Canada Launching Finance Program

Hope For Savings For Taxpayer In Gov't Biggest Loan Since 1945

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — The government will shortly launch the biggest refinancing job in post-war history and officials hope it will result in a saving for Canadian taxpayers.

With little extra cash in the treasury the government within the next few weeks likely will be in the market for some $1,100,000 required to pay off the Fourth Victory Loan called for redemption Oct. 1.

This will be the biggest single government borrowing operation since 1945 when the Ninth Victory Loan brought the treasury some $2,000,000,000.

The Fourth Victory Loan carried an interest rate of three per cent and officials likely will offer a mixture of long and short term bonds aimed at reducing the public debt carrying charges borne by the taxpayer.

Those interest charges are formidable, rising last year to $476,000,000 from $451,300,000 in 1952-53.

INTEREST SAVING MADE

However, interest rates on government bonds have been declining since mid-1953 and a major refinancing job earlier this year resulted in an interest charge saving.

That was the $850,000,000 bond operation to pay off the Third Victory Loan on June 1. The government offered $300,000,000 worth of long-term, 22-year bonds at 3¼ per cent and $550,000,000 short-term, 2½-year issues.

The average cost to the government was 2.7 per cent, compared to the three-per-cent rate borne by the victory bonds. Since the government had no trouble disposing of its earlier offerings, it may try again.

DOWN IN U.K., U.S.

Declining yields also are evident in the United States and Britain. Some think the decline started in the U.S. when the federal reserve board decided to encourage borrowing by reducing interest.

Yields on long-term U.S. bonds declined to 2.51 per cent on June 30 from 3.01 a year ago. Canadian long-term yields declined to 2.88 from 3.72 in the similar period. In Britain they dropped to 3.11 from 3.64.

What impact this decline may have on other forms of borrowing is uncertain. Mortgage loans under the National Housing Act bear 5½ per cent interest. The rate is set by order-in-council and is based on the trend in long-term government issues.

MOTHER, TWO CHILDREN KILLED

24-Year-Old Father Held in Triple Strangulation

GARDENTON, Man. (CP) — A young mother and her two children were strangled to death today at a farm on the edge of this southern Manitoba town and the woman's husband was arrested and charged with murder.

Dead are Mrs. Olga Storoschuk, 24, and her children, Jean, 4½, and, Brian, 2½.

RCMP said the husband and father, Walter Storoschuk, about 24, walked into the hardware store operated by Gordon A. Ball in Gardenton and told of the killings.

No motive for the triple slaying has been suggested. Ball was not accepting any telephone calls.

Storoschuk was placed under arrest by Sgt. Murray of the RCMP detachment at nearby Emerson, Man. Gardenton is 95 miles southeast of Winnipeg.

MARRIED SIX YEARS

Both Storoschuk and his wife were born and raised in the Gardenton district. They were married about six years ago.

Dr. H. V. Waldon, coroner, called a preliminary inquest for this afternoon and adjourned it. Time of death was placed at about 4:30 a.m.

He was postmaster-general from 1988 to 1945 when he retired because of health reasons and was a Liberal member of Parliament for York North from 1934 to 1945.

Born July 8, 1897, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Mulock, he was educated at Upper Canada College and the University of Toronto.

CCL Approval Expected From Toronto Convention as Canada Moves Toward Amalgamation of Labor Forces

By JOHN LeBLANC
Canadian Press Staff Writer

REGINA (CP) — The Trades and Labor Congress of Canada took a step in the direction of amalgamating Canada's major labor forces Wednesday by endorsing a proposed no-raiding agreement with the Canadian Congress of Labor.

The pact, a history-making one for Canadian labor, is yet to be approved by the CCL but is expected to get the signature of that congress at its national convention in Toronto late next month.

As approved almost unanimously by 650 TLC convention delegates, it would bind the two central labor bodies — the TLC with 580,000 members and the CCL with 375,000 — not to do any membership raiding among the 80,000 members directly chartered to them and would apply influence on autonomous unions against raiding.

Hammered out in recent weeks by top officers of the two congresses, the armistice follows along the lines of a peace treaty signed earlier this year between the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations, the United States counterparts of the TLC and CCL.

PROCEDURES SET

It sets up procedures for ironing out jurisdictional disputes between unions of each congress, with the final decision as between any two unions going to an umpire chosen jointly by officers of the two congresses.

For individual unions part from congress-chartered ones, including the big international groups, the pact would become operative only when the union itself signs it.

Most of the autonomous unions in the TLC have indicated they go along with the no-raid agreement.

The two major dissenters — among the TLCs largest unions — are the carpenters union and the teamsters union, which also refused to join the AFL-CIO liaison in the U.S.

The carpenters, with about 40,000 members, constitute the TLC's second-largest union, following behind president Percy R. Bengough's 52,000 machinists, who will sign up.

On the CIO-CCL side the United Steel Workers of America in the United States have refused to go along with the no-raid principle in the U.S. The steelworkers vie for the position of Canada's biggest union with the United Auto Workers, also CIO-CCL, which already has an individual no-raiding arrangement with the TLC's machinists.

SOME OUTSIDE

Labor bodies in this country outside the orbit of the proposed agreement include the 100,000 member Canadian and Catholic Confederation of Labor in Quebec and the independent brotherhoods of the railway running trades, which have about 40,000 members.

A few Communist unions fired out of the two congresses in the last few years — and with a possible combined membership of around 60,000 — also are not included.

As the TLC debated the agreement question Wednesday, the only dissent from a major union spokesman came from Andrew V. Cooper of Toronto, international representative for the carpenters in Canada.

"Our union is not a party to this pact in the U.S. and we won't be a party to it at the present time in Canada, regardless of what this congress does today," he said.

SOME OPPOSITION

But he got opposition from carpenter Lou Glasser of Regina, who said that in the west CCL organizations have been co-operating with the union.

Cily Jammed For PNE Opening

VANCOUVER (CP) — Downtown Vancouver was transformed into a giant carnival today as an estimated 100,000 persons jammed sidewalks and office windows to gawk at the Pacific National Exhibitions opening day parade.

Five miles of marching servicemen, 28 bands, prancing majorettes, floats, pretty girls and the B.C. Lions football team wended their way through the jammed streets under sunny skies.

The first flash of color came with the white ensign and color guard followed by 100 white-gaitered seamen from HMCS Ontario, who made up the guard of honor and set the standard of smartness.

HELICOPTER HUNTS MISSING FAMILY

ANACORTES, Wash. (AP) — A Coast Guard helicopter conducted a fruitless search around Cypress, Clark and Barnes Islands in the San Juans Wednesday for an Anacortes family of six which left last Thursday for a cruise in a 15-foot outboard-powered boat.

Waters and shorelines were scanned unavailingly by the helicopter. A Coast Guard patrol boat and airplane also searched under "good" conditions.

Relatives said James M. Sherman, 39, a pulpwood worker, his wife Roberta, 35, and their children Edward, David, Linda and Carol, ages 5 to 12, had been expected back Sunday or Monday.

Embargo Eased

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has enlarged the list of goods which other countries of the free world may ship to Russia and its European satellites without risking the loss of U.S. aid.

The net result, effective Wednesday, is a reduction of 80 items in the list of 297 which have been embargoed, director Harold E. Stassen of the Foreign Operations Administration said.

Items dropped were not fully listed. However, examples cited by Stassen showed the following have been taken from the embargo list, but still left subject to surveillance as to quantity.

Flat cars, tank cars, rails, crude petroleum, diesel oil, locomotives with the exception of turbine types, tractors except special heavy types, non-military tires, platinum, cadmium, calcium, sodium, strontium, vanadium asbestos and mica.

Allies Creating "Atoms-for-Peace" Clearing House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and several of its allies are putting the finishing touches to a plan creating an international "atoms-for-peace" clearing house.

An announcement of how the program will work and what countries will participate will be made within the next few weeks, it was learned Wednesday.

Contemplated is an agency, set up under the United Nations, to handle questions and answers about peaceful uses of atomic energy in medicine, agriculture, industrial power and the like.

The agency would control no stockpile of fissionable material or power reactors. But it could draw them from the "have" countries to fill orders from the "have not" countries.

The idea grew out of President Eisenhower's plan for pooling atomic materials and know-how for peaceful purposes. Planning for it went ahead several weeks ago after it became apparent that Russia had rejected Eisenhower's invitation to participate.

NOT GIVEN UP

Eisenhower has said several times that he will not give up the share-the-atom plan he espoused first in his speech last Dec. 8 to the UN General Assembly. State Secretary Dulles told his press conference two weeks ago the last Soviet expression on the Eisenhower plan was "99 per cent negative."

Without Russia the program would take a considerably different shape. For example:

1. It would not provide a pool of materials, personnel and data. Instead, it would be the hub of information channels flowing back and forth among member countries.

2. There would be no disarmament feature. Eisenhower's plan was viewed principally as an inspirational move to get countries thinking about peaceful atomic uses rather than about stockpiling nuclear weapons.

3. There would be no spectacular effort to "strip the atom of its military casing and adapt it to the art of peace," as Eisenhower put in his pool speech. Instead, the members would seek to lay an international foundation of technical knowledge and skills on which the atomic future could be built.

U. S. officials, principally in the Atomic Energy Commission and state department, are delicately feeling their way in these negotiations. Talks have been held for weeks with representatives of Britain, Canada, Belgium and other countries directly concerned with nuclear affairs.

VANCOUVER (CP)— Agreement was reached Wednesday between 550 linemen and two Vancouver electrical contracting firms.

WOMAN PLUNGES TO DEATH

PORT ANGELES, Wash. (AP)— A screaming Port Angeles woman plunged to her death early today from a bluff above the Strait of Juan de Fuca, a few feet outside the house where her estranged husband is living.

The victim was Marney M. Smith 31, the mother of two children. Coroner Howard B. Doherty said a preliminary investigation failed to show whether it was an accidental or an intentional fall.

The tragedy occurred in predawn murkiness after she had taken a taxi to the Ray Masters home in Gales Addition, where her estranged husband, Robert Smith, has been staying.

Doherty said she knocked on the door so violently that the glass broke, talked with her husband on the porch and then dismissed her taxi and vanished. Residents of the house heard a scream several minutes later and found Mrs. Smith's body at the foot of the 90-foot bluff.

The taxi driver reported she was emotionally upset on the ride from downtown Port Angeles.

Would Back 7th Fleet If Formosa Attack

TOKYO (AP) — The United States would back up the 7th fleet with all available military strength if Communist China attacked Formosa, an authoritative military source said here Wednesday.

"The Communists would be very unwise to launch an operation against Formosa," he said. "I am sure they would fail and I am sure they know they would fail. If they tried it, they would be in for a terrible beating."

Search For Four

PRINCETON, B. C. (CP)— Two aircraft and ground parties today started a search for a Chilliwack mother, her two daughters and a guide missing in rugged mountain country 25 miles southwest of here.

The trekkers left Whipshaw Creek near here Aug. 15 to go into 7458-foot Three Brothers Mountain. They travelled with a pack and four saddle horses.

RCMP here said the party intended to return to Chilliwack Monday and carried sufficient food to last until Monday night.

Mrs. McFetridge was described as a "very experienced hiker."

Three Brothers Mountain is in the Hozameen Range of the Cascades.

RCMP officers said Van Meter was unable to post bail immediately and remained in custody here.

VANCOUVER (CP) — A U. S. citizen was arrested at the international border at Douglas, B. C. Wednesday when RCMP, acting on a tip, found 18 ounces of marijuana in his possession.

It was one of the largest seizures of the drug made here in recent years.

RCMP estimated the haul was worth $1500 on the underworld market when rolled into marijuana cigarets.

Formal charges of illegal possession of narcotics were not immediately laid.

Doesn't Care For Planes, but He Likes Stewardesses

TORONTO (CP) — A five-year-old boy who threw Trans-Canada Airline officials at Dorval airport into an uproar in Montreal Tuesday by losing his passport and identification papers is home safely in Toronto.

Jacques Robin, returning from a holiday in Paris with his grandparents, said he doesn't like airplanes, but he does like the stewardesses.

Jacques dropped his papers under his seat, and then, after answering TCA officials in a confusing mixture of French, German and English, he chatted with the stewardesses.

His papers were finally found, and relieved TCA officials put him on another plane heading for Toronto, where his mother had been waiting for five hours.

Brazilians Riot as Vargas Laid to Rest

By STANFORD BRADSHAW

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)— More than 500,000 Brazilians massed at Rio de Janeiro's downtown airport Wednesday to say a last goodbye to Getulio Vargas. Rioting flared as a plane carried the president's body to a burial place in his beloved ranch country of southern Brazil.

Police and troops moved swiftly to quell the violence in which one person was killed and 43 wounded. This brought casualties in two days of demonstrations since Vargas took his life Tuesday to four dead and several score wounded throughout Brazil.

Some demonstrations Wednesday were aimed at American installations. The fatality occurred when a crowd fought with troops before the air ministry. The demonstrators apparently were showing resentment over demands by the military which led to Vargas quitting the presidency and putting a bullet through his heart.

But police and the military apparently were re-establishing full control.

The funeral procession for the 71-year-old Vargas, who had governed Brazil for all but five years since 1930, passed through long lines of weeping supporters. The family had requested that official honors usually accorded dead presidents be omitted but the people were not to be restrained.

Unemployment Still Needs Attention

OTTAWA (CP) — Unemployment in Canada during July continued to dip downwards from last winter's high point but a labor leader said the situation is still serious enough to warrant special action by government and Parliament.

NEW DELHI (Reuters) — Premier Nehru has urged the United States and other countries backing a Southeast Asia defence organization to place their trust instead on a new United Nations move to maintain world peace.

Not a Religion, Says Judge of Witnesses

ROUYN, Que. (CP)—Mr. Justice Eugene Marquis of the Quebec Superior Court, Wednesday ruled that the belief shared by Jehovah Witnesses cannot be considered a religion or a religious denomination."

The judgement, delivered three months after what was considered a "test case" was heard, ends a three-year fight between a Jehovah Witness follower Paul Emile Perron and the Rouyn Protestant school board.

Mr. Perron claimed the board had refused to admit his three minor children to the school and was asking $1,000 damages. The court, in dismissing the case, ruled it was "ill-founded." The plaintiff is to pay costs.

Mr. Justice Marquis said the plaintiff "is a member of a sect, known as Jehovah Witness, whose religious belief is so different from Catholicism, Protestantism and Judaism and opposed to all the religions it cannot be considered as a Protestant religion."

Big Labor Rally To Be Held Here September 4

A Nelson district labor rally has been set for September 4 in Civic Centre hall.

Organizers are lining up a number of elected representatives of provincial and federal district ridings to address the big meeting. Opening address will be given by Mayor Joseph Kary, and it is expected that H. W. Herridge, MP for Kootenay West; Hon. W. D. Black, MLA for Nelson-Creston and provincial secretary and municipal affairs minister; Hon. R. E. Sommers, MLA for Rossland-Trail and minister of lands, forests and mines; Randolph Harding, MLA for Kaslo-Slocan, and Leo Nimsick, MLA for Cranbrook, will speak.

To date 13 different unions, locals of various affiliations, have signified that their members will attend the rally. Each local will announce its respective speakers.

After the speeches there will be a question period. A dance will be held later.

Fernie To Share Cost of Moving Telephone Poles on Main Street

FERNIE — Removal of telephone poles on Victoria Avenue, Fernie's main street, may be completed before the end of the year.

A. W. Hunter, superintendent of the B. C. Telephone Company at Cranbrook, had phoned the city clerk George Robertson, that the estimated cost of relocating the phone lines was $11,500. Of this, labor costs would be from $9000 to $10,000, of which the city's share would be one half. The company thought the work could be completed by the end of the year.

City Council at its last meeting instructed the city clerk to notify Mr. Hunter that assuming the area concerned was from Gemmill Street to Thompson Streets, Council considered the estimate fair and reasonable and trusted the work could be proceeded with as soon as possible.

A telephone grant payable to the city by the Company was confirmed. At present the city receives a $200 annual grant plus 2 per cent on gross rentals received in the second preceding year from telephones located in the city. B. C. Telephone Company had taken over the Kootenay Telephone Company and wished a new agreement eliminating the $200 grant and continuing only the 2 per cent gross rental grant. In order that the municipality would suffer no financial loss the company offered to continue paying the $200 grant and 2 per cent rental until such time as the 2 per cent rentals equalled the total telephone grants now received by the city.

Harry Scott and John Audla submitted a successful tender of $2391 for sewer trenching for the new residential section of the park area of the city. The contract calls for 1745 feet of ditching most of which will be eight to 12 feet deep. Work is to be started immediately so that sewer installation can be completed this Fall.

Several requests from the Labor Day sports committee in connection with the combined 50th anniversary of incorporation and annual Labor Day celebrations were granted. These included blocking of streets for the parade and the soap box derby, rental of arena for boxing matches, electrical connections at Sports ground and carnival centre, grading of parking lot at sports ground, installation of loud speakers in business section and decorating of city centre with banners and colored lights.

Kootenay Lake Storage Begins

The West Kootenay Power and Light Company has begun its annual storage of Kootenay Lake water for Winter power generation at its Kootenay River plants.

The level of Kootenay Lake is being reduced to an elevation of 1743.5 feet above sea level, and will be held there until September 1. Then it will be raised to 1745.32 feet and held at that level until it is necessary to withdraw water for power generation.

River levels below Corra Linn will fall gradually until September 1, and after that date only water required for power will be released until Kootenay Lake has reached the six-foot-above-zero storage level. Then the rivers below Corra Linn will again rise to their normal levels and their flows will fluctuate according to the weather.

At Nelson the level of the West Arm will remain at a level of about four feet until September 1, and then will rise gradually to about six feet above zero.

Old-Timer Revisits Ainsworth District

AINSWORTH — George Truscot of Vancouver, who is in his 79th year, called on his old friends here recently.

He has been travelling to various places for a month, visiting his old home in Saskatchewan, and relatives in Alberta and in Creston. He is still extremely active, and before returning to the Coast, planned to visit old-time friends in Nelson. While here he was the guest of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Currie.

Cold Weather Sets Back Water Show

Because of the low level of the lake and the low temperature of the water the planned Water Show sponsored by Ed Kelter and his swimming classes along with the Nelson Ski Club and the Nelson Power Boat Association has been postponed to September 4.

Mr. Kelter reported Wednesday that the temperature of the water has been 67 degrees, far too cold for the swimmers. The level of the lake is just beginning to climb and it is expected that both diving and swimming will be possible by next Wednesday.

Besides a display of water skiing and some speed boat racing the event will see swimming races, diving competitions, synchronized swimming, exhibition diving, flying trapeze display, trampoline tumbling and a three-mile swim from the Kokanee Lodge to the float.

The surviving babies—a boy weighing three pounds 14 ounces and a girl weighing three pounds 10 ounces—were placed in an incubator and reported in a "healthy" condition. The mother also was reported in good condition.

Cranbrook Goes Ahead With Sidewalk Plans

CRANBROOK — Approval in principle has been given by City Council to restriction of new building in the building-boom area south of Fifth Street between 14th and 11th Avenues to city limits to single-family dwellings. The move was asked by a home-builder in that area, and three readings were given the bylaw, with final reading delayed until legal aspects of such a limitation on building can be considered. Building unofficially estimated at $150,000 is under way in this three block area, limited entirely to single-family dwellings at present.

Local improvements bylaws to provide new concrete sidewalk blocks in five parts of the city this year if weather permits were passed at the meeting. Locations are on the west side of 14th in this new building area, on the east side of 12th Avenue in the same general vicinity, rebuilding of a downtown section on the East side of Ninth Avenue immediately off Baker Street, a block of Seventh Avenue on the East side between First and Second Streets, and a block between Third and Fourth Streets on the west side of Third Avenue.

At $140 including sales tax, bid of A. E. Jones Company Ltd., was the successful tender for the job of plastering the newly-completed boiler room of the fire hall. Other construction work at the fire hall is now fairly complete, including addition of a two-vehicle shelter at street level to house the two ambulances of the Cranbrook District Ambulance Association, extension of the second floor apartment, and revision of the fire hall heating plant from coal to oil and installation of the new boiler.

Christina Lake Woman Passes

GRAND FORKS — Mrs. Ingeborg Johnson of Christina Lake died Tuesday in Trail-Tadanac hospital at the age of 76 years. She was the widow of Ole Johnson, who died April 22 of last year.

Mrs. Johnson was born in Sweden, but is an old-timer of this district, having lived at Christina Lake for more than 45 years.

Survivors include four daughters, Mrs. Myrtle Askey of Trail, Mrs. Olga Hascard and Mrs. Thelma Farrow, both of Vancouver, and Mrs. Ludy Frankovitch in Grand Forks.

The funeral will take place Saturday afternoon in Holy Trinity Anglican Church, where services will be conducted by Rev. D. L. Greene. Cremation will take place later.

Cranbrook Alters Tax Structure

CRANBROOK — An initial three readings have been given by the City Council to a new bylaw which will give the city authority to apply its municipal tax rate to 75 per cent of improvements.

In the past city taxes have been on the basis of 50 per cent of assessed improvements. Taxation on 100 per cent of land assessment is unchanged. Decision has been made by the Council that the city will not include assessment of machinery for general purposes in its tax rolls, though this assessment is compulsory in its tax rate for school purposes in the city mill rate.

This increase from 50 to 75 per cent of improvements does not necessarily mean an increase in the tax mill rate on city property since its first effect will be to increase the amount one mill of taxation will raise.

The action was necessary under the Equalization of Assessment Act passed by the Legislature at the Spring session, to become effective in 1955. Purpose is to align assessment of property in organized and unorganized territory, including industrial and business machinery for purposes of school taxation. As a basic measure toward equalizing these assessments, a provincial assessor will make independent sample assessments of city properties, and check his estimates against the official city assessments to determine the necessary adjustments.

The city has been asked to suggest names of citizens from which one will be appointed on a three-member court of revision to hear appeals against assessments in both organized and unorganized territory after the equalization.

Since the city had no choice under the provincial act but to put its city school tax levy on the 75 per cent of improvements basis, this action eliminates the necessity of maintaining separate tax rolls for school and general city purposes.

'Forks Holiday, Then Europe . . .

Immigration Officer Ends Canada Tour

GRAND FORKS — A man well qualified to talk about conditions in Canada will be doing just that when he resumes his post with the Canadian Immigration Branch in Europe.

He is Carl Vilmer Holm, only son of Carl Holm and the late Mrs. Holm of Grand Forks, who returned Tuesday from a three and a half month tour covering the length and breadth of Canada. It began May 2 in Ottawa and terminated in Halifax, after a circle tour.

Vilmer along with two others of the Immigration branch, A. Findlay and H. Harding, took the course sponsored by the Canadian Immigration Branch of the Department of Citizenship and Immigration, and went by all modes of travel—train, plane, car and boat—to every province, all the large cities and rural areas, covering over 18,000 miles. Mr. Holm found many changes in Canada during the three and a half years he had been in Europe, and also found prosperity to an unexpected extent, especially in the Maritimes. In all, they found Canadian economy to be good.

Mr. Findlay was with the immigration branch in Belgium and returns there, while Mr. Harding who is from Sydney, Nova Scotia, will be newly-posted to Karlsruhe, Germany. Mr. Holm, formerly in Denmark and Germany as visa officer, will be going to Stockholm, Sweden in the same capacity. With him will go his wife, Julia, and children, Barbara, Garry and Margaret who had been staying in Grand Forks with his father since April 20. They will leave New York on October 23 in the new Swedish flagship, Hungsholm.

In the meantime the visa officer will spend a leisurely holiday here at one of his favorite sports, fishing. One of the first things he did on arrival home was to buy a fishing licence.

Of Swedish origin, Mr. Holm speaks Swedish and Danish fluently, so do the children who have mastered the language during the 3½ year European stay.

The chief purpose of the Canadian trip was to implant in the officers a concise picture of this land in all the different areas and carry the knowledge back with them so that they could advise those seeking immigration. This might include a description of a particular part of the country, the climate, industries and other conditions they would encounter.

The trio interviewed many of the immigrants, found them to be satisfied and making out well, progressing at a faster rate than they would have been able to do in their own countries. Many owned businesses and farms in as few as three years. The greatest single barrier to immediate adaptation was the language difficulty, but most provinces had made provisions for English courses keyed to their needs. There are in the neighborhood of 1,000,000 post-war immigrants. Mr. Holm met several families from Denmark for whom he had made out visas and they were all pleased that they had immigrated.

"The immigration rate may be a little restricted this year owing to a temporary recession, but as the basic Canadian economy is sound, we will continue to accept immigrants," Mr. Holm said.

Kootenay Lake and River Levels

Regulation of Kootenay Lake to store water for winter power generation is again under way. The elevation of the Main Lake was 1744.20 on August 24th. Under an Order of the International Joint Commission the Main Lake will be drawn down to an elevation of approximately 1743.5 and will be held at that level until September 1st. After that date it will be raised to elevation 1745.32, reaching its maximum level on about September 15th.

Effect On the Main Lake

After September 1st the Lake will rise several inches per day until its level is 6 feet above zero. It will remain at that level until it is necessary to withdraw the water for power generation.

Effect at Nelson

The level of the West Arm at Nelson on August 24th was 3.68 feet above zero. It will remain at a level of about 4 feet until September 1st, and then will rise gradually to about 6 feet above zero.

Effect On the Kootenay and Columbia Rivers Below Corra Linn

River levels below Corra Linn will fall gradually until September 1st and after that date only water required for power purposes will be released until the Kootenay Lake has reached the storage level of 6 feet. After Kootenay Lake has risen to the level of 6 feet above zero (1745.32) the rivers will again rise to their normal levels and their flows will fluctuate according to weather conditions.

So Students Have To Walk Three Miles —In Winter, Too?

Education Minister Ray G. Williston has advised school boards that they must tighten up on the use of buses for transporting school children. According to Victoria reports the province's 60 per cent contribution to bus costs will only be given for transportation of primary pupils beyond 2½-mile limit and for elementary students beyond the three-mile limit.

The first reaction of many adults will be, "Fine, it'll do the kids good to walk a little, why when I went to school . . . etc." These remarks, accompanied with long reminisces about the miles traversed, the blizzards conquered and the chores that followed before and after studies in their day. In fact, come to think of it, we used to walk a considerable sum of miles in our classroom days, and, come to think of it, the winters were far worse, than now.

But times have changed. And among the changes wrought has been a vast increase in automobile and truck traffic. Snowplows make wide ditches of roads and on most winter days traffic still can move near the 50-mile-an-hour limit. The oldtimers, nor Mr. Williston, we'd venture, have ever walked daily in a snowy trench while 50 mph traffic whizzed by. That situation poses a danger that only putting children into buses can avoid.

The pot-bellied stove of yore where youngsters could dry snowy clothes has also gone—and good riddance, too, considering the remarkably efficient substitutes. But try hanging wet clothes near the automatic oil furnaces and see how long it will take for an apoplectic directive to come from the fire marshal.

In the Spring and in the Autumn the children can probably walk with reasonable safety, but Mr. Williston should adapt his directive to the conditions of the seasons and to traffic conditions as they exist today.

Changes Always

"Nothing is permanent in this world except change," said Socrates a few thousand years ago. Robert D. Calkins, President of the Brookings Institution, told the businessmen's meeting at the 13th annual Stanford Business Conference about the same thing a few weeks ago when trying to look ahead and prophesy about business prosperity.

"Businessmen," he said, "may just as well get used to change, innovation and social re-adjustment as they are likely to characterize society for the foreseeable future."

Long term prospects "are bright for business expansion," he added. "No settling down to established practice is in sight."

What he means by this is simple enough. In essence it is pointed out that as long as businessmen show adaptability to new inventions, new ideas and new methods all will be well. If they do not, then trouble and plenty of it will occur to them.

This trouble is not for the nation as a whole but for the individual businessman who cannot "adjust to modern practice."

Competition, in other words, is now the theme song.

Nimsick Regrets Entry Of Politics Into Redistribution Effort

To the Editor:

Sir—Since I am a member of the Redistribution Committee, which has created some controversy lately due to a statement made by Premier Bennett in regards to another seat for Peace River, I would like to make a few comments.

We must remember that this committee was set up to deal with the distribution of provincial seats, and if it is to function in a just manner must do so on a non-political basis.

I do not understand why the premier should enter the deliberations at this stage, when he knows that it is very difficult for such a committee to discuss the question of representation without the political fortunes of parties entering the picture.

It is all very well for the premier to say he has the right to recommend, but recommendations from the leader of a party is usually taken by the members of that party as definite instructions, and places the members of the other parties on the committee in an untenable position.

It has been argued that such a committee should be a judicial committee, free from politics, and that is what may happen if some are going to play politics with it.

We have 48 members in the House at the present time and it is quite easy to run that number up considerably by adding new members here and there depending on the political whims of different individuals, but I am of the opinion that the people of B.C. do not desire the number to be increased in such a manner.

Therefore it is regrettable that such a statement has upset the progress already made by the committee.

"Limey" Tag Aftermath Of Scurvy Epidemic

To the Editor:

Sir—The letter in August 23 issue regarding the word "limey" interested me.

Being a Londoner, and living 38 years there, I never heard the expression till two years ago, but on talking it over with a friend, she remembered hearing years ago that there was an epidemic of scurvy among the sailors docked at Limehouse. They were given lime juice in place of the rum ration until they recovered.

So it seems to me it is the navy that are the "limeys" as Limehouse, I believe, is the Chinese part of London. Perhaps someone else will have a better definition.

H. E. ROHDE.

Sirdar, B.C.

The Leek

Another of our colleagues, the editor of Canadian Grocer, has brought tears to our eyes. A daily newspaper columnist wrote of being in Muskoka, Ontario, and feeding on wild leeks, compared with which garlic and raw onions aren't one-two-three. This brought back to Bert Huston memories of his boyhood days on a farm. He says, "The leek taste was pretty fair in the spring. But it was not the same if the cows happened to be around where they grew down in the woods. If they ate them between morning and evening milking times, all the milk had to be delivered to the hogs. And if it happened that we were the only one who consumed the little, powerfully odorific bulbs, we were ostracized from the rest of the family. Meals were served out of doors, and we slept apart."

—Napier Moore in Financial Post.

R. K., California—I would like to know when the last intertribal war occurred in B.C. I know the Beavers attacked and burned down Ft. St. John in 1823 and the Flatheads and Nez Perce fought the Crows and the Blackfeet in 1845-46. Was that the last intertribal war of the century so far as B.C. was concerned?

We have been informed there were really no wars between organized tribal groups west of the Rocky Mountains. The rugged terrain tended to restrain the various groups within definite geographical areas. On the Coast, raiding for slaves by the northern tribes ceased during the 1850s but occasional brawls and skirmishes took place here and there—principally around white settlements—up to the latter part of the 19th century. Probably the last occurrence of this nature took place in Vancouver in 1891—a street fight between two groups of Lillooet and Thompson Indians. The Nez Perce and Blackfeet fought over territory that is now Montana and Alberta.

"Overworked", Creston—Is it permissible for an employer to work an employee more than eight hours in any one day?

There is a regulation which allows clerks in retail stores in the Interior to work 11 hours on Friday or Saturday providing the weekly limit of hours does not exceed 44. There are other categories that are permitted to work in excess of eight hours daily. Please write to the Department of Labor, Nelson.

P. E. F., Rossland—Where may I obtain a short course by correspondence on firing a steam boiler such as is used for heating systems in schools, hotels, etc.? When are exams held for steam papers in the Kootenays?

Write to the High School Correspondence Division, Department of Education, Weiler Building, Victoria, B.C. Papers are obtained through the Chief Boiler Inspector, Dunsmuir Street, Vancouver.

Looking Backward

10 YEARS AGO

From the Nelson Daily News, August 26, 1944

Premier J. B. McNair's Liberal government has been returned in New Brunswick. Standings are: Liberals, 36, and Conservatives, 12. CCF candidates were soundly defeated in all ridings. This was the first time the CCF party was running in strength in New Brunswick's political history.

25 YEARS AGO

From the Nelson Daily News, August 26, 1929

50 YEARS AGO

From the Nelson Daily News, August 26, 1904

The new exhibition building in Nelson has now taken shape. By the vigorous efforts fo W. G. Gillett and his 13 helpers, the framework has been reared and a start made on the roof, within three days after construction began. It will be in a broken gable style of most exhibition buildings.

Old Houses, New Area

(Calgary Albertan)

The city commissioners have worked out a solution of sorts to the problem created recently by the moving of old houses into a district of new houses. It is proposed that the houses be moved to a site a block or so away.

We wonder if this is drastic enough, and whether a broad policy covering all possible future cases shouldn't be laid down. It might be well to pass a bylaw prohibiting the moving of old buildings into any but certain specified districts.

It's far better to anticipate such trouble than to try to meet it with half-measures when it arrives.

Your Horoscope

Not much excitement in your next year, probably, but it should proceed on an even keel, with some gains coming to you. A successful career and happy life are prophesied for the child born under these auguries, one who is likely to have a profound intellect.

"Smile, When You Call Me That"

. . . F. B. Pearce

This for Mrs. Rushby, who paid me the compliment of liking my writing and who, like me, does not like the term Limey.

It was only after Captain Cook's successful voyage that seafaring nations learned that the dreaded scurvy was caused by the lack of green vegetables and fresh fruit. On that voyage of 128 days he did not lose one man from sickness, but it was not until 20 years later that the Royal Navy ordered all its ships to carry limejuice for use on long voyages where fresh vegetables were not obtainable. Seventy years after that the Board of Trade, a government department which governs all British shipping made its use compulsory in the merchant navy. Those were the days of sail and the rivalry of the tea trade and the long hauls from Australia around the stormy Cape Horn. There was rivalry between the British and American sailors and after the introduction of limejuice in the British ships it was natural that the Americans should call them limejuicers and afterwards use the word Limey for their sailors.

It remained in use among sailors, but not until the Second War did it come into general use among the Americans and then only, because of the great number of American soldiers who were stationed in England. As a nickname for British sailors it was legitimate enough, but to use it to cover all those other Britons who do not use the sea for their livelihood is another thing entirely. So often the Americans seem to have a genius for creating names which subtly convey insult, Wop, Dago and Bohunk. Even the South Koreans were given a name, Gooks, which was not pleasant, until the realization came that its use served the Communist cause.

But who uses these names and how is also important. Owen Wister's Virginian was quite accustomed to having his friend call him affectionately by some unprintable name, but when Trampas, who was most decidedly not his friend, called him by it he drew his gun and said, "When you call me that, smile."

Estimate Russia Has 400 Subs

By C. YATES McDANIEL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The ranking United States admiral in the Pacific could have been thinking about possible Russian development of an atomic submarine when he said there were no unusual Soviet submarine operations there — "that we can talk about."

The navy here is not trying to answer any of the provocative questions raised by the remark, made in an interview this week by Admiral Felix B. Stump, Pacific commander in chief. Defence department officials merely point to the long line of warnings made from Washington in recent years about Russia's estimated strength of some 350 to 400 submarines.

Stump said about 100 were in the Pacific.

The existence of hundreds of Soviet submarines is not in itself sufficient cause for the frequently voiced official concern, for most of them are known to be old types.

The Russians did get some completed German submarines and some of Germany's best underseas devices after the Second World War. But the United States has the same ideas and has actually built better submarines than the best the Germans produced.

INTENSIVE SEARCH

Informants here say, however, that the Soviets have been working intensively for years on atomic power for vessels and probably other war machines. They say the Russian search began at least as soon as the United States made it known that atomic power could be applied and that this country was going ahead with a nuclear powered submarine.

Russian naval handbooks and published papers make it clear that the Soviets have no intention of trying to compete with the United States for mastery of the seas in the conventional means of warfare. The atomic submarine, with its expected high speed and long distance ability under water, might be able to dodge the far more numerous American surface craft, especially in heavy weather.

While U.S. navy men are well aware of the Soviet drive to develop atomic-propelled ships, they have been keeping a tight secret their estimate as to how far the Russians may have advanced.

List Vancouver As B.C. Capital

VICTORIA (CP)—It's happened again.

The latest edition of a popular dictionary (Websters), lists Vancouver, not Victoria, as capital of British Columbia.

Howls of anguish from this city, which calls itself "a little bit of old England," have greeted at least seven similar mistakes recently, most of them in travel folders.

But the dictionary mistakes has stopped even volubile George I. Warren, publicity commissioner for Victoria, who wrote the publication a studiously restrained letter ending with "May we hear from you, please?"

One United States railway fired an employee who called Vancouver the capital in advertising matter.

Offers World His Peace Formula

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru offered his own "collective peace" formula Wednesday for easing world tension. As an example, he cited his recent non-aggression agreement with Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai.

In a 25-minute foreign policy review to the Indian Parliament, Nehru condemned such military pacts as the U.S.-proposed Southeast Asia Defence Alliance. He said SEATO "likely will reverse the trend of conciliation released by the Indo-China settlement."

Nehru confirmed India's refusal to participate in the SEATO talks in the Philippines next month and said his government was "apprehensive that the proposed Southeast Asia collective organization will in the present do more harm than any good it might hope to do in the future."

Nehru and Chou, after their New Delhi meeting in June, proposed that the principles of their April pact on Communist-occupied Tibet serve as a basis of relations between China and other Asian countries.

In the Tibet pact, India and China agreed to respect each other's territory and sovereignty and to avoid interference in the other's internal affairs.

The treaties dependent on military strength rely on false hopes because they are based on fear and war, the prime minister said.

Seaway Will Have Little Effect on Atlantic Ports

HALIFAX (CP) — A shipping company official says Halifax and Saint John, N.B., have little fear from the St. Lawrence seaway, once decried as the ruination of Atlantic ports.

"I can't see how it will do us any good," an official of one of Halifax biggest steamship agencies said, "but it won't hurt us."

The official, who asked not to be named, said that when the seaway is completed in four years time, "we'll still have the same number of ships coming here."

He said Halifax could be sure of the coastal trade, ships from the Far East, and about the same number of passengers.

The seaway would be frozen over during the winter and Halifax and Saint John, N.B., could still count on their share of winter shipping.

"If somebody wanted to go into business, it's not our line, there's the possibility of a service between Atlantic ports and the Great Lakes."

Halifax, meanwhile, has been preparing for another season as a winter port, and prospects are reported good.

NEED MORE SHEDS

The biggest development will be a new $500,000 cargo transit shed under construction at pier 9.

Halifax already has 17 sheds, and officials say more are needed to attract shipping with the prospects of quick loading and unloading.

The minimum cost of keeping a ship waiting in the stream is $50 an hour—the difference between profit and loss on a voyage if a ship has to wait several days.

Port manager Jack Mitchell says 90,000 more tons of cargo had been handled here up to Aug. 1 than in the same period last year.

Largest single increase has been in lumber.

Passengers have held their own, but grain has dropped to 2,000,000 bushels, down 85 per cent from last year.

NYIEWSLEY, England (CP) — Thirteen burglaries in two years have prompted the staff of the library in this Middlesex town to transfer valuables to a safe and leave drawers and doors unlocked to avoid damage by thieves.

FORT WILLIAM, Scotland (CP) —Daniel Nelson, 76, was the oldest man in a party which recently climbed to the 4406-foot summit of Ben Nevis, highest peak in the United Kingdom.

STUFF SQUASH FOR TASTY DISH

Don't overlook the possibilities of summer squash. Here is a main dish which serves four to six:

Wash two white scalloped-edged squash thoroughly. Place these in a saucepan and add a small amount of boiling salted water; cover tightly and simmer 15 minutes. Cut "lid" from top of each and scoop out centers.

Mix centers with 1 cup finely chopped, cooked ham or bologna sausage, ½ cup bread crumbs, teaspoon or more curry powder, ¼ cup minced, stuffed olives. Fill hollowed-out squash with mixture. Sprinkle tops with extra crumbs. Dot with butter, or place a slice of bacon on each.

Bake in moderate oven 5 minutes, or until squash is tender.

The couple stood under an arch of wedding bells, fern and sweetpeas for the afternoon ceremony performed by Rev. D. D. Johnstone of Nakusp. Mrs. L. R. Campbell played the wedding music, and the decorations were the work of Mrs. James Draper.

The bride wore a traditional white satin gown topped with lace and net. A three-quarter matching veil fell in tiers from her pearl coronet, and she carried red and white carnations.

Amy Okuma of Lethbridge, her attendant, was in a formal pink lace and taffeta frock, and held a bouquet of mixed carnations. Mr. Shig Takeyasu of Lethbridge, the bride's brother, was best man, and Mr. Ray Aoyama ushered.

For the reception in New Market Hotel, the bride's mother chose a navy and white ensemble, and the groom's mother wore a steel blue frock with matching accessories. Both had corsages of pink and white carnations.

For travelling to Spokane and Coeur d'Alene, the bride selected a grey suit with pink and white accessories, and a pink and white carnation corsage.

The young couple will make their home in Calgary.

Plans Sunday Dinner for 1900

RCAF STATION CLINTON, Ont. (CP)—When Nancy Taylor of Toronto goes shopping for Sunday dinner, she picks up 1500 pounds of turkey, 1200 pounds of potatoes, four crates of lettuce, 400 pounds of frozen peas, 250 pounds of rolls and 55 gallons of ice cream.

Those are some of the items on the list of FO. Taylor, mess officer at this RCAF radar and communications training centre 115 miles west of Toronto, when she plans Sunday dinner for some 1900 airmen.

This list is for one meal only. FO. Taylor has more than 100 staff cooks and kitchen personnel to help her.

She obtained her bachelor of science degree in home economics at McGill University and took her dietetic interneship at the University of Oregon medical school. She worked for a large American restaurant firm before joining the RCAF in 1952.

Meal-planning on a large scale calls for the same kind of ingenuity and imagination the housewife needs to keep her family well fed. The armed forces "ration scale" provides generous amounts of food for each person, but it still requires skill to produce attractive, appetizing and well-balanced meals.

FO. Taylor's duties entail constant supervision in the dining halls, taste-testing all food items, inspection of messes and kitchens and supervision of personnel in her charge. She prepares menus and maintains records of all food services.

FO. Taylor finds that the men prefer hot roasts and baked dishes to cold plates even in hot weather.

Do men like salads "Yes," she says, practically everyone adds salad, tomatoes, pickles, devilled eggs and the like to already laden trays. And milk is a favorite, too, with men and women alike."

Apple pie and ice cream remains a universal favorite, she says.

The city of Chicago has more than 2000 churches of all denominations.

SEARCH FOR AIRLINER

IJMUIDEN, The Netherlands — (Reuters)—Two Dutch minesweepers dragged the ocean bottom today searching for wreckage of the KLM DC-6 which crashed into the sea near here Monday with the loss of 21 lives.

Dutch authorities hopes to salvage enough wreckage to establish the cause of the disaster. The pilot of the airliner was Edmonton born Flight Captain Charles Harman.

Besides the body of a boy found Monday, more human remains have been recovered. They are being examined. Bits of wreckage and papers have also been found.

Divers will go down to investigate the wreck—lying in 60 feet of water—once it has been located.

Psychiatrist Believes Girls Legally Insane

CHRISTCHURCH, N.Z. (Reuters) —Two teen-age girls on trial for murder Wednesday were declared to have written out all the 10 commandments "so we can break them."

Psychiatrist R. V. Medlicott, called by the defence to support its contention that Pauline Parker, 16, and Juliet Hulme, 15, were insane, read excerpts from Pauline's diary to show that the girls became "helplessly under the sway of evil."

Juliet and Pauline have pleaded not guilty to the charge of battering Pauline's 45-year-old mother, Mrs. Honora Parker, to death two months ago with a brick wrapped in a stocking. Medlicott maintained Wednesday, in four hours on the witness stand, that he believed the two were legally insane.

The psychiatrist said that Pauline's diary "rises to a quite fantastic crescendo as it goes on. Evil becomes more and more important and one gets the feeling that they become helplessly under its sway."

CREATED OWN RELIGION

He then read an entry that said "we wrote out all the commandments so we can break them."

He told the court the two girls had challenged orthodox beliefs about God and created a religion of their own, a strange sort of "fourth world" with a god whose powers were greatly enlarged.

Juliet told him, he said, that there was no right or wrong.

When prosecutor Alan Brown asked him about the girls' attitude toward the murder, he maintained they believed it was "morally right" —wrong "only to the community."

Medlicott cited a diary passage which said "why could not mother die? Thousands of people are dying. Why not mother and father too?"

The psychiatrist also declared that a poem written by the older defendant was evidence of insanity because of its "terrific exaltation." Brown in reply read several poetic extracts of an exalted nature and asked for Medlicott's comment.

The doctor acknowledged that they contained "exaltation" but said that alone was insufficient indication of insanity. The prosecutor then disclosed that he had picked out excerpts from a Shakespearean sonnet and a biblical extract from the Revelation of St. John the Divine.

Homemaker Role Easier Nowadays

TORONTO (CP) — There may have been a time when the Canadian housewife, slaving over the much-maligned hot stove, could have said her lot was not a happy one. But if statistics mean anything, the homemaker's role is becoming much easier.

Dr. Omer Lemieux, chief of the census division, dominion bureau of statistics, told delegates to the opening luncheon of the Canadian Home Economics Association biennial convention Tuesday that the Canadian housewife has less to look after than 20 years ago and many more conveniences to help her do it.

In 1953, he said, 67 per cent of Canadian homes had electric or gas refrigerators and in 25 years the amount of commercially-canned food has increased 300 per cent.

Against that, more women were working; 11 per cent of married women in 1951 against three per cent in 1931. But despite the fact that women are better educated—the number between the ages of 20-24 attending schools increased by 249 per cent—they are not highly paid. Only 12,000 women earned $3000 or more in 1951.

Protest Toll Charge

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP)—A lumber company's action in charging tolls for use of roads within its forest management licence area has been protested by residents of Kelowna and Westbank.

The road, within an area licenced by S. M. Simpson Company, leads to a popular fishing spot — Bear Lake.

The company is charging 50 cents a head.

Protests were heard in Westbank at a meeting sponsored by the Westbank Board of Trade.

Possible Fight For WCC Offices

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—The possibility of a floor fight over the election of the top officers of the World Council of Churches took shape Wednesday.

This was indicated in the wake of a surprise move at the council's session Tuesday night.

Dr. J. Earl Moreland, chairman of the nominating committee, was ready to submit a slate of six high-ranking clergymen for election as presidents of the WCC.

Then the delegates were informed that requests had been received to place a layman on the slate of senior officers who form the presidium.

Dr. Martin Niemoller, German Protestant leader, offered a motion to postpone the election and it was approved 158 to 146.

AN ALTERNATIVE

Effect of the motion was to request the nominating committee to consider placing a layman on the list of candidates for president.

There was no early indication whether the committee will stick to its six-man slate and risk a fight among delegates or revise the ticket to include a layman.

One alternative would be to submit seven names, including that of one layman, and let the delegates choose the six winners.

Agree To Increase In S. Korean Forces

WASHINGTON (AP) — Admiral Sohn Won Il, South Korea's defence minister, announced Tuesday that agreement has been reached with Defence Secretary Charles E. Wilson on an increase in South Korean armed forces backed by United States aid.

Sohn said in a statment the agreement covers both "the fundamental principles regarding this aid program" and the method of implementing it.

The South Koreans have taken the position that when the United States withdraws four of its six U. S. divisions now in Korea and there is a proportionate pullout of other United Nations forces that an equivalent number of Korean troops should be ready to make up for the withdrawal.

Britain Rejects Polish Demand

LONDON (AP)—Britain rejected Wednesday a Polish demand to hand over a 24-year-old Polish seaman who fled his Communist home land and won asylum here.

A force of 80 London policemen dramatically rescued the seaman—stowaway Antoni Klimowicz, July 31, from the Polish ship Jaroslaw Dabrowski.

The foreign office said in a note that Britain could not entertain the Polish demands which were for the return of Klimowicz and compensation for alleged damage resulting from detention of the ship and "assault" by the British police on the ship.

The note said the police, "far from initiating violence, were themselves subject to attack."

Past Weather Report — Scattered black clouds with continuous downpours.

Remember at the beginning of the fastball season when the fastball and baseball boys decided that schedules must finish earlier this year because last season they were playing in rain and cold weather.

Well, they did something about it, but they didn't realize that Mother Nature was also going to do something about it.

They scheduled their leagues to end earlier and she put a damper on it.

This is one time of the year when you can say, "brother, you're all wet," and I would have to agree with you.

For days the rains have either halted ball games of the players have worn wading boots in order to complete their contests.

SEE GOOD BALL

Odd as it may seem some fine ball has been seen through the rain drops this season.

Last week when the Leafs entertained the Smokies from Trail they found the going a little sloppy as Trail downed them 2-0 with each side able to get two good swipes at the ball.

Over in Fruitvale on the weekend we were told that both the Nelson Royals team and the Shavers Bench crew were on hand for their second game in the playoffs and with the rain pelting down like hail from the black sky which was seen for miles, the umpires gazed into the blackness and one was heard to say to the other "shall we wait awhile? It might clear up." Lucky for him they didn't wait for he would have been there for some time.

* * *

Heard one story the other day that some organization might take up for a promotional deal.

While the rain was pouring down the street it was suggested that if a prize were set up they felt sure Florence Chadwick could be brought in to swim the street. From what I can gather, she would have to watch the terrible currents caused by the storm sewers.

At various times we read stories of elderly people swimming great distances and of babies swimming in the bathtub. This is beginning to cease being news as people of all ages take up swimming in order to get down town to work, for groceries, or for candy.

Last Saturday the Nelson Ski Club held a water show at the air harbor. Although about 300 fans walked down to the city wharf to witness it, we suggest that next year they ask the weatherman first, find out when it's going to rain and hold the show right on Baker Street. I'll wager you'll draw more people.

There have been no reports of fish caught on either Baker or Ward since the Summer Bonspiel when Joe Wallach and Mickey McEwen found the fishing good. I expect any day to get a picture of a fish holding up a human along Baker Street.

When the next Empire Games are held officials can feel sure of receiving entries for the broad jump as many people in this area have been seen practicing daily leaping over the puddles along the street.

The long distance runners may also be in for stiff competition for several people have been seen heading out of the city on foot. They might do better if they ask Danny McKay for the loan of his water skis.

Lions Take Game Lead Over Gyros

In the first game of the Little League playoff at Queen Elizabeth Park Wednesday the Lions ran roughshod over the Gyros 12-2.

Don McLean, besides hitting a triple led the Lions to their victory allowing only one hit while striking out 10 and walking one. Jim Cain relieved him in the sixth and gave up one hit. He struck out none and walked one.

The Lions used three chuckers, David Benstead, David Borke and Herb Rogers. Between them they gave up seven hits walked four and struck out three.

Expect 20,000 For Lions Debut

By KEN METHERAL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER (CP) — With the unabashed aplomb of the very young, the babies of Canadian football expect to give attendance records a bit of juggling come Saturday night.

Into spacious Empire Stadium, say the newly-whelped British Columbia Lions, will come the largest crowd in western Canada football history to watch their debut in the Western Interprovincial Football Union.

"Providing we get any kind of a break from the weather we should easily pass the 20,000 mark," says Lions president Don Mackenzie.

Providing the opposition, and no mean attraction themselves, will be Winnipeg's fast-stepping Blue Bombers, always a threat for the WIFU title and flushed from two straight victories over Edmonton and Calgary. The kickoff is set for 8:30 p.m. PDT.

TONY TRABERT NO. 1

NEW YORK (CP) — Tony Trabert, the crew-cut Cincinnati youngster on whom the United States Davis Cup hopes rest, was seeded No. 1 Wednesday for the National tennis championships which get under way Saturday at Forest Hills.

Spoils Canadian's Triumph . . .

Favorites Lose To Little-Known

DETROIT (CP)—A little known golfer from Chapaqua, N.Y., spoiled the hour of triumph for Don Doe of Granby, Que., Wednesday by eliminating him from the United States amateur championships after Doe had ousted Billy Joe Patton, pre-tournament favorite.

Wilson Barnes, a converted tennis player, sidelined Doe with a 3 and 2 fourth-round victory after the golfers returned to the course following a violent electrical storm.

Earlier in the day Doe had sprung the major upset of the third round by defeating Patton, a lumberman from Morganton, N.C., 2 up. Patton lost despite sinking a brilliant 45-foot pressure putt on the 17th hole to stay in the runing after the chubby Canadian tobacco clerk set a wedge shot flying home from 40 yards out.

Another third-round casualty was Harvie Ward, who won the 1954 Canadian amateur at London, Ont., last week. Ward lost a thriller to Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, one up, when the 18-foot putt he needed to catch him on the final hole stopped on the rim of the cup.

Doug Silverberg of Red Deer, Alta., the other half of Canada's two-man entry, got by the third round with a 2-and-1 victory of Alex Wash of Rockford, Ily., but took a 6-and-5 drubbing from Ed Martin of Winchester, Mass., before the storm hit in the afternoon.

STRANAHAN WINS

Stranahan also closed out his afternoon match early, disposing of Thomas Sheehan of Birmingham, Mich., 4 and 3.

The Doe-Patton match was pegged in the early stages as the American soared five strokes over par on the outgoing nine to trail by one hole.

He was still trailing by the same margin at the 17th, where Doe sank a 40-yard wedge shot for a par three, leaving his opponent a 45-foot putt on a tricky rolling green.

"If he sinks this, I'll faint" Doe whispered to his caddy.

Patton measured his assignment for minutes, stroked the ball cleanly and it dropped.

As an anti-climax, Patton muffed an easy chip shot in the 18th and missed an 11-foot putt while Doe got down in par four for his two-stroke edge.

DOUGLAS EQUALS COURSE RECORD TO SNATCH LEAD

Eight Under Par For New Yorker

By W. R. WHEATLEY

TORONTO (CP) — Dave Douglas of Grossinger, N.Y., came in Wednesday with a blistering eight-under par 63 to snatch the lead in the $2,500 Open at the end of the first 18 holes.

Douglas' score equalled the Scarboro course record made several years ago by Ed (Porky) Oliver of Lamont, Ill.

Douglas, winner of the Canadian Open at this course last year, displayed Dick Mayer of St. Petersburg, Fla., and Gene Littler, 1953 United States amateur champion and now a pro, for the leadership. Mayer and Littler each shot 64.

The remarkable round by Douglas of Newark, Del., was made up of 10 birdies and seven pars, but he went two over par at the 222-yard par-three.

The par-wrecking was so devastating that 58 of the 170 who finished shot better than par.

Four were only two strokes off Douglas' sensational pace — Wally Ulrich of Rochester, Minn., Bo Wininger of Oklahoma City, Tommy Bolt of Maplewood, N.J., and Torakichi Nakamura of Japan.

MANY EAGLES

Wally Ulrich of Rochester, Minn. in the 65 bracket, and Mike Souchak of Durham, N.C., among the 66s, also contributed eagles in the par-slashing and an amateur, 37-year-old Sam Girmonde of New York Mills, N.Y., holed out his tee shot at the 125-yard par-three 11th.

Stan Leonard of Vancouver, this year's Canadian Professional Golfers Association champion, shot a 69, joining a two-under-par class of well over a dozen.

One stroke away at 70 was Phil Farley, veteran amateur of the host club, whose position as low amateur for the round was upset when the final threesome came in.

Dodgers Gaining

By The Canadian Press

Brooklyn Dodgers picked up a half game on the league-leading New York Giants with a 13-2 victory over Cincinnati Redlegs at Cincinnati Wednesday night on the three-hit pitching of Billy Loes and five home runs, two each by Al Walker and Gil Hodges.

The Dodger triumph put the Bums only 3½ games behind the Giants, who were rained out at Chicago in a scheduled day game.

Milwaukee Braves parlayed five hits and a pair of Philadelphia errors into a 4-3 victory over the Phillies to move within seven games of the Giants.

Young, Cameron Capture Golf

Mrs. Jack Young and Spud Cameron captured the two ball foursome at the Nelson Golf and Country Club Wednesday evening with 23 golfers participating.

High score went to Mrs. W. C. Wicken and Reg Dill.

Entries must be in by Friday to either Mrs. Wicken or Mrs. J. E. Young. The draws will be made Friday night.

Mary Juriloff was the winner last year, with Mrs. L. S. Bradley being the runnerup. A new champion will be declared this year as Mary Juriloff is away from the city.

This tourney will be a warm up for the golfers for on the Labor Day holiday the Nelson Open will take place.

THE OUTDOORS

by Nimrod

A rainbow trout, some 7½ pounds in weight has been reported taken from the Slocan river in a pool near the mouth of the Little Slocan river.

To my knowledge, this is the first time that a trout of such weight has been taken from the Slocan river, and combined with the reports of improved fishing as a whole, it would appear that the stocking program instituted after the building of Brilliant dam, on the Kootenay river, is beginning to bear fruit.

In the past the Slocan river was a poor trout stream and if appearance means anything, then there is no better trout stream anywhere. Deep pools and riffles are ideally situated along its length and there are ample gravel and sand bars for spawning. Pollution is almost nil. The low water period is not enough to affect spawning beds or sudden enough to leave fish stranded.

It is not generally known perhaps, that during the next month and a half, that thousands of coarse fish will be making their yearly spawning run in the Columbia river. Some of these in turn come up the Kootenay river as far as Brilliant dam and of course can go no further. Many have used the argument that provisions should have been made for fish ladders in the hydro dam, but I for one, am truly thankful that they were not provided.

HOLDS BACK CARP

Had there been ladders, waters of the Kootenay and Slocan would have held carp by now, not to speak of the added other coarse fish. The carp were in the Columbia below Kettle Falls and when the lake was formed by Coulee dam, these falls were covered, allowing carp free passage up the river. At present they have invaded the Columbia to its source. The Game Department has licenced fur farmers in the past, and many hundreds of pounds of coarse fish have been taken from the Kootenay River at the Brilliant hydro-dam.

On the 15th of September the season for blue and ruffed grouse opens, and many a hunter and bird dog will come home foot-weary and tired. Many comments have been passed that the adverse weather during the grouse nesting season this spring has decidedly affected the number of birds to be seen at present.

Over the last 20 years I have noticed that in certain areas where ruffed grouse are to be found, that they were inflicted with a worm infestation. This was noticeable in the young birds as well as the old and in some of the older birds the worms had pierced the flesh surrounding the bowel cavity. In 1952 one young grouse which I shot, was so infected, and being curious I turned it over to the Nelson branch of the B. C. Game Department, who in turn forwarded it to J. Hatter, chief biologist at Vancouver. The report is as follows;

"This is to inform you that the ruffed grouse sent to us sometime ago has been examined in detail. Our autopsy showed that the bird was in good condition except for a moderate infestation of round worms belonging to the group ascaridia. Such worms are quite common in grouse and have been noted in blue grouse on Vancouver Island.

"It is not likely that an infestation of the severity noted in the bird you sent to us would be sufficient to cause death. Heavy infestation, however, could do the bird considerable harm and either directly or through secondary infection cause death.

"I do not think that this particular worm is a major factor in ruffed grouse cycles. It is to be expected that as grouse reaches cyclic peak the incidence of parasitic infestation will also increase since this is dependent upon a parasite-host density relationship."

KNOW DIFFERENCE?

It is surprising the number of hunters who do not know the difference between a blue grouse and a ruffed grouse. Do you? Throughout the Eastern district the season for blue, ruffed and Franklin grouse is from Sept. 15 to Oct. 31 except in the Revelstoke, Fernie, Columbia and Cranbrook electoral districts and that portion of the Nelson-Creston electoral district to the east of the Kootenay river and lake in which the season for ruffed grouse shall be Oct. 1 to Oct. 31.

Many officers of the Game Department contend that we are opening the season for grouse too early, as they are not mature by Sept. 15 and are still in coveys. If it were opened later when the leaves have fallen, the coveys would have broken up and a lot better sport-shooting would be had.

Athletics Meet Trail Juniors For Third Game

Nelson Fairview Athletics Thursday will play host to Trail Juniors in the third and final game of their semi-final round for the West Kootenay Junior Playoffs. The game will be played at the Recreation Grounds.

Nelson captured the first game of the series 8-7 with Trail retaliating with an 8-6 win. The winner of this series will meet either Fruitvale or Rossland in the final round.

Although the Athletics have several players suffering injuries, with Tommy Marshall nursing a bad shoulder George Benwell a sprained ankle and Ed Isackson a bruised leg, they will field a full team for this all important game.

Wayne Waters will make his first start of the year for the Athletics with Johnny Moore and Winston Storgard ready for relief work. Moore has won one game and lost none while Storgard has suffered three setbacks this season.

At bat the Athletics will have a great deal of power, for five players are hitting the ball for .400 averages.

Third sacker Jim McNabb is hitting .540, followed by Keith Harmsten .436, George Benwell .400, Ed Isackson .400, Winston Storgard .400, Frank Elsener .288, Arnold Sherwood .280, Mert Moody .240, Tom Marshall .225, Larry Hendrickson .175, and Wayne Waters and Sam Siminoff each with .143.

Billy Graham Out of Top 10

NEW YORK (AP)—For the first time in years, the name of Billy Graham is missing from the top 10 of boxing's welterweight division.

The 31-year-old veteran of over 100 pro fights was dropped from the 147-pound division's elite in the latest Ring Magazine's ratings, released Wednesday as the result of his loss to unheralded and oft-beaten Chris Christensen of Denmark.

Earl Walls of Toronto ranked ninth among the heavyweights.

Salmo, Humes Play 10 Inning Scoreless Tie in Playoff

SALMO — Fastball fans of Salmo were treated to the best game of the season Wednesday night when the Salmo club and the Humes of the Nelson and District Fastball League played to a scoreless tie in 10 innings at Salmo.

This was the second game of the best of five final to declare a winner who will travel to the Coast to enter the Senior B finals of the province. The Humes captured the first game 10-7. The third game will be played Friday in Nelson.

The spectacular playing of the Salmo outfielders, Lawrence Kraft, Charlie Scribner and Bill Taylor, had Nelson hitters baffled throughout as time after time they hauled down long fly balls.

Aiding the Salmo cause were two well executed double plays which got them out of trouble when the Hume players did get on base.

In the eighth, pitcher Bill Bush caught Frank Hufty's fly, then doubled Harold Mayo off first. Earlier in the game shortstop Floyd Gibbon, after picking up a ground ball, tossed out Jerry Koehle at first and the ball was relayed to third, catching Mickey Maglio as he steamed into the bag.

Morris Renwick on the mound for the Humes gave up five hits, including a triple to Pat Stenberg and a double to Scribner. He struck out five and walked one.

Bill Bush, who did equally as well in giving up six hits, whiffed two and failed to walk a batter.

Renwick led the Hume batters with a double and a single. Mickey Maglio got the only other extra base blow, a double.

Trail Bartonettes Thump Royals 14-1 To Capture Second Game

TRAIL — The Trail Bartonettes for the second straight time unleashed their big bats to down the Nelson Royals in the second game of the best of five semi-final for the West Kootenay crown Wednesday night when they won easily by a 14-1 count.

It was a case of too much power for the chucking of Ann Kastruk-off on the mound for the Royals as the Bartonettes touched her for 12 hits, including a homer by Ev Willmott in the seventh inning.

Although the Bartonettes won the game in the second, scoring two runs, they continued to cross the plate in bunches. After notchi two more in the fourth they cli axed this with a big eight-run ning in the sixth when 13 batt paraded to the plate. They add two three run innings in the seve and eighth to complete their sc ing.

The Royals' lone counter ca in the third when Mary McG led off with a triple, coming ho on Chris Chapman's single. For t remainder of the way the Roy were unable to dent home plate Joyce Frazer allotted them six hi McGinn also picked up a double lead the Royals at bat.

Frazer struck out one and walk three. Her mate committed fo errors behind her while Kastruk registered three strikeouts and t walks. The Royals committed ni errors which helped them to th downfall.

The third and wnat could be t final game will be played in Ne son Thursday night at the Recre tion grounds.

CURTIS TEAM IN PHILADELPHIA

NEW YORK (AP) — The British Curtis Cup team, which plays a United States team of women golfers next week, arrived Wednesday by plane from Montreal and left immediately for Philadelphia, site of the matches. The British side won the trophy two years ago for the first time in 30 years.

Mrs. Dorothy Beck is captain of the visitors.

He'd Like Wagoner

VANCOUVER (CP) — Coach Annis Stukus of the B. C. Lions said today he would certainly like to add former Ottawa Rough Rider John Wagoner to his new Western Interprovincial Football Union squad.

"We'd like to have him, but he has to be waived out of the Big Four first," Stukus said.

Wagoner, a Canadian-American, released from the eastern club Tuesday after six years in the front line, would not be classed as an import.

Market Trends

NEW YORK (AP) — A wave of selling sent the stock market sharply lower. Some shares lost as much as $8.

Hardest hit were steels, rails, aircrafts and motors.

MONTREAL (CP) — Price changes showed a narrowly mixed pattern in moderate trading.

Papers, utilities and beverages drifted into softer territory while steels and senior metals gained strength. A mixed tone ruled the miscellaneous industrial and senior oil sections. Banks and carriers generally held firm.

Mines were trendless. Western oils were mainly unchanged in featureless trading.

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market leaned a little lower in heavy trading toward close.

Industrials, steady about noon, moved down narrowly later with weakness in utilities, foods, liquors and retails. Losses, however, were almost all minor fractions.

Most active trading was in lower-priced mining issues, but the trading pace picked up in other sections during the afternoon.

LONDON (Reuters) — Stock market was firm with interest centered on the speculative sections of the market.

Gilt-edged was 1-16 to ⅛ higher. Dollar stocks were lower.

The industrial market was firm. Motors and most of the industrial groups posted gains.

Coppers were firm and other base metals held steady.

WINNIPEG (CP) — Winnipeg grain cash prices:

Oats, No. 1 feed, 75⅞.

Barley, No. 1 feed, 1.14⅞.

Calgary Livestock

CALGARY (CP) — Bad roads continued to limit receipts. Only 400 cattle and calves were on offer today. Trade was strong and active.

Good to choice grain-fed butcher steers and heifers were steady to strong. Good grass-fed steers were slow and selling mostly in the 18 to 19 range. Good cows were steady, at the week's lower levels. Good stocker and feeder steers were firm, veal calves fully steady.

Sows moved up 25 cents at 15 to 15.75. Good lambs brought 18 to 19.25.

Good to choice grain-fed butcher steers 19.50-22, common to medium 14-19.25; good to choice grain-fed butcher heifers 19 to 20.50, common to medium 11 to 18; good cows 9.50 to 10, common to medium 7.25 to 9.25; canners and cutters 4-7; good bulls 9.50 to 10, common to medium 8 to 9; good stocker and feeder steers 16.50 to 17.50, common to medium 10 to 16; good to choice veal calves 17 to 20, common to medium 12 to 16.50.

North Needs Industry

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — Harry Morrison of the worldwide contracting firm, Morrison-Knudsen, does not regard possible development of hydro-electric power at the ramparts of the Yukon river as too difficult.

Morrison said here Tuesday Alaskans should push for preliminary surveys and studies now so information will be available when the time is ripe for construction.

Morrison and his wife, Ann, were here to look over M-K projects in the Fairbanks area before departing for Anchorage.

Flying in a company plane, the Morrisons visited Kitimat, B.C., to view Alcan power generators. From there they flew to Labrador where they inspected a new railroad.

On Alaska's future, Morrison commented: "I'm not as optimistic as some and not as pessimistic as others. What you need here is industry, like paper and pulp development of large ore bodies—especially in the rare earth class such as tungsten, thorium and others."

Heavy Hail Losses

REGINA (CP) — August has been a month of heavy hail loss for Saskatchewan.

Offices of four hail insurance firms reported today that claims have caught up with last year's total. Claims to date in the province total 11,000 and have come from almost every crop-producing area.

Heaviest claim-total for the year occurred last week. Some hail inspectors reported evidence of grasshopper damage in the climax area of southwestern Saskatchewan, the first hopper report of the year.

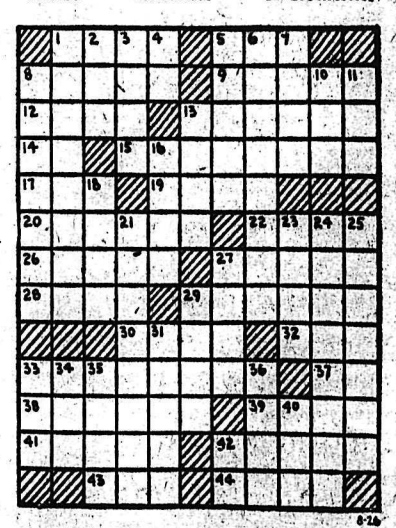
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

Q B N N G R T T Y T T O , B O R G T W I I
N D A D O R R T T I B R D — N B O P T I A F .

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: HOME IS THE SAILOR, HOME FROM SEA, AND THE HUNTER HOME FROM THE HILL.—STEVENSON.

Group To Halt Spread of Reds

MONTREAL (CP)—A British Columbia pilot who claims 450 supply flights in the Far East set out Wednesday to enlist support for a volunteer group to halt the spread of Communism in Asia.

Al Mah, a veteran of the Second World War and the Korean War, visualizes a group along the lines of the Flying Tigers. He says the plan has the support of Claire Chennault, American leader of the Tigers prior to the Second World War and head of United States air force groups in and around China during the war.

Mah, a native of Prince Rupert, said the group would move into any trouble spot in the Far East and help the fight against Communism.

"We believe that certain people over there are spoiling for some sort of trouble, and if they're willing to take us on, maybe we can stop them from harming innocent people," he said in an interview.

WILL BE VOLUNTEERS

"The Russians supposedly sent in volunteers in the Korean war so that's what we would amount to—volunteers from the free nations.

"Public opinion is against the plan right now," he said. "Our job is to convince people that it's a good project."

Mah said the group will try to obtain support from western governments to buy planes and supplies.

"What's wanted is a highly-skilled mobile outfit, including pilots, mechanics, radio operators, radar technicians, cooks, and so forth. We'll have to be in a position to move quickly and easily without too much fuss or bother."

Mah said the idea for the group came up at a meeting of members of the China National Aviation Corporation in New York in May.

ESCAPE INJURY

GANDER, Nfld. (CP) — An Air France Constellation slewed off the runway as it landed at Gander airport early today but its 58 passengers and nine crew members were not injured.

Inbound from Europe, the plane had come down on the runway safely when the nose wheel skidded to the left.

The pilot couldn't stop the slide and the plane straddled a 10-foot deep drainage ditch, battering its nose and pushing the tricycle landing gear into he fuselage.?

The accident occurred almost opposite the airports fire station which sent out a crew immediately. There was no fire.

Kamloops Man Killed

KAMLOOPS, B. C. (CP) — Percy Curry of Merritt was killed today when his car plunged off the highway into Stump Lake, 30 miles south of here.

Curry's body was recovered by RCMP after a truck driver reported that a truck was resting in three feet of water near the lakeshore.

Dragging operations were started and the victim's body was found nearby.

He is believed to have been the only occupant in the car, but RCMP are continuing their investigation of the mishap.

Students and Amateurs Find Indian Treasure

SHEGUINDAH, Ont. (CP)—More than 3500 years ago, possibly when the last lingering tongues of the ice age stretched down through northern Onarito, a succession of Indian groups occupied a small island in Lake Huron.

Today the tiny island is a wooded hilltop overlooking Sheguindah bay on Manitoulin, the world's largest freshwater island, a sacred land to the Ojibways and the Ottawas who named it for Manitou, the Great Spirit.

There a party of students and amateur archaeologists is patiently uncovering one of the oldest and strangest Indian sites in Canada.

The 12 men and women who form the archaeological crew are carefully removing soil from 10-foot squares, using grapefruit knives and paint brushes.

DEVOTED WORKERS

Their work is directed by Thomas E. Lee, an anthropologist on the staff of the National Museum of Canada. Lee's interest in archaeology developed in his boyhood around his native Port Bruce, a tiny fishing village on Lake Erie.

There he gathered a valuable collection of Indian artifacts which he donated to the University of Western Ontario at London when he joined the RCAF during the Second World War.

Lee joined the museum staff in 1950 after attending Wayne University of Chicago and the University of Michigan. His survey work in southern Ontario led him to the Sheguindah site three years ago and he has been spending his summers at it ever since.

Most of the diggers are members of the Ontario Archaelogical Society. In their ranks are business men, radio technicians, school teachers and secretaries from Quebec, Michigan, England and Scotland as well as Ontario.

Natural Maps Astound Buyers

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Maps should look just as the earth would appear to a man in space, Elrey B. Jeppesen decided years ago.

As a result, a group of photographers, draughtsmen, artists and business men are turning out realistic picture maps that astound the cartographic world.

It took them nine years to perfect the technique of making mountains appear to stick up from the paper, and Death Valley to resemble a hole in the table top.

FORMER PILOT

Jeppesen, 45-year-old founder and president of the company, was an airplane pilot. He sought a map that would show the ground as he saw it from the air—picture it, instead of showing a mass of symbols and lines.

The map process they use is secret, but two years ago the International Geographic Congress in Washington was startled by the product.

Jeppesen Co. maps begin like any others, with a "basic compilation" or contour-line map of the ground. There they depart from the normal procedures.

AIR BRUSH

From many sources they compile information on climate, rainfall, land forms, drainage. Then Hal Shelton, chief artist, goes to work. Just what he does with his air brushes and paints he won't say, but the result is a painting of the land in all its natural color and in complete exactness.

ICE-BOUND

The area of the Antarctic continent has been estimated at about 5,000,000 square miles.

GENE THOMPSON, 29, and Helen Brown, 21, announced that they will soon be married as they arrive in Quebec from London, a city that was left as dizzy as Helen was by Gene's eccentric courtship. The Texas pilot flew his plane under both Tower and London bridges to impress the reluctant schoolgirl. She was impressed and agreed to marry him as the ship sailed for home.

EVERY CANADIAN GROUP A MINORITY

BANFF, Alta. (CP) — A University of British Columbia professor says people should avoid the use of "any disfavored terms" which may be considered insulting by an ethnic or racial group.

Dr. H. B. Hawthorn of UBC's anthropology department opened the western Canada young adult conference on leadership here Tuesday by saying each racial, ethnic or religious group in Canada "has a right to a name of its own choosing."

Every Canadian group is a minority, Dr. Hawthorn said, citing figures to show that even French-speaking Canadians and people from the United Kingdom each accounted for less than 50 per cent of the country's population. Europeans represented less than 10 per cent.

Fifty-six delegates from 12 cities and towns in British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan are attending the conference, first of its kind held in western Canada.

Kills Children, Herself

CASCADES POINT, Que. (CP)—A 36-year-old woman shot and killed her two children and then herself Tuesday in this town, 25 miles west of Montreal, police reported Tuesday night.

Police said Mrs. Beatrice Meloche shot her son Alain, 2, and her three-month-old daughter Murielle with a 12-gauge shotgun, and then turned the gun on herself.

Mrs. Meloche had not been well since the birth of the baby and had been under a doctor's care, police quoted neighbors.

The bodies were discovered in the Meloche home by a brother-in-law, Mr. Meloche walked in moments later.

Freighter Fired On

HONG KONG (Reuters)—A British freighter was fired on Tuesday night by a Nationalist Chinese shore battery on one of the islands in the Formosan strait, its agents said here today.

Capt. G. V. Bloom, marine superintendent of Williamson and Company, the agents, said he did not know if the ship, the 967-ton Inchkilda, had been hit but there was no damage and there were no casualties.

The London agents said the freighter was plying a legitimate trade and was licenced by the British government.

Thomas Edison announced the perfection of a practical incandescent lamp on Oct. 21, 1879.

THESE BOYS are part of a group of seven campers and camp instructors who survived 17 hours of drifting in a disabled boat on Lake Simcoe, Ont. After their motor failed they stayed in the boat sending S O S signals with a flashlight. Then, when waves swamped the boat, they took a vote and decided to swim for shore, two miles distant. All had retained their lifebelts and shepherded by the instructors, reached shore safely and were picked up by police. By this time dozens of boats and planes were searching for them.

Tokyo's Growth Exceeds Space

TOKYO (Reuters) — Tokyo soon will become the world's biggest metropolitan area. The 500-year-old Japanese capital already sprawls over more than 772 square miles, but still has insufficient space for a population growing at the rate of more than 300,000 every year.

There is not enough space, not enough water, not enough roadway and in only one small inter-city area is there any modern sewage disposal system.

In the whole metropolitan area a city survey reported 7,669,000 people this year. The present average population increase will bring this to 8,628,000 in 1957, the 500th anniversary of the erection of the first organized fortification centre on this site.

EXCLUDE YOKOHAMA

In the inner area alone, the official figure for the population now is 6,672,000. This is expected to become 8,551,000 in 1961, and in the whole metropolitan area the population then will be 9,772,000.

Although the two cities are contiguous, these totals exclude the population of Yokohama where there are another million-odd people.

Tokyo set a population record as early as 1721, when it had a population of about 1,500,000. No other large city had a population exceeding 1,000,000 before the industrial revolution.

But Tokyo's record aggrandisements were interrupted by more tragic records. The earthquake of Sept. 1, 1923, and the bombing raids of the Second World War successively reduced the centre of the city to rubble and ashes.

The city fathers now say that the destruction opened the way for city planning, but foreigners still see Tokyo as an accumulation of villages, with few thoroughfares, and near-impassable lanes where pedestrians ineffectively compete for space against overflowing stalls, bicycles, buses and automobiles as wide as the roadways themselves.

Only One Injured In Ammunition Car Explosion

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — An ammunition-laden freight car caught fire in the Frisco freight yards Tuesday night, touching off a series of spectacular explosions and spraying 105 millimetre shells over a wide area.

Exploding shells hit one house, destroying it. Another was badly damaged. But only one person was reported injured.

An estimated 4000 to 5000 shells were in the car.

Two yardmen, Gerald Summons and Sam Gaston, uncoupled the burning car from three other cars also loaded with ammunition.

A freight engine pulled the three cars and the remainder of the train out of danger.

L. C. Carner, superintendent of the Frisco terminal here, said the shells had already started to explode when the yardmen uncoupled the car.

Persons in the area were evacuated.

Officials said the fire apparently was caused by a "hot box," a lubricating mechanism on a freight car, which has become overheated by friction.

FOR THE SECOND TIME this year, Germany has been hit by floods. This time it is not Bavaria, but Westphalia and the Ruhr area which has been inundated by heavy rains and rain-swollen rivers. Not everybody in the area was dismayed, however. This businessman is taking the flood in his stride as if it were a perfectly normal condition. Heavy Damage in Eastern Storm

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP) — Electrical storms swept across Ontario and New York state Tuesday leaving in their wake at least three dead, several injured and thousands of dollars damage.

Peter Zelkiewicz, 42, was found dead in a puddle of water at the Chrysler corporation plant in Windsor and was believed to have been struck by lightning.

In northwestern New York, two persons were killed. Power lines were knocked down, several fires were set and streets and cellars were flooded.

A Batavia mother and her son were killed by lightning while bathing at Ontario Beach park in Rochester, N.Y. The victims were Mrs. Mary Meier, 48, and her seven-year-old son, Michael.

The Niagara peninsula was the hardest-hit area. Wind, rain and hail caused thousands of dollars damage to crops, orchards and farm buildings.

SLIDES AT FALLS

Fifteen feet of railing was swept away on the Canadian side of Niagara Falls and there were threats of further rock slides. The roadway was barricaded to keep people from the danger area as a large crack appeared near the Horseshoe Falls.

Niagara Falls firemen were swamped with about 4000 phone calls from citizens with varying complaints.

At least 2000 private telephones were knocked out. Eight fires were reported but only one was serious. Lightning struck the farm of Keith McLeod in Stamford township causing $10,000 damage.

At Sarnia, storm sewers overflowed in several places and water flowed five to six inches deep on city streets.

Tobacco crops in the Tillsonburg-Delhi-Simcoe area were reported to have been heavily damaged by hail and wind. There was no estimate of loss.

STRIKE ENDS

NEW YORK (AP) — The first American Airlines plane to fly in 25 days took off from La Guardia field today for Rochester and Buffalo, N.Y. Other flights followed.

American's planes were grounded by a strike of the line's 1,243 pilots.

Hope for Big Salmon Season

VANCOUVER (CP) — The gold rush is on in the British Columbia salmon industry but whether fishermen strike paydirt is still anybody's guess.

Hopes for the biggest salmon season in 40 years hinge on the size of the run now heading for the Hell's Gate fishway in the Fraser River on the way to spawning grounds in Adams River.

"It's too early to tell if this will be a record run," said a fisheries official. "However, Adams River has had large runs before and this might top them all."

Up until this week about 3,000,000 sockeye have been netted but optimists believe there could be 10,000,000 fish in the run that began Monday and will continue to mid-September.

Between 1,000,000 and 1,500,000 will be allowed to escape up the Fraser River to the spawning grounds and the rest will be divided between Canadian and United States fishermen.

The jackpot awaiting fishermen is indicated by a single day's catch by the seiner Merit operating out of Tacoma. The boat picked up 3870 sockeye worth an average $1.60. Crew members collected $680 shares.

EARNINGS CUT

The incoming mass of fish, now moving from the west coast of Vancouver Island will reach the mouth of the Fraser at the end of this week.

As the fish surge around in the gulf, smaller seiners will work the mouth of the river. An anticipated 3000 gillnetters will move in for the kill as the salmon forge upstream about Sept. 14.

Farther north in the Queen Charlotte Islands area, 16 boats reported catches of 52,000 pink salmon in two days. Biggest single set netted the crew of one boat 10,000 pinks worth about $4500.

One official said the figures look good but upkeep of boats through the year cut the fishermen's earnings to an average wage. The official added the recent week-long strike cut heavily into earnings and allowed other runs to make for spawning grounds unmolested.

HALIFAX EXPLOSION

More than 1600 persons were killed and property damage was $50,000,000 in the Halifax munitions ship explosion Dec. 6, 1917.

Indian Affairs Commission

SASKATOON (CP) — John Diefenbaker today called for a royal commission to investigate administration of Indian affairs.

The Progressive Conservative member of Parliament for Prince Albert said in an interview that the commission should see that Indians are emahcipated from excessive control.

Mr. Diefenbaker said the current series of hearings by special commissions, at which 10 Indians may protest treaty money and reserve residential rights of other band members, is "the most serious thing which has struck the unity of the Indian tribes since the 1885 rebellion."

He said the hearings, amounting to a "gross travesty of the civil rights of Indians," had engendered hatreds and aroused distrust. They had accepted as evidence "the kind of evidence which couldn't be tolerated for one minute in a court of law."

Hunt Continues

VANCOUVER (CP) — The hunt for Oakalla Prison escapee Clifford Dawley was reduced by RCMP to patrol basis today on the theory that the 44-year-old convict already have moved out of the lower mainland area.

Citizens reported sighting "a man looking like Dawley" in four locations near Vancouver overnight but immediate police checks showed the reports were groundless.

Meanwhile, at Oakalla, officials have launched an investigation to determine whether laxity or negligence contributed to Dawley's break for freedom Monday.
