Slide Delays CPR Passengers

8 Trains Delayed by Rock, Dirt Slide Near Salmon Arm; Cleared Sunday

SALMON ARM, B.C. (CP) — Eight CPR trains, five of them passenger-carriers containing about 500 persons, were delayed up to 16 hours Sunday following a rock and dirt slide across the main line 13 miles East of here.

Three of the trains were trans-continental.

Salmon Arm is 200 miles Northeast of Vancouver.

Railway officials said the line was cleared a 4:05 p.m. Sunday. The slide occured about 9:30 p.m. Saturday night, but was first discovered early Sunday.

There were two short slides, which were cleared away, CPR spokesmen said, then the westbound Canadian started across the section of track. The railbed ballast gave way and the rear truck of the dining car and front truck of a sleeping car went off the track. The Canadian was moving about three miles an hour at the time and there were no injuries. The trucks were quickly put back on the rails.

Work crews had to build a new culvert under the track to drain off water and prevent a further washout.

The eastbound Canadian rolled across the repaired washout about 4:15 p.m. Sunday.

The westbound Canadian, due in Vancouver at 10 a.m. Sunday, was expected at 1:40 a.m. Monday and was due to leave Vancouver at 4 a.m., 12 hours late.

CPR officials said water from fast-melting snow piled up behind the trans-Canada highway, knocking out a section of road about 40 feet wide and 40 feet deep. The rock and earth rolled 125 feet to cover the tracks.

Not Losing Cold War Says Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower called Saturday night for the creation of a sort of brain trust to advise the government in the global struggle with communism. At the same time he disputed chares that the U. S. is losing the cold war.

His remarks, which came in an off the cuff addition to a prepared speech to the American Society of Newspaper Editors, were obviously aimed at such critics as Adlai Stevenson, who earlier in the day attacked the administration foreign pelicy.

"REGARDLESS OF PARTY"

A poll of about 80 editors showed them voicing the opinion 2-1 that the U. S. is losing the cold war.

To help keep American foreign policy abreast of changing times, the President suggested a kind of council of wise men—a "rotating advisory board" of private citizens, he called it.

They would be free of the responsibilities of office, he said, and would be able to "devote their brains to the job."

He did not go into details but a high official indicated the president has in mind moving to set up a council of "the best brains available, regardless of party."

Every day, Eisenhower said, someone says that "we're losing the cold war" but others took exactly the opposite line.

REDS "HAD TO CHANGE"

The Soviets, he said, set out to conquer the world using such methods as "lies, deceit and war if necessary". Their aim has not changed, he said, but they are depending less on force.

When a policy is satisfactory, the President declared, it is not changed; it is changed only when a change is necessary and "we can take some comfort from the fact that they had to change."

Whisky Nabbed Before Sampled

BRISBANE, Australia (Reuters) —Eight Australian skin divers Sunday battled man-eating sharks to salvage five bottles of whisky from a 19th century sailing ship—but customs officials nabbed the haul before they could taste drop.

For the whisky-loving Aussies, it was a drop in the bucket. Some 80,000 gallons still lie below.

Margaret Now Mrs. Daniel

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) — Blonde Margaret Truman, attractive in a beige wedding gown and veil, was married Saturday to Clifton Daniel Jr., assistant foreign news editor of the New York Times, in a simple ceremony at Trinity Episcopal church.

It was the same church where Margaret's parents, former president Harry S. Truman and Bess, were married 37 years ago.

Only close relatives and friends were in the church, in keeping with Margaret's wish that the wedding be private. Outside a crowd estimated by police at 1500 greeted them as they left the church.

Sunday Daniel and his bride spent 2½ hours in Chicago after a train ride from Kansas City, then flew to Miami, Fla., en route to the Bahamas on their honeymoon.

RAIN-MAKING BENEFITS CITED

PENTICTON, B.C. (CP) — Rain making operators in Washington, Oregon and California could be worth $20,000,000 to $50,000,000 in economic benefits, a researcher said here Saturday.

J. S. Barrows of Missoula, Mont., made the statement to the annual meeting of the Western Snow conference in this interior British Columbia city. Mr. Barrows is chief of the fire research division in Montana.

He said the economic benefits from cloud seeding would come through an increase in rainfall, a reduction in hail storms and a reduction in forest fires caused by lightning.

BEATEN TO DEATH

MERRITT, B. C. (CP) —Johnny Sampson, 45-year-old Indian, was beaten to death early Sunday in a brawl at a reservation near this Cariboo town 120 miles northeast of Vancouver.

RCMP said another man had been taken to hospital and two others were in custody without charge.

High Jinks Hit Ottawa For Sake of Culture

By CAROLYN WILLNETT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — The capital Saturday night held its annual frivolous fling in support of culture—the fund-raising springtime party for the Ottawa Philharmonic Orchestra.

Approximately 3000 guests invaded the flag and flower-decked Coliseum for an evening of listening, gaming and dancing. Despite a day - long fall of wet snow, crisp colorful cottons were popular ladies' wear.

Silver notes rising from the Royal Canadian Air Force trumpets announced the arrival of Governor-General Massey and the vice-regal party. But formalities ended there.

Wearing grey flannel slacks and a tweed sports jacket, the governor-general heard Eugene Kash and the orchestra play Bach with a cool jazz beat.

A second off-beat number featured newly-wed Miss Civil Service of 1956—Mrs. Marie McDonald Rochon—as a typist-soloist backed by the orchestra.

Two young Ottawans, Richard Little and Geoff Scott, appearing as local guests with the visiting Jackie Rae television show, brought down the house with a credible impersonation of the city's Mayor Charlotte Whitton.

MAYOR IN COSTUME

Minutes later, the mayor herself brought a roar from the crowd when she appeared on stage dressed in a "Little Bo-Peep" costume, complete with a wig of long blonde curls.

Mrs. A. H. J. Lovink of The Netherlands, wife of the dean of the diplomatic corps, crashed the cymbals while Senator Cairine Wilson jangled musical bells beside Hon. Brooke Claxton, a former defence minister, and Opposition Leader George Drew in the make-believe band.

Sponsored by a 200 - member women's committee of the orchestra, party returns go toward the philharmonic's support.

Mc...ans Battle Red, Assiniboine Rivers

Farm Land Flooded; Evacuation Plans Afoot; Strengthen Dikes

WINNIPEG (CP) — Bulldozers, trucks and sandbag crews swung into action in southern Manitoba during the weekend to combat twin flood threats on the Red and Assiniboine river valleys which government officials termed "a very, very serious matter."

Choked by a giant ice jam near Portage la Prairie, 55 miles west of Winnipeg, the swollen Assiniboine cut through a south bank dike and spilled over hundreds of acres of farm land.

The Red River rose nearly nine feet at Winnipeg during the weekend, and the provincial flood forecasting committee said a peak flow at least six inches above the top of the city's major dikes could be expected on May 7. The committee said that by Thursday the water might be within six inches of the top of secondary dikes.

Heavy earth movers began raising parts of the 39-mile chain of dikes built along both sides of the Red river following a disastrous flood in 1950. The level of the major dikes is 26.5 feet arove average winter ice level. A spring crest ranging from 27 to 30 feet was forecast — with a maximum possible of 33 feet. Peak of the 1950 flood was 30.3 feet.

Suburban Elm Park, a narrow peninsula in a hairpin bend of the Red river, began moving out household belongings Saturday in case they must evacuate. The area was among the hardest hit in 1950.

Premier Campbell said in the legislature Saturday night that the area, containing about 200 homes, seemed certain to be hit along with about 60 homes which were left outside the new dikes.

The flood forecasting committee described the situation on the Assiniboine between Portage la Prairie and Headingley as critical. The river level at Portage la Prairie rose six inches overnight. The flood committee said the rise was due to local runoff.

EXPECT WORSE

Runoff from the headwaters was not yet under way and there was little prospect of any lowering of river levels before the crest from the headwaters arrives. Conditions would get substantially worse from now on.

The seasonal peak on the Assiniboine was not expected at Brandon before May 10 and at Winnipeg between May 15 and 20.

Flooding which began last week on some tributaries of the Red river in southern Manitoba was expected to become more severe next week.

In Portage la Prairie area, more than 200 people had left their homes in the face of high water. Dozens of head of stock were marooned.

RCMP and volunteers used railway "jiggers" and boats to reach some marooned persons during the weekend.

ADLAI SUGGESTS HALTING H-TESTS AS FIRST STEP

WASHINGTON (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson proposed Saturday that the United States halt H-bombs tests as a step toward eventual world disarmament.

Stevenson said that if "other nations" don't follow suit and persist in further tests "we will know about it and we can reconsider our policy."

Te Democratic presidential candidate noted that Russia has protested against U.S. tests scheduled for the Pacific next month but said this did not alter his views.

Stevenson came to Washington to address a luncheon of the American Society of Newspaper Editors and attend a fund-raising dinner of the Democratic national committee.

In his speech to the editors he questioned "the sense in multiplying and enlarging weapons of a destructive power already almost incomprehensible.'

LONDON (Reuters) — Communist Poland will release 30,000 prisoners immediately by amnesty under a new draft law and will reduce the sentences on 70,000 others, Warsaw radio said Sunday.

The radio said the draft was discussed by legal and administrative committees of the Polish parliament Sunday.

Pseudos Death To Mau Mau

NAIROBI, Kenya (Reuters) — British authorities have lifted some of the secrecy cloaking activities of anti-terrorist bands of white farmers who operate in "blackface."

In the last nine months alone, gangs of pseudo members of the anti-white Mau Mau cult have eliminated 140 of the terrorists, including three so-called field marshalls and 15 generals.

One of the farmers — Peter Nicholas, who won the George Medal for bravery — told Saturday how he campaigned in football boots, old jeans, pork pie hat and charcoal smeared on his face.

The most recent success of a blackface gang was the recapture of Mau Mau general Tanganyika, who broke an honor bond in 1953 and failed to return from the forest when the government sent him back in to help abortive surrender operations.

FOURTH MINER'S BODY RECOVERED

SYNNYSIDE, Utah (AP) — The fourth coal miner buried under tons of rock at a cave-in Wednesday was found dead Sunday. His three companions had survived.

Kaiser Coal Co. said digging crews discovered the body of Joseph Otterstorm, 58 - year - old father of six, about 2:45 p.m.

Friday the workers rescued the three survivors who were pinned under the rock for some 40 hours.

GIANT FIERY CROSSES blazed in Florida and Georgia cities in an open attempt to revive Ku Klux Klan activities in the two states. In Macon, Georgia, where this picture was made, about 300 klansmen participated in a meeting, which like those in other cities, urged opposition to the U.S. Supreme Court school segregation decision. There were more than 1,000 persons at each meeting, at which the huge fiery crosses burned.

New Pact Said Death Blow to Baghdad Pact

By GILBERT SEDBON

CAIRO (Reuters) —A new military pact signed Saturday by Egypt, Saudi Arabia and the Yemen was hailed by the Egyptian press Sunday as assuring Arab control of the Red Sea area dealing a fatal blow to the western-backed Baghdad defence alliance.

The pact was signed at Jeddah, Saudi Arabia by leaders of the three countries after two days of talks. It links the Egyptian, Saudi Arabian and Yemeni armies under a unified command for five years and provides that armed attack on any of the countries during that period will be considered an attack on the other two.

The Associated Press reported the semi-official Middle East news agency announced that Maj.-Gen. Abdel Hakim Amer, Egyptian army chief, has been named chief of the joint command.

Reports of a new clash between Yemeni forces and border guards of Britain's Aden protectorate Sunday followed announcement of the pact.

CLAIM ADEN STATES

The Arab news agency reported from Aden that Yemeni tribesmen had crossed the border into the Aden western protectorate and fired on a post in Beihan to prevent Aden guards from occupying nearby Najdmarqad. The Aden government asked the government of Yemen Sunday night to have the tribesmen withdraw by today.

Both the Yemen and Saudi Arabia have long-standing border disputes with Britain in the Aden area. The Yemen claims British-protected states of Aden which Britain now is trying to federate.

CONGRESS HOPES TO DOUBLE MEMBERSHIP

TORONTO (CP)—Leaders of the new Canadian Labor Congress hope its membership will be doubled in 10 years, its president-to-be said Sunday.

Claude Jodoin, head of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada and scheduled to become CLC president at its founding convention here this week, expressed the view at a pre-convention press conference.

The new congress, to be formed out of a merger of the TLC and the Canadian Congress of Labor, will start off with about 1,000,000 members. This is about one-fifth Canada's labor force.

The TLC president expressed the hope of an eventual absorption of the Canadian and Catholic Confederation of Labor, which has 100,000 members, centred in Quebec province. Preliminary discussions with CCL leaders have taken place.

"At this stage," Jodoin told questioners, "I can't say anything specific, but discussions have been very congenial. There will be a possibility of amalgamation."

CCCL secretary-treasurer Jean Marchand will be an observer at the CLC convention, sitting on the platform as a guest.

DEATH PENALTY STAYS

NEW DELHI (Reuters) — India has no intention of suspending the death penalty, particularly as 9,000 murders are committed in the country every year, B. N. Data, minister of home affairs, said in Parliament Saturday.

War Still Threat, Says Ben-Gurion

JERUSALEM (Reuters) — Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion told Parliament Sunday United Nations Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold's Middle East mission has "reduced tension along the Israel-Arab borders to a certain extent but has not removed the danger of an Arab war against Israel."

He added that armed intervention by the big powers in the case of an Arab-Israeli war would not avert a world war.

Ben-Gurion reviewed foreign affairs and security during an extraordinary legislative session convened to pass supplementary estimates of £50,000,000 ($28,000,000).

Ben-Gurion warned Israel not to be deceived by signs of decreased tension along the Israel-Egyptian border.

"Egypt and her allies," he said, "continue with their war preparations against Israel — there are no signs that Egypt is in any way prepared to fulfil her basic obligations under the armistice agreement.

Three Kiddies, Father Found Dead

WINNIPEG (CP) — A young Winnipeg father and his three children were found shot to death Sunday in their dwelling, the lower half of a duplex in a central industrial area. Police said it was apparently a triple murder and suicide.

The victims were: John Tomyn, 35-year-old laundry worker, and his children, Arlene, 10, Grace, 9, and Brian, 5.

Inspector of detectives James Mulholland said it appeared evident that Tomyn shot the children with a .22 calibre rifle and then turned the gun on himself. No motive was suggested.

Police said Tomyn was separated from his wife, Josephine, 29, who occupied quarters on the second floor on the same building.

$22,400 Believed Part of CNR Loot

VANCOUVER (CP) — Weeks of undercover investigation paid off Friday night when RCMP recovered $22,400 believed to be part of $44,000 stolen from a Canadian National Railway Express van in Edmonton on April 9.

The money was found in possession of a man arrested in Cloverdale by Vancouver RCMP officers.

Charged with the robbery is George Soga, 25, of Edmonton, a former employee of the CNR Express.

The money, mostly in $5 bills, was stolen while being transferred from one Edmonton bank to another.

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Three British troopers were wounded Sunday night from ambush near Limassol, on Cyprus' southwest coast.

Russians Bear Gifts To Royal Family

WINDSOR, England (AP) — Soviet Premier Bulganin and Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev took tea Sunday with the Queen in ancient Windsor castle.

They presented the Queen with a Russian sable wrap at a tea table meeting during which young Prince Charles and Princess Anne were brought in to be introduced.

Two prize Russian horses with their Cossack grooms arrived at Buckingham Palace Saturday as gifts from Bulganin. The horses go to the Duke of Edinburgh, and Prince Charles. The Soviet leaders also have brought a present for Princess Anne — a small brown bear named Nikki. He is only about the size of a large terrier dog at present, but when he grows up "he will be a big bear, very big indeed," a Soviet embassy official said.

In nearby London thousands of eastern European refugees marched in orderly protest against the visit of the Soviet leaders to Britain. They prayed also for those behind the Iron Curtain.

Bulganin and Khrushchev motored here from Chequers, where they were guests of Prime Minister Eden at his official country residence.

The informal talks during their overnight stay ended in the early afternoon.

There was no official statement on what was taken up. Both Russians smiled broadly as they left.

Eden preceded them by 20 minutes to Windsor.

Many gathered to watch the arrival of the two Soviet leaders. There were some cheers from the crowd and the Russians waved genially.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Take one-pint size youngster, add one pint-size can of floor wax and — boom.

Donald Davis, 1½-years-old, dropped the wax in a turkey-sized broiler. Later, his mother lit the kitchen gas oven.

The mixture exploded and burned. Mrs. Davis hustled Donald and his three-year-old brother outside. Then she returned, grabbed the flaming broiler, and threw it outside.

Firemen said floor wax is not necessarily a fire hazard but it should not be cooked.

TYLER, Tex. (AP) — There's a little old momma quail that's got this whole town talking.

Bernice, as she's called, started laying eggs about 10 months ago and forgot to stop, according to George C. Stodghill, state quail hatchery superintendent here.

The 282 eggs Bernice has produced in the last 10 months is an unofficial United States record, Stodghill says.

"She's still layin' them and there's 29 more days to the laying season," he says. Ninety per cent have hatched.

Stodghill says Oklahoma previously claimed the champion hen with 100 eggs during a laying season.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — There will be just one thing missing when Albany crowns its 1956 tulip queen May 8, to highlight the annual tulip festival. Tulips.

Spring was a little late this year.

VANCOUVER (CP) — A peacock with a penchant for pursuing peahens was banished from the fold by other jealous hales in Stanley Park here Friday.

The peacock, whose success with the femmes aroused the jealous wrath of his brothers, took to enchanting the traffic streaming along the busy park causeway after he had been eliminated from his pursuits of love.

The traffic was enchanted — and hopelessly snarled — until a taxi driver loaded the bird in his cab and hustled him to Curator Alan Best.

He is back in the pens today, still preening but more discreet.

Castlegar Hospital Bids Likely This Fall

CASTLEGAR—The last of three zone meetings for Castlegar Hospital Improvement District Saturday night in the Robson Memorial Church Hall, was chaired by O. B. Ballard.

The meetings were to enable ratepayers in the unorganized areas of the district to hear reports from the hospital trustees and the report of the hospital society chairman A. E. Norris on progress made so far towards construction of a hospital in Castlegar.

Castlegar hospital improvement district is divided three parts, village of Castlegar, village of Kinnaird, and outlying districts within the boundaries of the same area as that covered by School District Number 9 (Castlegar). Castlegar and Kinnaird are represented by two trustees each. The unorganized area having only one. At meetings held last week, Castlegar and Kinnaird ratepayers re-elected R. A. D. West, in Castlegar, and A. H. Culley in Kinnaird, for three year terms. No election was held at the Robson meeting as the rural trustee, J. Waldie, holds office for another two years.

The audited financial statement for 1955, showing a balance of $17,806.7 After purchase of the hospital site for $12,180, and miscellaneous accounts was read by J. Waldie and approved by the ratepayers present.

Mr. Norris gave an account of the work done and what had been accomplished regarding the hospital. Sketch plans which conform to BCHIS requirements, and have been approved by the Hospital Society are now being given a final checking by BCHIS, and hospital directors are optimistic about approval coming at any time. When the "go-ahead" signal is received, architects, Paul Smith and partner of Trail, will be instructed to prepare working drawings, for the building he estimates will cost about $370,000.

FALL START

Mr. Norris answered questions put to him by the ratepayers, as to the possible date construction would start. He stated that while no definitive announcement could be made, it was hoped to be able to call tenders early enough for construction to start this fall.

The budget had been reviewed by the B.C. Hospital Insurance Service and the directors could see no reason for further delay in the final approval, it was stated. Plans still must go to the Dominion department of health for examination, but the directors considered that once BCHIS has passed them, the approval of the Dominion government is more or less automatic.

The question as to the manner in which the necessary funds would be raised was asked and in answering this R. A. D. West said the sum required would be provided for by an increased mill rate on annual taxes, which could run about three mills extra. This money would be raised by debentures and paid back through taxes over a period of twenty years.

Asked what portion of the cost would be assumed by the government, Mr. West said the provincial government pays one third, and the dominion government pays an amount based on $1200 per bed.

A vote of thanks to the trustees and a motion of confidence which empowers them to proceed with the fund raising and construction, as soon as plans are ready was passed by the ratepayers.

The ratepayers present also wished to go on record as protesting that one trustee for the unorganized area was insufficient, and a resolution to this effect will be sent to the water board, asking for two trustees for this area.

A vote of thanks was also given to the directors of the Hospital Society and others who had spent a great deal of time and effort in bringing the reality of a hospital in Castlegar as close as it is today.

Odds... and Ends ... by M. D. B.

One of the most beautiful trees in Nelson is putting forth its tender green as it has done for a good many years. It is that huge one at the corner of Nelson Avenue and Anderson Street. Now if I were smart I'd be able to tell you what kind it is and approximately how old it is, but I'll leave that to the experts. All I can attest to is its beauty—it grows from three huge trunks, reaches I would say about 30 or 40 feet in the sky and is fortunate in not being much in the way of either power or telephone lines, so it has had its own way about growing.

It has such an expansive air about it, as though it were on good terms with the wind and rain and sun and had all the sky to grow in. If I were a bird, I think I'd choose just that sort of tree in which to build a nest.

* * *

And while I'm on the subject of trees, I remember another tree that was the joy of my Springtime for several years—the silver birch in the yard at 701 Silica Street. I used to wait eagerly to see its green aura appear against the blue of a Spring sky.

* * *

Another tree I've enjoyed through the years is that lilac on what used to be the J. B. Gray property, now Dr. Beauchamp's residence. It is a more fragile and lacy variety of mauve lilac and has been trained to such a graceful shape.

* * *

By the way, the trees that had to be removed from the Argyle boulevard and were transplanted on the firehall property are doing nicely in their new surroundings.

* * *

Another lovely big tree is that one beside the Kinahan residence on Ward and Silica. The blue spruce in Alex Allan's yard, planted by Dr. John Gansner when they lived on that corner also deserves mention and when the Allans string lights on it at Christmas it is a joy to behold. The big willow at 920 Edgewood Avenue and the tall Lombardy poplar in Fairview are also beginning to look their Springtime best.

* * *

These are only a few of the many trees to be seen around Nelson, and I've probably inadvertedly missed naming the loveliest. Of course I don't think there's any tree to beat the little pear tree growing in my yard.

* * *

There is something about owning a tree that gives one a fine feeling of possession. You prune it, watch it bud and leaf out, pick a few sprigs of blossom for indoors, sit in its kindly shade during the Summer heat and pick its fruit in the Fall. You rake up its fallen leaves and bank them around its base for compost and wait impatiently through Winter for it to turn green again. Through all this it becomes like one of the family and you can't help looking on it with a feeling of pride. There, I guess I've said enough about trees, but you know, when I get on a subject dear to my heart it's pretty hard to turn me off.

* * *

To change the subject abruptly, one of our editors has just announced "The papers say the big wedding went off without a hitch —I thought that was the main idea of the whole thing."

Nelson, Salmo Air Cadets Parade to Church

Civil Defence Assists At Accident Scene

Civil defence, which many people are inclined to take lightly gave valuable assistance following a highway accident near Salmo Saturday night.

Civil defence personnel from Salmo and Kinnaird were the first on the scene of the accident, a mile North of Salmo. It was one of two district accidents Saturday night, the other occurring on the Nelson-Castlegar highway near the Glade ferry.

Salmo was blacked out for about one hour after a car driven by Marcel Robert Cote of Salmo travelling toward the village, went off the left hand side of the road hit a power line pole and continued on for a short distance before coming to a stop. Ralph Street of Salmo, passenger, is in Kootenay Lake General Hospital His doctor said his condition was "good" but he would be hospitalized for another day or two.

The driver and a second passenger, Julie Charlboys of Nelson, were treated at KLGH then released. The accident occurred about 9:15 p.m. Telephone communication between Salmo and Nelson was also knocked out

Kinnaird Civil Defence truck and its crew with Steve Jankola in charge were returning home following a civil defence exercise at Salmo, and looked after the accident situation until an ambulance arrived. One of the persons involved in the accident was brought to Nelson in the unit, which is equipped with blankets, stretchers and first aid supplies. Street was brought to hospital by ambulance and the third person in a private car. Salmo civil defence personnel who Saturday night completed a rescue course instructed by R. Roberts of Victoria were also on the scene, as was Mr. Roberts.

The 1952 model car was a total wreck, RCMP at Salmo, who are investigating, stated.

Extensive damage was sustained by a car driven by Archie Renwick of Nelson when it rolled off the highway on a curve near the Glade ferry. The driver was released from Kootenay Lake General Hospital Sunday morning after a checkup revealed no serious injuries. The right side of the car was battered and the roof caved in.

Car, Property Hit as Car Misses Turn

Two cars were smashed considerably and part of a property on Front Street slightly damaged when one of the cars failed to make a righthand turn from Front Street on to Anderson Street at 1:15 a.m., Sunday.

One car was driven by Dale Van Ruyskensvelde, a minor of Nelson, and the other was owned by Robert Leeming, 1404 Front Street, who had parked his car in front of his home just a few minutes before.

A fence and a propane gas tank were knocked out of line. City Police, who investigated, said the Leeming car was well off the highway.

Teen-Age Drivers Get Rough Ride in Contest

A fair-sized crowd watched Saturday afternoon as Nelson teenagers demonstrated their car-driving skill in the Jaycee Reodeo at the Civic recreation grounds Saturday afternoon. The course was tough, but the boys drove well.

Results were not completed in time for publication Sunday. Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsored the event which is designed to promote better driving by teen-agers. Winner will win a trip to Vancouver for the provincial safe-driving finals May 26 an dthe provincial winner will compete in national finals at Ottawa.

Some tricky manoeuvring was required by the young drivers as they guided new cars provided by Nelson automobile dealers through a serpentine course, both ahead and in reverse, threaded the left wheels of the car through a narrow row of balls, attempted smooth stops and parked in an area equivalent to that between downtown meter posts.

"Don't think I could do it myself,' commented many an adult driver.

Courses were marked by flags and barrels, and city police and RCMP assisted the Jaycees in conducting the examinations. An intricate system of marking was used. Prior to the driving tests, all candidates had passed written examinations. They were George Buckley, Morris Donaldson, Larry Fournier, Alvin Fox, Garry Foxall, Ronald Garner, Bill Lambert, Bob Laughton, Art Mawer, Norman Murphy, Don McGillivary Brian MacKay, Lorne McRory, Barry Peterson, Ronnie Pringle, Peter M. Relkoff and Allan Schmidt.

Nakusp Asks Premier To Stop Over on Tour

NAKUSP — Nakusp Chamber of Commerce is inviting Premier W. A. C. Bennett to visit this town on his provincial tour.

Members of the Chamber who attended Slocan highway blacktop ceremony at Winlaw last year remembered at their monthly meeting in Leland Hotel recently that assurance had been given that a government representative would visit Nakusp to discuss various district problems. None has arrived and Mr. Bennett might be the appropriate person, the Chamber feels.

In view of highways department equipment in the Slocan area, the Chamber is applying to Hon. P. A. Gaglardi to have the local road hard-surfaced. The strip would be from two miles South of town to six miles Southeast.

Efforts for a radio booster are being pressed, and attempts to obtain a dentist for Nakusp.

Wires have gone to Victoria regarding damage caused to the Jansen property owing to runoff, and as no replies have been received, the Chamber decided to write to deputy minister Evan Jones. An unconfirmed report is that appropriation of $20,000 has been made to pipe the creek and bring it down the street from A. Butt's home to Lewis Brown's home.

Waldo District Ranchers Request Extended Season for Elk, Deer

Grazing, Sportsmen's Co-Operation Discussed With Government Officials

FERNIE — Hunting season extension for deer and elk was asked for by the Waldo and district stockbreeders association in a resolution passed at a special meeting held in Elko Saturday. Ranchers of the association area turned out in full force for a four-hour meeting to discuss their problems with forestry grazing department and game branch officials.

The resolution asks that the deer and elk season be extended to the end of December, that consideration be given to an earlier deer season opening date, that the season be open to include elk cows elk calves, does and fawns and that there be an increase in tags for deer and elk.

Association members claimed great increase in game throughout the area has been costly to ranchers. Damage to haystacks, growing crops, and competition between livestock and game for feed on the range has resulted.

Dr. James Hatter, chief biologist of the game branch, stated that there was an excess of deer and elk in many areas. For that reason, liberal game regulations were set in 1955. Still more liberal regulations could be expected this year, as longer seasons are being contemplated. If necessary to get a greater harvest of game, extension of the season is possible.

AVOID ANIMOSITY

Inspector Frank Kearns of Nelson, game supervisor for the Kootenays, stated that animosity between ranchers, sportsmen and various departmental officials must be avoided. The game branch was sympathetic with ranchers and would co-operate in any reasonable way.

Tom Wilson, game committee chairman of the British Columbia Beef Cattlemen's Association, urged that better relations between ranchers and game club officials should be developed. In the Kamloops area this had proven very beneficial to all concerned.

Wilfred Hendry of Victoria, an official of the British Columbia forestry grazing department asked the meeting for an opinion on three suggestions for stock turnout dates: to continue the present April 15 turnout date and carry the present number of stock on the range; or set back turnout date to May 1 with increased stock on range; or April 15 turnout on special pastures.

After much discussion a motion was passed that the present April 15 turnout date be continued and that there be more co-operation between the forestry branch and the stockmen.

Reforestration in the new Gate and Bickering hill areas came under fire the young trees were planted in some of the better grazing areas. Mr. Hendry explained that the reseeded plots were experimental in nature, that results from these plantings had not yet been obtained, that planting in the area was not planned this year and any future planting of young trees would not be done until after the matter had been taken up with the stockbreeders' association.

Horse Attacks and Kills Young Child

MOUNT OLIVE, Miss. (AP)—A horse lifted a 20-month-old child across a fence with his teeth and kicked the infant to death, the child's uncle said Saturday.

Vesta Barnes, uncle of Johnnie Nichols, said the child was standing against the outside of the fence when the work horse suddenly stretched his neck across it, caught the boy's clothing in his teeth and lifted him inside the pen.

The animal then viciously kicked the child in the head and stamped him, the uncle reported.

Barnes said the horse was used to pull logs and had never been considered dangerous.

Bowling Alleys For Trail Centre

TRAIL—Dr. C. H. Wright, president of the Trail District Recreational Projects Society, announced Friday that the Society would include the construction of bowling alleys in the Memorial Centre in its program.

Dr. Wright stated that owing to the fact there are no city operated bowling alleys in Trail at the present time, the projects society had been approached by representatives of the men and women's bowling leagues, with a view to incorporating bowling facilities in the Trail Memorial Centre owing to the large number of active bowlers in the Trail district—from 600 to 800. The directors of the Society decided that they should thoroughly investigate, in co-operation with the Parks Commission.

As a result the directors have reached the conclusion that eight alleys can be incorporated along with the small auditorium, in the plans for the third floor of the Trail Memorial Centre, and have accordingly adopted this as a part of the Project Society's program.

In the original planning for adequate recreational facilities in the city in 1948, the question of bowling alleys in the Memorial Centre received careful consideration. Alleys were not included in the plans due to the existence of privately operated bowling facilities. At the present time the situation is completely changed and this has contributed greatly to the decision to include alleys in the Memorial Centre plans.

Norman Farrow, Baritone, Sings In Trail Tonight

TRAIL — Baritone Norman Farrow, a native of London, Ont., who makes his home in the United States, will sing in the Junior High School auditorium tonight in the concluding presentation of the 1955-56 Celebrity Concert Series, sponsored by the Trail Women's Musical Club.

A familiar figure on the stages of New York's concert halls, Mr. Farrow first took a full-time interest in singing after he won a fellowship at the Juilliard Graduate School of Music. He quickly moved from student to professional ranks, and was rapidly gaining recognition in concert and oratoric fields when the war interrupted his career. He served for almost five years in the Air Forces. After demobilization in 1946 he set to work getting back in top vocal form, working with some of New York's best teachers. Since 1947 he has appeared as soloist at Carnegie Hall and Town Hall about 35 times, has sung with many of the country's principal symphony orchestras and has been heard in the United States and Canada in concert and a dozen network radio and television broadcasts. He is represented on six long playing records.

Critics have praised his "rich baritone voice . . . well produced, even textured tones . . . smooth vocal line and warmth of feeling."

His acompanist is his wife, the former Dorothea Behm, an accomplished artist in her own right, who went from California to the Juilliard Graduate School as the holder of a fellowship with pianist Josef Lhevinne.

He is no stranger to opera, having sung title roles in radio broadcasts, and has sung with the Bach Aria Group every season since its inception in 1947.

Sportsmen Urge Gov't to Buy Moyie Lake Land

CRANBROOK — Provincial government purchase of 65 acres of land at the North end of Moyie Lake including Sandy Beach will be urged by Cranbrook and Kimberley Rod and Gun Clubs to preserve public access to this resort area.

Cranbrook Club meeting attended by Kimberley Club representatives decided to request members of the public interested in retaining this area to write direct to W. H. Hepper of Nelson, recreation officer for the B.C. Forest Service supporting the purchase. The area at present is owned by Les Tipton whose ranch is in that vicinity.

Second matter given earnest consideration by the meeting was dissension which has arisen between game and agricultural interests concerning Crown range matters.

E. A. McVicar, chairman of the Kimberley Club fish committee, extended an invitation to the Cranbrok Club to take part in the May 19 and 20 game commission project of treating Horseshoe Lake with retenone to clear it of all fish in preparation for a fish rehabilitation program similar to the succesful one accomplished at nearby Peckham's Lake in the past two years.

Men Who Murder for Love of It

One can find nothing admirable in the record of the terrorists in Cyprus. While it may be true that they are actuated by highly patriotic motives it cannot be agreed that intimidation and murder are necessary aids to freedom. Nor will it be conceded that any truly Christian church should countenance murder for any cause.

There may be a danger that it will be believed that the opinions and actions of the terrorists fairly reflect the views of all Cypriots. This is doubtful. There are still loyal Cypriot policemen and these are the targets of assassins, but it is unlikely that the majority of Cypriots are in favor of killing them in churches.

Probably if the identity of the terrorists were known it would be found that many of them are from that class of people in every society which is always ripe for an opportunity for lawlessness. They are the "killers" of the Old West; men who murder for the love of it. There is nothing particularly heroic or patriotic in their make up, but they use patriotism as a cover for violence.

Britain has supported the island throughout the years by large grants and now is in process of working out a plan which will give it a large measure of self-rule. It remains to be seen how the Cypriots receive it, but it is to be hoped that it will result in peace in that unhappy island.

Nations have recently been led to borrow billions for war; no nation has ever borrowed largely for education. Probably no nation is rich enough to pay for both war and civilization. We must make our choice; we cannot have both.

—Abraham Flexner.

Countering Communism

"So far (in foreign economic aid) we have been operating largely on a crisis-to-crisis basis, fighting fires instead of trying to prevent them from breaking out.

"We need a comprehensive, long-range policy of economic development which will channel the revolutionary forces in the underdeveloped world in directions compatible with out national interests."

That comes from J. D. Zellerbach, president of Crown Zellerbach Corp., speaking in Washington. Though dealing primarily with U.S. economic aid to underdeveloped countries, much of what he said applies with equal force to all Western nations.

If the free world does not step in and help these backward countries develop industrially, argued Zellerbach, then the Communists will be only too glad to do so. And our aid, he argued, should be given without a lot of military strings attached. Said Zellerbach:

"The first step in fashioning such a policy is to put economic aid on its own feet, instead of subordinating it to military considerations. There are still those who believe that economic assistance should be given only to countries committed to us as military allies—and then only to the extent necessary to maintain a certain level of armed strength.

"This kind of thinking ignores just about all the facts of life in the underdeveloped world. Even when we are not able to enroll an underdeveloped country in a military alliance, that country may still be of vital importance to us. The loss to communism of a so-called neutralist country in the underdeveloped world could be just as damaging to our security as the loss of a military ally."

Foreign aid is one way and probably the best way, as Zellerbach summed up, of countering communist subversion abroad. It enables the western world to meet the legitimate needs and desires of underdeveloped countries for greater economic strength. "It is not a device for rewarding those countries which agree with us and punishing those who do not."

Folly in Maryland

The state legislature has passed a bill which would prohibit foreign owned companies from brewing beer in Maryland. Specifically it is aimed at a Canadian company which had planned a $12 million plant near Baltimore.

Well might the United States State Department be alarmed. In a strongly worded protest it has pointed out to the governor of Maryland that:

"The proposed legislation would discriminate against foreign enterprises . . . particularly Canadian interests. In this connection it is important to note that Canada admits U.S. investment freely and at present welcomes it.

"There is . . . some opposition to U.S. investment among certain elements in Canada, and an unfriendly attitude toward Canadian investments in the United States could easily stimulate greater hostility toward American enterprise in Canada."

In this case at least the average Canadian will find himself in whole-hearted agreement with Mr. Dulles' department.

Canadian investments in the United States are modest compared to the billions Americans have invested in this country. There is probably more Maryland money alone invested in Canada than all the Canadian money invested in all of the United States. If this keep-the-other-fellow-out idea spreads, Americans, including Marylanders, would be the first to suffer

As the U.S. State Department points out, there is some criticism of the heavy U.S. investment in Canada. Canadians have become concerned over the dominance of American ownership in certain industries and resources. Far-seeing Americans have been taking suitable steps to meet Canadian objections.

In this delicate business, the Maryland action comes like a brick through a picture window.

If they do it with beer it's an easy step to move on to a "licencing" of all new enterprises, regardless of who owns them After all, any new enterprise is new competition for somebody.—Financial Post.

Press Comment

If Americans are influenced by Canadian trade policy toward Russia so much the better, declares the Winnipeg Free Press. "To state the matter rather crudely: if the great powers busy themselves with trade in merchandise, they are less likely to trade punches with atomic and hydrogen bombs. When the Soviets embark upon peaceful ventures, they should be warmly encouraged!"

K. M., Nakusp—Might I ask you to publish the plots of the two Gilbert and Sullivan operas, "The Yeoman of the Guard" and "The Mikado"? The words of the songs are given with our records but not the plot.

"The Yeoman of the Guard": Phoebe, daughter of Sergeant Meryll, of the Yeoman of the Guard, is in love with Colonel Fairfax who is under sentence of death in the Tower of London. Wilfred Shadholt, head jailer, is in love with Phoebe. Dame Carruthers (the typical, unattractive female who appears in all Gilbert's librettos) tells Phoebe that Fairfax is to be moved to another cell owing to a fire, and Phoebe takes the opportunity to speak up on his behalf declaring him to be "the best young gentleman in England" who, in addition to many manifestations of courage, twice saved her father's life.

The Dame scoffs at such girlish infatuation. Phoebe and her father expect her brother, Leonard, one of the Yeoman, to bring a reprieve for Fairfax but Leonard arrives without reprieve. Then his father, Sergeant Meryll, urges him to hide for a time and to lend his uniform of the Yeoman of the Guard to Fairfax, who will thus be able to escape. Meryll says he will claim him as his son, Leonard. They arrange with Phoebe to steal the key from Wilfrid and Leonard, after a little song about dark danger, etc., gives in to his father's plan and exits nobly.

Fairfax enters, guarded, followed by the lieutenant of the Tower who, being an old friend, talks to him. The Colonel divulges that a wicked kinsman has arranged the whole thing so as to get him (Fairfax) dead unmarried and then his wealth and estates will go to the kinsmen. (This seems very involved but we are not responsible.) Fairfax points out that if he could marry forthwith the kinsman would be thwarted. The Lieutenant is impressed and sets out to find a suitable girl to marry Fairfax.

Enter Jack Point, a jester, and Elsie Maynard, with whom he is in love. Elsie's mother is sorely ill and needs food and many things Elsie cannot buy because she is poor and good. So the Lieutenant asks her to marry a man she has never seen, promises her one hundred crowns if she agrees to go through the ceremony, and finally gets consent from Jack Point who sees in the idea a quick return on a small investment. They bind Elsie's eyes and lead her off and the Lieut. and Jack converse and sing. Then Elsie comes back, removes the bandage, and sings that she is now a bride.

Phoebe gets the keys from Wilfrid by singing six verses to him and later her fahter returns the key to her and she slips it back on Wilfrid's chain, still singing delightfully.

Eventually Fairfax, disguised, enters and Phoebe greets him as "Leonard" which surprises him very much. The first act closes with the discovery of Fairfax's escape, general commotion, and Elsie fainting in the supposed "Leonard's" arms. We are sorry but space has run out, so we will continue in our next.

Charcoal Out

The charcoal-grey suit, the big thing in male fashions in the past year or so, is now on the way out, the designers inform us The new fashions lean toward more colorful clothes—livelier shades and patterns.

An official of the Custom Tailors and Designers Association of America was quoted as saying: "The charcoal suit, which we introduced several years ago, is just about finished. And we're so glad! It was a dull idea anyway."

Nice to hear him admit it, now that half the male population has bought charcoal-grey suits.

It looks as though men are going to be subjected to the same annual fashion pressures which lure women to the stores with such regularity. It's doubtful, however, that it will have the same success. Many men are content to make that shiny serge do another year or so. And, more important, they're too broke keeping their wives in the latest mode to do much for themselves.

The U.S. executive didn't say so, but we trust that his relegation of the charcoal-grey suit to the rubbish heap also carries with it the disappearance of the pink tie

From an Oldtimer's Notebook

—BY R. G. JOY—

Historian, Nelson and District Oldtimers' Association

A few errors appeared in Oldtimer's Notebook which appeared Friday in the Madden Hotel history.

The first called Sir Frederick Madden a telegraphist, instead of a paleographer. Then Ward Creek was called Ford Creek in the section stating Hugh Madden ran a restaurant in a tent on the corner of Ward and Baker Street.

In the paragraph dealing with the story of the Madden House, the part that is now being demolished, it should have said that on April 7, 1893, Billy Coles and myself came to Nelson. A man named McLean was running a restaurant where the old bar of the Madden Hotel was situated. The Shamrock bar was at the end of the Madden Block.

The reference to "Brian" was to Bryan, a candidate for the presidency of the United States.

The librarians mentioned were Mr. and Mrs. H. Kane.

The bridegroom is Johan Wolkenfelt, 21. The civil ceremony will be followed later by a religious wedding. She is a Roman Catholic Annulment of Bertha's Moslem marriage four years ago to Mansoor Adabi touched off riots in Singapore.

MARRIAGE ANNULLED

Japanese invaders captured Bertha's parents 13 years ago in the Dutch East Indies. Her Malay nurse smuggled Bertha into the jungle and raised her. The Hertoghs, freed in 1954, found Bertha in 1949 living near Singapore with her Malay husband. A British court annualled the marriage and Moslems rioted in the crown colony.

Adabi, now working in Singapore, sent best wishes to the couple in December when their engagement was announced. He married a Malay girl in 1954.

FOR TUESDAY, APRIL 24, 1956

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) —Irritating situations may turn up just when time is short or there are many tasks to do. Good humor, ease, patience!

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus) —Hold out for what's truly honest and best, and you will be happy, not to mention successful. Being inwardly, conscientiously happy is of major importance. Stand by principles.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini) —One way to avoid dissension is to busy yourself with your activities and leave no time for trivialities or irritation. Maintain a steady, not hasty, pace.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer)— When you expect a person to do something and he doesn't, remember, we ALL fall into that disappointing category at times. PATIENCE and consistent application to duty will win.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo) —Don't ignore sagacious admonitions given by persons more experienced than yourself. Take sound advice good-naturedly; let it really work for you. LOGIC!

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — Your attitude toward matters generally will be the deciding factor in todays results. Many work hard, have trials, and little of the world's goods but with the right outlook, are still happy.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — Keep that disposition even; don't let others upset you; remain steadfast to what you know is your duty and what is right, and you will have many blessings today.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (Scorpio) — Keep trying — even when you meet obstacles to attainment. One often succeeds in the most unexpected manner. Anyway, the best life is the busy one

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — Take it a little easier if you have been very active or matters have crowded you lately. On the other hand, if there has been a lull, alter this, too Strike that old happy, busy medium.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — Why not review briefly to ascertain if you are on the right track or using the best methods? This often saves much time in the end. And time counts; so do energy, nerves.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — Generally your day calls for most of the precautions other zodiacal natives have but, as with them, you, too, have many advantages, and new opportunities. Be philosophical, happy.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — Heed your common sense. When the danger signal is up, don't disregard it. Wise admonitions ca nhelp if you accept them. Listen for cues.

YOU BORN TODAY have many gifts and can make friends easily but you sometimes tend to overlook another's faults because of sympathy. Be a more careful judge, or you could take on unhealthy companionships. Mining building, manufacturing, journalism, music, nursing and acting are among the fields suited to your talents. Let your conscience always guide you. You are innately unhappy in surrounding which are not harmonious. You appreciate home life, like its comforts; wish others to enjoy it. Use your practicality and persistence as God intended and you can make great progess.

Discretion Is Secret Of Elegance

By OLI DAUM
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP) — Italian-born Federica, one of Canada's leading fashion designers, has her own 10 commandments concerning the art of good grooming.

Interviewed at her salon the dark-haired, willow-slim designer said discretion is the first means of attaining elegance.

"If you notice a woman right away she is not elegantly dressed," she said. "Good taste reveals itself little by little. There should be nothing loud, elaborate or fancy to draw the eye to a costume."

Individuality should be stressed. Every woman should study her personality and buy clothes which are in tune with it.

FOR INDIVIDUALITY

"If you let your girl friends influence your choice you will reflect her tastes and become a carbon copy. You will no longer be yourself," she said. "But if oyu please yourself or your husband you will develop a more individual style."

Federica's other tips for good dressing:

Don't follow fashion blindly. If the season's style doesn't suit you, stick to the one that does.

Wear the right clothes at the right time. Fancy hats, rhinestones and black dresses are meant for after five, not daytime wear.

Choose colors that flatter you and when wearing more than one color, be sure they blend well together.

Choose accessories with the greatest care for they can enhance or ruin the ensemble's effect.

Wear as little make-up as possible. Dress to please men.

"It is a big mistake to dress for other women," Federica said. "The highest tribute a woman can get is a compliment from a man." And men usually liked women to dress conservatively.

A designer for 20 years, Federica said there is more to fashion than clothing. Her ninth commandment is to control movement.

"It isn't enough to dress elegantly," she said. "You may have a Dior original but it won't do anything for you if you don't know how to be a lady. You must walk gracefully, speak in a moderated voice and control the movements of your hands."

Last but not least, to be elegant you must smile.

"Your costume may be in excellent taste and your movements can be graceful but unless you show happiness, your dress doesn't mean a thing," the designer said.

Clad in a black, boat-necked jersey blouse and a full, black-and-beige cashmere skirt and black ballerina shoes, Federica said the working girl can be excused if she isn't always excellently groomed.

"Sometimes lack of time or the conditions under which she works make it impossible for her to be elegant but when she gives others something to compensate for her appearance and she should be forgiven," Federica said. "But for those having nothing else to do it is a duty to be constantly well groomed."

Hospital Auxiliary Postpones Bake Sale

NAKUSP—An excellent report on proceeds from the recent fashion show pleased members of the Arrow Lakes Hospital Auxiliary meeting at the home of Mrs. V. Smith. Members decided to postpone the proposed bake sale as the fashion show and hospital day are only a month apart.

Miss Keys, matron, said the electric sewing machine had arrived, and was found very satisfactory.

Child's Love For Animals To Be Cultivated

By Dr. Garry Cleveland Myers

When you look at Glotto's painting of Ct. Francis of Assisi, you get a feeling of the saint's kindliness. You think of him as very kind to all persons as well as other creatures.

We also tend to associate the finer human sensitivities with any person who is kind to dumb animals.

I could not, for instance, think of the farmer who lives nearby as ever being ugly and unkind because he is so kind to the cats and birds and other creatures. His numerous cats all have names. He talks to them as if they were persons. He also talks to the sparrows that come to him for special food in winter and light upon his head, shoulders and arms.

One wonders why one does not often see farm children cultivating such friendship with the tame and wild creatures all around them. Must they become philosophers or poets first?

It's wonderful when children from the time they can toddle enjoy watching all sorts of living creatures — ants, bees, worms, toads, turtles, squirrels and the like, without harming them. Let us remember that we are all adults and children, inclined to kill all creatures that we fear.

LOWLY CREATURES

We can teach young children to enjoy observing lowly creatures and never to harm any living thing jus for amusement.

You and I can't imagine ourselves pulling wings or legs or heads off flies just for our own amusement. Seeing another adult doing likewise would be repulsive. When young children do so, we may think nothing of it but just suppose it's because they don't know any better.

But let us begin early to train the youngster by precept and example never to torture dumb animals but to be kind and gentle toward them.

Pets can help in this direction. Yet no little child should have a creature to handle before he is old enough to be trained to handle it tenderly and carefully.

Think of all the chicks and ducklings bought for little children who soon see these helpless creatures pine away and die. Consider, too, the puppies, rabbits, and cats which tots as old as four, five or six are allowed to torture.

Proper kindness to pets usually requires more than good example and positive suggestions. It requires teaching the child some basic inhibitions and requirements. Many children are harmed morally by having pets they neglect or let other members of the family care for.

Double Duty Omelet Suited For Luncheon

By ALICE DENHOFF

HERE'S a perfect "little meal" for this time of year, for luncheon or supper: hot cream soup, hot buttered rolls, a savory green salad and a tender omelet for both protein and as a dessert.

The omelet, of course, must be of the sweet variety. This recipe for a chiffon omelet suggests a combination of the lightest cake and baked custard with a crisp top. It's filled with jam, jelly or marmalade and may be served with powdered sugar.

Chiffon Omelet has a secret to which it owes its special success—bottled carbonated beverage, either cola, ginger ale or fruit-flavored beverage makes the omelet rise to fluffy perfection. In fact if there's any left over from the first serving, store it in an airtight container and serve it later in slices. It makes a delicious chilled dessert.

Cooking a fluffy omelet may seem to be a tricky procedure, but this recipe eliminates any pitfalls if followed carefully. If a larger omelet is required, simply add an additional tablespoon of sugar and of soft drink for each extra egg. Use a larger pan and cook omelet a little longer.

SEPARATE EGGS

For 2 to 4 servings, separate 4 eggs, placing whites in a large bowl. Add a dash of salt and beat until frothy. Beat in 3 tablespoons taken from 4 tablespoons confectioners' sugar, a little at a time, until whites form soft, fluffy peaks.

In another bowl, beat egg yolks with rotary beater until thick. Add ½ teaspoon vanilla and remaining 1 tablespoon of the confectioners' sugar. Add ¼ cup carbonated beverage from a chilled freshly opened bottle, stir two or three times gently with a fork to blend.

Fold yolk mixture lgihtly into the beaten egg white.

Put tablespoon butter in frying pan (use nearest to 10 inch by 1¾ inch deep). Melt over high heat until butter just begins to brown; tip pan to coat sides.

Pour in omelet mixture and reduce heat at once to low. Cover pan and continue cooking over very low heat for about 8 minutes or until foamy center does not quake when pan is gently shaken. Run spatula around sides of pan to loosen omelet.

At right angle to handle, cut across but not through. Drop spoonfuls of jam or jelly on the half opposite the handle. Fold the omelet from the handle to the opposite side, tipping the pan and sliding the omelet onto the serving plate. Dust omelet top with powdered sugar, if desired.

Advice Given On Nursing of Measles Case

By DR. HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

WHILE measles may occur at any time during the year, this highly contagious disease usually is most prevalent in the early spring.

*Many of you mothers are prob*ably nursing youngsters through this illness right now, under the direction of your doctor. But I think a few general instructions might be of some help.

For one thing, forget about that age-old advice of keeping the patient in a dark room. Sick children need air and sunshine.

If your youngster's eyes are inflamed, you should protect them from glare, but you don't have to darken the room unless your doctor specifically orders it. Arrange the bed so the sun doesn't shine directly into the child's eyes. And keep all lamps well shaded.

Maybe your doctor will advise against permitting the young patient to read at all. If he does say it's okay for him to read, make sure the type is large and clear.

ROOM TEMPERATURE

Keep the temperature of the patient's room between 65 and 70 degrees except when the youngster is being bathed or when the doctor is visiting him. At these times you should permit the temperature to rise about 5 degrees so that your child will not be chilled when he is uncovered.

Your doctor may suggest sponge baths for your youngster to reduce his temperature. If so, the water should be lukewarm—about 90 to 95 degrees.

The physician will probably advise a special diet for the young patient. If he has a fever, the diet should be liquid or semi-liquid. As he beguns to recover, solid foods may be added, particularly those with high vitamin and iron content.

He should have plenty of fluids, including water, milk and fruit juices, throughout the illness.

Every measles victim should have a thorough physical examination within six months after his recovery. In this way, your doctor can determine whether the disease damaged the heart, lungs, kidneys or eyes. And finding out about this early enough can prevent complications.

Warriors Win WHL Laurels in Six Games With 6-3 Victory Over Canucks

Rally for Five Goals in Second Period To Cop Crown; Meet Montreal Royals in Edinburgh Cup Final Series

By AL VICKERY — Canadian Press Staff Writer

WINNIPEG (CP) — A five-goal second-period outburst gave Winnipeg Warriors a 6-3 victory over Vancouver Canucks Saturday night and the best-of-seven Western Hockey League championship by four games to two.

A record WHL crowd of 9,854 continued its cheering from the final whistle until the presentation of the Directors Cup to acting captain Billy Mosienko for winning the Prairie division and the presentation of the President's Cup to general-manager Jack Perrin for winning the league playoffs.

Warriors now oppose Montreal of the Quebec League for the Edinburgh Trophy. The best-of-seven series will be played in the west, with the first game at Edmonton April 27, the second at Calgary April 28 and the next three at Winnipeg April 30, May 1 and 3. The Winnipeg Arena is not available for the opening games.

FIRST-YEAR VICTORY

Warriors, a first-year club in the WHL, won the second, third, fifth and sixth games of the league final.

Saturday night left winger Eddie Mazur paced the Winnipeg attack with two goals, with singles going to Billy Mosienko, Gary Aldcorn, Chuck Lumsden and Mike Nykoluk. Ray Cyr, Phil Maloney and Tom McCarthy scored for Vancouver.

Vancouver took a 2-0 lead in the first period but fell back when Warriors counted four goals in less than four minutes, then added another about eight minutes later before Canucks counted again. Winnipeg tallied the only goal of the final session.

Six penalties were handed out in the rugged, hard-hitting contest—two majors and a minor to each club.

STOP WARRIORS' ATTACK

After a shaky start, goalie Ed Chadwick of Winnipeg stopped 21 shots while Vancouver netminder Ray Mikulan handled 18.

Canucks opened the scoring at 4:35 when Cyr broke away from a scramble after taking a pass from Les Lilley behind the Winnipeg net, and sent a screened drive past Chadwick. Warriors were shorthanded when Maloney completed a smart passing play from George Ford and Mark Marquess at 3:54. Maloney, voted the league's most valuable player, made no mistake on his short shot to the inside corner.

The hard-checking Canucks kept the Winnipeg passing attack from getting started for the remainder of the first period, but the Coast champions defence collapsed early in the second. Mosienko put Warriors on the scoreboard at 2:34 when his flip shot hit the inside of Mikulan's left pad and went into the net.

THE NEEDED SPARK

It was all they needed. One minute and 23 seconds later Aldcorn tied the score at 2-2. Taking a pass out from the corner from Canuck Gordie Hudson and rapping the puck past the surprised Mikulan.

Mazur sent Winnipeg in front at 5:53 on the smoothest goal of the night as he was sent into the clear by Mosienko. Lumsden beat two Vancouver defenders to a pass-out at the blueline and then rifled a waist-high shot into the net at 6:30. Nykoluk broke with Barry Cullen to score at 14:09 to put them three up before McCarthy outraced Danny Summers for a loose puck then beat Chadwick from close in at 18:50.

Mazur restored the three-goal margin at 2:35 in the third period when he took Skippy Burchell's rebound off the side boards, dug through the defence and blasted the puck home.

Vancouver held most of the play in the remaining minutes as Warriors sat back to protect the lead, but solid defensive play and smart goal-keeping by Chadwick held Canucks at bay.

REPORT INCREASE OF REGISTERED AMATEUR SKIERS

ROSSLAND, B.C. (CP) — A "substantial" increase in the number of registered amateur skiers was reported here Saturday by Henry Sotvedt, technical chairman of the Western Division of the Canadian Amateur Ski Association.

He said 269 seniors and 137 juniors registered for competition.

Delegates from 15 western clubs were on hand for the weekend meeting.

Mr. Sotvedt said there was a need for greater activity in cross-country competition and noted that central B.C. skiers have not been especially active.

Maroons Flee From Vernon Hospitality

VERNON (CP) — In a surprise move possibly aimed at standing off the over-generous spirit of Vernon residents, coach Murph Chamberlain of Chatham Maroons moved his entire hockey team out of Vernon Sunday into seclusion.

The team's location was kept a closely-guarded secret. Club officials asked newspaper men and the public not to search out the new quarters.

Stan Thompson, vice-president of the eastern Canada finalists in the Allan Cup series, said the move was solely a question of "keeping the team together and of maintaining the proper mental attitude."

The Maroons have been staying in Vernon's biggest hotel and it was believed club officials were concerned that some Vernon citizens, over-anxious to play host to the visitors, might lead them from the straight-and-narrow.

Team officials will remain here.

NOTHING TO SAY

Besides moving his team out of reach, Chamberlain forbade the players to talk to reporters and he himself declined all comment following Chatham's 6-2 whipping Saturday night at the hands of the Canadians.

The best of seven series now is tied 1-1 in games, with the third game going tonight at Kelowna.

Chamberlain, who had chatted with sports writers following the Maroons' 7-0 victory in the first game, slipped away quickly after Saturday night's fixture and refused to talk Sunday with newsmen.

Playing-coach George Agar of Vernon was exulted over his team's victory.

"That was the team we've been used to seeing in action," Agar said of his Canadians. He said he was happy with most of the players' performances and thought the Canadians played a smarter game than the Maroons did.

He declined to make predictions about how the series will go from here.

SAME LINEUP

He is expected to go into tonight's game with the same lineup as on Saturday night, including Yogi Kraiger of the WIHL Trail Smoke Eaters on defence. Kraiger was brought in when Merv Bidoski was sidelined with a knee injury.

Willie Schmidt, who suffered head and eyebrow cuts when he met up with Ted Power's raised stick late in the game, is also expected to be in the Canadian lineup.

Power himself is a question mark. He may be given a one-game suspension for the raised-stick act. Dr. Mel Butler, series convener, said he has forwarded reports on the incident to Jimmy Dunn of Winnipeg, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, for action.

Canadien Jrs. Still Kicking; Bump Marlboros in Sixth Game

TORONTO (CP)—Junior Montreal Canadiens staved off a desperate Toronto Marlboro attack Sunday and won 3-2 to prolong the eastern Canada Memorial Cup hockey final.

Canadiens took a 3-0 lead in the second period and appeared headed for an easy victory but Marlboros fought back with two goals before the period ended.

A crowd of 9,952 fans watched Toronto bombard the Montreal net in the final 20 minutes but Marlboros couldn't get the puck behind goaltender Ed Johnston.

The win was Canadiens' second in the best-of-seven final, which Marlboros lead three games to two, with one tie. Seventh game is scheduled for tonight at Montreal. The winner meets Regina Pats in the Canadian junior final.

Michel Legace, Claude Ruel and Ralph Backstrom scored for Canadiens with Ken Girard and Al MacNeil firing goals for Toronto.

Johnston was sensational in the final period as Marlboros tried doggedly to tie the game. A deadlock would have given them the series. The tall Montreal netminder kicked out 13 shots in the last stanza, most of them fine scoring chances.

He kicked aside a total of 30 shots. Bob Senior, substitute goaltender for Marlboros, stopped 27 drives. Senior was allowed to play for Toronto after Len Broderick suffered torn muscles in his shoulder in the fifth game at Montreal last week. Senior played with Barrie Flyers during the regular Ontario Hockey Association Junior A League season. Flyers were eliminated by Marlboros in the OHA finals.

Agree to Hold Team Trials In Banff Area

ROSSLAND, B.C. (CP) — The western division of the Canadian Amateur Ski Association agreed at a meeting here Sunday that trials for Canadian teams aspiring to Olympic and international events should be held in the Banff area.

Chairman Saul Rothman's resolution, approved by the meeting, said terrain and ski conditions around Banff are comparable with those where international events are usually held.

Another resolution from Rothman asked that the definition of amateur status be changed to permit part-time instructors to receive payments not to exceed "reasonable" expenses.

A resolution from Camrose, Alta., supported by the Edmonton Club suggested that the western division split into two organizations — one for Alberta, another for B.C.

Northern Alberta delegates said the distances between ski centres in the two provinces made it difficult and expensive to gain full benefit from meetings and clinics.

Other delegates said the split would weaken the western section of the association. Officials said they would try to make some improvements before the fall meeting takes up the subject again

A junior committee report recommended that alpine and nordic team events be emphasized, rather than four-way team events.

The meeting favored sending a Canadian team to the FIS meet in Austria next year.

Officers elected were: J. N. Robinson of Trail, B.C., president; Gary Blackburn of Calgary, vice-president; Evelyn Erving of Kamloops, B.C., secretary; Edith Bawtree of Vancouver, treasurer; Henry Sotvedt of Vancouver, chairman of technical and jumping committees; Al Menzies, alpine chairman; Bob Bartley, junior chairman; and Rothman, constitution, rules and resolutions chairman.

AIRMAN SETS ONE RECORD, TIES ANOTHER

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Thane Baker, 24-year-old airman, beat one world track record and tied another at the Ohio State University relays Saturday.

He ran the 300-yard dash in 29.4 seconds — four-tenths better than the record set by Herb McKenley of Jamaica in 1946.

Baker ran the 100-yard dash in 9.3 seconds. Officials said this won't be officially entered as tying the world record because the trailing wind was in excess of eight miles an hour.

The 300-yard time may be submitted for a record because part of the race was run against the wind.

Vernon Bounces Maroons in Second Game

Full Reversal of Form By Vernon Ties Series

VERNON, B. C. (CP) — Vernon Canadians called on sheer power and hustle to beat Chatham Maroons 6-2 here Saturday night and square the best-of-seven Allan Cup final at a game each.

For 3,300 Vernon fans the win atoned for a 7-1 drubbing the eastern champions handed out in the opening game Thursday.

The series continues in Kelowna tonight.

The Maroons, as in the first game, grabbed a 1-0 lead in the first period and appeared the sharper club. But the western champs mustered a tremendous drive in the second period to outscore them 5-1 and assume a solid three-goal lead.

They maintained the relentless pressure in the third and refused to give the visitors an opening while boosting the count to 6-2 and outshooting them 15-3. Maroons mustered only eight shots on goalie Hal Gordon in the last 40 minutes while the Canadians tested Marv Edwards with 33.

DRIVING FORCE

Captain Johnny Harms was the driving force in the Vernon victory firing three goals and sparking the attack every time he was on the ice: Brian Roche, Merv Bidoski and Frank King bagged the others with Bidoski drawing two assists in a sparkling performance.

Bill Chalmers and Eddie Busch replied for the Maroons, who could not get untracked after the first period in the face of Vernon pressure.

Chatham utilized a hooking penalty to Jack Macdonald to take the lead before the game was 11 minutes old. Bill Chalmers found a narrow net opening with a screened shot that never left the ice.

Brian Roche, picked up for the series from Kelowna Packers, evened matters at the 1:48 mark of the second with a 15-foot screen shot to the short side after Bidoski dug his own rebound out of the corner.

A tripping penalty to Billy Flick backfired on Vernon five minutes later when Eddie Busch broke up a Canadian attack in the centre zone and split the defence to beat Gordon on the short side at 7:16 just as Flick was returning to the ice.

It was Chatham's last good thrust as the determined Canadians poured on the attack.

Harms made it 2-2 with his first one at 9:08, teeing up a King pass and finding the corner from 35 feet.

VERNON GOES AHEAD

Bidoski was in at 15:19 to give the Canadians their first lead in the series and the winner. The speedy youngster snatched up Tom Stecyk's point shot rebound and flipped it over the sprawled Edwards.

King made it 4-2 with a push-in of Odie Lowe's passout at 18:06 but still the Canadians kept coming. Nineteen seconds before the end of the period Harms drove in again.

He pushed in Bidoski's rebound to make it 5-2, Harms completed the scoring and his hat-trick at 13:14 when he let fly with a high screen shot from the boards that eluded Edwards. Maroons were a man short at the time after Edwards himself had been called for tripping.

The relatively-clean game almost erupted into serious trouble in the final three seconds of play when Schmidt charged Ted Power from the face-off and was felled by a hard blow to the head.

Canadian players swarmed after Power in a body and only the intervention of the Maroon bench protected him from Schmidt's team mates.

Power was given a match penalty for a deliberate attempt to injure while Schmidt took two minutes for charging.

The Chatham player faces a possible suspension for his action pending study of the referees' report by CAHA representative Mel Butler of Kelowna.

Canadians took seven of the 11 penalties assessed.

Lineups:

Chatham—goal, Edwards; defence, Zorica, Kotanen, Blair, Unger; forwards, Baldwin, Busch, Joyce, Bendo, Power, Connelly, Chalmers, Ferguson, Viskelis.

Red Sox Falter Twice; Yanks Sweep Series

By The Associated Press

New York Yankees have turned back the first challenge of the youthful Boston Red Sox who came into Yankee Stadium with a perfect record and left Sunday night with three straight defeats.

Jittery fielding hurt the Red Sox who fought back both Saturday and Sunday to overcome long Yankee leads only to blow the games in the late stages.

Despite a grand slam homer by pitcher Don Larsen of the Yanks in the third, Boston came back to tie the score at 6-6 in Sunday's game only to bow 13-6 when the Sox were guilty of five errors.

Mickey Mantle's two-run double and Yogi Berra's two-run homer put the crusher on reliefer Frank Baumann in the seventh. Three more Yankee runs scored in the eighth on only one hit — a single Billy Pierce turned in a brilliant three-hitter to shut out Kansas City 3-0 and win a tight duel with Alex Kellner. It was Chicago's fourth victory in five games and a fast recovery from Saturday's crushing 15-1 defeat. Nellie Fox hit a home run in the eighth for the first run of the afternoon.

LEMON GOES DISTANCE

Bob Lemon finally went the route for Cleveland for the first time since last May 30 to give Cleveland a second game edge over Detroit 5-2 and an even break for the day. Al Kaline hit two homers in Detroit's 6-4 victory in the opener.

Baltimore and Washington, picked to fight it out for the cellar in the American League, split a doubleheader at Baltimore. Rookie Fred Basana, with relief help, managed his first major league win in the first game 7-3 but Cuban Camilo Pascual held the Orioles to four hits as Washington got even by taken the second 4-1.

Don Newcombe got on the beam with his first 1956 victory for Brooklyn, a rain-shortened 4-1 decision at Pittsburgh. Newk allowed only three hits in a game called on account of rain early in the seventh. At first, Pittsburgh announced it was protesting because the start was delayed 39 minutes when a drizzle was falling but later the protest was withdrawn.

PHILS, GIANTS SPLIT

Robin Roberts made it two in a row for the Phillies, beating Johnny Antonelli of New York Giants 3-1 in the first game. The Giants' lefty allowed only three hits but one was a homer by Ted Kazanski with two on in the second. The Giants took the second 9-7 on a three-run homer by Willie Mays and a timely single by Daryl Spencer.

After St. Louis scored eight runs in the sixth inning to slug Milwaukee 10-4 the Braves came back to club the Cardinals 13-5. Stan Musial started the big inning for St. Louis with a single and later cleared the bases with a grand slam homer. Hank Aaron and Del Rice homered among Milwaukees 16 hits in the second game.

Chicago included home runs by Ernie Banks, Monte Irvin and Solly Drake among their four hits in a 5-4 edge over Cincinnati in the first game. The second finished in a 1-1 tie, called at the end of the seventh on account of darkness at Wrigley Field. The Cubs had the second game in the bag with a 1-0 lead in the seventh when pitcher Bob Rush walked Ray Jablonski with the bases full Chicago had only two hits in the second game, both by Hobie Landrith, former Cincy catcher.

Aging Ezzard Charles Winner in Windsor

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — Former world's heavyweight boxing champion Ezzard Charles from Cincinnati, Ohio, making his first ring appearance since Dec. 29, scored a technical knockout over Don Jasper of Duluth, Minn., in a scheduled 10-round bout here Saturday night.

Referee Johnny Weber of Detroit stopped the fight at the 2:46 mark of the ninth round after Charles' deadly punches had broken Jasper's nose in two places and opened up deep cuts over his right eye and the base of his nose. Blood was flowing freely from all three injuries when the action-packed bout was finally halted.

The 25-year-old Jasper, a former railway worker with only 21 professional fights behind him, was facing his first "name" opponent. Forcing the fight in the early rounds, he fought courageously in a vain attempt to upset his favored opponent. He tossed more punches than the ex-champion but Charles, using past experience and defensive skills to good advantage, was never in any serious trouble.

There were no knockdowns and only once, in the sixth round, did Charles stagger Jasper. Charles weighed 195, four pounds more than Jasper.

The fight attracted 3275 paid admissions and a gross gate of $6870.

Jockey's Protest Nets Triumph for Head Man

NEW YORK (AP) — Head Man, his perfect three-year-old record still intact thanks to a successful foul claim, entrains for Louisville today where he'll join Career Boy to give C. V. Whitney a powerful one-two punch in the May 5 running of the $125,000 Kentucky Derby.

The stretch - running roan son of Eight Thirty was beaten 2½ lengths by Golf Ace, a non-Derby eligible, in the 1⅛-mile $61,000 Wood Memorial at Jamaica Saturday.

But almost before the last of the field of eight three-year-olds had finished the race, Eddie Arcaro lodged a claim of foul against Tony Despirito, who was up on Golf Ace from the Winding Way farm. He claimed Golf Ace carried Head Man wide as the Whitney colt made his bid for the lead an eighth of a mile from home.

After looking at the pictures and deliberating for 10 minutes, the stewards agreed with Eddie. So Arcaro will go after his sixth Kentucky Derby triumph aboard a colt who has won all three starts this year and seems to be improving with each outing. The time for the Wood was 1:50 1-5, only one-fifth of a second slower than Correlation's stake record.

Trainer Syl Veitch, who left for Lexington, Ky., Sunday to saddle Career Boy for the Blue Grass stakes at Keeneland Thursday, said Head Man probably will get his final prep for the Derby in the mile of the Derby trial May 1.

Head Man was the only eligible horse who showed enough in either the Wood or Laurel's Chesapeake stakes—a mile and one-sixteenth race for three-year-olds—to rate a trip to Derbytown.

Whitney and Veitch had hopes of sending out three horses in the run for the Roses but Born Mighty wound up a well beaten third in the Chesapeake and was returned to his New York barn.

Frosty Mr., not eligible for any of the triple crown races unless he is made a supplementary entry for the Preakness and Belmont stakes, turned in a real surprise in the Chesapeake. He beat Kingmaker, eligible only for the Preakness, by a length and paid a whopping $200.80 for $2.

Ron Coulter To Represent B. C. in Finals

VANCOUVER (CP) — Ronnie Coulter of Victoria coming through with scores of 222, 233 and 184 in his last three games, won the right to represent British Columbia in the Canadian tenpin finals at Winnipeg May 5 and 6.

Winner of that series enters the masters tournament May 14 to 17 in Rochester, N. Y.

Coulter rolled a 24-game aggregate of 4,482 to beat George Ornst of Vancouver, who wound up with 4,393.

Third was Mickey Duina of Vancouver, who picked up after a bad start to finish with 4,318 which included the top single of the weekend shooting, a big 256.

Earl Conley of New Westminster, who led at the half-way mark, wound up fourth with 4,281; Gordy Beecroft of Kamloops was fifth with 4,280; Charlie Stephens of Courtenay came sixth with 4,241; Len Murrant of Victoria was seventh with 4,028, and Jack Muzzin of Nanaimo eighth with 4,026.

Nelson Teams Win Volleyball Tourney

After seven hours of battle Saturday morning and afternoon, the girls and boys volleyball teams from L.V. Rogers High School had emerged victorious in the West Kootenay High School Volleyball Tournament.

The Nelson squads both finished first, undefeated, with eight points each. In boys competition, Castlegar was second with six points; Trail and Rossland tied with two and Salmo brought up the rear with no points.

Trail and Castlegar girls' teams both notched four points, while Salmo and Rossland each earned two.

All games were exciting and very close.

GIANTS SELL TWO

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — New York Giants Saturday sold utility infielder Billy Gardner to Baltimore Orioles and catcher Ray Murray to Dallas of the Texas League.

Gardner, a 28-year-old six-footer, will report to Orioles immediately. The sale price was not announced but it was believed Orioles paid $20,000.

Murray, a 35-year-old veteran from Forth Worth, Texas, was brought from Dallas last year with the proviso that if he didn't play in the majors he would be sold to Dallas.

RACING DRIVER KILLED

LANGHORNE, Pa. (AP)—John McVitty, a 32-year-old stock car racing driver, was killed Saturday when his car rolled over at Langhorne Speedway here.

McVitty of Raleigh, N. C., was in a qualifying run for Sunday's 150-mile grand National stock car race when the wreck occurred.

Fear of Credit Tightening Leads To Caution on Canadian Markets

By PATRICK FELLOWS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Belief that stock prices are vulnerable after an advance of several weeks without any significant consolidation movement kept markets at Toronto, Montreal and New York moving cautiously last week.

Business news remained bullish and there was a spate of higher earnings reports together with a bureau of statistics announcement that Canadian corporation profits soared by $426,000,000 last year to a record $1,656,000,000.

A brighter international situation was interpreted as bullish.

But recent moves by central banks in Canada and the United States in boosting discount rates and warnings by observers that the market's strength made it susceptible to bearish factors kept traders subdued. Futher credit-tightening measures were feared.

BOND PRICES DROP

The anti-inflationary measures were felt heavily in the bond market during the week as prices fell as much as $3.75. Bonds were depressed all week and sank further after announcement that the chartered banks had increased interest rates on loans to business and individuals.

Another indication of traders expecting lower prices was a sharp increase in short positions reported by all exchanges. At Toronto, the shorts rose 32 per cent over the previous two-week period.

However, the market broke lose in a late splurge of buying in speculative coppers on the Canadian exchanges. Gains up to 50 cents were recorded Friday and at the close the buying spree was in full swing.

Industrials turned irregularly upward in the final session, reflecting some of the enthusiasm at New York where prices marked up their best advance in a month.

The gains, however, did not quite balance the week's losses.

Selected papers were strong. Great Lakes, with a major expansion program in hand, gained $2.25.

Dearer loans were reflected favorably in bank stocks but Imperial moved against the trend.

GASPE BIG WINNER

Gaspe was again the big winner in mines, jumping $6 to $54. Lithium issues won attention as Quebec Lithium added $1.50. Losses ranged to $2.25 by Campbell Chibougamau.

Sullivan climbed $1 in golds. Rare Earth moved up 90 cents in uraniums while Consolidated Denison and Beaucage also gained smartly.

Bailey-Selburn, up $1.62, and Merrill Pete, up $1.25 led western oils higher.

Week's index changes at Toronto: Industrials down .61 to 473.96, golds up .80 to 88.38, base metals up 1.18 to 247.31 and western oils up 1.80 to 155.93.

Week's volumes: 52,473,000 shares against 50,732,000 the previous week

At New York, the Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down 20 cents at $188.70.

Week's index changes at Montreal: banks up .63 at 56.69, utilities down .50 at 136.60, industrials down 5.80 at 318.90, combined down 4.10 at 258.10, papers down 22.68 at 1,573.58 and golds up 1.54 at 86.01.

Week's volumes: 515,297 industrials and 10,976,926 mines against previous week's 481,140 industrials and 13,112,842 mines.

Press Favors Understanding With Russians

LONDON (Reuters)—The Manchester Guardian says Britain should show a readiness to reach agreement during the talks here with Soviet Premier Bulganin and Communist party boss Khrushchev.

The newspaper adds, however, "whatever we agree with the Russians, we must agree on still more with the Americans.'

In general, the newspaper agrees with a surprise call in the Daily Express for Britain to recognize that the Russians are sincerely seeking peace instead of war.

The London News-Chronicle suggests that Britain can ease her military defences only when Russia proves by deeds she will do the same.

COULD HELP HER PEOPLE

"Indeed, to give her people a better life, there is the chance she will,' the newspaper says.

The Daily Mail quotes authoritative sources that the visiting Russians have shown signs of moving toward the British view of a number of major problems.

The Daily Herald says that the Middle East problem is the one on which there is the most chance of "getting somewhere" during the talks.

A slashing attack on the British press coverage of the Russians' visit comes from the Communist Daily Worker. It says reporters have minimized the warmth of the reception accorded Bulganin and Khrushchev.

Immigration Department Questioned On Ruling Against British Gardener

DUNCAN, B. C. (CP) — The Cowichan Agricultural Society said it is going to seek a review of an Immigration Department ruling which prevented a British agricultural worker from coming to work on the farm of K. F. Sewell in this Vancouver Island district.

The Society will ask the Canadian Federation of Agriculture to intercede with the immigration department on the behalf of R. R. Ross, of Evesham, Worcestershire, Eng., a market gardener who was not allowed entry into Canada after selling his business and travelling across the Atlantic with his family.

Mr. Sewell, to whose farm Ross was coming to work, told a meeting of the Society that the English immigrant suffered a bump on the head soon after the ship he was aboard left England.

FOUND UNCONSCIOUS

He was found unconscious on the deck and removed to the ship's hospital where the ship doctor diagnosed the cause of the accident as an epileptic seizure. As a result, when the ship arrived in Canada immigration officials refused admission to Mr. Ross, his wife and children.

Mr. Sewell said that the port doctor, after a lengthy examination, failed to find anything wrong with Mr. Ross' health and interceded with Ottawa to have the man admitted but failed.

Appeals by Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, Progressive Conservative MP for Esquimalt-Saanish, to Immigration Minister Pickersgill also failed to change the ruling.

Mr. Sewell produced a letter from Mr. Ross' family physician in England which said there was nothing wrong with his health, and disclosed no record of epileptic seizures.

Says Vancouver Hard City To Evacuate

ABBOTSFORD, B.C. (CP) — Maj.-Gen. F. F. Worthington, civil defence co-ordinator, said here "Vancouver will be the hardest city in Canada to evacuate."

He told representatives from 13 Fraser Valley cities and municipalities meeting here that Vancouver evacuation problems are similar to those of Manhattan and Boston.

The federal co-ordinator said that smaller communities such as those in the Fraser Valley will have a tremendous role to play in the event of military attack.

The municipalities said the federal government has still not announced an official "survival policy."

Gen. Worthington told the representatives that "evacuation is the only possible disaster formula for major centres."

Bars to Close Early in State Of Victoria

MELBOURNE, Australia (CP)—The state of Victoria has voted overwhelmingly in favor of retaining the 6 o'clock closing of liquor bars.

The referendum was to decide whether liquor bars should close at 6 o'clock or 10 o'clock at night.

Majority for 6 o'clock closing was about 275,000 out of a total vote of 1,250,000.

The vote took many Australians by surprise because at the liquor closing referendum in the adjoining state of New South Wales 15 months ago the people voted overwhelmingly in favor of 10 o'clock closing of bars.

SOME ARE JUBILANT

Temperance and church leaders are jubilant over the result in Victoria. Olympic Games organizers and many business people are disappointed because they say the later closing hour would have made Melbourne a much brighter city for world tourists during the Olympic Games.

The leader of the Russian Olympic Games committee, at present in Melbourne, Vladimir Smirnov, was asked to comment on the referendum. He said:

"I am sure Russian Games visitors will have the good manners to put up with this strange local custom without rudeness. In Russia drink is not regarded as an evil, but as something to enjoy. Why do you torture yourselves with these strange laws?"

Four-Inches Snow In Nova Scotia

HALIFAX (CP) — Nova Scotia's snowfall record hit a new high Saturday morning when a disturbance from the south blanketed the eastern part of the province with nearly four inches of snow.

The storm raised the season's total to 137.6 inches, 7.4 inches more than the record set in 1917-18.

No serious accidents or communications tie-ups were reported. Buses, trains and planes were running on schedule.

John Howard Society Director Retires

VANCOUVER (CP) — Rev. J. Dinnage Hobden has retired after 25 years as executive director of the John Howard Society and a career of rehabilitation among penal institutions.

Dr. Hobden guided the John Howard Society since it was formed here in 1931, the first in North America.

Tribute was paid to the retiring director by Justice Minister Garson, who addressed the evening meeting, by Attorney-General Robert Bonner and Bishop A. H. Sovereign, another of the men responsible for founding the Society here.

Dr. Hobden said the outstanding job of the Society has been "winning the respect and regard of members of the judiciary, police and government and prison officials — and the good will of the prison inmates and general public."

Autherine Lucy Weds Dallas Parson

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Autherine Lucy, whose attempts to become the first Negro to enter the University of Alabama ended in expulsion following campus race riots, was married here Sunday. The groom is Rev. H. C. Foster, a student minister attending Butler College in Tyler, Tex.

Mrs. Foster has said that in making her home in Texas she is not abandoning her fight to re-enter the University of Alabama.

Regards Japan as Trading Partner

TOKYO (AP)—George McIvor, chief commissioner of the Canadian wheat board, Saturday referred to Japan as "one of Canada's most important trading partners" and said Canada is anxious to fill Japan's purchasing needs.

McIvor came here with A. M. Millard, manager of the wheat board's Calgary office. He said Japan during the last three years has tripled exports to Canada and narrowed the trade gap between the two countries from 9 to 1 in favor of Canada to 2 to 1.

The two Canadian in the next 10 days will meet with the grain importers, millers and bakers who make Japan one of Canada's major wheat customers.

Decline in Auto Output Hovers Like Cloud Over U. S. Business

By WALTER BREEDE Jr.

NEW YORK (AP) — Experts from the United States government and private industry took the measure of the boom last week — and found it still growing.

Steel production in the week ended April 14 reached a record high of 2,483,000 tons.

Department store sales, coming back strong after a post-Easter slump showed a 15 per cent gain over the comparable week of 1955. Retail leaders said the outlook for the rest of the year was rosy.

At annual stockholder meetings, company after company reported record highs in profits and sales for the first three months this year.

Top Washington officials hinted that with the boom going full blast there was little likelihood that the federal government would ease up on credit restrictions now.

EXPECT NO TAX CUT

Hopes for tax reduction faded. The government's latest "take" in corporate and personal income taxes was so big that congressional experts predicted a $2,000,000,000 surplus in the federal budget. But, they said, even with this huge flow of dollars coming in, a tax cut now would only fan inflationary fires.

Business as measured in terms of the gross national product—the value of goods and services produced — hit a record annual rate of $339,000,000,000 in January-February-March. That compares with a yearly pace of $397,000,000,000 in the final 1955 quarter.

There was an off-key note, however. Washington experts pointed out that the increase in gross national product in the first three months this year was due in large part to rising prices. Industrial production, which had sparked the record rise in 1955, tapered off in the first three months of 1956.

One source of worry was the continued downturn in the auto industry. Production of new cars in the first quarter was down 20 per cent from a year ago.

Capital spending by big business moved prominently into the spotlight this week as one of the sturdiest props of prosperity in 1956. The giant American Telephone and Telegraph Company told its stockholders that the big utility has budgeted more than $2,000,000,000 for expansion this year — the greatest sum ever to be spent by any corporation in a single year.

Ancient Sword for St. John's Museum

ST. JOHNS, Nfld. (CP) — A rusty two-centuries-old sword will be among the more important exhibits on display when the Newfoundland museum opens soon.

It was used in 1696 by Captain Nicholas Peddle, a resident of Harbor Grace, to repel the only Frenchman who succeeded in landing on Carbonear island from an attacking warship.

Local historian A. O'Reilly said the sword "represents more than anything else the soul of Newfoundland." He compared it to the American flag which inspired Francis Scott Key to write the "Star Spangled Banner."

"Both the sword and the flag typify the spirit of fighting people," he said.

The weapon was given to the museum by the Peddle family of Britol's Cove at Harbor Grace, descendants of Capt. Peddle. It has been in the Peddle family for 260 years.

"Meanest" Thief Takes Gold Medal

MILAN, Italy (AP) — The meanest thief in town has stolen an Olympic champion's gold medal and Olympic uniform.

Lamberto Dalla Costa of Italy won the medal when he raced his two-man bobsled down the dangerous glare-ice run at the 1956 winter Olympics. He told police the medal and uniform were stolen from his parked car.

To Ratify Kamloops Gas Agreement

KAMLOOPS (CP) — A recommendation that Kamloops enter an agreement with Inland Natural Gas Co. Ltd. for the distribution of natural gas in the city will be ratified by City Council Wednesday.

Mayor J. E. Fitzwater, commenting on the decision, said it was not precipitated by any local action or pressure.

"This is in reference to the Kamloops and District Board of Trade request this week that a decision be made before April 25," he said.

Council received a recommendation from its consulting engineer at Calgary that it would be advantageous to accept Inland's proposal.

Oxford Students Sing "Poor Old Joe" And Play Practical Joke On Russians

OXFORD, England (Reuters)—Biosterous students of Oxford University today gave Russia's Nikolai Bulganin and Nikita Khrushchev the noisiest reception of their British visit—and the theme song of their greeting was "Poor Old Joe."

The song is sung to the tune of the American folk melody Old Black Joe and has identical words except that "poor old Joe" is substituted in the frefrain.

The song—a pointed reference to the now dishonored Stalin—was sung loudly and good naturedly as the Soviet leaders arrived for a two-hour visit. It was interspersed with boos and cheers.

The refrain followed them around the cloistered university when they went on a sightseeing tour with the vice-chancellor, Dr. A. H. Smith. Students trailed after them everywhere or perched on walls clapping their hands.

Khrushchev grinned and waved. Bulganin gave a boxer's victory salute with hands clasped above his head, and once patted the face of a student who said "good-bye" to him in Russian.

There were shouts of student glee when a thunderous explosion sent Russian and British security officers racing down a passageway. They came out sheepishly with the remnants of a large firecracker. It was let off a few seconds after the visitors had passed.

Small Theatre Kept Going by Classics

OSOYOOS, B.C. (CP)—Eddie Jette is keeping his small, 390-seat theatre alive by offering residents of this interior B. C. farming town the "classics" in moving pictures done up with legitimate-theatre trimmings.

Once every three or four weeks Jette provides a serious movie. The candy bar and popcorn machines are covered and banked with flowers and Jette, in full evening dress, welcomes the patrons.

Encouraged by teachers and community leaders because of the quality of the films, Jette says the single program helps keep his movie house competing with bigger theatres nearby.

Russians Join British in Royal Salute

WINDSOR, England (Reuters)—Russian warships visiting Britain Saturday joined Britons in a 30th birthday salute to the Queen.

The Soviet vessels, which brought Nikolai Bulganin and Nikita Khrushchev to Portsmouth this week, joined British warships in Portsmouth harbor in firing birthday salutes at noon.

The ships of both nations were dressed with masthead flags for the occasion.

The Queen celebrated her birthday quietly at Windsor Castle. Prince Charles and Princess Anne were the only members of the Royal Family with her this morning.

NO OFFICIAL DUTIES

There were no official engagements in the royal diary. After watching the changing of the guard, the Queen went riding with her children in Windsor Great Park and forest.

IDEAL WEATHER

The weather was ideal and the Royal party enjoyed their gallop of several miles under sunny skies.

A 21-gun salute was fired in the Long Walk at the castle at noon and bells of St. George's chapel pealed at intervals throughout the day.

The Duke of Edinburgh was due back in Windsor in time for a small family luncheon and later in the day the Queen Mother and Princess Margaret were also to join the party.

The duke has been in Germany for the silver wedding anniversary of his eldest sister, Princess Margarita von Hohenlohe-Lagenburg, while the Queen Mother and Princess Margaret flew this morning to Norfolk village for the wedding of Lady Anne Coke, a maid of honor at the Coronation and a personal friend of the Royal Family.

SUDBURY, Ont. (CP) — Police at Massey, 60 miles west of here, said Friday 100 dynamite caps may be in the hands of school children who do not realize their danger. Chief Constable George Burnside said one boy was believed to have found a box of 100 caps and distributed them among his friends. Teachers are searching all pupils.

Movie Gossip...

Nothing Dates More Quickly and Permanently Than Early Comedies

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Twentieth Century, which appeared on TV, offers a good lesson in how American tastes in comedy have changed.

It wasn't a good show. Some critics placed the blame on Orson Welles, Betty Grable was not an ideal casting as the volatile actress.

But there were other reasons besides casting that made the show fail to jell. I think perhaps the main factor was that the play was dated.

Twentieth Century harks back to the '30s, which were the heyday of comedy in the American theatre. That was when Hecht and MacArthur, Kaufman and Hart and the Spewacks and others were turning out hilarious hits. Among the great plays of that era: Once in a Liftime, Of Thee I Sing, Boy Meets Girl, You Cant Take It With You, Three Men on a Horse, The Man Who Came to Dinner, Arsenic and Old Lace.

Though we look back on the comedies of that era with much fondness I doubt if many would stand up under the demands of today's tastes. The fact is that styles in comedy change, just as all styles do.

If any common theme of those comedies of the '30s can be found, it is perhaps that they concerned slightly wacky people doing eccentric things. In the case of 20th Century, the stories were peopled with screwy characters: A mad showman, a tempestuous actress, an alcoholic press agent, an evangelistic lunatic, two actors in long beards, an apoplectic conductor, etc. All did outlandish things, so there was no semblance of reality

The more recent comedy hits on Broadway are different. For the most part, they deal with real people and real problems. In Teahouse of The August Moon, the clash of Oriental and Western philosophies is depicted with hilarious results. In No Time for Sergeants, the effort to integrate a highly individualistic hillbilly into military life caused a laugh riot.

Some of the biggest laughs on the stage have been in shows with a high dramatic value, like A Streetcar Named Desire, Picnic, Bus Stop, Diary of Anne Frank.

Audiences now are more sophisticated, more concerned with the world's problems. Comedy now must have a purpose, a reality.

SOUTHAMPTON (CP) — Msihreelal Jaiswal, 33-year-old son of an Indian rajah who is cycling around the world, left here Saturday in the liner Franconia for the United States and Canada. He has already covered 56,000 miles since leaving home in 1952. He expects to return to India at the end of next year.

Garson Agrees On Probation For Offenders

By GRAHAM McMULLIN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER (CP) — Justice Minister Garson says he favors more probation and fewer prison terms.

In an interview following an address to the John Howard Society's 25th anniversary meeting, Mr. Garson said:

"My own opinion is that absence of probation is unwise both from the standpoint of reforming the offender and saving the taxpayer money."

A four-man committee headed by Mr. Justice Gerald Fauteux of the Supreme Court of Canada is preparing a report on Canada's method of remitting jail sentences.

Mr. Garson said it may be Canada is putting a far greater percentage of her criminals in prison than is the practice in other countries.

Mr. Garson said he agreed with Thomas Dewey, former governor of New York, who held that society is entering a new era in crime control and correction.

He quoted from a 1953 statement by Mr. Dewey that said psychiatry, casework therapy, and the growing sciences of penology and criminology offer a new vantage point to attack an age-old problem.

Vocational training for prisoners in five of eight federal penitentiaries has succeeded to the extent that less than 30 per cent of criminals released in the last eight years have fallen back into crime, Mr. Garson said.

Whites To Represent Blacks At Capetown

CAPETOWN (Reuters) — The South African House of Assembly Friday gave second reading (approval in principle) to a bill requiring elected representatives of colored (mixed blood) peoples in the Cape provincial council to be whites. It is an amendment to the recent act transferring colored voters from the common rolls to a separate "segregated" list for the election of special white members to represent them in Parliament.
