Swanson Captured In Yakima

Creston Indian, Charged in Wife's Death, Sought for Nearly a Year

The object of a police search for almost a year, William Francis Swanson, wanted on a charge of the bludgeon death of his wife Julia Agnes, has been captured in Yakima, Wash., Provincial Police were advised at Nelson Monday. Further information is awaited.

FRANCIS SWANSON

Swanson disappeared Oct. 23 from the Kootenay Indian Reservation near Creston, taking with him Anastasia Basil, 18-year-old Indian girl. He was charged with the murder of his wife after her battered body was found in the home of Tommy Swanson, father of the hunted man. She had been clubbed to death.

It was the second time Swanson had been sought by police. On May 8, 1947, he escaped from the Provincial Jail at Nelson, where he was serving a 15-month sentence for assault, occasioning bodily harm. He was recaptured at Sirdar a few days later. He had been working in the woodshed at the time of his escape.

The girl he took with him on his flight last October, returned a month later, telling a story of privation and hardship she suffered during her enforced hideout with Swanson.

Taghum Accident Victim, J. L. Clark Of Sandon, Well Known Miner, Dies

John Lester Clark, 27, of Sandon, seriously injured when struck down by a car near the Taghum railway crossing last Tuesday night, died in Kootenay Lake General Hospital early Monday morning.

He had suffered concussion, a broken arm and ribs and internal injuries when hit by a car reported to have been driven by R. E. Wuori of Nelson. He had alighted from his light delivery truck about 300 yards West of the crossing and was standing beside the truck when struck. He was thrown 30 or 40 feet.

A jury called by Deputy Coroner Dr. N. E. Morrison viewed the body at Thompson Funeral Home. Identification was made by James E. Flannery, who was a passenger in the truck. The inquest was adjourned until 2 p.m. Wednesday at the Court House.

The jury was composed of J. E. Dale, foreman; K. D. Carmichael, T. E. Levasseur, W. W. Motion, P. E. Poulin and Thomas Dolphin.

Mr. Clark was born in Cranbrook and came to Sandon at an early age. He worked at various mines in Silverton, Sandon and New Denver, and was employed latterly at the Violamac.

He is survived by his stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Burns of Utica Mines, Kaslo; a sister, Mrs. Irene Smith of Vancouver; an aunt, Mrs. Jack Hume, and an uncle, Ben Palmer of Calgary.

3 Cars Piled Up, 7 Hurt as Result of Youngsters' Game

STRATFORD, Ont., Sept. 19 (CP) —A rope stretched across a country road by two nine-year-old girls was blamed by police for a three-car accident Saturday in which seven persons were injured.

Police said one end of the rope was tied to a mail box, while the twin girls held the other end.

Cpl. John M. Douglas of the Provincial Police said a car driven by Richard C. Sharpe of Sault Ste. Marie, stopped to avoid striking the rope.

A car behind, driven by Archibald McGarnen of Sault Ste. Marie, crashed into the Sharpe car. Seconds later a third car said to have been driven by Jack Ewasik of Stratford, crashed into the McCarnen car, wrecking it almost beyond repair.

The two separate issues were considered by the Board in lengthy Trans-Canada hearings that began in July last year and finished March 5.

Devaluation Boom Ups Golds, Metals

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Canadians rushed into their stock markets Monday to put money on their belief that the Canadian dollar would be devalued by nightfall.

Golds surged upward, newsprints and base metals advanced strongly, and nearly the whole market was ahead.

Toronto opened in a wild clamor as gold order flooded the trading floor, and frenzied traders rushed about in shirt sleeves shouting their deals.

In one hour the Exchange's gold index, made up of representative issues, climbed a sensational 9.56 points to 114.63, a two-year high. After that prices retreated a bit, but closed on a strong trend with the gold index finishing at 8.71.

Exchange officials called it a public market, with 9460 individual transactions which means twice that many purchases and sales, a near-record for the number of people buying and selling.

They were backing the idea that devaluation of the British pound would be followed by a lowering of the value of the Canadian dollar.

Speculative money apparently believed it was evidenced by the play of golds; but investment money also was in there in papers and industrials. Utilities and stocks with heavy commitments in United States money tended off slightly.

CAUTION

But even in the midst of the heavy gold buying there was some caution among professional traders and gold men. Even if the Canadian dollar were devalued, would the present government gold-aid program be continued or would it be allowed to lapse?

This aid is worth $10,000,000 a year to Canadian gold mines, or about $3.30 an ounce of gold produced; and, for mines qualifying, devaluation would have to be substantial to make up for any loss of this aid.

There was varying opinion as to how far recent advances and today's splurge have already taken account of any devaluation benefits which might come.

General opinion was that like the whole world, plunged into a devaluation epidemic, it will take a while to sort out just what values to place on anything.

The gold sections of Montreal and Vancouver shared the Toronto excitement.

HIGHER U.S. DOLLAR

The reason golds advanced in anticipation of Canadian devaluation was, of course, because Canada sells her gold for $35 United States currency and if Canadian dollars are devalued the American money will be worth that much more.

The same with newsprints, whose products are sold mostly in the United States and paid for in American dollars. Base metals apparently count on continued strong demand from the United States, and probably forced demand from other countries, and many of them have some production of gold.

OTTAWA PROBE OF NORONIC FIRE LAUNCHED

76 Bodies Still Unidentified; Death List 119 to 130

NO NEW FINDS

TORONTO, Sept. 19 (CP)—Statistics on the S.S. Noronic fire fluctuated unevenly today.

From a confused picture of ever-changing figures given out by several official sources, The Canadian Press arrived at this summary at 5 p.m. CDT: 119 known dead, 86 missing and 479 survivors from a passenger and crew total of 684.

As official machinery was set in motion for formal investigations into the fire that gutted the luxury Canada Steamships Line cruise ship at her Toronto pier early Saturday, a company executive said he felt certain no more bodies would be found.

Transport Minister Chevrier announced in the House of Commons appointment of Mr. Justice R. L. Kellock of the Supreme Court of Canada as head of a commission to publicly investigate the fire.

Attorney-General Dana Porter of Ontario announced here that the province will appoint a judge to head a special coroner's panel at an inquest. After this inquiry has opened it will be adjourned until after the federal investigation has been completed.

Mr. Chevrier told the House that reports reaching his department from preliminary investigation showed a total of 496 passengers; 69 missing, 35 in hospital and 262 who escaped and returned to their homes. That would put the death list at 130.

119 BODIES

But officials of the emergency morgue, where identification progressed even more slowly than on the first two days, said all bodies were taken there and that in all they totalled 119. Of this total 43 had been identified and released for burial up to 6 p.m.

Delay of C.S.L. officials in making available routine information made compilation of a list of victims impossible.

FIND VERTEBRA

Further search of the hulk of the 6900-ton Noronic today resulted in the finding of but a single human vertebra among cinders and ashes. This, said an official of the party, was sufficient to confirm the death of another person. Officially, it was not so classified at the morgue.

Robert Ness, Secretary of the C.S.L.'s operation department, said he was confident no bodies remain in the $5,000,000 ship. He placed the maximum death toll at 121.

C.S.L. officials said they had established to their satisfaction that there was no negligence on the part of the ship's officers, the crew or the company.

Weld Canada's Orient Air Link

VANCOUVER, Sept. 19 — Canada's first direct air link with the Orient was welded today when Canadian Pacific Air Line's "Empress of Auckland" took off from Vancouver's International Airport on the Company's first scheduled flight to Tokyo and Hong Kong.

The new service will augment C.P.A.'s Trans-Pacific service to Australia which was inaugurated on July 13 and is now operating on a regular fortnightly schedule.

VOTE GOES AGAINST C.C.F.

OTTAWA, Sept. 19 (CP) — The Commons, in the first division of the 21st Parliament, voted 136 to 50 tonight against a C.C.F. amendment to the address in reply to the speech from the Throne.

Technically the amendment called for a test of the Commons' confidence in the Government. It expressed regret that the Government has failed to provide legislation towards removal of the means test from old-age pensions.

Honest Traffic Offender

CENTRALIA, Wash., Sept. 19 (AP) — The honest man Diogenes sought centuries ago was probably the motorist who walked into the police station Saturday and told Desk Sgt. James Kendrick he had unintentionally ran through a "stop" sign. "Nobody saw me," the offender said.

Kendrick was so flabbergasted he forgot to secure the driver's name or collect the customary $5 fine.

Hope, Fear, Confusion In Wake of Devaluation

By JACK SMITH

LONDON, Sept. 19 (AP)—Hope, fear and confusion among governments, homes and banks were the first frantic reactions today to the British pound devaluation and the world monetary shake-up.

While common folk feared higher prices and harder times, brokers rushed to buy shares in commodities the world always needs—rubber, tin, copper—and —in speculative gold to safeguard their cheapened money.

British exporters looked for a boom and a full-scale invasion of the dollar market with their cheaper products. Stiffer competition loomed for American industry.

Seventeen other countries by tonight had followed Britain's lead and devalued their moneys. These were Canada, France, South Africa, Australia, New Zealand, the Republic of Ireland, India, Iceland, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Egypt, Burma, Israel, Finland, Ceylon and Malaya.

The Netherlands had revalued her guilder without announcing the new rate of exchange with the dollar.

Sir Stafford Crips, Chancellor of the Exchequer who anounced the 30½ per cent devaluation of the pound Sunday night, himself rang the firebell for an accelarated export drive by British merchants.

He told a crowded press conference that the British people can expect no miracles from devaluation. They "must redouble all our efforts" to increase exports.

TRADE PACT

In the midst of the world-wide readjustments, Britain announced conclusion of a five-year £100,000,000 ($280,000,000) trade agreement with Communist-governed Czechoslovakia that should ease the pressure on Britain's dollar store.

A responsible East-European diplomat in the Soviet orbit said it was highly unlikely that any country in the Russian sphere would devalue its currency to conform to the shake up in Western Europe.

Economically, East - European countries are likely to benefit from the general scaling down of prices of export goods from countries cutting their money rate, he said.

Moscow's reaction was shown in an Izvestia editorial Sunday anticipating devaluation of the pound. It called devaluation a tool of "Wall Street bosses" to bring about "liquidation of the sterling bloc and subjection of the pound to the dollar."

S. AFRICA BENEFITS

A U.K. treasury spokesman said the sterling price of gold has been set at 250 shilings ($35) a fine ounce troy. Until yesterday the gold price in sterling was 172 s 3 d. This represented an increase to South Africa's gold mines of about $10.90 an ounce

Housewives rushed to buy flour and cheese—most of which is imported. Bread and flour prices will rise soon because wheat is bought with more expensive dollars.

TWO VICTIMS OF ROAD ACCIDENT

Chicago Printers Accept Wage Boost

CHICAGO, Sept. 19 (AP). — The printer strike against Chicago's five major daily newspapers which began 22 months ago came to an end yesterday with Union acceptance of a $10 weekly wage boost.

U.S. LAYOFFS START AS COAL MINERS STRIKE

480,000 Workers in 20 States Force Mines Shutdowns

THREE BEATEN

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 19 (AP)— "No pension no work" coal walkouts today burst into a full-scale mine shutdown across the United States, punctuated by minor violence.

A voluntary strike by nearly all of John L. Lewis' 480,000 United Mine Workers choked off coal production in 20 States. It is the 21st major coal stoppage since the First World War.

LAYOFFS START

Railroads were the first allied industry to feel the effects of the crippling blow. The Pennsylvania, a large coal carrier, announced that 15,000 shop and maintenance workers will be laid off. The Reading, biggest anthracite carrier, said it will be forced to lay off 1000. Other railroads are expected to announce layoff plans.

Miners are demonstrating their ire at Southern coal operators who refused to continue 20-cents-a-ton royalty payments into the U.M.W. pension and welfare fund.

Lewis, U.M.W. President, said their refusal to make benefit payments after their contract expired June 30 forced him to suspend fund payments to aged and ailing miners. It's all part of the union's fight for a new contract. Lewis wants higher royalties and more pay for shorter hours.

WORKER BEATEN

The burly labor chieftain wouldn't talk on the mine shutdown. He doesn't call strikes. He only calls them off. U.M.W. leaders said the new walkout is strictly a rank-and-file idea, voted on in local union meetings.

In West Virginia, three employees of a mine were beaten by what they called part of a motorized caravan of roving pickets.

Sees Devaluation Making Some B. C. Exports Difficult

VANCOUVER, Sept. 19 (CP) — Preliminary observation of the British pound devaluation left B.C. importers far happier than exporters tonight.

"I can't see how it's going to help the Canadian exporter," said one of the latter group.

He felt it would be much more difficult to dispose of the province's fish, fruit and lumber.

At Seattle, Dietrich Schmitz, President of the Washington Mutual Savings Bank, predicted that the Pacific Northwest Lumber industry will feel the competitive pinch more sharply than most industries.

Devaluation Bumps Gold to $38.50

May Mean More U. S. Tourists, Capital for Canada, Higher Prices On U. S. Goods, Savings to U. K.

OTTAWA, Sept. 19 (CP) — The Government tonight devalued the Canadian dollar 10 per cent, effective with the opening of business tomorrow.

Finance Minister Abbott announced the devaluation in a capacity-filled Commons. He fixed the value of the British pound at $3.07¼ in relationship to the Canadian dollar. The British pound is $2.80 in relationship to the United States dollar.

A Canadian wishing to buy a United States dollar will pay $1.10½ cents. A Canadian wishing to buy a British pound will pay $3.08¾. In selling the U. S. dollar, a Canadian will receive $1.10 in Canadian funds. In selling the British pound he will receive $3.07¼ in Canadian funds.

The small difference between the buying and selling rates of the Canadian dollar is absorbed by the exchange dealer as his margin of profit for the sales transaction.

At a press conference later Mr. Abbott said the government now would purchase gold from Canadian producers at $38.50 an ounce. This compares with a previous purchase price of $35. He said a statement on the Canadian situation would be made by the government within the next few days.

In the last trading day—Saturday —Canadians bought American dollars at $1.00½ Canadian funds and sold the American dollar for $1 in Canadian currency. Canadians could buy a British pound for $4.04 in Canadian funds and sell it for $4.02.

Mr. Abbott and other government officials said the change in rates may have these effects:

1. It may attract more American tourists to Canada as result of the higher spending value of their money.

2. It may attract more American capital.

3. United Kingdom consumers likely will find it easier to buy Canadian foodstuffs. One official predicted that the dollar cut will save the United Kingdom 10 per cent of their pound spending in Canada.

4. It will mean that Canadians importing from the U.S. may find the price higher than previously. It also may mean that Canadian import controls, established in 1947, may be dispensed with sooner than expected.

Mr. Abbott gave Canada's skimpy resorves of American funds as the reason for devaluation of Canadian currency. If the Canadian dollar was not devalued, he said, Canada might have to go into an era of deficit foreign trading.

INCREASED COMPETITION

The devaluation of the sterling currency, he said, "cannot fail to have important implications for our balance of payments position."

Canadian exports "are bound to face increased price competition in both the non-dollar and dollar markets.'

'At the same time the extensive exchange adjustments abroad will tend to result in an increase in the total value of our imports."

Canada, he said, stood ready to cooperate with the efforts of overseas countries to expand sales to Canada, but this country could not import from the British sources 'without going into deficit in our international accounts."

The new established rate is the same that existed in relation to the U.S. dollar during the period 1939-46. At that time the British pound was quoted in Canada at about $4.50.

Mr. Abbott indicated that the devaluation of the Canadian dollar might have been a lot more but for the strong Canadian "basic position."

"Our exports have been and will continue to be competitive. Our production is efficient and our costs are relatively low," he said.

START SOLUTION

On trade, Mr. Drew said monetary devaluation "is only the beginning of the solution of our major problem . . . of finding a way in which Britain and the other sterling countries can purchase our products." Canada should seek in every possible way "to find some way by which the Canadian dollar and the pound may be freely interchangeable."

While everyone would welcome increased trade with the United States, Canada's whole economic system rested on the maintenance of overseas trade.

STEEL WORKERS TO STRIKE FOR WELFARE SYSTEM

Pension, Insurance Plan Recommended By Truman Board

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 (AP) — President Philip Murray of the C.I.O. said today that 1,000,000 steel workers in the United States will strike at midnight Saturday unless the industry agrees to establish a company-financed welfare system.

He informed reporters there will be a walkout in the critical steel industry unless management agrees to a new contract calling for a welfare package to cost 10 cents an hour for each worker—six cents for pensions and four cents for other social insurance.

That was one of the recommendations of a presidential finding board. Murray, having swallowed the board's rejection of demands for a fourth-round wage boost, said the industry must do the same with one of the recommendations it did not like.

Not one of the 37 steel companies taking part in government mediation talks which got under way here today has accepted the idea of a pension and welfare plan to which the workers would contribute no money.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 19 (AP)—Police charge Henry Tyre, 70-year-old bridge tender, got drunk Saturday night and started playing with the span.

He raised the draw up and down, they said, and took at least one automobile on an unscheduled trip to the top of the hoisting towers.

Tyre was jailed on charges of drunk and disorderly conduct.

One motorist, Melvin Lee Stalls, suffered neck and head injuries racing his car to get off the rising span. The vehicle plunged six feet to the deck of the big bridge which crosses St. John's River.

KANKAKEE, Ill., Sept. 19 (AP)—Mrs Hazel Lane built a fire in the furnace to take the chill out of the house and then left for work.

When she returned home the fire was out. So was the furnace.

In fact, the entire heating plant, with its pipes and other connections had disappeared from the basement.

But the mystery was quickly solved. A furnace company said their workmen had been sent to the home of Mrs. Harry Lane, Mrs. Hazel Lane's neighbor, to dismantle the heating plant. They entered the wrong Lane basement.

Boot for C.S.U. Confirmed

By JOHN LEBLANC
Canadian Press Staff Writer

CALGARY, Sept. 19 (CP) — After a warm debate marked by indications of slipping Communist support for the left wing of the Trade Labor Congress of Canada, the TLC's annual convention today confirmed its executives suspension of the Red influenced Canadian Seamen's Union.

Left-wing backing for the C.S.U. appeared on the wane as some of its strongest previous supporters from the leftist fringe executed turn-abouts today and backed up the executive action in suspending it last June for failing to meet its responsibilities as a union.

Charges that the Seamen's Union was Moscow-dominated were freely expressed during a debate that lasted about two hours and ended on a voice vote that was overwhelming.

Shortly before the move against the C.S.U., the Congress had been informed that a clean-up of Communists was to be undertaken in the Canadian section of the International Chemical Workers Union (AFL-TLC) (Se also story on page 10).

Tomorrow, the convention was to take a roll-call vote—a count of names—on the question of throwing out the C.S.U. permanently. This had been set for today, but it was put off when the C.S.U. debate stretched the session almost until normal adjournment time. A roll-call vote takes more than two hours.

As the situation stood tonight, the expulsion of the Seamen's Union stood confirmed, and it was certain that the executives recommendation for expulsion would be adopted.

Travelling in U. S. to Be Tougher

OTTAWA, Sept. 19 (CP)—Devaluation of the Canadian dollar provides a new attraction for American tourists planning Canadian vacations—their money will go farther.

Government tourist officials said frankly tonight they don't know how much new tourist business the new dollar rates will bring the Dominion. But they said it gives Americans "one more good reason for coming to Canada."

On the other hand, it makes things that much tougher for Canadians travelling to the United States which is just the way the Government wants it.

For Canadians taking their vacations in the United Kingdom, the new exchange rates mean cheaper vacations. Now they can buy sterling at $3.08¾ for the pound, instead of $4.04.

Christian Training School Described At Trinity Service

Miss Muriel Stuart was one of the speakers at the Trinity United Church Sunday evening "Camp Night" service. She gave an account of the Naramata Christian Training School which she attended this Summer as a representative of Trinity Church.

Students attended from many parts of Western Canada and one from as far East as Ontario. Study included the Bible and the psychology of teaching for various age groups with a full program of recreational, hobby and project activities.

Miss Stuart told about an Indian boy from Alberni Reserve who used to pride himself as a tough gang leader, but who was now training to do Christian work among his own people. The school was founded as a venture of faith by Rev. "Bob" McLaren and now had buildings and equipment valued at $75,000. The school was incorporated into the church-wide educational program of the United Church of Canada.

Naramata was a picturesque little town nestled among the orchards of the Southeast corner of the Okanagan Lake, she said. This Spring the Training School bus went on a round trip tour of 2500 miles with 24 students through Washington, Kootenay and Alberta.

Vishinsky Talks Cooperation, But U.N. Members Wait

By NORMAN ALSTEDTER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 19 (CP) — Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vinshinsky of Russia today put on a smile and urged United Nations members to cooperate with each other.

The chief Soviet delegate and other of the world's top diplomats converged on New York for the opening tomorrow of the U.N.'s fourth Assembly. Vishinsky said he is optimistic about the outcome of the session.

Instead of brushing reporters aside with his usual "no comment," Vishinsky pulled out a statement which said:

"The Soviet delegation is fully confident that the United Nations is, as the head of the Soviet government, Stalin, said, a serious instrument for the maintenance of peace and international security.

"There can be no doubt that the General Assembly would be able to solve the important problems before providing the nations of the U.N. show a sincere desire to cooperate with each other and in accordance with the principles of the U.N. charter."

Delegates already here said, however, they will wait for Vishinsky's address in the first general debate — probably Tuesday — before they decide how Russia is going to act during the Assembly.

They recalled that Vishinsky in the past has sometimes expressed amiability and cooperation immediately before unleashing a bitter attack on an opponent.

Birds Arrive Early Europe to Capetown

CAPETOWN, Sept. (CP) — Europe's waterside birds, the waders, which migrate to South Africa every year, have beaten the calendar by about a month this year.

Cape ornithologists who saw the birds leave for Europe in April watched for their return during August. With the recent arrival of a small party of little stints the list of migratory birds was complete. The little stints nest in the Arctic and make a flight of about 8000 miles twice a year.

One bird-watcher said it was difficult to give a reason for the early arrival of the travellers.

"Perhaps the good summer in Europe had something to do with it. They may have completed their nesting early. Whatever happened they got away early and arrived in time to get the tail end of the Cape winter."

World Cooperation in Economic Problems Seen by Cripps

By STUART UNDERHILL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Sept. 19 (CP) — Sir Stafford Cripps today forecast a new era in international cooperation to solve economic problems when he addressed his first Press conference since devaluation of the pound.

He said the "whole point" of his recent talks at Washington with Treasury Secretary John Snyder and Douglas Abbott, Canada's Finance Minister, was "full recognition that, if we are to succeed in reaching a long-term solution of the dollar-sterling problem, we must regard the problem as a joint one, requiring joint action."

"I think that the greatest contribution which has been made is the arrangement for continued study and consultation," Sir Stafford continued.

"All our experience has shown that, if we really sit down together and keep on trying, we can reach solutions. And this is what we intend to do."

Sir Stafford told several hundred reporters who jammed the smoke-filled conference room that Britain's post-war difficulties had been underestimated.

Recognition of this fact and the full agreement reached with Canada and the United States about the next steps to be taken "are the real achievement."

The chief facts to emerge from his remarks were:

1. Defence and social services will not be cut when Britain prunes her domestic expenditures in an economy move. Government administration costs will be reduced.

2. While bread is the only commodity which is expected to increase in price immediately, articles made from materials imported from dollar countries probably will become more expensive later.

3. Wage claims which had a legitimate basis before devaluation will still be considered on those grounds.

4. Sir Stafford does not look for any rapid rise in export sales, but expects them to move upward "over a period of time."

End Turmoil U.S. Tells Americas

NEW YORK, Sept. 19 (AP) — State Secretary Acheson said tonight that the years of warlike turmoil in the broad Caribbean area must stop. He called on Latin America to join with the United States and end it. He made it clear that his Government will strongly oppose "aggression or plotting against any nation of this hemisphere."

"The security system which culminated in the Rio Treaty is now facing a crucial test," the Secretary declared. This treaty among American republics pledges each to assist if another suffers armed attack. Canada is not a signatory of this treaty.

Acheson made the Caribbean issue a Cardinal point in an address stressing the determination of the United States to encourage the growth of democracy in this hemisphere and to extend a helping hand for economic development.

He gave a full-dress review of his Latin American policy before the largest gathering of top Latin American diplomatic and economic leaders in many years. It was a dinner meeting of the Pan American Society of the United States.

Low Slaps Liberal Press for Campaign On "Splinter Parties"

OTTAWA, Sept. 19 (CP) — Solon Low, Social Credit leader, today criticized "the Liberal Press" for suggestions that so-called "splinter parties" be denied recognition in the Commons.

Apparently referring to editorials urging a return to the straight two-party system of Government, Mr. Low devoted most of his remarks in the Throne-speech debate to criticism of the Lethbridge Herald and the Montreal Star.

He said "no pipsqueak writer" on a newspaper should be allowed to interfere with the right of Canadians to organize a political party.

The leader of the 10-man Social Credit group from Alberta referred to "what appears to be a concerted drive by certain sections of the Liberal Press across Canada to influence the speaker of this House and the Prime Minister into denying recognition to what they call splinter parties, and also denying them what they are pleased to describe as the very great privileges that those parties enjoy at the present time."

By "splinter parties", he said, the papers evidently referred to the Social Credit and C.C.F. parties, although "what the Liberals did to the Conservative and C.C.F. parties in the election of last June, and what they did not do to the Social Credit Party," had led him to believe the Progressive Conservatives were the "splinter" group.

APPLIES SPURS FOR END TO MEANS TEST

OTTAWA, Sept. 19 (CP)—Stanley Knowles (CCF-Winnipeg North Centre) said in Commons tonight that Canada's assistance in the solution of serious world problems should not blind the Government to serious domestic problems.

He urged the Government to abolish the old age pensions means test immediately.

This was urgent. He did not want to see the end of this 21st Parliament without accomplishment of the means test.

Mr. Knowles said the Canadian people do not want the Government to wait until the eve of the next general election before inaugurating a national health-insurance program. Such a program should include a sickness benefits plan to replace the pay envelope when a worker is sick.

Mr. Knowles also brought up the question of union dues being made deductible for income tax purposes.

Lawyers were allowed to deduct their Law Society fees for income tax purposes.

WOULD INCREASE SUPREME COURT TO NINE JUDGES

OTTAWA, Sept. 19 (CP)—A bill to make Canada's Supreme Court supreme in fact as well as in name was introduced in the Commons today.

Justice Minister Garson moved first reading of the bill which is designed to knock the top rung off Canada's legal process by removing the right of appeal to the Privy Council.

The bill provides for another change in the Supreme Court set-up, increasing from seven to nine the number of judges.

One of the new judges will be from Quebec—bringing to three the number from that province—while the traditional English - speaking judge may be named from any other section of Canada.

Up to the present the only specification in the Supreme Court Act on representation is that two of the seven judges be from Quebec.

The remaining five judges have been selected from various other parts of the country and through tradition the arrangement has come to provide for two judges from Ontario, one from the Maritimes and two from the four Western provinces. There is no set plan for choosing the sixth and latest English-speaking judge.

World Attention Needed In German, Japanese Problem T.L.C. Meet Told

CALGARY, Sept. 19 (CP).—Much of the responsibility for solving world problems rests on the peoples of America, Joseph A. Hall, fraternal delegate from the British Trades Union Congress, today told the annual convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

Mr. Hall, a member of the T.U.C.'s General Council and a Yorkshire Mining Union official, declared the "threat" from the Russian and Balkan states was not the only problem facing the world.

"Slumps and wars occurred long before Stalin sat on the throne of czars," he said, "and there are still developing menacing problems having nothing to do with the Cominform."

Among these, Mr. Hall listed the fitting-in of Germany and Japan into the democratic world, and the rendering of assistance to the new nations of Asia to overcome their difficulties.

The integration of Germany and Japan, the British visitor declared, could help prevent military danger and also ensure that their immense productive powers did not disrupt the structure of world trade.

"These problems demand world attention," Mr. Hall said, "and much of the responsibility for solving them rests on the peoples of America."

Much good also could come out of regional associations, such as those of Canada with the United States and Britain with the countries of Western Europe.

Speaking of the nationalization program of Britain's Labor Government, the T.U.C. delegate said it was still far from its ambitious goal, but "we are definite in our ideals." Much already had been accomplished, and he was confident the British electorate would return the Government at the next election to let it carry on its work.

Time to March Again At Kimberley

KIMBERLEY, B. C., Sept. 19 — Satisfactory membership of 77 with paid up dues $925 was reported as the Kimberley Board of Trade resumed its monthly meetings, but a deficit so far for the year of about $600 was reported. Various means of metting this amount are under discussion.

Satisfactory outcome of two longtime board projects was reported. The Dominion Minister of Public Works has authorized a new clock to top the post office tower at the Deer Park-Spokane Street business centre. Some five years ago the clock passed four o'clock and since then has not moved and has defied repairs. Passage of time will resume with the new installation.

Second project was for mail pickup boxes at convenient points in this scattered city. Notice has been received of calls for tenders for the pickup service.

Report to the Board by Publicity Chairman R. J. Stephen showed great success this year of the Kimberley tourist information booklet. It contains detailed information of the industries, tourist attractions and available sports in Kimberley and District. The entire 1949 issue of 5000 copies was distributed across Canada and through the United States, and over 2000 requests for the 1950 issue are on hand. Financially the booklet was also a success with the advertising providing a surplus of $360.22 over the cost of publication.

Report on the Wasa Lake picnic resort project of the Board and other organizations showed much work done over the season but more funds required to meet cost of this. Thousands of Kimberley people used the resort facilities during the Summer.

B. C. MAY REASSERT RIGHT TO TRAVEL COLUMBIA

VICTORY, B.C. Sept. 19 (CP)—Attorney-General Gordon Wismer said today British Columbia might reassert its navigation rights on the American part of the Columbia River.

He said the Treaty of 1846 provided the right to navigate the river south of the 49th parallel on the same basis as U.S. citizens.

"There may be no occasion at present to reaffirm our right to navigate the Columbia and use its portages," he said, "but in future the action may be of distinct value."

Wismer said full data on the proposed estblishment of a Columbia Valley Authority by U. S. interests will be studied by the Cabinet.

ROULEAU, Sask. (CP) — Farmer Sam T. Jack waited a long time for electrification of his farm. He bought wiring and a refrigerator some time ago and waited until connections were finally made this summer. Two days later his new transformer pole was struck by lightning. That was fixed up. Now his refrigerator is warm again—another storm put the lights out of commission.

Devaluation of Pound to Be Felt for Years

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Britain today turned to an all-out invasion of North American markets, with a cut in the value of her pound sterling from $4.03 to $2.80.

She hopes to pour in enough goods to earn enough dollars to pay for the things she wants here, including Canadian food products.

It is a strange invasion, for it is encouraged by the United States and Canada—even at the same time that many Canadians wonder what it will do to them.

For all three countries and the world were faced with this fact:

If Britain could not sell here she could not buy here, and the whole established order of world trade and our way of life would be endangered.

Briefly, very briefly, the effect of devaluation is to make Britain's goods cheaper in other countries, especially those with highly-valued currencies like the United States and Canada.

It also has the effect of making it more expensive for Britain to buy in these areas, and this was one thing which deterred her from devaluation before this. Now, apparently, she feels she can risk it.

She can risk it especially, perhaps, because the full extent of her problem is better understood than before, and because the recent Washington conferences between Britain, the United States and Canada gave her concessions to help her into North American markets.

As was predictable, Sir Stafford Cripps held back from devaluation until it was a part of a broader program which gives promise of easing the factors which made the pound weak.

Pound devaluation alone will affect the pocket books and ways of life of nearly every one on earth—but, while it is the greater part, it still is only a part of a vast readjustment in world currencies, with Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, India, Egypt, Denmark, Norway, Republic of Ireland and Israel already following suit, and with others likely to do likewise.

The reverberations will be felt for years as they sound their way down into every nook and cranny of the world's business. It is the great readjustment which has been awaiting the proper moment since the war's end.

What does it mean to Canada?

If it indeed means putting world trade on a sound basis, then it adds up to good for Canada, no matter what inconveniences, and some of them may be considerable, which may result.

To Thresh Out Plans for "Bold New Program"

By NORMAN ALTSTEDTER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Sept. 19 —World economic problems, previously given a secondary role in the United Nations, are slated for top billing at the fourth U. N. General Assembly.

Delegates from 59 countries who assemble tomorrow at Flushing Meadow will be pondering the effects of devaluation as well as the political problems.

Heading the economic questions among the economic topics on the 72-item agenda is that of aid to under-developed countries.

The plans and procedures for pooling the world's technical knowledge to help the economically-backward areas have been worked out by the Economic and Social Council.

Now the Assembly will thrash out the question which President Truman raised in his inaugural address when he called for a "bold new program" of aid to under-developed countries.

The specialized agencies of the U.N. which have drawn up suggestions through which the world might multiply its production, are: the International Labor Office, World Health Organization, Food and Agriculture Organization and International Civil Aviation Organization.

All these organizations already have programs of technical assistance. The "bold new program" visualizes a vast expansion of these services.

Rats Give First Warning of Sinking Ship

SEATTLE, Sept. 19 (AP). — An axiom of the sea—"rats desert a sinking ship"—gave the first warning of the sinking condition of the 65-foot charter boat Mercer.

The vessel, which was operated as a mailboat from Anacortes to Friday Harbor, sank Saturday a mile South of West Point Light in Puget Sound.

Robert Rayfield, operator of the Mercer, said he felt an "awful jar" as the craft passed through some driftwood. Soon the engine started vibrating.

Several moments later a rat came out of the hold, scampered across the deck and dove into Elliott Bay. Rayfield investigated and found water up to his knees in the hold.

It was then that he and his brother-in-law, Douglas Hines, cast off in a dinghy. They were given a tow by John Gordon of Bremerton in his sailboat, the Comus II.

The Doctor

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Migraine Known As "Most Terrible of Headaches," Few Successful Remedies

Migraine has often been described as the most terrible of headaches. Preceded on occasion by mental confusion, often by flashes of light before the eyes and other disturbances of vision, the attacks are frequently so severe as to put the patient in bed.

GIVES RELIEF

Relief from migraine has been noted following the giving of nicotinic acid, a part of the vitamin B-complex, either by injection into a vein or muscle. It seems that the nicotinic acid causes the blood vessels to dilate, thus increasing the blood supply to the various tissues, including the brain.

This treatment has been tried out on a group of 15 patients. Enough nicotinic acid was given by injection into a vein to produce a flush that lasted a minimum of 15 minutes. It was found that this treatment relieved the headaches in 13 of the 15 patients.

A total of 31 treatments with the nicotinic acid was given to the 15 patients, that is, it was used in several instances in each case. In 27 of the 31 instances the headache disappeared. In three cases the migraine, although not cured, was improved sufficiently so that it was felt that the nicotinic acid could be employed with advantage in future attacks. In two cases the headache disappeared but returned within two hours, and when the treatment was repeated in one case it was not effective.

TOLERANCE TO PREPARATION

Patients evidently do not develop a tolerance to the preparation, that is, they do not become less susceptible to its action, because it has been readministered repeatedly to seven of 12 patients and no increased dosage was found necessary to give relief from the headache.

Of course, such treatment must be carried out by the doctor who will decide in which cases of migraine it may be successfully employed.

For Parents

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

YOU and I are impressed with the large proportion of the children of ministers, who go through college or prepare for one of the professions in spite of the very limited income the clergyman earns.

The children of ministers live in an atmosphere of self-sacrifice and idealism. Money is rarely the measure of success. We also can be pretty sure that the homes from which Catholic priests and sisters come have put service above money and have a yardstick in terms of things not made with hands or bought with price.

WAY NOT EASY

Now back to the minister who has a family of growing children. The way is not always easy for the children or parents, especially for the mother.

While her children are little some of the parishioners tend to shower too many gifts on them and to pay too much attention. Yet they are supposed to be model children then and as they grow older. If one of them, behaving as most normal children do, should seem to some member of the church to be mischievous, there is a lot of criticism. William Shakespeare wrote:

"The crow may bathe his coal-black wings in mire
And unperceived fly with the filth away;
But if the like the snow-white swan desire,
The stain upon his downy wings will stay."

COMMUNITY CITIZENS

Sensitive to this attitude toward the minister's child, the father and mother are inclined to caution their children to be good because of what people of the church might say. And if this caution is too strong or frequent, the child, especially as he grows older, might rebel, declare his independence and really become a problem child. What should amaze you and me is that this does not happen often and that most children of preachers are such fine persons and members of their family are such grand home and community citizens.

TOMORROW'S DINNER
Vegetable Juice Cocktail
Stewed Chicken with Leeks
Parsley Dumplings
Pear Compote Ginger Snaps
Hot or Iced Coffee or Tea
Milk (Children)

(All Measurements Are Level. Recipes Serve Four)

STEWED CHICKEN WITH LEEKS

Use a plump stewing hen. Clean; remove as much fat as possible; tweeze out the pin feathers. Scrub all over with mild soap water; rinse thoroughly and drain as dry as possible. Then cut up as for fricassee. In a deep 3-qt. kettle put ½ c. finely diced celery, 1 small sliced peeled carrot and 3 c. leeks, cut in 2-inch lengths. Put the chicken on this. Add 1 qt. boiling water, 1½ tsp. salt and ⅛ tsp. pepper. Cover and simmer until the chicken is fork-tender, about 2½ hrs. It may be necessary to add a little more water from time to time. At the end of 2¼ hrs., or when nearly done, add ½ c. sweet or soured cream or top milk; bring to a boil and lay parsley dumplings on top. Cover closely and steam 15 min. The dumplings will take up the excess liquid and thicken the gravy sufficiently. Serve on a deep platter, the chicken and sauce in the middle, and the dumplings around the edge.

PARSLEY DUMPLINGS

Sift together 2 c. all-purpose flour, 4 tsp. baking powder and ¾ tsp. salt. Add 1-3 c. fine-minced parsley and 3 tbsp. any shortening. Chop with a pastry blender until the mixture looks like corn flakes. Then mix in ¾ c. whole milk or reconstituted dry skim milk. Transfer to a floured pastry cloth, and pat to ½ inch thickness. Cut in 2-inch rounds with a cooky cutter. Then place on the stewing chicken and cook as directed.

PICKLED BEETS

Combine 1½ c. cider vinegar, 1 c. water, 1 tsp. mixed picklespice and ¼ c. sugar and bring to boiling point. Simmer 5 min. Then add 3 c. thin-sliced cooked beets and 1 small peeled raw onion, sliced thin. Cover and let stand at least 24 hrs. before using.

Middle Aged Spread Out of Style For New, Pencil-Slim Costumes

In Fall fashions, the smart skirt is slim and neat for daytime wear, and jackets are short and fitted. And where does this leave the gal with the middle spread? Out of style.

So with no more dilly dallying, let's get to trimming. There is no time to lose . . .

Position: Lie on back on floor, arms out at sides shoulder level with palms down. Knees should be bent toward chest, legs together.

Movement: Keeping knees bent and shoulders as flat on floor as possible, lower both legs slowly to right side, touching floor. Return to starting position and lower legs to left side. Get a firm grip on the middle muscles and hold the up-pull. Go through this one 8 times, and gradually increase the count.

Relax . . . then on with the rolling. Almost anyone can take this easy exercise . . .

Position: Lie on back on floor, arms hugging knees to chest.

Movement: Roll from left to right, across the backs and sides of the hips. Bear down on the fat padding. Start with 25 rolls. Again keep girdle muscles pulled snugly up and in.

Love Problems

By JANE ATKINSON

By Reminding Yourself to Forget You Compel Yourself to Remember

A sentence that appears in a vast number of the letters I receive, and of which I grow increasingly tired, is: "I can't forget him."

Right before me at the moment, are letters from widely separated parts of the country but all harping on the same old theme.

Of course the biggest reason why girls are so sure they "can't forget" is because they don't really want to. Instead of being willing to go about their daily life just as usual until Time, as it always does, enables them to get over whatever the disappointment may have been, they dramatize their broken romances, getting a morbid satisfaction out of picturing themselves going about broken-hearted for the rest of their lives, with every thought dedicated to the person they loved and lost.

And the second reason why they are convinced they "can't forget" is because they don't go about it the right way.

PAY NO ATTENTION

In other words, even though unhappy thoughts persist in coming to mind over and over again, pay as little attention to them as possible, and above all, don't give yourself the luxury of indulging them. Instead, make a determined effort of will, and go out and do something that will divert your mind, at least partly, if not wholly. A program of this sort, faithfully carried out, will definitely bring results, and the unhappiness will grow less and less.

All you'll succeed in doing by concentrating on something that is past is to cheat yourself out of new and happy experiences in the present and future.

Absence of Wine Pains Frenchmen

WINNIPEG, (CP) — There's only one thing which keeps a Frenchman from feeling at home in Canada, in the opinion of Emil Dambroise of Paris—it's the lack of wine.

"Water and milk and the common beverages of this country get so monotonous," M. Dambroise complained in an interview.

He manufactures paints and varnishes, and is touring Canada displaying a new type of interior wall paint which he has invented.

The new paint is a heavy, oily fluid which when applied separates into two color tones to give a darker base. With a twist of the paint brush, the lighter-toned surface of the paint can be shaped into wall-paper-like designs with a bi-color contrast.

An ingredient known as "potato flour" or starch, is the secret of the trick, M. Dambroise explained.

"More than 75 per cent of the materials, including starch from potatoes, linseed oil and pigments used in the manufacture of my paint in France are imported from Canada."

M. Dambroise said he felt France had made considerable progress since the war.

"But France will never be as happy as she was before two wars crippled her."

"However, you can't take a Frenchman's smile away. During the occupation the ordinary German soldiers took our way of life. If they'd stayed there a few more years we could have made Frenchmen of them all."

Dancing Has Place In Study of West

TORONTO (CP) — Multi-lingual Artemios Ketselidis, Greek-born, a recent resident of Saudi Arabia and a war-time counter-intelligence officer, should be an apt pupil at Toronto University this year.

Geared with a knowledge of six languages, a degree in English literature from Roberts College at Istanbul, Turkey, and enough savings to see him through, Artemios is determined to learn the North American way of life.

He is one of a group of eight young Greek friends, all sons of prominent Greek families, who decided after the war to seek their fortunes in English-speaking countries.

And to prepare himself for life in the Western Hemisphere, handsome, dark-haired Artemios says he feels Canada is the bridge between the cultures of the old and new worlds.

One part of his savings is put aside for a very special purpose—dancing lessons.

"You see," he said earnestly, "the social aspects of your country are very important. I hope to observe them satisfactorily."

THOMPSON-TODD

● At 7:30 p.m. Saturday, in Trinity United Church, Dorothy Mabel, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Todd, 904 Victoria Street, exchanged marriage vows with Fredrick John, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Thompson, also of Nelson. Given in marriage by her father, the petit brunette bride was charming in a white gown of nylon brocade with full wrist length sleeves, fitted bodice with high neckline, rounded collar and self covered buttons to the waist line. Her floor-length ilusion veil was held in place by a Queen Ann headdress. Her bridal bouquet was composed of "eBtter Time" roses. Mrs. E. R. McLean of Vancouver, as her sister's matron of honor, was gowned in blue net with pink floral headdress and gloves, carrying a bouquet of pink carnations and roses. Mrs. Edna Price and Miss Elsie Hodgson as bridesmaids were becomingly gowned in identical dresses of yellow net with matching floral headdress and contrasting bouquets of bronze and mauve pom pom mums. Raymond Thompson, brother of the groom, was best man, while Jack Todd and Walter Thompson acted as ushers. Raymond Thompson sang "Dedication" during the signing of the register. A reception for 60 guests was held in Trinity Church Hall with Rev. G. G. McL. Boothroyd who officiated at the ceremony, proposing the toast to the bride, to which the groom fittingly responded. The bridal attendants were toasted by the best man. A lace table cloth made by the bride's mother, covered the bride's table and was daintily centred by the three-tiered wedding cake. Serviteurs who assisted Mrs. W. E. Bailey and Mrs. Tommy Temple were Mrs. Jack Todd, Miss Eileen Kent, Miss Dorothy Clark, Miss Mary Matheson, Miss Ellen Reid and Miss Joyce Coventry. For receiving the guests, the bride's mother chose a deep blue dress with pink accessories and a corsage of pink rose buds while the groom's mother donned a dress of green with grey accessories and a corsage of pink rose buds. For her going away costume the bride wore a tailleur of grey with matching accessories, a red topcoat and a corsage of Talisman rose buds. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson have motored to California for their honeymoon and on their return will reside at 711 Mill Street. Out of town guests included the bride's sister, Mrs. E. R. Movie Gossip

Skelton Believes Less Gab, More Action Would Brighten Movies

By JACK QUIGG

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 20 (AP) — Today's film comedies, said Red Skelton, in a rare reflective mood, could take a lesson from the silents.

Movies would be funnier, he thinks, if they used a lot less gab and a lot more action.

"Ever since sound came along, people have felt that pictures had to talk," the comic complained on "The Yellow Cab Man" set.

I found Skelton flat on his dressing room couch, gnawing an unlit cigar. It is fashionable this year to find fault with the films, and Red, who is chronically unhappy with his roles, was not reluctant to air his views on why the flickers aren't so funny.

"For 20 years people have been trained to depend on clever lines for a laugh," he said. "They've forgotten how uproarious visual comedy can be. That's why Harold Lloyd's 'Movie Crazy' (a recently exhumed oldie) is such a smash—it's a change."

Red said Charles Chaplin once asked him: "How can they say I'm the greatest pantomimist? No one else has tried it since the silents."

PANTOMIME PLAN

Skelton plans to remedy that. His ex-wife and manager, Edna Skelton Borzage ,has prepared a pantomime movie for him.

"We plan to use a narrator occasionally," Skelton said, "but none of the actors will talk. We'll act out the whole story."

This and Red's other pet projects will have to wait until his M.G.M. contract expires in 1951. Then he plans a series of movies in the old style.

The Vicennes, Ind., comic feels that his background — burlesque, vaudeville, circuses and night clubs —has equipped him best for visual humor, especially slapstick.

Skelton thinks that television will be his best medium. He has his TV shows all planned, but it, too, must await the end of his movie contract. In TV he wants to use sight gags and pantomime almost exclusively in a program of short sketches.

All Not Well In Satellite States

Arrest in Hungary of former Foreign Minister Laszlo Rajk and of Lieutenant-General Georgy Palffy, former commander of the army, suggests strongly that all is not serene within the satellite States. They are charged with plots to assassinate Communist leaders and overthrow the Government.

Though Yugoslavia is the only satellite in open revolt against Kremlin dictation, there are many reasons to believe Moscow orders are none too popular with the populaces. Attempts aren't made to overthrow Governments unless there is some measure of popular discontent.

In Czechoslovakia and Albania, particularly, economic conditions are bad and growing worse. Uncle Joe is having some troubles trying to Communize the world, even that part of it behind the Iron Curtain.

News to Canada

At a time when more than one authority is critical of Canada's defence preparations, Soviet Russia comes up with the accusation that this country is engaged in an "armaments race". Canadian war industry did not close its doors with the end of hostilities, it alleges, then goes on to name some of the armaments which are being produced.

The "armaments race" will come as news to all Canadians, or would if the whole charge weren't so patently ridiculous. Three airplane factories, says the Moscow allegation, are producing jet planes; but in fact not one jet warplane has yet been produced in Canada. Only now are plans being made to build 100 jet fighters of an American design.

Perhaps, though, it won't hurt to have Russia think Canada is pretty well prepared for trouble. It knows something of our industrial potential, and if it believes this power is being harnessed for defence it may lose some of its desire for military adventures.

A Handy Gadget

As various parts of the world progressively became more civilized, many primitive customs were abandoned. They were too crude, cruel or inefficient. Yet most of these customs had served a practical purpose, and one wonders, at times, if better methods have been learned to deal with particular problems.

Recently at a Royal County Show at Shrewsbury, England, a scold's bridle was displayed. It is fitting that it should have been shown there, because its purpose was to silence shrews —bad-tempered, scolding women. This handy gadget was an iron frame, which was slipped over the offending creature's head. A triangular piece entered the mouth, and the woman just stopped scolding, that's all. It could be taken off whenever she was ready to hold her tongue, and hung up until the next time she offended.

This particular bridle or "brank" is dated 1632, and bears the inscription:

"Chester presents Walton with a bridle
To curb women's tongues that talk too idle."

It belongs to the parish church, Walton-on-Thames, and Rev. J. Crichton Melville, the vicar, explains that the "bit", or portion placed in the mouth, "is now only half an inch long, worn perhaps by much use, or rusted by disuse, or bitten off by some dead and gone virago." And, a note in the parish archives dated 1884 reported other similar "scold's bridles" still existed at Walsall, Chesterfield, Lichfield, Macclesfield, and "also a very curious one at Ham Hall in Staffordshire." Apparently they were widely used in those days.

What we would like to know is: Has anyone discovered a quicker, more efficient—but gentler—way of silencing a common scold than this old-time brank?

Corrects Library Article

To the Editor:

Sir—In a recent issue of your paper you published an article on the matter of a Union Library. The content of this article was misleading. The delegates at the U.B.C.M. convention, held at Victoria last week, did not go on record favoring the creating of a West Kootenay Union Library, but they did approve of a Trail resolution asking the Government to implement the recommended financial aid to Public Libraries as set out in the B. C. Library Association 1945 program.

I would appreciate if you could see fit to make this correction in your next issue.

J. A. A., Creston—Have you a formula for fireproofing paper?

Paper is rendered fireproof by saturating it with a solution of ammonium sulphate, 6 parts; boracic acid, 3 parts; borax, 2 parts; water, 100 parts. Sodium tungsten may also be employed for the same purpose.

Mrs. W. W. W., Granite Road, Nelson—What will take iodine marks off a porcelain bowl?

When porcelain articles have a brown stain on them, such as iodine would cause, try removing it by letting hydrochloric acid trickle on the stain until removed—a medicine dropper can be used for this purpose, and destroyed afterwards. Wash bowl thoroughly to remove all trace of acid.

On Saying a Mouthful

We are not among those laymen who laugh at philosophers. We know that the ponderous polysyllabic vocables and interminable hair-splitting which rouse the guffaws of the crude may be the necessary instruments of precision of thought, like the vocabulary of the physicist.

But still . . . we are not above an occasional quiet snicker.

Take the distinguished professor who addressed the Conference on Science, Philosophy and Religion the other day. There are four stages, he declared, in building a genuine world community, stages he described as > . . . defence of freedom of creation, thought, and expression; education not only in facts and method but in ethical and aesthetic values and the diversity of their expressions and applications; understanding of the common values underlying the diversities of cultural expressions; and critical insight into the ambiguities which result from differences of method and expression and which are manipulated in ideological conflicts.

When Franklin Roosevelt enunciated the Four Freedoms, everyone knew what he meant. Except, of course, that critical insight shows ambiguities in them which have since been "manipulated in ideological conflicts." Obviously the statesman's world-stirring eloquence and the philosopher's critical insight need to be brought together in "one world."

At the close of the conference, T. V. Smith —himself a practical politician, an eloquent orator, and a professor of philosophy—urged "good plain English" on his academic colleagues. Too often, he said, when they thought they were making things clear they were making them unclear. The delegates agreed, and so do we. You said a mouthful, Mr. Smith.

Need of Urgency May Mean Writing Of Japanese Treaty Without Russia

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press News Analyst

The urgency of concluding a Japanese treaty has developed the startling possibility that the democracies may get ahead with the job without Russia unless a quick solution of the disagreement with Moscow can be found.

Should this happen it would of course mean two distinct treaties—another stone added to the wall dividing the totalitarian states and the democracies.

The stalemate hinges on Russia's insistence that the treaty be concluded by the Big Four Foreign Ministers Council (Britain, the United States, Russia and France), whereas Britain and the United States insist that it be handled by the Far Eastern Commission. This Commission comprises the 11 countries that fought against Japan—the United States, Britain, Canada, Russia, France, China, the Philippines, the Netherlands, Australia, India and New Zealand.

The Russian attitude may be explained largely by the fact that the veto is permitted in Council proceedings, whereas it is not used in the Commission.

On one thing there appears to be unanimity — the need of getting ahead with the job.

THE PROBLEM

On top of that the conversations in Washington last week between Foreign Secretary Bevin of Britain and State Secretary Acheson of the United States reached the conclusion that a Japanese treaty is long overdue.

And Foreign Minister Vishinsky of Russia, who is heading the Russian delegation to the United Nations meeting opening Tuesday in New York, is expected to press for a Japanese treaty—to be made by the Foreign Ministers Council.

Acheson has indicated that Britain and the United States may try again to end the two-year-old deadlock over who should draft the treaty. And what if this effort fails?

As the signs now read, the question then will arise whether the Allies represented on the Far Eastern Commission, headed by Britain and the United States, shall go ahead and make a treaty with Japan without Russia. Certainly London and Washington can't be expected to agree that Far Eastern countries like Australia and the Philippines, which had more to do with the Japanese war than did Russia, shall be left out of the treaty making.

Fourth Admits Plot To Overthrow Red Hungarian Gov't

By ENDRE MARTON

BUDAPEST, Sept. 19 (CP)—The fourth defendant in Hungary's treason trial pleaded guilty today to plotting to smash the Communist Government in what he called an anti-Soviet crusade led by Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito.

The latest to proclaim his guilt was Dr. Tibor Szoenyi, 46, former member of the Hungarian Parliament and former chief of the Red Party's Cadre section which supervises all rank and file members.

Szoenyi testified he had been personally engaged as a spy by Allen W. Dulles, head of the United States' office of Strategic Services in Europe during the last war.

Szoenyi also told the five-judge People's Court that Dulles had maintained "secret connections" with Tito and that they had agreed on a common post-war policy which would make the Yugoslav leader head of the anti-Soviet group in Central Europe.

(In Belgrade the Tito Government has branded the confessions as lies designed to bolster the Russian propaganda war against Tito's regime).

...well practically unanimous

YOU CAN still find people who "don't believe in banks" . . . who keep their cash in old coffee pots, or hide it in the woodpile, or carry it around.

But most folk nowadays keep their money in bank accounts. They can get it whenever they want it; and they can pay their bills by cheque. Canadians have more than seven million such deposit accounts. In terms of Canada's adult population, that makes it practically unanimous.

The banks, in turn, know they must earn this confidence by giving you the best service they know how.

Today you can take your account to any bank you choose. And what is in your bank book is strictly between you and your bank. It is your own private business.

Devaluation Blow to Solomons Ring Revival

By H. L. JONES
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Sept. 19 (CP)—Jack Solomons, the British boxing promoter, moaned today that devaluation of the pound has put at least a temporary crimp in his campaign for a British ring revival.

Roly-poly, cigar-smoking Solomons has been waging a private war with United States promoters to attract North American talent here and put on a stack of "world championship" bouts in just about every weight class. But for the moment, he said, he doesn't know where he is.

Somewhat sadly he admitted that devaluation may mean a temporary stop on further contracts with American and Canadian name fighters unless a way can be found to overcome the difference in the value of purses caused by devaluation.

SIGNS KING

He said he can't afford to go on forever making up the difference himself, but that he'll stand by contracts already made. These involve such men as Li'l Arthur King of Toronto, the Empire lightweight champion, and American heavyweights Lee Savold and Joey Maxim.

Solomons is just back from a trip to North America. He has signed King to fight either Billy Thompson, the British lightweight titlist, or Toronto's Solly Cantor. Cantor has been around Britain for some months and has beaten all the top British lightweights, including Thompson.

Devaluation will make no change in Savold's contract for a Spring bout against Bruce Woodcock in Solomon's version of a "world heavyweight championship." Neither will it seriously affect arrangements for a fight between Maxim and Freddie Mills in London in November. In the Maxim-Mills fight, the Briton's world light-heavyweight title goes on the block.

Sport Snapshots—

Jim (Lethbridge Herald) Brooke brings up the old hockey "C" form controversy again, this time in the form of Danny Lewicki's troubles with Maple Leafs' Connie Smythe.

Under the heading "Simon Legree Smythe," Brooke has this to say about the matter.

"It seems that Lewicki . . . made the mistake of signing a "C" form for the Providence Reds a few semesters back. The form, bought by Smythe, gives the Maple Leafs a concrete clutch on the Port Arthur youth as far as professional hockey is concerned. Unfortunately Daniel refuses to walk into the Leaf lions' den. He doesn't want to turn pro and refuses to play junior hockey where constant Connie wants him to play —in Toronto.

Brooke says that if Lewicki refuses a pro contract with Leafs—he still has one year in the junior age bracket—he may be suspended from professional hockey and quotes Canadian Amateur Hockey League prexy Al Pickard as saying National Hockey League prexy Clarence Campbell may ask for his suspension from amateur hockey as well.

"Amateur hockey has gone to a sorry pass when a pro club can flex its political biceps and rule, or attempt to rule, a talented youngster out of the game.

"Should Lewicki actually be squeezed out of hockey and should he appeal to the courts we submit that the "C" form, negotiation lists and other pro gimmicks would be in for a deservedly bad time. Smythe would be about as popular with his contemporaries as a bad night at the box office.

Nelson Boys To Clash In Legion Card

Two Nelson-born boys, Dean McInnes, 17, and Joe Posnikoff, 16, will clash in the preliminaries of the Canadian Legion wrestling and boxing card at the Civic Arena Saturday night.

Dean McInnes, 142 pounds, newcomer to the Legion Boxing Club, will be "a hard boy to beat" according to Steve Cameron, who organized the Club two years ago. He fights from a crouch and loves to rough it up; hits hard with either hand and can take it too.

Joe Posnikoff, 140 pounds, has been boxing for a year, appearing in several exhibitions. His fight against Kimberley's McMahon last Fall, a draw, was a crowd pleaser. A southpaw, he can hit hard and is a nice boxer.

The boys have been training nightly for two weeks and are in top notch condition. They will let up their training Thursday, then relax until Saturday.

Before the Roman invasion of Britain London was the capital of the Trinobantes, an ancient British tribe.

Lengthen Pitcher's Stand From Home Plate

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 19 (AP)—Hereafter the softball pitcher's mound will be 46 feet from the home plate instead of 43.

The change was voted by the International Joint Rules Committee on Softball, meeting here in connection with the sport's World Series.

Spokane Flyers To Have Jiggs McManus in Net

SPOKANE, Sept. 19 — Dinny (Jiggs) McManus, young goal tender who last year played with Lethbridge Maple Leafs, has been signed to play this Winter with Spokane Flyers in the Western International Hockey League.

McManus will replace Ron Pickell, who operated in the pipes for the Flyers last year, but went back to the Coast league this year with Seattle.

A youngster with a great record at Lethbridge, in the Alberta-Saskatchewan league, McManus played the year before with the New Westminster Royals. He was the goalie for Oshawa when they played for the Memorial cup.

Roy McBride, manager of the Flyers, is leaving this week for a swing through Canada to visit the Coast league training camps.

He anounced that in addition to McManus, Ralph Luke and Lorne Nadeau had signed for another season.

Pat Petrucci, smooth blond center, is on the "doubtful" list.

The team is beginning to shape up fast now, McBride reported. Already signed and announced are McBride and Bill Snider of the first line from last year.

"Scoop" Bentley, defensive artist, has been signed as playing coach of the club.

HAPES MOVING UP IN FOOTBALL SCORING

TORONTO, Sept. 19 (CP)—Merl Hapes, once an American professional star, is closing in on native-born Joe Krol in the Eastern Canada senior football scoring race.

Statistics compiled by The Canadian Press show that Hapes, former member of the New York Giants, has five touchdowns for 25 points in three games for Hamilton Tigers in the Ontario Rugby Football Union. Krol has tallied 32 points for Toronto Argonauts in four games to top the point-getters in the Big Four Union.

Ice Carnival Plans in Motion

Plans for this year's Rotary Ice Carnival were discussed at Nelson Rotary Club meeting in the Hume, Monday. The Carnival Committee has arranged for Miss Barbara Cowan, new professional figure skating instructress whom the Nelson Figure Skating Club has employed, to run the carnival, which is to be held early in December.

A. J. Ody, owner of the Leader Shows, thanked members for their aid in helping to sponsor his show, and also complimented the West Kootenay Exhibition Association for having such an excellent Fair. He said that it compared favorably with other fairs which he had seen in other larger cities. He entertained the company with one of his card tricks.

Guests were J. E. Graham, Nelson; J. S. Livingstone, Nelson; Melville Towriss, Princeton Rotarian.

Briton Halts Wouters in 5th

COVENTRY, England, Sept. 19 (CP) — Randolph Turpin today whipped Roy Wouters of Vancouver, Western Canada middleweight champion, on a T. K. O. when the referee stopped the scheduled 10-round bout at the end of the fifth frame.

Referee Chris Maggs overruled protests from the Canadian corner and halted the fight when Wouters' left eye closed tight and it was plain he was having much the worst of the scrap.

Turpin, giving away two pounds, piled up points with heavy left hooks and wicked rights to the body.

The Canadian was down for counts of seven in the first round and eight in the fifth.

Cards Lose, Dodgers Win; 50th Kiner Homer

By STEVE ROBERTSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The St. Louis Cardinals' National League lead was cut to 1½ games over Brooklyn Monday. The Cards lost and the Dodgers won. St. Louis has 11 games left, Brooklyn has 10.

At St. Louis rookie outfielder Ed Sanicki, just up from the Toronto Maple Leafs, drove in three runs with a home run and a long fly as the Philadelphia Phillies cooled off the red-hot Cardinals 4-3, behind the steady pitching of another rookie from Toronto, Jocko Thompson.

At Chicago the Brooklyn speed artist, Rex Barney, pitched a brilliant 4-0, one-hit shut-out against the Cubs. Phil Cavaretto's eighth-inning single spoiled Barney's bid for a no-hitter. Barney faced only 28 batters. He pitched a non-hit, no-run game against New York Giants Sept. 29, 1948, the last in the majors.

RECORD FOR KINER

Ralph Kiner smashed his 50th homer, but the Pirates were beaten 6-4 by New York Giants. In the other National League game Boston Braves defeated Cincinnati Reds 6-2 with tight pitching by Warren Spahn before a crowd of only 1144 at Cincinnati.

Kiner, who got his circuit clout in the second inning, became the first player in the National League twice to hit 50 or more homers in a season.

In the American League, New York Yankees blanked Cleveland 6-0, to stretch their lead to three games over the idle second-place Boston Red Sox. The only other American League game was a 7-4 victory for Philadelphia over the St. Louis Browns.

At New York lefty Ed Lopat yielded only five hits, his second straight scoreless job, and it shoved the Cleveland world champions to the brink of elimination. Cleveland trails the Yanks by 9½ games with only 11 to play.

Dick Fowler went the route for the Athletics, winning his 14th of the season, to defeat the Browns. Fowler hurled two-hit ball over the last five innings.

HORNETS GOALIE LOSES EYE

WELLAND, Ont., Sept. 19 (CP)—Goalkeeper Baz Bastien of Pittsburgh Hornets of the American Hockey League, tonight had his right eye removed shortly after he was injured during the first practice of the pre-season training here.

Bastien, voted the American League's all-star goalie for the last two seasons, was hit by a puck on a long screened shot from the blueline. The puck was shot by Don Clark, formerly of St. Louis and Springfield, who was working out with the Hornets while seeking a berth with Toronto Marlboros of the Ontario Hockey Association senior loop.

WILLIAMS ADDS NEW HONOR

CHICAGO, Sept. 19 (AP) — Ted Williams of Boston Red Sox, who led in five American League batting specialties a week ago, took over a sixth — most runs batted in — last week.

The Red Sox star belted in nine runs during the week to raise his total to 153. He took the honors from his teammate, Vern Stephens.

Through games of Saturday, Williams was the top batter with a .351 percentage; had scored the most runs, 143; made the most hits, 188; the most doubles, 39; and the most homers, 40. Dale Mitchell of Cleveland had the most triples, 23.

KINSMAN WINS PAIR

VANCOUER, Sept. 19 (CP)—On a clever ride from jockey Wendell Eads, Vernon Kinsman scored his second consecutive victory today at Exhibition Park as the final week of racing got under way.

And then it rains!

One of life's daily dramas is the weather. The weatherman studies the situation and says tomorrow will be fair and warmer. You read about it in the newspaper and plan a picnic. And then it rains!

The newspaper brings you the report of the fact of rain and the opinions of the forecaster, the ball game score and the crop estimate, the report of a fire and the statements of the Prime Minister. * * *

Some people would have it otherwise. They would have the newspaper print no opinion—except their own. They would like to limit what you read. They think the free exchange of ideas and opinions is dangerous. It is—to them.

Opinions are as much a part of the news as facts. The newspaper brings you all sorts of both in order to serve you better. Facts are valuable because they help you form your own opinions. When opponents debate an issue you are better equipped to decide who is right. By reading facts and opinions you get the knowledge that guides your decisions on how to shape your life, how to invest your money, how to vote—how to stay free.

Now you can read what you want and decide as you want. Your enemies do not want you to do that. As long as you do, they cannot control you. They don't want you to know and use your wits to make the right decisions about men and issues. To achieve their aims they would close off your access to the world of knowledge.

Because the newspaper is your main source of facts and opinions it is the first to be attacked. To control your mind—and you—there is a studied plan to control what you read in newspapers. The scheme is to invade and take away your right of a free press—not just the newspaper's—but yours!

The newspapers have no monopoly on a free press. It belongs to everyone. And it belongs to you even though you never write a letter because the right of a free press includes your right to read. * * *

If you think your right to read freely is not in danger, read the proposals that are being offered, supposedly in your interest, by certain commissions and committees operating under lofty-sounding names and in some cases on public funds.

You may agree with some of their arguments. That is your right. But before you make up your mind, take a second look. Newspapers only head the list. Control of your sources of information means control of your opinion and, if the experience of the people under Hitler and Stalin tells anything, under such control you can expect someone, someday, rain or shine, to tell you when you can have a picnic.

Your right to know is the key to all your liberties

To Lease Columbia Basin Project Lands for Grazing

COULEE DAM, Sept. 19 (AP).—The Bureau of Reclamation reported Saturday 3,000 acres of its land in the Columbia Basin Project soon would be leased for grazing.

The land, located in Grant, Adams and Franklin Counties, was purchased from private owners and eventually will be sold by the Bureau to settlers when it is ready for irrigation.

Bids on the grazing land will open Sept. 27 at Ephrata, the Bureau said.

Study Latest In Dentistry By Telephone

CHICAGO, Sept. (AP)—Will the college campus of the future be a telephone booth?

This fall the University of Illinois College of Dentistry in Chicago will provide postgraduate courses for some 7000 dentists who won't be in Chicago. They will be in 135 other cities getting their instructions by telephone.

The idea started in 1947 when Dr. Saul Levy, a Scranton, Pa., dentist called Dr. Robert G. Kesel at the university dental school here. Dr. Levy said he wanted to attend the postgraduate course on control of tooth decay but couldn't spare the time to travel to Chicago.

"Why," he asked, "can't I hear the lectures by telephone?"

The result: Dr. Levy and 19 other Scranton dentists met in the chamber of commerce building on class nights, got out lantern slides and charts that had come in the mail, hooked an amplifier to the telephone and listened. They didn't miss a word.

Word of the innovation got around in the profession. Other dentists in towns outside the big dental school centers became interested. Classes-by-wire were brought to dentists in Scranton and New Iberia, La., in the spring of 1948. There was a six-city hookup in Illinois last fall.

But that was only a starter—and a small one, at that. The university, starting Oct. 10, will put on a post-graduate educational series that will reach 135 cities in 38 states and two in Canada over telephone lines.

SIX SESSIONS

There will be one session a month for six months. Each will start at 8:30 p.m. Eastern Standard Time and will last two hours. They will originate at the University of Illinois Chicago campus.

There will be a different subject each month but the general theme is "current advances in dentistry." The object is to bring dentists up to date on the latest developments in their field.

Six speakers will be heard on each program. They are research men, teachers, practising dentists and specialists from a score of cities and universities. Each will speak six or seven minutes. A round-table discussion will follow.

Dr. Isaac Schour, director of post-graduate studies at the University of Illinois dental school, figures 7000 dentists will be on the listening end. Each pays $10 for the full series. They will gather about loud speakers in dental society quarters or meeting rooms in their home towns.

"This is mass professional education by an all-star faculty," Dr. Schour said. "It will be on a national basis. If and when the mechanics are worked out, it may become international.

"Most dentists can't come to a university, so now the university comes to the dentists.

"Every profession—medicine, engineering and the others — has a similar postgraduate problem. This may be the answer."

First Australians Get Voting Right

CANBERRA, Sept. (CP) — Australia's first inhabitant, the aborigine dark-skinned survivor of the Stone Age, will this year have the right to vote in federal elections, provided he isn't a ward of the state.

Most of the Commonwealth states have for many years allowed aborigines to vote for state parliaments but only a few could vote for the federal parliament. Those few were the aborigines who had their names on state rolls at confederation in 1901.

Until now, the Commonwealth government has refused to add later names to the roll. Curiously enough, it offered a vote to any New Zealand Maoris who happen to be living here.

The aborigines have not been particularly concerned about their lack of a vote. They are gradually dwindling in number and throughout the whole continent there are now only about 47,000. Half-castes, steadily growing in number, have always been eligible to vote.

One case which drew public attention to the aborigine's lack of a citizen's rights was that of Albert Namatjira, whose magnificent paintings of Australia's back country are much sought after by art collectors. Several years ago it was revealed that he was paying hundreds of pounds a year in income tax but had no vote.

He still won't get a vote, although he was recently paying as much as £900 a year tax. He has chosen to live with his tribe on a reserve and the electoral officer has ruled that he cannot be a ward of the state and vote also.

Market Trends

TORONTO, Sept. 19 (CP).—Gold stocks soared upwards for the highest gain on record following the devaluation in the pound sterling. Activity bubbled over into base metal and industrial lists and prices climbed strongly. The price level in golds was the highest since 1947 and industrials were at the highest point of the year.

MONTREAL, Sept. 19 (CP). — Trading slackened slightly and securities slipped after this morning's strong forward advance. With the British announcement that the pound sterling had been devalued securites soared up but eased as the day wore on.

VAINCOUVER, Sept. 19 (CP).— Gold share prices skyrocketed in the first British Columbia reaction to the pound devaluation. Senior stocks, Bralorne and Pioneer, soared $1.30 to $11 and 55 cents to $4 respectively in heavy trading.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19 (AP).—The stock market weathered news of British devaluation in good form. A fast few minutes of selling immediately after the opening put prices down fractions to a point or more. But subsequently losses were either trimmed or wiped out.

MONTREAL, Sept. 19 (CP). — There was a feeling of uncertainty on the bond market. Canada long terms were bid down ⅛ in quiet and featureless trading. Bond brokers were reported waiting to see the general reaction to the British move.

In-between killers were steady to strong. There was good action on stock cattle, which also were fully steady.

This morning's truck run was light, with indication that about 1000 animals would be available before the market close.

Weekend saleable receipts: 828 cattle, 58 calves, 12 sheep. Monday morning's salable receipts: 150 cattle, 12 calves.

Hogs closed last week at $30.55 for As at yards and plants. Sows $16 live weight.

Police said a group of zoot-suiters with a macabre sense of humor tried to force their way into the morgue at the Canadian National Exhibition grounds at a time when only one officer was at the door.

OTTAWA, Sept. 20 (CP) — The Army is gradually building a combat strength but its crux and core now is a web of schools.

There are some 14 scattered across Canada. They are called corps schools because they produce instructors and trained men for all the army's corps, from infantry to provost, from signals to medical.

They prepare the men for Arctic and Winter conditions and for airborne, fighting, round off future officers, turn out tradesmen. There is even a school in Quebec city to teach English to French-Speaking recruits.

In any wartime expansion, their importance would be tremendous. In the meantime, they play an important part in construction of the airborne brigade group that is earmarked to be the standing force to meet any enemy raid in the foreseeable future.

The brigade is slowly taking shape. No commander has been named, but the first steps have been taken towards formation of a headquarters. The first land exercises on what might be called a brigade level are being held this Fall at Wainwright, Alta., and Petawawa, Ont.

Answers to Quiz Reveal Tourists' Idea of Britain

By NORMAN CRIBBENS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Sept. 19 (CP)—Canadian tourists generally think of Britain as a nice place for a holiday—but possibly she could do with more clean table cloths and a better telephone system.

Canadian reaction to Britain as a tourist centre is now being revealed in hundreds of answers to a questionnaire reaching the British Travel Association from Vancouver, Winnipeg, Toronto, Ottawa and other cities.

The questionnaire is attached to a 'Welcome to Britain" card which is handed to every visitor on arrival here.

Replies suggest it is the little things that often mar a visitor's impression — things like soiled table cloths, cracked crockery, pert answers from store salesme , "No Cigaret" signs, overcroweded trains and buses, poor street lighting and wrong telephone numbers.

A Toronto man, for example, handed a black mark to the cook who made a pork pie containing a large lump of candy—though candy is strictly rationed in Britain.

"We are getting replies from all over the world," an official of the Travel Association said. "Most of the criticism is mixed with praise and Canadians, in particular, seem to make more allowance for Britain's post-war difficulties.

"Some complaints come from people who give the impression they would complain anywhere. But we welcome constructive criticism however sharp it may be . . . That is the whole idea of the questionnaire."

INTERESTING COMMENTS

Here are typical Canadian comments:

Ottawa—Britain should adopt the Canadian and American system of handling baggage.

Vancouver—Leave the old country as she is, but let visitors bring in more food, cigarets and nylons for themselves and their friends.

Toronto—Your telephone system needs improving . . . too many wrong numbers.

South Porcupine, Ont.—Your telephone operators are wonderful.

Victoria—You need better street lighting and more signs indicating washrooms and lavatories.

Windsor, Ont.—Give visitors a small map of the route to London showing the counties and principal towns through which they will pass.

Edmonton—Hotels are much too expensive.

Tourists from Canada, the United States, France, Holland and Denmark all urged that British stores should stay open later than 5:30 p.m., as at present.

Many praised the room service in hotels, particularly the early cup of tea in bed. Others spoke highly of Britain's long-distance trains and of the "kindly attitude" to visitors.

Coat-Hanger Key To Escape From Noronic

TORONTO, Sept. 19 (CP)— A coat-hanger was a key to escape from the death ship Noronic for Mr. and Mrs. Dick O'Brien of Fort William.

They were in their cabin on C deck and fortunately not yet in bed when the fire struck Saturday morning.

"It was impossible to go out through the door into the hallway, but there was a window opening on the promenade or C deck," said Mr. O'Brien. "It had a grid on it and with a coat hanger we pried it loose and went out that way, and were able to help some people in adjoining cabins to do the same.

"We made our way to the stern of the ship. People were jumping off and I tried to stop some of them, because it seemed to me that we were all right there until help could arrive.

"It did, in the form of a ladder and we made our way off—a few cuts, no clothes, but generally okay."

Start Harvesting Southern Alberta Sugar Beet Crop

LETHBRIDGE, Sept. 19 (CP). — Harvesting started today on the largest acreage of sugar beets ever grown in Southern Alberta since the raising of sugar beets for commercial purposes was introduced to this irrigated region in 1903.

In their hectic race with the weather, the beet farmers face the task of harvesting beets from more than 32,000 acres of irrigated land, 2000 acres more than last year.

The acreage is expected to yield about 380,000 tons of beets from which the extraction is expected to be well over 100,000,000 pounds of refined sugar.

Satisfied With Alliance Set-up

By GEORGE RONALD

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 (CP), — Canada tonight was reported "perfectly satisfied" that Britain, France and the United States form the standing group of the Military Committee of the North Atlantic Council.

The Dominion agrees, informants said, that the 12-country Committee itself is too big for the continuous military planning involved in operation of the Atlantic Treaty. The eight other pact countries also agree that Britain, France and the United States should handle this work.

However, the set-up announced by the Council after Saturday's one-hour meeting provides for close liaison between the standing group and the remaining nine parties.

Canada has been rumored as a probable fourth member of the group. But that report never was confirmed officially.

"It was the newspapers who 'elected' Canada to the standing group," one informant said. "Canada was willing to serve in that capacity but never sought membership.

"All the Dominion asked was that she be guaranteed constant protection of Canadian interests in any matter before the standing group. The arrangement decided on provides that guarantee."

New Treatment For Diabetics

ATLANTIC CITY, Sept. 19 (AP)—Nearly all people with diabetes can live normal healthy lives without daily shots of insulin, declares a report released tonight by the American Chemical Society.

With a new treatment based on diet, 99 per cent of adults with diabetes can get along without insulin, said, Dr. Michael Somocyi, biochemist of the Jewish Hospital of St. Louis.

The others may need only a small amount of insulin daily.

Too much insulin can be dangerous, poisoning a diabetic and making him chronically ill through a chemical tug-of-war in his body, Dr. Somocyi declared.

This way to freedom from insulin was found during a 14-year study of 4000 diabetic patients in St. Louis. The main basis is a diet that keeps body weight at the ideal level for a person's age and build. It allows enough starches, sugars and proteins, but cuts down on fats.

Interchangeable Currency, Lowering Of Tariffs Urged by Party Heads

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Sept. 19 (CP)—World-trade problems and Government plans to seek constitutional changes were among the major points mentioned today in Commons speeches by the leaders of the country's four main political parties.

With the traditional throne-speech debate swinging into full stride, Prime Minister St. Laurent told members that Canadians must work toward a situation where the earning of dollars by sterling countries must become sufficient to enable them to buy what they want from this country.

George Drew, Progressive Conservative Leader, said:

"There is only one sure solution of our problem, and that is in some way to bring about as soon as possible the interchangeability of currency which will give us the widest possible markets, not only in Great Britain but throughout the whole sterling area."

M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. Leader, said:

"We urge the Government to consider the drastic reduction of tariffs as a major step in promoting Canada's trade with the United Kingdom."

Solon Low, Social Credit Leader, said he believed that Britain was "bludgeoned" into devaluing the pound. He charged that the international monetary bank had put pressure on Britain to make the devaluation.

The speech from the Throne forecast legislation that would make it possible to amend the constitution on Federal matters without an appeal to the United Kingdom Parliament.

Mr. Drew said there should be no constitutional change without consultation with the provinces. Mr. St. Laurent indicated the Government will stand by its plan to consult the provinces with respect to constitutional changes on matters falling within provincial jurisdiction.

Mr. Coldwell said his party welcomed proposals to facilitate the attainment of Canada's complete nationhood.

$1200 PER FAMILY

In the debate, Mr. St. Laurent said he realized that Canada must keep up her present volume of exports in order to maintain current standards of living. For every family of five in Canada the country had to sell $1200 of goods and services in order to maintain current living standards.

Urges Removal Of Reds From Canadian Unions

CALGARY, Sept. 19 (CP). — A warning against Communism in unions was given to the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada today by an American Federation of Labor spokesman.

Herbert A. Bradley of Washington, fraternal delegate from the A.F.L. urged that Communists — "cancers" on society—should be removed by every reasonable means.

Mr. Bradley, International President of the International Chemical Workers, made the reference to Reds as the T.L.C. made ready to throw out a Communist-dominated affiliate, the Canadian Seamen's Union.

President Bradley, whose international office is strongly right-wing, expressed concern at reports of Communism in the Canadian section of the Chemical Workers.

Of its 10,000 Canadian members, 9990 were fine and loyal Canadians.

"As for the other 10, we'll take care of them ourselves," he declared amid applause.
