Only Alternative Was Continued Fighting

Threat of Conflict Spreading Made Peace Urgent; House Cheers Eden

By JAMES F. KING

LONDON (AP) — Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told a cheering House of Commons Thursday the only alternative to the Indo-China cease-fire reached at Geneva was "continued fighting" and a risk of the conflict spreading.

Eden, just back from Geneva, said he is convinced "the arrangements now arrived at are the best that could have been contrived in the circumstances of each individual case."

Giving an official report on the cease-fire in Indo-China, Eden said Thursday:

"The only alternative of these arrangements was continued fighting, further misery and suffering and certainty of even greater sacrifices in the end.

"What is more, there was a wider danger to us all. So long as this fighting continued there was an ever present risk that the conflict would spread with measureless consequences."

Eden drew cheers from both sides of the House as he concluded his brief statement by declaring:

"In so far as our toils have averted these dangers they have, I am sure, been a real gain for peace."

Herbert Morrison, who was foreign minister in the former Labor government in power when the Indo-China fighting broke out, said he agreed with Eden.

CAN ACCEPT AID

Eden said it was "clearly understood" at the Geneva conference that none of the three Indo-China states would join a military alliance. Eden said both Laos and Cambodia are free to accept French military aid and equipment for "the effective defence of their territories."

"At the same time, it is clearly understood that none of these states will allow new foreign military bases to be established on its territory or will become a member of a military alliance. The purpose is to ensure that each of these countries shall be able to lead its own life in peace."

Eden said that unlike Viet Nam, the largest of the three associated states, Laos and Cambodia now have no French bases on their territory.

Million To Be Evacuated

By FORREST EDWARDS

HANOI, Indo-China (AP) — French officials announced Thursday preliminary plans for evacuations from the surrendered Red River delta as sporadic fighting continued. The Geneva cease-fire is not yet officially in effect.

Jacques Compain, French delegate general to northern Indo-China said the removal of French and Viet Namese civilians from Hanoi will begin next week. He said officials are prepared to move more than 1,000,000 persons from the delta area before it is handed over to the Communist-led Vietminh.

Under terms of the armistice reached at Geneva, the French have 80 days to evacuate Hanoi and 300 to get out of Haiphong, the chief port of the delta area.

To Investigate Call-Girl Racket

SYDNEY, N.S. (CP) — —Crown procecutor Donald Finlayson said Thursday he is starting a full-scale investigation to break up a Sydney call-girl racket bared by testimony at the inquest into the strangling of brunette Florence Tavern.

The attorney said the crown likely would file charges as result of its inquiry into a statement by the RCMP that Mrs. Tavern, 27, was one of "six or more prostitutes" running a date-by-phone ring with the help of Sydney taxi drivers.

SHE'S 102

ORMSTOWN, Que. (CP) — Mrs. Charles Fisher Moe, one of Quebec's oldest residents, celebrated her 102nd birthday Wednesday by receiving friends at her home here. Although blind, she is still able to walk with the help of a cane. Among gifts were 102 roses from the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

"End of Nightmare" Says Mendes-France

By HARVEY HUDSON

PARIS (AP) — The Indo-China cease-fire agreement — though sometimes cruel"—was "the best we could have hoped for in view of conditions," Premier Pierre Mendes-France told the French National Assembly Thursday.

The deputies, including the Communists, applauded the premier enthusiastically when he concluded his 45-minute report.

Mendes-France, who had promised to deliver a cease-fire pact by July 20 or resign, told the assembly he had been working against time in the negotiations because the French military position was so weak. He said the Geneva agreement marked "the end of a nightmare for France."

The Communist deputies also applauded when Mendes-France paid tribute to the help given by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden of Britain during the negotiations at Geneva.

Mendes-France said he was sure France's alliance with Britain and the United States is stronger as a result of his talks last week with Secretary of State Dulles and Eden.

He emphasized, however, that the French policy with regard to the six-nation European Defence Community had not in any way been bound as a result of the talks.

After a detailed report on the bargaining and the peace terms, Mendes-France said the next problem facing the country is a realignment of its economic position. He has promised to deliver to the assembly soon his program for economic recovery.

Silver Sold as Trash

WASHINGTON (CP) — The U.S. Air Force admitted sheepishly Thursday it included a "large quantity" of silver in a surplus sale under the mistaken impression it was trash.

It discovered the error before the "trash" was delivered, however and the sale was cancelled.

The silver was in the form of unused decoration medals offered for sale in disposal of about $10,000,000 worth of surplus materials at Wilkins air depot, near Shelby, Ohio.

Reports from Shelby said about 57 tons of silver was involved. One lot was bid at $1.90 a pound and a second at $4 a pound.

There was no word of the fineness of the decorations, but the value of a pound of fine silver would be about $14.85.

Escapes Reds in Frogman Suit

VIENNA (AP) — A Czech grocery clerk has escaped from Communist Czechoslovakia by swimming three miles under water in a submarine shit fashioned from a picture of a U. S. navy frogman, American officials said Thursday.

Olrich Lopada, 41, made his get-away June 28 across the rain-swollen waters of the Dyje River at the Czech frontier town of Znojmo, 50 miles northwest of Vienna.

Now at a U. S. escapee camp at Wels, Lopada said his makeshift frogman suit was made out of sheet rubber glued together with rubber cement, and a diver's helmet built from an old German gas mask. The mask had two rubber hoses attached to corks that floated on the water.

Lopada told U.S. officials he hid near the river bank on the Czech side until night fell and border patrols could not see him slip into the water. He carried wire cutters to get through the barbed-wire frontier in midstream.

Lopada got the idea for the suit from a picture in a magazine of U. S. frogmen in the Normandy invasion. He told U. S. officials the Communist Czech regime had forced him out of his grocery business.

Steel Contract Dispute Deadlocked

HAMILTON (CP) — A conciliation board hearing of a contract dispute ended Thursday without agreement, after a last-minute private session between the board chairman and representatives of the Steel Company of Canada.

The board announced that since there is no prospect of immediate settlement, it will consider the submissions and issue a report.

The company Thursday asked the board to recommend against an increase this year in wages or fringe benefits for the firm's 6500 workers here.

PLAN NEW WAREHOUSE

CALGARY (CP) — Ground will be broken this week for a $405,000 parts distribution warehouse planned by General Motors in Calgary's Highfield subdivision, company officials announced Thursday. The 50,000-square-foot building will be a link in a multi-million-dollar chain of parts distribution centres being built across Canada by the firm.

MICA CREEK DAM STUDIED

Canadian, U.S. Officials Discuss Construction

SEATTLE (AP)—Canadian and American power officials conferred here Thursday on plans for a $300,000,000 Canadian power development to provide electricity for the Puget Sound area of Washington State.

Representatives of the Puget Sound Utilities Council and Harold Crosby, chairman of the British Columbia Power Commission, discussed the construction of a mammoth dam at Mica Creek on the Upper Columbia River, 300 miles north of Vancouver.

The dam would impound about 10,500,000 acre-feet of water, approximately double the capacity provided by Washington's Grand Coulee Dam. The water would be stored during the summer and released in the winter, when normal Columbia River flow provides just enough energy to keep up with industrial users.

Crosby already has discussed the plan with members of the British Columbia Power Commission, and with Robert E. Sommers, B.C. minister of lands.

Unofficial sources have said American interests would have to pay most of the dam's costs.

Grisly Pictures Shown in Court

PERCE, Que. (CP) — A heavy rain squall darkened the courtroom during a murder trial here Thursday as the crown exhibited grisly pictures of a triple slaying in the Gaspe wilds a year ago.

Jurors, who sat for a time in eerie shadows caused by a power break, were visibly shaken as they studied photographs of the dismembered bear-mauled bodies of three American hunters.

Earlier in this seventh day of the trial, defence counsel Raymond Maher returned to the court after a two-day absence and declared he had found "some very important evidence."

Wilbert Coffin, 40-year-old jack-of-all-trades who is charged specifically with the rifle killing of Richard Lindsey, 17, of Hollidaysburg, Pa., showed little emotion during the hearing.

Truce Shot in Arm For Malaya Rebels

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (Reuters) — The desperate Communist terrorists in Malaya will get a big boost in morale when they learn of the Indo-China truce, British army officials said Thursday night.

The struggle in Malaya — only 250 miles across the Gulf of Siam from Indo-China—now remains the only spot in the world where a hot war wages between East and West.

About 4500 Communist terrorists have used their best friend, the jungle, to pin down 40,000 regular British troops. Here, as in Viet Nam, modern war methods have proved of little use against the will-o'-the-wisp tactics of the Communist jungle leaders.

A month ago, Gen. Sir Gerald Templer, retiring as commander here after 27 months of ruthless strategy against the terrorists, said, "you cannot compete with militant Communism with bayonets, bombs and ships."

Although the Malayan rebels may enjoy relative security in their jungle hideouts, lately they have failed in their attempts to infiltrate the civilized centres. They have been mercilessly pounded by British planes, guns and paratroopers, and their leaders undoubtedly have lost hope of setting up any "People's Republic."

But now, noting the success of their Vietminh comrades across the gulf, the Malayan leaders may look forward to getting reinforcements from outside.

WILL BE ENCOURAGED

The local rebels will be encouraged by the fact that Ho Chi Minh began his war in Indo-China with a ragged guerrilla army much like that in Malaya, and today stands as official leader of the richest part of the state of Viet Nam.

Wife Greets Hero-Premier

PARIS (Reuters) — A slim, pretty woman with streaks of grey in her dark hair stood beaming proudly at the airport here today and said:

"My husband always pulls it off."

Lily Mendes-France stood among the cheering crowd waiting to give a hero's welcome to her husband, Premier Pierre Mendes-France, as he arrived home from Geneva after achieving the most cherished desire of 40,000,000 Frenchmen—peace in Indo-China.

When the plane door opened, the 47-year-old premier paused, sought her out among the crowd, clasped her head in his hands, ran his fingers through her hair and kissed her eagerly.

Waiting for the plane to land she talked gaily with reporters.

"Throughout our marriage," she told them, "he has always been successful—he is so strong and has so much common sense."

When Pierre phoned to tell her a settlement had been achieved, she said: "I told him how pleased I was because if an end is put to a bad thing it is always a source for joy."

"But," Egyptian-born Lily Mendes-France added, "Pierre had no joy in his heart.

"As always . . . he felt he had merely obtained the best possible conditions in the solution of a difficult problem."

Soviet Announces Execution of Former Official

By DON DALLAS

LONDON (Reuters)—Russia announced early today the execution of a former high secret police chief —the first execution of a political leader since Lavrenti P. Beria and six others were shot last December.

The Soviet official news agency Tass, in a dispatch monitored here, said M. D. Riumin, formerly deputy minister of state security in Russia, was executed following a death sentence passed by a military court.

Riumin had been under arrest since April last year.

He was the principal scapegoat when the Kremlin reversed its decision in the mysterious "case of the doctors."

Chou Celebrates

By SEYMOUR TOPPING

GENEVA (AP) — Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai stayed on Thursday after the windup of the Geneva conference to do some energetic public relations work. More than 2500 other delegates and newspaper men jammed out-going planes and trains.

Chou, obviously pleased with the terms of the Indo-Chinese armistice, threw a cocktail party at his lakeside villa for both pro-Western and Communist Indo-Chinese delegates. He has acted as a sort of "big brother" toward all the Indo-Chinese delegates since the final days of the conference.

An official of the pro-Western Viet Namese government said Foreign Minister Tran Van Do, who has wired his resignation to Saigon, declined to attend but other members of his delegation accepted.

The Chinese, like the Russians and other Communist delegates still in Geneva, were showing unusual affability towards westerners.

AUSTRIA ASKS 4-POWER TALKS

VIENNA (Reuters) — Austria Thursday called on the four occupying powers, Britain, the United States, France and Russia, to start discussions to ease the occupation of Austria. In notes to the four powers, Austria proposed the four high commissioners and Austrian representatives should meet in Vienna to discuss measures to be taken.

Britain, U.S. to Call International Confab

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Britain and the United States have agreed to join in calling an international conference of about 10 nations by Sept. 1 to create an anti-Communist Southeast Asian alliance. Consultations with friendly nations which may participate are already being held.

The aim of the conference will be to conclude a defensive treaty that would post "no trespassing" warnings for the Communists along the borders of South Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia in Indo-China, and of Thailand and Burma.

The British agreement to hold a meeting by Sept. 1 apparently represents a concession on timing by foreign Secretary Eden. Earlier information had been that Eden believed many months would be required to work out the proposed pact.

State Secretary Dulles had sought creation of the alliance as a matter of urgency. He believes immediate creation of anti-communist strength in Southeast Asia is necessary in view of Communist gains through the Indo-China peace settlement reached at Geneva Wednesday.

The exact date and place of the conference remain to be determined in talks with the other governments which may attend. Consultations with the French regime of Premier Mendes-France, heretofore preoccupied with the Indo-China peace negotiations, are expected to begin at once. Some other friendly governments such as Thailand, The Philippines, Australia and New Zealand are already definitely counted in as a result of consultations already held.

SOUND OUT INDIA

The British government is sounding out India's Prime Minister Nehru and leader of Indonesia, Ceylon, Burma and Pakistan on participation. Washington has no real hope that Nehru, a neutralist in the cold war, will be willing to join in, and doubts the wisdom of including Pakistan which is regarded as more importantly linked to mid-eastern security through a pact with Turkey. Burma and Ceylon might cooperate, but no optimism is felt about Indonesia's government, which is as neutralist as that of India.

The status of the Indo-China States of South Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia is uncertain. Experts here say that under the Geneva agreement it is unclear whether these states are free or will consider themselves free to join in even a defensive alliance. But this is not considered too grave a problem.

The hard core of the conference will be seven countries—Britain, New Zealand, France, U. S., Australia, Thailand and the Philippines. Enough others may come in to make the total about 10.

Political Settlement in Korea Before Canada Recognizes Red China

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada has made it plain that the Indo-China armistice commission must be able to act effectively before she will accept membership on it.

At the same time, Canadian officials indicated they welcome the Indo-China armistice but they don't regard it as a springboard for consideration by the Canadian government of recognition of Communist China.

Canada wants a political settlement in Korea before it can think seriously of recognition.

External Affairs Minister Pearson declined comment on the recognition subject at a press conference Thursday, but it is known that this is the Ottawa view.

The government postponed its final decision until next week on whether to accept a request from the Geneva conference to serve on the armistice commission with India and Poland.

Pearson told a press conference after a cabinet meeting which discussed the request that the final decision will depend on clarification of what exactly the commission will be required to do. These details were expected in a day or two.

It was realized, informants said, that acceptance would place Canada in a ticklish position. This country's prestige was high in Asia and many commission decisions supported by Canada might incur the wrath of either the United States or Asia.

Bakers Try to Halt U.S. Imports

VANCOUVER (CP) — Attempts to stop imports of United States bread to Vancouver while the strike lockout of bakeries enters its third week are being made by two of B. C.'s big lower mainland labor groups.

Vic Forster, secretary of the Vancouver Labor Council, conferred in Seattle Thursday with CIO bakery officials.

At the same time, Tom Alsbury president of the Vancouver Trades and Labor Council, said he was trying to arrange a meeting with AFL men in Seattle.

B.C. Rivers Continue Drop

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Fraser River at Mission dropped to its lowest level since June 2 Thursday. The reading was 15.56 feet.

On June 2, just before the runoff of mountain snow began to bring the river level to danger point, the reading was 15.60 feet.

The Columbia at Trail also continued its steady drop. It went down five inches overnight to 38.03 feet.

DOLLAR HIGHER

NEW YORK (CP) — The Canadian dollar was 1-32 of a cent higher at a premium of 2 11-16 per cent in terms of U. S. funds. Pound sterling unchanged at $2.81 13-16.

$17,000 in Community Chest Funds Alloted to 17 Agencies

The Nelson Community Chest committee concluded months of organizing and campaigning Thursday night when they met to allot each of the 17 beneficiaries their share of funds.

Breakdown of amounts are:

Kootenay Kilties $300; Kootenay Lake General Hospital Women's Auxiliary $300; Canadian National Institute for the Blind $1600; Beta Sigma Phi $300; Navy League of Canada $300; Lions Easter Seal Fund $1000; Knights of Pythias (Cerebral Palsy) $300; Air Cadets $300; Nelson Boy Scout Association $300; Canadian Cancer Society $4000; Soroptimists $300; Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society $4000; Kokanee Chapter, Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire $300; Camp Koolaree $150; Camp Lourdes $150; Mount St. Francis $300; and Legion Ladies' Auxiliary $300. Total is 14,200.

Secretary P. O. Bird reported that the Chest's present bank balance is $14,017.77. Pledges to the amount of $5760 will be coming in to Community Chest headquarters at the rate of over $500 a month until next April. Total campaign disbursements have been $803.02 to date, so that nearly $20,600 has been collected in the drive. Checks to beneficiaries will be sent out immediately.

The committee stated that the anticipated revenue from the pledges will be designated for contingencies which may arise in the future. The Community Chest is creating this reserve fund and preparing for emergencies and at the same time establishing the Community Chest in Nelson on a sound basis. It was also noted at the meeting that the cost of administration of the campaign was less than five per cent.

The committee also moved a vote of thanks to campaign chairman H. (Nap) Lupton and his committee for "excellent work done."

At the suggestion of President J. R. Corner the committee moved to extend an invitation to the Kootenay Community Chest to hold its annual meeting in Nelson this Fall.

Attending the meeting were Mr. Corner, Mr. Lupton, Mr. Bird, Mrs. J. W. Graham, H. S. Telford, E. E. Hopwood and C. W. Ramsden.

SIR WINSTON CHURCHILL—II

Lord of the Admiralty

Though a warlike Conservative when elected to Parliament in 1900, Churchill suddenly quit the party, crossed the floor to the Liberal side. To the rage of his former partisans he became a free trade advocate, almost a radical.

In 1910 Churchill, riding the tide of Liberal victory, became home secretary in the Asquith cabinet. An admirer of the brilliant young Englishman was the former German kaiser, with whom he is shown above.

—Distributed by Central Press Canadian

Always energetic, in 1911 Churchill personally led a force of 750 policemen in an attack on a house in Sidney street, London, believed to be the hangout of a gang of anarchists. No anarchists were found—only two dead jewel thieves.

Becoming first lord of the admiralty in 1912, Churchill acted quickly to counteract the growing menace of German sea power by completely reorganizing the British navy. It was a spectacular accomplishment.

NEXT—World War I and Gallipoli. Disaster and a ruined 4½ career.

And in This Corner . . .

AUGUSTA, Me. (AP)—The judge said he was taking the fish's viewpoint when he fined Hartford, Conn., man $10 for fishing without a licence.

Arthur Busque, who pleaded innocent in municipal court Wednesday, told Judge Frank E. Southard Jr., he was dangling a baited hook in Togus pond but really wasn't planning to catch anything. He said he was "just fooling around."

The judge said "we have to determine your intent to fish from the viewpoint of the fish and I suppose the fish didn't know you didn't intend to fish."

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—Vincent A. Ragosto, assistant city solicitor, had a hard day Thursday.

He hurried from his office in city hall to Providence district court where his department prosecuted 11 driving violation cases. He obtained nine convictions with one case pending. He packed his briefcase to return to city hall. Then he discovered case No. 12:

He had a parking ticket on his car.

DETROIT (AP)—On the theory that "if you dress like a hobo you're more apt to act like one," suburban Wyandotte's board of education has banned blue jeans as school attire. The decision really is aimed only at boys. Wyandotte schools started sending girls in slacks and blue jeans home for "proper dress" several years ago.

NEW YORK (AP)—"Please, don't send him away too long or he'll be too old to play baseball—we may have another Willie Mays," said a defence lawyer in a Brooklyn court Tuesday.

The judge, nodding understandingly at the reference to the New York Giants' baseball star, said: "They have a baseball team where I am sending him (the prisoner)—Sing Sing. Two and one half to four years."

The 23-year-old defendant, Sidney Graham, is a sometimes-pitcher, and exhibited in court tryout offers from Philadelphia Athletics and Milwaukee Braves. He tried out once for Brooklyn Dodgers but nothing came of it.

In between scooping up bunts and short flies, he wrapped his hands around a sewing machine, a radio, a TV set, and a suitcase in a Brooklyn woman's apartment last April. He pleaded guilty May 26.

A. Kirby Oldtimers' President; Protest Houston Memorial Move

At the annual meeting of the Nelson and District Oldtimers' Association Wednesday night A. Kirby was elected president to take over from L. McCandlish.

Other officers elected were: vice-president, R. A. Howe; secretary and historian, R. G. Joy; treasurer, A. C. Emory; past president, L. McCandlish; executive, B. C. Affleck, D. Proudfoot, A. Boyce, C. Morris, Mrs. James Robertson, R. Fleming; registrar, John Applewhaite, Mrs. J. J. French, Mrs. J. McPhail, Mrs. Gagnon, Mrs. Levine and Mrs. Michelson.

Ross Fleming reported that David S. Scott had written a story of the Bluebell big ledge which has been accepted by the CBC and is to be aired at some time in the future.

RECORDS IN ARCHIVES

Historian R. G. Joy told of his visit to the archives in the Parliament Buildings at Victoria, telling of the courteous reception by Dr. W. E. Ireland and his staff. He also spoke of the help given him by the vice-president, Mr. Kirby, who had taken a hearty interest in the matter in sending the secretary to Victoria in order to facilitate the work of completing records for future generations to read. A letter was read from Dr. W. E. Ireland expressing his satisfaction in getting the stories and the other matter together. The large number of photographs of the Nelson district will be copied and placed so that persons looking for information concerning Nelson could now do so. The Kootenays, especially Nelson, had had very little matter subscribed until now.

A vote of thanks was given Mr. Joy and Mr. Kirby for their work. It was noted that the walking cane presented to John Houston, the first mayor, for his leadership and services rendered, had been sent to the archives. A motion was made by Ross Fleming, A. C. Emory and Reg Howe in appreciation of the work of those responsible.

CAIRN PLAN DELAYED

The matter of the long considered ideas of building a monument to the memory of Gilbert Malcolm Sproat and other pioneers of the Kootenay was discussed. The secretary stated that the Knights of Pythias Lodge of Castlegar had volunteered to erect a cairn as a community effort but various obstacles had occurred that had dampened their enthusiasm. The site had been chosen and somehow changed and promises had been broken and no action taken. The meeting was unanimous in urging that the work be continued as soon as possible. It was repeated that a great-granddaughter of G. M. Sproat, who is a resident of Nelson, is anxiously waiting to unveil the cairn when erected. A. Kirby, who is about to make a visit to Castlegar, promised to investigate the cause of delay.

The procuring of the Cornish pump for museum purposes was again discussed and rumors of two discarded pumps in the Slocan will be investigated. President R. McCandlish and vice-president A. Kirby promised to act in the matter, saying that Bob McCandlish, an oldtime Cornish pump operator, would help also.

The matter of Mr. Joy being sent to Victoria again to help in placing and helping to get the stories of the early days in form so that the tourists and others could obtain information of Nelson and the Kootenays, especially the period of pioneering, was discussed.

It was moved by Ross Fleming that if necessary the association would send the historian again to Victoria.

Treasurer A. C. Emory reported that receipts for 1952 were $61; receipts for 1953, $61 and balance on hand in 1951, $153.20, making a total of $277.29. Disbursements totalled $120.19 and 1954 balance on hand was $157.01.

PROTEST MOVE

The secretary stated he had received a story of John Houston's death at Quesnel. It was read to the meeting and immediately the matter of the proposed moving of Houston's memorial came up. It was deemed necessary a protest be sent from the organization in the strongest of terms. It was then moved and seconded that a strong resolution be drawn up. A member of the association who at one time was employed by Mr. Houston offered to write the resolution.

The resolution said:

"The cenotaph, Houston Memorial and the memorial trees placed in the 400 block of Vernon Street have special historical significance peculiar to each item and having definite relation to particular times which may suffer considerably if disturbed or altered in any way.

"We, the executive members of the Nelson and district Oldtimers' Association, make representations to the Nelson city council and strenuously object to any change being made in the present arrangement of the boulevard or any of its features in its present location."

One oldtimer said that in moving the Houston monument it was "an act to inflict pain upon those whose sentiment was framed and lived in the pioneer days when John Houston took up the cudgels for the people and endeavored to aid in trying to formulate a new era in a new country for the people of which he was one of many.

"His monument was subscribed for by the people with whom he worked and suffered. He went out of this world in a hard way and his death was in the same category, perhaps tired of fighting against seemingly unsurmountable obstacles."

Kiwanians Talk Over Industries

Deadline for the B. C. Athletic Round Table Society membership drive has been extended to July 29, Dr. Joseph Vingo reported to Nelson Kiwanis Club at the Hume Thursday night. Previous deadline was Saturday.

The Kiwanis Club is assisting the Society which is sponsoring a trip to the British Empire Games for a Kootenay boy. The boy chosen to attend is Caesar Maniago of Trail. Four other boys, including Gordon Wood of Nelson, were considered as candidates for the trip. All five had very similar records and choosing of a single boy was done by drawing a name from a hat, Dr. Vingo said.

The four unsuccessful candidates will, however, spend one day at the Games through arrangements with the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company. If possible they will attend on the day of the Landy-Bannister mile race.

Entertainment of the meeting was in the form of a discussion on Kootenay industries, led by George Latta. Speakers in this discussion were Andre Stevens, Marshall Neal, W. H. Langridge, Frank Eberle and George Buckley. In view of the several interesting points brought up in the discussion, Mr. Latta moved that Mr. Eberle, Mr. Langridge and Mr. Buckley each prepare briefs on various phases of industry for a debate at a future meeting.

Only guest of the meeting was Marshall Neal of Calgary, who brought greetings from the Calgary Kiwanis Club and related his club's activities.

Mr. Stevens led the meeting in the singing of "Alouette".

Sentenced to Year In Trail Court

TRAIL—George Orphan, a Vancouver salesman, was sentenced to one year in Oakalla prison farm when he appeared in Trail police court Thursday afternoon.

Found guilty on two counts by Magistrate Parker Williams, he was sentenced to one year on a charge of indecent assault and six months on a charge of indecent exposure, the two sentences to run concurrently.

Orphan was remanded when he first appeared Wednesday on the two charges.

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — The evening newspaper Etleaat reported Thursday that 40 persons are known to have been drowned so far in flash floods which hit two mountain villages Tuesday.

ANNEXES MOVED TO SENIOR HIGH FOR CLASSROOMS

Two annexes from the Nelson Junior High School were moved to the Senior High School grounds last week. They will be used for classrooms at the Senior High "due to overcrowdedness there," School District Secretary J. S. Livingstone said Thursday.

Meanwhile the School Board has had no further word from the Department of Education on their decision on the site of the proposed new district high school.

Don Messer, His Islanders Coming Here

Don Messer and His Islanders, popular band on the airways, will appear in Nelson at the Civic Centre Badminton Hall August 2.

Best known because of their programs over the CBC, many members of this old-time band have been musicians since childhood.

Don Messer, good-natured musical director of the Islanders, was somewhat of an accomplished violinist at the tender age of six years. At seven he played at his first and most outstanding engagement, a barn dance. From then on his services were in constant demand for local barn dances, county fairs, family get-to-gethers, and wherever old time music was required.

After several years and after acquiring further knowledge of the violin and folk music, he, together with a piano and banjo players formed the "Backwoods Trio," with a program over a Saint John, N.B., radio station. This subsequently became a network program and the trio was the beginning of the present Islanders.

The band now includes a young piano player, Waldo Munro; a guitarist and singer, Charlie Chamberlain, also known as the "Singing Islander"; another popular singer, Marg Osborne and a number of other musicians.

In addition to radio programs and tours, the band has made several recordings. Leader Don has also composed several new reels, jigs and folk tunes.

Rutherford Trophy Up for Competition Again This Fall

The Edith Rutherford Trophy, also known as the Silver Basket, will be up for competition at this fall's West Kootenay Exhibition.

The trophy donated by Mrs. Rutherford, mother of Mrs. Frank Willis, Across the Lake, many years ago but has not been competed for for several years now. Mrs. Willis recently relocated the trophy and brought it to the attention of Exhibition board member A. B. Gilker. A report in Thursday's Daily News inadvertedly stated that the trophy was donated by Gilker's Limited.

Dr. Carpenter is in Vancouver where he will study urology for a year.

4 Sites Being Considered for New Hospital

Possible sites for the proposed new Kootenay Lake General Hospital has been narrowed to four, Hospital Board members were told at their July meeting.

These sites have been viewed by a BCHIS representative, A. H. Rose, Administrator T. Gordon Reed, who read the Sites Committee report for M. C. Donaldson, told the board.

Mr. Rose has not yet submitted a report as he is still on a field tour, but BCHIS, from the information before it, said in a letter to the board, it feels "Nelson obviously has a very difficult site problem."

It feels "some modification of the usual requirements for hospital sites will have to be made to suit Nelson's problem."

Difficulty has been experienced by the board in finding a site that is large enough and central enough and can be supplied suitably with power, water and sewage disposal. A committee has been working on the problem since early Spring.

The board has taken a 60-day option on one of the sites to ensure all four sites will still be available when a decision is made.

Celgar Progress Described To Rotary Club by Barclay

NAKUSP — Ian Barclay, assistant secretary of Celgar Development Company spoke to a special meeting of the executive of Nakusp Chamber of Commerce at the home of Vic Smith. There were 11 present, including H. Jeal and Denis Brookes, other company officials.

Celgar had asked for the six months' extension of time for the submission of their working plan because of several things, reported Mr. Barclay. No opportunity had been available for informal talks with government department officials; the vast statistics of surveys, both ground and aerial, had been collected but not studied or arranged; there were seven major species of timber and it was a problem to find a use for all in an integrated plant, he explained.

The Canadian Chemical and Cellulose Company, now an affiliate, not a subsidiary, of the parent American firm, was being operated by local B. C. personnel. He reviewed its evolution and its various officers.

In line with its idea of integrated plants, a start had been made along safe lines by acquiring ownership of strategic sawmills in the area. These had been re-organized, eliminating one at Sidmouth. The company was proud of the progress made and now had the two mills on a steady two-shift basis, said Mr. Barclay. A third shift was in prospect for Nakusp, as soon as the waste disposal burner, now under construction, was finished. A new carriage had been installed, and double end-trimmers would be installed soon. These should all be in operation by the end of August, he said.

In introducing a third shift some six or eight skilled help would have to be brought in and this would mean more housing was required. It would mean a total additional employment of about 28 men.

Speaking of the overall plans of the company, Mr. Barclay said it was "going along slowly, feeling its way and trying to build soundly and economically." The potential of the area was greater than ever, but due to its location in the heart of the interior, the problem of marketing the products economically was great. A standardization of the grades of products was sought before the second phase of marketing was pushed too far.

PROPOSE MOVING PUBLIC HEALTH OFFICE, ENLARGING

NEW DENVER — A resolution was passed appointing R. G. Scott as sanitary inspector for the Village of New Denver at the regular meeting of village commissioners.

All members were present at the meeting which heard Dr. H. T. Lowe, director of Selkirk Health Unit, discuss the proposed moving of the office of the public health nurse from its present location in the middle of Kootenay street to a permanent location, and possible additions to the building.

Commissioners approved the suggestion that T. R. B. Adams, executive director of the UBCM be appointed as representative of the Association of Kootenay Municipalities on the Provincial Curriculum Advisory Board.

The completion of the job of installing approximately 1500 feet of new steel pipe in the village was reported. This also included the installation of two new standpipes for fire protection.

A conditional sale of lots 4 and 5, Block G, New Denver, was approved. Approval was given to a contribution toward an advertising folder that is being issued for this district

Well-Known Natal Resident Dies

NATAL — Funeral services for Thomas McGovern, a well-known resident of the district who died at Michel Hospital, were held at the United Church at Michel.

Born at Coatbridge, Scotland, on April 21, 1885, Mr. McGovern came to Canada at the turn of the century and married the former Alice Halstein at Fernie in 1915.

In his younger years he was prominent in football circles, having played on the well-known Michel Elevens, who dominated football throughout the Crow's Nest Pass some years ago, as well as mine union affairs. He also served as vice-president of the Michel-Natal band of which he was always an active member.

Early in May he underwent a serious operation in Vancouver but returned to Michel a few weeks prior to his death.

He is survived by his wife, three daughters, Mrs. Lillian Forsythe of Edmonton, Mrs. Vera Troutman of Victoria and Janet of Edmonton, and one son, Herbert of Michel; a brother Peter of Vancouver, and three grandchildren.

Only recently he had retired from the coal mines after working at Michel for many years, to go on the miners burned-out pension. The many floral tributes showed that he was held in high esteem throughout the entire community.

Fernie Chamber Discusses Highway, Tourist Sites

FERNIE — Fernie Chamber of Commerce will continue its efforts to have Highway No. 93 brought up to standard, Highway No. 93, the southern route from Elko to Roosville on the U.S. border, is a winding gravel road connecting with a paved highway at Roosville. Through the efforts of the International Four States Highway Association, Highway 93 is now a paved highway from Mexico through to the parks area of Canada with the exception of a 24-mile stretch in Idaho and the 23 miles south of Elko.

At its monthly meeting the Chamber decided to continue its efforts locally, through the Associated Boards of Trade, the Tourist Associations, the Public Works Departmtnt and the local MLA to press for improvements on the Elko-Roosville section. Value of the route was shown in President George Lees' report that traffic through Roosville showed an increase while other ports of entry showed a slight drop.

Morley Obee, chairman of the Highway Committee, reported that hard surfacing of the tunnel to Elko section of Highway Three would be completed this week. Efforts to have turnoff viewpoints established at drinking water spots and points of interest will be made. Final plans for a circle tour of Glacier Park, Waterton Park and the Crow's Nest Pass with the Whitefish Chamber of Commerce will be completed next week.

The further development of Island Park in the City Park as a trailer auto camp and picnic site was discussed. Tourists are already using the area. Road markers from the city centre to Island Park would greatly facilitate tourists. The matter will be brought to the attention of the city council.

D. H. Mollison of Nelson, regional representative of the B.C. Dept. of Trade and Industry, outlined the tourist trade. He urged the Chamber to survey tourist attractions such as accommodations, hunting, fishing, beauty and historical sites, riding, hiking and climbing trails. The prairie tourists should also be catered to, he said. Plans for the 150th anniversary in 1957 of David Thompson's entry into and exploration of the Columbia River basin was already under way. The explorer was the first white man to make the trip from the source to the mouth of the Columbia. Mr Mollison felt that the anniversary year would bring a great influx of visitors to the whole Columbia basin.

CEMETERY WORK, ROADS COMPLETED, FRUITVALE TO ADD MORE SIDEWALKS

FRUITVALE — At their regular meeting, Commissioners learned that three of their works programs had been completed. Roads have been completed, cemetery work program completed, and the first block of sidewalks finished.

In response to demand, plans are being drawn up to construct another block of sidewalks from Beaver station to the new Memorial Hall.

Commissioner Pat Rochford, Health Committee Chairman, reported receiving a complaint from the Bank of Montreal concerning there being no washroom facilities in their Fruitvale premises. They were informed that this was a concern of the owners, Nelson Lumber Company.

Final check from Social Security and Municipal Aid tax has been received, Clerk Don Morissette reported grants totalled $5964.72—$3665 from SSMA and $1998.72 from Motor Vehicle revenue.

PROTEST LABOR IMPORT

Construction of the addition to Fruitvale Junior High School was approved, but Commissioners voiced protests over the action of the contractors in bringing in men to work on the structure when local carpenters and laborers were employed.

June building permits totalled $40,000, with Nelson Lumber Co. having purchased two, one for $15,000 and another for $7000. Another $7000 permit was issued to M. Sylbulka for a house on Bailey Subdivision.

Only Minor Hurts As Driver, Cow Take Ride in Jeep

NAKUSP—Expecting to bring home a yearling heifer, Emil Newbrand left for Revelstoke in his small jeep with a specially built crate. On arrival, he discovered the animal he had purchased was a two and a half year old animal—much too large for the crate.

With no lake service from Arrowhead to Nakusp, necessity forced Mr. Newbrand to use his ingenuity.

He reconstructed his crate, leaving head space for his too large animal next to him in the front seat of his small jeep. He loaded his cow and drove the 200 miles home over the Monashee, startling all oncoming motorists.

Mr. Newbrand and the animal arrived in Nakusp with only a few bruises apiece.

William Henderson Buried at Creston

CRESTON — William Henderson, a pioneer of Michigan and Saskatchewan, and since 1946 a resident of Creston, died in Creston Valley Hospital. He was 82.

His wife, Mrs. Henderson, older sister of Mr. C. Paine of Creston, died in 1949. Their only son died at 16.

Mr. Henderson was born in South Michigan, April 5, 1872, on his parents' farm. At the age of 22 years he engaged in farming and in the same year married. Mr. and Mrs. Henderson farmed in Michigan for 16 years, before moving to Canada in 1910, first living near Yellowgrass, then, in 1916, moving to purchased land in the new settlement around Mazenod, Sask. This was their farm home for the next 30 years, when they decided to retire to Creston.

Funeral services were held in Trinity United Church, and at the graveside in Forest Lawn Cemetery, with Rev. A. O. McNeil officiating.

Relatives attending were Mr. and Mrs. Dawson and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Paine of Creston; Mr. and Mrs. Rouse of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Henderson of Pomona, California.

Pallbearers were Henry Zado, Joe Cooper, Otto Dalgren, Donald Martin, Ted Larbick and William Arnoon.

BYLAWS RETURNED FOR REVISIONS

CRANBROOK—Proposed city bylaws for a total of $110,000 to extend water, sewers and streets to part of the newly added southwest section of Cranbrook have been returned by the inspector of municipalities to the city council for some minor revisions, which may delay the rate payer plebiscite on these matters for a few days. No voting date has been set.

City Council has received $24,687.21 from the provincial government as Cranbrook's share of the Social Service and Municipal Aid three percent sales tax for the first quarter of 1954, and $10,101.20 as its share of motor vehicle licence sales for the area. Both amounts were higher than 1954 estimates but both were lower than amounts received from these sources for the same period last year.

Nine Year Lister Resident Dies

LISTER—Henry E. Knoll died at his home in Lister Sunday, after a lengthy illness. He was 63 years old.

Born in Volienian, Russia, in 1890, Mr. Knoll came to Canada and Saskatchewan in 1912. His first wife predeceased him in 1922. In 1925 he married Frieda Riegert at Leash, Sask.

Mr. and Mrs. Knoll have resided in Lister since 1945.

Surviving are his wife, three sons, Otto and Ludwig at Kamloops and Edward at Trail; four daughters, Mrs. E. Baldwin at Melford, Sask., Mrs. H. Nicherson of Vancouver, Mrs. Arthur Sommerfeld of Lister and Mrs. W. Mills at Vancouver. One son, Walter, predeceased him in 1946.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at the Lutheran Church with Rev. K. F. Sterzer officiating.

Pallbearers were Edward Silbeot, Max Rother, Edward Kriese, Karl Petrick, Hugo Sommerfeld and Erie Sommerfeld.

Interment followed in Lister Community Cemetery.

BEG PROGRESS OUTLINED TO NAKUSP ROTARY

NAKUSP—Ian Barclay of Vancouver, assistant secretary of the Celgar Development Company, was guest speaker at Nakusp Rotary Club dinner. He spoke on the progress being made for the British Empire Games in Vancouver. He lives near the University of B.C., close to the Arcadia Camp, now named Empire Village. Dr. Schrum, expert on nuclear physics, was camp commandant and it was organized along military lines, with rigid hours, he said.

A new swimming pool had been built beside the gym, 60 yards long with three-metre and 10-metre diving boards, he reported. The seats for water sports had been sold out for a month. It would hold 6000 people.

At the stadium the turf had been laid. This held 35,000 seats.

Great athletes would be there for cycling, rowing (on the Vedder Canal), boxing, weight-lifting. The city had taken on a feverish interest in the last few months. 130,000 people witnessed some of the early trials and 2000 people attended track meets for two days.

Other guests were Neville Mitchell and brother-in-law, Vic Napier and Andrew Laurie of the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

I. F. Morehouse, president, reported that Jep Pepson, district governor, would pay an official visit August 16.

It was decided to drop for this year the picnic, which had been postponed on account of high water.

MULTIPLE CHARGES FOR ALBERTANS

CRANBROOK — Three Alberta visitors to Cranbrook ran afoul of the law last week and made city court appearances this week.

Jack Alexander appeared on three charges to which he pleaded guilty. For false pretences in peddling linoleum of inferior quality to representations and in short measure, he was fined $25 or in default one month; for selling goods without obtaining a trade licence he was fined $25 and costs or one month, and for failure to have British Columbia licence plates for his car, $25 and costs or one month. He chose to serve the time which will be a consecutive three months.

His assistant, James McMahon, pleaded guilty to the first two charges and in default of similar fines will serve two months. The third member of the party turned out to be a hitch-hiker who had no connection with the enterprise and charges against him were dismissed.

For exceeding the speed limit Mike Foder was fined $10 and costs by Magistrate Richard Shiell in City Court.

Paul Lundstrom of Yahk charged with vagrancy July 12 and remanded while hospitalized, was sentenced to one month without option of fine when he pleaded guilty in City Court.

Herbert Baden Hoffman was fined $50 and costs when he pleaded guilty to driving while his ability was impaired with alcohol.

ESCAPES INJURY

NAKUSP—Swerving to avoid a collision with a car along Summit Lake last week, a car driven by Dick Smith turned over, denting the top of the car considerably but escaping injury himself.

RESCUE 1200-LB. MOOSE FROM WELL

CRANBROOK — A two-year-old 1200-pound cow moose four miles from Cranbrook found out how to beat the heat wave, but it nearly cost her life.

Assistant game warden James Varty, on a short sideroad trip off the southern trans-provincial highway heard snorts and bellows coming from an abandoned well. He summoned A. G. MacFarlane, whose property the well adjoined, and with a rifle they investigated.

The moose had apparently mistaken the several foot square well, boarded on four sides to a depth of 14 feet by the East Kootenay Lumber Company in its operations there 50 years ago, for a shallow puddle and jumped in, then was unable to get out.

The two fetched Game Warden J. W. Bayley and Russell Varty and with the help of a stout rope around her neck and no co-operation from the moose, managed to beach her alongside, where she lay in a state of exhaustion for half an hour, then got to her feet and staggered off.

Mr. MacFarlane believes she may have been in the water up to a week struggling to get out, and was near death when rescued. Singlehanded he made a similar rescue of a bull moose from the same spring a few years ago, but on that occasion the moose and he had the same idea, where the cow moose this week was terror stricken and stoutly resisted the tow until her strength gave out.

JOHN NIAGARA Talks about:
EXTRA MONEY—would it help you RIGHT NOW?
This is the time of the month when bills come in bunches. Our own experience is that the postman occasionally brings a few too many . . . but there just isn't enough in the pay envelope to cover every bill. If you are in the same fix, then . . . how would you like to get yours cleared away? Well, you can—with a Niagara loan. We've a choice of loan plans at Niagara and many people can borrow up to $1500. Payment plans, up to 24 months, give you time to get back on your feet. Your family is protected because your loan is covered by a life-insurance policy, that costs you not one penny extra. But that's not the only plus you get at Niagara for, if you compare, you'll find that on many amounts our rates are lower. A Niagara loan is a clean-cut way of looking after too many bills instead of just worrying about them. If a Niagara loan would help you put your budget back in shape . . . just drop in or call.

Fatigue Blamed For Third of Accidents

Much of the responsibility for the death of over 3000 people on Canadian highways last year may be charged to the fatigue that slows down driver reflexes after many uninterrupted hours behind the wheel. Unfortunately only the driver's reflexes slow down, not his car.

To help you to avoid driver's fatigue and enjoy safe motoring this summer:

1. Start trips when rested, not after a day's work.
2. Take along a thermos bottle of hot coffee—it may come in handy if you're travelling at night, or in remote areas, where eating places are few and far between.
3. Drive according to conditions—sometimes it's safer to drive slower than posted speed limits.
4. Don't be a bumper-rider—stay 100 feet or so behind the car ahead.

U.S. Army studies of some 350 accidents (involving non-military vehicles) have revealed fatigue to be a factor in about 128 of them—well over a third. The Army has suggested fighting fatigue by keeping car windows open and breathing deeply; drinking coffee or some other alertness beverage every two hours; stopping to exercise if you feel drowsy, and resting if you get too sleepy, and changing drivers every two hours if possible.

Cutting Future Short

A good many Canadian school children last fall decided that a course in car driving—or how to use the telephone—would be a lot more pleasant than the intricacies of French verbs or the binomial theorem. And as they commandeer the family car for a jaunt to the beach now, they are probably even more convinced of the wisdom of their choice.

Their choice may not seem wise, however, in another 10 years. Then they may see their fellow workers who stuck closer to the textbooks getting the promotions and the better positions.

There appears to be a growing awareness by industry of the value of a broad, formal education. This attitude was clearly set out recently by Theodore J. Emmert, executive vice-president of Ford Motor Co. of Canada, when he said: "The function of education, surely, is to enrich the mind, not just to intrigue it. . . . The young man who cuts his education short in order to start earning quickly may well find in a few years that he has cut his future progress short at the same time."

Canada Not Sending Amateurs to Europe

To the Editor:

Sir—So the Penticton Vs are going to represent Canada in the 1955 hockey championships, eh?

To quote your paper of July 19:

"TOP AMATEURS

"The CAHA said it was confident it had made a good selection. George Dudley of Midland, Ont., secretary-manager of the association, commented:

"'Last year we were severely criticized for choosing a Senior B team. This time we have taken the top amateur team in the country. We can't do better than that.'"

Who do the CAHA officials think they are kidding? And just how stinky can this business get?

The Penticton Vs are one heck of a good team, the best in their class; but certainly not amateurs. We in Canada understand and tolerate all the phoney moves and pretenses with regard to "shamateurism", but to palm off the Penticton Vs as amateurs in the World Championships in Europe is quite another matter. It is very definitely not sporting, and also smells of old fish.

It's things like this that cannot help but discredit Canadian sports abroad and give Canadians generally a "black eye" in amateur sporting circles.

Starving Blue Bloods

(Edmonton Journal)

Perhaps the oddest overseas news item of the times is the complaint by the Lord Mayor of London—no less—that some of Britain's famed public schools are keeping their aristocratic pupils on a starvation diet.

A great many charges have been brought against the public schools in recent years, but this is the first time that anyone has charged that the food was not at least up to the modest British standard. The Lord Mayor claims that in an effort to reduce operating costs the officials have been cutting down the rations.

If this is true, it is a most serious situation. It would be a terrible thing if future earls and baronets emerged from Eton and Harrow too wan and fragile to ride to hounds, row for Oxford or even run for parliament. One wonders indeed if this is merely a matter of false economy or is there a deep dark plot by socialist cooks and stewards to exterminate the aristocracy at its source?

Oddly enough, conditions were somewhat similar in the earliest days of the public schools, back in the 15th century. According to old chronicles, the students at Eton were so poorly fed in those days that to survive they had to sneak into the neighboring royal park at Windsor and poach the King's deer.

Modest Genius

Great men vary in their personalities, just as do ordinary folk. Some are temperamental, vain or reckless. Others are calm, modest or cautious. Some are extroverts, others are introverts.

Yet it is noteworthy how many outstanding men, in different walks of life, really are modest even if there is no reason for modesty. Dr. Wilder G. Penfield, director of the Montreal Neurological Institute, and among the greatest brain specialists in the world, is one of these.

When he discovered a mechanism in the brain which preserves a record to a stream of thought, he didn't attribute this to genius or to intensive research. He merely had stumbled on it; found it by accident, he said. Many lesser men would have sought world acclaim, in similar circumstances, for the achievement.

Excellent Plate Idea

(Sudbury Star)

One of the best ideas yet developed is that in which Canadian provinces and states in the U.S. have agreed to co-operate on a standard-size licence plate.

The idea originated with the automobile manufacturers in their plans for better means of attachment and illumination, particularly of the rear registration plates of 1956 models.

One of the major purposes of registration plates is to provide quick and easy identification of motor vehicles. This purpose is defeated by illegible and poorly illuminated plates.

When the T-Men organization was set up in Sudbury it was soon apparent from the reports of these citizens that scores of motor vehicles were travelling the city streets with licence plates that could not be identified.

The carrying of defaced plates is contrary to the law, but it seems many motor owners will not get new plates until they are stopped by a police officer.

The placement of licence plates in car windows, truck cabs, or on various parts of the machine's anatomy, is another practice that calls for constant checking by police officers.

Capital Memo

BY JAMES K. NESBITT

By JAMES K. NESBITT

VICTORIA — Premier Bennett, in asking W. A. McAdam to remain another year as B.C.'s agent-general in London, was easing himself out of what was becoming an awkward political situation.

Mr. McAdam was to have retired at the end of this year, when he turns 65.

Immediately this was announced, there was a great rush for his job: only Social Crediters applied.

So many good and true S.C.'ers became so absolutely convinced that each should be the new agent-general that the Premier's head was set to spinning; he didn't know which one to appoint, and still keep the peace in the Social Credit family.

He's a wise man is the Premier, politically wise; he knows full well that if he should name one of the hopefuls, all the others would be furious with him.

The Premier doesn't like it when S.C.'ers are mad at him. He particularly doesn't like it when they make their madness public. When Liberals, C.C.F.'ers and Conservatives are mad at the Premier, and spout off their madness in public, the Premier likes it. He believes such madness on the part of his political enemies to be good publicity for Social Credit.

However that may be — it's quite extraordinary the number of people who were trying to promote themselves into the agent-generalship of B.C. in London. The glamor of the job, the prestige, the good salary, and extras — all appeal to many, who would like to live in the heart of the fascinating, throbbing city of London, with Buckingham Palace and the mansions of Carleton House Terrace just around the corner from British Columbia House.

But now all hopes are dashed for the hopeful S.C.'ers who wanted to go to London. Likely as not, Mr. McAdam will be asked to carry on from year to year, for the next five years or so.

B.C. Premiers in the past have several times kept the agent-generalship open as a convenient resting ground, a sort of cushion for themselves, should the necessity arise, or for defeated cabinet ministers or for some other good and powerful party friend who might someday need a job. This, however, hasn't been done for years. Mr. McAdam is a civil servant.

Time was when the agent-general automatically resigned when the government changed, thus making way for a friend of the new government.

Going back some years — F. A. Pauline was the Liberal agent-general in 1928 when the Tolmie Conservatives came to power. In due course he was removed, to make way for Conservative F. P. Burden.

When the Pattullo Liberals took over in 1933, Conservative Mr. Burden was asked to resign.

Mr. Pattullo held the position open for seven years. Mr. McAdam was acting agent-general. It was only a few weeks before Mr. Pattullo went out of office late in 1941 that he made Mr. McAdam the agent-general.

Richard McBride was Example A when it came to finding sanctuary in the agent-general's office. When he saw defeat for his Conservatives coming in 1915 he resigned the Premiership, went to London as agent-general. His Conservatives were defeated a year later. McBride died as agent-general.

Anyway, British Columbians are pleased Mr. McAdam is going to carry on, for they know the good job he does for B.C. in London.

* * *

Quitting of the Conservative Party by Dr. Lorenzo Giovando, M.L.A. for Nanaimo, makes one wonder again if an elected representative, after a year or so in office, should walk out on the party that helped elect him.

Dr. Giovando isn't the only one who has done this. Frequently, when a political party appears down and out, heading for defeat, its legislative supporters turn what they choose to call Independent.

But a man elected as a Liberal or a Conservative, a Social Crediter or a C.C.F.'er is elected, in no small measure, by the hard work and the votes of the people of those parties. It's all very well to say a man is elected because he's personally popular; that is often quite true to some extent — but the party faithful certainly help to elect him, too.

The people who vote a man into office have a right to expect, that for the life of a Legislature, or a Parliament, he'll remain what he was elected to be.

Certainly, an elected representative should go before the party that helped elect him and tell the faithful what he plans to do. He should ask permission to turn independent. That's the courteous way.

For an M.L.A or an M.P. to fly in the face of a party that helped elect him isn't good manners, and it doesn't increase political stability.

Medicine For Children

. . . F. B. Pearce

The day was hot and sultry. Jeff was quite content to sit on the verandah and watch the people go by. When two little girls came along he drew my attention to them. They were prettily dressed and had the appearance of children who were well cared for. "What do you make of those two?" he enquired.

"They seem like nice children. They have pretty faces and look as if they come from a good home."

"They do," he said. "Their father has a good job and they don't want for anything, but did you notice the expressions on their faces?"

"They did not have a smile if that is what you mean. I can't say that they looked happy."

"Those two have everything they want. Their parents give them everything they ask for and yet they are not happy. They always have a pout on their lips and they are always discontented. You know, what those children need to make them happy is a good slapping from time to time."

"Isn't that something new in the way of psychology, slapping a child to make it happy?"

"When one of us kids was cranky Dad would say, 'Why are you cranky? Well here is something to be cranky about,' and he gave us a slap. Mother had more patience. She would put up with it for awhile and then she would bring out her bottle and give us a dose. I preferred Dad's medicine. It wasn't so uncomfortable for so long. But they recognized one thing — that no child should expect adults or other children to put up with its bad temper or bad manners.

"Do you really think it worked"

BETTER AFTER TEARS

"It did. It may have been the shock, but after the tears we felt better. We were ready to play with others without wanting all our own way. We never expected to get our own way with father and mother."

"It was an adult's world in those days."

"Yes, it was. Father figured he was working to get the money and mother figured it was her job to look after the family and both thought that the other came before the children. Now the children are led to believe that they come first. But I don't blame the children. I blame the parents. If they want to abdicate in favor of the baby, that's their business. Being a good parent does not mean taking the easy way all the time. No one wants to slap a child, but there are times when it is just a question of who is boss. The child does not want to be boss he wants to be bossed. There are times when you not only have to say 'No' but enforce it with a slap if necessary. There are times, too, when you have to make it clear that what is yours is not the children's. Like I did to Jim when he was 16 and wanted the car. I told him that I worked for the money that bought that car and it was not the family car. It was my car and the only other person who had a share in it was his mother and she had a half share, the same as me. Sure I was tough, but why not? Half the trouble in the world is caused by fuzzy thinking.

Of course parents behave like sheep. If one child in the block has a bicycle than every other child has to have one. Half the adolescent girls are over-dressed because mother cannot bear to see daughter not so expensively dressed as the other girls."

"But your worries are over. Your children are all grown up and married. All you have to do is to spoil the grandchildren. "Like heck. My girls did not grow up to be whining demanding wives and I don't fancy they will let me spoil their children."

Witnesses Say Comic Books Not Necessary

The rally is expected to swell to 27,000 witnesses as delegates arrive by train, bus and car from Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba, New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio.

"Children should not be allowed to go their own way, but should be brought up in the way they should go," he said.

CHAPTER I

Louie Fronteneau sat alone in the office. When I came in he looked up and said tersely, "Stick around, Roark."

I dropped heavily into the visitor's chair across the desk from him, a little worried and plenty nervous. I managed the first floor of Louie's Michigan Club, and he seldom bothered me. When he had something to say he usually said it before or after business hours. But this time he called me up to his plush little office in the middle of the evening rush.

Something was up. Something serious.

He was working over some papers. I watched, trying to relax, but not succeeding. Louie was a good looking man in his late forties, with stiff blonde hair and a clipped mustache. He topped 6-foot-2, and weighed around 225. You wouldn't expect it in such a big man perhaps, but Louie had a suave manner that was just overbearing enough to be impressive.

The Michigan Club had been running for eight months and it was doing well. The night club downstairs, my place, was full every night. And the gambling rooms on the second floor had plenty of the right kind of customers.

The biggest reason the club was going over was Fronteneau's smooth manner. He had come from some other city, no one seemed to know just where, set up the club and made a success of it when most of the other night spots in the city were folding.

After five minutes he looked at me with cold, unfriendly eyes.

"George," he said in a deceptively soft voice, "how much do you figure to make this year? Salary, tips, and bonuses included?"

The question caught me off guard. "Why . . . Louie, I don't know. Around ten grand, I guess."

"You like the job, don't you?"

I began to feel uncomfortable. All of this was leading to something that wouldn't be good. Louie's method of working on a side issue for a while, then suddenly throwing the real point at you was hard to take, even when you knew what was coming.

"With dough like that," I replied quickly, "how could I help but like it?"

Without warning he suddenly veered off on another track. "How's that kid brother of yours doing?"

I smiled. "Okay, Louie. Okay. The job is straightening him out. His only trouble was that when he was a kid he got into the wrong crowd, and they convinced him there were easier ways of getting dough than working for it."

"He's not as smart as you are George," Louie said.

"Maybe," I replied. "Anyway, when you gave him the roving photography concession downstairs you did us both a big favor. He's enjoying his work and saving his dough."

Talking about Pat made me feel a little better. The kid had had me worried sick when he was bumming around with Gillen's crowd of young hoods. And when he got sent up for five years because of that gang it really hit me.

Pat's 10 years younger than I am, and I've always felt more like a father than a brother to him. It was a big relief for me when Louie gave him the job downstairs after he got out of prison.

Suddenly Fronteneau asked, "What was he sent up for, George?"

There it was again. Louie's indirect approach, with the hidden bolt of lightning in it. He mousetrapped you with an easy question, then sneaked the tough ones in so they hurt. This wasn't just pleasant chit-chat. He was getting at something.

"Petty blackmail," I said, my face burning. It embarrassed me to talk about it. "You knew that already."

"Very interesting," he said, examining his fingernails.

Then he looked at me hard. "I had a phone call a while ago," he said, "from a gentleman who visited the club several nights ago. He's married, but on that particular night he wasn't with his wife."

The third punch line in the conversation! When Louie kept me dangling that long I knew he was really corroded about something. In a minute I'd get it on the chin.

"This gentleman," he continued, "told me he had had a call from a man who had a picture, taken here in the club. He and this woman were in it, and unless he bought the negative for $50, it was to be mailed to his wife."

The blood drained from my face and the palms of my hands went wet and sticky. There was Louie's hidden stick of dynamite, and he didn't have to draw pictures to show me what he meant. Pat was back at his old racket.

I stood up, pale and shaking. The inside of my mouth was like a piece of old shoe leather.

"Louie," I asked, "WAS it Pat?"

He shrugged. "Nobody mentioned any names. But what do YOU think?"

What could I think? I had been kidding myself all along, saying the kid had just had a bad start. But now I saw that he was rotten to the roots. For a moment I felt like standing there and bawling. Then I got sore.

I'd worked 10 years, beating my head against a wall, to get him to wise up. Finally, when I thought I had him steered in the right direction, what does the shifty-eyed punk do? He knifes me. Fixes me so I'll probably lose the best job I ever owned. Fixes himself for another ride on the rock pile.

And fixes up one of Louie's customers, which is asking for holes in his stomach.

"Louie," I said, leaning across his desk, "don't do anything yet." The muscles of my face were drawn like tight wires. "Wait until I talk to him."

Fronteneau stared at me, not blinking.

"I'm going down and beat the ears off that rock head of his, Louie," I said. "I've done everything else I could, but now I see that's the only language he understands."

Louie smiled a little. "Take him outside before you start any rough stuff, George."

I turned for the door, tense and sick. "I ought to kill him," I said. "Maybe that's the only way he'll learn."

I went downstairs quickly, blind with rage. Pat had betrayed me and I was aching to mess up that smug face of his. The fact that he was my brother now only seemed to make it worse instead of better. At the bottom of the stairs I stopped to look into the dining room.

The kid wasn't there, but Lea Holmes was on the bandstand, giving with that luscious, throaty voice of hers. The customers had stopped talking to listen, and you have to be good to make them do that in a night club. The critics called her, "The Voice with the Built-In Invitation."

But she had more than just a voice that was different and terrific. She had red hair, beautiful copper-red, and a gorgeous, crowd-stopping face. And a body. She was wearing a sea-green satin gown, shoulderless and clinging, which left no doubt about that.

She swayed slightly as she sang, and her movements said she was ready to fulfill that invitation in her voice. That was what really got 'em. When she finished, the audience was like melted butter.

Standing there listening to Lea I forgot about the kid for a few moments. Then when she finished I remembered and got mad all over again. This fool stunt of his might lose Lea for me.

I left the foyer and went down the hall to the darkroom where Pat developed his pictures. The muscles in my arms were tight, and my fists were rolled and ready for action.

The door of the darkroom was locked, but a line of light at the bottom told me Pat didn't have exposed film lying around. I started to knock, then changed my mind and pulled out my key ring. I found the right key, slid it into the lock and stepped inside. The door clicked shut behind me.

Pat was in there, but he wasn't bending over his trays of developer. He was sprawled grotesquely in the middle of the floor with bulging eyes and a crooked grin on his face. I didn't have to touch him to know my brother was dead.

(Murder reddens the blackmail trail for George Roark as he's about to search the darkroom for clues. What he found there will be disclosed in tomorrow's vital chapter of THE CASE OF THE INVISIBLE SCAR, exclusively in the Daily News.)

See Slavery in Peace Terms

SAIGON (Reuters) — Ngo Dinh Diem, Viet Namese premier, said Thursday his government "could not accept the enslavement of millions of countrymen faithful to the nationalist ideal."

The cease-fire agreement signed in Geneva ending the Indo-China war provides that Viet Nam should be divided between the Communist north and the south roughly along the 17th parallel pending elections within two years.

Protest over the same plot led Diem's foreign minister, Tran Van Do, to resign from office at Geneva. He said his mission to the talks, to prevent the partitioning of the country, had failed.

"ANGUISHED PEACE"

Gen. Paul Ely, commander-in-chief and French commissioner general, told his troops and the people of Viet Nam that the Geneva cease-fire was an "anguished peace." However, it was the solution "which safeguards best the future of the state."

Gen. Nguyen Van Hinh, Viet Nam chief of staff, in his order of the day said partitioning had not been wanted and "there will be no peace in our hearts until the country once again is united."

Double-Ring Ceremony Followed By Honeymoon on the Island

TRAIL—In a pretty summer double-ring ceremony, before an altar banked with blue delphiniums and white and yellow glads, Joyce Lorraine Veysey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frederick Veysey of Fruitvale, became the bride of Kenneth Edward Gordon Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Cook of Vancouver, in East Trail United Church.

Officiating clergyman was Rev. David Stone of Trail and organist was Mrs. George Connell. Mrs. Ken Pople sang a solo, "I'll Walk Beside you."

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father and chose a gown of waltz-length pleated nylon tulle over satin with chantilly lace inserts, full boufant skirt and strapless lace and tulle bodice. She had a square neckline and a short sleeved chantilly lace jacket which buttoned down the front. Her chapel veil of nylon net was secured by a coronet of seed pearls. Her only jewellery was a strand of pearls, gift of the groom. Th ebride carried a crescent shaped bouquet of white roses and blue tipped carnations.

Three attendants of the bride, matron of honor Mrs. Howard Lyster, the bride's aunt and bridesmaids Miss Kay Gallagher and Miss Irene Ford, wore identical gowns of blue nylon net, waltz-length over taffeta skirt and lace bodice wtih short sleeve jackets. They had headdresses of blue and white daisies and carried crescent-shaped bouquets of yellow and white daisies.

The three flower girls, Linda and Bonnie Lyster, cousins of the bride, and Beverley Cook, groom's niece, wore similar gowns in blue organdy with matching headdresses and carried baskets of blue and white daisies.

Best man was Bert Stanley of Trail, and Howard Lyster, bride's uncle, and Robert Kromm acted as ushers.

Mother of the bride, Mrs. Veysey, chose an afternoon gown of mauve shot silk with white accessories and a corsage of white and pink roses. Mrs. Cook, mother of the groom, was dressed in an afternoon dress of blue silk with white accessories and a white and pink rose corsage.

A total of 202 guests attended the reception in the Fruitvale Memorial Hall. Wedding dance and reception followed the wedding dinner, served by the Legion Ladies' Auxiliary. The bride's table-lace cloth, made by her maternal grandmother, the late Mrs. J. Maxwell, covered a blue cloth and was centred with blue and yellow floral arrangements.

The four-tier cake was on a special table covered with a cloth of lace over blue, embedded in blue tulle and flanked by blue candles in silver holders. After the bride and groom made the first cut, the cake was cut by two great aunts of the bride, Mrs. John Sadler and Mrs. Gordon Grieve Sr.

Toast to the bride was proposed by Charles Melrose and toast to the bridesmaids by best man, Bert Stanley.

Close to 300 attended the dance.

For the honeymoon to Vancouver Island via the United States route, the bride chose a brown linen suit with white accessories and a white rose corsage.

The groom is an employee of the Trail Fire Department and a star player of the Trail Smoke Eaters hockey team. The bride is a stenographer at the Trail Bank of Montreal. Mr. and Mrs. Cook will reside in East Trail.

Out of town guests to the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Les Clever and son Marshall of Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. E. Cook, Mrs. Stella Cook, Len Cook and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Slaneff and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Stan Desen and son, Mrs. Gertrude Dovey, Mrs. Schultz, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cunningham, all of Vancouver, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Maxwell of Port Coquitlam, Mrs. Belle Gillis of Richlea, Sask., Floyd Butterfield of Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Crockford of Leduc, Alta., Mr. and Mrs. Harold Holehan and two daughters of Rolling Hills, Alta., and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gregoire of Cranbrook.

Natal-Michel Couple Wed At St. Michael's Church

NATAL — A quiet and interesting wedding was solemnized at the St. Michael's Catholic Church at Natal when Carol, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lipovski of Natal was united in marriage to Joseph Bisaro, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bisaro of Michel. The ceremony was conducted by Father L. Trainor of Natal.

The bride wore a dress of net over satin, with a skirt of five tiers of net and matching bolero with net finger tip gloves. A finger tip veil of laced net held a crown of pearls and rhinestones. She also wore a lovely set of pearls, a gift of the groom, and carried a bouquet of red roses with white streamers of white satin ribbons.

The bridesmaid Miss Gloria Kroesing, cousin of the bride, wore a blue marquisette gown with matching chapel-veil. She carried a bouquet of blue carnations. Other bridesmaids were Miss Helen Bachlet, Miss Elsie Bachlet of Fernie and Miss Greta Martinek of Hillcrest. They wore pastel gowns with matching bouquets of carnations.

The best man was Frank Lipovski, brother of the bride, while the ushers were Dino DePaoli, Orlando Marchi and Alex Wasnock, all of Natal.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents with Father Trainor saying grace. The toast to the newlyweds was proposed by Mr. E. Wojtula of Hillcrest, uncle to the bride, which was responded to by the groom. The toast to the bridesmaids was proposed by Frank Lipovski Jr., of Natal.

The bride's motiler wore a two-piece grey dress with white accessories and wore a red rose corsage while the groom's mother wore a brown lace dress with green accessories and wore a red rose corsage.

The honeymoon was spent in the States to Missoula, Montana and through Glacier Park. For going away the bride chose a white linen dress with coral bolero and her corsage was of pink and white roses.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were from Creston, Fernie, Vancouver and the Crow's Nest Pass. The groom is at present employed by the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company at Michel.

Early Count Shows Steelworkers Leading in Sunshine Mine Votes

WALLACE, Idaho (AP) — The CIO Steelworkers apparently has won a bargaining election from the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (Ind.), at the Sunshine Mining Co., world's largest silver producer.

An unofficial tabulation of votes in Wednesday's National Labor Relations Board election gave the CIO 262, the Mine-Mill 222. One vote was voided and three were cast for neither union. There were 609 eligible.

SUSPEND NEGOTIATIONS

The Mine-Mill Union, ousted from the CIO several years ago on charges it was following the Communist line, has been negotiating with Sunshine on a new contract to replace one that expired June 30.

The negotiations were suspended when the CIO petitioned for a bargaining election.

Mine-Mill has represented nearly all the some 5000 workers in the Coeur D'Alene district of Northern Idaho. Union members refrained from voting in a nation-wide Mine-Mill strike vote this week because of the NLRB election at Sunshine.

Editorials Score Indo-China Peace

LONDON (AP) — United States criticism of the Indo-China cease-fire terms touched off bristling editorials and bitter cartoons in a wide cross-section of the British Press Thursday.

The Mirror, nominally independent, usually follows the Labor party point of view on foreign policy.

The Labor party's Daily Herald quoted a writer in the New York Times as saying, "the Communists have scored another major victory in the struggle for the world," and commented:

"That is his judgment on the cease-fire in Indo-China, and his view is widely shared on the other side of the Atlantic.

"But Mr. Anthony Eden is no Communist. Nor is monsieur Mendes-France, nor is Mr. Nehru.

"Yet all these and multitudes of other people of every race hail the sanity of the settlement as a triumph for the art of negotiation. The contrast between these two viewpoints is stark and shattering.

Marathon Runner Laughs at Bruises

LONDON (CP)—Marathoner Jim Peters, captain of the English British Empire Games team, said Thursday he has bruised a heel, but still hopes to be able to resume full training immediately.

"I am very worried about my right heel," said the slim runner, who holds the world's fastest marathon time. "The injury is not visible. It's internal, underneath the heel."

Peters, who leaves for Vancouver Saturday with the last planeload of English competitors, said he consulted the team trainer earlier this week, and will have his heel looked at when he gets to Vancouver

"Nightgowns" for FIRE-FIGHTERS

WIDE-AWAKE FIRE departments may soon be turned out in a new heat-resisting suit built on the general lines of the old-fashioned nightgown. Made of reflective aluminum foil, this outfit gives the hook-and-ladder lads a lot more protection from extreme heat.

Canadian farmers have the same idea when they build their barns of aluminum sheet. Not only is aluminum fire-resistant but it also keeps barns cooler in summer because it reflects the heat of the sun; and in winter reflects back into the barn heat that would otherwise escape. In fact you might say that in the products of Canada's aluminum industry are reflected countless aids to better living—on the farm, in the city, in your own home. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. Snake Mystery Cleared Up

VANCOUVER (CP) — The hair-raising hunt for a diamond-back rattler ended here Thursday when the reptile turned out to be three other snakes.

A posse of nearly 100 police, firemen, pound and zoo workers and private citizens was out looking at the height of the hunt.

The uproar started Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. Robert Milne, mother of two young children, opened her back door and came face to face with what she thought was a five-foot rattlesnake, and the alarm was raised.

Thursday Hugo de Vries, a dental technician and amateur herpatologist, cleared up the mystery: The snake was actually three snakes—harmless garter snakes he had brought home from Stanley park.

"Good for the garden," he said.

Zoologist Alan Best examined the snakes and the marks supposedly made by the rattlesnake and confirmed they were made by garter snakes.

Early Risers Greet Princess

LONDON (AP) — Princess Margaret came home with the milkmen, and the chars gave her a cheer Thursday morning after an all-night dance at the Savoy.

It was just after 5 a.m. when the princess called it quits at Lord Hambleden's gala affair and drove home to Clarence House. She wound up the all-night do by dancing the Charleston.

Along the Strand and the Mall, charwomen on their way to cleaning jobs in London office buildings recognized the royal car.

Margaret smiled at the daybreak reception as she drove by.

The party at the Savoy was a coming-of-age outing for Katherine Smith, sister of Lord Hambleden.

SHIVERING GUESTS AT ROYAL PARTY

LONDON (CP)—The Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh split up Thursday to stroll through crowds of shivering guests at the second and final garden party of the season.

The Queen and the duke, accompanied by the Queen Mother, Princess Margaret, the Duchess of Kent and Princess Alexandra, stepped from Buckingham Palace to join several thousand Commonwealth and United States visitors on the palace lawns. Women guests found their bright summer frocks poor protection against unseasonably chill breezes on a cloudy day.

The Queen wore a navy blue duster coat over a lilac and grey figured silk dress with matching hat. The duke was in traditional morning dress with grey topper.

MUSIC, SPORT DO MIX HERE

HARRY JAMES

Harry James has proven wrong the belief that music lessons and sports don't go together. Many youngsters excel at one or the other, but not often at both as does Harry, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. James of 623 Latimer Street.

Not a trumpet player like his American musician namesake, Harry is taking piano lessons. In the term just completed he received first class honors with an average of 85 from the Royal Conservatory of Music of Toronto, University of Toronto.

Ten-year-old Harry is pictured here in the uniform of the Gyros Little League Baseball team, of which he is member.

Spain Not to Sell Arms Outside NATO

The Spanish government's assurance follows "a number of representations" by Britain on the proposed sale of arms to Egypt.

Britain banned hte export of arms to Egypt in 1951 after the Cairo government abrogated the 1936 Anglo-Egyptian treaty.

Newcomer From Kenya . . .

Spotlight on Jumper At Empire Village

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER (CP) — World and near-world champions nudged elbows with youngsters with stars in their eyes Wednesday as arrivals from nearly half of the 25 countries participating in the British Empire Games swelled Empire village's population to nearly 400 Commonwealth athletes.

There was a great conglomeration of track and field, swimming, boxing, wrestling, weight-lifting, fencing, lawn bowling and cycling athletes but a six-footer from Kenya stole the limelight from such world champs as Australia's miler John Landy and sprinter Marjorie Jackson. Even Toronto's photogenic Jackie Macdonald, already tabbed the glamor girl of the games and considered a top threat in the shot put, received little attention.

The new arrival—26-year-old Jonathan Lenemiria from the Msamburu tribe of Kenya — drew plenty of respect when it was learned he had cleared six feet seven inches in the high jump this year. That mark is the best in the British Empire for 1954 and he should be a decided drawing card during the July 30-Aug. 7 games.

This is the first trip out of the African continent for the nine-member Kenya team. They arrived in charge of Archie Evans, an Englishman who served with the 4th Uganda Battalion, King's African Rifles, during the Second World War, and remained in Kenya on demobilization.

TAKES MODEST VIEW

Evans doesn't look to his school-teaching high jumper to win the games title despite his phenomenal leaps. "He's not up to the standard he shows at home," Evans said in an interview. "If we get weather around 70 degrees he might hit his top form but I doubt it."

But Evans couldn't convince anyone around the village that his high jumper wouldn't be a big threat. "Why, that guy goes six feet four inches in practice," a Canadian commented. "He will be the fellow to watch."

Late-afternoon arrivals included Jamaica's track team with Lee Laing a leading member. He was fifth in the 200 metres at the 1952 Olympics with a time of 21.2 seconds and was second leg of the 11600-metre relay in which Jamaica set a world and Olympic record of 3:03.9.

There was some good news for other countries on the Jamaicans' arrival. George Rhoden, who holds the world record over 400 metres in 45.8 seconds, was among those missing. Track coach George Labeach, former Olympic sprinter said that Rhoden has "a good job and couldn't make the trip."

Advertising Worth More in Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's advertising business was worth $144,339,000 to 88 agencies in 1953.

The bureau of statistics said Thursday the figure was 18.6 per cent higher than in 1952 when the same number of agencies did $121,667,000 worth of business.

Billings for advertising in all types of publication amounted to 59.1 per cent of all commissionable billings, a slight drop from 59.9 in 1952. Billings on which agencies collect a commission amounted to $142,958,000, compared with $120,629,000 in 1952.

Radio and television advertising accounted for 18.7 per cent, an increase from 17.6 per cent the previous year.

Seaway Leads to Building Boom

MASSENA, N.Y. (AP) — This northern New York village, which will be a centre for construction of the St. Lawrence seaway and power project, is having a building boom. The village clerk reports that in the first six months of the year he sold permits for construction estimated at $1,236,400 — nearly as much as the $1,281,750 in estimated construction permitted in 1953 and four times the total construction in 1947.

Tough Decision in Store for Vees

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP)—Penticton V's will probably have to choose between defending the Allan Cup next year or representing Canada in the world hockey championships in Germany, Dr. Mel Butler, president of the British Columbia Amateur Hockey Association said here Tuesday.

Dr. Butler said association officials will meet representatives of the Okanagan Senior Hockey League Friday night to deal with Penticton's proposed European jaunt.

The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association announced Sunday that Penticton has been chosen to represent Canada in the world tournament. The club is scheduled to leave Canada Feb. 13, 1955 and play exhibition games in Paris and Switzerland before participating in the championship series. They would be away from Canada for about a month.

The CAHA chose the Allan Cup champions for the European jaunt to ensure a strong Canadian contender. Canada lost the world title last March when Toronto East Yorks, a senior B team, were beaten by Moscow Dynamos.

Dr. Butler said the CAHA has ruled the Allan Cup finals must start by April 18, which means a western Canada representative must be decided by April 16.

The BCAHA president said both Owen Sound Mercurys of the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A series and Dauphin, Man., Wheat Kings had applied to represent Canada should Penticton decide to forego the European championships and defend their title.

He said Penticton would not even be in a position to defend their QSAHL title if they went to Europe. Next season B. C. will meet the Alberta-Saskatchewan champions to start the Allan Cup playdowns and OSAHL playoffs will have to start before March 4 while Canada's overseas representative is still in Europe.

FULL TEAM FOR BERMUDA

HAMILTON, Bermuda (CP) — Bermuda will have a full team at the British Empire Games after all.

A last-minute fund-raising appeal has left the kitty only £57 short of the £700 necessary from public sources to send the originally-planned four-man team and its manager, D. J. Williams, to Vancouver.

Three team members — broad-jumper Thelma Jones, swimmer Peter Macky and runner Keith Davis — were to leave by plane Thursday night with Williams for Montreal. They expect to arrive at Vancouver Friday.

The team's fourth member, sprinter Orien Young, was expected to leave England today for Canada and may join the rest of the team Sunday.

Nelson Hockey President Mann Puts Damper on Puckster Rumors

Rumors to the effect that Chuck Rayner, former star goalie with the New York Rangers, has been signed to coach the Nelson Maple Leafs this coming season were squashed by the executive Thursday as was the rumor that the Leafs had signed an agreement with the New York Ranger organization.

President of the Nelson hockey club E. A. Mann said that the same rule still holds for the hockey executive, that is that when they have news to give out they will do so through the proper channels. They refuse to give out statements which may later prove to be wrong.

When asked if there was any truth to the rumor that the Leafs may go into a working agreement with the Rangers, Mann said it is possible, but that Willie Schmidt's statement as reported in the Trail Times Wednesday to the effect that the agreement had been signed Tuesday, was in error. No such agreement had been signed.

As to who will coach next season, Mr. Mann stated that no decisions have been made. Any action will be announced at once.

Schmidt, who last season coached the Leafs, has still another year on his contract which has led many fans throughout the city to believe that he will again be at the helm come hockey time.

Vancouver-Vindex Pony Leaguers To Meet Nelson Friday, Saturday

For the first time in the two-year history of Nelson Pony League the officials find themselves with the British Columbia playoffs in their own back yard, at Queen Elizabeth Park.

Nelson will play host to the Vancouver club Friday and Saturday with the winner of the three-game series advancing to the Western Canada Pony League finals at Moose Jaw later. The Canadian championships will be held in Brandon.

Top players from the three Nelson clubs, Legion, Orphans and Knights of Columbus, have been practicing strenuously the last few days with the hope of making the final club that will meet Vancouver in this series.

Fans will be sure of seeing three games, as it has been decided that should either Nelson or the Vancouver-Vindex Pony Leaguers win two straight games the third one would be played as an exhibition.

President of the league, Al Anderson, stated Thursday that they were hoping fans would turn out strongly, for through their effort the boys will have a better chance for advancement along the baseball trail.

Booster tickets are being sold for the games and if Nelson should not win, thus not requiring the funds to travel to Moose Jaw, the money will be used for other league purposes.

Ernie Gare, well known Nelson hockey player and coach of the league leading Legion club, has been chosen to manage the Nelson club with Monty Morley and Roy Anderson, Orphan coaches, selected to act as coaches for the all-star team for this series.

Sauce for the Gander

VANCOUVER (CP) — Canada's track and field athletes had the last laugh on the officials Thursday.

A sign posted on the bulletin board in the track team's quarters advised British Empire Games athletes not to talk to sports writers. The athletes put one up beside it. It read:

"Coaches and managers are not allowed to speak to newspapermen without the consent of the competitors."

The sign was hurriedly taken off by a somewhat-ruffled official.

Bedard Ousted From Singles

By GARY SMITH
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP) — Canada's last hope for the men's singles title in the Canadian tennis championships, Bob Bedard of Sherbrooke, Que., was eliminated Thursday in quarter-final play by Atsushi Miyagi of Japan.

Miyagi, fourth-seeded foreigner in the tournament, came back after dropping the first set to Bedard, No. 2 Canadian player, to win 4-6, 7-5, 6-1, 6-1.

Bernard Bartzeen of San Angelo, Tex., U. S. clay courts champion, and top-seeded foreigner, swept his quarter-final match with Ricardo Balbiers of Chile in straight sets, 6-1, 6-4, 6-3.

In other quarter-final matches Miyagi's Davis Cup teammate Kosei Kamo, stopped Luis Ayala, Chilean champion and No. 2 foreign seed in straight sets, 6-4, 6-3, 6-4. Kamo is seeded third among the foreigners.

Andres Hammersley of Chile, who upset Canada's Lorne Main Wednesday, stopped sixth-seeded foreigner Andy Paton of Ann Arbor Mich., 6-1, 8-6, 6-4 to move into the semi-final bracket.

Appleyard-Lowe Golf Tournament On Tap Sunday

When golfers head toward the fairway at the Nelson Golf and Country Club course Sunday to vie for the Appleyard-Lowe Trophy for the Club championship they will have to be well up on their golf game, for defending champion Johnny Leschuk has already shown that he will be hard to beat.

Leschuk, who recently underwent an operation, has scored a par 33 and a 32 already this week as he has been priming himself for the title play.

Throughout the week golfers have been making their qualifying rounds and a large entry is expected for the annual event.

The top 10 golfers will be chosen to play for the championship while the remainder will be drawn into flights and will play for prizes.

This is the first of several tournaments which will take place in the next month.

On August 8 and continuing August 15 the Senior Men's tournament for men over 50 will be played, with the McBride Cup being at stake. Also on the 15th a tournament will be held at New Denver which will include members of both Nelson and Metaline Falls golfers. Metaline Falls will visit Nelson some time this month with Nelson making a return across the line in September.

Nelson Outlaws To Meet Colville

Playing their first game at home in four weeks the Nelson Outlaws will play host to the Colville Eagles in a doubleheader Sunday afternoon at the Recreation Grounds.

The Colville team top a six-team league which includes Clayton Rockets and the Colville Air Force team. The Eagles have as yet to lose a game in league play.

In two encounters in the Washington town the Outlaws split a double bill, losing the first 1-0 but winning the second 4-2.

The Eagles will start their ace chucker Hal Davis, who last season won 20 games, 15 of them in succession. This year he has yet to drop a game and was the one man who defeated the Outlaws in their first meeting early in the season. In that 1-0 game, the Eagles got but three hits and one run in the ninth with Davis being responsible for all three hits and the run.

Home games in the future see the Newport team playing the Outlaws on August 8, Colville Air Force on August 7 and the Bonners Ferry club on August 14.

Indians Win Twice to Keep Half-Game Lead

By The Canadian Press

Cleveland Indians finally beat down the tie-game jinx that has dogged them in Boston and whipped the Red Sox twice Thursday to stay half a game ahead of New York in the torrid American League pennant race.

New York also won a pair, tripping the third-place Chicago White Sox 4-3 in 10 innings and 11-1.

In the National League the Brooklyn Dodgers gained a game on the New York Giants who fell apart in Chicago 13-3. Brooklyn bested Cincinnati 8-5 and now trails the Giants by six games.

Milwaukee shaded Philadelphia 3-2 and moved over the Phils and Cincinnati into third place in the National League.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pete Runnels, Washington Senators' regular shortstop, will be out of the line-up for "three or four days" as a result of spike wounds.

Runnels got badly gashed in Wednesday night's game with Baltimore Orioles when he was spiked by a Baltimore runner tearing into second base.

Manager Bucky Harris installed Jerry Snyder, a youthful ex-Yankee, as his shortstop during Runnels' absence.

New Gasoline Seen Re-powering Engines by Second Tankful

Gives Up to 15% More Power

A power-restoring job on the family car can be accomplished now simply by a trip to the service station.

The "re-powering" is achieved by a new additive which researchers say neutralizes lead and carbon deposits, and gives up to 15% more engine power.

Tests Show Power Gain

This encouraging news for car owners came when Shell Oil Company engineers released performance figures on tests conducted using the additive, blended into Shell Premium Gasoline and sold under the trademark TCP.

"TCP overcomes pre-ignition and spark plug misfiring caused by lead and carbon deposits. These have been two major power robbers up till now."

A spokesman pointed out that "all gasoline sold today contains deposit-forming compounds." He said these compounds built deposits in the combustion chambers of all auto engines. It was explained that the deposits often become "hot spots" when power is needed most—for quick acceleration, for instance. As a result, fuel is pre-ignited before the piston reaches proper firing position. Vital power is lost.

"Not only does pre-ignition create power working against you," the Shell spokesman said, "but the deposits—which TCP now neutralizes—form on your spark plugs, causing misfiring, unburned fuel and considerable waste."

TCP Well Received

The new additive blended into Shell Premium Gasoline already has created wide enthusiasm among car owners attracted by Shell's promise of "up to 15% more power without touching a tool."

Drivers are warned, however, that these deposits constantly accumulate with modern fuels—and therefore must constantly be neutralized to keep the power gained. Shell says the only way to insure this is continued use of Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP.

Company sales officials said Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP is being handled by all Shell dealers.

Kimberley Ball Tourney Tonight

The Spokane Boutens and the Kimberley Dynamos when they swing into action tonight at Coronation Park will be officially opening the three-day $2200 baseball tournament. Four teams seek the first prize of $850.

Each team is assured of playing three games as the tournament heads came up with the idea of playing a round robin series with the winner being declared by the most points, based on two points for a win. Should a tie develop, the team with the best run average will be declared the winner.

The Nelson Leafs will leave tonight with several of the regular players having to wait over until Saturday before making the trip due to their jobs.

It is expected that the Leafs will be picking up several players for this tournament with the players coming from the Troy, Montana team which appeared in Nelson last weekend.

AUSSIES PRAISE VEDDER CANAL

ABBOTSFORD, B.C. (CP)—The coach of one of the world's top rowing teams said Thursday the British Empire Games rowing canal is "too good for the games."

Roy Thursfield, who heads the Australian games team, went even further to say the Vedder canal is "good enough for Olympic games any day."

The Aussies gave their opinions following several test runs on the water, and said it is "one of the world's finest courses."

WOMEN GOLFERS GO AFTER CLUB TITLE SUNDAY

Women members of the Nelson Golf and Country Club will vie for the Club Championship and the Ruth Armstrong Rosebowl Sunday at the Nelson Golf and Country Club course.

With defending champion Mary Juriloff away, a brand new title holder will be declared when the tourney, which is expected to draw a large entry, is completed.

Altogether three flights will be run, with the championship secondary and consolation making up the day's golfing.

The tournament, held last year on Labor Day, has been set ahead this year in order to get a larger turnout.

NEW CLUBHOUSE PLANNED BY ROWING CLUB

Nelson rowing club members are still in hopes of getting the once popular sport back on its feet with the latest effort being to rebuild the club house on a new float.

With city council wanting the present club house moved, members have decided to tow the club house to shore to be torn down. A new one-floor building would replace the two floors they now have.

Members have been trying to locate space for the boats while the work on the house takes place. It is also hoped to find a good spot for the boats so that repair work on them can be carried out.

TAKE THREE OF 7 FINALS AT HENLEY

PORT DALHOUSIE, Ont. (CP)—Buffalo Westsides, seeking their fourth straight Royal Canadian Henley regatta championship, rowed off Thursday with three of the seven finals here.

The New York state boys racked up victories in the junior 155-pound eights, junior 145-pound fours and the junior singles. They finished second to St. Catharines in the junior 135-pound eights.

The three wins and a second gave Buffalo 89 points for a commanding lead over second-place St. Catharines who drew 49½ with a win in the junior 135-pound eight event and two thirds. Toronto Argos pressed close in third with 46 points on victories in the junior coxswain fours and the junior heavy fours. Winnipeg was far down the list with 8 points.

Detroit Boat Club was the only other outfit boasting a final Thursday, when Ken Blue and Bob Walker edged Al Silvi and Bill Maurer of the New York Athletic Club. The runner-up spot was New York's third of the day, enough to hold them fourth in the point standings with an even 30.

PONY ALL-STARS PICKED FOR GAME AGAINST COAST

Those making the team were Don Holmes, Gordon Jeffs, Gordon Wood, Fred Nudd, Ken Blakeman, Blair Olson, Lloyd Atwell, Tom Balfour, Dave Grundy, Mike Borch, Dennis Bond, Bernie Monteleone, Tom Hufty, Ken Moffat and Don Stevenson.

ENGLAND MAKES FINE STAR IN 3RD

MANCHESTER (Reuters) — A fine innings of 93 by England's Denis Compton and some tireless left-arm bowling by Pakistn's Shujauddin were the features of the first day's play in the third cricket test match between the two countries on the Old Trafford ground here Thursday.

England, having won the toss, had made 293 for six at close of play.

Market Trends

NEW YORK (AP) — Prices attained another high on Thursday in a strong advance topped by soaring prices for steels. Almost all divisions of the market had a hand in the rise with the exception of the aircrafts, which were lower.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained $1 at $131.20, highest point for the average since Oct. 22, 1929.

Canadian stocks were higher. McIntyre advanced one point to 64, and Hiram Walker gained one point to 61. Following were Dome Mines and International Nickel, both up, and Distillers Seagram, up. Canadian Pacific was down 1.

TORONTO (CP)—Prices firmed in the lightest trading of the year toward the close of the session.

Industrials were steady gainers, western oils steadied ahead after losses in recent sessions, base metals were narrowly ahead and golds mixed. Uraniums were steady.

MONTREAL (CP)—Prices generally moved higher in moderate trading.

Anthony Eden Longs to Sleep

LONDON (Reuters) — Foreign Secretary Eden flew home from Geneva with the report that the Indo-China conference had "fulfilled its mission".

Eden, looking tired but happy, stepped from his special plane to cries of "Well done, Tony!" When reporters asked him if he was ready to turn his attention to European problems now, he answered, "My next step is to get a little sleep, of which I am a little short."

First White Man Visits Headmen

MELBOURNE (Reuters) — The first white man to enter New Guinea's newly discovered "Shangri-La" Thursday told of finding a stone-age civilization of earthquake worshipping natives.

Australian geologist John Zander, four native police and 20 bearers were allowed into one of the fertile, hidden valleys only after an earth tremor persuaded the village headman to let them in on the grounds that "the earth had spoken."

Zander's report on the farming community of tall natives equipped with stone-age implements was relayed here from Port Moresby, New Guinea, the Australian Broadcasting Company, turned after inspecting the village.

He found them friendly and eager to show the party their grass houses. Each family lived apart in a house with its own garden, instead of in villages. They carried out their farming and handicrafts without the aid of metal implements.

They told Zander they had heard of the white man before but he was the first they had ever met.

Empire Games Not Misnamed

By W. R. WHEATLEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER (CP) — The continuing arrival of scores of athletes from many parts of the world made it plain Thursday that these British Empire Games are anything but a misnomer.

They come from Uganda and Kenya, big black-skinned fellows who look every inch athletes, and they come from England, Scotland, Northern Ireland and other countries, trim, snappy and with every evidence of being athletically fit and ready.

Later, the Pakistan and Nigeria teams arrived. More are still to come, but the arrivals now are dwindling. Another big contingent is due Sunday — the men's track and field team from England with Roger Bannister.

When all are assembled there will be around 800 athletes, representing 25 countries, housed in the busy Empire village on the University of British Columbia grounds.

DEATHS

By The Canadian Press

Galveston, Tex.—W. L. Moody Jr., 89, Galveston financier and head of the $400,000,000 House of Moody enterprises.

New York—Ernest Findlay Scott, 86, retired professor of biblical theology at the Union Theological Seminary. He was professor of New Testament literature at Queen's University, Kingston, Ont., until joining the seminary in 1919.

Montreal — Stewart Shearer, 52, One of Canada's leading amateur hockey players in the late 20's and early 30s.

Montreal—Maj. Victor E. Duclos, 61, a former Canadian trade commissioner in many parts of the world.

Pravda Calls For Korean Agreement

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda called Thursday for new Korean negotiations and United Nations membership for Communist China as a followup to the Geneva agreement on Indo-China.

The Soviet Communist party organ hailed the Indo-China settlement as a great Communist victory and declared that Geneva had exposed the "bankruptcy" of U. S. foreign policy.

The paper said in a three-column front-page editorial that "the U. S. delegation prevented" a peaceful solution in the earlier Geneva talks on re-uniting Korea but public opinion "demands the governments concerned continue their efforts to revive the discussion."

As a result of Geneva, Pravda said, "it is now clear to all how bankrupt are attempts by American diplomacy to prevent the Chinese people from entering the international arena and taking the place due them among the great powers."

RCMP Says Freidstadt Drowning Accidental

REGINA (CP) — RCMP said Thursday investigation showed that Richard Freistadt of Carmel, Sask., was drowned when he was left alone momentarily while being taught to swim.

Police said there is nothing to substantiate a report that Freistadt, 22, power line worker, was drowned near Estevan, Sask., after companions tossed him off a river bank despite his pleas he was a non-swimmer.

RCMP said Freistadt was alone in the water and apparently slipped off a ledge into deep water. Rescue attempts were unsuccessful.

To Mark Highways For Airplane Pilots

PLATTSBURGH, N.Y. (AP) — The New York state commerce department says it plans to use buildings along the state throughway as navigational aids for pilots of small private planes. Claude B. Friday, director of the department's bureau of aviation, said that maintenance buildings at 35 traffic interchanges along the New York-Buffalo route will be marked as guideposts for aviators.

Senator Breaks Own Record

WASHINGTON (CP) — Senator Wayne Morse, Oregon independent and holder of the record for the longest Senate speech, was talking Thursday as the Senate passed the 24-hour mark in its continuing fight over the Eisenhower administration atomic legislation.

Morse, who set a marathon talking record last year by speaking for 22 hours and 26 minutes, gained the floor at 3:16 a.m. EDT Thursday for what he said would be a "relatively short speech"—five or six hours.

STILL AT IT

He was still talking at 10 a.m. when the continuous session reached the end of its first 24 hours.

Republican leader William Knowland of California served notice he would keep the session going right on into Sunday if necessary to pass the atomic legislation.

Main object of attack by those opposing the atomic bill was the section ordering the Atomic Energy Commission to buy power from private sources through the Tennessee valley authority.

Might Have Been Much Worse

VANCOUVER (CP) — Airline officials rushed a doctor to meet the English British Empire Games team at the airport here Wednesday.

A Montreal report said Mrs. Dorothy Tyler, one of England's most durable women athletes, had been injured boarding a Trans-Canada Air Lines plane on her way here.

But the only injury the doctor found was a slight bruise on the leg, evidently received in a fall.

"Absolutely nothing to worry about," the tall, fair-haired mother of two boys told fretting airline and Games officials.

Mrs. Tyler, 34, held the British high jump title in 1936-1939, again in 1942, 1948-49, 1952 and was British Empire champion at the 1938 and 1950 games. Her latest performance was 5 feet, 6¼ inches.

Coast Gas Workers Approve IBEW

VANCOUVER (CP) —Officials of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers reported Thursday that 240 B. C. Electrical Company gas workers had approved the union as their bargaining agent. A total of 228 workers cast their vote for the IBEW.

Says Russ Money Took Aussies to Moscow Meeting

MELBOURNE (Reuters) — Vladimir Petroy, former Russian secret police chief in Australia, said Thursday he put up nearly £300 so two Australian youth leaders could fly to Moscow to attend a young Communist league conference.

Petrov, who sought political asylum in Australia in April bringing with him a file of Russian espionage documents, told Australia's espionage commission he paid the money to Miss Jean Ferguson of the Australia-Russian Society.

Harry Bocquet, 27, one of the youth leaders named by Petrov, said he went to Russia as secretary of the Eureka Youth League of Victoria state along with Charles Bresland, national secretary of the league, on funds provided by their organizations.

He said he knew of no contribution to their expenses by the Russian embassy in Canberra and denied that the Communist party controlled the Youth League. He admitted, however, that the League was similar to the Russian Young Communist organizations.

Bocquet said he had never engaged in "espionage or unlawful activities."

MANSOURA, Egypt (Reuters)— Lt.-Col. Gamal Nasser, the Egyptian premier, Tuesday handed over to landless peasants the deed of nearly 4,000 acres of land which formerly belonged to big estates. Under Egypt's new agrarian laws land-holdings are limited to 200 acres.

To Stay in A-Race

LONDON (Reuters) — Russian Defence Minister Nicolai Bulganin said Wednesday in Warsaw that Russia will continue producing atomic and hydrogen weapons until the United States stops production in that field. The Communist Polish news agency said Bulganin warned that Russia "cannot afford to be caught unawares and unarmed."

Ottawa Meets Cash Requirements With New Short-Term Bond Issue

OTTAWA (CP)—The government has completed arrangements for selling a $200,000,000 issue of short-term bonds to help bridge a financial gap between revenues and expenditures.

The finance department announced Thursday that the bonds are being sold to the Bank of Canada and the chartered banks. They are dated July 23, and mature next Nov. 15, bearing interest at the rate of 1½ per cent. per annum.

The issue price was 99.97, yielding about 1.59 per cent.

The announcement said the special short-term loan will provide the government with funds to meet its cash requirements "that would not be covered by its budgetary revenues and other non-budgetary receipts during the summer and early autumn months."

The statement added that receipts from the sale of the new issue of Canada savings bonds, together with other cash resources of the government, will be available in November to repay the present loan.

Russians Dismiss Cigarettes as Cause of Prevalent Lung Canacer

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP)—Russian scientists say they suspect viruses cause cancers and that the nervous system plays a big role in the disease. They said they do not find any link between cigarets and lung cancer.

The seven-man Soviet delegation to the sixth international cancer congress, opening here Friday, granted a press conference to outline the war against cancer in the Soviet Union. The week-long congress brings together delegates from 50 countries to exchange information on better ways to battle cancer.

The Russians in the past have not taken part actively in such congresses, but Prof. Nicolai Blokhin, leader of the Soviet group, said the meetings provide an enormous opportunity for the exchange of information between various countries.

"We expect to learn some things to help us and we will give information on the work of Russian scientists," he said.

SAY HAVE PROOF

The picture of cancer research as presented by the Soviet delegates resembles that of other countries, with some interesting differences. Blokhin and Prof. Alexander Savitski said many Soviet scientists believe they "have found proof that cancers are caused by viruses."

The evidence is based mainly on test tube experiments. Viruses as a cause of cancers is a widely held theory in many countries, but the Russians said they also regard cancer "as something under the control of the nervous system going on in the entire body" and not just some localized part where the cancer is situated.

"A healthy central nervous system has the power to oppose the chemical and physical factors from within and outside the body which cause cancer," they said. "One way the nervous system might do this is through its influence on the glands."

Suspect Kidnapping of Otto John, Chief of West German Intelligence

BONN (Reuters) — Otto John, chief of West German intelligence, has been missing in Berlin since Tuesday night, the West German government announced Thursday.

The government's press office suggested he had been kidnapped.

John attended West Berlin memorial services this week for the victims of the July 20, 1944, anti-Hitler revolt, in which his brother took part.

He left his hotel in West Berlin in a taxi and has not been seen since. The taxi has also vanished.

John himself took part in the plot against Hitler's life. He eluded the Gestapo, escaped to Spain and came to England via Portugal. His brother, who was also implicated in the plot, was caught and hanged.

John, 45, has been head of the office for the protection of the West German constitution since it was formed in 1950, and has been instrumental in uncovering several Communist intelligence networks in West Germany.

There have been many kidnappings in West Berlin. The most notable was that of Dr. Walter Linse, a leading anti-Communist, who vanished across the border into East Germany July 8, 1952, and has not been heard of since.

Business Spotlight . . . Engineers Make Study of Coal

CALGARY (CP) — In a quiet laboratory here sit three men poring over the problems of the black diamonds that enrich western Canada's earth.

Dr. J. Visman, a coal preparation engineer, and his two colleagues, a mining engineer and a technical officer, have been in Calgary since 1951 experimenting to improve the quality of Prairie coal.

"Our work is a long-term project," says Dr. Visman. "It is unlikely that immediate success, revolutionizing the western Canadian mining industry, could be achieved."

"Uniformity of size, moisture and ash are the real issues of the problem. The solution lies in the foresight and initiative of each operator and in the broadening of research."

Dr. Visman says new methods will have to be developed to overcome the difficulties of bettering coal. And it is these new methods which occupy the time and thought of the three experts.

WATCH OPERATIONS

They are the trouble-shooters. They visit the pits, make on-the-spot studies and report to the operators on all information obtained from lab work.

The competition of coal with oil and natural gas on the Canadian market and Ontario coal imports have increased the demand for uniformity of size and quality especially in relation to steam coal, the chief Alberta product.

Coal samples from western Canada are shipped from the Calgary laboratory, operated by the mines and technical surveys department, to fuel research laboratories in Ottawa for an analysis which forms the basis for an official quality guide for producers and consumers.

The importance of the project is backed with figures — about 94 per cent of Canadian coal reserves lie in Saskatchewan, Alberta, B.C., and the Yukon.

Foreign Plywood Hits U.S. Sales

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP) — Increased imported of cheaply made foreign plywood are striking a body blow at the Douglas Fir Plywood industry, an industry leader said Wednesday.

Arnold Koutonen, manager of the plywood division of the St. Paul and Tacoma Lumber Co. here, said "at least 300,000,000 square feet of foreign plywood will be dumped in our markets in 1954 at a delivered price below what it costs the industry to produce Douglas Fir plywood."

The Census Bureau reported plywood imports increased 42 per cent in the first quarter of 1954 over the last quarter of 1953.

"Cheap labor, which the United States Embassy in Tokyo estimates as low as 11 cents an hour for a plywood worker in Japan, gives foreign plywood makers an unfair competitive advantage over Douglas Fir plywood workers whose average hourly earnings of $2.09 are among the highest manufacturing wages in the nation."
