West Kootenay Zone Convention At Trail Backs Bid for Bridge At Castlegar, Plans Zone Magazine

TRAIL, B.C., Oct. 2—Conference of the West Kootenay Zone of the Canadian Legion here Saturday and Sunday:

1—Passed a resolution urging that inasmuch as the devaluation of the pound sterling caused hardship to Imperial veterans receiving disability pensions from the British Government, the pensions be retained at their previous dollar value regardless of the length of time veterans had been in Canada.

2—Asked that the War Veterans Allowance be immediately made available to Imperial veterans and Imperial veterans' widows who have been resident in Canada for 20 years.

3—Backed a Castlegar - Robson branch resolution demanding a bridge be raised over the Columbia River at Castlegar rather than construction of a new 28-car ferry. (For fuller details see page 2.)

4—Urged immediate establishment of the Canadian dollar to its former position to protect the economic stability of the country and the security and well-being of its people.

5—Endorsed representations made by the Legislative Committee of B.C. Command to the Provincial Government urging that suitable lands in West Kootenay be released for small holdings under the Veterans' Land Act, and that the three-acre British Columbia minimum on small holdings be reduced to half an acre.

6—Strongly recommended that the practice of the Veterans' Preference Law be adhered to in employment.

7—Passed with a 6-4 vote a resolution asking the B.C. Executive Council to press the Dominion Government for amendment of the Criminal Code to permit the organization, sponsorship and operation of lotteries by reputable organizations, and that the Provincial Government support the proposition so it will be willing to take over all responsibility.

8—Appointed an editorial board to start publication of a West Kootenay Legion magazine.

9—Resolved that in order to strengthen the Welfare branch of the Canadian Legion a man be appointed to the Executive Council to study pensions, allowances, and to give advice on welfare questions.

10—Recommended that the period of time during which a veteran may appeal for a pension be his entire lifetime.

Buddy Clark, Crooner, Killed

By JIM HUBBART

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 2 (AP) — Popular singer Buddy Clark was killed Saturday night and five others including radio commentator Sam Hayes were injured in a plane crash in a Los Angeles residential area.

Clark, 44, one of North America's favorite crooners for a decade or so, died at a police hospital, despite oxygen and transfusion efforts about an hour after the crash.

Death was caused by multiple skull fractures. The others were not believed critically hurt.

FORCED LANDING

The crash came as the pilot of the chartered plane attempted a forced landing on Beverly Boulevard. The party was returning from the Stanford-Michigan football game at Palo Alto.

Others injured were James L. Hayter, 27, the pilot, of Fresno, Cal., Hayes' wife, Sally, 28, and two NBC executives, Frank Berend, 40, Beverly Hills and Jennings Pierce, 52, North Hollywood.

Hayes, 45-year-old West coast broadcaster for 20 years, said a minute and a half before the crash, "we all knew that this was it."

"We had been noisy and talkative all the way back from the game, but from the moment we knew we were going to crack up there was not a sound uttered. We were all too scared to speak.

"Somehow I remembered the acrobats in a circus I saw Friday night, and how relaxed they were in their tumbling. At the last moment I made myself go limp and just rolled right out of the plane. I guess that's what saved me."

Clark, whose recordings and radio work during the last few years had boosted him into the higher income brackets, leaves a wife, the former model Nedra Clark, and a daughter, Penny, six. By a previous marriage to Singer Louise Hughes, he had two children, Thomas, 11, and Katherine, nine.

REMEMBER FALLEN

TRAIL, B.C., Oct. 2—Comrades who fell on the battlefronts of two world wars were remembered Sunday by the conference of the West Kootenay Zone of the Canadian Legion.

Wreaths were laid at the foot of the Legion memorial tablets by members of the Legion and the Ladies' Auxiliary during a quiet remembrance service, opened by a parade of the colors, delegates and the Legion band.

As the notes of the Last Post died away and a few drops of rain fell, came the words . . . "They shall not grow old as we grow old."

French Crisis Avoidable Declares Schuman

OTTAWA, Oct. 2 (CP)—Robert Schuman, France's Foreign Minister, said Saturday he was convinced that the crisis in the French Cabinet in recent days "could and should have been avoided."

Mr. Schuman, who served as Premier of France in 1947 and again for a short period last year, Sunday concluded a busy round of activities, inaugurating a three-day visit to Canada.

He said the Cabinet crisis resulted from the recent currency devaluation moves by many countries, including France.

He received an honorary degree from University of Ottawa Saturday. During a dinner at the French Embassy, he presented the Grand Cross of the Legion of Honor to Mackenzie King on behalf of France

One-Cent Check Would Cost Nickle to Cash

MASSENA, N.Y., Oct. 1 (AP) — Bud Segar received a vacation pay check for one cent yesterday and found that a bank will charge him five cents to cash it.

So he'll frame it instead.

Segar said he received the check from the Aluminum Company of America along with his weekly pay check. A notation explained a bookkeeping error had short-changed him on his vacation pay.

Preach the Gospel, Church Is Urged

VICTORIA, Oct. 2 (CP) — An exhortation that the Church "preach the gospel and the peoples of the world return to Christian teachings was delivered today by Right Rev. Cyril F. Garbett, Archbishop of York and Anglican Bishop of England.

He was emphatic in his theme that good news for this period of recurring crisis is to be found in the gospel. He said it was a challenge for the church to preach that gospel.

Neither men nor nations, he added, can trust in their own strength.

MO... RECOGN... RED CHINA

Relations Problem Comes Up With Chou Proclamation

"FRIENDLY"?

By The Canadian Press

China's Communists Saturday formally proclaimed their new Government at Peiping with Gen. Chou En Lai as Premier and Foreign Minister, and the Soviet Union followed a day later with recognition of the new regime.

Russia's quick recognition of the Communist regime, announced Sunday in Moscow, had been anticipated by informed observers in China.

The Communists meanwhile announced they have sent a message to all foreign consulates and embassies inviting diplomatic recognition of the new Government.

Now the long-expected question of formal relations with Red China has been tossed into the laps of foreign powers.

While Chou is considered to have been the Communist most friendly to Western powers, observers are reluctant to interpret his selection as Premier and Foreign Minister as an overture to the West. They noted that he had lost no time avowing complete cooperation with the Soviet Union.

BEST KNOWN

Gen. Chou, of all the Communists in the new regime, probably is the best known to foreign officials in China.

Chou also is a member of the 63-member ruling "Government Council."

Another member is Li Li-san, Moscow-trained, Li once broke with Mao because he considered the Communist chief unorthodox. Some observers have considered Li a rival to Mao in the fight for power.

The day in Peiping began with the Government Council taking office.

Mao and his Council later reviewed a parade of soldiers, marines and sailors. Overhead thundered fighters and bombers. Among the guests was a Russian "cultural delegation" just arrived from Manchuria.

FREEDOM FOR LIBYA ARGUED

By NORMAN ALTSTEDTER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Oct. 2 (CP)—Italy Saturday virtually renounced claims to her former African colonies of Libya and Eritrea but requested renewed control of Italian Somaliland.

Count Carlo Sforza, Italy's Foreign Minister, told the 59-member Political Committee of the United Nations Assembly that Tripolitania (Western Libya) and Eritrea should be given independence.

His new proposals differed sharply from the British-Italian plan last year for the three colonies, rejected by the Assembly.

The old plan called for independence for Libya in 10 years and splitting of Eritrea between Ethiopa and the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan.

Sforza now calls for immediate independence of Tripolitania followed soon by independence for the other two sections of Libya—Cirenaica and the Fezzan. Eritrea, he said, should not be split.

His proposals come closest to the surprise plan offered Friday by Russia which would give Libya immediate independence with all foreign troops withdrawn in three months and military bases liquidated.

107 EARTH SHOCKS RATTLE QUEEN CHARLOTTES SINCE AUG. 21

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C., Oct. 2 (CP) — The inhabitants of the Queen Charlotte Islands off British Columbia's Northern coast are still experiencing frequent earth shocks.

Since Aug. 21, when an earthquake described as Canada's largest rocked the area, there have been 107 lesser quakes.

The residents — particularly those in the Cumshewa area of the islands—are living in a state of anxiety.

Tremors following the big one have toppled chimneys and broken dishes. However, not even the large quake did any more than tumble a few chimneys and cause ground cracks which measured up to six inches.

The ground is reported to have sung as much as six inches around Massive Inlet on the Islands.

WOULD DOWN BARS TO U. S. INVESTORS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 (CP) — Representative Charles A. Eaton (Rep. N. J.), Canadian-born member of Congress, called on the United States Government Saturday to remove barriers preventing Americans from investing in the securities of "the largest and best customer of the United States"—Canada.

In a letter to State Secretary Dean Acheson, he protested that the Securities and Exchange Commission, a Government agency, is doing "everything it can" to block the sale of Canadian securities in the U. S.

'JUST VISITING,' BEVIN REACHES OTTAWA

Official Talks to Come Later, Will Meet St. Laurent

AT U. N. ASSEMBLY

OTTAWA, Oct. 2 (CP) — Foreign Secretary Bevin of the United Kingdom, a powerful block of a man, came to Ottawa today by train to "pay a visit I've promised a long time."

The one-time farmboy and truck driver was greeted formally by representatives of Canada, the U.K. and Australia and informally by 25 or 30 persons who applauded as he passed through the station.

Among the former was "my dear old friend," former Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

Photographers pictured him and Mrs. Bevin with Mr. King, Hon. Brooke Claxton, Acting External Affairs Minister, Sir Alexander Clutterbuck, U.K. High Commissioner and Rt. Hon. He will call on Prime Minister St. Laurent tomorrow and will hold "official discussions" later.

WORLD SOCIALIST PLANNING URGED BY C.C.F.

Offered as Long Range Solution To Economic Ills

NINE POINTS

OTTAWA, Oct. 2 (CP) — The C.C.F. tonight proposed a nine-point program to promote international socialist planning as a long-range solution to the world's economic problems.

Establishment of a Canadian Foreign Investment Corporation as a Crown company and of non-profit international development corporations were urged in the program, contained in a 700-word statement released by C.C.F. headquarters.

The statement of policy on international trade was adopted by C.C.F. National Council at weekend meetings in the capital. It said the Canadian Government and people must be prepared to make their contribution to raising living standards everywhere through expansion of world production and world trade.

"1. The establishment of international agencies, which would facilitate the balancing of international accounts at a high level and which would provide for planned capital assistance to the underdeveloped and war devastated countries of the world;

"2. The establishment of international, development corporations, on a non-profit-making basis to assist in the development of specific capital undertakings in the underdeveloped and war-devastated countries of the world;

"3. In the meantime, the Canadian Government should itself, establish a Canadian Foreign Investment Corporation as a Crown company, the function of which would be to make available for investment abroad funds on a planned basis, thus at one and the same time facilitating our export trade and assisting world reconstruction, in consultation with as many other countries as might cooperate.

LOWER TARIFFS

"4. A downward revision of tariffs so as to encourage an increase of imports from the United Kingdom and other sterling countries to assist these countries in exporting goods to Canada in payment for their imports from us and to help lower the cost of living to the Canadian people.

"5. To help protect our markets abroad and to assure stability for the Canadian producers, the Canadian Government should undertake the negotiation of further long term contracts similar to those now in existence for wheat, bacon, eggs and cheese.

"6. Canada should cooperate to the fullest extent in the effort to establish a food pooling plan such as suggested by the Chairman of F.A.O. and should provide its share of a fund large enough to serve the purpose. We should encourage maximum production of food at home and offer food surpluses to the food pool.

"7. Canada should urge the F.A.O. also set up a pooling plan for the provision of farm machinery and fertilizers to underdeveloped or war-devastated countries.

CONTROLS, SUBSIDIES

"8. The Government must initiate further measures of price controls and subsidies so that price increases resulting from devaluation do not cause serious drops in Canadian living standards.

"9. The appointment of a Royal Commission to investigate fully the restrictions on Canadian trade imposed by private international cartels."

TO HOUSECLEAN CZECH YOUTH GROUP

PRAGUE, Oct. 2 (AP)—Nearly one-sixth of the Czechoslovak youth front organization's 668,000 members soon will be weeded out as "political unreliables," the Communist Party organ, Rude Pravo, announced today.

Tito Shifts Troops, Romania Ends Pact

Czechoslovakia Expected to Follow Kremlin Line and Complete Isolation; "Oppressor" Slav Retort to Russia

LONDON, Oct. 2 (AP)—The Iron Curtain between Yugoslavia and her Eastern neighbors was drawn a little tighter today with Romania's announcement that she too has severed her friendship treaty link with Marshal Tito's country.

The formal as well as the factual isolation of Yugoslavia from the Communist East now is complete except in the case of Czechoslovakia.

Reports from Belgrade said the reaction of Yugoslavs was one of increasing alarm. Though there were no signs of an imminent outbreak of a shooting war, unconfirmed reports said Tito was shifting troops from the West—where they faced little Albania—to the East. An Associated Press correspondent who toured the Western parts of the country said he noted few troops in that part of the country.

Poland, Bulgaria and Hungary all have followed the lead of Russia in denouncing their alliances and friendship pacts with the defiant Communist state on the Adriatic.

Reports from Prague said Czechoslovakia probably will follow suit, leaving formal diplomatic relations as the only link between Tito's struggling independent Communist state and the Soviet Bloc. There were indications that these ties might be the next to be cut.

The action of the Romanian Government was announced by Ana Pauker, Romanian Foreign Minister, in Bucharest. She charged that the Yugoslav Government has been trying to agitate against Russia on Romanian territory.

PLOTS CHARGED

The other Cominform Governments, in denouncing their alliances with Yugoslavia, said Tito had been plotting against them or using their territory for anti-Soviet intrigue, spying and sabotage.

Tito himself reviewed "Grand Manoeuvres" of his troops at an undisclosed spot last Thursday. Yugoslav radio commentators said the exercises demonstrated the Army's ability to defend the country's independence.

WAR-MONGERING

On the diplomatic front the Government's reaction was a bitter note to Russia Saturday. It called Russia's severance of the Soviet - Yugoslav alliance a blustering, war-mongering act. It called attention to Yugoslav's recent offer to settle all outstanding differences, and said Russia's only reply had been to denounce the alliance.

The network of alliances linking Yugoslavia with the Soviet Bloc had become a dead letetr to an increasing extent following the action of the Communist International Information Bureau 15 months ago in reading Tito out of the Communist group on charges that he was a nationalist anti-Soviet.

OPPRESSOR

The Yugoslav note accused the Soviet Union of being an oppressor of small countries and a country which reduced its treaties to worthless scraps of paper.

Russia's note breaking off the treaty, Tito said, makes it certain the Russians are organizing "a propaganda witchhunt of lies and slander against Yugoslavia unparalleled in its fury."

The Soviet Union, by its actions, fanned war psychosis, marked herself as a warmonger, and violated the principles of the United Nations Charter, Yugoslavia told the Kremlin.

Second Short of World Record . . .

Miss Canada Sets N. America Record

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

PICTON, Ont., Oct. 2 (CP) — Miss Canada IV set a North American speed boat record of 138.648 miles an hour today and missed cracking the 10-year-old world mark of 141.7 mph by a whisker.

Driver Harold Wilson of Ingersoll, Ont., had only to lop less than a second off the total time of 51.9 seconds over the two one-mile runs on Picton Bay to become the fastest water pilot in the world. The boat had it but Wilson "throttled her down" due to a red-hot engine.

"Miss Canada was so high over the water chops that the breather pipes weren't sucking in enough water to keep the engine cooled," he explained later. He had no way of knowing he was so close to climbing over the world record.

The previous North American titleholder was Such Crust, owned by Jack Shaeffer of Detroit, an easy winner over Miss Canada in the International Harmsworth races at Detroit this Summer. Such Crust set the record, 126.6 miles an hour, over Gull Lake, Mich., in August.

Water conditions were almost perfect this morning—"just a bit rough" the 37-year-old Wilson said when he made two early morning trial spins over the one-mile nautical course. He signalled officials the next run was "it" and Miss Canada, leaving a vapor like 75-yard trail in her wake, flashed down the bay. The first trip was clocked at 137.7 mph, and the return hop was 159.5 mph.

Under American Powerboat Association regulations, Miss Canada is allowed one more attempt before sundown Tuesday to break the world record set by the late Sir Malcolm Campbell in 1939.

Cortisone Treatment Has Arthritic Dancing With Nurses

BOSTON, Oct. 2 (AP) — They caught 40-year-old Bob Mahoney dancing with a hospital nurse — and that news may make 7,000,000 arthritis sufferers feel like dancing, too.

Because Bob says he came into Massachusetts General Hospital on crutches and they found him doing his dance less than 12 days after treatment with a new medical discovery—cortisone.

Bob and three other patients were selected for treatment with cortisone and its accompanying discovery, acth (adrenocorticotropic hormone).

Grinning with the patients when Bob chuckled "they caught me dancing with the nurses in the ward" were Drs. Hans Waine, William S. Clark, and Walter Bauer.

At present both substances are scarce because cortisone is produced only after long and costly chemical work and acth is almost as difficult to get.

The press interview was openly a joyful day for Mahoney and the other patients: Michael Mahoney, 44, no relation to Bob; Mrs. Helen Smith, 23, and Janet Achin, 21.

HOPS INTO CHAIR

Mrs. Smith hopped nimbly up on a chair when Dr. Clark asked her if she could do it. And two months ago, she said, "I couldn't raise my head from the bed and couldn't even feed myself."

The women were treated with acth and the men with cortisone. But now there is no cortisone available for the Mahoneys to go on with the treatments.

Dr. Clark said when treatment stopped Bob seemed to be holding his own but some of Michael's symptoms came back. But "not so seriously as before."

ENDS PAIN

NEW YORK, Oct. 2 (AP)—Rapid relief from arthritis through use of sex hormones was reported Saturday by four Oklahoma scientists.

Eighty-one out of 90 patients with rheumatoid arthritis were freed from pain and swellings of joints within four to 12 weeks, they said. The patients felt better, could move about more freely, gained weight and had better appetites.

But use of the male and female sex hormones can't be called a treatment yet, and certainly not a cure, the report said.

The tests are described in the Oklahoma State Medical Journal by Drs. William K. Ishmael, Arthur A. Hellbaum, and John K. Kuhn, and Mary Duffy of the University of Oklahoma School of Medicine and Oklahoma Research Foundation.

CAN BE DANGEROUS

The good effects usually lasted only as long as the injections continued. The hormones also brought improvements or remissions in four patients with gout, and two with rheumatic fever.

The potent sex hormones, produced by sex glands in the body, can be dangerous to use, the report warned. Overdoses made some people sick. Too much of the male hormone, testosterone, used in this work may produce masculinizing effects on women. The female hormone, estradiol, may affect men adversely.

And in This Corner—

SEATTLE, Oct. 2 (AP)—Telephone worker Frank McAlister was sent Saturday to investigate a phone booth where the receiver had been off the hook for an hour.

He reported he found a fat man had wedged himself between the seat and the door and couldn't get out.

McAlister and police ripped a wall from the booth and freed the man.

WOONSOCKET, R.I., Oct. 2 (AP)—When Romeo Gramolini, 33, took his wife to the maternity ward of Woonsocket Hospital Saturday night he jokingly asked the nurse on duty for a boy.

Gramolini, who has two daughters at home sat around waiting, hoping for a son.

"Is it a boy?" he asked eagerly as the delivery-room door swung open hours later.

"Is it a boy," laughed the nurse. "It's three of them, all born within five minutes."

DUNMOW, Essex, England, Oct. 2 (Reuters)—A side of New Zealand bacon was handed out today to each of four couples here who swore while kneeling on two sharp-pointed stones that they "had not quarrelled nor repented of their marriage within a year and a day after its celebration."

The couples were taking part in the famous "Flitch Trial" revived after a lapse of 12 years following the gift of the bacon by the people of New Zealand. Bacon rationing has ruled out holding the trial in recent years.

By ancient custom only those couples who can prove their marital harmony before a jury of six spinsters and six bachelors can qualify.

Retention of Pensions at Former Dollar Value Urged by Legion

TRAIL, B.C., Oct. 2 — Recommendations designed to assist Imperial Veterans whose pensions were cut up to 30 per cent with the devaluation of the pound sterling, and one to have the Canadian dollar returned to its parity with the United States dollar were approved at the weekend conference here of the West Kootenay Zone of the Canadian Legion.

Because the pound devaluation would cut pensions being paid by the British Government a resolution urged that the pensions be retained at their previous dollar value.

This was to apply said Bishop Hugh Embling of New Denver, Chairman of the Pensions and Treatment Committee, "regardless of how long a veteran had lived in Canada."

The Bishop in the same report also suggested that the war veterans' allowance be made available to Imperial veterans and to Imperial veterans' widows who had been resident in Canada for 20 years.

IN TWO GROUPS

Imperial veterans were split into two groups and only one would likely retain its full pension value, David McKee, Secretary of B. C. Command, explained.

Men who lived in Canada prior to an overseas enlistment with the British forces would be protected in the same way as a Canadian veteran. "The Dominion Government wil likely absorb the losses in these cases, Mr. McKee said.

On the other hand men who had come to Canada after being disabled and who were receiving pensions directly from the British Ministry would suffer a loss. "The Ministry does not raise a pension if the pound decreases, nor does it lower it if it increases."

Return of the Canadian dollar to its full value was recommended in a resolution from Trail. The resolution passed unanimously was:

Whereas the Governments of the United Kingdom and Canada devalued the pound sterling and the dollar by 30 per cent and 10 percentibly.

And whereas the only result would be to increase the cost of living to Canadian people.

And whereas veterans' pensions would be reduced up to 30 per cent,

Therefore be it recommended that this zone convention urge immediate establishment of the Canadian dollar to its former position to protect the economic stability of the country and the security and well being of our people.

Incorporated in the Pensions and Treatment Committees resolutions were requests that a veteran be given a lifetime to appeal for his pension, and that when application was being made, the burder of proof that disability occurred during war service lay not on him, but that the Government prove it could not have.

Appointment to the Executive Council of a man to study pensions and allowances, and that the Veterans' Officer be "left alone to do his work" and not absorbed into the Unemployment Office were also recommended.

Royals W. Kootenay Champs for 3rd Year

TRAIL, B.C., Oct. 2—After dropping the first two games of the playoffs to Trail Reps, Nelson Royals blasted the Reps four straight games by overwhelming scores to retain the West Kootenay Softball Championship and the Province Cup for the third year.

Trail played bangup ball in the final doubleheader of the playoffs in Trail Butler Park today, but Nelson proved too strong at the plate and won the first game 10-3 and the second 10-5.

Dianne Chursinow scored a homer off Trail's star hurler, Hazel Johnson in the fourth inning of the first game, putting Nelson in front with a substantial lead, which was never threatened in the ensuing stanzas.

In the second game, Helen Rothery took the mound for Trail, and Mary McGinn clouted her first pitch for a complete circuit. From there on, it was Nelson's game all the way with heavy batting and circuit clouts going to Edi Pippi, Lois Taylor and another to Mary McGinn. Homers apparently are the Royals' specialty, for in the doubleheader played in Nelson a week ago Sunday they chalked up four.

Outstanding plays were made in the field by Betty Denesky for Trail and Kay Swales for Nelson. Denesky robbed Marie Stangherlin of a home run by pulling one down in right field that was scheduled for the back fence. Kay Swales saved the bacon for the Royals in the second game by reaching over and picking off Johnson's drive to retire the side with a neat double.

Ann Kastrikoff and Verda Pratt shared the pitchers' mound for the Royals while Evelyn Pratt was catcher.

Lineup of the West Kootenay Champs were Mary McGinn, Lois Taylor, Kay Swales, Edi Pippi, Marie Ball, Marie Stangherlin, Dianne Chursinow, Jean Koehle and Ann Kastrikoff.

Pioneer Pythian Lodge at Rossland Convention Host

ROSSLAND, B.C., Oct. 2 — The annual District convention of the Knights of Pythias of West Kootenay met at Rossland Saturday at Miners' Union Home, Columbia Avenue. District Deputy A. Stanley of Nakusp Lodge was in the chair.

Several resolutions were dealt with and addresses concerning the welfare of the order were made by delegates. It was the unanimous opinion that the speaking contest was a great benefit to young people.

Later the members went to the K.P. Hall where the tables for a banquet were prepared by the Pythian sisters of Rossland. H. Maitland, P.C., was in the chair. Addresses on the order and its future usefulness was the main theme.

Four members were Rossland pioneers, but one veteran, R. G. Joy of Nelson, dated back to 1894 and his address on the friendship of the oldtimers of Rossland was well received. H. More of Salmo and the Chancellor Commander of Rossland Lodge, spoke of it as being one of the oldest lodges in the Interior. Some of its members had attained prominence in British Columbia affairs. E. H. Winn, exchairman of the Compensation Board of B.C., a Past Chancellor of the Lodge, also was a supreme representative.

A letter was read from F. J. Harding, Grand Secretary of the grand lodge of B.C., who was also a past member of Rossland Lodge.

A vote of thanks was tended the Pythian Sisters. The singing of "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows" closed the entertainment of the delegates.

Later the rank of Knight was exemplified by the various lodges, Trail and Salmo Lodge being prominent. Nelson members accompanied by Dan Tattrie of New Denver Lodge arrived home in Nelson in the early hours of the morning.

Delegates from Nakusp, Nelson, New Denver, Salmo, Rossland, Trail and Grand Forks attended the session. R. G. Joy, C. Beltner and E. Buerge were Nelson representatives.

Nelson Legion Group Bucks Lottery Move

TRAIL, B.C., Oct. 2 — Canadian Legion West Kootenay Zone Convention Sunday passed a resolution that lotteries be allowed in Canada.

The resolution put forward by Salmo suggested amendment of the Criminal Code to allow organizations and operations of lotteries by "reputable" organizations, providing it was not for individual gain.

It was also asked that the British Columbia Legion Executive urge the Provincail Government to support the move and take responsibility for implementation in this province, the lotteries controlled by the Attorney General.

Dissension came from Nelson. S. J. Newell said that while the Nelson Branch was not against lotteries on a Dominion basis, it felt the country would be flooded with them.

He thought the Legion should go on record to support a Dominion or Provincial lottery, "maybe two a year."

"But the other way we wouldn't be able to move down the street for ticket sellers."

Bridge at Castlegar Demanded By Legion; District Ferry System 'No Inducement to Travellers'

TRAIL, B.C., Oct. 2 — A bridge across a river that is daily crossed by 2300 people and 1000 cars and trucks was demanded Sunday at the West Kootenay Zone Conference of the Canadian Legion.

In tendering a resolution urging construction of a bridge at Castlegar, the Castlegar-Robson Branch had the unanimous backing of the convention.

Construction has been ordered for a new 28-car ferry for the crossing between Robson and Castlegar.

"No ferry of any size can handle travel like that," J. Webster of Castlegar-Robson said. "The larger a ferry is, the slower and more cumbersome it becomes."

His branch was "opposed to any ferry . . . we want a bridge."

The $40,000 a year the ferry was costing in maintenance and salaries would "amply" pay the interest on a bridge.

"It's time something was done about the ferry. There are three within the 50 miles from Castlegar to Kootenay Landing. That is no inducement for travellers.

"We're in a modern age. That ferry leads to the airport. Robson school children and workers at the C.M.&S. plants here in Trail must cross it daily. Sometimes 90 cars are lined up and there's a three-hour traffic holdup.

"It's a disgrace to a province to have such backward methods."

FIGHTING MAD

"Fighting mad" was the way Albert Lamb expressed the Castlegar-Robson branch's feelings about the new ferry. Tourist trade, he said, was the quickest way to alleviate the shortage of American dollars, and British Columbia was the greatest potential playground in Canada.

"We're not getting tourists because we've got the worst road system in Canada. We have the foresight to know that one road or one bridge is not going to develop this country, but right here in West Kootenay we have the three things a tourist wants—"hunting, fishing and scenery.

"It's a disgrace htat we're not fighting more."

Expenditure of the taxpayer's money on maintenance of ferries and crews to man them was mentioned by Ron Hill of Fruitvale.

New roads for the Slocan area were asked by Bishop Hugh Embling of New Denver when he backed the suggestion. "The work of the whole Zone is hindered by a poor communication system."

The resolution will be sent to the Department of Public Works through the Provincial Command.

Variety of Night Classes Planned At Junior High

Night classes for those wishing to learn leather work, woodwork, sewing, and possibly art-metal will be held again this year, Floyd L. Irwin, Principal of the Nelson Junior High School, announced Sunday.

Leather work classes were held last year, in the Junior High at nights, under the tutelage of Mrs. C. D. Pearson. The success of these classes was such that the question of again holding them was brought before the School Board at the September meeting, with the result that arrangements were immediately started.

It was decided that the woodwork shop at the Junior High School could be "confiscated" for one night a week, and B. B. Clark, woodwork teacher at the school, offered his services, thereby providing all necessary "equipment" for this class.

Mrs. Pearson will again be in charge of the leatherworkers, while Mrs. Jack Teague will head the sewers.

The calsses will be held once a week, probably from 7:30 to 9:30. The days have not been decided but at a registration meeting, on Tuesday, the prospective members will decide the night which is free to the majority of them.

The classes will be held in the Junior High, as was the leatherwork last year, when the registration was so heavy that it necessitated the formation of two calsses of approximately 15 each.

Other classes will be started if the demand is heavy enough and facilities and tutors can be found.

The classes will be held once a The classes will be self-supporting.

Wants Benefit Of British Whiskey Sales to U.S.

AUCHINLECK, Ayrshire, Scotland, Oct. 2 (Reuters) — Emrhys Hughes, teetotaller school teacher, journalist and Labor Member of Parliament for Ayrshire, plans to ask Prime Minister Attlee when Parliament opens Oct. 12 to make production and export of whisky a State monopoly.

Hughes thinks "a little group of wealthy monopolists" in the United Kingdom are "cashing in on the thirst of America."

"I am looking forward to support from America, because my proposition would mean a reduction in the price of their Scotch," he told a reporter.

"It would, you see, cut out the middleman's profits, and, you know, if the Americans are going to be slowly poisoned, it might just as well be done to the benefit of the British public.

"Whatever the Americans may think of other modes of nationalization, they should certainly be eager to support a proposal which would result in a reduction in the price of whisky."

CHILEAN WINES PRAISED FOR CANADIAN SALES

VICTORIA, B.C., Sept. 30 (CP)—If you ever run across any Chilean wines, you can take it from Edward Henry Maquire, Canadian Commercial Secretary at Santiago, that they are excellent.

Furthermore there are surpluses of them and the price is dirt cheap, a bottle costing the equivalent of 10 to 15 cents. Chile would be glad to supply Canadians with their wines but Mr. Maquire doesn't hold out much hope of the wines reaching liquor store shelves in Canada in much quantity.

A Vancouver born and educated World War II Naval veteran, Mr. Maquire, who is here today meeting Provincial Government officials and representatives of manufacturing and exporting companies interested in trade with Chile, says that the price of Chilean wines would be too high by the time all the duties and taxes were paid on them to make them attractive to Canaidans.

Furthermore Canadians are predominately a whiskey and beer drinking people. An overhauling of their drinking habits would be necessary before much Chilean wine could be sold in Canada..

Few Chileans, according to Mr. Maquire sit down to a meal without a bottle of white and a bottle of red wine. He reported that many of them also have liqueurs on hand too.

Jeremiah 29: 11.

Among the selections from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, was the following: "Divine Science explains the abstract statement that there is one Mind by the following self-evident proposition: If God, or good, is real, then evil, the unlikeness of God, is unreal."

Dominion-Provincial Meet to Air Problems of World Food Markets

By The Ottawa Staff of the Canadian Press

OTTAWA, Oct. 2 (CP)—The Problem of shrinking world markets for Canada's foodstuffs will be aired when the Annual Dominion-Provincial Agricultural Conference meets in Ottawa early next December.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner likely will be in a position then to tell Canadian wheat, meat, milk and poultry producers what Canada can expect to sell in the traditional world markets such as the United Kingdom.

He also will confer with Provincial Agricultural Officials on the possible requirements of cutting Canda's wheat acreage in the next crop year, should the world market for wheat tighten.

Other farmer-growing problems will be discussed but the biggest discussions will centre around what the United Kingdom will take from this country in 1950.

Last year just before the Conference, Mr. Gardiner made a hurried trip overseas and came back with a bigger price for Canadian wheat. This year it is not even certain that he will make a trip to London.

However, Canada is guaranteed a $2-a-bushel price for 140,000,000 bushels of wheat to be shipped to Britain in the 1949-50 crop year.

NEW CONTRACTS

Still to be negotiated are new contracts for bacon, eggs and cheese.

Just what amount of these products the U. K. will take likely will depend to a great extent on her dollar situation and the amount of Marshall-Aid Funds she can divert to the Canadian Food Market.

Wrapped up in these considerations is the agricultuarl situation eggs are surplus in the U. S. and in the United States. For example Marshall-Aid administrators may insist that Britain buy American eggs with American dollars.

Sterling devaluation is another problem which will enter the contracts picture. Expected to earn the U. K. more dollars—in time—it now leaves Britain in the awkward position of having to pay 20 per cent more for Canadian products at current prices.

Range of Legion Projects, Interests Told 150 at Trail Convention Banquet

TRAIL, B.C., Oct. 2 — The vast range of Legion projects and Legion interests was brought out at the banquet of the West Kootenay zone convention of the Canadian Legion here Saturday night.

Housing, sponsoring of youth entertainment, veterans' assistance and community work were among the items mentioned to 150 delegates and guests that feasted in the Trail Legion Hall.

Housing was still one of Canada's and the Canadian Legion's "greatest problems," David McKee, Secretary of Provincial Command said. "And it is greatest here in British Columbia . . . a Province that people came to see and then didn't want to leave."

Retaining of rental controls until the situation eased was a Provincial Command objective, Mr. McKee said. The Federal Government was contemplating relaxing the controls or passing them onto the Provincial Governments.

"Provincial Command is asking its branches to get in touch with their Federal and Provincial representatives and asking them to have the controls retained."

War Veterans Assistance Fund should be wiped out and the pensions increased, he said.

"GREAT BACKGROUND"

Unique in that it had no political affiliations, the Legion was an organization where every man had one "great background," remarked W. S. Kirkpatrick, Honorary President of Trail Branch No. 11 and Assistant General Manager of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada, Limited.

Veterans, "your members," had shown by their war experiences that they were "very much entitled to take a part in he affaris of Canada."

Mr. Kirkpatrick expressed himself as "always pleased to see the Legion taking a leading part in its community. It is great credit to veterans."

Development of the Sunningdale subdivision was due in the main to two members of the Trail Branch, said Mayor E. G. Fletcher, of Trail. "It was through the sparkplug action and steady prodding of Buddy DeVite, your President, and Albert King that Sunningdale was brought about.

"City Council was aware of the need, but frankly, we didn't know what to do about it. We finally solved the problem, but it was due particularly to the Canadian Legion."

Attention was drawn to the similarly in the aims of the Legion and the Board of Trade by J. H. D. Hargraves, Vice-Chairman of the Trail Board. The Board of Trade had as its chief objective the promotion of the economic, social and civic welfare of its community — "almost idenical to that of the Legion."

Greetings from B. S. Isman, President of Provincial Command, were brought by F. E. DeVite, Third Vice President of the Provincial body and President of Trail Branch. Mr. DeVito said that the British Columbia Executive was aware of "every demand of small branches" and were continually having discussions on how to improve liaison between them.

Brief introductory addresses were also given by Albert King, First Vice President of Trail Branch; A. Douglas Turnbull, M.L.A.-elect for Rossland-Trail; Mrs. E. Lund of Salmo, President of the women's section of the zone; J. A. Clarkson of New Denver, Acting Secretary; Charles Middleton of Trail; Herbert Lamb of Castlegar-Robson, first Vice President of the zone; and Mrs. R. Curtiss of Trail, President of the Ladies Auxiliary.

Chairman at the banquet, a leading entertainment event in the two-day convention, was F. B. Tessman of New Denver, Zone Chairman.

A dance followed.

Claims Sterling Devaluation Leaves Economics Uncertain

LONDON, Oct. 2 (CP)—The weekly economist, in a review of the effects of sterling devaluation, says today the move has left the Canadian economic picture full of uncertainties, especially with Britain.

The Economist's Ottawa Correspondent writes that, with a price increase of one-third on the main items which Britain has been buying from Canada, it is hard to see how many of them can still be bought.

It is difficult to see where else Britain could get wheat in sufficient quantity, the correspondent says, but since bacon, eggs, and cheese contracts are not sufficiently large to make up an important part of the British ration, they may not be as attractive to Britain as post-devaluation prices.

As with wheat, the British Government seems to have less choice of markets to get base metals, he writes. As for smaller items on Britain's purchase list, such as lumber, salmon and canned vegetables, Canadians fear these "may have to be forgone."

Devaluation has given a price advantage to many British products in the Canadian market, the economist reports. However, the correspondent says Canadians will not buy things they do not want, even if the price is attractive; neither will they buy West Indies fruit until they are convinced the quality is as good as Texas or California products.

Claims Reds Will Set Own Labor Body

OTTAWA, Oct. 2 (CP)—Communists will set up their own labor body in Canada and the United States next year, Sam Baron of Montreal, Canadian Director of the Textile Workers' Union of America (C.C.L.), predicted at the Union's annual conference.

His declaration came as the Canadian Congress of Labor prepared to throw out one of its Left-Wing Unions at its convention next week, and little more than a week after another—the Canadian Seamen's Union—had been forced out of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

SLAVS CHARGE RUSSIA TRIED TO OVERTHROW TITO

BELGRADE, Oct. 2 (CP)—Yugoslavia accused Russia Saturday of trying to overthrow the Government of Premier Marshal Tito.

The charge was made in a Yugoslav reply to the Soviet note Thursday which scrapped the Russian-Yugoslav treaty of friendship and mutual assistance.

"It is well known that Soviet representatives tried to organize their agents within the Yugoslav Government and Yugoslav Army with a view to overthrowing the legal Yugoslav Government," the note said.

It accused the Soviet Union of breaking "the international principles contained in the United Nations Charter."

The note was handed to the Soviet Charge d'Affaires here.

The note described Soviet hostility against Yugoslavia as contradicting principles of foreign policy laid down by Prime Minister Stalin.

It quoted Stalin as saying in 1941 that Russia would never intervene in the internal affairs of a small country.

"The responsibility and consequences which might result from the non-peace-loving acts of the Soviet Government to Yugoslavia must be borne exclusively by the Soviet Government," the note said.

Installation of Ice Plant Begins This Week in Trail's New Arena

TRAIL, B.C., Oct. 2—The Cominco Arena is progressing on schedule and should remain that way providing the weatherman continues to lend favorable support.

It was learned today from Cominco officials that the refrigeration plant and pipes for the arena and curling rink are in town and are awaiting the Linde Canadian Refrigeration Company men who will arrive to commence installation Tuesday. There are 11 miles of pipe in the arena ice surface. All pipe joints will be welded requiring 2500 welds to complete the job.

Work on the roof deck has started and should be 80 per cent finished by the end of next week. Covering will be with asbestos cement shingles which should arrive shortly in Trail. They were shipped from the East Sept. 21. The shingles are green.

The first section of seats was poured recently and the concrete mixing equipment will be moved outside to permit the ice area to be cleared for the laying of the refrigeration pipes.

Cominco officials are hopeful that the Smoke Eaters face-off with the Spokane Flyers will be in the Cominco Arena Nov. 15.

Officials of the Trail District Recreational Projects Society stated today that work on the Curling Rink is progressing satisfactorily. Piping is in town and officials said that they expected the carpentry crew to be working full blast on forms for the foundations by Oct. 10.

Claims $5 Million Lost Each Month in Industrial Accidents

VANCOUVER, Oct. 2 (CP)—Five million dollars is spent in British Columbia every month—accidentally.

W. C. Mainwaring, B. C. Electric Vice-President, said last night it costs that much for industrial accidents in B. C.

He told the B. C. Safety Council that $1,000,000 of that sum goes in the payment of compensation to injured workmen.

Four times as much, however, is spent, indirectly, in the training of new workmen, lost man-hours and damage to products.

Of 75,000 accidents last year, 250 were fatal and 1,250,000 man-hours of work were lost.

For Parents

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

Spanking Never Fails When Parents Apply It Properly and Consistently

Perhaps you know some moth- s like the following ones:

1. A child two years old has been t to bed. His mother is in the next om. After about eight minutes e youngster gets out of bed and mes out to his mother. She gently kes him back to bed and tucks m in. About fifteen minutes later e tot comes out to her again. ith less gentleness than before e takes the youngster back to bed d tells him to stay there.

After about twenty minutes the t ventures out to his mother once ore and she spanks him severely d carries him to bed.

IGHT AFTER NIGHT

Scenes like these occur night fter night and the mother can't e why she has such a problem. ad she spanked him, skin to skin e first time he came out and verytime thereafter, and done so very evening, the problem would ave been solved permanently after few evenings. He would have had uch more sleep and she a peace- l, quiet evening. If she suspected e had fear of the dark she could ave left the door ajar.

2. The mother is on the front orch. Little Imogene, three, is laying on the lawn near the street. uddenly Imogene dashes into the treet. The mother leaps after her nd they both barely escape an ap- roaching car. The mother explains o Imogene why she must never run into the street. She had given the same explanation a hundred times before. Then the mother lingers on the lawn, watching Imogene. As Imogene is about to run into the street again the mother intercepts Imogene before the tot reaches the curb. Next time Imogene dashes toward the street her mother spanks Imogene and takes her home.

WITH OTHER CHILDREN

On the following evening the mother sees Imogene in the street with some other children and shouts to Imogene to come onto the lawn. Imogene comes to the lawn slowly. A few minutes later the mother goes to the lawn and sees Imogene going toward the street. The mother runs to catch Imogene and brings her back. For days and days the mother see Imogene running into the street many times but in all that time she spanks Imogene just once more.

When this mother talked to some other mothers at her club they all agreed that spanking never works to teach little children to stay out of the street. They had all tried it and they knew. What they all failed to recognize was that none of them was nearly consistent. They spanked sometimes and sometimes they didn't. Usually they didn't.

Why should any little child avoid the street when he can have so much fun running out into it and from being chased with the chances of being spanked so very small?

The Doctor

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Polycythemia, Little Known Disease, Cause of Study

Since 1892, when the first case as described, physicians have een familiar with a rather strange isease known as polycythemia. In his disease, the red cells of the lood are enormously increased. nd so is the total amount of blood n the body. This increase is so reat that those veins which can e seen through the skin look full nd the skin itself has a deep-red inge. Usually, there is also some ncrease in the number of white ells in the blood. And the spleen, ocated in the upper left part of he abdomen, is enlarged, often to great degree.

HELPFUL TREATMENT

There are a number of forms of reatment which seem helpful.

The new drug, known as phenyl- ydrazine, has been used. An ex- essive dose may cause loss of ap- etite, vomiting, diarrhea, itching, nd other symptoms. One of the isadvantages of this form of treat- ent is that anemia or lack of red ells may result from an overdose. That is why it is so important that a doctor always supervises the treatment.

RADIATION

What are known as nitrogen mustards have been used in a few cases and have produced freedom from symptoms and reduction in the blood cells for periods of over six months to two and a half years.

Until more is learned about this disease, the various forms of treatment described must be relied upon to control it.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

K.B.: When there is a bad ptosis condition present, involving all of the organs in the abdomen, do these organs return to their original position after prolonged wearing of a ptosis belt?

Answer: The wearing of a supporting belt will not overcome ptosis or dropping of the organs in the abdomen. Of course, the wearing of such a belt will help to relieve the symptoms.

Exercises for strengthening the muscles of the abdomen may be helpful. If the symptoms persist, some operation may be required.

Beauty Hints

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Advice to Sadie Swayback, Sally Slump, Daisy Droop—You?

Our models today are Sadie Swayback, Sally Slump and Daisy Droop. Sadie curves in at the small of the back so her hips jut out rearward. Sally slumps carelessly when she sits. And Daisy droops her shoulders in a spineless sort of way. Since one posture fault leads to another, our models are off to a bad start, figuratively speaking.

Posture improvement really starts inside. First you must want to have a better than average posture, and hold that bump of self-esteem on the top of your head very high. That tells everyone you do not regard yourself as a colorless sort, and that you do not cheat or do anything to be ashamed of. Think of posture as expressing your own opinion of yourself. Make your everyday posture special and practice will make it perfect. Only with good posture can you have a really lovely figure.

Love Problems

By JANE ATKINSON

"Off Again, On Again" Poor Kind Of Friendship for Young Folks

Dear Miss Atkinson:

We are two very undecided girls of 18. Both of us have been going steady for about two years, and both of us plan to be married in two or three years more.

Our problem is, how can we keep the situation under control, if you know what we mean. We don't want to do anything wrong, and want your opinion as to how to cope with the situation.

Please don't tell us it's puppy love, as we know we are truly in love, and very mature for our age.

"UNDECIDED GIRLS."

Dear Girls:

If you are as mature as you think you are, then you ought to have sensible ideas yourselves on how to keep your emotions under control until you are married.

However, if you believe there are still some things you can learn, then my advice to you would be that you make up your minds not to let yourselves get into situations where you would run the risk of doing anything you would be sorry for. Keep your interests in your usual activities and friends, and go out as much as you can in groups.

If you really want to keep out of trouble you can, but you'll have to have character and common sense enough to avoid opportunities for temptation that might be too strong for you.

"OFF AGAIN, ON AGAIN"

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am about 15, and have been going with a boy my own age for about six months. I liked him very much, but he gets very jealous when he sees me with another boy and is so angry he won't even speak to me.

I have just met a new boy I like very much, so my other boy friend is now quite jealous, and angry. Should I forgive him, or forget him and go with my new friend?

W.

Dear W.:

What's the sense of keeping up an "off again, on again" friendship that is thoroughly unsatisfactory on both sides? Jealousy is a very poor quality with which to have to deal, and you'll never get anywhere with someone who suffers from it and never makes any attempt to get over it. You'll undoubtedly break up sooner or later with this first boy, so you might as well do it now, telling him plainly that he is responsible for it himself.

Home Builders to Pay More for Common Lumber

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 2 (CP) —Home builders will pay at least $3 more per thousand feet of common lumber in the next few weeks, lumber retailers said here Saturday.

They blame the jump on the fact they are caught in a price squeeze between local sawmills and United States buyers.

Already the wholesale price of lumber jumped in the past week from $47 and $49 per thousand feet to $51. Retailers have absorbed this increase instead of passing it on to the consumer. They say the next one will be passed along to the builder.

Lumber exporters report that since the end of August shipments of lumber from B. C. to the United States have been the highest ever known in the history of this Province.

This buying splurge is caused by the new U. S. Veterans' Housing Act which has lowered down payments on homes.

Not for dumbbells!

EACH time this newspaper comes out it pays a compliment to your intelligence. It is not published for dumbbells.

As are all Canadian newspapers, this one is published for people like you who are smart enough to run households and businesses, to hold jobs and elect governments. People who can separate the wheat from the chaff in the day's news and come up with the right answers.

* * *

We are able to publish because you find in the newspaper the facts and opinions on which to base your thinking and shape your life.

The facts may be good or bad. Taxes may not be reduced. Rains may reduce the corn crop. How you react depends on your point of view. What you think is based on what you know.

Similarly, certain opinions may please. Others may displease. You approve the theories of one candidate for political office and deplore those of his opponent. You read both sides of a question and make your choice.

This newspaper prints all sorts of facts and all shades of opinion. It is our job to do so. Mixed with the news of weddings and wars and all the thousands of things about which you want to know are the views of legislators and educators, of labor leaders and businessmen, of conservatives and radicals.

There are those who oppose this kind of newspaper. To their thinking you should read a different kind—one that prints only the facts they want you to know—only the opinions they want you to believe.

Acting as committees with appealing titles, they are agitating for laws to limit publication of facts and opinions. They claim you cannot be trusted with all the news. What they mean is that, if they can keep you uninformed, they can steal your freedom.

* * *

Of course, they do not attack you directly. Their target is the newspaper. Because it is your main source of information they propose regulations to govern what the newspaper can print. They dress up their plans in noble-sounding sentiments.

But it all comes down to the same thing. They know that if they can control what you read, they can control what you know. When they control your mind, they control you.

The real attack is against you. Newspapers are a sort of front line. Their stake in a free press is no greater than yours because their right to publish is tied in inseparably with your right to read. Just as long as you are free to know—you are free. When your sources of information are gone, your freedom goes with them.

Your right to know is the key to all your liberties

Model Town Planned After Colony Fire

ST. GEORGE, Grenada, B. W. I., (Reuters)—A model town, which will be a showpiece of the latest British tropical building techniques, is planned for Castries, capital of Saint Lucia in the Windward Islands, British West Indies.

The new town has been planned by two architects appointed by the governor of the Windward Islands, Brigadier Arundel, and work began this Summer.

The old town was largely destroyed by fire in 1948 and new structures of steel and concrete will arise out of the ashes of the fire, which did $8,000,000 worth of damage and made 400 families homeless.

The rebuilding plan covers restoration of services, road repairs, water and sewage schemes. A housing scheme will provide modern dwellings for the inhabitants and new government offices will be erected.

It is anticipated that the rebuilding will take two years to complete and cost about £4,000,000 ($16,000,000).

It's a Way They Have in the Army

WASHINGTON (CP) — Mrs. J. Lawton Collins, wife of the new United States Army Chief of Staff, has lived in army camps for as long as she can remember.

She was an army daughter; she was married in an army chapel; all three of her children were born on army posts. And no one loves the army life more than Mrs. Collins does.

Gen. and Mrs. Collins last year toured Europe by automobile. They followed the route over which Gen. Collins — "Lightnin' Joe" — led his Seventh Corps troops from Normandy's Utah Beach into Germany.

Climax of the trip was a visit to the old Kaiser Palace in Coblenz, which was used as a chapel for United States troops during the First World War. It was here that Joe Collins — then a captain — married Gladys Easterbrook, the chaplain's daughter — 28 years ago.

Mrs. Collins had been a secretary with the Inter-Allied Rhineland Commission. She and the young Capt. Collins, serving with the occupation forces, met at a dance.

The man who performed the marriage service was her father, Chaplain Edmund P. Easterbrook, who later became Chief of Army Chaplains.

ANCIENT CHURCH FONT DEPICTS SAXON LIFE

BROOKLAND, Sussex, Eng. Sept. 25 (CP) — Forty scenes of life in Saxon England are depicted on an ancient lead font in the 12th-century church of St. Augustine.

Believed to be a unique piece of craftsmanship, the font was installed here before the Magna Carta was signed.

Among the scenes are a man with a seton horn, a man pruning a tree, a swineherd, a butcher, haymaking and other farming activities.

St. Augustine's has other treasures: horse-box pews, a tithe barn in a corner of the church and a sea chest in which are driven 70 nails with engraved heads, believed to have come from a captured ship of the Spanish Armada.

Leaves for Rome

Most Rev. Martin M. Johnson, D.D., Catholic Bishop of Nelson, left Sunday on the first leg of his "ad limina" visit to Rome. His Excellency will sail for Europe Oct. 11 from New York on the S.S. Caronia, and will visit the shrines of Lourdes and Fatima before proceeding to Rome. He will return to Nelson early in December.

Bishop Johnson will preside at a meeting of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine in Spokane today and leaves tonight for Toronto to visit members of his family before continuing his journey.

During his absence, Rt. Rev. A. K. McIntyre, Vicar General, will be Administrator of the Diocese.

Probe T.B. Gain In Scotland

EDINBURGH, Sept. 30 (CP) — A medical whodunit is taxing the wits of Scottish health officers.

For no apparent reason, the death rate from tuberculosis has risen sharply.

Deaths are running at an annual rate of 66 per 100,000 population. That is 50 per cent more than in England and Wales.

Countless explanations have been put forward; but none has won general acceptance. Meanwhile, a committee of experts has been set up to look into the matter.

Sir Andrew Davidson, Chief Medical Officer of the Scottish Department of Health, said it is probably nothing more than "a temporary phenomenon."

He foresaw no possibility of the death rate rising to anything approaching the levels of the 19th century, when the dreaded "white scourge" took as many as 350 lives a year in every 100,000 population.

Britain on the Nile

Great Britain's dollar difficulties often overshadow development projects which British capital is initiating in non-dollar areas. One of the greatest of these has been launched jointly by the British and Egyptian Governments. It will ultimately bring the waters of the Nile under complete control and will electrify and irrigate large land masses reaching into the heart of Africa.

The first of a series of contracts has been let, and will create the world's largest reservoir at the headwaters of the White Nile, with a dam and power plant at Owen Falls, in the British Protectorate of Uganda. The entire program is expected to take 25 years and will cost an estimated $196,000,000. About 3,000,000 acres will be irrigated, increasing Egypt's cultivable land by one-sixth and quadrupling that of the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan. The project is especially vital to Egypt, whose population, now 20,000,000, has grown by 25 per cent in the last 12 years, and needs new arable land to grow food.

The program emphasized the attention which Britain is devoting to the industrial development of the second largest continent. Power, railroads, ground nut production and other immense projects are under way, from Egypt to the Rhodesias. Spanning a quarter-century in its fulfillment, the Nile scheme is one more example. Moreover, as a joint enterprise with a principal nation of the Arab world, it marks another chapter in the bulwarking of the entire Middle East. Just as British military sinews went there to turn the tide of war at a time when Germany from across the Channel laid siege to London, so in peacetime new economic strength is being built in those countries.

We would do well to remember that for a long time British initiative played a principal role in developing Palestine, which is now largely Israel, and such neighboring Arab States as Iraq, Jordan and Saudi Arabia. To the West, similar efforts went into Greece and Turkey. Only in recent years has the United States become deeply interested in the Middle East.

With more than 40 per cent of the world's known oil reserves, the strategic importance of that area goes without saying. But the West's friendship with the Middle East countries will gain strength through economic advances and a higher standard of living. The big Nile dams, and the benefits they will bring to the gigantic Eastern shoulder of Africa, are part of that comprehensive program. To North America, now conscious of its financial and industrial leadership, but not yet quite sure how to use it most effectively, they offer an object lesson in world investment. They may, indeed, even raise the question of how long that leadership will last unless wisely used.

Supports Protest of Flat Rate Change

To the Editor:

Sir—It is a pleasure to read of one Alderman staying with his guns, reference being in regards to the flat rate for water heaters.

Those of us here at the time will remember the Council of that time offering the flat rate as an inducement to householders to put in electric ranges and tank heaters. Many took advantage of this, and the City got quite a nice revenue from it, and is still doing so. I believe the discarding of the flat rate will cause a good many people to make a change, as I believe the rate would be too high and the accessory changes too much.

I doubt very much if $25 would cover a change on to the meter, and I would suggest this figure would be more like $75 to $100.

I cannot see the reason for the change. The street cars are off, and the new unit should be nearly ready, so that need of juice is all balderdash. Our population has not increased very much, and seems to be about at its limit, and new industries are not forthcoming; and if they did they could be taken care of adequately.

No change should be made until a meeting of the taxpayers is called. After all, I believe the Aldermen and Mayor get some pay for their services, and it is always understood that those who pay the piper call the tune.

Also noted in the News was the fact of a new bylaw for snow clearance to the tune of $40,000. This seems strange, as I approached the Council about a month ago and suggested that they undertake the straightening up of the Cenotaph. One of the Aldermen said he thought it would cost about $900, but that the City could not undertake it at this time, through lack of funds. In the next morning's issue of the News I read where a donation was made after I had left of $500 to the Board of Trade. The whole setup sounds bad. Maybe it is a good thing we have an election coming in December.

Looking Backwards

10 YEARS AGO

From the Daily News of October 3, 1939.

A beauty spot in a beautiful city, the garden at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Allen, 1115 Ward Street, this year was awarded the Lieutenant-Governor Nichol Trophy as the best garden in Nelson for 1939.

Twelve building permits were issued at the city engineer's office during the last week of September, for a week's total of $2665, thus boosting the month's total to $15,855.

Acting on the recommendation of Capt. P. Hartridge and C. F. McHardy, the Nelson Board of Trade Airport Committee Wednesday will motor to Balfour to look over a proposed airport site. The proposed site is on the North side of the road opposite the site of the former C.P.R. Hotel, Kootenay House.

25 YEARS AGO

From the Daily News of October 3, 1924.

Despite the rainy weather, a huge crowd turned out this afternoon to the opening of the Creston Valley sixth fair. Owing to the inclement weather the opening day speeches by Col. Fred Lister, M.P.P. and C. B. Garland were withheld today and will be heard tomorrow afternoon.

Although the season for work is almost over, a certain amount is still being done on the roads throughout the district, William Ramsay, Public Works engineer said yesterday. Gravelling is still going on between Hall and Wyllie on the Ymir road, and reconstruction is going on on the road between Ymir and Salmo.

40 YEARS AGO

From The Daily News of Oct. 3, 1909

W. S. Pearcy returned Friday evening after a six weeks' holiday trip to Ontario, spent at Toronto and Hamilton. Mr. Pearcy says he was in attendance at the Toronto Exhibition for two weeks, and that the British Columbia Government and Nelson Board of Trade exhibits were banner attractions, causing much favorable comment. Mr. Pearcy was accompanied by his son Charley.

It is stated that an electric light plant will be installed at Queen's Bay in the near future and that much of the capital for the undertaking has already been subscribed.

L. E. M., Kaslo—To settle an argument, is blasting gelatin dangerous when frozen for any length of time?

We are indebted to Canadian Industries, Ltd., for the following reply: All explosives manufactured in Canada today are "low-freezing". This makes blasting possible even in the coldest weather. It should be mentioned that while the explosives will not freeze, they may stiffen up and become quite firm after prolonged exposure to low temperatures. It is therefore sometimes advisable to place such explosives in a warm room for several hours before use. In addition, it is generally considered that explosives develop somewhat greater efficiency when warm than they do when cold.

W. A., Thrums—What is the difference, as to freedom from wear, efficiency, and performance, between 100 head feet one horsepower electric shallow well-pump and the piston and impellor type?

A Nelson engineer, one of those in charge of "Operation Pluto", the pipelines across the English Channel, says: "Usually, if the lift, or suction, is not greater than five feet, and is maintained airtight and full of water, and the water supply is adequate and constant, the impellor type pump can be expected to be more efficient, longer wearing, and more trouble-free."

W. J. T., Creston—Referring to the question of a moonlight rainbow, you may be interested to hear of my experience during the construction of the C.N.R. main line at a point about 10 miles East of Vegreville, Alta., in the year of 1905 or 1906.

On a clear, moonlit night, with the moon perhaps at the zenith, following a shower, I saw the heavens exactly bisected by a broad white band of a misty, but brilliant nature, starting at a point a little North of the moonrise point. This band occupied about one-sixth of the sky. Sensing that it was something unusual, even in this country so new to me then, I took especial note of the incident. Through the ensuing years I have had corroborative evidence of other appearances of this phenomenon once or twice from friends.

N. J., Nelson—Please print recipe for plum wine.

To eight pounds of plums allow one gallon boiling water and to one gallon juice allow three pounds sugar. Select ripe fruit and let them be dry and sound; wipe, remove stalks, and weigh, then put into wooden tub or crock and bruise gently. Pour over boiling water and cover closely to keep in steam. Let this stand for four days, stirring at frequent intervals, hten strain off liquor and add sugar in above proportion. When this is completely dissolved, pour all into clean, dry cask. Brandy may be added, if wished, in the proportion of from one to two gills to the gallon. Cover bunghole lightly until all fermentation ceases, then close and leave undisturbed for about 12 months. Bottle and cork, putting lump of sugar in each bottle, store in dry, cool place. This wine will keep well.

MADE TO ENDURE

The Associated Press reports that workers cleaning up bomb damage in Valenciennes, France, found a cache of gold and silver coins of the 17th century.

The French and Spanish Governments that issued that money have long since passed away. But their money is still better than the money of 90 per cent of the Governments of the 20th century. It will still pass over any store counter in the world. Watcher of Studio Gates Hears Many Excuses for Entry to Plant

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 1 (AP)—So far no tourist has used a Trojan horse to get within film studio walls. But they've tried about everything else.

Take it from Bob Callender. He guards the gate that leads through the publicity department and into MGM Studios.

"Everybody wants to get in to the plant," he says. "I get well-dressed men who look as though they have the highest Dun and Bradstreet ratings in the country. And men with tattered coats and holes in their soles."

Getting inside a movie studio is almost as hard as peeking into the Kremlin—if you have no friend in the industry. That's why the theme song of Callender's job is "No, No, a Thousand Times No."

"People think I make up the rules," he remarked. "They think they can wheedle or bribe me and gain entrance."

SCREEN TESTS

The question he hears most often is "May we see the studios?" Next comes "How about a screen tests?"

"I pass the buck on that one," said Callender. "I send them next door to the casting department. They can hear the 'no' there."

Scads of job-seekers drop in. They prefer acting jobs, but nowadays they'll take anything. They seem to think if they can land any studio position stardom will inevitably result.

LEGS HELP

"During the war, we had to replace our messenger boys with girls," Callender recalled. "The reception room overflowed with young applicants. When we asked if they were interested in acting, the answer was always 'yes.'"

The word got around that the studio didn't want its message-toters to be budding actresses, so the girls—wearing inch-thick makeup—began murmuring "dear, no, we want to be stenographers."

Naturally, healthy gams are important to messengers, so Callenderalawys asked applicants: "How are your legs?" one misunderstood. She lifted her skirt and glided around the room like a powers model.

Exports Higher

OTTAWA, Oct. 2 (CP)—Canada's August exports totalled $251,700,000, a 12 per cent jump over the $224,100,000 shipped in August, 1948, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

Substantial increases in exports to the United Kingdom and Latin American countries, together with a small gain in exports to the United States, were responsible for the upswing. It brought the aggregate total for the year so far to $1,917,600,000, compared with $1,875,100,000 in the similar period last year.

The handshake Walt Rayson will never forget

PERHAPS it was chance that led Walt Rayson, while driving through a college town, to stop at a certain restaurant.

As he gave his order, he glanced at the waiter. The face looked familiar. Suddenly Walt remembered—the young man was the son of an old friend.

After finishing his meal, Walt introduced himself. "You wouldn't remember me, Bill," he said, "but I knew your father. It's quite a surprise finding you here."

"That's easily explained, sir," said Bill. "I'm working my way through college. You see, when father died last year he left enough life insurance to support mother and pay part of my expenses, too. That, plus what I earn here, has made it possible for me to stay at university."

"That makes me feel mighty good," said Walt, "because I'm the man who sold your father that life insurance."

"Gee!" said Bill, you'll never know what that money has meant to Mom and me. And I guess you're the one I ought to thank for it. So . . . so thanks!" he said, shaking Walt's hand warmly.

"Oh, it was just part of a day's job," smiled Walt, rising. "Well, good-bye and good luck!"

Later, as he drove into the night, Walt's glow of satisfaction deepened when he recalled how hard it had been to persuade Bill's father to increase and properly plan his life insurance to cover the emergency that, years later, Bill and his mother had to face.

"Well," said Walt to himself, "there must be thousands of cases like this where life insurance representatives have helped to save the day!"

By CLIVE FLEMING

"Ooh, just think, fellas, six more months of this !" groaned Bill Vicks, coming off the ice after a session scrimmage Sunday afternoon, under the direction of Leaf Coach Joe Benoit.

Johnny Fargher, who is trying to work off some excess bulk, chimed in with, "this is a tough league."

After the players had lazily climbed out of their hockey garb, Benoit made the rounds and felt the hanging underwear, muttering, "Dry!"

Joe appeared pleased with the two practices so far, at which 20 have attended. All players were skating a mile a minute clip.

Last season's Leafs attending the practices were Bill Haldane, Bill Hickers, Jack Kilpatrick, Roy Allen, George Barefoot, Spence Tatchell, Neil McClenaghan, Red Koehle, Fred Koehle and Red Wassick. Others attending were Mickey Maggio and Ron Macintyre, former Lethbridge Native Sons, Bob Koehle, Nelson Intermediates, Guil Brett, Nelson Lions Juveniles, Bob Güther, Vancouver R.C.A.F., and Joe Benoit, coach.

Of the newcomers, Mickey Maggio looked the best, and Ron Macintyre next best. Guil Brett looked good although he only played juvenile hockey last season in Nelson, he has a deadly shot, and should be a cinch for a Junior club, but perhaps, too young for the Leafs.

A. Finlay (Moose) McNaughton, who attended the New York Ranger camp at Winnipeg, will arrive in Nelson today with another defenceman, a 210 pounder, who has a reputation for being a bruiser. He played a large part of last season in the same league as McNaughton.

Goaltender Jesse Seaby is expected to turn out to practices, and Al Silverwood may turn out. At the opposite end of the rink to Harry Barefoot, were Fred Madden and Jimmy Hudson, who split the goalending chores in the practice.

Nelson Maple Leaf officials also received a wire from Bobby Bartlett, goaltender of the Calgary Buffaloes last season, saying that he would be here within a few days, if the post has been filled since the Executive first tried for the classy Calgarian.

Coach Benoit called for another workout today at 6:00.

From Lethbridge comes word that several District players will play in a game between two squads chosen from those contending for berths with the Native Sons Junior club. On one squad are Leo Soligo and Leo Malley, forwards, from Trail, Jim MacDonald, another Traillite, in goal, and defenceman Jim Weir of Trail and Bob Pitts of Nelson. Lee and Norm Hyssop, Johnny Bachynski and Ron Macintyre of Nelson and Steve Gryschuk of Trail were slated for forward spots on the other team, with two Trail defencemen, Dean Desireau and Ernie Gare. Macintyre, however, missed the game, which was to be played Saturday night, being in Nelson for the Maple Leafs practices.

It was also learned from Ron Macintyre that Jimmy Todd and Kenny Coskey had made the Lethbridge Native Sons Juveniles.

New Dynamiter Coach, Players Reach Kimberley

KIMBERLEY, B.C., Oct. 2—Kimberley Dynamiter's new hockey coach, Ken McCauley has arrived here, accompanied by Doug Kilburn, 19-year-old right winger.

Also checking in was Archie Kaleta, whose five feet 11 inches and 175 pounds will mean added strength to the Dynamiter forward line.

STAMPEDERS DOWN ESKIMOS

EDMONTON, Oct. 2 (CP) — In a hair-raising exhibition of football Calgary's Dominion champion Stampeders nosed out Edmonton Eskimos 12-8 Saturday night for their seventh straight Western Inter-Provincial Football Union victory.

The third-place Eskimos suddenly caught fire both on the ground and in the air to give the Grey Cup holders the toughest run for their money since the Dominion final last year.

The upset of the season appeared in the making when Esks, after spotting Stamps a converted touchdown in the first quarter on a fumble, swung into an 8-6 lead in the fourth quarter. But it was short-lived when Stamps aerial attack paid off three plays later with a major that was converted.

Dodgers vs Yanks for Series; First Game in N.Y. Wednesday

By STEVE ROBERTSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

It's a subway World Series—Brooklyn Dodgers against New York Yankees—and it opens Wednesday at New York's Yankee Stadium.

Those are the cold facts of it but they can't go halfway towards telling of the drama and the triumphs and the heartbreak that went into the closest two-league finish in baseball history. It took right up to the schedules' final games—and then some—to decide the issue Sunday.

The Yanks won their American League pennant by ousting Boston Red Sox 5-3—and only after quelling a desperate last-inning Boston rally. Brooklyn was carried to 10 innings before beating Philadelphia Phillies 9-7 for the victory that gave them the National League flag.

The Brooklyn triumph broke the hearts of St. Louis Cardinals. The Cards had finished their game against Chicago Cubs earlier. They had beaten the Cubs 13-5 and a Dodger loss would have tied them for first place, meaning a playoff. The Dodgers and the Phils were tied 7-7 after the regulation nine innings. Then came the crushing news of Brooklyn's rally.

Disappointing as it was to Boston and St. Louis, the result marked sensational comebacks for the Yanks and the Dodgers. About a week ago, both seemed out of it.

DIMAG BACK

The Yanks had to beat Boston twice to regain the lead, lost when Boston crushed them in a three-game series a wek previously. Inspired by the return of their great centrefielder, Joe DiMaggio, from his bout with pneumonia, the Yanks set the stage for their triumph by coming from behind for a 5-4 victory Saturday.

The Dodgers, 2½ games behind St. Louis 12 days ago, lost their Saturday game to the third-6 place Phils, 6-4. But St. Louis muffed their chance to draw even when the last-place Chicago Cubs cuffed them 3-1.

This was the second successive year that the Red Sox lost what amounted to a sudden-death game for the World Series ticket. Last year Cleveland Red Sox beat off and went on to win the Series Boston out in a post-season playover Boston Braves.

The Yankees, who considered themselves a "team of destiny" because they shook off 71 injuries during the season and still succeeded, finally tumbled Joe McCarthy's favored Red Sox sluggers to touch off a wild celebration by the 68,055 fans who jammed Yankee Stadium.

Casey Stengel's battered crew, held together by adhesive tape for most of the season, thus gave New York its 16th American League flag.

Vic Raschi, pitching the game of his 30-year-old life, weakened suddenly in the ninth with a 5-0 lead, but the husky right-hander gathered himself after three runs were in to put out the blaze all by himself.

One run, acquired on Phil Rizzuto's first-inning triple and Tommy Henrich's infield out in first inning, had looked plenty big enough for a piece of the World Series all afternoon.

Suddenly it didn't mean a thing. After McCarthy lifted Ellis Kinder, his 23-game winner, for a pinch hitter in the eighth, the Yanks battered Mel Parnell and Tex Hughson for four big runs on Henrich's 24th homer and a three-run double by Jerry Coleman. As it turned out, they needed most of them.

Coasting into the ninth behind a 5-0 bulge, Raschi appeared safe. But the Sox weren't finished.

WILLIAMS WALKS

A walk to Ted Williams, who was a "bust" in this all-imoprtant finale, a wild pitch and Vern Stephens' single set the stage for Bobby Doerr's triple that broke Raschi's string of goose eggs.

Doerr's blow sailed over Joe DiMaggio's head in deep centrefield and the Yankee Clipper came out of the game, apparently weak from his recent illness.

Al Zarilla, injured trying for a tumbling catch on Coleman's double in the eighth, flied out for the second out. Billy Goodman's single easily scored Doerr with the third run but Birdie Tebbetts fouled out to end the game.

Not only did the Red Sox lose out but Williams was beaten for the batting crown when he went hitless in two official times at bat against the Yanks. His final average was .34275. Third-Baseman George Kell of Detroit Tigers meantime hit two-for-three against Cleveland to win the crown with .3429.

At Philadelphia, Burt Shotton's battling Dodgers clawed their way into the World Series just before darkness with their rousing 10th-inning rally.

When Richie Ashburn, the last Phil batter, drove a liner into the clutching glove of Luis Olmo in left field to end the tense contest, the entire Dodger bench spilled onto the field with a whoop and carried their great young relief pitcher, Jack Banta, to the dressing room in triumph.

For four innings Banta handcuffed the dangerous Phil sluggers while the Brooks slammed over the money runs off their old nemesis, Ken Heintzelman, in the pulsing extra chapter.

The game had started out as a pitching duel between Don Newcombe, the Dodgers' big negro right-hander with the slingshot arm, and Russ Meyer, the Phils' 17-game winenr. But neither of them lasted long.

The Dodgers 10th inning rally started when Pee Wee Reese looped a single into left. Eddie Miksis moved him to second with a sacrifice and Big Duke Snider slammed a hot one right through Heintzelman's legs to score the Dodger shortstop with what proved the winning run. Luis Olmo laced one past Willie Jones into left field to drive Snider across with an extra one.

BRAVES FOURTH

In Sunday's other National League games, Boston Braves finished fourth with a 2-1 victory over New York that dropped the Giants into fifth. Pittsburgh held sixth place by splitting with the seventh-place Cincinnati Reds, winning 4-2 and losing 6-5.

Cleveland Indians held third place in the American League with an 8-4 victory over the fourth-place Detroit Tigers. Philadelphia Athletics finished fifth, despite a 3-0 loss to the last place Washington Nationals. The seventh-place St. Louis Browns beat the sixth-place Chicago White Sox 5-2.

COAST, ONTARIO RIDERS TOPS IN GAME TRIALS

VANCOUVER, Oct. 2 (CP)—The three-day trials to help decide Canada's bicycle team for the British Empire Games ended today with an Easterner and Westerner sharing top honors.

Johnny Millman of Vancouver and Bill Hamilton of Oshawa, Ont., collected two and three firsts respectively.

The team will be named from the East later this week on the basis of results here.

Millman and Hamilton took every event between them in the last two days of the trials.

Millman, a medical student, collected firsts in the 10-mile race and the 1000-metre match sprint. Hamilton, 19, collected firsts in the 1000-metre time trials, winning in 1:17 6-10, the 4000-metre pursuit race and the 62½-mile grind.

He had two seconds as well. He was presented today with a cup for outstanding sportsmanship during the trials and the Canadian bicycle championships preceding it.

The only other Easterner to place was Real Lamothe of Three Rivers, Que., who came second in the 62½-mile event.

Miss Canada IV Breaks Propeller In Speed Attempt

PICTON, Ont., Oct. 1 (CP)—A broken propeller balked an attempt today by Harold Wilson's Miss Canada IV to break the 10-year water speed record of 141.7 miles an hour.

Timers clocked him at 120 miles an hour on the first run and he had negotiated about 100 yards of the return hop, with a speed estimated by the Ingersoll, Ont., driver at "more than 140 miles an hour", when Miss Canada slowed to a crawl and stopped dead. The four-ton, $100,000 boat was towed into dock and inspection showed the propeller was sliced almost completely off.

RIDERS FLATTEN BOMBERS 24-7

REGINA, Oct. 2 (CP) — Saskatchewan Roughriders, meshing power along the ground with an accurate aerial attack, rolled to a 24-7 victory over the luckless Winnipeg Blue Bombers in a Western International Provincial Football Union game Saturday before 4000 fans.

The Bombers put on their best display early, scoring their only touchdown in the first quarter. Halfback Bud Korchak brought the crowd to its feet when he received Johnny Gardiner's forward pass around the Winnipeg 40-yard line and streaked 78 yards for the major, which tackle Walt Edward converted.

Canada has a system of canal, river and lake navigation over 2700 miles in length.

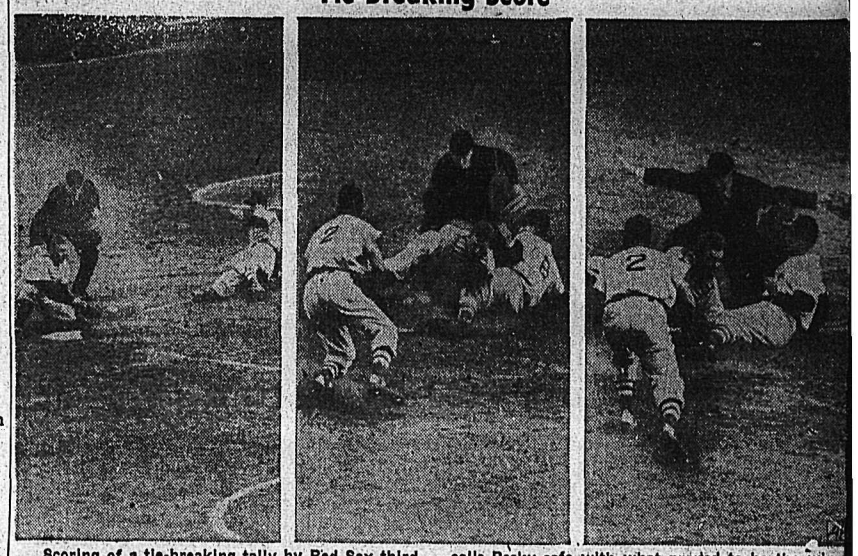
Secretary Makes a Point

Secretary of Defence Louis A. Johnson (left) makes a point in a discussion aboard the aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt, at sea off Cape Henry, Va. With him are Gordon Gray (centre), Secretary of the Army, and Stuart W. Symington, Secretary of the Air Force. All three were aboard the carrier, with other high military officials, for a first-hand look at operation of modern sea-power. —AP Wirephoto.

Tie-Breaking Score

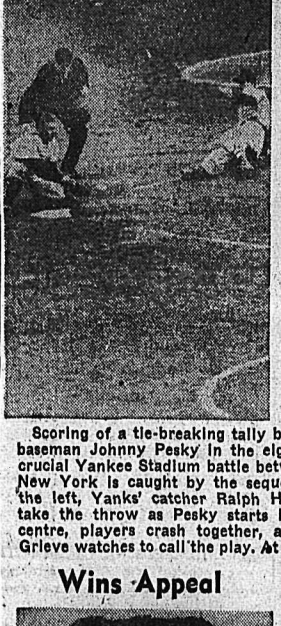


Scoring of a tie-breaking tally by Red Sox third baseman Johnny Pesky in the eighth inning of a crucial Yankee Stadium battle between Boston and New York is caught by the sequence camera. At the left, Yanks' catcher Ralph Houk is about to take the throw as Pesky starts his slide. In the centre, players crash together, and Umpire Bill Grieve watches to call the play. At the right, Grieve calls Pesky safe with what proved to be the winning run. Bobby Doerr started the action with a squeeze bunt to Yanks' first baseman Tommy Henrich, who whipped the ball to Houk. Crowd and players roared in a strenuous beef at the umpire's decision. Sox won, 7-6, to take the League lead. —AP Wirephoto.

Wins Appeal

Nine days before he was scheduled to die in Sudbury, Ont., for the strangling of Mrs. Jessie Cleland in Espanola, Ont., Albert Quesnel was acquitted by an Appeal Court and ordered freed from Burwash Industrial Farm. Chief Justice Robertson, at Osgoode Hall, ruled that his first trial had been unfair with facts admitted as evidence which should not have been allowed.—Central Press Canadian.

Involved



Marie Ange Robitaille, 19, pictured above, is said by police to be one of the women in the life of J. Albert Guay, 32-year-old jeweler, charged with the murder of his wife, Rita. Miss Robitaille told Quebec police she had run away with Guay when she was 16 years old, and lived with him for nearly a year. —AP Wirephoto.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Lead, Tin Prices Slip

NEW YORK, Oct. 2 (AP)—Lead and tin prices dropped last week, but copper and zinc prices were firm. Demand for copper was active and slightly improved for zinc, but lead sales were slow.

Domestic lead was on a split-price basis for a few days when a custom smelter shaved ⅝ cent off the 15½ quotation in effect since Aug. 8. By the end of the week, producers joined smelters in quoting 14¾ cents a pound, New York. The St. Louis price was 14.55 cents. Sales for the week were about 1300 tons. Export trade also was slow and price nominal at 14⅛ cents, Gulf of Mexico ports.

Tin dropped eight cents a pound to 95 cents from $1.03, New York basis, when the British posted their new price for Malayan tin after devaluing the pound sterling. The United States Reconstruction Finance Corporation cut the price to 96 cents, offering stand-by tin until users can get shipments from Malaya at the 95 cent quotation.

Following devaluation, Britain revised prices on metals to the British consumer, bringing them into relation with New York prices. The price adjustments meant that the Britons found metals prices raised to them by the following amounts: copper 30.63 per cent, lead 39.7 per cent, zinc 37.7 per cent, tin 31.8 per cent, and silver 28.8 per cent.

Major non-ferrous metals prices:

Copper—17.625 cents a pound, Connecticut Valley; foreign, 17.625 cents, New York.

Lead—14.75 cents a pound, New York; 14.55 cents, St. Louis; foreign, 14.125 cents, Gulf of Mexico ports.

Zinc—10 cents a pound, East St. Louis; 10.721 cents, New York; foreign, nominal, 9.5 cents, Gulf of Mexico ports.

Aluminum—17 cents a pound, ingots, shipping point; pigs, 16 cents, shipping point.

Antimony—41.78 cents a pound, cased, New York; 38.5 cents, bulk, Laredo, Tex.

Nickel—40 cents a pound, electrolytic cathodes, Port Colborne, Ont.; 42.93 cents, New York.

Platinum—$69 an ounce, wholesale; $72 retail, New York.

Silver—73.25 cents an ounce, New York; 62.25 pence, London.

Tin—95-96 cents a pound, New York.

Burrards Whip Hamilton Tigers 12-6 to Capture Mann Boxla Cup

By JOHN ORMONDE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Oct. 2 (CP) — The Mann Cup returned Saturday night to Western Canada as Vancouver Burrards defeated Hamilton Tigers 12-6 to win the best-of-five Canadian senior lacrosse championship three games to one.

The Tigers failure to retain the title which they won last year upheld a nine-year-old jinx on Eastern boxla squads. The last Eastern team to win the trophy in the West was St. Catharines in 1941.

Youth and speed paid off for Burrards as they jumped into a second-quarter lead.

First-quarter play favored the lighter Vancouver squad but a penalty to Jack Byford enabled Tigers to take a two-goal lead with scores by Russ Black and Eddie Powers.

Burrards opened their scoring on Earl McDonald's counter early in the second stanza. And while Merv McKenzie scored a goal soon after, Burrards quickly recovered with three goals in six minutes through Smith, Byford and Leatherbarrow. The winners edge relinquished only briefly to a tie in the third quarter.

Burrard pivot Roy Cavallin spearheaded continuous pressure on the Hamilton net and Goalie Doug Favelle was called on to make a succession of sensational saves.

Vancouver held a 7-5 edge at the end of the third quarter despite desperate attempts by Blain McDonald and Tommy Love to reduce the Vancouver lead.

Burrards proved better in the clutch and speeded up their play in the final session.

The rapidly-tiring Yellowjackets saw their chances of saving the game disappear as quick goals by Byford and Cavallin gave the Westerners a 9-5 lead.

Two further goals by Bill Harris and Smith within the final five minutes provided Burrards with a healthy 12-5 edge before Love's lone goal for Hamilton closed the scoring.

Burrard forward Don Matheson—who notched a singleton in the third—was awarded the Mike Kelly medal. He was voted the most valuable player in the 1949 Mann Cup series.

Hamilton goal tender Doug Favelle won the award in last year's series with New Westminster Adanacs.

Sees Foldup of Boxla if Ranks Not Strengthened

VANCOUVER, Oct. 2 (CP)—A prediction that lacrosse will "fold up" in this country unless the Canadian Lacrosse Association strengthens its ranks was made here as the C. L. A. concluded its annual meeting.

Delegates E. H. Lancaster of St. Catharines, Ont., criticized C. L. A. methods of operation as being "antiquated" and their control "haphazard." He said the man in the street believes the C. L. A. "is dead."

The Convention unanimously approved his resolution which urged that a five-man committee fully investigate the C. L. A. structure and lacrosse across canada. The Committee will report at next year's convention.

Winnipeg importer T. O'Brien was named President, succeeding Lyle Barr of Vancouver, who had held the position for the past two years. E. H. Lancaster, W. G. Easterbrook, Vancouver, and J. C. McLeod, Owen Sound, Ont., were named Vice-Presidents.

Indians Take 2nd From Royals

MONTREAL, Oct. 2 (CP) — Indianapolis Indians made it two straight in as many starts against Montreal in the Little World Series, winning 5-1 today, the identical score by which they took the first game last night.

The Indians hopped on Clyde King early before a crowd of 16,096 and finally drove him from the mound in the third after scoring four of their runs in the first three innings.

Ronnie Lee, a left-hander, relieved King and allowed a single run in the fifth when he walked three men in a row and Earl Turner's long fly to left brought in the tally.

Royce Lint held the Royals well in check despite walking seven men. He was taken out in the eighth after walking the first man to face him and Forrest Main held the Montrealers safe the rest of the way.

Each team gathered only six hits but the Indians made far better use of theirs. They drove into a two-run lead in the first inning on Les Fleming's homer and never seemed threatened.

The teams meet in the third game tomorrow night and then the scene shifts to Indianapolis for the remainder of the Series.

SIXTH WIN FOR OTTAWA RIDERS

By The Canadian Press

With Ottawa Rough Riders matching the Calgary Stampeders winning march, the Dominion football final may be the same old story this Fall.

So far, no one in the East has proved capable of beating the Rider team that Stamps dumped in last year's Grey Cup classic. Sparked by Howie (Touchdown) Turner, they turned in their sixth successive Big Four League victory with a convincing 34-11 win over Toronto Argonauts.

In the only other scheduled Senior game in the East, Hamilton Tigers defeated Windsor Rockets 20-6 to tie the Rockets for rsecond place in the Ontario Union.

SERIES ODDS

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 2 (AP) — New York Yankees, newly-crowned champions of the American League, today are 5 to 9 favorites to win the World Series from their National League opponents, the Brooklyn Dodgers.

This means a bettor puts $9 on the Yankees to win $5 and puts down $5 on the Dodgers to win $8.

Out of Reach

Yankee right fielder Tommy Henrich sprawls on the grass, unable to reach the flyball Red Sox third baseman Johnny Pesky dropped into right field for a single in the first inning. The action was in the Boston-Yankees tie-breaking game at Yankee Stadium, New York. At right is Yankee second baseman Gerry Coleman.

Gov't Wins Round to Justify British Devaluation of Pound

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press News Analyst

Britain's Socialist Government has won a technical victory of doubtful value in its battle in the House of Commons to justify the recent devaluation of the pound sterling as a solution of the country's fierce economic crisis.

Actually the three-day, full-dress debate degenerated into political tub-thumping by both Socialists and Conservatives in preparation for the next general election. It was neither illuminating nor edifying.

When the duel of words was over, Prime Minister Attlee, with his big Socialist majority behind him, first defeated a Conservative motion of no confidence in the Government. He then proceeded to drive through vote of confidence, in which the Conservatives, headed by former Prime Minister Winston Churchill, sat silent. Thus the vote was on party lines.

So about all that this eagerly-awaited debate achieved was to demonstrate again Attlee's ability to hold his following in Parliament fairly well in line, although there was some disaffection. What the general British public eagerly wanted was an indication of Government plans for handling the crisis, and of how the Conservatives themselves would deal with the situation if they were in power. But all the British public got was a display of electioneering pyrotechnics.

Whither now? The fate of Socialist rule in Britain is at stake. The Socialist leaders are divided over the question of whether the Government should force a general election in the near future or should wait until, say, Spring. Under normal circumstances an election would be due in the middle of next year.

The Socialist decision will, of course, in effect be a gamble. That is, if they hold a quick election it will be on the basis that economic conditions may be better now than they will be later on. If they wait until next year it will be because they figure that devaluation will help matters, and because it will give time to complete nationalization of the steel industry and reform of the House of Lords — two planks of their platform.

Wolverhampton Proves Worthiness Of Holding First Division Lead

LONDON, Oct. 2, (Reuters)—Wolverhampton Wanderers proved themselves Saturday to be worthy leaders of the English Football Association's first division. They held last year's champions, Portsmouth, to a 1-1 tie at Fratton Park.

It was the 10th undefeated match of the season for last season's cup holders, and left Portsmouth well down in the current standings.

In all divisions the leadership remained unchanged although, in the third division's Northern section, Mansfield Town suffered its first defeat of the year and now shares the first slot with Doncaster Rovers.

The day's international match, between Scotland and Ireland at Belfast, confirmed Scotland's favored position to represent the United Kingdom in the World Cup Series at Rio De Janeiro next July. The Highlanders won 8-2 against an "experimental" Irish team in which—for the first time in history—there wasn't an Irish player. Scotland are last year's International Champions.

Sport Snapshots—

By TREVOR ICETON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, Oct. 2 (CP)—So you think you'd like to be a boxing promoter . . wear a derby, stick a cigar in the corner of your miuth, do all the talking and then walk home with a fat cut of your fighter's purse.

There's a little more work—and a lot more worry—to being a fight promoter than that, writes Art (Cornwall Standard-Freeholder) Cameron, after a talk with Harry (Scotty) Raynor, a local promoter.

Prime requisite to a successful boxing show, naturally, is a good crowd, and if you want people to attend the bouts you've got to have a headliner, says Scotty.

"That's something you can't develop overnight. It takes time to build up a boy and get the public interested in him."

Once a promoter gets a fighter who is good headliner material, his real worries begin. "It takes a few months to get him into condition and train him. If he proves to be a consistent winner and if he's the type of boy the crowd likes, it's hard to keep him at home," explains Scotty. "Promoters from out of town beckon with bigger cuts of bigger gates.

"There goes the fighter and you have to start all over again."

FRIEND FOX

Pete (Toronto Telegram) McGillen says in this Outdoor Column that he takes a dim view of township and county councils paying a bounty on totes. And here's why:

"Reynard kills an average of 2000 field mice a year and 100 field mice will either eat or destroy a half ton of hay every year. At current prices then, the fox is worth $350 to the farmer, provided, of course the farmer, can keep the fox away from his poultry flocks."

If foxes are too numerous and do more damage than good, McGillen thinks that farmers and city sportsmen who enjoy a fox hunt would take a heavy toll of the fox population anyway without a bounty.

To Proceed on Amendment to Canada Constitution

OTTAWA, Oct. 2 (CP)—The Government gave formal notice Saturday that it is ready to proceed with the first phase of its double-barreled program to provide for amendments to Canada's Constitution within Canada's own borders. That power now rests with the United Kingdom Parliament under the British North America Act.

Prime Minister St. Laurent placed on the Commons order paper a resolution for approval of the House. It would, by using the King as an intermediary between the two Parliaments, request the Untied Kingdom House to amend those parts of it which do not relate to Provincial jurisdiction, to education or to use of either the French or English languages.

Mr. St. Laurent has proposed that there be Dominion-Provincial consultation within the next few months in an effort to extend the Canadian power of amendment to Provincial jurisdiction, too. Not all the Provinces have replied.

Pink Salmon Pack Hits New High

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 2 (CP)—Pink salmon packs are at a new four-year high this season.

A Federal Fisheries report to Sept. 24, which includes the bulk of all salmon packs for the current season, shows that the pink pack more than doubles that of last year and is five times as large as the catch in 1946.

The chum salmon pack, however, is only about half that of last year, due to the fishing strike.

Total pack of all species to Sept. 24 is 185,668 cases, compared with 160,082 cases for last year.

STOCKPORT England (CP)—The Buck brothers, Will, Bob, and Stan, believe that at 66 they're Britain's oldest triplets. They own a sports store in partnership.

Yankees Protest

Coach Happy Day of Toronto Maple Leafs is taking no chances on too many injuries to his team in pre-season practice workouts. With the start of the National Hockey League season still two weeks away, Day put his players through their places at a fast clip yesterday at St. Catharines and then cut short the practice.

Conn Smythe, Leafs' Manager, remarked as the players headed for the dressing rooms:

"That's the team we'll have to go through a 70-game schedule with, and I don't want to see half of them in hospital before the all-star game."

But before the scrimmage was packed up, the Leafs showed smooth passing and hard checking. Howie Meeker and Bill Ezinicki exchanged wing posts, a swap that put them back in their old spots. Fleming Mackell worked out at right wing, with Bob Dawes at centre and Vic Lynn on left wing. Ezinicki, patrolling the right side of the rink for Cal Gardner and Harry Watson, stuck to his opposing wingmate, handled much of the heavy work, and found time to slap in a goal.

Dawes, 25-year-old centre, signed his contract Wednesday night. He was the last of the Leafs to sign, having waited until a minor disagreement over a contract clause was ironed out.

Dick Irvin, Montreal Canadiens' coach, thinks his charges are not yet in condition for the opening of the season. He told the team yesterday that its total weight now is 15 pounds more than it was at the start of training — due partly to some members going too heavily on the steaks. After Irvin's Dutch uncle talk, the Canadiens staged a practice game with enough heavy checking and heavy bumping to start slimming down the overweights.

Chicago Black Hawks, who have bee ndoing their pre-season training at North Bay, Ont., go into action at Galt, Ont., tonight. They will take on Kansas City Mohawks, their newly-renamed American Hockey League farm team, in an exhibition game.

Scouts Receive Badges; 3 New Patrol Leaders

Presentation of badges and cords to the Boy Scouts of the First Nelson troop took place at the Scout meeting last week.

Bill Harkness, Leroy McDonough and Dennis Edgar were appointed patrol leaders and were presented their hat badges and stripes. The Scouts are now working on their first class first aid under the direction of C. O. Anderson and on their carpenters' badge under the supervision of Gordon Webb.

Bill Harkness and Leroy McDonough also passed their estimation tests under the direction of B. C. Affleck.

Gordon McGillivray is Scoutmaster, and Roy Lewis, Assistant Scoutmaster.

Plan Action to Save Merchant Marine

MONTREAL, Oct. 2 (CP) — The Star said in a newspage story Saturday that Canadian ship-owners are expected to band themselves into an association "to force some kind of Government action in an effort to save the Merchant Marine from drifting into oblivion."

The newspaper said that out of a fleet of almost 200 freighters, Canada has only 97 vessels of 10,000 tons still at sea. It quoted ship-owners as saying that this total is not enough to see Canada through another world crisis.

Election Next Step in West Arm Organization

LONGBEACH, B.C., Oct. 2—The formation of what is to be known as The West Arm Rate-Payers Association was carried a step further when many residents of Longbeach attended a meeting here Friday evening.

J. P. Keiran of Longbeach was elected Chairman for the meeting and G: Sargent acted as secretary.

A By-Laws committee, appointed at an earlier meeting at Willow Point, presented, through Mr Keiran, the proposed Association constitution and by-laws, and after some discussion minor alterations were made. It was decided after further discussion on organizational plans and problems that arrangements were sufficiently far advanced for the calling of the first general meeting at which the presentation of the constitution and by-laws, and the election of officers would take place. A permanent Secretary - Treasurer, and committees to handle various West Arm interests and affairs will also be appointed.

Considerable interest in the organization has been shown by West Arm communities, and a large membership is expected. It is felt that when the Association is properly constituted it will have a strong voice in District affairs, to the decided advantage of all residents and settlements along the entire West Arm.

It was decided to hold the general meeting at Willow Point in two weeks time, and membership cards are to be printed in readiness.

Hopes Medical Faculty Will Have Adequate Budget

VICTORIA, Oct. 2 (CP)—Dean Myron M Weaver of the University of British Columbia's newly-formed Medical Faculty expressed hope Friday night that the school will have an adequate budget.

He told 400 British Columbia doctors and their wives at the windup banquet of the B. C. Medical Association's four-day annual meeting that "many medical schools on this Continent have been asked to eke along on budgets inadequate even before the war."

U.B.C.'s Medical School will not follow the pattern of some other schools in closing its doors to outsiders, he said.

"One-third of United States medical schools say they will not accept outside applicants."

There are some 650 pre-medical students on the U.B.C. campus, some of whom have been waiting two or three years to get into the new school.

Medical schools today cannot hope to cram all medical theory into students' heads, he added. The aim now is "to ensure stability and integrity of character, and a good basic understanding of disease—and the interaction of man and his environment."

Czech Lovers Hold Rendezvous At Niagara Falls

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Oct. (CP)—Two young Czechoslovakia lovers, snarled in immigration red tape, Saturday held another romantic rendezvous at Niagara Falls, traditional honeymoon spot.

This was the second tyrst aboard the Maid of the Mist, a sight-seeing vessel, at the foot of the Horseshoe Falls for the young couple—compelled by immigration laws to meet on the Boundary between Canada and the United States.

Dennis Chrastansky, 24, and his sweetheart, Kitty Kleiner, rode back and forth across the swirling Niagara River for an hour yesterday aboard the Maid of the Mist.

As a displaced person, Chrastansky, in Ontario for the last five months, cannot enter the United States. Miss Kleiner went to the United States as a student in 194[illegible] but lost that status when she applied for permanent residence papers. She was warned that she left the United States pending readjustment of her status she might not be re-admitted.

The Maid of the Mist picks up passengers at both Canadian and American sides of the river for the cruise up to the Falls.

The couple last June met at the middle of the Rainbow Bridge over the Niagara River. Then Miss Kleiner returned to North Carolina and Chrastansky to the Toronto area where he was found a farm job.
