Dock Strike Spreads; Bus Strikers Plan To Go Back to Work

Britain Loses $8.4 Billion as Dock Strike in 20th Day; 244 Vessels Idle

By RONALD WILLIAMS

LONDON (Reuters)—The London dock strike spread o two other major ports Monday and threatened to paralyze wo others today.

But there were two bright spots in the labor picture:

1. Delegates of 21,000 London bus stirkers recommended an end to the six-day walkout over compulsory overtime. Strikers plan to start back to work today, pending negotiations, but each of the 114 bus garages affected must first vote on the decision.

2. Hundreds of dock workers began streaming back o work in Liverpool Monday afternoon after quitting a ew hours earlier in support of 28,000 London striking steveores.

An estimated 7000 of the 17,500 egistered dock workers in Liverool, second largest port in Britain, nd its twin port of Birkenhead, had uit work Monday morning and tied o 42 ships.

A union leader urged them at a ass meeting to return to work ntil a three-man court of inquiry et up last week by the government n the London strike—probably ext week.

The Liverpool workers' action is eing closely watched in Southampn and Hull where sympathy rikes are being considered.

For the first time, the 83,673-ton ueen Elizabeth docked stern st at Southampton in order to be ady to sail without tugs in case a port tieup. She is due to sail hursday for New York with 1000 assengers aboard, including Queen other Elizabeth.

The London dock strike, now in 20th day, already has cost Brin nearly £30,000,000 in lost export rnings. The wharves in London and Liverpool normally handle twothirds of the nation's export trade and well over half the import trade.

244 VESSELS AFFECTED

The London strike has paralyzed work on 244 vessels—about 100 of them idle because of a separate strike of 8000 ship repair men. Many of the cargo vessels are loaded with foodstuffs.

The dock strikers, like the busmen, protested against compulsory overtime, as well as some 100 other grievances. Their stoppage was joined Sunday by 4500 Thames river tug and bargemen who are seeking higher wages.

A stormy session preceded the vote to end the bus strike and fist fights broke out later. The 21,000 strikers had tied up 4171 of the capital's 7612 buses, producing chaotic conditions for millions of commuters.

Subways kept running on normal schedules, however, and private cars pitched in to help stranded Londoners.

Aid Rushed to Hurricane Victims

Netherlands To Aid Holland Marsh Flood Victims

BRADFORD, Ont. (CP)—The Netherlands government will contribute to the aid of Holland marsh flood victims, The Netherlands ambassador to Canada, A. J. Lovink, said Monday.

After a tour of the disaster area he told a district emergency committee he will make a full report on the situation to his government. About 1100 persons were left homeless at Holland marsh, market garden area 35 miles north of Toronto.

He said people of Holland were extremely grateful for contributions sent from Canada, particularly from the Holland marsh area, during the national flood disaster in The Netherlands two years ago.

Still Seek Bodies in Debris; 78 Known Dead; Collect $750,000

TORONTO (CP)—Aid poured in Monday night for the stricken Humber Valley as a receding river gave up more bodies and the known death toll in last week's flood disaster reached 78.

The Ontario Hurricane Relief Fund reached $750,000 soon after the $10,000,000 campaign was launched.

Civil and military authorities, industry and relief agencies sent heavy equipment, clothing and men to help restore order in the flood-ravaged western suburbs of Toronto where most of the deaths occurred.

At least 57 men, women and children were drowned in the Humber valley, eight others elsewhere in the Toronto area.

The final figure for storm deaths throughout the province may reach 90. That would be almost half the casualties hurricane Hazel caused in its violent sweep to James Bay from the south Atlantic.

STAGGERING FACTS

These are some of the staggering facts emerging from the chaos left behind the storm along the western outskirts of Canada's second largest city:

1. Within a few miles of the downtown shopping area, the Humber drowned at least 57 persons. A Canadian Press compilation showed 13 others missing, three of them presumed dead.

2. More than 30 of the deaths occurred at a bend of the river where 19 homes were swept away on two short streets—Raymore and Gilhaven drives. Whole families were wiped out by the flood.

3. In metropolitan Toronto, more than 500 families were left homeless.

4. Damage was estimated in the tens of millions of dollars. Fred G. Gardiner, chairman of Toronto metropolitan council, said earlier the estimates range up to $100,000,000.

BRIDGES SMASHED

5. The Humber, the Don river across the city, and other streams smashed 50 bridges and culverts, breaking vital traffic links between the city's working heart and its dormitory suburbs.

6. Outside the Humber valley but in the Toronto area, seven were drowned and eight were missing presumed dead.

7. The over-all toll for the province of Ontario may reach as high as 90. Monday night's compilation for all Ontario was: Dead 78; missing presumed drowned 8; missing 10.

8. At Holland marsh, 35 miles north of the city, 7000 acres of the most fertile farm land in the province was a lake. Almost 2000 were left homeless there and damage was estimated at $10,000,000. But apparently there was no loss of life.

Along the Humber, troops and civilians continued the grim search for bodies in debris left behind the flood. Special police were posted to prevent looting and thefts. Anxious relatives and friends gathered outside the emergency disaster morgue in Islington, a little-damaged western suburb, to identify the dead laid out inside. The Red Cross made plans to bury unclaimed bodies.

Nine persons died of 10 who shared one duplex house on Raymond Drive. Six of nine in another house were victims. One man lost six grandchildren, a son, a daughter and a daughter-in-law.

12 CHILDREN

At least 12 of the dead were children.

Five volunteer firemen died together in the flood when their fire truck tumbled into the torrent and was washed away by current so strong it tossed cement and boulders helter-skelter.

Away from the flood scene the emphasis turned to relief measures.

A detachment of army engineers was ordered to the city from Chilliwack, B. C., to help with bridge repairs. More than 100 army personnel already are assigned to flood work.

The worst of the traffic strangulation should be ended in a week.

Reclaiming flooded land in Holland marsh, greater Toronto's market garden, was given top priority. Premier Frost said all available large pumps will be sent there. It will be weeks, perhaps months, before many residents of the marsh can return to their homes.

BLACK URGES CITY SUPPORT OF CIVIL DEFENCE

VICTORIA (CP) — Provincial Secretary Wesley Black said Monday municipal governments must be prepared to undertake a greater share of responsibility in civil defence.

The minister, head of provincial civil defence, was addressing delegates from throughout the province attending a special civil defence meeting here prior to the opening of the annual convention of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities.

"There has been talk amongst some local governments of withdrawing their support," and leaving the whole matter to the senior governments.

"The senior governments can and will do more, but the municipalities must also be prepared to undertake a greater share of responsibility of this field which . . . comes within the day to day control of your local government."

Quads Born in New Brunswick

BATHURST, N.B. (CP) — Quadruplets—three girls and a boy—were born in Hotel Dieu Hospital here Monday night to Mrs. Lawrence Doucett, 24, of Bathurst. Mother and children were, reported well.

Practically the hospital's entire medical staff worked on the case. Authorities said the babies were about two months premature. They were placed in incubators without any weights being taken.

The Doucet family is in moderate circumstances. The father, 35, has been driving a delivery truck for 17 years. His only other child is a 14-month-old girl.

The babies are believed the first New Brunswick quadruplets since the Saint John Mahaneys, who were born on Christmas Day in 1923. All survived.

STRINGFELLOW RESIGNATION ACCEPTED

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — The Utah Republican state central committee voted Monday night to accept Representative Douglas Stringfellow's resignation.

The vote was unanimous. A successor was not named immediately.

Republican state chairman Oral J. Wilkinson called the 18-member committee into session after Stringfellow admitted his tale of wartime heroics was a hoax and said he would leave his political future to his party's leaders.

. . . But They All Survived Flood

PICKERING, Ont. (CP) — Six persons clung to a sapling for two hours early Saturday when two boats capsized in the flooded Rouge river. Fred Hunt, Howard Morgan and two sons of Mrs. Albert Dak were thrown into the water when their boat tipped. Gil Reid and Ted Ryan tried to reach them in a motor boat, but that, too, capsized. A power launch eventually reached the six and picked them up.

SEASICK

BRADFORD, Ont. (CP) — Three children became seasick as their home was tossed and buffeted for five hours Friday night on floodwaters on Holland marsh.

Finally police in a rowboat rescued Bas de Preuter, 7, Kees, 5, and Deo, 2, along with nine other brothers and sisters, their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Johann de Preuter, and a neighbor's son.

NO MASS BURIAL OF FLOOD VICTIMS

TORONTO (CP) — Victims of Hurricane Hazel will be buried privately, a Toronto undertaker said Monday.

There will be no mass funeral service although there may be cases where several victims will be buried toegther if more than one death occurred in a family, he said.

"It would be practically impossible to have a mass funeral service. It may be weeks before some of the victims are found."

One undertaker said that there was no need of a mass funeral service since all victims so far have been identifiable.

Mendes-France, Adenauer To Study Saar Settlement

By HAROLD KING

PARIS (Reuters) — Premier erre Mendes-France meets Chanlor Konrad Adenauer in a seded country mansion today in effort to settle the future of the ar.

A Saar settlement would remove e last roadblock to a nine-power aty for the formation of the first my in West Germany since Hit's forces were broken up in 1945.

Mendes-France and Adenauer l be under tremendous pressure solve quickly the protracted dise over the industrially-rich terory. The plan to rearm Germany due to be signed here later this ek.

At present, the Saar, a pre-war rman possession, is wedded ecomically to France but enjoys inal autonomy.

Mendes-France, despite his trendous personal popularity, ows that a Saar settlement must reached to the French assem's satisfaction before the depus will consent to any plan for rming Germany.

Adenauer has to face German ims that "the Saar is German," hough he himself favors a Saar angement which involves abanning German claims to full vereignty over the area.

Yet there is a feeling that agreent will be reached.

t would be a mistake, French icials say, to underestimate the ficulties of finding a mutually eptable solution. At the same e it is realized that there is far too much at stake to allow the talks to break down.

BONN, Germany (AP) — The Adenauer government was rocked Monday night by a threat that the Refugee party will quit the coalition.

The split is over social welfare policy. If the Refugees remove their 27 votes from support of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in the Bundestag (lower house) he will lose his two-thirds majority. He needs this majority to push through constitutional changes enabling West Germany to rearm and join the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Grants Sought For Highways in City

VANCOUVER (CP) — A drive to obtain provincial government capital grants to cover highway construction cost within city limits, was proposed by a special city council committee here Monday.

The province now pays the full cost of arterial highway construction within all municipalities, but cities with more than 15,000 population receive a yearly grant.

Ald. Donald McTaggart was appointed to head a committee to urge council to meet with Vancouver provincial members. The group will also suggest a delegation be sent to the provincial cabinet urging that cities be treated the same as municipalities.

He made the statement in clarifying new regulations issued recently by the immigration department.

1954 BAD YEAR FOR QUEBEC

QUEBEC (CP) — Government agricultural experts say 1954 has been one of the toughest years on record for Quebec farmers.

"It was not as disastrous one, but a below average year," said one expert.

Rain, he said, made it a year of misery on the province's 135,000 farms. The Quebec City area appeared to have been hardest hit. The Montreal and eastern townships regions suffered less damage.

Rain delayed both seeding and harvesting operations.

The hay and alfalfa yield — one of the most important in Quebec's farm production — is expected to exceed 6,000,000 tons, up 1,000,000 tons from 1953. But the value of this year's crop was reduced by almost steady rain during haying operations. As a result the price of hay was expected to drop from last year's $14 a ton.

The grain picture was no better. Fields were so muddy in Quebec district that heavy machinery was left in barns while farmers, their families and hired help bent their backs to cut acres of crops with hand sickles and scythes.

The rain-drenched basic crops, together valued at $142,231,000 in 1953, are causing a storage problem for farmers who have little or no special facilities, the expert said.

Buys Salk Vaccine

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis said Monday it is contracting to buy enough Salk polio vaccine to treat 9,000,000 persons next year — although it is still unknown whether the vaccine works.

The foundation, in effect, is gambling that it does.

By doing so, said foundation president Basil O'Connor, supplies will be available so it will be possible to start giving the vaccine immediately after results of tests of its effectiveness are in next spring.

He spent 77 days at sea. The voyage of 7000 miles brought his total of miles sailed alone to more than 21,000.

The unveiling will take place on the anniversary of the opening of the 14th Parliament in 1921 when Miss Macphail became the first woman member of the Commons.

She held the Grey Bruce seat until 1940 when she was defeated by Walter E. Harris, present finance minister.

France, India Authorize Merger

NEW DELHI (Reuters) — India and France will sign an agreement here today authorizing the merger of the last four French-Indian settlements with India, the Press Trust of India news agency reported Monday night.

The actual transfer of administrative authority to India will take place Nov. 1, following months of negotiations between the two nations. Disarmament Pact Hopeful

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) — Differences between the West and Russia over a Canadian disarmament proposal appeared near solution Monday.

Russia is expected shortly to announce she will join Britain, the United States and France in cosponsoring a Canadian resolution calling for resumption of private talks among the five powers to settle differences on a world disarmament treaty.

St. Laurent Pledges Aid To Flooded Ont.

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister St. Laurent Monday pledged federal government assistance in rehabilitating the flood-ravaged Toronto district.

In a message to Fred Gardiner, chairman of the Toronto metropolitan council, Mr. St. Laurent said rehabilitation aid will be based on the same principle which governed assistance in the Winnipeg floods and the Rimouski and Cabano fires in 1950.

No amount was mentioned in his message. The federal government granted $12,500,000 for rehabilitation after the Winnipeg flood and spent about $2,700,000 following fires in the Quebec cities.

The message was sent after Mr. St. Laurent conferred with Finance Minister Harris, who surveyed the flood area Sunday. It was not ruled out that the prime minister might visit the disaster area himself.

BCE PLANNING HYDRO PROJECT

VICTORIA (CP)—Lands Minister Robert Sommers announced Monday the British Columbia Electric Company has applied for a water rights licence for a hydro-electric project north of Squamish, B.C.

The company plans to divert the water of the Cheakamous River for a project on the Squamish River. It will develop an additional 87,000 horsepower for the mainland.

The application is apparently for a much modified version of the $25,000,000 project that would produce 160,000 horsepower envisioned in announcements of surveys made in December, 1953.

Communists Win East German Election With 99.3 Per Cent of Votes

BERLIN (AP) — Communist candidates for Parliament in Soviet-occupied East Germany won 99.3 per cent of the votes in Sunday's single-ticket election, the Red government said Monday. This was a drop from the 99.6 per cent claimed by the Reds four years ago.

In free elections for provincial legislatures in neighboring Austria, the Communists took a beating along with extreme rightists. Even in Russian-occupied lower Austria the Communists won only a little more than five per cent of the votes and about 8.6 per cent in the Soviet sector of Vienna. The total Red vote in the half of Austria that balloted was 6.5 per cent, a drop from the 6.7 the Communists won in national elections last year.

Communist-supported candidates won their first two parliamentary seats in Saturday's riot-torn election in Arab Jordan. Their showing was attributed primarily to anti-Western feeling among Arab refugees from Palestine who blame the Western powers for their expulsion from Palestine when the state of Israel was established.

In the Soviet zone, the East German government radio said 11,889,817 of the 12,086,987 eligible voted, a turnout of 98.4 per cent. A total of 11,807,497 voted for the Red-dominated national front ticket for the 400-member Volkskammer (Parliament).

And in This Corner . . .

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Edwards family (in the 68-hundred block Culloden) of Vancouver was so absorbed in television during the weekend they didn't notice the roof was on fire.

They heard a crackling noise all right. They just thought it was static.

More thorough investigation showed a fire was burning merrily in the attic and, rather flustered, someone put in a call for a chimney fire.

The lower part of the house suffered water damage.

NEW YORK (AP)—Thomas Martin, opera company musical conductor, set some sort of a record for speed Saturday when he conducted "Madame Butterfly" at a City Centre matinee, rushed twice across the Hudson River to Hoboken, N.J., to visit his wife, Ruth, as she gave birth to a third child, and then conducted "Die Fledermaus" at the Centre's evening performance.

HOVE, England (Reuters)—Joey, a chirpy three-month-old pet budgerigar, has been doing soccer pools for only a few weeks, but has already pecked out nearly £500 in prize money for his owner, Ernest Mahoney.

Mahoney writes down the numbers of the soccer teams on pieces of paper. Joey pecks here and there, comes up with some of the pieces in his beak, and his owner marks down the numbers on his coupon.

Last week Joey netted more than £400 in one pool. The week before he came up with a small fourth prize.

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Police who arrested a 20-year-old man on a drunk charge were told by the prisoner that they'd better let him go. He said he'd left a truck containing 20 gallons of nitroglycerin parked just outside the city and that a slight jolt or failure of the cooling unit could cause a terrific explosion.

The only explosion came hours later—after jittery police, sheriff's deputies and state highway patrolmen failed to find the truck and the man admitted his story was a hoax.

RCMP Officer Says . . .

Keys Left in Cars May Be Delinquency Cause

An RCMP officer who handles car theft investigations in Nelson sub-division, contends that many car owners who have cars stolen, court their theft by leaving their keys in their cars.

Further, these keys often contribute to juvenile delinquency.

"If a driver realized he might be leading a youth to delinquency by placing opportunity before him, "I'm sure he'd pocket his keys," the RCMP officer said.

"But they don't realize it and about half the cars stolen in Kootenay-Boundary are cars with keys left in them.

"If you're going to leave the keys in your car," he suggests, "you may as well leave the motor running and a standing invitation to help oneself, for youngsters look for these cars."

"I actually know of lads who case a town looking for cars with keys in them," the officer added.

Although he couldn't say the total number of cars stolen in a month from Nelson Sub-Division (no official records are kept) he could say almost all cars are stolen by youths — lads between 14 and 28. Few are taken by criminals.

A good number of thefts are by lads escaping from the Industrial School at Vancouver who "leave a trail of stolen cars over 600 miles—from the coast to the interior — driving one until it runs out of gas, abandoning it and taking the next handiest."

"I've talked to youngsters who bragged they could break a car door lock, cross the wires and have the machine running in five minutes," the RCMP spokesman confided.

Car thefts often come in waves. "We'll have as many as five and six in one week, then none for perhaps a month," he explained. "But car thefts are increasing. Of course, so are the number of cars in operation."

An unfortunate aspect of many car thefts, the officer felt, was that youths "become 'car crazy.' They want to drive. Their friends have cars. But their own family can't afford one. In their frustration they take any car."

"They aren't actually stealing. For they usually abandon or return the vehicle. We call it joy riding. Under the law it's called 'taking a vehicle without the owner's consent.'"

He recalled the tall, fine-looking lad who escaped from industrial school at Vancouver last month and led Nelson RCMP a fast chase over Kootenay roads before he was finally apprehended.

"He was 'car crazy' and I'll admit he could drive."

The lad when sentenced asked to go to New Haven, a home for boys outside New Westminster where lads who show a definite interest in improving themselves are sent to learn a trade.

Description of cars stolen from the sub-division are sent out to Western Canada each day, the officer explained. "Some of them are recovered almost immediately in our own area. Others may turn up at the coast or in other provinces.

Tracing these cars is often an "exhaustive and expensive process," he said, one, that in many cases, could be avoided, if drivers would just exercise a little precaution.

Rotary Hears Call to Take a More Active Part in UN Association

A call for local citizens to take a more active part in certain phases of society was made by Dean T. L. Leadbeater in addressing Nelson Rotary Club Monday at Hume on the topic, "United Nations."

"Certain things in our society should be given top priority," he felt. First among these is the church, for it "is doing more to cement world fellowship" than any other organization. This had been clearly demonstrated, the Dean said, at two different international church meetings held on the North American continent this year, the Anglican Congress in Minneapolis (which he attended), and the World Council of Churches meeting in Evanston, Ill.

In second place among activities warranting top priority is the United Nations, the speaker stated, for it is the "only other" organization working toward world unity. Interest in the United Nations on a local level is fostered through the United Nations Association of Canada of which there is a branch in Nelson. Dean Leadbeater is a member of this UNA branch.

Number of UNA branches across Canada has increased from seven a few years ago to several dozen now. This increase is attributed to the fact in recent years people have become more aware of the need of security. Also the UNA has stimulated interest through seminars in Canadian universities.

The Nelson branch holds monthly meetings at which films are shown, a speaker is heard and a discussion follows. Attendance to date has been small but it hoped to better this situation soon.

UN DAY SUNDAY

To create even greater interest in the UNA a special day "for the purpose of propagation of UNA," has been designated "United Nations Day," October 24. This day will be recognized by all organizations associated with the UN Organization.

In Nelson, this week prior to October 24 will be marked by radio broadcasts on CKLN. On UN Day, Sunday, Dr. Max Eastman will be in Nelson to address a public meeting. Dr. Eastman is best known for his many years' service with the old League of Nations and is also associated with the UN.

Dean Leadbeater urged the Rotarians to attend this meeting in view of the calibre of this speaker. Also he urged citizens to put more time and effort into important matters such as UN.

The increasing need of people becoming aware of world conditions was emphasized by Dr. Brock Chisholm who recently stated that "unless Canadians and Americans accept a lower standard of living there is no hope of feeding the world." Dean Leadbeater felt that a prime accomplishment of UN Day would be impressing in people's minds the work of the UN, "the only organization trying to create world peace and harmony."

The speaker was introduced by William Evans; chairman of the Rotary Club's international committee. Rotarian Vincent Fink, at the conclusion of the address, also urged Rotarians to attend Dr. Eastman's address.

A new member, R. M. (Dick) Edwards, was introduced by R. B. Allan.

President W. S. Ramsay reported that Rotarian E. J. Leveque, in hospital, hoped to be home soon.

Guests were Hugh Tutt of Trail and Fred Kidd of Vancouver.

Mission Held For Ukrainian Catholics

A three-day mission culminating in receiving of the sacraments has been held in Nelson for Ukrainian Catholics from Nelson, Trail, Grand Forks, Salmo and Castlegar.

Rev. Father Peter Hewko of Vancouver, visiting this district for the first time, conducted the mission, assisted by the pastor of the Nelson church, Rev. Father Theophile Hurko. Father Hewko belongs to the Basilian order, oldest in the Catholic church, dating from 379 A.D.

A cross outside the church was dedicated at the conclusion of the mission, first held in Nelson's five-year-old parish.

3 Juveniles Fined

Three juveniles appeared in juvenile court charged with being in possession of liquor. On Saturday one juvenile was fined $25 when he pleaded guilty to the charge. It was his second offence. A first offence brought another juvenile a $10 fine.

Third juvenile was fined $25, also a second offence. All three appeared before Juvenile Court Judge William Evans.

2 Drivers Fined $55

Two drivers appeared in City Court charged with driving without due care and attention.

R. C. Derbyshire of Nelson pleaded guilty before Magistrate William Brown and was fined $30. He allegedly crashed into a car parked on Chatham Street early Saturday morning. Damage to his and the parked car, owned by D. R. Grahame, was estimated to be several hundred dollars. Mr. Derbyshire's car was impounded for lack of insurance.

R. L. Winship was fined $25 for driving without due care and attention on Ward Street Friday night. He pleaded not guilty but was found guilty of driving in an erratic manner.

Memorial Hall Work Near Completion

An estimated $25,000 extension of Memorial Hall, done largely by volunteer labor, is almost complete.

The work represents 1400 work hours and a "fine showing of co-operative enterprise," Very Rev. T.-L. Leadbeater said.

When completed the extension will have a cut-rock exterior similar to that on the main part of the building.

The addition includes a small hall for primary Sunday school classes, a second room to be used as a Sunday school room or church offices, a wash room, large kitchen, lounge room for women's meetings, large recreation room and a 17 foot extension to the present auditorium.

A new low steam pressure furnace will be installed next week.

Part of the hall in the basement of the old building will be converted into four rooms for Sunday school and church offices.

The entire building is usable, Dean Leadbeater explained although the exterior of the extension won't be finished until Spring as the stone must come from Vancouver where it is cut.

Work parties have been on the job for seven weeks and "never less than five and as many as 15 turned out," the Dean said.

Women brought down coffee and food for the workers each evening.

Popularity, Confidence Desired Instead of Competence Meet Told

TRAIL — Dr. N. V. Scarfe, dean of education of the University of Manitoba, addressing a public meeting on the eve of the first day of the West Kootenay convention attended by over 500 teachers, congratulated the committee on putting on the best organized convention he had ever attended.

Speaking on the attitude of high school students towards education, Dr. Scarfe reflected that there is an increasing tendency among young folk at high school and university to look down on or sneer at those who like academic learning, who enjoy the arts, or find satisfaction in scholarly hobbies such as astronomy or ornithology.

An experimental investigation taken among the pupils and teachers showed that a very small percentage though that anti-scholarly attitudes had anything to do with the students' intelligence level, nor did they think that the teachers or the examination system were responsible. There was some suggestion that the lack of good home influence and the students' companions had a partial influence. Most teachers attributed the anti-scholastic attitude to the influence of the general cultural pattern of today's society. The teachers meant that society was excessively materialistic.

Financial and economic success were the major aims of society, and unethical methods of achieving success were tacitly tolerated or even covertly approved. Materialism thus resulted in lowered standards of values and in an overemphasis on sports, social activities, as in ancient Rome, and a depreciation of individual excellence. Popularity was reckoned more desirable than scholarship; confidence more importa than competence.

Despite this materialistic comme cial world, children were still mad of good, honest stuff. It was to the just as human and natural to serious, intellectual, hardworkin scholarly interested in learning to be exactly the opposite. Th needed the adult support and e ample which comes from those wi faith and trust in the innate goo ness of most children, and fro those who are brave enough strive for a society which rever fine behavior and scholarly at tudes.

80 District IODE Members at First District Conference Held at Trail

TRAIL — Members of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire from East and West Kootenay attended a district conference, the first of its kind to be held in British Columbia, here today.

Eighty members and officers from Trail, Nelson, Kimberley, Castlegar and Vancouver enjoyed a banquet in the Palm Room of the Crown Point Hotel.

Six standard bearers dressed in white paraded into the banquet hall to the strains of "Land of Hope and Glory" to present their standard. They were Mrs. K. Bancroft, provincial chapter, Vancouver; Mrs. C. H. Chatfield, Nelson; Mrs. Langstaff of Kimberley; Mrs. J. H. Westwood, Castlegar; Mrs. C. Fransen, Trail; and Miss Elaine Farnsworth, Trail.

Grace was said by Mrs. Ivan Dilling of the James H. Schofield chapter, Trail.

At the conclusion of the dinner the chairman, Mrs. J. Calder, introduced the guests and the provincial executive, who were Mrs. F. E. Dowdall, provincial president; Mrs. Barret-Lennard, provincial treasurer; Mrs. Robert Gourley, educational secretary, and Mrs. K. Bancroft, standard bearer, all of Vancouver.

Carlo Martin, acting mayor, welcomed the delegates on behalf of the city of Trail, and James Bryden expressed the congratulations and good wishes of Cominco.

Mrs. Otto Niederman entertained the gathering with several piano selections.

At the conference following the banquet, Mrs. Dowdall gave an inspiring talk on the work of the order with its 32,000 members. She explained the system of scholarship and bursaries set up as a memorial to the men of the two world wars, spoke of the war work done by the chapters and the work done with the new Canadians.

The members heard a story of an X-ray machine costing over $7000 recently sent by the IODE to Korea to help fight the very prevalent tuberculosis. This is in addition to more than $10,000 in food and clothing.

The other members of the provincial executive spoke on the work of their respective offices and a lively question period followed. The members and officers said they felt they learned much from their provincial executive to help them further the work of their order.

JOHN NIAGARA
Talks about:
HOW TO GET A
Friendly Loan

You know a lot of people the first time they come to Niagara Finance worry about whether or not it's the right thing to do. It's quite true that we don't make a loan every time anybody walks through our doors. Frankly, we'd be out of business if we did. But you'd be surprised at the number of people who do get loans, and chances are good that if you need money, you can get it too. We've grown to be a big organization now but the men we have in our offices spread across Canada, we like to think, are pretty well trained. They're trained to understand how to solve your money problems, in a friendly way. So if you need money, why don't you drop in? There are two good reasons why you should, you know. The first is that our rates are lower on many friendly loans . . . the second is that loans up to $1500, are life-insured, for you family's protection, at no extra cost to you. We think that these features make our loans a better deal than you get down the street. Inquire, won't you?

CONVENTION DELEGATES TOLD . . .

Quality in Teachers Is Department's Aim

TRAIL — Dr. F. Henry Johnson, co-ordinator of teacher education, working under the deputy minister of education addressed teachers following their West Kootenay convention banquet in the J. Lloyd Crowe school here Monday.

Speaking on the need for more well-educated teachers, he said that British Columbia was fortunate to have a very good school system. Secondary schools were beginning to find a teacher shortage and to stress this he pointed out that while 1400 new teachers were needed only 542 graduated last year. The difference was being made up by married women and teachers from other provinces and the British Isles.

Measures are under study by the department of education to complete organization and integration of teacher training institutions to achieve a high standard of teacher education, carrying a degree at each stage. To lower the standards of training, he said, is no solution to the problem. The teacher training loan fund established by the government is assisting 60 student teachers to take teacher training. Smaller bursary loans are assisting another 119.

With government assistance and bursaries now available, no student of character and ability who wishes to become a teacher need be held back due to lack of finances.

He reported a more than 50 per cent increase in teachers attending normal schools.

The department is interested in quality not quantity: young people with attractive personalities who like children and are liked by them; teachers who enjoy learning and enjoy transmitting learning; of good moral character, loyal to democracy with a right attitude toward teaching the "great and challenging profession."

Speaking of importation of teachers from the British Isles, Dr. Johnson said the department is interested in quality and adaptibility, and those graduating from a certified teachers' school. Careful screening by the department of education was essential.

Education represents a big investment, the success of which depends on the quality of the teacher. Last year the investment amounted to $58,000,000 in this province, he added.

"Sometimes we overlook the fact that the whole success of this great educational structure depends upon one factor—the teacher."

More than 500 teachers registered at the Trail junior high school for the first day of the two-day convention.

Parker Williams, Trail magistrate, welcomed the visiting delegates on behalf of the citizens of this city and Mayor E. G. Fletcher who is attending a conference at Vancouver.

Al Johnson, president of the Trail District Teachers' Association, acted as chairman at the general welcoming meeting. Mr. Johnson introduced the guest speakers who included Harold Doyle, member of the Trail School Board; Mrs. Gordon Redgrave, fifth vice-president of the provincial PTA, and Dr. N. V. Scarfe, Dean of Education, University of Manitoba.

Park Siding Man Dies in Fire

FRUITVALE — Alex Toth, a farmer at Park Siding near here, burned to death over the weekend in a flaming pile of brush on his property, apparently after suffering a stroke.

His body was discovered by his 19-year-old son, Jules.

Reports made to RCMP indicate that Mr. Toth left his home early Saturday morning to burn slashings on his property. When he failed to return for lunch, his son went to look for him and found his body on a blazing brush pile. He may have suffered a stroke and fallen into the fire.

A coroner's jury viewed the body Monday and adjourned until later.

Born in Hungary in 1891, he came to Canada in 1916 and had farmed at Park Siding for 20 years. When the Second World War broke out, his wife and two sons were visiting their homeland and not until this Spring were they able to rejoin Mr. Toth.

Surviving beside his wife, Juliana, are three sons, J. Toth, Louie Toth, both at home, and Alex Toth in Hungary, and two brothers and a sister in Hungary.

$300 Fine for Liquor Offence

CRANBROOK — A fine of $300 was levied in district court by Magistrate Richard Shiell against Fred Stayura of Cranbrook, when he pleaded guilty to supplying liquor to a minor. Leo Perosa, as a minor in possession of liquor, was fined $25 and costs when he pleaded guilty.

Collision of an Alberta tourist car with a small farm tractor on the highway just East of Cranbrook resulted in district court appearance of the tractor driver, Elmo Orr. He pleaded guilty to operating the vehicle without possessing a driver's licence, and to operating the vehicle without due care and attention, and was fined $25 and costs on each offence.

Reduced Coal Imports Sought by Labor Group

NATAL — Satisfaction that resolutions calling for a change in national policy in the coal mining industry, were endorsed at the recent Toronto convention of the Canadian Congress of Labor, has been expressed by Samuel English and Stan Grecutt of Michel, who represented the local union at the meeting.

Main resolution adopted, submitted by disrict 18, United Mine Workers' Association, of Calgary, asks the Congress executive to press the federal government to substitute at least 2,000,000 tons of coal being imported from the United States with coal produced in Western Canada.

It also asked that the Congress executive support a presentation to be made to the federal government by District 18 and the provincial governments of B.C., Alberta and Saskatchewan, concerning a coal policy.

The resolution pointed out that the coal mining industry in Western Canada has reached a "very critical" economic condition. Production in Alberta had dropped from 8,824,455 tons in 1946 to 5,917,423 tons in 1953, and a reduction in the number of men employed in coal mines from 8583 to 5760. Yet in 1953 Canada imported more than 22,000,000 tons of coal from the United States.

Local unions also asked the Congress to urge the government to inaugurate a national fuel policy in order that fuel resources may be utilized to best advantage.

B.C. Prospers Because Men Got Together

On this province's Pacific Coast one of the chief topics of conversation is this year's run of salmon – and the evidence it provides of the success of one of history's greatest international conservation experiments. The sockeye have poured up the Fraser and its tributaries in a swimming horde that has not been equalled in 41 years, and all because man was able to co-operate in doing something about his own foolishness.

In 1913, a year when 30 million sockeye went up to Fraser basin spawning grounds, railway builders blasted a cliff into the water at Hell's Gate, 120 miles from Vancouver. Four years later, after the passage of the natural sockeye birth-to-breeding cycle, the outcome of that act became evident and only briefly after the Fraser was classified as "no longer a salmon river."

However, in 1937 following the collapse of a long lobby in United States law-making halls, the International Pacific Salmon Fisheries Commission was set up. Its intent was to rebuild a resource that had been practically wiped out by slides into rivers, logging and mining jams and dams. After eight years' research, the Hell's Gate fishway was embarked upon and completed at a cost of $1,500,000. On a single day, August 27 this year, the greatest 24-hour salmon run in history returned $1,125,000—nearly enough to pay for the fishway. The overall return from the restored runs this year will be $34 million to $40 million.

Next plan is to restore the great Quesnel River salmon runs.

The project is a great example of the good resulting when co-operation and science come together. Its spirit should inspire men to similar application in greater, and lesser, projects.

Not Safety, but Greatness

"The true business of liberal education is greatness. It is our task not to produce safe men, in whom our safety can never in any case lie, but to keep alive in young people the courage to dare to seek the truth, to be free, to establish in them a compelling desire to live greatly and magnanimously, and to give them the knowledge and awareness, the faith and trained facility to get on with the job."—Dr. Nathan Pusey.

To live, mankind must recover its essential humanness and its innate divinity; men must recover their capacity for humility, sanity and integrity; soldiers and civilians must see their hope in some other world than one completely dominated by the physical and chemical sciences.—George F. G. Stanley.

Take away from mankind their vanity and their ambition, and there would be few claiming to be heroes or patriots.—Seneca.

One Adult Not Enough For 250 Youngsters

To the Editor:

Sir—I am writing to express my amazement and regrets at the lack of sufficient help in regard to the supervision of Teen-Town activities.

Last Friday night 250 teenagers attended the regular dance, and I wish to point out that I was the only supervisor in attendance for chaperone purposes. Anyone will readily understand that 250 youngsters is far more than one person can handle.

In the meantime I am writing to ask what interest and assistance the many and various service clubs, fraternal orders and P-TA organizations are prepared to give in connection with this piece of very useful community work.

I may say that I have made this need known, but so far the response has not been encouraging.

Store Clerks—A Disappearing Race?

How good are salesmen these days?

We're back again in a buyer's market, where the customer is king Order-takers are no longer in the driver's seat.

The buyer these days needs a bit of, but not over, persuasion. He, or likely she, likes courtesy and service. The buyer is a valuable asset to the salesman, and is worth while cultivating.

Efficiency of sales staffs in retail stores is the subject of a survey by a Toronto newspaper. The survey shows lack of training in salesmanship and service, and claims that this is encouraging self-service store practice. Financial Times comments on this as follows:

> A consequence of this is the trend towards self-service in retail establishments; a trend that has been in growing evidence during recent years.
>
> Further expansion in the use of self-service in retail distribution will naturally mean a lessening demand for sales people and the closing, to a greater or lesser extent, of a long-standing avenue of employment. Due almost entirely to a lack of imagination on their own part, many sales clerks will be faced with the alternative of unemployment or the acceptance of some type of unskilled labor.
>
> There will always, of course, be salesmanship, not just in the wholesale and retail trades, but in almost every phase of human endeavor. A lot of it is called public relations, but it's still salesmanship, whether of an idea, a commodity or a political ideology. But these days the buyer seems to be doing the dictating, and the salesman needs sharp wits and more than a show of willingness to serve.

Aerial Red Tape

Mr. John Payne, superintendent of facilitation for Pan American World Airways, thinks thirty nations, including the United States, and the air lines themselves, are throttling travel in the clouds by unnecessary delays and expense.

When a railroad or a shipping executive tosses some barbed shafts in the direction of commercial air lines, that is not exactly news. They are competitors. But when an air line executive sounds off on red tape in the air lines, and demands they clean house at once, that is in the category of man bites dog.

Mr. Payne gave an interview in Montreal recently in crisp, forthright language. To go around the world by plane requires only five days and an outlay of $1347.85. But, says Mr. Payne, it requires 43 to 108 days to obtain the documents required by the United States and other countries. (Jules Verne had his fictional character scoot around the world in 80 days back in the days before plane travel.)

Not only does it take at least nine times as long to obtain the necessary documents as it does to do the actual trip around the world, but the cost of the red tape adds $147.20 to the bill.

Sometimes the hand of friendship emphasizes the upturned palm.

—Calgary Albertan.

Reader, Nelson—If a person makes articles as a hobby in his spare time may he sell them? Does he need a licence? If he does not need a licence, can he advertise his products?

Anyone who makes articles in spare time can sell them without a licence provided he is not making a living from these sales. If he wants to advertise then he must take out a licence.

D. H., Castlegar—I am inquiring about the supposedly illiterate people of Arkansas and Kentucky. Would the travel bureaux of these states send us pamphlets about such people? How do they live? How much do they know about the outside world? Are they really as ignorant of common affairs as they are made out to be?

Your best plan would be to write to the Information Department, National Geographic Magazine, Washington, D.C., U.S.A. They have published more than one illustrated article on these peoples, their customs, living conditions, schooling, etc.

Interested, Trail—Please print address of Vocational Training School in Vancouver.

Homeless, Nelson—Where can I get information on pre-fab houses?

K. W. Dixon, Corner Baker and Kootenay Streets, Nelson; Irmin Schaffer, Fruitvale.

Apologetic, Nelson—Would you please reprint recipe for rowan berry jelly? Sorry to say I mislaid the cutting.

Rowan berry jelly: One quart berries, one quart water, simmer together 15 minutes, strain juice and to every pint add one pound of sugar. Boil slowly about 50 minutes.

All Alike

(Kitchener-Waterloo Record)

Standardization is the secret in large measure of the success attained in today's living, but as it enters into the home decor, the clothes people wear, the cars they drive, the books they read and the type of entertainment to be enjoyed, the innate differences that make individuals can be buried under a surface of standardization and conformity.

To conform and to be standard are assets of high value, but, like everything else that is good and useful, they should be kept within the bounds that assure they will not destroy rather than build.

LIBRARY NOTES . . .

Books of All Kinds on Library Shelves Lately

Several new books on fiction, biography and travel have been received at the Nelson Municipal Library in the past week, and many more are expected in the next few weeks. New children's books have also arrived.

In the line of fiction, there's "The Conquest of Don Pedro", by Harvey Ferguson, Literary Guild selection for July. It tells the story of Leon Mendes and his effect on the people of the small village of Don Pedro in Old Mexico.

Igor Gouzenko's "The Fall of a Titan", with its multitude of characters and dramatic intensity, is a much-awaited book in the fiction category.

"Lost Pueblo, A 1954 Western Romance", is the title of the latest of the prolific Zane Grey, and it is described as a thrilling story heightened by the author's feeling for the Arizona country.

For the reader of thrillers, the Library has Ellery Queen's silver anniversary number, "The Glass Village". It introduces a rural judge and his ex-soldier son as the sleuthing team who probe a murder in a quiet New England village.

"The Healing Oath" by Andre Soubiran has been hailed everywhere as an outstanding novel of the world of medicine. It has surpassed in success his earlier work, "The Doctors".

For "The Remarkable Young Man", Cecil Roberts, author of 20 popular novels, has selected Rome in the early 19th century as the background. The remarkable young man of whom author Roberts writes is Joseph Severn, young English painter, whose friendship with Keats took him to Rome in the last month of the poet's life. The book is a delightful excursion into cosmopolitan gaiety and scandals.

Two more items of fiction new in the Library are "The Dark Lady" by Cothburn O'Neal, and "Wild Brother" by Mary Patchett, story of the life of the dingo in the author's native land, Australia, and the September book choice of the now-defunct John o' Londons.

Now let us turn to the non-fiction received recently at the Library.

"Future Indefinite", Noel Coward's follow-up to his earlier autobiographical volume, "Present Indicative", begins in 1939 and ends in 1945. He describes vividly and entertainingly his experiences and travels in the various war zones.

"Doctor to the Islands", by husband-and-wife team Tom and Lydia Davis, is their story of how, as newlyweds, they headed from New Zealand to Tom's home at Rarotonga, on Cook Islands. Aided by his medical training and his wife, he set about giving badly-needed treatment to the natives.

All persons interested in the future of Canada, certainly all Canadians, have a book designed for them in "Canada's Tomorrow"; edited by G. P. Gilmour. Leaders in eight fields of Canadian activity and thought were asked to present their views on the country's future. Contributors are Mr. Gilmour, B. K. Sandwell, N. W. McKenzie, Hilda Neatby, Donald G. Creighton and D. M. Brogan of Cambridge University.

In "The Four Continents" Sir Osbert Sitwell takes a discursive trip on the spheres of travel, art and life which ranges geographically from Manhattan to the moon, Amalfi to Angor, Niagara Falls to the Great Wall of China.

On 40th Anniversary . . .

Author Catherine Clark Hails Crawford Bay WI

GRAY CREEK — The 40th anniversary of the founding of the Crawford Bay Women's Institute was celebrated at a dinner Saturday.

Decorations were in the Institute colors of green and gold. Tablecloths being edged with these colors and the flowers were escholtzias and callendulas. The centre table had a basket of golden chrysanthemums set in Oregon grape leaves and green fern which was sent with congratulations from a former member, the author. Mrs. Leonard Clark of Royal Oak, Vancouver Island. On a small table in front stood the two-tiered birthday cake made by Mrs. Haverstock and decorated by Mrs. Clifton Derbyshire. Green candles stood on either side.

The president, Mrs. Haverstock, presided. Also at the head table were Mr. Miller, Crawford Bay's oldest resident, Robert Bayliss, who had known the Institute since the beginning in 1914 and two charter members Mrs. Mooney and Mrs. Nelson. Mr. Bayliss proposed a toast to the health of the Institute. He spoke of the 1914 organization and read the names of the 20 charter members of whom Mrs. Gooch was president and Miss Watts (afterwards Mrs. Kidman) secretary. Mrs. Kidman held this office for a great number of years. Among other women who were outstanding in the 40 years were Mrs. Jack Houghton, Mrs. M. M. Watson and Miss Lorna Lytle.

Perhaps the highlight was the visit of the famed suffragette Mrs. Pankhurst in 1921. Mr. Bayliss remembered the late clergyman Mr. Mahood of Queen's Bay being present on that occasion. Mr. Bayliss then went on to speak of the Institute motto "For Home and Country" and touched on the many sides of Institute work.

A congratulatory letter from Mrs. Clark, who used Crawford Bay as the setting for her children's book "The Sun Horse," was read by Mrs. A. W. Lymbery. It follows:

Hearing that the 40th anniversary of your institute will be celebrated, I feel a strong wish to send you my congratulations, my love and my best wishes for your future activities. Forty years is a long time and during that time a mass of work has been done, sums of money raised for community causes. There has been the Emergency Fund as a help, and remembrances sent to sick or troubled members. There have been bazaars, Dutch auctions, whist drives, craft lecturers, art shows, fair contributions, all for some good purpose; not to speak of overseas parcels, made-over clothing for distressed people, and correspondence with overseas Institutes.

One can't really visualize the amount of cakes, cookies, buns, butter, pickles and jam contributed by the members in the line of duty all those years. If laid out they must have reached from Riondel to Tam O'Shanter Lake. Though these home products have vanished like snow, they furnished pleasure and fun in their day and raised much money for amenities and community betterment. The sports days, Hallowe'en treats, Christmas trees going far away in a chain down the years. These were no slight contributions; they made great happiness.

"On this anniversary, your President will doubtless read to you the concrete projects and achievements to be credited to the Crawford Bay Institute. I can only write as a member from Gray Creek who was not always able to take in many meetings. My memories are more general; I see it as a whole.

"When I first joined the Institute, there was no road between Crawford Bay and Gray Creek. I used to ride the winding trail on a buckskin mare and often at Wilmot Creek and Weasel Creek there would be bear signs in the Spring. Then the pony would blow and shy and refuse to go on and I would shiver in the saddle. There was also a place where you had to jump your horse down two big boulders. Mr. Red McGregor had a cougar trap line out some Winters along the trail and I was scared to ride there if it was getting dark for fear of a cougar.

"At that time, Mrs. Watson, Mrs. Gooch, Mrs. Lytle, Mrs. Mooney, Mrs. Harry Mawdsley, Mrs. Richardson, Mrs. Freeman, Mrs. Woolgar and Mrs. Fournier who kept the Hotel were all very active in the Institute. One scheme that went on for a while was the getting of boxes of frozen fish that was sold to members. I remember Miss Walker getting into difficulties over weighing it out. I went to help her and we found that the one pound weight had somehow got into the fish side of the scale. There was nothing to be done, but to call in all parcels and start all over again. That night riding home, I met Harry Mawdsley, then fire warden.

"'Well,' he said, 'What's the luck today? Skate again?' I had to own that there had been a great deal of skate. I also told him about the one pound weight and he rode off laughing and whistling through the woods.

"I also remember the trips in Oscar Burden's house boat which could hold many members, and the surprise shower we gave Mrs. Fournier on it, after the hotel burnt down the first time. All kinds of gifts were brought. The second hotel was much like the first and they were both very like the Burden house boat only bigger.

WHAT IT MEANT

"And no wthat I have written this, it seems rather inconsequent. Everything goes by me in a kind of brightness, vague and happy. And so I ask myself 'Didn't the WI do something for me?' I think it helped me a lot. It took me out of my narrow home cares to meet other women and hear their problems. It gave me a picture of real life, a wish to be useful in a bigger way; it gave me many friends. The Institute of Crawford Bay meant a lot to me and still does.

"Last Fall, I received a wonderful message of sympathy from you at my brother's death and this was a real comfort at a bad time. Life goes on, full of activities for all — one does not expect to be remembered and it is sweet when remembrance comes.

"Now I look back and it seems a long time since Institute members travelled to Gray Creek by the Burden house boat or since Gray Creek women tried out the new road to the Crawford Bay meeting. They have been good expanding years and the Women's Institute has borne its part in them.

"And no wending, I would like to send my love and greetings to all old friends. I must name some for the pleasure of writing them down — Mrs. Mooney, Mrs. Red McGregor, Mrs. Fraser, Mrs. Lymbery, Mrs. Anderson — I have known them the longest of all and I think they are still with you. But I think of many others, Mrs. Charlie Miller, Mrs. Clifton Derbyshire and all the young women with springing families that I used to know. May everyone have a grand time at the anniversary dinner and may the Crawford Bay Women's Institute flourish as never before.

With Kindest thoughts,
I am, yours very sincerely,
CATHERINE ANTHONY CLARK."

Mrs. Mooney and Mrs. Nelson together held the ribboned knife to cut the fruit cake. Mrs. Mooney spoke briefly of her 40 years membership.

Mrs. Sneddon sang "God Bless This House" and, "Smiling Through" being accompanied by Mrs. Feenie. Mr. Webber delighted the gathering with humorous songs "Anne Boleyn," and "Our Albert at the Zoo," Mrs. Webber at the piano.

Lemon Meringue Pies Have Secret

By MARGARET CARR

In making lemon meringue pies, the secret of good texture is to follow the measurements in a reliable recipe carefully and add lemon juice to the filling mixture after it has cooked, stirring the juice in very gently. When starch or flour is combined with water and heated, the starch granules swell and thicken the mixture. But if the acid lemon juice is added to the mixture while it cooks, or if the mixture is stirred too much, the swollen granules break up.

If a stronger lemon flavor is desired, add more grated lemon rind, but not more lemon juice. If more acid is added, the mixture becomes thinner. When this happens it can only be thickened again by adding so much more starch or flour that both flavor and texture will be spoiled.

Thicker pie fillings can be made over direct heat rather than by cooking in a double boiler. In adding liquids to flour or starch and sugar, use a small amount of cold liquid, to moisten the dry ingredients. Then add these to the rest of the liquid at near-boiling temperature, stirring just enough to avoid lumps. The filling is poured into the pie shell immediately after butter and lemon juice are added. After putting the meringue on the pie allow the pie to cool 4 or 5 hours before serving to make the filling firm but still tender.

LEMON MERINGUE PIE

⅛ inch baked pastry shell
1½ cups sugar.
5 tbsps cornstarch
1½ cups boiling water
3 egg yolks
1 tbsp butter
½ tsp salt
6 tbsps lemon juice
Grated rind of 1 lemon
3 egg whites
3 tbsps sugar.

Combine sugar and cornstarch. Add boiling water and cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thick and clear. Add beaten egg yolks and cook for a few minutes longer, beating well. Add lemon juice and rind and butter. Cool and place in an 8-inch baked pie shell.

To the 3 egg whites add ¼ tsp salt. Beat until stiff, then gradually add 3 tbsps sugar. Beat until meringue stands in peaks. Spread over pie. Bake in a moderate oven, 325 deg. F., for about 15 minutes or until the meringue is golden brown.

LEMON SPONGE PIE

2 egg yolks.
1 cup sugar
2 tbsps flour.
⅛ tsp salt.
Juice and grated rind of 1 lemon.
1 cup milk.
1 tbsp melted butter.
2 egg whites.

Mix all ingredients except egg whites. Fold in stiffly beaten whites. Place in unbaked pie shell. Bake in hot oven—425 deg. F. for 15 minutes, reduce heat to 325 deg. F. and bake until mixture is set, about 30 minutes.

Tweed-Nelson Vows Exchanged At Rossland

ROSSLAND — St. Andrew's United Church in Rossland was the setting for a lovely Fall wedding when Rev. A. J. Lawton united in marriage the former Muriel Evelyn Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Nelson of Winnipeg, and Douglas Tweed, son of Mr. David Tweed, Sr., of Rossland and the late Mrs. Tweed.

Vari-colored asters decorated the church, while guest pews were marked with heart-shaped motifs centered with forget-me-nots and streamers tied in lover's knots. Mrs. A. R. Dahlstrom was organist and Mr. W. Douglas, soloist.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Thomas Place, the bride chose for her wedding a gown of embroidered nylon net, three-quarter length, full-gathered over net and taffeta underskirts, with nylon net flounce extended to waltz-length, all posed over crinoline. A scalloped edge was featured on the surplice bodice with decollette neckline, short sleeves and elbow-length mittens. A coronet of orange blossoms secured her chapel veil with rich embroidery trim. The bride wore a three-strand pearl necklace with matching drop earrings and carried a cascading bouquet of red roses.

Miss Margaret Tweed, sister of the groom, as maid of honor, was frocked in a strapless ballerina-length dress of buttercup yellow net over silk taffeta, topped by a bolero jacket of matching net. Clusters of white daisies were featured on the bodice and underskirt. She wore a coronet of entwined nylon net in matching tones, studded with rhinestones, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations. Miss Shirley Place, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid and wore a ballerina-length delphinium blue taffeta, with off-shoulder neckline and dropped puff sleeves. A wide sash was tied in a bow at the back of the full-gored skirt over crinoline. A coronet of matching fluted nylon net completed her costume, and she carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Mr. David Tweed, Jr., the groom's brother, was best man, and Mr. Glen Mitchell and Mr. Ray Dominici were ushers.

A reception for 135 guests was held at IOOF hall, where the bride's aunt Mrs. T. Place and the groom's sister, Mrs. Glen Tait, assisted the young couple in receiving. Mrs. Place was frocked in a navy blue silk crepe, with navy check trim at the neckline, navy accessories and en corsage red roses, while Mrs. Tait was attired in a grey flannel afternoon dress with red accessories and a corsage of red carnations.

The three-tiered wedding cake, topped by a miniature arch over a pair of white doves holding a wedding ring, was embedded in white angel-hair with scattered pansies, and placed on an individual table covered with a white linen cloth with deep crocheted edge. The cake was flanked by white tapers in crystal sconces. A large bouquet of red roses centered the bride's table.

For a brief honeymoon trip the bride donned a smoky blue tailored gabardine suit, with a topcoat of Air Force blue, red accessories and a corsage of red carnations.

The young couple will reside in Rossland on their return.

Flying Farmer Reaches Florida

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Delbert A. Fuhriman, the Utah flying farmer, was on his way home via Washington today after a record flight for light planes.

The plane he bought second-hand ran perfectly on the record 2800-mile, non-stop flight from Victoria, B.C., to Key West, where he landed after 24 hours and 25 minutes aloft.

"I have no doubt it would do the same on a transatlantic flight, but I am mainly interested in seeing as much of the world as I can," he commented. "Ocean water is too much alike to afford any pleasure to a sightseer."

He had 30 gallons of gasoline left when he landed here and could have gone on to Cuba, but had no maps of the island and decided against landing there.

He claimed the flight considerably bettered the previous light plane record from Los Angeles to New York in 1951.

Fuhriman is flying to Washington and then on to Utah by easy stages.

Fluoridation Means Less Dental Work

G. R. A. (Dick) Rice, president and general manager of Sunwapta Broadcasting Company, Ltd., operators of both CRN radio and CFRN-TV, opened the station with a half-hour introductory program.

Forty hours of telecasts a week are scheduled from the station that transmits power of 27,600 watts video and 13,800 watts audio.

About 100,000 homes, 40,000 of which are within the city limits, are estimated to be in the most favorable receiving areas.

A new one-storey building houses the television station's offices and transmitter. The TV signal is sent from a 488 foot ower which holds a 10-ton six-bay antenna.

Stampeders Edge Bombers 12-11, Hold Playoff Hopes

WINNIPEG (CP) — Calgary Stampeders came from behind to eke out a 12-11 victory over Winnipeg Blue Bombers Monday night to keep alive their slim hopes for a playoff berth in the Western Interprovincial Football Union.

League-leading scorer Tom Miner, an end from Tulsa University, booted a convert after Howard Waugh's touchdown to score the winning point early in the fourth quarter.

It was the final league game of the season for Stampeders and the win put them in a tie with Bombers. Bombers have two games left.

Winnipeg roared to a 11-0 lead in the first quarter and held the margin to half-time. Stamps cut the lead to 11-6 at the three-quarter mark, then scored the converted major in the final frame.

Waugh, a hard-driving fullback from Tulsa, was the standout player of the game, picking up 182 of Calgary's 283 yards along the ground. Miner scored and converted Calgary's other touchdown.

Bud Grant, Bombers' second-year import end from Philadelphia Eagles, scored both Winnipeg touchdowns on passes from quarterback Jack Jacobs, Buck Rogers, a Canadian guard, converted the first but was wide on the second, which proved the difference in the final score.

Eddie Macon, halfback from Chicago Bears and Lynn Bottoms, Calgary half, also picked up valuable yardage for Stamps, while Ed Henke, a tackle from San Francisco, and Floyd Harrwood, a second-year man from Green Bay, were standouts in the line.

Jacobs, who went all the way at quarter for Bombers, completed only four of 12 passes — all in the first half — for 71 yards, while Eddie LeBaron and Stan Heath completed four of 14 for 65 yards.

Each club scored once after recovering fumbles. Jacobs passed to Grant from 12 yards out midway through the first quarter for the first score. About 10 plays later, Macon fumbled on the Calgary 47 and tackle Buddy Tinsley recovered for Winnipeg. On the first play Jacobs hit Grant on the 10 and the big end ran over unmolested. Rogers was rushed on the convert attempt.

A 33-yard pass from LeBaron to end Gene Brito set up Calgary's first major. LeBaron passed to Miner, who made a diving catch in the end zone when Casey had him covered.

Benson's fumble late in the third quarter was recovered by Macon on Winnipeg's 30 and Stamps rolled to the 17 on hard plunges by Macon and Waugh. A penalty gave Calgary possession on the 10. Macon hit for nine to the one, then Waugh ran over right end for the touchdown.

GREENWOOD HUNTING QUARTET, Phil Horovatin, Fred Fernstron, Frank Horovatin and Allan Cudworth, pose in front of game-laden truck in which also rode two pack-horses. —Daily News photo.

Grizzly Gives Greenwood Hunters Scare in Windermere Expedition

Four big-game hunters passed through Nelson en route home to Greenwood after a successful and adventurous week-long hunting trip in the White Swan Lake area of the Windermere Valley in East Kootenay. They were taking with them several hundred pounds of game, a number of tales about their hunting experiences, and a week's growth of whiskers.

The four, who are all engaged in logging work in Greenwood, are Phil Horovatin, Fred Fernstron, Frank Horovatin and Allan Cudworth. In their treasured bag were three Rocky Mountain sheep (one with a full curl), two elk including an 800-pound six-pointer, and four grizzlies.

Hunter Cudworth told a spine-tingling story about shooting one of the grizzlies. He shot one, but shortly three more appeared and pounced on the dead bear. When he shot one of these three, the other two charged "right at us." One of these was brought down at 20-feet, but the other was a mere four feet away when Cudworth dropped it. He felt he was "just lucky" in escaping the grizzly's claws.

The four Greenwood men have all done considerable previous hunting. The last three years they have made trips to the East Kootenay and previously hunted in the Caribou, and of course in the Greenwood area. Two pack horses carried their supplies, riding in the back of the truck to East Kootenay. The hunters went as high as 8000 feet altitude, they estimated, to bag the rams. This took three days and they admitted it was "harder work than logging." They modestly attributed their success to "mostly luck."

On the expedition they also shot some movie film of their game and the surrounding country. While parked in Nelson Sunday night scores of citizens flocked around their truck to admire the game.

Eskimos Blank Lions 22-0, Cop Playoff Berth

VANCOUVER (CP) — Edmonton Eskimos, showing scoring power on the ground and in the air, swamped British Columbia Lions 22-0 here Monday night to clinch a Western Interprovincial Football Union playoff berth.

A crowd of 13,136, smallest of the WIFU season in Empire Stadium, watched Eskimos score a touchdown in every quarter except the third and completely dominate the game. The half-time score was 16-0.

The win, fourth straight for the Albertans over the west coast entry, moved Eskimos into sole possession of second place. The Calgarians, who dumped Winnipeg 12-11 in the Manitoba capital earlier Monday night, can only make the playoffs if the Blue Bombers lose their two remaining games.

Edmonton's well-balanced power was shown in the scoring summary with quarterback Bernie Faloney and halves Rollie Miles and Glen Lippman registering touchdowns in the first, second and fourth quarters.

Ex-Washington Redskin Bob Dean converted all three and added a second-quarter field goal for a six-point night. Edmonton's other point came on a first-quarter single when Len Meltzer was roughed by Bill Briggs on Rod Pantages' long boot into the Lions' end zone.

NEAR-PERFECT GAME

Faloney, playing his first season in Canada after starring with Maryland University last year, called a near-perfect game and accounted for most of the 90 yards Eskimos picked up in the air on five completions out of 16 attempts. Jackie Parker, who alternated at left half and quarter, turned in an outstanding game for the winners, carrying for long gains.

Edmonton picked up 282 yards on the ground to 144 for Lions and had 19 first downs to nine for the B.C. squad.

Gene Robillard, former McGill star, handled most of the quarterbacking chores for Lions but could never get a sustained attack rolling. Lions completed seven of 25 pass attempts for 84 yards, but six interceptions, three by Steve Mendryk, blunted any scoring threat.

Robillard, who turned in a fine performance for Lions in Edmonton Saturday, couldn't get the orange-and-black-clad British Columbians rolling in the opening half and Pantages' booming punts kept them bottled in their own end throughout.

Meanwhile, Eskimos rolled through Lions almost at will, racking up seven first downs to two for Lions. With Miles and Jack Parker doing most of the carrying, Edmonton picked up 73 yards on the ground to 15 for Lions and another 42 through the air on three completed passes out of six attempts. Lions got eight in the air on the only pass completed in five tries.

Webster Leads Big 4 Scoring by 60 Points

TORONTO (CP) — Alex Webster, 195-pound hard-charging Montreal Alouettes back, is making a runaway race of the Big Four Football scoring championship. The first-year import from North Carolina state leads with 60 points—17 better than the Als' placement-kicking Ray Poole.

Webster, up near the top since the season started in August, scored a touchdown last Saturday as Als walloped Hamilton 46-11 to bring his total to 12 in 10 games. Poole, six-year veteran with New York Giants who went to the Als last year, sat out the weekend game.

Tip Logan, Hamilton's convert-kicking ace, moved into third place ahead of team-mate Bernie Custis. Logan booted a convert and a field goal to raise his total to 42 points, two up on the Syracuse flash who was kept off the scoresheet.

Cookie Gilchrist of Sarnia Imperials took over leadership in the senior Ontario Rugby Football Union from Kitchener's Paul Amodio with a 19-point splurge in the Imperials' last three games. Gilchrist now has 49 points, two up on Amodio.

'Ron Stewart and Gary Schreider of Queen's Golden Gaels are running one-two in the intercollegiate union scoring race. Stewart has 20 points on four touchdowns in two games and Schreider has one less on two majors, eight converts and one single.

Flyers Take Quakers 6-4

EDMONTON (CP) — Edmonton Flyers outscored Saskatoon Quakers 6-4 before 3000 fans Monday night and vaulted into third place in the Western Hockey League.

Rookie centre Norm Ullman scored two goals and was credited with an assist for Flyers. Other Edmonton scorers were centre Bronco Horvath, centre Jerry Melnyk, Al Arbour and Ray Hannigan.

Saskatoon snipers were George Senick, rookie Dick Lamoureux, George Robertson and Vic Lynn.

The win lifted Flyers past Calgary Stampeders into third place behind the leading New Westminster Royals and second-place Vancouver Canucks. Saskatoon remained in fifth place, one point back of Calgary.

The 15 penalties included a 10-minute misconduct against playing coach Doug Bentley of Quakers, who protested too vigorously against a first-period penalty to Robertson for holding.

Two defencemen, Howie Milford of Saskatoon and Larry Ziedel of Edmonton, were banished for five minutes in the third for fighting.

The teams were tied 2-2 at the end of the first and Edmonton took a 4-3 lead by the end of the second. While Milford and Ziedel were off, Flyers went into a 6-3 lead and with less than three minutes remaining, Lynn tallied to end the scoring.

Saxton Faces Lots of Trouble

SUMMIT, N.J. (AP)—Kid Gavilan sees nothing but trouble ahead for Johnny Saxton, the New York Negro who will try to lift his world welterweight title Wednesday night at Philadelphia.

"He has two serious cases," said Gavilan Monday at his training camp. "On Wednesday he comes to my court and on Thursday in traffic court. But first he may go to hospital."

Gavilan referred to Saxton's trouble with the law for ignoring traffic violations in New York. He is scheduled to go to jail for 15 days starting Thursday morning.

The champ, now 28, wouldn't predict a knockout but hinted strongly he planned to "surprise the whole world."

The flashy Cuban said the right hand that bothered him in his middleweight challenge against Bobo Olson at Chicago in April is healed.

The champ also claimed he had recovered from the mumps that forced a postponement of the match Aug. 31.

Recreational Association To Be Formed Tonight

Representatives of recreational organizations will meet with the Nelson Recreational Council tonight at the Civic Centre for the purpose of forming a Nelson recreational association.

This association will be another organ of the newly introduced Community Programs Branch, an organ of the department of education, designed to foster recreation.

Representatives of 15 clubs, organizations and activities met three weeks ago and were given considerable information about the Branch by recreational consultant A. W. Thiessen, recreational director Ed Kelter and the Nelson Recreational Council, which consists of the Civic Centre Commission and two City aldermen. At that time it was decided that the representatives should meet again tonight after they have reported back to their individual clubs to get their impressions.

Under the new recreational set-up, organizations, not individuals, become members of the recreational association. As members they are eligible to receive assistance and instruction in their recreational endeavors if they require it and if they bring to the recreational consultant, director or council's attention their need of assistance.

The Council hopes that the clubs represented at the Sept. 28 meeting will turn out again tonight as well as other organizations not at the previous meeting.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

MONTREAL (CP) — Prices declined irregularly in moderately active trading.

General Dynics lost 1½ points at 62, while Aluminum at 62 and Power Corporation at 43 slipped a point. International Nickel was off ⅝ and Noranda ½. Hudson Bay Mining, Consolidated Smelters and Canadian Sugar dipped ⅝.

LONDON (Reuters)—Prices were quiet, but in spite of the spreading London dock strike and the approaching end of the account, the general performance was not unsatisfactory.

Buyers were cautious, and there was little selling with the result that price movements were small and mixed.

Pickets Turn Away Ford Manager

OAKVILLE, Ont. (CP)—William D. Walker, general manager of Ford's assembly plant here, was turned away by pickets when he tried to pass the gates Monday.

The striking United Automobile Workers (CIO-CCL) have closed the plant to managers and foremen but office workers, maintenance and plant protection staffs move freely through the lines. The union had 125 pickets on the job.

Nearly 800 men went on strike here last Friday over wage demands. Another 1,800 who had been laid off earlier are also affected.

Says Canadian Aluminum Wanted in U.S.

BOSTON (AP) — Nathanael V. Davis, president of Aluminium Ltd. billion-dollar Canadian aluminum holding company, said Monday Canada is a natural supplier for the United States aluminum industry and hence he doubts efforts to increase the U. S. duty will succeed.

Because cheap hydro-electric power is "absolutely necessary" if the cost of aluminum is to be kept down, Davis said, "it is in the best interests of the U. S. economy to regard Canada as a natural source of part of its aluminum requirements and beyond this it is likewise obvious that it is in the best interests of the whole industry in the U. S. to rely partially on Canadian aluminum."

"For every man employed by a U. S. producer of aluminum ingot, hundreds are employed in the U. S. fabricating establishments. Canadian aluminum is the lifeblood of these workers; without it their growth will be restricted."

Tragedy Behind Advertisement

LONDON (AP) — The advertisement read "Wanted—Mother No. 2. In about 18 months according to doctors, Mother No. 2 might become Mother No. 1."

Mrs. Kathleen Ford, 42, explained Monday her husband, Jack, placed the ad in a shop window with her loving approval. Mrs. Ford has tuberculosis. Doctors give her 18 months to live.

"And," she said, "before I die I want to know there is someone to take my place as mother—and perhaps as wife."

THINK OF CHILD

While Mrs. Ford lies in a hospital bed, her husband looks after himself in their two-bedroom apartment. Sheila, their eight-year-old adopted daughter, has to live with foster parents.

"It's not much of a life for either Sheila or Jack," said Mrs. Ford. "Someone has to look after them. I can't—so why should I stand in the way of someone taking my place."

Jack, a house decorator, said: "Our main thought is for Sheila. Before I can have her home I must have someone to look after her while I am at work."

Find Secret Plans In Suspects' Homes

PARIS (Reuters) — Top-secret plans to evacuate Paris and sabotage key points in case of enemy occupation were found at the homes of two men charged with treason for giving French defence secrets to the Communists, interior ministry sources said Monday.

The two are Andre Baranes, Communist newspaper man, and Roger Labrusse, a senior defence official.

The source said counter-intelligence men in raids found copies of the plans which had been entrusted to Capt. Jean August Cazalet, army officer arrested Saturday on treason charges. The copies were made by Cazalet's secretary on his orders.

Cazalet, a former post office employee who became a lieutenant in the resistance movement during the war, joined the Paris military garrison in 1946.

Award Stalin Medal To Defrocked Priest

ROME (AP) — Andrea Gaggero, 38, a defrocked Roman Catholic priest, was given a gold medal emblematic of the Stalin Peace Prize Sunday. He also received a scroll written in Russian and bouquets of red flowers from Italian Communists. He did not get any rubles, although 100,000 of them are supposed to go with the prize.

The Italian government refused to give him a passport to go to Moscow to accept the prize, awarded in December, 1953. He was defrocked seven months before that for having taken part in the 1950 Warsaw peace conference and subsequently refusing to leave the Communist-inspired peace movement.

Fire Scare In Notre Dame Cathedral

PARIS (AP) — Three fire companies were called out Sunday when an alarm went out from famed Notre Dame Cathedral. A lighted cigaret had ignited some waste paper in one of the towers, slightly damaging the wooden floor.

HONG KONG (Reuters) — The Hong Kong department of commerce said Friday trade with Communist China increased "significantly" by about $3,740,000 in September. Hong Kong exported goods worth about $7,280,000 to the Reds during the same period, the report said.

Bond Sales Said "Encouraging"

OTTAWA (CP) — Sales of the ninth series Canada saving bonds opened officially Monday and the Bank of Canada reported that prospects are "very encouraging."

It said reports from investment dealers and banks showed that backlogs of orders are in many cases "at least as large as last year and in some cases exceed it by a substantial margin."

The bank last year sold a peak of more than $900,000,000 worth of the bonds. Many were sold through the payroll savings plan and officials predicted that payroll sales may rise to a new high this year.

Ethiopians Study Law at McGill

MONTREAL (CP) — Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia has his eye on 12 of his subjects enrolled at McGill University.

He is minister of education as well as sovereign and is planning big things in Ethiopia — among them the codification of the country's laws.

Seven of the students recently were formally welcomed into the faculty of law, three into the school of commerce and two others are continuing studies in the faculty of medicine which they entered last year.

Ethiopian law will contain elements of French and English law under the new legal code, said the emperor, who made a formal visit to Canada in the spring and received an honorary doctorate of laws at McGill.

Chaplin Gives Over $5000 To Needy Poor

LONDON (AP)—Charlie Chaplin returned Monday to Lambeth where he lived in poverty as a youth and presented the mayor with a £2000 check to help the poor an dthe old.

"I want it to go to the very lowly, the derelict, the old people as directly as possible," the comedian told a gathering in the town hall of his native borough in south London.

"I can think of no better way to distribute money that came from peace," he said.

The money was part of a peace prize awarded him recently by the Communist-sponsored World Peace Council. He already has given a share of it to the poor in Paris.

IWA Strike Looms In Duncan District

DUNCAN (CP)—Tony Poje, president of the Duncan branch of the International Woodworkers of America (CIO-CCL), said here during the weekend that a strike may be called in his area. Mr. Poje said failure of Western Forest Industries to sign a 1954 master agreement could result in strike action.

Counsel Says Decision Drastic . . .

Canada's Supreme Court Refuses Blair Fraser's Right to Appeal

OTTAWA (CP) — The Supreme Court of Canada Monday unanimously refused Blair Fraser, Ottawa editor of Maclean's Magazine, leave to appeal to the court a decision of the British Columbia courts which strikes out his defence in a libel suit against himself and the semi-monthly magazine.

The B. C. courts invoked a rule striking out Mr. Fraser's entire defence because of his steadfast refusal to divulge the names of his informants for an article entitled "B. C. Coalition Commits Suicide" and published in the Feb. 15, 1952, issue of Maclean's.

NO DEFENCE PERMITTED

Mr. Fraser will be unable to present any defence when the case comes before a trial judge, possibly leaving the judge little else to do than set the amount of damages.

Chief Justice Patrick Kerwin delivered the court's decision immediately after argument by Duncan MacTavish, counsel for Mr. Fraser.

The court did not call upon counsel for Gordon Wismer, former attorney-general of B. C. who is asking unstated damages for an alleged libel in the article dealing with the breakup of he B. C. Liberal-Progressive Conservative coalition government.

SAME ARGUMENT

The chief justice said defence counsel's argument was in essence the same as that presented to the Supreme Court in February. At that time, the court refused Mr. Fraser leave to appeal a B. C. court order that he answer questions designed to obtain from him the sources of his information for the article.

The chief justice gave no other reasons for the court's decision.

Mr. MacTavish said the ruling depriving Mr. Fraser of the right of defence for refusal to answer questions concerning his sources of information, was "extremely drastic."

His motion for leave to appeal was based on the B. C. court order, upheld by the B. C. Appeal Court, that Mr. Fraser's right of defence be struck out.

FREEDOM OF PRESS

Mr. MacTavish said the issue involved important points of law affecting freedom of the press. Mr. Fraser had refused to divulge his sources because he felt he was under a moral obligation to keep their names confidential. He had no intention of being in contempt of court.

Counsel for Mr. Fraser added that elimination of the "sacred right of defence" was a drastic penalty.

Such a case involving a reporter, however, is believed without precedent in Canada.

Two B.C. Towns Branded Anti-Union

VANCOUVER (CP)—Gordon Webb, business agent of the B. C. Auto Workers' Union, branded Chilliwack and Kelowna "anti-union towns".

He made the charge at the second annual convention of the B.C. Trade Union Congress while asking delegates to launch an all-out trade union organizational drive throughout the province.

"Chilliwack and Kelowna have continually resisted attempts to organize workers there," Mr. Webb said. "Some unions do exist in these cities, but most organizational attempts have been met with vicious opposition.

The Auto Workers' official claimed employers at Chilliwack had threatened their employees with firing if they attempted to join a union.

Abstainer Buys and Closes Tavern

KELD, England (Reuters) — A teetotalling farmer bought the only tavern in this remote Yorkshire village and closed it down.

His neighbors, used to a friendly evening in the "pub", now must tramp over four miles of bleak, hilly moors to quench their thirsts.

At a meeting Sunday they decided to draw up a petition to have the tavern reopened. "It's not so much the lack of a place where you can get a drink," one villager complained. "There is nowhere to play dominoes and darts, nowhere to meet people to talk over farming and such like in the evenings."

But the new owner, 31-year-old James Alderton, refuses to budge from his point of view.

"I know what the villagers are saying, but I don't care. I'm not a man to change my mind. The place will never be an inn again while I own it."

MONTGOMERY TO OPEN TORONTO WINTER FAIR

TORONTO — Field Marshal, the Viscount Montgomery of Alamein, K.G., G.C.B., D.S.O., Commander of the British and Canadian land forces in Europe during World War II, will officially open the 1954 Royal Agricultural Winter Fair being held in the Coliseum, Toronto, November 12 to 20, it was announced by the Royal's General Manager, C. S. McKee.

World's largest desert area, the Sahara in North Africa, covers about 3,500,000 square miles.

PPCLI Officer Dies In Car Accident

OTTAWA (CP) — Capt. Robert Kitchener Swinton, 36, of Vancouver was killed in a motor accident in Germany last week, army headquarters said Monday.

Capt. Swinton, who acted as aide to Lady Patricia Ramsay when she visited the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry in Germany recently, was fatally injured Oct. 15 and died in hospital the following day.

His wife, Mary Theresa Swinton, was staying near Soest where the FPCLI is stationed.

Junior Hurricane Batters B.C. Coast

VANCOUVER (CP)—Winds estimated at hurricane force battered the offshore waters of British Columbia Sunday.

The Dominion Public Weather Office here, while admitting that the winds were of "considerable velocity", said, however, "There is a lot of difference between actual speed and estimated speed — as much as 30 miles an hour."

Northern mainland points estimated the speed of the winds at 90 miles an hour. Sandspit, in the Queen Charlotte Islands, submitted estimates of 70 miles an hour, "with gusts to $90."

No casualties were reported.

Highest estimates came from Dead Tree Point, lonely lighthouse in the Queen Charlottes, which reported winds of "100 miles an hour —the windows blew in."

Weather office officials said gusts in some areas "might have approached hurricane force", which they defined as winds 75 miles an hour and higher.

Promotion Scheme For Coast Police

VANCOUVER (CP) — Chief constable Walter Mulligan announced Monday a system of examinations for a police promotion scheme will be ready to go into effect next January.

Mulligan said the executive officers of the police department will draw up a system of tests and examinations.

Present scheme for promotions has been under fire by the Police Union.

Announcement of the new plan follows hard on the heels of the institution of the one-man patrol car system in the city, which went into effect Sunday.

Londoners Enjoy Warmer Weather

LONDON (AP)—It was summer in autumn Monday for Londoners who shivered in July. The thermometers flirted with 70 degrees for the second day in a row.

This warmest October in nine years made office workers loosen their collars and take mid-day walks along the Thames, though the day was overcast and muggy.

In some other places British weather still was British weather. A 24-hour rain flooded Glasgow streets. Forecast there: More rain. There also were floods in rural Northumberland areas and along the Tyne near Newcastle.

Honor Sevastapol

MOSCOW (AP) — The Supreme Soviet Sunday awarded the order of the red banner to the Crimean city of Sevastapol to commemorate the city's defence 100 years ago against British, French and Turkish forces in the Crimean War. Savastapol held out 11 months against those attackers Newspaper articles Monday compare that defence with the city's resistance against Hitler's armies in the Second World War.

Russ Not Looking for War but West Must Be Wary Says Lord Coleraine

LONDON (Reuters) — The Conservative leader of a bipartisan parliamenatry delegation to Russia says that from all indications Russia does not want war—but he warns the West to keep its guard up.

Lord Coleraine, who as Richard Law was minister of state at the foreign office, was speaking at the airport when the delegation of 16 arrived Sunday night after a 16-day tour of the Soviet Union.

He declared of the Russians:

"They will be careful not to get into the situation which would drag them into war.

"But the principal desire of the Soviet government is to see us disarmed physically and psychologically, and I think that if they succeeded in doing that the danger of war would be greater than it is today.

"It seems we have got to combine and respond as far as we can do the new look at the same time maintaining and increasing our political defensive measures."

During its visit the delegation of Conservative and Labor members saw more of life and industrial development in the Soviet Union than any other delegation since the war.

Coleraine told reporters that just because "we have travelled a fortnight in the Soviet Union we have not come back experts on Russia." But "this parliamentary delegation is composed of very experienced observers and I think our collective judgment will be of some value."

Labor MP Ness Edwards said the delegation was conscious of the apparent poverty of elderly people—"One of the things that distressed us there."

"Living space is not as good as ours. Wages are lower than ours, on the average. Working hours are longer."

Ike's Advisers See Business Expansion Ahead

DETROIT (AP)—President Eisenhower's chief economic adviser said Monday business signposts indicate the United States is entering a new era of economic expansion.

Dr. Arthur Burns, chairman of the council of economic advisers, said the recent decline in employment and business "has been halted."

In fact, Burns said, the country has witnessed a "remarkable achievement" in that during a period when industrial production dropped nine per cent, net income or spending by individuals increased substantially.

BUSINESS SITUATION

Burns gave his views on the current business situation in an address to the Economic Club of Detroit.

Between July, 1953, and July, 1954, income to individuals from production fell by an annual rate of about $3,500,000,000. During the same period, however, tax reductions and increased social security benefits put about $5,000,000,000 in the hands of consumers, he said.

FORECASTS UPTURN

As for current business sign posts, Burns gave three reasons for believing the country is in for an economic upturn:

1. The late 1953 decline in total economic output was small and has been halted.

2. A recovery has been under way in financial and investment markets for some months.

Police To Inquire Into Navy Canteen

HALIFAX (CP) — The navy said Monday it has asked Halifax police to investigate "alleged irregularities" in the operation of the canteen at the big Stadacona shore station here.

The bare announcement by Rear Admiral R. E. S. Bidwell, Flag Officer Atlantic Coast, said a naval board of inquiry also may be convened to determine whether "any service personnel are involved."

The request to Halifax police indicated the navy's primary suspicion was directed at civilians although the announcement did not say so.

The statement did not specify whether the "irregularities" concerned stores or funds. Senior officers refused to comment.

Difficulties Ended In Suez Contract

CAIRO (Reuters) — Major Salah Salem, Minister of National Guidance, says British-Egyptian negotiations on the future of the Suez canal base have finally cleared all obstacles and the evacuation agreement will be signed at the end of this week.

Salem said the differences of the last few days had not been concerned with matters of principle, but with details, such as the housing of British civilian contractors and their staffs, who will operate the future canal base.

"But all these differences now have been overcome," Salem told a press conference of Egyptian newspaper editors.

U.S. Rejects Hike On Barley Tariff

WASHINGTON (Reuters)—President Eisenhower issued an order Monday limiting imports of barley into the United States to 27,500,000 bushels for the year which began Oct. 1.

At the same time, the president rejected a recommendation by the tarrif commision that the United States add a tarrif fee of eight cents a bushel on imports above 22,500,000 bushels.

The commision had investigated barley imports after receiving complaints that they were threatening markets for domestic barley.

$250,000 Donated To Storm Centre

TORONTO (CP) — The Toronto Star announced Monday that the Atkinson Charitable Foundation is donating $250,000 to the flood relief fund for storm-battered central Ontario.

It will be the biggest donation ever made by the fund, established upon the death of Joseph E. Atkinson, publisher of the Toronto Daily Star and the Star Weekly.

Truck Strike Ends, New York

NEW YORK (AP)—Truck traffic flowed into New York City at normal rate Monday amid indications that united employer resistance to a general wage strike of drivers in the metropolitan area was over.

Police at the vehicular tunnels from New Jersey said cargo carriers were moving "without any evidence of a strike," and were carrying all types of merchandise.

At the headquarters of the AFL Brotherhood of Teamsters, a number of truck owners were lining up to sign separate contracts.

The developments marked a swift change from the situation Sunday night, when a spokesman for the trucking firms predicted a lengthy strike, unified resistance to the drivers' demands, and announced filing of a $10,000,000 damage suit.

NECESSITIES NOT INVOLVED

Food, fuel and other necessities are not involved in the strike, since they are handled by drivers covered by separate contracts.

During the weekend the union signed contracts with a number of firms that came to terms after the strike began at midnight Friday night. It had no effect during the weekend business lull.
