Devalue Pound

Canadian Policy Known Tonight; London Cuts Sterling to $2.80 in Dramatic Bid for Dollar Sales

LONDON, Sept. 18 (CP) — Britain, in a dramatic [illegible] Increased sales in the world's dollar markets, tonight reduced the value of the pound sterling by almost one-third—from $4.03 to $2.80.

Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, explained in a half-hour broadcast that it is hoped the move, by cheapening the price of British products, will stimulate exports and help narrow the dollar gap.

He admitted, however, that there is another side to the devaluation picture—imports from the dollar countries will cost more. As a result, the price of bread, made largely from Canadian wheat, will go up from 4½ pence to sixpence a loaf.

In Canada the Dominion Government Sunday night ordered suspension in foreign exchange dealings until Tuesday. The announcement came following a meeting of Finance Minister Abbott with his advisers. There was some speculation in Ottawa that the Government might devalue the Canadian dollar which is officially valued at par with the United States dollar but discounted from six to 10 cents in day-to-day trading in New York. Mr. Abbott was to make a statement Monday night.

Sir Stafford's broadcast was made just a little more than 24 hours after his return from the Washington economic talks with Treasury Secretary John Snyder of the United States and Finance Minister Abbott of Canada.

Announcements in various capitals showed that other countries are taking or planning similar steps.

Other countries which followed suit in cutting the value of their currencies 30½ per cent in terms of the dollar included:

South Africa, Australia, New Zealand, India, the Republic of Ireland, Norway Denmark, Egypt and Israel.

Announcements are due later from Holland and Sweden.

CLOSE EXCHANGES

Most of the affected countries ordered their Stock Exchanges and currency markets closed until arrangements can be made to cushion the effects of the changes in money values.

Sir Stafford said devaluation was an immediate step to bring down the cost of British goods. Now the accent must be more than ever on means of increasing production without adding to costs.

In this regard, he made a strong appeal to the country's working force to abandon demands for increased wages which have been intensified in the last few days, notably by railway and engineering workers.

Union leaders Saturday urged half a million British railway workers to abandon their threatened slowdown for higher wages.

The appeal by the National Union of Railwaymen came as a new rash of wage disputes spread over the British Isles, involving 4,000,000 organized workers.

AIM AT QUICK RETURN

Britain hopes she can get her increased dollar earnings under way before the full effect of the price increases at home are felt. Otherwise, the devaluation may be of limited value, since the market prices of Britain's goods must go up if wages and raw materials costs increase.

Sir Stafford said Britain is running the risk that its dollar earnings could not support its flow of essential imports, especially after the European Recovery Plan stops pumping dollars into Britain in 1952. In the old days, he said, the problem might have been met by unemployment and brankruptcy—but "there can be no question of this Government accepting such a policy."

The cut in the pound, in effect, brought its rate down to the black-market level. The pound has been worth only $2.80 lately in the free market in Switzerland, but only the official $4.03 rate was recognized in most international trade. Tourists were permitted to bring only a small number of free market pounds into Britain.

Sir Stafford said the step he had announced was the most serious the Government could take.

TERRIFIC IMPACT

Snyder said in Washington that the British devaluation should result in an early rise of Britain's dollar resources. He called it a constructive economic step.

The decision to lower the rate of the pound is the biggest world financial sensation since Britain came off the gold standard in 1931. Its impact on international monetary markets will be terrific.

Count 121 Noronic Dead, 84 Missing

"Bodies Were Falling All Around, Screams Mingled With Moans"

TORONTO, Sept. 18 (CP)—Huddled in hospital corridors and the lobby of a downtown hotel, burned and hysterical passengers of the Noronic told today of a night of horror and heroism in which they were hauled or scrambled from the burning ship.

For a half-hour after flames enveloped his ship, Capt. William Taylor was still standing in the bows, throwing ropes to passengers clambering over the side. As he was being taken ashore on a fireman's ladder the ladder broke and he fell into the icy bay and had to be pulled out.

Passengers said that before the captain left the ship he burst in cabin doors, hauling women out on deck.

HEROISM

Passengers told of the heroism of crew members, of Chick Yates of Vancouver who lowered two women over the side and then found himself trapped and had to dive into the bay.

Alfred Peterson, a watchman, said the fire was "a lot worse" than the blaze that destroyed the Noronic's sister ship Hamonic at Point Edward near Sarnia July 17, 1945. Peterson was a survivor of the Hamonic fire in which one man was drowned and $1,000,000 damage caused.

"People were screaming and jumping without thinking," he said. 'Bodies were falling all around me on the deck and soon the screams were mingled with the moans of the injured."

"EVERYWHERE A BODY"

Special Officer D. P. R. Brown of Port Arthur was at the captain's side during most of the fire.

"One woman became hysterical and put her fist through the door," he said. "When we got to her she was a mass of blood but we freed her."

Jack Feingold of Cleveland said he ran from his cabin screaming. As he stood safe on the dock minutes later he realized he still held a gin rummy hand.

A fire captain said most of the dead seemed to be elderly people who had been unable to leave their cabins.

"Every where you looked it seemed there was a body," he said.

Ben Kosman of Cleveland told how bell boys attacked the flames with fire extinguishers.

"They might have been trying to put out hell with their fountain pens."

Detective Cyril Cole of the Toronto Police said: "There must have been 25 or 30 of them threshing around in the water. They were shouting for help. We pulled them out."

Passengers praised Cole and Constable Roy Soplett.

"They were terrific," said Roy Kearns. "A lot of people owe their lives to those fellows."

Over 200 Likely Toll in Cruise Ship Inferno

Divers Probe Blackened Hull in Toronto Harbor; Gay Cabin Parties Turned Into Scenes of Panic

By R. J. ANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, Sept. 18 (CP) — The cold, official figures: 121 bodies in the morgue, 84 persons unaccounted for, 479 known survivors; total passengers and crew 684.

But the statistics meant nothing. In the submerged hull of the fire-swept S.S. Noronic tonight were other bodies—perhaps 50 or 60, firemen said. No figure was final.

It was almost certain that the death toll of the worst ship fire on the Great Lakes in a century would reach more than 200. It was probable that the toll never would be determined. It was certain that many of the dead would never be identified.

Today divers searched some parts of the burned hull and reported no bodies found. There were many parts of the ship still not searched and probably the number of bodies there would not be known until the hull is pumped dry in 10 days or so.

At the emergency morgue in the Canadian National Exhibition Grounds relatives fingered melted jewelry and pieces of clothing, seeking to identify the broken, burned bodies. As the night wore on another and another name was added to the list of identified dead.

The C.S.L. issued a passenger list containing 511 names late Saturday and said all of the crew of 173 escaped.

In bits and pieces tonight came the story of the holocaust that in 15 minutes early Saturday swept the 36-year-old Canada Steamship Lines cruise ship from stem to stern as she lay in her slip, leaving only a blackened, twisted hull resting on the floor of Toronto harbor. The cause of the fire that left the 6900-ton vessel a total loss was unknown immediately.

C.S.L. officials said it broke out in a lower-deck cabin as Noronic, crowded with 511 passengers and a crew of 173 on its last Lakes cruise of the season, lay overnight in its Queen's Quay slip. Some survivors said it started in a broom closet, near the "C" deck bar.

Within 15 minutes of its outbreak at 2:38 a.m. the grey black-hulled vessel, a short while before a scene of gay cabin parties, was aflame, its white superstructure blazing with sheets of fire that scorched the high "Canada Steamships Line" sign atop the wharf 40 feet distant on the starboard side. The C.S.L.'s lake ship Cayuga in an adjoining slip caught fire at the bow.

All that was left of the $5,000,000 Noronic tonight was a mass of debris down by the stern in 28 feet of water. Steel lifeboats hung bent and twisted by the heat in their davits. The bridge was gone. The bow pointed north towards the Toronto skyline and high out of the water. The name "Noronic" stood out unblemished on the stem in foot-high, white letters.

FLAMES TRAP MANY; SHIP WILD SCENE OF PANIC

There was panic immediately, survivors said. Within seconds the 362-foot ship, built largely of wood at Port Arthur in 1913, was a wild scene as men and women, many of them in night attire, rushed along the decks seeking safety either by jumping into the cold Lake Ontario water on the port side or by leaping to the wharf while the ship's crew fought the flames.

Most of the dead were trapped in their cabins but some persons were engulfed by the leaping flames as they sought vainly to jump to safety from upper decks. One of the most graphic descriptions of the scene came from Lucille Roberts of Detroit who told of one man trapped high in the ship:

"As I watched, the flames licked around him and you could hear him scream the last time. Then he disappeared."

The stories were largely the same: continued terror as city firemen fought flames not entirely quenched until noon; the heroism of many crew members and rescuers on the pier fishing survivors from the water; the screams of those trapped in cabins and beyond rescue and the panic of human beings caught by flaming death.

City firemen were unable to board the ship to fight the fire directly until 7:40 a.m. Until then the heat was so intense that only hose lines played from the pier could be used. The Noronic's captain, William Taylor, aided in fighting the blaze. Mayor Hiram McCallum said Capt. Taylor "stood on the bridge with a hose in his hand fighting the fire until the bridge collapsed under him." The Mayor charged that it was "definite" that the crew attempted to fight the fire before calling city firemen.

CAPTAIN FIGHTS FIRE, HAULS PASSENGERS TO SAFETY

For a half-hour after the fire's outbreak Capt. Taylor fought the fire and assisted fleeing passengers overside. Survivors said that before the captain left his ship he burst in cabin doors, hauling women out on deck. As he was being taken ashore on a fireman's ladder, the ladder broke and he fell into the water.

The death toll was the greatest since the steamship Pheonix burned in Lake Michigan Nov. 21, 1847, with a toll of 247 lives. The Noronic disaster occurred with the ship tied up to her pier, safety just the length of a gangplank distant. What the toll would have been had the fire broken out at sea was idle speculation.

In from Detroit and Cleveland, the Noronic had docked at 6 p.m. Friday continuing her last cruise of 1949. She was to have sailed for Prescott and the Thousand Islands, returning up-Lakes for her winter port of Sarnia, Ont. Most of the passengers were United States citizens.

How many children were among the victims could not be determined tonight. The blackened, charred bodies of what appeared to be young boys and girls were among those taken to a temporary morgue set up in the Horticultural Building in the Canadian National Exhibition Grounds two miles from the docks. There relatives sought futilely to establish identification.

Egyptians Conquer Channel

CAPE GRIS NEZ, France, Sept. 18 (AP)—Maj. Zason A. Ziganos tonight completed swimming the English Channel from France to England, and made Channel history by being the third man within 24 hours to swim the turbulent strait.

He stumbled ashore near Dover at 11:45 p.m. after having been in the water five minutes less than 19 hours.

A fourth swimmer today was Dr. George Brewer, 58-year-old London physician, who failed to make it on his 13th atempt at the feat.

CAP GRIS NEZ, France, Sept. 18 (AP) — Two Egyptian Army men swam the English Channel in opposite directions today.

Coastguardsmen at St. Margaret's Bay, near Dover, England, reported tonight that Sgt. Marie Hassan landed there from France at 9:12 p.m.

Just after midnight this morning, Lieut. Hassan Abdel Rehim completed a swim from England to France.

It was the first time in history that the English Channel "had been swum twice in one day.

Rehim made the treacherous crossing in 15 hours and 58 minutes and became the third person in history to conquer the Channel in both directions.

Rehim, a 41-year-old Lieutenant in King Farouk's Army, fought high winds and choppy seas in the West-to-East crossing. He swam from France to Britain last year in 17 hours, 47 minutes—some six hours over the record.

Rehim struck out from the beach at the village of St. Margarets, near Dover, at 10:34 a.m. GMT (5:34 a.m. CDT) Saturday.

The first thing he said, as he waded back into the surf to massage his tired legs with water, was: "The sea was very rough."

Cold water was an additional hazard for the Egyptian swimmer. When he left the British coast the water temperature was 67 degrees.

10,000 Estimated to Have Seen Exhibition

Saturday, "our biggest day," according to President Joseph Kary, swelled the total number of people estimated to have seen the three-day West Kootenay Exhibition at Nelson to about 10,000.

Accurate figures were not available Sunday night, but about 5000 people were estimated to have swarmed into the Civic Centre and midway, compared to 4000 on Friday and 2000 on Thursday. Mr. Kary said that financially, the Exhibition had "broken even."

The Saturday matinee performance of the grandstand show in the Arena was crowded to near-capacity, while in the evening the talented Seattle performers played to a house that was jammed to the rafters.

The midway operated by the Exhibition Association had its busiest session with all concessions catering to crowds. A big disappointment was the breaking down of the ferris wheel, which could not be operated at all Saturday.

Kootenay Kilties Band paraded in the afternoon, accompanying the Skating Millers of the grandstand show, who performed their roller-skating act on a platform on the top of a car.

NO PENSION FUND, NO WORK MINERS' THREAT

480,000 Angered Diggers May Walk Out Today.

"ON THEIR OWN"

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 18 (AP)—A new slogan—no pension fund, no work—rolled over the coalfields of the United States today with prospects of an over-night walkout rendering idle most of the country's 480,000 diggers.

Members of the United Mine Workers Union are angered by sudden suspension of all welfare-fund benefits topped by $100-a-month pensions to retired miners. This is the latest upshot of their drawn-out contract fight.

U.M.W. locals held heated weekend meetings to discuss the situation, but there seemed little doubt the strategy would be a protest walkout. There has been no strike call. U.M.W. heads say the miners are acting on their own initiative.

"The miners are pretty angry," commented John P. Busarello, President of U.M.W. District Five covering the Western Pennsylvania bituminous (soft coal) fields. "From what my field workers tell me, there will be very very few, if any, miners on the job tomorrow."

NO WORK VOTE

In the heart of Pennsylvania's rich fields at Johnstown, three U.M.W. locals voted to remain out of the pits "until a contract is signed or the welfare-fund payments are resumed." Pennsylvania employs 100,000 bituminous miners, 80,000 in the anthracite (hard coal) fields.

Eight thousand diggers in Utah and Wyoming led the way by walking out Friday. From Indiana came word of U.M.W. leaders that the state's 8500 miners will not report to work Monday.

In the Eastern Pennsylvania's anthracite fields there were indications the walkout would be fully effective. M. F. Brennan, President of U.M.W. District Seven in the Hazelton area, said many hard-coal miners have adopted the slogan "No pension fund no work."

It Wouldn't Run, But It Cost Money Just the Same

RESEDA, Calif., Sept. 17 (AP) — Thomas C. Freeman told the judge he'd patched and patched, trying to get his 13-year-old car to run. Finally he gave up, poured kerosene on it and set it afire.

Fifty dollars, said the judge — for burning rubbish without a permit.

Frank Morgan, Actor, Dies

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 18 (AP) — Frank Morgan, 59, well-known screen character actor, was found dead in bed at his home today.

His wife and a housekeeper said they had been in his room earlier but thought the actor was sleeping late and did not disturb him.

Later Mrs. Morgan said she went back, found that he was not breathing, and called an inhalator squad. However efforts to revive him were unavailing.

Morgan's latest film appearance was in "The Stratton Story," in the role of a baseball scout. He was one of the veterans of the screen and had appeared in such pictures as "The Great Ziegfeld," "Wizard of Oz," "Tortilla Flat," and "White Cargo."

The actor was an ardent yachtsman. In 1947 he won the California to Honolulu yacht race in his schooner Dolphin II.

Morgan's real name was Frank Wuppermen. He was born in New York City, June 1, 1890, and appeared on the stage in his youth.

New Currency Values

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 18 (AP) — Other countries in Europe the Commonwealth, and possibly Latin America, may revalue their currencies within the next few days, American government sources predicted privately following announcement from London of devaluation of the pound sterling. Many countries simultaneously followed Britain's move.

The new rates are:

Britai. The pound has been devalued from $4.0' to $2.80.

Australia: The Australian pound is reduced from $3.22 to $2.24.

Denmark: The kroner is reduced from 4.79901 kroner to the dollar to 6.90714 kroner to the dollar.

India: The rupee is reduced from 30.225 cents per rupee to 21 cents per rupee.

Norway: The Norwegian krone is reduced from $4.96278 kroner to the dollar to 7.13286 to the dollar.

Egypt: The value of the Egyptian pound is cut from $4.183 to $2.871.

Israel: Israel devalued its pound to the same level as the British pound, with which it has been at par.

WORLD SIGNIFICANCE

Other reaction:

Greece—Stock exchanges and all banks closed today. Premier Alexander Diomedes said "devaluation is of world-wide significance and the measures which the Greek government must take require attention." He said a further announcement will be made in due course.

Argentina — Business circles said they expect the Argentine peso to be devalued soon.

Finland — Bank of Finland will temporarily discontinue all foreign trade transactions, informed source reports.

Singapore — Boosts foreseen in sales of rubber and tin, and a marked increase in trade with dollar areas.

Spain—Exporters gloomy. Importers hopeful they can bring in more British goods at lower prices.

Belgium—Officials say no special measures are necessary.

Mexico—Trade with the sterling area expected to jump. Mexico lacks dollars; this shortage forced her to revalue the peso in July, 1948, from the old rate of 4.85 to the dollar. She stabilized it at 8.65 last June. Britain has had a favorable trade balance with Mexico since 1940.

Italy — The Cabinet was called into extraordinary session at midnight after Premier Alcide de Gasperi conferred with several ministers.

$42,000 in Bogus $10's Found

GUELPH, Ont., Sept. 18 (CP) — A cache of $42,000 in counterfeit $10 bills was seized early today by R.C.M.P. and City Police—the largset find since counterfeit currency started circulating recently across Canada.

Police said they arrested Frank Cipolla, 32, and charged him with possession of counterfeit money.

Cipolla's arrest came shortly after his 25-year-old wife and Edith May Lafreniere, 24, of Brockville, were arrested in Brockville. Brockville police said they found $1500 spurious money in Miss Lafreniere's room.

Police here said they found 42 bundles of bogus bills in a new cedar chest in Cipolla's bedroom. The bundles were made up in $1000 lots, each containing 100 $10 bills.

Police said that when they raided Cipolla's home "he was still asleep . . . He offered no resistance but just sat on the edge of the bed while we made the search . . ."

$1 MILLION IN URANIUM FROM N.W. TERRITORIES

OTTAWA, Sept. 18 (CP)—Canada's frozen North is yielding a rich harvest of uranium.

The Crown-owned Eldorado Mining Company disclosed in its annual report made public today that it got more than $1,000,000 worth of atomic-energy raw material out of the Northwest Territories last year.

This was stirring the Company to new drilling activity in northern Saskatchewan and it expected that new shafts will be completed by mid-1950.

Most of the uranium, the report said, was shipped to the dollar-rich United States market.

Through improved techniques and servicing the Company also believed that Canada was in the foremost position as a producer of such other kindred products as radium and its by-products for medical, industrial and research use.

2 Killed in Car, Train Collision

VIRDEN, Man., Sept. 18 (CP) — Two persons were killed Friday when a Canadian Pacific Railway passenger train collided with a stalled automobile near here. Two other persons in the car escaped unhurt.

Dead: George Gelhorn, 56, a Winnipeg sewer contractor, and Mrs. Susan Holstein, about 70, of Strasbourg, Sask., an aunt of Mr. Gelhorn. Mr. Gelhorn's wife and George Holstein, 22, of Strasburg suffered from shock.

Tories to Study Sterling Situation

LONDON, Sept. 18 (AP) — Winston Churchill, leader of the Conservative Party, said the party's consultative, assembly will meet Wednesday to consider the sterling situation.

Churchill and Anthony Eden, Deputy Conservative leader, conferred with Sir Stafford Cripps before the latter's radio announcement of sterling devaluation.

QUIET NEW FIRE

TORONTO, Sept. 18 (CP)—Fire broke out late today in the stern section of the charred steamship Noronic and brought fire trucks racing to Pier 9 of Toronto harbor.

Firemen with chemical extinguishers boarded the ship and emerged a few minutes later, reporting the smouldering extinguished.

Gallows for Prestyko

VANCOUVER, Sept. 18 (CP) — Walter Prestyko, 34, will be hanged Dec. 7 for the June 5 strangulation murder of 66-year-old Michael Geluch in his suburban home.

The cool, wavy-haired killer listened without emotion late Saturday as Mr. Justice James M. Coady sentenced him following 2½ hours deliberation by an all-male assize court jury.

There was no definite indication, following the verdict, when co-accused William John Worobec, 33, would answer to a second charge of murder in Mr. Geluch's death.

A long chain of evidence, including secret testimony by Worobec, led up to the death verdict today.

It included a blood-stained shirt and a beer-bottle bearing Prestyko's fingerprints found in the modest bungalow where the badly-decomposed body of Geluch and his wife were discovered. No charges have yet been laid in Mrs. Geluch's death.

During the trial Prestyko admitted visiting the Geluch home the night of the slaying, but denied any knowledge of the couple's death.

Over 172 Prisoners Killed in Jailbreak

SEOUL, Korea, Sept. 18 (Reuters)—Armed police troops killed more than 172 Communist Guerrillas and other prisoners in a vast manhunt following the escape Friday of 353 convicts from Mokpo jail, Southwest Korea, Justice Minister Kwon Sung Syul said today.

He said 120 prisoners, mostly unarmed, were still free in the mountains round Mokpo, on Korea's Southwest tip about 160 miles from Seoul.

Fortunes in Making

LONDON, Sept. 18 (Reuters) — Some big fortunes will be made by holders of gold shares and other people who had gambled on a fall in sterling and other soft currencies.

Those South African gold mines which have been working on a narrow margin at the old price of gold will find their profit margins increased anything up to six fold in extreme cases.

The devaluation automatically raises the London price of gold from its present level of 172s 3d ($48.45) to almost 250 shillings an ounce.

The exact price in London is likely to be 248s 7d., which is equal to 250 shillings delivered at New York.

Quebec Transit Back To Normal

QUEBEC, Sept. 18 (CP)—Public transportation was back to normal Saturday—except for a few suburban areas—as 122 striking garage employees returned to work after being granted an eight-cent hourly wage boost.

Magistrate Walter E. McBride, assessed the fine after testimony that Kohn climbed aboard a city water wagon and drove off while the attendant was in a restaurant.

HORSE OUTFIGHTS STARVING BEAR

TISDALE, Sask., Sept. 18 (CP)—Caribou district farmer Jack Mann today told how one of his farm horses won a fight with a half-starved bear.

Mann said that the horse, wheeling and slashing, pranced on its hind legs while the bear struck out with its forelegs like a boxer in their clash.

Mann finally shot the bear.

Miss Jean Van Evera, the author, became the bride of John Markle, II, of Haverford, Pa.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP)—The Armed Forces Institute of Pathology has another prized exhibit to go along with George Washington's false teeth.

The new item is an eye tooth extracted from the jaw of Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin of Britain. It is unusual not for its source alone, but because it has two roots instead of the customary one. Bevin had a Washington dentist pull it last Thursday, after its aching had troubled him during financial talks here.

And do the armed forces prize it?

Well, in order to get a picture of the new exhibit, Associated Press photographer Bill Chaplis had to go through channels that involved a guard at the Institute, a sergeant-receptionist, an Army colonel, a general, a major, a Navy commander and the custodian of the tooth, a lieutenant colonel.

Oh yes, the State Department had to give clearance too.

Death of Robson Man Caused By Heat Stroke

TRAIL, B.C., Sept. 18 — A heat stroke was found to have caused the death of Mike Turik, in his seventies, who was found dead in his home-made electrically heated steam bath at his home in Robson Friday night. Dr. J. S. Daly, District Coroner, conducted an inquiry.

Mr. Turik came to Canada from Austria in 1903 and arrived in Trail in 1908. He worked for the CM&S Co. and set up a rooming house in about 1916. In 1918 and 1919 he worked at the Pheonix mine. He returned to Trail and built the Trail Hotel in 1924, at the same site on which stands the new Trail Hotel, operated by his sons.

He has been living in retirement at Robson for about 10 years.

Besides his wife, Mary at Rob son, he is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Pete Soberiak and Mrs. K. Soberiak in Trail, Pearl in Austria and Mary at Castlegar; four sons, Michael, John and Frank in Trail, and Nick, student at U.B.C., and one sister, Pearl in Austria.

Alleged French Collaborators in Canada Questioned

OTTAWA, Sept. 18 (CP) — Allistair Stewart (C.C.F.—Winnipeg North) intends to revive in the Commons the matter of two alleged French collaborationists living in Canada.

Mr. Stewart gave notice today that on Monday he will ask for a copy of all orders-in-council, correspondence, telegrams and other documents in the possession of the Government, concerning Jacques de Bernonville and Michel Lucien Seigneur.

Mr. Stewart was in the thick of a campaign at the last session of Parliament to have the two men, alleged to have entered Canada on forged passports, deported to France where they have been found guilty in absentia of collaborating with the enemy during the Second World War.

Seigneur has been cleared by the Immigration Department for residence in Canada, and a deportation order against De Bernonville has been blocked by habeas corpus.

The Government has indicated it plans to appeal the habeas corpus action in De Bernonville's case, basing its deportation recommendation on the fact that he had tuberculosis when he entered Canada.

PROBES PLANNED

TORONTO, Sept. 18 (CP) — Three separate investigations will be made into the disaster aboard the passenger steam Noronic in Toronto harbor.

In Ottawa, the Transport Department ordered Capt. W. M. Morrison of Toronto, the Department's supervising examiner of masters and mates, to start a preliminary investigation.

A second investigation, to be held under Captain Sam Hill of Toronto, was ordered by the Toronto Fire Marshal's Department.

The third inquiry will be an inquest int othe deaths of the first 11 bodies recovered from the Noronic. This investigation will be conducted by Chief Coroner Smirle Lawson.

HEAVIEST GREAT LAKES DEATH TOLL IN OVER A CENTURY

By The Canadian Press

Loss of life in yesterday's fire aboard the steamship Noronic in Toronto harbor is the biggest death toll from fire on the Great Lakes in more than a century. In 1847, the steamship Phoenix burned in Lake Michigan with the loss of 247 lives.

A Canadian Press compilation of other major ship fires on the Great Lakes since 1823 follows:

June 16, 1823—Steamship Washington burned off Dunkirk, N.Y., Lake Erie, 30 dead.

Aug. 9, 1841 — Steamship Erie burned off Silver Creek, N.Y., Lake Erie, 175 dead.

Nov. 21, 1847—Steamship Phoenix burned in Lake Michigan, 247 dead.

June 18, 1850—Steamship Griffith burned in Lake Erie, 94 dead.

April 29, 1943—Fishing tug "Marjon S" burned after gasoline explosion, three dead.

July 27, 1943—Canadian oil tanker Bruce Hudson exploded at Chicago, Lake Michigan, four dead.

July 17, 1945—Steamship Harmonic, sister ship of Noronic, burned, one dead.

P.T.A., Schools, Others Stage Displays at Fair

Private displays and those set up by organizations continued to attract the crowds roaming through the West Kootenay Exhibition Saturday.

Among non-competitive exhibits was that of the Parent-Teacher Association, which featured models of a home and school. Literature from the University of British Columbia Extension Department was shown and a silver and blue chain represented the link between the P.T.A. and the school.

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion displayed fancy work and handwork, while fancy work was also displayed by Alec Marshall of Nelson.

A huge display of work from the Nelson schools extended about 100 feet in length and eight feet in height. Some beautiful art and other school work was to be seen.

Individual exhibits included one by Mrs. C. E. Bradshaw, who entered a collection of about 14 potted begonia, and another by Mrs. C. D. Pearson, whose clever leatherwork —handbags, umbrella holder, gloves, and so on—drew much comment.

Public Health Nurses of Nelson were on duty all during the Exhibition to explain the nature of their work and to distribute literature dealing with health.

Studied by scores of people were the oldtime photographs displayed by the Nelson and District Oldtimers Association. R. G. Joy, Historian for the Association, was in charge.

Some of the paintings of the late Will Bayliss were exhibited along with the art display.

Films continued to be shown, with A. M. Wilson, National Film Board representative in charge. One was on Newfoundland; another, "Morning Milk," put out by the Department of Health; and one on the Leduc, Alta., oil fields. Post Office and Department of Trade and Industry films were also shown.

BELIEVES BAR FIRE SOURCE

TORONTO, Sept. 18 (CP) L. Lindgram of Montreal, bar manager of the Noronic that burned early today at her berth here, indicated the fire may have started at her berth here, indicated the fire may have started in the bar.

Mr. Lindgram, his face and hands burnsd in an attempt to save $1000 from the bar till, said:

"I was on the top deck where the bar is when I saw the flames shooting out."

"I ran back to the bar, and just as I went in the door, flames shot up in my face.

The Noronic bar is colsed in port by a bylaw. A bartender said, however, some lights were left on in the room "so people can take their bottles in there and spend the evening."

East Trail to Get Better Water

TRAIL, B.C., Sept. 18—F. W. Banton, Acting City Engineer, at a meeting of East Trail property holders promised that the East Trail water situation would be remedied within a few weeks.

His explanation of the "foul tasting, foul smelling, and full of air" water which the residents of East Trail are now getting, was that the water was being temporarily chlorinated with a portable controller which did not work as well as the permanent controller. Air was being sucked up by the old pump from the deep well in which the water was very low.

Forest Fire Costs Heavy

VICTORIA, Sept. 18 (CP) —The B. C. Forest Service, with the fire season just about over, today reported the extraordinary cost to the Government of fighting forest fires this season at $79,766.

To date there have been 1625 fires.

This compares with 769 fires costing $39,481 to the same date last year and 1246 fires costing $57,574 to the same date in 1947.

While running well ahead of 1948 and 1947, the fire season has been favorable, according to forest protection officers. When the final figures are available it is expected that they will show the loss at less than average.

Nelson Kiwanis Whip Castlegar 33-12 In Annual Ball Game

In a wide open fastball game the Nelson Kiwanis Club team plastered the Castlegar Kiwanis all over the lot Sunday when they held their annual game. The score was 33-12. This was "sweet revenge" for the Nelson team as they were whipped by Castlegar last year to the tune of 13-11.

It was well-nigh impossible to keep any record of such a game, but one thing did come out: There were plenty of home runs scored by the Nelsonites, including two by Ken White in the sixth, one by Don Kennedy in the sixth and one by Lefty White in the sixth. Other homers were scored throughout the game.

After the fastball there was a basket picnic.

Thumb Sucker Brings Thief's Capture

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 17 (AP) — Dane Letcher, three, woke from his nap to find a strange man pawing through the bureau drawers. Dane quietly sucked his thumb until the man left.

Then he howled. His mother, Mrs. R. E. Letcher, rushed in and Dane told her what had happened. She called for help.

A block away, Police Chief Willim Shaffer caught a man who had tossed something down a coal chute. Said young Dane:

"That's the man who took my daddy's watch!"

They recovered the gold watch from the coal chute.

$1 Million Fire Destroys Plant

CASHMERE, Wash., Sept. 18 (AP)—A fast-spreading fire destroyed the huge plant of the Cashmere Fruit Growers Union here Saturday with loss estimated at nearly $1,000,000 in buildings, equipment and fruit.

By 10 a.m. the fire was dying, but had destroyed all the plant including a new cold storage unit built at the West end three years ago.

Cominco Display At Exhibition Attracts Many

A man who once used to have to do most of the listening on his visits to Nelson, was able to turn the tables while in the City Saturday.

He was G. W. (Curley) Wheatley, former well known senior hockey referee of Trail who used to absorb much of the verbal punishment hockey fans loved to hand out to a referee. This time, however, Mr. Wheatley did practically all the talking and he made sure a lot of people heard the message he had to deliver.

He was speaking on behalf of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada Ltd., of Trail, at the Cominco booth at the West Kootenay Exhibition at Nelson.

Consolidated's display created much interest, with scores of visitors stopping at the booth to hear about the giant operations at Trail and Kimberley. During the first two days of the Exhibition, H. W. Bayley, Public Relations head, and Alex Porteous, Editor of Cominco, officiated.

Huge charts clearly traced step by step the processes by which metals and chemicals are produced by Cominco, and these were carefully explained by the staff members. Samples of various metals and fertilizers were shown and there were many photographs of the plants and the Sullivan. An entire wall was taken up for a display of empty fertilizer sacks, all tagged with the names of countries the world over to show where the Company products go.

The safety equipment required to protect workers from injuries or death in both mine and smelter took up half of the booth.

Order Committee to Work Out Military Measures for Pact

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP) — The 12-power Atlantic Council Saturday ordered creation of a top-level military committee to work out "military measures for the unified defence of the North Atlantic area."

The Council of the Foreign Ministers also reported they had established a defence committee to be composed of the Ministers of Defence of each of the Atlantic powers.

A communique also brought out that as members of a "standing group" within the projected military committee the United States, Britain and France—the Big Three of the Western world—will play the dominant role in unifying Western defences under the Atlantic Treaty.

Trend Towards Unbalanced Trade Seen Before War

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

The main cause of the dollar problem is that the war destroyed the economic balance between North America and the rest of the world.

The monthly economic summary of the United Kingdom Information Office in Ottawa, starting with this well-accepted premise, proceeds to give a brief outline of how it was brought about. It says:

"North America increased its production enormously during the war and, at the same time, reduced its dependence on supplies from the rest of the world.

"For example, the United States developed a huge new synthetic rubber industry. This lessens her need to import natural rubber.

"On the other hand, the war left the rest of the world more dependent on supplies from North America.

"In nearly all parts of the world outside the Western Hemisphere, the war damaged industry and transport, and dislocated trade, while, despite war casualties, populations increased and needs became greater. In addition, many countries had to sell their investments in North America and lost their dollar income.

"The result is that the demand of non-dollar countries for dollar goods and services far exceeds the demand of dollar countries for non-dollar goods and services, so that the dollar is universally scarce."

The summary goes on to explain that while the war brought the problem to a head, economic maladjustment had been coming on for a long time. It quotes Sir Stafford Cripps as saying that quite apart from its wartime acceleration, there was a deep-seated tendency which would, in any case, have had to be dealt with some time.

The summary notes that Britain had to sell or pledge much of her dollar investments to pay for war supplies before the advent of lend-lease in March, 1941. Also:

"Britain herself paid for only 27 per cent of her dollar imports with exports of goods to the dollar countries before the war in 1938. . . . Today, Britain actually pays for a rather larger portion of her dollar imports with direct exports —36 per cent in the year ending March, 1949. But the gap in the dollar trade is still enormous."

The equatorial forest of the central Amazon area in Brazil is estimated to cover 1,000,000 square miles.

NANAIMO, B.C., Sept. 17 (CP) — A body was discovered in a thicket 10 miles North of here today and Provincial Police have tentatively identified the remains as those of Antoni Suknatckyz, 20, sought on a charge of arson.

They believe the discovery brings to an end a search which had continued since July 17 when a fire was discovered in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Strobolski, where the youth was employed as a baby sitter.

The two Strobolski children escaped the flames.

A home-made .22 calibre pistol was found under the body, lying near the Island Highway.

An inquest has ben ordered.

371,600,000 Bushels Wheat Crop Estimate

OTTAWA Sept. 18 (CP).—The Bureau of Statistics today estimated Canada's 1949 wheat crop at 371,600,000 bushels, down 20,000,000 from the first preliminary estimate made a month ago.

Canada's wheat production in 1948 was 393,345,000 bushels. The Bureau said sudden hot weather over the Prairies caused deterioration, accounting for the lower figure in today's second estimate of Canadian grain production.

Spring wheat production mostly on the Prairies is expected to amount to 347,494,000 bushels, compared with the 362,000,000 bushels estimated last month and the 367,332,000 bushels produced last year.

A slightly higher estimate was made for oats now expected to total 322,017,000 bushels, compared with 317,000,00 0bushels estimtaed last month, but lower than the 358,807,000 bushels produced a year ago.

Down from the August estimate of 126,500,000 bushels, barley production this year is expected to total 125,069,000 bushels. This compares with 155,018,000 bushels produced in 1948.

RYE BETTER

A better current outlook for rye was forecast by the Bureau. It estimated 1949 production at 10,361,000 bushels, compared with the previous estimate of 9,800,000. In 1948 Canada produced 23,340,000 bushels.

Flaxseed production is estimated at 2,262,000 bushels, compared with the previous 1949 estimate of 2,500,000. This is well down from the production of 17,683,000 last year.

Production of Spring wheat on the Prairies wtih last year's figures in brackets: Manitoba—59,000,000 bushels (57,000,000); Saskatchewan—187,000,000 (191,000,000); Alberta—96,000,000 (115,000,000).

Canada's 1949 potato crop, currently placed at 48,900,000 hundredweight, is down 6,300,000 hundredweight. However, if current production prospects are realized, the crop will be well above the 10-year averge of 43,800,000 hundredweight.

MOSES LAKE, Wash., Sept. 17 — (AP) — A United States F-84 jet fighter plane crashed near here early today while on a routine training flight.

Community Baby to Fulfill Prophecy

VILLAGE OF THE ARCHANGEL, HILLIERS, B.C., Sept. 18 (CP). — Gabriel Archangelovich I, first sanctioned child of this 180-member Doukhobor colony, has been hailed as the means to fulfillment of a Biblical prophecy.

The seven-weeks-old baby is the communal property of the Vancouver Island colony. He was dedicated by his mother, Florence Berikoff, at a unique ceremony last week. Elders of the community refuse to name the father, and say his identity doesn't matter.

The elders, represented by Joseph Podovinikoff, say the child's registration in their White Book is the first step in the establishment of a "Spiritual Community of Christ," and the culmination of 450 years of struggle towards its attainment.

Members of the sect, a wayward twig on the tree of Canada's 5000-strong Doukhobor minority, seek to purify themselves from all the taints of ownership and property. They caused a major furore in religious circles a few years ago when it became known that mates were shared.

The birth of Gabriel Archangelovitch I marks an extension of the same philosophy. He is the "property" of no one, but the responsibility of the entire community. His mother was allowed to conceive the child only after she had been declared "physically and morally fit" by the 24 elders and the group's leader, Michael (the Archangel) Verigin.

GUIDANCE FROM LEADERS

From these leaders will come the child's spiritual guidance.

"The new-born child," Podovinikoff says, "will have a leading role in the spiritual community."

His mission will be to redeem the 40,000 first-born male babies killed by King Herod in his search for the Christ-child. Then he will complete the number who make up the "one hundred and forty and four thousand" referted to as the Chosen in the Bible (Revelations, Chap. 7).

The elders believe the innocent infant victims of the worried tyrant will form a nucleus of the select kingdom of God. They say the remainder will come from their sect—those who renounce property connections and dedicate themselves to each other and collective humanity.

The Hilliers colony is the first to take so drastic a step toward an ideal propounded decades ago when the Doukhobors first broke with Czarism in Russia.

The main, or othodox, body, has to a great extent assimilated Canadian customs and adheres to Canadian laws.

The Sons of Freedom, who believe the orthodox group are traitorous to their ideals, cling to the old-time customs and hope for fulfilment of their prophetic destiny. Their protests with dynamite and the torch have brought them to the end of the patience of law enforcement officials, and they recently announced that their main settlements, in British Columbia's interior, would leave the country.

OFFSHOOT

The Spiritual Community of Christ, as exemplified in the community here, is in turn a sort of offshoot of the Sons. They follow their prophets with a distilled literateness.

Their attitude toward the baby, endowed with a number instead of a surname, is an example of this.

Since his birth, women who have attained the necessary standards of purity are encouraged to bear children. Intercourse has never been forbidden, but conception is only allowed by permit.

The moral purity of the colony, Podovinikoff says, is maintained "by conscientious discipline peculiar to the habits and traditions of the sect."

The group eschews "narrow forms of established religion" which "hamper the expanding spiritual evolution."

WAS REGISTERED

Although they object to Government registration as a form of "compulsory allegiance to the law of violence and strife," the elders say Gabriel Archangelovich I was delivered in the usual fashion by a doctor, and was duly registered with the Department of Vital Statistics.

First Sulfa Drug . . .

Secret That Could Have Saved Many Locked in Safe 25 Years

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

NEW YORK, Sept. 18 (AP)—In 1908 a German chemist made a new chemical, then stuck it away in a laboratory safe.

It lay gathering dust for 25 years, until in 1933 another German scientist took a look at it. Two years later he announced discovery of prontosil, first of the amazing sulfa drugs.

Prontosil was the chemical made in 1908.

It is one of the classics in stories of near-misses in medical research. By a hair's breadth, scientists have dismissed recognizing drugs that could have saved millions of lives if they had been put to use earlier.

Prontosil was one of the hundreds of chemicals made when Paul Ehrlich was seeking his magic bullets to kill germs. Why it was never put to a test is a mystery, Dr. Boris Sokoloff writes in a new book, "The Miracle Drugs" (Zigg-Davis Co.).

SAVED SERVICEMEN

Rediscovered in 1935, Prontosil was the springboard for chemical research that brought on sulfanilamide, sulfapyridine, sulfathiazole, and other sulfa drugs that fought certain infections like no other drug ever had. In the Second World War the sulfa drugs were one of the reasons why 97.3 per cent of all wounded United States servicemen survived.

Sir Alexander Fleming discovered penicillin in 1928. Mold spores floating in the air got on to Agar Plates on which he was growing bacteria. One mold produced this chemical that fought powerfully against the germs. He kept working at his discovery, but it attracted little attention.

It took a war to get penicillin born. Scientists took up the search that proved its usefulness, and made it possible to produce pure penicillin in huge quantities.

DDT has a Cinderella story, too. It was first made in Germany in 1874. But the chemist was looking for something else, and he shoved it aside. DDD was not recognized until 1939. It was 75 years late in being launched on its career against bugs. It could have been at work for years saving probably millions of lives from malaria, spread by mosquitoes.

New discoveries take time, and "in medical research there is no such thing as a wholly unexpected discovery," Dr. Sokoloff writes. "Almost every important disclosure is foreseen and predicted."

Looking Ahead in Ottawa . . .

Developments in Vets Legislation Not Expected Until Second Session

By the Ottawa Staff of The Canadian Press

OTTAWA, Sept. 18 (CP). — The first big development of the new Parliament in veterans legislation is not expected to break until the second session beginning early in 1950. The first session has just begun.

The development is believed to be extension of the burnt-out pension or war veterans allowance to cover United Kingdom war veterans who have lived in Canada 20 years or more.

The Imperial veterans have been seeking the change for years and the Department of Veterans Affairs had made a survey of the situation. The change would cost roughly $3,000,000 in the first year and would benefit some 4000 to 5000 of the 68,000 Imperials who would technically be eligible.

The allowance is paid to aged or needy veterans or widows of veterans and to some orphans.

Little chance is seen of establishment of a veterans committee of the Commons this session. The Government indicated in the Throne speech that there will be some amendments of the Veterans Land Act but these are minor.

One would allow for the transfer of the title to a small holding from one veteran to another if the former is transferred from his place of residence by his firm or otherwise forced to move.

SUPREME COURT

The polished marble halls of the Supreme Court of Canada—destined to become Canada's highest court of appeal—will bustle again Oct. 4, when the seven distinguished jurists open Autumn hearings.

While Parliament may consider Government legislation to abolish appeals to the Privy Council, the judges will handle a light roster of some 20-odd cases, most of them of a comparatively minor nature.

They will have the usual number of lawsuits, income tax and manslaughter appeals. There will be no major constitutional cases.

Silver, both in its pure form and as silver nitrate, is used extensively in medicine as a killer of bacteria.

PRINTERS END 22-MONTH STRIKE

CHICAGO, Sept. 18 (AP)—A.F.L. Printers today voted to end their 22-month-old strike against five Chicago newspapers. The vote was 1287 to 279.

The memorandum stated that employees who held priority rights before the strike will keep them if they report for work within 15 days after notice to do so.

It said that some time will be necessary to get type and composing equipment back into operation and to stop the present varitype and photo-engraving process. The publishers indicated they expect to have all strikers re-employed within 21 days.

The settlement proposal's provisions fall short of the demands for which the printers struck Nov. 24, 1947. It calls for a $10-a-week raise. The demand which precipitated the strike was $14.50.

Crisp Alpaca Faille

By PRUNELLA WOOD De Pinna

Alpaca faille is a wonderful town fabric when the weather is chilly enough to warrant a change from crepes. It tailors crisply and disdains wrinkles, and when it is time to wear a topcoat on the street, it is still warm enough for that alliance while never too hot for a heated indoors. This miss's model of alpaca faille comes in navy or black, and is basically what happened to the shirtmaker silhouette when that new look came in. Tabbed, big hip pockets, flaring collar and cuff points, stride fullness concealed by unpressed pleats, are the main fashion items.

For Parents

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

No Reason Why Tiny Tots Should Not Learn to Consider Adults

A college education should be a great asset to parents but book learning is no sure guarantee to wisdom in child rearing. Some highly educated parents don't face simple problems practically.

"Dear Dr. Myers: Both of us are college graduates, have had considerable experience in dealing with groups of children, and thought we understood children fairly well, until we had our own.

PART OF EVERYTHING

"Our two boys, ages 3 years and 18 months, seem to have completely 'taken over' at our house. The minute I sit down to rest, read, or write a letter, my small sons are upon me. Of course, they want a story or song. I allow for two such half-hour periods a day with them and am not reluctant to read an extra story at other times occasionally, or to play and romp with them. Always when I say, 'No, that is all,' there is a tantrum (the three-year-old, of course).

"Are we expecting too much of children of this age when we are thinking they should respect the rights of adults? One would think they had no toys, no place of their own in the home. Yet we have chosen their toys carefully, have provided a very adequate play space both indoors and out; each has his own bedroom.

Substantially as follows I replied: I greatly admire the patience of you parents with these little children and your efforts at letting them "help" you. But I strongly question your judgment in not defining clear limits and not holding these youngsters decisively to these limits.

No reason why these tots should not learn to wait and let you alone for reasonable periods and not to demand that you do for them immediately everything they want you to do. Once they learn to accept No as final they won't have tantrums as a weapon over you. Please study my bulletins enclosed —"Tantrums," "How Teach Tot Meaning of NO," and "Stubbornness" (to be had by others in a stamped envelope).

"Matter" Subject Lesson-Sermon

"Matter" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday.

The Golden Text was: "Tremble, thou earth, at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the God of Jacob." Psalms 114: 7.

The Lesson-Sermon included the following passage from the Bible: "Woe unto him that saith to the wood, Awake; to the dumb stone, Arise, it shall teach! Behold, it is laid over with gold and silver, and there is no breath at all in the midst of it." Habakkuk 2: 19.

Among the selections from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, was the following: "Matter cannot see, feel, hear, taste, nor smell. It is not self-cognizant,—cannot feel itself, see itself, nor understand itself. Take away so-called mortal mind, which constitutes matter's supposed selfhood, and matter can take no cognizance of matter."

A Place For Every Strand — Every Strand In Place

Neatness, with every end in place is the main theme of the hairdressers this season. Left is the hostess coiffure with broad waves carried round the head to emphasize roundness. The college coed, centre, gets away from the old idea of flaunted sloppiness, and careful, casual short styles, such as this one, replace the "untended mane." The smooth top smartly accented with a deep wave that dips flirtatiously over the forehead . . . waves at both sides . . . back hair clinging closely to the head in a series of miniature ringlets that may remain as such or be brushed upward for a smooth finish. "Be brief," is the hairdressers advice to the office girl and, right, note how the beautiful waves fall into halo patterns about the head and lilt slightly over the top of the ears. The neckline hair repeats the etched wave effect for an overall neatness.—Central Press Canadian.

VEAL CUTLET A LA CHEF

Order 1½ pounds veal steak or thin slices of veal cut from the leg. Cut in serving pieces. Then pound with a meat tenderizer or mallet until quite thin so it will cook quickly. Dust with salt and pepper. Dip in an egg wash consisting of 1 beaten egg mixed with ½ cup milk. Cover at once with fine dry bread crumbs seasoned with salt, pepper and onion salt. Fry quickly in hot fat, using enough to a little more than cover the bottom of the frying pan. Serve with brown sauce containing 6 sliced ripe olives.

DEEP DISH PEACH PLUM PIE

Peel, stone and slice 6 medium-sized peaches. Wash, stone and slice 4 ripe plums, any variety. Mix in ¾ cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon cinnamon and 1 tablespoon flour. Place in a well-buttered or margarined quart-sized baking dish; add ½ cup water and dot over ½ tablespoon butter or margarine. Cover with rich plain or cream cheese piecrust. This should rest on the top of the fruit. Press down the crust on the edges to seal in the juices. Slash the top in the center to let the steam escape. Brush over with milk and dust with granulated sugar. Place in a hot oven, 400 F. for 10 minutes. Reduce to 375 F. and bake 30 minutes more. Serve warm or cold.

A thirteenth of the earth's crust is aluminum. It is found in mountains and gems, in vegetables and clay, in meat and water — practically everywhere.

L Long ago the Romans knew it as a salt. They called it "alumen" and used it as a medicine or for dyeing cloth.

U Until the middle 1800's, the metal aluminum was rarer and more costly than gold. Napoleon III had his own personal tableware made of it.

M Modern science found a way to make it cheaper. That is why, today, everybody can buy useful and lasting articles made of aluminum.

I In Canada we have none of the high-grade aluminum ore called "bauxite". Canadians bring it in by shipload from British Guiana — a voyage of 3000 miles.

N Northeastern Canada has the world's largest aluminum smelter. Alcan built it there, at Arvida. This site was chosen because it is close to both a port for ocean ships bringing bauxite and an abundant source of hydro-electric power.

U Until Alcan harnessed this water power, it ran to waste. Smelting aluminum needs vast supplies of power. The electricity required to produce one ton of aluminum would light your house for fifteen years.

M More than 15,000 people operate this Canadian industry. They earn more than thirty-five million dollars a year. These earnings flow across Canada.

Alcan (Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd.) makes aluminum ingots. More than 1000 independent manufacturers across Canada shape aluminum into light, strong, non-rusting articles for your use. The variety grows daily.

In addition to supplying these firms, Alcan sells about 85% of its ingots to other countries. This aluminum is now Canada's sixth largest export, a source of much needed money from abroad.

Because Alcan does market so much abroad, it is able to make aluminum in such large quantities that, in ingot form, it can be purchased more cheaply in Canada than anywhere else in the world.

FEMININE TOUCH IS KEYNOTE OF ACCESSORIES FOR AUTUMN

By BARBARA STEVENSON

PARIS, Sept. 18 (Reuters)—The feminine touch is the keynote to all accessories shown in Paris fashion displays this season.

The Eastern note which was apparent in the dress collections of some of the famous houses is to the fore again in sparkling jewelry which, though strictly costume, beckons the foreign visitor from many a shop window.

The Orient has inspired the settings used for many semi-precious stones, while big moonstones set in both silver and old gold are used for matching necklaces, bracelets and earrings. Dazzling gems of all colors set in solid silver create an old look that is also new.

The 1920's have inspired the long dangling earrings, the anklets, the bejewelled shoe buckles and the long-chain neck pendants.

Watches are no longer a matter for the wrist or vest pocket. With both open and closed faces, they perch on lapels, are flaunted on finger rings, and in tiny enamel compacts. One tiny black watch in a waferthin platinum case swings on an almost invisible chain.

Shops are displaying patent leather again for the Fall, both for bags and shoes and sometimes combined with suede.

FOUR TIMES ROUND

A belt which is proving popular though expensive is no wider than a finger tip and so long that it will wind around the waist at least four timse before it pulls through a tiny loop undersewn with a fine pin point to hold the end in place.

Handkerchiefs with spidery monograms in the corner are made of filmy lawn in white, pale pinky beige, blue gray and dusty blue, while pastel shade gloves have wrinkle down cuffs and little suede flower earrings to match.

Midget Gobbler Winning Favor

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Sept. 18 (CP)—The "apartment turkey" is heading for household fame in British Columbia.

Introduced here three years ago, the Beltsville White—or "oven-sized" turkey looks like the answer to a housewife's prayer come budget time at Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Turkey-breeders at the recently-concluded convention of the Canadian Federation of Hatchery Associations in Vancouver agreed, however, that the little gobbler hasn't yet replaced the larger, broad-breasted brown turkey in popularity.

"But the pendulum is swinging the other way," said John Kromhoff, a prominent breeder at nearby Cloverdale.

Kromhoff operates a farm housing some 8000 Beltsville White hens. He believes the trend in B.C. toward the smaller turkey will become more evident this Thanksgiving.

"There are more turkeys this year, meaning big decreases in prices, anyway," he said.

"Americans eat turkey once a month on an average," he said. "We Canadians don't eat nearly so much."

Beltsville toms range in weight from 17 to 19 pounds—the hens from eight to 10.

Marquess of Milford Haven Said Engaged To American Woman

LONDON, Sept. 18 (AP) — The 30-year-old Marquess of Milford Haven was reported engaged to a pretty American woman, Mrs. Romaine Simpson, 27, of New York.

The Marquess, best man at the wedding of his cousin Prince Philip to Princess Elizabeth, and Mrs. Simpson, who is socially prominent, have had their picture taken together by Baron, the court photographer. Asked for copies of the picture, Baron's secretary replied:

"They'll be released generally to the press when it becomes official."

The Marquess could not be reached for comment.

The tall, handsome Marquess is considered in court circles as one of Britain's most eligible bachelors.

His name has been linked with many girls. He frequently has been in the company of Princess Margaret, and Sharman Douglas, daughter of the United States Ambassador.

VICTORIA, B.C., Sept. 18—White and peach toned gladioli decorated St. John's Church for the wedding of Joyce Clara May Colman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Colman of Nelson, B.C., and John Hutchinson Gardiner, son of Mrs. M. Gardiner, 1033 St. Patrick Street, and the late Mr. Gardiner. Archdeacon F. Cornish officiated at the ceremony.

The slender, fair haired bride, who was given in marriage by her father, chose white satin for her wedding gown styled with front panel of lace from waist to hem. The fitted bodice had a net yoke and buttons down the back. Her long veil of illusion, slightly en train, was held by a tiara of lace with orange blossoms. Pearls, a gift from the groom, and a cascade bouquet of red and white roses and gardenias completed her ensemble.

Mrs. H. McKay of Vancouver was the matron of honor and Miss Barbara Bolin was bridesmaid. Their gowns, styled similarly with full skirts and off-the-shoulder neckline, were of pale green and peach taffeta, respectively. Their Dutch caps and mitts were in matching taffeta and they carried baskets of pastel gladioli.

Graeme Scott, of Vancouver, was best man and Douglas McCauley and J. Fillicheck of Milwaukee, the groom's brother-in-law, ushered.

A reception was held in the Craigmyle Guest House, where the bride's table was centred by a four-tiered wedding cake, made and decorated by the groom's aunt, Mrs. A. McCabe. J. C. Hooker, formerly of Nelson, proposed the toast.

Leaving by motor for Seaside, Ore., the bride travelled in a pink gabardine suit, navy topcoat, navy hat with pink feather trim and navy accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Gardiner will make their home at 1740 Fort Street.

The out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Colman, the bride's parents, and D. Colman, her brother, and Miss Margaret Thain, all of Nelson.

Adults Today Need More Calcium Than Once Thought Necessary

FEW things have changed more in the past few years than our ideas as to how much of this or that food element is needed by the average person.

Our changing ideas about what constitutes an adequate supply of calcium is a case in point. Since bones and teeth, which are largely made up of calcium salts, are fully formed in the adult, it was formerly supposed that grown-ups had little need for calcium-containing foods.

Today, however, we realize our mistake. Adults need calcium in far greater amounts than those formerly considered ample. There are three reasons for this. First, there is a constant loss of calcium from the body.

ACTS AS RESERVE

Secondly, any extra calcium is stored in the bones. This acts as a reserve in cases of emergency, such as the repair of a broken bone or the increased demands for calcium in women during the child-bearing time or for breast feeding.

The third reason for increased calcium intake is the fact that all of the calcium in foods cannot be utilized. Some of it is excreted or lost. It would seem, in fact, that only about 1/6 to 1/3 of the calcium taken in can actually be used.

The best sources of calcium in the diet are milk, and dairy products. Some is also supplied by vegetables, but the amount obtained from these sources does not approach that which is obtained from milk and dairy products. Hence, it is important for grown-up and child alike that these foods be included in the diet each day.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

M. E.: I have pains over my heart on the left side. Will you please tell me what could cause this?

Answer: Pain over the heart, as a rule, is not due to heart disease itself, but to conditions elsewhere in the body. In many cases it is due to digestive or nervous disorders. You should have a thorough study made by your physician, including an X-ray of the heart and an electrocardiogram to aid in determining whether or not the heart is abnormal.

Don't Spank Girl Friend If You Want Her to Believe You Love Her

Dear Miss Atkinson:

I am 20 years old and in love with a girl 16.

Recently when I was at her house, she accidentally spilled hot tea on me. Just for fun, I spanked her, thinking she would take it as a joke, but instead she got furious and ran upstairs and slammed the door and said she never wanted to see me again.

I have tried to make up with her but she won't even see me. I love her very much and just don't know what to do.

D. S.

Dear D. S.:

At 20 years of age you ought to know that the feelings of a teen-age girl are very easily hurt, particularly where the other sex is concerned. And it is difficult, if not impossible, for her to think a practical joke played on her is very funny. In addition to that it was decidedly a breach of good manners for you to do such a thing to her.

If she won't see you to let you apologize, then you had better send her flowers or some other little gift with a written apology. If that doesn't work, I am afraid all you can do is to accept the fact that you messed things up so badly that she is not going to get over her resentment.

Bend and Twist, Twist and Bend Exercise to Exorcise Spread

They say a woman isn't really interesting until she's in her middle thirties. The only hitch is that once we near that interesting age, the middle spread threatens.

A little regular exercise will fix everything by toning the muscles banding the midsection. The trick is to take them daily. Here are three conditioners, the first one to counteract gravity . . .

Position — Take a straight chair without arms and place it sideways. The idea is to have the chair seat support your legs. Then get into position thus: Lie on back on floor with lower legs across the chair seat, so the bend of the knee comes at the edge of the chair, in which position the hips are on floor fairly close to chair.

Movement — now ups-a-daisy — bring hips off floor, at the same time pulling up snugly with abdominal muscles and stretching arms back on floor overhead . . . this gives an added uplift.

RELAX AND STRETCH

Now return legs to chair seat, and from the same position as given in the first exercise, bend alternate knees toward chest, again putting the emphasis on the up-and-in pull of the girdle muscles.

Position—Lying on back, hands folded back of neck. Left knee should be bent, sole of foot on floor, and right leg should be straight down.

Movement— Twisting gently at the waist, touch left knee point to floor at far side of right thigh—keep toes of left foot on floor, or almost. Repeat three times, very slowly, then bend right knee and twist gently to the opposite side.

Anyone can take the first two exercises. Those with any weakness in the lower back should skip the third exercise because of the swisting movement.

London's Churches

They had an impressive ceremony in Old London for the reopening of the Church of All Hallows by the Tower of London.

Only a part was consecrated, for the restoration of the church will be a considerable task. It was ruined by German bombs in the blitz. Underneath the pavement of the central nave—still open to the skies—is the 14th century crypt and undercroft. There beside the crusading altar from Richard Coeur de Lion's castle in Palestine, burns the parent lamp or light of maintenance from which were lit all the Toc-H lamps, for All Hallows Church was "Chubby" Clayton's, one of the big figures in the First Great War.

The blasting of the church by Nazi hate revealed some ancient foundations going back to the seventh century, but the church's original foundation goes back to A.D. 654. This oldest of London's parish churches is being rebuilt largely by Canadian contributions and some from United States donors.

Of course there are other churches destroyed by bombs, and most all were historic. Not all will be restored. Six of the bombed structures will be cleared of debris and the very valuable sites sold. These are St. Andrew-by-the-Wardrobe, All Hallows London Wall, St. Mary-le-Bow, St. Swithin London Stone, St. Andrew Undershaft, St. Mildred Bread Street, St. James' Garlickhythe, and many more.

The names say "London" and record history. But lots of London churches are seemingly kept up for sentiment. They are the least attended in the world, and rarely get a handful of attendants at services. The weekly services are pathetic, and were so long before the Germans wreaked their revenge upon the British. In lots of cases the rector would be alone if it were not for the verger and possibly a scrubwoman.

London has changed down the centuries, and the churches stand queerly amid business structures, while few people actually reside in the City of London proper, which is overchurched now. There are only about 70 persons resident in the parish of St. Bartholomew, for instance. It would take $100,000 to restore that blasted 800-year-old structure.

A committee of the Church of England has some task in considering what shall be done about the City of London churches, of which 46 were badly blasted in the blitzes.

Only One Way Out

There will be little sympathy but some interest aroused by the death of a former Nazi officer, Reichsleiter Walter Buch, who served as Chief Justice of the Nazi Party Supreme Court. He had been adjudged a major offender following the war and sentenced to five years forced labor. A second trial, however, reduced this to the time he had already served—three and one-half years—and he was freed last July. It would seem that the former judge might then have rehabilitated himself, but such was not to be. His body has been found in a Bavarian lake, the result of suicide.

While the erstwhile legal official may have had pressing individual reasons for his action, it appears likely that his case would fall into a more common category—he had outlived his time. There was no room in the world for this once highly-placed Nazi. The Germany in which he had strutted with others of Hitler's clique was no more; the props on which he had based his life were gone; the regime of brute force and terror under the Fuehrer, which had boosted him to his high position, had faded away. Standing on the lake shore, a lonely old man knew there was only one way out, and he took it.

Prayer Greatest Force For Serenity of Soul

Prayer is the greatest force known for grappling with everyday problems and for achieving serenity of soul, declares Norman Vincent Peale, author of "A Guide to Confident Living."

Not only does prayer have the power to calm our minds, Dr. Peale states, in an article condensed from Guideposts, but it can heal heartache and give us clear vision to act for ourselves. "If angry, anxious, vindictive or envious, you cannot think or act wisely. But in prayer your emotions come under control and your intellect penetrates the essence of a problem for the right answer."

Many business men use prayer as a reliable aid in their affairs, the author states. A leading department store executive communes with God for 15 minutes each morning. An industrialist, who "uses his car as a chapel," states: "Driving to the plant, I talk over my problems with Him. Instead of desperately expecting a prayer to pull me out of a mess, I condition my mind in advance to make calm and rational decisions."

The value of prayer was demonstrated, Peale says, in a recent sitdown strike at a large automobile plant. Management and unionists had reached an impasse. A union mass meeting, called for mid-afternoon despite the refusal of police to grant a permit, threatened violence and bloodshed. But at a conference preceding the mass meeting a preacher suggested prayer, and, "to his astonishment," everyone joined. The resulting decision, a compromise by both sides, led to a meeting that was a "completely peaceful affair."

Conversation with God should be a constant habit, Peale urges, not a maddened plea when one is at wits' end. "It is to a Father and not a Santa Claus that we must learn to speak, in trust and obedience. The supreme model was given in the Gethsemane prayer: 'Not my will but Thine be done.'"—Condensed from Guideposts in The Reader's Digest.

Chris. L., Christina Lake—I sent a parcel to England, 13 to 14 pounds, declaration note pasted on it and containing nothing whatever but food. The receiver had to pay six shillings and sixpence duty. Can you explain why duty had to be paid?

Are you quite sure that the parcel was not understamped? In that case there would be a charge for excess postage. That is the only explanation we can offer, as there is a sort of gentleman's agreement between Canada and Great Britain by which parcels containing only food are admitted free of duty. If other goods are included, duty is then charged. Your friend should inquire at the local post office.

ONCE LOST

Canada this year is lagging far behind in her bacon contract with the U. K. Here again, the Purchasing Board is out of the market until supplies increase and prices are lower. In this instance, however, Britain is anxious to take the full limit of her 160,000,000-pound contract. Canada's failure in this respect will be Canada's loss.

By obtaining more and more of her supplies in Europe, Britain can use her own sterling, cut back on her dollar spending. The U. K., in this case, won't complain too much at Canada's inability to keep her contract.

Canada, on the other hand, is seeing a valuable market dwindle. Once lost to the keen Danish competition, it never may be regained.

Would Spread Excess Population In U.K. Throughout Commonwealth

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press News Analyst

Coincident with the Anglo-American Conference in Washington to devise ways of relieving Britain's economic crisis, along comes the Population Reference Bureau, a private research agency in the Capital, and tosses this bombshell.

Britain has 15,000,000 too many people to support. No other country in the world is so crowded as the United Kingdom, with the exception of Japan. Britain's crisis will continue as long as she tries to support so many folk on so few acres. Bureau experts advocate spreading this excess population over the Commonwealth.

The United Kingdom has an area of only 94,279 square miles on which to support a population of 50,000,000. Nine of the 48 States in the United States are bigger than the United Kingdom.

Britain can't begin to provide food for her big population and has to import some 60 per cent of her foodstuffs. This was harshly impressed on her in the two World Wars when she ran short of rations because of enemy blockades.

THE EXODUS

Quite likely that had something to do with causing a heavy emigration of Britons to the dominions right after the last war. However, part of the exodus was due to the fact that British soldiers had seen fresh opportunities while they were overseas, and were moved by the spirit of adventure to emigrate.

During 1946-47 there was a total of 291,000 British emigrants who sought new homes. From January to September of 1948 (the latest figures available) there were 116,000 more.

Now that's a lot of people to leave a small country, and it impelled Winston Churchhill on Aug. 16, 1947, to appeal to his countrymen in a broadcast not to go away. He said he was shocked to learn of the projected heavy emigration of Britons at a time when the country needed labor.

"I say to them," he begged, "stay here and fight it out. Do not desert the Old Land. This Socialist attempt to conscript labor is only a passing phase. Britain will rise again in all her strength and freedom."

GOVERNMENT'S STAND

The British Government has studied this question of emigration. Its position was summed up in a recent Royal Commission report which said that the Government did not hold anything in the way of emigration, but should there be a big migration of skilled labor the Government would have to consider placing restrictions on it.

The Government takes the position that Britain's economic troubles can't be solved by heavy migration. It holds that there is no unemployment but that there is useful work for all. It apparently feels that emigration of skilled labor would cause a heavy drop in productive power and thereby hamper economic recovery.

Yanks, Cards Hold Leads With Weekend Wins

By STEVE ROBERTSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The New York Yankees and the St. Louis Cardinals still hold slim leads in the major baseball leagues after the weekend games.

In the American League the Yanks edged Detroit Tigers 5-4 Saturday, then walloped Cleveland Indians 7-4 Sunday. That leaves the Yankees 2½ games ahead of Boston Red Sox.

In other American League games Saturday Boston beat St. Louis Browns 3-2, Chicago beat Philadelphia 8-5 and Cleveland beat Washington 8-3. Then on Sunday the Red Sox came back to wallop Chicago 11-5. Detroit took two from Washington, 3-2, and 5-3, while Philadelphia beat the Browns twice, 7-5 and 7-4.

With Joe DiMaggio sidelined by a high fever, Hank Bauer drove in three runs with his double and triple at New York Sunday. Bauer also slammed a single.

The Yanks have 13 games left, including nine at the Yankee Stadium, while the Red Sox have only 10 left.

Cleveland opened up on Vic Raschi with a three-run blast in the first inning Sunday but the Yanks came back to tie it up in the second against Al Benton. Tommy Henrich made his first appearance since he hurt his back Aug. 28, and true to form Henrich was hit on the foot with a pitched ball. There was no injury this time. The official scorer gave the victory to Hugh Casey, who worked three innings as did Page.

TWO HOMERS FOR TED

Ted Williams slammed two homers, bringing his total to 40, driving in six runs as the Red Sox beat Chicago Sunday. Ellis Kinder yielded nine hits but won his 21st victory. The Red Sox had 12 hits against four rival pitchers.

Virgil Trucks and Hal Newhouser pitched the Tigers into a virtual third-place tie with Cleveland by winning the doubleheader for Detroit at Washington. Trucks gave the Senators only thre hits in the nightcap, and Newhouser gave eight hits in the opener.

At Philadelphia the Athletics were aided by Pete Suder's two homers, one with bases loaded, in their sweep from the Browns.

15-3 FOR CARDS

Over in the National League Sunday the Cards stayed in front by beating Philadelphia Phillies 15-3. Ron Northey, Stan Musial and Enos Slaughter all found Robin Roberts an easy mark for a homer apiece. Red Munger gave up four hits and struck out seven before giving way to a pinch-hitter.

The Brooklyn Dodgers got back on the victory trail by beating the Chicago Cubs 7-1 Sunday. Ralph Branca, who hadn't won since Aug. 1, finally registered his 12th victory but needed help from Don Newcombe. The Dodgers meanwhile were belting Walt Dubiel and Doyle Lade for 10 hits, including Carl Furillo's 16th homer.

The second game of the Cincinnati-Boston Braves double-header was called because of darkness with the score tied 1-1 in the ninth, after the Reds won the opener 7-6. The smallest crowd of the season, 5926, turned up.

New York Giants ended a six-game losing streak by beating the Pirates 13-4 in the opener Sunday, but the Pirates came back to win the nightcap 7-2.

In National League Saturday games Pittsburgh beat Brooklyn 7-2, Boston beat the Cards 4-2 on Voiselle's, nine-hit job, the Giants lost 4-2 to Chicago and Philadelphia blanked the Reds 4-0.

U. S. Golfers Rally to Snatch Ryder Cup

By GLENN WILLIAMS

CANTON, Yorkshire, England, Sept. 18 (AP)—United States professional golfers Saturday crushed Britain's best club-swingers in six out of eight singles matches to come from behind to win the treasured Ryder Cup and break the spirits of 12,000 British spectators.

The one-sided trouncing of the home stars, who had surprised everyone by winning three of Friday's four Scotch foursomes, made the final score 7 to 5 for the Americans, who have held the International trophy since 1935.

down parade with three major Lloyd Mangrum, the slim, mustached star from Chicago, made the triumph official when, in the final match of the day, he defeated the British Match Play champion, Fred Daly, 4 and 3.

E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of Little Rock, Ark., Canadian Open titlist, buried Max Faulkner, 8 and 7.

Sammy Snead of White Sulphur Spring, W. Va., trounced little Charlie Ward, 6 and 5.

Bulky Clayton Haefner of Charlotte, N.C., recovered from a one-down deficit at noon to defeat Dick Burton, former British Open King, 3 and 2.

Chick Harbert of Detroit trimmed Sam King—the only Briton who won a match in the Cup series at Portland, Ore., two years ago—4 and 3.

Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Calif., trounced Art Lees, 7 and 6, after having unloaded a 68 on his morning round to take a five-up lead.

The only Americans to lose were Bob Hamilton of Landover, Md., and Johnny Palmer of Badin, N.C. Hamilton dropped a 6 and 4 decision to Dai Rees, a stubby little Welshman, and Palmer was squeezed out, 2 and 1, by Jimmy Adams, a Scotsman.

LIKE RAIN

The weather gave the Americans a big boost. Friday the drought-baked course was soaked by rain. That was what poker-faced Ben Hogan, the Texan who captained the Americans, had honed for.

The greens were softer and the Americans fired straight for the pin.

So mechanical ware the Yanks that Charles Whitcombe, British captain, called them "Robots" when the gold cup again was presented to the Americans.

Whitcombe said he thought his team did "damned well" against that kind of golf.

MAJOR METAL PRICES HOLD UNCHANGED

Copper Flourishes As Smelters Increase Shipments

ZINC SLOW

NEW YORK, Sept. 18 (AP).—Copper business in the United States flourished last week, lead sold in moderate volume and the zinc market was slow.

Except for small variations for quicksilver and Chinese Tuhgsten, major metals prices held unchanged.

Highlight of the week's copper news was the Copper Institute's report that producers and custom smelters shipped 90,739 tons of refined metal to fabricators during August—more than double July's 45,316 tons and the best monthly delivery since last March. Shipments this month are expected to be at least equal to the August figure.

C.I.O. miners at Calumet and Hecla Consolidated Copper Company in Northern Michigan reluctantly ratified a pay agreement calling for a 15-cent hourly wage cut. The operators insisted the slash was essential if the high-cost mines are to remain open at present copper prices.

Lagging buyer interest in zinc was attributed largely to continued uncertainty over the steel labor situation. A widespread strike would halt galvanizin activities and trim zinc consumption about one-third.

Lead trading continued slower than the brisk turnover of last month but the volume was generally described as satisfactory.

The Commerce Department reported that imports of vital steel-hardening manganese from India and Africa increased sharply during the first seven months this year, so that despite a substantial drop in shipments from Russia, the total United States supply was roughly the same as in the same period last year.

Major non-ferrous metals prices:

Copper — 17.625 cents a pound, Connecticut Valley. Foreign, 17.625 cents, New York.

Lead—15.125 cents a pound, New York; 14.925 cents, St. Louis. Foreign, 14.625 cents, Gulf of Mexico ports.

Zinc—10 cents a pound, East St. Louis; 10.721 cents, New York. Foreign, nominal, 9.5 cents, Gulf of Mexico ports.

Aluminum—17 cents a pound, ingots, shipping point; Pigs, 16 cents, shipping point.

Antimony—41.78 cents a pound, cased, New York; 38.5 cents, bulk, Laredo, Texas.

Manganese—48 per cent ore, nearby contracts, nominal, 80-81 cents a long ton unit (22.4 pounds), C.I.F., U.S. ports (duty extra); ferromanganese, 78-82 per cent manganese, $172-$175 a gross ton, shipping point.

Nickel—40 cents a pound, electrolytic cathodes, Port Colborne, Ont. 42.93 cents, New York.

Platinum—$69 an ounce, wholesale; $72 retail, New York.

Silver—73.25 cents an ounce, New York; 44.5 pence, London.

Tin—$1.03 a pound, New York.

Quicksilver—$73-75 a flask of 76 pounds, New York.

Tungsten ore—Nominal, $28.50 a short ton unit (20 pounds), delivered. Chinese, nominal, $18-$20, New York.

Sport Snapshots—

By TREVOR ICETON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, Sept. 19 (CP)—There must be dozens of stories about the popular ex-heavyweight boxing champion Jack Dempsey, but the Manassa Mauler, who was the honored guest at a banquet here this week, told a new one, Laurie (Galt Reporter) Brain, who attended the banquet, recounts the story of the time the champion carried around $1,000,000 in his watch pocket.

"He held the boys in stitches as he told them about the time he threatened to sue a bank because they wouldn't give him $1,000,000 he won in the second fight with Gene Tunney," writes Brain. (The gate for that fight—$2,658,660—was the highest ever recorded in boxing history).

"I always wanted to see how it felt to be a millionaire," related Dempsey. "I was told at the bank the morning after the fight, that I couldn't get the money because it wasn't the bank's policy to give that much cash to an individual.

THREATENED TO SUE

"I threatened to sue," continued Dempsey, "and finally after several meetings with bank officials, I got the money. They asked me how I wanted it. I took 10 bills of $100,000 each and went home to see my dad in Salt Lake City."

When the champion arrived home, he gave his father the bills to carry for a while, just for the thrill of it, and later walked around town for a while with the bills making an exciting bump in his pocket.

But apparently he didn't get quite the thrills he expected, because the former heavyweight champion admitted "it didn't feel a damn bit different being a millionaire."

EARNED TITLES

In a more serious mood, Dempsey expressed the opinion of many associated with the fight game. The practice of "giving" another man the title after the champion retires is wrong. He should earn his right to the title," he said.

"Ezzard Charles is the best of the current crop of heavyweights, but just how good or bad the National Boxing Association title is won't be determined until an elimination tournament has been held to provide a true challenger.

Expect Equipment For Drivers' Tests Soon

VICTORIA, Sept. 18 (CP)—Additional equipment to carry out the first general test of B. C. car drivers in 10 years is expected to be available in a month or so.

Officers of the Motor Vehicle Branch of the Attorney General's Department now are working out details of the plan, which will provide for the testing of all car drivers in the Province every five years.

Holders of Class A. chauffeurs' licences, the operators of vehicles which carry large numbers of passengers, and all drivers of 70 years or more will be tested every year, while holders of Class B chauffeurs' licences, mainly taxi drivers, and drivers of private cars who are 65 years of age or more, will be tested every two years.

The general driving public and holders of Class C chauffeurs' licences, truck drivers and others, will be tested every five years under the plan.

Charge for the test has not yet been fixed, but the Act says that it must not exceed $1. It is expected that this will be the charge at the start.

The Branch has on order 16 new machines for testing the reactions of car drivers. Some delay is being experienced in securing this equipment because parts are made in the United States and the United Kingdom.

Officials report there is not much likelihood of getting the mass tests under way until the new equipment is available and personnel has been trained because the testing equipment and personnel now available is kept busy all the time handling new applicants for drivers' licences.

Thirty persons will be added to the staff to handle the mass testing.

Testing stations will be maintained in the larger centres of the Province, while travelling units will be sent to the smaller units to carry out the tests.

The heartbeat is normally higher in women than in men and higher in children than in adults.

Harvest of Seed Crops Progresses In Grand Forks

Harvesting of seed crops is well under way, with beets already threshed, in the Grand Forks Valley, the fortnightly Horticultural News Letter of the Department of Agriculture, reports.

The letter, in part, follows:

Some carrots are threshed and the remainder mostly pulled for drying, all onion head cutting completed, some lettuce already threshed and other fields being pulled for drying. Beans are all drying in windrows but crop is light. Some flower seed crop, such as cosmos and zinnias, will be light on account of frost damage but portulaca, petunia, and African daisy should be good crops. Portulaca is already drying on trays.

Devining of potatoes with the roto-beater started immediately after the first killing frost. No Netted Gems are yet being dug but some fields of Early Epicure are now moving to market and size of these is excellent. Netted Gems are expected to be smaller in size than usual and some growers who have raised them for commercial purposes instead of seed will probably have a hard time to find size for making grade.

All onion bulk crops have been lifted but some are still drying on the fields. Size is not as big as desired. Carrots are not yet moving to any extent.

SHIP FIRS APPLES

Prunes are nearly cleaned up. McIntosh Red Apples are being picked and first shipments are going out. Some growers are picking only the tops of the trees at present, hoping that the lower fruit will size and color more with more time. Most growers are picking a combination pack but old orchards are running heavy to C grade on account of poor color and some hail damage. Most pears are being disposed of locally this year.

TO FEED BEEF

There is very little activity in livestock movement. Several Grand Forks cattlemen are definitely going to feed out thei beef this Fall and winter instead of selling as grassers at present. Plans are being made for importing of feed grain from Alberta. Cattlemen at Rock Creek, Greenwood, Bridesville, and Westbridge will probably sell as grassers immediately for feed supplies are very short. A few grain fields above Bridesville have produced fair crops which are presently being threshed, but practically no grain developed through the rest of the region. Some purebred Hereford cows and heifers are being offered for sale at present in order to reduce herds to the level of the feed supply.

Gain Reported In Apple Crop

VICTORIA, Sept. 18 (CP)—New estimates of British Columbia's 1949 apple harvest by the Provincial Agriculture Department today placed the total crop at 7,971,455 boxes, a 9.6 per cent gain over last year.

The estimate, dated Sept. 15, represents a small gain over the estimates given earlier this year by the Department.

All districts but Vancouver Island and the Gulf Islands this year will harvest more apples than last, the Department said. It gave the following breakdown of the total: Okanagan 7,364,355 boxes, a gain of 7.3 per cent over last year; Kootenays 509,100 boxes, a gain of 61.9 per cent over last year; Fraser Valley, 78,000 boxes, up by 9.8 per cent over 1948; and Vancouver Island and the Gulf Islands 20,000 boxes, a loss of 14.9 per cent from last year.

For the Okanagan Valley the Department gave the following estimates of other fruit crops: crabapples, 111,600, down 43.7 per cent from last year; pears 617,450 boxes, up 3.9 per cent from last year; plums, 148,600 crates, up 13.7 per cent; prunes 929,000 crates, up 12.4 per cent; peaches, 1,973,000 crates, up 8.7 per cent; apricots 456,150 crates, up 20.1 per cent; and grapes 2,888,200 pounds, up 8.8 per cent.

For Vancouver Island and the Gulf Islands the following estimates were given: crabapples, 500 boxes, a loss of 14.8 per cent from last year; pears 3500 boxes, a gain of 0.3 per cent; plums 4000 crates, a gain of 14 per cent; prunes 3000 crates, a gain of 1.9 per cent; cherries 4600 crates, a gain of 70.4 per cent; and grapes 60,000 pounds, a gain of 1.9 per cent.

Cops Watch Diamond Sorters, He Watches Cops

By JACK TRACEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL, Sept. 18 (CP) — A fabulous Canadian geologist, Dr. John T. Williamson, held the first Press conference in his 42 years today and told reporters that he came upon the richest diamond strike in the world because "it just occurred to me."

Visibly embarrassed in front of a battery of microphones, relays of newspaper photographers and 40 reporters in a Montreal hotel salon, he said in almost a whisper that he could not "give a figure" on his wealth, estimated between $20,000,000 and $40,000,000.

Born at Montford, near Lachute in Quebec's Laurentians, he studied geology at McGill University in Montreal and prospected for gold in Northwest Quebec. In 1934 he went to South Africa to do the same kind of work.

Usually publicity-shunning, he said he felt "quite pleased" when in 1940 he discovered in Tanganyika the diamond "pipe" which made him one of the world's wealthiest men.

He recalled that the diamond he presented Princess Elizabeth two years ago was a pink stone, the only one of its kind in the world—"it is impossible to estimate its value."

Three weeks ago he came back to Canada "to have a holiday, see relatives, get his teeth fixed and get a new suit." The suit, a grey chalkstripe flannel he wore at the interview today. He wore no diamonds —"I sell 'em; I don't wear 'em."

A rather handsome bachelor, Dr. Williamson said he received about 500 letters a week, many of them proposals of marriage but any question of his marital intentions would be "very indiscreet."

"I'd just like to travel," he said, "and I'd like to come back to Canada, but I think I'll go on mining diamonds all my life."

He told of the operations of his diamond mine where he employs nearly 5000 and has a policeman watching each of his diamond sorters—"I watch each of the policemen myself."

Expect Defence Forces to Be Rebuilt Before Any Likely Attack

By DOUGLAS HOW
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Sept. 19 (CP) — Ten years after the start of the Second World War Canada again is rebuilding her armed forces.

Defence planners are building formations they think will be strong enough to meet any likely attack. They don't think there will be a war before these are fully organized. This may be two years or more. In the meantime, considerable segments of them exist.

They are being reorganized on a long-range schedule, timed to the belief that North America should be safe from attack in the immediate future.

International cooperation nowadays makes it possible for Canada to concentrate on certain phases of preparedness such as long-range fighter and bacterial and chemical warfare. A strategic bombing force and research in submarine detection, for instance, can largely be ignored.

NUCLEUS

Crux of defence policy is creation of forces considered "necessary to defend Canada against immediate attack and to serve as the nucleus for large forces in emergency."

Creation of a force-in-being is something new for peacetime. It is related to the belief that for an undefined period, roughly described as the near future, the only threat to this country is a diversionary raid designed to panic Canada into keeping forces at home.

The strategists think Canada should be able to handle such a raid. They also think any war in the comparatively-near future would be fought on traditional lines with a third Canadian expeditionary force fighting somewhere overseas.

There are those in the Air Force who expound the theory of lightning war, but policy still adheres resolutely to the principle of heavy mobilization when another 1914 or 1939 arises. The 50's may well force a change.

By war standards, the standing forces will not be large. The Army will have an all-arms airborne brigade group of possibly 7000 men, the R.C.A.F. an interceptor fighter force of undisclosed strength. Main concern will be the Northland which the strategists don't think will ever be a major battlefield but which might invite a raid.

The Navy, the only substantial force-in-being at present, is proceeding with its training to meet the submarine menace with both aircraft and ships.

DEBATE EXPECTED

The new session of Parliament, just opened, is expected to bring forth a major debate on defence with the Progressive Conservatives renewing demands for a Defence Committee of the Commons. Critical press reports on the recent exercise Eagle will be used to bolster their complaints about the state of the forces and the quality of their equipment.

Buyers, Sellers, Printers of Lottery Tickets Law Breakers

VICTORIA, Sept. 18 (CP) — An official of the Attorney-General's Department said flatly here this afternoon that buyers, sellers and printers of lottery tickets were guilty of breaking the lottery laws as written in the Criminal Code.

He said that anybody knowingly connected with a lottery was breaking the law as an accessory to a crime against the Criminal Code.

Thus the official answered a question on the tongues of many Canadians following the arrest Wednesday of Frank G. Hiltor on a charge of operating a sweepstake. Hilton, a 36-year-old Navy veteran who formerly lived in Melville, Sask., is out on $500 bail awaiting trial before Magistrate H. C. Hall in City Police Court.

Following the arrest of Hilton police reported that they believed they had cracked a $500,000 Canadian-wide lottery ring. Police are reporte still sorting out and analyzing a mass of material seized following the arrest of Hilton. This included tickets, booklets, stubs and records, most dealing with the Canadian Mutual Transportation Association.

Code records have led police to believe that most of the sweep tickets were sold in Ontario. Names of hundreds of Ontario agents were found among the records seized.

Police have said nothing officially to indicate that action may be taken against the agents in this alleged lottery, who are believed to number scores in this province. Nor have police said whether or not they propose to take action against the persons who printed the lottery tickets.

Senate Approves Boost of Duty-Free Goods for Americans

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP). — A $100 boost in the amount of duty-free goods a United States tourist may bring back from abroad has been approved by the Senate.

The increase still is subject to action by a Senate-House of Representatives Conference Committee. A tax bill passed Friday by the Senate was sent to the Conference group. Chairman Walter George (Dem. Ga) of the Senate Finance Committee said the bill would correct a number of hardships in the present Federal tax laws.

The $200 exemption would replace the $100 exemption approved by Congress in 1897. It would be applicable, as at present, to a resident once every 30 days, provided he remained out of the country at least 48 hours. The exemption would apply only to merchandise for personal or household use, or as souvenirs or curios.

It would be in addition to the law passed by the 80th Congress permitting $300 in duty-free goods for United States residents, provided they remain out of the country 12 continuous days. This exemption may be used only once every six months.

Million More Get Baby Bonuses

OTTAWA, Sept. 18 (CP)—Stimulated by a high post-war birth rate, the number of children benefitting from family allowances has increased by almost 1,000,000 since the end of the war, the Health Department says in its annual report.

The report was tabled in the Commons today. It showed that the program, started in 1944, by March, 1949, had developed to the point where 1,700,000 families received allowances for 3,888,000 children.

In 1945, last year of the war, the number of families received allowances amounted to 1,237,754 and the number of children involved totalled 2,900,000.

The post-war increase was attributed to the high birth rate, increased immigration and greater interest by Canadians in getting their families registered for allowances.

During the fiscal year's work in which $271,000,000 was distributed in family allowances, the Department said a great number of "overpayments" came to light.

The Government asked for a return of the allowances when the parents fail to provide for the child, or the child is absent from school or begins working for wages.

No less than $411,000 had to be returned to the Government and the administration still is looking for another $18,000 which it thinks it probably will have to write off.

But that's a small amount, the Department maintains, when the fact is considered that it has distributed in the neighborhood of $1,000,000,000 since the plan began.

SEEK PEARSON AS CHAIRMAN OF U. N. COMMITTEE

By NORMAN ALTSTEDTER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Sept. 18 (CP)—The United Nations Secretariat wants the most efficient diplomat available to be Chairman of the stormy Political Committee of the General Assembly. It's no secret they are plumping for L. B. Pearson, Canada's External Affairs Minister.

Pearson, who will head the Dominion's delegation at the Assembly opening next Tuesday, is expected to accept omination for the post. The job considered second in importance to that of Assembly President.

In fact some Pearson supporters predict his chairmanship of the Political Committee would set him up for the Assembly Presidency in 1950.

Pearson was not expected to do any campaigning for the post, but would make himself available if drafted. Meanwhile, however, it was reported that Dr. Jose Arce of Argentina, President of the special Assembly last Spring, is after the Chairmanship of the Political Committee.

All 59 members of the U.N. are seated on the Committee.

Clamp Down on Beer Parlor Advertising

VICTORIA, Sept. 18 (CP) — The Liquor Control Board has clamped down again on beer parlors advertising through the medium of folder matches and beer glass "coasters".

W. F. Kennedy, sole member of the Liquor Control Board, said today that the Board had sent a circular letter to all beer parlors in this area pointing out that they are not permitted to advertise in any way, shape or form.

The Liquor Commissioner said that some years ago an attempt had been made to introduce the sale of folder matches, but the Board had put a stop to it. He said it was illegal for beer parlors to advertise the fact that they were beer parlors, or to advertise where liquor may be obtained, except at Government liquor stores.

He said, however, that a hotel providing rooms and other services, as well as the sale of beer, may advertise these other services provided that the advertisements are not distributed in the beer parlors.

Producers of all types of alcoholic beverages may advertise their products in bona fide newspapers, but may not say where these products may be obtained except in Government liquor stores.

It is understood that some privately owned beer parlors have been caught with large supplies of folder matches advertising their beer. These must either be destroyed or the advertising of the beer changed, he said.

Claims Restaurants Lose Heavily By Carelessness

WINNIPEG, Sept. 18 (CP).—Canadian restaurants lost more than $8,000,000 through carelessness last year, according to George F. Heckman of Montreal, President of the Canadian Restaurant Association.

He tabula'ed the loss as follows: $3,000,000 because diners who mooch extra rolls, coffee or other food items; $3,000,000 from pilfered silver; $2,000,000 from excess breakage.

Mr. Heckman told the annual meeting of the Manitoba Division of the Association that the "restaurant business seems to be the most careless in the world . . . So little attention is given to saving on small things."

Nelson Veteran Kootenay's Best In Competition

H. Cole of Nelson was the top winner in the Kootenay area in the small holding development competition sponsored by the Veterans' Land Act throughout Canada.

Some 3600 veteran V.L.A. settlers throughout B.C. were entered in the competition, and three winners were named in the Kootenays. J. Hulme of Wynndel and M. Ewasiuk of Beaver Falls held second and third place in the Kootenay area. Mr. Cole's property rated sixteenth in the whole province.

The competition, which was judged by Provincial Government horticultural and agricultural officials, was for the purpose of determining the actual progress made by a small holder since his establishment. Points were given for the amount of individual effort put into developing the holdings, rather than the final result. A settler may have had much more work to do than his neighbor to accomplish the same results.

Mr. Cole is an Army veteran who sa wservice in France, Belgium, Holland and England, he has been established on his V.L.A. holding since the Summer of 1946, and is employed by the C.P.R. in Nelson.

James Hulme is foreman in the Creston Fruit Exchange and, also saw considerable service overseas. He has been settled under the Veterans' Land Act since May, 1947.

Mr. Ewasiuk, employed in the City of Trail, has settled at Beaver Falls. He is an overseas veteran and has been on his holding since the Autumn of 1946.

LEGS SEVERED BY TRAIN; BOY DIES

REVELSTOKE, B. C., Sept. 18 (CP)—Michael Roche, 17-year-old Chilliwack youth, died here Friday after both his legs were severed by a moving Canadian Pacific Railway locomotive.

The youth apparently slipped when he attempted to jump clear of the tender on which he was riding.

WINNIPEG (CP)—Winnipeg, after spending $11,000 for mosquito control, was comparatively free of the pests this summer. That is—until a recent rain and wind. The mosquitoes hatched in pools in outlying areas and were blown into the city.
