounds similar to a low flying plane in that area early Sunday morning.

Benjamin S. Woods, Kootenay Bay storekeeper reported to R.C.M.P. the following occurrence:

About 1:00 a.m. Sunday, Mrs. Woods heard what sounded like a "low flying" plane pass overhead. Later that morning they discussed this with neighbors who said they also heard the plane. A further check revealed that several other residents heard the same sounds.

Sunday afternoon about 1:00 p.m., motorists waiting for M. V. Anscomb ferry on the Kootenay Bay side of the Lake saw three "distinct" smoke signals two-thirds of the way up a mountainside opposite, near Wilson Creek, South of Procter. It was then that Mr. Woods called R.C.M.P. Police said here Sunday they will conduct an immediate investigation. Observations were made Sunday night but no further signs were reported to a late hour.

The approximate location of the smoke signals is five miles South of the West Arm-Main Lake outlet, on the West side of the Lake.

R.C.M.P. said there was a possibility the smoke may have come from hunters' campfires. No missing planes have been reported.

FUNERAL SET BUT SON STILL ALIVE

GLASGOW, Ky., Nov. 16 (AP) — A retired minister hurriedly called off funeral arrangements for his son Saturday after it developed that a body sent to him was not that of his boy.

The grave had been dug and all other preparations made for last rites for Robert S. Weldon, 35, son of Dr. J. W. Weldon, when young Weldon informed his parents from his Detroit home that he is alive and well.

The body of a railroad worker killed by a train at Bryan, Ohio, last Tuesday was identified as that of Robert Weldon and the body was sent here.

Father Killed, Two Sons Wounded

HAMILTON, Nov. 16 (CP) — One man was killed and his two sons slightly wounded Sunday night when a man, identified by police as Elmer Corman, 62, of London, Ont., walked into a suburban Stoney Creek home shooting a rifle.

Killed was Sheldon Hyland, struck by two bullets from the .22-calibre rifle. Glen Hyland, 30, was wounded in the hand and his brother, Osborne, 28, was struck in the upper arm.

No Doubt Then They Staybussed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16 (AP) The U. S. army's fancy-language artists tossed these words into a single order Saturday:

Embus—meaning to get on a motor bus.

Debus—to get off.

Reembus—to get back on.

An order was issued for troops to be stationed along Pennsylvania Avenue when President-elect Eisenhower comes to town Tuesday. The soldiers "will be embussed" and will ride to the avenue.

After "debussing" they will go to their appointed places.

"Vehicles" the order said, "will remain at the dismount point until troops are reembussed."

CHINESE REDS BEATEN OFF

Winter Takes Grip On Battlefront; Hydro Plant Bombed

SEOUL, Nov. 16 (CP) — South Korean infantry astride the crest of gory Sniper Ridge beat off three light Chinese thrusts Sunday as snow and cold closed in on the Korean battlefront.

Associated Press correspondent John Randolph reported from the central front that the Chinese had been jabbing at Allied positions on Pinpoint Hill, highest point on Sniper Ridge, and nearby Little Finger Ridge for nearly 24 hours. He described the Red attacks as "nothing heavy."

Some 20 miles west of Sniper Ridge, U.S. Eighth Army troops lodst Jackson Heights, north of Chorwon, after regaining it Saturday.

An Eighth Army tactical summary said the Allies counter-attacked Sunday morning, were forced back less than two hours later but again advanced in mid-afternoon.

On the western front Allied raiders northwest of Yonchon hit the Reds and were forced to retreat under intense mortar and artillery fire.

Heavy clouds hampered Allied air attacks over North Korea, but U.S. Fifth Air Force fighter-bombers were able to mount a few strikes.

Land-based U.S. Marine plane struck a hydro-electric plant southwest of Tongchon on the eastern end of the front.

Powerful naval forces, led by the 45,000-ton United States battleship Missouri, bombarded communist position on the east coast of North Korea during the weekend.

Going in close to the shore at Tanchon, the Dutch destroyer Piet Hein smashed a complete train.

On the west coast, the British cruiser Birmingham attacked communist gun positions in the Sokto Island area of the Yellow Sea, "neutralizing" several guns.

ONE OF THE WORLD'S BEST-KNOWN figures as a result of his years as secretary-general of the United Nations, Trygve Lie showed his emotion as he hurried through U.N. corridors after U.N. members had protested his resignation. He had resigned, he said, in hopes that it would pave the way for a Korean armistice. He had been criticized by both U.S. and U.S.S.R. representatives.

Coast Mother, Son Are Convicted

NANAIMO, Nov. 16 (CP) —Arthur Leynard and his mother, Mrs. E. A. Leynard, were convicted on three charges each by an assize court jury.

They were found guilty of breaking and entering the home of Mrs. Jessie Green at Royston; of wilful damage; and of assault upon Paul Leynard, the father and estranged husband of the accused.

They were given two years' suspended sentence and ordered to post $5000 bonds to keep the peace by Mr. Justice Norman Whittaker.

An added fine of $250 or three months' imprisonment was imposed on each of the accused on the damage charge.

Mrs. Leynard admitted in court that she and her son broke into Mrs. Green's home after following Mr. Leynard from their own home here.

U.N., U.S. Officials Attend Feller Rites

NEW YORK, Nov. 16 (AP) — High United Nations and U.S. government officials, including Secretary of State Dean Acheson, attended funeral services Sunday for Abraham H. Feller, U.N. general counsel who leaped to his death Thursday from his Manhattan apartment.

A WELCOME CHEQUE is shown by Phillip Lawless and his family of London, Ont. The cheque came from the Canadian government as recognition of the 1345 days he spent in a Japanese prisoner-of-war camp.—Central Press Canadian.

Greece Sends Greek Rally Party in on Landslide Vote

By L. S. CHAKALES

ATHENS, Nov. 16 (AP) — Field Marshal Alexander Papagos, military hero of two wars and leader of the right wing Greek Rally party, swept to an overwhelming victory in national elections Sunday.

His triumph appeared to be the greatest political victory in modern Greek history, matched only by that of Eleutherio Venizelos, founder of the Liberal party in 1928.

Experts predicted that the final count would return 200 to 250 members of the Greek Rally to the 300-member parliament.

WAR HERO

The 68-year-old Papagos gained his military laurels in fighting Mussolini's Blackshirts to a standstill in the Second World War invasion of Greece and in smashing the communist civil war.

Former Premier Nicholas Plastiras, leader of a leftist-centre coalition of National Progressives and Liberals which had bossed Greece until a month ago, had not yet formally conceded defeat.

The caretaker government of Premier Dimitrios Kissopoulos announced it will resign Tuesday, at which time King Paul is expected to give a mandate to Papagos to form a new government.

Papagos, a military disciplinarian accused by his opponents of seeking to establish a dictatorship and to oust King Paul, took the lead with the first returns and consistently improved his position.

In the campaign, Papagos denied he has dictatorial ambitions.

Lewis Issues Call for End of Wage Controls

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16 (AP) — The CIO issued a call Sunday for the end of all wage controls in the United States, said the price-control program has been virtually abandoned and cautioned that "there is the danger of a deflationary tendency" within the economy.

In exhaustive report on all CIO activities the last year, Philip Murray, CIO president who died a week ago, said:

"The facts—a weak law, soft markets in some parts of the economy, and collapsing price and production controls—are clear. The basis for maintaining wage controls under these conditions at present no longer exists."

But Murray asked the congress which takes over January 3 to "arm the government with authority to impose controls whenever necessary without the legislative and administrative delays that occurred in 1950" and said these should be imposed immediately if living costs move up steadily.

$10,000 THEATRE FIRE AT LADNER

LADNER, B.C., Nov. 16 (CP) — Damage estimated at $10,000 was caused Saturday night by fire of undetermined origin which broke out at the front entrance of Ladner's only theatre.

The fire started before show time and the theatre was empty. Offices above the theatre received smoke damage.

Pair to Wed in Spite of Father's Protest

LONDON, Nov. 16 (AP) — Negro jazz singer Pearl Bailey welcomed her white sweetheart, drummer Louis Bellson, Jr., with kisses and hugs at London airport Sunday. The couple then announced they will marry here this week despite the protests of Bellson's father.

Bellson, handsome, 29-year-old drummer in Duke Ellington's band, flew from New York shortly after his father, Louis Bellson, St., of Moline, Ill., sent a three-page telegram to Miss Bailey objecting to the planned marriage. His wife is in favor of the match.

Fortune in Seaweed

BOSTON, Nov. 16 (CP) — Dr. A. E. Kerr, president of Dalhouse University, Halifax, said Saturday night enough valuable products can be extracted from seaweed to pay Canada's national debt. Dr. Kerr, addressing alhousie's Boston Alumni Association, told of a laboratory at Dalhousie which is studying the possibility of making cosmetics, foodstuffs and other materials from seaweed.

Climbers 150 Feet From Everest Peak

KHATMANDU, Nepal (AP) —A six-man Swiss expedition trying to scale Mt. Everest, the world's highest mountain, established its last camp within 150 feet of the hitherto unconquered 29,141-foot peak, sources in contact with the climbers report.

It was thought possible that due to the lapse of time since this last report, the climbers might have reached the peak.

Executive Tyranny In Trade Unions Chamber Is Told

VANCOUVER, Nov. 16 (CP) — Criticism of "executive tyranny" in trade unions was voiced by Myron Kuzych, centre of a seven-year legal tangle, before the British Columbia Chamber of Commerce convention.

Kuzych who has been fighting the union closed shop, was invited by the chamber to participate in a discussion panel.

"Employers as well as employees are in danger of being swept under this so-called union security," he said.

Union security for the executive does not mean security for members of the union, Kuzych said.

U. N. Must Act in Korea Says Pearson

NEW YORK, Nov. 16 (AP).—Canada's L. B. Pearson, president of the United Nations General Assembly, says the U.N. must take action on the Korean conflict to end it if possible.

Pearson, Canadian minister of external affairs, told television interviewers Sunday that the assembly "has to take some kind of action with respect to Korea."

Asked whether such measures as bringing pressure on China should be used in ending the Korean war, Pearson replied: "We should consider every measure."

Later, he warned "it would be a mistake to take any action which would drive the Soviet Union out of the United Nations."

Pearson said that if the Korean war is settled by a compromise "it will not be a compromise at the expense of principle."

The U.N. he said, will not give up the principle that prisoners of war should not be forcibly repatriated and compelled "to go back to communism at the point of a bayonet."

Hot Debate Expected National Health Plan

U.N. TO TACKLE DEADLOCK

Speedup of Work Demanded by Brazilian Chairman

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Nov. 16 (CP) —The United Nations this week is expected to finish its generalizations on the Korean problem and get down to work on specific proposals to end the deadlock.

Joao Carlos Miniz of Brazil, the chairman of the 60-member political committee which has been debating the Korean problem for a month, called on members Saturday to speed up their work.

He noted that the committee has other tough problems on its agenda including the Asian-Arab demand for independence of Tunisia and Morocco, disarmament and atomic energy, and collective measures against aggression.

The assembly is scheduled to end its session by Dec. 20, but delegates indicate privately they expect it will go on late into January at least.

UNCERTAINTY BLOCK

The slowness of the Korean debate is attributed to the uncertainty about the real authority of the United Staes delegation in view of the presidential election, the stonewall opposition of the Soviet bloc to the UN command policy of voluntary repatriation, and the waiting for an expected compromise Indian proposal.

The Indian plan is reported to embody a Canadian suggestion for sending all prisoners to a demilitarized area under a neutral commission where they would decide whether to return home. The communists so far have demanded that all prisoners be repatriated while the UN command says it will not use force to return to communist hands any prisoner fearing for life or liberty at home.

European Farmers Sought by Canada

OTTAWA, Nov. 16 (CP) — European farmers are among categories of immigrants most sought by Canada.

An immigration department spokesman said in an interview Saturday that farmers and domestics are the only two categories of immigrants now entitled to "assisted passage" under the Canadian government's immigration program.

The spokesman was commenting on a Paris news report which said Canada and France are exploring the possibilities of French farmers coming to this country.

U.K. Also Favors Spain Unesco Membership

By STANLEY PRIDDLE

LONDON, Nov. 16 (Reuters) — Britain is edging closer to the United States attitude toward Franco Spain, as shown by the British decision to support Spain's application for membership in UNESCO, informed sources said today.

Spain's entry into the United Nacultural organization is one of the tions educational, scientific and thorniest problems facing that U.N. body.

Britain is ready to line up with the United States and probably France in favor of Spanish admission, the sources said, but many smaller countries such as Mexico and Uruuay are expected to put up strong opposition. The current UNESCO session in Paris was supposed to take up Spain as its first agenda item, but the debate has been delayed.

Seven Injured In Coast Fire

VANCOUVER, Nov. 16 (CP) — Seven persons received minor injuries Sunday when fire damaged an apartment building on Georgia street here. Firemen reported extensive damage to the building's east side.

Nickel Scramble Till Police Came

VANCOUVER, Nov. 15 (CP)— There was an unexpected bonanza on Vancouver's skidroad today.

A motorist clipped a parking meter on the roadside, scattering nickels all over the street.

The down-and-outers scrambled frantically for the windfall until the untimely arrival of a police car sent them scurrrying like feathers in a windstorm.

C.C.F. Petition May Stir Up Action; Anticipate Cautious Gov't Attitude

OTTAWA, Nov. 16 (CP) — Establishment of a plan for national health insurance, long a contentious issue in Canadian politics, is expected to bring a major debate at the new session of parliament opening Thursday.

The C.C.F., now circulating a petition calling for country-wide health insurance, is expected to redouble efforts for government action. But observers here expect the government will stand pat on its cautious attitude and counter with:

1. A recent survey showed that only two provinces, Alberta and Saskatchewan, at present favor full-scale national health insurance.

2. With defence and other spending already high, launching of a national health plan now would mean higher taxes.

One observer here said it is expected that the C.C.F. petition for full hospital, medical, dental, optical and other services, will produce a mass of signatures. But the federal government, with the cost in mind, would not be "stampeded" into implementation of such a plan and certainly not without provincial agreement.

The spokesman said he expects there will be suggestions for a parliamentary health committee. Establishment of such a committee would depend on government willingness to "do something pretty substantial." He did not believe the cabinet was prepared to introduce a national health plan in the light of world conditions and the prospect of heavy defence spending for some time to come.

OLD AGE SECURITY

He also noted that Canadians now are paying $400,000,000 a year for old age security. This, along with defence and other costs, has boosted the budget about as high as it can go.

Finance Minister Abbott has said that taxes already are high. In a recent speech he said that if Canadians want tax cuts they should not press for additional services.

However, the session probably will produce some health changes. The government's multi-million dollar national health program by which the provinces are assisted in hospital building, research and in training medical staffs, will be reviewed.

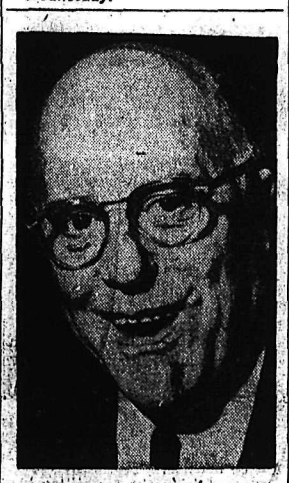
East Kootenay Hunter Killed

An East Kootenay man, resident of the C.P.R. flagstop of Ryan near Yahk, was accidentally shot during a hunting expedition Sunday.

R.C.M.P., following notification of the death to members of the hunter's family visiting in in Nelson, identified the dead man as George Kost. Mr. Kost, in his forties, was a C.P.R. section foreman.

A Yahk man of another hunting party apparently fired the bullet.

An Inquest will be held Wednesday.



SENATOR EUGENE MILLIKIN is expected to become top financial administrator of the Eisenhower government, a position roughly comparable to Canada's finance ministry, held by Douglas Abbott. Sen. Millikin will attend conference between President Truman and President-Elect Eisenhower.

NO PRO-GERMAN PARTIES IN SAAR ELECTION

By DON DOANE

SAARBRUECKEN, The Saar (AP) — While West Germany roars in protest, coal rich Saarland is going ahead with plans for an election Nov. 30 which bars all pro-German parties from the ballot.

The West German Parliament will debate the Saar issue Tuesday in a session sure to produce attacks against the French and the present Saar government.

The dispute has brought French-German relations to their worst point since the war and threatens West Germany's projected entry into the European Army.

The basic point is: Should the German Saar be returned to Germany?

The election will not decide this question. It will only elect a new Saar Parliament of 50 members. However, it may have a far-reaching effect on the ultimate outcome by ensuring for the next few years a Saar government committed to separation from Germany.

Police Seize 1600 In Mau Mau Raid

NAIROBI, Kenya, Nov. 16 (AP)— Police and military forces in a large-scale roundup of suspected members of the anti-white Mau Mau society seized 1600 persons in the Kinangop area Sunday.

Most of them later were turned loose but 208 were detained for further questioning and 60 were charged with various offences.

In the Nanyuki district 26 more Africans were arrested as they were about to attend a Mau Mau ceremony.

Another Venus Also Minus Arms

NAPLES, Italy, Nov. 16 (AP) —A new Venus has been discovered in excavations near here. This one, too, is without arms, much larger than life size. It was found at Msaseria del Gigante. Italian archaeologists describe it as one of the most important discoveries in many years.

And in This Corner . . .

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 16 (AP) — Mrs. Dorothy Dick filed a circuit court divorce suit yesterday charging her husband, James, with being too stingy.

Among other things, she said, he bought her a washing machine for Mother's Day and then took the switch off to keep her from running up an electric bill. She said he bought a frozen-food locker but kept a padlock on it.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16 (AP) — Russians claim they invented automobiles, but apparently they're having trouble keeping them running.

Some examples of automotive repair service, Russian-style:

1. The director of Kishinev winery says he waited three years for his truck to be repaired. Then he found that it had been "cannibalized" — stripped of parts to repair other trucks.

2. A truck of the Kishinev collective was delivered to a repair plant July 7 last year and more than 12 months later was still waiting its turn although in the meantime 6938 rubles — nominally about $1744 — had been paid in advance for repairs.

The situation is so bad, says the state department, even Russians are becoming impatient.

The customers of the government-run automotive repair plant at Kishinev, capital of the Moldavian Soviet Republic, finally complained. The situation was set forth in detail in a copy of the newspaper Soviet Moldavia received by the state department.

LONDON, Nov. 16 (Reuters) — Rent authorities here don't believe in ghosts so two "ghosts" in a suburban boarding house have been given seven days notice by their landlady.

Mrs. L. F. Bennett complained that two of her tenants, a newly married couple, made spooky noises in the night which frightened others in the house.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hetherington denied making the noises which they attributed to the spirits of two people who had died there.

The rent tribunal, like the landlady, didn't believe the ghost story and gave Mrs. Bennett permission to evict the couple.

Three Major Staff Changes at Daily News

Three staff changes affecting The Nelson Daily News have been announced by C. W. Ramsden, general manager.

R. J. Roberts, advertising manager for nearly a year, has been named manager of The Kimberley News, succeeding Glen Lehman who is returning to Trail. Mr. Roberts' succesor is Lorne E. Kennedy, who has had considerable experience in advertising departments of large Alberta dailies.

Frank E. Bradley, former circulation promotion manager for the Edmonton Bulletin, which folded in January last year, will take over duties of circulation manager. Allen G. Hay, who has held the post for about three years, plans to go into business at New Westminster, his former home. Mr. Hay will leave for the Coast today, but plans a holiday trip to Florida by car with his wife before taking up his new work.

EXPERIENCED

Well known to Nelson business men, Mr. Roberts goes to The Kimberley News with experience in advertising and in newspaper work generally.

Before coming here to replace S. M. Redmond as advertising manager, he was advertising manager and general office manager for the West Coast Advocate at Port Alberni for two years.

His father was for 47 years on the staff of the London Daily Telegraph, and Mr. Roberts himself was employed briefly by the London Daily Mirror. Before he married, he travelled to various parts of the world (practically all except China and Japan). When he came to Canada from England in 1947, he was en route to New Zealand, but after staying with relatives in Alberta, he decided to make Canada his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Roberts have a daughter, Susan. A married daughter lives in England and a married son in Kimberley, and another married son is in Nanaimo.

OVERSEAS

The new advertising manager, Mr. Kennedy, was born and brought up in Fort Macleod, Alta. He joined the army in the Spring of 1940, served for five years in France, Germany, Belgium and the United Kingdom, and on returning from overseas, went back to high school, and then attended University of Alberta in Edmonton for a short time. He was with the Lethbridge Herald's advertising department for nearly five years, and did a stint with the Edmonton Journal until now.

Mr. Kennedy is married, and will be joined by his wife this week. He is a Mason and a member of the Canadian Legion.

BULLETIN STAFFER

Mr. Bradley, new circulation manager, was employed by the Edmonton Bulletin for 13 years, rising through the ranks from carrier boy to junior, then senior district manager in circulation. An Edmontonian by birth and up-bringing, he served four years with the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps in the Second World War. He is married and has a son and daughter who are now here.

RCMP Musicians Here for Ball, Played to Royalty

A section of the band that played for Queen Elizabeth and Prince Phillip will be heard at Nelson's Civic Centre when the Royal Canadian Mounted Police present their first annual divisional ball here. The 10-piece orchestral section of the famed Regina band will arrive here Friday noon by train.

The feature of the evening will be the traditional Grand March led by the officer in command of the division, Inspector J. B Harris, and Mayor Joseph Kary and their wives. Others from the Kootenay who are expected to attend the ball are mayors and aldermen of the various cities, and ex-members of the original North West Mounted Police, who are retired in the district, Chamber of Commerce and village commission representatives from throughout the East and West Kootenay. A capacity crowd is expected at the invitation ball.

J. J. (Mickey) McEwen is master of ceremonies and throughout the evening, various entertainment acts will be presented.

The recreation hall will be decked in traditional R.C.M.P colors, royal blue, gold and splashes of scarlet.

Two Killed In Train Mishap

LEAMAN, Alta., Nov. 16 (CP) — A. Eaglesham of Edmonton, Canadian National Railways engineer, and fireman W. Warsfold, also of Edmonton were killed when a freight train smashed into the rear of another here Sunday.

The wreck delayed passenger train No. 1, which left Edmonton for Vancouver in the morning, and indications were that Eastbound Nos. 2 and 4 also would be delayed.

A C.N.R. official said a freight was in a siding, with several cars still on the main track, when a following freight struck the caboose. Seven or eight cars were damaged and the caboose destroyed.

Leaman is 88 miles West of Edmonton.

Logging Accident Kills Folk Singer

CAMPBELL RIVER, B.C., Nov. 16 (CP)—An inquest will be held here Monday into the death of a well known folk singer and logger, Andrew George Barr, 30, who was killed in a woods accident at Seaward Thusday.

According to an R.C.M.P. report, Barr was bucking logs on the Dyer Logging Co. operations about 60 miles North of Campbell River, when he was struck by a falling sapling.

A jury under coroner Dr. N. Bathurst Hall viewed the body at Campbell River yesterday.

Barr recently won an Associated Commercial Travelers' amateur contest with his cowboy and folk song presentations, and spent a free holiday in Hawaii with his wife.

A native of Saskatchewan, he is survived by his widow, and his father in Saskatchewan.

TORONTO, Nov. 16 (CP)—Christopher Clifford, 20 months, was reported in fair condition by hospital officials after a 40-foot fall from the third storey of an apartment building. The child suffered undetermined injuries. He is believed to have toppled over the back porch railing.

Car Goes Into Garage—Through Wall

Here's a car that chose the hard way to a garage.

Driven by Peter Pioton of Winlaw, it went out of control on Silica Street Sunday afternoon, cut through a lawn, swerved across Josephine Street, plowed past another property, dropped over a low stone wall and smashed through a metal wall to halt diagonally in a garage.

Some 500 pounds of oats being stored in the garage along with the metal wall were scattered across the garage to inflict about $600 damage.

The driver was unhurt.

Two cars, stored in the garage, were removed recently. One, taken out only Sunday afternoon, was sitting outside the door. Garage owner is Lorne Craig.

Police are investigating.

Building Space Plentiful Says Nelson Alderman

"We were surprised at how much land is available adjacent to the city limits," Alderman T. H. Bourque said Sunday following a tour of Nelson's outskirts in search of potential house building sites.

Accompanying city council's building committee were Robert Hickey, Public Works foreman and J. A. Maber, water works head.

The group viewed several sites in upper and lower Rosemont, upper Innes Street, 1900-block on Stanley Street, Selby Street and the Mount St. Francis area.

From information gathered Sunday the suitability of various sites will be decided.

The public works committee has been asked by council to submit a report on possible building sites in Nelson district. Council is investigating the possibility for a rental housing scheme for Nelson to ease a shortage. Surveys have shown over 100 families are in need of housing accommodation here.

76 Property Owners Added To Voters List

An increase of 76 in City of Nelson property-owners' voting list and a drop of 87 in the householders list were announced Saturday by City Clerk C. W. Reeve Harper following the annual Court of Revision at City Hall.

The court, which is made up of the mayor and two or more aldermen, this year included His Worship Mayor Joseph Kary, and Aldermen George Eckmier, Stanley Smith and Elizabeth Wallach.

Property-owners increased from 2411 to 2487, while the total overall list of voters dropped from 2770 to 2759.

List of householders and licencees changed from 359 to 272, 54 being deleted from the list because of failure to pay road tax by Oct. 31 of this year, and 18 have left the city. There were 14 additions to the list. Finally, 15 names were transferred from the householder list to that of the property-owners.

No individual appeared before the court during its hour-long session to appeal a change of status. The list as corrected and revised was signed by His Worship.

B. C.'s Prosperity Keynotes Reports At Coast Meeting

VANCOUVER, Nov. 16 (CP) — A story of unparalled progress was unfolded in regional reports read before the annual convention of the British Columbia Chamber of Commerce now in session here.

Fitted into place the reports show commerce flourishing in the province and expansion hitting a faster pace month by month.

Arthur Nickerson of Prince Rupert, president of the Associated Boards of Trade of Central B. C., said the Alcan development and Columbia Cellulose Forest projects had sparked unprecedented growth."

New prosperity from pulp and paper for Vancouver Island communities was described by Robert Mawhinney of Nanaimo, president of the island associated chambers of commerce.

The past year had been a healthy one for business despite difficulties in the forest industry caused by the strike and forest closure, he said.

Albert McMahon, of Mission City, representing small lumber operators, urged provision for maintenance of supplies for established local mills.

Timber should be allocated to keep mills and communities in business, he said.

Guest speaker Max Crossman, Q. C., addressed the delegates on labor management problems.

"It's about time both labor and management sat down to think of the basic answers to today's industrial problems to avoid future chaos," he said.

Mr. Grossman criticized the unrealistic view of some leaders and commented that "patching" of today's laws won't solve the problems.

French Firebrand, Charles Maurras Dies

TOURS, France, Nov. 16 (Reuters).—Charles Maurras, 84, firebrand journalist and poet and passionate opponent of practically everything but the return of the monarchy to France, died Sunday.

The diminutive bearded royalist—what he lacked in stature he made up by his scathing oratory—was jailed for life in 1945 for his wartime role as a collaborator and supporter of Vichy France.

Maurras was anti-democratic, anti-semitic and anti-communist. He was no lover of Nazism and he often openly denounced Hitler, yet he supported the occupying Axis powers, believing the Germans would one day leave France and make way for "a government of the elite."

Mortals and Immortals Is Theme

The lesson-sermon read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist Sunday was entitled "Mortals and Immortals." It showed the need for mortals to gain spiritually if they would throw off the corporeal.

The Golden Text was: "This corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality."—I Corinthians 15: 53.

The lesson-sermon included the following passage from the Bible: "The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God."—Romans 8: 16.

Among the selections from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, was the following: "When man is spoken of as made in God's image, it is not sinful and sickly mortal man who is referred to, but the ideal man, reflecting God's likeness."

Byrne Back From U. N. Assignment

CRANBROOK — James Byrne, Member of Parliament for Kootenay East has returned to the constituency for a few days before opening of the Fall session of Parliament, after attending the current session of the United Nations General Asembly as a parliamentary observer.

Parliament had four other appointed observers with the Canadian official delegation. Other members were Lionel Bertrand, Liberal from Quebec, Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative Member for Peel, Allister Stewart, C.C.F. Member for Winnipeg, and Dr. Beyerstein, Social Credit Member for Edmonton.

The observers met each morning with the Canadian delegation to discuss the previous day's proceeding in the General Assembly and to advise on the Canadian stand to be taken in the current day's proceedings of the assembly.

He reports the prisoner repatriation issue in connection with Korean peace proposals the most important matter dealt with, and that Canada's proposal that a committee of neutral authorities for screening of these controversial prisoners met with a favorable reception. Most important current issue is proposal the United Nations deal with the South African race issue, which the Canadian delegation believes is outside the Assembly's scope in being South Africa's domestic problems so far, and not an international issue.

United Nations delegations and observers had the opportunity during recent weeks to watch at close range the American political campaign.

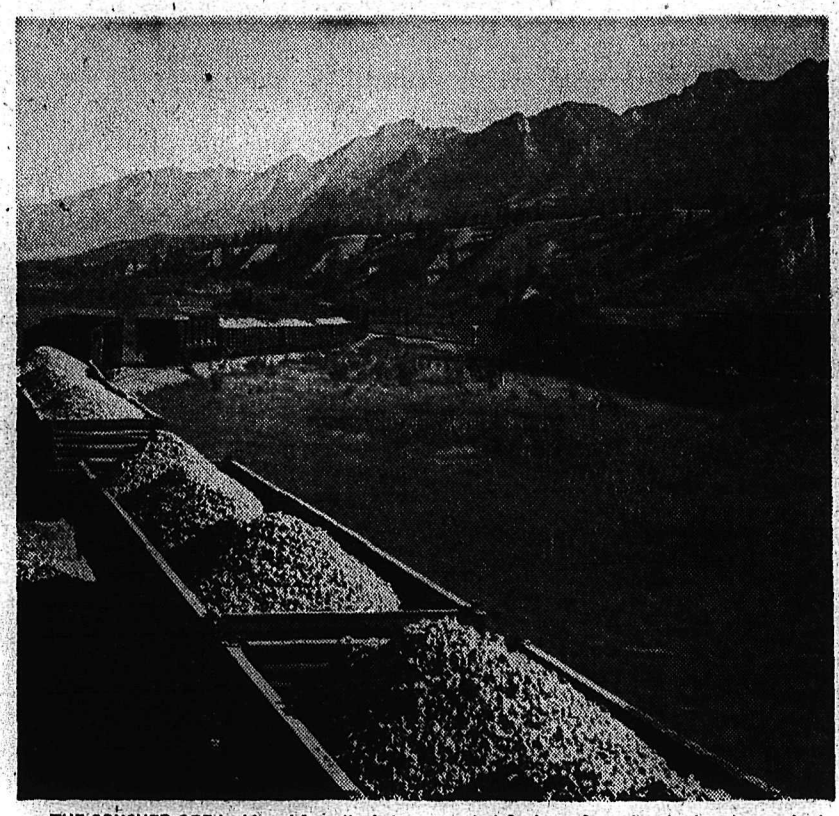
MARBLE-LIKE GYPSUM from the most unusual "mine" in the Kootenays is shown being loaded at Columbia Gypsum Products' quarry in the Tegart Pass area near Windermere. Last year 750 cars of ore went from this deposit, among the largest in North America, but shipments this year are much higher.



THE CRUSHED ORE is shipped from the Lake Windermere station at Athalmer via the Kootenay Central Railway to B.C. Cement at the Coast, Canada Cement at Exshaw and Spokane-Portland Cement at Spokane. Several carloads a day are loaded at a new crusher installed at the mine only this Summer—J. M. Cummings photos.

Kootenay Belle To Close in December

Drop in Base Metal Prices, Market Lack, Forces Shut Down

RETALLACK—The Kootenay Belle Gold Mines, Ltd., has announced it will suspend mining and milling operations December 15.

This decision was reached by officials of the company upon word received from the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company at Trail that the smelter will be able to handle only half the lead and zinc concentrates produced by the Kootenay Belle as from December 1.

The company has been able to carry on in spite of the steady decline in the price of base metals during the past few months, but the inability of Trail to handle all the concentrates produced makes a shut-down at this time inevitable.

R. E. Legg, consulting engineer, is expected to arrive from the Coast to help wind up the Company's affairs.

It is hoped that when the price of base metals is stabilized, and a market is assured, the company will be able to resume operations.

Although employment has tapered off recently, Kootenay Belle has normally employed 100 men over the last year, at its Sandon Richmond Eureka property and its Whitewater operations at Retallack. It has been the biggest custom milling company in the area.

It has been in operation for several years.

Power-Short Cominco Appoints Coordinator

TRAIL — Faced by a critical shortage of power, caused by the low level of Kootenay Lake, Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company Saturday appointed O. H. Gill as power coordinator.

Chief maintenance engineer for the company, Mr. Gill will attempt to make the utmost of what power is available.

The current season is the driest for the Kootenay river watershed since 1936-37 which is believed to have been the worst on record.

Already the storage level on Kootenay lake is down two feet. Normally it is possible to maintain the level throughout the year and hold back full storage.

Despite a shutdown of part of the zinc operation at Trail and other curtailments made in power use the level of Kootenay lake still is dropping.

Fairly heavy rains in the past week have not shown up in the lake so far although they may help the situation, particularly if wet weather continues. Moisture which may fall in the form of snow, if the weather turns colder, will stay on the mountains and not help the water level.

The following figures indicate the dryness of the present season compared to the 1944-51 average. Figures indicate the number of inches of rainfall in the four months.

	1952	Average
July	.01	1.032
August	.33	.935
September	.39	1.629
October	.05	3.46
Four-month total	.78	7.056

To restore the normal rainfall balance at least six inches of rain is needed in the district.

Reds Run Pirates Off High Seas

HONG KONG (Reuters) — There is not a famous pirate left on the entire China coast.

Even their centuries-old playground, Bias Bay, 50 miles Northeast of Hong Kong, has been made safe for small merchant ships.

China's Communists strengthening their hold on the China coast against the Nationalist forces of Chiang Kai-shek in Formosa have run them out of business.

By raiding and taking over the pirate shore bases, the Communists dealt a death blow to the harmless-looking junks that used to suddenly hoist the skull and crossbones and commandeer merchant ships.

As a result, the pirates have nowhere they could take a captured coastal vessel to beach and loot her.

Police here say there is little chance of the pirates reviving their operations.

If they did they would be caught right in the centre of a relentless but unofficial war between rival patrolling gunboats of the Communists from the China mainland and the Chinese Nationalists from Formosa.

In such remote areas as the Straits of Macassar, piracy continues on a reduced scale because the myriad islands provide the pirates with places in which they can hide, and they are assisted by intimate knowledge of local waters and tricky currents.

New Retallack Church Blessed

RETALLACK — Most Rev. Martin M. Johnson, Bishop of Nelson, gave the official blessing here Sunday afternoon for the new St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church.

Rev. Father Dwyer, pastor had the building brought to Retallack from Silverton after it was dismantled there.

Bishop Johnson was accompanied by Rev. Father Patrick Gallery, Redemptorist Superior at Nelson, and Dr. Joseph Vingo of Nelson, representing the Knights of Columbus.

Production of sugar-beets in Canada started about 1890 in the province of Quebec.

Laura Jamieson Optimistic Over Peace Possibitities

INVERMERE — The first of three receptions for three women prominent in the provincial political field, was held here Saturday at Lake Windermere Memorial Community Centre for Mrs. Laura Jamieson, M.L.A. for Vancouver Centre.

The reception was held under auspices of the Windermere District Women's Institute, as part of its citizenship program.

Introduced by Mrs. Vernon Marshall, W.I. president, Mrs. Jamieson spoke on international affairs, ignoring completely the coming by-election in Columbia riding and the fact that she is representing the C.C.F. party in this area.

She went back to the League of Nations organization explaining why it had failed to create world unity, but showing that from the League of Nations had come much valuable experience and the groundwork for many of the committees which now function under the United Nations.

She said the United Nations is trying to prevent a third world war, in learning by the trial and error method. She spoke briefly about the Korean situation.

NEHRU PRAISED

From there she went to other world areas of crisis. She spoke of the progress of India since that country has become independent, speaking highly of Prime Minister Nehru.

Mrs. Jamieson touched upon the "deplorable situation" in South Africa, which she described as quite as dangerous to world peace as the Korean situation.

She finished her address on a note of optimism. She said the world has passed through many crisis before, and she had faith that international security can be achieved.

Receptions for Hon. Tillie Rolston, minister of education, and Mrs. Nancy Hodges, M.L.A. will be held this week under auspices of the W.I.

Later a reception was held for 150 people, and the Abbot visited aged men at the Pavilion.

EDGEWOOD — Road conditions, and the need for keeping the Monashee highway open this Winter, were discussed at the monthly meeting of Lower Arrow Lake Board of Trade in Edgewood Hotel.

Further reports on these matters will came before the next meeting Dec. 11 in Needles Hotel.

A report was given on the first meeting of the Rod and Gun Club, newly-formed under sponsorship of the Board of Trade, and members were reminded that the next meeting would be Nov. 25, when more films on B. C. wildlife will be shown.

Cascade Hours Still in Balance

GRAND FORKS — Grand Forks Board of Trade has been stymied so far in its efforts to have the Cascade customs office kept open 16 hours a day in Winter.

Ottawa and State of Washington officials have advised the board the matter is under consideration, but have given no definite assurance of action. It is understood that a revenue department official from Ottawa who surveyed the situation in October recommended the office be kept open, but final decision will depend on United States customs officials who must decide to keep their Laurier port open the same number of hours.

William Anderson, passenger agent of the Greyhound Bus company, has said that if the customs office cannot be kept open longer hours, it will be necessary for the company to cut off two buses running through Grand Forks.

DAM REPAIRED TO SAVE WATER

TRAIL — Repairs amounting to about $500 have been completed on the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company's Lower Bonnington dam.

Before the work started two weeks ago, leakage amounted to 1500 to 2000 cubic feet per second. The repairs were made in an effort to conserve water after the two-month-long period of dry weather.

The dam, built in 1897, and reconverted in 1925, is the oldest of five West Kootenay Power and C.M.&S. structures on the Kootenay River.

Repairs were made by Cominco diver Fred McKim of Kimberley.

Telegraph Company Enlarges Trail Office

TRAIL—Work has started on enlarging the Trail office of the Canadian Pacific Telegraphs. About one-third of the present waiting room in the downtown station is to be added to the telegraph company office.

Expansion of telegraph facilities has been made necessary by greatly increased business. The office now has a staff of 10 persons. A separate entrance is to be provided for the telegraph office off Cedar Avenue, and there will be access to the office from the railway company waiting room.

Winds up to 110 miles an hour below continuously from June to September across the Afghanistan-Iran frontier.

Fruitvale Asks Grant, New Bridge

FRUITVALE — The interim commissioners of the newly-incorporated Village of Fruitvale, sworn into office Friday night, will ask the provincial government for a grant of $15,000 and construction of a new bridge over Beaver Creek.

The grant request, to allow a start on operation of the village, was decided on after a lengthy meeting of the commissioners, called when letters patent for incorporation of the village were received Thursday. Residents of the community had been trying for village status for over a year.

The Beaver Creek bridge has been one of the major problems of the community for many years, and replacement of it has been one of the major objectives of the interim commission. There was no exact decision on where the new bridge would be located, if the government approves the scheme. The site would be either at the present site or where the bridge was some years ago, nearby.

APPLIES FOR CLERK

One of the first undertakings of the commission will be appointment of a village clerk. The commissioners Friday night called for applications for the position, to be received by November 21.

The commission hopes to be able to stage village elections on the regular election date throughout B.C. in December.

Interim commissioners sworn into office Friday night by Stipendiary Magistrate A. J. Smith were Jule Lewis, Irving Trembath, Harvey Dilling and Otto Schewe. The remaining member, Carleton Haines was unable to be present due to illness and will be installed at a later date. Jack Pargeter was appointed an assistant to the commission.

Michel Miners Pay, $1 Hospital Dues

NATAL—Decision that a $1 assessment be levied on all members as a year's dues to the Michel Hospital Society was made here at a meeting of Michel local of the United Mine Workers of America.

The Fernie members, working at the Michel mines, will not be assessed. Any member of the local union not wishing to be assessed the $1 has the option of notifying the accountant in the coal company office. It is expected that the amount received from the membership assessment will be a start toward the newly-formed Michel Hospital Society fund.

IN A PICKET LINE at the Hamilton,Cottons plant at Hamilton, Ont., a woman has her hair pulled by a member of a rival union as part of a brawl between pickets and workers. At one time nearly 200 C.I.O. workers were exchanging blows and insults with 200 A.F.L. pickets, while police vainly tried to separate them. The quarrel is a jurisdictional dispute, with the C.I.O. the certified bargaining agent of the employees and the A.F.L. disputing C.I.O. rights. About half of the persons engaged in the brawl were women. — Central Press Canadian.

Bishops Deplore Trend Toward Secularism

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16 (CP) — The Roman Catholic bishops of the United States deplore what they call efforts to divorce religion from education and "to remove all influence of religion from public life."

The bishops did not mention individual groups in speaking of those "who follow the way of life we call secularism." But they said these persons apparently centre their main efforts on this strategy:

"First to secularize completely the public school and then to claim for it a total monopoly of education."

The bishops issued a 3000-word statement Saturday entitled "Religion, our most vital national asset," following their annual meeting here.

They said the state "has the duty to help parents fulfill their task of religious instruction and training."

The bishops commented that although the United States has achieved unprecedented prosperity and pre-eminence, "the temper of the country would seem to be one of restless foreboding and deep insecurity."

There was a lowering of vitality "in our social institutions, a deplorable pessimism that signals the presence of a cause as dangerous as it is profound."

Yet, the bishops added, they had found evidence of a renewal of religious interest.

Economic Talks Will Rank With Ottawa Tariff Meet

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Nov. 16 (CP) — The forthcoming Commonwealth Economic Conference, slated to open two weeks from now, will probably be the closest approach to a Commonwealth cabinet meeting held in recent years.

It is expected to last anywhere from 10 days to three weeks, longer than most Commonwealth assemblies, and the view is officialy encouraged that it may well prove the most important gathering since the Ottawa tariff conference of 1932.

While none too breath-taking as spot news, this can probably be broken down to cover three main preoccupations:

1. Measures to strengthen sterling. Although Britain's balance of trade has improved, gold and dollar reserves are still below the safety level, totalling well under $2,000,000,000 on an annual turnover of trade of $30,000,000,000.

Under this head, discussions will touch on the prospects for sterling convertibility. Commonwealth Finance Ministers have already pledged themselves to work for the earliest possible return to convertibility.

2. Commonwealth development. This will include ways of reducing the Commonwealth's abnormal dependence on supplies from the outside world. Specific topics might be an increase of rice production in the Asiatic Commonwealth countries and investment to produce more meat from Commonwealth sources instead of Argentina.

3. Trading arrangements. This would involve discussion of the general agreement on tariffs and trade, under criticism by some spokesmen in Britain and Australia. It is thought here that the Canadian delegation will resist any general attack on G.A.T.T., in whose formation Canadian ministers such as the Under-Secretary for External Affairs, Dana Wilgress, have played a decisive part.

Tough Sardinia Highwaymen Set Off Campaign to Round Them Up

By HORACE CASTELL

SASSARI, Sardinia, Nov. 16 (Reuters)—The biggest "job" the tough little Sardinian highwaymen pulled in years boomeranged and set off an all-out campaign to rout them out of their mountain hideouts.

Ten of the highwaymen stirred up the ire of police and authorities when they rashly held up 200 persons while the local provincial police were busy celebrating the feast-day of their patron saint.

The 10 men placed two ox-driven carts across a narrow, busy stretch of road between two towns in the island's mountainous centre.

While the local police were parading at the provincial capital of Sassari, 35 miles away, the highwaymen stopped five buses, automobile and two motorcycles and robbed 200 persons of about 2,000,000 lire ($3200).

OPERATION BOOMERANG

The whole operation lasted two hours. Within less than 24 hours, however, the operation had boomeranged.

The island't bandits, largely ignored by everybody except the local caribinieri until now, today find themselves the centre of a gigantic manhunt.

Thousands of well-trained police, many of them veterans of the bitter, recently-concluded war on Sicilian banditism, have poured into the island since the two-hour holdup.

At their head has come Police Gen. Ugo Lucca, "bandit's enemy No. 1," who organized the successful struggle against the Sicilian bandits.

Banditry has flourished for years in Sardinia.

FORAYS MODEST

Sardinian bandits were tough but unambitious. Their forays were modest and their hauls meagre. They lifted the wallet of a lonely wayfarer or robbed a peasant cart. On rare occasions, they held up a car and its passengers.

Just how difficult it will be to pry the bandits out is shown by the words on the gravestone of one of them who happened to die of pneumonia while hiding in the mountains.

"Here lies Pindor,' 'the epitaph declares, "whom the police have not yet captured."

Churches, Civic Centres Benefit By Woman's Will

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C., Nov. 16 (CP) — Twenty-two persons, the Women's Auxiliary of St. Andrew's Cathedral, the civic centre, the museum and St. Matthew's Church in Terrace are named beneficiaries in the will of the late Mrs. Amy D. McIntosh, reported to be in excess of $125,000.

This was disclosed here Saturday after Mr. Justice J. V. Clyne approved settlement of an action involving a dispute as to the validity of two wills at a special sitting of Supreme Court. A settlement was arrived at by counsel for beneficiaries.

Amount of monies or property to be received by the beneficiaries will not be known until the will is probated.

Mrs. McIntosh, pioneer of Prince Rupert and second white woman to reach this city in the frontier days, died March 31. She came here in 1906.

An Insult to Lethbridge Balmy Weather

LETHBRIDGE, Nov. 16 (CP) The Lethbridge Chamber of Commerce is indignant.

It said in a letter Saturday to the Chamber of Commerce in Woonsocket, R. I., that this city had been "amazed to learn" that an article in the Woonsocket Call had referred to the Southern Alberta city as "quite close to Alaska."

Lethbridge is 60 miles North of the United States border—and 2300 miles South of Fairbanks, Alaska.

Dennis O'Connell, executive secretary of the Lethbridge Chamber, wrote J. C. Winn, his opposite number in Woonsocket:

"There is some doubt in my mind as to whether the heavy underwear sales in Lethbridge are any higher than in Woonsocket."

Justice Sought For Injured Man

PORT ALBERNI, B. C., Nov. 16—(CP)—Jack Moore, of the I.W.A. office here, has criticized the Workmen's Compensation Board and National Employment Service for their handling of an injury case here.

He said the injured man, after drawing compensation for some months, had had his compensation pay reduced and was ordered to work. His employer refused to take him back until he was well, so the W.C.B. ordered him to draw unemployment insurance benefits.

The man would have to swear he was able to work, Mr. Moore said, which he was not. If he were to take another job he would lose his seniority with his former employer, and since the man paid into his unemployment insurance, he is actually providing his own compensation, Mr. Moore said.

2200 Copters, Light Planes, for U. S. Air Force

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16 (AP) — The United States Army, under a new agreement with the Air Force, is beginning to build up its own specialized aviation unit to a total strength of about 2200 helicopters and light planes.

Gen. J. Lawton Collins, army chief of staff, made available to reporters Saturday the terms of a "memorandum of understanding" with the Air Force outlining the types of aircraft operated by the Army and the areas and conditions under which they operate.

He explained that what the army has started to do is to provide a helicopter and light plane lift for soldiers and weapons "within a combat zone." This aim is to supplement and speed up conventional truck-type transport and to make it possible to take men and weapons into other wise inaccessible places on the battel line.

Transportation of paratroopers and troops to be landed by assault aircraft in the battle zone will continue to be a function of the air force.

3-Country Arms Meet a Success

OTTAWA, Nov. 16 (CP) — Informed quarters say the three-power infantry conference at Quebec City probably has obviated any chance of a repretition of the Anglo-American rifle dispute.

PROGRESS MADE

An official statement Saturday on the four-day conference which ended Nov. 10 hailed it as a success and said, in its key sentence: "Progress was made in deciding on the lines that future development should follow and which country would be responsible primarily for developing each of the items under discussion."

The conference was attended by senior officers of the United States, United Kingdom and Canada and marks the start of periodic meetings to keep the three countries going in the same direction in selecting new arms.

EQUIPMENT WEIGHT

The statement said "discussion covered the majority of arms and equipment used by the infantry." There was emphasis on keeping down the weight of equipment the infantryman must carry into battle.

Informed quarters said privately that each army now has a thorough knowledge of what the others are doing in developing new arms.

NEW R'FLE?

One result, they said, is that it is hardly conceivable that there will be a repeat of the circumstances in which both Britain and the United States—with a minimum of consultation—went ahead with plans for newrifles of their own. Canada intervened in that case and all three countries now are seeing if they can agree on a common new rifle or bullet.

The statements said: "Since the rifle and its ammuntion is progressing under the guidance of another committee, it was not an item on the agenda of this conference."

Toronto Children See Santa Arrive

TORONTO, Nov. 15 (CP)—There wasn't any snow today but Santa Claus came to Toronto anyway. About 600,000 children and adults jammed downtown streets to see Santa arrive on schedule as he has for 47 years. The parade was five miles long.

Invention of the Bessemer converter in 1856 made cheap steel possible.

Laymen Given Credit as Basic Link Between People and Church

LONDON, Ont., Nov. 16 (CP)—A Montreal church editor told the first Canada-wide laymen's conference sponsored by the Canadian Council of Church here that they, not the clergy, were the basic line of communication between the church and non-church Canadians.

Dr. Douglas Wilson, former associate professor of psychology at University of Western Ontario, said clergymen in effect could not get on the "grass roots level" of the people outside the church, but the layman can.

The major provinces of the population lost in God. Dr. Wilson said, were labor and intellectuals.

He said the basic difficulty is that what they hear in church is meaningless; ministers speak as if they were at a funeral; their tone is in effect sad and tearful; and they don't know how to speak on radio. All the time they compete with professional public relations people which make them sound rather sick.

A gap has grown between the clergy and the people and it grows wider as they live more and more in different worlds.

Dry Rot Costing School $10,000

DUNCAN, B.C., Nov. 16 (CP)—Measures to combat dry rot in the foundation of Cowichan High School will cost an estimated $10,000, Trustee George Bonner told the District 65 School Board.

Investigations revealed that excessive moisture under the building will force the replacement of 4704 feet of laminated beams, 120 feet of plates and 1360 feet of joists.

Mr. Bonner said the Department of Education will be asked to send two officials to the next board meeting to help lay the responsibility for lack of ventilation under the building that caused the rotting.

He said the trouble was noted before any settling took place in the $1,000,000 building opened in 1950.

PARTS OF DEFENCE IN WISMER CASE STRUCK OUT

VANCOUVER, Nov. 16 (CP)—Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson of the British Columbia Supreme Court today granted an application to strike out parts of the defence in the libel suit of Gordon S. Wismer.

Mr. Wismer, former attorney-general, is suing Maclean-Hunter Publications Co. Ltd., Toronto, and Blair Fraser, Ottawa journalist, charging he was libelled in a pre-election article published in Maclean's magazine.

T. G. Norris, counsel for Mr. Wismer, told the court that parts of the defence are "embarrassing and vexatious."

Mr. Justice Wilson ruled certain words are inappropriate and not clear, but he gave the defendants leave to amend their defence.

The article which contained the alleged libel was published by Maclean's Feb. 15 in Mr. Fraser's "Back to Ottawa" column.

Published after the breakup of the British Columbia coalition government it bore the sub-title "B.C. Coalition Commits Suicide."

Officials Watch For Enemy of Margaret

LONDON, Nov. 6 (Reuters) — British sea and airport officials have been told to watch for an unidentified American said to have threatened Princess Margaret, the Press Association reports.

The International Police Organization, the Press Association said Sunday, is working with British dectectives on the case. Orders have been sent out to hold the American for questioning if he attempts to enter Britain.

He is a middle-aged man whose full drescription is known to Scotland Yard. His threats were made in a letter to an acquaintance in Britain and in conversation in the United States.

However, Scotland Yard and the Home Office said they knew nothing about the matter and denied that special instructions had been issued to hold the man, said to be an American doctor, if he tried to enter Britain.

The Exchange Telegraph, the other leading domestic news issue, also carried the report.

Try Starting Day On Good Cheese Omelette

By MARGARET CARR

Cheese for breakfast sounds new, and perhaps even startling, but once you've tried it we think you'll like it. We Canadians are always a bit slow in adopting new eating patterns, but our European cousins long ago learned the value of eating cheese for breakfast, and they have been sold on the idea ever since. Most of them eat it "as is" and prize its digestibility. Leading nutritionalists in Canada are solidly behind this idea, too. For they're convinced that cheese for breakfast means that people at home, school or business can work at top energy all morning, and sail through till lunch time with no mid-morning lag or "all gone" feeling. What's more, the dairy food, Canadian cheese, offers top-notch protein, ready to eat. The protein in cheese is equal to that in meat or eggs. Yet, pound for pound, we get it at a substantial saving.

We're giving you our pet recipe for Foamy Cheese Scrambled Eggs, breakfast favorites for sure. We're also including a number of other quick breakfast tricks, under our heading "Ever try?"

FOAMY CHEESE OMELET

3 eggs, separated
3 tablespoons hot water
¼ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
¾ cup shredded Canadian Cheddar cheese.

Beat the egg whites until stiff. Then beat yolks, add water, salt and pepper. Fold in beaten egg whites. Turn mixture into a well buttered frying pan and place over moderate heat. Cook until browned underneath, puffed, and beginning to shrink from the sides of the pan. Then sprinkle the grated cheese on top. Place in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) until omelet is well puffed, dried and the cheese melted. Fold and serve at once. Makes three servings.

NOTE: When making six servings, make two omelets using quantities as in above for each.

CHEESE SCRAMBLED EGGS

2 tablespoons butter
6 eggs.
5 tablespoons milk,
Salt and pepper.
1 4-oz. package cream cheese.

Melt butter in frying pan. Beat eggs slightly and add milk and seasonings. Pour into hot butter and cook slowly, stirring constntly until eggs begin to thicken. Add the cream cheese, broken into small pieces. Continue cooking until mixture has a creamy consistency.

Serve at once on toast points, garnished with parsley.

EVER TRY

Toasted Cheese Bread at breakfast time—or for that matter, any time of the day. Next time you decide to treat your family to homemade bread, make it cheese bred by adding 1½ cups grated Canadian cheddar cheese for each loaf to your own favorite recipe.

Making ordinary muffins or biscuits into cheese ones, just add ½ cup grated Canadian Cheddar cheese to the sifted dry ingredients in your family-sized muffin or biscuit recipe.

For Parents . . .

The Way to Help Stuttering Boys

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Barring cases where there is an organic impairment of the central nervous system, it seems possible for any stutterer to recover. The older the stutterer is, the less readily he will recover. Some children from two to five just "grow out of it." Nearly all such stutterers recover when they are understood and treated wisely by their parents.

As stuttering is chiefly emotional in nature, the longer a person has stuttered the more self-conscious he grows of his speech difficulty. Obviously, this selfconsciousness may increase with school experience, though some of our best best school systems have speech experts who achieve marvelous results, chiefly by working with the teachers and parents of the stuttering child. The mother of a boy, ten, writes:

"He stutters. He pounds his hand against his right side in order that he can speak. He seems to be all bottled up."

SERENE ATMOSPHERE

In part, here is how I answered her: Anything you parents can do to provide a more serene and happy family atmosphere and make him feel secure and relaxed will help. A certain boy, ten, was reported by his mother as a violent stutterer. She wrote me during the school term. I advised that he be required on each afternoon after school to lie down for an hour.

Months later, the mother wrote me that the lad had recovered. About a year after this, I met the boy and found that he spoke with great ease. Still later, he won several prizes in oratorical and dramatic contests.

It might not be so simple with your son but it is worth working for. Don't expect quick results or be discouraged if you don't see early improvement. Work at a long-time program. In case you see no improvement after a month, get in touch with a speech expert or a psychiatrist.

HOW TEACHERS CAN HELP

To teachers who don't have the help of a speech expert, let me suggest a plan. Some time when the stuttering child is absent take the other children in the class into your confidence. Help them to imagine how they would feel in his place, so that they will not laugh at him or give any indication that they notice his stuttering. Ask them to endeavor to help the stutterer in every possible way in the classroom and on the playground so that he will feel comfortable.

Work out a private understanding whereby the stutterer will give you a secret signal when he desires to speak in class. Guard your own demeanor, movements and breathing, so as to give him the impression of "all is well." Don't, of course, ask him to repeat or to wait or go slowly. Create an atmosphere in which he naturally will "take it easy." Try to persuade his parents to work in like manner. I have heard from a number of teachers who have won great success in these directions.

Who Gained?

An answer given in the House (Page 2100, Hansard, May 12, 1952) gave the total amount received by the C.B.C. from radio licences in 1951 as $5,304,964, collected by Provinces as follows, omitting cents: Newfoundland, $112,792; P.E.I., $25,886; Nova Scotia, $270,225; New Brunswick, $185,202; Quebec, $1,449,467; Ontario, $1,613,752; Manitoba, $338,989; Alberta, $422,887; Saskatchewan, $401,438; British Columbia, $484,077; Yukon and N.W.T., $846.

The Hon. Lionel Chevrier, Minister of Transport, told the House (Page 2538, Hansard, May 23) that while it cost $769,752 to collect the licence, about half went for payment of commissions to collectors and the other half to salaries in the Transport Department.

We Should Record the Past

There should be greater efforts toward preserving local and district history. Original records and documents become lost because too many of us are too busy with current affairs to evaluate them properly, pioneer buildings are torn down and historic sites covered without effort to mark them, and the pioneers who were eye-witnesses to our history are passing.

Some valuable work has been done in preserving the highlights of the past, but a more concerted effort is needed to make sure that as far as possible, an adequate record is made and kept of our Kootenay history and that historic sites are marked. The marking of places of pioneer happenings is of value not only historically, but to students and to visitors.

Oldest Living Things

A few weeks ago, a giant fir in B. C. was cut down at the age of 1092 years. Some years ago a 1106-year-old was made into timber.

These giants are Canada's oldest living things, and their destruction has moved the Financial Post to suggest that we must guard lest the last of our great trees, like so many man-made historical landmarks, should disappear.

"It may be good relations for a company or a private individual to protect some of these things for future generations. But it is a cost which we should not expect them alone to bear. Some larger group or authority should undertake their preservation."

Helpful for Hens

The disclosure that United States radio musical programs piped to the henhouse are increasing egg production holds no wonder for us. We've heard too often the phrase "laid an egg" connected with such programs.

It is well for a man to respect his own vocation, whatever it is, and to think himself bound to uphold it and to claim for it the respect it deserves.

Thanks for the Chimes

To the Editor:

Sir—Please allow me space in your valuable paper to say thank you Trinity Church for the old time Gospel Hymns we hear throughout the day. I wish to thank God, that I live in a Christian city, where some one has been kind and thoughtful enough to provide music, that many people in this busy and trying times — may pause and listen to.

To the visitor, who wrote concerning the Bells: It is nice to know we have such talented and musical people as visitors here. I do hope before she leaves she will have a chance to meet and hear some of our wonderful choirs especially St. Paul's Boys, and many others.

I have had on two different occasions explained the meaning, and place the music was coming from, and it gave me one great pleasure to give the particulars to our American friends. They thought it was one of the nicer things among all the lovely things around our fair city.

If the visitor is ever in Rochester, she will, I hope, hear the lovely music which floats out over that city, bringing Hope and Comfort to the many people from far places who are there for medical treatment.

So perhaps, kind visitor, you will ask someone, who I'm sure will give you the particulars, and we may go on enjoying those few moments every day which are very dear to the hearts of many people. While you are visiting here you may not altogether enjoy it — but perhaps will accept it for the short time you will be here anyway.

Anyone but a Government would go broke doing business Mr. Gardiner's way, says the Victoria Colonist. "So far the Government has bought and canned about 57,000,000 pounds of surplus pork at a total cost of 60 cents a pound. It is trying to dispose of these enormous stocks at 40 cents a pound, but even at give-away prices the Government has been able to get rid of only a little more than a third of the stock."

Exuberance and rowdyism in university hazing practices are hard to distinguish, says the Vancouver Sun. "But . . . if there is a danger on the one hand of permitting hoodlumism, there is an equal danger on the other of encouraging stuffed shirtism. Wild pranks at universities are no new development of this age . . . Learning that is worth anything is an adventure. Adventure can't be undertaken without hilarity."

An Indian visitor to Canada sees us as happy people with a high standard of living, no steep graduations of income, and with limited aims largely concerned with material things, and with a country overshadowed by the United States, notes the Victoria Times. "It would, however, be comforting to think that he will be taking back to India with him an impression of the Canadian people that reaches behind the facade. He has looked at a well-kept house. We hope he has also seen the home within."

Without sail the schooner fishing fleets are getting smaller, sadly reports the St. John's News. "Of the 200 vessels that once went to Labrador, barely a score remain. Of the 100 vessels that went with dory-cluttered decks to the Banks, hardly one is left. Even the coasting trade is declining in the face of rising costs, and fewer vessels are operating this year than ever before. Changing times require changing methods, and in this process there are many casualties which we shall continue to mourn for sentimental reasons while accommodating ourselves to the new methods and new conditions that circumstances and science impose upon us."

Hooray—half-literate! says the Victoria Times in commenting on University of Toronto tests for freshmen. Last year 65 per cent of the freshmen flunked. But U. of T. is recovering from that calamity. "This year less than half the freshmen flunked. The other half, it appears, are nigh on to being literate . . ."

Motorists make an interesting study for students of human nature, notes the Westview (B. C.) Powell River News. "We recall seeing an exhibition of driving at a circus by so-called 'hell-drivers'. It was a good show, but had nothing on the experience one may personally encounter when driving in traffic or other crowded thoroughfares."

Criminal Code Amendment

Legal authorities are nonplussed by the situation arising out of illegal entry of people from Canada to the United States. They are having extreme difficulty finding any law under which such illegality, either on the part of those who go across or those who "assist" them to do so, can be prosecuted successfully.

Action, of course, can be taken against them in the United States, and is being taken when illegal entrants are discovered. They are subject to deportation, sometimes after a period in jail. And if those guilty of providing them with faked documents go across the border and are apprehended, they could end up with long prison terms. It is similar when Canada catches up with those who enter Canada illegally.

United States laws, of course, do not prevail in Canada. And Canadian laws, where such emigrants are involved, seem inadequate. Law officers should study the situation and come up with adequate amendments to the Criminal Code, or to any other statutes necessary, to cover this type of activity.

Unless this can be done, Canada can be accused of condoning those who make a racket out of getting Canadians into the United States, even by recourse to bribery or other unethical practices.—Windsor Daily Star.

From an Oldtimer's Notebook

by R. G. JOY
Historian Nelson District Oldtimers Association

(Editor's note: This continues the story of Mr. Joy's period in the Kootenay. It covers activities from the early '90s to the present.)

My employer at Nakusp was not acting the square thing, so I quit and came back to my home town of the Kootenays, Nelson. I may as well set down some of the prices of groceries in those days of the nineties: Hams were 17c per pound, bacon 15c, eggs 35c per dozen. We also laid coffee down at Nakusp from U.S.A. at 35c per pound. We also got low prices on quarters of beef and it was part of my chore to carry them from the beach and then up a steep flight of steps to the street facing the lake. I could have had numerous fights with some of those chaps that were strong when under the influence of rye.

NEEDLES PIONEER

Fauquier was the only policeman that I knew at that time. He, was of the first to subdivide the land at Needles for fruit growing.

At any rate, I travelled on board the S.S. Marion (by the way I have a photo of this old boat when it was in use at the Lardeau years ago.) When Captain Saunderson landed the old Marion to take wood and milk at one of the small plots of land along the shore, we were told by an elderly gentleman who hailed from Australia that the soil would make good fruit land. Billy (W. E. Coles) and I examined the soil and noted it was far different to Manitoba soil, but the Australian knew what he was talking about.

There was one passenger aboard, who Capt. Sanderson used to call on to take the rowboat out in very rough water. This chap was a marvel. I think he must have been a pioneer of the Kootenays and was accustomed to inland waters. I never got his name.

Another early day figure was Big Dan Dunn, whose body lies buried at Nakusp, of C.P.R. construction fame. He was employed by the townsite company clearing the townsite, making roads for the great influx of people that were coming to Nakusp, called the gateway of the "Slocan mining district", for the discoveries of silver in 1890 till 1893 were remarkable and so much of it was at the grass roots and it was easily packed from the hills by pack horse teams. Packers Fred. Jeffers, Angus McIntyre, George Hughes and others did a great business before the days of the railroad.

CAMPAIGNING VIGOROUS

The Nakusp and Slocan Railway, was an election slogan at that time, and a young Scot lawyer by the name of Kerr was very effective with it when he was campaigning at Nelson that Fall at the old Nelson Fire Hall. Theodore Davis came from Kaslo in an open small steamboat in cold weather and had to jump out immediately to the Fire Hal land deliver his speeches. I will never forget it. Poor man he was very uncomfortable from sitting in an open boat for 40 miles in Fall weather.

I feel I must tell some more of Dan Dunn. He was about 6 feet 5 inches and broad of shoulder, and with not an ounce of superfluous flesh. He had a voice like a foghorn when he yelled "fire, fire", folk got out of the way of the blasts and the hose reel team.

Dan also was employed on the construction of the R.R. from Robson to Nelson. I was told that men were scarce and Dan was sent to Sudbury, Ont., to get 150 men mostly for rock work. Jim Faulds, who was one of Nelson's firse policemen I feel sure was one of these men. He and his brother held the championship for drilling (hand) contests, and even invaded to the South at times with good results. There were also Mat. Kelly and Jim Kelly. Old man Thomas, the teamster who was reputed to be worth 20 thousand dollars and one of the first teamsters in Nelson. An old Welshman, he sold water in Nakusp at 25 cents per barrel. I also got acquainted with the Gunner from Galway at Nakusp, R. T. Lowery of Nakusp Ledge and Kaslo fame. His assistant was Capt. Cochrane, a young chap then. I later met him at Vancouver during Jubilee time at Nelson.

Good Inns, Good Spirits, But No Politicians Drink Problem Solution

To the Editor:

Sir—Members of the Liquor Enquiry committee are saying they have had few opinions or briefs from private persons or consumers.

Maclean's Magazine, November 1, gives an account of the Customs Department Liquor Scandal of 1926, written by Bruce Hutchison. The committee might study that account and compare the demoralizing conditions there outlined and those stated in the private brief appended.

No further proof of the terrible effects of liquor traffic when in the hands of Government appointees should be required.

A. W. LYMBERY

THE B. C. LIQUOR SYSTEM, OBSERVATION AND SUGGESTIONS:

In the latter years of Queen Victoria, between 1870 and 1900, the drink that seemed to be really harmful in England was gin. It was not popular with the real topers, beer and ale drinkers or by people of means. Its cheapness, its repute as a healthy type of drink and its very stimulat ng qualities made it a great favorite amongst the poorer people and especially amongst women. Doctors advised heavy beer and ale drinkers to give them up and take a moderate amount of gin. Fortunately the ugly name "cocktail" was not invented then.

YOUTH ADVISED

In the nineties a small amount of gin in a large amount of stone-ginger ale became popular; 12 cents was the general price and a very good drink it was, especially after a hard round of golf on a warm day. Young men of those days were not told that all alcoholic drinks were bad, generally parents advised their children never to drink more than they needed and never to drink so much anywhere as to cause them to walk unsteadily, to chatter or to feel pugnacious. Also to drink only with or after a good meal. In fact the advice was 'if you take a drink learn to carry your drink like a man.' It was almost taken for granted that young girls would not drink in public. Drinking to excess at dances was rare and severely frowned on. Carrying bottles around was not popular. A small pocket flash of wine or spirits was frequently carried when skating, hunting or shooting.

The name "cocktail" seems to have been invented in this century, possibly by Eastern U.S.A. wine merchants who, disregarding all the lore of the old wine drinkers, began to realize that if the public could be induced to take mixed drinks, especially before meals, then still more would be consumed and paid for.

DELIGHTFUL DAY

A delightful way of spending a day's holiday in the country, in Europe, was a morning walk of three or four miles, stopping at mid-day for a meal of bread and cheese with a glass of beer, lemonade or shandygaff in any of the numerous small hotels or inns. Before prohibition times B. C. hotels managed well-appointed bars, the chief objections to them being the system of treating and the necessity of standing to take a drink.

Everyone interested in the liquor problems of the present day should read the report of the Commission that enquired into the poor quality of the drinks purchased by the Government for the early liquor stores of the province. Having lost my copy "Minutes of proceedings of the House of Commons" and writing from memory it appears that: Mr. X. the person appointed by the legislature to travel to Scotland, Ireland, France and England, authorized to purchase all the supplies of wines and spirits, necessary to the B. C. Liquor Stores, gave the following account:

On leaving his house in Victoria, on his way to the harbor, he noticed a neighbor, whom he did not know personally, going in the same direction. He saw him on the boat to Vancouver, on the same train to the East and they found they were travelling on the same boat to Europe.

Later he learned the other man was himself in the wine and spirit trade or an agent. Then, as he naively told the Commission, he discovered the agent could supply all the wines and spirits needed by the Liquor Board and so could place all his orders before reaching Europe.

Then, in a very simple way, he said he really need not have visited all the countries, but he did so, as he felt it his duty to confirm all orders, but he could not understand why such poor wines and spirits had been received. It was reported the wines were so inferior that the board mixed them with strong loganberry wine, probably causing re-fermentation, and sold the dangerous stuff to the public, illegal? Even for a government?

FOR TRAINED HANDS ONLY

This should be carefully studied as none but experienced wine merchants, hotelmen and others, trained to such a skilled trade, should engage in the sale of wines and spirits. Such a trade should not be in the hands of politicians. High prices and prohibition always make the public anxious to buy drinks. The above-related experience of a B.C. Government should warn people not to want cocktail bars and their inferior mixtures.

Comfortable hotels and inns are badly needed.

Drink legislation of the French and English systems should be studied.

The making of cider and cherry wine should be considered.

Much misery and drunkenness would be avoided if only well-matured wines and spirits were on sale.

Gordon Opposing Poje Appeal

VICTORIA, Nov. 16 (CP) — D. Marshall Gordon, Q.C., will leave Victoria Monday for Ottawa, to oppose appeal of Tony Poje's conviction on a contempt of court charge.

The appeal is scheduled to come before the Supreme Court of Canada on Nov. 24 or 25.

Mr. Gordon was called into the case to represent the Attorney-General of British Columbia when the Poje case was before B.C. Court of Appeal. That court dismissed the appeal, although one of the three judges dissented.

WATCHED WITH INTEREST

The Poje case is being watched with interest throughout Canada, and especially by labor groups.

Poje, an I.W.A. official in Nanaimo, was convicted of being ringleader of a group of pickets which ignored a court injunction order. Poje was sentenced by Chief Justice W. B. Farris, of B.C. Supreme Court, to pay a $3000 fine and serve three months in prison.

Poje served two weeks of the sentence before a stay of proceedings was granted, giving him his liberty until such time as his case was reviewed by the higher court.

Churchill to Head British Delegation

LONDON, Nov. 16 (CP) — Prime Minister Churchill will lead the United Kingdom delegation at the Commonwealth Economic Conference opening Nov. 27, it has been learned. Almost every member of the inner British Cabinet will be in the delegation, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, as Deputy Prime Minister, has been supervising arrangements for the conference.

Moscow Explains Eisenhower Vote

MOSCOW, Nov. 16 (AP) — The Communist party newspaper Pravda told Russians tht unpopularity of President Truman's policies—particularly the Korean war—decided Gen. Eisenhower's victory in the United States presidential election.

"Voters balloted not so much for Eisenhower," Pravda said in a front page, two-column-wide editorial, "but against Truman and his administration, which the American people charged with responsibility for unleashing the Korean war, high prices and taxes and corruption."

The editorial was the most detailed report on the election to appear thus far in the Russian press. It also included news of Eisenhower's declaration that he would go to Korea for an on-the-spot study of the fighting, a decision Pravda described as a "tactical manoeuvre."

Western observers considered as significant the fact the editorial refrained from any personal attack on the president-elect.

Pravda did charge, however, that Eisenhower was elected by a minority of the American people giving its readers the impression that most Americans did not want him.

Goals, Penalties Pile Up as Leafs Take Smokies in Free-Scoring Game

Nelson 11, Trail 5.

Goals and penalties were coming so fast at the W.I.H.L. match at the Civic Arena Saturday night that at the end of the game Scorer Jack Morris was busily writing half-way up his cuff in a frantic effort to keep even. A tabulation every two minutes left him on the ropes thinking he had written a young book.

The scoring splurge was the biggest in years and found the Hyssop-Haldane-Lowe line racing in for eight of the eleven goals and generally spoiling Johnny Sofiak's entire weekend. Sofiak, incidentally, must have wished he had held out another eight days.

For ten minutes it appeared that the fans, and there was a capacity crowd, were going to see a tight game. Checking was close even if the Nelson forwards did test Sofiak on several occasions.

Then Haldane scored on a pass from Pasqualotto and both teams settled down to some heavy scoring. Turik evened the count almost immediately on a pass from the alert Cook. Half a minute later Neil McClenaghan scored and Lowe added another with seconds remaining.

WINNER TO HYSSOP

Terry Cavanaugh put Trail back in the game early in the second with a rifle shot from inside the blue line. Once more Haldane gave Nelson a two-goal margin only to have Kromm combine with Shabaga to cut it to 4-3. Thus, with the Nelson fans thinking that they might safely ride out the storm if they could hold their slight margin, the spidery Lee Hyssop took over. Ghosting around in the opposition defence in a style that was distinctly reminiscent of the elusive Bill Vickers in his first year at Nelson, Hyssop sniped one from Haldane and Lowe and then breezed through on a solo effort for what proved to be the winning goal.

Mike Shabaga, who played a smart game for Trail had earned himself a slashing penalty and while he was off, Haldane, Hyssop, and Lowe were in so often on Sofiak, he was finding it hard to breathe. With the change of line Fritz Koehle scored on a pass from brother Red and Severyn.

Ernie Gare was chased for boarding in the third and while he was off the Smokies put on their heaviest pressure and the Boomer had to be good to hold them off. Norman Hyssop had the best chance to score but instead of taking his time and steering it into the net he guided it to the prostrate Boomer. Fritz Koehle added his second of the night, Red and Smith assisting. It was a straight perseverence effort.

PUNCHES EXCHANGED

Luis Corrado high-sticked Lovett, but before he could be escorted to the penalty box they were both swinging punches and continued for about half a minute before they could be separated. If the game had been wide open up to this point it now split at the seams. The Nelson team was out after more goals with the result Trail got its best scoring chances. In fact the Leafs left Boomer so much alone that when one of them came back to try to catch a breakaway Smokie, Boomer looped up with a pleased smile that said louder than words, "If I'd known you were coming I'd have mixed up a pan of buns."

While the scoring honors went to the first string of Haldane, Hyssop, and Lowe, a total of 14 points in all, the second string of the Koehles and Smith made five as well as doing yeoman work in killing penalties and the third string of Lovett, McClenaghan and Haley got three. The latter line made some beautiful passing plays with the elongated, and at times, apparently disjointed Lovett, slewing, slithering and sliding around defencemen to set up his plays.

Cook was Trail's steadiest defenceman and he played a smart, cool game. Up front, Shabaga played a heady game, with Cavanaugh always a threat and Kromm, when he could forget the crowd, was a thorn in the Nelson side.

Despite the 13 penalties called, more should have been handed out by Referees J. Lang and Bill Wicken. There was still too much high sticking and slashing.

English Rugby Losing Out to Canada Football

By KINGSLEY BROWN, JR.
Canadian Press Staff Writer

HALIFAX, Nov. 14 (CP) —English rugby has lost a one-sided battle against Canadian football in this East coast port which for 200 years has been noted for its close association with the Old Country.

The glamor of colorful uniforms, brilliant quarterback strategy and mid-game attractions took the crowds away.

A rugby league official who asked not to be identified admitted today that "rugby here is dying on its feet. A recent crucial game saw the biggest attendance this season —25 persons.

"But a couple of blocks up the street," he said, "Dalhousie University Tigers and Stadacona played a regular league game before some 2300 persons. The bleachers and end zones were packed."

It wasn't always that way. In 1926, for instance, when the University of New Brunswick played Halifax Wanderers 6000 fans watched Wanderers win the Maritime rugby title.

Provincial centres and Maritime colleges still support the game and Cape Bretoners, in particular, cling to their rugger with admirable tenacity.

It is considered only a matter of time, however, before nearly all colleges take up the new game.

The game caught on here shortly after the Second World War. It now is played in the city's three high schools and a vocational school and at Dalhousie University.

In New Brunswick, a four-team Canadian football league is operating with success.

The game is steadily gaining popularity. Attendance, at an average of 1400 a game, has doubled since last season. The average at a rugby game, according to a Maritime Rugby Union executive, is five persons.

Injured Stein Leads Packers

By The Canadian Press

Harvey Stein, felled in the first period with a stick cut over the right eye that required stitch work, sparked Kelowna Packers to a thrilling 4-3 overtime victory over Penticton V's in an Okanagan Hockey League game at Kelowna Saturday night.

Stein's second goal of the night broke a 3-3 deadlock, the winner coming at 9:25 of the extra period.

The win moved Kelowna into third place, one point ahead of the Vernon Canadians, forced into the last berth by their 7-2 loss at home to second-place Kamloops Elks.

Argos Down Tiger-Cats 22-6

By the Canadian Press

Hamilton Tiger-Cats should know exactly how Edmonton Eskimos felt about a month ago before the western football champions pulled the comeback of the year to earn a berth in the Nov. 29 Grey Cup final.

The Tiger-Cats, quoted at 6-5 and 7-5 odds to defeat Toronto Argonauts in the first game of their home-and-home total-point Big Four championship series, collapsed before a home-town crowd of 17,312 Saturday and lost 22-6. They have a 16-point deficit to overcome.

If Tiger-Cats win at Toronto Wednesday and advance into the Eastern Canada sudden-death final they will match anything the Eskimos did in the western semi-finals against Calgary and the final against Winnipeg Blue Bombers. But there aren't many folks around who concede them much of a chance to get past Argonauts.

Native Sons Tie Tigers 7-7

MEDICINE HAT (CP) — Medicine Hat Tigers and Lethbridge Native Sons, battling it out for fourth place in the Western Junior Hockey League, fought to a 7-7 overtime draw.

The result of the Saturday game left Native Sons in fourth spot, one point up on the Tigers.

Leafs, Wings Win in N. H. L.

By the Canadian Press

Toronto's peppery young Maple Leafs beat the National Hockey League's tail-end Rangers 6-2 in New York Sunday night. In Boston, Detroit Red Wings trounced Boston Bruins 5-2.

Recruits Ron Stewart and Gordie Hannigan led Toronto's drive with two goals each as the Leafs took full advantage of lapses by the New York defence.

The rivals battled nip and tuck until late in the second period when George Armstrong leisurely skated nearly the length of the ice and scored unassisted to break a 2-2 tie and give the hard and close-checking Maple Leafs the lead for keeps.

That broke the Rangers' back for the Leafs tallied three more goals in the third period with ease. Stewart, Hannigan and Harry Watson scored, each firing the puck past the unprotected Ranger goalie, Lorne Worsley. Watson's goal was unassisted. Hen etted even though Alan Stanley's stick was hooked beneath his arm through the greater part of his journey.

The game's first four goals were scored while the opposition was shorthanded. Wally Hergesheimer, the Rangers' one-man team, netted in the first and second period while Stewart counted for Toronto in the first frame and Hannigan in the second.

Hergesheimer tops the league with 12 goals and has scored more than one third of his team's output.

Ranger centres Edgar Laprade and Don Raleigh saw action for the first time this season. Laprade came out of retirement while Raleigh was out with a broken left wrist. The Leafs played without their star centre, Max Bentley, who is bedded with the 'flu.

Attendance was 12,163.

The Boston game saw a 10-minute misconduct penalty called by referee Red Storey against Detroit's Ted Lindsay. Storey charged him with using profanity while he was on the bench.

Boston's Real Chevrefils opened the scoring after the face-off, at 53 seconds, with assists from Milt Schmidt and Leo Labine. But Metro Prystal evened things at 5:53 with help from Lindsay and Red Kelly.

Alex Delvecchio, aided by Johnny Watson, put Detroit in front at 5:47 of the middle session and then Reggie Sinclair—with help from Delvecchio—notched what proved to be the winning marker at 10:17. Labine pulled Boston within one goal at 14:12, Jerry Toppazzini assisting, but Marty Pavelich and Gordie Howe tallied in the finale for the Wings.

A crowd of 10,211 turned out in Boston Garden for a 25th anniversary celebration of the first N.H.L. contest played there.

Former Boston stars including Cooney Weiland, Dit Clapper, Harry Oliver and Perk Galbraith were on hand, along with some of their Montreal Canadiens' opponents of that night, including Georges Mantha, Auriel Joliat and Battleship Leduc.

Bantam Title To Australian

JOHANNESBURG, Nov. 16 (AP) —Jimmy Carruthers became Australia's first world boxing champion Saturday when he knocked the world bantamweight champion, Vic Toweel of South Africa, out of the ring in 2:19 of the first round.

The underdog pounded Toweel from the opening bell and the scheduled 15-rounder ended with the champion helpless on his hands and knees before the crowd of 3000 in outdoor Rand Stadium.

Carruthers, weighing 116¾ to 117 for Toweel, lashed the South African into a bloody caricature of a champion with a murderous left hand, then sent him somersaulting out of the ring with a right-hand smash to the jaw.

Referee Willie Smiths had reached a count of nine as Toweel crawled back int othe ring. The champion, his face a bloody mask, was counted out as he tried to get on his feet.

C.P.R. Defeats Transfers

Spearheaded by Jim Hendry, who scored the hat trick, C.P.R. took Transfer 6-4 in Commercial Hockey League play at Civic Arena Sunday.

Hendry picked up four points in all, notching an assist as well, and other C.P.R. scorers were Gordon Pickering, two, and John Marquis. Two assists were also picked up by Marquis, three by Spray and one by Pickering.

Best for Transfer was George Welbourne, who scored two goals and gained an assist. Other scorers were Gill and Jilleo Mores, two assists going to Jamieson and one to Gill.

Serving penalties were Bob Pickering, Laurie Kubin, Miscoe, Al McDonald, Sparks and Jamieson.

JAYCEES DOWN FORESTRY 17-5

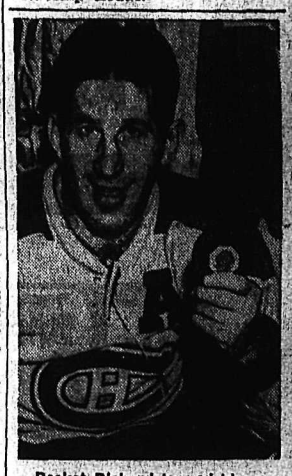
The Junior Chamber of Commerce trounced the B.C. Forest Service 17-5 in Sunday's commercial league game.

Scoring for the Jaycees were Donald Jamieson, Jack Morgan, Don Porteous and Ernie MacLaughlin.

Penalties went to Ron Gorsline and Hank Gay.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14 (AP)—The National Football League today took over operation of the Dallas, Tex., football franchise for the rest of the 1952 season.

Commissioner Bert Bell said the Texans, who ran into financial difficulties, would play the five games remaining in their schedule "on the road."



Rocket Richard termed his record-breaking 325th goal as "the greatest thrill of my hockey career," and a wildly cheering Montreal crowd, on hand to witness the history-making game against Chicago, were only too happy to share the thrill. His record-breaker, beating Nels Stewart's 324 total, came exactly 10 years to the day after the Rocket, then a green rookie, scored his first N.H.L. goal — against New York Rangers on Nov. 8, 1942. The Rocket also assisted on the tally that sent teammate Elmer Lach into the 200 class. Incidental to these momentous moments was the fact that Canadiens won the game 6-4, and moved to first place in N.H.L. standing. — Central Press Canadian.

Alberta Youth Wheat Champion

CALGARY, Nov. 16 (CP) — The new wheat champion of the world is 19-year-old Ronald Leonhardt of Drumheller, Alta. He won the C.N.R. trophy today at the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto with his entry of a sample of Marquis wheat. Ronald Leonhardt, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Leonhardt, who farm near Livingstone, about eight miles northeast of Drumheller, is a member of the Drumheller Junior Grain Club and the third 4-H boy in that district to win the world title in the last three years.

Fourteen-year-old Ricky Sharp of Munson, world champion in 1950, was runner-up to Leonhardt this year. Howard Roppel, of Rockyford won the title last year when he was 21.

RADIO NEWS

The new wheat king first heard the news of his victory this morning while listening to the radio in the kitchen of his farm home. He said in a telephone interview that he was delighted to win and very excited. He thought he would go to Toronto if invited, but so far no plans have been made.

Czechs Facing Food Shortage

VIENNA, Nov. 16 (AP)—Czechoslovakia's food shortage, which caused hunger demonstrations a few weeks ago, is not better—possibly even worse—since the harvest was brought in, reports reaching Vienna said today.

The shortage has reached a point where official Communist newspapers admit that no eggs are available except on the black market and that workers leave their jobs for hours to queue up for potatoes. Besides a potato famine, there are shortages of root crops and fruit, diplomatic reports say.

The newspaper Rude Pravo announced a few days ago that egg distribution for everybody over 12 years of age had been cancelled.

Czech newspapers indicate that Russia, supposed to supply Czechoslovakia with half the grain she needs, has not been coming through on time with her deliveries lately.

U. S. Dollar Gets 2-to-4 Cent Dock

VANCOUVER, Nov. 16 (CP) — Most Vancouver firms have dropped the discount on the United States dollar by as much as two cents.

Many firms discounted the U.S. dollar by four cents a few days ago but now have dropped the discount.

The B.C. Electric and Telephone Company and government liquor stores are charging the two cent discount. In the majority of hotels the discount is two cents but some charge three.

The real discount Saturday was 1¾ cents on the dollar but firms find it easier to charge a straight two per cent.

NOOTKA COMING HOME

SINGAPORE, Nov. 16 (Reuters) —The destroyer Nootka, first Canadian warship to visit Singapore, arrived here Sunday on the way home after completing its second tour of duty in Korean waters. The destroyer leave for Colombo, Ceylon, Tuesday.

TORONTO, Nov. 16 (CP) — Mrs. Leona Loescher, 42, today was charged with the attempted murder of her seven-weeks-old son Warren. Police said the child had been hit on the left side of his head several times with a hammer. Hospital officials said the child was not expected to live.

SOUTH AMERICAN STATES, as well as Canada and the U.S., has thousands of refugees from Europe settling on farms and in cities. One of the results of Venezuela's colonization program is this tree of papayas, averaging a record 10 pounds each. They were grown by Miss Deja Marzaky, whose family emigrated from Hungary three years ago and now operates a successful farm. The government program had 2000 selected European farmers settled on 50,000 acres.

Ottawa Announces Bushel Payments

OTTAWA, Nov. 16 (CP) — The Trade Department has announced that western farmers will get an average final payment of 25.23913 cents a bushel on the 434,000,000 bushels of wheat delivered to the Canadian Wheat Board during the crop year ended July 31 last.

The payment is based on the $114,385,113 remaining in the Western Wheat Pool for the 1951-52 crop year average initial and intermediate payments totalling $1.60 a bushel, basis No. 1 Northern, had been made to the farmers delivering wheat to the board.

Checks on the final payment—which will go to all farmers who made deliveries to the board during the crop year—will be mailed beginning Nov. 20. Total distribution of all checks is to be completed before Christmas.

Aussie Says U. S. Trade Unreliable

MELBOURNE, Australia, Nov. 16 (Reuters) — Australia's trading experience with the United States has shown it to be an unreliable market, Commerce Minister John McEwen says.

The minister's statement was circulated among government members before he left for London last week to attend the Commonwealth Finance Minister's conference.

McEwen backed his argument by citing the American duty imposed on Australia wool, the embargo operating on Australian butter "or an administrative requirement which has resulted in Australian fresh fruit being dumped in American harbors."

METAL PRICES

NEW YORK, Nov. 16 (AP)—Two lead price advances and persistently brisk demand for the metal encouraged United States lead miners last week.

Lead—14.5 cents a pound, New York; 14.3 cents, St. Louis.

Zinc—12.5 cents a pound, East St. Louis; 13.33 cents, New York.

Nickel—36.5 cents a pound, electrolytic cathodes, Port Colborne, Ont. U. S. duty included.

Silver—83.25 cents an ounce, New York; 72.875 pence, London.

U. S. Plans New Oil Surveys

SEATTLE, Nov. 16 (AP) — The Seattle Times said Saturday new oil exploratory programs in Washington State are being planned by two large oil companies—Standard and Union of California.

The Times quoted reliable sources as saying Union has 50,000 to 60,000 acres of land under lease and Standard some 40,000.

The exploratory programs were not expected to involve immediate drilling operations. Seismic exploration, which are explosive tests to study underground structure, would probably come first.

Standard recently announced the purchase of a 2000-acre site between Everett and Kukiteo for a refinery and storage plant. Union is reported to have an option on a nearby tract.

The tracts are just south of the Ferndale site where General Petroleum Corp., plans to build a $35,000,000 refinery which will handle crude oil piped from Alberta.

OTTAWA, Nov. 16 (CP)—Foreign Minister Eden of Great Britain arrived in Ottawa for a four-day visit and says he is looking forward to informal talks with Prime Minister St. Laurent and other Cabinet ministers.

Mr. Eden landed at Rockcliffe airport Saturday in an RCAF Dakota. He went to Rideau Hall, where he will be the guest of Governor-General Vincent Massey.

Industrialists See Prosperity Dropping In '53

SEA ISLAND, Ga., Nov. 16 (AP) —Top United States industrialists think prosperity is assured until mid-1953 or beyond, with prices stable or somewhat lower.

The Business Advisory Council, which reports to the Secretary of Commerce, turned its off-the-record meeting into an economic seminar.

Robert T. Stevens, chairman of the council and board chairman of J. P. Steyens and Co., New York, world's biggest textile house, summarized for reporters the outlook as given by members in every major field of industry and finance:

"The concensus was that business will be good certainly through the first half of 1953; beyond that some were not so sure."

Beetle Spreads Further West

REGINA, Nov. 16 (CP)—Saskatchewan agricultural officials said today the rusty grain beetle has infested a large area southwest and east of Rosetown in west-central Saskatchewan. They said the situation could be considered "quite serious."

The Wheat Pool reported it has fumigated considerable quantities of grain in order to eliminate the beetle.

Localized infestation has been reported also in the extreme south-centre and extreme north-centre of the province. In the Rosetown area Druid and Herschel were mentioned as specific points affected. The infestation has been found in both elevators and annexes.

(In Edmonton, an Alberta government official said there have been no reports of the beetle appearing in Alberta).

LONDON, Nov. 16 (Reuters) — The Anglo-Iranian Oil Company is about to begin construction of an oil refinery at Aden on the Red Sea, a company spokesman said today.

The refinery, to take about two years to build, is estimated to cost about £50,000,000.

Grandma would have blown a fuse! if she could have shopped at a modern store

Nobody had much of an answer for the age-old question "What will we have for dinner?" in Granny's time. She was tied by seasonal products and to the basic ingredients with which she roasted, fried and baked.

Canadian manufacturers have done much towards relieving kitchen drudgery. Better cooking methods, better tools, canned and frozen goods, semi-prepared foods — all have helped to provide the demand of the harassed housewife — LEISURE TIME.

Advertising has made a vital contribution to making prices within reach of all, because advertising makes for mass production and this means lower cost to produce — to sell.

Advertising too, provides innumerable answers to "What will we have for dinner?" New recipes, new foods, new menus, new ways to save time and effort.

This newspaper would be quite a different thing without the new ideas, where to buy and for how much, provided by the advertising.

H-Bomb Exploded In U.S. Atomic Tests?

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16 (AP) — The United States Atomic Energy Commission has concluded a new series of atomic weapons tests—including "experiments contributing" to hydrogen bomb research.

A brief announcement Sunday did not, however, specifically say that a full-scale hydrogen bomb was detonated in the just-ended series of tests at the mid-Pacific proving ground at Eniwetok Atoll.

Speaking of the series of shots as a whole, Chairman Gordon Dean of the commission said: "Scientific executives for the tests have expressed satisfaction with the results."

Dean, in response to reporters' questions, also disclosed that the commission is investigating, with the view to possible prosecution, a flood of letters from task force personnel purporting to describe a hydrogen bomb test shot Nov. 1.

Letters began arriving more than a week ago from persons at Eniwetok who said they had witnessed the first hydrogen bomb blast.

The letters indicated that the writers were describing something of far greater power than previous known atomic explosions. If the letter writers—chiefly junior officers and crew members of ships near the scene actually saw what they describe, the weapon obviously lived up to its unofficial billing of a "hell bomb."

One man thought the explosion caused a mile-wide island to disappear.

Several letters reported an exact time for the reputed hydrogen bomb explosion — 7:15 a.m., Eniwetok time, Nov. 1.

The commission's announcement referred to President Truman's directive of Jan. 31, 1950, telling the commission to work on the "so-called hydrogen or super bomb."

Truman's statement indicated that work may have been in progress on the super weapon. He said he had told the A.E.C. "to continue its work on all forms of atomic weapons" including the H-bomb."

Youth's Shooting Spree Sparked by Movie Thriller

TORONTO, Nov. 16 (CP) — A youth who said he was the phantom gunman and "the two-gun kid" who fired on five persons was picked up by police Saturday night while on his way "to do more shooting."

12 SHOWINGS

Police said they arrested Donald Edward Fisher, 18, and he told them he sat through 12 showings of "The Sniper"—a movie thriller before going on a shooting spree, wounding three persons and just missing two others, Friday night.

He faces three charges of attempted murder and another seven of housebreaking. Two juveniles, pals of Fisher who were picked up earlier, also face housebreaking charges.

The short slender Fisher, with 50 .22-calibre bullets in his pockets, said little when six officers surrounded him near a big billboard in west-central Toronto.

"SEEN IT TOO MUCH"

Fisher was quoted by police as saying: "I shouldn't have seen that picture. I seen it too much, too."

The movie, showing at a downtown theatre, is about a psychopath who shoots from roof-tops at people in Los Angeles.

Officers said Fisher, arrested last spring on housebreaking charges, was committed to a mental institution and subsequently released. At that time, they said, he carried two revolvers and was nick-named "the two-gun kid."

The shooting started late Friday night when a man tried to pick up a girl and shot at her when she resisted.

2 INJURED

The girl, Mae West, 19, was shot in the abdomen. She and a friend, Pat Allen, 17, got away.

Most serious injured was Kurt Reis, 17, hit in the back as he entered a restaurant.

French Working On N.A.T.O. Army Airfields

By CHARLES C. LANE

PARIS, Nov. 16 (AP)—In the most gigantic construction job known in post-war Europe, 10,000 Frenchmen are working to build 40 military airfields for defence of the west.

The $500,000,000 project is being paid for by the North Atlantic treaty allies. The work is being done almost entirely by French technicians and labor and with French materials.

One airfield—the Royal Canadian Air Force base at Gro Tenquin—will be completed by the end of the year with barracks, mess and recreation halls and all the trimmings.

Although the job has been underway slightly less tha ntwo years, the work already equals, in quantity of materials and manpower used, the building of the vast and costly Maginot Line.

A qualified source gave this picture of the present stage of construction:

Of the 40 airfields, 25 will have all their runways, taxiways, drainage and electric power outlets—but no hangars, shops or barracks—by the end of the year.

Fourteen of the 40 airfields will have hangars and shops, but no barracks, by the end of this year. These fields will have barracks and other buildings by the end of 1953.

STANDARD RUNWAYS

Three N.A.T.O. airfields for French use are expected to be brought up to this top construction level early next year.

So far, among France's N.A.T.O. allies, there are Americans at three airfields and Canadians at one.

It costs about $10,000,000 to build a field with concrete runways, taxiways, hangars, shops and underground fuel tanks—but no barracks—an informed source said.

Another $10,000,000 are needed to finish up an airfield to best peacetime standards with prefabricated barracks, mess halls, theatres, clubs and hospitals.

The biggest problem, a responsible source said, has been getting the land.

Each field takes a 450-hectare (1125-acre) bite of fertile French farmland. It is nearly always good farm land because, as a French engineer put it, "France is a garden. Nearly any level spot usable for an airfield is fertile soil."

French farms are small. It has been necessary for the French government—which buys the land and contributes it free to N.A.T.O.—to negotiate with up to 100 proprietors to get enough land for a single field.

As the number of airfields increased, some farmers have been unable to find other land and have been left without any livelihood.

Canada has suggested she may be able to take some of the farmers. Negotiations are under way between France and Canada to explore the possibilities.

Unitarians Send Milk to Korea

GANANOQUE, Ont., Nov. 16 — (CP) — A railway carload of powdered milk—70,000 pounds — was sent from here today to Korean children. It was purchased through a campaign sponsored by the Unitarian Service Committee.

It is the first shipment from a fund-raising campaign that began Sept. 18 to provide 200,000 pounds of sweetened powdered milk—enough for a daily glass of milk during three winter months to 25,000 primary school children in Seoul. It will sail from Vancouver Nov. 29.

Dr. Lota Hitschmanova, executive director of the committee, began the campaign after returning from a tour of Korea. She arrived here today from Vancouver after a tour of Canada in which she made 50 speeches.

"This is one of the happiest days of my life," she said following the ceremony in which the milk left in a railway car bearing the flags of both Canada and Korea.

Girls Burned in School Playlet

CARMEL, N.Y., Nov. 16 (AP)—What began as a fairy playlet in a school auditorium ended in tragedy as five little girls were burned, two critically, when one child's costume caught fire and she ran screaming through a knot of other children.

Mothers and fathers beat out the flames with their hands or smothered them with coats.

The five, dressed in cheesecloth and crinoline costumes, were waiting their turn to appear in a playlet. One of the girls climbed on to a gas range in a home economics room and opened a jet. A flame shot up and the child, her costume ignited, dashed through the group of other children.

Gale Swamps Ottawa With Telegrams

LADYSMITH, B.C., Nov. 16 (CP) —Damage to fishing boats in the gale over the coast Thursday night and Friday morning, estimated at $15,000, has roused the Harbor Commission to send protests to the Federal Fisheries and Works Ministers, and the Federal district engineer in New Westminster.

The telegrams sought immediate action on the requests from here, made over the last number of years, for a permanent breakwater. Waves washed over the present boomstick breakwater, which was practically worthless.

Alaska was credited with 128,000 population in the 1950 census, with 11,000 in the city of Anchorage.

Canadian Census Irks Diefenbaker

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., Nov. 16 (CP)—John G. Diefenbaker, Federal member for Lake Centre, Sask., said here that Canadian unity is difficult to attain under census regulations.

Speaking at a meeting of the Canadian Club here, Mr. Diefenbaker said "Canadian unity was difficult of attainment when Canadians (however many generations their forebearers had been in Canada) were required every 10 years under census regulations to state their paternal origin and ancestry and were denied the right to register as 'Canadian.'"

He commended the attitude in the United States, composed of persons from every nation, where racial origin was never a distinguishing feature and where "one never thought of Eisenhower as a German, LaGuardia as an Italian nor Hoover as a Dutch German."

"They are all Americans," he said.

Bookings for June In Lower Brackets

MONTREAL, Nov. 16 (CP) — Montreal travel agents have found that the wave of interest in bookings for the coronation next June has subsided considerably.

For several months after the date of the Queen's coronation was announced, agents received thousands of calls for bookings which later turned out to be "idle inquiries."

They said the trend for mass bookings seems to be swinging west to Toronto, Winnipeg and Vancouver.

Eastern Europe Losing Her Religious Freedom

By RICHARD O'REGAN

VIENNA, Nov. 16 (AP)—Millions of once-faithful churchgoers in Eastern Europe are staying at home these Sundays.

They stay at home to pray because, according to latest reports, communism's war against religion has again been stepped up in five Soviet satellites—Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Romania and Bulgaria.

Many churches are boycotted because the members suspect their priests or pastors of being communist police agents. Others are empty because their clergy are in concentration camps.

RISK ABUSE

But churches where clergy preach the word of God as they understand it, instead of the way the communists wish to rephrase it, are jammed. Their congregations risk public abuse and the threats of the secret police to worship God instead of Stalin.

Iron Curtain persecution is reported most bitter against the Roman Catholic Church. Most of the 70,000,000 persons in the area are Catholic. But Protestants of all creeds, the Eastern Orthodox Church, the Jews and the Moslems of the Balkans are also under pressure.

PATRIOTIC PRIESTS

With many church groups already terrorized into submission, the eastern Communist regimes are penetrating those still resisting with "patriotic priests" moved into parishes left open by arrests.

Above the false clergy are "ministries of church affairs" set up by all communist governments. Except in Poland, they now pay the salaries of clergy of all denominations, making them financially bound to communism.

Hungary Czechoslovakia and Romania theoretically still permit parents to register their children for religious instruction in the schools.

But, say diplomatic sources, parents fear police reprisals. In any case, school instructors invariably are either communists or "pseudo-priests."

Mother Acquitted of Murdering Idiot Child

VERNON, B.C., Nov. 16 (CP)—A 22-year-old mother Saturday was acquitted of murder because of insanity in the poisoned-milk death of her idiot 11-months-old daughter.

Ingridia Deglavs, also known as Mrs. Ingrid Seeberg, was taken to the provincial jail at Vancouver until "the pleasure of the Lieutenant-Governor is known." Officials said the attorney-general's department will decide whether the young mother will be committed to a mental institution.

Evidence was that Mrs. Seeberg last March held her mentally-retarded baby in her arms while the man with whom she was living fed the child poisoned milk. The couple later sipped champagne spiked with the same type of poison to seal a suicide pact.

The bodies of the child and man were found in an auto court cabin on the outskirts of nearby Penticton. Mrs. Seeberg recovered. She subsequently tried to kill herself by drowning, hanging and by slashing her wrists.

In her statement to police, admitted as evidence at her trial, Mrs. Seeberg said she and the man had decided to kill their daughter, Victoria, because the child was doomed to a life of idiocy and then take their own lives.

The jury was out 40 minutes at the conclusion of the four-day trial in this Okanagan Valley city.

Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane told the jury they had arrived at the same conclusion he would have himself.

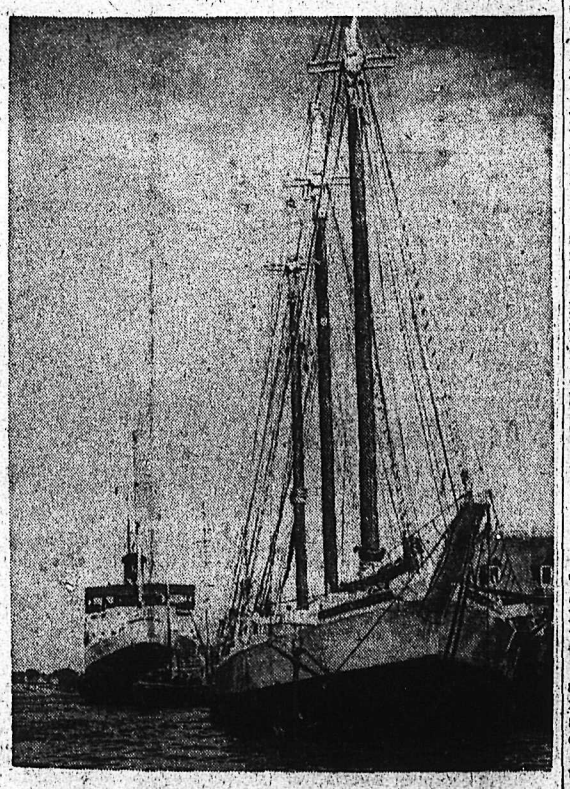
Other evidence introduced was a suicide note in which Manfred Seeberg and Mrs. Seeberg willed their bodies to the University of British Columbia for scientific research. The note was signed by both.

First Canadians Board Troopship, Headed for Home

ROTTERDAM, Nov. 16 (Reuters) —First returning members of the Canadian 27th Infantry Brigade left for home today aboard the troopship Neptunia after a year in Germany.

There were nearly 700 officers and men in today's contingent, first of three groups totalling 1900 to be repatriated this year. Most are married.

They are expected to arrive at Quebec about Nov. 24.



ONE OF THE LAST of the sailing ships familiar in Canadian waters half a century ago, the tern schooner, "City of New York," has been sold to U.S. interests and has sailed from Yarmouth, N.S., to a Pacific port. The ship, with reinforced and massive bows, once smashed her way through Arctic ice as the flagship of the fleet of Admiral Byrd. She was built in Norway in 1890, was a freighter on the Great Lakes for years, became a training ship for the U.S. Coast Guard, was reconditioned at La Have, N.S., and became a familiar sight at North American and European Atlantic ports. Though equipped with powerful diesel engines, she still has her full set of sail. With the loss of the ship goes Nova Scotia's last link between today's ships of engines and iron and yesterday's ships of sail and wood. The ship, at anchor in Yarmouth harbor, was a reminder to Nova Scotians of the days when the town's citizens owned more merchant shipping, per capita, than any other city of the world, and Nova Scotia seamen and ships were known the world over.—Central Press Canadian.

Germs Keep Away From Lipstick

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

NEW YORK, Nov. 16 (AP)—Kissing usually is safe, from the health view, a check on germs on human lips shows.

It's safer for the man if the girls wears lipstick. The two-second kiss is safer for both than the lingering kind.

Almost all the germs transferred by a kiss are the type that don't cause sickness.

These are findings in a study made on human volunteers by Arthur H. Bryan, Baloermit e thur Bryan, Baltimore bacteriologist, reported in a magazine, drug and cosmetic industry.

HIGH IN MORNING

If a woman was wearing fresh lipstick, the number of germs on her lips was much less than without lipstick. Men who put on antiseptic lipstick cut their germ count down to almost zero for several hours.

Recent smoking seemed to lower the bacterial count somewhat, especially if the lips were dry.

REAL THREAT

The effect of alcoholic drinks before a kiss was inconclusive. Beer appeared to raise the germ count, hard liquor to lower it.

Bad breath was accompanied by high germ counts. The germ count was higher upon rising in the morning, dropped after tooth brushing and face washing. The count may vary from day to day, influenced by air temperature, the season, altitude, foods and other conditions.

There is a real threat of a kiss of death if the kissed partner has diphtheria, acute TB, scarlet fever, strep throat and other ailments. The study didn't give tips on how to recognize such persons, if they weren't in hospital.

Drive to Keep Adlai Active

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 16 (AP)—A group of 200 independent voters announced organization today of a "dollars-for-sense" drive to keep Governor Adlai Stevenson on the radio. Each person who supported of the Democratic Organizing Comdidate will be asked to contribute $1.

The movement started, according to James E. Doyle, state chairman o fthe Democratic Organizing Committee, "to help keep Governor Stevenson talking sense to the American people as he did throughout the presidential campaign — this time as the spokesman of the responsible opposition."

TUCSON, Ariz., Nov. 16 (AP) — Governor Adlai Stevenson of Illinois said that he will do all in his power to make the Democratic party a useful instrument to the nation.

"I hope that the party can be a positive and intelligent opposition." the defeated Democratic candidate for president said.

"To the extent that I can help to make it a useful instrument to the nation, I will be glad to do so."

Stevenson, vacationing 60 miles south of here, expressed his opinions in an interview with the Associated Press.

"It is more important that it (the Democratic party) render a useful service to the country and to the people than that it get back in power," he stated. He said such an approach was the way to return to power.

Washington Hikes Prices of Coal

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16 (AP)—The government has boosted the ceiling price of coal. A hearing Monday could determine whether the ceiling goes even higher, or whether coal miners strike.

The Office of Price Stabilization announced ceiling-price increases ranging as high as 75 cents a ton on soft coal and $1.35 a ton on hard coal.

The increases may be passed on to the public.

Amos n' Andy Pass 10,000th Mark

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 16 (AP)—Amos n' Andy make their 10,000th broadcast today over CBS. Amos (Freeman Gosden) and Andy (Charles Correll) were first heard on station WMAQ, Chicago, March 19, 1928. There's been some talk about Gosden and Correll retiring after this season but no one in the industry takes it seriously.

Views from the News Fronts

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

A "party of the new type" is in store for every communist satellite country in Europe. These communist parties are about to remould themselves in the image of the parent party of the Soviet Union.

The eventual result will be physical absorption of the satellite parties into the Soviet Communist party, which would mean, in effect, absorbing the countries involved into the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics.

There is multiplying evidence of this program, but the most striking evidence dates back to the all-union congress in Moscow last month.

The tipoff was in the adoption of new statutes of the Soviet Communist party. One paragraph reads:

"Persons who have left other parties are admitted to the 'Communist party on the recommendation of five party members—three having a membership of 10 years and two who were party members before the revolution—and only through the primary party organization, with obligatory confirmation by the central committee of the Communist party of the Soviet Union."

There can hardly be anybody around who has "left other parties." There has been only one party in the Soviet Union since the communists took over.

Actually, what the clause seems to mean is that the satellite parties must adapt their own statutes and state constitutions to those of the Soviet party. This is being done.

Legions of Poles, Czechs, Bulgars, Romanians and Hungarians have been obliged to proclaim them selves as members of the "shock brigade" of communism, serving only Stalin. Only the actual mechanics of complete absorption remain to be accomplished.

Newark Airport Open to Public

NEWARK, N.J., Nov. 16 (AP)—Full operations have resumed at Newark airport after a nine-month curtailment brought on by three fatal plane crashes in nearby Elizabeth.

Special safety measures have been worked out for the big airfield and a new $9,000,000 all-weather runway is in use to keep traffic from heading over populated areas.

Newark airport, once rated one of the busiest in the world, was shut down last Feb. 11, after the third of the plane wrecks which occurred within 58 days. A total of 119 persons were killed by the plummeting aircraft, including 11 Elizabeath residents.

Russia Sentences Poultry Profiteers

MOSCOW, Nov. 16 (AP)—A Moscow court has sentenced six employees of the government's egg and poultry trust to jail terms ranging from 10 to 25 years for upgrading chickens and throwing banquets on their illegally gained profits.
