Rossland Retains Inter-City Cup

$50 Awards Made to Neil Perkins, Carol Coventry, Kathleen Moore, Neil Horswill at Closing Session

TRAIL — Kootenay Music Festival 1955 closed Saturday night with Rossland being awarded the Inter-City Challenge Cup for the city with the highest average of marks.

Festival chairman W. B. Fromson presided at the closing ceremony when the cup donated by Hume Hotel of Nelson and 10 other awards were presented. Rossland also won the cup last year.

Mr. Fromson expressed "thanks to the people of the Kootenay for making the festival a success." He was sure it had been a success, certainly for the contestants, and he believed also financially for the Trail Kiwanis Club, festival sponsors.

(Also see Pages 2 and 10).

To Neil Perkins of Trail went the Kiwanis Club of Trail award, a $50 scholarship to the boy student competitor in the vocal or instrumental classes between the ages of 14 and 18 years who in the adjudicator's opinion shows the most potential talent, value of the scholarship to be used to further musical study. Presentation was made by G. G. Service, club president.

Carol Coventry of Nelson, for the second year running, was awarded the C. S. Williams Clinic Staff Memorial Scholarship, Trail. Miss Coventry was not at the concert to receive her award, a $50 scholarship. E. R. Humphries announced the winner.

Kathleen Moore of Rossland, one of the stars of the week-long festival, received for the second time the $50 Helen K. McDiarmid Festival Award for the entrant under 16 years who shows the most potential musical talents. G. Jones presented the award on behalf of the Women's Music Club of Trail.

A. A. Pagdin of Nelson, chairman of Nelson Musical Festival Association, which will sponsor the 1956 festival, presented to Nelson vocalist Neil Horswill the $50 scholarship he also won last year. The Association award is to the under 21 local or instrumental competitor showing the most potential talent.

Trail Music Festival Committee named their award the Charles Glasson Memorial Scholarship this year and awarded it to Donna Faye Haley, Rossland pianist. The $25 award is to competitor in the Bachbeethoven pianoforte classes showing most potential talent. Mr. Fromson made the presentation.

To another pianist, Lila Maureen Penner of Kinnaird, student competitor in the Castlegar, Kinnaird and Robson area in the pianoforte classes under 11 years who shows the most potential talent in the adjudicators' opinion, Mrs. MacLean Angus of Castlegar presented the $25 award of the Soroptimist International of Castlegar-Kinnaird Robson. The same girl won the award in 1954.

DOUBLE WINNER

Donna Faye Haley became a double winner when she was awarded the Rossland Parent-Teacher Association Cup as Rossland entrant obtaining highest aggregate marks in the festival.

An award by the Trail Parent-Teacher Council for the elocution competitor under 18 showing most potential talent went to Kathleen Dickson of Trail. Mrs. J. W. Fish made the award, which she said the council hopes will be "an incentive to these young people."

Strand Theatre of Trail award of a three-month theatre pass to the trail elocution contestant under 18 gaining highest marks was won by Edith Cameron.

Nelson musician Douglas Skilton was awarded the Heintzman Trophy awarded annually to the Nelson student gaining the highest marks. He shared the trophy with three other contestants last year.

Trail Male Voice Choir award was not presented but may be at a later date, Mr. Fromson said. It is a $25 scholarship to be known as the James Stewart Memorial Scholarship" for the male vocalist between 16 and 21 showing the best potential talent. Jerry Pickering of Nelson won the award last year.

Finally after all presentations were made, Mr. Fromson called on stage the festival's four adjudicators: Murray Adaskin, instrumental adjudicator and music director of the University of Saskatchewan; vocal adjudicator Frances James (Mrs. Adaskin), noted soprano; Mrs. Eileen Parker, elocution adjudicator and president of the British Columbia Speech Arts Federation; and Miss Nancy Ferguson of Victoria, adjudicator of folk dancing. A hearty ovation and then Mr. Fromson declared the 1955 festival officially closed.

East-West Talks Promised Britons

LONDON (Reuters) — Sir Anthony Eden and Clement Attlee both promised Saturday night they will make attempts to settle East-West differences in meetings with the Soviet government if they are elected May 26.

The Conservative prime minister in a campaign broadcast to the nation, said his government is anxious to meet with the Communists "at any level" to explore the possibilities of reducing world tension.

At Newcastle, Labor party leader Attlee said "if we go back in power we will at once take up the matter of talks with Russia and the United States because there is every danger of a clash in the world."

"The present government has been slow in getting together with Russia. In this dangerous world we must have talks at the highest level as soon as possible."

Herridge Pleads for Arrow Lake Indian

OTTAWA (CP) — The sad plight of the last of the Arrow Laker Indians was placed before the Commons last week.

H. W. Herridge (CCF—Kootenay West) said the sole survivor of the band is living alone on the Arroww Lakes reserve in south-central British Columbia.

He asked that the Indian be given some company.

Mr. Herridge said the reserve — the only one in his constituency —is a beautiful spot on the shore of the Arrow lakes. Was it possible to bring in two other Indian families to use the reserve?

Immigration Minister Pickersgill, who looks after Indian affairs, said he will study the matter.

Blood Change Has Baby Doing Well

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. AP) — The rare blood of two Canadian Cree Indian sisters, flown here 1200 miles by an RCAF jet plane from Edmonton 11 days ago, coursed healthfully Sunday through the body of a three-day-old baby girl.

Doctors said that the baby, born to parents with incompatible blood types, was doing so well that no further transfusions are contemplated.

TORONTO (CP) — A boy celebrating his eighth birthday was killed Sunday when he became involved in a stone-throwing fight over a game of marbles.

B. [illegible] Inoculation

VANCOUVER (CP) — Dr. G. F. Amyot, British Columbia deputy health minister, said Saturday no change will be made in the province's Salk anti-polio vaccination program.

His announcement followed a declaration by the federal health department that vaccine used in Canada is perfectly safe."

Dr. Amyot said that "on the information of Dr. G. D. Cameron, federal deputy health minister, gave us by telephone there is no reason to discontinue."

"All our vaccine came from Connaught laboratories and is perfectly safe," he added. "We would not use it if it were not. There is no reason for people to become panicky."

U. S. DELAYS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government recommended on Sunday that the polio vaccination program in the United States "should continue to be postponed" for the present.

Surgeon - General Leonard A. Scheele said a detailed re-appraisal of each lot of vaccine already prepared or in final production stages is being undertaken and, as it proceeds, "vaccines will be cleared for use on a lot by lot basis."

Formby Decided To Help the Not-So-Lucky

By JOE MacSWEEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL (CP) — The visiting lad from Lancashire gave his questioner a quizzical look, grinned his famous grin and declared:

"Actually, there are three George Formbys.

"There's the Formby who loves to relax quietly at home with the missus.

"There's the Formby whose delight is to sail about in his cruiser.

"And there's the Formby of public appearances and entertainment who leads a hectic life and loves it."

It was the third George who arrived here Saturday aboard the liner Empress of France, starting his fourth Canadian visit.

His visit is sponsored by the Variety Club of Toronto. Proceeds will go in aid of the club's work for crippled children.

He showed a serious side in saying he decided to devote his time to benefits while recovering from a heart attack two years ago.

"I did a lot of thinking lying in bed," he said. "I wondered if I could help others who are not so lucky."

ALI PRECIPITATES BATTLE OF SEXES

KARACHI (Reuters)— Pakistan's easy-going prime minister, Mohammed Ali, is in hot water with the women of Karachi because last month he took as a second wife his dark-eyed secretary, Canadian-born Alya Saddy.

The 46-year-old statesman's marriage to the Edmonton woman 18 years his junior has started a "war" between men and women in Pakistan.

The women are particularly irate because Ali made his young wife the "first lady of the land" and compelled the begum Hamida—his only wife for 14 years—to take a back seat socially.

The men of Pakistan, on the other hand, are sticking together. Under Moslem law, a man can have four wives—and the men here are law-abiding citizens. Most political leaders in Karachi have at least two wives, and they say current agitation by women's organizations is only "a passing fancy."

U.S. Urged To Agree To Top-Level Talks

PARIS (AP) — The Western Big Three Sunday virtually agreed to sign an Austrian treaty within a few days, and weighed moves for a top-level meeting with Russia this summer on a German settlement and other European problems.

British officials said both Foreign Secretary MacMillan and French Foreign Minister Pinay pressed U. S. State Secretary Dulles for a meeting between the chiefs of government in Switzerland in July. Dulles, they said, promised to ask President Eisenhower for an answer within 48 hours.

American officials said Dulles still feels the foreign ministers of the four powers should meet first to work out the details of a settlement. If these talks were successful, they might call in President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Eden, Premier Edgar Faure and Premier Nikolai Bulganin.

The Big Three ministers met to appraise the chances of arranging a four-power meeting with the Soviets. Later they were joined by West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer who takes a seat at the Atlantic alliance council table today.

Diplomatic informants said the three ministers evolved a formula for hurdling the last obstacles to an Austrian treaty which has been under discussion in Vienna between the four envoys and the Austrian foreign minister.

Russia was reported ready to accept pledges to observe Austrian neutrality after Austria is independent. Britain and the United States were reported to have agreed the claims of their oil companies to exploration rights should not prevent the signing of a treaty.

In discussions here Sunday, there were two other developments:

1. British sources reported the Western powers are giving a favorable eye to a proposal under which East German rearmament would be limited on the same scale as West Germany's. This could be a prelude to a general arms limitation in Europe.

2. French and American officials reopened their discussion of the dispute in South Viet Nam between ex-emperor Bao Dai and Premier Ngo Dinh Diem. Diem's ambassador here received instructions to present the premier's case to the Western powers. Dulles, who has thus far refused to receive Bao Dai, probably will receive Diem's envoy, reliable sources said.

Church Merger Gained By Sweeping Majority

Members of St. Paul's and Trinity United Churches Sunday voted overwhelmingly in favor of amalgamation of the two congregations.

The largest assenting vote was polled at Trinity United Church, where 91.4 per cent of members who cast ballots were in favor of the merger. St. Paul's voting members were 86.4 per cent behind the plan. A 65 per cent majority on the part of both churches was required for approval.

The joint boards will attend a special meeting tonight at St. Paul's to decide the next steps to be taken toward amalgamation.

Ministers of the two churches Sunday night voiced approbation of the members' action.

"I think it's a good move," said Rev. G. W. Payne of St. Paul's "I am pleased the majority vote was so high."

Describing the results as "satisfying," Rev. A. R. T. Dilxon of Trinity went on to say that such an overwhelming majority augurs well for the future efforts of the joint boards.

Voting was surprisingly heavy.

A total of 170 of St. Paul's 312 members voted, casting 147 votes in favor and 23 against. Adherents, whose votes did not count, were 46 in favor and seven against.

Trinity members, of whom 210 out of 366 turned out to help decide their church's future, cast 192 "yes" and 18 "no" votes. Of the adherents 34 said "yes" and not a single adherent opposed amalgamation.

The action comes as the culmination of a series of amalgamation attempts since the United Church of Canada was formed in 1925. Before that union, St. Paul's was Presbyterian and Trinity Methodist.

A solution to the problem of how the churches, now only two blocks apart, can best serve an expanding church population in areas in and around Nelson, is expected to resolve itself from the joint board's policy making.

The clerics, along with lay delegates Ross Fleming of Trinity and Matt Jemson of St. Paul's will leave here Tuesday to attend the annual meeting of the B. C. conference of the United Church at the Coast, and at the same time will ask Kootenay Presbytery to ratify amalgamaion.

The joint boards, of which the ministers are chairmen, will shortly decide on a name for the "new" church, the buildings to be used and designation of monies.

SOCIAL WORKERS IN DEMAND

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — At least 1000 professional social workers will be needed in the near future to fill openings across Canada, Dr. Joseph W. Willard, director of the research division of the department of national health and welfare, said Saturday.

Trail Man Heads Conciliation Board

TRAIL (CP)—Stipendiary Magistrate Roland Crowe of Trail has been named chairman of a three-man conciliation board that will attempt to negotiate a settlement in a dispute with the Penticton hospital and its sub employees.

Other members of the board are J. R. Jordon of Penticton named by the hospital, and E. King of Vancouver, employees representative.

Herriot Bows Out To Mendes-France

PARIS (Reuters) — France's senior statesman, 83-year-old Edouard Herriot, Saturday resigned as president of the Radical Socialist party, leaving ex-premier Pierre Mandes-France in apparent full control of the party.

Herriot handed over his responsibility to a new "committee of action" set up last Wednesday when te internal feuds of the party resulted in a left-wing victory at a stormy special congress meeting. Mendes-France was named party chairman later.

Herriot's resignation consolidates Mendes-France's hold over the party machine. The dynamic 47-year-old Mendes-France was ousted from the premiership last February because the right-wing radical deputies voted against him.

PCs Oust Finlayson From Executive Meet

George Drew Given Unanimous Vote of Confidence After B.C. Leader Leaves

By ALAN DONNELLY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — British Columbia's Progressive Conservative leader has been ousted from a meeting of the Party's national executive with its "strongest possible condemnation" for attacks on national party leader George Drew.

Deane Finlayson, 35-year-old provincial leader, was censured Saturday in a strongly - worded resolution and was asked to leave the closed-doors meeting.

The executive, meeting Sunday without Mr. Finlayson passed a unanimous motion of confidence in Mr. Drew.

It also endorsed the establishment last year of a separate federal organization in British Columbia. The organization, set up after the B.C. party association voted non-confidence in Mr. Drew's leadership, has been one of the main causes of intra-party dissention in the province.

The resolution of endorsation declared the federal organization there—the so-called B.C. council of the party—has "sole jurisdiction over federal party affairs in that province and sole power to appoint members from British Columbia to the Progressive Conservative Association of Canada."

WEEKEND OUSTER ONLY

George Hees, president of the party's national association, said later that the resolution does not apply to Mr. Finlayson, who is an executive member by virtue of being provincial leader. He said the ouster order applied only to his weekend's meeting.

Mr. Finlayson walked out of the executive meeting without having presented his demands for a national leadership convention.

He said in an interview later he will ask Tom McDonald of Vancouver, president of the party's B. C. association, to call an association meeting to report the national executive's decision.

Party headquarters Sunday released the text of Saturday's censure motion which detailed the grounds of the executive's action.

It said Mr. Finlayson has "made a series of malicious and unjustified attacks on the leader of the Conservative party in Canada, the three federal members of the party in British Columbia and the officials of the national association."

It added that the provincial leader had declared "open warfare on the national party" by saying his provincial association's candidates will oppose all official candidates of the national party in B. C. in the next federal election, including the three present Commons members.

The resolution said the executive "expresses the strongest possible repudiation of Mr. Finlayson's actions and a complete repudiation of his false allegations and statements."

"Because of Mr. Finlayson's demonstrated willingness to make confidential party matters public, it was considered undesirable that he should sit in on further discussions dealing with policy and organization, and he was asked to leave the meeting," Mr. Hees added.

DOLLAR HIGHER

NEW YORK (CP) — The Canadian dollar was 1-32 higher at a premium of 1¼ per cent in terms of U. S. funds Friday. Pound sterling down 1-16 of a cent at $2.79⅞.

Two Trail Men Missing; Empty Launch Found

CASTLEGAR (CP)—Little hope was held Sunday for the safety of two Trail district men who disappeared on the Arrow Lakes.

The two, Vic St. Denis of Trail and Wally Stevenson of Beaver Falls, were last seen Wednesday in a 15-foot launch near Renata on the lower Arrow Lakes.

Their empty launch was found half-submerged late Friday morning by the steamer Arrow Park on its regular bi-weekly run from Edgewood to Nakusp.

RCMP here conducted a thorough search of the 70-mile area between Renata and Edgewood without finding a trace of the two men.

Police said they believed a storm carried the boat some distance down the lake Thursday night. The boat still contained fishing equipment and the motor was in forward gear when the craft was found. The fishing line was extended.

There was a slight possibility the men beached the boat prior to the storm and may be attempting to reach Nakusp overland.

District Men Head Chamber

VANCOUVER (CP) — H. J. Fosbrooke of Vernon was elected president of the British Columbia Chamber of Commerce at the fourth annual meeting here Saturday.

He succeeds J. T. Harvey of Prince Rupert.

Hy. N. Walters of Vancouver and J. V. Rogers of Trail were elected vice-presidents.

New directors include: H. D. Harrison, Nelson; R. H. Mawhinney, Nanaimo; J. S. Keate, Victoria; G. F. Dunn, Victoria; O. G. Stuart, Prince Rupert; W. T. Waldie, Castlegar, and C. H. Wright and G. L. Filippelli, Trail.

Co-ordination and coalition of provincial industry was the keynote at the opening of the fourth annual meeting of the British Columbia Chamber of Commerce here Saturday.

"There is still such a disproportionate concentration of industry in the lower mainland area, compared with the rest of the province, that there is not the healthy economic development of the province as a whole which is so desirable," said James T. Harvey, president and chairman in his opening address to the 104 delegates.

Bridge Ousts Coast Lumber Company

VANCOUVER (CP) — The new Granville bridge has forced a once-big lumber supply firm to suspend business.

Albion Lumber and Millwork Co. Ltd., retail and wholesale lumber and supply firm, has closed out after an 18-year career.

Company vice-president Clarke W. Markle said Friday that the bridge is responsible for the business downfall.

Property was expropriated for the bridge, and a new site close by was found unsatisfactory for business.

New Bishop of Nelson Named by Pope Pius

OTTAWA (CP) — Appointment by Pope Pius of Rt. Rev. Thomas J. McCarthy of London, Ont., as Bishop of Nelson, B.C., was announced Saturday by Most Rev. Giovanni Panico, Apostolic delegate to Canada.

The announcement issued through the Canadian Catholic Conference, said the new bishop, 49, succeeds Most Rev. Martin M. Johnson, appointed last December as Coadjutor-Archbishop of Vancouver.

A native of Goderich, Ont., Msgr. McCarthy was ordained on May 25, 1929. He is a master of arts of the University of Western Ontario and doctor in theology of the pontifical university "Angelicum" in Rome.

He has served successively as assistant at the London, Ont., cathedral, administrator of the Strathroy parish and professor at St. Peter's Seminary. As a professor, he assumed important charges at the diocesan tribunal, being defender of the bond and promoter of justice to this ecclesiastical tribunal for more than 15 years.

In 1950 he was named vice-rector of St. Peter's seminary and a few years later was appointed rector of the Christ the King College of London. The cornerstone of this Catholic college, affiliated with the University of Western Ontario, was blessed last fall by Apostolic delegate to Canada.

And In This Corner . . .

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Jesse Brewer Friday backed her car onto the street, then watched her driveway vanish.

"It sank slowly, she said, "and didn't stop until a section 20 feet long and 10 feet wide had dropped about six feet."

The drive way is—or was—over the city's main sewer.

NOTTINGHAM, Eng. (AP) — Nottingham's city elders gave the Duke of Edinburgh a trout rod—then demanded 18 pence for a fishing licence.

"A fishing rod without a licence is apt to lead to a life of crime," explained Woodford Muddel, chairman of the Trent river authority.

The duke, guest of honor at a civic luncheon Friday, paid up without a murmur.

COLLINSON TROPHY for the best elementary string orchestra presented by Instrumental adjudicator Murray Adaskin at the Kootenay Music Festival held in Trail last week, to G. Mallette, instructor of the Trail Junior High string ensemble. The group made the sole entry in this class.

THE PIANO TEAM which carried off the senior championship at the festival was that of Kathleen Moore and Donna Faye Haley of Rossland, being presented with their cups by Mr. Adaskin. They had been previously winners of the two pianoforte under 16 category.

WINNER of the open tenor and oratorio solo classes, Jerry Pickering of Slocan City and Nelson also took the vocal solo championship and here receives the W. H. Malkin Cup from adjudicator Mrs. Murray Adaskin, who commented, "You have a tenor in your midst, and they are very rare."

IN PLEASANT CONTRAST to usual festival singing is group singing by Guides, Brownies, Scouts and similar organizations which compete for the E. R. Humphries trophy. First Warfield Guide Company came first this time, and here Marilyn Bradley, leader, is congratulated by Mrs. Adaskin. —A. L. Fryling photos.

Mothers of Fallen Also Honored At Decoration Day Ceremonies

Homage was paid to the men who fell in battle "that we might live in freedom" in Decoration Day ceremonies at Nelson Memorial Park Sunday afternoon, marking the 10th anniversary of VE Day.

The service was also to honor, on Mother's Day, the mothers of the men who died, W.H. Burns, president of the Canadian Legion, which conducted the service, told a large gathering.

Mayor Joseph Kary in an address said fighting men died "that we might escape the dreaded scourge of war and live in freedom in a democratic country that recognizes that all men are equal and are striving to attain that great universal brotherhood among all nations."

Those in the gathering, he said, knew from personal experience and from personal loss the price of freedom. He urged them to remember the great sacrifices made and earnestly pray "that we will never again be plunged into the catastrophe of war."

Rev. Father F. Monaghan described the parade to the cemetery as a public profession of faith, a means of showing that "we have an ideal and that we are so proud of it we wish to make a public demonstration of it." By this means, all would be able to "gauge our readiness to defend that which we profess."

Those who were living would renew the ideals for which they lived and died in the interests of those coming forward "and set a good example for them so that we will be held in the same honor in which we hold them."

Dean T. L. Leadbeater declared, "We can only carry on remembrance in the truest sense of the word by making a contribution to the world." Pessimism and frustration did not set aside the opportunity to make contributions to society he said of those who would point to a troubled world.

"Let us remember God has given us innumerable opportunities to make contributions to lasting peace, to use the opportunity to establish brotherhood in the community with all the diligence we can muster," he said.

Navy and air cadets, and the High School Band took part. Bugler Pat Duff sounded the Last Post and Reveille and prayer of dedication was given by Mr. Burns. Parade marshal was Joseph Holland.

Newsprint Rumors, Base Metals Hike, Strengthen Stock Market

By HENRY BAKER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Heavy demand for paper company stocks touched off an advance that rolled to record levels at the Toronto stock exchange last week.

The sudden interest in papers flared following rumors on Bay Street that newsprint prices soon would be increased. Toronto brokers said public confidence in the industry is growing as companies report excellent first-quarter earnings and plans to split stock. Good divinends are another healthy sign, they said.

Buying enthusiasm for paper issues brushed off on other industrials as inevstors continued this week to ignore speculative issues in favor of the gilt-edged stocks.

GENERAL UPSWING

Background for the market strength, which sent industrials to record index highs and base metals to two-year peaks, was the continuation of a general business pickup that started at the end of last year.

Businessmen were predicting a highly prosperous if not a record year and many companies plan to spend record amounts in 1955 on capital investments.

Total capital investment value, is estimated by the Canadian Bank of Commerce at $5,808,000,000, up from $5,498,000,000 last year but slightly below the peak of $5,841,000,000 in 1953.

Reflecting this optimistic outlook, prices steadily climbed with few interruptions on the Toronto market throughout the week.

BASE METALS CLIMB

Noranda led base metals to higher ground climbing $5 to $96. Labrador jumped $3.62 and Campbell Chibougamau and Quebec Lithium $1 each. Falconbridge jumped $1.50 and Cassiar 70 to $9.50.

Bailey Selburn A had the biggest gain in a strong western oil group. It jumped $1 to $10.50 on 27,000 shares while most other issues recorded moderate gains.

Hollinger was one of the few bright spots among golds, the only major section to show an index loss on the week. The stock jumped $2.37½.

Speculative issues were mostly mixed with prices changes comparatively small. Goldhawk attracted much attention climbing 15 to 59 cents on 1,800,000 shares following favorable drilling reports from its Bancroft area holding.

ACTIVE TRADING

Montreal saw active trading throughout most of the week with papers carrying prices to higher ground in the last two sessions.

Trading was relatively quiet at the New York stock exchange with no marked dips or climbs. The Associated Press index based on 60 key stocks, ended at $164.30, only 30 cents lower than the closing figure for the previous week.

Weekly index changes at Toronto: Industrials up 4.58 to 391.29, golds down .38 to 84.97, base metals up 2.68 to 180.31 and western oils up 3.11 to 107.86.

Weekly changes at Montreal: Banks off 0.29 to 46.61, utilities up 0.8 to 125.8, industrials up 1.2 to 263.8, combined up 1.0 at 217.8, papers up 72.30 to 1360.95 and golds up 3.77 to 82.26.

Ruck Elected by Rossland Jaycees

ROSSLAND — Bill Ruck was recently elected president of the Rossland Junior Chamber of Commerce, to become second president of the group, which was re-organized last year. Bob Dobson will serve as vice-president, Hugh Urquhart as secretary-treasurer, and Ted Fletcher as director. Gordon Hood, who was elected last year for a two-year term, is the other member of the executive.

A social evening is planned for May 13 when the new executive will be installed, with Harry Williams and his committee arranging the program.

Bob Dobson, the regional treasurer for the past year, was nominated by the Rossland Chamber as its candidate for the regional director to be elected at a Nelson meeting. Bill Hastings and Bob Dobson were appointed delegates to the convention to be held in Victoria this month.

Rod Butler was named to head the committee which will conduct the annual Jaycee clean up-paint up program. Ted Wiltshire and Ted Fletcher will again coach the Jaycee baseball team in the Boys' Baseball Association.

EMPRESS SAILS LOCKS UNAIDED

LIVERPOOL, England (CP) — The 26,000-ton liner Empress of Scotland, flagship of the Canadian Pacific fleet, sailed unaided through the tricky Mersey locks Saturday night to beat a local tugmen's strike which had delayed her sailing for Montreal for 24 hours.

Dockside officials said "it was one of the finest pieces of navigation in the history of Liverpool docks."

Capt. Tom Leicester, master, and Mersey pilot Bill Williams waited all day for the right moment to nose the big ship out of her berth and into the open river without the usual armada of tugs.

One puff of wind, one big wave and the liner would have been piled up against the lock gates. Mersey tugmen have been on strike since Thursday to back up wage demands.

SAIGON OUSTS LAST OF REBELS

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (Reuters) — The last big stronghold of the rebel Binh Xuyen private army in Saigon surrendered Sunday night. The rebel-held central police headquarters on the fashionable Rue Catinat flung open its iron gates to the national army.

As the national army drive the bulk of the green-bereted Binh Xuyen soldiers from the city last week, 84 rebels had stayed in the police headquarters, lonely but unchallenged.

Sunday night, all 84 surrendered. They shouted "down with the rebels" and proclaimed "may Prime Minister Ngo Dinh Diem live for 10,000 years.

Line Up 4 Days Early To Buy Lots

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C. (CP)—Rain has fallen to dampen the determination of some 30 persons who started a round-the-clock vigil outside the New Westminster city hall to buy 33 new building sites.

The lots, in a city subdivision, go on sale at 9 a.m. today.

First of the lot-seekers turned up at city hall Thursday night and settled down to a four-night wait.

ARCHBISHOP URGES FREEDOM FOR CATHOLIC LEADERS

BUENOS AIRES (Reuters)—The archbishop of Buenos Aires and Cardinal primate of Argentina, Msgr. Santiago Luis Copello, Sunday called on all Argentine Roman Catholics to go to their local police stations and demand the freedom of 17 Catholic organization leaders who were arrested Saturday.

The call came in a pastoral letter which was read in all Argentine churches Sunday.

225 To Attend Scout Banquet

St. Saviour's Parish Hall tonight will be the scene of the largest presentation of awards to be conducted at one time in this district.

Boy Scouts and Cubs of Nelson at their annual father and son banquet to be attended by 225, will be presented with awards for their year's work by Mayor Joseph Kary, Dean T. Leadbeater and E. K. Evans, assistant commissioner of Scouts and Cubs.

The awards are the outcome of seven years of work by Scoutmaster Larry Urquhart, who left Nelson three months ago for the Coast.

Mayor Kary will present to Walter Anderson one of the top awards, the C cord, along with the metal worker and carpenter. Fred Wah will receive the A and B cords, ambulanceman, fireman, tracker and bushman's thong. Charles Morrison will get his Queen Scout, B cord, pathfinder, carpenter and winter sportsman.

Others and their awards are Steve Barrett, the first class A cord, fireman, ambulanceman and cub instructor. Jerry Poulin the religious and life award, winter sportsman, fireman and cub instructor. Fred Swendson, ambulanceman; Russell Santor, metal worker and woodworker; Ernie Wah, religion and life, cub instructor, fireman and winter sportsman; Gerry Richardson, fireman and camp cook; David Mawer, religion and life, fireman, swimmer and starman; Fred Mattice, fireman and camp cook; Jack Blunt, swimmer. Mike Engledew, second class and religion and life. Ken Richardson, second class and religion and life, Bob Harrison, fireman; Fred McLellan, second class and religion and life, and Jim Young, second class and religion and life.

A list of the presentations to the Cubs had not been completed Sunday night.

T. A. Temple Moves to Alberta

Thomas A. Temple, well known in the Kootenays as a Swift Canadian Company Ltd. representative for 31 years, and Mrs. Temple, have left for Edmonton, where Mr. Temple has a new position in the company's Edmonton office. They had resided at 604 Fourth Street.

Mr. Temple had been manager of the Swift Canadian Nelson district branch since 1941. Previously he had been salesman, living in Trail.

Thirty businessmen honored Mr. Temple at a reception prior to his departure this week, and presented him with a handsome leather club bag.

7 CANDIDATES FOR SUMMER BONSPIEL QUEEN

Jimmy Boates, chairman of the queen contest to be run in conjunction with the Nelson Mid-Summer Bonspiel, reports enthusiasm was high in the venture from both the candidates and their sponsors.

Mr. Boates stated Saturday they had originally planned on having four contestants, but enthusiasm ran so high they decided on seven. The names of the contestants and their sponsors will be released later this week.

The contest is expected to interest the entire West Kootenay district as contestants' home towns are spread throughout, said Mr. Boates.

Kelowna To Plant 850 Trees

KELOWNA — Some 850 trees will be planted on city boulevards this year, according to Ald. Dick Parkinson.

Mr. Parkinson was replying to criticism in some quarters that too many trees are being removed from City Park and boulevards.

"Ten times as many trees are being replanted," he remarked, stating the parks board has been concerned for some time over rotted trees which have become hazardous.

Mr. Parkinson said several hundred trees are also being planted around the picnic grounds and camp grounds presently being developed by the B. C. Forest Service.

Sask. Rivers Still Rising

REGINA (CP) — Flood waters spread out across some sections of eastern Saskatchewan Sunday as they teemed down the giant catch basin of the Qu'Appelle river valley towards the Manitoba border.

Aftermath of a disastrous storm which struck the province six days ago, the flood waters poured into the 200-mile long valley and surged eastward.

Water levels were rising steadily in some far eastern Saskatchewan communities Sunday. But in the western part of the province the level was falling quickly.

A strong southeast wind which raked Saskatchewan Sunday posed new flood threats for cottage owners on the Qu'Appelle chain of lakes east of Regina.

Families were being evacuated at the small farm town of Tantallon, 125 air miles east of Regina on the Qu'Appelle river, and at Kipling, 90 miles southeast of Reggina and 35 miles southeast of Regina and 35

Provincial civil defence crews were working in Tantallon to throw up dikes as the water rose.

The town was reported in full flood, water rising at the rate of about a half-inch an hour. By Sunday afternoon it had risen six inches above the Saturday night high.

TEACHERS MEET ADJUDICATORS

TRAIL — About 50 music teachers, adjudicators and dignitaries attended a reception Saturday evening in the basement of Knox United Church.

The reception, held so that music teachers could meet the Kootenay Music Festival adjudicators — Mr. and Mrs. Murray Adaskin, Mrs. Eileen Parker and Miss Nancy Ferguson—was attended also by several members of the Trail Kiwanis Club, which sponsored the 1955 festival and city officials, including Mayor E. G. Fletcher and Rossland Mayor H. S. Elmes.

The Kiwanis members' wives, Trail Kiwassa Club, put on the reception. Refreshments were served.

90 Mark for Nelson Choir . . .

Commemorative Trophy Won by Former Student

TRAIL — A trophy commemorating the work of a Trail music teacher was won by one of her former students at the final session of the Kootenay Music Festival at the Junior High School Saturday night.

Elizabeth Lewis, with a record-tying mark of 90, won the Bach pianoforte open class and the Edith Anthony trophy for her interpretation of "Chromatic Fantasy and Fugue". The trophy, donated in 1953 by the Rossland-Trail Soroptimist Club in memory of Mrs. Edith Anthony, has had two previous winners, Albert L. Curtis of Trail and Ruth E. Goulet of Castlegar.

Miss Lewis, who was a pupil of Mrs. Anthony's spoke with emotion after being presented the trophy by adjudicator Murray Adaskin. She related that she and her teacher had talked of the need of a trophy for the Bach open shortly before Mrs. Anthony's death, and winning it meant a great deal to her.

Trail and Nelson competitors captured most of the awards at the final concert.

Nelson Civic Choir received the tenth and last 90-mark of the festival and was awarded th eKootenay Hotel Trail Cup for "fresh, alive, exciting singing." Vocal adjudicator Mrs. Murray Adaskin presented the cup to conductor Eric Iles. The choir was the only entry in the mixed choir class singing "Weep You No More" by John Dowland and "Then Around About the Stormy Throne" by Handel.

Cecilian Choir of Trail was awarded the Butorac Jewelry Store Cup and the Trail-Rossland Clinic Cup. The choir competed in both the women's choir and junior choir (girls under 20) classes, receiving 88 marks in each, and sang "Come Again Sweet Love" by Dowland, "The Snow" and "As Torrents of Rain" by Elgar and "Madrigal" by Rowley. They were "really distinguished singers" said Mrs. Adaskin. "Everything was so beautifully done."

Kokanee Chapter IODE Cup was awarded to Doris Bradshaw of Nelson for the fourth time in the women's vocal solo challenge competition. Singing "Dove Sono" by Mozart, she received 88 marks. The class open to winners of the women's open vocal classes in previous festivals, had as other entries Maude Patricia Cross of Trail singing "Amour! Viens Aider" — Samson and Delilah" — Saint-Saens and Mrs. Nell Newton of Fruitvale singing "Lascia Ch'io Piagga" (Rinaldo) by Handel. "Three very fine singers," said Mrs. Adaskin.

Violinist Otto Niedermann of Trail in another challenge competition won the H. R. (Hank) Laurient Cup as the only contestant in a class open to winners in open instrumental classes in previous festivals. He played "Adagio" from Sonata 1 by J. S. Bach.

Trail Symphonette Orchestra was "a well rehearsed group" said Mrs. Adaskin in adjudicating its playing of "Rosamunde" overture by Franz Schubert, Opus 26. The orchestra won the Stimmel Cup in the open orchestra class.

Competing with Miss Lewis in the Bach class was Jean Fischer of Trail, who received 89 marks. "Two wonderful and huge works of Bach requiring great technique," said Mrs. Adaskin.

A group of guest artists, Colville High School Girls' Glee Club directed by Harry Nottingham, provided a diversion from the classical program. Mr. Nottingham congratulated the Trail Kiwanis Club for a very fine job of presenting the festival." His group sang "Syncopated Clock.", "Lolly Two Dum" and "I think I Am Falling in Love."

HAMILTON (CP) — A Canadian record for the 880-yard relay and 13 meet records were set at the third annual Ontario inter-scholastic relay carnival held here Saturday. Hamilton Central collegiate dominated the class A high school events and Toronto's Upper Canada College, paced by Lionel Conacher Jr., swept prep school honors

Firemen Revive Gassed Baby

Fast work on the part of her father, a neighbor and Nelson Fire Department saved the life of a Nelson infant Sunday night.

Linda Sanders, not quite a year old, was rushed to the firehall when she became unconscious in a car, apparently a victim of carbon monoxide poisoning, but was revived in 15 to 20 minutes by an inhalator squad.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russel Sanders, Gyro Park Road. They were just returning to their home in a car owned by Gordon Sanders when the little girl began to struggle in her father's arms, then became limp. Mr. Sanders immediately began artificial respiration and continued to work on her while she was rushed to the firehall by Fred W. Hinitt, a neighbor.

Mr. Sanders said he guessed what had happened because the day before his brother's little boy had suffered what was thought to be a convulsion in the same car, but had revived as soon as he was taken out, just the day before. The adults in the car Sunday night were not aware there were any fumes, but one of two children in the back seat fell asleep, and came to as soon as she was taken from the car.

The car is to be checked today to see where the fumes were coming from.

Howard Rosling Funeral Held

Funeral service for Howard Rosling, who had made his home on the North Shore for 35 years, was held Saturday at the Thompson Funeral Home.

Rev. Canon W. J. Silverwood officiated, and cremation followed.

Mr. Rosling, who first came to Canada in 1894 to trade out of Edmonton in the Yellowhead Pass area, was later in the boat building business in Winnipeg. He was born in Reigate, Surrey, England, and died in Kootenay Lake General Hospital Friday at the age of 82.

POST OFFICE REVENUE DROPS

April transactions at Nelson post office totalled $175,615.92. This is $40,985 less than April, 1954.

Postage sales of $10,017.28 remained close to last year's figure. A total of 3691 money orders were issued compared to 3443 last April and 4921 money orders were paid out as compared to 5448 a year ago. Other revenue this April totalled $858.43.

Fastballing Humes Work Out Tonight

The Humes of the Nelson and District Fastball league will hold their second workout at the Recreation Grounds tonight in preparation for league play which is expected to get under way shortly.

The Humes, with several of last year's players not turning out due to box lacrosse, are looking for players and anyone wanting to play will be welcomed at the practice.

Neuberger Hopes To Ban Makeup For TV Speakers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Political candidates would be forced to tell television viewers whether they are using facial makeup, under a bill introduced recently by Senator Richard Neuberger (Dem.-Ore.).

The freshman lawmaker said his main concern is "to eliminate elements of the theatrical and the synthetic from our national political life."

"I think it would be wrong to make some Broadway playboy into a potential randidate for president or United States senator," Neuberger declared.

The bill would also require that viewers be told whether a candidate is using any prompting device.

"We require today that radio listeners be informed when they are hearing a recording or transcription," Neuberger said. "Yet we permit TV viewers to think that a candidate is speaking to them extemporaneously when, in actuality, he is reading from an artificial device like a television prompter or 'idiot board'."

On the question of flattering makeup, the senator said:

"A television audience should be told if artificial means are being used to conceal a candidate's jowls or bald spot or beard."

$20,000 Work Done On College Dorms

With the weather becoming seasonally better, work has gone forward on the men's residence at Notre Dame College. Laurence Simpson, contractor, appraised $20,000 worth of work completed at April 30.

Water and sewer connections are being made, and the basement plumbing is under way. The cinder block partitions in the basement give an idea of the plan for other floors. Metal windows have arrived and the building is rapidly taking shape.

Work on the new entrance of the classroom building at the college is near completion. Windows and doors for its enclosure are being awaited.

The Weather

Rain was expected over the north coast Sunday night and a few showers were headed for south coastal areas Monday morning. Variable cloudiness should spread to interior areas Monday. Temperatures across B.C. remain five to 10 degrees below normal for early May.

Care of Canada's War Casualties Keeps Veterans' Department Busy

By DAVE MCINTOSH
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — Courage did not end for thousands of Canadian servicemen when the Second World War ended 10 years ago Sunday.

Nearly 22,000 of them had to face the rest of their lives with some war-inflicted handicap. Some had left legs or arms on the battlefields, some would never see again, some needed permanent braces and splints to hold shattered limbs together.

More than 2000 Canadian veterans of the Second World War are amputees — 1530 lost one leg, 89 both legs, 410 one arm, 10 both arms. Four triple amputees are believed still living; 198 men were totally blinded; there are 242 paraplegics.

There are 64,000 veterans — 31,477 from the First World War — receiving prosthetic and orthopaedic appliances from the veterans' affairs department. Prosthesis is the medical term for the making up of deficiencies, such as by an artificial leg.

LISTS NEEDS

The department lists these veterans and their needs: 1228 require arm prostheses; 5331 leg prostheses; 6327 belts, braces and splints; 331 paraplegic braces; 4600 orthopaedic boots; 6688 boot modifications; 1051 artificial eyes; 24,278 glasses; 3679 hearing aids; 736 wheel chairs and nearly 10,000 minor appliances.

In a single year, the department issues nearly 100,000 such appliances from hearing aid batteries to socks for limb stumps and has repairs made to another 20,000.

All this is only a small part of the price—excluding the cost in human suffering — that Canada is still paying for victory over the third Reich. War pensions alone cost this country $127,000,000 a year. Every month, cheques go out for 500,000 disabled veterans of all Canada's wars and their dependents.

Canada declared war on Nazi Germany Sept. 10, 1939. Before Gen. Jodl signed the German surrender document in the schoolhouse at Rheims at 2:41 a.m. May 7, 1945, declaring the war in Europe over the following midnight, nearly 42,000 Canadians had been killed. Of the total 22,964 were soldiers, 17,100 airmen and 1637 sailors.

Naramata Entry Best at 'Forks Drama Festival

WEST Kootenay will be represented in New Westminster May 19, at the B. C. finals in the Knights of Pythias public speaking contest by Alistair Fraser, above, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Thurlow Fraser of Rossland. He won the district championship in Salmo, competing against girls from Kinnaird, Ymir and Trail. —McDonald Photo.

GRAND FORKS — Four of six trophies in the second South Okanagan zone drama festival Friday and Saturday went to Naramata players for their entry, "The Anniversary" by Antón Chekhov.

They won the best play award and the director, Nadine Oliver, won the award for the best director. Valentine Morche, who played Tatyana Alexeyevena, won the trophy for best supporting actress and Perry Darling as Kuzma Nikolayevitch Hirin, the best supporting actor trophy.

Winners of the best actress and best actor trophies were in Kelowna Little Theatre's entry, "The Valiant" by Holworthy Hall and Robert Middlemass. The coveted honors went to Mabel Boyer, who played a moving part as Josephine Paris and for whom the adjudicator spoke only words of praise, and Tom Marsh as Father Daly in the same play.

Presentations were made by Miss Janie Stevenson of Nelson, the adjudicator, who was introduced by Mrs. Mary I. Kerr, drama zone chairman. W. Z. Zoellner was chairman.

Rossland Chest Blitz Gets "Fine Response"

ROSSLAND — A "blitz" canvass for funds for the Rossland Community Chest, held Saturday, was reported by Chest president H. L. Christian, to have had a very fine response as far as results were known. No figures will be available on this year's annual campaign for several days.

Members of the Rossland AOTS once again conducted the door-to-door canvass, with citizens giving cash donations or monthly pledges for the coming year. High school students and pupils of the elementary schools contributed to the publicity for the drive, by writing letters explaining why the Community Chest drive should be supported. The best letters were published in the local paper. Donations of Rossland citizens to the Community Chest is matched dollar-for-dollar by the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company.

Cranbrook Postal Business Gains

CRANBROOK — Cranbrook post office sale of unemployment insurance stamps came to $4204.86 last month, according to the statistical summary by Postmaster E. T. Girling. This was down from March's $4526.84 due to the woods shutdown, but seven per cent higher than total for April last year.

Business volume for April was $60,529.88, substantially up from the total of $56,427.65 for the month last year. There was a decline in stamps and postage meter revenue which was $4024.65, compared with $4184.32 for April last year. The post office sold 2975 money orders and paid 792 money orders during the month, compared with 2851 sold and 774 paid last April.

Retired Clerk Made Free-Man of Rossland

ROSSLAND — A large number of Rossland residents as well as many out-of-town guests were present when John A. McLeod, former city clerk of Rossland, was honored at a retirement dinner and reception Friday night. The evening was arranged by the Chamber of Commerce, assisted by Mayor Harold Elmes, to honor the man, who had just completed 48 years of faithful service to the city.

After the guests at the head table were introduced by Mayor Elmes, the affair was turned over to J. R. Corner of Nelson, a former Rossland mayor. Mr. Corner said that Mr. McLeod has the enviable position of the longest period of employment of any civic employee in the history of B. C., and has certainly done the job better than anyone else could have done.

Mayor Elmes said Mr. McLeod would always be held in high esteem by all mayors and aldermen, with whom he had served.

Wishes for continued health and happiness in his future were expressed by Thomas McRae, president of the Chamber of Commerce. J. Gordon, former mayor of Rossland, Mayor George Fletcher of Trail, Alderman T. H. Bourque of Nelson, Clayton Stewart, clerk of the municipality of Tadanac; Arthur Turner, representing the school board district No. 11, and R. J. Clegg, who had worked with Mr. McLeod from the start of his career in the city. Mr. Clegg mentioned the part Mr. McLeod had taken in the planning of MacLean School, when he was secretary of the school board, in addition to being city clerk. Others speaking briefly were R. G. Anderson and Mrs. Archie Coombes, a native daughter of the city.

SCROLL PRESENTED

Highlight of the evening was the presentation of an illuminated scroll to Mr. McLeod by Mayor Elmes, making him a free-man of the city. He also receives a gold key to the city. Rossland Chamber of Commerce presented Mr. McLeod with a purse.

In making the presentation Mayor Elmes mentioned that Mr. McLeod had served with 44 councils and 16 mayors. Mr. McLeod was the third city clerk since Rossland was incorporated in 1897.

Mr. McLeod thanked the people of Rossland and said three things made his 48 years possible: firstly, Providence had blessed him with health and strength to carry on; secondly, the tolerance of mayors and councils with whom he had worked; and thirdly, the co-operation received from the good people of Rossland and vicinity, who "are unsurpassed in any other part of the world."

A musical interlude included vocal selections by John Hughes and Bill Douglas, each accompanied by Mrs. Virgie Picco at the piano, and trumpet solos by Barry Lawrie and Leo Comesotti, accompanied by Bart Turvey at the piano.

Cranbrook branch is having a cancer forum in June.

Cranbrook Man Given Mail Run

CRANBROOK — J. B. Shibley of Cranbrook whose Rocky Mountain freight service, has been carrying the Cranbrook-Golden mail service, has been awarded the contract for the new closed mail service which will operate over this 185 mile run on a quicker schedule starting May 16.

Mail will be exclusive cargo for this trip which will leave Cranbrook Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 9 a.m. instead of the former 9:30 a.m., and arrive at Golden at 3 p.m. instead of 5:30 p.m. Mailing deadline is moved up at Cranbrook. Mail will leave Golden Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday at 8 a.m., and arrive in Cranbrook at 3 p.m.

Mr. Shibley will continue his Rocky Mountain freight service using a separate vehicle.

NEW PUBLICITY FOLDERS ISSUED IN WINDERMERE

INVEMERE — A new issue of publicity folders advertising the attractions and facilities of the Windermere District is being distributed by the publicity committee of the Windermere District Board of Trade.

With R. B. Harris of Windermere convener in charge. 10,000 new copies of the folder have been printed, about half of which have already been distributed to strategic points in British Columbia, Alberta and boundary, and points of the United States.

Slight changes in color and information have been made in the 1955 issue of the folder, but it is essentially the same as the previous issue. A completely new edition is planned for 1956 or 1957.

Cost of the folder is borne by district firms' advertising. Cover of the folder, which has an eye-catching orange background pointing up the Windermere District title, has a picture of the pool and aquacourt at Radium Hot Springs. Considerable space is alloted to photographs of valley beauty spots, historical points of interest and wildlife.

Inside the folder an animated map of the district from Spillimacheen to Canal Flat gives travellers an excellent picture of the area traversed and the attractions to be enjoyed en route.

All business firms and enterprises in the valley are listed according to villages, churches throughout the valley are listed according to denominations, essential services such as police, hospital, doctors, dentist and game warden are located and phone numbers given and service organizations are listed for the information of visitors to the district.

Art Exhibition Draws 500 People

ROSSLAND — Close to 500 people attended the second annual display of the Rossland Art Club Saturday afternoon.

The work of 20 exhibitors, including 11 members of the local club, made up the 120 exhibits. Those who attended the show were high in their praises of the paintings, which ranged from landscapes to geometrical abstracts and included oils, caseins, pastels, watercolors, pen and ink drawings, pencil sketches, and poster paint work treated with plastic.

George Doubt and Geoffrey Rees art teachers from the Trail Junior and Senior High Schools, complimented the Art Club on the show. The club itself was very pleased with the response from the exhibitors, six of whose paintings were sold.

The Art Club meets monthly, sometimes to hear visiting lecturers, sometimes to view films relating to art, and sometimes to sketch. Sketching outdoors during the summer is one of the enjoyable projects.

Mrs. J. D. MacDonald was convener of the show, assisted by club president, Mrs. R. J. Armstrong, and publicity chairman Mrs. Laurie Hamilton.

Lecture Attendance Record Set in Uranium-Eager Slocan

NEW DENVER — Believed to be the largest audience ever to attend a B.C. Department of Mines prospecting lecture in the Kootenays more than 140 persons taxed the seating capacity of the Lucerne High School auditorium in New Denver to hear J. W. Peck of Nelson, resident engineer and inspector of mines, speak on "Prospecting for Uranium." The meeting was arranged as a public service feature by the Slocan District Board of Trade.

Once thought to be an extremely rare element, uranium is now known to be fairly abundant, being a hundred times more plentiful than silver and a thousand times more plentiful than gold. Most of the uranium in the earth's crust occurs in non-economic disseminations but experience is proving that economic deposits are not uncommon. There are more than 100 minerals which contain uranium, these being divided into two main classes: (1) the primary minerals, being simple and multiple oxides of uranium and associated elements, and (2) the more complex secondary minerals. Mr. Peck pointed out that Canada is fortunate in that her deposits belong to the former group, while the United States production is derived from the latter type.

WORD OF ADVICE

Uranium ores are all radio-active and are readily detected by geiger counters and other instruments designed for the purpose. Mr. Peck was quick to warn that "all that clicks is not uranium," explaining that other elements such as niobium (coloumbium), thorium, and even certain compounds of potassium, are extremely radio-active. Uranium is by far the most valuable of the radio-active elements at the present time, but the others may be in greater demand as atomic research progresses, he added.

Specimens from many parts of the world related to the ores of uranium were passed around, as were two geiger counters. Mr. Peck gave an effective demonstration of the method of determining uranium under the ultra-violet rays of the "mineralite", and explained field techniques of mineral identification He gave brief descriptions of important uranium deposits including the very large brannerite field at Blind River, which was discovered by Franc Joubin, a UBC graduate, and in which the Rio Tinto company is spearheading a 55-million dollar development program.

Mention was also made of the Slocan's own Lemon Creek area which is still in the prospect stage. One mineral found there has been identified as fergusonite, which is 10 per cent uranium oxide. The latter material is bought by the government at contract prices ranging upward from $7.25 per pound.

The interest taken in Mr. Peck's address by his "class" of engineers, miners, prospectors, and other interested men and women was shown by the lively question period.

Cranbrook Boy Is Top Speaker

CRANBROOK — Arthur Marguet of Cranbrook, son of Mrs. D. J. Dundas, won the East Kootenay Knights of Pythias championship trophy for school orators in the district finals here Friday night, and will represent the area at the provincial finals sponsored by provincial Knights of Pythias at New Westminster. Lois Shypitka of Cranbrook took second place.

Also entered were the two top school orators from Kimberley, Ray Turner and Sandra Webster, and from Creston Elizabeth Brown and Sheila Andestad. Subject of the 10-minute addresses was "Safety on the Highway."

Judges were Mrs. William Long of Creston, Magistrate V. M. Bourne of Kimberley and M. G. Klinkhamer of Cranbrook.

Chairman was East Kootenay Knights of Pythias competition chairman Roy Beduz of Kimberley.

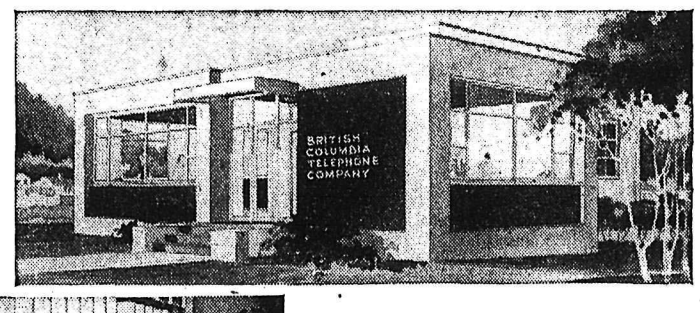
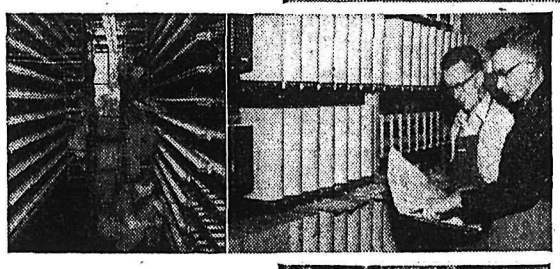
B.C. TELEPHONE'S $21,000,000 1955 EXPANSION PROGRAM

To pace a growing province's rapid industrial and residential growth, the British Columbia Telephone Company will be spending nearly $21,000,000 on expansion and improvements during 1955. This record expenditure will be used, first, to augment existing phone facilities, and, second, to implement the Company's huge dial conversion program.

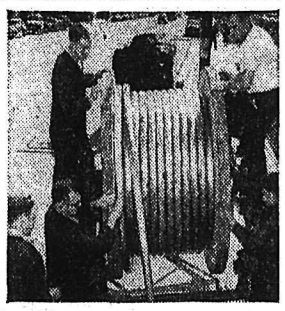
Here is how we plan to spend this money:

For Buildings—
Construction of new buildings and additions or alterations to almost every other building in our territory will cost us a total of $1,200,000





For Central Office Equipment—
The installation of additional dial and manual telephone facilities in exchanges throughout the system will amount to $7,700,000



For Outside Plant—
Millions of feet of wire and cable are required to link telephone subscribers to their exchanges. Proposed additions to outside plant this year will cost $4,900,000

For Subscribers' Facilities—
The end result of most telephone expansion projects is, of course, the telephone itself. In 1955, to install thousands of telephones, P.B.X. switchboards and related subscribers' facilities, we will spend, for equipment and labour $5,100,000

For Long Distance Facilities—
To forge new links in the chain uniting booming B.C. communities with each other and with the rest of the world will require long distance circuit additions costing $2,100,000

Our 1955 program is a big one—and it's only a continuing part of the B.C. Telephone Company's year-by-year program to match this Province's phenomenal growth.

27 in Every 100 Canadians Never Out of Own Province

Twenty-seven per cent of Canadians have never crossed a provincial boundary. Now there is a fact for those interested in the tourist industry to conjure with.

It means, in simplest terms, that there exists right in our own country a tremendous market of potential holidayers to draw into the visitor trade.

The figure on Canadian travel habits is provided in a well-prepared booklet "The Tourist Industry—It's in Your Hands" distributed by the Canadian Tourist Association.

It provides impressive evidence that the tourist industry is one well worth the efforts of any town or district. Primary distribution of the $278 million that American travellers and the $22 million visitors from other countries spent here last year shows 25 per cent went to retail and department stores, 17 per cent to hotels and resorts, 22 per cent to restaurants, 12 per cent to service stations and garages, seven per cent to travel companies, nine per cent to movies and recreation businesses, five per cent to refreshment and roadside stands and three per cent to novelty and souvenir stores. That amount spent on souvenirs and novelties is a crisp $15 million alone.

Added to this is an estimated $300 million more spent by Canadians travelling within their own country for pleasure and holiday purposes.

American visits numbered many more than the entire population of Canada — in fact nearly double the census figure. Recorded crossing the border were 26,400,000 United States citizens.

The Tourist Association declares the competitive situation for the tourist industry is intensifying and calls for a greater effort by community organizations, business and the ordinary citizens in its promotion. We must improve the tourist "product" in every way possible and make our attractions known in the most vigorous way if the visitors won away from us by competitors can be attracted here.

Further, the visitor from other countries should not be considered the only tourist. Holidayers from other parts of Canada provide a tourist trade potential to whom too little attention is paid.

Rubber-Stamping

Union labor employees at Avro Canada Ltd. have endorsed a motion which calls on them to vote only for selected and approved political candidates. That is the sort of thing so roundly condemned by Walter Lippmann in his recently published warning, "The Public Philosophy".

That practice, says Lippmann, undermines democracy. It turns our parliamentary representatives into rubber stamps.

The Dominance of "G"

After years of frustration we have decided that the telephone book needs a new editor. What brought this to mind was our need to telephone the post office. We found it listed under post office, as you'd expect, but instead of a number the rest of the line said, "See Govt. of Canada." Giving the number would have taken one-quarter that much type.

Again, we had to call Westminster Hospital. Sure enough, it was there, under the Ws. But the number? Again, "See Govt. of Canada," where the number should have been. And if you go back to the Gs and find Government of Canada you have to go through more than a column of type to Veterans' Affairs Department before you get to Westminster Hospital.

It's the same with all governmental departments. You won't find Army under the As, or Navy under the Ns. The latter comes under the Rs, as RCN. The RCAF makes it in the R section, with that now-familiar admonition, "See Govt. of Canada." So do the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

What is so silly about all this is that someone takes the trouble to list, say, Westminster Hospital, but instead of putting 2-6711 on the same line, wastes space and the subscriber's time by adding "See Govt. of Canada." Please, Bell Telephone, can something be done about this?—London Free Press.

Shirt Washing

It is a great satisfaction to a man to own a shirt he can wash himself. The operation is easy to perform, takes only a few minutes, and the shirt dries quickly.

In consequence, a man is no longer disturbed over the possibility of being caught without a clean shirt. He need have no concern that a shirt that should have gone to the ordinary wash has been left out of it.

If the shirt has been left out he need not be afraid of being scolded for his carelessness. There is less danger of his being punished by being told that since he has left the shirt out there is nothing to be done about it until next week.

When he hears the washing machine start up there will be no reason for him to jump, ask himself if there is a shirt that ought to have gone in because he left it on a chair instead of throwing it in the laundry basket.

On being informed that the wash has been begun and that his shirt is not included, he can assume an independent attitude. He can inquire. "Well, what of it?" He can remind everybody that he now has a shirt he can wash himself.

He now can pick whatever time is convenient to him. He can state that, thanks to modern invention, he need look to nobody for help. He can announce that his shirt problem is solved.

How distressing that when in this proud and exalted mood he goes up to a friend, calls attention to the fact that he is wearing a shirt that he washed with his own hands, and inquires: "How does it look?" his friend should reply unfeelingly, "As long as you ask, it looks exactly like a shirt you washed yourself."—Vancouver Herald.

Value of NATO

For six years Canada has been a contributing member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. External Affairs Minister Pearson, in commemorating NATO's sixth anniversary, said that Canada's contribution in men and money is a price that must be paid for freedom.

"If we must remain free," he said, "we must pay the price of never-ending vigilance until peace and security are firmly established on a basis of international co-operation and good will."

Cost of membership in money to Canada has been set at about $1,000,000,000 for mutual aid in the form of arms and equipment to European partners in the defence pact. This is not too high a price for freedom.—Vancouver Herald.

Irrigated Acres

Okinawans, with United States help, have built 17 large dams since World War II. Nakahodo dam offers an example of what has been accomplished. Its 11,500,000-gallon capacity enables nearby farmers to triple cultivated acreage and boost their rice yield fivefold.—Niagara Falls Review.

Instead of sending men or women to Ottawa or Washington to think for themselves, to form opinions and base decisions on information that may be available only to them, we choose mere robots pledged to carry out orders of pressure groups.

That is not democratic government.

Inquirer, Calgary — How many movie theatres are there in Nelson? Has it a city park? What entertainments are there?

There is one movie theatre in the city of Nelson, the Civic. From spring to late autumn, there is the Starlight Drive-In about ten miles east which draws large audiences. Lakeside Park is a popular centre during summer months with its shady lawns, picnic facilities, swimming and diving in the lake, and broad sandy beaches. For dancing there is the Playmor Dance Hall about 12 miles west of the city, and in Nelson itself, there are numerous halls where club and popular dances are held. The Civic Centre provides library, gymnasium, curling rink, skating rink and arena. Sports fields exist at the Recreation Grounds and in Fairview and Uphill sections; Gyro Park pool is a favorite summer sport for youngsters, Nelson Golf and Country Club has a 9-hole layout and tennis courts. Bowling greens are available at Lakeside Park and a swimming pool is to be built there. There are dancing clubs, excellent church and civic choirs and numerous recreation and hobby groups.

When a Horse Bites Here to Stay

A Montreal woman has sued a milk company because one of its horses allegedly reached out and bit off her nose. That was a sad event, but also an illustrative one.

Very rarely will a horse bite a human. But the bite of a horse is much worse than the bite of a dog or most other domestic animals. A horse has tremendously powerful jaws, and bites in a queer way. He does not bite and let go. Rather he bites, hangs on and pulls.

That is why a farmer will not long put up with a biting horse; not if he be sensible. He is aware of the danger, for none is safe within reaching distance of such an animal.—Windsor Star.

Your Horoscope

Much happiness will result to you in a romance or domestic situation provided you do not allow your heart to overrule your head. Born under these influences a child is likely to be impetuous, of an ardent temperament, fond of outdoor sports, and also interested in travel and philosophy.

Wealth of Reading in Latest Library Books

Books for hobbyists, arm-chair travellers, mystery fans, books reconstructing famous incidents, are among the Spring selections in Nelson Municipal Library.

Here is the latest list:

NON-FICTION

A Stranger In Spain, by H. V. Morton, Methuen:

The Spain of the tourist poster plays a small part in this book. The author deals mostly with Castile and the North, where in dark churches and ancient towns the future of Christian Spain was forged in the Middle Ages.

My Experiences in Color Photography, by Dr. Paul Wolff, Grayson Publishing:

Not only is this an advanced course in color photography in which Dr. Wolff makes his experiences and techniques known to the public; it is also a collection of colored photos of extraordinary beauty.

Innocence Under the Elms, by Louise Dickinson Rich, Lippincott:

Reminiscences of the girlhood days of the author and her sister in Bridgewater, Mass.; its Sunday school picnics, baseball team, Civil War veterans and visiting evangelists.

Two Minutes Till Midnight, by Elmer Davis, Bobbs-Merrill:

A companio npiece to "But We Were Born Free". In the earlier book Elmer Davis exhorted his readers to live and fight for liberty. Now he says it may have to be fought and died for.

The Romance of the Great Barrier Reef ,by Frank Reid, Angus and Robertson:

A vivid description of the Great Barrier Reef of Australia, the greatest in existence, and the strange life it contains.

Qataban and Sheba, by Wendell Phillips, Harcourt, Brace Co.:

The author, explorer, adventurer, archaeologist and president of the American Foundation for the Study of Man, organized and led four expeditions to find treasures long buried in the wastelands of Southern Arabia.

Jungle Quest, by Edward Weyer Jr., Harper Bros.:

The record of a journey among primitive Indian tribes of the Amazon in search of Orlando Boas.

World Without Mercy, by Rene Lecler, Werner Laurie, London:

Not until the 19th century did civilized man rediscover the lost world of the Sahara. With explorers and scientists, Rene Lecler invites his readers to relive this dramatic saga of modern exploration.

FICTION

Coromandel! By John Masters, Viking Press:

A blood-stained map of India found by a boy in Wiltshire drove Jason from his father's farm to London, by ship to India and Coromandel, through jungles and across searing wastes, to the heights of the mountain he hoped was Meru.

Moonflower, by Beverley Nichols, Hutchinson:

Mr. Nichols is sufficiently old-fashioned to believe that the primary aim of the detective novelist must be the construction of a puzzle, and in this book there is a puzzle of exceptional ingenuity.

Homer's Daughter, by Robert Graves, Cassell:

The story of the spirited and religious Sicilian princess Nausicaa, who 750 years before Christ saved her father's throne from being usurped, herself from a distasteful marriage and her two young brothers from butchery.

Venture Into Darkness, by Alice Tisdale Hobart, Longsmans:

Mrs. Hobart's powerful novel is about an American business man who comes to grips with Communism in China. It is also a novel of adventure and suspense.

The Curlew's Cry, by Mildred Walker, Harcourt Brace:

The story of three decades in the life of Pamela Lacey and her town, her struggle to reconcile her strong individualism with loneliness.

Burnt Offering, by Francis and Richard Lockridge, Lippincott:

Murder, clever detection and a liberal sprinkling of confusion and humor have gone into this mystery tale.

The Reason Why, by Cecil Woodham-Smith, Constable, London:

The title is taken from Tennyson's poem on the Light Brigade charge at Balaclava. "Someone had blundered," and through scenes in London, Paris, India, Ireland, the Crimea, and personages of the day, the author tells who, how and why.

Princess Charlie, by Jan Laing, Werner Laurie:

A highly romantic novel about Charlotte Stuart, made legitimate as HRH Duchess of Albany, daughter of Charles Edward Stuart (Bonnie Prince Charlie) and Clementina Walkinshaw. An interesting part of the story is the portrait of the father.

Money to Burn, by Elizabeth Cadell, Hodder and Stoughton:

No wonder the three old aunts were odd. Without money to launch themselves into society, they had lived at Trystings all these years, never travelling, never meeting people. The question was, however, what had they done with the money, with the 13,000 pounds collected from the insurance company.

The Winds of Heaven, by Monica Dickens, Michael Joseph:

Louise Bickford, a widow with three daughters, is faced with the insecurity of old age. Finally she finds contentment and a happiness she never dreamed would be hers.

Seek Boost for Canada's Heroes

TORONTO (CP) — Two University of Toronto history professors say Canadian children hear too much about Davy Crockett and other United States frontiersmen and not enough about their own national heroes.

Professors George Brown and Maurice Careless in an interview named 10 swashbuckling Canadians whose derring-do matches or excels that of the famous Crockett of song and story.

They suggested explorers Henry Kelsey, Anthony Henday, Etienne Brule, Robert La Salle, Alexander Mackenzie, David Thompson, Pierre Raddison and Medard Groseilliers, the Indian chief Tecumseh and Adam Dollard who died in the siege of an Ottawa river outpost which saved Montreal in its early days.

INDIAN CHIEFS TOO

For good measure, the professors tossed in the names of explorer Pierre La Verendrye, Indian warrior Joseph Brant and administrator Guy Johnson.

Prof. Brown said that what sets these Canadian heroes apart from Crockett is that they were not professional Indian killers. Except for Dollard, they were trusted friends of the redskins, and, in fact, two men on the list were Indians.

"The idea of making a man a hero because he killed a lot of Indians is purely a romantic myth that has grown up in the U.S.," said Prof. Brown. "I would be sorry to see this outlook in Canada."

U.S. Envoy To Honor Nootka Commander

OTTAWA (CP)—The Legion of Merit medal of the United States will be awarded Tuesday to Capt Alexander Fraser-Harris, commander of the Canadian destroyer Nootka in the Korean area, for "exceptionally meritorious conduct" in 1951.

Presentation will be made at the U. S. embassy here by Ambassador R. Douglas Stuart. Vice-Admiral E. R. Mainguy, chief of naval staff, will attend.

City Should Stop Kidding Itself

. . . F. B. Pearce

Let us stop kidding ourselves. We may have a grand little city and we may be very proud of it, but others look at us with tolerant amusement as a city that is semi-moribund. Other cities, too, have natural beauty, not perhaps as great as ours, but sufficient for them to take pride in. Where they are growing rapidly we are standing still. Our population is much the same as it was 10 years ago and we have been outstripped in size and importance by many cities, notably those of the Okanagan Valley, Kelowna and Penticton. The area adjacent to Nelson has grown, but the city itself has not. Other towns have enlarged their population by enlarging their boundaries, but we have done nothing towards amalgamation with adjacent areas.

NO INDUCEMENT

Much as I admire the mayor personally I must confess to extreme disappointment with his statements at the Fairview Heights meeting. He said nothing which would in any way induce property owners to seek amalgamation. Quite the opposite in fact. He told the meeting that one council could not bind the actions of succeeding councils so that the present one could make no agreement with them. And he only gave them something less than comfort when he said he was prepared to recommend that tax and grant revenues from the area be plowed back into development of its services.

But perhaps the mayor is not right in stating that the present council cannot bind the actions of succeeding ones. Before annexation there will have to be a by-law. This bylaw must receive the assent of the ratepayers and anything they approve must be carried out by succeeding councils. However before such a bylaw is presented it will have to receive careful consideration.

TWO BARGAINING PARTIES

Where there are two parties to a bargain both have to be satisfied. Both the council and the ratepayers should agree to the appointment of an independent engineer who would be instructed to prepare an estimate of the cost of such services as sewers, light and properly constructed roads. With such data before them a joint committee of the council and the property owners of Fairview Heights could meet together and discuss details and arrive at a plan acceptable to both sides. It must be clearly understood that if both parties expect to benefit by amalgamation, both should expect to pay something for it.

The Council, on its side, should undertake to introduce a bylaw to raise sufficient money to install services and construct roads and should give and undertaking that the work should be completed in a certain time, while the property owners should undertake to assess themselves on the basis of so much per foot frontage per year to pay at least part of the interest on the bonds in return for benefits they would not normally receive for many years.

With such a plan, Fairview Heights would become what the quality of its houses demands, the show place of the city and there would be no need for the property owners to wait humbly for their grants and taxes to be plowed back.

Lt.-Col. Brown Fined $500

KINGSTON, Ont (CP)—Lt.-Col. Lindsay Brown, Canadian Army engineer for the eastern Ontario area, was fined $500 after he pleaded guilty at a court martial to improper possession of publicly-owned goods.

In addition, the court sentenced him to loss of two years' seniority. He will continue in his present post.

Col. Brown was formally charged with "conduct prejudicial to good order and military discipline" under a section of the National Defence Act.

LISTS ITEMS

Court prosecutor Capt. J. B. Fay gave a list of items found on Brown's Mallortown farm April 2.

The defending officer, Col R. B. McDougall, said the Crown Assets Corp. assessed the value of the goods at $150. It was previously thought the value was about $5,000.

The items listed by Capt. Fay were: 60 bags of insulation, 19 rolls of toilet paper, two toilets, 450 square feet of maple flooring, 12 small radiators, a quantity of soil drain pipe, an 80-gallon water tank, a 40-gallon water tank, an electric pump and several electric motors.

Defence counsel said the items were scrap and "junk" which had been discarded by the army.

Good Color Scheme, Flavor, Enhance Salad

By ALICE DENHOFF

The sun is shining, the birds are singing, the garden grows green. So let's concentrate on salads, all with a pretty look and a good flavor to the dressing.

For a charming touch of color, serve a red cabbage salad with orange sections.

Remove the centre of a head of red cabbage with a sharp knife and shred to make 4 cups. Just before serving, tosslightly but thoroughly with Pink Dither Dressing. Pile salad in centre of scooped-out cabbage head and surround cabbage with orange sections.

To prepare the dressing, combine ¾ cup cottage cheese with 6 tablespoons lemon juice, mashing the cottage cheese as fine as possible. Press excess liquid from 2 tablespoons beet-colored horseradish (if white is used, add few drops red food coloring). Add dash of salt and stir dressing well to blend colors and flavors.

LEMON FRENCH DRESSING

Lemon French Dressing goes well with tossed green salad.

To make it, add one cut clove to ½ cup lemon juice and let stand 20 minutes. Strain.

Combine teaspoon each salt and paprika and tablespoon sugar in jar or large bottle. Add lemon juice and ½ cup salad oil. Cover closely and shake vigorously or beat in bowl with rotary egg beater. This makes 1 cup dressing.

Cucumber and romaine lettuce with Roquefort cheese is a favorite salad with patrons of a famous restaurant.

SLICE CUCUMBERS

Run tines of a fork along 3 medium-sized cucumbers from end to end, then slice very thin. Arrange layers of cucumbers, then layers of very thinly sliced radishes, alternately on leaves of romaine spread with Roquefort cheese, pressing gently but firmly. Chill.

To serve, slice the romaine, thus stuffed, half an inch thick, and arrange on individual salad plates covered with crisp, young watercress. Sprinkle with parsley and paprika.

INDIAN DRESSING

With this, serve the following Indian Dressing.

To make it, force yolks of 2 hard-cooked eggs through a fine sieve, adding a pinch of salt, teaspoon powdered sugar, dash of paprika, few grains each of cayenne and white pepper, tablespoon starined lemon juice, 2 tablespoons tarragon vinegar and generous ½ cup olive oil. Shake well.

Add tablespoon each finely chopped red pimiento, green pepper and pickled beets, scant teaspoon finely chopped parsley and generous tablespoon finely chopped walnut meats.

COLOMBO, Ceylon (CP) — Three hundred tons of rice sent as a gift by the government of Pakistan to the Maldive islands was turned over to a Maldives government representative here. The Maldives, a British protected state, are 400 miles southwest of Ceylon.

Results Amaze Upholstery Class

PROCTER — A group of homemakers descended upon the basement of the United Church in Procter for "operation upholstery" when the home rejuvenation class under Miss Eileen Cross of the department of extension in Victoria was launched.

The class was sponsored by the PTA and aided by a donation of $15 from the Procter Recreation Commission. Arrangements were in the hands of Mrs. J. Persello.

The workers brought chairs with tired springs, scratched pieces of furniture, bare butter boxes and material, and five busy evenings followed. Four electric sewing machines were loaned and Miss Cross demonstrated how to sew piping into plastic seats and fabric slip covers. She had pictures of former projects in which amazing results are evident and apparently worthless articles of furniture have been restored to years of use. She explained how to repair spring filled cushions by untangling the springs and fitting them into cotton pockets. When the springs are replaced the cushion looks and feels as it did when it was new. The women felt this feature alone was worth the $3 fee, for it is a problem that occurs in nearly every home at some time.

TIME FLIES

The week flew by too quickly with two extra afternoons contributed by the friendly, efficient teacher to take care of all the projects undertaken and the last day the accomplishments were on view to the public. A round hassock fashioned from a cheese box, square ones with hinged lids made from the butter boxes, footstools and a couch were all done in plastic leatherette, but the greatest metamorphosis was in an ornate settee of almost antique vintage in quilted plus with sagging springs that emerged as a smart *modern seat covered in green plas*tic. It was stripped down, the springs retied and restrapped, new padding and excelsior added, the back sawn off straight and finally the leatherette tacked on. It became an addition to the instructor's collection of "before and after" pictures.

A piano bench, a coffee table, and the woodwork on two living room chairs underwent the remover, stain, and shellac treatment to stand at last shining like new. The chairs were fitted with new upholstery and proudly displayed by their owners. Still another undertaking was a slip cover for a chesterfield chair.

It is hoped that Miss Cross will be back to teach dressmaking when her itinerary brings her this way again.

PROCTER MAN CELEBRATES 85TH BIRTHDAY

PROCTER — Gifts, cards and letters with good wishes marked the 85th birthday of William Garner sr. of Procter. His wife was 82 in March and this July will be the 62nd anniversary of their wedding.

Mr. Garner retired from his work as an upholsterer with the Canadian Pacific Railway for 29 years, and moved here from Edmonton in 1946. His property ajoins that of his artist son, Alec. Two other sons, William jr. and Horace, and a daughter Mrs. A. Hillyer, live in Edmonton and attended the diamond wedding anniversary celebrations here two years ago.

Mr. Garner enjoys good health and has a remarkable memory. Reading is his bad weather pastime, but gardening is chief hobby and his landscaped property is beautiful. Velvety lawns, flowers, rockeries and lily pools are only rivalled by a splendid vegetable garden that boasts outstanding asparagus and celery as well as commoner vegetables. He helps his wife with the housework in their charming home, attends the United Church, and does the marketing at the village store.

CGIT Have Part In Kaslo Tea

KASLO — The Young Women's service club of St. Andrew's United Church held a successful tea and bake sale in the church hall, with the president, Miss Iris Clarke as general convener.

In charge of the sewing table were Mrs. E. H. Morphet, Mrs. H. Allison and Mrs. R. E. Green. At the bake table were Mrs. H. J. McIntyre, Mrs. O. Anderson and Mrs. D. Roszell. Mrs. A. W. Bavington had charge of a miscellaneous table. Refreshments, including tea table service, were in charge of Mrs. O. Ofner, Mrs. E. M. Allen, Mrs. G. M. Lanterman, Mrs. A. R. MacLanders, Mrs. H. F. Perkins and Miss Iris Clarke.

The CGIT were also well patronized. On their table were some well knitted articles as well as useful miscellaneous items to be sent to Korea. This group of young girls, under Mrs. H. K. Johnston, are doing very good work both for the church locally and assisting in other missions. Enrolled as members are Ruth Shimizer as president, vice-president Janett Heide, secretary Irene Sasaki, treasurer Evelyn Kennette, and Mary Davidson, Bernice Heide, Nora Sasaki, Isobelle Command and Gail Shuto.

Big Year Ahead of Silverton Sport

SILVERTON — This season will be an important one for sport in Silverton, it appears from a meeting of the Community Club in Municipal hall which drew an excellent attendance.

W. G. Thring of New Denver and Barry Morrison were welcomed by the chairman, R. Peachey as delegates of the Denver-Silverton Baseball Club. A donation of $25 was voted this club to help it start the season. Mr. Thring thanked the members and spoke of the merits of the club.

A women's softball team and a baseball coach for the junior boys received discussion. R. Harding, M. Wright and Mrs. R. T. Avison were appointed as a committee to drew up plans of the baseball park and arrange where a suitable baseball diamond could be, and where a safe place could be found for small children's playground. The chairman announced that the swings would be in operation by the end of the month. He said he would like to see a small outside kitchen for the convenience of people from outside points.

WI OFFERS HELP

Mrs. E. Mathews, delegate for the Women's Institute, spoke on park improvements, stating the Institute was willing to help and suggested another grandstand be erected. An estimate of the cost was given her. She was thanked by the chairman and a letter of thanks was to be sent the Institute members for their assistance.

The sum of $73 has been collected to date from the membership drive. The canvassers were thanked in appreciation of their work.

B. Morrison discussed the use of the Memorial hall for gymnastics and basketball. He asked if delegates may be appointed to approach the Village Commissioners for the use of the hall. The chairman approved this suggestion and a lively discussion ensued. J. Fairhurst, Social Convener and R. Peachey chairman, were appointed as delegates.

J. Fairhurst asked for suggestions on entertainment, or a drive for funds. It was decided to hold a rummage sale Wednesday.

W. H. Johnston, sports chairman, was asked to examine all sports equipment to see what was needed, for softball and junior baseball. He was authorized to spend up to $25 per team.

M. Wright reported he had been unable to make an examination of the skating rink due to ice, but he would attend to this matter as soon as conditions improved.

The chairman stressed the fact that the skating rink was the No. 1 project and must be concentrated on. He hoped to see new dressing rooms built.

Welfare Council Needs Workers

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—The problem of obtaining enough trained personnel to staff social agencies across Canada was discussed at the closing session of the 35th annual meeting of the Canadian Welfare Council Saturday.

Government social assistance last year placed $80,000,000 in the hands of consumers, which helped keep the country's total income at a high level.

Charles Schottland, United States commissioner for social security, said social welfare benefits are not intended to take away a person's desire to better his conditions, but rather to relieve him of the fear of being made destitute by an unforeseen accident or conditions beyond his control.

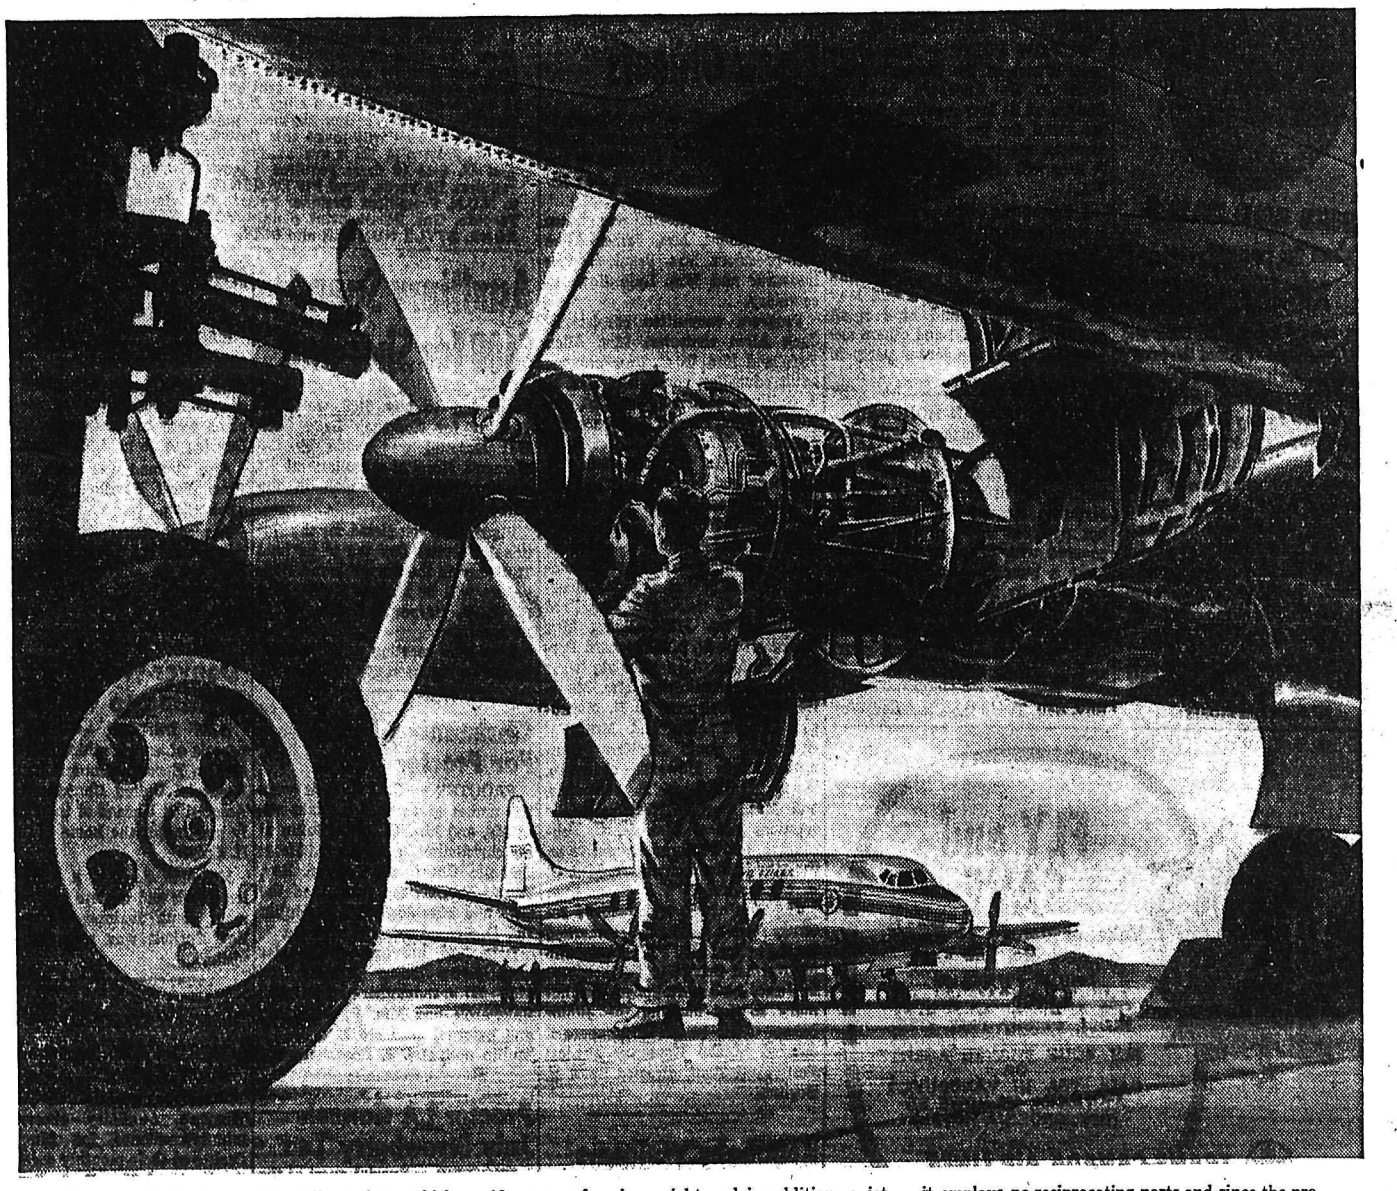
What's news at Inco?



The four Rolls-Royce "Dart" engines which power each Vickers-Armstrongs Viscount develop a total of 5600 hp.—approximately 1 hp. for every 10 ounces of engine weight and in addition, a jet thrust of 1460 lbs. is developed from the exhaust gases. Since the "Dart" is a turbine propeller engine, it employs no reciprocating parts and since the propellers operate at relatively low speeds, unusually quiet operation is achieved.

INCO NICKEL STANDS UP TO A HOT JOB IN THE NEW VISCOUNT AEROPLANE

HEAT WAS THE BIG PROBLEM that confronted the engineers who designed and built the Rolls-Royce "Dart" engine for the Vickers-Armstrongs Viscounts which TCA has put into regular service.

In developing its smooth flow of power, this gas turbine propeller engine also develops terrific heat. A number of parts must operate at cherry red heat.

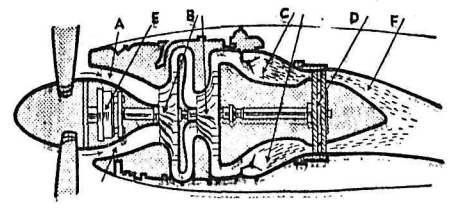
At this temperature some alloys wear away rapidly. Others do not have enough strength to withstand operating stresses and prevent buckling, warping or cracking.

Nickel, however, has heat-resisting properties and when combined with other metals makes special alloys which can withstand these devastating conditions.

Some of these alloys, employed in the "Dart" engine, contain as much as 68% nickel.

Inco research engineers have co-operated with engine designers in the development of heat-resisting alloys—as they are ready to co-operate with design engineers in any industry where special metals are required to meet unusual conditions.

How the Rolls-Royce "Dart" Engine Operates



Air enters the engine at high speeds through intakes (A) behind the propeller, and is compressed by a two-stage compressor (B). In the combustion chamber (C), the compressed air is mixed with fuel and ignited. The heated gases drive a turbine (D) which is connected through a reduction gear (E) with the propeller. At the exhaust (F), escaping gases deliver an additional jet thrust.

Write for your free copy of the 72-page illustrated booklet, "The Romance of Nickel". Bulk copies will be supplied to secondary school teachers on request.

Shoemaker on Swaps Wins Kentucky Derby

By JOHN CHANDLER

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Swaps, a chestnut speedball owned by a former Arizona cowpuncher, fought off the challenge of favored Nashua to win the 81st running of the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs Saturday.

The second California-bred horse to capture the classic for three-year-old, Swaps took the lead soon after the start of the 1¼-mile run and held on in a stretch dash to cross the finish line 1½ lengths ahead of Nashua.

The winner, ridden by champion jockey Willie Shoemaker, earned $108,400 of the Derby record $152,500 for Rex Ellsworth, California's leading thoroughbred owner.

Nashua, from the Belair Stud of William Woodward Jr. of New York and ridden by the renowned Eddie Arcaro, came through with his usual strong finish but didn't have enough to overtake the speedy Swaps.

Mrs. John W. Galbreath's well-regarded Summer Tan finished third, 6½ lengths behind Nashua. Four more lengths back was Racing Fool, from the Cain Hoy Stable.

The clockers caught Swaps, son of the imported Khaled out of Iron Reward, in a flashy two minutes, 1 4-5 seconds, only two fifths of a second slower than the track and Derby record set by Whirlaway in 1941.

Swaps paid $7.60, $3.40 and $2.60. Backers of Nashua — the 1954 champion two-year-old who hadn't been defeated this year in four starts—groaned.

Nashua had been made the 6-to-5 favorite, and his price was $3 and $2.50. Summer Tan, off at 9-to-2, paid $3.

Queens Win Bowling Crown

The Queens emerged winners of the city mixed five pin bowling championship when they captured the 14-team event by a single pin Friday.

The Queens, with Mary Ross bowling sensationally, rolled up a total of 3708, but were given a battle by the Porteous team and the Rusty Five, who finshed second and third with scores of 3707 and 3700.

Mary Ross captured the women's high single with 293 while Lena Koehle took the aggregate with 679. Bruce Malcolm took the men's single with a 330 and Carl Locatelli the aggregate with 722.

Members of the winning team and their scores were Mary Ross 648, Bea Mills 581, Mickey Maglio 616 and Harold Mayo and Bob MacDonald with 597.

Bowlers scoring 700 aggregates were Bruce Malcolm 713, Art Bouchard 705, Elio Zuccolo 702. Scoring 600's were Mary Ross 648, Mickey Maglio 616, Art Koravaar 661, Isabell Locatelli 632, Jerry Tilbury 610, Bill Lunn 604, Dot Waterer 617 and Gordon Rain 660. This is Gordon Rain's first year of bowling and according to Carl Locatelli he will be heard a great deal from in the future.

Newcastle Takes Football Cup

LONDON (CP) — Underdog Newcastle United defeated injury-short Manchester City 3-1 Saturday to win the Football Association Cup for the third time in five years.

Newcastle, which had to win four replays of tie games on its way to the final before 100,000 fans at Wembley Stadium, came through with two goals in the second half after Manchester had tied the score 1-1 in the first half.

It was the sixth cup victory for Newcastle, matching the record held by Blackburn Rovers and Aston Villa.

Moore Charged With Non-Support of Son

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) —Light heavyweight champion Archie Moore was arrested Saturday on a charge of non-support of his son, Archie Moore Jr., a child by his former wife.

Moore, who is scheduled to defend his boxing title against Bobo Olson, middleweight champ, in New York's Polo Grounds June 22, was booked at county jail on a complaint signed by his ex-wife, Elizabeth Smith. He was released after posting $500 bond pending a hearing Wednesday.

West Kootenay Spiel in January To Celebrate 60 Years Curling

Nelson will celebrate its diamond jubilee of curling in January when the initial bonspiel sponsored by the West Kootenay Curling Zone Association takes place.

The event to be staged January 19-22 will be open to curlers the world over and as an added feature will see a competition for the old timers, who must be over 60 years of age, with the rink of four members totalling 250 years.

Although Nelson will host the spiel, representatives from clubs throughout the zone will aid in making it an affair the zone will be proud of.

These facts were disclosed Sunday afternoon when representatives from Trail, Rossland, Emerald mine and Nelson met at the Hume Hotel with president H. (Fritz) Farenholtz in the chair. This was the first meeting of the newly-organized association since its formation April 3, in Trail.

The bonspiel is hoped to be run in a manner which will provide curlers with at least six games, as it was decided to have that many competitions. It was pointed out that in the past few years curlers have been deprived of games after travelling many miles to attend.

GIANT BANQUET

In an effort to build up fraternization, it is hoped to hold a mammoth banquet where guest speakers will be old time curlers who can reminisce about the old days. From this the present day curlers will be enlightened as to the importance of the game in building up comradeship and good sportsmanship.

Mr. Farenholtz told the meeting that since formation, some had been perturbed, thinking the association was formed in an effort to divorce themselves from the B. C. Curling Association. The president stated this was not so and the curlers would continue to carry on as they alwways have with the B. C. body.

The main reason for the zone formation was to bring back to curlers in this area at least one major bonspiel each year, said Mr. Farenholtz. In the past, the B. C. bonspiel was spread over such a large area that there were years between large spiels here. The new setup will also give more curlers a chance to compete due to the shorter travelling time.

It was moved that clubs other than those with artificial ice would pay a fee of $5 on entering the association. Nelson, Rossland and Trail, the three larger clubs and those with artificial ice would pay $20. The money will be used for the running of the zone business.

Perry Landucci of Trail, chairman of the trophies committee, reported new trophies would be procured for the bonspiel, which will be held annually. All trophies used years ago, when this area originated the B. C. bonspiel are to be retired. Walter Wait suggested they be placed in the arenas of Rossland, Trail and Nelson or the home of the sponsors.

It was pointed out the bonspiel would be a tuneup for many rinks as the zone playdowns would be held in Nelson possibly the last weekend in January.

At the conclusion of business of the West Kootenay Zone the same body met with A. B. Gilker, secretary of the B. C. Curling Association, to discuss problems pertaining to the zone which will arise next Saturday when the association holds a special meeting in Penticton.

The main items of contention expected will likely deal with the revising of the constitution, the B. C. playdowns and High School Curling.

In regards to the constitution the meeting felt there was not too much wrong with it as it stood and instructed the delegates they didn't mind several items being deleted from the constitution as long as they were left in or written into the bylaws.

The Trail representative presented proposed amendments to the playdowns which they will present at the meeting. All representatives agreed to them but it was stated they were not hardbound but rather their slant on the matter in order to give all rinks a fair chance.

Under these, entry in the annual bonspiel would be compulsory. This would eliminate rinks playing only in the B. C. playdowns, and paying for just the one competition. Several of the rinks in the annual spiel should be allowed to win their way to the zone playoff, and play in the championship round would be a straight double knockout affair.

All were in agreement with the rules of play, but disagreed with the idea of the 16 rinks entered paying a fee of $20 to go toward aiding the winning rink to carry on to the Dominion finals.

It was felt by the members that the association itself should defer expenses of the winning rink. It was pointed out they gave the high school rink $1000 this spring and if they could afford to do it for junior curlers they should be able to do it for the seniors.

The question of high school curling and who will sponsor them will also be discussed at Penticton.

Rossland Tennis Officers Returned

ROSSLAND — At the annual meeting of the Rossland Tennis Club, E. T. Haley, president, Mrs. Jean Orr, secretary and Norman Gallie, treasurer were returned to office by acclamation. H. Godderis was appointed chairman of the grounds committee; Gordon Hood, tournament chairman, and Mrs. Jean Orr, social convener.

It was reported that last year 36 juniors were coached in 12 sessions by Mr. Haley, B. T. Coon and G. Taylor. Plans were made to hold the tennis lesson sessions again this year.

A junior tournament for the various age groups, will be held early in June. Junior fees will this year be halved to $2.00, and junior beginner's fees will remain at 50 cents.

Inter-city tournaments involving clubs from Nelson, Tadanac, Trail and Rossland were revived last year, very successfully, and the Rossland Tennis Club expects to participate in a similar set-up this season.

The club plans for its major project this year, new fencing on one side of the courts. With a work party called to clean up the courts this week, play will get underway immediately.

HALL OF FAME GREATS CHEERED

BOSTON (AP) — Baseball took a backward loog Saturday as its famous names, from 88-year-old Denton (Cy) Young to Joe Dimaggio, the ex-Yankee clipper who is a mere 40, paraded before Fenway Park fans in Hall of Fame Day ceremonies.

Introductions of 17 hall of fame players preceded the Boston Red Sox-New York game.

Clark Griffith, president of the Washington Senators at 85, Dimaggio, out of baseball only since 1951, and Jimmy Foxx, old "Double X," received the biggest ovations from the gathering.

Brooks Hold 9-Game Lead; Tribe Leads Yanks by Two

By The Associated Press

Brooklyn's unstoppable Dodgers racked up their 10th consecutive victory for the second time this season Sunday with a 9-8 triumph over the fading Philadelphia Phillies that kept the Brooks nine games in front of the National League field.

Cleveland's Indians made it nine of their last 10 with a sweep of their doubleheader from Kansas City 9-6 and 2-1 to open up a two-game bulge on the New York Yankees and Chicago White Sox in the American League.

The Yankees and White Sox also turned in victories, New York vanquished Willard Nixon, an old nemesis, in shutting out the Boston Red Sox 5-0. The White Sox took a pair of squeakers from Detroit 5-4 and 1-0 to plunge the Tigers from the top perch into fourth place. In another American League twin bill, Baltimore and Washington split, the Orioles winning the opener 4-3 and the Senators running off with the nightcap 15-7.

Milwaukee moved into second place with a 6-2 victory over St. Louis for a sweep of the three-game series with the Cards. The New York Giants were hard pressed to gain a split with Pittsburgh, copping the finale 6-3 after the Pirates had won the opener 7-5.

DIVIDE TWIN BILL

Chicago and Cincinnati divided a doubleheader, the Cubs taking the opener 5-3 and the Redlegs coming back to win the nightcap 4-3.

Duke Snider's grand slam home run off Bob Miller in the seventh inning gave the Dodgers their 21st triumph in 23 starts this season.

The Phils, trailing 9-2 as they came to bat in the seventh, scored four times and added two more in the eighth but fell one run short as they dropped their ninth straight and remained in the basement.

Al Smith hit three home runs and Al Rosen and Dave Pope one apiece in the Indians' two victories over Kansas City. Rosen won the nightcap with his fifth homer in the 11th inning.

Bob Grim hurled the Yankee shutout over Boston but needed help from Jim Konstanty after issuing two walks in the ninth. Hank Bauer and Joe Collins homered off Nixon who had beaten the Yankees six straight times over a two-year span.

TWO-RUN HOMER

Nellie Fox singled in the winning run in the 11th for the White Sox after they had tied the score at 4-4 in the ninth on pinch hitter Ron Jackson's two-run homer. Fox also accounted for the lone run in the second game as Dick Donovan hurled a nine-hit shutout. Little Nellie tripled and came home on a single by Minnie Minoso.

A triple by pinch hitter Eddie Waitkus drove in the tying and winning runs for Baltimore in the ninth of the opener. Tom Umphlett, with a home run and three singles, and Jesse Levan, with a three-run pinch homer, paced the Senators' second game attack on seven Baltimore pitchers.

169TH VICTORY

Warren Spahn pitched his 169th victory, his 37th against the Cardinals as Ed Mathews helped him with a two-run homer and a fourth-inning single that started a three-run explosion against loser Harvey Haddix.

Jerry Lynch batted in three runs with two singles and his first home run of the season to lead the Pirates to their first game victory over the Giants. Willie Mays' four hits including his fourth homer, Sal Maglie's airtight relief pitching won the second game for the Giants. Don Mueller collected two hits in the opener and three more in the second game to extend his hitting streak through 21 consecutive games.

Home runs were the decisive blows in the Cubs-Reds twin bill. Four-baggers by Chicago's Randy Jackson and rookie Bob Speake proved the difference in the first game. Catcher Hobie Landrith's ninth inning homer, his second of the game, won the second game for Cincinnati.

The spring spurt of Pittsburgh Pirates, one of the surprises of the National League season, ended Saturday when New York Giants broke their six-game winning streak with an 11-3 victory at the Polo Grounds.

Don Mueller stretched his consecutive-game hitting streak to 19 with four successive hits for the Giants to back up Jim Hearn's seven-hit pitching effort.

At Cincinnati, Bob Thurman came through with a three-run homer in the eighth as a pinch hitter for the Redlegs' 8-7 margin over Chicago Cubs.

Brooklyn defeated Philadelphia at Connie Mack Stadium 6-3 with Robin Roberts the loser and Roy Campanella leading the Dodgers' 13-hit barrage with three doubles. Carl Erskine, winning his fifth for the Dodgers, gave up seven hits, including two homers to Willie Jones.

Bill Bruton, Joe Adcocks and Hank Aaron hit homers as Milwaukee defeated St. Louis 9-7. Stan Musial and Wally Moon each hit two-run homers in the seventh for the Cards.

In the American League, pitcher Early Wynn helped himself with a two-run double in Cleveland's 9-3 win over Kansas City. The Indians knocked out Athletics' starter Bobby Shantz in the fourth inning.

Steve Gromek held Chicago White Sox to five hits while Detroit's Harvey Kuenn and Al Kaline contributed four hits apiece for a 7-1 Tiger win.

Yogi Berra's three-run double in the ninth gave New York Yankees a 9-6 comeback victory over Boston Red Sox. The Yankees trailed 5-0 at one time. Elston Howard, taking over left field for the Yankees, came through with four hits, including his first major league homer.

At Washington, Jim Wilson held the Senators to five hits while Hoot Evers' homer highlighted the Orioles' 13-hit attack as Baltimore won 5-1, handing Johnny Schmitz his first defeat after three wins.

ICC Congress in Japan to Bring Together World's Business Men

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

MONTREAL (CP)—More than 50 Canadians leave for Tokyo next week to attend the world's premier business gathering — the congress of the International Chamber of Commerce.

They will be part of a gathering of some 1,000 business people from more than 30 countries who in a week of sessions—May 15-21 — will try to establish policies and practices which will smooth the operations of international commerce.

HAVE INFLUENCE

The Congress has no power of legislation but its delegates, as responsible members of their various world communities, have the right to recommend and to be listened to. And among themselves they have the power, if they have the will, to iron out many disrupting practices in day-to-day international dealings.

No country is banned from membership but in practice membership is from non-Communist countries. As one delegate put it:

"The chamber believes in free enterprise, which is not yet a part of Communist doctrine."

The international chamber was formed in 1919 and has met every two years since, except for war periods. The Tokyo meeting will be its 15th. Recent congresses were held in Vienna in 1953, Lisbon in 1951 and Quebec in 1949, the only congress so far held in Canada.

B. C. Berkinshaw, Toronto industrialist, is president of the Canadian council of the international chamber, and Carl Bergithon is general manager with headquarters in Montreal.

PLAN BIG DELEGATION

Canadian delegation to Tokyo, headed by Mr. Berkinshaw, will be the largest to attend any congress to date.

Delegates will start arriving in Vancouver this week and will leave together by Canadian Pacific Air Lines May 11.

Commenting on the conference theme, Mr. Berkinshaw said Canada, as a trading nation, is vitally concerned in Asia's development and must take cognizance of Asia's problems in the expansion of that continent's world trade and intra-Asian trade.

Mr. Berkinshaw will be chairman of the congress meeting on "freer trade for world prosperity." Other Canadian activities will include:

Herbert H. Lank, Montreal, chairman of a meeting on "International Protection of Industrial Property;" G. C. Hammond, Montreal, chairman of a meeting on "Fair Competition;" Thomas Oakley, Toronto, co-chairman of one on "Distribution Statistics;" and John Jay Hopkins, of Montreal and New York, co-chairman of one on "Air Transport."

LEAD, ZINC STOCKPILING TO CONTINUE

NEW YORK (AP)—The U. S. government indicated last week that stockpiling of lead and zinc may continue through the rest of this year and all of 1956.

The industry took the news quietly: Lead and zinc producers had been counting on an extension of the program past the end of the present fiscal year, June 30. They acknowledged that the stockpiling program has been a major factor in pushing lead and zinc prices up and keeping them there.

Lead was firm last week at 15 cents a pound, New York, and zinc dealings were described as satisfactory at 12 cents, East St. Louis.

Major metals prices:

Copper — 36 cents a pound, delivered. Foreign 36-38.25 cents, nominal, New York.

Lead—15 cents a pound New York; 14.80 cents, St. Louis.

Zinc — 12 cents a pound, East St. Louis; 12.50 cents, New York.

Silver — 87 cents an ounce, New York; 75.50 pence, London.

Brighter Outlook For Sask. Ranchers

SASKATOON (CP)—Reports of heavy livestock losses due to flooding in the Meadow Lake area, 175 miles northwest of Saskatoon, were discounted Saturday in reports reaching here.

Earlier, it had been reported that as many as 500 cattle were dead or dying from starvation and exposure as farmers were unable to care for their herds because of heavy spring rains which made roads impassable.

However, a Sasatoon Star-Phoenix correspondent reported that only a few head of cattle and some newborn calves had died of exposure. None died of drowning.

Three days of sunshine had brought out uplands grass and "things are looking up for the ranchers."

To Discuss Fund Use

NEW DELHI (AP)—Nine Asian countries and Britain will meet at Simla May 9 for a six-day discussion of foreign aid, India's finance ministry announces. The meeting place is the old summer capital of British India. An Indian delegate said the chief topic will be the use of the expanded American regional dollar fund.

Duke Admires Service's Poems

LONDON (CP) — The Duke of Edinburgh admires Canadian prospectors and can back it up with suitable passages from Yukon poet Robert Service.

"I am quite sure that it is a much more rewarding experience than an 8:30 (train) and an office desk," the duke told the annual dinner of the Institution of Mining and Metallurgy.

Then he quoted extensively from Service's poems, including "The Cremation of Sam McGee."

All that he knew of mining engineers, geologists and prospectors before going on his Canadian and Australian tours was based on Service, the duke said. As a result of his first-hand investigations, he had the greatest admiration for anyone who went prospecting.

Sportsmen Leave Dollars in B. C.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Tourists' dollars are an important part of British Columbia's economy.

Two of the province's most important groups of tourists are fishermen and hunters.

Fish and game administrators, reluctant until recently to assess their attractions in terms of dollars and cents, now have been provided with figures by tourist boosters to help sell their products.

The tourist organizations have estimated between $20,000,000 and $30,000,000 as the annual expenditure by sight-seeing sportsmen in British Columbia.

The Provincial Game Department is also conducting a survey to find out how many dollars are spent by hunters annually in B. C. and the Fisheries Department is trying to estimate how much angling is worth in tourist dollars.

Dr. James Hatter, the province's chief game biologist, recently prepared some figures for a provincial game convention. They already have proved too conservative, he says.

COST OUTLINED

The average hunter spends $70 a year. For transportation alone the hunters spend a total of more than $1,600,000; for guns and ammunition, $2,165,000; food and lodging, $900,000; guides and packers, $100,000; clothing and miscellaneous equipment, more than $1,000,000.

Total revenue from all wildlife resources, not including angling, comes to nearly $8,000,000 in an average year.

The preliminary survey on fishing has produced a figure of 6,000,000 to 8,000,000 fish as the total fresh water catch in a year in B. C. Some economists say the average cost of a fish to an angler is about $5. This provides a total expenditure of about $40,000,000 annually.

Use of Sugar Ranges From Edible Detergents to High Quality Beef

By WARREN BENNETT

NEW YORK (AP)—Sugar is the base of a whole new family of chemical processes which may bring about a revolution in modern living, says Dr. Henry B. Hass, president of the Sugar Research Foundation.

The chemical developments range from edible detergents to cheaper eggs and higher quality beef, he told the annual meeting Thursday of leaders of the cane and beet sugar industries supplying the United States market.

"This is the dawn of the age of sucrochemistry," he said. "There can no longer be any serious doubt there will soon be an important organic chemical industry based upon sugar and its byproducts."

He said a new family of detergents will be available, possibly by early fall, for commercial production. They will, it now appears, be non-irritating to the skin, unaffected by hardness of water, and low in cost compared with present detergents used in the home.

More than 150 companies are actively investigating the new sucrose esters from which the detergents are made. Among products and processes wrich may make use of this much more efficient emulsifier are shampoos, tooth pastes, chocolate beverages, salad dressings, dehydrated foods, cosmetics, secondary oil recovery from oil wells, livestock feeds and poultry rations.

MAY HELP AGED

As a pure food, the new sucrose esters may be of major assistance in helping premature babies and the aged to digest fat, Dr. Hass said.

"When advancing age causes a decrease in the quantity of emulsifying agent furnished by the liver, a disastrous chain of cause and effect is started," he said. "Fats remain in the system and fat-splitting enzymes present convert them into indigestible calcium soaps. As a result the aged have weak, fragile bones which break easily and heal slowly or not at all.

"Medical research, using laboratory animals, indicates this whole ailment can be avoided or cured by substituting an efficient emulsifying agent in the diet for the one in short supply in liver's bile."

Dr. Hass said this research on animals already has been successfully completed at the University of Western Ontario, London, under direction of Prof. David Alan Turner. It will be extended to humans under a grant from the sugar foundation.

Canadian Ships To Serve Alaska Ports

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Saturday signed a bill permitting Canadian ships to continue providing passenger and cargo service between ports in southeastern Alaska and also between certain Alaska ports and the continental United States.

The measure extends until June 30, 1956, waiver of a law requiring that United States ships be used to transport passengers and merchandise between U. S. ports.

Prominent Briton Visiting Canada

MONTREAL (CP) — Sir Gilbert Laithwaite, Britain's permanent undersecretary of state for Commonwealth relations, arrived from London Saturday for his first visit to Canada.

It is something of a precedent because the permanent head of a government department — often a more influential figure than the minister —seldom gets away from routine to make a trip unconnected with some particular conference or mission.

Listed on his itinerary are Montreal, Vancouver, Victoria, Banff, Winipeg, Toronto, Quebec, Ottawa and Halifax.

"Actually I have no official business on my itinerary," he said. "The tour is designed merely to acquaint myself with Canada and its leading citizens to gain a mutual understanding."

Sir Gilbert left Saturday night for western Canada.

130 Boys To Pitch Tents at Camp Busk for Second Boy Scout Camporee

Scouts from Nelson and district will enjoy their first outing of the year May 14 and 15 when they pitch their tents at Camp Busk for their second annual Camporee.

Approximately 130 boys from as far as Nakusp, Riondel, and Salmo will gather for the two-day camp, which will be directed by Camp Leader William McClay, former First Riondel Troop Scoutmaster. Assisting him will be District Commissioner Don Ure and Assistant District Commissioner E. K. Evans of Nelson.

Each troop will come to the West Arm camp fully equipped with tent, cooking utensils, food, sleeping bag, and full Scout uniform and equipment. Each will set up their own camping site.

A treasure hunt, scouting instruction, games, camp fire with different troops presenting skits, inspections and regular Scout duties will be part of the program.

Catholic and Protestant church services will be held Sunday and have been arranged with the clergy.

Individual prizes will be presented to the troop which attains the highest standard of proficiency. Presentation will be made by Association President J. J. McEwen the last day of camp.

Special guests at the Camporee will be Nakusp, Slocan City and Riondel troops who are outside Nelson District Boy Scout Association area.

Troops from the association attending will be First Granite Road, First Bonnington-South Slocan, First Willow Point, First Emerald, First Salmo, First Kaslo, Third Nelson, Fairview; Fourth Nelson, Baptist Church; Fifth Nelson and Sixth Nelson.

An advance party will stake out the Camp Busk grounds for the troops on Sunday. In the group will be Robert Percival, Irwin Hobden, William Ramsden, William McClay and Don Ure.

Manson Fines 10 Paper Firms Total Of $58,000 on Conspiracy Charges

VANCOUVER (CP) — Ten paper firms, convicted of conspiracy, today were fined a total of $58,000 by Mr. Justice A. M. Manson in the British Columbia Supreme Court.

It was charged that they had conspired to unduly prevent and lessen competition in the manufacture and sale of coarse paper.

Crown-Zellerbach (Canada) Ltd., was fined $8000; Westminster Paper Co. Ltd. $8000; Smith, Davidson and Lecky, Ltd., $8000; Bartran Paper Products, Ltd., $7000; J. C. Wilson Ltd., $7000; Columbia Paper Co. Ltd., $5000; Norfolk Paper Co. Ltd., $4000; Kelly Douglas Ltd., $4000; Vancouver Pacific Paper Co. Ltd., $4000, and W. H. Malkin Co. Ltd., $3000.

In addition, the defendant companies were ordered to pay costs in proportionate amounts.

Gordon S. Wismer, who conducted the prosecution with Lorne H. Jackson, applied for an injunction to restrain the defendants from repeating the practices for which "they have been condemned."

17-YEAR PERIOD

Mr. Justice Manson commented that the charge covered a period of 17 years and it was hard to realize why the circumstances of the conspiracy did not come to the attention of the authorities earlier. He thought the delay was unfair to the accused. They were not profiteers, but were doing their utmost to expand their business and keep pace with the progress of the province.

They overstepped the line set by Parliament, he said. Some of the accused "did little more than ride along because they had little choice to do otherwise."

He said Parliament frowns on conspiracies to unduly prevent and lessen competition. He pointed out that the maximum fine of $10,000 is no longer the law and that there is no limit to the fine the court might impose.

The chief offenders, he said, were the mills and manufacturers.

Principal costs were assessed against Crown Zellerbach and Bartram Paper Products who pleaded not guilty.

No estimate of the costs was available.

Dumbells Make Vets Look Back in Toronto

TORONTO (CP) — Six men turned a bare stage into a flashback of the First World War and the entertainment of that era last week.

They were from the world-famous Dumbells troupe of the Canadian Army Show and the audience which packed Massey Hall rocked with laughter and at other times was nostalgically silent.

Accompanied by Jack Ayre, who composed many of tre Dumbells' original songs, the audience, many of them First World War veterans, filled the air with songs such as "Take Me Back to Dear Old Blighty" and "Pack Up Your Troubles."

WILD OVATIONS

The ovation greeted the six as they marched out in old tin hats and khaki mufflers singing the troupe's "Dumbell Rag."

But the audience awaited tre arrival of "Marjorie," played by Ross Hamilton, who sang in the clear voice of a graceful woman as he had in shows to front-line troops in the First World War.

The six were reunited Friday night to commemorate the 40th anniversary of the Dumbells' Regiment, the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, and its founder, Brig. A. Hamilton Gault of Montreal.

Spokane Students To Visit Nelson In Exchange Plan

Two Spokane Valley students will visit Nelson May 16 to 20 in an exchange plan sponsored by Kiwanis Clubs.

Decision to participate in the plan was made by Nelson Kiwanis Club Thursday night. D. E. Hunter, inter-club chairman, said that the Spokane Valley Club of Opportunity, Wash., sponsored such an exchange annually and this year had invited Nelson to take part. Under the plan, two Nelson High School students would visit Spokane Valley.

Mr. Hunter said the two Nelson students would be selected next week during Nelson High School parliament's session. Students in each case will visit the high schools, and be shown district points of interest in the goodwill visits. They will be billetted at homes where students of their own age reside. The two clubs will share the transportation duties.

SIGNS GOING UP

Reporting for the Presidents and Vice-Presidents Service Clubs Council, Frank Eberle said the service club information signs at the city's three entrances will be completed in a week to 10 days. He said all service clubs had all been invited to attend Decoration Day ceremonies Sunday at Nelson Memorial Park.

W. H. Langridge gave the members a few suggestions on how to most effectively conduct their life insurance programs. He described life insurance as the biggest business in the world, but one least known as far as its actual mechanics were concerned.

He described in detail personal, business and group life insurance plans, and answered questions posed by members. The question most asked, he said, was "how much should I buy?"

The answer was, he said, "do the best you can, buy only the amount you can handle." There was no such thing as a bad insurance company, for it was the most closely supervised business in the world. He urged purchasers to remember that the companies would do only what they say they will do in the insurance contract.

Mr. Langridge also explained the various plans provided for persons unable to keep up their payments, why some persons were "rated up" (because of hazardous occupations or health) and other phases of life insurance.

Mortality rate was always going up, he said at one point, with man's average life expectancy now 69.4 years and a woman's 72. It was for this reason that people were advised to buy all the insurance they could, for the longer they lived, the more they were going to need.

Memorial Services For Seamen May 15

VICTORIA (CP) — A commemoration service for the men who lost their lives at sea during the Battle of the Atlantic will be held here May 15.

Protestant services conducted by command chaplain Harry Pike and Harold Sexton, Anglican Archbishop of British Columbia, will be held at Memorial Arena.

FAILS TO GIVE SIGNAL

Failing to give a signal when pulling out from a Baker Street curb resulted in a $20 fine for John Dvorak of Procter, whose car was in collision with a car driven by Fred Podov of Nelson.

He pleaded not guilty, testifying that he had signalled. He was found guilty by Magistrate William Brown in city court. The case was first heard April 23 and was adjourned to April 30. Offence occurred April 9.

J. J. Hendry of Nelson was fined $1 and $2.80 costs in city court for failing to pay a parking meter ticket. He pleaded guilty.

RADIO-ACTIVITY INCREASES FROM ATOMIC BLAST

Radio-activity presumed to have come from Thursday's nuclear explosion on the Nevada desert atomic proving ground jumped the gieger counter beat from 20 ticks a minute to 70 in Nelson Friday.

On April 29 E. W. White, civil co-ordinator, said that after a previous Nevada blast the count had risen from three to 14.

The count would have to be in the hundreds before it reached a point dangerous to humans, authorities have stated.

By WALTER BREEDE Jr.

NEW YORK (AP) — "Almost too good to be true."

That's how top industrialists and economists attending a conference of the U.S. commerce department's business advisory council sizel up the economic health in the United States last week. Said one:

"There must be some weakness somewhere — but I can't find it."

Most vexing question of the week, perhaps, was whether sales could keep pace witr booming production. But there was no denying that business activity, here and now, was nudging an all-time peak.

The government's latest report on jobs told part of the story: Civilian employment last month, at 61,685,000, was the highest for any April on record.

The new total showed a gain of 1,208,000 job-holders since March —the biggest March-to-April rise since 1946.

UNEMPLOYMENT DROPS

Unemployment dropped 200,000 to 2,962,000. In April last year the number of jobless had totalled 3,465,000.

You could find other evidence of a surging comeback:

Personal income statistics for March showed Americans earning at a record clip of more than $294,000,000,000 a year—up $2,000,000,000 from February.

Spending also set records, especially on credit. Sparked by purchases of new automobiles, outstanding consumer installment credit increased by $466,000,000 in March to a new high of nearly $23,000,000,000. In March last year, installment debt showed a decline of $201,000,000.

Construction kept right on smashing records, too. Expenditures on new construction put in place last month totalled $3,200,000,000, making it the biggest April yet.

OTHER INDICATORS

There were other favorable indicators: New orders received by manufacturers up 20 per cent over last year; manufacturers' sales at a first-quarter high; corporate earnings for the first three months 27-per-cent greater than a year earlier.

Once again, the boom showed up most dramatically in the scorching production pace of the steel and auto makers.

Steel output for the week was scheduled at a whopping 96½ per cent of capacity, a rate caluculated to set a new weekly production peak of 2,328,000 tons.

Parts shortages, labor squabbles and an 88-degree heat wave in Detroit slowed auto assembly lines a little, but output still approached 180,000 cars. Production in the same week last year was less than 123,000.

Kathleen Moore, Rossland Receives 90-Mark Twice

By Staff Reporter

TRAIL — Kathleen Moore of Rossland, 12-year-old pianist, was the only contestant in the 1955 Kootenay Music Festival to attain the record 90-mark twice.

She gave, in adjudicator Murray Adaskin's estimation, a "peak performance" in the pianoforte sonatina class under 15 at the festival's Saturday morning session to equal the 90 she had obtained Friday in the concerto for pianoforte and orchestra for students. Kathleen played Opus 55, No. 2—Allegro by Kuhlau. In classes earlier in the week she won first place marks of 86 and 85 and a third-place 88. She teamed with Donna-Faye Haley to win the Ross Fleming Rose Bowl awarded the best senior piano team. "Just excellent, Mr. Adaskin said of her playing.

Other Saturday morning and afternoon highlights included Martin Horswill, Nelson vocalist, winning the Nelson Kiwanis Club Trophy, and over 500 Kootenay students performing in choir classes.

Martin Horswill, for his treatment of "Angels Ever Bright and Fair," was awarded the trophy in a competition with Alex Perhudoff of Tarrys, Don Wylie of Cranbrook and Billy Harrison of Nelson.

Earlier in the session Don Wylie topped the under 11s with 85 marks, second going to Norman Kuhn of Nelson, 84, and third to Harvey Gansner of Nelson, 83. Frank Nose of Slocan City and Dennis Pepper of Cranbrook were other contestants.

Billy Harrison received an 85 in the under 13 class. Martin Horswill and Don Fedorchuk of Cranbrook were next at 84 and Robert Pratt of Tarrys received 82 marks from vocal adjudicator Mrs. Adaskin.

"INTERESTING CLASS"

"A very interesting class" to Mr. Adaskin was the sonatina class for under 13 pianists. There were "a few technical inaccuracies" which the adjudicator attributed to nervousness, memory or lack of preparation, all of which he said could be corrected. It was interesting to him for this age to be playing sonatinas. The class were required to play any allegro or allegretto movement from Clementi, Kuhlau, or Dussek.

Five certificates were awarded. First at 88 was Bernadette Bergeron of Trail, second at 87 were Jay Patterson of Nelson and Peggy Morrison of Trail, thirds of 86 to Lorraine Rella of Trail and Maureen Lambert of Kinnaird. Other contestants: Donald Grahame of Fruitvale, Gaylene Parker, Jane Daily, Carol Wyder, Billy Cook, Sandra Martin, Leona Marlene Anderson and Joan Mary Gill of Trail; Joyce Lily Owen, Geraldine Cooper, Janice Seafoot, David and Carol Dahlstrom of Rossland; and Julie Dianne Muraro of Nelson.

In the sonatina class under 15 led by Kathleen Moore, second was Kathleen Fishwick of Trail, 87; and third Miriam Roberts of Trail and Elina Bousquet of Rossland, 86. Other entries playing any allegro or allegertto movement from Clementi, Kahlau or Dussek were Lorraine Sweetnam, David Morris, Katherine Hallam and Gretchen Rice of Trail; Donne-Faye Haley and Frances Thompson of Rossland and Diana Armstrong and Joan Evans of Nelson.

Three groups of "very charming singers" of grades 1to 3 children all "impressed" Mrs. Adaskin and were declared A-class groups. Singing "The Fox and the Grapes" by T. Dunhill and "Freckles" by B. Kirth were junior choirs from Ooteschenia School.

Over 200 students took part in the elementary (grades 4 to 6) choir class with none of the 11 choirs getting lower than a B. Mrs. Adaskin lauded the "wonderful direction" of all choirs.

AA ratings were accorded Cranbrook Central School, Nelson Hume School and Tarrys School; A-ratings to Fruitvale Elemantary, Trail Sunningdaye School, Slocan City Elementary, James L. Webster School of Trail, Trail Central Elementary, "Merry Macs" of Laura J. Morrish Elementary of Trail and Kinnaird Elementary; and B to Ootischenia School of Castlegar. Each choir sang "London Birds" by Geoffrey Shaw and "Rain in Summer" (2 part) by B. Kurth.

"There was beautiful quality of voice with no exceptions" said the adjudicator of three Junior High School choirs. She mentioned their "parts were clearly defined." An A-mark was given all three, Rossland Junior-Senior High School, Fruitvale Elementary Junior High School and Nelson Junior High School, all singing "The Keel Row" with descant arranged by T. Dunhill and "Earth Rejoices" by Mozart.

TWO FIRSTS

Mr. Adaskin heard "a high professional kind of playing" by four pianists in the open concerto for pianoforte and orchestra class. He gave two first place marks of 89 to Elizabeth Lewis and Jean Fischer of Trail; second of 86 to Joanne Dunlop of Castlegar and third to Lynne Rogers of Trail, 84.

Kootenay Four, a quartette from Creston, produced "lovely sensitive quality singing," said Mrs. Adaskin, and received 84 marks, as the only entry in the male quartette open class. They sang "Lovely Night", by F. X. Chwatal.

Nelson Senior High School Girls' Choir received 84 marks in the senior high girls' choir class. "Generally fine quality singing" Mrs. Adaskin said of their vocalizing of "A Lake and a Fairy Boat" by T. Dunhill and "Sister Awake, Close Not Your Eyes" by F. Bridge. There was a slight, though not serious, intonation problem, Mrs. Adaskin said.

Jerry Pickering of Nelson, at Knox United Church on Friday night in the Oratoria open class for any voice, received 89 marks for his singing of "Comfort Ye and Every Valley" from Handel's Messiah. Neil Horswill of Nelson received 86 marks for "Arm, Arm Ye Brave" by Handel; Mrs. Lois McIntosh of Kinnaird singing "Holy, Holy, Lord God Almighty" from "The Redemption" by Handel and Barbara Lea of Nelson singing "With Verdure Clad" from "The Creation" by Josef Haydn each received 85 marks.

Seven-year-old Jennifer Rogers of Fruitvale, for two performances in the dancing solo under eight class, received marks of 84 and 82, doing Dance of the Woodland Nymph and National Russian Hopak.

Marks of 84 and 85 were accorded Bernice Martin of Trail in the under 12 dancing solo class. "Intermezzo" from Coppelia and Mazurka were her two numbers.

In the under 21 class, Patricia Cull of Montrose earned marks of 84 and 87 dancing Naili and Czardas. Folk dancing adjudicator Miss Nancy Ferguson of Victoria had complimentary remarks about all three dancers.

National folk dancing for elementary schools produced a winner from Kinnaird school, grade 5, dancing "O Johnny" and "Yes Sir That's My Baby." Marks were 80 and 81. Trail Central elementary school was second with 79 and 80; and Fruitvale elementary and another entry from Trail Central scored 78 and 79 each.

MORE CEMENT

KARACHI (CP) — Cement production in Pakistan touched a record of more than 666,000 tons last year, an increase of 70,000 over 1953. New cement factories are being constructed to bring total production up to a level which may meet all domestic consumption.

E. C. McLEAN, FORMERLY IN NELSON, DIES

Word has been received here of the death in Vancouver of Ernest Carl McLean, 65, former manager here for Kelly Douglas and Company.

Mr. McLean came to Nelson in 1946 to succeed as manager Bert Harrison, who was transferred to Victoria and later to Vancouver. Mr. McLean stayed here in the capacity of manager for two years, and during that time was a member of the Rotary Club.

Through partial illness, he later went to the head office in Vancouver as office employee-salesman.

Born in Milltown, N.B., he was educated in the Maritimes and went to the West Coast as a young man. He had been in the retail and wholesale grocery trade all his life.

His wife survives him at Vancouver.

Funeral service was conducted in the Georgia Chapel of Centre and Hanna in Vancouver, Rev. Keith Woollard officiating. Cremation followed.

British Society Girl Elopes With Farm Hand

LINCOLN, England (AP)—Susan Dymoke, 23-year-old sister of the hereditary champion of England and daughter of one of Britain's oldest families, was reported Saturday to have run away with a 54-year-old farm hand.

The tabloid Daily Sketch said the dark-haired, flashing-eyed Susan, whose army officer brother inherited the right to carry the standard of England in Coronation ceremonies, eloped two months abo with Irishman Jimmy Webb.

Webb formerly tended hunt horses in the little village of Culverthorpe where the Dymokes have lived for 800 years.

"My sister is willful," The Sketch quotes Capt. John Dymoke, Susan's 27-year-old brother. "What she has done is madness. But we know that she would not behave with dishonor."

Susan's mother, Mrs. Lionel Dymoke, said she knew her daughter planned to run away with Webb, who had lived in the village for three years.

COULD DO NOTHING

"I knew there was nothing I could do once she had made up her mind," The Sketch quotes Mrs. Dymoke as saying. "Mr. Webb is not of her class, that is regrettable. There is a great difference in age that is very unfortunate. . . .

The Dymoke family traces its ancestry back to the 11th century in the same little village.

Capt. Dymoke is the 34th member of the family to hold the title of Queen's or King's Champion. It was bestowed on his ancestors nearly 600 years ago at the Coronation of King Richard II.

The royal champion formerly rode his horse into the Coronation hall to challenge to battle anyone who might question the right of the monarch to be crowned. In recent years, this part of the ceremony has been abolished and the champion given instead the right to carry the royal standard during the Coronation ritual.

City Water Main, Sewer Work Program Starts

The city public works department has begun its program of water main, sewer and street construction called for in the 1955 estimates.

A water main to the new High School on the former Balding property is expected to be completed next week and the storm sewer which runs from the West Arm up Cottonwood Street to the school, has been completed and connected. Sanitary sewer has been in for a year.

The water main provides two six-inch hydrants at the school.

A six-inch alternate feed water main is under construction from Anderson Creek to Fairview across Mount St. Francis Infirmary property.

Public works crews are also replacing a sewer main on Second Street from the ferry road to the Kokanee Avenue outfall. The new line, with an average two per cent grade, will end a maintenance problem on the old line created by too small a grade. It had a halt per cent grade.

Hall Street, between Vernon and Baker Street, which heaved this Spring, and became hazardous to traffic, will be excavated and filled beginning next week. It will be paved during the year.
