Charged Man Claims Arson Intended to Spur Gov't Action

Threats Forced Confessions Two Claim; Both Committed for Trials; Ask Public to Rout Out "Instigators"

CASTLEGAR—A statement made by an arson suspect to police has blamed the lack of government action on the proposed relocation of Sons of Freedom for an incendiary attack upon the Upper Brilliant Community Hall.

The $3000 hall, owned by the Land Settlement Board, was destroyed January 28, Paul Karl Popoff contended in the statement, because of impatience for the long delayed relocation.

The alleged confession to the burnings, later denied by a second statement, said that Popoff and Nick Konkin who is jointly charged with arson, "decided we should set fire to it so that we should get relocated sooner." The confession, signed by Popoff, contained a description of how he and Konkin allegedly spread gasoline, ignited a fuse and ran to Popoff's home only yards from the hall.

The two were committed for trial on two charges of arson each following a preliminary hearing in Provincial Court here before Stipendiary Magistrate William H. Taylor. Popoff earlier in the week was also committed for trial on arson charge in connection with the Bloodoff house fire on August 30.

Popoff's second statement, which contained a denial of any part by the two in the incendiarisms, claimed that they had made the original "confessions" because they felt that it would induce those really responsible to come forward and confess.

THREATS CLAIMED

Threats against the lives of Konkin's family forced him to make a false confession, Konkin claimed in a third statement which he had prepared in his cell Thursday night. Both denied in their later statements that they had any connection with any of the fires, but were forced to come forward by repeated threats. These threats came from a Castlegar Doukhobor, the statement alleged.

Two statements by Popoff and three by Konkin were accepted by the court as exhibits. Crown Prosecutor was A. G. Cameron of Trail. Neither of the charged men was represented by counsel, but at one stage of the hearing Popoff announced that he wanted advice of counsel. After discussion in an anteroom with other members of the court, he decided to continue alone through the hearing but to obtain counsel before his trials in the second week in October.

Popoff, while in the stand claimed also that he had been threatened also by Fire Chief R.A.D. West of Castlegar, "the threat that Mr. West gave was to burn us with our houses so two days before our arrest we decided to come forward and confess. We decided to take the fires upon ourselves so we are not burnd in our houses."

PLEA TO PUBLIC

In their statements both Popoff and Konkin charged that four Doukhobors, under orders from Secretary John Verigin of the Christian Communities of Christ (orthodox), were instigators of incendiarism. The statements named John Zbitnoff, Pete Markin, Bill Kolosoff and Mike Chernoff. At the close of each hearing the two faced the magistrate to plead that "the public" rout out the "instigators" and "force them to come forward and confess." These statements were transcribed by court stenographer Ernest Cook and signed by the two.

Staff Sgt. W. J. McKay of Trail, while on the stand, revealed that he had overheard, during an adjournment, that the Sons of Freedom had "disowned" the two accused men and "will have no further part of them."

The Goloff planing mill at Brilliant, destroyed by incendiarism on July 15, was valued at about $45,000, George Goloff said.

Ira C. Marquis, C.P.R. conductor, said he saw the community hall fire from a train in a siding. He rushed to the scene and found a wad of burlap on the back verandah which "at that time was saturated with what appeared to be coal oil. Fragments of broken glass and a bottle cap which lay near the burlap definitely smelled of coal oil." The Nelson railroader gathered the burlap and glass and turned them over to R.C.M.P. in Tadanac.

Earlier in the hearing, Constable G. R. Cline of Castlegar testified that the two accused had told him: "Those responsible for other fires would come forward with their confessions when they learned of theirs."

The two men will appear in court today to elect speedy trial in County Court or for jury trial at the Fall assizes.

A ski-equipped U.S. plane Friday completed the rescue of 12 airmen stranded on an 8500-foot Greenland icecap. Three injured were taken off Wednesday by an Albatross amphibian plane fitted with jet-assisted takeoff equipment, and the other nine left Friday.

They had been stranded for more than a week. The U.S. has an air base on that little-known area near the top of the world. The rescue attempt was made on terrain such as is seen here in a view taken on a plane on the Thule, Greenland, run.

Creston Suffers Losses From Power Blackout

WINDS SEND FLAMES RACING

Fire Covers 2000 Acres of Island Forests

VICTORIA, B.C., Sept. 26 (CP) —"Heartbreaking' 'winds robbed firefighters of victory on Vancouver Island and sent them running for their lives.

Strong winds blew up, fanning the 750-acre blaze at Lens Creek, near Cowichan, 30 miles North of here, into a rampaging monster which spread "all over the countryside," and now covers 2000 acres."

British Columbia Forest Service said there was "a good possibility of coralling" the fire when winds blew it into terrifying activity, forcing firefighters to leave equipment behind and make a headlong dash for safety.

NO CASUALTIES

All the men have been accounted for, the service said.

The fire, one of 27 in the Vancouver forest district, covering the coast West of the Cascades and Vancouver Island, has consumed $250,000 worth of timber and equipment so far — not counting the loss of equipment last night.

The 2000-acre fire at Chemainus, 50 miles North of here, is being contained, the service reported, as are the other fires, fought by 850 men.

Forest service officials say the woods, dried out by continued sunny weather, "desperately" need rain.

Weather forecasts indicate that the slight rain that fell last night will not be repeated during the weekend in the dangerous area South of Nanaimo, B.C.

Humidity recovery is higher at night," the forest service reports, "but that doesn't put out fires."

"Expert" Dynamiting Rips Two Poles Off at Base, Fixed in 17 Hours

CRESTON—For 17 hours, this district was without power as a result of blasting of two poles a mile North of Sirdar.

A blackout period from just before 10 p.m. Thursday to just before 3 p.m. Friday brought business to an almost complete standstill.

R.C.M.P. are investigating dynamiting of the two poles on a rocky bluff. The poles were sheared off at the base and observers said it was obvious someone expert in the use of dynamite had laid the charges. Line crews who worked from late Thursday night until the trouble was cleared a few minutes before 3 o'clock Friday had to drill out the butts in the rocky area.

"They picked a position extremely difficult for the men to work in," West Kootenay Power and Light Company officials said. The bluff is 13 miles West of Creston.

All power in Creston area and to Kootenay lake points, where coming of power was just celebrated, went out when the poles were blown up. The wires fell and were short circuited.

While loss in perishabel goods was not believed large, business, which has been at its peak here, was brought to a complete standstill, and citizens were quick to express their indignation.

Packing sheds throughout the Creston-Erickson-Wynndel area were affected; cold storage lockers were sealed and closed to the public, and cannery and sawmills were closed down. No fruit loss is expected, however. Drug stores lost some drugs which were kept in refrigeration. Ice cream and confectionery stores suffered considerable loss of business.

Creston district's payroll was at its peak, and the indirect loss could not be estimated.

Coast Steps Up Effort To Keep B.E.G. Rowing

NORTH VANCOUVER, Sept. 26 (CP)—The Vancouver Park Planning Committee will renew a demand for the British Empire Games rowing event to be held in the Vancouver area.

Drawn up by Rowe Holland, chairman, a resolution, which was passed at last night's bi-monthly committee meeting, urged that if it is not practical to prepare Burnaby Lake for the rowing "another lake continuous to Vancouver" should be selected.

Mr. Holland said that the games were awarded to Vancouver, not to Britsh Columbia as a whole, and rowing events should not be transferred to Nelson, Penticton or Keldwna as suggested.

Deep Cove, Indian Arm or some other locality in the Vancouver area should, be chosen, he said.

DISTRICT MINES TO UP OUTPUT

Estella, Base Metals Hope to Beat Lead, Zinc Slump

VANCOUVER, Sept. 26 (CP) — Two British Columbia mines hope to solve the current slump in lead and zinc prices by increasing production.

The mines, Estella Mines Ltd. and Kootenay Base Metals Ltd., both a few miles apart in the Rocky Mountians near Kimberley, announced today the increased production will reduce the cost of processing each ton of ore.

Estella plans to issue more shares to raise the money necessary to increase the mills capacity to 250 tons a day.

A Kootenay Base Metals statement said negotiations are in progress to get $10,000 a month from a financing group to pay for work to increase ore reserves. Increased ore reserves would mean increased milling rate and a consequent reduction in the cost per ton.

The deal involves sale of some treasury stock plus the return of shares from some of the larger shareholders.

Pelping Announcers Give Names Of Canadians at Peace Meeting

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 26 (CP) —Peiping Radio have announced the names of 12 persons identified as Canadians, who have arrived at a Communist-sponsored peace conference in Communist China.

The announcement, monitored here, listed the Canadians along with United States citizens which the Communist propaganda organ said were attending the Asian and Pacific Peace Conference.

The Canadians listed, along with their occupations as described in the broadcast, were:

Eva Sanderson, vice-president of the Canadian Peace Congress, teacher, Toronto; Lucille Barash, secretary of the Manitoba Peace Council, a trade union organizer, Winnipeg; Ethel Nielson, vice-president of the Canadian Congress of Women, a music teacher, Toronto; Katherine Gardner, children's librarian, Vancouver; Grace Knight, United Church of Canada worker, Edmonton; Elgin Neish, fisherman, Victoria; Gerard Filion, editor of the Montreal newspaper Le Devoir; Dwight Johnson, a medical doctor, Brandon, Man.; Ray Gardner, journalist, Vancouver; John Boyd, secretary of the Canadian Slav Committee, Toronto; and Finlay MacKenzie, a teacher, Toronto.

In Washington, the United States State Department said the Americans involved face the loss of their passports and possible prosecution.

Some of those named, the department said, obtained passports for the declared purposes of going to Europe or Africa. It said none had announced in advance any intention of going to Communist China.

Rockingham to England; New Chief for Korea

OTTAWA, Sept. 26 (CP) — The army today announced shifts for the original commanders of its two overseas brigades—Brigadiers John Rockingham and Geoffrey Walsh.

Brig. Walsh is coming home from Europe to take over from Brig. Rockingham as director-general of military training at army headquarters.

He will be succeeded as commander of the 27th Brigade in Germany by Brig. John Pangman, D.S.O., 44, of Toronto, another veteran combat leader.

Brig. Rockingham is going to London to attend Britain's top flight imperial defence college for a year. He came home from Korea earlier this year after training and commanding the 25th Brigade in action.

The shifts take place in November. All three men won the coveted D.S.O. in the Second World War for leadership in battle.

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C., Sept. 26 (CP) — An assize court jury today acquitted Edwin Nyberg, 25, of manslaughter in the traffic death of Jack William Conners, 56, of Oshawa, Ont.

Conners, survived by his widow and two children, was killed on the night of June 14 when he was struck by a motorcycle which police said was operated by Nyberg.

MacDonald, Mosher Reelected

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, Sept. 26 (CP) — A surprise revolt against leadership dictates among strong international unions today sparked a major upset in the Canadian Congress of Labor election fight.

Donald MacDonald, the man the steel- auto and packinghouse union leaders wanted to crush in his bid for re-election as C.C.L. secretary-treasurer and organization director, squeezed through with a victory against the candidate of the union heads, William Mahoney.

Even though the big international unions together had sufficient votes to assure election of the 35-year-old Mahoney, the hefty assistant to steel union boss, Charles Millard, was knocked off by 45 votes.

A. R. Mosher, president of the 350,000-member labor body since it was founded in 1940, was re-elected for a 13th term, perhaps the last before retirement for the 71-year-old leader.

Mr. Burt and Mr. Millard were nominated for the presidency but refused to stand. Mr. Mosher's only opponent was a left-wing nominee, William White of the Vancouver Marine workers, who went down to a crushing defeat. Mr. Mosher scored 737 votes to Mr. White's 85.

LIBERALS TO MEET IN OKANAGAN

VICTORIA, Sept. 26 (CP) — The British Columbia Liberal party convention will be held at either Kamloops, Vernon or Penticton, Association headquarters reported here today.

It is expected the convention will be called for the last week in October or the first week in November.

Pledged to Drive Out White Men . . .

Terrorizing "Mau Mau" Tracked Down by Dogs

NAIROBI, Kenya, Sept. 26 (Reuters)—Police dogs tonight tracked "Mau Mau" Secret Society raiders who slaughtered cattle and set fire to a power station in "the White Highlands," a fertile tract of Kenya reserved for white settlers.

Seventeen arrests were made by police who were convinced that the rain-soaked, wooded slopes of Mount Kenya harbored more "Mau Mau" members, pledged to drive the white man from this British colony.

Officials said 100 sheep and 50 cattle were slaughtered in the Nanyuki area, 300 miles from here, but farmers said losses were much heavier.

Meanwhile, members of the Legislative Council here debated new laws to check the terror campaign of the "Mau Mau" and other native groups.

Adherents of the bill told the council that "Mau Mau" activities have resulted in 23 murders and four suicides by terrorized African victims.

It is obvious that the terrorism campaign reflects native anger at being excluded from land holding in the "White Highlands."

This oblong, 11,000-square-mile tract, containing the chief cities of Nairobi, and Eldoret, has the most fertile land and the most favorable climate of Kenya. Former British colonial secretary James Griffiths, has described it as "a slice of England dropped in the middle of Africa."

When the government set aside this reserve early in the century, the area was sparsely populated by natives, but now the area fringing it is rapidly becaming over-crowded by Africans.

LAND POOR

The farm land in the surrounding area is of poor quality except for one tract, but the Africans have come largely because the proximity of white settlements mean peace from tribal wars and access to social services.

Britain's present colonial secretary, Oliver Lyttelton, has proposed an official inquiry into the "land hunger" problem. Most probably solution seems a long-term project for revitalizing the area already reserved for Africans.

Convictions of "Mau Mau" members have been few because the society has either killed potential witnesses or frightened them into changing their original stories.

Clocks Go Back Sunday Night

If you're still looking for the hour you "lost" last Spring you can give up the search; it will be back Saturday night.

Most of British Columbia reverts to Pacific Standard Time between midnight Saturday and 2 a.m. Sunday after Summer-long advanced time. East Kootenay centres who long ago decided upon permanent Mountain Standard Time, are unaffected by the clock's gymnastics.

Two Convicted

TORONTO, Sept. 26 (CP) — Two members of the Boyd gang were convicted of bank robbery today as a story of crime which goes back more than seven months moved toward its conclusion.

Joseph Jackson and Allister Gibson each were convicted of the armed robbery last March of a branch of the Bank of Montreal. Edwin Boyd, described as the kingpin of the group, previously had pleaded guilty to the same charge.

Norman Boyd, Edwin Boyd's brother, was convicted of harboring an escaped prisoner—his brother during the latter's first jail-break last November. Sentences were deferred until all charges have been heard.

"If we are to make it tough for criminals to perform their acts of violence and law-breaking, we have got to deal with them severely when caught," he added.

Bible Would Bring Peace—Truman

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (AP) — President Truman said today that if "we could get a complete understanding" of the Bible behind the Iron Curtain, "there would be but one thing in this world: peace for all mankind." He made the comment to a group of churchmen who presented to him the first copy of the revised standard version of the Bible.

Balance of Missing Gold Flown to U.K.

TORONTO, Sept. 26 (CP) — A fortune in gold stolen Wednesday at suburban Malton Airport is likely already in the United States gold market, where it would bring more than $300,000, investigators said today.

Police estimated the legitimate value of the gold, which was in transit from Toronto refineries to Montreal and thence to England, at $215,000.

Special investigators of the Canadian National Railways—whose duties cover operations of Trans-Canada Air Lines, which was transporting the bullion—Royal Canadian Mounted Police and the Ontario Provincial Police worked throughout the night on the disappearance, but were unable to say how the gold was stolen.

"It just seemed to vanish," said one officer.

BRINK'S EXPRESS

Police said they could not trace the gold after it was signed for by a T.C.A. cargo agent at Malton when it arrived there by Brink's express from the refineries.

First reports placed the loss at $300,000. Today police estimated the loot was $215,000.

Some of the cargo employees questioned said the gold was taken as far as the loading station near the Montreal-bound plane which left at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday. Others contended it was not in the cargo room when they went to load it.

It was not until 9:30 Thursday that a general alarm was sounded. T.C.A. investigators, apparently hoping that the valuable cargo had been merely mislaid, did not notify police until about 3:30 p.m.

That meant the thieves had a start of about seven hours—enough for them to get it across the border, police said.

LEFT UNGUARDED

The gold was left unguarded in the shipping room, and officers said the robbery was "as simple as ABC".

The men had only to walk in, pick up the cases and load them on a truck or into the trunk of an automobile.

The thieves left some $150,000 worth behind, and police theorized it was done to confuse cargo office employees.

Meanwhile, the remaining four boxes arrived at Montreal airport today and were quietly placed aboard a trans-Atlantic plane.

Truman at Columbia Falls Sept. 30th

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (CP) — President Truman will attend ceremonies in connection with the dedication of Hungry Horse Dam in Montana next Wednesday.

Truman, who starts out on an 8500-mile whistle-stop political campaign Saturday night, will arrive at Columbia Falls, Mont., at 10.40 p.m. Tuesday night.

He will drive from Columbia Falls to Hungry Horse Dam at 8:30 a.m. the next day for the dedication ceremony at 11 a.m.

CANADIAN DOLLAR OFF

NEW YORK, Sept. 26 (CP) — The Canadian dollar was off 1/16 of a cent at a discount of 4 5/32 per cent in terms of United States funds in closing foreign exchange dealings today. The pound sterling was unchanged at $2.78½.

British Airmen Rescued On Greenland's Icy Cap

LONDON, Sept. 26 (Reuters)—Nine grizzled British airmen, marooned on a Greenland ice-cap for more than a week, were rescued today by a ski-equipped plane.

The Air Ministry said it had no further details of the rescue except that all the men were taken off. A terse radio message from the U.S. air base at Thule, Greenland, summed up the operation: "All out."

The men had been on the ice-cap since last Tuesday, when their plane crashed. They had been on a mission to drop supplies to the British exploring expedition in Greenland.

Today's operation saved the men from a gruelling 200-mile trek through Greenland's desolate waste. If attempts to rescue them by plane had failed, they would have had to walk out to the British expedition's main base camp.

The men had been living in the weatherproof fuselage of their damaged plane. Originally 12 men were stranded. Three injured, including a United States Air Force officer, were taken off on Wednesday by an Albatross amphibian plane fitted with jet-assisted takeoff equipment.

VANCOUVER, Sept. 26 (CP) — A 2½-year-old boy, playing with another boy in a lane, was run over by a truck and killed today.

Daily News Exclusive Tells What U.S. Voters Thinking

A political self-portrait of changing America . . .

That's the goal of an unusual piece of journalistic enterprise in the field of grassroots political reporting now under way by the Nelson Daily News. (See Page 6).

It's a project that represents a new way of taking the pulse of the American voting public.

Geared to the hottest presidential campaign in recent history, the effort will bring to readers of the Daily News an exclusive pre-election series of 30 daily articles entitled, "The American Voters Speak".

The series start today and will continue right up to election day.

The man behind the unique survey is one of America's top-notch political writers, a man who has made a nationwide reputation as one of the most astute political observers in the business.

He is Samuel Lubell, author of the recent book, "The Future of American Politics", which has just been given the annual Woodrow Wilson Foundation award as the best book in the field of government and democracy. The award was presented by the American Political Science Association. Mr. Lubell is also the author of numerous political articles in some of the country's top magazines.

Mr. Lubell is a doorbell ringer.

But the advantage Mr. Lubell has over others is that he knows exactly where to ring the doorbells!

He knows where to ring them in every corner of the United States so that the result of his ringing is an amazingly accurate insight into American political sentiments and voting trends.

The keys to this scientific research are infinitely detailed maps upon which Mr. Lubell has charted the voting behaviour of every county in the United States since 1896! He has gone behind the figures in many areas to talk with voters, many of whom he is revisiting during his current project.

As if those statistics themselves weren't staggering enough, Mr. Lubell also has figures at his fingertips to show how every ward in every major city in the country has voted since 1928!

These unmatched records provide the basis for his operations in seeking out the strategic areas of the country where, in person-to-person interviews, he tallies the opinions of voters of every economic, ethnic and age group.

MAPS TRENDS

What he seeks are the significant trends and shifts of sentiment which will decide the November elections.

In his series in the Daily News he will report his findings in a down-to-earth manner, in the human terms of individuals, in cities and villages, on farms and in factories and offices, in business places and in homes all over the country.

Mr. Lubell has been on the grassroots trail of the elusive American voter since July.

Travelling by train, plane, but and auto, he first checked into several strategic areas in the East and Midwest—strategic, in Mr. Lubell's book because of their voting record in the last election. Then he headed West to the coast. At this moment, he is out in the field, ringing doorbells and asking questions.

WIDE EXPERIENCE

Mr. Lubell has had extensive experience as a newspaperman. He began to win his national recognition as a political reporter in 1938 with articles in the Saturday Evening Post and Readers' Digest.

World War II took him to Washington where he worked first as a writer for the Office of Facts and Figures, and later became general secretary to Bernard Baruch's Rubber Survey Commission. After notable work with this commission, he moved into the White House as assistant to James F. Byrnes, then director of the Office of Economic Stabilization.

As a result, Mr. Lubell is not only a skilled writer but he also has knowledge and experience in the fields of economics, politics and government.

The writing of his book, and of other magazine articles have occupied him since the war—that and the ringing of more doorbells and the acquisition of an astonishing store of information about the pattern of poljtics in American life.

And in This Corner . . .

RICHMOND, Ind., Sept. 26 (AP)—Three-year-old Candice Elias, daughter of Billy Elias, coach of Richmond High School's undefeated football team, saw her first game a few days ago. It made quite an impression on her.

In fact, her father told friends today, she now says her night prayers like this:

"God bless Mommy,
"God bless Daddy,
"Rah rah rah!"

DUBLIN, Sept. 26 (AP)—A battle of whisky between Ireland and Scotland neared the drinking stage today.

The Irish fired off a case of Irish whisky to the battle scene—the European consultative assembly at Strasbourg—after a Scottish-born delegate claimed Scotch whisky was the world's best.

Scottish distillers sent a case of their stuff to Strasbourg yesterday.

The cases now rest with the delegates.

UPTON, Mass., Sept. 26 (AP)—The Arthur W. Morrisons have a problem. A knot fell out of a board in their kitchen annex during the Summer, a queen bee entered the hole, thousands of worker bees followed, and now the walls are full of honey. The Morrisons want to know how to get rid of the bees and salvage the honey without tearing down the annex.

COACH RANKS CANUCKS IN TOP 3

PENTICTON, Sept. 26 (CP) — Vancouver Canucks' assistant manager Art Chapman thinks his club will be in pretty good shape this season.

But he doesn't come right out and say so. Instead he mixes supreme caution with optimism and says "the club I have in camp here now would finish in the top three in the American Hockey League."

The clubs training camp here opened yesterday with 13 more days to go before they play against the Cougars in Victoria, Oct. 9.

Chapman didn't commit himself as to how Canucks might finish in the Western Hockey League, but he made these points clear:

"I am very happy with what I have seen so far. We are great in goal, deep in fast, productive forwards and have the material for two strong defensive units. The only thing I might need, and will try to obtain, is a good fifth defence man to give me depth all the way through."

COAL gives the Most Efficient Automatic Heat in a COAL Furnace

Your coal furnace is designed and built to burn only one fuel. That fuel is coal!

So, to enjoy the delightful comfort of automatic heat and to get the greatest heating efficiency from your coal furnace, install Combustioneer — the revolutionary automatic coal stoker. It is easily and quickly installed in your furnace.

FIRE-BED "BREATHES"

Combustioneer measures out the correct amount of air for efficient combustion. Then it "pokes-up" the fire so that this air surrounds each particle of coal. The fire-bed "Breathes," extracting all the heat from every pound of coal.

Gunmen-Vandals Sought for Harm To Trap Buildings

Whoever is responsible for rifle-shot damage to trap-shooting installations at the C.P.R. flats will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law, Rod McIndoe declared Friday.

Nearly two dozen bullet-holes of sizes which indicate the use of both shotguns and rifles were found in the walls of one of the wooden buildings recently built for the use of the Nelson Trap-Shooting Club, and there were bullet-marks on the cement traphouse nearby.

City Police are investigating the possible connection of this damage with persons responsible for gunshots heard in the shooting range area late Thursday night. No one was found in the area when police investigated the reports at the time.

Describing the incident as a clear case of vandalism, Mr. McIndoe, Trap Club organizer, said he wanted to make it clear that the shooting was in no way connected with the Club; it had in fact, done considerable damage to Club property.

Herridge to Speak At C.C.F. Meet

H. W. Herridge, M.P. for Kootenay West, will report on legislation passed at the last House of Commons session at the C.C.F. West Kootenay federal constituency meeting at Nelson tonight.

Members of the party from throughout the riding will attend and various resolutions are slated for discussion. Officers for the riding organization will likely be appointed.

200 at Lion's 7th Anniversary

Approximately 200 members and guests attended the seventh anniversary and charter night of Nelson Lion's Club. Joseph Crowe, district governor, Ray Morrison, International director and Robert Kromer, zone chairman, all of Spokane, were guests of honor.

Over 25 members from Spokane and district attended the meeting and dance. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Valin of Spokane, formerly of Nelson were present.

Work of the Lion's Club and its expansion into one of the largest international clubs in the world was outlined by Mr. Crowe.

Representatives of other Nelson service clubs were also present.

Stage Demonstration

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (AP) — About 25 young men, described as Boston student followers of a suspended priest, staged a demonstration in his behalf today inside the Apostolic delegation mansion. Police, who ordered them out, said the demonstrators were from a Boston school headed by Rev. Leonard Feeney, educationist expelled from the Roman Catholic Jesuit order three years.

LEAVING NELSON SATURDAY . . . to take up similar duties with Mackenzie, White and Dunsmuir at Vancouver is Allan Barton, who was sales representative for Kootenay district. Mr. Barton, a native of Nelson, has been 12 years with the company. Vogue photo.

Civic Choir Rehearsing

Nelson Civic Choir has begun rehearsing for the 1952-53 season under Eric Iles, and is preparing for a number of musical activities.

More than 40 singers are practising at the Church of the Redeemer Parish Hall.

The choir plans a December concert, and may sing over the air later. A major work will be studied in the new year.

Mrs. Budvesel, Here 17 Years, Dies

Mrs. Eva Budvesel, who has lived on Ymir Road for the past 17 years, died at Kootenay Lake General Hospital Thursday evening. She was 48.

Mrs. Budvesel, born in Czechoslovakia, came to Canada in 1935.

Besides her husband John, she is survived by three sons, Stanley, John and Joseph; one daughter, Marjorie, all at home, and two sisters in Czechoslovakia.

Water Supply Increases as Citizens Conserve

Water level at Nelson reservoir is rising as citizens, called upon to help avert a shortage, have stopped garden and lawn sprinkling to conserve water.

Shortage, resulting from a long term of warm, summery weather, will disappear with the first good rainfall, city officials expect. No rain was forecast for the weekend.

However, citizens are cautioned that restrictions, put into effect Tuesday, are still in force. If sprinkling were resumed the water supply would again drop to shortage level.

Library Surprised To Find Staffer Peiping Delegate

VANCOUVER, Sept. 26 (CP) — Pretty Mrs. Kay Gardner, on the staff of the Vancouver Public Library, left here two weeks ago to "go abroad."

It was a surprise to library board officials today when they learned she had arrived in Peiping with a party of Canadians for a Communist-sponsored peace conference.

The Peiping Radio reported the arrivals, listing Mrs. Gardner as a children's librarian. She is the wife of Ray Gardner, former newspaper man, now executive secretary of the British Columbia Peace Council. He is also a delegate to Peiping conference.

Alderman Anna Sprott, city council representative on the library board, said that when the board approved Mrs. Gardner's two months' leave of absence, it had no idea she was going to the peace conference.

"I am very alarmed about this," said Alderman Sprott. "Mrs. Gardner will certainly be called to account why she did not specify where she was going when she asked for the leave of absence."

Mrs. Gardner's library job does not involve any selection of books for children. She handled the movement of books and typed lists.

LAST RITES HELD FOR MRS. C. BIDDER

Funeral services for Clara Jane Bidder, former Nelson woman who died at Haney, B. C., were held here Friday.

Rev. Canon W. J. Silverwood officiated at the services held from the Thompson Funeral Home.

One hymn, "Abide With Me," was sung. Mrs. W. A. Manson was organist.

Pallbearers, members of Kootenay Lodge No. 16, I.O.O.F., were A. O. Allen, E. J. Boyce, Walter Fisher, J. McClelland, D. H. Proudfoot and W. A. Triggs.

Interment was in Nelson Memorial Park.

Mrs. Bidder, who for the past four years has lived with her daughter, Mrs. E. G. Foster at Hammond, B. C., was 80 years of age. She died Monday.

The Weather

Southern B.C.'s two weeks of Indian Summer has come to an end. Variable cloud and scattered showers spread over nearly all sections and temperatures dropped 10 to 15 degrees from yesterday's near records at several interior points. Increasing cloud with slowly lowering temperatures will continue Saturday. Precipitation so far has not been sufficiently heavy in the danger areas to ease the forest fire hazard. However, over the North coastal area several stations reported quantities in excess of one inch.

Another storm is developing about 1000 miles off the coast. This will lie just West of the Queen Charlotte Islands Sunday and cause increasing cloud and some precipitation to most coastal points.

City Police have an important message for a woman whose name is either Mrs. Steeves or Mrs. Stevens, apparently formerly of Trail and now of Nelson. Chief of Police Robert Harshaw said the message was from Vancouver.

Trustees Attend Coast Convention

George Mermet, chairman, and William Ramsay of Nelson District School Board No. 7, and J. S. Livingstone, secretary-treasurer, leave today for New Westminster, where they will attend the three-day annual convention of B. C. School Trustees beginning Monday.

OSLO, Norway (CP) — The death rate in caesarean operations at the Norwegian state hospital here has been reduced to one in every 672 operations. The 15 rate compares with 7.98 per cent in the 1930-48 period.

Proposed School Bylaw Receives Two Readings; Now Goes to Victoria

City Council at a special meeting Friday night gave two readings to the proposed schools construction bylaw, which if eventually passed will provide $476,351 for a school building program in the city.

The readings were given to enable school board delegates attending B.C. Trustees' meeting at New Westminster next week, an opportunity to present the bylaw for consideration by B. C. Bracewell, inspector of municipalities, next week. If the bylaw receives Mr. Bracewell's approval, it must receive a third reading by City Council before it can be presented to the ratepayers.

The bylaw is for $496,000 and interest of $289,987.50 over the 20-year debenture period, and $19,649 for bylaw and debenture expenses.

Last Monday, scrool board members presented details of the proposed school program, which includes a new high school here at an estimated cost of $841,300; junior high and Hume Schools extensions and renovation of the old high school into an elementary school. Total cost of the program covering city and rural area of District No. 7 is estimated at $2,098,000. Of this, the provincial government provides $1,049,000, or half the cost; the city provides 45.41 per cent, or $476,351; and the district 54.59 per cent, or $572,649.

EFFICIENT BUILDINGS

Board members explained to the Council last Monday night they had found means of considerably reducing plans drawn up by architects for study. In the proposed new Nelson high school alone, trimming of 200,000 cubic feet of space had won approval of the Department of Education designer. Representatives who had gone to Victoria, Dr. W. K. Massey, board chairman, and E. E. Hyndman, schools inspector, had gone over the plans step by step and all cuts had received approval. Aim throughout had been to retain efficient schools, while still watching the interests of the taxpayers.

A highly modern design for Hume School addition which would have cost over $100,000, had been replaced by a design which followed the present architecture of the building, for a cost of $85,000.

First plans for the high school would have called for well over a million dollars in construction as against present estimate of $841,000.

The present high school could not be renovated into a modern high school, but a good elementary school was possible. Engineer had found the walls in sound condition and by removing the third floor and putting in fireproof stairways, elementary school could be obtained. It was pointed out that no extra facilities were required for pupils from Grades I to VI. Much of the present high school equipment would be utilized in the new building.

20 Years in Redeemer Pulpit

Special anniversary services will be held in the Church of the Redeemer Sunday commemorating 20 years of service of its vicar, Rev. Canon W. J. Silverwood. Rev. J. Rogers, B.A., B.D., rector of St. Saviour's Church at Trail, will preach at the evening service.

Educated in King's College, London University and St. Paul's College in England, Canon Silverwood served with the Royal Engineers during World War I. Following the war, he spent one year doing educational work in Germany with the army of occupation.

He arrived in Canada in 1922, and after two and a half years of missionary work in the Prairie Provinces he came to the Kootenay, where he engaged in missionary service at Bonnington, South Slocan, Fruitvale and other district centres. After four years at Grand Forks, Canon Silverwood was appointed Vicar of the Church of the Redeemer in 1932. He has been in Nelson since that time.

INTERNATIONAL RESEARCH

He was a member of the General Synod and Executive Councils in 1949, and an active member of many international societies for world understanding. International research is one of Canon Silverwood's hobbies, and he has served actively on the International Research Council.

In 1945 he received a Bachelor of Science degree in Sociology, and four years later was elected Cannon of the Diocese of Kootenay for services in the church. That same year he was appointed Rural Dean of Kootenay by Archbishop Adams.

He married the former Mari Kenia Wallace in 1928, and they have two sons, Billy and Allan.

Cannon Silverwood is fond of golf and enjoys motoring.

A reception will be held at the Redeemer Parish Hall after Sunday evening services.

Carpenters Gain 20-Cent Pay Hoist With Signing By Three Operators

Three contractors have signed the agreements providing wage advances and other benefits demanded by members of the carpenters' union, it was announced Friday.

T. H. Waters & Co. Ltd., which recently had obtained decertification of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, local 2458, Kenyon and Company of Penticton, contractors building the new C.P.R. diesel plant, and Kootenay Forest Products have signed agreements.

The agreement had earlier been signed by Bennett and White, who are completing the new B. C. Forest Service building, M. J. Varseveld for the new Farmers Supply building, and a number of small contractors.

Still awaiting completion of decertification proceedings were Laurence Simpson and Kaiann Construction. The union has been decirtified at H. B. mine in connection with construction of a new mill.

Hourly wages paid under the new agreement will be $2.10, as compared to $1.90, and other benefits received will be away-from-home room and board allowance over and above $1, and free room and board after Dec. 1; time and a half overtime for the first two hours and double time after that and for work done on Saturdays, Sundays and all recognized holidays.

About 100 carpenters went on strike in Nelson and at the H. B. mine Aug. 27, when the operators turned down the demands.

STOCKS CONTINUE DOWN TREND

TORONTO, Sept. 26 (CP) — Stock market prices today continued their three-week downward trend after a two-day recovery.

Western Oils led the slight decline, losing more than a point on the exchange's index while industrials and base metals dropped about half an index point. Golds showed an index gain as leading issues advanced but weakness in gold prospects depressed the section. Volume totalled 2,139,000 shares.

Few Western oils traded heavily except Landover which moved about 91,000 shares for a gain of 20 cents.

VANCOUVER (CP) — A little brown bear, caught in a tree here by Francis Stewart, was locked in a shed in the garden. It wasn't long before the mama bear arrived to shatter the shed door and drag her offspring back into the woods.

NATAL — The annual visit to the Kootenays of the provincial president of the Fraternal Order of Eagles will bring Thomas R. Anderson of Nanaimo as far East as Michel.

As the president's visit last year was at Michel, with members of the Fernie Aerie attending, this year the meeting will be held at Fernie for the two lodges. The date has been tentatively set for October 14.

A similar meeting will be held with Cranbrook and Kimberley aeries. Mr. Anderson will be unable to visit each aerie in East and West Kootenay individually.

$50 FINE FOR DRIVING WHEN ABILITY IMPAIRED

CRESTON — P. J. Cybolski of Salmo was fined $50 in provincial court here Friday when he pleaded guilty to driving while his ability was impaired by liquor. Sipendiary Magistrate Guy Constable presided.

Cybolski was driver of a car which on Wednesday afternoon skidded off the road at a turn about half a mile West of here, overturned and hit two telephone poles before stopping. Damage was extensive.

School for Handicapped Children in Trail Marks Big Step in Work

That Kootenay Society for Handicapped Children has gone a long way towards reaching its aims with setting up of a school in East Trail for children with physical or mental handicaps, was learned by Kiwanis Club at the Hume Thursday night. Representatives of other service clubs attended the meeting.

Four Trail members of the society —Arthur Van, President; Harold Lins, Vice President; John Oxley, Secretary, and W. Leaman—told of the work accomplished to date and showed a film vividly portraying the tremendous problems that must be overcome by the handicapped child and his parents in finding a happy and useful place in life for the child.

To date, 24 children with various handicaps have been registered at Maple School, which is in charge of Mrs. George Magwood of Robson, Mr. Oxley said. Survey conducted by West Kootenay Health Unit of the Trail, Rossland, Fruitvale, Castlegar area had revealed so far that in 85 families, 92 children were handicapped to a greater or lesser degree. That survey was continuing.

TAUGHT SELF-HELP

The children were receiving the attention they could not possibly receive in the regular school system. They were being taught to be of some use and help to themselves. The work had a threefold purpose: to help the children to help themselves; to help the parents who were undergoing terrific mental and financial strain; and to help the community in that the children would not become a public charge, for a great many of them could become self-sufficient.

Mr. Van explained that there were centres in British Columbia for the aid of children, but that they took care mainly of cerebral palsy cases. Here there were many mentally and physically handicapped children as well, and the society's aim was to aid these youngsters. Coast centres had long waiting lists.

The home or school here was available to them financially and also made it possible for their parents to visit them freely. It was difficult for most parents to travel to Vancouver to visit the children, and many were reluctant to send them so far away.

There were two types of children. One type could be left at school during the day, thereby relieving sorely-pressed mothers; and others who remained at the home as long as the parents wished them to do so. The "outpatients" were transported to and from their homes daily.

RALLY TO AID

Financing had not been a big problem. The community had strongly supported the project by donation and membership from the area surrounding Trail. Assistance was also to come from the Provincial and Dominion Governments, amounts still to be set.

The Trail home had been donated and renovation carried out by volunteer work and donations of materials.

A gift of land at Robson would make it possible to provide a school there for in-patients, it was hoped.

Mr. Leaman presented details of the constitution governing the society.

One of the biggest problems facing the society, Mr. Lins explained, was overcoming reluctance of parents to bring forward a handicapped child. Through cooperation of Health Department, many children had been found, but the reluctance of parents was making the work more difficult.

Public response to such children and their parents created more difficulties.

"They don't want pity," he declared. The problem of educating the public to this fact added to the difficulties.

The speakers said that if similar work was undertaken in Nelson, "we will do all in our power to assist," and they emphasized it was much too large a project for a single organization. The whole community must participate. In Trail, all service clubs had representatives on the society.

The film, "Search", told the story of a boy with cerebral palsy, a condition in which injury to the brain causes handicap of various members of the body. It depicted his progress with proper training, how his fight for independence was set back by those who heaped pity upon the boy or his parents, or received encouragement through common sense attitude on the parts of others.

Service club representatives were Vincent Fink, Rotary; Fred Leno, Kinsmen, and R. W. Salter, Lions.

SPEEDING IN SCHOOL ZONE BRINGS FINE

Speeding past Hume School brought a $20 fine to Vincent Segur of Vancouver Thursday.

J. B. Ritchie appeared on behalf of Segur Thursday morning in city police court before Magistrate William Brown and entered a plea of guilty. Segur was charged Wednesday morning.

Russ Targets in Reach of U.S.

SEATTLE, Sept. 26 (AP) — A top U. S. air force official said today targets in Russia are within reach of jet bombers flying from American-operated airdromes abroad and refuelling in the air en route.

The assertion by under-secretary of air Roswell Gilpatric was contained in a prepared address during which he also cited instances of progress in air power rearmament.

"We have developed a complex of advance bases — some to the North and West of us, such as Alaska, and Okinawa; others in the Northeast, such as those in Newfoundland, Greenland and Iceland, and still others overseas in the United Kingdom, North Africa and elsewhere in the Mediterranean area," Gilpatrick said.

"Best Actress" Playing in Pasadena

NAKUSP — The flicker of footlights and the smell of grease paint has lured the Kootenay's "best actress" of 1952 into a part in the 18th annual midsummer drama festival at the Pasadena Playhouse.

Rose Wright, wife of the late Captain Walter Wright, who won high respect during 46 years' service on Interior lake and river boats, was holidaying in Pasadena when she was persuaded to join festival performers.

In May this year she won the best actress award for her part in Nakusp Drama Club's entry in the Kootenay Drama Festival in Trail.

The Pasadena festival consists of a series of six plays telling the story of America through the lives of six patriots.

Mrs. Wright is taking a walk-on part in Drinkwater's Robert E. Lee, and wears a blue taffeta hoop-skirt evening gown. "I'm enjoying rehearsals immensely," she says.

AROUND THE HOME

* * *

Beautify Your Home Surroundings by Adding Glamor, Elegance to Windows

Windows play a more and more important part in today's building plans. This is influenced to some extent by the mode of living known as "West Coast"—a way that correlates outdoor and indoor living.

Too, picture windows give an added look of elegance to even the smallest houses. But today's builders are using many types of windows: the double-hung windows, French-type windows, bay, dormer, casement and sliding windows, more than ever before.

To dress these windows in a becoming fashion without too much expense is the ardent desire of every homemaker.

Muslin launders beautifully, comes out of soap suds looking fresh and bright and with its shape quite intact.

For large windows demanding a more tailored air, muslin may be dyed any color of the rainbow and hung on traverse rods . . . a simple, easy-to-make but very effective drapery. One thing to remember in using inexpensive fabrics—it is best used lavishly . . . if a yard does the trick, then by all means use two or even three yards for that elegant look.

Lacking the body of taffeta or heavy silk, muslin behaves just as well as expensive drapery material if it is extremely full. Unbleached muslin comes in widths up to 108 inches, which makes for easy and accurate measuring.

Remember, there are lots of wonderful cottons to choose from for your new curtains. Go farmhouse style with bright calicos or crisp white muslin. Be modern with burlap, denim and ticking. Be frankly pretty with dainty, white ruffles. But be bold in your color choice—try plaids, stripes and bright flowers.

Remember, too, if you're short on dollars, you can still be long on imagination. You'll find that it pays off in an added sparkle, a completely individual look, to your windows.

Personality Governs Color Plan

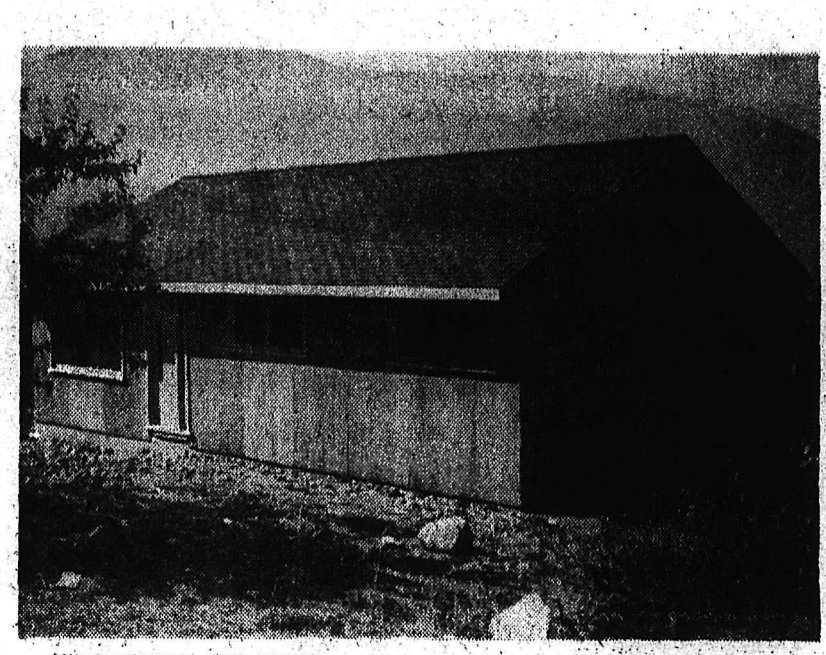
You and your family will feel happiest in your home when you're surrounded with colors that suit you best. Everyone thinks of green as a fresh, peaceful, well-balanced color ;yellow as cheerful, sunny; red as warm, energetic, exciting; blue as cool, reserved. In a way, you can be said to resemble the colors you like best, says paint consultant Faber Birren.

If you're active, like to get out and around, like to have lively parties at your house, want your home to make a vivid impression on others, like unusual furnishings, then red and the colors in the red family will probably be your true favorite, most accurately reflecting your personality.

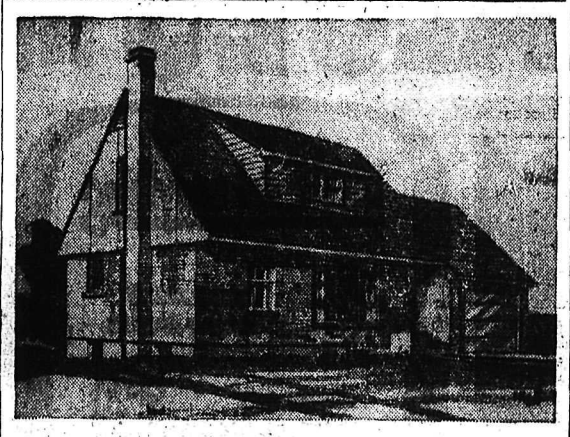
If you value a cheerful home atmosphere with comfort uppermost in home furnishings; like colors that are not too strong; entertain quietly, green is probably your favorite color. A medium green, neither garish nor too subdued, will be a happy choice as a color to paint your house exterior.

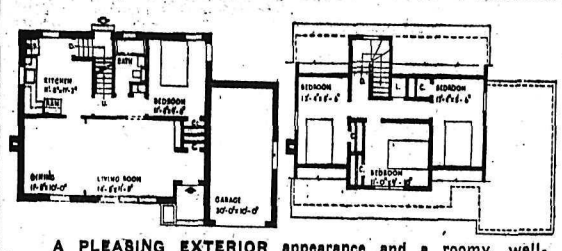
If you want your home to be dignified and impressive; like antiques and traditional furniture; choose your guests carefully and entertain your friends quietly; are more or less conservative, blue is probably the color that you feel most at home with.

If you find modern decoration and modern art appealing; like to work at home on your pet projects; choose colors more by reason than emotion; value intellectual ability highly and prefer good conversation to a card game, yellow is probably your favorite color.



ONE OF SEVERAL NEW HOMES now under construction in Fairview is this one now nearing completion. The three-bedroom home is built to N.H.A. specifications and has an area of 1000 square feet. Forced hot air heating, Southern pine wood fibre interior walls and enamel kitchens are some of the features of the medium-priced homes in a project undertaken by Gilday Agencies through Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation. Lack of availability of a suitable number of serviced lots is curtailing the number that could be built. Contractor is George Jensen, Nelson. —Daily News photo.





A PLEASING EXTERIOR appearance and a roomy, well-planned interior have been achieved in this four-bedroom home with attached garage, designed by architect M. G. Dixon, of Ottawa. The large living-dining area occupies almost the entire front section of the house and allows for a variety of furniture arrangements and decorative schemes. The exterior dimensions of the house are 31' 8" by 25' 4" and the area is 1310 square feet, exclusive of garage. The cubic measure is 18,850 cubic feet, exclusive of garage. Working drawings may be obtained from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at a minimum cost.

New Clay Brick Cuts Home Cost

A new clay brick, which is reported to sharply reduce the cost of masonry walls, making a solid brick home competitive in price with frame structures, has been announced by the Structural Clay Products Institute.

A development of industry-wide research in clay, the new brick is a through-the-wall unit, and requires no backup materials. Savings are achieved by eliminating the backup materials and by reducing the masons' time, according to Robert B. Taylor, director of research for the clay industry's research foundation.

Dimensions of the new product are 2 1/6x1 1/2x5 1/2 inches. Each brick has 10 holes cored vertically to lighten its weight and to make it easier to lay. Holes are large enough for a mason's thumb and, in addition, a jamb slot is provided at one end of the unit to aid in the installation of metal windows.

The Institute says the brick is permitted by every major building code for single-family, one-storey residential construction.

LUXURY WALL CORK COVERED

Cork tile makes an interesting wall covering. It ties in smartly with modern interiors, providing a warm and soft background for any color. It has a certain insulating value for both heat and sound.

You can install cork tile over any smooth, firm and dry wall that is free from dust, oil or grease. It can be applied to smooth, dry plaster, gypsum wallboard, plywood or fiber hardboard.

A householder can do the job himself with instructions available from any well stocked floor covering dealer.

Colors range from dark shades of walnut brown to light oak tans. Since the tiles are made entirely of ground, compressed and baked cork, the material is impervious to moisture. Liquids cannot cause it to warp. This makes it a suitable material for luxury bathrooms as well as for library, den or living room.

AMHERST, N. S. (CP) — A square dance competition will be held for the first time at the maritime Winter Fair here in November. Entries will be accepted from the four Atlantic provinces and officials hope to crown a Maritime champion at the grand finale.

Aldabra, one of the Seychelles Islands in the Indian Ocean, is famous for its gigantic land tortoises.

The correlated trend now extends into occasional tables. These have been designed in groupings ranging from three to nine pieces, and groups can be considered larger when coordinated bedroom and dining room pieces are included. There is a scattering of individual tables, but even these seem to match other finishes and are mixable with other forms in the same lines.

There are many additions in the contemporary field of tables. Free form is still characterized by irregular shapes, not quite circles, ovals or angular pieces.

NELSONITE GIVES VIEWS AND NEWS IN COLUMN TODAY

A Nelson woman who prefers to remain anonymous begins today on the editorial page of the Daily News the first of a series of weekly columns.

In conversational tone, "Betty Blythe" gives bits of chit chat about Nelson and district; sometimes philosophizes and occasionally passes along a favorite recipe.

Natal Newlyweds On Alberta Trip

NATAL — The marriage of Helen Volpatti, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Volpatti of Michel, and Andy Huryn of Natal, took place at St. Michael's Roman Catholic Church here with Rev. Father E. Brophy affociating.

The bride's gown was of white sheer with long sleeves and an embroidered bodice. Her chapel veil was held in place with a beaded tiara. She chose a bouquet of roses and carnations.

The bridesmaids, Miss Loretta Montemurro and Miss Eleanor Ungaro of Natal-Michel wore blue nylon gowns and carried bouquets of carnations. Mr. John Templen of Natal supported the groom, and Mr. John Wakalchuk of Natal was the usher.

The bride's mother wore a green silk dress and a mixed flower corsage. The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents at which more than 100 guests were served supper. The bride's table was centered with a three-tier wedding cake. Dancing was held.

The happy couple left for a honeymoon at Banff and Calgary. They will make their home at Natal.

New Denver

NEW DENVER — Mrs. Vera R. Kitchener has returned from her vacation in Vancouver where she was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. K. Popoff.

Mrs. R. M. Evans accompanied by her son Ronald, left for New Westminster where she will visit for five weeks her mother, Mrs. J. R. Duncan and her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Handley.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Rodall and son Johnny have returned from three weeks holidays at South Burnaby with Mrs. Rodall's mother, Mrs. John Teir, her sister, Miss Evelyn Teir, and brother, J. B. Teir. They also visited her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Teir.

While the Reds Are Poised

Dr. Mossadegh, in the description of the Christian Science Monitor, is a hard and shrewd bargainer. Of that the Western world no longer has any doubt. But by this token it need not be assumed that he intends to break off diplomatic relations with Great Britain because he talks of doing so.

The Iranian Premier's recent address to Parliament in Teheran carried evidence, explicit and implicit, of genuine desire to keep negotiations moving on the issue of seized Anglo-Iranian Oil Company properties. He is willing now to let the controversy go to the World Court on certain conditions, whereas he once asserted only Iranian courts were competent in the matter. Further, he now recognizes the validity of the company's concession between 1933 and the date of nationalization.

On the other hand, he makes the rather absurd contention that Iran is entitled to £49 million under an agreement which Iran refused to accept—evidently hoping by this to offset claims of the company to compensation for potential profits in the years the 1933 concession had yet to run.

There is no reason for Britain to yield substantially more than it has done in the Anglo-American offer made at the end of August. Either the case should go to the World Court with all claims and counter-claims included, for the Court to winnow out the chaff, or the whole question should be narrowed to the value of the properties at the time of nationalization, ignoring charges of damage from the company's self-defensive oil "blockade".

The risks of continuing such haggling while the sword of Communism hangs over the Middle East are, points out the Monitor, risks to which the West has become somewhat inured, seeing how casually Iranians regard them. Possibly Iran has been strengthened by being thrown back on its agricultural resources and by the beginnings of land and tax reforms. Yet the recent outbreak of tribal feuds must be a warning to Dr. Mossadegh not to let his Government's finances deteriorate to a point where the army and police will no longer preserve order.

Housewives' Weapon

Premier Antoine Pinet of France is getting right at one grass roots aspect of inflation when he urges housewives to haggle over food prices. It is up to the housewife to defend her budget, he says. "Consumers must not buy at any price . . . they must learn to haggle."

Cut Taxes Back, Too

Canadians are more and more feeling the weight of the tax burden. If Canada cuts back its arms spending in keeping with the reductions by other countries, the Canadians will want to see that cutback in expenditure reflected in tax changes.

Betty's Weekly Letter to:

Dear Jane:

(Editor's note: This weekly column is passed on to the reader as the thoughts and observations of a Nelson housewife and community worker.)

If you were here I am sure we would leave our work and take advantage of every nice day. This district is beautiful right now. The Autumn colors have spread themselves over the mountains and the valleys, and the call to play hookey is in the air. Even the Better ½ felt it, and we have been gadding a bit.

The highways out of Nelson are really good now, and they tempt one to use them. We drove out to Salmo on the new highway, which is practically completed, and without doubt it is one of the most scenic drives in this part of B. C. Leaving Nelson, it follows Cottonwood Creek for a while. In the Spring this creek is the gayest, tumbling thing you can imagine, and you feel you have a merry companion for your journey. Right now it looks very tired and low in spirits, but still moving along.

Farther on you have the Salmon (or Salmo—some slight disagreement here) River for company. The mountains are majestic but not frightening, and the highway itself is a treat.

Jane, have you any influence with the Government? The Better ½ and I think it would be smart if they would reserve a picnic spot along this highway. It would be nice to take eats and know you could find a place to eat them. We get a little discouraged with signs, "Private Road," "Keep Out," "No Trespassing," etc., etc., when all we want is a bit of grass and shade away from the road.

Maybe there might even be a place suitable for a look-out or view point, or whatever they are called. Maybe the motorists would drive more slowly and enjoy their travel if they were encouraged to stop and look at the beauty of Nature.

You had mentioned the Doukhobor problem, and as we drove from Trail, through the valleys in which they live, I thought of it. It is something which will have to be decided very soon. I have just read a definition of a politician—one who approaches every problem with an open mouth—and you may think I am like that. But here is my opinion, for what it is worth.

I think the Doukhobors should be dispersed. How can they be happier or more law-abiding as a group in another part of our Province or country? How can moving them in a group increase their loyalty and love for Canada? How can it stop the destruction of property, the withholding of information? How can it protect the law-abiding ones from the law-breakers?

In the long run wouldn't they, as well as we, be happier and safer if they were dispersed? Of course there may be many reasons why this could not be done. But it seems to me it is the only way they will ever be assimilated into the life of Canada.

Other groups and nationalities have been dispersed when it was considered the best thing to do. Ten years from now we might feel the problem has been solved if we do this, whereas if we move them en bloc we may just be prolonging the problem. If they are going to live in Canada, let's try to make them Canadian.

Well, Jane, I'm sure this has been a lot more than you bargained for. I promise not to let you in for anything like this again for a long time.

That's all for now.

BETTY BLYTHE.

Y. P., Edgewood—Can you give me some information on the Indians and pioneers of the Arrow Lakes district, especially the Edgewood settlement? If you have any pictures they would be appreciated.

From Mrs. K. Johnson's book, "Pioneer Days of Nakusp and the Arrow Lakes," we have condensed the following information:

"The Kootenays, up to a certain period prior to the advent of fur traders, came to the Arrow Lakes to fish, and are known to have camped at what is Beaton, on the Northeast arm. The Okinaken Indians from what is now Okanagan country were jealous of these invaders. Resident families of the Okinakens made their homes on the shore lands of the Lower Arrow Lake, and often there was war between the two tribes. In time it was decided to make a truce, and each tribe agreed to keep to distinct areas. The Kootenays kept to Kootenay Lake and River, and the Northern Idaho territory, and the Colvilles (of which the Okinakens were a branch) retained fishing rights on the Arrow Lakes. These Okinakens came to the Arrow Lakes by way of the Fosthall and Pingston Valleys along the lake shore areas to Shelter Bay, next to Bannock Point, about three miles South of Arrowhead. None of these people Wintered in the Arrow Lakes district, but moved down to the Okanagan and Boundary country. In an Indian cemetery near Arrowhead, a beaten copper bowl, a copper plate of rough design and some necklaces were found. We have no available pictures.

D. A., Fruitvale—Can you tell me where I can get caps, pennants and badges representing the Olympic Games at Helsinki?

Verse

Love

Love is what the universe seeks after:
Fore-runner of contentment's laughter,
Understanding unison of two hearts,
The knowledge which the word imparts;
No happiness, alone beside the hearth,
For that is like burnt ashes, charred and dearth.
Our better lives say: do not live alone
To suffer years in silence, fret and moan.
Share ever, two hearts more staunch than one:
To struggle through life, joined, is more like fun.
Grouped hand in hand, no obstacle will stop:
Two powered souls can reap contentment's crop.

The American Voters Speak . . .

SAMUEL LUBELL, author and political analyst, gets United States election campaign dope from the people.

A tireless doorbell ringer, Mr. Lubell goes directly to the voters to find out what they're thinking politically; and why they feel the way they do.

Then he charts their voting behavior—by state, county, ward and precinct. He's been doing it for years—in the big cities, in the villages and hamlets, and in the farmlands.

His appraisal of the voting prospects in this year's important national election is based on those unmatched records and on what he's learning in the front-porch talks he's now having.

By SAMUEL LUBELL

A fairly strong shift of former Truman and Roosevelt supporters to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is underway through most of the United States.

Except in the cities of Texas and Florida, this democratic break cannot be called spectacular. Still it shows up consistently in my talks with voters in all the 14 farm counties and 18 large cities I have toured since the Chicago conventions.

In the farm belt, which furnished the unexpected majorities that swung the last election for President Truman the trend is away from the Democrats. Of the persons I interviewed who had voted for Truman roughly one of four intends to back General Eisenhower this Fall.

The swing towards the GOP seems weaker in the cities, ranging from every fifth Democratic voter in middle-class precincts to one of every 10 or 12 in the workers' areas.

The one New Deal element showing virtually no break thus far is the Negro.

Most of these defections are being caused by resentment against the draft, the Korean War and inflation — rising living costs, higher taxes and "too much spending." Corruption despite the emphasis given it in Eisenhower's campaigning, ranks well down the list of issues splitting off one-time Democratic voters.

On the opposite side of the political ledger, the strongest single Democratic asset is the haunting memory of the last depression. If General Eisenhower is defeated, it will be by this dread of a possible return to "them Hoover times."

As an example of what the Republicans are up against take the attitude of one Cleveland worker:

"This administration stinks," he told me. "They put people in jail for stealing a loaf of bread and look what they get away with in Washington.

"But," he went on, "I don't know how I'm going to vote. I went six years without a job in the last depression. I think another bust's coming. I'm afraid of the Republicans. I don't know what they would do."

Immediately after the presidential candidates were nominated, I took off on a new kind of intensive grass-roots survey of the most important voting areas in the country. Instead of asking local political leaders how their communities felt, I have been going directly to the people themselves, ringing doorbells on city streets, and along country roads, speaking with voters of every type—housewives, workers, farmers and businessmen, young voters and pensioners, the poor and the well-off.

SEEKS THE "WHY"

I have sought the "why" of people's voting. What are the issues really agitating the public? Why are some persons unshakable in their convictions? Why do others find it so difficult to choose between the candidates? Can Gov. Adlai Stevenson hold together the varied elements in the Democratic coalition that has won the last five presidential elections? Or is General Eisenhower's candidacy bringing about a basic reshuffling of political forces, opening a new political era?

My findings so far must still be cross-checked with what other voters will be telling me as the campaign progresses. However, as of the third week of September, these general conclusions stand out:

1. Neither candidate is setting the voters on fire. "I don't know much about him" is a common remark voiced about Governor Stevenson. As a new name, though, he is free of many of the political liabilities associated with President Truman. That makes it easier for many voters to stay Democratic in the belief that a Stevenson victory will mean some house-cleaning in Washington.

FEAR WAR RISKS

2. Eisenhower's personality is winning over fair numbers of Democrats—more women than men. But the "I like Ike" enthusiasm runs smack up against two main obstacles—the fear that a military man in the White House may increase the risks of war and the alarm, even among those who want some change, that too abrupt a halt in government spending might throw the economy into a tailspin.

3. The closest thing to true "crusade" ardor for Eisenhower that I found was in the cities—but not the farms—of Texas and Florida.

In two middleclass Houston precincts, which I sampled, a full majority of the Democratic voters were swinging to Eisenhower. In similar areas of Miami every third Democratic was swinging. Nowhere else in the country have I run into such dramatic G.O.P. gains.

4. Even among Democratic voters the prevailing temper is markedly conservative. Negroes generally and some whites talk of civil rights; one Milwaukee worker argued for health insurance. But in the main there is no burning desire for new programs aiming at new "social gains."

The dominant concern of most Democrats is to hold what they have.

Several election surprises may be in the making.

Offsetting Eisenhower's inroads among Democrats is a counter-swing of hitherto Republican voters toward Stevenson. Most, but not all of these shifting Republicans, are disgruntled Taft supporters. I have not done enough checking of staunchly Republican areas to judge how strong this shift may be. The persistence with which it crops up suggests it has some force.

The last four years have brought a spectacular increase in the number of young farmers who are more Democratic-minded than the older generation.

Against that, significant numbers of farm tenants who backed both Roosevelt and Truman are swinging for Eisenhower in anger over the effects of inflation.

A curious irony, Senator Richard Nixon, who was nominated for vice-president to help carry California, may cost Eisenhower that State. Hostility to Nixon, I found, is proving a powerful influence in Henry Wallace — almost 200,000 strong in California — to return to the Democratic ranks almost en masse, despite an expressed liking for Eisenhower personally. In New York City, by contrast, some Wallaceites told me they would vote for Eisenhower.

In later articles I will report more fully on what voters told me, which led to these conclusions, as well as on the results of my interviews with other voters from now until election day.

Socreds To Continue Hospital Subsidies

DUNCAN, B. C., Sept. 26 (CP)—Premier W. A. C. Bennett said here that the new Social Credit Government has already saved the people of British Columbia $2,000,000 by reduced hospital insurance premiums and the $1-a-day plan that replaced co-insurance.

He said, however, the Government would continue subsidies at the present level to finance the hospital services.

"We will make the hospital insurance scheme a good thing, an attractive thing," he told Cowichan-Newcastle Social Credit convention delegates.

"The people who pay premiums pay, about $16,000,000 a year, abou 65 per cent of hospital costs, ar from other sources comes $7,000,0 in subsidies.

"These subsidies must be paid f by everyone."

Mr. Bennett reiterated that th Legislature would be called in session in the latter part of Januar or early February.

He said the money saved throug not holding a session this Fall—about $300,000—could be spent o building more badly-needed roads

He said a Fall session would b "extremely foolish" and a "waste o money".

Trapshooting Revival In Full Swing Here

B.C. Champ Rod McIndoe Power-Houses Effort to Set Up Club, Facilities

Attention All Trapshooters!

After more than 10 years' lapse, trapshooting is due for a strong revival in Nelson this Fall. The dynamic efforts of one man, Rod McIndoe, manager of the Savoy Hotel, have reintroduced this once widely enjoyed sport at a 5-acre site on the C.P.R flats.

Not stinting either time or money, McIndoe has singlehandedly built complete facilities for a new Nelson Trap Club, including a trim concrete traphouse, carefully laid out cement walks and even outhouses for members' convenience.

Currently putting the finishing touches on his work, McIndoe is signing up interested Nelsonites and is only waiting for the arrival of a new automatic self-angling trap before starting the season.

McIndoe, an expert shot who won the B. C. Handicap Trapshooting championship in Victoria last July, stressed two important features of the new club:

He and other experienced shooters will take special pains to teach and encourage amateurs, who have already responded in surprising numbers:

Both men and women, and everyone from laborer to bank president, will be welcome in the Club. A club-house will soon be put up, and members can look forward to food and fun besides the shooting.

Raised in Vernon, where he was in the hotel business and was popularly known as "the shooting hotel-man", McIndoe came to Nelson last December with his wife and 12-year-old daughter Barrie to take over the Savoy.

The so-called "clay pigeons" used in trap-shooting are actually small colored discs made of tar and easily shattered. Shooters standing in position on the walks pick off the pigeons as they are ejected at different angles from the trap-house, which lies 16 yards in front. The average bird is hit at a distance of 40 yards from the shooter, when it is about 20 feet above the ground.

Trapshooting, says McIndoe, is one of the oldest forms of sport. Enjoyable in itself, it is also excellent practice for duckshooters, marksmen and others.

McBride Golf Trophy on Block Here Sunday

First-draw times in the Senior Members' Tournament of the Nelson Golf and Country Club were announced Friday by Bruce Latremouille, match committee chairman.

The tournament leads off at 9:30 Sunday morning. The details are:

9:30—R. L. McBride vs B. Townsend.

9:35—Ed McGregor vs Bill Anderson.

9:40—Herb Peacock vs T. R. Wilson.

9:45—Louis Hanic vs J. D. Kerr.

Winner of the tournament receives the McBride Trophy, posted some years ago and based on the handicap play. Current champ, Tom Mansell, is out of town and will be unable to defend his title.

We Had to Earn It —Stengel

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 26 (AP) —"Nobody gave us anything. We had to earn it." That was the way manager Casey Stengel and his New York Yankees summed up their successful drive to the 1952 American League pennant.

The grizzled old Casey set the pace for his boys as reporters and photographers jammed the Yankee dressing room after Billy Martin's 11th-inning single with the bases loaded wrapped up the New Yorkers fourth straight flag.

"That was a good, tough club we beat tonight. They're typical of what we had to contend with all season. Almost every club was in the fight most of the way, and they never gave you a thing. We had to win it the hard way, like we did tonight, with home runs."

Stengel was in a great mood as he praced up and down the locker room praising everyone on his ball club, all the teams in the American League and even Brooklyn Dodgers, the National League champions.

"They're a great team the Dodgers," said Casey as he spoke in between drinking a can of beer. "But we've got five days to worry about them."

Someone asked if the Yankees had scouted the Dodgers.

"What's the difference. Maybe we did, maybe we didn't. We don't have to worry about them until next week," said Stengel.

But did you scout them, insisted one reporter.

"We'd be awfully stupid if we didn't," replied Casey.

The Yankee Manager said he did not know who would pitch the first game of the world series. The only thing I'm sure of is that I'm going to rest my shortstop. He referred to Phil Rizzuto.

Rizzuto, who was standing in the middle of the room in his birthday suit, seemed satisfied when he was told about Casey's decision to give him a rest.

"This is a young men's game. You have to give way to the young fellows, you know. If Casey wants me to rest, I'll rest," said the scotter.

There seemed to be quite a few Yankees who needed a rst. Billy Martin, hero of the pennant-clinching game, showed two bloodied knuckles where he had been hit by a Harry Byrd pitch during the game. Hank Bauer had a big red welt on his chest, and a bruise just above his right elbow, where he took a Byrd pitch. Gene Woodling, who got into the game as a pinch hitter, has a groin injury.

The Yankees have won four straight pennants but the thrill of each new one seems ot be just as great. Stengel hugged and kissed Martin as they got into the dressing room.

He told photographers he'd pose anywhere, even under the table, if they wanted.

Then he called for the heroes of the game, Sain, Irv Noren and Mickey Mantle, to join in the picture taking. Eddie Lopat came in to thank Sain for doing such a fine relief job after coming in for Lopat in the sixth.

IN THERE PITCHING for the West Kootenay women's fastball championships are the Nelson Royals, who will come up against Castlegar Kats this Sunday at Nelson in what may well be the final game of the series. Royals lead the series three games to two, with two ties.

Kats, Royals In Possible Final Sunday

Nelson Royals and Castlegar Kats tangle Sunday at Nelson in what could be the deciding game of the West Kootenay Women's Fastball championships.

Nelson Royals, who lead the best of seven series three games to two with two ties, could well walk off with the title Sunday. If the Kats win final and deciding game will likely be held in Castlegar Wednesday.

Lineups are as follows:

Castlegar Kats — Vera Kanigan, Vi Miros, Betty Jean Lampard, Lil Woodrow, Mary Randall, Belle Gray, Eleanor Dalling, Kay Adshead Tillie Cheveldave, Blanche Deverson, Anne Kastrukoff, Helen Strellef, Lorraine Martini, Joy Saunders, Joyce Swihart, Alice Zaitsoff and Culley.

Nelson Royals — Chris Chapman, Barbara Perdue, Mary McGinn, Marie Stangherlin, Eunice Chase, Olive Tedrick, Geordie Procter, Elsie Appel, Pauline Popoff, Helen Kanigan, Mary Rusell, Patsy Ozey and Verda Pratt.

U. S. Football to Open 33rd Season

NEW YORK, Sept. 26 (CP) —The National Football League will open its 33rd season Sunday with a new member, Dallas, playing New York Giants while last season's playoff teams, Los Angeles Rams and the Cleveland Browns, meet in a contest which could knock the loser out of this year's title race.

Bums Confident

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Sept. 26 (AP) —The word "Yankee" on a uniform shirt no longer means superman to Brooklyn Dodgers.

Relaxed after clinching the National League pennant Monday, the Dodgers confidently wait for New York Yanks to end matters in the American.

When you've lived with the haunting memory of New York Giants and the 1951 collapse for 12 months, the Yanks can hold no terror. That nightmare of September, 1951, was a throbbing thing.

"Nobody would admit it," said Pee Wee Reese, Dodger Captain. "But after it was all over we knew we had it in the back of our minds.

"Like I told Jackie Robinson after we clinched it we all were thinking 'can we blow this again?' With the Giants getting close and us losing, it looked too much like the same pattern as last year.

"Why should we worry about the Yankees? All we have to do is get ourselves hepped up about the series."

Winnipeg Wants Grey Cup Finals

By AL VICKERY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WINNIPEG, Sept. 25 (CP) — A piece of business on the Canadian Rugby Union's annual meeting agenda next Spring is likely to be: "Consideration of Winnipeg as a site for the Grey Cup final."

From present indications it will receive a mixed reception.

This city will have a new 10,000-capacity stadium with bleacher space for another 20,000, it was announced today, but the idea it might "steal" the football classic from Toronto received some opposition. The stadium will be ready Aug. 1, 1953.

Club and league officials in Eastern Canada believe it is a good idea to have such a park but they all took the view that it is up to the C.R.U. to decide about venue of last-Saturday-in-November spectacle. Some Western sports writers are afraid the frigid late-November weather conditions are against a Winnipeg final.

The C.R.U. constitution says the game must be held in Toronto and it is up to delegates—from the Western Canada conference, Big Four and O.R.F.U. to change it if they wish.

Maurice Smith, sports editor of the Winnipeg Free Press, said today that "Manitoba weather just isn't made for football late in November."

"Not only would it be tough on the players but we don't think the spectators—even if 27,000 of them (Varsity Stadium capacity)— did turn up—would be very comfortable sitting in open stands watching a game.

"No, we're afraid that neither Winnipeg nor any other prairie football centre will play host to the Grey Cup final, unless they decide to play it in September. And there doesn't seem much chance of that."

Mawhinney Loses

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif., Sept. 25 (CP)—Bill Mawhinney of Vancouver was swept into the also-ran category of the California amateur golf championship today along with the defending champion, the medalist and another Pacific Northwest star.

Mawhinney lost to Henry Timbrook of San Francisco, who shot the finest golf of the day—three under par—in registering a 3 and 2 decision. Timbrook is former Indiana state champion.

Ken Venturi, 21-year-old San Francisco player who won the title last year, was beaten 3 and 1 by Verne Callison of Sacramento, Calif.

Gene Littler, 22-year-old former Navy man from San Diego who paced the qualifying rounds with a two-under-par 142 for 36 holes, was beaten by Jerry Douglas of Riverside, Calif., 3 and 2.

Al Mengert of Spokane, finalist in the national amateur at Seattle last month, was beaten by Bud Holscher of Pacific Beach, Calif., 2 and 1.

Strikes and Spares

Dot Waterer Thursday night led the mixed Commercial League, sweeping the alleys with a 687 aggregate. Thelma MacKenzie scored for single honors.

For the men it was Bruce Malcolm of Dynamos who led the bowlers, rolling a 281 single and 681 aggregate. Other 600 scores were made by Bill Horner, 673, Lou Gagnon, 650, Bob MacDonald 633, Thelma McKenzie 629, and Fred Koehle 624.

Team honors went to Greyhound with an 1122 single and Dynamos with a 2894 aggregate.

Yanks Win 19th Pennant

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 26 (AP)—New York Yankees won their fourth straight American League pennant tonight with an 11th-inning rally that beat Philadelphia Athletics 5-2. The victory gave the Yankees their 19th championship in 32 years—the most times any major league team has won the flag.

Johnny Sain, a 34-year-old righthander who pitched Boston Braves to a National League pennant in 1948, was the winning hurler. He pitched 2 1-3 innings of scoreless relief after squelching a Philadelphia threat in the bottom of the ninth.

The Yanks won the game when Billy Martin cracked a two-out bases-loaded single in the top of the 11th to drive in two mates and pave the way for the victory.

Harry Byrd, brilliant rookie righthander who went all the way, was charged with the loss.

The victory gave Manager Casey Stengel of the Yankees the distinction of leading a team to four straight pennants, previously accomplished only by Joe McCarthy and John McGraw.

It was the Yanks sixth victory in a row and their 20th in the last 24 games. The Yanks now lead the second-place Cleveland by three full games. Each team has two games left to play. Even should the Indians win their two and the Yankees lose their two, the Yanks would still lead by one game at the close of the campaign.

Until Martin wrapped up the Yankee victory with his decisive single, all runs for both sides resulted from home runs. Irv Noren, subbing for the ailing Gene Woodling, socked his fifth homer of the season in the third. Mickey Mantle rapped his 23rd round-tripper in the fourth. Gus Zernial homered for the Athletics. His blow, a tremendous wallop that went over the roof in left centre field and sailed out of the park, followed a sixth-inning single by Dave Philley and tied the score at 2-2. It was the outfielder's 29th of the season.

Martin's game-winning blow, his first hit of the game, came at a time when it seemed young Byrd would pitch his way out of his worst jam of the game. He had pitched brilliant ball for 10 innings, permitting only four singles, besides the two-round-trippers.

In sharp contrast, southpaw Eddie Lopat, who started for the Yankees, was rocked for 11 safeties in the 8 2/3 innings he worked, but had stayed even with Byrd because of some brilliant fielding support by his teammates.

By The Associated Press

Brooklyn Dodgers gave their second-string hurlers a good workout today to get in shape for baseball's world series.

The Dodgers, waiting for the American League championship to be decided, beat Boston Braves 8-4 in their National League game.

Carl Erskine, who may open the world series for Brooklyn next Wednesday, was the starting pitcher but worked five leisurely innings, then retired.

Rookie Ken Lehman relieved Erskine and received credit for his first victory. Jim Wilson was the loser. Billy Cox hit a home run for the Dodgers.

Musial May Take Mound to Pitch for Rival

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 26 (AP) — Versatile Stan Musial of St. Louis Cardinals, alternately an outfielder and first baseman in recent seasons, may get a chance Sunday to pitch against his rival for the National League hitting championship.

Cardinal manager Eddie Stanky disclosed today plans for the bit of nonsense for the club's final game of the season — if the Cardinals have clinched third place before then and if League President Warren Giles approves.

Musial will be shooting for his sixth league hitting championship in the three-game, season-ending series with the Chicago Cubs starting tonight. He had a .336 average before tonight's game, with Frankie Baumholtz of the Cubs trailing by only six points.

Musial is no stranger to the mound. He broke into pro baseball as a pitcher. But he hasn't pitched since an arm injury 12 years ago turned him from a Class D pitcher into one of the greatest hitters in the major leagues.

Nelson Curlers At Seattle Spiel

Four Nelson curlers currently attending the Seattle Bonspiel have "a very good chance of taking the honors" Harold H. Hinitt said Friday.

Hinitt, newly elected president of the Nelson Curling Club, recalled that a Nelson contingent came within an ace of winning at Seattle's first bonspiel last year, but were downed by Trail in the finals.

Lou Chase, Walt Wait, Dr. L. T. Maurer, and Harold Holmberg left for Seattle Wednesday morning. Bonspiel finals are expected on Sunday and the party returns to Nelson Monday.

The Seattle Club is small, said Mr. Hinitt, but the Nelsonites will meet stiff competition from Vancouver, Trail, Vernon, Kelowna, and other centres.

It'll Be a Long Beard

CLEVELAND, Sept. 26 (AP) — A permant for New York Yankees concerns no one more than bearded tavern owner Lloyd Culp. A shave for at least another baseball season would cost him $400.

Culp, 40, started the beard in May, 1951, when he bet business man Tommy O'Toole $400 he wouldn't shave until the Indians took a flag. So now, glancing at the beard, he thinks about 1953.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X E
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

X Z Y D D Q H I D Q T J T W N A T I Z R Z B
X T N I P, Y B K D Y O B Z I, X E R F S O R F Z O D
T X O Y D I J E W N I D P — I T S D I B E D.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: FOR STORY AND EXPERIENCE TELL US, THAT MAN GROWS OLD AND WOMAN JEALOUS—PRIOR.

Market Trends

NEW YORK, Sept. 26 (AP) — The stock market maintained a steady base most of the session today but turned down at the close.

Gains and losses were largely fractional with the extremes going to between 1 and 2 points either way. Trading came to an estimated 1,200,000 shares.

Canadian stocks showed little change. Dome advanced ⅛ as Hiram Walker dropped ¼. Canadian Pacific, nickel, McIntyre and Distillers were unchanged.

TORONTO (CP) — Prices declined slightly toward the close with only golds showing some strength.

A majority of losses in gold prospects, however, depressed the section in spite of gains in leading index stocks.

Volume totalled about 1,900,000 shares.

MONTREAL (CP) — An irregular tone prevailed in dull trading towards the close.

Prices seldom strayed more than a half point in either direction. Canadian Vickers, up a point Thursday, added 1½ at 19½. Bank of Commerce added one at 29 for the only major movement.

Missionary Held by Red China . . .

"Church Must Meet Challenge of Communism World Mission"

A story of imprisonment and interrogation by the Chinese Communists involving the larger story of how the Reds took control of China was quietly and dispassionately related by a medical missionary Wednesday evening.

In an hour's address to a large audience at St. Paul's United Church, Dr. Stewart Allen, who served in China for 21 years and was imprisoned for 20 months, told something of the story of the 2000 missionaries who decided to remain in China when the Communists took over.

It was a story of high hopes followed by gradual disillusionment, and at the same time one of faith which was fortified rather than weakened by great obstacles.

Introduced by Dr. F. M. Auld, himself a missionary for mny years in North China, Dr. Allen spoke of his pleasure at being in Nelson where he met relatives and friends some of whom he had not seen for 40 years.

Dr. Allen's first contact with the Communists came in 1946 when he toured Northeast China inspecting medical needs and entered Communist-controlled territory for the first time. He was told: "Yes, we will welcome all technical and medical aid from doctors, nurses, and others, provided you are willing to work with and for the people. Whether you are Christians or not is not so important."

Later, the United Church missionary was to discover what the Communists meant by "the people" but at the time he, like many others felt he had been given a real, if partial, welcome, and that he would be able to carry on his work as superintendent of the United Church hospital at Chungking when the Communists were in control. He was warned however, that the mission schools would not be allowed to continue teaching Christianity; everyone was to be given thorough Communist indoctrination.

AGITATORS PLANTED

When, in 1949, the Communists gained control of all of China, work went on as before at the hospital, and difficulties came not directly from the new government but from certain members of the hospital staff who had previously been planted there as agitators. After a difficult year, however, Dr. Allen and his colleagues succeeded in winning their cooperation, and the government, "which could not tolerate individuals with a following who were not completely behind the new regime", appointed an agent at the hospital to try to accumulate evidence against Dr. Allen and eventually to take action against him.

On Dec. 20, he was suddenly called from his home to appear before an accusation meeting which was intended to discredit him before the hospital staff. When, much later, a Communist official was asked by someone speaking in Dr. Allen's behalf, whether it was right to punish a man for what he has not done, the official replied that in general it was not, but that on the other hand the loyalty of staff and students to the regime was of overriding imporance.

20-MONTH ORDEAL

There followed a 20-month ordeal during which Dr. Allan was held incommunicado, accused of the blackest crimes, and remorselessly interrogated. Small incidents from previous years were deliberately distorted and brought up against him. Glossing over this period in his speech, Dr. Allen said calmly: "Whether such accusations were true or not didn't very much matter, because you were in prison as a guilty man who had to prove himself innocent", and the whole intention was to prevent such proof.

As Christian missionaries, Dr. Allen and his fellow prisoners felt that they must maintain their morale, and put the best possible face on the situation. From the day of his first interrogation at Christmas-time, he said, he had faith in the Cross as his source of strength, and believed firmly that he would ultimately be released.

Dr. Allen told how time spent in prison turned out to be a blessing in disguise for himself and for many others. He said that most of the prisoners experienced a great revival and freshening of their faith, and used their time for reading, writing, thinking and in one case for the composing of hymns. It was the Christians' aim to come through the experience without bitterness or malice towards their captors, and most succeeded.

"The kind of persecution which the early Christians suffered", was how Dr. Allen characterized the present situation of Chinese who have remained loyal to the Church. He traced the history of increasing persecution, telling how at first it was believed that Christians could continue their missionary work, but how it became clear that the new Communist "freedom of protest and demonstration" included the freedom to oppose religion as such, so that in the end Chinese Christians were forced to desert the Church or pretend to do so.

PRAY FOR THEM

"What can we do for them?" asked Dr. Allen. Earnest prayer was all he could suggest.

While giving conditional praise to the Communists' early work among the people, telling how they instituted land reform, controlled inflation, and brought in social reforms which included a new marriage law giving more enlightened protection to women than that now operating in the Province of Quebec, Dr. Allen explained how other elements gradually infiltrated into the new movement.

"The people" were soon defined as those who gave unconditional support to the Communists. All others were considered traitors in one degree or another, and were denied all rights and privileges. "All of China's 15 million people, excepting only those who are too old or still in infancy, are given indoctrination in classes of 15 or 20 with the aim of complete ideological conformity." Classes were voluntary, but those who stayed away were severely dealt with.

WORLD MISSION

"Communism is an ideology which hopes to permeate the world," said Dr. Allen, citing cases of what ordinary people in China had said to him to illustrate his point. "It has a sense of world mission which is quite the equal of the missionary sense of the Christian Church."

"We must accept the challenge now," he declared. Only by being truly Christian ourselves, and by sending missionaries to countries not yet under Communist control, could we hope to counter the challenge successfully.

Dr. Allen was thanked for "a modest and searching presentation", and a question period followed. The service concluded with an offering, prayers and a hymn.

Banker Against Parity Agreement

L. Stuart Mackersy is one banker dissatisfied with the present high discount rate on the Canadian dollar.

Mr. Mackersy, general manager of the Imperial Bank of Canada, now on a tour of British Columbia stated Canadian exporters are suffering because of the high discount.

Mr. Mackersy believes Canadian and American dollars must be brought back to equal value or within one cent "one way or the other."

PARITY, ESSENTIAL

"Parity, or near parity, is absolutely essential," he said.

Mr. Mackersy is against an arbitrary return to parity by agreement between the governments of Canada and the United States.

Such an agreement, he said, would be "disastrous." It would put government back into the field of foreign exchange control.

Parity can be attained without "artificial" props, he said, by U. S. investments in Canada and a reduction of municipal borrowings in the United States.

The Edinburgh-born banker started his Canadian career 40 years ago as a bank clerk in Cranbrook, B. C.

U.K. Residents Watch Alta. Oil

EDMONTON, Sept. 26 (CP) — Henry G. Birks of Montreal, president of Henry Birks and Sons, Ltd., said today that there is considerable interest in the United Kingdom in Alberta oil development.

Mr. Birks, who returned in July from a visit to the United Kingdom said in an interview that British investments in Alberta oil development would be greater if United Kingdom residents could get Canadian dollars for investment.

Mr. Birks, a past president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, said that superficially Britain "seemed to be better off than when I was there two years ago but actually or basically, I am not so sure this is the situation."

He was in Edmonton in the course of his annual tour of his firm's Western branches.

ALPINE NEAR READY TO SHIP

SPOKANE — In a letter to stockholders received yesterday, Alpine Mining Company reported that the "time is near" when the company will be shipping ore. The company stated construction of a boarding house, office building, power plant and other buildings has been accomplished and underground work continues.

The firm says the shaft is now down 75 feet and has been averaging two feet a day. At 100 feet, the letter notes, the firm contemplates opening up stopes for mining.

U. S. Zinc Output Nears Demand

SPOKANE — Zinc production last month was almost equal to shipments and this balance is regarded as encouraging, trade sources indicate.

The zinc industry in the United States claims that it is impossible to produce zinc efficiently and profitably at any price lower than 15 cents a pound.

This price is deemed essential to assure the industry of a reasonable return on its investment. The zinc industry has pointed out that while low prices may seem attractive to consumers now they could actually hurt users in the long run if zinc mines are forced to close down and production reduced.

Given a minimum fair price the industry believes, the interests of producers and consumers would be served best by stability in price and production.

REVISED GOAL SET

A revised goal of 40,000,000 pounds of contained tungsten a year for tungsten ores in 1954 has been set by the defense production administration, the agency announced recently.

This is 6,000,000 pounds a year above the goal set in a revision last August 1, and 31,000,000 pounds greater than the 1950 rate of new supply.

The new goal does not apply beyond 1955. Producers are required to offer their tungsten to industry at $65 a short ton unit, and if it cannot be disposed of, the defense materials procurement agency will buy it at $63 a unit.

Sugar Beet Company Delays Digging

RAYMOND, Alta., Sept. 26 (CP) —Representatives of the Canadian Sugar Factories Ltd., and the Growers' Association have decided to halt digging of sugar beets because of the dry ground.

Factories have a good reserve of beets in the sheds so the mill run will not be affected. Raymond, Taber and Picture Butte factories are all operating as usual and will continue to operate. Beets now out of the ground will be delivered.

Mint's Price for Fine Gold $33.586875

OTTAWA, Sept. 26 (CP) — The finance department today reported the mint's price for a fine ounce of gold was $33.586875 during the week ended Sept. 27, based on the week's average exchange rate of .959625. Gold is fixed at $35 an ounce in United States funds.

Calgary Livestock

CALGARY, Sept. 26 (CP) —Trading was active and prices steady on the Calgary livestock market today. Receipts continued light; with only 250 cattle and calves on offer a good cleanup for the weekend was in sight.

Good to choice butcher steers and heifers were fully steady. Cows were in keen demand at strong prices, bulls steady at the week's decline. Good stocker and feeder steer were in limited demand at steady prices.

Hogs closed steady Thursday at $23.90, while sows gained 25 cents at $12.75. Good lambs advanced 75 cents, closing at $20 to $20.75.

Good light butcher steers 20.50-22.00, good heavy butcher steers 23-24.25, common to medium 16-20.00. Good to choice butcher heifers 18.50-21.00, common to medium 15-18.00. Good light cows 14-15.00, common to medium 11.50-13.50, canners and cutters 7-11.00.
