WORST MONEY CRISIS . . .

Britain To Fight Sterling Battle By Super-Austerity

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

LONDON, Jan. 15 (AP)—Britain told the finance ministers of eight Commonwealth countries tonight she intends to cut spending to the bone, excepting only rearmament, in an effort to save the pound sterling.

British officials expressed hope other countries of the sterling area—a monetary system which this country leads—will follow suit.

Chancellor of the Exchequer R. A. Butler, who presided over the conference, warned that drastic action is needed by each country concerned if currencies pegged to the British pound are to avoid another cutdown.

Attending today's session were the finance ministers of Australia, New Zealand, Pakistan, India, Ceylon, South Africa, Southern Rhodesia, and Canada. Of this group, only Canada is not a member of the sterling bloc. Canada is represented by Finance Minister Abbott.

TO CONSIDER LONGER HOURS, INCENTIVE PAY

Butler outlined a message sent to the conferees by Prime Minister Churchill from North America calling for "grave and difficult decisions" to meet the worst economic crisis to hit the interlocking economies of the Commonwealth group since World War II.

To meet this crisis Britain plans to:

1. Slash government spending at home in every field with the exception of rearmament.
2. Cut back goods of every sort for the home market to curb public spending which might bring inflation and to make more goods available for export.
3. Boost the output of industries, possibly by increasing working hours or by review of the national wage policy in order to inspire greater production.

SEEK BALANCE OF OVERSEAS, SPENDING, BUYING

4. Launch a world-wide exports drive, aimed particularly at the dollar areas, to plug the drain from the sterling bloc's common dollar pool.

Churchill's government has given top priority to the task of first saving, then strengthening the British pound.

In line with this, Butler has warned Britons that harder times lie ahead.

Britain cannot do the Herculean job on her own. That's why she called in her commonwealth partners.

The first task before the conferees is to balance overseas spending with overseas buying.

Its size is measurable by the fact that the sterling area's deficit in gold and dollars for the last quarter of 1951 came to nearly a billion dollars. Over the whole year, Britain herself bought $1,200,000,000 more than she earned abroad.

RUSH HELP TO SNOWBOUND 222

Discussing Plans for New Kootenay Industry

Plans for the multi-million dollar forest development in the Castlegar-Arrow Lakes district were discussed in Vancouver when senior officials of the Celanese Corporation of America conferred with local representatives. Pictured above are, left to right: D. G. Stenstrom, who is in charge of planning for the Celgar Development Company Limited; Harold Blancke, President of Celanese Corporation of America, and George Schneider, Senior Vice-President of Celanese Corporation of America. Preliminary planning on the project is being rushed in order to expedite construction if the forest management licence which the company is seeking, is granted.

Dog Sled, Tractors Carry Help to Trapped Train

COLFAX, Calif., Jan. 15 (AP)—A fleet of light, fast, snow-going "weasel" tractors hurried over a high mountain pass today to the aid of 222 persons stranded since Sunday in a Southern Pacific passenger train in deep snow near Donner Summit.

Twenty or more of those aboard were reported ill from carbon-monoxide gas. They blamed emergency heating equipment set up on the streamliner, City of San Francisco.

The army weasels were taken to within 12 miles of the train by a railroad rescue unit out of Colfax. They were unloaded at the town of Midas, and set out over snow-packed U. S. Highway 40.

Four passengers on the train—young service men—got off and made their way to Nyack Lodge, atop the high Sierra Nevada range.

They said many of the passengers were overcome or were half-dazed. Apparently, they recounted, the gas had filtered through the train from emergency heaters.

BATTLE DRIFTS

One rescue train was inching up each side of the Sierra; hopeful of fighting through giant snow-drifts and reaching the cold passengers before dark.

There was intermittent snow. Drifts of from 15 to 20 feet lined the roadside.

A doctor, driving a dog team and sled loaded with medical supplies, was believed to have reached the train in mid-afternoon.

He and the team had been carried from Reno to Norden by the Westbound rescue train. They took off on snow-filled highway for Emigrant Gap after the train had to halt at Norden.

A third rescue unit—four coast guardsmen in a big helicopter—left Sacramento to aid the snow-locked train passengers. The 'copter was equipped to carry six stretcher cases at a time.

The stalled train was out of Chicago for San Francisco. It carried 196 passengers and a crew of 30. It has been stuck in tremendous snow banks since Sunday, near Crystal Lake, and about 16 miles West of Donner Summit.

BOOST FOR B.C. IN NEW PACT

Only Budget to Show if Corporation Tax Cut Is Real

OTTAWA, Jan. 15 (CP) — Taxes on Canadian corporations have "theoretically" dropped by five per cent since Jan. 1.

The decrease resulted from expiry of legislation providing for a five-per-cent tax on corporate profits in the eight provinces—all except Ontario and Quebec—with taxation agreements with the Federal Government.

The legislation expired Dec. 31. In a letter to the provinces Jan. 10, Mr. Abbott asked them not to revive the tax, imposed at the Federal Government's request in 1947. In making his request, he also offered a major boost in payments to provinces concluding new taxation agreements.

The letter of Mr. Abbott, now in London at a conference of Commonwealth finance ministers, was made public today along with figures showing how much the provinces would receive under proposed new agreements.

A finance department official said the decrease in corporation taxes is more "theoretical than real." The corporations will not know until the budgets of the federal and provincial governments are brought down whether they are going to reap any benefit.

The federal tax on corporations now amounts to 17 per cent on the first $10,000 profit and 47.6 per cent on profits of more than $10,000.

He said Mr. Abbott has stated that he plans to revive the corporation-tax structure in his next budget. There is nothing to stop Mr. Abbott from tacking on part or the whole of the former provincial tax of five per cent to the federal tax.

NEW AGREEMENTS

Existing agreements are due to expire March 31, and negotiations have started with some provinces on new agreements to run from 1952 until 1956. Ontario and Quebec have not yet indicated whether they will conclude agreements this time.

This is what the provinces would get in the first year of the new agreements, with estimated payments for the final year of the existing agreements in brackets:

Newfoundland $12,244,000 ($9,651,000); Prince Edward Island $3,915,000 ($3,057,000); Nova Scotia $20,141,000 ($16,503,000); New Brunswick $16,615,000 ($13,490,000); Quebec $114,428,000 ($89,761,000); Ontario $137,391,000 ($105,850,000); Manitoba $24,588,000 ($20,035,000); Saskatchewan $24,626,000 $20,747,000); Alberta $28,662,000 ($21,578,000); British Columbia $41,202,000 ($32,155,000); total $423,812,000, ($332,827,000).

Britain Faces Housing Problem

LONDON, Jan. 15 (Reuters) — Britain's urgent need for 2,000,000 more homes, complicated by the double problem of materials and manpower, may change the face of the country forever.

Latest substitute for the traditional red brick house is reported from Scotland where the Health Department is importing prefabricated timber houses from Sweden and Finland. The aim is to provide homes without further depleting supplies of bricks and other scarce materials.

Glasgow housing experts are working on a plan for building multi-storey apartment blocks, which, with financial aid from the government, could sweep away some of Britain's worst slums.

London, already over 20 miles wide and still expanding, is also beginning to build upwards. The London county council recently announced its first housing plan comprising 11-floor "skyscraper" blocks of flats.

Hundreds of homeless families are preparing to overcome the labor shortage by building their own houses.

Some 200,000 other Englishmen have solved their individual problems by becoming trailer-dwellers. But many of them took to wheels as a result of wartime bombing and post-war shortages, and would be glad to give up their rolling homes if they could only get houses.

QUADS FOR FARM MOTHER

All "Doing Fine"; Raise Family to 11

NASHVILLE, Ark., Jan. 15 (AP)—A dark-haired 38-year-old farm wife, who picked cotton until seven weeks ago, was reported cheerful and "doing fine" today after giving birth to quadruplets.

So were the four little babies, three boys and a girl. They were brought to a hospital here by their unemployed father, Leonard Ponder, 41.

The quartet was born last night at the home of Ponder's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ponder, expecting twins, live in a nearby four-room house with seven of eight other living children.

Mrs. Ponder remained today at her mother-in-laws' home while the babies were in incubators at the Nashville hospital. They were full-term infants, and each weighed around 3½ pounds. They haven't been named and the parents seemed in no hurry to do so.

The blue-eyed mother was described as unworried by either the multiple arrivals or her husband's jobless status. He does farm work and odd jobs.

"Let Canada Go Forward . . ."

Churchill Waves Reluctant Farewell After Five Days in Canadian Capital

By GEORGE KITCHEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Jan. 15 (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill departed this capital for Washington today and, with tears in his eyes, bestowed on Canadians his wish for "all success and good fortune."

The 77-year-old British statesman, ending a five-day round of social activities and inter-governmental talks, made a triumphant departure to the cheers of hundreds in Ottawa's union station.

The crowd wouldn't let him go and, in one of three brief platform appearances before his train pulled away, he told the roaring throng:

"Let Canada go forward into her great future . . . I wish you all success and good fortune."

He disappeared into his private car and the crowd sent up the chant "We want Churchill," and he came once again to tell them: "I am not going to say goodbye. I am only going to say au revoir."

Then, a third time, he appeared again, saluting a guard of honor and raising his hand in his famed split-finger "V for Victory" sign.

A military band intoned the first four bars of Beethoven's Fifth Symphony, the dit-dit-dit-dah notes which signified victory in the Second World War.

His special fourcar section, hitched to the rear of the regular Ottawa-Montreal train, left at approximately 4:40 p.m. EST. Prime Minister St. Laurent and members of the Canadian Cabinet saw him go.

The departure ceremony was brief. As an artillery troop thundered a 19-gun salute, Mr. Churchill inspected the R.C.A.F. Guard of Honor and then boarded the train.

During the visit he conferred several times with the Canadian Prime Minister and his Cabinet and filled them in on the details of his talks with President Truman in Washington a week ago.

BEFORE CONGRESS

No decisions or agreements were reached in the Canadian talks, which ranged the whole situation, but an official communique said the two sides had a "complete understanding" on the many problems discussed.

Back in Washington, Mr. Churchill will address a joint session of Congress Thursday.

From Washington, he is expected to go to New York to stay with his old friend, Bernard Baruch, the American financier, before sailing for home Jan. 23 aboard the liner Queen Mary.

One concrete development concerning this country resulted from the visit.

That is the reported decision of Mr. Churchill to appoint Governor-General Viscount Alexander, with whom he stayed here, as his Defence Minister. The latest authoritative word is that the King has been asked to relieve the Field Marshal of his duties and that he will leave Canada shortly.

Multi-Million Dollar Pulp Mill for Quesnel

VANCOUVER, Jan. 15 (CP) — British Columbia is to have another multi-million dollar pulp mill linked with a major hydro electric development.

Plans for a $35,000,000 development now are being drawn up and today some of the details were made known.

Plans call for the construction of a $19,000,000 mill by Western Plywood Company in the Quesnel area in North-Central B. C., 400 miles North of here.

The mill will be supplied with power from a project planned by the B. C. Power Commission at a cost of $16,000,000. The power project will be built in two stages on the Quesnel River.

The pulp mill will use wastewood from the company's other operations and salvageable timber from its forest leases.

More than 200 workers will be employed in the new mill while other hundreds will find jobs in the woods and on other operations.

The mill, under present plans, will provide 200 tons of bleached sulphate a day.

Construction of the big power project likely will mean that many other industries will locate in the Quesnel district.

Snows Block Aid For Ill Woman

MOUNTAIN HOME, Idaho, Jan. 15 (AP) — Efforts to parachute medical aid to a sick woman at a snowbound gold mine in the Sawtooth Mountains North of here were halted today by a storm which dumped a foot of snow on Mountain Home Air Force base.

The storm grounded an Air Force C-82 which was scheduled to fly over the mine near Rocky Bar where Mrs. Gene Jack is reported ill. Ground parties which tried unsuccessfully to buck deep drifts in a weasel Monday also were held at the base.

Mrs. Jack's husband snowshoed out from the mine near Rocky Bar about 65 miles North of Mountain Home last week, notified mine owners that his wife was ill, and returned without giving any details.

Air Force officials said the plane would make the flight tomorrow if the weather clears and a doctor would go along with the weasel if it is necessary to remove Mrs. Jack.

ALEXANDER TO LEAVE SHORTLY; TO BE BRITAIN'S DEFENCE MINISTER?

OTTAWA, Jan. 15 (CP)—An authoritative source said today Viscount Alexander will leave Canada "shortly."

Announcement that he has been relieved of his duties as governor-general is expected soon from Buckingham Palace. He is understood to have agreed to become defence minister in the Churchill cabinet.

Canada's Finance Minister Abbott called at the palace today and may well have presented to the King the documents involved in such a resignation, believed to be the first by a governor-general in this century.

Officials, both British and Canadian, have been tight-lipped here about the development, mainly since it involves the King's approval of the resignation of his personal representative.

B.C. Socreds To Name Leader At Saturday Meet

VANCOUVER, Jan. 15 (CP)—A leader for the British Columbia Social Credit Party will be chosen Saturday when a full seven-man provincial board meeting is held at Hope, B.C.

W. N. Chant, former Alberta minister of agriculture, has announced his intention of seeking the post.

W. A. C. Bennett, former Conservative M.L.A. who bolted the ranks of the coalition government in favor of the Socreds, has also been prominently mentioned.

It was learned today that a movement has been started in Victoria to persuade Harry Perry to lead the party. Perry resigned recently as president of the B.C. Liberal Association.

Lyle Wicks, president of the Provincial Social Credit League, would answer neither "yes" nor "no" to the question of whether he will seek the leadership.

Death Caused by Wrong Direction

OTTAWA, Jan. 15 (CP)—Confusion as to his position caused a pilot to crash his aircraft near Nanaimo, B.C., killing 20 passengers and the crew of three, a Transport Department statement said today.

The plane, a Consolidated PBY-5A amphibian, was on a commercial non-scheduled flight from Mildala to Vancouver last Oct. 17, when it crashed into Mount Benson at night.

The statement said investigation showed that "shortly before the crash the pilot reported his position to be 20 miles West of Vancouver when, in fact, he must have been about 18 miles West to Northwest of Nanaimo.

"It may be concluded that the pilot, believing that he was approaching Vancouver, flew the aircraft at an altitude and in direction that caused it to collide with Mount Benson."

Arrested After 36 Years Freedom

MIAMI, Jan. 15 (AP)—It appeared today that Louis Zommer, 58-year-old fugitive from a New York road camp, may be permitted to continue his life as a free man.

Zommer was arrested at work Thursday in a barber shop at Miami Beach after 36 years of freedom. He escaped after serving half of a five-year term for a $1.50 theft in New York State and came here in 1927.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York said he would not at this time ask for Zommer's return to prison. He said he would request the state parole board to investigate to determine if Zommer had become a useful citizen.

TWO OPERATIONS failed to save the life of Gen. Jean de Lattre de Tassigny, brilliant commander of French First Army during World War II, who died in Paris recently from tumor of the prostrate gland. The five-star general, seen above, had served as French high commissioner and military commander-in-chief of French Far Eastern outpost since December, 1950. His drive and organizing ability proved a big factor in French victories over Communist-led Viet Minh forces in Indo-China, after four years of indecisive battle.—Central Press Canadian.

BIG GUNS QUIET EGYPTIANS

Artillery Breaks Up Commando Attack

ISMAILIA, Egypt, Jan. 15 (Reuters) — British artillery opened up with 25-pounder field guns today for the first time in the Canal Zone battles and shelled Egyptian attackers into silence.

After heavy exchanges of rifle and machine-gun fire, the artillery battery opened up across the Sweet Water Canal and dropped 10 rounds among Egyptian "commandos" attacking a road block and filtrtion plant near the huge ordnance depot at Tel el Kebir.

Artillery gunners said the Egyptians stopped firing when they found themselves under shellfire.

There was no report of casualties.

Tel el Kebir, near the Western border of the Canal Zone, was the scene of bloody battles last weekend.

For 10 days, gangs 20 to 30 strong infiltrated the zone for larger-scale operations, a British military spokesman said today at Gen. Sir George Erskine's headquarters.

British officials voiced satisfaction at the fact that the terrorists came into the open. A spokesman said: "Some of them showed tactical skill and accurate marksmanship but we certainly got our own back."

The commandos were said to consist mainly of Cairo students.

STUDENT DEMONSTRATORS

In Cairo today, 500 secondary school students demonstrating against "mediation" in the Anglo-Egyptian dispute, overturned a street-car and stormed along the main street towards the prime minister's office and the United States and British embassies.

Gen. Simonds to Visit Korean Front-Line Troops

OTTAWA, Jan. 15 (CP) — Lt.-Gen. Guy Simonds, chief of the general staff, left here today by air en route to visit front-line troops in Korea and reinforcements in Japan.

He was accompanied by Lt.-Col. G. M. Sprung, his military assistant, and Col. Don Forbes, director of infantry.

Gen. Simonds is scheduled to arrive in Vancouver Jan. 17.

While in the Far East he will inspect units of Canada's 25th Brigade, confer with Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, commander-in-chief of the United Nations' forces, Brig. A. B. Connelly, commander of the Canadian Military Mission in Japan, Brig. J. M. Rockingham, 25th Brigade commander, and Maj.-Gen. J. H. Cassells, commander of the 1st Commonwealth Division.

Snowfall Here Reaches 50 Inches

A second 4.75 inch snowfall piled up on Nelson Tuesday bringing to 50.45 inches the fall so far this Winter.

Twenty inches have fallen already this month, yesterday's fall being equalled one day last week.

Trail was digging itself out from a near eight-inch fall that was continuing.

Appoint Templer To Malayan Post

LONDON, Jan. 15 (AP) — The appointment of Gen. Sir Gerald W. R. Templer as Britain's high commissioner and military commander in chief for Malaya was announced today by the colonial office.

Sir Gerald, now commander in chief of the British Army's Eastern command, takes over the fight against Malaya's Red guerrillas from the late Sir Henry Gurney, who was ambushed and shot to death last October.

The Colonial Office announced that John Fearns Nicoll, now Colonial Secretary for Hong Kong will succeed Sir Franklin Gimson as governor and commander-in-chief in Singapore.

Sir Gerald, who joined Prime Minister Churchill in Ottawa for weekend conferences with top Canadian government officials, arrived in New York by train from Montreal today with Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.

NO QUALMS

Templer, en route home after conferring with Churchill in Ottawa, told reporters in New York today he had no qualms about stepping into the slain Gurney's shoes.

The Churchill government has given high priority to crushing the Red raiders in Malaya whose tactics have hindered production of tin and rubber, a big source of dollars for the sterling area's hard-pushed economy.

Britain has some 42,000 troops and more than 60,000 police in Malaya battling between 3000 and 5000 armed guerrillas, mostly Chinese.

And in This Corner . . .

FOND DU LAC, Wis., Jan. 15 (AP)—The traffic lights were in his favor, Harry L. Sieloff, Fond du Lac, told the officer after Sieloff's car collided with another at an intersection.

"I had the green light while the other driver went through the red light," the officer quoted Sieloff as saying.

Sieloff was fined $50 yesterday on a charge of drunken driving. There are no traffic lights at the intersection.

HARTFORD, Conn., Jan. 15 (AP)—Poor handwriting of its policemen is costing the city of Hartford about $1500 a month.

Judge S. Burr Leikind told a meeting of the City Council that up to 1500 traffic tags, worth $1 for a violation, and $2 if the violator doesn't appear within 24 hours, are being thrown out each month because what has been written on them can't be read.

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 15 (AP)—John F. Smith, a prolific papa in his 73 years, goes to the good book to explain his 28 children in two marriages.

"The Bible says a man must multiply and replenish the earth," says he, "and I guess that's what I'm doing."

The size of Smith's family was revealed when he called on Probation Officer Chauncey O. Moore to plead for two of his adult progeny charged with grand larceny.

It was the first time, he explained, his sons had been in serious trouble.

Without their help in supporting other children at home, Smith told Moore, "I don't know how we will make it."

Seaman Charged With Murder of Missing Messboy

VICTORIA, B.C., Jan. 15 (CP) — Alexander Williams, 25, of Gould, Nfld., tonight was charged with murder by R.C.M.P. following the disappearance of a Chinese messboy from the Canadian Pacific steamship Princess Joan.

Dong Chew Yin, 20, disappeared early today while the ship was on her routine 80-mile run from Vancouver to Victoria.

Police started dragging operations in Georgia Strait for Dong's body. They also broadcast an appeal for persons who occupied staterooms in one part of the ship to come forward as possible witnesses.

Officers on the C.P.R. ship reported to company officials on arrival here early today that Dong was missing. The youth had no relatives in this country and could not speak English.

Williams is an engine room employee on the Princess Joan. He is scheduled to appear in court here tomorrow.

Police said they had obtained a statement from Williams but declined to divulge details.

Rossland Cagers Win Two From Castlegar High

CASTLEGAR, B.C., Jan. 15 — Rossland High School took both ends of a basketball twin-bill from Castlegar teams in Rossland Saturday but the novice Castlegar players are showing improvement every time out.

Rossland won the boys' tilt 32-19 and turned back the girls 28-19 but the Castlegar students, most of whom had not played basketball prior to this season, made a much better showing than in Nelson before Christmas.

In the boys' games, the winners were paced by Godderis with 10 points while Torreson notched eight. For Castlegar, Zeeban and Archipald were best with six and five points respectively.

Rossland girls outscored the Castlegar team 16-7 in the first quarter for their margin of victory, matching the visitors point for point the rest of the way.

N. Nora was top point-getter with 15 while A. Blaihut was best for Castlegar with six.

Hospital May Buy Metabolism Unit

Purchase of a metabolism machine for Kootenay Lake General Hospital was recommended by Miss Marjorie Whitmore, superintendent, at a board of directors meeting Tuesday night. The board referred the recommendation to its executive committee.

A new machine, costing nearly $500, would replace the hospital's present antiquated machine which is giving inaccurate readings.

Scotland Bans New Year Soccer Match

GLASGOW, Jan. 15 (Reuters) — One of Scotland's great sport institutions — the annual New Year's Day soccer match between Glasgow Celtic and Glasgow Rangers—was banned today.

Each year, when the two teams meet in Ibrox Park or Hampden Park, two of the world's largest stadia, the enthusiasm of their supporters leads to fist fights, bottle-throwing and often rioting.

At this year's game there were 12 arrests.

Today Glasgow magistrates and soccer officials decided that in the interests of safety the two teams will never meet again on New Year's Day.

Isolation Hospital Mix-Up Should Be Settled — Mayor

For years ownership and operation of the Nelson isolation hospital has been open to question.

Board of directors of Kootenay Lake General Hospital has operated the building on the assumption that the city is owner. The hospital has taken revenue from the building yet the city has paid many of its repair bills.

Nelson's new mayor, Joseph Kary, informed the board at its meeting Tuesday night that he means to have the matter settled once and for all. The board agreed that committees from both groups should thrash it out.

George Turner, board president said neither party has lived up to its obligations on the isolation hospital since its construction.

As a result, confusion has arisen over the years as to whether phases of isolation hospital business are municipal or hospital board affairs.

The isolation hospital has been rented to various governmental and public service departments recently. It is seldom used for cases of contagious diseases, except in epidemics.

Alan Smith Mission Covenant Chairman; New Manse Opened in '51

Alan Smith was elected chairman at the annual congregational meeting of the Evangelical Mission Covenant Church Monday night.

Other officers elected for the coming year were E. L. Miller, secretary; Alvin Olson, treasurer; Magnus Christensen, financial secretary; Mrs. E. L. Miller, Sunday School superintendent; Mrs. J. Harris, assistant Sunday School superintendent; Mrs. Alan Smith, pianist; Mrs. Cecil Walls, vice pianist; Mrs. J. Harris, Mrs. A. Gustafson, Mrs. E. Stenberg, deaconesses; E. L. Miller, Magnus Christensen, and A. G. Olson, trustees; M. Christensen and A. Smith, auditors; Mrs. A. Wickstrom, and Mrs. A. Smith, delegates.

Chairman Smith expressed his appreciation to the officers and congregation for their support and co-operation during the past year.

He said progress was evident in all phases of the church work, and especially with the completion of a new church manse on adjoining property.

The church will take part in the continent-wide "Christ for Everyone campaign to be held next October, tentative plans were discussed.

125 Bladesters To Perform in "Ice Capers"

"Rotary Ice Capers of '52", to be presented by Nelson Figure Skating Club February 1 and 2 in Civic Centre Arena will be the biggest skating event of the Winter.

In addition to the colorful 1½-hour show there will be chuck wagon races. First half of the program will be devoted to the story of the Sleeping Beauty, and the remainder will consist of a take-off on a disc jockey show.

The cast will comprise 110 Nelson skaters and 15 from Trail, Kimberley and Rossland. The Nelson performers will range in age from two to 18 years, with two-year-old and three-year-old toddlers among those who will win the audiences.

The show is being directed by Fay Morris, Nelson Figure Skating Club professional.

Following are chairman for Rotary Club committees for the event: W. S. Ramsay, general chairman; Jack McDonald, general vice-chairman; L. A. McPhail, secretary; C. B. Mutcheler, finance committee; A. B. Gilker, asesmbly and arranging carnival program; C. W. Ramsden, advertising and publicity; D. H. T. Mollison, program; H. D. Harrison, ticket sales; Don Richardson, props; Dr. N. R. Morey, house committee, and W. Hipperson, car parking.

Gets 6 Months After Stabbing

Tsunejiro Yasunobu of New Denver Tuesday was sentenced to six months hard labor when convicted by Magistrate William Evans of inflicting grievous bodily harm against another New Denver resident, Saburo Okumura.

Yasunobu pleaded not guilty in Provincial Court, claiming the knifing to be in self defence. He told the court he had attended a party at Okumura's home. Okumura later, he alleged, followed him to his own home. There, he claimed, Okumura attacked him with a whisky bottle. Yasunobu grabbed a knife with a three-foot handle, used, the accused claimed, to kill squirrels. He closed with Okumura and forced him on the ground. Yasunobu claimed the cuts on the injured man's head and hands were from milk bottles and tins lying about the spot where the fight occurred.

The prosecution claimed that the row resulted from a drinking party. The accused, the Court was told, drew a knife and stabbed Okumura in the neck, top of head and temple. Okumura spent one week in hospital as a result of the Christmas Eve fight.

The magistrate told the accused he was fortunate the charge was not murder, and said "it is an extremely serious offence to use a knife in this country". The magistrate reminded the accused that he had been sent to prison previously for a similar offence.

Constable William McLaughlin of New Denver conducted the prosecution.

"Rebecca" Starts Two-Night Run

Nelson Little Theatre brings Daphne du Maurier's intense three-act play "Rebecca" to Capitol Theatre footlights tonight and Thursday night.

In the cast are Miss Mona Loomer as Mrs. de Winter, John Applewhaite as Maxim de Winter, F. H. W. Chanter as Frith, Mrs. Lillian Clare as Beatrice Lacy, Roy Pollard as Giles Lacy, John Gleason as Frank Crawley, Mrs. Frederick Niven as Mrs. Danvers, Hewitt Ferguson as Jack Favell, H. C. Carne as Colonel Julyan and Mike Rushby as William Tabb. Frederick Wheeler is producer and Mr. Chant[illegible], director.

The Greenwood Trophy will be presented to Mr. Wheeler tonight in recognition of his work as the most valuable member of the Little Theatre in the previous season.

Eric Iles will conduct the Nelson High Schools orchestra in selections during intermissions.

MANY ATTEND LAST RITES FOR MRS. H. HARROP

Many friends were present at funeral services held Tuesday at the Thompson Funeral Home for Mrs. Mary Viola Harrop, 20 year resident of Nelson. Rev. Allan Dixon officiated.

Two hymns, "Unto the Hills Around," and "Breathe On Me Breathe of God" were sung. Mrs. W. A. Manson was organist.

The chapel was beautifully decorated with many floral tributes.

Among those attending was the crew of the M.V. Anscomb and many tenants of the Kerr Block. The Ladies Auxiliary and Canadian Legion and members of the Beta Sigma Phi attended in a body and formed open ranks from the chapel to the hearse.

Pallbearers were J. R. Bailey, Louis Coletti, Walter Elmes, C. W. Reeve Harper, Alfred Noxon and Robert Stevenson.

At graveside in Nelson Memorial Park Legion members and the Ladies Auxiliary deposited poppies on the flag draped casket.

Mrs. Harrop, wife of Herbert Harrop, proprietor of Kootenay Motors (Nelson) Ltd., died at Kootenay Lake General Hospital Jan. 12, at 44.

VANCOUVER, B. C. — James Gubbs James, father of James G. James of Nelson, died at his home in Vancouver on Jan. 12. He is survived by his wife, two sons, James G. Jr., of Nelson and Richard of Vancouver, one brother in England and seven grandchildren.

Mr. James had served with the 230th Battalion, and interment will be in the Returned Soldiers' plot at Mountain View Cemetery. Rev. G. Turpin will officiate.

Two in Hospital After Accident Near Bonnington

One woman and her four-year-old grandson are in hospital as the result of an accident near Bonnington Tuesday.

A near head-on collision sent Mrs. L. Tansem to Kootenay Lake General Hospital with lacerations to the face, and head and injuries to the right knee and arm. Extent of the injuries suffered by Alvin Wiegel are not yet known.

Victor D. Wiegel of Wanham, Alta., driver, and his wife, escaped injury.

Wiegel's 1952 sedan collided with a car driven by Samuel Bergen, 20, of Beaverdell, B.C. None of four persons in Bergen's car were injured.

The accident occurred on the double curve near Bonnington at 1 p.m.

Approximately $1000 damage was carried to the two vehicles.

R.C.M.P. are investigating the cause of the accident.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (AP) — John L. Lewis sent a telegram today to Premier Angus L. Macdonald of Nova Scotia expressing shock and grief "over the loss of life involved in the Stellarton explosion."

The explosion yesterday cost the lives of 19 men. It was the worst mine disaster in Canada's Maritime Provinces since 1938.

Non-Professional Hospital Staff Receives Raises

Non-professional employees of Kootenay Lake General Hospital have been granted an 18 per cent across the board increase in salaries.

Negotiations between the hospital's board of directors and Federal Hospital Employees' Union Local No. 180 went to a conciliation board the hospital board was told at its meeting Tuesday night by George Turner, president. The employees had asked for a 22 per cent increase.

"We came to an agreement which is as favorable and in some respects more favorable than those of some hospitals at the Coast," he said.

The increase will raise the hospital's operating costs "considerably."

Final consideration was on an across the board increase or on a differentiation between male and female employees whereby the men would have received more than an 18 per cent increase and the women less.

The nursing staff recently received an 11 per cent increase in salaries.

As a few hospital employees such as dietician and physiotherapist are not covered by either professional or non-professional staff organizations, board members felt they should receive similar increases, and referred the matter to their executive committee.

Nov. Payrolls Reach Peak

OTTAWA, Jan. 15 (CP)—Weekly payrolls hit a peak in November, despite a slight decline in industrial employment, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

Average weekly salaries amounted to $51.97 compared with $51.59 in October and $46.29 in November last year. The index of industrial employment was 186.2 compared with 186.5 in October and 178.1 in November, 1950.

The payrolls index stood at 412.3 against 410.0 at Oct. 1 and 351.7 in November, 1950.

Industrially, the Bureau said, there was generally lessened activity in manufacturing, transportation, storage and communication, public utility operation and construction. The hotel and restaurant group of the service division also reported a substantial seasonal decline in employment as against Oct. 1.

On the other hand, improvement took place in logging, mining, finance and trade.

Grains and Root Crops Still in Fernie Fields After Early Snows

FERNIE, B.C. — Excellent progress during the growing season and good hay harvest were reported at the annual meeting of the Fernie and District Farmers' Institute, but heavy April frost badly damaged small fruits, and snow since October 15 has prevented harvest of many grain crops and some root crops. Livestock and hay prices through the year were reported good.

Creation of a dry range in Hosmer area through construction of a drift fence from a $150 allocation from the Forest Service with members doing the work was an outstanding Institute accomplishment.

Okanagan Rector To Cranbrook Church; Hall To Be Post Office

CRANBROOK, B.C., — Acceptance of appointment of Rev. F. D. Wyatt of Okanagan Mission as new rector of Christ Church parish of the Church of England was announced at the annual parish meeting over which Rt. Rev. F. P. Clark, Bishop of Kootenay presided. Appointment becomes effective immediately after Easter when Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt and their two children move to Cranbrook. Meanwhile Rev. Thomas Chapman of Calgary will conduct the regular services here.

The meeting extended good wishes to Rev. Cyril Clarke and Mrs. Clarke on the occasion of their marriage. Mr. Clarke's resignation from the parish became effective Dec. 31.

Reports showed an excellent year for the parish in all departments. As treasurer Duncan MacDonald reported a balance of $84.91 carried over from receipts of $3727.71 with all obligations met. The building fund showed a balance of $545.96 from receipts of $767.81, and the extension savings account balance was reported at $809.15.

TEMPORARY POST OFFICE

Vote of approval for renting of the parish hall for one year as a temporary post office during the reconstruction of the Federal downtown building was passed.

Organization reports were made by Miss Alice Booker for the choirs, Mrs. Harold Beattie for the Sunday schools, Mrs. Charles Harrison for the Senior Women's Association, Mrs. Arthur Draper for the Evening Branch W.A., and the Little Helpers, Mrs. Walter Mansfield for the Homeworkers, Mrs. W. B. Johnston for the Altar Guild.

Reports were also heard from the Slaterville Guild and the Young Peoples Association.

ELECTIONS

J. S. Dunlop was reelected people's warden, and R. S. Inglis was named warden for the Bishop who is in charge of the parish until Mr. Wyatt's appointment becomes effective. Elected to the vestry committee were C. R. Draper, David Shepard, Walter Soden, Lawrence Croot, F. G. Howse, Ed Hawks, E. K. MacDonald, Duncan MacDonald, A. E. Jones, Emil Day, C. S. Andrews, Clarence Rex, Harry Walkley, C. C. Sweet and Gordon Welsh.

Duncan MacDonald is parish treasurer and C. S. Andrews secretary of the church committee.

C. R. Draper and A. E. Jones were chosen lay delegates to the diocesan synod, with R. S. Inglis and J. S. Dunlop alternates.

St. Laurent's Congratulations To Fernie Golden Wedding Celebrants

FERNIE, B.C. — All 12 children of their marriage at Chappelhall, Airdrie, Scotland January 9, 1801.

Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent was among those extending telegraph greetings, and about 100 friends called to congratulate the couple at their home. The whole family attended Mass at Holy Family Church to open the anniversary day.

Mr. Hughes came to Fernie in 1903 and Mrs. Hughes joined him here in 1907, and since then he has worked at the Coal Creek mine and in Trail and since retirement has made his home here.

Skaters Enjoy Community Rink

SUNSHINE BAY, B. C.—The community rink at Sunshine Bay is a big success.

The rink got underway just before the cold weather started. R. L. Stevenson donated a piece of ground and a bulldozer was soon put to work levelling the proposed site.

Since then the weatherman has been cooperative and when the holidays started there was a fair ice sheet which has been in use almost constantly.

The committee plans to put on a dance to help pay for material going into the building of a shack.

CRESTON INDIAN DEAD OF OVERDOSE OF GRAIN ALCOHOL

CRESTON, B.C. — A coroner's jury Tuesday brought in a verdict that an overdose of grain alcohol caused death of Mrs. Zachary White, Lower Kootenay Indian found dead in the Burma Cafe Dec. 15.

Mrs. White, aged 28 was found dead in a reclining position by police after being notified by a telephone operator.

An autopsy Dec. 17, performed by Dr. G. L. Smith in the presence of Coroner Dr. J. V. Murray and R.C.M.P. officer Poole, revealed no apparent reason for death, but various samples were sent away for laboratory analysis.

The jury was composed of A. S. Reed, M. Fisher, W. S. Lavelle, R. McKelvy, O. E. Bothamely, and D. Kolthammer. Dr. J. V. Murray was coroner.

Rogers President Film Council

TRAIL, B.C. — Annual meeting of the Trail Film Council re-elected Rev. Jack Rogers to the presidency. This will be Mr. Rogers' third year in this capacity.

Others elected were Rev. W. L. Detlor, vice-president; Helen Wagner, secretary, and W. U. Mitchell, treasurer.

Mr. Rogers said that the past year has seen a growth in all the phases of the Film Council's activities. Last year the council provided films for 901 showings which were attended by 52,080 persons.

F. W. Jackson, president of the Arts and Crafts Association, was guest speaker.

One of the two films shown was concerned with the processing of wood into sulphate pulp and other chemical products. In view of the Celgar Development Company project at Castlegar, this film proved particularly fascinating.

Nakusp Ready For Library Assoc.

NAKUSP, B.C.—One of the most important meetings of the year was held recently with representatives from many organizations to discuss a meeting to be called in the near future for the purpose of organizing a public body to become known as the Nakusp Public Library Association.

H. W. Herridge, M.P., gave many helpful suggestions on subject matter. Copies of the Library Act are to be made available.

A suggestion was also made that the library be open two days a week from 3:00 to 5:30 p.m. Letters are to be mailed out to all organizations in town to notify members of the importance of Public Library work. Mrs. T. Mitchell occupied the chair.

Procter Store Sold To Prairie Man

PROCTER, B.C. — D. E. Walsh, former owner of Walsh's General Store, has sold his business to O. Bedard, formerly of Hazenmore, Saskatchewan.

Mr. and Mrs. Walsh and family, who lived in Procter for the past three years, have moved to Balfour where Mr. Walsh is employed on the M.V. Anscomb. Mrs. Walsh was an active member of the Flashlight Club, and Mr. Walsh, a member of the Procter Community Hall Committee.

Mrs. Bedard is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Brady, Holiday Inn, Procter.

Trail Group Urged Not To Lose Sight Of Spiritual Side

TRAIL, B.C. — Christian Business Men's Committee of Trail fifth annual dinner meeting and installation of officers at the Crown Point Hotel Monday evening was attended by 130 members and guests.

Incoming executive installed included Honorable Chairman Dr. B. P. Sutherland, chairman Robert D. McAllister, Vice-chairman Wilmer Aslin, secretary-treasurer Graham Donnelly, executive members, Raymond C. Bell and William MacLeod; past chairman Jack McGowan.

Originally organized in Trail in November, 1946, by efforts of Dr. Sutherland the committee joined the C.B.M.C. International in May, 1947. It is an inter-denominational international organization of Christian men in business who seek to make known the Christian gospel by every available means, working in cooperation with existing churches and other Christian organizations.

SPEAKERS

Speakers included Jack McGowan, past chairman of C.D.M.C., president of West Kootenay Camp of the Gideons, an engineer on staff of the chemical and fertilizer division of the C.M.&S. Co.; Dr. B. P. Sutherland, president of the Trail district for Christ Council which will sponsor a Christ for Trail campaign this Spring; Rev. H. M. Macrury Giarloch, who has just finished a series of meetings in Rossland during the World Week of Prayer in cooperation with Rossland Ministerial Association.

Mr. Giarloch opened a special preaching mission in the First Presbyterian Church in Trail, Tuesday. It will continue to Friday.

Guest speaker was Sam Whittaker of Moose Jaw, formerly a member of the Saskatchewan legislature and founder of the Briercrest Bible Institute at Caronport, in that province. After the war this institute took over an airport with a section of land, living and operating in community fashion, with both grade and high school (fully acredited) in addition to the Bible school.

Mr. Wittaker has toured extensively in Europe organizing committees for C.B.M.C. and also for Gideons in Scandinavia.

Mr. Gairlock declared himself assured that the "application of old time Christianity, with a definite change of heart on the part of the people is the answer to the world-wide crisis we are now facing."

Mr. Whittaker said that he was impressed with the prosperity of Trail, but warned against an apathetic state of mind concerning spiritual things. He felt that "we can become too absorbed and might need a complete jarring loose . . . earthquakes and such things come as a warning to the people of the earth."

Although a superintendent of a Sunday school for over 20 years he did not become a real Christian until the country was plagued with drought and depression, he said, he saw his material goods evaporate and had $50,000 on books he could not collect.

"The only remedy for our troubles is prayer," he said. "And to change the hearts of sufficient number of people to follow in the way of the Lord."

WILLIAM R. THOMSON

. . . of Marysville, recently appointed Justice of the Peace for the Province of British Columbia.

Mr. Thomson, who has been associated with the life insurance business for the past 22 years both in the Kootenays and at Vancouver, was president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in Trail during 1939.

Resources Parley Speakers Well Known Here

M. C. T. Mollison, field representative of the regional development division, Department of Trade and Industry, in Nelson, plans to attend the annual meeting of the British Columbia Natural Resources Conference to be held in the Empress Hotel, Victoria, of Feb. 27, 28, and 29.

The conference will be formally opened by Hon. H. R. Bowman, Minister of the Department of Agriculture, and sessions will continue through from Wednesday to Friday afternoon.

Six to seven o'clock on Friday will be the time for a social hour, while the conference will be brought to a close with a banquet at 7 p.m. in the ballroom.

Speakers at the conference will include K. C. McCannel, Dr. Peter Larkin and R. E. Potter, all known to Nelson.

Mr. McCannel, a former district forester, left Nelson to become supervisor of the Parks Division in the B.C. Forest Service and later went into private forestry.

Dr. Larkin, who for the last two summers has conducted surveys in connection with game fishing in the Lardeau River and Kootenay and Slocan Lakes, will speak on the "Role of B.C. in North American Recreation and Wildlife."

Mr. Potter, a former city engineer of Nelson, is now a commissioner with the Public Utilities Commission.

Doukhobor Y.P. Hold Concert

Taghum Hall was filled Sunday evening as district Doukhobors gathered to attend a Doukhobor Young Peoples Society concert.

Held to show the public what they have accomplished at meetings, the concert was made up of solos, duets, trio, quartet and choir numbers, recitations and one play.

John Stoochenoff was master of ceremonies and also arranged the concert. H. Vereschagen is music instructor for the Society.

Songs and recitations were in Russian as well as English.

The Doukhobor Young Peoples Society is a religion group of the Christian Communities of Christ faith and members range in age from 18 to 40. At meetings the group learns hymns and singing.

Guest at the meeting was Emmott Gulley, member of the Society of Friends and special member of the Consultative Committee on Doukhobors.

The Congo River in Africa was discovered by Portuguese navigators in the year 1484.

Wardens Launch Poison War on Game Predators

NATAL, B.C. — Under the direction of the British Columbia Game Branch poison baits have been distributed in this area in the Fording River section up the Elk Valley and at Olson Creek. The aim is to destroy wolves, coyotes and other predatory animals in the interest of protecting livestock and game.

It was also pointed out that these baits may be of several different types. Warnings have been posted by wardens and predator control experts. Persons may assist by keeping their dogs out of the area. Anyone entering the area with a dog has been asked to keep the animal on a leash. Removal of poisoned predators, or interference with poisoned stations has been declared unlawful.

Army Officers Visit Trail Plants

TRAIL, B.C. — As part of their army college course, 25 Canadian Army officers toured Consolidated Mining and Smelting plants in Trail Tuesday.

They are members of Canada's National Defence College, and are making a tour of all B.C.'s industrial plants, including fish canneries, lumbering operations and naval operations.

Lifeboats Sighted . . .

Capsized Crafts Tell Fate of Crew

SEATTLE, Jan. 15 (AP) — Two lifeboats, overturned and tossing on the stormy North Pacific, told silently today of the undoubted fate of the crew of the lost Japan-bound freighter Pennsylvania.

Rear Admiral M. H. Leslie, commander of the 13th Coast Guard District, tonight ordered the aerial search reduced to a one-plane basis.

The Admiral notified the R.C.A.F. and U.S. Navy and Air Force to "terminate their effort in view of the aircraft sighting the two capsized lifeboats."

He ordered one Coast Guard flying boat to return to the scene tomorrow at daybreak to try to find the other two missing lifeboats.

Two Coast Guard cutters in the area will continue the sea search for the time being, the Admiral said.

The Pennsylvania was abandoned by its crew of 45 last Wednesday after a losing battle in a wild Pacific storm.

One of the final messages said the men were launching four lifeboats. It was uncertain, however, whether the crew was actually able to leave the ship.

STONETOWN DAMAGED

The Canadian weather ship Stonetown was homeward bound tonight after being ordered from the search area because of damage suffered during the six-day hunt for the missing crew.

In the stormy waters, the Stonetown developed a 30 to 40 inch split in one of her joists. The damage was repaired but she was ordered back to Victoria as a safety precaution.

The R.C.A.F. searchers have also been recalled. U.S. Coast Guard officials said there are sufficient American planes now to handle the search.

The ship was abandoned after a big crack developed in her side during a 14-hour battle with gale force winds and 40-foot high waves.

Shipping men, reviewing messages which told of the severity of the storm, expressed doubt that the crew could have launched lifeboats in the wild seas.

The spot where the boats were sighted is about 450 miles off the Northern tip of Vancouver Island.

Nineteen planes scanned the tossing seas today in the biggest air search in the history of North Pacific shipping disasters. The weather moderated during the day.

Storm Brews On Fare Increases

VANCOUVER, Jan. 15 (CP) — Possibility of increased bus and street car fares brought a storm of criticism today from civic and labor leaders.

In Vancouver, it was reported that fares will be increased to 15 cents a ride or two tickets for 25 cents. The present fare is 10 cents cash.

Victoria citizens now pay 10 cents a fare or 25 cents for three.

Fare increases on B.C. Electric Transporation in Victoria, New Westminster and Vancouver was also mentioned at the hearing Thursday.

W. C. Mainwaring, vice-president of the company, supported the prediction that higher transit rates are inevitable.

Mainwaring said increases in wages, operating expenses and taxes will cost the company an additional $1,000,000.

"We must recover this amount somehow," he said.

Acting-mayor Halford Wilson said "it wouldn't be consistent" for the city to oppose B.C. Electric when the city is negotiating with its own unions.

"We expect our unions to get increases on the merits of the case. I expect the B.C. Electric unions to operate the same way."

He was supported by Ald. George C. Miller.

Jet Engine Returns Money

BARNOLDSWICK, Yorks, England, Jan. 15 (CP) — A roaring jet engine sucked in a wallet containing £60 — and obligingly gave the owner £55 10s. in change.

The wallet was in a jacket which Harry Isles hung on a peg. The jacket vanished when a jet engine at an aircraft factory here started a test run.

Jacket and wallet were torn to shreds. But £55 10s. was found wrapped around a silencer, intact.

Experts said the notes must have been sucked out of the wallet and pressed into a comparatively cool spot.

MAYOR HUME TO DONATE SALARY TO CHARITIES

VANCOUVER, Jan. 15 (CP) — Wealthy Mayor Fred Hume gives his $7500 yearly mayoral salary to charity and he has had 1000 requests for aid.

But many of them are far from charitable cases. A farmer in Richland, Wash., asked money for purchase of a few acres of farmlands, a house and a chicken coop. A nurse in Montreal wanted to finance a holiday trip to the West coast, while a Vancouver bookkeeper needed money to make restitution for funds "borrowed" from employers.

The mayor gave away his salary last year through a civic charity fund, but this year he plans to dole it out himself.

"The money will go only to recognized charitable organizations," he said today.

Seven Dry Years End For South California

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 15 (AP) — After seven dry years, parched Southern California is finally getting a wet Winter.

A series of storms has brought almost double the normal amount of rainfall. Lakes, reservoirs and streams—some of them almost dry—are beginning to fill.

ONE OF RUSSIA'S NEWEST twin-jet planes is shown in this drawing, released by an aviation magazine. The magazine said it was either a twin-jet fighter, night fighter or ground attack aircraft, recently developed for the Red air force. It has been seen in Poland. The plane is powered by two axial flow turbojets.—Central Press Canadian.

Winnie Seeks Backing Against U.S. Sea Czar

OTTAWA, Jan. 15 (CP) — Prime Minister Churchill has been hammered Minister Churchill hammered at the Atlantic naval command argument in talks here, it was learned today.

This was apparently an attempt to swing Canada over to support of his contention that there should be no over-all Atlantic Pact boss in that great sea.

Canada's attitude has been that the United States and United Kingdom should fight it out themselves.

This question, it is reported reliably, appears to be uppermost in the mind of the British leader who has cherished and championed Britain's sea record and stature ever since he was head of the admiralty in the First World War.

WANT AMERICAN LEAD

The U. S. wants an American named to lead all Atlantic Pact naval forces, including Canada's, in the Atlantic. The U. K. view is reported to be that there should be no over-all Czar at all but that the U. S., U. K. and Canada should each be allotted an area of responsibility as they were in the last war.

Canada's stand is that she is willing to accept any compromise or agreement worked out by the two larger countries but some influential ministers are said to feel the U. S. might well make some concessions to Mr Churchill on this point.

Canada is expected to be assigned operational responsibility for a large area of the Atlantic between her Eastern seaboard and Iceland at any rate but this might or might not be under over-all control depending on the outcome of the argument.

Mr. Churchill, on his return to Washington tomorrow, may well take the question up again with President Truman in an attempt to reach a decision before leaving North America.

REDS CAMPAIGN TO ABOLISH SALE OF WIVES

BELGRADE, Jan. 15 (Reuters) — Communists have started a campaign to abolish the practice of buying and selling women which thrives among Moslem shiptars, an Albanian minority, in the Yugoslav province of Kosmet.

In Kosmet a girl is a source of income for her father — and she remains nothing more than a dream for a boy unless he has 100,000 or 150,000 dinars.

Because many young Shiptars haven't the necessary money to buy a wife, they often remain unmarried while rich men take two or three wives.

Communist authorities in the province consider the custom contrary to party doctrine.

Purchase of the wife-to-be is usually carried out through a mediator who first charges the groom's father a certain sum of money for his services and then asks for further gifts for the girl's uncles, brothers and other relatives.

The girl is usually very young at the time of betrothal.

There have been cases of girls two years old being betrothed to men of 30.

Marriage customs in the rest of Yugoslavia are more normal. In fact, Yugoslavia is one of the most-marrying nations in the world.

Logging Industry Accidents Increase

VICTORIA, B.C., Jan. 15 (CP) — Seventy-seven persons were killed in the logging industry during 1951 compared to 62 in 1950, according to the Workmen's Compensation Board.

During last year there were 6442 time-loss accidents.

"While the number of accidents reported in 1951 is 10 per cent greater than 1950, the number of man hours of work in the logging industry also increased so that the overall frequency rate — the number of accidents per unit of work—has not changed," explained an official.

An analysis of the logging accidents reported in 1951 shows that 37 per cent of the cases were due to the workman being struck by moving objects; 30 per cent due to the workman falling or slipping; 12 per cent due to axe and saw cuts; eight per cent due to strains and over-exertion, and 13 per cent due to other causes.

MORE MEN KILLED

In the lumber milling industries, 16 persons were killed during 1951 compared to 10 in 1950. There were 4846 time-loss accidents.

This group of industries includes sawmills, shingle mills, sash and door factories, veneer and plywood plants and pulp and paper mills.

The frequency rate of accidents in the lumber milling industries actually decreased during 1951 although there were more men killed. This is because the number of hours of work increased by 10 per cent.

Marriage Tradition Broken Due to High Living Costs

LOWER GORNAL, England, Jan. 15 (Reuters—For the first time in centuries a strictly enforced rule of no marriage during lent will be broken at the parish church here this year because of the high cost of living.

Rev. Robert Timms, ex-army padre, explained: "If couples marry before April 4, the end of the financial year, the husbands can claim tax rebate for the whole year.

"I would not allow lent weddings before but now newlyweds need all the money they can get and the lure of the rebate is breaking our centuries old tradition."

Movie Gossip

Frankie Parker, Tennis Champion, Discusses Movie Star Students

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 15 (AP) — "Tennis, anyone?"

How about a few sets with Frankie Parker, the glamor boy among the tennis champions? Or maybe you'd rather talk about such things as movie tennis players and the brevity of court attire.

Frankie is an expert on both. He has played with most of the movie tennis addicts. Among the better players, he listed Robert Taylor, Peter Lawford and Walter Pidgeon. Van Johnson is so-so, he remarked.

Frankie teaches tournament form to Katharine Hepburn, who is portraying a top-flight athlete in "Pat and Mike."

"She is an excellent student," Frankie remarked.

Frankie is also an authority on tennis wear. Today's aces can thank him for paving the way to more sensible attire. He harks back to an era when all tournament players wore flannel trousers.

"I started out wearing knickers, which was pretty daring at the time," he said. "Then I switched to shorts. When Don Budge and I went to Wimbledon for the Davis Cup matches in 1937, the officials said I could not wear shorts. 'Too undignified,' they said.

"I argued that I couldn't play in anything else and it looked as though I wouldn't be allowed to compete. But finally they gave me a special dispensation, if I wore 'long' shorts.

Frankie also favored the improvements in female tennis garb. The pioneer in that field was "Gorgeous Gussie" Moran.

"I think women's tennis much more exciting now that the girls are more actvie," he said.

Belgium Has New All-Catholic Govt.

BRUSELS, Jan. 15 (Reuters) — Belgium got a new all-Catholic government today under Premier Jean Van Houtte, in a musical-chairs reshuffle of the administration of Joseph Pholien which was turned out of office a week ago.

Van Houtte was finance minister in the Pholien administration, also all-Catholic, which collapsed after criticism from leaders of the Catholic party, the Social Christians.

The party won a narrow over-all majority in the house in the last election in 1950.

King Baudouin, facing the first ministerial crisis of his five-month-old reign, asked Van Houtte three days ago to form a new government.

The old government had been accused by its critics of bad economic planning and co-ordination.

Paul Van Zeeland, Foreign Minister under Pholien, retains his post.

Air-Travel Fare Rates Reduced

MONTREAL, Jan. 15 (CP) — Trans-Canada Air Lines today announced fare reductions of seven per cent on flights to the United States, United Kingdom, Europe and Bermuda and the West Indies.

They are effective Jan. 22 and will be made as a result of the Canadian dollar and the United States dollar reaching near-parity.

The lowering of tariffs resulted from an agreement reached between Trans-Canada and other carriers to consider the Canadian dollar on a parity with the United States dollar for fare-making purposes, amending the current relationship of $1.07 to $1.00.

The dollar saving being passed on to travellers, for example, will mean a lower air fare between Montreal and London, England, than from New York to London. Reductions in these fares range from $26.70 on a one way ticket to $48.10 for "on season" return. Still greater reductions will occur with the introduction of tourist service May 1.

DEFENCE COLLEGE CLASS VISITS EDMONTON

EDMONTON, Jan. 15 (CP)—The 5th class of the National Defence College of Kingston, Ont., on a tour of Canadian military and industrial establishments, arrived here tonight by plane from Vancouver.

The group is headed by Air Vice Marshal C. R. Dunlap, college commandant.

Britain Protests Trio's Absence

BERLIN, Jan. 15 (AP) — British authorities protested to the Red Army in East Germany today over the continued absence of three men attached to Gracie Fields' soldier tour who disappeared in the Russian zone Saturday.

A spokesman said the mission trio was supposed to have been released, along with their British Army automobile, on the West side of the Soviet frontier yesterday.

The missing men are Gordon Crier of the BBC, acting as manager for Gracie Fields on her tour of British troop units in Germany; Peter Wilson, publicity agent for Miss Fields, and a British Army driver, L/Cpl. Levy.

The men apparently got off the Allied highway between West Berlin and West Germany Saturday morning and wound up in Soviet zone detention.

ALTHOUGH some snowbound areas of India went to the polls as early as October, the bulk of India's 175,000,000 voters are casting their ballots between Jan. 3 and Jan. 24 to elect India's first representative House of the People. Observers believe that Pandit Nehru's Congress Party will be returned to power with a large majority. In order to prevent persons voting twice, the election authorities have invented the system of applying a mark on every voter with indelible ink immediately before he or she goes to cast vote. Above the mark is being applied to the thumb of a woman voter at Gurgaon, one of the districts of Punjab, an Indian border province. —Central Press Canadian photos.

Lovers Set Endurance Record

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 15 (AP) — A 17-year-old girl and her boy friend, both unidentified, have established what is believed to be a new world endurance record for a romantic telephone conversation.

The pert blonde, who refused to give reporters her name, entered a telephone booth at 8 o'clock yesterday morning. She talked with her boy friend until 3:30 p.m. — 7½ hours.

The cost? One nickel.

Ed Nixon, who operates a key shop, said the girl came to his shop and asked for change for a dime.

He saw her enter the phone booth outside his shop, deposit a nickel dial and start talking. "She talked all morning standing up," said Nixon.

"About noon she unwrapped her lunch and ate it, still talking. I gave her a stool to sit on. She was very grateful."

During the afternoon business men came to watch her through the glass door of the booth.

Nixon, sensing an endurance record was in the making, summoned reporters.

Asked what they talked about the girl replied scornfully:

"We're very much in love."

Wedding Interests Nakusp

NAKUSP, B.C.—Nakusp, former home of the bride and her parents, has interest in the quiet marriage in Kelowna of Mrs. Mary Kathleen Argyle and Harry George Truss.

Rev. R. S. Leitch of First United Church officiated in Willow Inn for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Rushton of Kelowna and the son of Mrs. E. Truss of Brandon, Man.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Williams were their only attendants. Miss Mary Campbell was pianist for the wedding at which the bride was given away by her father.

A pale blue dressmaker suit was chosen by the bride, with which she wore a white silk velvet hat and white gloves, and a corsage of white gardenias, pink rosebuds and heather.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Williams, chose deep violet velvet for her two-piece dress, accessorized with a violet hat and cream gloves, and a corsage of pale yellow carnations.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Rushton chose a black afternoon dress, with a beaded cape effect, worn with a matching velvet hat with rhinestone trim, and pink carnations en corsage.

43 GUESTS

At the reception which followed for about 43 guests, Mr. Harold Long proposed the bridal toast, to which the groom fittingly replied, and Mr. Dave McKeown proposed a toast to the matron of honor, responded to by Mr. Williams.

Large yellow chrysanthemums and the wedding cake highlighted the attractively-appointed bride's table. Presiding at the urns were Mrs. T. A. Carew and Mrs. J. Hoover, while assisting with the serving were Mrs. F. Acres, Mrs. D. McKeown, Mrs. D. Carr-Hilton, Miss Maureen Marshall and Miss Mary Campbell.

KELOWNA HOME

The bride donned a muskrat coat over her wedding costume for their honeymoon trip to Kamloops and Vancouver by car. Upon their return, the newlyweds will make their home in Kelowna.

Future Dividends From Planning Available to Kootenay Communities

A team of city planners has been engaged by the Aluminum Company of Canada to lay out the new city of Kitimat, townsite of the gigantic $500,000,000 power and aluminum development in British Columbia, which is making Canadian industrial history. It is anticipated that the city will eventually house 50,000 people, and the plans are being laid accordingly.

There are, to be sure, special circumstances attending the Kitimat town planning project. The community is being hewn out of the virgin wilderness, and there will be virtually no established rights or existent buildings to prevent the fullest use of geography and natural features for the most economical and socially convenient use of the land. But this unique freedom should not discourage the authorities in other such "new" or expanding towns from the use of wise foresight in developing their communities from their present stage so as to maintain property values and amenities as long as possible.

In the Kootenay we have expansions ahead for communities as the result of industrial development that will put these centres almost in the class of "new" communities. These circumstances exist at Remac, Riondel and now in the Castlegar-Kinnaird-Robson area.

The Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada Ltd. is bringing about the rebirth of the community of Riondel by re-opening the Bluebell ore deposits. Remac is, of course, a new community in every sense of the word, created by the activities of the Reeves MacDonald Mining Company in mining the giant ore bodies along the border. The huge industrial building to be wrought by Celgar Development Company Limited will bring vast changes to the localities surrounding this new pulp and paper making centre.

All the problems that come with growth will visit themselves upon Castlegar, Kinnaird, Robson, and it will pay these communities perpetual dividends if they get the best in town planning talent to advise them.

In developing a new community, it is a great advantage to know in advance what will be required for various municipal services. Municipal authorities, aware that they will have to provide for so many acres of residential property, zoned for dwellings of a determined size and distribution, may reserve adequate land for schools and parks, spotted for convenience of access and an estimated maximum population. Water mains and trunk sewers may be laid down large enough from the first for full requirements. Streets and traffic arteries, off-street parking space and shopping centres, may be designed for the service of their neighborhoods.

Such planning does not prevent private development of subdivisions. It simply means that the investment is adequately protected both for the private owners and the municipality. The assessed values decline more slowly during the life of the properties. The mixture of industrial, commercial and residential is prevented in advance.

The town planning idea, fortunately, is not a strange one to the newer Kootenay communities, and we can expect to see arising in our midst growing centres, not only industrially prosperous, but centres in which the workers can proudly and happily make their homes.

Verse

Wrecker Or Builder?

I watched them tearing a building down,
A gang of men in a busy town,
With a yo-heave-ho and a lusty yell
They swung a beam and the side walls fell.

I asked the foreman, are these men skilled,
The kind you would hire if you were to build?
He gave a laugh and said, "No, indeed;
Just common labor is all I need—
I can easily wreck in a day or two
What builders have taken years to do."

Then I thought to myself as I went my way,
Which of these two roles am I trying to play?
Am I a builder working with care,
Shaping each piece by the rule and square?
Putting it together by a well-laid plan,
Patiently doing the best I can?
Or am I a wrecker roaming the town,
Content with the labor of tearing down?

You are either building up or tearing down
In everything you do.
You must be with the construction gang
Or with the wrecking crew.

Women at Work

The women of Canada make up by far the largest pool of potential workers available to this country in an emergency.

Other groups, such as retired persons, youths and the physically handicapped, were needed in the last war and came forward, and would be needed again in any future emergency, but their numbers are small compared with those of the women who could enter the working force.

In the last war, 500,000 women entered the employed labor force, to help fill vital jobs in war industries, in essential civilian industries and in the armed forces. In 1939, however, many young women in Canada were not working, and many of those who were employed found their jobs less attractive than the jobs offered to them in war work.

Today, on the other hand, large numbers of our young women are in satisfactory employment or are raising families, and the fact that young women are present in numbers equivalent to the reserves of 1939 does not necessarily mean that they can be drawn into employment as quickly or in the same large numbers today.

Their response would depend on how desirable defence employment appeared to them when compared with their present jobs, and also, of course, on the nature of the emergency —a strong patriotic appeal would certainly override personal considerations, as it did in World War II.

Marital status alone is apparently no longer sufficient to prevent women from entering employment as it was, in most instances in 1939. There are today about 320,000 married women in Canada holding down jobs. Barriers against their employment are continually being removed and married women who wish to work are today usually able to obtain employment.

There is no general shortage of women workers at present, although there are shortages in certain fields such as nursing and skilled secretarial work. If a general shortage should develop, however, there is a reserve of women available which has been almost untapped up to now—the 1,000,000 women between the ages of 45 and 64 who are not now in the labor force. While most of them have been away from the labor market for many years, the experience they have gained in managing households and raising families could be a real employment asset.

Reader, Nelson—Do you know the name and author of the poem in which these lines appear:

"Only the dewpond on the height
Unfed, that never fails,

We are indebted to B. C. Affleck, Nelson, and A. R. Munday, Nakusp, for informing us that the poem was written by Rudyard Kipling and is entitled "Sussex". The complete stanza is as follows:

"We have no waters to delight
Our broad and brookless vales—
Only the dewpond on the height
Unfed, that never fails,
Whereby no tattered herbage tells
Which way the season flies—
Only our close-bit thyme that smells
Like dawn in Paradise."

Cut in Freight Rates Benefit to Interior West

OTTAWA, Jan. 15 (CP) — Rail freight rates were lowered today on a variety of articles moving between Eastern Canada and the Interior West.

The reductions — subject of controversy before the Royal Commission on Transportation and at the last session of parliament — will chop some rates by close to 100 per cent. They will benefit Alberta chiefly.

The new rates were put into effect by the railways under the so-called "one and one-third rule" adopted by Parliament late last year. The rule gives the Interior West a share in the low "transcontinental" rates between the East and the British Columbia coast, which have been depressed by water competition.

The legislation, result of a long fight led by the Alberta Government orders that rates between the East and Interior West may not be more than 1 1/3 those between the East and the B.C. coast.

Articles affected include such varied products as canned goods, soap, confectionery, vegetable oils, paper, roofing, glassware and miscellaneous steel items. The value of the traffic coming under the new rates has never been officially estimated, but it amounts to several million dollars a year.

Perhaps the major item to undergo reduction will be canned goods moving to the West from Eastern Canada. The existing rate to Calgary and Edmonton from the Montreal-Windsor-Sudbury "triangle" area now is $3.23 per 100 pounds. This will be cut to $2.09. The $2.53 rate to Regina will be $2.09.

In some cases, the reductions will not be as large as the difference between the new rates and the old published rates. That is because shippers have been able to get the benefit of "back haul" rates.

A shipper in Edmonton buying goods from Toronto, say, might find that the Toronto-Vancouver rates plus the Vancouver-Edmonton backhaul charge would be less than the straight Toronto-Edmonton haul. In that case, he could get the lesser rate from the railway.

Another qualification of the benefits to the interior points is that, by and large, to take advantage of the reductions they will have to deal in larger quantities of freight than at present. Minimum car loadings for the reduced rates range up to 70,000 pounds on some products.

"Clasped Hands" Stolen From Case

WACO, Tex., Jan. 15 (AP) — The "Clasped Hands," famed bronze sculpture of the hands of English poet Robert Browning and his wife, were discovered stolen today.

They had been on display in the "Foyer of Meditation" in Baylor University's Armstrong Browning Library here.

The custodian found the heavy plate glass of the case broken and the hands missing.

The shrine to the English poet was dedicated only last Dec. 3.

The clasped hands were made in 1853 by Harriet Hosmer, an admirer and contemporary of the famed English poet.

Views From the News Fronts

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press News Analyst

Stalin has put the Western powers into something of a dither with his new offer of what appears on the face to be a major concession in the Russian attitude toward an atomic control agreement.

First foreign minister Andrei Vishinsky offered before the U.N. a proposal to enter into an agreement based on banning of atomic bombs coincident with the start of controls, and for continuous U.N. inspection rather than the periodic checks for enforcement purposes on which Russia has heretofore insisted.

The Russians also tied the latest proposals in with other items of long propaganda stading. They again asked U.N. condemnation of the Atlantic pact. They asked a Korean truce based on withdrawal by both sides from the 38th parallel, a demand already relinquished by the Chinese negotiators.

This packaging manoeuvre, involving so many obviously propagandistic moves, raised allied doubts that there was any real meaning to the whole thing. This was especially true since it was delivered at part of one of Vishinsky's normally scurrilous diatribes.

Then the Communist delegation announced not through Vishinsky, but through Kisselev, the Byelo-Russian, that the atomic proposal "flows directly from directives of Joseph Vissarionovich Stalin."

Now the Western Powers are forced to take a new look. Whether they like it or not, most U.N. members are insistent that no possibility of big power agreement be overlooked. The Big Three of the West have to avoid any suspicion that they are afraid of peace. Yet there are deathly afraid that any agreement with Russia will merely mean tying their own hands while an unscrupulous partner takes every advantage of them.

Unions Cry "Hands Off!" To Coast Civic Officials' Wage Objections

VICTORIA, B.C., Jan. 15 (CP)— City and union officials here are hopping mad over a statement by Public Utilities Commission Chairman D. K. Penfold that the city should fight wage increases, not rate increases.

The statement was made during a P.U.C. hearing for Victoria officials who presented a brief protesting the B. C. Electric application for increased residential rates.

Both Victoria and Vancouver, contended Mr. Penfold and Commissioner R. E. Potter, raised no objections when B.C.E. employees sought wage boosts but object to consequent rate increases.

"The time to object is when wage increases are sought," said Mr. Potter.

Mr. Potter added that there was no excuse why this area "should have the highest wage rates in Canada."

"It's not the richest nor the busiest," he said.

City Solicitor Arthur Patton said the city had no authority or business interfering with wage negotiations between any company and its employees.

UNIONS ANNOYED

Union officials were particularly annoyed at the Commission's attitude toward the unions. Officials said Mr. Penfold has only suggested the cities step into the negotiations, but that they "fight the unions."

"It would appear the Commissioners have exceeded their authority in advising anyone to fight unions. The unions have not yet been successful keeping wages up with the cost of living," said Harold Thayer, Executive Secretary of the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council (AFL-TLC).

The Labor Council, he said, will hold a special meeting to discuss the statement.

Officials of the B. C. Electric had no comment to make on the Commission's statement.

Around the KOOTENAY in Sport

LARRY RATCLIFFE

KIMBERLEY—Anyone who ever thought that Kimberley was the hockey capital of the East Kootenay—and notice we said WAS— would very likely be correct. But if someone said Kimberley IS the hockey capital, towns like Creston, Cranbrook and Fernie could offer you some darn good arguments proving the point wrong. Kimberley has won many hockey titles, and they'll win more, but they're going to find themselves losing many too, and a lot of them will be right here in the East Kootenay.

Saturday night the Creston arena was host to two Kimberley hockey teams. The arena, with somewhere around 500 fans roaring inside, was to be the battle-ground for the East Kootenay High School (Green Cup) League opener, and a preliminary battle between the Kimberley and Creston Pee Wees.

For two periods the Creston High School pucksters fought on even ground with the highly-touted Kimberley boys, at times outplaying the team that had three stars of two Kootenay Juvenile championship teams. Creston faded in the third, becoming over-anxious, and the final score was 12-5. How any two teams, High School especially, could set the blistering pace those guys did and still have any steam left at the end of the game is beyond many who saw the game, including yours truly. Both teams skated hard the full 60 minutes, and though the play was sometimes ragged, sometimes rugged, it was a very good game, one of the best of Green Cup hockey thrillers. Kimberley proved a little rougher, a little smoother, but no faster . . .

The High School battle proved that Kimberley is still the team to watch in that category. But the Pee Wee team proved something else. In some three years time you will see Creston teams . . . and probably Fernie and Cranbrook . . . come out of Kimberley as often as you will see Kimberley in all likelihood.

Creston Pee Wees won 3-2 in a close game that seemed to please the crowd immensely. We would predict that Kimberley would win the return match. But the point is this, Kimberley kids can be beaten by other East Kootenay centres, and will be beaten at times, and nothing will change that.

Other towns are getting as much time on the ice and just as good coaching.

Roy Allen, one-time Nelson Maple Leaf star, is playing a big part in the Creston Kid hockey building program. Though Creston won't register their teams this year, the ex-Nelsonite reports they'll probably get into active competition next year. There'll be nothing to hold them out. Towns like Creston . . . meaning Cranbrook and Fernie and possibly Michel, of course . . . should be able to do just as well as Creston has, and for that reason we predict that you will see just as many East Kootenay titles go to other towns as you will to Kimberley.

Cranbrook ,right now, has a more active Intermediate organization than Kimberley even hopes to have. Cranbrook has three teams in action while Kimberley players practiced for the first time Monday evening. Fernie kids are in Crow's Nest Pass leagues in the Midget and Juvenile divisions. You East Kootenay people who expect to still be around in three years should get interested in the East Kootenay Senior B and kid hockey right now, there'll be some great teams come out . . .

"Who won?"

"Kimberley, 5-3. But I don't know how they did it. Nelson outplayed them most of the first two periods . . ." So the stories go. Friday night the Dynamiters stepped out against the Maple Leafs and won their ninth straight game. How they did it we certainly don't know. The Dynamiters were so badly outplayed the first half of the game that by the end of the first period they were behind 3-1. Kimberley got two goals early in the second to tie the count, both with Leaflans in the sinbin, and that seemed to take a lot out of the Leafs. Especially since the penalties, one at least, were very arguable . . .

Guys like Buzz Mellor, Tank Johnston, Red Sutherland, and the other veterans who usually hold the team together were lost the first twenty or thirty minutes. Livingstone, Red Mellor and Simpson gave Rodsinyak most of his worries. The Kimberley defence, with the exception of Barker, gave reason enough why they were called the "weakest in the league" not so long ago.

Though Eddie Wares, who turned in a smart game on the Leaf defence, did not disagree very loudly with the referees at any time, we would like to go on record as saying he very well might and could have with justification at times. When Maglio was thumbed for hooking Kavanagh at the end of the second, for instance, he deserved a penalty, but so did the Kimberley star. Kavanagh slashed out and connected. As a result of the call, where one player was thumbed instead of two, it meant one goal to Nelson because Bim Barker put one behind Rodzinyak while Maglio watched from the penalty-box.

Highlights of the shinny-like battle were the two goals by the now-flying Ken Simpson and the work of his line-mates, Red Mellor and Doc Livingstone, and the goal-tending of Boomer Rodzinyak and Dave McLay. McLay saved Kimberley in the third after a shaky first period, stopping breakaways and close in drives while the local defence milled around like lost sheep . . .

PREDICTION: The Nelson Maple Leafs will occupy third place in the W.I.H.L. at playoff time, probably by at least a .100 average over Kimberley . . . The reason? Kimberley is a home club and always was, and yet they have the worst road trip ever facing them . . .

Leafs Trounce Trail 6-2

Four-Goal First Period Too Much for Faltering Smokies; Scoring Well-Divided

TRAIL, B.C., Jan. 15—A spirited Nelson Maple Leaf team jumped on the Trail Smoke Eaters for four unanswered goals in the first period, then breezed home with a 6-2 Western International Hockey League victory here tonight.

The victory, Nelson's second in four nights over the Smokies and first on Trail ice in league play this season, consolidated the Leafs' third-place position and dropped the Smoke Eaters into a first-place tie with Spokane Flyers.

It also evened the count at four wins apiece in eight meetings to date this season.

STANDINGS

	P	W	L	D	F	A	Pct.
Trail	33	19	14	0	174	140	.576
Spokane	46	25	18	3	181	183	.576
Nelson	33	13	18	2	121	137	.424
Kimberley	23	9	14	0	97	110	.391

Scoring was well-divided with Johnny Harms, Neil McGlenaghan, Fritz Koehle and Bruno Pasqualotto connecting in the first period when the Leafs outplayed Trail by a wide margin and ran the count to 4-0, the latter two coming just 42 seconds apart.

Frank Turik broke the ice for Trail just 41 seconds after the start of the second period as the Smokies came back in the second period. Gordie Sinclair made it 4-2 with 64 seconds left in the second.

Bill Haldane and Mickey Maglio put the game on ice for the Leafs by adding goals midway through the final period.

Nine penalties were handed out in the fast contest, five of them going to the Smoke Eaters.

Smoke Eaters used Terry Cavanaugh on defence in place of the injured Ab Cronie, injured Saturday in Nelson and out for the season with a fractured skull. In hospital at Nelson, his condition is "satisfactory" and he is likely to be removed to Trail within a day or two.

Next W.I.H.L. action will be this evening when Spokane Flyers play the Dynamiters at Kimberley. The East Kootenay club is in Trail Friday and Nelson Saturday while the Smokies will play Flyers in a week-end doubleheader at Spokane.

Sloan's Goal Gives Leafs 1-0 Victory

BOSTON, Jan. 15 (CP) — Tod Sloan's goal midway through the second period while rookie Leo Labine was sitting out a penalty gave Toronto Maple Leafs a 1-0 victory over Boston Bruins before 8224 National Hockey League spectators tonight.

The game was featured by resumption of a fued between Jim Thomson of the Leafs and Ed Kryzanowski of the Bruins. Both received majors for fighting early in the third period when they dropped sticks and exchanged blows at centre ice. The battle between the two started the last time the teams met in Toronto when Thomson checked Kryzanowski into the backboard and the Boston player had 16 stiches taken for facial cuts.

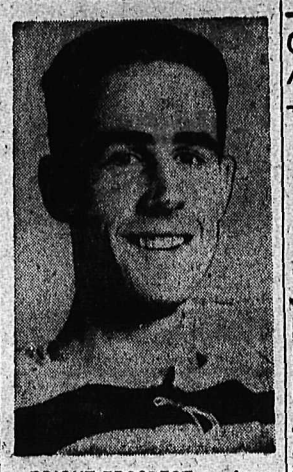
Lanky Al Rollins of the Leafs earned his fourth shutout of the season. During the last two periods he made 29 saves.

The tripping penalty that Labine drew at 10.50 of the second period proved costly to the Bruins.

The Leafs sent out their usual power combination and Sid Smith set up the winning goal. He carried around the Boston net and passed out to Max Bentley. Bentley spotted Sloan uncovered just a few feet from the Boston cage and fed to him. Sloan promptly whipped it past Jim Henry.

From there on the Bruins almost continuously stormed Rollins, but to no avail.

Islands of the British Empire in the West Indies cover a total of 12,464 square miles.



BRIGHT PROSPECT . . . In an effort to find a scoring punch for his fifth-place Boston Bruins, Art Ross has sent Jim Morrison, seen above, a talented young rookie defenceman, down to Pittsburgh Hornets in exchange for Fleming Mackell, of Toronto Maple Leafs. In defending the trade — which some fear may come to be known as Ross' folly—Art said he believed the Bruins had some excellent defence prospects coming up and could "afford to sacrifice the defence for a forward who can come up with some scoring punch." Morrison, an ex-Barrie Flyer, is reported to be one of the best prospects in hockey today.—Central Press Canadian.

CALGARY GETS FIRST-ROUND THOMAS CUP MATCHES

VANCOUVER (CP)—Calgary has been awarded the first round Thomas Cup badminton match between Canada and the United States.

The decision was made by Jack Underhill of Vancouver, chairman of the Thomas Cup committee. He said Calgary had entered the "best application" and that the committee vote had been unanimous.

The committee asked that the match be played March 21 and 22. If these dates are accepted by the U.S., the Canadian championships at Winnipeg will be played the week before and the U.S. championships later.

BROWNIE CAMP FOR B. C. BALL HOPEFULS

VANCOUVER, Jan. 15 (CP) — Young baseball hopefuls in British Columbia will have a chance to try out for a major league team this year.

Mack Rodney, scout for the St. Louis Browns, said today the major league team will conduct a two-day training school at Haney this Spring.

"Dates for the tryouts have not been set," Rodney said.

This is the first time a major league club has had a tryout camp in the vicinity of Vancouver.

Haney is about 30 miles from Vancouver.

Last Season for Black Jack Stewart, Says Hawk Coach

By MEL GUFFRIN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 15 (CP) — Black Jack Stewart, one of the top defencemen in the National League for more than a decade, may be through at the end of this season.

The prediction was made today by Ebbie Godfellow, coach of Chicago Black Hawks, who offered hockey writers some of the reasons for his team's poor showing this season.

Goodfellow, whose last-place Chicago Black Hawks met New York Rangers here tomorrow night, said the 34-year-old 180-pound rearguard hasn't come back as expected after spending much of last season on the sidelines with a slipped spinal disk.

"This will be his last season," said Goodfellow. His latest remarks contrasted with his pre-season statement that "Stewart" is all right. He's the same guy you used to know and that's bad news for the rest of the league."

Stewart, a native of Pilot Mound, Man., broke in with Detroit Red Wings in the 1938-39 season and was a consistently outstanding star until he was traded to the Hawks with four other players.

Expected to be a powerhouse on the Chicago defence, he hasn't shown the fire that made him a regular member of all-star teams and of the hardest-hitting rearguards in hockey.

Goodfellow said Stewart's inability to come back was just part of the Chicago blues. He mentioned the loss this season of Fred Hucal, the promising rookie who developed a mysterious muscular ailment. Ebbie said today that Hucal now is back with St. Louis of the American Hockey League and might eventually return to the Hawks.

Other disappointments were the loss of Max McNab with a pinched sciatic nerve and the decision by Doug Bentley and Roy Conacher to quit the N.H.L.

Goodfellow was guest at the regular New York Rangers hockey luncheon.

Coach Bill Cook of the Rangers addressed the luncheon and announced he was benching forward Nick Mickoski because he "seems to have trouble skating and seems to have trouble getting his shots off. Mickoski will remain in New York, however.

Silverton Midgets Beat New Denver

NEW DENVER, B.C., Jan. 15 — Silverton Midgets journeyed to New Denver Friday to triumph 6-4 over the local team in a fast, rugged game.

Silverton led 1-0 at the end of the first, stretched it to 4-1 at the end of the second period before the Denver team rallied in the third to outscore the visitors 3-2.

B. Morrison, P. Harding, Kynock, Leask and Welch with two were the Silverton scorers.

F. Oyama, R. Okura, T. Kireta and H. Larchcombe were the New Denver marksmen.

Silverton — Goal, Husberg; defence, W. Morrison, Avison, Leask; forwards, Welch, B. Morrison, P. Harding, Kynock, L. Harding, E. Harding.

New Denver — Goal, Butler; defence, Broughton, Larchcombe; forwards, Oyama, Kireto, Berggeren, Ida, Okura, Wilford.

Referees—Orr and Hashimoto.

Russians Bid for Entry To Olympic Hockey Series

EDMONTON, Jan. 15 (CP)—Russia today sought permission from the International Ice Hockey Federation to enter the world amateur hockey championships at the Winter Olympics in Oslo, Norway, next month.

Decision of the I.I.H.F. is expected to hinge on whether the Russians want to play hockey or politics.

The application was received today by Dr. W. G. Hardy of Edmonton, council member of the I.I.H.F. who retired as its president last August after a three-year term.

The Russian cable request came from a man named Korotcov, who is president of the hockey branch of the Soviet Cultural Activities Organization in Moscow. He addressed it to Dr. Hardy under the apparent assumption he still headed the I.I.H.F.

The Russians also requested provisional affiliation with the International Ice Hockey Federation. It was Russia's first definite move to put a team in the Winter Olympics.

Russia's communication has been forwarded to I.I.H.F. President Dr. Fritz Kraatz in Zurich, Switzerland, with an accompanying letter from Dr Hardy suggesting the Russians be allowed to play in the championships if they guarantee there will be no political interference. Dr. Hardy said they must also abide by the rules, regulations and decisions of the I.I.H.F.

He said Canada's representatives, Edmonton Mercurys, are not afraid of any hockey competition.

"But we want world hockey and not world politics at . . . Oslo," he said. "There is a feeling in Canada that very careful consideration must be given before the U.S.S.R. can be accepted as a member of the Federation."

The world ice hockey body's constitution was definite on the point that "there can be no political interference in hockey" in connection with membership or permission to play in the world championships.

Dr. Hardy said that if Russia is permitted to enter, it will compete against teams from Canada, the United States, Sweden, Poland, Czechoslovakia, West Germany and possibly Austria. Less advanced teams from Britain, France, Holland, Belgium, Norway, Italy and Yugoslavia will play a "junior world competition" at Liege, Belgium.

Both the Federation's Council and Congress meet the day before the Winter Olympics get under way Feb. 15. But Dr. Hardy said the Russian request for entry in the hockey championships undoubtedly will be discussed by the Council before then.

Members of the Council are Dr. Hardy, C.A.H.A. President Doug Grimston of New Westminster, B. C., Walter Brown of the United States, Dr. Kraatz, J. F. (Bunny) Ahearne of Britain and Rudolph Eklow of Sweden. Mr. Grimston will be Canada's only representative at the Feb. 14 Council meeting in Oslo.

Dr. Hardy said he believes the Olympic Committee gave Russia blanket permission to participate in Olympic Games last May at a meeting in Vienna.

William Campbell New Kimberley A.A.A. President

KIMBERLEY, B.C. Jan. 15 — Kimberley Amateur Athletic Association, affiliation of practically all sports in operation and a principal member of Kimberley District Community Chest, has chosen Cominco's new Kimberley general superintendent, B. E. Hurdle as honorary president, with H. R. Banks and J. R. Giegerich and past president Peter Gallpan rounding out the honorary offices.

Outstanding accomplishments reported for the year included sending Kimberley sports representatives (Bert Fergus and Carol Stanton) to the Dominion junior badminton finals in Quebec City; junior skiers to the Sun Valley tournament; a junior curling team to the dominion bonspiel; swimmers to the Kelowna regatta; a junior gymnastic team to Vancouver where it took first place; and qualification of two Kimberley boys as Pro-Rec leaders at Summerschool.

William Campbell is new president, John Lukas vice-president, Lorraine Loraas, Frances Miller, William Faulds and Al Bianco two-year directors, C. K. Ranger and Sam Wormington one-year directors D. Marshall treasurer and S. B. Hamilton secretary. Butch Zak and M. A. Thomas have another year to serve as directors.

RANGERS RECALL DICKENSON

NEW YORK, Jan. 15 (AP)—New York Rangers today recalled Herb Dickenson, 20-year-old left winger, from Cincinnati Mohawks of the American Hockey League as replacement for the injured Eddie Slowinski of Winnipeg.

Slowinski, who suffered torn ligaments in his right knee last night in a game against Montreal Canadiens, is expected to be out of action for about two weeks.

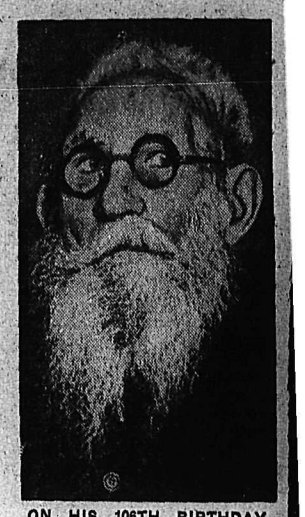
ARRESTED in a lone New York parking lot, three Israelis were found to have $41,300 worth of gold bullion in their possession. They had it hidden on their persons in small, wrapped packages. Here they are booked at a police station. Left to right: Eva Joseph, Officer Joseph Lynch (plaid shirt), Frank Joseph and Jack Joseph. All three said they had come to the U.S. from Israel.—Central Press Canadian.



ON HIS 106TH BIRTHDAY, Karl Glockner, of Eldengesass, Germany, was believed to be the oldest man in Europe. Whether or not his claim is challenged, Glockner enjoys his daily glass of beer and is in possession of all of his faculties. Sask. Farmers Union Dissatisfied With 1951 Financing Act

SASKATOON, Jan. 15 (CP) — J. L. Phelps, president of the Saskatchewan Farmers' Union, said today the Prairie grain producers interim Financing Act of 1951 is inadequate.

He said the act does not meet the needs of farmers resulting from adverse weather and inability to deliver grain.

Mr. Phelps said the terms of the act indicated the banks alone would judge which farmer could get an emergency loan. Actual need was not the prime factor involved in the legislation, he said.

Mr. Phelps said farmers in many parts of Saskatchewan had suffered near disaster two years in succession, and that many are in "dire need."

POLICE CHIEF COFFEY of Albany, N.Y., has warned citizens of that city that sweaters so highly inflammable that a wearer risks his life every time he puts one on are being peddled in Albany by an itinerant salesman. The warning came after Harold Brown, proprietor of a tire shop went to the police and told them his suspicions were aroused after reading of the sale of highly inflammable sweaters in Western U.S.A. Mr. Brown has purchased six of the sweaters from the peddler. At the police station a match was touched to one of the sweaters, above, and it burned to ashes in 30 seconds.—Central Press Canadian.

PRIME MINISTER WINSTON CHURCHILL has a ready smile and sage comment for the inquiring newsman at the White House after a meeting with President Truman. Asked whether everything was going well, Mr. Churchill replied: "Everything always goes well—everyone is happy. One ought to be happy in these hard times." In centre is British Ambassador Sir Oliver Franks.—Central Press Canadian.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

S. African Racial Policy a Menace

PARIS, Jan. 15 (Reuters) — The non-white population of South Africa — more than 9,000,000-strong — is preparing to launch a passive resistance movement against the "white supremacy" policy of Prime Minister Danial Malan, the U.N. was told today.

Rev. Michael Scott, Anglican clergyman and champion of colored Africans, told the U.N. trusteeship committee today that the movement is timed to coincide with the South African tercentenary celebrations.

The celebrations, commemorating the arrival of the first Dutch Settlers in South Africa 300 years ago, will be in full swing this Spring.

Scott, banned by Prime Minister Daniel Malan from re-entering South Africa, declared that the country is moving into a period of great crisis because of the government's racial policy.

Calgary Livestock

CALGARY, Jan. 15 (CP) — Trade was moderately active on the Calgary Livestock Market today but prices were uneven. On offer were 300 cattle and calves, with a fair run off truck in sight.

Good butcher steers were 50 cents to $1 lower for the week, while butcher heifers were about steady. Cows were strong to 50 cents higher, bulls generally steady. Stocker and feeder steers were in fair demand at steady prices. Veal calves were steady to strong, with odd sales to $38.50.

Hogs gained 25 cents Monday to close at $26.75. Sows dropped 25 cents at $17. No sheep were sold.

Good to near-choice butcher steers 30.00 to 31.50; common to medium 25.00 to 29.50. Good butcher heifers 29.50 to 30.50; common to medium 25.00 to 29.00. Good cows 22.50 to 23.50; common to medium 19.00 to 22.00; canners and cutters 14.00 to 18.50. Good bulls 24.50 to 25.50; common to medium 22.00 to 24.00. Good stocker and feeder steers 28.00 to 29.00; common to medium 23.00 to 27.50. Good to choice veal calves 34.00 to 37.00; common to medium 26.00 to 33.00.

735 Feet Oil and Wet Gas Found At Bonnie Glen

EDMONTON, Jan. 15 (CP) — McColl-Frontenac Oil Co. Ltd., and Texaco Exploration Co. today reported they have discovered the thickest D-3 oil and gas productive reef ever encountered in a Canadian well.

They said their well, Bonnie Glen No. A-1, has found 735 feet of oil and wet gas. Of this 300 feet is oil and the other 435 feet is gas cap. The well is 6½ miles South of the Wizard Lake section, one of Alberta's best discoveries last year. Wizard Lake is 30 miles Southwest of Edmonton.

The oil has a gravity of 42 degrees A.P.I. Company officials said initial tests indicate a potential production of about 600 barrels of crude oil daily. They said that if the well was allowed to flow freely it would produce 100,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily.

The well, owned equally by the two companies, is being completed as an oil producer.

Market Trends

NEW YORK, Jan. 15 (AP) — Quiet profit-taking sent losses running past two points among leaders.

Canadian stocks were soft. Canadian Pacific led the downward with a drop of ½. Also lower were Nickel by ¼, Hiram Walker by ⅛, and Distillers by ⅜, McIntyre was up ¼. Dome was unchanged.

TORONTO, (CP) — Support rallied slowly toward the session's close to check slipping Western Oil and industrial prices.

Oil speculation again dominated trading and pushed the session's volume to about 3,300,000 shares. Penny Golds — particularly American Yellowknife—attracted interest. Base metals and industrials changed hands sluggishly.

MONTREAL (CP) — Prices continued to drift lower near the close.

Mines continued irregularly lower. Changes were limited to a few pennies, mostly on the downside, with Ascot, Jaculet and Steep Rock lower. Western oils, a feature in yesterday's rise, weakened from the opening. Admiral, Jet Oils and Superior were among losers.

LONDON (Reuters) — Industrial share prices sagged as the commonwealth finance ministers met to discuss ways and means of checking the drain on sterling reserves.

Falls in the miscellaneous industrial leaders ranged up to a shilling. Imperial chemicals were a particularly dull spot, with operators taking advantage of end-account facilities to sell for the new trading period.

GLACIERS CONTROL BIGGEST POSER ON ALASKA ROAD JOB

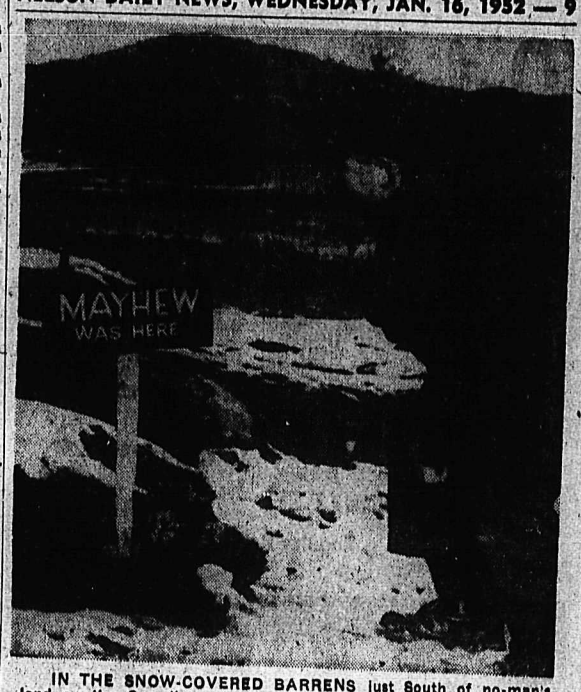
WINNIPEG, Jan. 15 (CP) — The Canadian Army assumed an enormous undertaking when it took over maintenance of the Alaska Highway, Capt. A. Yates, royal engineers, said today.

Capt. Yates, assistant senior superintendent for the highway, addressed the annual convention of the Prairie roadbuilders' section of the Canadian Construction Association.

He told delegates that the Canadian Army was responsible for year-round maintenance of 1221 miles of main highway from Dawson Creek, B.C., to the Alaskan border. He said the Army also had to improve the highway because it was far from completion when construction was stopped in October, 1943.

Probably the biggest task confronting maintenance crews in Winter was control of active glaciers formed by the continuous freezing of water seeping from the ground. The glaciers built up to a depth of several feet on the highway if not dealt with.

A Boston newspaper woman, Harriet Quimby was the first woman to fly across the English Channel in 1912.



IN THE SNOW-COVERED BARRENS just South of no-man's land on the Canadian sector in Korea, Defence Minister Brooke Claxton and his party found this sign telling him that Fisheries Minister Robert Mayhew had been there earlier. Checking the sign for certainty is Colonel Geoff Yates, director of public relations for veterans' affairs, who accompanied Mr. Claxton's party to Korea. —Central Press Canadian.

$5000 of Equipment Lost as Barge Sinks

VANCOUVER, Jan. 15 (CP) — About $5000 worth of aviation products were lost at Kamano Monday when a barge broke loose from its mooring during a wind storm.

The $13,000 barge may be a total loss.

The barge was anchored at Kemano, in Gardner Canal, near Prince Rupert, when it broke away. It was whipped into the channel, turned over and ran aground upside down.

B.C. Loggers Assn. Oppose Clayburn Forest Licence

VANCOUVER, Jan. 15 (CP) — "Full support" to sawmill operators opposing the granting of a forest licence to the Clayburn Brick Co. Ltd. was pledged today by the Independent Loggers Association of B.C.

The brick company was granted a licence on Sumas Mountain in the Mission district about 45 miles from Vancouver.

A group of people in the district under Maranjan Grewall, manager of the Mission Sawmills Ltd. and Mission Forest Products Ltd., have appealed the granting of the licence.

"If the licence is granted to Clayburn Company," Russ Boyd, president of the independent loggers, said today, "the executive will recommend to the association that we appeal every licence granted in the future."

Abbott Visits King In London Palace

LONDON, Jan. 15 (CP) — Finance Minister Abbott of Canada, here to attend the "save-the-pound" economic conference, today paid a visit to Buckingham Palace. A Canada House spokesman said it was purely a routine call.

The Japanese earthquake and tidal wave of 1923 destroyed much of Tokyo and cost about 143,000 lives.

Alberta's Major Farm Groups Oppose Gas Sale

EDMONTON, Jan. 15 (CP) — Alberta's two major farm organizations today told the Provincial Cabinet that they are strongly opposed to any export of natural gas from the province at this time.

Resolutions opposing gas export were presented to the Cabinet by delegations from the Farmers' Union of Alberta and the Alberta Federation of Agriculture.

The F.U.A. resolution said the organization believes industry should be brought to Alberta to use the province's cheap utility. It added that gas should be provided for domestic manufacturers and Alberta citizens generally before it is made available to outside consumers.

Russians Seek Canadian Trade

MOSCOW, Jan. 15 (CP) — The Russian English-language publication "News" said today the Russian people "attach great significance" to improving Canadian-Soviet relations.

The statement appeared in a leading article in the magazine, which actually carried two articles on Canada. The second advocated Soviet-Canadian trade.

The first editorial, devoted to Canadian-Soviet friendship month, said "Canadian-Soviet friendship month will undoubtedly make for better understanding between the peoples of the two countries."

Advocating resumption of trade between Canada and the Soviet Union "News" said:

"Why Canada should have erected a wall between herself and the flourishing economy of the Soviet Union and denied itself the benefits of economic co-operation with it on a footing of equality defies all logical explanation."

The editorial said it is difficult not to see how little Canada gains from her present trade policy.

Ex-Sailors Sick on Columbia Highway

ASTORIA, Jan. 15 (AP) — Mail clerks got a bit seasick on the twisting lower Columbia River highway as a post office mail truck took over service Monday. The truck substitutes for a discontinued train service.

Charles Damron, one of the clerks, said he has just completed a hitch in the Navy but the truck's swaying was too much for him and he was quitting. Chief clerk Herman Plotts said he thought maybe he and others would get used to the trucks swaying.

The clerks stand while "working" the mail on the truck's run.

Lloyd's Bestow Medal on Carlsen

LONDON, Jan. 15 (AP) — The famed Lutine Bell at Lloyd's of London tolled twice today to honor Capt. Kurt Carlsen for upholding the highest traditions of the sea.

The master of the Flying Enterprise was presented by the centuries-old insurance house with its silver medal for "meritorious services at sea."

Carlsen, still the shy and retiring sailor who came ashore at Falmouth last Friday after his 14-day ordeal aboard the Flying Enterprise, responded modestly to the honor.

"I have not done anything that deserves recognition," he said. "I tried as a seaman to prove what a seaman is expected to do."

Lloyd's medal is awarded only in recognition of unique feats of seamanship. It has been handed out about 400 times in 60 years.

The Lutine Bell was recovered from H.M.S. Lutine, a British frigate which sank in 1799 off the English coast in an Atlantic gale.

It is usually rung upon receipt of news of overdue ships. Two strokes mean good news; one stroke, bad.

TO REPLACE LOST FLYING ENTERPRISE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (AP)— The maritime administration agreed to charter a ship to the Isbrandtsen company to replace the Flying Enterprise, which sank off the Cornish coast last week.

The replacement will be a 10,000-ton victory-type ship, slightly larger and faster than the Enterprise, which went down after its plates were cracked in a Winter storm.

The ship to be chartered for $12,000 a month is the Hulaula Victory, built in 1945.

High School Riot Cyprus Incident

NICOSIA, Cyprus, Jan. 15 (Reuters) — Police clashed today with more than 1000 high school pupils, several of them girls, in various parts of this British-ruled Mediterranean island during demonstrations urging union o. Cyprus with Greece.

The incidents marked the second anniversary of an unofficial plebiscite here which its Greek Orthodox organizers said resulted in 96 per cent of the Island's Greek residents favoring union with Greece.

Nearly 900 pupils here and at a Limasol school went on strike today.

Most violent clash was at Paphos, a port 100 miles West of here. Mayor Chrisodoules Galatopoulos said about 500 students, 60 of them girls, marched from the school building and walked with banners towards the British commissioners office.

"After breaking through a cordon of police the students approached to within 10 yards of the commissioner's office," the mayor said. "I saw about 15 policemen hit about 20 pupils including five girls."

The mayor said a police inspector told him he had instructions to break up the procession "by any means."

U.S. Extradition Claims Waived

TORONTO, Jan. 15 (CP) — Extradition charges against Laurette Nesbitt, 18-year-old dancer from Vancouver detained here since early December on $3000 bail, were dropped today. Her lawyer, Frank Nasso, termed the case "a flagrant injustice."

The tall redhead spent a few days in jail here after being picked up last Fall for questioning in connection with a jewel robbery from a New York hotel.

Extradition proceedings were started last month by United States immigration authorities to have Miss Nesbitt, who danced professionally in New York, returned for an investigation. As a result she was put in jail and later released on bail.

Compare Living Today With 1933 And See the Many Improvements

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

The largest exhibition of Canadian household furniture and furnishings ever held in Canada now is in progress in three buildings of the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto.

It is the third annual "Canadian Furniture Mart" and it is six times as large as in the first year. It opened Monday and lasts until Jan. 23. Thousands of buyers are expected from across Canada.

About everything in household furniture and furnishings is there. Among eye-catchers are nylon upholstery which is washable a sectional chesterfield which divides into twin beds; hassocks especially designed for the television trade; a convex medicine-chest mirror, in the lower half of which the smallest member of the family may see himself without stretching, while in the upper half the six-footer-plus may ply his razor without stooping.

BUSINESS VIEWS

"Industry", published by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, takes us back to the so-called "good old days" in an effort to cheer us up. It says:

"It's 1900. Living costs are cheap, but so is everything else. It takes a laborer a week to earn what a similar worker of 1951 will be paid in a day. Minimum wage laws are unheard of.

"There is no limit on hours of work. The eight-hour day is just a distant dream. Nobody has yet thought of the five-day week. A lot of people are still working 12 hours a day, seven days a week, with no pay for vacations. . . . .

"Things have been improving down on the farm, too, as illustrated by two recent items.

"A farmer in Barrymore, Alta., has been keeping a check for 23 cents ever since 1933. On Aug. 18 of that year, explains the Edmonton Journal, the farmer sold three 900-pound two-year-old steers and one 270 pound calf through a livestock commission company.

"The four animals brought a total sale price of $9.63, but feed and commission and delivery charges ate up all but the 23 cents.

"The second item is from the Lethbridge, Alta., Herald. At a recent auction sale of registered beef cattle in that city, 265 head of purebred stock sold for $145,350—an average of $548.

"In 1951, nobody was giving away 2970 pounds of beef for 23 cents."

Seamen Blame Flying Enterprise Tragedy On Mis-Stowage of Iron

NEW YORK, Jan. 15 (AP) — A seaman of the sunken Flying Enterprise said today that hero skipper Kurt Carlsen was "not entirely free" of being a company captain and "for two years I was ready to punch him in the nose."

George Bulhak, 40, of Brooklyn, did not elaborate on either point while testifying at a coast guard inquiry into the sinking of the vessel.

"I can say about Captain Carlsen he is a good seaman — a good skipper," the seaman said.

"For two years I was ready to punch him in the nose, but I like him personally. But at the same time, he is not entirely free of being a company captain."

THREE QUESTIONS

Three of the crew, testifying before a coast guard board, raised three questions:

1. Why didn't the skipper send a distress call immediately after the ship's deck and sides were cracked in a hurricuane?

2. Why didn't the damaged vessel head for the nearest port after the seas had calmed?

3. Why was a heavy cargo of pig-iron loaded into two holds, while a third hold contained only light cargo-

The Flying Enterprise sank off the English coast last Thursday after all passengers and the crew except Capt. Carlsen abandoned ship. He stayed aboard to try to bring the ship in until it went down.

Clark E. Hall of Ashland, Ky., a seaman aboard the vessel, said he could not understand why more than a day passed before a distress call was sent out when the ship's plating was found cracked the morning of Dec. 27.

Arthur Janssens of Manhattan, the ship's boatswain, blamed the ship's cracking on what he called mis-stowage of 1271 tons of pig iron taken aboard at Rotterdam.

Dead Boy Leader Of Peace Spirit

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 15 (AP) — A four-year-old Canadian boy who died last November became an ambassador of good will today for the United States.

The boy was Donny Morton, brought here by his father, Arthur, of Atherwill, Sask., hoping for a miracle to cure the "tyke." Generous Southern Californians donated funds and two brain specialists donated their talents.

Donny underwent several operations at St. Luke Hospital in nearby Pasadena. He finally succumbed to spinal meningitis.

Premier T. C. Douglas of Saskatchewan sent a letter by Deputy Minister of Industries and Labor John E. Oberholtzer of Alberta which was read today at an "Alberta Day" ceremony.

To Gov. Earl Warren of California, the letter said "it was clear that the citizens of the city of Los Angeles and the people of your state were quick to open their hearts to Mr. Morton and Donny . . . that all this is available to a boy and his father from Canada is concrete proof, if proof were needed, of the neighborliness that exists between our two nations."

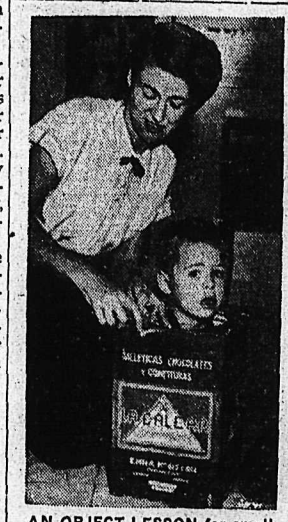
Lieut.-Gov. Goodwin Knight gave a reciprocal message to Mr. Oberholtzer. Knight expressed appreciation for aid extended Howard Hansen, former University of California at Los Angeles football star who was seriously hurt last Fall in an Alberta traffic accident.

Churchill Warns Finance Group

LONDON, Jan. 15 (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill warned Britain's Commonwealth partners today "grave and difficult" decision need to be taken to save their world-wide sterling money system from breakdown.

Churchill, now in Ottawa, sent a special message to the Commonwealth finance ministers, meeting here. The message was read by Britain's Chancellor of the Exchequer, R. A. Butler.

In it Churchill expressed the view that the Commonwealth group has together overcome "greater difficulties" in the past than those which face them now.



AN OBJECT LESSON for small-fry cookie culprits everywhere is this picture from Havana, Cuba, showing little Johnny Queen, age two, firmly trapped in a big cracker can, and his mother, Mrs. A. C. Queen trying to get him out of his predicament with a can-opener. Johnny stole into the kitchen in the wee hours quietly took the cookie can down from the shelf, opened it up and found it bare. But some sign of the remnants of the five pounds of crackers it held must have been observed by Johnny and he got inside the can to do a little investigating. That did it. He was finally discovered by sister, Mary Ann, five, who had to call mom to the rescue.—Central Press Canadian.

Churchill Joins Singing of Merry Ditty From New Brunswick Forests

By DOUGLAS HOW
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Jan. 15 (CP)—An irrepressible Winston Churchill applauded his own French Monday night and joined in a merry song about two hard-luck lumbermen from New Brunswick. He learned the song from "Maxie"—Lord Beaverbrook.

They were asides in a great occasion, the first speech he has given here in 10 years, a speech which brought members of Parliament for hundreds of miles to hear it, which sparkled and soared at times with the old Churchillian rhetoric but suffered just as often because he chained himself to a text.

In the asides, there were no chains. There was only Churchill.

People were brought up to Mr. Churchill to be introduced. Up came Bona Arsenault. Liberal member of the Commons for Bonaventure, with a cigar stub he had picked up from the head table. Mr. Arsenault said he wanted one of Mr. Churchill's cigar stubs for his children but feared that he had obtained instead one left by Canada's production Minister Howe.

"Hah." chuckled Winnie, "you shall have one of mine" and he pulled out a Churchillian stogie which Mr. Arsenault proceeded to carry about like a torch for all to see.

BRUNSWICK LAMENT

Then Dan Riley (L-St. John-Albert) was introduced as a member from New Brusnwick and Mr. Churchill said: "Then you know Maxie — do you know the New Brunswick lament?"

Then, Riley said later, they chanted together a ditty about the Jones boys who built a mill on the side of the hill and they worked all night and they worked all day but couldn't make that sawmill pay.

The Prime Minister said he learned it from Lord Beaverbrook, an old friend.

When John James (L-Durham) was introduced as the member for Durham, Ontario, Mr. Churchill said, "that probably makes you a Tory."

"No, sir," said James. "I'm a Liberal. I displaced a Tory."

"Well," said the irrepressible one, "I've been both."

Which, in his long and flaming career, he has.

Pope Elevates 'Peg Archbishop

WINNIPEG, Jan. 15 (CP)— The first Roman Catholic archbishop in Winnipeg, Most Rev. Alfred Arthur Sinnott, has been named titular archbishop of Sebastea by the Pope. The appointment—an honorary post—was announced today by the Vatican Press office.

Archbishop Sinnott had governed the Winnipeg Archdiocese since it was erected in 1915. He retired due to failing health in 1946 when the late archbishop Gerald Murray assumed control.

Archbishop Sinnott was born in Prince Edward Island in 1877. He entered the Grand Seminary in 1898 after being graduated from Laval University and was sent to Rome in 1899 where he was ordained.

He taught at St. Dunstan's College, Charlottetown, after returning to Canada and later was made private secretary to Monsignor Sbarretti, apostolic delegate to Canada, and became private chamberlain to the Pope.

Archbishop P. F. Pocock, acting as coadjutor archbishop will automatically succeed to the title of Archbishop of Winnipeg. He was named to the post with the right of succession to the archdiocese of Winnipeg on the death of archbishop Murray.

Before his appointment as coadjutor archbishop, he was apostolic administer in Winnipeg. Previously he had served seven years as Bishop of Saskatoon.

Orkneys Swept by Terrific Gales

KIRKWALL, Orkney Islands, Jan. 15 (Reuters) — The worst gale in living memory screamed over these rocky islands strung out North of Scotland early today.

Every one of the 28 inhabited Orkney Islands reported major damage in the 130-mile-an-hour wind. There were no lives lost.

Roofs were ripped off the solid square stone houses and hurled hundreds of yards.

Many buildings were demolished —few escaped unscathed.

Haystacks everywhere were picked up and smashed to pieces or dropped into the sea.

Fishing boats were sunk at their moorings.

Roads were blocked at many points with debris and telephone communications were cut off.

Ten Whoopers Lost On Crane Reserve

AUSTWELL, Tex., Jan. 15 (AP)— Protectors of the giant whooping crane, world's largest migratory bird, today sadly admitted a major setback in efforts to prevent extinction of the species.

Julian Howard, manager of the Arkansas Wild Life refuge, made the official Winter count in a low-flying plane and found only 20 cranes.

That means a loss of 10 whoopers from the previous Winter.

When the United States Fish and Wild Life Service took over protection of whooping cranes in 1940 there were only 14 known whoopers in the world. Three years ago the wild flock had grown to 34, plus three captives which inhabited the refuge.

Jo and Crip, the famous mating pair, hatched the only whooping crane egg in captivity but lost their offspring, Rusty, to a predatory animal. The pair was moved a month ago to a New Orleans zoo where Jo originally belonged.

Statement From Reuters' Agency

LONDON, Jan. 15 (Reuters) — Reuters yesterday issued the following statement:

"To avoid any possible misunderstanding Reuters wishes to make it clear in connection with the reported arrest in Tehran Saturday last of Kegham Meckeritichian, a director of the Persopress agency in Tehran, that he is not a Reuters staff correspondent nor has his appointment as a part-time correspondent been confirmed.

(The stories of his arrest have been carried by other news services.)

"The circumstances of Meckeritichian's association with Reuters are that he was a locally-appointed translator-assistant to Leopold Herman, Reuters staff correspondent in Tehran.

"When Herman was expelled by the Iranian authorities Dec. 15 at short notice, he asked Meckertichian to protect Reuters on a temporary basis pending the arrival of a new staff correspondent for whom application for a visa was immediately lodged.

"This arrangement with Meckeritichian was subject to confirmation from Reuters head office in London, and such confirmation has not, in fact, been given."

Stellarton Mine Sealed For Six Month Period

By IRVING C. WHYNOT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

STELLARTON, N.S., Jan. 15 (CP) The blast-wrecked section of the McGregor coal mine here was sealed tight today, a silent pit where 19 miners died in the most dreaded of mine accidents—an explosion.

The mine section will be sealed permanetly tomorrow and likely will remain closed for about six months before a decision is made on whether to continue operations.

The disaster is not likely to disrupt Pictou County's employment situation to any great degree. The miners usually employed in the section will probably find new jobs in other shafts.

Closing of the section, however, will mean another crimp in the county's coal output.

Cause of yesterdays' blast so far is unknown and most veteran miners pass it off as "one of those things."

Men in the mine at the time were sealing off a section after detecting what is known as a "smell of heat" — indication that subterranean fire is building up somewhere.

The smell usually means that internal combustion — caused by intense pressure far under the surface — has started a smouldering fire. It is usually difficult to locate.

When this condition is discovered the section is usually pumped of all oxygen to prevent a blast.

But in this case the explosive methane gas — a natural product of the coal pits—came into contact with open flames and a sufficient quantity of oxygen.

The result was Nova Scotia's worst coal disaster since 1918 when 88 died in a blast in the nearby Allan shaft.

Everyone rushed to help when the first warning of the blast came shortly after 1 p.m. AST yesterday.

Miners and company officials were aided by scores of men from other vocations.

R.C.M.P. rushed reinforcements from Halifax to direct traffic. They carried a supply of blood plasma from the Red Cross for emergency use. The Aberdeen hospital in New Glasgow set up extra cots to care for the injured but only two remained for treatment. One other man escaped with only a slight head cut and was allowed to go to his home.

One of the victims was Joe Nearing, one of the draegermen who earned world-attention in the Moose River mine rescue drama in 1936.

Palladium Foil At Mercy of Time

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Jan. 15 (AP) —An air race against time and radio-activity went ahead today against the handicap of fog delays.

Researchers at a Willow Run laboratory awaited the arrival of a plane from Ottawa speeding a tiny piece of palladium foil to a University of Michigan experiment.

After two postponements because of fog, a Trans-Canada Air Lines plane was reported en route on a 450-mile flight to Windsor, Ont., with the prized metal.

A university car waited there to speed it on to Willow Run to the "U" laboratory.

The palladium foil is vulnerable to time. In 14 hours it loses half of its radio-activity. Thus the need for haste.

About the size of a dime and 1000th of an inch thick, the bit of mineral is from the Chalk River, Ont. atomic reactor.

It's to be used in tests of radiation effects on jet aircraft and automobile engines.

If, because of the delays, there's not enough radio-activity left in the piece being sent today, researchers said they'd try again in a week or two.

Christian Army Aim of Clergy

By RONALD AUTRY

FORT MONMOUTH, N.J., Jan. 15 (AP) — "Stand up, stand up for Jesus."

The words of the militant Christians' old song rang out from hundreds of soldiers' throats here and reverberated among the steel girders.

A choir, seated in the bleachers of the big field house, joined in.

And thus began a five-day series of religious services—one of the first moves in a major drive developing throughout the United States to bolster the serviceman's spiritual defence.

It is a campaign—sponsored by the geenral commission on chaplains and the National Council of Churches — to convince him that "Christ is the answer," theme of the preaching mission.

Civilian teams of Protestant Ministers are carrying the gospel to guardhouse and to hospital, counselling and preaching. Some 120 navy and army installations will be reached in the two-month crusade.

Some of the biggest names in Protestantism are participating. The military and President Truman are backing the program.

"I have been in the army 11 years and I've never seen religion taken like this before," said Lt.-Col. Lisle Bartholomew of Benson, Vt., post chaplain.

"I suppose it's an outgrowth of the Second World War when people touched the realities of life and became aware of the stability that religions could give them."

The first service at this Signal Corps centre brought some 1100 soldiers and their families into the post field house, where a make-shift altar was raised in front of a picture of Christ.

They sang, received literature and heard a sermon from the Rev. Samuel Shoemaker, rector of Calvary Episcopal Church, New York.
