Victorious Adenauer To Seek East Freedom

25,000 Cheer New Policy After Wide Win at Polls

By RELMAN MORIN

BONN (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, an overwhelming victor in the West German elections, told a widely-applauding crowd Monday night that he will direct his policies toward the "liberation" of East Germany from the Russians.

More than 25,000 people, packed tight in the market place of Bonn, responded with excited cheers.

"We have always talked about reunification of Germany," Adenauer said. "Must we not now talk about the liberation of the East?

"Our aim must be the liberation of the 18,000,000 East Germans now under the yoke of Soviet oppression and slavery."

Adenauer spoke from the balcony of the city hall. Cordons of police, immaculate in dark blue uniforms with shiny leather helmets, stood stiffly at attention in front of the crowds.

Torchlights burned around the edges of the throng and flared brightly in clusters all through the packed audience.

"No matter how you voted Sunday," the chancellor continued, "let's close ranks and work together for the liberation of the Eastern territories.

"Our policy is German unity in peace, liberation of our brothers in the East, and a united Europe."

To achieve these ends:

"We need friends. For this, we need strength. Yesterday's decision of the German people insured that we have friends in the West.

"Our vote yesterday also will influence Italy and France," he said.

He apparently meant that it would speed the program of creating a European Army.

SEEK REARMAMENT

Adenauer, backed by the power of his massive victory, emphasized that he would press for quick enactment of his pro-Western policies, which include rearming Western Germany.

Adenauer pin-pointed one of the major meanings of Sunday's tremendous vote which gave his Christian Democrats 244 seats, a majority of one in the 487-member Bundestag (lower house) and, with his Free Democrat allies, a controlling margin of 97. The chancellor said Monday:

"It is of special importance that the young voters, who have come of voting age since the last election, convincingly expressed their approval of the concept of a European Defence Community in which they would be called to serve."

EDC calls for creation of a six-nation European Army, German troops among them, and directed by a joint General staff. Adenauer emphatically favors the plan, and made it a prime election issue.

However, erasing the artificial boundary between East and West Germany — to make the nation a whole — is his greatest goal.

Adenauer is in a far stronger position now to drive toward these objectives than he was before the election.

The dimensions of his victory were so great they startled even the leaders of his party and dismayed his opponents beyond measure.

TOO MUCH POWER

There is even talk in Bonn that the election gave Adenauer too much power — that no effective opposition can be marshalled against him, by the Socialists, even in combination with smaller parties.

Reaction came from around the world.

The Russians, who had told the Germans "o vote for Adenauer is a vote for war," confined themselves to a lurid claim the results were caused by "terrorism" of West German police.

Official statements from Washington, London and Paris expressed "great satisfaction."

In Washington, top United States officials said the vote proved the Germans were not deluded by Socialist and Communist election arguments which criticized Adenauer for favoring rearmament and for his foreign policies.

Of the total 38,000,000 eligible voters, more than 86 per cent went to the polls Sunday.

The polling took place in an atmosphere of calm. It was probably the quietest election in German history.

DENVER (AP)—State secretary John Foster Dulles said after a conference Monday with President Eisenhower that the president is pleased with the Adenauer victory in the West German election and that the victory was "far more than we dared to expect."

Dulles also told reporters that Eisenhower "saw nothing out of the way" regarding Dulles' controversiel remarks last week dealing with West Germany, India, Trieste and Japan.

UN SILENT ON IDENTITY OF MISSING POWs

Will Ask Reds to Account for Them

By SAM SUMMERLIN

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP)—The gravely-concerned United Nations command is about ready to demand an accounting of Allied prisoners still missing after the completion of the Korean war exchange Sunday.

The number and names of men believed to be captives of the Communists but withheld still are secret, but more details may unfold when the UN confronts the Communists with the list.

A UN spokesman declared Sunday after the exchange ended that "there is no time to be wasted" in demanding that the Reds return or account for prisoners known to have been captured but never exchanged.

The Reds also charged that the UN was withholding some Chinese Communists who wanted to go home. The UN denied this.

Next step in the gigantic prisoner operation is the questioning of prisoners who refused to return to their homelands during the 33-day prisoner exchange at Pnmunjom.

The UN command announced Monday that it was ready to move into the neutral zone the Communist prisoners refusing repatriation.

The UN said it held about 14,500 anti-Communist Chinese and 7800 anti-Red North Koreans. The Reds said they held around 300 South Koreans and 20 non-Koreans who refused repatriation.

More Indian troops have arrived to guard the prisoners refusing repatriation in the demilitarized zone near Panmunjom.

Thirty-three helicopters are transporting the Indians. Two more shipments of Indians are due, bringing the total to 5000 trops in all. There are 2668 in the zone now.

McCormick to Visit Halifax

HALIFAX (CP) —Admiral Lynde D. McCormick, supreme Allied commander of the Atlantic, will arrive here Sept. 16 for a two-day conference o ndetails of Exercise Mariner.

HYENAS EAT CHILDREN

NEW DELHI (Reuters)—Marauding hyenas have carried off and eaten 48 children in the Fategarh area, 150 miles southeast of here, in the last two months. A 12-year-old boy was carried off Monday from within a few hundred yards of Azamgarh police station.

MILK STOPS MALARIA

LIVERPOOL (Reuters) — Malaria can be suppressed simply by putting victims on a milk diet, the British Association for the Advancement of Science was told Monday. Prof. B. G. Maegrath of the Liverpool school of tropical medicine said the discovery was made in experiments at the school on rats and monkeys.

16 Die in Tenement Blaze, 100 Homeless

Nine persons in one family, including six children, were among the dead.

The blaze destroyed a four-storey building on State St., and damaged two similar structures which flanked it.

Most of the Negro residents were floor of which housed a tavern. The the rear of the building, the first asleep when the flames started in fire spread up a stairway and through halls.

Eight of the bodies recovered were those of children. Identification of the victims was hindered because in most cases they were charred.

Two of the bodies were found several hours after the fire beneath the collapsed rear portion of the building which had been subdivided into numerous tiny flats.

Fire Marshal John J. Habrekorn said the cause was not determined.

the building and said he will, conedy on overcrowded conditions in

He said also that fire department companies appeared to be slow getting to the scene and water pressure in hydrants was low. Fire department officials denied the allegations.

30 Die Over Holiday

By the Canadian Press

Canada's Labor Day holiday weekend brought violent death to more than 30 persons by early Monday evening, a Canadian Press compilation showed. From midnight Friday, 17 traffic fatalities were reported, six drownings and eight miscellaneous deaths.

During the Labor Day weekend last year there was a total of 63 fatalities, which included 34 traffic and 17 drownings.

This year's figures by provinces are: Ontario 12, with three traffic and four drownings; Quebec nine, with eight traffic; New Brunswick four, including three traffic; Nova Scotia one and British Columbia five, including three traffic.

CHICAGO (AP) — The toll of violent deaths in the United States during the 78-hour Labor Day weekend neared 450 late Monday with highway mishaps claiming more than 300 lives.

British Set Jet Record

By RONALD WILLIAMS

TANGMERE, Eng. (Reuters)—A red-painted Hawker Hunter jet whistled to a world air speed record Monday, taking the record from the United States.

The record of 727.6 miles an hour was officially announced by the Royal Aero Club, which supervised the atempt. The old mark of 715.69 was set in an F-86 Sabre jet by Lt.-Col. William Barns of the U.S. Air Force in July.

British test pilot Neville Duke rocketed his Hunter along a 1.8-mile set course along the coast here. Racing the speed of sound, he jockeyed his swept-wing fighter through the bumpy air little more than 50 feet above the waves.

Thousands of vacationers lined the shore as Duke hurtled past. He was disappearing almost before they heard him coming.

Duke threw the jet into a victory roll at the end of the run. He reported the conditions had been good and clear, but "bumpy."

RAIN HINDERS QUEBEC SEARCH

ROBERVAL, Que. (CP) — The search in northern Quebec for a missing Mont Laurier Airways plane with seven men aboard was halted Monday due to rainy weather, but officials planned further sorties as skies cleared up slightly by evening.

Plane disappeared Aug. 25 during a 600-mile flight from Fort Chimo, on Ungava Bay, ot Roberval.

ITALY MAY SEEK WESTERN INTERVENTION

Chances Small For Talking It Over

TRIESTE (Reuters) — Observers here predicted Monday that Italy will pull her soldiers and tanks away from the Yugoslav border and then try to get the Western powers to intervene for an "acceptable" solution for the future of this disputed territory.

The presence of Italian forces on the border north of Trieste last week brought a threat from Yugoslav President Tito that he would also move troops to the border if the Italians stayed there.

Sunday at a rally of 250,000 Slovene partisans near the Italian border the Yugoslav dictator offered this "solution" to the touchy Trieste dispute with Italy:

1. Internationolize the port city itself. It now is administered for the United Nations by Britain and the United States.

2. Give the outlying areas of the free territory permanently to Yugoslavia. Tito's army already occupies zone B, south of the city.

Italy's Premier Giuseppe Pella studied Tito's hour-long speech carefully and is expected to give a reply in a speech in Rome next Sunday.

Meanwhile, Italian government officials emphasized they felt that Tito's offer had reduced the chances of a settlement. They said there is no hope now of direct talks between Italy and Yugoslavia.

Both British and U.S. spokesmen have carefully skirted the issue, with its power to inflame nationalistic feelings in both countries.

TREMOR FELT IN EAST

ILSTANBUL (Reuters) — Strong earth tremors this morning shook several parts of Turkey.

Two severe tremors were recorded in Cerkes and Kursunlu, 200 miles east of Istanbul. No immediate report of damage was available.

Slight tremors were also reported in Ankara and 10 neighboring cities but no damage was reported.

TRIESTE (AP) — Trieste's geophysics observatory today recorded a "very violent" earthquake presumably in northern Iran. The observatory's instruments indicated that the quake's centre was about 1700 miles southeast of Trieste.

2 ARRESTED AT CALGARY

CALGARY (CP) — Two men from Texas were arrested Sunday and upwards of $5000 worth of office supplies and equipment which police said was smuggled into Canada after being stolen in the United States was confiscated.

LONDON (CP)—The forthcoming trade conference at Geneva, opening Sept. 17, was billed Monday as portending a "clash of titans" between Canada's C. D. Howe and Australia's Robert Menzies.

The Evening Standard said in an editorial that Geneva will become a battleground for the Canadian trade minister, who will go there prepared to resist any increase in Imperial preferences, and the Australian prime minister, who will seek new preferences.

Seamen's Vote Known Thursday

MONTREAL (CP) — The result of a vote of 4000 Canadian seamen on strike action may not be known until Thursday, a spokesman for the Seafarers International Union (AFL-TLC) said Monday night.

Ernie Hughes chairman of the union's negotiating committee, said polling of the seamen aboard ships and in union halls across the country is progressing "rapidly and smoothly," but is not yet complete. Earlier it was thought results might have been known by the weekend.

The vote will decide the membership's stand on a labor conciliation board report which rejected the union's bid for an immediate reduction in the work week from 56 to 40 hours. The board suggested a gradual reduction.

Suez Agreement Near at Hand

BY ARTHUR GAVSHON

LONDON (AP) — Britain and Egypt are reported slowly nearing agreement on ways of setling their old quarrel over the future defence of the Suez canal.

The two countries have been trying informally to set up a basis of agreement which, at one and the same time, would satisfy British insistence that the vital waterway be securely protected and Egyptian demands that British troops get out.

Informed sources Monday said Gen. Sir Brian Robertson has been able to express some cautious optimism in his report to the government on the series of informal Anglo-Egyptian talks which have been going on in Cairo.

Impatient Suitor

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—An impatient suitor who threatened to fly out over the Pacific until his fuel was gone has been missing since Saturday.

A coastwise search was under way Monday for Robert S. Woolsey, 32, a highway engineer and former air force flier. He left in a rented plane Saturday with enough fuel for four hours.

Patrolman William Radcliffe of Berkeley said he talked to Mary Faith Wilson, 22, who is engaged to Woolsey. The officer said she told him that Woolsey had said "if anything ever happens to our engagement I will get into a plane and head for Hawaii and if the gas runs out that will be it."

Radcliffe said the girl told him that Saturday Woolsey asked her to marry him at once, but she declined on the grounds that she wanted more time to consider.

Fishing Craft Missing, Orchards, Grain Hit Hard

HALIFAX (CP) — An Atlantic hurricane with a wicked punch rammed across the Maritimes Monday, hitting Nova Scotia a damaging blow and then whistling on toward Newfoundland.

Striking early in the evening, hurricane "Carol," third of the Caribbean-spawned storms this season, left untold damage in the lush apple orchards of the Annapolis valley and the grain fields of central Nova Scotia.

At sea there had been plenty of warning for the 70-mile-an-hour winds and lashing rain, but still there were reports of distress.

Still missing as the storm headed over Cape Breton and out to sea toward Newfoundland was the 57-ton fishing craft Sister M. Antonio, out of Lockport, N.W. The number of men aboard was not known.

Nova Scotia was the hardest hit, but New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island got the fringe winds that tossed broken trees into the streets and cut power and telegraph services.

The Canadian National Railways' crack Ocean Limited, eastward-bound from Montreal, was delayed reaching Halifax because power failures disrupted signals along the route.

POLICE GUARD

In Halifax, all policemen were called in to stand guard over broken power lines until company linemen effected repairs.

Plate-glass windows were blown in a dozen stores and doors were ripped off two waterfront warehouses. Some of the city's main streets were blocked during the height of the storm by broken tree limbs and other debris.

There was no early estimate of damage, but it was feared that the loss to the apple belt might be high. It would have been worse later on when the apples are ripe and fall easily.

Car ferries operating between Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island were tied up during the peak of the blow.

Labor Day sports events were cancelled and families heading for home with children for school openings were delayed along the way.

A 40-foot pleasure schooner moored in a sheltered bay at Dartmouth, across the harbor from Halifax dragged her anchor and was pounded ashore.

A small craft was reported overdue on a trip from Summerside, P.E.I., to Charlottetown, but turned up safe at a small port.

The weather office here said gusts reached 70 miles an hour at Dartmouth. Sambro lightship, at the mouth of Halifax harbor, reported gusts of 80.

Power failures were frequent throughout the area and telegraph companies had difficulty maintaining contact with some centres, losing their wires completely at some stages of the storm.

Freighters in Halifax harbor kept steam up and doubled anchors and anchor watches. The Canadian destroyer Algonquin had a full crew aboard and was ready to leave port in case of distress signals from shipping.

Marine reports said Portuguese and Spanish fishing vessels off Newfoundland were running for shelter before the hurricane, third of the season to lash the western Atlantic.

BOSTON (AP) — The United States Coast Guard rescued crew members of the Panamanian freighter Evgenia Monday after she was driven aground off Cape Cod by heavy seas kicked up by hurricane "Carol" as it pushed past the New England coast. Thirteen of the 25 men aboard were removed by breeches buoy.

Fishermen Spend Night of Terror

ST. MICHEL DES SAINTS, Que. (CP) — Provincial police pressed their search Monday for a Quebec City fishing guide, wanted for questioning with an attack on an American fisherman Saturday night.

Meanwhile the American and two friends who shared with him a "night of terror" in the bush 30 miles from this town, left by car for home at Casteltown, Vt.

Louis Lefebvre, 59, his neck and the back of his head swathed in bandages which covered painful but not serious knife wounds, was accompanied by his brother-in-law, Dominique McMahon, 44, and another companion, Jerome Lamoria, 42.

Police investigating the case are reported to have returned to Montreal, giving rise to the belief that the guide, 23-year-old Donat Andre Bernard, may be sought there.

Sunday night, after 18 hours spent in the bush, Lefebvre told police he was attacked in a fishing camp at Lake Tibele, 30 miles away by Bernard after his two companions had gone fishing.

AWAKENED BY STAB

He said he went to sleep in the cabin and was awakened by a stab in the neck. He found blood streaming from the wound and faced a shotgun held by Bernard, who demanded money.

"I gave him all I had, about $300," said Lefebvre. He said he was led at shotgun point into the front room of the cabin, where Bernard turned out the lights.

When Bernard turned his head, on the approach of the other two Americans, Lefebvre said he "grabbed the gun and grappled with him." Bernard then fled.

The three then went out in a rowboat on the lake, where they waited while Bernard allegedly searched for them.

Slocan Logger Killed When Car Over Bank

VALLICAN — A Slocan logger was killed early Sunday morning when his car plunged down a 100-foot bank here.

Veikko William Koski died shortly after the accident, two miles north of Vallican on the old Slocan road. A passenger in the car, J. R. Johnson, not hurt, ran for help to the home of Roy Tedesco of Vallican who summoned RCMP. The RCMP rushed the injured Koski to Kootenay Lake General Hospital at Nelson but he died shortly after arriving.

The late model English car plunged over an embankment and rolled almost to the bottom. Koski was part owner of a small farm in that district.

TEENAGER FALLS TO DEATH

LONGVIEW, Wash. (AP) — A teenage Portland, Ore., boy on a church outing, plunged 30 feet to his death Sunday at the bottom of a rocky crevasse on 9671-foot Mt. St. Helens.

Ted Sageser, 16, died just as trained mountaineers arrived with a physician to begin rescue efforts.

Dr. Raymond Roy, Portland optometrist who was guiding the party, said the boy lost his footing and slid over the brink of the crevasse at the 7000 foot level just after another of the young climbers had nearly met the same fate.

SWEDISH SCHOONER SINKS

DOVER (Reuters) — The 260-ton Swedish schooner Ann Charlotte sank in the North Sea Monday after colliding w ith the 7232-ton Sparto from Panama. The Sparto, which was also damaged, picked up the Swedish crew members.

FEDERATION SWORN IN

SALISURY, South Rhodesia (Reuers) — Bluff, 70-year-old Sir Godfrey Huggins was sworn in Monday as prime minister of the temporary government which will administer the new-born Central African Federation.

He also assumes the cabinet portfolios of defence, finance and external affairs.

To take the helm of the new federation which unites the African territories of Southern Rhodesia, Northern Rhodesia and Nyasaland and into one state, Huggins gave up his job as prime minister of Southern Rhodesia.

Huggins was one of the architects of the federation, which covers 500,000 square miles and has a population of 6,000,000 Africans, 250,000 Europeans and 14,000 Asians.

STEVESTON, B.C. (CP) — Fire early Monday destroyed a ladies' apparel shop at Steveston, B.C. No estimate of the loss is available.

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Ed Cantine, is a man who likes to finish anything he starts — like Sunday's 92-mile outboard motorboat race on the Connecticut river from here to Essex and back.

His boat lost two needle valves, its throttle broke, it ran out of gas, he lost his helmet and finally, his crew pit was somewhere else on the river when needed.

So the South Salem, N.Y., man jumped out of the boat and, while swimming, towed it across the finish line.

OLDSMAR, Fla. (AP)—John E. Lister, a volunteer fireman, urged the Oldsmar fire department to buy a resuscitator. He won his point and was given the job of picking out one. It was used for the first time Saturday and it saved a life — Lister's. While recharging a refrigerator he was overcome by sulphur dioxide gas.

Redmen Taste First Defeat

KELOWNA (CP) — A season's record without a defeat came to an end here Friday night when Kelowna Bruins belted Rossland Redmen 16-11 in the opening game of the B.C. Senior "B" lacrosse semi-final. Up to this game the Rosslanders had gone through 29 games this season unbeaten.

Redmen appeared to be headed for their 30th win early in the game when they took a 7-3 lead over Kelowna but the Bruins gradually shook loose from their covers to get their snappy passing plays going and by the end of the third frame took over the lead again by a 9-8 count.

A breakaway goal while shorthanded proved the turning point in the fourth quarter during which Kelowna outscored the Redmen 7-3. Four of Kelowna's goals came within three minutes, crumbling the Rossland defences.

Reg Martin paced the winners with four goals, followed by Don Gillard, Merv Bidoski and John Ritchie with triples. Bruce Brydon got a pair and Cal Smillie added a single.

Big guns for the Rosslanders were Jack La Face, Jim Scott and Don Davis completed the scoring.

Second game in the series will come off Saturday. If a third game is needed, it will be played Monday.

Keen Competition In Highland Games

Kilts swished and bagpipes sounded while nimble feet danced beloved Scottish rhythms as the Kootenay Kiltie Pipe Band presented its 14th annual Piping and Highland Dancing Competition. Old Sol smiled down through most of the day and hundreds of onlookers poured in and out of the grandstand during the Monday games at the Civic Recreation grounds. Competitors from as far East as Calgary and Edmonton, from throughout the Kootenays and the Okanagan took part in the games and shared the prize monies.

Competition was keen and marks were high in the 27 competitions, which ranged from the Sailor's Hornpipe to drumming, marching and band playing. The dancing competition started at 9:30 in the morning and drumming event ended the day's competitive classes. At noon, the pipe bands paraded through downtown Nelson.

W. Forrest was Chieftain of the day and B. Eccles of Rossland, one of the Commonwealth's best pipers, was official piper. Dan Crozier, president of the Kootenay Kilties, and Ken Forbes, vice-president, announced winners and distributed medallions and cash prizes to contestants.

Mrs. Jack Stout of Edmonton was dancing judge and Pipe Major Donald MacLean of Vancouver was piping judge.

Fairview Juniors Cop Top Money In Fruitvale Tourney

The Nelson Junior baseball team captured first money of $75 in the first West Kootenay Junior baseball tournament held at Fruitvale on Labor Day. The tournament, sponsored by the Fruitvale Fair Association saw Nelson edge Rossland 4-3 and then win a free-hitting 11-10 game from Fruitvale who had eliminated Trail 4-2 in the opening game.

In the Rossland game, Al Dawson of Nelson and Pete Boucher of Rossland engaged in a tight duel all the way. Fielding was good by both teams. Rossland scored a run in each of the first, third and sixth innings. Nelson scored one in the second, twice in the sixth and the winning run in the seventh. Dawson yielded five hits, struck out four and gave no free walks. Boucher for Rossland struck out six and allowed six hits. Elsener hit a triple, Dawson and Hendricks a double each for the extra base blows for the winners. For the losers Pete Boucher came through with a triple and Davis a double.

FIVE FLINGERS

In the finals Mervyn started on the mound for Fruitvale, and was replaced by big Jack Duncan in the sixth, who had hurled his club in the morning game to their 4-2 win over Trail. Wilf Marquis hurled the first four innings, Dawson then took over and held on till the last of the ninth when a Fruitvale barrage of hits came within one run of tying the game, forcing him to give way to Tommy Marshall who cooled Fruitvale off with their tying run on third. It marked a thrilling finish to a cleanly fought contest.

The game was highlighted by nice fielding, each team pulling off a double play. Bill Pearson at second and Johnny Moore in left field looked good for Nelson while Shorting starred at short for Fruitvale. Nelson collected six doubles, Menwell and Siminoff drove out two each while Elsner and Pearson collected one each. McGee hit a triple for the losers, while Shorting, Cronie, DePasquale and Larsen banged out a two-bagger apiece.

Nelson collected 15 hits off the combined chucking of Mervyn and Duncan. Fruitvale picked up 12 hits from the offerings of Marquis and Dawson. Nelson scored two runs in the first inning and one in the third, two in the sixth and six in the ninth. Fruitvale scored three in the fourth, two in the eighth and five in their final bid in the last of the ninth.

Umpires for both games were Horace Vyse and Hugh McInnis of Fruitvale.

Mr. Curran entered hospital on Sunday.

Ruth Wilson Again Captures Calf Championship in Fruitvale Fair

FRUITVALE — For the second year in succession Miss Ruth Wilson captured the Cameron Trophy for her grand champion Ayrshire calf in Fruitvale's annual Fall Fair. It was the third time in five years that Miss Wilson has won the trophy.

She also carried off the girls' showmanship prize and also won a calf from the Calf Club.

In ideal fair weather, the exhibits, midway and concession booths drew crowds, although attendance was down from former years. Sports fans saw West Kootenay's first junior baseball tournament in which teams from Nelson, Trail, Rossland and Fruitvale participated. The tournament was captured by Nelson Fairviews, who took home a prize of $75.

Fair day here is also achievement day for the boys' and girls' calf clubs. Other winners besides Miss Wilson were Peter Comeau, boys' showmanship; Colleen Kenny, best achievement for 14 years and over, and Roger Comeau for boys under 14. There were fewer boys and girls in calf club activity this year.

ENTRIES DOWN

Number of entries in the exhibition was down considerably, only 63 entering the needlework section against more than 200 last year. Quality was high, however.

There were 290 entries in the section for children up to 16 years and Mrs. S. C. Colman of Nelson, judge, said that quality and arrangements were good. Competition was especially keen in baking.

Calf Club winners:

Ayrshire calf—1, Ruth Wilson; 2, Donald Todd; 3, Wilbert Gladdish; 4, Peter Comeau; 5, Tommy Kenny.

Holstein calf—1, Betty Todd; 2, Colleen Kenny; 3, Roger Comeau.

Jersey calf—No first; 2, Brian Gladdish.

Cows:

Best grade Ayrshire—1, Jack Gladdish.

Best Grade Jersey—1, Jack Gladdish.

Best Ayrshire heifer over two years—J. Thompson.

Best Ayrshire heifer one to two years—1, Ruth Wilson.

Best Holstein heifer—1, Ruth Wilson.

OVERCOMING OF DISEASE TO BE LECTURE THEME

The overcoming of disease, sin, lack and insecurity through spiritual understanding of God will be brought out in a lecture by Arthur C. Whitney of Carmel, California, announced for next Sunday afternoon by First Church of Christ, Scientist.

Formerly an Army Chaplain and now a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, Mr. Whitney is on an extended lecture tour. He will speak in Nelson September 13. His subject will be "God's Abundance Available Through Application of Christian Science."

Mr. Whitney served as chaplain with a front-line outfit during the 1918 Allied offensive in Belgium. He had been educated for machine designing, but nearly lost his sight, and then was entirely healed by Christian Science treatment. This led him to study the subject more deeply, and subsequently he himself entered the practice of Christian Science healing, in which he has engaged since.

He has lectured throughout the United States, Canada, Great Britain, and also in Europe since his appointment to The Christian Science Board of Lectureship in 1944.

The first Monday in November each year opens the fox-hunting season in Britain.

5000 See Top 'Punchers Ride

CRANBROOK — Over 5000 people attended the fifth annual Cranbrook rodeo in the Cowboy Protection Association today to see top cowboys compete for $1200 in prizes in an afternoon and evening performance under ideal weather conditions at Moyie Park. Addition of chuck-wagon racing which wound up the program was popular.

Main casualty of the day was pickup man Clarence Ginrip who broke his leg when a bronco slammed him against a fence.

Lions club who discontinued sponsorship this year shared a percentage of the record gate for the event for their community fund. Reg Kesler of Rosemary was producer this year and the rodeo stock was tops for spirit and muscle. Dairy Association chuck wagon trophy and Cranbrook Licenced Hotels and Tourist Camps Association prizes and trophies were presented at the big cowboy ball at the Bluebird Inn which concluded the Labor Day festivities.

Prize winners were:

Bareback bronco riding — first and second split, Gordon Earl of Newgate, B.C., Briant Butterfield of Ponoka, Alta.; third, George Aldoff of Nanton, Alta., fourth, Keith Hyland of Alsack Sask.

Bull-riding — Don McLeod of Black Diamond, Alta., Geordon Earl of Newgate, and Al St. James of Marysville, B.C., fourth split between Gordon James of Marysville, B.C. and Keith Hyland of Alsack, Sask. and Jim Corothers of Stettler, Alta.

Saddle bronco riding, day money — Keith Hyland of Alsack, Sask.; Reg Kessler of Rosemary, Alta., Frank Duce of Fort Macleod, Alta., Gordon Earl of Newgate, B.C.

Saddle bronc finals — Keith Hyland of Alsack, Sask., Gordon Earl of Newgate, B.C., Brian Butterfield of Ponoka, Alta., Mike Aldoff of Coleman, Alta.

Calf-roping — Cliff Vandergrift of Turner Valley, Alta., 19. seconds; Ken Tail Fathers of Cardston, Alta., 19.4, Butch Gorham of Fernie, 20.4, Fred Gladstone of Cardston, Alta, 21.

Wild cow milking — Reg Kessler of Rosemary, Alta., 43.4, Grenny Uphill of Fernie 46, Eddie Soup of Cardston, Alta., 48, Cliff Vandergrift of Turner Valley, Alta, 58.

Chuck wagon races—Jack Shecter of Edmonto, 1.06 1-10, Commodore Allen of Vulcan, Alta. 1.06 9-10, Griffin and Griffin of Cochrane, Alta., 1.10; Johnny Phelan of Red Deer, Alta., 1.12.

Deadline Today, Exhibition Entry 15 Per Cent Below Last Year's Show

About 1000 exhibits have been entered to date in the West Kootenay Exhibition, but the entry is about 15 per cent below last year's, officials said Monday night.

The three-day exhibition opens at the Civic Centre Thursday.

Entry deadline is today and officials, aware that gardens have been hard hit by recent weather conditions, urged potential exhibitors to "bring whatever you've got." Few roses and gladioli have been entered. Up to Monday night, 168 entrants had been registered.

Survey Group Climbs Into Jumbo Pass Area

INVERMERE — A party of 14 left Invermere Sunday morning, confident of reaching West Kootenay via Jumbo and Glacier Creek over the Purcell Range.

They were taken by a six-horse pack train 10 miles up Jumbo Creek and when the pack train left them at 2 p.m. Sunday, they were in sight of the summit about four miles away. They expected to reach it before nightfall.

The trail was in good condition as far as the pack train went.

Among the party is A. Murfitt, B.C. highway engineer of Golden. Others are B.C. Affleck, surveyor of Nelson; Alec Jacobs of Kaslo, Graham McMullin, Daily News reporter, H. A. Newcomes, Hal Bavin, George Thornton, Jack McKill, F. R. Coy, J. A. Laird, Eon Weir, George Lake, R. B. Harris and Leo Richer, all of East Kootenay.

Jacob Rothery Laid at Rest

Funeral services for Jacob Rothery, well known Nelson sportsman, were held from the Thompson Funeral Chapel Saturday. Rev. Allan Dixon officiated. Mr. Rothery died in Nelson Thursday at the age of 71.

Among the many friends who attended the services were members of the Nelson Amateur Hockey Association and Clan McLeary. Clan McLeary members formed open ranks from the chapel to the hearse and conducted a graveside burial service.

Two hymns, "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," and "Abide With Me" were sung. Mrs. W. A. Manson was organist.

Pallbearers were members of Clan McLeary, W. Brodie, N. Hickman, J. Lundie, E. McLachlan, I. Spiers, and R. D. Wallace. Interment was in Nelson Memorial Park.

New Students Register Today

Beginners, new enrollees and new senior matriculation students will march off to Nelson schools today. Others, who have already studied in classrooms here, will enrol Wednesday.

Beginners and newcomers to the elementary schools register this morning before 11 o'clock, while all students new to Junior and Senior high schools, register this afternoon.

School buses run for the first time this term Wednesday.

The Weather

VANCOUVER (CP) — A variable cloud cover which spread to all parts of the province Monday resulted in lower afternoon temperatures at all interior points. Kamloops was the warmest spot although its maximum of 85 degrees was 5 degrees lower than Sunday's high. Afternoon thunderstorms developed at points from the south Cariboo to the Kootenay.

On the coast cloud cover was extremely variable and a few showers were reported from northern areas.

Some slight decrease in cloud cover with a lessening of thunder activity in the interior is expected Tuesday. However, no major change is yet in sight.

Smokies Win Own Tourney, Reap Another Thousand

TRAIL—The Trail Smoke Eaters won first money in the $2300 three-day baseball tournament held in Butler Park Labor Day weekend, beating Kimberley Dynamiters 9-6 in the final game.

This was the Trail team's second tournament victory, having won the Nelson tourney in the later part of July.

The Smoke Eaters were presented the Dr. David Cowen Trophy as well as first prize of $1000. Kimberley pulled down $700 for second place, while Fruitvale and the Nelson Maple Leafs each received $300.

The tourney was sponsored by the Trail District Receration Projects Society with the proceed to go to the building of the kids rink.

In the opening rounds played Saturday and Sunday Trail downed the Nelson Outlaws 12-6, Fruitvale beat Spokane 6-0- Nelson Maple Leafs won over Vancouver 11-6 and Kimberley ousted Sagle, Ida., 11-4.

In the semi-finals the Smoke Eaters defeated Fruitvale All Stars 10-3 and Kimberley handed the Nelson Leafs a 5-4 setback.

Mrs. Shepherd of Silverton Dies

Mrs. Margaret Shepherd of Silverton died at Kootenay Lake General Hospital Monday morning. She was 78.

Born in Troy, Kansas, she came to Canada in 1906, lived for some time at Edmonton and for 30 years at Daysland before coming to New Denver in 1948. She moved recently to Silverton. During her early life she spent some time in Mexico and then moved to Wichita, Kansas. Mrs. Shepherd was married in Gotebo, Oklahoma.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Martha Maybank of Nelson; two sons, Roy of Stettler, Alta., and Thomas of Vancouver.

Her husband Thomas Jefferson predeceased her in Edmonton in 1947. Three weeks ago her son Frank died in Vancouver. Funeral services will be held here.

ESKIMOS WHIP CALGARY 19-5

EDMONTON (CP) — Edmonton Eskimos rode on the crest of a three-game winning streak into a first-place tie with Winnipeg Blue Bombers by whipping Calgary Stampeders 19-5 in a dull Western Interprovincial Football Union game before 15,500 fans Monday night.

REGINA (CP) — Saskatchewan Roughriders scored their first victory in the Western football season Monday afternoon by defeating leading Winnipeg Blue Bombers 23-19.

HAMILTON (CP) — Hamilton Tiger-Cats made up for their lack of offensive power by taking full advantage of the mistakes of Toronto Argonauts to pound out a 14-12 decision over the Scullers in a loosely-played Big Four football game here Monday before a crowd of 17,000.

Rossland Girls Capture Tourney; McGinn's Arm Possibly Fractured

The Rossland Slickers on Labor Day captured the five team ladies fastball tournament, held in Kinnaird.

The Rossland girls who drew a bye in the first round played only two games while the other finalists the Nelson Royals after winning their first two games bowed out by a 10-5 tscore os Kay Ramsden stopped the heavy hitting Royals.

The weary Royals in reaching the finals first downed the Castlegar Kats 6-2 with Verda Pratt taking over the star's role, by whiffing 18 Castlegar batters.

In the second contest the Royals swept through the Kinnaird Flyers 15-5. It was reported that in this game Mary McGinn who started on the mound, injured her arm. The extent of the injury is not known, although V-rays were taken in Castlegar and her arm may be broken. The loss of McGinn was a tough blow for the Royals.

Pratt came once more to the mound, but the Royals were unable to muster their hitting power and Rossland romped home to victory and the first prize money.

School Beginners Inexperienced In Traffic Ways

School zone signs are up again. Today thousands of boys and girls throughout British Columbia will be starting back to school. Hundreds of six-year-olds will be going to school for the first time. When school is in the motorists School Zone holiday is over.

"Everywhere there is a crosswalk marked on the street, the motorist should slow down in front of schools," warned Harry Duker, president of the B.C. Automobile Association. "Even if there is no 15 mile per hour speed limit the motorist should slow down and take care. The Grade One youngsters sometimes aren't used to busy streets, the BCAA asks the motorists to give the kids a break. Watch for them, go slowly, and when in doubt, Stop."

"It isn't only the young pedestrians in front of the schools that provide a hazard to the motorist," continued Mr. Duker. "The boys and girls on bicycles can get into accidents just as quickly. Often the motorist doesn't give these youngsters enough consideration. They aren't experienced in traffic and their judgment is not as quick as the motorists. Don't crowd the cyclists. Give them a safe chance."

The BCAA chief reminded car owners that young people learn by their example.

MAN'S CREATION SHOWS GOD'S POWER

That man is created to show forth the presence and power of God was considered during the reading of the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Man" in all Churches of Christ, Scientist Sunday.

The Golden Text was: "And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness."—Genesis 1: 26.

The Lesson-Sermon included the following passage from the Bible: "Know ye that the Lord he is God: it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture." — Psalms 100: 3.

Among the selections from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, was the following: "The eternal Truth destroys what mortals seem to have learned from error, and man's real existence as a child of God comes to light."

CATTLE-KILLING BEAR HUNTED

GRAND FORKS — A bear with an appetite for cattle is the object of concern for Game Warden A. F. Sinclair. Warden Sinclair has appealed to the Game Department at Nelson for a predatory hunter to track down the animal who is molesting cattle in the Bridesville district. Ranchers in that area have lost at least 11 head of cattle.

Fernie Gets Go-Ahead On Ice-Making Plans

FERNIE — Financing of the artificial ice project took a definite step forward when City Council accepted the tender of Dominion Securities Limited for the purchase of $45,000 of 1967 B.C. provincial bonds. The bid was 86.75 per hundred plus accrued interest. Eight offers were received. The Arena committee was authorized to purchase and obtain the necessary lumber, cement, sand and other materials required to prepare the Arena for the installation of the ice making plant.

The Coronation Day Celebration financial statement was read and accepted. The celebration was sponsored by the city with the aid of various organizations in the community. Total expenditures were $1001 with donations amounting to $359, leaving a net cost to the city of $641. No admission fees were charged.

Request of the Marwell Paving Co. for the use of the Fernie airport hangar for an equipment storage and repair depot during the coming Fall and Winter was conditionally granted. Earlier this year the council offered the hangar to the reserve unit of the RCEME. Marwell may use the building until such time as it is required by the military unit.

A request for rental due to the claim that the city was using part of a ratepayer's property was refused. Council admitted no liability whasoever, but counterclaimed that a building on the ratepayer's property encroached upon city property.

Letter notifying the city of a planned civil defence meeting and course to be held in Cranbrook September 26 was read. Council was in favor of the meeting and naming of delegates was left to the next council meeting.

The city cemetery committee will meet with the Canadian Legion cemetery committee regarding moving the present fence bordering the Legion plot. The Legion recently obtained from the Crows Nest Pass Coal Co. Ltd., a sizeable piece of property to add to their plot. This step was taken as burial space in the Legion plot would be used up in the next few years.

Mayor Tom Uphill who will be at the sitting of the legislature was named as delegate to attend the meetings of the Union of B.C. Municipalities which will be held at the coast.

Twenty-three trades licence holders who are delinquent in the payment of their licence fees are being notified that payment must be made by September 15 or legal action will be taken.

SEEK HOSPITAL LOTS

Three inquiries on the possible purchase of lots in the block North of the hospital were read. The city clerk was instructed to inform those inquiring that property concerned was not for sale, but was being held and reserved for community purposes. After some animated and heated discussion a motion that that particular block only be reserved for community purposes was passed after an amendment that all G.N. right of way property be reserved was defeated. Council then was informed that certal.. action concerning these properties under discussion had previously been taken and that the motion and amendment might be out of order. It was then decided to delete both the motion and the amendment, to ascertain what previous action had been taken and then review the whole matter at a future meeting.

A stoker for the fire hall will be purchased from the Lassalle Furniture. The vendor's tender for installation was not accepted as the aldermen felt that the city itself could instal the stoker.

The problem of reserved Greyhound bus parking on Main Street once again came up for discussion. Further investigation into the possibilities of getting the buses off Main Street will be made.

Salmo School Building Program Starts

SALMO — Excavation work started this week for the new addition to the Salmo Junior-Senior High School. Work on the Elementary School addition is nearing completion.

Stange and Holland Contractors have been working for the past two months on an auditorium, four classrooms, a kitchen, gym equipment room, boiler room and offices and medical room of the elementary school. Work is expected to be completed within a month. The new elementary section was started last year when two classrooms and offices were built.

Additions to the junior-senior section will include auditorium with combined stage and lunchroom, boys and girls dressing rooms, showers, industrial arts and drafting shops, a home economics room, science room, library and two classrooms. Staff, medical and storage rooms will also be provided.

A new bridge, now under construction, serving the Elementary School is also nearing completion. The bridge spans the North Fork river. A small bridge was replaced by the a structure moved from the old highway near Erie. It has been reconstructed and a pedestrian walk will be built on one side.

E. Kootenay Industrial Exhibits Lauded; Invermere Wins Shield

INVERMERE — Invermere School won the R. Randolph Bruce shield for its exhibit at the East Kootenay Agricultural and Industrial Exhibition in Athalmer Saturday.

One of the highlights of the exhibition was the crowning of the queen, Miss Barbara Annis of Radium, by her predecessor, Miss Heidi Schneider of Edgewater.

The fair opened with a parade from the Invermere community centre to the Athalmer fair grounds. The weather was perfect throughout the day and although entries were down slightly fro mlast year's fair, the industrial displays were lauded by all. A dance at Lake Windermere Memorial Centre wound up the festive day.

Sweepstake winners were:

Dairy produce— George Annis, Capt. Ogilvy-Wills of Fairmont.

Procter Club Holds Party for Children

PROCTER—The Flashlight club met at the home of Mrs. C. Fitchett to make finals plans for wiener roast to be held for children of the district. The event is scheduled for Saturday and will be held at the beach near the hotel. Proceeds from a Labor Day dance sponsored by the group will be used for the party.

Sightseers Flock to Polatka Village; RCMP Ask Sons to Stop Nudism

PERRY'S SIDING — A steady stream of sightseers flowed up and down the Slocan Valley Highway Saturday and Sunday for a look at "Polatka Village" — now consisting of 65 tents and some 400 Sons of Freedom.

More and more Freedomites, from Grand Forks, Glade, Krestova and the Slocan Valley are moving to the village. All are families who have lost their homes in incendiary fires during the past year or two.

Meanwhile at Penticton, an explosion knocked out one railway line and several ties, but did not disrupt train schedules. The dynamiting was blamed on Sons of Freedom who had come to the district to work on fruit ranches and in canning factories. The explosion was heard by a nearby resident who said debris from the blast showered his roof. Minutes later, he told RCMP, he heard two old model cars drive away.

PRAY ALL DAY

At "Polatka Village" Freedomites began their prayer sessions shortly after six a.m. Sunday and continued praying and chanting throughout the day. Most of the men, women and children stood and sat about the three-acre clearing in the nude, with cloths sheltering their heads from the blistering Sunday sun. Several times Sunday, the short one-way road leading to the tent settlement was jammed with sightseers automobiles — some bearing out of the province and American licence plates.

RCMP, Freedomites said, had asked the group not to disrobe "because people are complaining about the nudism". They gestured toward at least 20 automobiles lined up on the highway and on the road leading to the village and replied: "If they object, why do they come here in droves?"

Throughout the day the Sons walked about the village, sang, chanted and prayed. Amateur photographers were asked by the Freedomites not to take pictures although some photographed the groups from their cars.

TENT FOR CHILDREN

During the weekend the Freedomites who assert "Christ is our onlyleader," set up a large tent, 18 by 225 feet and containing a heating unit, to house the younger children of the new village. The other tents are not heated and mothers had been having difficulty keeping the younger children warm during the cold nights.

Bert Marshall of South Slocan, president of the Slocan Valley School Board, said Labor Day the board plans to enforce the Schools Act in its district. "Although we plan to follow up the resolution we passed in June, I don't think enrollment will be any different this year than last year or other years," he said. There are over 100 Sons of Freedom children in the Valley who do not attend school. The board will act because the property owners it represents have stated that is their wish, Mr. Marshall said.

Schools commence for all on Tuesday and buses will start operating between Slocan City and Slocan Park at that time.

Woman Scalded While Preserving

HARROP — Scalded while canning fruit, a Harrop housewife was rushed to Kootenay Lake General hospital. Mrs. A. Metcalf is reported in good condition.

Invermere Queen to Be Crowned With Replica of St. Edward's Crown

INVERMERE—The 1953 Queen of the Fair for the East Kootenay Agricultural and Industrial Exhibition who will be crowned at the Athalmer fair grounds, Sept. 5, will have special reason to be proud of her coronation ceremony.

She will be crowned with a replica of St. Edward's crown used in the Coronation ceremony of Queen Elizabeth II. It was made available through the courtesy of T. Eaton Co., of Vancouver to the Junior Hospital Aid at Invermere who are sponsoring the Queen contest. Proceeds are in aid of the Lady Elizabeth Bruce Memorial Hospital at Invermere and a record number of tickets have been sold.

The six contestants are Ingrid Steel of Edgewater, Marion Dreier of Athalmer, Isabell Birkheim of Canal Flat; Barbara Annis of Radium Hot Springs, and Ruth Krebs of Windermere.

Fire Destroys Pilot Bay Home

PILOT BAY—Fire levelled the home of Mr. and Mrs. Randall here. Some furniture and a few personal possessions were saved. The fire started about noon Wednesday during Mr. Randall's absence. The Riondel volunteer fire brigade rushed to the scene, but by the time they arrived the fire was out of cotnrol.

Rossland Fair Starts Tuesday

ROSSLAND — The Golden City's fifth annual Fall Fair opens Tuesday evening with a children's costume parade. Judging will take place for the best, most original, most comical and other costumes prior to the parade on downtown streets. A band will be on hand at the arena and the number of entries in the fair has surpassed those of previous years.

Because the season is late, the flower section promises to be better than those of former years. Sideshows and midways will add to the festivities of the two days. Trophies will be presented Wednesday night. A floor show will be staged in the arena by a group of players from North Stevens County.

WHAT A DAY!
What a misery it can be on those days when you are feeling way below par. How slowly the hours drag by when you feel seedy and sluggish and seem to ache all over.
And how unnecessary it all is, very often.
Most times that dull, logy feeling is the direct result of constipation and kidneys not working properly. You need something more than a simple laxative these times. You need Kruschen Salts.
Millions the world over have learned the benefits of Kruschen . . . the salts that are like those in the waters of famous Mineral Springs. Acting in two ways at once, laxative and diuretic (for sluggish kidneys), Kruschen helps rid the body of waste matter. It goes right to the cause of that miserable, sickish feeling that constipation brings about.
Get some Kruschen today. Less than half a teaspoonful can make you feel better all day long.

Tent Village Strategy Puts Onus on Victoria; Permanent Bureau Needed

Much can be done by the provincial government to improve the situation of confusion applying to the Sons of Freedom if it will move with a program of concrete proposals—now.

A leadership vacuum exists among the Freedomites more complete than at any time in years. It offers an opportunity for an advised body to step in and apply guidance where misguidance has been the rule too long. If the government does not move decisively, on behalf of the people of this province, to see that a course is charted for this muddled sect then it is laying the way open for some opportunist to take advantage of the situation—a situation which largely has reached its present stage from government procrastination.

The general public, too, has a duty to perform. The sightseers are gathering in numbers to view the tent village set up by burned-out Sons of Freedom near Perry's Siding. If public demand upon its legislators for far-sighted continuing program of intelligent action matched public curiosity there would be an end to Victoria vacillation. It is inconguous that the government with the advantage of so many years of skilled study at its fingertips and with a blueprint provided by the Doukhobor Research Committee available, should let itself be placed in a position where its action are forced by the manoeuvres of the dissidents. The people of British Columbia, as represented by their elected members, have simply lost the initiative to a group they are inclined to look down their noses at as illiterate, crude and somewhat dangerous.

The tent village appears a neat bit of strategy. It places the Sons in a passive position, but one in which the public's representatives must act. After all, a village of nudes within sight of a public school and highway simply is not tolerable. But what comes next? Do you lock them up and complete the ridiculous ineffective circle on which we have spun ourselves so often before? Do we let health and welfare agencies step in and simply let these homeless become public charges? Or do we insist on a program that will assist them to become acceptable residents within our lands and at the same time control their behaviour?

So far authorities have looked at the problem of the dissident as a sporadic one, requiring attention only when fires flare and bombs explode. What is required is the setting up of a permanent bureau with personnel who will accept as a life work, if necessary, the working out of a solution. A start has been made in the program laid out by researchers, but it is only a start—and is completely ineffective unless there is implementation.

Gambling — Aussie Style

Gambling is not a sin to Australians, or a misdemeanor. Indeed they have state lotteries and the independent Australians do love to "take a flier." But the Australian high commissioner to Canada says his country needs foreign capital for development purposes up to $250,000,000 a year. He suggests that could come from this continent. Yet Australians wagered $1,216,560,000 last year, which is $144 per person. And that is the total of legalized gambling only, actually the Australians bet a lot more on horses, cards and lotteries. Canada does not have legalized gambling except on horses when the provincial governments get a rake-off. And just in the Australian city of Melbourne there are three race tracks, one of which will accommodate 150,000 people. In fact the No. 1 industry "down under" seems to be taking a chance on the state lotteries and the No. 2 taking a flier on the horses. The nine million people there probably gambled $750,000,000 last year. The profits of which yielded more than the combined net profits of eight Australian banks, nine breweries, 130 engineering concerns and 57 companies trading in automobiles.—Brandon Daily Sun.

Casey's Engine

(Christian Science Monitor)

"What's a 'six-eight wheeler'?" several people, both casual and fervid railroad hobbyists, have asked us, referring to our editorial of July 30 on the monument just dedicated to "Casey" Jones.

"Frankly, we don't know," we have had to answer. The phrase doesn't fit any known locomotive nomenclature. It probably represents a phenomenon common to folk songs: word-of-mouth repetition garbling a contemporarily correct term before the stanzas are written down and published. So even the written forms vary—as they do with "Casey Jones."

Some further research indicates we were right — and reveals some other interesting facts. Another version of the song calls his engine a "big eight-wheeler," still another a "high right-wheeler," and yet another calls Casey a "six-wheel driver."

The latter comes nearer the facts both as to nomenclature and to Casey. For, as all railroaders and railroad fanciers know, steam engines are known by their wheel count: the number under the "pilot," the number of drivers, and the number under the cab—as a 4-4-0 or a 2-8-2.

Casey Jones (who, of course, was a real person) did drive No. 638, but not on his tragically famous last ride. He drove No. 638, a "consolidation" 2-8-0, on a freight run from 1893 to 1900. (We have before us an actual photo of this, with Casey in the cab.) Then, because of his record for speed and dependability, he was given a brand-new engine and a fast passenger run. This engine was No. 382, a 4-6-0 "ten-wheeler," with 69-inch driving wheels. And it was on this then-modern beauty that Casey mounted his personal six-chime whistle and began a brief tour of duty which ended with his epic run.

J. E. V. W., Kimberley—Please give me a recipe for making rhubarb wine.

To each gallon prepared rhubarb allow one gallon boiling water, three to four pounds sugar, one lemon, and half-ounce gelatine. Wipe rhubarb with damp cloth and cut into pieces without peeling. Measure and put into large vessel or tub and pour boiling water over it. Cover and let stand for week, stirring occasionally. Now strain off liquor through jellybag or fine sieve and press pulp as dry as possible without thickening juice. Add sugar to liquid along with thinly peeled rind and strained juice of lemon. Stir now and again until sugar is dissolved, and then pour into clean barrel, keeping back a little for filling up. Dissolve gelatine in little water and add it gently to barrel. Cover bung hole with folded cloth until fermentation ceases (about two days), close securely, and leave three months at least before bottling. A little brandy may be added before closing down and a bitter orange may be used in place of lemon.

Canada Coming Up

Canada has one horse power of electric energy for every one of this country's population. Last year Canada had 15,700,000 of developed horse power for its 14,500,000 people.

In this regard only one country in the world is better off and that is the United States. Measured in British thermal units of electric horse power on tap, U.S. had 260 million BTU's for each head of population against Canada's 201. Thus, industrially, the United States is in about 29 per cent better power position per capita than Canada. But we are rapidly catching up.

These figures are taken from the Bank of Montreal Business Review for August and refer to the figures at the end of 1952. But we have great electrical production schemes either in the building or on the draughting board, such as those at Kitimat, B.C., Beauharnois, Chute de Diable being developed or the tremendous potential from the Niagara River portion of the big St. Lawrence canal scheme. It could well be that before the end of the decade Canada per capita may have caught up with the U.S.

Tribute to a Newsman

This newspaper today records with sincere regret the untimely death of its City Hall reporter, Mr. Richard Sheridan. Dick Sheridan, as he was known everywhere, was the sort of person who invariably inspired good-will and affection. A genuine spirit, hard-working, conscientious and dependable, he was the sort no newspaper can get along without. He will be greatly missed by his colleagues in this office.

Dick Sheridan did not seek color or sensation, but reached his high professional standing by solid, informed reporting. He won confidence by a proper discretion and was thus able to serve his newspaper and its readers in many ways not otherwise possible. His fairness was never in question and his strong common sense was of frequent value to those whose words and deeds it was his duty to report. He was proud of his profession, and worked hard to improve its standards.—Toronto Globe and Mail.

Reading

. . . F. B. Pearce

Reading is important. It is the key which unlocks so many secrets, and the ability to read is rightly regarded by parents as an indication of brightness. While this is not always so parents always heave a sigh of relief when the child can read a few sentences.

There are many ways of learning to read. It is possible to learn by sight, that is by the look of each individual word, by phonics, that is by the sounds or modifications of sounds which go with each letter; but the latest and the best is by a combination of each method. It is easy to see that sight learning by itself is very tedious and that phonics, while it did enable the child to read emphasized word instead of meaning. In the days when phonic teaching was the vogue children often read orally with great fluency, but without any idea of the meaning.

Today we begin with teaching a few sight words which are repeated continuously until the child has a small but useful reading vocabulary. Next phonics are introduced but not by themselves as a separate study. Instead they are part of the reading lesson and lastly the child is encouraged to guess the word from the context, in much the same way that a person who knows a little French gathers the meaning from the few words he knows. This is how it works. Joe can read the sentence, "Tom has a new book." but he now has to read the sentence, "Tom has a few books," in which the word few is new. Here his phonics will help to get the new word. Sometimes he will have to use his imagination as in this case: "Tom has a red ball but Bob has a green ball." If the child doesn't know the word green the probability is that he will guess it by a combination of phonics and the knowledge that it must be a color.

You will note that in this new method there is more emphasis on self help than in teaching. This is all to the good especially when it is realized that children are encouraged to find the meaning of the sentences they read rather than to merely read. Children in primary grade enjoy reading lessons. On the whole they read better and with more understanding.

VOCABULARY IS KEY

By the time the child has passed through the eighth grade he should have so thoroughly mastered the mechanics of reading as to be able to read with fluency. At this stage most reading matter should be within his comprehension, but comprehension is to some extent a matter of intelligence, as well as upon the vocabulary the child has acquired. Too much stress cannot be laid upon the desirability of acquiring a large vocabulary as this is the key to understanding. In the primary grades a child is told to read a piece to himself before being asked to read it orally. It were as well if this were continued right through school, so that the meaning could be grasped before the individual was called upon to read it to the class.

Expressionless oral reading is largely the inability to understand the meaning while struggling with unfamiliar phrases and meanings. It is accentuated by the fact that most pupils have never been taught how to read so as to give themselves time, nor have they been shown how to read phrase by phrase. All reading is a succession of ideas following one after another to build up sentences, paragraphs and chapters. Consider the following sentence: The man in the moon came down too soon. The ideas which follow each other are, the man in the moon—came—down—too soon. You start with a mind picture of a man which, with the next phrase is changed to the mind picture of the moon mountains which we call the man in the moon, with the word "came" we imagine the action and last "too soon" gives us a picture of haste. It is easy to see that if the reader pauses only at the end of a phrase that he comprehends what he is reading, but if, for example, he reads it thus: The—man in—the—moon came—down—too soon, you know at once that he is not reading ideas but words. This is a very simple illustration, but when a high school boy reads he may not split his phrases like the primary child, but his lack of understanding is often shown by a want of rhythm and cadence in his oral reading.

TEACHING SHOULD CONTINUE

That is not to say that there are no bad readers nowadays. There are. Some are too young mentally and others that seem bright enough in other ways seem to lack the ability to see and remember the shape of letters or words or to remember what they stand for. Teaching a backward child to read is heartbreaking work. So often one hears a teacher say, "There must be some way if I could only find it."

One of the reasons why children fall behind in their reading is because teachers in the higher grade take it for granted that once the child has passed through the three primary grades there is no further need for teaching the mechanics of reading. This isn't true. Even in adult life one has to stop and puzzle out the pronunciation of a word or the meaning of a sentence. Phonics, the basis of all language, are seldom completely learned in the elementary school and it might help the child if there were a special course of phonics for the grade 8 classes. Your good reading teacher will have at her command a thorough knowledge of phonics and an instinctive ability to divide words into syllables. Without those two inseparables there are no words which cannot be mastered and in the end we find our language is based on these two.

Traveller Sees Pipeline Crews Moulding New Symbol of Unity

To The Editor,

Sir: Continuing a letter kindly published in your columns, relative to the extensive industrial development so evident in the great areas to the east of the Kootenays, I will endeavor to describe from a layman's point of view the picture as it unfolds itself on a similar foray to the rugged areas which lie to our west. Those who have read the previous letter may remember the dominant theme—"the changing scene." This condition is equally true in respect to the Boundary country, the rich Okanagan and finally the lush valleys of the coastal river deltas with their millions of acres of virgin forest areas and the more tenable open lands, dotted as they are with countless farms and well fed herds of live-stock.

We in the Kootenays lie athwart these rich and productive areas and Alberta and the rest of Canada and with a consistent policy of road building, development of hydro electric facilities to cater to a modern civilization and other amenities to further efficient living, we cannot fail but to become the great connecting link, as regards both road and rail transportation between these regions.

PANORAMA

And so one hot evening the latter part of July we start out westward over the lines of the Canadian Pacific Railroad. How pleasant to enter the clean cool sleeping car, feel and hear the "clickety-clack" of wheels over rail joints, with ever-increasing tempo as our train—now fully dieselized—so quickly picks up speed. We describe a near-semi circle in our sweep of Nelson's city limits and get a parting panorama of this centre of the Kootenays, resplendent in its nightly mantle of myriad lights glowing and twinkling in every color of the rainbow. The reflections on the calm waters of the lake might easily be likened to the ever-changing veils and shafts of an aurora borealis display. Past the huge generating stations and dams of the Kotenay river we rush, picking up momentum as we traverse the straighter sections of track through the farm lands just east of Castlegar. Soon we come to the big hill above the Lower Arrow Lakes.

A full moon makes its appearance, throwing a semi-translucent glow over the mountains rising so steeply from the shores of the dark waters now far below us. The twinkle of the isolated lights and the glow of the lakeshore beach party fires add their touch to this scene, seemingly out of the "Arabian Nights." One could almost imagine the bare faced granite walls, facing us from across the valley in the moonlight, to be the ramparts of some forbidden land. Even the train takes on the air of some legendary monster, as it angrily belches spumes of hot gases in its effort to rise from the dark abyss beneath and distort itself among the moon-bathed mountain tops. One's mind goes involuntarily back to the days of the steam engine, with all the grime, heat, and human effort involved in order to move these heavy trains up so steep an incline—all part of the changing scene. . . .

COQUIHALLA SEEN

Night having given way to day, we are now well on into the Okanagan country . . . this section I will skip, having previously described its wonders at the time of my travels last year.

This season, what with changed rail schedules, etc., the passage to the famous Coquihalla Pass is done about midday, thus affording the passengers first rate views of one of Nature's most stupendous barriers at the western end of CPR's Kootenay division. Constant vigil must be kept at all times for Mother Nature never quite forgave man's presence in the most inhospitable of districts, and lets loose from time to time with deadly avalanches in the winter in addition to falling rock and mud during the spring and summer.

It is here that the train, seemingly tired with its rendezvous with mountain top and cloud, descends sharply towards the valley of the mighty Fraser. But wait! Did we not remember having read about taking that "second look"? Here indeed is a spectacle of man's ingenuity, courage and faith pitted against the worst that Nature can muster. We pass legendary names—Romeo and Juliet. We see what will undoubtedly become legend in history; we thrill to see Canadian youth — backs brown and shining in the noonday sun — at the controls of mammoth machines that drill and dig the solid rock of the canyon. This is none other than the Trans-Mountain oil pipe-line—over 700 miles have they come from the Prairies of waving wheat fields, through the range lands round Kamloops and here they claw, blast and dig their way ever westward to the tide-water of the Pacific.

Our forefathers witnessed the linking together of vast territories in our Dominion by means of the railroads. We of today see a similar unification as a result of the oil and gas pipe lines. In the days gone-by, less hardy souls would have by-passed some of the mountain obstacles and resorted to running rights over American roadbeds. Those with the courage, the spirit and above all the faith declared, "We will stay on Canadian soil through thick and thin." We may only hope that such courage and determination will keep our oil and gas pipe lines also beneath Canadian territory.

Looking back upon this scene of intense human endeavor, the stacks of pipes, huge quantities of oil drums and dynamite, one thought how reassuring it must have been to the hardy toilers to see the scarlet and white flag of the Red Cross proudly waving atop the first aid tent in the hot afternoon breeze.

And so we continue our westward journey, keeping company with the turbulent Fraser, that mighty highway of the schools of sea salmon, that periodically and mysteriously leave their wide Pacific domain to ascend miles inland for the purpose of reproducing in their millions, thus providing British Columbia with one of its most lucrative industries.

DICK SPURWAY.

Polish Consul Quits 'Peg Job

WINNIPEG (CP)— The Tribune said in a newspage story Monday that 40-year-old Michael Krycun has bolted his post as Polish consul in Winnipeg.

The text of his official telegram today to the Polish legation at Ottawa, read:

"Am breaking with you and the Warsaw regime because I do not agree with the present situation in Poland. I do not want to live in a dictatorship and slavery in which the Polish people now live. I want to live in a free country as a free man."

He told the Tribune he had been planning "this escape since the day I left Poland to come to Canada a year and a half ago."

The paper says he has made his intentions clear now to Canadian authorities and has been granted political asylum in Canada.

LETTER FROM THE DEAD

LILLE, France (Reuters) —Pierre Dubois of the village of Flavy-le-Martel near here has received a letter written by his son on Aug. 15, 1914, from the front lines of the First World War. The son, a French army lieutenant, died later from war wounds. The letter was postmarked Aug. 11, 1953, at Troisdorf, Germany. A note on the envelope said it had been found after an air raid in the Second World War.

Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 4

OTTAWA (CP) — Mr. Justice R. L. Kellock, as deputy governor-general, has proclaimed the week beginning Sunday, Oct. 4, as Fire Prevention Week throughout Canada.

A proclamation in the current issue of the Canada Gazette calls upon federal, provincial and municipal officials to "endeavor, by means of public meetings, the press, radio broadcasts, or specially-prepared motion pictures . . . to impress upon the citizens the national importance of protecting life, property and natural resources from loss by fire."

Its lead roof, originally laid in 1665, brought £478 as scrap — enough to pay the whole cost of installing the new roof.

It is a neat example of how, while most metals have been getting more expensive through the centuries, the cost of aluminum has been going down. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan)

Good Breakfast Helps Housewife and Family

By ALICE DENHOFF

We'd like to remind our friends that a good breakfast is important all the year round, in cool or warm weather. Very often, the family plans to be absent from home much of the day, and the knowledge that they go forth fortified with a good meal is of great comfort to the homemaker.

For something substantial to bolster captious eaters, try Banana French Toast or Strawberry Toastwich.

FLAVORED WITH NUTMEG

For 4 portions of the banana concoction, combine 2 slightly beaten eggs, 2-3 cup milk and teaspoon nutmeg. Dip 8 bread slices into mixture, turning to coat both sides. Brown bread on both sides in ¼ cup shortening in a skillet.

Slice 3 medium bananas and place a layer of fruit on each of 4 slices of French toast. Cover with second slice of French toast. Serve with maple syrup. To make the toastwich, butter 12 slices bread with ¼ cup soft butter. Make 6 sandwiches by placing 2 tablespoons strawberry preserves between the slices of buttered bread (takes ¾ cup preserves in all).

Combine 2 slightly beaten eggs, 1-3 cup milk, ½ teaspoon salt and tablespoon sugar. Dip each sandwich in egg mixture, turning to coat both sides. Brown sandwiches on both sides in ¼ cup shortening in skillet. Shake a little confectioners' sugar over top of each toastwich.

Now for two snack suggestions:

TOMATO-CHEESE SAUCE

To serve 5, combine one can condensed tomato soup, ¼ cup milk, ½ teaspoon onion juice, teaspoon prepared mustard and ½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. Heat well. Add 2 cups grated processed cheese and stir until it melts. For each serving, place 2 deviled egg halves on slice of toast and cover with ¼ cup hot tomato sauce.

Ham Toastwich next, the recipe for 6.

Combine ¼ cup soft butter and 2 tablespoons prepared mustard and spread on 12 bread slices. Makes 6 boiled ham sandwiches.

Combine 2 slightly beaten eggs and 1-3 cup milk. Dip each sandwich into egg mixture, coating both sides. Brown sandwiches on both sides in small amount of hot shortening in skillet. Serve at once.

Best natural source of vitamin D is the liver of salt-water fish such as cod and halibut.

MUSTARD GIVES THIS QUICK Chili Sauce A PLEASING "NIP"

1½ qts. canned tomatoes, or 3 lbs. ripe tomatoes
1½ cups chopped onions
1¼ cups chopped celery
1¼ cups chopped green peppers
4½ teaspoons salt
3 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon Colman's Mustard
1 tablespoon Worcestershire Sauce
½ cup cider vinegar

If ripe tomatoes are used, peel and then chop. Combine with remaining ingredients, in order named, in a large kettle. Simmer, uncovered, 45 mins., or until quite thick. MR. and MRS. DAVID ROBERT MORRISON

Mr. and Mrs. D. Morrison Take Up Residence Here

Mr. and Mrs. David Robert Morrison have taken up residence in Nelson after honeymooning in California. They were wed in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church in Victoria. The groom is a Nelson man.

The bride, the former Margaret Williamson Miller, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Miller, Nelson, and the groom is the son of Mrs. J. S. Morrison, Montreal, and the late Mr. Morrison.

Pink and white gladioli formed a setting for the ceremony, performed by Rev. J. L. W. McLean. Soloist was Miss Kay Paulin and Mr. C. C. Warren played organ music.

Guests were shown to pews marked with sweet peas by Mr. Donald Miller of Vancouver, brother of the bride, and Mr. Peter Cook.

Given in marriage by her father, the attractive bride chose a redingote-style gown of chantilly lace with tiers of net edged with lace, lily-point sleeves, and Elizabethan collar. A coronet of orange blossoms held her chapel veil of illusion and she wore a pearl necklace, gift of the groom. Red roses formed her bouquet.

As matron of honor for her sister, Mrs. Peter Cook wore blue-mauve net in ballerina style with headdress and bouquet of pink carnations and larkspur. Mr. John Thompson, Vancouver, was best man.

Pink and white streamers and bells decorated the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Cook, Somass Drive, for the reception. Mr. John Thomson proposed the toast.

Kimberley Reception For Coast Couple

KIMBERLEY — A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bates for Mr. and Mrs. Bedford Bates who were recently wed in Nanaimo. Over 70 guests attended the gala affair. The home was gaily decked with streamers, wedding bells and vases of flowers. Centred on a lace covered table was the wedding cake flanked with white candles in silver candlebra.

Lone Man Builds Monument in Honor of Rogers

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — A 72-year-old boyhood friend of the late Will Rogers, after hiking 300 miles, has erected a monument at the spot where the famed humorist died in a plane crash beside the Arctic Ocean in 1935.

The sturdy oldtimer is Jesse Stubbs, who set out from Anchorage on his mission last winter. He hiked with his dog along the highway to Fairbanks, vowing he would make the trek all the way to Pt. Barrow.

Friends talked him out of it. They provided an airplane ride to the Arctic.

An airline crew was amazed to find this week that Stubbs had completed a spired concrete memorial at the spot where Rogers and Wiley Post, his famed pilot, crashed to their deaths.

The 72-year-old Alaskan hauled his construction materials over mushy snow and tundra to the site 12 miles from Pt. Barrow, northern-most tip of North America.

NATAL — Members of the Cassandra Rebekah Lodge, Odd Fellows, and their families and friends enjoyed the annual joint picnic at Crow's Nest.

Kimberley Scene of Martin-Zinovich Vows

KIMBERLEY — Kimberley United Church was the scene of a pretty wedding when Dale LaVonne Martin, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Martin, Kimberley and George Zinovich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Zinovich of Fernie were united in holy matrimony.

Rev. Mr. Irving of Cranbrook performed the ceremony.

The bride was charming in a pastel blue ballerina length nylon net over satin gown. She wore a picture hat in pastel blue. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls and she carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses.

Miss Rea Martin, sister of the bride, was her only attendant. She wore a yellow net with lace gown in ballerina length and a yellow picture hat and carried a bouquet of blue carnations.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's mother chose a grey figured taffeta with white accessories and red rose corsage. The groom's mother wore lace-trimmed navy crepe with navy accessories and a red rose corsage.

For the honeymoon trip to Okanagan points, the bride donned a black tailored suit with pink accessories.

On their return, the couple will reside in Marysville. The bride will teach at Marysville Elementary School while the groom is on the staff of McKim High School in Kimberley. Both taught last year at Canal Flats.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. Sunper and Mrs. H. W. Ernst of Spring Coulee, Alberta and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Zinovich of Fernie.

Syndication Puts Old TV Films In Place of Old Hollywood Ones

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Robert Cummings offers this tip to fellow players who want to embark on filmed television series: Get a piece of the property.

Cummings cites a potent example:

"The other night I dined at a Beverly Hills restaurant. I did a double take when the attendant came up to park my car. It was 'Amos' of the 'Amos n' Andy' TV series.

"I asked him how come. He told me that his show is being syndicated this year. That means that while he parks autos for cafe patrons in Beverly Hills, people all over the country will think him a successful television star."

MUCH-USED WORD

Syndication is a much-used word in Hollywood TV circles these days. With new stations opening every day, producers syndicate films that have already made the network rounds.

For instance, the "Amos 'n' Andy" show has 65 films completed, 13 of which have never been shown. Individual sponsors in individual towns will re-show them. No more new ones are planned.

That means that old television movies now will replace old Hollywood movies on many stations.

Cummings said Amos told him that he was unable to get any other TV work in town while the series is being shown around the country. He's just too well identified with the role.

OWNS 40 PER CENT

The "My Hero" series which Cummings made last year also will be re-shown this year via syndication but he is more fortunate than Amos who was paid only while making his shows. Cummings owns 40 per cent of the "My Hero" series.

"To give you an idea of how much loot is involved in syndication," Cummings says, "I was offered $50,000 for my share of 'My Hero.' While I debated the price, the offer jumped until it hit $250,000.

"My business manager (Mrs. Cummings) advised me that if it was worth that much to the buyers, it was worth more to me. So I held on."

He now believes his characterization of Robert Q. Beanblossom, a wacky real estate salesman, could make him a nice fortune to leave to his children.

Coast Offer for Marpole Bridge Not Enough, Says Minister Gaglardi

VANCOUVER (CP) — Works Minister P. A. Gaglardi Monday turned down Vancouver's offer of $200,000 toward a new Marpole bridge.

He said he had expected "something like $2,000,000."

The offer was made Friday by Mayor Fred Hume, who told Mr. Gaglardi he was placing a $200,000 bylaw before the public in December as Vancouver's share in "the cost of a bridge to replace your Marpole bridge."

LATEST MOVE

It was the latest move in the three-way battle to replace the swing-span structure over the Fraser River on the main route to International Airport.

The structure — laughingly reputed to open when a fat salmon swims up the Fraser to spawn — gained national prominence when it delayed Prime Minister St. Laurent and his party during their tour here.

Mr. Gaglardi who earlier met with a four-man delegation from city council, Saturday had a one-word answer to Mayor Hume's offer:

"Peanuts."

Mr. Gaglardi said a new bridge would cost $10,000,000 and that Vancouver's share would be more like $2,000,000—depending on how big a bit can be put on the federal government.

The status remained quo Monday and Ald. Jack Cornett summed up the situation with: "Peanuts? I guess it is. But the city can't afford to feed Victoria on caviar."

Claims Story on Dulles Untrue

DENVER (AP) — The summer White House Monday labelled as "completely untrue" a published report that President Eisenhower summoned Secretary of States Dulles to a conference here because of presidential displeasure over the cabinet officer's statements on foreign issues.

Assistant press secretary Murray Snyder was asked about the report at a press conference. He said he did not know the president's reactions to the report, but went on to say "the story in the morning paper is completely untrue."

He was referring to a story in the Denver Rocky Mountain News by Andrew Tully, Scripps-Howard reporter, saying it had been learned from an authoritative source that Eisenhower called Dulles to Denver because the president was "gravely concerned" about the secretary's statements in a St. Louis speech Wednesday and at a Washington press conference Thursday.

Preacher Says Church Apathetic Towards Racial Discrimination

LONDON (Reuters) — Canon John Collins of St. Paul's cathedral Sunday suggested a three-point program to end racial segregation in Anglican churches in South Africa.

In a sermon in the cathedral, Canon Collins also recommended that the Church of England refuse funds to any missionary society which upheld the color bar.

He accused the church of "apathy in its social and political responsibilities" and asked: "Dare we take refuge in evasions while the whip fall on black shoulders?"

PRESENTS PROGRAM

He put forward a program to support all Africans who by "passive but effective means resist the ugly racial laws of the fear-ridden Dr. Daniel Malan," South Africa's premier, and his Nationalist party followers:

1. Everybody listening to the sermon should write to the Archbishop of Canterbury, demanding that he and the church throw full support behind such champions of civil liberties as novelist Alan Paton and Chief Luthuli, president of the South African Council.

WIPE OUT COLOR BAR

Canon Collins added: "If you fear to address so exalted a dignitary, then write to your vicar or minister . . ."

2. The church should request that the South African Anglicans prove they want to wipe out the color bar by setting up at least one church in each diocese where no such bar exists.

3. The church should "announce publicly, and mean it," that it will provide funds to offset any loss of revenue that would come should racist church members in South Africa withdraw financial support because of the quality policies.

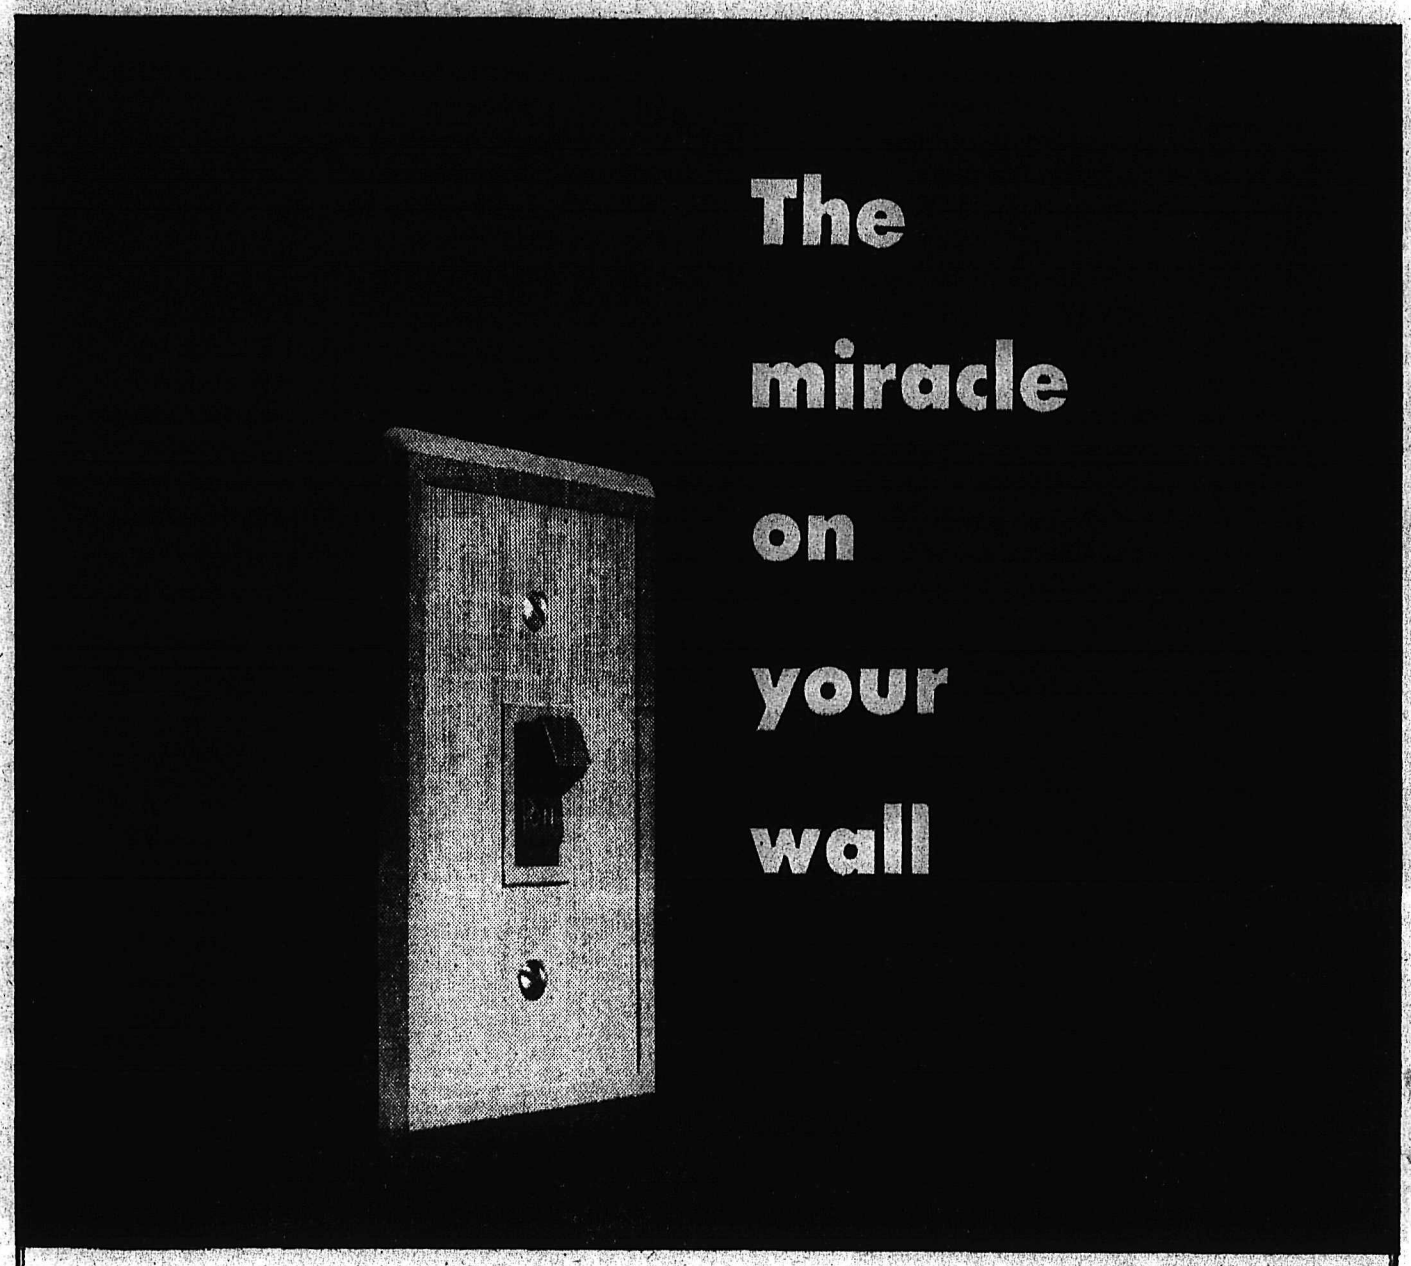
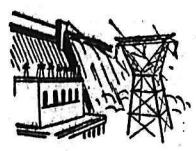
SCHOOL CHILDREN ARE ON THE STREET AGAIN. WATCH THOSE 15 M.P.H. ZONES.

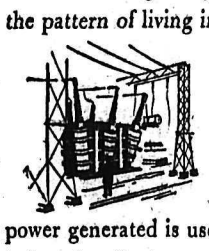


Behind the familiar wall switch lies the far-sighted planning and ingenuity of Canada's electrical industry that provides the low-cost power and efficient equipment which is helping to raise our standard of living.



When you want light in a room, you just flick a switch. It's as simple as that. And, if that minor miracle is taken for granted, consider a few of the other tasks electricity performs in the home.

It cooks complete meals while you are out—takes the labour out of cleaning, polishing, washing and ironing—keeps perishable foods in perfect condition, for months if necessary—supplies constant hot water—brings you radio and television entertainment—and helps to keep your home cosily warm in winter and delightfully cool in summer. This is fast becoming the pattern of living in even remote Canadian homes today.



While the role played by electricity in the home naturally looms large with all of us, it should always be remembered that by far the larger part of the power generated is used by industry. In fact, it is primarily because of the availability of this dependable source of power that Canada has been able to develop her aluminum, pulp and paper, mining and manufacturing industries to their present position—which, indirectly, adds to the prosperity of all Canadians.

When you flip that familiar switch on the wall, have you ever given a thought to the amazingly intricate system of power equipment that lies behind it?

From the start, the story of Canada's electric utilities has been one of phenomenal increases in demand for power being constantly met, with the result that Canada has become one of the most highly electrified nations in the world. And, as always with this enlightened industry, tomorrow's needs are being taken care of by today's planning.

This Company engineers, manufactures and supplies a complete line of electrical equipment including generators, transformers, switchgear, wire and cable for the generation, transmission and distribution of electric power—as well as the motors and control, electronic devices, appliances, lamps and other products that put it to work.

We, of Canadian General Electric, take pride in the fact that electric power has become the pulse of the Canadian way of life because—as Canada's oldest and largest electrical manufacturer—we have helped to make it so.

Leschuk Wins Kootenay Amateur Golf Title

Johnny Leschuk, one time caddy and a junior member of the Nelson Golf and Country Club at 22 years of age, came through the hard way Monday afternoon to win the Ken McBride Trophy and the Kootenay amateur championship.

In the ladies division Mary Juriloff of Nelson made it two in a row as she successfully defended the crown she won last year, thus retaining the Kootenay Breweries Cup.

To Leschuk, the winning of the crown was a great victory for he has been knocking on the door for several seasons. Down three holes with four to go the bespectacled Leschuk, with the determination of a champion actually wore Graeme Steed down, eliminating the lead in the 17th. After splitting the 18th Leschuk came outth e victor in an extra hole.

STEED PUTTER SURE

For Steed it was a heartbreaker. This was the first final of the event he has appeared in in 18 years. In 1938 he lost out to Danny Stack on the 36th hole. Stack was one of the prize golfers in Nelson and a former hockey player and speed skater.

Steed through the early part of the match amazed the gallery of 45 with his putt shots.

After Leschuk went one up on the first hole, Steed evened matters up with a 25-foot putt that had the crowd gasping. He took the lead on the third hole a 360-yard stretch when he again putted beautifully.

After both men parred the next hole, Steed went two up on his putter again. On the sixth fairway Leschuk showed his superiority in driving. He reached the fence with a 250-yard drive. At this point the course turns at right angles. Leschuk again came upwith a terrific drive to place the ball five feet from the pin. He sank his putt for an eagle, cutting Steed's lead down to one again.

After splitting the seventh hole Steed again went two up as his eagle-eye putting gave him par for the hole.

Leschuk, taking all the gambles in the book, cut Steed's lead again on the ninth on sure and accurate drives.

Both men at this point had scores of 35, only two over par for the round.

As they started for their second round more fans, sensing a tough battle ahead, joined the gallery.

Steed took a two-hole lead on the 11th. His opening drive covered the 172 yards to land four feet from the pin. He dropped his putt for a birdie two, while Leschuk took a par three.

Leschuk on the 12th had tough luck when his ball skimmed around the rim of the cup, giving him a split for the hole. On the next green Steed, with his faithful putter working like a range finder, furthered the gap between them as he parred out.

Leschuk, with Dame Fortune avoiding him, missed another great opportunity to cut down the lead, when his putted ball for the second time in a row skimmed the rim of the cup causing another split hole.

At this point it looked like curtains for Leschuk. Steed was three up and only four holes to go, but the youngster with his jaws moving steadily over a cud of chewing gum, set himself for the final assault.

As they drove off for the 15th hole the sunshine which had disappeared behind dark clouds a half hour before, came streaming down again. Leschuk became deadly accurate.

He won this hole handily cutting the lead to two up for Steed. On the 16th Leschuk for the third time rolled a ball around the rim. This time, however, lady fortune smiled for Steed's putt did the same and Leschuk parred out to cut the lead to one. One the 17th Leschuk stole a page from Steed's book as he holed a 20-foot putt to even up the match.

Steed was visibly tired and tense, but he fought on gamely. After splitting the 18th hole he faltered badly on the extra hole allowing Leschuk to come home in a blaze of glory.

VICTORY ON 14TH

Mary Juriloff had litte trouble in retaining her crown as she went through three opponents handily.

In the final she met Gertrude Bradley and came home the victor after playing 14 holes.

Juriloff was the complete master all the way as her drives and putting were deadly. She never missed an opportunity on a shot. Gertrude Bradley although badly defeated played a determined game.

In the other ladies flights Miss Joan Coates was the winner of the first flight with Mrs. Margaret Knox runnerup. Mrs. Bernice Hesketh won flight two with Mrs. Blanche Clarke runnerup. Mrs. Peacock took the third flight with Miss Betty Lawrence runnerup.

For the men, Mike Wellock of Trail won the first flight two up and one to go, over the runnerup, Leo Atwell. Arnold Sherwood took the second flight four up and three to go over runnerup Curly Garland. Ted Turkington of Nelson captured the third flight one up over Dennis Clarke of New Denver. T. C. Baker of Salmo won the fourth flight two up and one to go over Charlie Pennie of Trail and Gordon Wakeham took the final flight five up with four to go over Gordon Burns.

The course the whole weekend was in fine shape and the weather great for the annual event which saw the largest entry in years.

W. Kootenay Tennis Singles Title to Kimberley Man

TRAIL — Annual West Kootenay three-day open tennis tournament played in Tadanac and Trail concluded Monday with several upsets.

In the men's open singles, Bob Leggett of Kimberley defeated Ed Haley of Rossland 7-5, 6-2 to win the title. Glen Delcourt of Kelowna beat the defending champion, Gordon Laurie of Cranbrook and perennial winners Ned Rhodes and Ed Haley were beaten in the semi-finals of the men's open doubles by George Burnie and Barry Taylor of Tadanac who went on to win 6-0, 6-2, from Maurice Major of Procter and Jack Kwasney of Trail.

In the other events; Mrs. Jean Wyllie of Robson defeated Mrs. Jenny Yerex of Trail to take the women's open singles. In the women's open doubles Mrs. Yerex and Mrs. Wyllie beat Mrs. Kay Thompson of Nelson and Miss Irene Oatman of Kelowna. In the mixed doubles, defending champion Mrs. Yerex and Ned Rhodes of Trail successfully defended their championship against Mrs. E. Halliwell of Trail and R. Pincott of Castlegar.

Miss Irene Oatman of Kelowna beat Miss Mary Jean Levirs of Cranbrook in the girls' singles.

In the men's consolation singles Darryl Delcourt of Kelowna beat Don Roberts of Rossland and in the women's consolation singles Miss Doreen Cumming of Tadanac beat Miss Mary Jean Levirs of Cranbrook. Ed Kelter and Bob Thompson of Nelson beat Maurice Major of Procter and Ross Fleming of Nelson in the veterans' doubles.

The executive expressed pleasure Monday night about the junior entry. One of the outstanding juniors was a petite miss from Cranbrook — Mary Jean Levirs. Walt Stohlberg former Davis Cup star and this year's honorary president of the West Kootenay Tennis Association, was introduced by the president, Jack Bush of Tadanac. Mr. Stohlberg praised the up and coming juniors in that he hoped that next year through the co-operation of the local tennis executive they would be able to foster and promote a grade of player that could be sent to next year's B.C. junior open competition in Vancouver.

The executive reported the tournament to be a bigger success than in past years and is looking forward to a bigger and better tournament next year.

FURILLO OUT FOR SEASON

NEW YORK (AP) — Brooklyn's Carl Furillo, who was injured in Sunday's brawl with New York Giants, is through for the season. He won't play again until the world series.

The major leagues' leading hitter. 345 suffered a double fracture of the bone behind the knuckle of the little finger of his left hand, Dr. Eugene Zorn, the club physician said Monday.

The veteran outfielder's hand was stepped on in a tussle in front of the Giants' dugout following his wrestling match with Giant manager Leo Durocher.

The long-simmering feud between Furillo and Durocher erupted after the Dodger had been hit on the right wrist by a Ruben Gomez pitch in the second inning.

Furillo blamed Durocher for the "dusting" and later charged the Giant dugout. He was met in front of it by Durocher and they grappled. Players from both sides milled around as the combatants were pulled apart. Both Furillo and Durocher were chased from the game by the umpires.

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Rex Layne, down to 190 pounds for the first time since he soared near the top of the heavyweight division three years ago, meets Canadian champion Earl Walls of Edmonton in an outdoor 10-rounder Tuesday night at the Utah fair grounds.

If Layne wins, he'll be back on the title contender list; but if he loses again, he'l lhave to start all over if he intends to continue his ring career.

Takes 3rd Title

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Maureen Connolly of San Diego, Calif., won her third straight U.S. national women's tennis championship Monday with a business-like 6-2, 6-4 victory over Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla.

The 18-year-old thus completed a sweep of the world's major titles this year. She had previously won the Wimbledon, Australian and French grass-court crowns.

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP)— Tony Trabert of Cincinnati unleashed a rocket-like service and a slashing net attack Monday to upset Wimbledon champion Vic Seixas 6-3, 6-2, 6-3 and win the United States national tennis men's singles title.

The 23-year-old Cincinnati youngster, just released from the navy this summer, tore his Davis Cup team-mate's brilliant all-around game to shreds with a relentless volleying offensive backed up by an almost unbreakable service.

Dodgers Chalk Up Two Labor Day Victories

Brooklyn's pennant-bound Dodgers, intent on clinching the National League flag by the end of this week, came within several strides of it by sweeping a pair of Labor Day games from Philadelphia Phillies while the runner-up Milwaukee Braves were dropping a twin bill to Chicago.

Two stunning 6-2 victories over Philly aces Robin Roberts and Curt Simmons while the Cubs were scalping the Braves 4-3 and 6-4 lowered the "magic number" to four. Any combination of four Dodger victories and Braves defeats would insure the second straight flag for the Brooks.

The twin defeats dropped the Phils into fourth place behind St. Louis Cardinals, who edged out Cincinnati Redlegs 4-3 and 1-0.

Pittsburgh's last-place Pirates won their first doubleheader of the year, vanquishing the lifeless Giants 9-7 and 5-3 to extend the New Yorkers' losing streak to six.

Led by sluggers Duke Snider and Roy Campanella, the Dodgers shattered more records as they hung the 13th defeat upon Roberts and the 12th upon Simmons. Campanella hammered his 39th home run in the sixth inning of the nightcap to increase his RBI total to 136. That broke the old major-league record for catchers set by Bill Dickey, who knocked in 133 runs with the 1937 Yankees.

37TH HOMER

Snider hit his 37th homer off Roberts in the opener and connected for two singles in the nightcap to extend his hitting streak through 22 games. Brooklyn's dozen runs raised its season total to 887, an all-time record.

The Cardinals' one-two punch, Red Schoendienst and Stan Musial, drove in the decisive runs in the Redbirds' 4-3 and 1-0 victories over the Redlegs. Schoendienst singled in the winning run in the ninth after his 14th homer had accounted for St. Louis' first two runs in the opener. Musial's third-inning double scored pitcher Harvey Haddix with the only run of the nightcap.

Haddix gave up seven hits, outpitching Herm Wehmeier for his 17th victory and his fifth shutout.

Hank Sauer's big bat propelled the Cubs to their double victory over the Braves. The big outfielder drove in two runs with a double and single in the opener. He batted in another run with a triple in the nightcap and scored once himself.

Eddie Pellagrini rapped four to spark the Pirates to their first-straight hits including a home run game victory over the Giants. Five New York errors also helped. Paul Lapalme scattered nine Giant hits for his seventh triumph in the nightcap.

New York Yankees saw their American League shaved to nine games as they split a doubleheader in Boston while Cleveland's second-place Indians were taking two from St. Louis Browns.

With Ted Williams knocking in three runs on a single and his ninth home run, the Red Sox took the opener 7-4 behind Mel Parnell. New York came back to win the second 5-3 for reliefer Johnny Sain. Both winners needed help. Ellis Kinder saved Parnell's 19th victory while making his 63rd relief appearance to equal the league record set by Joe Heving for Cleveland in 1944. Allie Reynolds insured Sain's 13th triumph, retiring the final three batters in the ninth with a runner on second. Vic Raschi started.

Home runs by Al Rosen, Larry Doby and Dale Mitchell gave the Indians a 10-7 victory after Bob Lemon had blanked the Browns 3-0 in the opener. Lemon turned in a six-hitter for his 19th victory.

Detroit Tigers moved into sixth place for the first time this season,

NATIVE DANCER IN TRIM FOR RACE

NEW YORK (AP)—Trainer Bill Winfrey is well pleased with the condition of the foot injury suffered recently by Native Dancer, and indicated Monday night the three-year-old champion will be back on the full training grind in a day.

Native Dancer suffered bruises of the left forefoot while winning the American Derby at Chicago last month. He is to meet Tom Fool, the handicap champion, and others in the $50,000 Sysonby Mile at Belmont Sept. 26.

EZZARD CHARLES TUESDAY FAVORITE

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The veteran Ezzard Charles is rated a 2-to-1 favorite to ward off oblivion by beating young Harold Johnson of Philadelphia in their "make or break" fight at Connie Mack Stadium here Tuesday night.

Charles pronounced himself in top shape and said he was fully aware that he had to beat the 25-year-old Philadelphia light heavyweight or retire to his Cincinnati gymnasium.

MONTREAL (CP)—The smallest and newest municipal playground at Patricia and Fielding Avenues, won the coveted Louis St. Laurent Trophy for general efficiency and progress. This was the first time in five years the trophy had been won by a playground for English-speaking children.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Circumstances Alter Cases

VICTORIA (CP) — Percy Wright, Victoria member of the Legislature who was refused 30-day leave of absence from his post of assistant city clerk at city hall Friday, said today he had not made up his mind whether to apply for four years' leave to attend to his legislative duties.

City manager Cecil Wyatt told council meeting Thursday that he would recommend granting four years—anticipated life of the legislature—should Mr. Wright request it.

Enraged by Flames, Bees Attack Firemen

MT. PLEASANT, Mich. (AP) — Swarms of bees, angered by a grass fire, routed scores of fire fighters Thursday trying to save five homes endangered by the flames. Several firemen were badly stung before they gave up attempts to stamp out the blaze on a five-acre tract. But the firemen saved the houses. They got a large plow and cut a furrow around the five acres, isolating the fire.

Discover Uranium On Cape Breton

HALIFAX (CP)—Mines Minister A. H. MacKinnon announced that uranium has been discovered over a fairly wide area of a 1,000,000-acre tract on Cape Breton Island. He said the deposit may be of great value. Mr. MacKinnon made the announcement at a dinner meeting of the Mining Exploration Corporation Ltd. of oTronto, which he said made the discovery and intends to spend $1,000,000 on exploration in the area in the next three years.

Chicago Loses Last Giant Panda

CHICAGO (AP) — Mei-Lan, the last giant panda in the United States, died Saturday night at the approximate age of 15.

The chubby, teddy-bear-like animal with heavy black and white fur had been a resident of Brookfield zoo since babyhood. Zoo director Robert Bean said Mei-Lan apparently succumbed to a heart ailment.

Mei-Lan was one of three cubs presented to the zoo nearly 15 years ago after they were captured in the mountainous regions of Mongolia. Twelve others have been zoo residents in the U.S. and Europe, but Mei-Lan lived longer in captivity than any of the others.

Business Firms Behind the Jobs

TORONTO (CP) — The Canadian economy has never been better, but the country's rapid industrial expansion needs to be guided if Canadians want to avoid a frequently prophesied downswing, J. D. Ferguson, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, said on Monday.

In a speech delivered at a directors' luncheon at the Canadian National Exhibition on Manufacturers' and Athletic Day, Mr. Ferguson warned that if a downswing does occur, the government, dedicated to the philosophy of full employment, may be forced towards authoritarian measures.

SO-CALLED BENEFITS

"Even so, it could not conceivably fill the vacuum without hurting the private enterprise system because it is an incontrovertible fact that it is private enterprise, not the government, that makes jobs," he said.

Speaking of the so-called benefits of the welfare state," Mr. Ferguson said the average man knows that governments can't hand it out without taking it in and the more he gets the bigger will be the federal tax bite on his weekly pay check.

If the average taxpayer had to save the amount of money needed to pay his taxes instead of having them taken off "almost painlessly" at the source, "he would not only yelp with pain, but he would also see the benefits of federal experiments in socialism in their proper light."

CHRISTMAS TREES BIG BUSINESS

VICTORIA (CP) — For the first time in history, Christmas trees will likely be a million-dollar business in B. C. this year.

A bulletin from the B. C. forest service Friday said a total of 2,000,000 Christmas trees will be shipped from B. C. this year. Added to that there will be trees cut for home use.

Last year a total of 1,700,000 trees were shipped out. The total tree cut last year was valued at more than $900,000.

The forest service bulletin described the Christmas tree business, with its exports to the United States and Eastern Canada, as "big business."

"It is a business well suited to the "little fellow" as it requires very little capital outlay and expensive equipment," the bulletin says.

Bismark's Grandson German Candidate

BONN (Reuters) — Prince Otto von Bismarck, grandson of the great statesman who unified Germany, is standing as a Christian Democratic candidate in Sunday's elections.

Bismarck, 55, was once a deputy in the Weimar Republic of the between-the-wars era. The German National party sent him to the Reichstag in 1924.

Three years later he joined the diplomatic corps and served in London, Stockholm and Berlin.

While ambassador in Rome he saw the downfall of Mussolini.

Zinc Price Cut Hits West Rate

NEW YORK (AP) — The price of zinc was cut last week to the lowest since April, 1950.

The action came as a leading smelter returned to the traditional East St. Louis method of pricing prime western zinc. The new price was set at 10½ cents a pound, East St. Louis, plus freight to destination. However, American Smelting and Refining Co., which initiated the move, announced that it would limit freight charges to no more than a half-cent a pound.

The new 10½-cent price, with its half-cent limit on freight charges, means that zinc will be three-quarters of a cent cheaper at East St. Louis, a half-cent cheaper on the west coast and a quarter-cent cheaper in the East.

CHILE COPPER

Negotiations with Chile for the purchase of its copper surplus for the U. S. stockpile are expected to begin in Washington within the next few days. Santiago dispatches said the surplus has amounted to 100,000 tons. There were reports the U.S. had offered Chile 29 cents a pound, delivered to the Connecticut valley, and that Chile wanted 31 cents a pound, at Chilean ports. That would mean about 32 cents, delivered to Connecticut valley.

A steady undertone marked the lead market.

MAJOR METALS PRICES

Copper: 29-30 cents a pound, delivered. Foreign, 30-36.50 cents, New York.

Lead: 14 cents a pound, New York; 13.80 cents, St. Louis.

Zinc: 21.50 cents a pound, East St. Louis; 11 cents, New York.

Aluminum: 21.50 cents a pound, ingots, shipping point. Pigs, 20 cents.

Nickel: 60 cents a pound, electrolytic cathodes, Port Colborne, Ont., U. S. duty included.

Platinum: $92-$93 an ounce.

Silver: 85.25 cents an ounce, New York; 74 pence, London.

Tin: 82.75 cents a pound, New York.

How do they drill an oil well, Dad?

You've seen me drill a hole in a piece of iron. Drilling down through rock is somewhat the same but the drill points have to be extremely hard and tough. The cutting parts of the drill are made of nickel alloy steel because it lasts longer and cuts quicker than most other materials.

"Do they drill very deep?"

Yes, sometimes oil wells are drilled two miles deep. Pieces of pipe are joined to each other and the rock bit is screwed on the bottom end. To keep this great length of pipe from breaking it is sometimes made of nickel alloy steel which is strong and tough. It is also less subject to the corroding influence of salt, sulphur and chlorides often found in oil wells.

Performers Not Chosen by Queen At Royal Command Performances

By COLIN FROST

LONDON (AP)—Who will be the stars of this year's royal command performance?

A grey-haired Briton named Harry Marlowe sits by his phone in the heart of London's theatre district nursing that secret of international vaudeville.

A call from Marlowe may start a U.S. singing star arranging his schedule to be ready for a trans-Atlantic dash to make the show at London's Coliseum Theatre Nov. 2. Or it may bring overnight fame and wealth to one of the hundreds of small-time acts making the rounds of Britain's provincial music halls.

JUST CHARITY SHOW

Actually, the royal command performance is nothing of the sort. The performers do not appear by "royal command" and officially it is just a first-grade charity show attended by the sovereign. But the royal command tag has stuck and that's what everybody calls it.

The tradition goes back to the late middle ages, when actors played in London only on licence from the Crown.

The modern command performance dates from 1921, when the variety artists benevolent fund started looking for new ways to raise cash to help its members and King George V let it be known he would attend a vaudeville show. Today the Queen carries on the annual tradition. It has raised around £250,000.

Marlowe is secretary of the fund and that makes him casting director of the show. He and his committee pick about a dozen acts for the big spots plus some 500 performrers for elaborate production numbers and submit the list—and script—to Buckingham Palace. Once the palace gives the green light, the show goes on.

Everybody works free. After the show the Queen looks over the accounts—as with all charities she supports—and she likes to see expenses kept small.

ROYALTY LOVES SLAPSTICK

In other matters the Queen is less particular. George V insisted on split-second timing. Modern royalty takes its theatre less formally. The young Queen and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, go all out to enjoy themselves. Slapstick comedy is their favorite.

The true command performance, with the sovereign ordering his favorite entertainers to appear, has virtually disappeared from British life. George VI gave the last in 1938 to entertain visiting French President Albert Lebrun.

Queen Victoria often ordered actors and even whole opera companies to perform on stages fitted up in her palaces. So did Edward VII.

Royalty today, however, is neither so rich nor so reserved as it was before the First World War. When Queen Elizabeth and the Duke want a night out at a theatre they ordinarily buy their tickets and just go like anyone else.

Effort to Ban Fancy Sport Shirts, India

NEW DELHI (Reuters) — A bill was introduced Friday in the Uttar Pradesh state legislature to ban sport shirts made of material printed with pictures of movie stars and scantily-clad girls.

"Such dresses make young men look effeminate and vulgar, and revolting to the sight," it said. The bill would prohibit "the wearing of indecent dress in public with inscriptions, designs of symbols either printed or woven of any human being, living or dead, in any form or posture."

Future 'Copters Set B.C. Aviation Circles Agog

VANCOUVER (CP) — British Columbia aviation circles are whirling with the talk of helicopters to solve the transportaton problems of a rugged province.

Forecast that rotor-propelled aircraft may be handling the bulk of short-distance air travel in B. C. within five years closely followed an announcement by Canadian Pacific Airlines president Grant McConachie that helicopters soon will be servicing wider and wider areas of the northern bush country.

SPECTACULAR DEVETLOPMENT

D. J. McGugan, chairman of the lower mainland regional planning board, in a 41-page report released recently, urged immediate construction of helicopter terminals in down town Vancouver for inter-city service and said:

"The most spectacular new development of the air age is surely the helicopter — its possibilities afford an enthralling subject for speculation, for they could not only bring about a minor revolution in suburban and inter-city transportation, but would also bring with them a number of new problems in city development."

The board said "speedier intercourse could be established between Greater Vancouver and such centres as Victoria, Seattle, Nanaimo and Fraser Valley towns."

Recreation areas opened up by helicopter service would include Garibaldi Park and the lakes north of the Fraser River-Pitt, Stave, Alouette and Harrison.

"We have five years in which to make provision for adequate stations for inter-city traffic and it seems likely that ultimately such stations will be as important as railroad stations and bus terminals. A roof-top landing space could be located right in the heart of the downtown area."

Mr. McConachie predicted, in address to the annual convention of Associated Boards of Trade of central B. C., in session at northern Burns Lake, that helicopter passenger service for the roadless northland would follow as soon as equipment is perfected and available.

USED FOR PACKING

Already, on such heavy industrial jobs as the aluminum project at Kitimat, B. C., the whirling, wingless aircraft are used for packing supplies to mountain tops, ferrying officials on inspection trips, ambulances and are referred to as "the jeep of the air."

This type of country and the routes that need to be serviced, Mr. McConachie said, "suit themselves ideally to helicopter service."

"Regular bus service by helicopter is a thing of the near future. Experiments are nearing completion in England on a helicopter designed to carry 40 passengers.

"An aircraft of this sort could be put to valuable use in a country where airports are not always feasible."

Devoted Father Shoots Daughter

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Fear that he was suffering from cancer and might have to undergo an operation prompted Herman H. Nagle to kill his 28-year-old invalid daughter so that she wouldn't be left alone, the 54-year-old plant guard said in his jail cell here Monday.

Nagle shot his daughter, Betty Virginia to death as she slept in her wheel chair Saturday at their home. Police have booked him for investigation of first-degree murder. Betty Virginia was a life-long victim of cerebral palsy.

CALGARY (CP) — Condition of Harry Scott, 68, well known Calgarian who was burned severely in an explosion last Tuesday near Spokane, Wash., was "much improved" Monday according to hospital authorities. Mr. Scott, former sports editor of The Albertan, is in the Sacred Heart hospital at Spokane.

Tests to Start At Alberta Range

OTTAWA (CP) — Regular projectile tests are expected to start early next year at Canada's new $38,000,000 guided-missile range in northeastern Alberta, it was learned Friday.

More than 1000 construction workers have been pushing the job at the remote airfield and camp site through the summer in a race to get the major portion of construction finished before winter. By the end of October, 24 of the 45 main buildings planned are expected to be turned over to the RCAF.

The 4000-square-mile project is regarded by the air force and defence research board as highly secret. Construction started in 1951.

There will be no atomic tests at the range simply because Canada has no atom bombs and plans none. What wil be tested will be the type of air-to-air guided missiles fired near here last week for the first time by a Sabre jet fighter.

Development work on the missiles is being done at Valcartier experimental site in Quebec by the defence research board.

National Defence First —Truman

DETROIT (AP) — Former president Truman told a Labor Day audience "there are plenty of signs of a return to the old philosophy that the object of government is to help big business."

Truman, who frequently has taken the position since he left the White House that he wanted to "be charitable toward the new administration while it is getting its feet on the ground," said he doesn't think the people voted last fall "for a change in the social and economic principles that have made us so strong and prosperous."

"But that is the kind of change we are getting," he said at a rally of Michigan CIO and AFL groups in Cadillac Square.

SAFETY FIRST

He singled out the administration's policies on interest rates, labor, public housing, power and the government's efforts to balance the budget by cutting national defence appropriations.

"We have to put first things first," he said, "And the security and safety of this nation comes ahead of everything else, as far as I am concerned. I don't see how anyone can take chances with national defence at this time in the world's history."

Alpine Eagle Attacks Climbers

VALTOURNANCHE, Italy (AP) —Despite protests of an Alpine eagle, three mountain climbers—one a priest—conquered the previously unscaled southeast face of the Matterhorn.

News of their exploit reached this city Monday.

The peak, several hundred feet from the 14,692-feet-high tip of the Matterhorn, was named "Little Italo Muzio" in honor of Italo Muzio of Genoa, one of the climbers. He was accompanied by Rev. Luigi Maquignaz, also of Genoa, and Louis Cagrel, a Valtournanche guide.

Near the summit, the three were attacked by an eagle, but frightened away.

Sanders Gives Up Niagara Plunge

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP)—Leslie Sanders' long-cherished dream of plunging over Niagara Falls in his "flying barrel" was culminated Sunday night in a water-borne farewell party for the barrel—which made the trip solo.

The New York city toothpick sculptor cut the big steel barrel loose from the stern of a cabin cruiser in the Niagara river as persons in a dozen accompanying boats cheered, jeered, taunted and merrily toasted the event with beer.

This was all a "test run," Sanders hurriedly explained to the reporters and yachtsmen who crowded around him in the cruiser.

"You don't do things like climb Mt. Everest or go over the falls in a barrel without tests—sometimes weeks of tests."

Besides, "when I ride over the falls nobody is going to hear of it until it's all over. All this publicity, it ruined the whole thing."

TOUCH OF REALISM

Sanders' "farewell" to his barrel may have had a touch of realism he hadn't planned on. The steel contraption successfully hurtled over the 160-foot cataract and was soon picked up by Mayor Hill, brother of William (Red) Hill who died in 1951 when he rode the falls in a barrel fashioned from inner tubes.

Hill said he was laying claim to Sanders' abrrel under "salvage laws."

Oak trees are said to have 300 years of growth, 300 years of maturity and 300 years of "old age."

Canadian Naval Men Donate Blood To American Red Cross for Polio

NEW YORK (CP) — The Canadian aircraft carrier Magnificent and the cruiser Quebec arrived in New York for a four-day visit today and 400 officers and men immediately volunteered to donate blood to the American Red Cross.

Seamen and officers alike stretched out on tables laid under the canvas awnings of the Quebec's quarter-deck while Red Cross nurses took their blood. Officers said it is the first time in their memory a quarter deck had been used for such a purpose.

Many of the navy men who had recently given blood at Saint John tried to volunteer again but had to be turned down.

TO HELP SHORTAGE

Commodore Herbert S. Rayner, DSC, captain of the light fleet carrier and commander of the two-ship task group, said his officers and men volunteered when he told them of the serious shortage of blood being experienced by the American Red Cross, particularly in its efforts to make available more the blood derivative, gamma globulin, to fight poliomyelitis.

The "Maggie" and the Quebec broke off manoeuvres with units of the American fleet in the Atlantic Thursday to make the New York visit. After a round of entertainment for the 1700-man complement of the two ships here, they will leave Tuesday, the Magnificent for Norfolk, Va., and the Quebec for Halifax.

Later both ships will take part in Exercise Mariner, a North Atlantic Treaty naval manoeuvres off Britain involving the naval forces of eight NATO countries.

UBC Graduate Air Vice-Marshal Plant Fast-Rising NATO Officer

FONTAINEBLEAU, France (CP) —The top brass comes and goes in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, but Air Vice-Marshal John L. Plant of the RCAF stays on as the "prime mover."

The Welsh-born Canadian, one of the RCAF's nine air vice-marshals, is the senior citizen in point of service at this headquarters of Allied Air Forces Central Europe, main NATO air arm.

Since July, he's been temporary assistant senior citizen in rank, as well.

The University of British Columbia graduate was elevated to acting chief of staff when Air Marshal Sir Basil Embry of the RAF took over command from U.S. General Lauris Norstad.

FITTING POSITION

At 43, his worth as a planner, go-getter and elder statesman is indicated by his position as the highest-ranking Canadian officer on the continent and one of the most respected voices in NATO council.

It's a position that fits in well with Canada's NATO contribution of four Sabre jet fighter wings, now nearly completed and providing a big portion of the modern fighter power available.

Plant has earned his position by hard slugging as head of the logistics or supply planning department, where he's faced the difficulties of supplying NATO air bases of six nations.

He took the job two years ago as one of six assistant chiefs of staff. Since then, he's risen further and faster than any other high-ranking NATO officer.

His grasp of NATO's all-important integration problem was illustrated at the conference on logistics he called early in the game. High staff officers from the nations concerned had barely settled in their chairs when Plant told them abruptly that the time had come to consider "whether we are going to have a truly Allied air force or six little ones with all the separate logistics complications that implies."

When Norstad reorganized AAFCE, he made Plant one of his three deputies, impressed by his drive and potential. New emphasis was laid on the importance of the logistics department.

The veteran RCAF officer comes well by his administrative ability, much of which was groomed in the years prior to 1939 in a variety of flying, training and administrative posts.

Psychologists Study Teens . . .

Teenagers May Be Wheels, Brains

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

CLEVELAND (AP) — Your teenager will become a wheel, a brain, mouse, drip, outsider or wild one, in teen-age slang.

Other teen-agers will size him up as one or another and thereby put him into some social niche with important effects, Dr. Carson Maguire, Monroe Lanmon and George D. White of the University of Texas told the American Psychological Association Friday.

They said teen-agers get a lot of their education from other teen-agers, regardless of what some parents may think.

They learn to act like other youngsters in their group, to have the same ideas, beliefs and values. They may change from one group to another when they learn the approved ways of behaving in that group.

Dr. Maguire and associates studied teen-agers of high school age in communities in Texas, Illinois and Wisconsin and found a curiously-common pattern in how they regard each other.

They found three general groups that influence what kind of adult the youth will become.

Group 1 is a highly-organized school crowd. Here are the wheels usually a tight-knit little group which pretty much runs the show, setting styles and standards. They usually become business and professional people.

Besides wheels are "spokes", teen agers training to become wheels. "Drips" are would-be wheels who don't quite fit in.

The "brains" usually stick together in pairs, threesomes or foursomes. They get good grades but don't mix as readily in social life. They become intellectuals.

"Dopes" are would-be brains who spout off but don't know enough to come in out of the rain."

Group 2, the largest group, is generally known as outsiders. It consists of smaller groups, centering activities around some church, a neighborhood club, athletic club or other unit, and includes the "farm kids." An offshoot comprise the "mice" inoffensive, respectable teenagers.

Group 3 form the "wild ones," often from under-privileged families, tending to be tough and delinquent. They are fiercely loyal to their own group and distrust others. Often their own parents don't regard them as delinquent. They usually remain poor as adults and some turn to crime.

Florence Chadwick To Give Up Swims

DOVER, Ang. (Reuters) — Florence Chadwick, new English channel record holder, announced Monday she will retire from distance swimming this season.

She said she will quit after attempting the Straits of Gibraltar, the Dardanelles and the Bosphorus in the next two months.

"When I've made those swims I'll have conquered everything I want to conquer without resorting to stunts," she said. "That's the way I want it to be.

"I consider long-distance swimming a sport, I'm an athlete and I want to stay that way."
