London Demands Action Against Smog That Kills

Death Toll 6000 in Single Month As City Wallows in Daytime Darkness

LONDON (AP)—Alarmed Londoners are clamoring for government action to stop a series of smoke-laden fogs that have hastened the death of thousands of persons in a winter of daytime darkness.

Newspapers, members of Parliament and private citizens have joined in the demands. Prime Minister Churchill's government has already said it is treating it as "a problem of the very greatest urgency."

Deadly fogs have settled over London repeatedly since early December. Hundreds of thousands of persons have been sickened. The economic loss — from grounded planes, dirtied clothing and slowed commerce—runs into many millions of pounds.

The air ministry meteorological bureau says it has been the foggiest season in many years. Experts say the fogs have contained more filth, especially sulphuric acid, than ever before.

"Massacre" was the way Lord Beaverbrook's Evening Standard described the fogs in an editorial, noting that the December death toll from fog—6000 — nearly equalled the toll of 6957 killed by Nazi bombers in September, 1940, the worst month of the blitz.

The number killed so far in January has not been announced.

MASS EXTERMINATION

"It's almost on the scale of mass extermination," said Marcus Lipton, Labor member of Parliament.

Many Londoners, coughing grit from fog-crusted lungs and feeling ague aches in the chest, are frightened. There is uncertainty over see the stage.

whether anything effective can be done.

Experts say that controlling the smoke and fumes belching from factory chimneys would help materially.

Many point with concern to the vast number of open-fire places in London, where central heating is a luxury. Most fireplaces burn soft coal, which shoots soot and fumes into the air.

When all this is mixed up with fog the result is a black, nauseating mixture which people can smell and taste.

The polluted air causes a strain on the hearts of persons whose respiratory systems are diseased or weakened. It also brings on bronchitis and pneumonia. Most deaths attributed to the fogs are from heart trouble or respiratory diseases.

Women have gone to lingerie shops in record numbers to shop for black unmentionables. They said the fog put tattle-tale grey on other colors. Hairdressers said their appointments for shampoos doubled.

Opera fans in the galleries during the last fog demanded their money back because they couldn't

New 'Phone Line to Lower Arrow Lake by This Week

B. C. Telephone Company officials said here Sunday a cut-off in tele-communication with the Lower Arrow Lake has resulted from a cut-on of power into the Syringa Creek area. Lower Arrow Lake residents have been without telephone communication for 39 days. (See Letter to the Editor)

Telephone service should be restored to the isolated communities this week.

The power line which will extend from Robson to Syringa Creek when completed, has been under construction for the past two months. As the line progresses, power is being cut on. On December 7, the telephone line was made completely useless by the noise and interference, caused by electricity. It was impossible to hear on either end of the communication because of static.

A completely new metallic line is now under construction for the vital six-mile stretch. It is expected to be completed within the next few days, its telephone official advised.

Failure on other lines had forced the company to take its crew from this job and hampered construction of the new line.

New Bridge for North Saskatchewan

REGINA (CP) — Work on a new bridge across the North Saskatchewan at Prince Albert may be started within the next year, Highways Minister J. T. Douglas announced Saturday.

In an interview with a Prince Albert delegation, another provincial cabinet member, Resources Minister J. H. Brockelbank, indicated Prince Albert also would have the support of the Saskatchewan government in pressing the Federal government to hard-surface the runways at its airport.

Mr. Douglas said there is "a very grave need" for a new traffic bridge at the Northern Saskatchewan city. Preliminary work had been started by the department of highways about a year ago. Work on the estimates would start as soon as possible. It was possible that work on the bridge could be started within the next year.

$4½ Million Dam For Columbia

SPOKANE (AP) — Glen Smothers, manager of the Grant County Public Utility district, announced Friday the district plans to construct a $4,500,000 power dam at Priest Rapids on the Columbia River.

The huge project would be capable of producing one and one-half million kilowatts of power.

Smothers said power from the dam would be marketed in the Spokane, Seattle and Tacoma areas and that officials of Tacoma and Seattle have been approached on the possibility of those two cities joining in sponsorship of the project.

Lady Luck for A Passenger

VANCOUVER (CP) — An RCAF reserve pilot walked away Sunday from his second plane wreck in two months.

FO. Charles Dodwell of Vancouver suffered only shock and a cut head when his Mustang fighter crashed near Vancouver international airport shortly after takeoff.

Dodwell, a member of RCAF 443 New Westminster squadron, survived a wingtip collision between two Vampire jets Nov. 9 over Boundary Bay, 30 miles south of here.

FO. William Ross was killed in that collision when his jet exploded. Dodwell managed to fly back to the airport.

In Sunday's crack-up Dodwell's was one of five planes taking off. Engine trouble is believed to be the cause of the smash which ripped off the propeller and much of the undercarriage.

REGINA (CP)—An RCAF Beechcraft twin-engined plane crashed while taking off from Regina airport Sunday but none of its four occupants was injured.

Barrage of Ground Fire Halts Infantry At Attack's Climax

SEOUL (AP) — United Nations ground troops, following up artillery mass fire, steel-spitting tanks and 40 fire-bombing planes, were stopped cold by Reds Sunday in the climax of the Allies biggest coordinated raid of the year.

The raid, called "Operation Smack", was witnessed by invited high officers of the U. S. air and ground forces and war correspondents. Ground action elsewhere was light.

The attack, planned since Jan. 19, ticked off according to schedule until the infantry, trudging up little Spud hill in the final act, were caught in a deadly hail of Communist ground fire and grenades within 15 yards of the crest.

After heavy fighting the UN troops pulled back to their own lines, 4½ hours after the attack began at 1 p.m.

The Allied soldiers killed about 35 Chinese and wounded some 30 more while the spectators watched from a forward observation bunker. The UN soldiers used flame-throwers in the fight.

Allied losses were not announced, but armored personnel carriers dashed through bursting Red mortar and heavy small arms fire, picking up and bringing out casualties.

A wounded infantryman told AP correspondent Forrest Edwards:

"Despite everything thrown at them before we jumped off, the Gooks weathered it in their rabbit holes, trenches and bunkers.

"They lobbed hand grenades down on us as we started up the hill and as we got close to the top they caught us in cross-fire from two directions.

"It was pure hell that fight they put up. We got to within 15 yards of the highest point but we simply could not go any farther."

The costly assault was billed beforehand as a "raid." The division involved in the action distributed mimeographed programs in fancy covers to dozens of invited guests and correspondents, Edwards said.

Guerrilla Loses Duel With Helicopter

SEOUL (AP) — Five United States Marines in a helicopter killed a Communist guerrilla Saturday in one of the oddest duels of the Korean war.

The Guerrilla opened fire first and hit the helicopter three times with an American .45-calibre pistol-rated notoriously hard to shoot straight without long practice.

The Marines, 50 feet above the ground and travelling nearly 60 miles an hour, were even better marksmen. Firing carbines and pistols, they shot the guerrilla in the head and chest.

The guerrilla had put one slug into the instrument panel of the helicopter. The Marines were not hit.

8-Hour Battle Quells Blaze

WINNIPEG (CP) — Fire Saturday caused an estimated $30,000 damage to four Main Street buildings, six businesses and two apartments.

No one was injured and no estimate of damage to contents was available.

Firemen from four halls fought the blaze for eight hours. They were pouring water Sunday afternoon on the smoking debris in the basement of a drug store where the fire is believed to have started.

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP) — Five elderly men burned to death Sunday when fire swept the interior of a unit of a Billings nursing home.

A sixth patient at the home is in critical condition at a local hospital from burns suffered in an attempt to rescue one of the victims. Two other patients escaped.

Exploding Shoe Puts Owner in Hospital

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — A Boise ditchmaster is in hospital because his shoes exploded.

Clarence Martin said he put sodium chlorate in some ditches about three weeks ago. The weather was wet and his shoes apparently soaked up some of the explosive chemical.

Last Friday, as he was installing a headgate, he set a grass fire to clear a ditch. He kicked some burning trash into the fire and his shoes exploded, leaving the uppers in shreds.

He ran across the street and jumped into a puddle of water. Shortly afterward, he entered hospital with burns.

NEW YORK (AP) — The tiny Icelandic freighter Foldin, battered by 45-foot waves, called for help Sunday from a little-travelled lane in northern seas.

Her steering gear broken, the Foldin sent an SOS from 100 miles off the southern tip of Greenland.

The message said the 621-ton ship and crew of 15 were at the mercy of gale winds.

Two U.S. Coast Guard cutters left weather stations to help.

A FREE BEER FOR BONNER

VICTORIA (CP) — Attorney-General Robert Bonner today was invited to partake of free beer.

The invitation came from James Thirlwall, head waiter at an Esquimalt beer parlor and secretary of Local 813, Beverage Dispensers' Union.

"I'll buy the beer if he'll come out and see how silly the government's one-glass-at-a-time order is," Thirlwall said.

He said waiters and beer parlor patrols disapprove of the new order.

Thirlwall also contended the new order is forcing slow drinkers to drink quickly.

HLADIY IS RECONVICTED

34-Year-Old Immigrant to Hang April 25

PORT ARTHUR (CP) —George Gregory Hladiy, 33, was convicted Saturday of the murder of Joseph Panok last July 26. He was sentenced to be hanged April 25.

The jury deliberated for more than seven hours before reaching a verdict.

Hladiy showed no emotion when the sentence was passed by Mr. Justice R. L. Ferguson.

The body of the 34-year-old Panok was found last Aug. 8 floating in the McIntyre River, weighted down with railway plates.

Hladiy was convicted of murder last September and sentenced to be hanged. He was later granted a new trial.

Friday Hladiy testified he struck Panok in self-defence. Speaking through an interpreter, the immigrant said he and Panok were in the railway yards looking for wheat in boxcars, when Panok tried to slip a rope around his neck. He said he hit Panok, weighted the body and threw it in the river.

Hladiy met Panok in a displaced persons camp in Europe. Panok joined him later in Port Arthur.

CHILD CRUSHED

CALGARY (CP) — Five-year-old Robert Bilodeau was crushed to death under the wheels of a five-ton truck Saturday while playing a few yards from his home.

He was Calgary's third traffic fatality of the year.

The boy was playing near his home with a group of other youngsters when the fatal mishap occurred.

Driver of the cement-mixer truck, Herman Jensen, told police that when the children saw the approaching truck, they ran to the side of the road. After slowing to about five miles per hour, Jensen said, he drove on. Then he heard a scream and stopped immediately. When he jumped from his truck he saw a body lying in the street.

Italian Officer to Serve Ten Years

PADOVA, Italy (AP)—A military court has sentenced an Italian reserve officer to 12 years in prison for disclosing secret military information to Yugoslavia. Lieut. Felice Zorza, 26, was convicted of supplying information about one of Italy's new armored divisions.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP) — The Norwegian freighter Kent County remained hard aground on Little Bell Island Sunday night as another craft, the British-owned Saint Edmund limped toward port with her topside split.

The 7233-ton Kent County clipped her moorings off the iron ore centre of Wabana during a winter storm Thursday.

The salvage tug Foundation Lillian out of Halifax made several attempts to free her. Other attempts possibly will be delayed until Thursday when higher tides are due.

Empress of Canada Gutted In Mystery Dockside Blaze

SUCH WAS THE EMPRESS OF CANADA in her days of service before World War II. The vessel, painted a gleaming all-white for her post war service, today lies a blackened hulk in the Liverpool harbor.

Firefighters Helpless as Flames Consume Spruced-Up Ship; No Lives Lost in Eight-Hour Fire

By SIDNEY WEILAND

LIVERPOOL (Reuters).—The liner Empress of Canada lay on her side in her berth today—a wreck after fire had eaten through her vitals for eight hours.

Firemen who battled the $5,000,000 blaze gave her up for lost shortly after the 25-year-old Canadian Pacific Steamships liner settled in the water at dockside and heeled over.

No passengers were aboard and no crew members were lost in the fierce fire aboard the 20,235-ton Empress which had just undergone an overhaul to spruce her up for the Coronation trade. The mystery fire started somewhere below decks, possibly in the dispensary.

Knots of grim firefighters and dockyard workers stood hopelessly by watching the last moments of the gutted ship which burned from bridge to stern.

Witnesses said the ship rolled over "with groans just like a crying child" from the force of the air pressure, and finally rested half submerged, with her starboard side uppermost.

FIREMEN FORCED TO ABANDON

Firemen were forced to abandon her when the first got out of control. They leaped to the dockside as her white-hot plates buckled, sending rivets whining through the air like bullets. The few crew members working below when the fire started escaped, making their way to safety through the maze of passageways as the fire burned around them.

Soon after the firemen were safely off the ship she began to heel over rapidly. Her superstructure and funnels crashed into a dockside shed which was pierced by the ship's yardarm. The liner was laying almost on her side up against the dockside.

Minutes later she slid gently off the dock and settled quietly on her side in the dirty water of her berth. Blinding clouds of smoke and steam billowed up above the hulk.

Officials called it a "total loss."

The Empress was due to sail on a return voyage to Saint John, N. B., with passengers Feb. 11. Capt. J. P. Dobson, master of the liner and its crew of Britons, was at his Liverpool home on leave.

Flagship of Canadian Pacific Steamships, the Empress for 25 years plowed her stately way down the St. Lawrence from Montreal, calling at Quebec City, then at Saint John, N. B., before entering the open Atlantic on her run to Liverpool.

She wasn't always the Empress of Canada. She was best known, perhaps, as the Duchess of Richmond—one of a line of ships known affectionately to Canadians as the "drunken duchesses" because of a reputation for rolling.

She was renamed after the war, in which she carried 187,000 Allied troops 436,000 miles, in honor of the first Empress of Canada, a victim of enemy action off Freetown, West Africa, in 1943, with a loss of 400 lives.

The first Empress of Canada was one of 14 ships lost by the Canadian Pacific in war service. Another was the pride of the line, the Empress of Britain.

NEW SHIP

Only recently, managing director A. C. MacDonald of CP Steamships said during a trip to England that the keel of a ship to replace the Empress of Canada would be laid on the Clyde late next Summer or early Autumn. The new ship would take two or three years to build.

It was not immediately known what the company would do to accommodate passengers booked for Coronation crossings. She normally took about six days to cross and could have made several trips in the weeks immediately preceding the Coronation June 2.

DEFEATS SALMO 10-4 . . .

Cranbrook Wins B.C. High School Curling

VERNON, B.C. (CP)—Cranbrook defeated Salmo 10-4 in the British Columbia high school curling playdowns here during the weekend and won the right to represent B.C. at the national playdowns at Saskatoon.

Salmo eliminated the defending champion Vernon 7-5 in the semi-finals.

Forgery Plan Thwarted

EDMONTON (CP) — Edmonton police say they have thwarted what they believe was a plan to loose a flood of forged checks on city merchants and others. Detective George Watson said about $40,000 would have been netted if all the checks had been cashed.

Detectives unearthed a total of 89 uncashed checks made out on the check-writing machine of an Edmonton investment firm and drawn on the firm's account.

Three men are in custody and have been remanded without bail until Thursday. They are Earle Bradeford of Vancouver and two 18-year-old Edmonton youths, John Carson and Gary Aitkins. All are charged with uttering forged documents.

Bradeford was arrested in a department store after attempting to cash a $156 check. Watson got on the trail of the others when he noticed the word "January" in the date of the check had been misspelled in a manner similar to another bad check that had turned up a few days earlier.

A search of the rooming house where Bradeford and Aitkins stayed turned up 36 checks made out for varying amounts, Watson's report said. Additional evidence led the detective to the home of Carson where another 53 checks for amounts from $126 to $160 were found.

Journalist Wins Auto Rally

MONTE CARLO (AP) — Maurice Gatsonides, 41-year-old Dutch journalist, won this year's Monte Carlo Auto Rally, officials disclosed Sunday night after laboring through more than 10,000 arithmetical calculations.

The event is generally regarded as the supreme test of skill and endurance for both drivers and their stock cars. The driving part ended Sunday morning with 101 automobiles going through a 45-mile precision drive over an Alpine road.

Peter Worledge, 38-year-old Londoner, was Gatsonides' team-mate on the drive.

Second place went to the British team of Ian Appleyard and his wife.

Claims Uranium Find in Utah

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (CP) — Charles Steen, 33-year-old geologist, claims he has struck an unusually-high grade of uranium ore in southeast Utah. The pitchblende is not as high-grade as that found in northern Saskatchewan "but it is big," said James Davenport, an associate of the Geologist. Steen said he is shipping 30 to 40 tons of ore a day to U.S. Vanadium Corp., at Thompson, Utah.

Pontiff Sick

By FRANK BRUTTO

VATICAN CITY (CP) — The Pope was reported Sunday to be suffering from bronchial pneumonia.

Vatican sources, disclosing that the 76-year-old pontiff is more seriously ill than at first indicated, said, however, that he continues to show improvement and that there is no cause for concern.

The Pope was visibly wearly during the public consistory in St. Peter's Basilica Jan. 15, when he placed the red hat on the heads of new cardinals of the church. He took to his bed Thursday.

The Vatican press office at first said he suffered from a slight attack of influenza accompanied by moderate fever. Saturday the Vatican's L'Osservaotre Romano referred to the Pope's ailment for the first time, saying it was accompanied by "irritation of the respiratory tract."

Sunday Vatican sources said his ailment was bronchial pneumonia. The Pope has suffered bronchial irritations frequently in the past. This was one of the reasons why in recent years he has extended his stay at the Castel Gandolfo pontifical summer residence on the shore of Lake Albano.

Vatican sources also disclosed that the Pope's physician, Prof. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi, has been staying at the Vatican since Friday to be more-readily available if needed.

ATTENDS TO CHURCH AFFAIRS

Despite his ailment, the Pope continued Sunday to attend to affairs of the church. He received his pro-secretaries of state, and recited the rosary for the return to Italy of war prisoners reported still held in Russia. Prayers were being offered throughout Italy Sunday for this intention. The Pope recited the rosary in his Vatican apartment, surrounded by the few members of his intimate household.

Veterans Attack Communism

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian war veterans of Ukrainian descent attacked Communism at a weekend conference here.

One resolution condemned the "unscrupulous manner in which the natural desire for peace in the hearts of all people is being exploited to mask and hide the aggressive and underground revolutionary actions of the Communists."

Another urged the Canadian government to expand its international broadcasts to tell more people behind the Iron Curtain about Canadian freedoms.

NEW YORK (CP) — Seventeen passengers aboard a Trans-Canada Air Lines plane bound for New York from Toronto Saturday night were shaken and bruised when the plane encountered a violent downdraught. The four-engined North Star dropped 600 feet but was not damaged.

$200,000 for Games Facilities

VANCOUVER (CP)—The British Columbia government, asked for considerably more, is earmarking $200,000 towards the cost of facilities needed when Vancouver presents the British Empire Games in 1954.

Premier W.A.C. Bennett announced the government grant Friday night at the annual meeting of the Vancouver Board of Trade, saying the amount was decided upon after a thorough study of the province's financial picture.

The grant matches similar contributions by Vancouver and the federal government but falls short of hte $500,000 asked by the B.E.G. executive committee on numerous trips to Victoria in recent weeks.

The B. C. grant, officials said, will be used toward construction of a swimming pool, expected to cost around $300,000.

Says CBC Okays Coast TV Site

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Vancouver Province says the CBC is reported to have approved a site in North Vancouver for a TV transmitter. The site is reported to be at the 1700-foot level.

The Porvince also said that residents of the area plan a protest, fearing their district will be rezoned to allow the transmitter to be built.

"It could mean anything afterwards," said one resident. "What's to stop rezoning for a sawmill or some other industrial building. It might also mean a forest of towers with other stations seeking transmitter sites."

CBC spokesmen declined to comment on the Province report.

UNIONS WALK OUT

CHICAGO (AP) — Members of five railway unions walked off their jobs on the Chicago Great Western Railway Sunday in a dispute involving more than 600 claims and grievances.

Picket lines were established in some places, but there were no reports of disorder.

The railroad, mainly a freight carrier, operates some 1500 miles of line from Chicago to Omaha, Neb., and from Kansas City north to Minneapolis and St. Paul.

CGW officials said the strike involved "several hundred workers."

BUSH PILOT MISSING

WINNIPEG (CP) — A bush pilot is unreported in lake country 98 miles Northeast of Winnipeg since taking off Friday in rainy weather, RCAF officials reported Sunday night.

The pilot, James Block, left Bisset Lake and was believed to be flying to Moore Lake, just 15 miles away. Block was flying a Piper Cub.

An RCMP ground party started a search Sunday.

An RCAF Dakota aircraft with a para-rescue team is scheduled to leave Winnipeg Monday morning to search the area.

Agriculture Group Would Ban Use Of Vegetable Oils in Dairy Products

VICTORIA (CP) — Provincial legislation to prevent the use of vegetable oils in the manufacture of dairy products will be sought by the Western Federation of Agriculture.

Decision to seek new legislation was taken Saturday at a conference here.

Products made from oils include evaporated milk, table and whipping cream and cheese. They are also used in the manufacture of margarine.

"It hardly seems fair to see our dairy industry collapse due to competition from oils," said Agriculture Minister David Ure of Alberta.

He also told the delegates from British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba that most of the oils came from countries with a lower standard of living than in Canada.

"The dairy industry here is an important one," he said. "It provides many Canadians with a livelihood."

The meeting adopted a resolution asking protective tariffs to prevent the dumping in Canada of U.S.-grown vegetables. The resolution was sponsored by B.C. growers.

VEGETABLE IMPORTS EXCEED EXPORTS

A. W. McLelan, Cloverdale, B.C., said for the first nine months of 1952 vegetable imports from the United States reached the value of more than $32,000,000, while Canadian vegetable exports to the U.S. totalled only $4,000,000

The meeting also endorsed a resolution asking the federal government for study of the conditions in the small fruit industry.

Charles Walls of Victoria, who proposed the resolution, claimed that the importation of strawberries and raspberries from the Netherlands is damaging the industry.

The meeting went on record as approving the International Wheat Agreement and requested the federal government to increase ceiling and floor prices on wheat.

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Ottilie Silver, 64, was awarded a divorce Friday, but she must pay Charles Silver $150 a month alimony and $500 in legal fees. Silver's lawyer said his 54-year-old client is jobless and that Mrs. Silver is a member of a wealthy family. He argued that under California law, the spouse who has the money is required to support the other.

ABILENE, Texas (AP)—Jesse James entered the First State bank at 12:01 a.m. Friday.

Bankers tumbled out of bed when they heard that the bank had been entered. Wyman Rose, executive vice-president, hurried downtown, keys in hand.

The money was safe; locked in the vault.

Banker Rose thanked patrolman Jesse James, who found the door unlocked while on his rounds.

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Sgt. Luther Seldon Jr. stationed in Germany, received a 30-day leave from the army and decided to surprise his wife by showing up at their home here.

When he arrived home this week, the sergeant found his wife had been preparing a surprise for him, too . . . She had already sailed for Munich to join her husband.

NEW YORK (AP)—"Getting married, please give us 20 minutes."

Patrolman Frank Baker read this note on a windshield Friday as he was tagging automobiles parked illegally near the municipal building.

Out of the building came David Jackier and his bride, the former Gloria Olson, 24.

Baker waved them on—without a ticket.

"He's getting a life sentence." Baker said. "What would 20 minutes mean?"

South Korean Army Can Be Built Up To Hold Battle Front—Van Fleet

By STAN CARTER

SEOUL (AP) — Gen. James A. Van Fleet believes the South Korean Army can be built up within 12 months to hold the entire 155-mile Korean battle front—if the United Nations would decide to stay on the present line.

The retiring U. S. Eighth Army commander said such a plan "would depend on whether the UN command wishes to hold the present line or move forward."

"The Republic of Korea Army is a proven army," he told a Press conference Sunday night. "They have sufficient manpower in Korea to support a much larger army."

Korean divisions gradually are taking over the front from U. S. divisions, presumably as part of President Eisenhower's expressed wishes to pull Americans off the line.

The South Koreans now hold roughly two-thirds of the front.

Twelve Korean divisions have been activated, eight less than Van Fleet recommended, he outfitted.

Eisenhower has said he plans to speed the activation of more Korean divisions.

The exact number of troops in a Korean division has not been announced but is estimated at more than 10,000 fighting men and higher with attached units.

Presumably U. S. troops in the rear areas would continue to support Korean troops on the front lines, supplementing their combat strength wherever deficient.

There has been no suggestion thus far that allied air power be curtailed or turned over completely to the Koreans.

Van Fleet also said he believes other United Nations countries besides the U. S. should send "appreciably more" troops to Korea.

"It is my opinion that they should, and I have recommended so," he said.

Van Fleet, who reaches the retirement age of 61 in March, will turn over command of the Eighth Army early next month to Lt.-Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, deputy chief of staff for operations and administration.

Taylor leaves Washington Monday evening and is due in Tokyo at Gen. Mark Clark's Far East headquarters Thursday, Tokyo time.

Van Fleet, a West Point classmate of Eisenhower, has been mentioned as a possible nominee for a diplomatic post—possibly as ambassador to Greece—after retirement.

He will report to Eisenhower when he returns to the U. S.

15-Year Problem . . .

Standard Plumbing in S. Nelson Sanitation Needed

Enforcement of the city Water Bylaw regarding the proper disposal of water drainage and sewage, and the installation of standard plumbing in South Nelson and district will "make for better sanitation in Nelson," a quarterly report by Sanitary Inspector A. G. Boas states. The South Nelson problem has existed for over 15 years.

Although a number of Nelson homes have connected with city sewer, there are still some who could do so. In Salmo, the report says, the temporary sewer line has been completed. General sanitation in Salmo is "fair" and in Kaslo, sanitation is reportedly in "good" condition.

The city of Nelson's new garbage collection schedule is working satisfactorily and complaints are at a standstill, Mr. Boas reports.

"It is felt," he states, "that a little more co-operation could be given local business places such as replacing old garbage cans and doing a little cleaning up around the cans."

In general, however, conditions are "good." In the unorganized districts where no garbage is picked up, the health department has urged homeowners not to dump garbage on the highways.

Inspections of restaurants, cafes, lunch counters, bakery shops, butcher shops, grocery stores, and beer parlors were carried out. In a number of these places renovation has been completed. This is a step towards good shop management. This slow and gradual improvement of these premises has made it possible for the staff to practice better sanitation, but with the large turn over of staff in eating places, a routine check has still to be done and personal supervision carried out, it was reported.

Set Stage for Doctors' Trials

By DON DALLAS

LONDON (Reuters) — Moscow newspapers have begun setting the stage for the forthcoming trial of nine Russian doctors on charges of plotting to shorten the lives of Soviet leaders. They carried articles Sunday recalling a 1938 trial of doctors on similar charges.

Pravda and other newspapers published stories commemorating the 18th anniversary of the death of Valerian Kuibishev, one of the early Bolshevik leaders.

In March, 1938, more than three years after Kuibishev's death, four doctors were accused of having killed him and other leaders. They were among the 21 defendants at the last of the four mass treason trials of the '30s. Three of the four doctors were executed, while the other was jailed for 25 years.

There are several parallels between this case and that of the nine doctors—at least five of them Jewish—currently accused.

In each case a former chief physician at the Kremlin hospital was indicted—in 1938 Prof. Lev G. Levin, in 1953 Prof. P. I. Yegorov.

At the 1938 trial the doctors were said to have killed off not only Kuibishev but also the great writer Maxim Gorky, his son and a former secret-police chief.

"HASTENED DEATH"

The doctors currently accused are said to have hastened the death of Andrei Zhdanov, one of Stalin's right-hand men, and Alexander Scherbakov, a Politburo member and Zhdanov's brother-in-law. They are also said to have tried to undermine the health of several high military leaders.

The Soviet Press has been referring to the medical men now accused as "monsters and murderers," "doctor-wreckers" and "fiends in human form."

Moscow Sunday papers drew the lesson from both cases of the doctors that "foreign imperialists," sending "spies and murderers" in the Soviet Union were to blame and that there must be an all-round increase in "vigilance." Moscow propaganda has, ever since the announcement of the doctors' plot, Jan. 13, been soft-pedalling the anti-Jewish aspect of tre case.

Slocan Teachers Get $5200 Annual Increase

Slocan School District No. 8 teachers were granted a 4.92 per cent wage increase Saturday following two-day arbitration board hearings for higher wages here.

Increases granted by the board amount to approximately $5288 annually, chairman of the board Paul Barber estimated. Teachers asked about $25,000.

Payroll of the district board for 34 teachers was $107,000 annually and on the present basis will be increased to approximately $112,000. This doesn't allow for September increases for additional years of service.

In a joint statement Sunday afternoon L. McLean, chairman of the salary committee and T. D. Wilkinson, president of the Slocan Valley Teachers Association said: "Although we are not satisfied that teachers salaries in this district have reached the level they should, we feel we have made substantial gains by going to arbitration.

"The school board's only offer during negotiations was $50 for each elementary teacher and no increase for secondary teachers."

The Board of Trustees made no statement.

Sitting on the arbitration board were Judge Eric P. Dawson, chairman, William S. Ramsay, school board representative, and V. L. Dryer, teachers' representative.

The decision granting a 4 per cent wage increase for elementary teachers and 7 per cent for secondary, was handed down by the board Saturday evening.

For elementary beginning teachers getting $2150 a year, teachers asked $2600 and were granted $2236 by the arbitration board.

Increase granted for maximum elementary wages (teachers of nine years' standing and over) was $740. Previous wage was $3500 and teachers were asking an increase to $4580.

For secondary beginning teachers an increase of $600 to $3300 was asked. The board granted $2289 and for elementary maximum (with 11 or more years' experience) an increase of $1200 from $4500 to $5700 was asked and $4815 was granted by the arbitration board.

Stanley Evans of Vancouver represented the Slocan District No. 8 teachers, and Leo S. Gansner the School Board.

Crowd Enjoys Castlegar Legion Banquet

CASTLEGAR — A crowd of 130 members and guests attended the annual banquet and dance of the Castlegar Branch 170, Canadian Legion, in St. Alban's Parish Hall Saturday night. Following the banquet during which toasts were proposed, the J. F. Killough family and Ron Gemmill provided music for dancing. Mr. and Mrs. Wallie Walper entertained during the banquet.

M. E. Moran, past president of the branch, was master of ceremonies. He introduced some of the guests and replied to a toast to the Legion proposed by Mrs. Irene Hubert, newly elected president of the Ladies Auxiliary.

W. Houston proposed the toast to the Queen and Arol J. Weir proposed the toast to the ladies to which Mrs. E. McDonald replied. W. H. Reed said a hearty thanks to the banquet and catering committee.

Wallie Walper, one time professional entertainer whose vocal talents are becoming increasingly in demand at district concerts and progrms, won enthusiastic applause for his renditions of Western, Irish and musical comedy numbers. He was accompanied by Mrs. Walper at the piano.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. L. Bowett and Mr. and Mrs. C. Middleton of Trail. Mrs. Browett is president of the Zone Command, Ladies Auxiliary, Mrs. Middleton is fifth vice-president of the provincial command of the LA and Mr. Middleton is Trail Legion president.

Other officer's elected were W. C. Laurie of Fernie, secretary-treasurer; William Corrigan of Fernie, vice-president, John Rosaine of Waldo, second vice-president; and Mrs. S. Gogan of Natal, third vice-president.

HAGGIS, PIPERS AND HIGHLAND FLINGS . . .

Fernie Pays Tribute to Robbie Burns

FERNIE — Many enjoyed Burns' Night banquet and dance in the Legion hall under the auspices of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion.

The haggis, carried by Tom Stewart, of Fernie, was piped into the banquet hall by Piper Moore, of Coleman, Alberta. The toast to the haggis was given by William Harper, past president of the Burns' Club, of Calgary, Alberta. The Selkirk toast was proposed by William Thomson, of Fernie, while Bob Lowe, president of the Fernie Legion, proposed the toast to Her Majesty, the Queen. Appropriate vocal solos were rendered by Mrs. Andrew Lees, Angus McIntee, Miss M. Moir and Frank McVeigh.

The Fernie Highlanders, Tina Hesketh, Violet, Hesketh, Phyllis Thomson and Emmabelle Coole, were heartily applauded for their Highland dances, one of which was the difficult double Sword Dance.

LOYAL POETRY

In the toast to the "Immortal Memory," Syd Crookes, principal of the Fernie schools, pointed out that Burn's poetry showed his loyalty and his sympathy to mankind.

"Scots were leaders in the development of Canada," said Harry McKay in his toast to "Canada, Our Adopted Home." Explorers such as Simon Fraser and Alexander Mackenzie had opened up the country; traders such as Simpson, McTavish, and Sutherland had developed trade, settlement had been fostered by men such as Lord Selkirk and Scots such as Sir John A. MacDonald were leaders in the development of the Canadian form of Government.

LIFE IN SCOTLAND

Tom Ewart discoursed upon the simplicity of life in Scotland with its basic principles of life, of education, of its high moral fibre, and the inground idea of making something worthwhile of oneself, in his toast to Scotland.

Mrs. Bernard McDaniel ably responded to the "Toast to the Lassies," proposed by Harry Robertson of Michel. A community sing of Scottish songs and ballads completed the program. Dr. Sparling East was toastmaster.

Roy W. Sharp

Roy W. Sharp, who died last week at 70, will long be remembered as a promoter of the founding of Nelson's now famous Summer Bonspiel, an event that is becoming one of Canada's sporting classics. For his role in this pioneering this community is indebted. Mr. Sharp, a businessman of half a century here, devoted much of his life to sport, and, moreover, gave of his time to civic development and district enterprise as an alderman and civic centre commissioner, member of the Board of Trade and Chamber of Mines of Eastern British Columbia official. Roy Sharp will deserve the good memories citizens of this community hold of him.

Change in Yugoslavia?

Yugoslavia's leader is President Tito now, the marshal having been elected to that office in the first of "wide democratic reforms," which are to include a revised constitution and the election of a new parliament, with an executive council to rule between the dissolution of the present parliament and the election.

Yugoslavia cannot be imagined to have joined the ranks of western nations with a truly popular form of government. The resemblance to the democratic processes ends with the mere fact that elections are being held and the leader is called president.

Actually the election of Tito was in the legislature and — just as in the "elections" held in other communist countries—there was only one candidate. Moreover, the Yugoslav leaders make no secret of the fact that they intend their country to have a one-party system, permanently.

What they intend seems to be a government such as Russian communists were to have, until Stalin substituted a permanent dictatorship. There will be a president, but the power is to be lodged in a workers' council, or soviet, of delegates elected by the people.

This change may develop into the first step toward a real democratic government of free men and women, or it may revert to an actual dictatorship, all depending upon the course of events in the next few years.

Example of Diligence

If the Government will pursue the changes indicated necessary in the army works services by the Currie report as diligently as its pushing of investigation into the alleged theft that provided an early copy of the report to the CCF, Canadians will find much in which to be satisfied.

Measuring

The measure of a democracy is the measure of the freedom of its humblest citizens.—John Galsworthy.

Lower Arrow Lake Residents 39 Days Without Telephone

To the Editor:

Sir—It would be very much appreciated, if you would give us an opportunity to bring to public attention a condition that is of vital importance to the residents of the Lower Arrow Lake.

Possibly many people are aware of the isolated conditions of our communities, but until this winter we always had telephone service, and we felt some comfort in case of emergency.

This winter it is different. We are worse off than ever. Since December 17, 1952, the telephone is "out of Order." The Women's and Farmers' Institutes have written to the telephone company, and stressed the importance of this service to our well-being. But to date have not had any assurance as to when the service will be restored.

This is the thirty-ninth day without telephone service.

We have sick folk that have suffered great inconvenience, due to this disrupted service. In case of emergency, we have no way of obtaining a doctor or ambulance, or even receiving directions from a doctor in case a patient can not be moved. We have only twice weekly mail service, which is far too slow to count on as an alternative.

Winter time is also the worse possible time for an interruption of this sort.

In view of the urgency of this service we sincerely hope that early action will be taken to get the telephone back into operation.

PAT ROMAINE,
Secretary,
Deer Park Farmers' Institute.

Oldtimer Finds Higher Water Rates a Burden

To the Editor:

Sir—I find that my water rate has gone up in sympathy with other charges—including bread, veal and milk, clothes and soap, in sympathy with the water.

We oldtimers were given a pension of $40 a month to ease the cost of living for the aged. Now it seems that a movement is on foot to raise essentials so those wicked pensioners should not have too much money to spend.

Some two years ago I bought a City water bond, paying 3½ per cent. I thought it would help me pay my water, taxes and light. I am of European descent, and, like one or two oldtimers, prefer to live in the old home where my late wife and I raised a family, all of whom earn their own living and now are endeavoring to be good citizens.

My water rate is raised, taxes raised. At Christmas time I visited the Kootenay Lake General Hospital in order to cheer the sick. I exceeded my energy, so became a patient for three days, and came home well satisfied with treatment received.

Adding a touch of humor, I found a person there feeling my toes—I suppose to find if they were "turning up". But I can still wiggle them.

It seems to me we oldtimers are getting apathetic and taking things as they come without objecting.

I note the enquiry board is calling for pretzels, cheese and other eats to be provided at a bar. Are we getting ready for the hunger of depression which will come if the cycle of everything going up till it reaches the sky continues?

Old pensioners' savings only purchase about a third in proportion to the former purchasing power of the dollar. I will again have to look around for a cabin site so as to retire and rest till I go to lie beside the remains of my friends of the past.

I fell better now after getting that off my chest and making a cake. Even an old horse would kick at times when his oats and hay were limited. Machinery must have oil for lubrication and gas for power and rubber for tires, but mankind is like the grass that is cut down before the wind.

OLDTIMER.

Your Horoscope

And he gave it for his opinion, that whoever could make two ears of corn, or two blades of grass to grow upon a spot of ground where only one grew before, would deserve better of mankind, and do more essential service to his country, than the whole race of politicians put together.—Jonathan Swift.

Korea—Turning Point

Sinister conspiracies aimed at world power have ridden the tidal waves of revolution. The Reds did march across the 38th parallel into South Korea—just as by less conspicuous means they had already captured Czechoslovakia and attempted Greece, Indo-China and Malaya.

This time the free world, acting if not in concert yet with a degree of co-operation new to history, stopped them. "The greatest event of the past five years," Winston Churchill calls it. History may well record that Korea, with all its heartaches and frustrations, has marked the turning point—the line on which the forces of light stood firm and the forces of darkness paused before receding upon themselves.

Rest From Labor

(Montreal Gazette)

If anyone looks back upon his own life, he may often find that too much activity can end in little action. It is often good to stand aside, to give up the struggle for a little while, to look out upon the great world and to realize one's place in the whole.

With all the struggle and effort of living, it is very easy to wear life away and to have little left within to cherish as life's reward. It is very true that idleness is in itself a curse. But rest from labor can come, like sunlight, to ripen that which has been prepared for harvest.

You only feel worse when you constantly talk about your cold, says a doctor. And, anyway, it's better to keep it to yourself.—Kitchener-Waterloo Record.

It's Been Said

Your work should go well under these favorable influences. Many business and social opportunities are likely, so seize them and be happy. Outstanding talent is foreseen for the child born today.

Views from the News Fronts

By J. M. ROBERTS, Jr.
Associated Press News Analyst

John Foster Dulles, new U.S. state secretary and George Kennan, whose reputation for diplomatic planning overshadows his post as ousted ambassador to Moscow, are going to sit down together to see whether they differ basically on foreign policy.

They got crossed up the other day. Through a coincidence in timing, they made seemingly contradictory statements. Dulles told senators a mere policy of containment of Russia was unsound and advocated a positive policy of trying to free the European satellites through moral pressure and the weight of propaganda. Dulles made it clear he was talking about peaceful means.

President Eisenhower, during his election campaign, had worried European allies of the U.S. by not being specific on the "peaceful" part of Dulles' idea.

There is nothing to indicate that Kennan opposes moral pressure and propaganda. But the next night after Dulles spoke, Kennan said in a public address that nothing should be done "at the government level that purports to affect directly the governmental system in another country." He says the speech was prepared in advance and not intended to counter Dulles.

Kennan, author of the so-called "containment" policy, still believes that if the democratic system is made strong enough and its example is properly presented, the Communist system will collapse. Dulles wants to try a definite roll-back.

Aside from differences on any specific points, Dulles and Kennan begin their thinking differently.

It may be said that Dulles starts thinking from the standpoint of what is right, though by no means under-rating the practical. Dulles brings his religion into his work to a degree which borders on the unusual.

Kennan starts thinking from the practical basis, by no means ruling out moral principles. He strongly believes that democracy's greatest weapon is to demonstrate what it really is. He also firmly believes that in policy-making, a country must first determine what its own interests are and act accordingly.

There is no particular reason wh ythese two lines of thinking should not arrive eventually at the same point of decision, but it is only natural that the two routes should produce different points of view along the road.

Friends' Farewell

SEOUL (AP)—Maj.-Gen. M. A. R. West, commander of the British Commonwealth division in Korea, said Saturday of Gen. James Van Fleet, who is leaving as commander of the U. S. 8th Army:

"All of us in the Commonwealth division are very sorry to hear that Gen. Van Fleet is leaving the 8th army.

"We are losing not only a fine and aggressive leader but also a real friend.

"We remember with gratitude his encouraging support ever since the Commonwealth division was formed and we are proud to have served under him."

Where on Earth

did a parachutist make 124 jumps in ONE DAY?

by TED ATWOOD

ONE of the echoes which still reverberate from the "Roaring Twenties" is the marathon, that crazy endurance-test fad which was born in that decade of delirium. Non-stop bicycle races which last for days, dance marathons which go on until the last couple has slumped to the floor from exhaustion are perhaps the two most popular of these contests today.

Last spring, a man and woman set the world's long distance water ski record—135 miles from Nassau, B. W. I., to Gun Cay, Fla. And last summer a fakir in Italy set a record for fasting—71 days and 3 hours. A new twist in freak contests was given last winter by Robert Cook, a Texan, who with a companion, held a "wake-athon." By staying awake 98 hours and 41 minutes, Cook won a $1,000 bet. His friend had dozed off after 97 hours and 41 minutes.

But without doubt the record for the most strenuous and painful endurance test is held by Neal Stewart, of Birmingham, Ala. On July 6, 1952, he tumbled out of a plane 124 times—with several mishaps. On his first jump, his wife fainted when Stewart's chute failed to open and he had to use an emergency chute. And once he was knocked unconscious for five minutes when he was slammed onto the hard pavement on his head. Forty-nine of his jumps were made in total darkness. Stewart ended his ordeal a very bruised and weary man.

Why do people torture themselves just to set a record? Maybe it's the worship of the Great God Publicity; maybe just the human spirit of competition; maybe simply to prove "it can be done!"

HOUSING PROBLEMS for personnel stationed at London, Ont., are being solved by the army. These three houses are typical of the 125 being built for privates and non-commissioned officers. Already 35 are occupied and four hundred applications have been made. All houses have oil heat and the army pays for heat, light and repairs. —Central Press Canadian.

Offers Correction

Sir: I enjoy reading your paper every day, as Nelson is my home town. But when a flagrant error such as the one on the back page of your edition of Jan. 24, is made, then it makes one think there may be many others, also.

The error I am talking about is in your headline of the story about the five carpenters who died when their car plunged into the Lake of the Woods outside Hope.

You say that the car plunged off the Hope-Princeton highway (into the Lake of the Woods.)

Well, it so happens that the car would have to plunge about two miles because that is how far it is from the Hope-Princeton highway to the lake which is situated approximately two miles east of Hope on the No. 1 highway which is your trans-Canada highway, going up the Fraser Canyon.

I lived around Hope for a year and I am sure of my facts. You can check this if you wish to, but I should like to see a correction of this made, as it is very misleading, to anyone who has not lived in that part of the country. A person could get the idea from your headline that the Hope-Princeton highway, is the trans-Canada highway, when it is actually the No. 3 highway which is the same highway that passes through here.

I believe that this was quite an unconscious error, and remain,

A. G. BROWN,
Creston.

W. Germany Splits Up Goebbels' Movie Combine

By EDO KOENIG

BONN (Reuters)—The West German government has completed its plan for splitting up the huge movie-making combine Nazi propaganda minister Josef Goebbels created to peddle Nazi ideology.

Under the plans, the Nazi-created UFI movie cartel would be broken up and three or four large new movie companies formed from its assets.

SPECIAL BANK

The plan also seeks to establish a special movie bank to finance an estimated 60 movies a year and assist in the production of whole movie sets which would permit the losses of one film to be cancelled out by the financial success of another.

The organization was founded by Goebbels in 1939 and included the existing main German film companies, whose shares had been bought up the Nazi government.

Films, estimated to average 80 a year, were to be of highest quality, with their pro-Nazi tendency skilfully disguised.

But Goebbels also exploited UFI for his propaganda in news reels.

In 1943, 2500 newsreels a week were turned out.

By PATRICIA SCOTT

SEOUL (AP)—She was curled up on the snow-swept steps of one of the peddler's shacks by the Seoul post exchange.

The military police making their final rounds of the deserted, icy streets had overlooked her as another tiny shadow in the snow, her sobbing was so soft.

It was 1 a.m. but Sergt. Krenzer of the United Nations civil assistance Korea welfare department, called for a jeep and we returned to the street where my chance late walk had discovered the child.

Sgt. Krenzer laid a hand on the crumpled form. The child whispered something as he lifted her gently into his arms.

"Look for her shoes," he said.

I felt through the snow and found a tiny pair of Korean slippers.

"What will you do with her?" I asked.

He held the burlap-wrapped bundle close as we struggled over the icy sidewalk toward the jeep.

"If she is sick, I will take her to one of the sponsored hospitals. If she is not sick, I will leave her with an orphanage."

Krenzer slid into the back seat and wrapped his arms about the child to keep her warm.

"Children . . . children . . . thousands of children. How long can people continue to ignore them?"

TO ORPHANAGE

He pulled back the shaggy hair and pressed his cheek to her forehead.

"She has no fever. I'll take her to Mr. Shim at the Samae orphanage."

Samae is an old temple. Our jeep lights lit up the big "welcome" sign on the gate. A sleepy-eyed, elderly Korean padded barefoot into the snow.

Krenzer carried the limp package into Mr. Shim's office and placed her on a bench near a pot-belly stove.

Krenzer massaged the icy limbs, the leathery little hands. As the girl slowly unbent, we were amazed at how tall she really was.

Mr. Shim patted her shoulder and tried to raise the bowed head.

"What is your name?"

"Paik Chong Soon." The voice was low and frighteningly mature. The voice continued in a broken murmur:

"I am thirteen years old." By Western calculation that meant she was about 11 years.

"Where do you come from?"

"I come from across the River Han. Two months ago I came to Seoul. I waited on the other side of the river for many months to get across."

ILLEGAL ENTRY

Theoretically only those who had jobs in the city could legally return to their homes north of the Han. Thousands have re-entered illegally.

"Did you come across on the ice?"

"No it was before the ice I kept going to the guards on the bridge, crying. Finally one let me through."

"Do you have any family?"

"I have a younger sister. The rest of our family was killed in the war."

"How have you been living in Seoul?"

"In the days I beg from the United Nations soldiers. I have lived on their generous gifts. At night I slept with other children in a deserted building among the free markets by the west gate. I ate supper yesterday."

Krenzer finally managed to raise the buried chin. Mr. Shim smiled and she hid her face again.

"She is a pretty child, isn't she?" he said. "With a bath and the hair cut and combed and celan clothes—"

THAT EXTRA RATION

Mr. Shim turned to us:

"You are very kind. I thank you for bringing her here. I am happy it is tonight for we have an extra ration. We will be able to feed her."

Anything May Lurk Beneath Alta's Surface

EDMONTON (CP)—Drill a hole almost anywhere in Alberta and you are bound to come up with something. It may be oil, gas, coal—or fish.

An oil exploration crew drilled a 500-foot shot hole near Bentley, 80 miles south of Edmonton, and struck a gusher of fish.

Dr. R. B. Miller of the University of Alebrta's zoology department Saturday identified the fish as the five-spined stickleback. The fish squirted to the surface in thousands from an underground stream tapped by the drill.

MAGPIES' DELIGHT

First to know of the fish were magpies, never birds to miss a feed on the house, especially in winter. They gathered from miles around in a matter of minutes.

The oil drillers became curious about the magpie convention at the hole—and found the fish.

The stickleback grows to two or three inches in length.

"That's Alberta's most common fish," said Dr. Miller, who has transferred a few of the Bentley specimens to his home aquarium.

"It is almost one of the most resistant species of fish, being able to survive in water that will sustain no other fish. Its size and its resistance enable it sometimes to go into the underground drainage beds of lakes."

Switzerland entertains about 450,000 tourists annually in its alpine resorts.

NO MORE BUNNIES

MONTREAL (CP) — Pegi Edwards of Victoria, who for the last 10 years has been working in the airways engineering section of Trans-Canada Air Lines, has been causing a bit of eye-strain up aloft.

Pegi is a map-drawer for the airways and also has a feminine inclination to rebel against routine now and again.

So Pegi introduced rabbits.

One day when mapping in formalized figures indicating trees she doodled in a few extra lines, and there, sitting among the trees, was a 1-32nd-inch-high rabbit.

She thought no one would notice this little feminine touch and left it in.

Shortly afterwards she noticed a group of pilots having some fun over a map. The embarrassed officers said they were "looking for rabbits." Trans-Canada pilots had formed a "bunny club."

Officialdom was not to be outdone however. Department heads heard about it and put out the order "no more bunnies."

Rumor has it though there is still that little feminine touch sometimes hiding among the trees.

Add flour mixture to creamed mixture alternately with milk and pumpkin. Pour into greased 1½-quart mold. Steam. To steam pudding, put about two quarts of water into large covered kettle with a rack in the bottom. Bring water to boil. Place pudding on rack and cover with double layer of waxed paper. Implements Found On Pitcairn Island Suggests Lost Continent

By FRANK HODGE

AUCKLAND, N.Z., (AP)—Five ancient stone implements dug up on Pitcairn Island have opened a new chapter of tantalizing speculation on the earliest known traces of human existence in the South Pacific.

Pitcairn was the hiding place of the Bounty mutineers.

Dr. I. Hamilton eBattie, a Suva archaeologist, believes the instruments—two adzes, two borers and a malelt—are of palaeolithic old stone age workmanship.

This would set the South Sea record back far beyond the earliest known traces of Polynesian, Micronesian and Melanesian occupation in the islands. It adds still another riddle to the ilst of unsolved mysteries in the South Seas.

The earliest known cultures in the South Pacific are o fneolithic new stone age. Dr. Beattie says that if a palaeolithic culture once existed at Pitcairn and either died out from natural causes or was eliminated by later Polynesian invaders, it means the island must have been inhabited inthe dim age of the first true human beings.

NEAREST NEIGHBORS

The nearest place to Pitcairn where a palaeolithic culture is know nis Tasmania. Nobody knows whys Tasmania should have had Palaeolithic people while the neighboring continent of Australia so far has yielded no traces of anything earlier than the neolithic culture of the aboriginal people.

If the evidence of the stone implements dug up at Pitcairn is conclusive, Dr. Beattie says an even greater mystery may lie behind the question of how palaeolithic people came to live at that isolated fragment of land.

Some authorities suspect Pitcairn may once have been part of a large land mass—perhaps a lost continent.

Dr. Beattie refuses to estimate the age of the Pitcairn implements beyond saying they are similar in type to palaeolithic implements found in Tasmania and China. This might mean that old stone age people were living at Pitcairn more than 4,000 yelars ago.

When Captain Philip Carteret discovered Pitcairn in 1767 and Fletcher Christian and the other Bounty mutineers arrived in 1790 the island was uninhabited, but some earlier time it had ben the home of Polynesian people who left stone adzes, carved figures and skeletons.

How these people came to settle at Pitcairn and why they vanished —as did the people who carved the great statues of Easter Island—remain two of the South Pacific mysteries.

New Aircraft Makes Training Flight

VANCOUVER (CP) — Canadian Pacific Airlines announced Sunday night a new DC-6B aircraft has made a 28,000-mile training flight between Vancouver and Honolulu.

The aircraft will be used on CPA's regular Vancouver-Honolulu run starting Feb. 6.

The plane, carrying CPA aircrew and technicians, made the flight in 13 hours and is expected to make the return trip in nine hours.

Average time of flight on regular trips will be 10 hours, CPA officials said.

Yard Looks Into BOAC Troubles

LONDON (AP)—Scotland Yard has been asked to look into the mysterious engine trouble that has grounded the British Overseas Airways stratocruiser fleet, a BOAC official said Saturday.

"We do not think there is any question of sabotage," the official added quickly after disclosing consulations with the famous polide headquarters. The spokesman described the trouble as "this mysterious series of events."

BOAC has "complete confidence in our staff working on the stratocruisers," he added. "They are doing a splendid job."

MYSTERIOUS CAUSE

Ten of big two-decker planes used on BOAC's North Atlantic routes were grounded late Thursday to remedy engine defects. The cause of the difficulty, however, has not yet been established.

The grounding order was issued as a precautionary measure after 15 cases of engine trouble in the big planes were reported.

There have been no reports of similar troubles in stratocruisers used by other airlines.

Wilderness Battle Ends in Death Of Man and Moose

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — A 70-year-old miner and a cow moose were found dead near each other on a lonely trail, apprently victims of a bitter wilderness battle.

A half-wild team of malemute dogs owned by the miner, Lawrence Magnusia, crounched in the snow nearby. They paid little attention to their dead master but had been feeding on the moose carcass and growled menacingly when police tried to approach the dead animal Wednesday.

As U.S. Commissioner Ladessa Nordale reconstructed the tragedy:

Magnusia lived alone in a one-room cabin near the deserted mining settlement of Olnes, 15 miles North of here. He apparently shot the moose at close range.

The dying animal attacked him. But the old miner clubbed it with his empty rifle, breaking the stock in half. Then he died himself, either from wounds inflicted by the moose or from a heart attack from his exertions.

Second Ranking Red Suicides

MONTREAL (CP) — Police reported today they found a batch of Communist party membership cards, pamphlets and letters in the room of Paul Eleniuk, believed to have been a high official in Montreal Communist circles, who was found hanged Friday night.

Eleniuk's body was found hanging from a hook in the corridor of a shabby Point St. Charles rooming house. Police said it was suicide.

Lieut. John Boyczum said Eleniuk was a "known" Communist and an official of the Association of United Ukrainian Canadians, described as a Communist-front organization. He said the RCMP will probably be called into the investigation.

Gui Caron, provincial organizer of the Labor-Progressive Communist party, said Eleniuk "had been a member of the party until several years ago, but was not at present."

Eleniuk's was the second death within three weeks here of a ranking Communist.

Anti-subversive squad officers in co-operation with the RCMP are still decoding batches of documents found in the room of Constanti Stathopoulos, 60, who died of natural causes Jan. 3. Notebooks in coded Greek, an automatic pistol, ammunition and stacks of Communist literature were found in his room.

Suspicious Find On Boston Train

BOSTON (AP)—Discovery of another partly-closed angle cock air brake valve on a New Haven train —the third within nine days—was under investigation today.

A New Haven spokesman said an angle cock was found Friday "not in it's proper position" on the second car of the Boston-to-New York "New York". The device controls the air brakes.

Howard Moulton, a public relations man, said the discovery was made during an inspection of cars at Providence, R.I.

He said the valve on the second car of the train was found "partly closed." He added it was returned to its normal position and the train continued to New York.

AIR BRAKE VALVE

The first apparent instance of brake tampering involved the crack Boston-to-Washington "Federal Express" which crashed into Washington Union station Jan. 15 and injured some 50 persons.

The second instance of brake tampering was reported Thursday by Senator Charles W. Tobey, (Rep. N. H.), chairman of the Senate commerce committee. He said it "begins to look like sabotage."

The railroad confirmed that an air brake valve on the fifth car of the "Colonial Express" was found half turned while the train was standing in New Haven, Conn.

Visitor Scolds North America

TORONTO (CP) — Sir Robert Watson-Watt, British "father" of operational radar, Saturday described North American industry as profitting from "an ill-balanced and precarious economy."

Sir Robert said industry on this continent was "lacking in emphasis and in the expenditure of money and effort on fresh ideas." His speech was delivered at the annual meeting of the Association of Professional Engineers of Ontario.

The precarious economy he blamed on a "dangerous maldistribution betwen work for the governmental and for the non-governmental client."

"It is only in a bad world that the government is a good client," he said.

Knighted in 1942 for his radar research—which helped the RAF win the battle of Britain in 1940—Sir Robert, 60, has been honored as well by four countries.

He now is acting as ostentific advisor to the defence research board, advising Canada on establishment of a radar network across her northland.

Moscow's "Thought Crime" List Resembles Pile of Jumbled Type

By TOM REEDY

BERLIN (AP)—The purge-ridden Communists have figured out 36 different ways to call somebody a bum.

Goaded by Moscow's desire for violent purge, the Red word-coiners are filling their controlled press with brand new words designed to catch anyone, however innocent, and indict him for "thought crime."

LIST OF "ISMS"

The U.S. high commission in Berlin, scanning the Eastern press for clues to the real reasons behind the purge, Saturday compiled a survey which listed the kind of "isms" which mean heresy to the Kremlin.

Some are old and well-worn, like "Trotzkyism" but others seem to have been pulled out from between a mess of jumbled type. Some defy analysis but anytime a Communist boss runs into a tough snag he can always summon one of these word monstrosities and build an indictment around it.

TONGUE-TWISTERS

The "thought crimes" so far detected are:

Trotkyism, Zionism, cosmopolitanism, objectivism, particularism, bureaucratism, unionism, diversionism, schematism, imperialism, Titoism, pacificism, conciliationism, individualism, factionalism, practicism, neutralism, relativism, critical realism, militarism, chauvenism, social democratism, opportunism, careerism, equalitarianism, theoreticism, formalism, naturalism, collaborationism, opposition to internal party democracy, bourgeois attitude, Kulak attitude, lack of vigilance, lack of class consciousness and uncritical attitude.

Militarism, is of course being in favor in other countries besides Russia. Pacificism can be twisted around to fit somebody who thinks Russia ought to disarm too.

The list grows daily and the end is not in sight.

Britain To Buy Canadian Bacon

LONDON (CP) — Britain will spend about $1,000,000 on Canadian bacon "in the near future," Food Minister Gwillym Lloyd-George announced Friday.

It will be the first Canadian bacon to be bought by dollars-short Britain since 1950.

The announcement by Mr. George said the purchase has been made possible by a further dollar payment by Canada to the United Kingdom under the recent meat-barter agreement between Canada, the United Kingdom and New Zealand.

"Although the total amount of dollars involved is small, the decision to spend it on bacon will be of benefit to both Britain and Canada," the statement said.

John Lozenko, 100 Years of Age Looks Forward to 130th Birthday

WINNIPEG (CP) — When John Lozenko was a boy in Russia his grandmother used to say to him: "You will live to be 130."

She herself lived to be 115. John was 100 on Jan. 17 and determined to fulfil the prophecy of the old lady he now only dimly remembers. Medical men have told him he is still good for another 10 to 15 years.

Living here with a son and daughter-in-law, Mr. Lozenko gets up before 5 a.m. daily. He goes to church every day and is still able to look after his personal needs. He even makes his own bed.

Recipe for long life: "Not to get angry," says John, a slow smile creasing his face. "Not to eat too much, and to take an occasional drink."

He told a reporter who smoked during an interview: "If you want to live as long as me you'll have to stop smoking."

He celebrated his birthday by visiting another centenarian, John Stall, whose birthday was Jan. 22. After mutual congratulations they drank to each other's health.

Mr. Lozenko has been married twice and has had 21 children. Fourteen are still living and he has so many grandchildren and great grandchildren he can't count them.

IN RUSSIAN ARMY

He came to Canada in 1898 after serving in the army of the Czar and later in the Russian police force.

When he arrived in Winnipeg John got a job road building. Later he worked for the CPR but was obliged to retire when his sight began to fail. For 15 years he was practically blind.

During the 1950 Red river flood he went to live with a son in Toronto. He underwent an operation and his sight was restored.

The old man's life centres around the Russian Orthodox Church near his home, a neighborhood park where he sits on warm summer days, his friends and his family.

His great friend is a 14-year-old collie that wakes him each morning and dogs his steps throughout the day.

Goals: Nelson 5, Trail 3

Penalties: Smokies 11, Leafs 2

Like many previous games with Trail here, the Smokies played good hockey until they found the die was cast and when it is cast against them, they go out to injure. The outcome of the WIHL game at Civic Arena here Saturday night was 5-3 for Nelson and incidentally, put Nelson back in second spot in the league.

The game started well enough, with both teams playing good hockey. But the breaks were coming Nelson's way, and within 12 minutes four pucks were shot past Sofiak and it began to look like a runaway for the Maple Leafs. Bursaw scored the only goal for Trail in that period when Secco and Corrado put the puck through the Nelson defence and Bursaw broke through to beat Rodzinyak with a clean shot.

Moe Young scored for Trail from Sinclair at the five-minute mark in the second period. From there on the capacity crowd saw the meanest exhibition of cross-checking across opponents' faces ever seen in the local arena. Rypien, Bursaw, Cavanaugh ant Cook deliberately charged at Nelson players with their sticks held up in both hands, ramming them in the face. Fresh from the Battle of the Bench the Smokies apparently thought they had a name to live up to and intended to add to it. Although they were called for cross-checking and roughing, the proper penalty for each of them would have been "attempt to injure."

RETALIATION

Neil McClenaghan took exception to Bursaw's attack on him and went after him hammer and tongs, giving him quite a mauling before they were separated. In the fracas, Bursaw got two fingers cut by a skate. Later Corrado and Pasqualotto were to tangle but their efforts were so moderate compared with the first fight, that they were benched for roughing.

Not only was the refereeing lenient in this respect, but John Lang and Bill Wicken, Nelson referees, were lenient with Trail in two other cases. One was when three Trail players left the players' box to attend the McClenaghan-Bursaw melee (uninvited) and almost immediately after, led by Moe Young, about five of them stood up in the box and banged their sticks on the boards. Both these offences call for ten-minute misconduct penalties.

Ken Cook, just clear of a six-game suspension, did not learn much during his idle hours. Besides catching Red Koehle across the face in the new and most unapproved style of the Smokies, he deliberately shot the puck into the crowd.

So that, although the penalties were 11-2, with the Smokies on the long end, they were treated handsomely.

POWER FAILURE

Meanwhile, with the advantage of man-power, the Nelson Leafs were putting on the most muscle-bound power play seen outside of a straight jacket. Had they taken off their skates and walked across the blue line, they would have been a greater threat. Hurried passes, offsides in attempt to rush the play into the Trail defence and many other examples of intricate bungling, were dished out until it was a relief to see Trail at full strength again.

With one minute and 17 seconds to go, Boomer Rodzinyak pulled a muscle as he slid to the far side of the net to block. He was forced to retire from the game. Glenn Smith put on the pads and finished the game and at the same time moved into the front of the WIHL goal tenders with perfect blocking in two attempts.

The first period, which was all Nelson's, saw Hyssop, McClenaghan, Red Koehle and Haldane score. The Leafs were swarming at will around Sofiak and it was just as well the goals came fast for Nelson only got one goal in the second, Haldane from Lowe, and were held scoreless in the third.

Lineups:

Trail: Sofiak; Hamilton, Sinclair, Corrado, Cook, Malley, Shabaga, Kromm, Bursaw, Turik, Cavanaugh, Rypien, Secco, Young.

Nelson: Rodzinyak; Gare, Malacko, Pasqualotto, Gilhooley, Hyssop, Haldane, Lowe, McClenaghan, Lovett, Haley, F. Koehle, R. Koehle, Smith.

First period: 1, Nelson, Hyssop (Pasqualotto, Haldane) 1:30; 2, Nelson, McClenaghan (Lovett) 2:37; 3, Nelson, R. Koehle (F. Koehle, Smith) 9:12; 4, Nelson, Haldane (Gilhooley, Hyssop) 11:51; 5 Trail, Bursaw (Secco, Corrado) 13:25.

No penalties.

Second period: 6, Trail, Young (Sinclair) 5:01; 7, Nelson, Haldane (Lowe) 16:42.

Penalties—Kromm, charging 5:20; Bursaw, hooking 5:50; Bursaw and McClenaghan fighting, 5 minutes and Bursaw, roughing; Corrado, high stick 12:18; Cavanaugh, high stick 14:48.

Third period: 8, Trail, Cavanaugh (Turik) 11:23.

Penalties—Cook, high stick 1:05; Malley, holding 6:32; Kromm, misconduct 7:05; Corrado, roughing and cross checking, Pasqualotto, roughing 13:37.

LEAFS MOVE UP ON LEADERS

By the Canadian Press

The slumping Detroit Red Wings still retain their one-point margin over Montreal Canadiens at the top of the National Hockey League standings, but the field is closing in on the leaders.

While Detroit and Montreal played to a 3-3 tie Sunday night, each rounding out a lucklustre weekend in which they gained one point of a possible four, all the other NHL clubs narrowed their margin.

Chief beneficiaries were the fourth-place Toronto Maple Leafs, who trimmed Detroit 2-0 Saturday night and followed with a 4-3 victory over the third-place Chicago Black Hawks Sunday. That left them a single point behind the Black Hawks, who whipped Montreal 5-1 Saturday, and five points out of second place.

New York Rangers, playing their second game in Boston in as many nights, bounced back from a 9-0 whitewashing to edge the Bruins 2-1.

5 GAMES WINLESS

Defenceman Bud Macpherson's second goal of the season with five minutes remaining gave the Canadiens their tie at Detroit. The Red Wings, winless in their last five games, had taken the lead twice while Montreal was shorthanded.

Red Kelly, Ted Lindsay and Gordie Howe potted the Detroit goals while Maurice Richard and Paul Masnick counted the remaining Canadien tallies.

Toronto rookie Gord Hannigan broke up the Chicago game in the third period with his second goal of the night. Max Bentley and Harry Watson also scored for the Leafs, while Gerry Couture with two and Gus Mortson were the Chicago goal-getters.

ACCIDENTAL SCORE

First-period goals credited to Jack Stoddard and Don Raleigh gave the Rangers their margin over Boston. Raleigh received credit for the second tally when rookie defenceman Warren Godfrey accidentally put the puck into his own net.

Real Chevrefils was the lone Boston marksman.

Royals Win 4-2

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP) — New Westminster Royals returned home from the Prairies Saturday night and won their first Western Hockey League tilt in six tries, downing Victoria Cougars 4-2.

Some 4,000 fans saw the Royals take a 2-0 lead in the first frame, increasing it to 3-1 in the second.

A former Detroit Red Wing player, Max McNab, scored a brilliant hat trick to spearhead Royals.

She retained her margin in free skating, the jumps, twirls and spins which account for the other 40 per cent. She was given two firsts and a third by the three judges.

Diane Williams, 14, and 13-year-old Karen Dixon of the Calgary Glencoe club placed second and thidr respectively. Mary Munro of Regina Wascana was fourth and Rosemary Hall of Calgary fifth.

Normna Walker and Power were the only two competitors in the senior men's event and Walker's margin in figures gave him the title. Power, a 19-year-old, was well up in free skating marks. Walker polled two firsts and a second.

Sydney Swingler of Calgary, a former Nelson girl, placed third in the women's novice Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Swingler, she had her first figure skating lessons with the Nelson Figure Skating Club.

Sees Vancouver in Football Union by 1954

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Vancouver Sun says today in a sports page story that Vancouver will have a team in the Western International Football Union in 1954.

The story, by sports editor Erwin Swangard, says acceptance by the WIFU at next weekend's meeting in Regina of Vancouver's application for a franchise became a certainty when Saskatchewan Rough Riders lined up their support behind Vancouver.

Swangard quotes R. A. Kramer, Regina president, as saying in a telephone interview today: "We will support Vancouver at the WIFU meeting if your representatives back up the concreate proposal they made to us during their recent visit here."

"It appears now that the inclusion of Vancouver does not constitute any additional cost and we would be happy to have you in," Kramer is quoted as saying.

McFadden Chosen Big-4 President

TORONTO (CP) — Cecil R. McFaddin of Toronto Saturday was elected president of the Big Four football executive at the annual meeting.

Mr. McFaddin replaces John R. Welch of Ottawa, who was forced to relinquish his post because of ill health.

Other officers are: Roy Robertson, Montreal, first vice-president; Ralph W. Cooper, Hamilton, second vice-president; J. P. McCaffrey, Ottawa, third vice-president.

Also on the executive are R. B. Moran, Toronto; Lew Hayman, Montreal; Frank D. Bliss and K. Emerson, Hamilton. William C. Foulds will continue as chief referee and D. Wes Brown of Ottawa as secretary-treasurer.

The executive, yielding to what it called the "fans' demands," has decided to extend the present season schedule of 12 games to 14 in future seasons.

This action was decided at the annual meeting here Saturday, and was only one of several major changes adopted by the league to take effect this year.

The executive also agreed: To establish a salary limit for players and an over-all budget limit for the clubs; press for the elimination as such of the Eastern final with the Ontario Rugby Football Union champions; change the play-off system from a two-game total-points series to a best-of-three series; and allow one extra import for the club finishing last in the league in the previous season.

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian hens laid an estimated 373,800,000 dozen eggs in 1952, the bureau of statistics reported Friday. Estimated producers' sales in the year totalled 292,729,000 dozen.

Ray Bostock Is B.C.'s Best

VANCOUVER (CP)—Ray Bostock, 25-year-old Kelowna rower, has been voted British Columbia's top athlete of 1952.

At a banquet here last night Bostock received the Hector McDonald Memorial Trophy from Mrs. Ruby McDonald, widow of the great sportsman after whom the trophy is named.

The trophy was donated by the Vancouver Province after McDonald, former boxer and referee, died while talking to students from a boxing ring at Vancouver College.

About 33,000 sports fans from all over B.C. chose Bostock over famed Vancouver golfer Bill Mawhinney and swimmer Teddy Simpson.

5 CHAMPIONSHIPS

Last year Bostock participated in five championships.

He holds both senior and junior northwest singles championships; was stroke of the senior doubles crew which won the B.C. and Lake Okanagan championships and rowed number three of the senior fours which won both the B.C. and Lake Okanagan championship.

In winning the senior singles title, Bostock defeated Bill Werk of Seattle, a member of the world champion Washington Huskies crew.

Mike Jacobs Dies

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Mike Jacobs a fabulous figure in boxing until his retirement six years ago, died this morning in Mt. Sinai Hospital.

William Glick, public relations director at the hospital, said the 73-year-old former promoter died of a "coronary insufficiency."

Jacobs, who lived in Miami Beach, was taken to the hospital Friday after becoming ill while attending the races at Hialeah race track.

"Uncle Mike" who was considered the absolute ruler of boxing through his control of Joe Louis, during the latter's reign as heavyweight champion, suffered a stroke in New York six years ago. Thereafter he gradually retired from active participation in his 20th Century Sporting Club. Several years ago he sold out to Jim Norris and the current International Boxing Club.

$133,000 From Grey Cup Final

TORONTO (CP)—Canada's greatest sports spectacle, the Grey Cup football final, realized total gate receipts of nearly $133,000 in 1952, it was announced Saturday.

This sum, obtained from a record crowd of 27,391, was split among the two competing teams, the other six professional football clubs in Canada, the Canadian Rugby Union, the government, and payment of expenses.

It does not include $15,000 for television, radio, film and program rights. The CBC paid $7500 to telecast the game. It cost radio $3500 and movie makers another $3000. The program concession netted $1000.

The government's tax slice amounted to $14,692. Of the remaining $117,248, expenses amounted to about $45,000 and the clubs split the balance of $73,544.

The champion Toronto Argonauts received $19,962, about 55 per cent of the eastern league's share of $36,772. The other three clubs each got about $5253.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Uranium Confined To Beaverlodge In Saskatchewan

PRINCE ALBERT (CP)—C.A.L. Hogg, deputy resources minister, said Saturday that uranium production in northern Saskatchewan this year may be confined to the Beaverlodge development of the Eldorado Mining and Refining Company.

"No other group has so far advised us it will go into production this year," said Mr. Hogg. "However, it is a little early to tell. Some companies around the Beaverlodge and Athabaska area may dispose of their ore through the Eldorado mill."

Eldorado, a federal crown corporation, has announced production will start in three months.

Prices Lower Egg Consumption

SASKATOON (CP)—Professor W. J. Rae of the University of Saskatchewan says fewer people will be raising poultry in 1953 because of losses and disappointment in 1952.

Prof. Rae told the Saskatchewan Poultry Association meeting here that the "in and out" producer will be out this year. When eggs were five cents apiece, the housewife bought fewer, but as the price had dropped to 50 cents a dozen or lower consumption had increased.

He said that while there seems to be no prospect of an export market for eggs, the increasing population at home means that more people will be consuming eggs and poultry each year. And with no indication of an economic recession, there should be no lack of purchasing power for poultry products.

Scientists Search for Proof of Polio Paralysis Susceptibility

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter

NEW YORK (AP) — Science is finding hints that humans inherit susceptibility of paralysis from polio.

An inheritance of one or more strange genes, the units of heredity, may make some people set-ups for paralytic effects from an invasion by polio virus. By the same token, people who lack these genes would have natural resistance to paralysis.

The inheritance angle still is largely a suggestion, but one that may explain a major mystery of polio—its unpredictable ways.

Sooner or later almost all of us are invaded by polio virus, but relatively few people develop paralysis.

Scientists wondered whether inheritance could have something to do with polio paralysis running in families.

Sometimes whole families have shown a high incidence of polio, with paralysis. Last sumer, polio struck four or five children within the same large family.

MORE EVIDENCE

Another bit of evidence is that in a 50-year period, there were 29 cases of polio in one remote section of West Virginia. All 29 were found to be related by flood. A recessive gene, showing up now and then in children, could explain this.

Only last week it was disclosed that two grandchildren of the late President Roosevelt, himself a polio sufferer, were stricken with mild cases last summer. Another grandson suffered a light polio attack in 1949.

The newest bit of evidence comes from a study of twins made by Drs. C. Nash Herndon and Royal G. Jennings, medical geneticists of the Bowman Gray School of Medicine at Wake Forest College in North Carolina.

They compared polio in identical twins and in fraternal twins.

Identical, or look-alike, twins come from a single egg of the mother, which divides to produce two infatns. The identical twins have exactly the same genes or inheritance and are alike in all ways.

Fraternal twins differ in their inheritance and are alike in all ways.

Fraternal twins differ in their inheritance. Such twins result from two eggs fertilized at the same time.

CHECK ON TWINS

Herdon and Jennings checked up on 47 sets of twins numbered among polio victims in North Carolina during 1940-48.

Of these 47, one or both twins had a definite diagnosis of paralytic polio. Both twins had been living in the same house at the time of acute illness, hence presumably had equal chance of being exposed to the virus.

Of 104 pairs of identical twins, both children in five pairs had paralytic polio. Of 38 pairs of fraternal twins, paralytic polio had touched both members in only two cases.

This difference indicates there is a measurable genetic influence upon susceptibility to paralytic polio, the doctors conclude.

NOT DECISIVE

But, they add, inherited susceptibility is not the decisive thing in determining whether exposure to polio virus will result in paralysis.

The degree of exposure to virus, past contact with that type of virus and general health at the time of exposure also must contribute to the chance of developing paralysis.

Receding Floods Ease California

EUREKA, Calif. (AP)—Receding flood waters eased concern today for the town of Orick in northern California, an area where heavy rains have caused $2,000,000 damage to highways.

Until the rampaging waters of Redwood creek started falling, they had threatened to cut a channel into a hge log pond and loose its waters on Orick. The 800 towns-people had to flee last weekend as water poured in four to six feet deep.

In Sacramento, Governor Earl Warren declared a state of emergency for the two northern California counties of Humboldt and Del Norte, making state money and equipment available immediately for repairs.

Helicopters have been flying food and clothing to 200 marooned persons in mountain areas along the Klamath river.

Coast Publisher's Mother Dies

VANCOUVER (CP) — Mrs. Bernadette Grace McKay, 62, widow of R. J. Cromie, founder of the Vancouver Sun, died today in hospital after a long illness.

Among survivors are four sons including Donald Gromie, publisher of the Sun.

Union Official Admits to Non-Union Deals

NEW YORK (AP)—A longshoremen's Union official has admitted to state crime investigators that his non-union activities included an attempt to ship 50 armored airplanes to the Dominican Republic.

The official, Thomas Teddy Gleason, has also acknowledged before the New York state crime commission that:

He tried to help acquaintances on banana and sulphur and plane import deals.

He held a "piece" of several prize fighters.

But he refused to confirm a crime commission statement that he had received in five years—1947 to 1951—more than $81,000 in salary and expenses, or better than $16,000 a year average, from the three AFL International Longshoremen Association locals of which he is an official.

Gleason's testimony came just before the crime commission adjourned until Monday its public inquiry into waterfront rackets which bleed the shipping industry here of an estimated $350,000,000 annually.

DOUBLE DISCLOSURES

The banana, sulphur and plane deals first came up in testimony by Cornelius Connie Noonan, another ILA local official.

Commission counsel Theodore Kiendl said the planes were to be procured in the United States and Europe. He said the sulphur deal involved Ecuador. He also referred to deals involving banana and fish imports but did not elaborate. It was indicated that the airplane deal was not carried out, but the status of the other affairs was not made clear.

The T.B. Society grant was made on the recommendation of the Nanaimo Kiwanis Club which sponsors sale of T.B. Christmas seals in the district.

New Commander Calls on New President

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower Saturday called in the new commander of the 8th army in Korea for a conference likely to deal with the President's plans for trying to end the stalemated war.

Eisenhower, who spent three days in Korea early in December, arranged to meet at the White House with Lt.-Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chosen Friday to head the 8th army. He succeeds Gen. James A. Van Fleet, who is retiring.

Eisenhower promised during his campaign for the presidency that, if elected, he would go to Korea in an effort to find a way to bring the war to an honorable end.

NO MIRACLES

After his pre-inaugural inspection of the battle zone last month, he said no miracles should be expected. But he expressed confidence a way could be found to improve the situation in Korea.

Since then Eisenhower has said nothing about his intentions, but he is reported to have a plan of action.

Ban Phoney Money

VIENNA (Reuters)—Austrian police have banned Communist leaflets which at first sight looked like 100 schilling (about $4) notes. Vienna has been flooded with 'money' for the last few days. Police said they issued the ban because several shopkeepers had accepted the leaflets as cash.

EXTRA-CURRICULAR ACTIVITY — Tanga watches playmate Tong try to remove a handkerchief from pocket of Director Marlin Perkins in Chicago's Lincoln Park Zoo following arrival of the two-year-old orangutans from Singapore.

SAFETY DRIVES PAY OFF

VANCOUVER (CP) —Accelerated safety drives in British Columbia's No. 1 industry, logging and lumber milling, paid off with a reduction in deaths and accidents during 1952.

Figures from the Workmen's Compensation Board show 71 men were killed last year in logging operations compared to 77 in 1951.

Accidents in 1952 were down to 5166 from 6442 in 1951.

In lumber mills, sawmills, shingle sash and door and pulp and paper operations, 14 deaths were recorded in 1952, two less than the previous year. Accidents were cut to 4405, lowest figure in six years. In 1951 there were 4846 accidents.

No Connection Between Board Talks and Russ

LONDON (Reuters) — Present grain discussions between the British food ministry and the Canadian wheat board are concerned solely with the shipment of 115,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat contracted for under the International Wheat Agreement last September, well-informed circles here said Saturday.

They said they could see no connection between these talks and reports that Britain has asked Russia for 600,000 tons of grain. Russia is cutting her grain shipment to Britain this year to 200,000 tons compared with 1,000,000 tons in 1951-52, but the bulk of these purchases are coarse grain and not wheat.

While Britain may be short of coarse grains, there appears no reason why it should be in dire need of wheat. It appears to be well provided for under the international agreement, these circles said.

Quiet Sundays Become Stormy

LONDON (AP)—The quiet British Suday became a battle ground Saturday.

Old and often confusing blue laws that govern Sunday activities are under attack.

Labor member John Parker introduced a private member's bill in Parliament to sort out some of the present anomalies and make it legal for Britons to watch theatrical performances and professional sports on the Sabbath.

RALLY TO FIGHT

Defenders of the old statutes, in and out of Parliament, rallied to fight his proposals. The Lord's Day Observance Society gathered 500,000 signatures to a petition demanding the bill's rejection.

A third group wants the whole subject studied by a commission. Most Britons are not sure what the laws do and do not allow.

PURITAN INFLUENCE

Acts governing Sunday observance date from 1625, 1627 and 1780. These reflect a strong Puritan influence.

Interpretations placed on them through the years have led to these anomalies:

A Briton is not supposed to travel anywhere by boat on Sunday.

It is illegal for him to move out of his own parish to watch or take part in a football game.

Many of these provisions are seldom enforced.

He may buy tooth paste but not a tooth brush. He may have his shoes repaired but may not buy a new pair of laces. It is illegal to sell sweet cream, but clotted cream can be sold.

Under Parker's bill, legitimate theatres would operate the same on Sunday as they do on week nights. At present only movie houses are open. Professional soccer, hockey and other sports events now taboo could look forward to big Sunday gates. Amateur games are played on Sunday in parks and publci commons.

France Denies Franc Rumors

PARIS (AP) — Finance Minister Maurice Bourges-Maunoury Saturday denied rumors the franc is about to be devalued.

"The government solemnly promises to maintain the value of the franc, inside the country as well as outside," he said.

The present official free market rate is 350 francs to the dollar.

Bourges-Mounoury made the statement to the National Assembly apparently in reply to devaluation rumors that have been circulating for the last 48 hours and which he said "have been credited in the French as well as foreign press."

The question comes up at a time when France is in extreme difficulty in its foreign trade balance.

Major Buckley explained that a drive for funds would be made under arrangements with the Trail Welfare Society, and residents would be canvassed for financial assistance. Possible date of the drive is latter part of March.

He said the committee's work would be "an investment in humanity," and expressed belief that "the Army has many friends," and the drive would succeed.

TRAIL TO GET ADDITIONAL PARKING METERS

TRAIL—More parking meters are in prospect for the streets of down town Trail this spring to augment the 183 meters now lining the main streets.

Slated to have parking meters are both sides of Farwell, Spokane and Helena Streets. The meters are to be installed on Farwell between Cedar and Bay; on Spokane between Bay and Dewdney and on Helena between Bay and Dewdney.

The parking meters now in use in Trail last year earned the city 10,435, or about $870 per month. This amounted to four dollars per month for each meter in service.

The first batch of 158 meters was installed in the fall of 1949 and two years later another 25 were set up. They cost the city $16,250 for the two lots and they were paid for out of the revenue in April of last year.

Revenue from the meters has been used to meet costs of setting up the intricate system of traffic signals that now govern movement of traffic in Trail.
