Rising Columbia Closes Highway

Up 10 Inches in 24 Hours, Revelstoke; Big Bend Highway Flooded in 4 Places; Roads Close at Lardeau, Wasa, Nee

Interior British Columbia continued to experience mid-mmer floods Friday with rising waters of the Columbia er presenting the greatest threat. Trail, Castlegar, Revel-ke. Golden and other areas were affected.

On the west coast, the Fraser dropped about five inches l the greatest danger there appeared past.

At Castlegar, the Columbia rose another five inches and icials said that if it rises another foot the ferry there will put out of operation. This action however is not expected ay as it is unlikely that the river will rise another foot in s time. River level is now 30.5 feet. Crews were working break in the town's main water line, 30 feet below the face of the Columbia.

Trail appeared to be the hardest hit centre. Here the er also jumped five inches overnight, spilling three inches water on one street.

lain floor levels of homes on erside Avenue were threatened Trail. Officials though remained fident that the river would not ll to the disastrous 1948 levels. ome residents viewed the flood-of Groutage Avenue as indica-that the situation had reached emergency stage, but civil de-ce officials who are keeping a chdog view of the river held a erent opinion. Civil defence co-inator A. V. Marcolin said "we concerned but not alarmed." He ated out that the river levels e still a foot and a half lower n the peak in 1950 and five and alf feet lower than in 1948.

o the north, at Revelstoke, the umbia rose 10 inches in 24 hours, ding water over the Big Bend hway in four places. The high-y is closed between Golden and velstoke. North of Golden the r spilled two feet of water over alf a mile of road. South of the n, two 500-foot sections of the tenay-Columbia highway were ler one foot of water.

At Wasa, high waters closed he Kimberley-Wasa and Fort teele highway. Nine miles north f Lardeau, the Lardeau and Ger-ard highway was washed out, nd the Burton-Needles road ex-perienced the same problem.

Other B. C. rivers appeared past their peaks. At Salmo, the Salmo River was causing no concern as the snow there is practically all melted.

The Fraser River quelled its fury Friday, dropping about five inches in 24 hours at Hope, 80 miles east of Vancouver.

SAVE SCOT'S HOME

Meanwhile, near Chilliwack, the swollen Vedder River, part of the Fraser system, ate to within 15 feet of a Scottish settler's home. However, an 11-hour battle by army engineers prevented the home of Joseph Conner, 35, from being swept away.

The situation on the Fraser was expected to ease this weekend as dull skies and cooler weather slowed the run-off from the higher slopes.

Dikes throughout the Fraser valley held firm even though the river was lapping at its highest level of the year.

Mindful of the disastrous 1948 flood which caused $30,000,000 damage, authorities are keeping army and navy dike equipment and amphibious machines standing by, ready to rush to the breach should any of the dikes give way.

Austria Sees Worst Flood in Fifty Years

VIENNA (AP) — The worst ood in more than 50 years left persons dead, thousands of arms under water and compelled he evacuation of more than 70 illages in Austria and southern ermany Friday.

t least six persons were known be missing in the Danube water-d. Damage to crops, homes and tories was estimated to run into llions of dollars.

.S. military forces, including 21 licopters, were aiding Austrian German rescue operations ng the banks of the normally ceful Danube river and a dozen its tributaries. Army bulldozers helped.

he Danube was 30 feet above rmal at some points. Many farm-ses along its banks were up to their roofs in water. Several villages were approachable only by boat.

Hundreds of country highways were under water.

were under water and the crisis of the catastrophe was not over yet as rain showers continued.

More than 10,000 persons were reported to have been evacuated Thursday night and Friday from villages in upper Austria, near the junction of the Danube with its Inn and Enns river tributaries.

PREMIUM HIGHER

NEW YORK (CP)—The Canadian dollar was 3-32 of a cent higher at a premium of 2 9-16 per cent in terms of U.S. funds. Pound sterling up 1-16 cent at $2.81 13-16.

Union's ... Bread Import Will Mean War

VANCOUVER (CP) — American bread was ordered for Canadian tables Friday as a strike and lock-out paralyzed the baking industry here.

Thousands of loaves of bread were expected to arrive before Saturday, probably from Bellingham, Wash., 60 miles to the south, and perhaps from Seattle, 150 miles away.

One buyer placed an order for 5000 loaves after he was granted a city licence to truck bread into Vancouver from Washington state.

Union agent Mel Kemmis warned that any attempt to import bread would mean "war" with fast action from other unions.

Mayor Fred Hume offered his services as mediator of the dispute "if approached."

The union has accepted the offer and it is under consideration of management.

A. B. C. government conciliator also worked to find some basis for agreement, but the outlook was dark.

The strike-lockout cut off regular supplies to 500,000 persons. Home deliveries ended Thursday afternoon.

Sales of bread-mix, flour and yeast were sharply higher in all stores as thousands of housewives returned to break-making.

Bread from across the border will bear an import tax in excess of 20 per cent, it was reported.

Hope Assiniboine Threat Over

BRANDON (CP) — The flooding Assiniboine river levelled off at Brandon Friday, sparking hopes that the worst was over in the city's water-soaked northern outskirts but undiked areas further downstream were warned they might be flooded later.

The turgid stream reached a crest of 22 feet two inches above normal Thursday night and 24 hours later had gone no higher. Dikes were still holding around the Brandon Packers Ltd. plant, only industry in the area.

The river smashed through earthen dikes at three points during the week forcing 60 families representing 200 persons to leave an area 35 blocks long. Another 25 families remained in their homes although some were nearly isolated by flood waters.

BANKS MAY LOAN ON CHATTEL MORTGAGES

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's chartered banks now are free to make loans on automobiles, furniture and other chattel mortgages.

Fireman, Engineer Die As Diesel Jumps Track

WETASKIWIN, Alta. (CP) — "We were just lucky."

That was the consensus of the 35 passengers of CPR No. 52 which jumped the tracks four miles east of here Friday, killing its engineer and fireman but giving others aboard nothing more than a shaking.

Killed as the oil-burning locomotive skidded off sharply-curved rails into a six-foot trackside ditch were engineer Giles Macdonald, 58, a railroad veterans and fireman Mike Mackowichuk, 41, who joined the CPR in 1945. Both were from Edmonton.

Four passengers remained here Thursday while the other 31 returned 40 miles north to Edmonton in the only two cars of the seven-car Winnipeg-bound train not to leave the tracks.

A holidaying railroad employee, A. Treso of Raley, Alta., said: "We were all very lucky the accident did not occur about three car-lengths from where it did or many more would have been killed.

"The cars which were left on the tracks were standing right along a deep ravine."

He added the "greatest miracle" was that fire did not start among the coaches.

The locomotive caught fire after the crash but the flames were controlled with the aid of Wetaskiwin fire brigade. Oil flooded the ditches near the coaches.

An on-the-spot investigation by CPR officials began a few hours after the wreck. The line was expected to be clear in time for Friday night's No. 52 to pass through

$60,000 Boundary Plant Burns

BEAVERDALE — Fire destroyed a power house on a mountain side near here in the early hours Friday.

The powerhouse, valued at an estimated $60,000 and $70,000, served the Highland Bell Mine while it operated.

The fire, which could be seen from Beaverdale, in the Boundary district, was of unknown origin.

FIFTY UNITS TO BE DISBANDED

75 To Be Cut in Reorganization Of Reserve Army

OTTAWA (CP) — Fifty of the 587 units in the Canadian militia will be disbanded starting Sept. 1 in the most sweeping reorganization in the history of the reserve army.

Another 75 units will be reduced in size, army headquarters said Friday in announcing details of the militia changes.

The reorganization is designed to tie the militia more closely to the regular army and in event of mobilization, the reserve could start funnelling manpower immediately to active units.

There will be increased emphasis on armor, partly because the role of anti-tank defence has been switched from the artillery to the armored corps in the regular force. There will be eight new armored regiments.

Castlegar Man Killed In Collision

LETHBRIDGE (CP)—An elderly man was killed and four women seriously injured Friday when their car was in collision with a truck on a hairpin turn. All are Russian-speaking Doukhobors from British Columbia.

Dead is Paul N. Zaitsoff of Castlegar, B.C., driver of the car which carried the women. In serious condition in hospital were Miss May Zvdakomoff, 25, Mrs. Annia Bovio, 74, Mrs. Helen Zaitsoff, widow of the driver, all of Castlegar, and Mrs. E. Osachi, 65, of Kinnaird, B.C.

An inquest opened Friday night but was adjourned.

Gerald Johnson, 16, of Lethbridge, a passenger in the truck, suffered minor bruises. Pat Harold, driver of the truck for Sturdie Oil of Lethbridge, was uninjured.

Witnesses said the truck was travelling downhill and the car uphill. The vehicles were in collision near the foot of the hill. The crash caused a major traffic tie-up, cars being strung out for nearly a mile on both sides of the scene.

Nelson To Host 1000 During Summer 'Spiel

Visitors From Two States, Five Provinces To Join in Sports, Entertainment Week

Nelson is getting an infusion of new "population" today and Sunday. The warm weather curlers are coming to town for the 10th annual Mid-Summer Bonspiel. And with them are coming their families and friends in numbers that total up to 1000.

Forerunners of the great annual holiday-making influx began arriving as much as a week ago, but bulk of the curlers and families will arrive today to cram auto courts, motels and beach resorts. Late entrants will find limited accommodation remaining in hotels, but here too was being felt the effect of the influx.

A big welcome will be extended the curlers on arrival. Nelson Junior Chamber of Commerce and Jaycee-ettes will be out at Balfour and Kootenay Bay to greet them on behalf of the community.

Over 216 men and 56 women will be contesting the original world summer curling championships. Registration committee estimated that with every rink member comes three or four other family members—one party, for example, comprises 25 persons.

Competition starts at 7 a.m., Monday, touching off a week of sport and varied entertainment to equal any week-long program in Nelson's history.

The hard working crew of 12 Jaycees on hand to welcome the curlers will give them guidance to their destination at Civic Centre bonspiel headquarters, and their accommodations.

Maps of the scenic district and of the city will be given to the visitors by the Jaycees along with welcome stickers on cleaned windshields. An attractive bonspiel book let will be distributed to the tourists and the curlers will receive theirs on registering at the Civic Centre.

The Jaycees will distribute copies of this edition of the Daily News which carries a full page of pictures of Nelson beauty spots, Monday draw for the curlers and the program of events for the week.

(See also stories on Page 2, Back and Sports Pages.)

Not to be outdone by the men, the Jaycettes will be on hand about a dozen strong to give the kiddies of the curlers dixie cups of ice cream and cookies.

RADIO COMMUNICATION

With the new Ferry MV Balfour working in conjunction with MV Anscomb it is expected their task will be greater than in past years, but Chairman Henry LeMoigne of the welcoming committee said Friday they are ready to cope with it.

Communication between Balfour and Nelson will be carried out by two way radio under the chairmanship of Jaycee Vic Howard. With this added service the spiel committee will be in contact at all times with what is taking place at the ferry landing and will be in a position to greet the curlers as they arrive in the city to register.

Fifty-four men's rinks will take part in the four events which will see trophies new to the spiel last summer going to the winners. At least 14 women's rinks will be trying for the Greenwood Trophy, also put up for competition last year.

Alberta will maintain its record of many years with the highest number of rinks, 25, trying for the curling crown.

The United States will be represented by two rinks this year. A new entry, A. G. Backstrom from St. Paul, Minn., will join Jimmy Taylor of Portage, Wis.

Jim Taylor and his wife have yet to miss a 'spiel as have Bill Good, CBC sportscaster, and Ivan Staples of Creston. Although Mrs. Taylor has not taken up the roarin' game she has become known throughout Nelson as a fisherwoman who can hold her own with any. A few years back, among her catches was a 14-pound trout.

CHAMP DEFENDING

Expected to give curlers a good deal of competition for top honors will be the Gordon Moir rink of Salmo. Two years ago they gave a great performance while curling in a spiel at Seattle. Also on hand will be last year's champion, E. B. Olson of Edmonton to try for his second title.

Art Wallace of Nelson for the 10th year will enter the same rink which contested in the first spiel in 1945.

FAMILY PROGRAM

For the families of curlers and other tourists in the city during the week there will be many entertainment attractions. The committee has lined up a program full of things for the whole family to do.

Even the smallest of children will be able to get into the holiday spirit. Community recreation director Ed Kelter will have classes for all age groups in swimming, wading and various gymnastic work with everyone invited to attend.

All told, 19 activities have been lined up with only two, the Monday night cocktail party and the Jaycee beach party being limited to the curlers and their wives. At every other event the public is fully welcome.

Starting off the week-long chain of events will be the annual flower show sponsored by the Nelson Garden Club to be held Saturday and Sunday.

For years the show has been a bright spot for the tourists as well as local people who roam through the Civic Recreation Hall to take in the wealth of floral beauty.

Throughout the week, there will be fastball games, Little and Pony League baseball games, a golf tournament, band concerts, ladies teas, films at Lakeside Park, square dancing, a strawberry festival, children's recreation, and finally on the Saturday night the annual mid-summer hockey game will be played.

FINALS SATURDAY

The hockey game, which in past years has drawn big name stars of the hockey world, will again see one in action when Chuck Rayner of Saskatoon and a former member of the New York Rangers will be taking part.

Previous to the game the presentation of the curling prizes will be given the winners who will be determined in finals on Saturday afternoon.

The official opening of the spiel will take place Monday night when a gigantic parade with four bands will be staged.

In This Corner . . .

TORONTO (CP) — When a woman passenger had trouble coaxing her collie off a bus, she and the conductor investigated. They found the dog had given birth to six pups.

AUBURN, N. Y. (AP) — After police tagged an automobile for overtime parking, an eight-year-old boy rushed up and asked permission to pay the 50-cent penalty in instalments.

The boy explained that he was supposed to watch the meter while his mother was shopping.

"I only have a dime now," he said, "but you take it and I'll bring the rest in when I can."

Police said they did no instalment business, but the boy was smiling when he left the traffic bureau office.

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP) — Spots before your eyes?

Merely Generoso Monacelli's new automobile.

Ever since he first saw a leopard in a zoo at the age of 15, the 20-year-old house painter has been fascinated with the leopard's beauty.

For a time he thought about owning one and then gave up the idea. But he acquired a complete leopard skin ensemble — shoes, shirt, trousers and jacket.

Thursday he outdid himself. He became owner of an automobile painted to look like a leopard — down to blazing eyes and exposed fangs.

McALESTER, Okla. (AP) — Warden Jerome J. Waters, Jr., is offering $1500 to a fugitive from the state penitentiary, but there's a catch to it.

Waters said Paul Evinger, 55 who was serving life for murder before his escape from an Oklahoma City hospital Wednesday, could have the money he saved working in prison if he showed up at the front gate.

"Of course, if he comes in," the warden added, "we will see that he doesn't get out again."

DONALD CAMPBELL DIES AT COAST

Funeral services were held in Vancouver Thursday for Donald Campbell, father of Nelson man Kenneth Campbell. Mr. Campbell died in Vancouver Tuesday at the age of 88.

Donald Campbell was a life member of the Fort Rose Lodge, AF & AM, Stornoway, Scotland.

Besides his son in Nelson, he is survived by his wife, Karen; two daughters, Mrs. C. Campbell and Mrs. A. MacLeod of Vancouver; 11 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

Herridge Enjoys Verbal Vigor Of Sir Winston

Vigorous as ever after a Yuletide bout with illness, H. W. Herridge was back in his constituency Friday full of interesting views on activities in Canada's capital.

The member for Kootenay West was still chuckling over Sir Winston Churchill's verbal antics at an Ottawa press conference during the British Prime Minister's visit.

Asked if his retirement was impending, Sir Winston retorted he felt that "Her Majesty should be the first to know." "The suggestions are in contempt" he replied to another newsman when asked if he wished to comment on suggestions that present attitudes toward the Russians were reminiscent of Munich policies.

45 MINUTES FROM BOMBERS

Questioned on effectiveness of conferences as against meeting the Russian strength before it completely developed, the great man replied that from a lifetime of experience in peace and war he could see the value of "jaw, jaw, jaw against war, war, war."

The United Kingdom viewpoint on this matter could be appreciated, Mr. Herridge said when maps showing the build-up of Red airfields in satellite countries could be viewed in the capital. Planes could be over Britain in force within 45 minutes, he said. British realization of this fact was one reason or some differences of viewpoint between United Kingdom and United States leaders.

Sir Winston, apparently totterv and saving himself when he walked or settled in his car, came to life with vigor when he spoke, the member said.

3000 LETTERS

Mr. Herridge since leaving for the last session has answered 3000 letters from constituents. When first under doctor's care, he was confined to speaking for five minutes at a time in the House, then 10 minutes, and latterly "no limits."

Specifications for the new federal building for Nelson District were at the printers when the member left Ottawa. When printed, plans can go out for tender.

Federal building plans for Trail will not be ready for tender until later probably in the Fall.

Mr. Herridge was to be in Trail Saturday and probably go on to his home near Nakusp during the weekend.

GULF BETWEEN

EASTBOURNE, England (CP) — More than 208 girls waited in vain for sailors of the visiting American destroyer Eaton to keep a date for a dance. Bad weather kept the sailors afloat a mile offshore.

Spot Assessment Made Leading to Equalization; Unused Machine Free

Sample assessments of 30 pieces of Nelson residential property have recently been made by personnel from the assessment commissioner's office in Victoria.

Re-assessment of property is being done under the B.C. Assessment Equalizations Act anounced in June under which all properties will be assessed next year at 60 per cent of 1953 values. "Spot checks" made of various pieces of property will be used to determine the assessment of all properties. Assessment of each piece of property will be increased by a fixed percentage derived from the sample assessments. Percentage of increase will be forthcoming from Victoria and the new assessment will be calculated by city hall staff.

Commercial and industrial machinery will also go on next year's tax roll and will be assessed at 60 per cent of 1953 value. Machinery unused for one year will be exempt from the tax. Firms will be asked to make out a declaration form listing their equipment.

Previous to the Equalization Act land in both urban and rural areas was assessed at 100 per cent of its value and improvements were assessed at 50 per cent in urban areas and 75 per cent of value in rural areas.

Kootenay Art, Handcraft Seen By Previewers; Steamer to Serve Again

If you didn't know the house Friday night you could find it by the "big wheel" leaning against the verandah . . . the wheel that piloted the S.S. Nasookin for 33 years.

At its feet, its coppery surface scratched and bent, the words Nasookin, that once identifed a graceful sternwheeler, rested.

Inside the house, home of Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Carney, small groups exclaimed over the handicraft of the Kootenay. Others found articles that recalled earlier adventures and so reminisced by the comfortable hearth fire.

The group was attending a preview of the handcraft that will be put on display Monday by Mr. and Mrs. Carney and Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Galbraith. It is designed to show off the Kootenays to visitors and to awaken an interest among local people in its beauty, history and arts.

Mrs. Carney put it this way: "Handcraft depicting our own history and present ways of life is one of our natural resources . . . as yet an undeveloped one. We want to see it grow."

"The handcraft display centre will be the upper decks of the Nasookin drydocked beside the North Shore highway," Mrs. Carney explained. It is her dream and is being realized with the aid of her husband and partners Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Galbraith.

It won't be until August that the unique tray carved from wood by a Mr. Crowe, the ash tray standing on eagles claws fashioned by Game Warden Ted Rutherglen, and Indian moccasins stitched by an Indian near Cranbrook known only a s Cecilia can be moved to their permanent home in the Nasookin's upper deck.

Invited guests Friday afternoon and evening looked over the articles to be displayed in the first Kootenay handcraft centre built from a paddlewheeler.

From the bookends carved by Mike Roberts from cottonwood, and woodscenes chipped from a pine log by Art Waldie, to the accurate little clay Indian figures moulded by "Nadine" a Kootenay Indian, while her kin posed and the Kootenay paintings of Mrs. M. Orbeliam and realistic water colors by A. P. Allsebrook, they found the collection fascinating.

WOMAN PROSPECTOR

The guests also admired a glass tube of Columbia River gold but failed to notice the pert, gray-haired woman who stood near by. She panned the gold, prospecting alone in the Big Bend. Her name is Evelyn Berlie-Bivar.

"The junior craft is highly important," Mrs. Carney explained as she pointed out a birch bark canoe sewn by an 11-year-old Lardeau girl. "We hope to develop it . . ."

Uphill Park to Be Developed By Volunteers

The development of the Uphill Playground for sports events is in the offing. Volunteer labor to do the job has been offered city council.

Ald. J. H. Coventry, chairman of the Parks Board, stated Friday that a tractor company and several unions in Nelson have offered aid for the project. As soon as they can be organized work is expected to commence.

City Council, said Ald. Coventry, was willing to spend money on the park as they have it set aside. With the voluhteer work a good park could be established for sports such as fastball, football and cricket.

Senior Liberal MLA Visits Nelson

P. Archie Gibbs, Liberal MLA for Oak Bay, and Mrs. Gibbs visited Nelson Friday and were entertained at an informal reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Harrison Friday night.

Mr. Gibbs is the senior Liberal member of the legislature, the only one to have been a member of it before the provincial election of 1953. The other four Liberal MLAs were first elected in 1953. Mr. Gibbs whose Oak Bay constituency is adjacent to Victoria was victorious in 1953 over Social Credit Finance Minister Einar Gunderson and Progressive Conservative leader Dean Finlayson, who also ran in Oak Bay. In the 1952 election he defeated Conservative Herbert Anscomb. In private life Mr. Gibbs is a chartered accountant.

Commenting on recent provincial government policies, Mr. Gibbs said one subject which he felt very strongly about was that the 'new B. C. Power Commission was not moving fast enough." He stated that a meeting of MLAs on this subject was held recently.

This is Mr. Gibbs' second visit to Nelson but Mrs. Gibbs' first. Mrs. Gibbs mentioned that they had come through some "wonderful country" on their 400-mile trip from Hope to Nelson Friday, and Mr. Gibbs commented that even coming from Victoria, noted for its scenic beauty, that the Kootenays "looked good."

Today they will travel to Creston where they will be entertained at a garden party at the home of Dr. W. N. Fraser. They plan to visit other centres in the interior too. The District Liberal Association arranged Friday night's reception.

Welcome Bonspielers

Nelson is a community with a hankering to make itself a lot of friends. It's found that the Midsummer Bonspiel is a fine way to introduce itself to great numbers of mighty fine folks—neighbors from across Canada and from the United States. The Bonspiel, therefore, is a community, not a commercial, event, and it is held with the hope that friendship between resident and visitor will be as high as the curling competition is good.

Nelson parks, gardens and homes all will hold a welcome for the Bonspielers and their families this week. We hope they will picnic in the parks, swim and fish in the lake and streams, ride the scenic highways, taste the summer fruits, participate in the sports and social events arranged—and enjoy themselves to the full.

The Summer Bonspiel is a classic among Canadian sports events, and before its course is run will have produced two new champions in men's and women's summer curling. It is the sincere wish of the community that it will have also produced good sport and a good holiday for its guests.

Who To Lead?

A Communist program for world conquest, now being studied by Congress, is an interesting document. It is not news in the sense the Communists have such a program, but it sets out the steps planned.

The intriguing feature about it is that it was prepared by the Chinese, rather than the Russian, Communists. And in its earlier stages it plans bringing East and Southeast Asia under Communist control. Then, and only then, would the Chinese favor breaking Western Europe and isolating this hemisphere.

Apparently this document was submitted to Moscow, and we really would like to know what Comrade Malenkov and company thought of it. Because this conquest of Asia would be under Chinese hegemony rather than Russian. And the Chinese want all Asia under their sphere of influence before they join Russia in a fight for control of the Western world.

This document does emphasize the known dangers to the Western world. But it likewise illustrates the inherent reason for eventual conflict between the Moscow and Peiping Communists. If Communists ever should get control of the world, by whom would that control be exercised?

Russia already must be a bit leery of Chinese Communist imperialism.

Betty's Weekly Letter to:

Dear Jane:

The old saying, "The squeaking wheel gets the grease," might apply to Gyro Park these days, for the blasting that is going on up there has drawn attention to it. Maybe everyone in Nelson knows about the beauty of Gyro Park; maybe everyone knows about the winding paths and the many picnic tables and benches; about the viewpoint and the breath-taking scenery to be viewed from there. But if not, there will be a delightful surprise in store for them.

By all the rules this is not the time to go to see, for men and machinery are at work everywhere, but when the roads get widened and the other work done, it surely will be one of the most popular of our parks. And the view from the viewpoint is one no tourist should miss.

In the much discussed controversy about the Vernon Street boulevards, we hear on every side that Nelson is remembered on account of its boulevards, that the flowered boulevard on Vernon Street has pleased all beauty lovers who have seen it.

And surely by now we have gained some fame on account of our Summer Bonspiel, too. There must be many people who, when they think of Nelson, think of roses and rocks.

But there is one stranger in Nelson who is going to remember our city for another reason. He isn't going to remember it on account of the view from Gyro Park, or because of a flowered boulevard, nor yet because we have a Summer Bonspiel. He's going to keep a warm little spot in his heart for it because someone said, "Can I give you a lift?"

He is going to remember this town kindly because on a very hot day a big man in a big car pulled up to the curb, when he could easily have passed right by, and offered a stranger a ride downtown.

So maybe it isn't so important if the fish aren't biting, or the sun isn't shining; maybe the things that advertise Nelson the best are not always the bonspiel, the boulevards or the scenery. It could be just something like, "Can I give you a lift?"

ALONG THE WAY

Sometimes when someone has passed our way,
And we might have had something kind to say
That would lift his spirits and make him feel
That friends and friendships were something real,
Instead of doing that little thing,
Of saying the word with the kindly ring,
It seemed so easy to hurry by
With a flick of the wrist or a quink of the eye,
Feeling we hadn't the time to spare,
We hadn't the time with others to share
A bit of the day God gave to us,
Or put in our hands to be held in trust.
Maybe we spend more time than we ought
At doing things that count for naught,
And miss the chances that come our way
Of having something kind to say.

—BETTY BLYTHE.

Hubby Asked It

Another thing which makes us worry just a trifle about Old England is the statement of a certain Councillor Albert Jones of Salford. He said:

"The only way we can defeat such weapons as the H-bomb is by refusing to have anything to do with them in any shape or form."

For a little light relief we turn to Dallas, Texas, where a woman showed a judge a fur coat in the back of which were several long slashes. A sleeve had been hacked off, too. The complainant said her husband, using a long, sharp knife, had told her he was going to air-condition the coat for her.

The judge asked where she was when her husband was slashing the coat. "I was busy getting out of it," she answered. "I barely made it."

"Where did you get the coat"

"I was afraid you were going to ask me that," she replied. "My husband asked me the same thing."

On two or three occasions ladies officiating at Canadian ship-launching ceremonies have handled the champagne bottle too gently and it has failed to break on the vessel's bow. Canadian Shipping tells us that the Dutch, a cautious race, don't take any chances. Standard procedure at most yards in Holland is to attach a steel piano wire to the champagne bottle. The wire is led through a hole in the ship's side and a heavy weight is attached to its free end. When the launching ribbon is cut, the weight takes charge and with remarkable acceleration and unerring accuracy the bottle is shattered against the ship's stem.

Reader, Kelowna—How can I remove chewing gum from a cotton dress?

Apply ice to it and then scrape off as much as possible, then repeat. Any remaining gum can be softened with egg white before washing. If the fabric is non-washable, rub spot with carbon tetrachloride.

L. H. T., Nelson—Now that cucumbers are procurable, please reprint recipe for ice-water pickles.

Two quarts small cucumbers, two pounds small onions, two teaspoons celery seed, two teaspoons mustard seed, half cup of salt, one and three-quarters cups brown sugar, one quart white wine vinegar. Slice cukes lengthwise into quarters and soak in ice-cold water two or three hours. Put a few small onions into sterile jars, then fill with sliced cucumbers, add celery seed and mustard seed. Boil salt and sugar in vinegar and pour over pickles.

F. D., Nelson—How long have skating races been popular?

Of the earliest skating races no records have been kept. Racing on skates was popular in Holland two centuries and longer ago. The first skating match recorded in England was in 1814, when Youngs of Mepal beat Thomson of Wimblington, both men of the Fen country. Skating races have taken place in Canada and the United States, but there seems to have been no records kept of early contests.

Student, Nelson—Who founded the Smithsonian Institution at Washington?

James Smithson, a British chemist and mineralogist. Smithson was born in France, and was first known as James Lewis Macie, taking the name of Smithson in the year 1800. He died in Genoa in 1829, and bequeathed £100,000 to the United States of America to set up the Smithsonian Institution, founded by Act of Congress in 1846.

The Stuff of Champions

Some 25 years ago a youngster had his left arm badly injured in a playground accident. After three operations the left arm was 10 inches shorter than the right, and permanently stiff in a crooked position. There was talk of amputation, but the doctors advised him to take up golf and see whether exercise wouldn't save the limb. The prescription was good. The boy took up golf and triumphed over his handicap. His style was unorthodox but his eye was true and his courage unbeatable. On Saturday, at the age of 37, he led a top flight field in the U.S. Open, taking the coveted title and pocketing $6000 as a prize. His name is Ed Furgol.

His story is striking, but not unique in the annals of golf. One of the men he defeated was the redoubtable Ben Hogan, defending champion. Ben himself is an example of courage that refused to be downed by disaster. Seriously injured in an automobile accident, he appeared to be out of golf forver, but after a year's absence from the fairways he came back to make a clean sweep of the top pro titles and win a permanent place in golf's hall of fame. It is said by sports writers that his day is done, but it was a great day while it lasted. He will be able to appreciate how Furgol feels.—Toronto Telegram.

5½-Million-Foot Log Drive Completed

CRANBROOK — River drive of 5½ million feet of logs 33 miles down the Spillimachene and Columbia Rivers to Parson was completed early in July, one of the few large scale log drive projects of inland British Columbia this year. The logs are penned in a back channel in the Columbia River near Parson where there is safe booming ground for 20 million feet.

Cranbrook Sawmills Ltd., holder of Forest Management Licence No. 14, accomplished this feat during the past month with logs cut last Fall and Winter and decked alongside the upper Spillimachene. On June 4 a crew of three men began the breaking jams for drive downstream and was increased to 10 men by the first week in July to complete the run of the whole 5½ million feet with a total of about 1200 man-hours.

Destination was Cranbrook Sawmills Ltd. plant at Parson on the Columbia River, 18 miles below where the Spillimachene flows in from the Purcell Range to the West. Logs will keep the plant busy for the next two months, and additional truck logging will be done this season on the completed 26 miles of access roads.

Management licence covers a wide tract of spruce, lodgepole pine and fir at the Spillimachene headwaters at about 4200 feet, and permits annual cutting of 14½ million feet.

Aiming at reducing its road construction, maintenance and hauling costs from the licence area to its stationary plant, the company has been working for two years at the Spillimachene River channel dredging, blasting, and bulldozing, along the 45 miles down to the Columbia.

Late Spring delayed this initial log drive start until June, but it was completed within 30 days.

The company plans to get into full production of its permitted 14½ million feet on the Management Licence from this area within two years, but will continue truck-logging to the mill to some extent in the meantime. At least 12 more miles of access logging roads are planned this year.

Alfred Farstad is Cranbrook Sawmills president and Donald Burns, vice-president, both Creston residents. The Parson plant was operated for many years by the late Thomas Alton until its sale a few years ago to Cranbrook Sawmills Ltd. Allan Verch is resident manager at Parson.

Nakusp Sports Bring $1226

NAKUSP—At a meeting which also said farewell to Al Short, treasurer of the Nakusp Recreation Association, the financial statement showed the take for Dominion Day activities to be $1226.60, excluding the dance intake. Some $96 had been paid out in cash prizes for parade and sports. The collection, taken at the ball game on Sunday, with the thought in mind of dividing evenly between the association and the ball club, was discussed, and the meeting decided that the ball club should have it all.

Storage for the merry go round and other club property was discussed and was tabled until the next meeting.

Some of the suggestions for the newly-formed recreation parks board were discussed.

It was decided to place $500 all-risk insurance policy on the merry go round, which cost over $600.

At the next meeting, with A. W. Thiessen of Nelson, organizer of sports for the department of education, the name of Brian Hempseed will be proposed as a lifeguard for Nakusp bathing beach this summer. If accepted, he will be given a brief training course.

Ray Burroughs, new bank teller, was elected treasurer of the association to fill the vacancy left by the withdrawal of Al Short, who leaves shortly for Courtenay.

WOOL CROP DOWN

Monument Unveiled to Inspector Steele, Hero of CPR Strike

ORILLIA, Ont. (CP) — A monument commemorating Sir Samuel Benfield Steele (1849-1919), who commanded the second Canadian contingent in the First World War, was unveiled Thursday.

This week marks the 80th anniversary of the 1255-mile march of the North West Mounted Police from Fort Dufferin, Man., to the Rockies. Steele, then a sergeant-major, was mentioned in despatches for his work during the march, that marked the effective taking over of the west for Canada.

FOUNDER OF FORT STEELE

Sam Steele, for whom Fort Steele in the East Kootenays was named, was the hero of a strike incident that threatened to assume serious proportions. Steele, stricken with mountain fever and confined to his bed, received a telegram from Lieut.-Gov. Dewdney (uncle of the late E. E. L. Dewdney of Nelson) to withdraw his men from the mountains because they were needed in connection with the Riel Rebellion. Steele replied it was impossible to comply as the Canadian Pacific Railway, laying track through the mountains, was forced to delay regular payments in construction camps and a strike was imminent. Twelve hundred men were armed at Beaver Creek and with only 25 mounted policemen along the track Steele was more than handicapped to face what looked like the start of a violent outbreak. Track layers were being intimidated by the agitators and refused to work without adequate protection—demonstrating how, in a short time the people were turning to the RNWMP for protection.

Unable, owing to sickness, to speak to the rebels himself, Steele was forced to rely on the services of Sgt. William Fury. After arresting one of the ringleaders, Fury and two constables with him, were assailed by several hundred drunken strikers.

Watching from his bed, Steele saw what was happening, rose, hastily donned his uniform and seizing a rifle, ran to the bridgehead. The mob by now was in full cry. A local justice of the peace, George Hope Johnson, who had been sitting with the sick inspector rushed out after him.

Covering the screaming throng Steele shouted that the first person to cross the bridge would be shot. The men were not too drunk to realize that an angry man with a gun on a narrow bridge controlled the situation. Johnson then proceeded to read the riot act, at the close of which Steele addressed the somewhat subdued mob:

"You have taken advantage of the fact that a rebellion has broken out in the northwest," he said, "and that I have only a handful of men. But as desperate diseases require desperate remedies, I warn you that if I find more than 12 of you standing together or any large crowd assembled I will open fire upon you and mow you down . . ."

A week later the men had all been paid and the camp was quiet.

A bronze tablet in his memory will be attached to a large granite boulder, gift of the Orillia Historical Society, standing in the grounds of the Orillia public library.

Further Inquiry Into Minto Substitute

NAKUSP — At the meeting of Nakusp Chamber of Commerce it was suggested that the Chamber take steps to interest the postal department in erecting their own post office building in town. The present site had become inadequate and the Bank of Commerce, the other tenant, could use the additional space.

The matter of street lighting had been referred from the monthly meeting to the executive. It was thought from a letter received from the B. C. Power Commission, that the present system could be enlarged without additional expense. Further clarification of the matter is being sought from the Commission.

The suggestion of incorporating the district for street lighting purposes was shelved, pending action on this and further activity on the matter of village incorporation.

The name of A. Stanley was added to the committee on community matters. It is hoped that the village incorporation committee will become active again and bring the matter to a head.

It was decided to ask the Town Planning Commission to take charge of the new subdivision being opened up north of Nakusp Elementary School.

The matter of substitute service for the Minto was discussed following a letter from the Hon. Mr. P. R. Gagliardi, which indicated that no figures were available for substitute service. As the Board was under the impression that Mr. MacKenzie of the Interior Tug and Transport had submitted such figures, it was decided to make further enquiries in the matter.

The committee on the East-West highway asked for instructions. Lumby Board of Trade had expressed willingness to co-operate in a large joint meeting of all interested parties. It was decided to wait for results of the Jumbo Pass recreation survey, scheduled for this Summer.

BUILDING DOWN AT KINNAIRD

KINNAIRD—New building activity in the village of Kinnaird is considerably curtailed from last year. There was only one new building permit issued during the month of June. It was to Steve Polovey to re-roof a dwelling for $750.

There were six permits issued in the village during May, totalling $11,250. They were:

Walter L. Fitchett, temporary dwelling $250, Mrs. E. Burrow dwelling, $9000; E. R. Hawe basement $500; P. Trischuk, dwelling $1000; M. Kissock, basement $500 and United Church basement, free permit.

The Husband Who Wasn't There

By WILLIAM G. BOGART

(Copyright, 1954, William G. Bogart, Illustrations copyright, 1954, King Features Syndicate, Inc. Distributed by King Features Syndicate.)

(Chapter Five Continued)

"But she wasn't swimming tonight, not in that contest," Botts said softly in a manner he probably thought was suave. "We've already been told that. She probably got excited and fell out of the boat. She was alone out there —"

"Don't be a fool!" I said. "She could have been held under water."

The coroner — a stocky, quiet man with glasses — had been listening. Now he put in, "Naturally, I leave nothing to chance. We think of those things, too, my good man. But there are no marks on her throat showing there was any kind of struggle."

"But there are marks on her ankles," I said grimly.

The coroner nodded. "Marks caused by the straps of her sandals. I saw them."

"Were they caused by that?" I asked.

No one spoke.

One man had not entered the conversation. He stood apart from us, stiff, his face thin and gray and strained. He, too, wore swim trunks over which he had thrown a robe. He was thin as a matchstick. It was Elsie's husband, Sheldon Patterson. Now he spoke for the first time. His voice almost cracked, and he controlled it with a mighty effort. "Just what do you mean, Morgan?"

"I mean," I said harshly, "someone held your wife under water by the ankles until she drowned. They tilted the boat, then pulled her under. By the way, Patterson," I said, "where were you all the time?"

He looked as if he wanted to hit me. But finally he said, "I was right in the boat with her. She was perfectly all right when I left her."

His eyes glittered. "Tommy Engles called me over to his boat for a drink." I remembered the drunk who had been waving the bottle at the start of the men's race. "I swam over there. I was afraid something would happen to him. I rowed him in to the dock. We had just gotten there when—Amy screamed."

I said meaningfully, "I suppose Engles can verify that you were with him all the time?"

He almost sneered. "Tommy passed out, and you know it. He won't remember a thing."

I was remembering Mrs. Patterson's swiftly spoken words: "I think I know who killed Dave Townley." And there'd been her secret rendezvous with the gambler, Tony Valenti, and her husband's expression as he watched them.

Someone knew that Elsie had suspected. Because of that she was dead. It had to be murder!

It went on for another hour, but we got no place. It was Patterson who said quietly, "Chief, do you mind—" He looked ill. He was nodding toward the closed doors.

Botts said, "Everybody be around for the inquest tomorrow." He swung and gave me his soft smile. "That includes you, sir."

Then Patterson was leaving the room, murmuring shakily, "There are so many things to do. I'll have to make arrangements . . ."

I got hold of Louella and we left. There was still some question going on as the police moved among the other guests. Then they were leaving one by one.

I asked Lou, "What happened to Tony Valenti?"

"He left with that singer. The one called Velma."

"Before it happened."

"I'm pretty sure. But it was difficult to keep track of everybody."

"I'll take you home," I said.

We were going down the steps now, and Lou gave me a swift, thoughtful look. "Then where are you going"

"I didn't say—"

I didn't answer until we began looking for the fellow who had parked the cars. It took about ten minutes for him to bring it around. Just as we were climbing into it another car came along the drive. It had appeared from a garage in the rear of the place. I paused, one foot on the running board, watching.

Patterson was behind the wheel of the car. Alone. I got a glimpse of his face. His features were set in stony, purposeful lines.

"I had an idea of this," I said musingly. "He certainly got dressed in a hurry."

"What do you mean, Steve"

"He's heading for trouble. He's going to see Tony Valenti."

Louella gasped as she held on to my arm tight. "That man again!"

Lou wanted to ask more questions. But I ignored them. "You ought to have something around you," I said. "Where are your clothes"

She motioned toward the Patterson house, then shuddered a little. Her tanned, bare thighs gleamed in the dashboard glow. "I don't want to go back in there tonight," she pointed out. "Run me home. I'll change."

"You'll stay home, pet," I said.

"Take me with you?"

"Unh-unh."

Soon we pulled up in her driveway behind the white cottage. The night was very quiet. It must have been about two a.m. Louella looked like a bronzed goddess in the tight swim cap. She leaned close for a moment. "Please be careful, darling. If anything ever happened to you—"

There was a time to be romantic, but this wasn't it. I was thinking of Patterson.

"Baby," I told her, "every time I think of that poor Elsie . . ." I shook my head, helped her out of the car, and kissed her, because that's what she wanted. I yanked off the tight-fitting bathing cap and let her tawny hair fall down. I buried my hands in her hair and pulled her head toward me again and kissed her hard.

"Whew!" she gasped, staring at me.

I sent the roadster roaring around the lake, because I had to catch Patterson.

(Elsie's death is solved and the disappearance of Dave Townley too, in Monday's fateful final chapter of The Husband Who Wasn't There, exclusively in the Nelson Daily News.

Wedding Trip to Regina, Pair To Reside in Riondel

CRESTON — At a candlelight ceremony before a flower-banked altar, Lois Kathleen, daughter of Mr. Howard A. Arnott of Gravelberg, Sask., exchanged marriage vows with James Keith Tarbet, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Tarbet of Creston. Rev. A. O. McNeil officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, loked radiant in a white strapless floor-length gown of chantilly lace which featured a net pleated front and a lace jacket with long sleeves. Her full length veil was held in place by a dainty net tiara and she carried a spray bouquet of red roses.

Miss Audrey Williams of Calgary, Alta., as the bride's only atendant, wore a yellow strapless full length gown of lace with matching bolero, and stand-up headdress and carried a bouquet of deep pink and white carnations.

F/O Hugh Tarbet of Winnipeg, Man., brother of the groom, was best man and Messrs. Nels Hornbek of Riondel and Ray Arnott, brother of the bride, were ushers.

During the signing of the register, Miss Geraldine Gardner, accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Edna Fraser, sang "Through the Years."

The reception, attended by 50 guests, was held at the United Church hall, with the Willing Workers catering. The hall was decorated with spring flowers against lattice work.

The bride's aunt, Mrs. B. Williams, chose a navy and white ensemble, while Mrs. Tarbet, mother of the groom, wore gray and pink. Both wore corsages of roses and white carnations.

Mr. McNeil proposed the toast and the groom responded. Toast to the bridesmaid was proposed by the groom's uncle, Dr. D. J. Millar.

For a honeymoon to Regina, Sask., the bride wore a coral linen dress, white accessories and navy duster. Mr. and Mrs. Tarbet will reside at Riondel.

Out of town guests were Mr. H. A. Arnott, Mrs. B. Williams, Audrey Williams, Mr. R. Arnott, Mr. and Mrs. S. Parker, Mrs. Muriel Becker, Mr. and Mrs. Schriock.

HANDSOME HANDBAG—Here's a real leather beauty of a bag, a sleek, urban job that is as good for travel as for town. With this thought in mind it has been designed in a softly tailored satchel style of aniline calf in delecate shades such as birch, sand and smoke, all good with the dark and light hues of summer clothes and equally good for fall fashions. It has a distinguished jeweler's frame and boasts a wide array of fittings in matching leather for that distinctive detail. An example of fine American skill and design at its best.

Humes Again Tied For First Place

The Humes of the Nelson and District Fastball League roared into a first place tie with the Passmore club Friday night when they shut out the Maddens 6-0 behind the three-hit chucking of Morris Renwick at the Recreation Grounds.

Renwick was brilliant as he blazed his fastball past the wild swinging Madden crew who now have dropped 11 games while managing to win one game.

The Humes blasted the ball for seven hits in gaining their 10th win of the year. Five blows were for extra bases.

Red Koehle led the Hume batters collecting a single and a triple in three appearances at the plate. Both Mickey Maglio and Al Koenig homered for the winners as they took care of two Madden chuckers, Keith Loewen and Godfrey.

The Humes opened the scoring in the first with a run on the strength of a walk, a sacrifice and a single by Renwick.

In the third they opened up a three-run lead as they crossed the plate with two runs on Harold Mayo's triple and Koenig's homer.

In the sixth Red Koehle tripled and Frank Hufty boomed a screaming double to score Koehle. After scoring one in the seventh on four walks the Humes ended the scoring when Maglio blasted a long homer.

Renwick in gaining the victory struck out seven and walked two as he faced only 31 batters. He had a no-hitter going into the sixth when Trainor spoiled it with a single.

HOT MOMENT is captured by camera in one of three baseball games played by Nelson Maple Leafs and Spokane Hillyard Merchants. Nelson catcher Swede Larson let the ball bounce off his chest protector after a perfect hop-throw by centrefielder Frank Hufty to allow Spokane catcher Don Strawn cross the plate and tie the score 4-4 in the ninth inning. Nelson won 5-4, however. Spokane third base coach is following Strawn in.—R. Mulloy photo.

Aussie Golfer, Thompson Wins British Open Title

SOUTHPORT, England (AP) — Peter Thomson of Melbourne Friday won the first British open golf championship for Australia, to become the successor to Ben Hogan and the youngest champion since Bobby Jones.

The 23-year-old professional completed a nine-under-par 283 over the tough Royal Birkdale links to give Australia a grand slam of major British golf title and end the jinx this most ancient of opens has held over players from down under. He is the first Aussie to win in 83 opens and his hometown friend, Doug Bachli, was the first to win the British amateur in May.

Thomson shot a two-under-par 71 in the final round Friday afternoon after a scorching 69 in the morning to defeat three other stars by a stroke. His early rounds were 72 and 71.

LOCKE STROKE BEHIND

One stroke behind Thomson were Bobby Locke of South Africa, Dai Rees of Wales and Syd Scott of England, all with 284s.

Three strokes back with a 286 was Jim Turnesa of Briarcliff, N.Y., who made the best bid of the American contingent. Jimmy Adams of England and Argentina's Antonio Cerda also shot 286.

The other four Americans who qualified for the championship were down the list. Jimmy Demaret of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., had a 289, Gene Sarazen, who won the British classic in 1932, had a 292, amateur Frank Stranahan of Toledo, O., shot a 296; and Al Watrous, Birmingham, Mich., had an even 300.

Two Toronto clubs, the Argonaut and the Don Rowing Clubs, the Hamilton Leander Club, and the host St. Catharines Rowing Club will also try for berths.

Rose to Play Stewart in Finals

DUBLIN (CP) —Mervyn Rose of Australia defeated Gil Shea of Chicago 6-2, 6-1, 16-14 Friday in a marathon men's singles semi-final of the Irish tennis championships. Rose will face Hugh Stewart of Pasadena, Calif., in today's finals.

In the semi-finals of the men's doubles, Lorne Main of Toronto and Vancouver and Shea defeated Rose and another Australian, Neil Fraser, 2-6, 6-2 ,6-4.

Junior Salary Limit Upsets Contracts

TORONTO (CP) — At least two star players may be lost to Ontario Hockey Association Junior A teams as a result of a $60 weekly salary limit, officals said Friday.

General manager Stafford Smythe of Toronto Marlboros said standout defenceman Gerry James is through as a junior hockey player unless he tears up his 1954-55 contract which calls for more than the limit.

Hap Emms, Barrie Flyers coach and chairman of the committee that drafted the rule change, said he would probably lose Cleland Mortson who was earning well above the limit last season.

PARNELL WINS MILE EVENT

VANCOUVER — Bill Parnell of Vancouver, who holds the Empire Games record for the mile of 4:11, won the event Friday night in 4:14.2, winning by 10 yards over John Moule of Hamilton. Rich Ferguson of Toronto was third, another 15 yards back.

Parnell began his sprint about 220 yards from the finish—the race was his from there in. Parnell's time was two-tenths of a second slower than the Canadian open record.

Ball Boys Aim at Wimbledon

By JEFF RYAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP) — Wimbledon, probably the main stop on the international tennis circuit, is the year's undisputed No. 1 attraction for more than 70 boys.

The lads who dote on Wimbledon are the ball boys, chosen from 200 pupils at a home for orphans. They must move alertly among the greats of the tennis world.

To them, it's the chance of a life time, with a little money thrown in. Competition for places on the final ball boy team is brisk.

Frank Fagg, tennis judge and in charge of Wimbledon ball boys for 20 years, selects carefully.

ON THE ALERT

A ball boy has to be alert all the time, but immobile during play. Faults that Fagg watches for: Slow in darting across the court, touching the ball before it's dead, poor balance, inepitness at fielding and handling balls. Any of these tend to annoy high strung competitors.

Top ball boys go to the famed centre court, where the stars perform and the finals are played.

The next best go to courts 1, 2 and so on. The day starts at 10 a.m. when a motor coach from the orphanage pulls into Wimbledon and ends when play is over. One year the boys didn't get back till midnight because of a marathon match.

Most thrilled boy of the ball-gathering contingent this year was 17-year-old Peter Darling. On the crowded No. 2 court, seeded American Art Larsen, waiting for his partner in a doubles match, told Peter: "Pick up a racquet and let's have some practice."

For 10 minutes, Peter's volleying over the net drew cheers from the spectators. Afterwards Larsen said: "The kid was great—such confidence. With a spot of coaching he might become a good player."

White Sox 8-3 Win Cuts Indians' Lead

By the Associated Press

Cleveland Indians' American League lead over New York shrank to three games Friday night as Chicago White Sox whipped them 8-3 while the Yankees nipped Washington Senators 6-5.

In the National League, Brooklyn Dodgers finally ended their losing ways, coming from behind to trim Philadelphia 7-5 in 10 innings. The Dodgers gained no ground on the first place New York Giants, who walloped Pittsburgh Pirates 6-3 to maintain their 6½ game advantage.

Baltimore Orioles snapped a five game losing streak, defeating Detroit Tigers 7-5, but still trailed the sixth place Philadelphia Athletics who trounced Boston Red Sox 9-3.

Cincinnati Redlegs scored four in the first inning and went on to defeat Milwaukee Braves 5-3. Chicago Cubs again plastered St. Louis Cardinals 6-4 in 11 innings.

Martell, Leonard Lead CPGA Play

By GRAHAM TROTTER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

EDMONTON (CP) — Defending champion Henry Martell of Edmonton Highlands and 1953 runner-up Stan Leonard of Vancouver Marine Drive beat par and a stiff wind Friday to share the lead after the first round of the Canadian Professional Golfers Association championship.

The two leaders ,contending with winds gusting to 31 miles an hour, fired identical one-under-par 69s for the initial 18-hole test at the Edmonton Mayfair course.

Two strokes off the pace with a 71 as the medal tournament goes into its 36-hole windup today is "dark horse" Jack Kay of Montreal Mount Bruno, possibly the strongest man off the tee in the 31-man field.

Still within shooting distance of the front-runners were Bill Kerr of Montreal Beaconsfield and Damien Gauthier of Montreal Municipal, who each shot a 72; Pat Fletcher of Saskatoon Country club, cigar-smoking Gordon Brydson of Toronto Mississauga, Jules Huot of Montreal Laval-Sur-Le-Lac, oldster William Lamb of Toronto Lambton, all with 73s; and Stan Horne of Montreal Islemere and Al Balding of Port Credit, Ont., each with 74.

Breaks Women's Shot-Put Record

By W. R. WHEATLEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER (CP) — Jackie MacDonald of Toronto broke the women's Canadian shot put record Friday night with a toss of 41 feet, one-half inch.

The mark was made at the track and field trials for Canada's team in the British Empire Games. It erased the old record of 40 feet, 3¼ inches made in 1952 at Hamilton by Mary Lawrence, also of Toronto. Miss Lawrence placed second to Miss MacDonald Friday night, far below her former record with a toss of 36 feet, 3¼ inches. Marie Depree of Vancouver placed third.

Weather conditions were poor when the record was made. A drizzle was falling and the weather was cool, but a raincoated crowd of 2500 was on hand. Friday night's meet, with the second half scheduled for Saturday afternoon, opened with heats in the men's 440-yard race.

Laird Sloan of Montreal headed the first heat, with three to qualify, followed by Joseph Foreman of Toronto and Doug Clement of Vancouver.

Terry Tobacco, a junior of Victoria, finished first in the second heat. Jack Carroll of Montreal and Richard Harding of Toronto qualified easily.

Sloan's time was 48.6 and Tobacco's 50.6.

Mary Vandale of Vancouver won the opening heat of the women's 100-yard in 11.6. Shirley Eckel of Toronto missed qualifying although timed in 11.9, same as Joan Wood of Montreal who took third place by the closest of margins.

Dorothy Kozak of Winnipeg won the second, also in 11.6. Rosella Thorne of Montreal and Connie Gleed of Toronto failed to qualify.

Market Trends

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market displayed a mixed to lower trend but in the late afternoon steels and motors sparked a recovery.

Canadian stocks were higher. Dome Mines gained, Canadian Pacific and Distillers Seagram each gained and International Nickel and Hiram Walker both advanced. McIntyre was off.

TORONTO (CP) — Golds and industrials were strong in light trading toward close. The rest of the market was low.

The gold board recovered from morning weakness while industrials continued Thursday's strength.

MONTREAL (CP) — Prices edged forward irregularly in moderately active trading.

Miscellaneous industrials, papers and utilities gained strength while steels drifted into softer territory. A mixed tone ruled the senior oil and bank sections. Beverages, senior metals and carriers were mainly unchanged.

LONDON (Reuters)—Prices continued firm despite a little pre-weekend profit-taking. Canadian Pacific lost some ground. Demand for industries continued apace with a little profit-taking resulting in some reaction.

Winnipeg Grain

WINNIPEG (CP) — Winnipeg grain cash prices:

Oats—No. 1 feed, 67⅛.
Barley, No. 1 feed, 98¾.

Seventy per cent of Finland's 130,800 square miles is covered by forest.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Kenya Whites Form Non-Racial Party

NAIROBI, Kenya (Reuters) — A new white political party aimed at uniting all races by backing a multi-racial government was launched in Kenya Friday.

The party, with the declared object of inviting other races to join its ranks in the future, will be known as the United Country Party.

Formed by a group of white men who are determined to fight the next election in the colony on a platform of multi-racialism, the new party is the first attempt to establish a political body in Kenya on a non-racial basis.

Children's and Adult Sports Held at Nakusp

NAKUSP—Children's and adult sports were held at Nakusp in conjunction with a regular senior league baseball game. Watermelons and cold drinks, surplus from Dominion Day, augmented by candy, smokes and ice cream were sold in abundance. The merry go round, free to the children for the day, stopped long enough only to change loads of happy children.

The ball game was close all the way through. In the fifth inning, Nakusp nine looked like it might score, with the bases loaded, a hit was made, but was easily caught to retire the side. At the end of the ninth inning the score remained 0-0. In overtime, the New Denver-Silverton nine beat Nakusp by two runs.

Nakusp brass band contributed largely to the festive air of the afternoon. The loud-speaker helped to keep the crowd informed.

She died in hospital Tuesday.

Miss Hanman once owned a group of mines in the Kootenay district. She might have become wealthy but she was constantly lending money and buying un-needed goods out of sorrow for salesmen.

She took up breeding of the rare and ancient Maltese dogs as a business venture but she took a liking to the first litter and could never bring herself to sell the pups although they were worth from $150 to $250 each.

Among the top Soviet writers recently attacked, said the agency are Ilya Ehrenburg, who has covered many international conferences, V. Pomerantsev, V. Panova and M. Zoshchenko. They allegedly showed a tendency toward "deviationism."

The four expelled writers include Stalin prize winner N. Virta, A. Surov, A. Voloshin and T. Galsanov—all charged with committing a number of "amoral and anti-social acts."

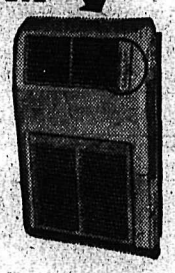
A THERMOSTAT IN EVERY ROOM



Many people just can't believe—until they see it in actual operation—how simple and practical the SelecTemp heating system is.

A small recessed wall unit in every room (even the bathroom) has its own filter, fan and thermostat. Gives unexcelled comfort. The same low pressure steam that supplies the heat runs the steam turbine-driven fan. No wiring or electricity needed for fans or thermostats. Small flexible copper tubing carries steam to room units.

Saves fuel, too. No overheating. You can reduce temperatures in unused rooms and get quick warmth again when you want it.

Flower Show First Pre-Bonspiel Affair in Week of Gay Events

The tenth annual Mid-Summer Bonspiel is just four days away but for Nelsonites, curlers and visitors, the festivity surrounding the event will begin even before that. On Saturday and Sunday the Nelson Garden Club will present its annual Flower Show.

Garden Club Secretary D. R. Grahame reports that plans for the show are completed. Tables on which the flowers and roses will be displayed were set up Friday night in the Civic Centre badminton hall. A dozen or more tables of flowers were planned.

As in the past there will be quite a variety of flowers, all locally grown. There is no competition in the show. A new feature of the show this year will be a children's table, a table of flowers arranged and decorated by children under 12 years of age.

It is also planned to have a record player in the hall which is another new feature. The show will take place from 2 to 10 p.m. Saturday and from 2 to 9 p.m. Sunday. At shows in previous years the public have attended them fairly well and as good a turnout is hoped for this year's show. With the cancellation of the regatta on Sunday an even larger turnout is anticipated.

After the Flower Show the roses will be used to decorate the curling rink. Monday morning the World's Summer Curling Championships will get under way. Monday night the bonspiel will be officially opened, a parade will take place, and the mixer party will be held. From then on the week will be filled with activity, principally curling, but with a good amount of diverting activities too.

The bonspiel committee in planning this year's bonspiel has endeavored to make it the biggest event in its 10-year history.

Park Greenhouse Houses Fine Begonia Display

Summer Bonspiel visitors will have plenty of opportunity to see exhibitions of the floral wealth Nelson gardens produce.

Besides the Garden Club show, they can see the display of tuberous begonias at Lakeside Park, now at their best. Park Superintendent Frank Holt makes a specialty of these display beauties.

They are located in the park greenhouses, which are open to the public. The people can "go in on their own free will," Mr. Holt points out.
